

Summer Rec. Program Ends This Week

The annual Summer Recreation Program of swimming classes for girls and boys of school age will be completed this week. The final week is being taken up with a course in Junior Lifesaving, being taught by Coach R. C. Smith and A. D. Bowen, at the Coleman Pool. Attendance of both boys and girls the last week has been pretty good.

The boys went the first three weeks for swimming classes, then the girls went three weeks. Attendance was fair, but not as good as hoped for.

Although the group taking the Lifesaving Course this year will not receive certificates, the experience they gain will be very valuable. It is hoped a qualified instructor can be secured next year and lifesaving badges can be given. Those who complete the course this year will be asked to act as instructors at the swimming classes next year.

The wading pool for the younger group will continue in operation through the month of August. It is open from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. each Tuesday and Friday afternoon. Mrs. Lee Ray Huggins is chairman of the wading pool and is being assisted by Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Lewis Guthrie and Mrs. Ray Owen.

Mrs. Robert L. Markland, president, expressed her thanks and appreciation to all mothers, instructors and those who participated in the program. Special thanks were extended Mrs. Leland Thompson, vice president; Mrs. James Keeney, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ollie Moore, swimming chairman and to her co-chairman of the swimming program; and to Mrs. Lee Ray Huggins, chairman of the wading pool. All these ladies have given freely of their time and ability to serve the community and make the program a success.

Some problems have arisen during the year and a special meeting will be called in September to go over the year's work and make preparations for the program next summer.

Arthur Talley Has Accident With Power Lawn Mower Mon.

Arthur Talley was mowing the grass at his service station Monday afternoon when a wheel almost came off his power mower. He stopped the mower, but did not kill the engine and attempted to put the wheel back on. His hand slipped into the mower and it badly mangled the middle finger on his right hand.

He was taken to the local hospital where 15 stitches were used to sew the finger back together with. According to reports, he will not lose the finger, but still has many hours of suffering because of the accident.

Mrs. W. E. Wallace Breaks Hip in Fall

Mrs. W. E. Wallace was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cody Mathews, Saturday night, July 15, watching television. While on her way to bed Mrs. Wallace tripped on a rug and fell, but apparently at the time did not think she was injured very badly.

On Monday she was taken to a doctor and after being examined did not find any broken bones. Later in the week, it was determined by the same doctor that she had a broken hip.

Mrs. Wallace, 84, underwent surgery Monday of this week by a specialist from Fort Worth and Tuesday evening she seemed to be progressing very nicely, even better than the doctor had hoped for.

She is in room 133 at the Memorial Hospital in Brownwood. Although she is recuperating nicely, she will likely be there several days.

Mrs. Cullen N. Perry announces she will begin classes in Ceramics at her home on Wednesday of next week, and all who are interested are invited to either telephone or go by her home on Monday, July 31, to work out a convenient schedule. Mrs. Perry said indications are that several local folks are interested and classes can be arranged from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays. Morning classes can be arranged if as many as four persons can come on the same day.

The classes will be held in the Perry home as long as the classes are small. There will be no charge for registration, but the individual will pay for working tools, greenware, glaze and firing. The prices will vary according to the individual. Persons of all ages are invited to register.

Mrs. Perry said she would have all the materials needed available at her home and will continue to keep them through December, so those who are interested may have materials available to do work at home.

This could be a very interesting hobby and can be made to be a profitable one. Mrs. Perry is donating her time and efforts in an attempt to further the activities of the Summer Recreation Program. All are invited to participate.

Damage was fairly heavy to both vehicles.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hunter and family of Abilene spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dunn and Mrs. Ora Hunter.

GUARDSMEN LISTEN TO PRESIDENT IN THE FIELD

North Fort Hood, Tex. (Sp1)—National Guardsmen of the 36th Infantry Division began their fourteenth two-week summer training session routinely enough here Sunday morning when the some 10,000 members of the unit started rolling in for a stint of military life.

Groups of Guardsmen, usually enough, gathered, and made an attempt to humorously talk of possible mobilization in answer to the Berlin crisis. There were the usual laughs and cut-ups, but when Guardsmen paired off to discuss the matter seriously, smiles vanished, and they talked in a sobering tone.

"Do you think we'll be mobilized?" was the stock question Guardsmen asked each other. The reply, almost without exception, was "I just don't know—what do you think?"

Officers at highest division echelons regard the talk of possible mobilization as "strictly rumors," and have agreed to adopt a "wait and see" policy until actual instructions come bouncing down from the higher-ups.

Members of the famed decorated division of World War II have expressed generally that they are "ready" if mobilization is necessary.

"I regard current rumors as strictly that," Col. Ralph M. Krieger, Second Battle Group Commander of Abilene said, "but the current publicity will help us to conduct training in a most serious nature. We're going to work hard."

One Abilene Guardsman, SFC Joe Taylor, a member of the Abilene Police Department, agreed that he was "more than ready" if mobilization is necessitated.

"I owe one man five dollars, and after that, it just don't make a damn," Taylor boomed.

Maj. Robert F. Radius, Battle Group S-4 from Brownwood, had a humorous answer when queried as to his reaction to possible mobilization.

L. J. Cappleman New FHA State Director in Texas

Lester J. Cappleman of Ladonia, has been appointed State Director for the Farmers Home Administration in Texas. His headquarters are in Dallas. He assumed his duties July 18.

Mr. Cappleman has returned to the position he held with the agency for approximately eight years prior to April in 1954. Since that time he has been managing his farm near Ladonia producing livestock, cotton and alfalfa.

Born in Oklahoma in 1902 when it was known as Indian Territory, Mr. Cappleman attended public schools at Honey Grove, Texas and the Texas A & M College, where he majored in agronomy and animal husbandry.

From 1924 to 1934 he farmed in Fannin County.

From 1934 forward, including his eight years as Farmers Home Administration's State Director, Mr. Cappleman worked in the field of supervised credit and related services for family-type farmers. He joined the Resettlement Administration at Amarillo after a year with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration at Sherman, Texas. From Amarillo, his work took him to Dallas in 1936 where he served first as loan officer in Resettlement Administration and later as Assistant Regional Director for that agency's successor, the Farm Security Administration.

In 1941 he transferred to Surplus Marketing Administration as Regional Director, then was in similar position with Agricultural-Marketing, Food Distribution, and War Food Administration, all at Dallas. He became State Director for Farmers Home Administration in 1946.

As State Director, he will have charge of the agency's agricultural credit and farm management program serving farmers in all areas of the State through county offices.

A2C Darrell D. Wright is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Wright and children. He is on leave from Keesler AFB, Miss., where he has been stationed for about seven months. He will leave for New Jersey about the 25th of this month and from New Jersey he will go to Turkey, where he will be stationed for 18 months.

Heavy Rain Saturday

A very heavy rain was registered here Saturday just after noon when the gauge at the Coleman Gas Company office showed a total of .85-inch rain fell. The rain did not last very long, but it was very heavy for about 15 minutes.

Most other areas in the county received varying amounts, with some reports being more than one inch.

"Old Mans" Game Played Tuesday

The game between the "old men" of Santa Anna and Rockwood was played Tuesday night on the local field. It was rained out Saturday night.

Rockwood won the game 6-2, and as it turned out, it was a very good game. Coach R. C. Smith, playing for Rockwood, hit a booming home run and Roy England hit an inside the park home run.

The gate receipts amounted to $69.00 for the Quarterback Club.

Scarborough Car Reported Stolen Wednesday Morning

Mrs. W. D. Scarborough reported her 1959 Chevrolet Impala stolen from the parking lot at the Tile Plant about 9:30 a. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Scarborough said she saw the car drive past the plant and thought it was hers, then went and looked and sure enough it was gone.

A report on the theft and description of the car was immediately radioed to Abilene, Brownwood, Brady and Ballinger with all patrolmen and other law enforcement officers in the area alerted.

Upon hearing the car was stolen, Robert Starnes, also an employee of the Tile Company, said it could possibly have been his car that should have been taken as he had instructed a local service station to get his car and service it. Upon checking with the station, it was learned they did have the wrong car and the Scarborough car was returned to the Tile Plant parking lot.

Bob Boyet was the boy who went and got the car. He said he had learned a lesson and next time he would be sure the owner of the car gave him a description of the car he was to get.

The investigating officers appeared on the scene about the time young Bob got the car back to the plant, and the mix-up was soon straightened out.

This could and should be the lesson to those who leave the keys in their cars. It is never a good idea to do so. If you are planning to have the car serviced, the service station attendant does not mind coming to you and getting the keys. Any car left parked with the keys in it is an invitation for it to be stolen.

Farmers Advised To Ask for Gas Tax Refund

Farmers are reminded by C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, of their eligibility for a refund of the 4-cent per gallon Federal gasoline tax on that used for farming purposes. The claim should include all eligible gasoline gallonage purchased between July 1, 1960 and June 30, 1961.

The claim for refund should be filed on Form 2240 and not later than September 30, Bates said.

The gasoline on which a refund may be claimed covers that used for farming purposes and includes most normal production operations. Three exceptions, however, are noted by the specialist. They are gasoline used on the highway, even though for transporting farm products; that used for processing, packaging, freezing or canning operations; and that used for non-farming or personal purposes.

Records of fuel purchases should be kept to verify the refund request and care should be exercised to avoid inaccurate or excessive claims, Bates said. He noted that Form 2240 does not apply to diesel and special motor fuel. Farmers who have questions regarding taxes on these fuels are advised to contact an Internal Revenue Service director.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Weathers, Mrs. Ruby DeSha and Sandra were in San Antonio Sunday sightseeing.

The American Way

THE HONEYMOON IS OVER

By George Peck

(Editor's Note: George Peck is Honorary Chairman of the Laymen's National Committee, sponsor of National Sunday School and Bible Weeks.)

All segments of our American society must make up their minds that the honeymoon is over, and especially workers and employers.

The experts tell us that the nation is emerging from the slight recession of the past few months and that by the end of 1961, America's economic engine once again will be "hitting on all six." All signs would indicate that the experts are really "expecting" and that we are about to enter a period of bigger production, bigger sales for that production and increased employment.

But this revival will be of short duration unless labor unions and management realize that the annual custom of labor unions asking and management granting wage increases must be abandoned, that is if those wage increases are not accompanied by increased production. This "business" of granting wage hikes and passing on the increased production costs to the customers has never been a sound one, but worldwide conditions following World War II made it possible.

At the end of World War II, there was a terrific demand for products of all kinds—shelves were empty. Now those shelves with rare exceptions, are full, and some of them are even over-stocked. Meanwhile friendly nations (largely with our help), as well as enemy countries (even some of those with our aid), have gotten onto increased production, and are flooding the U.S.A. with products at prices that our American producers cannot meet.

Because of this, our foreign trade is in unfavorable balance, our employment much too high, the soundness of our money threatened and altogether too much of our productive plant not operating. Mr. K. (the Russian Mr. K., that is) with all the avidity of an "eager beaver" is pointing out to the world these short-comings of ours in an attempt to prove his contention that a free enterprise economy cannot prevail against totalitarian, slave economy.

There is only one way that we can prove that Mr. Khrushchev is so wrong and that is to expand our productive capacity, provide many additional jobs, thereby creating wealth with which to keep up our military guard. To do this we must produce goods at prices and of quality to match those of our foreign competitors.

This will be no mean undertaking. Government must co-operate with labor and business. Government has an obligation to curb labor unions that endeavor to force unsound wage increases; workers must insist that their union leaders limit their demands for wage hikes and fringe benefits that can only be met by increased prices; and above all businessmen must have the intestinal fortitude to stand firmly against pay raises except where increased production justifies them.

We believe that many workers are keenly aware that another round of wage increases and benefits at this time could spell disaster for them. In our last editorial we wrote of a legislative proposal that will give workers an opportunity to vote by secret ballot as to whether they wish to strike or not to strike. This bill, S-2134, introduced in the U. S. Senate on June 22 by Senator Mundt of South Dakota, will curb the unreasonable demands of dictatorial union labor leaders who selfishly seek only to serve their own interests to the detriment of their members.

The new round of wage increases and benefits is already under way. The United Rubber Workers recently obtained a raise of 20 cents an hour over a two-year period. The Teamsters Union has just negotiated a raise of 37 cents an hour, spread over the next three years.

Walter Reuther, United Automobile Workers' president, shortly is to make demands on the automobile manufacturers for a variety of benefits to meet the cost of which would force the auto industry to increase prices.

With wage and benefit increases already granted to teamsters and rubber workers, if similar increases are given to automobile workers and to other groups that inevitably would follow with demands, the U.S.A. will have lost another competitive round, not only at home, but in world markets.

The U.S.A. cannot afford this. A weakened economy will mean a weakened defense on both the military and economic fronts. All of us want workers to be paid the highest possible wages; we want all segments of our society to have and enjoy as many things as possible; but surely no American working man, no labor leader, no businessman want these if the cost is to be loss of our liberties and freedom.

As we said at the outset the honeymoon is over.

TAX-MAN SAYS SEZ:

The Internal Revenue Service has used TV spots for several years to give tips to taxpayers on avoiding errors and advice on how to find those extra tax deductions. This year IRS launched an off-season TV spot on paying your maid tax. The TV spot reminds those absent-minded householders that a quarterly tax return is due if you pay a household employee more than $50 during a calendar quarter.

Shamrock to Market Marine Fuel Soon

The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation announced in Amarillo this week that a new product, marine fuel, will soon be made available to its dealers.

Shamrock recognized that despite the boating boom which has swept the country, there were few, if any, locations where boat owners in Shamrock's marketing territory could buy a high octane, unleaded fuel specifically designed for marine use. Shamrock's new marine fuel is rated at 88 research octane, and contains no tetraethyl lead additives. Lead is normally added to both regular and premium gasolines to raise the octane rating. Many outboard motor manufacturers and owners contend that lead additives cause harm to their engines. The new marine fuel is designed for those engines which require unleaded fuel, and it performs equally well in those engines that can use leaded fuels.

To get this high octane fuel without adding lead requires special refining facilities, and Shamrock blends it from high octane base stocks at their McKee refinery near Dumas, Texas. To facilitate handling and dispensing, the new product will be available in reinforced 55-gallon drums.

Shamrock has been test marketing marine fuel since late summer, 1960. Now it will be marketed throughout the company's entire territory, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Arizona and New Mexico. There is a high concentration of boat owners in the Texas-based company's marketing area, and the boom in pleasure boating is just starting, Shamrock officials feel. They expect the demand for marine fuel to increase sharply within the next few years.

BIG PEACHES

Hilton Wise of Rockwood brought a group of large peaches to The News office last week — and apparently he brought them specifically for Mrs. Gregg, as some other folks had been bringing your editor squash, cucumbers and sunflowers.

Mr. Wise said the peaches were raised on his brother's place. They were the largest cling-seed peaches your editor (I got one of them) has ever seen. Just looking at them a person would think they were extra large elberta type peaches. They were delicious.

Early this week Mrs. Roy West brought in a sack of real nice cling-seed peaches also. It seems the good rains being enjoyed over the area are really producing bountiful crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doster and son spent several days last week sightseeing in Old Mexico.

"I wonder why
our Electric service
(bill) is higher this month?"

HERE'S GOOD NEWS
In homes served by WTU, the average cost of a KWH of service is 20% less than it was 10 years ago.

Beg pardon, lady, but aren't you enjoying the big reason why?

OVER there in the window. Isn't that air conditioner new this summer?

Naturally, every time you get some new electric servant you use more electricity. Naturally, your bill will be a little higher. But remember these two facts about the electric service you now enjoy:

First, you do use more electricity for the simple reason that it's about the most efficient and dependable servant you can get! Second, the more electricity you use, the less you pay for it per average kilowatt-hour.

Can you think of a bigger bargain?

Farm Trailer New License Plates Are Ready

Austin — (Spl) — New license plates for farm trailers not used for hire are now available, according to Bob A. Lilly, Texas Farm Bureau legislative director.

Lilly said the Department of Public Safety has advised him that the $5.00 license tags are now in county tax collectors' offices across the state. Owners of farm trailers of between 4,000 and 10,000 pounds gross weight must have these tags displayed on their trailers in accordance with a new law passed during the regular session of the 57th Legislature. The law also provides a 30-m.p.h. speed limit, but exempts trailers up to 10,000 pounds gross from brake requirements.

The DPS indicated that it will give trailer owners a "reasonable" period of time to secure the tags before strict enforcement begins, Lilly said. The law became effective with the Governor's signing of House Bill 1082, the farm trailer bill, on May 29, but the new tags were not available until just recently.

Lilly said that the Texas Farm Bureau has been attempting to secure passage of a farm trailer law for several years. He explained that the $5.00 license tag was a compromise to forestall a veto of the bill.

The TFB legislative director said that the new law was necessary to permit farmers to continue using their trailers to haul farm products. The DPS had warned that it was planning to begin strict enforcement of trailer licensing laws if a special farm trailer law was not enacted this year. Before the new law was passed, farmers were required by law to obtain commercial licenses for trailers over 4,000 pounds gross weight even though they normally use their trailers for only a few weeks each year.

Farmers who fail to obtain tags will be subject to a fine and also must immediately register their trailer as a commercial trailer and obtain a commercial license plate. A commercial license plate for a 10,000 pound trailer would cost $55.00.

SMALL-TOWN STUFF

About seven years ago we moved from the City of New York (population 8 million) to the Town of Largo, Florida (population 5,000). Our New York friends prophesied we'd regret the move and that sooner or later, mostly sooner, we'd be moving back to the big city. They argued that we'd soon tire of living in a one-horse town, and be longing for the flesh-pots of the world's greatest metropolis.

Seven years ago we made the move. We are still in that "one-horse" town and have no yen to return to the "metropolis" where we existed (not lived) for so many years. Our one regret is that we weren't smart enough to migrate long before we did.

One of our New York friends asked us the other day, "How do you like living in a hick town?"

Our answer was to tell him of something that had transpired just a short time previously. Our car was halted by a traffic light. While obediently waiting for the light to turn green, we felt something gently bump into us from the rear. We turned around to ask, "What's the big idea?"

There sitting behind the wheel of the car that had nudged us, with a wide grin on his face, was our beloved and efficient Largo Chief of Police Charlie Wetmore.

That's the kind of friendly spirit that we bumpkins in the small towns encounter daily — several times daily. We feel awfully sorry for city slickers who either by choice or through force of circumstances are marooned in the crowded, unfriendly cities.

Record Enrollment Expected at Howard Payne This Fall

Brownwood — Advance room reservations and enrollment inquiries indicate the fall registration total at Howard Payne College, which has been showing increases for the last several years, will reach or perhaps exceed last fall's record total of 1,179 students. Orientation and registration is scheduled September 12-15.

To date, there are 254 room reservations by women students for Veda Hodge Hall, representing a capacity load for the million-dollar residence hall, according to Mrs. E. N. Elsey, dean of women.

THE NEWBURGH STORY

The recent announcement from Newburgh, N. Y., a city of 30,000, on the Hudson, that it is cracking down on deadbeats and chiselers who live on relief money from welfare agencies, is timely and should inspire other cities to follow suit.

Newburgh, which spends a third of its $3 million annual budget on relief for 1,400 residents, or 5% of its population, decided it was time to provide some relief to the people who are working and paying the bills.

So, these rules were announced:

1. Welfare payments are to be denied able-bodied recipients who refuse to work when offered a job.

2. Relief payments for any one family is not to exceed the pay of lowest paid city employee with a family of comparable size.

3. Except for the blind, aged or disabled, any such assistance shall be limited to 3 months out of the year.

4. Hereafter payments to mothers of illegitimate children shall be refused, if they have any more children.

5. No relief to recent residents unless they can prove they were offered a job in the city before they moved to Newburgh.

This is bad news for those who find it easier to collect relief checks than to work. And it is bad news for the unwed mothers who see in new-born children a chance to obtain a fatter relief check each month.

Such practices, which are reported to be quite general over the country, are demoralizing to the recipients and are becoming increasingly distasteful to the public. Only a crack-down can stop the tempo of the trend.

Here in Washington, for example, the rate of illegitimacies among Negroes run 265 per 1,000 births. Among whites it is 59 for every 1,000 births. And here, as in Newburgh and most cities, every illegitimate birth adds to the relief check each month.

But Newburgh may be running into trouble. New York's State Welfare Board warns that the rules may be too strict, and a hearing has been ordered. And the Federal government may crack down on Newburgh by denying a sizeable share of the relief cost because of the restricted rules.

One thing is certain: if state or federal laws interfere with this common sense reform at Newburgh, then it is high time the federal and state laws are changed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClellan, Jan and Les and Mrs. Jim Dunn visited in Dallas Sunday and Monday with the H. K. Box family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hardy of Whiteface, Texas, were visitors in Santa Anna over the weekend.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read I Samuel 13:10-16; John 5:40-47.

Samuel said to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly: thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord thy God. (I Samuel 13:13.)

Samuel was God's man. He knew God's marching orders. If they did not come, he did not move, but stood steadfast in holy reverence before God.

Samuel was displeased and angry with Saul for his disobedience to God. His twice-repeated assertion, "Thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord," was a serious warning to Saul for his disobedience. Samuel withstood Saul with courage and boldness, directing his words straight as the arrow flies.

Those words took hold of Saul, and he trembled with conviction. In days to come, Saul remembered this holyman of God, especially his unselfishness and justice.

What sublime beauty we find in the life of Samuel! What an inspiration is the memory of his faith! What encouragement knowledge of his faithfulness to God gives us in hours of temptation!

PRAYER:

Holy Father, God of all generations and all creatures, may we, too, be obedient to the heavenly vision. With assurance of Thy promise, may we stand boldly and remain true to Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

County Savings Bonds Reach 59.8% of Goal

"Total sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in the State of Texas are up 2.6% at the end of the first six months of 1961 over the same period of 1960. Sales in Coleman County totaled $83,417 for the month of June, which represents 59.8% of the 1961 goal for the County," according to Mr. Robert I. Bowen Jr., Chairman of Coleman County Savings Bonds Committee.

"H Bond sales alone for this period are 20.2% higher than for the same period of 1960. The H Bond is an excellent investment for persons wishing a regular income, and at the same time requiring safety and ease of redemption. This Bond bears 3 3/4% interest if held to maturity, and interest checks are mailed every six months to H Bond owners."

"Investment in both E and H Bonds is putting your money to work for you — and for your country," concluded Mr. Bowen.

Austin — House members burned midnight oil in an effort to get a tax bill to the Senate before the mid-point of the brief 30-day session.

In the long, long sessions and seemingly endless succession of approaches, amendments, substitutes and substitutes for the substitutes, it was often difficult to tell who was winning what. Showdown votes indicated that it is still easier for members to agree on what they don't want than on what they do.

Rejected, at least for the time being, was a package bill recommended by the Revenue and Taxation Committee. Its main money-raiser was a sales tax, with exemptions, on items costing $5 or more. It also included more utilities taxes, natural gas taxes, a transfer of funds from the permanent school fund, a revised franchise tax and a bookkeeping transfer.

Also turned down were proposals for a 4 percent corporate income tax by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston and a 1 percent general sales tax by Rep. Tom Andrews of Aransas Pass.

Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger, chairman of revenue and taxation, was pushing for a package bill that closely tracked Gov. Price Daniel's recommendations at the beginning of the session. It differed from the committee-written package chiefly in that it included a Pennsylvania-type sales tax, applying only to items listed in the bill.

Despite the House problems, an August 8 finish may still be possible. Senate, generally, is swifter and more nearly of one mind on money matters. It agreed on a tax bill in the regular session in approximately one-third the time spent by the House.

Hardest part is getting on one plan from both House and Senate — and finally — from the governor.

FUND BILL PROGRESSES

House has given second reading approval to a bill appropriating $2,527,000,000 for the next two years.

It is slightly higher than the bill passed earlier by the Senate, and eventually differences will have to be worked out by a conference committee of the two houses.

A group of conservatives in the House were foiled — at least temporarily — in an effort to cut the bill by $27,000,000 through economy measures. Among items they felt could be deleted or put off were recarpeting the House chamber and refinishing members' desks for $250,000, adding an office for the governor to the Governor's Mansion for $50,000, installation of a sprinkler system on the Capitol lawn for $20,000 and several other expenses of that nature.

Economy group also wanted to trim back some increases in the bill for salaries and travel expenses for state personnel and eliminate paying legislators a salary for the period between November, 1960, when the annual pay amendment was approved, and the start of the session in January.

SCHOOL BILLS MOVE

A bill to provide more liberal state aid for sparsely populated school districts has been approved by the House Education Committee.

Rep. Sam F. Collins of Newton is sponsor of the measure which would provide $378,000 to pay for 90 additional teachers in rural areas. Most of the extra teachers would be for Negro schools.

Objectors to the bill said it would perpetuate the problem of having school districts too small to provide a strong school program.

On the other side of the Capitol, the Senate Education Committee gave reluctant approval to a more economical teacher pay raise plan than the Hale-Aikin plan it already had approved. Sent to the floor was a bill by Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi which would give teachers a $600 a year raise this year, $200 more in 1963 and $200 more in 1965. Hale-Aikin provides for $810 a year more immediately.

ANTI-POLLUTION PUSHED

A bill creating a board to control water pollution is under study by the House Conservation and Reclamation Committee.

Similar bill was passed by the House last session but died in the Senate. Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, sponsor of the measure, said that unless the state acts now to control pollution, the federal government will take over.

Under the Cory bill, a nine-member commission would be created with power to cancel an industrial firm's permit to operate if it persisted in activities causing water pollution.

A bill to reorganize the State Board of Water Engineers, somewhat along the lines of the State Highway Commission, is also under study by the same committee. Under the proposal by Rep. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, a chief engineer would be in charge of administrative and technical functions and a board would make policy.

LOBBY BILL DEBATED

A bill to provide additional lobby regulation attracted neither friends nor enemies to a hearing before the House State Affairs Committee.

Pro and con views were presented solely by members of the House before the measure was sent to subcommittee for study. Proposed bill would require lobbyists to file a report showing who received any amount above $50 spent to influence legislation. It would also prohibit a lobbyist's calling a member off the floor during session without advance permission.

Critics declared the legislators didn't need a law to enable them to stay put at their desks if they wanted to.

BEST TAX IS NO TAX

Citizens for Fair Taxation, an anti-sales tax committee, announced, as expected, that its poll showed a majority against a retail sales tax.

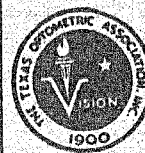

It also seemed to show that the people polled were not very much in favor of any kind of new tax. CFT announced that 78 percent of those opposed were against a retail sales tax on items of 25 cents or more, and 61 percent were against selective excise or sales taxes if they hit any of the necessities. Eighty percent were against a personal income tax.

A majority in the CFT poll favored the abandoned property bill, raising franchise taxes on interstate corporations and a corporation income tax.
