TEXAS CITIES NOT ALARMED BY NEWS

Austin Establishes Quarantine and Waco Will Take Action Today — Fort Worth and Dallas Believe They're Safe

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The DeWolf Hopper Company, booked for here tomorrow, cancelled its engagements on account of the quarantine. There are no new developments. The fever reports are considered greatly exaggerated.

Autopsies were held on three bodies yesterday by State Health Officer George Tabor, Dr. Murray of the marine corps and local physicians. It was decided that all three deaths resulted from yellow fever. The dead are José Gonzales, Miss Clara Robertson and William Smith. According to the report of the city physician there is but one case in the city, that of Miss Harrison of Columbus at St. Mary's hall, and she is recovering.

The city has been laid off into sanitary districts and crude oil is being used freely. Several railroads have abandoned a portion of their train service and cannot state when it will be resumed.

DALLAS NOT ALARMED

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Dallas is not alarmed over the reports of yellow fever from San Antonio. No official action has been taken, but the general sentiment seems to prevail that it is unnecessary to quarantine at the present time. However, if the situation becomes more serious official action will probably be taken. A number of people arrived this morning from San Antonio, where they went to attend the fair, and report that the stories of fear are much exaggerated and the general belief seems to be that the disease will be checked without further spread.

TRAVIS QUARANTINES

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Travis county established a rigid quarantine against San Antonio this morning, separate from that established by the city of Austin.

Those who will depart include the junior engineers, midshipmen and cadets, or fifteen in all. This leaves only eight at the shipyards, including the chief of the commission, Captain Manuel Azueta. Work on the gunboats, stopped by the ship building company's difficulties, will be resumed next week.

COTTON EXCHANGE AGREEMENT MADE

Difficulties Between New York and New Orleans Have Been Adjusted

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The New York and New Orleans Cotton Exchanges have finally settled their differences over the anti-bucket shop agreement relating to quotations. Secretary Hester of the New Orleans Exchange has been here for several days and has had conferences with officials and members of the local cotton exchange with the view of settling the dispute which arose several months ago when New Orleans was asked by New York to sign an agreement not to furnish New York cotton quotations to bucket shops. A definite understanding is said to have been reached which is mutually satisfactory. By the terms of the new agreement the New York Cotton Exchange controls its quotations as under the original contract which New Orleans refused to sign. The New York exchange will in turn sign a like application or agreement with the Southern Exchange.

Landvoight was chief of the registry division prior to his transfer to the classification department.

SNAKE CRUSHES YOUNG WOMAN IN DEADLY COILS

While Spectators Applaud the Startling Realism of Supposed Acting — Attendants Rush in Too Late

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—A young woman was crushed to death by a boaconstrictor at Veelklingen, Prussia, last night, while giving a performance in a menagerie. The spectators thought at first her screams and frantic struggles, as the snake tightened its coils, were part of the show and applauded and cried "Bravo!" at the realism of her acting. Attendants saw the woman's danger, ran in, beat the snake and slashed it with knives. The woman was dead when released.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The widow of the late Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon, the noted preacher, died today. Dr. Spurgeon died January 21, 1892.

YELLOW FEVER ONCE MOVED HEADQUARTERS OF SANTA FE HERE

"The yellow fever troubles at San Antonio bring to mind the experience Fort Worth had in 1895, when that scourge prevailed at Galveston," said Secretary Paddock of the Board of Trade this morning to The Telegram. The secretary went on to say that when the fever began to develop at Galveston the citizens of the Island City made a stir to get away and many of them came to the north part of the state.

General Manager Polk of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, wired Captain Paddock, who was then mayor of Fort Worth, asking permission to temporarily move the general headquarters of the Santa Fe company to this city. The wire went back to Colonel Polk: "Yes, you can do so on one condition; that is that you maintain headquarters in Fort Worth." Colonel Polk accepted the offer and loaded up three trains and brought the entire traffic and passenger department to Fort Worth.

When the county authorities learned what had been done on the part of the city there was a strenuous objection, and the county judge made an effort to keep the Santa Fe officials from entering the county, but the then Mayor Paddock summoned a force of police officers and escorted the railroad officers and employes into the city. The mayor notified the county officials that they might prevent the Galveston contingent from entering the county, but he would see to it that they were wiven the privilege of remaining in Fort Worth. Here the matter ended, so far as the city and county officials were concerned.

The traffic department of the Santa Fe was maintained here some weeks, but the auditing forces were taken to Cleburne, where more adequate facilities were provided for that department of the railroad company.

It was maintained then that there was no danger of the disease spreading should it reach Fort Worth; that the altitude was entirely too high, besides the weather was cold enough here to prevent the fever spreading.

Secretary Paddock is now in favor of keeping Fort Worth wide open on the grounds that there is not the least bit of danger of the disease reaching here.

NOTHING FEARED HERE

Dr. R. Chambers, city health officer, has been watching the developments in southwest Texas regarding yellow fever for several days, and the reports from San Antonio of the prevalence of fever there, and the exodus which started yesterday, attracted him. He is not alarmed, however, regarding the matter, as he does not believe Fort Worth is in danger from the infection, if the mosquitoes are killed.

"I am of the opinion that too much care cannot be taken to kill off the mosquitoes," he said this morning. "I have been urging that for some time and the sanitary inspectors of the city have been using crude oil to the best advantage. This work is being continued and we are watching closely to see that no fever develops. I would like to have every citizen co-operate in the use of the oil. The mosquito is about through with his work for this year, but there may be some here at this time, and it would be well to be active in exterminating them."

"Do you think it necessary to quarantine against San Antonio?" he was asked.

"I do not. I do not think Fort Worth is in that much danger. Had my opinion been in favor of a quarantine I would have declared it yesterday when I first heard from the state health officer at San Antonio," he replied.

Dr. Chambers called on the mayor this morning, and on Alderman Henderson of the finance committee. The matter was generally discussed by them, and Dr. Chambers issued a proclamation to the citizens on the subject.

Mayor Powell was seen. In reply to questions he said: "I do not think quarantine is necessary, basing my opinion on the conference I have had with Dr. Chambers. He has gone over the question thoroughly and from his information and advice I am led to believe we are in no danger. The city is in a healthy condition. We are at a high altitude and every indication is against the spread of the disease to this city."

Alderman Henderson of the health committee said influenza is troubling him more than yellow fever. Between sneezes this morning he managed to say that he indorsed the idea of the city health officer in the matter, and did not believe it would be necessary to quarantine.

Dr. Chambers urges the citizens to clean up their premises. He asks individual co-operation on this line, and where it is known a citizen has failed to clean up, he requests some one to give him notice of it. The inspectors are making their rounds daily, but they cannot find all the places.

TRAINS ANNULLED

S. M. Gaines, superintendent of the Eleventh division of the railway mail service, today received the following telegram from G. T. Leake, chief clerk at Houston:

"Houston has quarantined against all San Antonio and Laredo trains. Nos. 3 and 4 on Aransas Pass annulled. Southern Pacific crews dividing on Flatonia and running to Del Rio without stopping at San Antonio. Mail being dispatched to best advantage."

The line referring to the Southern Pacific crews "dividing on Flatonia" means that crews from San Antonio stop at Flatonia and turn back, while crews from Houston also stop there and turn back. The through run is abandoned.

THE COUNTY PHYSICIAN

Dr. O. Lee Jones, Tarrant county physician, says he does not believe a quarantine is necessary, and that he does not fear infection because of yellow fever at San Antonio.

★ CITY PHYSICIAN ISSUES A PROCLAMATION TO CITIZENS ★

To the Citizens of Fort Worth:

The reports are that San Antonio is infected with yellow fever and that refugees are going in every direction. The low temperature of this section of the state is discouraging to a spread of the disease, but there is a danger from mosquitoes, and I would advise that every precaution be taken to kill every one. The most effective way is the free use of crude oil on all tanks of water and all pools. This can be accomplished by individual action and should be commenced at once, to protect the health of the city.

In my opinion quarantine is not needed. If the disease appears here the case will be at once isolated and proper warnings given.

R. CHAMBERS, M. D.,
City Health Officer.

The charter of the McEvoy-Hayden Pumping Company of Sour Lake has been filed with the secretary of state; capital stock, $10,000. The First National Bank of Allegheny has a paid up capital of $500,000, with deposits of $1,200,000.

CEREMONY WAS LACKING

And Therefore Dorothy Thurman Will Not Push Her Claims

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 22.—The Tribune today says: Dorothy Thurman has decided she is not the widow of the late Abraham H. Kohn, who died recently in a San Francisco sanitarium. Consequently she will not carry out her threat of seeking to establish her legal rights. The decision is said to have followed a conference with her attorneys, in which she outlined the basis of her claims.

"Miss Thurman believed she was entitled to recognition in the courts, and based that claim upon what she supposed was the law," said a man, speaking for her. "She has been advised she was mistaken. There was no ceremony, and Miss Thurman's assertion that she was Kohn's widow grew out of a wrong understanding of the conditions of common law marriages in Illinois."

(By Associated Press.)

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Oct. 22.—The trial before the superior court of Congressman Corona, editor of El Cuba Libre, charged with killing Senor Insula, editor of La Republica, in this city last January has been brought to a close. The prosecution attempted to prove the existence of a political conspiracy. The examination of the widow of Senor Insula brought out some sensational evidence and it was alleged that Senor Insula had been subjected to threats and previous attempts on his life. The defense entered a plea of self-defense. The existence of a feud between the two men was proven as was the fact that Senor Insula was intoxicated and unarmed when he was shot. The trial of this case before the lower court resulted in the sentencing of Senor Corona to six years' imprisonment.

Wholesale Transfer With a Recognition of Rights Is Thought to Be Better Than a Piecemeal Sacrifice

(By Associated Press.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 22.—Local feeling is very bitter over the award of the Alaskan boundary commission. There is much talk of annexation and of Canada becoming independent, business men being generally much dissatisfied at what they pronounce British disregard of Canadian interests to please the United States.

It is a matter of comment that the loudest among the discontented are Englishmen residing here. Many of these say that Canada will never achieve her greatest possibilities until she becomes part of the United States.

Rev. Emmet S. Rowe, the leading Methodist minister of British Columbia, and who with Chief Justice Hunter constituted the labor commission which sat this summer in an interview here said:

"I am a Britisher and I have always been a Britisher, but if Great Britain is to hand Canada over piecemeal to the United States I say let us join the American representatives also. By doing so now we are large enough, populous enough and important enough to have something to say regarding the terms of such annexation and also would be potent enough to have something to say in the affairs of the republic of which we would form a part. But if we wait until our best and richest territory is given away we shall simply be absorbed. It looks to me as if Canada had won the case and lost the territory."

Mayor Neelands of Vancouver thinks that the Alaskan award may lead to the establishment of Canada as an independent nation.

HUNDREDS OF HOMESEEKERS VISITING THE CITY TODAY

Fort Worth is today entertaining large numbers of homeseekers who arrived in the city last evening and this morning from Illinois and Indiana. The majority of them came over the Katy, Rock Island and Frisco. The party from St. Louis is in charge of Immigration Agent Dan Carlton of the Katy, whose headquarters are at Houston. He said that when they left St. Louis the train had on board not less than 1,600 people, while other lines, especially the Frisco and Illinois Central, also carried large numbers. He estimates that possibly 1,200 went via New Orleans, the majority of them intending to land in South Texas over the Southern Pacific from New Orleans.

In the party from St. Louis over the Katy were farmers, stock raisers and bankers, several hundred of whom stopped off in Fort Worth and will prospect in North Texas. It is the intention of many to locate in this part of the state.

In the party is John P. Gagen and his two daughters, Misses Emma and Esther. They, with a large number of others, are quartered at the Delaware hotel. Mr. Gagen is a wholesale merchant in Indiana. Another of the party is E. U. Vollintine of Taylorville, Ill. He is a cousin of former Sheriff S. P. Clark, with whom he is spending the day.

This morning another consignment of homeseekers arrived over the Katy and were met at the station by Mr. Carlton and Secretary Paddock of the Board of Trade. These two gentlemen escorted the visitors over the city and visited the packing house district.

Mr. Carlton said that quite a number of the homeseekers stopped off in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, but the majority of them came on to Texas and will prospect in the state for some days yet.

The visitors seen by The Telegram are delighted with what they have already seen in this state and speak in the highest terms of the climate they have encountered.

The yellow fever reports from San Antonio will change the plans of many of the Northern visitors who had intended going direct to that city. They will not care to run any chances and will not venture into that part of the state, for the present at least.

The changes in the cotton region were slight and unimportant; there was no precipitation during the past twenty-four hours, and the temperatures continue uniform, ranging in the fifties at night to slightly about 80 as a day temperature.

Local conditions will continue fair over Friday with lower temperature.

FORTUNE TELLING

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health. There is many a woman whose future seems absolutely unclouded who is marked by her own condition for future disappointment and distress.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health may be retained or regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Dr. Pierce offers $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of the above diseases. His "Prescription" has been so successful in curing thousands of cases in the past third of a century that he makes this remarkable offer to show his confidence.

"I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss M. Fyfe, of Orillia, Simcoe Co., Ontario, "and two bottles of the Pleasant Pellets as you advised for congestion of uterus, ovaries, and weakness, and can safely say that your medicine has been the means of restoring me to good health again, which I had not had for over three years, until taking your medicine. I thank you very much for your kind and prompt attention to my letter asking advice."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

WOODMAN IS NAMED AGENT

The position taken by the striking messengers of the Pacific Express company is being fortified by the assistance of other unions, the latest being the American Federation of Labor, of which Samuel Gompers is president, the greatest organization of labor unionists in the United States.

Last evening C. D. Woodman, state secretary of the State Federation of Labor, of this city, received a message from President Gompers, dated Washington, which reads as follows:

"Act as representative of the American Federation of Labor to assist the Pacific express men in their strike in Fort Worth."

Mr. Woodman was seen by The Telegram and asked what steps would be taken by him on the part of the federation in lending aid to the strikers, but he replied that he had not yet decided just what action he would take in the matter, but he will begin at once to give them what assistance the federation is capable of giving.

Mr. Woodman organized the expressmen in Texas some time ago and consequently is in position to know the men with whom he is to co-operate.

Speaking of the coming convention of the State Federation of Labor in Fort Worth, November 16, Mr. Woodman said that he had succeeded in securing from the railroads in Texas a concession in rates for that occasion. The rate will be one and one-half fare for the round trip. It is is expected that there will be at least 180 delegates here. Asked what would be done in this convention of particular interest, Mr. Woodman replied that the federation would at least defeat every candidate for the legislature who is against organized labor. He said that at the last election the federation kept nineteen candidates from the legislature, and he added that it would do the same thing next year if it became necessary.

TED SULLIVAN SAYS GOODBYE TO TEXAS

W. H. Ward, manager of the Fort Worth baseball club and owner of the local franchise, this morning received a letter from Ted Sullivan, in which the latter announces that he will not come to Texas next year. Ted does not indicate what other arrangements he has in hand. He simply says that he will not manage a Texas club next year and adds that he would like to dispose of the players of last year's Waco club yet remaining on his hands, to the highest bidder in Texas.

The news of Ted's decision will come as a shock to the fans of Texas. In a few short lines he cuts himself loose from the baseball destinies of the Lone Star empire. The reader peers anxiously at and between the cruel lines, but no word of regret, no token of a realization by the writer of the havoc to be wrought by the cold and unfeeling language, appears to soften the blow.

It isn't right. It isn't doing the proper thing by Texas fans. Ted should have a little pity. Why, what's to become of baseball in Texas? Ted ought to have let the news percolate over and through the ranks of fandom by rumor and report, so that the people who love baseball would have been somewhat prepared to receive it. Instead of that he flashes a lightning bolt from New York. That's where it comes from—Wall street! Has Ted formed a partnership with Sully, the "cotton king," or Morgan, or Schwab? Maybe he has brought about a merger between himself and John T. Brush. It must be something big that would attract Ted away from "that dear Texas."

MOB MAY BE FORMED

It may be that next spring we shall witness the spectacle of a mob of frantic fans going up to Gotham and capturing Ted and dragging him back; or may be an injunction will be issued to prevent him from staying away from Texas.

It may strike one as far-fetched, but still it is possible that the big corporations have got hold of Ted and are bribing him to stay away from Texas, just to break up the state. The corporations don't like Texas and stranger things than this have happened.

Why, the imagination fails and lies fallow with the very suggestion that we are not to hear next year what Charley Comiskey said to Ted and what Ted thereupon bon motted to the "old Roman."

It is perfectly impossible to contemplate the Texas League without Ted. It will be like Ham——but, never mind; if the fans get together and do their best Ted may be induced to change his mind, return and make everybody glad.

As soon as a petition or a subscription list shall be started with the purpose of inducing Ted to return, The Telegram will advise the public.

Things Heard In Hotel Lobbies

Peter Hanraty, president of District 21, United Mine Workers of America, is here today. He may visit Thurber and Strawn in the next few days, and either here or at Dallas will meet the representative of the Alba lignite mines some day soon and discuss the pending compromise there. Speaking of the situation among the mines of the territory and Arkansas, Mr. Hanraty said this morning: "Within the last few months 2,000 miners have been added to the working forces in the territory and Arkansas, coming from Illinois, Iowa and Pennsylvania. Up to 1894 the mines had plenty of men, but at that time there was a reduction of 27 cents per ton in the scale of wages and the men would not come. The union was organized, but it was not strong. Since then unionism has spread to all mining sections of that state and that territory, and the men are gradually getting back the scale they had. This has brought more men to the mines, and the output is increasing. The production now is greater than it has ever been, and there are more men working in those coal fields than ever before. New operations are opening up, and between now and Christmas it is expected that many more will be at work than now. No coal in the United States is better than the territory and the Arkansas product."

OUTSTANDING BONDS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 22.—The next annual report of the comptroller will show that on the 31st of August, 1903, the state had outstanding bonds to the amount of $3,989,400. These were held by the various state institutions as follows:

Permanent school fund	$2,230,500
Permanent university fund	579,700
A. and M. College fund	209,000
Blind asylum fund	115,500
Deaf and dumb asylum fund	61,000
Lunatic asylum fund	111,700
Orphans' asylum fund	11,200
By individuals	670,800
Total	$3,989,400

The last legislature made provision for the payment of $288,000 of the above amount on January 1, 1904. At that time therefore the amount of outstanding bonds will be reduced to $3,701,400.

The bonds to be redeemed in January were issued in 1874, for frontier protection, and have drawn 7 per cent interest from that time.

RINGLING SHOW HAS NOT BEEN NEAR YELLOW FEVER

The Telegram has been asked today regarding the report that the city of Houston had quarantined a circus which had visited San Antonio, and that the tented city had turned to north Texas. This has reference to the Sells & Forepaugh attraction, and not to the Ringling circus. Ringling Brothers have not been in southern Texas, and it is not known that they will go. They are billed to play but a few of the principal cities in North Texas, the attraction being too large to visit all the towns in the state. The Ringling circus therefore will be here tomorrow and it has not been near the yellow fever district.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, Oct. 22.—The receipts of cattle at the local yards today were very satisfactory and with a good general quality offered the market ruled steady with yesterday. No choice butcher steers came to hand and the medium half-fat kinds sold steady and active at Wednesday's quotations. J. D. Hagler of Vernon had on the market twenty-six good quality half-fat grass steers, averaging 968 pounds, which he sold to Armour & Co. at $3.20. One bunch of good feeders, weighing 991 pounds, went to M. Sansom at $3.05, and will be shipped out immediately for winter feeding. The demand for this class of cattle is excellent and good heavy feeders with ticks are bringing strong prices.

Top cows today, averaging 885 pounds, brought $2.25, with a range on good quality cows from $2@2.20, and the medium quality range cows at $1.75@2. Light thin cows and canners are selling from $1.50@1.65, with occasional sales of extremely common stuff at $1@1.25. The calf supply was light, but trading in this class of cattle was fairly active and the small run changed hands at steady prices. One choice light calf, weighing 120 pounds, sold at $4, with the medium heavy stuff selling at $2@2.50. There was little doing among the bull traders, the light run selling strong at yesterday's decline. Good feeder bulls are quoted at $1.80@1.90, with the lighter stuff at $1.75@1.85.

Three cars of territory hogs and two loads of Texas stuff composed today's receipts at the hog division, and with favorable reports from the northern markets the local market opened early and ruled steady and active, closing strong to possibly a shade higher over yesterday's weak time. C. C. Wilson of Pawnee, Ok., an old-time shipper, topped the market today with eighty-four choice sorted, medium weight hogs, averaging 201 pounds, which he sold at $5.37½. One other load of Indian Territory hogs with the heavy end cut out brought the same price. They averaged 189 pounds and were considered strictly choice. Choice heavy sorted hogs are quoted at $5.35@5.40, mixed butchers at $5.25@5.35, and the light kinds at $5@5.20. Pigs are selling at $5@5.50, according to weight and quality.

OF INTEREST TO STOCKMEN

H. C. Harding of Amarillo, manager of the L. S. ranch, has sold to Chase Bros. of Dunlap, Kan., 3,000 4-year-old steers to be delivered prior to November 15.

The Chicago Daily News says: Raising hogs in Texas is fast becoming an important industry, especially where it is possible to grow alfalfa. Good pork can be made cheaply on this feed, but it is usually supplemented with Kaffir corn. Farmers have been induced to raise more hogs since the packing houses have been established at Fort Worth, and now that they have found that hogs grow as well in Texas as anywhere else a remarkable impetus has been given to the business, and it will not be many years, if this progress is kept up, until the big state will be recognized as one of the greatest hog states in the union.

Thousands of range steers have been turned back and will be held over another year because the condition of the grass was not right to give the cattle the proper market quality. On this account prices have been disappointing and many ranchmen would prefer to take chances with another season than to sacrifice too much now. There is a disposition to market the cow stuff very closely, for in a severe winter they are more apt to fall a prey to stormy conditions than the steers; besides, something has to be marketed to help defray expenses for the past year. This season's marketing of western cattle will fall nearly 50 per cent short of last year.

"In Childress county, Texas, it is very dry at present," says Captain John Gosling. "There have been no rains worthy of the name in that section since last May and already some of the bigger cattlemen are making arrangements to secure pasture in other sections. Some decided bargains in cattle may be found there at present. I heard of plain but fairish cows being offered for $6 and $7 per head and no buyers snapping them up. It is claimed that there are twice as many cattle in the country this year as three years ago, and they are not bringing half the money they were then. In the face of all these troubles it is a wonder to me that the cowmen are not making an uproar that could be heard all over the country, but as a matter of fact they are keeping a mighty stiff upper lip through it all."

BIG ADVANCE IS SHOWN IN SPOT COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 22.—The long expected ginners' report, which is in course of compilation, will include all cotton ginned up to October 18, but there is no date fixed for its publication. It is believed the report will be bullish, but there is no intimation as to what it will show. It is awaited eagerly in all quarters.

Spots and futures are both strong. There is a small stock in the presses here—52,997 against 144,900 a year ago.

There is a big demand for spots at an advance of 1-8c. The interior is asking the same advance. Buyers are so anxious to secure cotton that they await the opening of samples.

THE HORSE AND MULE MARKET

Big Sale Proves a Market for Fort Worth—Notes and Sales

While a large per cent of the best stock has been sold, a lively interest is still being manifested in the horse and mule sale, and today another large crowd of buyers and spectators were on hand for the morning sale, which commenced promptly at 10 o'clock. A majority of the sales yesterday were of either single horses or small bunches, very few straight cars being sold.

There are several fine spans of driving horses among the stock offered, but so far none of the extra fancy stock has been sold. Late yesterday afternoon Charles E. Hicks sold to J. R. Deninger of Dallas one fancy 6-year-old saddler for $100, which was probably the best individual sale made yesterday.

Things Heard In Hotel Lobbies

Rev. G. B. Rogers, who has traveled this country over in charge of the chapel car Goodwill, making frequent visits to Fort Worth, was here this morning for a short time. He has been quite sick recently, having had malaria fever after a long term of work with his car in the rice fields of Southeast Texas. The car is now at Waco, and Mr. Rogers is visiting the various Baptist associations which are being held. He was en route to Sanger in Denton county this morning. "The work goes merrily on," he said. "We gather them in, some times a few and some times more. The chapel car work in Texas is meeting with success. We go as close to the people as we can and we find a ready response to the invitation to accept the salvation offered."

Rev. J. P. Mussett was here today. "Brother" Mussett is a familiar figure at revival meetings in this state. Whenever George Stuart reaches North Texas on his trips, "Brother" Mussett is one in the "amen" corner who helps out the great evangelist. He had the misfortune to lose a leg years ago, and he has worn ever since a regular wooden member. The aristocratic, artificial cork does not attract the reverend gentleman, and as the "old time religion is good enough for him," so is the old time wooden leg, and he pegs his way through life, preaching the gospel day in and day out and living the gospel as he preaches it. Those who know him always have a hearty hand shake, and pleasant word for him, and in return is the cordial "God bless you, brother." He is now pastor of the church at Joshua in Johnson county. "I am up on a little business," he said this morning. "Conference meets here next month and I thought I would run up and see what the plans are for the big crowd we will have. Joshua is all right. We are having a good harvest, both of crops and souls, and Johnson county is one of the best in the state."

HE WAS AFRAID OF THUNDER

[Original.]

Kate was such a dashing girl that everybody wondered when she married a quiet, unobtrusive man who had a dread of thunderstorms. However, Clarence and Kate Hastings seemed to get on well enough, and certainly both adored their four children, till Bruce Sayler came along and took a fancy to Mrs. Hastings. Then trouble began. Sayler was a fine looking man, with something aggressive about him that usually gave him his own way.

One evening Sayler asked Hastings to go with him to make a call. Hastings unsuspectingly accepted. He was taken to the house of a woman whom he had never seen and left alone with her while Sayler excused himself. Then an irate husband rushed in and made a great ado about catching the visitor with his wife. Hastings got out safely, but the affair came to his wife's ears. In vain he pleaded innocence and asserted that Sayler had tricked him. Sayler told a different story, that was believed by the wife.

By this time Hastings had got the drift of the matter, which was that Sayler had acquired such an influence over his wife that she was about to join with him to remove her husband by divorce in order to put Sayler in his place. Hastings was crushed. Then out of his despair came action.

The two men were members of the same club, and one evening Sayler was discoursing loudly to a party of friends, monopolizing the conversation, when Hastings stepped up to him and said mildly:

"Sayler, you are a puppy. You are a thief. You are a coward."

Sayler glared at him, but made no reply. Hastings drew away and sent a message to his enemy that he might as well make up his mind to fight sooner or later, for he proposed to insult him every time he entered the club. Sayler replied that dueling was not in vogue in America. He would not fight under the code, but if Hastings did not refrain from his insults he would chastise him. To this Hastings replied that he was armed and that if Sayler laid a finger on him he would kill him.

The next night and the next, whenever and wherever the two men met, Hastings gave a deliberate insult, and at last it came to be the opinion of the club members that Sayler must take some notice of the matter or resign. Then he sent a challenge to Hastings.

No one took it upon himself or herself to inform Mrs. Hastings about the matter, and Sayler, after announcing to her the first insult and asserting that he had paid no attention to the insignificant husband, did not mention any of the later insults or the challenge. She was still very much under Sayler's influence, but was undecided from day to day what course to take. When Sayler was with her she did as he said; when he was absent she became undecided, and indecision is wearing on any one. She began to wish Sayler somewhere else.

When Hastings got the challenge that he was a month working for, his reply was ready. As the challenged party he had the choice of terms. He sent a reply that these terms were six chamber revolvers, the distance five paces, the firing to continue till both men were unable to fire any longer or the chambers of both revolvers were emptied.

Sayler sent a reply that no one could be expected to fight under terms that meant death probably to both parties, and he considered the matter at an end. Hastings sent word that death was exactly what he meant and what he would have sooner or later. Then he resumed his insults.

By this time the friends of both parties began to get an inkling as to what was the trouble and sympathy went with Hastings. Sayler began to look careworn. All his aggressiveness was gone, he ceased to talk loud and volubly, he went about with a hangdog look. Meanwhile he had discontinued his visits to Mrs. Hastings.

Then came the last insult of the series. Hastings, meeting his enemy in the club, said to him publicly:

"You're a coward and won't fight, but I'll make you fight before I get through with you."

The next day Sayler sent a friend to Hastings to know what would satisfy him. Hastings replied that he could only be appeased by Sayler's leaving the country under a written promise not to communicate with Mrs. Hastings and never return. Then there were negotiations in which Sayler tried to get better terms. He failed, Hastings standing firm in requiring either death or absence. Finally Sayler yielded, sold out his business and went to England, leaving a paper in Hastings' hands exonerating Mrs. Hastings and agreeing never again to see or communicate with her.

Hastings took the paper home, told his wife what he had been doing and showed her the paper. She was not only astonished, but could not understand how she had been oblivious to so much resolution in the one man and lack of manliness in the other. She would have given worlds to undo what she had done and regain her husband's love.

"I have done it for our children," he said. "You and I will live together as husband and wife for their sake."

As years rolled by and Hastings became convinced that there had been nothing criminal on the part of his wife he forgave her.

Thus was a family saved from a perpetual horror by the resolution of its head. It goes to show that a timid man may under a great stimulus be the quintessence of bravery.

ACTIVITY IN DRESS GOODS!

A few days ago we mentioned the fact that the dress makers' art, which has been dormant, has been revived. It has come with a rush. Fall costumes are in bloom. Every dress maker in the world is busy now, for the costume of former days, waist and skirt alike, is the vogue, and who of her own choice shall not be in fashion? The busiest clerks in this store are the dress goods clerks. Already there is a scarcity of some of the choice fabrics. We have had New York searched for certain colorings which we have sold out. Importers who usually hold in reserve certain good things for re-orders in November and December are already cleared out and too late to have more made and all because of this general revival of the full costume skirt and waist of the same material. To push along this return of the dress maker, we secured in August a stock of cloths in variety second to none and set men at work selling them. We have already cleared more than two hundred pieces of high-class dress goods, probably largely because we sold them on close margins.

We are planning another sale of about fifty pieces of very desirable dress goods for Saturday and Monday next, which you can see in our windows and on our counters. Better be on hand. In another section you will see as dainty a stock of new trimmings suitable to all fabrics as is in the United States—not in large quantities, but in great variety. These trimmings are for sale at less prices than you will find elsewhere, east or west.

THE LLANO IRON DEPOSITS

The announcement comes from Austin that the resources of the great iron mountain in Llano county are to be developed, and that Colonel S. F. B. Morse, formerly of Texas, but now of the firm of Daniel J. Sully & Co., bankers and brokers of New York, is interested in the enterprise.

Mr. Morse was once an enterprising citizen of Texas. While passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific railroad in this state he became interested in the future of the commonwealth, and accomplished much in the way of advertising the possibilities of each section. It was his original idea to exploit Texas by reason of the many products of the state which were shipped by the trainload, and to a meeting of capitalists in New York he enumerated the various articles which were so handled by the railroads, calling out over a dozen which were transported by trains instead of by cars, and asked any state in the union to show an equal of it. He has done much to bring about a development of the tobacco lands in east Texas, he has helped the rice industry along the Texas coast, and his warning from New York to the Texas farmer to watch for better prices in cotton, shows that although removed from here he still has an interest in Texas affairs. Although employed by the great Southern Pacific interests, and at a time when Collis P. Huntington was alive and opposing the interoceanic canal, Colonel Morse went on record as believing the canal would be a great thing for this country, and especially the gulf coast section. Now it is announced that he will be interested in the development of the iron industry in Llano county—an industry which has been long neglected because of the lack of capital to handle it. If he can succeed in interesting eastern financiers to take the matter up, there will be results. It has long been known that the deposits in that mountain were valuable. The iron can be used in various ways, and the per centage of mineral is so large, that valuable works can be maintained. Colonel Morse knows the value of the mountain and the value of its resources when properly handled. If he succeeds in the venture which it is said he will help along, he will continue to be a benefactor to Texas, and all Texas will have praise for him.

There is one point about the matter which it would be well for Texans to consider. The state is now endeavoring to operate an iron industry with the convicts of the Rusk penitentiary. This convict labor is in competition with free labor, and can be handled at an expense much less than that which corporations would be forced to carry in a private enterprise. The state of Texas may thus prevent development of west Texas resources by itself being a competitor in the same line in east Texas. If this condition obtains, the Texas legislature should take some action to put the convicts on the public roads, and let capital handle the iron resources, that free labor, the people, the various sections of the state involved, and finally the state itself, may profit thereby.

ABOUT GOOD ROADS

Georgia is pointed to as the pioneer among Southern states in the matter of legislation for good roads.

The new law provides for working the state convicts on the public roads in the manner which has been so much agitated by the newspapers in this state, for the double reason that it would not only be the means of assuring better highways, but would remove the convicts from competition with free labor.

The Washington Post, in commending the action of the Georgia legislature and advising other Southern states to follow that example of wisdom and beneficence, presents a view that is worth considering. "Good roads," says the Post, "will enhance the value of their property and add largely to the proceeds of their industry. More than that, the dweller in rural districts will be rescued from the dreary isolation which makes farm life so unattractive—which often makes it so intolerable. Neighbors will be brought together by the creation of convenient means of communication, and the gregarious instinct out of which civilized society has been evolved can be satisfied without the perilous resort of moving into the towns and cities. Country life is far better adapted to a large majority of men and women than city life can ever be. It is freer, more wholesome and better adjusted to a proper and remunerative exercise of the faculties with which they have been endowed. One may safely say that, of the thousands of people who are now suffering every form of hardship and privation in the slums and tenements of our great cities, a very large proportion have been driven there in search of the human contact and companionship which was denied them, or their progenitors, in the country."

The good roads movement is spreading and there is a hope that the people of Texas will be aroused to the need of it. It is true the national government should take some action to defray a portion of the expense, as it does in the matter of rivers and harbors, but in the meantime it would be well for Texas to utilize the convicts which are available. Good roads will benefit all the people.

KIND WORDS SPOKEN OF SUNDAY TELEGRAM

(The Thurber Journal.)

The Sunday Telegram of Fort Worth has inaugurated a service which cannot fail to meet with the approval and patronage of the people of Texas. We refer to the handsomely illustrated Sunday edition with colored magazine and comic sections, which are equal to any of the St. Louis, Chicago and New York Sunday big papers. This is a new and costly venture in Texas newspaperdom, but with that brilliant and progressive young business man, C. D. Reimers, to "push it" we are confident it will, as above stated, meet with the hearty support of our Texas people. The Telegram's big, new, two-deck color press has arrived and is being erected in the building now occupied by The Telegram, since the new building now being erected by the management, will not be ready for occupancy for some months. We wish The Telegram the success it deserves.

There is a general impression among newspaper men that Tom Perkins of the McKinney Gazette proposes to pull off that 'possum dinner without sending out the invitations he has promised to his friends of the press. He should not overlook Colonel Bill Sterret, even if he does neglect the prominent writers of the state.

The representative of the Parker-Washington Company might allege that yellow fever at Laredo and San Antonio, the boll weevil and the heavy rice crop have acted to interfere and delay the paving of Houston street with asphalt. These reasons would be as weighty as those which have been offered.

The Thurber brick people deny that the brick work has delayed the paving of Houston street with asphalt. It is now up to the Parker-Washington Company to find some other reason.

Every one ought to help to some extent on the World's Fair fund which Tarrant county is supposed to contribute.

The Parker-Washington Company is still paving Houston street with promises.

GLEANINGS FROM... THE EXCHANGES

If a Burmese man and wife wish to become divorced they buy two candles made for the purpose. These they light simultaneously. The one whose candle goes out first leaves the house forever; the one whose candle burns longer keeps the house and all the property.—Hall County Herald.

In this country there is not that much light in regard to a divorce.

Automatic devices on railroads, in doing their work, have no more respect for the personages on high than they do for the lowly "section canary." A special train bearing General Manager Van Vleck and other officials of the Southern Pacific at Orange tried to break in on the right of way of another train and was promptly ditched by the interlocking switch.—Galveston Tribune.

It will serve to show the general manager the benefit of such mechanical improvements. It was the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers which urged the law forcing the interlocking plants.

Old settlers are applauded in every community in which they live and it is a pleasure to note the reverence shown them. The Big Springs Enterprise says: Wednesday afternoon we spied a crowd of men making their way to the picture gallery and, of course, followed them to see what was up. On arriving at the gallery we found them arranged in a group to have a photograph of the crowd made. We were informed they were among the early settlers in this country and as this was the largest bunch of them that had been together in some time that they wanted a souvenir of the occasion, hence the photos. The personnel of the party was: J. D. Earnest, A. J. Long, Fort Worth; Jesse Evans, A. F. Jones, Jack Rogers, J. D. Birdwell, John Mundy, L. S. McDowell, John Roberts, J. D. Williams, G. L. Brown. These men all came to Howard county in the 70's and have helped to make this country what it is today. They opened the way for the coming of others. They chased Indians and sometimes were chased by the festive redskins, killed buffaloes and made the land tenable for those who have followed them. They were as intelligent and fine looking body of men as can be found anywhere, and their interests are centered in the welfare of this country.

Thirty years in the far West is a long time, but there are men there who have been through it all and live to tell of the frontier days.

The Chilton correspondent of the Times-Herald says the farmers down there will ship out about as much corn as was shipped in last winter. That is somewhat encouraging. At the same time it is a pity that any of the corn has to be shipped out. Dallas and Fort Worth packeries are calling for hogs, and there's the best use for all the corn in this section.—Waco Times-Herald.

The Fort Worth packers will gladly exchange good money for good hogs. This is the market. Ship your shoats.

Corsicana Sun: The Fort Worth Telegram's editorial ambition seems to be to get alongside the Tyler Courier and Waco Times-Herald.

Why, according to the editorials of that paper, it is pulling the Waco and Tyler papers mentioned along with it. In other words, The Telegram has visions of reforms, which it desires to see materialize. To get them in shape, it wants the Courier and the Times-Herald to throw their influence in the direction that The Telegram has marked out. The Telegram editor is a person who does not make any effort "to get alongside" of any one. He elbows off many who would get "alongside" of him.—Dallas News.

The News misjudges. A few years ago, when the News began the fight for diversified crops, the country press took it up and had a great influence. The News had much to do with bringing it about. The News has claimed the credit for the success of the movement—it elbowed every other fellow off. The Telegram is willing for the News to have the credit, because it earned it. The Telegram does not want to elbow any one off. It wants the help of every influence in the fight and with all papers joining, success is assured.

Justice seems to run uneven in Missouri. At Joplin a man was fined $15 for hugging a married woman, while at Kansas City a man was fined only $1 for hugging a 14-year-old girl.—Charendon Chronicle.

Please advise the rate for pretty girls about 18 years old. We do not care for expense.

BROWNWOOD CARNIVAL

Will be Held Under Auspices of Business League, November 9 to 14

BROWNWOOD, Tex., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Brownwood is to have a big carnival and street fair November 9 to 14. Arrangements have been made by the Business League with a number of outside attractions, and nearly everybody in the city will in some way assist in making it a success. On Monday night of the carnival there will be a torchlight procession in which all the local lodges will take part. There will also be a number of specially designed and decorated floats in this procession. Attractive features are being arranged for each day. The railroads will be asked for low rates and to assist in getting the crowd.

American imports from Sheffield, England, last year were worth $2,242,000, an increase of $415,000 over the year previous, but only $811,000 of this was for manufactured goods, the bulk being steel sheets, bars and plates.

IS YOUR STOMACH ON A STRIKE?

There Is Nothing to Prevent You Employing a Substitute to do Its Work

There is such a thing as forbearance ceasing to be a virtue even in the case of one's stomach. There is no question but that some stomachs will stand a great deal more wear and tear and abuse than others, but they all have their limit and when that limit is reached, the stomach must be reckoned with as sure as fate. The best way and really the only effective way to treat your stomach when it rebels is to employ a substitute to do its work. This will give the weakened and worn-out organ an opportunity to rest and regain its strength and health.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets relieve the stomach of its work by taking up the work and doing it just as one set or shift of workmen relieves another. They actually digest the food in just the same manner and just the same time as the digestive fluids of a sound stomach do. In fact, when dissolved in the stomach, they are digestive fluids, for they contain exactly the same constituents and elements as the gastric juice and other digestive fluids of the stomach. No matter what the condition of the stomach is, their work is just the same. They work in their own natural way without regard to surrounding conditions.

The stomach being thus relieved by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, is restored and renewed by Nature and the rest of the human body does not suffer in the least by reason of its failure to perform its work.

A Wisconsin man says: "I suffered the pangs of dyspepsia for ten years. I tried every known remedy with indifferent results until I was told of the remarkable cures of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I bought a box, began taking them and forgot I had a stomach. Three boxes cured me completely. I have had no trouble whatever for a year and have an appetite like a harvest hand and can eat anything that is set before me without fear of bad results."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c a box. The druggist never fails to have them in stock because the demand for them is so great and so pronounced that he cannot afford to be without them. People who could not get them of one druggist would go to another and would get in the habit of buying their other drugs as well as their Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

In the Neighborhood of Weatherford Wher 1,500 Pounds Are Stolen

WEATHERFORD, Texas, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Last night cotton thieves worked in the neighborhood five miles east of here on the Fort Worth road, and the losses already reported of picked seed cotton amount to about 1,500 pounds. The losers are S. B. Brown, Tom Kelly and Tom Anglin, and their losses are about equal. Sheriff Bratton is on the trial of the thieves, and thinks he will be able to effect their arrest soon.

BANNER DAY RECEIPTS

Are Equal to Only an Ordinary Total In a Good Year

BONHAM, Texas, Oct. 21.—Monday was the banner cotton day of this season. In a good season the amount would have been given only passing notice. One hundred and twenty-four bales went to the public yards, and thirty-two bales to the cotton mills. The total number of bales received during the day were 156.

PICKING BEING RUSHED

In Ellis County Because of Advance In Prices

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 22.—As a result of the dry weather nearly all the cotton in Ellis county is open and picking is pregressing rapidly. A great many negroes have been brought here from south Texas to help gather the crop and there is still a good demand for pickers. The slight advance in price for the last few days has caused a rush of the staple to market and the receipts in Waxahachie this week have been increasing daily. The two railroads entering this city, the Katy and Central, yesterday delivered to the compress about 2,000 bales, and last night nearly this number of bales were shipped out to Galveston.

COTTON AT MILFORD

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 21.—J. H. Odom of Milford was in Waxahachie yesterday and said that cotton was opening rapidly in that part of the county. Milford received more than one hundred bales from wagons yesterday.

COTTON AT DENTON

DENTON, Texas, Oct. 21.—Cotton sold here yesterday from 8.75c to 9.12½c in the bale, and in the seed it brought from 3.15c to 3.28c per pound. The receipts throughout the day were unusually good.

SHIPMENTS FROM PUTNAM

PUTNAM, Texas, Oct. 21.—Putnam has shipped to date about 1,100 bales of cotton.

FEAR

How An Annoying Feeling May Be Overcome

Fear is not always a lack of courage. One may be absolutely fearless when facing real danger, but a perfect coward about trifling matters. Many people fear to be in a crowded hall, and frequently, and unnecessarily, leave some enjoyable affair and return home. Thousands fear lightning to such an alarming extent, that during a thunder storm they become ill. Fear of this character is caused by a nervousness brought on chiefly by diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

A further proof that these organs are diseased, is ascertained by depositing a small quantity of urine in a glass tumbler and if after standing twenty-four hours you will find it ropy or milky in appearance; if it has a sediment; if your back pains you, and you often have a desire to urinate during the night, and pains accompany its passage; it's the strongest kind of evidence that your kidneys and bladder are diseased and the very strongest reason why you should not delay in trying DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY, the pathfinder in medicine, for diseases of the KIDNEYS AND BLADDER, BLOOD, LIVER, RHEUMATISM, DYSPEPSIA AND CONSTIPATION.

We are so absolutely certain of the beneficial and curative powers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, that we will gladly send you a sample bottle, enough for trial, absolutely free, if you will write to the Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

"CARPETBAG" JUSTICE

[Original.]

"Wha' de charge?" asked the judge.

"De prisoner, Lemuel Jinks," said the prosecuting attorney, "is charged with stealin'."

"Stealin' what?" inquired the judge.

This was a poser. The attorney pulled out a paper, but as he could not read he failed to get the required information. However, he was equal to the occasion.

"What de prisoner is charged with stealin', yo' honah, will be brought out by de witnesses. It isn't fo' me to mak' de efferdence. I only conducts de persecution."

"Wha' yo' been stealin', Lem?" asked the judge.

"Notten. I wanted to go to de mill de udder day, and I jist borryed Phil Tomkins' mule"—

"Shut up, niggah!" cried the attorney for the accused. "Don' yo' know dat dere is a law dat no person is obliged to crimidate hisself?"

"Yo', Phil Tomkins," said the judge, "did Lem steal yo' mule?"

"Yes, sah."

"How d' yo' know," put in the prisoner's attorney, "dat he didn't borry it? How do yo' know dat he tuk de mule at all? How does de co't know dat de mule belonged to yo'? How does de co't know dat yo' didn't steal de mule yo'self?"

With this preliminary legal flourish, which was based on observations of how white lawyers threw dust in the eyes of white juries, the attorney sat down.

"What efferdence is dere," asked the judge, "dat Phil stole de mule?"

"Yo' honah," put in the prosecuting attorney, "I didn' know dat Phil Tomkins was bein' tried. I t'ink yo' fin' by examerin' de statutes dat Lem Jinks is de prisoner."

"Wha' yo' know 'boot de statues? Don' yo' s'pose I know somepin boot de statues m'self? Does de lawyer know mo' dan de jidge? What kind of a co't would dat be, I like t' know?"

"Yo' honah," cried the lawyer for the defense, catching at the advantage given him by the judge, "I air prepa'ed t' prove dat Phil Tomkins is de biggest liar in de county. I got my witnessers right hyar. Tom Blinker, take de stan'."

Tom Blinker, a reverend looking old darky, stepped out in front of the judge.

"Wha' yo' know 'boot Phil Tomkins?" asked the latter.

"Phil Tomkins don' got no mule."

"Wha'! Don't own no mule? How Lem Jinks go en steal Phil Tomkins' mule wha' Phil don' got?"

"I hain't hyar, judge, fo' t' displain unprobable fac's. I only hyar t' gib my everdence."

Both the prosecuting and defending attorneys sprang to their feet. The judge looked from one to the other, uncertain which took precedence; but, being a wise judge, he found an expedient to determine the matter.

"Yo' gemlemen set down, and when I say 'Jump!' yo' git up 's quick 's yo' can. Den I gib de flo' to de niggah wha' git up first."

The nimbleness of the attorneys was thus tested and resulted in a victory for the prisoner's counsel, who was younger and more active than his opponent.

"Yo' honah," he said, "I brought a witnesser wha' proved dat Phil Tomkins hain't got no mule. Derefo' I proved dat Lem Jinks didn' steal it. Derefo' Phil Tomkins is wha' I said befo', de biggest liar in de county."

The judge scratched his head. The question was, "What next?" The prosecuting attorney seemed equally bewildered. The counsel for the defense was the only bright man in the lot. Besides, he had once been janitor of a court room and was familiar with the tricks of the trade.

"May it please yo' honah," he began.

His honah was certainly pleased at being addressed so respectfully and when one of the jurymen blew his nose overloud rapped on the board with his hatchet.

"May it please yo' honah, I goin' to unraffle dis case wha' on 'count ob de stupidness ob de prosecutin' atterney, spite yo' honah's tryin' to pervent him, hab got into a tangle like de reins ob a runaway boss. Wha' we goin' to do in dis county ef ebery niggah wha' hain't got no mules kin take up de val'able time ob de co't 'cusin' honest niggahs like Lem Jenks?"

"Yo' hear dat, Phil Tomkins, yo' trifin' niggah?" said the judge sternly.

"Notferstanding yo' honah's knowledge ob de law, notferstanding de rulin's ob de co't, our val'able time, wha' might better be tuken up sittin' in de sun smokin' de cob, is wasted hyar listenin' to de charge ob a man fo' havin' he mule stole wha' hain't got no mule. Now, yo' honah knows de law well 'nuff to know dat Phil Tomkins has been a breakin' it, and yo' honah knows dat de penalty ob breakin' de law is hangin'."

"Hol' on dar, niggah," cried the prosecuting attorney, awakening to the fact that the trial of Lem Jenks by the adroitness of the opposing counsel had been converted into the trial of Phil Tomkins. "I like to ax de co't who's bein' tried? Jedge, yo' don' know no mo' 'bout law"—

The mallet came down with a bang on the board, and the learned prosecutor suddenly became aware that he had made a mistake.

"Dere's too much val'able time been wasted by de co't a'ready. De final judgment is dat yo', Phil Tomkins, be tooken out from hyar and hanged."

Tomkins, who had kept his eye on the door ever since the case had gone against him, here bolted and before he could be caught disappeared in a thicket near the court room. Then the court adjourned to smoke the cob in the sun.

CHOCTAW IMPROVEMENT

Will Call for Much Expenditure in the Indian Territory

HOLDENVILLE, I. T., Oct. 21.—The Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad has commenced a series of improvements all along the line. Gravel is being hauled to points along the track east of here, and the Choctaw officials state that they intend to better their roadbed all through the territory. New switches are also being established at points along the route, the large increase of business being in a large measure responsible for the improvements. The Choctaw will handle much more cotton this season than has been the rule before, resulting partly from the fact that a large new compress has been established at South McAlester, which is on the Choctaw, forty miles east of this place. Heretofore the great bulk of the cotton business has been handled by the Frisco in this part of the country.

CONSTRUCTION IS BEING PUSHED

Work on St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico Road Progressing Satisfactorily

The scarcity of labor has hampered the contractors who are constructing the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexican road, but even with this drawback the work is progressing very satisfactorily. The grading force has passed Robestown, and is more than twenty-five miles to the south of that point, according to the last reports received here. The first consignment of steel is expected to reach Corpus Christi this week and a track laying machine is also en route. When it arrives two miles of steel a day will be laid. At this estimate it is figured that the line will be completed to Brownsville within the next two and a half or three months.

From Houston comes the report that after the Brownsville and Houston divisions of the line are built the road will enter Corpus Christi and extend from Houston to Brady, the present terminus of the Frisco, via San Antonio, where it will connect with the Frisco system. That the new project is backed by Frisco people, no one pretends to doubt. President Yoakum is said to be connected with the Brownsville road, and it would be natural to suppose that the line would make a connection with the Frisco, giving that line a gulf outlet. The new road will be 150 miles in length and will pass through the King, John Kennedy, Driscoll, Armstrong, Raymond and Yturriah ranches.

There are now more than a quarter of a million ties on the ground and other constructural material is being unloaded as fast as it can be hauled to Texas.

GIGANTIC TERMINAL OUTLAY

Engineers of the Baltimore and Ohio have prepared plans for submission to the next meeting of the directors providing for terminals to cost nearly $9,000,000. The work projected includes a grand terminal station on the site of the old Camden station and an elevated approach to the terminal from near Westport, Baltimore county. The terminal will be also used as the company's general offices. The cost of this work is estimated at about $7,800,000. Locust Point pier and warehouse will also cost $500,000. Extension of facilities at Mount Clare shops by putting in the modern appliances and additional machinery will cost $200,000, and improvements and yard extensions here $100,000. By far the most interesting proposition for improvements in Baltimore is that concerning the new terminal and its approach. Part of the work at Locust Point and Mount Clare is now under way.

The proposed elevated approach to the city will greatly facilitate the speed of the express trains to and from Washington and the West. With the belt line tunnel offering a chance for speed from Camden station to Mount Royal and from thence on to the northern city limits and the Philadelphia division, the overhead speedway to Camden station from the south will give a continuous fast line through the heart of Baltimore.

ROCK ISLAND EARNINGS

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific has made public a report of earnings and expenses for the fifteen months between April, 1902, and June 30, 1903. Gross earnings for that period were $42,752,556, and the net earnings were $15,689,256. The total net income was $9,195,819, of which amount $5,305,557 was paid out to the preferred stockholders.

During that period the company spent over $5,000,000 for equipment. There were 5,579 miles of track added to the system. The Rock Island and allied lines now comprise about 18,000 miles of railroad tracks, being the largest system in the world. The report shows a flattering prospect for business in the future.

Helene Carral, as Dora Thorne, was very fine.

Charles Hart and Miss Gertrude Gilbert were given an opportunity for some very fine sketch work during the action of the piece, which was loudly applauded.

The theater-goers of Fort Worth are not giving the patronage this season that is deserved. Two excellent plays have been here this week—"Hello Bill" and "Dora Thorne," and the combined audiences of both evenings would not make a good house for one. Manager Greenwall has endeavored to book excellent plays. There are, of course, some attractions booked which are not of the best, and to these the large number of lovers of the dramatic art do not go, but good plays are entitled to more consideration.

Next week will be a good one in dramatic circles. The week opens with "Pickings from Puck," which will be followed by Eben Holden and De Wolf Hopper.

"TWO LITTLE WAIFS"

One of the most attractive bills that is booked for Greenwall's opera house, Saturady, matinee and night, October 24, is the popular and immensely successful melodrama by Lincoln J. Carter, "The Two Little Waifs." The sensational alone has not been depended on in this play, and as a result the author has written a play that appeals and goes home to every man, woman and child.

The story has to do with a wife who has been wrongly accused and who, through the work of the villain, is parted from her husband and, with her two little children, forced to suffer poverty in a great city. The lady who plays the role of the wronged wife and the scheming twin sister won much deserved praise and applause by the artistic impersonations. The two children have responsible roles and do their work in a way that makes them general favorites. The comedy situations are cleverly brought out, and the Bowery stage-struck comedian, "Richard III," and Pinkie give some very amusing and delightful sketches of fun-provoking dialogue. The scenic effects are very good, showing a moonlight view of the Hudson river, with a change from twilight to darkness, pleasing lantern and electrical effects, lighted buildings and show windows being among the principal scenes.

"PICKINGS FROM PUCK"

"It is to laugh" is a very trite expression that became popular with a well known comedy a short while ago, and the same is applicable in its fullest sense as regards the musical travesty "Pickings from Puck," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Monday night, October 26. It is in this rollicking piece that Willard Simms, an unctious, all-round comedy artist, is starring this season, under the direction of those enterprising young managers, Messrs. Ollie Mack and Joseph M. Gaites. The travesty has no very deep plot to bother one's head about, but still enough of a thread of a story to interest you, while it abounds with all that is clean and free from vulgarity so often mistaken by authors as fun.

Mr. Simms is a young comedian who has won favor both in America and Europe, where, in the latter place, he was a prominent member of the Edna May organization at the Shaftesbury theater, London, for a long time, while his appearances at the famous New York Casino in many productions were continual successes. In "Pickings from Puck" the management have surrounded their star with a company of excellent merit in every way, all having been engaged for their particular ability to play the parts assigned to them. All in all, "Pickings from Puck" is a great big musical show, properly staged, costumed and equipped personally.

WEEKLY CROP REVIEW

Cotton Is Turning Out Poorly, But Corn Is up to the Average

Following is the weekly summary of crop and weather conditions for the week ending October 19, issued from the Galveston office of the weather bureau, under direction of the department of agriculture:

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The week was cool throughout, but the lowest minimum temperatures occurred the last two days, when most inland stations recorded temperatures around 40 degrees. Heavy to killing frost occurred over the Panhandle on the morning of the 16th, and light frost over the northeast portion of the state on the morning of the 19th. Good showers fell over the eastern half of the state on the 12th, and quite heavy rainfall occurred over the same region on the 15th.

COTTON

The rainfall retarded cotton picking and did considerable damage to lint in the fields. The cool, damp weather has retarded the opening of the bolls in the north portion of the belt and caused some rotting of the lower bolls on bottom lands. No top crop is being made. Practically all of the cotton has opened in the southwest and central portions and nearly all of it has been picked. The yield is very poor in all sections.

CORN

Corn has been nearly all gathered, but the completion of this work was delayed by the rains. The yield is fully up to the average.

SUGAR CANE

The rains were beneficial to sugar cane and the crop continues in excellent condition.

RICE

Rice harvesting was interfered with by the rains, but this work is well advanced and much thrashing has been done.

WHEAT AND OATS

The ground is in good condition for working and much wheat and oats have been sown. Early sown wheat and oats are coming up nicely.

MISCELLANEOUS

Pastures and ranges are generally improved, but the weather was too cool for much growth in the northwest portion. Stock is in good condition. Haying has generally been completed. Sweet potatoes are making a large yield and turnips are doing well. Fall gardens are improved.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

In Store for Those Who Doubt

When you read that a sufferer of many years' standing has been completely restored to health by using Smith's Cure-All, you are inclined to doubt the statement and, in fact, have no belief in it whatever. The reason for this is that so much is claimed for the Cure-All it is impossible for anyone to believe it; if the advertiser confined his claims to the curing of one disease, as do the proprietors of Pyramid Pile Cure, readers would have much more faith in published testimonials. Those familiar with this great remedy know that testimonials as to its merit may be relied upon implicitly, also that the cures brought about by its use are little short of marvelous. The genuineness of the testimonial here given is vouched for and is but one of thousands received:

"I wish to write you and tell you what your Pyramid Pile Cure has done for me. I have been troubled with piles for the past five years and used every remedy that was recommended to me. While some would give me relief for a while, they never have cured. I was so bad this summer I could not get up or down without pain; could not attend to my household duties. Finally I got a 50-cent box of your Pyramid Pile Cure at the druggist's and it is now two months since I used the last box, and have had no trouble since. I can say it is really and truly a good remedy.

"I am so thankful I tried it, as I know it has cured me, and if at any time I should have any such trouble again I would use it at once. Since I am cured I have recommended it to my friends, whom I know to be afflicted as I was, and I know they will use it, too. I am so thankful I ever learned of your cure." Mrs. F. Hutt, 460 Second street, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed to any address upon receipt of price by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich. Write this firm for their book describing the cause and cure of piles.

Doctor

Gave Me Up—Nervous Indigestion.

I Suffered Terribly Until I Took

Dr. Miles' Nervine. That Cured Me.

"For eighteeen years I suffered from nervousness and indigestion. I tried every remedy recommended by family and friends but I could get no relief at all. Two years ago, while being treated by local physicians, they informed me that I had become dropsical and that there was little hope for me. I then decided to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I was unable to get to sleep after retiring at night until well on towards daylight during all this time. I had deep, heavy pains under my left shoulder, and a very severe pain in my left side. I was most miserable indeed and suffered terribly, but after taking one-half bottle of the Nervine I could sleep all night just as well as I ever did. The Nervine is the only remedy that gave me any relief whatever. I had not been taking the Nervine but a short time when I discovered that I could go out on the gallery and sit down of an evening and enjoy myself with the rest of the family, something I had not done in many years. I am now well and strong, eat and sleep well and I thank God every day of my life for Dr. Miles' Nervine." —MRS. JULIA A. BROWN, Covington, Tenn.

Don't give up, even though your doctor does. If your case is beyond his skill you have still to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the great blood and heart tonic, formulated by a specialist of nerve and heart diseases, whose experience covers more than a quarter of a century. There is nothing so good, so safe, so economical as Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Music and Drama

"Dora Thorne" was presented at the opera house last night by a company of excellent players. The story is one of sentiment, which has been widely read. Probably no novel has ever had the widespread advertising that has been accorded "Dora Thorne," and upon that story is based the dramatic production.

The company was well cast for the piece. One feature was the very striking resemblance of Frank Oakes Rose, the leading man, to President Roosevelt. He wore glasses, showed his teeth, and had a mustache which appeared very much like that of the president. He was a strong actor, and the emotional work of Miss

QUICK ARREST IS MADE

Prisoner Is Lodged In Waxahachie Jail an Hour After Indictment

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 22.—A quick piece of work was done by the grand jury and officers of the sheriff's department yesterday afternoon. At 2 o'clock the grand jury returned an indictment against Henry Gillispie, a young white man, charging him with aggravated assault, and in less than an hour the party had been arrested and lodged in the county jail. His alleged victim is a girl under 15 years old, living near Midlothian. The offense is alleged to have been committed last January.

DO YOU WANT TO YAWN?

Feel cold shiverings, aching in the bones, lack of energy, headache, and great depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition known as malaria. Herbine cures it. Take it before the disease gets a fair hold, though it will work a cure in any stage. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have used your great medicine, Herbine, for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, biliousness, and for a blood-purifying tonic there is nothing as good." 50c at H. T. Pangburn & Co.'s.

BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXIONS

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at H. T. Pangburn & Co.'s.

FIRST ARRIVAL HOMESEEKERS HERE YESTERDAY

Rock Island and Katy Brought in Several Train Loads of Settlers Who Will Be Distributed Over the State

The settling up of Texas from now on may be attributed largely to the efforts of the railroads, particularly the trunk lines that reach the state from St. Louis and Kansas City. The roads, however, are due much praise for what they have already done in this direction, for thousands of people have come to Texas through the medium of the cheap excursion, or homeseekers' excursions, as they are generally called by the roads.

On the 20th of September all the northern lines ran these cheap excursions and as a result many newcomers located in the state. The success of this venture was phenomenal and as a result the railroads concluded to try it again, and the first arrival of trains loaded with homeseekers was yesterday, when the Rock Island and Missouri, Kansas and Texas brought in several trainloads. They will scatter from this city to other sections of North Texas and put in some days prospecting. Many of the homeseekers will look no further than Tarrant county, while some will continue their journey to the south part of the state to invest in rice lands. The inducements the railroads are offering homeseekers are enough to insure the bringing to Texas of thousands of people who are inclined to seek their fortunes in new fields. On the going part of the trip stop-overs are allowed, but the return trip must be a continuous passage. The round trip costs $15.

The Rock Island train out of Kansas City Tuesday picked up people as far south as Wichita, Kan., and brought them on to Fort Worth. The railroads are very much gratified over the results of these homeseekers' excursions and will no doubt continue them indefinitely.

The United States will sell about $1,000,000 worth of fruits to Europe this year.

FORT WORTH PROOF:

J. A. Thornton, the well known real estate dealer, with headquarters at Fourth and Rusk streets, and who lives at 302 Adams street, says: "Some time in the spring of 1902, I believe it was in the month of April, a gentleman called on me and asked me to state my opinions of Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I told him they had proved of incalculable benefit to me. Some time previous to his visit I had purchased a box at Weaver's Pharmacy on Main street, and had continued using the pills until cured of a very aggravating attack of backache and kidney complaint. It is fully a year since I made this statement and told the people of Fort Worth therein that Doan's Kidney Pills could be depended on to act exactly as claimed. Now, all that I can add to my original statement is that threatened some time ago with a recurrence, a few doses of the pills warded off the attack before it got any further than an incipient stage, and I have always found this to be the case. If I have been asked by one person during the past year I have been asked by a hundred to state my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills in private. I always have the same story to tell, and reply that it is the best kidney remedy in the world today. Only last week three different persons drove up to my office and asked me about them. I will always speak in the strongest terms possible for them, for I have given them a thorough test and I know what I am talking about."

GOETZ DENIES DELAY OF BRICK

The representative in this city of the Thurber Brick Company, Arthur S. Goetz, denies emphatically the statements in the interview published in The Telegram Tuesday with President McCormick of the Parker-Washington Company, regarding the failure of Thurber brick being responsible for the delay in paving. Mr. Goetz says:

"The brick to be used on Houston street, from Belknap to Third, was received here forty days ago. Before the brick for the lower part of the street was received, City Engineer Hawley asked that a special paver be made to go next to the car tracks. The company began making this brick at once, and over half of the brick for the rest of the street has been received, and the remainder will be here Monday. It is my opinion that all will be traveled over before there is a pound of asphalt received here and may be before the plant gets here. Houston street paving has not been delayed because of the Thurber Brick Company, and had brick been used on the street instead of asphalt, the entire street from the court house to the depot would have been paved six months ago. And I guess that will hold them for awhile."

FAIR'S FUTURE IS UNCERTAIN

Annual Exposition at Dallas Has Little Prospect for Life

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Nothing was done at a meeting of the directors and officers of the State Fair association yesterday afternoon, except to pass a resolution that no further fairs will be given. Today it was determined that a general stockholders' meeting will be held Wednesday, October 29, at which time the condition of the association and its property interests will be fully presented to the stockholders. The question of the disposition of the grounds and property will be fully discussed and it will probably be definitely determined.

The Telegram correspondent inquired at the secretary's office this morning about the probability of Schwarzcild & Sulzberger people taking the grounds. The information was given that no proposition had been made yet by either side.

"Of course," said Assistant Secretary Temple, "if the stockholders determine to sell the property, it will go to the highest bidder, and there has nothing been said to prevent the S. & S. people from bidding on the property if they feel so disposed to do."

Nothing definite can be learned from the officers or directors as to the future of the fair or the disposition of the property.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge Dunklin overruled motions to quash the indictments which were made by Judge B. D. Shropshire, attorney for the defendant. A number of witnesses were examined yesterday afternoon and today and the arguments are expected to be begun late this afternoon.

Fort Worth As It Is Today

In the first place Fort Worth is the most essentially American city of its size in the United States. It has 4 per cent colored population, 6 per cent foreign-born and 90 per cent American-born white population.

Fort Worth possesses the purest water in the world. It is artesian and is obtained by a tunnel system from 900 feet below the earth's surface.

Fort Worth is situated on a high bluff overlooking the beautiful Trinity river, the West and Clear forks of which converge at this city. Until the artesian system was installed Fort Worth's water supply came from the Trinity in part and from artesian wells in part.

Statistics show that Fort Worth, in proportion to population, is the second healthiest city in the world, and with the introduction of artesian water it is certain to become the most healthful.

Although young in comparison with other leading Texas cities, Fort Worth is rapidly overcoming the advantages its rivals had by reason of their earlier starts. Fort Worth today is acknowledged to be the most rapidly growing city in Texas.

NEGRO HANGED TODAY

In Birmingham for Murder of Norwood Clark

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 22.—Felix Pall alias Henry Jackson, colored, was hanged in the jail yard here this morning for the murder of Norwood Clark, the commissary clerk in a construction camp of the Southern railway two years ago. Pall maintained his innocence to the last.

Thomas Saunders, one of the commission men of the Fort Worth market, who has also an office in San Antonio, came up this morning from the Alamo City. He says there is no doubt of the existence of yellow fever there and that it has completely destroyed all prospects of the fair being a success. Ten coaches came out on the train on which he left the city and there was not standing room. The people are leaving by hundreds.

FORT WORTH FRIENDS ARE GRIEVED AT NEWS

Friends in Fort Worth of D. Everette Stanard, who was formerly a student in the Fort Worth Medical College, have learned with regret of an accident which injured him several days ago in St. Louis. He is now pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Episcopal church, St. Louis, and has lost his voice through a street car accident which happened a week ago yesterday. The hope that physicians usually hold out to their patients in such cases is of no consolation to him, as both he and his wife studied medicine for nearly three years, and both believe that science has declared against him. Rev. and Mrs. Stanard have been studying for years to become medical missionaries and now they find an apparently insurmountable obstacle in the path they had traveled so long. Next spring they would have graduated from the Barnes Medical College. Now they must make new plans.

While trying to board a street car at Jefferson avenue and Wyoming street, St. Louis, Mr. Stanard was thrown to the ground, striking the back of his head violently on the pavement. He was taken to the Centenary hospital, where he lay delirious for several days. When he recovered consciousness he found that he could only speak in a whisper. Then came another period of delirium, from which he recovered to find himself utterly without the power of speech.

Monday Mr. Stanard returned to his home at 3147 Texas avenue, apparently in good health, except for the loss of speech and the hearing of one ear.

Dr. Pinckney French, who has been attending Mr. Stanard, can only tell him that nature, in time, may give him back his voice.

In spite of the affliction which has befallen him, he does not despair, and has already begun to make new plans for the future. The ministry he must give up if some improvement does not come soon. His chosen life work as a medical missionary is barred to him. Even the medical profession offers but little chance, handicapped as he is.

Rev. Mr. Stanard went to St. Louis about two years ago from Texas. He became pastor at once of St. Luke's church and at the same time entered Barnes' Medical College. He is but 27 years old, and has been preaching since he was but 18 years of age.

LIVELY GRIDIRON GAME EXPECTED SATURDAY

The football game to be played between Austin College of Sherman and the Fort Worth University at Haines park Saturday afternoon is attracting much attention. The Austin College boys will outweigh the local eleven about ten pounds to the man, but the 'varsity is confident of gaining the victory. The local team averages 158 pounds. Austin College eleven is said to average 168 pounds. The university line-up will be as follows: Heffman, center; Perry, right guard; Lundberg, left guard; Covington, right tackle; Orr, left tackle; Moliere, right end; Liston, left end; Coffee, quarterback; Gunard, right half back; Barnett, left half back; Adkins, full back; Charbunneau, Graham and Payton, substitutes.

STATE UNIVERSITY HOWL

The State University eleven and the entire student body are greatly stirred and deeply indignant over what they claim was a biased report of the recent football game between the Haskell Indians and the university eleven in Dallas. The objectionable article was printed in a Dallas paper. This week's issue of "The Texan," which is the official organ of the students, contains a hot blast, which has the merit of maintaining its own dignity while at the same time furiously attacking the writer of the report. Whereas the newspaper account made it appear that the Haskell Indians were younger and lighter than their opponents, "The Texan" says that as a matter of truth the university eleven was outweighed an average of from six to eight pounds; that the Indians on the average are about 2 years older than the 'varsity men and have on the average from two to three years more football experience, several indeed, being former members of the great Carlisle eleven. But what hurts "The Texan" more than anything else is the charge that the students behaved in a ruffianly way. This is bitterly denied and the statement is made that out of the 3,000 spectators at the game only about seventy-five were students. The score of the game, it will be remembered, was 6 to 0 in favor of the Indians, the one touchdown made being on a fluke—a 'varsity man broke through the Indian line and blocked a kick, the ball careened to one side where unfortunately for the 'varsity an Indian captured it, with not a man between him and the 'varsity goal. The article concludes:

"As far as the students are concerned, we might have ignored the article but for the fact that the great public is led by such misrepresentations to believe things about the university and the kind of people here which are not true."
