Tornado Kills 1, Injures 9 Near Spur

Wide Section Of State Is Hit By Storms

(By The Associated Press)

THE death toll of flood waters from a 12-inch cloud burst mounted to six in Fort Worth Tuesday night as the waters slowly receded. The Red Cross said 13,200 persons were homeless.

The flood, second worst in Fort Worth's history, was part of a series of storms which caused at least 12 deaths as they ravaged parts of the Texas Panhandle, South Plains and North Texas.

The count was six drowned at Fort Worth; one killed in a tornado that struck Tuesday night near Spur, in the South Plains; five dead from Sunday night's tornado at Amarillo.

The flood in Fort Worth was caused by a downpour estimated at 12 inches.

More Residents Evacuated

The waters were receding in Fort Worth late last night. But new breaks in levees spread water into lowlands east of the city, and police evacuated 154 persons from the area.

The flood cut off Fort Worth's water supply, and emergency measures were devised until it could be restored.

The Fort Worth flood and the tornado near Spur were the more violent aspects of a turbulent weather map for the state. Several other twisters were reported in the Panhandle and South Plains and the threat of flood to Dallas and other points mounted tonight.

Amarillo Toll Hits Five

Torrents of rain poured down on Texas' biggest cattle shipping center Monday night and early Tuesday—rain that sent the Trinity river ripping through its levees in four major breaks.

The pounding rains came from the same storm front that has trailed death and destruction from the Texas Panhandle to Dallas, big north Texas city.

Sunday afternoon and night, Amarillo and the Panhandle were chewed by tornadoes, hail, high winds and high rain. Five died from the twister that hit the south portion of Amarillo. Eighty-three were injured and property damaged more than $3,000,000.

Three Hurt At Stratford

Monday night another tornado tore across the Panhandle, injuring three at Stratford, Tex. It lashed into Oklahoma and killed a farmer.

The flooding Trinity menaced Dallas lowlands and the Weather bureau warned residents of such areas to leave their homes. The rapid rising Trinity had reached 40 feet at Dallas Tuesday afternoon. The Weather bureau said it would go to 43 or 44 feet, 15 or 16 feet above flood stage. The biggest flood since 1946 was expected.

The figure on homeless in Fort Worth came from a Red Cross survey.

Dead at Fort Worth were Dee Pennington, 68, a city water works employe; Lucille Scott, negro; Mrs. Josa Kent, 80; Rene St. John, 2; Donald Leroy Deweese, 16, and a

Twisters, Hail, Rain Hit Other Plains Areas

A TORNADO, two or more small twisters, heavy rain and a severe hailstorm made up a pattern of death and destruction over the South Plains Tuesday.

The tornado struck just north of Spur in Dickens county. The twisters were reported near Wilson in Lynn county about 20 miles south, southeast of Lubbock, and at the small community of Dougherty, about 19 miles east of Floydada on the Floydada-Matador highway. No deaths or injuries and not too heavy damage was reported in the twisters.

Rains, Hail Hit

Meanwhile, torrential rains dumped an estimated five inches of rain in some rural sections southeast and east of Lubbock and hail stood two and three inches on the ground after an unusual morning hail storm which hit a 20-mile swath in Floyd county.

Possibly the heaviest damage in the entire area was caused by this storm.

However, heavy hail damage to some sections was reported in the Matador area.

Twisters Near Silverton

Two small twisters were reported in the Silverton area last night. Mrs. Johnny Burson said two small twisters hit near her home seven miles northeast of Silverton about 6:45 p.m., tore up trees, hit mainly in fields, and then disappeared down a canyon. Heavy rain also fell at the time at Silverton. The Burson family took to a cellar.

Against this background the Weatherman didn't offer much in the way of sunshine for the South Plains today.

Cloudy skies probably will greet South Plains residents this morning, the Lubbock Weather station said. The clouds will break later in the day with skies becoming partly cloudy.

Several Hurt In Oklahoma Storm

MEEKER, Okla., May 17 (AP)—A tornado struck the high school auditorium-gymnasium here about 7 p.m. (CST) and some persons in the building were injured.

Sgt. C. F. Wheaton of the Shawnee police department said ambulances from his city—about 15 miles west of here—are enroute to the area.

Della Via, an employe in a Meeker drug store, said she did not know how many persons were injured. The combination auditorium-gymnasium was at least partly-filled with persons—mostly students—attending an indoor softball game.

Meeker has a population of about 700.

300 At Game

The Oklahoma Highway patrol said it has been unable to confirm the tornado because of extremely heavy static on its radio.

The game was a softball match between girls from Meeker and Agra. Some 300 persons were attending. One girl, Ruth McEuin, was reported injured by a flying

Homes Wrecked In Soldier Mound Area

Mrs. Charity Smith Dies; Many Outrun Storm In Autos As Hail Pounds Area

SPUR, Dickens County, May 17.—An angry, boiling tornado ripped through a section of farm homes and the Soldier Mound community four miles north of Spur tonight, killing at least one person and injuring nine.

Killed in the storm was Mrs. Charity Smith, 52, of Gainesville. She was living with her son and his family, James D. Kittrell, 37, of near Soldier Mound community on the Spur-Dickens highway.

The tornado—latest in the series of savage storms to spread ruin over Panhandle and South Plains cities—struck about 6 p.m. At least 8 farm homes, a church and numerous other farm dwellings were reported either demolished or heavily damaged by the winds.

Injured Are In Hospital

Those injured in the tornado and in Nichols General hospital in Spur tonight included:

Mrs. James Daniel Kittrell, about 35, shock and bruises and possibly a fractured rib. Mrs. Kittrell is the daughter-in-law of the dead woman.

The Kittrell children, Bonnie Ann, 12, shock and bruises; Goldie, 8, shock and bruises; Ruth Evelyn, 6, shock and bruises; Sue LeJune, 4, fractured right thigh, fractured right elbow, shock and facial bruises, in serious condition; Clarence, 2½, shock and bruises; Larry Don, 8-months-old, shock and slight bruises. James Kittrell, 10, slight injuries, was treated and released.

Also injured was C. R. Adams, 51, who remained in the hospital for treatment of shock.

James D. Kittrell, 37, the son of the woman killed, also was in the hospital tonight suffering from shock. He was returning from Lubbock when the tornado struck and drove to within a few hundred yards of what had been his home before realizing what had happened.

Infant Found In Field

Of those injured, Sue LeJune was the most seriously hurt. Full extent of injuries to the others had not been determined late tonight but it was not believed any of their conditions were critical.

Larry Don, the eight-months old youngster of the family, was brought out of a field more than 30 yards from the Kittrell residence about two hours after the storm. For awhile it was feared that the infant had been killed. He had been blown in the opposite direction from which the storm was travelling.

Actual time for the first blow by the storm was believed to have been about 5:45. The overall general storm area where violent wind activity was taking place was estimated to be a quarter of a mile in diameter and 1,000 feet high. It traveled from the Southwest to the northeast along a high highway then crossed over, missing Spur by only one and one-half miles. At last reports, it was still sticking to the ground. Later a traveler near Benjamin reported seeing a funnel. The tornado was one of the largest reported in this area.

Spur is located about 70 miles southeast of Lubbock.

Second In This Area

Mrs. Smith had been at her son's home a week. Her body was taken to Campbell Funeral home in an ambulance.

The tornado was the second major one to strike the South Plains in two weeks. A tornado which hit Sundown Friday, May 6, killed two

Residents Watch As Boiling Funnel Forms

Spur Has 'Ringside' Seats For Tornado

(Special To The Avalanche)

SPUR, May 17.—Spur residents had ringside seats late today for one of the most awsome shows on earth.

Hundreds of persons living in this rich cotton, and cattle producing center stood in the streets, in their homes and on nearby hills to watch the huge tornado funnel form ominously to the west of their city. Many persons jumped in their cars and raced the storm out of town.

J. R. Whitmire, patrolman with the Texas Highway Patrol stationed in Spur, told this story after watching the tornado barely miss his home and dip down to the northwest and north:

"It was between 5:45 and 6 p.m. when my wife called me to the window and pointed out the cloud.

"It (the funnel) was boiling in the center of the huge storm cloud just to the west of Spur. Almost everyone seemed to think the thing would hit the city, and for 10 or 15 minutes it appeared it might.

"The funnel appeared to be at least 100 feet in diameter.

"Many persons in Spur, and in the rural areas also, jumped into their cars with their families and headed in an almost constant stream south of the town in hopes of escaping should it hit Spur.

"Finally, it kept rolling on in, then veered to the northeast, missing Spur by only two or three miles, rolling along the ground."

Whitmire then told how the tornado smashed through the Soldier Mound community about four miles due north of the city, demolishing a church and nearby farm homes.

Forms In Huge Cloud

Whitmire then started going into the storm area to help the dead and injured. He called his headquarters in Lubbock shortly after the storm struck. Another Highway patrol unit was immediately rushed to the scene.

Another description of the storm was given by Jack Tower, Southwestern Bell telephone company worker, who said that he, along with many other Spur resi-

FDR, Jr. Wins Congress Seat

By JOSEPH HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 17.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., won a seat in Congress tonight in a triumphant battle with Tammany Hall which his father fought early in his political career 35 years ago.

The lanky, handsome young scion of one of the nation's famous political families was the first of the late president's five children to run for office.

He piled up such a commanding lead in the 20th Congressional district special election that his Democratic foe conceded defeat an hour after the polls closed.

Bitterly Fought Contest

Roosevelt, running on the Liberal and Four Freedoms parties tickets after Tammany denied him the Democratic nomination, garnered 41,146 votes in the 20th district's 179 voting districts.

Municipal Court Justice Benjamin H. Shalleck, who got the Tammany nod, received 24,352 votes.

William H. McIntyre, Republican, won 10,020, Annette Rubinstein, American Labor, trailed with 5,348.

The bitterly fought contest, which kept Manhattan's West side in an uproar for a month, was for the seat of the late Sol Bloom, veteran Democrat who won 13 successive terms in Congress.

Roosevelt assailed Tammany throughout his campaign but at the same time he announced his support of President Truman's

Ivey Convicted Of Murder Here

A jury in 99th District court Tuesday afternoon adjudged Arthur Lee Ivey, 50, guilty of murder without malice in connection with the Feb. 27 fatal stabbing of Leonard Bailey, and recommended punishment of five years in the state penitentiary.

The verdict, returned at 4:45 p.m. to Judge G. V. Pardue, was signed by Aubrey Pounds as foreman.

It turned a deaf ear to an application of the defendant for a suspended sentence in case of conviction.

The defense, represented by Howard Davison and Briggs Irvin, made no announcement immediately of whether it will accept sentence. It has two days in which to inform the court.

New Trial Slated

The state, represented by E. G. Pharr and A. W. Salyars of the staff of District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, said it hopes to try Alfredo Albidrez, 30, today on a charge of murder with malice Feb. 27 of Adolfo Trujillo, his foreman on a construction project here.

Trujillo was shot fatally at the 120 Ave. M residence of a third Mexican, Abel Bustillos. Those present had been drinking beer, witnesses said immediately after the shooting.

The defense called three witnesses, including the defendant, when it opened its evidence Tuesday morning.

When Bailey, about 48, was rushed to a hospital early the morning of Feb. 17 for treatment of a stab wound in the chest, those who undressed him found he had cards in his pocket.

That was testimony of Mrs. Ruth Pierce, a defense witness.

Truman Withdraws Walgren Nomination

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP) — President Truman acknowledged defeat today and withdrew the nomination of his old associate, Mon C. Walgren to the $14,500 a year chairmanship of the National Security Resources board.

It has been stalled beyond budging for nearly three and a half months in the Senate Armed Services committee.

Mr. Truman withdrew the nomination at Walgren's own request. As late as a month ago, the President told a news conference he had no intention of pulling it back.

Senator Byrd, Virginia Democrat, joined the six Republicans on the committee March 15 in tabling the nomination—a procedure that held it in the committee and forestopped any possibility of senate action.

Missing U-235 Located In Salvage Material

AEC Claims Most Of Lost Uranium Found

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 17 — The Atomic Energy commission announced tonight that a small quantity of uranium 235 was missing for a time from one of its laboratories, but that most of it has now turned up in waste material from the lab.

Moreover, it said the remainder is not believed "stolen or lost." A search for it is continuing in the salvage material from the laboratory.

All told 32 grams (1.05 ounces) was originally found to be missing from the commission's Argonne National laboratory near Chicago. Of that, 25 grams have been accounted for.

The commission issued its statement after a flurry of reports that a larger quantity of the precious stuff of which atom bombs are made had disappeared. One report had mentioned three quarters of a pound.

Early tonight the FBI acknowledged tersely that it had conducted an investigation but refused all details.

Finally Carl Shugg, deputy general manager of the Atomic Energy commission issued the following statement.

"In response to press inquiries concerning reports of loss or theft of uranium 235 from the Argonne National laboratory, the facts are as follows:

"The installations of the atomic energy program account rigorously for all fissionable materials brought on to or taken off their premises. This involves chemical analysis of large quantities of residues from machining chemicals and other operations involving uranium and plutonium in various forms.

"Periodic inventories are taken. In the February inventory at the Argonne National laboratory there was a discrepancy of 32 grams or 1.05 ounces of U-235 contained in various forms of uranium metal.

"An analysis of all laboratory waste was undertaken and the discrepancy was reported to the FBI. To date 25 grams of the 32 have been accounted for at Oak Ridge through analysis of contents of containers of salvage material machine turnings, chemical solutions and so forth sent there from the Argonne laboratory for recovery treatment.

Disappearance Reported

"The remaining seven grams—less than ¼ ounce—is not believed to have been stolen or lost as analysis of the waste is still continuing."

In New York, The Daily News said in a copyrighted story from Washington that disappearance of three-quarters of a pound of the material was discovered at the Chicago laboratory Feb. 14.

The News said the loss was not reported to the FBI until March 28 because AEC officials thought the material had been "lost."

The missing material, said the newspaper, was part of a shipment from the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plant where it is produced.

The News said it was placed in a special safe in the Chicago laboratories, and its disappearance was discovered when a scientist opened the safe Feb. 14.

The News said "key" counter-intelligence officers" believe the uranium is in Russian hands. The newspaper said the agents fear it was flown to Russia "within a matter of days, perhaps hours, after it left the Chicago laboratory."

Hearings On Rent Decontrol Slated

AUSTIN, May 17 (AP)—The Senate State Affairs committee today set aside next Tuesday to hear arguments for and against rent decontrol in Texas.

The public hearing was asked by Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston, author of the bill which passed the House yesterday 93-41.

"There has been some criticism that my bill was not given a proper public hearing before the House committee," he said. "I want to be sure this time that there is plenty of notification."

Hearing Promised

Senator A. M. Aikin of Paris, chairman of the State Affairs committee, assured Moore that the bill would be heard next Tuesday.

"If the Senate remains in session Tuesday afternoon, we will hold the hearing at 7:30 that night," he said.

In quick order the committee passed favorably on nine House bills. They included:

A bill b. Rep. Marshall Bell of San Antonio which would require state officers and employes to sign an affidavit that they are not Communists or members of any subversive group.

A bill by Rep. Sterling Williams of Snyder which would allow counties to levy up to 30 cents of

MILITARY GOVERNOR HONORED

Truman Leads Nation In Salute To Gen. Clay On Return To U. S.

BY JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17 — Gen. Lucius Clay came home today from his "cold war" victory in Berlin and President Truman led the nation in a stirring salute to the 52-year-old soldier-statesman.

The courageous Georgian was decorated by Mr. Truman for "services of supreme value to his country and to humanity" and was accorded the rare honor of addressing both the Senate and the House.

At the climax of his triumphal day, the retiring U. S. military governor of Germany told a news conference he does not believe Russia will reimpose the Berlin blockade even if the coming Big Four conference fails to solve German problems.

Clay hailed the vote of one-third of Soviet zone Germans against a one-slate Communist ticket as evidence of "considerable courage in any police state." But he predicted that the struggle between totalitarianism and western democracy will last "for many years."

The general told newsmen that

Reds Closing Shanghai Trap

(By The Associated Press)

UNCHECKED Chinese Communist armies all but encircled Shanghai Tuesday, swept to within 87 miles of the southeast port of Foochow and were reported but 225 miles from Canton, the refugee capital.

The southbound Red juggernauts appeared to be virtually unopposed. Communist armies simply walked into three big cities of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang, grouped on the Yangtze in central China.

Military observers in Canton declared that there was little but "mountains and space" between that south China city and a Red column which has slashed 300 miles south of the Yangtze. Wealthy Cantonese were fleeing to the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

Reds Tighten Grip

Only on the Shanghai front did the Nationalists appear to be putting up a battle. And even the garrison admitted the Reds were making encircling moves that put the city in imminent peril.

A communique said the Reds had reached Chwansha, 12 miles east of Shanghai's waterfront. This meant that the Reds held lines about three-fourths of the way around Chim's greatest city.

The Communists also reached Chowpu, at the outskirts of Pootung, the sprawling industrial district across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai. Chowpu is but seven miles from the Shanghai waterfront.

Fred Hampson, chief of the Associated Press staff in China who is remaining in Shanghai, said a string of fires raged on the Pootung front. Some appeared only about four miles from Shanghai.

The cannonading roared louder than ever in Shanghai as the Reds stepped up their attacks from the Senate Economy Bloc Loses On Money Bill

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The congressional economy bloc suffered a major defeat today when the Senate passed a $2,409,000,000 appropriation bill after cancelling a previous order to cut it.

The bill, passed on a voice vote after a series of rollcalls, now goes back to the House for action on Senate charges.

By a 43 to 41 rollcall, the Senate voided its action of nearly three weeks ago sending the bill back to the Appropriations committee with orders to pare about $11,000,000 off the total. The administration was aided by the fact there were a number of Republican absentees.

Then it rejected, 44 to 41, a substitute reduction proposal which would have called for a slightly smaller cut.

RESERVOIRS OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Army engineers rejected today a proposal that two small upstream reservoirs be built on the Leon river in West Texas to aid flood control and provide more water for Abilene and Stephenville. The projects were suggested as a substitute plan for the proposed Proctor reservoir which the engineers previously had recommended.

Eight Crewmen Rescued From Burning Ship Off Newfoundland

HALIFAX, N. S., May 17. (AP)—The eight crewmen of the fire gutted vessel Uronick were reported rescued today off Newfoundland's east coast by the cable ship Lord Kelvin.

An air and water search continued for about 20 Danish crewmen who took to lifeboats yesterday when the 120-ton motor schooner Ebba sank in storm-tossed seas. The men managed to send out a distress call before the Ebba went down.

The Uronick caught fire yesterday. Her skipper warned other ships not to approach the burning vessel.

RED LEADER HELD IN BRITAIN

Federal Court Seizes $20,000 Bond, Orders Eisler To Jail

BY LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17 — A federal court today seized the $20,000 bond of bail-jumping Gerhardt Eisler, alleged No. 1 Soviet agent in the U.S., and ordered him jailed as soon as he is returned to this country.

Federal District Judge James W. Morris authorized both actions at the request of the Justice department in a 10-minute court proceeding.

Eisler is being held, pending an extradition hearing, in a London prison where he was taken after forcible removal from the Polish steamship Batory at Southhampton, England, last Saturday.

The reputed Communistic leader, attempting to escape punishment for passport fraud and contempt of Congress, was discovered traveling on the Batory as a stowaway.

As Morris acted, Sen. Mundt (R) S. D., declared in New York that a Red agent is "masterminding communism in the federal government at Washington" and that it is either Eisler or an unidentified person.

Mundt told newsmen after testifying before a spy-probing federal grand jury that Eisler might by this time have been succeeded by another person as the "mastermind."

The senator, a member of the House Un-American Activities committee in the last Congress, said he is not sure of the Communist leader's identity.

Under Heavy Bond

Eisler is under an additional $3,500 bond in New York, but Judge Morris does not have jurisdiction over this. The bespectacled defendant was free on the two bonds pending appeals from a one-to-three-year jail sentence on the passport charge and a one-year sentence on the contempt conviction.

The convictions already have been upheld once by the U.S. court of appeals. The cases are now before the Supreme Court.

The forfeited bail was posted by George Marshall of New York and consisted of U. S. Treasury bonds. The Justice department said, however, that the bond actually was supplied by the civil rights Congress. Attorney General Clark has branded the Congress "subversive."

Morris, who presided at both trials of Eisler, stated that in his opinion "there is a clear violation of the conditions of the bond."

William Hitz, assistant U. S. Attorney, obtained Morris' permission to use a bench warrant issued for Eisler's rearrest as part of the documentary evidence in negotiations with British authorities for his extradition.

The United States and Britain have a treaty under which criminals, or persons charged with criminal offenses, can be extradited.

Neither the State nor Justice departments would comment on possible action against the Gdynia-American steamship line, operators of the Batory. The captain of the vessel refused for some time to allow Eisler's removal.

Polish authorities in England declared threats of reprisal by the U. S. were used in the successful effort to obtain custody of the stowaway.

POLAND, BRITISH LEFTISTS SEEK EISLER'S RELEASE

LONDON, May 17. (INS)—The Polish government and British leftists increased their pressure on an obviously embarrassed British government tonight in demanding the release of Gerhardt Eisler.

Stanley Moore, solicitor for the bail-jumping Communist fugitive from the United States seized by the British Saturday from the Polish liner Batory, said he probably would appeal tomorrow to a high court to grant bail to the refugee.

The Polish embassy released the text of a Warsaw note to Britain declaring that the British boarding of the Batory and the arrest of Eisler was "a glaring abuse" of international rights.

The note said that Poland regarded Eisler as a "political refugee" and added:

"To deprive Eisler of the rights of asylum granted by Polish authorities is contrary to article 14 of the UN declaration of human rights. . .

"The Polish government. . . has considered the events that occurred on the Batory a serious violation of the Polish flag, and expects his majesty's government to punish those guilty of this action . . .to grant Eisler the same rights of asylum insured under Polish authority which is the right to freely leave Britain . . . and travel to the country of his choice."

U. S. Court Orders Forfeiture Of Bonds Posted By Eisler

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—A federal judge today ordered the forfeiture of $20,000 in bonds posted by Communist Gerhardt Eisler.

A stay-in-jail bench warrant for the arrest of the fugitive Red leader if and when he is extradited from England also was issued by U.S. District Judge James W. Morris.

Judge Morris signed orders declaring that Eisler, who skipped the country May 6 as a stowaway on the Polish liner Batory, is ineligible for further freedom on bail while his appeals are pending in two criminal cases here.

The judge directed that Eisler, alleged former number one Communist agent in the United States, be kept in jail until the appeals are disposed of.

The $20,000 bond had been posted by the Civil Rights congress, an alleged Communist front organization. An additional $3,500 bond, posted in New York in connection with a deportation case against Eisler, was not affected by today's action.

Tech Junior To Head Student ASCE Chapter

A. L. Kincheloe junior engineering student from Floydada, was named new president of the Texas Technological college student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, it was announced Tuesday.

Kincheloe was named president of the Texas Conference of Student Chapters of ASCE at a recent convention in San Angelo.

Other officers of the Tech chapter are Paul Tingle, Fort Worth, vice president; James Johnston, Lubbock, treasurer; Ed Campbell, Ranger, secretary.

The election results were announced following a Monday night meeting at the college. Dr. George A. Whetstone is faculty sponsor of the chapter.

Dr. Whetstone announced that the Texas Tech chapter has received a letter of commendation from Franklin Thomas, national president of ASCE, "for excellence of chapter activities."

Grand Jury Named For Secret Probe Of Waitress' Death

LAS CRUCES, N. M., May 17. (INS)—A grand jury was selected today for secret investigation into the slaying of brunette Ovita "Cricket" Coogler, 18-year-old Las Cruces waitress.

The grand jury was selected 47 days after the girl disappeared, and 29 days after her broken body was found in a sand-hill grave 12 miles from Las Cruces.

Among matters that may be investigated by the Grand Jury is the handling of the case by the Dona Ana county sheriff's department.

Meanwhile, Santa Fe city police were following up a clue that, they said, might possibly tie in with the Las Cruces slaying.

They reported that two men in a car licensed in Dona Ana county, scene of Miss Coogler's death, had been arrested in Greeley, Colo.

Police said the men were unable to trace their movements satisfactorily. They were arrested for passing bad checks.

Greeley police were asked to interrogate them in connection with the Las Cruces slaying.

Man, Woman Found Dead In Plane Wreckage In California

HAYWARD, Calif., May 17 (INS)—The bodies of a man and woman who took to the air in their search for romance were discovered today in the twisted wreckage of a small plane that crashed in rugged mountain country near St. Mary's college five days ago.

The two were identified from papers found on their bodies as Robert Bruce Search, 31, a Washington D.C. flight instructor, and Mrs. Catherine Yohn, 25, a childhood acquaintance.

The plane was found by a ranch hand seven miles southwest of the college campus. It had apparently crashed against a mountain top just ten feet from the summit while flying through a heavy overcast.

Papers in Mrs. Yohn's purse at the crash scene gave her previous addresses as Lancaster, Pa., and Los Angeles. Mrs. C. Herman of Lancaster told International News Service that the girl had boarded with her for about a year. She added:

"Catherine met Mr. Search at a dance. I only saw him once—he was a fine looking man. When she said she was going away I tried to keep her from leaving but she said she had always wanted to travel.

War Crimes Sentences Of Jap Officials Upheld By Board

YOKOHAMA, May 17 (INS)—War crimes sentences of five former Japanese admirals, eleven other Navy officers and one petty officer were upheld today by a U. S. Eighth Army review board in Yokohama.

All the defendants had been sentenced for committing murders and other atrocities upon hundreds of survivors from eleven allied ships torpedoed in the South Pacific and Indian oceans during World War II.

Says Man Has Strange Powers That Work While He Sleeps

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remark ble system that often leads to i provement in power of mind, achi- ement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power-mind, has within him the mind-power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy-power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth to success in many fields. Strangely, he says that this power works best while we sleep, when proper methods are used.

The author states the time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9000-word treatise which reveals many startling results—to readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. K-152, Los Angeles, 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been printed.—Adv.

Texas Official Urges Congress To Clarify Natural Gas Regulations

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17—Brigadier General Ernest O. Thompson today urged Congress to clarify the natural gas act to exclude arms-length sales by gas producers to interstate pipelines. Thompson is a member of the Texas Railroad commission. He said fear of regulation by the Federal Power commission is proving a deterrent to oil exploration in Texas. Oil men fear that their products, where both gas and oil are found, may both be regulated and thus the producers would be allowed only a 6½ percent return on their investment.

Federal Regulation Feared

Gen. Thompson said over 3,000 gas wells in Texas were capped now for lack of market. Independents and big companies alike fear this Federal regulation.

"The oil industry has asked for no federal subsidies. Let it alone and wildcatters will find all the oil and gas we can possibly need."

He said under questioning by Senator Bricker (R-O) that he "seriously doubted" if gas prices to consumers would be increased by this bill although he thinks it will increase the market for gas and ultimately increase the price paid to producers at the well.

'Clarification' Needed

Senator Reed, Kansas, who wrote the amendment to the original natural gas act in 1938, said language was clear to exclude producers and facilities at production level, but it appeared further clarification was necessary.

Senator Lyndon Johnson, (D-Tex), chairman of the Senate subcommittee which is hearing the matter, in a preliminary statement said the Federal Power commission had reversed its own decisions on this subject and individual members had changed their own views. "I know that Congress can write a bill which makes it perfectly clear.

"Natural gas producers are now harassed and they feel as if they are the victims of a unilateral OPA."

Hike In Organized Reserve Enlistments Reported Here

Twenty-five men reenlisted and enlisted in the Organized Reserve corps as a result of the recent "open house" at Lubbock Air Force base.

Major James Samsel, ORC instructor in the Lubbock area, said the drive for additional enlistments will continue throughout the spring and summer.

A total of 2,867 Texas veterans have reenlisted and enlisted since the start of the current drive March 1.

Full information regarding benefits of membership in the ORC may be obtained at the Instructor's office, ORC, room 255, 1005½ Thirteenth, or at the local Army-Air Force Recruiting station.

Services For W. M. Johnson Scheduled At Shallowater

SHALLOWATER, May 17. (Special)—Funeral services for W. M. Johnson, 75, of Shallowater route 1, will be held at 3 p.m. today in Broadway Church of Christ, Lubbock.

Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister, will officiate, assisted by A. A. Mitchell of Anton.

Burial will be in Lubbock Memorial park, under the direction of Rix Funeral home.

Johnson died Tuesday in West Texas hospital, Lubbock, after having been in ill health the last six years.

He was a retired farmer, and had lived in the Shallowater area for 15 years.

Pallbearers will be Fay Luck, Joe Boozier, Kermit Giles, Charley Boaz, Kinsey Young and M. J. Williams.

Survivors include the wife; two daughters, Mrs. Fred O'Shields of Sulphur Springs and Mrs. J. W. Rice of Shallowater; two sons, Jake and Carl Johnson, both of Shallowater; 12 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Two Tech Seniors Are Named To Summer Toreador Staff

Two students at Texas Tech were chosen Tuesday to serve on the summer staff of the student newspaper, The Toreador.

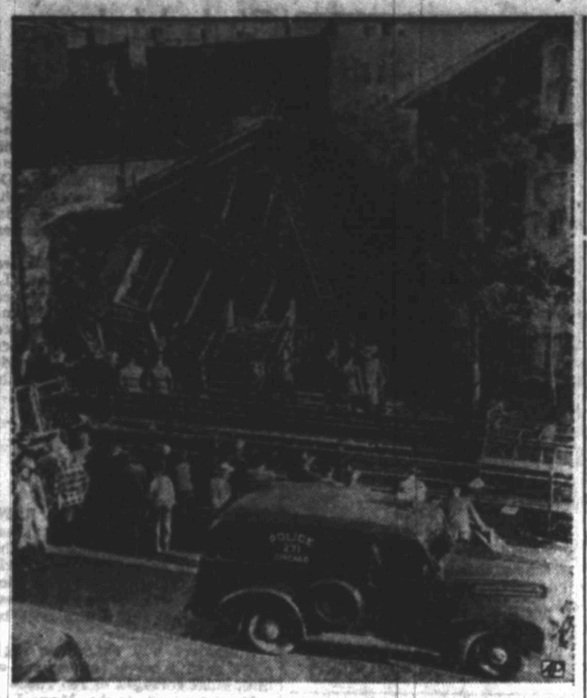

Miss Rickey Archer, senior journalism major from Grandbury, will serve as business manager on the summer staff and Charles Schafer, also a senior journalism major, from Vigo Park, will act as associate editor.

The Toreador, which ended publication for the spring semester Saturday, will be published weekly in the summer. It is printed twice a week during the fall and spring semesters.

In a publications committee meeting earlier in the week, Franklin P. Grant, senior journalism student from Pyote, was named editor of the summer paper.

OIL LINE APPROVED

DAMASCUS, Syria, May 17—(AP)—A government spokesman said today that Brigadier Hosni Zaim, who seized control of the Syrian government in a bloodless coup last March, has signed an agreement with American oil interests for the passage of a Trans-Arabian Pipeline company line through Syria.

BOWIE PHYSICIAN DIES

TEXARKANA, May 17 (AP)—Dr. J. N. White, 83, retired Bowie county physician, died in a hospital here today following a heart attack Sunday. A graduate of the Atlanta, Ga., school of electic medicine and surgery in 1893, he moved to Bowie county in 1894 and was closely allied with medical development in Texas since. He retired in January, 1948.

Houston Mayor Is Invited To Conference At Geneva

HOUSTON, May 17 (AP)—Mayor Oscar Holcombe has been invited to attend a conference of the International Union of Cities in Geneva, Switzerland, he announced today.

Mayor Holcombe was invited along with Mayor O'Dwyer of New York and Mayor Cornelius of Chicago to represent the United States at the gathering.

The mayor has not given a formal decision on the trip abroad, and said he would give his answer within 10 days.

Air Force Recruiter Will Visit Lubbock

An Air Force officer this week will visit Lubbock to interview young men interested in pilot training.

Capt. John G. Henry, aviation cadet project officer of the El Paso recruiting district will be here today and Thursday to talk with prospective applicants for pilot training.

Applicants may contact Capt. Henry at the Army-Air Force recruiting office, room 203 of the Postoffice building. Arrangements for interviews may be made in advance.

Applicants for cadet training must be between 20 and 26½ years of age, and must have two years of college or be able to pass an equivalent examination. High moral, personal and physical qualifications also are required. Both single and married men may apply.

Aviation cadet classes during 1949 will begin on June 29, Aug. 10, Sept. 20 and Nov. 1. Special arrangements have been made so that college seniors may qualify as candidates now and begin flight training after finishing school.

The training includes academic instruction in aircraft engineering, meteorolgy, navigation, communications and other aviation subjects.

Town Talk

Casual, informal and formal costumes for summer wearing during a "Day at the Country Club" will be shown at a Ladies' Day luncheon and fashion show to be staged today at 1 p.m. in the Lubbock Country club.

Mrs. Dick Jennings is general chairman for the show, and models will be Mesdames Tom Murphey, Hub Jones, Raymond Cone, Leete Jackson, jr, Horace Humphries, Oscar Slaton, Fenner Tubbs, Wright Kerr, G. W. Cochran, Clyde Tatum, Harold Humphries and Jennings.

Fashion items will be from Margaret's, Hanna Pope and company, Hemphill-Wells company, Hackel's College avenue, Godwin's Booterie, and Dunlap's Department store.

Large arrangements of red roses decorated the white laid tables at the luncheon held by the Lubbock Woman's club Tuesday in the Yaqui room of the Hilton hotel, when the program topic was "Rounding Out the Year."

Mrs. E. V. Nickell brought the invocation, and Mrs. R. O. Bennett, the eleventh and retiring president of the club, introduced the elective officers for next year. Mrs. B. H. Moore, the club's new leader, announced her committee appointments.

Mrs. J. J. Kendrick presented a paper prepared by Mrs. H. H. Bidwell on "The Question in Club Members' Minds." A gift was presented to the retiring president.

Attending the luncheon were 33 members and one guest.

Mrs. John Hiner Wilson, 2003-A Main, entertained Tuesday with luncheon in the Hilton hotel as a courtesy to her mother, Mrs. C. H. Smith, who has just returned home after spending the winter in Phoenix, Ariz.

Salmon colored gladioli centered the table which was laid with a rose toned linen cloth complemented by chartruese napkins.

Covers were laid for Mesdames C. E. Maedgen, John A. Porter, G. A. Foote, R. S. Williams, Jess Levens, Dan Blair, J. D. Peters, Raymond Hefner, the honoree and the hostess.

Mrs. James O. Cade, 1707 Twenty-seventh, entertained with a pre-bridal coffee honoring Miss Joan Golding, Tuesday between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Approximately 40 guests called.

Mesdames W. C. Price and George Dupree greeted guests at the door, and presented them to members of the receiving line, Miss Golding, Mrs. Jack Golding and Mrs. Cade.

The lace-covered refreshment table was centered with a lavender and white floral arrangement, and the bride's chosen colors were also carried out in refreshments and table appointments. Mesdames Jack Lewis and David Zacharias presided at the coffee service.

Others in the houseparty were Mesdames A. B. Cunningham, D. D. Cross, T. R. Prideaux, W. P. Clement, George Young, Jake Maisen, O. W. English, Murray Pentress, and Jerry O'Connor.

The honoree wore a lavender and white corsage, a gift of the hostess, and members of the houseparty were presented with red rosebud corsages. Mrs. Cade's hostess gift to Miss Golding was of pottery.

As a pre-bridal courtesy for Miss Ann Nell Boyd, Mrs. Kell Wiley entertained with an out-of-doors coke party at her home, 2512 Twentieth. The hostess used red roses from her garden in decorating the refreshment table.

A hostess gift was presented to the honoree.

NEWS BRIEFS

Will Wilson, district attorney of Dallas, county, will be principal speaker at the weekly luncheon program of the Lubbock Rotary club, which will be held at noon today in Hilton hotel. Wilson will tell of the need for modern criminal laws at the meeting. He is immediate past president of the District and County Attorneys Association of Texas.

The 900th member to join the Lubbock Boys' club this year is Billy Barbee, 16, of 1311 Twenty-third, who became affiliated with the club Tuesday. Young Barbee, a Lubbock Senior High school student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Barbee. Boys' club officials said last night that once before—in the 1946-47 year—had that figure been reached, when a total of 902 boys joined the club. Since the Lubbock Boys' club's year runs from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31, club officials expect new memberships this year to run considerably over the previous record.

The table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow snapdragons. Bouquets of lilies and snapdragons decorated the receiving rooms.

Fifty guests including the seniors, their wives and faculty members of the plant industry department called from 4 until 6 o'clock.

Louisiana 'Blue Baby' Arrives At Dallas Hospital For Operation

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—Blue-eyed Nelda Susan Pelt, 15-months-old Pitkin, La., blue baby, arrived today at Bradford memorial hospital for babies. There she will undergo an operation to correct her condition.

The brown-haired infant apparently withstood the ambulance trip fairly well. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delfore Pelt of Pitkin.

"I'm encouraged; I have high hopes," said Mrs. Pelt, who accompanied the child. "I think she stands a good chance."

Unused portions of a fund which Shreveport Times readers contributed to aid a previous blue baby will be used to aid the Pelt infant.

WINNER — Jonelle Judd of Roosevelt, above, who modeled a senior school dress in an annual 4-H club County Dress Revue here Saturday was named first place winner. She is to model the dress in June at the Extension Service Round-Up and State 4-H Dress Revue to be held at College Station.

Tech, High School Seniors Honored

A buffet supper honoring graduating high school and Tech seniors of First Presbyterian church was given by women of the church Monday night at Fellowship hall. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Guy Brown, social activities secretary of the organization, and members of her committee.

The 40 guests were seated at foursome tables which were decorated with arrangements of white tapers and floating roses. Red roses and tall green candles decorated the serving table.

A magician's show was given by Ralph McAbee. Dr. Jack M. Lewis spoke briefly and gave each of the guests a New Testament. To conclude the program, the group formed a friendship circle and sang a song led by Rev. William Rogan.

Violence Flares In Bendix Strike

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 17. (INS)—Violence flared for the first time today in the Bendix Aviation Corp. strike in South Bend and a union attorney announced filing of an unfair labor practices charge against the company.

An estimated 400 pickets, some of them armed with baseball bats, gathered outside the plant's nine gates today and engaged in several minor skirmishes with plant protection workers.

Plant Police Cross Lines

Forty-five plant protection police were the only workers allowed through the reinforced picket line. Maintenance workers and office personnel were turned back.

Alfred L. Scanlan, attorney for striking Bendix Local 9 of the CIO-United Auto Workers, said an unfair charge was filed with the Chicago regional office of the National Labor Relations board.

Scanlan, a University of Notre Dame law professor, said the complaint accuses Bendix of instituting a new version of the "runaway plant" doctrine.

Company Violation Charged

The lawyer charged the company has violated that section of the National Labor Relations act which prohibits employers from removing their plants to avoid their collective bargaining duties and from coercing or interfering with the rights of their employes.

Named with Bendix in the complaint were Willys-Overland, Nash, Hudson, and Packard motor car companies. The latter firms are the most recent to seek removal or to remove brake dies and parts from the plant.

Special Judge Lee L. Cook meanwhile gave the union the right to intervene in a replevin writ filed by Willys-Overland in an effort to get its brake dies out of the plant.

Members of Local 9 have been on strike 28 days because of a dispute over the discharge of 47 workers.

NOT IN THE ACT

LONDON, May 17 (AP)—Harry Langham, 26, a professional entertainer, is going to be more careful about his razor blade swallowing act. He almost killed himself by actually swallowing one. During a performance last week, a member of the audience gave him a broken blade to swallow. "We conjurors usually press the blades against the palate and then recover them afterwards," Lancham said yesterday when he was released from the hospital. "But I really swallowed this one."

Paratrooper Killed, 21 Others Hurt In Military Maneuvers

FORT BRAGG, N. C., May 17 (INS)—A paratrooper was killed and 21 others were injured today during the Third Army's "Operation Tarheel," largest military land maneuvers since V-J day.

The mishap occurred during the jump of 1,500 82nd Airborne division soldiers from 45 C-82 planes in connection with the field exercise.

Identity of the paratrooper who plummeted to his death was withheld by army officials, pending notification of next of kin.

Of the 21 injured in the early morning jump, only three were reported seriously hurt.

Public information officer Col. Stuart Lewis said that in an operation as large as today's, the Army would expect the injury list to be much larger due to faulty functioning parachutes or extremely rough landings on the "drop zone Sicily" training field.

All of the injured men were members of the 504th regimental combat team, which is aligned with "friendly" troops combatting an invasion of the United States in the make-believe war.

The maneuvers are scheduled to be concluded Friday.

Louisiana Sheriff Arrests 11 Men In Recent Cattle Thefts

DONALDSONVILLE, La., May 17. (AP)—Sheriff H. M. Waguespack says he has arrested 11 men and charged them with cattle thievery in a drive to stamp out thefts in Ascension parish.

The arrest roundup started last Wednesday, the sheriff announced yesterday, when two cattle were stolen. One was from the pasture of Frank S. Noel of McCall, and the other from Louis Dinino of Donaldsonville.

Spain's Loan Request Is Rejected By U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Spain suffered a second sharp setback today as officials said the United States has turned down Madrid's informal request for a multi-million dollar loan.

The development came less than 24 hours after the United Nations Assembly rejected proposals for ending a diplomatic boycott of the Franco government.

Responsible administration officials said both the State department and the government's Export-Import bank have refused to consider—at least for the present—the loan plea made by a visiting Spanish official.

The Spanish representative, Andres Moreno of the Banco Hispano-Americano, mentioned the figure of $1,275,000,000 as the amount his country needs to carry out its overall reconstruction program.

Kiel Is Named Commander Of Air Base At Wichita Falls

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Emil C. Kiel will be the new commanding officer at Sheppard Air Force base at Wichita Falls.

The Air Force, in announcing this today, said his transfer would be effective July 1. He is now commanding general of the 3310 Technical Training wing, Scott Air Force base, Bellville, Ill.

Kiel is replacing Brig. Gen John H. McCormick, who is coming to Washington for reassignment.

Five Arrested In Investigation Of Philippine Airliner Explosion

MANILA, May 17 (INS)—Philippine authorities arrested five men today in connection with the "mystery box" explosion in mid-air of a Philippines airlines plane with 13 persons aboard.

The leader of the quintet, described as Hukbalahap rebel sympathizers, reportedly shipped a small box on the plane which disappeared May 7.

Police suspect the "mystery box" contained explosives and detonated while the plane was flying over the Philippine sea enroute from Leyte to Manila.

The lives of all the crewmen and passengers including two American businessmen were believed lost in the disaster. Only the body of the pilot has been recovered.

Bits of wreckage bearing gunpowder burns, found floating in the sea off Alabat island south of Manila, have been turned over to the Philippine National Bureau of Investigation for a further probe of the crash.

The five men suspected of having a hand in the explosion were arrested by national constabularymen in Norte province.

Gassers Beat Hubbers, 9-3

Sugar Cain Hurls Revenge Victory

BORGER, May 17 (AP)—Revenge was obtained here tonight at Huber Park by an embattled Borger Gasser baseball team, which turned on the Lubbock Hubbers for a 9 to 3 victory.

The defeat, following the humiliating 25 to 13 pounding received Monday night, was accomplished by a hit barrage that was good for 14 safeties, including three home runs. Two Hubber hurlers felt the brunt of the attack, most of which fell on Don Hensiek, the starter.

Hensiek Stayed Behind

Hensiek never was ahead and the Gassers were all the way. Ken Sears highlighted the attack by slamming his sixth home run in four games.

"Sugar" Cain went all the way for the Gassers tonight, throttling the Hubber bats on nine hits, most of which were harmless. Errors by his mates accounted for two of the three Lubbock runs.

The Gasser guns boomed a salvo of 14 hits off the offerings of Hensiek and Charles Willis, who relieved him. Six of the 14 safeties were for extra bases and three of these were home runs.

Duarte Sparks Attack

Al Duarte, who had six for seven Monday night, was the biggest thorn in Borger's side tonight, slamming out three for four. Jim Prince had two for five to account, with Duarte, for five of the nine safeties.

The Hubbers return to Lubbock tomorrow night to open a nine-game home stand, meeting Clovis, Borger and Albuquerqune in three-game sets. The Pioneers open the stand in Lubbock tomorrow night and Manager Jackie Sullivan is expected to start Chris Haskins.

Stephens Scores Williams To Give Red Sox Win Over Chisox

Payoff Hit Comes In Boston Eighth

BOSTON, May 17 (AP)—Vern Stephens' ninth home run of the year, which scored Ted Williams ahead of him, provided the runs by which the Boston Red Sox defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-3 today.

Left hander Mel Parnell, the home club's only consistent pitcher, won his fifth victory.

The Bostonians couldn't do much more against Chicago's Randy Gumpert but managed to use their eight hits in more timely fashion.

The home Sox went ahead 2-1 in the seventh on Al Zarilla's second double of the day, a single by Billy Hitchcock and Birdie Tebbetts' two bagger.

The Chisox tied together a walk, two singles and two force plays for their other two runs in the eighth.

Then came Stephens' payoff clout in the Boston eighth.

DETROIT TIGERS DEFEAT WASHINGTON NINE, 4-2

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Held to five hits, the Detroit Tigers capitalized on the wildness of Walter Masterson and Forrest Thompson to score four runs in the last two innings and defeat Washington, 4-2 tonight. Johnny Lipon's single with the bases loaded in the ninth gave the Tigers their margin of victory.

Gold Sox Defeat Pampa Oilers, 12-6

AMARILLO, May 17. (AP)—The Amarillo Gold Sox unleashed a barrage of homers and extra base blows here tonight to defeat the Pampa Oilers in the second game of their two game series, 12-6.

Home runs by Crawford Howard, Dick Gentzkow, and Ted Clawitter aided in the downfall of the Oilers and caused Manager Grover Seitz to inject Outfielder Homer Matney into a pitching role in relief of starter Paul Cooke in the sixth.

Newly acquired Bob German, handling the pitching chores for the Sox, got into lots of trouble by issuing seven free passes, but managed to hold the Oilers in tow by limiting them to seven hits.

Amarillo scored a pair of runs in each of the third, fourth and fifth frames, then hit the jackpot with six tallies in the sixth frame on four hits, including two homers, two walks and an error.

Dukes Trample Lamesa, 10 To 2

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 17 (AP)—Heavy hitting coupled with expensive errors cost Lamesa a 10 to 2 loss in the West Texas-New Mexico League against Albuquerque tonight.

Lamesa piled up four errors—three of them in one inning. The Dukes collected 11 hits off Lamesa hurlers Glen Selbo and Joel Locke.

Albuquerque scored early in the first inning on a single, two walks and a hit batsman. Selbo hit Mulcahy and forced in the first run of the evening.

In the second, a single and a walk followed by Albuquerque Leftfielder Dick Dawson's home run scoring three.

In the fourth, two walks and a double were followed by three Lamesa errors. Albuquerque scored three runs in the frame.

Lamesa's first score came in the fourth inning Raimondi had loaded the bases and then let go of a wild pitch to allow a man to score. In the next frame, Lamesa got two hits and Raimondi forced a man in on a walk.

Breisinger came in on the mound for Albuquerque in the fifth with the sacks jammed, retired the side and allowed only one hit thereafter.

Two of the Lamesa hits were collected by shortstop Jackie Wilcox.

Pioneers Gain 10-6 Win Over Blue Sox

CLOVIS, May 17. (AP)—The Clovis Pioneers pushed across five runs in the eighth inning here tonight and went on to beat the Abilene Blue Sox 10-6 for an even break in the two-game series.

George Matthews won his second victory for the Pioneers, going the entire distance. The Blue Sox employed three hurlers, Geraldo Rodriquez, Dan Parra, the loser, and Rudy Lorona. Rene Vegas has been nominated to pitch for Abilene tomorrow night.

Trailing 5-4 from the third inning on, the Blue Sox went ahead in the top of the seventh when Bob Fernandez got a life on Jess Jacinto's error and then romped to third on manager Stubby Greer's double to right. George Sturdivant grounded into a double killing, Fernandez running across with the tying run.

Greer broke the 6-6 deadlock on Art Bosch's infield out, Jacinto to Bauer.

Parra retired the Pioneers in order for the third time in the seventh, but suddenly lost his wizardry in the eighth. He walked Pat Lorenzo and gave up a single to Jim Sinovick and a double to Red Sollars which notched the count at 7-7.

Shreveport Beats Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., May 17 (AP)—Shreveport snapped a five-game Tulsa winning streak tonight, taking what was meant to be the abbreviated opener of a Texas league doubleheader, 5 to 0.

The second game, however, was rained out in the fourth inning with both sides deadlocked, 1 and 1. Beaumont comes to town tomorrow.

The Sports took a lead in the first inning of the opener on Les Burge's home run with a mate aboard, and in the third counted two more to drive Bud Byerly to cover.

Their fifth tally came without a hit in the seventh. Bob Wilkins walked, made second on an infield out and went to third when Dee Sanders, who had replaced Byerly, balked. Wilkins scored on a long fly.

The Cats, on a rampage like the Trinity river in their home city, piled up 12 hits between the second and eighth innings compared to the local Missions' 9.

The game also was marked by six errors by San Antonio, compared to only one by Fort Worth.

DALLAS' BURNETT FIELD UNDER WATER FROM TRINITY

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—Pumps were working overtime today to get flood waters off Burnett field so Texas league baseball can go on.

Heavy rains last night caused waters of the Trinity river to back up into the outfield and cover most of the ground. The infield escaped but water was several feet deep in the dug-outs.

Tonight's Dallas-Houston game was postponed but it is hoped that the field will be in shape by tomorrow night when San Antonio moves in to open a series.

Amarillo Downs Westerners, 7-3

Hamilton Leads Lubbock Attack With Four Hits; Second Game Set Today

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

The Lubbock Westerners did everything but score in the pinches at Chapman field diamond Tuesday afternoon to give the Amarillo Sandies a 7-3 victory in the first game of the District 1-AA baseball playoffs before a large crowd. The game was a nine-inning affair.

The second and third games of the three-game series will be played in Amarillo with the first tilt scheduled at 1:30 p.m. at Gold Sox park. If the Sandstorms win the first game, the second will be unnecessary.

Hamilton Leads Lubbock

A brisk wind and flying dust blew from the south throughout the contest, but the field itself was still wet and slippery in places from the rains of the previous two weeks.

Jimmy Hamilton, Lubbock pitcher, gave up 12 hits, but he led the 10-hit Westerner attack with four hits in five times at bat and struck out six batters. With a little more hustle afield the local nine could have taken the ball game. A total of 18 Westerner baserunners were left stranded by the Sandies as the batters refused to hit with men on base. Walton Roberson was the winning pitcher, striking out four men and walking 10 — eight intentionally.

Most of the time the Lubbock players would be in scoring position with two outs, but the punch necessary to bring the runner across the plate never came. Intentional walks by Amarillo staved off any hits that might have come from the bat of Charles Galey, second baseman, as he drew five free passes to first base in five sorties to the batters box. Jessie Fullerton, first base, drew three intentional walks. In this case the strategy paid off.

Most of the damage by Amarillo was done with two men out, a reversal of form from that of the Westerners, and the Sandies bunched their hits when it counted to push runs across. Six runs were scored with two men down—two in the first, three in the seventh, and one in the eighth.

Bob Brown and Hamilton led the hitting. Brown got a double and a single in five trips. Pacing Amarillo were James Le Neveu with two hits in four trips; Darrell La Rue, first base, with three hits in five appearances, including a double; and Max Winberg, catcher, with two hits in five times at bat.

Amarillo opened the scoring in the initial frame. After E. G. Sanders walked the next two men went down in order, but La Rue, Le Neveu, and Winberg hit successive singles to drive in two runs. La Rue doubled in the third, and Le Neveu singled him home. An uprising in the seventh counted for three runs.

The Westerners scored single runs in the sixth, seventh, and eighth innings.

Fenton Meets Dusette In Go

Three good bouts are in prospect at Sled Allen's wrestling arena tonight when six of the local warriors step into the ring.

In the main event will be Rod Fenton of Edmonton, Canada, against the Boston Strongman, George Dusette, for two out of three falls or an hour time limit.

Fenton is a rough man, and in the bout tonight he will meet another rough grappler. Fenton has been winning consistently due to his smartness and aggressiveness as well as a desire to win regardless of the method used.

Curtis, Goelz Meet

Whether Fenton can match holds with Dusette without receiving too much punishment remains to be seen, but Dusette has a book of punishing holds that can make any man pat the mat.

Scientific wrestling is billed for the semi-final event between George Curtis and Billy Goelz for two out of three falls or 45 minutes. Both wrestle scientifically and according to the rules, but both are known to show sudden bursts of temper and to forget about their scientific methods of warfare.

Goelz made a fine showing here several weeks ago when he subdued Pat O'Dowdy with the aid of a ringside chair

In the preliminary event Jack Pappenheim meets Danno McDonald, and this should be another wrestling match as both men prefer scientific stuff and are fast and aggressive.

Matches start at 8:30 p.m., and tickets are on sale at Wylie's until 5 p.m. today.

Thirty-Fourth Street Softball Team Drops South Side Baptists

In a sandlot softball game Tuesday the Thirty-fourth Street Tornadoes ripped the South Side Baptists, 35-4, behind heavy hitting and the one-hit pitching of Donald Washington who hit two homers, two doubles, and a single to aid his cause.

Earl Littlejohn got the only Baptist hit, and Leon Bostick was the losing pitcher.

Jimmy Crawford hit a homer, a triple, and a double. Bruce Lewis had three doubles. Ray McLarty had two doubles and two singles, and Roy Ward had a triple, two doubles, and three singles.

Branca Racks Up Sixth Straight Win

Brooklyn Explodes Six Runs In Eleventh To Drop Cubs, 8 To 5

CHICAGO, May 17. (AP)—Brooklyn exploded six runs in the 11th inning today to down the Chicago Cubs 8-5. Ralph Branca won his sixth straight victory but failed to go the route.

The unbeaten Dodger ace was shelled from the box in the last of the 11th by Andy Pafko's two-run homer. His replacement, Erv Palica, was nicked for a homer by Hank Edwards before he put down the uprising.

Jackie Robinson, who drove in the first two Brooklyn scores with a double and triple, led off the 11th with a double off Bob Chipman, third Cub pitcher and eventual loser. When Gil Hodges beat out a bunt to stretch his consecutive game hitting streak to 18, Robinson dashed all the way home, beating the throw to the plate with a slide. That broke the tie and finished Chapman.

Jess Dobernic came in.

CHESNES STOPS GIANTS' ATTACK FOR 3-2 BUC WIN

PITTSBURGH, May 17. (AP)—Bob Chesnes not only stopped the vaunted New York attack tonight but tripled in the ninth inning to help win his own ball game as the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Giants 3 to 2. Ralph Kiner got his seventh home run of the year with one aboard in the fifth to give the Buccos their other two runs.

Seniors Beat Varsity Five

Age and experience still have no substitute, as the future Texas Tech basketball squad found out last night in Tech gym, where the graduating members of the Red Raider court squad turned in a workmanlike 55-45 victory.

The aspiring Raider cagers for next year made a good fight of it through the halfway mark in the second stanza, when Don Grove, All-Conference center for the past three years, began to find the range.

Grove, whose 21 points was high for the night, hooked shots from left and right to break down the see-saw battle that existed. With the seniors ahead 36-35, Grove converted two free throws, followed with a short side shot that was good and hooked one of his favorite pivot net swingers.

Before the varsity had time to get settled, Grove went in for a crip shot that countered a follow shot by Iri Brown and the score was 44-37. Garland Head, former Tech star, dumped in a follow shot, before Grove hit the hoop twice more.

The potential varsity team that Coach Polk Robison unveiled last night is one that will bear watching. They showed lack of polish, which was to be expected at this stage of the game, but they also showed an eagerness to play and a scrapping spirit that was good.

Jack Alderson, former Lubbock High school star, took top scoring honors for the varsity with 17 points, but he shared the spotlight with Verdell Turner and Virgil Johnson, also former Westerner aces.

Such holdover varsity men as Jiggs Jackson, Gene Gibson and Bill Eddins also looked good on occasion, while Ted O'Neil also showed up well.

SCHEFFING BREAKS FINGER

Showmanship Gets The Fans Out

Dallas Expects New Attendance Record

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 17.—Showmanship and a front-running ball club have Dallas on the way to a new home attendance record for the Texas league.

If vaudeville holds out and the "$125,000 baseball team" stays on top, oilman Dick Burnett expects to show 500,000 for the season. That would be almost 99,000 more than Houston got last year in setting the record of 401,383.

Advertisements of the Dallas club are two-point affairs. "Show Time" and "Game Time" both are listed. Hillbilly bands, vaudeville performers, the only electric organ in a minor league park and baseball comedians are keeping the fans entertained along with the home runs.

With the home schedule a little more than one-fifth finished, Dallas had drawn 98,818 paid admissions. And the big gates are ahead when the pennant race gets hot.

Even when the club loses the fans flock to the park. The Eagles dropped four straight games and there was an increase each night, reaching 6,900 the night they lost their fourth. "The fans finally figured that there might be some competition so they wanted to see it," General Manager Bobby Goff explained. The first two weeks of the campaign had indicated the Eagles would make a runaway of the race. They went that long without losing one.

Goff attributes the attendance mostly to a winning ball club but he also admits that the show business is making a contribution.

The electric organ, operated by Inez Teddlie, is quite an attraction. Miss Teddlie co-ordinates the music to the game. When an opposing pitcher is shelled from the mound she plays "April Showers" to remind him he's going to the showers. When a home run is hit she plays "Out On The Levee." There's a levee just beyond the left field fence. Before the Eagles take the field she renders "Double Eagle." A Dallas run splurge will bring "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Rochester On Program

Eddie Bracken, the movie comic, has just wound up an engagement. Next comes Bonnie Baker, the "Oh Johnny" gal. On Juneteenth—a negro celebration in Texas ("That's when Mistuh Lincoln freed the slaves")—Rochester, the radio comedian with Jack Benny's show, will be the star.

Coming soon will be orchid night, when all the ladies will get an orchid paid for by club president Burnett, whose lavish spending (over a million) for the club and park here has been the talk of the league.

And there'll be a beauty contest. The kids are coming out in droves since Burnett made a deal with Dallas churches to give each boy a pass to the ball park when he attends Sunday school.

Boys Club 'Bums' Beat Yanks, 15-14

The second games in the boys club baseball league were played Tuesday afternoon at the club diamond.

In the first tilt at 4 p.m. in the Pygmy circuit, the Dodgers defeated the Yankees, 15-14, in a close contest. A home run in the last frame by Jerry Blair was the difference in the score, and he scored as well as drove in the winning run.

Leading the hitting for the losing Yankees were Billy Bowen with a double and a single in three times at bat. Dickie Burnell also homered for the Yanks.

In the Pee Wee league the Yanks downed the Dodgers, 11-10, in an extra-inning game. The winning run was scored when Alton Ryan singled to drive Trop Fields across the plate in the last of that inning.

Highlighting the Dodger attack was Nelson Starr with a solid triple and two singles in three trips. Truman Gaylon had two singles for the Yankees.

In games scheduled today the Indians play the Pirates in both leagues. The Pygmy players are nine years old, and those in the senior Pee Wee loop are 10-11 years old.

Formation of the twelve teams in the two leagues came about following a baseball coaching school last week in which 380 boys participated. The league will last throughout the summer and provide supervised recreation for the youngsters.

PACKERS SIGN TATOM

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 17. (INS) The Green Bay Packers of the National Football league today announced the signing of tackle William Tatom of Texas, but said they will play him at end due to his great speed.

Roaring Springs Nine Will Meet Silverton In Playoff

The Roaring Springs baseball nine will meet the boys from Silverton in the first game of the bi-district playoff at Roaring Springs Wednesday, May 18. Game time will be 2 p.m.

Silverton is the 9-B champ, and Roaring Springs took the 10-B title.

BAPTISTS BEAT EXCHANGE

First Baptist Church's softball team swamped the Exchange Club nine, 20 to 1, in a Twilight league game today at Wagner park diamond. Cecil Seitz slammed out three homers for the winners. Bill Russell got credit for the win.

Tornado Kills One, Injures Nine At Small Community Near Spur

persons, injured four. Today's tornado at Spur was the most violent outburst from a day of weather which dotted the South Plains with at least two more twisters, heavy deluges of rain and hail.

Found In Field

Terrific winds carried the body of Mrs. Smith more than 100 yards to the southwest—the direction from which the storm approached the Kittrell home. She was dead when early arrivals at the scene found her body half buried in the mud of a plowed field. There was a severe cut across her forehead, one witness declared.

The Kittrell infant, object of a two-hour search by 250 men, was finally located more than 100 yards southeast of the spot at which Mrs. Smith's body had been discovered earlier. His escape without serious injury was miraculous, witnesses agreed.

Two other Kittrell children had been found immediately after the storm not far from Mrs. Smith's body. One other child was blown in the opposite direction from the house, to the northeast, and was found across the highway.

The storm was unusual in that heavy rain and hail did not accompany it throughout its path. At Spur, during the storm, it was very still and sultry.

Found Dead In Field

B. G. Mayo, of Spur, who went to the Soldier Mound area after the twister passed, told this story of Kittrell's return to the scene:

"I was standing there on the road north of his place when he drove up about 9 o'clock. He saw the crowd and the cars down the highway, and asked me, 'What happened here—a wreck?'

"I said, 'No, it was a storm.'

"Then Kittrell got excited and said, 'Man, I lived in that next house!' His brother, who was driving the car, drove it down the highway toward where his house had been. We followed them, but as soon as they saw the place had been blown away, they circled and headed back toward us. By the time they reached us, a few hundred feet north of the house, Kittrell had fainted dead away. We took him on in to the hospital at Spur."

Many Escape Storm

As in the recent Sundown and Amarillo twisters, the wonder of tonight's storm was that—for the amount of destruction—the casualty list was relatively small. Two factors which kept casualties at a minimum were the sparse settlement of the Soldier Mound section, and the fact that many farm homes in the area were equipped with storm cellars.

Five farm residences and the Soldier Mound Baptist church were completely demolished by the tornado, and at least two other farm dwellings badly damaged.

Destroyed were the home of the Kittrell family, Ernest Dunaway, C. R. Adams (the W. A. Harris place), and a Mr. Bronson, whose first name was not available. Also flattened was one vacant dwelling. The roofs were torn from the residences of Dan Pritchett, sr., and Tim Morgan.

Homes Are Demolished

The Kittrell and Dunaway homes and the church were in the heart of the storm area, and were the worst battered buildings of those hit. The site of the Kittrell residence was swept clean by the twister, while at the Dunaway place there remained only an unrecognizable tangle of lumber from the frame structure. For several hours after the tornado, a tiny Boston bulldog stood guard over the Dunaway wreckage, angrily threatening all persons who approached the pile of battered lumber.

The storm destroyed countless trees in its path. Larger trees were snapped off at their bases by its fury, while smaller trees were pulled from the ground into the whirling mass of wreckage.

Hid From Hail, Wind

The C. R. Adams family, residing in the old W. A. Harris place more than a mile northeast of the spot at which the twister crossed the Spur-Dickens highway, escaped by taking cover beneath a bridge in a small canyon near their home. Mr. and Mrs. Adams, with six children and five grandchildren, huddled beneath the bridge while hail the size of golf balls hammered down around them. This was one of the few spots in the twister's path where a heavy fall of rain or hail was reported. The tornado passed near the spot where the Adams group took refuge, flattening the house they had just abandoned.

Like all tornadoes, this twister had its traits of freakishness. One visitor to the scene in the hour immediately after the storm struck, Mrs. C. A. Aldridge of near Spur, said that at the Pritchett residence, where the roof was torn from the walls, a thin paper dress pattern which had been spread on a bed inside the home remained undisturbed after the tornado had passed. Other furnishings in the house had been scattered about the place.

CARDS SIGN UP GOLDBERG

CHICAGO, May 17. (INS)—The Chicago Cardinals of the National Football league announced today they have signed veteran backfield star Marshall Goldberg, former University of Pittsburgh All-American, as head scout and assistant coach for the 1949 season.

PLAYER LIMIT INCREASED

GLADEWATER, May 17. (AP)—The East Texas league, meeting here today, increased its player limit from 15 to 16 including a playing manager. The extra player must be a limited service man or a rookie. Unanimous endorsement was necessary.

REP. MAHON ILL

Rep. George Mahon has been confined to his home in Washington with an infected throat. The Avalanche-Journal was informed last night. Mahon's condition is not considered serious.

Reports On Storm Received Quickly

One of the first reports to reach The Avalanche-Journal on the tornado near Spur Tuesday night came from Jack Douglas, vice president and general manager of the American Automobile Association on the South Plains.

Douglas was informed of the tornado by one of his field men, Joe Kelly, from Dickens.

Douglas' first reports were that one was killed and six to 10 injured.

Immediately afterward, Choc Hutcheson, Brice Armstrong, both reporter-photographers for The Avalanche-Journal, and Jerry Hall, reporter, were on their way to the scene of the latest tragedy to hit the South Plains.

Texas Highway Patrol units and officials, who also went to the scene, aided in expediting names of dead and injured.

Spur Residents Watch

dents, watched the storm from the time it first came up until it struck.

Tower said the tornado seemed to form four or five miles west of this West Texas town from a huge black cloud about 5:42 p. m.

Funnel Dropped To Ground

"The huge cloud dropped a funnel to the ground and it moved slowly northeastward at a speed I would estimate from six to eight miles an hour, zig zagging back and forward over the ground.

"We could see the edge of the funnel slide over a farm home and when the storm moved on the home was destroyed. We saw seven homes destroyed in this manner.

"The cloud with its dangling funnel held to the ground until it was five to seven miles north of Spur and it leaped into the air and hovered momentarily before dipping to the ground again. It appeared to move along the ground for several more miles before it seemed to break up about seven miles east of Dickens."

Tower said the huge black cloud had very little lightning at first but seemed to grow more fierce as the twister moved across the countryside.

Soldier Mound, incidentally, where the twister struck hardest, is named for a hill where two U. S. soldiers lie buried. The two were killed in one of the last Indian battles in this area. Several Indians also are buried in the vicinity.

Legislature Votes No To Horse Betting

AUSTIN, May 17 (AP)—A horse racing bill had its shortest run in legislative history on the floor of the House today.

Rep. A. J. Vale of Rio Grande City got permission to introduce "A little old livestock bill." Nobody objected. Vale went back to his desk grinning.

Twenty minutes later some members caught on to the fact that Vale really had gotten permission to introduce a bill legalizing betting on horse racing.

They reconsidered quickly and voted 68-32 not to let him do it.

Vale said his bill would bring in about four or five million dollars a year to the state. The first $50,000 of the funds would go to the horse racing commission. The rest would be divided equally among teachers retirement funds, needy blind, dependent children of world war one and two veterans and old age assistance.

In 1937 the legislature repealed a 1933 act legalizing parimutuel betting at race tracks. Re-establishment has come before the legislature periodically since then, often resulting in lengthy battles.

Last session it was approved at a committee hearing, but it never did get to a floor vote.

Today's action set the track record.

Bobby Fretz Hurls Texas Aggies To 2 To 1 Victory Over Rice

COLLEGE STATION, May 17. (AP)—Bobby Fretz shut off Rice's ninth inning uprising here today to pitch the Texas Aggies to a 2-1 baseball victory over the Owls.

The senior righthander struck out pinch hitters Reininger and Finch and retired Bill Bishop on a grounder after the Owls had put the tying and winning runs on base.

Vactioners Flood Home Folks In Illinois Town With Alligators

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 19 (U.P.)—This central Illinois city underwent an invasion by alligators this winter. It was an invasion by mail.

William B. Cooper, park zoo custodian, said he was almost deluged with telephone calls asking what to feed baby alligators.

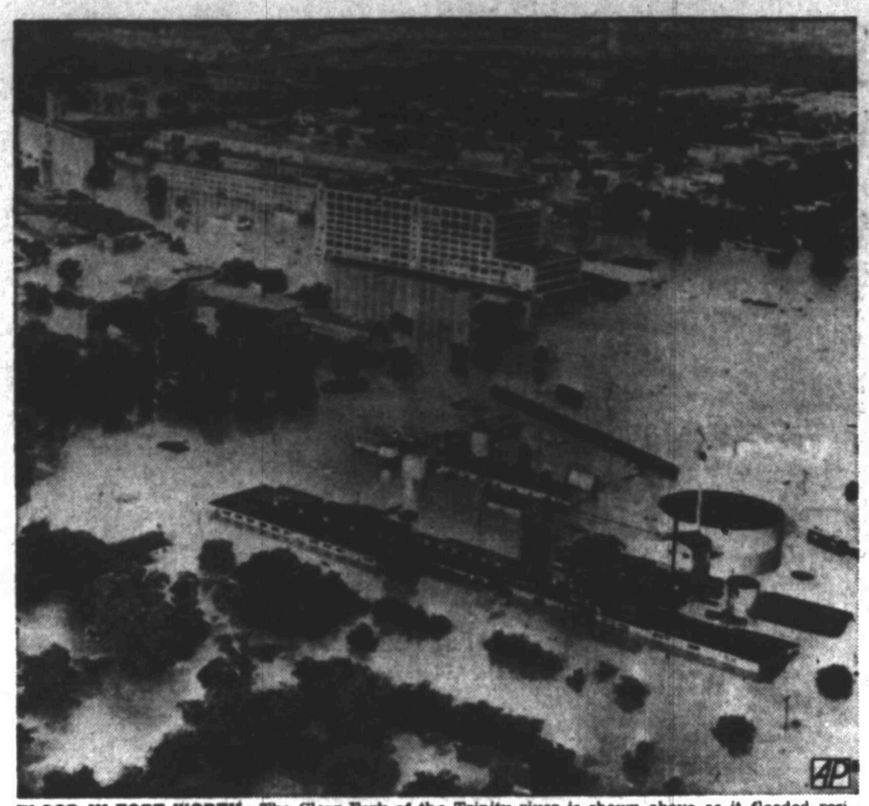

They came by mail, he discovered, from Bloomington citizens vacationing in the south. Vacationes mailed them in cardboard cartons to children of friends and neighbors.

"What's going to happen when they grow old?

"I expect we'll have all of them out here in a few months," Cooper said.

"As soon as the novelty wears off, people will want us to take over."

Most rhododendron plants are small, bushy shrubs, but a few reach tree-like proportions.

FLOOD IN FORT WORTH—The Clear Fork of the Trinity river is shown above as it flooded residential sections of Fort Worth during a 12-inch rain Monday night and Tuesday morning. Fort Worth Flood

60-year-old unidentified white woman.

Mrs. Kent was swept away by flood waters as her daughter watched helplessly.

Texas' turbulent weather spread over a wide front.

A small tornado hit three-fourths of a mile east of Rochester, in the Wichita Falls area, about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday afternoon. Winds tore down fences and a barn on one farm. The twister bounced down, then up and headed north. At Memphis, Tex., a freak windstorm tore down trees.

There were no injuries reported.

Heavy rains were spotted over the South Plains area.

In Central Texas, flood wary Waco watched the Brazos river. The stream was due to reach the 30-foot mark Tuesday night—only four feet below the top of the two levees protecting east Waco's industrial district.

Flood warnings were broadcast at 3 p.m. Tuesday and farmers in the Brazos river valley started moving their dairy and beef herds. Tenants in the Brazos basin were warned to stay out of the area during the night.

Thundershowers were predicted for Amarillo late Tuesday and Wednesday. But only a smattering of rain had fallen there early Tuesday.

The destructive storm front has passed out of Texas to the east, the U.S. Weather bureau at Dallas said, and the weather was settling down.

Persons Carried Off

Mrs. Ira Adams said her husband and her mother, Mrs. Jose Kent, 80, were carried off by floodwaters while she watched helplessly.

Rains Monday night drenched North and Central Texas. E. C. Allison jr., of Hico was drowned when his heavy truck, loaded with cattle, crashed through a rain-weakened bridge across the Bosque river between Hico and Dublin. When he was last seen, flood waters were carrying him rapidly downstream. Planes droned over the area, searching for his body.

Four major levees broke as muddy, debris-filled water rose rapidly. Fort Worth now estimates its metropolitan area population at 340,000 people.

Boats Used In Rescue

All schools closed in Fort Worth when the water supply went out.

Working with boats, rope, and fire department equipment, rescuers recovered three bodies.

Loudspeaker-equipped police cars had driven through low-lying sections, broadcasting warnings which sent hundreds of families fleeing before dawn.

Homes ranging from shanties to a six-room house swept down the Trinity river. Some smashed into a viaduct and emerged on the other side as kindling.

Police Chief Bob Dysert estimated that a tenth of the city's land area was under water.

Traffic Was Halted

City Manager W. O. Jones said it would be at least four days before water pumps could be dried and relieve the paralyzed water supply.

The torrential rains began late last night and continued until dawn, accompanied by severe lightning. Every stream and arroyo burst its banks. But the greatest damage was from the west fork of the Trinity river.

One of the first places flooded here was Liberator village trailer court, washed by waters from farmers branch, tributary of the West Trinity.

Automobile travel downtown from west and north sections of Fort Worth was stopped by high water. The Texas and Pacific railroad started a shuttle train service.

Homeless Are Aided

Homeless found food, clothing, shelter and medical attention at the city's huge Will Rogers Memorial coliseum, at Coliseum exhibit buildings; at schools, churches, and the Carswell air force base.

About 1200 persons sought shelter at the coliseum during the afternoon. The Red Cross said it was planning to house and feed them. It increased its relief grant to $50,000.

Health authorities warned against drinking water from wells unless it had been boiled. Typhoid injections were made available to those who had drunk "questionable" water.

Not a single building escaped damage in the West side business districts north of West Lancaster to White Settlement road. Window glasses were shattered in the driving rain. Homes in the area north of the big Montgomery Ward store and eastward were the hardest hit. Evacuation in that area was completed by noon.

Only in April 1922 had Fort Worth experienced a worse flood. Nine inches of rain fell that day within a few hours, and 13 persons drowned. Damage reached $3,000,000.

The Red Cross disaster survey committee estimated the number of homeless by sections as:

Parkside addition 600; Wisenberg addition 3,000; White Settlement 2,000; Crestwood, (2,500; Lancaster and University Drive area 1,500; East of North Main street 3,000; Express highway east 600.

Fifth Victim Dies

At Amarillo, Mrs. E. W. Marrs, 41, died today, fifth victim of Sunday night's tornado which blasted the southern section of the panhandle city, injuring 83 persons.

Monday night's tornado, first reported near Dalhart, Tex., slammed northeastward through the wheat-rich Panhandle. At Stratford, it demolished two homes, injuring three persons: Mrs. Emory Blake; Mrs. Fred Austin and her daughter, Miss Leona Austin.

The twister swept on to a point near Texhoma, crossed into Oklahoma. Seven miles west of Guymon, Okla., it wrecked the home of James Johnston, 72, a bachelor-farmer. Jess Jones, a neighbor, found Johnston's body in the wreckage Tuesday.

During its trip across the Texas Panhandle the lashing, black twister dipped repeatedly to inflict considerable property damage.

Communications lines were knocked out all along the way.

The tornado first struck the farm home of Victor McCree, eight miles east of Dalhart, damaging the house and tearing up outbuildings and farm machinery. That was at 10:30 p.m.

Half an hour later it arrived at Stratford. There had been a rain and hailstorm. Suddenly the storm subsided momentarily. There was silence. Then, a terrific roar as the tornado struck.

Besides the two homes demolished, a granary belonging to Dan Foreman was lifted up and carried 100 feet.

At 11:20 p.m., 20 miles northeast of Stratford, the tail of the tornado lashed again, damaging property on the Carl Reynolds farm, a mile northeast of Texhoma.

A quarter of a mile north of Texhoma, the twister hit the Shaw Dotson farm, uprooting trees, tearing down outbuildings, blowing down a windmill and shearing off the front porch of the Dotson home.

Twelve miles northeast of Texhoma, the giant whirlwind tore up fences and buildings on the Elmo Jones farm.

The overnight rainfall totals included:

Bonham, 2.02 inches; Ranger, 2.79; Denton, 3.97; Decatur, 2.14; Valley View, 3.50; Boyd, 3.72; Muenster, 1.53; Trenton, 1.85; Sherman, 2.02; Salina, 4.50; Cresson, 5.30; Roanoke, 3.70; McKinney, 2.59; Gunter, 3.99 and Farmersville, 1.75.

Denton's big rain was accompanied by an electrical storm. James B. Anthony, student at North Texas State College, was struck by lightning and severely shocked.

At Ranger, water was running two feet over the spillway of Lake Hagaman, the lake's highest level in more than a year.

Club To Launch Ticket Campaign

The American Business club will make their Boys Club Rodeo advance ticket sales kickoff at 8 a.m. today in the Hilton hotel.

Over coffee and doughnuts the eight teams and their captains will lay out plans to canvass the city to sell tickets for the rodeo which will be held at Jones stadium at Texas Tech, June 8, 9, 10 and 11.

Kits To Be Distributed

President George Dale will give each of captains their sales kits which include a minimum of 60 tickets for each club member. The team captains are: Bill Marquis, Oliver Thomas, Wally Bruce, Bill Collins, Garland Nystel, Doc Stewart, Dutch Wiginton and Hugh Anderson. Advance sales of the box seats have already passed the $3,000 mark.

In addition to a gigantic parade the rodeo will present some outstanding talent in a variety of acts. There will be prizes totaling $4,000 for contests in bulldogging, bronc riding, roping and other rodeo features.

General Clay Honored

chief factors behind Russia's decision to end the Berlin blockade were the continued Allied occupation, the airlift, success of the Marshall plan, and the Atlantic pact.

Legislators of both branches of Congress joined in a thunderous ovation for Clay, who in brief speeches assailed Russian policies in defeated Germany.

The general told the House that Russia sought to exact maximum reparations from Germany while setting up a "police state" government.

Clay Is Modest

He told the Senate that the Berlin blockade was a Soviet weapon employed in a futile attempt to thwart the Marshall plan and that war fears were allayed in Europe only after the Atlantic pact was signed.

Clay accepted with great modesty the honors bestowed upon him. He responded shyly to the glowing words spoken by Mr. Truman as the Chief Executive decorated him with a second oak leaf cluster in lieu of a third distinguished service medal. In a barely audible voice, the general told his commander-in-chief:

"I am grateful."

fair deal program, with emphasis on housing and civil rights.

He described himself as a 100 percent Democrat and is expected to try to serve under that party label in Congress. His term runs until the next regular election in November, 1950.

The Democratic national chairman, U.S. Sen. J. Howard McGrath, put the national administration behind Shalleck in the campaign. State Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick followed suit.

But many top Democrats, including old New Dealers prominent in New York state politics, supported young FDR.

The defeat was a sharp blow to Tammany, which is facing a city election next November snubbed by Mayor William O'Dwyer. Tammany also is smarting from a drubbing in an important Manhattan surrogate fight last year.

Indian's 'Forecast' Goes Amiss; Lubbock Fails To Get Tornado

A rumor which went the rounds Monday afternoon to the effect that an Indian had forecast a tornadic wind for Lubbock Monday night appeared scotched Tuesday, after that intangible redskin's prophecy failed to come true.

Maybe the Indian (nobody seemed to know just where he was, or how he possessed the ability to forecast coming events) got his signals mixed. Perhaps he needs a new crystal ball. Maybe his lumbago always bothers him in spring, fair weather or foul.

And then again, maybe he should just go back to painting tepees.

Just how the rumor of the Indian and his forecasts got started no one seemed to know.

Bears Take Double Header From TCU Nine, 5-1, 11-4

WACO, May 17. (AP)—The Baylor Bears closed their 1949 baseball season today by downing the Texas Christian Frogs 5-1 and 11-4 in a doubleheader.

The Bears knocked Curly Barnett for seven hits winning the first as lefty Fred Copeland won his eighth of the season, allowing only two hits.

In the second game the Bears collected 11 hits off David Choate and Fred Smith. Adrian Burk started on the mound for Baylor but was relieved by Art Blair, the winning pitcher, in the fourth.

Plains Sections Hit By Storms

ly winds whipping the area today. The winds, however, are expected to diminish tomorrow.

The station measured .03 inch rain from a brief shower yesterday to bring precipitation for May to 7.10, and for the year to 14.08.

Hail Cases Damage

Homer Steen, publisher of The Floydada Hesperian, said last night that damage to rich wheatlands in Floyd county would run from five to 90 per cent. The hail, which Steen said fell straight down and without accompanying wind, cut a patch about 20 miles long in an arc around Floydada, to the southwest, south and southeast part of the county. The damaged area was about one mile to two miles wide, at one time coming to within a few miles of Floydada, Steen said.

The twister which hit the small community of Doughtery, almost due east of Floydada, struck about 4:30 p. m., Steen reported.

The winds ripped up trees, broke limbs, blew down a house, damaged numerous outbuildings and damaged the roof of the post-office and general store run by Harve Powell. Mrs. Powell is the postmaster at Doughtery. An estimated 200 persons live in or near Doughtery.

Steen said that at Doughtery a railroad car was blown some distance down the track and derailed.

House Is Damaged

A house on the Carl Minor farm southwest of Doughtery was blown down. However, no one was injured. Numerous small buildings in the area were either blown down or wrecked, as were several windmills in the vicinity. The twister apparently skipped between many homes.

Extensive damage to ripening wheat was reported. It was feared that heavy wheat stalks would not straighten up again.

Floydada itself had a 1.47 inch rain during the day.

There were reports of rains ranging up to five inches in the Antelope area south of Floydada. The hailstorm hit Floyd county about 9:15 a. m.

Whether the twister which hit Doughtery was the same one or from the same cloud which dumped a deluge of rain on the Wilson and Tahoka area about noon Tuesday could not be determined. However, reports of the twister skipping across the fields were received at Southland and at other points which indicated it might have headed in the general direction of Floydada. It was also possible that the Wilson twister was the one which hit later near Spur as both were reported traveling very slow.

Heavy Rain Near Tahoka

The twister in the vicinity of Wilson struck about eight miles southeast of here about 12:30 p.m. it was reported. The wind tore the roof off a barn and part of the roof from a farm house, Mrs. C. E. Carter of the Crossroads store near Tahoka said.

Mrs. Vernon Teinert, who works in Wilson but who was at her home four miles north of there at the time, said she watched the funnel of the twister dip to the ground two or three times. There were no reports of injuries in the area.

Between one and one-half and two inches of rain fell in the vicinity of the Carter's store near Tahoka, it was reported, and a heavy fall of hail was reported ten miles west of there, Mrs. Carter said.

Water was up over the Lubbock-Tahoka highway at Wayside, about 19 miles south of Lubbock where a heavy downpour was reported shortly after noon Tuesday.

Matador Area Hit

A terrific rain, estimated at from 3 to 5 inches, battered the Whiteflat community, 11 miles north of Matador, early last night, Douglas Meador, publisher of The Matador Tribune, reported.

He said that a heavy black cloud swung over that area and farmers there told him that it was a "regular waterspout" that washed fields, covered roads with debris and sent creeks brimming full.

Two highway department crews were reported working in the area clearing dirt and debris from highways. Some hail also was reported with the rain but damage was reported slight.

Meador said that a savage hailstorm Sunday battered a wide section of the Matador Ranch shipping pasture. He said the storm was so severe that bark was ripped from mesquite and that "shinnery" was battered to the ground. Hailstones as large as eggs fell in Matador during the storm.

Santa Fe officials reported a two-inch fall at Tulia, three-fourths at Hale Center and one-half at Slaton.

Skies were mostly clear last night at Idalou, and no rain had been received there since noon. Light rains which fell there Tuesday from about 8 a.m. until noon deposited about a quarter-inch of moisture, it was reported. There were no winds last night.

Lorenzo received scattered light rains Tuesday morning which left possibly one-fourth of an inch of moisture. A small amount of hail fell with the rains, but no damage had been reported.

Wind and dust whipped Brownfield Tuesday, but had quietened down last night. Some damage to fields as a result of the blowing winds was reported. No rain was reported.

Levelland had no additional moisture Tuesday, with the exception of a light sprinkle in the early morning. Dust was reported there, and some wind.

Anton had a heavy shower about 9 a.m. Tuesday which left .38 inch behind. No rain had fallen there since, it was reported from there last night. Some dust and wind was reported.

Skies at Littlefield were clear last night. A light shower fell in that vicinity Tuesday morning. No high winds were reported in that area Tuesday.

Flash Flood At Ralls

At Ralls, no additional rain had been received to add to the "flash flood" which soaked the town Tuesday afternoon. Reports were that the torrential downpour had left an estimated 3 inches of moisture. No extreme winds were reported in that vicinity last night.

Crosbyton received about a half-inch of moisture Tuesday in light rains and showers that fell shortly after noon. Another small shower fell there about 4 p.m. There were no winds late yesterday afternoon or last night.

Plainview Has Wind

Plainview had "quite a bit of wind" Tuesday a resident of that city said last night. However, it had become quiet last night. No rainfall was received there Tuesday.

"Clear and quiet" was the report last night from Lamesa. No rains or sprinkles were received there at any time during the day, it was said. Winds and dust were reported there Tuesday afternoon.

A light shower fell at Petersburg about 3 p.m. Tuesday, accompanied by a small amount of hail. However no damage was believed to have resulted. Skies were still partly cloudy there last night.

A Petersburg resident said last night that the Estacado community south of Petersburg had received more substantial rains Tuesday. Some hail was reported here also.

Russia is trying to double its output of chemical fertilizers.

Government Gets Out Of Ford-UAW Dispute

DETROIT, May 17. (INS)—The government withdrew temporarily from the crippling Ford Motor company strike late today, shortly after management unsuccessfully proposed that the CIO United Auto Workers order all except 5,000 of its 62,000 strikers back to work.

Arthur B. Viat, a federal mediator assigned by Washington to intervene, conferred with union and Ford officials separately, then expressed belief that outside aid is not warranted "at this time."

The development came soon after the company's appeal for a drastic shift in UAW strike strategy and a union retort that the idea was "fantastic." Ford had suggested that all employes but the 5,000 directly affected by a "speedup" dispute return to work.

Ivey said he attempted to kick open the door, then grabbed his knife and struck back at Bailey over his left shoulder.

Other witnesses, called Monday by the state, had testified that Bailey was mortally wounded at the top of the stairway, by one thrust of a blade into his left chest.

Big German 'No' Vote Jolts Reds

BERLIN, May 17 (AP)—About a third of the Germans voting in the single ticket zonal elections behind the iron curtain have upset forecasts and dropped a big "no" in the ballot box, official Communist figures disclosed today.

A total of 4,080,272 votes was registered in opposition.

Berlin's Communists appeared dazed by the results of the Sunday and Monday election of 2,000 delegates to a "people's congress," a Soviet-model parliament which they had expected would show an almost solid "yes" vote.

Figures Finally Given

A thick wrapping of official secrecy had covered the results for nearly 24 hours after the polls closed when the Soviet zone election bureau finally issued these figures:

Eligible to vote 13,533,071
Total vote 12,887,234
Valid ballots 12,024,221
Total "yes" vote 7,943,949
Percentage—66.1
Total "no" vote 4,080,272
Percentage—33.9.

Even the figure of 66.1 percent voting yes appeared not entirely correct. The election bureau apparently counted the more than 800,000 invalid ballots to reach that percentage figure. Actually, only slightly more than 60 percent of those voting cast "yes" ballots.

In Eastern Berlin the result was even more emphatic. There 41.9 percent voted against the ticket, 58.1 percent for it.

Big Majority Expected

The conditions of the voting had led observers to expect a 90 percent or better "yes" vote. There was only one list of candidates, all screened by Communist organizations. The voter could not write in his own preference.

The election campaign had been turned to catch the votes of the nationalistic German, regardless of any coolness he might feel toward Communism. Even former Nazis had been urged to vote.

Every measure had been taken to bring out a mammoth vote. Although the election was held only in the Russian-occupied zone, Communist organizations from western Germany had nominated 500 candidates so that the government could be described as representing all Germany.

Western occupation officials have anticipated that this government would set up a clamorous support of Russia's proposals when the four-power conference on Germany gets underway in Paris May 23.

Western German leaders immediately interpreted the election as exploding any impressive semblance of German support for Soviet policies.

southeast. The Nationalists were pouring in reinforcements.

Pressure on Shanghai lessened on the south and north. Here, before Lungwha airport on the south and the fortress of Woosung on the north, the Nationalists made a determined stand.

The Nationalists claimed a big victory before Woosung and on one sector 10 miles northwest of Shanghai.

On the wide front more than 350 miles southwest of Shanghai, the Communists radio in Peiping asserted the Reds had captured Nanping, 87 miles by highway northwest of Foochow, capital of Fukien province.

It is a major sea link with Formosa, the island province which may become the last bastion of Nationalists China.

Rail Unions Uphold Policy Of 'Whites Only' in House Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Spokesmen for two of the big railroad brotherhoods upheld their "white only" membership policy to a House committee today.

But the brotherhoods were called "a travesty on the name of brotherhood" by Rep. Powell (D-NY) in the course of cross-examination, which frequently was sharp.

Powell, negro chairman of a House Labor subcommittee, called the brotherhood representatives to testify on charges that the big railroad operating unions discriminated against negroes and were even trying to drive them off the railroads.

The committee is hearing testimony on the administration bill to set up a fair employment practices commission (FEPC) to bar job discrimination because of race, religion or color.

Testifying were Harry See, national legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Jonas A. McBride, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen; and Charles Houston, general counsel for the Negro Railway Executives committee. It was Houston's charges before the committee last week that caused Powell to call in the brotherhoods.

High School Students Recognized In Special Awards Assembly

As their classmates applauded, more than 100 students of Lubbock Senior High school were recognized in the annual special awards assembly program in the school auditorium Tuesday.

The students were recognized for achievements during the scholastic year which closed Tuesday.

Medals provided by the student council were presented to all students recognized except those receiving honorable mention or those receiving letters of recognition in athletics. Several names were added to the original awards list of 99 persons.

Principal Floyd Honey presided for the assembly.

SOLITARY CONFINEMENT BLAMED

Half Of Imprisoned Top Nazis Now Insane, U.S. Official Says

BY BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 17 — A prominent United States official attached to the military government in Germany informed me today that "at least half" of the Nazi high command figures now serving long term to life imprisonment sentences have gone insane in solitary confinement.

The official chose to remain anonymous on the ground that he is prejudiced against the methods the Allies are using in respect to these survivors of the hierarchy that plunged the world into the worst war in history.

War Court Opposed

The official is among those who did not subscribe to the legality of the infallibility of the International Military court at Nuernberg which operated on the premise that war is a crime and its violators are liable to punishment.

The chief Nazi bigwigs confined in prison near Berlin are Hess, Doenitz, Raeder, Funk, Von Neurath and Von Schirach—the remnants of a system responsible for the deaths of millions and the bankruptcy of most of the world.

Most of the echelon immediately above them went to their deaths by hanging or suicide, though there remains the mystery of how Hermann Goering was able to conceal a poison pellet on his person for more than a year, and what became of Martin Bormann who was important enough to have his own house near Hitler's two homes on Berchtesgaden.

Hitler Believed Alive

In fact, there is a group of Americans in Germany, including the former prosecutors of the Nazi chieftains, who swear in the face of evidence at hand that Hitler is still alive. With little more than their convictions to back up their stand, they believe he escaped, perhaps early in April of 1945, either to Spain or Argentina.

Today's informant said he recently was in contact with the American guards of the jailed Nazi bigshots and the guards report at least half have lost their minds. The guard over them, incidentally, is the last vestige of the quadripartite co-operation program which is now sorely split. Each of the four conquering nations—the U. S., Russia, Britain and France—controls the destinies of men who once had the power of life and death over half of Europe.

Prison Authority Rotated

The conquering nations rotate their authority, each getting one month of control of the prison concerned.

"About the only resemblance among the methods of the various control agencies is the fact that the prisoners remain in solitary no matter which nation's turn it is," our informant said.

"The Russians, who never could understand why we objected to killing all in the hierarchy of Hitler Germany give the men only enough food to survive during the Soviet month at the prison," he added. "The men lose an average of ten pounds each during this month when the Reds are in charge.

"The French are the next toughest captors. During the French month at the prison the prisoners lose five or six pounds. The British rule of the prison sees them lose perhaps three or four pounds.

Future of Nazis Uncertain

"Then we take over and fatten them up again and provide reading matter, exercise and the like—making it possible for them to keep going through the Russian and French treatments."

The question of these important war criminals is certain to come up in the Paris conference of the foreign ministers next week.

Earlier I asked retiring General Lucius D. Clay about the future of these men in the event that western Germany, where they are held, gains enough independence to be given control over them.

"That has not been resolved," he answered.

The German people I have met since coming to Germany seem to have no interest in these men for whom they once cheered.

One never hears the names of Hitler, Goering, Goebbels, Ley, Himmler or others. The main interest of the average German today is survival, continued peace and time enough to clean up the cities bombed by the British, U. S. and Red Air Force. Survival is foremost.

Berlin, to name just one city, in addition to being appallingly blasted, is the largest home-tilled garden today. Every spare inch of lawn and backyard seems planted.

New Jersey Court Considers Fate Of Six Condemned Negroes

TRENTON, N. J., May 17. (AP)—The lives of six Trenton negroes hung in the balance today as the New Jersey court weighed an appeal from a murder conviction.

The state's highest court was asked yesterday to decide whether the six are to die in the electric chair or receive a new trial. A decision is not expected before next week.

A four-hour hearing produced charges that "evidence has been suppressed" by the prosecution and that confessions were "extorted" from the condemned men.

Mercer County Prosecutor Mario H. Volpe, who has handled the state's case, maintained "the record is a monument to Jersey justice," and urged that the death sentence convictions be upheld.

The six negroes facing the largest mass execution in the history of New Jersey were convicted of bludgeoning 72-year-old William Horner to death during a daylight hold-up of his Trenton second hand store Jan. 27, 1948. They were found guilty last Aug. 6.

Labelled the "Trenton Six" by protesting leftwing and negro organizations, the condemned men are Collis English, 23; Ralph Cooper, 23; McKinley Forrest, 35; John McKenzie, 24; Horace Wilson, 37; and James Thorpe, 24.

Births in England and Wales this year are over 55,000 below a year ago.

Theater Firms Open Talks On Partnership Dissolution In Dallas

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—Officials of the vast Interstate Theater circuit and Paramount pictures have opened exploratory talks here on dissolution of their partnership agreement.

Carl Hoblitzelle and other officials of Interstate met with four Paramount officials yesterday. The discussions involve the operation of 170 theaters in Texas and New Mexico.

New Laws Studied By Rent Director

Certain significant rights are given to landlords, tenants and veterans under the new 1949 rent control program, Roy B. Carnes, area rent director, said Tuesday.

Carnes has returned to Lubbock after a three-day course of instruction on the intent and purpose of the new laws.

The conference was in San Antonio from May 12 to 14. Local rent officials from Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and New Mexico attended the meeting.

"Through a series of work sessions conducted by Federal Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods and other representatives of his office, we were able to get a much clearer picture of the new provisions," Carnes stated.

"As a result, we are better prepared to extend to landlords, tenants and veterans the benefits to which they are entitled."

Special sessions at the conference were devoted to such subjects as landlords' petitions under the fair net operating income provision and the rights of tenants in administrative proceedings.

Under the new act either the tenant or landlord may appeal any rent office order of eviction or rent adjustment issued at the request of the other party. This is to assure both sides of a fair hearing.

Bishop Stresses Need Of Healthy Home Life In Lions Club Talk

"The foundation of America is in the home," Episcopal Bishop John E. Hines, Austin, told the Lions' Club Tuesday.

"The American home life needs to be redeemed and invigorated if we are to remain a great nation. Healthy home life is healthy national existence," Bishop Hines said.

Bishop Hines went on to tell the Lions that among the factors which diminished the influence of the American home were the emancipation of women and our great mechanical genius which has placed the family on wheels.

Lose Civic Ties

"These factors make it too easy for the family to spend more time away from the home. In so doing they gradually lose the sense of civic and community ties," the Bishop said.

"What our children learn in the home—their attitude and their relationships with others — will be carried out into society. If the home fails to prepare these children for life in this world it makes the burden on other agencies, such as schools and churches, that much more difficult or even impossible.

"Parents too often want to pass their responsibilities to other agencies," Bishop Hines continued.

"We cannot be neutral in social, political and spiritual life. We must all take an active part. As American businessmen and as family men you all have a huge stake in the future of our country," the Bishop concluded.

Dr. Marshall Harvey, chairman of the convention committee, told of the progress his committee has made in preparing for the entertainment of those attending the district convention here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Several hundred are expected.

The program was in charge of Ralph Dorsett who introduced the speaker. Visitors included Robert Hill, jr., Melvin Best, Jack Spangler, of Graham; Ed Merch, Bill Brookover, N. J. Aderton, John Wilson, Carlos Reynolds, Walter Clayton, Dr. C. A. Bickley, Carl Maxey, O L. Byrd, Giles Meyer, of Hollywood; Bob Dempsey, Amarillo; Marvin Berry, Texas Tech, and Arthur Casey, Matador.

Amarillo Voices Appreciation For Lubbock Aid Offer

Throughout Tuesday The Avalanche-Journal received numerous phone calls from Lubbock citizens suggesting that the newspapers take the lead in collecting a fund here to aid the victims of the Amarillo tornado.

The Avalanche-Journal contacted Gene Howe, publisher of the Amarillo Globe-News, whose newspaper is collecting such a fund and offered to aid by staging a drive here.

"That's a wonderful spirit on the part of Lubbock," Mr. Howe said, "and it will be greatly appreciated by everyone in Amarillo to learn of Lubbock's sentiments. However, we in Amarillo are not asking help from our good neighbors in nearby cities. We are going to be able to take care of ourselves. Please thank the good Lubbock citizens for all of us and tell them we appreciate, more than we can say, their thinking of us in our troubles."

In keeping with Amarillo's wishes, The Avalanche-Journal will not spearhead a drive. However, any Lubbock or South Plains people who insist upon helping may send their donations to the Tornado Relief Fund, care of the Globe-News, Amarillo, Texas.

Clark Gable To Cut New York Visit Short To Take Role In Film, 'Key To The City'

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 17 — George Sidney, one of the best directors and nicest guys in town, has just been given the Clark Gable - Loretta Young picture, "Key To The City." George is in a rut of turning out hits with two bellringers, "Anchors Aweigh" and "Harvey Girls" to his credit in '48.

Clark likes this comedy so much that he is cutting short his New York trip and dates with Dolly O'Brien to be back here around the first of June He'll play a longshoreman who becomes a mayor and falls in love with a lady mayor of a nearby town.

Muni May Get Role

A discouraging last-minute bulletin from Louella Parsons before she left New York is that Paul Muni is the hot whisper for the screen version of "Death Of A Salesman." I've got nothing against Mr. Muni He is an excellent actor and has given some great screen performances.

But he couldn't be "wronger" for the current Broadway hit when it comes to the screen What's wrong with Lee Cobb, star of the show, who is just as good on the screen as he is on the stage?

Linda Christian's mother and sister, Ariadna, arrived in town Monday from Mexico City on a part business part vacation trip. Ariadna, by the way, has had her name changed legally to Christian for her screen career in Mexico. The 19-year-old girl is certainly a looker, considered by some to outshine Linda

The main reason for the trip is not to meet Linda here, as first reported. They are buying clothes for the swanky gown shop they own in Mexico City.

Novel Fashion Show

Howard Greer tossed the most novel fashion show we've ever had when he dolled up the gardens of his valley home, built a bridge across his swimming pool, paraded the models through the grounds and served champagne to the entranced guests.

The big surprise of the afternoon was the arrival of Judy Garland with a group of youngsters, Janet Leigh, Elizabeth Taylor and Joan Evans. Judy wore no makeup, except lipstick, and her slicked back hair was held in place by a rubber band.

Hollywood in shorts: Preston Sturges and Frances Ramsden didn't look romantically broken up at the players the other night. They managed to eat and hold hands all during dinner.

John Payne, who has been going with Joan Caulfield, was at the Seacombers with a brunette beauty who wouldn't oblige by signing the autograph book for identification.

The tenth anniversary party of Barbara Stanwyck and Bob Taylor was a honey Never saw so many beautiful girls so beautifully gowned. The hostess, looking about sixteen in a short pink satin formal, did a Charleston with Bob Cummings that should have been on television.

PLANE FOUND SAFE

EL PASO, May 17 (AP)—A private plane missing since Sunday with two aboard was found safe today 40 miles north of Marfa, Tex., air rescue officers at Biggs Air Force base said. The yellow J3 cub, piloted by Johnny Branson of Marfa, left Carlsbad, N.M., Sunday morning and was last seen at Pecos, Tex. Branson had a passenger identified only as a Mr. White of Carlsbad.

NEWS BRIEFS

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president at Texas Technological college will leave Monday for Corpus Christi. He will deliver the commencement address at the University of Corpus Christi there Tuesday.

Dr. D. D. Jackson, professor of education at Texas Technological college, will deliver the principal address at the graduating exercises at the Munday high school Tuesday.

Members of the student council and student officers at Texas Technological college held their annual spring dinner at the Hilton hotel Tuesday night. Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of the college, was the principal speaker.

Thirty-six third-grade pupils of the George M. Hunt school, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. J. L. Holt, Tuesday made a study tour of the transportation facilities in the Lubbock area. The group traveled by train to Littlefield, returning in private automobiles. They then visited Lubbock Municipal airport for a study of air travel facilities. Ten parents of children in the class went to Littlefield to accompany the students back to Lubbock after their train trip.

Three Migrant Workers Injured As Truck Overturns Near Austin

AUSTIN, May 17 (AP)—Three of 26 migrant workers injured when their truck turned over were reported in critical condition today.

The truck, carrying migrant laborers to the Michigan beet fields, overturned on slippery pavement about 4:15 p.m. yesterday a half mile south of Round Rock.

The critically injured were:

Mrs. Ophelia Castillo, 41, McAllen, in an Austin Hospital.

Huperte Rodriguez, 40, of Edinburg, in a Taylor hospital.

Carmen Rodriguez, 38, wife of Huperte Rodriguez, in a Taylor hospital.

State Institutions Claimed 'Deficient' In Fire Prevention

AUSTIN, May 17. (AP)—A 49-page report detailing the "glaring deficiencies" of fire prevention in Texas eleemosynary institutions was given today to the legislature.

The report, prepared by fire insurance Commissioner Paul Brown, was ordered by the legislature following the disastrous Effingham, Ill., hospital fire.

27 Institutions Surveyed

Conditions in 27 state institutions were surveyed.

Conditions detailed in Brown's report included:

"Accessibility to fire escapes bad—each exit to chute padlocked."

"No fire escapes."

"Chemical fire extinguishers need recharging."

"Wiring conditions bad. . ."

"Pasteboard boxes used as trash boxes."

"Accumulation of trash under floor."

"No guide signs to fire escapes."

"Doors padlocked leading to fire escape."

"Fire escape obstructed."

"Fire hose worn."

"Stairway blocked (by) improvised partition."

"Fire extinguisher locked in clothes closet and not properly cared for."

"Fire escape doors open inward."

"No ash trays provided."

"Kerosene lanterns used when electric lights go out."

"Heaters not properly vented."

Corrective Measures Urged

"Smokestack from boiler is resting against wooden roof."

"The one fire escape (on a four story building) . . . is rusted and hazardous. Accessibility is inadequate. . ."

"Dumb waiter shaft constructed of wood."

As corrective measures, the report suggested that plans be made for the safe removal of inmates, with separate exits provided for bedridden patients, and mental cases.

Fire drills should be held.

Fire inspections should be conducted at regular intervals.

Auxiliary fire units, trained by the local fire departments, should be formed.

Fire fighting equipment should be oiled, greased and painted.

Dimes Pay Doctor's Bill For New Baby

Dimes mount up in a hurry when a person saves every dime received in change, a new father Milton Ray of 2316 Twenty-first, pointed out Tuesday

Following birth of a daughter, NaWana Francene, at 1 p.m. Sunday in West Texas hospital, Ray paid the doctor's bills entirely from dimes saved. He had money left over.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray have saved $100 in dimes since May 3, 1948. Ray placed the 1,000th dime in the collection of dimes just before taking his wife to the hospital

Estimated 150 Attend Annual FFA Chapter Steak Fry At Tech

Approximately 150 members and guests Monday night attended the annual steak fry of the Texas Tech chapter of Future Farmers of America.

The fry was held in Aggie Grove on the college campus.

Faculty members and wives attending included Dean and Mrs. W. L. Stangel, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Young, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hargrave, Mr. and Mrs. Euel T. Liner, Mr. and Mrs. Zane Brewer, and Dr. J. J. Willingham.

Marshall Hargett, of Lubbock, recently-elected president of the chapter, extended an address of welcome. Dean Stangel and two students, Lynn Gutch of Lamesa and Eugent Southall of Friona, also spoke briefly. Futch is retiring president of the chapter, and Southall is one of the organization's outstanding members.

Pastor Speaks At Optimist Club Meet

One of the greatest threats to democracy is the attitude of many persons in democratic countries, Dr. Travis White, pastor of the First Christian church, told the Lubbock Optimist club Tuesday.

Speaking at the weekly Optimist luncheon in Hotel Lubbock, Dr. White set forth the doctrine that there is no suitable substitute for hard work combined with fairness and honesty.

Hard Work Urged

"Let us take hold of the great problems that confront us," he said. "Let us roll up our sleeves, and work for our democracy. Let's give the employer an honest day's work for his money, and let's give the worker a fair wage for his efforts."

Earlier in his talk Dr. White had briefly discussed several attitudes which, he said, have helped weaken American democracy. Major common faults, he said, have been the laziness and suspicion of many persons.

New Members Introduced

Dr. White was introduced by Charles Forrester, program chairman.

Two new members, J. C. Armstrong and Walter Wright, were initiated into the club by L. G. Pierce, jr.

One out-of-town guest, Manuel Ayers of Plainview, was introduced.

President G C Stewart, presiding, announced that Charles Greer next week will report on the recent district Optimist convention at Oklahoma City.

Invocation was by Dr. White, the guest speaker

Money Sought For Buildings

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 17 — Gov. Beauford H. Jester said today he would call the legislature into special session to provide needed eleemosynary buildings if this session does not vote the money.

Jester said he thought a majority of the legislature agreed with him that the 21 million dollar item for state hospital buildings was a "must."

Building Program Urged

"But if it is not taken care of it will be necessary to ask the legislature to come back into special session," the governor said.

Yesterday's report to the State Fire Insurance commission calling attention to numerous fire hazards in state hospitals again demonstrates the urgent need for improving housing for such wards of the state as the insane, Jester said.

At a press conference today, the governor also urged adoption of a long-range capital development program to provide space for state departments and agencies which are now housed in buildings scattered over Austin.

Huge Sum Needed

Jester's plan calls for ultimate acquisition of property north from the capitol building along Congress avenue to 19th street—about six blocks.

He said this would cost 35 million dollars on a long-range basis, but that it would take only 12 million dollars immediately to get it going. He said he has been studying several proposals of how to finance it.

The House passed and sent to the Senate an eleemosynary appropriation bill totaling $35,984,250. It does not include the 21 million suggested for new buildings.

The Senate's eleemosynary bill is still hung up in the finance committee. In its present stage, it comes to about 64 million dollars, including buildings.

Asked if he thought the Senate was stalling on the question of spending and taxation, and why, Jester said he didn't know.

Air Force Announces Details Of New Long-Range Jet Fighter

BURBANK, Calif., May 17 (AP)—Details of a long-range, heavyweight jet fighter, designed to fly and fight deep in enemy territory, were announced today by the U.S. Air Force and Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

The needle-nosed craft, designated the F-90, made its first taxi runs at 90 miles an hour today on the 6,000 foot Lockheed runway.

U.S. Court Here Sentences Seven

Emerson E. Nelson, 29, Slaton farmer, was sentenced to 18 months in a federal institution on each of six counts of disposing of mortgaged property, the sentences to run concurrently, it was announced late Tuesday by officials of the federal court.

The United States government alleged that Nelson sold in 1947 some 15 bales of cotton which were covered by a federal loan. The government further pointed out that Nelson was given an opportunity to make restitution but failed to do so.

Two Lubbock men, three Slaton men and one man from Minnesota were sentenced or fined in federal court Monday.

Lawrence Bunton, Lubbock negro, was given 18 months on each of two counts to run consecutively. Bunton was charged with having stolen and cashed checks that were sent through the mails. The alleged thefts took place in his neighborhood where he knew the recipients of government checks.

Joseph A. Melot, Lubbock, was sentenced under the Dyer act which covers the theft of automobils in interstate transportation. The imposition of Melot's sentence was withheld under suspension for a period of three years.

Given Year And Day

James A. Daughrty, Minnesota, was also charged under the Dyer act. Daugherty was sentenced to prison for one year and one day.

The three Slaton men were indicted for breaking into railroad cars with intent to steal and sell stolen merchandise. Two of the men, Joseph D. Clary and Charles D. Brouse were employes of the Santa Fe railroad. It is alleged that the two men would scan the way bills and note the contents of cars coming into the Slaton freight depot. Then one of them would have the car sidetracked for inspection. The other man would do the inspecting.

The two men admitted that for a period of time they had obtained whisky and other alcoholic bverages from the cars after breaking the seals. Much of the whisky, they said, had been sold.

John Wesley Brown, the third man in the case, was not specifically charged with the actual theft of the merchandise or with break-

Parade To Open Gala Four-Day Program

Annual Post Rodeo Set Today

POST, May 17 (Special)—This year's annual Post Stampede rodeo will get underway Wednesday night with a preliminary parade, planned for 7 p. m., to be followed by the first performance at 8 p. m.

Performances also are planned for 8 p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. A parade will precede the events each night.

At Wednesday night's opening parade, representatives of a number of organizations and rodeo groups are expected to participate, including members of the "Sheriff's Posse" of Lubbock.

Dances Also Planned

Rodeo officials today were busy registering performers for the events, and by late this afternoon approximately 40 rodeo contestants had been entered for the forthcoming events. A total of some 100 to 125 contestants are expected to participate in the four-day show.

A dance at the rodeo grounds, located on the Lubbock highway northwest of the center of town, was to be held tonight. Dances will follow each of the rodeo performances. Music will be furnished by Ted Blinka and his seven-piece orchestra, featuring D. J. Adkinson and his "left-handed" fiddle.

Traditional rodeo events will highlight the performances, among them calf roping, bull riding, bare back bronc riding, saddle back bronc riding, "double mugging" contest, and cutting horse contest. A cowgirl sponsor contest also is planned.

Stock for the rodeo performances will be furnished by Bill Lyons, well-known rancher-stockman of Petroleum, who has furnished stock for the annual show since it was first staged in 1942.

Prizes totaling $3,500 or more will be awarded to winning contestants. Winners will be announced at the final performance Saturday night.

'CRIME IS OFTEN BRED IN HOME'

Woman Marshal's Chief Aim Is To Help Unfortunate Children

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

"Prison bars are not always appropriate for juvenile cases," Mrs. Verna Ditto, U. S. deputy marshal for the northern district of Texas, said here yesterday.

"Prisons leave a brand on teenage youngsters. It may be invisible but it is just as indelible as a cattle brand," she said. "We need a more sympathetic approach to the delinquency problem. An approach that takes into consideration the underlying causes which lead the child into crime."

Children Need Help

"All cases are not alike. They did not arise from the same cause and they cannot be treated in the same way. Prisons do not allow for any individual treatment," Mrs. Ditto said.

The lady marshal agreed that much of the blame for youthful crime stems from the home, especially the broken home. But she also added that crime is often bred in homes where there is "no open break or difficulty." Failure on the part of parents to take an active and participating interest in the daily lives of their children is one of the many causes for juvenile crime, she believes.

"Children need all the help we can give them," Mrs. Ditto asserted.

Son Lost During War

The chic, attractive marshal, said that her chief interest in life is to help unfortunate children become rehabilitated. Mrs. Ditto says that the loss of her son, an only child, has augmented this ambition.

MRS. VERNA DITTO

Lt. Harry B. Ditto, 21, a Navy dive bomber pilot and a member of Admiral Marc Mitscher's Task Force 58, was lost in aerial combat in the South Pacific during March, 1945. Before his death he had

Tech Judging Team Places Fifth In Meet

A Texas Tech judging team which Monday participated in the American Royal Dairy show in Kansas City placed fifth in the entire contest, according to information received Tuesday by the division of agriculture at Texas Tech.

The Tech team placed first in the judging of Ayrshire cattle, and a team member, George Piller, was high individual in the judging of Ayrshire cattle.

Iowa State Tops Show

Top honors in the entire judging contest were taken by a team from Iowa State university. Other teams were Kansas State, second; Oklahoma A & M, third; Missouri University, fourth; Texas Tech, fifth; and L. S. U., sixth.

In addition to Piller, other members of the Tech judging team were William Krueger, Paul Jones, and Tommy Hewlitt. The team was coached and accompanied by K. L. Neeley, lecturer in the animal husbandry department of Tech's agriculture division.

This year's American Royal Dairy show was the first ever to be held.

Recess In Texas Senate Criticized

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 17.—House members today accused the Senate of delaying final adjournment of the legislature through its failure to act on four major, essential money bills.

Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake spearheaded the verbal attack on the Senate after learning that the upper house had quit for the day without doing any business in a one-hour morning session.

"It's always been my impression that the state of Texas had a legislature composed of two houses. . . . We ought to have some assurance from the house across the hall that they are also a part of the legislature," McLellan said sarcastically.

Lieutenant Governor Absent

With Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers out of the state for the week, Senate Finance Committee Chairman, Jim Taylor of Kerens said he would not ask consideration of any of the big appropriation bills until Shivers returns. The lieutenant governor is presiding officer of the Senate.

Taylor conceded that Senate procedure would delay final adjournment a bit, but he did not hold Shivers responsible.

"Maybe he (Shivers) had to be out of town," Taylor observed.

Rep. Jack Bryant of Buffalo held a different opinion.

"I was informed all this delay was because of the Lamar college bill, and they (the Senate) won't take it up. The lieutenant governor went to Washington and left instructions not to take it up," Bryant told the House.

Senate Action Criticized

(The bill to which Bryant referred calls for appropriation of one million dollars for expansion of Lamar Junior college at Beaumont to four-year, senior college status. Shivers, whose legal residence is Port Arthur—in that Gulf Coast area—is known to strongly favor passage of the single-purpose money bill.)

"Sine die (final) adjournment is dependent on passage of the major appropriaiton bill," McLellan said.

"If we had bills on which adjournment depended and worked only 30 minutes, I think we would be open to criticism, and I think the Senate is open to criticism," he continued.

House Recess Proposed

The appropriations which must be approved before the legislature can quit for keeps are those providing funds for operation of state departments, state hospitals, state colleges and state courts during the next two years.

McLellan wanted the House to stop working, but a majority re-

RECREATION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Wide Variety Of Entertainment Planned At Tech This Summer

By JERRY HALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

One of the best summer recreation programs to be presented at Texas Technological college in recent years has been scheduled this summer according to Dean of Men James G. Allen, who is in charge of the program.

A wide variety of entertainment, which will include everything from a leading negro minstrel to one of the San Francisco Opera's most noted tenors, will be presented.

Public Is Invited

Dean Allen said the public was invited to attend the artist course programs, which will be presented weekly while summer school is in session. Admission price for those performances will be $1 each per person. Students will receive their season tickets when they register for summer school.

Student dances are scheduled each Wednesday night during the summer. Burl Hubbard's orchestra will play for the dances which will be held in the recreation hall. The artist course programs, as well as a movie every Thursday evening, will be held on the Administration building green.

Program Announced

The entire program is as follows: June 9, movie, "The Late George Apley;" June 10, artist course, Leslie Chabay, noted tenor with the San Francisco Opera association; June 15 student dance; June 16, movie "My Darling Clementine;" June 17, artist course, Huddie Ledbetter, better known as Leadbelly, whom Life magazine has called "The nation's number one negro minstrel."

June 22, student dance; June 23, movie, "Claudia and David;" June 24, artist course, the Wahl quartet composed of George Roberts, tenor, Priscella Barton, soprano, Nina Dunkel, harpist, and Ivor Gothrie, pianist; June 29, student dance; June 30 movie, "Boomerang;" July 1, artist course, the Susanne Fisher quartet which is composed of America's greatest concert and opera stars; July 20 student dance; July 21, movie, "Margie;" July 22, artist course, Blanche and Florence Zuker, duo-pianists, will present a two piano concert.

July 27, student dance; July 28,

CIO Reprimands Left Wing Union

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The CIO executive board today adopted a vote of censure against the left wing CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union for "disregarding its duties" as a CIO affiliate.

In a showdown battle between the right and left wing CIO elements the board adopted its censure by a vote of 38 to 11.

The action resulted from an inter-CIO organizing battle at the Bessemer, Ala., iron ore mines of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co., a U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiary.

Membership Raid Charged

The mine-mill union has argued that the CIO conducted a "raid" on its membership in the mines. Five CIO-chartered locals won an election April 21 for the right to represent the miners, members of the mine-mill union for more than a dozen years.

As a climax to the fight between the CIO-chartered locals and the mine-mill union, representatives of both engaged in a fist fight in a Bessemer radio station the night before the recent election. Maurice Travis, the mine-mill union's secretary-treasurer, was seriously injured in the fight.

After reviewing the whole incident today, and hearing testimony from both sides, the executive board adopted its "censure" resolution.

By the same 38-11 count the executive board also requested CIO President Philip Murray's Steelworkers union to issue charters to the five Bessemer locals—thus bringing them into the steelworkers union.

Woman Marshal

achieved an enviable record and many decorations and citations. Flying from the admiral's flagship, the Bunker Hill, young Ditto was among the first to fly a carrier based plane over Japan.

Mrs. Ditto said that as a boy her son was always trying to help others who were less fortunate than himself and she believes that her work along those lines now is somewhat like a "living memorial to him."

Mrs. Ditto is the only woman marshal for this U. S. district. There are very few in the entire United States. She has been on the job for eight years having been appointed through Chief Marshal J. P. (Red) Wright at Fort Worth on Feb. 21, 1941. Her principal duties include keeping the records of all the criminal cases that arise in this district. One of her added duties is checking records in each of the seven divisions in the district and making payments for witness fees.

With her added duties Mrs. Ditto now travels extensively throughout the district. There are seven divisions with headquarters at Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, San Angelo, Fort Worth, Dallas, and Abilene. There are 101 counties covering nearly 100,000 square miles in the district.

Mrs. Ditto says she enjoys traveling over the territory and especially enjoys her visits to Lubbock. "With such a vast area it sometimes becomes tiring but it is a pleasure to meet the people in different sections," she said.

Mrs. Ditto makes her home with her husband in Fort Worth where he is connected with the Consolidated Aircraft company.

When asked about a hobby, Mrs. Ditto said, "If I have a hobby it is my work (which is the only job I have ever had) and especially that part of my work that puts me in contact with juvenile cases. Where I can help them I feel like I am doing my job and a little more too. I know I get a great deal of pleasure out of it," she concluded.

When Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley, Amarillo, asked Brown the nature of his employment, he answered:

"Well judge I guess you'd call it bootlegging."

Each of the three men were assessed fines of $1,000 and were given 30 days in which to pay the fine. Brown and Brouse were each given three year prison sentences suspended for a period of three years. Clary was given an 18 months sentence suspended for two years.

Interchange Of Equipment Of Airlines At Dallas Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Interchange of equipment by existing airlines was suggested by American airlines today as the best way to obtain through one-plane south to West Coast service.

The company urged the Civil Aeronautics board to authorize American and Delta airlines to exchange planes at Dallas. Delta's route would be used for the eastern half of the trip and American's line for the rest.

The examiner's hearing is on applications by American, Braniff airways, Delta, Continental, Eastern and National airlines for the cross-country service.

American proposes also that its present Dallas service be extended southeast into Houston to provide the latter with one-plane service to California.

As an alternative to interchange of equipment, American asked permission to fly between New Orleans and Houston.

It also requested service from El Paso, now on its Dallas-California route, to Houston via San Antonio.

The show is presented by the Post Stampede, Inc., an organization composed of merchants and businessmen in Post and Garza county. The first Stampede was presented in 1942. During several of the war years, performances were cancelled. This year's annual show is the third to be presented since the end of the war.

Phil Bouchier is manager of the 1949 show. G. W. Connell is current president of the Post Stampede, Inc., and Homer McCrary is secretary.

Danger Of Flood At Waco Appears Eased

WACO, May 17 (AP) — Waco breathed easier tonight with predictions that the flood crest of the Brazos river, which is 34 feet here, would not be reached.

The river, fed by the North Bosque in the Hico-Stephenville area, was at 24 feet tonight and it was not expected to go higher than 30, that to be reached some time tomorrow.

Flood Gates Open

Four flood gates have been open all afternoon at Lake Waco, where the North Bosque waters are pouring, and thus the lake is being lowered so as to take care of the flood waters.

Flood waters from the Cleburne area, coming down the Brazos, will not reach Waco until sometime tomorrow.

At Whitney dam U.S. engineers predicted the Brazos water level would reach 38 feet. The river bed there is 432 feet above sea level. The water level now is 452 and is expected to reach 470—12 feet above the coffer dam and level with the bridge on highway 22 above Whitney dam.

L. P. Reed, general contractor of the Whitney project, said the flood level was expected to top the coffer dam by 12 feet and wash out a foot bridge at the construction site some time tonight. There has been no actual damage at the dam site thus far but Reed said driftwood was rapidly stacking against girders of an uncompleted permanent bridge at the dam. He feared the driftwood together with the push of the waters will wash the girders away.

Reports A. Lodge, Britisher visiting in Hamburg: "Hardworking German country doctors here have to make their rounds on push-bikes."

Rev. John E. Hines To Speak At Episcopal Dinner Tonight

The Rev. John E. Hines, of Austin, bishop coadjutor of the Diocese of Texas of the Episcopal church, tonight will be principal speaker at a dinner for the parish of St. Paul's Episcopal church here, which is planned for 7 p.m. in the Hilton hotel ballroom.

Another special guest will be Bishop George H. Quarterman of Amarillo.

The dinner is sponsored by the men's organization of St. Paul's church, and is open to any and all members of the local church. Reservations may be made through the office of the church secretary, it has been announced.

The program for the dinner is being arranged by Ralph S. Dorsett, president of the church men's organization, and other members.

Violin Soloist Presented In Recital At High School Here

Miss Louann Hardy, violin soloist, was presented in recital Tuesday night in Lubbock High School auditorium.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hardy of 1911 Main, Miss Hardy was enthusiastically received by a large audience, who praised her technical mastery of the instrument in addition to the intense feeling with which she played.

Miss Hardy has appeared as soloist with the Houston Symphony orchestra, Lubbock Symphony orchestra, and North Texas Symphony orchestra, of Denton.

Accompanist was Miss Jeaneane Dowis, of Denton.

The program was sponsored by Allen Brothers Post 148 of the American Legion.

Reds Handed Political Setback By East Germany Vote Results

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

A lot of Germans in the Soviet occupation zone apparently have learned the Communist definitions for unity and justice and want no part of them.

Trying to rush through a "people's congress" for an "all-German government" to counter the Western German government sponsored by the Allies, the Communists called an election, handpicked a list of delegates for a single ticket, labeled it "for the unity of Germany and a just peace treaty" and asked for a yes or no vote.

Old Tricks Fail

They bragged that at least 10,000,000 of the 12,000,000 eligibles would vote yes, and handed back the right to vote to former Nazis in order to take advantage of all the available German nationalist sentiment. They used the election tricks which have so often given the dictators 90 per cent or more of the vote. Berlin dispatches said that invalidated ballots had been counted "yes." Announcement of the returns, after first scatterings showing the Communists were in trouble, was held up for 20 hours, an old political trick which allows for many "adjustments."

Still 33.9 per cent of the Germans were shown to have said "no."

Taken in connection with the anti-Communist sentiment displayed by the Germans in the Western zone since the war, the vote just about scuttled any Russian idea that they could produce a regime in the east which would obtain any serious consideration as an "all-German" government. On-the-spot interpretation was that they might be compelled to scrap their carefully planned strategy for the foreign ministers meeting in Paris next week.

A few hours before the returns were announced the National Democratic party paper, representing the Nazis whose aid had been recruited by the Communists, came out with victory claims. But soon the Soviet military press changed the tune to cries of "doublecross" directed at splinter parties who refused to go along. "Lying propaganda" from the West also was cited as a reason.

Search Started For Corsicana Men Missing On Hunting Trip

CORSICANA, May 17. (AP) — A search was started here today for two Corsicana men who failed to return from a hunting trip.

J. A. Glass, 33, and I. J. Munn, 22, left here at 4 a.m. Sunday to hunt squirrels near Blooming Grove. They have not been heard of since. Their 1937 Ford has not been found.

A relative, Clyde Anglin, chartered a plane this morning to search the area. Police have also been notified.

'Wild West' Texas Showman Released From Jail In Georgia

DANIELSVILLE, Ga., May 17. (AP)—That rugged old Texan, Col. Zach Miller, was let out of jail today—and the kids around here were as sorry as could be.

Since a couple of highway patrolmen corralled the boss of the 101 Ranch's Wild West show last Friday, the kids have been flocking to see a real live cowboy.

For that matter, the colonel was glad to see the kids. They got coffee for the old gentleman since he was getting tired of "black ice tea and corn bread."

Colonel Still Indignant

The colonel was still indignant about his arrest, though, by Highway Patrolmen H. B. Magness and D. S. Harris, jr.

And the 71-year-old resident of Valley Mills swore again that he was going to make Georgia safe "for a poor man to drive through. Now, what," he asked "would have happened if I'd been a $40 cowhand?"

The colonel and his driver were arrested after, the troopers said, they were clocked at 75 miles per hour. The speed limit is 55. Both were charged with speeding. They were released on $250 bond each.

Col. Miller said he protested the arrest of his driver, James Colbert, vigorously to the rangers. They told him, said the colonel, that if he were a younger man, they'd whip him.

"Now," drawled the colonel, "I told 'em my driver was up to either of 'em. Hang yo' pistol up and let's see."

Col. Miller said the highway patrolmen asked his driver to plead guilty and they'd let them both go. This the colonel vetoed.

"I've got thousands for defense," said the colonel, "but not one cent for tribute—like that fellow told the pirates back in Tripoli only he said millions. I haven't got that much."

Col. Miller and Colbert were arrested while returning to the show at Greenville, S. C., from Perry, Fla., where the colonel had been to inspect some properties.

Plans For Five Dams In Brazos River Watershed Sent To Jester

MINERAL WELLS, May 17 (AP)—Plans for the construction of five dams in the Brazos river watershed on its tributaries have been sent to Governor Beauford Jester.

The Brazos River conservation and Reclamation district yesterday approved the Army Board of Engineers plan.

The proposed constructions are in addition to the Belton and Whitney dams. The report must also have the approval of Governor Jester before he forwards it to the Public Works committee in Washington.

The dams would include a new one for Lake Waco; Proctor dam on the upper Leon; one on the Navasota river, just east of Bryan; Lampasas dam on the Lampasas river in Bell county; the Laneport dam on the San Gabriel river below Taylor.

AFL HITS 'REACTIONARY FORCES'

Two-Party System In Congress Dead, U.S. Labor Leaders Claim

CLEVELAND, May 17 (AP)—The AFL leadership today expressed the opinion that the two-party system in Congress is dead.

In its place, the labor bosses said, there is "a tug-of-war between reactionary forces from both parties on the other."

"On many vital issues, the pulling and hauling between these contending forces has resulted in a stalemate," said President William Green after a three-hour political meeting of union heads. They are angry at failure of Congress to repeal the Taft-Hartley act after four months.

Need For Liberals Cited

"It becomes clear, therefore, that a sizeable majority for the Democratic party in the 81st Congress offers labor scarcely any greater comfort than the heavy majority the Republicans had in the 80th Congress," the AFL leaders said.

"What organized labor and the country as a whole needs is a large majority of liberals in Congress, regardless of what their party affiliations may be."

To this end, they said, the AFL's Political league "will dedicate its efforts in the 1950 campaign."

The AFL Political league's 30-man administrative committee, said:

Labor Feels Insecure

"Even if Congress repeals the Taft-Hartley act before adjournment of the present session, and enacts a new labor-management relations law satisfactory to labor, the workers of this country cannot feel safe and secure while reactionary forces are able to muster such strength in Congress as was manifested in the roll-call vote on the Wood bill in the House of Representatives a few weeks ago."

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Wood (D-Ga), was offered by Republicans and some Southern Democrats as a substitute for the administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley act outright.

Green told a news conference after the political session that the AFL was "not disappointed in President Truman."

BIG FISH THROWN BACK

MOORHEAD, Minn., May 17 (AP)—Art Sanders was telling today about the big one he landed—then threw back. Sanders had to have eight other fishermen help him beach his big sturgeon after fighting it for one and one-half hours. It weighed 93 pounds and measured five feet, nine inches. Because state law forbids catching sturgeon except in boundary waters, they threw it back in the lake.

Police Chief, Four Officers Resign Posts At Grand Prairie

GRAND PRAIRIE, May 17. (AP)—Grand Prairie's 10-man police force was cut in half today, following resignation of the chief and four officers who walked out with him.

New chief was Ray Weaver, named by the new city commission at a meeting last night. The commission was sworn into office last Saturday.

Dave Brennan submitted his resignation as police chief by letter at the commission meeting which voted to accept it.

Police commissioner John Daugherty declared a lack of efficiency and professional jealousy had existed in the police department for the past couple of years.

A.&M. Graduate Assumes Duties With Extension Service Here

Guy Carpenter, a Texas A.&M. graduate of June, 1948, has reported for duty as extension entomologist with district two of the Agriculture Extension service, according to W. N. Williamson, district agent.

Carpenter comes here from Mission where he was first stationed after graduation from college. He majored in entomology and part of his duties with the office here (located in the Agriculture building at Texas Tech) will be the control of cotton insects.

Carpenter and his wife will reside at 2320 Eighteenth street after Wednesday.

Young Sweetwater Couple Die In Auto Mishap Near Bronte

SWEETWATER, May 17. (AP)—A young Sweetwater couple was killed last night and a third person injured when their car overturned on highway 70 eight miles south of Bronte.

Killed were Miss Marjorie Anderson, 24, and Travis Dicken, 24. Robert Rice of Sweetwater was taken to a Bronte hospital in critical condition. Rice's injuries included a broken neck and severe internal injuries.

Injunction Sought Against State Tomato Packing Regulations

EDINBURG, May 17. (AP)—A district court has been asked to stop enforcement of new Texas tomato packing regulations.

The Texas Citrus and Vegetable association yesterday asked Judge Bryce Ferguson in 92nd District court for a temporary injunction pending a hearing set by Texas Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald May 23 on protests against the rules. The hearing is to be at Harlingen.

The association said regulations issued May 4 by McDonald would cause a $5,000,000 loss to shippers and growers.

The new order permits jumble packs in containers up to 75 pounds. Preiously only 60 were allowed. Culls which formerly were marked with three inch letters on all box sides, now are marked on only one side.

The petition said the order destroyed the standardization act, permitting the flooding of markets with culls.

Siamese Twin Girls Born In California Given Chance To Live

LOS ANGELES, May 17 (AP)—Little Siamese twin girls, born Saturday, are given a good chance to live today, although joined at the head, top-to-top.

The infants were born to Mrs. John B. Jones, 35, a negro. Only a few similar cases have been reported.

Dr. Phoebus Berman, hospital medical director, said a study will be made to determine whether it would be possible to separate the twins by surgery.

ADVERSE COURT DECISION SEEN

Shivers Favors Compromise In Battle Over Texas Tidelands

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17 — Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers said here today that he believes compromise would be the best course now for Texas to follow in the Tidelands controversy. Shivers feels that the Federal government would accept a compromise. He said he had found much sentiment over the State in favor of this solution.

Lieut. Gov. Shivers feels that the State and Federal government might split the submerged coastal lands for administration purposes in any such compromise. He suggested that perhaps Texas could keep control over the three marine leagues, or 10 miles which it claims.

Confers With Solons

Lieut. Gov. Shivers, who stated he is not a lawyer but a farmer, said however he felt that the Supreme Court would find much evidence to back up clear title of Texas to the land. Shivers, however did not express any optimism about the Supreme Court's ultimate decision. He feels, in the Texas case, as well as in the California case, that the court will recognize paramount claims of the Federal government to the land along its shore.

Shivers said he was here on personal, private business, but would call on as many Texas congressmen as possible to discuss tidelands and other problems of the states he planned to visit with Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn and today lunched with Rep. and Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen, McAllen; Bob Poage, Waco; Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls; J. M. Combs, Beaumont, and conferred with others.

Shivers was repeatedly asked what the Texas Legislature is going to do about rent decontrol, finally.

He listened with interest to discussions of housing problems. He said he thought the bill to amend the Natural Gas act to exclude intra-state operations from regulation of the Federal Power commission ought to be passed. This was offered in the House by Rep. John Lyle.

Mrs. Shivers accompanied him. They will probably leave Washington late Wednesday or Thursday.

Chicago Principal is Badly Beaten After Pupil Expelled

CHICAGO, May 17 (INS)—The mother of an expelled student, the student and his two sisters today allegedly knocked down, beat and kicked a Chicago elementary school principal before a classroom of pupils.

Victim of the assault was Fenrose R. Liddil, 52, head of the Douglas school. He was taken to Michael Reese hospital with head and body injuries.

Police seized Norman Childress, 14, and his sister, Bernadette, 18. The youth's mother, Anna, and another sister were being sought.

School authorities said Mrs. Childress knocked the principal down with a chair when he intervened in an argument with the boy's seventh grade teacher, Mrs. Lillian Smith.

Liddil said the youth, his mother and his sisters jumped on him while he lay on the floor.

According to authorities, Norman was expelled from school this morning on recommendation of a teacher. He returned after lunch with his mother and sisters.

Longview Man Faces Charges in Tyler Bank Deposit Box Theft

TYLER, May 17 (AP)—A 48-year-old Longview man, was arrested today and charged with being an accomplice in the May 13 theft of $5,000 from a safe deposit box in the Citizens National bank here.

The safe deposit box belonged to P. G. Lake, wealthy oilman, who had been robbed in his hotel room the previous Monday night, May 9.

The Longview man, Robert H. Mace, was arrested in his hotel room in Longview early today by Texas Ranger Dick Oldham and Chief Deputy Sheriff Walter Jernigan.

Already charged in the $5,000 theft is Chris S. Amos, 48-year-old Tyler oil broker. He is free on $5,000 bond.

Oldham and Jernigan did not elaborate on Mace's part in the alleged theft, but formal charges filed in the court of Justice of Peace Joe Allen said:

"... prior to commission of said offense by Chris S. Amos . . . Robert H. Mace did unlawfully and wilfully advise, command and encourage the said Chris S. Amos to commit said offense . . ."

ONLY A MOUSE

DETROIT, May 17 (AP) — Mrs. Laura Caswell, 43, pleaded innocent in court today to operating an unsanitary restaurant. She denied a health inspector's charge that a rat ran over meat in the refrigerator of the cafe. It was only a mouse, she said.

Chile hopes this will be the last year in which it has to import edible oils, as it should be self-sufficient in oil seed by 1950.

Solon Demands Explanation Of AEC's Scholarship Program

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 17 — A Senate administration Democrat indicated today he may hold up Atomic Energy commission funds unless the agency satisfactorily explains why it gave a scholarship to a Communist.

Chairman O'Mahoney of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee told AEC Chairman Lilienthal that the fellowship award to Hans Freistadt, University of North Carolina graudate student, was a clear violation of the law.

The Wyoming senator said in a letter to Lilienthal that the statutes specifically forbid the use of public funds for payments to those who advocate the overthrow of the government. He declared:

Truman Urged To Act

"I shall appreciate it if you will be prepared to discuss this matter fully when the Atomic Energy commission comes before the subcommittee on the appropriation bill."

O'Mahoney's subcommittee is holding hearings on the AEC appropriation for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Meanwhile, the Communist scholarship fight, which began before the joint Atomic Energy committee, reverberated in the House where Rep. Canfield (R-NJ), urged President Truman to take preventive action.

Canfield said in a telegram that "such scholarships are a fraud on you, the Congress and our people." He added:

"I believe you should indulge in some plain talk to your appointees on the Atomic Energy commission. It ought not to be necessary for Congress to stop this un-American nusiness."

Student To Testify

The storm center of the congressional controversy—Freistadt, 23-year-old native Austrian—has been described as a Communist before the joint atomic committee.

Freistadt, who is scheduled to testify Wednesday, received that label from Sen Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), who added that he knew of another unidentified Communist scholarship student.

Earlier today, Dr. Detlev Bronk chairman of the National Research council which administers the scholarship program, told the joint committee that he opposes a loyalty check of candidates.

Similar views were voiced by Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, noted nuclear scientist, and Dr. Allen Gregg, chairman of AEC's advisory committee on biology and medicine. Both pleaded for academic freedom.

Oppenheimer said the "domain of secret investigations should be restricted to the utmost." Hickenlooper replied that his views are based on "erroneous assumptions," adding:

"We are spending billions to . . . contain Communism. . . Dr. Oppenheimer is missing the point on a smaller amount of money."

Gregg said that AEC is "looking for brains and they don't grow on every bush." He made no reply when Hickenlooper remarked:

"When you bet on a Communist, isn't it like betting on a horse when you know the jockey has been bought?"

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) got Bronk to admit that Freistadt's selection was "bad" but that he (Bronk) shied away from an investigation of applicants.

Few of the immigrants from Scotland reaching South Africa now know how to dance a reel, says G. M. Guthrie, head of the Caledonian Societies in Johannesburg, so he is busy organizing classes there to teach them.

Damage To Wheat In Kansas Increasing

GARDEN CITY, Kans., May 17. (INS)—Damage was reported today to be increasing at the rate of 10 to 20 percent a week from the deadly "wheat mosaic" which is affecting grain fields in the western third of Kansas.

Hardest hit by the strange disease is the Scott-Lane county area in the center of the wheat belt. Drouth conditions in eastern Colorado have apparently prevented the disease from spreading to that area.

Government and state agriculture experts voiced the hope that some of the wheat plants hit by the malady will recover in time to head out before harvest. However, such a recovery is unlikely in the Garden City area since harvest time is only three weeks away.

A similar disease struck the state in 1920. Although little is known about the "wheat mosaic," some experts believe that it is carried and spread by a grain aphid. Foot rot attacking the roots of weakened plants usually follows. Symptoms of the disease were noticed by Kansas farmers only this week.

Denver Man Convinced Father Suffers Most At Birth Of Baby

DENVER, May 17. (INS)—The old argument about who suffers the most—the mother or the father—on arrival of a new baby was revived today at Denver's Presbyterian hospital.

Pete Berlute thinks the father has a tough time. "Just look at me," he said, "here I am in a hospital bed, all bandaged up."

His wife, Lucille, 31, is also in the hospital—fourth floor maternity ward—with her brand new son, Robert Warren Berlute.

The baby arrived shortly before midnight, with Berlute standing by.

The same doctor who had attended Mrs. Berlute a few minutes later examined her husband, who had decided by then the pain in his midsection wasn't just nerves.

"Appendicitis," said the doctor, reaching for his tools.

Berlute will only have to walk up one flight to visit his wife and new heir, when he is able to walk.

2,000,000 Ants Make Up Strange Cargo For Plane

LOS ANGELES, May 17 (INS) — One of the strangest shipments in aviation history left Los Angeles airport today for Minneapolis via Salt Lake City and Denver.

Them's ants, kid. California harvesting ants, that is.

Seems as how a gent named Delyn Hornaday, self-styled "ant king of the universe," is shipping the six-legged critters to an advertising agency in Minneapolis.

Peddles Ant Villages

Hornaday knocks down a lucrative living peddling ant villages in glassed-in desert sand villages. The ants go about their daily life in gay unabashed abandonment.

Hornaday is the only guy extant who brings ants into the home and makes the housewife like it.

Under interstate shipping regulations today's shipment was billed as livestock.

The 2,000,000 ants aboard a Western Air lines plane was said to be the largest ant shipment of all time.

Services Scheduled Here Today For Former Lubbock Woman

Last rites for Mrs. C. H. Key, 64, the former Mrs. Bertha Morris of Lubbock will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today in First Foursquare church, Rev. Floyd Dawson, pastor, and Rev. Herman Westbrook of Brownfield officiating. Burial will be in Lubbock Memorial Park cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Mrs. Key, who had lived in Lubbock for approximately 20 years prior to moving to California about a year ago, died last Thursday in a Los Angeles hospital following a heart attack.

Survivors include the husband; seven sons, Clyde Morris of Kingsbury, Calif., J. R. Morris of Los Angeles, Rev. Elois Morris, Little Rock, Ark., James and Earl Ray Key, both of Lubbock, Travis Key of Stockton, Calif., and Elder Key, Indio, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Jewel Dowdy of Lamesa and Mrs. Christine Wells, Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. John Taylor, Frederick, Okla.; and nine grandchildren.

Idaho Woman Heads P-TA Organization

ST. LOUIS, May 17. (INS)—A grandmother from Twin Falls, Idaho, who once taught history in the local schools, was announced tonight as the new president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

She is Mrs. John E. Hays, who has served as first vice-president of the 5,774,000-member organization for the past three years.

Mrs. Hayes' first PTA office was as president of the Parkhill school unit in Denver, where her family moved in 1910 from Idaho. Her first elective national office in the PTA was that of historian in 1926.

In her busy career she found time not only to teach school and raise a son and two daughters, but also wrote a book of poetry, campaigned against tuberculosis and infantile paralysis, and took an active part in civic organizations.

Other national officers whose election was announced are Mrs. Newton P. Leonard of Providence, R.I., first vice-president; Dr. Ralph H. Ojemann of Iowa City, Iowa, treasurer; and Mrs. Edgar F. Dixon of Little Rock, Ark., secretary.

New Mexico Health Official Fears Bubonic Plague Outbreak

SANTA FE, N. M., May 17. (INS)—It's just luck that New Mexico hasn't had some cases of bubonic plague.

Dr. James R. Scott, state health director, today reported that bubonic plague carrying fleas had been found in Taos county. Previously plague carrying fleas had been found on wild rodents in Socorro, Lincoln, Guadalupe and Union counties.

"I don't know how long our luck will hold out," Dr. Scott declared. "If the wild rodent carriers mingle with domestic mice or rats, their plague carrying fleas can easily be transmitted to people," he said.

"Our first step must be to eliminate garbage dumping grounds," Dr. Scott said. "Such places are a favorite mingling spot for rodents of all kinds."

Rain Causes $100,000 Damage At Cleburne

CLEBURNE, May 17 (INS) — A 6.5 inch rain last night caused property damage in Cleburne estimated at $100,000.

In one two-block-square area, not a home escaped water damage as Buffalo creek rose under the impact of the tremendous downpour.

Damage to crops in the rich farmland of the area was heavy. Livestock carcasses by the dozen were floating down Nolan river, west of Cleburne. The river spilled over its banks and spread out over as much as two miles of the surrounding countryside. Its channel is 30 to 40 feet wide normally.

The newest movie house at Elisabethville, in the Belgian Congo, expects to show 66 per cent United States films.

RUSH TACTICS

Unfair---And Unwise

THE personal interests of the groups directly affected forbids their agreement as to the justice and desirability of rent controls. Attitudes toward the statewide decontrol measure now pending in the Texas Legislature therefore will be determined, in most instances, by those interests.

But it will be difficult to persuade many observers that the obvious attempts to railroad the bill through the legislative House have been either fair, or in the public interest. It was approved on two readings before the fact that it had been introduced was publicized generally. It failed of approval on third and final reading in the House more by accident than design.

Sponsors of the bill said nothing about it in advance of introducing it. They tried to get it approved without allowing time for people generally to discuss its provisions. They have opposed with caustic criticism the suggestion that a public hearing be held on the proposition.

Wholly disregarding the pros and cons of the measure, it seems self evident that it is bad business to apply the rush act to this or any other highly controversial laws of great importance to many people.

Texans should, at least, be given the time and opportunity to express their sentiments before any law-making branch takes final action on such things. They would have not been given such an opportunity with regard to proposed rent decontrol if the strategy of House sponsors of the measure succeeded.

A Lesson Learned

ONE of the costliest mistakes of the democracies after victory in Europe was made, by general acknowledgement, when the Allies allowed their armed forces to disintegrate too rapidly. Victory over Japan stepped up the process, with the United States the chief offender.

While the democracies deliberately weakened themselves, Russia gained strength by confiscating gigantic war industries in Manchuria and Germany. Soviet armed forces were maintained at wartime strength. The results encouraged the Russians to throw their weight around, confident their weakened former allies would not dare to challenge them.

It is encouraging that the democracies are not repeating their mistake by allowing the Berlin air lift to fall into decay because of the termination of the Russian blockade of that city. The planes still are flying. They will continue to fly, the Air Force command has announced, until "adequate stockpiles" of essential materials are built up.

An organization will be maintained, according to the further announcement, which will enable the air lift to shift swiftly back into high gear if necessity arises. No chances are being taken that the Russians might resume the blockade without notice—as they probably would do if they thought they could enforce it.

The precaution demonstrates that Uncle Sam and the democracies still are capable of learning from mistakes. Because of their realistic foresight as applied to the air lift, they are less likely to experience hindsight regrets.

Petrillo has ruled that a person who blows the harmonica is a musician. So far, however, he has made no attempt to unionize hill-billies who blow into jugs.

Red Shoes

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Disributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Four new arrivals on Spoono Island complicate Henry George Hardiker's attempt to establish a "New Eden." The newcomers consist of a small movie group which was shipwrecked offshore. Fred Stilwell, the leader of the group, is grumpy and Lilly Warren, one of Hardiker's original guests, says it's because he is not used to doing without liquor and tries to deal with Bea Cosgrove, who is in charge of supplies, to get him some. Bea refuses and goes with George Bascombe, Stilwell's aide, to search for a pair of his glasses on the beach. He finds them and discovers that Bea Cosgrove is more beautiful, and not as old as he had been led to believe.)

GEORGE capered up and down the beach, pulling at timbers, rescuing odds and ends, and screaming back at protesting sea birds. He stopped suddenly, pulled a heavy wooden case from the grip of the sand. He stood staring down at it until Bea walked over to him.

"Whiskey," George said reverently. "The Gullwing really broke up all right. Here's a part of her ballast!"

"There's another. And Another," Bea pointed.

"Our fortune is made," George said. "It's simple as ABC. A. We have found the whiskey. B. Sillwell loves whiskey. C. Sillwell has money in that belt of his."

"But it's his money, isn't it?" Bea asked.

George Bascombe rolled off the case onto the sand. He clutched his stomach, released his hold and pounded gently with his fists. "What a character! All right you got your belly laugh. You rolled 'em in the aisles. So I'll put it on another plane for you. I'll appeal to your sense of humor. Think how much fun it would be to sell old pal Sillwell his own whiskey, at, well say $100 a bottle. Isn't that funny? Or do you think two hundred would be funnier?"

Miss Cosgrove said, "I don't want any part of it. But I won't stop you, if you want to do that to your friend."

"He plays for keeps," George amended. "And he always has plenty of money. That's where I come in. I hang around him and do this and that and a few crumbs come my way." He laughed. "That's it! I get the crumbs from the rich man's stable."

"Rich man's table," Bea corrected automatically.

"Not with Fred," Bascombe said. "Now look, you don't happen to know a safe place we could stow the booty away? So I could dish it out a bottle at a time and not flood the market?"

"I know a place," Bea said slowly. "A cave."

"Let's get going then."

"We'll need a light."

"I saw a couple of cases of matches," George said. "They'll be all right. Everything on the Gullwing was waterproofed. She was a wet boat."

BEA found the matches and led the way up the trail to the Cave of Gasps with George puffing behind her with a case of whiskey.

Between Bascombe's trips Bea Cosgrove used the matches for exploration. Beside the small cul-de-sac near the entrance were two more short side passages that led only a few feet back from the main cave. The floor was covered with fine white sand, undisturbed, until a hundred feet from the entrance the floor dropped too sharply and was of bare, slippery rock.

She tossed lighted matches down the steep incline until one burned long enough in the still air for her to get a fleeting impression of the long drop ending in a huge rock with blackness of water gurgling around its balanced base.

She was in the cave entrance when George came up with the last of six cases. His face was lobster colored.

"That's all I can do," he said. "There's a couple more but we'll let Harding have them. Who else knows about this cave?"

"Harding," Bea said. "I don't know of any others. But it's got a bad name. It's haunted."

"Oh fine," George said. He laughed. "Well it's a good place then to lay the spirits. That's a joke, son."

"Very funny," Bea admitted. "There's one thing you've forgotten though. Your competition."

"Lilly Warren? She can't steal enough to keep Fred partway human and she charged him plenty."

MABEL JONES divided her time between the care of her flock of sheep and care of Mollie Stark. Bea Cosgrove sometimes heard them laughing together.

She finally asked the older woman a blunt question. "You like Mollie, don't you?"

Mabel Jones smiled. "He likes her. Anyone can see that. But he's worried too."

"Worried?"

"He can't make out why a nice girl like Mollie would be sailing with another girl and two men. He wants to think she's sweet and innocent."

"What do you think?"

"Don't get me wrong," Mabel said quickly. "I'm just as anxious as you are to marry Harding and spend the rest of my life on his island. Maybe more anxious. I'm ugly, but I've buried two husbands. I had to learn long ago a

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

ONE of the most flagrantly misunderstood principles is contained in that paragraph in the Declaration of Independence which states that "all men are created equal."

By common usage and convenient interpretation this principle has come to mean "I am just as good as you are," or "Who do you think you are?"

BRANDEIS

If you just take the trouble of reading the next sentence in the Declaration, you will find, "that they are endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness are the principle inalienable rights to which everyone of us is entitled, according to this Declaration. But you will note that only "the pursuit of happiness," not happiness itself, is mentioned.

Abraham Lincoln certainly fought for the downtrodden, and implicitly believed in the Declaration of Independence.

But one June 26, 1857, he said in a speech at Springfield, Ill.: "I think the authors of the Declaration of Independence intended to include ALL men, but they did not intend to declare all men equal in ALL RESPECTS."

Today all of us are born free. All of us have equal opportunities, or at least are supposed to have them.

But all men do not have the same mental and physical equipment.

All men do not have the same strength.

I could never be a Gene Tunney, or even a champion in my own weight class.

I have the same opportunity to be a Shakespeare that he had. I have the right to strive to be one.

But I won't be, because I can't.

What I said about men naturally applies to women as well.

Take an ugly duckling.

She has the same inalienable right to be a glamor girl as the most beautiful movie actress.

But there is a higher power than even the United States Constitution or the Declaration of Independence.

That power is NATURE.

HERE is another reason why, in the words of Lincoln, men can never be "equal in all respects."

The lazy, the shiftless, the wastrels, the drunkards, the useless, should certainly be classed as equals of those who work eight conscientious hours a day to support themselves and their families.

And do you think that those whom Nature had endowed with priceless gifts of genius should not get their rewards for benefitting mankind with those gifts?

Yes, we are all born equal—insofar as most of us are born with two eyes, two ears, a mouth, a pair of legs and hands.

From then on life is a race.

And as the referee in the ring says to the two opponents as they start on the first round:

"Now go out and fight. And may the best man win."

Labor Merger Fades

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The American labor movement is involved in more violent controversies today than ever before, and earlier hopes of a merger of the three top organizations—the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the United Mine Workers—have vanished.

John L. Lewis is furious because he is convinced that Democratic leaders in the House tried to make a scapegoat of him during the recent battle over repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

He is also sore at his rivals—A. F. of L. President William Green and C. I. O. President Philip Murray—because they conspired with the Administration forces against him.

ANATHEMA: In offering the Sims Bill as a more palatable measure than the Lesinski proposal, which President Truman favored, the Rayburn-McCormack leadership retained two provisions which are anathema to the head of the United Mine Workers.

They were the sections permitting use of the injunction to break a strike that threatened a "national emergency," and requiring both labor union and corporation officials to sign an anti-Communist affidavit.

Mr. Lewis and the U.M.W. are out of pocket by several millions through use of the injunction process. His unions cannot take advantage of NLRB machinery because he refuses to sign an anti-Red oath.

VICTIM: In urging support of the Sims substitute among members dependent for election on A.F. of L and C.I.O. voters, the leadership pointed out that the bill was so phrased that the only labor victim would be Mr. Lewis. At least that is his story.

The proposed legislation was aimed only at labor disputes and walkouts which threaten to tie up industry and transportation on a national scale, and almost the only union falling into this category is the United Mine Workers.

Even the C.I.O.'s mass organizations, like the automobile, electrical and textile workers, deal with individual corporations, and would not have been affected adversely by the Sims injunction weapon.

ENEMIES: Messrs. Green and Murray accepted this argument, and lobbied for the Sims program among their legislative friends on Capitol Hill. So long as Mr. Lewis would be the only sufferer, they were willing to approve any bill that wiped the hated Taft-Hartley act off the books, even though retaining many of its features.

In the showdown, however, the Lewis faction twisted many earlier backers of the substitute, and their switch was sufficient to defeat it. But John L. will never forgive his political and labor enemies for their attempt to pillory him.

FEUDS: The personal bitterness animating the three leaders at Washington extends down through the rank and file to the lowest paid steel puddler, mine boy and industrial apprentice. Fierce feuds exist within the three organizations, in addition to their general battling for supremacy.

The C.I.O. is raiding the A. F. of L. which has not turned the other cheek or given a soft answer. Both seek to disrupt John L.'s catch-all union known as District 50, which aims to organize all industries even remotely connected with coal, chemicals and their by-products.

THREAT: This politico-economic warfare holds a definite threat to the improvement of present business and living conditions. Even though it may not precipitate calamitous strikes, labor strife may close many bottleneck factories essential to a high level of employment and essential production. It also damages worker morale.

With prices declining, it is not expected that union leaders will make excessive wage demands when contracts expire through 1949. They may ask shorter hours with the same rate of pay and inauguration of pension plans. The C.I.O. will probably insist on pay raises in certain key industries so as to make as good a showing as John L. has in the coal fields.

But the principal battle will be for recognition, for supremacy and for an increased membership. And the throat-cutting on Capitol Hill during the Taft-Hartley repeal drama has sharpened the feuds among the three leading prima donnas—John L., "Bill" and "Phil."

PENSION: The widow of a World War I or II veteran cannot continue to receive the $42-a-month pension if she remarries a man who did not serve in either conflict. She forfeits that right automatically, even though he dies or she divorces her second husband.

But VA officials say that many women have found a way to evade this provision. They get an annulment from husbands who stand in the way of a pension, and thereby become eligible again.

Incidentally, one woman is collecting on three $10,000 war insurance policies as a result of having married three veterans who died conveniently—for her.

In honor of the Maori Battalion in the last war, a large memorial house costing nearly $120,000 will be built in New Zealand.

Two technologal institutes which will be established in India will be modelled after the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A United States oil company is organizing a subsidiary to attempt new explorations in Ecuador on a concession abandoned by another foreign company.

When Odd Evensen fell overboard at Narvik, Norway, and shipmates threw him a line he tied it to his brandy bottle and yelled "Save this first."

As part of a drive to clean up the State, Veracruz State, Mexico, has started a police roundup of all known denizens of the underworld.

The Philippine Government has arranged for the clearing from Manila Bay of wartime wreckage that has been menacing navigation.

Hungary's Ganz Electrical Machine Factory, 70 percent destroyed in wartime, shortly will be employing 800 workers again, Vienna reports.

Josef Bendler, an 18-year-old mountaineer, recently hung for 48 hours on the end of a rope from a mountain in the Tyrol before he was rescued.

Brazil's "OPA," the Central Price Commission, has fixed the maximum price of admission to motion picture theatres at 36 cents, including tax.

South Africa has removed restrictions on the sale of flour and bread, and white bread has been placed on sale for the first time in many months.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

PUBLIC GOOD JEOPARDIZED

U.S. Agency 'Assumes' Powers

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The background of the U. S. Civil Service commission's action in delegating broad powers, which it does not itself possess, to a special board of examiners to open up the lists of trial examiners in governmental commissions and agencies, weed out, disqualify and replace previously discussed here, is very important for an understanding of how it can adversely affect the public interest.

As revealed hitherto, this board has disqualified, subject to removal or demotion, numerous trial examiners, a category of officials very vital in the area of commission government, which is, itself, most important; for these commissions administer and interpret laws passed by Congress. Trial examiners are judges, in effect, who gather evidence and hold hearings preliminary to decisions and acts by the commissions and special agencies, themselves.

STOKES

History Traced

Obviously, such power to "purge" officials could be used to affect public policy, and this intent is clearly indicated in the background and viewpoint of influential members of the six-man board, of whom three are lawyers representing big private interests, two state supreme court justices, and only one, a Civil Service commission representative, from the government.

How this all-powerful board came into being is significant. Here we go back to a hierarchy of the American Bar association, extremely conservative and not representative of the association as a whole, which was influential in enactment of the Administrative Procedures act of 1946.

The Civil Service commission is authorized to appoint advisory boards to assist it in carrying out this act. But pressure was brought upon the commission by this ABA hierarchy through Senator Wiley (R-Wisc) as chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee in the 80th Congress, to appoint instead a board with broad powers literally to fire and hire, which is beyond even the commission's authority as it is being exercised, and, it may be said, composed of hearing examiner in federal agencies, submitted a list of people prominent in government and private life from which it suggested that the board be chosen, pressure again was brought through Senator Wiley upon the commission, with the result that the board with its powerful big private industry influence was named.

Carl McFarland, chairman, was prominent in activity for the Administrative procedures act, as well as member of a perliminary board before the government and is now counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers in the suit that big business organization brought against the government to challenge the Lobby Registration act, thought not general counsel of NAM as previously stated here. Two other members, Joseph W. Henderson and Willis Smith, both former ABA presidents, likewise have represented corporate interests before the government and both have been publicly very critical of the National Labor Relations board.

Mr. McFarland, in a progress report to the ABA on the administrative procedures bill back in 1945, revealed his own particular slant as to private interests involved. He said that while business and industry in general confine themselves to the question of whether certain administrative and legislative powers should be conferred, when these issues arose, and did not propose appropriate methods of regulation, the American Bar association "is in a position to supply these omissions," which, he added, "may result in protection through the years." It may be injected here that the "purging" now attempted could not affect public policy for years.

His statement would seem to mean to champion business and industrial interests, which is perfectly proper in its place, but hardly the sort of attitude for one passing upon commission personnel and hiring and firing in view of the role of these commissions, which is to protect the public interest, not any special interest.

This would also seem to be the attitude of Senator Wiley, judging from a letter he wrote to the Civil Service commission, reprinted in The ABA Journal, in which he expressed concern that commission examiner posts might be filled by men "who lack the approach of private enterprise in their work."

Proposal To Give Italy Control Of African Colonies Defeated

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N.Y., May 17 (INS)—The United Nations General Assembly in a dramatic midnight climax tonight defeated the Bevin-Sforza agreement to give Italy administration over Tripolitania in 1951. The agreement went down through lack of one vote.

Provisions for disposal of Italian colonies on which the assembly voted favorably in clause by clause procedure are:

1. Independence for all of Libya (unified state of Cyrenaica, Fezzan and Tripolitania) in 10 years.
2. Continued British administration for Cyrenaica until Libya receives independence.
3. French administration for Fezzan until Libyan independence.

The assembly still can upset the entire agreement when the vote on the whole is taken.

Compare STRETCH-R DELINTED with ordinary cottonseed:
Goes farther in equal volume. Germinates 3 to 5 days faster. Germinates on less moisture. Needs no extra planting tools. Keeps planter box clean of lime and lint. Makes cotton chopping unnecessary. Resists seed-borne diseases. Proves its profit in the field.
Order one of our five STRETCH-R Delinted brands . . . they make the crop that makes you money.

Lubbock Man Injured In Highway Collision

James G. Lancaster, 57, of 2520 Ruby street, Tuesday suffered a fractured left hip in a two-car collision four miles northwest of Shallowater on the Lubbock-Littlefield highway.

Three other persons escaped serious injury.

Investigating highway patrolmen said the collision apparently resulted from wet, slippery pavement.

Lancaster was driving a northbound 1948 Pontiac sedan at about 8 a.m., when an oncoming pickup truck driven by Buck Roundtree, of Littlefield, swerved across the slippery highway.

Vehicles Hit Glancing Blow

The two vehicles hit a glancing blow as the pickup attempted to pull back to the right side of the road.

Lancaster and two passengers in his automobile his wife, and her uncle, John D. Hodges of Turpin, Okla., were brought to St. Mary's hospital by Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home ambulance.

In addition to his fractured hip, Lancaster suffered cuts and bruises. A hospital attendant at St. Mary's hospital said last night that he was resting satisfactorily.

Mrs. Lancaster and Hodges also remained in the hospital last night. Both had only minor injuries, it was reported, and both were in satisfactory condition.

Roundtree, driver of the pickup vehicle, was unhurt.

Services For Mrs. Sieber Set Thursday In Fort Worth

Funeral services for Mrs. E. Hayes Sieber, 46, resident of Lubbock for the past eight years, who died at 11 p. m. Monday in a San Antonio hospital, are to be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Fort Worth.

Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery in Fort Worth, family friends here were informed last night.

Mrs. Sieber, the former Helen Corn of Crosbyton, and her husband had resided in Lubbock and Crosbyton for the past 19 years. She died after undergoing an emergency appendectomy Monday. It was understood that Mrs. Sieber had been suffering from leukemia during the last three months.

Survivors include the husband; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corn of Fort Worth; and two sisters, Mrs. E. C. Clements of San Antonio and Mrs. Harris McAshan of Houston.

Pallbearers at funeral services will be William V. Stone, George W. Cochran, John Christmann, Oscar Slaton, jr., Tom Welborn, and James Welborn.

Shipment Of Colorado Lambs Brings Record Price For May

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP)—A load of 207 western lambs sold today at the highest price on record for the month of May, $30.25 a hundred pounds.

They were brought in by the owner, J. J. Lebsock, of St. Morgan, Colo., who pocketed around $5,000 for the shipment. The price was about $1.50 a hundredweight above the May high of last year, with the lambs grading good and choice and averaging 96 pounds apiece. The alltime high mark for winter fed lambs here was made March 31 at $32.25.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP) — Cotton futures drifted lower early today on scattered liquidation, but turned steady on later short covering and trade buying.

Reports of heavy rains overnight at Fort Worth, Texas, with flood conditions in the Dallas area, had a steadying influence on new crop deliveries. Clear weather is wanted for the cotton crop in Texas.

Nearby July was under some pressure from spot firms who were believed to be hedging in futures or liquidating contracts against purchases of spot cotton. There was some selling in nearby July against purchases of the October 1949 delivery. Buying of October was attributed partly to the fact that it is selling more than three cents a pound under the July delivery and some traders felt that it might be under the probable loan level for the next cotton crop.

Late afternoon prices were 45 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher than the previous close. July 32.34, Oct. 29.17 and Dec. 28.93.

Futures closed unchanged at 75 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 17 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced early here today, but in the late trading reacted downward under long liquidation and hedge selling. Closing prices were barely steady, five cents to eighty cents a bale lower.

STOCKS SET SNAG

NEW YORK, May 17. (AP)—The stock market ran out of buying power today after a five-day running advance.

Declines of fractions to around a point were in the majority. Among the latter were some of the utility stocks which climbed to new highs for 1949 yesterday.

The first-day upward move had carried general price levels to the highest since April 18.

Trading volume contracted to 780,000 shares from yesterday's 1,930,000.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .3 of one point to 83.8, the first setback since May 10. The industrial group showed the largest loss, followed by railroad stocks. The utility division was unchanged.

Electric Power and Light common and Commonwealth and Southern were among the shares which fell back after establishing new 1949 highs yesterday. EPL finished ⅛ lower at 20 while C and S lost the same amount at 3⅞.

The Associated Press average of 15 utility shares remained at 40.5, only a shade away from the 1949 top of 40.7.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP) — Rains over the spring wheat country and a lower government buying basis weakened wheat at the board of trade today.

With the decline in wheat, other grains developed easiness and some stop-loss selling marked the decline.

The government buying basis for the May wheat delivery kept pace with the decline in futures, and a weaker cash wheat basis was reported at Kansas City and Minneapolis.

The federal weather bureau said rains in North Dakota were generous, although spotty.

Fair to good rainfall was reported from the Canadian grain country, breaking a prolonged dry spell.

At the finish wheat was 1¾ to 2⅜ lower than yesterday's close, May $2.22⅜-½; Corn was ⅛ to 1 cent lower, May $1.33⅝-¾; Oats were ⅛ to ¼ lower, May 67-66⅝; Lard was 10 to 20 cents a hundredweight lower, May $11.80.

Block, Bridle Club Banquet Set Tonight

The outstanding member of the Block and Bridle club will be honored tonight at the club's 15th annual banquet, in the Lubbock hotel.

The identity of the member to receive a merit-award plaque is kept secret until the time of presentation, Edd McLeroy, of the club, said.

Frank Parris, of Lubbock Auction and Commission company, will be main speaker on the program presided over by Clinton Ritter, president of the club, and O. B. Freeman, toastmaster.

John Henry Baumgardner, club sponsor, will make awards, including outstanding member award, scholarship award, judging teams awards, and freshman, sophomore and junior contest winners awards.

Approximately 150 members and guests are expected.

Trial Of Abilene Man On Liquor Charge To Continue Here Today

The county court trial of Clarence Ellison, 48, of Abilene, charged with liquor law violation, will continue at 9:30 a. m. today with the reading of the court's charge to the jury, court officials announced.

Evidence was completed about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, and the jury was released for the day at 3:30 p.m. Following the charge to the jury, arguments will be presented by the prosecution and defense.

Witnesses at the Tuesday morning session told Judge Walter Davies and a county court jury that inspectors of the Liquor Control board, assisted by Lubbock police, had seized 21 cases and 22 cans of beer March 31 from a car owned by Ellison, at a Lubbock tourist court where the defendant was registered.

County Attorney Waggoner Carr said the state was concerned at the afternoon session in offering proof necessary to asking the jury to impose an enhanced penalty. That proof had to do with a prior liquor law violation conviction Dec. 9, he said.

Burton S. Burks of Burks and McNeil is counsel for the defense.

Methodist Young People Take Part In Ceta Canyon Retreat

Fifty-three young persons and counsellors from Asbury Methodist church joined 57 young persons and counsellors from the Amarillo district of the Methodist church Saturday and Sunday for a retreat at Ceta canyon.

Rev. Uel D. Crosby, executive secretary of the board of education of the Northwest Texas conference, gave the sermon Sunday morning.

A group from Asbury Methodist church presented a play Saturday night.

PLUMBER JOKE DEBUNKED

Texas Senate Okays Election Reform Bills

AUSTIN, May 17 (AP) — Two measures proposing sweeping changes in present state election laws were approved unanimously today by the Senate Election Laws committee.

Similar bills were approved by a House committee last week.

The Senate group also approved a bill which would set up an interim committee to revise all state election statutes

A bill by Senators Keith Kelley, W. R. Cousins jr., and Carlos Ashley would raise the limit on campaign expenditures in races for U. S. senator and governor from the present $10,000 to $40,000.

A second election reform bill, by the same three senators, would require that precinct officials report returns as soon as the vote-counting is completed. They also would be required to hand over the sealed ballot boxes to the county clerks as soon as the polls closed.

The Election Laws committee today also approved two House Bills. One by Rep. Tom Whiteside of Tyler, would prevent any person convicted of a felony from holding any public office in the state. The other would fix the date on school elections in counties with a population of 500,000 or more for the last Saturday in April instead of May.

Indiana Judge Will Investigate Altercation Between Attorneys

INDIANAPOLIS, May 17. (INS) —Probate judge Dan V. White said today he will investigate a reported altercation in an Indianapolis courthouse corridor between two attorneys in which a knife was allegedly drawn.

Bailiffs intervened, according to witnesses, when attorney Louis Rosenberg and his former law partner, James Dawson, became involved in a brief flurry of heated words shortly after they had delivered final arguments as opposing attorneys in a case.

Bystanders said a blow by Rosenberg was deflected by a bystander and the attorneys left the Marion county courthouse by separate entrances.

The case heard today was one involving the earnings of "little David" Walker, boy preacher who claims he once spent five minutes in heaven.

Dawson said he did not intend to file charges against Rosenberg.

Judge White said he doubted whether his investigation will involve any contempt of court charges because the trouble occurred outside of the courtroom.

A new liner, the Orcades, which will make the Australia-England run in 27 days instead of the prewar 36 days, sailed recently on her maiden voyage.

NEWS BRIEFS

Wyatt Burkhalter, son of Mr. and Mrs. W L. Burkhalter of Lubbock route 4, was one of two first-place winners at the annual Enid, Okla., Band festival last week. Burkhalter, a first-year band student at Lubbock Senior High school, won the award with his double B-flat bass solo.

Word has been received here of the death of J. W (Bill) Holt, 37, of Santa Fe, N. M., the husband of the former Miss Mary Florence Knox of Lubbock. Holt, an employe of the New Mexico State Highway department, died of a heart attack Sunday in Santa Fe while in his automobile. Funeral services and burial were conducted Monday in Carlsbad, his former home.

Funeral services for William Hennis Putman, 80, retired farmer of O'Donnell, were held Tuesday afternoon in the First Methodist church of O'Donnell. Plains Funeral home of Lubbock was in charge of burial in O'Donnell cemetery. Putman, a resident of O'Donnell eight years, died Sunday morning after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. W. M. Peticolas, of 2411 Twenty-first, has been called to Littlefield because of the illness there of her mother, Mrs. M. E. Lowe.

Leon L. Sutherland of Atlanta, Tex., son of Mrs. Sarah Sutherland of Lubbock has been sent a permanent citation for the Air medal, Eighth Naval District headquarters in New Orleans has announced. Sutherland, an aviation chief machinist's mate, USNR, was a member of the air group credited with dropping the last bombs to hit Japan, on Aug. 15, 1945.

Copies of judgment and sentence of three years in the state penitentiary, suspended during good behavior in the case of K. E. Middleton, 31, of El Centro, Calif., were filed Tuesday by 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue. Middleton pleaded guilty Monday afternoon of swindling over $50 by worthless check.

Funeral services for John C. Bass, retired farmer of Brownfield, were held Tuesday in Brownfield First Baptist church. Burial was in Terry County Memorial cemetery.

The George M. Hunt Parent Teacher's association will meet Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. in the cafeteria at the school. Following a musical and talent program, officers for the 1949-50 school year will be installed. Mrs. Jennette Jenkins is in charge of the program.

Miss Cosgrove looked at her in surprise. "Somehow I wouldn't have expected you to be so cynical."

"Not cynical, practical," Mabel Jones corrected. "A man'll lose his head over a girl like Mollie. But there's more to marriage than that. There's looking out for the man and working for him. Yes, and there's cheering him up after he gets hurt by someone like that girl."

"I don't see why you tell me these things."

"No reason why I should give away my plan of action—my campaign?" Mabel grinned. "Well, it isn't a plan you could follow. It'd be all or nothing with you."

"And you're not worried?"

"No," Mrs. Jones said. "I'm sure with you it'll be nothing."

Majority Of Voters Favor Senate Ratification Of Atlantic Pact

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
(American Institute of Public Opinion)

PRINCETON, N. J., May 17.—A 5-to-1 ratio in favor of ratifying the Atlantic Pact is found among voters with opinions on the subject in a coast-to-coast survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

The higher the education level of the voter, the more likely he is to favor the pact. Those most informed about the details of the proposed treaty are the most in favor of its ratification by the Senate.

With the Senate now holding hearings on the subject, an indication of the public's general attitude was sought on the following question:

"The U. S. and various North Atlantic countries, such as Canada, England, France, Norway and Holland have signed a mutual defense pact—that is, each country has agreed to come to the defense of any of the other countries if it is attacked. Do you think the U. S. Senate should or should not ratify (approve) the North Atlantic Security Pact?"

The vote for the nation and by education levels follow:

	Should	Should Not	No Opin.
National	65%	16%	19%
College	75	17	8
High Sch'l.	71	14	15
Grade Sch'l	55	18	27

Voters who are best informed as to the obligations of the United States under the Atlantic Pact are the most in favor of the pact, and are also the most in favor of sending arms and war materials.

	Should	Should Not	No Opin.
National	67%	12%	21%
College	80	12	8
High Sch'l.	73	11	16
Grammar Sch'l.	58	12	30

A number of earlier surveys on the idea of the Atlantic Pact were conducted before the text of the pact was made public on March 18.

These surveys, the first conducted as early as May, 1948, found sentiment ranging between 65 per cent and 76 per cent in favor of the principle of a mutual defense alliance.

Sending Arms

Discussion in the Senate has dwelt at length on the issue of sending American arms and supplies to other members of the Atlantic community, in order to strengthen their defenses.

Secretary of State Acheson, in a recent testimony before a Senate committee, declared that if a Senator voted for the pact he would be less free to oppose the sending of military supplies to the other signatory powers.

Voters questioned in today's poll show a majority in favor of sending the supplies, but it is a smaller majority than on the pact itself. The vote follows:

"Do you think that the U. S. should or should not supply arms and war materials to the North Atlantic nations if they agree to provide us with air bases and any other help that they may be able to give?"

Three-Year-Old Boy Drowns In Open Cistern Near Kerens

KERENS, May 17. (AP) — Danny Truett Tramel, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Tramel of Bazette, drowned late yesterday in a cistern in the Bazette community north of here.

The mother of the child, it was reported, discovered the body shortly after the tot toppled into the cistern. She sent another child after the father while she lowered herself into the cistern where she held the child's body out of the water in a futile effort to save him.

The cistern was about 18 feet deep and held about four feet of water.

Union Accepts Petroleum Firm's Offer In Borger Labor Dispute

BORGER, May 17. (AP)—Union employes of the Phillips Petroleum company here today announced acceptance of a management offer, thereby ending 75 days of negotiations over a contract which expired in April.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Wood County School System Charged With Discrimination

TYLER, May 17. (AP)—An injunction seeking to prohibit alleged discrimination in the Wood county school system was filed in U.S. district court today by parents of 10 negro school children.

The suit names two Wood county towns—Winnsboro and Quitman as having discriminatory conditions. At Winnsboro, the petition claims, facilities for negroes are inferior to those for whites. At Quitman, it said, negro students have to travel 32 miles a day to get to classes.

The petition also charged that Wood county school officials were violating a state law requiring that Texas history be taught high school students.

United Dry Spokesman Hits Gov. Turner For Alleged Stand

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 17. (AP)—A United Dry spokesman charged today Gov. Roy J. Turner has "made a deal" with wet leaders to submit repeal at a special election Sept. 27. Turner promptly labeled the charge "fantastic and totally untrue."

The governor and Dave Shapard, executive secretary of the dry organization, exchanged heated words over Shapard's statement that Turner is "working with the wets, hand in foot," in a scheme to put repeal on the ballot with his $36,000,000 building bond issue.

"That's the second time that guy has jumped on me," Turner came back angrily. "The first time he did it, his board got together right after he popped off and voted me a resolution of appreciation."

Development Of Kansas Wheat Reported 'Very Satisfactory'

TOPEKA, May 17. (AP)—Growth and development of Kansas wheat continued generally in "a very satisfactory" manner during the past week, federal and state departments of agriculture said today.

The departments said there has been "considerable concern" over damage to wheat in a few western counties from a virus disease, western wheat mosaic, and from foot rot.

"As yet the extent of the losses have not been fully determined," the departments said.

Two Long-Time Legion Members Honored By Levelland Post

LEVELLAND, May 17 (Special) —Two long-time members of the William E. Evans American Legion post here were honored at a Legion meeting here Monday night.

The two members, Bob Ford, who has held membership in the post for 25 years, and H. E. Claingan, who has been a member the past 20 years, were awarded membership pins appropriate to their length of membership.

Jack Thomman was in charge of the program. He introduced Sid A. Lowery, member of the Lubbock Legion post.

Sam Blair is outgoing commander of the Levelland post. New officers for the next year include B. R. Carraway, commander; L. A. Robertson, first vice commander; Moon Kester, second vice commander; Hubert Scarborough, third vice commander; Sam Blair, adjutant; Leroy Flinn, finance officer; C. H. TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakening hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began using it and found that was the thing for me. In a few I felt and looked better. I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.
