NEXT THURSDAY IS THANKSGIVING DAY.

In a few days now the people of the United States will follow out the custom of our forefathers in celebrating a day of thanksgiving to the Divine Providence for the many blessings showered on us during the past year, as a nation and as a people.

It was in 1779 that Washington proclaimed the first Thanksgiving, and in this language: "Whereas, it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; and whereas, both Houses of Congress have, by their joint committee, requested me to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public Thanksgiving and Prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness;

"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these United States to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, previous to their becoming a Nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious liberty with which we are now blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and, in general, for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us.

"And, also, that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the Great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or private station, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually; to render our National Government a blessing to all the people, by constantly being a Government of wise, just and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us), and to bless them with good governments, peace and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science, among them and us; and, generally, to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows best."

Mesdames Gay Secor, Hugh Spiller, Misses Flora Mae and Mary Spiller and Roy Spiller left Monday for a visit in San Antonio.

Mrs. J. D. Fisher and son, Bissel, of Dallas, left Wednesday after a visit with D. T. Whittle and family. Miss Stella Whittle accompanied them home and will visit in Dallas for a while.

NATION OBSERVING EDUCATION WEEK.

Following the proclamation of President Coolidge, and the United Co-operation of Clubs, and educational societies over the whole United States, there is a general combined effort to make this week one of great benefit to every man, woman and child in the country and to especially show to those attending schools, or those who are within the school age, the advantages of education.

From the President's proclamation calling on the people to observe the week of November 18-24, as Educational Week, the following is taken:

"Every American citizen is entitled to a liberal education. Without this there is no guarantee for the permanence of free institutions, no hope of perpetuating self-government. Despotism finds its chief support in ignorance. Knowledge and freedom go hand in hand."

"Our country adopted the principle of self-government by a free people. Those who were worthy of being free were worthy of being educated. Those who had the duty and responsibility of government must necessarily have the education with which to discharge the obligations of citizenship."

"The willingness of the people to bear the burdens of maintaining these institutions, and the patriotic devotion of an army of teachers who, in many cases, might have earned larger incomes in other pursuits, have made it possible to accomplish results with which we may well be gratified."

"The night schools of the cities, the moonlight scholastics of the southern Appalachian counties, the extension work of the colleges and universities, the provisions for teaching technical, agricultural and mechanical arts, have marked out the path to a broader and more widely diffused national culture."

BOX SUPPER AT EVERGREEN SCHOOL HOUSE.

As shown by an advertisement elsewhere in this paper, the good people of the Evergreen School community are preparing for a big night on next Wednesday night, the 28th when they are going to render a fine program of music and speaking, and will also have a box supper, the proceeds from the sale of the boxes going to the school for permanent improvements.

The trustees of this school are: J. J. Richardson, M. Huffman and Ed Hunger, and the teacher is Miss Dewey Brown. The teacher, trustees and patrons of this school are alive and are making the necessary and very creditable efforts to make a community center of their school. They have recently made some substantial improvements, an important addition of which is a windmill and tank that supplies an abundance of pure water for the use of the school and they expect to plant trees and shrubbery on the grounds and will irrigate this from the mill.

The proceeds from this box supper will be used to make the school building and grounds more attractive and convenient for the pupils and patrons generally. Everyone is invited to come and are assured of a very enjoyable time.

Miss Vernon Miller of Crawford, Texas, is the house guest of Miss Susie Beasley.

John D. Henderson, who is attending Schreiner Institute, is spending the week with his parents.

A Christmas Story As Aunt Susan Saw Christmas

But nobody answered Aunt Susan, for there was only the canary to hear. Not being interrupted by the canary, a wise little bird who knew Great Aunt Susan's ways, she went on, all to herself, sitting bolt upright among her many lacy pillows in the rich, big bed. "Not much fun going alone, however. Wonder how Jessica or Polly now would like traveling around with a cross old woman. Guess I'll think it over pretty well, though, before I ask either of 'em."

Then silence fell while Great Aunt Susan thought this question over—should she ask one of her great-nieces to see Europe under her care?

The canary, swinging on his perch, began to sing. Had either Jessica or Polly heard what the canary had heard, they would have begun to sing, too. For neither one of these girls had ever been to Europe, or ever traveled at all. And with both it was the fondest dream.

They were cousins, but how different! Jessica lived on Elm street in a fashionable little house with her widowed mother, and went to Miss Fisk's finishing school. Polly lived "way down below Church hill on a street named 'Pearl'." It was a decent enough street, but far from fashionable; and Polly was a sophomore in high school. Her father was a teacher in that same high school, and the smallness of his salary explains the smallness of their little house and its location.

While Great-Aunt Susan was sitting up in bed in her dark old mansion away in the city, thinking about Polly and Jessica, both those girls, strange to say, were thinking quite concentratedly of her, too. For it was only a few days to Christmas and it was their yearly habit to visit this rich, haughty old aunt a Christmas present.

Jessica cried, "Oh, mother, what a bore! Well, I'll go out and get the old thing her present right away and have it over with. But what can I give her, she has so much?"

Jessica's mother answered wisely. "Well, dear, it isn't the gift that will matter to Aunt Susan. It's the thought. She has everything in the world, of course. It's only to let her know you remember her—and so she

"Well, dear, it isn't the gift that will matter."

won't forget you, you know. All our hopes are on her not forgetting us, remember."

"Oh, yes, of course," Jessica pouted.

"But what shall I get her?"

"Why not some beautiful boudoir slippers? She'll probably be sick a long time—if indeed she ever gets better."

NOTES OF PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Why a Parent-Teachers' Association?

To create a purposeful parenthood; one keenly alive to its responsibilities and eager to meet them with high endeavor. To raise the standard of the home.

To offer a means to parents and teachers for acquiring knowledge for the important task of child training.

To raise the standard of the school.

To promote acquaintanceship and understanding between parents and teachers.

To unite them in co-operative efforts for the improvement of conditions in school and community.

To make the child and all the forces which affect his welfare the center of all study and activity.

To recognize the teacher as a trusted friend and the home's strongest ally in instilling the principles of honesty, purity and patriotism.

To form an indissoluble partnership between parents and teachers in the building of character and in training for life's service.

To arouse intelligent interest in civic, industrial and educational questions affecting child-life in community, State and Nation.

The last meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association had the largest attendance and was one of the most interesting ever held here. Come to the meeting Monday, November 26, at 4 o'clock at the school house. If you are not there, you will miss something.

FUNDS FOR SCHOOLS SENT FROM AUSTIN.

Austin, Nov. 17.—Because blanks for making the hundreds of remittances had not been printed promptly, the first payment of the current year's scholastic apportionment was not made until Thursday, November 15, though the $1 per capita was allotted on November 1. All remittances had gone out Friday. Schools will now get their money.

It is problematical whether the school fund will have enough in early December to make another $1 payment, the total of which is $1,200,000. It will have a healthy surplus after all transfers are made, but probably not the total indicated.

State officials can easily send out 50 cents per child, or a total of $650,000, or even 75 cents, but they may decide to wait until an even $1 can be remitted. That is the present plan, particularly since the first payment delayed fifteen days. Then, too it saves much calculation and bookkeeping.

POLO TEAM TO BE ORGANIZED HERE.

A good deal of talk about organizing a polo team at Junction is going the rounds now and it is likely that within the next few days a number of the local athletic enthusiasts who are also good horsemen, will have a team organized and will begin practicing.

The Watson Divide boys have had a team for more than a year and have played a number of match games, besides having a great deal of amusement out of their community games. Some of the players from there will likely teach the local members the game and then there can be match games between the two arranged for.

Mrs. Phillip Joseph was a visitor in San Antonio the first of the week.

MAIL YOUR CHRISTMAS PARCELS EARLY

The mailing of hundreds of extra packages at this season entails a great strain on the postal employees and the postal transportation agencies. The fact that the mail is sent out of this postoffice by motor car, should be another good reason why people should mail their packages early, as this will greatly aid the carriers and will insure your package reaching its destination promptly.

You can mark the packages with "Don't Open Until Christmas," or some similar request.

Only six weeks until Christmas and it's not a bit too early to begin mailing your Christmas packages. Early mailing insures prompt delivery for it distributes the heavy volume of work over a longer period and prevents congestion in the mails.

All parcels going to persons in foreign countries should be mailed within the next two weeks to insure their delivery in time for Christmas.

Everyone wants prompt delivery of all Christmas parcels, and the patrons of the postoffice—the great medium of delivery—are urged to realize that unless they co-operate in the campaign for early mailing, the enormous congestion of mail the last few days before Christmas, makes prompt Christmas deliveries much more difficult. A great improvement in early mailing has been made in the last few years, and this help on the part of the public is much appreciated by the postoffice department and its employees.

A few pointers to be observed in preparing your parcels for mailing are:

Wrap them securely; pack articles securely in strong durable containers.

Address them plainly and completely, giving the street address, wherever possible.

Place sender's name and address in the upper left hand corner of the parcel.

Do not enclose letters with parcels; that makes the parcel subject to first class rate.

Writing of Merry Christmas and similar greeting is permissible with fourth-class mail matter, parcel post.

Do not seal your packages, as that, also, subjects them to the first class rate.

Place your Christmas seals on the pack of parcels, where they may not be mistaken for postage stamps.

Parcels may be marked: "Do not open until Christmas."

Prepay postage fully on all matter.

In choosing Christmas cards, do not select off sizes and shapes as the stamps on them miss the canceling mark on the canceling machine, necessitating the off-size cards being hand-stamped—thus making double work.

The Editor of this sheet spent the week-end in Dublin with his parents. On returning to Menard and making every effort to find some car or truck that was coming to Junction, we found that Monday was one of those rare days when not a single truck or car seemed to be coming this way. Ed Mears found us wandering around on the streets of Menard and out the kindness of his heart, probably fearing that we might get lost, tendered his trusty Ford and Lee Bouie agreed to drive us this way until Lawrence Johnson could meet us. This kindness on the part of Mr. Mears and the two boys was very great ly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buckner of San Marcos spent the week-end at the Beasley ranch, guests of Mrs. Buckner's parents.

TURKEY RECEIPTS ARE VERY HEAVY.

Dallas, Nov. 17.—Arather unexpected drop in turkey prices occurred in the Dallas market today when buyers for the dressing establishments announced they would pay only 20 cents a pound for the birds, live weight. Prices on Tuesday and Wednesday had been around 24 and 25 cents per pound.

Very heavy movements of turkeys all over the State were reported on Wednesday and this fact, with a little weaker market in the Northern and Eastern centers, was said to have caused the decline. Carlot shipments of dressed turkeys are going forward rapidly by freight this week, and there will be considerable shipments by express next week, it is expected.

Hens are at about the lowest price of the season, the Dallas buyers offering only 12 and 13 cents a pound for hens, Thursday, a decline of 1 cent from

NEW IRRIGATION PROJECT ON COLORADO.

A new irrigation project is about to be launched on the Colorado River below Ballinger, says the Ballinger Ledger. The work is to be started immediately on surveying the proposed dam site near the junction of the Colorado and Concho Rivers. Surveyors are already in the field and topographic work will soon be under way.

The Ledger says: "Charles E. Reick, topographic engineer of the United States Geological Survey of Washington, D. C., has established headquarters in Ballinger and with two assistants, Holman C. West and Robert S. Maxwell, will begin a preliminary survey of the project at once."

"This project is to be a unit of the elaborate system of dam sites now under consideration by the State Board of Water Engineers of Texas, and a part of the program for water conservation."

TWO RECORD DAYS FOR TURKEYS IN BRADY.

Brady Sentinel:

Monday and Tuesday were banner turkey days in Brady. There has never been staged in Brady, a "Turkey Trot," in the Cuero style but we doubt if the famous turkey town ever put on a show that would have excelled ours if the turkeys had been turned loose in town Tuesday. In fact, we doubt if there would have been room in town for the fowls, especially while the carnival is here, for they were double-decked and stacked coops upon coops, in all kinds of vehicles, wagons and trucks, parked in several streets and some loads had to wait until others were unloaded and move on before they could find room to come in town.

We were unable to get any data on the number, as all the dealers with all the available help that could be found, were kept so busy they had no time to be interviewed.

The turkey industry is rapidly becoming more enormous each year until Brady is becoming one of the greatest turkey markets in the country. Although the market has not reached the high point that it did at this season a year ago, still the price has been fair and there is said to be good money in them at the present prices.

We like a story that was very popular with the Army in France. It was the tale of a negro who was beating it for the back areas as fast as he could go, when he was stopped by a white officer.

"Don't delay me, suh," said the negro. "Ise gotta be on my way."

"Boy," replied the officer, "do you know who I am? I'm the general."

"Go on, white man, you ain't no general."

"I certainly am," insisted the officer, angrily.

"Lordy!" exclaimed the negro, taking a second look. "You sure is! I musta been travelin' some, 'cause I didn't think I'd got back that far yit."—Ottawa Evening Citizen.

PREVENTIVE FOR "LOIN" DISEASE IS FOUND.

College Station, Nov. 17.—Conferences here between Sir Arnold Theiler, noted British veterinarian, and Dr. N. Schmit veterinarian of the experiment Station at the college, have led to an agreement between them and J. E. Boog-Scott, chairman of the State Livestock Sanitary Commission, and the association of their scientists of the college who have participated in the conferences, that the South African disease of cattle known as "lamsickte," and for which Sir Arnold has discovered a cure, is identical with the "down in the back" or "loin" disease prevalent in Southern Texas and which has killed thousands of cattle in recent years and effectively baffled all the attempts of scientists to overcome.

Dr. Schmit has been in charge of the work at the experiment station in research on the disease and from information which he was able to obtain about the African disease he calculated its identity but he was not able to obtain full information about curative methods until the arrival of Sir Arnold, who is responsible for the discoveries on lamsickte.

But most important is the nature of the cure. In its broadest aspect the problem is simply one of malnutrition, or the absence of phosphorus from the diet. It has led the animals in the pastures to eat of dead carcasses which furnished a toxin, which caused complete paralysis. Mortality among stricken animals has been practically 100 per cent. There are two methods of prevention: removal of carcasses from the pasture or administration of three ounces of bone meal to each stricken animal.

Of course both steps will be followed by cattlemen. But in the discovery of the bone meal diet rests the important thing for the cattlemen. At the price of $60 a ton a dose of three ounces of bone meal for one year will represent a cost of $1.80, and by experiments conducted by Sir Arnold it will give the animal a gain of about 180 pounds a year over the animal that has pasture alone for feed. Sir Arnold left with a committee from the A. & M. College for Houston, where he will lecture to the cattlemen and veterinarians of that district.

ALIEN LAND LAW DECLARED VALID.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The alien land laws of California and Washington, prohibiting aliens ineligible to citizenship from owning or leasing land, were declared valid and constitutional recently by the Supreme Court.

Justice Butler delivered the opinion, which held that the question was one entitled to be considered under the equity power of the Supreme Court and be disposed of on its merits.

Justices McReynolds and Brandies took the position that the cases regarding the leasing of land to Japanese should have been dismissed on the ground that no justiciable question was presented. Justice Sutherland took no part in either of the two cases covered by the decision.

Justice Butler asserted it was clearly within the power of a State to prohibit aliens who had not declared their purpose to become citizens, or who cannot become citizens, from owning land. He held also, that such legislation was not repugnant to the agreement made by this Government with Japan.

Two cases in which the court delivered its opinion were brought by W. L. Porterfield and Y. Mizuno, against State officials of California, and the other by Frank Terrace, his wife and N. Nakatsuka, against the State officials of Washington. The decision did not cover two other cases pending involving the right of aliens to own stock in a land-owning corporation and the contract rights of aliens in crops produced on leased land.

DALLAS MAYOR ASKS PROHIBITION CHANGE.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Nov. 17.—The prohibition amendment should be amended, not to permit the sale of beer and light wines, but to permit the Government sale of whiskey in limited quantities to those who need it, Mayor Louis Blaylock of Dallas said Friday in a short talk to the members of the Texas Editorial Association, which began the second day of its convention here Friday.

Mayor Blaylock said that he had always been a prohibitionist and that he had worked for prohibition, but that he believed that the pendulum swung too far and that some correction in the Volstead act should be made. "Prohibition will never be a success in its present form," the Mayor added, "in the States which did not have prohibition before the passage of the Federal amendment."

Only a brief session was held Friday morning, the majority of the members having been the guests of Howard Wells, chief deputy fish and game commissioner, on a fishing trip early Friday morning, returning to Corpus Christi at about 9 o'clock. The party was taken to the fishing grounds on two motor cruisers owned by the commissioner.

BOGEL PICKED AS AUDITOR PRISON BOARD.

Kerrville Mountain Sun:

Austin, Nov. 13.—M. E. Bogel of Austin Tuesday was selected as auditor of the State Prison Board and will succeed G. H. Folbre. The selection was made by a board consisting of the Governor, Attorney General and State Treasurer.

Bogel has been for some time a Deputy State Game Warden stationed at Kerrville and was formerly an auditor for the Government in the Panama Canal Zone.

No official notification of his selection had been received by Mr. Bogel at a late hour Wednesday, but it is thought he will accept the appointment. While the people of Kerrville and the Hill Country will regret to lose Mr. Bogel and his estimable family as citizens of this section, and the Game Department losing a zealous guardian of wild game, yet the best wishes of all will go with him to his new post.

"That's an idea—boudoir slippers.
You are clever, mummy." And Jessica ran off to her Christmas shopping for Great-Aunt Susan.

In the little brown house on Pearl street the same question was being asked and answered.

"Poor old thing!" Polly cried.
"What's it to her if she is so rich and all that! She's not got a soul to love her, and it's almost Christmas. Imagine Christmas without love! Well, I can't spend over fifty cents, even though I am so sorry for her. I gave a whole dollar to the Girl Scouts, and after Christmas I won't have a cent of allowance left."

"Well, get something cheerful whatever you do," Polly's mother exclaimed.
"Nothing to remind her that she's an invalid, I'd say. It's the thought, not the gift that counts."

But though this last was what Jes-sica's mother had said, the motive was entirely different. Polly's mother was not practical-minded like Jessica's.
She was just a simple, kind-hearted woman.

So Polly ran away to Christmas shop for Great-Aunt Susan.

Home Christmas day. And Great-
Aunt Susan was sleeping her word

She was "showing 'em." She had begun with her servants. They were the only ones to observe the fact that she was up and dressed and downstairs for Christmas dinner. There all in her grim solitude, she surveyed her presents. There were dozens and dozens of them. A table heaped and running over with parcels from all her helpful relatives. She smiled a trifle wryly.

She came to her great-nieces' presents the very last of all. They happened to be lying together at the bottom of the pile. A footman was at her hand ready to help with the strings and the unfolding of paper. But now Aunt Susan waved her away. "I'll undo these myself," she said. In her hardened old heart there had always been a spark of affection for these two young nieces whom she had not seen since they were children. She would like to undo their presents with her own hands—to get the personal favor.

Jessica's came first. Off she tore the brown paper wrappings with its postmarks and address. Out rolled a white paper parcel tied with everyday white string. The white paper was rather wrinkled and certainly slightly soiled. Aunt Susan slipped the string. Into her lap rolled a pair of soft gray silken boudoir slippers.

"Then Came a Little White Box, and in the Box, a Compass."

hand embroidered with lavender flowers and edged and lined with soft gray fur.

Lying in the heel of one of them was a calling card—Jessica's. The surname was crossed out, of course, and scrawled in a careless, artistic hand at the top was written, "Merry Christmas."

"Well, it's certainly a generous gift," thought Great-Aunt Susan. "For I know they're not any too well off, even if they do manage to keep up appearances. And very appropriate, too—for an invalid."

She turned to the other parcel.

Under the brown wrapping she found a neat square of white paper tied with silver Christmas cord. Beneath that lay tissue. This tissue square was tied with bright holiday ribbon and sealed with Christmas seals. Then came a little white box. And in the box a compass! On the box was written in careful script, script easy for sick, old eyes to read,
"For your travels, dear Aunt Susan!
Your affectionate niece—Polly."

"Humph!" said Great-Aunt Susan.
But after a minute her eyes twinkled and her cheeks grew pinker. "That girl's got sense—and Christmas spirit, too," she added.

That night she wrote a long letter to Polly, a letter all about a journey she wanted her to go on with her old sunt just as soon as she had finished with high school. And the day after Christmas Polly in the little brown house on Pearl street was caroling as gayly as the canary in the fine mansion in the city. For her dream of dreams had come true. "Europe, Europe, Europe!" she trilled.

But suddenly she stopped to ask her mother. "Why, oh why did she choose me?" But Polly's mother couldn't answer that. "Old ladies just take notions, I guess," she said.

"Jack's got a new siren for his car."

"Really. What became of the blonde one?"—London Mail.

WHY A KU KLUX KLAN?

Albany News:

We keep on hearing folks say on the streets of Albany that we are going to have a Ku Klux parade. We wonder why? Are we bad folks? Is the jail full of bad birds? Is the court docket crowded with criminal matter? Why the other day when the grand jury met it was in session less than a day and only two bills turned in. Have we any gambling houses here? Have we any chippy joints and bootlegging joints? Is this Red Russia, and has grand old Shackelford county gone to the bad? Why yes, a town of churches and Sunday schools, law and order prevails and why should we organize a Ku Klux Klan? One of our friends said to us, and by the way, he is a Ku Klux, why he says, "Dick, it is a religious and moral organization." Then has Jesus Christ, God and the church failed? Is it possible that the hooded Klan is going to supplant the church and lead the nation to God? If you think that the Ku Klux Klan is in partnership with God in saving men and governments, just look around you; do you read the daily papers and behold the picture on the screen? Mob law and mob violence, hooded klans, blacksnake whips and wet ropes and tar buckets, martial law in the land, and don't you hear the tramp of the army? Look yonder at the Texas Rangers, booted and spurred, done away with civil law and State troops are sticking their noses into the affairs of folks. O, yes, a great organization. Look out yonder at Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Somerville and Goose Creek, yes the Texas Rangers have been called upon to unearth crime and run criminals down; sheriffs and deputies and police have been indicted as members of this great religious organization, O, no; the Klan don't whip folks, and yet down there at Goose Creek twenty odd Klansmen came into court and pleaded guilty of being members of this great religious organization and they also pleaded guilty to being participant criminals in the whipping of folks out there at Goose Creek, and promised the court that they would not do it any more. And over there in Abilene, when that poor hard-working negro was shot to death in his room away along in the dead hours of the night, and the grand jury report said he came to his death by gunshots by unknown parties, wearing regalia like that of the Ku Klux Klan, and in a civilized community with its great Christian schools, the Athens of Texas, noted for its culture and splendid citizenship, and yet a murder was committed in this town for which an indictment could not be found. Yes, a religious and moral institution, starting out to reform the world and bring sinners to repentance. Show us a town where this organization is strong, and I will show you a town all torn to pieces, strife and dissention in schools and churches and business circles, and some of the business men going ten and fifteen miles to do their banking business in another town. Then again, we ask the question: "Why a Ku Klux Klan in Albany?" Yes, a model community, our schools, churches and business folks are a unit on everything for the up-building of our town, and why sow the seeds of dissension and the whirlwind of passion? why, one fellow said to us, "Dick, I know one or two cases that ought to be attended to." O, yes, convict them on hearsay evidence; that's ku kluxism in its purity. In every community that ever existed on earth; it started down there in the Garden of Eden, and for all these thousands of years, dirty, filthy things will happen and it's going to continue to happen just so long as God gives men and women these propensities and the passions, the fire will burn and the law of chastity will be violated, but let us say to you who favor the mob to rectify and correct same, any violation of the law that the regular constituted authorities of a municipality cannot teach and suppress, is not so very bad and same will not spread very far until the culprits are overtaken in their bad acts, and justice meted out to the guilty parties. Yes, law and the crystallization of human sentiment is the only remedy for the suppression of crime and the stabilizing of governments and communities and for God's sake, people, not the hooded mob, with its unrestrained passion of night time. Then my dear folks in Albany, one of the best communities in the world—Why a Ku Klux Klan?

LATTIMORE HEADS TEXAS BAPTISTS.

Galveston, Nov. 15.—Judge O. S. Lattimore of Austin was elected president of the Texas Baptist General Convention, succeeding Dr. J. D. Standifer of Abilene, at the opening of the annual convention here today.

Lattimore's election was made unanimous. The vice presidents elected were: the Rev. J. E. Winfree of Houston; the Rev. E. F. Adams of Galveston; and the Rev. E. F. Lyon, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Angelo, Texas.

Election to office by the convention is considered quite an honor, inasmuch as the Texas Baptist gathering is one of the largest religious gatherings in the South.

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. Bessie Bearden, of Central, S. C. "I would suffer, when I stood on my feet, with beating-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of and I then remembered my mother used to take it. After the first bottle I was better. I began to freshen up and I regained my strength and good healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles of Cardui and haven't had a bit of trouble since."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need.

THE DEPENDABLE MAN.

There is a type of man who is built for success. He may have genius of just ordinary talent—no matter. The point is that he always "arrives" while others plod a weary way, he gets ahead.

Those who take note of his progress often cannot account for it. So they say he is "lucky." Or they whisper it about that he has a "pull" with the "boss." But the secret is deeper than that. He is a man who is absolutely dependable.

Make yourself dependable, and you come as near being indispensable as any of us can hope to be. You will be the last one your employer will wish to part with, and the first one that he will want to promote to greater responsibilities.

But do not be deceived. Dependableness is a rare accomplishment—so rare that every executive is on the lookout for it wherever it may be found. It cannot be acquired by wishing for it. It is the prize that comes from self-mastery.

What is a dependable man? You can tell him by these earmarks:

First, he is one that you can rely upon to do his own thinking. Business requires thinking, and some one must do it. The dependable man never side-steps his share nor tries to pass it along to someone else. You always find him on the alert. His brains do not flit away on vacations, leaving his job without a guardian.

Next, he is one whose judgment you can trust. He does not do foolish things. He knows his own abilities; and, not being conceited, he is equally aware of his own weaknesses. He has the happy faculty of understanding other people's viewpoints and of seeking their advice when he ought. Also he knows when to act on his own initiative.

Finally, he is a man you can listen to, taking stock in what ever he says. You are sure that he speaks only after due reflection. He does not talk to the galleries or for the purpose of "grinding his own ax." He makes his suggestions and pleads his cause solely in the interest of the business.

Such a man is safe. Important duties may be entrusted to him and he will handle them with diligence, good sense and earnestness.

If you are looking for the quickest route to opportunity, learn to be this type of man.

Be dependable—a burden lifter. By lightening the anxieties of those who must give account for your doings, you will make yourself their favorite. And they will help you achieve your ambitions.—J. Ogden Armour.

WEEKS FAVORS SOLDIERS FOR TEXAS BORDER.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Discussing proposals as to the retention of American military forces on the Mexican border, Secretary Weeks said Friday there had been a gradual reduction in the border forces and future reductions depended upon circumstances.

One of the circumstances to be considered, he said, was the greater expense of maintaining troops on the border as compared to other sections of the country. For that reason, he added, one fort in New Mexico and one in the Big Bend country of Texas recently had been ordered abandoned.

It has not yet been decided how many troops will be kept on duty on the border on a permanent basis, nor how many of the wartime fortifications would be dispensed with. One proposal calls for withdrawals of a majority of the troops and the creation of a situation similar to that existing between the United States and Canada. Weeks is understood, however, to believe the time has yet to come for such an arrangement.

GOLD AND PLATINUM BE SOUGHT NEAR LLANO.

A $500,000 corporation has been organized at Llano for the purpose of developing the gold and platinum mine located five miles from that place. This mine has been idle for the last fifteen years because of financial troubles, but it will now be worked under the name of the Llano Gold and Rare Metal Co.

In the past, thousands of dollars have been spent in developing this mine. In a communication to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which organization is much interested in the development of the property, it is asserted that the plant is of fifty ton capacity, and the ore may be easily reached, as the outcroppings are numerous.

There are about 220 acres of mineral land available for the plant. Quite a number of miners will be employed.

DINNER PARTY.

Tuesday evening Miss Vernon Miller of Crawford, Texas, was honored at a dinner party given by Miss Elsie Mathis at the home of Mrs. Turk Kendrick.

The dining room was decorated with graceful streamers of vari-colored crepe paper. Each of the three tables were laid with a snowy cloth and center piece of roses in cut glass vases. The following menu was served: Fruit cocktail, baked turkey with dressing, cranberry jelly, stuffed olives, sandwiches, potatoes, English peas, lemon pie with whipped cream and coffee. After the dinner hour the time was spent in playing cards.

Those present were: Misses Vernon Miller, Susie Beasley, Modelle Jones, Clara Fritz, Marguerite Wright, Emma Mae Hodges, Elsie Mathis, and Clifford Hamer, Arthur Allen, Garland Newby, Pierce Hoggett, Alton Miller, and Roland Martin.

SHOWER.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. John Hankins and Misses Lois and Blix Hankins gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Kittrell Durst, a bride of last week. In the center of the living room, a white linen umbrella was suspended from the ceiling, while from this umbrella swung miniature pink paper parasols. A basket overflowing with gifts was presented to the honoree, who received them most graciously. Pink ice cream and cake were served to the guests and the tiny parasols were given as favors.

DANCE.

Miss Susie Beasley complimented her guest, Miss Vernon Miller, of Crawford, with a dance at the Roy Williams ranch last Saturday evening. The young folks danced until a late hour, when delicious fruit salad, topped with whipped cream and garnished with cherries and chicken sandwiches, cake and hot tea were served. PARTY.

Last Friday evening the members of the Methodist Sunday School enjoyed a backwards party at the church. The guests wore their coats buttoned in the back and walked backwards. Numerous stunts were enacted, which added to the hilarity of the occasion. Among the stunts which were especially well appreciated was a fake operation with Mr. Fred Knetsch and the supposed victim, and a suit case race. Apples were passed to the guests and another good time added to the history of the Junction Methodist Church.

MERRY WIVES CLUB.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Weaver H. Baker entertained the Merry Wives Club. White chrysanthemums were used in the living room for decorations. The attractive tallies were decorated in diamonds and spades.

After several games of bridge the prize, a hand painted potato masher, was awarded to Mrs. Eli Baker, while Mrs. J. C. Beddingfield won the booby, a tiny hand painted potato masher. Chocolate pie with whipped cream was served.

Beautiful white chrysanthemums were used as plate favors.

RAGSDALE-GOODALL.

Robert Ragsdale and Miss Eva Goodall were quietly married at the Methodist parsonage here Saturday morning by Rev. R. E. Parker.

They had started to London to see the ball game between London and Roosevelt, when they surprised their friends by getting married.

Both are highly respected and popular young people of the Roosevelt community and their many friends there wish for them much happiness.

"Just fancy, old 'Arry tykin' to 'bargain'! An' 'im 'avin' a good woman to work for 'im."—London Opinion.
