Monday night 32 of our beloved local Seniors will walk across the stage of the school auditorium to receive diplomas, a citation for 12 long years of school work. With this diploma in hand, they will continue their way down the other side of the stage and thus into a new life, instantaneously becoming Springlake Exes.

Seniors, graduation night, the big night, so to speak, is the Alpha and Omega in the lives of you young men and young ladies, for it marks the beginning of a new life and the end of a somewhat carefree family life here-to-fore characterized by few responsibilities of paramount grandeur.

This is indeed a milestone in your lives, a place of importance. Not a place to stop. Not a place to throw up your hands and quit. But rather instead, a place to pause slightly, take a good look at the bigness of the world around you, then ask yourselves this question, "How do I carve my mark in this world, what shall my life be?" The decision is yours to make. You must decide if you want to be good or bad, to fill your life with hate or love, to live for self or for service, to make the world better or worse, to count for something or to count for nothing.

This decision can be your "Hour of Glory" if made in wisdom, or can thus be your utter defeat if you choose to be careless with your life. Remember, God gave you this life, and he built for you and I this wonderful big world in which to live, and he also promised we would never be alone if we would but seek His love. So as you go out into this big world, go with God. Go with faith. Faith that He will help you through every hardship, and thankfulness in your hearts that He has equipped you with everything you need to be successful. Everything that He gave the "greats" in past history, He likewise gave you. So, it's up to you now Seniors, to carry the ball. With this in mind, may I pass the following to you...

"EQUIPMENT"
By: Edgar Guest

Figure it out for yourself, my lad, you've all the greatest of men have had.

Two arms, two hands, two legs, two eyes, and a brain to use, if you would be wise. With this equipment they all began, so start for the top and say, "I Can."

Look them over, the wise, the great; They take their food from a common plate.

And similar knives and forks they use, with similar laces they tie their shoes.

The world considers them brave and smart, But you've all they had when they made their start.

You can triumph and come to skill, You can be great if you only will.

You're well equipped for that fight you choose. You have legs and arms and a brain to use.

And the Man who has arisen great deeds to do, Began his life with no more than you.

You are the handicap you must face, You are the one who must choose your place.

You must say where you want to grow, How much you will study the truth to know.

God has equipped you for life, but He, Lets you decide what you want to be.

Courage must come from the soul within. The man must furnish the will to win.

So figure it out for yourself, my lad, You were born with all the great have had.

With your equipment they all began, Get hold of yourself and say, "I Can."

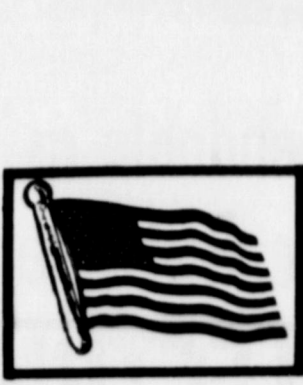

And... If you think you can, Seniors... You can... Just remember, "Everyday Something is Being Done That Couldn't Be Done."

And as you leave this community where you are so loved, remember you are our pride and joy, our sons and our daughters, and with each of you go our sincere prayer that God will guide your footsteps to success, contentment and happiness, and in the end to life eternal where the streets will be paved of Gold.

WHERE DO WE STOP?

Never in the history of the world has any nation shown so vast a generosity to others as has the United States in the post-war era. Friends, former enemies, and so-called neutrals have all benefited on an almost unimaginable scale. Billions have followed billions in a massive effort to shore-up and build the economies of much of the world, and most particularly Europe. But now, it is very clear, a most significant change is taking place. A disenchantment with the long-standing aid programs is setting in. And among the disenchanted are many people, including those in high position within the government who have been enthusiastic and dedicated supporters of the Marshall Plan and those which followed.

The reasons behind this change are detailed in a U. S. News & World Report article which bears the telling title "Where U. S. Patience Is Wearing Thin." A subhead adds: "Idea is spreading abroad that U. S. is getting fed up with being everybody's caretaker. Allies--often critical--are worried now that America may be falling out of love with them."

There obviously is good reason for that worry. As U. S. News shows, the causes behind it are several and varied. For one thing, this country has plenty of troubles of its own on hand, ranging from war in Viet Nam, which even optimists think may go on for years without a decision, to the balance of payments problem. Everywhere we look there are clouds on the horizon--in the Soviet Union, Red China, Egypt, and Cuba. And, says the magazine, American officials find that the European allies we have helped so greatly are in numbers of instances, taking "...some kind of pleasure in adding to American problems. France, whom we did so much to save in two wars, is a prime example. And even Britain has proved a pretty flimsy sort of ally at crucial times."

Turning to another area, Europe has been making a spectacular economic recovery, and American leaders believe it is time she started carrying a fairer share of world burdens. In some important economic areas, indeed, Europe is doing better than we are. U. S. News points out that in the last 10 years, business growth has been 129 percent in West Europe as against 71 percent here. Ten years ago, we held 2 1/2 times as much gold as West Europe--now she has more than we, and our stocks are still going down at a serious rate. Even in auto production, one of the most significant of the business barometers, she is overtaking us. In the 10 year period, our auto output increased 96 percent--hers 279 percent.

There is still more, as the magazine assesses the situation. European nations have failed to keep NATO commitments. Movements are afoot to build tariff walls against American products. And European nations are trading more and more with the communist powers--including North Viet Nam. U. S. News says that "An estimated 200 free-world ships put into the Communist port of Hanoi last year alone."

So the troubles mount--military, economic, and political. This certainly does not mean that the U. S. is going to abruptly turn isolationist and show its back to Europe. But it does mean that the aid programs are going to come in for more and more scrutiny, more and more second thoughts. And it means also that the pressures on Europe to carry more of the load will increase.

AFFLUENCE AND POVERTY

A good many people doubt that the government's war on poverty will produce the hoped-for result. Time will tell as to that. But one thing is sure. It is producing a high degree of affluence for a considerable number of federal jobholders.

This has raised the dander of Senator Simpson of Wyo. He points out that the Office of Economic Opportunity, which is the "poverty office" will have a Director at $30,000 a year; a Deputy Director at $28,500; three assistants at $27,000; nine other assistants at $24,500; eleven more at $21,445; and another twenty at $18,585 each. In his words, "National poverty headquarters plans a staff of 1050 as a starter which makes it appear that the war takes the form of mass Federal employment at sky-high wages." The Senator plans to join with other Senators in an effort to place curbs on the salaries.

Whatever happens to this effort, it is apparent that another elite bureaucracy, whose ultimate size and cost is as yet unknown, is in the process of creation.

After sorghum has emerged, spray Atrazine to control weeds and grasses.

The idea is to spray Atrazine 80W herbicide right after sorghum has emerged, but before weeds are 1 1/2 inches high. This one application, moved to the weed root zone by rainfall, will control most annual broad-leaf weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season.

Control of weeds and grasses in sorghum with Atrazine can greatly reduce the need for cultivating. And so your crop goes through the entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients.

The results of weed control in sorghum are higher yields and lower production costs. And you can now graze or feed forage to livestock from treated sorghum fields 60 days after Atrazine application.

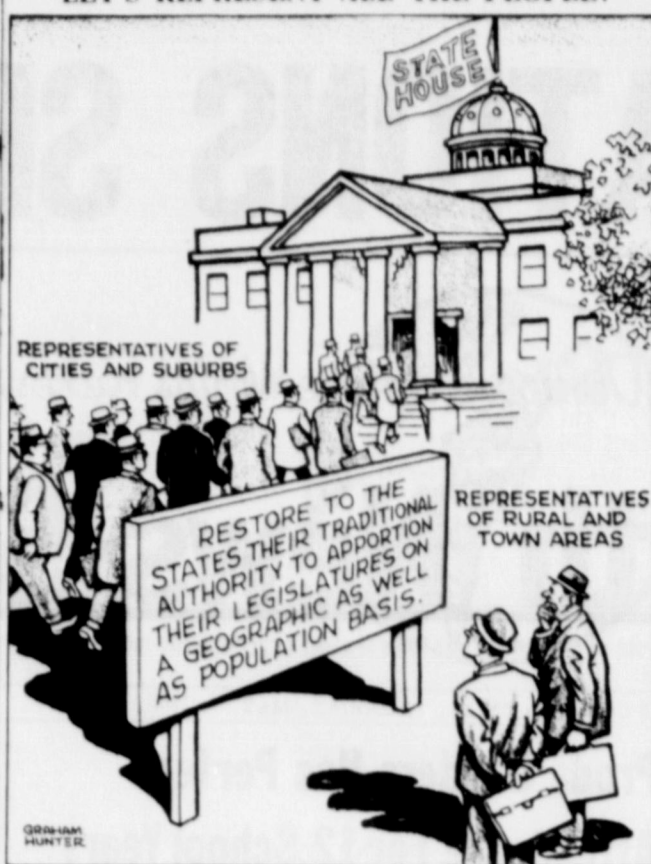

Contact your local supplier now for Atrazine 80W herbicide.

CREATORS OF CHEMICALS FOR MODERN AGRICULTURE

LET'S REPRESENT ALL THE PEOPLE!

RESTORE STATE AUTHORITY

This country has many diverse geographical, economic, and social interests--a fact so obvious that it seems inescapable. Yet it was ignored by the Supreme Court when it held that seats in both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned solely on a population basis.

The problems of a rural farming area are hardly the same as those of the big city. Does the lumberman, the miner, the fisherman fall into the same category, or can all of us be lumped together with the city subway riders and apartment dwellers?

The ever-changing problems can never be solved through the questionable assumption that sparsely settled parts of a state have less at stake than densely populated areas. If state legislatures are compelled to be constituted on a "population only" basis, this could result in gross discrimination against lesser populated districts.

In a truly representative government one house--if so decided by its citizens--should represent all the elements of a state and should not be forced into drawing its membership chiefly from the densely populated areas.

Therefore, we believe that strong support should be given to the proposal before Congress to restore to the states their traditional authority to apportion their legislatures on a basis reflecting geographic as well as population factors.

If we are to maintain our republican form of government in its truest application, the "population only" theory must be cast aside.

Beef Grades In Effect June 1

Revised U. S. Department of Agriculture beef grading standards will go into effect June 1.

The new standards will leave the Prime, Choice, Good and Standard classifications unchanged, but will reduce marbling requirements for beef in those grades, depending on grade and degree of maturity. The marbling reduction angle will not materially affect the requirement for young cattle.

Frank Orts, Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialist at A&M University, says research has shown that too great an increase in marbling has been required to offset increased maturity in cattle 18-30 months of age.

Under the revised standards, marbling requirements have been reduced almost one full degree from "Moderate" to

PCG Hosts American Cotton Congress May 28

"Reducing the Cost of Cotton Production" is the theme selected for the 26th annual session of the American Cotton Congress which opens at 9:30 a. m. Friday, May 28 in the Koko Palace, Lubbock. Hosting the one day affair is Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., cotton producer organization which represents 23 High Plains counties surrounding Lubbock, and PCG is urging all area farmers to attend.

First topic for the morning session will be titled "Textile Mill Views on Need for Cutting Cotton Costs," given by E. W. Webb, Director of Cotton Service Corporation, a Dallas-based division of Hanes Corporation. He will be followed on the program by Claude Welch, Division of Production and Marketing, National Cotton Council, who will speak on "National Research for Cotton with Emphasis on Cost Reduction." Jasper E. Jernigan, Agronomist with the Federal Extension Service, will speak on "Specialized Extension Education Program with Emphasis on Cost Reduction," followed by a question and answer period.

Chairman of the morning meeting will be Dr. Gerald Thomas, Dean of Agriculture at Texas Technological College; welcome address will be given by Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, and Burris Jackson, Chairman of the American Cotton Congress, will deliver the keynote address.

A free lunch will be served at noon, joint courtesy of Plains Cotton Growers and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, with Frank Lowenstein, noted USDA Economist as the luncheon speaker. Lowenstein will be introduced by Rusty Rhodes.

"Modest" for carcasses from animals about 28-30 months old. Progressively smaller reductions have been made for carcasses from younger cattle.

The revised standards will also reduce the number of maturity groups from three to two in the above-mentioned grades and eliminate the consideration of the two degrees of marbling in excess of abundant, "the specialist says."

He added that the revision also requires that all beef carcasses offered for grading be "ribbed" to expose the ribeye muscle for marbling determination. A carcass is ribbed by separating the fore and hind-quarter between the 12th and 13th rib.

The new cutability standards, which are included in the revised standards, are available on an optional basis for the first time. Packers are not compelled to use the system.

Magazine. Those in attendance will then hear an outline of "Plans for Cotton Cost Reduction in Texas" by Billy Gunter, District Agent, Lubbock. And closing out the annual event will be a panel discussion of "Farmer Views on Cotton Cost Reduction," with John Seibert, Area Farm Management Specialist of Lubbock serving as moderator. Three area farmers will be included on the panel.

According to Johnson, "Current conditions in the cotton industry make it imperative that every known means of cutting the cost of producing cotton be utilized, and producers in attendance should come away with some good ideas."

Yesterday's Small Fry-Today's Seniors

No. 1 "Shedding Sunlight Along the Way."

This little lad looks as though he would have brought happiness and sunlight into every room he entered, with his joyful smile and twinkling eyes. Today, though he is a grown young man who will graduate with his class Monday night, he still continues to be a source of happiness, and joy to those who have shared his school days throughout the 12 years he has attended Springlake School.

He loves sports, but best of all he enjoys football and has played many a long, hard game for dear ole Springlake High.

His favorite hobby is water skiing, and he tries to find time to slip away frequently to enjoy a day of skiing.

He reads many books, partly because he enjoys reading and partly because he has a desire for knowledge. His favorite author is Ian Fleming.

He spends many quiet evenings at home, watching TV, his favorite program being "Twelve O'Clock High."

At the movies he goes for Rock Hudson and Shirley McLaine.

He has two great loves in life, one is food, while the other is music, and he can put away as much food daily as the jolly ole green giant can possibly preserve in his many canneries throughout the land.

His favorite food is broiled steak with all the trimmings. His ear for music reaches its peak of enjoyment when he hears the Beach Boys do "Your Summer Dream."

His favorite color is light blue.

For identification, turn to page 6.

Senior Day, 1965, A Day To Remember

Senior Day, 1965, was a day to remember! Early Friday morning, May 14, Seniors, their class parents and class sponsors went to Lubbock for a day of activity.

First, the group bowled, fol-

No. 2 "Inquisitive"

This young fellow looks as though he's wondering just what to do next. However, today, a grown up young man, a member of the local graduating class, he has the answers. He knows what he wants to do next, and that is to attend East Central State College in Ada, Oklahoma, finally becoming an IBM Machinist.

His great love in life is football, and next best he enjoys a hobby of collecting music albums.

When he settles down to read he selects books written by Ian Fleming, his favorite author.

He likes movies, and enjoys he-man John Wayne and beautiful and talented, Ann Margaret, best of all.

He can spend many long leisure hours listening to his many albums, but rating #1 of them all is "Red Roses For A Blue Lady," and wouldn't you know it, his favorite color is "red."

He is a typical red blooded American youth who enjoys all kinds of food, but most of all he enjoys a plate piled high with steaming Mexican food, served while he's propped up comfortably before TV watching "Twelve O'Clock High", his favorite TV program.

His ideal girl is Beth Dent and the ideal boy is Rocky Cain.

For correct identification, turn to page 6.

Followed by miniature golf and skating.

Lunch was enjoyed at the bowling restaurant.

The Seniors and adults toured the Tech Campus. Later they visited Dwayne Parish, who is a patient at the Taylor Hospital and Clinic. They took him souvenirs, as he was the only senior who was unable to attend. The only casualty of the day was Alene Powell, who injured her arm while skating. Mrs. McCaskill accompanied her to the doctor.

The group enjoyed dinner at Lester's Hickory Inn. The dining room was reserved for them. They were served filets and T-bones, with all the trimmings. Following dinner, the group attended a movie at the Lindsey Theatre.

No. 3 "He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

This fellow is a jolly good fellow and a true friend to all with whom he pledges friendship. He somehow maintains this status year after year, always lending a helping hand to those who need his aid along the way. He is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow.

His favorite hobby is draggin' main and visiting with his many friends. His favorite sport is football.

He loves music any hour of the day and his favorite song is "Love Potion No. 9."

He can, like most young men, eat his weight in food daily, his favorite of foods being shrimp.

His great love in life is his love for his friends and fellow classmates. He lists as the ideal girl, Beverly Kelley, while he picks Phil Middleton as the ideal boy. These have been his friends from those early elementary school days throughout the school years.

His favorite TV show is the "Dick Van Dyke Show," while his favorite twosome at the movies are Michael Parks and Ann Margaret.

He loves to read but the busy senior year has provided little time for such. However on those rare occasions when he can steal away quietly with a book, he selects books written by Ian Fleming, his favorite author.

For correct identification, turn to page 6.

The school bus was driven by Coach Jodie Mahan. He and Mrs. Gladys McCaskill, class sponsors were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ross Middleton and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Byers, class parents.

The Seniors expressed their thanks for a wonderful experience.

THOSE WHO ARE ILL

Garland Stovall, who is a patient in the Veteran's Hospital, Ward B, Room 315, Amarillo, is enjoying the cards, letters, and company of friends who visit him. His condition is reported as improving. He will be well enough for surgery in approximately a month.

On Senior Day, Friday, all Seniors, class sponsors, and class parents visited Dwayne at the hospital in Lubbock, and took him souvenirs of the days activity.

Dwayne will soon return home.

No. 4 "Quietly Looking For The Birdie"

This shy little lad wearing a pleasant expression seems to be patiently waiting for the birdie to appear from out of the camera. Today, a grown young man, a member of the graduating class, he still remains shy, patient, and pleasing in his manner.

He is a coin collector and enjoys this hobby very much. He is also a football fan.

He spends many long hours reading, his favorite author being Jack London.

At the movies he enjoys Tony Curtis and Ann Margaret, while on television, his favorite program is "The Fugitive."

Like all teen-agers, he enjoys music and his favorite of all songs is "Wine And Roses."

Blue is his favorite color, and pork chops are his favorite food, although he can be coaxed into eating a goodly portion of anything on the table.

His ideal girl is Peggy Upchurch and his ideal boy is Thomas Gregory.

For identification, turn to page 6.

Dwayne Parish Confined To Hospital Bed

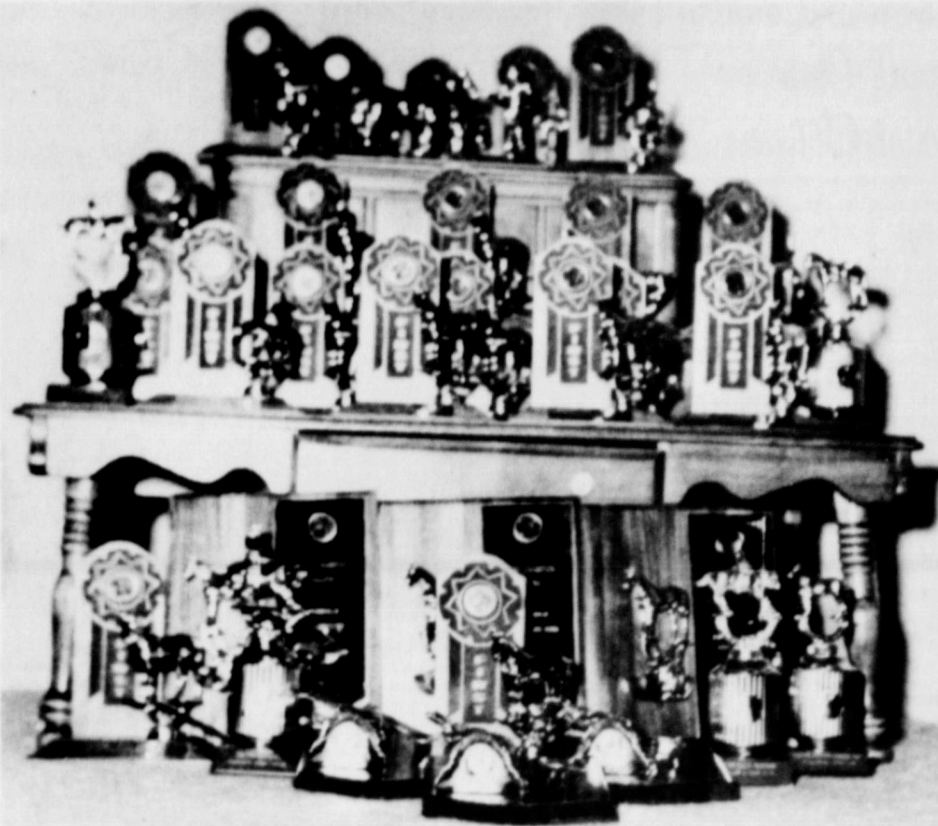

Dwayne Parish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Parish, is confined at the Taylor Hospital in Lubbock. His condition was diagnosed as "spotted fever."

This condition was contracted, probably, when Dwayne was in Colorado during the Easter holidays, as it is considered transferable by a mosquito or a tick.

Dwayne is a Senior at Springlake-Earth High School, but he will not graduate, due to illness. He attended Shriner Institute, Kerrville, Texas during the first semester this year, and returned to Springlake-Earth School for the last semester.

On Senior Day, Friday, all Seniors, class sponsors, and class parents visited Dwayne at the hospital in Lubbock, and took him souvenirs of the days activity.

Dwayne will soon return home.

This coin telephone benefits you in TWO ways

First of all, it becomes a "friend in need" when a quick call is necessary... puts a telephone where you are and makes it available 24 hours a day. It is profitable to communities, too, providing new income when we are permitted to locate them on public property. There is an added advantage in some states where it can lower fire insurance rates because of the availability of prompt alarms. So the next time you see a coin telephone, consider it an example of convenience in Communications—Your Tool for Progress. "As Seen In Earth"

By Carolyn Hamilton

Graduation is in the air... A time we'll treasure through the years... Mamas, Grandmas, Aunts, Cousins... Everyone loaded with beautifully wrapped gifts for those honored graduates... My heart is filled with thoughts of these days of mixed emotions for you, (and your parents). May I add my few humble hints: Be happy; keep your mind active and alert through knowledge; guard your good health; "stay alive all of your life;" keep those stars in your eyes; and make your dreams come true...

From the Bible, Philippians 4: 8... "Whatever things are true, honest, just, lovely... of good report... think on these things." And 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me."

Dr. Samuel Johnson, an English writer, said that, "A hopeful outlook on life is worth a thousand pounds a year." For a successful life, add ability, training, hope, faith, and a gentle, kind spirit... And my very best to each and everyone of you on this eventful occasion!

...Other sights in Earth this last week: Thursday, the sound of baby chicks "peeping" at the post office; Friday, an early school bus loaded with excited Seniors enroute to Lubbock; (Heard Jean Byers and Ross Middleton were fancy skaters!); Saturday, many a Mickey Mantle in the making at the ball park; Sunday, a lovely Spring day--church, family, and friends; Monday, Mumps seem to be everywhere--Bless their hearts; Brenda McDonald, Kim Stockstill, Sheila Lewis, and Terri Carol Smith; Tuesday, Lena Hite, that lovely remarkable lady, brought each of us at the News office a beautiful coral rose in individual bud vases... A very busy day, and it boosted our morale!

Deepest sympathy to the recently bereaved--the Price family, Simmons family, and Barlow family...

Happy Anniversaries to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Waylon Scheller, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kelley, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keller...

Local Girl Chosen To Serve As Big Sister At LCC

Judy Perkins is one of 23 young women chosen to serve as "Big Sisters" at Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock, for the 1965-66 school year.

The "Big Sisters," a service organization, was formed in 1962 to help orient freshman girls to college life.

At the close of the spring semester, outstanding sophomore girls are chosen as "Big Sisters" and assigned the names of freshmen girls who are to enter LCC in the fall. They exchange pictures with their "little sisters" and correspond with them throughout the summer, telling them what to expect at college.

The "Big Sisters" are on campus a few days before the beginning of the fall semester to welcome the new girls, introduce them to their other classmates, acquaint them with the college campus and routines, and offer information and assistance in planning schedules and registering. Each "Big Sister" is also available to help her "little sister" with any problems she might have. She remembers having faced the same problems of adaptation the year before and is able to offer her year's experience in a manner that no paid counselor would be able to.

Mrs. Audean Baldwin, dormitory hostess and Dean of Women, states that she is very pleased with the way the system has worked during the past school year and that she anticipates the same cooperation and unselfish service from the new group of "Big Sisters." She was assisted in the selection of the new members by those who served as "Big Sisters" during the past school year.

Judy was a 1964 graduate of Springlake-Earth High School. She was active in basketball, FHA; FTA; she was business manager of the annual staff, and in the Junior and Senior plays.

She started college in the fall semester, and is majoring in history and pre-law in LCC, where she has maintained a B average. Judy is well pleased with her new college life, and is looking forward to her privilege of being a "Big Sister" to the new girls who will be entering LCC this fall.

Judy has been student Dorm counselor and active in Metah Mo Social Club this year.

Methodist Conference Scheduled May 24-28

Rev. Albert Lindley, pastor of the Earth Methodist Church and hundreds of other Methodist pastors and lay leaders from the vast Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Church will gather in Lubbock, May 24, 25 for the 56th annual meeting of the Conference.

Dr. Dow Kirkpatrick, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Evanston, Illinois, and a leader in many phases of Methodist activity on the national scene, will be the conference preacher.

This year's conference will be held at First Methodist Church in Lubbock under the guidance and direction of Bishop O. Eugene Slater. This will be Bishop Slater's first full annual conference meeting since returning to the Northwest Texas section last June. He was pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo for 10 years and had been presiding bishop over the Kansas Area from 1960 to 1964. Bishop Slater now oversees work in the San Antonio-Northwest Texas Area which includes the Northwest Texas and Southwest Texas Annual Conferences.

Bishop Slater will formally open the 1965 Annual Conference at 7:30 p. m. on May 24 with a communion service, and the first business session will be held at 8:45 a. m. on Tuesday, May 25. The conference will run through Friday noon, May 28, with the reading of appointments scheduled late that morning.

Dr. Kirkpatrick's first sermon will be Tuesday night, May 25. Indications are that this year's conference business sessions will be eventful. One of the first items of business is a proposal to reduce the number of districts in the Northwest Texas Conference from nine to seven.

A special committee appointed at the last session of the Conference will make its recommendations concerning the number of districts. The proposal is to reduce the number from nine to eight for the 1965-66 year, and that the second district be eliminated as soon as flexibility in ministerial appointments makes it feasible, either this year or any year in the future. Proponents of reducing the number of districts say that population shifts are causing loss of membership in some areas and gains in others. They say that seven districts will serve the entire conference now since the larger towns are already well administered and that those towns in the districts to be eliminated can be absorbed into other districts since good highway facilities in the conference now make it possible to cover larger areas.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes will propose construction of a Methodist retirement home in Abilene, the first unit of which would cost about $120,000.

The Northwest Texas Conference will further study plans to eliminate the Central Jurisdiction (Negro churches and conferences) and make its recommendations regarding absorption of these churches to the South Central Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church, the administrative body which coordinates work of the church in the Southwestern United States.

Dr. Kirkpatrick was a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Church in 1956 and 1960 and to jurisdictional conferences in 1952, 1956, 1960, and 1964. He was a delegate to the World Methodist Conference at Oxford in 1951, at Lake Junaluska, N. C., in 1956, and Oslo, Norway, in 1961.

He is a member of the World Methodist Council and was co-chairman of the Oxford Institute on Methodist Theological Studies in 1958, 1962, and this year. He is a member of the General Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, and he was a member of the African, Latin American, and Asian consultations of the Board of Missions in 1961, 1962, and 1963. He is also a member of the General Board of the National Council of Churches.

Dr. Kirkpatrick has served as editor of "The Doctrine of the Church," and has authored numerous articles. He and his wife have two sons, Dow II, who is 21, and David, 15.

Area Folks Attend Hospital Open House

If you happened to witness an inordinate number of people visiting the hospital last week, it wasn't due to a change in hospital visiting rules. The explanation is that it was National Hospital Week and in observance of this the hospital held an open house for the public.

This event gave area citizens a chance to view hospital facilities, including many of the behind-the-scenes services and "off-limits" areas not normally seen by the public.

For those who have not seen the inner workings of a hospital before, the experience is a reassuring one. It's reassuring in the sense that hospitals show dramatic progress made in recent years in both the scientific care of patients and in the administration and management of these complex institutions.

In a time when an average of one out of every seven persons goes to the hospital for treatment each year, we need to know that our hospitals meet its obligations by providing high quality patient care. The up-to-date facilities and comprehensive health services found in West Plains Hospital and the dedication to patients exhibited by hospital personnel convinces us that we are indeed receiving the benefits of modern scientific care.

Once an institution for custodial care of the very sick, the hospitals today have developed into a complex health center with the means to treat all kinds of illnesses, including many once considered fatal. More than that, hospitals today take a responsibility for the health of the entire community by promoting better health practices and preventive medicine for our citizens.

We also found evidence that the hospital is never satisfied with the status quo, that it continually looks for new ways of providing better care and of protecting the consumer's health dollar.

Great strides have been made in recent years in many fields of endeavor, but none more important to the welfare of the individual than the progress in health care. The hospital has been a primary force in bringing these benefits to the area.

CAPITALIZED GOVERNMENT—The national government now supplies state and local governments with 14 per cent of their revenues in federal aid programs, making them more dependent on and subjecting them to more controls from Washington, according to Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.), when federal aid programs are estimated to reach $13.6 billion, up 260 per cent since 1956.

SS Administration Needs Your Help In Keeping Records

The Social Security Administration needs your help in keeping an accurate lifetime record of your earnings and the more than 100 million other Americans covered by the program. Future benefits are based on these records. Unless an error in reporting is brought to light within about 3 years, after the year in which it occurs, correction may not be possible. Because of this, it is a good idea to check your record occasionally. There is no charge.

Your social security office, located at 3428 Avenue H, Lubbock, Texas, can furnish you with a postcard Form OAR-7004 to do this, or you may request the information by letter, being sure to clearly show your social security account number, date of birth, and name.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at County Courthouse, Muleshoe, at 9:30 on June 2nd.

Challenges Of Growth, Theme For Soil Stewardship Week

"Challenges of Growth" is the theme for Soil Stewardship Week to be observed in Texas and throughout the Nation May 23-30.

The primary purpose of the Soil Stewardship Week, says Thurlio Branscum, Earth, a member of the Lamb County Soil Conservation District Board, "is to remind everyone, urban and rural resident alike, of his obligation to God as a steward of the soil."

"Everyone depends on the soil for most of his food and clothing, and much of the material used to build his home," Branscum continued. Branscum explained that the local soil and water conservation districts sponsor the observance of Soil Stewardship Week in coordination with the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. The Lamb County SCD has provided special booklets on soil stewardship to the ministers of the districts. It is hoped that every local church will pause to reflect on God's greatest gift to man, "Our Soil."

The National Association has sponsored this observance since 1954. The idea was started 19 years ago when the publishers of Farm and Ranch Magazine inspired religious leaders in several southern states to set aside one Sunday each year to remind their congregations of their responsibility as stewards of the soil. The observance was later expanded to one week each year.

"Booklets and other materials for use by clergymen of all faiths during the week's observance are provided by the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. In plans for the observance and in developing the material, the Association has the help of the National Lutheran Council; The National Catholic Rural Life Conference; the Southern Baptist Convention; and the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA," Branscum said.

Rites Held For J. D. Walker

James Leonard Walker, 79, died at his home in Amarillo, Wednesday, May 12. He was born in New Home, Arkansas, June 17, 1885, and moved here in 1925, where he was engaged in farming until 1929, when he moved to Amarillo.

Services were held at Griggs Pioneer Chapel in Amarillo, at 11:30 a.m. May 15, with Rev. Jas. W. Read, minister of the South Lawn Baptist Church in Amarillo, officiating. Interment was in the Earth Cemetery.

Graveside services were held at the Earth Cemetery at 3:00 p.m., May 15, with Bro. M. B. Baldwin officiating. Survivors include the wife, Mrs. J. L. Walker, four sons, John, Norwall, California; Clyde, Downy, California; L. C., Lubbock; and Earl, Earth; two daughters, Angie Nell Walker, Amarillo; and Mrs. Maydell Simmons, Earth; seven grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were: Marion Barlow, Delbert Barlow, T. C. Barlow, J. J. Barlow, Billy Wayne Barlow, and Claude Barlow, all nephews of Mrs. Simmons.

Local Man Charged With Murder

Porter Smith, a 28 year old Negro resident of Earth, was charged with murder with malice in the shooting death of Frank Dewitt Richson, 22, of Morton, Sunday night, at approximately 9:30 p.m. at the Ruff House Cafe, Plainview. He is in the County Jail in Plainview.

Richson was shot twice in the back of the neck with a .22 caliber automatic pistol. Porter Smith, a travelling salesman told police that he, his wife, and four children arrived in Plainview from Bula about 3:30 p.m. Sunday. He said he went to the Ruff House to head the band, conducted by his brother-in-law, Freddie Lee White. Smith claimed that Richson accosted him as he started to get into his car on leaving the cafe. After a brief fight, Smith said he got his pistol from the trunk of his car, loaded it, and later when he drove into the driveway of 209 Campbell St. several blocks away, he claimed that Richson rode up as a passenger of another car, and the shooting followed.

Smith, the murder suspect, was placed under $5,000 bond by Justice of the Peace J. C. Lewis.

NEITHER SAND NOR WIND OR WEATHER could dull the enthusiasm this foursome demonstrated in playing a hard fought game of golf Friday during Senior Day. Harold Powell is seen looking over the situation; Phil Middleton strolls up to see where his ball lands. Danny Byers is making ready, while Thomas Gregory awaits his turn. In the foreground, rushing to another green is Bobbi Smith and Allene Powell.

This story was confirmed by W. O. Wood, Deputy Sheriff, of Hale County, who also stated that this case was covered by H. T. Pellfray, Chief of Police of Plainview.

Three Rural Accidents In Lamb County During April

There were 3 rural accidents in Lamb County during the month of April, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in six persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $2,695.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the first four months of 1965 shows a total of 22 accidents resulting in one person killed, 11 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $16,210. School will soon be out. This will be the signal for summer vacations to begin, especially for the youngsters who will be popping out in all directions. They will be darting from behind parked cars, trees, or shrubs. Watch for children coasting down sloping driveways and streets. Many will be looking for a place to swim or fish, others will be roaming around aimlessly.

This means that motorists must be constantly on the alert at all times during the summer months for children darting out from unexpected places. Remember, children are unpredictable. The Sergeant stated, "Let every child be a living warning sign."

Halfway Agronomist Attends Seed School At MSU

Mississippi State University was the site of a Seedmen's Short Course which was attended by Jack Werner, Associate Agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway, Texas.

Werner's visit to Mississippi was a multi-purpose trip. On the way, he stopped at Greenville, Mississippi, and talked with Dr. Hartwig, one of the world's foremost soybean breeders, concerning methods of handling experimental soybean material and various aspects of plant breeding. In addition to attending the school, Werner visited with various machinery manufacturers and people interested in seed of all types, in an effort to bring back information on damage by machines or any current useful knowledge he could obtain.

The basic purpose of the short course, which was held from May 3 through May 6, was to acquaint the attendants with machinery and operations in seed processing. "How and Why Does a Seed Die?" is part of the present research being carried on by the Seed Technology Lab of Mississippi State.

Jack Werner heard talks and saw demonstrations on the fundamentals of seed processing, testing of seed for germination, along with methods of sorting seed, from air and screen cleaners to magnetic cleaning. One of the most interesting portions of the course was the tetrazolium test, which is a method of testing germination with chemical means.

Werner states that this is his second visit to the short course, the first being in 1959, and he feels that the program would be very beneficial to all persons interested in and working with seed of any type.

Jack Werner's duties at the High Plains Research Foundation include all phases of seed production. He is especially interested in soybean research, and has worked with the development of the Hinn soybean. For this reason, he is interested in conveying any useful information he can acquire to the High Plains farmer.

Masonic School Picks Veteran Educator

A veteran Texas educator has been named to head the Masonic Home and School in Fort Worth. Robert R. King, who has been superintendent of schools in Vernon since 1963, will assume his new duties on May 1, according to an announcement by the Board of Directors of the Home and School. King replaces W. Z. Compton, who is retiring. The Masonic Home and School is maintained by 250,000 members of the Masonic Fraternity in Texas to care for children and grandchildren of Texas Masons whose families are disrupted. Some 300 students live on the campus and attend classes in the fully-accredited, independent school system.

Prior to his service in Vernon, King was superintendent of schools in Haskell, Rochester, and Girard, Texas. He had also served in other capacities in Spur, Silverton and Girard, Texas, school systems. His school experience dates back to 1937.

As superintendent at Masonic Home and School, King will supervise and be administrator for a staff of 100 persons who are teachers or otherwise provide guidance and leadership for the children living at the 212-acre facility in Fort Worth. King is a current president for District Seven of the Texas State Teachers Association, a member of the executive committee of the Texas Association of School Administrators and is secretary of the Committee on Public Education of the Grand Lodge of Texas.

King is married to the former Jo Robinson of Abilene and they have two daughters.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Armstrong Saturday were Mrs. Orville Cleavinger and children, and Mrs. Troy Kirby and children, of Dimmitt.

"A Fond Farewell To Our Son, and His Classmates"

Well watch you walk across the stage, Our Son, your Classmates too;
 And wonder just what life will bring when school will start anew;
 For with this Class of '65 you'll all get your diplomas;
 Now September won't mean rushing steps in many a home sweet home.

I know the world looks not the same when sunshine leaves its shores;
 And likewise homelife not the same when our Seniors walk out the door...
 But every year you kids were home brought sunlight to our hearts.
 But thus its time to say farewell and let you all depart...

To other parts around this globe and to higher goals we're hoping;
 And we'll have pride and wear a smile instead of always moping...
 Because God has been real good to us, to loan us lovely children;
 And we are thankful for His gifts of our fine sons and daughters...

Parents May Be Liable Up To $5,000 For Damages Caused By Children

Parents of rambunctious children soon may be paying more attention to the activities of their offspring.

A bill passed by both Houses of the Legislature makes parents liable up to $5,000 for damages done by their children. Measure now is in the hands of Gov. John Connally for his signature.

It applies to 10 to 18 year olds who damage public or privately owned property.

Sponsors of the bill are Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon and Rep. Willis Whatley of Houston. They contend that stiffer penalties than the present $300 maximum will curb vandalism. Bill was prompted by the number of cases where homes and schools were being wrecked by vandals, but also it applies to such cases as false fire alarms and other acts of vandalism.

SHOWDOWN NEARING-- As the end of the current legislative session nears, legislators rapidly are approaching decision time on legislative and congressional redistricting, teacher pay raises and new taxes. House passed a congressional redistricting plan which almost everybody is taking for granted will be drastically changed in the Senate and will have to be worked out on a conference committee. Meanwhile, the Senate cleared the way for adoption of a senatorial districting plan keeping control in rural areas.

One of the biggest crowds of the legislative session appeared Wednesday for House and Senate committee hearings on heatedly-contested bills by Texas State Teachers Association tion and Governor Connally to raise teacher pay. Connally wants a 10-year graduated pay plan; TSTA insists on its plan for $405 annual raises to all teachers.

AREA ORATOR, Bob Coker, wins first in Public Speaking at the Area I FFA Convention in Amarillo recently.

Final approval of the record $3,600,000,000 general budget bill for state government operation is expected in both houses by week's end. House Revenue and Tax Committee is looking carefully at all the serious revenue proposals in its deck.

Governor Connally has estimated there may be need for a new tax bill as high as $100,000,000 if school teacher pay raises are approved by the Legislature.

Where to get the money is the big question. One thing for sure--he's opposed to a hike in the sales tax rate or extension of the present two percent levy to groceries or medicines.

Among the possibilities, however, are: restoration of the 50 cent corporation franchise surtax (back to $2.75 per $1,000 of capital, surplus and undivided profit) and once more boosting the seven per cent gas production tax. He already has recommended a cigarette tax increase.

LIQUOR STORE BILL KILLED-- Earlier closing hours for liquor stores, proposed in a bill which passed the House, are out for this session. Bill was killed by a two-vote margin in a Senate committee. Provisions of the bill would have stopped liquor sales at 8 p.m. instead of 10 p.m. except to registered hotel guests. Liquor store owners, who were supposed to have originated the bill, split on the issue and presented conflicting testimony before the Senate Committee on Jurisprudence.

DIVORCE SLOWDOWN-- A bill that would extend the waiting period from 60 to 180 days before a divorce is granted, where children under 18 years of age are involved, has been approved by the House and the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

Bill is sponsored by Rep. Paul B. Haring of Goliad and Sen. William M. Patman of Ganado. Sponsors feel that the bill would provide a check on hasty ill-conceived divorces and remarriages, thereby giving added protection to children involved. Also it would be effective in reducing juvenile delinquency and the crime rate.

Bill has strong support of many prominent jurists and clergymen. YOUTH CORPS JOB A JOB-- Program to provide part-time jobs for needy students under the federal Economic Opportunity Act is growing fast and reaching into many areas of Texas.

Governor Connally reports that office details for handling the project require a staff larger than the crew that handles all the duties of the Governor's office.

Connally has approved nearly a dozen Neighborhood Youth Corps programs, involving Federal grants for projects in Rio Grande City; Los Fresnos; Harris County; Beaumont; Dallas County; Galveston County; Laredo; Olton; Lockhart, and San Marcos. Grants are authorized by the U.S. Department of Labor in Washington, but are subject to final approval by the Governor. Terrell Blodgett, director of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity, has announced appointment of two consultants to help communities organize local action programs. They are Bertrand Adams of Austin and Robert Watts of Lufkin. Navajo Indian Reservation with 20,884 square miles in Arizona and Utah is the nation's largest.

It's time to celebrate! A new and memorable Senior Class is graduating. They have a background of outstanding effort . . . a record of outstanding achievement.

May the future of each Senior be bright with success and happiness.

Bookmobile Project Meets With Good Reception In Area

Library service has a new and clearer meaning for many citizens of the High Plains Bookmobile Demonstration Area, composed of Bailey, Cochran, Lamb and Farmer counties, as the first year of a two-year project has been completed. Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, director and librarian, Texas State Library, stated.

Mrs. Georgia Pena, bookmobile librarian, with headquarters in Muleshoe, said the library system had issued more than 44,335 books during its first year of operation. She also noted that of the total, 3,900 books had been checked out of the Muleshoe Area Library. The circulation figures broken down by county reveals the following use: Bailey, 7,137; Cochran, 3,600; Lamb, 16,208; and Farmer, 13,390. Book collections have also been left as teacher loans in Bledsoe, Bovina, Spade, Friona, Lazbuddie, Bula, Amherst, Springlake, and Sudan. The Olton Public Library, a branch of the Lamb County Library, has also received books on a long-term loan.

Mrs. Pena said that the mobile library has not missed a scheduled visit and approximately 17 trips have been made to each community in the four-county area since April, 1964. Headquarters for the High Plains Bookmobile Demonstration in Muleshoe were furnished through the cooperation of the Friends of the Library organization. At the close of the trial period, next April, 1966, the plan is for the four counties to continue the mobile library service, sharing the cost on a pro rata basis of population per county. Texas State Library has provided all of the operational cost during the first year and will continue to do so the second year. After the trial period is concluded, Texas State Library will continue to assist the project by means of book loans and consultant service from its Field Services Division staff.

Sixty counties have participated in similar library demonstrations and a majority of the counties are now being served by a strong local library plus mobile libraries for rural patrons.

Lamb County Relief Rolls Show Decrease

The number of persons on the Lamb County relief rolls has dropped over 200 persons from this time last year according to Mrs. N.N. Frey, County Welfare Officer.

Mrs. Frey stated that the largest number of people on the welfare rolls are under the old age assistance as 370 are drawing welfare for inability to work because of age. "The number of these persons is continually increasing as more and more people reach the required age."

The other 255 persons on the rolls include widows and disabled veterans and also some able-bodied persons who have not been able to find work during the winter.

"The 255 figure will decrease considerably the end of May," reported Mrs. Frey. The County commissioners court, which the welfare office is under, has made May 30 as the deadline for able-bodied persons to remain on the rolls. At that time there is enough work in the county for persons to gain employment. "We check with the Texas Employment Office each day and find that employment is available for practically every able-bodied person we have on the rolls by the first of June each year."

"We do not give anyone money, that is done by the state welfare, this office furnishes food and we are able to pay up to sixty percent of hospitalization and also for medicine," stated Mrs. Frey.

At the present time a person must be a resident of Lamb County for six months and a resident of the state for a year before becoming eligible for welfare. "Right now aliens are not eligible for welfare," continued Mrs. Frey, "but at the present time there is a bill before the Texas legislature to allow aliens to be on the rolls if they have lived in the state for at least 25 years."

Heaton will give statewide leadership to Extension programs dealing with both human and natural resource development, the director said. He will work with other resource specialists on the state and area staffs and will also have a major responsibility for assisting county Extension agents in the development of educational programs aimed at developing the total resources of a county or area, Hutchison said.

The new specialist is a native of Panola County and holds a BS degree from Stephen F. Austin State College and an MS from Texas A&M University in sociology with minors in economics and education. He has also done graduate work at the University of Texas.

Prior to his move to the Extension Service, he served for some five years as educational director for the First Baptist Church in Oklahoma City. From 1939 to 1960, he was employed by the American Red Cross in several capacities ranging from field representative to supervisor and assistant to the commissioner in the Pacific Ocean areas. From 1945 to 1960, he served as manager of the Oklahoma County Chapter, ARC in Oklahoma City.

In making the announcement, Extension Director John E. Hutchison said this is a new position and we believe the problem of weed control is a major factor in increasing the production efficiency of agronomic crops. The new specialist will be responsible for the development and implementing of educational programs in weed control for our major agronomic crops, the director said. He will work with other specialists and research innumerable rapids encountered on the trip and the majestic walls of the canyon that rise vertically as much as 1,400 feet from the river. Included too are glimpses of the mountain grandeur that characterizes the Big Bend country.

Frank Hildebrand, executive director of TTDA, said the clip was prepared as still another tool to help dispel the general public concept of Texas as a "big, flat, hot state."

"Our national research indicates that mountains and inland water are two commodities most prospective visitors least associate with Texas," Hildebrand said. "And yet they are among the most sought-after aspects of a prime vacation land.

"By graphically depicting the presence of these things, we think we will do much to help correct the badly warped image too many have of Texas."

The film was arranged, shot and edited at no cost to the state. Sole expense was production of the duplicate tapes. Cooperating with TTDA in the project were Perry E. Brown, superintendent of the Big Bend National Park; Peter Koch, manager of the Alpine Chamber of Commerce and Claude Cox, manager of television relations, Six Flags Over Texas.

Television Film To Lure Travel To Texas

A float trip down the Rio Grande in the Big Bend National Park is the subject of Texas' first television film designed to help increase travel to and within the state.

The minute and one-quarter public service short has been sent 350 TV stations in Texas and its 22-state travel market area by the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

If the clip receives the reception TTDA believes it will, a series of other equally scenic areas of the state will be developed.

The initial film is built around the raft trip through Mariscal Canyon, most southerly point in the park. Highlighted are

Texans Can Now Purchase Personalized Auto Tags

Now Texans have a new status symbol: Personalized, prestige auto license plates.

A bill approved by the Legislature and signed by Governor Connally Thursday authorizes issuance of personalized license plates upon payment of a $10 fee in addition to normal auto registration charges.

Not only may Texans have their automobiles identified with distinctive one-of-a-kind license plates, but the Texas treasury will get a substantial boost, too.

It has been estimated that the measure may raise as much as $5 million--or personalized plates on one of every dozen vehicles registered in the State. Ninety-five percent of all fees will be paid to the State's General Fund.

Although the bill does not become effective until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns, the Motor Vehicle Division will begin accepting applications at once. The estimated date that plates will be issued for use is on or about August 24.

Obviously, only one plate of a kind may be issued. And it will go to the first applicant. Once a specific, personalized license plate has been assigned to a motorist, it will be reserved for his use in succeeding years if his renewal application is submitted by January 1.

All applications must be sent to the Motor Vehicle Division, Texas Highway Department, 40th and Jackson, Austin, Application forms now are available at the individual county tax assessor-collector's office. They must be accompanied by the $10 personalized license registration fee. A similar fee, in addition to normal registration charges, will be required each year a personalized plate is issued.

Motorists are requested to submit at least three choices for embossing on their personalized plates. The motorist may receive his personalized plates by surrendering his regular registration plates. Personalized license plates may not be transferred from one owner to another, nor may they be transferred from one classification of vehicle to another without renewal.

Texas motorists virtually will have unlimited choice of letter and number combinations for their personal, prestige plates. However, the personalized plates must not conflict with the regular license numbering system. Personalized license plates will not be issued for trailers or semi-trailers in excess of 10,000 pounds, for motorcycles nor for vehicles now displaying amateur radio plates.

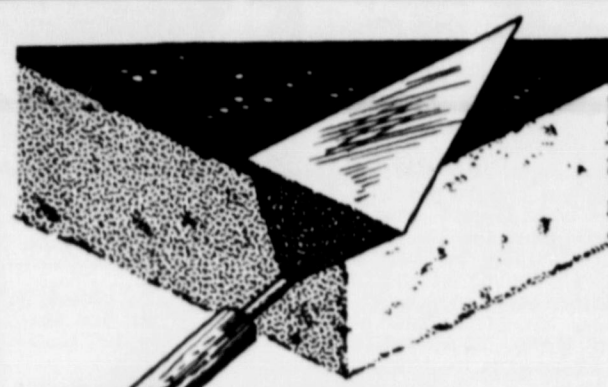

The motorist may want his license plate to bear the name of his dog, his wife, his mother-in-law, or even his own initials. He may want to call attention to his hobby, his business, or his girl friend.

Characters on the personalized plates, either numbers, letters, or a combination of both, will be limited to six. Contrary to normal policy the use of vowels will not be prohibited.

A spokesman for the Texas Highway Department predicted that the greatest demand will be for monogram-type plates, or those bearing the owner's initials, as "FDR." Others may want nicknames.

Texas isn't the first state to authorize use of personalized prestige plates. At least eight other states have adopted similar measures to swell tax revenues.

Cornerstone for tomorrow...

With your graduation, you have completed a very important phase in building a full life. We are certain your record of ability in the past will extend

Cotton Seedling Disease Takes Heavy Toll

Cotton seedling disease causes more losses each year in Texas than any other single disease of cotton. And research shows that it can be controlled by the use of in-furrow fungicides and good management practices, say Wendell Horne and Robert Berry, Extension plant pathologists of Texas A&M University.

And a logical starting point for an effective seedling control program, point out the plant pathologists, is the planting of only high quality cotton seed. High quality seed will give a better stand. Such seed may be planted earlier, and the seedlings will be less susceptible to soil-borne fungi than low quality seed. Planting seed should be treated with a recommended seed protectant.

They recommend that planting of high quality seed by delayed until morning soil temperature, at planting depth, holds above 60 degrees F. for three days. If low quality is planted, then wait until soil temperatures are higher.

If it becomes necessary to plant during periods of expected high rainfall or in fields where seedling disease has consistently been a problem in covering soils, fungicides may be used as an aid to get and keep a stand, say Horne and Berry.

They emphasize the importance of using a combination of chemicals selected for specific conditions and organisms occurring within a given area. Effective control can be obtained by applying the fungicides in the furrow as dusts or sprays. Hopper box application is not recommended in Texas.

And finally, they say, care must be taken to see that the fungicide is properly mixed with the covering soil if it is to do its job.

It Wasn't Long Ago

4-H MEETING

In our May meeting after Daisy Ruth Washington had conducted the formal 4-H Opening and heard the reports from the children who got packages of seed in the lucky number drawing in April, Mrs. Phillips and Mr. McNutt, our Lamb County Demonstration Agent and Asst. County Agent, introduced an indoor parlor game for quiet indoor enjoyment. Each child got a chance to write the initials or beginning letters of some TV program he was interested in. The one making the correct guess then writes his program initials. We also played "Who Has The Button." Both games were lively. THE BIBLE ANIMAL CONTEST Alfred Lewis Sanders, third grader, named all the animals. He got one dollar and Daisy Ruth Washington, six grader got 25¢ for finding Abraham's old home and new home.

Mrs. J. L. Hinson brought a big box of clothes and shoes. She also brought some magazines and a book, "Tree In The Trail," by Holling-Clancy Holling which I used in school today. The story is a picturesque account of the settling of the west, the blazing of the Santa Fe Trail, the devastation of the Kansas twisters and tornadoes and the history of Indian tribes encountered on the trading trips westward. The story is written around a stop on the way there at a pond between two rocky buttes near which grew a cottonwood sapling in the trail. The Indians called it the "Medicine Tree" and worshipped it so much that any enemy reaching the tree before the Indians caught up with him was not attacked. The white men referred to the tree as "The Old Post Office." They mailed letters in the hollow of the tree for some eastbound person to carry back to Independence, Missouri, telling the trader for whom he worked how the trip was going.

COURT OF HONOR

BOY SCOUTS AND CUBS

On Monday evening, we had a program in the Junior High Library to acquaint the parents with the work of Cub and Boy Scouting.

Earnest and Jerry Chance and Alfred L. Sanders dressed as Indians with their war paint and headdress. Planted some beans wrapped in small fish then did the Indian Rain Dance around a campfire built by Wilborne. The emblems were drawn by Robert Lee Washington and painted by Tim and others.

Scout William Sanders told what the Tenderfoot pin stands for; Billy Ray Thomas told about how the first class badge is won and Tim Ray Matthews explained the Star Scout accomplishments. The Cubs (Buffalo Indians) and Willie James and Gerald told the history of our United States flag, how it should be carried or hung on the same flag staff with other flags and in parades. At 8:00 O'clock, Travis Jaquess, Scout Master of Scout Troops 614 with his assistant, Mr. Glascock conducted a beautiful candlelight Court of Honor. After the boys received their awards they clicked their heels, gave the Boy Scout hand clasp and a snappy military salute.

Tim Ray Matthews received 13 badges and a Scribe's badge and a Star rank badge. O.C. Thomas received 12 badges and a Star rank badge and a Librarian's badge. Willie James Thomas received a Bear badge and Gerald Thomas the Lion badge.

Jerry Chance, Alfred L. and William Sanders received their Tenderfoot pins; Robert Washington, Billy Ray Thomas, Leo Brown and Roy Dean Rivers received Second Class Rank badges. Billy Ray Thomas received the Den Chief's "Thank You" citation and a junior assistant patrol leadership badge. Mrs. Osborne received the Den Mother's "Thank You" citation. Tuesday, May 11th, thirteen of the seventeen boys re-registered, met at the U. S. Osborne's for their recreation of baseball and roasted weenies and pop-pop.

Scout Master, U. S. Osborne and I wish to thank all concerned in making our year a successful one. For flowers for our desks by unknown donors, and the Boy's Life magazine subscription by those who wish to remain anonymous. Hats off to our community High School graduates and to those who are entering Jr. High.

The children entering Jr. High from our community who are attending Bohner High at Olton are Paula Wilborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Ingram. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Washington, Sr. have two junior high students finishing eighth grade, Helen and W. B. Washington, and a senior high graduate, L. D. Nunn. Ollie Mae Thomas completes 8th grade. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Grant Thomas.

The Becks family, Dorothy Marie and Clarence Bertis, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Becks are graduating from Bohner High, Friday, May 21. Alice Carter, the Senior Valedictorian attended our school in the intermediate grades.

We were all proud to see Clarence Beckas an escort for one of the Olton Heritage Pageant High School Queen's attendants.

Isaac John Osborne, our son, who finished eighth grade here and the Becks will be home from Prairie View A&M College soon.

Lt. Tommy T. Osborne and his wife are fine and entering into the social and civic life of the West Germany Army Base. He was chairman of a Red Cross Drive on his base recently.

S. producer income level of 75 percent of parity was voted by Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a meeting in Lubbock on May 13. This was point number one in a nine-point policy adopted by a vote of 17 to 6 with one abstention.

W. L. Edelman, Chairman of the PCG Legislative Committee which recommended the nine points to the Board, emphasized that they were to serve as

Animals Need Water For Survival After Nuclear Attack

The first need for farm animals surviving a nuclear attack would be for water. Nothing is more important to living plants and animals than water, explains Tommy Hollmig, Extension rural civil defense specialist at Texas A&M University. An animal, he adds, can live a long time without food, but will soon die if water is not provided. An animal's blood is 80 percent water and a loss of one-tenth of its body water will cause death, he says. Too, water is closely linked with all of an animal's internal body reactions.

Most livestock which normally remains in buildings, such as laying hens, broilers, fattening hogs, and some dairy cows and sows, depend upon water piped to them under pressure from a well. When the source is properly protected from bacterial contamination, says the specialist, the water should be safe for livestock use.

Hollmig feels there is a good chance that electricity would be available in most rural areas following a nuclear attack. This would permit pumps to continue to function. But in case of power failure, an auxiliary power source or a substitute supply of water would be needed. Since farm ponds and streams would in all probability be contaminated with radioactive fallout, water from these sources would offer little relief. Runoff from rain following the fallout would make the situation even more serious, he says. If water from a farm pond were the only available source, he believes it could be used after a couple of days, by then most of the fallout would have settled to the bottom of the pond. If the water were taken from the deep end of the pond and about a foot below the surface, radioactive material would be at a minimum, says Hollmig. A plastic pipe with a floating intake could be used to carry the water, either by gravity or pump, to a trough. The pond should be fenced. It is impossible to do these things following a nuclear attack, says the specialist, so make plans in advance.

OUR READERS

Write

Polly, Sr.:

Long ago there appeared in "Polly" an interesting dissertation concerning men's peculiarities. One in particular dealt with tipping in restaurants.

The gist of the idea was man's humanity to women. The ladies of the community made much comment. They literally lit up.

Now, in all fairness to men, I would like to bend your ear to a comment.

I went shopping in Lubbock the other day. Made five stores, walked 100 miles, was stepped on, pushed, shoved, followed, and five inches shorter, and carried pounds for hours.

Have you ever taken the time to watch people in a large department store? I did. This is the impression and pity the poor man.

A small, petite woman breezes by, followed by 200 pounds of masculinity, strong enough to light lions barehanded. But, is the picture of manhood? You guessed it. He is meek, docile, humbled. He looks from the corner of his eyes hoping his man type friends don't see him. He carries, of all things, women goodies. You know, panties, hose, girdles and whatever else it is they wear.

He frowns a little and that tiny bit of effeminacy scowls and a weak smile flits across his countenance. But this isn't all the poor man contends with. You know who the floor walker watches? Not the woman, who picks, moves, holds up, tries on, stretches, and drops every item on every shelf. No the house dick, with narrowed, suspicious eyes follows the every move of the poor innocent man. The man reaches for a cigarette and the house man crouches, with his hand going toward his shoulder. The man goes to the men's lounge and can't relax for the EYE following, waiting, watching.

And speaking of manners displayed by the female gender. Did I say manners? You are waiting, patiently? In line at the check out. The male is weighted down, legs growing shorter, back breaking and what do the weaker sex do? They come up, smile, and say ever so sweetly, "Excuse me dear, I have but this one package. Mind if I go ahead?" and don't even wait for the answer. They also forgot to mention that in that one package there were over 20 items to be checked: Oh, well.

And who minds the kids? Guessing right again. Fifteen packages, 80 pounds and five kids. And the woman walks serenely along lost in her reveries unmindful of any discomfort to her spouse. At that moment she could care less.

But this isn't really all. Two women can create a traffic snarl unheard of in New York City. Where do they get to gossip? In the aisles, where else? And they talk, and they talk, and they talk, What is that 200 pound of masculinity doing? Standing under the weight of the packages, five kids and the floor walker breathing down his neck, I leave it to you, is that misery? What's more, is it fair?

There are other things you know. This could go on and on. However, it is really not necessary. Let me just say, also in all fairness, that there is not a man in his right mind that would really want to change it one bit. You see, deep down they like to follow that little woman and feel proud when they do so. And if that isn't true love, then true love can never be found.

Uppermost question in the minds of taxpayers and legislators is--Will there be a new tax bill?

Answer rests with the lawmakers. And their decision depends on whether or not a teacher pay raise bill is passed.

Alternate proposal offered by Gov. John Connally to reward experienced teachers at an accelerated rate would cost the state an estimated $64,700,000.

Both plans are based on cost estimates for the next two years and would, of course, call for additional local money.

Hundreds of teachers jammed into the legislative chambers for hearings on the teacher-pay-raise bills, putting all the pressure possible on the legislators.

TSTA stresses that many local districts cannot afford to pay a higher share of the salaries called for in the governor's plan and that this is a state responsibility anyway.

Governor Connally says "Texas will continue to lag far behind the national average in school teacher salaries until local support shows the same increase expected of the state government." He contends

TSTA is not telling the whole story. "They never admit that state support of our public schools is $66 a pupil above the national average, while local support is $93 below the national average."

While compromise efforts floundered, a sub-committee of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee methodically and quietly reviewed some ideas for producing more income.

Considered was an additional tax of three cents a pack on cigarettes. This would raise about $69,600,000.

Other suggestions reviewed by the five member group include: A two percent sales tax on beer and liquor, $22,000,000; Restoration of the 50 cents per $1,000 corporation franchise surtax, $24,000,000;

A one-shot inheritance tax payment date adjustment, $6,000,000.

Senators want the House to pass a tax bill before any agreement is reached on a teacher pay raise.

A House tax committee member, active in the sub-panel deliberations, says pay raises should be determined before tax drafters decide how big a bill to write.

With the legislative session rapidly drawing to a close, and many differences still unresolved, a teacher pay raise is by no means a certainty. A breakdown in negotiations could mean no tax bill at all during the regular session.

REDISTRICTING WOES--As if legislators did not have enough problems with teacher pay raises, the even thornier problem of redistricting is upon them. Senate is in-fighting over proposed plans for Senate redistricting, which necessarily will remove some of the present members.

On the other hand, the Senators are not likely to agree with the House version of congressional redistricting.

Governor Connally, meanwhile, hinted he may not call a special session if there is no agreement on redistricting, leaving the matter up to the federal courts.

SINGLE HOUSE PROPOSED--House Constitutional Amendments Committee approved for floor debate a proposed amendment to create a 100-member unicameral (one house) legislature for Texas.

Proponents said measure strikes at inherent evils of the conference committee where so much major legislation is written behind closed doors and hastily voted on in closing hours of a session.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED--A house-passed resolution to repeal the poll tax, as a requirement for voting, received approval of the Senate Constitutional amendments committee. An election is proposed in November of 1966.

Another amendment resolution cleared for Senate debate is HJR 38 to remove from constitution restrictions on soldier voting in state.

Cotton Still In Trouble Economists Say

A Texas A&M University Agricultural economist sees few encouraging signs in his spring review of the outlook for cotton. John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the carryover for U. S. upland cotton on August 1, 1965, is expected to reach 13.4 million bales, up 1.3 million bales from last year. And, he adds, this is the fourth consecutive year the carryover has increased. The record carryover of 14.4 million bales was set in 1956.

Despite a rise in domestic mill consumption, the total disappearance of upland cotton for the 1964-65 year is well below the production for 1964, the economist said. Exports, which play a very important role in total disappearance of cotton, have declined sharply this year, McHaney said.

The economist listed three major factors behind the expected 21 percent drop in exports. They are the record production of cotton in foreign free-world countries; the reduced free-world trade with Communist countries because of their near record production and the working down of cotton stocks in importing countries.

Foreign free-world consumption of cotton is expected to total a record 25 million bales. Production in these same countries also set a new record of 22.5 million bales for the 65 year. The sharpest increases were in Central America and Africa, McHaney said.

In order to make U. S. cotton available for export and at competitive world prices, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the initial rate for payment in kind for the 1965-66 crop year under the Cotton Equalization Program will be approximately 5.75 cents per pound.

Texas cotton growers should continue to strive to produce cotton at the least possible cost per pound. This means the use of the latest findings from research and demonstration farms covering all phases of cotton production, says McHaney.

Visiting in the Terry Green home Sunday was Charlie Green, an uncle, of Plainview.

June Livestock Survey Cards Expected Soon

Postmaster Harold Miller reminds rural patrons of the Earth Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock Survey cards. Next week survey cards will be placed in a sample of boxes belonging to farmers and ranchmen.

"USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey," Mr. Miller explains. "It is important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the letter-drop. This way, USDA gets a true sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings." Survey cards will be forwarded to Gary D. Palmer, State Agricultural Statistician in Austin. After adding and analyzing these cards, USDA statisticians are able to estimate the State's milk production, calf and pig crops, lamb and wool crops, and the number of hens and pullets.

"Information from this survey will guide livestock and poultry producers in making important business decisions," Mr. Miller concludes.

Area Weather Conditions Given

The Wheat Harvest Control office, Texas Employment commission, states that general rains have been received over practically the entire Texas wheat belt during the last week. These rains were very beneficial in most areas. However, in sections of the Panhandle, these rains were received too late to be of benefit to dryland acreage. Irrigated wheat and other small grains are considered to be very good with average to above-average yields expected.

The following reflects the latest reports on our area conditions received by this office:

In the Littlefield and Muleshoe area, recent rains in most areas arrived too late to be of benefit to dryland acreage. Irrigated wheat is considered average for this time of year. No reports of insects or disease.

In the Hereford, Dimmitt and Farwell areas, irrigated wheat continues to look good. Hall damage has been very slight. Good rains received during the last week were of benefit to the remaining dryland acreage. It is estimated that about one-third of the dryland acreage had been abandoned prior to these rains.
