Father's Right To Prevent Son Being Show Freak Upheld

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—The right of a father to prevent his son from growing into a "circus freak" was upheld by the superior court in a ruling Thursday that Adolph E. Roome, jr., 14, must submit to pituitary gland treatments to forestall an abnormal growth of stature.

The judgment, made by Judge Lester Roth following a trial in which the boy protested against treatments prescribed by his father, a surgeon, cited the Biblical injunction that children should honor their father and mother and "obey" just wishes. The parents were divorced five years ago, the mother gaining custody of the son.

The son's height is more than six feet and weight in excess of 235 pounds and he is still growing.

"The boy," the court ruled, "is not only abnormal now but there is danger that he may become a physical monstrosity, or, as the father terms it, a circus freak'." The court said the mother had failed to insist her son take the treatments as ordered in a court ruling three years ago.

McKenzie never married.

Bachelor Lawyer Wins His Point

GENEVA, Ill., April 3 (AP)—James Harrington Scott is a bachelor lawyer, which may be a significant fact, and he doesn't like women jurors in the cases he tries.

"It's unconstitutional to have women on juries," he protested to Judge John J. Newhall, when he found five women on a jury, but the court overruled him.

But Scott had five peremptory challenges left and he used all of them to get rid of the women, winning a judgment with 12 men.

Women, Children Evacuating Nicaragua

RELATIVES OF MARINES ARE LEAVING

SCENE OF DESOLATION LEFT BEHIND; TAKE PLANES TO U. S.

BY WILLIAM H. EWING,

The Associated Press

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 3.—Leaving behind them scenes of desolation, some 200 wives and children of United States marines were evacuating Managua today for Corinto in Pan American Airway and navy planes.

Thirty-eight persons including Mrs. James F. Dickey, whose husband was killed, and Major Joseph E. Murray, whose wife was killed, were the first to go. They were carried in three Pan-American planes handled by Pilots Moore, Paschal and Turner.

To Return Home

These planes were expected to reach Corinto during the day and the passengers will board the transport Chaumont, bound for San Francisco, and the navy ship Relief, sailing for New York.

It was an inspiring sight to see the grim faces of the little tots responding with smiles when told that Santa Claus was waiting for them in Corinto. Departure of wives and children lifted a load of worry from the minds of husbands who will continue their heroic task of relief and rescue work.

A flurry was caused last midnight by reports of approaching bandits. The whole story was disbelieved by marine officers who pointed out that Managua was in open country and that never in the experience of the forces in Nicaragua have they been able to draw raiders from the hills. For about fifteen minutes, however, the report was received with excitement. The rumor came to a national guard officer over the

PIECE OF ICE GETS BLAME FOR CRASH

THINK ICE SHATTERED PROPELLOR BLADE OF ILL-FATED SHIP

BY OSCAR LEIDING
Associated Press Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON, April 3.— A small piece of ice may have sent America's most famous coach, Knute Rockne, and seven others to death in Tuesday's airplane crash.

Findings of department of commerce investigators, made known in a statement last night, showed the death plane may have fallen with a wing section rent asunder by vibration after ice shattered a propeller blade.

Blades Missing

The right outboard engine, on the side of the broken wing, was found with its three propeller blades and hub missing though the safety nut normally holding them in place remained on the end of the crankshaft.

"Investigators were advised," the statement said, "that ice had collected on the entering edge of the wing and it is assumed that ice had also collected around the propeller hub.

"It is possible that a substantial piece of ice may have broken loose from the hub and had been struck by one of the propeller blades, resulting in its breakage.

"The resultant shock to the en-

Brothers Jury Is Unable To Agree

ACQUITTAL FAVORED BY TEN TO TWO, REPORT SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

CRIMINAL COURTS BUILDING CHICAGO, April 3.—Reported to stand 10 to 2 for acquittal, a jury weighing the part of Leo V. Brothers in the slaying of Reporter Alfred (Jake) Lingle was locked in violent argument this morning—sixteen hours after retiring.

Earlier reports had it the jurors stood 9 to 3 for acquittal.

In a secluded and well-guarded corner of the Cook County Criminal Courts building, the 12 men debated whether their answer should be "yes"—that Brothers was the hireling assassin of the Tribune reporter; or "no" that he was not the man who crept behind Lingle in a pedestrian subway last June 9, and ended his life with a pistol shot.

Four Verdicts Possible

There were four possible verdicts hanging in the balance, namely, acquittal, or guilty, with three different sentences optional with the jury. Death in the electric chair, life imprisonment or a prison term of fourteen years to life. In the latter case the Illinois parole board has power to determine how much more than fourteen years a man must serve.

It was 2:24 p. m. yesterday when the fate of Brothers was transferred from the open court room, with its hundreds of jostling spectators, to the 12 expressionless jurymen.

Brothers, locked in a cell of the county jail, which connects with the criminal courts building by a winding corridor, was described by jailers as showing "extreme nervousness."

He paced to and fro in his cell;

Robber Gets Funds Not Safe In Bank

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—Mrs. Sophie Wolbe's four year old son was playing on the floor of her home yesterday when two men armed with pistols entered.

"I'll shoot him if you don't give us the money you took out of the bank," said one of them, as he pointed his pistol at the boy's head.

Mrs. Wolbe readily surrendered $3,500—her life savings, which she had just withdrawn because she thought it would not be safe in a bank.

MERCHANDISE TAKEN FROM FIRM HERE

BOSTON STORE LAST NIGHT ROBBED OF CLOTHING

Theft of wearing apparel valued at about $600 and $18 in cash from the Boston store, 917 Broadway, was discovered when the shop was opened for business at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Joe Safady, owner of the store, estimated that merchandise taken was worth from $600 to $700. The loot included 12 to 18 sweaters, several dozen work and dress shirts, several pairs of shoes, men's pajamas and underwear, and dresses and hose, according to Safady.

Bulk of the loot was men's apparel, he said. Other merchandise in the store was scattered and disarranged, and the rear door of the store was open, when the robbery was discovered this morning. The money was taken from a cash register which county officers said had been left unlocked.

The theft was reported to the sheriff's office. Members of the department expressed an opinion that at least one of the persons executing the robbery had hidden in the store and remained there when the store was closed shortly after 8 p. m. Thursday. Safady said all entrances to the store were locked when he left it Thursday night.

DELAY MITCHELL EXAMINING TRIAL

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Apr. 3.—Examining trial for Quanah 'Jack' Mitchell, 21, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of Dr. C. E. Collins, prominent O'Donnell physician, in O'Donnell Monday, will be held here this afternoon starting at 1 o'clock. It was scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock this morning but was delayed.

Much interest is being manifested in the hearing and crowds were gathered around the courthouse here before noon.

The hearing is expected to bring out details concerning the shooting which was said to have followed an argument between young Mitchell the physician and others in which the doctor evidently had taken the issue of another man. Sheriff B. L. Parker of Lynn county, who had been called to the scene of the shooting when an O'Donnell official sensed trouble between young Mitchell, his father-in-law and 'someone' soon after the former arrived in town, was a witness to the shooting. He was attempting to wrest a gun from the doctor when the young man opened fire, it was said.

JULIAN TRIAL SET TODAY

OIL MAN AND ANOTHER ARE CHARGED WITH ROBBERY EFFORT

(By The Associated Press)

LAREDO, April 3.—Indications this morning were that the examining trial for C. C. Julian, California and Oklahoma oil man, and C. C. Boren, charged with attempted robbery, would be postponed from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. District Attorney John A. Valls and other court officials were in the midst of trying a cattle theft case in district court which they hoped to complete by noon.

Meantime, Julian was held in the Webb county jail without bond, although Sheriff Condren had said "gilt edge" sureties for $10,000 bond would warrant his release.

Julian and C. C Boren were held on charges of attempting to take $50,000 from L. S. Bolling of San Antonio at the point of a gun. When arrested they refused to admit they were Julian and Boren.

Bolling said to have been at one time publicity director for the Julian enterprises in California, said the men came to his hotel room here and threatened him with a pistol, demanding the money of him. He said he owed Julian no money. They packed his clothes, he said, and were attempting to take him away from the hotel with them when they were arrested in the lobby.

Sobs In Court Not From Sympathy

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 3 (AP)—Everybody in Judge Silas Spengler's courtroom joined him in crying when he sobbed out "one hundred dollars fine or 60 days in jail" for Paul Weise, accused of driving a car while intoxicated—but not for sympathy for Mr. Weise.

Someone dropped a tear gas bomb, forcing a recess, and prompting the judge to cry out that there'll be a contempt case on his docket, if and when he found out who did it.

An instructed verdict of not guilty and a hung jury were results of trial in county court Thursday of Robert T. Boles and S. T. Shoff on charges of theft of a manifold from an airplane here.

The two were accused of having stolen a manifold from an airplane owned by Paul Rathbone, United States government agent. Both pleaded not guilty.

Man Talks First Time In Months

H. Harcom is talking today—talking until he is too hoarse to talk any more. He did that Thursday afternoon and then after he had slept and rested his throat during the night he started over today.

The reason for this was that Mr. Harcom, who lives at 1401 Avenue G, hadn't been able to speak for three months and had decided that he was to be dumb the rest of his life, when suddenly something popped in the back of his neck Thursday afternoon as he leaned back to look at the ceiling. Now he is talking again.

Mr. Harcom suffered a stroke of paralysis on the Sunday before New Year's Day and lost his power of speech at that time.

HIGHWAY CASE IS ARGUED

SUPREME COURT HEARS CHILDRESS CASE ON ROUTING OF ROAD

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 3—The supreme court Thursday heard arguments on a case from Childress county involving the right of the highway commission to reroute Highway 4 so it would miss Childress two miles.

W. W. Campbell of Lubbock, attorney for the protesting Childress county citizens said the action of the commission was neither legally nor morally right. He stated the people had voted bonds to pave the road, believing it would follow its old route, and the authorities had no power to use this money on a new location.

Protesting Childress county resident sought to enjoin the highway commission from changing the route. The trial court held against them, as did the court of civil appeals at Amarillo, with the chief justice dissenting.

TREASURY PREPARES TO RAISE MONEY FOR EXPENSES

WASHINGTON Apr. 3 (AP)—Additional objections to a tax increase were in the air today as the treasury prepared to raise expense money through new securities.

The expected $700,000,000 deficit grew more probable with latest treasury statements showing income tax collections for March $224,673,000 below those for last year.

At the same time House Republican Leader Tilson said he saw no necessity for a tax increase by the next congress. He added that "it should be the care of the next congress not to make necessary the levying of new taxes."

Senator Harris of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the senate appropriations committee, likewise joined opponents of proposed further demands on taxpayers. He said he believed his party would co-operate to hold down appropriations at the next session.

After a conference with the president, Tilson agreed with others that no more money would be needed for operations of the farm board, which he said "has failed" to stabilize prices.

The Harris forecast was that expenses can be reduced sufficently to forestall a tax hike. He supported the view of Chairman Jones of the senate appropriations committee that bonds should not be issued to meet the deficit. Republicans, who controlled both the house and senate last session, he asserted, should get any blame there was for extravagance.

HIGH LIFE BEHIND SCENES IN FILMDOM ARE EXPOSED

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 3—High life behind the scenes in filmdom as described in the testimony of Jocelyn Lee, re-haired film actress, included an episode in which she found her film director husband and another woman together, sans clothing, in the home of Ivan St. Johns a publicity man.

Testifying in the divorce suit hearing of Luther Reed, her husband, Miss Lee said she and a detective traced the director to the St. Johns home one night.

"The detective and I went up the steps outside of Ivan St. Johns' house," she said, "until I came to a window where I could see in. I heard my husband's voice and that of a woman.

"Finally, I couldn't stand it any longer and I busted in through the French window. There was a woman sitting on the edge of the bed. At the foot of the bed was Mr. Reed. Both were staring at me.

"The girl, whom I did not recognize, grabbed some clothing from the chair and ran out of the room. Mr. Reed began swearing and told me I had a lot of nerve to come busting in on him like that."

"What did you do?" asked her attorney.

"He hit me. I hit him back."

"What with?"

"A cane I was carrying. Then I tried to grab the girl's clothes for evidence. Mr. Reed snatched them away from me."

On cross-examination Miss Lee said a neighbor had pulled a gun on her and the detective when he caught them prowling through his yard, but said he withdrew his objections.

Miss Lee described another disagreement with her husband in front of his residence January 3, when she said she was knocked down, kicked and beaten.

COOKING CROQUETTES AND ROASTING COFFEE HAVE MUCH IN COMMON

Success Depends Upon the Rule—A Little at a Time

Careful cooks do not crowd too many croquettes into the hot fat because they lower the temperature and then absorb grease. Cooking a few at a time prevents this.

In roasting coffee there is similar difficulty when too much is roasted at once. It is impossible to control the heat and often, as a result, part of the batch is overdone and part underdone. This causes variation in flavor.

Hills Bros., following the rule in the croquette recipe, roast only a few pounds of coffee at a time by their patented, continuous process—Controlled Roasting. There is no variation in the roast because there is accurate control of the heat, also of the flow of coffee through the roasters. A rare, uniform flavor is developed such as no other coffee has.

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee in vacuum cans that keep it fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed from the cans when they are packed, and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

EL PASO, Apr. 3. (AP)—A verdict of suicide was returned yesterday when Mrs. Everett Russell of Romero was found dead of poison at a hotel here. The door to her room, locked from the inside, had to be smashed. She was believed to have killed herself while brooding over the suicide some months ago of her husband.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

YOUNGSTERS AIDED

FROM THAT world-famed philosopher and champion of the average family and their children, John Dewey, I received a letter concerning "Pioneer Youth." And let me add I once sat at the feet of Professor John Dewey as his pupil. I quote his letter in part:

"Dear Dr. Myers: 'I would like to play with the children more than I do, but I'm too tired even when I have the time. . . . And my man is so tired when he comes home from work that he just lies down and rests and never plays with the children.'

"A working-class mother interviewed by the authors of Middletown thus explains why fatigue on the job, or at housework never done, prevents the giving of much time to the day-by-day lives of the children. That condition prevails generally in homes of the working class.

"I am writing you to commend Pioneer Youth of America, an organization directly concerned about the children from such homes. It is helping the boys and girls of American workers to livelier interests in their world of work and play and to more creative uses of leisure.

* * *

"How Pioneer Youth is also developing social intelligence among children is described in the enclosed folder, which is worth a careful reading."

At the head of the folder he refers to is the legend, "Pioneer Youth—A Movement for Workers' Children."

Pioneer Youth is concerned with: Workers' Children—A free-time activity program of camps and clubs primarily, though not exclusively, for the children of workers—boys and girls from 9 to 18 years of age. Children from homes representing more than 100 labor unions have participated in the activities which are inter-racial and non-sectarian.

Creative Education, Not Propaganda—Pioneer Youth begins with activities vital to the children, and provides opportunities for the creative development of their interests and capacities. In place of passive, uncritical conformity to authority, it cultivates a spirit of eager inquiry.

* * *

Social Idealism—As opposed to influences which make for a war spirit or personal acquisitiveness in youth, Pioneer Youth wants children to know the movements which make for peace, racial understanding, and economic justice. It aims to prepare youth for active participation in the work of reconstructing society.

Those interested in this movement should write to "Pioneer Youth of America," 45 Astor place, New York City.

Professor William Heard Kilpatrick says:

"From my knowledge of the underlying principles set forth by Pioneer Youth, and from my acquaintance with those in charge, I am of the opinion that of all youth organizations known to me it best accords with the foremost educational principles as I myself understand them."

MILK PRICES ARE PROBED

MAJOR CREAMERIES AT WICHITA FALLS ARE SILENT ON QUIZ

WICHITA FALLS, Apr. 3. (AP)—Officials of the three major creamery companies of Wichita Falls declined to comment Thursday night on the investigation of milk prices in North Texas by agents of the attorney general's department.

Conditions in the dairy industry of his section have been chaotic for more than a year. Prices paid producers have declined steadily, buyers pointing out there was a large surplus of milk in this area. This decline in price has resulted recently in several meetings of milk producers, who charged that purchasing creameries had refused them the right to "skim" a portion of their milk and sell the sour cream derived from this operation. Producers charged they were told to "market all or none" of their milk with local companies.

Charges Denied

These charges were subsequently denied by the principal purchasers who said they merely raised the bar against competition with retail sales of producers from whom they were buying milk. No objection was offered to the marketing of sour cream, the purchasers said. Producers have recently appealed to the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce to aid them in disposing of their product, claiming that the industry faced extinction under present conditions.

Prices paid producers have declined steadily here for a year. The price of milk to consumers was reduced for the first time in January, dropping from 15 to 14 cents a quart. Subsequently on March 19 a reduction of two cents a quart was announced by creameries.

Retiring Officers Are Complimented At Party Given For DFD Social Club

Miss Josephine Caraway entertained Thursday evening complimentary to retiring officers in the D. F. D. club of Texas Technological college. The affair was given in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel.

Miss Faye Foote, president; Miss Sarah Price, vice-president; Miss Kathleen Harman, business manager, and Miss Ruth Sparks, secretary, who served during the past year, were named as honor guests.

New officers in the club are Miss Christine Denney, president; Miss Edith Sanders, vice-president; Miss Louise Sneed, secretary; Miss Mildred Price, social chairman, and Miss Leona Rodden, reporter.

The Easter motif was featured in appointments at tables arranged for bridge. Individual tallies with buttons forming small faces and lettered rhymes were used. Preceding the bridge games an installation service was conducted for new officers.

Miss Louise Sneed won high score for club members and Miss Wanda Butler made high score among guests who played. Table cuts were presented to Misses Denney, Sparks, Betty Irby and Harriett Swain.

Miss Azora Adams was introduced as a new member. Other members on the guest list included Misses Edith Sanders, Sarah Price, Mildred Price, Fannie Sue Dunn, Harman Rodden, Denney, Martha Knight, Foote, Sparks, Sneed, Irby, Creta Herndon and Annah Jo Pendleton. Special guests were Misses Alice Millican, Wanda Butler, Julia Slough and Harriett Swain.

The club is to go in a unit to the Easter sunrise service at Texas Technological college Sunday morning and from there will go to the Hilton hotel for a breakfast. Misses Leona Rodden and Azora Adams will be hostesses on this occasion.

Twenty-two North Carolina herds were placed on the 1930 "honor roll" of the National Dairy association.

POP! GOES A BALLOON

A BIG, airy package of some sort of soap bubbles may be all very well, but don't let it make you think that it contains more soap than White King's compact carton.

For White King Granulated Soap is nothing but the purest vegetable-oil soap made, granulated for convenience. It packs like sugar, so you can be sure you're not spending money for air. And White King is so fine in quality that it's safe for the sheerest lingerie, yet effective for the heaviest blankets, the greasiest dishes.

The economy of White King Granulated Soap is surprising. A teaspoonful for the wash basin, a cupful for the washing machine—that's plenty. Try it today. Sold by your grocer.

DEMONSTRATE TERRACING

MOVING PICTURES MAY BE TAKEN TODAY ON BEEBE'S FARM

Demonstration of the construction of terraces with different kinds of machinery will be held today on the Beebe farm near Wolffarth. Moving pictures probably will be taken of the all-day event. Coffee and sandwiches will be served at noon.

The terracing demonstration, like a mass meeting held here Thursday night, is a part of a soil and water conservation tour sponsored by the Federal Land bank of Houston, Texas A. & M. college, and the Fort Worth & Denver City railway. The demonstration was scheduled to get under way at 10 a. m.

Representatives of the three sponsoring organizations appeared on the program of education in terracing, which was held in the district courtroom Thursday night. About sixty persons attended the meeting. Stereopticon slides were used to illustrate the talks.

A. K. Short, conservation and terracing agent for the Federal land bank of Houston; M. R. Bentley, extension farm engineer at Texas A. and M. college at College Station, M. B. Oates, Ft. Worth and Denver City railway farm agent of Wichita Falls, arrived in Lubbock Thursday afternoon.

In his discussion of terracing problems as concerning the greater productivity of land, Oates said: "When the southern cotton farmer can raise enough food stuff on his place to feed his family and livestock, the cotton problem will be solved."

Because of the poor attendance at the first meeting and demonstration at Spur, a second will be held there Saturday, Mr. Eaton announced.

CLINICAL SOCIETY TOLD THAT MANY DISEASES CAN BE DETECTED IN EYE

DALLAS, Apr. 3. (AP)—Many serious general diseases can be diagnosed by a careful study of the eye, members of the Dallas Southern Clinical society were told by Conrad Berens of New York.

Kidney disease, tuberculosis, diabetes and many other general ailments are first detected by appearance of the back of the eye, he said.

Can Be Cured

"Diseases of the eyelids, the skin lining the eyelids, called the conjunctiva, and the window of the eye, called the cornea, often indicate general diseases which require treatment," Dr. Berens said. "If the patient is treated promptly for these ailments, as detected in the eye, he can be prevented from becoming a chronic invalid.

"A study of the muscles of the eye and movements of the eyeball, frequently indicate the necessity for treatment of the brain, blood diseases and diseases of other parts of the body. The condition of the pupil may indicate the beginning of a goiter, disease of the spinal cord and frequently points to disease of the brain. A study of the inside of the eye, which is only an expanded part of the brain, often gives the earliest sign of brain tumor and other serious disease of the brain."

Dr. John R. Caulk of St. Louis, professor of clinical genito-urinary surgery at Washington university, said a majority of kidney ailment cases can be cured without bringing the patients under the knife.

He said that in 80 to 85 per cent of the cases, cure of kidney troubles without resorting to surgery, and principally with the use of instruments employed in making a diagnosis, was possible. Results in saving lives are far greater, he added.

ITALIAN CHILDREN WORK

ROME (AP)—Child labor, under the facist regime, shows a decrease of 34 per cent among children of 12 years but increases of 1.7 per cent for 14 years, of 1.6 for 15 years and 5.8 for 16 years, the comparison being with pre-war conditions.

Bootlegger Holds Two Pro Officers

HOUSTON, April 3 (AP)—Details of how a bootlegger captured two prohibition agents and made them stand for more than five hours with their hands upraised while debating the advisability of shooting them, were revealed by federal officers here today.

Agents W. W. Alexander and R. M. Staley were the victims.

The agents reported that at noon Wednesday they entered a bootlegging establishment and ordered three gallons of liquor. On receiving the liquor, they stated, they produced a warrant and handed it to the bootlegger.

The bootlegger produced a gun and commanded the agents to "stretch 'em."

For five hours the agents were held captive, they reported to Deputy Administrator C. H. Kellogg, and finally liberated.

Thought For Today

Dreams

A practical world has little use for dreamers, unless they are the kind whose dreams can be translated into dollars and cents by a shrewd promoter. Mr. George Russell, the famous "AE" of Irish poetry, who told an American audience the other night to cultivate dreams as a release for hidden genius, probably does not expect that very many people will take him seriously. Nevertheless, in a sadly imperfect world there ought to be plenty of us ready to adopt any device for rounding off the sharp corners of existence.

That was how Mr. Russell's own dreams began. As a young man, he worked in an office, and he hated it. He found that the best way out was to create a dream world of his own in which he might live in the evenings. He devoted himself to this venture, night after night, then he found that dreams began to come to him unsought developing within him a genius whose existence he had hardly suspected. Poetry came to him while he slept, just as it did to Coleridge. The unreal world became real, and life became the richer for it.

All of this does not seem to have much practical relationship to the affairs of everyday life. Yet the ordinary man spends a good deal of his spare time trying to devise ways of making his life a little bit more endurable, a little bit more happy; and Mr. Russell's prescription is the one most of us come to sooner or later.

For the world is a different place to the dreamer. Its pitiless realities do not dismay him quite so much for he senses another world behind the realities. He has invented a place of his own; and if it does not really exist he knows that it ought to, and he feels illogically, that some day it will.

And that is the peculiar value of dreams. In the course of centuries they do, somehow, get transposed into fact. Life today is conditioned by the forgotten dreams of millions of men who have been dead for centuries. Things go a little bit more easily because of those forgotten dreams; a little bit of cruelty and hardness has been taken out of the world because of them.

This, perhaps, was hardly what Mr. Russell had in mind. He was talking chiefly of poetry. But what is poetry, after all, but a kind of dreaming set down on paper?

The poet writes what he writes because of his dreams—or his visions, if you prefer that word; and if he is a great poet the world shares in his dreams, and takes them seriously, and sooner or later tries to shape some part of its daily routine in accordance with them. The "practical man" scorns dreams, of course; but he lives by them without knowing it.

Usefulness

Those who claim that the period of a man's usefulness is very brief will find an interesting exception in W. E. Miller, who at the age of 97, is an active choir singer, tenor and director of the municipal chorus of Los Angeles.

There is no reason why a man's ability and accomplishment should be limited to a certain prescribed area of time. Some men are never able to add anything to the world's work. Some are productive for a little while. Some accomplish through the years. So long as people are physically, mentally and socially able to carry on there is no reason why they should be relegated to a rocking chair in an upstairs sitting room in an institution somewhere, or in the back parlor of a private home.

There are a great many pitiful cases in the world today of men who are able to earn a living, but because they have lived long enough to dispel the novelty that surrounds emotions and accomplishment they are put on the non-active list.

Certainly Mr. Miller is deserving of praise for the ability which he has preserved so splendidly that it is able to last him for nearly 100 years.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says some people don't care how they act—and neither does anyone else.

* * *

A federal law is one passed by Congress, signed by the President and modified by a jury to fit the sympathies of its locality.

* * *

WHILE not greatly addicted to "home-town-boy-makes-good" editorials and although he rarely sits up at night reading the works of Horatio Alger, jr., The Plainsman is thoroughly appreciative of hard won success—particularly, as is human nature—when it come to a friend.

* * *

Yesterday The Journal carried a news story from El Paso, telling of the purchase of the El Paso Morning and Sunday Times by Dorrance Roderick. As everyone knows, the El Paso Times is one of the most important daily newspapers in Texas and the Southwest and Dorrance Roderick's rise to its ownership has behind it a story rich in romance—a story of a young man who learned to crawl before he walked, to walk before he ran.

* * *

Hundreds of Lubbock and South Plains people who knew him and liked to call him 'Rod' when he was here, remember well "that young fellow from Oklahoma" who, almost single-handed, revolutionized the newspaper business in this city and section. And hundreds of others, who have heard of him from friends and who, perhaps, have formed a passing acquaintanceship with him on his visits to Lubbock, are interested in his meteoric ascension to a point near the top of the publishing business in the Southwest.

* * *

GROWING reminiscent The Plainsman looks back a scant seven years to The Plains Journal—then a weekly newspaper only shortly revamped from a monthly agricultural magazine. He sees in his mind, as he then saw in fact, the young man who is now owner of a great newspaper, back near the little old press which at that time was the largest press between Amarillo and Abilene, Wichita Falls and Albuquerque. The Plainsman sees Dorrance Roderick, whose pay check then was considerably less for the month than are his earnings now for a week, tieing out circulation bundles that the 2,000 or so subscribers might be sure and get their weekly news. He sees Dorrance Roderick working as hard to sell a ten inch advertisement as he now works to sign a 20,000 inch advertising contract; sees him selling and writing a $5 order for job printing with the same sense of satisfaction that he now shows in publishing a metropolitan newspaper.

* * *

And, it seems to The Plainsman, these homely reminiscences are symbolic of "Rod's" swift, unerring climb up the ladder of business success. For back of the hours of thought and planning, back of the carefully laid transactions which brought him his early financial victories, he has never been too important, too 'high and mighty' to be on friendly terms with everyone on the paper from the galley-boy to editor—to do some small task, no matter how lowly.

* * *

Dorrance Roderick's record to date—and his friends will tell you that he's only begun—makes an intriguing story and The Plainsman could write for columns, setting forth this, that and the other anecdote of "Rod's" activities before and during his residence in Lubbock. Yet accompanying the story—tucked behind the scenes—is a fact too important to be overlooked here. It is the fact that in a new, growing country such as the Southwest, any success is possible through the right sort of effort.

* * *

THE Roderick record is a newspaper record. But every branch of business, every profession, offers to the capable, untiring, visionary individual the same opportunity for success that the publishing business has netted the former Lubbock citizen. All fields are virgin. The surface of business in all lines is but scratched. To the average man, as The Plainsman sees it, the success of 'that young fellow from Oklahoma', as oldtimers here called him, is but an example of what can be done if the spirit and flesh are willing.

* * *

Opportunity is here. It beckons—it even challenges its children all over Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. And while some are content to sit and cry over reverses, who are pleased to crawl into their shells at the least sign of a business squall, there is always one in every branch of effort, who sets his jaw, says "I will" —then does it.

Pan-American Day Celebration April 14 To Be Marked By Booming Guns, Speeches, Music And Tree Planting

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Three cheers and a whoop for Pan-American Day, which comes on April 14, by presidential proclamation! Guns will boom, more pigeons will be released than were ever before gathered in one place, a tree will be planted with the aid of 21 distinguished shovelers and there will be speeches by the president and other dignitaries. The Navy band will play at noon, the Army band in the afternoon and the Marine band at night.

That's only part of the Washington show. Elsewhere in this country and in most of the Latin American capitals there will be other celebrations of varying elaborateness and enthusiasm.

This is the first Pan-American Day. When President Hoover formally proclaimed it, he ordered the Star-Spangled Banner displayed on all government buildings on that date and invited "the schools, civic associations and people of the United States generally to observe the day with appropriate [illegible] thereby giving expression to the spirit of continental [illegible] to the sentiment of cordiality and friendly feeling which the government and people of the United States entertain toward the peoples and governments of the other republics of the American continent."

Hoover To Speak

At least 15 other presidents in this hemisphere have made similar holiday proclamations.

The Navy band will start playing Latin American music at noon at the Pan-American Union here and within half an hour President Hoover will be addressing the governing board of the union, followed by Secretary of State Stimson and Ambassador Tellez of Mexico—dean of the diplomatic corps. Then everybody will go to the esplanade where will be gathered 500 selected students from high schools and colleges around here, to be addressed by Cuban Ambassador Ferrara. A Latin American student will make a three-minute speech and an American student will reply. Secretary Stimson speaks again and presents a hundred sets of the flags of the American republics to the schools and colleges represented.

Then there is to be more music followed by the planting in the big wide Pan-American Union yard of what is to be known as the "Pan-American oak." Stimson and the ambassador, minister or charge d'affaires of each of the other American republics will toss in a shovelful of dirt.

To Release 2000 Pigeons

After the 21st shovelful goes into the hole, Stimson will make some remark about "doves of peace" hovering over this hemisphere. And all of a sudden 2000 doves—carrier pigeons—will be liberated and 4000 wings will start flapping for home. Anyway, that is what Counsellor Franklin Adams of the Pan-American Union promises, and it certainly means more doves than were ever collected anywhere before.

The whole 2000 will be started off in from five to seven seconds and none of them will have more than 300 miles to fly because this is too early in the pigeon season to expect pigeons to fly much longer distances than that. Various pigeon clubs in the east have promised to supply the birds and it will be a swell sight for the movies.

The above-mentioned ceremonies will be broadcast by the two big radio chains and will also be carried on half a dozen short wavelengths to South America, where 317 stations have been invited to pick up and re-broadcast.

The opening of the baseball season happens to fall on Pan-American Day, so there will be the 21 flags of the Americas raised at the Washington ball park while President Hoover looks on and the Army band plays snatches of the various Latin American anthems. In an alley alongside the park a 75 gun will be stationed to fire a 21-gun salute, each gun going off as a flag hits the top of the pole. It's another of those coincidences that 21 is the number of guns in a presidential salute as well as the number of the western hemisphere republics.

Plenty of Music

Flags will fly all over Washington, on buildings and in the streets. In the evening the Metropolitan Opera season opens here and the orchestra is expected to open up with Victor Herbert's "Pan-Americana" before it breaks into "La Tosca." Officially, however, there will be the Marine band at the Pan-American Union, playing Latin American pieces between offerings by Josefina Meca, the Cuban coloratura soprano, and Hector de Lara, the Mexican baritone.

By radio and one thing and another, Pan-Americanism will be advertised to many millions. Twelve hundred women's clubs have been asked to listen in and arrange special programs. Schools and Pan-American societies elsewhere will put on shows. Reports on what will be done in Latin American capitals haven't yet been received, but the Latins usually go in for such things in a big way.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1439 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Star Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

MEAT—FREE DIET

The effect of meat on the body was discussed in this column a few months ago when some new work on the subject was reported. Since then a hot debate occasioned in part by the very report we discussed has been shaking certain portions of the medical world. Since it is a matter of immediate concern to a number of people, I will attempt to summarize the points made, without prejudice to either side.

Dr. Clendening

The basis of the controversy is the widespread and popular belief that meat is harmful to the body and that man is naturally a vegetable and fruit-eating animal. In spite of the wide acceptance of this view there is no scientific proof of it. What the modern investigators of the subject have tried to do is to show by experiment that either meat is or is not harmful.

The result, unfortunately, is that one large group of honest and careful investigators has concluded from their work that meat is harmful while an equal or even larger group of equally honest and careful investigators has concluded that meat in large quantities does no harm whatever.

And there are even some who believe that meat is a necessary article of diet. Still others, a small group, who think it can be used as an exclusive diet.

The difficulty of investigation is that groups of people who eat nothing but meat and groups of people who eat nothing but vegetables—for purposes of comparison—are not easy to find. Most people on earth, quite properly, live on a mixed diet.

Animals come to mind as examples. Somebody in discussing it the other day pointed to the elephant as an example of a vegetarian possessing longevity. But immediately somebody else pointed to the crocodile as an example of a meat eater who also lives a long time. Meat eating dogs live longer than vegetable eating rabbits. So there you are. Animals, anyway, cannot be taken as exact standards for men in this respect.

The nearest we have to an exclusively meat eating race is the Eskimo. Thomas, in an article, "The Health, of a Carnivorous Race," has reported that they show no more high blood pressure or Bright's disease than other races.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

W.: "I have been given some belongings of a person who died of cancer. Is there any danger, from their use, of contracting the disease?"

Answer: The answer can be quite positive in the negative.

M., Warrensburg, N. Y.: "Is there any help for a person who is sterile? It means my whole life."

Answer: Many treatments of sterility, both in men and women, are known and practiced by reputable physicians. The treatment must be adjusted to the individual case. Advertising physicians and those who announce on the radio should be avoided.

In New York With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

NEW YORK, April 3 — The voices of kings, statesmen and other dignitaries, sent out over the air circuits recently by Time's newsreel broadcast, are those of half a dozen actors who spend many hours weekly trying to achieve an authentic duplication of the original.

In several instances the similarities have had the uncanny life-like quality of a clever caricature—and in so far as I can find out, may be founding an entirely new school of mimicry.

The "man who would be king" for a few minutes upon the ether, actually repeats the words uttered by the king upon some occasion and, in the best of his ability, apes the voice of the king. Thus is an effort at complete illusion being attempted; for since the auditor cannot see the actor, there but for the grace of space is the king, the president, the mayor or the person impersonated.

* * *

But let me take you behind the scenes for a few moments to witness how this is done.

Bill Adams, who has been the "Uncle Henry" of radio programs, was cast variously as "Big Bill" Thompson, of Chicago, and Nick Longworth, of Washington.

Before going on in the first role, Adams had sat through a dozen showings of a talking picture in which Thompson was speaking and had listened to reproductions of Thompson's radio talks until he was able to mimic the Chicago mayoralty figure.

It so happened that some time ago, Adams had lived in Washington and had known Speaker Longworth. It needed but a bit of memory refreshing to recall the speaker's method of expression. Two Washington newspaper men were called in on a special preview which I attended and gave their O. K. to the impersonation.

It was Frank Redick, another actor, who hit so close to the voice peculiarities of Mayor Jimmy Walker that New Yorkers refused to believe that it was not the playboy-mayor himself.

Redick had a slight advantage, in as much as Walker appears frequently as a speechmaker. The actor attended half a dozen meetings and banquets at which Walker spoke, and then hurried off to practice his imitation.

Peter de Cordoba, himself of Spanish blood, was cast as the king of Spain because he had a working knowledge of the king's voice.

Reynolds Evans went in as King Carol after listening to phonograph records and sound tracks from the movie reels.

So it has gone—and so it goes on at the moment.

* * *

But it's just the beginning. The time may not be far off when actors will be as thick as newspaper reporters at public affairs, making notes of the words and catching the methods of pronunciation and vocal inflection—then dashing back to a studio to make a mimicked record.

This, I am told, is the first experiment in a radio newsreel wherein an actual episode in the news is recreated, with the exact words of all concerned and the drama of the situation stressed.

There have been, of course—and still are—any number of radio figures who interpret the news of the day or use their newspaper and magazine experiences as a background for current events.

There is, at the moment, considerable headscratchings in a dozen different offices as various conferences try to decide just how far it will be possible to go in the dramatization of real events.

Meanwhile, actors go about the talkie houses and listen in over the radio, watching for a famous voice that lends itself to parody and caricature.

The extent of callisthenics for the average American, it would seem, is between hands up and thumbs down.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The little poor boys cried, "Oh, gee! You make us happy as can be. These apples taste real good and we have lost our hunger now. Lets play some games. 'Twill be real fun. Can all you little fellows run? If so, we'll have a game of tag. Come on, we'll show you how."

"Oh, we know tag," wee Clowny cried. "But, anyhow, it shall be tried. And I'll be 'it' to start with. Everybody start to run. There's be no cheating. Not a bit! The youngster whom I catch is 'it.' Be careful! I can run real fast. I'll show you how it's done.

The whole bunch scampered here and there and Clowny chased them everywhere. The Travel Man sat down and watched. In 'bout an hour he cried, "It's time to stop 'cause we must go. We're leaving here today, you know. I'll buy some tickets for a train. Then we will take a ride."

Calcutta soon was left behind. Said Coppy, "What are we to find when we arrive at our next stop? And, just where are we bound?" The Travel Man said, "Well, today, we're on our way to Mandalay. It is a pretty city and some fine things will be found."

They traveled on for hours and hours and passed through sunshine and through showers. And then they reached old Mandalay and promptly left the train. One of the first things that they saw filled every Tinymite with awe. They promptly knew that this visit was not to be made in vain.

It was a dragon statue, high, that almost seemed to touch the sky. The Tinies listened closely as they heard their escort say, "This guards the sacred precincts here and thus the natives have no fear. They're satisfied the sentinel will keep bad things away."

KONJOLA IS FOE TO SUFFERING

Misery, In Tens Of Thousands Of Cases, Put To End By This Remarkable Medicine

What joy can life hold for the victims of ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels; for victims of rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness? Don't be discouraged . . . disheartened. Give Konjola's 29 ingredients a chance.

Mrs. Eagleton Fisher

Consider what this medicine did for Mrs Eagleton Fisher, 4106 Victor street, Dallas. Read her words: "I had rheumatism all over my body; fingers and limbs were stiff, sore, and swollen. I endured agony for five years. No wonder I will always be a booster for Konjola, for in two weeks the swelling and pain began to leave."

Now consider the voluntary statement of Mr. Frank S. English, 2420½ Elm street, Dallas, who declares: "Nine years I suffered with rheumatism in my limbs, and kidney trouble was another source of worry. My feet were badly swollen and at times I could not raise my arms to my head. Three bottles of Konjola and pain and swelling are gone; kidneys are normal, and I feel better in general than in years."

Mr Frank S. English

And this is what Mrs. B. Carpenter, 2108 N. St. Paul street, Dallas, says: "Stomach and kidney trouble kept me in bed seven months. My appetite was poor, and lightest foods caused gas, bloating, and awful pain. But what a difference Konjola made. I took six bottles, and can eat anything. Konjola is grand."

Mrs. B. Carpenter

The files of Konjola fairly overflow with such endorsements. Konjola works swiftly, and time after time seems at its best in the stubborn cases that have defied all else tried. Konjola is sold in every good drug store. Demand Konjola, and beware of substitution. Adv.

Health of China's future citizens will lie partly in the hands of Dr. William W. Peter, above, director of the Health Service of the Cleanliness Institute of New York. A recognized authority on hygienic conditions in the Orient, he has lectured widely in far eastern medical schools.

WHEN SYSTEM NEEDS CLEANING

Take Black-Draught To Help Throw Out the Poisons Attending Constipation.

"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught off and on for twenty-five years, and have found it to be a good medicine," writes Mr. Dave Stewart, of 1912 East Second Street, Austin, Texas. This medicine, he adds, had been used in his father's home for many years and was "our general family medicine."

"My health was always good. About all I ever took I used for constipation and bilious, sick headaches.

"It is a fine medicine to take when a man gets up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish. After a course of it, I feel fine. It seems to rid the system of poisons which come from constipation."

A somewhat similar experience is described by Mr. M. T. Sandies, of 119 Williams Street, Columbia, S. C., who says:

"About all the medicine I need is a laxative for constipation. When I get bilious or constipated, I suffer from sick headache, and feel dull, tired and stupid. Then I take a dose of Black-Draught and get relief. It is splendid to cleanse the system." BA-917

Citizens Seeking To Abolish County

HANKAMPER, April 3 (AP)—Fifty citizens of Chambers county last night drafted a petition to the commisioners' court asking for an election to abolish the county. They asked that elections be held in Jefferson and Harris counties to authorize annexation of parts of Chambers county.

The movement is sponsored by the Chambers County Progressive league. Members of the league said the county was too poor to provide highways and was being taxed already above the value of the property in it.

Convicts Confess Prison Fire Plot

COLUMBUS, O., April 3 (AP) — Sole responsibility for the fire that took the lives of 320 prisoners at Ohio penitentiary last April 21 rested today on the shoulders of two men.

Solution of the plot that caused one of the greatest prison disasters in history came yesterday when Franklin County Prosecutor Donald J. Hoskins announced that Clinton Grate and Hugh Gibson, convicts, had confessed setting the fire with a view to delaying Warden Preston E. Thomas' construction program and because they objected to aiding in the building of a new cell block to house fellow prisoners.

DALLAS, April 3 (AP)—Charges of kidnaping two girls were filed here today against Virgil and Fred Breadwell, cousins. The complaints were signed by Delmar Hogue, father of one of the girls. CHILD CONTACT IS URGED

GEORGE DUPREE TALKS TO KIWANIS CLUB ON THURSDAY

Closer contact with underprivileged children was advocated by George Dupree, Lubbock attorney, at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at noon Thursday at the Lubbock hotel. Ki N. Clapp was in charge of the program.

"The thing needed most in this work for underprivileged children isn't money but more manpower," Mr. Dupree said. It's easy to pass resolutions, to subscribe to drives and such but the efforts of the individual in developing friendship with boys is the thing that counts."

Work Is Cited

Citing the work of the Shrine hospitals for crippled children, Mr. Dupree pointed out that the members of the club could do a great work in locating children who need treatment for club feet, spinal troubles and other ailments.

"We are negligent today in our duty to the underprivileged boy or girl," Mr. Dupree declared. "We should look around and give these kids a chance for their white alley." "There is a great lack of diligence on the part of thinking business men failing to perform services for them. Form a contract with a towheaded boy, let him tell you his troubles and what he does, let him know that his chances in the world are as good as anyone's . . . Straighten out the curl in his mentality, give him your friendship."

Report of two committees of the club, the membership and classification groups, preceded Mr. Dupree' talk. It was announced that eleven new members had been received in the club during the first quarter, making 111 the total membership now.

Mexican Will Face Charges After Raid

Charges that F. Carretto, a Mexican, contributed to the delinquency of his 15-year-old brother-in-law, Blass Chazez, by causing the youth to assist him in the illicit sale and transportation of liquor, probably will be filed in county court, according to County Attorney Vaughn Wilson.

Carretto and Chazez were arrested in the Mexican section here Tuesday night by members of the sheriff's department, who said they found six gallons of whisky on Carretto's premises and on the persons of the two.

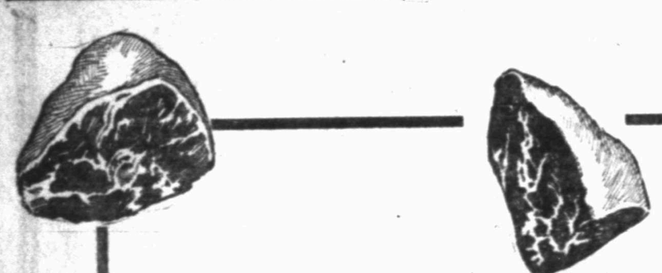

Both suspects were charged in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court with possession of whisky for sale. Carretto's bond subsequently was fixed at $750 by Justice Porter to await grand jury action, and the youth's case was transferred to juvenile court.

The United States postoffice department now handles a volume of magazines and newspapers 30 times that of 50 years ago.

LAUD LIFE OF CANTWELL

DEATH OF WICHITA FALLS TEACHER IS MOURNED HERE

The death of Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools at Wichita Falls, was mourned by two Lubbock school men as that of a personal friend as well as of a leader in state educational circles. Doctor Cantwell died Thursday.

Dean J. M. Gordon, of the school of liberal arts at Texas Technological college, knew Dr. Cantwell in Oklahoma and Texas and was associated with him in both states. M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, was associated with him at Corsicana, where he was principal of the high school when Dr. Cantwell was superintendent of schools.

Dr. Cantwell was head of the Corsicana schools for about ten years, Mr. Duncan said, going from there to Fort Worth where he headed the system. "I was principal of the high school for a year when he was superintendent," the school head said, "I was then elected president of Burleson college and moved to Greenville. I have kept in touch with him, however, since. He was, in my opinion, one of the outstanding school men of the state."

From Fort Worth, Dr. Cantwell went to Stillwater, Oklahoma, as president of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, serving there for six or seven years. Meantime, Dean Gordon while at Trinity university, had become acquainted with the educator and worked with him in state organizations.

"I went to Ada, Okla., in 1916 and was with the state teacher's college there and of course knew Dr. Cantwell at Stillwater," Dean Gordon said. "Later I went to Tulsa, with Kendall college, now the University of Tulsa. I knew him there also."

Some years ago Dr. Cantwell returned to Texas and for a short time was head of the state school at Gatesville. Later he went to Wichita Falls, about 1923, to lead the system. While there he started the junior college of that system.

"Dr. Cantwell was a graduate of both Baylor university and Yale," Dean Gordon said. "He was also a leading layman of the Methodist church and was active in the Wichita Falls Rotary club. The club sent him to Ostend when International Rotary was meeting there.

"One of his sons, Bob, a few years ago, made a record in a cross country airplane flight and won a lot of money. Bob was a good aviator."

As soon as word was received here of the death of Dr. Cantwell, both Dean Gordon and Mr. Duncan sent messages to Mrs. Cantwell.

Pal Of O. Henry Is Claimed By Death

WICHITA FALLS, April 3 (AP) — J. M. Kuykendall, a resident of Texas 50 years and a pal of O. Henry, then known only as Sidney Porter, when the two worked in the general land office at Austin, died here Thursday. He was 78 years old and was born in South Carolina.

Kuykendall lived for a time in Oklahoma and made the famous run when the Cheroke strip was opened for settlement. The body was forwarded to Dallas for burial. Survivors are one son, R. L. Kuykendall and three daughters, Mrs. W. E. Baker, Mrs. C. E. Garrison, and Mrs. H. E. Casper, all of Dallas.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Rosary and the Seven Sermons, one for each word of Christ as He died on the cross, was to be given in Spanish. This evening at 7:30 o'clock the service will be repeated in English.

TRUSTEES WILL BE ELECTED

ELECTIONS SATURDAY IN LUBBOCK, OTHER TOWNS OF AREA

School trustees will be elected Saturday for both city and rural districts in Lubbock and other South Plains counties. Three members of the board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent School districts also will be elected Saturday, voting being conducted at City hall.

In Lubbock county two trustees, W. A. Fincher for precinct 1 and J. L. Benton for precinct 2, retire this year. Mr. Fincher is a candidate, without opposition.

Three men are seeking the place of Mr. Benton, Dr. Adams of Slaton, G. A. Wilke and S. G. Meading.

Trustees, under the new regulations, will be named for three year terms instead of two as at present, in common school districts.

In many districts there will be hotly contested elections, while in others there is very little interest being shown.

The Avalanche has received reports of elections in some of the districts and counties over the South Plains. Owing to late filings, there may be some changes in the personnel of the candidates. Towns and counties with elections include the following:

Abernathy: candidates, L. M. Rankin, W. H. Crow, R. H. Anderson, John Snyder, Troy Stambaugh, G. L. Jackson and I. W. Adkisson.

Crosbyton outgoing, F. M. Edwards, O. W. Young and J. R. McDuff; candidates; J. R. McDuff, M. R. Hibbitts, Happy Dyer, Percy Lamar, J. H. Karr, Dr. F. A. Green and Sep Smith.

Floyd county: elections in each of the 30 common school districts and for two members of the county board, precinct 1 to fill the place of G. L. Snodgress; precinct 2, to fill place of J. F. Dollar. Holdover trustees are: J. H. Upton, No. 3; O. S. Miller, No. 4 and E. C. Nelson, No. 5.

Hale Center: outgoing, Silas Maggard, W. C. Wilhite, J. B. Gage and Clyde Phillips; candidates, J. D. Ivey, J. M. Henderson, Clyde Phillips, J. B. Gage, W. C. Wilhite, David Bates, Silas Maggard, W. J. Williams and J. W. Faust. Holdovers are; A. B. Teston, H. H. Hensley and J. L. Massey.

Lockney: candidates, T. H. Stewart, W. H. Counts, G. A. Barton, R. E. Patterson, E. R. Harris, George T. Meriwether, Arleigh Cooper and R. Ivey Thomas. Outgoing: Stewart Patterson and Counts. Holdovers, O. E. Stevenson, J. C. Thornton and E. H. Rankin.

O'Donnell: candidates, J. L. Shoemaker, M. B. Hood and B. L. Davis; outgoing, J. P. Bowlin, D. B. Ballew and J. A. Anderson.

Olton: candidates, D. A. Barnett, Jack Copehart, Don Bryant, Bunk Florney and Elmer McGill. Owing to there being two new places to make the board's complement of seven trustees, five men instead of three are to be chosen.

Post: three new trustees; holdovers, J. A. Stallings, W. F. Presson, Guy Speck and J. C. May.

Ropesville: outgoing, Bill Timmons, Mr. Bledsoe, Mr. Bagley and Mr. Townsend.

Ralls: four places to be filled.

Spur: four trustees to be chosen.

Snyder: outgoing trustees, J. S. Bradbury, Abe Rogers, George Northcutt.

Lynn county: H. M. Larkin's term as trustee at large and Clyde Shaw, precinct 1, expire; both candidates for reelection. All common school districts to elect for three years instead of two.

Slaton: candidates are, E. S. Brooks and Dr. W. E. Payne, two of the outgoing trustees; Briggs Robertson, Forney Henry, E. R. Legg and Olbert Self. L. T. Garland, third trustee to complete his term, is not a candidate.

FIFTEEN WILL ENTER RACE

PARRISH AMONG TEXAS SENATORS TO SEEK U. S. POSTS

Fifteen or more members of the Texas legislature, including Senator Pink L. Parrish, are preparing to appear as candidates for new and old congressional posts which will be available in Washington in 1932, reports from Austin indicate.

Senator Parrish is being groomed for the new Lubbock or 19th congressional district, the southern portion of the present 18th district.

Parrish Well Known

There are 22 counties that will comprise the new district for the South Plains. In a majority of these, Senator Parrish already has a following. He has participated in a number of state campaigns and thus has attained considerable pre-campaign strength.

Comprising the 19th district are the following counties: Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Knox, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Gaines, Borden, Dawson, Scurry, Motley and Throckmorton.

No Opposition

So far, Senator Parrish has had no opposition mentioned.

Besides Senator Parrish, other members of the Senate who have been prominently mentioned as probable congressional timber are: Grady Woodruff of Decatur; Julian Greer of Athens and Jake Loy of Sherman.

In the house, Speaker Fred Minor of Denison is reported looking towards the Potomac, along with J. W. Claunch of Snyder; Sherrill of Bellevue; Metcalfe; Farmer of Fort Worth; Ray Holder of Lancaster, Dallas county; Van Zandt of Tioga. Senator Hornsby of Austin also is mentioned.

WOULD ABOLISH OFFICE

AUSTIN, April 3 (AP)—A bill to abolish the office of district attorney in Limestone and Freestone counties was reported out favorably today by the house judiciary committee. The work would be assumed by the county attorneys.

CROWDS ATTEND FORD DISPLAY

The display of the complete line of Ford passenger and commercial cars and trucks, and exhibits showing how they are made, are attracting large crowds to the Ford show presented by George Benson local dealer, in cooperation with nearby dealers and the Dallas branch of the Ford Motor Company. The show is being held in a tent at 10th and J and will continue through Saturday being open to the public from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

A feature of the show is the moving picture depicting the manufacture of the Ford from the production of raw materials to the finished car. This picture gives one a comprehensive idea of quantity production and of the extent to which waste and by-products are utilized.

GANDHI TO GO TO CONFAB

COMMUNAL PROBLEMS TO BE TAKEN UP BY LEADER

KARACHI, India, April 3 (AP)—Accompanied by members of his cabinet, Mahatma Gandhi was en route to New Delhi today to solve the Moslem-Hindu communal problem before he attacks the greater struggle of Indian independence at the second round table conference in London.

Four husky bodyguards rode with him in his third-class compartment to prevent his admirers or his enemies from forcing their way in or smashing windows as occurred on his trip to the all India National congress.

Disciple Is Ill

Stricken with chicken-pox, Madeleine Slade, his English disciple, was taken to a hospital and was unable to follow her prophet. Physicians moved to forestall the spread of the disease to Gandhi, already suffering from a bad cold and exhausted with many weeks of political activity.

Before leaving Gandhi decided to limit the number of Indian delegates to the London conference to six, although he is entitled to 15 by the terms of the truce with Viceroy Irwin. He held that a small, compact delegation would be more successful than an unwieldy one.

GIVEN 15 YEARS

AUSTIN, Apr. 3. (AP)—Tom M. Carpenter, 47, was convicted of murder today by a jury in district court here which assessed a 15 year sentence. Carpenter had pleaded insanity in the killing of his wife, Mrs. Minnie Carpenter, in December.

Allen and Woodrow Hatfield, brothers who played on Lamar, Mo., athletic teams, now are freshman stars at University of Missouri.

Backache, Headache

Henderson, Texas—"I suffered continually with severe backache and blinding nervous headaches. I was forced to take to my bed each month and, in short, was a nervous wreck. Recalling to mind the marvelous results my mother had obtained from Dr. Pierce's medicines, I decided to quit the doctor and give this treatment a trial. After taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I gained eleven pounds, lost my headaches and backaches and have not been obliged to take to my bed since."—Mrs. J. Y. Welch. All dealers.

WUPPER WANTS TO RETURN

ADMITTED EMBEZZLER SEEKS TO MAKE GOOD AT HOME

PHILADELPHIA, April 3 (AP)—Paul Wupper, former president of the Beemer bank of Beemer, Neb., charged with embezzlement and bigamy, has expressed a desire to go back home and make good.

Arrested on a non-support and desertion charge by his second wife, who later brought the bigamy charge, Wupper was held without bail today to await extradition after his confession he was wanted for embezzlement was verified through Nebraska authorities.

Wupper had been in the county prison here three weeks since his arrest in a New York rooming house on the charge of deserting his second wife, Mrs. Hedwig Hirsch Brinkman, Philadelphia. He had used the name of Frederick Brinkman when he married here.

"He is a bad man and I hope he gets what he deserves for deceiving me," the second wife said today. She expressed hope she could have the marriage annulled soon, and said she thought she was entitled to the reward.

"He told me nothing at all of the affairs at the bank," she said. "It was all a great surprise. It wasn't his appearance that appealed to me. He won me by his smooth talk, and because I thought he was a man of unusually good character."

Wants Wives Together

After the hearing, Wupper asked for his second wife. "I'd like to get those two women together," he said, "I think I could appeal to their reason. If I can straighten out this bigamy I think my relatives will make good the money I owe the bank. I am sure I can pay back every cent.

"I was once considered one of the richest men in my part of Nebraska. People in Beemer thought so much of me that they made me mayor. Now I suppose they will want to put me in jail."

A 15-cent bounty on hawks in the lower Rio Grande valley has been offered in an effort to save the quail.

White? Not these clothes!

There was plenty of soap. The clothes were scrubbed thoroughly, and rinsed. But the water was hard. The soap mixed with the hard water, and formed a dirty ring around the basin—scum! The scum got into the fabric of the clothes. That's why the clothes weren't clean.

But they can be clean. How? By washing them in soft water. And how can hard water be made soft? By adding Melo. The water is now a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap; and the soap much more effective. Get a can today at your grocer's.

Scotland Yard's Newest Worry

Old stuff to America . . . but in London the crowds turn and gape . . . to see part of their "Bobbies" forsake helmet and truncheon for cap, motorcycle and the radio cruiser.

American speed cops on motorcycles, American radio squad cars and American police call boxes are now being adopted by England's famed detective headquarters in an effort to stem the outbreak of scientific American holdups, blamed on American gang movies

Lord Byng of Vimy. . . . The British military leader is now engaged in another kind of fight . . . that against "Americanized crime" in England. . . . As commissioner of the Metropolitan police in London, he is adopting American methods.

By DAVID L. BLUMENFELD

LONDON.

A SPORTS roadster with streamlined rumble and flashing silver body careened down Piccadilly with its exhaust wide open, scattering pedestrians right and left. The roar of its engine sounded like that of a fighting biplane. Traffic swerved, gyrated, drew to one side. Drivers of giant omnibuses and trucks, chauffeurs of smart limousines, turned their heads in amazement at the young man, long cigaret holder in his mouth, who drove his car like someone crazed down London's famous street.

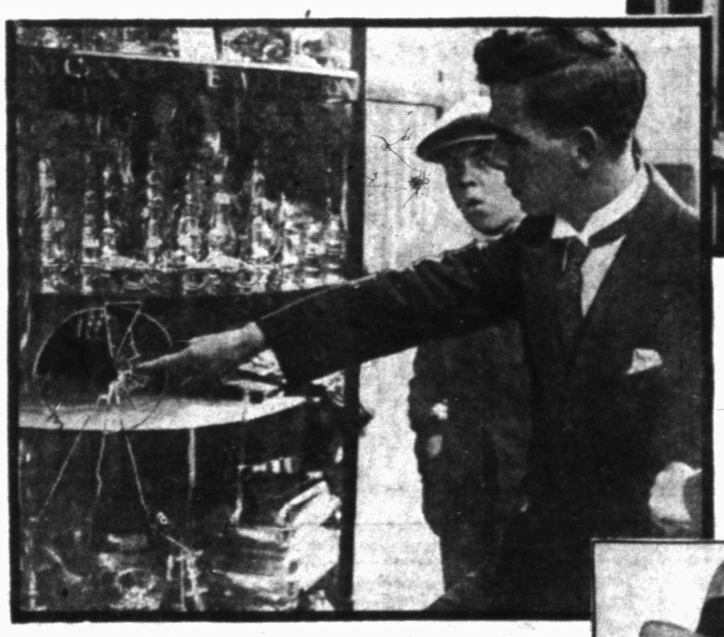

Hard behind the roaring roadster, yet unknown to the young man, came a motorcycle driven by a clean-jawed youngster in a blue uniform, looking as much like an American speed cop as anything which has ever been seen in London.

At the Circus end of Piccadilly the racing car was brought to a halt by a traffic jam, and the motorcycle slid alongside. The blue uniformed driver threw one leg over the saddle of his machine, mounted the runningboard of the roadster, and to the joy of the bus and lorry drivers assembled in the jam proceeded to bawl out that young man good and proper.

That was the first taste Londoners ever had of the new speed cops who have been placed on the roads of England in hundreds at the express order of Lord Byng, High Commissioner of His Majesty's police. The speed cops have been a long time coming, and the British public has now had a few weeks in which to study them at their work. They are modelled on the American plan and they are very much in evidence. They wear a blue uniform with peaked cap almost identical with that of a New York patrolman, save that the material is thick to withstand the cold, and that on the arm a white brassard is worn to distinguish them apart from other police. They are mounted on powerful green motorcycles, and the country sections leave for patrol with sidecar attachments which carry as fellow speed cop, whose duty it is to render aid in the case of accidents and to help in breakdowns.

BUT it was not alone to render aid for which the main arterial roads—and the by-ways—are now guarded by these motorcycle squads. For two years and more the public has been crying out for protection against motor thieves, road hogs and organized gangs of "bad eggs" who use automobiles for such nefarious purposes as road hold-ups, house pillaging, bank robberies and the like. Full publicity has been given in the newspapers for many months now to what is sometimes referred to as "American" crime.

By this is meant any form of crime which is carried out by modern scientific and mechanical means. Thus if a safe is blown open with the latest and most up-to-date gadgets, the robbers have been "working with the most modern American devices known to the underworlds of Chicago and New York," while a smash-and-grab raid on a jewelry store, in which the bandits use a high-powered motor car, comes under the category of "U. S. method store raid." For this America is given the blame. For the last 18 months or so a perfect stream of American crook talkies depicting underworld rackets, booze wars, cop and crook dramas have flooded the English moving picture houses, and these, coupled with the dramatized detective stories of Edgar Wallace, whose Chicago thriller "On the Spot" is still packing them in at theaters all over England, and the almost daily stories which appear in the newspapers about Al Capone and the racketeers of Chicago, have led the average British man in the street to regard America as the home of modernized crime, and to believe that all well-organized forms of it are the work of gangs which have at least one American member, or which are worked out after careful study of American ways in such matters.

Daily routine in America . . . but still shocking to Londoners. . . . The window of a New Bond Street jeweler's shop . . . smashed with a brick, in "American style."

IT is the firm belief of every Englishman who reads the penny press that "gangsters never tell," that every Chicagoan in London is a racketeer enjoying his ill-gotten gains, that sawed-off shotguns are openly for sale in any gunsmith's either in New York, Philadelphia or Chicago. When you add to this the fact that his morning newspaper will like as not devote at least a column and a half on the front page every day to gang wars, crimes due to prohibition, to say nothing of home and continental crime, you cannot blame him if he insists on fighting what he calls "American Crime" with American methods.

Hence, among other things the new speed cops, the police telephone booths and kiosks which can be found on every other mile or so of street, and the largely increased fleet of fast wireless-equipped motor cars which have been attached to Scotland Yard's famous Flying Squad.

To this latter branch of fearless crime fighters the new speed cops do not belong. They consist of young patrolmen and a specially enlisted force of men who go through a rigid training of many months before they are sent out on the road. They are all men of impeccable character, and an offered bribe to a speed cop in England will most certainly be brought up against you in court when you appear to answer the summons which your misbehavior has brought on you. Probably it is the more or less universal "crime" of driving to the public danger, which is a polite way of saying "speeding"; whatever it is, the speed cop's word is going to be taken and accepted, and for that reason only the most fair-minded and scrupulous are chosen.

Now this latter branch of the Force has in the space of a few years sprung from infancy into fully-blown maturity. Where there were formerly half a dozen special officers detailed to run the handful or so of specially picked constables chosen for the job there are now officers in charge of sections, sub-sections and divisions. Where half a dozen or so years back you could park all the Flying Squad cars in the Yard court on the Thames Embankment, today special workshops and garages see to the needs of the fleets of motor cars which patrol the main streets and suburbs of London day and night.

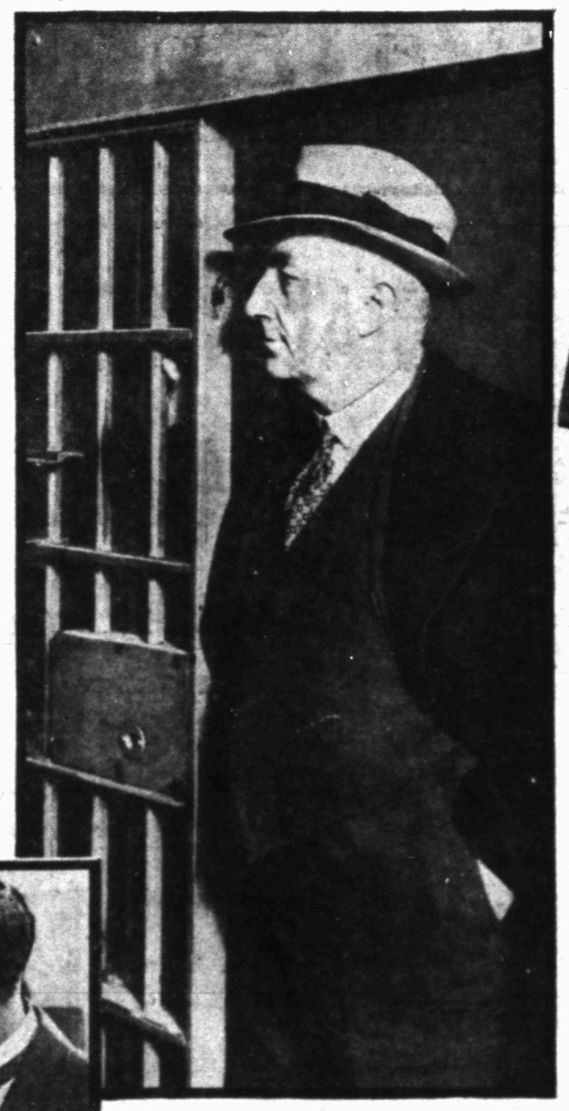

IN fact the underworld of London is going through a tough time at the moment. Night club after night club has been closed down, gambling dens have been raided ad nauseam, proprietors of "after hour" joints penalized and fined, the dope rings completely blotted out, and car thieves, smash-and-grab raiders, cat burglars and confidence men harried and chased and worried and given no peace at all, at all, as the Irish have it. And if the ways of the transgressor are dark and mysterious, the ways of the Flying Squad are even more so.

At night all cats are gray, they say, and to the Londoner strolling down Bond Street on a sunny morning all the glittering, silver-handled limousine automobiles look much alike. Yet not once, but many times during a morning one or more of those luxury carriages with its load of seeming idlers is in reality a swift Flying Squad patrol car, with enormous horsepower ready at any moment to be unleashed from under its bonnet in swift chase of the wrongdoers.

Inside the car, the lolling top-hatted young-men-about-town take in everything as they ride. Concealed in one of the door pockets is a complete receiving wireless apparatus which places them continuously in touch with the Scotland Yard control tower, from whence they can be directed immediately to any vicinity in which their help is needed. Indeed, so efficient is the control tower in the Yard that cars can be rushed from all quarters of London in the space of a few minutes.

Not all of this fleet is composed of limousines, however. The humble laundry wagon which speeds past your omnibus, the ice truck, the furniture van—any vehicle you like to mention is like as not a Yard car in camouflage. Truth is more strange than fiction, and the novels which describe old men meandering along the sidewalks disguised as tramps suddenly blossoming out into full-blown "dicks" in disguise have nothing on the Flying Squad.

The new speed cops have already played their share in more than one exciting drama of the road.

Edgar Wallace, British writer of detective thrillers. . . . He spent several weeks in Chicago . . . and then wrote gang stories which made staid Britishers' hair curl.

YOU must appreciate that these new speed cop adjuncts to the Force are on the roads not in tens, but in hundreds.

Which largely explains the following. A gang of car thieves had marked down a big Rolls-Royce in the country town of Newbury, Berkshire, and they proceeded with all the nerve in the world to steal it in the main street of the town at 11 o'clock in the morning while its owner was in a store. They drove off along the Bath road, where a speed cop tootling along in the sunlight sensed something suspicious about the occupants of the car as it passed. He put on speed and the big Rolls did the same.

At a cross roads the cop caught up with the car, and, convinced that "crooked stuff" was afoot, ordered the driver to stop. His only answer was a metallic click as the gears slid into high and the big car began to draw away. The cop raced for the nearest wayside police booth, telephoned to the police station at Hungerford, who in turn commandeered the local fire engine to block the road, and by the time the Rolls was brought to a stop by the obstruction, a fast Flying Squad car was on the scene to grab the thieves as they sought to bolt from the car.

It was afterwards discovered, when the men were searched, that they had committed a burglary, making a big haul of jewels and money before they stole the car.

Another instance will suffice to show the usefulness of these swift motorcycle patrols. This little effort won front-page play in even the most dignified London morning newspapers, and took place a few weeks ago.

Scarface Al Capone . . . the most prominent American . . . in the eyes of the movie-going, popular newspaper-reading London crowds.

A BIG auto slowed down in front of a jewelry store in the London suburb of Dalston, four men leaped out, one hove a brick through the window, his partner smashed more plate glass with a hammer, another kept the crowd at bay with a gun, while the third, grabbing a trayload of high-priced gems, jumped into the car. The driver turned to see that his gangs were aboard and stood hard on the gas. The car vanished at speed down the end of the street.

Within a couple of minutes three motorcycles with sidecar attachments flashed past the scene of the raid, hard on the trail of the thieves. Meanwhile, some miles further out of London a young woman was driving to her father's works when she saw a motor car approaching her at great speed, and in its wake "three men in blue uniforms driving motorcycles with passengered sidecars, each man wearing a white armlet." She realized that they were speed cops and she proceeded to do a very plucky thing. She drew her motor car across the road in order to block the way, but the big auto swerved, and by a miracle of driving, got by. Nothing daunted, she followed the speed cops and arrived just in time to see the car careen full tilt into a big commercial truck. The noise of the crash was terrific, and it was with great surprise that she saw the four occupants of the car and the driver break from the wreckage and make a dash for hiding. A dash which did not get them far. Around the corner of the road came a big roadster and its passengers—Flying Squad men in civilian clothes—made the arrests.

ALL of this may sound to the American ear as a great deal of ado about nothing much. For of course the American speed cop system developed right along with the development of the automobile, and motor cops were mounted on snorting bikes, almost before horses had ceased to shy away from snorting vehicles. In England, the triumph of the motor car has been less sudden, and less complete. There are not so many cars, and the bicycle has not even yet been driven from the roads. So the old-fashioned helmeted Bobby, afoot, has been able to control the situation until comparatively recently.

The interest which the public is taking in this new police arm is almost astonishing. The Britisher doesn't often express surprise at anything, but the sight of a speed cop in a London street will elicit stares and remarks from all and sundry. "Blimey, mate, there goes the cops!" shouts one omnibus driver to another. "Quick, Bill, 'ave a look at the motor pleecmen," says Jenny, the factory girl, as she strolls down Hammersmith Broadway when the lights are bright and the crowds turn to stare at the white-armleted motorcycle men; and "I say, old bean," remarks one Picadilly "Johnny" to another as they stroll out for their pre-lunch cocktail, "take a look at those police chaps on the motor bikes, Topping, aren't they, what?"

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD SATURDAY FOR KNUTE ROCKNE

SECOND ROUND OF TOURNEY TO END

SIMPLE RITES PLANNED FOR 'THE ROCK'

BODY WILL FIND ITS RESTING PLACE AT SOUTH BEND

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Asociated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 3 (AP)—Knute Rockne, that roving, restless spirit, will find his final resting place tomorrow afternoon in the consecrated soil of Highland cemetery just two and one half miles from the campus of old Notre Dame.

Surrounded by thousands of his most intimate friends and personal representatives of King Haakon of Norway, the land of the Vikings from which he came, all that is mortal of the "Rock of Notre Dame" will be taken to the Church of Sacred Heart at 3 p. m. for impressive, yet simple funeral ceremonies and then lowered forever into his grave.

Body Lies In State

Today and until the cortege takes him for his last earthly journey, his body will lie in state at his picturesque, but unostentatious home in Sunnymede, watched over by a firm but tearful guard of honor composed of the boys and men he trained to play and live so well. But the last hopes of the multitude of mourners, who passed his bier, were denied. The casket was sealed because of the condition of his body, which was mangled in that tragic air plane crash in Kansas.

The pomp and ceremony, which were so closely associated with his glorious achievements on the football field will be missing tomorrow afternoon when Knute Rockne's body is delivered back to earth. Most of his friends, thousands of them, will crowd into the old gothic church on the campus or stand in reverence, distances from the services. The services and burial probably will take far less time than even an average game of football. Services at the grave side will be said by Father Mulcaire.

Solemn high requiem mass will be held for the departed leader at the same church at 9 o'clock next Thursday morning in the presence of students, who by that time will have returned from their Easter vacations.

Highland cemetery, where Rockne will rest at last, is a comparatively new one. Part of it including the Rockne grave, has been consecrated for Catholic burial; the other part is for non-catholics.

Because of the wish for simplicity and brevity, only 1,400 of Rockne's closest friends will be admitted to the services at the church and grave. Today the difficult task of assorting the most intimate was undertaken so as to give them cards of admittance. The others, thousands of them from all sections of the nation, will be asked to remain a block or so from the church and grave.

Such a simplicity and brevity were the wishes of Mrs. Rockne, his grief stricken but brave widow, and these most intimate to the Viking of play and good sportsmanship.

BASKETBALL IN FULL SWING AT TECH

THIRD ROUND GAMES IN INTRAMURAL PLAY SLATED

The second round in the huge Texas Tech intramural basketball tournament ends tonight when the Independent League teams clash in a pair of games at the Tech gymnasium. The Y. M. C. A. club meets the Band eagers at 7 o'clock and at 8 the Bookstore and Army teams clash. Third round games begin Tuesday evening.

With two guards, Rogers and Ewing, and a substitute, Terrell, gathering 18 points, the Sophs defeated the Seniors in the Engineer League, 24 to 17, last night to start the day's intramural basketball tournament program. Lovern and Worley, Senior forwards, and Morris, a guard, were effective scorers for the Seniors but not enough so to make a killing.

In the second game, the Fish of the Aggie league defeated the Juniors of the same loop, 17 to 16, in a really close battle. Nearly every player on the Fish team scored, with Campbell, forward, and Copeland, center, heading the lists. Harrison, center, and Hughes, guard, scored eight of the Juniors' points.

The Seniors of the Aggie League nosed out the Sophs, 15 to 14, in another close scrap to top off the evening's play. Pinney with two field goals and a pair from the foul line led the individual scoring for the winners and for the players. Bean and Hitchcock each scored two field goals for the Sophs.

INDIANS LOSE

SAN ANTONIO, April 3 (AP)—The San Antonio Texans, defeated 3 to 1 by the semi-pro team at Luling yesterday, when Jim Smith held them to five hits, went to work on batting as well as fielding and pitching today in preparation for their games today and tomorrow with the New York Giant second team here.

Collier Parris

Coach Pinkey Lowrey of Lubbock High and . core of his Westerner track and field boys leave for Amarillo today where they meet the Sandies of that city and the Bulldogs of Plainview High in the annual tri-city meet. The games will be held at the tri-state fair ground track. Lubbock won the meet at Plainview last year.

What promises to develop into one of the keenest inter-school rivalries in this section is that between Lubbock and Slaton high schools. Long since have the teams of these geographically closely connected schools waged serious combats, though a degree of importance of the meeting was missing because Lubbock was class A and Slaton class B. Now that Slaton has been admitted to the class A circuit the schools and their rivalry take on greater meaning.

* * *

Paul Wright is one of the best and most popular coaches of West Texas and he has surrounded himself with a following of first class athletes. The Tigers have held their own in class B races for several years and last year they advanced to popularity by winning the district and bi-district football championship, losing finally in the regional battle after one of the toughest schedules ever forced upon a team.

* * *

The Tigers will take their place in the District 1, Class A football schedule for the first time next fall, and while they do not loom as powerful contenders for the championship they must be regarded in a serious light. Coach Wright will lose some of his best athletes at the end of the spring term through graduation but he will retain a number who will undoubtedly make things interesting in the 1931 grid race. Lubbock, Amarillo and Pampa, generally known as the hot spots of the district, should not forget the possibilities of getting stepped on by the Tigers while they plan forays against each other. A single defeat next fall, since but five schools make up the district according to the new order of things, might mean the loss of the district crown.

* * *

Schools of this section are likely to appreciate the power of the Tigers on April 24-25 in the district track and field meet here. The Wrightmen had little trouble last week in winning the county meet here, and in so doing established themselves as pre-tournament favorites for a great share of district honors. In Armes and Nowell the Slaton institution possesses a pair of athletes who are stars at any game they enter. Especially is Armes, captain of the 1930 football team and of the 1931 basketball team, a man to be feared in almost any competition.

* * *

The remainder of this column today will be devoted to a letter recently received by Jerry Malin, Amarillo scrivener. It should be of interest to M. H. Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock schools and father of the proposed one-year transfer eligibility rule that will be passed or rejected by the interscholastic league magnates next month. Malin, by the way, has already stated that he is "agin the rule", but being an Amarilloan he naturally would find a flaw.

Dear Sir

From the viewpoint of the average football fan—the bird who buys the tickets that make the modern game possible—the proposed one-year residence rule is extreme folly, sons for it but many against it. There appear to be no valid reasons for it but many against it.

It has required years of patient work to build up high school football to the present highly interesting form; and to slowly educate the public to its spectacular and thrilling aspects in the field of sports. Years ago it was the usual thing to see only one or two efficient players on any high school team; the obvious mediocrity of the rest, and the disgusting lack of teamwork was too much; hence few cash customers witnessed the games.

It was only by so changing the rules of the game as to make for more open play, deception and finesse; by assembling enough real players to continue a full team, that the interest of John Public was attracted and held. Now, to adopt any rule whereby many of the greatest high school players in the state would be eliminated or retired to weak Class B teams, would indeed be a blow to the sport!

Such a rule would especially hit the present teams of West Texas and the Panhandle, where the sparsely settled condition of the country make it difficult to assemble enough good players for a complete squad. Without good players and strong competing teams John Public's interest will wain and die, and so will the game.

The present rule is fair to all concerned, and makes for more freedom of action; giving the one or two great players on the mediocre country team an opportunity to move to town and join a team where his own talents can shine and be enjoyed and appreciated by the vast crowds who pay to see real football.

Let's have no more "hamstringing" undermining, back-firing rules adopted than seem necessary.

Just another fan,
J. R. DURRETT.

AXE SWINGS

OAKLAND, Calif., April 3 (AP)—The axe is beginning to swing in the Detroit Tiger camp. Manager Bucky Harris has announced the release of Dick Schultz, recruit right handed pitcher, to Evansville of the Three-I league. He is the second casualty for Phil Page, another pitcher, is going to Seattle in a deal which gives the Tigers the services of young Marvin Owen, versatile infielder and a heavy hitter.

Schmeling-Stribling Bout In The Bag For Cleveland

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

DEPENDS ON PITCHERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 3. (AP)—The pennant chances of the New York Giants appear to be in the hands of the young pitchers. Five of the eleven hurlers Manager John McGraw plans to carry this season are known quantities. Joe Heving and Jim Chaplin have shown some good stuff and some that was not so good in past seasons while the highly promising Hal Schumacher, John Berly, Ray Lucas and Leroy Parmalee still have to show whether they can help out.

FANS BABE LOU

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—Vernie Beatrice Mitchell—Jackie when she's in the diamond, has made a debut in organized baseball that many masculine hurlers might envy. The only woman pitcher in organized baseball struck out Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in succession when the Chattanooga Lookouts met the New York Yankees and then walked Tony Lazzeri to complete her mound duty. But a "catch" was seen in the act when the Babe politely tipped his hat when he came to bat, swung wildly at a couple of pitches that fans thought he might have hit easily and let the third go past for a called strike. And Lyn Lary, on first base, did not try to steal while Jackie took a long windup.

BLASTS GREET A'S

PHILADELPHIA, April 3 (AP)—Chilly blasts greeted the Philadelphia Athletics as they arrived home from the southland today to open their annual spring series with the Phillies at Shibe park.

The Phillies arrived yesterday in time to take a brief workout.

PICKS "BIG FIVE"

BRADENTON, Fla., April 3 (AP)—Manager Gabby Street of the St. Louis Cardinals today selected the "Big Five" of his pitching staff for the 1931 campaign. They are the 5 veterans of last year's staff, Burleigh Grimes, Jess Haines, Bill Hallahan, Flint Rhem and Syl Johnson. Jim Linesey and Tony Kaufman appear near to the veterans in ability. Street said he would not use his starting pitchers for relief duty unless "absolutely necessary."

TO TEST REGAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 (AP)—Now Jewel Ens will have a chance to see just how good a utility man Bill Regan is. Bill was bought by the Pittsburgh Pirates from the Boston Red Sox during the winter. A few days after he reported at the Paso Robles camp, Bill sprained an ankle. He has been on the bench most of the time since. Yesterday Regan relieved Grantham at second and did some snappy work.

WILSON GETS REST

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 3. (AP)—Somewhat alarmed at Hack Wilson's inability to hit the ball as often as usual, and a resulting effect on his spirits, Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Cubs, has ordered the pudgy home run champion to rest for a few days.

Wilson did not appear in the lineup against Los Angeles yesterday, after it was discovered he was so depressed by his failure to hit that he no longer snarled at the umpires. Moore took his place in center and got a homer and a single.

HOPE FOR REVERSE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 3 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox built up an impressive record against the New York Giants during the spring training season a year ago and finished well down in the American league championship race.

This season they have been pushed about by the Giants and are hopeful they will reverse their form again and get somewhere in their own league.

INCREASE REFUSED

MACON, Ga., April 3 (AP)—It develops that Judge Emil Fuchs refused Randy Moore a salary increase this season and the details of the transaction are being bantered about by the Tribesmen. The story goes that Randy wired the following to the judge just prior to the opening of the training season: "Dear Judge: Will you kindly give old Randy a raise?" and gossip has it that the answer was "Dear Randy: Will you kindly give the old judge a break?"

AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF SELECTION TO BE MADE SOON

CLEVELAND, Apr. 3. (AP)—The heavyweight championship bout between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling looked in the bag for Cleveland today.

Emil Wetten, legal representative of the Madison Square Garden corporation of Illinois, and Joe Jacobs, manager of the German titleholder, were in Chicago today with the announced intention of obtaining the corporation's signature to a Cleveland contract. William E. Carey of the Madison Square Garden was in New York after declaring Cleveland was virtually assured of the match.

The three said formal announcement of Cleveland's selection would be made as soon as minor differences over the rental of the municipal stadium and other terms could be straightened out.

The bout, 15 rounds, will be held July 3. The stadium, being erected at a cost of $3,000,000, has a capacity of 100,000 which can be increased to 120,000.

Spudders Ragged In Tangle With Steers

WICHITA FALLS, April 3 (AP)—The reason why Manager Carl Williams has called out his Spudders for double time practice sessions was clearly demonstrated yesterday afternoon when the home club played raggedly in losing to the Dallas Steers, 10 to 3, in the first of two exhibition games. The squad was at work this morning to start another day of double time practice and this afternoon the series with the Steers will be completed.

NEW WORLD'S SPEED BOAT RECORD IS THOUGHT MADE THURSDAY BY DON

BUENOS AIRES, April 3 (AP)—A new world's speed boat record was hailed here today—103.49 statute miles per hour, made by Kaye Don, British racer, in Miss England II on the surface of the muddy, swollen Parana river yesterday afternoon.

The mark, which will be certified to the International Racing association at Brussels by the Argentine Yacht club, which supervised the timing, beats the record of 102.58 miles per hour set recently by the American, Gar Wood, at Miami Beach.

Happy At Success

Don, happy at success in the venture which already has been attended by failure in two attempts due to motor tourbles, packed up his boat and left for England.

Don proceeded to the course, a lonely stretch of the Parana near its confluence with the La Plata, early yesterday and once yesterday morning touched 100 miles an hour, he said. In the afternoon he proceeded back up the river, turning suddenly, darted off down the course.

He steered according to two Argentine gunboats which were stationed at either end of the route, and was timed by automatic electric chronometer devices with three members of the Yacht club at either end of the course as officials. The course previously had been cleaned somewhat by racing boats, but was far from being as clean as might have been wished.

Don's efforts were made in connection with the British trade exposition, which is in progress here. The Miss England II is the same boat in which Major H. O. D. Segrave met his death.

KIWANIS TEAM IS FAVORED

VOLLEYBALL GAME IS SLATED TONIGHT WITH ROTARY

Captain Edgar Shelton's Kiwanis club volley ball team is said by the Lubbock Kiwanians to be the favorites in the game tonight at the Tech gym with Captain Pete Cawthon's Rotarians, the suggested reason being that Cawthon will try to initiate some gridiron tactics with his club and thereby drawing sufficient penalties to warrant a victory for the Kiwanians.

The teams meet for the first time this evening. They are members of the Lubbock volleyball league which is composed of eight teams. Four of the teams have already played games, the Lubbock Lions heading the standings column with a perfect percentage after winning five straight games. The local American Legion organization is represented by two teams and the Tech faculty is divided into two clubs. American Business club and the other three civic organizations have one team each.

Below is a standing of the teams to date. Two teams will play their first games next week.

DALLAS, April 3 (AP)—A double program of sports was planned at Southern Methodist university today. The S. M. U. thinly clads were scheduled to meet the Baylor Bears in a dual track meet at Ownby stadium.

Southern Methodist tennis players were carded for a series of matches against Texas Christian university on the S. M. U. courts. Coach McIntosh's S. M. U. netters are in excellent condition for their 1931 conference debut.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

Disappearance Of Money Is Unsolved

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—Mystery today surrounded the disappearance of $55,000 which H. J. Christen, Chicago business man, withdrew from his bank shortly before starting on the airplane journey for California which ended in disaster near Bazaar, Kans. Christen was a fellow passenger of Coach Knute Rockne of Notre Dame university.

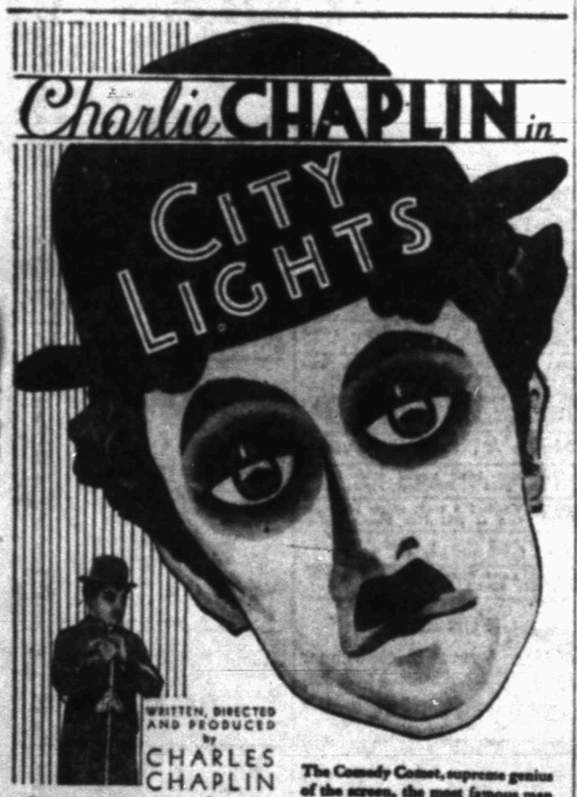

Christen had but $400 in his clothes when the body was found, a fact which led his attorney, Murray Miller to believe that Christen had either deposited the money in another bank or had invested it in securities.

A move is under way to preserve the old French embassy in Austin, Tex., as an historic shrine.

Bray, Fool, Bray

If you see a mule,
Come Braying down the street,
Get your clothes all ready
If you want them done up neat.

Bray, why he has the bestist Shop
You have ever seen
If you care to find it
Go out on West Nineteen.

He can do the job
As easy as breathin' air.
If you bring them dirty,
Well, he will never care.

He has the stuff to wash them
That gets the dirt and grease.
And his boys are anxious
To give the proper crease.

Bray will meet you at the door
With a pleasant smile,
Working, Laughing, Talking, Joking,
All the while.

Just like children playing.
In that shop of his.
Listen, while I tell you
He always gets the "BIZ."

Now don't go strolling somewhere else,
And get the job half done.
But go where all are working,
And having lots of Fun.

Then speak a word to others
To the fellows passing by
And let them make their clothes look neat
Just once before they die.

Injured Removed

Virtually all the injured, except a few serious cases, have been removed to the city of Granada. The whole attention of the medical corps now is turned to the sanitation and prevention of disease.

Water is being taken from the brewery which ceased its usual operations to provide the only pure supply in the city. Other water is being brought from Lake Managua and boiled in the improvised plant.

The most rigid enforcement of martial law was in operation following an outbreak of looting. While doing excellent work, the national guard does not command the respect of the native population as much as " the devil dogs."

Their orders were to shoot on sight any one seen looting.

Veteran Racer Is Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—Divorce has ended the wedded life of Ralph De Palma, veteran automobile race driver, and Mrs. Clara De Palma, who were married at Newark, N. J., nearly 22 years ago.

De Palma said his wife had insisted he give up racing, but that he could not earn enough money in any other way to provide the comforts to which they were accustomed.

called for daily newspapers chronicling the case, and listned eagerly for the signal which would indicate he was to be taken into the court room for a verdict.

Today was the fifteenth since the trial opened. The court decision which stripped from attorneys the necessity of showing "why" Jake Lingle, once described as the "unofficial chief of police," was killed in a busy subway under Michigan boulevard, did not lessen the interest.

"The engineering section of the aeronautical branch has calculated that there would be a load in excess of 100,000 pounds upon the engine and the engine mount should one blade of the propeller break off at normal cruising speed.

"The investigation indicates that this load snapped the wing off and then almost simultaneously the propeller hub broke, releasing the other two blades. Late today, these three blades and the hub had not been found although a searching party has been searching the country for miles around the accident."

SCOUT CAMP NOT TO BE ABANDONED

Plans for district camps as recommended by the activities committee of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council pertain only to this year, the council camp near Post will not be abandoned, and the annual encampment will be held there in 1932.

D. T. Jennings, area executive, made that explanation this morning to erase wrong impressions which possibly had arisen from the recommendation that districts of the South Plains area this year be allowed to hold their own camps in place of the annual all-council encampment.

"In order to give the towns an opportunity to take the boys to the mountains, as a change, it was decided to have district camps," Executive Jennings said.

Several of the districts have expressed intention of establishing temporary camps for their scouts in mountains of New Mexico.

AD VALOREM

know when he would call again for a vote on the resolution.

Vote on the resolution was taken after little more than a full day of arguments on it.

Held Dangerous

Senator Berkeley of Alpine said some of the senators were saying "let's repeal the ad valorem tax and trust to good luck and the Lord." He stated such procedure was not in accordance with his 25 years of training the financial world. He characterized the move to abolish the tax as "exceedingly dangerous."

Berkeley said the state should reduce its expenditures, and the people quit heaping on local taxes.

He said he saw the abolition of the state ad valorem tax as a forerunner of an income tax. He stated he was opposed to a state income tax, but was not opposing the federal tax.

Senator DeBerry charged the senator from Alpine with "blowing hot one day and cold the next." He said Berkeley charged abolition of the state tax would throw the state into the uncertain realm. DeBerry said it would actually throw the state into the "certain" realm.

DeBerry asked the chair to determine if Senator Cousins of Beaumont spoke for or against the ad valorem resolution yesterday. Cousins asked DeBerry where he could secure $25,000,000 in taxes to replace the ad valorem tax. DeBerry stated the "senator from Beaumont knows where it will come from, that's what's hurting him."

In closing arguments on the resolution, Senator DeBerry took up its opponents in the order in which they spoke. He told Senator Small of Wellington he was not following him in opposing the bond issue merely following his own conviction. DeBerry stated Small voted for the bond issue two years ago "when he was young and innocent."

TON OF OPIUM IS SEIZED

CONTRABAND VALUED AT $824,000 IS DISCOVERED

NEW YORK, Apr. 3. (AP)—A ton of high-grade opium valued at $824,000 and masquerading as "hides and skins" was seized Thursday by federal narcotic agents acting on a tip from Europe in a raid on the A. B. Express company in lower New York.

Abraham Goodman, trucking proprietor, was arrested. He explained the boxes had been left with him last November by a man he said he did not know. Major Joseph A. Manning, head of the nacrotic division in this district, said, however he believed Goodman and confederates still at large were members of an international narcotic smuggling ring.

Manning said the seizure was one of the largest made in this district.

Manning said he believed the opium had been smuggled into New York from a European port for distribution among Chinese.

Use of a good variety of seed corn increased the yield per acre by one-third, in official Mississippi tests.

To Carry On

Brother George J. Feltes, of the University of San Francisco, announced that a new plane for missionary work in Alaska will be purchased as soon as funds can be raised. The first plane, used in reaching Alaskan outposts, crashed last October, killing two priests and a pilot who had replaced Brother Feltes.

HOPE TO CURE PARALYSIS

MONKEYS IMMUNIZED AGAINST DISEASE BY SCIENTISTS

CLEVELAND, O., April 3 (AP)—Search for a method of making humans resistant to the infection of infantile paralysis, which often kills or badly cripples, has led scientists to discover a means of immunizing monkeys against this disease.

The method has been developed in laboratories of the Washington University medical school at St. Louis, and was described by Dr. William B. Brebner of the school at the opening sessions of the annual convention of the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists.

The monkeys are immunized by the injection of live paralysis, or poliomyelitis, bacteria into their spleens and then exposed in an ordinary manner to the poliomyelitis infection. For 21 days the monkeys, 11 in number, were observed, and their temperatures charted, but no symptoms of paralysis were manifested, Dr. Brebner said.

"We don't know how far we can go in these experiments or what practical value they may have," Dr. Brebner said. "Each injection requires a major operation, and that hardly could be given common application.

WTCC OFFICE IS LOCATED

ANNUAL CONVENTION BUSINESS WILL BE CARRIED ON HERE

Convention headquarters for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be located in the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce offices, second floor of the City hall, Maury Hopkins, general manager of the convention, announced here today. Mr. Hopkins arrived yesterday and plans to spend most of his time until after the convention, May 14, 15 and 16, in Lubbock.

"We are maintaining our Plainview office and we will handle the work of this section, not connected with the convention, from that office," Mr. Hopkins explained. "I think it better to keep our Plainview office open. My stenographer will remain there.

Local Chamber Aids

"The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is furnishing me with stenographic service, as well as office space. That certainly shows a splendid spirit on the part of Lubbock, but we have come to expect these things of the 'Hub of the Plains' and we are not surprised."

Mr. Hopkins plans to attend a district 4 meeting in Fort Worth next week. He also plans to go to El Paso in a few weeks for a business trip. Aside from these two trips, Mr. Hopkins has made no general plans for an extensive series of meetings or trips, but will devote his time to handling the details of the convention here.

"I hope we have the best meeting we have ever had," the convention manager said in speaking of the forthcoming event. "This is the logical part of our area for this convention.

Big Attendance Seen

"I believe that all these towns around here on the South Plains will be well represented here. I know that they are looking forward to a great convention next May."

Mr. Hopkins is planning an extensive publicity campaign for the meeting. Most of the stories sent out about the 13th annual convention from this time will be "dated" from "Lubbock."

The chief executive of the convention staff is not a stranger in Lubbock. For five years or more he was secretary-manager of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and as such, was a frequent visitor here. Also in his connection as an officer of the Plainview Rotary club, he has become acquainted with Lubbock Rotarians.

The Field museum in Chicago has on exhibit a shrine built to honor a tooth reputed to have been lost by St. Patrick.

EAT MORE MEAT

Dr. Logan Clendening, nationally known dietitian, recently said in Collier's Weekly:

"Meat, all opinions to the contrary, is the most perfect and complete human food. Not only have all the warnings against meat resulted in no good, but they have probably done actual harm. Not a few cases of deficiency diseases can probably be ascribed to such unfounded scareheads."

Earl Phillips, now our chef, formerly supervising chef for the well known Eppley Hotel chain, also chef for the Cooper Carlton hotel, Chicago, and the St. Anthony hotel of San Antonio, says: "I find the beef produced on the South Plains of Texas, is unexcelled for quality."
