

CLAYTON SAYS

Hearing Planned
On Quail Issue

AUSTIN—Representative Bill Clayton stated that he has received several inquiries pertaining to the length of quail-hunting season in Lamb County.

Two years ago, acting on a resolution by the commissioners' court, a bill was introduced and passed to limit the hunting season to 20 days on quail.

Since that time, another resolution was adopted by the Court on June 17, 1968, which asks that the Legislature return the authority governing quail-hunting season in Lamb County to the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

According to the direction of this resolution, Clayton stated that he had introduced House Bill 21, which would place the regulation of the hunting season in the hands of the Commission. This bill has not been heard before a committee, because the Parks and Wildlife Committee has just been organized and will not hear any bills until the week of February 10.

During the week of February 3, however, the commissioners' court of Lamb County passed another resolution which, in effect, invalidates the resolution of June 17. This resolution requests that the authority for setting the hunting season for quail be vested in the commissioners' court of said county.

Representative Clayton stated that he must be directed by the Commissioners' Court before passing any game legislation. But due to conflicting resolutions, hearing on any game bill will be delayed for a few weeks, until such time as the full extent of the new resolution may be determined.

Clayton further stated that it is his desire to do what the majority of the people of Lamb County want in regard to the quail-hunting season.

This is the reason that heavy emphasis must be placed on action by the commissioners' court. Legislative committees will respond to such a resolution as being the majority desire of the people in a given county.

have to do is notify Pat Donnelly (game warden) and anyone caught hunting there would be fined. That would keep them off."

The hunters said anyone hunting without permission on a fenced place is automatically trespassing, even without posted signs.

The sportsmen pointed out that persons who didn't want hunting could put their land in a game preserve and they couldn't even hunt on it themselves.

According to Judge Sides, the ranchers made their plea on the grounds that, 1, it was better to keep as much government in local hands as possible, and 2, the extreme amount of trouble hunters caused them.

Commenting on action taken by the commissioners, Latimer said, "It's just about what we expected. We've been sold down the river, plain and simple. But we'll have as many people in Austin at the hearing as it takes. I still think we have a chance."

"How many days we can hunt quail is no longer the issue. It has gone past that. In asking that the Parks and Wildlife be in charge of the season we said we didn't care whether they set the days of hunting at one day, two months, or six months, we were willing to abide by the decision made by professionals hired to make game surveys."

"The issue now is whether or not we still have majority rule."

... Payne

Payne sold him a lumber yard. "I still kid her about the business deal I made," he said.

While still in Oklahoma, Payne met Wiley Post. Soon after joining the Haisells he met the famous humorist, Will Rogers.

Rogers liked to visit the Haisell ranch. Columns written while in Lamb County were sent to the Muleshoe Post Office because Rogers said he liked the Muleshoe dateline.

Payne followed Haisell around the corals taking letters and telegrams in shorthand as Haisell worked. Will Rogers observed Payne doing this one day. "Can you get down every word he says?" Rogers asked Payne.

"Will Rogers asked me how fast I could write," Payne said. "I told him I didn't know. That I'd never found anyone who could talk faster than I could take it down."

Will Rogers offered Payne a job, asking him to come up to the Ziegfeld Follies with him, tour Europe and then make a tour of the U.S.

"But I'd been married just a little over a year and we had a little baby boy only two or three weeks old. My wife said 'no' to the idea right away. "That's one of those little things in life that you never know how it would have turned out. If I had stayed with Rogers two or three years I might have written a book about him after he died in the plane crash with sayings people haven't heard about. Then again, I might have been with him when the plane fell."

Payne has owned and operated the Payne Funeral Home in Amherst since 1931. "I worked at a funeral home while I was in Muskogee, Okla.," Payne said. "I've always liked what I'm doing. It's made me a living I could sell out tomorrow, but what would I do? I can't sit over there in the domino hall all day."

According to Payne's friends, he was quite an entertainer in his day.

Payne got started in some soft shoe routines, ventriloquism, and Negro preacher acts while he was in YMCA work in Oklahoma. For a while he traveled with a junior circuit.

"I used to sing and do the soft shoe with my dummy act," Payne said. "My dummy would criticize my singing and dancing. I had someone behind the curtains pull the string that controlled the dummy's lips while I was out there dancing. "I sure quit that foolishness when I moved out here. Those are just some silly things I did in high school, and sort of got in the habit of doing.

"The last time I put on the frock, wig, and hat, and did the preacher act, I told my wife to hide that box with the costume in it so I wouldn't know where the stuff was."

Payne helped Haisell lay out the town of Amherst. Amherst proper is seven blocks wide and 11 long. "Mr. Haisell named the streets running north and south on the east side of Main after the first presidents," Payne said. "He named the ones on the west of Main, Henderson, Wood and Bell. I still don't know why they were named that."

"When I first came to Amherst," Payne said, "antelopes grazed around the school house. This was all part of the 70,000 acre Sod House Pasture."

"I wouldn't take any thing for that old typewriter," Payne said, motioning to the old Underwood in the corner of his office. "That's still one of the best ones ever made."

4800—"not enough for two schools in the county," Clayton said.

Clayton agreed that the Governor's report is only the beginning. He said he expects the issue to keep coming back.

He urged area schools to try to update curriculums and equipment.

Clayton said he has received 20-25 letters per day since the first of the year on the Governor's report. Of all these, he said, there was only one favoring the committee's recommendations.

Most objections are on the compulsory consolidation and the tax base, he said.

Clayton expressed surprise that of all the mail he has received, not one person has objected to five-year-olds attending school, and eventually four-year-olds.

Rep. Clayton said the educational bill will probably be introduced this week.

Clayton stated petitions with long lists of signatures did not do as much good as did four or five letters to a legislator. He expressed contempt for form letters.

Clayton gave a brief summing up of pending bills that will affect Texans.

The representative said he expects a stormy session with these up-coming bills: 1. Liquor by the drink 2. Daylight savings time 3. Race horse question 4. Tort claims bill 5. Water resource development 6. Tax raise—Texas is already spending 2 1/2 billion annually, and 7. Education—Texas already spending almost 50 cents of every dollar on education.

Court Votes To Keep Quail In Own Control

Two Banks Named Depositories

Lamb County commissioners' court Monday named two banks as depositories for 1969 and 1970.

The two financial institutions are First National Bank of Littlefield and First National Bank of Sudan.

The Littlefield bank has been named as county depository for several years.

Designation of both banks came after a motion by Commissioner T. H. Lewis to name the banks as depositories for 1969 and 1970.

After full discussion of the matter, Precinct 2 Commissioner T. H. Lewis moved to name both banks as depositories. The vote was 4-0, with Dykes dissenting.

Details of the depository agreement will be worked out at a meeting of the court Monday with representatives of both banks.

In other activity, the court approved monthly bills and orders, and re-employed auditor accountant Alvin C. Webb to audit county books and records for 1968.

Burglars Rip Sudan

Burglars raided five Sudan homes early Wednesday, taking cash and merchandise worth about $5,000.

County officers said at least five men were involved in the raiding, as they continued their investigation later Wednesday.

The five firms entered and their losses were:

- *Keith Glover Ford, a stationing torch and bottles, along with a 1966 Ford pickup.
- *Bacus Chevrolet, $7 in change from a desk.
- *Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., $6.71 taken from safe, plus various tools.
- *Southwestern Public Service Co., $189.29 from the company and two $1 silver certificates, one red seal $5 bill and a $20 bill which belonged to Herb Potter, SWPS manager.

All the items were taken from the company's safe.

- *Roark Jewelry, rings, watches, clothing, china and silver valued at $2,000.

Officers surmised the intruders picked up tools from the lumber firm and the stationing torch and pickup at the Ford house. The tools were used to gain entrance at other homes, officers said.

The cutting torch was used to break the safe at SWPS, and the pickup was necessary to haul the large amount of merchandise from Roark Jewelry.

Doors were pried or windows opened to gain entrance to the businesses, deputies said.

The pickup was abandoned one mile east of Sudan on the Jerry Young place, they

3-2 Balloting Stymies Hunters

Judge G. T. Sides cast the deciding ballot Monday morning after the four county commissioners deadlocked in a two to two vote on the quail controversy.

The county judge cast his first tie-breaking vote since becoming judge, favoring land owners wishing to keep quail hunting under the county commissioners' court.

Action from the county judge came after a lengthy meeting of the commissioners with a delegation of sportsmen opposing earlier action taken by the commissioners' court last month.

On Jan. 31, commissioners asked the state legislature to leave the jurisdiction of quail hunting in the hands of the Lamb County Commissioners' Court.

County sportsmen said the court disregarded their June, 1968, petition bearing 662 names in favor of one with only 57 signatures.

In the Monday meeting, Jack Peel moved to rescind the Jan. 31 resolution so that the resolution from last June would prevail. Hubert Dykes seconded the motion, which would have put quail hunting back under the control of Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The four reached an impasse when commissioners Thurman Lewis and A. J. Spain voted against the resolution.

Judge Sides said his vote was a "rough decision" but that he favored local control—keeping governing powers in the county.

"I'm not for a 20-day season," Sides said, however. It will take a legislative act to lengthen the 20 days as the law is written now.

In a telephone conversation Monday afternoon, Rep. Clayton told Judge Sides that the Lamb County quail issue will go into a committee hearing.

A notice of the hearing will be given and land owners and quail hunters will be given the chance to justify their positions, Clayton said.

In the public meeting of sportsmen and commissioners

Monday Jonny Latimer, spokesman for the hunters, polled the commissioners on how they intended to cast their vote.

"Frankly," said Hubert Dykes, "I think we acted too hastily on the resolution putting quail hunting back under the commissioners court. I'll vote to get it out of the commissioners' court and back under TPWC."

Jack Peel expressed the same opinion. "When I voted on the landowners' resolution," Peel said, "I didn't know this would cancel out the hunters' petition from last June. I apologize for not reading it closely enough to see that it was a resolution rather than a petition. The court acted in haste. Quail hunting is a small item, and I'll vote to get it back under Parks and Wildlife."

A. J. Spain said he wanted local control. He said 662 names on a petition was not talking about a majority.

"That is only 10-12 per cent of the voters," he said, "not a majority."

Spain said the landowners said they could get many more names on their petition, but felt like the 57 names was

"I do think 20 days is too short, however," Spain added. Thurman Lewis contended that he had not been contacted by any hunters. "I think the landowners have a right to protection," he said. "I'll vote for what is right," Lewis said. "I don't go for brow beating."

"There were two of us there at the Monday meeting from Lewis' precinct," said Charles Carpenter. "He didn't even know we were in his precinct."

"We went to the meeting to get an answer to the question of why the petition bearing the most names was over ruled favoring one with the fewest names. We couldn't get an answer to this question. There isn't any justice in this. This is dictatorship, not democracy."

"Why don't those who don't want hunting on their land post their place?" Jonny Latimer challenged. "All they

TRUSTEES AGREE

Lunch Period Justified

The 35-minute lunch period now in effect at Littlefield schools is justified, trustees agreed in a discussion of the subject at a regular board meeting Monday night.

Board members reacted to a letter published in last Sunday's paper, from a student at Littlefield High School.

The letter charged the lunch hour situation is "disgusting" and "unbearable," saying that some students find it necessary to "drive like maniacs" because of the short time.

It also said the high school had been surveyed by the school paper and that 100 per cent of the students were opposed to the short length of time.

School Supt. Paul I. Jones told the board he knew some students were dissatisfied with the 35-minute lunch period, but that he doubted it was any where near 100 per cent.

"We've had this come up before," said Board President Carl Nowlin, "and one time we tried a one-hour period."

He said he believed students would eat just as fast as they do now if they had a longer time, "because they are interested in a social hour."

Other board members said they felt students would use any extra time riding around in their cars.

Trustees said a longer time also would not cut down on the quick exit from school by drivers, in their opinion.

A longer lunch period, giving students more free time, also would give youngsters in lower grades "more time to get into fights," trustees said.

The letter from the LHS student asked trustees to "come eat with us for two weeks" if the school board thought there was no problem. One board member said he intended to eat at the cafeteria

Tuesday, and others said they might.

The discussion on the lunch period came at the close of the board meeting, at which trustees earlier:

1. RENEWED THE two-year contracts of five principals, Beryl Harris, high school; Tommy Brawley, junior high; Forrest Martin, Elementary II; James Settle, Elementary I; and Jim Traugott, primary.

2. HEARD a report which indicated enrollment totaled 1,980 at mid-term, compared with 2,041 at the same time a year ago.

The latest figures are 433 for primary, 373 for Elementary I, 348 for Elementary II, 486 for junior high and 340 for the last three grades. Largest drop is at Elementary II, which is down 43 students.

The board said these lower enrollment figures could result in the school receiving state aid for two less teachers next year.

3. ADOPTED a policy regarding possession, use or sale of narcotics by students. The board said any student found to possess, or be under the influence of, narcotics while in school or while participating in a school-sponsored function, after due notice and hearing before the school board, would be expelled if found guilty. The expulsion would be for the balance of the semester, with no credit given the student for the semester.

Any student convicted of misdemeanor or felony for possession, use, or sale of dangerous drug or narcotic while outside the school will be expelled for the current semester, with no credit given for the semester.

4. APPROVED the financial report, which included notice from the tax collector that 91.92 per cent of current taxes had been collected as of Jan. 31.

Amherst Funeral Director Holds World Typing Mark

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Lee Payne of Amherst set the world's record as the fastest human typist almost a half-century ago.

In 1921-22 Payne entered a typing contest in Oklahoma City and typed 131 words per minute, whacking out four words per minute more than the Chicagoan national title holder, Charlie Swim, had ever typed.

"Oh, but that was a long time ago," Payne said. "That's just water under the bridge." "To this day I can't use an electric typewriter," he said. "I hit the keys too hard. I learned on the old Underwood number 4, the fastest at the time."

Payne is modest about his typing saying he had to be fast to keep up his work. He was working as a court reporter in Oklahoma at the time.

After taking everything said in court down in shorthand, Payne then had to type up the briefs, often having to have them ready early the next morning after sitting in court all day.

On his work table he rigged a cord which shifted the carriage on his typewriter when he pressed a foot pedal. Another cord extended through a hole bored in the table and worked the capital shift at the slightest pressure of his foot.

"Of course these mechanical devices weren't allowed in the contest," Payne said.

Payne worked as a court reporter in the U. S. Court "day and night" for two years under Tom Williams, a former governor and a federal judge at the time.

He met Ewing Halsell in Venita, Okla. where Halsell lived and the ranch was headquartered.

Payne came to Lamb County from Tulsa, Okla., in 1924 to work for Halsell's office. His job included selling land and typing up contracts.

"I told Mr. Halsell I'd stay in Texas six or eight months," Payne laughed. "I got my hooks hung and couldn't turn loose."

Soon after coming to Amherst, Payne met the girl who became Mrs. Payne. She and her daddy were staying in the Amherst hotel, he said. Her dad was here on business and

TRAIN CARS DERAILED

Eight cars of a 94-car Santa Fe freight train derailed about noon Sunday at Anton.

The through track was torn up when a wheel came out from under one of the cars causing it to turn sideways.

The cars behind it piled up.

Santa Fe officials estimated damage at $15,000, according to an investigating patrolman.

The patrolman said the derailed cars were hauling bagged sugar, canned goods and plywood.

Santa Fe wreckers cleared the wreckage Sunday evening, and trains were running on one of the switch tracks soon after the derailment.

The freight was pulled by a four-unit diesel engine and was going southeast when the derailment occurred.

There were no injuries.

LEE PAYNE set a record as the world's fastest typist a half century ago, banging out 131 words per minute. Because of Payne's shorthand writing ability, Will Rogers offered him a position traveling with him. The funeral director classifies all this "water under the bridge."

The cars for people who believe that style never goes out of style.

When the conversation turns to cars, a Cadillac owner is seldom asked the model and year of the one he drives. The fact that he drives the car of cars is sufficient. For a Cadillac, regardless of its year, is the most universally desired of all motor cars.

This is because the beauty, craftsmanship, luxury and performance inherent in a Cadillac never go out of style. A case in point is the 1966 model shown above. Its Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, variable-ratio power steering and other refinements have only recently become available on some lesser cars.

A great many late-model, previously-owned Cadillacs also have a Tilt and Telescope steering wheel and Automatic Climate Control. For a richly rewarding investment in motoring pleasure, see your authorized Cadillac dealer's attractive selection of new and previously-owned Cadillacs today.

Activities

MONDAY, MARCH 3
JUNIOR-SENIOR P-TA will meet at 7:30 p.m. in LHS Auditorium. This meeting was changed from Feb. 3.

Littlefield WOW Renders Service

Littlefield's Woodmen of the World are among the most active Woodmen units, according to WOW President, N. T. Newberry.

According to Newberry, Littlefield WOW have been rendering service to other Woodmen units within a 150-mile radius for several years.

Recently the Littlefield WOW helped reactivate a dormant camp in Lubbock. More than 700 letters were mailed out to prospective members of the Lubbock camp. Five special reorganizational meetings were held, and three trips were made to Lubbock to conduct initiation ceremonies.

The WOW president described this action, "Fraternity at Work".

WOW Members Conduct Meeting

Women of Woodcraft met in regular session Thursday night in IOOF Hall with 10 members present.

Mentioned as on the sick list were Mitchell Sisson, Jack Sisson and Mrs. Daisy Stewart. Sovereign Williams reported that Women of Woodcraft and Girls of Woodcraft participated in the March of Dimes Drive and collected $104.24.

A thank you note from Darlene Feagley was read to the organization thanking them for her Christmas gift.

Projects for Girlstown were discussed.

Sovereign McKinney reported that Girls of Woodcraft would install officers Monday afternoon, Feb. 10, in IOOF Hall.

Members voted to buy an annual membership as "Friends of the Library".

Present for the meeting were Mmes. J. R. McKinney, Marion Williams, Doyle Dean, Merle Beard, E. E. Carter, Ed McCanlies, Ellen Young, Jimmie Brown, Lorene Perkins and Jewel Baker.

VEGETABLE BARGAINS

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in best supply at the most economical prices at present include oranges, grapefruit, bananas, apples, potatoes, head lettuce, celery, cabbage, carrots, salad tomatoes, dry yellow onions, cauliflower, radishes and green onions.

KEVIN HUTSON

Kevin Hutson On Dean's List

Kevin Hutson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen Hutson of Littlefield, was named to the Dean's Honor List for the fall semester at the University of Texas.

He is a freshman and is enrolled in the school of business, majoring in accounting.

Kevin is attending the University on a four-year football scholarship and participated in all freshman games last semester.

He is a 1968 Littlefield High School honor graduate, and was president of his senior class.

Hutson was named to the All West Texas Academic Football and Basketball AAA teams his senior year.

Man Jailed On Two Counts

A Sudan man was arrested Sunday by county officers and charged with driving while intoxicated and carrying a prohibitive weapon.

Sam Parks, Rt. 2, Sudan, pleaded guilty before County Judge G. T. Sides and was given three days in jail and fined a total of $200, plus court costs amounting to $84.

Red Cross Fund Drive Aims For $8,860 Goal

Lamb County Chapter of American Red Cross set an overall goal of $8,860 for its annual fund drive, which will begin March 1 in all Lamb County towns and communities.

At the organization's regular meeting Friday, Ken Infield, disaster representative from St. Louis, Mo., showed a film on Red Cross work in Vietnam.

Robert Kirk of the Woodmen of the World organization, presented an American Flag to the Red Cross, and it was accepted by Mrs. Bonnie Haber, Lamb County chairman.

Mrs. Lyle Brandon, county fund drive chairman, said each town and community would conduct their own "kick-off" breakfast this year, instead of the usual breakfast in Littlefield as in previous years.

Community chairmen and their goals are:

Fieldton, $100, Mrs. Jerry Drake and Mrs. Doyle Tapley, co-chairmen; Spade, $300, Mrs. Ray Smith; Littlefield, $4,500, J. E. Chisholm; Hart Camp, $125, Mrs. D. R. Leonard;

Amherst, $600, Manry Brantly;

Springlake, $500, Thomas Alair and Elroy Wisian, co-chairmen;

Pleasant Valley, $150, Mrs. Bonnie Haber.

Chairmen for Sudan, Olton and Earth are to be named later. Goals for each are Sudan, $700; Olton, $1,100; and Earth, $800.

Spade FHA Has Banquet

Spade's Chapter of FHA held its annual FHA Sweetheart Banquet Saturday, Feb. 8, in Levelland.

In addition to chapter members and their dates, those attending were the chapter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Myers; chapter sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Corky Taylor; and School Superintendent and Mrs. Joe Bailey.

Special guests were Gary Hariston, the FHA Chapter beau and Wally Sanders, who presented the entertainment.

XIT Study Club Have Program

SPRINGLAKE—The XIT Study Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Donald Clayton.

Mrs. C. O. Coen of Littlefield brought the program. She discussed the school for the mentally retarded, located in Littlefield, and the club made a contribution to that school.

Other guests of the meeting were Mrs. E. G. Brunson and Mrs. D. C. Lindley of Littlefield and Misses Donita, Anita and Connie Kelley of Earth.

Members present were Mmes. Ernest Baker, Myrtle Clayton, Jim Winder, W. B. Hucks, Marvel Caruthers, Ed Jones, Jim Stephens, David Metcalf and Jerry Field.

What The Leader-News Thinks

Majority Rule Falls Like A Dying Quail

It has been said that in free countries, every man is entitled to express his opinion—and every other man is entitled not to listen.

The Lamb County commissioners' court chose the latter path Monday, when it decided by a 3-2 vote to ignore a majority petition in favor of a minority one.

County Judge G. T. Sides cast the deciding ballot after the commissioners split their votes.

All of this took place on what ordinarily should be a minor matter in county business—the quail season.

There are many, this newspaper included, who argue that it should not be a county matter at all.

WE FRANKLY do not understand the court's position.

The majority petition asked that quail season be taken out of the county's hands and put under the jurisdiction of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The minority petition asked that quail season be kept under county commissioners' control.

Nearly all of Texas is now under the TPWC's jurisdiction, preferring to have men trained in the field determine the length of quail season.

Lamb County is the only county on the South Plains now having its season decided by the commissioners' court.

The result this year was an 83-day season on quail in every county touching this one, and a 20-day season here.

Some members of the court have said the major reason they want to keep the season in their hands is to have "local control."

If the court really is concerned about this, why did it vote unanimously last June to return the quail season to state jurisdiction?

The court also has said it is concerned about the property rights of landowners.

Our feeling is that property rights are not a valid issue in the controversy. Landowners' property rights are protected by law regardless of who has jurisdiction over the quail season.

If property rights are violated, the law should be enforced, and this most certainly is not within the court's province.

THE QUAIL SEASON, however, is not the most important issue at stake.

Hunters who met with the court Monday, although extremely interested as sportsmen, asked a more valid question:

Why did the court ignore their petition signed by 662 persons and decide in favor of one signed by 57?

It is our opinion that a satisfactory answer was not forthcoming.

Two commissioners, Jack Peel and Hubert Dykes, said they did not understand the latest resolution, approved for 57 persons on Jan. 31, would nullify the one issued last June for 662 people.

They said they meant only to send Rep. Bill Clayton "the other side of the story."

When it came to deciding between the petitions, they voted later for the majority request.

The two other commissioners, A. J. Spain and Thurman Lewis, and Judge Sides, voted in favor of the minority petition.

They took the position that 662 did not amount to a majority of all Lamb County, and, even if it were, "the majority is not always right," one of them said.

THEY ARE ENTITLED to their opinions, of course, and it is true that the majority is not always right.

What they should remember, we think, is the fact that in a Democracy the majority is supposed to be a WINNER.

And if you're comparing petition vs. petition, 662 shades 57 a little.

So what if 662 doesn't amount to a majority of Lamb County? Does 57 come as close?

It could be argued on and on.

But if we were one of those 662 who signed the petition of last June and got outvoted at the commissioners' court Monday, we would have to agree the court, in that final showdown, proved a point:

The majority, even if only 3-2, is NOT ALWAYS RIGHT.

PAUL HARVEY Trade Associations

AS I RECALL the story, starving American prisoners of war were tortured by their captors by seating them before a banquet table loaded with delicacies, each with his hands tied behind his chair.

The captors returned in an hour expecting to find the men raving. Instead the prisoners had formed an "association." Each was taking turns, with a spoon held in his mouth, feeding his neighbor.

THUS CAN CO-OPERATION accomplish objectives otherwise unattainable.

With industries increasingly handicuffed by federal restraints and a cost-price squeeze, trade associations are more than ever important TO YOU.

EXAMPLE: Turkey farming has gone the way of all farming; bigness, larger flocks, mass production.

The number of turkey growers has been cut in half in recent years, yet production has steadily increased.

When you have production to protect, and fewer votes than before, you need help. The National Turkey Federation is a joining of hands by these men and women with similar interests in legislation, research, improved production, promotion and new product development.

TODAY MORE than a fourth of all turkeys are not marketed as turkeys but as further processed items: turkey rolls, turkey roast, tv-type dinners, packaged turkey parts and so forth.

Presently, there is in the works a proposal for use of poultry meat in sausage products which could tremendously expand this market.

These NTF fellows apply themselves to industry problems so scientifically that the old Tom Turkey now has been replaced by the artificial inseminator. The mother hen has been replaced by incubators, brooders.

TODAY, because of all this new know-how—including computer-formulated feed—a turkey can produce a pound of meat on a similar amount of feed and in less time than any of our other domesticated meat-producing animals.

What does this mean to you? Obviously the National Turkey Federation is fine for the turkey grower. It helps him produce more efficiently, research more economically, market more efficiently, make more money—what's that to you?

HERE'S WHAT: Because we can now produce turkey meat for your table nationally for 18 to 23 cents a pound, turkey is one of those rare food products which actually costs you, the consumer, less than it did 15 years ago.

Further, the turkey industry is not getting any of your dollars by the backdoor tax route. This industry receives no direct federal subsidies, has no government production controls.

THIS INDUSTRY is as free as any and freer than most. It prospers—and YOU benefit.

Trade associations necessarily relate themselves to other industries in other ways, but addressing conventions of these associations in recent years has reaffirmed and enhanced my respect for what private industry can do to solve its own problems.

UNLIKE UNIONS, membership in such associations is not compulsory. It is true that nonmembers benefit from these efforts without paying "dues". But then so do you, the consumer. Efficiency benefits everybody.

Helping to feed one another, we all eat better.

A BURNING ISSUE

... AT THE COMMISSIONERS' COURT

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Open The Mind

By BOB WEAR

THERE IS A GROWING NEED for the open mind, the receptiveness of authentic and ideas. There are many reasons for movement in this direction, and some of them are urgent.

This is the open mind in contrast to the closed mind of prejudice and bigotry.

A MIND CAN BE TOO OPEN. Samuel Butler said, "An open mind is all very well in its way, but it ought not to be so open that there is no keeping anything in or out of it."

It should be capable of shutting its doors sometimes."

THE NEED FOR better understanding is self-evident. There must be a lessening of tensions. We must do our best to reduce the hate, suspicion and distrust which are so destructive of human well-being.

If we put forth greater effort to understand each other, we can make some meaningful progress with all of the benefits.

The general condition of the world of people is making us more acutely conscious of the urgent need for the kind of understanding that will de-pressurize human society.

THE DESIRE FOR the blessings of the open mind have become more than the idealism of the dreamer. These benefits have become the recognized necessities of the realist.

All people of good will everywhere must move toward this goal with the justified feeling that significant progress can be made.

GIVING UP PREJUDICES will be a big step in the right direction. This means that we must not make our decisions and our conclusions before full and sufficient examination.

It has been said that many of us do not think, we just re-arrange our prejudices. This uncomplimentary observation cannot be successfully denied. Most of us, in our more serious times of meditation are painfully aware of the presence and the evils of prejudices.

PREJUDICES ARE TOO OFTEN treated as if they were well-founded convictions. Much harm is done in forming opinions without taking time to get complete information.

More harm is also done in the failure to evaluate fairly the facts which we have for our consideration.

IT SEEMS MUCH TOO EASY for us to become so strong in our prejudices that we hold to them without reason.

Perhaps it should be said that these prejudices hold us. Thus, we become bigots and, in our narrow-mindedness, we add to the tensions which plague human society.

The evils of such conduct are obvious.

THE GOOD LIFE, the life of richness and fulness, the life of peace is found in the way of open-mindedness.

This does not mean that we can live without definite opinions and strong convictions, but it does mean that we must remain receptive to additional information and new facts.

WE MUST ALSO BE diligent in honest and continuous examination of everything concerning our present stock of opinions and convictions. We must never be afraid to take another look and perhaps a longer look.

This is not instability, but it is part of the growth and development essential to satisfactory living.

AN OPEN MIND, controlled by respect for truth and fact, is an open door to abundant living.

It is the only avenue to a happy, fruitful and peaceful association among men.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

He Heard The Unprintable

Editor
Lamb County Leader News
Littlefield, Texas 79339

Dear Editor:

Enclosed please find a carbon copy of my letter of today to Jack A. Peel, Commissioner, Pct. 3, Lamb County.

I will not comment on Mondays commissioners' court meeting and the incredible result of the tie-breaking vote, etc., as most of the comments that I heard were unprintable.

I do feel that the sportsmen of the county need to "clean up" our own ranks and help rid the landowner of the CHRONIC trespassers and game law violators. There is a very small percentage of "Bad Apples" in our "basket" that have no respect for ANYTHING or ANYONE.

When these people have paid ENOUGH and HEAVY ENOUGH fines that they cannot afford violations, the average, law-abiding, gate-closing, voting citizen won't have to hang up his (or her) shotgun because of no place to hunt due to a pitiful 20-day season.

Respectfully,
Neil West

Jack A. Peel
Commissioner, Pct. 3, Lamb Co
Rt. 1
Littlefield, Texas 79339

Dear Jack:

Although "our side" did NOT prevail, the sportsmen of Lamb County owe you and Mr. Dykes our respect and a new vote of confidence for your actions in Monday's Commissioners' court.

You (both of you) have shown a great deal of courage and character by admitting a mistake and fighting to correct it. This is a quality seldom found these days, and will NOT soon be forgotten.

I didn't think Precinct 3 had elected a "rubber stamp" commissioner, but for a while, I

THIS IS A TRIBUTE to all those men and women who are "reporters", be it political, news, or society.

They have my undying admiration.

It is beyond my comprehension how they can write up any event, giving only the pertinent facts (no juicy ones, gracious no!) and no opinions or guesses (even educated ones) of their own.

I'VE TRIED to do 'straight reporting' myself just enough to develop a great respect for those that are able to do it without flinching.

For instance, once I was supposed to write an account of a convention address given by a politician that was then very much in the news.

The speech itself was dry as West Texas is right now, but the things he said before and after were anything but. So I wrote them up, shady jokes and all.

THE EDITOR of the farm paper that I turned the report in to blanchered, looked sick and said to write it up again, explaining he couldn't print what I had written.

I asked why not, the politician had said those things, they were certainly more interesting than his silly old speech, but the editor said those remarks were off the cuff and not for publication.

SO I TRIED AGAIN. The politician was a very good looking man well known for his agility in maneuvering around state offices in Austin. On my second try, I called him a slick politician that looked like a riverboat gambler.

Again the editor of the farm paper turned green at the gills and said he'd get sued if he printed that, how did I know what riverboat gamblers looked like, and besides, that was just my opinion.

I SUGGESTED that he could say that the man looked to me like he was a slick politician and like my impression of what a riverboat gambler SHOULD look like; in fact, I thought that would wasn't really sure. Now, I know we didn't!

Thank you,

Neil West

Appreciates Police

Dear Mr. Turner,
I too, like Bob Wilson, would like to express my thanks to the wonderful Littlefield Police Department, but for a different reason.

Recently, I moved California to Littlefield, California car tags, knowing law I should have had changed, but didn't take time to do so.

Three times I was stopped by different policemen and was to have them changed—the time did I get a ticket, and I could have after the first time.

Thank you Littlefield Police Department.

Compliments

Dear Bill:
Our thanks to you and Leader News for the wonderful coverage of the Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

The publication of background on the guest speaker, the year's activities of the Chamber and the providing of extra inserts at the banquet souvenirs are just a few items worth mentioning.

Many compliments have been heard regarding this fine coverage. The Leader-News provided make the Littlefield Chamber banquet a great success.

Tip Of The Hat

By LIBBY MUD

be a great compliment to politician.

Well, that farm paper does carry my account of that address.

And society editors something else again!

How do they keep from telling all of the truth?

SUCH AS, "The hostess thought she looked really turned out, but actually her dress was too long and her dress short for her age?"

Or, "The affair was held in home of Mrs. Simply Had To, really didn't want to have it, she had to on account of being the honoree had given a show for her when she had her baby?"

Or, "The hostesses gift to bride was a complete set of cookware. Some of them wanted to give her a more expensive set, but the others rebelled and said they were spending a penny more, if they had wanted to give the more expensive set, then they should have spent so much on the flower arrangement for the centerpiece."

AND ALL of those reporters.

How do they keep their observations out of their write-ups?

THE THING will read this "So and So got fined for speeding." Never this way: "So and So was fined thirty bucks for speeding and that's funny to me."

How come thirty bucks just last week I happen to know that Do Lolly was speeding exactly the same manner in the same place and was only fined twenty bucks. Whew! Those P.'s."

WELL, the world needs people who can write things up straight just don't happen to be one of them.

Perhaps that explains why I have to sign my name to every word I write!

Anyway, a tip of the hat to good reporters.

Spade Homecoming Friday

Spade High will observe its annual homecoming Friday night, capping the activities with a doubleheader basketball contest with Hart.

The girls, who assured their District 5-B championship Tuesday night with a 38-30 victory over Amherst, tip off at 7:30, followed by the boys' game.

Coronation of the homecoming queen will take place at halftime of the boys' game.

The Senior Class will sponsor a dinner in the school cafeteria, serving from 4:30 to 6:30.

Spade's girls, repeating as conference champs, stretched their District winning streak to 7-0 against Amherst, and brought their season record to 25-4.

Tuesday's win by the girls was no easy thing, however. Amherst's guards threw up a defense that held the team to fewer points than Belinda Thompson is averaging for the year, 38. Belinda hit only 19 points and Christi Adams contributed 14.

Linda Johnson had to pick up offensive responsibility with the absence of Debbie Mills. Linda canned 24 of her club's points.

Miss Mills was out with an appendix operation.

The Longhorns found the District 5-B champion Bulldogs too hot to handle, losing 68-47.

Gary Harriston was high for the 'Horns with 19, but Amherst's Mickey Johnson punished the nets for 21 points, followed by Pat Duffy's 16.

The Bulldogs held a 37-22 halftime edge.

Spade's girls jumped to a 11-1 first-quarter lead, but Amherst narrowed that point spread to only four points, 17-13, by halftime.

Host Meet Golf Teams

Littlefield high school and junior high golf teams will host a triangular meet Saturday at the Littlefield Country Club.

Coach Jack Christian has slated a busy schedule for the teams, including a duel match the following Friday at Levelland, and another at Brownfield March 14. Other non-conference matches are being sought.

District play will be held on three dates, Mar. 15 and 22 and April 12, at Brownfield, Sweetwater and Snyder, respectively. Teams will play 18 holes each of the dates, with low total team advancing to region.

Reeves To Speak Here

"And here, direct from Viet Nam, where he's been visiting with fighting men of the U. S. armed forces..." might well be the introduction given for Dan Reeves when he speaks here Tuesday.

The Dallas Cowboy running back is currently in the Southeast Asian country with several other American professional athletes on a moral-boosting trip.

He is scheduled to arrive back in the United States Monday in order to make the speaking engagement here.

Reeves, who came to the Dallas ball club four years ago as a free agent after being ignored for his quarterbacking at South Carolina, will be the keynote speaker for the annual Littlefield Quarterback Club Football Banquet.

The event will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Tickets, available from any member of the Club, are $2.50 each. The public is invited.

SEASON ENDS 1-23

Cat Rally Dies, Lose Final Game

A third-quarter rally by the Littlefield Wildcats almost gave them a victory in their final game of the season here Tuesday night, but they finally bowed to speedy, hot-shooting Slaton, 70-49.

The loss gave the 'Cats of Coach James Duncan a 1-23 record for the season and a winless card in District 3-AAA competition.

It was the last roundball contest for five Wildcat seniors,

Roy Burk, Joe Ross, Wally Sanders, James Griffin and Norman Kisner.

The 'Cats stayed within shooting distance of the Tigers through the first half, trailing 17-9 after the first period and 35-21 at the half.

Then, with 2:06 remaining in the third period, the 'Cats cut loose on a series of fast breaks with Tiger miscues and narrowed the deficit to only nine points, 42-33.

But Slaton tightened court press, which the had been using all the from that point and length the lead to 48-33 by the period close.

The Tigers were led by versatile Richard Washington with 24 points on 12 goals, most of which were long outside jumpers. J. Summar had 21 points to him.

Burk led the 'Cats scoring, scoring six on jumpers and a charity 13 points. Charley Holt the only other local in double figures, 11.

Littlefield canned seven of 19 free shot attempts.

The Junior Varsity scored more points in the period, 13, then the three periods combined, losing to Slaton, 41-24.

Trailing 16-3 after the period and 19-9 at half the "B" team narrowed the to 30-22 in the third period. Scoring honors went to Holt and Albert Sanchez, hitting two field goals and free throws for eight points.

Triangular Meet Here This Friday

Weather permitting, a triangular meet here Friday will open the Littlefield Wildcat track season.

The 'Cats will host Levelland and Brownfield, with first event starting at 4 p.m. All events except the hurdles will be held.

The following weekend, Feb. 22, the team will travel to Brownfield for an invitational meet.

Then March 1, Littlefield will host the first annual Wildcat Relays. Twenty five schools of AAA and AA classification have been invited, according to Coach Raymond Birchfield, and hopefully 12 will participate.

The Relays are in competition with Snyder's annual Canyon Reef Relays. Some eight schools have already accepted, including Olton.

Following the Relays, Littlefield will compete at Denver City Mar. 8, Levelland Mar. 15, Hereford Mar. 22, Seminole Mar. 29, observe the Easter Holidays, and come back for the District meet at Snyder.

The Regional meet will be April 18-19 at Odessa.

SIGNS WITH TCU—Sudan's great defensive nose guard Monte Roberts signs a letter of intent with Texas Christian University yesterday morning. Looking on are TCU Assistant Coach Ted Plumb, left, Mrs. A.J. Roberts and Hornet Coach Jim Cain.

HE'S A WINNER...

TCU Signs Sudan's Roberts

When a husky young man can direct his energies and considerable built-in meanness in the proper channels, it can be most profitable, and enjoyable.

That's the case of Monroe T. Roberts, otherwise known to 13-some-odd respectful offensive centers who played across from him as nose guard Monte, of the championship Sudan Hornet football team.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roberts of Sudan yesterday morning signed a letter of intent for a scholarship to play football for the Texas Christian University Hornfrogs.

Landing the blue chip defensive specialist was assistant football coach Ted Plumb, who rates Roberts as "one of the best in the state".

For young Roberts, there was never any question where he wanted to play football. And he was wooed by many.

"It's the greatest scholarship a person could get," he commented after signing, TCU was the school he had in mind from the very first.

Mrs. Roberts confided her mountain of a son (6-1, 195) had been talking TCU since he put his first pads on.

"He is All State, and one of the best in the state. He is the type of boy you have to have to win," stated Coach Plumb.

The Fort Worth resident wasn't limited in his compliments. He heaped praise aplenty on Hornet Head Coach Jim Cain for producing fine players with the winning knowledge such as Roberts.

Roberts' predecessor as defensive nose guard, Robin Davis, was signed about this time last year to play for the Texas A&M Aggies. And he is.

Plumb, who refers to Roberts as a winner, says the Hornet powerhouse will probably be used as a linebacker at TCU.

Close followers of the sport can appreciate the high compliment Plumb played Roberts, when he said the youth "...knows what shoulder pads are for."

And he does, as Southwest Conference opponents will find out in the next few years.

Anton Tops Whitharral

Troy Tidwell and Larry Gage battled it out at the hoops Tuesday night, and finished in a draw, but their respective teams determined a winner. It was Anton over Whitharral, 62-51.

The point makers finished with 19 points each.

In the other game, between their female counterparts, Anton was again the winner, 41-34.

Ironically, that game's two high scorers, Gayle Kesey and Rita Monroe, both from Anton, had the same number of points as Tidwell and Gage, 19. The high Whitharral point producer was Kathy Williams, with 15.

The Bulldogs didn't pull out with much of a lead until the second half got underway. They led by only 11-10 after the first period and 24-22 at halftime. Third-quarter score was 44-36.

Calf Scramble To Feature Two Littlefield Youths

The Houston Livestock Show's calf scramble will again qualify as the "world's greatest" when the first of a series of 16 contests takes place. When 384 boys scramble for 192 calves, each contest becomes an exciting highlight of the show.

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Anton FFA attended the southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth last month. Members going were Danny Fisher, Jerry Herrin, James Synatzke, Roger Webb, Jimmy Clevenger, Phillip Batello and Mark Grace. With them were Homer Lowrance, left, Weldon Swan, Charlie Swan and Rusty Swan.

In 1942, when the first scramble was held at the Houston Livestock Show, only 24 calves were awarded. There was no idea that the project would put over a million dollars in livestock into the hands of Texas boys in the next 26 years.

Since then, the calf scramble has become so popular with rodeo audiences that there has been a contest in every performance of America's Wildest Rodeo. Businessmen sponsor the calves in the Calf Scramble by contributing $200 for a dairy or beef calf. Every cent of these contributions goes into the "Calf" fund for a certificate for a boy. Many of the sponsors become personally interested in "their" boy and follow up his activities throughout the ensuing year.

The purpose of the Calf Scramble is to encourage and further the education of 4-H Club boys and FFA boys in the raising, feeding and breeding of high quality cattle in Texas and all the participants find it most rewarding.

At each performance 24 boys are lined up within a square in the center of the Astrodome, and 12 calves are turned loose.

At a signal, the boys race after the calves, the idea being to place a halter on a calf and coax it into the square.

The 12 boys who accomplish this receive a calf certificate for either a dairy or beef calf, whichever they prefer. With his cash certificate he purchases the best animal he can find.

He must then take care of the calf, furnish monthly records to the Houston Livestock Show and his sponsor, then return his animal to the Show next year to be shown in either the Junior Dairy or Junior Breeding Beef Division of the Houston Livestock Show.

Olton Splits With Friona

Olton split a varsity doubleheader Tuesday night with Friona, the Mustangs winning 67-34, and the Squaws doing a victory dance, 76-54.

Joe Schultz was high for the Mustang victory cause, scoring 20 points.

Kenneth Johnson and Joe Schultz were high in the Mustang cause, scoring 22 and 20 points, respectively. Donny Carthel had 18 for the Chiefs.

Katy Carson was the leading Mustangette forward, with 39 points. For Friona, it was Pam Turner's 25.

Friona also won the boys "B" game, 44-32.

The Mustangs continue to stand in second place of District 3-AA, 4-1, behind undefeated Dimmitt, which has clinched the conference title again this year.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Decker of Brownfield visited their parents, the Charles Burt family and the Jerome Decker family over the weekend.

ATHLETICS IN ACTION

The Wildcat basketball team ended the 1968-69 basketball season Tuesday night in a final clash with Slaton in the Wildcat gym.

Last Tuesday, the Fighting Wildcats came very close to beating Lubbock Estacado in a fast game which was full of thrills.

The 'Cats had the fans in the Littlefield stands standing up most of the game as they fought the Matadors in a furious battle which ended in a twelve point spread, 62-48.

Leading the Wildcats in scoring were Max Hutchins, with 13 and Roy Burk with 11. The B-team also lost to the Matadors 52-36. Leading the locals in scoring was Albert Sanchez with 10.

The final score of the Varsity game little indicates the closeness of the game, as the 'Cats were out ahead of the Matadors several times. They should be congratulated for their tremendous effort in showing the fans a real exciting game.

Friday night the 'Cats took on the Lobos of Levelland in the Levelland gym. The 'Cats couldn't get going against the tough defense of the Lobos as they were downed 91-35. Leading the Wildcats in scoring were Charles Carter with 13 and Joe Ross with 9.

With the end of basketball season comes track. Tomorrow the Wildcat track team hosts a practice meet in the Wildcat Stadium with Muleshoe and Brownfield. This meet will show some of the potentials of the track team, even though it is early in the season.

Let's all go out and support the tracksters!

By JUANITA SAMANIEGO
Valentine's Day is celebrated on Feb. 14 as a festival of romance and affection.

People send greeting cards called Valentines to their sweethearts, their friends, and members of their families.

Valentine's Day is not a business holiday or anything of the kind. It is a holiday to commemorate the martyrdom of a saint.

Another saint, whose name was Saint Valentine, is sometimes confused with the Saint Valentine for whom Valentine's Day is dedicated.

On Valentine's Day, women and girls receive candies, gifts, and valentines. Valentine's Day is supposed to remind the people of the various courteous things that the men did for women during the seventh century.

The Romans had much to do with the customs and traditions that we have derived for Valentine's Day. Most Valentine's Day customs were concerned with romance or the choice of a mate.

Single girls had many ways of learning the identity of their future husbands. Sometimes a girl wrote her boy friends' names on bits of paper and rolled each name in a little piece of clay. She then dropped the clay into water.

The first scrap of paper to rise to the top was supposed to contain the name of her true valentine.

Some unmarried girls pinned five bay leaves to their pillows on the eve of Valentine's Day. They pinned one leaf to the center of the pillow and one to each corner, and believed they would see their future husbands in their dreams if the charm worked.

Years ago, people held many beliefs in connection with Valentine's Day. One of the oldest beliefs said that birds choose their mates on Feb. 14.

An old English superstition warned that it was bad luck to bring snowdrops into the house before Valentine's Day if unmarried girls in the home hoped to be married before the end of the year.

Valentine's Day comes on the feast day of two different Christian martyrs named Valentine.

But the customs connected with the day have nothing to do with the lives of the saints. They probably come from an ancient Roman festival called Lupercalia which took place every Feb. 14. The festival honored Juno, the Roman goddess of women and marriage, and Pan, the god of nature.

In the United States, Valentine's Day became popular in the 1800's, at the time of the Civil War. A writer in a magazine of 1863, "Indeed, with the exception of Christmas, there is no festival throughout the world which is invested with half the interest belonging to this cherished anniversary."

Many valentines of that period were hand painted. They usually showed a fat cupid whose arrows pierced a heart. Some valentines had

Miss Oldham Reigns As Basketball Queen

Janice Oldham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Oldham, was crowned Basketball Queen in pre-game ceremonies Feb. 4. Kay Burk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Burk, and Kay Armistead, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bill Armistead were junior and sophomore candidates, respectively.

Allen Williams crowned Miss Oldham as Steve Maner presented her with a dozen red roses.

Janice is a member of the Wildcat Band in which she serves as secretary. She claims membership in the FTA and is a staff member of the 1969 WILDCAT. The five feet, two inch senior favors yellow and pink, charcoal broiled steaks, football, and skiing.

satin, ribbon, and lace trimmings. Many old valentines, usually valued for their decorative qualities, have become collector's items.

In early days, young people chose their valentines by writing names on slips of paper, then drawing them by chance from a vase. This is still done in most of the schools on Valentine's Day. After drawing lots, each young man wore the paper with his lady's name on his sleeve for several days. The expression, "He wears his heart on his sleeve," probably came from this custom.

Young men often presented gifts to their valentines. In some places, the young man gave his lady a pair of gloves. Among wealthy families, men gave fancy-dress balls in honor of their valentines. The custom of sending sentimental messages gradually replaced that of giving fine gifts.

In Italy, people in some areas hold a Valentine's Day feast on Feb. 14.

In Sicily, some young unmarried women get up before sunrise on Valentine's Day. They stand by their windows, sometimes for hours, watching for a man to pass the house. Each girl believes that the first man she sees, or someone who looks like him, will become her bridegroom within the year.

In Denmark, some persons send pressed snowdrop flowers to special friends on Valentine's Day. The Danes call one type of valentine "gaekkebreve", or joking letter. The sender writes an original rhyme but does not sign his name. He uses a code of dots, with one dot representing each letter of his name.

If his young lady guesses his name and tells him, he rewards her with an Easter egg on the following Easter.

GUESS WHO this thirsty junior is. He's a tall fellow, plays football, and drives a green Chevy.

D.E. Students Place

Nine Distributive Education students went Saturday, Feb. 1, to the Distributive Education Area One Elimination Contest in Odessa, at Odessa College.

They competed with other towns as far north as Amarillo, as far west as El Paso, as far south as Midland, Odessa, Kermit and as far east as Abilene.

Mrs. Henry, D. E. Coordinator, Mrs. Trees, and Coach Duncan, sponsored the students to and from the meet. They left Saturday morning at 5 and returned Saturday afternoon.

The students entering in the contest were Lynn Powell, Keith Overland, Vicki McKinnon, Debbie Barton, Linda Harlan, David Sevier, Terry Hobbs, Randy Mitchell, and Randy Brestrup.

The six, who placed and what they placed in, are Lynn Powell, second in Outstanding Service Station Employee; Keith Overland, second in Public Speaking; Linda Harlan, third in Public Speaking; Debbie Barton, second in Job Interview; and Terry Hobbs and Randy Mitchell, second in Grocery Checker-Sacker Team.

When asked the question, "were you proud of the over-all results?", Mrs. Henry

AND the BEAT GOES ON ***

By MILYNDY MORRIS

My first assignment in speech class last fall was to deliver a three minute address on any subject of my choice. I decided to give a speech entitled "The Demands on the American Teenager".

Now you may ask yourself, "How many demands could an American teenager possibly have on himself?"

Believe me, three minutes is hardly enough time to begin to scratch the surface of the subject, and after this past semester of school, I can delve deeper into the matter.

Foremost on the list of demands is, of course, school. The American teenager attends school from 8:30 (Actually most students arrive at school by 8:00 and the first bell at LHS rings at 8:15) until 4:00. This is at least 7 1/2 hours out of the 24-hour day spent in those hallowed halls.

Associated with school, of course, is homework. Students are expected to maintain good grades, and to do this one should study at least 1 1/2 hours.

There are some 13 organizations in LHS, and I dare say every student is a member of at least one—many belong to as many as five. Membership in any club means not only attending meetings, but working on projects as well.

Take away the time spent in school and school related activities, and the teenager has 14 hours left.

Don't forget that anyone who participates in any sport puts in many out of school hours working out.

Allow eight hours for sleep (You may have observed that very few teenagers receive eight hours of sleep—you will see why later.) and the member of the younger generation has six hours left.

Take away one hour for eating, including breakfast, lunch, dinner, and snacks, and one hour for personal grooming which includes getting dressed in the morning, showering, hair care (which by the way, few girls can do in one hour a day) and your teenager is left with four hours.

During this time he has to earn money, do his duties around the house, socialize with his friends, read, shop, keep up on current events, clean his room (this may only mean clearing a path from the door to the bed), keep up family relations, watch t.v., go to the movies, talk on the phone, listen to the radio, write letters, attend church and civic functions, date, think, and gripe about the demands on the American teenager.

There are seven activities in Interscholastic League that are studied in speech, including debate, prose interpretation, poetry interpretation, persuasive speaking, informative speaking, spelling, and the one-act play.

This Friday the 1969 Senior Athletics boys will take on the male faculty in basketball.

The senior team will consist of all who are playing football, basketball, golf and tennis.

The male faculty will consist of several players, such as Coach Duncan, Mr. Ford, the newest member on the team, and Mr. Gilstrap who had a heart attack last year.

stated, "Extremely proud! Those that did not place are by no means losers. They gained valuable experience by being in competition with many students. There were approximately 400 people at the contest from a wide area of Texas."

"First place winners from this contest will compete against the winners of the other four D. E. areas in Texas at the state convention to be held in Dallas, March 7 and 8".

"Littlefield will send three voting delegates, as this is also the D.E.C.A. state meeting."

Language Courses Taught In LHS

There are three language courses taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Ayres. They are Spanish II, Latin, and speech. Mrs. Ayres has two Spanish II classes which are held third and sixth periods. She has approximately 50 students in her two classes.

Culture and background of the people who speak the language, and the oral and written expression in Spanish and aural training is what is taught in Spanish II.

Latin is taught by Mrs. Ayres the fifth period. She has 22 pupils in her class. Mrs. Ayres states that "Latin is a basic language for English and other languages. It is essential as a background for the interpretation of much literature. The Latin literature that has survived is still unsurpassed in the beauty of language and in clarity of expression."

Some of the things that are taught in Latin is Roman history and mythology, English derivatives and grammatical structure.

There is one fourth period speech class which is taught by Mrs. Ayres. Speech students learn the significance of speech and its essentials, and develop self confidence. They learn the effective use of oral language, voice control, improvement of articulation, effective action, the areas of debate, discussions and conferences, and the interpretation of literature.

Mrs. Ayres states that "language is our chief means of communication. We try to convey to others our ideas, our aims, our wants, values and our very own personalities. We are trying to influence, inform, entertain, inspire and persuade to move someone to action."

When Mrs. Ayres was asked her opinion of speech she replied, "I would not teach any subject that I feel is of no value or cannot be correlated with the pupil's overall program of study. Speech is essential to everyone for clarity of oral communication and overall reception and interpretation."

There are seven activities in Interscholastic League that are studied in speech, including debate, prose interpretation, poetry interpretation, persuasive speaking, informative speaking, spelling, and the one-act play.

Nancy Hall and Geoffrey Grizzle will play the defendant, Karen Andre, charged with the murder of Mr. Faulkner.

'Night Of January 16th' Play Cast Is Announced

The cast for the all-school play to be presented Feb. 21 and 22 in the county courthouse was announced last week by sponsors Mrs. Elizabeth Ayres, Miss Donice Jones, and Mr. A. H. Burton.

A different cast will perform each night.

Those cast are Judy Diersing and Peggy Dean as the prison matron; Charlie Holt and Johnny Reese as the bailiff; Emery Waters and Gary Garrison as Judge Heath; Wayland Hutto and David Conway as the district attorney; Mary Hobratchek and Mark Jordan as defense attorney; Cheryl Laster and Debbie Hill as secretary to the district attorney; Jeneane Huffman and Terry Walker as secretary to the defense attorney; and Bobby Wood and Lynn Barton as clerk of the court.

Nancy Hall and Geoffrey Grizzle will play the defendant, Karen Andre, charged with the murder of Mr. Faulkner.

Other parts include Graham Whitfield, father of Faulkner's widow, played by Ken Richardson and Timmons; Jane Chandler, handwriting expert, played by Beverly Chisholm and Milynda Morris; Sigurd Jungquist, secretary to the late Faulkner, played by Mike Collins and David Sevier; Larry Regan, questionable character, played by Bobby Crittenden and Keith Overland; Roberta Rensselaer, a widowed daughter, played by Catherine Barton and Pam Stafford; stenographer played by Hopper and Darla Howard; court attendant played by Norman Kiser and Dan Harrell; and policemen played by David Roden, Roy Chaney, and Bruce Timian.

The cast is subject to slight change.

SUGGESTED FOR IMMATURE AUDIENCES

Happiness Is..

Having a VALENTINE

Linda Horn

What is a "Valentine"? It could be a card, a box of candy, or a person. A person valentine "is really the best kind". A "person valentine" as your sweetheart. He or she is someone you are extremely fond of.

Some of our L.J.H. Valentine sweethearts are: Judy Cannon and Robby Newton, Gary Brown and Carol Franco, Kenny Owens and Barbara McBride, Deanna Jeffries and Kevin Kirby, Matt Giles and Kathy Turner, Mary Shotwell and Bruce Hall, Thriess Bingham and Larry Hobrathschk, Ben Mc Kinnon and Tonya Pickrell, Bill Ledbetter and Karol Terry, Celia Andrews and Randy Trotter, Debbie Sorley and Michael Carter, and Shelly Grant and Jay Trammell.

Who is your valentine? Or would you rather keep it a secret?

So, let Cupid shoot his arrows in the right direction and let everyone live happily ever after....at least until after all the candy is munched and crunched, or as an old Chinese proverb says: Wise lady-type-girl do not chew out boyfriend if wish to chew on candy.

Scott McNeese—We hear that you really believe in the motto, "cheaper by the dozen", especially since you drank 12 1/2 glasses of milk at the pancake supper.

Recently, one of our L.J.H. teachers went to a psychiatrist complaining that "I keep dreaming that my students think I'm a demon, monster, vampire, or zombie!" "That's very interesting," the doctor remarked. "Tell me, do you always dream in alphabetical order?"

Another herd of drivers is on the way! Yes, the next drivers' ed class starts Feb. 17. So, beware of student drivers and remember, ALWAYS DRIVE DEFENSIVELY!!!

March 1, several band students are bravely going to Lubbock for solo and ensemble contest. These people are working very hard after school and also at home. We wish everyone the best of luck in bringing home some "1's"!

About two weeks ago, Bruce Hall went to a camp and ran into his uncle Max.

"Why, hello, Uncle Max!" he exclaimed. "I haven't seen you in years. You sure have changed. You used to have hair, now you're bald. You used to be fat, now you're skinny. You used to be short, now you're tall. You never had a moustache, now you have a real bushy one."

The other fellow replied, "But my name isn't Max."

Bruce responded, "So, you changed your name, too?"

Last Monday night, our junior high basketball teams traveled to Morton for a tough battle. Unfortunately, both teams lost, but we want to wish them the best of luck at the track meet this weekend. Yes, it's "good-bye" to basketball and "hello" to track. The meet will be held here in Littlefield.

A boy of L.J.H. (we are withholding his name upon request) went to a doctor for treatment of a swollen foot. The doctor brought him a pill, but unfortunately, he was called away for about five minutes on an emergency case.

In the meantime, the boy got tired of waiting, so he took the pill.

Then the doctor returned and said, "Okay, now let's drop the pill in this bucket and soak that foot."

Last Thursday, the freshmen girls volleyball team lost their first game to Hereford.

To win a match, a team must win two out of three games. Hereford won the first one, we won the second, and Hereford took over the third one, winning the match.

The girls are doing fairly well considering the little practice they have had.

Today, they will play Seagraves at 6:30 in the high school gym. You are invited to come see our girls participate in athletics.

Yesterday, Carla Owen's little sister, Tammy, was making mud pies on the sidewalk when a gentleman stopped and said, "My word! You're pretty dirty, aren't you?"

"Yes," she answered, "but I'm prettier clean."

Saturday, the Honor Choir students from L.J.H. went to Lubbock to give their concert.

Due to the illness of Mr. Carter's child, Mrs. Pylant took the kids. They registered at 9:00 that morning and worked all day on their music.

They thoroughly enjoyed it and found out how "different" a choir can sound. They thought it was well worth their time!

The concert was held at 7:30 in the Coronado High School auditorium.

The other morning, Mr. Adcock went to a restaurant and asked the waitress, "Are bacon and eggs on your menu?"

"No, sir," she said, "We clean our menus regularly."

Last Friday, Feb. 7, the FHA officers met to discuss things that the club has done and things that the club will do.

They discussed things such as sending supplies to soldiers in Vietnam, sending Christmas cards to hospitals, helping the needy, sending old glass frames to an optometrist to help those who can't afford them, and the eighth grade open house, which they will have Tuesday.

FHA has been pretty active this year in junior high.

Just keep up the good work!

Have a good week, and.....watch out for Cupid!!!

Dean Lists Honor Roll

Among students at South Plains College who made a perfect grade of 4.00 for the fall semester is Janey Marie Webb of Littlefield, according to Academic Dean Nathan Tubbs.

Others who qualified for the Dean's honor list, making a grade point average of 3.00 or above, were Harlen Gilley, Gerald Roberts, Shirley Dunn, Beverly Nix, Leona Harms, Larry Wisdom, Jimmy Hutson and Brenda Wilkerson, all of Littlefield; Mary Simmacher, Elizabeth Dickerson, Charles Burt, Michael Albus, all of Pep; Michael Richardson of Bula; Hazel House, Nancy Sokora, Glen Salyer, Donna Masten and Jerry Hopper, all of Sudan; Carl Jones of Whitharral; and Stephen Cox and William Floyd of Amherst.

DEDUCE PREMIUMS

Many taxpayers fail to take advantage of the revised law on health-insurance premiums. It permits deduction of such premiums, up to $150, even if you do not have enough other medical costs to claim a deduction.

Homecoming Scheduled For Spade Friday

Ex-students, ex-teachers and Spade community residents are invited to participate in the Spade Ex-Student Association homecoming scheduled for Friday.

Registration will begin at 4:30 p.m. Friday at the Spade School, and barbecue will be served in the school lunchroom beginning at 5 p.m.

Tickets for the barbecue are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children, and proceeds from the sales will go to the senior class.

Ex-students will conduct a business session at 6:30 p.m.

Current officers of the ex-students' organization are: Glenna Stubblefield, president;

Waymon Barker, vice-president and Evone Oliver, secretary-treasurer.

Awards will be presented to the oldest ex-student and the ex-student who travels the farthest distance to attend the activities.

During halftime activities of a basketball game between Spade High School boys and Hart High School, a homecoming queen will be crowned. Candidates for queen are Joella Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Myers; Belinda Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thompson; and Carole Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stubblefield.

MR. AND MRS. N. H. Humphries are spending some time in Waco with her mother, who underwent surgery.

MR. AND MRS. Grover Dunn of Hobbs visited Mrs. Lester LaGrange and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Roberson Sunday afternoon.

WEEKEND GUESTS of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton (Doc) Bowman were Donnie Gene Bowman of Washington, D. C. and Judy Bowman of Ralls. They met Donnie Gene as he arrived by plane in Lubbock Friday afternoon. That night they attended the Ralls girls' basketball game at Roosevelt.

Judy is their coach. Donnie Gene is employed by the Agriculture Dept. in Washington. He was on a business trip to New Orleans and Phoenix. He returned home Sunday afternoon.

JACK PRIDDY of Clovis, brother of Mrs. Claud Cook and Mrs. Winfred Crosby fell while at work two weeks ago, receiving head and back injuries. At first the severity of his injuries was not discovered. He was transferred to Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, and is improving.

THE CURRENT Church-wide study at the Methodist Church Sunday evenings from 5:45 to 7 o'clock is "Christ and Christ Southeast Asia" edited by Gerald H. Anderson. Mr. Virgil Hinds, chairman of the Amherst Mission, is directing the study. Guest speaker Sunday was Dr. Newman of Dimmitt who spent some time in Vietnam for the government Health Education and Welfare program. He had slides illustrate his talk. A panel laymen completed the program.

NEXT SUNDAY Rev. Ker Wiseman of Wesley Church Levelland will be guest speaker and on Feb. 24 a film, "Faith in Revolution" will be shown.

TWO HUNDRED young people of the Llanos Area Baptist Association were here for a youth rally at the local Baptist Church Monday night, Feb. 10.

THAT'S THE BANK FOR YOUR MONEY

Value Showdown:

Match these features against what competition gives you for the same kind of money, and you'll have a better idea why more people are buying Chevrolets again this year.

Built-in "guard rails"

There's a strong steel beam built into every door of every 1969 Caprice, Impala, Bel Air, Biscayne, Kingswood Estate Wagon, Kingswood, Townsman and Brookwood.

We call it a side guard beam, and it looks like one of those guard rails you see along the freeway.

That's what it's there for: To guard you. To strengthen the door and put a more solid wall between you and the outside world.

Not a glamorous feature. But you'll have to admit worthwhile.

Computer-selected springs

Maybe you'll order your new Chevy equipped to the hilt.

Or maybe you'll order it with hardly anything on it.

Either way, you're going to get your full measure of our renowned ride.

Because we go to the trouble of programming each car's equipment load into an electronic computer.

The computer then tells us exactly which springs to use, depending on the car's weight and the way it's distributed.

Chevrolet, the only car in its field with computer-selected springs.

Fenders inside fenders

We could have skipped this. (The other cars in our field do.)

But we're as anxious as you are to keep your beautiful new Chevy looking beautiful and new.

So:

Up inside the regular fenders we've placed a second set.

They do all the in-fighting. Catch all the splashed-up rain, slush and road salt. Stop the kicked-up stones.

While your "outers" just sit there looking pretty.

Astro Ventilation

The other two cars in our field give you air intakes down by the floor.

So do we.

We also give you two up on the instrument panel.

And all four of them are adjustable so you can regulate the flow of air just the way you like it.

Even with all the windows closed, you'll be comfortable inside. You get air without wind. Without noise.

Astro Ventilation is standard, now, on all the big Chevrolets.

The theft-thwarter

On the steering column there's a lock.

Only Chevrolet has it, in Chevrolet's field.

You turn the key and it locks three things:

Your ignition.

Your steering wheel.

Your shift lever.

When you own a car this tempting, you don't dare take chances.

Biggest standard V8 in our field

Ask any car enthusiast, he'll tell you: Chevrolet builds great engines. Especially V8s.

And this year there are six great V8s available for the big Chevrolet. Standard: Our 235-hp 327-cubic-inch Turbo-Fire.

Another thing: We've lowered the price of several of our bigger V8s along with our automatic transmissions and power disc brakes. Which makes it possible for you to buy a '69 Chevrolet for even less money than you could last year.

Show up for our Showdown. You can't lose.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

CLAYTON SAYS

Hearing Planned On Quail Issue

AUSTIN—Representative Bill Clayton stated that he has received several inquiries pertaining to the length of quail hunting season in Lamb County.

Two years ago, acting on a resolution by the commissioners' court, a bill was introduced and passed to limit the hunting season to 20 days on quail.

Since that time, another resolution was adopted by the Court on June 17, 1968, which asks that the Legislature return the authority governing quail-hunting season in Lamb County to the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

According to the direction of this resolution, Clayton stated that he had introduced House Bill 21, which would place the regulation of the hunting season in the hands of the Commission. This bill has not been heard before a committee, because the Parks and Wildlife Committee has just been organized and will not hear any bills until the week of February 10.

During the week of February 3, however, the commissioners' court of Lamb County passed another resolution which, in effect, invalidates the resolution of June 17. This resolution requests that the authority for setting the hunting season for quail be vested in the commissioners' court of said county.

Representative Clayton stated that he must be directed by the Commissioners' Court before passing any game legislation. But due to conflicting resolutions, hearing on any game bill will be delayed for a few weeks, until such time as the full extent of the new resolution may be determined.

Clayton further stated that it is his desire to do what the majority of the people of Lamb County want in regard to the quail-hunting season.

This is the reason that heavy emphasis must be placed on action by the commissioners' court. Legislative committees will respond to such a resolution as being the majority desire of the people in a given county.

have to do is notify Pat Donnelly (game warden) and anyone caught hunting there would be fined. That would keep them off."

The hunters said anyone hunting without permission on a fenced place is automatically trespassing, even without posted signs.

The sportsmen pointed out that persons who didn't want hunting could put their land in a game preserve and they couldn't even hunt on it themselves.

According to Judge Sides, the ranchers made their plea on the grounds that, 1. it was better to keep as much government in local hands as possible, and 2. the extreme amount of trouble hunters caused them.

Commenting on action taken by the commissioners, Latimer said, "It's just about what we expected. We've been sold down the river, plain and simple. But we'll have as many people in Austin at the hearing as it takes. I still think we have a chance."

"How many days we can hunt quail is no longer the issue. It has gone past that. In asking that the Parks and Wildlife be in charge of the season we said we didn't care whether they set the days of hunting at one day, two months, or six months, we were willing to abide by the decision made by professionals hired to make game surveys."

"The issue now is whether or not we still have majority rule."

... Payne

Payne sold him a lumber yard. "I still kid her about the business deal I made," he said.

While still in Oklahoma, Payne met Wiley Post. Soon after joining the Halsells he met the famous humorist, Will Rogers.

Rogers liked to visit the Halsell ranch. Columns written while in Lamb County were sent to the Muleshoe Post Office because Rogers said he liked the Muleshoe dateline.

Payne followed Halsell around the corals taking letters and telegrams in shorthand as Halsell worked. Will Rogers observed Payne doing this one day. "Can you get down every word he says?" Rogers asked Payne.

"Will Rogers asked me how fast I could write," Payne said. "I told him I didn't know, that I'd never found anyone who could talk faster than I could take it down."

Will Rogers offered Payne a job, asking him to come up to the Ziegfeld Follies with him, tour Europe and then make a tour of the U. S.

"But I'd been married just a little over a year and we had a little baby boy only two or three weeks old. My wife said 'no' to the idea right away."

"That's one of those little things in life that you never know how it would have turned out. If I had stayed with Rogers two or three years I might have written a book about him after he died in the plane crash with sayings people haven't heard about. Then again, I might have been with him when the plane fell."

Payne has owned and operated the Payne Funeral Home in Amherst since 1931. "I worked at a funeral home while I was in Muskogee, Okla.," Payne said. "I've always liked what I'm doing. It's made me a living. I could sell out tomorrow, but what would I do? I can't sit over there in the domino hall all day!"

According to Payne's friends, he was quite an entertainer in his day.

Payne got started in some soft shoe routines, ventriloquism, and Negro preacher acts while he was in YMCA work in Oklahoma. For a while he traveled with a junior circuit.

"I used to sing and do the soft shoe with my dummy act," Payne said. "My dummy would criticize my singing and dancing. I had someone behind the curtains pull the string that controlled the dummy's lips while I was out front doing the dancing," he said. "The audience never could figure out how I made the dummy talk while I was out there dancing."

"I sure quit that foolishness when I moved out here. Those are just some silly things I did in high school, and sort of got in the habit of doing.

"The last time I put on the frock, wig, and hat, and did the preacher act, I told my wife to hide that box with the costume in it so I wouldn't know where the stuff was."

Payne helped Halsell lay out the town of Amherst. Amherst proper is seven blocks wide and 11 long. "Mr. Halsell named the streets running north and south on the east side of Main after the first presidents," Payne said. "He named the ones on the west of Main, Henderson, Wood and Bell. I still don't know why they were named that."

"When I first came to Amherst," Payne said, "antelopes grazed around the school house. This was all part of the 70,000 acre Sod House Pasture. "I wouldn't take any thing for that old typewriter," Payne said, motioning to the old Underwood in the corner of his office. "That's still one of the best ones ever made."

... Clayton

4800—"not enough for two schools in the county," Clayton said.

Clayton agreed that the Governor's report is only the beginning. He said he expects the issue to keep coming back.

He urged area schools to try to update curriculums and equipment.

Clayton said he has received 20-25 letters per day since the first of the year on the Governor's report. Of all these, he said, there was only one favoring the committee's recommendations.

Most objections are on the compulsory consolidation and the tax base, he said.

Clayton expressed surprise that of all the mail he has received, not one person has objected to five-year-olds attending school, and eventually four-year-olds.

Rep. Clayton said the educational bill will probably be introduced this week.

Clayton stated petitions with long lists of signatures did not do as much good as did four or five letters to a legislator. He expressed contempt for form letters.

Clayton gave a brief summing up of pending bills that will affect Texans.

The representative said he expects a stormy session with these up-coming bills: 1. Liquor by the drink 2. Daylight savings time. 3. Race horse question. 4. Tort claims bill. 5. Water resource development. 6. Tax raise—Texas is already spending 2 1/2-3 billion annually; and 7. Education—Texas already spending almost 50 cents of every dollar on education.

Applications

Being Accepted By Lfd. Lions
