Americans Win Greatest Victory Since Cherbourg

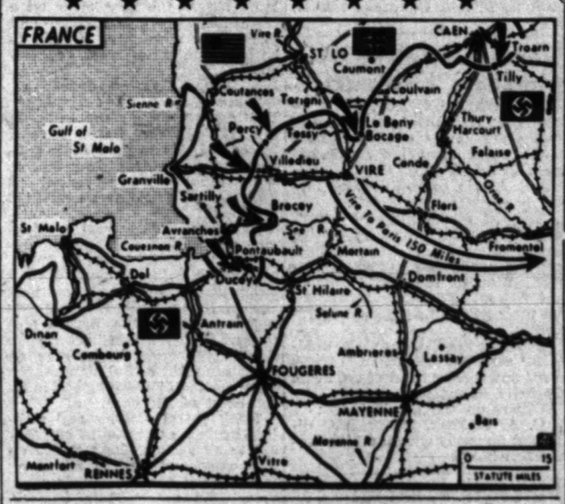

Forty Miles Gained In One Day Of Lightning Invasion Of Brittany; Yanks Racing Toward Big Port Of St. Nazaire

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 3. — In the greatest victory since Cherbourg American troops whirling through Brittany have captured and passed beyond Rennes and have reached Dinan, one-fourth of the way to Brest from Avranches.

Fall of Rennes, a hub of 11 highways and four railways almost in the center of the Peninsula, severed the Germans' main communications in Brittany. It placed the Americans almost half way on the road to St. Nazaire, Nazi U-boat base and American troop port in the first World War.

With elements of only four German divisions encountered so far in the lightning invision of Brittany, it appeared that ailing Marshal Rommel had been caught short of troops on the new front and that most, if not all, of the peninsula might fall by the weekend for the most sweeping triumph of the invasion.

To the north, rapid advances were marked up by other American spearheads thrusting east from Avranches. One of Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's columns was approaching Mortain, 20 miles east of Avranches.

Death Trap On Nazis

It appeared that a virtual death trap had been closed around Rommel's fighting rearguards to the north of this area. American doughboys were moving rapidly into the pocket from Villedieu and Tessy.

A distance of 12 miles separated the Americans near Mortain from Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's British spearhead, last reported at Vire, but other American forces were much closer.

Dempsey's forces, however, were reported running into hardened opposition in their part of the trap south of Caumont. The enemy had hurried reinforcements across the backroads of Normandy in a wild effort to repair the gap in his center.

American armor struck pace toward St. Nazaire, covering as much as 40 miles in one 24-hour period.

St. Malo, a highly important port across the bay from Avranches apparently was being bypassed.

Dinan is 13 miles south of St. Malo and 100 miles east of the great port of Brest at Brittany's tip.

Rennes, central communications point of Brittany, is but 80 miles

War Due To Hit Nazi Homeland Momentarily

Reds Hammering At Crumbling Warsaw Defenses

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 — Fighting raged within three miles of the East Prussian border today as Gen. Ivan Cherniakhosby's Third White Russian army surged forward in a determined drive from captured Dydvizhe which promised momentarily to carry the war to German soil.

Russian armor charged savagely upon German defenses before the East Prussian border cities of Schirwindt, Eydtkuhnen and Wehrkirchen.

Russian cannon shelled German soil.

Cherniakhovsky's forces swirled to within 28 miles of Tilsit and 44 of Insterburg, important East Prussian rail cities. Konigsberg, East Prussian capital and 18th largest German city of 368,433, was 93 miles away. Five railroads meet at Insterburg, site of iron, machine tool and tile factories.

Fighting Near Frontier

Front dispatches declared fighting raged near Virbalis and Wizainy, both three miles from the frontier.

Outside of Warsaw, Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's forces hammered at slowly crumbling Nazi defenses in a narrow strip on the east bank of the Vistula. He appeared to be waiting for other Russian forces advancing from positions 30 miles west of Siedlce to join him for the main push across the river.

In the northern sector, where the Russians were pushing against Nazi troops isolated in Estonia and Latvia major advances were scored between Lake Peipus and the lake country north of Daugavpils.

Big Nazi Force Trapped

The Germans originally were estimated to have two armies

TRY TO BLOCK EVACUATION

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3 (AP)—Russian trucks loaded with speedboats, torpedoes and mines were speeding up the Soviet corridor to the Baltic sea west of Riga today in an effort to bottle up any waterway escape for 70 to 80 trapped German divisions, advices from the Baltic countries said.

By sowing mines between the island of Oesel and the mainland and by operating speedboats against German shipping, the Russians could hamper any German evacuation through the Gulf of Riga.

"Padlock" On Surplus War Goods Offered

Plan Would Allow Private Industry To Have Advantage

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—A proposal to "padlock" the bulk of surplus war goods for five years after the war to allow private industry to take full advantage of postwar markets was advanced today by Senator Johnson (D-Colo).

Johnson's plan was laid informally before the Senate military affairs committee in an executive session at which the committee decided to separate the surplus property disposal from other pending reconversion legislation.

Apply To Durable Goods

The Colorado senator said his padlocking plan would apply to all durable goods, in which he included wood and cotton products, which the government will own after the war.

"If we impound the durable goods, and sell only perishable things, you will see industry forge ahead," said Johnson, "but if the vast volume of surplus property is allowed to flood the market, industry will be forced to sit back and wait to see what kind of markets it is going to have left. It would stifle industry in a crucial period."

In addition to holding durable goods off the market, Johnson said his proposed bill would give Congress control over the disposition of government-built war plants. The surplus property administrator would be authorized to lease them to private operators, but the government would retain title unless Congress authorized sales.

Two-Hour Closed Session

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) said the committee, in a two-hour closed session, took no action on pending bills to set up an office of war mobilization and adjustment with broad authority to handle reconversion problems.

The Senate military committee set out today on the tough job of figuring what sort of unemployment compensation rates should be paid to discharged war workers.

The controversial issue overshadowed all others as Majority Leader Barkley, of Kentucky, sent out a call to absent senators to be in their seats next week to tackle the unprecedented problems of demobilization, reconversion and surplus property disposal.

White House Urges Action

The White House entered the picture with an appeal to congressional leaders by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes

Noose Is Closing On 10,000 Japs On Guam

Yanks Capture Airfield; Enemy Has Lost 33,000 Dead In Marianas Offensives

BY J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

Americans tightening the noose on some 10,000 Japanese pressed into the northern third of Guam have seized another airfield, bringing to seven the nest of Marianas dromes from which U. S. aerial might may soon strike into Japan's vitals from the Pacific.

Army and Marine troops, killing seven enemy soldiers for every one they lost, pushed tirelessly forward against rising resistance. But the end of the enemy seemed as sure as on conquered Tinian, where all but a handful of Japanese, hiding in caves, were accounted for.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced his forces had killed about 33,000 of the enemy on Guam, Tinian and Saipan, against a loss of 3,589 American dead, 17,548 wounded and 1,550 missing.

Field Near Island's Center

The captured fighter strip, near Guam's center, fell Tuesday. Like the other Marianas island airfields taken it is within 1,500 miles of the Philippines, the China coast and Japan, a distance negotiable by Superfortresses.

Gen. MacArthur's forces on New Guinea far to the south turned back two more frenzied Japanese attempts to break free of the Allied trap near Aitape. Enemy losses were heavy. On Biak and Noemfoor islands about 400 miles northwestward, 600 more Japanese dead were counted and 300 more prisoners were taken by clean-up troops. MacArthur's planes ranged from the East Indies to the Carolines and the Solomons. The northwest New Guinea beachhead at Sansapor, 600 miles from the Philippines, expanded.

Japs Intensify Offensive

The big Japanese offensive in China rose in fury over a wide area, but Hengyang still held out. The Chinese, besieged for five

Army Ready To Take Over In Philadelphia

Union Move To End Grave Work Stoppage Fails

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3—Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, commanding general of the Third Service Command, came here today as the Army made apparent preparations to take over Philadelphia's paralyzed transportation system.

Hayes and other Army officers went into conference with officers of the Philadelphia Transportation company after collapse of a union movement to end a bus, trolley and subway work stoppage that slashed war production, caused race violence and stranded thousands.

An Army lieutenant, accompanied by a sergeant, with an armful of placards, entered the 69th street elevated train terminal and went directly to the terminal office.

The Philadelphia Army public relations section summoned reporters to hear what it said would be an important announcement.

Referred To President

The developments came after War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes referred the stoppage case to President Roosevelt. The War Labor board had decided it could not restore operations by conducting conferences.

Upgrading of eight negro employes to operative jobs on the PTC lines, under a directive of the President's Fair Employment Practice committee, caused the walkout. Clashes between whites and negroes followed. Windows were smashed and stores looted yesterday.

New Disorders Reported

Police reported a new wave of window smashings, which they attributed to negro youths, as a two-hour move by a small group of PTC employes to restore service on Philadelphia's two subway lines ended in failure.

An official of the transport workers union (CIO), who declined to be quoted by name, said back-to-work appeals to the 6,000 employes had "only a ghost of a chance" to succeed "barring a big break in Washington."

13 Persons Hospitalized

Interracial clashes stemming from the work stoppage caused hospitalization of at least 13 persons before yesterday's steady rain—called "providential" by one police official — drove wandering bands indoors.

But the downpour also contributed to a transport snarl that kept 140,000 of the area's 800,000 war workers from their jobs, the War Manpower commission re-

GOP Endorses Federal Aid

Enterprise Plan Is Emphasized

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 3.—Endorsing continued federal contributions under certain conditions to help pay for public works, the National Guard and highway construction, the Republican governors' conference warned today that permanent peacetime jobs can be assured "only by private business under an enterprise system."

The conferees challenged encroachments of centralized government on state prerogatices.

Under leadership of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential candidate the conferees announcement on principles dealing with six of the 14 questions comprising their agenda here. They are scheduled to end their conference with agreement on the remaining eight questions tonight.

New Deal Assailed

The report made public today charged that "The New Deal now is seeking to undermine and abandon our traditional national guard system."

The agreements on principles announced today covered: Reconversion and post-war jobs, public works, highways, National Guard and organized reserves, veterans, and public lands.

Some of the eight remaining questions present more difficult problems. They are: Agriculture, insurance, labor, public expenditures, social welfare and public health, taxation, unemployment compensation and services, and water resources.

States' Rules Emphasized

The reports so far made public emphasized the role the states must have in the future. Plans are being developed while the governors meet to send Dewey and Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican vice presidential candidate, on coast-to-coast speaking campaigns to lay the party platform and the conference state-

Truman Quits Chairmanship

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) — Chairman Harry S. Truman resigned today from the Senate war investigating committee in order to have a free hand to champion the Democratic administration as President Roosevelt's fourth term running mate.

Unable to persuade the vice presidential nominee to change his mind, committee colleagues immediately offered the chairmanship to Senator Connally (D-Tex), whose refusal paved the way for the election tomorrow of Senator Mead (D-NY).

Senator Connally ranking Democratic member, said he told the committee his duties as chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee would not allow him the necessary time to devote to the leadership of the Truman committee.

"Senator Mead is next in line," Connally said: "I think he'll be chosen tomorrow."

Mead said he had no comment.

Simultaneously with Truman's action, Hugh Fulton turned in his resignation as chief counsel of the group.

Urged To Remain Chairman

Truman said both Republicans and Democrats on the committee urged him to remain as chairman at a 40-minute closed meeting this

Poles Are Battling Nazis In Warsaw

Underground Forces Burst Into Action With Heavy Attacks On Enemy Troopers

LONDON, Aug. 3. (U.P.)—Polish patriot forces battled through the streets of burning Warsaw today, shooting down Nazi troopers in a desperate bid to aid the Russian armies fighting in the city's suburbs on the east bank of the Vistula river.

A dramatic radio message flashed to the Polish high command in London from the underground headquarters inside Warsaw shortly after noon today said the patriot troops had launched a heavy attack against the enemy rear and that hard fighting was raging in four districts of the city.

Sniping At Nazis

The ill-equipped Poles were reported sniping at Nazi soldiers from hundreds of buildings and engaging enemy units in savage hand to hand fighting.

A communique issued by the Polish high command here gave no immediate details on the size of the attacking patriot force, but it was indicated that the "fifth column" was striking in considerable strength.

(The Nazi controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau in Stockholm said in a Berlin dispatch that German strategic reserves had been moved from the Reich to join the battle for Warsaw, "showing the importance the German high command is attaching to the defense of the Polish capital.")

Trying To Oust Garrison

Military authorities in London believed the Poles were trying to push the German garrison across the Vistula into the jaws of a trap now being closed by powerful Russian forces pounding through the eastern suburb of Praga.

At noon today, the communique said, the underground fighters had extended the battle into the Ogrod Saski district in the heart of Warsaw, where the German military headquarters are located in the one-time Polish foreign office building.

Other units were reported engaging the Germans in the Ochota district in western Warsaw, site

Nazi Industrial Areas Bombed

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP) — More than 750 United States heavy bombers from Italy attacked German industrial targets near the Swiss border at Friedrichshafen today and the Germans said another strong American armada was striking from England in the skies above Bavaria.

Strong forces of 500 or so Flying Fortresses from England bombed railway yards at the German frontier city of Saarbrucken, and at the French border cities of Mulhouse and Strassbourg, once bastions in the Maginot line. They also bombed an oil storage dump at Merkwiller and other military targets in France.

Weather was excellent, allowing visual bombings. Up to 500 Mustang, Lightning and Thunderbolt fighters escorted the bombers. Other fighters strafed a variety of targets aground.

Another American force of more than 750 American heavy bombers, striking from Italy, attacked industrial targets in the aircraft center of Friedrichshafen, just across Lake Constance from Switzerland. They also pounded German communications in the Po valley of northern Italy.

Up to 1,000 British bombers, es-

Nazis Are Believed Leaving Finland

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3 (AP)—Reports from Finland suggested today the Germans may be in the process of evacuating all their troops from that country as a result of Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim's replacement of Risto Ryti as the Finnish president.

Despite Ryti's now nullified agreement with the Germans not to make a separate peace with Russia, the Nazis were said to have sent the Finns only one infantry division plus a panzer brigade to bolster the active southern front.

This division and a German division long stationed in northern Finland were reported already withdrawn to Estonia.

(A Reuters dispatch received in London from Stockholm said it was reliably reported that the change in presidents in Finland was preceded by a Finnish-German agreement in Berlin consenting to a separate Finnish peace with Russia and a Nazi promise to evacuate German troops at least from southern Finland.)

Reliable advices said Mannerheim had received advance assurance from Russia that the Kremlin would consider an application for an armistice which would guarantee Finland's independence.

Serum Flown By Army Plane Aiding Man

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—If the life of J. O. Leach of Beaumont, critically ill of lockjaw in Shreveport charity hospital, is saved, it will be through the efforts of an Army B-26 bomber and a Texas highway patrolman.

The Barksdale field B-26 bomber flew here from Shreveport last night, picked up a special anti-tetanus serum, delivered to the field by a Texas highway patrolman, and was back in Shreveport within an hour and 59 minutes. The serum was administered to Leach immediately and physicians said later that the first dose was taking effect.

He was bitten by a black widow spider three weeks ago and proved allergic to anti-tetanus serum extracted from horses. A search was then made of the Ark.-La.-Tex. area for rabbit serum. It was administered in small doses throughout the night.

Dies Group To Probe PAC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP)—A three-man subcommittee, two of whose members recently were defeated for renomination in the face of CIO opposition, was named today to make a Dies committee investigation of the CIO's political action committee (PAC).

From his home in Texas, Chairman Martin Dies (D) sent word that the investigation, a continuance of an earlier inquiry by the House committee on un-American activities, would be made by Reps. Starnes (D-Ala), Costello (D-Cal) and Thomas (R-NJ) or Busbey (R-Ill). Starnes and Costello are the defeated pair; Dies also had been made a PAC target at the time he announced he would not seek reelection because of poor health.

To Begin Next Week

Dies said the subcommittee, of which Starnes will be chairman, probably would begin its work next week and report within the next month or two to the full committee.

The Texan announced appointment of the committee as he issued an ultimatum to Attorney General

Robot Bombs Strike 7 English Hospitals

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Flying bombs droned over southern England and London this afternoon in continuation of an unbroken 12-hour assault—the longest attack yet without a lull.

Anti-aircraft gunners in southern England maintained almost continuous barrage. Some robots were reported destroyed over the English channel.

Seven hospitals were hit, 10 patients being killed at one, and explosions covered a wide area. One bomb wrecked a big house 50 yards from a shopping area crowded with women and it was feared—in the permissible phrase—that "there were a number of casualties."

Anti-aircraft guns along the south coast were in action most of the night. At one point gunners destroyed two flying bombs simultaneously, one exploding aloft and the other diving into the water.

No Action Taken On Demonstration Agent

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Texas Home Demonstration association convention adjourned today without reconsideration of a report by its board of directors asking for the removal of Miss Maurine Hearn as vice-director and state home demonstration agent of the Texas A. and M. Extension service.

Friends of Miss Hearn said, however, that they planned to personally take up a fight in her behalf with officials of Texas A. and M. college.

Trip Through Huge Willow Run Plant Discloses Many Marvels

By CHAS. A. GUY
Avalanche-Journal Editor

DETROIT, (Special) — You've gotten special clearance from the War department in Washington, so you'd like to make a personal inspection of the government-owned Willow Run plant, which has made industrial history by applying "assembly line" methods to the airplane construction business?

O. K.—but hold onto your hat. And, on second thought, if you have any arch-supports handy you'd better slip 'em into your shoes. The business of really seeing Willow Run from "a" to "izzard" is no undertaking for a softy!

First, you've got to manage the business of getting to Willow Run, and unless you know someone willing to spend some precious tires and gasoline on you, that's quite a trick. The 80-mile round trip CAN be made by bus, but the trouble is that Willow Run buses invariably attract a lot of customers and it takes a combination of Harry Houdini and a heavyweight wrestling champion to get into the things.

But let's assume you know somebody who'll take you — somebody nice like our friend, Gerald Dailey of the Detroit News—and you start out. Here's where the hat-holding begins!

YOU GO TO Willow Run via Michigan Avenue — the same "Boul' Mich" that starts in Chicago and winds up here — the longest street in the world.

Here it is a six-lane race track, on which trucks, cars and taxicabs, in vast numbers, vie with each other for records held by Barney Oldfield. If you haven't been either killed — or become victim of a heart attack—you'll eventually come to the Willow Run turnoff, about halfway between Detroit and the plant.

After that, it's a cinch—if you can maintain the pace, for the MINIMUM speed is 35 mph. Cars, buses, trucks must run at least that fast because of the need of

Hit-Run Accident In Dallas Investigated

Patriots Draw Out Strong Nazi Forces

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 3. (AP)—Patriot uprising finally have forced the Germans to use strong forces, backed by artillery and bombers, in an attempt to maintain their hold on southern France, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced today.

In some places maquis (brush) fighters were forced to disperse from areas where they had wrested control and in others they withdrew in fierce fighting which inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, but the Germans were punching at a shadow, the supreme commander's communique disclosed.

The French sometimes were attacking 1,000 strong, withdrawing and hitting again in increasingly telling blows—now all the more crucial as the American drive into Brittany carries the threat of a full-scale battle for southern France.

Plans To Take Care Of Germany After Surrender Are Prepared

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Plans for immediate follow-up of the surrender or collapse of Germany are reported here to have been worked out in great detail.

Officials familiar with their provisions said today they call for full cooperation among the United States, Britain and Russia in the hour of victory.

For this reason, and because of the general pledges of cooperation made at the Moscow and Teheran conferences last year, American officials say they are convinced beyond any doubt that it makes no difference whether Russian or Anglo-American forces get to Berlin first, or which first accepts a major German army surrender.

Speculate On Surrender

Early victory forecasts by Prime Minister Churchill yesterday brought a renewed wave of speculation here over what will happen if the Germans surrender first to the Russians, or what difference it will make if they give up instead to British-American forces.

The answer given to both questions in official quarters here is:

It will not make any difference. Neither side will make a "separate peace." Either side will accept

B-29s Got Direct Hits On Jap Plants

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The B-29 Superfortresses which struck the Japanese steel works at Anshan in Manchuria scored direct hits on coke ovens and other factory buildings in an important blow at the enemy's war making capacity, War Secretary Stimson reported today.

Stimson told a news conference the attack was carried out by a "substantial" force of the Army's new super bombers, which hit Anshan and Tangku, the port of Tiensin in occupied China, on July 29.

New Industry Not Safe

"Japan's new industry in stolen Manchuria," the secretary said, "is no safer than Japan's war industry and war machine elsewhere."

The rfeport on the Superfortress attack was made in the course of Stimson's review of the past week's operations on all combat fronts, in which he made these observations:

The rapid advance in Normandy the last nine days "is the most satisfying accomplishment since the successful Allied landings and liberation of Cherbourg."

Americans have made the most spectacular advance but British and Canadian attacks were timed to follow the American breakthrough, and these Allied forces themselves have broken 17 miles through the German center, despite the fact the Germans considered the British sector of the line the most dangerous of them, and therefore concentrated the bulk of their forces against it.

Attempted Kidnaping Foiled By Two Girls

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — The attempted kidnaping of a 3-year-old girl last week was disclosed today with the arrest of a 53-year-old negro.

Names Of Active PAC Members Announced

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — The Dies committee made public today the names of fifteen men and women identified as prominent in activities of the CIO Political Action committee and formerly government officials.

The list was prepared by Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator, from data obtained by the committee during its investigation of the PAC. Most of the fifteen, Stripling said, resigned their government jobs only recently.

Heading the list was C. B. Baldwin, assistant chairman of the PAC and former head of the Farm Security administration.

Others on the list included:

C. A. McPeak, Texas PAC director, formerly with the War Production board.

Height Is Taken Near Florence

BY REYNOLDS PACKARD
United Press War Writer

ROME, Aug. 3—British troops stormed and captured the heights of Mount La Poggiona overlooking Florence from the southwest, it was disclosed today, while other 8th army forces hammered out small gains in furious fighting on the western and southern approaches to the city.

Everywhere along the 21 mile siege arc below Florence the Germans were battling tenaciously to hold their remaining hill positions against a British "squeeze" attack pressing them slowly into a narrowing triangular pocket based on the south bank of the Arno riyer.

Heavy Artillery Used

German self-propelled guns and heavy artillery thundered into action from dangerously - exposed positions south of Florence, adding their support to the storm of machinegun and mortar fire being hurled against the advancing British.

Mount La Poggiona fell to the New Zealand armored units yesterday after a savage battle in the hills above San Michele, putting the New Zealanders little more than four miles from the outskirts of Florence.

At the same time, British Indian troops on their left flank burst across the Pesa river on a broad front below Montelupo and pushed on more than a mile to within nine miles west of Florence.

Bitter Fighting Rages

South of the historic city, bitter fighting raged along the valley of the Greve, where South African forces and British guardsmen bayoneted the Germans from Strada, seven miles below Florence, and Poneta, two miles farther to the southwest.

In the mountains east of highway 69, other 8th army units advanced two miles north of Monte Maggio and Monte Scalari to a point just southeast of Nazi held Incisa. East of the Prato Magno mountain mass, the British also pushed enemy troops back up the Arno river gorge and drove on to within sight of Subbiano, seven miles north of Arezzo and 35 miles southeast of Florence.

Brisk patrol activity and artillery exchanges continued on other 8th army sectors along the Adriatic coast and on the 5th army front below Pisa.

Chloropicrin, the tear gas of World War I, has been found a good preventative of eelworm damage to several crops.

LOAN FUNDS ALLOTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — The War Food administration today announced the allocation of $15,000,000 among the states and territories for loans to tenants for the purchase of farms. Germany Adopts Watchful And Waiting Attitude On Turkey

(By The Associated Press)

A German foreign office spokesman said today that Germany had adopted a watchful waiting attitude toward Turkey following that nation's severance of diplomatic and economic relations with the Reich.

A news agency broadcast from Berlin quoted the spokesman as saying the Nazi government "is watching with greatest attention further development of events in Turkey. It remains to be seen whether Turkey, after severance of diplomatic relations with Germany, will fall further under the influence of Germany's enemies."

Pact Said Violated

The spokesman called the break a flagrant violation of the Turkish-German friendship and nonaggression pact, but gave no indication that Germany was planning to answer with an aerial attack on Turkish cities. Fear of such possible reprisals was one of the things that prevented Turkey from taking the step earlier in the war.

Ali Muzaffer Geuker, Turkish ambassador to Tokyo, planned to leave today for Japan. His departure was reported in a Turkish home broadcast recorded by United States government monitors. Reports from Ankara yesterday said the break with Germany was expected to strain relations with Japan.

"I'm Fighting It Out Along This Line!"

. . . says

The electric power line is busy backing up the front line, and it's one the Axis can't break. I'm doing my bit along this line. It's a mighty big bit, too—because the United States has more electric generating capacity than Germany, Japan and Italy combined. It's helping build tanks, planes and guns all over the country.

When you consider how many war plants right in this section depend on me for power to keep them going, you'll see why I'm really a war worker like a lot of you folks. Then remember that I am helping out on thousands of farms here, to maintain the food supply that both our armed forces and our home-front workers need in the big push for final Victory. In the home, too, you'll find me running all kinds of appliances so that women can spend more time doing their share.

I'm devoting everything I can to working for Victory—and I've never been too little or too late. ..Yet you haven't had to go without my services elsewhere just because I was doing war work.

Danger Is Seen In Land Boom

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Another disastrous farm land boom is developing, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard said today as he urged would-be purchasers to use extra money to retire debts or to purchase war bonds rather than to buy farm real estate at present inflated values.

"The rate at which farm land prices are rising, coupled with the large number of sales, are unmistakable signs that an inflationary land spree is under way in many regions," he said.

The secretary's comment was made in connection with an Agriculture department survey showing war markets for farm commodities have boosted land values an average of 42 per cent above the average prevailing in the 1935-39 period.

Many Are City People

Wickard said that about a third of the farm purchases are being made by city people, particularly war workers seeking a place to go when the war ends. In too many cases, he added, the city people and war workers, as well as farmers, are paying too much. By "too much," the secretary meant a price greater than the long-time earning power of the land at farm commodity prices lower than those prevailing under wartime conditions.

"People who go into debt to buy farms at inflated prices," he said, "stand to lose in the long run, through foreclosure or economic ruin, when peacetime conditions return to the farm commodity-and-real-estate market."

Agent For Johnson Grass Fight Named

Reed said the total number was about 20 per cent less than in 1943 and approximately 62 per cent less than in 1942.

Of the aggregate this year 9,313 were men and 6,163 were women in the recruitment phase. Majority of the recruited workers were between the ags of 14 and 26.

Six labor agencies paid license fees of $9,000 to recruit. They also paid $3,600 in state occupation taxes, $8,900 county occupation taxes and posted bonds totaling $300,000, Reed said.

Of the total workers recruited, 5,442 went to Michigan, 2,546 to Colorado, 1,770 to Minnesota, 1,363 to Montana, 1,359 to Ohio, 1,216 to Wisconsin, with the remainder going to North Dakota, Illinois, Wyoming, Iowa and Washington.

Ruling On Salaries

According to the present law, salaries of state aid school districts are set by the state. All Lubbock county school districts receive state aid except Slaton.

Utility Grade Of Beef To Be Point-Free

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — War Food Administrator Marvin Jones announced today that utility grade beef steaks and roasts will become ration-free effective August 13. Under the beef-grading system, utility is next to the lowest grade, which is cutter and canner grade.

Commercial, good and choice grade of steaks and roasts will continue to be rationed. All other cuts of beef will remain ration free.

Jones amended an order issued a couple of weeks ago directing the Office of Price administration to remove utility and commercial grade steaks and roasts from the ration list, effective August 1.

The WFA expects a record run of cattle to market during the next two or three months and a supply of beef in excess of storage facilities.

Utility grade of beef is expected to constitute about 20 per cent of the production during the next several months.

When Junior Matrons league at South Plains Army Air field meets this afternoon, an election of officers will be a feature.

A social has been planned to follow the election and business meeting which will be conducted in the Student Lounge.

Members of the Junior Matrons league, which is composed of glider pilot students wives, helped boost membership in the AAF Aid society at SPAAF this week when several of the women aided soldiers in filling out applications for membership at paylines. The aid society is an organization made up of personnel of the AAF which has pledged to take care of all members of the AAF in times of need after the war ends. The aid society is designed to help former AAF personnel in finding employment, getting educations and in other such matters.

The members of the Junior Matrons league who helped in the aid society campaign during the week were Mesdames J. W. Epply, jr., K. E. Denison, Frederic Waggstaff, Joseph Layman, William Brittain, E. J. Oehman, J. D. Wood, C. D. McCarra, R. D. Johnson and K. J. Mogck.

Lubbock Flier Brings "The Libby Rayder" Back From Vienna Raid On Two Engines

15TH AAF IN ITALY — The rest camp had been a 14-karat; innersprings, clean sheets, dinner music, breakfast in bed — an elegant way to live.

But now it was war again. "The Libby Rayder" was barging through the gauntlet of flak high over Vienna. One engine was feathered, another dying as bursting shell fragments tore at the veteran B-24's vitals.

"We managed to hold formation until bombs away, then peeled off the target," said pilot 2nd Lt. Amos H. Ross, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ross, sr., Lubbock, Texas. "We dropped from 24,000 to 7,000-feet . . . It was like being aboard a runaway elevator on the down grade . . . We lost a second engine on the way down but a B-24 can fly on two engines — if you give her a break."

ROSS

Orders Load Lightened

Ross ordered his crew to throw out every piece of movable hardware and equipment. Machine guns, ammo, radios, bomb sight, oxygen bottles, leather clothing —anything and everything to lighten the load.

"We were stripping faster than Margie Hart," said bombardier 2nd Lt. A. A. Anselmo, 24, son of A. Anselmo, Keewatin, Minn. "We had one spare chute. It went out too."

While "disrobing" at fever pitch, four Me-109's spotted the lone ship. The once proud Luftwaffe fighters have taken the role of vultures. They seldom bother with tight formations. They concentrate on stragglers.

Fatter Than A Hog

"We must have looked fatter than a hog, ready for butchering to those German birds," said 43-year-old waistgunner S/Sgt. Frank L. (Pappy) Gates, Meridian, Miss. "All we had left was-100 rounds of ammunition and one waist gun —that and spit. As they started for us six P-38's intercepted them from on top and knocked two into flames. The others cleared out of there . . . P-38's, wonderful ships . . . great guys."

"You're not kidding," said 19-year-old tailgunner, Sgt. George Steward, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Steward, Sacramento, Calif. "And what a skipper we've got in Lt. Ross! . . . Barreling along through mountain passes, valleys —on two engines. And by the time we had to crash land her on the coast we had only one engine. We counted over 250-holes in the ship. Flak holes."

Engineer T/Sgt. William J. Vought, jr., 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vought, Marshall, Minn., couldn't find words for his pilot or his ship. "We burned out her third engine just before Lt. Ross took her in. We pulled more out of those two motors than they owned. But they got us back."

Three new engines, a few acres of patches and The Libby Rayder will be ready again. Vienna, Ploesti, Wiener Neustadt, Bucharest, Munich — those targets are old and violent stories to "The Libby Rayder."

Kreipe New Chief Of German Air Force

(By The Associated Press)

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering has appointed Lt. Gen. Werner Kreipe as chief of the general staff of the German air force to succeed Col. Gen. Guenther Korten, who was killed in the explosion of a bomb intended for Hitler, a DNB broadcast said today.

Kreipe formerly was in charge of air training.

The British radio said that according to Stockholm reports the attack July 20 upon Hitler and his military associates was made in Insterburg, a city in East Prussia 57 miles east of Koningsberg.

Hitler was declared in the BBC transmission to have had to move his headquarters from Insterburg because of the Red army advance.

Max Lanier Reigns As Strikeout King

Cards Decision Pirates, 8-4

(By The Associated Press)

Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals reigned as strikeout king of the majors today with a total of 104 victims boosting him past Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants and Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox.

The pudgy lefthander threw the third strike past seven Pittsburgh hitters last night as the Cards hammered out an 8-4 verdict to up their road trip win record to 15-3 with three to go before reaching Sportsman's park.

Lanier's total topped by three Voiselle's bag and was five more than Hughson required to pace the American league.

Largest Night Crowd

The largest night crowd of the year at Forbes field, 27,481, watched the Cards take Rip Sewell for six runs and seven hits before the blooper ball tosser yielded for a pinch hitter.

If the Cards can break even in their remaining 58 games, second place Cincinnati could grab the flag only by winning 46 of 58, a gait some 200 points above their 1944 norm.

As St. Louis snuffed out Pittsburgh's smouldering hopes at the start of a long home stand, the American league pennant race marked time.

White Sox, A's Split

Chicago split a doubleheader with Philadelphia in the only action scheduled in the junior loop.

The Mackmen pulled the opener out of the fire, 9-3, on a 7-run ninth inning. Lum Harris popped up with his ninth win although nipped for 12 hits as his mates clubbed Ed Lopat for 12 blows and his seventh loss.

Gordy Maltzberger saved Johnny Humphries' fifth win in the finale by stopping a Philadelphia threat as Chicago took a 7-3 edge.

A Chicago-Philly game was postponed because of the Philadelphia transportation strike and all other leaguers enjoyed an open date.

McCormick Top First Baseman

Cincy Swatter Fools Scouts

NEW YORK, Aug. 3. (AP) — Ten years ago, scouts shook their heads after watching him play and sadly exclaimed "he will never do," but today Frank McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds is rated the best first baseman in the major leagues.

Before he signed his first professional contract, McCormick worked out mornings with the New York Giants and was advised by them that if he had a job he had best stick to it.

The six-foot-four-inch Redleg caused veteran experts to lift their eye-brows with his unorthodox stance at the plate, but that didn't stop Larry MacPhail from bringing him to Cincinnati.

Batted .326 First Year

In his first full year with the Reds, 1938, McCormick made 209 hits in 640 at bats, both high for the loop, and batted .326. He joined the select group of players who made 200 or more hits in their freshman year.

In his first five years with the Reds, McCormick drove in 617 runs, more than any of the other top sluggers of the circuit in the corresponding period, and has the unique distinction of being selected for the National league all-star team in each of his seven years in the majors.

Got Bad Start

This year Frank got off to a bad start. After hovering agound the .270 mark for the first half of the season, he staged a batting spree to climb to a point over .300. In the past two weeks, he made 22 hits in 64 times at bat for a .344 average and batted in 21 runs.

Most of his lusty hitting has been done against the Giants.

Maybe he's thinking of the Giant officials who turned thumbs down on him ten years ago.

Browns Finally Sell Themselves To Fans

Writer Mounts Limb, Predicts All-St. Louis World Series

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 — While there is still enough leaves on the trees to provide protective cover from snipers, we're moving out on a limb today to predict that Bob Muncrief of the Browns is going to pitch against Morton Cooper of the Cardinals in the first game of an all-St. Louis World Series.

Knowing full well that the trees shed their leaves by World Series time, we're still willing to stake out a claim on our branch (not Branch Rickey) and park there until the Yankees, Red Sox, Indians, or Tigers come along and prove we're wrong.

St. Louis Fans Awakening

There'll be company on the limb, too. The St. Louis fandom —at long last—is waking up to the fact that the long denied Brownies are on their way to their first pennant.

They've been skeptical and with good reason. Year after year they have watched the team either totter and dodder in the second division or fold up after a good front run and yield the top spot to some other club.

The rest of the nation accepted the Browns this year before their own fans did. Disappointments born of too many failures made them the poorest drawing club in either league until their recent home stand when the fans finally began to take them seriously.

Fans To Go All-Out

Now, our St. Louis operative informs us, they are getting ready to go wild. The team is five and a half games in front, readying itself for the last trip East which will make or break its chances. If, after invading the parks of the eastern contenders, the Yankees and the Red Sox, they are able to come home still in front, the fans will "tear down the ball park." And there is precedent for that, too.

"St. Louis has always been an American league town," our informant says. "In 1922 on Labor day when they drew a full house for a double header, the fans got so excited they ripped up the seats and tore the wooden sides off the park. After that they put up concrete sides, but there is no telling what the fans will do if the Browns come home in front."

He emphasizes that St. Louisans, by nature cautious, have been waiting to see what happens, but that they will swing over to the support of the Browns in favor of the Cards if the teams meet in the series.

Disappointed In 1922

The fans of 1922 had their spree for nothing, because the Yanks went on to nose them out for the pennant, but they don't believe that will happen this time. There is no less an authority for that than Mike Gonzales, the canny Cuban coach of the currently neutral Cards.

"The Browns they will win," he sputtered. "Their infield eet ees wonderful almost as good as the Cardinals, no? The Yankees, they are not the Yankees any more. The Red Sox, good hit, no pitch."

The St. Louis operative is convinced that the Browns have a more solid pitching staff, and that they will come in the series "red hot" as did the Cardinals of 1942 who swept the Yankees off their collective feet.

The weakest department for the Browns, catching, has been bolstered by the purchase of Catcher Tom Turner, while the return of Dennis Galehouse to a regular starting berth has helped the pitching staff immeasurably. Manager Luke Sewell has every player spirited to his highest pitch of the season for the impending trip and only a sudden and unexpected collapse is likely to stop them now. So come on you Brownies —we'l hate to have to see the World Series from a bare limb in October weather.

Brewer's Slugging Features Sears Win

With George Brewer setting a fast pace at the plate with his big bat, the Sears and Roebuck junior baseball nine slugged its way to a 16 to 7 victory over Purina Mills Wednesday afternoon at Chapman field.

Brewer slammed out three doubles and a single in leading attack for the winners, with Fulton pressing him for hitting honors. Brewer also aided Charles Pressley in pitching the victory, relieving Pressley in time to finish the game. The two limited the Millers to six hits.

Ted Forsythe did the chunking for the losers, giving up only 10 hits.

Sears bounded away with a seven-run deluge in the first inning, and were never headed off.

Gallegos Pitches, Bats Lions Club To Draw

Manuel Gallegos, general handyman star of the Lions club junior baseball nine, was the hero Wednesday afternoon at Tech field as he pitched and batted the Lions to a 10-10 draw with the Rotary club. Gallegos homered in the last of the sixth with two on to tie the score and climax a four-run rally in that frame.

Walter Higginbotham pitched the first five innings for the Rotarians, while Jack Keeling caught. Turner began on the mound for the Lions, with Gallegos catching. In the fifth inning, Gallegos took over the hill and Turner the catching poistion. They allowed the opposing team 9 hits.

Karlen Upsets Barkeley Nine

Dallas Team Goes Into Semi-Finals

WACO, Aug. 3 (AP)—In another upset, the Karlen Bros. team of Dallas defeated the 12th Armored division team of Camp Barkeley, Abilene, here last night 4 to 2, in the state semi-pro baseball tournament.

In so doing, the surprising Karlen team, defeated earlier, 9 to 1 by the Waco Army Air field, went to the semi-finals where tomorrow night it will meet the winner of tonight's game between North Camp Hood and Fort Worth Army Air field.

Twelfth Armored, with one of the best teams in tourney history, joined the ranks of also rans without even the solace of third place. The club had been picked by every tourney critic to go through the losing bracket to the finals.

The Abilene team could not solve Pat Beasley's delivery last night. He allowed four hits, and a homer accounted for the two runs the Hellcats got, a homer by Liberto in the 4th with one on base.

Karlen's two first-inning runs came on a single by Les Mallon and a homer by Doc O'Neill. Mallon later got another single and a double. Beasley hit a homer for Karlen in the second and hits by Barnes and Johnson, a walk to Mort and an infield out by Mallon brought Karlen's last run in the sixth.

Wizzers Win Slugfest Over Tech Faculty

Keith's Wizzers crashed into the win column of the men's softball league with a bang Wednesday afternoon at the 23rd street and Avenue W basin diamond by outslugging the Texas Tech Faculty in an 18-14 slugfest. Ayers homered for the Faculty in the sixth with one on for the only homer in the 28 hits recorded in the game.

Rutledge pitched all the way for the Wizzers, limiting the Faculty to 18 hits, while Rollins caught. Battery for the Faculty was wright, whiffing one and allowing 11 hits, and Harmon.

Baseball Due To Survive War, But Scouts Are Doubtful; They Have Nothing To Scout

MEMPHIS, Aug. 3. (AP) — Big league baseball apparently is going to survive the war, but there's beginning to be some doubt about the scouts.

"It's pretty rough sailing," said Red Sox Operative Hank Severeid today. "We're scouts with nothing to scout.

"This year I've spied on everything from grandfathers making comebacks to third-basing sergeants and 16-year-old sandlotters still damp behind the ears. I'll be lucky to send a couple of players to the Red Sox at the close of the year.

Probably Mediocre Fellows

"And if there are a couple, they'll old American league catcher hastens to add, they'll probably be mediocre fellows just to fill some wartime gaps.

"And normally a scout would have a bad year if he couldn't recommend 20 or 30 promising ball players to his club," he moaned.

Severeid, who caught more than 2,600 games in his 28 years behind the plate, described current scouting headaches.

"There are only about 12 leagues now where there used to be 40—odd. Not only that, but most of the minor clubs have major league attachments and the good men you run across are already sewed up."

THE LONE RANGER — A VERY LIKELY STORY — BY FRAN STRIKER

DONALD DUCK — THAT'S USING THE NOODLE — By WALT DISNEY

moving "the Run's" 30,000 or more employes back and forth, as well as materials essential to turning out the big, silver birds called Liberators.

After you make the turnoff from Michigan Avenue on a beautiful system of highways (some of which pass under others) you notice yourself surrounded by a few thousand acres of land picked up by Mr. Ford with some spare change he just happened to have lying around. You wonder why Mr. Ford put Willow Run 40 miles out in the sticks so far away from the homes of the workers—and thereby hangs a tale.

In the first place, Mr. Ford DIDN'T put Willow Run out in the country. Site for the sprawling plant was selected by an Army Air Forces board, headed by Gen. Jimmy Doolittle.

In the second place, when the Willow Run site was selected, it wasn't supposed to be anything like what it has become — instead, a smaller plant than many others here and around the country. And there was a good reason, the experts thought, for moving Willow Run so far away from Detroit. That reason was the labor market.

THE Detroit industrial experts figured that all the manpower available in Detroit had already been sopped up by the many plants operating here. They didn't know then that hundreds of thousands of people from other parts of the nation would come barging into this pounding, pulsating "Arsenal of Democracy," attracted by war-swollen wages.

So, they reasoned, we'll put "the Run" out where we can sap the extra labor from the farms and nearer places like Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Dearborn and Pontiac —so that's what they did.

Now, with Willow Run turning out a four-motored B-24 bomber every hour—and at 180,000 bucks a throw—the location is in some respects unfortunate. However, in other respects it is fortunate, for beside the big plant has been constructed not only one of the world's largest airports—for Liberator-testing purposes—but also barracks housing Army Air Forces officers and men sent here from Texas, mostly, to study the big planes.

Well, time's a-flying and here we are at "the Run."

Because all Detroit's transportation system is based on the private automobile and other facilities are practically lacking, the first thing you see are thousands of parked automobiles by which the workers are brought to and from the plant on a "share-the-ride" basis. Willow Run's parking lots are several in number, each capable of holding 15,000 cars, but since you're a guest you get to park close to the main entrance of the plant layout.

Your arrival has been expected, because Washington confirmed your clearance. So, under the watchful eyes of a squad of armed plant policemen, you identify yourself, sign up and have tied on you an official tag which must be kept in full sight at all times. Then you're loaded on a small bus and taken to whatever part of the plant office building is located the man you're to see.

In our case, it is Ellery Maxwell, late of the Indianapolis Star, who looks after the needs, and nicely, too, of the visiting firemen of the press.

From that time on you're in Mr. Maxwell's hands, and very foftunately, too. Otherwise you might be lost for days!

MR. MAXWELL gives you a general idea of what you're going to see, using a map to clarify your mind. Then he escorts you into the manufacturing wing of the plant—and from there on it's between you and your arches!

Divided into two general areas —manufacturing and assembling— Willow Run is built in an "L" shape. It is true that you can walk from one end of the whole shebang to the other in something a little over a mile. But you don't go that way when you see the plant operate. You cross and criss-cross—so by the time you finish up, your trek has been about three miles.

All inside, too!

You get your first look at the great plant from a balcony —and what a look! It's from one end of the manufacturing part of the "L" to the other —a distance so great your eye can't make it. And down below, in what looks like a hapless hodge-podge, are cranes and presses—in fact more machinery than anybody can describe.

And people! Operating the various pieces of equipment are more people than have ever been together at one time in the whole Panhandle-Plains area—even on Turkey Day grid games between Lubbock and Amarillo. There are people everywhere, all of them doing something different; a few working by hand, but most of them using some sort of machine.

YOU STAND there on the balcony, mouth agape and eyes bugging out, until you've gotten a general idea that "here, by gosh, is sumpin!"

Then you're led down from the balcony and plunged into the very vortex of the whirling, banging maze of men, women and machines. You're wondering if you'll get out alive — or, at the best, without the loss of a leg.

And now you're ready to see famed Willow Run from top to bottom, inside and out, a privilege necessarily granted only to a few because the business of winning a war doesn't lend itself nicely to sight-seers.

(TOMORROW: Trekking through the wilderness of machines; slipping under the arms of heavy presses; watching the men and women—black and white and by the tens of thousands—in the miracle of the machine age—Willow Run.)

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

IT is no crime for a woman to vote the way her husband does —if she does her own political thinking. But it is a crime against democracy for a woman to vote the way her husband does just because she is too lazy or too unsure of her own judgment to make her own political decisions, or because she is afraid her husband will call her a nitwit if she dares to disagree with him politically.

MILLETT

Yet plenty of women still leave the family's political thinking to their husbands, as though it were as much a masculine matter as baby tending is feminine. They seem to think that John is infallible when it comes to picking political candidates, for the simple reason that he is a man.

Yet John may vote the same ticket year after year for no better reason than that his father voted it. Or he may be totally uninformed on the issues of the day.

Even if he is himself an intelligent voter, his wife shouldn't shirk her duty as a citizen to become an intelligent voter herself.

A PRIVATE AFFAIR

AND a woman can't become an intelligent voter if she hands her vote over to another person, to do with as he pleases—which is what the women who vote as their husbands say are actually doing.

There is no reason for a husband and wife to fight over politics. But it certainly isn't a woman's duty to vote as her husband would like to have her vote, just to keep peace in the family. Incidentally, why should a woman tell her husband how she votes? That is strictly her own affair.

NO HAVEN FOR THE JAPS

Possibly as important as any bombing raids that have been made in the Far Eastern War were those by American Superfortresses upon the industrial city of Mukden in Manchukuo late last week.

The attack lacked the sensational appeal of raids upon the Japanese mainland. But it may have had greater value to the cause of victory than an attack upon Japan itself.

During their period of domination in Manchukuo, the Japs have developed Mudken into one of the most important industrial cities in the world. Illuminating was a report the other day by a correspondent who visited the city shortly before the outbreak of war. He related that in just one of many areas in the Mukden district, a tract of land about 10 miles long and five miles wide has been covered with checker-board regularity by factories spaced 50 yards apart. Developments like this undoubtedly have been expanded enormously since that time.

Long before the outbreak of war, it was the boast of Tokyo strategists that, regardless what may happen to Japan itself, they always could retreat to Japanese-dominated portions of Asia. These areas, they fondly imagined, were beyond the possibility of successful attack. They recognized that Japan, itself, might come within bombing range of American and Allied planes. But it has been their boast that their huge industry in Asia—with particular reference to Mukden—would be beyond the range of any aircraft likely to be developed during the present war. It was their confident belief that, if the Japs had to retreat from Japan, they could carry on a war of exhaustion, to an eventual negotiated peace, from Asia.

The successful attack upon Mukden demonstrated that there is no haven where the Japs can be safe. There is no place which is beyond the range of American aircraft. No matter where the Japanese might flee, the enemy can pursue and attack.

Never has anything been more conclusively demonstrated than when American bombs began to fall on Mukden.

Legion And VFW Vie For Post-War Power
Admiral King Slaps Down Cabinet Chief
Bonar Law's Son Has Peace Ideas Of Own

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—One of the most important behind-the-scenes struggle for post-war power is now being waged between the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Both outfits know that the group which speaks for the veterans may well dictate to Congress and the nation after the war. Both are jockeying for that advantage.

Actually, the Veterans of Foreign Wars is in a better position than the Legion to get a head start on recruiting veterans of World War II. The VFW charter from Congress permits recruiting men before they are discharged, while the Legion must wait until a man leaves the service before recruiting him.

Fact is the VFW has picked up more than 400,000 new members since Pearl Harbor, while the Legion's gains have been relatively paltry. At the start of the war, the Legion had more than one million members, the VFW only a quarter million. But today the VFW magazine has the largest overseas circulation of any non-governmental publication, is now read by 300,000 men monthly. As a result, VFW is picking up members at the rate of 5,000 a week, while Legion officials fret, plan their own recruiting drive later.

PEARSON

One reason for VFW success has been a policy of tacitly bucking the American Legion on key policy matters. VFW helped paint the Legion as "anti-labor," then turned around and attempted to arrange a deal whereby all CIO and AFL members in the service would join the VFW instead of the Legion when they left the service. More than two million union men are in the service. This would be a sizable chunk for any group to recruit.

However, labor has not fallen for the bait. Instead, trade-union chapters of the American Legion are being rapidly built up to help combat any anti-union feelings of returning servicemen.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars also have made "hay" with a speech delivered by national Legion Commander Warren Atherton in the South Pacific area recently. Atherton debunked the idea that men in the front lines fighting the Japs want furloughs home. The VFW immediately took advantage of this statement, set up a terrific howl for overseas furloughs, soon found membership applications pouring in.

PENTAGON BUILDING

GEN. Brehon Somervell, who master-minded the terrific job of sending supplies abroad for the invasion, also conceived and built the War department's elaborate Pentagon building. Proudly, he refers to that massive structure as his overgrown little baby and has good-naturedly taken much kidding about its intricate network of corridors. Scoffing at the suggestion that each employe be given a map to find his way around, he declared that only a fool could get lost in the Pentagon.

Recently, a grey-haired, stately officer, wearing three stars on his Army coat, meekly stuck his head inside an office and sheepishly asked: "Where am I? Can anyone here direct me to my office?"

"Certainly, General Somervell," replied a captain, who consulted a map on the wall and then proceeded to guide the General back to Service Forces headquarters.

Maps are now being printed for all Pentagon employes.

KING SLAPS CABINET CHIEF

INSIDERS now admit that friction between Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Chief of Naval Operations Admiral Ernie King is just as bad as it was between King and the late Frank Knox—or worse.

Knox and Admiral King rubbed each other raw. King used to go over the head of the Secretary of the Navy, even overruled him regarding the Navy's new grey summer uniform, which Knox—and most Navy men—opposed.

When Forrestal became Secretary of the Navy, it was hoped that relations would be harmonious. Last week, however, Admiral King publicly gave his chief an adroit slap-down.

Forrestal, Admiral King, and fighting Admiral Halsey were holding a joint press conference. The Secretary of the Navy was asked if he had any comment on the fall of the Tojo cabinet. He replied that Navy personnel, including himself, were not supposed to comment on politics.

Whereupon Admiral King interrupted and, almost as if the Secretary of the Navy were a little boy, corrected him.

"I will comment on that," he announced, despite Forrestal's statement that political matters were not for comment by Navy personnel. "Obviously, the cabinet would not have fallen unless there was dissatisfaction on the part of military leaders with the conduct of the war. The Japanese can be expected to continue to wage war with all the powers they possess."

Secretary Forrestal took the Admiral's remarks — interpreted by those present as an indirect slap-down—without saying a word.

BONAR LAW'S SON

BRITISH Statesman Richard Law, son of the late Bonar Law, who recently arrived here to help lay the foundation for future peace machinery, has some interesting ideas. They will bring no comfort to the "Ham" Fishes, the Colonel McCormicks or former American Firster James S. Kemper, newly appointed finance father of the Republican National committee.

Law believes that the future peace of the world must be guaranteed not by the big nations alone, but in conjunction with the smaller nations. He is a vigorous opponent of the Walter Lippman idea (later expounded by Governor Dewey) that there must be an alliance between Great Britain and the United States. On the contrary, Law believes that basic peace machinery must be worked out first between Britain, Russia, the USA and China, then enlarged to take in the other nations.

Law is in Washington—in conjunction with Lord Beaverbrook—first to lay the foundation for an Anglo-American petroleum accord. But even more important, he will do some quiet spadework regarding permanent world peace.

NOTE—One reason the Good Neighbor policy has been slipping lately is that the State department has failed to consult Latin American nations regarding world peace plans. Latin Americans, especially our Allies, feel they have just as much at stake as we. But they have been completely ignored—until the Bretton Woods monetary conference. At Bretton Woods, farsighted Judge Vinson and Henry Morgenthau included two Good Neighbors on the board of directors of the proposed world bank.

Today's Thought

Let my prayer come before Thee: incline Thine ear unto my cry.—Psalm 88:2.

I pray Thee, O God, that I may be beautiful within.—Socrates.

ON BROADWAY

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

THINGS I Always Knew. The insipid and dangerous arguments that impeded world peace after the last war will be revived when the present tussle is concluded . . . When election time rolls around party platforms will be in the dodo class. Even those who wrote them will have difficulty recalling their contents . . . Gazettes that print the voting records of flapjaws can expect to be accused of smearing . . . Bundists hope to start crawling again in post- war America. They'll hide behind a new label and peddle the old poison . . . . Legislators who snatched the ballot from the hands of servicemen will shed crocodile tears about their devotion to our fighting men when they return home . . . Civilization will be haunted by Nazism long after Hitler is defeated. German youths are the most fanatic Nazis. It will take years to cure them. Many will never shake off the malignant disease. . . . The chumps who said the Allies couldn't win the war are now the loudest critics of our military strategy.

Despite vows by politicos not to make the war a partisan issue, few will have the moral spunk to resist the temptation to turn the war into a demagoging spree . . . . America will always have subversive groups until we pass laws dealing severely with such outfits. Every loophole in our laws should be turned into a noose for bush-league Hitlers . . Alleged pacifists plan another campaign to disarm America when the Axis is just a bad memory. America has lost more ships, planes and tanks via disarmament than through enemy action . . . The apathy of citizens is Democracy's most crushing burden. It has often been said that poor leaders are elected by citizens who don't vote. . . .

WINCHELL

Nations realize that their cooperation can win wars, yet they're leery about using that unity to avoid future wars. . . . We won't have world peace until we forget we belong to different nations, creeds and races and remember we all belong to the same human race . . . Some Americans have an idea the only right worth using is the right they have to disagree with the President . . . . Every political campaign in American history has begun with promises to refrain from mud-slinging, but those promises have never been kept.

GREEDY war profiteers will regret the day they fleeced Uncle Samson when legislative probes frisk them after the war . . . Germans will attempt to bamboozle peacemakers with the idea that they're human beings by pointing to the many scientists that nation has produced. They'll want civilization to forget that many of those scientists used their skill to discover new ways to kill women and children . . . All the medals and eloquent speeches that decorate returning American soldiers won't mean anything, if we don't provide decent jobs for them.

If Americans are politically hep, no lobbyist can ever push their legislator around. The voter is the most potent lobbyist of all if he takes an active interest in politics . . . We will have a better chance to build permanent peace if we keep the spotlight on the peacemakers. Chicanery works best in the dark. It is obvious that military plans must be secret, but diplomatic plans for peace must be made public . . . No matter how many times obstructionists are proved wrong they will never admit it. You cannot educate a person who is proud of his ignorance.

The editorialists who ignore the sedition trial also ignored the Axis threat to America . . . There are many powerful Americans who claim to believe in freedom of speech—until someone attempts to use that freedom to oppose the things they believe in . . . John L. Lewis is paid by workers. He lives by their sweat. Yet he has done more to hinder the cause of labor than the most despicable labor-baiter . . . Elections should be an example of Democracy at work—not an example of Americans working against each other.

Since governments are made up of people with all their human faults, there can't be a flawless government. But that shouldn't prevent us from striving for perfection . . . The only good thing about legislative incompetents is they prove our Democracy is powerful enough to survive their obstruction . . . The trouble with some politicos is they don't use their power to help the people who gave it to them.

NATIONS enjoy counting how many wars they've won. They seem to forget every time they must fight a war it means they have lost the peace.

Inept politicos are elected because the public listens to their promises instead of studying their records . . . Professional patriots who brag about being 100 per cent American — aren't. History proves every tyrant has conspired against liberty behind the guise of patriotism . . . Isolationists never learn from history because they refuse to read it. If they knew anything about history, they wouldn't be dunderheads in the first place . . . It's useless to attempt to change a bigot's mind with logic. His opinions aren't based on logic. You just can't reason with an unreasonable person.

There is no public servant shortage. Hundreds of office-seekers are standing in long lines all over the nation waiting to be elected. Check up on their voting records . . . Do you know his or her name? . . . Don't forget that if the wrong people are elected it will be your fault . . . It is all up to you . . . You are boss—the people you send to Washington—are your servants . . . To help you keep Your House in order . . . And never forget it is your house . . . All 48 Rooms!

Workmen At Front Really Work Because They Know The Need
There's No "More Abundant Life" In France

BY ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

SOMEWHERE In Normandy (By Wireless)—I know of nothing in civilian life at home by which you can ever remotely compare the contribution to his country made by the infantry soldier with his life of bestiality, suffering and death.

But I've just been with an outfit whose war work is similar enough to yours that I believe you can see the difference between life overseas and in America.

ERNIE PYLE

This is the heavy ordnance company which repairs shot-up tanks, wrecked artillery and heavy trucks.

These men are not in much danger. They work at shop benches with tools. Compared with the infantry, their life is velvet and they know it and appreciate it. But compared with them your life is velvet. That's what I'd like for you to appreciate.

These men are mostly skilled craftsmen. Many of them are above military age. Back home they made big money. Their jobs here are fundamentally the same as those of you at home who work in war plants. It's only the environment that is different.

They Really Work

These men don't work seven, eight, or nine hours a day. They work from 7 in the morning until darkness comes at night. They work from 12 to 16 hours a day.

You have beds and bathrooms. These men sleep on the ground, and dig a trench for their toilets.

You have meals at the table. These men eat from mess-kits, sitting in the grass. You have pajamas, and places to go on Sunday. These men sleep in their underwear and they don't even know when Sunday comes.

They have not sat in a chair for weeks. They live always outdoors, rain or shine.

IN the world war their life is not bad. By peacetime standards it is outrageous. But they don't complain . . . because they are close enough to the front to see and appreciate the desperate need of the men they are trying to help. They work with an eagerness and an intensity that is thrilling to see.

This company works under a half acre grove of trees and along the hedgerows of a couple of adjoining pastures. Their shops are in the trucks, or out in the open under camouflage nets.

Most of their work seems unspectacular to describe. It just consists of welding steel plates in the sides of tanks, of changing the front end of a truck blown up by a mine, or repairing the barrel of a big gun hit by a bazooka, or rewinding the coils of a radio, of welding new teeth in a gear.

It's the sincere way they go at it, and their appreciation of its need that impressed me.

Meet Corporal Kelso

Cpl. Richard Kelso is in this company. His home is at Chicago. He is an Irishman from the Old Sod. He apprenticed in Belfast as a machinist nearly 30 years ago. He went to America when he was 25 and now he is 45.

He still has folks in Ireland, but he didn't have a chance to get over there when he was stationed in England. He is thin and a little stooped, and the other call him "Pop". He is quiet and intent and very courteous. He never did get married.

Kelso operates the milling machine in a shop truck. His truck is covered deep with extra strips of steel, for these boys pick up and hoard steel as some people might hoard money.

WHEN I stopped to chat, Kelso had his machine grinding away on the rough tooth of the gearwheel of a tank.

The part that did the cutting was one he had improvised, himself. In this business of war so much is unforeseen, so much is missing at the right moment that were it not for improvisation, wars would be lost. Take these gearwheels, for instance. Suppose a tank strips three teeth off some gear. The entire tank is helpless and out of action. They have no replacement wheels in stock. They have to repair the broken one.

So they take it to their outdoor foundry, make a form, heat up some steel till it is molten, pour it in the form and mould a rough geartooth which is then welded onto the stub of the broken-off tooth.

Improvisations Necessary

Now this rough tooth has to be ground down to the fine dimensions of the other teeth and that is an exact job. At first they didn't have the tools to do with. But that didn't stop them. They hacked those teeth down with cold chisels and hand files. They put back into action 20 tanks by this primitive method. Then Kelso and Warrant Officer Henry Moser, of Johnstown, Pa., created a part for their milling machine that would do the job faster and better.

THAT one little improvision may have saved 50 American lives, may have cost the Germans a hundred men, may even have turned the tide of a battle.

And it's being done by a man 45 years old, wearing corporal stripes who doesn't have to be over here at all, and who could be making big money back home.

He too sleeps on the ground and works 16 hours a day, and is happy to do it . . . for boys who are dying are not 3,000 miles away and abstract—they are 10 miles away and very, very real.

He sees them when they come back, pleading like children for another tank, another gun. He knows how terribly they need the things that are within his power to give.

Army Casualties For One Week Are 11,190

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (U.P.)—Announced casualties of the U. S. Army personnel jumped 11,190 during the week from July 6 to July 13, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson revealed today. That figure, apparently reflecting the bitter fighting in Normandy and Italy, was more than twice the usual number of Army casualties announced during a seven-day period, which normally has been about 5,000 in recent months.

Figures announced by Stimson during his news conference, together with totals released today by the Navy, indicated that overall casualties among the U. S. armed forces during this war now are well over the 300,000 mark.

Stimson said Army casualties announced in Washington through July 13 totalled 218,473, while a Navy casualty list released today showed 51,871 casualties among Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard personnel. In addition, reports from the Pacific said 7,634 casualties have been reported thus far from Guam and Tinian, making a total of 277,978.

It was pointed out that these figures were based on announced casualties, and that announcements trail actual fighting casualties by a matter of weeks—which in this case have seen American forces involved in some of their heaviest fighting yet in Normandy and Italy, so that the casualty rates undoubtedly have been high.

weeks, threw back ten enemy attempts to crack into the inner parts of the city. To the northeast, Chungking reported, the enemy made sharp gains, strengthening its eastern anchor of the drive down both sides of the Hankow-Canton railway, the prize at stake.

U. S. planes kept up their furious, ceaseless harassment of the stretched-out Japanese supply lines. Tokyo claimed without confirmation that 113 U. S. aircraft were destroyed in this sector from July 29 to Aug. 1.

British troops quickened pursuit of the Japanese fleeing India via the Tiddim road into Burma. Chinese and Americans, fighting bitterly in the mud and rain of North Burma dug out more Nipponese defending Myitkyina.

MARKET LEADERS IN RETREAT

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Stock market leaders, with scattered exceptions, sounded the retreat today without touching off anything resembling a rout.

The last was no worse than slightly uneven until the fourth hour when offerings cropped up here and there and the withdrawal of bids elsewhere resulted in the appearance of losses ranging from fractions to more than a point. Dealings were slack although intermittent pickups in momentum put volume for the full strength at around 800,000 shares. While a few peace-rated issues managed to mold their own, there was little comeback elsewhere near the close.

Investment and speculative caution persisted as the result of a possible Nazi collapse which, it was suggested, might unsettle the economic home front temporarily.

Backward stocks included U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Delaware and Hudson, Southern Pacific, Dupont, Oliver Farm, General Motors and Douglas Aircraft. Resistant were Graham-Paige, which recorded a 1944 peak, International Harvester, General Electric, Phelps Dodge and Great Northern.

Among curb laggards were Raytheon, Cities Service, Quaker Oats and American Cyanamid "B."

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—There was little trading in grain futures today as operators marked time awaiting war developments and additional information regarding crop conditions.

"Padlock" Proposal

to hurry the legislation along. Byrnes took no sides in the controversy in his appeal for speed in a conference with Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee and Doughton (D-NC) of the House ways and means committee.

The finance committee beat the military group to the punch yesterday by voting unanimous approval of a bill by George to leave jobless compensation rates to the states, but Senator Kilgore (D-W Va) said he would carry to the floor a proposal to set up federal standrds calling for payments ranging from $12 to $35 a week.

Kilgore's proposition is part of an over-all bill which would give to a proposed director of war mobilization and adjustment jurisdiction over the entire program of war production, transition and demobilization.

Plans For Germany

Germany's unconditional surrender at any time or place—accept it in the name of all the Allied powers.

Britain and the United States pledged unconditional surrender at Casablanca conference 18 months ago. Russia formally subscribed to it at Moscow. A further commitment by Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt to joint action in peace and victory as well as in war was made at the Teheran conference.

ment of policies before the voters.

The governors end their conferences with Missouri political leaders and spokesmen of other groups, including small business men.

Dewey's conference leadership was evident in the speed with which the governors disposed of the questions posed and in the nature of the proposals. The New York governor came here with programs covering most of the issues already drafted in tentative form but explaining that the conferees would have a free opportunity for discussion and to make their own proposals or changes.

Private Enterprise Stressed

"The great problem of permanent peace time jobs can be adequately met" said the reconversion and post-war job report, "only by private business under an enterprise system. This system depends upon the individual and initiative and organizing genius and energy of all our people.

"The national administration is now standing squarely in the path of the future employment of our returning veterans and millians of displaced war workers."

The report on public lands charged that "under the present expanding program many political sub-divisions of local government are being completely destroyed," and urged federal state cooperation which would avoid absorption of local governments.

Highway Building Included

The reports recommended continued federal contributions under certain circumstances to help pay for public works, the National Guard and highway construction. They called for "comprehensive and immediate action by the federal government to provide for prompt contract termination and plant clearance," and for release of facilities for the resumption of peace time production as war demands diminish.

The reconversion report also assailed the administration for "listlessness, negligence and lack of leadership" and asserted that "continuance of President Roosevelt in office would "invite national disaster at the conclusion of either of our two major conflicts." It urged that post-war distribution of surplus war materials to state and local governments should be "through state agencies and under priority for all materials that can be shed by them."

The public works plan proposed:

1. Construction of needed public works when materials and manpower are available.

2. Preparation for such public works construction as may be desirable during periods of unemployment.

Republican National Committee Chairman Herbert Brownell, jr., has arrived to discuss campaign plans with the assembled governors. He cited recent polls showing a Republican trend and on his own calculations said it was continuing, and that he was confident the Republican ticket would win.

GOP Victory Forecast

Rep. Charles A. Halleck, (R., Ind.), chairman of the national Republican congressional campaign committee, who is accompanying the Dewey party, said the GOP would win the White House and congressional control next November. Halleck added that gubernatorial collaboration was creating a powerful and harmonious campaign organization.

Agreement was expected by the end of the day on: Agriculture, labor, public expenditures, social welfare and public health, taxation, veterans affairs and water resources.

The speed with which the 24 Republican governors, Dewey and Gov. John W. Bricker, vice presidential nominee, apparently are able to deal with these complex problems indicated that the governors were following the lead of the New Yorker who came here with specific proposals on all but two o rthree of the agenda questions.

Brownell revealed the score of the contemplated Dewey-Bricker campaign after a series of talks here with governors attending the conference. He refused to say when the speech-making would begin or to discuss campaign plans in detail. But Brownell said he was talking with the governors about their active participation in the campaign and also regarding suitable dates on which Dewey and Bricker should come into their states.

Late last night Brownell had talked politics and speaking dates with eight governors in eight hours, including chief executives from both Atlantic and Pacific coast states.

Brownell leaves for Chicago today to establish a national committee headquarters in that city and to meet on Friday with Republican leaders from an eleven-state Midwest area.

of the city's water filtration plant; in the Polny Mokodow district in the south, and in the Zoliborz suburb in the northern part of the city.

Fighting Started Tuesday

The high command said street fighting has been under way continuously since early Tuesday evening, when the underground troops suddenly burst into action.

The mysterious "general bors," commander of the Warsaw underground, has been in contact with Soviet commanders on the opposite bank of the Vistula and has appealed for ammunition and anti-tank weapons, the communique said.

There was no definite information on the behavior of Polish civilians in the capital, but London observers pointed out that when the battles of Lwow and Wilno began even women, children and old men joined in the street fighting and helped wipe out German machinegun nests.

The Bermudas were discovered by Juan de Bermudez in 1510.

Armament Program About On Schedule

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The entire 1944 armament program was 48 per cent complete at mid-year, the War Production board disclosed today in a belated report on June production, adding, however, that many "urgent" weapons lagged behind military estimates of need.

The $5,380,000,000 worth of munitions turned out in June was 1 per cent behind May production and 3 per cent behind schedule, Chairman Donald M. Nelson's monthly report stated.

"Although most of the must programs—big guns, heavy artillery ammunition, heavy trucks, tractors, and so on—were on schedule or ahead during June, this fact does not indicate that production of these particular items was up to military requirements," Nelson said.

"The truth is that schedules for many of these items, during June and for several preceding months, have been set lower than desired, in order to conform to production possibilities."

The year's munitions goal has been reduced from $72,000,000,000 to $69,000,000,000, primarily because of lowered military estimates of overall requirements, Nelson said.

Production for the rest of the year must be about 20 per cent greater than in the first six months to meet these needs, he declared.

corted by fighters, attacked two flying bomb and rocket depots north of France. During the day, the Germans hurled robot bombs at London and southern England for 14 consecutive hours in their longest attack to date.

The heavies struck numerous objectives in France yesterday from west and south. Foul weather grounded the British bomb armada for the second night.

The Swiss told of planes flying over their eastern districts, touching off sirens in Zurich, St. Gotthard and St. Moritz.

Five Nazis Downed

There were no reports of heavy bombers operating from either Italy or Britain last night, but RAF homebased Mosquitos patrolled the French battle area and shot down five German planes.

Weather reduced visibility to zero in some places over Cherbourg today, but deeper in France it was not so murky and some improvement was forecast.

Spotty weather limited Allied bombers based in Britain and Normandy to 2,500 offensive sorties yesterday. These included strategic attacks by the U. S. Army Air forces and assaults by RAF heavy bombers ranging from Belgium to the Bay of Biscay and deep into southern france, smashing bridges, rail lines, enemy fuel and supply dumps and armored vehicles.

Surplus Army Planes To Be Sold Civilians

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Six Texas airfields have been designated as sales or storage points, or both, for surplus war training planes to be sold by the Defense Plant corporation.

DPC said yesterday arrangements had been made for sale of a fleet of surplus planes for civilian use from sales centers set up at airports over the nation.

More and more planes will become available for civilian sale, DPC predicted, conceding that "only a small fraction of such total surplus will be adaptable for use as personal aircraft" and the supply will be "far short of demand."

Texas centers from which the planes will be available include Victory field, Vernon.

Some Ballots Voided; Sailors To Vote Over

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — More than 20 federal ballots received here by Secretary of State Sidney Latham today had been declared void and Navy men who voted them will be allowed to vote again after Oct. 1.

In a conference with Latham here yesterday, Col. Robert Cutler of the War Ballot commission said a misinterpretation of the regulation governing the use of the federal ballot had caused premature voting.

Colonel Cutler was given a list of party nominees for federal offices which will be sent to service personnel about Aug. 10. Where there are run-off races for representative, the nominees will be radioed overseas, it was announced.

Baltimore Paper Is Supporting Dewey

BALTIMORE, Aug. 3. (AP)—For the third time in 107 years, the Baltimore Sun advocated today a Republican presidential candidacy, announcing its support of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York for the nation's highest office.

The independent Democratic newspaper backed William McKinley against William Jennings Bryan in 1896 and supported Wendell Willkie in 1940 in opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt. The Sun backed Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 and announced no choice in 1936.

Congressional Battle Is Due On Better Unemployment Pay

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—You can look for a rousing battle in Congress in the weeks ahead over better unemployment pay for war workers who lose their jobs when the war ends.

(A "states' rights" unemployment compensation bill, leaving to each state control of benefit rates and standards, has been approved unanimously by the Senate finance committee.)

All states now give unemployment compensation and most war workers probably will have lived long enough in the various states to qualify for payments.

But the rates are not uniform and the Social Security board estimates that for the country as a whole the average weekly unemployment compensation is $13.

States Do Paying

But the states do the paying without federal help. Now the big fighting question before Congress is: Should the federal government, after the war, help boost unemployment pay by chipping in with government money?

Democratic and Republican leaders both talk of the need of boosting the unemployment pay for discharged war workers but there are two bills in Congress which show the division in thinking:

Senator Kilgore (D-WVa) has one providing for federal aid with unemployment pay reaching as high as $35 a week, based on previous earnings.

Senator Murray (D-Mont) has one, also reaching $35 according to number of dependents, but this would be paid by the states under uniform rates set by the federal government which would help the states if they went into the red by making the payments.

Kind Of Federal Insurance

This would be a kind of federal insurance for the states and would differ from Kilgore's plan by not providing for direct government payments to workers.

Here's the thinking behind the proposal to broaden unemployment pay:

Wartime workers have had to save much of their earnings because the things upon which they would have splurged, like automobiles, weren't being made any more.

Prosperity Based On Savings

But the hope for a post-war prosperity wave, full employment and production, is based upon that pent-up money that will be spent when peacetime goods come back.

Well, you ask, suppose those people with all that saved-up money lose their jobs after the war and have to wait six months for another, won't they be able to live all right without increased unemployment compensation?

Sure. And by the time they get a job again their savings will be gone and they won't be able to buy the things they had hoped to buy. What's wrong with that? Just this:

The less money people have to spend for peacetime goods, the less demand there will be for peacetime goods. As the demand sinks, employment in the factories falls off. That means more jobless people spending their savings.

So the circle widens. Unemployment spreads.

In reverse, how would it work?

Here's John Jones, welder. He knows he'll be laid off after the war. He knows, too, that he will be able to live comfortably off his increased unemployment compensation. He doesn't have to dip into savings. When he gets a steady job again, his savings are intact and he can use them to buy peacetime goods. Widening unemployment is averted. Production is given a chance to get into full swing.

Onetime Aide To Al Capone Fatally Shot

CHICAGO, Aug. 3. (AP)—Lawrence (Dago) Mangano, once listed as a public enemy and long known to the police as a gambling chieftain and aide to the onetime gang chief, Al Capone, was shot and fatally wounded today as he sat in an automobile on the west side.

Wounded with him was one Mike Pontelli who was taken, suffering from bullet wounds of the chest and lower body, to a hospital where Mangano, similarly punctured, died shortly before 6 a. m.

Policeman Joseph Schinker said that when he arrived at the scene Pontelli was slumped in the car, Mangano had crawled to the sidewalk and collapsed and standing over him was a pretty brunette who identified herself as Mrs. Rita Reyes and said she had been sitting with the men in the car. Unhurt, she was held for questioning without charge.

The shooting was a typical hoodlum treatment. Schinker said Mrs. Reyes described it this way: An automobile containing three men whirled up and several shots were fired. Pontelli was wounded. The assailants' car went around the block, returned and blasted their quarry again, wounding Mangano.

PARTLY CLOUDY WEATHER FORECAST FOR TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

Partly cloudy weather was all the weatherman could offer sweltering Texans today as prospects for the state's tenth successive day of 100-degree or better temperatures remained good.

Sizzling under a scorching North Texas sun yesterday, Wednesday, Quanah rated the dubious distinction of hottest spot in the state when the thermometer boiled up to 114 degrees. Dallas' weather bureau said it was believed Quanah's high set a record for maximum temperatures in Texas this year.

West Texas readings at Pyote, 108; Big Spring, 107; Wink, 107 and Midland, 106.

morning but that he told them "it would not be fair to the committee, because everything I would say might be construed as political, in view of my candidacy for the vice presidency."

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee made public a letter to Vice-Presidential nominee made public a letter to Vice-President Wallace, as president of the Senate, asserting "I do not want even the shadow of suspicion that the committee's activities in any way are determined or influenced by political considerations."

Will Meet Tomorrow

Truman said the committee would meet again tomorrow to choose a new chairman.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) and Mead (D-NY) have been most frequently mentioned as possible successors to the chairmanship.

Prior to today's session, Republican members of the committee said they favored Truman's continuance as head of the group.

"We are going to do our best to defeat Harry for vice president by electing Governor John W. Bricker on the Dewey ticket," Senator Brewster (R-Me) said, "but we want him to continue as chairman of the committee."

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Burton (R-Ohio) have expressed a desire to have Truman remain at his post. Brewster Senator Ball (R-Minn), the other member, feels the same way about it.

Truman told a press conference immediately after his nomination by the Democratic national convention as President Roosevelt's fourth term running mate that he would resign from the committee.

Rennes Seized By U.S. Troops

north of Brittany's second port, St. Nazaire, at the mouth of the Loire river, and near the center of the peninsula.

Canadian troops of the British Second army burst forth in a new attack pointed toward Paris on the Allied east flank below Caen today, intensifying the threat of forcing a major German retreat as American armored columns struck deep into Brittany.

American armored forces pressed toward the major Breton peninsula ports of Brest and St. Nazaire and eastward from fallen Avranches.

Pincers Closing On Nazis

A great 60-mile pincers started closing on the Germans battered forces as the Canadians east of the Orne river lashed out a second time in three days against Tilly-La-Campagne, key to the Nazi "anti-tank wall" which stopped Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery a week ago. This attack came after a big air and ground bombardment.

American forces near the other end of the Allied line tightened a trap threatening at least two of the German's best armored divisions near the old Norman capital of Vire.

Allies Seize Vire

Vire itself, one of Normandy's prime communications centers, fell under Allied control, with British troops in its streets front dispatches reported. An American column driving up from the southwest reached St. Pois, 10 miles away.

This tightened the drawstring on the German rear guard, including the Elite Second and 116th Panzer divisions, withdrawing in the Vire-Tessy-Percy-Villedieu pocket although they may be able to weasel out through the 10-mile gap.

The invasion of France now has rolled into its 59th day with at least 85,000 prisoners among the casualties inflicted on the Germans.

Nazi Position Critical

(A Nazi correspondent at the headquarters of Field Marshall Gen. Guenther von Kluge reported "the situation in the western sector of the invasion front still is critical," a Berlin broadcast said.)

On the Allies' eastern sector British troops attacking by moonlight captured five towns before dawn and are beating at the gates of the Germans' keystone city of Villers-Bocage, which now is believed to be in no man's land.

The Germans still were defending the town's outer perimeter but were leaving it virtually empty for fear of Allied aerial attack and shelling, a front dispatch said.

Another British column striking in the region south of Villers-Bocage advanced within 2,000 yards of Aunay-Sur-Odon, seizing the village of La Lande to the west and high ground to the north.

Hitler's Machine In France Crumbling

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Anglo-American Allies continue to tear into the badly mauled and disorganized Nazi ranks on the invasion front in France, and a late dispatch from British headquarters in Normandy says this is the beginning of "the great retreat."

That may well be so. The cold fact is the Germans are up against an overwhelming strength in both men and materiel which have been poured through the bloody beachheads of Normandy.

Hitler's fighting machine in France is beginning to break up, just as it is doing on the eastern front.

British Prime Minister Churchill yesterday said truly "it is the Russian army that has done the main work of tearing the guts out of the German army." But while the fighting in France never will reach the monumental scale of the Russo-Nazi war, the western Allies also are about to give a fearsome exhibition of ripping out what Mr. Churchill said.

Add To Striking Power

If the Americans succeed in cutting off the Brest peninsula and capturing the great port of Brest —and today's reports indicate smashing progress—it will provide harbor and rail facilities which will add much to the Allied striking power. However, Cherbourg can fill the bill for the time being without Brest, and we may expect that there will be no delay in pressing the drve on Paris, for the Canadians and British are destroying the Nazi right wing and the center in the Vire sector while the Yanks race into Brittany on the other flank.

Truly Hitler's pagan gods have deserted him. At last he's feeling the mighty weight of the Allied vise. With the Red armies slashing his entire line to ribbons, and today at the very border of the "sacred soil" of East Prussia, he can't spare troops from the eastern theatre to bolster his hard-pressed forces in France. And he has nothing like enough troops or equipment in the west to protect himself for long.

28 Nazi Divisions

At latest reports the Germans had on the Normandy front a total of 28 divisions of various categories, including four panzer units and some infantry divisions which are partly armored. Thirteen of these divisions have been on the British sector and fifteen on the American. It's impossible to estimate accurately the number of troops involved, because many divisions are under normal quota. Perhaps there has been a minimum of a quarter million men.

The Hitlerites claim that the Allies have fifty divisions in Normandy. If that's so it might mean close to 700,000 men. When you consider that the Germans have only about 65 divisions in western Europe, Hitler's problem becomes doubly clear, for he has many points to protect against further Allied invasions.

The American drive into Brittany is eased greatly by the fact that the Germans had to withdraw forces from there to meet the Allied onslaught in Normandy. This withdrawal also lessens the danger of a heavy German counterattack from Brittany against the Allies right wing now emerging from Normandy.

Home Guidance Is Urged For Children

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — More than 500 women attending the Texas Home Demonstration association's annual meeting here Tuesday heard Dr. Daniel Greider of Austin tell them that proper home guidance was the way to counteract juvenile delinquency.

"Juvenile delinquency is coming from our homes," Dr. Greider said. "If you want to have great children, you must be great mothers and fathers. We must be on the alert for those influences which are endangering our children."

He also criticized various "comic" magazines as bad influences on children, and he deplored "horror" motion pictures and radio programs for them.

"I don't think some radio programs are good for children any more than some of those soap operas are good for some women who listen to them all day," Dr. Greider said. The women applauded.

Mrs. Leon Sullivan of Red Oak was to begin a series of reports this afternoon. The convention is scheduled to adjourn at noon tomorrow.

Nazis Charged With Murder Of Canadians

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 (AP) — Nazi SS troops in Normandy "willfully murdered" 19 Canadian soldiers recently, Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King announced today.

In Normandy, the Canadian army commander, Lt. Gen. Crerar, ordered the stark facts posted in every barracks. The general warned that the Canadians should not take any form of retaliation.

Mackenzie King told Commons the troops, one an officer, were shot after capture and that a court of inquiry composed of British, U. S. and Canadian officers had verified the charge. He laid the act to the 12th SS reconnaissance battalion of the 12th SS tank division. Through Switzerland, a protest has been made to Germany along with a demand for punishment of the guilty.

Pick-A-Back Robot Bomber Tried By Nazis, But It Fails

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ON THE BRITISH FRONT In France, July 27. (Delayed) — A German attempt to exploit a new aerial weapon—a pilotless pick-a-back bomber crammed with high explosives—ended in a spectacular but harmless crash into the sea off a British beachhead, it was disclosed today.

The crewless plane was shot down by an RAF fighter several nights ago.

"It made a colossal splash but that's all," said Capt. R. C. Lewis, who witnessed the end of the bomber from his beach antiaircraft post.

"The idea is old but the Germans have given it a new twist. It's a Messerschmitt-109 fighter 'married' to a Junkers-88 bomber," Lewis said. "The Junkers is stripped of all armament and its classhouse, or nose, is filled with explosives to make a warhead.

"The planes take off together, pick-a-back style, with the Junkers remotely controlled by the Messerschmitt pilot who guides it until the last moment when it is set on a course to crash against a selected target."

This was the first reported use of the weapon and apparently has not been repeated. RAF pilots said it made a "beautiful target."

American Military Mission Visits China

CHUNGKING, Aug. 3 (AP)—An American military mission now is visiting the Communist and other areas in northern China.

A Chinese government spokesman, P. H. Chang, told a press conference today the mission had the triple purpose of arranging cooperation between Allied air and Chinese ground forces, such as giving aid to wounded or stranded fliers, obtaining military information, and collecting aeronautical data.

Chang declined to disclose the composition of the mission or say whether it was considering establishment of air bases in the Communist-controlled territory.

BORDER OUT OF BOUNDS

LAREDO, Aug. 3 (AP)—The public relations officer of the AAF central school for flexible gunnery said today that the Mexican border here had been closed to personnel of the school until mechanics for a more strict control of venereal disease could be set up.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

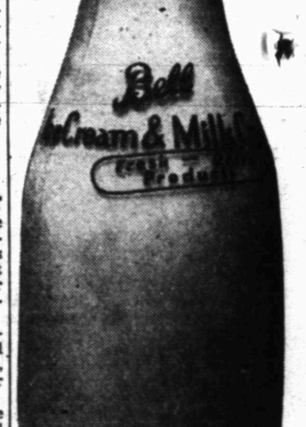

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
