Mill Iron Helps Build Blood Lines Of Area Herds

Commercial cattlemen are showing greater interest than ever before in the annual sale of registered Hereford bulls of the Mill Iron Ranches. Lafayette M. Hughes has announced that the sale will be held as usual on November 1 at the Cottonwood headquarters two miles south and ten east of Wellington.

Mill Iron's truly original plan of selling registered Hereford bulls at stated and very reasonable prices is rapidly changing the quality of the herds on many ranches in Collingsworth, Hall, Donley, Cottle and adjoining counties. The results already can be seen on many ranches and farms in the southeastern part of the Panhandle. Mill Iron herd sires have produced herds of high quality and remarkable uniformity in a few short years.

To make sure that the quality of the 1945 bulls would be up to or above that of previous years, a 33 per cent cut has been made in this year's crop. No bull that does not measure up to the high standards of Mill Iron will ever be offered for sale for breeding purposes; but several cattlemen expressed a desire to buy some of the cutbacks that went to the feedlots for further proof that Mill Iron breeding is the key to high quality for the commercial cattleman.

It has been a long trail that has brought the Mill Iron herd to its present perfection. Careful and painstaking breeding over a period of many years has gone into the building of the present herd. Mr. Hughes has employed some of the most noted animal husbandry experts in the United States to assist Clee Rothwell, herd manager, in seeing that the right bulls were used on the right cows.

From this work has evolved a registered herd of many cattle that is the envy of owners of small herds who breed show cattle. Mill Iron Herefords are noted for their exceptionally strong and beautiful heads, deep broad bodies, straight legs, compactness and strong bone structure. But in addition to this they have proven exceptionally hardy and sturdy on the range.

Commercial cattlemen appreciate this sturdiness and hardihood on the range. It is one extra Mill Iron quality that makes it practical for them to improve their own herds. Mill Iron breeding has produced a type of Herefords that the feeders and packers wanted and for which they would pay premium prices. Commercial cattlemen who have bought Mill Iron bulls in past years know that this type of cattle brought extra prices in times of high prices. They want that to continue as long as possible; but when it does change, they think that their safest course is to have a

Junior Rockets To Play Thursday

The Wellington junior high and freshman football teams will go to Childress Thursday night, October 25, for their first games this year.

A double header will be played, with 8-minute quarters for both games.

'The junior high team is a peppy little bunch that's really ready to go. They've got the enthusiasm of the regular Rockets and they'll give any football fan a game for his money," Coach Al Duncan said.

"The freshman team includes some of the men who are on the regular Rocket squad, and several have seen action in games this year."

The games will begin at 7:30 p. m. at Childress stadium, and the regular admission price will be charged.

A return game will be played November 2.

Members of the freshman team are Johnny Clark and Walter O'Neil, ends; Howard Ball and Junior Williams, tackles; Elmer Earl Shanks and Gerbert Shanks, guards; James Stevenson, center; and Kennetth Strickland, Billy Earl Moore, Gean Moore, Lynn Wright and Ollie Winters, backs.

THESE GUIDE FUTURE FARMER WORK IN AMERICA

Cotton Wage Law Has Teeth, Growers Here Are Warned

That the cotton picking ceiling of $1.35 in effect here is a federal law, and that local growers must abide by it as such or become liable to prosecution was re-emphasized by U. S. Department of Agriculture representatives in Wellington Tuesday evening.

Roger Q. Evans of Vernon, with the USDA, and R. B. Austin of Childress, assistant wage stabilizer, were here to give needed information regarding the cotton picking ceiling wage program and to make it clear to local cotton growers the legal status of the ruling and the penalties involved for its violation.

After discussing the fact that only 21 Collingsworth County cotton farmers were present when wage ceilings were voted on August 31, Mr. Evans said:

"Even though the farmers may have been negligent in attending the meeting that created the law setting a ceiling of $1.35 for pulling cotton, the law is a federal law. Even though a majority of the farmers may be against the program, it was legally voted and approved by federal regulation and will be enforced."

Mr. Austin explained that both he and Mr. Evans are with the adjustment phase of the program, not the enforcement, and that violations are taken care of by federal officials. He added that investigators have been here for the purpose of checking on violations, and if these are brought to court, they will be tried in federal court.

Penalty for violation of the cotton wage ceiling regulation is $1,000 fine, one year in jail, or both; or, if the grower pays in excess of the ceiling, he will have his entire cotton harvesting expense deleted from his income tax deduction.

The penalty applies to cotton pickers who receive wages above ceiling as well as to the cotton growers who pay them.

Mr. Evans declared that paying 15c per hundred for emptying sacks, or pulling Johnson grass heads, or any other subterfuge by which the picker actually receives $1.50 per hundred for the cotton he picks, is a deliberate evasion of the law and will be prosecuted as such. The man who openly pays $1.50 per hundred for pulling is no more guilty and will probably be prosecuted to a less degree, since the former is conspiracy to evade the law, he said.

On the other hand, he pointed out that one reason for the program was to make it possible for the farmer to realize a fair profit

J. W. Holder To Head Kiwanians In 1946

J. W. Holder, county tax assessor and collector, was named president of the Kiwanis Club for 1946 at the election meeting Friday, October 19. He succeeds Horace Clark, who is serving this year.

Named to serve with Mr. Holder as vice presidents are two members who have recently returned from service in the armed forces. A third ex-service man was included on the list of directors.

James Sullivan is first vice-president, while John Holton is second vice-president. T. J. Jones was re-elected secretary; Joe Terry was re-elected treasurer and Ted Rogers was named reporter.

The board of directors includes Cameron Beam, J. W. Thomas, Guy Clay, Myrett Henry, J. C. Ward, Clark Anderson and Charlie Harrell. The first four are serving in the same capacities this year. The latter returned to the club earlier this year after serving in the Army.

These officers will be installed in December, the exact date to be set later.

Members of the club voted to again co-operate with the Ritz Theater in giving the annual Kiddies Christmas show.

Rites Here For Accident Victim

Leonard Essman, about 27, died Sunday, October 21, in Tule Lake, Calif., of injuries received Friday in a car accident near there. His wife, who was also injured, was able to leave the hospital after several days treatment.

Mr. Essman's body will arrive in Wellington Saturday. Although plans have not been made, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Glenn Essman, said that the funeral probably will be held Sunday from the Assembly of God. The Ellis Funeral Home will be in charge of local arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Essman had been

Arthur Capps Reaches Home

First of Collingsworth County's prisoners of war from the Far East to reach home was Arthur Capps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Capps. He arrived Tuesday, October 16.

He was accompanied here by his sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Gardner and children. Another sister, Mrs. Burton Springer and children of Miami are also here to be with him.

Mr. Capps was a civilian employee on Wake Island when it was captured by the Japanese December 23, 1941.

His physical condition is good, far better than friends here expected, Mr. Capps' mother said this week.

Lt. Campbell Serves On Alaska In Pacific

As gunnery officer and later navigation officer on the USS Alaska, Lt. Lester Campbell has helped with that ship's performance since the day it was commissioned at Philadelphia. Now, the war over, it is stationed along the China Coast, but Lt. Campbell believes he will be home within a short time.

The Alaska is the American version of a pocket-battleship. While it was in considerable action in the western Pacific, it was never hit, although on one occasion ships all around were badly damaged. The son of Mrs. L. J. Campbell, the Navy officer was reared here, later graduating from the University of Texas. He was news editor of The Memphis Democrat when he volunteered for service in 1942. His wife, the former Miss Martha Thompson, lives at Memphis.

Lt. Campbell was gunnery officer when the Alaska left Philadel-

County Flower Show To Draw Many Exhibitors

There'll be a place in the Collingsworth County Flower Show Saturday, October 27, for every flower grower to exhibit his blooms, regardless of whether he has just one perfect blossom or many of them.

Under the direction of a committee composed of Cameron Beam, Mrs. J. M. Strong and Miss Charline Hyer, plans for the show are now completed. This is a county-wide event, it was pointed out, and all flower growers are invited to exhibit, and all flower lovers are urged to come and see the displays.

The show will be held at the community building, opening at 10:00 a. m. and closing at 7:00 p. m. Ribbons will be awarded the winning flowers, while an orchid will be presented the person receiving the most blue ribbons.

A musical program will be given from 3:00 to 4:00 p. m. and winners in the various classes will be announced.

Six classifications have been announced: a single flower, three flowers of one kind; an arrangement of seven or more flowers of one variety; an arrangement of mixed flowers, potted plants, and foliage arrangements. Ribbons will be awarded for each variety, such as roses, dahlias, etc., in the first three classes, while one set of ribbons will be given for each of the last three.

All flowers to compete must be brought to the community building by 9:00 a. m. Saturday morning.

Only Half Of War Chest Quota Is Now Collected

A bare one-half of the United War Chest quota has been collected—and ss than a week remains to raise the balance.

Wednesday morning total collections were $2,349.10. The quota is $4,591.

"Work in Wellington is complete, and the picture looks mighty dark. In fact, unless we have some voluntary contributions within the next few days, we'll have to go back and ask some of our donors for second contributions," Cameron Beam, city chairman, said.

"Only about one third of the rural communities have reported collections," B. W. Beaird, county chairman said. "Work seems to be slow, and only a small per cent of our people have made a donation of any sort. All of us know what the War Chest does, and we all know it is needed. All of us who are connected with the drive make this final appeal for the War Chest."

The War Chest drive is due to end November 1, Deskins Wells, general chairman, said.

All persons who have not been contacted are requested to see their community chairman or bring their donation to Mr. Beam, Mr. Beaird, or Joe Terry, treasurer.

Howard Hunt Home On Leave

Another of the county's combat veterans to come home from Europe is Pfc. Howard Hunt of Dodson, who reached here September 19 to begin a 45 day furlough.

Serving in the 179th Infantry of the 45th Division, Pfc. Hunt went into combat during the fighting along the Rhine River, then, when that was completed, he went on to take part in the central Germany campaign. With his unit as it fought southward, he was slightly wounded in one hip April 26, as the 179th was about 5 miles from the Danube, north of Munich.

The war ended about the time he was ready to return to action after his wound had healed, Pfc. Hunt recalled with a grin. "And I wasn't sorry either," he added.

Hunt's unit was assigned to partial occupation duty in the sector south of Munich until it was ordered to return to the United States.

Pfc. Hunt entered service in September 1944 and received his training at Camp Wolters. His

Langford Buys Smith Station

Purchase of the Texaco Service Station on Eighth Sttreet formerly operated by C. A. Smith was announced last week by Walter Langford. The station will be operated in the future as Langford Service Station.

Mr. Langford has been employed at this station since Mr. Smith took over, and is thoroughly familiar with the stock and services offered.

"I am happy to be able to serve the customers of this station, and I can assure you that the same high quality of service will be continued that has made you our friends in the past," the new owner said.

Walker Helped Keep Third Army Traveling

First Lt. John Walker, who served with a combat engineers unit of the Third Army during its rapid advance from Luxembourg across Germany, will report to Camp Polk, La., for assignment, after a 45 day furlough spent here with his wife and baby son, Jan, who was born while he was overseas.

In combat from January 15 until the German surrender, Lt. Walker went into action on the south side of the Belgian Bulge. Building roads and bridges where there weren't any, and repairing and rebuilding those that had been damaged or destroyed by the retreating Nazi armies, kept him and his men well up at the front of the action.

"We kept on using all the roads already built that we could, for off them, the mud was deep and it was almost impossible to get through it," he recalled.

Rockets Meet Clarendon For Final Home Game

The Skyrockets will play their final home game Friday night, October 26, against the Clarendon Bronchos. A conference game, Wellington fans expect this to be one more step on Wellington's way to the district championship. As the score now stands, the Rockets lead the district, while Clarendon is tied with Lefors and Shamrock for second place.

With eight lettermen back on their team, the Broncs have come up with a capable and balanced team, under the guidance of Coach Slick Naylor. While injuries handicapped his team earlier, so far as is known here, all Clarendon men will be in good condition for the tilt Friday.

The Broncs have lost one conference game, a close 6-0 to Lefors. On the other hand, they were doped to give the McLean Tigers a resounding defeat, but managed to eke out only a tight 10-6 win. The Broncs defeated Lakeview 13 to 7 and on Friday won over Wheeler 19 to 0.

Dolphus Wood Back From Manila

Sgt. Dolphus Wood, who has been stationed in Manila, Philippine Islands, returned home last week and is now visiting his father, A. S. Wood, and his sister, Mrs. Roy Bounds and family here.

He has been in service since April 1942, and for the last two years he has been in Australia and the Philippines. After a 30 day leave, he will report to Brooke General Hospital at San Antonio.

Another son of Mr. Wood is Pvt. J. Hoy Wood, who is with an engineers battalion in Czechoslocakia. He wrote recently that he is driving a truck and has been in most of the large cities of both Germany and France. He has been overseas a year and does not expect to return home until next July.

Farm Bureau To Hear Report

Members of the Farm Bureau will hear reports on the reconversion of agriculture, given by their three representatives to the district Farm Bureau Meeting, which will be held in Amarillo Thursday.

The local meeting is scheduled for Friday night at the court house at 8:00 p. m. Delegates due to make reports are Jake Tarter, president, Tom Cunningham and J. W. Thomas.

There are now 146 Farm Bureau members in this county, while the membership goal originally set was 102. Collingsworth was one of four West Texas counties recognized by the American Farm Bureau Federation for having already attained high membership goals for 1941, according to Joe Hatton of Spearman, state Farm Bureau director for District one. The other three counties are Dallam, Hansford and Hartley.

The American Farm Bureau Federation will offer $25 to each of two delegates from Collingsworth, Hansford and Hartley counties attending the national convention to be held in Chicago December 17 to 20. Dallam County will receive one award.

Jake Tarter is chairman of the Collingsworth County organization.

The Farm Bureau, in its fight for parity for agriculture, has attained its present objectives for the major staple crops, Mr. Hatton said. Loans of 90 per cent of parity, ceiling prices at parity, and floor or support prices of 85 to 92 1-2 per cent of parity have been the major achievements for agriculture during wartime, he added.

No Recent Word Of Missing Dodson Airman

No additional information has been received since the close of the war regarding First Lt. Elba Hunt, who has been listed as missing in action since May 26, when he took part in a B-29 raid near Tokyo.

Lt. Hunt was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hunt of Dodson, and his wife, the former Miss Jeannette Bowling, and small son, also live at Dodson.

Pilot of a B-29, he had made 14 missions. It is presumed that his plane went down over the target.

The 25-year-old flyer had lived at Dodson all of his life. Upon graduating from high school there, he attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock for almost four years, entering the Air Force in 1942, shortly before he received his degree.

He was commissioned in Florida, and was stationed in the United States until December 1944, when he was sent to the Pacific theater.

One of Dodson's outstanding young men, he was a leader during both his high school and college years.

His brother-in-law, Dale Farris, has been listed as missing in action in Germany since last November. A brother, Pfc. Howard Hunt, returned in September after serving in Europe. Other brothers and sisters are Vance Hunt, Mrs. Dale Farris, Marilyn Hunt and Kenneth Dean Hunt, all of Dodson.

Farmers Attend Ag Field Day

Three Wellington farmers, J. B. Baumgardner, R. B. Scott and John Brim, with Walker Todd, vocational agriculture teacher, visited the Chillicothe Experiment Station on Saturday, October 13, for a special field day for farmers and ag teachers of this area.

A complete tour of the experiplots was made and latest information on crops and varieties was given by Roy Quimby, superintendent of the station.

O. T. Ryan, area supervisor of vocational agriculture from Lubbock, met with the group. Farmers also attended from Samnorwood, Childress, Lakeview, Munday and Chillicothe.

Agreeing that meetings of this kind were most helpful, arrangements were made to repeat this event often.

Abel Leases Gardner Station

In a transaction closed last week, Troy Gardner leased his filling station and grocery store located on West Eighth Street to Strawberry Abel who will continue to operate both departments.

Ill health caused Mr. Gardner to lease this business.

Both the owner and the new operator are veterans of World War II, Mr. Gardner having served with the Army in France while Mr. Abel was with the Air Force in England for many months.

Mrs. Abel will assist in running the business.

"You will continue to find the same service you have received here in the past," Mr. Gardner said. "I sincerely appreciate your patronage during the time I have had the station, and I know that Mr. Abel will also appreciate your continued friendship."

Mr. Gardner will continue to live here.

United Gas Co. Re-Employs Vets

The United Gas companies have jobs for all their employes in the armed services whenever they come back. This was the substance of a letter sent recently to all employees of the United Gas companies, serving in the armed forces, it was announced today.

With the letter went a questionnaire, asking the employee if he wished to return, whether he wanted his old job back, and whether he felt that he had developed through military training to a point where he could handle other lines of work.

With but few exceptions practically all of the hundreds who have returned answers to the questionnaires said that they wanted to come back," the Company statement said. "A large number of employees want their old jobs back. Many others said their experience had broadened them so that they felt competent for larger responsibilities."

Two Texas war correspondents have been killed on the battlefields.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

(The following letter was written by Pfc. Wayne Parker to his little daughter, Andrea. Pfc. Parker is now enroute home.)

France
August 24, 1945

Dear little Andy,

Mummy said that Daddy should write his little girl a letter, because she was growing up to be a big girl now. When Daddy left to go to the Army, you were just a little girl learning how to walk and talk; so now, Daddy can't realize that you are getting big enough to want letters. Now what I want to know is, have you been a good little girl and do you say your prayers every night?

I know that you wonder why your Daddy has to be away from you and Mummy. Daddy will tell you a story about a real bad man named Hitler. This man wanted to kill all the good people in the world and take everything for himself. He didn't want little boys and girls like you to have anything but wanted guns to get what he wanted for himself. So all the good people finally decided they would fight this mean man, so that their little boys and girls could have dolls and things to play with. The good people have finally whipped this man, and now all the little girls and boys in France, Holland, and all the rest of the countries where this bad man has been, can play with their dolls again. And too, best of all, your Daddy can come home to you and Mummy real soon.

As soon as Daddy gets home, he is going to take you for a ride in an airplane, get you a dog, and all the rest of the things that you have wanted since he has been away. Daddy must go now so you give Mummy a big kiss and tell her that you and Daddy both love her.

I love you,
Daddy.

Adams Explains Work Of USDA Board

D. A. Adams, executive officer of the Texas USDA Wage Board which has jurisdiction over the price of cotton pull'ng in this and other counties, advised The Leader that AAA Committeemen are not in charge of the administrative phases of the program. According to Mr. Adams they act only in an advisory capacity. The real control is in the USDA Wage Board composed of members from A&M and Austin. Mr. Adams' letter follows:

My Dear Mr. Wells:

I have read with much interest your column, Didactics, something of more than a week ago in which you quote farmers and others concerning the Wage Ceiling Program which is now in operation in your section. I notice too, that you indicate that A.A.A. Committeemen are in charge of the administrative phases of this program which is not the case. I shall briefly describe the administrative set up in order that you may have a little clearer picture of the situation.

The membership of the Texas USDA Wage Board under the regulations is composed of five people appointed by the Secretary according to the regulations of the War Emergency Act of 1943 under which we operate. These members are: E. R. Alexander, Department of Agricultural Education, A&M College, College Station, Chairman, B. F. Vance, Administrative Officer in Charge of AAA, College Station, J. D. Prewit, Vice-Director, Extension Service, College Station, J. E. Montgomery, State Department of Agriculture, Austin and C. B. Hodges, Office of Distribution, Austin. The Board's job is to determine policies of the administration under its delegated authority of all phases in connection with the Wage Stabilization Program and at the request of producers conduct investigations as to the need of the Wage Stabilization Program and conduct public hearings for the purpose of getting factual information as a basis for making a recommendation to the United States Department of Agriculture in connection with the establishment of ceiling prices in certain designated areas. The Board has adopted the policy in Texas that any program that it is to administer shall be administered as much as possible within the counties and communities in the area involved. Due to this, the local farmer Advisory Committeemen have been selected by the Board upon recommendation from representatives within each county. The duties of these committeemen are to administer and recommend on all phases of the administration with particular reference to the matter of adjustments, plans of operation and suggestions as to how we can better enforce the program. These committees act as Wage Stabilization Committees and not as AAA Committees or Extension Service Committees. The latter two have no administrative responsibilities whatsoever in carrying out the Wage Stabilization Program as it now exists. The Board is expecting its Execlutive Officer, assisted by Wage Stabilization Assistants throughout the area, to coordinate the work of committees and administer a program within the regulations. We are attempting to do this in every respect in a program which will be of mutual benefit to farmers and laborers alike.

Reports from the committees throughout the entire area indicate that this is being accomplished. Laborers apparently are going to work with much less loss of time and are not constantly running down rumors of higher wages. Also committees inform us that farmers are holding the line and certain individuals are not consistenttly prizing the price up for selfish reasons which will be causing a general rise in harvesting costs which leaves the farmer, especially the tenant, very little or no money out of each bale of cotton. (See the attached cost of production study.)

The Extension Service has no responsibility in the administration of the program whatsoever. They are only concerned in the educational features such as acquainting farmers with the provisions of the law prior to public hearings. This is part of the responsibility required of them under the laws under which they operate. When this work has been completed their responsibilities are fulfilled and the Texas USDA Wage Board takes up all the administrative phases. This procedure has been followed throughout the entire area.

Individual adjustments for hardship cases can be made under the provisions of the regulations, and the Board is anxious to see to it that every person who has a justifiable case gets relief. This application must be made by the farmer on forms which are available and in the hands of all local committeemen. We are asking committeemen to recommend the justification of the application and upon approval of the fieldmen, the State Board will immediately approve the application for an upward adjustment. This is all done locally and does not require much time. The State Board, however, must bear in mind that the program involves a large area, and therefore, must definitely tane into consideration the effect an adjustment will have on the entire program. This is a Wage Ceiling Program that means just what the name implies. It is generally conceded throughout the area that the wages set are fair to both farmer and laborer to the extent that if carried out each will receive his fair share of the gross income of the cotton crop. We have requested our Assistant Wage Stabilizer in your area, Mr. R. B. Austin of Childress, to immediately call a meeting of the committeemen of Collingsworth County and acquaint them with all phases of the administration of this program. We would appreciate your attendance at this meeting.

We appreciate the space you have given in your paper for the various phases of this program and at any time we can give you additional information, do not hesitate to call on us.

Yours very truly,
D. A. Adam,
Executive Officer,
Texas USDA Wage Board.

Lt. Campbell -

phia November 5, 1944, and made its way southward by way of Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to the Panama Canal.

"Going through the canal was quite something. It wasn't exactly as I had expected, but it was ruggedly beautiful and very unusual. In some places the channel was very narrow and crooked and it appeared as if this large ship would hardly make it through. I don't remember the number of locks in the canal, but there are several, and it is marvelous to behold the way in which a large ship is floated up to a higher level, or lowered to a lower level and then released to proceed on," he said.

After stops at San Diego and San Francisco, the Alaska reached Pearl Harbor January 13. Ulithi, which was to be their base for a number of operations, was reached February 10. And there wasn't much to Ulithi, he found, except a few grass huts.

On February 16 and 17, the Alaska took part in the carrier attacks on Tokyo.

"There was nothing to the attacks as far as we were concerned. We got within 60 miles of Tokyo, but underwent no attacks, and thus fired at no enemy planes or ships. We left there after two days and supported the carriers in attacks on Iwo Jima until March 10. The Saratoga was hit there, but she was quite a distance from us. We only underwent one air attack while there and did not fire at a single enemy plane."

The Alaska again left Ulithi on March 12, this time for Kyushu, participating in carrier plane strikes there on the 18th and 19th.

"On these two days we underwent several attacks, were several miles from the Franklin when she was hit, 2,000 yards from the Intrepid when she was hit, 2,000 from the Enterprise when she was hit, several miles from the Bunker Hill when she was hit. But we were never singled out for attack, luckily. We stayed in the area of Iwo Jima until that place was secured, and then proceeded to the area of Okinawa to help out there. We underwent several air attacks, never any surface attacks."

While Lt. Campbell did not mentio nit, the Navy recently announced that it was in the early morning of March 18 that the Alaska's gunners shot out of the air a Japanese suicide plane diving at a large carrier.

Fhen the plane was sighted, the Alaska's gun crews opened up with all guns they could bring to bear on the attacking plane, which was in a dive. Hits were scored almost immediately, but the falling bomber kept on its course.

Finally, the ship's gunners hit the plane's gasoline tanks when it was less than half a mile from its target. The bomber exploded and splashed harmlessly into the sea.

A second trip was made to the Okinawa area to participate in the Ryukyus campaign. After that came a month in Leyte Gulf. Men and officers alike were glad to leave, for it was hot, and there had been a considerable amount of sickness.

Operations in the East China Sea, off the coast of Japan, began July 13.

"Nothing at all happened on these occasions, for we saw nothing but Chinese sailing boats. We would return to Okinawa every two or three days for fuel, etc., then go out again. We were in Buckner Bay, Okinawa, when the word came through that the Japs wanted to surrender. We stayed most of the time until August 30, when we came over to the Yellow Sea."

Texas ranks second among five mid-western states in production of military aircraft.

There are 176,452 Hexans enrolled for Naval service.

Within walking distance

IT'S not even too far to hobble, when you're leaving the blank walls of a hospital room for a brief while, on your way to a place of laughter and song and play.

The welcoming doors of a U.S.O. lounge club are just outside the hospital grounds—at more than 500 hospitals.

Here, at the house of smiles, war-shattered veterans escape that hospital routine, from the smell of ether and disinfectants. Here they enjoy their favorite phonograph records, today's newspaper, the checkerboard that you gave them when you gave to your County War Chest.

These are little things, but they're good medicine! The nearby U.S.O. lounge is theater, club—almost home—to the shocked and hurt boys whose present home is a hospital room. And your dollars keep these lounges going—the dollars you give to your County War Chest.

It's time to give again—for the men who gave a lot. Give generously! Make your donation twice as big—the need is more than twice as great.

You help many who can't help themselves, yet you are asked for only one gift. Let your heart decide how big it should be.

Details Learned Of Soldier's Death Sept. 28

T-5 Roland Roan, who died of injuries September 28 in Germany, was fatally injured when the jeep he was driving skidded on wet pavement and crashed into a tree, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Roan of Quail, learned last week.

The information was contained in an account in the official newspaper of the unit to which T-5 Roan was attached, and was sent home by Billy Hatch of Wellington, a member of the same unit,

Assigned as a jeep driver for headquarters company of the 740th tank battalion, T-5 Roan and two others were returning from Gottingen, Germany, where they had been on business connected with the publication of the battalion history book. About one mile out of that town, the peep in which they were riding skidded on the wet asphalt pavement, and despite all efforts of T-5 Roan, the driver, to bring it under control again, it struck a tree, throwing Roan clear of the vehicle.

Other occupants were uninjured, and one stayed with him while the other commandeered a bicycle and rode for aid. T-5 Roan was removed to the British hospital at Gandersheim within a few minutes after the accident. He died five hours later of a cerebral injury, never fully regaining consciousness.

Affectionately known as Skinny to his comrades, Roan came to the 740th in March 1943 with the first group of fillers. He was popular in the organization and had done an outstanding job in his post.

T-5 Roan was born at Rockwall May 26, 1924, and had lived in this county with his family for the last 15 years.

Postwar Agriculture Demands

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes.

Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

MEMBER TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Editorial

The most critical need now apparently handicapping people in Texas is for building materials for new homes and improvements to run-down old buildings.

This, it appears, is a shortage that cannot be remedied by war surplus supplies. Possibly some small quantities of hardware or equipment may come from surplus stores; but there is no available supply in sight of all the varied materials needed for residential construction.

Limited new construction is under way. Some concrete, stone and brick construction is going on. But to build a new house, water and sewer pipes, fittings and connections, plumbing supplies, hardware, doors, electrical squipment and specialized materials, such as flooring and roofing, are just as essential as the heavy construction materials. Even when some parts of the needed inventory are found, there is no assurance that some vital parts of the entire list will not be missing, thus holding up the entire job.

The lag in ordinary construction during the war years, the hard use and lack of repairs of existing houses, the normal deterioration over a four-year period, combined with the great increase in population in many cities and the greater demand for housing facilities have made the conditions acute in many cities and localities.

Immediate prospects for relief have been painted in the darkest terms. The best average guess for the family wishing to put up a new home is now that the scarcities will remain severe for at least a year, and some of them may linger much beyond that. Meantime, thousands of those in the services will return, many veterans desiring to set up housekeeping apart from parents or other relatives. It appears that the doubling up of families in the same house must go on for a long time.—Wichita Falls Record News.

• History in the Making

—Remember back in August-September, 1945? Remember? How many weeks have passed and no rain, just the burning sun wilting cotton, dust and 'melt-down.'

—Some day somebody will be saying: "Did you ever see so much rain, so many days of wet, wet clouds, cloudy days as we are having NOW" then maybe some fellow with a long memory will say: "Sure, bud, don't you remember back there in 1945, on the 29th day of September, following that long, dry hot spell, it began raining and not a bale of cotton was ginned from September 28 to —" . . . Well, that is as far as we can relate this story. Here it is Tuesday of the second week of rains, just a little peep of sunshine since September 28, and still pouring down . . . so history is still in the making.—The Hamlin Herald.

• Those Who Work

No system of government is going to work unless the people do. The degree of prosperity a nation enjoys is going to depend upon the amount of work done and the number of people who work. Notwithstanding the high flung theories that we can tax ourselves into wealth and provide a life of comfort and ease and big pensions for everyone the fact remains that there are only two sources of wealth in the world: the soil and labor. The people who work are the ones who contribute to a nation's wealth and to the world's wealth. — T. B. Klepper in The Foard County News.

• Play Safe

Surely a lot of burglaries since the war is over, one hardly picks up a paper without reading where a series of them were committed in one night. Folks had better lock their homes and keep their money and valuables in the bank, and business firms would do well to take extra precautions.—Mary Whatley Clarke in The Palo Pinto County Star.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

Dear Deck,

I hope this finds you and all of the people of good old Collingsworth all okay. As for myself I am okay, but run down a little.

We are now on our way to Samar in the Philippines to get a load of Homeward bound troops. Since the war is over now, we can say just about what we want to. We left Wakayama, Japan three days ago. We were there four days unloading occupational troops. We had part of the 98th Division aboard. We went in just as if the war was still on, ready for anything. Just the same as on Okinawa. I was so glad it was peaceful. The Japs were all over the beach watching us unload and land troops. The Army and Navy swarmed ashore so quick that it reminded me of a big herd of cattle. The Japs seemed amazed at our ships and troops pulling in so fast. The Air Force have really been busy there too, and have done a good job.

The country is pretty. It reminded me of Colorado, mountains and pretty valleys. The fields on the sides of the mountains were a beautiful sight, looked like stair steps.

I guess I had better sign off for this time. Love to all of my friends.

Richard J. Gilbreth, USNR.

With the 7th Army in Germany

Dearest Mother and Dad,

I will try and answer the fine letters I have received from you in the last few days. The reason I haven't been writing lately is that we have been moving around so much. I am in the Tank Destroyer outfit now, and they are keeping me here in the 17th for a few days to help them move. I will go to my new outfit on Monday and will write you my new address then.

We should be home by the middle of November. We are supposed to go to France on the 20th of October to catch the boat, and I surely will be glad when I get on that boat for the USA.

I am enclosing a couple of pictures of the hotel that has been my home for the last two months. I guess I should have signed up to stay over here for another six months. I could have made Sgt. then, but I had rather see all of you again than all the money in the world.

Your son,
G. T.

Blackhawks Win Over Rockets 20 To 7

The Wellington Skyrockets lost their second non-conference game of the season to the Phillips Blackhawks last Friday by a score of 20 to 7. The score was nothing to nothing at the half as the Rockets minus two starting backfield men and one linesman battled hard against an alert and heavy team from the oil belt. The first downs indicate a fairly even battle in the first half with Phillips getting 6 and Wellington 4; but the first downs were not too lopsided in the last half with the Blackhawks getting 7 and the Rockets 3.

The Blackhawks scored first early in the third quarter. Wellington took the ball on their own 28 and after two line plays failed to gain. A punt that bounced backward gave the ball to the Blackhawks on the Wellington 38. Henderson slashed through the line on 5 successive plays and carried it over. The kick was good and the score was 7 to 0.

The Rockets battled the Blackhawks on fairly even terms through the remainder of the third quarter even though the Rocket line was pushed around rather effectively. Wellington also suffered from the short distance of their punts and from the fact that the line was leaking when passes were attempted.

Phillips second touchdown was set up by an intercepted pass. McClennan took an attempted pass on the Wellington 25 yard line and ran it over for a touchdown. The next Blackhawk touchdown came soon after. Wellington took the punt deep inside their own territory. After failing to gain a first down the Rockets punted to the Phillips 40 yard line. A penalty put it on the 35, and in a few short plays the Blackhawks running from their T formation took it over for their final counter with Henderson and Turner doing the carrying. Turner carried over.

Fom this point the Rockets came back to make a score. Winters took the punt on his own 15 and ran it back to the 35. He threw a 20 yard pass into the fingers of Ted O'Neil who took it at full speed and evading four Blackhawks raced across the goal. It was a 25 yard pass and a 40 yard run. The kick was good and the score was 20 to 7.

Wellington soon had the ball and the same Winters to O'Neil passing attack started again. On the last play Winters heaved a long pass to O'Neil who took it on about the 30 yard line. He evaded one tackler and for a second the stands thought he was going to repeat the remarkable performance of a few minutes before; but the very fast Henderson brought him down on the 10 yard line as the whistle blew.

Henderson was clearly the offensive star of the Phillips backfield; but there was little to pick from their very strong line. Hatch was the main ground gainer for Wellington and Winters did some nice work in returning punts. Copeland was sturdy in the line; but the standout for the Rockets on both the offensive and the defensive was Ted O'Neil.

Next week the Rockets meet the Clarendon Bronchos for another conference game. By that time it hoped that Benny Moore and I. D. Russell will be back in the game. Hunt may or may not return for the rest of the season. Clarendon has a good team, probably the next best to Lefors.

Pfc. Junior Montague and Cpl. Cloice Duncan left here Tuesday for Philadelphia, Pa., where they will report to a Navy Hospital. They both expect to receive discharges within a short time. Montague is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Montague, and Duncan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Duncan Sr. Both men have been on thirty day leaves.

WAKAYAMA, Honshu, Japan—Most men of this task force, were topside watching landing craft put occupation troops ashore here September 25.

The troops were landed at this harbor on the southeastern coast of Honshu for the occupation of Japan's inland cities of Kobe and Osaka.

With this group was a Wellington man, Vernon Henry Gosnell, S 1-c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Gosnell of Route 3, Wellington.

Seventy-eight American servicemen and women from Texas were guests at a state party given in their honor in September by the American Red Cross "Club 60" in Calcutta, India. Among these was one Wellington man, T-Sgt. Travis V. Brown.

Nine of the group attending were GIs who had been prisoners of war in Jap prison camps.

Pvt. Garland Hodge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hodge of Route 1, Box 68, Quail, has won the right to wear the "Boots and Wings" of the United States Army Paratroops. He has completed four weeks of jump training during which time he made five jumps, the last a tactical jump at night involving a combat problem on landing.

Jumping at the parachute school has steadily developed to a recognized war science. American Paratroopers have been recognized throughout the world for their meritorious actions against the enemy.

In addition to producing jumpers, Parachute Specialist Training is given to qualified men in Communications, Demolition, Riggers and Parachute Maintenance, vital skills for Airborne Troops.

T-5 Harvey Walker landed September 24 in Yokohama, Japan, with the 97th Division. He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walker of the Elm Valley community:

"We rode a Jap train for about 40 miles north of Yokohama. We are now living in tents with cots to sleep on. The days are fairly warm, but the nights are cold.

"I haven't seen so many japs, but those I have seen look just like pictures and cartoons you have seen. Ninety per cent of them wear glasses and flash a bunch of 'corny' looking teeth smiling at us.

"I see no farm machinery whatsoever, only a few animals."

LETTERS From The PEOPLE

Dallas, Texas
October 10, 1945

Mr. Deskins Wells,
c-o Wellington Leader,
Wellington, Texas.

Dear Mr. Wells:

Enclosed please find P. O. Money Order in the amount of $5.00, which is to cover the subscription to the Leader for the past year, which you have so kindly continued to send, and the forthcoming year.

Please let me take this opportunity to thank you for your kind indulgence in my neglect to send the money for this year. We appreciate it very much, as we all enjoy the paper so much and, after ten years, continue to call Wellington our "home." I have been pretty busy in my work, and my Mother was quite ill for three months, and my Father had a broken arm which laid him up for some time, which, by the way, was his only good arm; therefore, my delay in sending this money.

Please send the paper to my father, J. D. Pritchett, address below, as it is now coming.

Thanks again and best wishes.

WITH the fall come shorter periods of daylight, and this calls for the use of more artificial light.

Ninety-five per cent of the children enter school with good normal eyesight. On leaving school twelve years later, twenty-five per cent will be in need of glasses, and upon graduating from university thirty-five per cent will require them.

A large percentage of defective vision is the result of eyestrain caused by inadequate lighting. Children give little thought to the care of their eyes. For instance, a favorite position when doing homework or reading the "funnies" is on the floor. Habits such as this should be corrected.

Good light is always important. Fortunately we can now purchase for a penny as much light as cost a dollar not long before our parents were born. Young eyes have years of work ahead of them and good lighting pays in devidends more precious than money.

Statehood Centennial Edition Of The Texas Almanac Now Ready

The new Texas Almanac is off the press, the 1945-46 edition being commemorative of the Centennial of Texas Statehood. Although print paper is still alarmingly scarce, the fact that the new book contains 608 pages—the largest in history — is considered adequate proof of its value to the public. In harmony with its dedication, a considerable portion of the book is devoted to historical matter. There is a revised history of Texas, from Cabeza de Vaca to Coke R. Stephenson, and there are additional chapters on events and places of historic interest, including an extensive current account of Texas' participation in World War II. As usual, data and statistics on rainfall, crops, mineral deposits, farm demonstration, railroad mileage, rosters of state and county officials, Mayors and City Managers, sources of state revenue during the latest fiscal year and articles on Texas counties, with individual maps, are included in the current issue, together with revisions in up-to-date form, covering rail, highway, air and shipping commerce; banking and insurance; Texas athletic events, parks and tourist attractions, schools, libraries, health and hospitals.

In view of the postwar program of economic development, especial attention is given to Texas manufacturing industries between 1940 and 1944, when pay rolls and volume of production more than trebled. There is full treatment also of Texas minerals, of which more than sixty kinds were produced last year, for a total value of more than a billion dollars—the greatest value of mineral production of any single state in the history of the nation. Included also, are late developments in soil and water conservation, telling of the construction of such new projects as Lake Texoma, near Denison, one of the largest reservoirs in America.

Approximately 85 per cent of the current edition of the Almanac had been sold before the first volume came from the press recently.

Luxembourg, he was attached to a combat infantry unit.

Inside Germany, he was attached to the 6th Armored Division, which assaulted the Seigfeid Line, and later took part in the work of demolishing that fortification. Agreeing with all other men who fought along this line, he declared that it was every bit as strong as it was reported to be.

Lt. Walker took part in the fighting in central Germany, then with the Third Army moved south into Czechoslovakia and later into Austria. He was moved from Austria into Germany, back to Austria and again to Germany before he was ordered to Marseilles, France, for re-deployment. He was scheduled for service in the C. B. I. theater when the Japanese surrendered.

Before entering the Army June 7, 1942, Lt. Walker was a teacher in Shamrock High School. He attended the officer candidate school at Camp Davis, N. C., and received his commission as second lieutenant on March 10, 1943. He was sent to Camp Stewart, Ga., for a year, and while there he received his promotion to first lieutenant. He left for overseas service October 22, 1944.

During the time Lt. Walker was overseas, Mrs. Walker made her home with her mother, Mrs. Cleo Templeton, in Wellington.

out of his cotton, and to prevent labor from here and there hunting higher wages.

Upon hearing the report that Oklahoma growers are coming into Collingsworth County for pullers, Mr. Evans said this, too, was a violation of the regulation covering farm labor. Any person knowing that an Oklahoma man came over to this county and got pickers should report it to Mr. Austin at Childress.

Our work is to try to help the farmers understand these regulations and abide by them. We do not want to see a single farmer hurt by the penalty attached to the cotton wage ceiling law, but this law will be enforced, and therefore we cannot urge too strongly that every farmer keep his cotton picking prices within the ceiling, whether he likes it or not. Nothing can be done about it this year, but he can get up and express his opinion and fight for what he wants when the time for voting ceilings comes next year," Mr. Evans said.
