SMALL FARMS IN CUBA.

Opportunities Offered In the District of Guines.

VALUE OF IRRIGATION SHOWN.

Potatoes and Onions Can Be Grown For the American as Well as the Cuban Market—Extent of a Caballeria of Land—A Texan's Profitable Venture.

It is one of the common mistakes that Cuba is good to raise only sugar and tobacco, says the New York Tribune's correspondent, writing from Guines. Leaving out the culture of fruits, which is going to take front rank in its agricultural industry in the near future, there is yet a further variation in production. Guines is the district of small farms and small farming. They raise crops not only for local consumption, but for export to the United States. No section of the island gives a better chance to study the prospects and the conditions of small farming.

Before the insurrection brought such great destruction the Guines district was one of the most prosperous parts of the island. It has been coming up rather slowly because, with so large a proportion of small farms destroyed and with their owners dead or heavily in debt, speedy recuperation was not possible. The foreclosure of mortgages which has begun still bears heavily on some unfortunate landowners, but this is one of the inevitable results of the war which no authority of government could entirely relieve. Nevertheless, in spite of the grip of the Spanish money lender, many of the original owners of the small farms or their heirs seem to be keeping their property or a part of it. Their burdens are heavy, yet encouragement is given that with a good season or two these will be lightened.

The Guines district is not given over entirely to small farming, for half the country is covered with canefields, and there are several large centrales, or sugar mills, which did not have to be rebuilt. All of these have raised fair crops this year, which have brought an average price, and thus the gradual revival of the sugar industry has helped other agricultural pursuits. The cane planted insures a crop at least one-fourth larger next season, and this will be an additional aid toward recuperation.

The Guines district differs from other parts of the island in that it does not depend on nature alone for its fertility. Irrigation enabled it to become the market garden of Havana and to export a considerable surplus crop of onions, potatoes and other vegetables to the United States. It is claimed that a good part of the Bermuda onions, instead of coming from Bermuda, come from Guines. By means of irrigation the district is enabled to market two crops of both potatoes and onions annually in addition to other products which are raised for the island consumption.

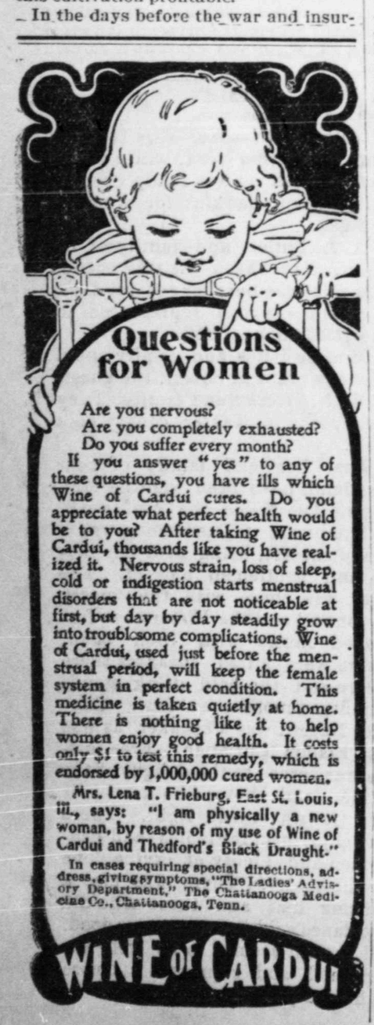

The irrigating ditches have not been restored to their former condition, but enough is seen of the system to demonstrate its value in a country where the rainy season of four or five months is supposed to furnish sufficient moisture for the rest of the year. Guines, by means of irrigation, has had the advantage over the other parts of the island in that it could alternate the crops with greater regularity and was not affected by the occasional droughts which occur often enough to demonstrate that the rains in Cuba are not perennial or perpetual. The soil is both of the rich black loam and of the red earth, which is sometimes called mulatto land. It is good for sugar as well as for fruits and vegetables, but it does not produce the tobacco leaf of the quality or quantity sufficient to make this cultivation profitable.

In the days before the war and insurrection the possession of a caballeria of land, with a few oxen, anywhere in the Guines territory constituted what would be called in the United States a well to do farmer. A caballeria is 33 1-3 acres, yet in its productive value it would pass for the quarter section of 160 acres on a western prairie. The farmhouses and outbuildings, as in all parts of rural Cuba, are simple and inexpensive, and the conditions of life, except for the oppression and corruption of the Spanish officials, were not difficult to meet. Sometimes a caballeria would be sold for $5,000 or thereabouts, but it was difficult to put any fixed price. The small holding was valuable enough to secure more than one advance from the bodeguero, or storekeeper, who usually was the money loaner. In spite of 18 or 20 per cent interest, compounded annually, the productiveness of the soil was great enough to stave off the foreclosure for a long time, and the small farmers with the debts hanging over them managed to get along about as the great sugar planters did with their enormous obligations. Because of the distress and poverty caused by insurrections some of the land has to be sold at a sacrifice, and it is cheaper than before the war, yet none of it is to be had for a song. A caballeria under cultivation, while it may be bought comparatively cheap, still fetches a price not far below that of the big farm in the United States.

A number of Americans have come into the district in a small way and are doing fairly well. One group of them has made an arrangement with the railroad company to give them warehouse facilities, while others are operating on their own account. Just after the protocol was signed a number of Americans jumped into Cuban farming, as they called it, and selected the Guines country for the scene of their activities. A few of them leased lands, while to others were given the use of tracts by some of the large planters substantially for nothing. Few of these early comers made a success. The trouble was that they knew little of farming and had no capital of their own. When they miscalculated on the potato market in New York and when too much rain spoiled part of the crop, they were at the end of their resources. Others who came in later and who had some capital are doing better and are greatly encouraged at the prospects which the Guines district offers.

The most successful American in this region is a young fellow near Catalina. On a capital which three years ago was not more than $5,000 he is running a bee farm which nets him $2,500 to $3,000 annually for his money, is raising sugar cane on some leased land in a neighborhood where three mills are ready to grind it for him and is also fattening cattle on pasture lands which he likewise leases. Within the last year he and his partner have made $8,000 on Texas ponies and cattle. They look on this business as the best one for Americans, because the demand is steady and is certain to continue. It should not be understood that the case of this young Texan is the experience of every American, for he had lived in Cuba before the war and knew the language and the people. Yet it is his own testimony that Americans who go into the business of farming as he has done cannot fail to realize handsomely, because the opportunities are so great that the necessary experience will soon be had, and after that there is no drawback.

Guines in many respects is the most typically Cuban place in the island. The proportion of the black population is not large, and there are relatively few peninsulars, or Spaniards, though there is a fair sprinkling of Canary islanders, who take naturally to general farming as well as to tobacco growing. Before the insurrection it was stated that four-fifths of the small land owners of the district were native Cubans, and their holdings varied from a third of a caballeria, or 10 acres, up to 150 or 200 acres. They had the benefit of railway communication with Havana and of the calzada, or paved highway, which is one of the best in the island and which through the 40 miles to Havana offers an artery to agricultural production as well as to trade. The industrial drawback is the lack of banking facilities, but as that is the drawback of many prosperous rural communities Guines is not exceptional in this respect. It is one of the necessities which is likely to be met within the next few years by the extension of banking facilities from Havana. The lack of factories of any kind was another drawback which marked the purely agricultural condition of the town and surrounding country. It is possible also that the future will see a factory or two established, though that is not an immediate prospect.

France and Nicaragua are negotiating a treaty of commerce.

DUEL TO DEATH.

A Farmer Killed After He Had Shot His Daughter and Her Child.

Tampa, Fla., July 10.—An impromptu duel with pistols was fought near Plant City in which Edward Franklin, a farmer, was killed and David Kinard, Franklin's son-in-law, Mrs. Kinard and their baby seriously wounded. Franklin, it is alleged, had employed a farm hand to do some plowing for which he was to receive 700 strawberry plants. The work having been finished, Franklin gave an order on Kinard for the plants. When the employed man presented the order, Kinard refused to fill it. This was reported to Franklin who armed himself with a shotgun and went to the Kinard home. Arriving there he opened fire, it is said, on his son-in-law, missing him, but struck and wounded his daughter and grandchild. Kinard, who ran for a gun, returned the fire. Another volley was exchanged, Franklin falling dead and Kinard seriously wounded. Kinard has not been arrested.

DEMOCRATS OF OHIO.

They Meet in State Convention and Nominate State Officers.

PLATFORM ADOPTED

Both Factions Are Satisfied, Though the McLean Forces Controlled. Judge Kilbourne Was Nominated for Governor.

Columbus, O., July 10.—The Democratic State convention convened today under the most peculiar circumstances. All the more conservative elements had combined in the preliminaries against the friends of Mayor Tom L Johnson, but the combination was not maintained after the committee were selected and during an all night's session of the committee on resolutions it was claimed the McLean and Kilbourne men were no longer co-operating against the propositions of the Johnson men on platform and organization. The contest was in the committee on resolutions and on both national and state issues. The Johnson men won on their favorite views on state matters and on national issues. There is no reaffirmation of the Kansas City or any other platform. There is no mention of any previous platforms or of Bryan.

The subcommittee of seven that drafted the platform stood 4 to 3 in favor of the conservatives; but the full committee rejected both majority and minority reports and then picked out such parts of each as were voted in section by section. The full committee did not stand the same on all sections or planks. Three planks of the Johnson men on franchises of steam and electric railways and corporation taxation were adopted as amendments to the majority report.

The reports of the subcommittee and then the resolutions as amended were adopted so that the minority report of the subcommittee practically became a majority report of the full committee and things generally reversed from what previously had been the course of the convention.

Previous to the assembling of the convention there was unusual agitation among the delegates. C. P. Salen, a member of Mayor Johnson's cabinet at Cleveland, was continued as permanent chairman and the friends of Johnson had secured the taxation resolutions that were wanted. There was much talk about Kilbourne and McLean men having differences, but it became evident later on that the Johnson men had won on the taxation issues without any other changes.

The convention was not called to order till about 11 o'clock by Chairman Brucker, when prayer was offered by Rev. John Hewitt. C. P. Salen was greeted with an ovation, being introduced as temporary chairman. He made a brief speech.

Colonel James Kilbourne was nominated for governor by acclimation.

James Kilbourne, the Democratic candidate for governor, was born in Columbus in 1841, graduated at Kenyon before the civil war and at the Harvard law school after the war, enlisted as private and became colonel. He is president of the Ohio Centennial commission, the Columbus board of trade, the public library, the Children's home, the Guild and Associated charities, a director of banks and railways, vice president of the Army of The Tennessee and a member of other associations and military organizations. He has never held public office and never a candidate for office till a year ago, when he was defeated for gubernatorial nomination by John R. McLean. He is especially popular among the workingmen and is an honorary member of the Columbus Trades and Labor assembly. For years he was next door neighbor of the late Allen G. Thurman and his close counsellor. His father formerly represented the Columbus district in congress and his grandfather was one of the earliest settlers of the city.

THE FOURTH IN JAPAN.

Yokohama Was Turned Into An American City by the Japanese.

Yokohama, July 5, via Victoria, B. C., July 17.—The celebration of the Fourth of July Thursday transformed Yokohama into a veritable American town, and the scene at noon when the warships in the harbor joined in the salute in response to the shore festivities was the most inspiring one. The day closed with a exhibition of fireworks which recently arrived tourists pronounced finer than anything ever seen in America. Conjoined with this effervescence of patriotism the preparations for the great celebration of the Fourteenth when the monument to commemorate Commodore Perry's landing is to be dedicated are proceeding upon a magnificent scale.

The emperor made a magnificent contribution from his private purse and the occasion will testify in many ways to the highest appreciation in which the Americans are held in Japan. The celebration is to be held under the auspices of the Japanese-American Friendly association of which Baron Kane is president. The number of invited guests is so great that one of the largest steamers of the Japanese Mail Steamship company has been chartered to take them to Kurihama, where the ceremonies are to take place. It will be accompanied by the entire squadron and the fleet of warships which have assembled for the purpose.

The honors to be paid on the expected arrival of General MacArthur from the Philippines will at least equal those recently accorded to Field Marshal von Waldersee and everything possible will be done to testify to the genuine respect and affection in which the empire holds the American republic.

The notable feature of the time is the influx of Filipinos who are now arriving in large and increasing numbers. They are mostly of the better class and seem to be coming for the educational advantages which Japan affords. Already they are winning high praise for their general behavior and their eagerness to learn.

Another sign of the times is movement on foot for the general teaching of Russian language in the empire. It is felt that events are rapidly shaping themselves to bring Russia into closer contact with all national and commercial relations here, it being recognized that the northern power is to be the most important factor in oriental politics and trade.

The growth of the Jiji Shimpo the leading journal of the metropolis well illustrates how thoroughly western, especially Americans ideas are dominating the country. The special editions of the papers on special occasions and holidays rival the leading journals of New York. The latest enterprise inaugurated by it is the adoption of the "fresh air fund" movement and numbers of children from the streets of the capital are now being sent into the country for outings of a week or more. The movement is attracting much attention and will doubtless be emulated by many other metropolitan journals.

GARLAND STOVES AND RANGES.

A TALK ON OUR STOVES!

Some Special Advantages for "Garland" Wood and Coal Cooking Stoves and Ranges.

1—The rods are placed on the outside and will not burn out.

2—The covers and centers are extra heavy and braced to prevent warping.

3—The hearth is smooth and is always clean.

4—The oven door is lined with "Garland" Alluminum and is opened by a tap of the foot on the "kicker."

5—The oven top is extra thick and is cemented.

6—The flues are very large, easily cleaned, and the goose-necked flues make these goods operate in a chimney where the draft would not be strong enough for goods without this improvement.

WARRANTY.

You are Entitled to the Following Guarantee. See that you get it.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That this "Garland" is sold with the absolute guarantee of being the finest and best construction of its kind ever made for the price asked. It is guaranteed to operate perfectly in all cases, under necessary conditions, when directions for use are followed.

In case of any imperfections, in material or workmanship, the seller and manufacture agree to make the same good.

Every feature of economy, durability or convenience that an experience of over a quarter of a century has shown to be desirable will be found in the "Garland" line.

"Garlands" are the only line of Stoves and Ranges in the world made from a mixture of the best and highest grades of Iron and Aluminum, which mixture adds strength, prevents cracking, blow-holes and other imperfections, and is a benefit to iron in every way.

7—The fire back is extra heavy for burning wood.

8—The oven is more nearly square than in most goods.

9—Reservoirs are porcelain-lined cast iron and can be lifted out for cleaning. They can be detatched or added at any time.

10—High shelves can be attached to all ranges at any time when needed, and can be made into high closets.

11—In coal goods the feed door is extra large to allow broiling to be done without removing the covers.

12—Grates can be replaced without interfering with the water connection.

13—The soft coal fire-box linings are of cast iron, in interchangeable sections, and each can be replaced without the others, thus avoiding the necessity of purchasing an entirely new set when one piece burns out.

14—The grate shakes easily and freely and is dumped to throw contents of fire-box into the ash pan.

15—The hard coal fire-box linings are made from the best fire brick which years of experience has shown to be the most suitable material for burning hard coal.

16—A duplex grate, by shaking, cuts out all refuse and leaves the fire clear and bright.

17—"Garlands" are quick bakers, simple in operation.

You will notice that this is an entirely new branch to our business at Dublin and Alexander, but you will also notice, upon investigation, that we have secured the agency for the most widely known and most generally used of any stove in the world. We cordially invite your attention to the "Garland."

GREAT LOVER OF ANIMALS.

e late Jacob S. Rogers, the million-

itan Museum of Art in New York, a bachelor and a recluse. He sep-
d himself from the world as much

n he was in Paris the last time, ago, he saw a picture in the Louvre Art gallery, for which he offered a fortune, but he could not buy it. He seemed to take his discomfiture so much to heart that he left the city, though he kept rooms at a hotel reserved for him till the day of his death. No one in Paterson thinks that he left money to the art museum because of any real love he had for it, but in doing so he was as consistent as in all his actions. He never had anything to do with his relatives. He was determined to disappoint them.

In his home there are treasures even more valuable than some of his pictures—his books. These no one was permitted to see.

George Brown, a real estate man, who had known Mr. Rogers from boyhood, went to see him to urge him to concede something when the locomotive works were shut down. When Brown left, Mr. Rogers stood in the door and watched his dogs worry him and throw him to the ground. They tore Brown's clothes to shreds, but the real estate man fortunately escaped without harm. He wrote to Mr. Rogers next day telling him of the damage done. Mr. Rogers sent him a check, with the following note: "Find check for $25 for a new suit of clothes, but I give this conditionally. The dogs have not taken sick yet after biting you, but if they do I will sue you."

When General Grant was in Paterson, he passed the Rogers works, and every one was at the windows to see him. Mr. Rogers' window overlooked the spot where he passed, and he could have seen him plainly, but Mr. Rogers never took his eyes from his ledger and refused to be told that General Grant had passed. That evening General Grant was taken to see the fine stables of Mr. Rogers, and on admiring the splendid cattle and their fine housing the general said to those around him:

"I can tell now why you people are giving me champagne to drink instead of milk. It is because it costs so much to produce the milk."

Around the old secluded home in Park avenue there are scores of swans cut from the purest marble. These swan statues are very fine work.

It was always said in Paterson that Mr. Rogers never gave a cent for charity, but the Very Rev. Dean McNulty said recently that the dead millionaire gave a picture to his church for which he paid $2,500, but wished to have nothing said about it. He gave $250 to a synagogue and $500 to the Church of the Redeemer of Paterson.

Vegetables Will Become Valuable.

Two Melbourneites, according to the Sydney Bulletin, claim to have discovered a new motive power "lighter than air, more powerful than dynamite, very simple and nominal in cost." Byronite, named after one of the inventors, is a fine powder alleged to be made from cheap vegetables and generates, it is said, when specially treated a gas which supplies the actual motive power.

AMERICA TO LEAD ALL.

Minister Wu Says the Republic Will Become Greatest Power on Earth.

Several thousand persons gathered in Independence square at Philadelphia on the Fourth of July to see and hear Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister. Minister Wu was the orator of the day at the municipal celebration of Independence day, and the friendly reception given the distinguished guest must have allayed all fears for his safety despite the fact that he had received an anonymous letter threatening him with bodily harm.

When Minister Wu appeared on the speaker's stand, he was accompanied by two detectives, who had been assigned as a special bodyguard, says the New York Journal. When the Chinese diplomat stepped to the front of the platform, he was given a rousing reception.

Minister Wu began by referring to the day and sketching the many important events which had occurred upon its anniversary. He made humorous reference to the fact that China furnished America with firecrackers and then in a serious vein traced a similarity in the educational system of China, which gave the humblest citizen an opportunity to become part of the government, and the electoral system of the United States. His closing tribute to the United States was as follows:

"This nation, it seems to me, has not sprung into existence without a manifest destiny. There must be some noble ends for which the independence of the United States was established.

"It was to demonstrate to the world what great good to mankind a free and independent people can do; to establish 'a government of the people, by the people and for the people;' to preserve law and order; to treat all people alike, with fairness and justice; to do away with selfish and clannish feeling; to make American patriotism synonymous with fair play, with the love of mankind, with freedom and liberty in accordance with law and justice.

"By pursuing these ends this republic will become the greatest power upon earth, and you citizens of this great country will be more than ever respected and loved by all."

HOW TAFT LICKED AN EDITOR

Story About the First Civil Governor of the Philippines.

Judge William H. Taft, just inaugurated first civil governor of the Philippines, is a tall, broad shouldered man of great dignity. Personally Governor Taft is one of the most gracious and kind hearted of men, but several times during his career he has shown that he has fighting blood in his veins, says a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. At Yale he was the most popular man in his class and was noted for his skill as a boxer and in other similar forms of athletics. This skill he once put to good use after he graduated and came back to his home in Cincinnati.

At the time there was published in Cincinnati a scurrilous Sunday paper, made up chiefly of scandalous attacks on prominent people. One Sunday morning the paper contained what purported to be a letter from Washington written by a society woman of Cincinnati who was visiting in the national capital. The letter was such as no woman of discretion and modesty would have written, and, though the name of its alleged author was not given, the editor in another article succeeded in conveying the impression that Mrs. Taft, mother of the present governor, who happened at the time to be in Washington, was responsible for it.

The day the article appeared William H. Taft, accompanied by a male relative, called at the office of the paper in question and succeeded in identifying the editor who had written the article which had offended his family. He then proceeded to take off his coat and otherwise clear the decks for action. The editor called for help, but the elder Taft held those who came to his assistance at bay, while young William attended to the case of the chief offender. When he had finished, there was just about enough left of the blackmailing editor to be decently taken to the hospital. Doctors worked over the fragments for two weeks, at the end of which time the victim of Taft's strong right arm was just able to limp out to his office. He never took any action against the future jurist, whose action was highly commended by the entire community.

INDIANS GOING TO MEXICO.

Dissatisfied Cherokees Will Form a Colony to Their Liking.

Hundreds of full blood Cherokees, under the leadership of Muskrat, are organizing to emigrate to Mexico, says a Vinita (I. T.) dispatch to the St. Louis Republic. An agent of a land syndicate, named Lyons, has offered them free lands and an opportunity to perpetuate their tribal organization in that country, and all the followers of the irreconcilable chief are enrolling to go.

This element in the Cherokee Nation has always bitterly opposed the allotment of lands, and all of those who are in favor of a speedy settlement of the nation's affairs with the government are promoting the movement by an offer to purchase their rights.

New Tune For "America."

At the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Society of the Order of Cincinnati held at the statehouse in Newport the other day it was voted, says the New York World, that the song "America" be revised and that the same words be put to new music and sung at all future meetings of the society.

Land cultivated by irrigation is more productive than land where the rainfall moisture alone is sufficient to mature the crops.

LOST BY ONE VOTE.

Electoral Law Proposed Defeated by the Cuban Convention.

Havana, July 10.—The Cuban constitutional convention has rejected the committee's project for the electoral law by a vote of 13 to 12. The conservatives claimed that the law as proposed was too radical inasmuch as it provided that there should be no interference with the elections by the central government and because the last elections showed it to be impossible to conduct elections honestly without some restraining powers.

It was pointed out that the provinces and municipalities were as yet unable to govern themselves and contended that a free hand regarding Americans would result in calamity to the country. In the opinion of the conservatives the first election under the laws should be conducted with all possible safeguards with safeguards equal at least to those provided by the military governor.

Rather than accept the commission project the committee said they would favor holding the elections under the existing law and leave to the public the task of drawing up a suitable law later on.

Another serious objection is that lines could not be defined as yet and that the law provided for political representation on the election boards, which, under existing conditions would be a farce. A new commission will be appointed at once. The conservatives claim a majority in favor of the plural vote based on the Belgian law.

RUSSIANS TO CONTROL.

Chinese Troops to Be Withdrawn from Manchuria According to Treaty.

London, July 10.—A dispatch from Pekin says it is reported that the Russians are rapidly completing the Manchurian railway and that they will employ 50,000 troops for the defense of the line.

Li Hung Chang proposes to withdraw all the Chinese troops from Manchuria with the object of avoiding all chances of collision with the Russians. If this is done Russian troops will be needed to preserve order in the province, as only Chinese policemen will be employed there according to the definition now given to the Russo-Chinese agreement regarding Manchuria.

It is stated that the Chinese soldiers have combined with bandits to plunder people and resist the Russians. It appears that no control is exercised over the Chinese soldiers there.

MURDEROUS NEGRO.

Killed a Man, Fatally Wounded Another and Shoots His Wife.

Douglas, Ga., July 10.—Jake Devoss, a negro laborer on James McKinnon's plantation, was working a team of mules Tuesday. The mules balked and Devoss flew into a rage. The negro went home and got a Winchester rifle and shot both mules dead. His wife expostulated with him and he turned the rifle on her inflicting a wound which may prove fatal. McKinnon, who owned the mules, and his brother started for the scene. The now infuriated negro saw them coming and began shooting at them. Charles McKinnon was instantly killed and James McKinnon was so badly wounded that he will probably die. Then Devoss escaped to the swamps.

Killed by a Live Wire.

Cameron, Col., July 10.—Ed Nelson of Chicago was killed by a live electric wire running into the barn of W. C. Wagner, the town recorder, at whose house he was a guest. Not knowing that he was entangled in the wire, Nelson turned on the current to light up the barn. The odor of burning flesh attracted Wagner who realized at once that his friend had been shocked. He attempted to disentangle him from the wire and was himself knocked over and rendered unconscious. Several others attracted to the scene had a similar experience. The current was finally cut off but not before Nelson had been literally cooked.

Tennessee Coal for Italy.

Knoxville, July 10.—Local companies have received a joint order for 10,000 tons of east Tennessee and southeastern Kentucky coal to be exported to Venice, Italy. The coal to be delivered in six months. It is said to be the largest single export order ever placed with Southern mines.

Fire at Roff.

Roff, I. T., July 10.—A very destructive fire broke out on Main street at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, destroying three large 2-story stone buildings belonging to F. D. Hummer, G. W. Sullivan, and T. S. Rogers. The loss will probably aggregate $20,000 with partial insurance.

President Johnson's Daughter Dying.

Greenville, Tenn., July 10.—Mrs. Martha Patterson, who was the mistress of the White House during the presidency of her father, Andrew Johnson, is dying at her home here. Mrs. Patterson was the eldest child of President Johnson and was born Oct. 25, 1828.

Strike at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Tex., July 10.—A strike is on here involving all building trades. It is the refusal of the laborers of the federation to accept the result of arbitration demand for higher wages. One thousand men are out.

DUBLIN, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1901.

The republican machine of New York has commenced to boom Benj. B. Odell Jr., of that state as their next candidate for president to the exclusion of Vice-President Theodore Roosevelt.

An instance where diversification has paid large returns is set forth in the following from an exchange: T. C. Nye, a truck raiser near Laredo, has been raising onions. Mr. Nye's best acre yielded him thirty thousand pounds, for which he received $700. On his seven acres he raised 150,000 pounds, for which he was paid $3,200. He says the total cost was but $700, leaving him the handsome profit of $2,500.

After taking 4,046 ballots the democratic convention to name a candidate for congress to succeed the late Judge Burke in the Dallas district, nominated Hon. Dudley G. Wooten. The convention met at Meridian and after several days of a hopeless struggle adjourned to Dallas, where after several more days the nomination was made. The republicans nominated Phillip Lindsey of Dallas, and the populists decided to let them fight it out. The election came off Saturday and Wooten was elected by an overwhelming majority.

In an interview at St. Paul, Minnesota, recently, Hon. Marion Butler, former United States senator from North Carolina, and heretofore a fusionist, said:

"The populist party will go it alone next time and we will poll more votes than we ever did before. The main issue will be public ownership—not of everything, understand, but of the natural monopolies. Let the public own the natural monopolies and then for the rest let it be every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. All we ask is that there be equality of opportunity. "The silver question is dead for the time being at least and for one I never favored the use of that word silver. All the true populist contends for is money enough to transact busines and maintain the equilibrium of prices. I believe that coinage and the supply of money should be regulated by law."

HARD TO BREAK.

But the Coffee Habit Can be Put Off.

"I was a coffee user from early childhood but it finally made me so nervous that I spent a great many sleepless nights, starting at every sound I heard and suffering with a continual dull headache. My hands trembled and I was also troubled with shortness of breath and palpatation of the heart. The whole system showed a poisoned condition and I was told to leave off coffee, for that was the cause of it. I was unable to break myself of the habit until someone induced me to try Postum Food Coffee.

The first trial, the Food Coffee was flat and tasteless and I thought it was horrid stuff, but my friend urged me to try it again and let it boil longer. This time I had a very delightful beverage and have been enjoying it ever since, and am now in a very greatly improved condition of health.

"My brother is also using Postum instead of coffee and a friend of ours, Mr. W., who was a great coffee user, found himself growing more and more nervous and was troubled at times with dizzy spells. His wife suffered with nausea and indigestion, also from coffee. They let it off and have been using Postum Food Coffee for some time and are now in a perfect condition of health." Grace C. M., Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Put a piece of butter in the pot, the size of two peas to prevent boiling over.

A TRIP TO BUFFALO.

The Niagara river is one of the most beautiful bodies of water that could be imagined, clear as a crystal, very deep and a very swift current and the view as one goes down it on a steamer gives a remarkable sight of the more remarkable thrift and energy of the citizens of "Uncle Sam's" dominions over those of the British territory adjoining us. On one side of the river is New York state, the magnificent residences mostly of brick and from two to four stories in height which line the river front give a distinct appearance of prosperity, thrift, energy and satisfaction. The lawns about these houses are beautifully kept and decorations are plentiful, the large maple trees are trimmed high and the heavy foliage affords a magnificent shade. Every house has its walk-way to the river and a landing pier to accommodate any craft that the river affords. The houses, barns, outhouses, fences and all surroundings are painted, show to be well kept and a general interest in life and its beauty is apparent. To turn to the Canadian side one sees unkempt pastures and trees, weather-beaten houses and barns, for the most part unpainted, dilapidated rail fences, poor crops, comparatively no piers or boat landings and a general scene of disinterestedness and decay. On the way we pass the historic Fort Erie, Queenstown and Chippewa, the first two of which are noted for the part they took and the incidents connecting them with the American revolution. It was at Queenstown heights that the American army received a severe drubbing in 1812, and the entire country thereabout saw lively times and many battles that have gone down in history with the early struggle for American freedom.

For several miles before reaching the falls the heavy mist from the falling water, appearing like a cloud rising from the river, can be seen and for a distance of about five miles above the falls the rapids in their mad rush to the falls resemble a seething mass of boiling water, the roar of which is drowned by that of Niagara itself.

Arriving at the falls, though a perfectly clear day, it was raining where our car stopped at the waterworks station on the brink of the falls, it was not rain either, but mist heavy enough to wet a person in a few moments. As soon as the wind changed this was gone and the day was as beautiful as the sight was grand, not only to the uninitiated but likewise to those who have heard the roar of the falls from babyhood to old age. Niagara they say is one place that never grows uninteresting or tiresome. The foaming waters leap from a sheer precipice of rock a distance of one hundred and eighty feet and dashes on the protruding mountains of brown stone in the lower river bed directly underneath. For a possible thirty feet as the water falls it shows a bright green color and from there down, until it is lost in the heavy mist rising from below, a silvery sheen as white as alabaster, beautiful and grand beyond description. The majestic sweep of the river, which is broken into two currents by Goat Island, gives a falling front of probably three quarters of a mile, the falls on the Canadian side being in a direct line of the river channel and curved like a horseshoe with the water falling over the edges on the inside. The other comes around Goat Island and falls directly facing the river and is seen at its best view from the opposite side. For several hundred feet below the falls the waters are a seething mass, even challenging the near approach of the sturdy little tug boats that appear to come almost under the very drop of the falls laden with a heavy freight of pleasure seekers clothed in full suits of heavy rubber overclothes for protection against the heavy mist that continously falls in the lower river and is driven almost with the strength of a tornado by the winds set in motion by the falling waters. On each side of the river elevators have been provided to take visitors to the lower river bed to a ledge-way walk cut in the solid rock and leading under the fall of the water for several hundred feet and to bridge-ways cast out into the rocks along the very edge of the raging torrent where it dashes itself against the rocks. This trip is a thrilling experience, yet a safe and pleasant one under the direction of the guides, a reasonable amount of precaution and a good rubber suit, including half boots and a rubber hood, all necessary to keep from getting soaked to the skin by the sprays dashed about by the wind in such fury. On the American side of the river at this point is the thriving town of Niagara, N. Y., population about one hundred thousand and a great manufacturing center, the power for which is furnished by a comparative trickle from the falls.

Late that Sunday evening we returned to Buffalo and at 11:30 left on our return home by way of Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis.

Buffalo is a city of two hundred and fifty thousand population and the most beautiful city we have ever seen. Most of the streets are of asphalt, level as a floor and it is claimed that Buffalo has a greater mileage of this street than any other city in the world and one street is said to extend for eighteen successive miles with this paving. On each side of every street except in the strictly business portion of the city large maple trees thrive and shade the streets almost entirely from the sun and every house has its lawn and many trees, besides public parks shaded and well kept are most abundant. There was no dust, no hot weather, streets, alleys, houses and everything clean as if they had been gone over minutely every night. From Buffalo to New York City it is five hundred miles and besides the many railroads connecting the two cities, a vast amount of shipping is done over the great Erie canal which runs from Lake Erie at Buffalo to Albany and there connects with the Hudson river direct to New York. Most of the freight on the canal is carried in lighters of thousands of tons burden and are drawn by horses on the bank, a fresh supply of horses always being carried on the lighter or one of the several that may be in a train of them, and changed at regular stations. Occasionally a steam tug may be seen towing a train of these lighters, but it is said this is more expensive though some faster than the more modest use of man's best friend.

While at Buffalo we visited the Erie county penitentiary and for the sum of ten cents each, a charge made for the benefit of the prison library, was escorted through the various works of the prison in which were some seven hundred convicts, counting men and women, none of whom were sentenced to more than one year, those for a longer period being sent to the state prison or Sing Sing. Convict labor and the whipping post has been abolished in New York and hence none of the convicts were at work except those who choose to be, but they were largely in the majority. Everything in the way of wearing apparel from raw leather to ready made shoes and from cotton, wool and hemp to the finished garment, bedding etc., is made in the prison in quantity sufficient to supply all the inmates and almost fully supply the county poor farm. A steam laundry, a mammoth culinary department and a printing office are a few of the accessaries besides the manufacturing plants in operation. When asked what they did for punishment of obstreperous inmates the gentlemanly guard replied that in the first place they put them in a dungeon, if that didn't accomplish the desired results they reduce their fare to bread and water and if more than this was required they had more. The guard did not say what it was and a glance in the act in questioning was sufficient to observe on the guard's face that this was not for the public to know. We also visited the magnificent armory of the Seventy-Fourth New York Infantry, recently designated by the president as a branch of the National Guard.

The exposition itself was one grand succession of scenic splendor, the large buildings of the exposition proper being rare works of architecture and the blend of colors in the make-up enchanted the eye and made one feel as though entering a fairy land of gorgeous and magnificent display, here and there dotted with boquets of cooling fountains lifting their silvery heads toward the heavens and mixed with all the beautiful strains of Bethoven, Wagner, Strauss, Rossini, Schubert and others, masterfully rendered by the celebrated harmonies of Sousa, Liberati, and the First Artillery Band of Mexico, all of deserved international fame. The general as well as the special architectural design of the grounds and the buildings present a pleasant aspect to the eye and the unrivaled display of machinery, manufactures, arts, agricultural products, etc., has never been excelled on the American continent. The World's Fair at Chicago was on a more mammoth scale than the Pan-American, but the visitors to both will unhesitatingly pronounce this as much the finest and still on a magnitude that would tax the energies of a trained pedestrian and connoisuer to even get a cursory view of all there is to see in a month's time.

On the celebrated midway, without which no fair or exposition is now complete, one can wonder as he wills through the native scenes and with the people of the jungles of Africa; of the frozen north with its Esquimaux village; take a trip over the trail to the golden city of Dawson with the hardy pioneer who risked life and health to gain fortune, to the cities and villages, farms and country life in our new possessions of Hawaii and the Philippines; the wild and unbroken west of the old days when the hardy chiefs called their tribes to council for war with the other savages who roamed the prairies and pitched their home as they willed, and in this village may be seen many of the celebrated old chiefs who have heard the weird war cry in all its prestive intensity, and many more of the sons of those even more noted who have passed over the great divide to their happy hunting grounds. If more sombre scenes are wanted they are at hand. A visit to Jerusalem, to Mount Calvary, to the foot of the cross, whereon hangs the lifeless body of the man Christ, with Mary at his feet and the cruel soldiers casting lots for the discarded garments. To the battle of Mission Ridge, where the north and south struggled for the mastery. All of these last named shown on a magnificent canvass with life like colors and light and darkness furnished by harnessed Niagara to give an even more true production of the scenes as they are supposed to have occurred. With many other attractions of this nature, the house up-side down furnishes amusement and variety. Japan and the Orient with her famous jugglers, acrobats and legerdemain performers, Bostock's zoological arena and congress of wild beasts, claimed to be the largest collection of wild animals ever exhibited. Freaks of nature too are not wanting for they have "Chiquita," said to be the smallest human being the world has ever known, even outrivaling Mr. Tom Thumb in this respect. She is a native of Cuba, twenty-six inches in height and weighs twenty pounds. A monkey of the chimpaneze species, exhibited as the missing link between man and monkey, has perfectly formed human hands and feet and is minus a tail, dresses himself in man's garb without assistance except for putting on his shoes and performs many things requiring some degree of human knowledge. The midway is complete in every detail and there is chaste amusement and instruction to suit the taste of all. The "infant incubators" are a part of Midway and are a scientific study which has for several years been receiving the attention of learned scientists. This is an institution designated to save the life of many children yearly born at a premature stage; by the use of this invention, which is necessarily on the scale of a small hospital, children have been received lacking full two months of maturity, placed in one of the many incubators which are glass chambers fitted to provide ample room and purified air and always at a certain temperature and in these live, with the exception of being taken into a larger one for nursing at proper intervals, until they become strong enough to be returned to to their mothers.

The electrical illumination of the buildings and especially of the electrical tower at night is a superb sight well worth the admission so bountifully bestowed by every visitor, none of whom can afford to miss this grand blaze of glory almost rivaling "Old Sol" himself in its brilliancy.

The things we have mentioned are only an infinitismal part of what is presented at the exposition but it will serve to give a slight idea of what the tourist may see at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

One day this week Mr. Hilburn, the clever cashier of the Citizen's National Bank, showed a Progress reporter the new safe just received by the Bank, which is a marvel of strength, durability and ingenuity. It is made of crome steel, the walls are over six inches thick and the door, which is a Mosler screw entrance, is provided with a triple Yale time lock. This is the latest steel safe placed on the market and government experts pronounce it the most secure of anything made against burglars. Tests that have been made under government supervision show that with all the latest safe cracking tools at command and plenty of room in which to work the safe cannot be broken into by experts in less than a full twenty-four hours. Of course under such circumstances it is needless to say that the bank funds and those of depositors are absolutely safe from robbery.

The new currency issued for the Citizen's National Bank has arrived and one day last week the Progress editor called in at the bank and found President F. M. Brown and Cashier Hilburn busily engaged in duplicating the signitures on the crisp new bills of denominations of $10 and $20, and a little boy very busy clipping the bills apart as fast as they were signed. The new bills are beauties and we looked for Mr. Brown to present us with a sheet of them as a souvenir of their opening—but he didn't. He did give us an advertisement however, which can be found in another column, and this helped to smooth the disappointment. New bank bills are always printed in sheets of four or five bills to the sheet and after being signed by the president and cashier they are clipped apart and the edges trimmed.

Bob Brannum reports a very valuable piece of snake property at his farm three miles from Dublin. He says the reptile is of the coach-whip variety, and consequently harmless as to poison. The snake stays about his barn and saves him the destruction of a large quantity of feed by keeping the rats and mice cleared out or almost so. He says the only drawback is that the snake occasionally partakes of a select morsel in the way of a tender young chicken, but that the loss in this respect is comparatively nothing to the saving of feed occasioned by the reptile's propensity for the destruction of rodents.

Mr. A. J. Moore informs us that Mr. Robinson, living on the Cowhouse, happened to a serious accident last Saturday. He and Mr. Powers were rabbit hunting and Mr. Robinson had started home, but after getting out of sight of Mr. Powers he took another direction and Mr. Powers not knowing this, shot at a rabbit and Mr. Robinson, who was behind a thicket from him, received about forty shot in his arm, side and leg. Dr. Boyer dressed the wound, and it is thought that he will get along alright although some of the shot went in so deep they could not be taken out.—Hamilton Journal-News.

Last night all of the prisoners broke out of the Brownwood jail and escaped. By some means they secured a saw or some other instrument of the kind with which they cut out one of the cell bars and got into the run-around and then picked a hole in the rock wall large enough to escape through. None of them have yet been apprehended.—May Enterprise, July 12th.

About the only way the dust on the streets can be successfully coped with during such dry weather is to sprinkle it with crude petroleum. Aside from being a success in effectually settling the dust, in the course of a few months it is cheaper than the use of water for this purpose. Dublin would do well to sprinkle several of the principle streets with oil before the re-union.

J. D. White of the Theny country returned Friday from a weeks trip in Coryell county accompanied by Mrs. P. A. Key, his wife's mother, who will visit with himself and family. He reports the general outlook for crops in Coryell county much worse than in Erath.

The town of Whitney was recently re incorporated for school purposes. Out of over one hundrid votes cast in the election but two were against the measure and these two were later learned to have been cast with a misunderstanding of the issue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ramsey of Midland, have been visiting the last two weeks with Mrs. Ramsey's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Gregory. They will return to their home today accompanied by Miss Etta Gregory.

CROWDS AT EL RENO

Thousands There Seeking Homes in the Kiowa Reservation.

MANY UP ALL NIGHT

They Spend a Sleepless Night Waiting the Opening of the Land Office Want Other Places Made Registration Offices.

El Reno, O. T., July 10.—The failure of the president's proclamation to permit registration at all land offices in Oklahoma has provoked much complaint and action upon the request of Oklahoma City, Perry, Guthrie and other land office towns

It is estimated that 8000 people are already here. Hundreds remained on their feet all Tuesday night waiting for the land office to open.

Delegate Flynn has applied by telegraph to the interior department at Washington, asking that all land offices be given authority to accept registration. His request will be supplemented by telegrams from citizens in the different towns. As the matter now stands, El Reno will be practically the only land office where the homeseekers will assemble, as Lawton, the other town named, is 25 miles from a railway.

Train Packed With People.

Oklahoma City, O. T., June 10.—Nearly 1000 people have left this city for El Reno to register. About 400 left here Tuesday afternoon for that place and the coaches crowded to their utmost capacity. Several hundred people waited at the station until the train came in, when a wild scramble ensued for seats. Women as well as men were booted through the windows of the coaches which were filled almost as soon as the train had stopped. Others stood on the platforms or climbed to the top of the coaches. Every one carried a blanket and provisions. Canteens and jugs were taken along to guard against a water famine.

"NERVE WASTE."

Is the title of a little book (now in its fourth edition) by H. C. Sawyer, the eminent San Francisco physician. It is endorsed by both religious and secular press of the country, strong papers like the Portland Pacific Baptist, Boston Congregationalist, San Francisco Occident, Christain Guardian, Peck's Sun, Cleveland Plaindealer, Baltimore Sun, Providence Journal, etc., etc. Public Opinion of Washington, D. C., says: "Nerve Waste as a title is so suggestive of quacks that even if the book had no other merit than its honesty it would nevertheless deserve mention for that," and adds: "There has probably never appeared on this subject as high-toned, unselfishly written book so nearly commensurate with the too apparent needs." The Occident says; "There are so many quacks and charlatans that many need just such sensible and practical information as Dr. Sawyer gives. We heartily commend his book." The Rochester Herald says: "It should be in the hands of every person who has trouble of this kind, for it is calculated to point the way to relief as unerringly as a physician who would charge many dollars could do."

Hundreds of thousands of men, young and old, are being bled by charlatans and quacks who prey upon their misfortunes, and what is worse they even sell each other the names and addresses of the unfortunates who, if they new more of themselves, would not be bled by the vampires that are growing rich off of them. This book will tell them all about themselves and what to do, and save them from the clutches of the worst class of heartless pretenders this country has yet produced. A sample chapter will be sent, in plain, sealed envelope, for two cents in stamps, that fully explains and carries an average case from beginning to end and gives the formulae for the prescriptions, only the standard drugs to be found in every drug store being used. The book is $1 (in stamps) by mail postpaid, and it is the hope that there will be sufficient sale to justify continuous advertising that will reach and put this book in the hands of every person needing it in the United States.

PHILIPPINE TEACHERS.

War Department Rushing Those Who Have Been Obtained.

Washington, July 10.—Colonel Edwards of the department of insular affairs in the war department is rushing the arrangements for the departure of teachers by the transport Thomas for the Philippine islands. Up to date the department has completed arrangements for the sailing of 560 persons on the Thomas on July 23.

Prof. Atkinson, who is at the head of the educational work in the Philippines has made most of the appointments directly, but in doing so he has sent through the insular bureau invitations to the leading colleges, universities and normal schools of the country for recommendations. The salaries of the teachers will range from $75 to $125 per month and before starting they will sign contracts for three years.

The Indian office has cooperated to a certain extent with the war department in obtaining teachers and six of the best instructors in the Indian service have accepted places and will go to the Philippines. They have been selected in the belief that their experience with the Red men of the west fits them peculiarly for dealing with the Filipinos.

In the insular bureau a sample of the text books which will be used in the islands has just been exhibited. It contains a 3000-word history of the United States, the constitution and declaration of independence and a map of the country, The pages are printed alternately in Spanish and English.

NOT DECREASING.

The Negro Population in the United States Shows an Increase.

Washington, July 10.—Predictions based on the census of 1890, that the negro population of the United States would gradually decrease in proportion to the total population are not borne out by the statistics of the present census.

The negro population in the United States in 1890 was 11.93 per cent of the total from 13, a decrease from 13.26 per cent in 1890. This year the per cent will be somewhat less than 11, though until the compilating of statistics has been nearly completed it will be impossible to give exact figures. In some of the southern states the negro population is increasing faster in proportion than the white. In the border states there seems to be a little falling off, and in the northern states to which the tide of European immigration flows strongest, the white population is increasing more rapidly, though this does not hold good in some special localities such as cities in which the negro servants, especially in hotels, are rapidly displacing white men and women.

None of them, perhaps, more curious than the latest, relating to the admission of women. The notice announces that 100 places have been reserved for peeresses.

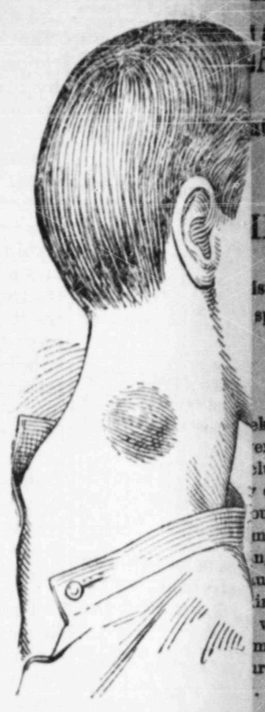

Cotton is Suffering.

Durant, I. T., July 10.—Farmers report the cotton crop in a critical condition on account of the prevailing hot winds. They say there will not be a fourth of a crop of corn raised.

Educational Bill Carried.

London, July 10.—The Salisbury government succeed in carrying its educational bill by the handsome majority of 333 votes against 215.

CARBUNCLES AND BOILS

SYMPTOMS OF BAD BLOOD

There is a popular belief that every boil is worth many times its weight in gold, and the sufferer patiently, even cheerfully, endures the pain under the mistaken idea that these little tormentors are health promoters; that they thin the blood when too thick, and cleanse and cool it when too hot or too rich. On the contrary, boils and carbuncles are evidence of blood poverty, or a fearfully depraved condition of that fluid. There may be no external evidence of bad blood until the warm days of spring set in motion the sluggish circulation and the pent-up impurities, unable to escape through the natural outlets, gather near the surface of the skin, and a Carbuncle or a Boil is the result. When the blood is burdened with undue amount of this impure matter, the Boils come in greater number, eat deeper into surrounding flesh, and, being nearly always located on a bed of nerves, cause intense suffering. Robust and apparently healthy people are subject to Boils, as there is always some hidden agency at work within the blood and system that will undermine the health, but those whose constitutions are broken down by previous illness or other causes, are most often the unhappy victims of Boils and Carbuncles. Here the deadly malaria destroys the red corpuscles and reduces the blood to such a thin watery condition that it succumbs to the boil-producing poisons, and the pale sufferer is continually nursing one or more of these feverish and painful eruptions. A harmless Boil is sometimes the precursor of dreaded Cancer, and too often the best evidence of a deranged condition of the kidneys or chronic liver trouble, brought on by lack of nutritious blood; or it may run into a running abscess or ugly eating sore, causing years of suffering, and often terminating fatally. To seek relief from the inflammation and pain produced by these terrible eruptions through the application of local remedies is natural and right, but this kind of treatment does not prevent others coming, or bring the slightest relief to the diseased and deeply poisoned blood. Only a thorough regeneration and building up of the whole blood can bring about a lasting cure of Carbuncles and Boils and prevent their return.

DANGEROUS CARBUNCLES.

Mr. J. B. Scott, a resident of Hazelhurst, Miss., writes: "S. S. S. cured a malignant carbuncle on my neck which the doctors had been unable to bring to a head. As soon as I began to use S. S. S. I was relieved of pain and the dreadful carbuncle got entirely well. My skin is clear, sound and smooth, and I am well today through using S. S. S. I am 65 years old."

BANEFUL BO

Mr. R. M. Pratt, Can... "For twenty years I wa... boils and carbuncles, ... being unable to work o... doctors treated me and ... ous blood remedies, b... benefit. During the su... was persuaded to try S... bottles cured me entire... had no return of these ...

S. S. S. restores to the old blood all its lost properties, re-invigorating and giving the healthy red color that only pure, fresh blood can have, and through this new blood health and vigor comes to the bodily organs; the skin regains its functions, and impurities of whatever character are thrown up and filtered out of the system in nature's way.

SSS

S. S. S. is made exclusively of roots and herbs, and is famous for their wonderful purifying and tonic properties in all blood poison diseases of all kinds, whether acute or chronic. No matter how long the poison may have been in the blood, S. S. S. removes every vestige of it, thus insuring a faultless circulation and health.

Those subject to boils or any skin eruption, old sores or ulcers, are asked to write physicians all about their disease, and any information or advice wanted will be given freely and promptly given without any cost to the patient whatever. A valuable book on Blood and Skin Diseases sent free.

There was considerable uneasiness among many of the citizens and some left the city.

HUNTING A WHEAT SHEAF.

Famous Painter Finds His Ideal In a Field Near El Reno, O. T.

Wichita, Kan., had a new sort of visitor the other day, a man who was hunting an ideal sheaf of wheat, worth on the market about 10 cents, but which this visitor expects to make worth $500, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The visitor was A. Montgomery, the famous corn painter of Bloomington, Ills. He just happened to stop in Wichita. In going down to Oklahoma in search of the sheaf mentioned he got a glimpse of Wichita and resolved then that as he returned he would drop off and see what manner of city was located here. The child's body is burned almost to a crisp.

But of the sheaf. For some time Mr. Montgomery has had an order for a painting of a sheaf of wheat. He heard of the wonderful wheat crop of Oklahoma and Kansas and so set out to get a gorgeous example that he might do the subject complete justice. He went as far south as El Reno and secured the desired sheaf there.

Powerful New Telescopes.

Two new telescopes are being constructed at the Yerkes observatory at Chicago. One is a two foot horizontal reflecting glass of 165 feet focal length, and from it much is expected, says the New York Times. Images of the heavenly bodies will be brought into physical laboratories, where delicate imstruments which are useless in the open dome can be employed. The other telescope will have a 60 inch mirror, which will collect more than twice as much light as the objective of the 40 inch Yerkes telescope. In solar research it is now claimed the facilities of this observatory surpass those of any other in the world.

In Kansas the Corn Crop Shrivelling up and Oats a Failure.

Topeka, July 10.—The hot weather in Kansas continues with no immediate prospect of relief. Corn is fast shrivelling up. The oat crop is worse than a failure and hay is scarcer than for years.

DEADLOCK IN CHINA.

Great Britain and Russia Disagree As to the Indemnity.

CHINA IS WILLING.

Ministers Say the Governments Are Responsible—Li Hung Chang Is Anxious to Have the Matter Settled Very Soon.

Pekin, July 17.—The ministers of the powers admit that the prospect for the speedy conclusion of negotiations is growing more and more doubtful. The situation is most serious, as the deadlock has continued for more than a month. The meeting arranged for Tuesday was postponed because it was apparent that the proceeding would be fruitless.

It was at the meeting of July 11, that the ministers reached something in the nature of an agreement as to the indemnity. But almost immediately a radical difference developed between Great Britain and Russia as to the details of the presentation of the payment. Then the ministers were in accord with the scheme early in June, subject to the approval of their governments. Now Great Britain disapproved the arrangement on the ground they did not adequately protect her commercial interests.

The neutral ministers assert that either Great Britain or Russia must make material concessions before a conclusion of the agreement is possible. Meanwhile the committees of the ministers are working upon comparatively unimportant details, such as improvements in navigation, but if the financial question was settled the negotiations could be closed in a day.

Li Hung Chang keeps sending strenuous requests to the ministers of the powers to present a complete plan. He represents that China is willing to accept any reasonable terms and is chiefly anxious to know definitely what the powers require, so that she may begin compliance with the terms.

The ministers regard newspaper accusations of procrastination on their part as exceedingly unjust. The governments, and not the ministers, are responsible, the ministers say, for the deadlock.

Man in Disguise.

Little Rock, July 17.—A Texas detective arrived a few days ago in Kings neighborhood, Madison county, and placed under arrest a supposed young woman who had been teaching a private school in the neighborhood for some time. It is said that he was a pleasing engaging person and that the young men of the community had got into a great rivalry on his account. No one had suspected the deception. When arrested he had on his person $3000 in money carried in his belt.

FALSE REPORT.

There Was No Collision at Wybark, Ark., As Reported From Parsons, Kas.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas officials allege and they show official reports to prove that the accident was simply a collision between a local freight and a repair train on a bridge, as stated, that an engine and seven cars were derailed, one span of the bridge was badly damaged and that Engineer Morris and an unknown colored tramp were slightly injured.

The bridge is located around a sharp curve which prevented Engineer Rouser from seeing the burning bridge before he was right on it. CONSTIPATION

It is surprising how many people there are who allow themselves to become and remain constipated. They apparently do not know that this condition poisons the entire system. Not immediately of course, but after a little time as the poisonous impurities accumulate they attack the vital organs and undermine the constitution. As a result, the victim becomes pale, hollow-eyed and sallow, the breath is foul, the head aches frequently, the strength slowly declines and the once strong, active body becomes weak and nervous.

Prickly Ash Bitters

is a cleansing tonic and restorative just suited to such conditions. It is a genial stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels, purifies the system thoroughly and invigorates the kidneys, conveying strength and new life to the whole internal organism. Under its marvelous reviving influence there is at once a brightening up in body and brain, renewed energy, strength, vim and cheerfulness.
