Prohibition Branded As Failure By Staunch Dry

John D. Rockefeller Urges Repeal For Good Of Nation

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 6.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., lifelong and staunch advocate of temperance, tonight branded the eighteenth amendment a failure and urged that it be repealed.

He expressed an earnest hope a repeal plank, providing ratification by state conventions, would be incorporated in both the Republican and Democratic platform, "thus taking the question out of the field of partisan politics."

Hoped For Success

"When the eighteenth amendment was passed," he said, "I earnestly hoped, with a host of advocates of temperance, that it would be generally supported by public opinion, and thus the day be hastened when the value to society of men with minds and bodies free from the undermining effects of alcohol would be generally realized.

"That this has not been the result, . . . I have slowly and reluctantly come to believe."

In a dramatically-worded letter to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Mr. Rockefeller told the president of Columbia university "my position may surprise you, as it will many of my friends."

Always A Teetotaler

"I was born a teetotaler; all my life I have been a teetotaler on principle," he added.

He said neither he, nor his father and grandfather had ever tasted a drop of intoxicating liquor.

He told of his family's long fight for temperance and their hope that prohibition would succeed.

Rockefeller then related how his mother and his grandmother were "among those dauntless women of their day, who, hating the horrors of drunkenness, were often found with bands of women of like mind, praying on their knees in the saloons in their ardent desire to save men from the evils that so commonly sprang from those sources of iniquity."

Contributed To League

He told how both he and his father had supported the anti-saloon league, contributing since 1900 a total of $350,000 to its work.

He said he had hoped, when the eighteenth amendment was adopted, that it would be generally sup-

"Tommyrot And Malicious Gossip," Ejaculates John Arledge In Defense Of Hollywood's Morals; Visits In Lubbock

By GORDON WEBB
Avalanche Staff Writer

"TOMMYROT," ejaculated Movie Actor John Arledge here Monday night. "All tommyrot and malicious gossip."

Arledge, 25-year-old feature Fox player from Crockett, Texas, had been asked if reports of Hollywood immorality were true. Without hesitation the handsome young actor exploded another of beam-blinded and mote-conscious America's choicest myths.

Enroute from California for a several weeks' visit with his mother, Mrs. Sallie Arledge of Crockett, Arledge and his friend, George Kennedy of Los Angeles, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Jordan, 2023 Main street. They were to leave at daybreak Tuesday.

Lubbock theater-goers May 20 and 21 saw Arledge as Ramon Novarro's roommate in "Huddle" at Lindsey. He also has appeared in "Heartbreak," "Careless Lady," and "Daddy Long Legs."

"There is no more corruption in Hollywood than anywhere else," Arledge told the Morning Avalanche. "Hollywood is the object of all eyes, it is in the limelight. Those are reasons

Hoover Signs $1,118,500,000 Revenue Measure Less Than Two Hours After It Passes Final Legislative Test

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 6—The biggest collection of taxes ever enacted by the United States in peace time becam law with a scratch of President Hoover's pen at 5 p. m. this afternoon while the senate plunged ahead with the national economy bill, needed to finish the budget balancing task.

The chief executive signed the $1,118,500,000 revenue measure less than two hours after it passed its final legislative test with senate approval of the conference report reconciling differences in the measure as passed by the senate and house.

Senate Accepts Bill

By a vote of 46 to 35, the senate accepted the bill in its final form after a sharp debate in which an unsuccessful effort was made to have it sent back to conference for revision of a section imposing a three per cent tax on electrical energy to be paid by the consumer.

Controversial throughout its career, the tax bill in its final day on capitol hill was the center of a stormy debate in which charges were made that members of congress were influenced by the desires of the power companies.

Measure Speeded

To speed the measure to the White House and start the revenue flowing into the treasury as soon as possible the senate took time off from its work on the $238,000,000 economy bill.

During the debate, Senator Robinson of Indiana, referring to the power companies, said "for some reason or other they have a tre-

Her brother, Walter Wages, Jersey City, said she still had hope her husband is alive, believing he may have brought his red monoplane down on the wastes of Iceland sometime Saturday and been unable as yet to communicate his whereabouts.

Hausner took off at 7:46 a. m. (central standard time) Friday and never has definitely reported after that although a plane believed to have been his passed over Sydney, Nova Scotia, early that evening.

Confidence Times Have Turned Toward Prosperity Expressed In Resignation; Acceptance Is Given Monday

BY SAM B. BLEDSOE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Expressing confidence the times have turned toward prosperity, Charles G. Dawes, today resigned as president of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to go back to his Chicago bank.

President Hoover accepted his resignation, effective June 15.

In keeping with his character, word that he had quit came as a surprise and started immediate speculation.

Letter Made Public

The letter of resignation made public at the White House, however, reminded he had taken the job of directing the huge relief organization, with the understanding he would be relieved when its work was properly established.

The news he had quit was coincident with the information Presi- 500,000 revenue bill. That there was dent Hoover had signed the $1,118,- a relation between the two incidents was plain as Dawes indicated strongly he had been waiting for the measure to complete its long legislative journey before resigning to devote his time to personal affairs.

Made A Sacrifice

It was known that the outspoken and able financier took the place at a heavy personal sacrifice, he quit as ambassador to Great Britain last winter to go back to the Central Trust company of Chicago, an institution with which he has been associated many years.

Recovery Odds Still Against Earl Thornton

Wife Of Wounded Man Tells Of Differences But Says They Are Settled; Woman Fails In Suicide Effort

A week of what his wife termed "partial separation" is ended and Mrs. Earl Thornton is attending her seriously wounded husband at Lubbock sanitarium. Odds for recovery last night still were against Thornton, 27, who purportedly shot himself in the chest Sunday night, but he was resting as "well as could be expected."

Comely Mrs. Thornton attributed her husband's act to several things, including separation; but now "he really wants to get well, and he thinks he will. That will help him."

Had Often Brooded

Her husband, she said, had been in ill health and his ice station has not been any too prosperous "during this cool weather. And he often broods a lot."

"His first words to me were about his getting well," Mrs. Thornton said. Mr. and Mrs. Thornton have been married six years. About a week ago, Mrs. Thornton began staying with her mother, Mrs. J. J. Oslin, 2401 Twenty-Fourth street, the former said.

Differences Settled

Every difference between Mr. and Mrs. Thornton is "settled now," the wife said.

He was wounded in the upper part of a lung by a .38 caliber pistol bullet, officers said.

There was another purported attempted suicide last week-end, a frail young married woman attempting to hang herself at her parents home in the 700 block of

Murray Again Sends Troops To Red River

Much Exercised Military Arm Of Oklahoma Governor Goes Into Action With Decision Of Federal Judge

Bridge Kept Open

"I Don't Care What They Do," Says Wild Bill And Orders His National Guardsmen To Take Up Positions

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 6.—The much exercised military arm of Oklahoma's governor, William Henry Murray, reached out again today to embrace the Red river crossing into Texas.

With another defy at what he calls "inferior federal courts," Murray re-established a military patrol at the free bridge south of Durant, thus renewing last summer's "war of the bridges," promptly upon hearing that Judge John C. Pollock at Kansas City, Kas., had ruled against Oklahoma in the drawn out litigation with owners of a parallel toll bridge.

Will Remain Open

Informed that Judge Pollock had overruled Oklahoma's motion to dismiss an injunction suit brought by the receiver for the Red River Bridge company, of Texas, seeking the closing or control by the company of the free bridge, Governor Murray asserted:

"The free bridge will be kept open until the supreme court of the United States decides otherwise, Judge Pollock notwithstanding."

He immediately ordered Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett to re-establish a military patrol at the bridgehead and within ten minutes Lieut. Col. John MacDonald, 180th infantry, was rounding up a small unit of guardsmen at Durant. Four men of Company E accompanied Colonial MacDonald to the bridgehead and bivouacked for an indefinite tour of patrol duty.

"I don't care what they do about that toll bridge, but I am concerned with keeping that free bridge

Lubbock Jury Finds Man Of Unsound Mind

Hockley County Cotton Picker Declares That He Is Sane; Says He Wishes To Go Ahead With Murder Trial

Case Is Unusual

Held For Ax-Slaying Of Aged Man Near Whitharral Early In February; Had Attempted Suicide In Jail

A frequently used defense of men accused of murder was reversed in 99th district court Monday when E. R. Neagle fought—and lost—in a sanity hearing. The Hockley county cotton picker, 36, charged with an ax-murder, contended he was sane and desired to go to trial for the slaying of B. F. Driggars, 74.

The jury, after deliberating less than an hour, found Neagle of unsound mind and held that he should be placed under restraint.

Says Mind Is Sound

"Sure, I want to be found sane," the slight, overall- clad defendant said while the jury was out. "I want to go ahead with the trial." He indicated he would plead self-defense.

"My mind is sound. Sure," he explained in a hesitant undertone. The muscles around his thin lips twitched. Neagle was pale from confinement since February 2, when Driggar's head was bashed in with the blunt side of an ax-head near Whitharral. Deep scars showed above Neagle's white shirt collar. He slashed his throat with a razor blade while he was held at Levelland.

"I weighed 122 before it happened," he said. Evidently Neagle has lost weight. His blue eyes appeared sunken in his head, and his dark, bushy hair contrasted strangely with his white complexion. He was not wearing a tie.

In Unusual Roles

Yesterday afternoon's courtroom drama placed Burton S. Burks, the prosecutor, and Carl Ratliff and John H. Wood, defense counsel, in unusual roles.

Burks, assistant district attorney, filed an affidavit that Neagle was of unsound mind. In the hearing Ratliff of Levelland and Wood of Amherst opposed the state's contention that their client was insane. Weldon Johnson, Hockley county attorney, aided Burks.

Dr. W. L. Baugh, county physician, who had treated Neagle since the defendant was brought here, his throat cut to the hollow, declared on the witness stand that Neagle was "low in mentality and vitality." He said that the defendant on several occasions had re-

One Killed, Three Injured As Quake Shakes Wide Area On Pacific Coast

(By The Associated Press)

EUREKA, Cal., June 6. — An earthquake shook the coast region from Klamath Falls, Ore., to San Francisco early today, bringing death to a woman, injuries to three other persons and damage to numerous buildings in this vicinity.

Four shocks at about 12:40 a. m. in rapid succession toppled chimneys, broke water mains, and crockery here, and razed several shacks in Arcata, seven miles away. Residents compared it to the shock of 1906 which resulted in the destruction of San Francisco by fire.

A chimney, torn loose by the quake, crashed through the roof of a residence, fatally injuring Mrs. Walter Mocutcheon and causing less serious hurts to her husband and small daughter. The other known victim was a bakery employe whose wrists were broken when the shocks brought two bread trays together.

Klamath Falls, 155 miles north of here, reported the quake was "very strong." It was felt in some parts of San Francisco. Redding, Cal., 85 miles east of Eureka, reported it severe.

Promise Of Two June Weddings Is Given At Affairs Here On Monday

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

IT is a regrettable thing that some people regard public property as a thing to be destroyed or, at least, defaced.

The story in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal in which J. Y. Boyd, county auditor, decries the trampling of grass on the court house lawn is a reminder that local people are among the offenders.

In a country where trees and grass need care in order to make grounds beautiful, Lubbock's county court house lawn becomes one of the beauty spots of the city and a place to which people look with pride. That lawn has been developed and maintained during the last few years through the efforts of county officials. It has cost considerable money and citizens should have enough pride to help keep the place beautiful.

Although Mr. Boyd may know more about the cost of upkeep and the general care of that lawn than any others of us, the plot is no more his than ours and he should have no more general interest in keeping it beautiful. Any citizen should feel that he has a part in the town and that he has a responsibility in keeping it beautiful. He, too, should look with pride on those acres of trees and grass and help in keeping things as they are.

Most people here know what a task it is to keep grass growing under locust trees because there are few people who have lived here any length of time who have not had the experience of attempting to get it done. Black locusts, which have been one of the most popular trees in this section, sap the ground and cast a heavy shade so that ordinary grasses refuse to grow underneath. Special seed have to be planted to grow in these shady spots and considerable watering and other care is required.

These things make the court house lawn all the more attractive because of the number of trees there.

Mr. Boyd or any other official should not need to lament the trampling of this lawn. Citizens should feel pride in helping to keep it beautiful.

THE OTHER PESTS

THIS is a good time, too, to mention the people who insist on cutting across private lawns and wearing paths.

Some citizens have so much trouble with these pedestrians that they have to put fences around corners to keep people off or else fight the worn place continuously.

Even when we are in a hurry, most of us should be willing to turn a square corner in order to protect some other citizen's lawn. Lubbock people are growing more conscious of beautification than they have ever been. There are more beautiful lawns, more pretty flower gardens—and this year more vegetable gardens—than in any past year. All of these spots require daily watering and other care. When a man or woman is willing to spend money and time creating a beauty spot, the rest of us should enjoy the plots with the owner and lend such co-operation as we can in helping preserve them.

IT IS DONE

JUST to show you how some are taking advantage of the depression to produce less, maple trees in various eastern and midwestern states are yielding less sap than usual this spring.

AN EXAMPLE

UP in Wisconsin the other day, a thing happened that might profitably be repeated in other states and might cause a slump in crime.

A young man shot and killed his wife at 8:30 o'clock in the morning because she insisted on getting a divorce. By noon he was eating lunch with prisoners at the state farm under a life sentence for his crime.

Such speed on a few other murderers over the country might cause some people to think a time or two before they start shooting. In most instances, even when there is no doubt about who has committed the crime, litigation drags on for months or years, juries make decisions on the strength of their emotions and without regard for facts, people forget what the thing is all about, and eventually the criminal is sent back into society.

A few more speedy convictions and actual convictions and crime might find a different status in modern life.

THE MOST INEXPENSIVE WAY TO USE LONG DISTANCE IS TO CALL "STATION-TO-STATION" AFTER 8:30 P. M.

X marks the spot

where a telephone is needed

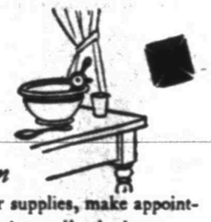

In the bedroom

An extension telephone is handy for calls at night . . . when you're ill, or sleeping late. Gives protection in emergencies.

In the living room

An extension telephone is convenient for family and guests. A mark of a well-appointed home.

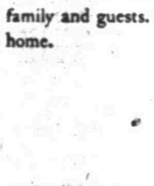

In the kitchen

Answer calls, order supplies, make appointments from an extension wall telephone . . . without leaving your work.

Perhaps your telephone is now in one of these rooms. But you will find that an extension telephone in one or both of the other locations will save a surprising amount of time and steps, make home life more comfortable. The cost of an extension telephone is only a few cents a day. Call the telephone business office.

Can they find YOUR name in the telephone book?

Every telephone subscriber is entitled to one listing in the telephone directory. A business telephone listing is usually the name of the firm, a residence telephone listing the name of the head of the family.

But in almost every business there are salesmen and members of the firm who should have their own names in the directory. Some persons look for the name of the firm, but others look for the name of the individual they know.

In many households there are relatives whose names are different from that in which the telephone is listed. Such individuals will find it a great convenience to have their own names in the directory.

The extra cost of an additional listing is small:

Business . . . . . 25c a month
Residence . . . . . 25c a month
(Approximate actual)

Telephone friends in AMARILLO for 40 cents after 8:30 p. m.

"How are you?"

"How's Tom's business?"

"Are you going away this summer?"

"Coming to see us?"

"Is everybody well?"

"When is Jimmy's birthday?"

FAIR samples of questions you can ask or answer in a friendly long distance call . . . that gives both sides of a conversation, at once.

Few people like to write letters. Before you realize it, weeks and months have slipped by . . . friends (and families, too) have drifted apart. And it really isn't necessary, nowadays, when long distance telephoning is so easy, so pleasant, and so inexpensive.

Suppose tonight you'd lift your receiver and ask "long distance" to connect you with the telephone of some out-of-town friend or relative whose voice you'd like to hear. Can't you imagine the thrill of surprise . . . the pleasure you'd both get from an actual conversation. (Chances are they'd forget all about that letter you've owed so long.)

We hope you do place the call. If you haven't used long distance for some time, you'll be surprised how clearly you can hear. Just like telephoning to someone a block away.

Rates are low, too . . . especially if you call "station-to-station" after 8:30 p. m. Here are some examples:

From	To	For
Lubbock	Abilene	50c
Lubbock	Dallas	80c
Lubbock	Mineral Wells	65c
Lubbock	Waco	85c

(Station-to-station rate after 8:30 p. m.)

"Miss Long Distance will be glad to give you the rate to any other point, whether you wish to place a call or not. Ask for the night "station-to-station rate." Night rates apply from 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m.

Six Reasons for having a telephone

If you haven't a telephone, we believe you're missing a lot of satisfaction, to say the least. And emergencies do come. At such times a single telephone call may be priceless.

For only a few cents a day, you can have a telephone of your own. No more trips to the neighbors, or the corner store. Call the telephone business office.

"They're opening the plant again? . . . Sure I'll be there!"

"Please change my appointment to Thursday."

"The train is 40 minutes late . . . I'll wait for them."

"Why yes, I found your keys on the dresser."

"Where are you now? . . . well, go two blocks east to the boulevard, then south."

"Please hurry, doctor. We're worried about him."

Three Brooklyn Pitchers Give Up 21 Bingles As Hard Luck Hits Dodger Offense; Chuck Klein Gets 14th Homer

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Back at their home park, the Phillies today plastered a 15-7 defeat on the Brooklyn Dodgers in the only game played in either major league.

Joe Shaute, Babe Phelps and Lefty Heimach all felt the wrath of the Phillie bats, which manufactured 21 hits, including Chuck Klein's 14th home run, and piled up 14 runs in the first five frames.

Hack Wilson

Phil Collins, meantime, had the visitors baffled until the sixth inning, when the first of Hack Wilson's two home runs brought in a pair of tallies. The next inning saw Dodgers score five more runs as Wright, O'Doul and Wilson hit for the circuit and also saw the last of Collins. Ray Benge hurled scoreless ball from there on.

Hack Wilson's two four-baggers were his 9th and 10th of the season and gave further indication the pudgy slugger is regaining his 1930 form.

Don Hurst, big first baseman, led the Phillies assault with four singles and a walk in five trips and scored four runs. Mallon, Klein, Whitney and eGorge Davis contributed three hits apiece, Whitney driving across four runs.

Meadowbrookers Win Over Slaton

Fighting heavy wind, sand- and rain-storms, golfers of the Lubbock Meadowbrook club defeated the Santa Fe club golfers of Slaton, 14 to 8 Sunday over the Meadowbrook course. It was the only South Plains League game played Sunday.

The wind and rain was too much at the Lubbock Country club and a scheduled match between Lubbock and Littlefield was postponed. Only a few matches were started and these did not progress far until weather called a halt. The match probably will be played here one day this week, and all matches will revert back to their starting points, Secretary John Edmisson said.

Holmes Shoots Low

Billy Holmes, No. 1 man on the Meadowbrook team, fired a 73—three over par—for medal honors in yesterday's lone league encounter. He defeated Lewis of Slaton, 3 to 0, according to the point system of scoring, by taking the first nine holes, the second nine and the eighteen.

Sid Thrash of Lubbock conquered Roland Anderson of Slaton, 3-0. Thrash shot an 85 and Anderson had an 88.

Lyle Holmes, of Lubbock and Ferrell of Slaton tied their match, each winning a point. Holmes had a 79 and Ferrell a 77. Ferrell won the first nine, one up, and Holmes took the second, 2 up.

Neal Vanzant shot an 82 to defeat Nicholson of Slaton on one nine and the eighteen, 2 to 1. Medal scores were close, Nicholson taking an 84.

J. A. Reynolds of Slaton took a 2 to 1 decision over Bob Harvey of Meadowbrook. Reynolds shot an 82.

Lockhart of Meadowbrook took a 3 to 0 victory over Claude Anderson, the former shooting a 74, second low score of the day, to Anderson's 81.

Jim Shaw and Ramsey split even, each winning a nine, but Shaw's 89 for the round bettered Ramsey's 91.

Carter of Slaton swept his match with Howard Hunt, 3 to 0. Hunt took high scoring honors with a 102. Carter shot an 86.

LONGVIEW, June 6.—The Longview Cannibals defeated the Houston Buffs 1 to 0 here this afternoon in the opening game of a short series.

Forrest Pressnell held the slugging Buffs to four hits and was in trouble only on three occasions, pitching out of each expertly.

Longview scored the only run in the first inning when Moss was touched for singles by Bejma, Garms and Puss.

The game was played in one hour and fifteen minutes.

BUCCANEERS 11; SPORTS 0

TYLER, June 6. (AP)—Hammering the offerings of Milt Steengrafe on the mound for Tyler all over the lot, the Galveston Buccaneers won 11 to 0 in a one-sided slugfest here today. The Tyler team failed to tally a single time and only gathered seven hits off Preacher Thurman of Galveston.

The Bucs gained headway for their victory in the third when McGhee banged out a homer with Governor and Allen aboard.

Steengrafe started slab duty for Tyler but was relieved by Lefty Willis after one down in the fifth. Three runs already had been scored in that inning and one was on base.

Willis had a bad inning in the seventh, allowing four hits and three runs. An error by Long, Tyler catcher, let in a run at the plate.

The Sports displayed the raggedest ball they have played since making Tyler their home three weeks ago.

The teams will play a double header tomorrow, which will be "George Washington day" celebrating the slugging centerfielder's return to the lineup. A large number of Cass county citizens is expected here. Washington is from Atlanta, Texas, and has been out of the line more than a week nursing a bruised hand.

American Trio Looks Good In British Round

Sarazen, Mac Smith And Tommy Armour Shoot Fine Golf To Qualify In British Open At St. George's Links

SANDWICH, Eng., June 6. (AP)—A. R. Bradbeer, youngest of seven English brothers, shot a 70 over the St. George's course to lead an international field of 236 competitors today in the first qualifying round of the British Open championship.

Arthur Havers, the only native son of Britain who has been able to win the title in the past ten years, scored a 71 over the much longer and stiffer Prince's course, where half the field battled while the remainder toured St. George's. Over the easier layout, Archie Compston, the blonde giant of the British links, tied Havers for second place with a machine-like 71.

Seven professionals turned in cards of 72. Among eight who shot 73's were two of the three American professionals the British fear most—Gene Sarazen, former United States open champion, and Mac Smith, medalist at Carnoustie last year. Both shot fine golf over the par 74 Prince's course while Tommy Armour, defending champion, played easily to get his 75 at St. George's, where par is only 22.

The American trio switch courses for the second and final qualifying round tomorrow, in fine strategical position at the heels of the leaders. The low 100 and ties continue into the first 18 of the championship proper Wednesday, with the low 60 playing the second round Thursday and final 36 Friday.

Henri Cochet Is French Champion

ANTEUIL, France, June 6. (AP)—Henry Cochet shelled George De Stefani of Italy, off the courts today to win the French tennis singles title and in so doing served notice he is in top shape for defense of the Davis cup.

The little French ace defeated de Stefani, 6-1, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 and kept for France a title no foreigner ever has won.

It was Cochet's fifth French singles title, a crown he, Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra have kept among themselves since the French championships were thrown open to all comers in 1925. Cochet has won it four times in the past eight tournaments, Lacoste three times and Boratra once. Cochet's first victory was scored in 1922 when it was closed to Frenchmen.

Mangrum, Butler and Hogan were among the money winners in the winter tournaments this year. All three have been shooting great golf and will be among the favorites. Mangrum burned up the course today with a 69, two under par.

Golf STARS as the play it

by ART KRENZ

One of "Long Jim" Barnes theories is that the clubhead should be traveling at its greatest speed just as it comes into the ball.

This speed is acquired by gradually accelerating the downspring, and is aided by a forward snap of the wrists in the path the hands are traveling just before the clubhead meets the ball.

Attemp to attain the maximum speed with the clubhead at a spot a few inches in front of where the ball is teed. This is known as "hitting through the ball," and is common in the play of the leading stars.

Olton Loses To Hubbers Sunday

A home run by Bill Davidson, Lubbock High school star athlete and pitcher on the Lubbock Alley Rat baseball club, drove in Weldon Champan and Hollis Payne, who had singled, and paved the way to a 7 to 6 victory by the Lubbock Hubbers over the Olton nine Sunday afternoon at Merrill Park.

The game was part of a double header scheduled for Sunday. In the second game, the Alley Rats defeated Abernathy's town team, 11 to 4, with Stewart pitching.

Young Thompson, another Alley Rat club member, pitched for the Hubbers yesterday in the first game and allowed nine hits while he was striking out ten batsmen.

Chapman, first up in the second after neither side had scored in the first, slammed out a single. Payne followed with another and Davidson lifted one over the left field fence. Fuller was pitching for Olton. Second Baseman Nelson was hit, Thompson struck out and Bettes singled. Both Nelson and Bettes followed up with runs as the bat went around.

The Hubbers scored once in the sixth and again in the eighth. Olton scored in the third after Thompson had shut the visitors out in the first two Shotten, Burrus, Dickson and Richards crossed the plate in the dangerous third. Dickson scored again in the fifth and Jones, catcher, tallied in the ninth but the rally fell short.

Cliff Sutter Wins Pair Of Matches In National Play

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 6. (AP)—Cliff Sutter, New Orleans, moved easily through two matches today to reach a round ahead of the field in the first day's play of the national clay courts tennis championship.

His brother, Ed Sutter took the first match of the tournament from Johnny Lippitt, Memphis, 6-1, 6-0.

Cliff Sutter, seeded number 2, next to George Lott, Chicago ace, took a second round match from Elim Hastings, Tulsa, 6-3, 6-0, and came back later in the afternoon to eliminate John D. Muse, Jackson, Tenn., 6-1, 6-0, in a third round encounter.

Lott took the measure of Evan Fellman, Memphis product, 6-2, 6-1.

A FRANK CONFESSION

—A STATEMENT BY THE GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY

THE Gillette Safety Razor Company feels called upon to make a confession and a statement that are undoubtedly unique in the annals of American business. It is with deep regret and no little embarrassment that we do this in order to tell you frankly what actually happened when we introduced a new Gillette razor and blade.

Soon after this was done, we found that, although the great majority was pleased, some users complained quality was not up to standard.

We learned why. Our equipment had not been equal to the task of producing millions of blades at high speed without a certain variation in quality that affected a small portion of our output. As a result some blades that left the factory were not as good as you had a right to expect. Immediately we directed our principal effort toward the achievement of uniformity. Everything within our power was done to end variation. More than this—impossible as it seemed of accomplishment at the time—we set out to develop or find a better production process, having as a major requirement the elimination of varying quality.

We discovered and purchased for our exclusive use and at the cost of millions of dollars a manufacturing process that was amazingly superior to our own.

By this method, modern and automatic, millions of blades can be made at top speed without variation in quality.

We incorporated refinements of our own invention and installed the new machinery, throwing out all of our old equipment.

Now we announce today's Gillette blades, made by the new management. The usual superlatives have no place in this sincere statement of ours, so we will let the quality of the blades speak for itself. The green Gillette package remains unchanged, but the blades are new in every respect, quality, performance, and method of manufacture.

The Gillette Blue Super-Blade

The $2 Kroman De Luxe blade has been withdrawn from production. We offer the Blue Super-Blade as its successor. This sensational blade is far superior to the Kroman and costs considerably less. You pay only a few cents more than for the regular blade and get unmatched shaving comfort. Its extraordinary shaving performance will convince you that the Blue Blade is the sharpest ever produced. A blue color has been applied to the blade for easy identification. It is contained in a blue package. Cellophane wrapped.

You can try today's Gillette blades without risking a cent. If you don't agree they are superior, return the package and your dealer will refund your money. Our reputation depends upon the proof of these claims. Being absolutely certain of the quality of these Gillette blades, we do not hesitate to make this statement over our signature.

Alcohol And Ship Seized By Agents

SAN ANTONIO, June 6. (AP)—Two men arrested in McMullen county yesterday in connection with the seizure of an airplane loaded with alcohol were in San Antonio awaiting arraignment before United States Commissioner Paul S. Lockhart Monday.

The pair was arrested by D. S. Connor, of the treasury department, working with the customs service here, after Connor had sighted a plane flying northward from the Rio Grande.

Connor and his pilot followed the ship until it landed in a pasture in McMullen county. Connor arrested the pilot of the ship and a man who was waiting with a load of airplane gasoline, presumably to refuel the ship.

In the ship was 130 gallons of Mexico alcohol in metal containers.

The alcohol and the ship were confiscated.

Right Of Way In Dawson Is Being Sought For Highway

LAMESA, June 6.—There will be hard-surfaced highway across Dawson county within the next 12 or 18 months if a 100-foot right-of-way is furnished by the county to the state highway department, it is reported here. Word comes from the state highway department at Austin that if Dawson county will furnish a right-of-way, 100 feet, on state highway No. 9 and federal highway No. 385, north and south through the county, the state will put in grading and drainage structures sufficient to carry hard-surfacing in the near future. It is hoped that Dawson county will meet this requirement.

An American citizen does not need a passport for direct travel to Mexico and Canada. A certificate of identity will serve instead.

CARLSBAD, N. M., June 6 (Special)—Texas again led all of the states of the union in the number of visitors to enter Carlsbad Caverns during May, leading New Mexico by 210, the Texans representing one third of the total for the month.

Visitors were slightly over six per cent fewer than in May 1931. There were 5,565 this year compared with 5,947 last year.

Forty-three states, the district of Columbia, Hawaii, the Philippines and 14 foreign nations were represented in the home states of the visitors.

By states, they were: Arkansas, 43; Alabama, 17; Arizona, 69; California, 641; Colorado, 198; Connecticut, two; Florida, nine; Georgia, eight; Idaho, two; Illinois, 87; Indiana, 17; Iowa, 33; Kansas, 98; Kentucky, 15; Louisiana, 17; Maine one; Maryland, two; Massachusetts 17; Michigan, 33; Minnesota, eight; Mississippi, 14; Missouri, 118; Montana, four; Nebraska, 19; Nevada, five; New Jersey, six; New Mexico, 1,647; New York, 58; North Carolina, 11; North Dakota, two; Ohio, 52; Oklahoma, 296; Oregon, seven; Pennsylvania, 24; South Dakota, two; Tennessee, 18; Texas, 1857; Utah, four; Vermont, two; Washington, six; West Virginia, two; Wisconsin, 20; Wyoming, eight; Australia, one; British Columbia, one; Central America, one; District of Columbia, 30; England, eight; France, one; Hawaii, eight; Ireland, one; Mexico, six; New Zealand, two; Panama, one; Philippines, two; Samoa, one; South Africa, one; Syria, one; Venezuela, three.

In previous years the totals for May were: 1924, 95; 1925, 181; 1926, 685; 1927, 2059; 1928, 2,143; 1929, 4,002; 1930, 5,839; 1931, 5,947; 1932, 5,565.

Dawson County Planting Is Considered Almost Complete

LAMESA, June 6.—Planting in Dawson county is practically complete, and good stands of the various crops planted are up, according to farmers' reports. Cotton and grain sorghums are looking unusually well, it is reported. The rains fallen during the latter part of April and the early part of May insure sufficient season to get up the crops and give them the hardy start needed. It is estimated Dawson County has little, if any, cotton acreage reduction over 1931. The grain sorghums acreage has been substantially increased, it is believed, and the county as a whole is thought to have gained 5 per cent of the cultivated acreage by the putting in of new lands. The cultivated acreage of new lands in Dawson county is placed at 375,000 acres.

The carpenter bee derives its name from the fact that it excavates its nest in solid wood, in a dead twig, or in the pith hollow of various plants.

College Presidents

FOR the benefit of those thousands of Lubbock and West Texas citizens who are interested in the search of Texas Technological college for a new executive, permit us to remind you that there is not new and never has been an over supply of college presidents. Good ones are scarce—so scarce, in fact, that some colleges and universities are struggling along with second and third rate presidential material, at least until something better turns up.

One might suppose, for instance, that when a vacancy occurred in the position of president at a university of the standing of Princeton many acceptable candidates would present themselves. Instead, Princeton's board of trustees—somewhat on the order of Tech's board—has had to select one of its own members to serve as president until a permanent successor to Dr. John Grier Hibben can be found.

When educators themselves say that 90 per cent of the instructors in American colleges and universities are unequal to the demands upon them, one does not wonder that there is a shortage in good presidential material. There are so few to choose from, and not all good teachers make good college presidents, either.

There was a time when smaller colleges turned to preachers who had proved successful church managers, for their presidents, and prominent educators, lecturers and authors held most of the big university jobs. Today the trend seems to be toward successful business men, who know little or nothing about education, but a great deal about finances and getting the most out of a dollar.

University of Pennsylvania, as an example, has a banker as its president. Temple university elected a business man to succeed Doctor Conwell. University of Missouri chose a former country printer and newspaperman—Walter Williams, who has never yet graduated from college—to take the place of the great Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, simply because Mr. Williams, now a doctor of laws, was its most famous, and probably its most successful faculty member. Harvard went into a law office for a successor to Dr. Eliot.

With these facts in mind it is not surprising that directors of Texas Technological college are still searching for a successor to the late Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn. Neither is their deliberation to be criticized; instead it is to be praised.

Practical Health Problems

CAUSE OF SUMMER DIARRHEA

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two articles by Dr. Fishbein on summer diarrhea in babies. The second will be printed tomorrow.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

AT a time when our infant mortality rates were such as to startle the world, many children suffered severely with diarrhea in the summer. It was soon found that these diarrheas were due in many instances to infections from milk and food supplies. Today the type due to such infections has been brought rather well under control, but there are still many cases from other causes.

In a survey of the subject, Dr. F. C. Rodda points out that diarrheal diseases prevail where bad air, lack of sunshine, and filth interfere with proper hygiene of the human body.

Excessive heat is an important factor, because high temperatures act as depressants. A lowering of body fluid is associated with high temperatures. Moreover, foods in general tend to ferment and spoil quickly.

One investigator found that heat decreased the amount of hydrochloric acid in the secretions of the stomach. This, in turn lowers the ability of the stomach to aid in digestion, permits the development of germs which would otherwise be destroyed, and favors the development of toxic substances due to decomposition.

It has been found that repeated attacks of diarrhea interfere with ability to digest foods. Therefore, the first attack may not be severe, but continuous attacks become more and more difficult to handle, so that the most serious mortality occurs late in the summer and in the early fall.

During the first few days of life the child may have six to 12 actions of the bowel each day without harm. Toward the end of the first week of life there may be frequent actions, which are probably due to the fact the child has not had sufficient food. At such a time the increased feeding will bring about control of the condition.

Under average conditions the digestive system of an infant will tolerate a considerable amount of abuse. However, in hot weather an excess of fat or of sugar in the diet and an excessive amount of roughage may cause a diarrhea.

TOMORROW: What to do for diarrhea in babies.

America, the Patient, Suffers

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 6.—What's the use of analyzing the prescriptions that are being offered for America's economic malaise? The doctors are only guessing anyway. They see the patient's sumptoms but disagree as to their cause. The country at least, if not the doctors, also has reason to worry over the cost of its illness. Even if it recovers, will it not be to find itself ruined by the bill for all the remedies the physicians by that time will have experimented with?

George Huddleston

Representative George Huddleston of Alabama is an economic servant who discusses the present crisis in the nation's case with exceptional candor.

The other day he, a Democrat, joined Senator Bronson Cutting, a Republican, in introducing in the lower house of congress, while Cutting introduced in the upper chamber, a proposal for a $5,000,000,000-program of public improvements for unemployment relief, to be financed by a federal bond issue.

Without entering into any consideration of the plan's merits, it immediately struck me as in line with Cutting's philosophy, but not Huddleston's. Alike they are highly enlightened statesmen but they think differently. Consequently as soon as I could get to the Alabamian's office, I asked him to explain his sponsorship of the measure to me.

"The explanation is that I introduced that bill 'by request'," said the representative clarifyingly.

"The truth is," he continued, "that we are in process of liquidation, the final efforts of which cannot be prevented but only postponed by resistance."

OF COURSE Congressman Huddleston does not contend that the unemployed should be left to starve while liquidation progresses. On the contrary, he has urged all along that a large fund be placed at the president's disposal for direct relief of suffering—but he frankly expresses no faith whatever in what socialists call "made work"—work for the sake of providing jobs.

He did not suggest, but other congressional economists have argued recently, that the pyramids stand as monuments to an attempt to afford unemployment relief by this method in ancient Egypt, which nevertheless appears to have succumbed to its economic ills, among other misfortunes.

Representative Huddleston concedes that public improvements of today are less wasteful than pyramids.

"Still," he says, "there is waste, if we yield, as is inevitable, to the temptation to force matters — by building, for example, a $200,000 post office where a $100,000 edifice would meet all requirements. It amounts to pledging the future at 100 per cent above its asset value.

"Moreover, our aim is to provide jobs, and labor's share in expenditures for public improvements does not exceed an average of 65 per cent of their total.

"Finally, the classes of the unemployed in the direst straits—the unskilled and the white collar element—at best are only indirectly, uncertainly and slowly benefited by constructive activities."

OF "SELF-LIQUIDATING" enterprises, such as President Hoover advocates the Alabaman speaks more favorably—but what are they?

There is no lack of private money, without the necessity of appealing to the government, to finance undertakings which can be depended on to pay their own way, but almost none are being launched now—for the simple reason that the general price trend continues downward, so that investments made at the 1932 index do not promise to yield adequate returns at the probably reduced index of 1933 and thereafter.

Thus any project which the Reconstruction Finance corporation agrees to back forthwith, must be backed by it in disregard of the fact that judicious private capital regards it askance. Obviously this suggests a strong prospect of future loss to the government.

INFLATIONISTS propose to counteract the price decline by getting money in circulation.

This is one object of a large bond issue, and the promotion of public and private improvements; of the Patman plan to print currency in payment of soldiers' bonuses; it was the object of the Glass-Steagall act, and to some extent, of the act establishing the Reconstruction Finance corporation—but as fast as more money has been issued or credit has been expanded, that much more has been gobbled up and hoarded. Technically more money already is in circulation than during the boom period, but it does not circulate—for prices are declining; in other words money's value is increasing, and those who possess it prefer to keep it, confident that it will buy more later.

To be sure, currency can be poured out in such volume as to swamp the hoarders, or the gold standard can be abandoned or semiabandoned—but even the most ardent inflationists are fearful or overdoing matters.

Besides, if Congressman Huddleston is right, ultimate deflation is unescapable; it can be postponed, he says, but not prevented.

AS TO RELIEF—it can be accomplished in either one of two ways:

1. Directly, by the so-called dole.
2. Indirectly, through a more or less forced improvement program.

Humanitarians complain that the dole sacrifices self-respect; incidentally that its cost would be killing. The argument that the dole would sacrifice self-respect may be valid. As for the other contention, good economic authority can be cited in support of the contention that, for every $1 that direct relief would require, from $5 to $7 would be necessary to finance equal results by the indirect method.

That is, it is assumed that direct relief is 100 per cent relief; indirect relief plus present waste and certain loss in the future.

Observers note a gradual fading of Reno from the public eye. It is thought only natural, since the big Roosevelt-Smith political divorce is being heard in the East.

A federal man says it is amazing that people don't recognize counterfeit money as soon as they see it. Maybe it's because they see so little of the genuine.

"Coins" on the Island of Yap consist of heavy stones, some weighing as much as 120 pounds. At would be irksome, dropping around to the quarry all the time for the change of a boulder.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SUSAN CAREY, 20 and beautiful, has become engaged to marry ERNEST HEATH, her former employer. She is secretly in love with BOB DUNBAR, who is said to have "an understanding" with DENISE ACKROYD, a girl of his own set. Heath's wife has just secured a Reno divorce. Susan's chief motive in promising to marry Heath is the desire to provide for the future of her AUNT JESSIE, who has cared for her since childhood. Her aunt is ill now and Heath has arranged to send her south. Susan is staying with the MILTONS, old friends. BEN LAMPMAN, an old suitor, shoots at Heath one night in a fit of jealousy, injuring him slightly. Lampman then turns the gun on himself. After several days of illness the doctor announces that Lampman will recover. Heath takes Susan to the theater.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVIII

The curtain had risen on the first act when Susan and Ernest Heath drifted down the aisle of the theater. More than one head turned to look at the tall girl in the regally simple wrap of brown fur. There were one or two whispers as Heath was recognized. He had forgotten his original caution and desire to avoid publicity in his eagerness to take Susan about. Although impatient for the marriage to take place he had agreed to wait for her aunt's return.

Now, conscious of the craned necks and the whispers, he felt only a glow of pride. The girl was so beautiful! She had a look of race about her.

Susan leaned forward absorbed in the play, and the man watched her with interest. It was not until the curtain dropped again and the lights came on that Susan drew a deep breath and returned to reality.

"You like it?"

"Oh, so much!" The color came up in her cheeks and her eyes were starry. "Don't you?"

"Well, it's all right, only all these British comedies sound alike."

"They may to you but I've never seen one before and I think it's wonderful," she confided with a happy little laugh.

Susan loosened her wrap and leaned back, looking about her for the first time. As by a magnet her gaze was drawn to a little group in the box just to the left. Irresistibly her eyes clung to the three people balancing on the little gilt chairs. Surely she knew that girl in black with her bright hair combed demurely back from a brow of camellia whiteness. Susan's heart plunged as she realized the identity of the fair-haired young man whose head was turned away from her. Try as she might, she could not take her eyes away.

As though impelled by Susan's gaze the man turned and stared at her. For the fraction of an instant something quivered between them. Then the girl inclined her head with dignity and looked swiftly away. Her pulses were racing now. This was just as she had dreamed.

"Someone you know?" Heath asked curiously, noting the quality of her bow.

Susan never knew how she answered him. She was fighting desperately for control. All her hard won defense seemed shattered by this encounter.

Meantime, in the box another little drama was being enacted. The bright haired girl in black had followed the direction of Bob Dunbar's glance and had seen him flush. She laughed coolly.

"Oh—ho, your little friend turns up again!" she said. "Who's that with her?" Denise leaned forward, frankly staring. At the glimpse of Heath's aristocratic profile she whistled softly. "As I live and breath," she muttered, "she's bagged Old Propriety himself!" She saw Bob's spine stiffen and returned with zest to the attack. "Look what she's wearing," she said, enjoying herself thoroughly now. "Sables! Mother said when she was in Madame Elsa's the other day the talk was that old Heath had a girl around town now."

Fiercely Bob interrupted her. "Don't be a fool," he said. "You know Susan Carey isn't that kind."

Denise shrugged. "You know more about her than I do, Smarty." She turned her attention to the other member of the party, a youth who looked like a professional tango dancer.

The dark youth said something that made Denise laugh immoderately just as the curtain rose again. So far as Susan was concerned, that second act was a muddle. People babbled in high British voices of unimportant nothings, and slim, sophisticated girls lounged in, strewing epigrams about.

In her heart the old, dull pain throbbed again and yet she was not sorry she had seen Bob. She had been living, she felt, for this hour. Her whole being was keyed up to the possibility of seeing again that beloved face. She would suffer for it but that was unimportant.

During the second interval Susan determinedly kept her eyes away

Charter Granted Big Corporation

ALBANY, N. Y., June 6. (AP)—A charter was granted today to the $100,000,000 American Securities Investing corporation, formed by leading bankers of New York City to stabilize the bond market.

The purpose of the corporation was outlined in the articles of incorporation, as follows:

"It is intended that the corporation shall engage principally in the business of purchasing and the investing in bonds and debentures, or other obligations which in the opinion of the board of directors have value as investments."

A board of 17 directors was named.

It consists of Thomas W. Lamont, Mortimer N. Buckner, Charles E. Mitchell, Albert H. Wiggin, George W. Davidson, Walter E. Frew, F. Abott Goodhew, Harvey S. Gibson, H. P. Howell, Percy H. Jonston, Lewis Person, W. C. Potter, Jackson E. Reynolds, Albert A. Tilney, John C. Traphagen, Felix M. Warburg, and George Whitney.

It is the intention of the corporation, which was financed by 18 banks and two private banking houses—the outstanding financial institutions of Wall street—to buy bonds and other securities which under present market conditions are judged to be held too cheaply by the public.

CROPS BENEFITTED

DIMMITT, June 6. (AP)—Castro county crops were benefitted Saturday night by a two-inch rain.

Pampa had 2.60 inches of rain over the week end.

rom the box, but just as the lights went off, quite against her will, her yes flashed in that direction. The ox was empty. They had gone. The orld suddenly went gray. What he had expected she scarcely new. Perhaps she had hoped gainst hope that as the well-dress- d throngs milled out into the foyer er shoulder might brush against Bob's. He would look up and smile. erhaps he would shake hands. She ould give everything she owned at his instant to slip her tingling palm nto the grip of his strong fingers. t would be something to remem- er, something to treasure. But now e had gone and she would not see im.

What had happened was this. enise and the Spanish youth had en the play before and Bob, who as raging in his heart at the con- ersation touching Susan, was quite eady to concur in their proposal go on some place and dance. He anted overwhelmingly to hurt meone. Since he could not hurt usan he turned the battery of his rcastic fury upon his two com- anions.

"Look here, if you don't like us know what you can do," she crudely. "Bobby's in a beast of temper," she explained to the her man. "I stepped on his pet rn and he doesn't like it. Rico and want to go places and have fun. you're going to crab the party u'd better get out."

Bob bowed low to her. "That's all t with me," he said elaborate- "That's fine." The door slam- after him.

"If I didn't know he hadn't had drop I'd say he was drunk," Den- muttered, peering after Dunbar he sauntered down the street. e was not far from right. The ung man was drunk with fury d despair. Passers-by turned to re at the tall, hatless youth in ening clothes. One or two timid men scuttled anxiously in the di- tion of a policeman's booth af- he passed. His eyes were wild d he was talking to himself.

Without consciously directing his rse he turned his steps toward theater he had just left. The ht was sharply cold but he was aware of it. As he swung along discovered that he was carry- an object in the curve of his m. He examined it and found it his opera hat. He laughed sud- ly and sailed the thing into the dle of the street where it lay the car tracks.

he neared the building his quickened. The pavement was ted. Perhaps the play was and Susan had gone. Ah, that it! He knew now why he had back. It was for a glimpse of of the girl he had enshrined.

Enshrined! That's good!" he ed aloud, frightening an old ing woman who was trotting homeward. He had thought everything that was good and . In an age when young men med ideals he had built one t this girl.

Manlike, he felt now that he hat- her for having destroyed his m. Nevertheless he had to see . That glimpse of her pearl-pale through crowded aisles had n tantalizing. He did not mean speak to her. He only wanted to nd close enough to see the nward flicker of those long hes, and perhaps to hear the nd of her voice. It was odd how l he remembered everything ut this girl. She had a little trick catching her lower lip in her th. He wanted to see her do that. wanted to look into her eyes in and determine whether they e gray or black. It tormented not to know.

he play was over at last. An ndant came out and hooked the rs open and people drifted out twos and threes.

There was she? Had she, too, d of the comedy and left be- it was over? Dunbar's anger ned to apprehension now. He bowed absently to two or three dowagers waiting for their car. Where was she? He had searched for her for weeks and here she had been all the time, playing around with this older man—this man in whose employ she had been. His mouth twisted angrily.

At last he caught a glimpse of her through the crowd. In that sumptuous wrap of petal soft fur Susan looked the veriest young princess.

He might plunge through the crowd to seize her and carry her away as a bandit prince. He might do that—but he wouldn't. If she preferred this sort of thing she could have it. Remembering that night in the lane and her appeal for Heath's protection, Dunbar's mind wandered along in dark morasses. It was all so plain to him now. He had been wrong about her from the start.

The girl looked cool and composed as he watched her. Heath handed her into the car with a decidedly proprietary air.

"Damn him!" muttered the boy in the shadow.

The car began to slide away and Dunbar woke to life. The pain throbbed in his breast. He was losing her again—he might never see her—

He began to run.

"Susan, Susan," he called.

The policeman directing traffic took the young man by the arm. Bob began to laugh mirthlessly. "It's all right," he told the officer. "It's all right." He shook off the detaining hand.

"Too much bad gin," the policeman said to himself, watching the "young swell" stride into the night.

FATHER AND SON DIE

WAXAHACHIE, June 6. (AP)—Lenoard Wynn, 35, farmer, and his son, Charles, 4, were drowned in a pool near Maypearl when the father, who had been swimming with the boy on his back, was stricken with cramps.

Another son of Wynn, aged 7, witnessed the tragedy from the bank of the pool. He ran home and told his mother, who rode with a passing motorist to the pool. In her haste she fell from the running board of the car and suffered a fractured arm.

She plunged into the pool in a vain effort to rescue her husband and son, but was unable to bring their bodies ashore. Wynn and his boy were buried today at Files Valley after double funeral services at Maypearl.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 6 (AP)—The cotton market was only moderately active today and prices developed a downward trend due to unfavorable foreign news, weakness in wheat and lower stocks which induced liquidation by recent buyers. After opening 3 to 5 points down prices declined steadily until they showed losses of 21 to 23 points from Saturday's close. The market rallied slightly around mid-session but eased off again near the end closing steady at net declines for the day of 15 to 20 points.

The market eased off gradually in late trading owing to a downward trend in stocks and July dropped to 5.11, Oct. to 5.52 and Dec. to 5.47 or 14 to 16 points under the highs of the morning and to within 2 to 3 points of the day's low points. July closed 17 points net lower for the day, October 20 points net down and Dec. 18 net down.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 6. (AP)—Saturday's advances were just about lost in cotton today as a result of renewed liquidation, combined with some reselling by buyers of late last week and scattered selling promoted by the decline in wheat and the heaviness of the stock market.

July contracts sold off to 5.07 or 23 points and closed at 5.12, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 18-20 points.

ported and bring temperance.

Instead, he said, "drinkng generally has increased," and that "the speakeasy has replaced the saloon, not only unit for unit, but probably two-fold if not three-fold.

Rockefeller pictured a "vast army of law-breakers," who he said "had been recruited and financed on a colossal scale."

Citizens Are Piqued

He wrote that "many of our best citizens, piqued at what they regarded as an infringement of their private rights, have openly and unabashed disregarded the eighteenth amendment."

As "an inevitable result" of these effects, he said, "respect for all law has been greatly lessened."

He expressed a belief the benefits of the 18th amendment are far outweighed by "the evils that have developed and flourished since its adoption, evils which unless promptly checked are likely to lead to conditions unspeakably worse than those which prevailed before."

"It is not to be expected," he said, "that repeal of the eighteenth amendment will in itself end all those evils and restore public respect for law. I believe, however, that its repeal is a prerequisite to the attainment of that goal."

Endorses Resolution

The letter to Dr. Butler was an endorsement of the resolution the Columbia president 24 hours earlier had announced he, as a delegate to the Republican national convention, would fight to have incorporated in the party plaform.

"With this resolution I am in complete sympathy," Rockefeller wrote.

The Butler plan provides that "Congress will submit a proposal to repeal the eighteenth amendment, which proposal shall be submitted for ratification by conventions of the people of the several states."

It also pledges the party, in the event of repeal, to secure the adoption of "such measures for the control of the liquor traffic by the several states as will promote temperance, effectively abolish the saloon, whether open or concealed, and bring the liquor traffic itself, where not prohibited, under complete public supervision and control."

The toll-bridge company's injunction suit seeks the closing or control of the free bridge until alleged damages of $250,000 are obtained through tolls. Since the free bridge was opened by Murray last July 27, the pay span has remained open but virtually inoperative because of the lack of business, motorists taking advantage of the nearby free structure which parallels it.

Stocks React After Advances; Many Buyers Take Profits As Consequence

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 6. (AP)—Stocks reacted today after advancing for three consecutive sessions.

Profit-taking was a natural aftermath to last week's rally, brokers pointed out, and it did not cut a particularly wide swath through what had been gained. Apparently, however, the market had had about all the rally it could stand on the basis of developments to date, and new buying of consequence held aloof.

An upturn in the last hour cancelled half or two-thirds of early 1 to 4 point losses, but prices then sagged again. Final quotations, nevertheless, were above the lows; and for the first time in a week volume was under the million mark, totalling only 942,365 shares.

Some setbacks occurred in bonds, but on the whole the investment market was headed higher and averages closed with a gain. Preferred stocks, although quiet, were inclined to follow the general trend of senior securities. Apparently there has yet been no buying by the new investment corporation.

Young Actor

why such stories are told.

"The stars in the limelight are normal, healthy, kind, gracious and hospitable people," he declared.

"Of course there are exceptions, but Hollywood's morals are as high as those of any other city."

The actor, by the way, is unmarried and has "no serious entanglements." His voice is charming and his gray-green eyes are friendly. Arledge, a blond, is about five feet 10 inches tall. His most recent picture is "Week-Ends Only," which has not been released. It stars Joan Bennett.

"Ambition and curiosity" carried Arledge to Hollywood two years ago. He admits "lucky breaks," for he did not have to serve an apprenticeship in the extra ranks. Instead he secured a role in a stage play in Belasco theater. After playing a featured role in "Up Pops the Devil," the Texan was signed by Fox. Since that time he has played with Una Merkel, Warner Baxter, Janet Gaynor, Ramon Novarro, Madge Evans, Joan Bennett, Ben Lyons and Charles Farrell.

Arledge's theatrical career began in Dallas in 1926 and for two seasons he appeared in vaudeville as an accompanist. He played the piano—"very poorly" he said here. Six or seven years ago he appeared in Lubbock.

The cinema role which Arledge most desires is one similar to that of Glen Hunter in "Merton of the Movies." It is a naive role combining drama and comedy.

But of his chief ambition, the Texan will not speak:

"I know what I want, and I want it so badly that I am afraid to speak of it," he said.

Arledge's role in "Daddy Long Legs" was that of the college lover who attempted to win Janet Gaynor from Warner Baxter.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 6. (AP)—Sensational new breaks in grain values plunged some cereals down today to below any bottom reached since 1897.

Sacrifice quotations resulted in European importers buying as much as 3,000,000 bushels of wheat from North America, mostly Canadian, but led at the last to only a fractional rally here from the day's low point.

Wheat in Chicago closed nervous 1 1-2 to 2 1-4 cents under Saturday's finish, corn 3-8 to 3-4 down, oats 5-8 to 1 1-8 off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5 cents.

Earl Thornton

Avenue A Saturday night, authorities said. There was no connection between the two alleged attempts, officers said.

A deputy sheriff said the woman, who was stunned when found by relatives, said she had intended to take her life. The woman, according to deputies, said she climbed on a chair on the back porch with a rope around a rafter. Either the rope broke, slipped lose, or some other happenstance prevented her hanging herself, it was said. She was released from jail to relatives who were to watch her closely.

Found Unconscious

Thornton, shot himself in his room at the home of an aunt, Mrs. G. K. Taylor, at 2205 Twentieth street at about 10 o'clock Sunday night, the sheriff's department reported. He was found unconscious on the floor beside a bed, on which lay a revolver with one cartridge empty. He was clad, except for shoes, and was on his back.

A blood smeared picture, torn from an album, was found in the pocket of his shirt. Officers were told that it was of Thornton and his wife. Scrawled in pencil near the top of the kodak shot was: "Forgive me sweetheart." A handkerchief which had been wrapped around the picture did not keep out blood. The album, from which the picture had been clipped, was on a cedar chest nearby.

The aunt, her husband, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taylor were at the house when county authorities arrived as a result of a call from them. J. R. Taylor is a son of G. K. Taylor.

Thornton's father, a gin operator at Slaton, this morning indicated to sanitarium attaches that he knew no reason for his son's act.

The bullet fired by Thornton went through his body and almost through a thick mattress, a deputy sheriff said. A Rix ambulance carried Thornton to the sanitarium.

quested something with which to destroy himself. The physician testified Neagle was subject to spells in which it became necessary, for periods as long as three days, to confine him in a padded cell in county jail. It was the doctor's recommendation that Neagle be placed in an institution for treatment.

Attorney On Stand

Mr. Johnson, taking the stand, testified that Neagle's wounds, for treatment of which he was brought to Lubbock after his case was transferred from 72nd court to 99th court here, were self-inflicted.

Mrs. Neagle, the defendant, his uncle, R. L. Neagle and Mr. Ratliff testified for the defense. The relatives said there was no hereditary insanity in the family of which they knew.

Neagle's answers were "rational and reasonable," Wood declared in his argument.

"We don't believe this man is insane at this time," Ratliff told the jurors. "We are ready, and the defendant is ready, to go to trial in this murder case."

McGuire Is Present

Mr. Burks, in his brief argument, reviewed the testimony, and urged that the jurors find the defendant of unsound mind.

P. S. McGuire, son-in-law of the slain man, was here for the trial but did not tetsify. It was McGuire who found his father-in-law unconscious in the three-room house in which Neagle and his family and McGuire and Mr. Driggars were living when the altercation occurred. McGuire had purchased the farm, and the difficulty was reported to have arisen over possession of the house. The aged man died in a Lubbock hospital.

The jury also held that Neagle was subject to "periodical" attacks of insanity "for a year or more."

J. B. Maxey was jury foreman, and other members were: W. A. Farrell, A. W. McKee, J. R. Bishop, M. K. Adams, William Beaton, L. D. Phillips, H. T. Swanner, George Hilbers, W. R. Byers, E. C. Ellison, and C. W. Falkenberg.

Atwell Speaks To Tech Grads

Large Audience At Ceremonies Monday At Gymnasium; Total Of 159 Students Of College Receive Degrees

Judge William H. Atwell of Dallas addressed a large audience Monday morning at Texas Technological college gymnasium where 159 students received degrees during the sixth annual commencement exercises of the college.

Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of First Baptist church, Dallas, preached the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning before the largest congregation ever to assemble in the gymnasium. Several hundred people stood throughout the service.

Scholarships Awarded

Following Judge Atwell's address Dean Gordon awarded scholarships and presented the diplomas, assisted by deans of the schools.

Exercises began at 10:30 o'clock when the senior class marched from the textile building cloisters to the gymnasium. The orchestra played "Glory to Alma Mater" directed by W. R. Waghorn and the choir sang "Gaudeamus Igitur" preceding the invocation given by the Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church.

"It is not the profundity of a book knowledge that America yearns for," Judge Atwell told members of the class, "but practicability for those who will guide her destinies. I introduce you to the United States of America; one whose government is newest in the earth's principalities; one that contains fourth of the world's population; a country that possesses more gold than any other country; the largest city; more churches and more modern splendor than any other country.

"This is a republican democracy where there are no castes and no classes and no limit to the ascending path of a man or woman who takes advantage of the opportunities which are here."

The speaker recognized the difference in the capacity or integrity of individuals and listed four attributes which are necessary to the one who strives to succeed as being: loyalty, integrity, faith and diligence.

Students were warned against giving up an old truth for a new question mark by the judge who stated that there is nothing new under the sun and one should hold fast to that which is good.

"In ages back birds flew; now men fly," he said. "Combinations are new and there is an increase in contestants and rapidity of locomotion as compared with former times."

"Beware of mass thought directed through the press, the pulpit, pictures and the platform. This is a world of individuals. Get to the basic fundamentals of truth and build your structure to the glory of a nation and a great people," the students were told.

A prescription of four ingredients was given as being the desire of every man and every woman: winsome personality, economic independence, social recognition and domestic happiness.

"I come as one who has nothing to ask at your hands," Judge Atwell said in closing, "but one who wishes he might help you to meet some of the difficulties which will be yours as you go through life. This I ask—that you take an ideal, love it, believe in it and when the time comes go down with it in your arms."

Some of the cash scholarships will be awarded only as honorary recognition, the money not being available, it was indicated.

The following honors and awards were made:

The Wyatt C. Hedrick scholarship of $250 for the student with the highest scholastic standing for the year—Mrs. Helen Merriman of Lubbock.

The Dr. M. C. Overton scholarship of $200 for the person who has been of the greatest value to the athletic teams—John Beauchamp of Greenville and Basil Hill of Lamesa.

"The crowning standard of greatness is service to mankind," Doctor Truett told the graduating class in his baccalaureate sermon.

Following the processional, the doxology was sung by the congregation, versicles and responses were given by the choir, and Dr. W. F. Fry, occupant of the Baptist Bible chair at the college, gave the invocation. Rev. Walter P. Jenning pastor of the First Christian church, read the scripture lesson. Te Deum Laudamus was sung by the choir preceding the sermon.

Doctor Truett's sermon theme, "The Highest Vocation—the Making of Life," was from the text: "David served his own generation by the will of God." Faith is one of the great essentials, the Dallas pastor said, and it must be of the character displayed through the ages, from Abraham to Lindbergh.

Humanity Dr. Truett divided into three classes: Those whose philosophy is to get all they can and keep it to the end of this life; the prodigals who take all that comes their way and recklessly squander it, and the humanitarians who consider themselves debtors to all mankind.

"It is not enough to say that a man is clever or that he has money or that he is a scholar," said Doctor Truett. "The test comes with what he does with his cleverness and his money and his ability." Beginning in his home, a man may spread his influence among his friends, and finally to the social order, the pastor said.

War, which the speaker decried as an anachronism, he said must end or civilization will perish.

"Love and not hate must rule the world, and this will come if people are motivated by the will of God," Doctor Truett declared.
