City Voters Pick Two New Council Members

In one of the heaviest votes cast in a Wellington city election in recent years, two members of the city council were returned to office and two new ones were elected.

The total vote was 464. Although interest in the election soared during the last week, the vote was much higher than expected, according to Earl Hunter, election judge.

Leon Hartman with 373 votes and Bobo Castleberry with 360 were re-elected for two-year terms. Mack Bush, who polled 242 votes, was elected to the council and will succeed Henry Sullivan, who received 193 votes. Tom Wilkins, the fifth candidate, received 128.

Howard Holton was elected to fill the one-year unexpired term, a vacancy created with the death of Quinton Brewer last summer. Holton received 267 votes. Hurshel Tyler, who was opposing him, polled 179 votes.

Mrs. Longino, Here Since 1888, Dies on Sunday

Mrs. H. M. Longino, 82, who had lived at Wellington as long if not longer than any other person in the county, died at 10 p.m. Sunday, April 3, in Thomas Nursing Home. She had been in failing health for several years.

Mrs. Longino was born Mary Edith Myers at Denton Feb. 15, 1884. She was the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. P. W. Myers, and was only four years old when her father came to this area in 1888. Organization of the county and the town were still two years away and Mrs. Longino's early memories were those of the Texas frontier that was closing so rapidly.

Her father was one of the leaders in the new county, and in this way her life was more closely tied with the development of the area.

She was married to Hugh M. Longino Aug. 23, 1908 in Wellington. For more than 30 years her husband was the beloved rural mail carrier on Route 1.

She had been a member of the Methodist Church since 1913. Funeral services for Mrs. Longino were conducted at the First Methodist Church Tuesday at 2:30 p.m., with the Rev. Ellis Todd officiating. Burial was in the West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelson Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Bill Hatch, David Baumgardner, Claude Savage, Gorman Owens, Ernest Harwell and Kenneth Fink. Mrs. Longino is survived by —See back page

Water Rockets Area Economy, County Group Told Wed.

The dynamic impact a lake will have on the economy of a community for 20 miles or more was told to a group of Collingsworth people at a noon meeting Wednesday, April 6, by a man who has seen it happen in one of Texas' most successful reservoir projects.

He was Ben Hickey, manager of the Tarrant County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, which owns and operates a complex of six lakes in four counties in the Fort Worth area.

He spoke from his own experiences in telling the story of an area that was a fine rich farming country and the far-reaching improvements that have come. He spoke more specifically of Cedar Creek Lake, finished only recently.

Hickey and a group of attorneys for the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District, were the guests of Dan Henard, president of the water district.

"The rise in land values had the greatest impact on the people of the Cedar Creek area. Prices were affected for 15 to 20 miles from the reservoir. The price of land rose four to five times from the time we started acquiring land for the reservoir until we finished," Hickey declared.

Shore line property was one of the big factors in acquisition of the land, and he emphasized that the landowner on the lake edge had the right to his land right down to the water edge.

It is his to do with as he wishes, and as the water edge recedes, his control of his property follows it.

"Shortly after the reservoir was started and before the work was completed, subdivisions started around the lake and when it was completed last December there were some 90 recorded subdivisions, and each had an average of 200 lots. That is a conservative estimate."

Farm land around the lake, back as far as 15 to 20 miles has increased in value from $100 to $300 per acre.

He discussed the people who bought those lots.

"There are numerous homes around Cedar Creek lake. There are camp sites and boat docks and this certainly affected the communities around the lake."

"There are four towns in the immediate vicinity of the lake."

"For instance, Triadad had never had a bank. In 1965, they built a new bank. New industries came—filling stations, groceries, and cafes. New people moved in."

"There was one large industry, now a going industry, that came purely because the lake was constructed. It is Lone Star Fertilizer, a 25 million dollar plant that buys water —See back page

A representative of the state office of the Economic Development Administration will be in Wellington Monday, April 11 to explain the ways of federal financing available for constructing the reservoir on Salt Fork River, Dan Henard, wa-

Big Rebate

Farmers Co-op Sets Meeting on Saturday

Patrons of the Farmers Co-op, Gin will receive almost a quarter of a million dollars in rebate checks Saturday, April 9, at the annual meeting. The exact figure is $241,488.70.

But more impressive is the fact that besides distributing this high rebate, the Co-op society during the last year built and put in operation the largest gin plant in Texas. The rebate is one of the highest in the society's history, amounting to $10.09 per bale.

Announcement of the annual meeting was made by W. E. (Dub) Marchant, gin manager. It will be held in the community building and begin at 2 p.m.

The co-op ginned 22,163 bales this year, the most it has ever ginned in its 39-year history. Unofficial figures given Marchant set this as the second highest number of bales ginned by any plant in Texas during the 1965 season.

"We have put out the best grade we have ever been able to," said Marchant. "This was because of the type of cleaners we installed in both the old and the new gins."

Co-op members will vote on new directors for 1966, and these will elect the officers at a later date.

J. C. Emmert, president of the society, will preside at the meeting.

Other officers for the current year are Fred Cox vice president and Lewis Morris secretary-treasurer.

The directors are Emmert, Cox, Morris, Louis Allred, E. D. Crawley, David Baumgardner and Travis McGuire.

First in District

4-H Soils Team Will Compete in Roundup

The Collingsworth County 4-H soil evaluation team placed first in the district contests Saturday, April 2, in Canyon and will compete in the State 4-H Roundup at College Station June 7 and 8.

Members of the team are John Hightower, Dan Lewis, Mike Guley and Dale Derrick. Their coach is Lynval Black, who only a few years ago was a member of a 4-H soils judging team that went to the Roundup.

One other team entered the district eliminations at Canyon

—the livestock judging team, according to Sam Helmers, county agent. Members of the team are Teddy Martin, Ricky Nail and Gary Killian.

The soils teams must judge the soil texture, determine the depth of the top soil, the depth of the top and the subsoil, according to the county agent.

They must determine the slope of the land, the infiltration rate of the topsoil or how fast the water will soak into it, the permeability of the subsoil, the structure of both topsoil and subsoil.

When this is completed, they must judge the erosion hazards. From all of this, they determine the land class, and those things that keep it from being a Class I land.

Recommendations of land uses are then made.

Church Acquires Needed Property

The First Baptist Church has acquired all of the property fronting on 15th Street between Arlington and Belton for its new building, and a sign will be put up reading "Future Home of First Baptist Church."

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson Recognized for Fifty-five Years Federated Club Work

Fifty-five years of work in federated clubs brought recognition to a Wellington Study Club member at the recent meeting of the Top of Texas District Federation of Women's Clubs at Hereford.

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson was nominated by the Domestic Science Club as their "jewel" for the federation meeting, the local and district level part of the General Federation's Diamond Anniversary.

Some of the members of her own club were unaware that Mrs. Stevenson first became a member of a federated club, the Ariel Club in Denton in 1910. She was a teacher in the Denton schools. Two years later she was a delegate from that club to the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention in Los Angeles and cast her vote for the only Texas woman ever to serve as national president, Mrs. Percy Pennybacker of Austin.

Later Mrs. Stevenson taught in Fort Worth and was a member of the Cadmean Club. She became a member of the Domestic Science Club in September 1928.

Mrs. Stevenson helped to organize the City Federation of Women's Clubs and became its first president, an office she held a number of years.

For several years, the City Federation devoted its efforts to raising money. There were dreams of a club house. Much of this money came in from home talent shows, popular then as now.

"More work went into them than those that are given now, for we really put on a show," Mrs. Stevenson said, laughing.

Finally, $1,600 was in their bank account. This was not enough to build a club house. The depression was here, and money raising activities dropped for a few years.

The money was used, in the early 1940s to buy the grand piano and furniture for the community building, which is still used, Mrs. Stevenson said.

The county library is a continuing project of the city federation. Mrs. Stevenson has a part in this, for she has been the Domestic Science Club's representative to the City Federation almost continually.

She has served in various offices of the Domestic Science Club, and president at various times between 1937 and 1955, and she has no idea of the number of committees she has served on. She has been chairman of the Blue Bird committee since that group of girls was organized in 1958.

"Although we have no elected parliamentarian in our club, we automatically turn to Mrs.

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson

Stevenson when any question of protocol, custom, or course of procedure arises. We know that her opinion is completely reliable. Her judgment is always honest and accurate," said Mrs. L. C. Hill, a club member.

A true artist with the needle, Mrs. Stevenson through the years has presented to each new baby of the members in the name of the club a pair of hand-crocheted booties. In 1960 she was the sole source of the club's money-making project, a lovely crocheted wool afghan which she presented to the club to be sold.

With her husband, Mrs. Stevenson has been active in the Methodist Church many years. They have two children, James of Tucson, Arizona, and Mrs. Orland Butler, who teaches at Lubbock.

Man Injured as Mules Bolt

A Wellington man this week received a broken leg when the team of mules he was driving ran away . . . the first such accident for Wellington in recent years.

Bill Tatum was training a young mule and had him, along with another mule, hitched to his wagon, friends reported.

As he drove down a street in the north section of Wellington, a small dog started to chase the team and excited the young mule. As they started to run, Mr. Tatum jumped from the wagon. His leg was broken in two places between the knee and ankle.

He was taken to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo and friends reported Tuesday he was doing well.

Mr. Tatum uses mules to the plow he uses on local gardens and small plots of ground.

Norwood Loses Two Games to Hollis

The Samnorwood Eagles lost two games to the Hollis Tigers during the week, but they managed to play a much better game in the second encounter.

On Thursday, March 31, the Eagles lost 15-4 as Hollis scored 10 times in the second inning. Samnorwood used three pitchers in an attempt to stop Hollis but none was very successful as Hollis pounded Danny Tate first, then Augustine Zermeno and finally Stanley Oldham.

Samnorwood hits were gathered by J. D. Ward, Zermeno, Nelson Dwyer and Joe Lackey. The Eagles committed nine errors in their third loss without a win.

In the second encounter against the Tigers, played in Hollis Monday, the Eagles showed considerable improvement. After the Oklahomans had scored three times in the first inning, Samnorwood came back with 5 in the second to go ahead.

The five runs were the result of four walks by the Hollis pitcher and a bases loaded double off the fence by Augustine Zermeno.

Hollis tied the score with two runs in the second and it remained tied as both teams scored one run in the fifth. In the first extra inning Samnorwood scored a run as Stanley Oldham got on base on an error by the Hollis shortstop and was driven home by successive doubles by Acie Boyd and Calvin Kincannon.

However, Hollis came back in the bottom of the eighth to score two runs after two were out to win the game 8-7.

Augustine Zermeno pitched the entire game for Samnorwood and Don Robinson and Bill Dill pitched for Hollis.

Samnorwood hitting was led by Zermeno with two.

Spring Makes Collingsworth County a Place of Beauty

For the coming few weeks, the Collingsworth countryside will be a thing of beauty. Flowers, so varied in color and kind, will delight the eye and rest the mind, and the green of our rolling hills will reveal fertility of the land beneath.

You can drive the highways north to south and east to west, then savor the beauty to be found on the farm to market roads, from the Hall county line in the southwest to Needwood in the northeast.

Then venture off the hard surfaced roads for a drive along Elm Creek, or Buck Creek, or any of the others. Almost all of the roads are in good condition and they reveal a Collingsworth that is well worth knowing.

There are many places of beauty in our county, spots with greater scenic attraction than many that are famous. This year let us enjoy what is near to us.

Off French Soil

"De Gaulle Wants American Troops Off French Soil" says the news headline. We wonder if the French president intends also to send away GIs who rest beneath French soil. They are the thousands whose lives ended abruptly in their struggle to drive the invader from that soil De Gaulle now finds too sacred to bear American troops. They remain behind in cemeteries from Omaha Beach to the German border, long after their buddies have returned to the comforts of civilian life.

De Gaulle may have more trouble than he expects in removing every trace of the American GI from France. The men whose names appear on the ranked crosses there now serve a Commander who outranks any general in NATO or SACEUR or the Pentagon, and His name isn't Gen. De Gaulle.

RUNNER-UP TO MISS WELLINGTON

The wish Tanya Horton made at the wishing well came true, for she was chosen Miss Runner-Up in the 1966 Miss Wellington Contest Friday evening April 1. Tanya is 16, a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horton.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

News is that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India got a flossy reception in Washington, as a great lady should, and her trip was an obvious success.

She got India's social security benefits raised by 117,000,000 bushels of wheat, at the rate of about 1,000,000 bushels per minute of talk with our President, and likely other undisclosed promises.

My tuckered taxpayer neighbor says fund drivers in the U.S. long ago found women could get more for them, and he expects there will now be a grand rush by other dependent independencies to hire lady prime ministers.

My social dropout neighbor says the genuine Taxpayer is an extinct species, since the 16th Amendment gave Congress the right to seize any or all of our incomes.

He says whatever government can take at will is obviously government property, and handing over money that doesn't really belong to us is not exactly "paying taxes".

Says our leaders think they are pretty sharp, working out this arrangement. Like a man thinks it proves he's the superior creature when he takes over the use, care, feeding and mopping up after a dog.

Time was when a business or government wheel did something stupid, he had to cover it up, lie out of it, or take the rap for it.

My wireless thinker neighbor says, though, this automated society has changed things. Nowadays when there is any foul-up, the human in charge blames it on a computer getting out of whack.

But he reckons, for example, being short on ammunition when a war starts on you is still a predicament, whether it is caused by a delinquent computer or an obese brain.

6 Register for Selective Ser.

They were Cleland Troy Stallings, Marion L. Barton, Jose Cantu, Herbert Leon Clay, Jimmy Lee Barber and Stanley Eugene Bratten.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW:

MEDICARE AND NO CARE

By Roger W. Babson

Just a short while ago, Look Magazine published a very revealing article on the type of care which Americans can expect from hospitals generally throughout the land. It was frightening, to say the least.

Inefficiency, ineptness and downright carelessness on the part of both nurses and doctors were featured. Many have since rushed to the defense of the profession. But what we should all be worrying about is the added impact of medicare.

Almost Upon Us

If the quality and quantity of medical care are open to criticism now... what will be the situation when the avalanche of elderly patients needing treatment starts hitting the wards and nursing homes July 1?

That is less than three short months away. Studies of statistical data suggest that conditions may become chaotic in some areas.

The first wave of our senior citizens who will seek "free" hospitalization under medicare will be a big one. Naturally, those who can postpone a visit until Uncle Sam will pay the bill are going to wait for July 1. But doctors look for an even bigger flood tide of the elderly to knock on hospital doors at the first cold blasts of autumn. That is the season when aches, pains, and respiratory diseases really kick up.

Sobering Facts

Hospital beds in non-federal government institutions are estimated to be about 790,000. Right now about 76% of these are occupied. But that figure is an "average". Like other "averages", it is misleading; for in many areas shortages of hospital facilities are already critical.

Furthermore, there is no guarantee that big demands will not be made in precisely the spots where beds are scarce.

But empty hospital beds would not solve the overcrowding problem. They would be of little value without an adequate nursing staff. And this is the weakest link in the medical-care chain; 100,000 job vacancies are reported in this field. The figures are broken down as follows: 75,000 openings for registered nurses and a need for 25,000 practical nurses.

One of the most vexing shortages may be in the field of visiting nurses. Visiting nurses are slated to play a big part under medicare. Judging from the situation at present, it appears inevitable that the supply will be far short of needs.

How Big the Rush?

So much for the availability—or lack of it—of doctors and nurses. An even bigger question mark is the probable size of the rush of senior citizens for "free" care. Some government officials pooh-pooh the seriousness of the overcrowding threat. But the Surgeon General feels that the surge will be large. What is definitely known is that patients over age 65 now take up about one-quarter of all hospital beds. What if this figure jumps to 35%, or even to 40%?

Our only close guidepost to what may be expected is the history of socialized medicine in Saskatchewan, Canada.

There, reports say, demand doubled when government medicine came in... and in some areas applicants for care trebled. The feeling is beginning to grow here that any such rush in the U.S. could create a condition bordering on chaos. If this should happen, it would of course affect not only those over 65, but also everyone else—from babies on up... everyone in need of hospitalization.

Short-Changes?

One thing is certain. It will take cool heads at all medical and administrative levels to prevent a jam-up that could harm the image of the medical profession and bring down anger on the heads of the politicians who voted so hurriedly for the "leap forward"... without first looking to see if the machine could carry the new load.

Wayland Gives Advanced Tests

PLAINVIEW.—Credit will be given at Wayland Baptist College this fall to entering freshmen who satisfactorily complete advanced placement tests administered by the College Entrance Examination Board.

CEEB advanced placement tests are now given in American history, biology, chemistry, English European history, French, German, Latin 4, Latin 5, mathematics, physics and Spanish. The tests are scheduled in many high schools the week of May 16-20.

Normally a high school senior who wants to be considered for advanced placement at Wayland will complete tests in one or two areas. The results of the tests will be sent to the college where admissions officials evaluate the student's performance in relation to requirements in freshman courses.

CEEB regulations are set by the testing service and include completion of some college level work while in high school. The Board offers high school descriptions of courses which may be established to prepare students for advanced placement tests.

It is none too early to set up screening boards. These would attempt to keep the flow of senior citizens toward hospitals from becoming an engulfing flood. Unless this or similar advance moves are taken at the local level, we may find that medicare has become no care!

Defense-Disaster Meeting Set at Paducah April 12

AUSTIN.—Defense and disaster relief will be the subject of a 3-hour conference to be conducted in Paducah on Tuesday night, April 12.

The conference will be held at the Paducah high school auditorium beginning promptly at 7 p.m. Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m.

J. C. Wilcox, Civil Defense Coordinator for Paducah-Cottle County, said the conference includes 11 counties in this area. County judges and commissioners, mayors and councilmen, Civil Defense directors, members of city and county government services, school officials, and business and industrial leaders are expected to attend.

In addition to Cottle, representatives are expected from Childress, Collingsworth, Dickens, Floyd, Foard, Hall, Hardeman, King, Knox and Motley counties.

"Although the conference is directed to local government officials, all persons interested in defense and disaster relief are invited to attend," Wilcox said.

Primarily the conference will point up defense and disaster relief responsibilities of local government officials and provides other information that is valuable to the community in normal times or during periods of stress and tension.

Wilcox commented, "This information will be of value in disaster from natural causes, or in the event of nuclear chaos."

The program includes a demonstration on the effects of radiation, the development of shelter in new school construction, organization for defense and disaster relief, and the channels for obtaining State and Federal assistance when it might be needed.

The conference, one of 20 being conducted throughout the state, is presented in an interesting and educational form through the use of films and color slides. It is conducted by the Civil Defense training staff of Texas A&M University's engineering extension service, in co-operation with the State Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, Texas Department of Public Safety.

Participating in the conference will be Dr. W. R. Bodine, Gus White, and Larry Fisher, all of Texas A&M University; and John Christian, Training Specialist, and Kenneth Tooley, Public Information Officer, both of the State Office of Defense and Disaster Relief.

Sp. 5 Burl Patrick Reassigned

Sp/5 Burl J. Patrick, U. S. Army, visited with friends in Wellington last week en route from Hawaii to a new assignment at Colorado Springs, Col. A data machine operator, he will be at the Army's data processing center.

His wife, the former Diane Gorman of Ravenna, Ohio, and their 14-month-old son, William James, were here with him. Mrs. Patrick was serving in the Army in Hawaii when she and Patrick married.

Patrick has had service in Viet Nam, but he is quick to point out that he left there in July 1964, and his work was in Saigon, never in the fighting zone. However, the hotel where he stayed in that city was blown up about a year later, killing a number of GIs.

The Viet Cong had infiltrated even then, and "Yankee Go Home" signs were to be seen. An Army career man, Patrick entered service in November 1958, and had his basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. He then served at Fort Hood and in Germany. His next assignment was Hawaii, and from there he went back and forth on assignments to Viet Nam.

Sp/5 Patrick is assigned to the 46th Engineers, 1st Brigade, 9th Infantry.

WHS Track Team Keeps Strong Records Tumbling

School and meet records continued to fall as the Wellington high school track team participated in the Amarillo relays Friday, April 1, and the annual Kress Track Meet on Saturday, April 2.

Wellington was second at Kress with 52 points. Hale Center placed first with 78 and Kress was third with 42 points.

This was Jackie Needham's week end and 12 feet was the lucky vault. In Amarillo he placed third in the pole vault finals, going over at that height for a new Wellington school record.

He again vaulted 12 feet to break the Kress Track Meet record and equal his own school record of the day before.

James Smith set a new school record of 10.1.5 in the 100-yard dash, the third best time in the Amarillo relays preliminaries Friday.

The 440 yard relay team was second at Kress and set a new school record with 44.7 seconds. Team members were Jackie Needham, Claude Barber, Jimmy Lee Barber and Marvin Roland.

Eight of the 9 men who participated at Amarillo qualified for the finals, but the decision was made for these men to run at Kress rather than return to Amarillo.

Needham's pole vault was in the finals, however, as was Wesley Ward's third place of 141 feet in the discus throw.

Other track members qualifying for the finals were James Smith and Claude Barber in the 100 yard dash, Smith and Jimmy Lee Barber in the 220, Freddy Bobo and Tommy Yarbrough in the 120 yard high hurdles, and Yarbrough and Andy Bell in the 180 yard low hurdles. The 440 yard relay team composed of Smith, Jimmy Lee Barber and Needham, also qualified.

The Wellington team was one of 37 in its division.

Kress Meet

The entire team participated at Kress, with 26 teams in their division.

Claude Barber was fifth in the 100 yard dash; in the 120 yard high hurdles, Tommy Yarbrough was second and Freddy Bobo sixth. Yarbrough was fourth in the 180 yard low hurdles; Ward was second in the discus and Roland fifth. Bobo placed sixth in the high jump.

City Women Attend School Activities at Clayton, N. M.

The ladies attended a play presented by the granddaughter's junior class Friday evening, a concert by the Clayton high school band Saturday evening, and a style show presented for the grandmothers of the junior and senior girls of Clayton high school.

Control Bag Worms Now, Says Helmers

Bagworms are destructive pests on many evergreen and deciduous shrubs and trees and sometimes on neglected fruit trees. Early April is the time to control them, says County Agent Sam Helmers.

All of the bags should be removed from the infested plants and destroyed. Then begin applying control measures when temperatures remain about 60 degrees for at last six to ten hours during the day.

The pesticide applications should be continued at 7- to 19-day intervals until the infestation is eliminated, the county agent advises.

Sevin, chlordane, malathion, lead arsenate or toxaphene will effectively control the bagworm. Directions for mixing and applying the materials are contained on the labels of the containers and should be carefully followed, says Helmers.

The bagworm moth deposits 500 to 1,000 eggs in a brown, tapered bag attached to a branch of the plant in September. The eggs hatch in early March and the small worms, an eighth to a quarter inch long, immediately begin to feed on the plant's foliage and bark.

The young worms or caterpillars construct a small tapered bag of silk-like material and attach it to pieces of bark and foliage. The bag turns to a brown color.

A bagworm protrudes its head and front feet from the bag as it moves about the plant as it feeds but will withdraw into the bag when disturbed. In late summer the bag is attached to a branch and the mature caterpillar pupates within the bag.

The female, explains the county agent, is a wingless moth and stays inside the bag until the eggs are laid. Then she leaves the bag and dies.

The feeding worms, when infestations are heavy, will remove the foliage and bark from all or parts of a tree or shrub, resulting in the death of the plant or the heavily infested parts.

L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants" is available from the county agent's office.

LETTERS from the People

March 30, 1966

Dear Deck:

When I received the Wellington Leader last week and saw the plat of the proposed Salt Fork Dam and Reservoir Project; my first thought was how fortunate Collingsworth County is. You have rivers and creeks and lots of water going thru your county. All you have to do is to build a dam and hold the water until you are ready to use it.

Out here on the Plains we pump out of underground lakes and it is going down every day, with no chance of refilling it as we don't have a single river in all this area. You have three or four in one county.

I don't think that the average person could realize without experience what water does for a county. It not only makes farming a good business but it helps everybody in the county. If you get the lake it will improve your schools and churches and every individual will have a better opportunity.

I think one of the greatest benefits will be for the young people. They will have an opportunity to stay in Collingsworth County. I have seen these counties develop out here due to water and the young people stay instead of moving away.

I hope the election carries on the 25th of April for you have an opportunity to get something that will be worth millions for a very small price.

Sincerely,
LEE O'NEIL

Faith Baptist Men Meet

The Brotherhood of Faith Baptist Church met Monday, April 4 at 7:30 p.m. with Loyd Vines, president, in charge of the program.

Milburn Derryberry was the speaker to the large group of men and boys, discussing "Power and Direction." He told them that all Christians should have the love of God in their hearts and try to help new Christians make use of their lives for Christ. Derryberry is a deacon of First Baptist Church.

In closing, prayers were given for the success of the revivals to be held at First Baptist and Faith Baptist Churches during the coming weeks.

Refreshments were served following the program.

County, School Will Observe Library Week

Tentative plans are under way in this area for the observance of National Library Week April 17 through April 23. The week will be observed in the county and school libraries and on a district level as well. Daniel Nutter, librarian at Clarendon Junior College is serving as chairman of the district made up of Donley, Hall, Childress and Collingsworth counties. Mrs. Ben Ratliff, Wellington high school librarian, is co-chairman.

On the local level the public is invited to visit the school libraries and see the new books. At the county library, Mrs. R. H. Isbel is planning an open house for one afternoon during that week.

April 21 has been chosen as the date for an evening meeting at Clarendon College. This will be in the form of a panel discussion to include people representing the college, high school, elementary and public libraries. This will be a follow-up of the recent conference on libraries called by Gov. John Connally at Austin March 23.

The citizens of the four counties are urged to attend this meeting to learn the needs and possibilities of our libraries as outlined at Austin by the Governor and other speakers at the conference.

Mrs. John Coleman has been asked to serve as publicity chairman for the district for National Library Week.

Uniform Cotton Planting Dates Gain Favor

As the time for early planting of cotton draws near, there is much activity by community farm leaders in the 31 counties of the Rolling Plains of Texas to discuss the advantages of a uniform planting date for their particular communities.

While there is some difference of opinion as to delaying planting until May 23, the majority of farmers are agreeing to May 23 or later for cotton planting this year. Seventeen counties thus far have had called meetings for the purpose of selecting a uniform date for planting. The latest of these was the Tuscola community of Taylor County.

Some publicity has been given to the effect that Taylor, Fisher, Scurry and other counties neighboring to Jones county had greater production increases than did Jones county last year. This has had the effect of somewhat discrediting the effect of the uniform planting period observed in Jones county.

The fact remains that, although Jones county was the only county organized to plant together last year, Taylor, Fisher, Scurry and other counties were also planted delayed and uniform because of the May and early June rainfall.

The Tuscola community recognized this fact and met last week, at which meeting they agreed to plant on May 30 and after for this year. Mitchell and Fisher counties have meetings called in the near future to study the advantages for their communities.

The boll weevil control program as progressing under the leadership of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers is highly dependent on a uniform date for planting cotton. Where all growers in a community or area plant about the same time, the total length of the boll weevil's reproductive period will be reduced to a minimum.

The second factor of importance to boll weevil control is to plant as late as is agronomically sound. This practice denies the weevil early food and egg laying sites. Cotton planted at this time will generally make the most rapid growth, mature out and can be harvested in a shorter time.

It is recognized by all that weather cannot be predicted precisely. Rainfall will vary from one community to another and one county to another. Each community must act according to its own local conditions. But a careful study of weather data patterns for a local community can help with the decision. Use of this new tool that has just been made available may help some to stay in the cotton production business.

Thurman Burt of Snyder Schools Dies Suddenly

Thurman A. Burt, 41, of Snyder, Okla., and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Owens died suddenly March 19. He had been principal of the Snyder elementary and junior high schools 17 years.

Mr. Burt had visited in Wellington a number of times, and he was a relative of Lloyd Woodbridge, Grant Woodbridge, and Mrs. Jack Ford.

He grew up at Vinson, where he attended school. He served two and one-half years in the U.S. Navy during World War II and later completed his college work.

He is survived by his wife, the former Aline Owens, a son and daughter, Brad and Ann; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Burt now of Mangum; a brother and two sisters, Warren Burt of San Francisco and Mrs. Jack Sartin of Oklahoma City and Mrs. George Curb of Amarillo.

PROVED HIS POINT

H. Lloyd King, Jr., 12, of Little Rock, Ark., won a certificate of merit from the Boy Scouts of America recently for saving his 5-year-old brother from drowning last May. Last summer, Lloyd took a life-saving course from the Red Cross and flunked it. They said he could not swim well enough.

Family Farm Has No. 1 Spot in Agriculture

COLLEGE STATION.—Is the family farm on the way out? "Far from it," reports Tom Prater, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University.

"In fact," said Prater, "according to the 1964 census of agriculture, the number of family farms in the U.S. is growing—and the future looks even brighter."

A 1964 estimate of farm numbers shows that family-operated farms make up about 60% of the total. They also account for about 75% of all farm marketings, said Prater.

Another optimistic note: the most rapidly expanding part of the farm economy, says Prater, is family farms producing $10,000 or more in gross sales annually.

Of all the farms in the U.S. with $10,000 or more annual sales, 88% are family farms. These family farms account for 67% of the national farm production.

And among larger farms—those with $40,000 or more in annual sales—the rapid increase in family farms is even more noticeable. Estimates are that family farms make up some 40% of these larger units and are growing every day.

The number of all farms in the U.S. is declining, but those which have disappeared were small units, said Prater. Most of those which have dropped from the scene produced less than $2,500 annually in sales. This means production will be concentrated on a smaller number of larger farms.

During the next five years, Prater sees the number of farms in the $10,000-plus category continuing to grow. Since these are mainly family farms, the bulk of the nation's food and fiber will be produced by farm families who operate and manage their own business.

WTU NOTEBOOK—PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

The Area Development Department - a WTU community service

WHY WTU HAS AN AREA DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT

- As a service organization, we have a basic responsibility to assist the communities we serve to grow and develop to their full potentials and capabilities.
- We have one basic product to sell — electricity — the area we operate in must grow if we are to grow.
- We have an investment in each community we serve, we are anchored in that community — unlike other companies which can move their plants and equipment elsewhere.

WHAT THIS DEPARTMENT IS ORGANIZED TO DO

- Assist in the planning of community development and improvement programs and in making community audits, surveys and analyses.
- Assist in forming industrial foundations and districts, in selecting plant sites, and advising on planning.
- Assist in preparing statistical data, advertising material, and in organizing and training industrial teams.
- In industrial development, we prepare market analyses for prospects, make detailed studies on factors affecting plant site location, and make personal calls on prospects for the communities.
- Conduct an active program of direct mail and personal calls on industries that might locate in our service area.

THE LOCAL WTU MANAGER — HIS VALUE TO YOU

- As a local businessman, along with others in the community, he is interested in its growth and development.
- He devotes his time and services on community programs and projects.
- He is YOUR contact with WTU.

Ask your WTU local manager for additional information and services available.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Walls

The election on the proposed dam on Salt Fork is closer than we think. A considerable amount of the activity was held on the eve of press day or on press day itself; but we will do our best to get the information to you in the next issue.

There are certain facts that were true two years ago and which will be true two weeks from now when we go to the polls. The first is that we must act now to retain what rights we have left to the waters in the streams that flow in Collingsworth County. We have lost too much of our water rights even now. The second is that most of the bond issue will be paid for out of revenue.

In another part of the paper is a story on the speech of Ben Hickey, manager of the Tarrant County Water Control District relating to what happened to various small towns when lakes were built in their vicinity as well as to what happened to the land values as far as fifteen to thirty miles from the lake shore.

As I said last week what is least understood is the fact that the lake will increase the value of the land that is not irrigated. Mr. Hickey gave ample evidence of how this worked in other communities and his story is worth reading.

Herbert Duncan was asking about the election and after talking to him, I started thinking. He sees more people in a day than I do in a week and so do all the other men who deliver soft drinks, milk, bread and all the other produce that is sold and delivered to the various stores daily. If all of these men were to band together in a common cause they could be an important factor in the coming election. Study now so that you will be informed and hold your fire until the last week.

The full moon was sinking as the sun was rising on Wednesday morning and you could look at one in the west and the other in the east. It was a contrast of golden red and silver blue. Easter comes the first Sunday after the first full moon after the vernal equinox and that is the reason Easter is sometimes late in March and sometimes late in April. It is a man-made date selected by the church officials in order that the pilgrims could travel by the light of the full moon as they traveled to some holy place.

J. M. Strong says that you should wait until after Easter to put out geraniums and other flowers of that nature, and I say that you might as well go fishing until May before you start putting out dahlias even if I do have some coming up that I was too lazy to store last fall.

Mrs. Palo Cummings left home last Sunday for a visit with friends and returned to find six dogs in her flower beds. She wanted to know what to do about them. I suggested using Black Leaf 40 on the plants and dog deterrent on the ground. I did not mention a small amount of birdshot out of the end of a 12 gauge; because I did not want to get Palo into any more trouble than he is capable of getting into himself.

Marsh Speaks for Kiwanis

Deputy Sheriff Troy Marsh presented a program to the Kiwanis Club Friday, April 1. The program was a speech on crime and youth problems.

One point which was stressed in this talk was giving the youth something to do so they would have no reason to step into the path of crime. Another thing was about delinquency and crime starting in the home. The parents should help raise their children and not make the law do it, Marsh said.

Singers Meet at Trinity Church

The regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at Trinity Methodist Church Sunday, April 10, from 2 to 4 p.m.

There will be many singers from out of town, as reported by Mrs. Isbell.

Anyone who appreciates good gospel music and singing is invited to attend this event.

No Leads

3 Burglaries Reported During Friday Night

Three Wellington business firms were burglarized Friday night, April 1, but little was taken and officers early this week were working without leads, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

The three businesses entered were Marvin Manuel Grocery on Haskell Street, Singley Mill and Elevator and Warrick Feed Store.

Entry was made through a window at the Manuel Grocery and an undetermined amount of cigarettes and small change was taken, the sheriff said.

At Singley's, the glass pane of the front door was broken and the lock released. As far as could be determined, nothing was taken.

A window was broken at Warrick Feed Store and small change was taken from the cash register along with some candy, Sheriff Rainey said.

The three burglaries were reported early Saturday morning. Sheriff Rainey also reported that an apparent attempt was made to enter the bakery warehouse of Alton Wilkins a block north of the square on East Avenue. The lock was broken on the door, Wilkins reported.

Guard Receives High Rating at Inspection Tues.

Wellington's National Guard Battery A received the highest rating in the second battalion from a team making its command maintenance and materiel inspection Tuesday, March 29.

Notice of the score, 96 out of a possible 100, was received during the week by Capt. James Chappell, commanding officer. The inspection team of 8 men, each working in a specialized field, represented the state maintenance officer of the Adjutant General's Department of the State of Texas.

Each piece of equipment used by the battery was completely torn down and put back together.

"For example, 44 rifles are assigned in the battery. Each was torn down completely, inspected, and put back together," said M/Sgt. Jack Frost.

This inspection is to determine if the equipment is combat ready, Capt. Chappell explained. Every piece used by Battery A was judged ready to go.

This Battalion is made up of four Batteries, those at Wichita Falls, Vernon, Wellington and Shamrock.

Two more inspections remain — the Administrative and Supply inspection Tuesday, April 12, and the inspection of the ranks Saturday, April 16.

The administrative and supply inspection is an IG inspection, to be conducted by Lt. Col. Albert F. Fisher of Wichita Falls, the staff assistant for division artillery. He will be assisted by Major Billy Blankenship, staff assistant for the Second Battalion, 131st Artillery; Col. Lawrence K. Hannon of Wichita Falls, unit advisor for the United States Army, and SWO Montgomery, administrative specialist and also of Wichita Falls.

The initial inspection was made less than a week after Capt. Chappell took command of the battery and a re-inspection was scheduled.

The inspection in ranks will be approximately two hours long, beginning at 5 p.m. In charge will be Lt. Col. Henry W. Barton, division Artillery Commander of Wichita Falls. Col. Barton is a professor of English at Midwestern University.

Lt. Col. John J. Stockton is the commanding officer of the 2nd Battalion, 131st Artillery, with headquarters at Wichita Falls.

WHS Students Win District 2-A Speech, Typing

Eight students represented Wellington high school in the literary events of the District 2-A Interscholastic League contests in White Deer Saturday, April 2 and all of these placed among the top four in their respective contests.

Henry Wells won first place in the boys division of poetry interpretation, and will represent the school in the regional contest at Lubbock later this month.

Three students won second places and they are alternates should the first place winners in their categories be unable to attend the regional meet.

Jimmy Campbell placed second in persuasive speaking, Beth Sikes in the girls division of poetry interpretation and Beth Smith in prose reading.

Mike Smith won third place in boys extemporaneous speaking and Nancy Sikes was third in girls extemporaneous speaking.

The typing team, made up of Mildred Lewis and Tanya Horton, was fourth.

Mrs. Bob McAlister coached the speech events and Mrs. Dee Holliman the typing students.

New Trustees Named at Three County Schools

New faces will appear on the school boards at Wellington, Quail and Dodson as a result of the trustee elections held Saturday, April 2.

Quail had the only contested election, where voters returned Carl Wischkaemper to the board with 46 votes, then voted in Ralph Tension with 61 votes and Roy Canada with 58.

Elmer E. Feemster received 41 votes, Lonnie Neeley 17 and W. H. Cooke 11. Neeley and Cooke were the incumbents. Raymond Ross received one write-in vote.

At Wellington, John Sherman received 132 votes to be re-elected to his place on the board, and J. B. Killian 118.

Nineteen write-in votes were cast for Richard Nall and Jeff Wilson had two write-ins.

Floyd Teutsch was returned to the Dodson board with 36 votes and Tommy Van was elected with 31 write-in votes. Van's election as a write-in candidate came about after the death of Edwin Crowder, a candidate for re-election, after the filing deadline had passed. Wendell Burge received ten write-in votes.

At Samnorwood, Jim Ray and W. A. Bentley were candidates for re-election and each received 31 votes. There were no write-ins.

Wellington Band Adds Another Top Rating

The Wellington high school band received a first-division rating in sight reading at the Borger Band Festival Saturday, April 2—the first time it has received the top rank in that category.

The band also received a second division in concert playing.

"The judges' comments were very good," said Band Director James Larson, who estimates that a few more weeks work will make the red-clad musicians capable of more first divisions at the University Interscholastic League contests.

Judges in the concert division were Floren Thompson of Eastern New Mexico University, Portales; Dean Killian, band director of Texas Tech; and Mr. Smith, band director at Brownfield.

Warren Thaxton of Abilene was judge in the sight reading. The entire 60-piece concert band participated in the Borger Festival.

The band will compete in the University Interscholastic League contest in Hereford on April 28, and another first division rating here will put the Wellington high school musicians in line for sweepstakes honors.

Only 30 or 40 of these are awarded in the entire state during a year, Larson said.

from the city of Trinidad that gets its water from the lake.

"A large industrial complex has started adjacent to this fertilizer plant that will in turn bring new people and require new water," Hickey continued.

Hickey turned to water recreation. It is difficult, he told the group, for people who are not used to water recreation to have it thrown at them.

"People will come to this lake for boating and skiing. Towns that are near a lake are fortunate, such as the small town of Kemp. A one-acre tract of land sold for $15,000 for business that ordinarily would have sold for $1,000," Hickey said.

Around the lake there are permanent homes, week end camps, boat storage places, boat repair places and there are businesses up and down the highway, the Collingsworth group was told.

To give further evidence of recreation value, the speaker told of one lake of 30,000 acre feet capacity on which 300 to 400 boats may be found regularly along with concessions and businesses. The Salt Fork reservoir will have a capacity in excess of 100,000 acre feet.

"Your lake is small, but we are surrounded by lakes, so this will distribute out population-wise. Your recreation value will be greater percentage-wise than ours. You have lesser population, but you have

Rotary Elects Bill Moseley 1966-7 President

New officers of the Wellington Rotary Club were elected in a business meeting which followed the program of the luncheon meeting Tuesday, April 6.

Billy Moseley was elected president, and Jack Neeley secretary-treasurer. The directors for the coming year are Neeley, Rev. Todd, Moseley, John Sherman, Milford Harris and Paul Guthrie.

Guthrie is the outgoing president, while W. T. McAdams was vice president and Elvis White secretary-treasurer.

The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in July.

Moseley was in charge of the program for the Tuesday meeting and talked on the history and heritage of the American flag.

Grain, Cotton Sign-up Period Gets Extension

The Collingsworth County ASCS has received notice that the Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced a one-week extension of the feed grain sign-up period through April 8 in soybean producing areas in 26 states in which the feed grain sign-up had been scheduled to end April 1.

At the same time to make the programs uniform, the sign-up for wheat and cotton programs is being extended in the same states. This includes Texas.

Since all eligible farmers in Collingsworth County have already signed up this is of interest to them only in that they will have a chance to revise their intentions if they wish before April 8.

Robert Morris and Haym Solomon helped finance the American Revolution.

fewer lakes," Hickey pointed out. "You surely can expect an increase in population. We have seen it happen."

"This is not guess-work or hear-say," he declared. "You can check the population increase. You can check industry that has come in and it has been due to one thing—the lake."

It was pointed out that construction of the dam will release large sums of money for materials and labor, and although the heavier impact will be in the precincts where the lake is, the county as a whole will be affected.

Schools were affected in the Tarrant County Water District.

"I live at the Eagle Mountain reservoir. We had a small common school district and the lake took most of our good taxable land off the rolls. We had a hard time for a long time. Now I guess we are one of the richest districts, barring East Texas oil districts, and it has come with the development of industry caused by recreation around Eagle Mountain reservoir."

A lake keeps the young people of a community at home. Hickey believes, then referred to Lone Star Fertilizer which employs approximately 200 people, by and large young people from that community, who otherwise would be going some where else to make a living.
