Lee picked to head chamber

Rocky Lee, co-owner of Summerfield Fertilizer, was elected Thursday as the 1989 president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Lee, named Citizen of the Year for 1982, will succeed Larry Malamen.

Lee served as vice president this year. Directors also elected Doug Josserand, First National Bank, as vice president for 1989, and reelected Carol Sue LeGate as treasurer.

In other business Thursday, the C of C board approved participation in a cooperative industrial project, discussed the chamber's role with the Economic Development Council, and heard committee progress reports.

President Larry Malamen announced his resignation as the chamber representative to the EDC. Since Lee is already an at-large member of EDC, the board will name a new representative soon.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, presented a report on a cooperative marketing project and recommended the chamber's participation. Called "The High Ground of Texas," the project is sponsored by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, South Plains Association of Governments, the Lubbock-Garza Counties Private Industry Council, the South Plains Community Action Corporation, and Southwestern Public Service Co.

The primary aim of the project will be to place ads in an area development magazine, with participating communities receiving copies of all ad responses and training on prospect development. Participating communities pay a $500 membership fee, while the sponsoring entities fund the major portion of the project with money from the Job Training Partnership Act program.

Carr reported that the recent After Hours Business Mixer, sponsored by the chamber and local feed yards, was "a big success." Directors recommended that the mixer be conducted quarterly.

Sue Malamen, Women's Division leader, reported that group had conducted the annual Christmas Tree Lighting ceremony at the courthouse. The group also sponsors the Christmas Lighting contest and judging will be held Dec. 19 to determine the winners.

The board also received copies of Market Penetration, a report issued by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service which measures retail sales "leakage" from local economies. Based on actual sales dollars and potential sales in each county, the report calculates the "draw factor" to show how well merchants are penetrating the market.

The report on Deaf Smith County shows a sales penetration of about 75% in 1987. A graph on the draw factor shows local penetration ranging from a high of 235% in 1983 to a low of 65% in 1986. Figures go back to 1977, when the local draw was about 70%.

The figures for Potter County show a draw factor above 100% each year, ranging from 160% to 186% and indicating that Amarillo draws dollars from all around the area.

Directors attending Thursday's board meeting included Malamen, Lee, LeGate, Josserand, B.J. Gililland, Temple Abney, Fred Rivera, and Sue Malamen.

New chamber leaders

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce board elected new officers Thursday with Rocky Lee, left, being named as the 1989 president and Doug Josserand taking the vice president's role. arol Sue LeGate was reelected as treasurer of the board. Lee will succeed Larry Malamen as the C of C leader.

Dear Hereford: Stay warm

(Andrea Wall of Hereford joined "Up With People" this summer, and after a six-week training session at the Tucson, Ariz. headquarters, began touring with one of the five casts performing the same "Time For The Music" program performed by Cast "E" here earlier this year.

She is now doing advance promotion in Sweden. Here is her report.)

We arrived in Norway on Nov. 3 with snow already on the ground, and it just keeps snowing.

We started our Norwegian tour in Tonsberg, in the southern part of Norway. From Tonsberg, we went to Gjovik, then to Lillehammer.

In Lillehammer we got to see where the construction was beginning for the 1994 Winter Olympics. It was very exciting to see how a little town not much bigger than Hereford, only 24,000, was adjusting to hold up to 200,000 people.

Next we traveled to Honefess, then to Oslo. I thought Oslo, as the capital of Norway, might be like Austin. WRONG! It was a very big town, but it felt more like a small one.

There were tall buildings, but it was nothing like our big cities. It has 1 million people in its city limits and it seems more like Amarillo.

We then traveled to Skien, Otta and Larvik. Larvik is one of the oldest cities in Norway.

The first night I was there I was telling my host family how much I loved all of their antiques. They had this beautiful lamp that was 150 years old, and they said it was not even middle age yet.

I laughed because I thought they were joking. Then my host dad asked me how old I thought the couch I was sitting on was. I said, "Oh, I don't know, 100 years maybe." He told me more so I guessed 150 or 175.

He laughed and told me that it was 326 years old. I immediately jumped up and sat in another chair. He told me it was all right for me to sit in it. I just looked at him and said, "I don't feel comfortable sitting on a couch that was older than my country!"

I left the cast in Larvik to go to Ostersund, Sweden, to do the advance promotion work. Ostersund is really great. It has a small-town lifestyle.

ANDREA WALL

This was Sweden's candidate for the 1994 Winter Olympics. It is really nice, but it has not stopped snowing since I got here. It is a very friendly town, and it has been very warm and receptive to this little country girl from Texas.

The Scandinavian culture is quite different from outs. The meals and most of the activities are all family-oriented. A meal will usually take 60 to 90 minutes because they do all of their communicating at this time.

The food is very healthy and very good. The only thing is that their idea of spicy is adding a dash of salt and maybe even a bit of pepper.

Something that really threw me for a loop was that they do not have sheets and blankets here. They will have a fitted flannel sheet on the bottom and a down comforter on top. I never thought that could keep me warm when it gets 30 below, but it really does.

The thing that is probably the worst and the hardest to get used to not having is the beef. The people eat bread and cheese for all three meals and even for their snack. This is just a little hard to get used to when you are raised in the beef capital of the world.

That's another thing. You would be amazed at the way they keep their cattle. They are kept in pins individually that are about eight feet wide and nine to ten feet long. They were amazed when I told them how we keep ours.

Now let me tell you about the wonderful things. Its not a really cold feeling when you go outside. Sure, it's cold, but I have known times when it was colder in Texas. Their breads and cheeses are very

Farm group asks for delay on form

AUSTIN (AP)--Thousands of farmers, trying to dig themselves out of debt, are too busy to fill out 1 1/2 pounds of forms requesting information on how they plan to pay off that debt, farm group representatives said today.

The groups are asking for a 45-day extension of the deadline to return debt restructuring packages to the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

The FmHA mailed the forms to 7,000 Texas farmers. The deadline to return the information is Jan. 1, said Jon Crunk of Lubbock, rural director of Texans United.

Seven thousand family farmerscould lose their land through foreclosure if they don't meet the deadline, said Crunk and Lana Nelson, a board director of Farm Aid and head of Texans United.

"If this is the federal government's idea of a Christmas present to the farmers, then Scrooge is definitely alive and well and living in the White House," said Nelson.

crunk said thousands of farmers are busy with harvest and have niether the time nor the necessary information to complete the forms.

For example, he said, federal price support payments to farmers have not been announced. This information is critical to make an accurate cash-flow or repayment projection, he said.

Dear Santa

Clarissa Lucero, Micah Reiter, Heather Guynes and Johnnie Sims of the First Baptist Church kindergarten delivered the class' letter to Santa this week to the Hereford Brand offices. The letter had a Christmas wish of all 72 students, and teachers reported the hardest part was getting each child to make just one choice. The giant letter will be printed in the Dec. 23 edition of the Brand and will forwarded to the North Pole along with the rest of the letters received by the Brand. Letters must be received by Monday.

CSF can help with big loss

The simplest of possessions are often taken for granted in our day-to-day lives, yet having such items could brighten the Christmas holiday for a local woman who has applied for help from the Christmas Stocking Fund.

The woman was living with another family when a fire destroyed most of the contents of the home, and the woman lost all her personal possessions. Since she didn't own the furnishings in the structure, she was unable to get at settlement for her own losses.

The woman now has a vacant apartment, but no furniture. She has asked CSF for help in obtaining a bed and mattress.

Simple comforts such as these, or items of warm bedding or clothing, could brighten the holiday of many applicants for assistance from CSF this year. CSF has also received many requests for assistance with food or medical expenses.

Through the contributions of caring and sharing residents within the community, CSF works to address such needs and concerns of the community's less fortunate during the Yule season. CSF is a non-profit group administered by a committee of anonymous volunteers.

The delivery date for assistance packages from CSF is only a week away, now, but there's still time to make our contribution to this year's CSF effort.

Donations may be made in person at the offices of The Hereford Brand, 313 Lee, or mailed to CSF, c/o Box 673, Hereford. The Brand will periodically publish listings of contributors.

Babbling Brooks

By JOHN BROOKS

Ricky Romero and his little troupe of wrestlers will be in Hereford on Saturday night.

The wrestling card is being sponsored by the Hereford High School band to help pay for the band's trip to Washington, D.C. next June.

There are a half-dozen matches on the card, including some guy wrestling the "Hereford Assassin," whoever he is.

The printer of the cards didn't have enough room to print the wrestler's "real" name, which is "Hereford Assassin." Instead of abbreviating Hereford, they made the unfortunate choice of abbreviating Assassin.

I made the mistake of going out into the hallway at halftime of one of the basketball games Tuesday night to take care of my nicotine habit. I wandered down the hall to where all the other smokers were gathered.

They were standing in front of one of those ashtray-container-dealies they put in hallways.

They were also standing in front of one of the wrestling cards.

"That's who it is! It's Brooks," one of them said.

"Wh-wh-wh-wh-what?" I calmly asked.

They explained they were all trying to figure out who the "Hereford Assassin", abbreviated, was on the card.

There were about 10 guys standing there, and it was a unanimous decision.

A minute later, a short, raspy-voiced coach of this year's tenth-ranked football team came over.

These guys apologized to the coach. Seems they had earlier accused him of being the "Hereford Assassin (abbreviated)."

"We're sorry, Coach. You're not the guy. It's Brooks."

Oh, well, it's nice to be loved.

This is Dec. 16, and I still don't have my Christmas tree up.

For some reason, it's been hard for me to get into the "spirit" of things this year.

I also have not yet purchased a single Christmas gift, nor have I written or addressed a Christmas card.

Perhaps it's time we moved Christmas.

Why do we celebrate Christmas in December?

I know it's to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ, but Christ was born in the spring, not in the dead of winter. There used to be a pagan celebration toward the end of December, and it was turned into Christmas back when Beowulf was on the best-seller list.

Why not have Christmas in March or April. We could switch it around, like Easter. If Easter is in March, have Christmas in April, and vice-versa.

There are no holidays in January or August. Flag Day's in June. We celebrate Flag Day by getting out, driving to work, and wondering the whole time what in the world the flags are doing up until we get to work, look on the calendar, and see that it's Flag Day.

I guess we won't change the date for Christmas this year. It's been on Dec. 25 for too long.

Plus, Janey Allmon has typed up most of the Santa letters.

If we moved Christmas, she'd string me up.

Conservatives split on Tower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some conservatives are complaining that John Tower is not a strong enough Star Wars backer, but others say the leading candidate for defense secretary has promised to push for the space-based missile defense system.

The split in conservative ranks over Tower's possible appointment came as the former Texas senator prepared to talk with President-elect Bush about the Pentagon job, according to sources speaking on condition they remain anonymous.

C. Boyden Gray, legal counsel for the transition, on Thursday presented Bush with a final background report on Tower, who has been dogged by allegations of womanizing and drinking stemming in part from his 1987 divorce. Transition aides said there appeared to be nothing in the FBI report that would disqualify Tower.

Defense backer or slacker?

One of the major opponents of Tower's appointment was Daniel O. Graham, who has complained publicly that Tower is not totally supportive of the Strategic Defense Initiative, or Star Wars.

"He's not for SDI," said Graham, head of High Frontier, a group that lobbies for Star Wars. "He's for such foolish ideas ... such as Midgetman, which is one of the dumbest systems I've ever encountered." The mobile Midgetman nuclear weapon is in the research stage as a replacement for the aging Minuteman missile.

But Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., a new member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had a "long talk" with Tower about Star Wars and, "I am satisfied that he is persuaded that early deployment is a good thing."

Tower has been unavailable for comment since reports about his possible appointment surfaced, but aides said he has been a strong supporter of SDI in negotiations with the Soviets in Geneva, Switzerland.

Edward Rowny, a special adviser to President Reagan on arms control, said he has always known Tower to support Star Wars.

But Graham said Tower sought to have a watered-down platform on Star Wars adopted at the Republican National Convention in New Orleans. The former general also said he fears Star Wars will fall victim to budget-cutting in the early 1990s as Pentagon officials seek to pay for existing weapons systems while aiming to cut the deficit.

But Wallop said early deployment of Star Wars "is not a big expense."

On the other side of the fence, some Democrats have complained that Tower may be too close to defense contractors to make the tough cuts needed to trim federal spending.

Reagan's military budget, slated to go to Congress Jan. 9, calls for increasing this year's total of $299.5 billion by 2 percent after allowing for inflation.

Bush has indicated he will settle for zero growth after inflation.

Meantime, Wallop said he doesn't think Tower is "so totally crippled" by the prolonged appointment process that he wouldn't be an effective defense secretary.

But both Democrats and Republicans, including Sen. John McCain, R-Ariz., complained that Bush should not have kept Tower hanging. Former Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger said the delay "may have done damage to the office or to Sen. Tower personally."

Insurers seek 6.5 percent rate hike

AUSTIN (AP) — Citing increased costs of bodily injury claims, the insurance industry says it will ask the State Board of Insurance for a 6.5 percent statewide average hike in private auto insurance rates next month.

Grant Dostert, chairman of the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office, said Thursday that "the modest rate increase" was needed because insurers have seen increases in both the frequency and severity of claims, "with substantial losses in bodily injury coverages."

Dostert said that during the most recent statistical reporting period, Texas insurers saw an 8.25 percent increase in the frequency of claims and a 9.4 percent jump in their severity. Combined, that produced an 18.4 percent increase in bodily injury losses, he said.

Similar increases in auto-related personal injury lawsuits also were recorded, he said.

Dostert said that the losses for physical damage coverages had improved.

The insurance industry spokesman said he anticipates that the industry rate recommendation will differ from that to be made by the insurance board's staff.

Suits, clothes needed for Boys Ranch Christmas presents

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch is continuing its annual drive to provide new suits and clothing for the almost-400 boys living at Boys Ranch.

The gift of a new suit or a clothing package through the Christmas Suit Fund is a constant reminder of the spirit of Christmas throughout the year. The suits, or clothing such as jackets, trousers and shirts, replace those that have been worn out or simply outgrown. In many cases, these are the boys' first new suits.

For many years, area residents have purchased new clothing for the boys as a favorite way of Christmas giving. Special discounts by area merchants and differences in clothing prices for younger and older boys make an average need of $50 per boy. Gifts of any amount are also necessary to insure Boys Ranch's goal of providing for every youngster.

"We are extremely fortunate to have people who continue to share whatever they can at Christmastime to help outfit our boys," said Boys Ranch President L. Raeburn Hamner Jr.

Among the boys receiving clothing are members of the 1989 Boys Ranch Senior Class who will wear their new suits at graduation.

Contributions to the Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, 79174.

Performer sentenced to 6 years

AIKEN, S.C. (AP) — Despite a plea by soul singer James Brown that he'd do anything to avoid prison and continue performing, a judge sentenced him to six years for failing to stop for police in a two-state car chase.

Circuit Judge Hubert Long sentenced Brown on Thursday after an Aiken County jury convicted the 55-year-old "Godfather of Soul" of one count of failing to stop for police and two counts of aggravated assault in the Sept. 24 chase.

The jury acquitted Brown of two counts of assault with intent to kill.

Long gave Brown a choice in sentencing him on the assault convictions: pay a $6,000 fine and spend five years on probation or do six months in prison. Brown won't have to decide until after he serves the six-year term, said the prosecutor, Solicitor Robert Harte.

Brown, who could have drawn a 20-year term, will be eligible for parole after serving 1½ years. He could win earlier eligibility for good behavior or prison work, Harte said.

"He's going to serve some time," Harte said. "I can't say how much, but it's going to be a substantial amount."

"Mr. Brown is resigned to the fate the jury has handed him. There's no point in arguing any further," defense lawyer Bill Weeks said.

Brown's attorneys, however, were expected to return to court today to file appeal motions.

The jury deliberated for more than three hours before convicting the Grammy Award-winner, who lives in Beech Island about five miles southeast of Augusta, Ga.

Afterward, Brown, holding a small Bible, told Long about his delinquency as a juvenile and the difficulties he faced early in life.

"The only thing that held me together was when I looked at the (U.S.) flag, and that represented a chance," he said.

"I respect police, without them we have nothing. Any law is better than no law. (America) ... that's the only thing I've got to believe in — the greatest flag in the world.

"James Brown the man wants to do right. I've wanted to do right all my life," Brown said. "I'll do anything I can not to go to prison, so I can continue my work."

COL. L.P. "PETE" HANSEN
Dec. 13, 1988

Col. L.P. "Pete" Hansen, 64, died Dec. 13, 1988, at his home in Winter Springs, Fla. after a long illness.

Memorial services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Col. Hansen was born in Waubac, Neb. and attended the University of Nebraska. He retired in 1974 from the Air Force after 32 years of service as a bomber pilot. He married Billee Ra Johnson of Summerfield in 1950. She is the daughter of Mrs. Ray Johnson of Summerfield. He was preceded in death by a daughter, Diane, in 1974.

Survivors include his wife, Billee Ra of the home; two sons, David of Germany and Dan of Santa Barbara, Calif.; and his mother, Mrs. Hans Hansen of Grand Island, Neb.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to Pete Hansen Memorial Garden, First United Church, 125 N. Interlachen Ave., Winter ^Park, Fla. 32790.

Mortality rate for Texas hospitals goes past predicted rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost 6 percent of Texas hospitals had death rates among Medicare patients exceeding federal projections, but officials caution that one or two deaths at some of the small facilities on the list could skew the findings.

The Health Care Financing Administration study released Thursday showed that 27, or 5.8 percent, of the 466 Texas hospitals surveyed had death rates among Medicare patients in 1987 above what was predicted for each facility by an elaborate statistical model.

Nationally, 188 hospitals were above the range, or 3.2 percent of the total.

Ed Lessard, chief of the medical review branch of the HCFA's Region 6 office in Dallas, said a mortality rate that exceeds the predicted range "may or may not suggest a problem" and that prospective patients "might want to look a little further" before being treated at the facility.

He cautioned, however, that the study "is only one small part of the information that you should gather before you decide on a hospital."

The Texas Hospital Association criticized the study, saying "quality of care cannot be evaluated by simplistic statistical comparisons."

"As HCFA's administrator, Dr. William L. Roper has stated, it is important to understand that the difference between the hospital's mortality rate and the predicted values in the tables may not be a direct measure of the quality of care rendered, and that this information can be very misleading," the association said.

The HCFA, which administers the Medicare program, noted that the mortality rates do not reflect the severity of a patient's illness or overall health status, which could contribute to the mortality rate.

Jim Houdek, a senior vice president of the Texas Hospital Association, said a mortality rate of one or two percentage points above the predicted range may be due to "statistical flukes," especially among small hospitals where one or two deaths can boost mortality rates beyond the predicted range.

He said the third annual HCFA study was also a diversion to take public attention away from issue of cutting hospitals' Medicare payments.

Of the 27 Texas hospitals above the range, 16 were just one percentage point out and another five were two points higher than the predicted range. HCFA measured deaths of Medicare patients within 30 days of admission.

Two hospitals were five percentage points higher than the predicted range — the highest in the state — Seton Holy Cross in Austin, with a 32 percent actual mortality rate.

Ann Landers

DEAR READERS: Here is a Paul Harvey broadcast from December of 1979. Several readers have sent it to me, and I think it is well worth printing during this holiday season.

AND A NEW PAIR OF SHOES

How would you like a job--long hours, hard work and low pay? You may have to settle in Atchison, Kan.--population 16,000. You will be paid $100 a week before taxes. You and your wife will have to live in a dingy one-room walk-up.

And one pot of soup will have to last four days.

But there is a fringe benefit: you get a new pair of shoes. And in those shoes you can walk from here to Eternity.

You are a single girl. How would you like a job in Chicago?

Be sure before you apply, because you will not work in an immaculate skyscraper office in the Loop. You will work behind a shabby Skid Row storefront patronized by winos and cockroaches and whores, and the depraved and the diseased and the desperate. There will be rodents and more cockroaches.

But you will get a new pair of shoes--and guaranteed security here and forever after.

I set out to figure out why anybody would enlist in the Salvation Army.

Basic training is two tedious, difficult years of intensive study and long hours of training--130 hours of academic courses. If there is any spare time, trainees work as janitors in and around the school.

When a cadet graduates, he is commissioned as an ordained minister and certified social worker. But all that certifies him or her for is another one to three years of internship, understudying other officers.

The Salvation Army's cost containment record is the envy of all industry and most charities. Ninety percent of all income comes to help feed and clothe or care for some desperate, destitute somebody.

You, as an officer of the Army, will be expected to support yourself on the take-home pay of less than $10 a day. And it's a seven-day work week. And there are 16-hour days.

And yet, while our nation's military services are unable to fill enlistment quotas with much higher pay, limitless benefits and generous retirement, the Salvation Army has never in its history had to advertise for recruits. It is still an honor to be accepted, and it is considered an accomplishment to graduate and a treasured privilege to serve in the Salvation Army.

It's got to be those shoes.

This Christmas when you see a selfless lad or lass from the Army standing in the cold beside a kettle, whether you drop a coin in or not, you will be greeted by a beautiful, fair-faced smile. Smile back. And then glance at those beautiful shoes. They walk where you and I would not dare to.

We all want to go where they are going without having been where they have been. Good luck to us.

DEAR READERS: My laugh for the day--this bon mot by Jim Eason: If you want to look young and thin, hang out with old fat people.

Feeling pressured to go "all the way" because everyone else is doing it? You're not alone. Social Security

QUESTION: During the last two years have worked in temporary employment for an employment agency. How can I find out how many Social Security credits I have earned during that time?

ANSWER: You may find out how many Social Security credits you have received by simply completing a "Request for Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement" Form. Whey you do this, you will receive a statement of your earnings covered by Social Security, the number of credits you have earned, and an estimate of retirement, survivor, and disability benefits.

QUESTION: A co-worker asked me if I was "fully insured" for Social Security retirement benefits, but I wasn't sure how to answer him. How can I find out if I am fully insured?

ANSWER: You are fully insured for Social Security retirement benefits when you have earned credits for a certain amount of work under Social Security. To attain fully insured status for retirement benefits, 1 credit is required for each year since 1950, up to a maximum of 40 credits. For individuals retiring in 1988, 37 credits (or 9 1/2 years of work) is required to be eligible.

Study club meets for luncheon

Members of Pioneer Study Club met Tuesday at Sirloin Stockade with Mabel Heard and Bessie Hill serving as co-hostesses.

A short business meeting was held at which time a Christmas basket for a needy family was filled and cards and stamps for the Veteran's Hospital were collected.

Mary Panciera reviewed the book "the Shepherd" by Federick Forsyth. The author lives in Ireland and has had three bestsellers. When he was 19, he was recognized as the youngest fighter pilot in the Royal Air Force.

"The Shepherd" is the story of a young R.A. F. pilot guiding his jet fighter high over the ^North Sea, his mind on his home in England and the Christmas holiday leave ahead. Suddenly the plane's entire electrical system has blown. How he lives to tell the tale is a very interesting.

Luncheon was served on a table decorated with fresh ginger blossoms and holly brought from Florida by Billee Johnson.

Those present included Hill, Johnson, Etoile Manning, Gladys Miller, Panciera, Eunice ^Petersen, Fern Sigle, Rosemary Thomas, Willie Wimberly and guest, Maria Escamillia.

A drug that dissolves gallstones is now available inthe U.S.

Carter, Judson meet Saturday in finals

By The Associated Press

Dallas Carter, survivor of a legal battle that lasted more than one month, makes its first state championship appearance at noon Saturday in the Class 5A title game against former champion Converse Judson.

The Cowboys, 13-0-1, are the first Dallas team to play for the state title since Sunset beat Houston Reagan 14-6 in 1950.

Texas Stadium, site of Saturday's game, is a happy home for Converse Judson.

Judson (14-1) was the 1983 state champion, beating Midland Lee 25-21 in Texas Stadium.

Carter advanced to the final with a 14-9 victory over Odessa Permian Saturday in Austin.

"After all this, the least we could do is win," said Carter linebacker Jesse Armstead, referring to all of the Cowboys' legal troubles over a single algebra grade of defensive back Gary Edwards.

The Rockets beat Houston Stratford 16-0 in the other 5A semifinal without starting quarterback Tommy Ramey, who left in the first period with a thigh bruise.

Ramey, who was questionable for the Carter game, was replaced by Mike Jinks, who produced the key plays in the victory.

In Saturday's other title games, Paris (12-3) and West Orange-Stark (12-2) play for the Class 4A title at 2 p.m. at Kyle Field in College Station; Southlake Carroll (15-0) meets Navasota (12-3) at 8 p.m. at Floyd Casey Stadium in Waco for the 3A title; Quanah (14-1) meets Corrigan-Camden (14-0-1) for the 2A title at 7:30 p.m. at Pennington Field in Bedford; and White Deer (14-0) plays Flatonia (15-0) at 7:30 p.m. at the Mustang Bowl in Sweetwater.

Paris takes on a two-time defending state champion in West Orange-Stark which is led by running back Terrance Brown, who has gained 1,617 yards and scored 29 touchdowns.

Paris coach Allen Wilson said West-Orange Stark is soo good "they should be in the NCAA Division II or something. They have a lot of skill people and they play good defense."

Southlake Carroll lost last year to McGregor in the state semifinals and remembered how it felt to go so far only to lose.

"We wondered how we got beat," said running back Wayne Walker. "We don't want that feeling again."

Both teams are high scoring. Carroll has outscored its playoff opponents 198-15 while the Dragons have outscored opponents 595-71.

Three from Herd All-South Plains

Three Hereford Whiteface gridders have been named to the Class 4A All-South Plains grid team, it was reported today in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

The Herd's Pat Mercer was selected as a two-way member as a wide receiver and defensive back, while Bud Shirley, 5-10, 215-pound senior, and Brian Watts, 6-0, 220-pound senior were named as offensive linemen.

The 6-1, 175-pound Mercer was one of three players to make it both ways. The others were Sweetwater's Kenneth Norman and Monahans' Ralph Sanchez. Norman was named Player of the Year, while Levelland's Buster Leaf took Coach of the Year honors.

All the players on both the offensive and defensive teams are seniors. Joining Norman in the backfield are Cliff Williams of Dumas and quarterback Kevin McCullough of Frenship. Jeff Mankins of Frenship joined Mercer at the wide receiver spots.

Other offensive team members included tight end Ralph Sanchez of Monahans, center Rene Mendoza of Sweetwater, tackle Cam Moore of Pampa, guard Jessie Rios of Big Spring and kicker Louis Rose of Sweetwater.

Joining Mercer in the defensive backfield were Norman, Sanchez and Tim James of Levelland. In the line are are Sweetwater's Doug Parkhurst and Lucas Bugarin, Dunbar's Joe Blue and Ronnie Seals of Andrews. The linebacking crew features Estacado's Omar Moore, Monahans' Mark Pipkin and Sweetwater's Rolan Petty. Matt McIntosh of Borger was the punter.

Hereford's Shirley was selected to the dream team despite missing the last two regular season games and the playoffs due to a knee injury.

500,000 boys are steroid users

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 500,000 teen-age boys may be bulking up their bodies with the aid of steroids, and a health educator warns the trend may continue unless society ends an obsession with success in athletics.

"You have to change the values," said W.E. Buckley, assistant professor of health education at Pennsylvania State University.

"We're the ones putting all the emphasis on sports. We're the ones putting all the emphasis on appearance," he said.

"We're talking about potentially abusive behavior that has to be addressed directly, or we may have individuals who grow up and suffer adverse health consequences."

In a survey of 3,403 senior boys at 46 public and private high schools last year, 226 boys, or 6.6 percent of those responding said they had used steroids, Buckley and his associates report in today's Journal of the American Medical Association.

Although the research wasn't based on a random sample of the nation's high schools, the study suggested that between 250,000 and 500,000 of the nation's adolescents are using or have used steroids.

"I didn't have any idea it would be this high," Buckley said Thursday, calling his study the first of its scope in the nation.

Androgenic anabolic steroids are synthetic derivatives of male hormones that some athletes take to help build up their muscles. Doctors have reported in recent years that steroids have been linked to serious side effects such as mood swings, severe acne, baldness, temporary sterility, abnormal liver function, high blood pressure, cardiovascular disease and possibly cancer of the liver and testicles.

While nearly half the boys in the study using steroids said they did so to improve athletic performance, 26.7 percent said they swallowed them for the muscular appearance the drugs can help produce.

"It's the new-age, body beautiful, fitness people out there as well who are using anabolic steroids," Buckley said.

The study also showed that about one in five seniors claiming to take steroids said they got the drugs from a doctor, pharmacist or veterinarian, and 38.3 percent said they first took the drugs at age 15 or younger.

The study called for steroid education in junior highs, noting that 35 percent of those who said they used steroids did not participate in school sports.

Societal attitudes must be changed to get young people to avoid the quick-fix they think steroids can provide, Buckley said.

Parents looking for steroid use should watch for unusually fast muscle growth, mood swings, or flare-ups of acne in their children, Buckley said.

Harris picks favorites

Dallas Carter in 5A, West Orange-Stark in 4A, Southlake Carroll in 3A, Corrigan-Camden in 2A and White Deer in Class A have been picked to win this weekend's high school state champion football games by the Harris Rating System.

Harris made Carter (vs. Converse Judson), West Orange-Stark (going for a third-straight 4A title, facing Paris) and White Deer (vs. Flatonia) one-point favorites. Southlake Carrol is picked by 15 over Navasota, while Corrigan-Camden is favored by 16 over Quanah.

Sea Hawks win title

Hereford hosts Frenship in basketball games tonight

The Hereford varsity and junior varsity basketball teams are at home tonight, hosting Frenship in district 1-4A action at Whiteface Gym at Hereford Junior High.

Coach Frank Belcher's Lady Whitefaces will have to contend with Frenship's point guard, Rosie Llanes.

"Their other players are good but Llanes is their best player," Belcher said. "Last year she scored 14 points on us in the fourth quarter. We'll need a good effort against her.

"We'll have to take advantage of what they give us. If we learn from some of the mistakes we made against Randall, and continue to improve, we should be in good shape."

Coach Mike Fields' boys' team will be facing a tall Tiger squad.

"We'll be looking at the same thing as we looked at against Randall," Fields said. "They have six players that are 6-4 or taller.

"Coronado has a pretty good team, and they only beat Frenship by two. Frenship has a pretty good team."

Both Hereford teams want to have a better shooting night than they did Tuesday. The boys shot just 31 percent, 20-of-64, from the field. The girls fared little beter, making 18 of 53 shots.

Heat goes cold as Kings rally

By The Associated Press

The Miami Heat finally went cold. Its winning streak is over at one.

"We should have won. They know we should have won. We should have won both times," Miami's Rory Sparrow said after the Sacramento Kings rallied for a 94-90 victory Thursday night.

The expansion Heat, who lost a record 17 straight games to start the season before beating the Los Angeles Clippers on Wednesday night, led Sacramento 60-47 early in the third quarter.

But the Kings spoiled Miami's bid for a second successive road victory, rallying behind Vinny Del Negro's 11 points in the fourth quarter.

The Kings, whose five victories are tied for second-fewest in the NBA, squeezed past Miami for the second time in eight days. They have now won two in a row for the first time this season.

In other games, Houston beat Golden State 124-115 in double overtime, New York held off Utah 117-116, Cleveland trounced Detroit 119-98 and Seattle defeated San Antonio 122-107.

Rockets 124, Warriors 115

Derrick Chievous scored 12 of his 18 points in the second overtime and Houston beat visiting Golden State for the seventh straight time.

Houston's Sleepy Floyd made it 95-all at the end of regulation and Buck Johnson's basket with three seconds left in the first overtime lifted the Rockets into a tie at 106.

Floyd scored 24 points, Otis Thorpe had 22 points and 13 rebounds and Akeem Olajuwon had 19 points and 19 rebounds.

Chris Mullin led the Warriors with 28 points.

SuperSonics 122, Spurs 107

Dale Ellis scored 28 points and Xavier McDaniel added 27 as Seattle sent San Antonio to its fifth straight loss.

The SuperSonics used a 10-1 burst in the second quarter for a 59-43 lead. The visiting Spurs got no closer than 93-84 with 11 minutes left.

Willie Anderson scored 27 points and Greg Anderson had 22 points and 17 rebounds for San Antonio.

Knicks 117, Jazz 116

Gerald Wilkins made a 10-foot jump shot with 24 seconds left to put New York ahead and Utah's Karl Malone missed at the buzzer.

Cavaliers 119, Pistons 98

Brad Daugherty and Larry Nance each scored 22 points and Mark Price and Ron Harper had 20 apiece, leading Cleveland over visiting Detroit.

Browns, Saints need Sunday wins

By BARRY WILNER AP Sports Writer

A month ago, the Cleveland Browns and New Orleans Saints looked like locks for the playoffs. If they don't win Sunday, however, they could get locked out.

The Browns are at home against the Houston Oilers, with the winner grabbing a playoff berth — the Oilers even have a shot at the AFC Central title.

If Cleveland loses, it does not make the playoffs. The Oilers are out if they lose and New England wins.

The Saints host Atlanta and must win for any hope of making the postseason. Even if they do, they are on the outside if Philadelphia or the Los Angeles Rams win.

The Oilers are in the unique situation of having a chance to finish first in the division, or third and out of the playoffs.

"Every dog's going to have his day, and we're going to go up there and try to have one," Coach Jerry Glanville said.

The Saints have looked like dogs the last three weeks, losing each time to fall to 9-6. Before the slide, they were in control of the NFC West. Now, they barely have a playoff life.

Ten of the 14 games this weekend have playoff significance, beginning with Saturday's contests — Washington at Cincinnati and New England at Denver.

A Cincinnati victory gives the Bengals the AFC Central crown. The Patriots will be an AFC wild-card team if they win, and could get into the playoffs with a loss if Cleveland and Indianapolis lose.

On Sunday, the New York Giants will secure the NFC East crown by beating the Jets, or if Philadelphia loses to Dallas. If the Giants lose, a wild card is available if the Rams lose to San Francisco.

The Rams will win the NFC West by beating San Francisco — if Atlanta beats New Orleans. Los Angeles also can get a wild card with a victory if either the Giants or Eagles lose, or in a three-way tie with Philadelphia and Minnesota if the Rams' winning margin against San Francisco and Minnesota's losing margin against Chicago totals at least 63 points based on best average points in conference games.

Minnesota would have to be routed Monday night by Chicago — which has clinched the NFC Central — not to make it as a wild card. San Francisco already has at least a wild card.

AFC East winner Buffalo is at Indianapolis. The Colts' only hope for a playoff berth is to win and have New England and Cleveland lose.

The AFC West crown goes to the winner of the Seattle Seahawks-Raiders game at Los Angeles. The loser is out of the playoffs.

ADDRESS 313 N. LEE

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Names in the News

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rock star Bruce Springsteen's three-year marriage to Julianne Phillips will end March 1 when their divorce takes effect, the actress's manager says.

"It was a fair settlement but terms will be confidential," Molly Madden said Thursday in announcing the divorce had been granted.

Miss Phillips, 28, filed for divorce Aug. 30, citing irreconcilable differences with Springsteen, 39.

They were married in her hometown of Lake Oswego, Ore., on May 1985, seven months after meeting backstage during a Springsteen concert here.

Springsteen recently has been linked romantically to Patti Scialfa, a backup singer in his band.

Madden said Miss Phillips is anxious to get back to a career that "had been put on hold" during her marriage.

The manager said Miss Phillips will star in two movies next year, Universal's "Fletch Lives" with Chevy Chase and 20th Century Fox's "Skin Deep," starring John Ritter.

———

BOSTON (AP) — The captain of the U.S. men's chess team and a top Soviet woman player, who married secretly during a tournament in Greece, say they're planning to do it again — at City Hall in New York.

"Elena would like to do it again in a more friendly situation," John Donaldson said Thursday of his bride, Elena Akhmilovskaya.

Akhmilovskaya, 31, defected from the Soviet Union to marry Donaldson, 30, on Nov. 25 in the city hall of Salonica, Greece. They arrived in the United States four days later.

The date for the second wedding has not been set, but Donaldson said it probably will be next week.

The newlyweds plan to settle in Seattle, where Donaldson is editor of Inside Chess magazine. Akhmilovskaya is asking Soviet authorities to allow her 7-year-old daughter by a previous marriage to join her.

MIAMI (AP) — This city of palm trees and sun will be getting a 35-ton pile of snow Tuesday, courtesy of millionaire Victor Posner.

Posner volunteered to cover the $2,500 cost of providing the snow for Miami's annual Snow Day.

The Miami Beach industrialist said he learned that Royal Palm City Ice was charging the city for use of a blower and ice to make the blizzard.

"Give them the ice, give them the machine. Who cares?" said Posner, who is estimated to be worth more than $100 million. "I give away millions of dollars a year. This is picayune, pennies. They are not getting a bill."

PHOENIX (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the leading scorer in National Basketball Association history, will be tried Feb. 28 on two misdemeanor counts stemming from a shopping mall shoving incident, a city prosecutor says.

The non-jury trial will take place in Phoenix Municipal Court, Assistant City Prosecutor Tyler Rich said Thursday.

The charges of property damage and assault stem from an April 21 run-in between the 7-foot-2-inch, 41-year-old Los Angeles Lakers center and an Italian tourist at the Metrocenter mall.

Abdul-Jabbar allegedly stiff-armed a video camera held by Fernando Nicolia, 40, of Rome. Nicolia claims he suffered a bruised eye and a scratched ear, and has filed a lawsuit against Abdul-Jabbar.

Abdul-Jabbar has said he brushed the camera out of his way in annoyance at the tourist's persistence in taping him.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Former baseball star Denny McLain hugged family members and left court a free man after a federal judge sentenced him to time served and probation on drug and racketeering convictions.

"We're elated — it's an early Christmas present," McLain, accompanied by his wife and four children, said after Thursday's decision. "I had no idea what to expect I'm just going to go home and try to get on with the rest of my life."

U.S. District Judge Elizabeth Kovachevich sentenced the onetime Detroit Tigers pitcher to 12 years in prison, but ordered him released on five years probation because of time spent in jail.

McLain, 44, who became baseball's last single-season 30-game winner when he tallied 31 for the Detroit Tigers in 1968, pleaded guilty Oct. 18 to racketeering and cocaine dealing charges to avoid a retrial after an appeals court threw out his original March 1985 conviction.

He had already served 29 months of a 23-year sentence imposed by Kovachevich in the first case.

———

MOUNT KISCO, N.Y. (AP) — Ivan Boesky will have to return to a home without a dome when he is released from prison after doing time for insider trading.

The former arbitrageur's wife, Seema, wanted to cap their 17-room Georgian mansion here with a dome similar to the one atop Thomas Jefferson's Monticello home in Charlottesville, Va.

But her plans were opposed by 11 neighbors in this New York City suburb and on Wednesday night the North Castle Zoning Board of Appeals voted 3-2 to deny her request for permission to build the dome.

Boesky paid a record $100 million fine in 1986 to settle federal Securities and Exchange Commission charges of insider stock trading. He is serving a three-year term after pleading guilty in April 1987 to a federal conspiracy charge, and will be eligible for parole in March.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Commercial filming has been banned during the winter season in this exclusive community after some residents complained that filming might encourage "some kook" to commit a "dastardly act."

But the Town Council made an exception for Burt Reynolds, a Florida native who married actress Loni Anderson here and lives in nearby Jupiter.

The actor has been filming a detective series for ABC-TV called "B.L. Stryker" since early last month.

His filming application for the next three months was approved Tuesday.

Later, the council approved an ordinance that bans filming between Nov. 15 and April 15.

Robert Grace, who served on the council from 1970-84, said filming in Palm Beach might encourage "some kook or criminal to come over here and do some dastardly act."

FIGUERAS, Spain (AP) — An ambulance took surrealist painter Salvador Dali back home after 16 days of hospital treatment for heart and respiratory problems, Spanish National Television reported.

Quiron Clinic spokeswoman Cristina Bas said Dali's release Wednesday was authorized by doctors that cared for him after he was taken to the Barcelona clinic Nov. 28. Dali, 84, was stricken by what doctors described as heart failure aggravated by blood clots in his lungs.

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — Ma Anand Sheela, former secretary of Indian guru Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, said she arrived here with no money after leaving the United States owing more than $269,000.

The Indian-born Sheela, 39, flew into Frankfurt from Los Angeles after serving 2½ years of a 4½-year sentence for attempted murder, wiretapping and other convictions. She won early release from prison Tuesday and was deported after pledging not to return to the United States for five years.

"I have no money," Sheela told reporters after arriving with no luggage Wednesday.

Sheela said she will go back to India but didn't think she would see the guru, who is at a commune there. She then left for the southern West German spa town of Baden-Baden, accompanied by her German lawyer.

Sheela was a prime force in the Bhagwan's commune in Oregon that was started in 1981 but collapsed after he was convicted of immigration fraud and deported in 1985.

Authorities in Oregon complained she left behind more than $269,000 in unpaid fines and restitution.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joined by merry NBC weatherman Willard Scott playing Santa Claus, Nancy Reagan laid on her final White House Christmas party for the children of the diplomatic corps.

The first lady, clad in a signature red dress, sat among the squirming and giggling crowd of some 370 children on Tuesday and watched as dancers, dressed as the California Raisins with red noses, cavorted to and fro to the tunes of Christmas carols set to Motown rhythm.

"We'll be thinking of you ... we'll both be thinking of you, and this party, next year," Mrs. Reagan told the gathering in the East Room. "Best wishes for a Merry Christmas for all the years to come."

Church News

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The "Young at Heart" Choir, with Steve Sobczak directing, will sing for the Sunday evening worship service at 7.

The choir was organized at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center on Feb. 5, 1986, beginning with 14 members. They now have 42 members.

Choir members from First Church include Bertha Dettman, Helen Spinks, Ursalee Jacobsen, Stella Hershey , Fred Mulkey, Alby and Nila Cockrell, Homer Garrison, Irene Berger, Cawthon Bryant and Betty Jo Carlson. Mrs. Mae McCracken is pianist and Sobczak has replaced Jeff Love as director.

In addition to the musical program, Robin Roth, director of youth, will give the sermon entitled "Christmas is for Everyone."

Sunday School classes are to meet at 6 p.m. Sunday,Dec. 18, in the fellowship hall with their food baskets to take to shut-ins.

There will be a Christmas Eve Candlelight-Communion worship service at 7 p.m. Dec. 24, and a Christmas Day worship service at 10 a.m., Dec. 25. There will not be Sunday School Dec. 25.

WESTWAY BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to attend the Christmas Cantanta at 7 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 18, at the church located on W. Harrison Hwy.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday School children, first through sixth graders, and their families are invited to an old-fashion Christmas caroling from 6:30-8 p.m. Dec. 20 in the fellowship hall. A nursery will be provided.

The Lord's Supper Observance is set for 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 18.

The morning worship service on Christmas Day, Sunday, Dec. 25, is planned from 10:30-11:30. There will be no Sunday school or evening worship service that day.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday worship service will be held at 10:30 a.m. following the 9:30 a.m. Sunday school. The sermon is entitled "The Magnificent" and will be based on the scripture taken from Luke 1:46B-55. Rev.Lanny Wheeler, chaplain of King's Manor Retirement Home, will be delivering the message.

A prayer group assembles each Monday at 6 p.m. at the church.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

A choir party is planned at 7 p.m. today in the home of Tim and Keith Ann Gearn.

There will be a church board dinner at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 19 at the parsonage.

"A New Song of Praise", a new radio program, will be aired every Saturday at 8 p.m. on KIJN, FM 92.3

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Sanctuary Choir will present its annual Christmas Cantata at 7 p.m. Sunday. A fellowship hour will follow.

CHRISTIAN ASSEMBLY CHURCH

R.C. "Happy" Hopper of Happy Psalmist Ministries will be featured during the 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. services set Sunday.

Hopper is a composer of over 400 songs, most from the Bible. He is a recording artist and former host of a local Christian TV "talk-show" and his voice can be heard in radio and television commercials.

Yuletide celebration held by Food Service Personnel

Food Service Personnel of Hereford Independent School District and their guests met Monday at K-Bob's Steak House for their traditional Christmas dinner party and gift exchange.

Sandy Bridges and Freda Bridwell invited the 45 in attendance to be seated. Trudie Gray, cafeteria supervisor, welcomed everyone and spoke briefly to the group.

Following the meal Bridwell presented Gray a gift from the cafeteria employees. An exchange of Christmas ornaments and goodies followed. Door prizes were presented to Frances Suarez, Dale McDonald and Bridwell.

Sharing hostess duties were cafeteria employees of Aikman Elementary School: Freda Bridwell, manager, Aline Alexander, Sue Boggs, Debra Ethridge, Erma Murphy, Billie Sims, Frances Suarez, and Luella Thomas. Also from Bluebonnet School was Sandy Bridges, manager, Betty Bartels, Frances Bossett, Virginia Bossett, Ramona Gonzales, Josepha Mungia, and Johnene Wray.

The final meeting of the current school year will be in May, 1989 at the Hereford High School Cafeteria. Honored guests will be retirees, service pin recipients, and employees with perfect attendance records. Northwest and West Central Schools' cafeteria employees will be co-hostesses.

Club meets for annual party

Members of Lone Star Study Club met recently in the home of Grace Tinnin for their annual Christmas party. Serving as co-hostess was Verna Sowell.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Wilma Goettsch, vice president. The women brought food and donated money which will be given to a needy family for Christmas.

Steve Sobczak, director of music at First United Methodist Church, accompanied by Elaine Calkins, church organist, presented a program of popular Christmas carols.

Before the conclusion of the party, members exchanged gifts and were served refreshments. Those present included Naomi Hare, Jessie Mae Dodson, Winnie Wiseman, Onita Davidson, Goettsch and her granddaughter, Cari Landrum, Bertha Dettman, Bibby Morgan, Birdene Huff, Betty Jo Carlson, Ruby Stevenson, Ursalee Jacobsen, Bobby Metcalf and Tinnin.

NEW YORK (AP) — Men benefit even more than women by exercising regularly, according to the Nutri-System Health & Fitness Information Bureau.

That's because physical activity not only helps to control weight, but also extends life spans by counteracting the effects of testosterone, the male hormone that raises LDL (the "bad" cholesterol) levels.

Toastmasters install officers, give awards

Hereford Toastmasters met Tuesday night at Caison House for a buffet dinner, an awards ceremony, and installation of 1989 officers.

Guests included Marion and Gwen Gion of Plainview. District 44 president Gwen presided over the installation ceremonies.

Charged with the responsibility of leading the local organization are: Tom Weemes, sergeant at arms; Joe Weaver, secretary-treasurer; Larry Leon, educational vice president; Clark Andrews, administrative vice president; and Lynn Cook, president. Past president Joe D. Cummings is to serve in an advisory capacity.

Awards presented by President Gwen Gion went to Chuck Danley, toastmaster of the year. Best speaker of the year award went to Bob Lohr and best evaluator of the year was recognized as Cook. Best table topics speaker award went to Leon.

Retiring 1988 officers were presented with Toastmaster International nameplates.

Monthly Toastmaster certificates were presented by retiring President Cummings as follows: Rocky Lee, July; Milton Adams, August; Andrews, September: Weaver, October; Bruce Hernandez, November; and Weemes, December.

Hints from Heloise

PAMPHLETS!

Dear Readers: This holiday season I'm offering two of my pamphlets at a special price. I'll send you Heloise's Favorite Recipes (my newest pamphlet) and Heloise's Holiday Hints for $3 and a stamped (65 cents), self-addressed, legal-sized envelope. Mail to Heloise/Recipes, P.O. Box 19765, Irvine, CA 92713. — Heloise

BUSINESS CARDS

Dear Heloise: I want to share my way of storing business and calling cards: I use a self-adhesive photo album. When I need to take a card with me, I only need to lift it out of the book and return it to its proper place when I am through using it. — Mary K. White, Vero Beach, Fla.

STATIONERY BOX

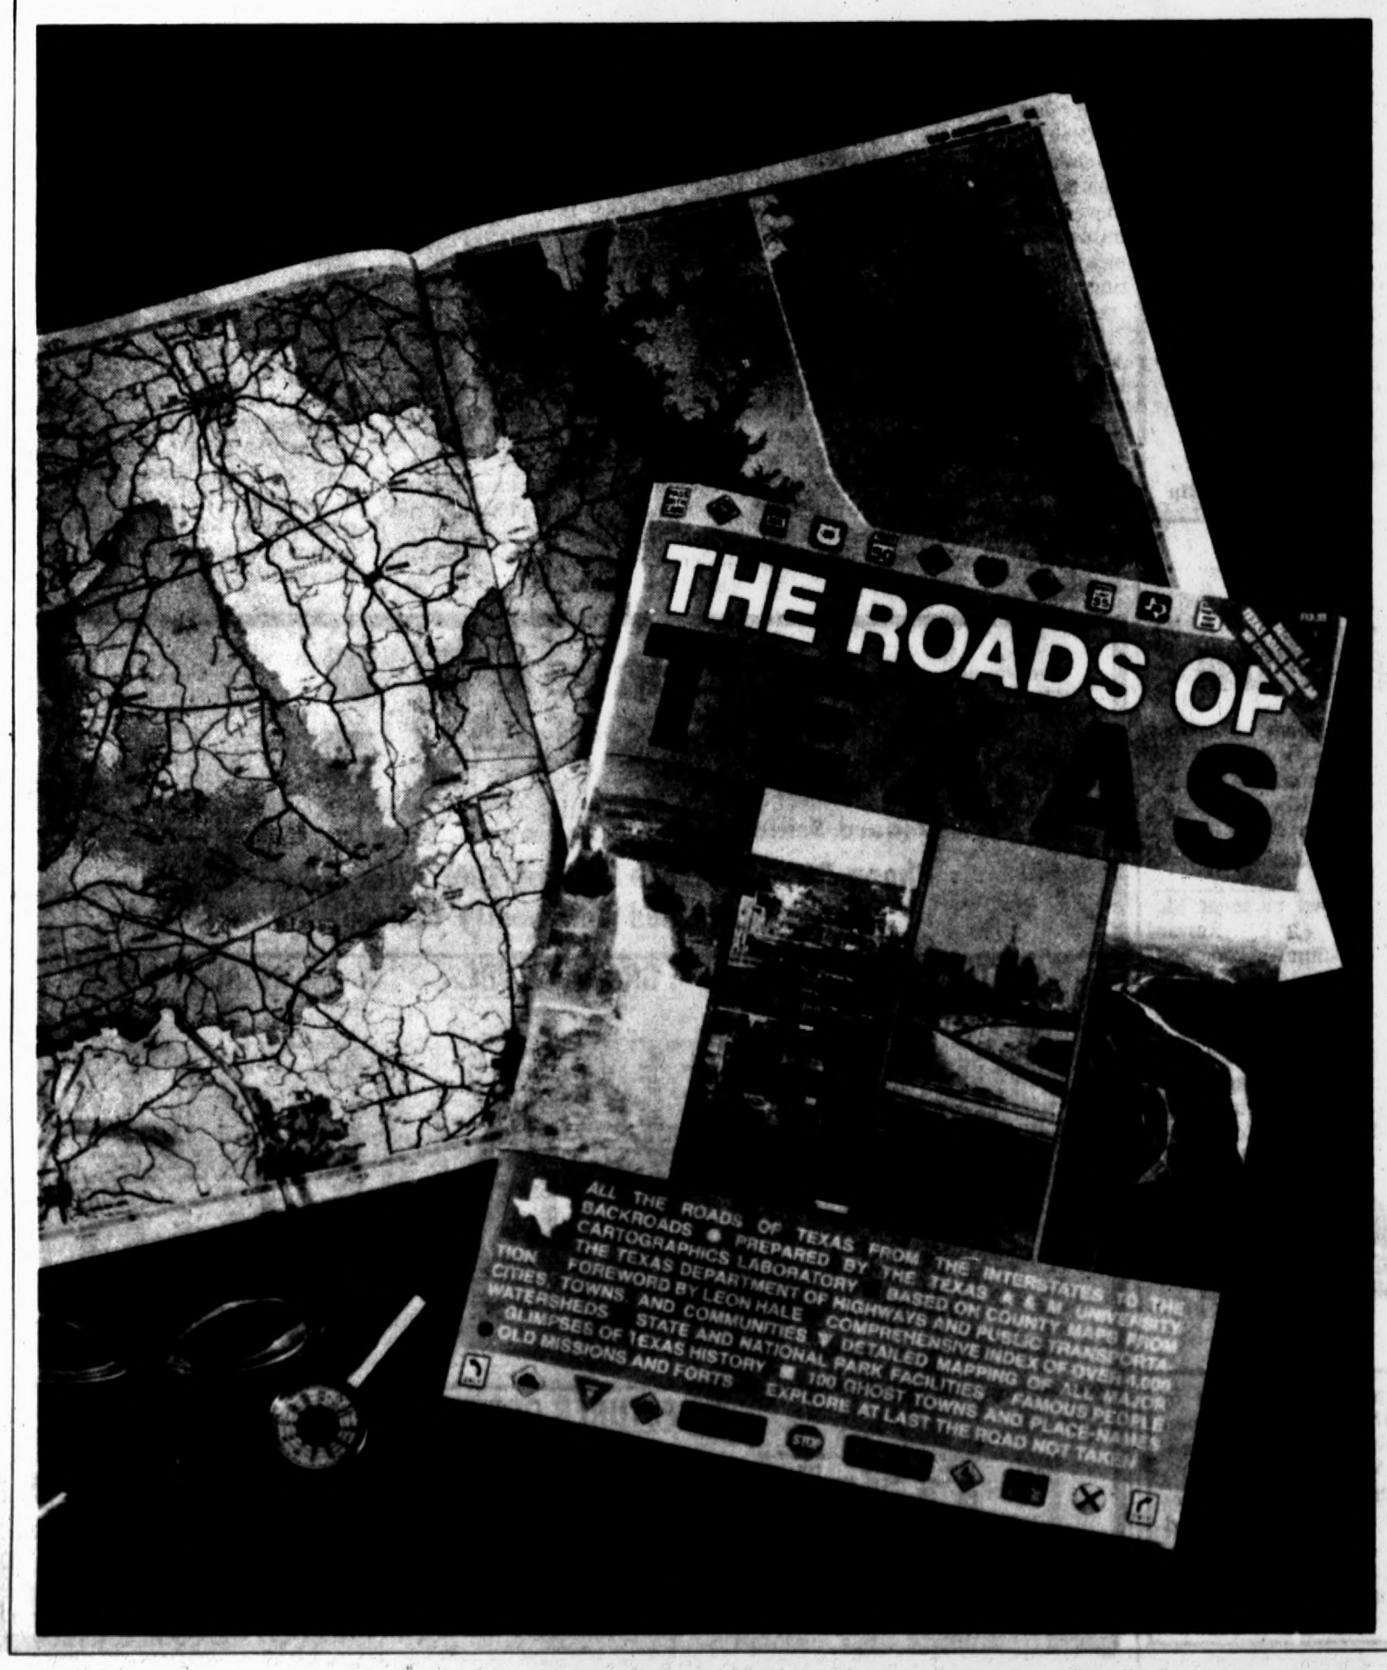

Dear Heloise: When I open a new box of stationery I always glue a small envelope to the inside flap. I place stamps, stickers or anything I might need in this envelope. This way at letter-writing time I have everything that I need right at hand. — DeeDee Roper, Ft. Yates, N.D.

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

- All 172 pages in full color
- Each page measures a large 15 × 11 inches
- Presents the entire state in stunning detail
- Appendices and specialty maps of many different features

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

Become one of the first in our community to own a copy of this magnificent atlas.
