New Year Brings Opening of New Industry for Earth

With the beginning of the New year 1965 came the opening of a new commercial Feeding Operation, the Earth Elevator Feed Lots, and a new industry for Earth, located 6 miles west, 1 mile South and 1/4 west of Earth.

This new industry was conceived back in early 1962, to assist grain growers in the area to derive more from their grain sorghums, as well as to aid cattle raisers to fatten cattle as economically as possible, while maintaining a well balanced feed and health program.

With this idea in mind, and realizing the tremendous investment necessary to begin this commercial feeding industry, Earth Elevator manager, Carrol Blackwell and his crew traveled many miles viewing and touring feed lots in Deaf Smith County, Hale and Lamb to salvage and compile all the worth while ideas and combine them into one feeding operation near Earth. Realizing full well that the success of any such operation must be basically well planned and scrutinized from every angle of the entire operation.

A suitable location was secured on a slight hill top south of Nichols Gin, that would eliminate drainage problems for the new industry, and work began.

The pens and loading chutes are constructed of all steel materials. The lots are so erected to contain 5 individual pens, and can be opened into one large 100 x 500 pen.

In each of the five pens is a large size feeder that replaces feed automatically as the cattle eat. Surrounding each of these feeders is a large concrete platform, erected so cattle may stand comfortably around the feeders and eat without making holes in the ground, where standing and eating becomes an uncomfortable task. It also eliminates cattle from having to stand in the mud to eat during rainy weather.

The water system, at present will provide water for 5,000 cattle, and is the first of its kind in the area. It is all underground to prevent freezing. An underground storage tank holds 1,000 gallons of water to insure perfect automatic watering for cattle at all times. Each of the five watering troughs are provided with floats that will maintain water at a specified level at all times. Beneath each of the troughs is a heating device that will keep water in the troughs from freezing and keep water temperature at a certain degree all winter long. The new well, coupled with the storage tank, heating and automatic watering devices is said to be freeze proof, frost proof, and fool proof.

The feed lot is well lighted for night performance. It is also equipped with new modern scales, the only ones in the area, that can be approved by the Department of Agriculture for legal use in weighing for buying or selling.

The loading chutes are so constructed to load or unload single or double deck trucks, and may be used for vaccination purposes and etc.

At present the feeding lot will accomodate 400 head of cattle. When the demand exceeds this capacity, a new pen can be erected within a few hours that will accomodate an extra 75 head of cattle.

The new industry has provided all the facilities necessary to every phase of handling cattle. Blackwell and his crew invites cattlemen who now have cattle on wheat pasture or stalk fields to come by and let him give them a personal tour of the new commercial feeding industry.

The personell is prepared to give the utmost care to cattle feeding, and have at their disposal, years of research and feeding "know how" through Ralston Purina Company Research. Representatives of the Ralston Purina Company are available to the local Elevator crew in any problem that should arise.

With the addition of these commercial feed lots to the current facilities of the Earth Elevator, such as the Grain Bank Plan, which they shall continue to operate, the grain growers of the area can have all of the advantages under one management they can store their grain for feeding purposes and not have to buy it, the Elevator will process it, mix it, and deliver it to the feeders, and take care of all medication of cattle.

Blackwell said the feeding lots were a definite advantage to grain growers, as they are largely responsible for keeping the area grain prices up. He went on to say this feeding lot was conceived for using local grain rather than shipping it out to far away destinations.

The Earth Elevator has shown progress since it was built in 1952. In '54 a larger warehouse grain storage was added, and in '57 a second large grain storage warehouse was built. Immediately following the building of the second large warehouse, plans began on a Roll and Steam mixing plant which saw its completion in 1959.

Since that time the new feed lots has been under planning and construction stages until this week, when the completion of the lots were in view.

Nosin... With Polly

Sakes alive, it's '65... And what went with '64... It seems to have sped by on wings... yet here I am another year older and deeper in debt...

Ho-Hum, and may I add, a dozen or so new aches and pains, a couple of million more gray hairs and with a face that slightly resembles a road map, it has so many lines... And what have I to show for it??? Like you I have memories of days and days... Good days and bad days. But mostly good days... Good friends, good times, and good people...

So it was not a total loss... It was actually a good year... I'm so proud to have been permitted to have lived through this year '64 and to have the privileged of serving the people of this area in my capacity... I love to live... I love life... and I predict that life in '65 will be much the same as in '64...

People will continue to live beyond their means, gripe about the weather, government, school, church, and newspaper.. Will work, worry, laugh, play, be born, die... which all adds up to normal living in the same old way...

Some folks will, as usual, look forward into the unknown future with hope, some with fear, some with gladness, some with anticipation, some with that, "I told you so" attitude...

But however you personally greet 1965, may I extend to you my wish for your good health, contentment, and prosperity throughout the New Year... A belated, HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!!!

The following poem entitled "The New Year" is approporate at this time of year... and reminds us that our life is being recorded, day by day...

THE NEW YEAR

The new year like a book lies before me;
On its cover two words, "My Life," I see
I open the covers and look between--
Each page is empty, no words can be seen,
For I am a writer, I hold the pen
That'll fill these pages to be read by men.
Just what kind of book will my book be,
My life written there for others to see,
Each day a page written, one by one--
Will it be worthwhile when finished and done?
Lord, help me keep these pages clean and fair
By living the life I'd have written there.

"nosin"

I thought when Christmas was over and gone, this fine sweet spirit of "giving" could just vanish... and I could lapse back into being my old familiar self, old scrooge or Penny Pinching Polly (that is until I could get some of the Christmas bills payed)... However, seems I had forgotten one little minor detail, which was brought to my attention Tuesday by a big 12 foot sign erected across the front office which read, "Only 9 more shopping days until Polly Jr. and LaDon's birthday, January 15th is the red letter day." This mild, suttle, tiny little hint was dreamed up, printed and put up by my one and only, Polly Jr.... The rest of the office crew has decided it would be cheaper to just quit working than to have birthdays come in duplicate...

County Harvests 178,118 Bales of Cotton in 1964

The Texas Employment Office in Littlefield announced this week the 1964 cotton crop has exceeded the 1963 total crop by 15,516 bales.

As of last Thursday, forty area gins have turned out 178,116 bales since the beginning of the harvest in September.

Area ginners estimated approximately 2,000 to 3,000 bales to come in yet. The TEC office reported that all of the county gins, with the exception of a few in the northern part of the county and a few in Littlefield, have caught up.

Earth, Springlake, and rural gins report the following, considering the approximate cotton remaining in the fields: In Earth, the gins estimate from 25 to 100 bales are still in the fields; Springlake gins are completely through, with the exception of picking up, and maybe two or three more bales out at most; the rural gins report that they are just about finished.

The county total was considerably hurt by the hot, dry summer which cut dry-land production about 70 to 80 per cent.

What the final, official count will be, will remain unknown until the Bureau of Census figures are released in April. As is usually the case, the official figure is expected to be higher than the unofficial count.

One gin contacted by the News, estimated it took an average of 2,590 pounds of seed to

Officials Adopt Ordnance Against Public Dance Halls

The City Council of Earth met January 4 to hear a third and final reading of Ordinance No. 57, prohibiting public dance halls in the city.

The ordinance states that whereas Earth is a small community, composed of mostly homes, and few businesses, common experience has proven that without strict police control, such places could become disorderly without more peace officers to supervise public dances; and the buildings are so close that the peace of the community would be disturbed.

Therefore, the City Council of Earth states in Section 1 of the ordinance, that any dance hall within the city limits of Earth is declared to be a public nuisance, and no licenses shall be issued for this purpose. Section 2 states that should it be attempted, the employees of the city are directed to abate same, in that same will injure or affect the public health and comfort.

The ordinance was accepted unanimously November 2 by M.E. Kelley, Mayor; Aldermen J.D. Chesney, M.W. Messer, D.E. Parish, Wendell Clayton, and Richard Stockstill.

Earth-Dimmitt City Officials Approve R.W. Draw Project

The City Councils of Earth and Dimmitt met in a joint session Monday night in the Dimmitt City Hall. They gave unanimous approval to the co-sponsorship of both cities of a multi-purpose structure on Running Water Draw in connection with the Running Water Draw Watershed Project.

The above mentioned structure is planned for recreation and municipal water supply for the two towns.

A committee was elected by the group to coordinate the proposed project. They were: Mayor Marshal Kelley, of Earth, Mayor George Bradford, of Dimmitt; Elmer Youts of Dimmitt, and Richard Stockstill, of Earth.

The two city councils hope that Hart will join Earth and Dimmitt in this project.

Mayor Kelley reported at the city council meeting December 21, that Soil Conservation Engineers at present are making a survey of water control dams, and later will consider the feasibility, cost, and other factors concerning the above mentioned Running Water Draw Project. The two cities of Earth and Dimmitt have gone as far as they can at present time, and will await information from the surveys.

City-County Fire Pact Ready For Signing

The proposed one year city-county fire contract calling for a $50 per rural fire call payment to the city of Littlefield by the county was signed by the Mayor, Bill Armistead in the last city council meeting of 1964.

A two year long controversy between city and county over the payment of rural fire calls made by Littlefield city fire equipment had been in discussion.

The contract, provided it was accepted and signed by the county, was to go in effect on January 1, 1965. This new agreement replaces the old payment by the county of $25 per rural call. The contract was to go to the commissioners court for signing.

Henry Lewis remarked that he felt sure the agreement would be accepted and signed.

the roll of watchman for the family, waiting for his daddy to bring the car around to the gate of the zoo at Los Angeles, California, when he saw a local man drive up, park his car and begin to lock it up.. He stood there just long enough to be sure... then left his post momentarily to fetch Rowena, who was near by... Rushing up, he took her by the hand, leading her toward the gate, exclaiming, "Mother, I saw the man from the Earth newspaper, but I knew you wouldn't believe me if I didn't show him to you."... Sure 'nuff, there was Eldon Trotter and his parents, coming into the gates of the zoo...

The Loyd Blantons had a similar experience, on their 4 day vacation to El Paso, Juarez, and various other parts of the Southwest, including the Big Bend National Park, where they met the Jack Angeley family. Mrs. Blanton said they actually drove 4 full days and the only thing they saw of interest were the White Sands of Alamagordo and the Jack Angeley family.. Wonder why people drive so far to see their next door neighbors??

The Earl Walkers were happily surprised to find a lovely Christmas greeting card in the post office from Washington's No. 1 Bird family, the Lyndon B. Johnsons... The Walkers had sent the president and family a card, but hadn't expected one in return... Guess it just goes to prove that it was Christmas in Washington as well as Earth, Texas...

Those two handsome GREEN lads sure have been the topic of conversation since the Christmas paper came out naming the Bobby D. Greens as their parents, instead of the Terry Greens...

Course, the Bobby D. Greens and Terry Greens didn't say a word, but just about everyone else in town has assured everyone else in town that those two lads were Terry and Jackie's sons, instead of Bobby and Linda's...

I learned one thing for sure, and that is, everyone in town knows everyone else, and their KIDS TOO...

You will, of course, be happy to know that Terry and Jackie plan to continue to keep their fine lads, no matter if we, here at the paper, do name someone else as their parents... They're darling lads and we're sincerely sorry for this mistake.. We knew whose sons they were too.. But for the life of me, I can't come up with a good explanation as to how that tricky thing happened... One thing for sure, we can all be thankful for, is that the News-Sun staff never had the job of printing the Bible!!!

Little Terry Blanton is finding it hard to realize sister Linda is married and won't be living at home anymore... After crying one day, mostly because he was lonely for Linda, he told the family he was worried because she didn't have a cellar to go to in case of a storm... That night in saying his bedtime prayers, he was still worried and was overheard saying, "God take care of Linda and Gary because they don't know how to take care of themselves."

EARTH, TEXAS

Blanton-Cowley Unite In Church Ceremony

Miss Linda Carol Blanton and Gary Wayne Cowley exchanged marriage vows, Wednesday, December 23, at 3:00 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Earth.

Marion B. McKinney, Church of Christ minister, Dimmitt, officiated in the double ring ceremony before a background of candelabra, holding twenty-eight long white lighted tapers, decorated with white flocked evergreen branches tied with blue satin bows and flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli.

The center aisle of the church was roped with blue satin ribbons with blue bows and white lighted tapers on the back of each pew.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Blanton, Sunnyside. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cowley.

Organ interludes were played by Miss Joan Dawson, who accompanied Mrs. Marie Slover, who sang, "One Hand, One Heart," "Whether Thou Goest," and "Oh, Promise Me."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown fashoined of imported lace, featuring a molded bodice, scalloped portrait neckline and long petal point sleeves. The full skirt featured a Chapel length train. Her elbow-length veil of chantilly lace fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of Catteya Orchids.

For something old, the bride wore a lavalier belonging to her grandmother McSpadden. Something new was her lovely wedding gown and pearl tiara. She wore a borrowed veil, a blue garter, and a penny in her shoe.

Miss Polly Jean Middleton, of Earth, served the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Judy Malechek, of San Angelo, cousin of the bride; Janice Cowley, Lubbock, sister of the groom; and Mrs. Dennis Plunk, of Canyon. They wore identical street length sheath dresses, fashioned of blue velveteen with long, fitted sleeves and chiffon ties.

They each carried a long stemmed white rose, and wore blue velveteen pill box hats, styled with small veils. The maid of honor wore a white velveteen hat.

Kelley Haydon, of Sunnyside served as flower girl. She wore a dress of blue velveteen, fashioned with a portrait neckline and a full gathered skirt, and wore a wristlet of white feathered camations.

Ring bearer was Terry Blanton, brother of the bride.

Candle lighters were Randal Blanton, brother of the bride, and Tommy McFarland, cousin of the bride, of Browndfield.

Kenneth Cowley, Sr. served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Craig Spann, of Tulsa, Oklahoma; Bobby Jack McNeely of McAllen, and Charles Cowley, Earth, all of whom were cousins of the groom.

Ushers were Ronny Blanton, brother of the bride, and Mike Cowley, brother of the groom; Thomas Bryant, and Phil Middleton; all of Earth, and Wiley Kimbell, of Lubbock.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the Community Building of Earth. The couple were assisted in the receiving line by their parents and members of the wedding party. The bride's table was laid with white lace over blue satin, and centered with a lovely arrangement of blue miniature mums, entwined with white flocked branches, flanked by long blue lighted tapers. The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with white wedding bells trimmed in blue, and topped with a miniature bridal couple, under an archway of white stephanatis tied with a blue satin bow.

Hot spiced tea and coffee were served from silver and crystal services by Brenda Townsend, Linda Pat Ussery, Karen Barton, and Dianne Jackson, all of Earth.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Blanton chose a blue suit of moorline with blouse and hat of printed silk. Mrs. Cowley, wore a red wool suit with white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

For traveling, the bride wore a blue wool suit, blue chiffon pill box hat, with matching accessories. Following a short wedding trip, the couple returned home and are at home north of Earth.

The bride is a Senior in Springlake High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Springlake High School, class of '63, and is at present engaged in farming near Earth.

The beautiful home of Lena Hite was the scene of a social hour Tuesday evening for a few of her many friends.

Soft candle lights and floral arrangements of different types were used throughout the house. The coffee table was centered with a unique arrangement of mauve and cerise feather flowers.

Baked turkey, dressing and all the trimmings were served from a table laid with a desert pink linen cloth with pale blue and white china. Lovely stereo music was played during the serving hour.

Southwestern Public Service Announce Expansion Program

Southwestern Public Service Company's 1965 construction and improvement program calls for an investment of $24,607,000 in new facilities, it has been announced by A. R. Watson, president and general manager of the electric company.

The company's construction plans for 1965 anticipate the second largest annual improvement program in the company's history, topped only by 1964's record investment of more than $30,000,000. At the conclusion of the 1965 program, the electric company will have invested nearly $120,000,000 in new equipment in the 1961-65 period.

"One year ago, when we announced a record single year construction budget, our forecast was for continued growth throughout our 45,000 square mile service area. Our optimistic outlook remains unchanged, as evidenced by the continued high level of new equipment investment we plan for 1965 and the years to follow. In as much as we must begin our planning and construction to meet our customer's needs from 3 to 5 years in advance of their actual requirements, it is apparent that we anticipate continued economic expansion in our service area," Watson said.

A major portion of the electric company's 1965 construction budget will go for additions to its interconnected generation and transmission system, which included 11 base-load electric generating stations which are linked together by a 4,000 mile network of high voltage transmission lines.

The additions to the generating capability include a 210,000 kilowatt unit to be installed at Cunningham Station, west of Hobbs, New Mexico. The Cunningham addition will be the second 210,000 kilowatt machine to go into service within the period of a year. Plant X, near Earth, Texas, houses the first of these giant generators, the largest single unit in service on the company's system.

The other generating additions to be completed in 1965 are gas turbine units to be installed at industrial plants in each case, with the fuel to be provided by the customer.

1965 will see a continuation of a program started last year to convert the main arteries of the company's transmission network to 230,000 volt lines. The major voltage was 115,000 volts until this year.

Scheduled for completion this year are 230,000 volt lines running from Plant X to Cunningham Station and from Plant X to Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo.

Load growth in the Hereford-Dimmitt area will bring the construction of another 115,000 volt circuit from Plant X to Hereford. This will "firm up" for many years the power supply in this growing region.

During his early days of training he will receive a series of aptitude examinations to determine which of the Navy's 65 specialty fields he will enter on completion of recruit training.

Physical fitness training, drill, naval customs and courtesies, water survival, first aid, personal hygiene, marlin-spike seaman ship and general naval orientation will highlight the first three weeks of his transition from civilian to military life. CONCERN GROWS

End Of Bracero Program Brings New Problems

The discontinuance of Public Law 78, better known as the Bracero Program, has brought additional problems to area farmers, as the December 31 deadline passed.

Under the 78 Law, farmers could apply for hands from Mexico, bring them into the country and work them for specified periods of time.

Where farmers will get the labor force now is a question that can only be answered by the next session of Congress. Many feel Public Law 414, an immigration law, will provide some relief, however as the law now reads, it does not effect Mexican nationals, and labor from Mexico can not be brought into the country.

The only program now in effect concerning the importation of Mexican labor, is by application of Form ES-320, which is very involved and does not assure the farmer of labor, it contains nothing requiring the hands to report to the farmer.

The Labor Department is confident that an agreement of some nature will be reached to allow workers to enter the United States temporarily under immigration laws. Under the Bracero program they were brought in as needed.

While the need in this area, for farm hands, is decreasing with the end of the growing season, something will have to be done prior to the planting and growing season of 1965.

Many area farmers have begun to use sprays and chemicals to control weeds, rather than the hoe hand, and the machine harvest is expected to be stepped more, because of the lack of farm labor.

Interpretation of the 414 law, by area farmers, is varied, no one knows just what it will and willnot do, one thing they are certain of however, is it will not replace the braceros.

In an Associated Press release, early in December, the Labor Department announced it was setting wage levels and working conditions that the farmers of the U.S. must meet if they want to import foreign workers as farm labor.

The action by the Department is designed to help farmers take up the slack left by the ending of Public Law 78. Another step, to offset the shortage, being considered, is a mass recruitment of American workers to do the job, formerly done by Mexican nationals.

Norman Snyder Rites Held

County Harvest

make a bale. Normally it takes about 2,000 or 2,200 pounds to produce a bale. The reason for the increase, which was very noticable in dry-land crops, was the summer drought.

The TEC reports, the final official count for the year was made the week prior to Christmas, but they will continue to count until the gins shut down, which will be about another two weeks. This year's total will be the third highest in the last four years, falling ahead of last year's 165,628 county, and behind the 1961 count of 211,000 and the all time high 1962 count of 227,400 bales.

The TEC report is only for the gins of Lamb County, which draws cotton from Hockley, Hale, Baily and Lubbock counties, as well as Lamb. Hart figures the count evens itself out since we lose some cotton to out of county gins, the total difference in, in county and out of county ginnings would not be over 2,000 bales however.

Samples received at the three offices declined to approximately 17,000 daily during the last week in December.

During the week ending December 30th, the Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa Offices classed 178,200 samples. The Lubbock Office classed 153,300, the Brownfield Office 16,100 and the Lamesa Office 8,800. On December 30th, the three offices had 50,000 samples on hand to be classed.

Total samples classed at the three offices this season was 1,667,000, compared with 1,682,000 by the same date last year. The three South Plains Classing Offices have classed approximately 92 per cent of the 23 county porduction estimate made by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange.

Trading in new crop cotton in the Lubbock market continued steady during the past week, at slightly increased prices. Agricultural Marketing Service reports indicate prices paid for White grades ranged from 50 points under CCC loan levels to 65 points over the loan. Prices were generally higher for Light Spotted grades and ranged from loan rates for Strict Middling Light Spotted to 125 points over for Low Middling Light Spotted.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morris visited in Ruidosa during the holidays.

Beauty contests didn't begin in Hollywood, Atlantic City or Miami, but when the second woman appeared on earth.

Let's Go Fishin'

BY BOB BREWSTER
Outdoor Editor, Mercury Outboards

FOLLOWING THE BIRDS

Men, birds and fish have much in common. Take the matter of seasonal temperatures, for example.

With the approach of cold weather, those creatures that are able to do so move south for the winter.

The migration habits of fish, mainly the saltwater varieties, are as well defined as those of waterfowl or human sun-seekers, comment the fishing enthusiasts at Mercury outboards.

This nomadic trait causes fishermen either "feasts" or "famine," depending on the coastal angler's ability and inclination to follow his favorite sport to the temperate feeding grounds.

The "big prizes"—tuna, sailfish, marlin and swordfish—all drift south, some remaining in waters accessible to winter anglers, others crossing the equator to distant points.

The various and wide-ranging members of the Atlantic mackerel family, which migrate north in the summer, usually take up winter residence along the lower Florida coast. Pacific mackerel seek out the depths in cold weather, nearly disappearing altogether.

Except for a few resident fish which remain in southern Florida, winter sees almost total departure of the esteemed tarpon. Popular bluefish simply seem to vanish. Channel bass follow no regular pattern, moving offshore, inshore or fading from the scene for the season—depending on the locality. Some striped bass bask in the sun: others await spring under the ice. Sea trout may reverse the general trend by showing up in northern areas during the cold months.

"In politics people are friends or enemies—in business they are all customers."

As shown in the above picture Sammy Parish (the youngest boy, who shot the largest deer,) Danny Byers, Danny Parish, and Ricky Byers as they display the successful hunt near Del Rio on December 27-30. Thomas Gregory who accompanied them is not shown in the picture. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Byers and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parish accompanied the boys.
