Lake residents petition court

In a regular meeting of the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court on Monday, members heard from Jack Stovall, who brought a petition, signed by 97 residents along County Loop 248, requesting that 2.1 miles of that road be paved.

The loop services many residences in the Morgan Creek area. According to Stovall the road becomes muddy and slick when wet, and is very rough and dusty when dry.

Stovall said there is a good road bed already in place, and he feels that any measures needed to improve the road for travel will be less expensive than if the road bed had to be constructed.

He requested that the road be paved with asphalt, and that the commissioners try to allocate the money for the project in next year's county budget.

Commissioners agreed to look into the costs and to study what they could do to improve the road.

Precinct Two Commissioner Carl Guelker said he felt the residents had a valid claim.

There are 97 residents affected by the condition of the road, 31 of whom are permanent, Stovall said. In addition to that, he added, school buses use the road, as do mail carriers.

State District Bridge Engineer Carl Shouse addressed the court on Monday, and advised commissioners of the results of inspections done by the consulting firm of Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, Inc. That firm inspects bridges for the state, and advises the counties and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation regarding those bridges' conditions.

County workers update signs, usually regarding weight limits, at the off-system bridge entrances, based on the consultants' information, and then performs any repair or maintenance recommended.

Commissioners heard also from representatives of the Ebony Club, who requested the use of the County Ag Barn for three days in June.

The club wishes to use the barn for its June 19th holiday festivities, and asked for access on the 18th and 20th as well, in order to set up prior to the party and clean up afterwards.

Commissioners approved the club's request, provided the building has not already been reserved for that time period.

Clarence (Mike) Burt addressed the court with a proposal for a voter registration software maintenance contract. The proposal, from David Parma of Standard Data Services of Austin, will cost $500 per year.

Parma, who is the original writer of the software, is also registered with the secretary of state to perform this type of work.

Commissioners accepted the proposal.

Members of the court also heard a request from the Mitchell County Ambulance Service that

Sales tax payments down

State Comptroller John Sharp has released the figures from May's Sales Tax rebates, and his office has sent local sales tax rebates totaling $147.1 million to over a thousand Texas towns and cities, city transits and hospital districts.

According to those figures, payments to Colorado City for this period total $40,641.97. For this period in 1990, payments totaled $41,026.98. The percent of decrease is .94%.

Westbrook has received payments for this period totaling $706.79. For this period in 1990, payments totaled $895. The percent of decrease is 21.03%.

Loraine has received payments for this period totaling $1,312.24. For this period in 1990, payments totaled $1,353.51. The percent of decrease is 3.05%.

Payments to date for the three Mitchell County cities look a little better.

Colorado City has received a total of $157,252.74 since the beginning of the year, compared to

Tank battery fire lasts 5 hours

Colorado City, Westbrook, Loraine, and Howard County Fire Departments responded to a tank battery fire near Conway Road just west of Westbrook on Sunday night, beginning at approximately 9:24 p.m.

According to Colorado City VFD spokesperson Tom Carlock, the fire, which was contained on the D.L. Ray Oil Company property, lasted for over five hours. He said log-in time back at the fire station for CCVFD was at 3:16 a.m.

Carlock said that the fire had consumed a small water tank, and was burning a fiberglass "gun barrel" when firefighters arrived on the scene.

The "gun barrel," he explained, was a holding tank, approximately 25 feet tall and eight feet in diameter, which contained a mixture of oil and water. The fire proved so resistant to firefighting efforts that trucks on the scene ran out of water on more than one occasion.

At one point, Carlock said, the heat in the "gun barrel" became so intense that the oil and water mixture boiled over the top, covering the entire tank battery area with burning liquid.

Fortunately the area, approximately 150 by 50 feet, was completely surrounded by a dirt dam, which served as a fire wall.

Webworm population heavy in Mitchell County

Mitchell County and much of West Texas is experiencing a terrible webworm problem this year.

Fruitless Mulberry trees have been hit the hardest but tree owners need to keep an eye out for webworms in all trees.

Gabby Davis of Davis Exterminating has added an additional employee to help keep up with the demand for spraying.

Bryan Limmer local County Agent provides some additional information below to help identify and control the webworm.

Fall webworms are the larval stage of moths and cause unsightly webs in the branches of almost all shade, fruit, nut and ornamental trees and shrubs except conifers. Their feeding preferences vary from one part of the state to another, preferring mulberry, poplar and willow in the west, to oak, hickory and pecan in east Texas. They are widely distributed in the state and have been confused with other tent-making caterpillars, such as the easter tent and the mimosa webworm.

DESCRIPTION

The fall webworm moth is rather nondescript. It is mostly white with dark spots on the wings. The larva are about 1 inch when full grown and pale yellow or green. There is a broad dusky stripe running down the back, bordered on each side by a yellow stripe. These caterpillars are covered with tufts of long whitish hairs.

BIOLOGY AND HABITS

There are from two to four generations per year depending upon the locality in the state. The first occurs on mulberry as early as April in south Texas, and as late as June around Lubbock and Amarillo, attacking pecan, willow and poplar trees. Fall webworms overwinter as pupae in silken cocoons under ground trash or on rough tree bark. Moths emerge to disperse and deposit eggs in hair-covered masses on the underside of leaves. The newly hatched larvae begin feeding and spin a web over the Firm says water work will cost $5 million

Representatives of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, the engineering firm which has been studying Colorado City's water system, addressed the City Council on Tuesday night at the council's regular meeting.

The firm presented a report of its recommendations which, if implemented, are expected to cost just under $5 million.

City officials plan to meet soon with Joe Smith and PSC representatives to discuss possible funding sources for implementation. Smith, of First Southwest Investments of Lubbock, is the financial consultant for Colorado City.

PSC recommendations include demolition of the intake pump house, upgrading of the electrical system, and replacement of at least the older one of the two water supply lines.

They also include replacement of the lake draw-off gate valves, which now frequently remain open at all levels, drawing water from close to the bottom of the lake as well as from nearer the surface.

The firm recommends re-routing a water line which may pass through an area of possibly contaminated soil. Frequent breaks are reported along this line.

The water treatment plant was found to be in reasonably good condition, but representatives recommend repairing floor beams and the structure of the control room, along with other renovations mainly for compliance with safety standards and employee comfort.

Recommendations also were made in consideration of future growth in the northern part of town.

PSC recommended an extensive computerized distribution system

CISD board okays Chapter II fund use

At Monday night's regular meeting of the Colorado Independent School District's Board of Directors, a hearing was held for use of Chapter II funds, and members accepted the recommendation that the funds be applied again to the Gifted and Talented program.

Newly-elected board members Kathy Bassham, Bill Bridgford, and Larry Blassingame were issued the second part of their oath of office. The oath commonly known as the "bribery oath" had been administered previously.

Officers for the upcoming year were elected for the board. They are Dwayne Harris, president; Floyd Lee Ritchey, vice-president; and Kathy Bassham, secretary.

Board members heard and approved recommendations from various committees, among them a recommendation that the academic day at Middle School be restructured to allow students to participate in eight class periods instead of seven.

Members approved membership in the newly formed Central Texas Area School Board Association; a $75 fee will hold membership until October, 1992.

The new position of Instruction/Curriculum Facilitator will be filled by Colorado High School Gifted and Talented teacher Kitten Arthur. Ms. Arthur will relinquish her classroom duties to commissioners amend the current county budget to provide an increase in funding for that service.

Commissioners had budgeted $23,400, which was the amount originally requested by the ambulance service. However the ambulance service's fiscal year begins in June, and in its budget for the year beginning in June, 1990, the service requested an additional $583.33 from commissioners.

This change came too late for the county budget, which had been formulated in June, but which began with the county's fiscal year, in January, 1991.

Commissioners agreed not to amend the county's current budget, but rather to consider the service's request for additional funding at next June's county budget workshop for the next fiscal year.

Bertie Kidd addressed the court, and was officially appointed as the central coordinator and administrator for any charity requests within the county.

Ms. Kidd will be the first point of contact now for anyone seeking aid from any charitable organization. This coordination is expected to speed the processing of valid requests, and to eliminate the possibility of individuals taking advantage of the system by receiving aid from more than one organization.

Commissioners agreed to pay Ms. Kidd the sum of $60 per month for her additional duties.

In other business, commissioners adopted a non-testing drug policy.

The policy, which was required to be in place by May 15, can be further altered at any time in the future if the need arises.

foliage in which they feed. Sometimes, whole branches are covered with these webs. In extreme infestations, the entire tree may be covered with several webs. Larvae eat the tender parts of the leaf, leaving the larger veins and mid-rib. The last generation, which occurs in the fall, is usually the most damaging and gives this insect its name.

Severe defoliation may occur, weakening and sometimes killing trees. In fruit or nut orchards the insect usually is controlled with multiple applications of insecticides for other insect pests.

CONTROL

Fall webworms may be controlled without using insecticides by thoroughly inspecting trees that have a history of webworm infestations. In small trees where the upper parts are easily reached, egg masses on leaves may be located and destroyed. In larger trees webs can be pruned out and destroyed.

Many parasites and predators attack fall webworms. paper wasps that search the webs and carry webworms to their nests to feed the developing wasps are an important natural control. Nests of paper wasps that pose no threat to humans should be protected.

If webs are too numerous or out of reach for pruning, insecticides may be needed to prevent damage. A high pressure sprayer is necessary to reach the top of tall trees and to penetrate the sometimes dense webs. Breaking the webs with a long pole helps the insecticide applications to contact the larvae. The most efficient control is achieved when applications are made after eggs hatch and before larvae develop large, dense webs. Use products containing acephate (Orthene R), Bacillus thuringiensis (Dipel R, Thuricide R, Bactur R), carbaryl (Sevin R), diazinon, malathion, chlorpyrifos (Dursban R), methoxychlor or trichlorofon (Dylox R). Since complete coverage is needed for good control, a commercial tree spraying service may be necessary for large trees or heavy infestations.

The pesticide USER is always responsible for the effects of pesticides on his own plants or household goods as well as problems caused by drift from his property to other properties or plants. Always read and follow carefully the instructions on the container label.

Reference to commercial products or trade names is made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended and no endorsement by the Cooperative Extension Service is implied.

April Fire Report

Colorado City volunteer firefighters responded to 10 fires during the month of April. Of those, four were within the city limits and six were outside the city limits.

There were no structure fires, but there were three grass fires, two false alarms, and five miscellaneous fires.

One of the miscellaneous fires involved a boat at Lake Colorado City. The boat was of fiberglass construction, and was a total loss. The cause of the boat fire has not been determined.

Mason Dixon concert attracts 300

Even the storm waited, spellbound, to hear Mason Dixon live, in concert, on Monday night at Fort Wood.

Against the backdrop of the approaching storm, the group, consisting of Terry (Caz) Casburne, Jerry Dengler, and Frank Gilligan, belted out a bevy of their hits, and some of the hits of other country stars, including a medly of Hank Williams tunes which would have blown the roof off, had there been a roof to blow.

At least 300 fans filled the Fort Wood Corral area, some seated, some standing, and some walking around, the better to see and photograph the group from all angles.

Many travelers on Interstate Highway 20, hearing the music and noticing the commotion, were enticed to come enjoy the concert, too.

Each member of the group took an impressive turn at lead vocal throughout the evening, although most of the leads were sung by Frank Gilligan.

The group opened its concert with a rousing rendition of "In the Arms of a Heartache," and was able to mold the mood of receptive audience members for the rest of the evening into a variety of shapes...from sad to swinging to "stand up and cheer for the red, white and blue."

An acapella version of the Star Spangled Banner brought the entire audience to its feet, hats over hearts, while the group did justice to a song which has been waiting for years for the right singers to come along and make it sound like it is supposed to sound. On Monday night those singers sang the song.

Those who missed the Mason Dixon rendition should watch the beginning of the Texas Rangers' game on Saturday for an encore performance of the National Anthem.

The group did a wonderful version as well of another song which has become a classic patriotic piece, "God Bless the USA."

Members of the audience seemed to feel a special rapport with the performers, who returned the favor. The group brought children from the audience up on stage to participate in one of the songs, and there was lots of friendly banter between audience and performers.

During the concert, members of the group stopped and called for a round of applause or two for Billy Joe Wood, who coordinated this appearance as well as a previous one almost a year ago.

All of those on stage were introduced to the crowd...the three lead performers as well as keyboardist David Webb and drummer Shawn Hamilton. The group's sound engineer, Bill Knight, who performed his job from the center of the audience, was introduced too.

Group members handled the post-concert drawings for prizes, awarding four Mason Dixon tour jackets, along with dozens of caps from Mason Dixon and KEAN Radio to lucky members of the audience.

The grand prize pair of Justin Ropers were won by Kerre Hulme, who claimed her prize immediately, in order that she might have group members autograph them.

After the concert, group members stayed until they had spoken with all the fans who wanted autographs, pictures, or just to say how much they enjoyed the show.

This is a genuinely nice group of men, a well as a genuinely talented one.

Mason Dixon performed on Monday night courtesy of Wood's Boots and Justin Boots, and for the benefit of the Cowboy Crisis Fund.

That fund, which aids rodeo performers who are injured "in the line of duty," is a special cause of the Justin Boot Company. Over $250 was raised for the cause on Monday night.

The group has other concerts planned for Justin, and performed in Odessa for Justin and Wood's Boots on Tuesday night.

How does life on the road affect the group's family life?

Casburne, who has a wife and four children, said that being apart from his family is the hardest part of the job he does.

Gilligan said, "I would be lying if I said I could handle it 100% of the time. There are lots of times when I wish I could be there for my family, instead of being away on the road when they need me."

All three members of Mason Dixon live in Texas.

When asked why, they say they all simply decided it was the place they most wanted to live.

Watch for the group's new single release and video, "The Ride of a Lifetime." The song met with high approval when Mason Dixon performed it on Monday night.

The group has a new album being released soon, too..."The Best of Mason Dixon." "Ride of a Lifetime" will be on that album, and when you hear it, you'll know why.

Wood's Boots and Justin Boots have more tours in store for Fort Wood and Colorado City. The next featured attraction will be Exile, scheduled to appear on Thursday, June 20.

Start making plans now to attend!

And if you missed Mason Dixon this time around, console yourself with the fact that the group has promised to try to come back to Colorado City in less than a year.

that fire wall, however, were destroyed before the fire could be put out.

Carlock said there were several times when it was necessary for firefighters to move their trucks and equipment back away from the searing heat. He said that efforts to control and put out the fire required over 75 gallons of concentrated foam, which equaled approximately 1500 to 2000 gallons when mixed with water.

On Monday morning, CCVFD firefighters responded to a structural fire at 505 Oak Street.

It appeared, from preliminary investigations, that the fire might have been started by an electrical appliance, according to Carlock.

He said approximately 14 firefighters and three fire trucks answered the early morning call, and that the bathroom and adjacent hall were badly burned, and the remainder of the house suffered extensive smoke damage.

The main structure of the house was left intact, Carlock said, although the heat was so intense that a plastic container of water had melted, along with plastic VCR tapes in the other end of the house from that in which the fire took place. Also, he said, windows and light bulbs broke from the heat.

Carlock said that firefighters made use of their self-contained breathing devices, because internal house fires frequently involve the release of toxic substances from the burning of such things as certain types of plastics.

$155,208.57 by this time last year.

Loraine has received a total of $4,507.37 since the beginning of the year, compared to $3,447.23 last year.

Westbrook, the only city of the three to show a loss of revenues for the year thus far, has received $3,068.55 this year, compared to $3,671.80 for the same period last year.

Once again the sales tax rebates are up for Snyder in Scurry County. This period, Snyder received $84,498.30. In 1990, Snyder received $78,278.23.

1991 payments to date for Snyder total $377,067.34. Last year, payments totaled $329,791.62.

analysis, to detect any problems which might have been missed in the firm's survey.

A priority system was incorporated into the firm's report, with four categories in order of immediate necessity.

The first category, which includes the demolition of the pump house, the replacement of the raw water pumps, the replacement of the valves, a new 16 inch transmission main, and certain electrical work, would cost just over one and a half million dollars.

In other business on Monday night, council members were administered their final oaths of office; they agreed to post a speed limit near the softball fields of 5 m.p.h. during games; they agreed to amend an ordinance to allow the use of plastic garbage cans in addition to metal ones; they agreed to pay election judges for attending election judge school; they agreed to pay for track lighting at the Heart of West Texas Museum, and they agreed to allow a Pine Street resident to construct a carport.

Council members heard a request from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dakan that they be allowed to keep a wounded mare on their property within city limits for two or three weeks until she can be nursed back to health.

Members reluctantly deferred to a city ordinance which prohibits keeping a horse within city limits. However, councilmen Gary Redwine and Rex Thackerson each gave the couple the names of residents outside city limits whom they believed would care for the horse.

In the Mayor's Report, Mayor Jim Baum announced his intent to write a letter to Congressman Charles Stenholm regarding recent price increases by Tele-Media Cable Company.

The letter cites the fact that, since acquiring the cable system in October of 1989, Tele-Media has raised the basic rate from $14.50 to $18.50, a rate increase of 27%.

In addition, the letter continues, "the company has added an unconscionable $3 per month late charge to those persons who have not paid their subscription fee by the 12th of the month."

Now, Baum adds, the latest blow is the cable company's plan to add the franchise tax to the subscribers' statements - another 56 cents per month.

He says that, with all of the increases, a person who does not pay his bill by the 12th of the month will pay 52% more for basic cable service than he paid only a year and a half ago.

He asks Stenholm, "What are our rights? What protection do our citizens have? Are there any aspects of this practice by Tele-Media which we can challenge?"

A copy of the letter will also be sent to Robert R. Shock, district manager of Tele-Media.

100 attend Longfellow Reunion May 3 & 4

Almost 100 people attended the first ever Longfellow reunion May 3rd and 4th, 1991 in the Medallion room of Lone Wolf Electric Co-op in Colorado City. It has been 54 years since any of them went to school there. About 40 were present Friday night for visiting and reminiscing.

Registration began at 9:00 a.m. Saturday morning and at 9:55 the old school bell was rung by Allan Miles, signaling everyone to be seated. The invocation was given by Charles Walker of Odessa. Mayor Jim Baum gave the welcoming address and led the group in singing "God Bless America" accompanied by Golda Redwine, who also played the piano throughout the registration period.

Former teachers attending were Mrs. Bleese Cathcart of Dallas (1928-1930); Mrs. (Oda Roberts) Moore of Sulphur Springs, Tx., whose husband, Weldon Moore (1931-1936), was unable to attend, and Mr. Ben D. Smith, Jr. (1936-37) and his wife Juanita of Clifton, TX. Mr. W.M. Turner and Mr. J. Paul Turner of Sweetwater, whose Mother, then Miss Lela McCreless, taught there in 1903-04. They had the original contract she signed with Mitchell County officials; W. B. Crockett, county supt, Jas. L. Shepherd and N. J. Phenix Jr. trustees. The term was for six months beginning on or about Dec. 14, 1903 at a salary of $40.00 per month. Others recognized were: oldest present, Mrs. Hester Wright Williams, 93 years old of Lamesa. She was also the one who attended the Longfellow the earliest, 1915. Traveling the farthest were Dr. and Mrs. Bill Montgomery of Sarasota, Florida. The youngest was Debra Jo. Salmon of Iowa Park, Tx.

Charles Walker gave a brief history of the school. Mrs. A.L. Scott suggested naming it after the poet, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. The first year was 1902 in a room bldg. with 1 teacher, on a 2 acre tract given by Mr. A.J. Smith. In 1912 it was replaced by a two room bldg. with 2 teachers. Even though it was not the first school in the county, it was designated in Austin as district #1 from a Mitchell county map in 1930 with school boundaries drawn on it. It was the smallest district in the county with only 9 1/2 sections. In 1930 the average daily attendance was 34 from a total enrollment of 68. Most of the students had to help gather crops. In 1935 the school house burned and school was continued in the teacherage. The principal and his family moved in with his in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, who lived nearby on the Lasky place. The building was insured for $2000.00 The district voted and passed a $1000.00 bond, the new "modern" brick building was built for $3000.00. It had floor heat, a stage, book room, basement and hardwood floors. Blanche McCarley Bell recited the poem "Village Blacksmith" by Longfellow. The school song "Longfellow will Shine Tonight" was sung by the group. Another song? was sung? by an unnamed duet.

The noon meal was catered by David Stubblefield and the blessing was given by June Hogue of Clyde, Tx.

Many stories were told of long ago happenings, such as ballgames, plays, picnics, April fools day pranks, of donkeys and horses ridden to school, tied to a tree all day and ridden home after school, a playground mishap and the school house burning.

Geraldine (McCarley) Holtkort of Lubbock read the "Chuckle of the day".

In a mock business session while he was out of the room, A.K. McCarley, Jr. was chosen as "Dean of Longfellow".

Others attending were: Robert and Madelene Montgomery, Andrew J. (Andy) and Marie Hogue of Abilene, Arlie Williams of Lamesa, Mildred (Montgomery) Burleson, A.B. and Cornelia (Montgomery) McGuire, Alvin and Jimmie Smith of Sweetwater, Doug and Charlsa (McCarley) Aselage of Ft. Worth, Ronald and Carol Moore and James Cathcart of Dallas, Boost and Irene (Roberts) Brown, Johnny Mack and May Payne of Stanton, Aubrey Roberts of Phoenix, AZ, Frances L. Car Cruise draws 30-40 entrants

The Bugnuts Car Club Sunday Cruise took place on Mother's Day, and, according to club president Ken Andrews, was such a success that similar events are already being planned for the future.

Registration began at 2 p.m., turning the parking lot of Fuller Foods into a massive celebration of the CAR. There were customized cars and trucks, and vintage models, some with engines which had been cared for so well that they looked as if no spark plug had ever fired.

There were convertibles, pickup trucks with convertible beds, Volkswagens, and even a few conventional family cars.

Milling around all these vehicles were dozens of eager participants, ready for a Sunday afternoon adventure.

The group of approximately 30 cars and trucks pulled out of the Fuller's lot at about 2:45, cruised around town to Dairy Queen, cruised around a little more after that, and then cruised down Highway 208 North to Snyder, where they picked up five or six more entrants, and cruised a little bit more.

Several times along the way, the lead car of the caravan signalled the others to stop. Each time they stopped, there were prizes awarded from participating merchants.

Everyone in the cruise received free ice cream when the group stopped at Dairy Queen in Colorado City; and everyone received free Cokes from Sonic in Snyder.

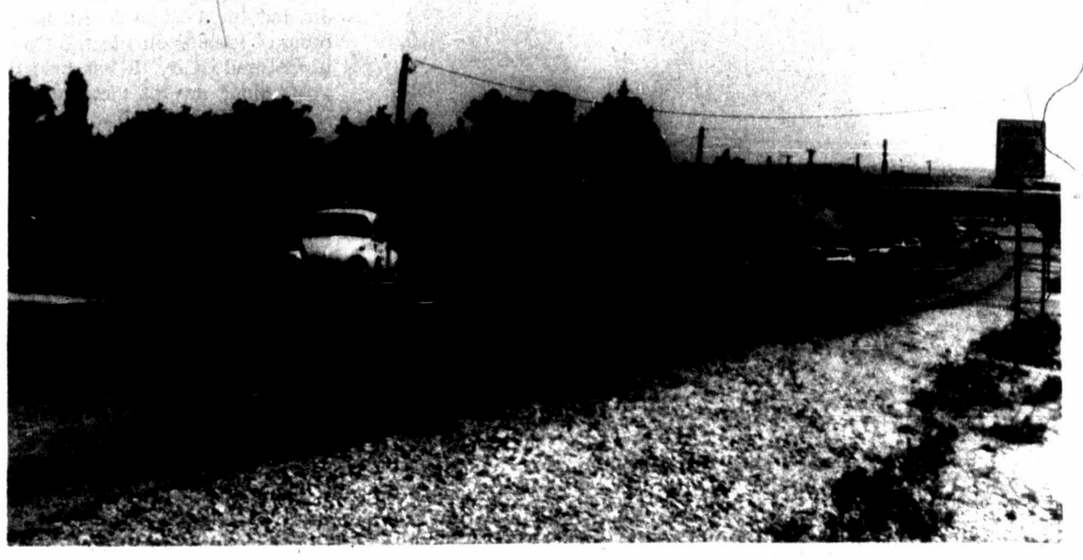

Other prizes included such items as lamps, tool sets, Bugnuts caps, and free oil changes.

Andrews is already planning the club's next event, a poker run, for late September or early October.

A poker run, Andrews explained, works like this: Participants are given a map of the route, with seven locations indicated at which they must stop. At each of those stopping points there is an official with a deck of cards, from which each participant will choose one card.

After seven stops, participants head back to the starting point and show their cards. The high hand wins first prize.

The Colorado City Record will provide more information about the upcoming Bugnuts poker run as we learn about it. Sounds as if more good times are on the way.

Some of the participants in Sunday's Bugnuts Car Club Cruise are shown coming out onto Highway 208 from the Interstate Highway 20 access road on their way to Snyder.

Buddy Poppy sales help veterans

On Friday and Saturday, May 17 and 18, citizens all over the country will have the opportunity to purchase Buddy Poppies made by disabled and needy veterans of U.S. military forces.

Veterans all over Mitchell County will be selling the poppies, for donations as small or as large as the purchaser can afford. If you are not approached to purchase a Buddy Poppy, call the VFW at 728-2110, or the Mitchell County Veterans Service Office at 728-5701.

The symbol of the poppy came about because of a poem written by Colonel John McCrae, when he pictured the wild red poppies growing among the rows of graves of soldiers who had been killed in a recent World War I battle in Belgium.

The poem, entitled "In Flanders Field," was published in the British publication "Punch Magazine," and made the Flanders Poppy the symbol of faith and hope of a war-torn world.

Money from the sale of the little poppies goes to counseling services, entertainment of hospital patients, assistance to servicemen, and direct aid to needy families.

Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum has signed a proclamation in honor of the sale of these poppies. The proclamation reads as follows:

Whereas: The annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has been officially recognized and endorsed by governmental leaders since 1922; and

Whereas: VFW Buddy Poppies are assembled by disabled veterans, and the proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans; and

Whereas: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living;" therefore

I, Jim Baum, Mayor of the city of Colorado City do hereby urge the citizens of this community to recognize the merits of this cause by contributing generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies on the days set aside for the distribution of these symbols of appreciation for the sacrifices of our honored dead.

I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

Overnight Hosts

On Friday, July 19, a bus load of approximately 50 foreign exchange students will be stopping in Colorado City for one night's stay. They will be back on the road bright and early on Saturday morning.

Colorado City Rotary Club members are trying to help find lodging for those students.

The students will be in the middle of a three-week road trip, and will have several suitcases each, will probably need the services of a good, sturdy washing machine, and would appreciate a homecooked meal.

In exchange, the students will bring into your home, for one night, a window on the world.

If you would like to offer lodging to one of these bright, friendly youngsters, or two, or three, or four, please call Robert Ramage at 728-2160.

They had three lovely daughters, RoseMary, Dixie and Virginia. RoseMary and her Charles have moved back to Loraine and we are thrilled. Dixie is married to Jimmie Smith of Roscoe and they live there. Virginia, the baby girl married a real nice guy from Big Springs and that's where they live. We are sorry girls and we love you.

Hutchinson Playday results announced

Kevin Green has been nominated to the SUPER Team in which he has been invited to attend the banquet to be held on May 17 at Brownwood.

Green named to Super Team by KTAB

Kevin Green, a Colorado High School junior, has been invited to attend the SUPER Team Banquet at the Brownwood Coliseum at 7 p.m., Friday, May 17 to recognize and honor the area's top high school students.

This special invitation is from KTAB Television in Abilene and TV Texas, who through the facilities of BENEFIT PLANNING, are working with officials from area schools, coaches, media representatives and the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce to make the event possible.

The SUPER team is one of the most impressive honors a student can ever receive, and with the aid of the banquet, this ceremony promises to be the most prestigious event the Big County has ever provided to recognize high school students.

The first class show will be patterned after an Academy Award's Banquet. The Master of Ceremonies will be David Bacon, KTAB's Sports Director, and the guest of honor will be the legendary coach Gordon Wood, but the stars will be the outstanding high school students (academics and athletics) in the Big Country.

The price for the banquet meal will be $6 per plate in which the Golden Corral Steakhouse of Brownwood will cater the event. R.S.V.P. quickly and come early because there will be a crowd. For more information, call BENEFIT PLANNING, (800) 460-3801.

AstroWorld announces new high-flying ride, the "Condor"

HOUSTON, TEXAS...AstroWorld, the Houston-based Six Flags theme park is open for its 23rd season of fun. And this year, get ready for an exciting line-up of family entertainment.

The mighty CONDOR has landed at AstroWorld, to take guests on a high-flying journey through space. Guests will take flight aboard one of Condor's 28 two-passenger bird-shaped cars, swinging from arms spanning 60 feet. Climbing over 110-feet in 12 seconds, twisting and turning in every direction, the car suspends riders nearly parallel to the ground producing sensations of speed and oscillation at dizzying heights.

See what it's like to soar to new heights in a bird-like frenzy through space. A unique adventure for thrill seekers, CONDOR is located in the Coney Island section of the park, and will be at AstroWorld, only this year!

In addition to the new Condor, AstroWorld guests can enjoy over 100 rides, shows and attractions. The Ultra Twister, the only roller coaster of its kind in America, sends guests diving 92-feet straight down before making 360-degree rotating turns -- forwards, then backwards. The Texas Cyclone, located in the Coney Island section of the park, remains one of the world's greatest roller coaster. Mirrored after the original Coney Island Cyclone in New York, the Texas Cyclone has a 92-foot lift and free-falls onto a 53-degree angle drop, reaching speeds of up to 65 mph. AstroWorld guests can also relax on the AstroWay, a cable car ride with a panoramic view of AstroWorld and Houston; or Thunder River, a man-made river rapids ride that simulates the experience of true white-water rafting.

With such a variety of rides, AstroWorld will appeal to both the young and the young at heart. "As a family theme park, AstroWorld has something for everyone," states Del Holland, President of AstroWorld.

AstroWorld is open weekends until May 26, then daily Memorial Day through August 25. An adult one-day ticket is $19.35 plus tax. Children under 48-inches are admitted for $10.12 plus tax. AstroWorld is located off Loop 610 at the Fannin Exit. For more information call 713-799-1234.

Retiring CHS principal Jerry Reynolds shares a sentimental moment at the recent FFA/FHA/VICA Awards Banquet. Caasi Smith and Jodi Ellis, officers of the FFA, presented Reynolds with a plaque of appreciation from their organization. Future Farmers of America, Future Homemakers of America, and Vocational Industrial Clubs of America hosted the banquet, at which members paid honor to fellow students, teachers, and others who had contributed to the benefit of the clubs.
