THE GLEANERS CLASS

The Gleaners Sunday school class met Tuesday afternoon, November 14, at three o'clock in the home of Mrs. W. E. Honea with her sister, Miss Eunice King of Roscoe helping her, also Mrs. C. R. McClenney.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Jim Manly by singing of the class song Blessed Assurance. Devotional was led by Mrs. Jim Manly substituting for Mrs. G. A. Hutchins. She read the 12th chapter of Isaiah. She also read the prayer for the thanksgiving. Prayer was offered by Mrs. T. C. Wilson.

The class voted to study Jesus as our Ideal, beginning in January, taught by Mrs. Roy Edwards.

A very interesting essay on Thanksgiving was given by Mrs. T. C. Wilson.

Dues to the amount of $1.75 was paid to the class. Mrs. Marshall Bruce was elected corresponding secretary for the class. Dismissal was by the Lord's Prayer in concert.

The next meeting will be on December 12, in the home of Mrs. Roy Edwards with Mrs. G. A. Hutchins as joint hostess, in our Christmas program. Everyone in the class is urged to be present for we certainly do have a lovely time at these meetings.

The class presented Mrs. Harrell with a lovely handkerchief shower. We regret so much losing her as she was a wonderful worker and Christian woman. The meeting was then turned over to the hostess when hot chocolate, devils food cake, and sandwiches were served to 16 members and two visitors.

The class was glad to have Mrs. C. R. McClenney as a visitor. She also helped with the serving. All visitors are welcome. If you are a Methodist and are not in any other class in the church the Gleaners would love to have you, or if you are a stranger in town the Gleaners would love to have you come and join us.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Baker are moving their stock of groceries to Big Spring this week. We are sorry to lose these good folks from our town but wish them much success in their new location.

Harrell Sent To Roscoe

Rev. J. E. Harrell, for the past two years pastor of the Loraine Methodist Church, has been sent to Roscoe by the annual conference held at Clarendon last week to Roscoe by the annual conference of the Methodist Church. Rev. Harrell and his wife were liked by everyone in Loraine and we feel like Roscoe is fortunate in securing them.

Rev. O. P. Clark, for the past two or three years presiding elder of the Sweetwater district, was sent to Abilene, where he will be pastor of a church.

The new minister for Loraine will be Rev. C. B. Meador. We understand that Rev. Meador and his wife will be in Loraine for services Sunday. We join with the citizens of the town in extending them a welcome.

WEEKLY COTTON GRADE AND STAPLE REPORT

The week 40 per cent of the cotton from Texas was classed as equivalent to some one of the grades or the Spotted and Yellow Tinged Standards; however, there was a negligible quantity of Yellow Tinged cotton classed this week, and thus far this season there has been very little Yellow Tinged cotton classed from Texas. The bulk of the cotton classed so far this season as equivalent to the Spotted Standards has shown a light spot.

Extra White and White cotton of the grades Strict Middling and Middling made up 33 per cent of the cotton classed from Texas this week. Nine per cent of the cotton classed this week was Strict Low Middling in grade on the White and Extra White Standards. About 15 per cent of the cotton was 1 inch or longer. Slightly more than 4 per cent of the cotton was shorter than 7-8 inch. Cotton 15-16 and 31-32 made up 44 per cent of the cotton classed this week. Ninety-four per cent of the cotton classed from Texas this week was tenderable on futures contracts.

Some 32 per cent of the cotton from District 3, the Red Lands and Plains, was classed as equivalent to the White and Extra Standards and Graded Strict Middling and Middling. About 7 per cent of the cotton was classed as White and Extra White and the grade Strict Low Middling. Eighty-four per cent from district 3 was 7-8 to 31-32 inch in staple length. Approximately 8 per cent was shorter than 7-8 inch, and about 10 per cent was untenderable on futures contracts. Spotted cotton made up 55 per cent of the cotton from this section.

FAIR CLOSED

TILL SPRING

Chicago, Nov. 13.—A Century of Progress exposition was in winter retirement today after having been visited by 22,317,221 persons since it opened last May 27.

Today its broad avenues were deserted of all except a few guards and workmen.

Yesterday 92,262 persons, lured by sunny skies and a sudden rise in the temperature, passed through the turnstiles for the last time until June 1 when the fair will open for another season by popular request. Even President Roosevelt urged that it be held over.

At the stroke of midnight last night Henry Running, a Rush medical college student from Sioux City Iowa, entered the grounds and became the last person to visit the fair in 1933.

Closing ceremonies were simple and brief. Talks by Rufus G. Daws, president, and Major Lenox R. Lohr, general manager, were carried to the crowd on the grounds by the loud speaker system.

And then President Daws closed the gates and applied a key to the locks. The world's fair of 1933—a $37,000,000 show—was over.

BEWLEY'S CHUCK WAGON HERE FRIDAY AT 9:30

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis' little daughter has been suffering with an attack of diphtheria since last Friday.

Jasper and Beatrice McGee of Dallas visited their aunt, Mrs. Zora Dean, last Friday night.

CHURCH DEPARTMENT

The News has added a separate department for church news of all kinds. We want to publish the church news but in order for us to do so we want to ask all church reporters to please have their copy in our office not later than Tuesday noon each week. We want to group the church news and in order for us to do so we must have the copy early.

Churches that have no regular reporter are invited to send in news concerning their activities.

Plans for building a gymnasium and auditorium for the Loraine school system were given approval by a group of men gathered at the school building Tuesday night. The meeting was called by the board of trustees to ascertain whether or not the people of the district wanted such a building and those present were unanimously in favor of the project. The plan as outlined calls for a building 60x100 feet constructed of native rock on the school grounds.

Details of the plan were rushed to Austin by air mail Wednesday and if approved there actual construction will begin within a short time. Estimated cost of the building is around $6,000 and will be built under the federal civil works program. A large per cent of the cost of construction will be furnished by the C. W. A., the balance to be furnished by the board. It is figured that the board will be out very little money.

Men now on the unemployed rolls in this precinct will be used on the project.

100,000 TO GET JOBS THURSDAY

Austin, Nov. 13.—Every one of the 100,000 men ordered to be taken off relief rolls will be employed on relief projects Thursday morning, Texas relief commission headquarters announced here today.

If work projects for the men have not been approved in any community, they will be put to work temporarily in clean-up campaigns under direction of local fire chiefs and firemen.

Indications were today that approved work projects will be available in most places.

Beside 530 projects that had been given approval prior to the new work order, 250 more had been approved today. Between 300 and 400 others were being checked at relief headquarters. Others were arriving with each mail delivery.

Upon notice of approval from relief boards are authorized to take men off the relief rolls and put them on the approved projects Thursday morning. If project approval has not been received, relief boards are authorized to place the men in clean-up campaigns is authorized for the period necessary for final approval of projects.

THE STORY OF COTTON

Now that cotton picking time is here again and since it affects materially the daily lives of all of us, we might be interested in a short story of this fleecy-white fibre.

The story of cotton begins in the pages of Ancient History. It dates back to an authentic 800 B. C. in India, and it is highly probable that the use of the fleecy commodity by the teeming millions of the Indian peninsula even precedes that time. Certainly India and, on the other side of the world, Peru had both developed cotton textiles which showed a remarkable perfection, technique, and pattern long before either country came in contact with the white races of Europe.

Indian cotton goods were not unknown to the Europe of the middle ages, and they formed a substantial portion of that roundabout trade with the East which later excited the imagination and stirred the blood of an adventure Renaissance. It was to find a direct route to India's cotton fields that Columbus dared the Atlantic and it was the cotton clothing and cotton yarns of the aborigines he found on San Salvador which led him to believe he had discovered a new road to the Indies and to call the inhabitants "Indians." The cotton these people spun and wove, however, was the far-flung evidence of Peru's primitive but highly developed cotton industry. Peruvian cotton was the mother plant of "Sea Island" cotton, generally acknowledged to be the finest staple ever grown.

Six years after Columbus discovered the West Indies, Vasco da Gama, Portuguese shipmaster, sailed around the Cape of Good Hope and opened a direct trade route to India, which soon was crowded with the stately ships of the times. "Calicut" cloth became calico; madras we still know by that name.

Even so, cotton cloth remained a royal raiment for many years, and only the rich possessed a purse deep enough for its purchase. Today cotton is a universal fabric; wherever people wear so much as a loin cloth, cotton is sold, and the development of new uses for cotton is carrying the white staple into every department of industry, the arts and the professions.—Mitchell County Times.

NEW CHARTERS GRANTED ARE BELOW SEPTEMBER

Austin, Texas, Nov. 13.—Charters granted during October to new firms to operate in Texas had an aggregate capitalization of $2,099,000. This was almost 34 per cent below the $3,166,000 for September but 9.7 per cent above the October, 1932, total of $1,913,000, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Ordinarily there is an increase in the capitalization during October compared with September and a decrease in September over August, the Bureau's report pointed out. This year, however, there was a marked increase of 40 per cent during September over August, which probably accounts for the sharp drop in October as compared with September. The number of new firms declined 21.7 per cent from 138 firms in September to 108 firms in October, and 22.2 per cent from October, 1932.

Increases over September occurred in the number granted charters in the oil, manufacturing, banking and transportation groups; decreases were registered in real estate and building, merchandising, and the miscellaneous group.

Charters granted out-of-state corporations totaled 22, against 21 in September and 16 in October last year.

A total of 36 firms were capitalized at less than $50,000 each, against 65 last month and 52 in October, 1932, a decline of nearly 45 per cent and 31 per cent respectively. Six firms with more than $100,000 capital each were chartered against eight in September and three in October a year ago.

BULLETIN ISSUED ON HIGH GOVERNMENT COST

Austin, Texas, Nov. 1.—In connection with the administration of county government in Texas, a subject which has in recent years drawn considerable attention from the legislature as well as taxpayers' organizations, a fund of information is contained in a bulletin which has just come from the University of Texas Press. Its author is Dr. Wallace C. Murphy, who was brought here for 1932-33 from the University of West Virginia, as research associate in the social sciences. He spent a year carrying on his investigation of the governments of the various counties of Texas. The bulletin was edited by James L. McCamey. At the time the bulletin was prepared the new budget law had not gone into effect and some of Dr. Murphy's criticisms do not now apply.

"The high cost of county government is the principal complaint of those seeking relief from the present burdens it entail," Dr. Murphy wrote. "Suggestions rarely go further than the reduction of the salaries of county officials and some plan by which delinquent taxes may be collected. These objectives deserve attention from the voters; but it is believed that if such reforms were effected, they would only begin to solve the problem of maintaining an economical county governmental system."

"The difficulty lies rather in the system in which officials work. There is little opportunity in the present governmental system for an expert or a man of genius to do more than catch step in the treadmill and carry on in the same way in which his predecessor conducted office. The problems confronting those genuinely interested in the subject are deep seated and manifold."

BAPTIST CHURCH

Many of the Sunday school classes were about 100% present Sunday morning with a number of visitors. Our Sunday school has an enrollment of a little more than 200 and 173 were present. If every Baptist family who should be in Sunday school would come we could have 350 or more in Sunday school each Sunday. Why not pray and work for more people in our Sunday school? Mr. Brame's class of men, Mrs. Johnson's class of intermediate girls and Miss Jeter's 12 year olds made the highest grades in Sunday school Sunday.

Rev. A. C. Hardin preached from the fifth chapter of Mark Sunday morning, showing how Jesus has power over devils, diseases and death, then setting forth the three thoughts that Jesus is "a man's Christ, a woman's Christ, and a child's Christ." Sunday evening his subject was "The sinner's condition." This was a beautiful and simple message that even a child could understand, setting forth the sinner's condition as being "lost," guilty, condemned, and dead," quoting scripture to prove these points.

A number were absent from B. T. S. Sunday evening. If you like to do things and want to keep the associational banner we should stay on the job. The quartet composed of members from our Senior and Adult unions were guests of the Bethel Church Sunday evening. Why not come to Training Service 100% next Sunday at 6:15. At 7:00 o'clock the bell rings for closing assembly. Everyone be assembled by 7:05. The senior union will give the general assembly program from 7:05 to 7:15. It will consist of a talk "The value of prayer" by Eugene Roberts. "The value of daily Bible reading" by Lois Lucas. 3 minutes each, and a quartet on prayer by the Lorraine quartet.

The orchestra played "I am thine O Lord" as a special number Sunday evening.

The Cotton Plan for next year, which is about ready in its revised form, was the subject of discussion at a conference of farm leaders at College Station last Wednesday, C. A. Cobb of the Agriculture Adjustment Administration being present. Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News, has the following to say about the meeting: "The complicated Texas landlord and tenant relationship as to land use late Wednesday was about to snarl the 1934 cotton acreage reduction conference as outlined for the first time by C. A. Cobb, chief of the Federal Government's cotton production division. Mr. Cobb, whose arrival during the morning had been eagerly awaited by the entire staff of the Texas extension forces and who was hailed as a conquering hero as he entered the assembly hall, hit several snags evidently not provided for so far in the Federal contracts which are to be enforced next season." After outlining the manner in which various situations are to be met, Mr. Schoffelmayer makes this significant statement: "The third and fourth renter type, so prevalent in Texas, did not seem to fit into the classification set-up in the 1934 program and at a late hour it looked as if a lot more work would have to be done to meet this need." At this writing no news has been received that the matter has been ironed out, and in view of the circumstance that the problem has been squarely before the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for the past two months, our own opinion is that it will not be satisfactorily ironed out. It is evident that the adjustment Administration is determined to put through a program which will limit cotton next year to 25,000,000 acres in the entire South, a reduction of more than 40 per cent from normal, regardless of consequences. Its attitude seems to be that the objective to be attained so far transcends any such consequences in importance as to justify this course. All we can say is that it is the Adjustment Administration's responsibility. It has the responsibility to "do something" about cotton, and it seems to have decided that unprecedented curtailment is the thing to obtain at any cost. With such an objective we do not think it can work out the problem of the third and fourth renter on a satisfactory basis. On the other hand, even with a good growing year it is going to require the equivalent of a 15 cents a pound price for the crop from 25,000,000 acres to bring as great a net return as that of the current year, and if the per acre yield should fall to the level of that of the 1929 crop it will require the equivalent of a 20 cents a pound price. C. O. Moser, vice president of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, was present at the College Station conference, and outlined the parity price of that association, which has for its objective the attainment of the 15-cent price. But the Adjustment Administration has not yet indicated a favorable attitude toward this plan.—The Texas Weekly.

A notice that the plague has killed a hundred in Russian Asia passes almost without notice. The middle aged in the United States were small boys at the time of the last cholera scare. Small pox is almost unknown here. The plague is an utter stranger. When inclined to be pessimistic, take everything into consideration, look abroad, and take a glance at the past.

of which so conservative a buyer as the Federal government has no fear.

A few years ago, the Washington authorities tore down all but two walls of the home of Francis Scott Key, of Star Spangled Banner fame, to make room for a new bridge. It is now proposed to replace the structure. The restored building will be like the Indian's hunting knife that belonged to his great-grandfather. His grandfather fitted it with a new handle and his father supplied it with a new blade. At the time of the razing of the house, the Washington officials apparently forgot the maxim that it is better to be slow than sorry.

A prominent New Yorker has been requested to pay up about a hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars in back income taxes. If he had a radio probably he tuned in the old program for the day, including such selections as Wait Till the Sun Shines Annie and Some Sweet Day Bye and Bye.

Labor unions may be divided into two classes, the industrial union, including all workers in a particular industry, regardless of the work they do; and craft unions, including those who do work of a particular sort, even though in different industries. The craft union is the prevailing type, and the one favored by the American Federation of Labor. The N. R. A. looks forward to the establishment of the industrial union as best fitted for its needs, for the welfare of the workers, and for the good of the public at large. It seems easier to tract with a union in a single industry, than with a union based on the character of the work done, and cutting through a variety of industries. With different views on the subject under discussion, held respectively by the N. R. A. and by the labor organizations, much diplomatic discussion, with some give and take on both sides seems inevitable, but more knotty problems have been solved and this one by no means is beyond solution.

ON TEXAS FARMS
By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor

Trench silos are cheap to build, cheap to fill, save all the feed and are easy to get feed out of, says the county agent of Jim Wells county in calling attention to the 51 silos in his county, of which 25 are trench.

Killing chickens the A and M way (sticking) is just as easy as the old way and gives much better quality, says Mrs. Clyde Mosely, Hopkins county farm woman who cans chicken, ground, cubed and as tamales. "I'll wring a chicken's head no more," she declares.

Making sorghum syrup for sale proved profitable for Ben Hubbert who ran theonely syrup mill in Shackelford county this year. From three irrigated acres he made 625 gallons which sold at 60 cents per gallon. It was his first year and the overhead was high but in the long run it will be a good proposition, the county agent says.

Proper storage space is one of the big secrets in dressing well and making clothes last a long time. This simple point is one of the features of the clothing work of home demonstration agents. It is so simple it's apt to be overlooked, they say. The cost of a good one 4 by 12 feet fixed up for 12 cents.

Cotton made $3 more per acre on terraced land planted on the two-row-and-skip one plan than in coiled cotton on unterraced land, B. N. Jackson of Limestone county says. Because of this demonstration he plans to terrace all his farm this winter, the county agent reports.

CERTAIN RETAILERS NOT EXEMPT IN SMALL TOWNS

Washington.—National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson issued the following interpretation designed to exclude from the exemptions allowed in the President's Executive order of October 23, employers located in towns of less than 2,500 population but whose operations extend over a relatively wide area and include a number of communities.

The Executive order of October 23, 1933, exempting from the provisions of the President's Reemployment Agreement and Reemployment codes certain employers located in towns under 2,500 population.

ulation applies only to employers engaged in trades or services of which the operations are customarily confined to local areas. It does not apply to those trades or services in which operations ordinarily extend over a relatively wide area and include a number of communities. The Executive order therefore does not exempt from the provisions of the President's Reemployment Agreement those employees engaged in and from the provisions of any code those employees engaged in selling at retail such products as lumber building materials, building specialties, builders' supplies, and coal.

BETHEL CHURCH

Church was well attended Saturday night, Sunday morning and Sunday night. Rev. Baldere brought us three great messages. His subject Saturday night was on Consecration and Service, taking his scripture from 12th chapter of Romans. Sunday morning subject was "Ye are not your own by creation or redemption", taking his text from the 1st Cor. 6:19-20. Sunday night his subject was "How to be Saved," taking his text from 16th chapter of Acts, 31st verse.

We had the privilege of having the Loraine Baptist Quartet with us Sunday night to sing for us, which we enjoyed so much. They have a standing invitation to come back any time.

69 were in Sunday school and 68 in B. T. S. Let's not get so busy with the things of this world that we neglect to give God His day for which He has set apart for us to assemble ourselves together and worship and learn more of Him. So why not find your place in Sunday school next Lord's Day.

HEAVY DEMAND HERE FOR LIVING QUARTERS

Albany, for all its purported overbuilding during the oil flurry, is experiencing an acute shortage of residences, apartments and living quarters. It is not an uncommon thing for people, both local and newcomers, to call on the Albany News to help find living quarters. Owing to the fact that people have quit advertising their houses or rooms, when they have them for rent, we are unable to offer much assistance.

—The Albany News.

A WATER SUPPLY IS OUR GREATEST NEED

We ought to devise some means or methods to secure an adequate water supply for Big Spring while the federal government is urging municipalities to take money for such purposes and congressmen are urging the construction of dams in the drought stricken section of the Southwest to insure water supplies and give employment to many men now on relief rolls.

We heard a representative of a large corporation considering a location for a large industrial plant in talking to a banker state that Big Spring was the logical location for the five million dollar plant his company had in view, but because of an inadequate water supply here they would be compelled to place it at El Paso.

—Big Spring Weekly News.

IT SNOWED

P. M. Montgomery and John Boydston, both declared that at about two o'clock Sunday night the ground was covered with snow. When they told their wives the latter accused them of dreaming, each of them replied, but they steadfastly declared that it was so. There was no evidence of any snow having fallen during the night, however, when the chickens came off the roost Monday morning—not, at least, in Tahoka. A fine mist of rain was falling. —Lynn County News.

OFFICIAL ROUTING OF HIGHWAY 7 EXPECTED TO COME THIS WEEK

Judge Robert H. Curnutte and the Commissioners' Court are expecting the Highway No. 7 strip from Snyder to Hermleigh will arrive this week.

The preliminary survey, as outlined in The Times two weeks ago, will probably be followed, but it is subject to changes by the State Highway Department. The new highway would follow the west side of the Santa Fe all the way from Snyder to Hermleigh.

As quickly as the official information is received, Judge Curnutte and the commissioners plan to take steps toward securing right-of-way.

Contract for the new routing is to be let by the highway commission on November 18, it was stated here late in October by officials of the state department.

FARM TRUCKS MAY BE REGISTERED FOR HALF REGULAR FEE

Farmers and ranchers may register their trucks for one-half the regular fee, it was stated Tuesday morning at office of J. B. Holt, tax collector. The special reduced rate is to apply for 1934 registrations.

A license plate of different color from that issued in registrations of regular commercial vehicles will be used. Trucks thus licensed cannot be used under the law for any purpose excepting farm and ranch work. Violation of the law will subject offender or operator to a fine ranging from $25 to $200.

Trailers or semi-trailers will not be permissible for use with trucks registered under this classification. —Colorado Record.

FEDERAL BUILDING STILL CONSIDERED

Possibilities for a new federal building in Eastland still are being considered, according to a letter from Sillman Evans, fourth assistant Postmaster General, received this week by C. J. Rhodes, president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

When notice for a new post office lease was made public recently, Mr. Rhodes wrote to the department inquiring if this meant that plans for the new building were no longer being considered.

In answer, Mr. Evans stated that the project had been submitted to the Special Board for Public Works and that a decision from them was expected in the near future.

He explained that even though plans for the new building did go through, it could not be completed by the expiration of the present post office lease, and that any lease to be made will be entered into with the understanding that it can be broken if the federal building is completed before expiration of its term.

This lease will not affect the building situation in Eastland in any way, the letter stated.

STRAND THEATER GETS EQUIPMENT

Installment of new sound and projecting equipment in the Strand theatre was completed yesterday by J. E. Costephens, manager, and was used for the first time last night in the showing of Tim McCoy in "The Whirlwind."

The new sound equipment is the latest thing in the movie industry, a 1934 Synchro-Film attachment that takes the sound directly from the film. This assures the fact that the picture and the talking will always be right together, Mr. Costephens said, and makes it impossible for the sound to get ahead or behind the film as was possible in the past, when sound was on record.

The added projecting machines are also of improved type, and will assure a steady, clear picture.

Mr. Costephens said. The new equipment was installed just in time for the showing of one of the features of the fall season, Will Rogers in "Too Busy to Work," which opens with a preview Saturday night. This picture will also be showed Sunday afternoon, and Monday and Tuesday nights. —The Roseoe Times.

PRESIDENT IS ENCOURAGED BY REPORTS OF PROGRESS

Washington—After a close study of charts showing increases in employment and total wages now being paid, the President believes the recovery program is making commendable progress. Secretary of Labor Perkins reported that the average hourly wage rose during October from 42 cents to 51 cents, while the average hourly work week declined from 42 to 36 hours. A special report by Government economists asserts that the reaction in production in some of the major industries, principally confined to textile, leather, and steel, was the result of overproduction between March and July; that the National Recovery Administration being organized. The President credits the NRA with the increase in work wages and decrease in hours. The latest chart shows the prices received by farmers for their products have increased from spring up to Oct. 11 from an index figure of 40 to 52, while the prices paid by farmers increased from the index figure 68 to 77, or 3 points net in favor of the farmer. These index figures are based on the level of 1926 as a parity of 100, the level which represents the Administration's goal.

DR. BROWN WARNS OF UNCERTIFIED OYSTERS

Austin, Texas, Nov. 13.—"Be aware of uncertified oysters," warns Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. In Texas each grower of oysters is furnished a certificate from the State Department of Health covering the oyster beds that he uses, provided surveys of such areas have shown these to be free from pollution and that the shucking houses are sanitary. With such certificate is granted a shipping number which must accompany each shipment to show the source of the shellfish.

Each operator of a shucking house where oysters are opened must have a certificate testifying that his shop has been found sanitary and his employees have been examined and found negative for communicable diseases, especially typhoid fever. These certificates are issued annually. The Federal Government cooperates with the state by exercising supervision over methods used and issues lists of certified shippers in all parts of the country.

The safest oysters in Texas are the ones accompanied by a certificate. The oyster has much to commend it as a food-protein of good quality, a rich source of iron and copper (important as a protective against anemia), a liberal source of iodine essential to the proper functioning of the thyroid gland and a fair amount of vitamins.
