Wichita Falls Temperature Soars To 107; Heat Threatens Dry Land Crops

MERCURY SETS NEW RECORD FOR SEASON

Tuesday Mark Four Points Below All-Time High Of 111 Degrees

BIG WATER DEMAND

Irrigation Ditches Running Bank Full to Supply Needs of Crops

A new peak in summer temperature for Wichita Falls was established Tuesday afternoon when the thermometer registered 107 degrees at the Texas Electric Service company weather bureau. The new high topped the previous high of 105 degrees of last Friday by one degree.

Tuesday's temperature record is only four degrees under the official high temperature of 111 degrees officially recorded June 23, 1925. The mercury reading also equaled the high record for the summer of 1923 when 107 degrees was recorded July 3.

A south breeze reaching a velocity of 30 miles per hour aided Wichitans but little in Tuesday's heat. The low thermometer reading for the 24 hours ending at 5 p. m. Tuesday was 81 degrees early in the morning. At 5 o'clock the mercury was at 104 degrees. A low barometer reading of 28.38 was reported at the same time.

Dry land farms in Wichita county are beginning to show the effects of drouth conditions, County Agent G. C. McGown said Tuesday night.

In the two irrigation districts, the 225 miles of canals serving more than 35,000 acres of the Wichita valley are running more water than in any previous season since the system has been in use, Supt. Paul Powell of the two districts told The Record News.

Big Demand for Water

Every foot of the canal system is in use and is running full of water throughout the day. The districts are not equipped with a device for measuring the amount of water furnished by the lakes in supplying the demands. The demand for water is the heaviest in the memory of Manager C. A. Bennington and has doubled in the last three weeks.

Much of the demand is for irrigation of cotton lands while dry land cotton farmers expect their crops suffering from lack of moisture. The crops will show much damage from the heat wave if rain

Special Session Planned for Week

AUSTIN, Aug. 2. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling hopes to hold his promised special session of the Texas legislature, planned for next month, in a single week's work. He would have it promptly vote relief to counties in the form of allotting a portion of the gasoline tax proceeds to retire highway bonds and aid loans.

In a statement issued from his office today the governor said he would not ask the extraordinary session to consider readjustment of salaries for state employes and department heads.

Speaking of salary adjustments he said "that properly should be left, and will be left, to the people's newly elected representatives who will meet in regular session in January."

Six Shot In Coal Field Outbreak

MARKET HITS FIRST SLUMP

Stock "Boom" Halted By Realizing Sales

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. (UP)—The "boom" of the stock market struck its first major snag today in a flood of realizing sales which pressed major stocks from one to four points and forced recessions in such commodity markets as grain and cotton.

Selling swept the market as stoploss orders placed by cautious traders were touched off on the decline and as professional traders put out short lines on the theory the market was rounding a top for some weeks to come.

Generally speaking, however, the action of the market was considered highly satisfactory by the speculative element. The decline was accompanied by decreasing volume of sales, 1,460,000 shares, against 2,-100,000 shares yesterday, and various leading stocks continued to meet impressive support on setbacks.

Brokers welcomed the setback as strengthening the position of the market and were inclined to consider it no more important than the late sell-off in the previous session.

The decline was more in the nature of a series of selling flurries than any wide open break.

Relentless losses in the grain and cotton markets were primarily caused by a wave of realizing pressure to that which struck the share market. Another reason for the decline in wheat was the improved crop prospect.

New Tax Money Awaited To Reduce U. S. Deficit

Waters Broaches Plan For Bonus Army Encampment In Every State

Veterans' Lobber Tells Followers to 'Sit Tight' After Maryland Site Is Denied Them

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (US)—A scheme to pitch a bonus army camp in every state in the union was broached tonight by Commander Walter W. Waters.

This plan was announced upon his return from Annapolis where Governor Ritchie informed him that Maryland health and sanitary laws would not permit the establishment of the proposed national camp at Wakenbury station. Waters' statement follows:

"Since returning from Annapolis I have been assured by responsible persons that property can be placed at my disposal in every state in the union to care for veterans of that state who are B. E. F. members, without opposition from constituted authorities.

"Meantime, I am advising the men at Johnstown to sit tight until definite arrangements for them can be completed."

Vote Won't Move

Waters issued his statement following a telephone conversation with Frank Carter, his chief of staff, in command at Johnstown, Pa., in which Carter refused to move orders for the bonus army to disband.

It was explained at the B. E. F. headquarters here that Carter accepted press dispatches stating that "there seems to be nothing left at the moment, but to advise the army in Johnstown to return to their respective communities" to mean that such an order would be forthcoming. Leaders of the B. E. F. declared no such order would be issued.

Pumps Used to Combat East Texas Oil Blaze

LONGVIEW, Texas, Aug. 2. (AP)—Fire fighting operations at the burning Lee Davis No. 1 Anna Kelly oil well in Cherokee county were halted today until pumps could be installed to increase the pressure of the stream of water to be used in killing the fire.

Although the fire is comparatively small, consuming only 40 barrels of oil an hour, fire fighters have been unable to make much headway against it because of inadequate water pressure. When the pumps are installed, they hope to extinguish the fire in about three hours by shooting water down the tubing.

Speaker At Legion Meet Blames Communists For Bonus Outbreak

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Aug. 2. (AP)—Brig. Gen. C. R. Rowland of Fort Sam Houston told the American Legion of Texas today that the recent disorders at the bonus marchers' camp in Washington constituted "an incipient Communistic insurrection."

General Rowland was the dais guest speaker at the state convention of the legion. He was both feted and cheered during his address. At one time State Commander Earl Y. Klapp asked the audience to refrain from interrupting the speaker.

Rowland declared that Walter W. Waters, commander of the bonus army, should have been arrested for desertion, when he announced his new position of being "field leader" and training 2000 men in military tactics. He said Communists had undermined the bonus army.

"In this dangerous situation," he said, "in which the Communists are attempting to control and exploit the bonus marchers, let us be calm and cool and in the fine spirit of Texas and with the good judgment of the legion, let this convention through its chairman send word to every Texas legionnaire that they still be with the bonus marchers to cause back home to Texas and hereafter follow the lead of the legion in the matter of securing appropriations from congress. That is the command some thing to do."

This afternoon the legion held the annual parade, some 2000 persons taking part. A reception, musical numbers and a barbecue were on tonight's program.

Mr. Bailey is a candidate for congressman at large, place No. 2, and led a field of several candidates by a wide margin in the first primary. The Dallas attorney polled about 170,000 votes, many more than any other candidate for any of the three posts as congressmen at large for Texas.

The speaker to be heard here Wednesday night is to appear in Henrietta about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. According to Judge Edgar Scurry, who has made arrangements for the night meeting here, several friends of Mr. Bailey's from this city probably will go to Henrietta to hear his address, and will accompany the candidate to Wichita Falls late in the afternoon.

Mr. Bailey, son of the former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, will be introduced briefly by Judge Scurry. There will be no other speakers.

1,000 Miners Strike In Oklahoma Coal District

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 2. (UP)—Eight coal mines, employing about 1,000 men, were affected by a general strike called in the McAlester-Hartshorne district today by the United Mine Workers of America.

Only one mine was closed, however. Most of the others have not been in operation for several months because of economic conditions.

"The strike was called to obtain recognition of our organization in an attempt to bring about conferences on wage scales and working conditions," said David Fowler, international representative of the union.

Labor trouble first developed here when wages were reduced from $5 a day to $2.80 a day.

DODGE CITY, Kan., Aug. 2. (UP)—Vice President Charles Curtis cast his ballot here late today in the Kansas primary election.

The vice president's train, returning him to his home in Topeka from the Olympic games, was held while the official went to the courthouse and voted.

ARMED GUARDS FIGHT PICKETS

Labor Trouble Causes War In Indiana

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 2. (UP)—Sheriff Joe Dreher Jr. sent an emergency request tonight to the governor for airplanes and troops to quell a bloody battle between coal miners at the Dixie Bee shaft 12 miles south of here.

While the sheriff penned his message two more ambulances raced out of Terre Haute and plunged over flooded roads for the injured. Latest reports said the toll remained at six but the call for more ambulances indicated that others may have been shot.

PIMENTO, Ind., Aug. 2. (UP)—A pitched battle between guards armed with machine guns and about 2,500 union pickets at the Dixie Bee coal mine today resulted in six men being so seriously wounded they were rushed to a Terre Haute hospital.

Others suffered cuts and bruises from brickbats and other missiles as the pickets closed around the mine in a desperate effort to force suspension of its operation by non-union labor.

Rain Interferes

A blinding rain storm which drenched pickets and guards alike forced suspension of hostilities. Sheriff Joe Dreher Jr. who had appealed to the governor for troops, said the downpour kept the melee from becoming more serious.

He feared, with a letup in the rain, however, that hostilities would begin again.

Fifty-three workers, he said, were trapped inside the shaft. The surging pickets prevented their coming out.

Guards in the tipple apparently started firing with a machine gun when the pickets attempted to storm the shaft. After the first blast of gunfire, bullets began to whine from both sides.

Wounding of the six men apparently sobered the battlers. Their fire ceased just as the clouds open-

Juarez Waiters Manage Cabarets in Liquor War

JUAREZ, Mexico, Aug. 2. (UP)—Management of the Green Lantern Inn, one of the largest cabarets here has been turned over to union bartenders and waiters on a cooperative basis in an effort to avert closing as an outgrowth of a liquor price war.

The union recently took over the Castle cabaret to prevent its closing. About 70 union men are in business for themselves now and Eulalio Hernandez, president, said they are making a living.

The price situation has reached the stage where some saloons sell bottled beer at 10 cents a pint and whisky at 10 cents a drink.

Roosevelt to Advocate Protection for Investor

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 2. (US)—Strict supervision of foreign loans to protect American investors will be advocated by Governor Roosevelt in one of his early campaign addresses, it was learned today.

Following up his attack upon Republican fiscal policies which he released in his opening campaign address, the Democratic nominee will hold the administration at least partially to blame for the huge losses suffered by investors in foreign securities.

In the Republican race for senator Henry W. Kiel, former mayor of St. Louis, a wet, had a slim margin over former Congressman Dewey J. Short, former dry who recently came out for resubmission. The court in 96 precincts gave Kiel 1,697 to 1,350 for Short.

Francis M. Wilson, whose candidacy was sponsored by T. J. Pendergast, Kansas City Democratic leader, led Russell L. Dearmont, "anti-boss" candidate, in the party's governorship race. Man, Woman Loot Bank And Escape Into Texas

The robbers escaped toward Twitty, Texas, just across the border, and the posse pursued them into Texas.

The woman held a gun on Teller J. C. Masterson and Cashier Tom Higgins while her companion went behind the money cages to scoop all available currency out of the tills.

The bank officials then were forced into the vault, where they remained for about 15 minutes before being rescued.

HITLER DENIED 'CHANCELLERY'

Nazi Refuses Cabinet Seat On Von Papen's Terms

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Universal Service Special Cable

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Efforts made today to induce Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader, to participate in the new national cabinet on Chancellor Von Papen's terms have ended in temporary failure, it is learned authoritatively.

Hitler's demands, or "proposals," so far-reaching as to include the three most important portfolios—tantamount to taking over full control of the government—were turned down by Von Papen and Minister of Defense Kurt Von Schleicher.

Rejects Government Plan

The Nazi leader, in turn, rejected the government's proposition to recommend to President Von Hindenburg that two Hitlerite ministers to be taken into the cabinet and that two other places be left open for the Catholic Centrists should they decide to ally themselves with the government.

After conferences between Gen. Von Schleicher and Hitler's representatives during the day had reached this impasse, Hitler then suspended negotiations, declaring he wants to take a two-week rest. He left Munich for his retreat in the Hars mountains.

Chancellor Von Papen left tonight for his home in the Sarre region, and the majority of the present cabinet also went on a holiday to last for the duration of the presidentially decreed political truce until Aug. 10.

Wanted Chancellery

It is understood that in the political bargaining today, the Hitlerites held out for the chancellery, the combination office of minister of interior and premier of Prussia, and minister of traffic, among the two posts offered the Hitleritas was the important ministry of the interior.

One high official told Universal service:

"The only forces who will say what is going to be done in the present situation are President Von Hindenburg and the reichswehr, which is commanded by Gen. Von Schleicher."

Nazi terrorism in east Prussia came to a sudden end today after outbreaks yesterday and today had resulted in several deaths which forced Deputy Prussian Commissioner Bracht to issue a "last warning" to the terrorists.

Rio Grande at Wading Level Aids Smugglers

McALLEN, Texas, Aug. 2. (UP)—The Rio Grande, international boundary between dry Texas and prohibitionless Mexico, has dropped to such an unprecedentedly low level in this section that smugglers are wading the stream with bottled liquors where once such attempts were nothing short of suicide.

Three men are awaiting trial and 48 pints of liquor are held as the result of the latest midnight haul by United States customs inspectors at a favorite crossing place south of Alamo. Small loads are now the rule among smugglers.

POSSE LOSES ROBBER'S TRAIL IN CANE FIELD

Bandit, Garbed As Woman, Loots Bank Vault And Makes Escape

FIRES AT CASHIER

Boy, 4, Kidnaped And Thrown From Moving Car As Man Flees

Special to The Record News.

KIRKLAND, Texas, Au. 2.—A lone bank robber had apparently successfully escaped a posse of 30 men and officers of three counties late Tuesday after taking between $1,500 and $1,600 in a holdup at the Kirkland State bank at 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon. An attempt to rob the Tell bank, also in Childress county, Monday failed and one man was killed in the chase that followed.

The bandit used a disguise of a woman's hat and dress, which officers later found discarded in a sack in a cane patch as they beat out the brush in the search. Officers advanced the theory the thief escaped on foot to the Kirkland detour highway and caught a ride as they thrashed several cane patches in the chase.

Child Kidnaped

A 4-year-old boy, son of W. A. Wood of Kirkland, was taken for a ride by the bandit who used Wood's car to leave the Childress county town. The child was tumbled from the moving automobile south of the city and was badly bruised and frightened by his experience.

Assistant Cashier Roy Key was standing at a water cooler near a bank window when the robber approached the building. Pantomiming the diguise, Key shouted, "Boys, it's a holdup," and dashed for the bank counter.

He was not quick enough and his companions in the bank at the time his brother, Jess Key, and E. Hamilton, also failed to get behind the bank teller's cages before the bandit entered, covering the three.

The bandit donned a mask as he entered the bank.

Vault Forced Open

Cashier Key was forced to open the large bank safe but it contained no money and Key was ordered to open the time-vault. Opening a drawer in the vault, Key spilled about $500 in silver to the floor. After complying with the thief's orders to pick up the money and place it in a scarf, Key was rewarded by the man's refusal to take the cash.

Key was ordered to open another drawer and the bandit scooped up about $1,600 in currency and began backing toward the door. At the door he met Hueland Trickery entering the bank and returned to the large vault with him, forcing the four men to enter.

As the robber walked from the bank door the four men opened the vault door from the inside and came out, the bandit turning to fire one shot in their direction. The shot went wild.

Leaping into Wood's car at the bank door and disregarding the 4-year-old boy, the bandit drove south. Shortly after leaving the city limits the child was thrown from the car. The boy's injuries were not serious, although he was badly shaken and scared.

Posse Takes Up Chase

Bank officials notified Sheriff W. E. Cox of Childress at once and more than a score of Kirkland citizens with local officers joined in the chase south from the town. The robber turned west on a country lane leading to Childress five miles south of Kirkland. The car had contained only a gallon of gas and the fuel ran out shortly after the bandit turned down the narrow lane.

Meanwhile the Kirkland posse passed the lane but noticed the dust cloud of the speeding car and stopped. Returning to the lane the group met Sheriff Cox and found the car, abandoned, apparently while the motor continued to run.

Bandit Escapes

The thief was tracked across a nearby cotton field after leaving the car. Officers lost the trail in a cane patch about 250 yards from the car and spent two hours in beating out the field. Moving to another patch later the searchers found a sack which contained a hat and dress, identified as those worn by the bandit. The trail led north, resulting in the belief the thief escaped to the highway.

About 100 yards further north

Police Trap Kidnapers In Richmond Bank As They Demand Ransom Money

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 2. (AP)—Two youths, holding a capitalist and an orphanage superintendent as captives, were trapped by police in a Richmond bank today as they sought to collect $7,500 in ransom money.

A last minute delivery from their captors came to George N. Davis, 63, Richmond, and R. K. Robertson, superintendent of the Davis-Stuart Orphanage, as they stood under threat of pistols in the bank, following an all-night ride from Lewisburg, W. Va., where they were kidnaped.

The two youths gave their names as Jack Liggett, 23, Charleston, W. Va., and William Craft, alias Paul Whittington, 21, Wheeling, W. Va.

The arrests were made in the midst of the noon day rush at the First and Merchant's bank, where Davis was a depositor, while possescoured the mountainous region between Lewisburg and the Virginia border for trace of Davis and Robertson.

Fred G. Mitchell, vice president of the bank here, had been warned that Davis might be in trouble, and appear here. He notified police who arrived at the bank while Davis was stalling his kidnapers, who were seeking to force him to make a withdrawal of $7,500 from his account. When accosted the youths turned their guns from Davis and Robertson to the officers and police weapons were drawn, but the arrest was made without gun fire.

Davis said the youths duped him into leaving his country home near Lewisburg and going to a hotel in town for an interview regarding his private affairs, asserting they were representatives of the internal revenue office at Richmond.

from where the hat and dress were found the thief's mask also was located. Searchers, including 50 men from Kirkland and Childress and county officers of Childress, Hall and Hardeman counties, continued beating through maize fields and cotton patches late in the afternoon but with lessening interest as hopes for success faded.

ONE HELD IN TELL ROBBERY; DEPUTY ON BOND

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 2.—One man was arrested in Hall county near Estelline Tuesday for investigation in connection with the attempted robbery of a bank at Tell Monday morning.

Officer Joins New Search

Chief Deputy Sheriff M. E. Mote of Childress county waived examining trial Tuesday morning on a charge of murder in connection with the shooting of Noble Jordan. Mote and other officers had sought to question Jordon in connection with the attempted robbery at Tell. The officer was released on bond of $2,500 and joined in the search for a lone bandit who robbed a Kirkland bank of about $1,600 at noon Tuesday.

The man held at Estelline was identified as one of two men who drove through Tell twice at a slow rate of speed about 9 o'clock Monday morning. Working on the theory that the two men were expecting to pick up two companions after robbery of the bank, officers pushed an investigation of their activity. After driving through the city a second time the men shifted the gears of their car to second and sped away from the town.

It was believed the men expected the robbery to get under way about 9 o'clock instead of 8:30, when Mrs. Lonnie Garrison, employe of the bank, was waylaid as she came to work. She fainted and disrupted the robbery plans.

Funeral services for Jordon, 26, in whose death Mote was charged, were held Tuesday afternoon.

Motley County Charge

In the examining trial officers said they had tried to stop Jordon at Hulver, in Hall county, but he ignored their orders. They pursued him to a point on the highway about six miles west of Childress and forced him to stop.

Just what precipitated the shooting was not revealed. The officers refused to talk about it. Mote fired five shots at Jordon with a rifle at close range, hitting him twice. Jordon was killed instantly.

Jordon formerly served as a constable at Childress. At the time of his death he was under indictment at Matador, in Motley county, on a charge of automobile theft, officers said.

Mrs. Maetze was a native Texan and had resided at Goliad for many years before moving to Dallas.

sued and the new plan would be put in effect as rapidly as possible.

Governor Ritchie's refusal to allow the veterans to settle in Maryland followed the exoneration by a coroner's jury of Washington policemen for killing two veterans in Thursday's rioting.

Patrolman George W. Shinault, who killed William J. Hushka, buried in Arlington today, and Patrolman Miles Znamenacek, who shot Eric Carlson, were held to have acted in self-defense in the discharge of their duties.

POLICE WHO KILLED VETS EXONERATED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—The shooting to death of two veterans by police in last week's rioting was held today by a coroner's jury to have been in self-defense.

Across the Potomac river from the morgue where the inquest was held, one of the dead—William Hushka, Chicago—had been given military honors in burial a few hours before in the Arlington national cemetery.

Eric Carlson, Oakland, Calif., the second man to be shot by police as a group of veterans advanced menacingly toward police near the capitol last Thursday, succumbed to his wounds early today. Whether he too would be buried here was undetermined tonight.

Privates George Shinault and Miles Znamenacek were the police exonerated of culpability for the shooting. The firing, it was testified, was opened only after the membrs of th bonus army started a second time at hurling bricks and other debris at the police.

"It is our opinion," ruled the coroner's jury, "that Officer Shinault used said gun in defense of his own life and in the performance of his duties."

The verdict on Znamenacek, who suffered concussion of the brain from being attacked, was the same. He had taken the stand voluntarily to relate how he shot Carlson during the fight, but Shinault did not testify.

Their chief, Pelham D. Glassford, had testified Shinault shot Hushka under circumstances "perfectly justifiable." That a man in civilian clothes drew a gun during the struggle and that two shots were fired before Shinault pulled his own pistol.

PAULEN IN LEAD FOR GOP NOMINATION

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 2. (AP)—The early trend of returns tonight from the Kansas primary election pointed to renomination of Senator Gorge McGill and Gov. Harry H. Woodring, Democrats, and gave Ben G. Paulen, former governor, and Alfred M. Landon, oil man, leads over their opponents for the respective positions on the Republican ticket.

The Democratic returns were meager but showed Governor Woodring out in front of Donald Muir, Authony attorney and critic of the state administration.

Senator McGill, seeking a full six year term after downing former Senator Henry J. Allen, close friend of President Hoover, in the election two years ago, held the advantage over Chauncey B. Little, Olathe, former congresman and an avowed wet. Senator McGill has been a dry.

In the Republican senatorial race Paulen, a banker at Independence, was leading a field of seven candidates. The battle for second place was between Joe H. Mercer, state livestock sanitary inspector whose campaign directed by Jess Harper, Notre Dame university thletic di-Notre Dame university athletic di-City attorney.

BIG DROP IN OIL PRODUCTION

Daily Average Shows Slump of 66,093 Barrels

TULSA, Okla., July 2. (UP)—Crude petroleum production in the United States slumped sharply last week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Daily average production of the nation's pools declined 66,093 barrels to 2,131,666 barrels with Oklahoma fields taking the lead in the drop.

For the past two weeks, Oklahoma has caused an increase because of periodical taking of potentials. This routine complete, the state's production was off 60,105 barrels to a daily average of 393,815.

The daily production total approximates the 2,000,000 barrel maximum advocated by Thurman Hill, Kansas public service commissioner who today renewed his plea to oil chiefs that daily production be held to 2,000,000 barrels so that oil prices might be advanced.

In a telegram to Judge Amos L. Beaty of the American Petroleum institute, Hill asked if large companies would curtail withdrawals from storage or submit storage figures to the institute. Judge Beaty advised only three major companies would submit such figures.

A sharp decline in East Texas production was offset to considerable degree by minor increases in other Texas fields. The railroad commission yesterday issued a new order designed to keep East Texas production to the 325,000-barrel daily limit by cutting the per well allowable to 44 barrels a day. East Texas daily average production was off 14,872 barrels to 330,626. Total Texas production was 7,375 barrels to 875,043.

California fields were steady at 470,000 barrels. Rocky Mountain areas reported slight gains.

Break-Up Of 101 Ranch Seen As Judge Orders 1,160 Acres Sold

NEWKIRK, Okla., Aug. 2. (UP)—Breaking up of Oklahoma's famed 101 ranch, last stand of the old wild west, appeared inevitable tonight.

Judge Claude Duval today ruled that 1,160 acres of the land must be sold by Col. Zack Miller under a sheriff's hammer to satisfy $58,866.83 in judgments, held by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company. The sale will be held here Sept. 6.

Another sale has been ordered for Aug. 15 at Perry, to dispose of 2,974 acres to satisfy a judgment held by the Passumpic Savings Bank of Baltimore against the 101 ranch trust. The life insurance company also has a suit for about $100,000 pending against the trust.

Colonel Miller, last of three brothers who pioneered this section of Oklahoma, already has seen part of his great herds of buffalo and livestock sold on the auction block.

Miller returned recently from the East where he reportedly conferred with friends of Al Capone, who was quoted as saying he desired to establish an Italian colony on the ranch.

Reports at Tulsa said Mrs. Capone was expected to visit the ranch some time this week.

SIX SHOT IN MINE OUTBREAK

Pitched Battle Staged In Indiana Fileds

ed and sheets of rain began to fall.

The strikers scurried for cover in the dismal shacks surrounding the diggings. So violent was the rain that all telephone lines to the mine went out.

The only communication to Pimento was over one shaky telegraph wire, which threatened momentarily to fail.

The sheriff, who has been demanding in vain for several days that national guardsmen be sent to aid him and his six deputies, said the pickets were in an "ugly mood."

They are disgruntled over continued attempts to run the Dixie Bee with non-union workers at wages considerably lower than the union scale. The Dixie Bee is the only deep shaft mine in the vicinity now running.

Workers Armed

"And it will continue to run," said Morton C. Embree, attorney for the operators. "There are 75 men at the mine, all well armed, and they are going to keep the shaft open. If miners want to work in it, that is their privilege and no striker is going to stop them."

Gov. Harry G. Leslie previously had said he hoped the operators would close down for a few days so that arbitrators might settle the dispute without violence.

The Dixie Bee has been strife torn for several weeks. For three consecutive days last week the pickets forced it to stay closed by massing so closely around the tipple that workers could not enter.

POLICE QUELL WORKERS' RIOT

Demonstration in Ottawa Frustrated

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 2. (AP)—Police reserves used their clubs to disperse 500 delegates to the "workers' economic conference" here today and 6,000 spectators who had gathered to watch were shooed off likewise.

The demonstration of the workers, who wore red bands around their sleeves, was planned for Marquet square, but permission was refused by the authorities.

Then the 500 delegates, accompanied by several thousand spectators, moved to a park in Sussex street. A girl orator mounted a soap box. In a few minutes two carloads of reserves roared up.

The police tried persuasion without avail, then they charged. They used their clubs and fists. As the display of a sign "Fools starve, men fight," the reds sat down on the street. They were picked up, and if they sat down again they were bashed on the head. Numerous arrests were made.

The onlookers booed and jeered, and once the reds were moving on, the police started after the spectators. A few heads got a dose of police billies, then the onlookers scattered too.

Nominee Who Contested Own Victory May Lose Congressional Seat

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2. (UP)—A nominee today faced possible loss of a seat in congress because he contested his own victory.

O. B. Mothersead had only a one vote lead over F. B. Swank in the fifth district congress race as a recount of the Oklahoma county ballots started today.

An error of a few votes either way would decide the winner.

When Swank, defeated by 56 votes on the basis of official tabulations in last week's run-off primary, asked a recount in Oklahoma county, Mothersead asked a recount of Garvin county ballots.

The recount was completed late yesterday under supervision of District Judge W. G. Long at Pauls Valley and gave Swank a net gain of 55 votes, leaving Mothersead victor by a margin of one. The recount gave Swank 5,237 votes and Mothersead 3014 in Garvin county.

The recount here, expected to require at least two days, is under supervision of District Judge R. P. Hill.

LONG ROARS IN ARKANSAS

'Kingfish' Raps Opponents Of Mrs. Caraway

STUTTGART, Ark., Aug. 2. (AP)—Under fire from Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway's opposition in her senatorial race because he has "invaded" Arkansas to urge her re-election, Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana snapped back today with a charge that some of her opponents visited Louisiana to attempt his impeachment as governor in 1929.

He called no names, asserting "I ain't going to give 'em that much advertising" but he lashed into the opposition ranks with a biting tongue after scanning Little Rock dispatches reporting criticism of his Arkansas tour by former Gov. Charles H. Brough, one of Mrs. Caraway's six opponents.

"If I wasn't doing 'em any harm, they wouldn't be kicking," Louisiana's "Kingfish" told an early morning crowd that turned out to see his caravan of trucks and trimmings here.

In her most vigorous address of the campaign, Mrs. Caraway criticized the Hoover administration and referred bitterly to the routing of the bonus army with army regulars.

Gasoline Dealers Enter Protests

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. (AP)—The Gasoline Dealers Association, Inc. today petitioned United States Attorney George Z. Medalie, through its counsel, Bernard Cohen, to obtain an injunction restraining certain "major gasoline companies" from "practices, agreements, conspiracies, combinations and understandings expressed or implied, in restraint of trade and commerce."

Medalie forwarded the petition to Assistant Attorney General John Lord O'Brian in Washington, D. C., for his consideration.

The petition set forth that after thorough investigation by its advisory committee the association has concluded that an attempt is being made to destroy competition and that on May 21, last, the "major gasoline companies" entered into an agreement to eliminate and destroy independent dealers. The petition alleged that since May 21, last, retail dealers in gasoline have been unable to go into the open market and buy gasoline where they desired, regardless of which producer they usually patronized.

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 2.—Don't mention Aug. 1 to Editor Claborne Huston of the Stamford American unless you have a story of your own to tell. He is not interested.

While he was working in his office rounding out the old editorial page Monday morning a man with dark designs on the safe entered the front door. Miss Margaret Schaefer had gone to the back for supplies and Guy Cannon was seated at the linotype.

Apparently the man found everything to his liking. He calmly took $35.35 from the safe and was casually walking away when Miss Schaefer returned to ask him if he had been waited on.

Evidently he had all that he needed. The loss was discovered some 30 minutes later. Chief of Police G. G. Flournoy worked on the case all day. Sheriff Tom Hudson from Anson, City Marshal Johnson of Hamlin and Sheriff Sarrells of Haskell came to Stamford to lend assistance. A man was brought here Monday afternoon for questioning, but was dismissed.

Wife Who Doesn't Smoke Or Drink Tells Problems

By EMILY POST
Author of "Etiquette, the Blue Book of Social Usage."

Dear Mrs. Post—My husband has recently been transferred to Washington. He has every prospect of a very successful career, and I naturally want to do everything in my power to help him. One situation troubles me very much. The wives, as well as the men of the group in which my husband belongs, drink almost as continually as they smoke—both things I have never cared to indulge in. If I frankly omit these pastimes I am afraid I shall be considered high-hat, particularly as I am reserved about making friends and have often been accused of being snobbish—actually I am shy and, like all shy people, apt to shut up like a clam when I am among strangers. My husband, on the contrary, is friendly and so brilliantly amusing that he is usually the center of interest—which keeps people from noticing how little he drinks!

I know I don't fit in with this group at all, but I am determined that if it is possible I will try to play the game and not handicap my husband. He is a brick and I should hate to disappoint him. I know there is a graceful way of being with people that enjoy doing things you do not, but I am afraid I am not very graceful. Honestly I hate preaching smugness, I don't care a rap what other people do, but I wish I knew how to make these particular people stop noticing that I don't finish a cigaret, or empty a glass. Can you suggest any way in which I can refuse without seeming smug and critical? And can you suggest the meaning of grace?

Answer—The only polite refusal that I know of is to tell what is the truth: "I can't touch alcohol because it is poison to me. (That you think it poison to most people need not be added!) That one does not smoke, causes no comment, as you may have noticed! On the subject of grace—Grace is ease—and ease is just an impersonal point of view. Remember that no one will notice what you do, or how you do it, unless you think about yourself so hard that you force them to.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Hitch Hikers

I have one word for hitch hikers. Don't. It has become good sport for boys and girls to hitch hike about the country. It seems to me that it is a poor kind of sport. There is too much risk for the hiker, no skill, no form enters into the game which is a one-sided matter altogether. A young person wanted a trip and he intended to have it at the expense of other people. Not very sporting, that.

I never like to see young people accepting, much less demanding something for which they cannot pay, for which they have no intention of paying. I fear the attitude that allows a young person to demand pleasure or even comfort, from someone else without obligation of any sort on his own part. Not even that of good manners.

The drivers of cars do not like to pick up young people along the road. There is a feeling of responsibility in carrying them. Then, too, there is always the fear that they may not be the harmless young things they appear to be. Most people of good sense ignore the hitch hikers and that leaves them, as a general thing, at the mercy of people not as sensible, not as responsible, not as safe. Once in an automobile the hiker is at the mercy of those who drive it. Put not your trust in strangers, is a good slogan for children.

It is particularly hazardous for young girls to go on a long hitch hike. We have not yet become accustomed to young girls going about the world on the loose, dependent upon the luck of the moment for whatever fortune befalls them. They are not likely to meet with the respect and consideration their state demands. They are far more likely to meet with insult and worse along the road. The young men along the way are certain in their own minds that the miss who stands at the side of the road, traveling by the thumb route, is no shrinking violet and they are likely to accept the opposite idea and treat the traveler with the crudeness her position indicates. You can't blame him for that. The social leader of your town's younger set does not stand by the side of the road hailing all comers for a hitch. It isn't done.

And it ought not to be done. A tramp across country is a fine experience. When a group of boys under the guidance of a responsibe leader goes out on the road seeing what they can see, making the acquaintance of the people through whose territory they march, they are likely to have the time of their lives. The same experience benefits the girls. There is nothing like a free march across the world to broaden the young person's horizon. But that sort of thing is a far cry from the hitch hike.

To those who set up a wail, demanding, "How am I to get there, then?" all I have to say is, "Why should you get there if you cannot go the right way? Why should you get there by making other people pay your way in money, anxiety, work? Why can't you stay where you are until you have the power to go as you should?" I have no faith in, no use for, the young person who thinks the world owes him a living. I want him to make his own living, for his own sake.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS MEET

New Eastern Campaign Manager Welcomed

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. (AP)—Republican National Chairman Everett Sanders returned to New York today to welcome Senator Felix Hebert of Rhode Island, newly-appointed eastern campaign manager, who arrived to establish his organization.

Senator Hebert's arrival was made the occasion of a rather impressive gathering of Republican leaders, but their meeting with the press could hardly be described as anything save "purely social."

Explaining that there would be nothing to say about campaign issues until after President Hoover makes his speech of acceptance next week, Thursday, Aug. 11, Sanders fended off questions.

Present at a conference in the morning with Sanders and Senator Hebert were Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, chairman of the eastern speakers bureau; James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh, general counsel to the Republican national committee; George Keim of New Jersey, secretary of the national committee, and George Akerson, eastern publicity chairman.

Senator Hebert said he expected to have his organization running at the Waldorf-Astoria next week.

Plan to Increase Coal Prices Charged

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 2. (AP)—Evidence which it claimed showed coal operators throughout the country planned group selling agencies which would result in higher prices to consumers was presented before a special federal court by the government today in its anti-trust suit against Appalachian Coals, Inc., and 132 coal operators.

John Lord O'Brian, assistant to the attorney general, said in outlining the government's case that the operators were adopting the selling agency plan in an effort to eliminate all competition among themselves.

The interests involved in the present suit are from Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Stipulations placed in the court record revealed plans for similar organization in other areas were being held in abeyance pending the outcome of the Appalachian case.

MERCURY HITS 107 DEGREES

Temperature Climbs to New Season's Record

is not received within a few days, in the opinion of Mr. McGown.

Feed crops also are suffering, especially matured fields, while late feed is withstanding the condition much better. Little plowing is under way in the county since the moisture of the last rain several weeks ago has soaked into the ground. Farmers of the county should have their fields broken soon in preparation for fall grain and feed crops.

10-Day Heat Wave

A check of temperature records for the last 10 days reveals a range from 99 to 107 degrees, almost on a gradual increase. Starting with Sunday, July 24, when the mercury climbed to 99 degrees, and repeated on Monday the temperature climbed one degree each day until Friday, July 29, when 106 degrees was recorded.

The temperature dropped to 105 degrees Saturday and scaled down with 104 and 103 degrees, respectively, on Sunday and Monday, but jumped to a season's high of 107 degrees Tuesday, equaling the 1931 record.

BRYAN, Texas, Aug. 2. (AP)—A victim of the terrific heat, Jess Hemfarling, 50, Bryan merchant, dropped dead in a pasture near here today.

The merchant had driven into the country to attend to his cattle.

MERCURY HITS 105 AT ABILENE

ABILENE, Aug. 2. (AP)—An intense heat wave which has held on for five days, saw the mercury hit 105 here Tuesday afternoon, the highest in two years. Temperatures of 100 were recorded Friday, Saturday and Sunday and Monday the mercury reached 102.

RAIN BREAKS HEAT AT SAN ANGELO

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 2. (AP)—Heavy rains throughout this section brought relief this afternoon after the mercury climbed to a record breaking temperature of 106 degrees. Precipitation was heaviest in the Christoval, Sonora and Mertzon sections.

HEAT WAVE CENTERS IN WEST TEXAS

The second day of August brought a slight intensification of the hot weather which had been general over Texas for several days.

Apparently, it was somewhat warmer in West Texas than in the eastern half of the state. San Angelo had a maximum of 106 degrees. Midland had 105.1, the highest temperature in four years. Abilene had 105, the highest in two years. It was 102 at Lubbock and 101 at El Paso.

The maximum at Dallas was 100. San Antonio had 100. The Houston maximum was 96.

Carlisle has been assigned the duties of night sergeant during Fred Stengel's vacation period. Complete reorganization of the night staff is not expected to be completed before the summer vacations are closed.

PARAGUAY WAR FERVOR MOUNTS

New Battalion of Troops Ordered to Front

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Aug. 2. (AP)—The government today ordered a battalion of newly recruited troops into the heart of the disputed Chaco territory.

The battalion was recruited at Concepcion by Marshal Lopez, and received orders to proceed to the Casado sector of the disputed jungle country. It was there that Paraguay has charged Bolivian soldiers had attacked several Paraguayan forts or outposts.

The Mennonite colony, which protested against fighting in their vicinity, is also in the Casado region.

Patriotic fervor mounted as it has in recent weeks. A group of women at Concepcion asked permission to enlist and receive military instruction. College professors started financing an ambulance corps. Recruiting officers refused to take scores of minors.

The government heard through unofficial channels that four rich Argentines with interests in this country were planning to donate 30 military airplanes to the Paraguayan army.

The knife was hand made and is of a fine grade of steel. The blade has two edges and tapers from the guard to the point. The handle once had pearl on each side similar to that of a regular pocket knife. The knife was probably made in Iowa, where the ancestors of Mr. Burris resided before they moved south.

F. D. R. STUDIES 'RAILROADING'

Nominee to Deliver Address On Subject Soon

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 2. (AP)—Believing that the financial troubles of the railroads are one of the country's major problems, Governor Roosevelt, the Democratic presidential candidate, is studying "railroading" in preparation of a campaign speech on the subject, supposedly the Columbus, Ohio, address.

Ahead of the governor lie a series of conferences on the railroad problem, first with rail executives and then with the heads of the great rail unions.

Mr. Roosevelt considers the railroad question one of the most important with which he would have to deal should he be elected president.

Dry Leader at White House for Conference

Dinwiddie said that although the general situation was talked over he had made no references to President Hoover's coming speech of acceptance, which will be scrutinized closely for any statements on prohibition it may contain.

SOCIALISTS IN CANADA MEET

New Political Party Formed By Farm-Labor Groups

CALGARY, Alta., Aug. 2. (AP)—Canada today had a new political party, the "Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation," which espouses the cause of Socialism.

The party was launched formally at a meeting of the farmer and labor groups of the dominion under the leadership of J. S. Woodworth of Winnipeg, veteran Laborite in the house of commons.

The aim of the new group will be to establish a "planned system of social economy for the production, distribution and exchange of all goods and services." This would be accomplished by stressing human needs, rather than individual profits.

The federation party decided to try to elect enough members to the federal parliament to change the economic system of Canada and will conclude its first convention today.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—It would be difficult not to read into Representative John Q. Tilson's announcement of his impending retirement from congress evidence of his disappointment at loss of his place as Republican leader in the house to Snell of New York.

JOHN Q. TILSON

"If the service I might reasonably expect to render here during the next few years appeared to be of an importance comparable to that I had the privilege of rendering during the last three congresses under Republican control, I should deem it my duty to stay here just as long as my own people approve," the Connecticut veteran said.

Other Reasons—Maybe

There could be other reasons for Tilson's determination, after 22 years in the house, not only not to run for re-election, but to resign his seat in the present house.

From a majority of around 20,000 in the 1926 election his lead fell off to some 6,000 in 1928 and to little more than 5,000 in 1930. He then had the prestige of his leadership to aid him.

Tilson became an active candidate for Republican speakership honors on Longworth's death. His intimacy with President Hoover was a factor in his race, yet Snell outstripped him.

Since then, even at the Chicago convention, Tilson has been evidently somewhat unhappy in his house environment. He has seen his successful rival, Snell, boom to the front.

Snell was permanent chairman of the convention. Snell was selected to notify President Hoover of his nomination. Those are some of the plums that go with even minority leadership.

Presumably Tilson's plans for retirement were known to Chairman Sanders of the Republican national committee when assignments of managers for the speakers' bureau of the committee were made for the coming campaign. Tilson was then slated to handle that problem in eastern territory while Representative Ramseyer of Iowa was picked for a like function in the western campaign.

Unusual

These two appointments attracted considerable attention in Washington, since Ramseyer was defeated for renomination in the primaries and now Tilson has announced his voluntary political retirement. Heretofore it has not been customary to charge defeated or retiring party stalwarts with such responsibilities.

When Tilson leaves the house, presumably after election, only Snell will remain as a reminder of that old triumvirate of Republican house management — Longworth, Tilson and Snell.

Consumer Must Pay Tax on Electricity

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—The three per cent tax on electrical energy levied in the new revenue act must be paid by the consumer of electricity.

Regulations issued by the internal revenue bureau provide that municipally-owned plants must add three per cent of a customer's bill when it is rendered each month to provide for the levy.

The regulations say the tax "applies to the amount paid for all electrical energy furnished for domestic or commercial consumption by any person or agency whether private, public, or quasi-public."

In cases where municipalities buy energy and resell it, the three per cent tax must be added to the customer's bill and a report made to the internal revenue bureau just the same as where a municipality manufactures and sells the energy.

Oklahoman Charges Budgets Are Too High

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2. (UP)—Maj. Eugene M. Kerr, Muskogee, Democratic member of Gov. W. H. Murray's economy board, today charged that state government budgets were still at the peak of 1930, while incomes and living expenses of individuals were back to 1914 standards.

The economy board, in session to begin a survey of the entire structure of state government with the view of cutting state expenses $10,000,000 held its first meeting Monday.

Kerr today made the comparison when discussing budgets for state educational institutions.

Youth Makes Journey By 'Spinning His Head'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2. (AP)—Hard times may have made some folks dizzy, but not 10-year-old Charles Wayne Ehrig, who traveled 300 miles by spinning his head.

The husky little red-head was back in Oklahoma City today after an absence of a year. His family moved to Springdale, Ark., but Charles came back "just to see the town."

"Did you have any money when you started?" he was asked.

"Nope," the boy replied. "When I needed money I would stand on my head and go around and around for a while."

Maybe it's just a coincidence, but all the Latin-American revolutions seem to come after a bond issue has been sold in the United States.

Another advantage of having one's education in the College of Hard Knocks is that you don't get a letter every so often asking if you will contribute your share to building a new ping-pong gym for Dear Old Whoozis.

There are two kinds of gangsters. The quick-on-the-trigger and the dead.

Census figures show that twice as many women as men live to be 100. That certainly shoots full of holes the old theory about talking yourself to death.

About Mr. Ford's Birthday Speech

MOMENTARY observance of current events in any given community may reveal Henry Ford's reasons for declaring recently that the United States now is experiencing growing pains, and is on the threshold of more real greatness than it heretofore has attained.

Material facts offer proof from two angles that Mr. Ford's analogy is correctly drawn. That there have been definite pains shooting through the entire social body of the country since 1928 no one will deny. It is likewise true that with the definite elimination of a frontier in this nation, transition from an era of spreading agriculturalism to one of settled industrialism has become inevitable.

In the Wichita Falls section, as in any other district, may be seen detailed illustrations of the change which Mr. Ford declares is a national phenomenon of encouraging nature. While employment is difficult to find, it is nevertheless true that some young men who never before have been required to turn a hand toward self-support now are working at ordinary jobs. And the significant feature of that is that they are finding life admittedly more interesting and worth while.

The general inclination toward mutual helpfulness is probably increasing. One citizen of Wichita Falls recently was convinced of that fact while passing through the little town of Dozier, up in Collingsworth county. Approximately a score of farmers mounted on field cultivators drove up before the country store about sundown. The visitor learned that a nearby farmer had suffered accidental injuries which prevented his caring for growing crops. More than 30 farmers, some from several miles away, met in early morning at the injured man's place, and by the end of the day had worked out his entire crop-growing land.

Further support of Mr. Ford's theory is seen in the rapidly growing capacity for self-entertainment. There have been vast increases in the number of those who utilize their leisure hours in recreation of their own provision, rather than turning automatically to commercialized entertainment. Crowded patronage of tennis courts, golf courses and baseball "diamonds" in Wichita Falls reveal the established trend. This city has witnessed another innovation, too, during the summer. A considerable group of those who love music, painted art, literature and conversation have met informally but regularly throughout the summer in highly profitable employment of leisure evening hours.

Without implying that Mr. Ford has, or has not, contributed materially to a changing national character, it seems probable that he has observed accurately what is taking place.

The Tragic Niobe Disaster

THE tragic accident in which the German training ship Niobe capsized and carried some 60 naval cadets to their death calls attention to the fact that the German navy, like several others, sticks to the belief of the old-time sea dogs—the belief that the sailing ship is the only good training ship for seafaring men.

Most navies, including those of the United States and England, are wholly converted to modern ways. An officer can spend his life in either of these great navies and know nothing whatever about sailing ships. But the Germans hold that the man who is trained in a square-rigger gets a grounding in seamanship that he can get in no other way; and, as a result, every German naval officer does a tour of duty on some such ship as this Niobe.

The Niobe undoubtedly will sail again. The Germans have too great an admiration for old-fashioned seamanship to let this tragedy cause a change in their policy.

The Case for the 20th Amendment

THE importance of getting the "lame duck" amendment ratified is amply illustrated by the present congressional campaign.

This fall the nation will elect a new congress. Every member of the house of representatives and a third of the members of the senate must submit their candidacies to the voters. But under the existing law, the newly-elected congress will not convene until Jan. 3, 1934, unless a special session is called next spring.

Suppose, for the sake of argument, that some crisis were upon us demanding speedy action; and suppose that the voters emphatically disavowed the policy of the present congress and elected one of an entirely different temper. We should have to wait for more than a year before the people's will could find expression in the national capitol.

Could anything make clearer the worth of the 20th amendment?

The Iceland Air Route

IT IS beginning to look like a safe bet that the first commercial air line between the United States and Europe will be an affair of several comparatively short hops, routed via Greenland and Iceland, instead of one long jump over the "great circle" course.

Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, completing his third flight over the sea, adds one more demonstration to the number that have already been made to show the feasibility of the Greenland-Iceland route.

It is flights like this, rather than the spectacular non-stop affairs, that are really helping to bring regular transatlantic air mail service nearer to reality. It is hardly going too far to expect that a very few more years will see such a service established; and when that day comes flyers like Captain Gronau will get a large part of the credit.

SO THEY SAY!

Obviously, industry as now mechanized cannot supply work for the more than 50,000,000 working men and women in the United States. The nation must either give up machinery or give up the long work week and the long work day.—Statement by executive council, American Federation of Labor.

So Goes It

You'll come home late some night and seek your room,
Switch on the light—review the evening spent
With some dull lad, and stop a bit to fume,
Because he failed to ease your dicontent;
Then you will note my picture, watching still,
The wistful eyes—the lips that lied so well,
And you will feel a reminiscent thrill—
Remembering our Heaven and our Hell.

Then you will pause, pick up the slender book
Of poignant verse I fashioned once for you;
Turn to a page perchance that you may look
At wistful fragments, half-forgotten, too;

Then you will laugh—and toss your pretty head,
Stifle a yawn—and make your way to bed!

—DON WAHN.

Gag

Then there's the silly about the dialectician, whose career was one lawsuit after the other. The heat drove him home earlier than usual the other 3 p. m., and to his amazement he found his wife sitting on the lap of a stranger.

"What's the idea of coming home at 3 in the afternoon like this?" thundered the stranger in the bulldozing manner.

To which Mr. Mefoofsky raced from the place over to his lawyer where he related his experience. "But tell me, Sam," said the worried husband, "can he sue me?"

Hollywood Note

"Ina Claire," reports Louella Parsons, "was at the Brown Derby all in pink. Looking like a million, too."

In the bank or in the market?

Lessons in Ethics

From Hollywood comes Ruth Rankin's quip about the movie ham who was telling a group how he happened into a director's office and saw him necking with an actress whose name he mentioned.

"You don't say?" said a listener, "and who was the director?"

"See here!" snapped the gossip, "do you think I'm a cad?"

In Fewer Words

Boiled down to these crisp comments best summed up the passing of F. Ziegfeld. Said Will Rogers: "He was his own opposition. It never was a case of whether his show was better than anybody else's, but whether his newest show was better than his last one."

J. Mulvaney epitaphs: "Alphabetically or otherwise—Ziegfeld was always the last word."

Types I'm Glad I'm Not

"What on earth's the matter with that guy? Everybody seems to dislike him."

"Oh, he's all right, I suppose. But he carries a pocket comb and uses it! . . . He wears colored straw-hat bands . . . He displays the bankroll in roadhouses but never reaches for the check . . . He asks celebrities for their autograph . . . He doesn't care what people say of him, so long as they don't ignore him, and he actually believes that the use of a napkin to cover his tooth-picking activity excuses it!"

No Kiddin'

The best way, says T. Cook, to make some easy money is to convince another guy he's going to.

It's easier performing miracles.

By Way of Report

Miss Garbo is again in town playing tag with the cameramen and reporters, according to the newspaper fronts. The typewriter wreckers are having a breathless time of it, trapping the Baltic Beauty, and great crowds collect to catch a glimpse of her, we are informed.

Cheerful Item

She solicits advertising for one of the papers. On a recent visit to one of the Sixth avenue "fortune tellers" she learned that her "lucky" number was 507. So when she got her home, she gave her colored maid 25 cents and instructed her to invest the quarter in the Black Belt's diversion called "Numbers." The maid forgot the exact number, but thought her mistress said to play "707."

It won $150.

As If You Didn't Know

Most men, says an editorial writer, admire girls with well-shaped minds.

But they go out with those who have well-shaped Dietrichs.

Street Scene

Time tells of an inquiring photographer who went to Coney Island to find out if any person ever suffered from a broken heart.

The cameraman happened into a barker for a side show, who confessed that a woman jilted him years ago and "broke my heart."

"And," he added, "that's why I took this job—because some day I feel she'll pass this spot, and I'll break her jaw!"

The Squelch Proper

They tell of a director on the coast who fired a girl assistant the other day, who took it so to heart, she went home and swallowed poison. First aid, however, saved her life, and the players on the set took up a collection for her. Everybody kicked in with some money, except the director.

"The next time I go skunk hunting," groaned one of the group, "I'm going to use him for bait!"

Parting Shot

It reminds us of the time Harry Reichenbach was informed of the sudden death of a theater manager, with whom he warred. Heart trouble was the cause.

"He probably died," snapped Harry, "because his heart swelled up to the size of a bird-seed!"

Photoplay Magazine Publisher Succumbs

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2. (AP)—James R. Quirk, 49, who started his writing career as a reporter on a Boston newspaper and later saw his motion picture magazine grow from a little known publication into a medium read by more than half a million film fans, died today of pneumonia.

Quirk, publisher of the magazine Photoplay, contracted a severe cold during a tour of northern California. He was stricken with a heart attack which weakened his condition. As surgeons prepared to operate for a stomach disorder, the publisher died.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

Mayor Murphy of Somerville, Mass., while attending a recent official dinner, was asked to give a short talk. He wanted to jot down a few notes, but didn't have a pencil, so he asked Police Superintendent Crowley of Boston for one. Crowley, after a long and arduous search, finally produced from the recesses of his clothing a one-inch stub of a pencil, remarking: "There, that's been my police pencil for 40 years." And it was true. In 1892 Patrolman Crowley received an issue of one police department pencil. He cut the pencil in two, one piece lasting him 20 years, and the other half—though down to a one-inch piece—is still doing service, and has seen him through his gradual rise from patrolman to superintendent of Boston's "finest."

NEGRO VOTE APPEAL FILED

Question Certified to Supreme Court

AUSTIN, Aug. 2. (AP)—A question whether the state Democratic party has power to exclude negroes from participating in its primary elections was certified to the Texas supreme court today.

The matter was brought to the highest state tribunal on appeal from the fourth court of civil appeals at San Antonio, which held that the party was not within its rights in denying negroes the privilege of voting in party primaries.

The United States supreme court recently ruled, in deciding a case from Texas, that party primary judges and officials could be held responsible for rejecting votes offered by negroes.

During the Democratic primary last month party managers in some counties permitted negroes to participate, while others denied them that right. The state Democratic convention had adopted resolutions opening the primaries only to white members of the party.

HARRIS NEGROES AGAIN FILE VOTE APPEAL

HOUSTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—Negroes represented by Julius White again went to federal court this afternoon in an effort to gain entrance into the Harris county Democratic primaries.

Specifically, they asked that the county Democratic executive committee be restrained from barring negroes from the Aug. 27 run-off election.

Previously Judge T. M. Kennerly had denied a mandamus against the committee but solely upon the stated ground that he had no jurisdiction to grant the "nature of the relief" sought, thus indicating the suit might have been successful had it been drawn up in a different manner. In the opinion he held the party had in fact deprived negroes of a constitutional right in refusing to permit them to vote in the primary, and likewise held the party had lost its inherent power to determine the qualifications of its membership.

Today's action was designed to meet the objection as to jurisdiction that arose in the first suit.

Noted Colorado Hotel Put in Receivership

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 2. (AP)—The Broadmoor Hotel company, operating the fashionable hostelry in the suburbs of Colorado Springs, was placed in receivership today. Charles I. Tutt, of the Penrose-Tutt interests here, was named receiver by District Judge Arthur Cornforth.

The action was taken after the El Pomar Investment company filed a complaint asking appointment of a receiver. The investment company was awarded judgment of $2,290,087 against the hotel last June.

The hotel will remain in continuous operation with no change in active management, Tutt announced after his appointment.

Ziegfeld's Wife May 'Carry On' Flo's Work

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 1. (AP)—Billie Burke, the widow of Florenz Ziegfeld, may carry on his plans for the Follies.

A. C. Blumenthal, of the Ziegfeld Production company, said Miss Burke had been asked to return to New York from Hollywood and take the producer's place in the presentation of two extravaganzas which he had planned before his death here July 22.

One of these productions will be another Follies and the second will be an operetta composed by Jerome Kern.

National Conference On Hoover's 'Back To Work' Program Likely

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—The administration was on record today for a plan to give jobs to more people by letting all work less and may present the idea to business leaders in a national conference shortly.

The likelihood that President Hoover will call such a conference stands out clearly as an aftermath of his talk Monday with a group of New Englanders who presented a work-shortening plan.

Governor Winant of New Hampshire said "We made some progress in the meeting with the president." The "New Hampshire" plan would spread employment through a five-day week, shorter work days or any other method found available.

Administration leaders also are contemplating even the four-or-three-day week, the six-hour day, the staggering of working hours and flexible work weeks depending on the volume of business. Application of these plans, they say, while reducing incomes of employed workers, would give much-needed jobs to others.

President Hoover, in his recent nine-point rehabilitation program, indicated he favored a plan of this sort when he said "I have under discussion with various agencies the question of a movement to further spread existing employment through reduction of work hours."

He has available for study before calling the conference a survey of shorter employment hours made by Secretaries Doak and Lamont and covering 6,551 companies.

Butler Advocates Care Of Bonus Vets

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa., Aug. 2. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, retired, said today some authority should take command of the situation of the bonus marchers at Johnstown with the view of getting the men, women and children gathered there to their home states without further humiliation.

"Some plan or system should be devised," said the general, "to list them, find out who they are, where they came from and where they want to go. Take an inventory and then notify the governors of the states represented in the crowd at Johnstown of the situation. Ask them if they will care for the residents of their states if they are sent home to them.

"There should be no further humiliation of those people." General Butler said.

"Don't send those people home in trucks. Feed them properly and send them home in proper means of transportation."

R. F. C. Confers With Railroad Executives

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation today began a series of conferences with railway executives and officials of the Interstate Commerce commission in an effort to find a way to put a large number of men to work on the railroads.

No conclusions were reached at a three-hour conference this morning. Another will be held tomorrow. Should a plan be worked out to finance repair work and maintenance, it was expected thousands of men could be put to work.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2. (INS)—Fifteen firemen were overcome by smoke from a fire in the Theater Francais in the east end section of Montreal today. Three of the firemen were taken to the hospital.

Some two hundred patrons in the theater walked out quietly when flames issued from under the orchestra pit.

AUSTRIA LAGS WITH PAYMENTS

Doubt Cast on International Loan

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. (AP)—Future interest payments on the $55,000,000 Austrian government international loan dated 1930 were thrown in doubt today when it was announced recent monthly installments had not yet been paid by the Austrian government.

This is the second Austrian loan whose status has become doubtful as a result of foreign exchange difficulties and restrictive measures taken with Austria to preserve its present meager cash and gold resources.

As in the case of the $125,000,000 Austrian guaranteed loan, for which a similar announcement was made last week, the break in continuity of monthly installment payments does not imply a default on the next interest coupon, although funds are not now being received for application to that purpose.

The last interest coupon, due July 1, was paid on the loan. The break in installments occurred after funds had been received by the trustee of the loan to take care of that interest disbursement. Installments due on July 1 and Aug. 1 were not forthcoming and it was stated there is no "assurance that similar deficiencies will not occur again."

Today's announcement was made at the office of J. P. Morgan and company and was based on the receipt of advices from the Bank for International Settlements, trustee of the loan. The Austrian international loan was floated in 1930. It totaled $55,000,000 principal amount, of which $25,000,000 was floated here.

When troublesome questions arise, avail yourself of the service of this department. It costs you nothing—you have only to mail three cents for postage to the personal letter you will receive in reply. Any question on any subject of fact will be answered. Address your letter of inquiry to the Record News Information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q—Does Florida or Texas extend farther south?—A. E.

A—The southernmost point of the mainland of the United States is Cape Sable, Florida, which is in latitude 25 degrees 7 minutes. The extreme southern point of Texas is in latitude 25 degrees 30 minutes.

Q—Who originated the style of painting called "Santo Conversazione?"—C. C. W.

A—Paolum Vecchio is generally credited with originating the style.

Q—Are zebras black with white stripes or white with black stripes?—A. B.

A—The basic color of a zebra is white, and his stripes are black. This is proven by the fact that when a zebra is crossed with a donkey the offspring are almost invariably of a light tan color with heavy black stripes on the legs and faint black stripes on the neck and body. It is sometimes difficult to tell which is the basic color, since in some species of zebra the belly and hocks are white, in other species the hocks at least are black, and in all species the nose is black. Likewise the stripes in various species are of varying width, the black being wider in some and the white wider in others. The fact remains, nevertheless, that the basic color may be considered white.

Q—How large a sum did the members of the fourth crusade first agree to pay Venice?—W. A.

A—A vast sum—85,000 marks of silver. They also agreed to divide all conquests and booty equally between themselves and the Venetians.

Q—How large is Pearl harbor near Honolulu?—L. N. D.

A—It has an area of 10 square miles.

Q—How many home runs has Lou Gehrig made?—G. A. L.

A—He had a total of 294 to his credit when this season opened. In 1923, he made 1; 1924, 6; 1925, 21; 1926, 16; 1927, 47; 1928, 27; 1929, 35; 1930, 41; 1931, 46.

Q—If a tenor sings a soprano solo does he sing at the same pitch as a woman does, or is his voice lower?—N. M.

A—Following natural and mathematical laws, the tones of the female voice are an octave higher than those of the male. Therefore a soprano solo sung by a tenor is rendered an octave lower than the notes as they are written.

Q—Why are some churches given names ending in "minster"?—E. M.

A—The word originally signified the church of a monastery or convent.

Q—Why is this the twentieth century?—A. A. W.

A—The first century included the years 1 A. D. to 101 A. D. The second century therefore began in 101 and each succeeding century bears the number of the year in which it will be completed.

Q—How long is an elephant considered young?—T. F.

A—The Burmese who are much accustomed to breeding elephants say that the term of life is approximately 130 years for normal elephants. The period from birth to 25 years is considered infancy and extreme youth; from 25 to 35 years immature period; 35 to 45 years full grown period; 45 to 50 years middle aged period; and 50 to 60 years and over period of old age and decline.

Q—On which syllable are words in Esperanto accented?—W. B.

A—In the plan followed in building words in Esperanto, the accent was placed always on the syllable next to the last.

Q—What are the Chinese holidays?—S. R. C.

A—The Chinese celebrate the New Year, ending with the Feast of the Lanterns; Spring Festival, celebrated with kite-flying; Summer Holiday with Dragon Boat Festival; Autumn Holiday or Moon Festival, observed by eating moon cakes and as an occasion for family reunions; and Mid-Autumn Holiday or Festival of High Places.

Q—How is the office of education divided into departments?—V. W.

Q—Is such an address as "Mr. John Jones, Esq." correct?—K. L.

A—When the abbreviation "Esq." is used, it is incorrect also to use "Mr."

ROGERS HORNSBY RELEASED AS MANAGER OF CHICAGO CUBS

POST GIVEN TO CHARLEY GRIMM

Veeck Makes Change "In Interest of Team"

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 2 (UP)—William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, announced tonight that Rogers Hornsby was released as manager of the Cubs "for the best interests of the team."

Simultaneously with the announcement of Hornsby's release as manager and player, Veeck announced that Charley Grimm, veteran first baseman, had been appointed manager of the team.

Veeck said that the Cubs agreed to fulfill their part of Hornsby's contract which has until Dec. 31, 1932, to run.

Veeck's announcement was tantamount to release of Hornsby who was appointed manager of the Cubs late in 1930, succeeding Joe McCarthy, who later became manager of the New York Yankees.

Part Amiably

Hornsby and Veeck were amiable enough when they called newspaper men in to inform them that the Rajah had severed his connections with the club. However, those close to the club's affairs have known for some time that considerable friction existed between the manager and the president.

It was said that a bitter debate took place between Hornsby and Veeck for almost an hour before they emerged from the conference room with the information that "Hornsby had resigned as manager of the club with the mutual understanding that it was for the good of the ball club."

To Get Salary

Veeck said that Hornsby would be paid his salary in full until Dec. 31, 1932, the date of expiration of his two-year contract.

It was reliably reported that Hornsby's salary was $40,000 a year, thus he will receive approximately two months pay or $16,000 for giving up the managership at this time.

Hornsby plans to return to his home at Anglum, Mo., tomorrow. He said he would not join no other baseball club this season.

Hornsby's dismissal is said to have been hastened by an interview he gave a New York newspaper recently, in which he said the Cubs' outfield was lamentably weak.

HERE'S THE DOPE ON NEW CUB SKIPPER

By WARREN BROWN

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (US)—While a great many hundred words are putting in their appearance elsewhere on the passing of one more Cub manager, Rogers Hornsby, let's toss around a few for the incoming manager, Charley Grimm.

A ball player, and a great one; a man talented in several other callings, at any one of which he might have made a success; a leader who should have the good will of all his players, since he always has had that; a "great guy," judged by any standard, and a gentleman. That's Charley Grimm.

In congratulating the Cubs on deciding to turn the management of the b'l club over to him, the only question this writer can raise is why the decision was so long delayed.

Grimm, a first baseman by trade, might have been a vaudeville entertainer. He sings well, and he can get more mileage out of a banjo than Paavo Nurmi could out of his Finnish feet.

He paints, and he isn't fussy about what he paints. He paints portraits, or the back fence. It makes no never mind to him. One of his prize stories has to do with a tale of whitewashing a fence. And telling stories is one of the many things Grimm does well.

He is a cabinet maker, and can turn out toys for his kiddies as well as any of those artisans whose "made in Germany" trademarks hark back to the land from which Grimm's forebears came.

As a ball player, Grimm has always been recognized as one of the game's greatest fielding first basemen. Time after time, Grimm has come up with those "impossible" stops of hurried throws by the dizzy infielders that, for many years have been making their appearance in the Cub lineup. But there have been times, just as well, when Grimm has taken his cuts at the plate, and clouted the old baseball.

At the conclusion of the 1931 season, his 13th of steady employment in the big league, Grimm's lifetime average was .292, and that's hitting, as infielders go.

Blue Tames Dixon's For 7-1 Victory

Big Everett Blue scattered seven hits over seven innings and pitched Wichita Hardware to a 7 to 1 victory over Dixon Sign company Tuesday afternoon on Harrison field. It was a tight pitching battle between Blue and "Pep" Dixon until the latter weakened in the seventh inning to allow four markers to trickle across the plate.

Dixon was nicked pretty smartly in the late innings with Ralph Bracken leading the attack with a double and two singles in four trips to the plate. Taylor, Janeway, McMahan and Barrett each collected two hits off Dixon to account for 11 of the 14 hits.

Newman Smith was the only man to get more than one hit off Blue. Blue pitched steady ball all the way with two of the hits being bunched in the sixth to count the only Dixon tally.

The veteran Dixon skipper pitched a far better game than the score would indicate. Two errors by the youthful Pete Dixon and two very scratchy hits were registered in this round. Score:

Appeal From Truck Case Injunctions To Be Filed Today

GROESBECK, Texas, Aug. 2. (AP)—C. S. Bradley, attorney representing the highway department, announced today an appeal would be filed in the 10th court of civil appeals in behalf of the state motor patrol from injunctions granted in more than a dozen truck load limit cases by District Judge Fountain Kirby in 78th district court here.

Judge Kirby has been granting injunctions against enforcement of the 7,000-pound load limit law on application of motor carriers in various parts of the state. Most of the cases originated at Huntsville. Bradley expected to file an appeal tomorrow in the appellate court at Waco.

Attorneys were enjoined by a district judge at Austin recently from interfering by application for injunction against enforcement of the law. New cases filed since then have no attorney's name signed by the truck owner.

Last fall Judge Kirby granted similar injunctions and Judge W. C. Davis of Bryan granted counter injunctions. In a hearing to settle the resulting conflict, the Waco courts found with Davis.

Del Rio Company Sues Railroad

HOUSTON, Aug. 2. (UP)—The Del Rio Stone company today sued the Southern Pacific lines for $5,000,000 actual damages charging the railroad conspired to delay construction of its passenger station here in order to regain possession of a quarry leased by the plaintiff.

The suit, which also asked $5,000,000 exemplary damages, was filed in district court and named the Texas and New Orleans Railway company and the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio Railroad company, both Southern Pacific units.

The railroads were made cross defendants in the Stone company's answer to a suit filed against the Stone company by the Marland Estate, Inc., of Ponca City, Okla., seeking foreclosure on a mortgage.

The petition said the railroad companies had leased about 50 acres of stone quarries belonging to the plaintiff and that the Del Rio Stone company had had hopes of furnishing stone for construction of the new $2,500,000 Southern Pacific depot planned for Houston.

Pennsylvania Asks Loan of $10,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, today requested a loan of $10,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for immediate unemployment relief in his state.

The governor said he would ask for $25,000,000 more later. He would not say how the $10,000,000 would be distributed if the loan was granted.

The state of Illinois recently received a $3,000,000 loan after it had requested $10,000,000.

This Seat Must Travel to the Place You Want to Go . . . Why Not Occupy It?

EVERY day many people are leaving in their cars for many destinations. The motoring expense would be practically the same if one or more passengers occupied the empty seats—and these passengers could share the expenses of the trip—saving themselves and the driver quite a few dollars.

Classified ads in the "Personals" column of the Daily Times-Record News provide the necessary introductions between drivers and passengers.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 2. (AP)—(USDA)—Excepting a few consignments of strictly choice fed steers and yearlings at steady prices, the bulk of beef steers was listed at weak to 25c lower in a slow trade. A range of $6.75@8.50 took the majority of native steers and yearlings with a few loads of better grade at $8.75@9.50. Chicago secured up to $9.70 on three loads of 1,265 pound beeves. Common to medium western grass steers found demand extremely dull. Few sales were recorded at $3.50@5.50. Stockers and feeders held steady with demand continuing to center on feeders. Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

D. S. F.—Would like to know about earnings and financial condition of General Motors. Does the $1 dividend appear reasonably secure?

Answer—General Motors reported a sharp decline in income for second quarter, reflecting the April 1 price cut and low consumer demand. Net for the period was equal to only 7 cents a share, the smallest figure thus far in the depression, which compares with 17 cents in first quarter and with $1.21 in like 1931 interval. Although dividend disbursements in the first half exceeded net income by more than $22,000,000, net working capital was reduced by only about $14,000,000, and cash items were increased by $10,800,000. This showing is believed to reflect large depreciation charges but relatively small capital expenditures, and provides some basis for current opinion that no change will be made in current $1 rate at Aug. 3 directors' meeting, but it cannot be considered secure.

C. J. W.—Please furnish me with some data on International Business Machines stock.

Answer—The corporation has given a remarkable demonstration of immunity to the effects of depression, thus far, and dividends have been declared at the regular rate for the remainder of the year. Foreign business amounted to less than 20 per cent of the total last year. Rentals received from abroad are usually payable in domestic funds. Governmental business also constitutes a relatively small portion of the whole. Further mechanization of tabulating and accounting affords a wide field for additional expansion of markets for the concern's business machinery. Meanwhile, renewals of contracts and new business continue to come in a little ahead of cancellations. Paying $6 plus 5 per cent in stock annually, the issue is rated as a good business man's investment. Record results of $11.08 per share were reported in 1931, as against $10.96 in 1930. For the first six months of 1932 earnings equaled $5.04 a share, as compared with $5.37 for the first half of last year after adjustment to reflect the 5 per cent stock dividend paid Jan. 11, 1932. A portion of the small decline in net earnings for the six months was the result of increased federal taxes. At close of 1931, company was in sound financial position, ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 3.9 to 1 and cash or equivalent more than current payables.

T. M., Wichita Falls—Kindly furnish me with information concerning earnings, outlook, etc., of Air Reduction Co., Inc.

Answer—This large producer of oxy-acetylene welding equipment and supplies reported 1931 per share earnings of $4.54 compared with $6.32 in 1930 and $7.75 in 1929. Earned $1.47 a share in first half of 1932 after liberal depreciation charges, as against $2.43 in like 1931 period. It is considered probable that regular dividend requirements of $3 a share will be approximately covered this year. Book value $35.65, working capital equivalent to about $22 a share. As a result of the development of new uses for oxy-acetylene welding in recent years, together with the institution of operating economies, the long range profits outlook is distinctly favorable. Per share returns should be quick to reflect improved profits, in view of the relatively small number of shares of common stock (the sole capitalization) outstanding.

G. G.—What is your opinion of Missouri-Pacific common and preferred.

Answer—Earnings for the current year are expected to fall short of fixed charges by some 50 per cent, and financial position is generally unsatisfactory. The road has now received $17,100,000 in loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, a total which adds materially to the already burdensome fixed charges. Non-operating income will be radically reduced this year as a result of dividend omissions on holdings of Texas & Pacific common and preferred and New Orleans, Texas & Mexico. The St. Louis-Iron Mountain River and Gulf Division bonds mature on May 1, 1933, in aggregate amount of $34,548,000. Deficit after charges for the first five months amounted to $4,916,780 contrasted with net income of $821,016 in the corresponding period a year ago. Fixed charges were earned only 0.44 times, while present prospects point to practically the same ratio for the full year, with aggregate net loss of close to $11,400,000. Both issues are considered unattractive because of the present position and poor outlook for the road.

ROAD ASKS LOAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—The Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad company today asked the Interstate Commerce commission to authorize a $4,000,000 Reconstruction Finance corporation loan with which to build the Dotsero cut-off between its line and the Denver and Salt Lake railroad.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. (AP)—Liquidation and scattered selling inspired by the heavy tone of stock and wheat markets forced cotton about $1 a bale lower today, but the market recovered a small part of its extreme loss near the close.

December, after selling off to 5.98 or 20 points net lower, closed at 6.04, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 12 to 16 points.

The opening was 5 to 9 points lower on relatively easy Liverpool cables.

There was talk of an easier technical position following the advances of last week, and uncertainty as to the showing of next Monday's government crop report was mentioned as a probable factor in some of the selling.

Futures closed steady, 12 to 16 points lower. Spot, quiet; middling, 5.90.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2. (AP)—Cotton was fairly active today at lower price levels. Unfavorable cables, hedge selling against the movement of new crop in Texas and weakness in stocks and wheat were the main causes of the decline which carried prices off 20 points from the previous close. There was a rally of 7 points near the end and the close was steady at net declines for the day of 12 to 13 points.

Liverpool is due tomorrow on New Orleans arrived today from Magnolia.

The first new crop bale to reach New Orleans arrived today from Magnolia, Miss., and will be sold at auction tomorrow.

Port receipts 7,450, for week 16,158, for season 16,158, last season 2,563. Exports 4,132, for week 27,554, for season 27,554, last season 8,812. Port stock 3,357,334; last year 2,779,991. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 66,147, last year 33,525. Spot sales at southern markets 3,050, last year 2,619.

Futures closed steady at net declines of 12 to 13 points.

Stocks And Bonds Suffer in First Reaction Since Recent Advance

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. (US)—Stocks and bonds as well as the principal commodities today participated in the first general reaction suffered by the leading markets since the recent advance was inaugurated early in July. The setback was of rather emphatic proportions, and in the case of wheat carried the quotation half way back to the level from which the rise started.

The relapse was regarded as the natural aftermath of three weeks of steady improvement and the resultant impairment of technical conditions due to elimination of part of the short interest as well as an increased speculative following. Although firmness was still its outstanding characteristic, the bond market gave signs of pausing after nearly a month of consecutive advance.

Measured by final stock averages, the principal groups canceled all the gain recorded since last Wednesday, or about 15 per cent of the entire recovery from the low points. While this was the first noteworthy interruption to the "baby" boom, it lost some of its significance in a diminished volume of activity. Total transactions were less than 1,500,000 shares compared with an average of more than 2,000,000 shares during the past four full sessions.

Break in wheat prices probably contributed as much to the action of stock prices as the weakened internal condition of the market. The most active stage of the selling developed coincident with a 2-cent fall in the coarse grains and of $1 a bale in cotton.

Since the share list had to a large extent derived its initial rally stimulus from the improved tone of commodity prices, the professional floor element pressed offerings more aggressively and succeeded in bringing out supplies from a rather timid long following built up on the rise.

Appearance of a number of private forecasts of the government's crop estimate due next Tuesday was the dominating influence in the grain markets. These predicted an average yield much in excess of general expectations, and received bearish construction in view of some recent belief that the indicated harvest would be about 50,000,000 below the official July 1 government figure.

The reactionary tendency of stocks was offset from time to time by half hearted demonstrations in some special directions, especially among the copper shares and oils. Both groups were strong features at the close.

Issues under the influence of coming dividend meetings performed indifferently and contributed little toward throwing possible light on the forthcoming actions. General Motors, which meets after the close tomorrow, moved in a narrow range.

The performance of the railroad group acted to depress trading sentiment and there was not much activity in rail equipment specialties despite the Washington conference of executives on the question of new supply purchases.

Preferred stocks as a rule maintained their strength with the only important exception of U. S. Steel.

News of the day brought little additional evidence of a change in business conditions. These items included a further decline in automobile production as a result of further curtailment by Ford.

The foreign exchanges were a trifle more active with the reopening of the London market after the bank holidays but quotations were little changed. The German mark was an exception, however, with a rise of several points.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 2. (AP)—Demand for wheat was good on the cash grain market here today. Barley and oats were fairly well taken, but corn and grain sorghums were slow sale.

Quotations ranged as follows basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports or Texas common points:

Wheat—No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 55@57½c. Barley No. 2 nominally 30¼@31½c. Sorghums No. 2 milo, per 100-lbs. nominally 63@64c; No. 2 kaffir nominally 61@63c.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 40@41c; No. 2 white 40½@41½c; No. 2 yellow 47@48c.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats No. 3 red 19½@20½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. (AP)—Grain values toppled today owing largely to unofficial estimates that North America would harvest only 8,000,000 bushels less wheat than last year.

Heavy selling of wheat came from eastern sources, and buying power was scanty. Movement of new domestic spring wheat was reported increasing fast, and North American export business totaling 1,000,000 bushels failed to rally prices.

Wheat closed unstable at the day's low point, 1⅝@2⅛c under yesterday's finish, corn ⅝@1⅛c down, oats ⅛@½c off, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents lower.

August private crop reports averaged 373,000,000 bushels, as the probable domestic spring wheat production this season, and estimated the domestic winter wheat yield at 440,000,000. Both of these totals were larger than traders expected.

A corn crop of almost 3,000,000,000 bushels was indicated by private reports, the largest crop since 1923. Oats sold at a new low for the season.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Sept. 48⅛@48⅜c, 49⅛c; Dec. 51⅛@51⅜c, 53⅛@53⅝c. Corn—Sept. 29⅝@29⅞c; Dec. 30@30⅛c, 30⅞c.

PASCHALL TO HEAD MOVIES

Stewart Tells Policies Of New Operator

The recent announcement from Paramount Publix corporation's office that W. E. Paschall of Dallas, Texas, had acquired the control of the Majestic, State, Gem and Strand theaters of this city, formerly operated by Publix Theaters corporation was officially confirmed Tuesday to C. H. Stewart, George Watson and A. A. McIlheran, resident managers of the above theaters.

Mr. Paschall has organized a Texas corporation of Paschall-Texas Theaters Inc., and this corporation will hereafter operate these theaters. In officially confirming the transaction to Mr. Stewart, Mr. Paschall expressed much happiness in again having a personal interest in these theaters. His many friends will recall that he was general manager for Dent Theaters Inc. of Texas, who preceded Publix Theaters corporation in the operation of the Majestic, State, Strand and Gem theaters.

In commenting on the change of operation of these theaters, Manager Stewart said, "My staff and self are happy that Mr. Paschall has indicated that he will make every effort to retain all of us here to manage his interests. He, being a Texan by birth, and his continued residence here, and his former experience in operating these theaters, will enable him to provide the best possible amusement for this city and community. The fact that the Majestic, State and Gem theaters were included by Mr. Paschall's company is evidence of his faith in our city. I am sure that theatergoers will have the highest type of entertainment available in these theaters and that every effort will be made by him to better the class of pictures from the viewpoint of educational as well as amusement value."

"Mr. Paschall's idea of theater operation is, that the theater is the entertainment center of the city or community that it serves, and that it will prosper only when it provides that class of entertainment desired by the polite public. He greatly appreciates the fact that its patronage must be considered in the building of its program. He frankly acknowledges that it is human to err and that while he and his staff of managers devote their time and attention exclusively to providing entertainment, yet they will make some mistakes. In order to minimize the lack of popularity and reception that theater programs receive he urges that all patrons feel free to make suggestions from time to time and to criticize if in their opinion the situation deserves it, with his assurance that all suggestions and criticisms will be seriously considered by him. He expressively wants patrons to feel that the theater is theirs and it is his constant effort to create such a respect for his theaters that will enable the citizens of our city to point to them with pride."

Cantaloupe Growers Net 40 Cents Per Crate On First Car Of Melons

Better Price Expected on Six Other Shipments; Melon Aphis Reduces Yield in Wichita Valley

Cantaloupe growers who participated in the season's first carload shipment about 10 days ago will net about 40 cents per crate, according to information received Tuesday. The car was sold in St. Louis for $559, which means that it will net the growers approximately $175 after deducting freight, icing, crating and other charges.

No reports have been received on the six other carloads which have been shipped, but growers are hoping for a better return, as the quality of the later shipments was much higher.

"Lake Kemp" Brand

The cantaloupes are being shipped under the "Lake Kemp Brand" label which was adopted last year.

The season's shipments will fall far short of the earlier estimate of 50 cars. The melon aphis has done heavy damage in the valley and its depredations have greatly reduced the yield. Many growers did not discover the presence of the pest in time to take the proper preventive measures.

All of the shipments are being made from Iowa Park this season, that point being more convenient to a majority of the growers.

Reports on the melon shipments were made to the board of directors of the Wichita Valley Development association Tuesday afternoon by G. A. Remington, manager of the irrigation districts. The board visited the packing sheds at Iowa Park following the meeting here.

Two New Families

Field Manager J. F. Meurer of the association reported two Bohemian families had been settled on the valley lands near Lake Wichita as a result of a tour over the area last Tuesday. The heads of the two families came to Wichita Falls last week from Alabama.

The valley group agreed to postpone the third annual farmers tour of the irrigated valley until Sept. 26-28, when the golden jubilee celebration will be held in Wichita Falls. The tour was set for two weeks ago but was indefinitely postponed at the time because of weather conditions.

GIRLS HELD IN ROBBERY

Charges Filed After $5 Is Taken From Woman

Theft of a $5 bill from another woman traveler early Tuesday morning near the local bus depot resulted in the filing of charges of theft from the person against Christine and Nadine Woods, young women and sisters, said to have come here from Oklahoma.

The two women were arrested by George Garrett and C. C. Chapman, city detectives, who happened along in time to witness the victim being marched into a shaded building entrance. A chase of several blocks ensued before the women were overtaken.

Mrs. V. J. Duncan of Amarillo, en route to Graham to visit her mother, was the victim of the robbery. Arriving here by bus about 2 a. m., she sat in the bus station until about 5 a. m. Having talked with the two defendant young women during that time, she accompanied them to a nearby restaurant for coffee just about daybreak. As they left the restaurant, Mrs. Duncan was forced to accompany her companions to a nearby building entrance, where they demanded her money and showed a blackjack to enforce their request.

As the victim held the $5 bill in her hand, avowedly fearing bodily injury, one of the defendants snatched the money quickly and both fled. The two officers reached Mrs. Duncan a moment later, and subsequently made the arrest.

The $5 was recovered from one of the defendants later in the day, according to Sam B. Spence, district attorney. Charges against the pair were investigated Tuesday by the July grand jury which now is in session.

Cigaret Tossed on Roof Starts $25 Blaze

Damage estimated at $25 resulted from a cigaret tossed from a window of a nearby building to the roof of Mrs. Cora Welch's home, 706 Travis, at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The residence is owned by W. E. Freeze.

Units of the fire department answered three grass fire alarms Tuesday, 1612 Garfield at 12:15 p. m., 1214 Taylor at 1:45 p. m., and at 2210 Talunar lane at 3:25 p. m.

$275,000 SPENT ON POSTOFFICE

Federal Building Project 67 Per Cent Complete

Construction of the new Wichita Falls postoffice and federal building is running on schedule time, a report by Federal Engineer Miles E. Myers Tuesday revealed. The structure is 67 per cent complete, a normal percentage, Mr. Myers reported.

An expenditure of $275,937.77 has been made in the construction work to date. Exterior portions of the new building are rapidly taking form.

Mr. Myers and Postmaster O. P. Maricle returned late Monday from Mineral Wells where Mr. Myers conducted a final inspection of the redecorated postoffice building in that city. District Engineer Collier of Kansas City inspected the local building in July and approved progress of construction. Since the arrival of R. S. Barneyback of Amarillo on the job as superintendent for the H. W. Underhill Construction company the project has been speeded up, making up lost time of 60 days, to obtain the normal percentage of Aug. 1.

Painting has started at the building and roofing and terrazo work will start next week. Plastering will get under way in three weeks. Demolition, shoring and excavation work are completed, as are all footings. Water proofing, stone, brick, concrete, structural steel and iron installations are practically complete.

Mechanical installations are 60 per cent completed, while ornamental metal fittings are 50 per cent complete. Metal windows are practically installed. Elevator men also are half through with their work.
