

Boy Unhurt;
But Tired
After Ordeal

AUGUSTA, Mont. (AP)—Working in early morning darkness today on the side of a mountain, two husky carpenters assembled a 100-foot ladder, a board at a time, and rescued a 10-year-old boy from the ledge of a cliff where he has trapped more than 20 hours.

The two men, A. R. Bender and Charles Welsh, Augusta carpenters, won a race against time to get young Bruce Krummel off a two-foot ledge some 1,000 feet above the Sun River in the foothills of the Rock Mountains.

The boy was trapped on the ledge Sunday morning while on a climbing expedition alone. He was on a weekend fishing trip with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gill, of Great Falls, Mont.

He is Mrs. Gill's son by a previous marriage.

"It sure was a lot of excitement," Bruce said with a grin when he was safely returned to his parents.

For the two carpenters, the rescue was a grueling experience in which they veritably clung to the side of the cliff like two flies on a wall.

Some 125 feet above them sat the boy, clad in T-shirt and jeans, with his feet dangling over the side.

Below, the Sun River wound from the Rocky Mountains in this rugged north central country of Montana.

Two previous rescue attempts had failed. Once, Bender missed by inches of reaching the boy with a rope.

An attempt by Air Force helicopter was called off because of darkness.

Bender and Welsh constructed a section of the ladder at their position below the boy.

They put it against the face of the cliff, and standing near the highest rung, began to extend it, using lumber, hammer, nails and spikes to secure it to the rocky wall.

Other rescuers passed up the lumber and nails.

It took four hours before Bender was high enough to reach the lad, but shortly after Bruce was in the arms of his parents.

The boy suffered no ill effects during his stay on the narrow ledge, although heavy rain showers swept over the canyon during his ordeal.

"I'm not hungry, I'm just tired," he said.

This was the happiest moment of his life, when he got hold of that boy," Bender said after discussion. "But my feet are a little sore," he added.

Bender said the boy remained calm during the ordeal.

"Let's go home. I want to go to bed," the boy said after getting a hug and kiss from his mother.

Church Segregated In Central Georgia

MACON, Ga. (AP)—The Vine Street Baptist church has quietly segregated its membership, the first Southern Baptist church in the state to take such action.

The 2,000-member church voted unanimously Sunday to accept Sun Jerry, 22, a ministerial student from Takoradi, Ghana.

On presented himself for membership with a group of white students from recently desegregated Mercer University, a Baptist school in this central Georgia city.

Oni, converted to Christianity in Ghana by a Mercer graduate.

Massive Airlift Planned
For 2nd Armored Division

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today that an armada of 240 Air Force transport planes will airlift a 15,000-man, army armored division to Germany late next month in the greatest such long-range training operation ever undertaken.

The 2nd Armored Division, 13,500 men strong, will be flown from Texas to Germany along with 1,500 men in supporting truck and artillery units from bases in five states.

The massive airlift, expected to take three days, will be supported by a composite air strike force of 118 jet fighters, reconnaissance planes and other aircraft.

The air strike force will fly non-stop to bases in France and Germany, refueling en route from Strategic Air Command KC135 jet tankers.

The air strike force will number 1,500 men and the military transport crews another 2,000.

GRIEF IN SOUTH VIET NAM—A mother grieves over her badly wounded daughter as Vietnamese government troops pass by in Ca Mau peninsula of South Viet Nam. The soldiers had been landed in the area by U.S. Army helicopters to pursue Communist Viet Cong guerrillas who had attacked a Vietnamese outpost. The daughter had been wounded by machine gun fire during the troop landing. This picture was taken by AP Photographer Horst Faas. (AP Wirephoto)

No Decisions In U. S., Spain Talks

By LEWIS GULICK

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Spain's foreign minister talked over the issue of U.S. bases in Spain today but apparently came to no agreement.

Spain's Fernando Castiella was the first of a string of 11 foreign ministers coming by to see Rusk during the day as Rusk began his consultations with leaders attending the U.N. General Assembly's fall session.

Castiella said after an hour's discussion with Rusk that the two had gone over subjects coming up in the U.N. debate and items outstanding between Spain and the United States.

This included the question of U.S. bases in Spain, but nothing concrete was decided, he told newsmen.

The United States wants a long-term renewal of the deal under which it has operated several large air and naval bases in Spain. The Spanish, seeking more economic and political benefits than Washington wants to provide, have been extending the base rights only on a temporary basis.

The six foreign ministers from Central America—Guatemala, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras, Costa Rica and Panama—planned to visit Rusk in a group at 3 p.m. EDT.

Other foreign ministers were coming by almost every hour on the hour during the working day, but Rusk said the U.S. mission to the United Nations, across the street from the U.N. headquarters.

The secretary's visitors included the foreign ministers of Spain, Peru, Ireland, Brazil and Nigeria. Rusk and the U.S. delegation also were lunching at the United Nations as guests of Secretary-General U. Thant.

Rusk arrived from Washington over the weekend to talk for the next 10 days with as many as possible of the 70 or so foreign leaders attending the fall session of the U.N. General Assembly.

Rusk's most important discussions, with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, are expected late this week. They will meet then to see what further East-West accords are possible as a follow-up to the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

In a speech Sunday at the dedication of a church building opposite the U.N. grounds, Rusk said: "I do not see on the immediate horizon dramatic and sweeping solutions to divisive and dangerous problems, but we must work toward them steadily, patiently, and ceaselessly."

"Small steps are worth taking because we may find them to be the key to larger ones."

Thant and Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, spoke from the same platform and each reported an atmosphere of hope at the General Assembly in the wake of the test-ban pact.

Rusk entertained Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma at his hotel suite Saturday night in his first diplomatic engagement after his arrival from Washington.

Donors also specify that the blood be credited to their account. This credit to the donor's account would serve as "insurance" for the next year in the event he should need blood.

Anyfile in good health between 18 and 60 may donate blood. However those between 18 and 21, unless married, must have the consent of their parents.

Girl Scouts Attend Meet In Sweetwater

Almost one thousand Girl Scouts and leaders met in the Sweetwater Coliseum on Saturday, Sept. 21, to attend the Girl Scout Fair held in celebration of Program Change. This was the first council-wide rally ever held by West Texas Council, which comprises sixteen counties.

From three to four girls looked at exhibits and visited with friends they had met at Camp Boobie Oaks. Snyder's exhibit was put on by Cadette Troop No. 323 and demonstrated an inexpensive way to make a pin-up or bulletin board for a girl's room.

From four to five a program was held, showing the film, "Something for the Girls," singing, and flag ceremony by a senior troop. Mr. Johnny Ammons presided.

The following troops from Snyder attended:

Junior Troop No. 261 - 12, Mrs. B. J. Bartels, leader; Jr. Troop No. 326 - 9, Mrs. Sam Block, leader; Jr. Troop No. 266 - 9, Mrs. Homer Hurst, leader; and Cadette Troop No. 323 - 16, Mrs. H. P. Redwine, leader and Ann Patterson, program aide.

A vote of thanks goes to the parents who provided transportation for these girls.

"DELIVER US FROM EVIL..."

Chief Justice Warren Evokes Both Praise And Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl Warren, now 72, will be honored this week in San Francisco for his 10 years as chief justice of the United States. He has been one of the strongest chief justices in American history.

In this past decade, one of the court's most tremendous, he has been eulogized for decisions that were social and political landmarks. For exactly the same decisions there have been demands to impeach him and calls to lynch him.

The attacks are not new. The great Chief Justice John Marshall was reviled, too. Throughout his life attacks on the court have been in proportion to special interests frustrated or public feeling stirred. Not all have been unjustified.

A collection of those attacks over more than 170 years, and this writer has made a collection, is often a bewildering sight.

The court, created in 1789, was attacked before it came into existence. Just the thought of it was enough to arouse some antagonism. No wonder it started off in bad repute.

Even John Jay, the first chief justice, was convinced when he resigned from the bench in 1795 that the court lacked weight and dignity. He declined reappointment.

Marshall, secretary of state under President John Adams when he was appointed chief justice in 1801, was extraordinarily strong and articulate and a great constitutional lawyer. He changed the history of the court and the country.

He remained chief justice 31 years. No one has served longer. In those years he was responsible for decisions under which, by asserting the power of the court and the government, he made the federal system strong.

Most memorable was the decision in which Marshall declared the court had the power to rule out any act of Congress or a legislative act unconstitutional.

This was not something that had been nearly spelled out by the framers of the Constitution. Marshall spelled it out and made it stick. He was repeatedly attacked. President Jefferson raged at him.

These were the three single decisions which, perhaps, got the most violent reaction in the court's history.

1857—Under Chief Justice Roger B. Taney, one of the strongest chief justices, the court ruled in the case of a fugitive slave, Dred Scott, that a slave was not a citizen and not entitled to a citizen's protections.

This upset the federal government's effort to settle the slavery issue and was a factor in bringing on the Civil War. For years afterwards the court played a subdued and eclipsed role in the nation's affairs.

1905—The court declared the income tax unconstitutional. Although in 1881 the court had upheld the constitutionality of the temporary Civil War income tax. This got an enormously bad reaction.

It ignored the country's need for revenue. It took years for the country to undo this decision. It was finally accomplished in 1913 but only through adoption of the 16th amendment which authorized an income tax.

1954—The court, reversing a previous decision of 1896 which said segregating Negroes was constitutional, outlawed public school segregation and said the principle of segregation was unconstitutional.

This decision, reflecting the world's mid-century attitude against the suppression of colored peoples, opened the gates to an American social revolution still going on. It gave Negroes the legal right to fight segregation everywhere.

Through history the court has reflected the mood of the times, or thought it did, for sometimes it has lagged behind the change in mood and attitude.

For more than half a century after the Civil War, in the time of American expansion when the philosophy of rugged individualism and no-government-interference dominated and there was scant concern for public welfare, the court followed that thinking.

These Things Might Be Undiscovered

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't have to open his mail: How long you will live may depend partly on how old your mother was when you were born. Children of young mothers have fewer birth defects and a longer life span than the offspring of older women. The age of the father doesn't seem to make much difference.

Prosperity note: Americans write about 12 billion checks a year.

One reason there are more widows than widowers: Accidents take the lives of twice as many men as women. The stress diseases of civilization also are far more fatal in weakling men than in the more durable sex.

Household helps: If your plastic tennis ball gets a dent in it, simply dunk it in boiling water. If the ball has no holes, it will quickly reassume its proper shape.

The high cost of government: Forty years ago Americans paid only $4 billion a year—$37 a person—for state and local taxes. Today state and local taxes have soared to $44 billion, or about $44 for every man, woman and child.

Our quotable notables: "When archaeologists discover the missing arms of Venus De Milo, they will find that she was wearing boxing gloves." — John Barrymore.

Social milestone: For the first time in history, fewer than 10 out of 100 Americans are now farm dwellers.

Education: Several smaller nations have outstriped the United States in the matter of literacy. Iceland, for example, has no illiteracy among its normal adults, all can read or write.

Hairy history: In 1447 the Irish passed a law that no man could wear a beard above his lips unless he wanted to pass as an Englishman. The English themselves started the custom of daily shaving around 1660. In Russia beardless Peter the Great made noblemen pay a special tax if they wore whiskers.

Arboreal lore: The Olive tree is the longest-lived of fruit-bearing trees. Some in the Garden of Gethsemane in the Holy Land are estimated to be over 2,000 years old.

It was Sherwood Anderson who observed: "The true history of life is but a history of moments. It is only at rare moments that we live."

As the 20th century grew, and both the mood and needs of the nation changed, the court was still thinking in 19th century terms, as it showed by knocking out President Roosevelt's emergency New Deal legislation.

It did a quick about-face after he forced it to face public glare by trying to "pack" it.

The Warren court, besides infuriating many white Southerners with its desegregation ruling, has angered other groups with its decisions over the past 10 years.

Politicians didn't like it when the court said it had a right to step in if states, many of them dominated by rural politicians, refused to give their voters fair representation in their state legislature by giving city dwellers more seats there.

And the court in the past couple of years antagonized various religious groups, or at least individuals within the groups, by banning the requirement of religious exercises in public schools although this decision is rooted in the historic principle of keeping state and church, any church, separate.

ARABIAN CAMEL

THE CAMEL'S FOOT HOLDS HIM UP IN THE SOFT SAND

QUESTION: Why does the camel have a hump upon his back?

ANSWER: Camels, even if they are ugly, awkward looking beasts, have worked for man longer than any other animal and have been of inestimable value to him. Without them, men could not have lived in the dry desert country of the Near East — and it was here, remember, that the first civilizations started. Camels have the ability to go without water, and also without food, for considerable lengths of time. They can survive severe desert conditions which would destroy other creatures.

Many people believe that the camel carries a reserve of water in his hump. But this is not true. The camel has reserves of fat stored in his hump, and this acts as nourishment when he can't get anything to eat. It is true camels can get along without water for long periods. This is because, unlike most animals, the camel does not have to sweat to keep his body cool. Camels will drink a great deal of water when they have a chance, but since they don't sweat, their water supply lasts them a long time.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask a friend if he knows where camels live and he'll probably say Arabia and the Near East. He'll be right about one kind of camel, but you can then tell him about the Bactrian camel, which lives in north central Asia in such places as the Gobi Desert. This is the kind of camel with two humps.

John Boren Winner In C-C Invitational

John Boren sank a 40-foot putt on the last hole to avoid a playoff and capture the championship of the Snyder Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament here Sunday.

Boren's long putt enabled him to defeat Jack Vaughan of Brownfield by two strokes. Boren posted a 107 for the 43 holes of medal play for the championship, while Vaughan took the 43 holes in 109. Bernard Raines of Big Spring, the tournament medalist, took the consolation prize in the championship bracket. Raines had a 68 to take medal honors in his qualifying round.

Dr. B. J. Weaver won the first flight, while Jim Stehley was runner-up and Bob Holder took the consolation prize. In the second flight, H. C. Spivey of Big Spring took first place, Terry Kirk was runnerup and John Reed won the consolation prize.

Homegrown Quarterback Is Spark In Sooner Triumph

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Of course Oklahoma won. What would you expect? After all, they had a Ringer playing quarterback. Mike Ringer, no illegal import but a homegrown product from Pauls Valley, Okla., passed for one touchdown and sneaked over for another in the Sooners' opening bid to regain their lost football glory.

Ringer is the first sophomore ever to start at quarterback for a Bud Wilkinson-coached team, some of which dominated the national college football scene a decade ago. Wilkinson said in a pre-season analysis that Ringer's ability to fill the shoes of the departed Monte Deetre would be one of the "two principal factors determining the success of our team." The other big factor was defense.

The defense, less than spectacular in the first half as Clemson took a 14-7 lead, came to life after intermission and scored the go-ahead touchdown when tackle John Flynn blocked a Clemson punt and the Sooners recovered in the end zone.

Ringer, who showed a steady, reliable hand at quarter, contributed to the next two touchdowns and the Sooners, ranked fourth in The Associated Press' pre-season poll, had a 31-14 victory.

The performances of Ringer and the defense apparently answered Wilkinson's needs and served as a warm-up for their important clash with defending national champion Southern California this weekend in the televised game of the week.

The Rose Bowl champions were lackluster and less than impressive in a 14-0 decision in the mud at Colorado. The Trojans were picked as the team to beat in this season, but their top ranking could be in jeopardy.

Quarterbacks generally dominated proceedings on college football's first full Saturday. Navy's Roger Staubach, hero of last year's Army game, led the ninth-ranked Middies to a 51-7 rout of West Virginia while his Air Force counterpart, Terry Isaacson, led the Falcons on a dramatic, last-gasp, 91-yard touchdown march that upset 10th-ranked Washington 10-7 in the television game of the day.

Staubach completed 17 of 22 passes for 171 yards and one touchdown in the rout of the massive Mountaineers, while Isaacson completed seven of eight passes in the march against Washington and rolled over from the second for the winning touchdown.

Tom Myers, quarterback for Northwestern's sixth-ranked Wildcats, completed 10 of 16 passes, one for a touchdown and two to set up scores in the 23-13 victory over Missouri.

The former Syracuse All-American, who once had the fans beguiled in the Cotton Bowl when he played against Texas Christian, had them more ecstatic than ever Sunday when he appeared in the big saucer as a pro.

Brown wasn't All-American had enough. Frank Ryan, the quarterback, passed for 188 yards and two touchdowns and ran seven for another.

Cleveland remained unbeaten in the NFL race while Dallas was absorbing its second defeat.

Don Perkins did most of the work for Dallas as he gained 55 yards, scored two touchdowns and set up another.

Who Needs Blocking By Jimmy Brown?

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry observes that Jimmy Brown won't block a lick. But that's just being technical, as all coaches do. Landry figures Brown doesn't have to do anything except run since he's the greatest at it in football history.

Landry didn't like for his team to get beat 41-24 by Brown's Cleveland outfit Sunday but he did admire Brown's running as the big fellow with the blazing speed personally rolled up 232 yards, scored touchdowns on sprints of 71 and 68 yards and helped set up two more.

"I have no doubt but that Brown is football's finest runner of all time," said Landry. "The records will bear me out. Why is he such a great runner? Well, it's all in leg drive. Brown's tremendous. He won't go down until you put him down. He is very fast and has great balance."

Landry further observed that "once he gets a step on the secondary, no one can catch him. He will probably have his finest year since he is running outside so much, something he never did before. We were set to stop him outside but he then tore us up inside."

Dodgers Still Seek Clincher

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Strong pitching has been the Los Angeles Dodgers' big weapon all season.

They saw more of the same Sunday—but they'd just as soon forget it. It was the other fellow's, and it was painful, keeping the Dodgers from putting the official clincher on the National League pennant.

Pittsburgh's Bob Veale and Elroy Face held the Dodgers away from the elusive flag with a two-man three-hit effort in the Pirates' 4-0 victory. The Dodgers took it right down to the final swings, loading the bases with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning with hot-hitting Tommy Davis and slugger Frank Howard coming up.

But Face got both on popups—and after a string of five triumphs that had carried them to the threshold of the throne room, the Dodgers' magic touch had faded.

Cincinnati had paved the way for the Dodgers by dealing St. Louis' slumping Cardinals their fifth straight loss, 5-2, and reducing the magic number to one. It's still one—meaning a Dodger victory for another Card loss before the flag flies at Chavez Ravine.

Actually, the pennant could go to the Dodgers before they swing another bat. The Cards, 5½ games behind with five to go, played at Chicago on Tuesday afternoon and the Dodgers don't resume action until Tuesday night, when they open a three-game set at home against New York's last-place Mets.

While the Dodgers and Cards were bowing, the San Francisco Giants were pounding the Mets. Willie McCovey passed the 13-1 romp with three consecutive homers, taking over the NL lead at 43, and batting across five runs.

Also in the NL—the Chicago Cubs pushed across six runs in the first three innings and went on to a 7-3 decision over Milwaukee; and Joe Morgan's run-producing single delivered the winner for Houston scored twice in the last of the ninth and edged Philadelphia 2-1.

The New York Yankees, with the American League title slashed away, sharpened up their young left-handed arm, Al Downing, for a World Series start in a 4-3 squeaker over Kansas City. Joe Pepitone struck the big blow for the Yanks, a two-run homer in the sixth inning, after they had touched Lou Dave Wickham for two unearned runs in the fifth.

Downing, now 13-4 since being promoted from the minors in June, spaced nine hits, did not walk a man and struck out six in his 10th complete game.

Minnesota's right-handed belted three more home runs and Camilo Pascual became a 20-game winner for the second year in a row in a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Harmon Killebrew's 45th home run, a two-run shot, and George Banks' third pushed Minnesota's season total to 224—second highest in big league history. The Yanks' 240 in 1961 is the record.

In other AL action—homers by Ron Hansen and Floyd Robinson carried the Chicago White Sox over Detroit 5-2; Cleveland swept the Los Angeles Angels, winning the opener 3-1 and taking the second game 2-1 in 11 innings on Pedro Ramos' six-hit pitching and John Romano's decisive pinch single; and Washington gained a split with Baltimore, gaining a 4-2 victory in the second game after losing to the Orioles 6-3.

Veale checked the Dodgers on two singles and was helped by four double plays before weakening in the ninth at Los Angeles. After one-out walks to Lee Walls and Maury Wills, he was replaced by Face. Jim Gilliam kept the rally alive with a bunt single that loaded the bases, but the Pirate reliever then disposed of Davis and Howard—and the threat.

Singles by Donn Clendenen in the first and Bill Virdon in the sixth knocked in Pittsburgh runs against loser Johnny Podres, and the Pirates finished up with a pair of unearned runs off Bob Miller in the ninth.

Lefty Joe Nuxhall cooled off the Cards with only six hits and struck out 10, while an error by Julian Javier in the third inning led to three unearned runs. Vada Pinson knocked in two with his 200th hit, a triple off loser Curt Simmons. Frank Robinson, out since Sept. 7 because of a spike injury to his arm, returned to action in the eighth as a pinch hitter and doubled in Cincinnati's final two runs.

McCovey homered his first three times up against the Mets, was hit by a pitch on his next at-bat and finally grounded out on his last trip, Willie Mays joined in the Giants' 16-hit attack with a homer, his 37th.

Rookie Sam Bowens got four hits in the Orioles' victory, stretching his two-game streak to seven straight hits, and batted in the eighth, thus beating Baltimore for only the third time in their 18th meeting this year.

Snyder B Edged By Big Spring

BIG SPRING — Snyder's B team knocked on the door repeatedly, but finally bowed to the Big Spring B team, 4-2, here Saturday night.

The issue was in doubt down to the wire, with Snyder driving in the Big Spring 4 yard line late in the fourth quarter, only to have a penalty set them back.

In fact, Snyder was inside the 5 yard line three times. Snyder got its two points in the second period when an erratic snap from center on a punting situation bounded around in the Big Spring end zone and finally was shuttled out of the end zone by the Big Spring kicker, Bobby Griffin, who swarmed under.

The Shorthorns put on a 60-yard drive in the third period that was climaxed by the game's only touchdown. Griffin carried over from two yards out.

Minnesota's right-handed belted three more home runs and Camilo Pascual became a 20-game winner for the second year in a row in a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Harmon Killebrew's 45th home run, a two-run shot, and George Banks' third pushed Minnesota's season total to 224—second highest in big league history. The Yanks' 240 in 1961 is the record.

Energetic Raiders To Battle Steers

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
Texas Tech's young, enthusiastic Red Raiders, who grew formidable overnight, help defending champion Texas get the Southwest Conference football race on the way this week.

This game, scheduled for Austin Saturday night, headlines a full card as five of the members turn to intercollegiate warfare and the other—Baylor—plays a neighbor, University of Houston.

Texas Tech, which won only one game all last season and that was late, opened the campaign Saturday night with an upset 16-7 triumph over Washington State, a well regarded team from the West coast.

It made the battle with Texas this week take on great significance. Texas, which got the season rolling with a 21-0 victory over Tulane, will be favored but it won't look like the 34-0 rout the Longhorns poured on the Techs last season.

The league made its finest intercollegiate start in years when it won four of the five games last week. Texas Christian knocked over Kansas 10-6 and Arkansas clipped Oklahoma State 21-0 to go with the Texas and Texas Tech triumphs.

Only Texas A&M faltered—the Aggies were beaten 14-6 by Louisiana State.

The Aggies take on another team that will be favored to beat them Saturday when they journey to Columbia to tackle Ole Miss.

Texas Christian will contest Florida State, victor over Miami, at Tallahassee. Arkansas meets Missouri, beaten by Northwestern, at Little Rock.

Rice opens the season against Louisiana State at Houston in a game that will offer a comparison of strength between the Owls and Aggies.

Southern Methodist plays its first game when the Mustangs clash with Michigan at Ann Arbor. That leaves Baylor to get the campaign under way at home against Houston, victim of Auburn last week.

Jack Hutchinson, 18-year-old first baseman from Saratoga, Fla., has been signed by the Cincinnati farm system. His father Fred manages the Reds.

Tom Trenth of the Yankees is the eighth player in history to hit home runs from both sides of the plate in the same game.

We plowed the new ground

MIDWEST ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE pioneered rural electrification in the 9 county area it serves. The member-owners of Midwest Electric borrowed $4,900,000 and built their own electric system to serve people who had no electricity. Midwest Electric was first to serve these areas. No one else could or would offer service.

Since 1938, Midwest Electric has repaid more than $1,200,000 on the principal and more than $780,000 on interest on their loans while offering a dependable efficient, economical electric service.

Midwest Electric plowed the new ground and their member-owners today are harvesting a healthier, happier, better way of life through rural electrification.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

8 The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Mon., Sept. 23, 1963

CUSTOM-BUILT TRAILERS are a specialty of Lee's Blacksmith and Welding Shop on the East Highway in Snyder. Glen Lee, owner of the firm is shown beside a tandem stock trailer which features a double rear gate for ease in loading or unloading at a chute. Any type of specialized trailer can be custom-built to the owners' needs by the experts at Lee's Blacksmith and Welding. Expert electric or acetylene welding is done promptly by the experienced, reliable personnel at Lee's. Either repair work or new construction is welcomed by the firm.

Stock Market Enters Fall Season With Averages At All-Time High

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market is celebrating summer's official end by giving the season record high marks. Some of the new peaks for the popular price averages (but not for all individual stocks by any means) represent stock traders' grading of summer's performance. More probably, they doubtless reflect the betting on the prospects for fall and winter.

Bears can cite plenty of warning signals. The bulls haven't been listening. They've heard only the ringing of industrial and retail cash registers — and the growing talk around the board rooms of increasing business, of still higher earnings, and of reviving willingness of investors to put their money on favorite companies and industries.

Some of the problems for the next few months are just that so far — promises. They depend in part on what Congress does about tax cutting and government spending programs, on what consumers do with the increased incomes they're supposed to enjoy—and, in particular, how much of this they channel once more into the stock market.

Beyond that is the question of how real is the thawing of the Cold War which many see in the limited nuclear test-ban treaty and what effect this might have on defense industries and their suppliers.

But the bulls have been in command in the closing weeks of summer. The Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks set a new high (757.88) Sept. 5, breaking its previous record (734.91) which had stood since Dec. 13, 1961. It went still higher, Sept. 11, and after some dalliance scored again Sept. 19 (743.22) and edged up Friday to a new one (743.60).

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index hit another new high Sept. 20 at 73.30. And the Associated Press index of 60 stocks was at its record, too, 281.5.

This September market was reversing its more often than not course declining after Labor Day, as many observers had predicted it might this year.

In the final days of summer the bulls were cheered by their belief that tax rates would be cut effective in January, on personal and corporate incomes. This would give consumers more money they could spend if they wanted to, and businessmen more money they could invest. Either would mean more business for many corporations listed on the nation's exchanges.

While government economy talk was rife, many felt the prospects were that 1964 would end with total federal, state and local government spending ahead of this year, also benefitting some persons and some companies.

All of this is interpreted by the bulls as assuring that the present upward swing of the business cycle will continue for many more months.

The bullish also have been noting the reports of higher earnings by many corporations and predictions of still better days ahead as sales increase and effects of cost-cutting automation and other operational techniques are felt still more.

Bears stress that stock prices of late have been rising even faster than have earnings and dividends, so that the yield on many stocks bought today is less than it was a year ago. But the bulls point out that today's yields are still much better than they were during the last major bull market of 1961. And expectations of capital gains on a rising stock market apparently are motivating many traders more than are current yields.

And finally, the bulls are counting on the generally favorable business prospects and the enthusiasm that swells with a rising market to pull back many of the small investors and market-players who switched to bonds and savings accounts after being burned in the market crash of May and June 1962.

So fall will start out with high hopes. How it will end? Not even your favorite broker can tell you that for sure—but he'll try to.

NEW LINE AT ANSCO—Telephone Company installation man Don Leller is pictured completing the installation of a telephone line from a radio tower to the Anasco Answering Service office as the owner of the firm, Mrs. Pat Gilmore, watches. Three such two-way radios are seen at right. Radios as well as phones are included in the 24-hour answering service furnished by Anasco.

Anasco Services Are Like Extra Employee

What businessman wouldn't be delighted if he could find a completely efficient employee who would work for him 24 hours a day 365 days a year for about two and one-half or three cents an hour?

That's exactly what Anasco Answering Service is to dozens of business firms and individuals who have found that Anasco solves their problem of the unattended phone.

An unanswered phone means missed business, annoyed callers, and the nagging feeling that one should get back to the phone as soon as possible.

Some businessmen solved their problem they thought by having their wives stay by the phone that solved the problem of the annoyed caller, but brought on the problem of the annoyed wife. Anasco does more than just answer the phone and take down messages though. One call to the Anasco operator, often a long distance call, means that she then will take over the job of calling several service companies or individuals and relay a message, arrange for deliveries or work to be done, and give directions to those she calls.

Another service offered by Anasco and performed through the use of a telephone is the daily calling of elderly people who live alone. Such calls are usually made at about the same time of day every day, and those who are called will let the operator know if for some reason they will not be at home at the regular time.

If, however, no arrangement has been made, and there is no answer, someone can be sent immediately to the person's home to see if help is needed.

This service can be subscribed to by relatives of the person called by Anasco.

And speaking of service, a telephone company executive recently said that the company encouraged the use of answering services since "they (answering services) help our customers get greater utilization and service from their telephones."

Yes, service is the keynote of a good answering service. Anasco provides this service not only by telephone answering service, but by providing a secretarial service, radio answering and relay service, direct mailing service, and "reminder" calls too for club members or others who wish to be reminded of important meetings as well.

Yes, for many people, Anasco provides a service which makes their life easier, more trouble-free, and profitable.

Snyder Men Join Army

Three residents of Snyder have enlisted in the United States Army recently.

Jesse Bryan Tate, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tate of R. 2, enlisted on Sept. 17. Tate graduated from Hermligh High School in 1958, and attended John Tarleton State college at Stephenville. He was employed at the Higginbotham Lumber Co. in Hermligh before enlisting.

George Wayne Lee and Roy Carl White enlisted on Sept. 18.

Lee is the son of Walter V. Lee, 1308 Twenty-first Street, and White is the son of James A. White, an employee of the Ford Tractor Co. in Snyder.

All are presently at Fort Polk, La., undergoing eight weeks of basic training. All enlisted for three years.

White is the only one who chose an enlistment option. He chose the Airborne training, and will take his airborne training at Fort Bragg, N. C. after completion of basic training.

Oklahoma attracted 352,817 fans to its six home football games last fall.
