A Gift For Pope

President Eduardo Frei of Chile presents a statue of Mary to Pope Paul VI during an exchange of gifts in the pontiff's private studio in Vatican City today. The sculpture is in modern liturgical style. In center is Msgr. Gennaro Verolino, chief of the Vatican ceremonial office. Meanwhile, the Vatican itself today had no comment on the matter of Luci Johnson's rebaptism currently in the news. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Priest Says Rebaptism Fulfilled Church Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. James Montgomery, who baptized Luci Johnson into the Roman Catholic Church, said today the rite was requested by the President's daughter and he fulfilled the laws of his Church.

The priest declined to comment specifically on criticism of his action voiced by the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California.

Bishop Pike, in a sermon in San Francisco Sunday called the baptismal ceremony "a direct slap at our church," in which the 18-year-old Luci formerly was a communicant.

The bishop said Luci had been baptized in the Episcopal Church and the Roman Catholic Church recognizes the validity of baptism in other branches of Christian faith.

CALLED "SACRILEGIOUS"

He raised no question as to the propriety of Luci's conversion to Roman Catholicism but said the repetition of the baptismal ceremony last Friday was "totally void of any sacramental effect and thus sacrilegious."

Father Montgomery said Luci requested the baptism because she wished in conscience to be sure she was meeting the requirements of the Church.

The New York Times reported that the rebaptism had roused puzzlement and some regret in Vatican circles.

Roman Catholic teaching is that baptism is a sacrament which confers an indelible character upon the soul and thus cannot be repeated if once received validly.

NO COMMENT

The Vatican itself had no comment.

The Times said in a dispatch from Rome that Vatican sources were assuming that the rite was a "conditional baptism." In cases in which a priest may doubt the validity of an original baptism, he pronounces the "conditional" formula, which begins, "If you have not been baptized, I baptize thee. . ."

PUBLIC INTEREST

A source in the Secretariat for Christian Unity, the Vatican unit dealing with relations with other churches, said:

"It is regrettable in view of the public interest in this conversion, that it was not made clear whether this was a conditional baptism, and, if so, what was the nature of the doubt that warranted it.

"If there was no such doubt, even a conditional baptism runs counter to the ecumenical spirit and would be even more regrettable."

Miss Johnson was baptized as an infant in the Episcopal Church.

AGAINST PRACTICE

To question the validity of baptism in any Christian church is contrary to the currently accepted practice of the Roman Catholic Church, statements of Pope Paul VI, the will of the Ecumenical Council and the rulings of the Holy Office, the Times said.

The Times reported from Washington that the Rev. James Montgomery said he followed the laws of the church in rebaptizing Miss Johnson. Father Montgomery told the Times Miss Johnson requested the ceremony because she wished in conscience to be sure she was meeting the requirements of the Church.

The Times also reported a Catholic spokesman in Washington said the decision to rebaptize Miss Johnson was made by Father Montgomery, not by the hierarchy.

Bishop Pike called for apologies from Miss Johnson, from Father Montgomery "and from the authorities of the archbishop of Washington and its cathedral."

He commended Miss Johnson's independence in "making her own religious choice" but said her second baptism was "a deliberate act denigrating another branch of Christendom."

Lynda Bird Goes To National Park

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Lynda Bird Johnson, the President's elder daughter, left Laramie, Wyo., Monday with her trailerhouse en route to Grand Teton National Park in northwestern Wyoming.

She is scheduled to spend the rest of the week at the park.

President, Aussie Premier To Talk

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson flies back to Washington today for a series of private meetings with Australian Prime Minister Sir Robert Gordon Menzies.

Viet Nam was certain to figure prominently in the talks of the two leaders.

PRIVATE HUDDLE

George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, said Johnson would meet privately with Menzies at the White House after his return there.

Reedy said Johnson plans a small stag dinner tonight for the Australian. Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be among the guests.

SPECIAL KINSHIP

Johnson, who flew to Texas Friday for the July 4th weekend, was described by Reedy as feeling a special kinship for Australia because he spent some time there during World War II.

ROBERT MENZIES

The President and the prime minister are known to be in general agreement on Viet Nam policy questions.

Army Wants Copter Unit Gap Filled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army wants to create some new helicopter companies to fill the gap left in U.S.-based forces when chopper outfits were sent to war in South Viet Nam.

Informed sources said today the Army has proposed to the Defense Department that five new helicopter companies be formed.

125 MORE

This proposal calls for an increase of 125 choppers and more than 1,000 men.

The Army now has 12 helicopter companies in Viet Nam totaling about 300 machines. They are assigned chiefly to airlifting South Vietnamese army units into battle against the Communist Viet Cong.

The most recent arrivals were three companies equipped with the latest model UH1D, a machine which can carry 11 soldiers.

THREE DIVISIONS

The three outfits were drawn from the 1st Infantry Division, Ft. Riley, Kan., the 101st Airborne Division, Ft. Campbell, Ky., and the 82nd Airborne Division, Ft. Bragg, N.C.

These three divisions are part of the Army's strategic reserve of eight regular divisions kept ready in the United States for swift movement to crisis points around the world.

Meanwhile, the Army released figures claiming that from Jan. 1, 1962, to last May 31 it lost only 45 helicopters in South Viet Nam as a result of Communist action.

During this period, it told the AP, helicopters flew 701,938 sorties. This works out to a loss rate of one chopper for every 15,598 sorties flown.

LAST STATUS

The Army considers a machine lost only when it cannot be repaired and thus is damaged beyond any use.

Its public figures do not reflect the number of helicopters which are hit by ground fire, put out of action temporarily and either repaired on the spot and flown out or hauled back to a base for major repairs.

PLANES LOST

The Army said that it lost 13 of its fixed wing aircraft, mostly light observation planes, in South Viet Nam between Jan. 1, 1962 and last May 31 as a result of Communist ground fire.

These fixed wing planes flew 296,946 sorties for a loss rate in action of one plane for every 22,842 sorties flown.

Thus, as of the end of May, the Army figured its helicopters and planes had flown 998,884 sorties during the Vietnamese war. The total now is well over a million.

Viets, Yanks In Joint Push

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—More than 1,000 American troops joined Vietnamese and Australian forces today for their second combined operation against the Viet Cong. Like the first such operation, there was no significant contact with the enemy, a U.S. spokesman reported.

Fighting was bloodier elsewhere. A U.S. spokesman said two Americans and 26 Vietnamese mountain troops were missing and four Vietnamese were killed in mountainous Pleiku Province, 215 miles northeast of Saigon.

About 2,500 troops were involved in the combined operation, including two battalions of U.S. paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade, one battalion of the Royal Australian Regiment, and two Vietnamese army battalions.

Missle Sites For Viet Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said today work on two missile sites in North Viet Nam is virtually complete and two other missile sites have reached an advanced stage.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said that there is no evidence that missiles have been installed in the two completed sites. But obviously, he added, this is a question of time.

All the work on missile installations is being done in the Hanoi and port of Haiphong areas, he said.

Physicists Survive Blast

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — "It's only by the grace of God I'm here. I was lucky," said a shaken Harvard physicist, Joseph Szymanski, of the blast that wrecked part of the $12-million Cambridge electron accelerator.

Seven colleagues were injured — three critically — in the blast early Monday as liquid hydrogen was being pumped into a chamber of the center's big experimental hall.

AT CONTROLS

Dr. Szymanski, who was in charge of the bubble chamber where the explosion took place, said he was at a control panel when he spotted hydrogen feed pressure higher than it should be.

He shut it off, but it still climbed. Then came the blast.

Three coworkers were burned critically, and were on the danger list at Massachusetts General Hospital. They were:

GRADUATE STUDENT

John Schivell, 22, Harvard graduate student from Twinsburg, Ohio.

Arthur C. Reid, 19, a technical assistant at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Frank Feinberg, 20, of Providence, R.I., a MIT sophomore.

Bank Deposits Show Good Gain

	June 30, 1965	June 30, 1964	Gain
Loans and Discounts	$22,971,865.79	$22,007,234.44	$ 964,631.35
Deposits	40,689,969.23	36,101,698.98	4,588,270.25

TOTAL RESOURCES	44,881,022.25	40,175,191.33	4,705,830.92

Banks Also Report Large Loan Demand

Three Big Spring banks and one at Coahoma Tuesday reported a 12.7 per cent gain in deposits over a year ago.

The report was in response to a call for condition by the United States comptroller of currency and the state banking commissioner for condition as of June 30, 1965.

The deposit figure of $40,689,969, as booming as it was in comparison to the same date last year, was off about two per cent from the year's peak reached in April.

Loans and discounts amounted to $22,971,865, up by 4.38 per cent over the same date a year ago.

Cash totalled $7,641,182.33, up by 7.79 per cent.

Total resources reached $44,831,022, a 11.71 per cent gain over the same date a year ago.

Besides the cash on hand, banks reported $4,180,137.16 in United States bonds, $3,484,370.68 in county and municipal bonds, a total of $7,664,507.84. The banks reported $5,443,202.57 in other bonds.

Loans and discounts, compared with the previous call on April 26, were up by nearly $900,000. Cash was down by about $700,000 and total resources were down approximately a million.

All banks reported a strong demand for loans.

Given good rains at the right time, they anticipated a big autumn.

By banks, the figures were:

FIRST NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $12,600,937.24, deposits $22,666,701.78, cash $3,923,231.66, total resources $24,852,470.71. In addition the bank had $1,654,366.67 in United States bonds, $1,491,421.91 in county and municipals, and $4,270,035.45 in other bonds.

STATE NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $6,326,375.29, deposits $11,649,488.78, cash $2,394,807.50, total resources $12,740,084.99. In addition the bank held $1,263,152.55 in United States bonds, $1,521,658.77 in county and municipal bonds, and $1,173,167.12 in other bonds.

SECURITY STATE — Loans and discounts $3,104,999.44, deposits $5,112,376.13, cash 1,137,497.03, total resources $5,749,027.54. In addition the bank held $891,617.94 in United States bonds, $471,290.00 in county and municipal bonds.

COAHOMA STATE — Loans and discounts $939,553.82, deposits $1,261,402.54, cash $185,646.14, total resources $1,539,439.01. In addition the bank held $371,000 in United States bonds.

RAF Plane Crashes, 43 Feared Dead

LONDON (AP)—A Royal Air Force transport plane with 43 persons aboard crashed today in a field in Oxfordshire. Firemen reported finding no survivors.

"The plane disintegrated," said a spokesman for the Oxfordshire Fire Brigade. The four-engine plane of the RAF Transport Command came down near Dorchester, about 40 miles west of London.

A woman saw the plane come down and reported: "I was out in the garden with my children when I saw this big ball of orange fire."

Eubank Case Hearing On

AUSTIN (AP) — Lawyers argued today over whether New Mexico Gov. Jack Campbell sent sufficient papers to extradite Jack Eubank to New Mexico to finish serving a life sentence for murder.

Case records show Eubank received a life sentence March 18, 1953, after a jury convicted him of second degree murder. Campbell said Eubank escaped Dec. 15, 1957.

"NOT SUFFICIENT"

Eubank is in jail at Big Spring.

Lawyers for Eubank said Campbell did not send Gov. Connally an authenticated copy of the order committing Eubank to prison, as required by state law.

Connally previously had signed an extradition order, but the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the order, saying it was not supported by the required documents.

BEFORE MARTIN

The hearing was before Secretary of State Crawford Martin. Connally's extradition officer. Martin said he would have a recommendation in two days.

Dist. Atty. Wayne Burns of Big Spring presented the case for extradition.

"We think the papers before you are sufficient as a matter of law," Burns told Martin. "When he (Campbell) says the papers are authentic, he means they are the real McCoy . . . I don't think we should set rules for governors of the other 49 states."

No New Mexico official was present.

Representing Eubank were Lanny Hamby and state Rep. Roger Brown of Big Spring. Five witnesses vouched for Eubank's character.

Blow Dealt To Terrorists

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP) — There were unofficial reports today that army forces inflicted a serious defeat on terrorists who have been attacking isolated farm communities in the Sierra Madre Mountains.

The newspaper El Heraldo said 10 to 15 terrorists were captured and taken to Juarez for trial.

No confirmation was available from the local government or the military zone. Both have denied for several months reports of outbreaks attributed to Arturo Gamiz and more than 70 members of the leftist Popular Electoral Front and National Liberation Movement (MLN).

Gamiz and most of his followers have been identified as teachers with Communist leanings. They are said to have used discontent over the Chiahuahua government to promote disorder in the isolated Madera, Cebadillas and Huizopa areas, deep in the Sierra Madre ranges.

Disability Plan Vote Nearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders hope to complete congressional action today on a proposed constitutional amendment covering presidential disability and the filling of any vice presidential vacancy.

Two hours were set aside for debate.

The proposed constitutional change, a compromise of differing versions previously approved by each branch, whisked through the House last Thursday.

SNAG DEVELOPS

The Senate had been expected to act quickly too, but a snag developed when Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and others contended language empowering a vice president to contest a president's ability to carry on was ambiguous.

However, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Friday he saw no reason why the amendment should not be approved as it stands. Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., floor manager of the measure, predicted its approval.

After Congress acts, a constitutional amendment must be ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures before becoming effective. The President's signature is not required.

NAME SUCCESSOR

One section of the proposed amendment provides that if the office of vice president becomes vacant, the president shall nominate a successor who would take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both houses of Congress.

Other sections designed to plug a worrisome gap in the Constitution provide that when a president is incapacitated or otherwise unable to discharge the powers of his office, the vice president shall become acting president.

If a president notified Congress of his disability, the vice president would take over until the president sent word that he was able to resume his powers.

In case a president was unable or unwilling to declare his disability, the vice president would become acting president if he and a majority of the Cabinet, or a majority of such other body as Congress might later provide for by law, sent a written declaration to Congress that the president was unable to discharge his duties.

A president could regain his powers by advising Congress that his inability no longer existed, unless this were challenged within four days by the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet or such other body as Congress provided.

Such a dispute then would be settled by Congress. It would be required to assemble within 48 hours if it were not in session.

If Congress determined within 21 days by a two-thirds vote in both the Senate and the House that the president was unable to discharge his duties, the vice president would continue to act as president. Otherwise the president would resume the powers and duties of his office.

Storm Lashes Florida City

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)— Torrential rains, hail and hurricane-force winds swept through suburban Tampa Monday night, downing power lines, uprooting trees and shrubs and flooding streets.

"We were completely bombarded by lightning for two solid hours. It was one of the worst thunderstorms I've ever seen in my life," said Robert Hill, forecaster with the Tampa Weather Bureau, who lives six miles east southeast of Tampa.

Hill said three to four inches of rain fell within two hours and winds hit 60 and 75 miles an hour.

Bigamy Trial Of Celebrities Reset

ROME (AP) — Italy brought Academy Award winning actress Sophia Loren and movie producer Carlo Ponti to trial today in a Rome criminal court on bigamy charges.

The court formally opened the case and then, after a 30-minute session, granted the movie couple's request for a postponement. The next session was set for Oct. 21.

NEITHER PRESENT

Neither Miss Loren nor Ponti were in court. They are doing film work outside Italy. Their attorneys represented them.

The accusation has pursued the pair since soon after their marriage by proxy at Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, in September 1957. It was her first marriage and his second.

MET IN '55

Ponti, 51, first met Sophia in Rome in 1955, nine years after he married the daughter of an Italian general, Giuliana Fiastri, and set about gaining a reputation as a maker of movies.

Miss Loren was 20 then, a tall and shapely beauty whose real name was Sophia Scicolone. She had left the steaming Neapolitan port town of Pozzuoli to try the road to stardom.

Ponti became her mentor. Within two years they went to New York. Ponti got a Mexican divorce, then he and Sophia were married by proxy.

ILLEGAL IN ITALY

Divorce is illegal in Italy. The law applies even to the divorce of Italian citizens abroad. Several private citizens filed bigamy complaints under Article 566 of the Criminal Code, which says "anyone bound by one marriage cannot effect another." The government took up the complaints.

SOPHIA LOREN

In June 1962, Ponti was charged with bigamy and Miss Loren with complicity in bigamy. The trial was delayed to await the outcome of a civil court action on their tangled marital status.

The civil court in February accepted the prosecutor's argument and declared the marriage null on the ground that it was bigamous. The bigamy charges probably would have been dropped had the civil court decided otherwise.

Fear Hinders Klan Inquiry

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Fear of — and sympathy for — the Ku Klux Klan is hampering his investigation of the hooded order, says Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers. However, he claims he is making progress.

In an interview Monday Flowers said, "This bunch has a lot of people scared.

"In Alabama, my main problem is that the Klan has a lot of sympathizers. We have to educate the people to just what kind of a lousy, tough bunch the Klan is."

Robert A. Shelton, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, could not be reached for comment.

Restoration Set For Shrinking Shoreline

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The U.S. Corps of Engineers has approved a $30-million program to restore Miami Beach's rapidly shrinking shore and provide hurricane protection.

The program would create a sand dune 20 to 50 feet wide along some of the most expensive shoreline in the world.

DEAR ABBY

It's All A Frame-Up!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I lived for a year with his parents, and when we were packing to move I ran across a framed picture of one of my husband's old girl friends. I started to throw it away, but my mother-in-law asked if she could have it for the frame. Naturally, I gave it to her, thinking she wanted it only for the frame. Seven years and two small children later she still has that picture in the same frame displayed on the mantel. She was never very close to the girl and my husband didn't go with this girl very long. (She had three other sons who went with girls longer than my husband went with this girl and she does not display THEIR girl friends' pictures.) Every time I see that picture I burn up. Why is she holding on to the girl's picture? She wouldn't like it if my mother kept one of my old boy friend's pictures on display. And neither would my husband.

STILL BURNING

DEAR STILL: Your mother-in-law is playing a game. Tell your husband you don't think it's funny; that if she continues to flaunt the old flame, you'll stay clear of her house. And if he wants a healthy marriage, he had better throw some water on the fire.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. My sweetheart and I plan to be married soon and we have been studying all the etiquette and customs of weddings, receptions, etc. Neither my bride nor I like the idea of standing in the receiving line and having to let every man who walks through kiss her for luck. She is not being selfish or silly. She just doesn't want to be kissed by any man other than me on her wedding day. How can she get out of letting them kiss her without hurting their feelings? What if she says, "Hands off," and they try to kiss her anyway?

NO KISSES

DEAR NO: A woman (or even a man, for that matter) who doesn't want to be kissed on the lips need only turn her head, to indicate that a kiss on the cheek is expected. I doubt that it will be necessary for the bride to say, "Hands off" to anyone. If you seriously object to even a kiss on the cheek "for luck"—you two ought to go off by yourselves and get married.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I just read the article about the man who considers it "effeminate" to kiss his little son. It sure burned me up. We are the fortunate parents of a whole houseful of boys, ranging in ages from teenagers down to toddlers. My big, strong, strapping husband kisses and loves his boys all the time. And when they line up every night for the good night kiss ritual, the teenagers lead the pack. When they get too big to crawl up on Dad's lap for affection, they get hugs, pats on the back and their hair tousled. And my husband is the most masculine man I have ever seen.

So I agree with you, Abby. If a father shows outward signs of affection to his sons, it does not reflect on his masculinity. It only accentuates it.

Algeria Notes Anniversary

ALGIERS (AP) — Algeria marks the third anniversary of its independence from France today with a 101-gun salute and five minutes of silence. It will be the first such celebration without Ahmed Ben Bella.

The former president, who dominated Algeria's political life since independence, was deposed in a predawn military coup June 19. He is under army guard somewhere in Algeria and faces a possible trial for "high treason."

INITIAL SPEECH

The nation's new leader, army chief Col. Houari Boumedienne, was to make his first speech over the state-run radio and television network.

The Information Ministry announced Sunday night he would make public the names of the Revolutionary Council that took over from Ben Bella. The council is headed by Boumedienne. Names of the other members have never been announced.

The ministry also announced that the council had authorized Boumedienne to form a new government. Since taking power, the former defense minister in Ben Bella's government has been trying to avoid looking like a military dictator. He has stressed that he was acting on behalf of the council when conducting official business.

SEEKS SUPPORT

Algerian sources said Boumedienne was making an effort to obtain civilian backing for his regime but there were indications that he had some difficulty finding prominent civilians to join the government.

The scheduled independence day ceremonies were subdued. There were few flags or parades and the main stress was on solemn tribute to the 1½ million Algerians who died in the war of independence against France.

Hopes Raised For Hostages

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Hopes were raised today for the lives of an estimated 20 hostages held by the Congolese rebels in the northeastern Congo.

A usually reliable source in Leopoldville said the rebels and the hostages returned to the ungarrisoned town of Bondo after government troops passed through the town in May. Messages received here in the last few days indicated the hostages were alive, the source said.

Included in the group were Mrs. Liv Killingstad Godin, a Norwegian-born missionary and her Belgian husband. The others reportedly were Belgian, Greek, Portuguese, and Pakistani merchants.

House Faces Voting Rights Battle Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House faces a fierce interparty fight today as it takes up the voting rights bill which carries a top priority tag in President Johnson's legislative program.

Leaders hope for a final vote by Friday. They have said it appears certain some form of legislation will be passed to enforce the 15th Amendment's command that no person be denied the right to vote because of race or color.

POLL TAX ISSUE

A struggle looms over what approach should be taken — especially on the question of poll taxes.

Johnson urged prompt action when he sent his voting rights bill to Capitol Hill in mid-March at the height of racial demonstrations in Selma, Ala.

The Senate passed the bill May 26 by a 77-19 margin. It contained no ban on the use of poll taxes in state and local elections—the President had not asked for such a ban. But it included a provision calling for a court test on the constitutionality of such taxes. And the bill said Congress would declare that state poll taxes are used to discriminate against Negroes and the poor.

Poll taxes still are collected in Texas, Alabama, Mississippi and Virginia in state or local elections.

Key points in the Senate bill and the bill before the House are the suspension of literacy tests in elections and the use of federal registrars under certain conditions. These provisions automatically would trigger enforcement in seven Southern states—Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

Barnes Attends Summer Camp

AUSTIN — Chester F. Barnes Jr., 1308 Dixie, is among the 126 Texas National Guard officer candidates attending summer training at Camp Mabry here.

Barnes is undergoing an intensive two weeks training program in the field and in the classroom. After completing summer camp, he will return to his home Guard unit, Battery A, 3rd Battalion, 133rd Artillery, and will be required to return to Camp Mabry or Dallas for 16 days of weekend drills during the next 11 months and two additional weeks next June. Upon completion of a year of successful training, he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Texas National Guard.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Brown Certified As Winner, Hamby Argues For Eubank

Roger Brown, successful candidate for the post of state legislator from the 78th Legislative District in a recent special election, has been certified as officially elected.

The secretary of state canvassed the votes from the district Monday and issued the certification that Brown was the victor in the three-sided contest. He will be formally sworn in sometime today.

Brown, with his law partner, Lanny Hamby, is in Austin today. Hamby is to appear before a representative of the secretary of state to plead for a client, Jack Eubank, who faces extradition to New Mexico.

Brown, after he has been sworn in as state legislator, will probably join Hamby.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, is also in Austin for the Eubank hearing.

Eubank, a fugitive life termer from New Mexico State Penitentiary, is in the Howard County jail. He is fighting return to New Mexico. The hearing today is an appeal to the governor, through the secretary of state, to deny the New Mexico extradition request.

The plea is based on the contention that Eubank, after escaping the New Mexico prison in 1957, has lived for seven years in Texas as a law-abiding, peaceable citizen. Hamby will claim the man has been rehabilitated and is therefore entitled to clemency.

New Mexico's second request for extradition is now in the hands of Gov. John Connally. The first request was thrown aside by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals because it was held not to comply with the Texas laws on extradition.

Police Slay Man Who Killed Officer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Negro man armed with a repeating rifle killed a policeman and the father of his girl friend today and wounded two other officers. He was shot to death at dawn after a massive manhunt.

The rifleman was identified as Leroy Francis Scott, about 24, a Negro hot-rod enthusiast with blondish hair and a record of minor arrests.

WOODED AREA

Two patrolmen surprised him in a wooded area where he had hidden for five hours, nursing an apparently serious gunshot wound in an earlier exchange with police.

They shot him as he raised his rifle. He died en route to a hospital.

"We knew he was wounded but he didn't look too hurt to me when he raised that rifle," said patrolman James Hintemeyer, 35.

Killed in the earlier exchange of gunfire with Scott were patrolman Coleman McDonough, a former pro football player, and Aaron Godfrey.

WERE CALLED

McDonough and officers Leo Mincin, 37, and Joseph Laffey, 32, who were wounded, had been called to the Godfrey home, a two-story frame house in a low-rent section of the city's Hazelwood section.

Police said there apparently had been an argument over Scott's attentions to Godfrey's 16-year-old daughter, Ruth. The Godfreys also are Negroes.

Peru Regime Hit By 'Disturbances'

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The Peruvian government Sunday night suspended all constitutional guarantees for a period of 30 days.

The official announcement said the measure was adopted because of disturbances of the public order in several areas of the country.

No details of the disturbances were given.

N.Y. Cabbie Strike Ends After Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Drivers of fleet-owned taxicabs—more than the usual number for a holiday—returned to work Monday, ending a seven-day taxi strike.

Police estimated that 60 per cent of the city's 12,000 taxicabs were operating.

GOOD TURNOUT

One dispatcher noted that more men showed up than usual for a holiday. "I guess their belts are tight," he said.

The settlement between fleet owners and the AFL-CIO Taxi Drivers Organizing Committee was worked out Sunday in City Hall by Acting Mayor Paul R. Screvane.

Owners and drivers agreed to submit disputes arising from the strike to binding arbitration by a "czar," Screvane said.

CALLED JUNE 28

The strike was called June 28 by the Taxi Drivers Organizing Committee.

The city held an election among all drivers to decide if they wanted a union. The fleet owners had sought a garage-by-garage vote, and obtained an injunction against the city-conducted ballot.

The strike idled most of the 6,800 fleet-owned cabs. Most of the 5,000 independently owned cabs operated.

Anniversary Of Vow Observed

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Enshrinement of a small jeweled statue of the Virgin has marked the 273rd annual observance of a Spanish general's vow in 1693.

The statue, called La Conquestadora, originally was carried to Santa Fe in 1625 by a Spanish priest. It was taken away by Spanish forces who evacuated Santa Fe during an Indian rebellion from 1680-92.

Spanish Gen. Don Diego de Vargas vowed a novena, a nine-day Mass, if he could retake the city without bloodshed, which he did in 1693.

Last week La Conquestadora was enshrined in Rosario chapel northwest of Santa Fe for a week and then returned to its place in St. Francis Cathedral.

When North opened the bidding with two no trump, South envisioned slam possibilities inasmuch as his hand was worth 11 points counting high cards and distribution, and partner had announced at least 22 points.

South temporized by bidding three spades. When North rebid three no trump, however, South decided it was high time to make his move and he jumped beyond game to five spades. North held all the controls and, with a readily establishable diamond suit, he accepted the invitation and proceeded to six spades.

West opened the jack of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. Declarer observed that two heart discards were available on the ace and king of diamonds; however, in order to find a parking place for his other losing heart, it would be necessary to develop a long card in North's diamond suit.

South began establishment of the diamonds by leading the deuce of that suit at trick two and ruffing with the four of spades. A spade was led to the ace so that declarer might trump another diamond in his hand.

When the ten and jack of diamonds appeared from East's hand on the first two leads of that suit, South decided to proceed with care. The dummy had only two entries left—the ace of hearts and the queen of clubs. If diamonds are divided five-two, it will be necessary to utilize both of these high cards to complete the development of North's long suit.

South decided to forgo the luxury of taking the trump finesse in the interests of safety. He cashed the king of spades and; when both opponents followed, the success of the contract became assured. A club was led to the queen and another diamond was trumped as East discarded a club.

Declarer led his remaining spade, giving West his trump trick, as the five of hearts was discarded from dummy. West got out with a heart and North was in to cash the ace and king of diamonds—dropping the queen—followed by the eight of diamonds. South disposed of his three remaining hearts and then took the final trick with the king of clubs.

Texas Counts 55 Dead From Holiday Violence

By The Associated Press

Texas counted 55 violent deaths during the July 4 holiday weekend.

Traffic accidents, taking the heaviest toll as usual, claimed 27 lives. Ten persons drowned while swimming and boating accidents caused two deaths. Miscellaneous violence accounted for the others.

THE LATEST

The fatalities occurred in the 78 hours between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday. These were the latest to be reported:

A car driven by Ernesto Cardenas Jr. of Fort Worth struck and fatally injured his daughter Marsha, 2, Monday in a gas station driveway at Benjamin. She died at a Knox City hospital.

Roger Blackwood, 15, of Seagoville was killed Monday when he and a companion fell into Lake Tawakoni from a speedboat. The propeller gashed the other youth's legs.

COLLIN COUNTY

A collision near Lavon in Collin County killed Laura Lee Andrews, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews of Plano and injured four other persons Monday.

M. B. Reed of Cleburne died Monday in a tool shed explosion and fire at his home.

Carolyn Hinton Wagner, 26, of Victoria was killed Monday as a car struck a pole at Mission. Three companions suffered injuries.

Moscow Aid To Hanoi Said Scant

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Abaz Laze, chief of an Albanian trade union delegation back in Tirana from a visit to Hanoi, says all the aid Moscow has given North Viet Nam consists of medicines, 200 bicycles and five accordions.

In a broadcast on the official radio of pro-Peking, anti-Moscow Albania, Laze added that the Russians "are the only great power chauvinists who regard aid as alms and not as their international duty."

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (AP) —A 14-year-old Fort Worth boy, Arturo Vallejo, drowned Sunday afternoon at Stewart Creek Park on Garza Little Elm Reservoir near Lewisville.

Auto Death Record Set

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths during the Fourth of July weekend set a record total for a three-day observance of Independence Day. The previous high of 504 deaths was set last year.

A near-final tally placed the death toll at 531. The count neared the record for a four-day Fourth of July weekend, 557 deaths set in 1963. The Associated Press began its count at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and ended it at midnight Monday night.

STERN WARNING

This year's toll brought a stern warning from Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council.

"Never has driver improvement been more badly needed," Pyle said. "The attitudes and skills of too many drivers are failing to meet the exacting demands of billions of miles of high pressure travel.

"Every driver," Pyle said, "should begin at once to sharpen old skills and develop new ones through available driver improvement programs."

Another safety council spokesman estimated that the final toll would be about 550 traffic deaths. "More traffic fatalities may be counted during the final hours of the weekend," he said.

"Motorists who delayed their start home are tired, in a rush," he added. "They're driving faster than conditions permit and they make mistakes."

Traffic accidents in five states — California, Missouri, New York, Ohio and Texas — accounted for more than one-third of the deaths.

Fifty persons were killed on California roads, 31 in Missouri, 33 in New York, 36 in Ohio and 27 in Texas.

No Traffic deaths were reported in three states — Rhode Island, Delaware and Alaska. The District of Columbia also reported no traffic fatalities.

Boating accidents across the nation took 35 lives and 119 persons drowned in accidents not involving boats during the three-day weekend.

Opposes Lowering Safety Pin Levy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., has urged President Johnson not to lower duties on safety pins.

The Tariff Commission recently reported that major producers of safety pins could adjust to lower tariffs by increasing imports of pins or producing other products.

Ribicoff said lowering of the duties would eliminate the pin industry, centered in the Naugatuck Valley of Connecticut.

A Devotional For The Day

If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. (John 8:36)

PRAYER: O God, we are grateful for the freedom which we have in Christ, the great liberator of all who will trust in Him. Strengthen us in our faithfulness to Thee, through Him, who is our Savior. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Careful Use Is Needed

Perhaps some of the dust has settled in the controversy aroused by the late Rachel Carson's moving book "Silent Spring," which warned against the unrestricted use of pesticides. Congress is moving slowly in this field, with the possibility that legislation establishing basic guidelines for pesticide use may be passed this year. President Johnson has asked for tighter federal control over pesticide manufacture and use.

This is not a dispute just between lovers of wildlife vs. farmers, nor the agricultural chemical industry vs. the Food and Drug Administration. It is, instead, an issue of paramount public importance.

Chemical residues of the stable, chlorinated hydro-carbon type, have been disseminated throughout much of the world. Traces of DDT, for instance, have been found in frogs which live in the lakes of the high Sierras where no DDT is known to have been used. Many ocean fish now carry pesticide residues—oysters are especially adept at accumulating relatively high concentrations of agricultural chemicals.

Chemical industry spokesmen argue that after 20 years of observation not one case of harm to a human being from pesticide residues has been recorded. This may be true, but the statistic is meaningless. Man is a relatively slow breeder. The effects of chemical residues in man, translated into genetic mutations, may not be discernible for several generations. By then the effect might be irreversible.

The question is not whether pesticides should or should not be outlawed. The careful use of pesticides is essential to high agricultural yields. But no one can defend the unrestricted use of powerful, potentially toxic chemicals either legally or morally. No one can claim freedom from strict control of their use, since the future of man may well be involved.

The Big Lie Is Nailed

Texas is as much Western as Southern, despite its secession into the Confederacy so vigorously but futilely opposed by founding father Sam Houston. It was to be expected that Texas would run well ahead of the Deep South in its school desegregation, and it has.

Just how far Texas has outpaced its Southern neighbors is noteworthy in the latest issue of Southern School News published by Southern Education Reporting Service of Nashville. Financed by the Ford Foundation, SERS has kept accurate scope on desegregation during the 11 years since the U. S. Supreme Court's order against compulsory segregation.

In Texas, 450 of the 862 school districts with both white and Negro students have already desegregated. Most of the others have filed desegregation plans beginning next fall to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act, thus to qualify for shares in the $86 million in federal school aid allocated to Texas for the next school year.

In 11 other Southern states, only 66,000 Negroes now attend classes with white pupils. But in Texas alone, 27,000 Negro children attend classes with white children. SERS reports that 245,000 of the 344,312 Negro scholastics in Texas now live in districts at least partly desegregated.

At the college level, the Texas record also is relatively commendable. All of this state's 54 tax-supported colleges and universities now accept students of all races, including the four formerly all-Negro colleges. In the latest school year, there were 2,553 Negroes in formerly all-white Texas colleges, with 8,306 others still attending predominantly Negro institutions.

Texas can take a measure of pride in that record, but should not be complacent about remaining serious problems. There is still fair desegregation of faculties to be accomplished, and a substantial degree of de facto segregation yet to be overcome. But at least this state has fortunately avoided ugly incidents.

'THIS WILL, IN NO WAY, IMPAIR HIS PROGRESS'

Around The Rim

Odios, La Cucaracha

The old county jail in the town where I used to live was a historic landmark.

It had been constructed before the turn of the century by the federal government and was a federal jail for several decades. It was built of dull red brick and was in the general design of a "T."

The cell blocks were in the back, the front housed the jail office on one side, a kitchen and dining room for officers on the other. Also stuck away in one corner was a small room furnished with a bed, chair and dresser. This was for the convenience of visiting officers who came through town with prisoners.

The forepart of the building was two storied. Half of the upper floor was for women prisoners. The other half was reserved for the more favored male prisoners.

THERE WERE several jails in Oklahoma exactly like this one. Apparently, the federal government, when it set out to provide the Indian country with prisons, hit upon the economical idea to build them all alike and thereby save architect fees.

The floors in the front office were of wide pine boards. Years of service had cut these boards into deep grooves and splinters stuck up all about.

THE JAIL perhaps was no dirtier than any other old building. It had the traditional odor of jails—a breath-taking smell of disinfectant blended with scent of sweaty, unwashed bodies.

The light fixtures, an afterthought apparently—because there was no electricity when the building han been first put in service — dangled high over head. The ceilings were far up —dingy and half lost in the duskiness. Little light penetrated the offices or dining room through the tall, narrow, iron barred windows.

THE PLACE teemed with cockroaches.

They raced across the floor in daylight, and at night, when there was little activity in the place, they seemed to be everywhere. Big black monsters waving long inquisitive antenna as they scurried here and there in search of food.

There were numerous scarred places and holes in the floor of the main office. Close examination showed that these indentations were obviously left by bullets.

FOR MANY YEARS, the chief deputy sheriff in the county was a huge, redhaired, ruddy-faced, blue-eyed Irishman. He was renowned over the state for his skill with a pistol, and his big gun was always at his side.

This deputy used to spend many nights in the jail office — long dull nights when time hung heavy on the big officer's hands. So he entertained himself in the late hours by blasting cockroaches to eternity with his pistol. The cockroaches would emerge from the woodwork and scurry across the floor. The pistol would roar and there would be no cockroach. Only another ragged, splintery hole in the jail floor.

AND THE BIG deputy would lean back in the creaky old swivel chair and roar with laughter.

They said you could hear his laugh for four blocks.

I think in the still hours of the night, you might have neard the guffaw even further.

Johnson Occupies Center Of Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower were seldom out of the news but they never dominated it in the manner of Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

In their sense of the dramatic, Truman and Eisenhower were no match for Kennedy and Johnson. Kennedy always knew where the center of the stage was but he never occupied it so steadily as Johnson, who has built his tent there.

In the first half of 1965 events seemed to revolve around Johnson. He made them revolve around him.

HIS AIDES and members of his administration, either naturally or by order, let him do the talking. And what he had to say came in a ceaseless torrent: speeches, news conference, statements, messages, garden conversations.

The two men in Johnson's administration who, next to the President, do most of the talking are Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Even so, they're just echoes of Johnson. They're explainers, not announcers. Johnson does all the major announcing.

Thus the Vietnamese war was obscured a bit as the nation waited to see what Johnson would do or say about the bombing, suspending it, peace, troop buildups, or plans for Southeast Asia.

SINCE JOHNSON has shown himself a man of action, particularly in the use of armed forces, this added to the attention he got and the suspense he created.

The effect was stunning; because it was so unexpected, when he suddenly sent troops into the Dominican Republic. But it was Johnson on television who broke the news.

Ordinarily, if nothing else had happened, this American involvement in the Dominican revolution would have been enough to keep the American mind glued on Latin America for happenings there.

But something else did happen.

FOR DAYS after his first announcement it was not only the Dominican trouble but Johnson who stayed in focus by making statements. The fact that the Dominican events were soon unspectacular helped.

Even the role of Congress appeared secondary to the performance of the energetic and dramatic man in the White House.

In the first six months of any year congressional infighting, plus some occasional bellowing, and the struggle between the men in the Capitol and the President take up a good part of the front pages.

BUT THIS year Congress has been comparatively quiet while tackling and passing some major legislation and laying the necessary groundwork for passing much more in the months coming up.

True, Johnson's foreign policies got some criticism in Congress and from other sources. Some of it may have nudged him sooner than otherwise into welcoming "unconditional" peace talks on the war in Viet Nam.

Fighting Jack Valenti

WASHINGTON—There have been a lot of rumors and rumblings in Washington that President Johnson is hard on his staff, but no one in the White House has been willing to talk about it publicly. Last week Jack Valenti, special assistant to the President, made a speech to the Advertising Federation of America in Boston, and for the first time a presidential intimate struck back, refused to mince words and said exactly what was on his mind.

The speech was hard-hitting, and made Valenti the hero of the White House staff, though no one knows how the President took it.

IN HIS OPENING remarks, Valenti set the tone of his speech.

He described the President as "A sensitive man, a cultivated man, a warmhearted and extraordinary man, one whose spirit never seems to be captured."

Refusing to let it go at that, Valenti then lashed out, describing President Johnson as "A man of courage, a man of compassion and a man of intelligence that is married to the instinct for rightness."

When reporters heard this they suddenly realized this wasn't going to be

WHEN REPORTERS heard this they suddenly realized this wasn't going to be one of these, "Let us now praise famous men" speeches.

In describing the President's day, Valenti said, "The President, thank the good Lord, has extra glands, I am persuaded, that give him energy that ordinary men simply don't have. He goes to bed late and rises early and the words I have never heard him say are 'I'm tired.'"

WITH ALL the courage of Sonny Liston, Valenti kept swinging. "Contrary to popular notion, the President is not fond of those who continually say 'yes' to him. He thrives on new ideas, new initiatives, innovations and fresh thinking. If a man consistently agrees and offers no new counter arguments, that man is soon not asked for advice."

No one had ever said this before and if he had let it go at that Valenti might not have endangered his job. But for some reason he continued.

HE QUOTED a top adviser after hearing the President suggest ways of solving the Guantanamo water crisis as saying that "It was a dazzling example of sophisticated diplomacy and shrewd handling of a ticklish, peevish foreign problem."

Then Valenti described the President's relations with his staff and it was a blockbuster. "Sometimes just before he leaves his office he will sit in the small inner office he uses for intimate conversation with members of the staff. There will be laughter and easy talk as the President begins and sheds the crisis crust that has accumulated during the day . . . he (the President) is the most skilled teller of stories since Lincoln, and their humor is much the same, extracted from the soil and the people of the land."

AFTER SEVERAL more straightforward jabs, Valenti wound up his speech by saying, "I sleep each night a little better because Lyndon Johnson is my President. For I know he lives, thinks and works to make sure that for all America and indeed, the growing body of the free world, the morning shall always come."

The question that everyone is asking in Washington is how can Valenti possibly stay on at the White House after this speech? How can a President, no matter how thick-skinned, and President Johnson is certainly thick-skinned, allow one of his aides to talk about him publicly in this manner? The feeling here is that if Valenti had a grudge against the President he should have kept it to himself.

Latins Wary Of Off-And-On Aid

WASHINGTON—"The aid you give my country is most generous. It has helped us to make considerable progress that would otherwise have been impossible.

"But the concept of aid? Foreign aid, as you call it? This is what I question. I wish it could be instead participation, a joint program to which you are committed with us. Not something you can stop and start as you will."

THIS IS a Latin-American ambassador of the new, realistic school. He reflects the growing awareness of the political differences that have been sharpened since the Dominican crisis and the shadow of those differences cast on the ties between North and South.

This coincides with the doubts that have grown up over the whole aid program in Congress. Staff specialists for Sen. Ernest Gruening's subcommittee on government reorganization are now combing over the records of the operation in Latin America. They expect to come up with a report similar to that on the Middle East, which was highly critical. A conclusion of the Middle East report was:

"WHAT IS DESPERATELY needed in the AID program is a set of criteria for determining which nations in the free world are worthy of receiving U.S. foreign economic assistance. These criteria should be widely published. And, even more important, they should be rigidly followed."

Yet for all its faults and despite the carping of the critics the AID program in Latin America has demonstrably worked many essential changes. The figures have been compiled for the fiscal year just ended. They show an over-all total of $1.064 billion in loans and grants to Latin America. That is a very large sum of money even when it is distributed across an entire continent and some live at the poverty level or below.

OF THE TOTAL, $828,600,000 was in loans and $235,400,000 in grants. Twenty-three individual countries or dependencies got the help in varying amounts along with regional organizations. Brazil headed the list with $234,900,000 and Uruguay, which until recently has been considered a prosperous and viable nation, was at the bottom with $1,100,000. Poverty-ridden Haiti with its 4,500,000 people got $1,400,000.

A criticism frequently leveled at the AID program in all underdeveloped areas is that the United States tries to transpose American standards on countries unready for them. For example, one of the conditions prescribed by the Gruening report was that there must be in the recipient country "a force of trained managerial personnel to administer intelligently any aided economic developments." Very few underdeveloped countries could qualify on this score for a project requiring advanced skills and disciplines.

BUT WILLIAM D. ROGERS, former coordinator of the Alliance for Progress, insists that the policy in Latin America has been to take into full account the lack of trained people and where it is necessary to provide training programs. An understanding of the differences between the most-advanced industrial country and those that are just starting on the road to modernization in agriculture and industry has been in the forefront of thinking on every project, according to Rogers.

Budgeting for the aid program in Latin America in the year now begun is on the scale of the one just ended. The country-by-country figures are not yet released if only to prevent rivalry among those who see that Country Y is getting more than Country X.

But the cloud of doubt stirs in many Latins the concern that this could be another example of the stop-and-start policy of the past. When you need us you turn to us, when you don't you ignore us—that is the reproach.

Jet Safer Than Car, Ed Says

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It all happened in 16 terrible minutes.

In that incredible fraction of an hour, a U.S. Air Force pilot napalm-bombed a target, his plane caught fire, he bailed out, landed in enemy territory and was plucked to safety by a passing Army helicopter.

"That's the only real emergency I've had in more than 4,000 hours in the air," said Capt. Edward F. Gallardo, 33, of Armstrong Creek, Wis.

"I feel much safer flying a jet plane than I do driving an automobile."

ED IS A dark-haired, F100 pilot who stands 5 feet 5, and weighs only 137 pounds. His wife, Pat, and their five children —none of whom is more than 5 years old — live in Hampton, Va.

The fighter pilot's battle ordeal came on a recent Sunday when he had to skip morning religious services because of an early mission.

The mission was his 35th in some 40 days.

"I was first of our flight in on the target, some Viet Cong emplacements 42 miles south of here," said Gallardo. "I came in fast at 50 to 100 feet above the ground.

"I PUSHED what we call the pickle button to release the napalm cans. Immediately there was a loud explosion, and the cockpit filled with smoke. I didn't know whether I had been hit by ground fire, or something had gone wrong with the napalm.

"But I couldn't see out. My plane was on fire."

Instinctively, he put the plane into a climb.

"The smoke began to clear, but my plane was burning badly. I didn't know whether it would blow up or not. But you don't bail out over a target area if you can help it, and I headed toward the sea.

"I got up to 5,000 feet. At 6,000 feet the speed began to bleed down. The plane started to roll. The controls had burned away. I had become just a passenger, I had to go."

THE CAPTAIN jettisoned his canopy, pulled his triggers and was ejected.

"There was a big blast, and the next thing I knew I was floating down about 12 miles from the target area. It was a great view and I had plenty of time to think, but all I thought about was landing in a clear space."

Gallardo landed standing up between two houses in a native hamlet.

Fodder From The Think Tank

WASHINGTON, D. C. — For six years now Sen. Henry Jackson (R., Wash.) has been conducting a floating think tank.

Into it he has tossed about six experts per congressional session, and distilled their ideas for the records of his Government Operations subcommittee.

THE NAMES of the witnesses are a "Who's Who" in cogitation and experience regarding the machinery of national policy: one supreme commander of NATO, two chairmen of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, two Secretaries of Defense, two Secretaries of State, and a mix of ambassadors, state governors, bankers, and professors.

Recently we had another professor, Richard E. Neustadt of Harvard, who was an aide to Presidents Truman and Kennedy and author of a book on presidential power. Although his subject was the "machinery" of government, he came out for "men" as the power that moves the nation and the world.

SUCCESSFUL management of foreign affairs, he said, "does not turn on whether we have more or fewer members of the National Security Council. Machinery is not of the essence here. Men are of the essence: what they carry in their heads, and how they use their minds, and where they look for information."

This observation was not displeasing to the men who sat in the listening panel: Sens. Jackson, Ribicoff, Harris, Robert Kennedy and Mundt. It was the more delightful to them when Dr. Neustadt made clear that he regarded political men—those who had gone to the people for certification—as the real masters of challenging situations.

RIBICOFF and Kennedy picked up this point for their approval. There were too many "bureaucrats" without political experience in advisory positions, and too many university courses on civics which didn't deal in case histories but rather in theories. The result: Presidents get advice in which there is no human equation, and (as Jackson added) we get 42 international military treaties so that we pay "homage to structure" and put reliance upon paper work which later proves worthless.

IT TAKES a politician, said Neustadt, to remember that other governments are made up of men who desire to stay in office. Before Eisenhower humiliated Prime Minister Eden by refusing to back him up in the Suez crisis, some politician should have advised Ike that friendly governments as well as enemy governments may find a way to "retaliate." The same was true in the situation when President Kennedy upset the Macmillan ministry's defense plans by cancelling the Skybolt program to save American dollars. The British were soon selling motor vehicles to Castro.

Presidents don't get political advice from their brain trusts, which are usually drawn from the academic world. Ribicoff asked Neustadt the reasons for this gap on Viet Nam policy and the professor named some causes for the campus commotions:

1. STUDENTS ARE afraid they'll be drafted to fight. (When I asked Neustadt afterwards about professors who encouraged this chicken-heartedness in our military generation, he said he was "tolerant" toward this form of academic freedom, though he didn't practice it himself.)

2. A feeling that the Viet Nam War has ended a "detente" toward which we were moving with the Soviet Union. (The Test Ban Treaty was supposed to be the beginning of further disarmament.)

3. The academic world is uncomfortable in a "consensus." Having backed Johnson against Goldwater, it would naturally begin to "disassociate" from the too-popular winner.

Billy Graham

I have lost my job after 20 years with the same firm. All of the seniority I had is lost, and I am getting to the age when it is hard to find employment. What advice can you give me? D. A.

This seeming tragedy could be the greatest thing that every happened to you. That is, unless you fall prey to self pity. I know many men who have successfully rebuilt their lives and careers after, it seemed, all was lost.

Robert Peterson in "Life Begins at Forty" tells of a man who suffered reverses such as yours. He went away to take stock of his life and pray. He said later: "For the first time in my life I could contemplate freely without interruption. . . . new thoughts and ideas began stirring. I soon developed a new perspective on my wife. What remarkable qualities she had! And the children? I must give them sterner discipline, and more of my time. My work? Perhaps it had been too routine, limiting my creative power. Perhaps I should go into business for myself." Then he concludes: "I discovered flaws in myself, and developed a new awareness of what it means to be a thinking, intelligent creature blessed with the fantastic miracle of life."

With prayer, and self-examination, this could be the "pause that refreshes" in your life. Take it as an opportunity instead of a tragedy, and go with God. "All things work together for good to them that love God."

Psychomatic Treatment Applies In Many Cases

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

At the rate medical research is progressing, no physician dares to stop learning as fast as he can, and if all are like me, they frequently despair of keeping up with everything.

We go to meetings as often as possible, and we always come away with additional knowledge. For instance, there are a dozen or so things that I learned at a clinic yesterday. Some are rather technical, some philosophical, but there is one item in particular that seems to be of lasting value.

The speaker, Dr. Morris Weiss, was talking about the psychological aspects of treating physical diseases, and in the context he was using, it applied to a young patient with epilepsy, but it would also apply to a good many other chronic diseases, too.

Dr. Weiss didn't claim the observation as his own, but I think there's something to be said for passing along the ideas we learn from someone else. That's what I try to do each day. Certainly I don't claim to be an expert on all the things I discuss, but I try to share with readers the medical lore I accumulate from countless sources. I just make sure that my information is from reliable, not to say expert, sources.

Here's the bit of advice about the way a doctor can best guide a young epilepsy patient who understandably may be resentful at having fallen victim to that ailment, and is particularly rebellious at being told that he should avoid certain sports and should not drive an automobile.

Certainly if I were in the same position, I would feel resentful at having some such activity prohibited because of a condition which developed through no fault of my own. So what does a doctor say?

The advice is this: Explain what the disease WON'T do to him, instead of what it WILL do to him.

I'll not belabor the point. It can apply to a lot more things than medical problems, but I do think it applies especially to epilepsy. Or, no, maybe it doesn't. Maybe it's a rule of life for any of us who has a handicap. And when you get right down to it, which of us doesn't have one? Maybe not as hard a handicap as epilepsy, but don't we all have our own handicaps, large or small?

Dear Dr. Molner: A few years ago my son had one eye removed. Now the other one is hemorrhaging. Is this bad, and is there anything he can do?—MRS. C.T.Z.

Undoubtedly it is bad, but without knowing a great deal more about the case, I can't say anything further. Your son should — MUST — see an eye specialist without delay.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it; both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Texas Type Success Comes To Pair Trading Oil For Fashions

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — What has happened recently to blonde, blue-eyed and breathless Dorcie Wallace seems so improbable that even she finds it hard to believe.

Though living in Texas where nobody settles for less than big, she should have known that designing two little styles for the Dallas fashion market would inexorably result in a non-stop race to the big time in New York City. And it did.

It does seem odd that any Texan would get out of the oil business to get into the fashion industry, as her husband and several partners did. But with Dorcie's freshness and originality as a designer, selling pretty clothes appeared to be a lot more profitable than oil.

Nor is it every day that a tiny boutique, a gift shop really with emphasis on unusual Latin American items mostly for the house, winds up a thriving fashion factory.

Still, that's the way things have been with the bustling, enthusiastic mother of two since the day she stopped at a wool factory in El Dorado to ask the designers if they could possibly weave some ruanas for her.

The ruana, (Spanish for wrap or cloak) is a brilliant-hued garment originating in the Andres. A rectangle with a slit half way down the middle, it is undoubtedly one of the simplest and yet most versatile designs ever created by anyone. It can be worn backwards, forwards, half-belted, with sleeve or cape effect. With a few more scissor snips and seams it becomes a skirt or sheath.

Ruana, Texas Style

Miss Mohair for 1965, Janell Jernigan, models a dress, a coat, and a jacket designed by Texan Dorcie Wallace who was inspired by the Columbian ruana.

Dorcie Wallace fell in love with the ruana while living in South America where her husband worked for an oil company. Once back in the states, she tried importing them for her little gift shop, but haphazard deliveries from the backward country could hardly keep up with the huge demand.

That's what inspired her to stop at the wool factory. The impetuous act not only led from two to an entire line of ruana-inspired fashions, it resulted in some new wool-weaving ideas, such as combining linen and wool. This has been a tremendous boost to the American woolen industry itself.

"You can imagine my surprise" says Dorcie with a southwestern accent so thick you sometimes need a translater, "I was asked to be a member of the Texas Economic Commission. Here I am just a little ole housewife."

Well, she hardly has time for the house anymore, rushing back and forth to New York; creating pretty costumes for Miss Mohair of 1965, planning spring and summer shows, working with big department store promotions, and scheming about new woolen mixtures.

"Sometimes I think that if I'd have known how hectic life was going to get," laments Dorcie, "I never would have gotten involved."

But it's too late now.

Miss Perry Tells July Nuptial Date

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Perry, 1207 E. 18th, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Henrie Ann, to Richard D. Wisener, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wisener, 1609 Gregg. The couple plans a July 16 wedding at the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Honored At Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillip Hubbard Jr., are shown at the reception following their marriage Saturday morning in the First Presbyterian Church with the Dr. R. Gage Lloyd officiating. The bride is the former Sherry Lurting, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lurting, No. 3 Highland Cove, where family members attended the reception. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hubbard Sr., Midland. The bride was attired in a three-piece suit of beige lace styled with ruffled crepe blouse and cutaway jacket. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard are enroute to Long Beach, Calif., where they will make their home.

Convention Plans Set By Auxiliary

Plans were completed for delegates to attend the El Paso July 23-25 department convention during the Monday evening meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Howard County Unit 355.

The group met at the legion hut with Mrs. Leonard Barlow presiding. She reported on the progress of the cook book sales and set a July 17 date for the auxiliary - sponsored party at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The members presented a gift to Mrs. David Cothran, president. Mrs. Cothran, who has been ill, is leaving today for a stay in the Lackland AFB Hospital, San Antonio.

Book Selections Given At Meeting

Selections from the book, "Go Home and Tell," were presented during the Monday evening meeting of the Mary Martha Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Nabors, 207 West 17th.

Mrs. H. B. Reagan gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Robert Polk, guest speaker, presented the devotion. Get-well cards were signed for sick members, and Mrs. Nabors served refreshments.

Ben Boadles Give Backyard Supper

A backyard supper was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boadle, 111 Jefferson. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Miles, Merkel; Sam Ford, Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. Orvell Griffith and their children, Randy, Dee Ann and Mike, all of Colorado City.

Society Told Basement Debt Paid

Mrs. Leo Gonzalez, president, welcomed four new members to the Altar Society of St. Thomas Catholic Church as the first meeting of the new season was held Monday evening in the church basement. Joining the society were Mrs. Raymond Leos, Miss Gavina Chavez, Mrs. Esperanza Bustamente and Mrs. Henry Guzman.

The Rev. Robert J. McDermott opened the program with prayer and spoke on "The Love of God and Neighbor." Afterward, he distributed booklets pertaining to the subject.

Mrs. Joe Martinez Jr., retiring treasurer, presented the annual financial report and informed the group that the debt on the basement remodeling has been liquidated. The women will give a free offering each month for the bishop's burse which is used to educate a priest for the San Angelo diocese.

Initial plans were made for the fall festival Sept. 11. Mrs. Gonzalez will head the project, and working committees have been formed.

Hostesses were Mrs. Benito Rubio and Mrs. Higenio Moreno who served refreshments. The next meeting will be at 8 p.m., Aug. 2.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Remove Nail Polish By Quick Dunking

Dear Heloise:

To remove nail polish without mess, fill the cap from your nail polish remover bottle half full and dip each finger in it for a second or two, and then wipe with cotton. The number of coats of polish will determine how many dunkings are necessary.

The remover in the cap stays clear, and can be poured back into the bottle when through!

HELOISE

You will find this ends numerous smeary cotton balls, plus all that old polish from getting on one or both hands.

My day begins with your column. Long live Heloise! . . . Adeline G. Buetow

* * *

Adeline, you hit the nail on the head! It works beautifully—and now I have polish-less nails to prove it! And, just as you said, I poured the capful of remover back into the bottle, and it didn't discolor the rest of the remover.

Long may you life, too . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Please tell all the gals to stop folding sheets and start rolling them up!

This also applies to tablecloths so there will be no creases. I have even started rolling my towels, as they look so much prettier this way, and it saves so much space . . . Sally

* * *

Dear Heloise:

When I want to soften butter quickly for spreading, I fill a bowl with boiling water, then pour out the water, and turn the hot bowl upside down over the butter dish.

The butter will soften without melting, and is great for corn-on-the-cob, buttering French bread, etc.

Try it! . . . Barbara Osborne

Dear Heloise:

I used nylon net to spot-wash the arms of my washable, cotton slip-covers. Then I had the bright idea of putting a whole yard of nylon net into the washing machine with the slip-covers.

The covers have a white background, and they came out like new . . . they just sparkled.

Try this. It's wonderful . . . Pauline Higgins

Oh, Pauline, you are so right! The nylon net will act as a gentle abrasive to clean the most soiled sections of the cotton slip-covers, without harming the fabric or fading it as a bleach might do . . . Heloise

Six Join Guild At Webb AFB

Six new members were introduced during the Friday meeting of the St. Anne's Guild at Webb AFB. The group met at the chapel annex, and Chaplain Thomas D. Holland gave the opening prayer.

New members welcomed were Mrs. K. M. Reed, Mrs. J. R. Goebel, Mrs. J. K. Boores, Mrs. F. Medici, Mrs. R. L. Richards and Mrs. Edward Lyons.

Mrs. Thomas McCurdy, president of the San Angelo diocese of the National Council of Catholic Women, was guest speaker. She stressed the need of cooperation between the small groups and the national council.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. L. Gallanger and Miss Emma Cevallos. Mrs. B. Fontenot presented a spiritual reading.

The next meeting will follow the 9 a.m. mass on Aug. 6 at the chapel annex.

Strike Ties Up Vessel

NEW YORK (AP) — Another American passenger liner came home today to be tied up by a strike of engineering officers, now in its 21st day.

The Moore-McCormack liner Brasil returned with 400 passengers from a 35-day Scandinavian cruise.

CARRY LUGGAGE

The passengers, assisted by supervisory employes of the line, had to carry their own luggage ashore. Longshoremen refused to cross the picket line of the striking AFL-CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

The line announced it has postponed until July 16 the Brasil's next cruise, which was scheduled to start Thursday.

Last week the line canceled a cruise of the Brasil's sister ship, the Argentina. The sailings of three other liners, including the United States, also were canceled last week.

SEEK TALKS

Federal mediators were expected to try to get talks going again between the engineers union and the American Merchant Marine Institute. It represents eight companies operating 184 ships.

The institute also has been struck by the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots and the American Radio Association, also AFL-CIO unions.

The first break in the strike came Saturday when the radiomen settled with the Tanker Service Committee, representing operators of 65 tankers.

However, it released only 22 tankers of the Gulf Oil Corp. The other tankers are still struck.

Leukemia Kills C-City Child

COLORADO CITY — Michael Kirk Wood, 11, Colorado City, died Monday at 2:15 p.m. in Children's Hospital, Dallas, of leukemia.

Born Jan. 4, 1954, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim V Wood, 1325 Walnut, Colorado City. Mr. Wood is employed by Col-Tex refinery.

Michael had been ill of leukemia since March, 1962. His condition had been critical since last February.

Services will be Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Colorado City, the Rev. M. A. Smith Jr., pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Michael is survived by his parents; a brother, Jimmy R. Wood, Big Spring; and a sister, Judy Wood, Colorado City.

Holiday Safety Mark For Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—There wasn't a traffic death on Dallas streets to mar the three-day July 4 holiday weekend, police reported.

It was the second straight Independence Day that this city of more than 800,000 people has posted such a record.

Only Two Fires Mar Weekend

Big Spring firemen answered only two calls over the Sunday-Monday holiday season.

A cigarette, dropped on a mattress caused the loss of two mattresses and some damage to the bed at the George Maxwell home on the old Gail road. Firemen were called to the scene at 6:53 a.m. Sunday.

A smoking trash bin, behind Mancil Cleaners, at 11:55 p.m. Sunday, was extinguished without damage. Cause was unknown.

Nobody Telling Prince To Hush

LONDON (AP) — Political observers see little chance of the House of Commons even debating a motion to warn Prince Philip to keep quiet on political issues.

Although the motion was signed by more than 30 Laborite legislators, leaders of both the Labor government and the Conservative opposition were reported anxious to let the matter drop.

The prince, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, has come under leftist criticism at home and African criticism in the Commonwealth for counseling restraint in the argument over Rhodesia's future.

The central African colony has internal self - government and the ruling white minority shows no sign of agreeing to the British government's demands for a constitution promising the African majority control ultimately. Asian and African members of the Commonwealth want Britain to force the Rhodesian whites to accept such a constitution.

In Edinburgh last week the prince suggested that negotiations on Rhodesia's future should be taken slowly rather than "risk a blood bath and many other unpredictable results by forcing the pace."

Philip added: "I think everybody recognizes that the ultimate result (African rule) is inevitable. But I think a few years here or there do not matter if we can achieve this result peacefully and quietly."

Philip's Laborate critics considered this a statement of personal political opinion such as modern British royalty is not supposed to make.

The only political statements allowed to the queen in public are those approved by the government in power. Prince Philip's position may be somewhat different since his precise constitutional position is not clear.

Theft, Break-In Are Reported

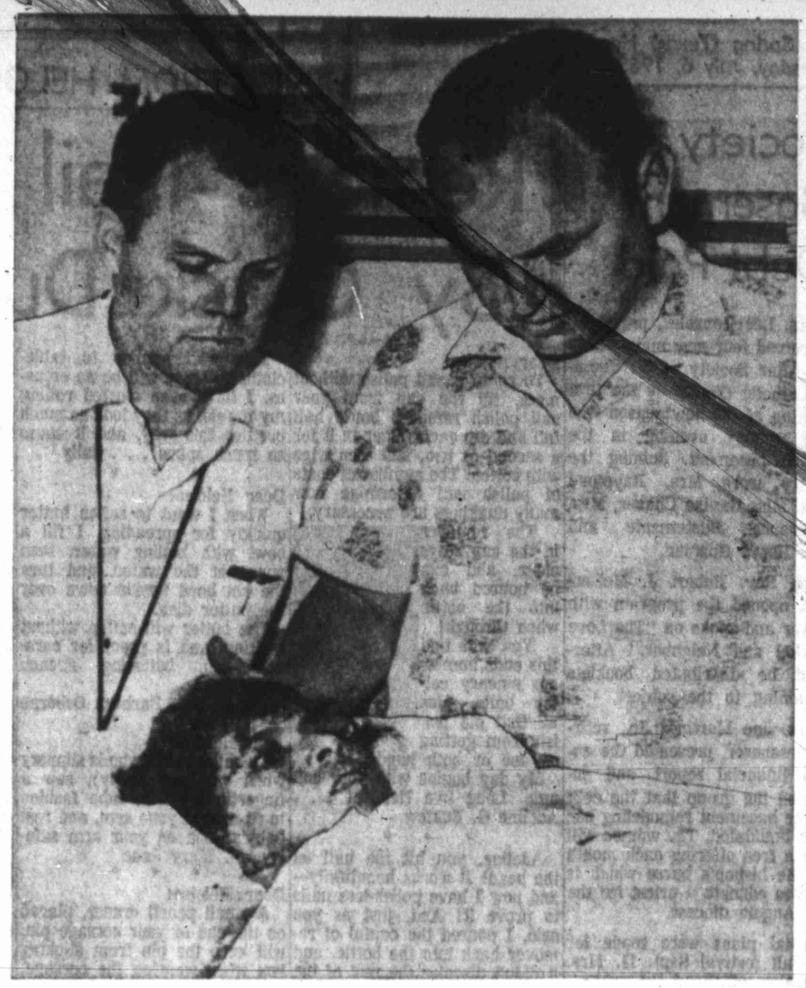

A theft from a truck, and a break-in at a local tavern some time during Monday night were investigated by Big Spring police this morning.

C. J. Wright, a Texas & Pacific Railway Co. employe, told police some one took a homemade knife, with elaborate handle, and an unknown number of pennies from his panel truck last night. He said the knife was in a box on the floor boards and the pennies in the glove compartment which was locked.

Wanda Taylor, at BJ's Tavern, 3402 US 80 west, called police to investigate a break-in there. Detective A. P. Hurley said the glass was broken from the front door and that the music box and a bowling machine had been broken open. An undetermined amount of change was taken.

Still Alive, Despite Burns

Drs. D. L. Herrick, left, and Robert Lawson examine Mrs. Ramona Franco de Portola at White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles, where she is being treated after living for two months in her mud hut home in Mexico with untreated third degree burns over 70 per cent of her body. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Mercy Mission Discovers Burns Victim In Mud Hut

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For two months a young Mexican mother, burned over 70 per cent of her body, took aspirin, sat through 115-degree heat in her mud hut in a remote village, and waited for help to come.

It did, in the form of five doctors who spent the Independence Day weekend flying mercy missions into Mexican villages where there is no medical aid.

L.A. HOSPITAL

Now Ramona Franco de Portola, who spent those two months in an upright position, is lying down — here at White Memorial Hospital where doctors give her a 50-50 chance of surviving.

Dr. Robert Lawson, an Upland, Calif., dentist who helped bring her north, described her suffering from third - degree burns as "a living hell."

afire May 5, she lived in an "Since a stove set her clothes upright position in unbelievable pain in the hut where temperatures rose to 115 degrees," said Lawson.

"A MIRACLE"

"It's a real miracle she's alive.

Dr. Lawson and four other doctors found Mrs. de Portola Saturday in the village of Tesapaco, Sonora.

The doctors are members of Liga International, a volunteer group of doctor-pilots.

Fearing her first airplane ride and reluctant to leave her 2-year-old child, Mrs. de Portola postponed her departure a day until her husband, Humberto, 25, convinced her it was for the best, Lawson said.

The woman was burned on the Mexican Cinco de Mayo holiday when she tried to light her primitive stove for her family's holiday meal.

ROLLS ON FLOOR

Alone when her clothes caught fire, she rolled on the hut's dirt floor to extinguish the flames. Her husband found her unconscious.

"She was propped on the bed, and she apparently moved very little until we found her," said Lawson. "Any movement of her body brought excruciating pain. Only a very brave woman with a strong will to live could have survived it."

Center's Gifts Pass $9,000

Gifts to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center rose past the $9,000 mark Tuesday with two large donations. The total now is $9,235.62 in the drive to equip the center's new building at Third and Lancaster. Needed is $20,000 in therapeutic equipment.

Tuesday's donors include the exercise staircase, valued at $280—the Big Spring Christian Day School gave $180 of the amount, and Mr. and Mrs. Omer A. Williams donated the remainder; and the Jones Motor Co., $50.

Center officials ask that individuals, frims and groups wishing to help the center consider giving actual rehabilitative devices rather than money, although gifts in any amount are welcomed. A brochure available at the center's present offices at 402 Edwards lists the needed equipment, and prices it. Those interested may call AM 3-2880 for additional information.

Donors of permanent equipment will have their names inscribed on plaques which will be attached to the gift device

Four Guilty Pleas Heard

Four pleas of guilty were heard in Howard County Court Tuesday morning for the only activity on the opening day of a docket which is scheduled to run for about three weeks.

No cases set for trial today were ready and Judge Lee Porter excused the jury panel with instructions to return to court Wednesday.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said that pleas were accepted from Carmen Viasana, charged with aggravated assault, from George S. Jackson, DWI; Frank James Lane, DWI; and Joyce Rojo, DWI.

Viasana, whose case had been docketed for trial Wednesday, was fined $50 and costs.

Jackson drew a fine of $50 and three days; Lane, $50 and three days; and Rojo, $100 and five days. These defendants were all slated for trial today.

FORT WORTH (AP) — Lee McCoy, a faculty member at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary since 1955, died Sunday. He was 50.

Sympathy Pours In For Officer Who Shot Man

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Telegrams from throughout the nation are pouring into police headquarters in sympathy with a police lieutenant who officers say shot a man he believed to be one of a gang that raped his daughter.

Officers said Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal, 41, fired three shots into Carl E. Norman, 21, Friday in a Los Angeles police station in the belief that Norman raped his daughter, Shirley Dianne, 19.

SERIOUS SHAPE

Norman was booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana but subsequently was exonorated of any involvement with the rape. He is reported in serious condition at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Lt. O'Neal has been suspended from the force and faces arraignment Thursday on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

A police spokesman said "scores of sympathetic telegrams" arrive daily, "offering help and even money" for O'Neal.

Among those volunteering aid was Louis F. Melson, a member of Mayor Samuel W. Yorty's advisory council.

FREE ON BAIL

O'Neal is free on $3,300 bail. His $1,000 monthly salary was halted when he was suspended and friends say he faces major medical bills for himself and his daughter.

Sixteen men have been arrested in connection with the attack.

Chief of Detectives Thad Brown said the victim identified two suspects "but collapsed after making these identifications."

The girl is now under doctors' care, Brown said.

Weather Foreacst

Showers, thundershowers are forecast for Tuesday night in western Lakes area, upper and central Mississippi Valley, northeastern Plains, Texas Panhandle and western Kansas. Drizzle expected along northern Pacific Coast. Cooler weather expected for northeastern quadrant of U.S.; warmer in upper Mississippi Valley and northern Plains. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Demonstrator Bid Cancels Board Meet

LA MARQUE, Tex. (AP) — Demonstrators protesting the rate of school desegregation in this Galveston County community caused the cancellation of a school board meeting Monday night.

About 170 marched two miles to the school administration building and more than 100 crowded into the 35-seat meeting room.

Board president Bill Fetter asked that those who could not find seats leave. None left. Fetter adjourned the meeting.

The demonstration was led by Dr. George Drake, only Negro ever elected to the school board, and C. C. Robinson of Hitchcock, president of the county's mainland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

It also protested attendance zone boundaries and a personnel dispute at Lincoln High School.

Safe Forced At Shasta

Knob-knockers struck in Big Spring Monday night for the first time in several months. They got away with $508.14 in cash from the safe at Shasta Ford Sales, and left checks and other items scattered over the floor.

Entry was gained to the building by knocking out the glass on the upper part of the west service door to the shop, according to Police Patrolman John Scott. A hammer, putty knife, four screwdrivers, a brake tool and two punches were taken from the shop work table and used on the safe.

H. B. Stanaland, service manager, reported the break-in and robbery when the shop was opened this morning. The safe was in one of the inner offices.

"That was a professional job," Chief Jay Banks said this morning. "There was comparatively little 'mess' to it, and no fingerprints were left."

The police report said the knob of the safe was forced off by using a screwdriver, and then the pin was punched out.

Churchill Home To Be Auctioned

LONDON (AP) — The London home of Sir Winston Churchill, will be sold at auction, probably in October.

Knight, Frank and Rutley, real estate agents, announced today they had been instructed by Churchill's executors to sell No. 28 Hyde Park Gate, where Sir Winston died in January.

Lady Churchill, now Baroness Spencer-Churchill, will move to an apartment at Kensington.

New Tractor Was Overheated

The new city garbage-dump "traxcavator," which was hauled to the city warehouse Friday, is out of action due to an overheating problem, according to Larry Crow, city manager.

The $30,000 Caterpillar-made machine was designed, Crow said, for operation in hot climates, but has been overheating in operation. "We called the company representative Saturday," Crow said, "but no one has arrived here yet, and we don't know what's wrong with it."

New Protests In Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Incidents in Santo Domingo Monday set off new rebel protests against the Dominican junta and the United States.

A Dominican navy frigate followed the U.S. Navy oil tanker Pioneer Valley into Santo Domingo harbor, leveled its guns at rebel command posts for an hour and did not leave until the U.S. destroyer Davis escorted it back to its berth.

REBEL CHARGE

Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the rebel chief, charged that the junta brought in the frigate to provoke a shooting incident that could justify an attack on the insurgent stronghold.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, head of the mediating team of the Organization of American States, said the OAS had clearance from both sides to bring in the tanker carrying fuel for a power plant that supplies a large section of the country.

SHOW CONTROL

"We weren't able to get into communication about the frigate in time," he said. Informed sources said the junta sent the frigate in to demonstrate that it controls the port.

Monday night three explosions rocket the rebel zone. The insurgents charged that junta troops had fired mortar shells which landed near a church and injured two priests. A junta spokesman denied the charge.

Youth Hurt In Tire Blow-Up

A seven-year-old boy, Robert C. Abbott, was taken to Webb Air Force Base Hospital at 4:50 p.m. Monday for treatment of injuries received when an auto tire blew up while he and a brother were working on it. The accident occurred at 1111 W. 4th, and the boy was taken to the hospital in a River-Welch ambulance.

The boy's brother said the force of the tire blew young Robert off the ground, and that he landed on his back on the concrete. His condition was not learned this morning, although he was taken to X-ray after he arrived at the hospital. Robert's home address was listed as 1300 W. 2nd.

Other accidents investigated by Big Spring police in the past 24 hours, with location, and drivers of vehicles involved, were: Seventh and Wyoming, James Butler, Webb AFB, and Roosevelt Rutledge, 803 Ohio; North service road on IS 20 east of Lamesa Drive, Alvin F. Lemmon, Odessa, and Roland L. Fields, 1103 Lamar.

George Nixon Found Dead

George Nixon, 69, of 626 NW 4th, was found dead at his home around midnight Sunday. Justice of the Peace Walter Grice returned a verdict of death by natural causes.

Mr. Nixon was born Sept. 25, 1895, in Greenville. He was a laborer.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Big Spring City Cemetery with the Rev. Melvin Montgomery officiating. Arrangements are under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors are the widow, Sarah of the home; a brother, Andrew Nixon, Greenville; two sisters, Minnie Lee, Granville, Addie Porter, Texarkana; a grandson, Tommy Lee Mitchell.

Edgar Park Rites Pend

Edgar Park, 68, 110 Nolan, died Tuesday morning at his home from an apparent heart attack. Justice of the Peace Walter Grice ruled that death resulted from a coronary occlusion.

Mr. Park was born Aug. 18, 1896 in Mississippi. He moved to Big Spring from Gorman in 1944 and was an employe of the City of Big Spring, in the parks department, until his retirement about three years ago.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include three brothers, Henry Park, Forsan, Herman Park, Baird, Woodrow Park, Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. L. C. Beaty, Lorenzo, and Mrs. R. L. Capps, Mentone.

Stamp Sales Up On Liquor, Cigs

AUSTIN (AP)—The state collected $10,879,470 in stamp sales of cigarettes, liquor and wine in June, State Treasurer Jesse James said today. This was a $1,578,350 increase over the same month in 1964 — with $1,484,814 of the increase from cigarette stamp sales. The state added a 3-cent tax on cigarettes July 1.

King Hassan Has Minor Operation

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—King Hassan II of Morocco underwent a minor operation in Rabat Monday for what was described as a benign inflammatory lesion.

Schools Sign Up 203 Students

Operation "Head Start" in Big Spring schools got off to a good start with 195 youngsters present this morning, Dr. C. L. Ainsworth said. Eight, who enrolled Monday, were absent, making a total enrollment for the two days of 203.

A breakdown, by schools, in the five sections, showed: Airport 29, Bauer 76, Boydstun 26, Cedar Crest 28, and Lakeview 36, for the total attendance today of 195.

Based on an early survey, a total of 212 had been anticipated for enrollment.

"We may have more than the 212 before enrollment ends," Ainsworth said. "The holidays could have caused some slump, and then a vacation Bible school had been scheduled on the north side to take a part of those who intend to enroll."

Easy Steal

Jimmie Hall (7), Minnesota Twins, slides safely into third base with an easy steal in third inning as Boston's Dalton Jones reaches out to nab throw from catcher Bob Tillman in American League game in Twin Cities Monday. Hall doubled to get on and went to third as Harmon Killebrew struck out. It was first game of a day-night doubleheader won by Twins, 6-2. Umpire is Ed Hurley. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Perry Regains Touch With Minnesota Club

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

In one crack, Minnesota's Jim Perry has started as many games as he did all of last year, completed as many games as he had in two years and gained as many shutouts as he had in nearly three years.

Perry also pitched the Twins into a 1½-game lead in the American League, stopping Boston 2-0 on seven hits and helping Minnesota complete a sweep of a Monday doubleheader. The Twins won the opener 6-2.

The start for the 28-year-old right-hander was his first since June 4, 1964, when the New York Yankees battered him for six runs in one inning.

He hadn't completed a game since Aug. 9, 1963, when he defeated the Red Sox 5-3, and his last shutout was June 4, 1963, a 5-0 triumph over Kansas City.

All of this only about two weeks after Minnesota Manager Sam Mele said:

"I have no intention of starting him."

Mele changed his mind, though, in an effort to strengthen a sagging staff of starters. He snatched Perry from the bullpen where he had been toiling as the Twins' middle relief man.

BIG DIFFERENCE

Perry hadn't done much toiling at all, except in the bullpen, until last month. By the end of May, he had pitched only 10 innings, far different from more plentiful times, such as 1960 when he led the league with 18 victories while with Cleveland.

Despite his relative inactivity, Perry picked up four victories in a 17-day period at the end of May and the beginning of June and now is 5-0 with a 2.57 earned run average.

His record also reads: one start, one complete game, one shutout.

In other AL games, Chicago trimmed Cleveland 3-1, Detroit nipped New York 5-4 after losing 7-2, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 7-4 and Los Angeles downed Washington 5-2 before bowing 4-3.

In the National League, Cincinnati replaced Los Angeles in first place by beating the Dodgers 7-4, St. Louis edged San Francisco 3-2 in 12 innings, Philadelphia swept Pittsburgh 3-1 and 6-2, Houston got by Milwaukee 5-4 and New York took Chicago 3-2 and 3-0.

Cleveland started out the day tied with Minnesota for the lead, but pitcher Sam McDowell uncorked a wild throw on Ron Hansen's sacrifice bunt in the seventh inning and Chicago went on to score two runs. Bill Skowron scored on the error, and Floyd Robinson singled in Hansen.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

TOM TIEDE, Chicago scribe:

"In an era of the automated ballplayer, Dick Stuart is an engaging individual to whom the sacred cows of baseball are more cowed than sacred . . . 'I get a kick out of playing,' Stuart says, 'Why shouldn't it be fun as well as profitable? It's a thrill to play. It's a thrill just to be alive' . . . After 11 teams, eight leagues and a couple hundred big-time home runs, Stuart still has the uneasy job security of a refrigerator salesman in the Arctic . . . One writer claimed he was clumsy enough to trip over a foul line."

* * *

GENE WARD, New York columnist:

"Results of the Buffalo All-Star (football) game only strengthened the conviction that Alabama Joe Namath is going to have one devil of a time beating out Notre Dame's Johnny Huarte for the Jet quarterbacking job. So what's wrong with a $200,000 aerialist getting the call over a $400,000 rival. Notre Dame is a bigger name than Alabama in our town."

JOE LOUIS

* * * *

ELSTON HOWARD, New York Yankee catcher:

"We'll show the rest of this league something. Those guys are looking back over their shoulders at us, and you better believe it. Sure, we can win the pennant. A lot of us think we can do it. All we have got to do is get up to the .500 mark and when you're at .500 you can operate. You're a decent club then. A ball club wins pennants by being aggressive. You got to go get 'em and we haven't been able to do that with guys being hurt and things like that. We're ready to roll and don't think those five clubs on top don't know it. The first five are bunched. Now all we got to do is land right in the middle of that bunch and keep swinging"

DR. EDUARDO HAY, member of Mexico's Olympic executive committee:

"The whole world thinks of Mexico as a 'manana' nation. But its 1200 days until the 1968 Olympics and we are preparing now. It is no longer 'manana'; it is today. I can tell you that the first day of the Olympics will be Saturday, Oct 12, 1968. That is Columbus Day, which is a coincidence—it just happens to be the second Saturday in October—but it is a nice coincidence. Our preparations are coming along nicely, especially in view of the fact that this is the first time the Olympics have been held in a Latin American country or in a Spanish speaking country. We already have most of the facilities needed. That is one of the reasons we were picked. We will build a Sports Palace—something like Madison Square Garden, an indoor arena that can be used for basketball, boxing, conventions—but we need that for the city. We have more than six million inhabitants now and it will be nearly seven million by the time of the Olympics. We have an Olympic stadium now, but we may have to expand that or even build another one. The Olympic Village will be no problem. The government is building several housing developments in Mexico City and we will just borrow one of them and return it after two weeks. We are trying to put the Mexican stamp on the Games—the stamp of Mexican hospitality—to make them different from other Olympics."

JOE LOUIS, former Heavyweight boxing champion:

"In the 'old days' Cassius Clay would have just been another boxer. He is lucky there are no good fighters around today. I'd rate him with Johnny Paycheck, Abe Simon, Buddy Baer. A lot of guys would have beaten him then. There hasn't been a good one around since Rocky Marciano. . . . The game needs a Federal boxing czar. The public would have more interest in the game if there were a boxing commissioner from Washington. It would give them more confidence."

Wounded Can Give Trouble At Southport

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The word went out today among the ranks of the world's greatest golfers:

"Watch out for the walking wounded. They'll beat you."

A half dozen of the top stars in the field of 130 that has gathered for the British Open are complaining of health problems of one sort or another.

Arnold Palmer, who won the Open on Royal Birkdale's 7,037-yard par 73 course four years ago, wore a turtle neck sweater against chill winds which might further damage a sore throat he has been bothered with for several days.

Bruce Devlin of Australia had such a bad throat he even had it X-rayed in case there was some foreign body lodged there. It wasn't.

Kel Nagle, fellow Australian who was runner-up in the U.S. Open this year and won the British Crown at St. Andrews in 1960, had a sore back.

So did Bob Charles of New Zealand, the 1963 champion.

The Birkdale Club lined up a local physiotherapist to tend them.

Defending champion Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., breezed in Monday, back to his playing weight of 175 after he started smoking again to reduce from 195.

But Lema recalled a stomach upset he had last year in England and said "I hope that doesn't show up again."

Gary Player, the little South African who won the American Open three-weeks ago, said he was pleased that the winds were blowing in off the Irish Sea.

"My hay fever, you know," he said.

Everybody in the star studded field seemed able and willing to have something wrong with them, except Jack Nicklaus, who is the 3-1 favorite to win his first British Open, the only major championship that has eluded the Golden Bear.

"I'm fine," he said with a big smile. "And I'm desperate to win this one."

In his tuneups for the 72 hole medal play which starts Wednesday and ends Friday, Nicklaus had a special look at the 468 yard par-4 sixth hole.

"It's the worst hole," he said. "It's all right for power hitters like myself, Palmer and some others and I can play it. But it must be powered."

Red Sox Trim Rebels, 7-2

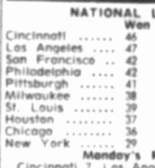

Gary Chrane went six of seven innings, giving up two hits, as the Red Sox kayoed the Rebels, 7-2, in a Saturday night Sophomore League baseball game.

Chrane allowed one run before Jim Farris relieved him in the seventh inning. Farris allowed one hit and one run. Chrane got two extra-base hits, a triple and a double, scored two runs himself, and got credit for two RBIs in the fifth inning.

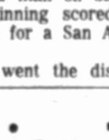

Dwain Sanders pitched the entire game for the Rebels, allowing eight hits and fanning five Sox. Chrane struck out eight Rebs.

ON FOUR DIAMONDS HERE

Little League Playoffs Get Under Way At 7:30

First round of the Little League City playoffs will get under way on four diamonds here this evening.

The title will not be determined until Saturday evening.

It has also been announced that the District 3 Little League tournament is being returned to Big Spring and will be unreeled starting July 24.

Teams of four cities—Big Spring, Andrews, Goldsmith and Midland—are eligible to send teams here but Midland never plays beyond the city championships.

In the City title games this week, the No. one team in each of the four leagues was given a first round bye. For that reason, the title winners will not see action until Thursday evening, since no action is scheduled for Wednesday night.

Defending champions in the playoffs are the Braves of the National League.

Here's the schedule:

American No. 2 vs. National No. 3, in American league park, 7:30 p.m.; National No. 2 vs. American No. 3, National league park, 7:30 p.m.; Texas No. 2 vs. International No. 3, International league park, 7:30 p.m.; International No. 2 vs. Texas No. 3, Texas league park, 7:30 p.m.

The American league's No. 1 team plays the winner of the American No. 2-National No. 3 game in the American league park at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The National league titlist opposes the survivor of the National No. 2-American No. 3 contest in the National league diggings at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

In other games at that hour Thursday, the International kingpin squares off with the winner of the International No. 3-Texas No. 2 game in the International park while the Texas champion opposes the survivor in the International No. 2-Texas No. 3 battle in the Texas league stadium.

Winner of the tournament will earn the Poncho Nall award, named for the late Big Springer who started the practice of giving the cup years ago.

In the District 3 playoffs, one first round game will pit the Big Spring International All-Stars against the Big Spring Nationals. Big Spring American and the Andrews Americans have drawn first round byes. That much of the program has been worked out.

A complete schedule will be announced shortly.

Cincinnati Reds Claim Top Spot In National

Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati squeezed ahead of Los Angeles into the National League lead.

But if the New York Mets played only on Monday, the Reds and Dodgers wouldn't even be in the race.

Cashing in on a succession of wild throws, the Reds scored three times in the seventh inning Monday night and beat the slipping Dodgers 7-4. That put Cincinnati into first place by two percentage points, dropping Los Angeles out of the top spot for the first time since May 4.

Meanwhile, led by the slugging of Shea Stadium's reigning idol — Ron Swoboda — the last-place Mets continued to work their Monday magic. Swoboda knocked across the first five runs of the holiday doubleheader with a pair of homers as the Mets swept Chicago, 3-2 and 3-0.

Since losing to the Dodgers on opening day, the well-entrenched tailenders have won eight and tied one on Monday. Included in the unusual string is the 1-0 triumph at Cincinnati on June 14 — the night Jim Maloney pitched a no-hitter for 10 innings — as well as three doubleheader sweeps.

And to prove they're not one-season wonders, the Mets won six of seven on Monday last year.

Also in the NL — the Philadelphia Phillies made it eight victories in their last 10 games by knocking off Pittsburgh twice in a twi-night doubleheader, 3-1 and 6-2; Curt Flood's single in the 12th inning enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to win their sixth straight, 3-2 over San Francisco; and Walt Bond's squeeze bunt in the ninth brought in the run that gave Houston a 5-4 decision over Milwaukee's slumping Braves.

The Reds got only one hit in their seventh - inning rally against the Dodgers — Leo Cardenas' leadoff single. But losing reliever Bob Miller threw wildly to second on winning pitcher Jim Maloney's bunt, followed with another wild throw — to third — on Tommy Harper's bunt, and center fielder Willie Davis then threw wildly to third after catching Pete Rose's sacrifice fly. Result: Three runs.

Sacred Heart Club Gets Split In Sunday's Bill

The Sacred Heart Cardinals split a two-game home stand Sunday, beating Andrews, 9-4, and losing a close, 1-2, decision to San Angelo.

Andrews started off in fine fashion, taking a 4-1 lead after one inning, but Joe Cadenhead began to stiffen his pitching, and after the first inning allowed no more Andrews scores.

Although out-hit, 8 to 7, the Cards placed their hits where they would do the most good — one after the other, and their extra-base hits came with men on base.

Pfebles took the loss for Andrews.

San Angelo pitcher McDermitt held the Cardinals to five scattered hits and one run in the second game, as a triple and single with a man on base in the second inning scored two runs, enough for a San Angelo win.

T. Fierro went the distance for the Cards, giving up six hits and fanning four batters. McDermitt struck out three.

The Card's only run came in the seventh when left fielder Marquez, on first via a single, was driven home by pitcher Fierro's triple.

Legion To Play Lubbock At 8

Big Spring American League baseball team gets a final chance to land a spot in the District 19 playoffs in an 8 o'clock game with Lubbock Auto in the Hi-Junior Teen-Age park here this evening.

Lubbock Auto has already clinched first place in the standings and edged out Big Spring in a previous game, 3-2. The locals, who are coached by Chubby Moser, have also lost decisions to Brownfield and Slaton.

A recent protest made by Moser in the game with Slaton, relating to a claim that the batter's box was not marked according to specifications, was turned down by the District 19 commissioner, J. B. Huckabee.

Big Spring was nosed out by one run in the game and apparently had tied the game on a squeeze play, only to have the batter called out when the umpire ruled that he was out of the batter's box when he hit the ball.

Under American Legion rules, two teams in each half of the District 19 setup become eligible to take part in the playoffs toward the national championship.

Brownfield will probably win the other spot in the South half, should Big Spring lose to Lubbock tonight.

Lubbock Auto recently won the South half crown by bowling over Brownfield, 7-3. The win was the seventh in a row for Lubbock.

No admission will be charged at the gate tonight. A collection will be taken during the contest, however, to help defray expenses.

Crosby Sheriff Remains Critical

CROSBYTON, Tex. (AP) — Crosby County Sheriff Fletcher Stark Sr., 56, remained in critical condition today from wounds suffered in a Sunday night shooting.

Juan Rodriguez, 17, charged with assault to murder, was captured in a Floyd County hideaway late Monday after his uncle led officers to the place in the Bar Wise community.

LUBBOCK JAIL

Rodriguez, who was shot and suffered a scalp wound when the critically wounded Stark returned the fire, had made no statement to officers. He was taken to the Lubbock County jail.

BEGAN SHOOTING

Why Stark wanted to question the youth had not been determined.

A. F. Stark Jr., 14, the sheriff's son, said Rodriguez started to run when the sheriff sought to question him but suddenly wheeled around and began shooting.

Stark was able to tell fellow officers the identity of his assailant.

Work Bids Are Asked

Bids were called today for the air conditioning of Family Housing, Building 2001, at Webb Air Force Base, according to the base procurement office.

Bids will be received until 2:30 p.m. July 23, in the procurement office. A set of plans and specifications are available upon request.

The work is described as furnishing all plant, labor, materials and equipment and performing all work in accordance with the specifications, schedules and drawings. Principal features include: (1) Removal of down-flow furnace and evaporative coolers, (2) installation of upflow furnace with central air conditioning evaporator coils, (3) installation of air-cooled condensing unit, (4) installation of overhead ductwork, furred in, (5) interior electrical work.

The contractor will be required to begin work within 10 days after date of receipt of notice to proceed and complete all work within 30 days.

Hail-Hit Plane In Safe Landing

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Hail shattered the outer half of a double windshield in an American Airlines 707 jet from New York but it landed here without difficulty Monday.

Employes said the hail stones also knocked a hole in the big airliner's radar dome and battered the leading edges of the wings. One estimated the damage at $25,000.

Crew members said they encountered the heavy thunderstorm about 60 miles east of Texarkana.

Atom Smasher Being Sought

ARLINGTON (AP) — Dallas and Fort Worth area leaders met here today to discuss efforts to locate the $280 million atom smasher in this vicinity.

Mayors, Chamber of Commerce presidents and managers, county judges and university and college presidents from Dallas, Tarrant, Hood, Denton, Johnson, Ellis, Parker, Collin, Wise, Rockwall and Kaufman counties were invited to the meeting.

Dallas and Fort Worth's joint bid for the Atomic Energy Commission project is one of more than 100 under review now by the National Academy of Science, which will recommend the site.

The installation will be the world's largest atom smasher and will require six to eight years to construct.

Searchers Find Drowning Victim

TERRELL (AP) — Searchers found today the body of Roger Blackwood, 15, who drowned in Lake Tawakoni Monday while water skiing. He was from near Seagoville.

GO GO GOODYEAR

GOODYEAR NATION-WIDE "NO LIMIT" GUARANTEE — No limit on months. No limit on miles. No limit as to roads. No limit as to speed. For the entire life of the tread. ALL NEW GOODYEAR AUTO TIRES ARE GUARANTEED against defects in workmanship and materials and normal road hazards, except repairable punctures.
IF A GOODYEAR TIRE FAILS UNDER THIS GUARANTEE any of more than 80,000 Goodyear dealers in the United States and Canada will make allowance on a new tire based on original tread depth remaining and Goodyear's printed "Exchange Price" current at the time of adjustment, not on the higher "No Trade-In Price."

NEW MEXICO RANCH
UNUSUAL TERMS

32,800 Acres, 20,350 deeded and 12,450 cheap lease. 20 miles from Santa Rosa. Well fenced and watered, some 80% rolling to smooth, about 20% in the hills, good turf all over. Small amount of minerals. Price $30.00 acre, 29% down, balance only 3% on principal for 20 years plus 5% interest. You would have a hard time finding as good a ranch at the price, and when you consider the large amount of lease and the terms, it certainly is an unusual buy.

Holiday Riots Stir Campaign

By The Associated Press

Officials called today for tougher penalties and firmness in the wake of rioting and disturbances by beer-drinking, carousing youths in five resort towns over the Fourth of July weekend.

Mayor Wilson W. Finley of Geneva - on - the - Lake, Ohio, where nearly 300 young people were arrested, said he plans to draft new ordinances with higher penalties for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

"What we need," said Finley, "is more and more enforcement. And we need higher fines. We are going to revamp ordinances to cover situations like this. We don't want trouble every holiday. We might just have to put a game on the town."

100 ARRESTS

The rioting at Geneva-on-the-Lake, on Lake Erie, and at Russells Point, Ohio, on Indian Lake in western Ohio, where some 100 persons were arrested, prompted Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, to issue the following statement:

"Only encouragement will be given future riots unless the prosecutors, the sheriffs and other law enforcement officials are given support by the judges. I do hope that the pleas advanced by lawyers and social workers that youth must be dealt with gently under the circumstances prevailing at these two resorts will not be given attention."

MOSTLY TEENAGERS

The rioters were mainly teenagers and college students.

Mayor Ben Saunders of Arnolds Park, Iowa, who handled close to 100 cases in mayor's court as a result of the weekend disturbances, said, "We'll be taking some precautionary measures."

Other trouble spots were Rockaway Beach, Mo., and Lake George, N.Y.

Great Lakes Area Chilled

By The Associated Press

A mid - summer cold wave spread plummeted temperatures throughout the Great Lakes area early today, with some readings reported in the 30s and 40s.

The Weather Bureau said the cold weather, the result of a Canadian high pressure area, would spread throughout the Northeast later today.

Thundershowers continued to drench the north Atlantic coast.

Rains Monday ended a long drought in the Northeast, but also triggered a series of small floods in the Utica, N.Y., area, where six inches of rain accompanied a severe storm.

Hundreds of homes and highways were inundated.

Heavy rains also pounded the mid - Atlantic and Southeast states.

A line of thunderstorms stretched from southwest Minnesota to the Texas Panhandle and heavy rain, wind and some hail were reported in many locales. The crew of an American Airline 707 jet said the plane's windshield was knocked out and its radar dome damaged in a heavy storm east of Texarkana late Monday night.

No Letup In Sight For Heat Wave Over Texas

By The Associated Press

Brow mopping heat has put Texas' comparatively cool early summer to rout and there's no sign of any letup.

It was warm throughout the state again today and skies were generally fair except for occasional clouds in South Texas.

The mercury reached afternoon highs Monday of 104 degrees at Presidio, 103 at Brownwood and 100 at Mineral Wells and San Angelo.

Showers fell around Paris in North Texas late Monday. There were thunderstorms earlier in the day in parts of the Red River Valley and along the upper Texas coast, where a tornado brushed the east side of Port Arthur to cause minor damage.

The Weather Bureau predicted thunderstorms by this evening and into Wednesday over about a third of the Texas Panhandle and a few showers across the south half of the state.

Prof Collapses While Driving

WORCESTER, England (AP) — American pathologist Prof. William McKee Germain of Lantana, Fla., collapsed and died at the wheel of his auto while on a tour of Britain. He was 73.

His wife, Helen, grabbed the wheel and brought the car to a stop. A passing driver drove the couple to Pershore Cottage Hospital, where Germain was reported dead on arrival.

Miss Dixie Title Won By Blonde

She was selected at the beauty pageant Sunday night.

Appalachian Road Project To Start

ISOM, Ky. (AP) — Ground breaking ceremonies today will start construction on the first section of a planned 400-mile Appalachian highway network in eastern Kentucky.

Medical Care Debate Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate opens debate today on the historic bill which would establish broad health programs for 19 million Americans 65 or older and increase all present Social Security benefits.

The plan would cost an estimated 6.8 billion a year. It would be financed primarily by an increase in Social Security taxes, both to the employer and employe.

PUSH MEASURE

Sponsors said they would push for passage by the end of this week, and forecast as many as 80 favorable votes out of the 100-man Senate.

Last year, the Senate narrowly adopted, 49-44, an amendment to a House-passed bill adding health care for the aged to Social Security. The measure died in conference between the two branches.

This year, however, the House passed a health care-Social Security bill. The margin in the April 8 vote was a solid 313-115.

MADE CHANGES

The Senate Finance Committee made numerous changes in the House bill but preserved all of its essential provisions. Its vote was 12-5 with Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., among the dissenters.

The provisions include a 7 per cent increase in Social Security retirement, survivor and disability benefits, retroactive to last Jan. 1, and these two new health programs:

—A basic plan financed under Social Security covering hospitalization, posthospital nursing home care, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and posthospital home health visits.

—A voluntary, supplemental plan covering doctors' fees and some additional health services.
