Red Charges Of Germ Warfare Are 'Menace'

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (U)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told Congress today Communist germ and gas warfare charges against the United Nations in Korea are "a monumental warning... as menacing and urgent as a forest fire bearing down on a wooden village."

Ridgway branded the charges "false in their entirety." The former commander of United Nations Far Eastern forces was not more explicit in his warning. But he appeared to be thinking along the lines of a recent statement by Secretary of Defense Lovett that Communists "were... others with crimes they mean to commit."

Ridgway is here en route to take over the Allied command in Europe being relinquished by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He gave Congress a dramatic account of how the Eighth Army in Korea, only three days under his command, repulsed an attempt by the Chinese and North Koreans to knock it out after a long retreat, and rose again on the offensive in less than a month.

He spoke at length of the armistice negotiations, which he called "no failure" despite the lack of a cease-fire, and of relations with Japan.

Ridgway said he approaches his new job in Europe with high confidence. The sinewy paratrooper followed his predecessor in Tokyo, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, to the House rostrum by 13 months and three days.

He made no mention in his prepared text of MacArthur or of his own successor in the Orient, Gen. Mark Clark. He likewise said nothing about the controversy surrounding the capture and subsequent release of Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Communist prisoners of war at the camp Dodd commanded. But he gave high praise to Gen. James Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea.

He reserved the gravest language of his speech for his warning about Communist germ and gas warfare propaganda charges. He said:

"I wish to reiterate what I have repeatedly stated publicly, that these allegations are false in their entirety; that no element of the United Nations Command has employed either germ or gas warfare in any form at any time.

"In the whole black record of false propaganda, these charges should stand out as a monumental warning to the American people and the free world—a warning as menacing and as urgent as a forest fire bearing down upon a wooden village."

"The extent to which Communist leaders have gone in fabricating, disseminating and persistently impressing upon the brains of those who yet fail or refuse to see the purpose of communism, the deadly danger with which it confronts us and the free world."

He made these other salient points:

1. The Communists have in their hands a "logical, reasonable and honorable proposal" for ending the fight in Korea. There will be no bargaining on remaining issues.

2. The United Nations army in Korea stands "proud, defiant and confident" along the 38th Parallel, with a "record of fidelity, valor and co-operation unsurpassed in all military history."

3. The Japanese are friendly to the United States, they want to build a democracy, but need, above all, to be able to buy and sell on the world markets sufficiently to maintain a healthy economy.

4. America must look for strength to faith in principle and trust in God.

The House broke off debate on the $5,899,100,000 foreign aid bill to hear Ridgway's report, with the senators present. The address was televised by the National Broadcasting Company.

Ridgway's only reference to his new post as supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization armies in Europe came at the end of his speech. He said:

"I have been greatly privileged to have had the responsibilities which I recently relinquished. I shortly assume new ones. With full reliance upon this same reservoir (of faith in principle and trust in God), and on the co-operation of all those engaged in our great crusade for peace and security, I approach our tasks with confidence higher than ever."

also controls Japan and Japan is the last stand of the free world in Asia.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's remarks in Washington that Russia is carrying on a big and "significant" military buildup put on the record what staff officers at the end headquarters here have been observing for more than a year.

The threat is closer now because Korean roads are just about thawed.

The North Korean Reds, Russian trained and Russian equipped, started the Korean War on June 25, 1950. Summer is the best period for movement of supplies and tanks.

Although the danger period is approaching, the general belief here, however, is that Russia probably is ready to enter the Korean War only in case the Chinese Communists need help.

"Face" is an important thing in Asia. If the United Nations were to launch an all-out attack, threatening the Communists with defeat, Russia possibly would step in to save China's reputation among her neighbors.

While Russia is building up her own forces in the Far East, she is also supplying the Chinese and North Korean Communists with new equipment and supplies.

The Red war potential in Korea is greater than ever, say U.N. officers.

There has been a marked increase in tanks, artillery pieces, aircraft, and enemy quartermaster supplies, according to field reports.

Rocket launcher units which the Russians had in World War II are being used against the Allies. So far, their use has been ineffective.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army commander, estimates the Communist strength in Korea at 750,000 men with a substantial reserve force in Manchuria.

Harry Declares He Can Seize Any Industry

Such Powers Are Called 'Inherent' By The President

WASHINGTON, May 22 (U)—President Truman said today he has the power to seize private industries in an emergency and nobody can take it away from him.

However, Truman added at a news conference that he will abide by the decision of the Supreme Court in the matter of his seizure of the steel industry.

Reporters questioned him at length in an effort to clear up what some of them called the apparent conflict between these two statements.

The President said he saw no conflict. He had this to say of his seizure power:

Nobody can take it away from the President because it is part of his inherent powers.

In the case of the steel industry, which Truman seized under his claimed inherent powers, a U. S. district judge has ruled that he acted without authority under the law or the Constitution.

The issue is now before the Supreme Court.

The seizure question arose after Truman said he was very happy that the three-year old railroad dispute was finally settled. He added it could have been settled on the present terms in 1950.

The railroads have been under government seizure since 1950. Unlike the case of the steel industry, this seizure was made under an explicit law enacted in 1916 and applying to the railroads and other communications industries.

In his discussion today of the seizure issue Truman said people sometimes can't understand it is better to abide by the law than not. He said he hopes both management and labor now will abide by the Railway Labor Act so that no further seizure of the railroads will be necessary.

Truman said he will turn the railroads back to the management as soon as he can get the papers signed.

The President said he has been trying ever since he entered the White House to get a law that would insure real negotiation between union and management in basic industries such as rails and steel.

At present, he said, government seizure seems to be the only method of keeping the economy going when strikes in such industries seem inevitable.

A reporter asked whether Truman thinks the President can seize industries on his own initiative or should go to Congress for authorization before issuing a seizure order.

The President, Truman replied, has the power and they can't take it away from him.

Asked who he meant by they, Truman said nobody could take it away.

He advised reporters to study history if they doubted that, saying Washington, Lincoln, Hayes, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson—as well as himself—have taken whatever steps were necessary in an emergency.

MAKING THINGS HOT FOR FLIES

The telephone at Central Fire Station rang at 8:37 this morning and a woman excitedly told the fireman who answered: "You'd better get up here in the 1500 block Donkey quick! There's a terrible fire!"

"What's burning?" the fireman asked in an effort to determine what equipment should be dispatched.

"I don't know," the woman answered, "but there's a lot of smoke."

Bells rang and sirens screamed and two of the department's biggest pieces of equipment, loaded with manpower rolled forth.

And they quickly found the "smoke" mounting skyward in tremendous clouds. The "smoke" was the vapor from the city's DDT spraying equipment which is giving the city a good going-over in an effort to destroy breeding places of flies before the pesky insects get a head start this year.

Railroads, Labor Sign 'Binding' Agreements

Courthouse Bids Due On June 27

Howard County Commissioners have confirmed June 17 as the date for opening sealed proposals for construction of a new Courthouse.

Bids will be received by the commissioners court until 2 p.m. on the announced date.

Separate proposals are being asked for general construction, electrical work, plumbing, elevators, jail equipment and air conditioning.

Plans for the new structure, which were forwarded to Fort Worth for printing earlier in the week, are expected to be ready for distribution by Friday.

Contractors interested in the project may obtain copies of plans and specifications from the office of Puckett and French, architect and engineer, in the Petroleum Building. Complete sets of plans and specifications also will be available for inspection at the office of the county judge and at planning rooms in various cities throughout the Southwest.

The county hopes to receive bids which will permit contract awards immediately. Funds acquired from the sale of a million-dollar bond issue voted May 12, 1951 are available to finance the project.

Senate Fight Brews Over WSB's Future

WASHINGTON (U)—A Senate fight brewed today over a committee-approved bill to revamp the Wage Stabilization Board.

Despite an AFL boycott threat and CIO criticism of the plan, the Senate Banking Committee formally recommended yesterday that Congress scrap the present board and replace it with an all-public panel.

The new board would be stripped of authority to recommend settlement of union-management disputes—as the existing wage board did in the steel case.

Organized labor, industry and the public are equally represented on the present 18-member board.

Some members of the committee announced plans to ask the Senate either to preserve the present board or modify it less drastically. Supporters said they would fight any effort to change the proposed new formula.

The committee bill approved is scheduled to come up for Senate action soon. The measure keeps intact earlier recommendations by the committee that:

1. Wage-price controls be continued until next March 1.

2. Rent controls and authority to allocate scarce essential materials be extended through June 30, 1953.

The present law on those emergency controls expires this June 30. President Truman asked for a two-year extension.

The House Banking Committee still is holding hearings on its extension legislation.

The Senate committee also voted to revise the controversial Caperhart provision of the existing law in a move to avert retail price increases for food and other commodities.

The Caperhart provision requires the government, in fixing price ceilings, to take into account virtually all cost increases incurred by sellers between the start of the Korean War and last July 26.

The Emergency Court of Appeals ruled last week that the provision applies to retail price ceilings as well as manufacturer's maximum prices. The Office of Price Stabilization said this interpretation would result in higher retail price ceilings for food and other items.

The Senate committee voted to make the Caperhart provision apply only to manufacturers' ceilings. Members said that was what Congress intended in the first place.

The committee's decision to replace the present industry-labor-public WSB with an all-public panel stems from widespread dissatisfaction in Congress over the present unit's handling of the steel dispute.

Before the committee acted yesterday, the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor announced the AFL would boycott the Wage Stabilization program if Congress sets up a new all-public panel.

Hopes Dim For Early Pact In Texas Strikes

HOUSTON, May 22 (U)—Negotiations continued today between union and management of 11 strike-bound Texas refineries with only a few rays of hope for early settlement indicated.

Crown Central Petroleum Corporation on the Houston Ship Channel made a new offer to its employees represented by CIO Oil Workers International Union Local 227 and a meeting of the parties was under way today.

The offer called for a cash settlement of $60 to each employee in lieu of retroactive pay; the 15 cents hourly wage hike and shift differentials of six and 12 cents hourly; improved sick and insurance benefits.

Shell Oil Company and OWIU officials of Local 267 were also meeting today.

At Elbaumont, a committee of workers in the union was to report to the membership tonight on an offer of Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Texas Company at Port Arthur and Port Neches, Gulf at Port Arthur and Pure at Nederland were also meeting with union negotiators. At Pan American Refining Corporation at Texas City no meetings are scheduled. Negotiations broke off early this week when the union demanded a six-month wage reopening clause and the company insisted that the wage feature continue to July 1, 1953. It offered the 15 cents hourly plus six and 12 cent shift differential pay and job adjustments ranging from three to 10 cents hourly.

Spectacular Odessa Fire Is Brought Under Control

ODESSA, May 22 (U)—A wild jugernaut—seven runaway gasoline cars—crashed at high speed into a standing switch engine and exploded into a million dollar fire here last night.

Firemen had quelled the blaze by 1 a.m. (CST) but were still pouring water on the smoking ruins of two large warehouses destroyed by the blaze.

The seven cars, loaded with high octane casinghead gasoline, started rolling 12 miles away at a carbon black plant west of this West Texas oil town.

Two unidentified plant workers said the wild cars passed their pickup truck while the motor vehicle was making 75 miles per hour. The two men had attempted to head off the breakneck downhill plunge of the cars.

Destroyed in the blaze were three of the tank cars and their cargoes, two large warehouses, the switch engine, and half the cargo of a fourth tank car. The other three cars were badly damaged in the crash.

The warehouses, both about 100 feet by 60 feet long, contained petroleum products, paint and general merchandise. Firemen from nearby Midland, joined 50 Odessa firemen and every piece of the town's fire-fighting equipment in battling the roaring flames.

Small explosions in the oil warehouse, apparently from oil drums, hindered the firemen. They used "fog" nozzles to extinguish the flames on the burning gasoline cars. Foamite, a carbon dioxide extinguisher, was used in part of the warehouse fire.

Odessa Fire Chief Charles Meadows estimated the damage at "up to a million dollars." It was the fourth costly oil-fed blaze in Texas in less than a fortnight.

The warehouses were owned by City Transfer & Storage Company and the Jack Raincock Sales Co., firemen said. Operators of the carbon black plant, and Texas & Pacific Railroad officials were unavailable for comment.

Actual return of the roads to their private owners will come as soon as the unions and the railroads sign a contract based on the terms and conditions of employment agreed to last night.

That might take a week or more, even though the job is almost purely mechanical.

The agreement, unlike one signed by the same three union chiefs in December, 1950, is binding on the rank-and-file. The 1950 agreement was repudiated by a vote of the memberships of the three unions.

Actual return of the roads to their private owners will come as soon as the unions and the railroads sign a contract based on the terms and conditions of employment agreed to last night.

That might take a week or more, even though the job is almost purely mechanical.

The agreement, worked out between the carriers and the Brotherhood of Engineers, Firemen and Conductors after intensive mediation efforts by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman, does these things:

1. Raises wages 37 cents an hour for men in the yards and 22½ cents for over-the-road employees.

2. Ties wages to the cost of living. Pay now goes up or down 1 cent each three months for each one point change in the government's cost-of-living index.

3. Lays the foundation for yardmen to switch from a 40-hour week to a 48-hour week and a 4-cent pay hike when the shorter work week takes effect.

4. Gives the unions the right to reject carrier requests to run the same train crew through a divisional terminal point of the two parties can't negotiate their disagreements over these interdivisional runs.

The long dispute dates to March, 1949, when the conductors first made their wage and working rules demands on the roads. Since then one or more of the unions—and a fourth big operating union, the trainmen—have gone on strike at least three times, all for short duration.

The trainmen settled their dispute a year ago. The major difference, and one of the very few, between the trainmen's contract and last night's agreement is the new rule on interdivisional runs.

But the trainmen, who sat in on yesterday's White House conference, are understood to have been offered the same interdivisional-run rule as a result of the agreement with the three other unions.

The government seized the roads in August, 1950, to avert a nationwide strike. On two occasions the Army, technical operator of the

Local Schools To Dismiss For Summer Friday

Friday 3 p.m. looms as the zero hour for upwards of more than 4,000 school children in Big Spring.

So far as they are concerned, the 1951-52 school term will be ended officially at that hour.

That, however, leaves a round of special events including the senior trip, the baccalaureate, Lakeview graduation, the ninth grade promotion, the commencement.

Teachers, with a pile of reports and other work to clear, will work through next Thursday before their year's work is completed.

For practical purposes, today is the last day of school work. In elementary schools, said Dean Bennett, director of elementary education, Friday morning will be devoted to checking in books. Report cards will be issued at 8 p.m.

"If there are those who cannot be present for the 3 p.m. issuance of cards," he said, "then arrangements should be made to pick them up later at my office in the administrative building. Should this not be practical, then parents should leave a self-addressed stamped envelope with the teacher for mailing of the card."

Final reports to junior high and high school pupils will be made at 3 p.m. Friday.

Seniors arise early Saturday to depart at 3 a.m. for Carlsbad, N. M., and a trip through the Caverns. They will arrive at Carlsbad, via bus, at 8:30 a.m., tour the Caverns, then spend the remainder of the day on an outing. At 10 p.m. they start the journey back home, scheduled to arrive here at 4:30 a.m. the following morning. Then they

Joy Rebukes Reds In His Final Address As Delegate

By SAM SUMMERLIN
MUNSAN, Korea (U)—Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy in his final statement as chief Allied truce delegate today rebuked the Reds for using the Korean armistice talks as a "stall to repair your shattered forces."

"There is nothing left to negotiate the decision is in your hands," the admiral declared.

Joy, upon completing his prepared statement, strode from the Panmunjom conference tent. His action threw the Communist delegation into a flurry.

But Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., Joy's relief, moved over into the U.N. chief delegate's seat and suggested a recess until tomorrow. The Reds demanded an almost unprecedented afternoon session.

It lasted 20 minutes. Harrison said North Korean Gen. Nam Il used it in a feeble attempt to reply to Joy in what Harrison called "plain drive."

Another session was set for 11 a.m. Friday (9 P.M. EST, Thursday).

Joy said in his stinging farewell the Allies have made their last concession on the repatriation of prisoners of war issue—last roadblock to a Korean truce.

The Allies won't back down, he said, from their refusal to return prisoners of war who do not want to go back to Communist rule.

The Allies say that of nearly 170,000 Red captives and internees about 100,000 refuse to rejoin the Reds voluntarily. The Communists want all their captured soldiers back—or no truce.

"Your side must completely abandon your absurd proposition to retain our captured personnel," Nam Il said in a 15-minute opening blast at the Allies.

He repeated his daily attacks on U.N. handling of war prisoners. Joy was the last member of the original five-member Allied team that began truce talks July 10. He is leaving to become commandant

HST Hits Congress, Medical Assn. Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman, in another speech lambasting Congress, said last night a lot of lawmakers jump when the American Medical Association cracks the whip.

He told an audience of 1,200 volunteer Veterans Administration hospital workers:

"And there are a lot of others who roll over and play dead when anybody yells socialism. After all, this is an election year."

The remarks were beamed at House rejection Monday of a bill to increase payments under old age and survivors insurance. Sponsors said the measure sought among other things to protect social security rights of permanently disabled civilians and persons who left their jobs for military service.

The measure, at first apparently unopposed, was defeated after the American Medical Association attacked it as containing "socialized medicine" features.

Truman's speech at a meeting of the National Advisory Committee of the V.A. Voluntary Services, continued his criticism of Congress. He said he spoke as a veteran and for the welfare of all the people, adding:

"And I am not going to run for President any more because I want to get out and say some things and do some things that I can't say or do when I am President."

Truman talked at length about what he called the "laughably sharp turning and twisting" of members of Congress who want to reduce the administration budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

As examples, he cited congressional action involving the V.A. hospital construction program, the Postoffice deficit and veterans medical services as well as the social security bill.

A few years back, he said, he was "damned from one end of the country to the other" because he refused to add 16,000 beds to the V.A. hospital program.

"You would have thought I was the worst enemy the veterans ever had," he said. "But we stuck to our guns, left out the 16,000 extra beds and went ahead with the others."

"And guess what! — the appropriation bill the House passed won't even provide enough money to operate all the hospital beds the Veterans Administration is going to have. . . . Can you imagine anything as absurd as that?"

Three Missing After Boats In Collision

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three men of a seven-man tugboat crew were missing after a pre-dawn collision in the Delaware River early today.

The Coast Guard reported four men of the crew of the tug Patco were picked up alive after the tug sank near Tinicum Island, off Chester, Pa. The Coast Guard said the tanker American Dealer collided with two oil barges being towed by the Patco.

Summer's Recreational Program Is Mapped Out

Summer recreational program, as a co-operative undertaking between the YMCA, Big Spring Independent School District and the City of Big Spring, is all set to get underway early in June.

Boys will register at 8:45 a.m. on June 3 and will get started the same day on at least part of their activities.

Girls will register June 2 at the YMCA and will begin on June 3. In charge of the boys program, which centers in and around the junior high gym, will be Wayne Bonner and Roy Baird. In the morning baseball and softball are on tap on the campus area. During the afternoon activities will include gym classes, volleyball, tumbling, boxing, wrestling, etc. There will be about a quarter of an hour rest period between activities.

Girls will center their program around the YMCA building. Nancy Loveless will be in charge of their program, assisted by Marilyn Carpenter and in some activities by Tolly Baker, YMCA program secretary. Volleyball will be one of the chief items, but there will be tumbling and other programs.

Age groups from eight through high school will be accommodated in the program. So far as possible, activities will be broken down into practical age groups.

The three agencies are pooling resources and manpower to provide the program without duplication and to make efforts cover the widest possible area.

Truman Says He Can Depend On M'Granery

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—President Truman said today a clean-up of the federal government will take care of itself as soon as James F. McGranery takes office as attorney general.

Truman told a news conference McGranery should have been confirmed by the Senate immediately upon his nomination without what the President termed all the hoopery.

The reference obviously was to the delayed hearings held by the Senate Judiciary Committee on the question of McGranery's fitness for office and the fight some Republican senators made against confirmation of him for the cabinet post.

The Senate finally confirmed McGranery last Tuesday—six weeks after Truman nominated the Philadelphia judge to succeed J. Howard McGrath as head of the Justice Department.

McGranery plans to take the oath of office next Tuesday.

The President told reporters that McGranery is going to be a good attorney general, adding that he has had a lot of good attorney generals.

He declined to give details of what form the government clean-up may take, but told reporters they needn't worry about it.

Now The Texas Lads Go Pantie-Hunting

By The Associated Press

The college boys' national quest for panties spread to Texas Wednesday night with forays at the University of Texas in Austin and at North Texas State College in Denton.

Police and student defenders turned the lingerie looters back at Austin, where flat fights broke out among contending students. But the panty pluckers stormed through four dormitories for women at NTSC.

"We want panties," was the breathless cry.

Girls giggled and screamed. The Denton boys stormed through Terrill Hall, Bruce Hall, Chilton Hall and the Oak Street Dormitory. Cordons of Austin police and members of the State Highway Patrol, augmented by Austin firemen and students objecting to the demonstration turned back the raiders at University of Texas dormitories and sorority houses.

Dean of Student Life Arno (Shorty) Nowotny's plea to break it up in front of the Chi Omega house in Austin was greeted by catcalls and jeers.

Girls at Denton leaned out of windows and laughed as the raiders bore down on the four dormitories there. There was no resistance from the girls, the Denton Record-Chronicle reported, "except screams."

Husband Takes His Wife's Name

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—Dorothy Jane Warwick got her maiden name back today—all because her husband likes hers better than his own.

Michael Burr Smith went to Superior Court to win the right to be known as Michael Smith Warwick. He said there are so many Smiths around that he was tired of getting other people's bills, correspondence and phone calls.

Some of the boys came out with panties and brassieres waving over their heads. Some were masked with handkerchiefs across their faces.

A student in front of Littlefield dormitory at Austin pleaded with the raiders not to enter the building, then turned to laughing girls in the windows and said:

"Girls, there are newspaper reporters and photographers out here, if you don't get inside the building they will take your pictures."

"Put 'em on the front page!" the girls answered.

"Boy, you don't know anything about female psychology," a raider yelled.

Scottish Rite Dormitory, Carothers Dormitory and the Phi Beta Phi sorority house were also visited by the Austin raiders. But police, the threat of fire-hose doublings, and the defending men students turned back the would-be raiders.

Coads leaned from windows and teased, "well, why don't you come on in and get what you came after?"

A reporter at Denton heard one of the raiders say, "I missed the gold fish craze, but I'm sure gonna get in on this."

West-German Peace Plan About Finished

By BRACK CURRY
 BONN, Germany (U)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the Western Allies solved their major financial dispute holding up the West German peace contract early today and made preparations for a week-end visit from the Big Three foreign ministers.

In a 13-hour session ending shortly after midnight, Adenauer and Western representatives agreed in principle on what Allied troops in Germany would get from the $50 million marks ($202,300,000) a month the Germans have agreed to raise for defense.

The foreign ministers—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman—are expected here Saturday for final settlement of two remaining points in the contract and signing of the treaty on Monday.

BID FOR HIS HELP

California's Ike Votes To Warren

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—The word went out today to California supporters of Gen. Eisenhower to vote for Gov. Earl Warren's Republican delegate state at this state's June 3 presidential primary—in the hope Warren would throw his weight to Eisenhower at the Chicago GOP convention.

Eisenhower's name isn't entered in the California primary. Warren as usual played it coy. His only comment was that if he couldn't win at Chicago "my delegates shall be released to vote for any candidate of their choice." Last night he told a GOP rally: "I shall go to Chicago in the hope of winning my party's nomination for President. But I have made no alliances with any candidate or with the sponsors of any candidate and shall make none for the purpose either of promoting or defeating any candidate."

Organizers calling themselves "Volunteers for Eisenhower" have been whooping it up for the general. But the chairmen of both the Southern and Northern California groups announced last night simultaneously that Eisenhower supporters should vote for Warren in the California primary.

Movie Makers In Britain Call For Government Help

LONDON (U)—The British government had a yelp for help for Britain's movie industry today. If the Treasury doesn't keep on paying, a private survey said, the cinema makers will fold up, and quick.

The only alternative to government aid, the report added, is for British producers to turn out movies that the British public wants to see in preference to American films.

The survey was made by Political and Economic Planning, an independent research organization. It estimated Britain's movie industry has lost about $39,200,000 in the four years between 1946 and 1950.

He also presented awards for those having a perfect attendance record for the nine months school term: Johnnie Edna McCartney, Jimmie Cotter, Tony Baker, Thebert and Mary Ruth Ashill, Retha Lee Huggins, Aubrey Ashill, Clifford Stephens, Dennis Robinson, and Jack and Vernon Ashill.

The Rev. J. P. Borewell, pastor of the Garden City Methodist Church gave the benediction.

WASHINGTON (U)—House investigators, it was learned today, have written a report accusing the Air Force of attempting to set up an independent supply service in defiance of congressional wishes.

The accusations, it was learned, concern common-use items which the Air Force has heretofore received from the Army.

The report is due to be made public Saturday by a House executive expenditures subcommittee headed by Rep. Boner (D-NC).

For more than a year, the subcommittee has been tilting with the armed forces over procurement duplication and competing for those housekeeping items in common use by all the services.

May Study Cane As Newsprint Source

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. Willis (D-La) urged today that a prompt study of the possibility of converting sugar cane waste into newsprint on a large scale.

Experimental work of making paper from bagasse—the pulp left after sugar is extracted from the cane—already has proved successful, Willis said.

Strike Vote Looms For Calif. Refinery Workers

DENVER (U)—A strike vote among oil refinery and pipeline workers in California may be discussed today, further complicating the slow return to normal of the nation's oil industry.

California refineries have not taken part in the three-week shutdown. At its high point, about 90,000 workers were out in other states. Approximately 60,000 still are away from their jobs.

A CIO spokesman at the Tide Water Associated Oil Company's Avon refinery across the bay from San Francisco said the strike question may be raised at a possible meeting of 1,300 workers today. Negotiations collapsed Tuesday.

An official of a San Francisco oil union also said a strike vote might be taken among other California workers.

Most negotiations have been conducted on a local basis, and most settlements have involved widely scattered, small membership groups.

O.A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International Union with headquarters in Denver, has predicted nearly all strikers will be back by this week end. Knight's union is the largest of the 22 AFL, CIO and Independent unions which called the strike.

Insanity Plea Is Successful In Ritual Murder

WINNIPEG, Man., (U)—A plea of insanity won an acquittal last night for Gavin McCullough, Winnipeg office manager charged with murdering his foster daughter during a fanatical religious ritual.

The 52-year-old man, who claimed he saw visions and could drive out devils, was jailed after the jury verdict. Under the criminal code, he can either be freed or imprisoned by decision of the provincial lieutenant-governor, acting as a sort of probation officer.

At the trial, police said McCullough admitted he choked the child, Martha Louise, when she broke into a prayer session at their home.

Robs The Mother, Feeds The Baby

NEW YORK (U)—A knife-wielding robber bound a young mother with picture wire in her home yesterday and stole her $6,000 ring—but before he left he fed the baby.

The mother, 20-year-old Mrs. Anita Laken, pleaded to be released because the baby was ill and it was time for his medicine.

"I'll give him his medicine," the man said, and did.

"He needs his milk, too," said Mrs. Laken.

The robber heated the bottle, fed the baby, and fled.

A Bible Thought For Today—

If we imitate him we shall be saved from many since.
"God sent not his son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved."
— John 3:17.

Britain Admits That All Is Lost In Dealings With Chinese Reds

Britain, the rejected suitor, not only lost its suit with the Chinese Communists, but its shirt as well.

In a note delivered in Peking, the British government asked the Chinese government to facilitate the disposal or closing down of British enterprises there and to grant exit visas to 120 British business men caught in that country.

This is a tacit admission that all is lost in China insofar as Britain is concerned, after 200 years of prosperous commerce. The remaining British assets in China are figured to be worth 300 million pounds, or about $840 million dollars. Anthony Eden told Commons the other day that the country might as well kiss the assets goodbye, as it is highly unlikely the owners will ever be compensated.

It was mainly in a desperate effort to stave off confiscation of this property that Great Britain hastened to recognize the Red regime in China and confidently expected the U.S. to follow suit. But Uncle Sam has no say.

The Reds, in return, treated British recognition with the contempt which it perhaps deserved, seeing that the Reds were murdering Englishmen, at the very moment the right hand of fellowship was extended by Whitehall.

Peking never even deigned to reply, much less reciprocate by offering the exchange ministers. It hasn't even mentioned the subject in this good day.

So British recognition failed of its primary purpose—to save British property. Many other evils flowed from that foolish gesture, not the least of which has been an intensification of the guerrilla warfare in Malaya. The attitude of many expatriate Chinese there—holders of the principal wealth of the region—has been that if Britain recognized the Red regime, the Red regime must be all right. They had no reason to remain loyal to the Nationalists, which many of them preferred. So the Communist guerrilla war in Malaya which has cost Britain so much in blood and treasure is carried on by Chinese guerrillas, supported at least in part by Chinese merchants and industrialists of the area.

Basic Parking Problem Is Too Many People With Too Many Cars

The 30th annual Conference of Mayors in New York drew 250 members from all parts of the country, and as might have been expected one of the chief topics of conversation and study was traffic, with special attention to the downtown parking problem. To hear some of the mayors tell it, "Downtown U.S.A." is just about to disappear from the map.

Boston reported an attempt to solve the problem aggravated by its narrow horse-and-buggy streets, by building two municipal garages for off-street parking; but these take care of only 4,000 vehicles whereas the need is for 15,000. Cleveland came up with "perimeter parking," which means the city maintains two huge parking lots just outside the city limits for all-day parkers, who enjoy shuttle bus service from the parking lots to their downtown jobs.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston reported pretty much the same idea at work there. "My wife parks her car three miles from the downtown stores and takes a five-cent shoppers' bus that runs almost as frequently as the taxis do here in New York," he said.

Smaller communities are bothered by the same problem only in lesser degree. The mayors were warned by a panel of traffic experts that it is all well enough to get the cars off the streets and into parking places, but how are you going to get the people to downtown stores for shopping?

Limited parking time, as low as ten minutes in some downtown areas, off-street parking for longer periods, shuttle bus service from remote parking areas to the business district—all have been and are being tried. The basic problem is to keep traffic congestion in the shopping areas from paralyzing all movement, for which one-way traffic on all the downtown streets in New York and other large cities is only a partial answer. But this obviously constitutes nothing to the problem of getting shoppers into the shops.

The reason for traffic problem is plain: There are just too darn many people with too darn many automobiles.

Puerto Rican Constitution Threatened By Rep. Halleck

WASHINGTON. — The steel cables which once roped off the sidewalk in front of Blair House are now removed; so also the little guardhouses once occupied by the White House police.

They were placed there immediately after two Puerto Rican fanatics ran down Pennsylvania Avenue, their guns blazing, mowing down two guards in an insane, abortive attempt on the life of the President.

Today people can walk along the sidewalk of Pennsylvania Avenue without going out in the street to avoid the barriers. But the root reason for the attempt on the President's life has not been removed.

In fact, security measures to protect his life and that of the Governor of Puerto Rico, Luis Munoz Marin, were tightened last week because the new constitution of Puerto Rico is now up for debate in Congress. Governor Munoz Marin, who was attacked in San Juan simultaneously with the attack on Truman, is now under special guard in Washington, and the name of the hotel where he is stopping is kept a secret.

The attempts on the lives of the Governor and the President were made by Puerto Rican fanatics who demanded that Puerto Rico be completely independent of the United States. They bitterly opposed the new Constitution which sets up a model, middle-of-the-road partnership with the U.S.A., as merely continuing Yankee rule.

Simultaneously, from another group, the new Puerto Rican constitution has been under fire. This group, not fanatical in the physical sense, but almost fanatical in its desire to preserve the status quo, is in the House of Representatives.

After a bill was passed by both houses of Congress permitting Puerto Rico to adopt a new constitution, and after the carefully drafted constitution was overwhelmingly adopted by a plebiscite of the Puerto Rican people, it was suddenly blocked in the House last week by GOP Congressman Charley Halleck of Indiana.

Halleck, frequently called "Two-Cadillac Charley," because he came to Washington a man of modest means and suddenly blossomed out with two Cadillacs, was rather vague about reasons for opposing the Puerto Rican constitution. He didn't like the fact that it prohibited child labor, though the United States does, too; and he also objected to section 20 which sets forth the Puerto Rican goal of a job for every man.

Other Republicans, equally conservative, disagreed with Halleck. Congressman "Doc" Miller of Nebraska, a strong MacArthur booster and a student of the Puerto Rican constitution, pointed out that it would not have permitted seizure of the steel mills or taking over newspapers.

"Do you object to the fact that it would prevent the government from seizing the steel mills?" asked Congressman Miller.

"Do you object to this ban against wire-tapping?"

Halleck had no convincing answer.

His friend, Congressman Fred Crawford of Michigan, another conservative Repu-lican, also championed the constitution, but the gentleman from Indiana continued to object, not only to the constitution, but even to permitting a vote on it. Halleck wanted to bottle the bill up in the Rules Committee, thus stifling free discussion. Several Dixiecrats supported him.

Thus, while the extreme radicals of Puerto Rico are ready to assassinate the President and Governor Munoz Marin if the constitution is adopted, the extreme reactionaries in Congress are ready to assassinate the constitution.

What the latter don't understand is that the entire Latin-American world is watching Congress to see whether we renege on our pledge to work out a commonwealth partnership with the Puerto Rican people.

Note—Later, several Republicans persuaded Halleck at least to permit a vote on the constitution, and he receded from his opposition to a vote. But one GOP colleague remarked: "Herbert Hoover once proposed a chicken in every pot and two cars in every garage. Today Halleck has two Cadillacs in his garage, but is opposed to letting Puerto Rico express its hope of a job for every man."

When the Senate finally voted down the question of statehood for Alaska last winter, Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico walked across the Senate floor to fellow Democrat Bob Kerr of Oklahoma and remarked:

"You're going to regret that some day, Bob, that vote will come back to plague you in your race for the nomination."

Inside fact was that Senator Kerr had made a deal with Southern Democratic friends to trade his vote against Alaska and Hawaiian statehood in return for their support on oil-and-gas legislation. Kerr is a big oil-and-gas man.

But what Senator Anderson knew was that the people of Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico, who can't vote, but can nominate, deeply resent the way they have been kicked around by certain U.S. legislators; so their delegates at both conventions hope to support those who have befriended them.

On the Democratic side, Senator Keafaufer is the only leading candidate who has consistently championed statehood and the rights of island people. He even took a long trip from Iowa to Washington in order to be on hand to vote. On the Republican side, Taft voted to pigeonhole Alaska statehood. Eisenhower has favored it.

Wage Stabilization Board Examined For Possible Complete Overhauling

WASHINGTON (U. — That whipping boy of the steel dispute, the Wage Stabilization Board, is in for a fresh beating.

The Senate Banking Committee changes in the WSB setup. Now the board has 18 members, of whom six represent organized labor, six industry, and six the public.

The banking committee thinks that the board should be made up of public representatives only.

The board now can recommend ways of settling a union-management dispute. The committee thinks it should be stripped of this power.

What the committee proposes can't happen, of course, unless the full Senate and House approve. Until they do, if they do, WSB will provide Congress with a prime topic for conversation.

Ever since its recommendations in the steel dispute, the WSB has been taking a beating from those who disagreed with it while its friends, particularly labor unions, patted it on the head.

Besides suggesting the steelworkers should have a union shop, an idea which didn't add to the industry's happiness, the WSB recommended the workers be given a raise of about 26 cents an hour. The industry said it couldn't grant the raise without a compensating increase in prices.

All this happened weeks ago. Ever since, WSB has been under attack.

Back in the fall of 1950 Congress gave President Truman authority to set up price and wage controls, which he did by establishing WSB and OPS (Office of Price Stabilization).

At that time WSB had much more limited power than it has now. All it could do was tell a boss the limit on the pay raise he could hand out to his employees.

This was at the time when

Charles E. Wilson, the defense mobilizer, was the big boss on inflation controls.

Organized labor didn't like his way of running things. Particularly, it didn't think he bent his ear enough to listen to labor.

So the labor members of WSB walked out in protest against Wilson. Truman finally got labor back in. He widened the board's powers by letting it decide not only how much a boss could raise but recommending how much he should.

And that's how the 18-man board has been operating. The steel recommendation caused an explosion.

The American Federation of Labor has now informed Congress it won't have anything to do with WSB at all if Congress follows the Senate committee's idea and makes all the WSB members public members. The CIO doesn't like this notion either.

Remembering what happened in the previous walk-out of labor, which practically destroyed the board until Truman revived it, it isn't hard to see something of the same thing happening again if the board winds up with only public members.

Random Thoughts On Old Cars And Trailer Houses

NEW YORK, May 22 (U. — The Oddity Almanac:

Remember the old Dagmar?... shiny sides, great on curves, and carried a front and rear bumper.

The Dagmar (1922-1927) was just one of 2,500 kinds of automobiles made in America since the turn of the century. Only 21 survive today in this fiercely competitive industry.

Studebaker, which started making covered wagons 100 years ago, claims to be the oldest firm still in existence...but dad or granddad will recall going courting in cars bearing such vanished trademarks as Mercer, Rickenbacker, Oldfield, Maxwell, Velle and Stutz Bearcat.

Speaking of covered wagons, did you know that some 1,700,000 Americans now live in trailer coaches?...In 12 years the industry's annual sales from 10 million dollars to 245 million. The length of the standard trailer has increased from 15 feet to 30, and you can buy 'em up to 45 feet. These have four rooms and stall showers. Until the government entered the market, 68 per cent of the trailers were bought by defense workers, 25 per cent by service men. Suggested industry theme song: "Oh, the sun shines bright on my old Kentucky trailer."

Government economy note: Industrialist Fred A. Wirt says the federal debt of about 260 billion dollars means that "every infant born in the U. S. assumes, the second he or she draws breath, a debt of $1,700."

Maybe that explains why the first thing babies do in this world is to break out crying...Who wants a mortgage on his diaper at birth?

Fact-is-Stranger - Than - Fiction Department: The Columbia Gazetteer says only 30 Russian towns are named after Stalin to 36 for Sergei Kirov, a Soviet bigwig assassinated in 1934. Many of the coach dogs you see in firehouses never hear the firebell. The Dalmatian breed had a high percentage of deafness...Tulips, now commonplace, were worth more than their weight in gold after they were introduced into Holland from Turkey in 1565. Such a mania for them swept Europe that a single tulip bulb once sold for a load of grain, four oxen, 12 sheep, five pigs, two tubs of butter, 1,000 pounds of cheese, four barrels of beer, two hogheads of wine, a suit of clothes, and silver drinking cup.

After a drop in value like that you'd think a tulip would be ashamed to hold its head up today.

Cost Of Living Edges Up Again

WASHINGTON (U. — The government's living cost barometer is due for another slight rise today—carrying it back close to the peak level.

The increase probably will run to about one-half of 1 per cent. The peak was reached last January followed by a decline in February.

Slightly higher consumer costs for food, transportation and rent are expected to be the factors contributing to the modest living cost rise due to be reported by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics for mid-April.

Here's A Cheer For The Old Town Despite Wind, Dust, No Water

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

There are many people in Big Spring besides those natives who were born here and have borne the brunt of sand storms and droughts for so, these many years.

I, myself, am not a Big Spring citizen of a lifetime. And I will only too readily admit it to whatever naive soul accosts me.

I yearn for the trees, trees, and more trees of my hometown and the river that gets on a rise ever so often.

I would like to drive to the outskirts of town and drop my hook in a deep pool of water and wait for the cork to go under. I would, and this will probably get me fifty fathoms, like to water my shrubs and flowers and not have to watch the poor, innocent little things shrivel and die.

But this wasn't meant to be.

I'm doomed to Big Spring.

Guess it won't be long until I can look serenely at the North or West sky and smile grimly to myself, yep, another sand-storm is on the way.

Then when the newcomers come up to me and say, "I want to go home to mother, I want to get away from the eternal sand and wind and go back where there are trees and water," I can grit my teeth and say, "I know just what you mean."

But despite the sand, the wind, the lack of trees and water... Big Spring is a good town. A nice town, a wonderful place to be able to admit you're from.

And after all is said and done there never could be any place exactly like it. Did I hear someone groan and say "Thank goodness!"

Financial Analysts Can Find Future Either Good Or Bad

NEW ORLEANS. —You get what you go for. That's my conclusion after touring the nation with 250 financial analysts representing banks, insurance companies, investment banking firms, investment counsel, and brokerage houses.

Those who started out pessimistic—dubious about business conditions, like Glenn Munn, of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, New York Stock Exchange firm, or Anthony Gaubis, of Anthony Gaubis & Co., are still pessimistic. Those who started out bullish, like Williams L. Nelson, president of the Delaware Fund, or Harry D. Comer, also of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, are, if anything, more bullish about business and stock prices than ever.

As the special train approached New Orleans, Munn made the point that the country has had an almost uninterrupted construction boom since 1939. He could see it. People have built new homes and furnished them. Business men have constructed new plants and equipped them. Pretty soon, argued Munn, this increased capacity will have caught up with demand.

Then, manufacturers will have to go out and sell. They'll have to reduce prices. Profit margins, already impaired by high costs, will be impaired further. This incentive to build new plants will be choked off. Capital expenditures, now responsible for the boom, will drop. So will business.

The Kaiser Aluminum plant here, the tremendous pipes and retorts of Union Carbide & Carbon, Monsanto Chemical, and Dow Chemical in the Houston industrial area, seemed to justify Munn's theory. How long before these plants spewed forth raw materials the country could not absorb?

In contrast, to Nelson, the expansion meant more expansion. "Never sell America short" was the slogan. The stretches of irrigated land in California and Texas, the giant machinery of the generating stations of Pacific Gas & Electric, Utah Power & Light, the immense Kaiser steel works at Fontana, Cal., the exciting Kenesecott copper mine at Bingham, Utah, the network of oil wells pumping power from the earth—all signified strength to begot more strength.

How can you have a depression with new buildings going up everywhere, with pipelines being laid, with the world short of raw materials, with more men and women employed than ever before? Full employment, were worth more than their weight in gold after they were introduced into Holland from Turkey in 1565. Kings Made Profit From Coinage Right

Kings and other rulers during the Middle Ages were pleased to have the right of minting coins. The minting could be done with profit to themselves.

There was a general rule that each kind of coin must have a certain amount of metal in it. A silver coin for example, might have a standard weight of one ounce.

A time might come when a king wanted more money in the royal treasury. Having too little silver to provide enough coins, he would put out coins with the same name, and the same supposed value, but would cut down on the size. If anyone made a test, he might find that a coin which was supposed to weigh an ounce weighed three fourths of an ounce. There was little, if anything, which a subject could do in such a case.

Other kings tried to be a little more clever. Not wishing to have their subjects know that a change was being made, they minted coins of the same size and weight, but with less silver in them. This was easy to do with a cheap metal, such as copper, was melted in with the silver. The time came in some countries, when a "silver" coin was less than half silver.

In justice to certain of those kings, let us note that they had masters of the mint and other officials who watched over the minting. A king might be kept from knowing what was going on, but he probably was pleased when his treasury was full.

Most of the coins minted during the Middle Ages were made of gold, silver, copper or bronze. The images of saints appeared on many of them. Some had the images of kings, but others had the name of a king without any likeness of him.

There was trouble when coins with too little gold, or too little silver, were sent to other lands. Foreign merchants were quick to test them for the amount of pure gold or silver.

Some countries, including little city-states, gained fame for their coins. Venice, Florence and Genoa, for example, issued coins which were known far and wide for having the right amount of pure gold in them.

Tarrant Sheriff Gets 7 Years On Tax Charge

DALLAS, May 22 (AP)—Sheriff Sully Montgomery of Tarrant County was convicted of income tax evasion and sentenced to seven years in federal prison yesterday.

It took the Federal District Court jury one hour and 15 minutes to decide Montgomery's fate.

He sat erect and outwardly unmoved as the jury verdict was announced.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson sternly told the former professional football player that "in the eyes of laymen, the sheriff is the embodiment of the law."

Montgomery had been charged with three evasion counts involving his 1948, 1949 and 1950 income tax returns.

Judge Davidson fixed sentences of two years, four years, and three years on the three counts. The two-year sentence is to run concurrently with the other two.

Montgomery's attorneys said they would file a notice of appeal today to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Montgomery, freed on a $7,000 appeal bond, said he expected to remain in office as sheriff until a decision is handed down by the Appellate Court. He said he was still a candidate for re-election to his fourth term.

Commie Supply Area Bombed By US Airmen

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U.S. Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers, in an all-out, hour-by-hour attack, today smashed a huge Communist supply area between the North Korean capital of Pyongyang and its port, Chinnampo.

The attack began at dawn and continued throughout the day. The Air Force described the target area as a huge war material manufacturing and supply area.

Pilots reported 117 buildings destroyed and 80 heavily damaged.

Fighter pilots from the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing and the Royal Australian Air Force 77th Squadron took part in the big strike.

On the ground, U.S. Patton tank guns shot up Red fortifications along a 20-mile sector of the Central Front yesterday.

A U.S. Eighth Army staff officer said the tanks blasted 250 Red bunkers and inflicted 354 casualties. Tanks of the U.S. 40th Division (California National Guard) spearheaded the assault.

The staff officer said one Allied tank was lost.

Police Chief At Abilene Resigns

ABILENE, May 22 (AP)—The city commissioner yesterday accepted the surprise resignation of Police Chief Raymond Eakins.

The commission adopted a resolution praising Eakins' work and character. He said he quit "because of opposition among some of the members of the department and private citizens."

Promises Prisoners Will Soon Be Under Control

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said today the 80,000 stubborn Communist captives on riot-torn Kojé Island shortly will be "under complete control within their compounds."

The U.S. Eighth Army commander briefly visited this prisoner of war camp No. 1, where die-hard Reds two weeks ago seized and held the camp commander as hostage for 78 hours.

Navy 'Rebel' Wins Habeas Release

HONOLULU (AP)—The Navy today removed wealthy seaman Bruce S. Hopping from prisoner-at-large status and planned to transfer him to San Francisco. It acted 24 hours before it has to show cause why he should not be released on a writ of habeas corpus.

A court martial on Friday sentenced Hopping, in civilian life vice president of a Port Newark, N.J., lumber company, to a bad-conduct discharge for plotting to smear the Navy. He had been assigned to prisoner-at-large status at Pearl Harbor pending review.

Hopping's attorney asked for a Federal Court release on grounds Hopping was illegally detained. The Navy was ordered to answer tomorrow.

Acting U.S. Atty. Howard K. Hodick said he would seek dismissal of the plea. But a Navy spokesman said Hopping would remain in Hawaii through Thursday afternoon in case Hopping continues his fight in Federal Court.

Man Dies In Hotel; Relatives Sought

CHICAGO, May 22 (AP)—Police here were trying today to locate next of kin of a man identified as Bruce Davis, 77, of Center, Tex.

Davis died of what apparently was heart disease in a near north side hotel yesterday. Papers on his body indicated he had some stock and oil holdings in Texas.

Texans Going To Conventions With Both Party Ranks Split

By MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Both Republicans and Democrats in Texas are houses divided a week before their state conventions—on May 27—to name delegates to their national party conventions.

The Republicans are split between supporters of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the presidential nomination.

The Democrats are split over sending an instructed or instructed delegation to the national convention.

The Texas Republicans—normally "also rans" in state politics—drew more crowds to their precinct and county conventions than Democrats.

Eisenhower supporters, led by Houston oilman Jack Porter, claim that they are entitled to 26 of

2 Ex-Employees Held In Robbery Of Naval Base

BOSTON (AP)—Two former civilian employees of the Quonset Point, R.I., Naval Air Station were arrested by the FBI last night for a bold $100,000 armed holdup of a credit union there last March 7.

A New York night club singer was taken into custody as a material witness.

The FBI reported one of the men was carrying bills identified as part of the loot but declined to say how much of the money was recovered.

The FBI identified the trio as: Howard Hildebrandt, 25, who worked at Quonset for two months during World War II, and afterward from December, 1946, to May, 1951. Since then he has been employed intermittently as a private detective and a guard for an armored car service in Rhode Island.

Robert Roger La Plante, 27, a helper and airplane mechanic who went to work at Quonset Feb. 10, 1947, and gave up his job only last week. He was on the payroll the day of the robbery but did not work that day nor the preceding day, March 6.

Gloria H. Fazzina, 30, Jersey City, N.J., known professionally as Gloria Dale. She was born in New Britain, Conn.

Hildebrandt and Miss Fazzina were arrested in New York City. La Plante at his home in West Warwick, R.I. Hildebrandt also lives in West Warwick.

Hildebrandt and La Plante, both World War II veterans, are charged with armed robbery on a U.S. Government reservation. None of the money was government funds.

La Plante will be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner in Providence, R.I., while Hildebrandt will be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner in New York preliminary to his removal to Rhode Island.

The FBI said Miss Dale was held in the Women's House of Detention in New York.

She was described as a divorcee and a singer at Tony Pastor's night club in New York, where Hildebrandt was reported to be a frequent visitor.

Pipeline Workers Taking Wage Hike

HOUSTON, May 22 (AP)—Union President J. W. Hinds says the Employees Federation of the southern division of Humble Pipe Line Company is accepting a company wage boost offer.

The new offer closely parallels recent Wage Stabilization Board proposals for wage boosts in the oil industry.

The federation has not been on strike.

Two Children Are Drowned In Tank

ENNIS, May 22 (AP)—A boy and girl, their family's only children, drowned in a stock tank near their home yesterday.

They were Jo Ann Hejny, 9, and her brother, Ernest Hejny Jr., 5. Both children were pronounced dead after they were taken from 15 feet of water. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hejny.

Texas' 38 delegates.

Taft supporters, led by Henry Zweifel, Ft. Worth attorney and national GOP committeeman from Texas, reject this but decline to say what the division—if any—should be.

Control of the Republican State Convention in Mineral Wells depends on seating of contested delegations from 31 counties of the state, including all the larger ones.

These contests developed after Taft forces walked out of county conventions, held their own and named their own delegates.

Eisenhower supporters asked the State Supreme Court to nullify the walkout conventions held by Taft supporters in six counties. But the court, in a ruling yesterday, refused to grant the petition and threw the feud back into the party ranks.

The Eisenhower supporters said they'd carry their fight to the state convention and to the national convention if necessary.

Texas Democrats are entitled to 32 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Gov. Allan Shivers, leader of the fight in the Democratic ranks to send an instructed delegation to the national convention, had clear-cut majorities in precinct and county conventions. But in 28 counties the group calling themselves "loyal Democrats" walked out, held their own conventions and named their own delegates to the State Democratic Convention in San Antonio.

The "loyal Democrats" maintain that Democrats should take a party pledge saying they will vote for the Democratic presidential nominee.

Shivers, an outspoken critic of the Truman administration, prefers that the Texas delegation go unpledged.

Runaway Railroad Cars Hit Switch, Cause Odessa Fire

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Eight runaway railroad tank cars filled with high-octane gasoline roared into Odessa last night, crashed into a switch engine and exploded, starting a huge warehouse fire.

No injuries were reported.

The cars apparently began rolling from a siding 12 miles west of Odessa last night, crashed into a switch engine and broke loose.

Texas Projects On Engineers' Lists

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Two Texas projects are included in 15 for which $1,129,300 in planning has been made available, the Army Engineers announced yesterday.

Planning work, started in previous years, is to be resumed on the Ferrell's Bridge Reservoir, Texas, $140,000.

The other project for which $50,000 was allotted is the Dallas Floodway.

Youngsters Line Up For National Spelling Honor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifty-one youngsters, each a regional champion, start spelling each other down today in the 25th annual National Spelling Bee.

Five hours, 800 polysyllabic words and possibly a few tears later, the national champion is expected to emerge. To do so, he or she will have to spell words that few youngsters—and not many adults—ever heard of.

Last year's champion, Irving Bels of Memphis, offers a good example of what these youngsters can do.

After spelling down the other regional champions, he breezed through "cuisine" and "insouciant"—words not normally in a grade school vocabulary—to claim the national title.

To the champion will go $500 in cash, a loving cup, a plaque for the winner's school and an appearance on Ed Sullivan's television show Sunday night.

Second prize is $300, third $100. But everyone wins something. Even the first youngster eliminated gets $40.

As usual, the bee is sponsored by Scripps-Howard and 31 other newspapers.

Also, as usual, more girls are here than boys, 31 to 20, to be exact. But those who would draw conclusions from this are apt to run into trouble. For in the last three years the best a girl could do was tie for first.

Learn About World With New Wall Map

A nice way to learn about the world is by studying a map of the world. It's an unending source of education and fun for the children as well as adults. It's colorfully and skillfully reproduced and measures 29 by 40 inches. Time zones and date lines are also indicated.

Six Fundamental Mistakes Are Made In Decorating

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

1. Lack of color scheme. Haphazard color is only one color fault. Rooms also fall short of good decorating because they lack interesting color and because they combine too many drab colors, too many that are equally light, medium or dark or too many bright colors. Choose colors that are a joy to look at and scheme them to flatter the room and each other. Simplify color schemes by reducing the number of colors, use them in well defined areas rather than scatter them about. Contrast light with dark, and bright with quiet shades.

2. Lonesome pictures. When pictures fly too high and alone they do not decorate the room. Bring them down to relate to furniture below and the pictures themselves are more interesting, the decorating improves and the room takes on a more comfortable look. For a general rule, hang a large single picture so its center of interest is 5 feet 5 1/2 inches from the floor. Organize small pictures so they count on large areas of wall. Make arrangements which combine pictures with furniture to become decorative groupings.

3. Skimping window treatments. Narrow, bobbed-off draperies rob windows of the importance they should have in the room and short change the room's style. Choose less expensive fabric if need be but make sure of ample yardage. The high, wide and full window treatment covers window shortcomings and is dramatic and luxurious even in a simple fabric, but a rich fabric cannot make too few yards look like enough.

4. Unworthy accessories. Accessories that are trivial, tricky and short of artistic value spoil a room even though it is well planned otherwise. Choose accessories that at least equal the quality of other furnishings — rather than too many, an important fact that belong to arrangements and color schemes.

5. Clutter. Too many accessories, too much furniture, scattered wall decorations, mixtures of overcomplicated designs, — all of these make a room restless. Smooth the room plan and create quiet comfort and style by removing unnecessary odds and ends, organizing small items into groupings, reducing the number of pieces of furniture, trading fussy furnishings for simple ones.

6. Too much, unrelated pattern. Pattern too often is chosen for the individual pieces of furniture, for the windows and for the floor, and each design fights for attention. Choose each pattern instead for its effect on the room and its ability to get along with the other patterns there. Make one pattern the most important one and choose others that are simple and quieter, and plenty of plain color.

ASPARAGUS VINAIGRETTE
Ingredients: 2 pounds fresh asparagus, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon wine vinegar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper, 2 tablespoons finely chopped dill pickle, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley.

Method: Cut white ends from asparagus so stalks are even length. Wash well in cold water and pare off outer covering, just up to tips. Cook in small amount of lightly salted water just until tender; drain off any remaining water well. Place asparagus stalks on clean tea towel to absorb any excess moisture. Arrange stalks on serving platter, putting some on top of others if necessary. In a small bowl put oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, pickle, and parsley; beat well with fork. Cover asparagus with dressing. Chill and serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: If desired, asparagus may be served on romaine or lettuce with marinade spooned over.

How To Put Out Fires

Employees of the Big Spring State Hospital learn how to put out fires and, equally important, how not to try to put them out. For instance, W. E. McConaha, left, uses a class A extinguisher on a class B fire, with no results. Then, Mrs. Sarah Durham, under the watchful eye of Instructor Lester Gross, snuffs the class B fire with an extinguisher of the same class. This is part of the fire-fighting training, Gross has been giving hospital staffers this week.

Prayers Help, Says Couple, After Being Lost In Swamp

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 22 (AP)—"Don't let anyone tell you that prayers don't help," an oil warehouse worker said after wandering 40 hours through Sabine River swamps—sometimes sinking almost deep in muck.

Millard B. Johnson, 36, of Vinton, La., and his wife became lost in the swamps Sunday. They were found by searchers at daybreak yesterday.

The couple, under treatment for exposure and shock, told a nightmarish story of trying to find their way out of the mucky swamp after they became separated from their camping party seven miles northwest of Vinton.

They lost their way in the maze of small branches of the Sabine and ran their boat up a small branch until the motor was clogged with weeds.

They tried to push the boat back to the main channel but couldn't do it. They abandoned the boat and began walking.

Sunday night, Johnson found a small knoll and lit a fire with his cigarette lighter. Then he built a rough shelter of tree limbs and palmetto leaves in which to spend the night. However, a violent wind-driven rainstorm soaked Johnson and his wife, Amanda, 33.

Early the next morning, they began walking again toward where they thought the river would be. Johnson said that day was one of heartbreak for them as they sloshed through deep water and plowed through mud sometimes sinking to their armpits.

Twice, he said, their would-be rescuers came near them but twice they were passed up.

Monday night, the Johnsons found a hollow cypress log in which Johnson kindled a fire so his wife could keep warm as she slept inside the log. He also built another fire atop the log for a signal.

At daybreak yesterday, the third day of their wandering, they began walking again, shouting occasionally. One of more than 200 searchers heard their cries and found them.

Murder Trial Set
SAN ANTONIO, May 22 (AP)—Trial of Reuben Lindsey, charged with murder without malice in the death of his wife, has been set for July 15.

Mrs. Lindsey was shot to death in the bedroom of the couple's home Feb. 20. Lindsey is a tourist court operator. His wife was a local golfing enthusiast.

THEIR MINDS ARE MADE UP

BSHS Grads Lining Up Jobs, Making Plans For College

The 1953 graduating class of Big Spring High School shows more decisiveness than any in many years.

Collectively, it pretty well has its mind made up about college and careers. Sixty-four per cent of the seniors plan to continue their education. Sixty-seven per cent have decided upon a life's career, and most think they can follow it right here at home.

One rather remarkable situation is the trend away from the professions, with the exception of engineering, teaching and nursing. The vast majority of young men, and women have in mind a general run of occupations as a source of livelihood.

Another significant development is that four have chosen the field of religious education, one of them to be a missionary. One other lad was to study in response to a call to the ministry.

Only two boys thought they wanted to become physicians. One picked law, but he wasn't sure but what he might prefer interior decorating.

Three young women picked teaching, and one wanted to become a music education, two boys wanted to be shop instructors, one a mechanical instructor. Five girls picked marriage as their only career. Four wanted to become nurses, six secretaries or stenographers. Three were committed to positions as telephone operators.

Two students had advertising in mind and two the florist trade.

Among the professions, engineering was tops with nine. One would be an electrical engineer, another a petroleum engineer, one a mechanical engineer, two chemical engineers, and four civil engineers.

Six lads had their sights on being farmers and ranchers.

One each chose forest service, department store buying, dentistry, bookkeeping, veterinary medicine, auto parts, telephony, X-ray technician, plumbing, floor contracting, banking, commercial art, business administration and printing.

As for summer jobs, 58 had something definitely lined up. Eight will work in oilfields, four will clerk, three will be telephone operators, two will nurse, two will be cashiers, two will be at the refinery, three will farm, two will work in grocery stores, two will be with the railroad. One each will be working in a reproduction shop, a meterman, wheat harvest hand, office stockroom, typing, electrical shop, church iron shop, delivery man, carpenter, floor contracting, laboratory bookkeeping, florist, printing, cement plant, interior decorating.

How well do the young people feel the city and county are providing opportunities for them? The majority—57 per cent thought well enough that they planned to make their living here. There were 17 others who didn't know for sure and 36 per cent figured they would go elsewhere.

Only three young men said their prospects were for immediate entry into the armed services. Two were indefinite. Some expressed a preference for service anyhow, and the Air Force got eight votes, the Navy 2, the Marines two, and the Army (the armored part at that) got one.

As to a choice of colleges, Howard County Junior College was far out in front with 23 expressing a preference for it. Texas Tech got nine first choices, McMurry four, Texas A&M four, North Texas Agricultural four, University of Texas as two, Rice Institute three, Baylor University two, Southern Methodist University three, and one each to a technical school in Boise, Idaho, to Lee College in Cleveland, Tenn., Christian College in Columbia, Mo., Texas Christian University, Southwestern, West Texas State College, Tulane, University of Southern California, Sul Ross, North Texas State, Abilene Christian College, Howard Payne. There was one who planned to go the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo for nurses training and one to Breckenridge Hospital at Austin. Seven youngsters were still undecided about college and 29 said they weren't going, although some did express preferences in schools.

School Chorus Wins Plaudits At Lions Club

High school choral club who tried out their musical wares first on the Lions Club last autumn, came back Wednesday for the grand finale.

For half an hour, the A Capella group, directed by Harry Lee Plumbley, sang a variety of selections ranging from heavier religious passages to the lighter and spirited Negro spirituals.

The vocalists, 45 in all, were applauded vigorously by the club men who expressed surprise at the progress made during a single year. The performance was the 20th for the hard working singers, who Plumbley said deserved all the more credit since they "worked on their own time."

Joe Pond, former district governor, reported on the district 2-T-2 Convention just completed in El Paso. Highlights of the convention, he said, were addresses by Herb C. Petree, past president of Lions International, and R. Roy Keaton, director general of Lions International. George Spence was named district governor, he said, and the next convention will be in Odessa in May, 1953.

Workers Being Called Back In Some Factories

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Men are going back to work—or working longer weeks—in some consumer goods factories here and there.

It doesn't offset the cutbacks recently in other industries. But it leads some industrialists to hope—or at least wonder—if the long awaited turning point may not be near for them, too.

"We think the log jam has broken," says a tire maker, J. P. Seiberling, in announcing that his company has gone back to full-scale six-days-a-week production. Seiberling had cut to five days for a time because dealers were slow in ordering tires.

A flurry in textile buying in recent days has revived hope in the long depressed textile industry. The ordering is too light so far to indicate any real pattern. The textile slump is world wide. But the International Cotton Council thinks the world cotton industry will pull out of it in the coming season.

Shoe factories are swinging back to full-week schedules after their long depression. Orders picked up smartly at the recent shoe show here. Prices are down and customers are returning to the stores. Most shoe manufacturers are optimistic about good fall business, and are recalling employees to full-time work.

John J. Minnoch, executive director of the National Hide Association, says hide prices are at their lowest in years, and shoe prices for fall probably will drop 25 cents to $1 a pair.

Optimistic forecasts are also made today by spokesmen in other industries.

J. S. Sherer Jr., president of Reo Motors, tells stockholders that the company's sales of trucks should reach a new high this year.

One movie company is optimistic, another gloomy. Spyros P. Skouras, president of Twentieth Century-Fox, tells stockholders earnings should be higher in the first half of this year. He says theater admissions are up this quarter. L. H. Goldenson, president of United Paramount Theatres, says attendance just now is declining at more than the normal seasonal rate.

The airlines have been having it tough so far this year. But William J. Hogan, vice president of American Airlines, tells stockholders that prospects for the rest of the year are better.

Most utility companies continue to do more business than a year ago.

Some cold water is thrown on this display of optimism, however, by the Commerce Department. It reports today that output of consumer goods continued to decline in April. It notes lay-offs of workers in April and May in plants producing refrigerators, farm and home freezers, electric ranges and washing machines. And it stresses "sharp contractions" in some other civilian goods lines, offset by greater defense spending by the government.

The consumer is calling the tune. When he starts buying again at a faster clip, other workers will follow the shoe makers back to the factories.

Fort Worth Man Is Drowning Victim
FORT WORTH, May 22 (AP)—Lellon D. Hill, 38, drowned yesterday in Eagle Mountain Lake. High waves tossed him out of an outboard motorboat about 300 yards offshore.

Hill was an aircraft firm employee and was on his way to an experimental air-sea craft floating in the lake when the accident occurred.

Golf Courses Improve

The current water shortage caused pros as local golf courses to look elsewhere than the city supply for their precious moisture but they're making out. Top left, Pro Shirley Robbins of the Country Club is shown tightening the shaft on a pump owned by a Corden sports group, located near the original "Big Spring." The well gives up about 25 gallons a minute. Above right, Robbins is taking a reading on the depth of the course's reservoir, which contains about 300,000 gallons, enough to last the course six days in an emergency. In the lower photo, T. J. Bankston (left) city employee, showed Pro W. O. Maxwell Jr., of the Munny course the manner in which he waters the greens of the city-owned course, after trucking it to the course. The water has already been used and was obtained at the disposal plant.

Broncs Blast Braves, 23-4

Alvarez Gets First Homer

SWEETWATER—The Big Spring Broncs headed for Vernon today, breathing the air of liberated men.

The Broncs hopped on three Sweetwater hurriers for a 23-4 victory here last night to win their first straight decision and emerge from the Longhorn League cellar. True, they're only "free" by half a game, but they're free.

Eight Sweetwater bobbles made it that much easier for the Steeds, who simply ate the Braves alive in this three-game series.

Sweetwater entered the Big Spring set in second place in Longhorn League standings but emerged from it playing less than .500 ball and threatened with a slump to the second division.

Of Big Spring's 21 base hits, four came off the bat of Enrique Gonzales. Ossia Alvarez hit the first home run of his pro baseball career and collected three runs-batted-in, as did Juan Visteur and Witty Quintana.

The Steeds scored in only four of

Heavyweight Grapple Show On Coast Lures 25,256

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES, May 22 (UP)—Wonderful peace settled over the national wrestling scene today and Los Angeles reaffirmed its claim as a place of astonishing events.

Twenty-five thousand two hundred and fifty six persons turned out to see a wrestling show last night and they paid $103,277.75 for the privilege. Wrestling people say the marks were the greatest ever.

And today the world heavyweight champion, according to the National Wrestling Alliance which presumably rules the sport, is the man most everyone thought would reach the goal all the time, Lou Thesz of St. Louis.

Thesz, who is 33 and weighed 223, won the title when he vanquished Baron Michele Leone of Italy. Supposedly this solidifies all the claims for the national title made around the country.

It took 55 minutes for the entire drama to unfold, and the cheering crowd apparently loved every grunt and groan. Thesz, installed as the hero of the plot in the first three minutes, proved that virtue triumphs. He won the first and third falls from 210-pound Leone, whose age is something over 35.

For two minutes it appeared that the match might be an old-fashioned wrestling duel. But the Baron, his long, hunched curis already in a state of sad disarray, began punching Lou in the stomach with his fist.

From then on the affair followed the familiar pattern. Lou often restrained himself from ugly counter-measures and the dashing Baron drew the hisses and evil names from most of the vast throng in Gilmore Baseball Park because of his ungentlemanly conduct.

Bums Re-Write Record Book In 19-1 Win

Bums Re-Write Record Book In 19-1 Win

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Call the cops! Murder, Inc., is back in business at Brooklyn. With 15-count 'em 15-record-breaking runs in the first inning, boss Chuck Dressen's Dodgers did everything but bundle the Cincinnati Reds in a cement vest.

And what did Dressen say? "Maybe we snapped out of our hitting slump." That wins the rubber ice pick as the understatement of the year.

Dressen's Dodger ruffians even roughed up the little red book of baseball. The statisticians will be busy for days, typing new lines into the old book.

Five records got the rubber hose treatment while the Dodgers flexed their muscles for the home folks in a 19-1 rout of Cincy. They all got it in the first inning when 21 men went to bat, scored 15 runs, 12 of them after two were out and 10 successive batters reached base safely.

Maybe they'll find new broken records when they sweep out the wreckage at Brooklyn this morning. Here's what they found last night.

1. New modern major league record of most runs scored in an inning, 15. All-time high is 18 scored by the Chicago Cubs, Sept. 6, 1883.

2. New modern major league record for most times facing opposing pitcher in one inning, 21. All-time high is 23, by those same Cubs in 1913.

3. New major league record for runs scored in inning after two were out, 12.

4. New major league record for most runs batted in in inning 15.

5. New major league record for most men reaching base safely in succession, 19.

Just for good measure, Billy Cox Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider tied a record by going to bat three times in an inning and Reese, Snider, Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges, George Shuba and Rube Walker tied another by scoring twice in the inning.

To rub it in, pitcher Chris Van Cuyk's four hits—two of them in the big inning—were one more than he had in his big league career before last night. It was a romp for big Chris with an easygoing five-hitter for his third win.

Ewell Blackwell, the fellow the Dodgers are supposed to be trying to lure from Cincy in a trade, was the first victim. When he left it was 5-0, two of the runs coming on Snider's homer. Bud Beyer quickly ran it to 7-0. Herm Wehner raised the total to 10-0 and Frank Smith finally ran it to 15-0.

In the 15-run inning, the Dodgers had 10 hits—eight of them singles—seven walks and two hit batsmen. Brooklyn took over undisputed possession of the National League lead because the New York Giants split a day-night doubleheader with St. Louis. Cliff Chambers shut out the 1951 champs with four hits to hand Larry Jansen his first loss in the 3-0 day game. But Dave Koslo, that old Cardinal jinx, came back to rack up St. Louis for the 10th straight time since June 11, 1950, in the 8-1 night game.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies won his seventh straight by turning back Pittsburgh, 7-3. The Pirates' 27th loss in 32 starts.

Detroit's Virgil Trucks ran his hitless string to 5-2-3 innings in a bid for a second straight no-hitter before Billy Hitchcock of the Philadelphia A's broke the spell with one out in the seventh inning. Trucks lost his control after the hit and had to be removed in the eighth. Dick Littlefield finished up his two-hitter for a 5-1 victory.

Cleveland lengthened its lead to three full games in the American as Early Wynn and reliever Mike Garcia proved too much for the Boston Red Sox in a 5-1 night win. The St. Louis Browns helped the Tribe by knocking off second-place Washington, 2-1.

Alice Reynolds turned back Chicago with five hits and delivered a triple and single in the New York Yankees' 5-1 win, their eighth in the last 10 games.

The scheduled Chicago-at-Boston game in the National was rained out.

Gregg Hottest Coast Hurler

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP)—Giant Hal Gregg quit baseball in disgust at the end of the 1950 season.

The 6-foot-4 200-pounder was down physically and mentally. He became an orange grower last year in Anaheim, Calif., where he was born and still lives. But Hal didn't do too well with the citrus, so he tried a comeback this year.

Today, he is the No. 1 pitcher of the Pacific Coast League and one of the big reasons second-place Oakland is only half a game out of the lead. His eight-win and no losses include a seven-inning no-hit masterpiece against Portland May 4.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Since Bananas Bonura is putting in here shortly with his Midland baseballers, perhaps it is time for a story on the inimitable Zekle. Bonura performed for the Washington Senators in the long ago and the Nats headed into Chicago for a series. Seems it was somewhere around Mother's Day and Himmery hadn't forgotten. He was thinking aloud when he said this:

"Gee, I'd like to wire some flowers home, but I'm afraid they'd wilt before they got there."

One of the contributors to the Tony Guerrero Fund in San Angelo, started to bring the little infielder's wife in from Cuba, was J. W. Cadow of Our Town.

Cadow is a Big Spring rooster but, when anteing up, he remarked: "When I see a ball player in trouble, I like to help."

Hardin-Simmons may have picked the wrong season to book Santa Clara for a football game. The two teams meet in Lodi, Calif., Nov. 8.

The Bronchos are supposed to be loaded. They'll boom their big end, Oern Nagler, for All-America.

Harold Davis, who is getting out of the Marines to return to his job as basketball coach at HCCJ, expects to arrive here from California June 4.

Davis should have a fine team in 1952-53, if he can keep all the boys that played for the Hawks last year, and all are eligible again. Bobby Maines, one of the regulars on the Hawk team last season, has an offer to attend Sul Ross but will probably play here.

CARPENTER MAY ATTEND LUBBOCK SCHOOL.

Gene Carpenter, last season an all-district basketball performer for Big Spring High School, is set to attend Texas Tech on an athletic scholarship.

If the Tech coaching staff will work with him, Gene will make the Raiders a stellar hand, in time, for he has the height and the attitude. The other things necessary to become a basketball stand-out will come to him.

Southwest Texas Teachers, which put out one of the best college teams in the country last season, would very much like to have Carpenter in their ranks.

Tyler's baseball club has given up on Armin Samonte, the lad for whom they traded 30 suits prior to the 1952 season. He's been sent to Texas City, where he'll play with Felix Gomez, Juan Izaguirre and Nelson Camper, the Big Spring exes.

The Roswell Rockets have used no less than five players at first base this season.

JOLLEY STANDOUT

Giants Pummel Hobbs, 11-6

The Big Spring Giants thumped the Hobbs Tigers, 11-6, here Wednesday night to achieve their fourth baseball success of the 1952 season without a setback.

The game was unreeled at Steer Park.

Jimmy Jolley, young schoolboy

Warriors Belt Yankees, 12-2

The Indians beat the Yankees, 12-2, in a Little League game played here Wednesday afternoon.

The game was fairly close until the fourth, when the Tribe broke loose. They continued their onslaught against Pat Flynn in the fifth.

It was the second loss of the week for the Yanks, who were nosed out, 6-7, by the Eagles Monday afternoon. That game went nine innings.

The Gold Sox clash with the Eagles in today's game while the Indians and the Oilers have at it Friday.

Detroit's Virgil Trucks ran his hitless string to 5-2-3 innings in a bid for a second straight no-hitter before Billy Hitchcock of the Philadelphia A's broke the spell with one out in the seventh inning. Trucks lost his control after the hit and had to be removed in the eighth. Dick Littlefield finished up his two-hitter for a 5-1 victory.

Cleveland lengthened its lead to three full games in the American as Early Wynn and reliever Mike Garcia proved too much for the Boston Red Sox in a 5-1 night win. The St. Louis Browns helped the Tribe by knocking off second-place Washington, 2-1.

Alice Reynolds turned back Chicago with five hits and delivered a triple and single in the New York Yankees' 5-1 win, their eighth in the last 10 games.

The scheduled Chicago-at-Boston game in the National was rained out.

LaMotta Paces Self To Beat Gene Hairston

By HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT, May 22 (UP)—At Jake LaMotta's age you can't fight slambang for 10 full rounds against a dancing youngster like Eugene (Silent) Hairston. So how did the 30-year-old Bronx Bull gain his mammoth decision over Hairston in a 10-round slugfest match here last night?

"That's easy. I paced myself," grinned the happy veteran of 12 ring years who outweighed 25-year-old Hairston 125 to 160 1/2 pounds. "That's my best fight since I started the comeback."

However, Jake, former middleweight champion, couldn't explode his once-lethal right when he got Hairston in trouble. One of his few good right hands jarred the deaf mute Negro in the eighth round but Hairston clinched and was all right before Jake could move in again.

Jake, aiming for a light heavyweight title fight or a battle against the winner of the Randy Turpin-Don Cockell fight, saved most of his windmill clinching for the last 30 to 45 seconds of each round.

Referee Clarence Rosen scored the fight 53-47. Judge Jack Aspery 55-45, and Judge Joe Lenahan 53-48. The AP score card read 55-45.

In Michigan each official scores 10 points for each round, dividing it on how he evaluates their performances.

Hairston, a middleweight contender, of course had nothing to say but his father Eugene Sr. spoke for him: "His kidneys for the last seven weeks hurt him. Besides he gave up too much weight."

"I think we'll go back to fighting middleweights," he said. Hairston and LaMotta fought to a draw here in March and Gene hadn't met anyone since. Jake decided Norman Hayes of Boston here last month.

Jake now has two victories, a draw and a defeat since he began his comeback in December. It's no secret he would like to fight the winner of the light heavyweight title fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Joey Maxim.

Bengals Play Here Sunday

Ynez Yanes' Big Spring Tigers return to action here Sunday, meeting Odeasa in their first home game of the 1952 season. Starting hour is 3 o'clock.

The Bengals were scheduled to play Odeasa here last week but rain washed out the proceedings.

Yanes said he would probably pitch Bobby Beall against the Odeasans.

The locals have won two of their three starts.

All Citizens Urged To Join In C-C Work Program Sessions

Wednesday afternoon's attendance at the Chamber of Commerce meeting at the Settles Hotel was about the best yet, J. H. (Jimmy) Greene, manager, said this morning.

"We have had a number of persons at these meetings," he commented, "who aren't members of the Chamber of Commerce, and we have certainly been delighted to have them. We want to again emphasize the point that the Chamber of Commerce belongs to the people of Big Spring and Howard County whether they're members or not, and we'll certainly be happy to have them with us this afternoon and at the last meeting tomorrow."

Today's meeting at 3:30 p.m. will be opened, as the others have been during the week, with the serving of refreshments in the office, after which the meeting of the Organizational Affairs Division will be held in the Settles Hotel ballroom. Douglas Orme is general chairman of this group which is composed of the committees on membership; public affairs; budget; general traffic and transportation; military affairs; statistics and research; national affairs and resolutions.

Greene repeated that it isn't just the members of these committees who are expected to attend this afternoon's meeting and the meeting tomorrow, but as many of the citizens as possible, both men and women, regardless of whether they are members.

The meetings which have been held at the same hour each afternoon this week are a part of the local observance of national Chamber of Commerce Week.

Tomorrow afternoon's meeting, the final one in the series of five, will be devoted to the Special Committee Division of which Jack Roden is general chairman. This division is made up of the committees on safety and street traffic; sports; work program; the executive committee; meetings and attendance; special events; publicity and public relations; legislation; greeters; rodeo; taxation and property, and guests and entertainment.

President Truman Jones said that tomorrow's meeting will be one of the most important of all, and he is urging all members and others to make a special effort to be present.

"We have been accomplishing a great deal at these conferences," Jones said, "in getting the committees together and in getting them acquainted with their duties and started on their respective jobs. But we need the attendance of more members and more non-members. We have problems and we will be glad to have as many as possible attend these meetings and join in the discussions. We want their suggestions, and we want them to know what we plan in the way of city improvement and better living conditions."

Assisting Jones with the meetings are Greene and Loyd Wooten, who is in charge of memberships and projects. Miss Edith Gay, secretary, and Mrs. Constance Reque, receptionist, are in charge of serving the refreshments.

Miss Gay and Mrs. Reque say they are very anxious to have more of the women of the community call between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 today and tomorrow afternoon. "We have the facilities here to render some services in which the women will be particularly interested," Miss Gay said, "and so we are anxious for them to call and let us explain these services to them."

Texas Marine Will Receive Navy Cross

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 22 (AP)—Marine Tech. Sgt. John W. Chinners of San Antonio, Tex., will receive the Navy Cross, the nation's second highest award, here tomorrow. The presentation at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here is for exceptional bravery while serving as a section leader of a machine gun company with the First Marine Division in Korea, March 6, 1951.

Chinners is the son of Mrs. Beasie Chinners of San Antonio.

Plan Welcome Week

Final plans for Welcome Week at Humble service stations in this area, May 23-30, are being made by (l. to r.) Zolus Motley, division sales promotion manager; Travis Roberts, agent; and Jack Kimbrough, district sales manager. During Welcome Week, station managers will thank motorists for their friendship and for the privilege of being good neighbors.

Good Neighbor Idea Stressed By Humble 'Welcome Week'

HOUSTON, — Humble service stations in this area are busy getting ready for a big, neighborly celebration to be known as Welcome Week, May 23-30.

"The purpose of Welcome Week is to give Humble station operators all over the state a chance to say, 'Thank you,' to Texas motorists for their friendship, and for the privilege of being good neighbors in the communities they serve," officials of the company said.

A lot of work has gone into planning for the week-long event. Stations have been given an extra good spring cleaning, with rest rooms coming in for particular attention.

Station managers have been inviting folks by letter and in person to stop by during the week. The campaign is being accompanied by a vigorous advertising

Ranch Hand Is Held In Death Of Stepson, 3

HONDO, Tex., (AP) — A rugged ranch hand told yesterday of the fatal beating of his 3-year-old stepson who "yelled in my face."

Earl (Curly) Mathews, 29, is in the county jail charged with murdering the child, Clinton Lee Clark, at their home in nearby Tarpley, Tex., last Sunday.

"Please, sir, tell them I didn't mean to do it," Mathews begged a reporter.

Mathews was arrested Monday after an undertaker reported the child's body bore bruises. An autopsy reported attributed death to a ruptured liver.

He made a signed statement to Dist. Atty. Jim Weatherby of Kerrville admitting he struck the child.

Mathews told a reporter in his cell:

"Yes sir, I hit him. But, mister, I didn't mean to murder that little boy. I don't know what happened but it did. He talked back to me in the bath room and I picked him up and hit him."

"He yelled in my face. He was a spoiled child and I had been trying to train him. I never was mean to him."

Cars Loaded With Gas And Oil Burn

LOWELL, Ind., (AP)—Four railroad tank cars filled with gasoline and oil burst into flames in the center of Lowell's downtown district early today after 14 cars of a Monon Railroad freight train left the rails.

Several of the derailed freight cars also caught fire. Some of them smashed into the railroad depot, which later was destroyed by flames.

More than 150 firemen from Lowell and other communities in Lake County, about 35 miles south of Chicago, fought the blaze throughout the early morning. No one was reported injured.

At Midland Rodeo

The Beeswax Moore Family, with their dogs, mule, car and other props will add comedy and confusion to the fast-moving world championship rodeo at Midland. Dates for the annual event are June 4-8.

Midland Rodeo Opens June 4

MIDLAND — Again it's rodeo time in Midland and plans practically are complete for the staging of the 18th annual world championship event here June 4-8.

A colorful parade scheduled at 4 p.m., Wednesday, June 4, will open the big arena celebration. Hundreds of mounted riders, beautifully decorated floats, motorized units, and high school bands will feature the opening day parade.

Then at 8 o'clock that night in the all-steel arena at Midland Fair Park on East Highway 80, the first of five night rodeo performances will be unveiled.

It will be real Western entertainment as the nation's top cowhands contest the rough and tough rodeo stock for purses and prizes totaling more than $9,000.

Sponsored by Midland Fair, Inc., the show again this year will be produced by Everett Colborn, general manager of Gene Autry and associates' Lightning C Ranch at Dublin.

The 1952 edition of Midland Rodeo also will feature more and better specialty acts than ever before, assuring patrons of a well-rounded entertainment program. Beeswax Moore and Family, the top novelty act in the rodeo world today, will be seen at each of the five shows.

Claims His Device Will Make Money On Roulette

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Donald May has a machine he claims enabled him and two friends to earn $50 an hour on 25-cent bets at roulette wheels in Las Vegas, Nev.

The machine, housed in a small box, has a 12-key calculator and six separate meters which keep track of how certain sets of numbers are winning and losing.

May says he determines which sets are winning the least and "I'll then bet on a set that has failed to show in six, seven or eight times."

He doubles the bet after losing.

DIDN'T LIVE UP TO HIS NAME

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 22 (AP)—A U. S. District Attorney named his registered bird dog "Sooner G-Man."

But the pup turned out to be no rival to J. Edgar Hoover.

Robert E. Shelton discovered someone had pilfered his dog's license and vaccination tags, which turned up mysteriously around the neck of a neighbor's black cocker.

DIVISION MEET AT ABILENE

Legion Conclave Set This Week End

ABILENE—A new State American Legion vice commander will be elected here Sunday, May 25, to round out two days of convention activity for delegates from 195 American Legion Posts in the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 21st congressional districts, the districts comprising the Legion's 5th division.

From 250 to 300 delegates are expected to attend the division convention, to be held Saturday and Sunday in the Windsor Hotel. Burton G. Hackney of Brownfield, will meet in joint session Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the Windsor Hotel. George Overhiner, commander of the local Parramore Post No. 57, will call the convention to order as host commander. R. B. Freeman will give the invocation and Mayor Ernest Grissom of Abilene will deliver the welcome address. E. L. Jackson of Cisco, 17th district commander, will lead the convention in memorial services. Lee Ward of Paragould, Arkansas, a candidate for 1952-53 national commander of the Legion, will be the principal speaker. State Legion Commander Charlie Gibson of Amarillo will also speak.

Following adjournment for lunch, delegates of the Legion and the Auxiliary will hold separate business sessions. The new 5th division commander will be elected during the Legion business session.

BURTON G. HACKNEY

whose one-year term as 5th division commander will expire August 10 at the State Legion convention in Dallas, said the climax of the convention would come on Sunday with the election of his successor.

Hackney said he knew of no announced candidates for the office but he expects a lively contest on the convention floor Sunday. Hackney's successor must be named from the 17th district, however, as the office is rotated on a yearly basis between the five districts comprising the division and it is the 17th district's turn to have the honor. The new State Legion vice commander, one of five assistants to the incoming state commander, will take office August 10 at the State Legion convention in Dallas. Registration for the convention here will get under way Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Windsor Hotel. A rehabilitation conference at 8 p.m. and the convention dance at 8 p.m. will round out the day's activities. The conference panel will be composed of State Legion Adjutant G. Ward Moody of Austin and two State Legion Service Officers, Fred Brookman of Waco and W. H. McGregor of Lubbock. Legionnaires and Auxiliary mem-

Sign's Indicate There'll Be Plenty Of Autos This Summer

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—There are a lot of good automobiles in the used car lots; an increasing number of new cars are coming from the assembly lines; if demand warrants the factories can further increase output.

All this spells out the fact that while some specific makes and models may be in short supply in the new car salesrooms this summer there isn't likely to be any real scarcity of motor vehicle transportation.

There has been considerable talk about a car shortage this summer; it has been in direct contradiction to statements made by representatives of dealer organization before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Witnesses told the committee, considering the terms of a new national defense act, that controls, particularly credit restrictions, made it impossible for dealers to sell all the cars available. The restrictions on installment buying of automobiles since have been lifted by the Federal Reserve Board.

New car sales have been moving upward, but not in the volume that suggests a mid-summer shortage. Seasonal influences coupled with the lifting of installment buying restrictions should give a substantial boost to sales volume in the second quarter.

However, it is worth of note that in this year's January-March quarter new car registrations throughout the United States numbered only 518,715. That was the lowest first quarter total since 1948.

But it is also worth of note that the factories built only 888,689 cars in this year's first three months and that 54,087 of these were shipped to foreign markets.

The figures are important in any attempt to keep the auto industry picture in proper perspective. A goodly number of new cars were carried over from last year and at the end of the first quarter stocks in dealers' hands, in warehouses and in transit from the factory numbered about 286,000 units.

M'Lendon Gets New Network

HOUSTON, May 22 (AP)—Gordon McLendon, president of the Liberty Broadcasting System which suspended operations last week, announced the formation of a new Liberty Radio Network, of which he will be president.

Headquarters of the new network will be at KLBS in Houston and will begin operations in about 30 days, McLendon said.

He said the network will be made up of eight Texas and Louisiana stations including KLBS, KELP in El Paso and KLIF in Dallas—the three members of McLendon's Trinity Broadcasting Company: KXOL in Fort Worth; one San Antonio station and three stations in Louisiana, owned by McLendon's father-in-law, James A. Nos. Tom Cavanaugh, general manager of KLBS, said that the eight-station set up will form the nucleus of a new national radio network.

He said arrangements had been made to band together 60 West Coast and Arizona stations for broadcast of minor league baseball and that these stations will later become a part of the new network.

Senior Likes Mom's Buttermilk Muffins

A tall, husky figure dashes in the front door of 613 Ridgely Dr., de-tours around the living room furniture and drops down at the kitchen table.

The figure is Ronald Farquhar, a member of the graduating class of Big Spring High School. His mother, Mrs. J. T. Farquhar, smiles fondly at him and sighs just a little.

Because seniors are the busiest of the high school students, particularly close to commencement time, the mad noon rush has been going on all spring.

"We hardly see Ronald except at noon," his mother commented. "And we do miss the unhurried hours we had before he was a senior."

When her son entered high school, Mrs. Farquhar started working downtown. "I didn't feel as though I was neglecting him after he got older and he has always been very good about helping me at home," she said.

Ronald is thinking about working in the oil field this summer before entering college in the fall. But his father, who is an electrician, and mother are hesitant. They are cherishing the few remaining months they will all have together.

The Farquhars have been living here about 10 years and are formerly of Fluvanna.

Always a big eater, Ronald will probably miss the homecooked meals his mother prepares when he becomes a freshman at college.

But as often as possible there will be boxes of cookies and candy awaiting him at the post office. And one of his favorite baked treats that will become number one on his food parade away from home will be buttermilk muffins.

That much better because his mother baked them.

BUTTERMILK MUFFINS

Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup shortening (not margarine)

2 eggs
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup hot water

1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla

Method:
Cream together sugar and shortening. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift flour and measure, add soda, baking powder and salt to flour and sift again. Add alternately with buttermilk. Lastly add the hot water and vanilla. Grease muffin pans and flour well. Bake in moderate oven until light brown. These will be rich and moist.

Apple Cake Has Surprise Ingredients

For something different try a Surprise Apple Cake.

Ingredients:
2 tablespoons melted butter
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 cups graham cracker crumbs
3 eggs, separated
1 can (1-3 cups) sweetened condensed milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Grated rind of 1 lemon
2 cups canned or drained, sieved apple sauce
Method:
Mix together butter, cinnamon and graham cracker crumbs. Spread thick layer of crumbs on bottom of buttered 8-inch spring-mold or deep layer cake pan, reserving 1/4 cup for topping. Beat egg yolks well, add milk, lemon juice, rind and apple sauce. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into mold. Cover with remaining cracker crumbs. Bake in moderate oven until lightly browned, about 50 minutes. If cake is to be served cold, leave cake in oven until oven is thoroughly cold.

AMBROSIA ICEBOX CAKE IS COMPANY VERSION OF POPULAR FLAVOR COMBINATION ... easy-to-make dessert blends juicy, ripe oranges with tender shredded coconut.

Frozen Dessert Is Gay Spring Thought

On days when minutes count and the cook needs a dessert for her busy spring schedule, one that has been prepared in her spare time and has mellowed with age in the refrigerator is just what the family ordered.

For instance, she might chop a can of whole cranberry sauce and add vanilla wafer crumbs, fold in the whipped cream and pile into dessert dishes. She chills to serve. There are other ways in which to utilize the convenience of both icebox and vanilla wafers. To make apricot ice box mold, she sprinkles the bottom of the mold or shallow dish with the crushed wafers and adds more crumbs on top. To serve, she cuts the cake into squares or wedges and garnishes with maraschino cherry or a bit of juice.

Apricot Ice Box Mold
1 cup strained orange juice
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 12-ounce can (1 1/2 cups) apricot nectar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Whipped sweetened evaporated milk or cream
Measure orange juice in cup; sprinkle gelatin over it to soften. In a saucepan, heat apricot nectar until almost boiling. Stir softened gelatin into nectar until thoroughly dissolved. Stir in lemon juice.

Spring Flowers
Spring's the time for flowers, no doubt about it. In keeping with this lightness of thought here's a delicate new dessert that is not only pretty as a flower, but even looks like one. In addition, it's delightful to eat, which is more than you can say for a daffodil!

This is the kind of dessert that's just right for a company dinner or a family party. For one thing, it is light enough in both texture and substance to make it the perfect ending for a substantial meal. Best of all, it can be prepared many hours before serving and whisked out of the refrigerator just in time for last-minute garnishing.

Coffee Charlotte
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup ground coffee
1 1/2 cups milk
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
2 egg whites
1 cup heavy cream
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Lady fingers
Maraschino cherries
Beat egg yolks. Add 2 tablespoons sugar gradually, beating constantly; add salt. Add coffee to milk, bring slowly to scalding point and strain through cheesecloth. Add to egg yolk mixture and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon. Sprinkle gelatin on cold water and dissolve in hot custard. Cool slightly. Beat egg whites stiff and fold in. Cool. Whip cream, add remaining sugar and vanilla and fold in. Line sherbet glasses with lady fingers. Fill with custard mixture. Chill until firm. Garnish with additional whipped cream and maraschino cherries. The recipe makes 6 servings.

The family will love this deluxe refrigerator dessert. It's lovely to look at, and as for taste—well, they can judge for themselves when they find that this is really a dressed up, company version of ambrosia, popular combination of juicy, ripe oranges and tender shredded coconut. It's simple to make, and simply wonderful!

Ambrosia Icebox Cake
2 cups orange sections
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup shredded coconut
Sponge cake
1/4 cup cream, whipped
Arrange layers of orange sections in bowl and sprinkle each layer with sugar and coconut. Chill 15 minutes. Meanwhile, line a refrigerator tray with slices of sponge cake cut 1/2 inch thick. Drain juice from orange mixture and pour juice over cake slices. Fold whipped cream into orange mixture and pour over cake. Place tray in freezing compartment of refrigerator, set control for a low speed, and chill 4 hours. Cut in squares to serve. The recipe makes 6 servings.

Peach Marlow
2 packages frozen, or 3 cups canned peaches
1/2 cup peach juice
1/2 pound marshmallows (about 32)

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/4 cup very fine graham cracker crumbs (about 6 crackers)
Defrost and drain peaches, saving 1/2 cup juice. Heat juice and marshmallows in top of double boiler until marshmallows have melted. Stir occasionally so juice will blend thoroughly with melted marshmallows. Set aside to cool. Chop peaches in small pieces, add lemon juice, and cooled marshmallow mixture; blend well.

Thoroughly chill the evaporated milk, mixing bowl and beaters. Whip the chilled milk until it reaches the consistency of whipped cream; fold into the peach mixture. Line the bottom of an 8 by 6 by 2-inch pan with graham cracker crumbs. Pour mixture over crumbs. Chill in refrigerator several hours until set. The amount is for 6 to 8 servings.

Next time the homemaker is having her club in for an afternoon of cards, she will perk up the refreshment period with a date dessert. Either Date Torte or Date Mallow Dessert will serve the purpose.

Date Torte
2 eggs
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/4 cup chopped pitted dates
1 cup coarsely chopped nuts
Break eggs into medium bowl and beat until well blended. Gradually add sugar while beating until light. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt into first mixture. Mix until thoroughly blended. Add vanilla extract, dates and nuts. Mix well. Spread evenly in greased 11 1/2 by 7 1/2 by 1 1/2-inch baking pan. Bake in oven 350 degrees F. for 20-25 minutes. Cut in 8 squares while hot and serve hot or cold with whipped cream. The recipe makes 8 servings.

Date Mallow Dessert
1 cup fine graham cracker crumbs (16 crackers)
1/4 pound marshmallows, cut in small pieces (about 16)
1 1/4 cups (7 1/4-ounce package) pitted dates, cut in small pieces
1 cup nuts, chopped
1/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Combine graham cracker crumbs with marshmallows, dates, nuts, milk and vanilla extract, mixing thoroughly. Pack mixture firmly into an ice tray. Chill in refrigerator several hours. Serve in squares, using a broad spatula or cake server to remove dessert from ice tray. Garnish servings if desired with additional marshmallows and nuts. Serve with a tart lemon sauce. The recipe makes 10-12 servings.

An easy-to-make dessert that's a conversation piece, too, is Ginger-Date Roll. If the cook has peeked at the recipe, she'll see that there's coffee in the Ginger-Date Roll—an elusive hint to give it interest. And she'll need plenty of coffee, piping hot and fragrant, to serve with it.

Ginger-Date Roll
1 1/2 cups fine ginger-snap crumbs
1/4 cup finely cut dates
1/4 pound marshmallows, cut fine
1 cup broken nutmeats
1/4 cup strong coffee
Reserve 1/4 cup crumbs. Combine remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Form into roll, cover with reserved crumbs and wrap tightly with waxed paper. Chill thoroughly. Remove paper. Slice and serve with whipped cream. The recipe makes 8 servings.

As popular today as it was four thousand years ago, the practice of "gingering" food is one of the newest ideas in a rich dessert made by chilling layers of ginger snaps with a coffee-rum flavor mixture.

Ginger-Coffee Dessert
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/4 cups confectioners sugar
4 egg yolks
1/4 cup cold strong coffee
Gingersnaps
1 tablespoon cold strong coffee
1 teaspoon rum flavoring
Cream butter or margarine until light and fluffy. Beat in sugar gradually. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well. Blend in 1/4 cup coffee. Line a loaf pan with wax paper. Arrange layer of gingersnaps on bottom. Combine 1 tablespoon coffee with rum flavoring; sprinkle a little on gingersnaps. Add a layer of filling, then one of gingersnaps, sprinkled with coffee-rum flavoring mixture. Continue until filling is used, ending with gingersnaps. Chill overnight. The recipe serves six.

Lady Finger Dessert
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, separated
1 package lemon gelatin
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
1/4 pound (about 16) marshmallows
1/4 cup (about 20) maraschino cherries (cut in eighths)
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 package (about 18) lady fingers (split)

In a saucepan, mix milk, sugar and beaten egg yolk; cook and stir over low heat until mixture just begins to boil. While hot, pour over package of lemon gelatin; stir to dissolve gelatin. Cool until partly set. Stir in crushed pineapple, marshmallows and cherries. Beat egg white until stiff; fold into mixture. Whip cream and fold in. Line bottom and sides of 10-inch spring form mold with ladyfingers. Pour mixture into mold. Chill at least 6 hours, preferably overnight. The recipe makes 10 to 12 servings.

For Dessert Supreme Try Meringues

How do you like your strawberry shortcake? Made with whipped cream or ice cream? Served on shortcake... biscuits... or on meringues?

If you're one of the many who go for the meringue type but have always thought them too difficult to make, here are a few rules to keep in mind. The big secret is getting the egg whites very frothy. This is easier to do if you use eggs at room temperature that are not strictly fresh. They'll beat more readily and will produce a greater volume. Be sure to bake in a very slow oven and your meringues should be as crispy as any you've ever tasted.

There are few ingredients that can be added successfully to meringue, but one that seems ideal is the new sugar-coated puffed corn cereal. Folded in at the very last moment before baking the cereal stays as crunchy and flavorful as it was in its gay cereal box. Fill the meringue with ice cream, cover with strawberries for the dessert supreme.

Choose Shoulder Chops For Next Meal

Veal, carefully cooked to fork tenderness and sauced with know-how, is equally at home for family dinners or company fare. Consider the blade or round bone shoulder chops for the next veal meal you serve. They are good buys of veal and contain less fat and more muscle than the highly priced rib and loin chops. Yet, when carefully cooked over low heat and for the proper length of time, they boast the same fine delicate flavor and tenderness.

To make the best possible entree from veal chops, start with top grade meat. The chops are usually cut from 1-4 to 1-3 inches thick and should have a good proportion of fat. A well known brand is also an assurance of quality.

Veal chops need special care in cooking. For real perfection, dip veal in milk or French dressing, then into seasoned flour or cracker crumbs before browning in hot fat. Then cover with liquid or sauce and cook over low surface heat or in a moderate oven until fork tender. This "breading" and browning process not only enhances the flavor of the meat, but also helps to "seal in" the flavorful meat juices.

The sauce may begin with a canned condensed cream soup such as tomato, celery, mushroom or chicken, or a thin sauce of bouillon, consommé, tomato juice, sour cream, milk or water with seasonings added. Use your imagination for the extra touches. Sliced onion, ripe or pimiento olives, lemon, herbs, meat sauces or spicy fruits go well with the veal flavor.

Veal Chops With Sour Cream
Yield: 4 to 6 servings
4 veal shoulder chops (1/2 inch thick)
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon marjoram
2 tablespoons fat
1/4 cup sliced onion
1 cup water
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon paprika
1/4 cup toasted chopped almonds
Dip chops in flour seasoned with salt and marjoram. Brown chops on both sides in hot fat in a heavy skillet. Add onion and water. Cover and cook over low heat 45 minutes or until meat is tender. Add sour cream, paprika, and almonds. Cover and cook 15 minutes more until flavors are blended.

No Expert Required To Prepare Chicken Pie

Culinary experts tell us that the chicken has departed further from its original jungle existence than almost any other bird. The chicken which once ran wild is now carefully cultivated and the result is a meatier bird with a greater proportion of tender white meat.

There are many ways to prepare chicken and one of the best is the simplest. It's a delicious pot pie made with chicken, vegetables and mushrooms in a rich cream sauce, topped with a crisp corn flakes-butter mixture.

Baked in individual casseroles, Chicken Pie Palmer House is simple enough to serve at family meals. Sure to please all tastes, including the most discriminating.

Chicken Pie Palmer House
3 cups cooked chicken
1 cup cooked carrots
12 cooked onions
12 cooked potato balls
1/2 cup button mushrooms
4 tablespoons shortening or chicken fat
4 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 cups chicken stock
1 cup thin cream or milk
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
3 cups corn flakes
Arrange pieces of chicken which have been removed from bone, carrots, onion, potato balls and mushrooms in six individual casseroles. Melt shortening, add flour and seasonings; add chicken stock and cream slowly, stirring constantly. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently until thickened. Pour over chicken and vegetables. Sprinkle melted butter over corn flakes and stir until each flake is buttered. Cover tops of casseroles with corn flakes. Bake in preheated very hot oven (500 F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Yield: 6 individual casseroles.

One-Dish Sausage Meal
Here's a one-dish sausage meal. Shape one pound of bulk pork sausage into six rolls and place them in a cold frying-pan. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons of water, cover and cook until the water evaporates, about 10 minutes. Alternate layers of cooked macaroni seasoned with grated onion and sauerkraut in a casserole. Arrange the sausage rolls, wheel spoke fashion, over the top. Add 2 tablespoons of sausage drippings and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 1 hour.

Scientific Approach To Note Tornadoes Is An Exacting One

By SAUL FELDMAN

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 22 (AP)—Tornadoes still strike often with deadly force and destruction, but more are beginning to take the form of the terror out of the cry: "A twister is coming."

Right now, the main aim of weather forecasters is to warn residents in the path of the swirling black funnels, but there is also the hope that perhaps some day scientists may be able to take the sting out of the tornado.

Oklahoma is part of the testing ground for tornado warning development and with the electronic age and the success of weather forecasters in predicting conditions favorable for tornadoes, more and more people of the prairie country are relying on the radio to warn them when to seek shelter.

The scientific approach to tornadoes is an exacting one, and a warning is sent out only after the checking of data reported by hundreds of weather observers throughout the country.

Three different groups in Oklahoma are concerned with tornado forecasting and tracking. The Weather Bureau this year for the first time is giving wide publicity to tornado forecasts; the severe storm warning center at Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma City issues warnings for military installations and Oklahoma A. & M. College is doing research on tornado tracking.

The Tinker warning center was formed after a $10 million dollar tornado in March, 1948, wrecked part of the installation. Lt. Col. E. J. Fawbush, weather officer for the base, was assigned to command the Air Force weather office with Maj. Robert C. Miller as his assistant.

Both Fawbush and Miller, while serving at air bases in the South, had noticed certain peculiarities during periods of tornado conditions.

"The officers began compiling weather data and using it to warn military installations of severe storms."

"Find these conditions and putting them together is just like baking a cake," Fawbush explains. "You have to mix the ingredients in the proper order and provide the proper temperature to get the right results."

The severe storm center has found that the conditions needed for a possible tornado are narrow bands of moist southerly winds on top and a squall line of colder air moving from the west so that they will collide.

These are the conditions needed, but they don't always end in a tornado. The squall line, which is a series of thunderstorms, is the trigger.

With the warm air moving under the cold air of the thunderstorms, the atmosphere becomes out of balance because of the severe differences of temperature. The warmer air, which is light, starts to rise rapidly to regain the equilibrium and here is created the maximum instability.

The Weather Bureau uses similar methods to arrive at its forecasts with all agencies exchanging information.

W. E. Maughan, of the Weather Bureau, points out one of the bureau's requirements is upper air data and said an increasing amount of such information must be obtained to become more accurate. The tornado forecasters are trying to hold their predictions within a 10,000 square mile area and to give at least three hours warning.

For many years, it was feared tornado predictions would cause panic, but a survey made by radio station WKY in Oklahoma City found only two of 1,600 listeners who did not warn broadcasts.

At Oklahoma A. & M. College, Dr. H. L. Jones directs the tracking of the twisters after they are located. He evolved the theory that only thunderstorms spawning tornadoes carried a high electric charge.

Using a cathode ray oscilloscope, which converted the electric charges so they could be seen on a screen similar to a television screen, he charted the intensity of different storms. Now he is building another charting station with a grant from the Signal Corps so that the two stations can get a fix on a tornado. By following it with oscilloscope and radar, Jones hopes to be able to warn cities in its path.

"God Be My Witness"

Airman 3c Clarke H. Boesen, 24, of Boelus, Neb., one of six survivors of a B-28 and a fighter plane collision over the Pacific Ocean at San Diego, Calif., tells his experience as he and other survivors arrived at San Diego aboard the cruiser USS Toledo. "God be my witness, I'll never say anything about the Navy again," he told Toledo crewmen after they fished him from the sea. Eight other airmen are dead or missing in the crash. (AP Wirephoto).

Minnesota Braces For Big Insect Invasion In Timber

HIBBING, Minn. (AP)—An insect invasion that will strip huge timber trunks of foliage as completely as the autumn frosts confronts Northern Minnesota this summer.

The marauders will be forest tent caterpillars — in uncounted trillions. The caterpillars will be forest tent caterpillars — in uncounted trillions.

A number of communities, including Hibbing, had severe attacks last year. Millions of adult caterpillars moths, attracted from surrounding timberlands by street lights, coated trees with egg masses.

Some trees in Hibbing are estimated to have as many as 10 million eggs ready to hatch this month. Brick walls along Howard Street, Hibbing's main thoroughfare, were cemented with egg masses last summer when the frantic moths were unable to find trees on which to lay eggs.

Only an eighth of an inch long when hatched, the young caterpillar grows to nearly two inches in eight or nine weeks of steady feeding.

When the worms mature and before they enter the cocoon stage, they get an urge to "march." Last year, Northern Minnesota highways were coated with billions of caterpillars. Cars skidded over the pavement as if on ice.

Householders in some areas had to shovel the worms from their doorsteps. Cars were coated inches deep with worms "on the march." The sound of millions of mature worms eating in trees could actually be heard.

Despite their appetite for leaves, A. W. Buzicky, associate state entomologist, says tent caterpillars are not considered a timber hazard. Wood growth is not appreciably reduced if growing conditions are otherwise favorable, he says.

There may be a "crash decline" of the worms next year, Buzicky says. Rapid development of the worms' natural enemies has been noted. Chief among these is a large fly which lays eggs on the cocoon. The eggs hatch almost at once and the maggots soon hollow out the cocoon.

Faced with the prospect of walking on hundreds of thousands of caterpillars, residents of communities are calling for public subscription to funds to pay for spraying. A solution of DDT sprayed from airplanes has proved effective.

Hundreds of resort owners protected property that way last year. Colored slides of forest lands sprayed last spring show the resorts as green oases, surrounded by stripped timber.

U.S. Strength Is Missing In Mid-East Area

By L. S. CHAKALES

CALGO (AP)—The American policy of creating "situations of strength" to meet Communist aggression is conspicuous by its absence in the Middle East.

A diligent six-week search in Lebanon, Jordan, Syria, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and the oil-rich Persian Gulf states for American "situations of strength" was a failure. There are no modern American tanks, planes, guns or ammunition in this strategic million square miles. There is not a single American military mission attached to any of the Arab forces.

Not one Arab state will openly support a Middle East Defense Command with the United States in charge. Nor will the Arabs at present accept any other Western country to head such a command. Everywhere Arab leaders said: "Give us arms and we'll defend ourselves."

No arms have been sent from the United States. So far as it is known none have been committed. One of the reasons the Arabs will not accept a Middle East Command under the United States or any other Western power is the fear that Israel would be included.

Not a single Arab, high or low, was found who did not flatly declare that the creation of Israel was the work of American Zionists supported by the United States government.

One of the reasons the United States will not send arms to the Arab states, a high diplomatic source said, is the fear that they will attack Israel.

And an Arab leader interviewed later said "we might." The diplomat added the United States is not sufficiently convinced the Arabs would stand up and fight once they had the arms, "and we don't want to supply our enemy with arms through capture." The comparable British position is much better, excluding the dispute with Egypt.

Any thrust into the Middle East would find the decisive battles fought somewhere along the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers. A treaty gives Britain two air bases in Iraq and the necessary communications to support the fields.

Britain has another treaty with Jordan, whose Arab legion of about 40,000 is acknowledged to be the best equipped and trained force in the Arab world.

Price Drop Of 10 Per Cent Is Seen For U. S. By Economists

By SIGRID ARNE
WASHINGTON, May 22 (U.S.)—Some government economists think that hard-pressed Mr. American daddy can begin to look ahead to a cut in living costs that may run up to 10 per cent on some items—could even be 10 per cent across the board.

This price drop has been cooking for about a year. It started with raw material prices in world markets. It spread to U. S. wholesale prices. It is just beginning to hit the prices of manufactured things in stores.

Several makers have announced cuts of 5 to 10 per cent in men's fall woolen suits. Several shoe manufacturers have announced they will chop fall prices from 50 cents to a dollar. Further cuts have been announced for shortening, soap and some washing machines.

The guess that general living costs may drop 10 per cent is by economists both in the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) and on the staff of the Federal Reserve Board.

Last week the Emergency Court of Appeals ruled that wholesale and retail grocers might apply for higher price ceilings under the Capperham Amendment to the Price Control Act. This decision must still be reviewed by the Supreme Court.

Some officials of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) expressed the opinion that living costs might rise if the Supreme Court upholds the emergency court.

BLS economists say they think it would have little effect on overall price levels—that individual food items would rise no more than 1 per cent and that these rises would be offset by drops in other food prices as the summer's crops come in.

Last week too the reserve board suspended its Regulation W—which called for high down-payments and high monthly installments on autos and household appliances.

Board economists say they expect this to have little if any effect on the cost of living either. They say they think it will do little more than "firm" auto prices for six months or so. They doubt it will have any effect on the dropping prices of household appliances. Most important, they don't think it will increase prices. Regulation W is still on the books, and the board could put it into effect again if it thinks it necessary.

Whatever general drop in living costs may occur, no one expects it to be a rapid one, right through the floor, in the manner of the '30s.

Here's what has happened to some of the most important raw materials that go into the things Mr. American daddy buys for the family:

Wool, at a high of 43 1/4 cents a pound in January, 1951, have dropped to around 15 cents a pound.

Wool was at a high of $4.35 a pound in January, 1951, and is now down to around $1.73.

Rubber went up to 87 1/2 cents a pound in November, 1951, and is now down to 48 1/2 cents.

These large drops in wholesale prices might make it look as though store prices should have dropped more than they have. But BLS experts point out other important costs which haven't dropped. Labor costs make up 30 to 40 per cent of the prices of things you buy. Transportation costs are up. Some of the merchandise on store shelves was made from the higher-cost materials bought a year ago.

Much of the Korean War jump in prices was due to harding by both large speculators and householders who thought things were going to become a great deal more scarce than they did.

But six months after the fighting started, by January, 1951, that buying craze wore off. Now BLS men think people have settled down to buying just what they need, when they need it.

That means, they say, that for the first time since World War II prices may be set more by what people are willing to pay than by what sellers demand.

Actually, BLS price men say there are two price trends. The downward trend has hit ordinary goods that people buy to wear and to use in their houses. But the things needed for the government rearmament program stays high or keeps going on up—like metals and machines.

Scattered kinds of services are still going up too.

So far the for-sure drops have been on clothes and household appliances. The for-sure increased recorded in BLS figures are in doctors' fees, hospital charges, insurance rates and transportation.

There are several things that the careful Mr. American daddy must watch in the months ahead if he is trying to spend wisely.

BLS people think that Americans have not really stopped buying in a big way. They still have a good deal of money in savings accounts and in bonds that they could spend quickly if (1) prices really dropped (2) there was another war scare or (3) they thought prices had leveled off and there was no sense waiting for some convenience like a new refrigerator.

Big spending would put upward pressure on prices again.

But for the long pull government economists feel that when raw material prices drop—as they have been doing for a year—the drop on the price tickets in stores must come along eventually.

MONKEYS HAVE FUN ON PLANE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22 (U.S.)—A Pan American clipper pilot, 600 miles out over the Pacific, glanced down and "suddenly saw this scrawny tall. I made a grab, but whoosh—out jumped a monkey."

Pilot Robert F. Setterfield of Palo Alto, Calif., said the Macaque, one of a shipment of 100 from Bangkok, played about the nose compartment until he landed that night. He also had 57 human passengers.

Cargo attendants discovered six other monkeys running loose in the baggage compartment.
