PRODIGAL SON SERMON THEME

REV. HAM FIRST DIRECTS ATTENTION TO THE ELDER SON OF THE PARABLE.

SOME LESSONS FROM HIM

Sermon Closed With Powerful Appeal That Was Heeded By Many.

Rev. Ham preached a convincing sermon from the parable of the Prodigal Son last night. Many were stirred with conviction and a number professed at the altar meeting.

Rev. J. W. Hill spoke briefly before the sermon. He said that a recent religious census of the city showed 160 heads of families who had been members of churches before coming to Wichita Falls who are not connected with any church here. He then related an amusing story about the substitution of some rotten fish for a basket of fresh fish that a parishioner was carrying to his pastor by a mischievous boy. He discovers that the fish are rotten and starts back home with them but on the way back the boy again substitutes the fresh fish for the rotten. When he discovers the fresh fish in his basket upon his return home the farmer exclaimed: "You are all right when you are in the country, but you are rotten when you get to town."

"That is the way with some of these Christians out of the church," said Dr. Hill, "they are all right in the country, but they are rotten when they come to town."

In beginning his sermon Rev. Ham said that three characters were represented in the text; the father and his two sons. The sons, he said, represent two kinds of sinners. The older is puffed up and stuck on himself and remains at home. The other wanders away.

The elder brother was a Pharisee and did not like the company that his younger brother kept. Just as the Pharisees objected to Jesus' associates. The elder brother was a nice young fellow and nobody knew it better than himself.

The older brother has his counterpart in everyday life. He knows more than anybody else and gets mad if you do not consult him. This elder brother does not have a single Christian virtue. He is always right in his own eyes but hasn't sense enough to know that he is all wrong in the eyes of every one else. He says when I become a Christian I will become one right. I'll show them how to be a Christian.

"If you can do this you get busy," admonished the evangelist. "I mean you old sinner on the outside criticizing those on the inside. The old publican will be saved. You old Pharisees are going to hell."

Rev. Ham then turned to the Prodigal Son. The younger brother is the unfortunate one, he said. He was sinful and wanted liberty. He felt he had too many restraints and that if he could only get away from home and home restraints he would be free and could have a good time and accomplish great things. That is so like many young men and sinners today.

"The lad begins to look into a far country. He wants to leave home but he has not the courage to speak of it at first but after a little decides that he does not want anything at home but his part of the goods. He tells his father he does not care for the home and his love, advice and companionship, he only wants the

M. M. Cooke, who for the past two years has been employed in the engineers office of the Wichita Falls Route, has been made chief engineer for that system. An official circular announcing the appointment was issued today. Mr. Cooke has been acting as chief engineer most of the time since the resignation of R. A. Thompson several months ago, and his promotion is a very appropriate recognition of his ability. Before coming to the Wichita Falls Route Mr. Cooke had been employed on the Panama Canal and previous to that time had been with the Cotton Belt five years as a draughtsman and instrument man.

Mr. Cooke announces the appointment of B. F. House as division engineer with headquarters at Woodward, Okla.

goods that are coming to him. That is what the sinner does when he leaves God, willing to accept all his mercies and blessing but cast him aside.

"This young son gets ready to leave home. He makes great preparation, fine clothes and all these things that he might leave in great style. He tells all the boys about it and they all envy him of his trip and what he is going to do in the future. They wish they could do as this young man.

"When he gets away from home he is free and makes lots of friends because he has lots of money and is willing to spend it. He is a jolly good fellow. He paints the town red up one side and down the other, and while he is painting the town red he is painting his face red.

"The Prodigal decides he wants a job, but he is not the kind now that can get a job. As he is a big fellow he thinks he ought to have a big job, when he is not capable of doing anything. He becomes discouraged because his money is almost gone and his friends desert him, his clothes become ragged and dirty, and it is harder than ever now to get a job. No one wants a man like this. He leaves town to find a job but the only job he can get is taking care of hogs. Now he is a Jew and the hog business to Jews was the lowest down business a man could get into but he has to do something, so he begins to feed the hogs. His employer did not care anything for him and would not feed him and he became hungry. This hog business is quite

Seventy-Five New Street Lights May Be Installed

The light committee of the city council has been authorized to open negotiations with the two gas companies for the installation of 75 street lights to be placed mostly in the residence section. It is believed that if a satisfactory rate can be secured the council will authorize contracts for the additional lights. It was pointed out at the meeting last night that while the business section of the city was well lighted the greater portion of the residence section was in darkness.

COLONEL GREEN MAKES DENIAL

Says on Stand He Has Never Employed Anybody to Write Him Up.
New York, Dec. 8.—Col. Edward H. R. Green, son of Hetty Green,

U.S. MARSHAL'S SEARCH FOR WITNESSES

Los Angeles, Dec. 8.—With United States deputy marshals searching for one hundred and twenty-eight witnesses summoned to appear before the federal grand jury, that body's second day of investigation into the sources of the alleged nationwide dynamite conspiracy was taken up here today.

Ortie E. McNamara, who has confessed to many of the dynamite crimes, occupied the entire time of the jury yesterday and probably will be recalled today. It is unlikely any indictment will be returned for a week or even longer. The whereabouts of some of the witnesses are not known, and it will take many days to get them all. It is reported here that the scope of the Los Angeles inquiry may be limited to cleaning up the Pacific coast angles of the plot, leaving to the Indianapolis investigation, the countrywide ranges. In this connection it is recalled that Burns recently said the newspapers between the Rocky Mountains and Appalachians probably would get the first news of the next important arrests. When the McNamaras will go to the penitentiary is a complete mystery.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE ENDS ANNUAL SESSION

Waco, Texas, Dec. 8.—The Masonic grand lodge closed its session Thursday afternoon, after the installation of officers. The session has been a pleasant one and the attendance was surprisingly large. Except for Wednesday and Thursday, the weather has been ideal.

Grand Master Cochran announced the following appointments: Grand chaplain, Rev. William H. Greenburg of Dallas; grand marshal, Charles L. Alderman of Big Springs; grand senior deacon, T. T. Vander Hoeven of San Antonio; grand junior deacon, W. T. C. Napier, of San Antonio; grand senior steward, W. R. Hepler of Waco; grand junior steward, E. C. Street of Waco; grand pursuivant, Wallace Tyler of Belton; grand tiler, J. J. Ray of Stephenville.

The committee on work remains here about ten days. It will begin Friday giving instructions and will hold two sessions daily for five days. Then it will remain in session three days to issue certificates.

During the morning session the grand lodge received a proposition to amend the constitution, allowing only one delegate from each lodge. It will be submitted to subordinate lodges and will come up at the next annual meeting.

An amendment to the constitution was adopted providing that a past grand master of any lodge who demits retains his membership provided he unites with another lodge within six months.

The grand master was authorized to appoint a committee on constitution and by-laws, to report next year.

Judge Anson Rainey, for his committee, appointed to raise a sum to care for the graves of the Masonic dead on Johnson's island, reported $91 collected.

The following are the chairmen of the standing committees: Finance, W. L. Burdett; transportation, John Watson; foreign correspondence, T. M. Matthews, Sr.; Masonic history, C. C. Kidd; grievance and appeals, R. M. Elgin; Masonic jurisprudence, Anson Renfro; printing, John Watson.

150 PLUNGED INTO RIVER BRIDGE SWEEP AWAY

By Associated Press.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 8.—Between one hundred and fifty and two hundred workmen were plunged into Volga River today near Kazan when masses of floating ice swept away a railroad bridge, on which they were working. It is hoped that some of them may escape by climbing onto ice floes.

WERE FINED FOR SELLING WILD DUCKS

Galveston, Texas, Dec. 8.—Chas. Bemack and Louis V. Schembre were fined today for selling ducks, each paying ten dollars and costs. The court refused to recognize the game warden's argument that each of the 134 ducks seized, constituted a separate offense.

RECREANT TO LABOR'S CAUSE

PRESIDENT GOMPERS AND OTHER LEADERS CONDEMN THE McNAMARAS.

WELCOME INVESTIGATION

Declare First Knowledge of Brothers' Guilt Was Conveyed by Press in Confession.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—Brandling James B. and John J. McNamara as "recreant to the good name and high ideals of labor," and expressing the satisfaction of organized labor that the "culprits have been commensurately punished for their crime," the McNamara ways and means committee of the American Federation of Labor, after a two days' conference here, yesterday issued a statement vigorously condemning the McNamaras for their "inhumanity" and declaring that organized labor should not be held "either legally or morally responsible for the crimes of an individual member."

The labor leaders assert that they "will welcome any investigation which either Federal or State courts may undertake."

The statement is signed by every member of the McNamara committee except F. M. Ryan, president of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Union, with which John J. McNamara, one of the convicted Los Angeles Times dynamiters, was prominently connected officially. Mr. Ryan returned to Indianapolis early today.

"Had he remained, however," said President Gompers positively, "I am sure that Mr. Ryan would have added his name. He was called back to Indianapolis by pressure of business. He did not see the statement, but I am sure he is in hearty accord with its sentiments."

As to their knowledge of the crime to which the McNamaras confessed, the committee in its statement declares:

"We here and now, individually and collectively, declare that the first knowledge or intimation of their guilt was conveyed by the press in their confessions of guilt."

"From the outset we assured all laborers and the public generally that we would publish an accounting of the moneys received from whom received and to whom paid. A report in full will be made first to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at its meeting to be held at Washington, Jan. 8, 1912."

Further than this Mr. Gompers would say nothing in regard to the defense fund money.

"Organized labor of America," the statement continues, "has no desire to condone the crimes of the McNamaras. It joins in the satisfaction that the majesty of the law has been maintained and the culprits commensurately punished for their crime."

Partly condoning the crime of the McNamaras, however, the statement reads immediately after:

"...and yet it is an awful commentary upon existing conditions when any one man among all the millions of workers can bring himself to the frame of mind that the only means to secure justice for labor is in violence, outrage and murder."

"It is cruelly unjust to hold the men of the labor movement either legally or morally responsible for the crimes of an individual member. No such moral code or legal responsibility is placed upon any other association of men in our country."

"In so far as we have the right to speak in the name of organized labor, we welcome any investigation which either Federal or State courts may undertake. The sessions of the conventions of the American Federation of Labor are held with open doors that all may see and hear what is being said and done. The books, accounts and correspondence of the federation are open to any competent authority who may desire to make a study or an investigation of them."

DIVORCE MATINEE IN DISTRICT COURT

Divorce suits occupied the stage in the district court Thursday afternoon when Judge P. A. Martin dissolved six marital ties that had brought unhappy results. The evidence in each case was taken down by the court stenographer and will be made a matter of court record. Judge Martin inaugurated this policy when he became upon the bench so that the evidence might be available for reference in the future.

In each of the following six suits divorces were granted the plaintiffs: Mattie Alkin vs. J. D. Alkin.
C. C. Cowley vs. Lillian J. Cowley.
Myrtle Montgomery vs. J. J. Montgomery.
Tessa J. Johnson vs. Geo. N. Johnson.
Pearl R. Johnson vs. Lee M. Johnson.
L. E. Gill vs. J. L. Gill.

In the County Court.
Two drunks and two for unlawfully riding on a train, were the pleas of guilty in the county court this morning. Three were remanded to the public road and one paid his fine.

GOOD PROGRESS ON THE N. W. EXTENSION

Rails will be laid to the banks of the South Canadian river by the Wichita Falls and Northwestern on the thirtieth of this month. December 15th was the date on which it was planned to reach the river, but Chief Engineer Cook received advices from the front today that unless severe weather interfered the river would be reached two days earlier than had been planned.

Track laying is also in progress south of Woodward and the steel mill is now within one and one-half miles of Supply, sixteen miles north of Woodward south to the river so that track laying can be rushed and the line connected from Wichita Falls to Supply as soon as the bridge is completed across the river. It is hoped to build this bridge within sixty days.

BACON APPOINTED POSTMASTER AGAIN

Washington dispatches announce that President Taft has sent the nomination of Otis T. Bacon to the Senate as postmaster at Wichita Falls.

Quick Witted Telephone Operator.
By Associated Press.
Corpus Christi, Texas, Dec. 8.—A telephone call from a local meat market last night aroused the suspicion of Mrs. Fagg, the telephone operator. She knew no one was ordinarily there at that hour. She contrived to delay the call until she could send a policeman to the market, where the officer found the person trying to make the call was a negro who had just robbed the cash register.

Daughters Disagree.
Houston, Texas, Dec. 8.—It appears likely that the Texas Daughters of the Confederacy, now in session here, will not be able to donate a home for aged women at Austin without carrying the matter to the courts. A part of the daughters contend that the charter of their organization grants no authority to transfer real estate.

AN UNEXPECTED PERFORMANCE

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Half an hour spent in a west side theatre last night waiting for the moving picture show to begin brought a restless audience a wholly unexpected performance. At the end of that time C. O. Harding, proprietor of the place, staggered down the aisle. His clothing was torn, his hat and collar gone, hands and face cut, and bleeding.

"I couldn't get here any sooner," he exclaimed, "and I apologize for the fact that there will be no moving pictures tonight." He then explained that he had been attacked by two robbers who took not only his diamonds and money totaling about fourteen thousand dollars and gave him a terrible beating, but that they robbed him also of the films he was bringing for last night's show. One of the diamonds taken was in a tight fitting ring, which the bandits threatened to get even if they had to cut off his finger. One drew a knife and then Harding begged to be allowed to remove this ring himself.

CHARLIE COTTON ON MARKET TODAY

Several wagon loads of cotton from the Charlie community were on the street this morning and while the quality was not good and the market was down this morning there seemed to be active competition among the cotton buyers.

Among the farmers having cotton were: O. B. Leath and J. T. McClure, nine bales; J. F. Morrison, nine bales; G. C. Curington, nine bales; W. B. Bush, three bales; and J. O. Cooper, one bale. All of this cotton was hauled to town this morning by these men and disposed of to local cotton buyers.

O. B. Leath, who in partnership with J. T. McClure, planted one hundred and fifty acres of cotton this year, said this morning that they had already marketed fifty-seven bales of the one hundred and fifty acres planted, and that a good deal remained in the field yet to be picked.

Latest Nobel Prizes.

Stockholm, Dec. 8.—The Nobel prize awards for the present year are calculated to give little ground for self-complacency to Americans. Though the formal announcement of the awards will not be made until day after tomorrow, which will be the anniversary of the founder's death, the prospective recipients already are known, with the exception of the person or persons who will receive the prize for performing the most useful service of the year in promoting peace.

The prize for chemistry goes to Mme. Curie, chief professor of sciences in the University of Paris, who, with her husband, discovered radium. The prize for physics, which it was believed some time ago would be awarded to Thomas A. Edison, the American inventor, will go instead to Professor Wilhelm Wien of Wurzburg University. Maurice Maeterlinck, the well known Belgian author and playwright, will receive the literary prize, while the prize in medicine will be awarded to Professor Alvar Gullstrand, of the faculty of medicine of Upsala University, for research work in connection with his study of the eye.

In the eleven years of the Nobel foundation the prizes have been awarded to sixty individuals and to two peace societies. Only two of the sixty have been Americans. A prize in physics was awarded to A. A. Michelson of the University of Chicago, a German by birth, and one of the peace prizes went to President Roosevelt for his services in promoting peace between Russia and Japan. So far no other American has been recognized as worthy of the distinguished honor.

ASLEEP AT SWITCH BUT MADE ESCAPE

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Dec. 8.—Although "asleep at the switch," last night, the burglar who robbed a jewelry store here escaped the police. The burglar alarm in the Tekulsky and Freedman's jewelry store rang at 2:30 a. m.

The police rushed to the store, but found no one. At daylight the negro janitor in the store found a man asleep with his head on a jewelry desk. When addressed as "Boss," this man got up, transferred a gold watch from his hat to his pocket and stroiled out to freedom. He passed a large policeman in front of the store.

MUCH MYSTERY ABOUT REYES

REPORTS FROM AS MANY SOURCES HAVE HIM IN THREE WIDELY SEPARATED POINTS.

STEAMER WAS SEARCHED

Uncle Sam's Officials Are On the Look-out for Filibustering Expeditions Into Mexico.

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 8.—It is reported a telegram was received here this morning from Reyes at Camargo, Mexico across the river from Texas. His family have defied this and produced a telegram purporting to come from him at St. Louis. It is believed here Reyes is in Mexico.

A Steamer Searched.

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, Dec. 8.—The steamer "Bursted" was searched by the United States secret service men today on the point of sailing for Frontera, Mexico. No evidences of a filibustering expedition were found but it is reported that the Mexican consul would endeavor to have the vessel held here for the present until the rumors of war shipments can be cleared up.

Believed Near Brownsville.

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Dec. 8.—More mystery has been created about the movements of Reyes by a San Antonio report that he had passed through St. Louis. It is believed that Reyes is still in the vicinity of Brownsville as the secret agents report. Small uprisings are reported in the States of Tlaxcala, Puebla and Zacatecas.

REYES IN ST. LOUIS.

Mexican General on Way to National Capitol.

San Antonio, Dec. 8.—Gen. Bernardo Reyes passed through St. Louis Thursday on his way to Washington, where in all probability he will see President Taft, Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor and others. The way has been paved for the general in Washington and New York, and it is likely something interesting will develop within the next two or three days. In going East General Reyes has baffled the secret service of Mexico government have been fooled just as much. It is, however, conceded the general left here Monday morning in his automobile and after proceeding southward stopped for a minute on the Mexican border and then turning around made his way to the East. Just what his movements mean is puzzling even his friends and the members of his family. His youngest son received the message which said the general was on his way to Washington, and he had no explanation to offer in the matter at all. It is presumed, however, the general is going East in connection with recent charges filed against him.

12,814,832 Bales Had Been Ginned in U. S. Up to Dec. 1

By Associated Press.
Washington, Dec. 8.—Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, have ginned thus far this year, more cotton than ever before was grown within their borders. Every cotton growing state except Arkansas, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Tennessee, already have ginned more cotton than was grown last year or the year before, according to the census bureau report today to December 1. To that date the ginnings exceeded the total seasons ginnings of every year except 1904, 1906 and 1908, and came within 637,000 bales of the total ginned in 1904, the record year.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—The census bureau's sixth cotton ginning report of the season, issued at 10 a. m. today, and showing the number of running bales, counting round as half bales, of cotton of the growth of 1911 ginned prior to December 1, with comparative statistics to the corresponding date for the past three years, is as follows:

United States 12,814,832 bales, compared with 10,139,712 bales last year, when 87.7 per cent of the entire crop was ginned prior to December 1, 8,876,886 bales in 1909, when 88.1 per cent was ginned; and 11,008,661 bales in 1908, when 84.1 per cent was ginned.

A Bit of Swagger

Is what the "young ones" dote on, shoulders squared, chest forward, chin in the air, head high, that's the spirit of the day. Our Boy's New York, made clothes are preeminently for the youth of today. They lend that trim, well-set-up air, which denotes the thoroughbred. Our Boy's Clothes make the mediocre figure look manly, and the manly figure look manlier. The amazing thing about them is how such thoroughly good clothes can be sold at such moderate prices.

TAX LEVY MADE SALARIES FIXED

THERE WILL BE NO CHANGE IN CITY TAX RATE BEFORE 1914.

TAX ASSESSOR RAISED

New Duties Added to His Office and His Salary Raised $25 Per Month. Other's Unchanged.

The tax levy for the ensuing two years was made and the salaries of the mayor, members of the city council, the chief of police, city attorney, city secretary and city tax assessor and collector after April 1, 1912, were fixed as provided by law at Thursday night's session of the city council.

The tax levy was continued at 65 cents, divided as follows: 25 cents on the hundred dollars' valuation for the general fund; 9 cents for the sinking fund; 16 cents for interest on bonds; and 15 cents for street repair and improvements; a poll tax of $1 for all male citizens between the ages of 60 years and occupation taxes of one-half the amount of similar taxes levied by the state.

The tax collector was the only official whose salary was changed. It was ordered that the collection of sewer rentals be added to that official's other work and that his salary be increased from $100 to $125 per month. Heretofore it has been the custom of the city to pay the salary of an assistant in the tax collector's office during the rush season. Hereafter, the tax collector must pay this assistant himself. The other salaries fixed were: Mayor $50 per month; councilmen $10 per month; chief of police $100 per month; city attorney $100 per month and city secretary $100 per month.

In discussing the salaries Councilman Hughes advocated a return to the fee system for the police officers, saying that he believed that system made the officers more active. Mayor Noble and others of the council objected so strongly that Mr. Hughes did not make a motion to that effect.

Fire Chief Stampfli appeared before the council to recommend an increase in the pay of the drivers of the hose wagon and the auto fire engine. Grover Habern, the driver of the hose wagon has been getting fifty dollars a month and Mr. McClure the driver of the auto engine has been getting $60 per month. Both men are on duty twenty-four hours every day, seven days in the week. Upon Mr. Stampfli's recommendation Habern's pay was increased to $60 per month and Mr. McClure's to $65.

A discussion of the proposed ordinance regulating the water, light and gas companies followed after which council adjourned.

Harrison Randolph, president of Charleston College, Charleston, S. C., was born in New Orleans, December 8, 1871. After receiving a careful preparatory education he went to the University of Virginia in 1890 as an instructor in mathematics. He continued to fill the position of instructor for five years and during the same time he pursued his studies at the university and graduated with the degree of A. M. at the end of his second year. In 1895 he left the University of Virginia to become professor of mathematics at the University of Arkansas. Two years later, when he was but twenty-six years of age, Dr. Randolph was elected to his present position as president of Charleston College. The college is one of the oldest and most widely known educational institutions in the south, having been founded in 1785.

Simple Economies Sometimes Overlooked

In her anxiety to set a good table, many a housewife often incurs needless expense. For example: in the making of pastry butter will often be used, which, at its cheapest, is expensive and gives no better results than can be obtained by the use of Cottolene—the vegetable-oil cooking fat; yet Cottolene costs about the same as lard, and one-third less is required than either butter or lard. Lard is still more expensive because it contains hog fat and leads to indigestion. You can save on your doctor's bills, as well as on your cooking fat, by using Cottolene in all your shortening and frying.

ARIZONA'S FIRST ELECTION TUESDAY

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 8.—Arizona will vote for the first time next Tuesday for a state of State officials, two United States senators (subject to formal ratification by the legislature), representative in Congress, members of the supreme court, district judges, State senators and representatives, county and precinct officers.

In addition Arizona will vote on the proposal to eliminate the judicial recall from the State constitution. Unless the verdict on the latter issue is in the affirmative, all the other labor of the day will have been in vain for Congress has decreed that Arizona will remain outside the Union until this device is removed from the fundamental law.

There are three complete State tickets in the field, Democratic, Republican and Socialist. The candidates for governor are: Democratic, George W. P. Hunt, of Globe; Republican, Edward W. Wells, of Prescott; Socialist, P. W. Galentine, of Globe.

The Republicans are bending their energies to capture control of the legislature and thus insure the election of two Republicans as United States senators. Their candidates for senators are Ralph Cameron, who has been the territorial delegate, and H. A. Smith, late Republican territorial chairman and a young mining man of Bisbee. The choice of the Democrats for the senatorships are Henry F. Ashurst of Prescott and Marcus Smith of Tucson. The Socialists have endorsed E. Johnson and E. B. Simonon, both residents of Globe.

For representative in Congress the candidates are: Democratic, Mulford Windsor, of Yuma; Republican John S. Williams, of Bisbee, and Socialist, John Halberg, of Jerome.

Because of the multiplicity of candidates, it will probably be several days after the election before the results are known definitely.

1859 CARLOADS OF ONIONS SHIPPED

We give you three reasons why we recommend and endorse ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP for all skin and scalp eruptions.

1st. They are clean, scientific preparations that give universal satisfaction and are pleasant and agreeable to use at all times.

2nd. They are not experiments but are proven cures for every form of skin or scalp affections whether on infants or grown persons.

3rd. They work on a new principle. They do not glaze over the surface, but they penetrate to the seat of the trouble and draw the germ life from underneath the skin and destroy it. In this way a complete cure is effected in any case of SKIN OR SCALP ERUPTION.

News From the Oil Fields

The drill is now down a little more than three hundred feet in the Culberson well at Bacon and a trace of oil has been found at that depth. The formations as deep as the hole has been drilled are said to be highly favorable.

At the Diamuke & O'Neal well on the Jno. T. Overby lease, work is progressing nicely. Up to Wednesday noon the drill was down 350 feet. At a depth of 25 feet a fine flow of water was struck and on Monday morning, at a depth of about 130 feet the first sign of oil was found, which was very encouraging. At this point the sand began caving for awhile it was impossible for the drill to work, but we understand they now have the caving stopped. They stopped work Wednesday on account of the rain. Their one difficulty has been the water proposition, as there is none near where they are drilling, and it is now being hauled from the tin tank.—Iowa Park Herald.

Patterson & McAlister of Petrolia have taken over part of the oil lease on the Fassett ranch and began work on the well being put down on this lease in earnest Monday morning. Tuesday evening they were down 83 feet. The big traction engine of Tom Cobb's is being used to do the work. The drilling outfit they now have will be used for the present, or until they are down in the neighborhood of 1000 feet. If oil is not found when this depth is reached and the sands are favorable a standard rig will then be installed.—Iowa Park Herald.

Before this paper reaches its readers in this community, they will have seen the big derrick on the J. B. Winfrey farm, on this side of the creek, just one mile south of the Herald office. This derrick was erected the first of this week, and the machinery for drilling will be in the Park Monday, should nothing happen to delay it, and work with this standard rig will begin at once. Mr. Staples secured this lease and deserves the credit of installing this rig. This makes three wells being drilled near the Park and surely one will prove a success, but let us hope for all three.—Iowa Park Herald.

At Davidson, Okla.

A large force of workmen are busy working upon what is destined to be Davidson's oil well on Herman Campbell's place east of town. The casing and coal is being hauled out by the wagon load and the machinery will probably be here before we go to press. The casing is something like 10 inch iron and several wagons were used in hauling it. Crowds gathered on the streets when the material passed through our main street and the driver who "straddled" the big pipes came near being applauded. There is enough casing to go down something like 2500 feet, but the opinion of Mr. Goss is that he will not have to use near all of it.

Mr. Goss made the statement that he would drill the well within 20 days or tear his machinery to pieces. He is impatient because the machinery has not arrived, but as it has been shipped for some time, it is expected most any day.—Davidson News.

Deep Well Stopped.

At a meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Altus Water Co., at the court house Monday night, after the stockholders had finally canvassed the situation, the board of directors adopted a resolution to suspend work on the deep well, and a meeting of the directors and stockholders was called to meet at the district court room tonight. Thursday, at which time every stockholder is requested to be present to determine the assets and liabilities of the Deep Well Company. Let every stockholder be present.—Altus News.

Drilling Started at Vernon.

Drilling on the Board of Trade test well was begun yesterday and according to the statement of the men in charge the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Under favorable conditions the desired depth of 2,000 feet should be reached within sixty days. This is, however, purely a matter of conjecture. It is possible with favorable conditions to complete the well within a few weeks, and on the other hand difficulties may arise that will defer its completion some time.

J. M. Hickley of Rule, Texas will be in charge of the drilling and J. A. Copeland will manage the undertaking as a representative of the Clark interests, with whom the drilling contract was made by the Board of Trade. Both Mr. Hickley and Mr. Copeland arrived in Vernon the first of the week and supervised the work of placing the machinery, and other details preparatory to beginning the drilling.

C. H. Clark of Iowa Park, head of the drilling firm is also here.—Vernon Record.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Dec. 8th, 1911.

Congress is now in session but as yet the Congressional Record has failed to put in its appearance. There are lots of things it can be used for besides wrappers with which to send newspapers through the mails.

The extreme penalty that can under the law be given to the Chicago meat packers now on trial for violating the Sherman anti-trust law is a fine of $5000, or one year in jail, or both. Here's a prediction that they don't get either.

While the price of cotton goods is steadily advancing, the price of cotton is going lower and lower, until it has reached that point where much of it will be left in the field. When conditions are like that, a change in the administration of the government is needed.

The Times is not and has never been a sensational newspaper, and for that very reason it has steadily refused to "play up" feature, or even take passing notice of some rotteness that has been pulled off in this city. The Times wants to keep its columns as clean as possible, and in order to do that it is necessary to submit to censure from some sources.

ONE OF THE UNFORTUNATES.

It makes one sad to see a man under the influence of liquor, staggering around in a semi-demented condition, making himself ridiculous in the eyes of his fellow men. This has become so common a sight on the streets, that it causes no more attention than a casual remark.

But it is not only very sad, it is extremely pathetic when a woman appears on a public street under the influence of intoxicating liquor, using profane language and disturbing the peace. Such a sight shocks the sensibility of hardened men, and causes them to stop and gaze with astonishment at the exhibition. And, more especially sad and pathetic, is such an exhibition when the victim is old and decrepit.

Unfortunately, such an example of human depravity was witnessed by our citizens last evening, when, an old woman staggering around with a crutch in her hand, appeared on a down town street, and proceeded to enliven the atmosphere with utterances that would have made the cheeks of her sex blush with shame.

It became necessary for the police officers to take the poor old unfortunate woman in charge and escort her to the lockup.

This morning she appeared before his Honor, Judge T. B. Noble, and acknowledged her sin of commission, and was sentenced to ten days as janitress of the city hall.

She informed the police officers that she came from New York, but it is evident from her condition and conduct, that she is a female tramp; a part of the driftwood of humanity; a derelict on the sea of life.

Fortunately, such examples are rare in this community, and our people are not called on to witness scenes that are said to be common in large cities of the East.

BROADENING FEDERAL CONTROL

(Saturday Evening Post)

In April last the United States circuit court at St. Paul invalidated a railroad rate schedule prescribed by Minnesota, one reason being that, though the rates applied only to business within the state, they would necessarily impose burdens upon the railroads in respect of their interstate business as well; and this amounted to a regulation of interstate commerce, control of which is vested exclusively in the federal government. The idea obviously was that the railroad system must be regarded as a whole; for, even though a state regulation purports to touch only that part of the system lying within the state's boundaries, it may and usually does affect the entire line.

This idea has been carried still farther by the supreme court in deciding an equipment case. The equipment in question was in use between points within the state of Alabama. The court held, however, that it must conform to federal regulations, not only because a car that is used today in the state traffic may tomorrow be used in interstate traffic but because "the several trains on the same railroad are not independent and whatever brings delay or disaster to one, or results in disabling one of the operatives, is likely to impede the progress and imperil the safety of other trains."

This decidedly views the railroad system and railroad traffic as a whole of which the part that lies within a state's boundaries can hardly be touched without some effect upon the remainder.

The logical deduction from this view is, of course, that though the states may retain some local police jurisdiction, control of the railroads in all more important matters lies exclusively with the federal government. This view, we think, will finally prevail—to the benefit of both the railroads and the public.

To the Public.

Those who are interested in the support of the Wichita State Concert Band should begin at once and do their utmost to retain this organization at least another year. The business men, the Chamber of Commerce and the musicians not belonging to this organization should, and ought to see that Prof. B. P. Boyer, the present director is retained for at least another year. Since Prof. Boyer has been director of this band, its progress has been remarkable, especially in the last twelve months. The Chamber of Commerce and our business men would do Wichita Falls an injustice by not keeping Prof. Boyer, as he is one of the very best of directors that our city could find. The people as a whole I believe want an organization of this kind, as a city needs a band on a great many occasions, to improve things market look better and such like. I am safe to say that half the people of Wichita Falls want a band, as during the summer months our people were out in large numbers to hear our band play. As Prof. Boyer's agreement will expire about Jan. 15, 1912, the time is at hand when our business men ought to look after the matter. The band members will all vouch for our director, as he is well liked. The boys enjoy playing under his direction, as his interpretations of popular and classic music is of the very best nature. The band at present is prepared to give a special concert to the public, to show what they can do musically. I hope that the business men and general public are not such citizens as to let our present director be dropped as it will be a detriment to our city. The band boys will look to the city for their support, as it requires a lot of hard work to be able to keep up.

fect. It will demonstrate now more than ever the inhumanity, as well as the futility of resorting to violence in the effort to right wrongs or attain rights.

While not defending the crime of the McNamara's, the committee condemned the "kidnapping" of the McNamara's, who they say, "were arrested in Russian style, not American." In the method of arrest they find "highhanded irregularity and tyrannical lawlessness," and W. J. Burns, the detective in the case, is severely criticised.

Organized labor properly expressed its condemnation of violence on hearing of the Los Angeles disaster, it is stated.

"The condemnation of a murderer's deed in labor circles ought to be a fact so far beyond question, so easily ascertainable from accessible records, that no man with any regard for his reputation for veracity could deny it. Violence, brutality, destruction of life and property, are foreign to the aims and methods of organized labor of America and no interest is more severely injured by the employment of such methods than that of the workers organized in the labor movement.

"Therefore, quite apart from the spirit of humanitarianism and justice which prompts the activities of the organized labor movement, policies and hope for success, forbid the resort to violence. The American labor movement and men are loyal Americans and seek to obtain the abolition of wrongs and the attainment of their rights within the law."

The statement is signed by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation and chairman of the committee; Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation committee and six of the remaining seven members of the committee.

A Nice Compliment.

A representative of a film exchange while visiting the Gem yesterday was greatly impressed with the pictures shown in this show. He told Mr. Tritch that in all his experience in the picture business that nowhere had he seen a picture projected equal to the ones shown at the Gem. Said he could look at them all day without tiring the eye.

a come down from that grand start he made.

"Brother every sinner will come to want. Sin is sure to bring you to want. Young man you may lose your fortune and regain them but when you lose your character it is gone. The same is true of you young women. Manhood and womanhood is the best asset one can have. Sin is poisonous in every form. You had better play with a serpent.

"If you have wondered away there is but one way and that is to return as did the Prodigal Son. There is plenty and to spare in your father's house. Sin will ruin you even if there was no eternity. You cannot commit sin and not reap a harvest of sin.

"The Prodigal says if I return after making that start I made, they will laugh at me in this condition. But he decides that he had rather be laughed at than to die in a hog pen. He does not feel like it but he knows he will feel worse tomorrow because his condition is getting worse all the time.

"The Prodigal Son returns willing to be received in his father's house but if he is willing to come back the father sees him afar off and runs to meet him, embraces and will not even allow him to tell his story. He clothes his son with a new robe and puts a ring on his finger. A feast is made and all are merry but the elder brother and all are merry but the elder brother. God is willing to receive the old sinner. His arms are open wide ready to embrace him and cover him with a robe of righteousness. Sinner will you return?"

There is a decided preference for the hat with a brim broad at the sides and shorter back and front. Many plush bonnets are worn, and in a measure this material rivals velvet and fur. It is exquisite with its changing metallic shades. The bonnets are higher this winter, and most of them have flaps. These are trimmed with feathers or aligettes, placed well toward the back. The new changeable taffetas come in double width and are most advantageous for cutting. Many exquisite combinations for bouques can be had, a popular one being gold and the new hydrangea blue.

Oil Price Raised.
Muskegoe, Dec. 7.—The Muskegoe oil refinery has raised the price of oil in the Muskegoe district to 55c per barrel, the highest quotation that has been made since the famous Glenn Pool was brought in four years ago. The Prairie Oil and Gas Co., has not yet announced an increase over its quotation of 50-cents per barrel, but the Muskegoe refinery always has made advance quotation before the Prairie. It is expected the increased price will become general over the state within a short time.

Fads and Fashions

New York, Dec. 8.—The vogue of waists or blouses still continues undiminished, a fact which is really not surprising if one considers the important part which these garments play in a fashionable woman's toilette. Strictly tailored waists are seen in suit colorings, plaids and white, the last mentioned showing the front closing effected with fancy buttons. The collar and cuffs have a button-through finish, the small size buttons being used for this purpose. Some of the newest tailored waists are made of soft finished material, with buttons and buttonholes extending through the high standing collar, thus effecting a front closing. Crochet buttons are usually seen on these smart, new models. Usually a quantity of Irish choctet lace is inserted between rows of trucks, and on either side of the front pleat. The same kind of lace also appears in conjunction with hand embroidered and lace motifs.

The tailored and semi-tailored waists of wash materials are developed in linen, cotton flannel, dotted Swiss, cross bar lawn and marquisette, and show inserts of Irish and Cluny lace, as well as effective patterns worked out in hand embroidery. Many of the wash waists are made in strictly shirt styles, with a high turnover collar fastened with two buttons, just as men's negligee shirts are fastened. The cuffs are also of the turned back design and are fastened with two buttons in link style. Other designs in waists of washable materials are made in semi-tailored designs and have the fronts tucked, and trimmed with machine embroidery. Sailor collars are very frequently seen on these waists, one is trimmed with the embroidery similar to the front of the waist.

Net is a frequent favorite for the dainty side pleats. A narrow hem of black net is used as an edge finish to the white frills made wholly of net. This touch of black on a white linen waist is very effective, all the more so when used in conjunction with black and white buttons. Waists of champagne linen in strictly tailored style have fancy yellow pearl buttons to match.

Soft finished satins, messalines, crepes and chiffons make very effective waists for wearing with the two piece suits. Among the newest crepe and satin waists are the box pleated designs, the pleats being about a half inch in width and stitched flatly below the collar in pointed yoke fashion. From this point the pleats are firmly pressed, but are not attached to the lining, thus blousing a little at the waist.

The center yoke and shoulder lines are finished off with small buttons of matching material. Some of the newest styles have broad revers in conjunction with the side frill. In this way trimming effects are given to both sides of the front. When used with the revers the frill is generally of waist material, instead of lace. Many tailored models show the regulation front closing, effected with fancy buttons, the usual front pleat often being eliminated, the plain overlapping side being used instead, showing simple braid trimmings at the edge or tailored stitching.

Among the fancy silk taffetas in tailored style are plaids and striped effects. Fine rubber corduroys and striped or plain velveteens appear in tailored styles also, as the nature of the material will not admit of fancy designs. They have the center front fastening or extreme side fastenings, and are elaborated with hand embroidery or braiding, or trimmed with heavy laces in that effect. The perfectly plain style with button finish to match has a lace collar, with pleatings about the lower sleeve edge of suit coloring or in white. White velveteen and corduroy waists sometimes have a sailor collar and wide turn back cuffs. They are often worn with white serge skirts, are very dainty, but soil easily.

In semi-tailored waists the sleeves are long in a majority of cases, showing a lace frill over the hand. On some of the new models deep cuffs ending at the wrist are fitted rather snugly to the arm, the upper section of the sleeve being slightly gathered into the cuff. The set in sleeve is well liked, and is gaining in popularity, but the trimming is often placed well over the shoulder to give the long lines.

A new idea in waists is arousing considerable interest owing to the fact that it does not require a hook or button in its adjustment to the figure. It is made in regular waist form in the back, with gathers at the waist line and tape, which is fastened in the front, holding the waist securely. The front of the waist is made with two long ends which may be crossed and tied in a variety of ways, resulting in a very perfect and attractive looking waist. It is extremely simple in construction and is easily adjusted to the figure.

The prominence given to mouseline in the construction of the separate blouse is very noticeable in the little and big blouse shops over in Paris. The combination of two colors in mouseline is one of the novelties which the Frenchwomen are accepting joyfully. Blue and white are often combined, yellow and brown are very popular and black and white still hold their own. Coral is added to gray and to brown, and tangerine yellow is used to touch up any neutral shades.

The novelty of fashion novelties recently brought over from Paris is the long redingote. The graceful, floating ends reaching nearly to the hem are trimmed with fur or galloon. This garment is so elegant and requires such costly material to make it effective that it will be difficult for it to become too common. Besides that, the wear of the redingote must have height and a good figure.

A decidedly pretty redingote shown in one of the shops was cut up at the sides and did not reach much below the knee. The shoulders were trimmed with two wide pointed revers falling in graceful folds. It was of that soft gray which looks like moldered skin, and was lined with a delicate yellow satin. It was embroidered in green and veiled with mouseline. Under this coat the model wore a dress of white satin, the high collar of which was trimmed with bands of mole colored velvet. A belt of ivory satin encircled the waist and the ends were embroidered in yellow. A wide band of mole colored velvet finished the skirt, reaching to point where the redingote ended. This gave the impression of an entire robe of mole color.

LABOR NEWS

Cleveland, O., paperhangers are discussing the proposition of declaring war on the piecework system.

In the factories of Switzerland the predominant hours are nine and one-half to ten, and on Saturdays one hour less.

There are at present fifteen international organizations in Minneapolis, Minn., and at least a dozen of them will remain there indefinitely.

New York's wage earners number 1,400,000, of which the workers in factories lead all the rest with a total of 600,000. The store clerks are next in line, with 290,000.

The carmen's unions of Oakland and Richmond, Calif., as a result of a recent referendum vote, have decided to consolidate under one charter. This will, it is said, give the union the largest membership of any organization of carmen in the United States.

A bill passed by the New York legislature, amending the labor law, went into effect recently. It is designed to provide better sanitary conditions in bakeries. It classifies bakeries as factories and places them under the jurisdiction of the State labor commission.

Twenty-five coeds are working as domestic servants to pay their way through a four-year course at the University of Missouri, at Kansas City. One farmer's daughter goes out and does washing, and fourteen amuse children while their parents are away from home, at 15 cents an hour.

Labor in Turkey is growing dear owing to emigration and to urgent calls for hands to work upon the country roads which the Turkish government builds, upon railroads and in factories. Carpenters and bricklayers, who only two years ago, received sixty to eighty cents a day, now get $1 to $1.20 in Constantinople.

The Arbitration Court in Melbourne, Australia, has announced its decision in the dispute between the seamen and the steamship companies. The award grants the sailors an eight-hour day, and fixes the wages of able-bodied seamen at $40 a month. This, it is calculated, means for the ship owners an increased expense of $200,000 a year, and, to compensate themselves, they intend to raise the freight rates and passenger fares.

Human Hearts.

"Human Hearts" will be the attraction at the Wichita Theatre tomorrow night.

The story of "Human Hearts" is one of love, pathos, and devotion skillfully intermingled and yet serious and sublime as the theme may be. The play contains many laughable scenes and situations controlled by the quaint characters of Jem Mason the tramp, and Mose, the faithful old negro, who bring out a smile or a good hearty laugh just at a time when some pathetic scene or line of the play is about to bring out handkerchiefs from many in the audience and the childish logic of little Grace Logan brings a tear one moment and a smile the next. It is such plays as "Human Hearts" that are the most successful—and seemingly will live forever. A complete production is carried for the piece, the scenery being handsome and striking in appearance making a befitting frame for the author's story. It is promised that the production will be worthy of the play and that the performance of "Human Hearts" will be first class in every respect. Its simple story, with its few character contrasts, have made it a play replete with those elements, which establish popular success, leaving a most pleasing impression at its conclusion. It is plays of this kind that best please the general public and that is why "Human Hearts" has always been such a great success and will always be in popular demand.

"Rip Van Winkle."

(Norfolk Leader-Dispatch.) Those who saw Thomas Jefferson as Rip, in Rip Van Winkle at the Academy of Music last night do not wonder that the mantle of his father, the lamented Joseph Jefferson, fell upon his shoulders. His finished portrayal of the character that Joseph Jefferson made immortal gives him the right to the inheritance. It stamps him an artist entitled to play the part that no other man but his illustrious father, for two generations could play, and recalls to the theatregoers the days when they sat spellbound while watching Mr. Jefferson's lamented sire present the pretty story of the Catskills.

Careful to present Rip Van Winkle as close as possible to the standard set by his father, Thomas Jefferson has not only given the character of Rip much study, but has surrounded himself with a company that is entirely capable to give a thoroughly delightful performance. Rachel Sterling as Gretchen, Rip's tempestuous wife, deserves special mention for her clever work in that difficult part which can be easily overdone. Miss Eva Smith, as Little Heinrich, and Viola Kingston, as Little Mollie, won the hearts of the audience and will be great favorites with the children.

Advance seats will be on sale at O. F. Marchman's Drug Store.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE EQUIPMENT HERE

Twelve tables to be used in the cooking department of Domestic Science at the high school, arrived yesterday from Chicago, along with most of the other equipment ordered. All of the material including that bought here in town, is being installed in the high school building preparatory to opening the Domestic Science department next Monday morning at nine o'clock.

Miss Etta Alder, head of this department, has been here since the first of last month, ready to assume her duties, but, owing to the failure of the equipment to arrive on schedule time, she has been compelled to get along as best she could, meanwhile overseeing work in the sewing department; the equipment for that department having been secured from local dealers. A large class of girls has been receiving instruction in this branch for some time now, and a great deal of interest is being taken in sewing by the girls of all the grades in the high school.

With the arrival yesterday of the tables, gas stoves, and other articles ordered from Chicago, practically all of the domestic science equipment necessary for beginning work is here. The tables are sufficiently large to accommodate twenty-four girls at one time, and a double set of drawers, is placed in each so that each student will be able to keep her individual work separate and distinct from the rest. Individual gas stoves are attached to the back of each table, as well as a number of other conveniences needed in cooking. Also, every article, such as pots, pans, plates, etc., will be placed on or near the table, so that operations can be carried on with the least possible trouble to both the student and the teacher.

Prof. T. L. Toland, announces that girls of the seventh and eighth grades are required to take sewing as a part of the regular routine of school work, but that girls of higher grades, or girls in the high school proper, will not be required to take either sewing or cooking, unless they desire to do so, in which case they will be allowed to take either, or both. A large number of girls in the high school have already announced themselves as desiring to enter the cooking classes, and a number have also entered the sewing classes, which have been in operation for several weeks. The classes, therefore, in the department of Domestic Science are already large to begin with, and it is practically certain that in the near future, nearly every girl in the high school will be receiving instruction in either one or other of the branches of the department of Domestic Science.

A union lodge of machinists has recently been instituted in Hawaii and one in Haiti.

There is a decided preference for the hat with a brim broad at the sides and shorter back and front. Many plush bonnets are worn, and in a measure this material rivals velvet and fur. It is exquisite with its changing metallic shades. The bonnets are higher this winter, and most of them have flaps. These are trimmed with feathers or aigrettes, placed well toward the back.

The new changeable taffetas come in double width and are most advantageous for cutting. Many exquisite combinations for blouses can be had, a popular one being gold and the new hydrangea blue.
