SATISFACTION OR MONEY BACK.

Why Moneybak Silks are Long Wearing.

k is the strongest known fiber. It is only when loaded with ls or improperly woven that silk loses much of its original strength.

But not all pure silks are strong and long-wearing. Much depends on the knowledge put into their making. In MONEYBAK Taffeta, for instance, there are 96 double threads crossing the warp in every inch.

A greater number of threads would crowd the fabric and make it stiff. Less threads would not give the cloth sufficient body to hold its shape.

Naturally, these fabrics give the longest wear because they are dyed and woven in the only manner in which the silk fibers can retain their original strength.

Examine a piece of MONEYBAK at our silk counter and observe its close, even weave and deep, rich luster.

Draw it through your fingers and note its soft, firm texture or "peach" feel.

Try to tear it and you will understand ONEYBAK has withstood remarkable tests of strength and on for its giving long wear.

The Georgia Minstrels.

Bros. Georgia Minstrels Dublin yesterday and last ndered a performance under e c nvas near the Frisco This institution has been the American public for nine years and has proven one best pronounced entertaining ever devised. Their per- last night was well patron- applauded and it is apparent that a return engagement at any time would be greatly appreciated by our people. Mr. Ben Jarrard, who is a Dublin raised young man, is a large stockholder in the attraction and is with the show as general manager in which capacity he has traveled from Maine to California and from Oregon to the gulf during the past six years. His numerous friends here are proud of the success that he has and is accomplishing and also we are glad to note that he has purchased residence property in Dublin and henceforth will make this his permanent headquarters, though continuing with the show in the capacity heretofore employed. Mr. Jarrard and the gentlemanly main proprietor, Mr. Stafford, showed their appreciation of a good printing plant while here by leaving an order with the Progress for twenty thousand circulars and several thousand address cards for the forty odd members of their aggregation.

A New Rural Route.

Rural route number eight has now been authorized out of Dublin to begin on November 15th. This route will go by way of Purves direct to Wilson and return on a slightly different route, covering all the service and more than that formerly furnished by the star route to Purves and Wilson and as soon as the route is established the postoffice at Purves will be discontinued. At Wilson this route will connect with another which will go from that point to Lamkin by way of a half mile of Carlton and back to Wilson, the two routes making the entire distance from Dublin to Lamkin.

Postmaster Andrew requests us to suggest to the patrons of the route that they at once secure their boxes in order to be ready to get their mail promptly when the route begins on November 15th and not wait until afterward and thus cause delay in the service and inconvenience to themselves.

Regular Correspondence.

Sept. 20th.—The farmers are busy gathering corn and baling hay. The corn yield is much lighter than was expected and we predict that cotton will be the same way as the leaf worm has cleaned the leaves off all the young and low land spots which will make the crop very short in this community.

Mr. Heaton of the St. George community will fill their place here.

Mrs. J. H. Cox was summoned yesterday to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Ellison at Lowell, who is not expected to live.

Our Farmers Union is still in winter quarters and winter nearly here again, or at least it feels that way this morning.

J. E. Taylor and son visited in the Hasse community last week with a view of locating in that part of Comanche county which they will do this winter.

IMPROVEMENTS

The Progress Never Stops on this Line. But We are Bested on Time this Trip.

When the management stops making improvements in the Progress printing plant we shall either be ready to sell out at a big bargain or the subscribers will have to quit paying for their paper. The latest innovation in the mechanical department is an attachment to connect our folding machine to the big press upon which the paper is printed in such a way that the blank sheets fed into the press passes directly into the folder without further handling and comes out printed, pasted, folded, cut and trimmed, thus greatly facilitating the work of mailing the more than two thousand copies of the Progress each week to the subscribers. The attachment also includes a device for inserting two or four more pages, thus making the paper ten or twelve pages, according to what we may desire. The Progress determined that our fall advertising shall not in the least cut down the amount of reading matter that we always print and this interesting device is being installed in order to enlarge the paper whenever any extra amount of advertising is run and at the same time be able to get the paper to the readers promptly. This item has heretofore been a serious handicap to our business and in the fall of the year often resulted in making it impossible to get the paper to the patrons on time. Mr. T. Beddo of Dallas is here this week installing this machinery and it is hoped to be able to use the attachments for handling this issue.

Later.—Since the above was placed in type we have found that the machinists have been unable to get the new machinery in shape to get the paper out at the regular time, being yet so torn up that it could not be put on the press at all, hence the paper is late this week. We will make recompense later.

Notice to the Public.

I wish to correct a false statement made by the Western Hide & Wool Co. in the Dublin papers last issue. They know I had an advertisment in both Dublin papers two weeks before they came here and in the advertisement offered 8½ cents for green hides and from 10 to 16 cents for dry hides. There has been several hide men here as well as these people. Crowdus Bros. of Fort Worth, Finegin of Dallas and Wilson of Waco, all of whom had money to buy hides, but they did not get the hides. I have been buying hides here for fifteen years and never bought a hide on credit. So don't be afraid you will not get your money. My people are also the largest dealers in pecans of any house in the state and will pay the best cash price.—Yours for business.—R. H. McCampbell. 1t.

AT THE PARSONAGE.

Coffee Runs Riot No Longer.

"Wife and I had a serious time of it while we were coffee drinkers.

"We naturally sought relief by drugs and without avail, for it is now plain enough that no drug will cure the diseases which another drug, coffee particularly, sets up so long as the drug which causes the trouble is continued.

"Finally we thought we would try leaving off coffee and using Postum. I noticed that my headaches disappeared like magic and my old 'trembly' nervousness left. One day wife said, 'Do you know my gastritis is gone?'

"One can hardly realize what Postum has done for us.

"Then we began to talk to others. Wife's father and mother were both coffee drinkers and sufferers. Their headaches left entirely a short time after they changed the old coffee for Postum. I began to inquire among my parishioners and found to my astonishment that numbers of them use Postum instead of coffee. Many of the ministers who have visited our parsonage have become enthusiastic champions of Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The wreck is supposed to have been caused by the train, which was an unusually long one, leaving the rails in a sharp curve, the engine turning over and going down an embankment.

While in the act of kneeling in prayer, Rev. William Robinson, pastor of the Methodist church at Monroe, Ga., died suddenly at the Baptist church at that place. He had been sick for several weeks and had first attempted to preach at his own church but feeling unequal to the task had dismissed his congregation and gone to the Baptist church.

Cured of Lame Back After 15 Years of Suffering.

"I had been troubled with lame back fifteen years and found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gilliam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Overton Drug Co.

Bosque County Fair Association.

A Fair association is being organized in Bosque county with the idea of holding a county fair at some point in the county each year. It will occur this year at Walnut Springs on November 7th and 8th, for which decision the town of Walnut gave a bonus of $150. Memberships in the association are being sold to citizens of the county at one dollar each, the money thus secured each year to be used in promoting the fair, paying premiums, etc.

Only Capitalists Benefitted.

It is the capitalist to whom the Tree of Protection yields the luscious fruit.

It is Mr. Carnegie who counts his money by the hundreds of millions, not his laborers.

It is the Protected capitalist who has his royal preserve in the Adirondacks, his palace on Fifth Avenue, his winter home in Florida, his ocean-going yacht and his palace car, not the laborer.

The American capitalist who has been protected from foreign competition for a hundred years has heaped up wealth greater than that ever known in ancient or modern times; and the laborer who digs it out of the mines for him, weaves it at the spindles for him, sweats for it at the forge for him, lives within a month of starvation just as he did a hundred years ago. He gets what the capitalist is obliged to let him have—just that much and no more. It has not been long since one of these protected manufacturers had the hardihood to declare that wages must be kept down—that high wages had a tendency to spoil the laborer.—Tom Watson in his magazine for August.

Antidote for Rattle Snake Bite.

The following is said to be a splendid antidote for the rattler's bite: Take a pan or a bowl and pour in enough kerosene oil to cover the wound. It will draw the poison out immediately and in the course of a few minutes, turn perfectly green; then pour out the oil and refill the bowl, being careful to put in enough oil to completely cover the wound. Leave the foot or hand in the oil as long as the oil turns green. Then put on a poultice of plain table salt and saturate the salt thoroughly with oil. Keep this up for about an hour and there is scarcely any danger of fatal results.—Exchange.

Information from there says he and three other boys left the school some time Sunday and it is presumed he was coming home. At the place he was killed is thirty-five miles from Abilene and he had walked all the way. A section foreman near Putnam said young Bennett was tired out when he reached that place and that he gave him a quarter and told him to go to town and wait and he would send him on home. After leaving the section foreman young Bennett walked down the track and sat down on a tressle and was sitting there when the train came along. He either did not realize his danger or was too tired to get up. At any rate the train hit him and when he was picked up was dead. An inquest was held immediately and the remains sent here to his people. He was buried in the family graveyard at Chalk Mountain Wednesday morning.

Who Owns the Railroads?

"Government reports prove that the public pays in full for the railroads every fourteen years—in transportation charges," says Tom Watson in his magazine for August.

"Yet we do not acquire the property. We allow the corporations to retain title and to go right on compelling us to pay for the property the second time during the next fourteen years.

"What monumental folly! Let the government assess the fair value of the property and issue a two per cent. twenty-year bond to pay for them. Long before the bonds mature the railroads will have paid into the treasury more than enough net earnings to pay off the bonds."

Ed Davidson, who was found guilty of violating the local option law some time ago and was placed in jail, but who was released on account of illness, was returned to jail Saturday to finish out his time.

The poor farm received the following accessions Monday: Jim Mabery, John Morgan, Charles Hicks, Dan Smith, John Bruce and Frank Neblet. They are placed there to work out fines at fifty cents per day. Some of them will have to remain many long months before the edict of the law is filled.

A regular Irish wake entertainment was pulled off at the north side restaurant Saturday night. The air was full of stools and chairs for a short time, reminding the spectators of an Oklahoma cyclone. Neither of the combatants were injured farther than the peeling off of a small amount of cuticle.

Bates Cox and Bud Deason carried Albert Eason of Dublin to the insane asylum at Austin this week. On their return they arrested Isiah Williamson (col.) in Fort, Worth who is wanted here on a charge of gaming. However he escaped from the Record train on the way down.

Some thirty or forty thousand dollars was invested last week in Erath real estate by outside parties, not for speculation purposes, but in order to make homes, open up farms and to become identified with the county's interests. Erath county is one of the best in the state and its advantages are rapidly becoming known to the world.

The receipts of cotton in Stephenville are not so large as claimed by some towns. The prices paid for the staple is at the top notch. Business is always good during the cotton season. This being the case an unusual state of commercial activity will be witnessed here before the close of the present month and continue until the close of the holidays.

John Simpson and —Mathes, two young men of this place, were arrested Saturday for unlawfully boarding trains. This is a very dangerous as well as uncalled for practice which quite a number of young men and boys in most every town are prone to indulge in. A few arrests and fines will be instrumental in bringing them to the realization that there is a law against such.

Those in a position to know predict that cotton will reach twelve cents before Christmas. The shortage of the crop, coupled with a demand for the staple for manufacturing cotton goods, it is claimed will cause the advance. Farmers justly deserve the highest prices for their products. They are the financial mudsills of this government in time of peace and bulwarks in war. They never go on a strike and accept events as they transpire with philosophical fortitude, always seeing the rift of a silver lining behind dark clouds.

Quite a number of suggestions have been made as to the disposition of the old jail when the new one is completed. It seems to us that the municipal authorities could not make a better investment than to buy or lease it for ten or fifteen years and convert it into a city hall. With the necessary changes in the interior it would meet all their requirements, both for offices and a place to confine city prisoners. It may be possible that the county wants to retain it for special purposes. In that event no corporate body or individual can get posession of it.

W. R. Roberson of Skipper Gap, has sold his farm of 160 acres to T. W. Belcher and he and his family will move to Sterling county. Mrs. Roberson says she squared up all her Erath county obligations so she can again return should she so desire.

Tom Bridges lost a very fine mare last Monday. He drives the Huckabay rural route. He fed the animal at Huckabay and on the road she kept trying to spit out the oats she had eaten and would blow them out of her nostrils. She died soon after reaching home.

A. P. Powell near Pizzaro will soon announce his candidacy for the office of county commissioner for Precinct three. He was a soldier under Gen. Price during the civil war and lost his health during his campaigning, and desires this office as a means of earning a living.

"Grandma" Darnell left for Tennessee Saturday night, being accompanied to Fort Worth by J. W. Wright. This lady is ninety years old and is a regular traveler between Tennessee and Stephenville. All the conductors know her and many courtesies are extended. The trips she has made now total up twenty-five thousand miles.

J. E. McCarty of Dublin has bought eleven hundred head of goats near Baird, and they will pass through Stephenville early next week en route to the old Ben Palmer ranch on Pony Creek, and be added to the eight hundred head already on the ranch. They cost $3,300. They are all Angoras. He will make the owners a visit.

R. A. Cox, a Baptist preacher of Hill county, has purchased the P. A. Hairston farm near Bethel, paying him $3,750 for 218 acres. Mr. Cox sold his property in Hill county for a big price. His three sons bought land near Morgan Mill. These people come highly recommended. Mr. Hairston and Reddick Bryan will move to Coke county.

H. H. Hathaway, who lives east of the city on deep sand, reports the rain of September 8th as quite beneficial to cotton, peanuts, potatoes and June corn. The latter, he says, is looking well. Mr. Hathaway says he will not have any cotton ready to pick before October. The plants are putting on quite a lot of bolls and has never stopped blooming the entire season.

Bob Williams bought a mule this week from Bud Watson that had never been ridden. A purse of $2.50 was made up and Charley Roberts agreed to ride the "wild critter." A great crowd gathered to see Charley hurled up to the regions where angels are said to dwell, but when he mounted the mule the animal took to the road as tamely as Sancho Panzy's palfry, and now the balance of the Higginbotham employees are accusing Charley of putting up a job on them.

Farmer Eugene Moore came in from his farm Tuesday night to visit his family (he had spent two or three hours out there this week) and reports his hay crop which is now being harvested, as turning out very satisfactorily. When asked as to what kind of hay is produced on his farm he could not be exactly certain, but finally decided there were both kinds—Johnson grass and sorghum. The Tribune suggests that the study of hay be included with those other things suggested in these columns last week for him to study at night school.

"Uncle" Johnnie Lockhart of Scurry county is in the city visiting relatives. This gentleman is eighty-three years old. He joined the Baptist church when sixteen years old, began preaching at eighteen and has been in active harness for sixty-four years, and has a wider acquaintance and a greater number of friends than perhaps any minister in the state. He will attend the Baptist association at Dublin on Thursday and from there will go to Hico to visit friends. "Uncle" Johnnie cultivates a three-acre patch at his home at Snyder and raises on it quite a number of products. The work he does on this little plot of ground is of a thorough nature—just like his ministerial work.

Sunday evening, September 10th, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sarah Jones, one mile east of the city, Rev. W. T. Hillsman of the Baptist church officiating, Luther Burleson and Miss Rose Jones were married. The bridal party came in from Venice, Johnson county on the Frisco Sunday evening, consisting of the groom, his brother Walter, and his best friend, William Steil. Miss Ada Burleson, a charming sister of the groom, accompanied the party. Before the wedding ceremony was solmenized a splendid supper was served. Miss Lizzie Borders played the wedding match. The groom is to be congratulated in having won a bride of so many excellent qualities. She is a sister of Eb Jones of this city. He is a man of splendid business attainments and of fine moral character. Besides relatives several warm friends of the family were present.

Why Not a Band?

A brass band would not be a bad thing for Dublin and we have plenty of young men who would find the time devoted to it not badly spent. BAPTIST MEETING

Full Proceedings of Erath County Association Which Was Held in Dublin Last Week.

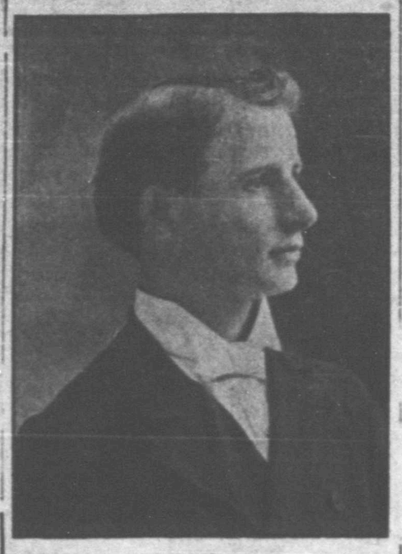

The Erath County Baptist Association met in its eighteenth annual session at Dublin at 11 a. m. Thursday morning of last week with Moderator W. H. Hawkins and Clerk E. Fleming of Stephenville, both present.

Invocation was offered by Rev. E. L. Compere, pastor of the church in Dublin, after which the introductory sermon was preached by Rev. J. B. Vinson of Stephenville. His remarks were most interesting and breathed a spirit of religious fervor and sincerity of the kind that makes even the outsider feel that religion is worth while.

After the sermon by Rev. Vinson adjournment was had for dinner and at the afternoon session the first business on the program was the call for letters from the various churches in the county. Thirty letters were at once presented and received and this number was supplemented thorughout the three days of the meeting by about ten or twelve more.

During the afternoon the officers for the ensuing year were elected and all the old officers were re-elected as follows: W. H. Hawkins, moderator; E. Fleming, clerk; Mark L. Ashworth, treasurer, all of Stephenville. At the close of the election adjournment was had until after supper and at the night meeting an eloquent sermon was delivered by Rev. J. P. Gilliam, pastor of the church at Hico, followed by the appointment of the various committees for the year, including committees on temperance, finance, Sunday schools and Colportage, missions, etc., etc. Following this, Oak Dale, five miles north of Stephenville was named as the place for asssembling of the next associational meeting, which is to begin Thursday before the third Sunday in September, 1906.

Visitors were then enrolled as follows: Rev. J. M. Carroll of Waco, representing the educational commission of Baylor University, Rev. J. P. Gilliam of Hico, moderator of Hamilton county association; Rev. R. H. Gibson of Carlton, J. W. McKinzie and family of Carlton, Elder W. J. Hicks and daughter, Miss Olive, from Miles in Runnels county; J. J. R. Lockhart from Snyder in Scurry county, Rev. J. M. Gaddy of Waco, representing state missions; G. B. Rogers of Dallas, representing the American Baptist Publication Society; W. E Britton, field secretary of the Southern Baptist convention; Dr. Geo. W. Truitt of Dallas, representing Texas Baptist Sanitarium; Miss May Varnell, representing Baylor Female college of Belton, and Judge Butler of Dallas, representing Baptist Standard. This closed the meetings of the first day.

REV. E. L. COMPERE, PASTOR BAPTIST CHURCH, DUBLIN.

FRIDAY SECOND DAY.

On the second day the association assembled at 9 a. m. and after devotional services by Rev. W. J. Hicks the various reports of committees and other work of this character was taken up, including the report on Foreign missions by Rev. J. H. Vinson, which was ably discussed by Rev. Gaddy; report on Sacred Music by George Stringer, report on the new Baptist Sanitarium at Dallas, etc. The latter work was reviewed at length by Rev. Truitt of Dallas. This sanitarium is a Baptist institution, authorized by the last state convention to be located at Dallas. The sanitarium is now being built under the direction of a committee named by the last state convention and which was endowed by the convention in the sum of $300,000. There is no other protestant institution of this kind south of St. Louis, and it is contemplated making this one of the most important institutions of the kind in the United States.

Rev. E. L. Compere of Dublin was unanimously elected to deliver the introductory sermon at the meeting of next year, with Rev. J. H. Vinson alternate.

Miss May Varnell represented the work of the Baylor Female college at Belton and secured a cash collection of $23.50, besides pledges in the sum of $142.50.

At 11 a. m. Dr. Truitt of Dallas delivered an eloquent and instructive sermon on "consecration" and his effort was one worthy of special mention.

Firday afternoon the report of the committee on ministerial education was discussed at length by Rev. J. M. Carroll of Waco and for this work a cash collection of $17.15 was taken up, besides pledges to the amount of $87.50. This was followed by a discussion of the various other reports submitted.

At the night meeting Friday Elder J. M. Gaddy of Waco presented the subject of state missions and at the conclusion of his address a fund of $3,500 was pledged for the work and $131 collected. His sermon was a masterful oration on this important topic.

A committee of five was authorized to be named by the moderator to arrange for a bible school to be held some time during the coming winter and to select a place for the meeting. The chair appointed Rev. E. L. Compere of Dublin chairman, Rev. L. Y. Brown of Stephenville, Rev. Walter Hillsman of Stephenville and Ed Fleming of Stephenville, after which by motion the moderator was added to the committee.

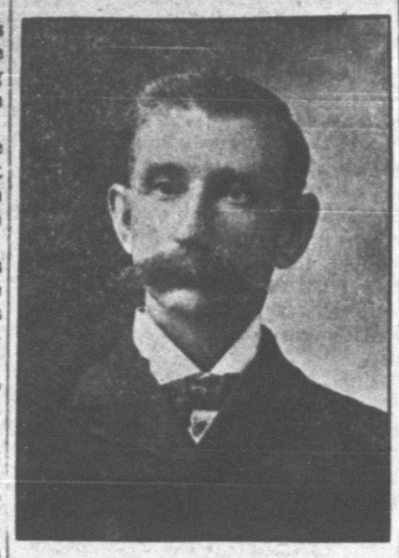

SATURDAY THIRD DAY.

Saturday morning the attendance was even greater than any of the previous days and the immense tabernacle at the reunion park grounds was crowded to its capacity. Devotional exercises were lead by Rev. W. A. Brock of Tempest, Erath county.

The Moccasin Rock church was granted a letter of dismissal to join with the Round Grove association.

At 10:30 Rev. W. E. Britton of Waco represented the work of the Southern Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention and showed great progress in that work during the past year.

Various committee reports were again taken up, received and discussed. The matter of county missionaries was a special theme. Rev. Crutcher is employed by the asssociation to spend all his time at Thurber and Rev. W. M. Green is assigned to the remainder of the county. It was ascertained that these two workers had been paid in full for their past years service and a sum of $130 yet remained in the county missionary fund. They were both unanimously retained for another year.

MR. E. FLEMING OF STEPHENVILLE. EIGHT YEARS CLERK OF ASSOCIATION.

At 11 o'clock on Saturday the great sermon of the association was delivered by Elder J. M. Carroll of Waco, who took for his topic "The Security of the Believer." It is claimed by competent critics that this was the greatest sermon ever delivered in Dublin and at the close of his remarks nearly all present shook hands with the speaker in congratulation and did so with a fervor born of the spirit awoke by his eloquence and evident sincerity. So powerful was his portrayal that in the middle of his sermon one man stopped him to stand up and announce his conversion and another, who was a wanderer from the fold, announced a renewed allegiance.

During the afternoon a subscription was taken up to provide a fund to finish paying for the home recently proposed to be donated to the widow of the late Rev. J. H. Stewart of Stephenville. This move was inaugurated by Rev. Shelby King, an aged minister and Godly man of Stephenville, who has canvassed the county with this object in view and secured a considerable fund for the purpose, bought the house and lot in Stephenville and placed the widow and her children in it. The property cost $1,150 and he yet owed on it $250. This association donated the sum to complete the good work.

A resolution was passed heartily endorsingthe new Baptist sanitarium at Dallas.

$18.90 was taken up for the assistance of aged ministers and $7.19 for Rev. G. B. Hall on account of the American Baptist Puplication Society.

Rev. W. T. Hillsman of Stephenville was elected to preach the missionary sermon at the next assembly of the association and Rev. J. N. Chandler of Bluff Dale was elected messenger to the Southern Baptist Convention with Mrs. Chandler as alternate.

The state Baptist convention is to meet in Dallas Nov. 9th and Rev. J. H. Vinson, J. B. Crutcher, A. G. Leverett and J. N. Chandler were elected messengers to this meeting.

A resolution was passed that the association should hold a camp meeting at Thurber sometime during next summer and the chair was instructed to appoint a committee of five to arrange details for the event, after which resolutions of thanks were passed and the eighteen annual meeting of the Erath County Baptist Association came to a successful close.

The association was tendered every courtesy by the citizens of Dublin and the Baptist denomination of this city and the latter furnished each day during the meeting an elegant repast for dinner and supper, served at the grounds.

HISTORICAL NOTE.

The Erath County Baptist Association was organized in 1888, the same year that the Progress was established. It was organized to fill an urgent demand for a closer union of the Baptist churches in the county and to provide a representative body for the great work of evangelizing. The minutes of the first three sessions are not in existence, having been lost or destroyed, but those of the fourth and succeeding minutes have been in the hands of the writer during the past week through the courtesy of Mr. Ed Fleming of Stephenville, clerk of the association. The fourth annual meeting was held with Friendship church on September 17th, 18th, and 19th, 1891, and J. J. F. Lockhart of Duffau was moderator, W. J. Hicks of Alexander clerk and M. L. Patton of Stephenville secretary. The minutes for the year were printed in pamphlet form by the Progress and these show that Mr. G. W. Lidia of Stephenville was treasurer for the previous year. They also show thirty-five churches represented, two in the county not reprsented and seventy-three messengers in attendance at the meeting.

The officers after that date were in order as follows: Rev. Shelby King of Carlton, moderator two terms, A. V. Neely of Duffau one term, W. J. Hicks of Alexander one term, A. V. Neely of Duffau six terms and W. H. Hawkins of Stephenville two terms and re-elected for the ensuing year. The clerks have been W. J. Hicks of Alexander two terms, A. L. Greenwood of Bluff Dale two terms, J. C. Palmer of Duffau one term and E. Fleming of Stephenville nine terms with election for the ensuing year besides. Treasurers have been M. L. Patton of Stephenville two terms, I. N. Roberts of Stephenville three terms and M. L. Ashworth eight terms and now entering his ninth. Beginning with the meeting of 1891 the association has met at the following places: Friendship, Bluff Dale, Valley Grove, Mount Pleasant, Pony Creek, Midway, Cow Creek, Kickapoo, Gilmore, Lingleville, Friendship and Bluff Dale.

TO CATARRH SUFFERERS.

Hyomei Guaranteed to Cure by Overton Drug Co. or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in the sales of Hyomei are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remedy that the proprietors have authorized Overton Drug Co. to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by Overton Drug Co.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes a permanent and complete cure of catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh and it is the only one that follows Nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs. Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and your catarrh is cured. That's all. If not cured Overton Drug Co. will refund your money.

Dublin is this week furnishing three students to the state university at Austin. Two of these are Mr. James Jackson and Miss Loraionne Higginbotham, who are both high honor graduates of the Dublin schools last year and who are now to take their first term in the university. The third is Mr. Sam Lattimore, one of the brightest young men who has grown in Dublin and who has before him a future of the rosiest hue. Mr. Lattimore has been in the university six years and has been especially fitting himself to enter the legal profession. He is already a licensed attorney and during vacation has been assisting in the law office of his brother, Hon. O. S. Lattimore, who is the most widely known attorney of Ft. Worth. Mr. Lattimore will graduate the coming year in the legal department of the university and he will enter the business world fully equipped in mind, heart and body to make a success in every sense of the word and which we confidently expect him to do. Dublin is proud of Sam Lattimore and we predict will yet have more cause to be.

Miss Mary E. Gallagher of Chicago spent a day or two here the first of the week on a brief visit to her cousin M. D. Gallagher. Miss Gallagher is a professional nurse and at the time of the disastrous cyclone at Snyder last spring her profession called her to that point, where she was placed in charge of Mrs. Bailey of Stephenville, who was one of those most seriously injured in the cyclone and whose husband was killed by the terrible storm. About the middle of July last Mrs. Bailey was sufficiently recovered that she could be removed to her home at Stephenville and she has since been at her home and constantly under the care of Miss Gallagher, who has now dismissed her patient and who will leave tomorrow for Oklahoma City. Miss Gallagher is a niece of Congressman Martin B. Manly of Chicago, whose election to congress at the last election by an overwhelming majority against great odds has been the subject of much favorable comment for the genius of that gentleman by the press of the entire country.

Editor W. H. Morris, late of the Marlin Ball, but who for many years was publisher of the Stephenville Tribune, was here Wednesday en route to Stamford with a view of establishing a new paper at that place. Mr. Morris bought the Marlin Ball several months ago and has since been publishing the paper there, but last week sold the business and good will of the all to Mr. Kennedy of the Democrat at a handsome price, retaining his printing plant which he will have shipped to him at whatever point he locates. Mr. Morris is a newspaper man of considerable ability and is never satisfied except when he is issuing a better paper than his competitors, a habit that he has of usually doing.

C. E. Fair, son of Capt. T. J. Fair of the Lowell country, is yet with the United States army post at Ft. Miley, California, as indicated by a letter received from him this week enclosing a remittance for a years subscription to the Progress. He has been in the army something like three years, having joined without the knowledge of his parents, who only found out whither he had gone through the agency of the Progress, after many attempts to search him out, including several communications to the war department at Washington. He writes as though he was very well satisfied and expresses his regards to the Progress and other friends.

The first number of the lyceum course for the benefit of the drinking fountain fund, will be the appearance on Oct. 10th of Dr. H. W. Sears, a celebrated lecturer who has chosen for his subject "More Taffy and less Epitaphy." Dr. Sears is said to be a fine entertainer and a genial gentleman whose flow of eloquence is as musical as the trickling of waters over the pebbly shoals of a meadow stream. The lyceum course will include five numbers and single tickets for the series will be sold at $2.00, double tickets at $3.50, a single admission at 50 cents each. Remember the first of the series will occur October 10th.

A novel feature of the C. B. Long barber shop is a sure method recently adopted by Mr. Long of removing moles and other blemishes of the skin. A great many people are the unfortunate possessors of one or more unsightly moles on their face or neck and Mr. Long is able by his method to remove these within a very brief space of time and without the use of a knife. The writer can from experience testify to the success of his method.

The Iredell band has found it necessary to advertise in their local paper that visitors are not wanted in the room while the band is practicing. The Iredell band must be some different from most such organizations if anyone will unnecessarily remain within hearing distance during practice hours.

Rev. Boaz and the Polytechnic.

Rev. H. A. Boaz, president of the Polytechnic college a Ft. Worth is in Dublin today and will remain to be present at the dedication ceremonies of the Methodist church to occur next Sunday and which has heretofore been deferred from time to time on account of weather conditions at the times previously stated for the service to occur. It is always a pleasure for anyone to shake the good right hand of Rev. Boaz, but for a Dublin citizen it is a special pleasure that is uniformly sought when he arrives here or in their sojourns elsewhere any of them happen to the good fortune to get within distance of him.

The work of Rev. Boaz in a ministerial capacity in Dublin is known to every Dublin citizen and they have learned that it is of a constructive and lasting character, not only constructive in moral tone but also in brick and mortar, as is eloquently evidenced by the elegant Methodist church building in Dublin, which is only one of the beautiful monuments to his genius and energy.

Rev. Boaz has for three years been president of the Polytechnic college at Ft. Worth, elected for a twelve months each succeeding year. A few days since he was elected for the fourth time but this election was for five years instead of one and the trustees of the college wanted to make it twenty-five, a compliment which Rev. Boaz modestly declined. When he took charge of the college three years ago the enrollment numbered one hundred and sixty. Last week the college opened for the next season with an attendance of four hundred and fifty and with every prospect of the enrollment for the year reaching more than six hundred. In the meantime there has been more than $50,000 expended in additions and improvements on the college buildings and grounds, which may reasonably all be put down as the work of Rev. Boaz.

"Uncle Ben" Green reports recently having killed a large rattle snake in his yard, four miles south of town. The reptile came into his yard and was apparently going to the well hunting water. It was promptly dispatched and it was found to measure three feet and nine inches long besides his rattles, of which there were ten indicating that the snake was twelve years old. "Uncle" Ben says this is the first rattle snake he has ever seen in Erath county and he has been in the county twenty-seven years.

THREE JURORS CURED

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county site of Clebourne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but this medicine was so much better that he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." served came from England; the fried ham for which our host had paid fifteen cents a pound was not unlikely part of the same hog which he had raised some months before at three cents a pound; the pickles were made in Chicago, the sour-kraut in Dubuque; the bread, cake and pie crust were made from flour in Minneapolis, the shortening used was packing-house lard from Chicago, the canned corn was from Maine, and the sauce was dried fruit raised in California; the butter was apologized for as being made by a neighbor, the family cows being dry; the salt came from New York state and the coffee from Brazil, and for a fact, the only thing connected with that meal which was really produced on the farm was the blessing asked on the food and the appetites which consumed the good things. And this man was working like a slave to raise (at that time) fifteen cent oats and corn, and hogs at three dollars per hundred weight to pay the bills for this sort of a living. This is all wrong. Just so far as intelligent skill and care exercised both in the farm home and of the farm itself will permit, the raw material produced on the farm should be there so used and converted into finished poducts as to supply as far as possible the home needs of the farmer and his family. This is one of the very best arguments in favor of farm life. That the man on the farm can have, if he will, the first fruit of the poultry yard, the dairy, the field, the orchard, and not only the first fruits, but the opportunity, if he will improve it, to so prepare and store these products that it shall be harvest time for every day in the year.

A system of agriculture which contently raises twenty-five cent oats to pay for fifteen cent ham; which willingly exchanges a bushel of western field corn for two cans of Maine corn, has slipped a cog and needs overhauling.—Iowa State Register.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas the Great and Supreme Roler of the universe has in his infinite wisdom removed from us our most worthy brother and president of Shady Grove District Union, J. B. White, and whereas the long and intimate relations held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties in this union makes it eminently befitting that we record our appreciation of him. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in the aid of our organization by services, contribution and council will be held in grateful remembrance and that the removal of such a life leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all members and friends of this Union and will prove a serious loss to the community and public.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy for the bereaved relatives we express hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled for good by Him that doeth all things well. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the bereaved family and that they be spread upon the record of this organization and also published in the Dublin papers.

Paper From Cornstalks.

Paper made from cornstalks is the latest outcome of American ingenuity. Such paper, it is stated, can be produced at one-third the cost of that from wood fiber and rags. It is said, too, that samples of the new paper show it to be equal to the fine goods made from linen. Cost of making paper from cornstalks ranges from $22 to $25 a ton, while that from rags or pulp reaches $60 or $75. At present it is estimated that 53,000,000 tons of cornstalks annually in the fields of the western states. In the new process every particle of the stalk will be utilized. Fine paper will come from the pith, while coarse wrapping paper and box board will be made of the hard outer covering. Other portions of the stalk will go into varnish, powder, gun cotton, papier mache, cellulose, lubricants and other material.

No One is Satisfied.

The farmers want to live in town and the town man wants to live in the country. The fat man wants to be lean and the lean man wants to be fat. The poor man envies the rich one his money and the rich one envies the poor one his lack of responsibility. The girls wish they were married and the women, some of them wish they were girls. The conductors want to be motormen and the motormen want to be conductors. The docter wishes he had studied law and the lawyer wishes he had studied medicine. Thus we go, every fellow dissatisfied and wishing he could do something different from what he has to do. Nine-tenths of the people are dissatisfied and the other tenth would be if they had enough energy. It is not in the American nature to be satisfied.—Kansas City Journal.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

Harry, five minutes later, out of breath: There wasn't any. I guess she was just only practicin'.

At a dinner party in New York not long ago the talk turned on the virtue of patience as patience is personified in the patience of Job.

"Talk about the patience of the late Monsieur Job! Any woman is entitled to a like immortal reputation who has ever had a husband at home with a cold in his head."

Two little boys, one the son of a minister and the other the son of a bishop, were always argueing whose father was the greatest man, came together one day when the minister's son exclaimed:

"Your father ain't on good. Mine has given me a hen that lays an egg a week."

"That's nothing," quickly retorted the bishops' boy, "My father lays a corner stone every week."

"Algernon is very interesting," said the stock broker's daughter.

"What does he talk about?" inquired her father.

"Why, he's ever so well posted in Shakespearian quotations."

"Young woman," said the financier, sternly, "don't you let him deceive you. Don't let him make sport of your ignorance. There isn't any such stock on the market. I ought to know for I've been on the exchange long enough."

Thomas B. Reed once telegraphed a man to meet him in Pittsburg and the recipient, wishing to escape what he feared might be an unpleasant interview, took advantage of interrupted communication due to heavy rains and replied:

"Sorry I cannot get to Pittsburg. Washout on line."

Mr. Reed wired back: "Don't mind a little thing like that. Buy a new shirt and come on." The man kept the appointment.

Uncle 'Rastus and Uncle Nicodemus were discussing the Scriptures one day and finally Uncle 'Rastus said: "Nicodemus, does you suppose dat any of the apostles of the Lord was colored?" "I don't know about dat, 'Rastus," Uncle Nicodemus replied, "but dar is one thing I is powerful shore of, and dat is dat 'postle Peter was no nigger, case if he had 'a' been he never would have a-let dat rooster crowed three times."

Old Uncle Yaddie and Aunt Hannah got married at the negro quarters after a brief but vigorous courtship and on a very short acquaintance, and the old man gave the preacher a string of fish for performing the ceremony. In about two months the preacher met Uncle Yaddie: "How are you and Aunt Hannah getting along since your marriage, Yaddie?" Uncle Yaddie dropped his head and drew a long breath and said: "Well, sir, I wishes to de Lord I'd eat dem fish."

When P. T. Barnum was at the head of his "great moral show" it was his rule to send complimentary tickets to clergymen, and the custom is continued to this day. Not long after the Rev. Dr. Walker succeeded to the pastorate of the Rev. Dr. Hawkes in Hartford, there came to the parsonage, addressed to Dr. Hawkes, tickets for the circus with the compliments of the showman. Dr. Walker studied the tickets for a moment and then remarked: "Dr. Hawkes is dead and Mr. Barnum is dead; evidently they haven't met."

Mrs. "Stonewall" Jackson, widow of the famous Confederate general, now living in Charlotte, N. C., was chaffing a lawyer of her acquaintance about the fees demanded by the members of his profession.

"Still there are occasions when a lawyer isn't the chief of a beneficiary of a suit," said Mrs. Jackson. "I know of one instance. A friend of mine in Virginia sued a railroad company for damages and secured a verdict for $50,000, which was paid; and the whole amount is now in the bank subject to her order. Her council didn't get a penny of it."

"How was that?"

"She found the only way of outwitting him."

"What did she do?"

"She married the lawyer."

"Tell us, John," said the father, "what have you learned at college?"

"Oh, lots of things," said the son, as he recited off his course of studies. "Then," he concluded, "I also studied logic." "Logic," said the old man, "what is that?"

"The art of reasoning," said the son.

"What is that, my boy?"

"Well," replied the son, let me give you an example. How many chickens are on that dish, father?"

"Two," said the old man.

"Well," said John, "I can prove there are three." Then he stuck his fork in one and said: "That is one, isn't it?"

"Yes," said the father. "And this is two," sticking the fork in the other.

"Yes," replied the father again.

"Well, don't one and two make three?" replied John triumphantly.

"Well I declare" said the father, you have learned things at college. Well, mother," he continued, "I will give you one of the chickens to eat and I'll take the other, and John can have the third. How is that John?"

TO POLL TAX PAYERS:

"Section 12. The poll tax required by the constitution and laws in force shall be collected from every male person between the ages of twenty-one and sixty, who resided in this state on the first day of January preceding its levy; Indians not taxed; persons insane, blind, deaf or dumb and thsoe who have lost a hand or foot, or are permanently disabled excepted; which tax shall be collected and accounted for by the tax collector each year and appropriated as required by law. It shall be paid at any time between the first day of October and the first day of February following, and the person when he pays it shall be entitled to his poll tax receipt, even if his other taxes are unpaid."

Poll taxes are collectable as other taxes. So don't be led to believe that you do not have to pay your poll tax unless you want to vote; for such is not the law.

Poll tax must be paid in person by the payer, or by an agent in person, with written order. Blank orders for payment of poll taxes can be found at the different voting boxes throughout the county. Poll taxes must be paid before or at the time other taxes are paid, so don't send other tax money until poll tax is paid. If you do your money will be returned. Neither the tax collector nor his deputies can act as agent for the payment of poll tax.

Meet me while in your vicinity and pay your poll tax and save the trouble of a trip to Stephenville or of sending an order by an agent. Respectfully yours.—R. T. Roberts, tax collector. 19-2t.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS

CHURCH DEDICATION.

From all points of the compass the people are coming next Sunday to be present at the dedication of the Methodist church. The Methodists of Dublin and in general over the state are proud of the handsome church erected by the Dublin Methodists. There seldom comes a passer by but that they stop to inquire and to admire concerning the handsome stone church located on Patrick street in Dublin. The church was erected in 1900 by that eminent preacher and builder, Rev. H. A. Boaz, who is now president of Polytechnic college at Fort Worth. The church has a membership of four hundred or more and they are expecting a great day next Sunday September 24th. Rev. Alonzo Monk of Fort Worth will preach the sermon in the morning and Rev. H. A. Boaz in the evening. The church in Dublin has reason to rejoice upon this happy occasion. They are a part of the greatest religious body in Texas by far.—Rev. O. P. Kiker, pastor.

If your seat is too hard to sit upon, stand up. If a rock rises before you, roll it away or climb over it. If you wish for confidence, prove yourself worthy of it. It takes longer to skin an elephant than a mouse, but the skin is worth something. Don't be content with what another has done, surpass it. Deserve success and it will come. The boy was not born a man. The sun does not rise like a rocket, or go down like a bullet fired from a gun: slowly but surely it makes it round, and never tires. It is as easy to be a leader as a wheel horse. If the job be long, the pay will be greater: if the task be hard the more competent you must be to do it.—Methodist Herald.

Christian Church.—The regular Sunday morning service will be suspended this week on account of the Methodist dedication. Evening worship and communion at 7:30. The subject of the sermon will be "The First Convert to Christianity in Europe." Miss Dunn of Coleman will sing at the evening service.—A. L. Clinkinbeard.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Sunday school lesson for Sunday, September 24th, is a review of the lessons included in the third quarter of this year, July 2nd to Sept. 17th. The lessons of the quarter cover a period of about one hundred and twenty-four years, from B. C. 712 to B. C. 588. The principal incident of the lessons occurred in Judah and Babylon and the chief person of the lessons are the rulers and prophets of Judah and rulers of Assyria and Babylon.

The lessons of the quarter have dealt with some of the principal incidents in the history of the Kingdom of Judah, from the time of Sennacherib's Invasion to the final Captivity of Judah, with two prophetial lessons from Isiah, one from Ezekiel and one from Daniel, giving a glimpse of the lives of some of the captives.

In connection with the review the Golden Text is "The Lord is thy keeper."—Psalm 121:5.

The disease was quite fatal.

On August 13th, 1888, the city of Columbus, Ga., quarantined for the first time, the ordinance reading "against Jacksonville and other infected points."

In 1897 there was another severe epidemic involving New Orleans, Ocean Springs, Mobile and other gulf points. Again Columbus quarantined from September 15th to November 3rd.

The existing outbreak of yellow fever in New Orleans was reported on July 22nd, last. According to the official report, there have been 2012 cases and 144 deaths. Major Walter Reed, United States army, was sent to Cuba in 1900 to study infectious diseases, yellow fever mainly.

Dr. Carlas Finley of Havana had advanced the theory that a mosquito conveyed the unknown cause of yellow fever. He did not succeed in proving it. This was reserved for Major Reed.

The most wonderful experiments, backed by the most fearless volunteers from the American army offering for experiment, was the result.

The everlasting glory of the American soldier is again in evidence.

Dr. Lazear, one of these volunteer victims, gave his life to the disease and died like a hero. No other fatality occurred among the brave three nurses and nine nonimmunes who volunteered to be experimented upon.

The experiments convincingly settled the following:

1. The specific agent in the causation of yellow fever exists in the blood of the patient during the first three days of his attack. After that he ceases to be a menace to the health of others.

2. A single species of mosquito, viz: setgomyia fasciata, transmits the disease to other people. To do this the mosquito must inject the blood during the first three days of the fever, and is then powerless to transmit it until twelve days have elapsed. After that, it can infect people. If water is accessible this mosquito lives 154 days. Deprived of water it dies in six days.

3. The disease cannot be spread in any other way than by the bite of previously infected stegomyia. Articles used or soiled by patients do not carry infection.

For the first time in 150 years Havana was cleared of yellow fever in 1901. Isolation, sanitation, fumigation, mosquito destruction—in fact, stegomyia extermination—did this. The stegomyia is a house mosquito. Standing water was drained. Tanks were screened, petroleum was used and science was victorious.

Now Havana quarantines against New Orleans. What a reflection on the health and sanitary board of the Crescent City.

Later researches by Guiteras at Havana, of the hospital service at Vera Cruz, of the Pasteur institute in Rio Janerio, all confirm indisputably the accuracy of the conclusion of the American commission cited above.

Tom and the Equitable.

"I was a young lawyer without fixed income," writes Tom Watson in his magazine for August. "I was doing a good practice, but my revenue depended upon the continuance of my good health. Had I been stricken down by sickness my income would have been cut off at once. Had death overtaken me my family would have been left without adequate means of support.

"Therefore, to safeguard those I loved against misfortune, I insured my life for $5,000 in the Equitable, paying a premium of $113.50. For eighteen years I have annually paid that sum to keep the policy in force. During the entire period I believed I had a first-class investment, and that, to the extent of the policy, my family was absolutely protected against any providential mishap that might befall me.

"After I had paid about fourteen premiums on this policy I tried to borrow some money on it from the company. I was unable to do so. I thought it very strange that the Equitable would not lend any one of its own policy holders a small amount of money on its own security and at eight per cent. interest.

"Now, however, I know the reason why."

Cross Eyed Women.

It is now the proper time for cross-eyed women to fool the garden hose. I have faced death in almost every form, and I do not know what fear is, but when a woman gazing into the zodiac with one eye and peering into the middle of next week with the other, and wearing one of those floppy sunbonnets, picks up the nozzle of the garden hose and turns on the full force of the institution, I fly wildly to the mountains of Hepsidam. Water won't hurt any one if care is used not to forget and drink any of it, but it is in this horrible suspense and uncertainty of facing the nozzle of a garden hose in the hands of a cross-eyed woman that unnerves and paralyzes me.—Exchange.

A SYMPOSIUM ON IMMIGRATION

National Convention to Be Held In New York.

DELEGATES FROM ALL STATES.

Leading Thinkers of the United States Will Confer on Immigration Evils and Make Recommendations to Congress—First Conference of the Kind in American History Will Meet Dec. 6.

Leading men from all over the Union will meet in New York Dec. 6 and 7 as official representatives of the states to consider immigration in its relation to industrial and social prosperity, says the New York World. They will form a conference called at the instance of the National Civic Federation, with headquarters in New York, and recommendations will be formulated to be submitted to congress looking to the regulation, restriction or encouragement of immigration, according to the decision of the delegates.

Some of the most representative men in business, professional and labor circles will attend. It will be an open forum for debate, in the hope that whatever evils the immigration problem now presents may be remedied in legislation.

The Civic Federation is headed by August Belmont, and chief among its heartiest supporters are Grover Cleveland, Andrew Carnegie, Seth Low, Cornelius N. Bliss, Archbishop John Ireland, President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard university, Bishop Henry C. Potter and Secretary of the Navy Charles J. Bonaparte. The idea of holding a national conference on immigration was broached at a session of the Civic Federation of New York last June. Various opinions as to the benefit or disadvantages of the fupouring of aliens to the United States were expressed by many representative men of New York. It was agreed that the division of opinion afforded ample scope for the exploitation of the subject by the leading men from all the states, and it was decided to ask the co-operation of the National federation.

When the proposition was submitted to August Belmont, as president of the National federation, he suggested that the governors of all the states be asked to appoint delegates to a great conference to be held in New York. Letters were sent out with the idea of the conference briefly outlined and these questions given as the most important to be discussed at the session:

What is the character of the net increase in the population of the United States from immigration?

Should existing legislation looking to the elevation of this character through the exclusion of undesirable elements be extended and made more effective?

Should there be any change in the system of inspection, such as having it made at ports of departure or at the home sources of emigration or at both?

Are there any external influences tending to stimulate the volume of immigration?

What are the nature, extent and locality of the demands in the United States for more labor?

What domestic industries and what labor crafts are most affected by the influx of alien labor and in what ways?

What percentage of European immigration remains in the ports of arrival, such as New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore?

What practical method can be devised of distributing immigration, especially for agriculture, to points where it may be needed?

What will be the effect of the distribution of large numbers of immigrants in the south upon the problem of industrial education and social betterment of the negro race?

Should the exclusion of Chinese coolie labor be made more rigid and should it be extended to Japanese and Korean labor?

How shall the admission of exempted classes of Asiatics, such as scholars, merchants and tourists, be regulated?

In a few days replies began to pour in, and the federation has now heard from the governor of nearly every state, with the assurance that the delegates will be on hand. There will be ten from each state.

The committee in charge of the conference is composed of August Belmont, Samuel Gompers of Indianapolis, president of the American Federation of Labor; Oscar M. Straus, member of the court of arbitration at The Hague; John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Archbishop John Ireland of St. Paul; William D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America, with headquarters in Detroit; Charles A. Moore of New York, merchant; Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of Cleveland; Ralph M. Easley chairman of the executive council of the National Civic Federation; Bishop Henry C. Potter and Samuel B. Donnelly, secretary of the federation.

Commenting on the conference, Mr. Easley said: "This meeting will be one of the most important in the history of the country. It will be the first of the kind since the earliest colonists set foot upon this land. The response to the call reveals an expert appreciation of the growing importance of the immigration problem and a confident expectation that the conference will make intelligent progress toward the solution of it. The letters from the governors indicate the intention of many of them to attend personally. The recommendations to be made to congress cannot fail to have great weight. If there is any solution to the immigration problem it will undoubtedly be found at this gathering."

At the meeting at which the conference was suggested the statement was made by several speakers that the impression that the tide of immigration to the United States is choked with "the social debris of Europe" was erroneous.

It was stated that, on the contrary, the majority of the immigrants are supplied with funds and turn out to be thrifty and industrious. Others disputed this. Among the speakers was Emil L. Boas, general manager of the Hamburg-American Steamship line, who declared that while the general impression is that the number of immigrants each year greatly exceeds the number of those who leave the country, the difference is not so great as the public thinks. He said that while in New York last year 571,000 foreigners arrived by steerage, there were 323,000 to leave the country.

"The number going from the country from other ports than New York is proportionate to that," he said. "In all the north Atlantic ports there were 693,000 arrivals and 359,000 departures. Those who come here work hard, as a rule, during their stay and actually earn whatever they take home with them. As to the idea that those who come over are the poverty stricken hordes of the foreign countries, I will say the commissioner of immigration's figures for last year show that these supposedly bankrupt immigrants brought with them no less than $20,000,000, and that was $4,000,000 greater than the amount brought over the year before.

"The commissioner's report states that the immigrants showed only $25 per head, but even if that were all that they possessed upon arrival it must not be forgotten that it costs them something to break up their homes, that they have to pay the railroad fare to the port of departure—Hamburg, Bremen, Antwerp, Rotterdam, etc.—and steamship fare from the continental port to the American port, which is at present at least $36 per head, so that, adding up all the traveling expenses alone, they must have between $60 and $70 for each person, which, with the $25 shown upon arrival, makes $85 to $95 each. A family of six must, therefore, have had before starting over $500. Now, do you call a man in this country who has put away over $500 for a rainy day as belonging to the 'scum' and to 'poverty stricken hordes?'

"The money which these immigrants bring is, however, by no means their whole addition to the wealth of this country, for it has been computed by political economists that the economical value of every able bodied male immigrant over twenty years of age represents on an average the sum of $1,125 actually added to our working capital. In that way the wealth of this country is annually increased by hundreds of millions of dollars."

Commissioner of Immigration Robert Watchorn of Ellis island, who will attend the conference, said:

"I have been told that there is very great room for improvement as to the restriction of immigration, and I have no doubt that some people might improve on conditions at Ellis island from their own point of view, but I do not believe that a man who stands for a wide open policy, who would let everybody in because his sympathetic feelings get the better of him would be the proper man to enforce the law; nor do I believe that a man who has concluded, for reasons best known to himself, that there are already enough people in this country, and for that reason, and that only, no more should come, would be a fit and proper person to administer the law.

"I do not think that the law as it stands is all that it ought to be. I think some people are coming into this country today who ought not to come in. But I think the law is inadequate to keep them out as it now stands. I do not undertake to say to you how far this tendency to exclude should be extended.

"If you were to relax the rules and leave it to the good judgment of steamship companies undesirable immigration would increase in contrastive proportion to said relaxation. The power to exclude and the power to deport is just in proportion to the power to fine or punish for violating the law. I think steamship companies are endeavoring to obey the law, not because they have any special scruples about violating it, perhaps, but because they do not like the punishment that is meted out to them for not observing it.

"If the law can be improved, as I believe it ought to be, all this conference has to do is to make that known to congress. Get the law amended and the government has ample machinery and satisfactory facilities for enforcing it effectively."

President Roosevelt will be asked to send an official representative of the government at Washington to attend the conference.

Unconscious Nearly Five Months.

One of the most prolonged cases of coma known to medical science recently came to an end at Yonkers, N. Y. The victim was Charles Canepi, a boy of eight years, who died after lying unconscious 145 days. The little fellow was stricken after returning from the woods with a bunch of wild flowers. He then complained of pains in his head. Within two hours he was unconscious. Various reports of the boy moving or speaking proved untrue. For more than a month the only food he consumed was given him in injections, but for the last three months he swallowed peptonized milk and whites of eggs when placed in his mouth by the nurse.

Resolutions For Next Summer.

Month's vacation, money spent—
Goodness knows where it went!

Poor food, hard bed,
Skeeters plenty—nuff said!

Home again, empty purse,
Doctor bills, health worse!

Mind resolved not to roam
About next year, but board at home!

PROCTOR.

Regular Correspondence.

Sept. 20th.—I have decided that good intentions are not always fraught with results to match, for I have promised more than once to give the Progress our local news. At first when the time had slipped by unnoticed and the issue in which my locals were conspicuous by their absence stared me in the face, I felt quite sheepish. Then I would receive a nice card and a new supply of stamped envelopes, the publisher urging me to remember my promise to get my matter to him. At this juncture I would feel like a real sheep, and forge an eighteen karat resolution to write up the week's locals. I continued to resolulte and snap at the psycological time until I imagine I feel worse than a bunch of sheep. Really I am forced to conclude that I feel at par with the fellow who reads a paper for seven years and three months, then refuses to take it, and never having paid a cent for it. But I believe I am still forging toward myself and will make no new promises that may prove to be Dead sea fruit; but I'll be John Browned if I don't push my pencil until I convince that Progress man that I am not a moral outcast who enjoys the distinction of being a lineal descendent of Ananias. I even feel better for having written the foregoing and suggest that some of the delinquents in furnishing locals of their communities follow suit and lets make the publisher feel under obligations for perfect reports. The Progress has the circulation, so lets help to make it the best local paper that ever happened in this part of the vale of tears. What say you? Now Mr. Progress man, in consideration of the above program being adopted, you put up a little prize for the best, most punctual of your local quill drivers, and see if it is not a good investment. Let the award be made at such time as you may choose, in time to test the fidelity of all correspondents. This bolivick is not teeming with good news items, however.

The gins are running regularly now and business is improving.

A number of the young people are going away to school and all at home are busy.

Peaches have been dried and canned generally and peas, peanuts etc. have done well. The majority of our farmers will raise sufficient meat and lard for home consumption. So if cotton brings the price it should our people are in exellent shape financially.

Many of the farmers have gathered corn and report a good yield. Forage crops have been unusually good and this community has more feed than ever before. Cotton is ruined for the boll worms and dry weather almost stripped it of all summer fruitage and it is too late now for it to mature what is put on. Scarcity of seed has forced a short sweet potato yield. In fact, many who raise a surplus, ordinarily, have none at all.

Many of our citizens seem restless. John Pinson, Charley Campbell, E. B. Roch, A. J. Carnes, M. R. Carnes, Dr. Johnson and other prominent citizens have been west looking for better locations. A. J. Carnes has sold his home and I am afraid he will move away for we always regret to see such men depart. M. R. Carnes has sold his farm near Comanche and thinks of buying near here, as he thinks more of our country since his western tour. I am informed that Dr. Johnston has bought property at Ballinger, whither he went with his wife on a visit, and while he has said little, it means more. We would reluctantly part with the doctor, for he is the kind who build up and improve where ever they locate. He brought home with him a fine buggy horse.

Sept. 20th.—The fire alarm was given at about 2 o'clock Thursday morning and we were soon aware that J. T. Curbs & Son's store was in flames. The origin of the fire is unknown. The merchants had just finished putting in the last box of the biggest and finest lot of merchandise ever brought to this place. The loss amounted to about $10,000 and the insurance to about $4,000. The firm has decided to rebuild and continue in business.

S. L. Carlton happened to a very serious accident last week. His arm was caught in the machinery of the gin in some way and broken in two or three places.

E. D. Floyd has sold his property to Mark Carlton and bought an eight acre lot from Will Kelly off the old F. M. Carlton place.

Mrs. Lee Herrington was buried here today. She leaves her husband and eight little children. They have the sympathy of the community.

Our gins have handled less than two hundred bales to date. It is dry and hot and cotton all atout dead.
