PTO Sponsors Carnival on October 26

The Wellington Elementary School Parent-Teacher Organization will sponsor a carnival Saturday evening, Oct. 26, in Bura Handley Community Center, the president, Mrs. Billy Langford, has announced.

This is the only fund-raising project the organization holds during the school year, and proceeds are used for playground equipment and other improvements at the elementary school.

The carnival will be from 7 to 10 p.m., Mrs. Langford said.

There will be a hamburger supper and parents as well as children are urged to come and eat. Homemade ice cream and candy also will be featured.

Mrs. Jimmy Langford and Mrs. Don Lacy are members of the food committee.

There will be games for all ages, and the traditional Halloween entertainment such as fortune telling, spook house, and others are planned. Children are urged to come in costume.

Complete details for the carnival will be announced next week, Mrs. Billy Langford said.

She also announced that the Wellington School Board has granted the organization's request for improved playground equipment. The organization also sought a planned physical education program.

Morris, Needham Lead Tourney at Half Way Mark

Flight leaders in the Wellington State Bank Masters Golf Tournament were announced after 18 holes of play Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 12 and 13. C. T. Hubbard, president, is directing the tournament.

In Flight 1, youthful Jackie Needham who attends West Texas State and veteran golfer Lewis Morris tied for first place after the first qualifying round with 72 each. Emory Hunter was third with a 73.

Flight 2 leaders were Harold Watkins and Wayne Jones with 70 each, while Jones Singley came in third with a score of 80.

Three players tied to lead the third flight, Hiram Cudd, John Coffee and Dee Burba, all with 84.

Mr. Morris is leading with a 34 for medalist so far in the tournament. Play will be completed Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 19 and 20.

Forty-two players qualified, according to Mr. Hubbard.

Dan Henard, Jr. SCD Supervisor

Cooperators with the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District named Dan Henard, Jr., supervisor to represent Zone 5 in the election meeting Friday, Oct. 11.

Mr. Henard replaces his uncle, John Robert Henard, who has completed his third term as supervisor, a total of 15 years on the SCD board.

Terms are for 5 years, and a new supervisor is named from one of the five zones each year.

The Zone 5 election was held at Lutie.

Shetland Mule Born Here

Jake Leach and Ernest Harwell, Shetland pony breeders, are now the owners of a Shetland mule.

The baby mule was born at his farm some time between Thursday evening, Oct. 10 and Sunday morning, he reported.

Twenty-seven inches tall and weighing a lively 24 pounds, the tiny Shetland is a deep bay with black tips. The father was a Maltese donkey, the mother one of the mares from the local herd.

Shetland mules are extremely rare, he said, and as far as he knows, his is the only one in this area.

Rockets Meet Lively Seymour Friday Night

Wellington Skyrockets travel out of town again Friday, Oct. 15, to meet the Seymour Panthers, who stuck a feather in their cap last week by almost defeating Iowa Park.

The Rockets go into the game after their victory over Electra.

Iowa Park did win out over Seymour, 7 to 6, but the Panthers did defeat the Hawks in statistics, Wellington Coach Thayne Amonett reminded.

"Seymour is a very capable ball club, and probably has more speed than any other team in the district," he continued.

"They haven't played consistent ball all year, but I feel they are capable of being the best in the district if they are playing up to par.

"They have size comparable to any club in the district. They have an outstanding passing game and a good running game," added Coach Amonett.

Seymour has a 2-3 season record, having been defeated by Haskell, Olney and Iowa Park. The Panthers have won over Electra and Munday, a Class A team.

There is no reason the Rockets should not be ready for this game, their coach indicated. Gary Brewer, who played for the first time all season in the Electra game, is due to play in the Seymour game, also.

Don Reeves of Brenham Named County Agent

A new Collingsworth County Agricultural Agent was hired by the Commissioners' Court in its meeting Monday, October 14.

He is Don Reeves, 31, assistant county agent of Washington County with headquarters at Brenham. He will begin work here Saturday, Nov. 16, succeeding Sammy Helmers who became county agent at Sierra Blanca.

Mr. Reeves was born and reared at Hedley and is a nephew of Mrs. Frank Anderson. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Leon Reeves.

"It's good to get back to the Panhandle," he declared. His wife is the former Katherine Wright of Memphis, and they have three children: Kathleen, 5; Bill, 2; and Wesley, one week old.

After graduating from Hedley High School, Mr. Reeves attended West Texas State University, where he received the bachelor of science degree in animal science in 1962.

He was then employed with the Jack Renfro Ranches at Hereford, then worked as ranch manager for the Warren Ranch.

Resolutions Passed

Buddy Yarbrough Heads Farm Bureau for 1969

Buddy Yarbrough of Wellington, who has farming and livestock operations in the Shiner community, was elected president of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau at the annual convention Saturday night, Oct. 12. He succeeds Jim Ray of Samnorwood and took over the duties of the office at the close of the meeting.

The convention was held in conjunction with the annual Farm Bureau barbecue, when more than 500 members, their families and guests were served.

The new first vice president is Ray Null of Wellington; second vice president, Selba Rainey of Samnorwood; and secretary, Jerry Scott of Wellington.

Directors were elected from the four districts into which the county is divided:

North: James Martindale, Gus Gooch, Harold Hill, Doug Coleman and M. W. Paschall.

South: Jack Moreman, Farris Wood, C. A. Wilbur, Virgil Patterson and Danny Davis.

West: Dennis Lacy, Wayne Martin, Elmer Feemster, L. A. Davis and Travis McGuire.

East: John Brim, Les White, George Barton, Carthel Lewis and Leslie Moore.

Directors at large are Dee Coleman, who is District 1 director of the Texas Farm Bureau; Mr. Ray, the outgoing president; and Carl Wischkaemper.

Resolutions were passed on the county, state and national level, and the latter two categories will be presented at the annual Texas Farm Bureau convention later this year.

There was little discussion of any of the proposals, most of which were drawn up in the policy meeting Oct. 3. Most also deal with conditions with which the members are familiar.

On the county level, approval was given a proposal that the Farm Bureau co-operate with other organizations in promoting a boll weevil control program for this and adjoining counties.

L. A. Davis, an officer of the Collingsworth County Insect Control Association explained that four sprayings were made in the diapause weevil control program, under a 50-50 program with the state.

"We got results," he said. "This is the only year you can hunt 30 minutes in a field of cotton and not find boll weevil," he continued, then added that the program is less effective if all farmers of an area

West Appointed Manager of Chamber-C

Oris West is the newly appointed manager of the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce, President Jeff Wilson announced this week. He has taken over his duties in the C-C office at 719 West Avenue.

Mr. West fills an office which has been vacant since the death of N. M. Higdon. Mrs. Max Phipps will continue as secretary in the office.

Associated with the county's business community since he returned from World War II service in the Navy, Mr. West is also the local agent for Universal Life Insurance Co. and will continue in that work. His schedule will allow him to be out of the C-C office for part of the second and fourth weeks of each month, Mr. West said.

Reared at Dodson, Mr. West operated a drug store there from 1945 to 1952, then joined the staff of Parsons Drug in Wellington where he worked until 1958. He was then associated with Lewis Grocery until March 1968, when he opened his insurance agency.

At Dodson, Mr. West was a member of the school board and city council, and was worshipful master of the Dodson Masonic Lodge.

He is active in the First Baptist Church in Wellington. Mrs. West is the former Laverne Welch of Dodson and is employed at Parsons Drug.

They have two sons, the Rev. Gary West of Dallas and Randy West, a student in Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches.

Jim Lewis Top Hedley Fiddler

Jim Lewis of Wellington won first place in the old fiddlers contest held in conjunction with the Hedley Cotton Festival on Saturday, Oct. 12.

He received a $25 check and Monday morning he deposited it with Jeff Wilson of City State Bank to start the prize money for the 1969 Collingsworth County Old Fiddlers Contest next September.

It was learned this week that only $155 was raised for the Fiddlers Contest this year, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis paid the balance of the $275 expenses out of their own pockets.

Second place in the Hedley festival contest went to Gene Sewell of Hobart, Okla., and third to Bobby Scruggs of Amarillo.

Fall Festival of Arts, Crafts Set Saturday

The Fall Festival of Arts and Crafts, three major events in one, will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, Oct. 19, and is the most extensive effort yet launched here in behalf of the fine arts.

For the first time in the autumn, there will be an outdoor exhibit of paintings, by both adults and students, displayed on the courthouse lawn, beginning at 1 p.m.

The Wellington Rotary Club will then stage one of its famous chicken barbecues on the south side of the square at 6 p.m., with tables set out sidewalk cafe style.

An arts and crafts auction, beginning at 7 p.m. will be the last event.

Final plans were announced by Mrs. Hubert Bowen, president of the Sagebrush Arts and Crafts Association, sponsor of the art festival.

The exhibits of both paintings and crafts are expected to be considerably larger than the spring outdoor show, with more people participating.

The general arrangements, however, will follow closely the spring show.

Paintings will be displayed on the courthouse lawn, completely surrounding the building. This will include student as well as adult work.

Crafts of all types will be shown in the corridors of the courthouse.

In case of bad weather, everything will move indoors.

"Anyone who would like to exhibit paintings or crafts is cordially invited to bring them," said Mrs. Bowen. Artists and craftsmen from throughout the Panhandle and Western Oklahoma have been invited.

Local artists are to register their entries at the Chamber of Commerce with a committee headed by Miss Bonnie Willis. Members are Mrs. Tom Caterlin, Mrs. John Sherman, Mrs. C. C. Brown, Mrs. Otis Emmert and Mrs. Gabe Wright.

Out of town exhibitors will register Saturday morning at one of the four walks leading from the street to the courthouse. Handling this work will be Mrs. Cal Sugg, Mrs. Heber Brantley, Mrs. Barney Glenn, Mrs. Barbara Williamson, Mrs. Mickey Breedlove, Mrs. Bobby Langford and Miss Dorothy Robertson.

There will be a 50¢ fee for each adult entry.

School children do not pay an entry fee, nor will there be any cash awards for them except a $5.00 best of show, Mrs. Bowen said.

If, however, they want to enter the open division along with adults, there will be the usual 50¢ fee for each item.

In the adult or open division, there will be a $5 award for each first place, and winners through fourth place will receive ribbons.

Throughout the afternoon, a number of clubs and organizations will have booths around the square.

The Domestic Science Club will have a booth under the pecan tree and is offering prizes.

Tickets Sale Starts for Kiwanis Supper

Tickets for the Kiwanis Pancake Supper to be held on Oct. 25, the night of the football game with Shamrock, will go on sale this week, according to C. T. Hubbard, who is head of the committee on ticket sales.

The Pancake Supper, which has grown to be one of the features of the football season, is held by the Kiwanis Club to raise money for their underprivileged children's fund and other civic activities.

The tasty menu consists of pancakes and sausage and coffee or milk for a drink, with chocolate milk for children, and is served by members of the Kiwanis Club in the school cafeteria.

Serving will start at 5 and continue to 7 o'clock, which will allow ample time for all who attend to get to the Rock-et-Irish football game on time.

Every member of Kiwanis will have tickets for sale after the noon meeting Friday.

Gen. LeMay Remembered by His World War II Flight Engineer

The announcement that Retired Air Force General Curtis LeMay would be the vice presidential nominee of the American Party rolled time back 25 years for one Wellington man.

John Wolf, who lives at 1400 Arlington Street and farms at Loco, was the general's flight engineer through World War II, going with him across North Africa and Europe.

LeMay was a colonel and Wolf a master sergeant. Wolf recalls one trip to Russia to pick up a load of United States prisoners of war who had been liberated from Germany.

Near-starving though the men were from their imprisonment, to return them all would overload the plane. They began to cast lots at the Moscow airport to see who would go.

It was more than M/Sgt. Wolf could stand. Without the knowledge of his superior, he removed certain paneling inside the plane and secreted the extra men. The entire group got back to London without incident.

Officially, he received a dressing-down for this, but unofficially, Col. LeMay took him out on the town.

Turkey Shoot Big Success

The turkey shoot sponsored by the Collingsworth County Fair Association Sunday, Oct. 13, exceeded all expectations in participation by the public, according to Billy Moseley, who helped with the arrangements.

Frozen turkeys, located at the last minute, and two-pound packages of bacon were given as prizes.

Buddy Dodson of Plainview, formerly of Wellington and one of the Panhandle's leading skeet shooters, won five turkeys and several packages of bacon, while T. L. Wilkerson and Mr. Moseley each won three turkeys.

Twenty line-ups consisting of five men each participated during the afternoon.

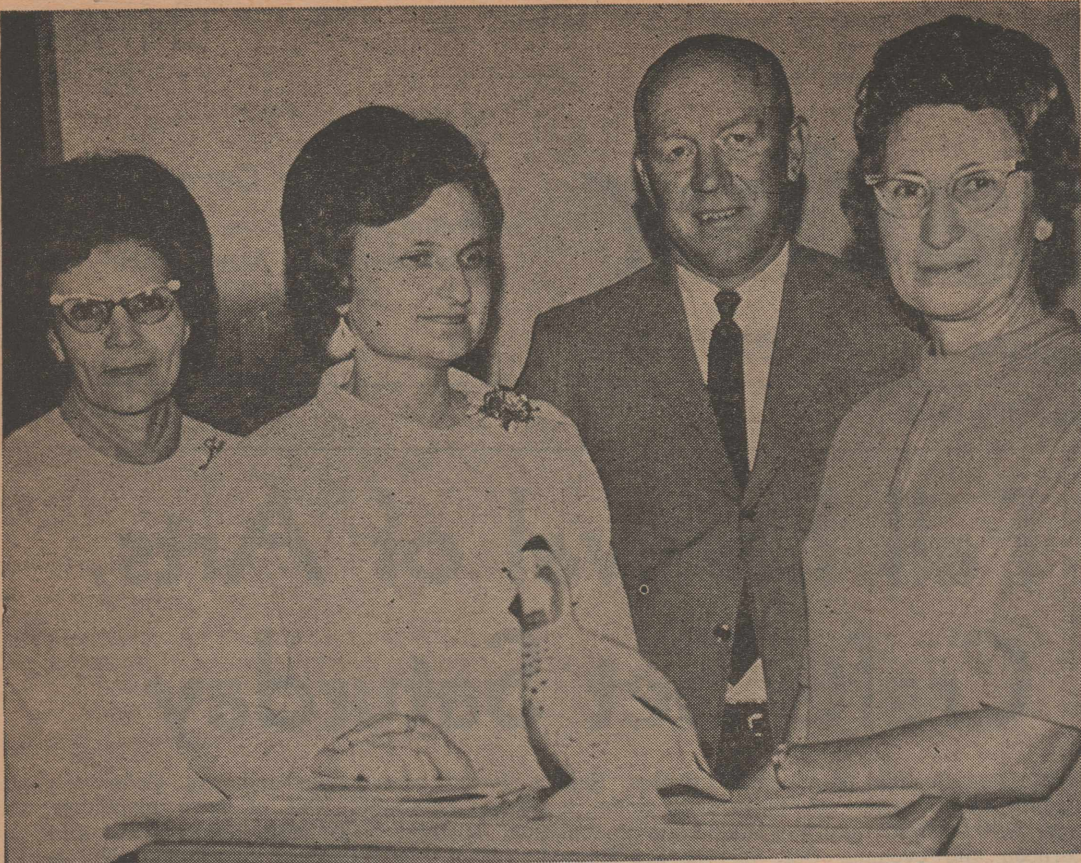

Bud Higginbotham was general chairman and assisting him were Mrs. Higginbotham, G. T. Owens, Jr., Mickey Breedlove, Tony White, Troy Marsh, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat McAllister.

Another turkey shoot is planned for Sunday, Oct. 27, with the location and time to be determined.

State Constitution

14 Amendments To Be Voted on November 5

Texas voters will ballot on 14 proposed amendments at the proposed Constitutional Amendments at the general election Tuesday, Nov. 5. This is in addition to the votes to be cast for candidates all the way from the precinct level to the White House.

With a president to be voted upon, little has been said about these proposed amendments. Drawing the most attention is the proposal that would increase the state welfare limit from $60 to $75 million.

The others cover a wide range of items.

Here is a brief description of each of the amendments, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot:

No. 1—Give the state employee's retirement system constitutional status; and give the legislature power to raise the state's contribution to the retirement fund; allow the fund to invest in common stocks as well as government bonds.

No. 2—Raise the ceiling on state payments to the needy aged, blind, disabled and dependent children from $60 million a year to $75 million.

No. 3—Give the University of Texas regents more freedom in investing permanent university funds. At present only 50 percent of the fund can be invested in corporate securities; that limit would be removed.

No. 4—Allow Dallas County to issue road bonds in excess of the constitutional debt limit of one fourth of the assessed value of the county's property. Approval of a majority of the county's voters would be required before the bonds could actually be issued.

No. 5—Increase the limit on legislators' salaries from $4,800 to $8,400 a year, permit the legislature to set the figure, allow legislators to draw daily expense money for the full 140 days of the biennial regular session instead of only 120 days, and increase their travel allowances.

No. 6—Permit passage of laws exempting pollution control equipment from state and local property taxes.

No. 7—Gradually abolish all of the state property tax except the 10-cent levy for college buildings. The maximum levy now, 35 cents per $100 valuation, would be decreased 5 cents each year until 1975, when the tax would be abolished.

No. 8—Relieve the governor, secretary of state and comptroller from the duty of approving all contracts for fuel, furnishings and repairs for legislative chambers.

No. 9—Eliminate the present $504 limit on the amount any teacher can contribute in one year to his own benefits in the state teacher retirement system. Since the state matches retirement funds, the state's cost would also increase.

No. 10—Permit tobacco tax refunds to merchants in Texas and adjoining cities. The amendment is designed to help these merchants compete with merchants in Oklahoma.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, October 17, 1968

Ark., where there is no tax on tobacco products.

No. 11—Permit Tarrant and El Paso counties to consolidate some county and city offices, with approval of a majority of the local voters. Local governments in these counties also would be permitted to contract with each other for services without holding an election.

No. 12—Permit cities and counties to issue revenue bonds and use the proceeds to buy land and build and equip industrial plants. The plants would be leased to private businesses, with lease payments to repay the bond.

No. 13—Exempt from property taxes merchandise stored in a public warehouse for six months or less while awaiting shipment to an out-of-state destination.

No. 14—Correct a 1966 amendment which created confusion about a legislator's eligibility to take another office at the end of his legislative term. Legislators elected to other offices would be allowed to take their new posts on Jan. 1 even though their legislative terms might have a few days to run.

Proposed Changes in State Schools Told

Although a system of local school districts with a minimum of 2,600 students will be recommended to the Texas legislature in 1969, there are provisions for the continued operation of county-wide districts with smaller enrollments, Collingsworth County teachers were told recently.

John E. Hill, field representative of the Texas State Teachers Association, was the guest speaker at the annual banquet of the county unit of the TSTA held at Quail Monday, Oct. 7.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson of Quail, president, was mistress of ceremonies, and Mrs. Bob McAlister of Wellington, vice-president, introduced the speaker.

Teachers from the county's four schools, Wellington, Samnorwood, Dodson and Quail, attended.

Mr. Hill distributed copies of a digest of recommendations of the report of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education and based his fact-packed talk on recommendations that would apply locally.

A master plan for school district re-organization should be adopted by the Legislature in 1969 for full implementation in the 1971-72 school year, he said.

There are exceptions to the proposed 2,600-pupil school districts: County-wide districts may continue operation as independent systems with a minimum of 1,600 average daily attendance; or, county-wide or larger "Sparse Area Districts" may operate with less than 1,600 ADA. Collingsworth would be one of these. "You would have one high school," said Mr. Hill.

Students would still be allowed to transfer from one school district to another.

The Governor's Committee will recommend that county school boards and superintendents be phased out as incumbents complete their terms of office. The remaining functions of such county administrations should be transferred to independent school districts and to the Texas Education Agency.

The 20 Educational Service Centers should be replaced by a smaller number of Regional Branch Offices of the Texas Education Agency, each serving a minimum of 100,000 students. (The center for this area is in Amarillo.)

will recommend that the State Board of Education be changed to conform to Congressional District boundaries, to be updated whenever Congressional district lines are changed. This would increase the board to 23 members.

Mr. Hill explained that a Basic Foundation Program will replace the "minimum" state program now in operation. It would expand educational opportunities and equalize educational quality, he said.

Pre-school education would be extended to include children who are 5 years old on or before Sept. 1. The program should get under way in 1969-70 for the low income and non-English-speaking children and should be gradually extended to include all children 5 years old on or before Sept. 1. Thereafter the level would be dropped to include 4-year-olds from low income and non-English-speaking students.

Full utilization of school facilities will be urged.

This could include a summer instructional program, concentrating on children who need it most.

Concentrating on drop-out prevention, the program would provide for extra personnel and operating allowances in the schools.

The trimester or 12-month school would be made possible.

An Adult Basic Education Program would be tied in with the proposed revision. This would be provided without charge to all persons over 18 who have not completed a high school education.

Mr. Hill explained the salary schedule which the Governor's Committee will propose, and which is above that sought by TSTA.

For teachers, the Governor's Committee proposes work load limits, developmental leave and sick leave, along with other improvements.

The county TSTA banquet was served by members of the Quail Young Homemakers chapter.

The expression "garbled" to designate something that is all mixed up started in London when that city appointed inspectors, called garblers, to see that spices and drugs were not mixed in stores.

"CHEMICAL" TOWN

Four chemical elements—ytterbium, yttrium, terbium and erbium—are named for Ytterby, a hamlet near Stockholm, Sweden. The town's fame is owed to a local quarry that provided a wealth of minerals for chemists in the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

Jan Hudlow

Young Artist to Be Featured

Jan Hudlow, youthful Esteline portrait artist, will be among the exhibitors at the Fall Festival of Arts and Crafts in Wellington Saturday, October 19.

Miss Hudlow, under the sponsorship of Sagebrush Arts and Crafts Association, will paint portraits, using pastels as her medium, here Saturday afternoon. She will do as many as her time allows. She will be in the Collingsworth County Library in the southwest corner of the first floor of the county courthouse.

A senior in Esteline High School, Jan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hudlow. She has studied under Mrs. Daria Fowler and Mrs. Nola Denton, who now teaches art in Rochester, New York.

For six months she painted portraits weekly on Sunset Center Mall in Amarillo. Jan's paintings hang in private collections in many states and Washington, D.C. She deals strictly in realism.

A portrait painter more from talented sensitivity than from training, Jan possesses the unique ability to transfer her understanding of people onto the drawing board.

PLANT POINTERS

More plants are over-watered than under-watered. Once a week usually should be sufficient.

Plants such as philodendrons are placed in the sink and tap water sprinkled over the leaves. The water then drains into the soil.

Use lukewarm water and not cold water. Here's one method of determining how moist the soil is in a pot. Tap the top rim with a knife handle.

You get a dull sound if the soil is moist and a ringing if the soil is dry.

Leaves can be made to gleam by applying mineral oil. Milk is also effective. Leaves should be washed regularly to remove room dust which tends to lessen the efficacy of sunlight.

Potted plants do best when exposed to the sun until noon.

Make your plans to attend the Fall Festival of Arts on the Courthouse Lawn Saturday, Oct. 19. It is one of the major art events of the eastern Panhandle.

A Diverse Land

Sanford Finds Madrid Urbane and Elegant

(Editor's Note: Bob Sanford is living this year in Madrid, Spain, where he works for an architect and also for Guidepost, Spain's American weekly news magazine. He was graduated from Texas Tech's School of Architecture in June. The Wellington Leader has asked for his impressions of his temporary home city, and this is the first of two articles.)

I've been meaning to write this for some time, but I didn't quite know how or where to begin. It's pretty difficult to describe some of the things I've seen and done without slides or photographs, but I hope that will come later.

I think it would be best to begin telling you what it's like living here by first describing Madrid and this area of Spain; then saying some things about my part as a "temporary resident."

Madrid has a population of just over three million people. It's a very urban city, but still maintains the grace and elegance of the old world. Parts of the city are very old and romantic with gas lights, and cobblestone streets, and little plazas filled with people.

Within an hour's drive of Madrid you can find many diversities in the land and climate. To the North lies Segovia and Avilla, a very mountainous and cool area; to the west are the Pyrenees; and to the south is Toledo and La Mancha, a land of plains and barren hills. All of these places are rich in history and culture. The famous castle at Segovia is the one Walt Disney modeled his Disneyland castle from, and the ruins of an old Roman aqueduct, one of the oldest in Europe, is found in Avilla. Toledo (famous for its swords) and the land beyond is dotted with the windmills made famous by Cervantes' "Don Quixote." One very noticeable thing on trips to these areas is the urgent need of the Texas Highway Department: the roads and highways could use a little work.

The architecture is as diverse as the land is. Within the city I've found examples of the starkest simplicity in contemporary buildings to the most ornate and lavishly designed ones. There are buildings from almost every period of history, including Moorish, Gothic, Baroque, Renaissance, Churrigueresque (which was begun in Spain and carried to some of the missions and churches in Texas, New Mexico and California), and Art Nouveau, in the style of Gaudi, Spain's world famous architect. And in the countryside there are old monasteries, cathedrals, and castles, some still in use.

As I mentioned, although Madrid is very modern and urban in some ways, much of the old way of life still exists. For example, in the old part of the city there are "Mesones" which were Inns converted now into bars and cafes. This is the best place to see the Spanish people as they really are because few tourists venture into these areas. But they are filled with Flamenco guitar and accordion music, dancing and loud singing. And on the weekends, when the workers and gypsies from the country come into town, it's like the Old West when the cattle drivers hit the saloon on a Saturday night.

Another fascinating and exciting section of town is the "Restro," or "Flea Market." This is also in the old part of Madrid, where the streets are filled with little shops and multi-colored tents and the people are selling everything imaginable. You can buy anything from a supposedly original Picasso to used underwear. And this is also the unique area where you can watch "antiques" made right before your eyes.

Madrid is filled with parks and monuments. Even the busiest of the intersections is centered by a sculpture to some king or queen or another historic figure. On every street there is at least one sidewalk cafe with large, bright umbrellas at every table, and they are always filled to capacity.

Like any large city, Madrid has all types of transportation. Although the subways are perhaps the quickest and most direct, I find it takes me longer to figure out how to get back up on ground than it would have if I had walked. However, the busses go all over the city and are a good and safe means of getting almost anywhere. I mentioned "safe" because I've taken some taxi rides that I couldn't begin to describe; even with slides. These men must have fantastic insurance policies because they drive just like you've always heard they do: fast and furious.

Now about the Spanish people. Most of them are tan-looking with dark eyes, but there are a surprising number of fair-complected blondes. And they are small, for the most part, which I've found to be very enjoyable.

They are extremely patient to those who don't know their language. The only major problem I've had is that they tend to "over listen" and sometimes misunderstand me even if, by chance, I speak correctly. If I can't find a particular place, all I have to do is ask someone on the street and if they are not doing anything at the moment, they will take me there. You've probably heard that the Spanish are anything but punctual. This is completely true except for two things: their meals and the bullfight. They are seldom in a hurry to get to work, but they won't be a second late to the bullfight on a Sunday afternoon. Bullfighting is still the most popular event with them, however, soccer is fast becoming the primary sport.

Very often when you are a guest in a Spanish home, the hosts are almost over zealous in trying to do things for you or to entertain you. And also when you admire something in the home, whether it's a piece of furniture or one of the kids, they use a polite expression, which when translated means "It's yours." But it isn't, really.

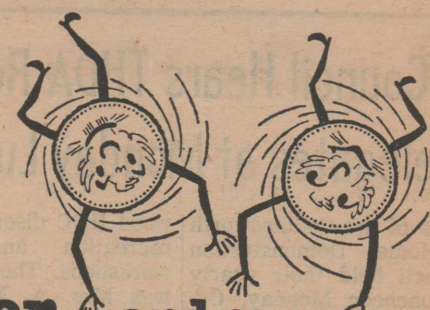

The people dress very well and always in the most current fashion. One thing I've found is that the Spanish men are "uniform happy." For some reason, uniforms, regardless of what they are for, are a status symbol and to wear one implies a little more dignity than the average man-on-the-street. However, those who do not have uniforms, not to be outdone, carry briefcases. I've been told the story of a little man, rather dirty looking, walking down the street carrying a very nice briefcase. He was watched for a few minutes, and finally went up to a telephone booth, took out some old rags, and proceeded to wash the glass of the booth. So, each has pride in his work, too.

I want to say something here about the American and other English-speaking people I've met. All that I have been in contact with have been extremely kind and helpful. They have gone out of their way to recommend things for me to see and do, and have taken me to places I might not otherwise have gone to. It's almost like a chain reaction: someone has helped them so they will help the next person. It's a comfortable feeling to know that this exists.

NEW MONEY... from new industries and new shoppers... is most likely to go into areas where there's a favorable economic climate and a lot of practical community spirit.

These conditions, of course, will be found most often in places where Local Dollars turning over time after time at home are supporting first rate civic facilities and keeping well-stocked stores and skilled service people in the area business centers.

NewMoney Tonic is great for personal and community economic health, but the biggest doses of it go to areas where Old Money is being kept on the job at home.

WOULD YOUR CONGRESSMAN VOTE FOR GEORGE WALLACE?

Some fine Texans are tempted to vote for the 3rd party candidate because they admire his stand and his statements on some of the major campaign issues...

STOP AND THINK WHAT WILL ACTUALLY HAPPEN...

The best that Wallace supporters can hope for is enough strength to throw the election into the turmoil of a Congressional election by the House of Representatives...

THEN WHAT HAPPENS?

The answer is certain and simple. Wallace supporters are at the mercy of Washington Politicians! Every vote for George Wallace automatically becomes a vote for Hubert Humphrey!

THERE IS A BETTER CHOICE...

A vote for the NIXON-AGNEW ticket is a positive vote for "change" with the definite promise that our National Affairs will take a new direction... the direction you want it to take!

YOU CAN TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT!

HDC Council Hears THDA Report by Delegates at Monday Luncheon

Members of the Collingsworth County Home Demonstration Club Council held their yearly October luncheon Monday, October 10, to hear reports from delegates to the 42nd annual State Texas Home Demonstration Association Convention held earlier.

The luncheon was held in the hospitality room of the Farm Bureau building. Approximately 900 women from throughout Texas attended the THDA convention, held in McAllen.

Mrs. H. W. Redeker of the Dodson HD Club described the workshops pertaining to family life, publicity and safety; Mrs. L. W. Wells of Lillie HDC reported on the health and recreation workshops and the District 1 banquet; while Mrs. Charlie Bradley of Samnor-wood HDC discussed the health, recreation and membership workshops. The fourth delegate was Mrs. A. M. Saunders.

As part of their trip to the convention, the women visited the LBJ Ranch at Johnson City, Sredericksburg, HemisFair at San Antonio, and while at McAllen took a side-trip into Mexico.

Those attending the luncheon were Mrs. Haskell Manuel, Mrs. Malcolm Horton, Mrs. Emil Kersten, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Gus Gooch, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Wayne Laycock, Mrs. Pat Bradley.

Mrs. Joe Terry, Mrs. Emit Cook, Mrs. Ben Brewer, Mrs. Zook Thomas, Mrs. John Alf Thomas, Mrs. Redeker, Mrs. W. A. Morrow, Mrs. J. B. Killian and Mrs. Jess Motsenbocker.

Judge Zook Thomas Tells of County Park at Domestic Science Luncheon

The traditional luncheon opened the 53rd year of the Domestic Science Club, followed by a program in which members heard County Judge Zook Thomas explain the proposed county park.

Mrs. L. C. Hill was the luncheon hostess, and co-hostesses were Mrs. J. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Jerry Nix, Mrs. J. B. Stevenson and Mrs. Farris Wood.

Fall flowers decorated the house, and the dining table had a centerpiece of yellow chrysanthemums, in a long pottery container. This, the hostess explained, belonged to her mother, the late Mrs. Cleo Templeton, a charter member of the club, and it had gone to many, many Domestic Science Club meetings.

Judge Thomas explained the acquisition of the 12.6 acres along US Highway 83 at Salt Fork River north of Wellington, and invited the club to help with its future improvement. He cited the help which local clubs have given in the improvement of Ellison Park in Wellington, and the city's cemeteries.

He urged everyone who wanted to do something at the park to do so. He explained that the overall plans for its improvement will begin as soon as damage to roads from the summer rains can be repaired.

He also explained financing the park improvement, which could include a 50% grant from state funds earmarked for this type of development.

Mrs. A. J. Fires, project chairman for the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, explained the district-wide project, aid to the State Hospital at Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Hill is president of the Domestic Science Club this year and Mrs. Wood is vice president and Mrs. Deskins Wells secretary. This year's yearbook is dedicated to the memory of the late Mrs. W. R. Orr.

Three new members were welcomed at the Thursday luncheon, Mrs. A. L. Elliott, Mrs. Sandy Parsons, and Mrs. Hiram Cudd.

Those attending were Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. Cudd, Mrs. Clyde Drake, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Nix, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Wood.

Take a tip from the professionals about the best and easiest way to launder your ready-made draperies.

Many of the tips used by the professionals will be helpful to the homemaker.

A professional launderer carefully inspects all draperies for damage before washing, and makes repairs at that time. All hooks and weights are removed or covered with rubber protectors.

For excessively soiled draperies, the professionals pre-rinse in warm water for a few minutes; drain; then add enough warm water for the draperies to float freely, a low suds detergent, and wash. A homemaker should gently squeeze and dunk the fabric. Scrubbing and agitation are not necessary with fiberglass.

Extremely soiled white draperies are treated by adding one half teaspoon of safety type bleach per gallon of water with the detergent. For cigarette smoke or similar type soil, soak draperies after washing in a solution of one teaspoon ammonia per gallon of water for five to 30 minutes. However, do not use the ammonia soak if you have used bleach in the washing procedure. And as with all fabrics, use ammonia and bleach with discretion. Use only the amounts recommended. Careless use of these products can result in the removal of color from the fabric. Make certain bleach or ammonia is dispersed through the water before adding draperies.

If a persistent stain remains, saturate the stained area with concentrated detergent, rub gently with soft sponge and rinse with clear water. Fiberglass draperies should be rinsed in warm water until water is clear.

Commercial launderers use the same drying methods for fiberglass as homemakers. The draperies are hung on poles or rods. While still damp, the seams and hems are gently pulled to insure smoothness. Fiberglass never needs ironing or pressing.

The professionals all agree the key word in handling fiberglass draperies is gentle. Fiberglass products require a minimum of care, and that should be done delicately. For continuing elegance without upkeep, just give your fiberglass draperies the gentle touch.

Homemaker's Guide to the Big Frame-up
Frames are designed to protect and enhance the pictures they surround, and they make the transition from picture to room decor, but that is not much to go on when you are faced with a framing decision. While each picture is different and so requires different framing, there are some general rules to follow in selecting a picture frame.

- The frame should focus attention on the picture and draw the eye to the center of interest in the picture.
- The frame should harmonize in color and weight with the subject matter.
- The frame should strengthen the composition it frames but never dominate it.
- The frame should surround, but not halt, the movement of color and line in the picture.
- The frame, when necessary, should create an illusion of depth or size or added perspective to the picture.

How your body responds to some foods may depend on your heredity, reports researchers.

An individual's genetic makeup may tell his body how to use specific carbohydrates.

There is increasing evidence that in some people the kind of carbohydrates they eat may influence how the body uses fat.

Present studies have shown carbohydrates influence survival, organ weights, liver fats, blood serum cholesterol and other life factors.

5th Graders Asked to Name Parks, Wildlife Symbol

AUSTIN.—"Name the Ring-tail" contest packets have been sent to school superintendents for distribution to principals of 3,388 elementary schools in Texas, according to T. D. Carroll, coordinator of conservation education for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The contest is being held for Texas fifth graders in order to get a name for the Department's new conservation symbol—the ringtail. The ringtail's caricature will serve the same purpose as Smokey the Bear does for the U.S. Forest Service, appearing on pamphlets, placards and motion pictures.

Approximately $400 in prizes are being offered the winner, including an all-expense paid visit to Six Flags Over Texas.

All fifth grade pupils attending public, private, or parochial schools of Texas are eligible to submit one entry. Contest details may be had from school principals.

Our Fall Art Festival Will be a Bright Day for Wellington

The first fall outdoor art festival, sponsored by Sagebrush Arts and Crafts, Saturday afternoon in the court house yard, will be one of the colorful and unusual events of the season.

The talent of Collingsworth's artists has erupted with such force and quality within the last few years that it has become almost a trademark. Some of the major art centers started with no more than this.

The festival, open to any artist anywhere who wishes to exhibit, is a sign of our growing awareness of the arts. It will have more to offer. It will be informal, it will be free, and most of all, it will be fun.

When Saturday comes, there will be too much genuine talent on display for us not to support it with our presence.

OTHER EDITORS SAY . . .

Gentleman's Gentleman Is Credit to Sport

There's a little something in satisfaction for everyone in Lee Trevino winning the National Open Golf championship.

Lee is young, so youth is on his side. Lee was a poor Mexican-American kid who learned to swing with a broomstick. So everybody who ever was poor or came from an immigrant family is on his side—and that's a lot of us.

Lee plays golf in a highly unorthodox style. So he has all of us duffers going with him.

And best of all, despite his devil-may-care attitude, he wins the traditional "gentlemen" of the ancient and honorable game by his impeccable sportsmanship. In the finals at Rochester his chief rival, Bert Yancy, was about to make a slip which would have cost him an automatic penalty of two strokes.

Lee quickly called the mistake to his attention, enabling him to correct it without penalty.

That, ladies and gentlemen, is a gentleman's gentleman!

And besides that, Lee has his old comrades of the U. S. Marines rooting for his continued success. Probably singing: "From the Halls of Montezuma to the greens of Rochester."—Clinton (Mo.) Daily Democrat

A Woman's Prerogative

Public officials in Nairobi are debating the dress of women, particularly as to mini-skirts. The attorney general, a bachelor, wants them banned. The minister of commerce and industry has another view. He doesn't like boots, because they cover up too much leg.

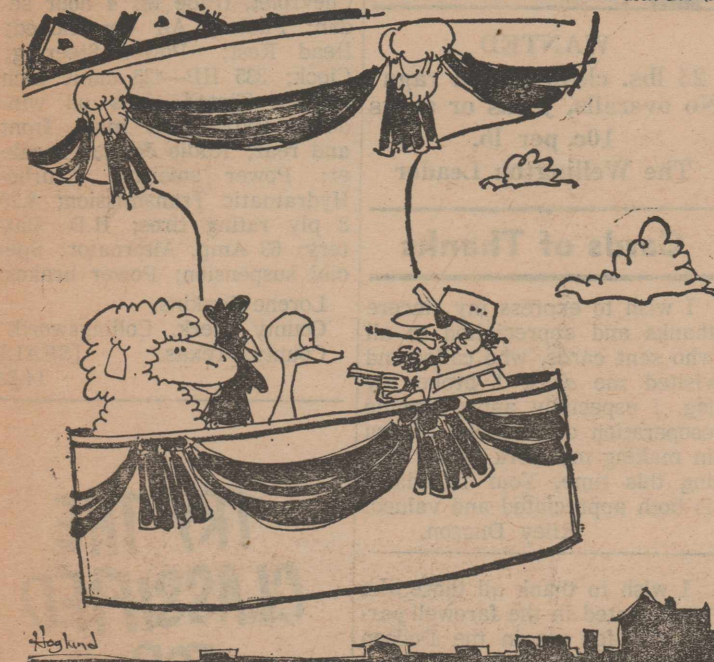

In the meantime the women of Nairobi, along with their sisters all over the world, will probably follow the styles of the moment, wherever they lead.

—Greenwood (S. C.) Index-Journal

There's no sense in worrying about your money when your creditors have whole staffs to do nothing else but that.

They call 'em disc jockeys because most of 'em spend so much time horsing around.

HUGLUND'S HAPPENINGS

SEPT. 19, 1783—A linen-and-paper balloon, designed by Joseph and Jacques Montgolfier, soars aloft in France with a duck, a sheep and a rooster on board, marking the first successful flight of a large lighter-than-air craft carrying a live cargo.

AUSTIN.—Presidential candidates, wooing Texas voters and the state's 2 electoral votes, are becoming familiar visitors in the Lone Star State.

Republican Richard Nixon swooped into Dallas for a rally Friday. He's likely to return, as is his running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, who also was here earlier.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will try to breathe new life into the late-starting Democratic drive with a barnstorming tour starting Oct. 22. Ed Muskie, Humphrey's No. 2 man, is supposed to drop in around the 30th.

Third party candidate George Wallace made plans to return to Texas this week. He scheduled a high-noon rally for Fort Worth for Thursday, Oct. 17. Both Wallace and vice presidential candidate Gen. Curtis E. LeMay are being encouraged by backers to make repeat performances before Nov. 5.

While waiting for the candidates to make their personal appeals, their supporters fought the battle of the polls.

Humphrey's national headquarters claimed a Belden sampling showed 35% of the Texans interviewed favored Humphrey; 33% were for Nixon; and 26% for Wallace; with just 6% undecided.

"Strange," retorted Nixon's state camp, since its Merrill-Wirthlin poll showed: Nixon 34%, Humphrey 27%, Wallace 22%; and undecided 17%.

Houston Chronicle interviewers concluded Nixon is leading with 40% of the vote. Humphrey ran second in the Chronicle's poll with 33% and Wallace third with 28%.

Appointments

Austin District Judge Tom Reavley replaced retiring Judge

James R. Norvell of San Antonio as an associate justice of the State Supreme Court.

Gov. John Connally promptly tapped Norvell as a special judge to review the complex, 12-year-old lower Rio Grande Valley water rights controversy now on appeal before the 15th Court of Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi.

Connally named former Corporation Court Judge Jerome Chamberlain as judge of Criminal District Court No. 1 in Dallas County to succeed Judge J. Frank Wilson, resigned. W. Astor Kirk of Austin, who has been deputy director of the Southwest Regional Office of Economic Opportunity, now is regional director of the Mid-Atlantic OEO in Washington, D.C.

P. C. Naylor, Jr. of San Antonio will serve as chairman of the Texas Real Estate Commission next year.

State Board of Education requests information before Nov. 11 on Texans eligible for appointment to a board vacancy in the district covered by Bastrop, Blanco, Burleson, Burnet, Caldwell, Hays, Lee, Travis, Washington and Williamson counties.

Courts Speak

Awards totaling $477,900 to seven persons injured in a truck and Greyhound bus wreck three years ago was upheld by the State Supreme Court.

High Court, while declining to annul an order appointing Houston attorney Leon Jaworski to the board of trustees of the Robert A. Welch charitable foundation, agreed that the appointment should be given full court hearing.

Right of Temple to retain 549.9 acres of land annexed five years ago was upheld by the Supreme Court, even though the city had not provided water or sewer services to the territory.

Same court backed a trial court decision in holding that no vacancy existed with regard to 153.1 acres of land in Upton County and that the property belongs to Atlantic Refining Company.

Court of Criminal Appeals stuck by its earlier reversal of a 7-year sentence given to Houston tobaccoist Mair J. Schepps charged as an accomplice in printing counterfeit cigarette tax stamps. State motion for rehearing was overruled.

Election Suit Fails

Laurel N. Dunn, an independent candidate for the 11th District congressional seat held by U.S. Rep. M. R. Poag, lost in his lawsuit before the Texas Supreme Court to challenge state election regulations.

Dunn wanted to force Secretary of State Roy Barrera to change his election handbook because it requires the "check" method of marking ballots, and Dunn insisted that the "scratch" method should have equal sanction.

Under state law, ballot may be marked either way, so long as the voter is consistent all through his ballot.

RE-ELECT

CRAWFORD MARTIN
ATTORNEY GENERAL

Sales Tax Challenge

Texas Supreme Court will hear an appeal from a lower court's ruling that transportation of material between the seller and the buyer is subject to the state sales tax if the transporting is part of the sale.

High court will review a holding by the Third Court of Civil Appeals at Austin, which overturned a ruling by a district court and ordered Gifford-Hill & Co. to pay the state $15,232 in taxes, penalties and interest.

Gifford-Hill sells sand, gravel and crushed stone, hires trucking companies to transport it to the buyer, pays the carrier itself and bills the buyer for the transportation costs.

Firm maintained that this amounted to transportation after the sale, which would make the shipping non-taxable. District court agreed, but the civil appeals court did not.

Truckers' Suit

Three fresh-vegetable truckers have sued the Texas Railroad Commission for granting three other truckers permits to carry fresh vegetables for hire around the state.

Charles Long of Rusk, Alvin Land and his Land Trucking Co. of Raymondville, and Rio Grande Truckers Inc., the plaintiffs, are each authorized to transport "fresh fruits and vegetables" from and to any point in the state.

L. T. Waldrop of Seminole, V. R. Nelson of Dimmitt and W. A. Jobe of Saragosa got Commission approval to begin trucking vegetables from within 200 miles of their home towns to any point in the state.

The three contestants claim that the Commission's granting of the permits amounts to unfair competition for them. Their lawsuits are pending in Travis County district courts.

Gas Regulation Suit

Gov. Connally lambasted as "unrealistic and discriminatory" a Federal Power Commission rollback on natural gas sold to interstate lines but said the policy could benefit Texas.

Regulation, said the governor, may dry up supplies, put many small producers out of the search for gas and drive new gas discoveries into intra-state market.

On the other hand, Connally contended, Texas may be benefited, since industries requiring natural gas will be "forced to locate in gas-producing areas."

As chairman of the legal committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Railroad Commission Chairman Jim C. Langdon spoke out against a Maine petroleum producer's application for a special oil import quota, warning it would hurt production in Texas, Louisiana and Alaska.

Draft Quota Up Again

December draft call for Texans increased to 869 (from 523

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where considerable of a row was stirred up the other day when an abstract singer modernized "The Star-Spangled Banner" while opening a ball game.

The man said he was singing it the way he feels, which could indicate that he feels real bad. But the sophisticated tell us reactionaries that we're just backward if we don't like new interpretations of old things.

My foggy neighbor says modern re-interpreters have done such a good job of fouling up the Anthem and the Constitution that he would like them to try re-interpreting his mortgage and see if they can maybe fix it so he can quit paying on it.

D. E. SCOTT.

(in November), according to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service chief. Inductions will occur between Dec. 1-14.

Quotas for October and September were 774 and 683. Highest monthly call in 1968 was in May, when quota of 2,223 was issued. Monthly calls for 1967 ranged from 674 to 1,421.

Higher Parcel Post Rates Begin Saturday

Postmaster L. B. Bratten reminded postal customers today that higher parcel post and catalog rates will go into effect Saturday, Oct. 19.

The rate increase will average 10.5% and in most cases will mean an additional 10¢ postage per parcel.

The higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charges for local parcel post delivery will go from 40¢ to 50¢. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50¢ to 60¢.

Almost all parcels that are charged up to $1.10 under present rates will go up 10¢. This accounts for more than 80% of all parcel post, Postmaster Bratten pointed out.

There will be a 15¢ hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4.00, and a 20¢ increase on parcels now charged over $4.00.

Parcel post rates are based on the weight of the package and the distance it is mailed.

Dee Coleman Reports

Indian Farmers Still Seek Mechanization

This is one of a series of articles which Dee Coleman, Director of District 1, Texas Farm Bureau, has written exclusively for The Wellington Leader, while he and Mrs. Coleman were on a Farm Bureau world tour to observe agricultural conditions.

From Tel Aviv, Israel, Mr. Coleman wrote:

I don't think I have written since we were in Bangkok. There was a mail strike on in Delhi, India.

We were taken to the Taj Mahal, located near Agra, in cars, where we observed many farming methods, both old and new. Many water buffalo, donkeys carrying brick and other products or materials, camels and elephants. It was a 135-mile ride one way from New Delhi, very dusty and tiresome.

The Indian people are very optimistic about future prospects in developing their agriculture to mechanization, but they have been this optimistic for years. I hope they can make or accomplish at least some of the modern methods.

We visited the minister of agriculture, Mr. Shinde of India, and the Deputy Prime Minister, Mr. Marasji Desai, the evening before he started his trip to the U.S.A. and exchanged greetings and ideas pertaining to agriculture and the prospective future of India.

After leaving India, we flew to Teheran, the old Persian country. From Terehan to Beirut, Lebanon.

In Lebanon we met with the minister of agriculture, Mr. Tourni, where we exchanged marketing methods of both countries, as well as imports and exports.

While in Lebanon, we visited the old town of Biblos, the place where the Bible gets its name; then to Baalbeck, the heliopolis of Alexander, later a temple to Baal, and finally a Roman temple to Jupiter.

From Beirut we flew to Nicosia on the island of Cyprus.

From Nicosia, we flew to Tel Aviv, where a bus was waiting to take us to Jerusalem.

While in Jerusalem we visited all of the Holy places mentioned in the Bible, as well as the important people in the Bible—Jesus Christ, Moses, St. Paul and the others, Lazarus' tomb, Mount of Olives, as to their records and deeds that were done.

We also visited the city of Jericho, Dead Sea, Bethany, Houses of Mary and Martha, Good Samaritan on the road to Jericho, Elisha's Fountain, the place of the Last Supper, Mt. Zion, etc.

Today, Sunday, we drove back to Tel Aviv, by way of, as it were, all the equipment the Israelis had stored — the captured loot from the Egyptians, tanks, big guns, trucks.

They say it will take 20 years of cotton raising to pay USSR for all equipment Egypt purchased from Russia, but the Israelis got it for nothing.

Skyrockets Win Over Electra Tigers 28-6

By JACK FORD

The Wellington Skyrockets returned to the win column and kept up their district hopes by downing a stubborn Electra Tiger football eleven 28 to 6, at Electra Friday night, Oct. 11.

The Rocket offensive and defensive teams of Charles Mauldin, Ricky Brown, Tony Hurst, Nicky Watts, Andy Lowe, Teddy Martin, Jimmy Bohannon, Larry Kane, Mark Killian, Teddy McLain, James Jones, Ricky Nall, Jerry Wooldridge, Chuck Wilbur and Danny West really came back from last week and decided to win this game.

The Rockets controlled the game from the beginning to end, and except for relaxing just a little in the second half, allowing one Tiger touchdown, the game was mostly Rocket.

The Rocket fans were up on their feet with great runs by N. Watts of 50 and 75 yards, and the great defensive playing by the Rockets recovering three Tiger fumbles and the interception of two Tiger passes.

The Rockets scored in the first quarter after C. Mauldin, A. Lowe, R. Brown and N. Watts moved the ball to the Tiger 38 yard line. Quarterback C. Mauldin then dropped back and hit D. West with a pass for the touchdown. C. Mauldin then passed to D. West for two extra points. Rockets 8, Tigers 0 at the end of the first quarter.

Midway in the second quarter the Rockets came to life again, after C. Mauldin, A. Lowe, R. Brown and N. Watts moved to the Tiger 7. Then A. Lowe took the handoff and following his blockers plowed his way into the end zone for another Rocket touchdown. C. Mauldin then passed to N. Watts for two extra points. Rockets 16, Tigers 0 at the half.

Opening the second half, the Tigers finally started a drive that went all the way into the end zone for their only touchdown. The try for extra point failed. Rockets 16, Tigers 6.

The Rockets couldn't seem to get started during the third quarter. They did get some drives going but these were stopped by the Tiger defense.

The fourth quarter was quite a different ball game. The Rockets came to life and broke the game wide open, and dropped the imaginary roof on the Tigers.

Stopping a Tiger drive, the Rockets took over and drove to the Tiger 7. Again A. Lowe, following his blockers, drove into the end zone for the third Rocket touchdown. The try for extra point failed.

The Rockets came right back to stop the Tigers again. They took over and drove to the Tiger 15. Again A. Lowe was called on to carry the ball, and again following his blockers ran for the touchdown. The try for extra point failed. Twelve plays later the game ended. Rockets 28, Tigers 6.

This Friday night, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m., the Rockets travel to Seymour to meet the Seymour Panthers. The Panthers have a real fine team, and this past week showed it by playing the Iowa Park Hawks quite a game, losing the game in the last minute and a half.

This should be an excellent ball game, and the Panthers and Rockets will play a hard game to stay in the running for a possible district championship. This could also be the top game that the Rockets will play and they will have to keep the pressure on the Panthers to win. Our boys will need lots of backing this Friday, so let's all travel to Seymour to cheer our Rockets on to victory. See you all in Seymour.

8th Grade Wins Over Childress Here Thursday

The Wellington 8th Grade Firecrackers defeated Childress 8th Grade 12 to 8 in a hard-hitting game played at Powell Field Thursday evening, Oct. 10.

The first quarter saw fine defensive play by both teams, with neither being able to score and the second quarter was also a defensive battle.

The first score of the game came with 11 seconds left in the first half, when Bruce Oney completed a 30-yard pass to Alton Belew for the touchdown. The try for extra points failed and the score at the half remained Wellington 6, Childress 0.

Early in the third quarter, hard defensive play by the Firecrackers gave them the football on Childress' 40-yard line. The second play from scrimmage saw Billy Lemmons score from 35 yards out on an end run. Again the try for extra points failed.

Following Wellington's kickoff, Childress scored from the 45-yard line on the third play from scrimmage. The run for extra points was good and the score was Wellington 12, Childress 8.

The fourth period saw rough defensive play by both teams dominating the game.

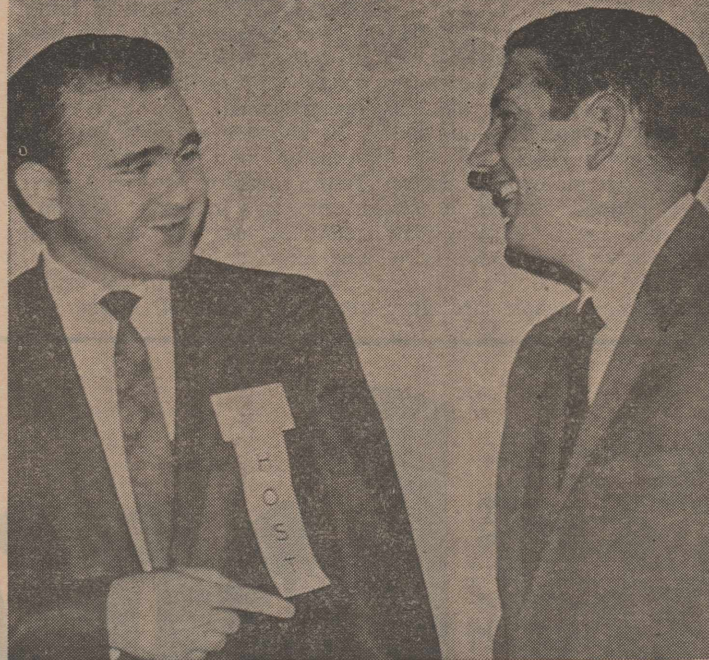

With two minutes and 40 seconds left, Childress punted for 65 yards and the ball was downed on the Wellington one-yard line.

The Firecrackers had driven the ball all the way downfield to the Childress 20 when the clock ran out on them.

"Overall team effort won the ball game for the Firecrackers," said Coach Carroll Nunneley. "This is the best ball game we have played this year. Our entire defense played very well, not allowing Childress inside our 30-yard line for the entire ball game. Childress was here after defeating the Quana 8th grade 30 to 0, and was ready to beat us. Childress has the best team we have faced this year."

Outstanding players this week, named by Coach Nunneley, were Eliseo Molina, James Amos, Barry Long, Billy Lemmons, Kim Wauer, Alton Belew, Gary Wright, Cecil Parker, Jay Thomas, Dana Bells, Nicky Guthrie, Bruce Oney and Dan Fires.

"DOG DAYS"

"Dog days" as a term for the warmest period of summer goes back to the time when the ancients studied the stars. They observed that Sirius, known as the Dog Star, rose with the sun just before midsummer and thus associated it with the driest, hottest time of the year.

In 1877, President Rutherford B. Hayes removed the Army from South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, the last three occupied Southern states.

Know Your Congressman

Here Is What Bob Price Says About Farm Problems:

"Although I support a one-year extension of the farm program, this certainly does not mean that I believe the present farm program now in its third year has done what it was intended to do in achieving a parity position for our farmers with our citizens in industry and commerce.

"The parity ratio, which averaged 85 during the 8 years of the Eisenhower administration, averaged only 74 for 1967 as a whole and is now down to 73. Even the adjusted parity ratio, which includes direct payments to farmers is down eight points and on both an adjusted and unadjusted basis, the parity ratio is the lowest it has been since the depression year of 1934.

Quite frankly, I think we must tell the American farmer and agriculture in this country that until we get politics and politicians out of agriculture, it is not going to change one iota.

"The American farmer is subsidizing the American consumer. This is where I think the politics come in. Ten years ago, the consumer was spending 25 per cent of his disposable income for food; today, he is spending 17 per cent of his disposable income for food."

Bob Price, one of the Sponsors of the PL 480 Program, Says:

"The PL 480 program has been one of the most useful and helpful programs we have had both for the United States and countries we have helped. But the nations we help with the program must recognize that co-operation means help for the United States as well and that we can extend this aid only if we keep our own balance of payments sound."

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Wellington has many creditable and attractive events each year and some of them concern art and the work of discerning and accomplished people in this immediate area. The Fall Festival of the Sagebrush Arts and Crafts is one of these planned occasions that lift the spirit of many people and give them a better insight into the immediate world in which they live. In this connection I am speaking of art in the form of painting, sculpture, etc., that will be on display around the courthouse lawn next Saturday.

The Wellington Skyrockets continue to move through their heavy schedule with tenacity and purpose and their fine team play has provided their supporters with some of the most interesting games seen in recent years. The Seymour game this Friday will end the long journey away from home, for three of the remaining games will be played on Powell Field against Shamrock, Childress and Memphis. All three of these will provide standing room only crowds and will be three of the most exciting games of the season.

Limp sports fans watched a story book world series as Detroit came from almost hopeless position and won the last game of the season in a thriller no writer could have conceived in his most imaginative moments. The same groggy fans secured no rest over the week end as Southwest Conference teams staged three cliff hangers. League-leading Texas Tech, remembering last year when A&M robbed them of victory in the last minute, raised a Herculean defense in the last minutes to keep the Aggies from doing the same thing at College Station this year. SMU finally slipped by a strong TCU in one of their wild battles. In the Texas-OU brawl, Texas scored by every method listed in the book to beat Oklahoma in the last 30 seconds. The Longhorns kicked 3 field goals, made 2 points on a safety, 2 points on one conversion after touchdown and 1 point after conversion and the lead changed hands four times with a 14 to 14 tie near the middle and at the end the people, wearing both Orange and Red, simply sat there and looked at each other—no big cheering, no jumping up and down—they just sat there.

So many exciting and sometimes unbelievable events have been transpiring at the same time — Olympics, politics, world series, football—that the most awesome news of all is occurring with an astonishing lack of comment and conjecture from the people over whose heads this almost incredible man-made miracle is happening. This is the launching and flight of Apollo 7 with three Americans aboard as it nears 200 hours of circling the earth. This is the final step before sending men in a space ship to orbit the moon. We are aware of it with understanding and emotion and all it implies?

The Frank King Post of the American Legion is trying to locate veterans who have been members for 50 years or more. They will be certified and presented with gold plated pins when they pay their dues this year.

The turkey shoot held by the Collingsworth County Free Fair Association turned out to be more fun and a bigger financial success than expected and they will hold another. The prizes were turkeys and bacon and the targets were clay pigeons. This may sound cruel and gruesome; but I always thought of a turkey shoot as an event where you buried the live bird with only its neck and head showing and hunters in coonskin caps stood at 100, 75 or 50 yards and tried to shoot the head off the turkey with a long-barrelled rifle.

In this issue is a highly interesting story by Bob Sanford about his activities in and impressions of Spain. It is one of those well-written articles by an articulate young man who writes with clarity and fluency. It is worth reading a second time.

Sitting out in the summer sun and the blasts of winter is a priceless relic that is part of the history of Wellington. It is the American La France fire truck that served the city so well during the twenties, thirties, and

Brown Brings Candidacy to Area Saturday

Dick Brown of Hartley, Democratic nominee for Congress from the 18th District, brought his candidacy to Wellington Saturday afternoon, Oct. 12, the first candidate in several years to speak from the courthouse lawn.

The group that heard him represented most parts of the county.

"I am selfish enough to think that Texas needs to be included in all water studies made, regardless of location or political origin," Mr. Brown said in a prepared speech.

"I am selfish enough to want water in this district . . . and I'm practical enough to work for the importation of water from the Mississippi, which look like the most feasible solution at this time . . . and I'm realistic enough to know that only a Congressman who can and will work with other Congressmen from other areas with similar problems can be effective in getting such projects accomplished.

"I am selfish enough to say that the wheat farmer in this area needs $2.50 for his wheat, that the milo farmer needs $2.00 for his milo. I'm selfish enough to think that he deserves a price for his product that is compatible with the prices he must pay. I am selfish enough to think that with aggressive salesmanship our over-supply problem can be remedied.

"I consider that unless experienced, informed, capable people involve themselves in government, they may not have this to look forward to, so I involve myself by offering myself as a candidate and I ask you to involve yourself by becoming a committee of one working in my behalf."

Mr. Brown attacked his opponent's use of the franking privilege, his stand on the farm act, and on what the Democratic candidate called his failure to discuss vital issues.

Mr. Brown said he does not have all the answers to all the problems which face the country, but reminded that the farm situation did not get into its present state by one action and won't be solved by one sweeping move.

"Disregard for law and order didn't happen in one day . . . and won't be solved by a single act. We didn't get into Vietnam quickly . . . and we won't solve Communist aggression in a single stroke."

Mr. Brown was introduced by Paul Spillman, former County Democratic Chairman. He was accompanied to Wellington by his two daughters and son.

into the fifties. They quit making this type of fire engine years ago and most cities have junked them. Properly stored and cared for this old La France will be an antique of great value. Twenty years from now it will be worth more than all the new fire fighting equipment is now. Run out one of those new trucks and put the venerable and valuable old red wagon in sheltered keeping.

Buffalo rooters, West Texas State University, can find companionship in some of the new arrivals in Wellington. Don Reeves is the new county agent and is a graduate of West Texas State and so is Highway Patrolman James Haley, as well as Mrs. Haley.

Newell McDaniel of Dodson harvested 40,000 pounds of alfalfa seed this year. Considering the price of alfalfa seed, that ain't hay.

50th Anniversary of the American Legion
According to the by-laws of the organization the coming year's dues are payable on or after the 20th of October. We have reason to believe there are several veterans in the county that have paid dues continuously for 50 years. Those that have will be certified by the State Department and presented gold-plated pins when they pay this year's dues.

Veterans eligible to be members of the American Legion should have been in service from April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918; from December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945; from June 25, 1950 to July 27, 1953; and from August 5, 1964 to the present.

Tower Warns Against Vote for Wallace & Election by House

Texas voters who may be tempted to mark their ballots for the third party candidate for President were told that such action would put them at the mercy of Washington politicians to determine who is elected.

This warning was voiced jointly by Senator John Tower of Texas, Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, and Ben H. Carpenter of Dallas, chairman of the Texans for Nixon Committee. Mr. Carpenter's committee is composed largely of Democrats and Independent voters.

An advertisement signed by these three prominent activists for Nixon appeared in over 500 weekly newspapers across the state.

The advertisement said the "most" that Wallace supporters
