Howard Co. oks liquor by drink

BIG SPRING, Texas (AP) — Voters in this West Texas city approved the sale of mixed drinks in restaurants and non-private clubs almost two to one, election officials said.

In a special election Tuesday, the vote was 3,457 for and 1,818 against the sale of liquor by the drink in Justice of the Peace Precinct 1, which includes all of the city limits and four surrounding areas — the communities of Elbow, Jonesboro and Tubbs and the area west of Interstate 20.

About 35 percent of the precinct's registered voters turned out for the election, significantly less than officials predicted.

The election was expected to draw a turnout second only to the last presidential election.

Collision kills local man

Robert A. Sterling, vice president in charge of drilling for Patterson Drilling of Snyder, was killed in a two-vehicle traffic accident in Concho County shortly before 1:30 a.m. Wednesday.

According to Department of Public Safety troopers in Eden, the 41-year-old Sterling was killed when his 1985 Ford pickup, owned by the local company, collided with a tractor-trailer rig.

The accident occurred on U.S. Hwy, 87 about 6.5 miles west of Eden.

According to reports, Sterling was traveling westbound on 87 around 1:20 a.m. when his vehicle collided head-on with an eastbound truck owned by Heath Trucking of Lubbock.

The driver of that vehicle was Pablos Arguello of Lubbock.

The Sterling vehicle caught fire following the collision and was heavily damaged by the flames.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by the Concho County Justice of the Peace.

Arguello sustained only minor injuries in the mishap.

Services for Sterling are scheduled Friday at 4 p.m. in First Baptist Church here. Burial will be in Ira Cemetery under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

He was born March 19, 1945 in McAlester, Okla., but had lived most of his life in Scurry County.

He was a Marine Corp veteran with service in Vietnam and a graduate of Angelo State University in San Angelo. He was also a member of the Ira Baptist Church.

He married Lynn Kibler on Ju-

Rains dump 6 inches

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Heavy thunderstorms dumped more than 6 inches of rain across Central and South Texas today, stranding motorists in rush-hour traffic, causing some evacuations and forcing authorities to use a helicopter to rescue firefighters from high water.

A body believed to be that of a 5-year-old boy missing for more than five days was found in the San Antonio River late Tuesday, police said.

Investigators believed the victim was Joseph Battista, 5, missing since last Thursday evening when he went to a convenience store to buy ice cream, police Lt. Jack Summey said.

The Bexar County medical examiner's office listed the tentative cause of death as accidental drowning.

Heavy thunderstorms at Fort Hood in Central Texas were blamed for the drowning of one soldier and injuries suffered by another when he was hit by lightning, officials said today.

The Fort Hood public affairs office confirmed a female soldier drowned after falling into a drainage ditch Tuesday afternoon.

A soldier was treated and released from Darnall Army Community Hospital after being struck by lightning during the same storm, authorities said.

There were no reports of deaths or injuries in Bexar County from the latest round of rains and flooding today, Fire Marshal Carl Mixon said.

"I don't think we've seen this kind of heavy rain and continuous flooding over the county," he said. "We're seeing serious flooding in areas where we haven't had it before."

About three homes on the east side of the county were evacuated, he said.

Within the city limits, homes and businesses around flooded Brackenridge Park and near the Olmos Park dam were evacuated, said police dispatcher Stella Garcia. Miss Garcia said she did not know how many people were involved.

The University of Texas at San Antonio, Trinity University, other local colleges, businesses and offices either closed for the day or told workers to come in late.

Resident Clayton Waterman said when he awoke at 5:30 a.m., his home was flooded. Waterman said he, his wife, their child and some neighbors sought refuge on the roof of their home.

"They (fire department) came out with ropes and strung ropes across the road and carried all the children over the railroad tracks," he said.

Four Bexar County volunteer firefighters were stranded in a tree after one of them tried to rescue a woman caught in a partially submerged car, Mixon said.

One of the firefighters tried to rescue her first, but a rope snapped and he was stranded in a tree. Then three other firefighters boarded a boat and tried to rescue him, but the boat sank.

A helicopter from Fort Sam Houston hoisted the men to safety, Mixon said.

Appraisal district ends under budget

Board members of the Scurry County Appraisal District accepted the entity's annual outside audit Tuesday — a report which indicated the district completed its year under budget.

Jerry Vestal, CPA, listed some $428,776 in total assets for the district as of Dec. 31, 1985. Total liabilities and fund balances were also reported at $428,776.

Vestal noted that both the appraisal and collection departments were under budget for the year. With an approved budget of some $360,299 for 1985, district officials listed only $316,464 in actual expenses — ending the year at $43,835 under budget.

Some $63,050 had been budgeted for the collection department. Of that total, some $47,904 was used leaving the department about $15,146 under budget.

In other action, the directors postponed discussion of the district's 1987 budget pending further study. Following a brief explanation of budget items by Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler, the board held a 20-minute executive session.

Board members agreed to a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the appraisal offices on College Ave. Action on the 1987 proposed budget will be taken at that time.

During Tuesday's session, Peveler offered a tour of the facility to board members to familiarize them with day-to-day operations.

Directors attending the meeting included Pete Hester, Ross Blanchard, Mairl McFaul, John Reed and Duaine Williams.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Years ago, a man who hoarded money was a miser. Today, he's a wonder."

M. L. Duke, a Snyder oilman, told us over the weekend that everybody is trying to take credit for the recent rains.

The school people say it rained because there were outdoor picnics. Duke added that both the banker and the newspaper are trying to take credit because of the full-page ad asking for a three-inch rain.

The preachers are wanting to take credit.

"The real reason," Duke said, "is my alfalfa patch."

The alfalfa is on land leased from the city on east 37th Street. "Everytime I cut hay, it rains."

Even with wet hay on the ground, Duke agrees that the moisture was badly needed--no matter who takes the credit.

Paola Rocca, Snyder exchange student from Italy, arrived in Texas Friday night and got introduced to West Texas in a hurry.

She will be staying with the Don Osborn family. The Osborn's daughter, Michelle, will be going to Italy later this summer.

The Osborns met Paola Friday night at the Lubbock airport. They returned to Snyder about midnight, and continued their get-acquainted visit for a couple of hours. The family was up before dawn to travel to Wichita Falls to watch "brother" Don and the Snyder Tigers in the baseball playoffs against Crowley.

It was not until after the game that Paola and Don were introduced. Paola knew about baseball, but had never seen a game.

"Sister" Michelle explained to an exhausted Paola that the following week would also include several baseball games, but first the family had a pretty regular routine on Sunday.

"We go to church twice. We go in the morning, mom and dad sleep all afternoon, and then we go to church again."

Sounds like the normal West Texas family.

A fellow called the other day to tell us about a bumper sticker seen on I-20. It read "Buy American."

It was on the bumper of a Mercedes-Benz.

Absentee vote shows interest

With two positions on the commissioners court prompting races, voter interest in the Democratic runoff election here Saturday seems high based on absentee balloting.

Tuesday was the final day absentee ballots could be cast, and some 135 were counted in the local Democratic vote. Seven Republican absentee votes were reported also.

Statewide for Democrats, five races are in runoffs. Locally, contested races will decide the Democratic party's nominees for commissioners in both Pct. 1 and Pct. 2.

For Pct. 1, incumbent Duaine Davis will face Fred Cross; and in Pct. 2, Tommy Pate faces Jerry House.

For Republicans, four statewide races ended in runoffs last May.

Ask Us

Q. — In the run-off election, if my voter's registration card is stamped Republican, can I vote for the commissioner in my precinct?

A. — No. You may vote only one political party in primary elections, and if you voted Republican in May, you also have to vote Republican in the runoff. You can't vote for a county commissioner since there are no Republican candidates for commissioner involved in the runoff.

In Brief

Phone talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators for striking telephone workers and AT&T are planning further meetings under the auspices of federal negotiators in an effort to end a walkout extending into its fourth day, but both sides acknowledge there is little progress so far.

"There's been a tiny bit of progress, but it's not enough to end the strike," Rozanne Weissman, a spokeswoman for the Communications Workers of America, said following two bargaining sessions Tuesday.

"We've moved an inch but there's a foot to go," Ms. Weissman said. "If this goes on past this weekend, we're dug in for a very long strike."

Sikh violence

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — Sikh militants went on a rampage today in the Golden Temple during an anti-government rally on the second anniversary of the bloody army assault on their holiest shrine. One man was killed and seven people were injured.

About 200 militants armed with swords, knives and iron bars began attacking members of a volunteer force guarding the temple as the rally drew to a close.

Police and security forces entered the temple complex to break up the melee.

Area widens

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist Party daily Pravda indicated today that more people were evacuated from isolated "dirty spots" of radiation contamination beyond the 18-mile evacuation zone around the stricken Chernobyl nuclear power plant.

The newspaper gave no figures for the number of people moved from areas of the Gomel region of southern Byelorussia, or the exact locations of the contaminated areas.

But in an article entitled "A Red Line On The Map," Pravda said a thorough review of the 18-mile danger zone and areas beyond it "allowed us to make significant corrections in which people may return to some areas, but from others additional evacuations were needed."

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Tuesday, 82 degrees; low, 64 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Wednesday, 65 degrees; .06 of an inch precipitation; total precipitation for 1986 to date, 7.18 inches.

Parolee given death penalty

ANGLETON, Texas (AP) — A 22-year-old parolee faces lethal injection for killing a Brenham schoolteacher during an attack that also claimed the life of the woman's 11-year-old son.

A six-man, six-woman jury, after deliberating 45 minutes Tuesday, determined Kavin Wayne Lincecum should die for strangling Kathy Coppedge, 35, during an abduction and attempted rape last summer.

The woman's son, Casey, also was abducted as he and his mother left their Brenham church Aug. 11. He was thrown in the trunk of his mother's car and suffocated in the summer heat.

On Monday, the same jury took just 30 minutes to convict Lincecum of capital murder for Mrs. Coppedge's slaying.

"The evidence spoke for itself," Barbara Cessac, the jury foreman, said.

Lincecum, in handcuffs and chains as the verdict was read, showed no emotion. His head remained bowed. He looked once over each shoulder just before he was led out of the courtroom.

"Justice was done," Joyce Davis, Mrs. Coppedge's mother, said after hugging friends and relatives.

"I'm glad it's over," Washington County District Attorney Charles Sebesta said. "We knew we had a good case, but you never know what's on the mind of those 12 people."

Defense attorney Robert Kuhn said he was neither surprised nor dismayed at the verdict.

"I don't think there is a case you can't win, but this is as hard a case as I've ever done," Kuhn said. "It was a very violent crime with a defendant with a prior record."

Kuhn called Lincecum as the only defense witness during the punishment phase Tuesday. Lincecum stood, wavered, shook his head and then sat down, staring at the floor.

During punishment testimony, witnesses identified the Ledbetter man as a participant in a La Grange robbery and a rape in Brenham. Two prison guards told of problems with him during incarceration at the Pack II Unit.

Medication can ease dizziness

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — After tests were done, my neurologist told me I had benign positional vertigo and that I'd get over it in one or two years. That's a long time to go around so dizzy you can hardly walk. I take two Zantac and 12 sodium bicarbonate pills a day (for kidney stones). Is there anything else I can do?

DEAR READER — Benign positional vertigo is a self-limited condition that causes the victim to experience temporary, often violent episodes of spinning and whirling. It is said to be due to an imbalance in the vestibular apparatus (balance mechanism) of one or both ears, possibly caused by a virus infection. It is usually related to head position — that is, it will flare up when you are lying down but may disappear when you sit up. There are medicines, such as Antivert, that you can take to control your dizziness until the condition runs its course.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is it true that one gets arthritis in the heart or lungs as well as in the joints?

DEAR READER — No. Arthritis, by definition, affects only the joints. However, certain forms of inflammatory arthritis, notably rheumatoid arthritis, are associated with abnormal substances in the bloodstream. Therefore, other organs — as well as joints — can be affected by the disease. For example, rheumatoid lung is a medical condition sometimes seen in arthritis sufferers; lupus can affect the skin and kidneys, in addition to the joints.

DEAR DR. GOTT — More than a year ago, I saw a psychiatrist who gave me a treatment of Xanax. I'm now down to one pill a day, but am still depressed. My family wants me to stop the medication. Does Xanax have any bad side effects?

DEAR READER — Xanax, a mild tranquilizer, is recommended by the manufacturer for use in short-term anxiety disorders, both with and without depression. Xanax is not an antidepressant.

The drug can cause many side effects, including drowsiness, headache, confusion, insomnia, intestinal upset and palpitations. You are taking a small dose (one pill daily), so you might ask your doctor to discontinue it or try you on another medicine that is more specifically designed for the treatment of depression. Perhaps your psychiatrist believes that his or her therapy will be more beneficial in the presence of less anxiety. Ask about this.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had six weeks of radiation treatment five years ago and still get diarrhea often. Will I always have it?

DEAR READER — If the radiation you had five years ago caused radiation burns, the diarrhea is probably a permanent consequence of the treatment. Ask your doctor about this, since there are many causes of diarrhea and the past radiation may not be related to your present problem.

Dr. Gott's Health Report on DIGESTIVE GAS tells what causes this common problem — and how you can manage it. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to mention the title.

Christian boys' home up for sale

FOREST HILL, Texas (AP) — A Christian boys' home whose director is trying to avoid obtaining a state license has been put on the auction block by the state attorney general's office.

Most of the buildings at Community Baptist Church are scheduled to be sold at a public auction July 1 at the Tarrant County Courthouse in Ft. Worth.

The home's director, the Rev. W.N. Otwell, has resisted efforts by the state to force him to obtain a license for the home. Attorney General Jim Mattox authorized the sale and papers from Sheriff Don Carpenter notifying the church were mailed last week.

Otwell said the proposed sale includes the home's auditorium, educational building, apartment complex, residences for the children and the church office.

"This will be the first church building sold in a sheriff's sale for practicing faith in Jesus Christ," he said. "That's the first case I know of in America."

Otwell said $100-per-day fines assessed against him, his wife and seven others operating the home without a license now total more than $100,000. The home has been put up for sale to pay the fine.

MEN, ANIMALS AND BALDNESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The recent translation of a book on 16th century medicine shows that attempts to understand and cure baldness are at least 400 years old.

So says Dr. Richard L. Sutton Jr., a Kansas City dermatologist who recently published "16th Century Physician," a translation of the first book on diseases of the skin.

"The most popular theory of that day was that baldness resulted from drying out of the brain, brought on by insomnia, worrying, late-night studying and excessive love-making," says Sutton.

However, Hieronymus Mercurialis, the Italian physician whose lectures are recorded in the book, agreed with the ancient Greeks that lack of hair is not a malady, but rather a sign of man's superiority over other creatures. He noted that the hairiest animals, such as sheep, are the stupidest, while he said those with few hairs, such as man, are the wisest.

Nervous furniture buyers

By BARBARA MAYER
AP Newsfeatures

American furniture makers took a survey and found to their chagrin that consumers are nervous about buying furniture.

"They say they don't know how to recognize quality, don't know how to judge between two pieces which look the same but have different prices and don't feel furniture floor salesmen are doing a good job," according to Doug Brackett, executive vice president of the American Furniture Manufacturers Association.

Brackett says the results of three focus group panels conducted in California, Texas and the Baltimore-Washington area indicate the industry needs to make friends and influence people in order to regain what it regards as its lost market share.

"Ten to 15 years ago, the industry took from 1.1 to 1.2 percent of disposable income; today we take .92 percent. If we could get back to 1 percent it would represent a gain of $2 billion," he added.

Nowadays, people are doing what they want to do and spending money on things that give them personal pleasure. And that includes buying sailboats, videocassette players, vacations and even health club memberships instead of furniture.

The AFMA is planning to spend $1 million over the next three years to convince people that buying furniture is fun. But it remains to be seen if that money will do any good. The plans for booklets and advertising campaigns seem to miss the point which an executive put in a few words that didn't cost anything.

"People don't like to be abused," says Patrick Norton, a longtime industry executive. "Just treat people decently and service the furniture and you can get virtually any price."

BRAD HOLCOMB

Tigers going with familiar lineup for Thursday's playoff with Pecos

Coach Albert Lewis has won four straight playoff games using the same basic lineup and he won't be making any changes for Thursday's 4 p.m. quarterfinals clash with Pecos, either.

The teams square off for the first game of their best-of-three series at Angel Field. Tickets will be $2 for adults and $1 for students. Snyder will be the home team and will occupy the third base side.

The series will move to Midland Lee Field for Game Two, and, if necessary, Game Three. Game Two will start at 1 p.m. Saturday. Again, tickets will be $2 and $1.

Lewis will lead off the batting order again with catcher Ricky Hunter, whose three-for-four performance last Saturday helped Snyder secure a 5-2 regional victory over Crowley. Hunter will be followed by third baseman Justin Webb, short stop Brad Holcomb and pitcher Jimmy Velasquez. Next-up will be designated hitter Kenneth Pickering, who will bat for right fielder Michael Long.

The rest of the order has first baseman Steve Parker batting sixth, followed by second-sacker Chris Fryar, center fielder Mike McWilliams and left fielder Dennis Martinez.

Holcomb's .524 season average leads the Tigers. Holcomb also leads the way in the playoffs. He's hitting at a .600 pace in the four playoff games. Pickering, hitting just .235 over the season, is slapping out at a hefty .583 in the playoffs and has been a key to Snyder's success.

Velasquez, 11-4 for the season, will get his third start in the playoffs Thursday. He has 119 strikeouts in 98 innings and a 1.85 ERA. He is expected to challenge Javier Solis of Pecos, who pitched a three-hitter as the Eagles ripped Weatherford 6-1 last Monday.

A fifth straight time...

Rangers beat Chicago again

CHICAGO (AP) - Gary Ward doesn't want to be reminded of last year when the Chicago White Sox defeated the Texas Rangers 10 times in 13 games.

"Last year is gone and you don't worry about it," said Ward, whose two-run double capped a four-run third inning Tuesday night to lead Edwin Correa and the rejuvenated Rangers to a 4-1 triumph over the sliding White Sox.

The victory was the fifth in the last eight games for the first-place Rangers, all at the expense of the White Sox, who suffered their ninth defeat in 10 games.

Ward's double came off loser Joel Davis, 2-3, and was the fifth and final hit of the game for the Rangers as a trio of Sox relievers pitched hitless ball the rest of the way.

But it didn't make any difference as Correa, a 20-year-old who the Sox traded to the Rangers last winter, held his former teammates to four hits in the seven innings he worked.

Fireballing Mitch Williams finished, striking out four batters in the last two innings, to earn his second save.

Correa admittedly struggled in the early innings and walked Wayne Tolleson in the second inning to force in Chicago's only run after the Sox had loaded the bases on a pair of walks and a single by Tim Hulett.

I was struggling in the first three innings," said Correa, the youngest player in the major leagues. "I couldn't get my fast ball over for strikes. It was missing a lot and I couldn't catch up to it."

Neither could the White Sox who have had a total of seven hits and one run in their last two games against the Rangers.

"I settled down after that," said Correa, who was sent to the Rangers with infielder Scott Fletcher for pitcher Dave Schmidt and infielder Tolleson.

"I got my confidence back," said Corea. "It feels good to get your old teammates, to pitch well against guys you know. It's something I can't explain."

Texas Manager Bobby Valetine could.

"That kid's going to win a lot of games," said Valentine. "He has a great competitive spirit and great stuff. He'll complete a lot of games when he learns to throw less than five pitches to every batter."

Dribbler tournaments tipoff here today at three locations

Snyder makes its bid in the Girl's Little Dribbler National Tournament at 4:45 this evening as the local Junior League team takes on Levelland in the high school gymnasium.

First-day action of the tournaments - in three divisions and three age groups - began at 1 p.m. today with games at the high school, the college gym and Scurry County Coliseum.

Tournament passes, good for all the games, are $10 for adults and $5 for students. Children under age 6 will be admitted free. Fans may also purchase a day pass for $3 for adults and $2 for students. Day passes are good for only one gymnasium per day, however.

The local Major League squad plays Levelland at 6 this evening in the college gym while Snyder's Senior League team has the final game at Scurry County Coliseum, a 9:45 p.m. ballgame against Brownfield.

Brownfield was represented in two of today's tip-off games at 1 o'clock.

Brownfield's Senior League team was to play Kermit in the coliseum while its Major League squad took on HEB (Hereford-Euless-Bedford) at the college gymnasium. The other 1 p.m. ballgame put Plains' Junior League team against Southwest Louisiana in the high school gym.

Day passes and tournament passes may be purchased at each of the three tournament sites. Concession stands will also be open during each game.

Top seeds struggle, but manage to win

PARIS (AP) - Having proven they are human, Ivan Lendl and Martina Navratilova want to prove they deserve their No. 1 seedings in the French Open.

The top seeds both struggled a bit Tuesday before advancing to the semifinals.

Lendl lost his first set of the tournament before rebounding to beat ninth-seeded Andres Gomez of Ecuador 6-7, 7-6, 6-0, 6-0.

Navratilova stumbled before maintaining her perfect record in the tournament with a 7-5, 6-4 victory over seventh-seeded Kathy Rinaldi of the United States.

In the next round, Lendl, of Czechoslovakia, plays one of the biggest surprises of this surprise-filled tournament - Johan Kriek, the only remaining American man, who upset 1977 French Open champion Guillermo Vilas 3-6, 7-6, 7-6, 7-6 in a match that lasted 4 hours, 16 minutes.

A match that was over in just 1:06 advanced Czechoslovakia's Helena Sukova, the sixth seed, into a semifinal match with Navratilova and ended 14-year-old American Mary Joe Fernandez's upset string, 6-2, 6-4.

The last two semifinal berths were being filled today with men's No. 3 seed Boris Becker of West Germany playing unseeded Mikael Pernfors of Sweden and another unseeded player, Andrei Chesnokov of the Soviet Union, up against No. 8 Henri Leconte of France.

Fernandez, who still has three years of high school remaining back in Miami, had registered upsets over Helen Kelesi, Andrea Temesvari, Anne Hobbs and fourth-seeded Claudia Kohde-Kilsch before falling to Sukova.

The Florida teen-ager had a big chance right off. She had Sukova at break point three times in the second game, only to let the Czechoslovak hold serve and break back.

In the second set, Fernandez fought off a match point and held serve on the fourth try to make it 4-5, but Sukova then served out the match at love.

The match that ended Fernandez's dream of a championship came before about 200 people on Court 1, where it was moved from center court because of a backup of matches there.

Vilas is a clay-court master, his baseline game ideally suited for the slower surface. But Kriek, the No. 13 seed, took him apart with the serve-and-volley game he uses so well on hardcourts.

SWC track teams aim at national event now

DALLAS (AP) - Southwest Conference track has changed its focus, moving from regional competition to national prominence as team rankings soar, coaches say.

In the NCAA men's track and field championships, which run today through Saturday in Indianapolis, the SWC is favored in more than a third of the events and SMU is expected to win a national title despite finishing third in the conference meet.

Moreover, six SWC teams are ranked in the nation's top 12, two in the top three.

There are five reasons, SWC track coaches say, for the dramatic improvement and increasing dominance in the past five years: new coaches, a financial commitment, warm weather, national and international recruiting and Texas high schools.

Coaches and observers agree that the best track conferences are the SWC, Pacific 10 and Southeastern, all in warm climates that allow for a longer outdoor season.

Coach Tom Tellez, who left UCLA for the University of Houston in 1976, said the thinking on the West Coast 10 years ago was that the SWC was good, not great. The SWC was interested in its conference meet, not the nationals, Tellez said.

Any national or international SWC stars, such as Texas A&M shot putter Randy Matson, were abberations.

Tellez said new coaches, like himself, Arkansas' John McDonnell, SMU's Ted McLaughlin and Texas' Stan Huntsman, changed that attitude. They recruited outside the state and introduced events such as the hammer throw and athletes who had been foreign to the SWC.

"I think the conference coaches are thinking a lot farther down the road now," Tellez said.

Some are thinking so far down the road they don't seem to care about the meets in front of them. SMU has the No. 1-ranked 1,600-meter relay team in the nation. Yet McLaughlin held the group out of the 1,600 at the SWC meet, saying premier sprinter Roy Martin was tired.

Thirty-eight current SWC trackmen were born outside the United States, and only Baylor has no foreign athletes.

Walton comes alive to boost Celtics past Houston, 106-103

HOUSTON (AP) - Last season, when Boston center Robert Parish got tired, he often had to ignore his fatigue and continue playing.

But this season, Coach K.C. Jones learned that relief is spelled B-I-L-L W-A-L-T-O-N.

Parish hit 10 of 15 shots, scored 22 points and contained Ralph Sampson in the second half to put the Celtics in position to win Game Four on Tuesday night in their NBA playoff against the Houston Rockets.

But it took a relief performance by Walton in the final three minutes and a crucial three-point basket by Larry Bird to preserve a 106-103 Boston victory.

Walton's performance allowed the Celtics to take a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series and they could win their 16th NBA title with a victory in The Summit Thursday night.

But Parish isn't the only tired Celtics player ready for vacation time and forward Kevin McHale likes Boston's position.

"Three-one is a good place to be," McHale said. "Everyone knows how close we are and we don't want to extend it any more than necessary. That would give us a chance to go on vacation."

After a tight struggle throughout the fourth quarter, Bird took a feed from Walton and sank a three-point basket with 2:27 to play that gave the Celtics the lead for good.

With 1:40 to go, Walton's tip in made it 106-103 and the Celtics held the ball for the final seconds.

Having Walton to come on in relief of Parish was a key strategy move for Jones in the closing minutes and Parish agreed with the decision.

"I ran out of gas with two minutes left, everyone could see that, I don't think I could have done it," Parish said. "It was time for me to surface. I was almost invisible in Game 3."

Walton played poorly at the start of the game and said he was surprised that he got a second chance.

"I was out of sync and Sampson had a hot hand in the first half," Walton said. "I was surprised that K.C. put me back in the game.

"But at that point nothing that has happened in your life to that point matters. You just have to go out and give it all you've got."

Despite Walton's poor early performance, Jones said he had no hesitation about returning Walton to the lineup.

"He knows where the offensive boards are and he did exactly what was expected of him," Jones said. "Robert had played a tough game and I saw that he was dragging a little. It was a matter of getting a fresh body into the game."

The Rockets led 64-63 at the half. They held the same deficit at 86-85 going into the fourth period.

Dennis Johnson, who scored 22 points, hit a pair of free throws with 3:07 to play to erase Houston's final lead and set the stage for Bird's go-ahead three-pointer.

"You need to take the three-pointer in that situation," Bird said. "It gives us the extra point and means they have to have two possessions."

Bird scored 21 points and Sampson led the Rockets with 25 points but he had only four second half points.

Despite the frustrating loss, Houston Coach Bill Fitch doesn't think everything is lost. He's been in this must-win situation before when his 1981 Boston Celtics recovered from a 3-1 deficit en route to the NBA title.

"I look at this ring and remember that we were down 3-1 and came back to win it," Fitch said.

Children Need to Learn Death Is a Fact of Life

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My mother has a terminal illness and does not have much longer to live. I am struggling to find the answer to this question and I hope you can help me. (Perhaps a reader who has had to deal with it can be of help.) Should I let my 3-year-old son attend the funeral when the time comes? He is very close to his grandma. He spends a lot of time with her now because I go there daily to help out any way I can. He has trouble understanding why Grandma doesn't respond when he gives her hugs and kisses — and now she doesn't "know" him.

Should I take him to her funeral to say goodbye, or should I protect him from the pain?

A MOTHER'S LOVE

DEAR MOTHER'S LOVE: Let your son attend his grandma's funeral and explain that her life on earth has ended. Children need to know that all life ends in death — it's a fact of life. If they know the truth, they will not fear it. Give your son a chance to bid a final farewell to Grandma; it will make her death easier for him to accept.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: At what age should a sister and brother cease sleeping together? Our son is a little more than five years older than his sister, who is well-developed for her age. She says she becomes frightened during the night so she goes into her brother's bedroom and crawls into bed with him. (She sometimes stays all night.)

I've noticed a much closer bond between these two than with the other children in the family. I am concerned. My husband says he sees nothing wrong in this and becomes angry when I mention it.

I need advice.

CONCERNED MOTHER, COLUMBUS, GA.

DEAR CONCERNED: You do not say how old these children are, but a well-developed girl of any age should not be sleeping with her older brother.

If you suspect you have reason to be concerned, you should be. Quit speculating, and initiate some candid conversations with your daughter and your son, too. My mail tells me that there is far more "experimenting" among preteen siblings than most parents realize.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Henry from Freeport," who was astonished at how little most Americans knew about the Bahamas. Do you want to hear a better one?

A few years ago, while visiting some relatives in Napa Valley, Calif., I placed a long-distance telephone call to my husband in Newark, Del., and the operator asked me if Delaware was in the United States — or was it a foreign country! I assured her that Delaware was part of the United States — or at least it was when I had left it four days ago.

Later, on the same trip, I was in a restaurant with a cousin when a waitress, on hearing me mention Delaware, said, "Oh, I know where Delaware is — it's near Copenhagen!" (I nearly landed on the floor.) My cousin was so amused, she now refers to my state as "Dela-Where?"

Abby, don't the teachers in California teach geography?

SUE FROM DELAWARE

DEAR SUE: The teachers in California do teach geography — but not all the students learn.

Record number of inmates in Texas prisons

AUSTIN (AP) — The state prison system has admitted record numbers of inmates this year, straining the Texas Department of Correction's resources and the ability of parole officials to control prison populations, officials said.

TDC officials said Tuesday that a 16 percent increase in admissions occurred between January and May this year over the same period last year.

Prison statistics show the TDC took in 12,812 inmates in the first five months this year, up from 10,781 inmates admitted in the same period last year.

Prison spokesman Charles Brown said admissions totaled 9,607 during the first five months of 1983 and 9,683 during that period in 1984.

State criminal justice officials said the record increase in admissions could result from a growing Texas population, tougher attitudes by judges and juries and better police work.

Fence reported stolen Tuesday

Police are investigating the theft of a chain link fence reported here Tuesday.

Mark Huffines reported at 1:28 p.m. a fence had been stolen from around his mobile home in the 2400 Block of O'Neil Ave.

No dollar value was estimated for the fence which is thought to have been removed from that location sometime over the past several days.

In other action, police arrested one subject on traffic warrants and one for public intoxication Tuesday.

Saddles missing from rodeo shed

Three saddles were said stolen from a storage room at the old rodeo grounds on West 30th St, according to investigators with the Scurry County sheriff's office.

According to reports, the chain and lock from the storage room was cut sometime during the last week. Owner of the three saddles was listed as Bob Doty of Snyder.

Some tax breaks likely to be saved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators considering landmark tax-overhaul legislation are looking for ways to save popular tax breaks, such as the deduction for Individual Retirement Accounts, without sinking the entire package.

The 2,847-page plan approved by the Senate Finance Committee was scheduled for floor debate today, but with the chamber likely to turn to other matters for the remainder of the week, any substantive action on the tax bill will wait until at least next week.

Even before the Senate was to take up the measure formally, about 10 senators were set to make speeches just on the issue of Individual Retirement Accounts, reflecting the election-year sensitivity of that issue.

Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., the Finance Committee chairman, has pressed a campaign to resist any amendments to the package, saying changes can wait until congressional negotiators meet to draft a compromise version of the legislation passed by each chamber.

Nonetheless, Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., said, "We've already been notified of 30-some amendments on the tax bill." It was unclear how many of those amendments will be offered.

In addition, Democrats have grumbled about the no-amendment strategy, which Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia on Tuesday likened to "a big steamroller drive."

Despite the desire of some legislators to offer amendments, it is difficult to draft amendments. The rules under which the package is being considered require that any amendment to restore a tax break must also include a way to raise enough money to pay for the change to keep the overall bill from adding to the budget deficit.
