The Rockport Pilot

THE ONLY NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN ARANSAS COUNTY

Vol. No. 91 | ROCKPORT, ARANSAS COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, DEC. 1, 1960 | No. 35

Along The Waterfront

Many have fished at Good Luck Pier in Fulton, the past few weeks.

The high winds, that brought in the cold waves, are mixing the water thoroughly and we look for much improvement in fishing.

Mr. John Crane of San Antonio has been here several times and takes home several nice trout each time. "Doc" and Mrs. Collins continue with their good catches, also.

Dr. Ryan and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Self of Thomas, Okla., reported twelve good trout.

Charlie Stewart of Kingsville, (NAS) brought in a three-pound trout, a few smaller ones and a three and a half pound drum.

Mrs. Curtis Kalteyer of San Antonio, was so pleased with her six-pound red, that she failed to report others.

W. C. Conner and H. E. Wrider of Houston, five drum and three reds.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hairston and son and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Allen of Snyder, caught unusually big croakers, twenty-eight trout and several drum.

Joe Bob Wristen of Lamesa, had a three and a half pound drum, a red and five trout, averaging one and a half pounds.

ROCKPORT'S NEW POSTOFFICE DEDICATED NOV. 26

Rockport's new postoffice was dedicated last Saturday, with Stanley Johnson, organization and management officer from the Dallas division of the Postoffice Department delivering the principal address.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Postmasters Warren Howery, Aransas Pass; Melvin Nagel, Mathis; T. R. Bennett, Falfurrias; Mrs. Ameta McGloin, Corpus Christi; H. W. Haveman, Orange Grove; Richard E. Phelps, Ingleside; Allen Lawrence, Sinton; and Mrs. Ollie V. Henkaus, from Woodsboro.

After the dedication ceremonies, the postoffice was opened for inspection by the public.

AF MAKES CHANGES WITHIN AIR DEFENSE COMMAND

A year long study of changing Air Force requirements has resulted in certain actions to adjust the Air Force Base and unit structure to the transition from a manned force to a mixed force of manned and unmanned weapons system, the Air Force said today.

In announcing the changes within Air Defense Command. Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, ADC Commander, said, "These actions are designed to make maximum use of the best facilities while closing those which either do not lend themselves to expansion or are not adaptable to new missions."

Headquarters 32nd Air Division will be relocated from Dobbins AFB, Georgia, to Oklahoma City, Air Force Station, Okla., in July 1961. Approximately 600 military and 100 civilian positions will be transferred with the headquarters.

Killeen Air Force Station, Texas, will be transferred from Air Defense Command to Air Training Command by January 1961. Personnel strength will be reduced by approximately 125 people.

Colonel Alfred V. Walton, Commander of the Oklahoma City Air Defense Sector, said these were the only changes made which would directly affect his units.

ARANSAS PROJECT CASES TO 5,645

Diversa Inc. and Coastal States Gas Producing Co. No. 3 State Tract 123, indicated oiler in Aransas County's Half Moon Reef Field two miles east of Fulton, has set 5½-inch casing on bottom at 5,645 feet.

The project earlier showed a working pressure of 200 pounds in yielding oil, oil-cut mud and sand on a 10-minute drillstem test through ¼-inch chokes from 5,633-35 feet. Bottomhole flowing pressure was 575 and 2,365 pounds and shutin pressure was 2,500 pounds.

Location is on a 320-acre lease in Aransas Bay Tract 123.

Marina Draws Approval In Letter to Editor

The proposed marina at Little Bay, planned by Caspary and Wendell, has drawn a letter of approval from M. W. Cochran, who says:

November 30, 1960

Aransas County Navigation Commissioners,
Rockport, Texas

Gentlemen:

I am glad you are working to get additional revenues with which to operate and maintain your waterfront improvements.

It is my opinion that the land you propose to lease for a Marina-Motel development is a suitable location for such a project.

But I am sure you will agree that any franchise you sign should carry safeguards and specifically state that only a Marina-Motel Development could be planned and constructed on such land.

It does not seem right to lease waterfront property, developed by taxpayers money, for the operation of retail shops in competition with the local retail merchants. Only such business as require water front for their operation should be permitted.

There are many who believe that this land area is not required for public use, and there are many who realize that the present turning basin is not large enough to provide the water area needed by small boats and skiers.

Therefore, the developers of a Marina-Motel should in their dredging operations provide an additional water basin area for the public the equivalent to that area which their Marina boat traffic will take over.

The need for a road way to carry the south bound driver east across Highway 35 to the extensive beach areas is well established. Such a road way should be worked out as part of the motel plan and the cost of its construction shared by the Navigation District, County, City and the Developers of this Marina-Motel program. Such a cross-over entry to and around the Motel is necessary for convenient access not only to the Motel but to the public beach areas.

If this project is sound, thirty years should be long enough to amortize such development. At the end of twenty-nine years, if the project is a success, there will be a way to work out a new lease, fair to all concerned.

You cannot foresee all the factors that may enter into this project, but periodic renegotiations will take care of changing conditions.

I believe you should solicit public discussion and constructive criticism, don't let baised criticism hold you back from going ahead and doing for your community what you think is right. You can measure the progress of this whole county by the sound development of our Bay water front.

In the face of opposition, and you will always have it, it takes great courage to go ahead and do for your community that which you believe to be in the best interest of the majority.

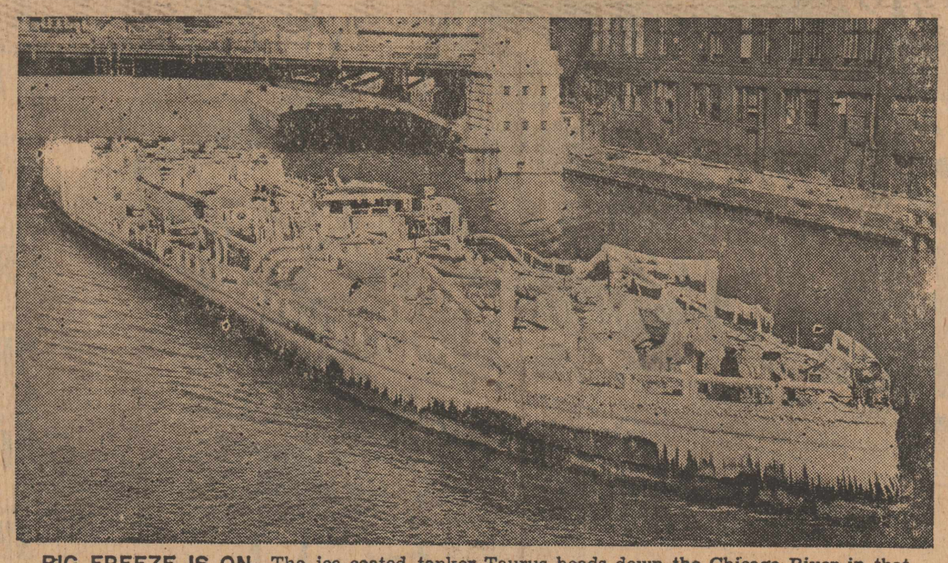

Sincerely,
M. W. Cochran

ATLANTIC APPLIES FOR PERMIT

Interested parties are hereby notified that application has been made to the District Engineer for a Department of the Army permit for a structure under navigable waters in this Engineer District, by The Atlantic Refining Company, to operate in Aransas Bay, at a location in State Tracts Nos. 121 and 122, central to a point approximately 1 mile north from Fulton, Texas.

The applicant proposes to place a pipe line at the above location. A 2-inch line would extend from an existing well in State Tract 121 westerly a distance of 933 feet to an existing well, then southwesterly a distance of approximately 2,100 feet to the mean high tide shore line in State Tract 122. The top of the line would be placed 1½ feet below the bed of the bay except through shell reefs or beds where it would be placed 1 foot below the bed. The line would be jetted, plowed, disced or placed by other similar methods whereby there would be a minimum displacement of the bed and no spoil deposit would remain.

If you've got a little boy or girl that's itching to write a letter to Santa and don't know where to send it, the Pilot will act as Santa Claus' post office again this year, and publish letters.

BIG FREEZE IS ON—The ice-coated tanker Taurus heads down the Chicago River in that city after a cold, windy trip on the Great Lakes. The record cold wave slowed iron ore carriers on the lakes as they raced to the steel mills before winter locked the ports.

Well-Known Coast Guardsman To Retire December 30

When Dec. 30th rolls around, J. C. Chighuizola, chief warrant officer at the Coast Guard station at Port Aransas, will retire after 30 years in the service.

And when he retires the lower Texas coast will lose one of its most colorful figures. Soft-spoken "Chig," as he is known to most people, has thousands of friends and acquaintances among fishermen, mariners and landlubbers, gained during his long stay along the Gulf Coast. And many of them are in Rockport.

In the last twelve years he has taken part in more than 400 rescue missions over Aransas Pass bar, and more than 1300 investigations of various sorts in the bays and gulf protected by the station on the northern tip of Mustang Island.

Chighuizola entered the service when he was only 17, enlisting in his home town of New Orleans. In World War II, he was commander of a beach patrol on Grand Isle, at the southern tip of Lousiana.

Things were hot around there at times, "Chig" said.

"One night we stood on the beach and watched three torpedoed tankers all burning at once, the German submarines were so active."

In the latter part of the war he was on board ship, and took part in the invasion of the island of Palau, in the Pacific.

Sent to Port Aransas in 1948, he has served as commander there since 1955, and was commissioned a chief warrant officer in 1958.

Besides the war years, Chighuizola has seen plenty of action. One of the most vivid memories is of a rescue during a storm in 1951. He commanded a Coast Guard cutter sent to sea to tow a disabled vessel to safety.

"They got a line aboard the drifting ship at the height of the blow, then," says Chighuizola, "the line broke and we spent all the rest of the day trying to recapture that boat." Of course the crew and craft were rescued.

In 1956, one of the boats belonging to the Forty-Fathom Fish Company, a New England concern, rammed a fishing pier at Port Aransas, and high seas and terrific winds rendered rescue by boat out of the question. However, the trawler was near enough to shore and "Chig" and his crew were able to shoot a line aboard from a cannon, and then to bring the crew ashore via breeches bouy, along that line.

The 51 year old veteran hasn't decided what he'll do after a brief ceremony in the New Orleans office of the admiral commanding the Eighth Coast Guard District ends his 30-year career.

He and his attractive wife Wanda own a home and several rent properties in Aransas Pass and intend to build a new home on the Old Ingleside road soon.

Outside of that, "Chig" says, "I plan to stay active and keep working."

Magazine To Be Published By CBTA

At a meeting of the Tourist Promotion Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, Bob Cornwell, head of the Coastal Bend Tourist Association, told members of the committee that this organization would once again issue a magazine similar to "Texas Tropical Coast" in which the local Chamber advertised four or five years ago, and asked them to do so again.

This magazine, Cornwell said, would be distributed to ports of entry maintained by the Texas Highway Department (15,000), sports shows (25,000), travel services (5,000), the American Automobile Association (1,500), and the balance of 3,500 copies to individual requests.

He pointed out that while Rockport would only be one of many towns in the booklet, that if it wanted to spend $600 for a full page ad, it could be assured of fifty thousand circulation, and would not need to have its own folders at boat shows and similar exhibitions where the CBTA maintained a booth.

In other business the group discussed formation of tourist clubs in this area, officered and maintained by the tourists themselves, similar to those so common on the Valley and other tourist regions.

Mrs. Mary Juergens told the members of the committee that she had written to the Valley to ascertain as much as possible about these clubs, but had received no answer.

VFW Backs Caribean Navy Move

The national organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are solidly behind President Eisenhower in sending the U.S. Navy into the Caribbean, Ted Connell, national commander, said here last Wednesday.

In a press release, Connell said: "This bold and determined action by our country will prove to our friends throughout this hemisphere that the spirit of the Monroe doctrine is not dead. It is the kind of action that Communists understand and I am sure that it will encourage free men everywhere.

"Despite the howling of Communists, this action is consistent with international law since we are protecting friendly nations at their own request.

"I am sure the United States has gained new respect from friend and foe alike by this bold move. Our determination to protect our friends in the western hemisphere will be applauded wherever free men gather."

CHILI SUPPER AT SACRED HEART HALL NEXT SATURDAY

There will be a chili supper at Sacred Heart Parish Hall next Saturday night, from 6 to 7:30 p.m., for the benefit of Sacred Heart School.

NEW QUAIL SEASON

Austin.—Quail season opened Thursday, Nov. 24, in the 27 counties comprising the Possum Kingdom regulatory area of North Central Texas. The season was opened there early this year because of a heavy crop of quail, but an inadequate amount of food to carry a heavy number through the winter months.

The season will close Jan. 20. The bag limit this year is 15 per day and 45 in possession.

Richard Sharp was released from Spohn Hospital last week after having undergone sugery recently. He is doing fine.

City Council Talking Bond Issue For Drains

The city council at its regular meeting Monday night, devoted most of its time to a discussion of the drainage situation, and authorized Mayor Herman Johnson to explore the possibility of a drainage bond issue.

Johnson said that he would contact Laddie Janecek, of The First of Texas, San Antonio, some time this week, for advice on the city's financial position, and how much it could borrow.

In general, under Texas law, a city can borrow up to 10% of its assessed valuations, less whatever outstanding indebtedness it may have in the way of bonds.

Rockport, with its valuations slightly in excess of $3,000,000, could probably borrow about $300,000 to combat drainage problems, less the amount outstanding from the $88,000 bond issue for Loop 70 voted several years ago.

These bonds, if voted, would have to be paid for from tax revenues of the city, and would probably require a sizable slice of such funds, although the mayor did not express himself on this point.

He did say that the city was waiting on a survey of levels throughout Rockport now being made by McLendon and Associates of Corpus Christi, to determine where the water should be channeled.

Various people in town have expressed themselves during the last several weeks on the drainage problems, and most of them are of the opinion that any attempt to drain the city without a similar attempt by the county would be rather a waste of time and money.

And there are a number of proponents of a county-wide drainage district who point out that much of Rockport's trouble comes from low and undrained areas surrounding it.

Attempts made during the height of the water troubles to enlist Federal aid were abortive, they point out, and a county-wide district may be the only answer if the area is ever to secure the drainage it needs.

County Bond Sales Reach 124.8% Of Quota For Area

October E and H Savings Bonds sales in Aransas County totaled $2,026, according to Fred Bracht, chairman of the county Savings Bonds Committee.

Sales for the first ten months of 1960 were $74,886 which represents 124.8% of the county 1960 goal. First ten months sales in Texas were $129,501,248 or 78.2% of its 1960 goal of $165,500,000.

"Savings Bonds are an investment in the future. For years the Treasury Department sold bonds as a doorway to opportunity—a new home, college education, retirement, or some other dream of the future. But today the future itself is threatened. With the dawn of the missile age, the world is suddenly aware that one more war could be the last.

The hope of age is for peace—for some guarantee that there will be a future to look forward to. We must has peace power—the strength to keep peace; the knowledge to make it lasting. Savings Bonds, in building economic stability, help strengthen America's peace power," Bracht concluded.

No Answer Yet On Marina, Caspary Says

Queried this week as to the progress of their plans for a motel and marina on Little Bay, Caspary and Wendell said that they had heard nothing from the Aransas County Navigation Board in reply to the firm's letter earlier this month.

"However," Delo Caspary said, "we do hope for an answer early in December and, should the answer be favorable, there will still be a period of negotiation before any final franchise is drawn up.

"Several months ago, when we broached the subject to the Navigation Board, we had a tentative franchise drawn by our lawyer and presented to the Board. They turned it over to their lawyer, Ellis Clark for study.

"However, since then, we have changed the plans for the entire installation. We no longer plan on a shopping center.

"All that we will construct, if the Navigation Board's answer is a favorable one, and a new franchise can be negotiated, is a motel, marina, restaurant, convention hall, two swimming pools, boat storage and parking facilities, and office space for the motel and our firm.

"We have no plans for charter boats or bait.

"Any franchise that we may be granted would of course be only for construction of the facilities outlined in our letter earlier this month.

"We realize that anything of this sort takes a lot of thought, both on our part and that of the Navigation Board, and that before any sort of franchise could be granted, our lawyer and the one employed by the Navigation Board would have to go over it point by point. This has never been done, nor has any franchise ever been presented that was considered anything but tentative, due for considerable change by both parties, if we should come to a meeting of the minds."

The installation, Jerry Wendell said, should be a distinct economic asset to the area, and would return about $10,000 to $12,00 a year to city, county, navigation board and school district, for it can be assessed and taxed.

VFW Chief Tells District 6 Unit Of Soviet Threat

We have no peace in the world today because one of the most powerful nations on earth rejects all moral standards, Ted C. Connell, of Killeen, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars said here last Wednesday.

Connell, the first Texan elected national commander of the VFW, was principal speaker at a dinner meeting at Big Tree Restaurant, sponsored by the Stewart-Wendell Post of Rockport. This was Connell's first official visit to VFW District 6 since his election to the national office last August.

"True peace depends on justice and justice is based on morality." Connell said. "The U.S.S.R. says the only morality is the yardstick of what advances the cause of world Communist revolution.

"Let's face it. There will be no true peace as long as almost a billion people behind the iron and bamboo curtains are deprived of religious freedom and are under the mailed fists of regime that deny God and do not believe in dealing with other nations justly," said Connell.

Speaking to an audience of 300 VFW and auxiliary members of the 6th District, Connell urged them to dare to be outspoken in their love for their country and not to worry about being labeled "flag wavers" and "Red baiters."

"If we are to stand up to the threat of communism, all Americans must rededicate themselves to the principles of freedom on which this nation is founded.

"We need a powerful armed force to remain free. But, that is not enough and will fail to keep us free if we, ourselves, are not wholly dedicated to our country and to its ideals of freedom. Our real security lies not in our armed forces or our material might, but in our love for our country and what it stands for," Connell said.

The national commander arrived here at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday and was guest of honor at an informal reception at the VFW Hall at 4 p.m., following a street parade in his honor. Local citizens said this was the first street parade here in the past 30 years.

A social hour from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. was held at the Big Tree Restaurant at Lamar prior to the dinner. Attending were VFW members and their wives throughout the 6th District.

City Council Considers Fire Insurance

The City Council, at its regular meeting Monday night, received a letter from the State Board of Insurance outlining changes in fire protection measures here which the Board says would result in lowered insurance.

On the basis of the 1960 census figure of 1961 for Rockport, the Board made the following recommendations:

A new well should be drilled near the new pumping station, of at least 250 gallons per minute, arranged to pump into the present 200,000 gallon reservoir.

The city's ground storage reservoirs are 34% deficient in capacity and the Board recommended another 200,000-gallon reservoir.

The present elevated tank is 69% deficient in capacity, and the State Board recommends that another elevated storage tank be constructed of at least 150,000 gallon capacity, to be installed on a tower 100 feet high. The new tank should be supplied by eight inch or larger mains all the way into the mercantile district.

Along with the Board's letter, they enclosed a map of recommendations on main and hydrant improvements for future consideration by the city fathers.

"Special attention should be directed," the letter says, "to connecting both of the pump stations to the mercantile district with eight inch or larger mains."

Two cents would be dropped from the city's insurance key rate if this is done, and charges of 6 cents in the city's key rate would be eliminated if the entire program of new well tanks and mains is carried out.

The Board pointed out that the local fire department seems to be in fair shape, although drill reports have been late in the past. It is important, the Board states, that such reports arrive in the Austin office on time.

In order for Oscar Dye to be recognized as a full paid fireman he must first be paid by the city a salary sufficient in amount to make him responsible directly to the city officials. Secondly, the Board says, he must be on duty 24 hours a day and have no other duties than that of fireman. Proper relief must be supplied for him on his days off and during vacation.

The purchase of a new triple combination 500 gallon per minute pumper is recommended, and if this is done, another 2 cents will be eliminated from Rockport's key insurance rate.

In addition, the State office requested that a survey be made of the city's roofs. If less than 75% of these are combustible, another reduction in the key rate will be in order.

TCHAIKOWSKY'S MUSIC COMES TO LIFE IN VARIETY SHOW

Inspiration for this year's Variety Show has come from "The Nutcracker Suite," a ballet written by Peter Tchaikowsky for Russian children to dance.

Numbers include the Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy, the Waltz of the Flowers, the Russian Dance, and the Chinese Dance.

In another part of the show, there is a toyshop where the toys come to life to talk and dance.

Mrs. Tillie Frye is assisting the girls' chorus.

A special children's matinee has been arranged for elementary school children only, at 1:15 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 7. This showing will include the toyshop sequence with dancing bears, dolls, and other story book characters.

Regular performances for the general public will be held at 8 p.m., Dec. 8-9 at the High School auditorium.

See next week's paper for a complete cast of characters.

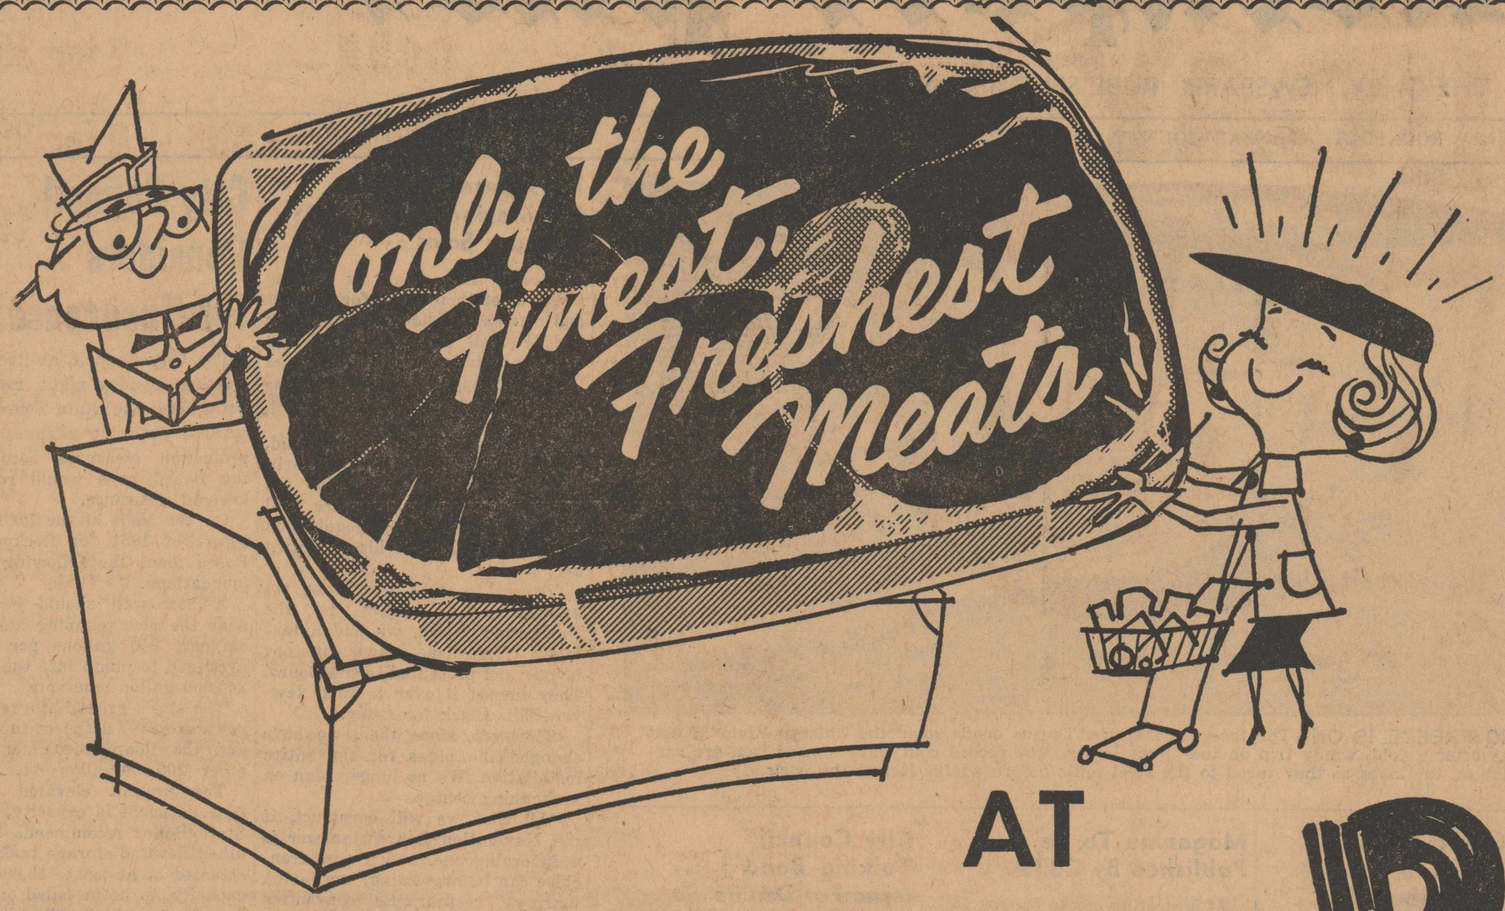

PHOTOGRAPHERS TO BE AT HIGH SCHOOL NEXT MONDAY

A photographer will be at the high school next Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock to take pictures of all new pupils in both junior and senior high schools, along with faculty pictures, senior pictures, and pictures of various clubs and activities. These pictures are for the school annual.

IT'S EASY TO TELL A DEER FROM A COW

Austin.—There is just as much difference between a beef steak and a venison chop as there is between a cow and a deer. But it's a lot easier to recognize a cow at a glance. At least, this is the theory of Capt. E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

He's been evaluating stories coming into the office about deer hunters shooting cows on farms and ranches.

He says the cow shooting by hunters falls into three catagories. First, there is the hunter who just shoots when he sees something move. Then, of course there is the night hunter who shines a flash light into a cow's eyes and pulls the trigger on the wrong kind of animal.

Then, the captain admits, there are some who just don't seem to know the difference.

All three are a menace to other wildlife and all hunters, according to the captain.

"Many more landowners would be willing to permit hunting on their places with some assurance their prize livestock wouldn't be killed off," he said. "But it seems every day, somewhere, or wardens are given information about the shooting of livestock."

COASTAL OYSTER CROP AFFECTED BY HEAY RAINS

Recent rains and the floods of some Texas rivers are lowering prospects for the oyster season this year, according to Howard T. Lee, director of the marine division of the Game and Fish Commission. Rivers are emptying their tremendous loads of fresh water into the bays, thus lowering the salt-to-water ratio which in many cases is becoming too fresh for the survival of bay oysters.

Particularly hard hit is the San Antonio-Espiritu Santo Bay area, which last year produced 606,000 pounds of oyster meats, comprising 48 per cent of the State's local production. Floods on the Guadalupe River, which empties into San Antonio Bay near Seadrift, have virtually turned the bay fresh. The oysters have already begun to bloat and die. In addition to the direct effects of the lowering of the salinity, the oysters are being weakened by an epidemic of fungus parasite which thrives in fresh water.

Heading the newly chartered and licensed company, with offices at 307 Jones Building, is Emmett L. Duemke, of Corpus Christi, former banker and publisher of Minneapolis, and chosen by Time magazine some years ago as one of 100 outstanding young men in America.

Associated with him are Dave L. Tandy, of Fort Worth and Rockport, founder of the Tandy Leather Company; Charles L. Tandy, Chairman of the Board of the Tandy Corporation, which operates approximately 100 stores throughout the nation and the giant Tex-tan plant at Yoakum; and an advisory group of South Texas business men.

Duemke, in announcing the new company, said:

"Our independent, free-enterprise operation, the first of its kind in this area, will serve small and medium-sized businesses whose possibilities for growth, expansion, modernization and development will afford opportunities for investment appreciation.

"We are organized under a recent Federal law in such a manner as not to compete with any financial institutions. Loans of our equity-type capital to either new or existing business will be available for periods ranging from five to 20 years.

"Borrowers may also take advantage of our management advisory services in connection with their loans, and we have prepared a brochure on our varied services that will be mailed on request."

The management committee of the new company is composed of the Tandys and Duemke, and they will be advised by a group of business leaders in this area, who will assist the CCSBIC in determining financial investments in Texas businesses, whether through equity securities or long-term, straight loans.

A partial list of this advisory board consists of A. Kemp Adams, Guaranty Trust Company; W. G. Buzbee, C.P.A.; Jack Ryan, Corpus Christi Brick and Lumber Company; J. R. Sorrell, Corpus Christi attorney; E. T. (Gene) White, Houston warehouse owner whose home is in Rockport; G. R. Swatner, Corpus Christi, investments; Sam Gottlich, South Texas Wholesale Company; Clyde Tandy, Jr., Port Fertilizer and Chemical Company, Los Fresnos; and Mac Sterrett, Sterrett Supply Company, Corpus Christi.

Additions to this advisory group will be announced shortly, Duemke said.

CHANGES IN SOCIAL SECURITY LUMP SUM PAYMENT

Recent changes in the Social Security Act now make it possible in many instances to pay the lump sum death benefit direct to the funeral home, according to Arthur L. Finck, Assistant District Manager of the Corpus Christi Security office.

When a worker dies, the lump sum benefit is paid to the widow or widower if the couple were living in the same household at the time of death, Finck pointed out. However, if there is no surviving spouse or if the husband and wife were not living together, arrangements can be made for the lump sum death payment to be paid to the funeral home. for any part of the expenses that have not been paid. An application to have this done should be filed by the person who assumes responsibility for payment of the expenses.

Where the funeral home has been paid, the lump sum benefit may be paid as reimbursement to those who paid the burial expenses, Finck said. The lump sum payment is three times the worker's earned monthly insurance amount, but not more than $225.

Additional information about this or other changes in the law may be obtained by calling TU-3-4447 or writing to the Social Security Administration, 530 So. Water St., Corpus Christi.

Silver and gold coins have a rough edge because if they were smooth it would be easy to file off some of the valuable metal without changing the coin's appearance.
