"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

SMOKE FROM THE MOUNTAIN

If any one thinks our readers don't read the classified columns, he is badly mistaken. A notice for a reward for the return of a dog instigated the biggest dog hunt Santa Anna has seen lately. Dogs popped up from everywhere and although many didn't exactly fit the description, the lads weren't taking any chances and exhibited all they could find. But as yet the reward is still unclaimed, although the dog has been seen. No one is fast enough to catch him.

Baseball season is just about over and a lot of Santa Anna's traders are going to miss those three days a week of rooting for their favorite team. We nominate for the most faithful supporters, Jim Daniell and Joe B. Flores, who, as far as we know didn't miss a game unless confined to bed. In fact we believe the main worry Flores had while he was recuperating from an operation several weeks ago, was the fact he missed out on some games.

Also in connection with the games, Santa Anna appreciated the fine cooperation the managers and players showed in helping make this first baseball season a success. They were here ready to do their part every time, unless water bound, and we really didn't expect them to come then. In this same connection, some one was trying to find Rosser, manager of the Buffalo team and the man described him as "the man with a big cigar in his mouth and it's never lighted."

It's about time to get those rodeo costumes ready because it won't be long now until boots, loud shirts, and big hats are the fashion in Santa Anna. And a horse might come in handy also for the big parade planned each day this year. That is an added feature, because last year there was only a parade the first day.

Brady Will Soon Have New Bridge Where Old Stood

A new bridge on the north side of Brady will be constructed as soon as possible, and plans and specifications have been presented to the State Highway Commission by Leo Ehlinger, division engineer, and R. L. Bobbitt, chairman of the commission.

The petition for a new bridge, completely destroyed by the recent flood, was heard immediately by the commission as an emergency measure.

Tom Donaldson and "Cry Baby" Signed for Rodeo

Tom Donaldson of Miles and his acting horse, "Cry Baby" have been booked by the Rodeo Association as a special attraction at the rodeo August 25, 23 and 27. Final arrangements were made with Mr. Donaldson here Wednesday morning.

"Cry Baby" is one of the most famous acting horses in rodeo arenas in Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and other points in the rodeo world. The horse is a paint gelding, mostly white and well built, weighing 935 pounds. The horse and owner work in perfect harmony on difficult acts, each with a definite plot.

"Cry Baby" gets his master out of jail, disarms the jailer and runs him off, takes the rope to his master and jerks the bars out of the jail. In another act he rescues his master who is injured, puts him on his back, takes him to a well and draws a bucket of water, and brings him back to consciousness. Many other tricks and acts will be shown.

Donaldson and his horse have just completed a tour of Arizona and New Mexico.

Local Red Cross Thanks Helpers

Local Red Cross headquarters wish to thank all who assisted in raising the flood relief fund for Santa Anna, Trickham, Buffalo, Rockwood, Shield and Liberty and also those who donated to assist the victims of the San Saba, McCulloch and Menard county floods, J. C. Scarborough, chairman announced today.

Coleman County's quota of $200 was oversubscribed, Santa Anna donating $128.18 which was about $60 over the quota. Coleman donated over $200.

Frank Dickey Is Host Friday For Losing Candidates

Frank Dickey, defeated candidate for the office of District Attorney in the recent primary, showed he could take it along with several other defeated candidates, when he entertained the losers with a watermelon feast at the City Park in Balinger last Friday, August 5.

His guests were all defeated candidates in the 119th judicial district, which includes Coleman, Runnels, Concho and Tom Green counties. He called the gathering a "lame duck rally."

Mrs. Aubrey Parker, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Davis of Cross Plains and Mrs. L. E. Abernathy of Rockwood returned Monday from a vacation visit in South Texas, New Orleans and Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Student Nurses Transfer Monday To San Antonio

Student nurses in training at the Sealy Hospital School of Nursing will be transferred Monday to the Robert B. Greene City and County Hospital at San Antonio, according to Dr. T. Richard Sealy, who established the local nurses school in 1926.

The Sealy School of Nursing, always a full approved and affiliated school, is being closed at this time due to the break in health of its director, Dr. Sealy, who is not now able to personally oversee the school. Arrangements have been completed between Dr. Sealy and the Robert B. Greene Hospital with the approval of the State Board of Nurse Examiners to transfer all local student nurses to the San Antonio hospital without loss of time in the training courses.

The Robert B. Greene Hospital has only recently re-organized and re-established the nurses training school which makes it possible for the entire group from the Sealy School of Nursing to be transferred there. The Sealy School of Nursing will graduate one more class of nurses in June 1939, although the graduates then will complete their training in San Antonio, but they will be graduates of the local school since the majority of their work has been done here.

Although the school was established here in 1926 it was not until 1929 that a class graduated, since a three year course is required for graduation. Nine classes have received their diplomas here. The group in June, 1939 will make the tenth group to finish here.

Representatives of the State Board of Nurse Examiners, who visited Dr. Sealy Saturday, stated that the school "closed in honor and in glory" since the only reason for its discontinuance was ill health of the director, who did not feel willing to keep the nurses in the school which he could not give his attention.

Those being transferred are: Misses Tula Mae Sides, Helen Younglove, Nina Williams, Verda Morrison, Oleta Thate, Jo Ella Henderson, Frances Gregg, Clincy Fillingim, Ray Fiveash, Thelma Younglove, Marjorie Stacy, La Nita Ruth McElroy, Addie Lou Johnson and Mary Evelyn Willy.

The home, formerly occupied by student nurses, will now be the residence of graduate nurses, who will now be employed at the hospital. Only graduate nurses will be connected with the hospital, Dr. Sealy stated.

NAVY RECRUITING OFFICER TO VISIT HERE AUGUST 17

The Navy Recruiting Officer from Abilene, John J. Mockbee, will be a visitor in Santa Anna on August 17 in the interest of Navy Recruiting.

Mr. Mockbee states that the Navy offers many opportunities for young men who wish to learn, travel and become better citizens and at the same time receive good pay. Mr. Mockbee will also call on the Postmaster while here.

County Farmers To Get Subsidy Checks By Sept. 1

Coleman County farmers will receive from $200,000 and $250,000 in Federal government cotton subsidy checks by September 1, according to the county agent, C. V. Robinson. Checks will be given to the 1200 farmers who raised cotton last year.

Subsidy applications must be signed before the checks can be mailed from Washington. Over 1,000 of these applications have already been signed. The subsidy is a payment of 3 cents a pound on cotton sold after Sept. 10 last year. Those selling before that date will receive a little less than three cents a pound.

However, farmers who deliberately overplanted their cotton quota last year must return their subsidy checks to the federal government.

Masons To Entertain At Barbecue Tonight

Letters of invitation have been sent to members of the local lodge and to members of neighboring Masonic Lodges.

STAFFORD BAXTER JOINS SINCLAIR AGENCY EMPLOYEES

Stafford Baxter of Santa Anna is now connected with the Sinclair Refining Co. in this county as local rural truck salesman, according to the Coleman agent, A. K. Evans. Mr. Baxter took over his new work about two weeks ago.

Booster trips for the Santa Anna Rodeo start in full swing Tuesday morning with a caravan of cars heading first toward Rockwood and Brady. At both places the boosters will stop for music and greetings with the citizens and at Brady a radio broadcast has been scheduled for 10 o'clock.

Leaving Brady, the group will take in all towns on the San Angelo route and will broadcast from the San Angelo broadcasting station about 2 p. m. From San Angelo, Santa Anna delegates will visit Winters, Ballinger, Talpa, Valera, Coleman and other towns enroute.

Accompanying the cars will be a six piece string band and an Electrolux sound truck to be furnished through the courtesy of Hosh Furniture Co.

Half day trips will be announced Tuesday for the two following days.

It is particularly urged that all citizens who can go on one of the booster trips, either Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday or on all days notify Dennis Kelley or A. D. Pettit, who are arranging for the schedule. "We need cars and we want a lot of them, and we would like to know by Saturday at the latest about how many cars we can count on for each day's trip," Mr. Kelley stated. "It is urgent for the success of our rodeo that as many people as possible go or donate cars to go on these booster trips."

Word to the News from Earl Sellers this week gives a partial list of bucking horses that will be brought to the Santa Anna Rodeo. Some were here last year but of this partial list, six are new horses. They are San Beau, Spike Bowlers, Pinto Pete (new), Charro, Snip, Barago, Joe Lewis (new), Scar Face (new), Cap Rock, Blue Moon (new), Beaver, Whimpy, K. C. (new), Dizzy Dean (new), Beaver Lake and Chappo.

Baseball Rating In League So Far Shows Fisk Leading Teams

Results thus far in the baseball season show Fisk leading the other five teams but several other teams must play games yet before the percentage is complete. Also it will be noted in the percentage rating that there are more wins than losses among these six teams. This is because Gouldbusk dropped out of the league early in the season and each remaining team was credited with a game, forfeited by Gouldbusk.

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.

Rockwood	8	3	.727

Concord	4	3	.571

Are You A Booster?

Do you, as an average citizen, want to do your part in helping make the Santa Anna Rodeo a success? If you do, here's how the Booster Committee says you can do your big part in putting over our biggest show. Tuesday starts the scheduled booster trips and you and your automobile are needed to join the caravan of "trippers" who plan to advertise our city all over this section of West Texas.

If you really want some keen enjoyment along with giving the Rodeo Association some cooperation, you won't hesitate a minute in phoning your offer of a car to W. D. Kelley or A. D. Pettit. Although, of course, the main business of arrangements of the rodeo is left unto the hands of a few persons, here is a place where every one can feel he or she helped boost the rodeo. Be up town Tuesday morning with your car. Be a BOOSTER.

Recreation Notes

By Mrs. Reuben Fulton
 The Recreation Playgrounds are open each afternoon from two until seven o'clock, and well rounded programs are being enjoyed by over one hundred children each afternoon at the three directed playgrounds. The regular attendance to these parks have organized interesting ball teams. There are almost as many children who are not enjoying these sports and it is the earnest desire of the staff of the Recreation department to have these children come out to their nearest playground and see what they are missing. Any person not understanding the purposes of these directed playgrounds are requested to contact one of the directors or the local supervisor, Mr. Lawrence, who will be glad to outline the advantages of this work.

New softball and other equipment has been provided for the playgrounds by the council members to better the attendance records. You are missing out on the fun if you are not among the groups who are enjoying these playgrounds; come out and have fun and relax through these hot afternoons.

Scheduled tap-dancing classes and music lessons are held at the recreation building throughout the week. Art and handicraft classes are held at the Boy Scout building south of the high school. Persons interested in these forms of recreation should see Mr. Lawrence for schedules.

Not even one motorized or steam propelled vehicle will be allowed in the opening parade, officials announced today. From foot to the latest in buggies and wagons will be the conveyance used by really "old-timers" to show the thousands of visitors how they traveled to the country known as the Southwest.

The second day will go to the extreme in the parade that will take up locomotion of trains, cars, boats, and planes and show the evolution of travel progress through even dreams of tomorrow.

The third day's parade to climax the celebration will be beyond doubt the most colorful ever presented in the United States. Combining the entries of the first two days, the largest cowboy band ever assembled will lead the parade. Over 2,000 members of the band will be dressed in pioneer regalia. Three hours is the estimated time required to witness the "Parade of the Southwest."

Net proceeds received from pageants, shows concessions and novelties will be donated to charity that will perpetuate the memory of Will Rogers by rendering service to mankind.

Business Reports Deny Statements Of Current Depression

Let The Critters Do The Work

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Sec'y.
Breeder-Feeder Association

At this season crops are maturing and harvesting is ahead. A great deal of labor may be saved by turning livestock in the fields and allowing them to feed themselves. Under proper handling there is little waste of grain, and animals get the benefit of green forage that would not be saved otherwise, and which adds to the value of the grain by helping to balance the ration. If fields are not already fenced, a temporary fence of 32-inch woven wire will confine sheep and hogs, and with a few staunch posts at wide intervals, small stakes driven into the ground will support it. It can readily be rolled up and moved several times, and when it becomes too badly bent to stand up in a temporary fence, it is still good for permanent use where solid corner posts permit tight stretching.

Hogs are well known to be the best gleaners of grain, with sheep next. If crops are harvested by cattle it is always advisable to follow with hogs. The cheapest pork, both in labor cost and the amount of grain required to make 100 pounds of meat, is produced by a combination of green pasture, hogging down feed crops, and the self-feeder. Carl P. Thompson, extension swine specialist of Oklahoma voices the experience of the best hog men when he says that it is doubtful if a farmer can afford to raise hogs unless they can run on pasture a good part of the year.

Besides the labor saving element it is good for the health of both hogs and sheep to get off the permanent pastures and on the cultivated fields, where internal parasites are less prevalent. It is best to confine the animals to a space that can be cleaned up in ten days to three weeks, rather than permit them to roam at large for a month or more. In the final stages of grazing, grains will be slowed up by their walking over large fields in search of food, and there will be more wastage in the long run. It goes without saying that shade and water must be easily and continuously accessible to the animals while hogging down or sheeping off crops. Experiments have shown that a bushel of grain goes a great deal farther in meat production if the animal can drink water when thirsty instead of waiting for periodic waterings several hours apart.

Mineral mixtures and protein supplements are usually not indispensable if hogs have access to good pastures and legumes, or skim milk, but experienced hog men say protein supplements always pay. Corn and cowpeas, corn and soy beans, corn and peanuts, make good fattening rations when hogged down together. With corn alone it is advisable to supply a mineral mixture and a protein supplement in self-feeders. Either wood ashes or air-slaked lime and salt in equal parts is good, and bone meal may be profitably added under some conditions. Charcoal is commonly used and hogs like it.

The protein supplement may be based on cottonseed meal, peanut meal or tankage. The experiment stations of the Southwest have worked out formulas for protein supplements for their respective states, according to the availability and adaptation of the materials. Cottonseed meal is available everywhere in the Southwest, and may be safely and profitably fed to hogs by following directions furnished by extension hog specialists and county agents who keep up with experimental results.

Enough feed goes to waste on most Southwestern farms to produce all the pork and beef

Clothes End the Controversy

DENTON—It takes longer to make a dress of stone than of cloth, but the statue to Pioneer Women to be erected at Texas State College for Women is now modestly clothed. Artist Leo Friedlander, who started a furor with his original model of four nude figures depicting a pioneer family, won the approval of the Board of Control with the model pictured above, which is now under construction. Critics of the original claimed that the figures "looked like apes," and that a nude statue was not "appropriate to a woman's college campus."

or mutton the family could use. Pasturing the fields is the only way much of this waste can be turned to profit, and the most economical way of harvesting and selling crops that are adapted to harvesting by animals. Let the critters do the work.

Livestock Shipments Fall Off This Year

Austin, Texas — Shipments of livestock to Fort Worth stockyards and interstate points for June totaled 7,473 cars, compared with 8,184 cars during the like month last year, a decline of 9 per cent, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Cattle shipments, 4,609 cars, declined 20 per cent; calves, 811 cars, increased 17 per cent; hogs, 490 cars, increased 19 per cent; and sheep, 1,563 cars, increased 28 per cent. During the first six months of the year shipments aggregated 40,645 cars, a decline of 13 per cent from the corresponding period last year.

Shipments of poultry from Texas to out-of-State points during June totaled 51 cars, compared with 63 cars during the corresponding month last year, a decline of 19 per cent, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. Egg shipments totaled 44 cars, compared with 43 cars during June last year. Five cars of eggs were shipped into Texas during June, all of which came from Kansas; last year in June, 11 cars were brought in, 9 from Kansas and 2 from Nebraska.

WITH OUR WILDLIFE

BY JOHN R. WOOD

State Game Warden
Author's note: This is the first column in a series to be run weekly to inform the sportsmen of this section of Texas of the game laws and other news of our wildlife resources.

Dove hunters of Texas will not be subjected to a series of conflicting regulations such as confused them last year, the Game Department announced.

Compared to those of last year, the 1938 regulations are fairly uniform.

Combined state and federal laws governing both mourning and white-winged doves provide the following open seasons:

From Sept. 1 to Oct. 31 in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton, Collin, and Hunt, and all counties north thereof, and the counties of Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Delta and Franklin.

In the remainder of the state the open season on both species is from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15. Below the Texas-Mexican Railway in the Rio Grande Valley, however, only four days of shooting each week during the open season will be allowed—on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays—but this exception is not applicable to

Social Security Week Proclaimed For August 14

Austin—Social Security Week in Texas, to be observed beginning August 14, was proclaimed this week by Governor James V. Allred.

The governor asked Texans to participate in local observances and "acquaint themselves with efforts of state and federal governments to bring about a greater measure of security for the individual."

Examining the record of social security, Texans could find on the credit side:

A total of 750,000 workers covered by the State Unemployment, Compensation law and approximately $4,879,536 paid as benefits to temporarily unemployed workers since January 1.

More than $19,000,000 granted by the Federal government for the old-age assistance program since payments first began to be made in July, 1936. Currently, more than 111,000 needy persons past the age of 65 are receiving monthly assistance checks, which averaged $13.74 during May, a monthly total of $1,500,000.

More than 1,620,000 social security account cards assigned to Texas workers who by this means establish wage accounts and begin to build up credits in the federal old-age insurance program. Already, $151,485.54 has been paid in lump-sum benefits to 5,168 Texas workers who have reached age 65 or to estates of workers who have died before reaching that age.

Maternal and child welfare programs, in which the federal and state governments cooperate to aid the individual by making available services instead of cash, have received from the federal government, during the past three years, grants in the following amounts: child welfare, $135,307.29; maternal and child health, $347,193.42; crippled children, $321,792.52. For the public health program in Texas, total grants of $780,664.20 had been received. Also 2,547 physically disabled persons were being trained and placed in gainful employment under the program of vocational rehabilitation. Much of this assistance went to or benefited residents or rural areas of the state.

We know better, but there is always temptation to stop and pick up a tired, weary looking, hitchhiker.
