U.S., Britain Ban Russian Rail Traffic

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, July 26—The U. S. and Britain struck back tonight at the Russian land blockade of Berlin. They banned all railway traffic in and out of the Soviet zone of Germany.

Officially, the Anglo-American action was ascribed to "technical difficulties." That was the phrase the Russians used in explaining why they stopped all overland traffic to Berlin. American and British spokesmen, however, admitted their joint action constituted "economic sanctions."

Government Planned

The western Allies also took the offensive on another front. They reached an agreement on final plans for a unified government of western Germany. The agreement, between German political leaders and the military governors of the U. S., British and French zones, calls for the election of a constitutional assembly by Sept. 1.

Meanwhile, the decks were cleared in Berlin for a new east-west political test of strength on a brand new issue. It developed after the city's anti-Communist city government ordered the dismissal of police president Paul Markgraf. He was appointed by the Russians in 1945. The city government accused him of purging the police force of "several hundreds" of policemen and many high police officials "in reckless disregard of all human consideration."

Reds Back Markgraf

The Russian reaction to Markgraf's firing came swiftly. Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, the Soviet commander, sent a letter to Berlin's mayoress, Frau Louise Schroeder, ordering the immediate dismissal of Herr Stum, deputy police chief and head of the police administrative section. Kotikov, who called himself "military commander of Berlin" in the letter although he is only commander of the Russian sector of the city, accused Stum of "preparing to split the Berlin police."

Thus Kotikov, served indirect notice that the Russians do not intend to accept the city's firing of the Soviet-appointed Markgraf. Kotikov's letter demanded "an investigation of all persons whose actions are directed toward split-

Search Pushed For Lone Bank Robber

SHREVEPORT, La., July 26. (AP)—A sheriff's posse using bloodhounds late today was searching a swampy area in northern Bossier parish for a bandit who robbed the Cotton Valley, La., bank of about $3,000 in cash at 1:25 p. m. today.

Mrs. Anna Frizzell, an employe of the bank, said the hold-up man waved a nickle-plated gun as he forced his way behind the counter to scoop up the bills from a cash drawer.

Flier Who Dropped 'Peace Bomb' On UN To Be Arraigned Today

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 26. (INS)—Stephen J. Supina, the decorated World War Two flier who "peace-bombed" the United Nations, is to be arraigned in New Haven tomorrow on a fugitive warrant.

The arraignment was scheduled today but was put over while authorities awaited the report of a psychiatric examination of Supina, made Sunday.

It is expected that Supina, who is 36, will be extradited to Mineola, N. Y., county seat of Nassau county in which Lake Success is situated.

Supina himself has indicated he is anxious to be returned to Lake Success so he can "finish my fight for peace."

He dropped a home-made explosive over UN headquarters Thursday afternoon, allegedly attaching to it a message saying the world must have peace. The bomb exploded harmlessly in the air, and Supina said he had rigged it that way to make sure no one was hurt.

Israel Claims New Jerusalem

TEL AVIV, July 26. (INS)—Israel formally proclaimed tonight the new city of Jerusalem as Jewish-held territory under the rule of the Israeli government.

A military governor for the bitterly contested Holy-City—the whole of which the Arabs also want—is expected to be appointed soon by the Israel cabinet.

Jerusalem's old city is held by the Arab legion.

The Jewish government scored a major victory tonight when United Nations observers ruled that the Jews may freely convoy unlimited quantities of non-war goods to Jerusalem on the main highway east from Tel Aviv.

Convoys To Roll

The Israeli convoys may — according to the decision — pass over the two-mile stretch dominated by Arab-held Latrun, scene of violent battles before the truce.

UN truce observers will be stationed along the route.

The UN ruling followed an Israeli threat to cut off the lone Arab supply route to Latrun from Ramallah to the north which now is dominated by Jewish artillery

Italy's Labor Forces Split Into Two Hostile Camps

ROME, July 26. (AP)—Italy's labor forces split into two hostile camps today. The largest bloc is Communist-controlled. The second faction has Catholic and government party backing.

Meanwhile, labor leaders in between these two groups were trying desperately to hold together the 7,000,000-member general confederation of labor (CGIL). The big confederation began cracking up a week ago after its Communist-dominated executive committee called a disastrous general strike following the attempted assassination of Communist boss, Palmiro Togliatti.

Record Vote Seen As Votes Tabulated

Stevenson Maintains Lead Over Johnson

(By The Associated Press)

WITH the largest vote in the history of Texas virtually assured, straggling returns from the Texas primary showed only one close fight today—the see-saw race for associate justice, place 3.

The lead between W. St. John Garwood and Jefferson G. Smith for associate justice of the supreme court, place 3, changed hands twice yesterday.

The latest tabulation of the Texas Election bureau, sent Garwood ahead at 6 p.m. on added returns from Harris county. Garwood had 480,711; Smith 440,032.

Four major state races seemed assured of a runoff. The top one was the anticipated dog fight for the U. S. senatorial post between Coke Stevenson and Lyndon Johnson.

Three congressional candidates were taking a breather for a few days before resuming the campaign trail again. Johnson, U. S. representative from the 10th district, flew to Washington for the special session of Congress. He predicted that if he can continue gains claimed in the first primary he will win in the runoff.

At Austin, Gov. Beauford Jester said he was "grateful and thankful for his renomination. He won easily over State Rep. Roger Q. Evans and Caso March.

Stevenson To Leave

Stevenson, who said he though Johnson "pulled his strength in the first primary," announced that he would leave for Washington today. He's going as an observer, he said.

Before Johnson left for Washington he went to his state headquarters at Austin, where he told his staff he appreciated their efforts in his behalf during the first primary.

The congressman, member of the House Armed Services committee and the joint Congressional Atomic Energy committee, said he would return to Texas to resume his campaign as soon as possible.

Other Runoffs Likely

Late returns indicated a runoff between Rep. Tom Pickett and former Congressman Nat Patton. Burke Summers is the third man in the race.

Lloyd M. Bentsen, jr., McCallen, and Phillip Kazen, Laredo, apparently will make the second primary race for Congressman Milton H. West's seat. West is retiring.

Austin City Councilman Homer Thornberry held a lead over

Corbin, Parrish Holding Leads

With returns from Saturday's democratic primary complete except for three small boxes in Kent county, County Judge Kilmer Corbin, of Lamesa, and incumbent Sterling Parrish, of Lubbock, strengthened their one-two positions Tuesday in the four-cornered contest for the state Senate from the 30th senatorial district.

The unofficial tabulations Monday, which were complete for 23 of the 24 counties, showed: Corbin, 17,341; Parrish, 15,832; Ralph Brock, of Lubbock, 15,117; and Dudley Brummett, of Lubbock, 11,854.

Barring wholly unexpected and unindicated upsets, Corbin and Parrish will be opponents in the runoff primary Aug. 28.

Kent county election officials estimated the unreported boxes there will contain fewer than 50 votes.

No Important Changes

Monday's tabulations brought no important changes in the trends as shown when counting of returns in the contest was discontinued early Sunday morning. Parrish, credited with a 450 lead over Brock for second place at that time, increased it to 715 in subsequent tabulations. Corbin continued well in the lead of the procession, with Brummett bringing up the rear with an impressive 11,858 total.

But the unofficial tabulations include a possible discrepancy in the Hockley county figures which may be unfavorable to Parrish. The totals, as reported by John R.

Investigations Underway In Two Fort Worth Slayings

FORT WORTH, July 26. (AP)—Investigations into two Sunday slayings in Fort Worth continued today.

Mrs. Kado Reeves Smith, 40, beauty shop operator, was released today on $5,000 bond after she was charged with murder in yesterday's slaying of her divorced husband, Moses Edwin Smith, 41, machinist. Smith was shot at his former wife's home with nine shots from a German-made pistol.

Police were questioning a 24-year-old woman in connection with the fatal shooting of Joe Carral, 17, who was shot once with a pistol as he slept in the back yard of his home.

HST Sets Up 'FEPC' For U.S. Employes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 26—President Truman set up an "FEPC" for federal government employes today and ordered a drive against racial discrimination in the armed forces.

His move, timed as it was on the eve of a message to Congress in which he is expected to demand anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and other civil rights laws, amounted to a counter-punch against southern senators. His orders came out just after those lawmakers finished setting up a formal 11-state bloc to fight civil rights legislation in the special session.

The President, by executive order, created a seven-man fair employment board, as part of the Civil Service commission, to see that all appointments, promotions and other dealings with federal civil personnel "be based solely on merit and fitness." He directed that cabinet officers take steps to insure that there shall be no discrimination because of race, color, religion or national origin.

Committee Set Up

Mr. Truman made the head of each department "personally responsible for an effective program" to that end. He directed each cabinet officer to name a fair employment officer "with full operating responsibility" to "take necessary corrective or disciplinary action in consultation with, or on the basis of delegated authority from, the head of the department."

He provided for appeals to the fair employment board of the Civil Service commission.

In the armed forces order Mr. Truman set up a committee on "equality of treatment and opportunity" in the services.

He will name later the seven officers who will make up the committee. The seven will determine what rules, procedures and practices should be altered to conform to the policy.

Mr. Truman said it is "essential that there be maintained in the armed services of the United States the highest standards of democracy, with equality of treatment and opportunity for all who serve in our country's defense."

There was no specific mention of a quick end to segregation in

Red Activity In Japan Is Feared

TOKYO, July 27. (Tuesday) (INS)—A member of Gen. MacArthur's labor division today expressed fears that Japanese Communists are attempting to use the supreme commander's prohibition of strikes by government workers as an issue to provoke Americans into shooting Japanese.

It has been alleged that for some time the Communists are searching for such an incident to support their nationalistic propaganda campaign which pictures "American imperialistic capitalists" as an enemy attempting to colonize Japan.

New Strikes Called

Two current developments in Japan's labor picture intensified the concern felt in occupation headquarters. These were the resumption of railway strikes with 3,000 conductors walking off their jobs, and the active opposition of the federated council of government and municipal workers' unions to the MacArthur-approved revision in Japan's civil service law.

The council has instructed all unions to organize campaigns against the revision and has announced plans to stage an anti-revision mass rally.

The headquarters labor official said:

"This may be a Communist

New Middle-Of-Road Cabinet Is Formed

Bidault Loses Post In French Shakeup

By KINGSBURG SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, July 26—France, emerging from her week-long governmental crisis tonight with a new middle-of-the-road cabinet, in which ex-Premier Robert Schuman took over the vital foreign ministry from George Bidault.

The veteran Bidault was given no post in the new government.

The new cabinet assumed the reins of government following its presentation to President Vincent Auriol by Premier Andre Marie, the Radical Socialist (conservative) successor to Schuman's toppled regime.

The departure of Bidault from public life marks the first time since France's liberation that the foreign ministry is in other hands.

Bidault, scholarly, seasoned diplomat had been the "strong man" of the French government, remaining in office through a succession of premiers.

He represented France for three years in top-level world conferences including the Paris peace conference, meetings of the Big Four foreign ministers and at the United Nations.

Diplomatic circles predicted that despite the Schuman-for-Bidault switch French foreign policy would be unaffected. Both are members of the centrist Popular Republican party.

Schuman, a shrewd blunt veteran of French politics is expected to continue France's battle for security guarantees in any plans for Western Europe.

Joining Schuman in the new government were three other former premiers—Socialists Paul Ramadier and Leon Blum, and Paul Reynaud, Independent.

The latter received the finance ministry. He is expected to request strong powers to regulate

UN Efforts To Set Controls On Armaments Again Fails

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, July 26—United Nations attempts to cut the world's armies and guns virtually collapsed today.

The issue, another battle between Russia and the Western Powers, is certain to go before the UN Assembly in Paris this fall. Delegates here already have given up trying to agree on atomic controls.

By a 9 to 2 vote, the working committee of the UN commission on conventional armaments decided in effect there is no use talking about regulating and reducing armed forces and armaments until Russia and the other big powers agree on a UN police force, the atom is controlled, and peace treaties are made with Germany and Japan.

Soviets Oppose Majority

The majority was made up by the United States, Britain, France, China, Colombia, Syria, Argentina, Canada and Belgium.

Russia and the Soviet Ukraine voted against the majority. The Russians charged the British, who originally called for a vote, with trying to scuttle arms reduction talks.

The full commission must approve the committee's action. The same delegates sit on the commission and the committee. Then the decision must go to the Security Council, again made up of the same countries.

Delegates meanwhile are laying plans for a full debate on the arms and atomic issue in the assembly.

World Police Needed

The resolution approved today—originally offered by Britain—listed these conditions for confidence and security necessary for an effective system of regulation and reduction of armaments and armed forces:

1. Establishment of the UN police force outlined in the UN charter. This has been stymied by continuing disagreements between Russia and the other four members of the big five—the U. S., France, China and Britain.

2. International control of atomic energy. The UN Atomic Energy commission suspended in May efforts to agree on control of the atom. Russia and the others disagree here also.

3. Conclusion of peace settlements with Germany and Japan which will prevent them from being aggressors in the future.

Tiny Radio Stations On Speeding Rocket Make Broadcasts

WASHINGTON, July 26—Tiny radio stations that automatically send back scientific information from a 3,000-mile-per-hour rocket have been successfully tested at the White Sands Proving grounds in New Mexico.

The Navy today announced the system was tried out with its Aerobee rocket which recently climbed almost 72 miles above the earth.

Known as "telemetering," the method uses instruments which respond to charges in pressure, speed, heat, light and other physical effects. These changes are turned into sound and applied to one of six radio channels transmitting to the earth.

If the rocket slows up, for instance, the tone changes and instruments down below record the difference on a graph.

Some of the 24 different things the gadgets keep check on: Cosmic ray intensity, the quality of sunlight above the atmospheric blanket, strength of the earth's magnetic field, motor performance, and flight characteristics.

Mysterious Objects, Ranging From 'Buck Rogers' Plane To Flying Discs, Back In American Skies

(By International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., July 26.—America's midsummer phenomena, flying discs, are back in the skies, accompanied this year by an added starter—a "Buck Rogers" mystery plane, flame-spewing, wingless, double-decker what's it.

This year's first flying disc report came yesterday from Washington's Yakima valley where at least five persons said they saw the object.

All said it was round, but they disagreed on its direction and speed.

Still another "flying object" caused some neck-craning in the vicinity of Asbury Park, N. J., today—and the explanation for it might possibly explain the others.

Shortly after the Asbury park reports started flooding in, officials at the U. S. Naval Air station, Lakehurst, N. J., said the object wasn't mysterious at all—it was a radiosonde, an instrument used to collect weather data.

The "Buck Rogers" plane was first reported Saturday by two Eastern Airlines pilots who said they saw the awesome craft near Montgomery, Ala.

One of the two, C. S. Chiles, armed himself with a camera today as he started from Atlanta on a flight to Houston. He hoped to see the ship again, photograph it, and convince the skeptics who doubted him and co-pilot John B. Whitted.

Three members of an Indianapolis family sided with Chiles and Whitted. Mrs. Thomas L. Sayer; her daughter, Jane, 15, and son, Johnny, said they saw the strange craft last Thursday night.

Jane said the ship glided through the sky for a time, then shot fire from two places in its hull and disappeared.

Two Atlantians came up with another mysterious "something"

New Ruling On Segregation In Oklahoma Schools Slated

NORMAN, Okla., July 26. (AP)—A new ruling on segregation in Oklahoma schools will be given next Monday afternoon.

Cleveland County District Judge T. Justin Hinshaw announced today he would rule on the application of Mrs. Ada Fisher, Chickasha, Okla., negro woman, who is seeking to enroll at the University of Oklahoma law school.

He said he also might rule on the application of two other negro women who also seek to enroll at the all-white university, claiming that graduate courses are offered for white students in the state but not for negroes

President To Make Talk To Congress

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 26 — The 80th Congress went back to work today amid loud arguments over the cost of living. Word circulated that President Truman intends to ask some price controls and rationing powers, with the accent on meat.

Mr. Truman did not announce just what he wants in the anti-inflation bill which tops a list of 11 things he will ask for in a special message to Congress at 10:30 a. m. CST tomorrow.

But he went over the list with Democratic leaders from Capitol Hill and promised the details tomorrow, with a bill in the form he wants it by Wednesday.

Price Curbs May Be Asked

Some officials said privately the administration's anti-inflation program will call for price controls on meat and other "selected" living cost items, but not for price ceilings generally.

These same sources said that rationing powers will also be sought on a "selective" basis, with meat the star item. They were not talking for publication, however, and were making no official announcements. Even if they had the correct account at the moment, it still was possible that last minute changes could be made.

Somewhat surprisingly, they said Mr. Truman will ask the Republican-controlled Congress to extend the voluntary allocation of basic materials such as steel which the legislators voted last session. However, they said he will ask compulsory allocation powers in case industry falls down on setting aside steel, etc., for makers of goods the government rates essential.

Limited Rationing Predicted

One person who saw the President today said he probably will call for a special excess profits tax "to curb profiteers."

First day outbursts from Republicans showed little desire, to put it mildly, to return to any form of controls.

The President went over his 11-point program for the special session at a White House conference of Democratic leaders from Capitol Hill. They had just left an oratorical slugfest, centered in the House, between Democrats and Republicans blaming each other

Hot Weather To Continue Today

It was a case of humidity and heat Monday that made the day seem so warm, take the weatherman's word for it. And it isn't likely to be any cooler today, humidity or not, according to the weather checkers.

The mercury hit a solid 94 during the middle of the afternoon Monday, and that coupled with a 40 to 50 per cent humidity reading, made the day appear to be a "sizzler," the Weather Bureau north of town reported.

Ordinarily, the station reported, the humidity on the Plains hangs around 20 to 30 per cent, and when it climbs to the higher points along with a bright sunny day, things get mighty hot.

No Reports Of Rain

Today the temperature is due to climb a bit higher than Monday, according to the official forecast. The skies probably will be partly cloudy and a few scattered thundershowers are expected during the afternoon and evening.

Thunderstorm activity was reported west, southwest and south of Lubbock Monday afternoon and night, but there were no reports of rain.

A Latin-American farm worker was killed by a bolt of lightning late Monday afternoon while he was working in a field near Lamesa. Electrical disturbances also were reported in the Brownfield and Seagraves area, and Levelland and Morton were on the edge of the thunderstorm "belt."

Lightning Bolt Kills Lamesa Farm Hand

LAMESA, July 26 (Special)—An unidentified Latin-American youth, about 19 years old, was killed by lightning about 5 p. m. today on the Rudolph Middleton farm, 15 miles north of Lamesa.

The youth was chopping cotton in a field along with 15 or 20 other laborers. The bolt of electricity knocked down four others, but did not injure them seriously, and none were hospitalized.

The victim was struck in the back of the head by the lightning, which tore his shoes and clothes from his body. Dr. J. E. Johnson, Lamesa physician, pronounced him dead at the scene.

The youth, weighing about 225 pounds and approximately 6 feet tall, reportedly lived in Sterling City. It was believed that he has a sister who also resides there. No other relatives are known.

The body is at Higginbotham Funeral home here. Funeral arrangements are pending notification of the sister.

Allies Seek Better Balance Of Power Before Talks With Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The western Allies, preparing with one hand for a new diplomatic approach to the German problem, apparently are working with the other to obtain a better balance of power with Russia before any conference is held.

They have said repeatedly they would not meet with Russia in an atmosphere of coercion caused by the Berlin blockade. But a conference would seem no less urgent if Russia refuses to lift the blockade beforehand. In that case, the only way to avoid being the coerced would be to balance force with force.

Allies Ban Rail Traffic

The first step toward what could become widespread economic sanctions has been taken with imposition of a ban on rail traffic between the Russian zone of Germany and the rest of western Europe, and for the same professed "technical reasons" which Russia applied to her close-down of the lines to Berlin.

One of the fundamental reasons for Russia's recent offensive in Germany has been the desire to halt the formation of a western German government and consequent Soviet disbarment from any hope of participation in the administration of the Ruhr. But the Allies have been pushing ahead and now announce complete agreement with the Germans on a government. This is believed to be responsible for a great deal of political unrest leading to violent disorders in Soviet-gripped eastern Germany.

Removal of the Russian-appointed chief of Berlin's police probably is a preventative step, designed to scotch any attempt at a Communist coup in the city.

General Clay's plan for doubling the Berlin airlift is a bitter pill for the Russians, who apparently failed to perceive the possibilities of the air corridors when they tried to blockade the city. If the Allies are flying in four or five thousand tons a day when a four-power conference is being held, the blockade will have become a "technicality" of a reverse type from any the Russians envisioned.

Allied reinforcement of military air power is going forward a pace.

Probably more important for the long run than all of these is the newly-announced Marshall plan "invasion" of the Russian sphere.

Finland and Czechoslovakia are allotted something less than $1,000,000 for goods and services of benefit to western Europe, a small thing but one that may lay the groundwork for democracy's recapture of eastern Europe. Tito is reported as saying anti-Cominform Yugoslavia is ready to start trading with the west. Poland and Czechoslovakia already have been doing so in contracts with individual nations.

(The new deal with Czechoslovakia for repair of freight cars to be used in the west would seem to be cancelled by the ban on east-west traffic through the great German rail network. However, its authors undoubtedly expect the ban to be only temporary.))

Two Japs Sentenced To Death For Beheading U. S. Airman

YOKOHAMA, July 26. (AP)—An Eighth army military commission today sentenced two former Japanese naval officers to death for beheading an American airman.

Two other naval officers were sentenced to 40 years at hard labor for their part in the war crime.

The airman was Ensign Arthur L. Thomas, who was injured seriously when his plane was shot down over Kikai island in the Ryukus in April, 1945. He was captured by the Japanese.

Death sentences were handed down to Ensign Tetsu Taniguchi, who beheaded the flier, and Lt. Comdr. Isamu Sato, who initiated and ordered the execution.

Sentences of 40 years went to Navy Capt. Satohinko Kida who approved the beheading, and to Navy Lt. Masyoshi Yoshida, who gave the order at the scene of the execution.

New Aerial Giant Crosses Nation In 10 Hours, 19 Minutes

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Staff Writer

PATUXENT NAVAL AIR STATION, Md., July 26—The Constitution, biggest airplane ever to cross the country, did it in 10 hours and 19 minutes yesterday.

The 184,000-pound giant second of two built by Lockheed aircraft as naval transports, flew a 2,600-mile course from Moffett field, Calif., at an average speed of about 260 miles an hour.

The plane had the help of tail winds ranging from 20 to 50 miles an hour at 19,000 feet. Some time was wasted dodging thunderstorms between Omaha and Chicago and flying low over Washington National airport and near-by Andrews, Md., airbase.

Washington Visit Planned

The Constitution will be flown to Washington Thursday and remain until next Monday, when it will be taken to Idlewild airport at New York for several days. After that it will be brought back here and then flown back to California for completion of tests before being accepted by the Navy.

The Navy has not yet accepted either of the giant planes. They were built at a cost of $27,000,000. The first one still is full of flight test gear. The second is equipped as a combined passenger and cargo plane, with 92 seats on the upper deck and 7,375 cubic feet of cargo space below. The lower deck can accommodate 76 passengers.

Roy Wimmer, a Lockheed engineering test pilot, described the trip as "the nicest I've ever made across the country." He said the plane handles easier than the much smaller Lockheed Constellation.

Longer Runways Used

Although normally based at Burbank, Calif., the plane took off from Moffett to take advantage of the longer runways. It carried 7,750 gallons of gasoline and used 5,200 gallons. The plane's regular tanks can hold nearly 10,000 gallons. It has an estimated range of 3,500 miles with a full payload, or about 6,300 miles without payload.

The wingspan is 189 feet, length is 156 feet and height 50 feet. The normal crew is 12.

The Navy had a crew of 22 aboard for yesterday's flight.

The Constitution, designated the XR-60, is not the nation's largest plane. It is dwarfed by the Consolidated Vultee B-36 bomber and its transport version, the XC-99, which weighs about 90,000 pounds more than the Constitution.

There appears to be little prospect of early use of the Constitution for commercial air service. In general, the airline industry is showing little interest in larger planes than those now in use or soon to go into service.

RETONGA BROUGHT HIM GRATIFYING RELIEF FROM ACHES, PAINS

Felt So Fagged-Out And Miserable He Could Get Little Sleep. Appetite Was Poor. Now Sleeps, Eats, Feels Fine. Gives Retonga Credit.

"I cannot thank Retonga enough for the gratifying relief it gave me," declares Mr. Sam Conyers, well-known resident of Pineville, Mecklenburg County, N.C. A member of the Improved Order of Red Men, he gratefully continues:

"A few years ago I found myself feeling so run-down that I couldn't stoop down and come back up without using my arms, the muscles in my legs ached and pained me so, and I had so little strength. The nature of my job as a doffer requires me to stoop often. My appetite was so poor I just nibbled at my food and I ate just to keep up what little strength I seemed to have left. My bowels were so sluggish I had to take strong laxatives, and I lost plenty of sleep because I felt so fagged-out and miserable.

"I cannot express in words just how wonderful Retonga's gratifying relief has been to me. Those terrible aches and pains have let up and I can stoop down and get up as good as a youngster now. My appetite is back and I can enjoy a good old-fashioned meal once more. I sleep soundly now and have left off strong laxatives. It's a pleasure for me to recommend Retonga to my friends and others who may be suffering as I did."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitaman B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Mark Halsey Drug Stores. Adv.

National Security Board Would Take Younger Men For Service

WASHINGTON, July 26 (INS)—A National Security Resources board staff survey recommended today that 19-year-old youths should be drafted first, despite armed services proposals to begin with 25-year-olds.

The secret staff survey was handed to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who has asked Congress for clarification as to its intent on which of the 19-through-25 year-olds should be inducted first for 21 months of military service.

Meeting Set Today

Sen. Gurney (R) S. D., immediately scheduled a full-scale meeting of his Armed Services committee for tomorrow morning to settle the undercover fight.

Behind closed doors, Selective Service, armed forces and congressional representatives will try to iron out the No. 1 headache on the draft.

The report by the NSRB staff is expected to hold considerable weight in the final decision, since the board is composed of the Secretaries of State, Treasury, Defense, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce and Labor.

The civilian board, chairmaned by Arthur M. Hill, is charged by the President with integrating industrial and civilian mobilization to assure the most effective use of the nation's manpower.

Its views are in sharp conflict with those held by the Armed Services and Hershey, who believe the draft, expected to get underway about Oct. 1, should begin with the oldest group.

Hershey said that "there are about 100,000 men a month who become 26 years of age and thus are lost to the draft."

Army officials also believe the 25-year-olds should be taken first so as not to lose this valuable manpower potential.

Attending the committee meeting tomorrow will be Gen. Hershey, Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, deputy director of army personnel and administration, and Maj. Gen. W. P. Persons, chief of the legislative and liaison division of the Army.

Rep. Andrews (R) N. Y., chairman of the House Armed Services committee, said he would meet with Defense Secretary Forrestal during the day, and also planned to discuss the problem with Sen. Gurney and Gen. Hershey.

Former Gangster Dies Refusing To Tell Police Name Of Slayer

PEORIA, Ill., July 26. (INS)—Another of the three notorious Shelton brothers was ambushed today in Peoria and died with his lips sealed by the underworld code, refusing to give police a clue to the identity of his slayer.

Victim of the daylight gun attack in front of the Parkway tavern was 50-year-old Bernie Shelton, former member of a gang which carried on a bloody feud with a rival group headed by the late Charley Birger.

Forty persons died before the feud ended with Birger's death on the gallows.

Police said Shelton was shot down apparently by a bullet from a high-powered rifle as he walked out of the tavern and started toward his car.

The only witness was A. L. Hunt, proprietor of Hunt's drive-in located near the tavern on Farmingtown road.

Shelton was conscious for a half-hour after being rushed to St. Francis hospital but refused to name his assassin. Police said the bullet penetrated the right side of his chest and emerged from the left side just below the heart.

Shelton's death was similar to that of his brother, Carl, 59, who was fatally shot last October while driving near Fairfield, Ill.

Salvation Army Leader Is Speaker At Jaycee Meeting

Capt. Vincel Larsen, local Salvation Army head who is leaving Lubbock to assume duties with his organization at Concord, N. C., delivered a brief farewell address to members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday for luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

Larsen issued a special vote of thanks to civic club members who have aided him in Salvation Army undertakings on the South Plains, and pointed out that in the field of medical care, liquor law enforcement and tax structure inequality, there remains a great deal of food for thought and action by the various civic organizations. He particularly chided those men who have repeatedly refused to serve on jury duty when so requested.

The club also learned from Curley Wilkinson, who spearheaded arrangements for the Jaycee professional fight card staged here Thursday night, that the Jaycees will probably clear from $1000 to $1350 on the fights, this amount to be used in various welfare projects.

L. D. Whiteley made announcement of the regional Jaycee meeting scheduled in Amarillo Aug. 21-22, and expressed the hope that at least 100 Lubbock Jaycees would make reservations and attend.

New members introduced were Robert R. Lacey, jr., Hugh English and Roger Rickenbrode. Curley Wilkinson presided in the absence of Horace Gearheart.

Texas has over 17,000 miles of main railroad lines, 30,000 miles of bus and truck lines and 180,000 miles of roads.

Soviets Parade Air Might Over Moscow

MOSCOW, July 26 (U.P.)—Foreign military observers said today that Russian jet fighter planes used in a mock air battle over Moscow yesterday appeared equal in performance to any seen anywhere.

The skies over Moscow throbbed in the biggest parade of air power ever seen here.

New type jets and heavy four-engined super-bombers were seen in greater numbers than ever before. Observers said it was a possible indication that the Russian strategic air arm was being strengthened.

The occasion was the annual Stalin aviation day celebration. Generalissimo Josef Stalin, Deputy Cabinet presidents G. M. Malenkov and L. P. Beria, members of the Pilitburo, foreign military observers and thousands of ordinary Soviet citizens watched the show of aerial might.

Strawberries, apricots, apples, rasberries, peaches and cherries are all members of the rose family according to the World Book Encyclopedia.

Rep. Worley's Wife Credited With Saving Woman's Life

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Mrs. Ann Spivy Worley, wife of Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock, Texas, was acclaimed a hero today after extinguishing flames which enveloped a neighbor woman yesterday at nearby Arlington, Va.

Mrs. Worley was sitting in her yard with her children when she heard an explosion in a nearby apartment, and then screams. The Texas woman ran to the scene and saw Mrs. Esther Williams, 33, standing dazed, her clothes afire, inside the apartment where the explosion occurred.

"I grabbed up some blankets and began to smother the flames out," said Mrs. Worley. She helped others lead the woman out of the apartment. Mrs. Williams was critically injured and burned.

Fliers Make Emergency Landing In Cemetery, Neither Are Hurt

SAN ANTONIO, July 26. (AP)—Two youthful Galveston fliers who ran out of gasoline just short of Stinson field, their destination, landed unhurt in an adjacent cemetery with slight damage to their light plane this morning.

Ross E. Bibey, the pilot, said that his motor quit at 5,000 feet and that he tried to stretch his glide into the airport. The ship lost its undercarriage after striking a tree. Bibey and his passenger, James C. Hartley, said they were on a training flight from Texas City.

IDEAS TOO MODERN

CHICAGO, (U.P.) — William W. Birchman of Morton Grove wanted to impress his wife with his modern ideas. He hired a small plane and stunted it over their home. His old-fashioned neighbors complained he had violated a new law against reckless flying. He was fined $50.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

SERENITY may indicate financial wealth or intellectual poverty.

WE have yet to meet a woman who didn't welcome an invitation to take off her shoes. Why do we accept such torture?

It does no good to tell some women to buy proper sizes. They like the looks of their feet in shoes too small and are willing to suffer toddling torture.

On the other hand, most business women buy shoes to fit their feet, or so it seems to us. When one stands all day or walks a lot, the size of the shoes does not matter nearly so much as the comfort of the feet.

PATIENCE is a great virtue, but when the thermometer passes 90 it is no longer to be expected.

ON SUNBATHING

SUN bathing can be downright dangerous.

The risks you run for the sake of acquiring that popular saddle-brown look, according to an article, "The Truth About Suntan," in a current national weekly, range from increased hair growth on arms and legs to skin cancer and even death in the case of a deep-enough sunburn over a large enough area.

The sun has health giving qualities, all right, and medicine has used it to treat wounds and some types of tuberculosis, but if you get enough Vitamin D in your diet, you need never encounter the sun to be perfectly healthy.

WE have been harping on this topic from time to time this summer, but having seen the damage that the sun has done to friends' faces, arms and legs, we feel it is a cause worth crusading for. Many people who live indoors all year long go wild over the sun at vacation time.

Be warned that:

Direct sun ages the skin.

Too much of it can cause skin blotches.

The degree of risk increases from dark-brunettes to light-brunettes to blondes to red-heads.

The sun can burn even through light-weight, light-colored clothing.

TO reduce the risk of over exposure, you are advised:

Take it easy; 15 minutes is enough on the first visit to the beach or for sun bath in the back yard.

Suntan oils, creams and lotions help to filter out the dangerous ultraviolet rays.

Efficient hat protection is essential for fair persons and those who know their skins are sensitive.

Wear dark glasses in bright sunlight, particularly when physical surroundings are well-adapted to reflect the intense blaze from below, as on white sand or snow or water.

Education Improved, But More Discipline Is Claimed Needed

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 26—Here in the United States six out of 10 people think Junior and Sis are getting a better schooling than their father and mother did. People in three British Commonwealth nations — England, Canada and Australia—have an even stronger feeling that education is better today than when they went to school.

But, in contrast to the optimism of English-speaking peoples the citizens of the Scandinavian countries, and Holland, Italy and France are more inclined to be pessimistic about the progress made by their educational systems. This is particularly true of France where half the population thinks the quality of education has declined since they were students.

The survey was conducted simultaneously in the eleven nations, all using this question:

"Do you think children today are being educated better or worse than you were?"

The comparative results:

	Better	Worse	Same	No Op.
Canada	74%	12%	10%	4%
Australia	78	9	9	4
Britain	64	19	11	6
U. S. A.	59	26	10	5
Finland	54	21	17	8
Norway	44	30	18	10
Sweden	26	37	29	8
Denmark	21	45	21	13
Italy	20	40	23	17
France	12	50	27	11
Holland	10	46	27	17

In each nation the most universal complaint about present day education is the lack of discipline. This criticism covers many parental dissatisfactions, such as "too much freedom," "should be taught better manners," "receive no training in assuming responsibility," and "character traits are neglected."

Educators here and abroad probably would argue that many of these complaints should be aimed at the home as well as at the school, that parents have just as big a job to do in child training as teachers. Many of the people surveyed likewise put the major blame for poor discipline on the fathers and mothers themselves.

Comments about the lack of discipline training ran high in all countries, higher than any specific criticism of the subjects taught, although this point also was raised by many people. Americans, when asked to name their main criticism of education today, follow the pattern noticeable in all the countries. In order of frequency mentioned these are the complaints they registered:

1. Lack of discipline, lack of fundamental character training.
2. Criticism of subjects taught and their presentation.
3. Criticism of parents for lack of interest and control.
4. Too many extracurricular activities.
5. Schools inadequate and overcrowded, old textbooks, etc.
6. Criticism of teachers, qualifications, shortages, competency, etc.
7. Teachers underpaid.

It is interesting to note that no large differences were found in the United States in the views of voters who had a higher formal education and of those whose education stopped at grammar or high school.

George Bernard Shaw Spends 92nd Birthday Working On Book

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, England, July 26. (U.P.)—George Bernard Shaw spent his 92nd birthday at work on a new book today but not even his housekeeper knew what he was writing about.

Shaw's housekeeper, Mrs. Alice Laden, said the aged Shaw gave strict orders that newsmen were not to be admitted beyond the front gate and especially were not to disturb him in the garden.

"He's writing a new book," she said. "That's why he doesn't want to be bothered. I don't know if it's politics, like his last book, or a novel. He doesn't say and I wouldn't dare ask him."

Legion 'A' Nine Swamps Clarendon, 23 To 0, In Playoff Tilt

Brown, Cook Pace Lubbock Attack; Fowler Mound Star

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

PLAINVIEW, July 26 — Lubbock's championship-bound American Legion junior baseball nine swamped the Clarendon District 1 representatives, 23-0, here this afternoon to cop the second playoff series tilt and win the bi-district diamond championship.

The impressive triumph, following the 8-2 victory in the initial playoff tussle Thursday night at Memphis, also gave the Lubbock "A" team the right to compete against three other West Texas bi-district champions in the Area 1 tournament here Aug. 5-7. Winner of the area meet will battle for the state crown at Paris later in the month.

Despite the high score and numerous Clarendon errors late in the game, the Hub city boys turned in their best performance of the season in notching the win. Five Lubbock hurlers, headed by starter Rulen Fowler, pitched near-perfect ball in blanking the Panhandle squad and the Lubbock fielding left nothing to be desired.

Got 15 Safeties

The Lubbock nine unleashed one of its most powerful hit barrages at the plate, blasting out 15 safeties—including three home runs and a triple. Bob Brown, flashy shortstop, slammed out a homer and two singles to pace the sluggers, although Catcher Jack Cook pressed him for spotlight honors with three bingles in three official times at bat. Jack Whitehead, who was recently shifted to the "hot corner," connected for two singles and veteran Dorrance Guy smashed out a homer and a triple.

Brown, Lubbock lead-off batter, wasted little time in putting the South Plains crew into the lead. Brown looked at the first pitch in the bottom half of the first inning, then clouted the second offering sharply down the first base line and back of the right fielder. While the fielder was chasing the ball far out into the "rough" — there were no retaining fences—Brown circled the bases and went home standing up.

Ten Runs In Fourth

The Lubbock nine pushed two more tallies across in the second frame, as Fowler singled home Cook and Jimmy Richards, then added two more runs in the third. Charles Galey opened the third stanza offensive with a walk, Whitehead drew a free pass and both scored on Cook's second bingle.

A 10-run Lubbock barrage in the fourth clinched the important triumph. Big Jim Wilson, who had relieved Fowler on the mound, led off with a single, then Brown drew a base on balls. Jesse Fullerton, first-sacker who swings from the southpaw side of the plate, lifted a four-baser into deep center, then Guy blasted a long homer deep into left. Galey grounded out, but Whitehead walked, Garnett Reeves singled and Cook and Richards drew bases on balls to set the stage for another onslaught.

Eight Runs In Sixth

Wilson was given a walk in his second time up in the inning to force in a run, then Brown successfully sacrificed to put across another tally. Fullerton grounded out to first, but Guy cleared the base paths with a triple.

Lubbock exploded for eight runs in the sixth to turn the setto into a rout.

The game was the last of the season for the Lubbock youngsters under the direction of Coach Fred Taylor, since the Lubbock High mentor will leave within a few days for the annual coaching school at Abilene. Fall grid training will be started just a week after the close of the school.

TRANSFERRED TO BOSOX

CHICAGO, July 26. (INS) — The transfer of pitcher Earl Caldwell to the Boston Red Sox on waiver claims was announced today by the Chicago White Sox. Caldwell, 31, appeared in 23 games for the White Sox this season, winning one and losing five.

Telford Gains City Open Title

The long drives and accurate approach combined to give Lubbock's Lindsay Telford a decisive 12 and 11 victory over Raymond Marshall in the finals of the championship flight of the City Open golf tournament Sunday at the Meadowbrook Publinx course. The smooth shooting Telford carded a brilliant six under par for the 25 holes that made him the new champion.

Telford took the lead early in the match and then blazed down the back nine to take an eight-up advantage over Marshall at the 18 hole mark. Marshall had some difficulty with his irons as Telford went on to chalk up a four under par 67 for the first round, while the loser carded a 75.

When the second 18 came up, Telford came through on the first hole with a birdie to nine-up, but Marshall halved No. 2 with a par tally. Still unable to use his driving power effectively Marshall was wide of the green on No. 3, and then was long with his aproach shot. Telford came on the green in two strokes and holed out with two putts to post a 10-up lead.

Both linksmen were wide to the right on their drives to No. 4 hole, but were on the green on their second shots and halved the hole with two-putts. Telford made it 11-up on No. 5 hole when Marshall topped a short approach shot and took three to roll up on the green. Telford then holed out with four strokes for the decision.

Marshall still trying desperately, staved off disaster for the moment by halving the No. 6 hole, but the end came finally on the No. 7. Both Telford and Marshall were short on their drives. Then both dropped onto the green in two strokes. Marshall was wide on a 7 foot putt and Telford dropped the ball in the hole with a four-fcoter, to clinch the City Open championship crown, 12 and 11.

Trophies and other prizes will be presented Tuesday noon at the Optimist Club luncheon, where all the flight winners will be guests.

Giants Trounce Brooklyn, 13-4

BROOKLYN, N.Y., July 26. (AP) —Brooklyn's prodigal son, Leo Durocher, returned to Ebbets field tonight and led the New York Giants to a decisive 13-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, whom he managed for nine years until his transfer across the river 10 days ago. The Giant victory, only the fifth in 13 meetings with the Dodgers this season, sent a partisan Brooklyn crowd of 33,932 fans home utterly chagrined. The noisy, rabid Brooklyn faithful had come prepared to boo their former idol and taunt their hated interborough rivals.

Instead they sat in glum silence through most of the one-sided game as the Giants hammered five pitchers for 17 hits to make Durocher's first game at Ebbets field in an enemy uniform a great success.

The Giants' collection of base hits included home runs by Johnny Mize and Bobby Thomson, triples by Willard Marshall and Billy Rigney and doubles by Whitey Lockman and Buddy Kerr. Every Giant in the starting lineup got at least one hit, and drove in at least one run. All scored except Kerr.

The defeat dropped the Dodgers into third place, half a game behind the idle St. Louis Cardinals and five and a half behind the league leading Boston Braves. The triumph left the Giants still in fifth place, half a game behind the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Legion 'B' To Meet Plainview Today

Lubbock's American Legion "B" squad will open the final week of the 1948 diamond schedule at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Chapman field, when they tangle with the dangerous Plainview Legion junior baseball nine in an exhibition tilt.

The Lubbock team finished the regular season at the top of the North half, District 2 title chase, but was not allowed to compete in the district tourney since the boys were not certified to state Legion officials.

Either Mack Taylor or Morris (Moe) Turner will start on the mound for Lubbock, with Jackie Howton hurling for the Plainview team.

Thomas-Sunbeamers Win A. S. A. Tourney

Baldridge Second; Culligan's Third

The Thomas-Sunbeamers made it 11 victories in a row over Baldridge Bakery by winning last night 6-1, the victory also crowning the victors champions of the A.S.A. softball tournament at Jumbo Webster Field.

Baldridge went into the finals on a 7-1 victory over Culligan's Soft Water nine from Plainview, Loy Hubbard jamming a three-hit hurling job at the losers.

Immediately after the championship game, Jaycee Barney Stagner, tourney director, presented Baldridge Manager Earl Ince with the runner-up trophy and individual silver softball trophies to each member of the team. The championship trophy was presented to Manager Blackie Hilliard and individual gold softball tropies to each member of the winning nine.

Won Opener In Second

Baldridge won the opener from Culligan in the second inning, after each team had scored once in the first, Bob Bogle's homer for Culligans offsetting two singles and an error good for one run by Baldridge.

Joe Overbeck led off the second with a single to left, but Victor Ray fanned. Darrell Highley jammed a ball through the second baseman that sent Overbeck to third and he and Highley scored on Hubbard's double to center.

Culligans was able to pick up only one hit off Hubbard after the first, while the Lubbock nine scored runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth to clinch the contest.

Second Game Different

The second game was a different story, with Thomas-Sunbeamers going into a 2-0 lead in the first inning. James Abbott walked and went to second on Charley Reynolds' attempted sacrifice on which the first baseman's error gave him life. Both men scored when Roy Butler clouted a triple into deep leftfield.

Baldridge came back with a single run in the second on two hits, a single by Jimmy Joe Riege starting the frame. He went to second on an error by the shortstop and scored on Overbeck's single to center. After that it was all over but the shouting.

Pampa Defeats Loboes, 9 To 4

LAMESA, July 26 (Special)— Lefty Avon Driggers notched his fourteenth mound win of the season here tonight as he hurled the Pampa Oilers to a 9-4 victory over the Lamesa Loboes.

Driggers, one of the top pitchers of the West Texas-New Mexico loop, gave up five hits and four runs until he was relieved in the seventh frame, but Roy Parker protected the lead with a one-hit performance for the final three stanzas.

The Lamesans overcame an early Pampa lead with a three-run outburst in the fourth inning, but the Oilers rallied in the sixth to push across four runs and clinch the win.

Abilene Takes Third From Hubs

ABILENE, July 26 (Special)— Abilene's surging Blue Sox, aided by a break from the weatherman, pounded out a 7-2 victory over Lubbock's Hubbers here tonight in a game halted mid-way in the fifth inning by rain. The win was the third straight for the Sox over the Lubbock nine.

John Kelly, rookie left-hander, gained credit for the mound victory, scattering three Hubber safeties and striking out three batters. Lefty Fred Groth, lanky newcomer who was making his first start in Hub uniform, was charged with the defeat.

The Hubbers opened the scoring in the top of the second frame to take a brief lead over the home nine. Frank McAlexander led off with a walk, Charlie Scarborough sacrificed him to second and Red Ramsey drew a free pass to first. Groth watched four balls go by to fill the bases, but Jackie Wilcox hit to the third-sacker, who threw McAlexander out at home.

Gene Hixson knocked a single into deep center field to score Ramsey and Groth, but Sullivan walked and Virgil Richardson flied out to put out the fire.

Abilnee pushed one run across in the home half of the second as Manager Dixie Davis was hit by a pitch, took second on a passed ball, gained third on a wild pitch and tallied on Len Glica's bingle.

The Blue Sox clinched the victory in the wild third stanza. Rocky Stone opened the frame with a walk, Frank Means drew a base on balls and Ed Stathos was safe on a fielder's choice—Means being forced out at second. But Wilcox, in an effort to turn in a double play, threw wide to first and Stone went all the way home on the error.

Art Bowland was hit by another of Groth's pitches and Ernie Falappino beat out an infield hit to put the Hubs back into a hole. Davis struck out, then Glica singled into left field to score Stathos and Bowland. Len Neal kept the rally rolling by doubling to right, scoring Falappino, and Kelly's grounder was boosted by Groth. Glica tallied a run on the miscue and Neal came in on another wild pitch by the erratic Groth.

After Groth had run the count on Stone to three and one, little Royce Mills came in to halt the attack. Mills finished the free pass to Stone, but forced Means to fly out.

Kelly set the Hubbers down in order in the fourth and fifth frames, then rain washed out remaining Lubbock hopes for a win.

Gus Takes Beating In 15 Rounder

Mills Decisions Gus Lesnevich In London

By BOB CONSIDINE

LONDON, July 26 (INS)—Freddie Mills, who was considered a bum even in the barren wastes of British boxing, won the light-heavyweight championship of the world by decision tonight from Gus Lesnevich, of Cliffside Park, N. J.

Mills had Lesnevich on the brink of a knockout when he floored him for counts of nine twice in the tenth round of their 15-round title go at White City stadium. The tired Lesnevich fought back gamely against his rugged, unorthodox opponent, but there was no hope after the tremendous battering he received in that round.

The deciding round of the fight, according to wing commander Teddy Waltham, the referee, was the fifteenth, in which the rugged Briton gave the tired American a boxing lesson.

For a long period, the fight often was so dull that usually restrained British fans broke into a rhythmic clapping. The referee twice stopped the match to demand more action from the battlers.

Lesnevich, who barely made the weight at 2 p. m., appeared to be tired and drawn when he came out in the first round. Mills, who fights like a man trying to free himself from heavy bonds, cut both of the American's eyes in the first minute of the round.

Lesnevich bled throughout the second round. He did a little better and obviously was the better boxer in the third round, although his punches barely caused the Englishman to bat his bushy eyebrows.

The champion was ridiculously timid in the fourth and fifth, apparently fearful of making an opening which would cause his blood to run anew.

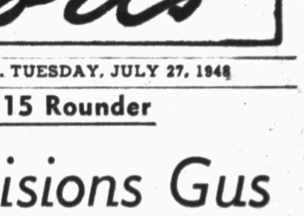

Gus won the ninth round with stiff right crosses and left hooks. Before the start of the tenth, the referee visited both corners and said:

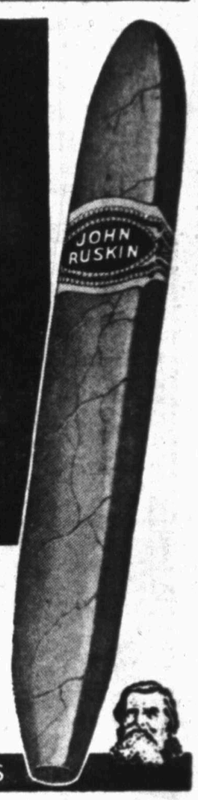

"Boys, you seem to forget that this is a championship match."

Apparently only Mills was listening. He nailed Lesnevich with three good left hooks. The Jerseyite fell to the mat with a heavy crash. He was up at the count of nine, bleeding again from both eyes. Mills came out of a crouch to throw a ton of leather from all directions at the grizzled American.

Gus sagged to the floor again in his own corner. Lesnevich still was on his knees at the count of nine, but got up before the timekeeper could yell "Ten!"

It was a confident Mills who came out for the eleventh round. He had Gus groggy again and appeared to be on the verge of victory in the twelfth when Gus suddenly nailed him with a straight right that turned the tide of battle until the middle of the fourteenth round. At that stage, the superior condition and better punching ability of Mills asserted itself again.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Lubbock's American Legion "A" team chalked up the fifth consecutive bi-district diamond championship for a Hub city team by drubbing Clarendon, 23-0, Monday afternoon at Plainview and, even against admittedly mediocre competition, played a very good brand of ball. The boys plastered base knocks all over the diamond, came up with some brilliant fielding plays and worked together with all the polish of a championship nine. As for the Lubbock hurling, it can be safely reported that the Hub city mound staff is one of the best in the state. Need more be said?

Just in case some sports fans are still skeptical of the Lubbock nine's ability, they will have a chance to see the boys in action here Aug. 5-7 in the Area 1 tournament at Rosenthal field. The other teams in the meet, Wichita Falls, Lamesa and El Paso, have good ball clubs and will be battling for one of the four spots in the state tournament which will be held later at Paris, Texas. The Lamesa Legion nine actually defeated the Hub city youngsters in an early season game, while the Wichita Falls boys put up one of the toughest fights of the season before losing to the South Plains representatives. Little is known of the El Pasoans, but any team drawn from a major population area is certain to boast its share of good pitchers and fly-chasers.

Fred Taylor, Lubbock mentor, was in uniform with the team for the last time this year during the Clarendon tilt. Taylor will leave Sunday with C. R. (Pat) Pattison, Lubbock High athletic director and grid coach, for the coaching school at Abilene. Just a week after the close of the grid clinic the mentors will be busy with the opening of fall football drills, so Taylor will not have an opportunity to continue to direct the nine.

The Lubbock squad members, who rate Coach Taylor as "tops" in ability and friendliness, presented the mentor with an autographed ball at the close of the final bi-district tussle. All of the boys proudly signed their names on the new ball, with plenty of remarks like, "I guess this is the way Williams does it," floating around. The boys then told Taylor to be sure and be present for their Thursday afternoon practice session, since they had a "surprise" in store for him.

H. J. McCabe, local Legion commander and one of the directors of the Legion baseball program, announced following the game that a six-man "board of strategy" would take over as managers for the remainder of the season. McCabe and H. D. Waller will actually control the reins, but they will be assisted by J. H. Galey, Sled Allen, Roy Morris and John King. All of the men have had baseball experience and will try to continue the job so successfully started by Taylor.

Yanks Smash Tigers, 16-4 In Kid Game

Donald Dunnigan hurled the Pee Wee League Yankees to a 16 to 4 win over the Tigers at the Lubbock Boys Club Monday afternoon. The Yankees got across only one hit in the first inning to start the ball rolling when Glen Davis hit a single to leftfield.

For the losing, Tiger nine Charles Moore smashed out two singles in four, and hurled for five innings. He struck out thirteen men.

In the Junior loop, the Jaycee nine were paced by Carroll Walker for an 8 to 7 win over the Exchange Club. Walker allowed fifteen hits and struck out ten batters.

Morgan Hall batted in the winning run in the seventh with a single. It was in the seventh also that the Jaycee's scored six of their runs. For the losers, Duane Ramphy batted out two doubles and a triple in four and Bobby Craig got two singles and a double in four times up.

The Cardinals will meet the Dodgers this afternoon in the Pee Wee League, and the ABC's and the Methodist Men will tangle in a second affair.

FIRST BAPTIST WIN

Bill Cope hurled the First Baptist nine to a narrow 7-6 victory over the Asbury team in a City Softball league tilt Monday afternoon.

Yank Olympic Athletes Have Tough Preliminary Workout

Stanish Performs Best High Jump

LONDON, July 26 (INS)—America's Olympic athletes reveled in a heat wave today and went through a tough workout devoted mainly to the practice of starts by the sprinters tuning up for the 1948 games starting Thursday.

Dean Cromwell, head coach of the American track and field forces, took off his coat and rolled up his sleeves to supervise the session and expressed himself as "entirely pleased" when it was over.

Americans, who have shivered through a London cold spell, could see little cause for the alarm shown by the headline writers as the mercury climbed into the 80's and were obviously happy to get a touch of summer for a change.

A cozy atmosphere was given the American workout by Cromwell, who invited Jamaica's Herb McKenley, Panama's Lloyd Labeach, and South Africa's Denis Shore to take part in the activities at the Uxbridge training camp.

Americans In Good Shape

Cromwell said there is "little need of further hard work and from now on it will be mainly a matter of keeping tuned up to a competitive pitch."

A few minor injuries showed up among the Americans, but caused no alarm. Willie Steele and Herb Douglas, the broad-jumpers, complained of knee pains, and Bill Albans, hop-step-and-jumper, had a bruised heel. All will be ready by Friday when Olympic competition gets under way after the ceremonial opening Thursday.

Stanish Jumps Six Feet

One of the day's best workout performances was turned in by George Stanish, who jumped six feet, nine inches. He said he will keep right on working through the rest of the week.

The American team appears to be ready to go all up and down the line, and the British have only plaudits for Cromwell's training methods, although as yet untested in the present Olympics.

The veteran American coach obviously has his athletes close to perfect, discounting the few minor ailments which must be regarded as a part of such activities.

The American boys — stripped down to shorts and enjoying the hot weather—looked at their best in the impromptu trials against competitors who worked with them.

Europe's Royalty Arrives

The conditioning included a 300-meter dash in which Cliff Bourland, of the Los Angeles AC, shaded Barney Ewell, the 31-year-old grandpop of the sprinters.

While the athletes went briskly about their business of getting into shape—or holding their edge—royalty began to arrive from all over Europe. Prince and Princess Axel of Denmark and Prince Bernhard of the Netherland are among latest arrivals.

They and other crowned heads of Europe will be present Thursday when the Olympic flame is lighted and King George VI launches the event before an expected crowd of nearly 90,000.

Apaches Come From Behind To Down Mohawks In Gang Tilt

The Apaches came from behind Monday afternoon to win their first game of the season with a slim 15 to 14 victory over the Mohawks.

The Mohawks were ahead up to the fifth inning when the Mohawk pitcher, Rex Phillips walked four men with three hits for an Apache uprising. The Apaches then took the lead with a 12 to 10 score and rolled on to stay one ahead and clinch the game.

FIRST METHODISTS GAIN WIN

First Methodist church softball nine, paced by the twirling of Chuck Dunnam, drubbed Levine's in a Monday afternoon City loop tussle, 9-6.

Record Church Membership Set

NEW YORK, July 26. (AP)—Church membership in the United States is reported at an all-time high—a total of 77,386,188 persons last year, or 53 per cent of the nation's population.

The Christian Herald's annual report, which gave the total yesterday, said membership of Protestant, Catholic, Jewish and other faiths increased 3,713,006 over 1946.

60 Per Cent Protestant

In 1890, the magazine said, 22 per cent of the population were church members.

Of the present total, 46,149,676, or slightly more than 60 per cent, were listed as members of the nation's 223 Protestant denominations; 25,286,178 are Roman Catholics, representing more than 33 per cent of the total and 4,641,000, or six per cent, are members of Jewish congregations. These groups represent 99 per cent of the country's church membership.

The Christian Herald said that the Protestant denominations gained 2.6 per cent from 1946 to 1947, while the Roman Catholics gained 3.5 per cent.

The breakdown of the Protestant figure showed that 72 per cent of these churches members are concentrated in 11 denominations with a membership totalling 33,587,573.

The magazine said the Jewish congregations had not supplied up-to-date figures, and the Christian Scientists had supplied none. It commented also that "the most carefully assembled statistics fall shy of complete accuracy."

Strange Objects

which may have been the "Buck Rogers" thing. J. V. Morris and Lindsay Falls said they saw "an unusually bright light" which sped overhead. The two were fox hunting on the Yellow river early Saturday when the light appeared.

A farmer, Peter Kroum was first to report Washington's flying discs. He said he saw a "moon-sized" object traveling west over Punkin Center. Kroum told a state patrolman about it. The patrolman reported later he'd seen the same thing.

A "globe" was reported seen by the Yakima CAA control tower going west against the wind at two times during the day. Two CAA men said they saw the object.

"A white glass object" was seen by Albert Tanner in Seattle. Tanner said it was traveling south at "at least 800 miles an hour."

In Portland, Ore., W. B. Apple saw a "big round bright object going west suddenly turn southwest in an awful hurry." He added that it didn't look like an airplane.

SHIP FROM OUTER SPACE IS THEORY OF ONE MAN

LOS ANGELES, July 26. (INS)—A student of mysterious occurrences suggested in all seriousness today that the strange craft reported over Alabama might have been a space ship from another planet.

The suggestion came from R. DeWitt Miller, author of the book, "Forgotten Mysteries." He said:

"It doesn't seem reasonable that the Army would allow top-drawer secret weapons to wander over the country fouling up commercial airline routes.

"Our scientists inform us that we may soon build space rockets. So why wouldn't beings of some other world beat us to it?

"The things in the sky may be from other dimensions of time and space. This seems fantastic, but science has recently discovered startling facts about the possibility of unknown dimensions."

By "things in the sky" Miller referred also to accounts of flying saucers. With regard to them, he said:

"Anyone who honestly studies the evidence must find a hard core of facts which cannot be explained away by blaming the things on weather balloons, meteorites or bad whisky."

Meanwhile, Los Angeles became one of the areas reporting strange objects in the skies. Mrs. Peter Mueller said she saw a "huge aluminum ball" swishing over the city last Wednesday, but said she said nothing about it for fear of being ridiculed.

She said: "It turned red as it disappeared at great speed into the north."

Nine Negroes Sue Two Railroad Firms For $180,000 Damages

LOS ANGELES, July 26. (INS)—The Southern Pacific railway and the Texas and Pacific railway today were sued in federal court for $180,000 damages by nine negroes who charged that they were discriminated against because of their race.

The nine—two men and seven women—stated in their suit that they had purchased reserved deluxe seats on the Southern Pacific train, "The Sunset."

They charged that at El Paso they were abruptly removed from the "comfortable, well-lighted and air-conditioned car" to a third class car.

Each of the plaintiffs asked for $10,000 actual damages for "loss of comfort, humiliation and discontent" and $10,000 punitive damages.

Former Pullman Company Executive Dies In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 26. (AP)—Louis S. Hungerford, 87, former vice-president of the Pullman company and Pullman Incorporated, died today.

A native of Clockville, N. Y., he had varied railroading experience before he joined Pullman in 1886. His formal retirement was announced in May of this year.

Hungerford began his railroad career in Laredo, Texas, as a young man. At that time the Texas Mexican railway between Laredo and Corpus Christi, was under construction.

He later served as chairman of the board of directors of the Pullman company and until a few years ago he had served as vice-president of the company.

Two Portland Men Ponder Drawbacks Of Being Stubborn

PORTLAND, Ore., July 26 (INS)—Two Portland men had plenty of time tonight to meditate on the drawbacks of being stubborn.

The pair got their pictures in the paper when they created a 20-minute traffic jam on one of the busiest streets in downtown Portland.

E. A. Redford, a street car motorman, refused to back up and let Paul B. Cunningham, a salesman, back into a parking space. Cunningham refused to drive ahead to let the street car by, A policeman charged them both with obstructing traffic.

Redford lost his job a day later because of the incident. Today he forfeited $5 bail rather than appear in municipal court.

Cunningham was given a $5 suspended fine and arrested for police at Salem, Ore. Authorities said he is wanted there on a bad check charge. The salesman told reporters that he had written "a $15 check that bounced."

A bank official had recognized him from the newspaper picture.

ting the Berlin police, regardless of their post or position." Ironically, his letter instructed Frau Schroeder to tell Markgraf to fire Stum.

An official British statement said Kotikov went "entirely beyond his powers" in ordering the dismissal of Stum. It said he "has no power to dismiss a leading city-wide official without the consent of, and in consultation with, the other commandants."

New Moves Plans

In London, meanwhile, plans for new diplomatic moves got under way as British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin called in the special United States team of Russian experts. Meeting with Bevin were State Department Counsellor Charles E. Bohlen, Ambassador to Britain Lewis W. Douglas and Ambassador to Russia W. Bedell Smith.

The ban on trains to and from the Soviet zone was ordered by Generals Lucius D. Clay and Sir Brian Robertson, the American and British occupation commanders. It was effective at once.

Rail Shipments Halted

A British spokesman said all central European railway routes between the Benelux countries and the Soviet zone, as well as the more southwesterly rail lines across Bizonia to Italy and Switzerland are affected by the order.

Coupled with the British-American suspension of Ruhr steel and coal shipments to the Soviet zone after the Russians started the blockade, restrictions on rail traffic are bound to have serious effects on eastern Germany, the informant said.

Most interzonal traffic in Germany has been interrupted by Russian action, the Soviets saying that "technical difficulties" prohibited the movement of trains from western zone areas.

German Government Planned

However a number of freight trains have been moving into and through the British, American and French zones carrying manufactured and raw material products from the Russian zone.

The new ban means that trains carrying goods from the Soviet zone to Switzerland, or to Bremen for shipment to other countries, no longer can travel through western Germany. The same ban applies to traffic from other countries bound for the Soviet zone.

Robert Murphy, political adviser to Gen. Clay, said after the meeting of military governors and German leaders in Frankfurt that "we are all set." The agreement on setting up a western German government leaves the door open for further participation by the Russian zone.

Reds Protest Dismissal

The constitution to be drafted by the assembly will be submitted to the German people in a referendum, as suggested by the military governors. The governors promised, however, that they would place before the Allied governments the German leaders' objection to a referendum.

The dismissal of the police chief was announced by Dr. Ferdinand Friedensburg, deputy mayor of Berlin. He said Markgraf had been ordered to turn over his office to his assistant.

There was doubt, however, that the government could make the dismissal stick. The Russians tonight advised Friedensburg that he "exceeded his powers" in dismissing the police chief. Friedensburg, himself a former Berlin police chief, replied that he had done his duty and asked for an opportunity to set forth his views to Russian authorities. They agreed to such a discussion.

New Airport Planned

Markgraf, an ex-German war hero captured by the Russians at Stalingrad, frequently has been criticized by non-Communists. Socialists have charged that 5,413 Berliners have disappeared under his regime, victims of political kidnapings.

The airlift maintained by the U. S. Air Forces and the British Royal Air force maintained a steady pace meanwhile in flying food and supplies to beleagered Berlin.

U. S. Army technicians began surveying and mapping a new airport in the French sector of the city to maintain and increase the airlift.

The air force headquarters at Wiesbaden announced the names of two American fliers killed in a C-47 transport plane crash here Saturday.

First Lieut. Charles H. King of Britton, S. Dakota, and First Lieut. Robert W. Stuber of Arlington, Calif., were killed in what was the second fatal accident in the month-old airlift.

State Senate Race

Potts, of Levelland, Hockley county chairman showed: Parrish, 1,054; Brock, 1,078; Corbin, 1,054, and Brummet, 498. The tabulations as reported from two other sources credited Parrish with 1,104 with change in the counts for the other contenders.

Potts announced the returns will be canvassed at 10 a. m. today to declare the official figures.

Parrish Margin Rises

The only apparent uncertainty as to Parrish entering the runoff as Corbin's opponent was the question as to whether Brock might demand recounts or might contest. Efforts to contact him to ask his plans were unsuccessful.

On the basis of unofficial tabulations, Corbin carried nine of the 24 counties in the district, Parrish led in seven, Brummett in five, Brock in two, with one—Hockley—uncertain. If an error has been made in Hockley county tabulations, it would be added to those carried by Parrish. On the basis of Monday's count, Brock led.

How They Fared

Corbin is credited with carrying Andrews, Cochran, Dawson, Gaines, Garza, Howard, Martin, Terry and Yoakum counties.

Parrish led in Borden, Cottle, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Lynn and Stonewall. Brummet carried Bailey, Dickens, Kent, King and Motley, and Brock in Lamb and Lubbock.

Band Leader Averts Charges In Dispute With His Mother

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26. (AP)—Hollywood band leader Don Kaye staved off criminal charges of child theft here today in a bitter courtroom battle against his own mother.

He also kept at least temporary custody of his two young sons, Freddie, 10, and Phillip, 5.

His victory in a habeas corpus action saved Kaye and his second wife from extradition to Indiana on the charges brought by Kaye's mother, Mrs. Irvin J. Metzgar, 60, of Angola, Ind. Kaye was arrested in Tulsa last month.

Child theft in Indiana carries up to 14 years in prison.

District Judge Alberg C. Hunt ruled the charges were not made in good faith because Mrs. Metzgar testified she was willing to drop the criminal prosecution if she got the children back.

The boys are Kaye's sons by his first wife, who died five years ago. His second wife, here with him, is the daughter of George E. Berger, a Tulsa, Okla., oil man.

Mrs. Metzgar kept the children ever since the first Mrs. Kaye died.

Solons To Hear President Today

for the cost of living and the lack of housing.

The 11 things Mr. Truman will ask include, besides the anti-inflation bill:

Southern Solons Meet

The Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill now lodged in the House Rules committee, federal aid to education, an increase in the minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour, expansion of social security, adjustment of federal pay scales, the anti-poll tax bill and the anti-lynch bill, revision of the displaced persons act, approval of a $65,000,000 housing loan for the United Nations, ratification of the international wheat agreement, and $56,000,000 for power and reclamation projects.

GOP Holds Policy Meet

Senator Barkley, (D-Ky), the vice presidential candidate on the Truman ticket, said after the White House conference that Congress could act on the President's program "in three to five weeks if it gets busy and does the job."

Senate Republican leaders had an afternoon policy meeting of their own. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman, said after the two-hour meeting: "We decided to take no action and make no decision until we have heard the President's message."

Taft said the Republicans "talked over everything," including possible price control, housing, civil rights and many other subjects.

Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif) announced that supporters of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill are going to try again to take it away from the House Rules committee and get action on the floor. This requires a petition signed by 218 members; about 150 have signed one that circulated in the last session.

Mr. Truman's message tomorrow is to be broadcast over all networks.

The Senate stayed in session today for only 11 minutes. But one after another of the House members of what President Truman calls one of the "worst" congresses in history took to the floor with partisan speeches. Put together, they lasted nearly two hours.

Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, Democratic leader in the House, spoke accusingly of the high cost of living and the housing situation. "Millions of families are suffering," he said. "Something must be done by Congress."

Foot Injury Forces Stymie To Retire

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Stymie, the horse that won $911,335—more money than any other horse in racing history—came to the end of the racing trail today.

Stymie will thrill the crowds no more with his brilliant, spine-tingling stretch rushes.

The gallant old "Pride of Brooklyn" suffered a fractured sesamoid in his right forefoot in the Monmouth park handicap Saturday, and less than 24 hours later trainer Hirsch Jacobs said the seven - year - old world's money winning champion would be retired permanently.

When sufficiently recovered from the injury, Stymie will be sent to the blue grass country of Kentucky for breeding purposes.

An expectant millionaire for the last four months, the powerful chesnut handicap star ran fourth to Bayard Sharp's Tide Rips in the mile and one quarter Monmouth feature.

Burton and Docusen have fought twice before, Burton winning in Los Angeles and Bernard taking the nod in Madison Square Garden.

The Aug. 18 show is under the auspices of promoter Irvin G. Kovin.

the armed services, such as many negro organizations have demanded.

The southern senators, in a meeting of more than an hour just before the White House announcement, picked Senator Russell of Georgia for their leader. Russell was the South's choice over Truman in the Democratic nominating convention at Philadelphia.

Watch Over Senate Set

They agreed to employ "every resource at our command" in the battle, including "speeches at length." (Russell wouldn't say "filibuster.")

They voted for a full-time watch over the Senate—at least one southerner on hand at all times to see that no racial legislation slips through without talk.

And they arranged for more detailed strategy planning, starting tomorrow, after Mr. Truman's message shows more clearly just what they face.

Nineteen senators were present in the office of Senator Byrd (Va.) for the initial meeting and Russell said he was advised that two more—Fulbright (Ark.) and McKellar (Tenn.)—will "be here when needed." The two have not yet returned for the extra session.

Attending the meeting were the following senators:

Byrd (Va.), Robertson (Va.), Hoey (NC), Umstead (NC), Johnston (SC), Maybank (SC), George (GA), Holland (Fla), Eastland (Miss), Stennis (Miss), Sparkman (Ala), Hill (Ala), Ellender (La), Feazel (La), McClellen (Ark), Stewart ,Tenn), Connally (Tex), O'Daniel (Tex), Russell (Ga).

Jews Score Victory

as the result of pre-truce victories.

The formal declaration by the Israel cabinet in Tel Aviv appears to place in doubt the proposal of UN peace mediator Count Folke Bernadotte to demilitarize the city.

The Jewish position is that the Security Council ruled Jerusalem should be demilitarized only in the event of fighting. Now that the war has stopped, demilitarization is unnecessary according to the Jews.

Count Bernadotte conferred in Tel Aviv today with Israel Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok and for the first time took up the question of extending the Palestine truce into a permanent armistice.

Bernadotte disclosed that the Israeli government has promised to give him a "definite answer" on Jerusalem's demilitarization by Wednesday. The Arab league already has indicated approval of Jerusalem's demilitarization.

Pennsylvania Town Gets Set For 'Annual' July 29 Rain

WAYNESBURG, Pa., July 26. (AP)—The Waynesburg rainmakers are at it again and they'll settle for a sparce (sprinkle) or a spate (storm) come next Thursday.

It's a tradition in this town of 5,000 that it always—well, nearly always—rains on July 29.

Attorney John Dailey, who yearly bets a hat with some celebrity that the tradition will be fulfilled, says it has failed to rain here on that date only four times in the last 71 years.

The holder of this year's "sucker" bet is appropriately, a dummy, Charlie McCarthy, of radio fame.

The town faithful, optimistically clad in raingear, will gather about the courthouse at midnight Wednesday to await the showers. When the first drop appears, the courthouse bell will toll the news to the little town of 5,000.

Yugoslavia Makes Left Handed Proposal For Trade With West

By STOYAN BRALOVITCH
INS Staff Correspondent

BELGRADE, July 26—Yugoslavia called tonight for "economic cooperation with all countries" in a seeming bid for trade with the west.

Edvard Kardelj, Yugoslav vice-premier, told the Belgrade convention of the nation's Communist party that Yugoslavia's foreign policy hinges on "peace and peaceful cooperation on the ground of equality."

Cominform Blasted

Kardelj, who with Marshal Tito was denounced last month by the Russian-led Cominform, continued the verbal attacks on the nine-nation Communist body which have featured the Belgrade congress.

The vice-premier said that Yugoslavia's Communists could never acknowledge the Cominform's "slandering and insulting accusations."

But at the same time, Kardelj reaffirmed Yugoslavia's need for Soviet support and the backing of the satellite nations. He said:

"We consider such cooperation as a vital condition for the development and strengthening of the socialistic front."

Kardelj said that Yugoslavian foreign policy was based on the following five principles:

1—Activity in all respects for peace and peaceful cooperation on the ground of equality based on UN. principles.

2—Economic cooperation with all countries on the ground of equality and respect for mutual international obligations.

Supports Peace Forces

3—Support to world forces struggling for peace, national freedom and independence.

4—Full support to the anti-imperialist policy of the USSR and other democratic nations.

5—Development of cooperation in all respects with the USSR and other countries of the peoples' democracies, in economic and cultural life.

Kardelj's appeal for trade with all nations followed the statement by former California governor Olson who yesterday quoted Marshal Tito as saying that Yugoslavia would like to sign trade agreements with the U. S.

Olson, who interviewed Tito, said the Yugoslavia leader would be willing to enter such agreements "unhampered by political considerations."

Man Fined For Carrying Pistol

A fine of $150 and county court costs were levied Monday morning against Tom Fabila, 35-year-old Mexican, on a charge of illegally carrying a pistol.

Arresting police said he was under divorce decree to support his wife and children, and was arrested after discharging a gun in 200-block Ave. K, where his wife, they said, was living. Police said he threatened arresting officials.

Weekend Is Quiet

The weekend was generally quiet, law enforcement agencies said, but there were numerous cases of drunkenness, as well as scattered violence.

A Mexican, Stephen Garcia, was stabbed in the abdomen but was released after hospital treatment. He claimed he did not know his assailant, and informed police he did not wish to prefer charges.

Gun Firing Probed

A man listed as J. D. Johnson, jr., described as a negro, was hit on the head with a bottle, but he too said he did not know his assailant. After seven sutures had been taken to close a wound, he told officials he would seek to learn the name of the man who struck him. He said he would file charges.

Fines Are Assessed

George Foster of Goree informed officials that his 1941 Ford coach, license AJ 1440, was stolen in Lubbock.

Bob Leiga, 36, was fined $100 and county court costs, Francis Smith, 40, a negro woman $150 and costs, both for liquor law violation, County Attorney John Steele said. In addition, County Judge Walter Davies fined Homer Cornelius, 30, of Ralls, $50 and costs on a drunk driving charge, judgments showed. The Smith woman had 1,557 cans of beer and 44 pints of liquor, the liquor board said.

The state, through County Attorney John Steele, filed suit Monday afternoon for forfeiture of the beverage and the liquor.

Howard Allen Gabriel, 25, of Hobbs, N. M., was fined $25 and county court costs on a drunk driving charge.

One drunk was arrested after he was seen walking down Broadway with no clothing on. He was wrapped in a bedspread, officials said. Another was detained after he had blundered into several houses, one of them occupied by a policeman, it was reported.

A roll of Avalanche-Journal newspapers, valued at $5, was stolen from in front of a drugstore in 500-block Ave. H.

William Moore, about 20, was fined $25 and county court costs on a charge of aggravated assault on Vallie Rucker, a woman.

A new automatic cigaret container-lighter can be attached to either side of the steering column of an automobile. At a touch of the finger it produces a lighted cigaret.

Special Venires Set For Murder Cases

Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court Monday ordered two special venires to report to him in September for trial of murder cases.

A special venire of 200 men will report at 10 a.m. Sept. 20 for trial of the Brewster E. Dillard case.

Another, of 175 men, will report at 10 a.m. Sept. 7 for trial of the Milus Steen case.

Both motions were made by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin.

Dillard is accused of murder with malice in the shooting Nov. 1 of Garlon Douglas Weaver. Steen, a negro, is charged with murder with malice in the Feb. 23 shooting of Narvis Smith, another negro.

Underground Arms Plant Called Nearly Atom Bomb Proof

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 26 (U.P.)—A huge underground arms plant built here by Smith & Wesson, Inc., was described today as the nearest thing to an atomic bomb-proof factory in the world.

"We cannot say it would withstand an atomic bomb, but we know it would hold up better than any construction of its type now in existence," said corporation president Carl R. Hellstrom.

Begun three years ago in secrecy, the project is nearly complete, said Hellstrom. He said the new plant would not be used for full production in peacetime but would be large enough to employ "many thousands of workers."

Hellstrom said the factory's reinforced concrete walls and specially designed doors of treated steel made it impervious to ordinary bombs or gas.

It is virtually self-sufficient with its own subterranean electric power plant, sewage system and water supply. Concrete-shafted truck ramps and elevators connect the lower levels with one-story buildings above ground.

The entire factory site on the city's outskirts, once a 126-acre swamp, is enclosed by a high wire fence. Two airplane landing strips are being built on part of the site.

Texan's Ad In Tennessee Paper Finds Relative 30 Miles Away

COLUMBIA, Tenn., July 26 (AP)—An advertisement in a Columbia, Tenn., newspaper has enabled 104-year-old John Thomas Dodson of Cleburne, Tex., to find his family after 86 years. And the relative lives only some 30 miles away from him at Fort Worth.

Dodson, who left his Maury county (Tenn.) home on a two-year horse-back trip to Texas in 1862, sent a dollar to The Columbia Herald last week. He asked that the paper run an advertisement seeking the whereabouts of his family.

The notice attracted the attention of a niece and a nephew, Mrs. W. M. Morrow and Arch Kincaid. They notified Dodson's grand-niece, Mrs. C. E. Pacey of Fort Worth and she contacted Dodson.

Kincaid said the old man "just broke down and cried" when he talked with Mrs. Pacey.

Dodson was married when he was 60 years old. His wife died in 1909 and he now lives with a daughter at Cleburne.

PASADENA, Calif., July 26 (AP)—Feminine curiosity cost Mrs. Elizabeth Knudsen of Monrovia a front bumper today.

Traffic Officer R. K. Holmberg said Mrs. Knudsen, 55, told it this way:

"I saw the wig-wags (at a railroad crossing) working, but I drove forward to see whether a train was approaching. I backed quickly to avoid the crash, but the engine caught my bumper."

Mrs. Knudsen was unhurt. Her bumper bill was estimated at $25. The Santa Fe Chief was delayed 12 minutes.

Griffith died last Friday morning at the age of 73.

His body lay in state over the weekend and past his bier moved such silent film favorites as Mae Marsh, Monte Blue, Richard Barthelmess, Eugene Pallette and hundreds of film fans who remembered.

Memorial rites to be held at the Hollywood Masonic temple will include eulogies from Charles Brackett, vice president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, and Actor Donald Crisp, who has been active in pictures since his debut in the Griffith 1915 classic, "Birth Of A Nation."

Battles Seen In County Demo Meetings

(By The Associated Press)

Strength of the Texas Democratic faction which wants to ditch President Truman's civil rights program should be apparent in Saturday's county conventions.

Delegates to the county meetings were selected at precinct gatherings last Saturday. Heated battles over the civil rights issue cropped up then.

Many of the precincts decided to postpone a decision and elected uninstructed delegates to the county conventions.

To Name State Delegates

The county conventions will name delegates to the state convention in Fort Worth Sept. 14. That convention will declare the party nominees, adopt a party platform and set up party machinery on the statewide level. It also can re-instruct Texas presidential electors if it desires. The electors were chosen at the May convention in Brownwood.

The state's largest convention vote comes from Harris county (Houston). Incomplete reports showed that States' Rights Democrats opposed to the national civil rights program would hold a majority of delegates to the county convention.

A decision on the issue in Tarrant county (Fort Worth) was not apparent.

Dallas county precincts favored Truman's program by a slight edge.

Several Back HST

Other reports showed:

Kilgore and Longview—Named conservative delegations but did not instruct them.

Lufkin—Largest precinct named uninstructed delegates. Second largest passed a resolution calling upon presidential electors in Texas to make affivadit that they will vote for the party nominees.

Palestine—Precincts were divided between Truman followers and Dixiecrats.

Abilene — All precincts backed the Truman ticket but with considerable opposition.

Plainview—Uninstructed delegations.

Beaumont—Full support of regular party nominees.

Denton—Three precincts voted to support the Truman program. Another instructed its delegates to fight for states rights.

San Angelo—Most precincts instructed delegates to fight for Truman ticket.

Wichita Falls — Regular party ticket supported.

Austin—Majority instructed to support regular party nominees.

Orange—Solidly behind Truman.

Corpus Christi — Majority favored uninstructed delegations.

Reported Cure Of Youth At Shrine To Be Investigated

STE. ANNE DE BEAUPRE, Que., July 26. (AP)—A cure was reported today and the thousands who crowded this Roman Catholic shrine town to mark the feast of its patron saint awaited the results of an investigation.

Redemptorist fathers, in charge of the Quebec sanctuary, said they would look into reports that seven-year-old Donald Carrier had taken his first steps since he was stricken with infantile paralysis when he was 14 months old.

Donald's mother, Mrs. Lorenzo Carrier of Ste. Rose, Que., said the boy walked for the first time in nearly six years as he attended pontifical high mass in the basilica today.

He was one of 200 invalids and cripples among the 35,000 attending services in the shrine where many have come to seek cures through faith.

Clement Holds Lead In Attorney's Race

On the basis of unofficial returns, Stansell Clement, Lamesa attorney, has been elected district attorney by ten votes in the 106th judicial district, comprising Lynn, Gaines, Terry, Dawson, Garza and Yoakum counties.

Half of Clement's total vote was in his home county (Dawson), and he led his opponent H. B. (Virgil) Crawford, Terry county attorney in only one other county (Gaines), but ran strong also in Lynn county.

Crawford polled about 75 per cent of the vote in his home county (Terry), and led in three others. He told the Avalanche-Journal yesterday by telephone that he believed the failure of voters in his home county to go to the polls was the primary cause of his conceded defeat, unless the official canvass of the ballots changes the totals.

Crawford has been Terry county attorney since 1941 with the exception of two years spent in the U. S. Navy during the war.

The Vote by counties:

County	Crawford	Clements
Dawson	412	3440
Gaines	1018	1075
Garza	975	458
Lynn	1753	1074
Terry	1789	435
Yoakum	867	342
Totals	6814	6824

CAMPAIGN THUNDER STILLED

Johnson And Stevenson Recess Drives To Go To Washington

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 26—Texas' two run-off candidates for U. S. Senator today were temporarily recessing their campaigns for trips to Washington, D. C.

Lyndon Johnson, 10th district congressman for the past 12 years, left here by plane at 2:30 p. m. to be present in Congress tomorrow for the President's message to the called session.

Coke Stevenson, Texas' wartime governor, announced he would leave here tomorrow night for the same destination.

To Resume Campaign

Johnson held a meeting of his state headquarters staff this morning, expressed gratitude for work done prior to the first primary, and told of his plans to return to resume the campaign in three or four days if conditions in Washington permit.

The 39-year-old lawmaker is a member of the House's important Armed Services committee and the joint Congressional Atomic Energy committee. He pitched his campaign in the first primary on preparedness, peace and progress.

Stevenson, 60-year-old rancher-lawyer-banker, said he expects to sit in as an observer on some sessions of the Senate and to confer with key men on various aspects of America's foreign policy.

"Like every other citizen, I am greatly concerned about any situation that might drag us into another war," Stevenson said in a prepared statement. "Every mother and father in Texas has watched with dread as the Communists have made one threatening move after another . . . I want to find out all I can about the present near-emergency and to learn what is being done to solve without war the problems it presents."

Stevenson said he would "report to the people" when he returns from Washington in a few days.

BLANCO CANYON:

Worth Looking Into

NO one should become too optimistic at this stage over the possibilities of Blanco canyon, near Crosbyton, as a permanent solution of the Lubbock water supply problem.

Realism should cause the cautious observer to recognize that, on the basis of the limited information available, the chances seem against this source as the answer to abundant water for this city.

But, since the cost of exploration will be small, the possibilities are well worth investigating. It will be a gamble of a few hundred dollars against something that might be worth millions.

With odds like that, and so much at stake, Lubbock residents will be virtually unanimous in their endorsement of the City commission's decision to investigate.

But don't be disappointed if the results are negative. The chances are that enough water simply isn't there.

Check-up Needed

MAYOR W. H. Rodgers' criticisms the other day of city payrolls as being too high doubtless are shared by many Lubbock citizens.

The payroll increases within the past eight years, as cited by the mayor, are entirely out of proportion even to Lubbock's great growth and the skyrocketing costs of everything. These conditions do not justify an increase from fewer than 150 to nearly 450 in number of employes, nor a jump in the annual payroll from less than $300,000 to $1,300,000. All of these were figures quoted by Mr. Rodgers.

However, if the objectionable condition cited do exist, then it is Mr. Rodgers' duty as chief executive of the city to take the lead in trying to correct them. This is one of the responsibilities he assumed when he took the oath of office as mayor.

It is not enough for him to criticise. He should act. He says he intends to do that.

In his endeavor he is entitled to the support of other members of the city commission, officials generally — and the citizenship — unless and until a showing is made that present payrolls are justified by needs of and services rendered by the municipal government.

A Fine Record

AS of last weekend, Abilene had gone one year and 44 days without a fatal traffic accident. The record is one of which any city would be proud and should be proud.

The element of good fortune naturally contributes to any such achievement. But a record like that could not be due entirely to luck. It bespeaks effective traffic control. It would not be possible unless the great majority of drivers exercised better than average care. The community achievement doubtless has intensified their caution.

The city of Abilene is due congratulations for a record which all cities might be wise to study because of the possibility they might discover information which might be applied constructively to their own traffic safety.

Look Out For A Backfire, Harry

Bitter Reprieve

By DREXEL DRAKE
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Playboy Marcus Sterling owes Harry Bindle $10,000 he cannot pay. His wealthy wife, Miriam, has refused him the money. He comes home late after dodging Bindle all day. Miriam is out. Bindle phones that he will be over at 11 to collect. Marcus is desperate. Miriam comes in, wearing her fabulous diamond necklace. In order to get her out of the library before Bindle arrives, Marcus gives her a doped drink. Keyed up, he speaks cruelly. Miriam, wounded, takes her drink to her room. At 11 sharp, Marcus opens the door to Bindle.)

III

"WELL, you see I got here on the dot . . . didn't keep you waiting. You knew just when to open the door." Bindle's voice was throaty, his words chopped. He appraised the elegence of the entrance hall with a quick, impertinent sweep of his small back eyes.

Sterling glanced back anxiously toward the stairway while Bindle spoke, then turned to face his guest. He spoke just above a whisper. "I'd rather my wife upstairs didn't hear us talking. That's why I opened the door. I didn't want her to hear the doorbell."

Bindle shrugged with an exaggerated hunching of his bulky shoulders, adding a grinning smirk. "Sure. That's okay." His clumsy effort to lower his voice was only mildly successful.

"Your hat and coat?" Sterling suggested recahing out.

Both of Bindle's hands were deep in the side pockets of his coat. He freed his left hand and tossed his hat to a nearby pedestal. "I'll keep the coat," he said. "I shouldn't be long." He followed Sterling into the library.

Again Bindle took sweeping inventory, halting just inside the large room. He frowned at the radio, its monotone of news announcements just barely audible.

Sterling went to the radio . . . turned it up so that the announcer's voice became clear. "While the Nazi hordes moved on through Belgium, President Roosevelt appeared before Congress this afternoon and asked for more than a billion dollars for arms to make this country impregnable," said the voice.

"Just to drown out our own voices," Sterling said. "It won't bother us if we sit over here." He led the way across the room to where he had been sitting, indicated a chair beside a low coffee table for Bindle.

"WHY would it bother us?" Bindle said, walking toward the chair with withheld decision. "We ain't got much to say to each other. You know why I'm here." He remained standing, his eyes riveted on Sterling.

Sterling turned about toward the bar. "Drink, Bindle?"

"Well, why not? Your liquor should be good."

Sterling grinned mirthlessly. "Rye, scotch or bourbon?"

"Make it rye."

From the bar Sterling asked, "Will it be soda or gingerale?"

"If it's all the same to you, I'll take it straight."

Sterling, his back to his guest, jerked in spite of his returning self-control. Small chance he would have had, he realized, to make use of Miriam's sleeping drops. That reminder sent his thoughts upstairs. Was Miriam's getting into bed? Was she taking the doctored drink? He had no concrete thought beyond hoping she'd drop off to sleep at once. He put an opened bottle of rye, a small thermos of water and glasses on a tray and carried it to the coffee table. He returned to the bar and mixed a highball for himself, then went to his chair. Only then did Bindle sit down, bring both hands into view, and loosen his topcoat.

"I thought you might like to pour your own drinks, Bindle," Sterling said.

"Drinks? This ain't exactly a social meeting, even if it is nice in here. You got a place, Sterling. You're fixed. Young. You ain't 30 yet, are you?"

"Twenty-nine."

"Like I thought." Bindle had picked up a glass. He was holding it aloft, studying it against the blaze of ceiling light.

"Everything the best, Sterling. Even your glasses." Bindle set the glass he had been examining on the tray and poured from the bottle. He swallowed his drink without a pucker. "Smooth," he said, setting down the glass.

HE fished a leather case from an inner pocket . . . took out a cigar. He held it up and admired it much as he had admired Sterling's glass. It seemed to be a characteristic gesture. He employed the utmost care in stripping off the broad red and gold band from the fat cigar. For a moment he studied the band, then abruptly he was rolling it between his stubby thumb and fingers, and when it had become a small wad he dropped it into the ashtray on the coffee table.

Sterling came across with his lighter when Bindle had carefully bitten off the end of the cigar. Bindle gave attention to the lighting, made sure of an even ash.

"My one weakness, Sterling: good cigars." He filled his lungs with the heavy smoke, sent a huge puff ceilingward. For the first time since sitting down, he eased back into the chair, his chin down between the lapels of his coat. His squat body, muffled in topcoat, filled the chair. His arms were muscular. His face was without expression. The top of his head was relatively narrow, the more so because of sparsely spread hair marked by bald spaces above the temples.

The right temple was marked by a welt of scarred tissue.

Sterling was studying Bindle through the cigar smoke, conscious that he was being studied in turn by those beady black eyes half covered by deceptively lazy lids.

"It's been a nice social visit, Sterling." Bindle spoke at last. "Now let's get to business. You know why I'm here."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

TODAY I am going to deal with a subject that is usually shunned in polite society as if it were something obscene. Yet it is a subject that affects every living one of us intimately, a subject that none of us can escape.

BRANDEIS

My subject is death.

Let me tell you how I came to think of death as a subject for this column.

A very good friend of ours lost her husband a year ago.

She had been a fine wife to him, taken care of him in his illness, neglected no wifely duty.

She is forty years old, unusually good looking, has a charming personality and overflows with vivacity and the joy of living.

A very fine man has fallen in love with her and has asked her to marry him.

She came to me for advice.

"What shall I do?" she asked. "I loved J . . . . dearly and tried to be as good a wife to him as I could.

"I am very fond of this man who wants to marry me and I am quite sure that some day I shall learn to love him, too.

"But already several of my so-called friends are beginning to talk behind my back and criticise me for going around with another man so soon after my husband died.

"What is my duty? Shall I go on living with the dead or can't I be of greater service by being a good wife to another man whom I may be able to help to success and happiness?"

I did not hesitate a moment with my advice.

"Of course you should marry that man," I told her.

"Your husband who died wouldn't be worth mourning over for five minutes if he wanted you to be married to him, dead or alive, the rest of your life."

I hope you will not consider me presumptuous if I consider myself somewhat of an authority on death.

After eight months in bed, following a heart attack, one becomes inured to the idea that each next moment may be the last one on this earth.

I WAS never for one second afraid of the end of that beautiful show called life. I knew that, like all shows, there must be a last act, a last scene, a last line spoken by the actors.

My worry was for my wife, for all the trouble, all the loneliness, she would face. My hope was that she would not have to be lonely too long and that eventually — the sooner the better—she would find another man upon whom she could bestow all the blessings she bestowed on me, and who would try as hard to make her happy as I have tried.

No, really, there is nothing terrible about death. Why worry about something that is unavoidable, that no physician, no scientist, no minister or priest will ever be able to do away with?

But since we must die, let us die bravely.

And let us not make our death a perpetual mortgage upon the living.

ON SPECIAL SESSION

Economists On Spot

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The men at Washington who were most startled and upset by President Truman's convention hall call for a special Congressional session to discuss high prices and public housing were the members of the White House Council of Economic Advisers. He sought advice from his political managers, especially the two Rosenmans, rather than from the agency which Congress created as his official mentors in these matters.

In fact, at the moment he announced his plan to "put the Republicans on the spot," Dr. Edwin G. Nourse's experts were engaged in framing a mid-year report expressing general satisfaction with current economic conditions, forecasting one or two years of high economic activity and counselling against the very anti-inflation program which he will submit to Capitol Hill.

TUCKER

They were to have cautioned against any sharp, deflationary move at this unsettled moment lest it precipitate unemployment, business uncertainty, wage drops, a reduction of purchasing power and a general downward dive like that which resulted from similar federal policies from 1921 to 1922.

SPENDING As against Mr. Truman's expected demands for billions for housing, health, education and further minimum wage increases, they had planned to warn against excessive federal spending. They intended to couple this proposal with a suggestion for government-industry-labor co-operation designed to prevent strikes in such key industries as steel, coal, railroads, construction etc.

Nor did President Truman consult John W. Snyder, Secretary of the Treasury and his Missouri crony. The latter has stubbornly resisted Federal Reserve Board's demands for further curtailment of credit by government action. Indeed, this attitude lies behind his feud with Marriner S. Eccles, former head of the FRB.

Even as Mr. Truman was formulating his political strategy, Mr. Snyder was writing to Joseph M. Dodge, president of the American Bankers Association. In that letter the government's chief financial officer appealed to bankers to fight inflation by "voluntary" curbs on credit and a sharper scrutiny on applications for commercial and real estate loans. There was no mention of the drastic, ten-point, anti-inflation program advanced by the White House.

PEAK: The original Nourse report, which will probably be revised to accord with Mr. Truman's unexpected move, was to have said that the inflationary movement had reached its peak except for food, and that it would eventually be corrected by such natural causes as increasing production. Most private and public economists concur in this opinion.

Bumper corn-wheat crops, so the mid-year summary would have said, should eventually lower the cost of meat to more reasonable levels. The market price for those grains is expected to fall to such an extent that it will profit the farmer to raise more and fatter cattle and hogs. Unexpectedly large foreign crops will also lessen the domestic drain that might have caused further shortages and higher prices.

OPTIMISTIC: The report was also to have offered the hope that a larger output of heavy and consumer goods—a trend borne out by all indexes save in a few fields—would make the current third round of wage boosts the last for some time to come. Lowered living costs will eventually increase the take-home pay.

In short, the White House crystal-gazers were working on a fairly optimistic digest for President Truman. Its basic thesis was that now was the time for nobody to "rock the boat," and that warning was to have included government as well as industry, labor, finance and consumers.

It might well have proved an excellent campaign document for the White House incumbent, had he not chosen to accept the political advice of Judge Samuel I. Rosenman and his extremely able wife.

VULNERABLE Judge Rosenman was Franklin D. Roosevelt's most trusted adviser on questions of public and political psychology, although never a back-room, clubhouse boy himself. He also has a gift for apt and happy phraseology, and ghosted some of F.D.R.'s finest speeches. He has been taken over by Mr. Truman, and accompanied the presidential party to Philadelphia.

It was he who divined the Republicans' Congressional record as the enemy's possibly vulnerable spot. It was upon his advice that, instead of concentrating his fire on the Dewey-Warren ticket, Mr. Truman chose to assail a body which they had not controlled or advised.

It is generally forgotten, however, that his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Rosenman, has been one of the nation's most eminent authorities on housing, with a sharp leaning toward a large-scale, federal program of subsidies.

She handled these problems for F.D.R. whenever inter-agency squabbles threatened difficulties, and it is understood that through her husband she has persuaded Mr. Truman to make low-cost homes financed by Washington one of the major issues of the forthcoming session and the presidential campaign.

PARTISAN: Incidentally an angry Republican Congress may investigate all the circumstances behind the President's apparent disregard of the economic advisers it gave him, and his pursuit of an economic path entirely contrary to the direction which they had meant to map for him.

Such a development, in their opinion, will take them off the spot, and put Mr. Truman on it by revealing that he summoned the special session for partisan rather than statesmanlike purposes.

The reason men never win arguments with woman is that only lame-brained men argue with women. A sensible man will not waste time arguing with a woman.

During funeral services in a New Hampshire church, the "dear departed" woman suddenly sat up in her casket. It would seem to us that it is a breach of etiquet for one to interrupt one's own funeral.

"Man kills the thing he loves," wrote cynic Oscar Wilde. This is true only in the few instances where the thing he loves doesn't kill him first.

Among the weakest of things is a man's strength beyond which a blonde can tempt him.

A few men here and there have manners that are open to criticism. For example, the other day a man on honeymoon beat his bride up and threw her down a stairway.

Now it is learned that rain can be produced by dropping water on a cloud. In fact, if you drop enough water you don't even need the cloud.

WALLACE FOLLOWERS PUZZLING

Party Has Persecution Complex

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — The three-day national convention and ceremonies here attending the formal birth of Henry A. Wallace's Progressive Party carried a deep under-tone of tragedy, like the throbbing minor theme of a great orchestra, despite the excited surface gaiety and enthusiasm generated by its preponderantly youthful chorus.

These people gathered here from all over the country, many coming by day coach and some by hitchhiking. They were suffering from a persecution complex that provoked them to strike out bitterly in every direction. This, of itself was an indictment of some aspects of our society and civilization of which our two great major parties must take heed, for the cry of the persecuted and downtrodden that went up here was an indictment of them and their manifest inadequacies of the moment.

STOKES

Bitter Feelings Expressed

Here was raised again, as through the centuries, the mourning of Israel and of Rachel weeping for her children. Here in anguished tones rose the threnody of former black slaves still with the yoke of discrimination about their shoulders, though they live in a free land; in the scorching denunciation of a negro woman writer, Shirley Graham, the biographer of Frederick Douglas and George Washington Carver, who inspired the convention to reiterate in a reverberating chant her challenge: "Jim Crow Must Go;" in the bitter talk of Paul Robeson, who gives voice in glorious song to the tragic plight of his race; in the call to action by the convention's keynote speaker, Charles Howard of Iowa, prominent lawyer, a Republican for 30 years, who told why he and so many of his race look to the new political movement in one simple sentence:

"For the first time in my life, I am experiencing human dignity."

Here were raised the protests of others who are sensitive to the uncertainties of this curious post-war age when there is no peace; of war veterans and those who might again become war veterans and of their parents against the drift toward another war; of writers and artists who are fearful of the shackles being imposed on freedom of the mind and the spirit; of atomic scientists who are constantly conscious of the monster they created and harried by the worry that unthinking or willful men may let it loose upon the world; of young people and old people who are afraid for their own security in an economy bolstered up paradoxically by expenditures for rebuilding the places laid waste by the last war and production of armaments for another possible war, flimsy foundations.

It was all a mirror of the seen and unseen and the feared tragedies of this age. In the proposed remedies in its platform, the Progressive party reflected all this, and in the radical nature of some of them—radical for our time—it confessed what Henry Wallace, himself, intimated—that this party is ahead of its time.

Being Used

The Progressive party convention was the most spirited and spontaneous of the three national political conventions in this city this year.

It also was the best disciplined. But anybody who thinks that there was anything mechanical about the enthusiasm is being misled, as can be attested by a witness of the wild scenes in Convention Hall and the madcap throng that packed about Henry Wallace's automobile as it threaded its way out of Shibe Park after the acceptance ceremonies there, scrambling to grasp his hand in a frenzy reminiscent of that seen in similar demonstrations for the late Franklin D. Roosevelt at the peak of his career.

Perhaps the real tragedy here, for those seeking, searching people and for their groping Messiah, who seems caught up in a spell of hypnotism, is the attempt by a hard and shrewd group, including Communists, to manipulate this movement for purposes of their own, with no conscience about using explosive issues to divide the nation in a precarious time, or stirring up trouble for trouble's sake.

And for this the major parties must take part of the blame by leaving undone during recent years some of the essential things that should have been done, and by being wary and political and diplomatic when boldness was required and a quest sought for new ways in a new age.

For this Henry Wallace's Third party, like other third parties through our history, will provide an irritant to make the two major parties seek new and bold solutions of our problems. That it already is having this effect was demonstrated to a degree by the platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties adopted at their own conventions here recently, and likewise by the new aggressive tack of President Truman, leader of the party that will obviously suffer most from the new Progressive party, in pointing out the derelictions of the 80th Congress to which his party also contributed and which he is now asking Congress to repair in its special session.

PEACEFUL SOLUTION SOUGHT

Goals Of Soviet Communists, Western Allies Meet Headon

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 26. — Henry Wallace's new Progressive party hammers on this idea:

That this country and Russia can live at peace and work together.

Merely saying so doesn't make it a fact for, since that's also the No. 1 problem of our time, a number of questions have to be faced.

True, the two countries lived peacefully before World War II, although they didn't work very much together.

Until that time the Russian Communists had concentrated on making Communism survive and work in that one country.

While they did, they let their neighbor, Nazi Germany, grow strong enough eventually to attack Russia and almost destroy it?

But, anyway, until World War II Communism in practice was limited to Russia. It was not in any real conflict with this country. It is now.

Pushed and helped by the Russian Communists, Communists have taken over all the countries of eastern Europe except Greece.

And all of them, since all believe in the inevitable triumph of Communism everywhere, want to see the rest of Europe Communized.

(Russia has a special interest in seeing that happen. A Europe made up of friendly, like-minded nations would save it from the danger of attack from a powerful enemy like Nazi Germany.)

Two Methods Given

Europe can be Communized in two ways:

1. A war in which the Russian Red army overruns Western Europe and sets up Communist governments.

2. Local Communist organizations—each Western European country has one — coming to power any way they can.

If all Europe goes Communist, Asia is sure to follow. With that kind of strength behind them, Latin America's Communist parties would try to take control there.

Then this country would find itself alone in a sea of Communism. It couldn't survive against a Communized world.

So what does this country do, knowing Communists everywhere are working for world Communism? Does it sit idly by, letting itself be surrounded and eventually, perhaps, crushed?

The United States already has taken a stand to prevent Communism from spreading further.

It is doing it through the Marshall Plan for helping Western Europe get prosperous; by giving aid to Greece and Turkey; by holding fast against Russia in Germany.

But does this government — which calls itself a Democracy based on the majority will of the people—have a right to block the spread of Communism in Europe if the majority of people there want it?

This is one answer to that:

The Communists have been in a minority in every country where they have taken over. Once in control, they have suppressed any opposition which might overthrow them.

Reds In Minority

(That includes Russia. The Communists there number about 5,000,000 out of a population of 190,000,000. So a tight, disciplined group of Communists run the other 185,000,000 people.)

But couldn't this country work out a deal with Russia whereby the Red army would go back inside Russia, we'd withdraw our troops from Europe, and Europe would be free to work out its own salvation.

Maybe. But would that stop the spread of Communism? How could it, so long as the local Communists in each country were free to plan and plot and try to come to power?

And how could this country work with Russia if, in doing so, it helped make Russia stronger and thus encouraged Communists everywhere? Communists everywhere pin their hopes on the success of a powerful Russia.

Russian Communists, with their desire for world Communism and the safety of Russia against future attack, couldn't be expected to wash their hands of Communist parties in the still un-Communized Western European countries.

If they did, and the Communist parties outside Russia lost heart and collapsed, Russia some day once more might find herself confronted with a powerful enemy, or series of enemies, on the continent of Europe.

All those questions are involved in the problem of living peacefully with Russia and working with it.

Plans For Setting Up Labor Camp Talked

Pursuant to making final plans for establishment of an itinerant Mexican labor camp here, two committees were appointed in a meeting Monday afternoon at the chamber of commerce offices to confer with city and county commissioners regarding location of such a camp in Lubbock.

Hop Halsey was named chairman of a committee to confer with county commissioners and Preston Smith, chairman of a group to confer with city commissioners. O. A. Terry and L. L. Garrett are members of Halsey's group and Raymond Burford and C. W. Ratliff of Smith's committee.

Tentative plans for the camp call for construction of a concrete block structure at some advantageous location to provide temporary 48-hour shelter for approximately 175 Mexican laborers so that they may be contacted by farmers for cotton and other crop harvesting work.

W. C. Wood was chairman of Monday's meeting.
