J. F. O'Donohoe Engages East Texan in Bitter Verbal Encounter

LONGVIEW, Texas, Feb. 5. (AP)—A firm stand against immediate proration of oil in the Rusk and Gregg county fields was taken by the East Texas committee of 25 representing lease, land and royalty owners of the area at a meeting here today.

The resolutions, adopted unanimously by the committee, set forth the following as the opinion of the committee:

That the state railroad commission should refrain from entering proration orders of any character effective in the newly discovered Gregg and Rusk county pool or pools until the area of the field had been fully determined and production sufficiently advanced that a fair potential might be made.

That neither the area might be defined or a fair potential arrived at prior to the general proration hearing before the commission in Austin, April 1.

Special Hearing Opposed

That no attempt should be made by the central proration committee of Texas or any other group to induce the commission to order a special hearing with relation to proration in Gregg and Rusk county oil fields prior to April 1.

That proration at this time would paralyze oil development in East Texas and would be unfair to the area since the other oil fields in Texas had "enjoyed reasonable periods of flush production."

The committee stated it believed in the principle of preventing waste of oil and conserving natural resources, but it believed East Texas as yet had "nothing in the way of oil to speak of" to waste and that natural resources there stood in no peril. It asked postponement of proration until the commission could make a personal inspection.

The resolutions were signed by Judge C. L. Brachfield of Henderson, chairman; G. S. Taylor of Ty-

Sterling in Favor Of Food Loan Bill

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling tonight said he was in favor of congress appropriating $25,000,000 for food to relieve suffering in unemployment and drouth areas.

"The money is to relieve starving persons, isn't it? For that purpose, almost anything would be justified," Governor Sterling stated.

The Texas chief executive said he had advised the Philadelphia Record that he favored the congressional appropriation.

The Philadelphia paper had queried Governor Sterling concerning his attitude on the food appropriation bill.

Collapsible Flying Boat Performs Impressively

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (US)—Grover Loening's experimental collapsible flying boat, designed for use on submarines, performed impressively today in a test flight at North Bach airport.

Loening himself took the ship into the air. He flew at a height of about 2,000 feet and went through the usual test flight evolutions. It is said the plane can be folded up in three minutes and dropped into an eight-foot tube on a submarine.

CHINESE PRINTERS PRIOR TO 1440

THE ancient method of printing and writing was that of carving type by hand on solid blocks of wood. This was called Xylography and it was practiced, it is believed, by the Chinese long before Europe knew the art. In 1440 the invention of individual movable type cast metal marks the first step forward in typographic printing. For the next 350 years, progress was slow but since the invention of Stanhope's printing press in 1795, the art of printing has gradually been perfected. The Classified Want Ad columns of this newspaper are an example of printing in its perfection. These columns consist of solid set type of which practically all work is done by machine.

The Fastest Thing on Wheels With British Champ in Driver's Seat

Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British racing driver, yesterday piloted his 1,450 horsepower Bluebird at the rate of 245.7 miles per hour on the sand at Daytona Beach, Fla. The previous record was 231 miles per hour, set by the late Sir Henry Segrave. Campbell and the Bluebird are shown above.

OIL LIMITATION BILL REPORTED

Hard Battle Forecast For Embargo Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Sponsors of restricted oil imports today gained approval of the senate commerce committee and looked forward to a hard-fought contest if their proposal reaches the floor of the senate.

The committee reported favorably the Capper bill, providing a strict limitation immediately upon enactment. Its action came after a sharp controversy within the committee. The vote was 9 to 6.

A tariff on oil or limitation of imports is demanded by the independent oil producers of the Mid-continent field. They told the committee they were in danger of destruction by the large oil companies which, they said, are importing cheaper oil from Venezuela and Colombia.

In addition the pending contest against the Capper bill itself, the jurisdiction of the committee over such legislation is challenged.

The finance committee has instructed Senator Smoot of Utah, its chairman, to move the Capper bill be withdrawn from the commerce committee and referred to itself.

A bill to place a tariff of $1 a barrel on oil is pending in the finance committee, introduced by Senator Shortridge, California. The independent producers, however, favored the Capper measure. The senate six times refused to make oil dutiable when the 1930 tariff law was being formulated.

In the committee contest the forces favoring restriction were led by Chairman Johnson, California. He promptly reported the bill to the senate and had it placed on the calendar.

Cannon's Wife Is Named in Trial As Testimony Ends

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Information tonight from within the hearing being conducted here on charges against Bishop James Cannon Jr. was that testimony had been given that information on which part of the charges were based was from Mrs. Helen McCallum, who later became the bishop's second wife.

The presentation of evidence against the temperance leader of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was completed at midnight. Friday morning Cannon will present his defense.

Among the witnesses examined today were Austin O'Malley, of the New York Journal, against whose publisher, William Randolph Hearst, Bishop Cannon has filed a suit for $5,000,000 damages which the prelate said he suffered when letters alleged to have been written by him and statements concerning him were published by the Journal.

Frank Morgan, a Richmond, Va., detective, also was recalled for further examination. A former department of justice special agent, he was said to have worked many months building up the case presented against Bishop Cannon by four elders of the church.

Campbell's Bluebird Sets Speed Mark At 245.7 Miles Hourly

By TED GILL

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 5. (AP)—Captain Malcolm Campbell, 46-year-old British racing car driver, today established a new world's automobile speed record of 245.733 miles an hour on the sands of the natural beach speedway here.

Roaring twice over the course in his huge 1,450 horsepower Bluebird machine, he exceeded the previous record by 14.371 miles an hour, and became the first man in the world ever to attain a land speed of four miles a minute or more.

The previous record was 231 miles an hour, established here in 1929 by the late Sir Henry Segrave, also of England, who later was killed in a motorboat accident at Lake Windermere.

Campbell was clocked at 246.575 miles an hour on his first run southward over the course and second trial at 244.897.

Not Fast Enough

Despite the fact the beach was not in perfect condition, the giant racing car held to the sand and at no time showed a tendency of getting off its course.

After completing both runs, Campbell expressed disappointment that he had not been able to set a higher record. He blamed the unevenness of the beach and poor visibility for his failure to travel faster.

"I am not satisfied with the record," he said after he had torn himself away from a huge crowd of spectators and racing officials who swarmed out onto the beach to congratulate him.

"The car has lots more speed in it and I am a bit disappointed that conditions prevented me from going faster.

Visibility Low

"The unevenness of the beach held down my speed and the visibility was so poor that I could not do better. At no time during my runs could I see more than 300 or 350

Ross Sterling today by the state prison board. The 1930 cotton crop of the penitentiary farms brought $427,864 more than that of 1929.

EINSTEIN SUED OVER THEORY

Physicist Claims Scientist 'Lifted' Work

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5. (UP)—A suit charging that Dr. Albert Einstein took his "unified field" theory from a copyrighted book was brought against the noted German physicist in federal court here today by Ira D. Edwards, local physicist.

Edward's suit held that Doctor Einstein's much publicized theory was "lifted" from Edward's book, "The Way and Wherefore of Things," published and copyrighted Nov. 19, 1929.

The complaint stated that irreparable damage had been done to Edwards and that he could not be compensated for damages in an action at law and for which there was no adequate remedy save in a court of equity.

Edwards asked:

That a perpetual writ of injunction be granted enjoining Einstein directly or indirectly from printing or causing to be printed, selling or causing to be sold in any manner any part of the matter contained in the plaintiff's copyrighted book.

That full cost be allowed to the plaintiff and that the court award to plaintiff a reasonable attorney's fee as part of said cost.

That further relief in equity such as the court may see fit be granted plaintiff.

That a writ of subpoena be issued directing the defendant, Albert Einstein, to appear and make answer to the complaint and to abide by such orders as the court may deem required by the principles of society and due conscience.

MISSING FLIER IS FOUND SAFE

Rancher Finds Air Cadet After Crash

ROSWELL, N. M., Feb. 5. (AP)—Cadet Joseph B. Donnelly, who had been missing since noon Wednesday arrived here tonight after his plane had crashed 35 miles southwest of here at 1:10 p. m. Wednesday.

Donnelly was brought to Roswell by Allen Doyle, rancher, who found him walking over the desert shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Donnelly and five other student fliers left the training field at San Antonio Wednesday for El Paso and when he failed to land at Fort Bliss yesterday afternoon officers instituted a search for him.

Donnelly told The Associated Press his motor stalled and he attempted to make a landing. As he neared the ground the wind direction shifted and he landed with his plane's tail in the wind. The plane overturned and was demolished. Donnelly suffered only a slight bruise under his right eye.

He spent the night with the plane and then set out to walk this morning, hoping to find some ranch house. He had been without food and water since yesterday afternoon when he was found by Doyle.

Donnelly's home is in Pittsfield, Mass.

Twenty army planes were dispatched from Fort Bliss and San Antonio today to search for him.

1,000 ATTEND SHORT COURSE AT IOWA PARK

H. S. Mobley Climaxes Day With Famous Lecture On Co-Operation

FOOD NEEDS TOLD

Farmers Hear Expert On Reclamation Of Poor Soil

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Feb. 5.—H. S. Mobley's famous address on "Communities Are Made of Folks" Thursday night climaxed the second day of the farmers short course and community meeting sponsored here by the chambers of commerce of the county and the International Harvester company. Mr. Mobley, who also spoke earlier in the day and will conduct other programs Friday, is a representative of the company.

The program Thursday brought 1,000 people to the assembly hall. Visitors from Rocky Point, Electra, Burkburnett, Clara, Weeth, Enterprise, Barwise, Sunshine Hill, Howard, Valley View, Pleasant Valley, Allendale, Beaver Creek, and Wichita Falls were welcomed.

In his address before a large crowd Thursday night Mr. Mobley took the Bible text, "No Man Liveth Unto Himself," as his theme.

Cooperation Urged

"A community is made of folks," he declared, "not just of farms, horses, and factories. Iowa Park is not merely a town, it is an island surrounded by a vast body of water. Iowa Park, the trade center, is surrounded by a vast trade territory. They are almost synonymous, for without the trade territory there could be no town, and without the town, the trade territory would have no value.

"We need each other," he continued. "For without the merchant, the farmer could not produce, and without the farmer, the merchant could not live. My point is that of cooperation. Cultivate each other for the good of the community."

In conclusion Mr. Mobley cited the four sustaining pillars of a community as the homes of the people, the churches of the people, the schools of the people, and the productivity or work of the people.

On the program Friday are detailed discussions from Mr. Mobley of the problems of the dairyman,

For 16 days the Armada will steam southward, movements and plans for attack secret.

The sortie from the harbor began at dawn when the way was cleared for the main body of the fleet by lighter craft. This was the first stage of a war game that will extend over 2,000 miles of Pacific coast.

Jurors In Crawford's Trial Ill

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Feb. 5.—Two of the 12 jurors debating the fate of John Crawford charged with statutory assault against a 14-year-old girl, were in need of medical aid at 10 o'clock Thursday night when the body retired without reaching a verdict after seven hours' deliberation. The Baylor county sheriff purchased medicines for the two ailing jurors before he locked the door on the deliberators. No indication of an agreement had been made at that hour.

The case, on trial since Monday morning, reached the jury at 4:20 Thursday afternoon. Early in the evening the jury foreman asked for the reading of testimony given by Cliff Moore, who said on the stand that Crawford had been playing cards with him until late in the day on June 21, when the alleged assault is said to have occurred.

Crawford Wednesday denied the girl's charges and named a 17-year-old Mabelle high school boy as the child's seducer.

ELECTION SUIT OPENS TODAY

Court to Hear Attack On Water Bonds

Hearing of the suit of Mack Thomas, et al., against Mayor Walter Nelson Jr. and other city officials which seeks to prevent issuance and sale of $1,000,000 worth of water improvement bonds voted here on Jan. 20 will be opened before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court at 9 o'clock Friday morning, it was announced Thursday evening.

Seeking to obtain nullification of the results of the bond election on the grounds of irregularities in its conduct, the petition was filed by attorneys B. D. Sartin and P. B. Cox about 10 days ago for Mr. Thomas and numerous other local citizens who joined in the action. Among the charges brought in the original petition were those alleging that non-qualified voters were allowed to cast ballots for the bond issue, and that certain qualified voters were prevented knowingly from balloting on the issue.

Called for trial last Monday morning, the case was deferred by Judge Martin until Friday morning in order to afford parties to the suit additional time for preparation. The plaintiffs, in particular, it was pointed out, were given time to amend their pleadings in order to meet certain exceptions filed by the defendants.

Numerous witnesses are expected to be presented by the plaintiffs in Friday's hearing. No witnesses will be summoned by the defense, it was stated by defense attorneys, until issues in the case are made clear by the plaintiffs' action. The city will be represented by Thelbert Martin, city attorney and Harvey Harris.

His nightgown and bathrobe were ignited by a gas heater and the helpless man was sheathed in flames when a nurse entered the room. He died a short time later.

Unable to move or speak, P. J. Gallagher was unable to aid his friend.

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 5. (AP)—Willie Elms, 19, whose charges of brutality against Tulsa police officers have prompted state investigations, was freed today of murder charges in connection with the slaying of James A. Woolley, a veteran city detective, but was held for Siloam Springs, Ark., authorities on burglary charges.

Dismissal of the charge was asked by the state because of insufficient evidence. The youth's brother, Gene Elms, 21, is sought for the killing of Woolley. Willie Elms accused police officers of torturing him in an attempt to gain information from him concerning his brother's whereabouts.

German Dictatorship Ridiculous, Says Bruening

BERLIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Talk of a dictatorship in Germany is ridiculous, Chancellor Bruening told the reichstag today in his first speech since resumption of the parliament after the Christmas recess.

It is imperative, however, he said that the members recognize their responsibility for adopting the "spartan" budget for 1931 by the end of March at least, giving the world assurance that Germany is worthy of credit, and paving the way for an eventual solution of the reparations problem.

SENATE FIRM IN $25,000,000 AID PROGRAM

Extra Session Looms As Peace Negotiations Collapse

SUPPLY BILL PASSES

Senate Votes $120,000,000 Urgent Deficiency Appropriation

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (US)—President Hoover and the senate remained as far apart as the poles on the federal food fund tonight and the possibilities of an extra session of congress increased after the collapse of compromise negotiations.

The president flatly rejected the proposal of the senate leaders for a $25,000,000 appropriation, under which loans for food, clothing and medicines in the drouth areas would have been permitted, and the senate leaders stood firm on their demand for some such provision.

Word of the president's refusal to accept this compromise, which would have avoided the use of the word food and dodged any suggestion of a dole, was conveyed to disappointed administration leaders by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, who served as the White House intermediary.

Watson Hopeful

After receiving the executive's decision, Senator Watson, of Indiana, Republican floor leader, who conducted most of the negotiations said:

"We could reach no agreement today, but the negotiations have not ended. I still have hope and confidence that this matter can be ironed out to the satisfaction of all concerned."

The proposal turned down by the president was a bill authorizing the appropriation of $25,000,000 to be loaned by the government for "farm rehabilitation." The Democratic leaders demanded an interpretation from the president and Secretary Hyde so that the phrase could be construed as meaning loans which could be used for the purchase of food, clothing, medicines or agricultural tools—anything, in fact, required to "rehabilitate" the farms.

This demand was made by reason of Hyde's refusal to accept the senate's own interpretation of the phrase "anything incidental to crop production" in the $45,000,000 feed, seed and fertilizer bill as meaning "food."

House Rejects Bill

Earlier in the day, there appeared to be bright prospects for a meeting of the minds between the president and the senate leaders and one of the administration leaders was ready to introduce the bill when the word was received which dashed their hopes.

To add to the worries of the harassed Republican leaders, the senate by a vote of 47 to 22 rejected the conference report on the billion dollar postoffice and treasury appropriation bill. This action serves to increase the legislative jam and the extra session possibilities.

The only ray of sunshine for the administration chieftains was the senate's agreement to the conference report on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $120,000,000. This was the first of the 11 supply bills to be completed and sent to the president for approval.

This measure, however, is not one of the regular appropriation bills which must be passed by March 4 or make an extra session necessary. The regular supply bills which have passed the house are all in a jam between the two houses.

DANGER! MEN AT WORK - - - By Merle Thorpe

(From Nation's Business)

We are entering, let us hope, the final stage of our folly. The air is charged with rumors. The whispering compaign is on. No business is immune.

Have you heard about such and such a bank? Do you know old So-and-So is going to the wall? I heard the Doe company is headed for receivership. The Roe company has passed its dividend.

Only by wearing ear muffs can one walk a block without having his confidence shaken.

Depression is on every tongue. It is the most widely advertised product of our times. Headlines, headlines everywhere, and no one stops to think.

And our vaunted salesmanship! Give a salesman time enough and he'll paint so drab a picture of the future that a likely prospect will replace his fountain pen—and lock the safe.

Of unemployment, I suspect there are more idle tongues than idle hands.

The folly of too many of us is to accept the echo of the locker room and club car as the Voice of America.

For example, consider 1930, lately interred. Now lies he there and none so poor to do him reverence. Yet that much-maligned year loaded and unloaded 45,800,000 freight cars, and with 3,000,000 trucks on the job, too. It made and sold a new automobile for each 10 families at a cost of $2,159,600,000, and saw registrations highest of any year, with a gasoline consumption of 399,000,000 barrels, an all-time record. It saw electrical production hit its highest mark.

Nineteen hundred and thirty manufactured four and a half billion yards of textiles, and 315,000,000 pairs of shoes, the usual two and a half pairs to the person.

It provided work for 40-odd million men and women, and earnings through dividends to the amount of $4,500,000,000.

Nineteen hundred and thirty saw to it that expenses of living did not exceed income, as evidenced by hundreds of millions of dollars increase in savings banks and eighteen and a half billions of new life insurance.

Nineteen hundred and thirty added one million in population to our consuming public—a city the size of Cleveland.

With all its faults, 1930 furnished a national market-place where goods, services and labor were exchanged to the extent of $100,000,000,000, and the returns are not all in yet.

One would think, from the wailing, that we had all been wiped out by a terrible catastrophe of nature—a Noah's flood, a shifting of the Gulf stream, or by dreadful holocaust.

Yet we are all here. The stores are still open. The trains are running. You can get that number on the telephone. The traffic problem is still lively. Children are what they always were. Young folks are getting married. Preachers thunder against the laxity of the age. Amos 'n' Andy are still in the taxicab business. Lawyers' briefs are just as long. And under nature's white coverlet, bud and blossom await the sure coming of spring.

If these commonplace signs of "life as usual" betoken national instability, then there is a public menace in the familiar warning:

Danger! Men at Work

1,000 ATTEND SHORT COURSE

Mobley Draws Crowd In Famous Lecture

broadened to include work with the cow, the hog, and the hen. Women's community work will be presented by Mrs. Grace M. Smith. Musical numbers will be offered by the Ladies Choral club, Goetze's Strummers, and Joe H. Stumpp, pianist. A community singsong will be conducted by Clarence B. Williams.

Children Attend

The program Thursday started at 10 a. m. with special selections by Karl Goetze's Ladies band. Clarence B. Williams led in singing. H. S. Mobley, lecturer, gave an inspirational talk on the "Educational Use of Knowledge." The gist of Mr. Mobley's subject was that schooling and education are separate and distinct matters. He stated that many received schooling who were not educated, and the educated man was he who had learned to put into practice the knowledge he had.

In the audience were many school children from Iowa Park and rural schools of the county and in direct address to these young people Mr. Mobley stressed not only the need for acquiring knowledge but the greater need of learning how to use what they had learned in helping solve their own problems.

Mr. Mobley referred to the farm as the greatest laboratory of life and said that the dignity of farm life was not surpassed by that of any profession.

Afternoon Program

Musical numbers by Rev. Paul Kaiser and daughter, Sylvia, of Clara were first on the afternoon program which started at 1:30. Miss Sarah Williamson, physical education instructor in Iowa Park schools, appeared with her pupils in calesthenic drill, and was followed by the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Grace M. Smith, who introduced her subject, "Feeding the Family," by stating that it was the biggest and most important job on earth and producing evidence to prove her statement.

Home economics were recommended for all schools and balanced diets were presented in detailed outline from charts, showing the part that fruits and vegetables should have on the daily menu.

Soil Study

The subject of soils was introduced by John M. Hannon by the statement that "A fertile soil makes a prosperous people." Reclaiming of worn farm lands by rotation of crops and planting of legumes was illustrated by pictures of alfalfa fields from the preparation of the soils through each successive stage to the gathering of the seed.

Mr. Hannon stated that poor land could be made valuable by planting legumes and turning them thus supplying the needed humus to the soil.

Betrayer of 'Little Nell' Accused by Second Girl Here

The bold, bad villain of dime novel characteristics who carried "Little Nell" from her farm home in Swisher county several months ago, defrauded Nell's father of nearly $1,000, and landed in the clutches of the law here recently, again is accredited with a choice of villainy, according to information given Thursday by Frank Burns, chief of police.

A young woman now being held by police named the man as having induced her to secure money by passing worthless checks to several business institutions here. She explained that the man refused to sign his own name to the checks and that he later abandoned her. The "villain" is being held in Swisher county on various charges.

East Texas Oil Curb Opposed

ler, Tucker Royal of Palestine, Malcolm Crim of Kilgore, R. L. Motley of Overton and J. F. Stuckey of Longview. It was ordered that copies of the resolutions be sent to the commission at Austin.

The committee was turned into a permanent organization with its expressed purpose to further the interests of the East Texas oil field. Judge Brachfield was elected president, W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls, vice president, and Carl L. Estes of Tyler, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was marked by heated arguments on the subject of proration and frequent interruptions of speakers who included Robert Penn of Dallas, chairman of the contral proration committee.

Penn denied having stated last week that Harry Sinclair, oil millionaire, was trying to get control of the new East Texas field, but said Sinclair was against proration because he wanted to buy crude oil as cheaply as possible.

When J. F. O'Donohoe, Wichita Falls, of the Penn committee, charged Carl Estes openly with "stacking the jury" in East Texas, since a meeting held in Dallas a few days ago, Estes arose and heatedly demanded withdrawal of the statement. O'Donohoe, said it was made in good faith and refused to withdraw it.

The meeting originally was planned as a joint affair among three committees, six each from the East Texas committee of 25, the central proration committee and a committee appointed by a group of independent producers who met in Dallas last week. Leaders in the committee of 25, decided, however, not to appoint a committee of six from their group since it would overlap in purpose the larger body.

At a meeting here last night of the committee of 25, held as a preliminary to today's meeting, Carl Estes charged that the group of independent operators at the Dallas meeting were not representative of the independents generally, but more nearly of the major oil companies, who he said did not have the interest of East Texas at heart as his own committee did.

The Penn committee of six appointed by the independent producers at Dallas were in Longview and attended the meeting of the committee of 25 in an unofficial capacity. They likewise held brief meetings after the larger goup had transacted its business.

Intimation by Hamilton, who favors proration and is a member of the committee of six appointed by the independents at Dallas, that East Texans did not know how to handle the situation drew a heated rebuttal from Estes.

"We have been sitting over here in the piney woods of ignorance and poverty for the last 50 years while others have been basking in the sunshine of plenty with your great oil fields," said Estes. "We did not propose to tell you how to run your fields, and I want you to understand that we of East Texas will not tolerate such an attempt on your part or the part of anyone else."

Asserting that the central proration committee never had tried to throttle the East Texas field, Robert Penn said:

"We are working for the best interests of your own people, and those who have investments in the field. They can not realize profits if the field remains unprorated, as the crude oil price will become too low to pay expenses of producing it."

Penn said proration would not hamper drilling activity with regard to the number of wells permitted to drill.

A committee composed of Dr. A. D. Lloyd, Frank Foster, Eddie Showers, Charlies Link, and Jake Hamon was appointed by Estes to study the new field and gather technical date relative to the effect proration and other methods of conservation would have on the field. The committee would meet with the railroad commission in an advisory capacity should the East Texas field be prorated.

ESTES SAYS IT'S UP TO RAILROAD BOARD

TYLER, Texas, Feb. 5. (AP)—Carl L. Estes, chairman of the East Texas committee of 25, representing the lease and royalty owners and independent operators in this section, made the following statement here tonight, upon returning from a stormy session of the committee which was held today in Longview:

"The matter of oil proration in the newly discovered fields in Eastern Texas now rests with the state railroad commission and I, for one, feel that whatever action that body takes will be for the best interests of Texas. They have heard the voice of the people over here, who have petitioned them not to act hastily by imposing proration of any character upon the new fields before the next regular proration allotment period, about April 1."

DISPUTE HALTS DEATH TRIAL

Defense Rests in Thompson Murder Hearing

VERNON, Texas, Feb. 5. (AP)—Frequent clashes of attorneys enlivened the trial today of Emmett Thompson, on charges of murder in the slaying of Homer Crabtree near LeFors, Gray county.

Thompson left the witness stand after more than a day of questioning under cross-examination. The state failed to make an appreciable point. According to Thompson's testimony, Carl Hefner did the actual beating and stamping of Crabtree which allegedly caused his death. Hefner previously had been assessed a 99-year sentence in a trial at Pampa.

Defense Rests

The defense rested immediately after Thompson left the stand and the state called C. G. Engledow, former Pampa district attorney in rebuttal.

Another clash was precipitated when the state proposed to introduce in evidence several signed statements. The names of Mrs. C. C. Alexander, T. D. Yancey and Pearl Daniels were mentioned in connection with the statements.

The court overruled defense objections and Engledow identified the statements of Mrs. Alexander and Yancey as having been read and signed by them before him.

Recess Granted

Prosecutor Weeks then took the witness stand and started reading the statement attributed to Mrs. Alexander, a defense witness. The defense asked a recess until tomorrow morning, attorneys expressing belief that in the interval they could show cause why the statements would not be admissable. The court granted the request.

An objection of the defense to introduction of Thompson's motion for severance of the trials after he and Carl Hefner were indicted jointly, was sustained. The state contended that the motion set forth Thompson's belief that evidence was insufficient to convict Hefner and that if acquitted, he could testify for Thompson. The state proposed to show that this differed from testimony in the present trial in which Thompson placed all of the blame on Hefner, asserting Hefner kicked and beat Crabtree after they had quarreled over ownership of a horse Crabtree was riding, which Hefner claimed belonged to him.

Denies Charge

On cross-examination today, Thompson reiterated he did not strike Crabtree and that he pushed Hefner off of Crabtree at least twice. He also refuted testimony of state witnesses that he had made a threat against Crabtree while at the house of Peggy Dawson.

He testified he did not know the truck driver who saw the fight and stopped one to question him only because he saw him going up the road and thought he might have seen it. Major Evans, gravel hauler, had testified for the state that he saw Hefner and Thompson kick and beat Crabtree.

Cannon Hearing Drags Through Ten-Hour Day

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Union hours were thrown aside today in the hearing of charges against Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The 12 ministers making the inquiry spent 10 hours at the Mount Vernon place Methodist church listening to evidence.

Not one of the 12, however, spent more than 10 seconds in refusing to talk about the nature of the accusations. What went on inside the locked and guarded church was even a darker secret than what had happened on the two previous days of taking testimony.

Campbell Cracks Speed Record

yards because of the haze that hung over the course. My car was picking up speed all the time and I would have gone much faster than I did if conditions had been better."

Campbell declined to state whether he would attempt later to raise his own record or let it stand. He previously had said, however, he planned to make an assault on the record for five kilometers and possibly for five miles before he returned to England.

In making his first run today Campbell took a five and one-half mile flying start, one and one-half miles more than previous record contenders ever took.

Flashes Past

The trim, low slung car quickly gained momentum and as he threw the machine into high gear after a two or three mile run, it fairly shot ahead with a tremendous burst of speed. Traveling faster and faster, the car first came in view of spectators in the grandstand when it entered the officially measured mile.

With a mighty roar it flashed by the timing tower, riding the course with ease, and quickly disappeared in the heavy mist as it sped down to the south end of the beach.

Then, without waiting to change tires or inspect his machine, the driver ran up the course on his return dash, made from south to north. He stopped at the south end only long enough to turn around.

After completing his second run, official timers announced a new record had been hung up and the crowd cheered loudly.

RED CROSS SHIPS UNEXPECTED CARLOAD OF FOOD TO QUANAH

COUNTIES LIST RELIEF NEEDS

Needy Apply for Drouth Aid From U. S.

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Feb. 5.—Telegraphic advice has been received by Hardeman county Red Cross officials that a carload of foodstuffs is being shipped to Quanah by the Southwestern headquarters at St. Louis and will arrive here within a few days for distribution.

The news came as a surprise to local officials, as there had been no previous indication that such action would be taken. Discussing the matter, R. R. Gilliland, county chapter chairman, explained that it was possible the headquarters had accumulated a surplus of foodstuffs for distribution in Arkansas and other states where it is known such a course is being followed. So far all food has been supplied by local food dealers in the community where the applicant resided.

Drouth Aid Asked

Mr. Wood, representative of the St. Louis office, has been in Quanah two days this week checking records of the local chapter, and advising workers as to the giving of aid. In some instances Mr. Wood stated, articles are being drawn which will not be approved by national headquarters. Hereafter the needs for only two weeks, based upon a well balanced food list, will be supplied.

Applications for farm loans from the drouth relief fund are daily being filed with the committees here and at Chillicothe since the receipt of the 400 blanks.

B. G. Jones and J. S. Huffines are in charge of the Quanah office which has been opened up at the city hall.

Stock Feed Needed

Necessary waivers are being signed by both landlords and prior lien holders to enable the farmers to secure the aid of the earliest possible date. Feed for work stock is the most imperative need at this time, and arrangements are being made so that payments may be made in installments to enable the farmer to secure feed now and seed later.

Applications are being passed on by the local committees and forwarded to St. Louis headquarters, and it is believed checks will be returned within a few days for the first consignment of applications.

ELECTRA C-C. LISTS APPEALS

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Feb. 5.—The Electra Chamber of Commerce has been unusually busy during the past two weeks with the application blanks for the drouth relief loans and also with the Red Cross aid. The chamber of commerce is serving as the central office for both the drouth and the Red Cross aid. Between 50 and 100 farmers visit the office during the day to get complete information about each.

Approximately 40 applications have been made by farmers in this community for drouth loans. A 35-cent notary fee is charged by the extra clerk who was secured to assist the farmers in filling out the blanks; otherwise there is no charge as the office force of the chamber of commerce does its service absolutely free. The bankers, landlords and farmers are working in cooperation in the work. A number of Red Cross loans have been made also to farmers in the surrounding rural communities.

STONEWALL OPENS RELIEF OFFICE

Special to The Record News.

ASPERMONT, Texas, Feb. 5.—Stonewall county farmers have begun filing applications for federal loans on their 1931 crops.

R. L. Springer, banker; T. T. Ginn, farmer, and J. C. Link, merchant, are the county committee handling loan applications of farmers in the area immediate to Aspermont. They have opened a central office here in quarters over the First National bank. Community offices will be maintained also at Old Glory, Swenson and Peacock, but all applications will be cleared finally through the Aspermont office.

Members of the Old Glory committee are W. H. Flowers, W. G. Wienke and L. H. Tipton; at Swenson, P. H. Hill, W. E. Green and Ed Hahn; at Peacock, W. H. McKenzie and H. Marlow.

Caraway Assails Red Cross Official

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 5. (AP) Senator Thaddeus H. Carraway of Arkansas has written a letter to Henry L. Burdick, chairman of the Westerly chapter of the American Red Cross, terming Burdick one of those persons "who are such bores that their neighbors won't associate with them."

The letter replied to one by Burdick, which said Senator Caraway's activities in behalf of the $25,000,000 relief bill in congress showed "the politician in his true light."

Burdick's chapter was the first in Rhode Island to raise its quota in the $10,000,000 Red Cross drouth relief drive.

The Caraway letter terms Burdick as among the "feeble intellects" of the country.

In his letter to Senator Caraway Burdick wrote:

"Nathaniel Hawthorne was right when he said of politicians that 'their consciences are turned to India rubber, or some substance as black as that, and will stretch as much.'"

Foreign Trade Slump Largest in History

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Last year's declines in American foreign trade were shown by commerce department statistics today to have been largest in the commerce with Europe.

Sales of American products to that continent for the year were about $500,000,000 less than in 1929. The contraction was almost as great in American imports from Europe.

Imports from Asia, largely crude rubber, dropped nearly $400,000,000.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

NOCONA WATER WORK STARTS

Project Provides Work For Unemployed

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Feb. 5.—The city of Nocona began this week rather extensive improvements on water works system, in the way of more and larger pipe lines. Nocona is fortunate when it comes to the water question, having an abundant supply furnished by wells ranging in depth from 400 to 500 feet.

In order to furnish all the work possible to the unemployed here, it was learned that city officials decided to have ditching for pipe lines done by hand instead of machinery, although it was more expensive. This work of a few weeks will at least give temporary relief. Local labor only will be used, as near as possible to carry on the work.

WORST COUGH CURBED OVERNIGHT BY NEW REMEDY

Three well-known specialists have recently perfected a marvelous new remedy for coughs, which stops the severest spells almost instantly, and often clears up a stubborn, deep cough overnight. People who have hardly been able to sleep at night for coughing, rest all night without a break, after the first few doses.

The new discovery, known as Mentodene, is based upon a new way of taking menthol internally in a pleasant-tasting liquid. Everybody knows how menthol, even when just inhaled, "clears out the pipes," soothes rawness, loosens phlegm, relieves congestion and kills a cough quickly. When taken internally in this new combination with other healing ingredients, it is 10 times more effective.

Make this amazing overnight test yourself without risking a penny. Get a bottle of Mentodene today from your druggist and take as directed. No matter how severe your cough or how long you have had it, if you do not have a thoroughly comfortable and cough-free night, and if you don't feel 100 per cent better in the morning, manufacturer refunds your money. Be sure to start today.—Adv.

Musicians Club Program Compares Three Composers

More than 50 members of the Musicians club joined in a study of Mendelssohn, Tchaikowsky and Brahms at the regular meeting of the organization held Thursday morning at the Episcopal parish house, Mrs. O. F. Marchman being leader of the study period.

Discussions of the lives, compositions, and historic backgrounds of the three famous European composers was given by Mrs. Marchman, while local artists were presented variously during the hour with representative numbers from those masters.

Pointing to the fact that Mendelssohn differed from many great artists in that he was born to luxury and social rank, Mrs. Marchman described him as always a "popular" composer, and his music as invariably bright and lightsome in quality. The oratorio, "Elijah," she said was commonly accorded the rank of his greatest production. Illustrative of his genius, Mrs. Flora Bruce Greenwood, violinist, played "On Wings of Song," with Miss Annette Walsh as accompanist, and Willard Underwood, tenor, sang the recitative and aria, "If With All Your Hearts" from the "Elijah," Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey playing his accompaniment.

The music of Brahms was described as being of a far deeper nature than that of Mendelssohn, with a tenderly somber feeling predominating in delightful melodic settings. Miss Charlene Kinder, soprano, accompanied by Miss Thelma Adams, sang the world favorite, "Lullaby," and Ernest Katz, pianist, played Brahms' first "Rhapsody" in B-minor. In response to determined applause, Mr. Katz encored with a one-minute group consisting of the Chopin "Prelude in C-sharp Minor," and McDowell's dainty "To a Humming-Bird."

The Russian Tchaikowsky, Mrs. Marchman said, reflected vividly in his majestic compositions the fatalistic, futile despair of the Russia of his day. Stating that he is best known for the many compositions for piano now in use, Mrs. Marchman named his "Symphonie Pathetique" as the greatest of his works. From his productions, Mrs. J. E. Hall, violinist, with Mrs. Mahaffey accompanying, played the wistful plaint, "None But the Lonely Heart" and Mrs. Lester Jones, pianist, played "The Sleigh Ride," which in itself proves that the great Russian had at least occasional moments of light-hearted joy.

Prior to the musical-study program, a business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Hall, president. To fill two vacancies occasioned by recent resignations, Mrs. Clara S. Baber was elected first vice president, and Mrs. Howard Renfro second vice president. It was announced that at the organization's next open meeting, on the night of Feb. 17, Miss Inez Rudy of Bowie, president of the First District of the Texas Federation of Music clubs, will be an honor guest.

Frank Creighton Speaks at Bowie P.-T. A. Meeting

Approximately 85 members and guests attended the regular Bowie P.-T. A. meeting at the school Wednesday afternoon when parental education was the topic for discussion. Frank Creighton gave an address on "Everyday Problems of the Everyday Child," referring to the White House conference on child health and child life and mentioning as reasons for some child problems, broken homes, homes where parents do not agree, the pampered child and homes where the mother, through economic necessity, is separated from her child.

Mr. Creighton emphasized the necessity for making home the place where the child likes to stay; of giving him home employment and home entertainment and getting back to the old style four-square education, including mental, physical, intellectual and spiritual education. Parents were urged to keep their children in school at least until they finish high school.

A "Lesson on Honesty" was given by third and fourth grade pupils under the direction of Miss Jean King.

In observance of Founder's day, Mrs. W. D. Hagerman read the president's message from the Child Welfare magazine and a Founder's day offering was taken.

In connection with the program on parental education, Mrs. C. W. Kidd opened the program with an inspiring devotional and pupils of the school sang several numbers. Dorothy Coffield played and sang two numbers and in the room count, Miss Mary Catherine Gould's room was awarded the attendance prize. In addition to the regular prize, the room will be given a party at the home of Mrs. R. A. Yeager.

Officers' reports were given in the business session and it was announced the P.-T. A. would sponsor the sale of tickets to the Tony Sarg Marionettes at the Memorial auditorium Feb. 13.

Rocky Point Wins Banner In County Council P.-T.A.

Rocky Point was awarded the attendance banner with 26 representatives present when the County Council P.-T. A. met at Highland Heights Christian church Thursday in the second session of the year. Weeth extended the invitation to the council and will be host at the next session. More than 200 were present at the luncheon as guests of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and the city council P.-T. A. including three district officers, Mrs. Frank Creighton, president of the 13th district; Mrs. E. J. Torvie of Electra, district chairman of children's reading and Mrs. John Fox, district chairman of publicity.

Complimentary Luncheon

At a convention where child welfare and parent education were featured, the luncheon was the one social event. Tables in the basement of the church were beautifully decorated in the Valentine motif. Long streamers of red down the center of each table had a center streamer of white dotted with crimson hearts and cupids. Potted plants covered with red blossoms and bowls of red carnations with lighted red tapers completed the Valentine theme. On each table was a large center of hyacinths, and a mass of blossoms as colorful as spring graced the speaker's table.

Mrs. R. L. Underwood, presiding for the city council P.-T. A., and J. L. Jackson Jr., presiding for the chamber of commerce, made cordial addresses of greeting. Lovely musical numbers were given by Mrs. C. Y. Tully with Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff accompanying and Miss Juanita Kinsey gave a delightful reading.

Girl Reserves of the high school served the delicious luncheon. Mrs. Paul Barnett was general chairman and her committees included the following: Decorations, Mrs. Albert Owen, chairman; dining room, Mrs. P. B. Cox, chairman; kitchen committee, Mesdames Roy Hammond, Sam Acton, Marvin Smith, E. W. Napier, O. H. Karr, S. A. Covington and Ed Peterson.

The Wichita Floral company, Morgan, Donnelly and Palace of Blooms loaned the potted plants used on the table; the City Laundry furnished all linens and all food was prepared in homes of the city and brought to the church. Mrs. J. B. Tillery served Maxwell House coffee through the courtesy of the General Foods company.

Walter Cline Speaks

Walter D. Cline was the morning speaker, addressing the body on "Leisure Hours of Youth." Mr. Cline gave an estimate of hours used in work, play, etc., estimating 3,000 hours each year for leisure. He recommended the recognition of organizations such as Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves, Camp Fire, etc., and spoke of directed play as resulting in obedience, honesty, cleanliness, courtesy, sportsmanship, fairness, resourcefulness, economy, courage, generosity, loyalty and cooperation, and finest of all, the importance of human fellowship as result of contact with one's fellows.

He encouraged the teaching of love of beauty, the development of intellect and said that always if spiritual things would be developed, an emphasis must be placed on the church with which parents affiliate. The ultimate development of human character that a boy may be able to stand alone and in inter-relations with his fellow man was stressed as the aim of proper training in hours of leisure.

Mrs. Harry ten Brink, president of the county council P.-T. A. presided in all sessions of the day and visiting members were welcomed by S. H. Rider with J. A. Hood, county superintendent, giving the response. Mrs. ten Brink appointed a nominating committee including Mrs. H. A. Brooks of Burkburnett, W. E. Lakey of Valley View and Jack Hammer of Clara.

Mrs. Creighton Makes Address

R. E. Shepherd gave three vocal numbers directly after Mrs. ten Brink called the afternoon session to order and Mrs. Frank Creighton addressed the group on "What P.-T. A. Means to Parent and School and What It Has Accomplished." Her splendid talk stressed especially the importance of each president reading the unit package and in her inimitable fashion, Mrs. Creighton emphasized the high points of what parent-teacher work really means to a community.

The two gold star publicity books won by Reagan Junior High and Austin schools when Mrs. John Fox was president of the former and Mrs. W. L. Underwood of the latter were on file with a number of other interesting publicity books all in charge of Mrs. Ed Peterson.

Sectional meetings were held in groups as follows: publicity, Mrs. H. R. Cloughley, with 22 present; health, Mrs. Roy Ackerman of Rocky Point; child welfare, Mrs. John C. Murphree of Iowa Park; magazines, Mrs. Gail Mitchell, Valley View and standard of excellence Mrs. W. B. Taylor, City View.

Reports were heard in the afternoon from Pleasant Valley, City View, Barwise community, Burkburnett and Wichita Falls city council.

Mrs. John Murphree of Iowa Park thanked Wichita Falls, the chamber of commerce and city council in eloquent words for the manner in which they put on the very interesting meeting, which adjourned at 3 o'clock.

Could Write a Book About It

"Nine years ago after my little girl was born dead, I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about four months. The next year I became the mother of a fine 11 pound baby boy. After he was born, I kept on with the medicine to build me up. Four months ago I was nervous and rundown and suffered from other troubles which I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would relieve so I started taking it and now I feel fine again. Many of my friends could write a book on the good the Vegetable Compound has done them."—*Mrs. W. TWO OF GOV. MURRAY'S MAJOR BILLS BLOCKED BY SENATE

WENTZ BATTLE NEARS CLIMAX

Lobby Charges Bring New Controversy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 5. (UP)—Two major administration measures met virtual defeat in the Oklahoma senate late today as the controversy between Gov. W. H. Murray and Lew Wentz, highway commissioner, drew to a climax.

When Senator McDonald moved to reconsider the governor's salary tax bill which was defeated in the senate, a motion to table it indefinitely was sustained by a vote of 24 to 17. This virtually kills the bill, a majority is necessary to bring it up again.

The senate also tabled indefinitely the full crew railroad bill after it had been amended to eliminate the measures asked by the governor.

Meanwhile, the lobby charge hurled into the legislature by Governor Murray brought a multitude of actions today, the most important of which was stimulation of the Wentz-Murray controversy.

Senator Grover Thomas, Cordell, introduced a resolution demanding the immediate resignation of Wentz. The resolution charged Wentz, a millionaire oil man and Republican, was corroborating with the coalitionists in the senate and house to "defeat the program of the governor and the people."

The house ordered an investigation into lobbying charges made by the governor. Charges he had "poisoned" the governor into charging that certain men were "pernicious lobbyists" were denied emphatically by Robert Graham, Oklahoma county, a member of the old coalitionists group.

Approximately 70 of the latest models in all makes of automobiles will be displayed on the second floor of the building while the first floor will be used for booths in which accessories, oils, tires and other transportation necessities will be shown. Twenty-four booths have already been sold, it was said.

The show will be opened with a parade in which only the latest models will be driven and will be marshaled by Lloyd Weaver. The show building is well equipped for the affair, being well ventilated, heated and lighted. Elevator service will be furnished the visitors. Preliminary plans for the show were discussed and formulated at a breakfast held by the members of the association in the Wichita club Thursday morning.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 5. (AP)—Former Congressman T. A. Chandler, Tulsa, whose disbarment is sought by the State Bar association today asked the state supreme court to hold the state bar act unconstitutional and force dissolution of the organization.

The ex-congressman was fined $5,000 in federal court at Muskogee in 1927 in connection with the alleged boosting of a divorce settlement price for Exie Fife, Creek Indian heiress. KIDNAPING BILL PASSES HOUSE

Measure Makes Abduction Capital Crime

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Kidnaping was made a capital offense in a bill passed in the house today and sent to the senate.

It was sponsored by Representative Petsch, chairman of the house committee on criminal jurisprudence, who said he anticipated no trouble in getting it through the upper house so that it could be presented to the governor immediately.

Vote on the bill was 112 to five after an amendment by Representative Farmer of Fort Worth to eliminate the death penalty had been voted down, 90 to 23.

As passed, the bill set the minimum sentence at five years and provided for both life imprisonment or death.

It would apply to kidnaping for robbery, extortion or ransom. Venue would be given the county where the kidnaping occurred, where the kidnaped person was held or any county through which the kidnaped person was carried. Venue would apply whether the offense occurred in or out of Texas.

The bill was made an emergency measure, Petsch declaring there was no law at present covering this offense.

The house also passed a bill by Representative Dewolfe or Goldthwaite making it a felony to threaten the life or to bodily harm a person to extort money. It also was made a felony to threaten a person's property to extort money. Penalty was set at from five to 25 years in the penitentiary.

PILES

Ended Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and Allison's Drug store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery.—Adv.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

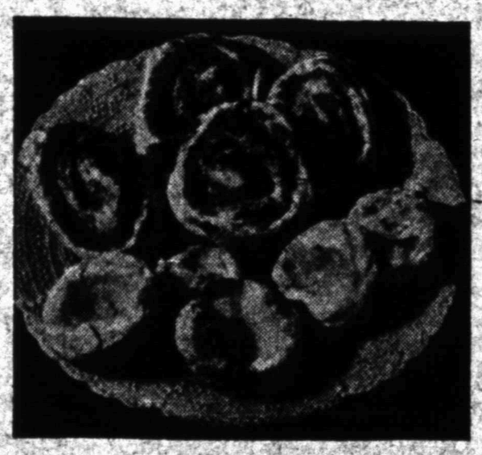

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store.—Adv.

This Amarillo story has two happy endings!

I always feel hungry when I think of Amarillo. There's where I sat down to a breakfast that was a celebration. There's where I first sniffed the warm fragrance of grapefruit biscuits and brown sugar rolls!

"Oh, you've gone to a lot of bother," I said to my hostess—but I'll admit my protest was half-hearted, because the biscuits looked glorious.

Mrs. Barstow* beamed at me in her motherly way. Then she told me a secret. Both kinds of biscuits were made from the very same dough. But how could I guess? They looked and tasted so different. Grapefruit biscuits are flaky cups filled with sweet fruity syrup, while brown sugar rolls are caramelized swirls!

"My family must have its hot biscuits," Mrs. Barstow said, "so I always keep a mason jar in the refrigerator filled with dry biscuit mixture. You know what I mean—the Crisco worked into the dry ingredients."

Mrs. Barstow's time-saving idea is fine for every one of us who uses Crisco—the fat that tastes fresh and keeps fresh. That's why Mrs. Barstow's biscuits had two distinct personalities—because Crisco itself is so sweet that it brings out even the most delicate flavors.

Mrs. Barstow's as fond of saving a penny here and there as any woman. "But I pay Crisco's price gladly," she said, "because I can't be sure of good results with cheap fats. Why, the very look and the smell of them warn me when I pry the lid off a pail!"

She's just as right as can be. A woman who's proud of her cooking can't risk using a fat that's a bit "off"—that smells rancid or looks tallowy.

Thank goodness, we can all use Crisco that comes in a nice air-tight can . . . a true Southwest product that's as pure and sweet-tasting as whipped cream. And it stays that way, right on the kitchen shelf, whether the temperature's blizzardy, or as hot as a smoking griddle!

QUICK BISCUITS

4 tablespoons Crisco
2 cups flour 1½ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
¾ cup milk or water

Sift dry ingredients, cut in Crisco with knives or a fork. Add liquid, mix to soft dough. Toss on slightly floured board, pat into shape.

Use this standard recipe as a basis for Grapefruit Biscuits and Brown Sugar Rolls—

Cut biscuits with tin biscuit cutter. Place in pan rubbed with Crisco. Finish on top of each biscuit a small cube of sugar, which has been dipped into grapefruit juice. (Juice of half a grapefruit will be enough.) Bake in hot oven (450° F.) for 15 minutes.

Brown Sugar Rolls:—Pat out biscuit dough to ¼ inch thickness. Spread with 1 tablespoon of Crisco and sprinkle with ½ cup of brown sugar. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut in slices 1 inch thick. Place cut side down in well-Crisco'ed pan. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) for 15 minutes.

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL—Recipes tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. Crisco is the registered trade-mark of a shortening manufactured by the Procter & Gamble Co.

In its new air-tight can—as fresh and sweet as the day it was made! A product of the Southwest—made right here.

© 1931, P. & G. Co.

You taste milk. You test eggs. Have you ever actually tasted a pail-fat? Taste Crisco, then a pail-fat. The difference will astound you. Crisco tastes sweet and fresh to the very last spoonful in the can!

HELP WANTED

No Unemployment in Housekeeping

But women who trade in A&P stores find the work of saving on their food bills already done for them. It is done by an organization that is in the business of keeping food prices low.

The Five-Year Plan Worries London Times Heflin, the Bigot Quick-Trigger Butler

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Since nothing succeeds like success, since the five-year Soviet plan appears to be succeeding in face of the most concerted opposition that history can record, the London Times issues a preparedness warning to western nations to revolutionize their industrial systems before the Soviet gets too much of a head start.

"The only way other countries will be able to compete is by organizing their production and the commerce on something like the scale on which Russia is organizing hers." In other words, the London Times, still hostile to the Soviet regime, still spitefully without a Moscow correspondent, admits that it would be a wise thing for Europe to emulate the Communists, whose industrial philosophy for the last decade has been characterized in the most offensive terms; whose name, in fact, has been synonymous, with Americans at least, for everything that is mad, bad and damnable.

It's good to see another public servant rebuked, this time by his own constituency. The lower house of the legislature of Alabama, by a vote of 91 to 3, has just expressed its condemnation of the poor sportsmanship exhibited by Senator J. Thomas Heflin.

"The said J. Thomas Heflin," says the resolution, "has, during the greater part of his tenure of office as U. S. senator, made Alabama the laughing stock of the union by his bigotry, lack of religious tolerance and the lack of many of the courtesies expected between one gentleman and another."

There is no more dangerous element in a free country than the bigots. Even some gunmen listen to an appeal to reason. But bigots like Heflin are beyond the reach of all appeal. The "very truth he holds becomes heresy."

In his unwarranted and unfortunate attack on the character of Mussolini, dictator of Italy, Gen. Smedley D. Butler has brought disgrace upon himself, not upon the United States. No indignity attaches to a country expressing regrets for the misdeeds of one of its officers. Other countries have had to disavow such misdeeds before. An expression of regret is simply an acknowledgement of a government's responsibility for whatever an officer says or does publicly. It should serve as a reminder to all officers of the gravity of the obligation which the assumption of an office imposes upon them.

Too bad that a man of General Butler's soldierly qualities should put his head into such a yoke of dishonor. His distinguished war service and experience should have taught him the importance of verifying rumors and then keeping his mouth shut about them.

Those who complain that there are no more thrills left in the world have another thrill coming to them 15 years hence, if they can wait that long. At that time Professor Oberth, of Vienna, rocket expert, hopes to fly to the moon, or even to Mars or Jupiter. And he may take along a passenger.

The professor has already fired 2,400 rockets. His latest rocket is driven by a secret liquid fuel and is expected to attain a height of several miles. It will be equipped with automatic cameras and postal devices for drolling mail in parachutes. One method of how to keep from growing old.

Another Guide-Post

SCHOLARLY interest in the astounding lecture delivered by Syud Hossian of India at the Woman's Forum Tuesday night and the attendance recorded for that event demonstrate vividly the truth of certain significant statements from the speaker's lips.

In laying the foundation for his picture of India as a civilized people whose history has run continuously for more than 50 centuries, Hossian said:

"I am one of those people who are internationalists by conviction. They believe that one of the greatest, perhaps the one preeminent, need of our time is that all of us as individuals, as communities, as nations make more and more friendly contacts with one another. This is prerequisite to intelligent living and intelligent functioning in these days."

The renowned leader from India declared that we live in an epoch of the world's history which is unprecedented; in a world in which even our immediate ancestors did not live; a world completely transformed during the past 20 years. To point the emergence of an epoch in which internationalism is fast overhauling the age of nationalism, he asserted that in spanning the Atlantic by airplane nearly four years ago, Colonel Lindbergh "conquered an empire far greater than any ever crushed beneath the mighty force of Alexander the Great."

The thrill received by those present Tuesday night from the impressive discourse of Hossian proved the comparative unfamiliarity with India which they had shared with the American population generally. But the keenness with which they absorbed the speaker's authenticated revelations, and the alertness with which they sought by question pertinent information on particular phases of Indian affairs, revealed in a striking manner the quick growth of an active international viewpoint. The reception given this learned son of India revealed in Wichita Falls definite proof of his statement that "our world of today is in a different category from that of the world which existed for those who were grown-up in 1914."

Mob 'Justice'

PEOPLE who do not think are always dangerous. And mobs seldom have any sagacious thoughts chasing themselves around their heads. They are willing to play follow-the-leader and the more exciting the game he suggests the more eagerly they crack the whip or go in for tag. The very fact that a large number of other people are in on the plot, whatever it is, seems to relieve each member of the group of any personal responsibility.

A recent example was at Schafer, N. D., where a mob broke into the jail and took charge of a man who had confessed that he had killed a family of six people. Certainly no one would plead any leniency for Charles Brannon. But the law was looking after him in a perfectly orderly, trustworthy way. He was going to be given the punishment he deserved.

But a mob got busy. Not one of the men could claim that he was merely out to do his duty for there was no need of that. That queer, half-savage spirit that comes to the front when mobs gather wanted a play . . . one with bloodshed and horrors, the kind that go best at night. Here was an excuse for one.

So they took the prisoner, put a noose around his neck, fastened the other end of the rope to the bridge railing, and pushed him off. There was a queer strangled sound in his throat, then silence. A dark silence with a wind stirring along Cherry Creek, and men hanging their heads a little sheepishly because of what they had done.

For such an act always demoralizes a community. It lowers the standards of those who take part. They can never be the men that they were before. Not after having given vent to a bestial notion.

No one would criticize the group for its reaction to the murderer. He probably received the medicine he deserved. But when we have duly constituted agencies which will disperse justice in approved doses it is too bad that others interfere.

Nations and Humans

WHEN Johhnie Jones speaks ill of Willie Smith, the back alley is usually the scene of the next act. Fistic battles have always been popular. In fact, small boys have a habit of objecting to a verbal apology. It spoils the show.

When one government makes a remark that isn't acceptable to another the same thing is likely to happen, with the high seas as the stage. Time was when one nation would have put cotton in its ears and shouldered its guns if another one wanted to apologize for some chance remark. But fortunately that is ending. Now that the art of courtesy is being practiced the art of war isn't so powerful.

The United States has made a formal apology to Italy for statements uttered by Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler regarding Premier Mussolini. Mussolini, being very human, objected to some remarks of the United States marine corps officer. The United States, having a sense of justice and fitness which demanded that it do the chivalrous thing, sent deep regrets.

It never reflects on a nation, any more than it does on a man, to do the right thing. A noble gesture is never lost. Italy and America will be better friends, in all probability, because the United States government wasn't afraid to make atonement for the carelessness of one of its representatives.

It is true that this is the first instance, so far as the state department has been able to ascertain, where it has been necessary for us to apologize to another nation for statements made by a ranking officer.

It is unfortunate that the condition arose which made such an action necessary. But it is no blot on our escutcheon that we made atonement for it. Only a small personality or nation will refuse to be gracious and admit its error.

Europe Willing To Stabilize Silver

PARIS, Feb. 5. (UP)—Europe will join any "gentleman's agreement" with the rest of the world to stabilize the price of silver.

Although producing none of the metal and with most of the national currencies based on a gold standard, Europe is still intensely interested in the effort to save the silver market, for every European bank of emission has silver coins earmarked for minting.

Europe would prefer a world silver conference, to be held in Mexico as one of the nations most interested in production and in reaching a stabilized price for the metal.

French experts believe that the silver industry must voluntarily reduce its production by from 20 to 40 per cent before regaining its health.

THE LOVELY LIAR : BY ROB EDEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When Ted Allison deserts her on the eve of their elopement, Poppy Prior runs away to New York, fearful of the disapproval of her mother who believes Poppy is married. Arrested for stealing a bracelet belonging to Celia Nixson, which she found in the train, Poppy refuses to tell her real story, thinking her mother may learn of the arrest. Kevin Wallace, friend of Celia, is interested in Poppy and tells her he will help her whenever he can. Poppy is committed to a girls' detention home, from which she succeeds in escaping. She appeals to Wallace for help. He sends her to Jane Rochester, art student, who insists that Poppy share her apartment. As Poppy Rochester, Jane's cousin, she gets a job modeling in a department store. Jane persuades her to go to a party, and there Poppy sees Ted for the first time since she has reached New York. He recognizes her and monopolizes her for the evening. Poppy refuses to accept his attentions seriously, since his desertion still rankles.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XXI

Ted Allison was right when he said he'd bother Poppy. He did. Called her up every night, and when she still refused to go out with him, continued the calling.

"Why are you punishing me?" he kept asking. So finally in desperation, because she couldn't and wouldn't explain, Poppy said she'd go to dinner with him.

"I don't want to," she confided to Jane.

"Why not? Won't hurt you, and Ted's all right in his way. You won't fall for his line again.

When Ted came up to the apartment to get her he was jubilant, and Poppy was not at all thrilled. She put down the Ashland paper she was just opening and laid it aside to read after she came home.

"Two weeks, and I have to beg on my hands and knees to make you come out with me," he sighed. "Is that right?"

It was two weeks since she had seen him at the studio party. Two weeks that had passed so swiftly that she hadn't been able to keep track of the time. Two weeks, and Kevin had only called once, after he had found the bill in his mail box. Chided her for returning it so quickly, when she might still need it. She didn't mind Kevin scolding her. She rather liked it. He might come up some night to see them both. Couldn't promise when, because he was still busy. He hadn't come, and she had waited night after night in hopes he would.

The ringing of the phone bell sent her scurrying to answer, only to be disappointed each time. Either Ted, or somebody for Jane. Never Kevin. Jane saw her dark eyes when she came away, but said nothing. What was there to say?

The sketch of Poppy was finished and propped upon the bookcase ready to be framed. It was good, and Jane knew it. There had been no frantic tearing up in its execution. Jane had found what she wanted almost immediately. Poppy with her dark curly bobbed hair, her vivid face, her eyes dancing. Only the head and shoulders.

A wind seemed to be ruffling the dark locks, and the head was turned a little. Poppy thought it was a great deal too pretty for her, but Jane said it wasn't.

Ted was hungry so they went out a few minutes after he had come to a small Italian restaurant in the fifties.

"No dancing tonight. I want to talk to you," he said as they sat down, and picked up their menus.

Poppy's eyebrows raised a trifle. What was there for Ted to say that he hadn't said already? That he hadn't said in Ashland.

"A new line?" She asked half laughing.

"No line tonight, Poppy. What I'm going to say to you is all true." Ted's face was very sober, even his eyes were not laughing as usual. Not like Ted at all. That night at the party he had been as he had been in Ashland. Gay, kidding. Tonight—well, she didn't know the Ted Allison she saw tonight. The ride in the taxi coming here had been a quiet one. She hadn't felt like talking, and he hadn't either. And it wasn't like Ted not to be chattering all the time.

The booth they were in was sheltered and very private. Poppy couldn't see the room from where she sat, couldn't see one occupant of the place, except the waiter who served them. She would have preferred going some place where she could dance. Ted danced well, and she was in the mood for dancing tonight.

"Why all the silence?" she asked when perhaps five minutes had passed and still Ted had said nothing.

I Love You, Poppy

"I'm choosing my words," a flash of the old Ted. But then, silence again. The dinner was good, though, Poppy decided. She and Jane must come here some night. For they ate around mostly, and it was a rare treat when they had dinner at home.

Ted lighted a cigaret after he had eaten his steak. Poppy was uncomfortable under his gaze, for he had been looking at her steadily for some time. Then when their coffee came, he stated.

"What I'm going to say to you tonight, Poppy, isn't any line.

"It's the truth, all of it. These weeks, Poppy, that I begged you to go out. And I have begged you, you know—they've been horrible. At first I just thought you were like any other girl. Pretty, and I liked you and all that. I am rather fickle, I'll admit that. But now I know that I love you, Poppy. Really love you—"

Poppy looked at him quickly. He had said he loved her in Ashland. Adored her, but this wasn't the same Ted, now.

"Yes, I know what you're thinking about. What I said in Ashland, that was fun, wasn't it? The two of us pretending, for you were pretending as much as I. Two beings thrown together for a week, seeing each other. Fun, wasn't it?"

Poppy didn't answer, although he expected an answer. It hadn't been fun for her, although she knew now she had never loved him. There had been the shame, humiliation when she found out he had been playing . . . she'd never forget that.

"This is a different kind of love, Poppy," he went on, his voice low, his fingers playing with his cigaret. "The real kind of love. I've wondered when it would come. I've played around so much, that I was immune. We get that way, when we play a lot. And I have played a lot, but you know that. I'm crazy about you, dear. Mad about you. I don't think about anybody else, haven't thought about anybody else since I saw you again at the party two weeks ago. I can't even work decently, because I'm thinking about you so much." His voice was shaking now, and he was bending over the table.

Poppy wished he'd be the old Ted again. She'd know what to do then, what to say. She didn't know how to cope with this new Ted, who frightened her with his earnestness. He made her uncomfortable talking like this . . .

"Please, don't—"

"Wait! I'm not through yet. I really didn't. For herself it didn't matter whether she went out with Ted or not. She didn't care.

"Kevin was here." Jane's eyes dropped on her work. She couldn't bear to look at Poppy when she said that. "He wanted to see you." The pencil she held quivered. It was true, he had wanted to see Poppy and seemed disappointed when Jane told him Poppy was out.

"Kevin!" Poppy sank into a chair. The only night she hadn't been home, and Kevin had come!

"He wanted that sketch of you I made. So I gave it to him. You don't mind? I'll make another for you." Jane didn't mention that she wouldn't have given the sketch to anyone but Kevin.

"How long—did he stay?"

"About a half hour. We talked about you, Poppy. He wanted to know how you were getting on—"

Poppy picked up the Ashland paper she had laid aside when Ted had come. The cover was just partly torn off. She ripped it completely, and spread out the sheets. She didn't intend to read. She wanted to hide her flaming face from Jane.

(To Be Continued)

"No line tonight, Poppy. What I'm going to say to you is all true."

"Will you marry me, Poppy, will you?"

"Marry you?"

"Yes, marry me. I never thought I was the marrying type until lately, and now—oh, Poppy, we can be so happy together! Don't you see?"

"But, Ted, I don't love you—" she blurted, then stopped. She didn't want to hurt him now.

"Couldn't you try to, Poppy? Just tell me you might some day? Maybe after we're married you'd learn to, dear! When I love you so much—" he paused, and caught her hand that lay on the table. She let it stay in his.

Marry Ted? Marry him. If she didn't love him? Girls did marry men they didn't love. Could she? It would simplify everything if she married Ted. So easy to think about. Marry Ted, and go back to Ashland. See her mother, Grace. Be able to look at them again, talk to them.

But when she didn't love him . . .

"Let's go, Ted," she arose suddenly. "I want to go home." If she stayed here any longer, she might tell him she would—marry him. And be sorry afterward. The idea was so plausible. So hopeful. The end of her worries. To go back to Ashland, Mrs. Theodore Allison.

"What are you going to do with me, Poppy?" The helplessness in his voice. Like a boy asking his mother . . .

"I'm going to think about it, Ted. Think about it seriously." That's all she'd say now.

"Then, you might? Poppy!"

"I don't know. But I might, Ted, I'll let you know soon."

"I'll wait forever, Poppy. Forever. When can I see you again?"

"I'll call you—" Then they left the restaurant. Ted talked all the way home in the cab. He was deliriously happy. Poppy wasn't so happy, and she wished Ted wouldn't talk so much. She wanted to think. Think about marrying him.

There was Kevin, but he didn't love her. Could she marry Ted, knowing she loved Kevin? Wanted him, instead of Ted?

Yet marrying Ted meant she could go home again, and she was just beginning to realize how lonely she was for Ashland. For her mother. When you'd lived in a place as long as she had in Ashland, and when you'd left so suddenly . . .

She let Ted kiss her before they parted. Not because she wanted to, but because he wanted to so terribly. And as soon as she was in the hall alone, she took out her handkerchief and wiped the kiss away. In Ashland he had kissed her and she hadn't minded. Here it was different. Or perhaps it was because she knew she didn't love Ted. Knew she loved Kevin.

Jane was sketching when she came in.

"Good time?"

"Oh, I don't know." And she really didn't. For herself it didn't

Answers to Questions

Q.—When was Washington's birthday first celebrated?—T. V.

A.—The first recorded mention of the celebration of Washington's birthday is said to be one in The Virginia Gazette or The American Advertiser of Richmond, Va., the day being Feb. 11, 1782, the old style in the calendar not having then been everywhere and for every purpose abandoned.

Q.—What is meant by the expression about coming into court with clean hands?—S. D. V.

A.—There is a legal maxim, "He who seeks equity must come with clean hands." As explained in Bouvier's handbook of elementary law this means that "a plaintiff who has been guilty of inequitable conduct in the same matter concerning which he asks relief against the defendant's inequitable conduct, will be denied relief." An illustration cited is that a plaintiff who sues to restrain the defendant from infringing his trademark, will be denied relief where the trademark is itself untruthful and misleading to the public. A somewhat similar maxim is, "He who seeks equity must do equity."

Q.—Has any woman flown across the Atlantic ocean alone?—F. P.

A.—No woman has accomplished such a feat.

Q.—What proportion of the potential water power at Niagara Falls is used?—G. E. F.

A.—A recent estimate states that only 30 per cent of the potential water power resources of Niagara Falls have been developed. Samuel S. Wyer is of the opinion that by using the total drop between Lakes Erie and Ontario, and diverting all the water, six million horsepower could be developed. By treaty the amount of water that may be diverted from Niagara has been limited to 36,000 cubic feet per second on the Canadian side, and 20,000 cubic feet per second on the United States side.

FREDERICK C-C STARTS DRIVE

Employes Honored Guests At Entertainment

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Feb. 5.—The Frederick Chamber of Commerce launched its 1931 drive for membership with an employers and employes banquet which brought 200 members and guests to the banquet room in the new Hotel Frederick Thursday night. The organization is making a bid for the enrollment of the city's employes, special membership dues are offered, and the feast Thursday was in the nature of a formal invitation to the "young blood" in the community.

President Allen G. Davidson presided as toastmaster, who made the welcoming address. J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, responded. The invocation was offered by Guy Weathers. Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes and R. E. Shepherd, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Shepherd, entertained with a duet. All three musicians are from Wichita Falls. Later in the evening Mr. Shepherd gave a solo.

Cline Speaks

J. L. Newland, editor and owner of the Frederick Daily Leader, spoke on "Bringing Up the Reserves," and predicted that the campaign to enroll employes would bring the $1,100 budget set as the goal of the organization.

W. D. Cline of Wichita Falls, the principal speaker of the evening, kept his audience laughing with a fresh assortment of stories bearing an immediate relation to conditions today. He retold also his famous yarn about the optimistic Noah of Biblical times and his adaptation to conditions as they arose.

Mrs. A. B. Grimmett of Altus entertained with a reading and A. E. Sharp, also of Altus, sang a solo.

Beauty Presented

Delegates from Tipton, Altus, Manitou, Grandfield and Davidson were welcomed. Miss Margaret Bryan of Altus, elected Oklahoma's cotton queen, was introduced and Mrs. Grimmett presented a photograph of the beauty to the Frederick organization.

Officers of the Frederick Chamber of Commerce, elected in December, include Allen G. Davidson, president; R. L. Case, first vice president; J. A. Carr, second vice president; George McHugh, treasurer, and L. N. Wagnon, secretary and manager.

The organization has mapped an ambitious building program for the next 12 months and leaders were confident of success Thursday.

Harry Matice Is Believed Name Of Mad Mule's Victim

Harry Matice is believed to be the name of the unidentified man who died at the Wichita General hospital here early Thursday morning of a fractured skull sustained when he was thrown from a mule Wednesday afternoon near Iowa Park. The man was known in his community only by the name of "Harry the Trapper."

Sheriff Perry Browning searched the man's camp located 12 miles south of Iowa Park in the Kemp & Kempner pasture Thursday night and discovered a hunting license bearing the name, Harry Matice. However, it was not definitely known whether the license belonged to the dead man. The search of the man's meager effects also failed to reveal the names or whereabouts of any living relatives, although it is believed that two daughters live in Nebraska.

The body is at Wichita Falls at the Albert's Funeral home, although funeral arrangements probably will not be made until further investigation, which is to continue Friday, Sheriff Browning said.

Vocational School Schedule Changed

A new schedule to meet the requirements of increasing enrollment at the downtown vocational school and of the classes in vocation being taught at the high school here, was formed Thursday night when teachers engaged in the instruction of vocational classes met with W. S. Rosamond, director, at the Austin school.

About 22 teachers participating in the vocational training school here attended the meeting and heard general plans for the school and of the progress various departments of the institution are making. It was reported that since the downtown vocational school opened a short time ago enrollment has doubled. Teachers in the school consist of regularly employed instructors in the public schools here, and of business and professional men and women of the city.

Special importance was attached to the work commenced in January with the start of the second semester of public school, when vocational courses were included in the regular curriculum. Students now in public school, it was pointed out, receive training of a technical nature so that it will be unnecessary for them to attend a special vocational school, as is maintained downtown.

The schedule worked out by the vocational faculty will be put into use Monday, Mr. Rosamond said.

Fay Brown, Reno county, and Howard King, Ford county, both former sheriffs, were charged with accepting $50 a week protection money from three bootlegging gangs whose operations extended throughout the Southwest. Forty-six other alleged liquor law violators also were indicted.

RUMMY GAME ENDS IN SUIT

PHILADELPHIA. — A friendly game of rummy between two young married women, developed into a free-for-all-fight, then ended in a lawsuit. Mrs. Alice Balter was declared winner when a jury ordered Mrs. Yetta Wasserman to pay her $1 damages. Mrs. Wasserman said that the fight started when Mrs. Balter threw an electric train at her, but Mrs. Balter convinced the jury that she was the injured party.

Woman Detective Shoots Man In Trap Set to Catch Blackmailer

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5. (AP)—E. J. Brockshire, 27, who picked up a decoy package used in an effort to capture a man said to have demanded $5,000 from a married woman and was shot in the leg during a struggle this afternoon with a woman private detective, was released from technical custody tonight. The shooting took place at a warehouse, where Brockshire is a storekeeper.

The woman detective, Miss Pauline Putnam, was thought by Brockshire to be a robber, he explained. "She pulled a pistol, said 'Stick 'em up' without showing a badge or anything, and I thought I was getting robbed," he said.

Orders were given to find and question the man said by the married woman to have demanded she give him $5,000, but assistant district attorneys said they probably could not file a charge against him. A search of Texas statutes failed to reveal a law under which he could be charged, they said.

The married woman, whose name was not disclosed, employed a private detective, J. H. Griffin, for whom Miss Putnam works, and after a conference with police officers agreed to help them set a trap for the man she said demanded the money.

Miss Putnam went to the office on the pretext of hunting for a job and had been talking with Brockshire, who had told her they had no jobs open. Lieutenant Claude Green was in the rear of the warehouse and Griffin in an automobile parked across the street.

The man the married woman said had demanded the money did not come into the building and was not in sight.

For an hour Miss Putnam remained there, saw Brockshire pass by the basket several times. At 3 o'clock he picked up the package. "I turned it over and saw 'Merry Christmas' written on it and I wondered what it was," he said. As soon as he picked it up Miss Putnam drew a .25 caliber pistol and demanded he hand her the package. "I gave it to her and then I grabbed her," Brockshire said.

A bullet struck Brockshire in the leg, but he struggled until Griffin and the police officer ran across the street. Before Brockshire was overpowered, Green likewise had been shot in the hand.

Gasoline Starts Flowing Through New Oklahoma-Kansas Pipe Line

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 5. (AP)—A stream of gasoline neared Kansas City tonight through an underground pipe line from Oklahoma refineries—marking inauguration of a new transportation system which some day may follow the principal highways of the nation to supply filling stations direct.

Motorists who have blown themselves blue in the face trying to clear a few feet of choked "gas" line was contemplating with awe the operation of the first unit of the world's longest gasoline line, an eight-inch welded steel tube reaching from Ponca City, Okla.

The pipe line, built by the Great Lakes Pipe Line company, is 252 miles long. Soon it will be extended to Chicago and Minneapolis. Nearly 1,000 miles of the entire 1,400-mile project have been completed.

Last Saturday the first consignment of gasoline was started northward. It is expected to reach here tomorrow to be run into tanks. It is hurried along its journey by the meas of pumping stations approximately 50 miles apart.

The maximum flow, 27,800 barrels daily or nearly 50,000 gallons an hour, would keep approximately 25,000 automobiles grinding away continuously at 38 miles an hour, the experts calculate.

The carrier system will transport gasoline runs for various refineries on a contract basis to distributing points to be handled through the existing channels to the motorist. Looking to the future, however, rome leaders of the industry foresee the day when a network of gasoline lines will parallel the main highways with connections to roadside filling stations.

Four other gasoline pipe lines are either in the process of construction or projected by major companies.

VATICAN CITY 'GOES MODERN'

Pope Pius to Broadcast Over Own Radio Feb. 12

(Copyright, 1931, by Associated Press)

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 5.—Scientific modernity and the venerated custom of ages will stand out in vivid contrast next Thursday when the new Vatican City wireless station will carry the voice of Pope Pius XI to millions of listeners throughout the world.

For Vatican City, with all its centuries of tradition and age old laws has gone modern.

In this small state where Swiss guards still wear costumes designed by Michel Angelo, where buildings rest on mediaeval foundations like fortresses, there is a new railroad station, radio, the most modern of printing plants, automatic telephones and all else that indicates progress up to the minute.

Aviator in Training

Airplanes have not yet invaded Vatican City, but the pope is known to hope that some day aerial service may be established. Already an aviator is in training.

There is not a nook or corner of this city of the popes that does not present the blending of the old and the ultra new.

The picturesque Swiss guards still carry halberts, the cardinals wear their historic red hats and the great bronze door, the "Porta Santa" is opened only once each 25 years but there is the world's newest coinage of money and Senator Guglielmo Marconi's latest achievements in the radio telephone.

The pope, although upholding the dignity and traditions of the church nevertheless accepted modifications of life which science offered to facilitate his religious mission. He quickly adopted Signor Marconi's idea of a private radiophonic set for each of his nuncios so he might talk with his diplomatic representatives throughout the world.

Siesta in Auto

For himself he had installed a dictating machine to speed the movement of his voluminous correspondence.

Prelates, in robes designed centuries ago, converse in Latin, but dictate to stenographers who use modern typewriters.

Electric light from the new vatican power house lights the dark corners of St. Peter's church, founded by the Emperior Constantine 16 centuries ago.

One curious contrast is the pope's habit of having a siesta each afternoon. It is a custom a thousand years old in Southern countries, but the pope takes his little doze in his automobile.

Barber Supply House To Open Branch Here

A wholesale barber and beauty parlor supply business is to be located in Wichita Falls upon the completion of quarters here, according to an announcement Thursday. W. L. Buck and company, with headquarters in Oklahoma City, will locate its eighth wholesale distribution house at 612 Eighth street, and will carry a complete line of supplies for barber shops and beauty parlor operators.

H. L. Roeblin is to manage the branch here, and with Mrs. Roeblin has already taken up quarters here at the William Mary hotel. A lease with G. D. Anderson for the building here has been closed and the firm will open for business upon the completion of the remodeling of the place, which is now under way.

W. L. Buck and company operates six distributing houses in Oklahoma and one at Amarillo. The branch here is to have one traveling salesman and the distributor here is to fill all orders received from the territory surrounding Wichita Falls.

The location of the supply house here is a result of efforts of L. Bernstein, Wichita Falls real estate man.

Alanreed Bank Suspect Identified

PAMPA, Texas, Feb. 5. (AP)—Jim Bryant, who was shot through the abdomen yesterday and seriously wounded when he misunderstood commands of two men who robbed the First State bank at Alanreed of about $2,100, today identified a man held in jail here as his assailant. Previously, he had identified another suspect held here as the other of the two robbers who entered the bank.

District Attorney Raymond Allred said he would withhold filing charges until Bryant's condition had been definitely determined.

District Judge Clifford Braly called a grand jury to meet Saturday to investigate the robbery.

Sheriff Lon Blanscet said the $2,100.65 recovered by officers last night from the home of one of the suspects arrested would not be returned to the bank until the grand jury had investigated the case.

Details of the wedding plans were not divulged Thursday, but it was hinted that the marriage would take place on Sunday.

The place, it was explained, is "on the border."

MYATT TELLS DEATH FEARS

Murder Suspect on Stand In Haskell

HASKELL, Texas, Feb. 5.—W. H. Myatt, widely known Jones county rancher, Thursday afternoon told a jury in district court here that he shot J. E. Saunders, his neighbor and old-time enemy, because he feared for his own life.

Myatt, on trial for the third time since Saunders was shot to death near Nugent in 1928, said Saunders had threatened to kill him, had killed a mule and a hog belonging to him, and had cut his pasture fence.

Defense witnesses Thursday testified that the slain man had a violent temper and had been known to beat a 12-year-old boy, knock an old man to the ground, and strike a woman.

Actual newspaper clippings tell why thousands of safety-seeking motorists have welcomed the protection of the General Blowout-Proof Dual Balloon

400,000 casualties yearly due to tire blowouts, punctures and skidding! And most of them with tires that looked good! Emergencies that faced others yesterday may confront you today.

Here, where we enjoy summer motoring all year 'round, protection from tire failures is doubly needed. Here, as everywhere, motorists in increasing thousands have welcomed the positive safety of the General Blowout-Proof Dual Balloon.

As a result of the extreme low pressures, the Dual Balloon affords full protection from the sudden impacts that damage ordinary tires. Likewise, its construction makes it free from internal heat and friction which cause flex-breaks and blowouts in tires that are built for higher pressures.

True low pressure provides a better, surer grip of the road. Traction is certain and quick whether you are making an emergency stop or an emergency get-away. The security of the car and its passengers is multiplied many times over.

Come in and see the remarkably low pressures for the Dual Balloon compared to all other makes. It's an easy way to distinguish the genuine Blowout-Proof tire from any substitutes. We will gladly demonstrate . . . bring your car around today.

Pneumonia

While pneumonia is probably the most dangerous of all acute contagious diseases in this country, it is rare among the underfed races, such as the Chinese. If you are either normal in weight, or slightly below normal, there is very little chance of your dying from pneumonia, as 90 per cent of the people dying from this disease are overweight and, at the same time, enervated.

Most deaths occur among the overfed who have been enervating themselves with worry or mental overwork while failing to take the proper amount of exercise. Usually, when those underweight contract pneumonia they recover readily, as the body does not have to burn up the excessive fatty tissue.

Pneumonia occurs most frequently in the winter months of January, February and March, and is hardest on the very old or the very young. Of the middle aged persons, about twice as many men as women have this disease. Many people have learned to fear the so-called "pneumonia weather" or weather which turns cold and thaws quickly. The best way to avoid pneumonia is to bring your weight down to normal, exercise daily, and avoid the enervation produced by overwork, late hours and indiscriminate eating.

That which is known as secondary bronchial pneumonia follows an inflammation of the bronchial tubes. The onset is slow. There is a cough, rapid breath, hot skin and fever. Bronchitis precedes this type of pneumonia, but rarely comes before lobar pneumonia.

In lobar pneumonia the onset is very sudden, coming first with a chill which may last half an hour, followed by a hgh fever, rapid hearthing, headache, pain over the side of the chest, and a distressing, painful cough. At first the cough is dry, but later pus-like material is raised. Three-fourths of the cases have a characteristic pain which becomes worse as patient tries to take a deep breath.

If you develop pneumonia, be sure to call in a doctor who uses the new treatment of diathermy. This is an electric treatment which can be given in the home through the use of portable high frequency apparatus. Pads are placed on the front and back of the congested area and the diathermy sends a penetrating heat to the inside of the lungs, the tissues being heated several degrees higher than normal. Only a very little warmth may be felt on the skin, as the heat is formed in the tissues. This internal heating treatment is effective in causing the throwing off of the pus and increasing the supply of blood to the tissues. During the first few days no food of any kind should be used, although plenty of water is essential.

If only a slight fever persists after five days of the fasting regimen, it is a good plan to start the patient with limited amounts of cooked non-starchy vegetables. No highly starchy food or protein food should be used until the fever has entirely disappeared. The bowels must be kept clean with two or three enemas daily, and warm sponge baths should be used every hour during the day and night. Plenty of fresh air should be allowed to circulate about the bed. Keep the windows partly open, and warm the air with an electric heater, steam heat, or a fire which discharges it fumes through a flue. Do not use an open gas fire to produce the heat. The patient should be kept between pure woolen blankets to conserve the body's heat. This treatment will be found very effective in lessening the danger of pneumonia.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Gall Bladder Trouble

Question—G. D. asks: "What is the cause of gall bladder trouble, and what foods should one avoid?"

Answer—There are many forms of gall bladder trouble, but outside of those caused by injuries the causes of all gall bladder troubles come from the intestines. Sluggishness of bowel elimination is undoubtedly the underlying cause of all such troubles. A fasting diet should be used at first, and then for a long time all foods of a high caloric value should be avoided and the patient use plenty of bulky green vegetables to insure good bowel elimination.

Grapefruit and Milk

Question—Mrs. W. C. B. asks: "Is a grapefruit and a pint of milk god for a steady breakfast diet"

Answer—Grapefruit combines well with milk. This combination may be used in place of any other meal in the day.

Talking in Sleep

Question—O. S. writes: "I have a habit of talking in my sleep. They say I talk quite clearly and sensibly. I do not eat before going to bed and it does not take long to get to sleep. Perhaps it is because I like to walk alone and think, while I hold imaginary conversations with myself. Is there anything I can do to overcome this sleep-talking?"

Answer—Such troubles are usually caused by the use of wrong food combinations at the evening meal. With most people, the food they have eaten for dinner does not completely leave the stomach until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. Try living on such combinations as I recommend in my weekly menus. If this does not bring about a complete cure I would then also advise you to see a psychologist who may be able to help you.

KIRKWOOD AND HAGEN PERFORM FOR WICHITANS AT 1:30 P.M.

LOCAL PROS TO BATTLE STARS

Trick Shot Exhibition To Follow Match

Local golf enthusiasts will be afforded the chance of a lifetime this afternoon when Joe Kirkwood and Walter Hagen, outstanding professionals in the nation, will play Bill Strachan and Phil Hesler, local pros in an 18-hole match on the Country club course, starting at 1:30. The visiting stars are playing exhibition matches all over the southern part of the United States and included Wichita Falls in their visit at the request of Tommy Cochran, local amateur golfer.

Locals Have Advantage

The foursome will tee off from the clubhouse promptly at 1:30 this afternoon. As the visiting club wielders are unfamiliar with the course, the match is likely to be close. Both Hesler and Strachan are acquainted with every yard of the Country club and will have that advantage over the famous pair. Hesler is one of the foremost pros in the state and his partner is recognized as one of the best in this section of the state.

Joe Kirkwood will furnish the fans with an added attraction with his trick shot performance, which will begin at 5 o'clock on the 18th green. The hard driving little artist visited the local course a few years ago and made a sensational debut with his uncanny shots. Kirkwood has mastered several new tricks and is expected to reveal his whole repertoire of weird golfery. Such novelties as driving while blindfolded, left handed drives, and just nearly anything will be accomplished by the golf magician. His ability to make a golf ball slice, hook, or do everything but talk will also be demonstrated.

Hagen Is Jones' Rival

Walter Hagen is one of the most widely known golfers in the nation, having hogged the limelight before Bobby Jones came into prominence and at one time being a serious rival to the Atlantan for the mythical title of the foremost golfer. The stocky mashie swinger is still one of golfdom's most popular figures. Local golfers who wonder what the 1931 player is wearing will get a good idea by looking at Hagen. He is hailed as the most up-to-date dresser on the links.

The opponents of the visiting duo have been getting in shape for the match and will be in fair trim for the famous ones. An admission price of $1.50 will be charged, the Country club offering no guarantee to the golfers but giving them all gate receipts. Hagen and Kirkwood are expected to breeze into town Friday morning.

Harry M. Blackmer May End 'Exile'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (UP)—Harry M. Blackmer, Denver oil millionaire, self-exiled in Europe since he became involved in the Teapot Dome oil cases, may soon be able to return home. He has lived in France since 1927.

Reports that Blackmer has offered the government a substantial sum to compromise the income tax suit pending against him were confirmed today by the United Press.

Government officials are seriously considering his offer of approximately half the $8,000,000 which income tax officials are seeking to collect.

In district court of appeals today, Chief Justice Robb indicated the court would render an early decision in the contempt appeal argued there this week. Unless appealed, this would remove the last barrier to Blackmer's return regardless of how the case is decided.

If found guilty of the contempt charges, Blackmer could either forfeit the $60,000 fine or appeal to the U. S. supreme court. In the former case, he would then be free to return as he could not be arrested twice for the same offense, refusal to return from France and testify for the government.

More than $8,000,000 in stocks and bonds owned by the expatriate millionaire is being held under government liens.

State Hospital Here To Get Special Fund

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 5. (AP)—A bill making emergency appropriations approximating $1,000,000 will be introduced in the house tomorrow, Representative Sanders of Nacogdoches, chairman of the appropriations committee, said today.

The appropriations committee is expected to start next week working on appropriations for the 1931-33 biennium.

The emergency bill will carry appropriations for departments, educational institutions, state college summer schools and eleemosynary institutions. Appropriations included the Wichita Falls State hospital, general support and maintenance, $50,000.

Commuters Forced To Swim in Australia

BRISBANE, Australia, Feb. 5. (AP)—It has been raining so hard in southern Queensland for the past week that some commuters from the suburbs said they had to swim from their homes to the railroad station and change there from bathing suits to business clothes before they went to work.

Sixteen inches of rain have fallen in the last 24 hours and many homes have been evacuated in the low lying districts.

Lefty Groves Awarded Damage Suit Verdict

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5. (AP)—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, pitching ace of the Philadelphia Athletics, today won a $100,000 damage suit that had been filed against him. He was sued for that amount by R. Green Annan, Cumberland, Md., for the loss of an eye while on a gunning trip with Grove and others in Maryland in 1928.

Annan alleged that Grove was negligent in firing at quail, some of the bird shot striking Annan. The jury deliberated less than two hours and brought a verdict for the defendant.

Wichita Falls Pros to Resist Invasion of Renowned Golfers

Bill Strachan (left), professional of the Weeks Park club, and Phil Hesler, Wichita Falls Golf and Country club pro, will defend Wichita Falls' golfing honors in an exhibition match today with two of the country's most famous club wielders. Joe Kirkwood and Walter Hagen are the invaders. The match will be held on the Country club course and will be followed by an exhibition by Kirkwood.

TOURNEY OPENS AT HARLINGEN

Espinosa and Wood Lead Warm-Up Round

HARLINGEN, Texas, Feb. 5. (AP)—The Texas border country opened its first open golf tournament here today with best ball matches, professionals forming the majority of teams.

In the "warming-up" play, Al Espinosa, Chicago, and Craig Wood, New Jersey, came in first with 30-35 on the 72 par course. A strong wind from the gulf was blowing over the course on which other preliminary matches will be played tomorrow before the beginning of pro-amateur competition Saturday.

Following Al Espinosa came his brother, Abe, winner of the Texas open last Sunday. With his partner, Frank Walsh, he turned in a 31-36 for a 66. Harry Cooper, Chicago, and Wiffy Cox, Brooklyn, went out in 31 but took a 38 coming in. The best score on the incoming course was a 32 by Denny Shute, Ohio champion, and Tony Manero of New York.

Four teams tied at 67 for third place. These were Johnny Golden, Connecticut, and Jack Forrester, New Jersey; Mike Turnesa, New York, and Eddie Stoke, Denver; two Texas shooters, Francis Schieder and Ray Mangraum, Dallas; Denny Shute and Tony Manero.

All of the games were fast in spite of the one-sided scores.

S. M. U. Runs High Fever Over Cage Outlook for First Time in History

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 5.—Strange things are happening out on the hilltop here. Southern Methodist university, normally a football hotbed to the exclusion of any and all other branches of sport, has developed a serious case of basket ball-itis.

Having gone all these years without winning a title on the hardboards, the Mustangs have decided it is about time. Their fervor reached its highest pitch Monday night, when the veteran Pony five hung up its fourth straight Southwest conference win at the expense of Texas Christian, 36 to 33.

Doubly Important

The victory was important for two reasons. First, it placed the Methodists well ahead of the class, leaving them almost with a high road to the championship. Secondly, it paid off the mortgage on the old homestead. The capacity crowd that saw the Mustangs nose out their arch rivals put basket ball in the class of paying sports for the first time in Southern Methodist history.

Critics who saw Coach St. Clair's five defeat the favored Christians were impressed with the teamwork of the Mustangs. Their starting line-up, composed of veterans, clearly outplayed the youthful Frogs.

Fears Two Teams

In surveying his chances at the title, coach St. Clair admits he fears only two teams, the Texas Aggies and Arkansas, neither of whom he has met. The Aggies tossed something of a bombshell into conference ranks Tuesday night, when they overwhelmed Baylor, 31 to 12, at College Station.

The Mustangs' clean slate is certain to remain that way through this week, as they are not again scheduled. Baylor meets T. C. U. Saturday night at Fort Worth and Texas plays the Aggies the same night at College Station in the only bouts programmed. The leaders' next appearance will be against Texas next Tuesday at Austin.

Conference standing:

Teams—	W.	L.	Pct.
Southern Methodist	4	0	1.000
Arkansas	5	3	.625
Texas Christian	3	2	.600
Texas A. & M.	2	2	.500
Baylor	2	3	.400
Rice	2	5	.278
Texas	1	4	.200

ALLEN AVERS

By JACK (RED) ALLEN

Today stands a good chance of being a red letter day among the local golfers. The appearance of Kirkwood and Hagen on the Country club course will not be available for the fans every day in the year. Many of the golfers who infest the local courses will flock to the Country club grounds to see two of the greatest golfers in the nation.

Especially interesting will be the trick shot performance by Joe Kirkwood after the match with the local professionals, Strachan and Hesler. Joe knows as many tricks as a billiard shark and will no doubt draw the admiring eyes of the gallery with his uncanny wizardy.

A serious muddle looms in the county basket ball race. The round robin schedule ended in a three-way tie. The playoff is so arranged that all three teams can still be tied after the playoff has been completed. Instead of letting one team draw a bye and the other two battle for the right to meet the team that received a free ticket to the finals, the playoff finds each team playing the other two teams one time. If three teams win one and lose one the situation would be where it had started.

Cashion eked out a victory over the Valley View cagers and took the lead in the playoff. The Harvesters will play Clara this week and should they win and then Clara later defeat Cashion, all the teams would have one victory and one defeat.

But Clara has a plan whereby it will be unnecessary to go any further with the playoff tourney. Clara proposes that Cashion be ruled out because of playing an ineligible man, thereby forfeiting that particular conference game to Clara in which the Greyhounds were bested by the Cashion crew. The defeat, handed the Dogs, was the only one in the conference schedule and should it be forfeited, Clara would win the round robin play with five victories and no defeats—a good plan—for Clara.

Next Tuesday night will find a grudge battle hogging the spotlight in the Southwest conference basket ball race. Texas university and the A. & M. quintets will meet on the court at College Station. In reality the game will be a battle to keep out of the cellar, but traditional rivalry will be involved also. Fresh from the victory over Baylor, the Aggies hold a dope advantage over the fighting Orange and White crew. What good is dope in a hair-pulling battle between the Orange and White and the Farmers?

Jim Galloway Again Wins Bowling Trophy

Jim Galloway recaptured the J. L. Art bowling trophy Thursday night by beating Harry Davis on the Spudder alleys in two three-game sets, 659 to 625 and 565 to 548. Any bowler may challenge the holder of the prize; and if he wins; he must meet all challengers. The erstwhile Spudder manager was the first winner of the diamond studded watch fob.

North Carolina State college is to have a southern conference boxing team for the first time this year.

MEMPHIS COPS COUNTY TITLE

Cyclone Defeats Turkey High Five, 19-10

Special to The Record News.

LAKEVIEW, Texas, Feb. 5.—For the first time in 10 years the Memphis basketeers have captured a county class A championship. The Cyclone breezed through the defense of the Turkey five tonight on the local court, 19-10 to win the round robin championship of class A competition.

Barton led the attack of the victors with eight points and Stargel was close behind with five markers, Meacham was the outstanding performer for the Turkey battalion, getting four points and proving a power in the defense. The Memphis tossers allowed the Turks only two points in the last half, the score at the intermission reading 13-8.

Lakeview High school recently won the class B championship of the county. Before Memphis has a clear claim to the title it must defeat the Longview loopers. The playoff for the championship will start Monday night at Lakeview continuing the following evening on the Estelline court. If both teams win one game, a coin will be flipped to determine the scene of the deciding battle.

Cy Leland May Go to Stanford

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5. (AP)—Cy Leland, T. C. U. football and track star and one of the fastest dash men in the country, may enter Stanford university within the next few days to complete his college work, it was learned today. Leland has long contemplated doing graduate work at one of the west coast schools and the failure of Richard "Red" Oliver to pass enough work to be eligible for the T. C. U. track squad this spring has caused him to make inquiries about entering Stanford.

Word that Oliver had failed to pass the required work was confirmed at the university. There is a possibility, however, that Oliver may be eligible for football next fall if he passes enough work in the spring semester.

Memphis Cagers Blast Estelline Title Hopes

MEMPHIS, Texas, Feb. 5.—The Memphis Cyclone cagers defeated the Estelline Cubs at Newlin Wednesday night in a conference game, the score being 28 to 24. The Cyclone started off in the lead, scoring 3 points in the first quarter to Estelline's none, and in the second and third each team made 9 points, Memphis making one more point in the last quarter. Lawrence of the Cubs, and Durrett and Stargel of the Cyclone all three tied for 9 points each, with Hays of the Cubs close behind with 8 points.

The defeat put Estelline out of the running for county championship, this being the second time they have met defeat at the hands of the Cyclone in the round robin contest.

QUANAH DUMPS INERT COYOTES

Wichitans Play Raggedly In 26-16 Game

Playing ragged basket ball, the Coyotes drew the short end of a 26 to 16 score Thursday night in combat with the Quanah Indians on the Coyote court. The Pack was decidely off form and failed to cope with the machine-like play of the gold and black clad basketeers.

A slow start characterized the contest, both teams feeling out the defense of their opponents in the first quarter. The count at the quarter was 3-all. Hall and Braziel brought their team to the fore in the second quarter and the Quanahites drew away, leading, 12 to 5, at the intermission. The fight waxed warm in the third stanza, but the visitors maintained their lead of seven points and increased it in the final period.

Coach Stallworth's Indians used a fast breaking offense that caught the Coyotes flat footed. A rapid fire pass combination from Hicks to Braziel to Hall worked like a charm to give the visitors many shots at the goals. Coach Barry Holton's charges resorted to the slow breaking offense to advance the ball. A zone defense was the most effective part of the Coyote play. Braziel led the Indian scalping raid with nine points. Faircloth scintillated at guard for the winners. Janeway and Scarbrough were the Coyote ringleaders, the former getting six points for high score for his team.

The score:

Mrs. H. D. Sterrett In Tourney Semi-Finals

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 5. (AP)—Mrs. H. D. Sterrett, Hutchinson, Kan., went into semi-finals of the Miami Beach women's golf tournament today, with a two-up victory over Mrs. L. G. Riley, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Sterrett, champion of the tournament in 1927, and 1929, had a medal score of 87 as she led the favorites. Miss Peggy Wattles, Buffalo, N. Y., who took medal honors with a brilliant sub-par 78, had an easy time to win 8 and 7 from Mrs. Joseph Lawlor, White Plains, N. Y.

Another easy victory was that of Miss Ariel Vilas, Chicago, who played through the 11th hole to defeat Mrs. L. A. Young, Detroit, 9 and 7.

RELAY SCHEDULED

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 5. (UP)—Announcement was made today that the University of Missouri has scheduled a dual mile relay match with Oklahoma. The match will be run in the K. C. A. C. invitational indoor meet at Kansas City on Feb. 14.

Judge Landis Absent in First Round Of Trial to Test His Power as Czar

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—In the same federal court where he leaped to international fame by nonchalantly fining the Standard Oil company of Indiana, $29,000,000 in a rebate case back in 1907, Kenesaw Mountain Landis today fought as a defendant against a legal move to test his dictatorship over the ranks of organized baseball.

The case which threatened to usurp his power, was brought by the Milwaukee club of the American association, which sought an injunction to restrain Commissioner Landis from further interfering with the movements of Fred Bennett, outfielder. The suit was filed when Commissioner Landis ordered Milwaukee to return Bennett to the St. Louis club of the American league on the grounds his movements from club to club in the St. Louis farm system were in violation of the major-minor league agreement.

Landis Absent

Commissioner Landis failed to appear personally in court today, leaving his case solely up to his counsel, George Miller, Chicago. The plaintiff was represented by Guy Peters, another Chicagoan, while Bennett, seeking a free agency with Commissioner Landis' help, was in court and represented by David Stansbury, Chicago.

Most of the opening session today was "mild," being taken up almost wholly with a great mass of evidence in the form of stipuations designed to prove the plaintiff's case that Landis over-stepped his bounds in the case, and to prove the defendant's plea that Bennett's release on option during 1928 to 1930 was contrary to organized baseball rules.

Witnesses Called

L. E. McEvoy, vice president of the St. Louis Browns; Ernest S. Barnard, president of the American league; William Freil, business manager of the Browns; William Killifer, manager of the Browns; Marty Berghammer, manager of the Milwaukee club; Louis Nahin, president of the Milwaukee club, were called to testify by the plaintiff.

All but Barnard were questioned to show that Bennett was a willing party to the optional agreements by which he was sent to the Tulsa, Wichita Falls, St. Louis and Milwaukee clubs. Barnard succeeded only in answering questions as to his baseball experience at Cleveland before becoming head of the American league when the defense ended his testimony by objecting successfully to the plaintiff's questioning of the major-minor league farm system. The plaintiff sought to show through Barnard the farm system was common in organized baseball.

West Point Abolishes Spring Grid Training

WEST POINT, N. Y., Feb. 5. (AP)—Spring training of Army's football squad has been abolished, Maj. Phillip B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at the United States Military academy, announced today following a meeting of the athletic council.

The action of the council was based on the theory that each sport has a definite season and that the spring months should be devoted to activities appropriate to that period of the year, Major Fleming said.

MAX SCHMELING UNDER ARREST

Uhlan Nabbed for Attack On Process Server

SUMMITT, N. J., Feb. 5. (AP)—Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion, was arrested today on a capias writ growing out of an alleged assault on Joseph Rahl Jr., 21, process server of New York.

Rahl stated in his petition that Schmeling was a German citizen and was planning to leave the country. The bond is designed to keep him within jurisdiction of the court to answer Rahl's action.

Rhal charges Schmeling threw him down a flight of steps in a New York hotel earlier this week when he attempted to serve a subpoena in another case.

MAX BAER MEETS LOUGHRAN TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—The question whether Max Baer, the big Californian, is the youthful hope of the heavyweight division or just another preliminary fighter, will be answered tomorrow night in Madison Square garden—barring accidents, long and short counts, and fouls.

The lanky walloper from Livermore, Calif., tackles Tommy Loughran, former lightheavyweight champion and quite a heavyweight until he ran in Jack Sharkey's smack to the temple, in the feature 10 round bout.

Baer has been training at an outdoor camp and will scale about 199 pounds. Loughran has shaved his weight to 163.

The University of Georgia Bulldogs turned in a record of 48 victories, 18 losses and one tie contest in major sports events of 1930.

Virginia Van Wie, vacationing in Florida, said "Glenna Collett is to women's golf what Bobby Jones is to the men's game."

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—A further advance in cotton at the opening today met a little more Southern selling and realizing, but offerings were absorbed on moderate reactions and prices firmed up again later on continued trade buying and covering. May contracts after selling off from 10.90 to 10.80 advanced to 10.97 in the late trading of 15 points net higher and closed at 10.95. The general market closed firm at net advances of 13 to 18 points.

Local brokers said there were more or less trade buying in the near months during the entire day, while some buying of later deliveries was attributed to brokers who are credited with sometimes operating for the cooperative interests. Reports of a strengthening statistical position of Indian cotton in India and the recent steadier ruling of Egyptian have been mentioned as probably contributing factors on the advance which at the high prices of today amounted to about $6.00 per bale from the low records touched during the middle of last September. Houses with Japanese connections were credited with buying here again today and there were reiterated reports of prospects of increased activity in the Japanese mills beginning next April.

Liverpool reported continental and Bombay buying in that market, with contracts scarce. Exports today 14,626 making 4,618,222 so far this season. Port receipts 18,531. U. S. port stocks 4,045,340.

Futures closed firm 13 to 18 points higher; spot steady; middling 10.80.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—The cotton market developed considerable activity in today's trading here. Prices after a good initial advance in sympathy with much better Liverpool cables than due soon turned downward. The decline was due at first to profit taking by recent buyers but later there was considerable selling by ring traders to bring about a reaction. The offerings were fairly absorbed by good trade buying but weakness in stocks later gave values a more decided downward slant. The decline carried active months down 10 to 14 points from the early highs to levels unchanged to 5 points below the previous close. The market again became very active in the later trading on active buying which ran shorts to cover and resulted in new highs 17 points above the lows. The close was very steady at or near the highest the general market showing net advances for the day of 10 to 17 points.

Liverpool came in 6 to 7 penny points better than due and private cables stated that the Continent and Bombay bought and that contracts were scarce. Manchester reported a fair cloth inquiry but uncertainty as to deliveries due to the strike restricted business. First trades here showed gains of 9 to 10 points with May at 10.92 and October at 11.40. Prices soon eased off on profit taking despite fair trade buying and by the end of the first hour March had dropped to 10.84 and May to 11.33 down 7 to 8 points from the early highs.

Prices continued to ease off during the rest of the morning on realizing and selling by ring traders the decline being helped by weakness in stocks and by early afternoon, May had dropped to 10.78 and October to 11.30 or 10 to 14 points below the early highs.

The market became quite active in the late trading and prices were firm. There was active buying both by local and New York traders and shorts were run in vigorously. Prices made new highs with May at 10.95 and October at 11.47 up 17 points from the lows. The close was at or near the top with May at 10.93 up 10 points net and October at 11.47 up 17 points for the day.

Port receipts 18,531; for week 100,313; for season 7,613,383. Last season 7,578,430. Exports 10,626; for week 129,325; for season 4,482,337; last season 4,941,095. Port stocks 4,189,281; last year 2,436,635. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 73,818; last year 120,182; spot sales at southern markets 14,791; last year 8,597.

Futures closed very steady at net advances of 10 to 17 points.

Stock Prices Recede Orderly When Emboldened Bears Attack Openly

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (US)—The stock market today was subjected to considerable pressure, particularly among the leading issues.

The bears, perhaps emboldened by months of outright or partial success, openly attacked the market, concentrating on United States Steel. The entire list yielded, although a setback was entirely in order in many issues in view of recent fair-sized advances.

No sustained upturn was to be expected under prevailing industrial circumstances, with the additional handicap of Washington uncertainties. Thus, the groundwork was already laid for a professional endeavor to unsettle the market.

Actually, the bears were only partially successful, this being demonstrated by moderate general average setback among the major number of stocks. They did, however, succeed in discouraging those pools and other professionals who recently have been enjoying a half-hearted holiday among the Specialties.

The withdrawal of such professional bulls had an appreciable effect on sentiment, since the strength of Specialties had been sufficient to cover the general market's lethargic movement.

Fundamentals were only moderately changed, although continued strength of government bonds, which in some instances have recovered almost their entire recent loss, was an important criterion of the passing nervousness in highest financial circles. The general opinion now prevails that the soldier's bonus will be compromised, with distribution of an amount below the veterans' expectations but still of sizeable proportions to the money market. The latter, however, continued extremely easy, with time funds declining to a new low record rate of 1 per cent.

Steel common assumed leadership for the day, on standpoint of activity and price decline, declining over two points under persistent hammering of the bears, particularly one of the most widely publicized bear operators. It is questionable, however, whether this selling was purely short selling or liquidation of long stock, with the bear broker being utilized as camouflage.

Steel common has been noticeably heavy for several weeks and its failure to advance more aggressively even during periods of general market firmness had proven one of the most discouraging factors in the market. Other stocks however, followed Steel in its weakness only part-way.

American Can was under pressure, confirming statement here that its strength the previous day was chiefly the result of activity on the part of those professionals anxious to stimulate the entire list. The outstanding performer of the day, among the active issues, was Gillette, which advanced more than two points, and the only one of the 15 most active stocks to show a net gain.

This stock has recently come under new and powerful sponsorship, which has as a base of operations a sizeable short interest. The biggest bears on this stock, those who sold it close to 100, have long since covered.

Few stocks were able to resist the general heaviness. Case Threshing, which had been widely touted, held within comparatively narrow range, although it was evident that a plentiful supply of the stock was available even on moderate price bulges. Eastman Kodak declined four points in the face of anticipated announcement with respect to its new film. As stated here previously, the highest grade buying of Eastman probably will develop only as it reacts. Its recent sponsorship has been speculative.

Otis Elevator continued under pressure with offerings induced by knowledge of its relatively high ratio to earnings and the low return on the $2.50 dividend, coupled with increasing competition. However, Otis is one of the favorite investment issues of important interests, who probably will be on the buying side should it continue to react.

It was reported that sizeable demand exists under current prices for New York dock preferred. This company will shortly acquire a square block of New York City real estate.

Checker Cab assumed prominence in the late trading through a sharp run-up which was attributed to renewed activities by interests closely identified with the company.

General Motors held close to its previous price despite its income statement showing little over the $3 dividend earned last year from operations alone.

Bethlehem Steel followed Steel Common in its weakness. Bethlehem has been under heavy bear pressure for months and it is quite obvious that unless earnings improve the $6 dividend cannot be maintained. However, it is interesting to note that the Mellon interests have become large stockholders in Bethlehem through the McClintic-Marshall absorption.

Radio was unable to make much progress against the list, but its friends continued to express optimism over its prospects, regardless of the known facts of pure earnings for all of 1930.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5. (AP)—Slightly heavier offerings met a fair demand on the cash grain market today. Heavy receipts of wheat from country shippers were reported going into storage for the farm board agencies. No. 1 hard wheat was probably worth 77½@80c, the latter being the farm board figure here, basis delivered T. C. P. freight paid. Estimated receipts: Wheat 41 cars; corn, 18; oats, 1; barley, 1, and sorghums, 11 cars.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Extensive moisture relief promised for tonight or tomorrow in domestic drouth regions imparted a downward trend to grain prices today. Weakness of securities counted also as a bear influence. Adding to the weight on values were advices that Russia was again offering wheat abroad on a large scale.

Wheat closed irregular, ⅝c off to ⅝c up, corn ¼@⅝c down, oats at ¼c decline to an equal gain, and provisions showing 2 to 20 cents setback.

Indications of a breakup of drouth put wheat under considerable selling from the start, and kept buying support minimized. However, the market was of a two-sided character, with intermittent rallies based largely on 20,000,000 bushels reduction of estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus the curtailed Argentine estimates were ascribed to a wet harvest.

Despite prospective stormy weather likely to have a bullish rather than a bearish effect, the corn market gave way with wheat. Plowing for corn was reported in Illinois, Indiana and Nebraska. Oats displayed relative strength, with offerings scant.

Provisions averaged lower as a result of packers selling.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (US)—While Broomhall forecast an increase in Argentine shipments for the week of 165,000 bushels to 3,675,000 bushels, he added that selling pressure was not acute, further he confirmed more damage in that country because of wet harvest and his agent reduced the exportable surplus estimate from 200,000,000 bushels to 180,000,000 bushels.

Sanford Evans says there has been a general deficiency in precipitation in the prairie provinces of Canada since the freeze up date about Nov. 15. The average precipitation in December was 46 per cent below normal and in January 68 per cent below normal. The data is based on reports of 13 stations. He adds that considerable importance must be attached to the deficiency because of the scarcity of moisture reserves at the end of the 1930 season.

Nat C. Murray estimates the exportable surplus in Canada as of Feb. 1 at 220,000,000 bushels of wheat compared with 202,000,000 bushels at the same time a year ago.

Export demand for Canadian wheat today was moderate and sales of 300,000,000 bushels of Manitobas were reported.

Cash corn basis was unchanged to ¼c lower. Shipping sales were 38,000 bushels and there were bookings of 67,000 bushels of which 60,000 bushels was from other markets. Receipts were 109 cars.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 5. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Moderate activity developed on hogs at prices unevenly steady to 15c higher. The chief stimulating influence was an improved demand for fresh pork. St. Louis had a top of $8.05. Offerings were around 97,000.

RURAL SCHOOL VOTE CALLED

Four Districts to Decide Tax Question

Special to The Record News.

OLD GLORY, Texas, Feb. 5.—Trustees of Old Glory rural high common school district No. 4 have ordered an election for Saturday, Feb. 7, to determine whether a majority of property taxpayers desire to spread the indebtedness of the common school districts of Old Glory, Hooker, Brandenburg and New Hope; and also to determine whether the board of trustees of the Old Glory rural high school district shall be authorized to levy, assess and collect annually a tax to create a sinking fund to take care of interest and to pay off bonds when due.

The four rural school districts were consolidated Oct. 8, 1930, the new school being located at Old Glory. On Dec. 20, 1930, taxpayers cast a favorable vote for the erection of a modern eight-room brick school building, a contract for which will be let this month.

Unemployed Warned Out of East Texas

HENDERSON, Texas, Feb. 5. (UP)—A warning was issued to hordes of unemployed who have been swarming to this city today that all jobs created by the oil boom have been filled.

NEW GUSHERS IN EAST TEXAS

Joiner Field Adds Two New Producers

HENDERSON, Texas, Feb. 5. (UP)—Two new producers were added to the East Texas oil field today, each estimated for a production of 5,000 to 8,000 barrels daily.

H. L. Hunt No. 1 Ashby swabbed in for a good producer in the Joiner field late today. It was preceded a few hours by Shaw Oil Co. No. 1 Ashby, also in the Joiner field. Six more wells in the field are expected to be brought in during the next few days.

Three new tests, bringing the total in Gregg county to 12, were announced today at Longview. A seven-acre tract off-setting the Lathrop well was sold to Stuart Gilliam, Fort Worth independent, for $600 an acre cash and $1,000 in oil per acre. A well will be sunk at once. A 16-acre plot one and a half miles north of the Moncrieff-Farrell-Arkansas Fuel Oil No. 1 Lathrop was purchased by Cranfill Reynolds and company today. Shelby Oil and Gas company of Tulsa, announced a well would be spudded in shortly in the southeast corner of Gregg county.

Drilling operations in the Mamie Hammond test, eight miles northwest of Longview, were temporarily suspended late today at a depth of 3005 feet. Operators did not announce the reason for the delay but it was believed for the purpose of making final arrangements for drilling it to completion. The well has been logging closely with the Lathrop test, one of the biggest in the field.

Auction Bridge made Simple!

Lesson No. 4

Each Of The Bridge Players . . .

HAS 13 cards, so there are thirteen tricks. The first six taken by either side constitute their book. These six count nothing toward the game, but tricks taken in excess of the book, called the odd tricks, are the ones which count and the only ones which are referred to in the bidding.

Each suit played as trump has a different value, so odd tricks in No Trump count 10 each; Spades, 9 each; Hearts, 8 each; Diamonds, 7 each; and Clubs, 6 each. ("Manner of Bidding" tomorrow.)

Stamford Rotary Club Celebrates 10th Anniversary

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Feb. 5.—The Stamford Rotary club is observing its 10th birthday this month, having been organized in February, 1921 by Bert Bean of Wichita Falls. Col R. L. Penick, now an honorary member of the club was organizing president; R. E. McDonald, also a present member, was the first elected president, and Homer D. Wade, now of Dallas, was the first secretary.

At the meeting this week, George Pryor, program chairman told of the history of Rotary and its future and instructed the new members of the club. A. L. Buster gave the history of the local club and Dr. Dallas Southard stressed the value of Rotary in the life of the business and professional man.

Mr. Buster pointed out eight of the 27 charter members are present members of the club: J. K. Brady, R. B. Bryant, W. B. Tayman, George Pryor, A. C. Cooper, R. H. Dobyns, R. E. McDonald and Dr. Dallas Southard are included in this list. Four honorary members who have been elected to membership include Judge Andrews, now deceased; Col. R. L. Penick, L. E. Larche and P. P. Berthelot.

The Rotary club and its membership have been vital factors in the development of the town, it is generally recognized, though Rotarians observe the rule of always working through existing agencies whenever possible. Dr. E. P. Bunkley is president of the club and A. L. Buster is secretary.

PIONEER DIES IN TILLMAN

Edd Ozment Succumbs To Long Illness

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Feb. 5.—Heart disease which later developed into pneumonia claimed Edd Ozment, 49, north Tillman county pioneer, who died at 4 a. m. Tuesday after being sick two months. He was born in Gainesville, Texas, Jan. 9, 1881 and came to this community with his parents in the fall of 1901. He was married to Miss Mossie Wilson near this city in 1905. For the past 16 years Ozment resided in Manitou and during the last 11 years he was employed by the county highway department.

Funeral services were held from the First Methodist church at Manitou at 2 p. m. Wednesday and burial made in the Frederick cemetery.

His widow and two daughters survive, Mrs. H. R. Smith, Frederick, and Miss Docia Ozment, Manitou, together with a sister, Mrs. Louise Parmley, Gainesville, Texas, and these brothers: Dave Ozment, Amherst, Texas; Jim Ozment, Odell, Calif.; and Bud Ozment, Manitou. All were present at the funeral rites excepting Jim Ozment.

Barred Immigrant Straddles Border To Solve Problem

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 5. (UP)—William Woertz, 80, who proved he was a man without a country and a champion "endurancer" as well by straddling the international boundary line for seven hours in a driving rain, faced the prospect today of spending more hours, maybe days, in the same unique position.

Woertz went to Mexico from California last week. Yesterday he attempted to return. Immigration authorities would not let him, charging he entered the United States illegally from Germany several years ago. He started back to Mexico, but the authorities ordered him out of there also.

"Then what can I do?" wailed Woertz. Someone suggested he straddle the imaginary boundry line and pretend he was in neither country.

So he did, for seven hours, and it stormed all the while. Customs officers finally relented and gave him shelter overnight, in jail.

John H. Bartlett Heard In Postoffice Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (INS)—Endorsing Postmaster General Brown's recommendation that the government own its postoffice substations in the larger cities, former Assistant Postmaster General John H. Bartlett told the Blaine special senate committee on postoffice leases, the department had maintained "constant vigilance" to be sure there was no collusion in leasing branches and substations.

He said while he served under Postmaster General Harry S. New, two contractors cooperating with large finance companies "virtually monopolized" leasing in the larger cities. He named Raymond Brown, of Indianapolis and Jacob Kulp, of Chicago, who he said, "worked with big finance companies in getting sites and contracts."

30 GO TO C.-C. REGIONAL MEET

Big Wichita Delegation To Visit Dallas

About 30 members of the Junior chamber of commerce will leave here immediately following the organization's luncheon Friday noon to go to Dallas to attend there the conference of region No. 5 Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Those definitely signifying intention of attending from here are Armine Gaunt, Ralph Pond, Bill McKemie, Fay Hooker, Jerry Vinson, Floyd Randel, Maurice Cheek, Temple Shell, Alvah Conner, J. W. Pyland, Jim Durnal, O. E. Brown, Gerald Coffey, T. J. Waggoner Jr., Frank Cline, Walter Nelson Jr., Don Haynes, Charles A. Spragins Jr., E. O. McCord, George D. Bevel, Buck Freeman, Paul Hines, A. A. Werlla and Wilburn Page. The delegation is to be headed by Armine Gaunt, who has been in charge of local arrangements for attendance at the conference. Advance indications are that a large number of additional members will be included in the list during Friday, and that still more will leave here Saturday to attend the last two days of the meet. The main caravan, however, is to leave here immediately following the luncheon Friday.

Ample transportation will be on hand to take care of members who wish to attend, it was announced. Automobiles will begin leaving here early Friday morning and departures will be made all during the day, so that members may secure rides at any time that is convenient.

An estimated 500 will attend the regional conference from over Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, according to information received here. Durward Howes of Los Angeles, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Harry Krusz, national secretary, are to be honor guests during the conference and will address the gathering during a business session. Activities of the convention will be directed from the Baker hotel, where the social events of the meet will be climaxed Saturday night with a banquet and dance in the Crystal ballroom. Other entertainments include breakfasts, luncheons, a stag dinner, golf during the entire meet, and other impromptu amusement.

Jerry Vinson, past president of the organization and director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will appear on the business program to discuss plans for Texas in the regional extension program. A directors' meeting of the Texas State Junior chamber of commerce is to be held Sunday.

Plans Completed For George Washington Dance

The Junior chamber of commerce Washington anniversary celebration dance is to be held at the Wichita club Feb. 21, it was decided Thursday noon at the Holt hotel, where the social meetings committee held its first meeting. Gordon Shay's eight-piece orchestra is to furnish music for the dance, which is to be a "come as you are" dance and strictly informal, it was announced.

Entertainment for those who do not dance is to be provided in the form of a bridge tournament. E. F. Noe and A. L. Osborn, members of the social committee, were placed in charge of arrangements for the tournament.

Decorations will be arranged by C. E. Dietrich, R. R. Hanks and A. A. Werlla; and Steve Ford, H. W. Tatum, Ken Cushing and Elton Felder are to be in charge of invitations and publicity. Special entertainment for the affair is to be in the hands of H. B. Dudley, Armine Gaunt and Jack Wages. Pat Hardage, chairman of the reception committee and ex-officio member of the social group, is to be on hand with his committee to receive.

Athletics Committee Named for Junior C.-C.

Gerald Coffey was named head of the Junior chamber of commerce athletics committee Thursday by Maurice Cheek, president, who also named members to compose the group. To assist Mr. Coffey, the following members of the committee were appointed: H. L. Stringer, M. G. Boone, Jack Chewning, Paul Harrell, W. E. Karrenbrock, J. W. Lee, C. W. Riding, Ernest Stayton, Gose Waggoner, Guy Airey, Charles E. Cook, Frank Haley, Bob Mathis, Morris Norton, Bill Staton, John Barnard, Paul Landes, and Larry Crites.

The duties of the committee are to sponsor and arrange for amateur sports. The committee will also have charge of the opening day program of the Texas league here, and will arrange an athletic program for a Fourth of July celebration.

Today — At the Theaters

By ELEANOR FLEMING

STRAND: "Cimarron" with Richard Dix, Irene Dunne, Edna May Oliver, William Collier Jr. and all-star cast. Short subjects and sound news.

MAJESTIC: Jack Oakie in "The Gang Buster." Cartoon, comedy and sound news.

STATE: "The Painted Desert" with William Boyd, Bill Farnum and Helen Twelvetrees. Oswald the Rabbit, Tom Tyler serial and sound news.

GEM: "The Dude Wrangler." Fable comedy and chapter nine of "Spell of the Circus."

Yesterday, "The Painted Desert" was recommended for those who like peace and tranquillity. It opened Thursday at the State. It belies its name—there is nothing tranquil about the picture, except the scenes so beautifully caught and held on the screen.

◇ ◇ ◇

The story is exciting, even if it is a little fantastic and reminiscent of some good old two-gun melerdramers of the early movies. Two cowboys find a deserted covered wagon in the middle of the desert, with a crying baby inside the wagon.

◇ ◇ ◇

They adopt the "little feller," take him with them, have a quarrel and separate. One of them takes the boy and the other married and has a child—a daughter, by a strange coincidence. Of course they fall in love. Anybody who ever saw a movie would know that. And of course there is a closing fadeout with the old men clasping hands as the young folks set the wedding date.

◇ ◇ ◇

But in between are some exciting passages, well directed, well acted and well photographed. William Boyd (not the new one, but the blond one who played in "The Volga Boatmen" a long time ago) has a marvelous speaking voice. Old Twn-Gun Bill Farnum stages a good come-back, too.

◇ ◇ ◇

It should be seen from the first to be appreciated. Going in at the middle ruins the suspense. And it's a pretty fair show that can keep a hurried movie critic's tense attention all the way through when it's the first one after seeing "Cimarron."

Work of Civic Clubs Praised by Speaker

Influence of Rotary clubs upon community life, and particularly upon young people, was eulogized by Elmer Avery, conductor of local public speaking classes, in a talk before members of the Rotary club at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

Development of an ability in many persons to speak effectively in public is one of the greatest contributions of the Rotary and other similar clubs to the community, and to individuals within the organization, Mr. Avery said.

Solos by E. M. Brown, baritone, accompanied by Lee Erwin, and a singsong conducted by R. E. Shepherd with Mrs. Shepherd at the piano, constituted the musical program for the hour.

The program was in charge of Walter K. Campbell.

Wichitans to Sing On WBAP Program Friday

Baldwin Montgomery, tenor, will be the guest soloist on the program over WBAP, Fort Worth, Friday evening from 9:30 to 10 o'clock. He will be assisted by R. E. Shepherd, also of Wichita Falls.

Montgomery will sing two solos, "To Have, To Hold, To Love" and Victor Herbert's "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" after which he and Shepherd will sing a duet, "When the Bloom Is on the Sage." Mr. Shepherd will give as a solo, "A Dream." Both artists will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Shepherd.

Is Your Pocketbook Equal to a Long Illness?
If not—put away a little from each pay check for doctors, nurses, hospital, medicines. Illness has a way of occurring unexpectedly . . . from a clear sky . . . and, its stay is indefinite. Protracted sickness often results in demoralization of family finances — even where income might prove ample for almost any other emergency.
