

Confident Living

NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Clean Out Your Mind

YEARS AGO, THE LIGHTS IN a great area of New York City suddenly went out; a section of the city which usually blazes with electricity became as dark as pitch.

Engineers frantically searched for the cause of the power failure and soon found its source. Can you imagine why those lights went off? The engineers found that the power had failed because a little foreign body as small as the end of a man's finger had become wedged under a vital contact point in one of the power houses. In other words, a little bit of dirt was able to block off electric power in a large section of the largest city in the world.

If a thing like that can happen, imagine the damage a little dirt in an important contact point in a human mind can do. Living in today's world, it's very easy for any of us to pick up a wide variety of "foreign bodies" in our minds. As a result, off goes our personal power. Here's a suggestion for avoiding such a situation.

THE AVERAGE MAN, BEFORE he goes to bed, usually empties his pockets onto his dresser, desk or night table. And most of us, in those few moments, try to get rid of all the miscellaneous junk—scraps of note paper, ticket stubs, cards—we pick up during the day. Personally I always try to get rid of as much as I can; only women are lucky enough to have handbags with apparently unlimited capacities.

It occurred to me one night while doing this that it would be a good thing to empty my mind as I empty my pockets. During the day we pick up many mental odds and ends: a little worry, a little resentment, a few annoyances, some irritations, perhaps even some guilt reactions. It is important that these should be drained off every night, for unless they are eliminated, they accumulate. Then they can interfere with the really efficient operation of the mind.

And how do you drain these thoughts, these unwanted "foreign bodies"? I suggest that you think of your mind as a wash basin with a stopper in the bottom. Mentally remove the stopper and imaginatively "see" the mass of soiled material disappear down the drain. Then replace the mental stopper and fill the mind with clean, wholesome, spiritual thoughts.

YOU MUST BE CAREFUL in performing this process not to take a thought back. When you have drained it out, conceive of it as gone. If your mind attempts to reach out for the old thought, stop it by saying, "That is gone forever, removed by God's grace, and I will not take it back."

One night I came home to find my wife experimenting with some new appliances for her vacuum cleaner. She showed me a long arm attachment with which dust could be sucked out of hidden corners. It occurred to me that a similar spiritual mechanism could be employed to draw "dust" out of our thoughts. So I worked out what I like to call a "vacuum cleaner" prayer: "Dear Lord, by the power of Thy spirit, draw now from the unseen crannies and crevices of my soul the dust of the world which has settled there." Try using this "vacuum cleaner" prayer for yourself. The resulting sense of cleanliness will add to your inner peace, and to your effectiveness as well.

ANOTHER METHOD OF CLEANING out your thoughts is to figuratively and imaginatively "reach" into your mind, as though you could put your fingers into your brain and pull out unhappy thoughts one by one. As you imagine yourself doing this, affirm: "I am now taking out and throwing away that fear, that prejudice, that resentment, that impure recollection." Then, when the mind is thus emptied, continue to affirm, "I am putting into my mind creative and dynamic thoughts. I am filling my mind with God's goodness and power."

By cleaning out your mind in this manner, you will find peace and also new mental efficiency. (Copyright 1953, Post-Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Truce Talks To Resume Saturday

WILL CARRY MIDLAND WATER—Shown above is the first shipment of pipe destined to carry water from the new McMillen Field into Midland. The 240 feet of pipe which arrived Friday is but a tiny bit of that needed for the eight-mile trip into the city. United Concrete Pipe Corporation of Big Spring hopes to start shipping 2,000 feet of pipe a day into Midland soon. Henry Nunn, city water works engineer, said Saturday he thinks about 7,000,000 gallons of water will rush through the pipes each day during the Summer months, starting June 1. McMillen Field has 12 completed wells ready and work progressing on pumps and gathering lines. Sira & McKenzie, contractors, hope to start laying the pipe by May 1.

Teenagers Dig Up $8,000 For New Youth Center Fund

Midland's new Youth Center building was a giant's step closer to concrete and steel by 9:30 p.m. Saturday when Center members reported at least $8,114 already in the collection bin and "more on the way."

The teenagers were striking for a $21,000 goal to add to the $39,000 already on hand for the new building at the corner of C and Illinois Streets. It took a parade, house-to-house campaigning and a Youth Center dance to spark the fund drive.

Two youngsters chalked up the biggest donations Saturday to become King and Queen of the Youth Center. Crowned at the Youth Center dance Saturday night were Paul Davis, Jr., whose $1,237.50 in donations made him top among the boys and Dean Carpenter, who led the girls with $1,125.

Other winners and their totals were: boys, Don Evans, $325.36; Lee McCullum, $248.89; Bob Bliss, $125; John Petty, $110.75; and Jerry Ball, $97.20. And girls, Judy Bliss, $624.39; Ruth McIntyre, $577.05; Betty Bolton, $231; Virginia Kroenlin, $164.95; and Mary Jane Cox, $125.

It took courage to parade through whipping sand Friday afternoon, but some 500 Midlanders did it and had a lot of fun.

Roads Beat March Tempo—Everything from Cadillac to horse-drawn carriages and everything in between crowded Midland streets at 4:30 p.m. Friday as some Youth Center backers marched and others patrolled the sidewalks with cups, boots and anything that would hold money.

The three school bands beat the march tempo for carload after carload of youths. Then came the Sheriff's posse, more cars, floats, marching and squealing teenagers and an assortment of hot rods, motorcycles and bicycles.

First place prize for floats went to Tommy Brown, Graham Nugent, Ann Hamilton, Gene Pace, Mike Patton and Judy Bliss, all ninth graders at San Jacinto Junior High. Their float, a car covered with green and white crepe paper rosettes, met with near-disaster at the hands of the sandy wind. When the group started out, the float had a pasteboard replica of the current Youth Center with student pouring out of the seams and roof. By the time they'd moved a short way along the route, little was left but the rosettes.

Second prize went to Julia Owens, who rode in a horse-drawn carriage as Miss Youth Center of 1954. Third prize winners were Mona Leigh and Carolyn Leggett, who had the car carrying young Gail Snare and the rhyme, "She's a cute little girl with a little finger; where'll she go when she gets a little bigger?"

Prizes were memberships in the Youth Center and passes to Midland theaters.

Hard-working Youth Center members hiked, drove and ran all over Midland's business district Saturday to stop motorists, check drive-in patrons and ask donations from any and everybody.

Opened on the Youth Center were held in abeyance pending continuance of the fund drive. Future action will be talked Sunday in a meeting in the offices of E. W. Anguish.

Newsman, Principal Banned From School Meel At Greenwood

Members of the Board of Trustees and teachers of the Greenwood Common School District met in special session at the Greenwood School Saturday afternoon, but the school principal, J. C. Anderson, and a newspaper reporter were barred from the meeting.

Also present at the meeting was Christine Golladay, Midland County school superintendent. When Miss Golladay was asked by a reporter from the Midland Reporter-Telegram if he could sit in on the meeting she asked the reporter to "skip it" and said that the meeting was nothing more than a "round-table discussion between board members and teachers."

Asked if the meeting concerned the hiring or firing of any employees Miss Golladay replied, "No comment."

Members of the board present included B. T. Graham, president; D. V. Anderson, secretary; A. G. Schovajsa, J. H. Denning, A. A. Rhodes and Harry Dobbs.

Midlander Killed In Rig Accident

A. R. Buffalo, 20, of Midland was killed about 11:45 p.m. Saturday in a rig accident on the Argo-Boyd lease in the northwest corner of Reagan County.

Buffalo was working as a roughneck on Rig No. 4 of the Tri-Service Drilling Company. He became entangled in the catline, first reports indicated.

Buffalo resided at a trailer camp in Midland with his mother.

A Newline W. Ellis ambulance was called to the accident scene, about 50 miles from Midland.

Girl Hit By Engine Said 'Little Better'—Cynthia Ann Rudd was "a little better" Saturday night.

The seven-year-old Midland negro struck by a T&P Railway switch engine Thursday remained in serious condition at Western-Clinic Hospital, but seemed to be gaining strength.

The little girl suffered a fractured skull, brain hemorrhage, a badly fractured left leg and loss of part of the left foot in the accident.

Ailing President Takes Rain Checks On Church, Golfing

AUGUSTA, GA. —(P)— President Eisenhower, still recuperating from an attack of food poisoning, will not attend church services Sunday but will rest instead in his cottage at the Augusta Golf Club.

Senator Taft, Republican majority leader, will arrive from Washington about noon Sunday, but a scheduled game of golf with the President may be called off. It all depends on how the Chief Executive feels, his press secretary, James Hagerly, said.

Hagerly reported the President "completely recovered" Saturday morning, but he advised Saturday night Eisenhower apparently wasn't as thoroughly recovered as he (Eisenhower) had thought.

Some indications were that the President may prolong his stay in Augusta. He tentatively is scheduled to return to Washington Monday night.

Sapet's Attorneys Ask For New Trial

BROWNWOOD —(P)— Attorneys for Mario (El Turko) Sapet, sentenced to 99 years in the political ambush slaying of Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd, Jr., filed 19 reasons Saturday why they thought the San Antonio bar owner should get a new trial.

Thousand Men Battle Flame Razing New Mexican Forest

ALBUQUERQUE —(P)— More than 1,000 men Saturday night waged a desperate battle against time fighting a forest fire which has burned 21,000 acres in the Sacramento Mountains near Alamogordo, N. M.

Arthur Jensen, regional fire dispatcher, said the fire fighters made some gains Saturday when strong winds died down to light breezes. Jensen said the fighters must isolate the fire Saturday night. Strong winds, due back Sunday, could turn it into an uncontrollable holocaust, he said.

Meanwhile, in the Coronado Forest of Eastern Arizona, a man-made fire covering 4,000 acres was being brought under control.

Skyscraper Fire Sends Burning Embers Flying Over Business Section Of Dallas

DALLAS —(P)— Spectacular, roaring flames suddenly engulfed part of the steel skeleton of the new 40-story, 20-million-dollar Republic National Bank Building late Saturday and a stiff wind whipped flaming sparks and slivers of wood over a wide downtown area.

A seven-block area—almost in the heart of downtown Dallas—was cleared, theater patrons evacuated and buildings wet down as precautionary measures before the blaze was brought under control.

The fire broke out around 8:30 p.m. and at 8 p.m. was considered "out," although embers still glowed. For a while there appeared a danger three floors of the gaunt black skeleton might collapse, but firemen quenched the danger before the griders did more than buckle.

30 American Ill, Wounded Due Monday

PANMUNJOM, KOREA —(P)— The UN Command said Sunday the Communists will return 30 Americans and 12 Britons among the sick and wounded prisoners of war to be exchanged here Monday.

Other returnees Monday will include 50 South Koreans, four Turks, one Canadian, one South African, one Filipino and one Greek.

The Communists said two groups of 25 each would be returned at 9 a.m. The first of the groups will be South Korean—all of them ambulatory. The second will consist of 14 Americans, five British, two Turks, one Canadian, one South African, one Filipino and one Greek. The second group will include four litter cases.

Liaison Teams Agree On Eve Of PW Swap

MUNSAN, KOREA —(P)— The UN and the Communists Sunday agreed to resume full scale Korean armistice talks next Saturday, a move that could lead to the end of almost three years of grim fighting on this tiny Asian peninsula.

UN liaison officers suggested to the Red liaison group at Panmunjom Sunday that the stalled truce talks be reopened Thursday, April 23. The Communists said they would prefer the April 25 date, and the UN group accepted. Time of the meeting was set at 11 a.m.

Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, chief UN liaison officer, told correspondents after the 20-minute meeting:

"Again we have taken the initiative and requested an earlier date than the Communists could meet."

He said the groups did not discuss matters on which the UN Command had requested clarification in a letter recently.

Top Brass May Attend—Daniel said the Red liaison officers "made a rather long discourse which I'm not prepared to comment on without further study."

Unofficial reports circulated in Munsan Sunday that the UN supreme commander, Gen. Mark Clark, may come from his Tokyo headquarters for Monday's initial exchange of sick and wounded prisoners.

Eighth Army Commander—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor also may visit the UN registration center during the exchange.

In return for the 100 Allied POWs, the Reds will get 500 Communist POWs Monday. In all, the Reds have agreed to release 600 sick and wounded Allied soldiers, including 150 Americans and other non-Korean nationals, at the rate of 100 a day.

Beef, Beef, Beans—Chinese prisoners at Pusan, balky and troublesome for three days while awaiting exchange, were ripping their newly issued uniforms, wrapping their heads in dirty towels and refusing to clean themselves.

Peiping radio said Allied prisoners in Kaesong, awaiting the exchange, sunbathed after 12 hours of sleep, had beer, beef and beans for breakfast. They whined away the hours playing cards, said the Red broadcast, heard by The Associated Press in San Francisco.

Midland Marine Sergeant Wounded

Sgt. Joe K. Zirkle, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Zirkle of 1711 North Bryant Street, Midland, has been wounded in the Korean fighting. It was announced Saturday by the Department of Defense.

His parents said they received a letter from Sergeant Zirkle in which he told them he had been wounded March 28 in the leg and arm and was receiving treatment aboard a hospital ship. The letter was received April 6.

Zirkle is a Marine Corps veteran of World War II fighting on Okinawa, Guam and Iwo Jima. After discharge in 1945 he re-enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1948 and served three years in Alaska.

He arrived in Korea last March 12. His father, Vernon J. Zirkle, is employed as a mechanic for the Raymond Hines Motor Company in Midland, and his mother, Mrs. Zirkle, is a seamstress in the linen shop of Hotel Scharbauer.

Overcoats Remain Stylish In Basin

Overcoats were to stay out of mothballs Sunday morning in Midland with a low of 35 degrees predicted by the Weather Bureau.

CAA observers at the Midland Air Terminal expect sand-laden winds to reach 35 miles an hour Sunday afternoon with visibility limited to three miles.

The mercury dipped to 37 degrees here early Saturday as a cold front swept across most of Texas. No general warning for the state was expected before Tuesday.

Five hundred patrons of the Palace Theater two blocks away were evacuated and all off-duty police were called hastily.

Awnings of a clothing store two blocks away were set afire. Tenants of buildings near the new structure got on roofs with fire extinguishers to put out the rain of burning embers.

A stiff wind—up to 25 miles an hour—tore loose heavy burning timbers, some as long as 30 feet, and sent them tumbling crazily to the ground.

Two huge elevators used to carry construction materials burned loose from their moorings and hit adjacent concrete streets with thunderous crashes.

"Timber," screamed sweating firemen as the elevators fell.

Thousands gaped from blocks away. Smoke could be seen from

Hollywoodites Quote Gems Of Wisdom And Philosophies

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood on the Record: Jeanne Crain, once named one of Hollywood's worst-dressed women, on her present-day chic:

"When I started in pictures, the idea was to look as unlike an actress as possible. Then it finally dawned on me that an actress should look like an actress. I began making a conscious effort to study clothes. I've learned a lot. No more dirrds and Mexican blouses for me."

Vincent Price, on his horror role in "House of Wax":

"Horror pictures have a definite place in Hollywood. They never should have been abandoned. I hate to think of the money they've made for the studios. I was crazy about Lon Chaney. He scared the bejeepers out of me. You never forget great performances in horror pictures. Who will ever forget Freddie March in 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde'?"

Donald O'Connor, raving about Janet Leigh, his co-star in "Walkin' My Baby Back Home":

"She's sensational as a dancer. When we began rehearsing, she told me that she was slow. But works 10 times faster than I do. She'll be the top musical comedy star in Hollywood if she's given a chance."

Louis Jourdan, shying away from love-sex roles:

"From now on for me to gain any self-satisfaction as a dancer, I must be much more in love with the script than the writer has me with the leading lady."

George Sanders, belittling the female sex again:

"I have often been asked my formula for married happiness. It is to maintain a state of harmonious friction at all times. Men should never be afraid of making women suffer. They love it."

Loretta Young, on Hollywood's departed glamor:

"I blame part of it on press agents. The stories they create and the photographs they think up! They tried to take an unglamorous picture of me recently. They told me it would humanize me. I told them I was already human. I dislike the craze for candid photographs of stars, too. In the old days, the industry wouldn't allow it."

Cesar Romero, complaining about Hollywood's system of doling out the big roles:

"Good parts are hard to find, hard to get. The producers, at the moment, want Monty Clift, Marlon Brando or Burt Lancaster. It all settles down to that. No other actors get a crack at it. In 16 years I've done only two parts that were good—in 'Show Them No Mercy' and 'Captain From Castile'."

Jane Greer, thinking out loud about what it takes to hit big-time stardom:

"Hollywood can have big stars overnight. They don't have to take green kids. All they need to do is give a chance to people who have proved that they can hold their own."

Jerry Lewis, on his appeal to the kindergarten set:

"That's easy to explain. I do the things that kids do. I kick people in the shins. I spit in people's faces. I hit people over the head. When I was a kid, I loved Joe Penner because he talked like a kid. I used to wait outside the stage door in the snow to get a look at Joe."

Kurt Kasnar, after being cast as Sigismund Romberg in a movie:

"I met Mr. Romberg before he died and asked him if he had any special ideas about how I should portray him. He told me: 'Just play me GOOD.'"

Director Marc Daniels, on Joan Davis' derring-do in TV's "I Married Joan":

"We put her on wires to get her up in the air once a week. Joan's a very brave dame. She never asks for a double."

Ranchland Election Delayed Until Friday

The election was scheduled last Friday but a quorum of at least 25 per cent of the membership was lacking due to weather conditions.

John B. Mills, current president, is unopposed for reelection. Other nominees are Robert T. Cox and Jerome Grayson, vice president; Russell H. Gifford and P. R. Hargrove, secretary; and W. P. Chestnut and Tom Cowan, treasurer.

Three members of the board of directors will be elected from the following: C. W. Coyle, Hugh Gilmore, Billy E. Curry, Arthur J. Joseph, Guy C. Wilemon, and C. H. Cook.

Chaplin Plans Film Production In London

LONDON.—P.—Charlie Chaplin, the London street urchin who found fame and fortune in the United States, is going to work in his old home town.

The 64-year-old comedian told newsmen Saturday he has no intention of retiring—as an actor or producer—even though he has bid goodbye to Hollywood.

"I'm going to make a film here," he said. "Not in London but just outside it."

Chaplin seemed completely relaxed—though a bit uncertain on his future plans—after his renunciation of the United States for "lies and vicious propaganda" against him.

Chaplin always held his British citizenship even though he lived 40 years in the United States.

2,452 Students Receive Tuberculin Patch Tests

A total of 2,452 students from 18 Midland County Schools took the tuberculin patch test last year and out of that number 107 positive cases were detected. It has been revealed in the 1937 report of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association.

The annual tuberculin patch test was conducted in the Midland public schools under the direction of Mrs. Jack Miles. The association was assisted by the Parent-Teacher organization, officials of the school system and the medical profession.

The doctors in Midland County have cooperated closely with lay workers, constantly giving them guidance toward the most effective means of using community forces to control tuberculosis. They see patients in their offices, diagnose the disease, and are responsible for treatment," the report explains. "They know, perhaps better than any other group, that the fight is far from over, and that it will not be over until every case of tuberculosis can be discovered, hospitalized and arrested or cured."

Positive Cases
A rundown on the number of students who took the test and how many of the total examined from each school were positive cases follows:

—San Jacinto Jr. High, eight positive out of 246; Lamar Elementary seven of 147; Midland High School, four of 78; John M. Cowden Junior High, 17 of 129; Crockett Elementary, 24 of 213; DeZavilla Elementary, 21 of 147; North Elementary, seven of 94; Sam Houston Elementary six of 185; South Elementary, eight of 304; Terminal, two of 89; West Elementary, 11 of 96; Carver School, 12 of 139; Greenwood School, 10 of 126; St. Ann's School, 10 of 174; and negro Kindergarten, three of 74.

Christmas Seal Sales in Midland County increased 11 per cent over 1937, reports Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., Seal Sale chairman. "Because of the services to our county," says

O'Neill, "we have a loyal following of volunteer workers whose ranks swell during November and December to carry on the detailed task of the seal sale campaign."

Financial Record
A record of the income and expenses for the Midland County Tuberculosis Association follows:

Receipts from the 1937 Seal Sale totaled $9,197.11 and from this the local association retained $7,553.19.

Income—Total receipts from 1937 Seal Sale, $9,197.11; Retained by local Association, $7,553.19; less 18 per cent to state and national.

Expenses—Health Education, $2,321.91; case-finding and X-ray, $1,510.23; statistical and fact-finding, $1,042.88; co-operation with allied agencies, $743.71; administration, $2,296.61; seal sale expenses, $683.24; and organizational field work, $657.12. Total expenses, $9,355.51.

Cash on hand $4,837.89.

Stork Knows Way Around

HOUSTON.—P.—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCain were rushing to the new Pasadena Hospital Saturday on a pressing maternity errand when they got lost.

The stork had not lost sight of Mrs. McCain, however, and by the time they had traveled a good mile and a half in the wrong direction from the hospital, the stork swooped down from his celestial vantage point.

McCain rushed into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Comer Whitaker for aid. Police were called, too.

Business Representatives To View Schools April 30

Education-Business Day will be observed here April 30, with Midland citizens invited to attend the schools of their choice that day.

Plans for the observance were announced Saturday by J. Harvey Herd, chairman of the Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Wesley Martin, school system representative.

Education-Business Day is the reverse of Business-Education Day, observed here last Fall, when Midland teachers spent a day as guests of Midland business firms. Now, the teachers will be hosts to representatives of business firms in the classrooms of the city's schools.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. April 30, in the Midland High School Auditorium. Following a briefing session there, the visitors will be transported to the schools of their choice for a visitation period and lunch. Another assembly in the high school auditorium at 2:30 p.m. will conclude the day's program.

Award Banquet Set

Chamber of Commerce members have received letters announcing the observance, along with blank reservation cards. Herd urged that the cards be returned promptly so that necessary arrangements may be made. The public is invited to participate and every business firm is urged to "enroll" one or more representatives.

Highlighting the observance will be the staging of the third annual Teachers' Award Banquet at 7 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. Service pins will be presented to five, 10, 15 and 20-year faculty members. Approximately 400 faculty members and a like number of townspeople are expected to attend the function. Dinner tickets for townspeople are priced at $1 each. Reservations may be made at the Chamber of Commerce.

Funeral services will be held Sunday in Fort Worth.

Survivors include three sons, Gene Bolling of Monahans, Sam Bolling of Lubbock and Horace Bolling of Smithfield; and four daughters, Mrs. J. W. Field of Hobbs, N. M., Mrs. James Williams of Lubbock, Mrs. Vernon Logan of Lamesa and Mrs. Sammie Laughlin of Matador.

Republican Solon Clamors For Cut In Arms Spending

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) called Saturday for a six billion dollar cut in arms and atomic spending, amid signs the Eisenhower Administration may support a slower buildup of Western defense.

The proposal by Ferguson, chairman of the Senate Armed Service Appropriations subcommittee, came in the face of an assertion by Senator Symington (D-Mo.) that U. S. military strength is lagging further behind Russia's every day.

Tulsa Air Depot 'Keeps 'Em Flying' For American Lines

The American Airlines flagships which serve Midland are kept running smoothly under a system of preventive maintenance at the company's huge Overhaul and Supply Depot in Tulsa, Okla., according to Woody Campbell, American station agent here.

"Preventive maintenance is sort of like trying to find the squeak in your car before it starts squeaking," he said. "We keep ahead of the squeaks by replacing and refurbishing at stated intervals, rather than waiting until it is essential."

Although the big overhaul jobs are done in Tulsa, American's fleet of 160 planes is cared for on a day-to-day basis by line maintenance mechanics stationed at most of the cities on the carrier's routes.

Under a complex and costly system, each of American's ships goes to Tulsa about every five months (equivalent to about 1,500 hours of operation), for a thorough going over and engine overhaul.

Masters Of Maintenance
The depot consists of four huge hangars covering 624,000 feet of floor space at Municipal Airport, and employs more than 3,000 people, who are considered "Masters of Maintenance."

It is a complete unit, dealing in such varied items as iron fillings, sewing machines, cracked wheat and walnut shells, plus some rather expensive parts. A good example is an airplane crankshaft. It costs more than $2,700, as compared with $79.42 for one in a Cadillac.

Each of the 18 cylinders in an aircraft engine calls for an outlay of $540. One intake valve comes to $34, while an exhaust valve runs as high as $70.

The four engines on a DC-6, and the two on a Conquest, each are worth $40,000. The propellers and other accessories cost as much, bringing every individual "power plant" installation to $80,000. A major overhaul runs around $70,000, and the depot handles some eight planes per week.

West Texas Move For FHA Offices In Lubbock Fails

FORT WORTH —(P)—Fort Worth has received assurances that the FHA district office here will not be moved to Lubbock, said R. B. Billings, Fort Worth Home Builders Association president, Saturday.

Billings said Rep. Wingate Lucas told him the attempt to move the office, a transfer sought by West Texas builders, had failed.

Billings said the volume of building here is greater than in the Lubbock area and a move to the West Texas city would place Fort Worth builders in the Dallas district.

West Texas builders contend they have to conduct business too far from home.

PENTAGON UNRUFFLED—

GE Strike Slows Jet Engine Output

WASHINGTON —(P)—A strike has cut down production of the fastest type of jet fighter engines needed for the Korean air war during the last month, but as yet the Pentagon seems unruffled.

The strike halted production of the General Electric Company's souped-up engine—the type supposed to make U. S. Sabre jets equal to the Russian MIG—at GE's Evendale, Ohio, plant near Cincinnati.

Asked if the walkout of 5,280 AFM and CIO workmen was reducing output of the speedy fighter planes, a Defense Department spokesman said Saturday:

"We have not lost any aircraft production yet, but if it persists a few more weeks the situation could become critical."

Inquiry about the strike's effects was prompted by reports that the Defense Department had changed its mind about the seriousness of the work stoppage.

It was learned reliably that the department first told the Federal Mediation Service the strike was critical and should be settled at all costs. Later, however, the department told the mediation service it had overstated the urgency of the strike.

Talk of "scandal" Several factors are involved. One is that GE is producing some of the speedy J47-27 engines at its Lynn, Mass., plant.

Another is that the North American Aviation Company, the major producer of the finished Sabre jets, told the Air Force it has enough of the new jet engines to "last through June."

However, another government official familiar with the situation said privately it was his opinion "there would be a scandal" because the Cincinnati strike has been permitted to go this long.

The Evendale plant produces several types of jet engines, including those for bombers, of which there apparently is over-abundant production.

Demolition Experts Blast Ammunition Taken As Souvenirs

BROWNWOOD —(P)—A demolition crew from Fort Hood is having booming business this weekend in destroying "dud" ammunition collected by teenagers as souvenirs.

The crew exploded about 50 pieces Friday that had been discovered in Brownwood homes, garages and other hiding places.

Chief of Police Jack Pike said an investigation revealed teenage boys had been making regular trips to the former Camp Bowie maneuver grounds near here. He said that a regular "market" existed with such standardized trades as one bazooka shell for two grenades or a land mine.

The investigation and explosives hunt began after two boys, 14, were injured while dismantling a bazooka shell found near the World War II camp.

Imprisoned Chinese Hit By UN Shotguns In Korean Uprising

PUSAN KOREA —(P)—Chanting, rock-hurling North Korean prisoners in eight compounds staged a riot at Yoncho Island Friday night, forcing Allied guards to fire shotguns to restore order, when vomiting tear gas and concussion grenades failed.

The UN Prisoner of War Command, in announcing Saturday night the latest outbreak of violence, said four prisoners were killed and 45 hospitalized.

The prisoner of war command said the incident began when prisoners, lined up for routine inspection, refused to allow the compound commander, Maj. William J. Nordin of Russellville, Ark., to inspect the interior of their barracks.

Defiantly the prisoners erected barricades inside their quarters.

Guards cleared the barricades with concussion grenades and tossed a number of non-lethal irritants into barracks. The irritants, which caused the prisoners to vomit, forced them into the open.

Shower Of Stones
Then in an apparently pre-arranged signal, the command said sympathizing prisoners in seven neighboring compounds poured out of their barracks.

A shouting, milling, rock-hurling demonstration began in all eight compounds.

The original mutineers charged out of their quarters, showering stones at the guards.

Again the guards attempted to stop the rioters with tear gas and vomiting gas, but failed.

Guards Open Fire
Under orders of the camp commander, Lt. Col. Gerald R. Monmeyer, Erie, Pa., the guards then opened fire with shotguns.

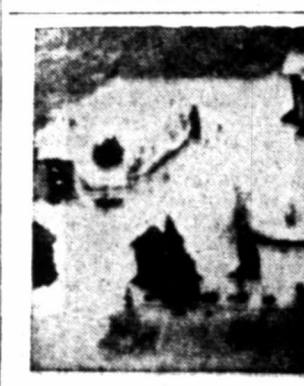

The command said firearms were used "to break up the concerted attack and to prevent the prisoners from grabbing the weapons."

All of the Reds were described as "die-hard Communists."

Yoncho is near Kojia Island off the tip of South Korea and has been the scene of several bloody riots since last December.

MARINE WITNESS TELLS HOW—

Atomic Blast Turns Desert Joshua Trees Into Torches

LAS VEGAS, NEV. —(P)—Leatherneck troops saw hundreds of Joshua trees burst into flame Saturday, dotting Yucca Flats with eerie flashes after the most spectacular atomic blast of the Spring series flashed out in the desert night.

"The desert looked like it was sprouting Roman candles," said a Marine officer in a six-foot trench 4,000 yards from the detonation point. "The Joshua trees suddenly were in flames from top to bottom. And the entire desert seemed to erupt. The dust and dirt were so terrific we couldn't see more than 30 yards."

As for the explosion itself, "the very dazzling light was almost indescribable," said the officer, who declined the use of his name. He is a public information officer.

Cloud Shoots
"Even with our heads down and our eyes closed the terrific white light seemed almost to blind us. The earth shook just like in an earthquake."

The officer said the boiling fireball shot skyward, although it was hard to distinguish because of dust and dirt. "The loud speaker announced that in a matter of seconds the atomic cloud had shot up to 40,000 feet and was a mile wide," he added.

"By the time we'd climbed out of our trenches, the sight was terrifically beautiful," he declared. "About that time one of the Joshua trees about 170 yards away was ignited. I realized what would have happened to me if I hadn't been in a trench."

Area Too Hot
Helicopters carrying Leathernecks to leapfrog over their buddies arrived a few minutes after the explosion. "At first," said the officer, "the area was too hot" (radioactively) and the 'copters had to make a second pass.

"One battalion could advance only 500 yards until it hit a 'hot' area and had to move to the flank until it cooled off. It seemed to me it was about a half hour before the battalion could move in."

Some troops reached vantage points where they could see damage done to Marine equipment scattered around 1,000 to 2,000 yards from ground zero.

Pakistan Minister Says Ouster Illegal
KARACHI, PAKISTAN —(P)—Khwaja Nazimuddin declared Saturday his dismissal as prime minister Friday by the governor-general was illegal. He threatened to carry his case to the country.

The roving leader of the Muslim League, Pakistan's ruling political party, still occupies the official residence of the prime minister.

Gov. Gen. Ghulam Mohammed dismissed the 18-month-old cabinet for Nazimuddin because of its inability to deal with a host of pressing problems. Including a threatened famine and maintenance of law and order, he said.

Tidelands Filibuster Snarls Entire GOP Senate Program

WASHINGTON —(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) touched off a brick word battle Saturday by charging that opponents of the offshore oil lands bill are holding up the entire legislative program of the Senate by a filibuster.

Taft, the Senate Republican leader, spoke out angrily during the twelfth day of debate on a measure to establish states' title to submerged lands off their shores.

Referring to opponents who have blocked a vote on the bill by making long speeches and engaging in other delaying tactics, Taft told the Senate:

"Anybody who filibusters a bill, as these gentlemen are now doing, assumes the responsibility not only of delaying this legislation but of delaying the entire program of the Senate."

Taft said he was "shocked and surprised" that such senators as Lehman (D-Lib-NY), Douglas (D-Ill) and Humphrey (D-Minn) "who have denounced filibusters now obviously are engaged in a filibuster" contrary to everything they stood for in the past.

Opponents of the measure have denied they are waging a filibuster. Debate limits snubbed.

Taft sought a unanimous consent agreement to limit debate next week, but Senator Hill (D-Ala) who completed a three-day, 14 1/2-hour "first" speech Friday, objected.

Hill said he believed in "free and open debate."

Taft repeated that "everything that can be said on the bill has been said."

He estimated that 500,000 words had been spoken since April 1 on the Senate floor. Through last Wednesday night, he said, proponents had spoken 22,000 lines or 155,000 words in the Congressional Record, and opponents 33,000 lines or 253,000 words.

Senator Douglas said he had a few statistics of his own.

Of the 40 sponsors of the state ownership bill, he said, 37 voted against a motion by Senator Anderson (D-NM) early this year which he said would have "put an end to filibusters."

Kefauver Starts Talking
When the exchange about filibustering subsided, Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) resumed debate on the bill. He supported a substitute measure by Senator Anderson, which he said would provide for "interim" federal administration of offshore lands until permanent legislation can be enacted.

Kefauver is author of another bill providing for a commission to study the entire problem before permanent legislation is passed.

Twenty opponents of the bill suggested to Taft that the measure be put aside to make way for other legislation, including an extension of rent controls.

Taft rejected this suggestion as "ridiculous," and declared: "I don't intend to set aside this bill for anything else."

Asserting the only controls expiring April 30 that the Administration wants extended are those on rents, Taft added:

"I don't care if rent controls expires or not."

As soon as he gets action on the submerged oil lands bill, however, Taft said he would bring up a measure extending rent controls at least temporarily, until Congress can review the whole field of economic controls.

Critics of the "Tidelands" measure said it was "important that Congress take action very soon on priorities and allocations, credit facilities and rent control before the present authorizations expire on April 30."

They hinted that if the submerged lands bill is not shelved they might continue their announced plan of "educating" the public about it into the week of April 24.

Dock Barge Launched At Orange Shipyards
ORANGE —(P)—A 2,200-ton chunk of steel—biggest thing ever launched into Texas waters—floated on the muddy Sabine River Saturday, 52 seconds after big air rams had shoved it down a shipway.

The 300x30-foot craft drew only two feet, nine inches of water as big tugs nosed it out of the river and back to a pier, where it will be outfitted.

It is a dock barge, built by the Orange plant of U. S. Steel for the Army.

The dock barge will serve the Army as a portable type pier wherever it may be needed.

Former Texas Sheriff Wins New Trial In Evasion Case

FORT WORTH —(P)—Former Tarrant County Sheriff Sully Montgomery, convicted last year of income tax evasion, has won a new trial.

The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans Friday reversed Montgomery's conviction and took the same action in the case of A. L. Wardlaw, former assistant district attorney here. Wardlaw also was convicted of income tax evasion.

The new trials will be in the same federal district court at Dallas where juries in May, 1952, convicted the two.

Montgomery, now employed as a collector for a chain grocery here, had served as a peace officer for 10 years when he was indicted on charges of trying to evade $5,515.52 in income taxes for the years 1948, 1949 and 1950. Wardlaw was accused of evading $2,036 in income taxes for the years 1948 and 1949.

Judge Richard T. Rives, the member of the three-judge panel who wrote the circuit court opinion, held that Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of Dallas committed a reversible error in denying Montgomery's lawyer permission to examine documents used by a prosecution witness.

In the Wardlaw case, the court held that the charge to the jury was prejudicial.

Montgomery referred reporters to his attorney, Clyde Mays, for a statement. Mays said Montgomery was innocent. "He paid all income taxes and tried to comply with the law in good faith," Mays said. "And when he was finally told what he owed, Sully went down there and paid the taxes."

Vietminh Rebels Push Deep Into Indochina State, Laos

HANOI, INDOCHINA —(P)—French and Laotian troops which evacuated Samnuea Monday reached the plain Saturday. They had made a tortuous hike of 100 miles or more through the dense jungle over mountain paths from Samnuea, about 100 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Others in the column plodding toward the plain—a column described as several miles long—were expected to reach the newly fortified French-Laotian positions momentarily.

Thousands of Vietminh soldiers pursued the garrison column. From the east, at the same time, came a Vietminh division moving on Kiang-khouang from the coast of Annam, a Viet Nam province on the South China sea.

This development poised the threat that the French and Laotians on the Des Jarres Plains might be attacked simultaneously by the Vietminh from Northern Laos and those moving from Annam. There appeared no doubt the French and Laotians would be heavily outnumbered.

Labor Act Violation Nets Year's Sentence

HOUSTON —(P)—Former Communist Armando Ramirez was sentenced to a year Friday on conviction of violating the O'Daniel Labor Act.

The New Yorker, 52, was accused of using force and violence in trying to prevent Mrs. Maria Garza, 39, from working.

Punch-Throwing Legislative Deadlock Develops On Teacher Pay Boost Issue

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN—(P)—A punch-throwing deadlock on the teachers pay-new tax issue looms for the final days of the Legislature.

Most hopes for a compromise and an early windup of the session have been dashed. Governor Shivers says increased pay for teachers that would require new taxes, along with other "worthy projects" should not be acted on this session.

That runs head-on into demands of the Texas State Teachers Association for a flat $600 a year pay boost, and views of a Legislature backing it along with some new form of tax increase to foot the bill.

Shivers vs. Tennyson

The situation came to the boiling point at the end of the session's busiest week when Shivers sharply criticized Charles Tennyson, spokesman for the teachers, for what he called Tennyson's "all or nothing" attitude on the pay boost.

Rep. Doug Crouch of Denton replied to Shivers in a statement saying he is "trying to defeat the $600 a year teacher pay raise by the use of slur tactics and personalities."

"The need for increased teacher salaries is an economic fact and is not, as Shivers would have us believe, an infamous scheme of a high pressure lobby," Crouch said.

Lobbyist Enemies

"The real enemies of the people are the big industry lobbyists. Has Shivers ever called them by name as he recently did the executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association?"

Tennyson had made no reply. But pressure from the teachers on individual legislators continues unabated.

Plenty of lawmakers were predicting the battle could hold the Legislature in session until July.

Shivers insisted he was not opposing the $600 or even a $1,000 increase for teachers "if it's justified and if there's money to pay for it."

He said that question and other "worthy" state needs should be held up until the courts finally rule on validity of last session's gas pipeline tax that has tied up around 45 million dollars in state revenue.

The teachers pay faction wants the $600 raise now and will fight any effort to defer it. They oppose the governor's plan to revise the public school finance structure to pay for a lesser raise without a new tax on the state level.

Floor and committee action last week brought these major developments:

1. Final passage and certification of the bill to pay general state expenses for the next two years. The bill passed by a 10-9 vote.

2. Final approval of an amendment setting the terms of county and district officials at four years instead of two, to be voted on in the 1954 general election. It was the session's first approved constitutional amendment.

3. The Senate passed the $600-a-year teachers payroll backed by the teachers association, an action Shivers called an "empty gesture" since money is not in sight to finance it.

4. The House rules and lack of a teachers pay faction majority big enough to set them aside continued to block all efforts to speed action there on teachers pay.

5. A judicial redistricting bill for the entire state was approved by a House committee and sent to the floor.

6. More of the governor's proposed water legislation finished the committee stage and went to the floor for debate.

7. An investigation of District Woodward Laughlin in the political-turbulent 79th South Texas District was asked, and start of hearings on it set for next week.

The woman had been beaten, and District Attorney W. W. Ellison said the charges against her husband were filed on the findings of the autopsy.

Rare Unanimous Vote Puts UN Blessing On Truce Talk

UNITED NATIONS —(P)—In a rare unanimous vote, the UN General Assembly expressed hope Saturday that the proposed talks at Panmunjom will result in an early armistice in Korea.

The resolution, offered by Brazil, provides that the Assembly will hold off any Korean discussions here until the outcome of the Panmunjom talks is known. The Assembly will remain in recess, ready for a quick meeting, if an armistice or other Korean developments require action.

The harmonious action was made possible Thursday when Poland withdrew a Soviet catch-all peace plan which had raised such controversial issues as an immediate cease-fire in Korea, a one-third reduction in the armaments of the big powers and an immediate ban on atomic weapons.

Friction on another controversial issue was avoided when the Assembly decided to postpone action on a controversial measure calling for an impartial inquiry into Communist charges that the UN has used germ warfare in Korea.

This proposal was referred back for further committee action after Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky raised procedural objections to an immediate decision.

Falling, which was organized in 1931, reported sales of $6,297,216 for the fiscal year ending July 31, 1952, compared with $4,887,910 in the preceding year. Currently the company has a backlog of orders of approximately $2,000,000. Before World War II, most of the company's products went to the petroleum industry.

Today, however, approximately one-half of its volume is derived from sources outside this industry, principally the water well industry.

Some time ago the company formed a special water well division which supplies equipment both for large irrigation projects and for domestic wells. Falling equipment also is used widely in drilling wells for air conditioning and in coring formations in the world-wide search for uranium and other minerals.

In January, 1953, the Falling Company put into production two new type hydraulic chain feed drills, both of which had immediate acceptance by major oil companies and by independent drilling contractors.

Export Arrangements

An agreement was made between the Falling Company and the Mitchell Engineering Company of Peterborough, England, whereby the English company would build drilling rigs to serve the sterling area under Falling patents and Falling engineering.

Export business of the Falling company is handled exclusively by George P. Gregory, Jr., 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City. Falling agents and representatives are located in almost every country of the world outside the Iron Curtain, including France, Germany, Italy, Turkey, Iraq, Iran, India, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, South America and Africa.

Purchase of the George E. Falling Supply Company of Enid, Okla., world's largest producers of portable drilling rigs for oil, water, and mineral exploration, by the Westinghouse Air Brake Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., was made public Saturday in a joint announcement by George E. Falling, president of the company which bears his name, and Edward O. Boshell, chairman of the board and president of Westinghouse.

"Purchase of the Falling Supply Company marks another important step in Westinghouse's long range diversification and expansion program," said Boshell. "We have been looking for a company such as the Falling company, with a world-wide reputation for building quality equipment, and we at Westinghouse are very happy over this new affiliation. The LeRoy Company of Milwaukee, Wis., manufacturers of internal combustion engines and air compressors for the petroleum industry, came under Westinghouse ownership last year, and the purchase of the Falling company will increase our range of products in this field."

"We are happy to become associated with the Westinghouse company since this union will provide the means for expanded operations to meet the ever-increasing demand for our products," said Falling.

The Falling Company manufactures rotary type, portable truck and trailer-mounted seismograph shot hole rigs, core drill rigs, shallow production rigs, large hole irrigation rigs, blast hole rigs, uranium mining rigs, electric logging machines and a variety of attachments and supplies for the oil industry. Falling accounts for approximately 65 per cent of the industry's production in this field.

CHEER UP, TAXPAYERS—

Government Gets Some Things Free

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON —(P)—Cheer up, taxpayers. The government isn't all expense with nothing coming in.

Let us turn today to the U. S. National Museum. Its annual report shows it's collecting things at the rate of a half million items a year. Its total collection: 33,184,494 specimens, including almost 12 million insects.

That's quite a few bugs, but more are coming in all the time. Look at what we taxpayers have been getting:

Dr. Manuel P. Castro of Buenos Aires, Argentina, thoughtfully has supplied us with four mosquitoes.

Tokuharu Abe of Tokyo has sent along a couple of eels.

The estate of Gertrude Abbott of Philadelphia has contributed a walking stick used by Napoleon at St. Helena.

SON BORN TO MARTINS

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Martin are the parents of a son, weighing seven pounds and 12 ounces, born Saturday afternoon in a Midland hospital. Martin is director of special services for the Midland public schools.

Fred A. Bianchi of Honolulu has sent four thrips—a type of insect—from New Caledonia.

Walter Aufferberg of Gainesville, Fla., has sent in a blacksnake. Glen C. Sanderson of Marion, Iowa, has come through with a whitefooted mouse, and James Beavers of Alexandria, Va., a black widow spider and her black widow babies.

Brig. Gen. Albert C. Dalton of Washington has given a coat made from the skin of a buffalo killed by "Buffalo Bill" himself.

From Dr. Colvin Gibson in Guatemala come 39 horseflies, and from Dhirubhai Mehta, in far off Ghatkopar, India, four Mahatma Gandhi post cards.

From nearer home, Cleveland, Mrs. Paul Visccher sent "approximately 10,979 barnacles."

Most of the contributors appear to be scientists or ordinary citizens who have found something out of the ordinary.

But one contributor got to be pretty well known during the years he lived here. That piece of rock from Corregidor, the report says, was sent in by Harry S. Truman, then of Washington, D. C.

Public Hearing Set On Measure Aimed At Judge Laughlin

AUSTIN —(P)—South Texas politics plays a return engagement in the Legislature Wednesday.

That's when a public hearing will be held on a resolution by Senator William Shireman of Corpus Christi, calling for an investigation of Woodward Laughlin of Alice, judge of the 79th District.

It will be held before the Senate Civil Jurisprudence Committee at 3 p.m.

House hearings continued on proposed tax increases, with oil and gas taxes scheduled for Monday and beer, manufacturing and gasoline processing taxes Wednesday.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee has set its first hearing on a separate natural gas tax bill, one by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, for April 27.

Westinghouse Buys Failing Supply Firm In Big Transaction

Dallas Rookie Heads Texas League Batting After Week

DALLAS—(AP)—Dallas didn't do so well in the first week of the Texas League campaign but its third baseman, Jim Clarkson, did. If all the Eagles were hitting like the rookie it would have been different.

Clarkson took the lead in the batting race with a gaudy .467, pounding seven hits in 14 times. He chubbed three home runs to also lead that department and he scored more runs than anybody else with eight.

Clarkson batted in seven runs to tie Bob Caffery of San Antonio in the RBI division. He didn't have as many hits as Caffery and Russ Rose of Fort Worth but he got more per time tried, playing in one less game than those two. Caffery and Rose had 10 apiece.

J. P. Jones of Shreveport and Harry Scherting of Fort Worth tied for the lead in doubles with three each while Leonard Lemon of Fort Worth topped in triples with two.

Oklahoma City had the most power at the plate. The Indians had a club batting average of .378, San Antonio and Fort Worth were second with .360. The puniest average was that of Beaumont, which had a measly .180.

Sixteen pitchers won one game and lost none.

Individual honors were all Ken Baker's. He bowled the high individual score, 583, and the highest single game, 237.

Besides Al Boring's victory over Tide Water, Honolulu Oil won two and lost one from Standard Oil of Texas; Stuart Photo won two and lost one from Phillips 66; Seaboard Oil won three from State Exploration; Midland Geophysical won two and lost one from W. Weeks Yields To Protests, Restores Scientist To Job

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Astin affair appeared to have quieted down on Capitol Hill Saturday night but Chairman David L. Hill of the Federation of American Scientists insisted on a full congressional inquiry into the "motives and circumstances" surrounding it.

After an evaluation of the Standards Bureau by a special scientific committee, Weeks said, Astin will be offered another job in his present grade "where his professional skill and abilities may be utilized."

Weeks said he never questioned Astin's integrity, or that of the bureau, but laid their differences to "administrative viewpoint and procedure."

Earlier Weeks had said he ousted Astin because, among other things, the Bureau of Standards had not been "sufficiently objective" in testing a chemical designed to prolong the life of storage batteries. The bureau reported that the chemical was worthless.

Many scientists protested the ouster move, holding that it was an example of political pressure being exerted on a scientific organization. There had been reports that unless Weeks backedtracked there would be wholesale resignations of scientists from the bureau, a government testing outfit which works on top secret military projects as well as many other scientific tasks.

Weeks' statement appeared to satisfy Astin and senators who had been clamoring for an investigation. Chairman Thye (R-Minn.) of the Senate Small Business Committee, which had been scheduled to start hearings this week with Astin as the first witness, said he was "very happy" about Weeks' action and announced the hearings had been called off. He said a majority of the committee agreed that "no useful purpose" would be served by going ahead.

I'M AGAINST SIN, BUT— Editors Debate Jelke Case Censorship, Argue To Draw

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Editors argued Saturday whether a New York judge did newspaper readers a favor by barring the press from hearing prosecution evidence in the trial of Minot P. Jelke, the convicted safe society procurer of call girls.

The contest ended in no decision, but the four debating editors agreed many papers did not brighten the name of journalism by the way they played up the "degrading" aspects of the case. The debate drew a capacity crowd of editors on the have had the dad-burnedest, dog-final day of the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors here.

Charles A. Guy of the Lubbock (Texas) Avalanche-Journal said he was forced to reply, if asked whether Judge Francis L. Valentine had erred in barring the press from his courtroom: "No—or at least maybe not."

"Sex Play-By-Play"

Even "so noble a breed as editors" is not always infallible in judgment in handling "such a mess of filth," Guy said.

Had the Jelke trial been wide open, Guy submitted, "we would gonedest orgy of sex play-by-play reporting in the history of the country."

For the other side, Alicia Patterson of Long Island's Newsday and Malcolm W. Bingley of the Detroit Free Press, assailed Judge Valentine's decision with equal vigor. They thus agreed with the society's freedom of information committee that the exclusion order was a setback to press freedom.

"Men Of Distinction"

Miss Patterson said Judge Valentine cooperated completely with newspapers until an assistant district attorney disclosed the testimony would include the names of "some men of distinction" who patronized Jelke's girl associates. Then, on the day the trial opened, Miss Patterson said, the judge ruled the testimony would be "too filthy and obscene" to permit the admission of press and public.

Bingley held that the sensational nature of the testimony was hardly an excuse for denying access to press and public.

"I'm against sin," he observed, "but this has been going on for years."

The Detroit editor summarized: "The Jelke case, with all its bawdiness, may serve to bring to the general public mind and especially the newspaper mind that the fight is not for any special freedom of the press but for freedom of information."

Though members enjoyed the debate, the editors' society is on record through its official committee on freedom of information as condemning Judge Valentine's action.

G. B. Goolsby, president of the Terminal Lions' Club, was in charge. He presented Jack Smith of Big Spring, zone candidate for district governor of the Lions.

Arkansas Zone Buzzes As Gas Wells Produce

By HAROLD HART

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The long, fertile Arkansas Valley is teeming with a rearing interest in natural gas production.

Some of the nation's biggest oil companies have leased more than 1,500,000 acres in that area, says state geologist Norman Williams.

Durbin Bond of Little Rock, president of Durbin Bond & Company, independent oil drillers, echoes Williams' enthusiasm.

"Sure, it's a big thing," says Bond. "The big companies are moving in because they have a chance of getting oil and if they don't the gas will cover their drilling costs."

Bond says there is a tremendous market for all the gas that can be produced. Pipe lines now move it to the big Eastern market. This, plus the bottling of liquid petroleum gas for rural consumption.

The big three oil companies active in the valley now are Carter, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey; Continental and Gulf. Each has leased over a quarter of a million acres, says Williams.

Other firms in there include Murphy Oil Company of El Do-

While Soviet leaders talk of peace, the agents of Soviet communism abroad continue to carry on an underground warfare against the West.

It also directs much attention to the various Communist movement throughout the world such as the "peace congresses," the international organizations of women, youth and other groups, and what the newspaper fondly refers to as the "growing strike movement in the capitalist countries."

There are other manifestations of Soviet intent. One such has just come into the hands of sources in the United States. It is the publication Soviet Ethnography, which deals with problems of races and nationalities.

This organ carries a long and careful study of Africa and the Middle East. Examining the prospects for communism country by country. It carefully examines, for example, the nationalist movement in Egypt and Iran and other countries and dependencies of the Trud has been carrying similar analyses of the prospects, not overlooking the nuisance value of certain organizations inside the United States, where, led by Communists, "peace committees" are carrying on the propaganda campaign for Moscow. Trud pointed specifically to such organizations in Chicago and in Brooklyn.

Golfers Place Eight Players On Spot In City Championship

First Of About 200 Prepare To Start Qualifying Monday

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT—Bobby Branum tunes up for the City Championship Golf Tournament by practicing chip shots at Ranchland Hill Thursday. The camera caught him just after he lofted a shot (ball about Branum's eye level) within four feet of the pin. Branum actually was trying out a new wedge, which he hopes will trim his usual mid-70's scores down to pars. Inset shows a closeup of him.

A FINE SPRAY—Ranchland Hill greens are showing the effect of daily spraying. The daily application of water has the greens in near-perfect condition for the City Championship Tournament which begins Monday. Doing the spraying is Groundkeeper Dick Trott. The rest of the course also is in good condition. Trott and his staff have been preparing for the tournament several weeks, and golfers are quick to nod their agreement that the course is in better shape than at any time during the year.

SPORTS PARLEY—

Golfer Who Fades Gets Edge In Playing Ranchland Course

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Turn your future book to May 3 and you'll find this description of the first city-wide golf champion: He's a right-handed player who's good with his wedge and two-iron, a straight shooter with a brassie, a fair-to-warmer putter which goes without saying, and, foremost of all, one who can "fade" a ball and get it on his tee shots.

We'll not call any names for the first annual Reporter-Telegram City Championship still is to be played and there's no special bonus in being psychic. Yet, here's one free-of-charge prediction, based on the above calculated description of the champ.

Anyone who comes up with an occasional roundhouse hook just isn't in it.

The Ranchland course, where the tournament runs April 20-26, May 1-3, offers shotmakers who slice slightly an advantage over the hookers. The reason is obvious enough—five holes on the lay-out have doglegs to the left—three of them decided turns—while only two go right.

As a consequence, when the champ calls five times and gets his driver to fade, he's got the "position" over a straight or hooking shot. And, position on the lengthy Ranchland course could mean as much as five-strokes a round.

Perhaps the best way to show the tilt is to take him around the 6,624-yard spread (serving also to introduce the course to those who haven't played it). First the right-hand dogleg holes:

No. 1 par 5—This crescent shaped 600-yarder, the longest, has baffled so many straight hitters by its bend that a lot adopt a short-cut, playing down the adjacent-to-the-right No. 5 fairway. Our player, though, fades down No. 1 for about 250 yards where the turn begins and gets ready to hit an over-the-rough brassie straight toward the green.

No. 5 par 4—A straight 250-yard drive on this L-shaped hole puts the player out the end of the fairway, a hook leaves him in the rough with 175 to 200 yards still to go on the 346-yard hole. The "place" shot, about 250, follows the fading fairway to the right-hand corner where a fair wedge can set up a birdie try.

No. 6 par 4—A "fader" takes a big clearance to the left to play down the middle of this quickly-arching 375-yarder. A straight drive has to carry about 250 to get over the sandy rough jutting into the fairway immediately off the tee. With a slight hook, you're still a four or five-iron shot away from the pin.

No. 8 par 4—A near-straight 390-yarder where a tiny slice means a steeper iron for the second shot. And No. 18, par 4—Playing down the right side of the fairway cuts off a little yardage from this 420-yard hole, which means the fade has less advantage here.

As for hooks—On No. 9, par 5, anyone who can hook or hit 300 yards and play a 3-iron-to-putt shot straight has an excellent chance on this easiest-to-eagle 485-yarder.

No. 16 par 4, turns left, too, but has little disadvantage to those who hit straight, for, if your drives carry 200 yards, it's safe to play over the roughs on the left. It's 385 yards.

The approach means the difference on the rest, all of them straight: No. 2—par 4, 405 yards; No. 3—par 3, 165; No. 4—par 4, 425; No. 7—par 3, 205; No. 10—par 4, 365; No. 11—par 3, 185; No. 12—par 4, 345; No. 13—par 4, 410; No. 14—par 4, 430; No. 15—par 5, 408; No. 17—par 3, 180.

But back to hooks and slices, a player who can call his shots won't have too much trouble at Ranchland. But at the same time, take warning about several pitfalls.

Too much slice on No. 5 lands you in a small puddle, behind a manufactured ridge or among trees, with a tough sand trap to carry to the green.

The same shot lands in sand on No. 6, behind trees on No. 8, and out of bounds on No. 12 and No. 15. An extreme hook is out of bounds on No. 9 and behind trees on No. 14.

Indians Call Sisk To Face Odessa

The Midland Indians, confused quite a bit from what Big Spring did to them Friday, continue in a muddle through Sunday about what to expect from Odessa.

Midland was rolled over for seven runs in the first inning and fell dead, 19-8, playing Big Spring there Friday night. Now Odessa, one down in one try to Midland, invades Indian Park at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. And the Indians are wondering what pitcher Oiler Skipper Pepper Martin will start.

Al Sokolowski and Wes Ortiz, both of whom were likely choices, teamed up Friday as Odessa whipped Abilene, and only Frank Mohal, the Odessa ace, is left. Still, he has been figured on to open the season Tuesday for Martin.

Bud Sisk, 26-year-old rookie, received Midland's assignment and will be making his second start; he lost to Wichita Falls.

Another new Indian found things rough in the Friday game that was called at the end of seven innings because of blowing sand. However, Romarico Soto, Cuban right-hander, wasn't around for that decision. He'd already lost—giving up nine runs off nine hits, seven walks and three wild pitches.

Midland trailed 9-4 when Soto gave way to Manager Jay Haney, who finished.

About the only consolation for Midland came when Scooter Hughes and rookie Milt Wallendorf gave the Indians home run honors. Both smack wind-assisted four-baggers with no one on base.

Armando Diaz hit for the circuit for Big Spring.

AG GOLFERS FALL

DENTON —(P)—North Texas State won its seventh straight golf match Friday defeating Texas A&M, 8-1.

Tuesday Heralds Longhorn Action

ABILENE —(P)—The Longhorn League opens its seventh season Tuesday night with two new cities and with high hopes of drawing a half million fans during the campaign.

PENMEN PICK TRIBE, OILERS

ABILENE —Sports writers in the Longhorn League figure it will be Midland and Odessa in a photo finish in the 1953 campaign.

The poll, conducted by President Hal Sayles, left Midland and Odessa tied for first with Artesia and Roswell completing the first division.

Four of seven writers in the poll selected Midland for the top, two named Odessa and one Roswell.

Here's how the writers rated the clubs:

(1) Midland and Odessa, 48; (2) Artesia, 38; (4) Roswell, 37; (5) San Angelo, 28; (6) Big Spring, 26; (7) Lamesa, 18, and (8) Carlsbad, 15.

Wherever Midland golfers gather Sunday they're deciding who's on the spot, who's not, as far as predicting the first city champion.

Sunday is their last day to group before they themselves hop into qualifying for The Reporter-Telegram's first annual City Championship tournament. It'll be played over the Ranchland Hill Country Club course.

The first players—probably none of them among the favorites—tee off Monday for week-long qualifying which ends April 26. On that last day, the top choices bid for the medalist honors and its prize.

You can expect this eightsome out at that time—Johnny Sherrod, Kit Carson, Bill Wortman, Red Watkins, Jimmy Stone, Vann Ligon, Jimmy Smith and Roy Lockett—each with backers. They are the ones being mentioned most as titlist prospects.

Some Pick Wortman

As for individual camps picking their choice, Ranchland Hill members Saturday figured Wortman as the man to beat. And with reason enough.

Wortman holds one club championship as well as having been runner-up.

Carson and Watkins, too, captured Ranchland titles in the past. Ligon and Lockett, from Midland Country Club (where the 1954 event will be held), are being boomed as the top shotmakers in town.

Billy Joe Lancaster, a former State high school champion while living in Longview, also figures in the pre-tourney debates, as does a schoolboy, Marcelino Moreno.

While everybody is foretelling the winner, there's no 1-up among lower flight competitors—as indicated by Saturday's list of early entries.

Early List Swells

Abe Beckman, Ranchland pro who directs this year's meet, said about 35 had signed up, most of them golfers who play in the 80-100 bracket.

The first three out—Jack Shier, Tippy Smith and Tommy Withrow—play 75-80 golf, according to their Ranchland opponents.

A weather forecast for Sunday called for good golf weather for the last pre-tourney warmup rounds, the prediction prompting Beckman to invite every possible entry to get on the course as soon as possible.

He said Ranchland would be open to all golfers—club members or not—when they enter the meet. That will enable independent players entering Monday to practice all this week along with qualifying, then next week and the three days of match play, May 1-3.

Two hundred or more are expected to play, possibly as many as 15 flights of 16 players each. A flight champion, each—the award winners to receive golfing merchandise as prizes.

The overall champion wins an expensive, 28-inch trophy as well as the top flight prize and a permanent City Championship trophy. The big cup will be retired to the first winner of three city championships.

Beckman said the new trophy probably will be on display at the Ranchland clubhouse sometime this week.

White Sox Nudge Indians In Clash Of Errors, 26 Waks

CHICAGO —(P)—In the new season's wildest game—there were 26 bases on balls, only four shy of a Major League record—the Chicago White Sox Saturday capitalized on one of the game's six errors to score an eighth inning run for a 7-6 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

In addition to the many walks—which threatened to match the Detroit-Philadelphia record of 30 set in 1916—and the errors, there were two hit batsmen and one wild pitch.

Cleveland left 14 men stranded and the Sox abandoned 11. Seven times the bases were filled. Although the teams combined for 13 runs, only seven hits were made, four of them by the Sox.

One of the hit batsmen was big Luke Easter, the Indians' first baseman. He was struck by one of Lou Kretlow's sinkers in the fourth inning and suffered a fracture of a metatarsal bone in his left foot. The attending physician reported he would be out of action for at least six weeks.

The Sox' Tommy Byrne yielded two hits and six walks, Kretlow one and eight and Harry Dorish, the eventual winner, 0-0.

For Cleveland, Early Wynn gave up two hits and two walks, Dave Hoskins 1-8, Ted Wilks, 1-0, an loser Al Aber 0-5.

Ferris Fain scored the decisive Sox run. He walked and went from first to third when Minnie Mingo sacrificed and then knocked down Bobby Avila charging into first. Rocky Krsnich grounded to Al Rosen and then catcher Jim Hegan dropped the throw to the plate as Fain slid in.

The score:

Chicago	500	100	01x-7 4 2

Working out under the lights recently were DeWala Mitchell, C. B. Burkhalter, Joe Woodson, Gene Duke, Gene Owens, David Correll, Roy Taylor, Bob Thompson, Jack Lindsey, Bo Boykin, Charlie Hutchins, W. C. Woodson and Manager Williams.

Other JayCees have been working out and possibly will be playing when the season rolls around, the manager said.

Andrews Snares 5-A Track Title

Half Of Meet's Records Broken

By ABE WEINER
Reporter-Telegram Sports Staff

ODESSA—The Andrews Mustangs made things look amazingly simple here Saturday as they romped to the District 5-A track and field title by 13 1/2 points.

The Mustangs established four new records and had the meet's high-point man in Gene Ellis, the flashy hurdler who won both hurdle events and took third in the broad jump and high jump for a total of 14 points.

Andrews won seven events, placed second in three, third in three and fourth in two to score 53 points. Denver City trailed 36 1/2, Monahans 19, Crane 17, Fort Stockton 11, Pecos seven and one-half, Kermit seven and Seminole four.

Some 300-odd sun-baked spectators waited an hour and a half past the scheduled starting time of 1:30 p.m. so the contestants "could get some rest." To them, the climax came in the last two events of the day—particularly the last.

Andrews, far ahead on points and uncatchable, took the lead in the mile relay and held it through two laps, but James Morton of Denver City outraced Charles Harrell of Andrews to the final handoff.

Arthur Montgomery, running the anchor lap for the Mustangs, caught Denver City's John Dale Curtis within 60 yards, but Curtis put on a terrific kick to nail the Mustang quarter-mile at the tape by inches.

It was all in vain, however, for officials ruled Morton had cut in front of Harrell and disqualified Denver City—the third time in as many years this has happened. Denver City thus was cheated of a record, for the time was a neat 3:34.8. The record was awarded to Andrews, since the Mustangs finished in the same time.

Just prior to this event, Billy Mayes of Andrews had won the admiration of every person within the confines of Broncho stadium. Mayes, leading the mile run by a step over teammate Don Gooch, dropped off the track three-fourths of the way through the second lap when Gooch accidentally stepped on his shoe.

Mayes stopped to put his shoe back on and then stepped back onto the track and pulled into fifth place when he suddenly wilted with three-fourths a lap to go. It was a daring attempt to overcome the odds and one of the finest examples of the "good ole college try."

Besides the four records set by Andrews, Denver City collected two and Monahans one. Thus, half of the records in the meet were bettered. Crane's Clarence Miller tied the high jump mark.

Andrews also took the junior high division, scoring 25 points to Seminole's 14. Kermit had 12, Monahans 7, Pecos 4, Crane 4 while Fort Stockton and Denver City failed to scratch.

Some 300-odd sun-baked spectators waited an hour and a half past the scheduled starting time of 1:30 p.m. so the contestants "could get some rest." To them, the climax came in the last two events of the day—particularly the last.

Andrews, far ahead on points and uncatchable, took the lead in the mile relay and held it through two laps, but James Morton of Denver City outraced Charles Harrell of Andrews to the final handoff.

Arthur Montgomery, running the anchor lap for the Mustangs, caught Denver City's John Dale Curtis within 60 yards, but Curtis put on a terrific kick to nail the Mustang quarter-mile at the tape by inches.

It was all in vain, however, for officials ruled Morton had cut in front of Harrell and disqualified Denver City—the third time in as many years this has happened. Denver City thus was cheated of a record, for the time was a neat 3:34.8. The record was awarded to Andrews, since the Mustangs finished in the same time.

Just prior to this event, Billy Mayes of Andrews had won the admiration of every person within the confines of Broncho stadium. Mayes, leading the mile run by a step over teammate Don Gooch, dropped off the track three-fourths of the way through the second lap when Gooch accidentally stepped on his shoe.

Mayes stopped to put his shoe back on and then stepped back onto the track and pulled into fifth place when he suddenly wilted with three-fourths a lap to go. It was a daring attempt to overcome the odds and one of the finest examples of the "good ole college try."

Besides the four records set by Andrews, Denver City collected two and Monahans one. Thus, half of the records in the meet were bettered. Crane's Clarence Miller tied the high jump mark.

Andrews also took the junior high division, scoring 25 points to Seminole's 14. Kermit had 12, Monahans 7, Pecos 4, Crane 4 while Fort Stockton and Denver City failed to scratch.

BUMS ARE COUSINS—

Sal Maglie 'Looks Bad,' But Continues To Stop Brooks

NEW YORK (AP)—Sal Maglie continues to haunt the Brooklyn Dodgers despite their perch atop the National League Saturday.

Maglie is the veteran New York Giants' right-hander who answers to the nickname of "The Barber."

Sal probably never has wielded a razor on anybody other than himself, but there is no denying he keeps the fidgety Dodgers in a lather.

The power hitting Brooks usually butcher up any other pitcher but as soon as Maglie saunters out on the hill, they weaken.

Friday, for instance, they racked up five giant blunders for 16 hits and a 12-4 triumph. That was during the evening portion of a day-night doubleheader. In the afternoon, however, they got six hits and three runs. Through six and two-thirds innings, they failed to get a hit, let alone a run.

The reason? Why, Maglie, of course.

Sal had to have help from Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth before winning, 6-3. It was his sixteenth triumph over the Dodgers in three years. They have beaten him only five times.

"I think Maglie beats us because the fellows know he is Maglie," said a puzzled Jackie Robinson. "They get in their minds that he is their fiftieth pitcher and they can't shake the idea. He wasn't as fast out there as he used to be. In fact, he isn't quick any more."

"This may sound like sour grapes," said Roy Campanella, the slugging Brooklyn catcher. "But I swear I have never seen Maglie look so bad against us. Sure, he held us hitless until two out in the seventh. But I still insist, I've never seen him look so bad. He didn't have that old snap to his curve ball. And he didn't look fast at all."

How did he account for Maglie's success?

"Control," Campanella answered. "He was hitting the corners and he was mixing them up pretty good. He kept the boys off balance. Yes, sir, his control saved him today."

Abilene Uses Big Inning To Thrash Bulldogs, 8 To 2

Jim Spradley, starting shakily, yielded two runs and two hits in the first inning then blanked Midland the rest of the way as Abilene whipped the Bulldogs, 8-2, here Saturday in a District 3-AA baseball game.

Spradley's beginning, however, never denied his dominance in the game, for his club, by the end of its first at bat, had two runs of its own. That left the Eagles to run off with the verdict in the fifth inning in a five-run spree.

The win was unbeaten Abilene's fourth while Midland's mark is just the opposite.

Boye McKnight, starting for Midland, pitched good ball until the winning Abilene rally; he took the loss although giving up but four hits. A fit of wildness in the fifth pushed him to the sidelines in favor of Lee Snead, who did worse.

Snead, in turn, gave way to J. N. Steele, after yielding three runs, although he didn't put anybody out.

As for Abilene, its particular star, besides Spradley, was Bobby Jack Oliver, who twice threw out attempted steals and drove in two runs on a sacrifice and two-bagger. Bob Fry's three-for-four led hitting.

McKnight gave up the first of his three walks as Abilene started fast in the first inning. The pass, to Jim Bourland, a single to Randall Anderson and two balks put the Eagles ahead, 1-0, then Oliver squeezed-bunted Anderson in to make it 2-0.

Gwyn Graham's single and Dick Spencer's two-run double accounted for Midland's runs in the first inning—and it was the last time Spradley was in trouble.

He fanned two of the last three batters in the big Bulldog frame and went on to strike out 10 in six innings. He walked but one.

Mackey Newton spelled him to pitch the final inning.

Midland was able to register other hits only in the third, fourth and fifth innings. They got five in all. Meanwhile, tied at 2-2, Abilene went down almost in order until chasing McKnight. Tommy Seale started the fifth inning spree with a walk and ran home on Spradley's double.

Bourland, on by error, scored the same way with Anderson reaching base. James Hopkins walked and Oliver doubled the lead runner in with the fourth run. Fry followed with a single to complete the five-run frame.

Mustangs Hold Bare Lead Over Steers In SWC Golf Race

By The Associated Press
SMU clung to first place in Southwest Conference golf last week but got itself into a position to lose the championship.

The Methodists beat Texas A&M, 4-2, and have two matches to go with Rice at Dallas Tuesday and with Texas May 1. Texas is tied for second with Arkansas with 13 points against six for the opposition. Thus, while Texas is in second place percentage-wise, it has fewer losses, since SMU has seven and one-half points against it. Arkansas also has only four losses against eight victories and could win the title.

Joe Golden of Texas has the best individual record, winning three matches out of three.

Five matches are scheduled this week and they will have a telling effect on the title race. Arkansas makes a foray into Texas after playing Texas A&M at Fayetteville Monday. The Razorbacks take on Baylor at Waco Thursday and Texas at Austin Friday. Rice and Texas are Christian play at Fort Worth Monday.

Won-lost record of the other schools: A&M 9-9, Baylor 10-14, TCU 6 1/2-11 1/2 and Rice 4-14.

Veteran Promoter
Low Raymond Dies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Low Raymond, veteran boxing promoter, died on a train enroute from New York to Miami Friday, the Miami Daily News reported Saturday.

Raymond, about 73, had been connected with boxing for 60 years and recently became matchmaker for Joe Schaeffer here.

The paper said his last match was between Jimmy Brins, veteran Cleveland heavyweight, and Timmy Harrison of California.

Before coming to Miami he promoted boxing in New Orleans for 13 years.

Pecos Eaglettes Close Volleyball Season With Seven-Four Mark

PECOS—The Pecos Junior High Eaglette volleyball team closed their season Tuesday night in Kermit by defeating the "oil town" team 42-30.

Lavonia Nelson led the scoring with 15 points.

Members of the '53 team were Nelson, Barbara Freeman and Deanna Freeman, co-captains, Margaret Oliphant, Marilyn Langham, Barbara Whellis, Emma Dominguez, Lupe Garza, Beth Van Horn, Norma Eisenwine, Emma Herrera, Sue Ware, Jan Shirley, and Lorraine Dove, manager.

ONE OUT—Yogi Berra has a peculiar habit of catching with his index finger outside the mitt. In the third game of last fall's World Series, the exposed digit was split when Tom Gorman threw a pitch other than the one called for by the Yankees' catcher. (NEA)

Seven Toss Entries Into Colonial Field

FORT WORTH (AP)—The field for the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament was brought to 39 Saturday as seven more players accepted bids.

Jack Harden, El Paso, the Texas POA champion; Billy Erforth, Lubbock, Texas amateur king, and Fred Hawkins, El Paso, a touring professional, were added under special invitations.

Four who had previously been invited accepted. They are Shelley Mayfield, Bob Toski, Art Wall and Bo Winger. They earned their places on their records in the Winter tour.

Babe Okay After Operation, May Be Able To Play Again

BEAUMONT (AP)—The Babe "looks wonderful."

That was the word Saturday from the hospital where Babe Didrikson Zaharias had a malignancy removed by doctors who later said she may some day be able to compete again in golf.

The operation was performed Friday. Sister Mary Daniel, a nurse supervisor appointed by the Hotel Dieu to tell of the famous woman athlete's progress, said:

"Babe spent a very good night. She looks wonderful today. Four of the five doctors with Babe in surgery yesterday visited her this morning, and a spokesman said they were all pleased with Babe's condition."

Sister Mary's bulletin added ironically that ex-vrestler George Zaharias, the Babe's 300-pound husband, is all right, too.

She said pro golfer Betty Dodd of San Antonio has been continuing to play.

The greatest woman golfer of them all underwent the operation after a checkup showed she had a malignancy in the lower rectum.

Before going into the operating room, she said: "I'll be back soon to play and win."

Too Soon To Know
One of her doctors said afterward: "If things go as well as it looks, she could possibly take part in athletics again. But how soon is a little too early to say."

Zaharias' hollered: "Everything is okay again."

If Mrs. Zaharias recovers on schedule, she can leave the hospital in two or three weeks. She has said she plans to go fishing in Colorado and rest.

Sister Mary said Mrs. Zaharias would not be able to talk with anyone from outside for several days. "She is concerned only with getting well now," said Sister Mary.

Busby To Quit As Indians Business Manager May 1

Horace Busby, an official with Midland pro baseball teams since the Longhorn League organized in 1947, was one of two Midland Indian officers to tender their resignations

Saturday to the association's board of directors. Busby said he was quitting as business manager, effective May 1, because of "financial and personal reason" and asked the group to accept his resignation. J. C. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the organization, also resigned as a director. He will remain as a member of the Midland Baseball Association stockholders group but will be replaced as director.

The directors present at the meeting — President Marion Flynn, Robert Turpin, Roy Proctor, Chester Shepard and Dr. Homer E. Johnson — said they voted to accept the resignations reluctantly.

As for replacements, President Flynn said that a new secretary-treasurer and director would be named "within the next two or three days." As for the business managers jobs he said in probably would be some time before it was filled.

"We have no one in mind at present," he said Saturday night Flynn, himself, and playing Manager Jay Haney probably will take over the job in addition to their other duties.

Almost all the early spring paper work required by the National Baseball Association and the forming of the club, selling signs and reading tickets, the park and programs have been completed, Busby assured the directors Saturday.

"I regret resigning at the start of the season," Busby said, but I think we have the club off to a good start. I think we've got the best team Midland ever had."

He said that the press of business he is connected with Western Sign and Neon Company here and the size of the job with the ball club had become too much. He said he was resigning from the club because it was the best move from a personal standpoint.

"Baseball has grown to such an extent the last few years," he said. "That it would be unfair to share it with another job."

Haney, he said, had considerable experience in front office baseball. "I know the club is going to be in capable hands."

Busby joined the Midland team in 1947 as bookkeeper and part-time business manager of the club's founder, Harold Webb. He remained in that capacity until Webb sold the Indians to the association June 15, 1951. He helped run the club until Jan. 1, 1952, when he became the club's full-time general manager at that time.

Busby said he had first taken the general managers job to help the team get on a sound basis. It had been purchased in mid-season from Webb.

Busby has been a Midland businessman the last 12 years, connected with Midland Theaters and The Reporter-Telegram before joining Western Sign in 1952.

OILERS PRINT OWN VERSION

ODESSA — The Longhorn League Oilers from Odessa are dressing up their opening day baseball tickets which will become souvenirs.

The tickets went on sale last week for the Tuesday game matching Midland and the Oilers here.

A cartoon-of a driver with a pipe wrench chasing an Indian—makes the pastboard a keepsake, for this reason:

The Oilers have been called "Pep-per Martin," Odessa manager, and the Indian, "Manny Teme," a 1952 Midland player.

Their run-in during one of last year's playoff games was the talk of the season.

DeZavala scored at least 30 runs in a game for a second straight time Friday when he beat Lamar.

BUSBY'S LOOP JOB GOES, TOO

The resignation of Horace Busby as Midland Indian business manager also will affect his position as an official of the Longhorn League.

Since Busby will be disconnected with baseball when he quits here May 1, he said Saturday, "I am forwarding a request to President Hal Sayles to accept my resignation as the league's recording secretary."

Busby has held that post since December of last year.

Pat Garner Ousted, 5 And 4, In Trans-Miss Semi-Finals

PHOENIX —(AP)—Defending Champion Mrs. Lyle Brown of California and Miss Edna Anderson, Helena, Mont., shot their way into the finals of the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament Saturday and will meet for the championship at 35 holes Sunday.

Mrs. Brown came out on top of a closely-shot duel with Mary Lena Paulk, Thomasville, Ga., winning 1-up on the eighteenth.

Miss Anderson caught Pat Garner of Midland far off form and handed her a 5 and 4 trouncing.

Miss Anderson did her share of scrambling on the first nine, but on the back nine was never in trouble. The Texas lass, semifinalist in the National Amateur last year, was off with her iron and had no luck with her putter.

Miss Garner Friday beat the 1951 Trans-Miss champion, Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, yielding a 5-up lead to scramble in by 3 and 1.

Mustang Trackmen Cop Lubbock Title

LUBBOCK—Paced by Jerry Wilton, Frank Midkiff Buddy Whitley and Stanley Lightfoot, the San Jacinto Mustangs captured the ninth grade division of the Lubbock Junior High Invitational track meet here Saturday with 89 1/2 points.

Lubbock's J. T. Hutchinson was second with 23 3/4 points while Cowden of Midland was third with 12 3/4 points.

Browns Win Twice, Take League Lead

DETROIT —(AP)—The St. Louis Browns scored two runs in the eighth inning, the second coming on a freak passed ball, to edge the Detroit Tigers, 3-2, in the second game of a doubleheader Saturday and make a sweep of the two games.

The Browns won the opener, 4-7, in the eighth inning when Tiger outfielder Jim Deland and Bob Nieman collided under an easy pop fly and let two St. Louis runs pour across the plate.

The triumphs moved the surprising Browns to the lead of the American League race.

Shoddy fielding cost the Bengals each game.

In the eighth inning of the nightcap, pinch-hitter Hank Edwards opened up with a long double to left. Dick Kokos, another pinch hitter, sent Edwards across with a single to right and took second on the throw to the plate.

Neil Berry ran for Kokos and moved to third on a sacrifice. Then Tiger Catcher Johnny Busch committed his costly passed ball.

With Bobby Young at the plate, the Browns tried to work a squeeze play. Berry was running all the way and would have been a sure out if Busch held the ball, which was a perfect strike.

But the ball popped out of his glove like a Mexican jumping bean and Berry crossed the plate with the winning run.

Bulldogs Set Two Records At Abilene

ABILENE—The Midland Bulldogs reached their goal here Saturday as they set two new standards in the mile and 800-yard relays and wound up in third place in the Abilene Invitational Track and Field meet.

Coach Edwin Nixon's forces Wednesday had announced intentions of aiming at the relay records and several individual events rather than attempting a team victory. The plans went according to schedule except for the open quarter-mile and the 440-yard relay.

The Bulldogs whipped around the oval in 1:33.6 to win the 800-yard relay in record fashion. After a third place finish in the 440-yard relay behind Winters and Abilene, Midland toured the mile event in 3:11.6 to clip almost seven seconds off the mark set by Hamilton in 1951. The old record was 3:35.4.

Biggest surprise of the day to the Abilene spectators was Roy Kimsey's victory in the 100-yard dash. Coach Nixon had planned this upset Thursday. He sacrificed a certain victory in the open quarter by the maneuver, but Bill Mims picked up a third-place in the event, finishing behind Frank Glass of Sweetwater and Wayne Rogers of Abilene. Kimsey's time in the 100 was 10.6, a comparatively slow time but relatively fast when considering the strong wind blowing.

The weather was dismal, and even threatened to be worse Saturday night. A low of 85 degrees was forecast, so meet officials ran the event off during the morning and afternoon rather than brave the night weather. It was scheduled to be an all-day meet.

Most Abilene treated its visitors roughly, capturing the meet with 129 1/3 points. Brownwood finished second with 112 2/3 while Midland trailed with 68 points. Big Spring was tied for sixteenth with six.

The Paintmen then replaced Car-Trucks Rental, the previous week's leader.

Al Boring Drafting Service moved into second place with 5,019. Car-Trucks Rental wound up third in the standings with 2,971 while West Texas as Reproduction was fourth with 2,961 and American Trading and Production was fifth with 2,950.

Hooper Wins Discus, Shot Third Time At Lawrence

LAWRENCE, KAN. —(AP)—Two stars of the Olympic games last Summer, Darrow Hooper and Thane Baker, shared the thunder with Kansas' famed bacon teams in the twenty-eight running of the Kansas Relays Saturday.

Hooper, of Texas A&M, who finished second in the Olympic shot put, won both the shot and discus for the third straight year.

Kansas State's Baker, king of the Midland sprinters and runner-up in the 200 meters at the Olympics, became the first man in history to win the 100-yard dash here three years in a row. He won in 10 seconds flat, battling a 20-mile-per-hour cross wind and a chilling 45-degree temperature.

Kansas came through on schedule to win the university four-mile sprint relay, but faltered in the distance medley after its ace, Wes Santee, was scratched in favor of Dick Wilson.

Hooper set his best marks in three years here in both the shot and discus. His shot put distance was 55 feet, three and one-half inches and the discus 163 feet, two and one-eighth inches. He was voted the most outstanding performer by press and radio men.

The only performance that bettered the Relays' standard was by Oregon's Beertine of Nebraska in the hop-step-jump, 48 feet, four and three-fourths. But that one wasn't allowed as a record because of the strong back wind. Jim Gerhardt, Rice, set the record of 47 feet, two last year.

Coach Bill Easton withdrew Santee from the distance medley after he had given sterling performances in two races.

Santee was clocked unofficially in four minutes, 11.4 seconds as he anchored the four-mile winner in 17:38.5. He whipped the 880 anchor leg of the sprint medley in 1:52.3 with the Jayhawk team timed at 3:26.

ODESSA — The Odessa Oilers scored two unearned runs in the bottom of the seventh inning here Saturday night to overtake the Midland Roughnecks for a 6-5 victory.

Center fielder Bob Millin dropped Raul Dieppe's fly ball with two away in the seventh, allowing Leo Eastham and Wes Ortiz to score with the tying and winning runs.

Leon (Hook) Hayes walked 10 and struck out seven as he went the route for Midland. The Roughnecks managed seven hits off Charles Craig, Joe King and Hayes each doubled for the only extra base hits of the game.

GASOLINE TAXES

Gasoline taxes paid by American motorists and other consumers during 1952 reached a record sum of almost $2.5 billion—an all-time high in motor fuel tax revenue and a 16.2 per cent increase over the $2.1 billion collected in 1951, according to figures released by the American Petroleum Institute Committee.

Permian Society To Hear Sun Oil Safety Director

J. Thurman Green of Dallas, safety director for the Sun Oil Company, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Permian Basin Safety Society at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Parlor C, Hotel Scharbauer.

"Safety Engineering, A Growing Profession" will be the subject of Green's address.

J. W. Drummond, publicity director for the society, said all safety engineers and directors and other interested persons in the Midland area are invited and urged to attend. A "Dutch treat" dinner will be served preceding the meeting.

The Permian Basin Safety Society, Drummond explained, meets the third Monday night of each month. The organization is made up largely of safety engineers and directors.

The objects of the society are to promote the arts and sciences of engineering in relation to the preservation of life and property, and to encourage the development of safety engineering as a profession.

The Spraberry Trend area field of Upton, Midland, Glasscock and Reagan dropped from 36 to 28 rigs.

World Authorities On Oil Mining Scheduled For Recovery Meet

World authorities on oil mining will present papers at the Sixth Oil Recovery Conference to be held at Texas A&M College Wednesday and Thursday.

The conference, with an expected attendance of 300, is sponsored by the Texas Petroleum Research Committee.

"Development, Operation and Economics of Oil Mining in Germany," will be discussed by Ing. F. Hoffman and Walter Ruesch of Wietze, Germany. The discussions will be had on the morning of April 22.

The first day will be devoted to oil recovery discussions and the second day to the water problem in Texas. "In view of the critical water problem in Texas we are devoting a portion of the program to consideration of this problem," R. L. Whiting, of the Petroleum Engineering Department, A. and M., and chairman of the conference, said.

Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of the Texas A&M College System, will deliver the principal address at the banquet Wednesday. He will talk on "Water for Texas." William J. Murray, Jr., Railroad Commission of Texas, will be the toastmaster.

A report on the Texas Petroleum Research Committee's progress will be given by Whiting at the opening session.

AUSTIN—(AP)—Oil well completions in Texas still are on the down-grade.

Wells brought in this week totaled 184 compared with 199 last week, the Railroad Commission said. This year, 3,025 wells have been completed compared with 3,398 in 1952.

Six wildcats came in this week compared with 14 the week before. The total for the year was 166 compared with 196.

The commission reported an increase of 3,404 barrels in the average calendar day allowable for Saturday compared with April 11.

Kerr-McGee Deepening Chaves Test

Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., re-entered its No. 1-A State, wildcat in Southeast Chaves County, and was drilling below 10,373 feet in line.

This wildcat was plugged and abandoned several days ago on total depth of 10,330 feet in the Ellenburger. After the test was plugged, it was decided to re-enter the hole and continue drilling until water or granite is reached.

The prospecter was 195 feet in barren Ellenburger at total depth of 10,330 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 22-12-29e and 14 miles southwest of the Caprock field.

New Lignite Uses Add Value To Texas Mineral Deposits

AMARILLO—(AP)—The estimated 11 billion tons of lignite in Texas may become of great value as a result of a newly-discovered way of using the low-grade coal.

The Bureau of Mines regional office here announced Friday the new method makes it possible to use lignite as a cheap source of electric power and coal-tar products.

Texas Power and Light Company cooperated with the bureau in two years of research on how to carbonize low-grade coals so that valuable tars, source of many basic chemicals, could be separated.

The charred residue can be used as steam-boiler fuel to produce electric power. The tar is a possible future source of drugs, dyes, plastics and explosives.

Research already has prompted TPL to build an electric power plant in Midland County which can use Texas lignite. The plant will supply power to the Aluminum Corporation of America's new smelting plant at Rockdale. The Midland County area is especially rich in lignite.

Midland County's OILC Chairman Are Appointed

Appointment of several new chairmen to the Midland County Oil Industry Information Committee was announced Saturday by County Chairman C. E. (Red) Prichard. The first meeting of the group was held recently to outline plans for the committee's operation and to allow the various chairmen to get acquainted.

Prichard pointed out that, due to the Midland County operation of the official OIIC school program, a full operating school committee exists within the group. Two new positions, a women's chairman and an employe indoctrination chairman, have been added to the organization this year in compliance with the expanded program set up by State Chairman George Bryant of Houston and Joe T. Dickerson, West Texas area chairman.

Roberta La Vice Chairman
Vice chairman of the group is W. V. (Red) Roberts, who is associated with Darrell W. Smith, Drilling Company in Midland. Roberts will work with Prichard in coordinating all activities of the group and will assist in carrying out Oil Progress Week activities this fall.

Newly appointed women's chairman is Mrs. Juanita Sherrod of Substernan, McRae & Sealy. Her activities will be coordinated through the Midland Desk and Derrick Club as one of that organization's projects for the year.

The women's committee will contact all P-T-A groups, women's clubs and other organizations in the county to volunteer assistance in conducting programs about the oil industry during 1953.

Another Chairman
The employe indoctrination chairman will be E. Dean Herr of Union Oil Company of California in Midland. Herr will follow up the program already begun by State Chairman J. N. Beasley of Houston, who has contacted hundreds of oil companies throughout Texas to urge their support to the Oil Industry Information Committee.

W. Harry Rhodes, independent oil operator of Midland, will coordinate all requests for films and speakers and will serve as co-chairman of Oil Progress Week activities. He will be assisted by A. D. Dunaway, who will handle scheduling and distribution of movies to civic groups and schools in the county.

WASHINGTON OIL— Congress Slates Study Of Petroleum Imports

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Congress starts studies of petroleum imports to the United States this week, as independent American oil producers consider special treatment of oil imports from Canada.

A proposal for a quota ceiling on oil imports, to protect the domestic crude oil industry, is up for attention as the House Ways and Means Committee opens hearings Wednesday on extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. The oil quota proposals would be added to the extension, if American producers have their way.

President Eisenhower's top level aides are down as the early witnesses. By and large, they are expected to ask the act continued without change for one more year. Under the act, the State Department has been ending quotas and reducing tariffs on petroleum imports and hundreds of other commodities.

The Eisenhower aides may strike back specifically at the mounting drive for legislation to protect the American domestic petroleum industry from excessive oil imports. The flow, well over a million barrels daily, is at a record for a sustained period. The proposed quotas would hold their imports to about 200,000 barrels daily.

Others To Testify
Later, Russell B. Brown, counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, will testify. He is also counsel of the National Oil Refiners Association. Tom Pickett, secretary of the National Oil Association, and others are to ask Congress for legislation to slow down the flow of oil imports.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower himself, continues to look for the best way of handling the oil import problem by other than legislative action. The President's invitation to 48 governors for May 4 may well go into oil imports. Interior Secretary Douglas McKay is planning to talk oil imports with some of the governors of the oil states.

A curtain of silence has been down on Canadian oil imports. Negligible in the past, Canadian oil imports to the U. S. promise to be 10 per cent of the total before the end of this year, and more year after year. In past years, Canada used to absorb about 100,000 barrels daily of U. S. crude oil and products.

The change starts this year with the completion of the Trans-Mountain Pipeline to Vancouver, a line to carry 120,000 barrels daily of crude oil at the start, and twice that when more pump stations are added. Other pipe lines to the U. S. are being built.

"Special Case"
American independent petroleum producers see Canada as a special case, partly because much of the Canadian oil is found and produced by Americans. Many of the Americans are, in fact, members of anti-oil organizations such as IPAA.

"Oil owned by Americans is, of course, within our own economy and will be available for defense purposes under any circumstances," says J.

Petroleum Industry Has Best Safety Record In History

NEW YORK—The petroleum industry's safety record in 1952 was its best in history, a survey of accident statistics by the American Petroleum Institute showed.

The frequency rate of injuries for the industry as a whole declined to 9.67 per 1,000,000 man-hours worked. This is the first time this index ever has dropped below the level of 10. The previous all-time low for the frequency rate was in 1950—10.08 per 1,000,000 man-hours worked.

The severity rate, that is the number of shift-days lost per injury, dropped to 1.04 per 1,000 man-hours worked in 1952. This is substantially under 1951's mark of 1.29 per 1,000 man-hours, but still is somewhat higher than 1950's record of 0.84.

Analysis of the survey, according to the API's department of statistics, shows that the ratio of days lost to injuries in 1952, including fatalities, is an average of 107 days per injury. The 1951 average was 123 days per injury. When fatalities are excluded, this average is 40 days per injury in 1952, compared with 28 days per injury in 1951.

A breakdown of the survey statistics indicates that the tendency toward improvement reflected in the current report took place almost all along the line. Particularly outstanding were the records of the drilling and production branches, which hit new lows. Refining and marketing divisions also showed better safety performances.

The survey for 1952 was based on collective experience of almost 900 oil companies and their subsidiaries, employing 516,180 persons and involving total exposure of more than one billion man-hours.

Three More Wildcats—

Recovery from that core was five feet of dense dolomite with slight fluorescence and slight fractures. As soon as circulation is regained, operator will make five more feet of hole and then take a drillstem test. The wildcat is in the Fusselman line. A drillstem test on shows from 6,535 to 6,556 feet failed to develop oil or gas.

The Fusselman was topped at 6,541 feet, estimated elevation 5,180 feet.

Location is 1,830 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 26-18-18e and 40 miles southwest of Artesia.

Devonian Opener In NW Gains Is Pumping To Test

Forest Oil Corporation No. 1-A Jones, Devonian discovery in Northwest Gaines County, pumped 198.2 barrels of oil plus 3.56 per cent mud and 1.54 per cent water in 24 hours. The project is still pumping oil from perforations between 11,258-269 feet.

Total depth is 11,293 feet and casing is set at that depth.

Location is 660 feet from west and 661 feet from north lines of the northeast quarter of section 10, block A-7, pal survey. That makes it between the Jones Ranch and North Russell (Devonian) fields.

WESTWARD, HO!—This convoy, including a guide car, two 3,000-gallon mixing trucks, two pump trucks and a chemicals truck, headed West from Midland one day last week—bound for Newhall, Calif. The equipment, owned by Dowell, Inc., was designed and built in the Midland area and has been used with success in acidizing wells in this section. This particular type treatment now will be tried on oil wells in the Newhall area. Pat Ramsey was the engineer in charge of the convoy.

Five New Producers Are Completed In Lea Fields

Operators have reported potential tests for five more producers in field of Lea County, New Mexico.

Three Top-Notch Speakers Scheduled For API Meeting

Three top-notch speakers have accepted assignments to address the mid-year meeting of the Division of Marketing of the American Petroleum Institute in Dallas, on May 4 and 5.

They are Lieut. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission; Roy J. Thompson, vice president of Apex Motor Fuel Company, Chicago and newly-elected chairman of the National Oil Jobbers Council, and L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Company, Houston.

General Thompson, who is recognized as one of the world's foremost conservation authorities, will speak on "Conservation Means Good Stewardship of Oil and Gas Resources"; Roy Thompson's subject will be "Industry Relations," while McCollum's topic will be "Public Relations Begins at Home."

In Baker Hotel

Hundreds of oil marketers from all sections of the country are expected to attend the two-day meeting, which will be held in the Baker Hotel. The three speakers will make their addresses on the afternoon of the first day, at a general session.

At the regular business session on May 5 reports are expected to be presented on the new recommendation of the API Lubrication Committee, on establishment of the proposed Service Advisory Committee, and on approval of an accounting manual for jobbers and distributors.

Letter ballots on all three items are now underway.

The recommendation of the Lubrication Committee on oil drain intervals makes these proposals: on dusty or cold weather driving, every 500 miles; on city and suburban driving, every 1,000 miles; and on open highway driving, up to 2,000 miles. The proposals represent a change from the Committee's standard recommendation of an oil drain every 1,000 miles, regardless of the type of driving.

Service Station Group The Service Station Advisory Committee, if approved, will be a companion organization to the present Jobber Advisory Committee. The objective of the Service Station committee will be similar to that of the Jobber group — to seek better understanding of dealer problems. A recommendation that this Committee be established grew out of the last API meeting, and the current balloting by general committee members will bring it to a head.

The Jobber accounting manual is a simplified procedure on accounting which the API's Financial and Accounting Committee prepared especially for jobbers who do not have professional accountants on their staff. Letter ballots are being sent to members of the general committee with the request that they mail them to Marketing Director John W. Fry, in the event they do not plan to attend the Dallas meeting.

Other reports to be made at the Dallas meeting will come from three sub-committees appointed by J. E. Dyer, of Sinclair Oil Corporation, New York, who is head of the Jobber Advisory Committee.

One involves the accounting manual, which the general committee is voting on; a second is studying ways and means for jobbers to perpetuate their business franchise, in the event of death or incapacity; and the third is looking into the general problem surrounding selection of service station sites and construction suggestions.

Nash Draws Post Position In 1953 Economy Marathon

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—At exactly 12:01 a.m. Monday, a Nash Ambassador will be the first car across the 1953 Mobilgas Economy Run starting line at the General Petroleum Garage, Eighth and Flower Streets, Los Angeles. It was announced Saturday by G. L. Tate, vice president in charge of marketing, Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Entered by the Nash California Company, Los Angeles, the car won the post position at a drawing conducted by Mobilgas officials, the AAA contest board and newspapermen. Members of the press made the selections.

After A. C. Agajanian, official starter, gives the signal for the Economy Run to begin, the Nash will be followed at two-minute intervals by other contestants.

Twenty-six strictly stock 1953 passenger automobiles have been entered in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Selected by AAA officials who supervise every technical angle of the famed automotive event, the cars were chosen without advance warning during the last three weeks from factories, dealers' showrooms and even boxcars. They represent almost every U. S. make.

Entrants will compete in five price classes—low, low-medium, upper-medium, high and special light-weight—in both standard or over-drive and automatic transmission divisions, Tate said.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Ike's brother-in-law has hectic business career; Ex-war crimes prosecutor welcomed by Japanese; Istanbul mayor discovers unique cure for drunks.

WASHINGTON—No one in Washington has had more ups and downs during the last 14 months than President Eisenhower's brother-in-law, Lt. Col. Gordon Moore, U. S. Army, Retired.

His ups and downs are unique even in Washington's unstable society. But as of today his "ups" far exceed his "downs," and as brother-in-law Ike climbed to the peaks, Colonel Moore was mounting the hills.

Here, in brief, is the colonel's success story.

In February of 1952, Colonel Moore and his attractive wife, Mike—Mamie's sister—were hard put to meet their monthly bills. They'd recently bought a rather impressive home and the going was tough. They were even considering selling their new home for some ready cash.

At this crucial moment, however, O. Roy Chalk, head of the newly organized Independent Military Air Transport Association, offered Colonel Moore a $5,500-per-year job. He accepted at once.

Chalk assigned the colonel to handle the association's relations with the Pentagon, also public relations of the association's 17 member airlines.

Chalk's selection of Colonel Moore was not exactly an accident. He had been briefed thoroughly on Moore's relationship to Ike and had handpicked the colonel over the association's other candidate, Maj. Gen. Henry D. Saylor, U. S. A., Retired.

At this point General Eisenhower was still in Paris and even such supporters as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge were on tenterhooks as to whether he would return in time to give battle to Senator Taft for the Republican nomination.

Then suddenly without warning, on April 23, 1952—two months after he was hired—Colonel Moore was fired.

He received the unexpected notice from Ben B. Edwards, managing director of the Military Transport Association, informing him that he and the other employees in the public relations office were fired with two weeks pay.

Within a couple of days, however, Colonel Moore was rehired at the insistence of the association's "Ike Will Win" faction led by Roy Chalk. A few weeks passed; Taft's strength seemed to be growing. To many association members, Taft was certain to get the nomination.

Again, with equal abruptness, Colonel Moore was fired.

By now the Republican convention was only a few days away and the astute Roy Chalk retained Colonel Moore for another job. He became Washington representative of Chalk's own airline—Trans-Caribbean.

Millionaire Chalk had not, however, put all his eggs in one political basket. Only a few months previous he also had induced the Independent Military Air Transport Association to buy a thousand-dollar table at the Democrats' Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Full of hope, Chalk and Colonel Moore went to Chicago for the Republican convention.

Ike won. And Chalk, who had bet on the right horse, was only too happy to pick up the hotel bill for the brother-in-law of the winner. Following the convention, Chalk returned to New York and his representative, Colonel Moore, resumed work in Washington.

A week later, however, Roy Chalk flew to Washington and made Colonel Moore vice president of the Trans-Caribbean Airlines.

In less than six months, Colonel Moore had been hired three times, fired twice and wound up as a vice president.

Today Colonel Moore is doing quite well. He's no longer associated with Roy Chalk. But he's still in the airlines business—lending money, as a broker, to the non-scheduled airlines.

And just recently, Pan American Airways, the biggest in the business and the most expert at lobbying, was making attractive overtures in his direction.

War Crimes Prosecutor

It isn't often that a man who sends other people to jail is welcomed later by those he jailed. However, such a tribute has just been paid to Joseph B. Keenan, former No. 2 man in the Justice Department and former U. S. war crimes prosecutor in Japan.

Keenan spent many months in Tokyo after the end of the war, sent some of its top leaders to jail for atrocities in the Philippines and for the attack on Pearl Harbor. But the other day he went back, was cordially received by the emperor, treated generously in the Japanese press, and called on one of the war criminals he had convicted.

He was Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japan's foreign minister all during the war, and sentenced to seven years in jail by Keenan's court. Shigemitsu, whom I knew in Peking when he was a second secretary of the Japanese Embassy and I was a young newspaperman, always seemed to me pro-American. Keenan confirmed this impression, said he didn't want to prosecute him, but the Russians and other members of the court insisted on it—and we were trying to get along with the Russians in those days.

Whether Shigemitsu is pro-American or not happens to be of great importance these days, for he may be the next premier of Japan—if Premier Yoshida fails of reelection this month.

Significantly, Shigemitsu received Keenan without bitterness, said he felt Japan's only course was with the United States.

La Guardia Of Turkey

Bouncing Mayor Fahrettin Kerim Gokay of Istanbul bounced into Washington the other day, then bounced on to Chicago and the West Coast to attend various medical conventions.

Mayor Gokay, sometimes called the La Guardia of Turkey, was the same dynamic energy as the late mayor of New York and the same reputation for honesty. But Mayor Gokay goes La Guardia one better. He is a doctor, is in the United States to meet various psychiatric experts.

Furthermore, Mayor Gokay, a teetotaler himself—most Mohammedans are—doesn't believe in letting drunks litter up the streets of Istanbul. So when a man is arrested for drunkenness, he is given an injection which makes the patient deadly ill if he ever drinks again.

As a result the mayor is one of the most feared men in Turkey—by some people.

Ignoring the Military—President Eisenhower, a military man, isn't consulting the military nearly as much as President Truman. The White House warning that a Chinese Communist attack on Indochina would force the United States to launch another offensive in Korea was issued without consulting the joint chiefs of staff, and this is by no means the first time President Eisenhower has ignored his military advisers. Perhaps this is because Ike is relying on his own military background, or else is waiting until he has replaced Truman's appointments with a joint chiefs of staff of his own.

Weather Prophet Admits Inaccuracy

CLINTWOOD, VA., (AP)—This Winter's twenty second snow at Clintwood took a little polish off Ed Reed's reputation as a weather prophet. Reed, 76, makes his living as a bank janitor, but makes his reputation as a free-lance weather forecaster. Part of the citizenry in this Southwest Virginia town have followed Reed's weather predictions in past years and claim he was almost 100 per cent accurate.

Each Fall Reed consults the signs and predicts how many snows will fall during the succeeding Winter. He does it by counting the number of fogs in August, among other things. In 1951, for example, he said Clintwood would have 24 snows. When Winter ended and exactly 24 snows had fallen, Reed's record reached a new high. Last Fall, Reed predicted 21 snows for the 1952-53 Winter. Instead it snowed 22 times.

Reed sent his friends the following message: "I said there'd be at least 21 snows. I ain't responsible for no more snows than that."

Proper Painting Beautifies Rooms At Moderate Cost

With simple painting techniques, the homeowner can save money and time and add beauty to every interior. With milder days ahead, now is an excellent time for painting, suggests the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information. In either a new or an old house, the homeowner himself can do a quality paint job by observing fundamental rules and by using new methods.

Top secret of a successful paint job is proper preparation of the surface to be painted. It must be clean and free from grease, oil or other foreign matter. Old, loose paint should be removed.

Prepare Surface
If there are blisters or peeled spots, the surface should be scraped with a putty knife or wire brush and the edges smoothed with sandpaper. All nail holes and cracks should be daubed with putty or linseed oil, puttied, sanded smooth and dusted.

Roller-type applicators help speed the paint job by spreading the paint faster and easier than brushes.

Painting is speeded considerably when the surface to be covered requires no priming coat. An inexpensive new textured plywood wall paneling comes with sealed surface primed for painting or staining. This natural-grain Wedgewood paneling can be finished quickly by brushing or spraying on a single coat of paint or stain.

For a two-tone finish on this wood paneling, apply a second coat of paint and partially wipe it with a rag before it sets. The raised portion of the wood grain will show the first coat of undercolor. The second coat can be dark on light or light on dark for contrast. A second wipe coat of metallic paint achieves a striking effect.

Use Best Paint

In any paint job, it is poor economy to use inferior paint. High-quality paint covers better and lasts longer on any surface. Do not thin paint beyond the point recommended by the manufacturer, and avoid painting on damp or excessively humid days.

Best system for covering a wall is to start at the top and work down. Always spread paint in small areas and brush out well in all directions to make an even coat. Final strokes should be in one direction. The brush should not be dipped into the can more than half its length.

Conservation Funds Here Hit $25,868

A total of $25,868.25 was spent in Midland County by the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program during 1952, it was reported by Charles E. Champion, Midland County PMA administrative officer.

The largest payment was for deep plowing on 25 farms with a total acreage of 3,475 acres, costing $18,775. Fireguards were set up on five farms for a distance of 150 miles at a cost of $473.20. Stubble was allowed to grow on 34 farms with a total acreage of 4,390 acres, at a cost of $1,097.50.

All applications for payment for work done under the 1952 ACP program have been submitted to the state PMA office and payment should be forthcoming soon, says Champion.

The deferred grazing practice may start at any time from April 1 through June 1. Its purpose is to leave a portion of the pastures unstocked during the growing season to give it a chance to reseed.

Deferred grazing started between May 15 and June 1 must run the full five months to qualify for payment. Ranchers planning on carrying out this practice are asked to come by the PMA office and identify the acreage to be deferred.

On the chemical control of mesquite, Champion says that if sufficient moisture is received by May 20, a good control of mesquite may be expected by using an application of Esteron 2-4-5 T chemical. This chemical may be used at the rate of one-half to two thirds pound per acre. The most effective method of applying this chemical is by airplane spraying. The cost of this method of control of mesquite is estimated at $3.05 per acre.

Further information on this practice may be obtained from the Midland County PMA office.

WIND MUST STUDY MAP

PORTLAND, ORE. — An airport centering around a 100-foot hill has been designed by Raymond B. Rogers, Portland commercial artist. Rogers thinks such an airport would solve problems with jet planes which require more takeoff space.

Planes would take off from the top of the hill and gain quick acceleration. They would land from the opposite side and decelerate by running up the hill.

Airport buildings would be located in the hill, permitting three stories underground for handling cargo and passengers.

'HOUSE-OF-MONTH'
Good contemporary architecture and cost-saving ideas are combined in this home, chosen as "House-of-the-month" by American Builder. Low, sweeping lines dominate the exterior, which has asbestos-cement boards, noted for fire-safety and durability, as its siding. Battens over vertical joints add interesting shadows. Low lines of the house are matched by low cost.

Movable Interior Walls Feature Of 'Home Of Future'

How would you like a modern oak floored home in which the interior walls could be moved for rearrangement of rooms without costly changing of permanent partitions?

Donald Lampland, a St. Paul, Minn., lumber dealer, has just such a house. Described by builders who have inspected it as "years ahead of the times," the four-bedroom dwelling was constructed in accordance with advanced concepts of home building proved practical in research by such organizations as the University of Illinois Small Homes Council and the Lumber Dealers Research Council.

The new techniques, which affected a saving of 10 per cent or more in construction costs, could be adapted to erection of a home in any price class, according to the Mississippi Valley Lumberman.

Key to the economy and room flexibility of the St. Paul house is the specially developed roof trussing which permits the weight load of the roof to be borne by the exterior walls and walls of the living-dining room. Other interior partitions were put into place after installation of the paneled ceilings and the oak floors. Of attractive redwood, fir and cedar, these walls were fastened firmly at tops, bottoms and sides with nails which were not driven completely home. The nails can be withdrawn easily with a claw hammer and the partitions moved with little difficulty. Expansion of the house also is possible at relatively small cost.

Design Of House Can Help Reduce Homemaker's Work

The design of a home often is the key to how much, or how little work the homemaker has to do.

Well designed homes either keep dirt out or make the task of cleaning easy. They just seem to take care of themselves. Other homes get and stay untidy no matter how much the woman of the house slaves over them.

Here are some of the factors to look for in home design if you would save your wife hundreds of hours of toil over the years:

Good traffic patterns. The kitchen needs an exit near the outdoors so that groceries can be delivered and garbage taken out easily. Laundry equipment also should be near an exit, if wash will be hung on a clothes line.

Easily maintained materials. Bathroom and kitchen floors and wainscots of clay tile, for example, do not need periodic refinishing and can be cleaned with a damp cloth. They last the lifetime of a home.

Insulation Is Must
Insulation. Good insulation not only cuts down winter heating bills but also reduces dust infiltration and there by saves some cleaning chores. Entrance hall. An entrance hall keeps dirt and mud from other rooms of the home.

Location of living room. The layout of any home should be studied carefully to be sure that traffic does not have to pass through the living room to reach other sections of the house. Wear and tear on carpets, and cleaning chores will be reduced.

Midlanders Take Leading Roles In Banker Meeting

Midland will be well represented at the annual convention of the South Plains Bankers Association in Lubbock Tuesday, and two members of this city's delegation will have prominent roles in the convention activities.

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney and chairman of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, will address the convention, speaking on the subject, "Oil and Gas and the Banking Business."

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The market was slow and weaker on most classes at Thursday's Midland Livestock Auction Sale. Some stockers were off as much as $1.50 per hundred.

Fat calves and yearlings, good to choice, brought $18 to $21; medium to good, $16 to $18; cull to common, $11.25 to $16.

No choice cows were offered. Canners and cutters went at $7 to $12. Old sheels were down to $7.

Bulls brought $12 to $15.50. No choice calves were offered. In between and mixed breeds brought $12.50 to $17.

That slicker caught a lot of sand—rolled up as it was behind the saddle—last week. Podner, as the wind blew in fast and cool. It is believed by some, including DSG, and hoped by many, also including DSG, that the wind was a forerunner of moisture headed our way.

So, better keep that slicker handy, Podner!

Sixteen of the nation's top ropers will compete for a purse of $2,500 in a matched calf roping May 1 and 2 as a major event of the Annual Banders Stomped at Banders.

The ropers are Don McLaughlin, Toke Macanfield, Troy Fort, B. J. Pierce, John Dalton, Glen Christian, Elmer Carter, Ray Wharton, Don Taylor, Jack Saunders, Lanham Riley, Doyle Riley, Buddy Groff, Rex Beck, Jim Bob Altier and Scooter Price.

Most of these boys will be seen in action in the World Championship Midland Rodeo, June 3-7.

Norman Drake of Midland has been named to membership in the American Hereford Association, the world's largest purebred registry organization, with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

One hundred sixty-eight Hereford breeders were placed on the association's official roster during March to boost the membership ship to an all-time high of 22,337. Members represent every state in the nation. In addition to the membership roster, the association maintains active accounts for approximately 80,000 Hereford breeders.

The Hereford Association last year recorded a new world record of 548,418 purebred calves, an increase of 42,357 over the record established during the previous fiscal year. Hereford calves registered last year were two and a half times the total registration of other major beef breeds combined.

Buck Jackson, the illustrious West-of-the-Pecos cattleman, reports cattle movements in the Pecos area as "fairly steady" recently. He says a number of ranchmen are shipping out cattle for pasture. His report:

Burner and Tiberia of Pecos have finished shipping 3,000 steers to Montana for summer pasture. L. A. Wiest, Saragosa, is shipping 100 mixed cattle to Pawhuska, Okla., for summer grass.

Shelby Brooks, Toyah, is shipping 80 head of 2-and-3 year old steers to Kansas for grass; and John Dunagan is shipping about 400 cows to Kansas.

Other cattle activity included Jackson selling 150 cows and bulls to Lem Jones, Junction from John C. Dunagan; also 50 cows and calves and 12 bulls from Buck Miller, Pecos and 34 cows and calves from Bill Cowan, Pecos; and Jack Burchard sold 300 steer yearlings to Kersall Hodges of Missouri.

Barney Hubbs, Pecos, sold 34 cows to Rousner McNeil, Pecos.

Water Facilities At Crane Improved By Long Projects

CRANE—Crane's new $44,150 water storage tank, complete with connections, now is in use after more than two years of labor and deliberation.

In a special meeting of the city council, contracts were let for the completion of water mains and pumping from the new wells north of town with booster stations.

R. B. Thornton and Son of Brady were successful bidders in the largest of four contracts let. For $111,450.50, the contract calls for new water lines to the new wells, an extension of an eight-inch main and four additional fire plugs from Third to Twelfth Streets.

O. C. Armon of Crane holds the contract for water and sewer extension in the Hillcrest addition for $10,853. The work is about two-thirds completed.

Clove and Cowan, Inc., of Lubbock have the contract for eight turbine pumps for the new water wells for $9,234.98.

The Union Tank and Supply Company of Houston has been contracted to erect a galvanized bolted steel storage tank for the new well for $4,163.12.

The old city water tower also has been cleaned, scaled, welded and painted.

Balmorhea Farmers Get Technical Aid

PECOS — The Toyah-Limpia Soil Conservation District has furnished technical assistance to the following farmers who operate in the Balmorhea area: Fred Brooks, Sr., Balmorhea; Mrs. Nell Westerman, C. C. Boyd, Duncan Kingston, William Freeman, Bill Waldrop, Walter Dyes, and W. E. Moore.

The assistance furnished to the farmers by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service located at Balmorhea included elevation maps, soil maps, ditch location and level border layout.

The quantity of water available for irrigation, the water storage capacity of the soil, the rate the soil takes water, and the lay of the land were correlated for each farm and an irrigation system designed to make maximum use of irrigation and rain water without erosion, excessive leaching or waste.

Most Spectacular Blast Of A-Series Rips Over Marines

LAS VEGAS, NEV. —(AP)—Some 2,200 Marines crouched in trenches Saturday witnessed the most spectacular atomic blast of the Spring, a shot that flashed blinding white then turned a beautiful rosy orange during an unusually long-lingering afterglow.

The pre-dawn detonation, first to involve Marines maneuvering in helicopters, was set off from a 300-foot tower.

After the explosion the troops scrambled up and advanced in a tactical exercise toward a mock enemy. Their trenches were 4,000 yards from ground zero.

Volunteers Up Close Leap-frogging over them came 200 more Marines in 40 Sikorsky helicopters applying vertical envelopment tactics, similar to those carried out in World War II by gliders and paratroops.

Six Marines and six soldiers rode out the blast in trenches well in advance of the main body of troops. Authorities would not disclose their distance from the blast. Nine volunteers were 2,500 yards from ground zero in a previous test.

The exercise commander, Brig. Gen. William Bullock, said there were no casualties.

Rodeo Program Contests Announced By Optimists

Midland Rodeo time approaches, and Saturday the Midland Optimist Club announced four Rodeo Program Contests, with cash prizes in each event, for boys and girls up to 19 years of age.

Jim Velvin, club president, said the contests include: (1) cover for rodeo program; (2) Rodeo theme; (3) Rodeo photographs; (4) Rodeo cartoons.

The 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo is scheduled June 3-7 at Fair Park on East Highway 80. The Optimist Club has the program concession for the area attraction.

First prize will be $75 cash or two weeks at Eagle Lake Boys Camp.

HE BITES OWN ADAM'S APPLE

He swallowed his teeth Sunday while asleep. He didn't realize what had happened when he awoke with a pain in his chest. He missed a five-tooth denture. X-rays showed the missing teeth in his esophagus. The removal operation left him with an extremely sore throat.

Three Alarms Call Midland Firemen; Loss Said Small

Three fire runs Friday plus a second flare-up of one of them Saturday morning started weekend activity for the Midland Fire Department.

At 2:15 p.m. Friday a "hot box" was reported on a boxcar of the T&P Railway. It was caused by overheated waste in the container, and was extinguished with little damage.

The Mill White Company, 1408 West North Front Street, reported sacks of oil equipment on fire at 5:20 p.m. Friday. Cause was unknown, with only minor damage.

At 10:21 p.m. the emergency brake of an automobile owned by I. D. Morrison, 211 West Indiana Street, caught fire. Firemen brought the blaze under control, with little damage caused.

Smoldering material at the Mill White Company brought firemen for the second time at 12:30 a.m. Saturday. The flames were put out with only minor loss.

Funeral Rites Set Sunday For Odessa's First Mayor

ODESSA—Funeral services for S. R. McKinney, the first mayor of Odessa, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church here with Dr. C. A. Johnson, retired Christian Church minister, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Edwin Parker, pastor.

Interment will be in the Odessa Cemetery under the direction of Hubbard Funeral Home.

Mr. McKinney died at 3:45 p.m. Friday in Medical Center Hospital. He had been in ill health several months and was admitted to the hospital Wednesday.

Mr. McKinney would have been 79 years old April 26. His birthday anniversary was always a special event for workers in the Ector County Courthouse, where he had served as county treasurer 17 years. He was reelected last year without opposition.

Born April 26, 1874, in Saybrook, Ill., he attended school there and graduated from Valparaiso University in Indiana.

Fulfilling a boyhood ambition to "go West and grow-ups with the country," Mr. McKinney came to Texas in 1894 and began working as a cowboy in Midland County. Despite his family's wondering why he wanted to go to "the wild West" he said he never regretted his decision as he "found the finest people on earth here."

Cowboying could be a mighty lonesome job, Mr. McKinney recalled. When he worked in Midland County, one of his first jobs was staying in a dugout house alone for a month. His duties included taking a herd of 200 horses to and from the water hole twice daily.

Later, he had a ranch of his own and "batched" for several years. He had a system of waiting until 10 days went by without seeing another person before he would "ride over to the next ranch to see if I still remembered how to talk."

He came to Ector County in 1898 and lived the rest of his life there. He and Ada Estes, a native of Midland, were married Jan. 2, 1906, in Midland.

Mr. McKinney was elected Odessa's first mayor in 1927 when the town was organized. He was out of town when the nominations were made and surprised on returning to find he was a candidate for the office. McKinney Avenue here is named in his honor.

He also served as school board president several years and was one of the earliest presidents of the Chamber of Commerce.

During the time he was county treasurer, although rarely opposed for the office, he never looked upon the job as "all mine" and campaigned as diligently as if he had a dozen opponents.

Survivors include his widow of Odessa; one son, S. R. McKinney, Jr., of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. George Elliott of Austin and Mrs. Paul Owens of Odessa; and nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Dixon Takes Over Humble Dealership On Missouri Street

W. B. (Dick) Dixon, former state highway patrolman in the Midland area, is the new manager of the Humble service station at 801 West Missouri Street.

Dixon replaces W. F. (Sleepy) Wynn in the Humble dealership. The firm has been renamed the W. B. (Dick) Dixon Service Station.

Atlas tires, batteries, and automobile accessories will be featured at the service station. Atlas is noted for durability, rugged construction, and long wearing power, Dixon said.

Assistant manager will be Delton (Red) Edington. Hours of the service station are 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Dixon said fast and efficient washing and lubrication jobs on Midland cars would be one of the aims of his business. Midlanders are invited to bring their autos in for competent care.

A service pick-up will be maintained to take care of emergency calls. The telephone number is 2-2134. Fast action will be taken on calls for cars that have road breakdowns, Dixon said.

Dixon served in the State Highway Patrol from 1931 to 1950. The last three years of his tour of duty were in the Midland region.

Midland Seaman Ends Korean Duty, 'Round The World Cruise

Radarman Seaman Charles F. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chambers of Midland, has reported to the U. S. Naval Station in Newport, R. I., after a tour of Korean combat duty and a "round-the-world" cruise with Destroyer Squadron 20. Chambers was aboard the destroyer USS Hickox during the seven-month cruise.

The squadron arrived in Sasebo Harbor, Japan, the "Norfolk of Japan," just 35 days after the crews had watched Block Island, R. I. fall astern.

The ships operated as screening vessels for fast carrier task forces. They acted as plane guards, radar guard vessels, and anti-aircraft defense ships.

During duty with the Blockade and Escort Forces, the ships operated on both coasts of Korea. They took part in shore bombardment missions in the Haeju, Chodo, Songjin, Hungnam and Wonsan areas.

Ships of the squadron visited Subic Bay, Hong Kong, Malaya, Singapore and Penang.

Again pointing their bows westward the ships laid a course for Colombo, lying between the Indian Ocean and the storm-swept Bay of Bengal.

Houstonian Cries 'Frame' In Charges Of Blasting Home

HOUSTON—(P)—A charge that he engineered the dynamite blast of negro cattle buyer Jack Caesar's home drew a cry of "I'm being framed" from insurance man George Howell Saturday.

Howell, 56, a former convict, denied implication in the explosion which rocked the Caesar home at 4 a.m. Friday.

The Caesar home is in Riverside Terrace, a predominantly white neighborhood.

A second man, Carl Davis, 51, has been charged along with Howell with arson by explosion. The charges were filed less than 20 hours after the blast. No one was injured. The blast caused about $1,000 damage to the Caesar home.

Lost 75 Pounds

"I have lost about 75 pounds and reduced my waist line eleven inches, taking Barcostrate," writes Mrs. A. R. Hender, 1509 Tudor Street, Paris, Texas. "I feel much better since I got rid of the excess weight."

terranean. Passing by Greek Islands the destroyers sailed around the boot of Italy, past Sicily and up to the Italian Riviera, Pompeii and Capri and a visit in Naples.

The best is always saved until last, or so it seemed as officers and crew roamed the French Riviera from Cannes to Merton, the ships snugly anchored in the picturesque fjord-like harbor of Ville-France on France's sunny Cot d'Azur.

Then on to Gibraltar, the last port lying between the destroyers and home.

The young Marine moved to Midland with his parents last year from Farrington, N. M., where he was graduated from high school.

He attended Fort Lewis A&M College in Durango, Colorado before moving to Midland. While at college, Lovelace was vice president of the student body and a member of the football team.

Construction Takes Dip Of Six Millions

AUSTIN—(P)—Construction took a $6,000,000 dip in Texas last week. Total contracts awarded for the week was $30,657,240 compared with $36,353,561 last week, the trade journal, The Texas Contractor, said Saturday.

Three Form Law Firm

A new law firm started operation in Midland last week—Benzoni, Van Zandt, and Saxe. General practice will be the work for the three partners.

Frank Benzoni, Harris Van Zandt and Richard E. Saxe, Jr., formed the three-way partnership.

Benzoni came to Midland in December, 1950. He is president of the Midland Kiwanis Club and active in First Baptist Church work. His prior legal experience totals almost 20 years. He also is a past president of the State Junior Bar Association, and served in naval intelligence during World War II as a lieutenant commander.

Van Zandt, who lives at 911 West Louisiana Street with his wife, Dorothy Townes and three children, Donna, Townes and Bill, arrived in Midland last January.

He also is a Kiwanian, and his legal background includes service with the law firm of Vinson, Elkins, Weems and Seales of Houston. He formerly managed the Fort Worth office of the firm. Van Zandt is a Presbyterian.

Saxe, the youngest member of the new firm, was associated with Benzoni in Midland in 1951. He has served in both World War II and saw Korean action as a combat infantry officer, earning decorations in both conflicts.

He lives at 909 West College Street with his wife, Mary Virginia. Saxe was formerly assistant district attorney of Dallas County. He is a Baptist, and a member of the Jay-Cees.

Pipe Line Blasts Hurt Two, Destroy All Nearby Property

GLADEWATER—(P)—Two gas pipe line explosions rocked this East Texas oil center Friday, burned a large area into fine ash and sent an elderly couple to a hospital.

A district superintendent of United Gas Company, owner of the lines, said he was unable to estimate the damage caused by the blasts.

Firemen from Gladewater, Greggton and Longview fought the roaring flames until gas was cut off from the lines, one a six-inch line, the other a huge 16-inch tube.

The flames consumed several nearby barns and damaged a residence, Fire Chief L. D. Honeycutt said, melted everything of metal within 100 yards of the pipe line breaks, and burned into a fine powder about one acre of land surrounding the blaze.

W. W. Warden, working in his garden about 100 yards from the six-inch line blast, was burned seriously by the explosion. Mrs. Warden suffered a heart seizure and was hospitalized in a serious condition, Honeycutt said.

Bamboo Curtains Open For Youths

HONG KONG—(P)—Young Chinese by the hundreds are entering Red China through Hong Kong from overseas Chinese communities. On two days this month more than 430 Chinese students and workers went behind the bamboo curtain after arriving from Pakistan, India, Malaya and Indonesia.

Most of them say they are convinced that China has a new and lofty destiny and that they want to work toward it. Some are from families of communist or leftist sympathies who are dissatisfied with life abroad. Some are recruited by the Reds for special activities. Some simply are unemployed youths who want to try life in China and managed to wangle free or cheap transportation.

Eight Are Injured As Bus Overtakes

WAYNESVILLE, MO.—(P)—An eastbound Greyhound bus carrying 40 passengers skidded on an icy hill and overturned six miles west of Waynesville Saturday, injuring eight persons.

The injured were treated at a hospital here for shock, cuts and bruises.

None was reported seriously hurt.

BY NORTH CALLAHAN

NEW YORK—This town, like others, is abuzz with talk about the new Russian attitude. We soft-hearted Americans who forget easily are even treating the UN delegates from Moscow with more friendliness. Of all the viewpoints I have heard expressed, a comment by Doctor Ralph Hidy, distinguished New York University history professor, seems to be the most noteworthy.

Said he: "This new attitude shows how astute are the Russian leaders. They have found that war economy keeps the United States prosperous. So now they make peace gestures which may lure us into disarmament, deflation, unemployment and perhaps depression. Then their dream of the failure of our capitalistic system could come true."

A current story along Broadway is that of the New Yorker who passed away and upon arriving at the gates of his eternal home, looked around and said, "Gee, I never thought heaven could be so much like New York."

The man at the gate looked sad. "Son," he said, "this ain't heaven."

Appearing on television can be a casual and interesting experience. I learned recently when on "The Fitzgibbon" show on ABC-TV. Arriving at the studio a few minutes before going on the air, I sat in a corner and watched Lee Graham, a female counselor on family affairs, interview a woman-guest on the program just preceding. She told the guest that the best way for people to get along with mothers-in-law is to stay away from them. Then Ed Fitzgerald popped in, we sat a dining table over which a husky propman hovered, actually putting lumps of sugar into a tea pot on the table.

With great delicacy for such huge hands, Ed and I started talking, the lights went on, and by the time we got warmed up on the subject of books and columns, we were off the air. This highly-visual chat with the popular Fitzgeralds was much like talking to a next-door friend over your own breakfast table.

Happened to be standing on 44th Street just off Broadway and noticed that three plays, "South Pacific," "The King and I" and "Pal Joey" are playing at adjacent theaters. These are all productions of the most successful pair ever to team up in show business—Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II. It also happened to be just ten years since their first big venture, "Oklahoma" opened here. It ran on Broadway five years and two months, grossed $7,000,000 and with its road companies which still are playing, has brought in more than twice that amount. Not only does "Oklahoma" hold the record for the longest run on Broadway. It is the only musical ever to have enjoyed a consecutive run of ten years.

Down in the big barny Pennsylvania Railroad station there is a plaque which reads: "Friend to mankind, William H. Egan, Station Master. Beloved by all who journeyed through this station, by all who served its millions of patrons, devoted guardian to the lonely wayfarer, to presidents, princes and prima donnas. The lowly and the celebrated in all walks of life were proud to know him. He loved people."

Lucius Beebe has brought a city to life after it was for years a ghost town. It is Virginia City, Nevada, about 20 miles from Reno. Once a thriving place of 40,000 people, Virginia City was the civic center of the famous Comstock Lode in the roaring 1880's. Then the mine was worked out, the people deserted to more promising parts, until the city was only a cluster of picturesque empty buildings whose inhabitants were rats and gophers. Now Beebe has written so much about famous railroads and their surrounding communities, especially Virginia City, that national interest has been aroused and visitors are flocking to the old burg by the thousands. Again, they've struck it rich in Virginia City the tourist trade, that is.

Signs of the times: one in a tiny candy shop window on Pearl Street. "All our candies made from ingredients high as the Alps in quality, but low as the ocean bed in price!" ... in a subway train, "Please don't be a space hog, door blocker, litterbug or leg pest. Love thy neighbor—even in the subway!"

Eisenhower Orders Private Yacht Into Navy Mothballs

AUGUSTA, GA.—(P)—President Eisenhower has ordered the presidential yacht Williamsburg out of service and into the "mothball fleet" because "the White House believes it is a symbol of needless luxury."

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, used those words in announcing the decision Saturday at the President's vacation headquarters.

Between now and June 30—when the Williamsburg will be stored away by the Navy—the yacht will be used twice weekly for Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay cruises for wounded war veterans, Hagerty said.

He added that the yacht, which was used frequently by former President Truman, will be taken out of presidential service May 31.

The secretary estimated annual cost of operating the yacht at $600,000. A saving of that much won't be realized, however, because that figure includes the salaries of its crew of 123 officers and men who simply will be transferred to other duty.

Actual cost of operating the ship itself is estimated at about $75,000 a year.

Labor-Saving Devices Bring New Garden Pleasures Here

Will you be working in your yard, playing in it, or just plain loafing in it this Summer? If you want to do any or all of these things, there is every imaginable article and tool in Midland furniture and hardware stores to suit your mood.

If you want to start off with the work before you get around to the pleasure of your home grounds, let's look at some of the tools and equipment.

All of the standard tools such as rakes, hoes, pitchforks, cultivators, trimmers, weeder, shovels, spades, and lawnmowers are here to suit your individual fancy.

Possibly the innovations in the labor-saving devices might interest you. For example, it would be much simpler to use an electric or gas-powered mower to cut your grass rather than pushing the conventional hand mower.

The same holds true for the trimming of lawns and hedges. Handy little electric hedge and lawn trimmers save time and labor and can be a pleasure to use.

A lawn-sweeper is one of the most practical of the new gadgets. This sweeper has a large fabric "pan" to catch anything thrown back to it by the long brush. It should be excellent for cleaning up a yard after it has been mowed or for sweeping up bits of trash or leaves.

The lawn-sweeper is man-powered but is well balanced and light so that pushing should not be too difficult. Its brush is so much more convenient than a rake, which catches on grass and other objects, says Glen Mereshon, manager of the Basin Supply Company and John Biggs, hardware manager.

Unusual methods have been devised for watering your lawn and garden. The perforated garden hose, made of plastic is very convenient since it has numerous small holes along its full length and can be placed anywhere on the yard or garden and simply provides a steady flow of directed water.

The walking sprinkler is probably one of the most convenient ever put on the market. The walking sprinkler is actually a miniature water-powered "tractor" which follows the hose up to an automatic cutoff device. Wherever the yard hose is laid out the sprinkler will faithfully follow it, around bushes and trees. The sprinkler is so geared that it travels 20 feet each hour and provides a heavy sheet of water over a wide course.

The Walking Sprinkler can be purchased in three sizes.

With Summer relaxation naturally comes the thought of furniture which can beautify your lawn as well as provide means for outdoor living.

The choice is practically unlimited as to what may best suit your needs. Beach-type tables with umbrellas and matching chairs in metal and wood may be what you are looking for. Most of the large furniture stores can secure them for you.

Jack Dotson, manager of the Midland Hardware and Furniture Company, says that the trend today is toward lightweight and durable metal furniture. The Casual Americana line from France is growing in popularity. It is not heavy and massive but is light and sturdy. The fabrics in Casual Americana come in many exciting varieties and are both colorful and long-wearing. The Vinyl Plastics are amazingly scuff-proof and scratch-resistant and are easily washed and cleaned with ordinary soap and water.

The metal finishes are chemically treated to resist rust and hold their beauty for many years. All under surfaces are painted and the general appearance of the metal furniture is pleasing to the eye. Many curlicues are eliminated in Casual Americana.

Positions Are Open In Midland Offices, Bechtol Announces

The Texas Employment Commission now has openings for all types of office work, John Bechtol, office manager, reported Saturday.

Bechtol also said the employment office would be open at 7 a.m. each weekday morning for employers seeking early workers, mostly laborers. The office is at 310 North Weatherford Street.

There are also applications on file at the office for all types of oil field work in the specialties, the manager said.

Due to a seasonal slump in construction in the area, requests for construction workers are off, he added.

Job insurance claims at the office have jumped considerably this year, Bechtol said. A comparison shows that while only 58 claims for insurance were filed in February, 1952, a total of 373 claims were made in February of this year. The March 1952 claims were only 87 while there were 286 claims in March, 1953.

Last year was a peak year in job placements for the local office, Bechtol said, with approximately 11,000 persons placed in jobs. A total of 1,858 persons were placed in jobs in February and March of 1952, with the total being 1,366 for the same months of this year.

The interesting thing about Casual Americana wrought metal furniture is that it is equally at home in the living room or terrace, and adds a fresh note of charm to any home, be it traditional, ranch or modern.

Contour chairs are ideal for loafing and most can be adjusted to a sitting or reclining position with a simple pushing motion of the body. The Casual Americana loafer is completely weatherproof and transforms the indoor loafer for outdoor sun-bathing and lounging.

When you get ready to beautify your home surroundings by improving the yard and providing elegant and comfortable furniture and fixtures for outdoor pleasure, try one of the furniture or hardware stores of Midland for your selections. The salesmen are familiar with your needs and ready to help solve your problems.

Building, School Figures Show How Andrews Enlarges

ANDREWS—Reports of a brisk building program for Andrews during the first three months of 1953 were released last week by City Secretary L. B. Parrish, who said that a total of $381,950 were issued in permits during that time.

Out of 73 building permits issued for the period, 62 were for residences, three for business houses and the remaining eight for repair or work-over jobs.

The residences totaled $321,100; business houses, $53,000 and work-overs, $7,350.

During 1952 a total of $712,600 in permits were issued, with only $96,750 issued for the last quarter of the year.

The marked growth in Andrews is noted in the population which was 4,800 for 1952, according to a survey by the Chamber of Commerce.

This is a gain of 1,500 persons since 1950.

The school census shows 1,570 students compared to 1,400 at the beginning of the term.

Eight Midland junior citizens will be honored May 1 for their achievements and contributions to the community, by the Elks Lodge, D. D. Varnell, exalted ruler, announced Saturday.

Designated as Elks National Youth Day, awards will be made to the high school youngsters in assembly that day. Names of the award recipients will not be announced until that time.

Youth Day is sponsored annually by the Grand Lodge Youth Activities Committee on May Day as a tribute to the nation's young people. The slogan this year—"Keep May Day American"—is intended to emphasize the contrast between the freedom enjoyed by youth under republican government and the regimentation of communist societies, Varnell explained.

"By proclamation of the grand exalted ruler, 1,629 lodges throughout the nation will observe Elks National Youth Day.

"The program is to honor and encourage the youth of today to prepare themselves for their responsibilities as leaders of tomorrow," Varnell said.

"America's youth of today, as in the past, will show by their deeds that when the time comes they will be fully prepared to assume the duties of citizenship and to keep the faith of freedom." Winners in the Elks' contest here will compete in state and national contests for prizes totaling $6,700. National awards will be announced at the Elks National Convention in St. Louis in July. Awards will be based on leadership, citizenship appreciation, perseverance, resourcefulness and sense of honor.

Jack Petosky is chairman of the committee which also includes R. C. Maxson, John Fitzgerald and Oran Crocker.

Because the coronation regalia was destroyed during the British revolution, few of the pieces used today date back farther than 1651.

Crane Volunteer Firemen To Enter Basin Competition

CRANE—A team from the Crane Volunteer Fire Department will attend the Permian Basin Firemen's Association meeting in Kermit May 9.

Firefighters from more than 20 West Texas cities will attend the meeting which will be held at the fire station and community center. The session will begin at 9 a.m. with a business meeting followed by the contests in the afternoon and dancing in the evening.

Competition will include pumper races and hose races. Prizes will be awarded to firemen who demonstrate the greatest speed and efficiency in setting up equipment. The main race is the six-man hose race, winner of which receives the Olin Culberson cup, which must be won three times in succession to become the permanent property of a fire department. Fort Stockton is present holder of the cup, having won it last year from Denver City in 19 seconds.

Fire Chief Lloyd Wimberley said no definite list of contestants has been made up for the team which will represent the department.

Wives and friends of the firemen have been invited and an afternoon barbecue will be part of the entertainment.

Bids Are Invited On Sewer Projects For Midland Areas

Bids will be opened at 3 p.m. May 5 on a sewer project for Midland's northside negro and latin American sectors.

The $83,700 job will be coupled with a water line project soon to get underway to provide both sewage and water facilities for all houses between Mulberry Lane on the south to Golf Course Road on the north and from Tyler Street on the west to Tilden on the east.

J. M. Orman, director of public works, said the project should take between three and four months to complete. He added that the $83,700 was an estimate of the cost of laying in the 6,871 feet of pipe needed in the plan.

R. B. Hodgson, Lubbock contractor awarded the $26,750 contract for the water lines, said he would start work within a "week or 10 days." Water lines will be laid in the East Midland Addition, from Mulberry Street to Cherry Lane and from Lamesa Road to Lincoln Street.

The National Geographic Society estimates that the crown jewels of England might be valued at $0 million dollars.

Building Pace Slows, Pecos Permits Reveal

PECOS—Building pace slowed down somewhat in Pecos over the first 15 days of April, according to the building permits issued at the City Hall.

Permits totaling $44,475 were issued during the first part of the month. This brought the total for the year to $694,923. At the same time the February permits of $82,000 showed that Pecos was among the top 10 in this area of West Texas in building.

Residence permits and additions to residences were the only ones issued in the first half of the month. No business permits were granted.

Flower Show To Have 'Anniversaries' Theme

Wedding anniversaries will be the keynoting theme for the Spring flower show of the Tejas Garden Club, scheduled Thursday.

Arrangements on display will be designed in keeping with the various wedding anniversary themes—from the paper, cotton and wood observances to the crystal, silver and gold anniversaries.

The event is scheduled from 2 until 6 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John B. Mills, 500 East Broadway Street.

In connection with the show, the club will hold its annual sale of succulent plants in the back yard of the Mills home. Each plant will be potted in a suitable container.

Persons wishing to purchase plants may attend the sale without attending the flower show, officials said.

Mrs. Frank Wood is in charge of arrangements for the show. Chairmen assisting here are Mrs. Ralph Smith, schedule; Mrs. B. J. Moore, properties; Mrs. J. L. Smith, entries; Mrs. J. D. Dillard, class and horticulture; Mrs. Floyd Boles, judges, and Mrs. Dell Taylor, publicity.

The public is invited to attend the show. Admission will be 50 cents.

It was announced that the husbands night program has been changed from May 20 to May 7, when a dinner will be held in the home of Mrs. J. T. Gist. Movies taken in Africa are to be shown by Dick Campbell.

Members voted to eliminate their meeting on May 6 because of the special meeting May 7. Several constitutional amendments also were discussed.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters Hear Programs, Plan Future Meets

Program and business meetings were held last week by two chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. Eugene Holmes gave the program on "Substance of the Art of Life—The Good" for a meeting of Mu Psi Chapter in the home of Mrs. J. B. Cox, Cheshire Acres. She recited the Gettysburg Address and told incidents in the lives of humanitarians, inventors and statesmen whose good deeds have helped mankind.

Plans were made for the chapter's ritual of jewels and for the Founder's Day banquet. Mrs. A. V. Reid was elected delegate to the state convention, to be held June 5-6 in El Paso.

Iota Beta Chapter met in the home of Mrs. James Speck, 2712 Roosevelt Street, for a program on painting and sculpture.

Mrs. Speck discussed sculpture, explaining that appreciation of sculpture depends on the ability to respond to form in three dimensions. It is the most difficult of all the arts, she declared.

Ellen Svatt, who discussed painting, told some of her experiences last summer in the art colony in Cloudcroft, N. M., under the direction of Frederic Taubes.

It was announced that May 7 is the deadline for reservations for the state convention, and Dolores Walden was chosen as the chapter's delegate. Maxine Ebeling was named vice president.

Wilma Jean Baker Takes Major Step In Polio Recovery

GONZALES—Wilma Jean Baker, seven, of Midland recently a patient at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, has been discharged from that Texas treatment center and returned home. Wilma Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baker, 3804 Apache Drive.

Young Wilma Jean was referred to the Gonzales physical medicine specialty hospital by her physician for a program of rehabilitation following a bout with polio suffered January 2.

As part of the continuing treatment program, a series of home routines have been set up for Wilma Jean, and she will return to the Gonzales hospital for periodic check-ups and to maintain the correct fit of her braces and other appliances. Improved techniques in hospital and home-administered treatments have enabled the treatment center to effectively reduce the average hospitalization period and thus accept a greater number of patients each year.

Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation is a non-profit, non-sectarian hospital, built and maintained by contributions from all over the state of Texas. First opened in 1941, there now are facilities to house 105 patients. A building program just getting under way will increase that capacity by about 30 per cent.

"COOKING WITH

ELECTRICITY IS

Cooler"

—says Mrs. Max Caddell,
1225 Cedar Street,
Colorado City

"My kitchen stays comfortably cool even when I'm baking and roasting . . . and I do a lot of baking. It's really wonderful during the hot summer months. And electric cooking is so clean, too. I wouldn't consider cooking any other way.

Mrs. Caddell, like thousands of other West Texas women, has found that cooking is a pleasure in a cool kitchen. The heavy, wrap-around insulation of an electric oven keeps the heat inside for faster cooking . . . and high speed surface units contact directly with cooking utensils so that very little heat escapes into the air. Enjoy electric cooking that puts heat into the food, not the kitchen.

A Real Challenge

In Los Angeles, authorities report that tens of thousands of dollars must be spent every year to repair broken windows and other facilities damaged by youthful vandals in the city's schools.

In New York, the newspapers carry pictures of demolished park benches or lovely young trees unrooted, stripped of their bark, sometimes crudely chopped off a few feet above ground.

In the same city, a suburban train halts at an outlying station and a passenger whose face is badly cut and bleeding is rushed to a hospital. He is the victim of "playful" boys who make a regular afternoon sport of tossing rocks through the windows of commuter trains.

In Fort Lauderdale, Fla., college students "enjoy" their Spring vacation by pitching coconuts through hotel lobby and automobile windows, stealing buses, smearing paint on public property, driving cars recklessly into parked cars and pedestrians.

These are not isolated instances scratched up by exhaustive research. Antics like these are becoming pretty commonplace in communities all across the land.

This is no place for a high moral preaching on the subject. The wrong of it is clear enough to anyone who can read.

The important thing is what can be done. The answer rests, obviously, with parents, schools, churches and any other social forces or institutions which play a part in molding and disciplining our young people.

They must each examine into their consciences and decide whether they honestly can say they are doing all that lies within their power to guide and train America's youngsters wisely.

If they want, they can find plenty of impersonal social factors to blame for the problem of vandalism. The high divorce rate, with its legacy of broken homes; the great mobility of Americans from job to job and town to town, with its unsettling effects; the mounting city congestion and the tensions that go with this constant elbow-rubbing. And so on.

But excuses like these won't do. Any more than you can justify a young basketball player taking a bribe by noting that he has a gruelling two-hour subway ride to school every day.

No matter how troubled the times or how swift the social tides, the home, the school and the church cannot escape the responsibility for building character and imposing discipline among young people.

The proof that they can do this task is in the millions of youngsters with whom they succeed. The evidence they are not doing enough is found in the thousands of cases where they fail. Vandalism is one black mark signalling that failure.

The earth is having its face changed in some places—but it isn't very uplifting.

It Sounds A Lot Easier Than It Looks

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Brass-hat logic stymies Defense Boss Wilson; Red Chinese may be taking lead in truce talks; House clerk appointment poses tough problem.

WASHINGTON—Occasionally, hard-working Defense Boss Charlie Wilson gets all tangled up trying to follow some of the brass-hat reasoning at the Pentagon.

While Wilson has one of the most complex jobs in the world, the generals and admirals sometimes make it even more complex with their upside-down logic. Once, says Wilson, he ran into the same backward logic when he was running General Motors.

"Some years ago," Secretary Wilson recalls, "we thought that GM was in danger of losing its supply of rubber. So another fellow and I scouted around trying to buy up as much rubber as we could find."

"One day I happily told my associate that I'd located thousands of tons of rubber—we could have it at once for 10 cents a pound."

"I was flabbergasted, however, when he said 10 cents was too high a price. Despite all my pleas, he insisted on paying less."

"A few days later he walked in and said he'd changed his mind about the price question. He now agreed that 10 cents was a pretty good figure. Then he explained his change of heart."

"Well, Charlie," he said, "over the weekend I went into a store to buy some sheep manure for my garden. Believe it or not, I had to pay 20 cents a pound for that manure. That got me thinking, and I finally decided that if sheep manure is 20 cents a pound, rubber is certainly worth 10 cents a pound."

Probabilities Of Peace
The hardest thing in the world is to find out what's going on inside the Kremlin or to fathom relations between Russia and her chief Far Eastern ally—Red China.

U. S. intelligence is not considered as good as the British on this subject, so we lean heavily on the British, the Indians, and the Yugoslavs. The latter seem to be pretty good at finding out what's happening inside Russia, probably because Tito's top men once served in Moscow, still know a lot of people in Communist circles.

Bearing these difficulties in mind, here are various evaluations of how genuine is the Communists' desire for a truce in Korea:
The Indian Embassy in Peking reports that the Chinese wanted the Korean war to end last Fall, now are taking the lead in forcing the truce talks.

The American Embassy in Yugoslavia sends the same report. It's based on Tito's own intelligence.

U. S. reports from Far East headquarters merely speculate that the Chinese may be taking the lead in the truce talks. It's pointed out that, last year at the UN, Andrei Vishinsky took the lead in vetoing the Indian truce plan, and it was not until two days later that China echoed Vishinsky. Now, however, Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai was first to do the talking. Two days later, Moscow did the echoing.

However, prevailing belief in Washington, based on CIA evaluations, is that Russia still is dictating all moves in Korea. The Korean peace bid, it's claimed, is part of a world-wide Soviet pattern to start peace offensives all over the world, including Europe, for the effect on the Italian elections, the coming Japanese elections, and the French vote on the European army.

AFL-CIO Talks
Realistic labor chiefs admit privately that the chances of AFL and CIO unity at this time, or even this year, are slim.

Some positive steps toward merging the two big labor groups nonetheless were taken at a closed-door huddle of AFL-CIO top brass the other day.

As one leader described the meeting: "Despite the obstacles that must be ironed out, it was the closest step we have ever taken toward unity."

For the first time, there was a joint understanding by both sides to open up their dues-paying membership rolls to each other. This has been off-limits in the past, leading to charges of "paper membership."

However, big rub will come in handling: (1) Jurisdictional conflicts between CIO and AFL unions working in the same industry; (2) Membership raiding, which both sides are slow to admit, and (3) Organizing the millions of non-union workers under either the AFL or the CIO.

Joe Beirne of the CIO Communications Workers and Bill Doherty, boss of the AFL Letter Carriers, insisted the obstacles could be overcome. The big needle trades unions would be no problem, they argued, because the CIO (Amalgamated Clothing Workers) already has solidly organized the men's clothing industry, while the AFL (International Ladies Garment Workers) is equally strong in the women's clothing field.

"This merger of labor, so we have a solid front equally as strong as management forces arrayed against us, is a must," declared Doherty. "It has been delayed long enough."

"It is an economic necessity to the workingman," spoke up Harry Bates, president of the AFL Bricklayers. "I pray that we will never have another economic crisis as we did in the early '30's, but we must prepare for any emergency by uniting our forces."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

When West opened the four of hearts in today's hand, South "mechanically" played low from the dummy. This sort of play is usually perfectly sound, but there are times when it pays to think rather than act as a creature of habit.

East won the first trick with the king of hearts and shrewdly shifted to the queen of spades. South could not hold up his ace for only one round, but had to take the ace of spades on the second trick in that suit. Now his contract depended on guessing which opponent held the queen of diamonds.

If South had guessed the diamond correctly, this sad tale might never have been told. Unfortunately for him, however, South decided to finesse through East for the queen of diamonds. West triumphantly won the trick and led his last spade, whereupon the defenders set the contract with three spades, a heart and a diamond.

South should have made his contract without the slightest risk. The correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of hearts, cash the ace of diamonds and let the jack of diamonds ride around for a finesse.

If the diamond finesse succeeds, all well and good. If the finesse loses to West, he cannot continue hearts without giving South a trick with the queen of hearts. If West leads anything but a heart, South is sure of one spade, one heart, three clubs and four diamonds.

South's "mechanical" play at the first trick gave him his best chance to win a total of two heart tricks, but jeopardized his contract. The correct play may limit declarer to one heart trick, but it assures the contract. It's merely a question of whether you want to play for a single suit or for your contract.

You, South, hold: Spades A-J-8, Hearts 8-5, Diamonds A-Q-J-7-4-3, Clubs K-Q. What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. It is possible that the hearts are wide open, but you have good stoppers in both of the black suits and a long diamond suit that is ready to run. There is an excellent chance that your partner has something in hearts or that the opponents will not open that dangerous suit.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Would-Be Depression Curbs Are On Tap In Washington

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Just as the big budget cutters in the Eisenhower Administration thought they were getting a nice start on lopping off appropriations for government public works, along come a couple of rude awakenings to upset their sweet dreams of economy.

The rude awakenings all stem from the brightened prospects for an armistice in Korea and better relations with the new regime in Russia, following the death of Premier Stalin.

As a result of these two developments, the stock market does a nose dive. It is feared that defense production orders will be cut back. The warriers begin wondering if that will cause a mild recession in the U. S.

The upshot of all these things is that there have begun to rain down on Washington requests for the Eisenhower Administration to make some plans to relieve a possible depression.

Demand for this kind of action came not just from people like CIO President Walter Reuther, who wants President Eisenhower to call a conference "to draft a worksheet for full production and full employment." Republican politicians from various industrial areas around the country are writing to their congressmen—and probably buttonholing those who went home for Easter week vacation.

This new development reverses the pressure exerted on Washington before Stalin died. The line then was, "Cut to the bone all that awful waste and extravagance in Washington to give the taxpayers a break." Now it's, "Great grief! Why doesn't Washington plan something to break a depression?"

The answer to the warriers is that they can stop fretting. Washington has on tap plans for at least $15,000,000,000 worth of public works. Actual construction could be started just as fast as Congress appropriated the money.

The Eisenhower Administration had nothing to do with the making of these plans. They were made by New Dealers and Fair Dealers. The Republicans might not want to use these particular plans for that reason. But if they wanted to start something in a hurry, all they'd have to do is reach into the nearest filing cabinets to pull out a whole sheaf of plans, in various stages of readiness.

Breakdown of the $15,000,000,000 estimate for public works is roughly as follows: Army Corps of Engineers—$60 projects worth $8,000,000,000 at 1951 prices; Bureau of Public Roads—state plus federal-aid plans for $2,200 million of highways estimated to cost $4,225,000,000, as of April 1, 1951; Bureau of Reclamation—seven-year program involving 350 projects costing an estimated $2,000,000,000. This is the big shelf of reserve plans.

A shelf of smaller projects includes these: General Services Administration plans to build or remodel many U. S. Post Office and Federal office buildings. Costs might range anywhere from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. Civil Aeronautics Administration airport program has $315,000,000 unallocated out of its original seven-year $500,000,000 program which has four years to run. In addition, CAA has a $150,000,000 backlog of unauthorized airport improvement plans.

BOOKS FOR THE BARON

by Anthony Morton

COPYRIGHT 1952 BY JOHN CRAWLEY. DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: John Manning, known also as The Baron, on the side of law and order, has been unable to explain the strange accident of Gloria Latham following the mysterious death of her father, a wealthy industrialist. After visiting New Scotland Yard, Gloria Manning attempts to throw herself in front of his car. Upon investigating, Manning believes she was frightened by a dog which had chased her.

XII
MANNING took a pencil torch from his pocket. The groom took note, and they walked side by side, retracing Gloria's steps.

Not far ahead was a tiny pool, half-way across the path, and the earth about it was soft and damp. There was the imprint of the side of a heel, and Manning knew that the girl had only just missed treading in the pool. He stopped here, and cast the light downwards—and the groom suddenly drew a hissing breath.

"See there, sir!"
The light steadied, and shone clearly on a paw mark, dark and deep, close to the unruffled pool of water. The groom bent down and peered at it.

"We ought to take a cast, we might find it useful. Can you tell me what kind of dog it was?"
"Could be any big breed, I know little about their paw marks, horses is my line." He drew in another hissing breath. "But it was a monster, sir!"

Manning pursed his lips and whistled softly, low though the sound was, it made the groom jump. They looked at each other, just seeing the paleness of their faces and their shadowy outlines, and the groom said eagerly: "A whistler! Aye! I heard one, like a squeak it was. I would have thought it was a bough creaking, they make funny noises at night, you can imagine almost anything. But I heard a whistle—was some feller calling off the dog, do you think?"

thing—and knew that it was a dog. It was almost clear of the long grass, not 20 yards away from him; perhaps not 10.

He heard a new sound, a soft whistle that might well have been the creaking of a loose branch, but he knew that it was not. He raised the gun, leveling it towards the shape which moved more swiftly. He heard another fresh sound, like the intake of breath.

He fired. The flash of the shot lit up the low branches of the trees and the nearby undergrowth, but blinded him to everything else. He didn't see the dog or the man who had whistled. He heard a yelp, high-pitched and shrill, and that he had hurt the brute. He heard it fall heavily; a moment later another whistle hissed through the night, louder than the first. Urgent, summoning. More rustling: he thought he could see the shape of the dog rising from the ground. He fired again—but there was no rewarding yelp.

Someone afar off shouted.

The groom was approaching, and had heard the shots.

MANNING did not go in pursuit, but waited until Abel shouted again, then answered:

"All safe!"

There was more rustling, and he thought it was caused by a gust of wind, but couldn't be sure; he strained his ears and kept his gun cocked. His assailant might try again, from a different angle. He had no idea how badly he had wounded the dog; or even whether there was only one. A whispering sound was close to his ears, and he knew that was caused by the wind. Then the groom shouted again, and, after he had called back, he heard a second voice; so the groom hadn't come here alone. The men were little more than 100 yards away, and he could see a powerful torch flashing. He kept still—until suddenly the torch shone on him, lighting up his legs and feet. He realized that he made a silhouette against it, and could be clearly seen by anyone behind him.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Goobar Grabber Catcher Cap

The firetruck made a firetruck noise, and up it came to a stop in a cloud of dust. "Happy day, there," said the Monkey Catcher from the zoo. He said it in his stupid voice. "But I'm not as stupid as I look," he said. "I'm not that stupid."

"Indeed not," said Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend. "Mr. Monkey Catcher, welcome to the circus."

The Monkey Catcher giggled. He rang the bell on the firetruck. It's a happy thing to drive, if ever there's a fire.

But now the Monkey Catcher had come to the circus to catch a Goobar Grabber. The Goobar Grabber had caused trouble. He had slipped along through the walls of the train and grabbed away goobers from the elephants. From inside the walls, the Goobar Grabber laughed his nasty laugh and cried out: "Try, try, try! Try all you can! You can't catch me: I'm the Goobar Grabber man!" Something had to be done about him. He was a mischief maker with all his grabbing away of goobers, and the elephants—poor things—soon would never be fat any more, if they didn't keep their goobers to eat. The Goobar Grabber would have to be stopped from his grabbing of the goobers away.

The Monkey Catcher listened as Daddy Ringtail told him all about it. The Monkey Catcher said he was sure he could catch the Goobar Grabber. How would he do it? He would pretend he wasn't the Monkey Catcher. He would pretend he was a goobar. He would hide inside the goobar box. The Goobar Grabber would think he was a goobar. Then, when the Goobar Grabber grabbed him, the Goobar Grabber would never turn loose. A Goobar Grabber never turns loose of a goobar he had grabbed. And so the Monkey Catcher would now have caught him a Goobar Grabber. At least, that is how the Monkey Catcher said he was going to catch the Goobar Grabber.

By WESLEY DAVIS

"Fine, fine," said Daddy Ringtail. "Let's get busy now with doing it."

But the Monkey Catcher, who was now a Goobar Grabber Catcher, said he would first have to have a Goobar Grabber Catcher cap to wear on his head. It wouldn't be fair to catch a Goobar Grabber without it, and everyone ought to be fair.

So, you see, I'll have to wait until Monday to tell you what happened next. Happy day!

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

There's always an awkward moment when someone asks you a personal question you don't want to answer. How to avoid answering it? Pass it off with a wisecrack or a refusal softened by a laugh. A beauty queen who was asked on TV how much her evening gown set her dad back handled the question by the second method. "I really don't know—and if I did I wouldn't tell you." Her smile and gentle voice softened the finality of her answer.

A smile and gentle voice usually will.

Boy Scouts To Convene For Roundup

West Texas Boy Scouts may be heading for a new record attendance when the Buffalo Trail Council holds its twenty-seventh annual Big Spring Roundup April 25-26.

Last year's attendance of 1,046 lads and leaders was the all time record, but council officials expect even more to transform the valley south of Big Spring into a bustling tent city.

Competitive Scouting skill events will start at 1:30 p.m. Friday and are so designed that all Scouts will participate rather than just a few boys on troop teams. The three-day encampment will be climaxed Saturday evening with a barbecue sponsored by Big Spring businessmen.

Scout leaders also term the encampment a "training school" for those West Texas Scouts who'll attend the National Jamboree in California this year. Buffalo Trail Council will send 175 Scouts to join the 50,000 who will attend the jamboree.

Readers Criticize Choice Of Words

During the week of March 22 this column referred to TURF SPECIAL Fertilizer as "gorgeous." Several of our readers, (and we do have some, if not many), made some pointed remarks in our hearing about "ignorance," "unlettered," "nescient," to which we agree, but not about gorgeous TURF Special.

We went down and bought a dictionary, two of them, in fact—nothing like being well-armed. The American College Dictionary defines the word, "sumptuous; magnificent, splendid in appearance or coloring." The synonyms are "rich, superb, grand, brilliant, resplendent." Webster adds one more word, "sublime." Now, how about you going back and reading that last paragraph again, and take a good think about those words? Alright, alright, so we were wrong! The TURF Special isn't gorgeous. It's only your own lawn that will be gorgeous. You try TURF Special this season and see for yourself how those words will fit: sumptuous, magnificent, rich, superb, grand, etc.

Illustrate are we, Joe? We'll show you!

Hardin-Simmons Athletes Turn Players For Christ

Hardin-Simmons University athletes are in Midland this weekend—but in a non-athletic sense. They are members of the Cowboys for Christ, a new campus group, and join Sammy Baugh, "Mr. Forward Pass" of pro football fame and now associate coach at the university, in being featured at the ex-student meeting here Saturday and Sunday.

Six Hardin-Simmons athletes and a student manager are in charge of religious services Sunday at the First Baptist Church.

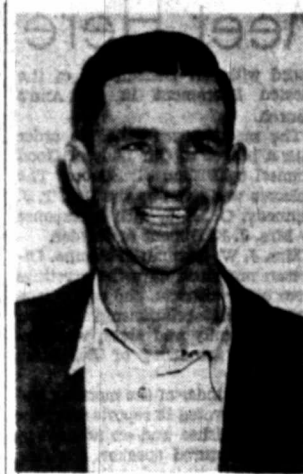

Jim Fleming of Oxnard, Calif., will lead the morning services, while Carman Bonner of Lufkin will take over for the evening. Both are members of the Hardin-Simmons football team.

Joe Simpson of Spur, captain of the college baseball team, is conducting special services. Jim Cox, Don Dilday and Pat McHane, football stalwarts, are working in the various church departments.

Eddie Spann, student manager of the basketball team is musical director for both morning and evening services.

Sammy Baugh, who broke 16 records in 16 years of football service with the Washington Redskins, is an ex-student organization banquet at 5:30 p.m. Saturday in Blue Star Inn and at a First Baptist Church senior banquet at 8 p.m. the same night at the Pic-Art Cafeteria.

His addition to the Hardin-Simmons staff brings the coaching ranks to full strength. Hardin-Simmons officials look to Baugh for aid both on the football field and in the rodeo arena, for he will work the intercollegiate rodeo program at the university.

Also on hand for the Midland activities is Kenneth Hill, executive secretary for the Hardin-Simmons Ex-Students' Association, whose job it is to keep tab on all exes, stimulate interest in Hardin-Simmons and help in ex-student celebrations.

Spring Finds Green Thumbs At Work In Midland Gardens

Spring is in the air, and Midland-ers turn once more to the great outdoors—for the fascinating work of digging into the soil and helping plants, flowers, and shrubs grow with the application of the proverbial green thumb.

Midland nurserymen are ready with a wealth of information for gardeners in West Texas; valuable tips on what to do in making the garden blossom and flower.

Neil McDonald, of McDonald and Shelton, Inc., a Midland greenhouse, warns Midlanders that one of the most important steps in preparing a garden is to lower the area planted four inches below the ground level.

"After the seed bed has been lowered," added McDonald, "Be sure to cultivate to an approximate depth of six inches, while working in a good humus fertilizer."

Selecting Fertilizer

Selecting a fertilizer is a big task, and R. E. Sader of Walker Nursery recommends one that has plenty of phosphate. He also points out that a neutralizer is necessary to counteract the alkaline accumulating from water.

"Sulphur makes a fine neutralizer," says Sader, "and it should be added to the soil continually. Sulphur also helps to control certain sucking and chewing insects."

R. A. Richardson endorses the use of a 10 per cent chlordane dust to help fight insects. He said aphids a troublesome pest, multiplies at the rate of one every 90 seconds and soon can cover a plant.

Check For Insects

Many nurserymen use a DDT liquid spray to control sucking and chewing insects, but Richardson favors a lime-sulfur spray, which is a mixed chemical.

In any event, plants should be checked often for the presence of destructive insects. Those nurserymen favoring DDT often recommend an oil sulphur spray be used with it, if scale has attacked the vegetation.

A scheduled spray program, regardless of the type of spray used, is a vital necessity to protect the garden in case of a heavy infestation by insects.

Stanley Meyers, who is a partner in the Plainview Nursery, cautions gardeners to keep all water off the leaves of plants in this area, because of the alkaline content of the water used.

Samples Of Soil

Meyers holds that a filling of the water beds once a week, the case of shrubs and flowers usually will be sufficient. Some nurserymen will go even further and hold out for a twice a week watering program.

"Examine the depth of the water to see how far it is soaking in," said Meyers. "Soil samples can be taken to determine if more water is needed."

Richardson believes a good compost bed, either of peat moss or barnyard fertilizer helps avoid packing in soil. Leaves and other humus matter may be worked into the preparation if made up at home.

As to lawns, Sader warns that light watering may deplete the fertilizer in a short time, causing grass to turn yellow. He recommends adding copperas fertilizer at the rate of 10 pounds for each 100 pounds of fertilizer.

Planting Roses

"It can be applied to 1,000 square feet of area," said Sader. "Also a commercial and humus fertilizer may be mixed in a 50-50 proportion for longer lasting results."

George Vineyard, Vineyard Landscaping Company, advises Midland gardeners to think of container stock for their gardens, particularly roses.

"Roses in containers may be planted now through May and June," says Vineyard, "instead of the traditional planting times of January and February."

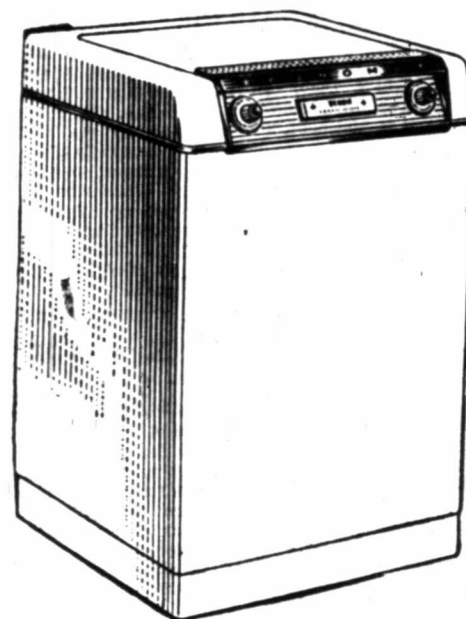

In any event, one thing is certain. Midland gardeners are beginning to get the desire to start their gardens, and a host of them will be out every evening, digging into the soil and chasing insects.

Balsa wood, said to be the lightest known, weighs about seven pounds per cubic foot.

Woman's Club Hears Landscape Advisor

"Tourists, A Big Business in Texas" was the topic for Ben J. Lednicki of Brownwood, guest speaker for the meeting of the Midland Woman's Club, Inc., Thursday in the home of Mrs. R. B. Cowden, 1507 West Cuthbert Street.

Lednicki, who is a senior landscape advisor for the Texas Highway Department, also showed a color film on Texas wild flowers. Assigned to the Western District of the state, he is one of six landscape advisors with the highway department.

Tourist Totals Given
Declaring that tourists are an important business, as are cattle, oil and agriculture, Lednicki stressed that $79,000,000 out-of-state tourists visited Texas in 1952, an increase of 3,000,000 over the 1951 total.

Of the tourists who visit the state, he explained 67 per cent are attracted by the good highways, 40 per cent by the attractions of the state, itself, and 15 per cent for the scenery.

It is the job of the landscape advisors, he continued, to keep highway right-of-ways clean and attractive and to maintain the roadside parks and resting places to make the traveler's journey more pleasant.

A highway is landscaped as it is planned and built, Lednicki stated, and an effort is made to group trees, shrubs and flowers to give a pleasing variety to the scenery.

Hostess Club Named
Lednicki was introduced by Mrs. Hal Peck, who was introduced by Mrs. Butler Hurley, first vice president of the Midland Garden Club, hostess club for the meeting.

Mrs. W. Harry Rhodes, Woman's Club president, presided and introduced the club's new directors who were present.

These included Mrs. William Anders, American Association of University Women; Fannie Bess Taylor, Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. Paul Crandall, Fine Arts Club; Mrs. J. C. Smith, Midland Garden Club; Mrs. Bryan Denson, Modern Study Club.

Mills, Tejas Garden Club; Mrs. Harlan Howell, Twentieth Century Study Club; Mrs. George Glasco, Woman's Wednesday Club; and Mrs. B. R. Matthews, Yucca Garden Club.

Mrs. James O. Simmona, Jr., read the club collect as the invocation.

Houseparty Named
Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. I. E. Daniels and Mrs. Cowden. Mrs. Walter J. Duease served as chairman of the hospitality committee, assisted by other members of the hostess club.

Mrs. J. C. Smith presided at the refreshment table, which was centered with frosty pink roses in a Venetian glass bowl. Flanking the centerpiece were frosty pink tapers in triple holders in the form of pink roses matching the pink glass roses on the sides of the flower container. A cutwork linen cloth and silver punch bowl completed the setting.

Other floral arrangements for the party were of roses, hillya trope and wood roses. Most of the arrangements were by Mrs. A. P. Shirley.

The purpose of The Community Survey is to obtain helpful information that will enable advertisers to improve their service to you readers by preparing ads the way you want them.

When you indicate which ads you think will do the advertisers the most good, it is possible to tabulate that information and give it to the advertisers for their guidance.

On the first page of the paper each day you will find a list of the advertisements to be checked that day.

All you have to do is to decide each day which Large Ad, which Medium Ad, which Small Ad and which Classified Ad you think will do the advertiser the most good. Just write four names on this blank each day.

Cash awards will go to those readers whose selections are nearest to what the majority of readers think. Every week is a separate survey.

YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO WRITE A LETTER. The awards are made to those readers whose selections are nearest to the list of ads which get the most votes. The awards are ACCURATE . . . FAIR . . . and HONEST.

You do not have to be an advertising expert! All ads are written for you readers. YOU are best qualified to indicate which ads will do the advertiser the most good.

We sincerely want your suggestions and ideas of how we may improve our advertising service for your benefit. Write your letter in your own way! It's the thoughts and suggestions that matter. You are not being "judged" by your letters. Actually they have nothing to do with awards . . . but . . . they will be helpful by giving additional information to our advertisers.

Your criticisms and suggestions will be given the advertisers to help them to improve their advertisements BUT they will NOT be given the names of those who write the letters. This is so you may say just what you really think without embarrassment.

Every member of any family may send in one answer each week but only one award for a good answer will go to any one household during the survey. Since the purpose of the Survey is to obtain information, any indication of collusion to secure an award automatically will disqualify such answers. In the case of ties duplicate awards will be made. Four Students Get TCU Scholarships After MHS Audition

The Fine Arts Department of Texas Christian University presented their Spring tour program in the fields of ballet and opera April 14, in the high school auditorium.

The first of the two ballets performed was Grande Valse with the music of "Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Johann Strauss. The Beggar's Flute, a story telling of the courtship of a peasant maiden, was the second dance; and "Roumanian Rhapsody No. 1" by Georges Enesco accompanied.

Comprising the second half of the program was "Gianni Schicchi," a one act opera by Puccini. The plot centered around a very clever notary who impersonated his recently passed-away friend, Donati; and when making out the latter's will, the notary gave all his possessions to himself.

Auditions for TCU scholarships were held Tuesday afternoon, and congratulations go to Anna Bess Doyle, Claudine Hammer, Ruth Ann Rhodes and Dana Roper who were recipients.

Art Club-The members of the Art Club spent the meeting working on the scenery of the Senior play, "You Can't Take It With You."

Junior Classical League-The members discussed plans for their annual Spring picnic. It was decided to hold it April 26 or 27, Sylvia Metz, Margaret Gibson, Nancy Cresswell, Margie Nell, and Linda Davis gave reports on ancient Roman life.

Camera Club-The members of the Camera Club collected pictures and snapshots to go on posters that will be on display in the show cases in the main hall.

Pan American Club-Listened to Spanish records.

By JACK PENNINGTON

The Odessa Bronchos, naturally enough, swept the district track title up by scoring almost twice as many points as the Bulldogs, who placed second. The Bronchos, paced by Troy Moody and Ken Wineburg amassed a total of 74 1/3 points to 38 1/3 for Midland and 34 1/3 for Lubbock.

Midlands R-K Combination, Robert Keisling and Roy Kinsey accounted for almost half the Bulldog total, 15 1/2 points. In the field events Larry Palmer tied for first place in the pole vault by vaulting a record-breaking 11 1/4 feet. In the relays, the Midlands, as expected, came in first but high winds kept the times from being near record-breaking. The Midland scoring summary:

Pole vault-Larry Palmer, first, 11 1/4; 120 Yard high hurdles-Keisling, first, 16.2; 100 yard dash-J. Bess Doyle, 16.4; 440 yard run-1. Kinsey 2. Mims, 5.18; 180 yard low hurdles-3. Keisling; 440-yard relay-1. Watson, Braun, Mims and Kinsey, 44.4; 880-yard run-3. Curry; 220-yard dash-4. Jobe; Mile relay-1. Braun, Jobe, Mims, Kinsey, 3:34; All point-makers in the District met gained a trip to the regional meet at Lubbock April 25.

In the golf and tennis matches at the district meet, the Bronchos again finished in one-two order. The Odessans finished in links competition only three points ahead of Midland, 672-675. Medalist honors were won by Billy Gilmore, Odessa; and Luke Thompson of Big Spring with 158 apiece. Marcelino Moreno was third high individualist with 163. Bussy Bray shot a 90-83-173, David Bredlow 87-86-173 and Lee Sneed 82-84-168 to round out the Midland scoring.

In the tennis department, Ellen DeChicchi won the girls' singles championship while Bill Vanderventer, was beaten in the boys' singles final. In doubles, the boys' team of Jimmy Garvin and Johnny Godwin advanced to the final but were beaten in the final as were Carolyn Faris and Janna Murray in girls' doubles.

In their first district game of the season, the Midland High baseball team started off wrong and kept it up to lose to Odessa, 11-2. Ten of the runs were scored in the first two innings as the Bronchos batted around in the second and scored eight runs. The Bronchos blasted 17 hits of the two Midland pitchers and were also aided by seven Bulldog errors, and erratic baserunning by the home team. Midland could manage only three hits off lefty Gerald Miles, doubles by Rusty Rledge and Jesse Hatfield, and a single by Don Hudson.

The following Friday, Big Spring came to town and it was the same old story. This game, too, began dismally as in the first frame, Raymond Gilstrap poled Boyce McKnight's second delivery over the left field wall with one mate aboard. The Bulldogs knotted the score in the third but were handcuffed by Charles Rose, Steer pitcher, after that. Midland had men on base every inning, but the sixth, but were stranded as Rose bore down.

Last week the Bulldogs played in Lamesa, Tuesday and played host to Abilene Friday.

Last weekend a group of Midland High School sports cars fans journeyed down to Austin to see the Lone Star National Sports Car Races. The races were held at the Bergstrom Air Base on a 4.48 mile course.

There were four different races, consisting of: (1) a stock sports car race over a 54 mile course, (2) a modified sport car race on a 75 mile course, (3) a modified and production sport car race, on a 100 mile course, and (4) a modified and production sport car race (under 1,500 cc) on a 200 mile course. The fourth and main race was won by Jim Kimberly in a Ferrari, with Phil Hill in a Jaguar XK 120C coming in second. The two fastest cars were Kimberly's Ferrari and Hill's Jaguar, which were both clocked going 150 m.p.h. at the end of a 6,000 foot stretch.

The boys who went were Joe Cates, Bill Mathews, Murray Cates, Harvey Diemer, Bill Cartwright, James Barron, Jerry Diemer, Stanley Putnam and Bill Jowell.

Spanish Students Present Program

"La Fiesta" was the title of the assembly presented on Wednesday by Miss Jackson's third period Spanish class. It commemorated Pan-American Day, which is April 14, but since Mexico is "the land of manana" the assembly was held on the fifteenth instead.

After the play, awards were made to students who won prizes in an essay-writing contest on socialized medicine. Barbara Wilson won first prize, Dorothy Black won second prize and Gerry Geisler won third.

VIA THE GRAPEVINE

By CAROL GARRISON and MARY JANE MILLER

Golly, do we rate. We consider it an honor that Bob Byron of KORS dedicated a song just for us. He has a very interesting program and anyone can have requests played for them to anyone. This is especially a lot of fun to have your favorite song played for someone, or vice versa. It seems that two requesters called the station to have their songs played Saturday night. But their calls were of no avail, because Bob has a holiday on Saturday nights.

Dear Midland was evacuated over the weekend. Everyone, it seems, left for parts unknown. These are a few of the kids who went to Balmore: Dona Ingham, Barbara Whitson, Don Hudson, Judy Edwards, Goose Wallace, Penny Jones, Ronnie Rone, Jesse Hatfield, Russell Rutledge, Darrell Spivey, Peggy Luce, Lee Sneed, Molly Anderson, Robert Keisling, Larry Palmer, Joe Pittman and Charlotte Frasher.

Also Mo Ranch enticed away a few of our Midlanders. People visiting this ranch over the weekend were: Jerry Ball, Jane Calley, Don Evans, Carol Fitting, Martha Pfick, Margaret Gibson, Mary Ann Hill, Mary Herndon, Frances Hefren, Sally Houston, Nona Lynn, Lee Wood, Fella Patten, Mimi Speed, Allison Cunningham, Ronnie Krist, Virginia Kroenlein, Jimmy Mashburn, Pat Morgan, Margie Nell, Diane Nichols, Simone Walker, Robert Stubbeman, Kenneth Schrum, Neil Sutton, Jean Ann Watts, Bill Crenshaw, Bill Aldrich and Don Forrest.

Betty Spurgers and Marjo Smith spent the Easter holidays in Chicago. They visited some friends and were gone 10 days. Helen Hedlberg went to visit her sister, Chris, in Plainview over the weekend. She went for Senior Day and open house in the dormitory. Picnics, picnics, and more picnics! Milton Jones, Othana Gadberr Shirley Green and Harold Paden had a picnic at Cole Park Sunday afternoon. Also the Northside Church of Christ's Young People had a picnic at Cole Park Saturday night. Those attending were Jo Ann Basaham, Evelyn Hejl, Ann Kennamar, Jann Hale, Steve Thorson, Charles Whitmore, Richard Counts, James Johnson, Joan Roberts, Mac McKandless, Wanda Thomas, Porter Davis, Roy Long, Ellis Long, Charles Jones and Joycelyn Newberry. After reports from these kids were that they all had wonderful times.

Sylvia Smith, Carla Mae Lea, Pat Frack and yours truly rode horses out at the Dunnigan's farm Saturday. The only answer we can get from these kids is that they are only a little saddle sore. It was great fun, though.

Giffert Aistrin went to bed last weekend and slept through everything, except Sunday School. Good boy, Giffert!

M. A. Rose went to Corpus Christi over the weekend and came back sporting a new car. He also saw his big brother.

In a little extra space, we would like to put in a good word for the Senior Play, "You Can't Take It With You." From personal experience we know the play is going to be a good one, and the cast has been working very hard to make it so. The play is a fast moving comedy, and interesting story of a down to earth family. Let's show these seniors that we are interested in a worthwhile play, and go to see it either the night of April 23 or 24. You won't be sorry, we will vouch for that!

Three coons were caught and killed over the weekend by Don Hanks, Fisher Adams, Roy Long and Porter Davis. Must have been good coon hunting weather.

Sherry Page had an open house Sunday, and hostesses for the occasion were Ann Grayum, Betty Sivalis, Sara Cameron, Sally Breeze, Ann Fitzgerald, Roberts Stewart, Faye Henshaw, Jean Waddell, Anna Bess Doyle and "Kirk" Kuykendall. These girls were all dressed in fresh Spring dresses and suits, each adorned with a beautiful corsage.

We've seen a lot of fights in our days, but never one so interesting as the paint fight that went on Tuesday outside of the auditorium. It seems that Duane Chestnut and Vernon Carpenter got a little paint happy while painting the set for the Senior Play. Lucky for them that they worked without shirts, for they were literally covered in yellow, green, blue and brown paint. Nevertheless, they are doing a bang-up job on painting the sets and props.

Oh, the happy looks on everyone's faces, when the report cards were unceremoniously passed out. It was nice knowing everyone, anyway. Don't worry, we won't forget your smiling faces while you are in hibernation.

Everyone enjoyed the Texas Tech band. There were certainly a lot of friends that met and talked over good times. People visiting backstage were Pat Frack, Ardith Campbell, Frances Inman, Gail Gillum and others.

Well, it is time to close the news bureau for another week. But remember if you have anything you think will be interesting to our readers and to us that you would like to have printed in this column, just drop us a line or tell one of us at school.

How He Looked Years Ago

Mr. Mystery, a five-foot 10-inch sophomore with rosy cheeks and green eyes is the puzzle for this week. He drives a black and grey car, known to some as the yardman's car, and usually can be seen at 601 North D Street or at the Youth Center.

Mr. Mystery is interested in all sports, football being his favorite. He has lettered on the C and B football squads both his years in high school.

Some of Mr. Mystery's favorites are: color, green; food, anything, especially milk. His favorite person seems to be a short, cute, brown haired senior girl. He states his pet peeve to be senior boys.

Last week's mystery student was Jerry Yocham guessed by Scotty Gray.

Three things to do if you fall down on the dance floor.

1. Get up gracefully, and they'll think it's part of the dance step.

2. Just lie there, and they'll think you fainted.

3. Start mopping the floor with your handkerchief, and they'll think you work there.

From La Porte High's April Fool edition comes this fine specimen of a jocular yarn:

The La Porte High School concert band and symphony orchestra has completed its annual "tour de triomphe" playing a command performance for good Queen Elizabeth. She was in Buckingham Palace in London for the concert.

The programme, typical of the repertoire of the band, included:

Tchaikovsky's First Beethoven's Third Old Granddad's Fifth Goofer

The Thing Intermission Hot Rod Race Refrain from Spitting

It goes on and one with jocular sayings, (double readings and just jocular. (Does anyone know what JOCULAR means?)

Boy in typing class: "Teacher my typewriter doesn't type as good as the other typewriters do."

Miss Reeves: "What seems to be the trouble?"

Boy: "It just won't spell the words right."

Mr. Hurley, the math teacher, was asked if he snored in his sleep. To which he promptly replied, "Never stayed up to see."

Recently in one of Miss Boyd's English classes, the students were discussing Winter sports. One student remarked that his favorite was ice skating.

"What's the hardest thing about learning to ice skate?" inquired Don.

"When you come right down to it," answered Dick, "the ice!"

BULLDOG EDITORIAL

Often we are displeased by the way the various organizations of our school and community are operated; but when elections come, we either are indifferent, or we are too easily influenced by those who campaign.

We should ask these questions: Is the candidate qualified? Will he or she work for the betterment of the organization? Will he live up to his convictions and not be swayed by some underlying influence? Does he get along with people and continue to challenge the citizens of his school and community?

All of us will agree that honesty, dependability, ambition and a keen sight of human relations are only a few of the traits that every successful leader of any organization should have.

On election day we often hear these comments: "Now whom did Mary say vote for?" "Oh, yes, Henry Brown. Well, I guess he'll do." The person who is guilty of this is usually the first to voice his dissatisfaction of the way the organization is being operated.

So let us all give further study to the above virtues before we cast our ballot in any future election.-Benny Bedford.

Berlin Festival's Top Film Will Be Shown For Students

On April 28, Midland High School students and faculty will get to see the most widely endorsed and highly recommended feature length film on the importance of modern education in the world.

A French film produced in 1949 and sponsored by the United Nations and UNESCO and entitled "Passion for Life" it received the first prizes for acting and direction at the Berlin Film Festival. It was first shown in the United States in 1951 for six months to regular theaters. Then it was recommended to P-T-A organizations, child development organizations Teacher and Parent Education Groups and other community clubs.

The story concerns a new teacher who comes into a French village school to find a dirty classroom, broken windows, toilets without running water, and crumbling plaster. He tries to make improvements but only part of the village was helping him, the others were against "Progressive" education.

The teacher also tries to help a boy, "the town's shame," who at first resents his helplessness and causes trouble. During this time, the school has been cleaned a little, interest in it is aroused, and things are on the upgrade.

At graduation the teacher threatens to resign if all his boys don't get their certificates. This is hard for the boy, Albert-having failed three times-but although he doesn't know the answer to the most important question in the examination, he is passed by a moving speech on "The Rights of Man."

Highlights of the film are a speech by the teacher on "The Great Quest" and the boy's speech on "The Rights of Man."

Don't miss this film, which combines laughter, tears and reality to make a wonderful story, as it is worthwhile and educational to all.

United Texas Drys Speaker Addresses MHS Student Body

Last week, in a series of talks to the various English classes, Mr. W. A. Martin set about educating the student body in regard to narcotics and alcohol.

Mr. Martin, a representative of the United Texas Drys, an organization in Dallas, travels all over Texas speaking to the various high schools and junior high schools.

United Texas Drys is an organization founded about twenty years ago by the churches of Texas in order to carry on a campaign for temperance. It is supported financially by the churches. Foremost in the campaign is education, because UTD believes that with education will come abstinence from habit-forming drugs.

To quote Mr. Martin, "The aims of the UTD are to educate, legislate, conserve, organize and evangelize." Spending the first three days at MHS, the educator rounded out the school week at the two junior high schools.

CULTURE CORNER

Art in Midland High School was highlighted last week by the return to Midland of Miss Ines Parker, Midland Public Schools' Art Director. Miss Parker spent a week in St. Louis, Mo., at a national art convention while in St. Louis, Miss Parker saw an exhibition of modern dance. The outstanding special effect used in the dance was the use of ribbon to signify rippling water.

Music in the last seven "dances" consisted of an afternoon concert by the Texas Tech Band and an opera which was also presented by Texas.

Dramatics next week will reach its peak with that long awaited presentation, "You Can't Take It With You." Be there or else... you'll miss it.

The showcase last week contained pictures of previous senior plays. Among them were "January Thaw," "Icebound," and the "Great Big Doorstep."

The Kulturite of the week is "The Scarlet Letter" by Nathaniel Hawthorne. It's a classic with more spice than "Forever Amber," more interest to the reader than Little Abner, and it is worth more to the reader than the other two put together.

Band News

The MHS Band presented its annual Spring concert Friday night, April 17, in the San Jacinto Junior High School Auditorium.

Under the direction of Ralph Mills, the band opened the program with the National Anthem. Next on the program was a march, "New York Hippodrome." Then came the "Poet and peasant" overture and "Fairness of the Fair" march. To conclude the first part of the program the band played "First Swedish Rhapsody."

Claudine Hammer presented a bassoon solo. This was followed by a novelty number "Sound Off," and another march "Washington Post."

The band added color to the program with the rhythmic "South American Way." Also another novelty "Jambalaya" featuring the "Sticky Six."

"Joshua," "Lassus Trombone," and "Stormy Weather" were next each featuring a different section of the band.

To conclude the program, the band played the famous march "Stars and Stripes Forever."

The grass always looks greener on the other side, but how can it if you keep walking on it?
