Hospital Election

Set April 7

The Colorado City Hospital District has set April 7 as the date for election of directors for four positions on the hospital board.

The four positions up for election for two-year terms are now held by Willie Landau, Preston Morris, Rex McKenney and Wayne Shaw, all of whom have announced plans to seek re-election.

The election was called during the hospital board's regular meeting Tuesday night.

Deadline for candidates to file for the election is March 13.

During the meeting, the board also heard the results of a survey by medicare on patient care costs at the hospital compared to other hospitals in the area and in the state.

The survey covered the period from April through September 1972.

The survey showed the average stay in the area and state for Blue Cross patients was about a half day longer than for Blue Cross patients at Root Memorial Hospital.

For Medicare patients, the average stay here was 10.2 days compared to 10.2 days in the area and 9.6 days in the state.

In almost every case, the average cost per patient, average cost per day, room charge, drug charge here was below that for the area and state.

The board also gave Hospital Administrator Charles Root authority to hire an inhalation therapist and approved the construction of a basement below a new lobby wing to be built. A basement also be built under a new patient wing.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Shamburger said, "I believe in taking an active part in my community. I really feel that by participating in the activities that you're most interested in, you commit yourself to doing what you can to add to the progress of that particular organization.

"I have supported our school system through my membership in the PTA and by serving as an officer on the Kelley PTA for two years.

"I've also considered myself to be a supporter and advocate for the bilingual program since its inception. I also believe our children and our school personnel need persons that are actively interested in striving toward improvement in the quality of education in our schools.

"There is so much going on in the field of education with so many innovative programs being devised that I feel I can, if elected, help the school administration in continuing a program of progress," Mrs. Shamburger concluded.

Powell, in announcing his candidacy, said, "I am proud of the Colorado City school See CANDIDATES Page 8

16 Mos. In Jail

Jammie Lee Green, 19, also known as Jammie Lee Boone and Jammie Lee Miles, has been sentenced to 16 months in the Mitchell County jail.

He received the sentence, the longest time ever given in the county jail, for his part in the Feb. 1 assault of two police officers, Dan Bradshaw and Pete Upshaw, which sent Upshaw to the hospital in critical condition.

Green was sentenced before Judge Bill Carter after being held on a $1,500 bond following the incident.

Green was in a car being chased by the two officers for a traffic violation and the chase ended in the driveway of Green's mother's home on Front Street.

Green bailed out of the car and as he was caught by Bradshaw, Green and two other assailants jumped Bradshaw while Upshaw was being beaten by several other men.

Bradshaw fought off his assailants and radioed for help and upon arrival of Sheriff's Deputy Perry Ruddick, six arrests were made with three being released later.

Charles Boone, 21, and George Edward Miles, 18, were indicted with attempted murder by the Mitchell County grand jury in connection with the beating.

"I Think I'll Just Piddle"

Rattlesnake hunting.

That was just some what of a hobby before, but now Ira Hardin will be devoting more time to it as he officially retires Wednesday.

Ira turned 65 Sunday and after that many years Ira firmly believes "I deserve a rest now".

A very familiar face around Colorado City for years, he will be a little more scarce as he said he will be spending most of his time "just hunting rattlesnakes, fishing and enjoying life."

"We may just take off for a week at a time when it's possible and do a little traveling, see a few places and visit the kids."

For the past five years, Ira has seen a "world" in town that few other people ever see - Colorado City before it ever wakes up.

He began his day at 6 a.m. each morning, while the rest of the town was trying to get their day started somewhere between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m.

He has been employed by the city for those five years in the position of street maintenance man and no matter how bad the weather, Ira was always there to do his job.

Before working for the city, he worked 14 years with the railroad here and in Toyah. He occupied the position of station porter, handled the county mail and others.

And his hobby of hunting rattlesnakes, although it's not classified as "work", has occupied some of his time for the past 36 years.

During that time he has caught 16,173 snakes and won 14 trophies and two plaques entering his snakes in rattlesnake roundups. This year he has already caught 72 which will be shown at the roundups in Sweetwater and Big Spring for sure.

He and his wife of 42 years, the former Artie Hartsfield, operated a snowcone stand by their home for the past seven years. But this year it will be operated by someone else, as they sold it Friday.

He and his wife are members of the Central Baptist Church and are parents of two daughters See HARDIN Page 8

We Salute Our Teachers

Although many of us look on teaching as just another vocation, it's far more than that. Our teachers must prepare themselves with an abundance of education and must thereafter constantly upgrade and augment their basic education and training throughout their teaching career. Although most jobs end at quitting time, the dedicated teacher is usually heading home for preparation of the next day's work or grading papers far into the night. Our teachers can usually be depended upon to offer special help to our children if needed. We know of no profession where such generous amounts of patience, understanding and love is cheerfully given by our teachers to our children. For all of this we offer our thanks!

Mrs. Emory Sweatt Speaks To Looney Club On Nutrition

The Looney Home Demonstration Club met Thursday at 10 a.m. for a workshop in the Lone Wolf Electric Medallion Room.

During the workshop period, the group made 75 hat favors to be used for the convention to be held in April.

At noon, the group had a covered dish luncheon and Mrs. J.A. Bobo conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Henry McGuire was "lucky lady of the day" and won a scarf.

Mrs. Emory Sweatt gave the program for the day entitled "The Importance of Nutrition in Aging".

"There are three important building materials: protein for growth and repair of tissues, minerals and vitamins for growth and functioning of the body and fat and carbohydrates for energy," she began.

"The National Research Council say half of the women over 60 years of age do not meet the correct standards.

"There are a number of reasons for undernutrition: poor dental health, structural disease of the esophagus or stomach, poor diet habits, anxiety, constipation and inadequate intake of fluids and others.

"The use of food selected in line with principals of nutritional science may add "life to years and years to life", Mrs. Sweatt continued.

"There are a number of hints for maintaining health in middle age. Exercise is very important, eat the basic four meals.

"Bread and cereal group, these also include macaroni, rice and those all include vitamin B; milk group and milk products provide calcium and vitamin A; vegetable and fruit group which includes citrus fruits and dark green and dark orange vegetables are the best and they include vitamin C and A and the meat group is a good source of minerals and vitamins.

"If you need to watch your weight consult your physician. Say no to sweets, pastries, fried foods and gravies. Eat a little more skim milk, meat, eggs, vegetables, fruits and enriched cereals.

"Bake, broil and boil more foods. Follow the recommendations of your doctor because there is a definite relationship between food and health," she concluded.

Attending the meeting were two visitors, Mrs. O.L. Simpson and Nelda Garrett and club members Mrs. J.D. Gibson, Mrs. A.R. Marshall, Mrs. Sidney Compton, Mrs. J.A. Bobo, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Henry McGuire.

Maggie Hamrick, Mrs. Bruce Byrne, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Ira Hardin, Mrs. Emory Sweatt.

WOULD YOU BE CONTENT TO LIVE IN 3/4 OF YOUR HOME?
If you're underinsured, and disaster should strike, that's exactly what could happen.
Government statistics show that the cost of rebuilding homes in America goes up each year. By as much as 5 to 10%.
That's why Aetna has come up with a simple, effective measurement tool called an A-Estimator. It gives us the information we need to estimate the replacement cost of your home at today's prices -- so that your home can be insured for its full replacement value. (Remember, there's a difference between the price tag a realtor might place on your home and what it would actually cost to rebuild.)
With an Aetna Homeowner's policy, you'll be protected against fire, burglary, vandalism, personal liability suits and more. And because of our easy-to-use A-Estimator, you'll be insured for as much as you need to completely rebuild your home in today's construction market.
Would you be content to rebuild only 3/4 of the home you live in now?
If your answer's "No," talk to us today, about an Aetna Homeowner's policy.

"I went through school in Colorado City. We have three children in school. This is an opportunity to give back to the school system, through service, what our family has gained by it.

"I also feel it is important for people in agriculture to have a voice on the board, with the retirement of A.K. McCarley who served so well," Powell said.

Powell said that with three children in school and another daughter who will start school in a few years, that he, like other parents, wants to help insure that Colorado City schools continue to be as progressive as they have in the past in order to offer the best education possible for Colorado City's young people.

The construction extended the store from a 20 foot width to 40 feet and added a front of wall to wall glass and Roman brick.

Modern styling was emphasized with installation of an oversized door, set at an angle, under a curving permanent awning.

The store started from the beginning carrying a line of brand name items and today still carry those brand name items.

A shopper can find items from stereos, radios, televisions, records, electrical appliances and a gift corner where any type of gift for any occasion can be found plus many more items.

And since her husband's death last year, Mrs. Kirschbaum has been operating the store. She invites everyone to come in during her anniversary week.

They have a total of 13 grandchildren and are awaiting the arrival of their first great-grandchild some time the end of this month.

"Some have wanted me to go to work for them, but I think I'll just use my time piddlin' doing what I want to do."
