Giant Pincers Blocks Out Ruhr Basin

British Fleet Joins Assaults On Ryukyus

Two More Islands Taken By Yanks

(By The Associated Press)

MANILA, Friday, March 30—Elements of Maj. Gen. William H. Arnold's Americal division, conquerors of Cebu city on Cebu, invaded Mactan island, directly across a narrow channel from that second port of the Philippines on Wednesday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today.

The tiny island of Cauit, to the southwest in Cebu harbor, also was invaded. Cauit is a seaplane base.

MacArthur said Opon, the main city of Mactan, was secured. On Mactan island is the biggest coconut oil refinery in the Philippines, set ablaze by Japanese demolition crews Monday when the Yanks landed on Cebu.

Enemy Disorganized

On Cebu itself, the infantrymen struck north and south from the demolition-wrecked capital city, capturing Lahug airfield to the north and the town of Naga, 14 miles south.

MacArthur said enemy resistance "still appeared disorganized."

Only minor actions were reported on Luzon, where in the central sector 1,338 additional dead were counted in mopping-up operations.

Legaspi, major port on southeastern Luzon, was hit with more than 200 tons of bombs.

The communique, silent for days about progress on invaded Mindanao island, said only that heavy bombers and fighters bombed Jolo and Tawi Tawi in the Sulu archipelago to the southwest.

Ten Freighters Sunk

Patrol bombers, maintaining a tight blockade of the China sea, sank one large and nine small freighters in attacks as far north as Formosa.

The Americal division troops, who landed about five miles south of Cebu city Monday in the 28th Philippine island liberation invasion, also freed 11 other Cebu towns.

Only one large island of the archipelago, Negros, now remains for the Americans to invade.

The strong Japanese resistance on northern Luzon was around Baguio, Philippine summer capital, and the Balete pass gateway to the Cagayan valley. No new advance was reported by 33rd division doughboys, fighting within artillery range of Baguio city limits. The 25th and 32nd division continued their dogged struggle to reduce Japanese defenses in the Balete pass area.

Resistance Diminishing

MacArthur said Japanese resistance in central and southern Luzon was "becoming disconnected and sporadic." The Japanese, he noted, were unable to replace their "great losses."

Philippine-based bombers of the U. S. Fifth Army air force dropped 72 tons of explosives on Takoya in the latest of their daily Formosa attacks. They sank seven Japanese freighters and damaged 16 others in their continued South China sea air blockade.

B-29S LASH SINGAPORE

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) — India-based Superfortresses struck Singapore again today, (March 30, Japanese time), blasting oil supplies in this strategic crossroads of the Japanese empire.

Approximately 48 of the huge B-29's made the attack, headquarters of the 20th Air force in Washington reported tonight.

Singapore has been a popular target for the large planes. This is the third time this month that it has been hit. Previous attacks were made on March 2 and March 13.

Japs Persist In Their Claim That Islands Invaded

(By The Associated Press)

GUAM, Friday, March 30—The United States Pacific fleet, augmented by a powerful British battleship-carrier task force, poured shells and carrier planes for the seventh straight day Thursday at the Ryukyus where Tokyo said American transports are moving in for an invasion of Okinawa, 325 miles southwest of Japan.

Shortly after disclosing that the 35,000-ton battleship HMS King George V, the 23-000-ton carrier HMS Illustrious and other British warships attacked the southern end of the island chain Monday and Tuesday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today:

"The U. S. Pacific fleet continued on March 29 to attack shore installations in the Ryukyus with carrier aircraft and with surface gunfire."

Jap Attacks Fail

He also disclosed that Japanese planes and torpedo boats tried to deal blows to the attacking warships Tuesday night during which four of the planes and "a number" of the boats were destroyed. There was no mention of any damage to the American fleet units.

A self-contained task force of the British Pacific fleet, including some of the mightiest warships afloat, teamed up with the U. S. fleet for the first time in the central Pacific in carrier strikes against Japan's southern Ryukyu islands Monday and Tuesday.

Observers here said the British force was using "revolutionary methods of operation" to carry out the first long-range strike it has ever attempted.

The attack indicated a marked change from previous methods of supply. Never before has the British fleet used a "floating supply train" on a scale large enough to permit such a long-range operation.

KINGDOM OF "SUPER-MEN" FADES RAPIDLY—Black areas indicate territory held by Germany at the peak of the wehrmacht's conquests, but lost since. Great Cities Are Toppling

First Dashes 55 Miles While Third Spears Nearly Half Across Germany

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Friday, March 30—Tanks of the U. S. First Army, scattering all resistance on a dazzling 55-mile sweep, roared up within 186 miles west of Berlin yesterday and all but cut the Ruhr basin from the rest of Germany, thereby robbing the enemy of his last great source of war material.

The British Second Army raced across the north German plain under a news blackout, was at least 41 miles east of the Rhine by last account and was within 68 miles of a junction with the First Army. Between the two armies were thousands of Germans in disordered flight.

Third Captures 14,000

While the northern defenders of Berlin's approaches reeled under these tremendous blows, the U. S. Third Army slashed almost half-way across Germany's waist with a 20-mile eastward surge that netted a total of 14,000 prisoners, a record for one day.

All Germany's great western cities, her last reliance in any long-drawn struggle, were toppling into Allied hands.

Already the Third Army had Frankfurt, the Reich's ninth largest city with a population of 546,000, the U. S. Ninth Army had Duisburg, population 431,000 and Europe's biggest river port, almost in the bag, and the U. S. Seventh Army captured Mannheim, population 283,000.

Nazis Write Off Ruhr

The Germans, realizing the enormity of the disasters in the west, wrote off as lost the entire Ruhr, with such manufacturing cities as Essen—greatest munitions maker of all Europe—Hamm, Dorfmund, Duesseldorf and Muehlheim.

The First Army cut one of the most important railways from Essen to Berlin as well as a superhighway, leaving only two railways still open out of the Ruhr to the capital.

(Luxembourg radio said the British had entered the Westphalian capital of Muenster, cutting one of these railways. There was no confirmation, but hard-riding British tanks were only 17 miles away when the news blackout was clamped on.)

The U. S. First Army reeled off the longest gain ever made in a single day on the Western front, sweeping around the headwaters of the Ruhr river, and completely outflanking the vital production center.

Run Roughshod

Running roughshod through demoralized German defenses, the hardhitting columns knifed to a point 10 miles south of Paderborn, 43 miles almost due east of the big city of Hamm, rear door of the Ruhr. They apparently were across the Ruhr-Berlin superhighway.

This put them but 67 miles southwest of Hannover, and well out in front of the onrushing British Second Army, which was driving straight east across the Westphalian plain and last was reported about 68 miles from a junction with the First Army.

Simultaneously, the U. S. Third Army lunged out 20 miles east across the mid-German plain, herding the disorganized enemy before it and rounding up 14,000 prisoners.

At last reports it was within 198 miles of Berlin, but the German radio said the Third Army's Fourth Armored division had driven at least 12 miles farther on and was within less than 100 miles of the border of Czechoslovakia.

Seventh Takes Mannheim

Far to the south, Mannheim, Rhine factory city of 283,000, fell to the U. S. Seventh Army.

The Third Army captured Frankfurt - On - The Main, Germany's ninth largest city with a normal population of 546,000, and 45 miles to the southwest the U. S. Seventh Army seized Mennheim, Rhine factory city of 283,000.

While the U. S. First Army wheeled abruptly north, and the British Second Army — with American infantry riding its tanks—roared up from the west, German broadcasts wrote off the once

Reds Shatter Nazi Lines To Plunge Across Into Austria

By ROMNEY WHEELER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, March 30—Rampaging Red Army columns, plunging within 43 miles of Vienna, reached the Austrian frontier yesterday in a 20-mile dash across western Hungary, uprooted three of the Austrian capital's outer fortresses and slashed across a vital German supply line to Italy.

Outflanking Nazi defenses based on the Bratislava gap and the Neusiedler see (Sea of Vienna) southeast of the Danube city, Russian armored forces captured the border town of Koszeg, 52 miles south of Vienna's city limits, and toppled the key Hungarian rail city of Szombathely.

Said Already Across

The free Austrian radio said without confirmation from the Soviet high command that Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian Army spearheads already had invaded Austria, gateway to Adolf Hitler's southern mountain fortress.

The Austrian broadcast said the Russians had swept into Burgenland province and occupied several villages, and called on the Austrian freedom front to rise in arms. The reported Russian surge across the frontier was the first time that a liberating Army had set foot on Austrian soil since that country was annexed to Hitler's greater Germany by the Nazi-enforced anschluss of March, 1938.

Two Victory Orders

The Red Army's breakthrough to the Austrian border in an advance that also won the fortified Hungarian town of Kapuvar, 43 miles southeast of Vienna and 38 miles south of the outflanked Slovak capital of Bratislava, was announced in an order of the day issued by Marshal Stalin.

In a second victory announcement, the Soviet premier revealed that Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky's Third White Russian Army had completed the liquidation of the coastal pocket in East Prussia southwest of still embattled Koenigsberg. More than 130,000 enemy troops were killed or captured in 18 days of battle, Stalin said.

18,500 Germans Captured

In another huge one-day bag, Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army captured 18,500 German troops as the Russians battered deeper into the eastern half of Danzig and wiped out a number of coastal pockets along Danzig bay north of captured Gdynia.

The Germans, preparing to abandon Danzig, admitted that the last German defenders were clinging only to the area of the old fortress and said that the great port's harbor installations had been "completely destroyed."

On the river's north bank, Berlin said that the northern wing of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army had lunged 17 to 25 miles west of the Hron river and had attempted to cross the Nitra river at points 47 to 52 miles east of Bratislava in a powerful offensive as yet unconfirmed by Moscow.

Vienna in Uproar

Radio Luxembourg, quoting Swedish dispatches, said a state of emergency had been declared in Vienna as an avalanche of Russian tanks, mobile guns and infantry swept toward the city. Vienna, the greater Reich's second city with a population of 1,930,000, is a big industrial center.

The Neusiedler see already was outflanked on the south by Toldukhin's swift sweep through Koszeg and Szombathely, and Vienna's key outpost of Sopron at the southwestern edge of the lake was outflanked and cut off from the south.

At Koszeg, Tolbukhin's advancing armored columns were 20 miles south of Sopron and by winning Kapuvar they swept within 20 miles east of the key rail junction which was the refugee Hungarian government seat of the Nazi-sponsored regime of Ferenc Szalazar when the premier fled fallen Budapest.

Waves of Russian tanks, hurdling hastily-erected enemy defenses in pursuit of the retreating Germans, who nowhere showed signs of making a stand, were within 32 miles southeast of the great aircraft manufacturing city of Wierner Neustadt, south of the Austrian capital. Wiener Neustadt has been a frequent target

Perkins Wage Plan Rejected

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins announced tonight after a series of conferences with John L. Lewis and the bituminous coal operators that the latter had rejected her last-minute proposal for a new contract.

Lewis and the United Mine Workers had agreed to Miss Perkin's proposal which dropped Lewis' 10-cent a ton royalty demand, his major bargaining point.

To Send Case To WLB

Miss Perkins said the case would be certified tonight directly to the War Labor board, the initial step toward possible government seizure, such as followed the collapse of negotiations in 1943.

The secretary said the operators, after rejecting her proposed new contract to replace the one expiring Saturday at midnight, had also refused to agree on a plan for extending the current agreement for 30 days.

Miss Perkins revealed that she had suggested an extension with provision for retroactive payment of any wage adjustments later written into a contract. This same proposal had been made earlier in the week by Solid Fuels Administrator Ickes.

The operators declined to submit this retroactive feature to arbitration either by private or governmental umpires.

Vacation Allowance

Miss Perkins explained her proposal contained a $75 allowance for vacation pay as compared to Lewis' request for $100. At present the miners receive $50 in lieu of actual time off.

The labor secretary proposed that the second and third shift differentials be set at four and eight cents as former Economic Stabilizer Fred M. Vinson has suggested. Lewis had asked for 10 and 15-cent differentials. The operators had suggested four and six cents.

On Lewis' demand to blanket in the union all foreman except one at each mine, Miss Perkins proposed that the demand be rewritten in conformity with the recent National Labor Relations board decision in the Packard Motor company case.

It recognized foremen as comprising a proper unit for collective bargaining, a new stand for the agency to take.

Part Of OPA Price Scale On Beef Struck Down By Court

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—A part of the OPA price ceiling on the beef industry was ruled invalid today by the emergency court of appeals.

The court declared that slaughterers who produced only fresh beef can't break even under their wholesale ceiling, and therefore the regulations should be set aside.

The wholesale price ceilings for "processing packers" were upheld, however. These are firms which produce not only fresh beef, but by-products such as tallow, oil, sausage, etc. OPA estimated that these companies handle 85 per cent of the nation's beef.

Should Be Set Aside

In the case of the non-processors the court held the present regulation should be set aside.

It added that existing ceilings, plus subsidies, as they apply to these slaughterers as a group "do not afford adequate margin for profitable operation; indeed, do not permit this group to break even."

In ruling in favor of established ceilings for processing slaughterers, the court said they are "generally fair and equitable."

An OPA spokesman estimated processor firms handle 85 per cent of the national beef production.

By-Products Stressed

Processing packers handle meat by-products as well as fresh beef. The importance of the by-products was stressed by the court which said that, by weight, the average beef cattle is less than two-thirds fresh meat carcass.

With the remainder, it said, processing packers mix other meats and make sausages, tallow, oils, pharmaceuticals, etc.

The court which ruled on the case is a special one created by the stabilization act. It has the sole duty of passing on appeals from OPA regulations.

Members include Chief Judge Albert B. Maris of Landsdowne, Pa.; Calvert Magruder of Cambridge, Mass.; Walter C. Lindley of Danville, Ill., and Bolitha J. Laws of Chevy Chase, Md.

Both processor and non-processor slaughterers have testified in recent hearings before congressional committees that OPA ceilings have put them in a price "squeeze" and made it impossible to operate profitably.

Two of the cases decided today dealt with protests of processor packers that they suffered losses on sales to the armed forces, and on these the court upheld the packers. It ordered OPA to make adjustments to meet out-of-pocket costs of the packers for specific products sold to the government.

One case was an additional suit

Reds Say Allies May Reach Berlin First

MOSCOW, March 29. (AP) — The Russians don't discount the possibility that Anglo-American forces will reach Berlin first.

The arrival of Russia's fourth wartime spring has brought a certain tenseness to Moscow's atmosphere. Everyone knows the Red Army's offensive against Berlin and the heart of Germany is about to begin.

There is much speculation when Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army, poised on the Oder river 32 miles from the Reich capital, is going to move on the city. But most people say it should be within the next two weeks. If you say three weeks, you can receive all kinds of odds.

Even so, some say the Allies may get there before them. They tell you that the Allies have so relatively few divisions facing them it should be a cinch if the Americans and British put out as much effort as the Red Army does.

Special Pre-Easter Services Set By Churches Here Today

SPECIAL Good Friday programs of the Lubbock churches began Thursday night with the annual pre-Easter communion of the First Presbyterian church, and will continue through today with impressive services being conducted by most denominations.

Five churches, the First Methodist, Asbury Methodist, St. John's Methodist, First Presbyterian and First Christian, will cooperate in a service today at the First Methodist church commemorating the three hours Jesus spent on the cross.

The program, beginning at noon and continuing until 3 o'clock, will feature solos by Lt. Richard Chamberlain and speakers from the participating churches.

Speakers on the seven words will be "Father, forgive them," Rev. A. H. Carleton; "Today thou shalt be with me in Paradise," Dr. J. M. Lewis; "Woman behold thy son; son behold thy mother," Dr. C. A. Bickley; "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Rev. H. G. Gantz; "I thirst," Rev. A. W. Hall; "It is finished," Rev. L. N. Lipscomb; "Father, into thy hands, I commend my spirit," Bishop Chas. C. Selecman.

Mrs. Mamie I. Neal will preside at the organ.

The Mass of the Presanctified is to be celebrated at 8 o'clock this morning by the congregation of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church, Main and Ave. W.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Way of the Cross will be held and special prayers in remembrance of the agony of Christ on the Cross will be said. The sermon, entitled "If I be Lifted Up," will be delivered by Father Blakeslee, the pastor. Rev. Lawler will speak on "Into Thy Hands," at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Confessions will be heard after all the services.

The Woman's council of the First Christian church is spon-

Secret Big Three Agreement Upsets World Parley Plans

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29. — As the result of a secret agreement by the Big Three at Yalta, Russia and the United States will ask for three votes each in the United Nations assembly to be proposed at the San Francisco security conference next month.

The White House made this bombshell announcement today. It immediately threatened a split in the American delegation to the conference. It seemed likely also to become a focal point of small nation opposition to big power domination of the international organization.

Split Possible

The possibility of a split appeared in a statement by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), a member of the delegation, who said:

"I would deeply disagree with any voting proposal, if made, which would destroy the 'sovereign equality of nations' in the peace league's assembly, as previously proposed at Dumbarton Oaks."

The initial proposal for more than one seat in the assembly came from Premier Stalin at Yalta, the White House announcement disclosed. President Roosevelt agreed to support the plan, provided the United States also should have three assembly seats and Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill assented to this.

Britain Holds Six

No reason for this Russian move was given. Diplomatic officials speculated that it probably was prompted by a desire of Moscow to have a representation approaching that of the British empire. The empire would have six seats for the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, India, New Zealand and South Africa.

The controversial development was the second of Russian origin to explode on the pre-conference scene today. The first was a Moscow announcement that the Soviet delegation would be headed by the ambassador to Washington, Andrei A. Gromyko.

All the other powers announced that their delegations would be headed by their foreign secretaries — among Secretary Stettinius for the United States and Secretary Eden for Britain.

Interest May Be Lagging

The appointment of Gromyko instead of Foreign Commissar Molotov was, like the multiple-vote proposition, unexplained. One suggestion much discussed here was that the appointment of a man of ambassadorial rank showed a declining Soviet interest in the conference.

This came up when Gromyko talked briefly with reporters fol-

Thirty-Eight Injured In Odessa Theater

ODESSA, March 29 (AP)—Thirty-eight persons were injured, none seriously, when acoustic plaster of an Odessa theater collapsed last night.

The Odessa American said the ceiling collapse caused a panic as many persons scrambled for safety, but a number of children stayed in their seats. About 20 children were carried out by firemen and police. Twelve persons ran toward the screen and were rescued by firemen who chopped down emergency doors.

One of the spectators gave an account of the collapse to a reporter for the American.

"It sounded like an earthquake," he said. "The din was terrific and the air thick with dust of falling material. Many women screamed and children cried. Personal belongings and purses were lost in the panic."

Chief of Police Carl Taylor said he was making an investigation.

Letup On Army Pressure Seen

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Assignment of Maj. Gen. Lucius D. Clay as civil affairs administrator in occupied Germany led tonight to predictions of less military intervention in affairs of the American home front.

Clay was deputy director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion under James F. Byrnes, in charge of production programs. He has been criticized by members of Byrnes' civilian advisory committee for allegedly permitting the Army to shape much of OWMR's policy.

Possible Successor

One possible choice as his successor, mentioned in civilian war agency circles, was Colonel Bryan Houston, former rationing director of OPA. At OPA, Houston was known for "liberal" ration policies and for an oft-repeated expression: "Let's give the civilians a break."

However, a spokesman for OWMR discouraged speculation on Houston, declaring that Byrnes had not yet made a decision.

Most war agency sources acknowledged the hope that a civilian would get the assignment. Houston, a Texan, is in uniform. He was with the Army Service forces under General Brehon Somervell before and after his OPA tour of duty, and handled procurement and surplus disposal matters. He now is in Army public relations, in charge of ASF matters.

To Leave Shortly

Fred Searls, jr., former WPB official and now General Clay's deputy in OWMR, has been suggested as another possible choice. Clay will leave the country "within a few days," President Roosevelt announced, as deputy to Gen-

Legislature Near Crossroads As Governor Warns On Budget Deficit

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 29.—The 49th legislature, about three months of its general session behind it, neared a cross roads today.

What some members and Governor Coke R. Stevenson were working for were signs indicating whether the state would take the route of the balanced budget or switch back to deficit financing.

Here was the situation in brief:

The Governor warned the present rate of appropriating may put the general fund back in the red. He noted that potential appropriations were $20,000,000 annually above those for the present biennium and no new tax bills have emerged from committee.

To Survey Situation

The House Revenue and Taxation committee assigned a subcommittee to the task of determining how much money the state has and how much more it might need. What the committee wanted was a clear picture of present and potential revenue as compared with proposed appropriations. The subcommittee is to report next week.

The reason for concern was that although revenues from present taxes are heavy because of war-stimulated conditions the war will end eventually, perhaps at a time when the drop in revenue would completely unbalance the state's finances.

Only last year did the general fund, catch-all for most state expenses, come out of a deficit situation which gripped it for years. At one time it was $33,000,000 in the red.

The legislature is now operating under a constitutional provision which prohibits appropriations in excess of revenue and anticipated revenue, unless the appropriations receive a four-fifths vote. It has yet to consider its major appropriations measures, all of which as processed in committee are larger than current appropriations.

Deficit Is Feared

Answering questions at a press conference, the governor said it now appears that the legislature is going to have either to vote out new taxes raising additional revenue or "be back on deficit before adjournment."

Many tax measures are before the revenue and taxation committee which is withholding action on all of them until it can determine how much new revenue might be needed.

This determination will have important bearing on the length of the session which the constitution suggests should be 120 days. The first sine die adjournment resolution of the session—seeking to end the session on May 1—made its appearance in the House today and was killed by a tabling motion adopted by a vote of 112 to 5. The general session began Jan. 9.

There has been informal discussion of proposals that the legislature vote out its appropriations and then recess until a specified date later in the year when it can resurvey the financial situation as regards the need for new taxes.

This would be an alternative to a special session.

The one tax-raising measure which has finally passed the legislature is a bill requiring the automatic tax board to set the state's school property tax rate at the constitutional maximum of 35 cents per $100 valuation. Stevenson, who has not yet signed the bill, said he would not veto it. The tax is now 18 cents. All revenue from this tax goes to the available school fund. The general fund does not share in it.

The Senate was reminded by Sen. R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro to "go slow in hitting the general fund too often."

Lanning's Warning

Said Lanning:

"We have already appropriated or allocated $49,000,000 for old age assistance, $28,000,000 for rural aid, and $225,000 for a school for delinquent negro girls in addition to other appropriation bills."

The Senate finally passed to the House a bill appropriating approximately $647,000 for a new division in the state department of education for training of exceptional children after Lanning attached an amendment stipulating $275,000 of this amount should come from the available school fund instead of the general fund.

A motion to adjourn until Monday, made during consideration of the bill, brought some comment on Senate working methods.

The adjournment motion (later accepted after the bill was passed) would have cut off debate on the measure and its author, Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville declared:

Should Apologize

"If we can just work about three days a week then we ought to apologize for passing that bill yesterday," (a constitutional amendment which would pay members an annual salary of $3,650).

The House also adjourned until Monday after wrangling at length and passing with one amendment a Senate bill authorizing the University of Texas board of regents to levy a student fee for support of the student union, social and recreational center. This bill had been before the House on another occasion when debate was prolonged.

BRITISH RATION CITED

WASHINGTON, March 29, (AP)—The food situation, currently one of Washington's biggest headaches, came up at Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's news conference today and she made this comment: "If we would just eat the British ration for one month all over this country we would be much more satisfied with what we have."

Soil Conservation Origin Here Cited

H. E. Mather, work unit leader for the Soil Conservation service in Lubbock county, told members of the Kiwanis club at their luncheon Thursday in Lubbock hotel that the national drouth period of 1934, 1935 and 1936 created a demand for soil conservation.

The Lubbock county Soil Conservation district was organized for one primary purpose, he said, and that purpose was to assist individual landowners and groups of farmers in taking care of their land—to keep it from blowing away—washing away—to maintain its fertility. "Lubbock county farmers are extremely interested in taking care of their soil as is evidenced by the fact that I have in my files applications from 88 farmers which the supervisors have approved for assistance," he said. "But because of the demand for assistance we have not been able to get to them."

He told of the organization of the Lubbock county Soil Conservation district almost five years ago and what it had accomplished since that time. In closing he said "your district is democracy at its best—organized by vote of the landowners, supervisors elected by vote, and cooperation entirely voluntary. If you make full use of your district, your farms will continue to be productive for all posterity."

Also on the program was a "pig de-worming" demonstration by Billy Joe Evans and Grover Gillett of the Shallowater 4-H club. They were introduced by Manuel W. Ayers, assistant county agent. T. B. Zellner was program chairman.

Guests included C. C. Allen of Dallas, Belue King of Graham and C. C. Roebuck of San Antonio. President W. C. Wood presided.

Soviet Planes Help Push On Large Scale

MOSCOW, March 29 (AP)—The Red airforce is helping the Great Russian drive to the west on a scale it seldom, if ever, has equalled in this war.

From the Baltic sea to the Drava river, Soviet planes have intervened continually in the push, raining attacks on targets ranging from frontline batteries to evacuation ships.

They have been aided with good flying weather over most of the vast front, and by lack of opposition from a German Luftwaffe crippled by its shortage of reserves.

Freedom From Prison Farm Is Short-Lived

HOUSTON, March 29 (U.P.)—Convict Tom Green's freedom from Wynne prison farm was short-lived. All too short, he said.

Ten hours after he escaped from the farm, the 32-year-old Green walked into the handcuffs of city detectives on a Houston street last night.

Plainview Officer Flies Sixty-Three Combat Missions; Has DFC, Air Medal

WITH A 12TH AAF B-25 GROUP In The Mediterranean Theater—Sixty-three combat missions is the score made by 1st Lt. Theodore Kirk of Plainview, Tex., at a B-25 Mitchell bomber base in the Mediterranean theater where he is flying as a pilot, it has been announced by the 12th Air Force.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Kirk of 305 Ash St., Plainview, Lieutenant Kirk has been flying with a veteran B-25 Mitchell bomber group that has made an outstanding record in support of the Allied armies throughout the Mediterranean theater. He has been a factor in the B-25 group's successful blasting of the enemy in Italy and France.

KIRK

He has flown with the group on many of its outstanding missions, among them the attack on a transformer station at Ala, Italy. Typical of the Mitchell group's continuous attacks against enemy communications links, this vital target was picked to be destroyed, because through this point passed much of the enemy's communications to his front line troops in northern Italy.

Despite the intense barrage of anti-aircraft fire encountered, the B-25s succeeded in getting through to the target where they dropped their bombs and almost completely destroyed it. It was another of the unit's 100 per cent bombing accuracy missions, which later became known as "pickle-barrel-bombing."

He flew with the group recently when it attacked the railroad bridge at Galliate, Italy. The Germans defended the bridge desperly, putting up a tremendous barrage of anti-aircraft fire, but Lieutenant Kirk brought his bombers on to the target. Despite the heavy damage to his plane from the intense fire, he gave his bombardier a perfect run over the bridge where the bombs were dropped devastatingly upon it.

The bridge was completely smashed with at least three spans knocked down, depriving the enemy of another vital link in his communications system. Breaking away from the target, the anti-aircraft fire continued to harass the formation. After the most violent evasive maneuvers, Lt. Kirk succeeded in avoiding any further damage to his bomber.

For extraordinary achievement in aerial flight, he received the Distinguished Flying Cross for leading this mission. "The continued exhibition of exemplary courage, proficiency in flying and constant devotion to duty," the citation reads, "reflects the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Lt. Kirk had been awarded the Air Medal previously for meritorious achievement in aerial flight when a formation of his unit's B-25s attacked a road bridge at Todi, Italy. He has since been awarded seven oak leaf clusters to his Air Medal.

B-25s of the Mitchell group were the first medium bombers to attack targets in the Balkans. They have given support to every major amphibious operation since the Tunisian campaign, and were an important factor in blasting the Germans from southern France before the Allied landings there. It was for their first mission over the Balkans that the B-25 group received a Distinguished Unit Citation.

The Mitchell group set an Air Force record for bombing accuracy recently when for three months an average of better than nine of every ten bombs dropped were in the target area. The majority of the targets that made this record were rail and road bridges, and it was from this that the B-25s received the name of "Bridge-busters."

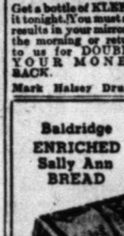

The Plainview pilot entered the Air Forces Aug. 8, 1941, at Lubbock, Tex., and in October, 1942, received his aviation cadet appointment. After training at Sacramento, Calif., and Yuma, Ariz., he received his wings and commission Aug. 30, 1943, at Yuma. He has been overseas since April, 1944.

The 22-year-old pilot was a graduate of Plainview High school, and attended Eastern New Mexico College at Clovis, N. M., before his entry into the service. He was a member of the tennis team there, and was a member of the Elks Club in Plainview.

GI Loses Tooth In Action, MP Frisked By German Prisoner

By ROBERT WILSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ON THE WESTERN FRONT.—The latest humor harvest along the Western front turns up a GI who lost a tooth to enemy action—but didn't get the purple heart—an MP whose pocket was picked by a Nazi prisoner, and a tanker who put all his eggs in one basket.

Mrs. Ida Mae Kelly's son, who left home at Holt, Mich., to become a private first class in the 10th Armored division, is out in front of the 1945 hardluck GI derby. German shrapnel knocked out one of his teeth. The medics informed him he was ineligible for a Purple Heart because the tooth was false.

What happens to policemen in old jokes actually happened to Sgt. William Fox, Ridgewood, L. I., who was frisking a group of captured Germans. Brother MP's called him into the office and handed him his wallet, right out of the pocket of a slippery fingered Nazi in the prisoner cage.

Sgt. William Shake, West Terre Haute, Ind., was getting breakfast when the call came to arms. He put a dozen eggs in a basket, put the basket on the back of his tank, rumbled 25 miles across Germany and fired 60 rounds at fleeing German tanks. Then he stopped to resume getting breakfast. Not an egg was broken.

Two treasure hunting Pfc's of the Eighth division spotted a heavy iron safe in a pile of rubble. Licking their lips in anticipation, Mario Chiriaco (Detroit, Mich.) and Pfc. Kaden (no first name given), Elizabeth, N. J., attacked it for an hour with hammers, axes and crowbars.

They Find K Rations

Inside the safe they found 12 neatly stacked packages of K rations.

The 30th Infantry division boys thought they had nabbed a Nazi general, he was decked out in such highly polished gold and glittering braid. But grilling by Capt. Roy Avis, Council Bluffs, Iowa, unmasked him simply as a railroad station train caller overrun in a German retreat.

It may not be funny to Paris bartenders, but Brussels soon is to become the largest rest center in the European theater with the formation of the Belgian leave section commanded by Lt. Col. Frederick Kraschel, Harlen, Iowa.

One of the attractions is a mammoth dancehall where a bar, commanded by Lt. Victor Spence, Detroit, Mich., dispenses beer, soft drinks and ice cream — with chocolate sauce.

Richmond Escapee Is Held At Vernon

VERNON, March 29. (AP)—M. G. Turner, who escaped Saturday from the Harlem State Prison farm, was being held in a Vernon jail today awaiting arrival of officers to return him to the prison farm near Richmond.

Turner had been serving a five-year sentence for burglary and theft in Collin county.

Schools Observing Easter Holidays

Students of both Texas Tech and Lubbock Public schools were dismissed Thursday afternoon for Easter holidays. Tech holidays will continue until 8 a. m. Wednesday morning and classes will be resumed Tuesday morning at the public schools.

A number of high school teachers have indicated they will go home for the holidays or visit friends in other towns. Miss Neville Wrenn will go to her home at Memphis; Mrs. Byron Chappell will visit her parents at Fort Worth; Miss Audie Johnson plans a trip to Canyon.

Mrs. Dick Cozby and her sister, Miss Ilva Lea McKay, a teacher at Frenship, will spend the holidays at Lamesa visiting their mother and sister. Mrs. Frank Crow and Mrs. Ben McGregor will visit a college roommate of Mrs. Crow's in Dallas. Miss Kathleen Mahaffey will visit at Norman, Okla.

Member Of "Hitler Youth" A Little Old

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY, March 29. (AP)—A German soldier captured in the Frankfurt suburbs today told his captors he was 52 years old.

"What is a man your age doing in the army" asked Lt. Col. Ernest Mitchell of Arlington, Mass.

With a weary grimace the prisoner replied, "I'm a member of the Hitler Youth."

Many Are Captured By Seventh Army

U. S. SEVENTH ARMY, Germany, March 29. (AP)—The Seventh Army is estimated to have captured 175,000 prisoners since it landed last summer on the Riviera in southern France.

Some 1,400 were captured east of the Rhine yesterday as the Seventh army threw an arc around Mannheim and won its northern suburbs. Another 700 stragglers were caged west of the Rhine.

The 45th (Thunderbird) division — the Texas and Oklahoma National Guard — was fighting through the Diebugermarks woods after pushing through Grosklein and Zimmern and apparently throwing a left hook through a valley between heavily forested hills in a drive to the Main river, which other Seventh Army troops crossed.

CRAFT IS PROMOTED

HOUSTON, March 29. (AP) — E. A. WAR ON CANCER

MRS LUCY MILLIGAN of New York, active federated study club and parent-teacher association worker, is National Commander of the Women's Field Army of The American Cancer society which is waging a war on the disease that has been termed the "no. 1 killer of women between 35 and 55." The society was founded and run by outstanding doctors in cancer practice and research. The field army operates all year around in every state except two—Wyoming and Massachusetts. They call on neighbors with informative literature, make speeches and do anything else they can to wage war but next month they are going in high gear in a 5,000,000 dollar drive for funds for an even more extensive battle.

Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, heads the men's army of the society.

Mrs. Milligan has an office in the Empire State Building office in midtown Manhattan. Statistics she has gleaned from American Cancer Society figures show that while 121,363 died on the fighting fronts from Dec. 7, 1941 to Dec. 7, 1944, cancer killed 495,000 here at home. Cancer kills sixty per cent more people than die from all infectious and contagious diseases combined—in fact it kills an average of 18 people every hour, according to the commander.

When you consider how deadly this disease and how little informed the public is about it you realize how necessary is an educational campaign. There is a great need for research but this cannot be carried on without funds.

TENSE PEOPLE

TENSE people are like taut wires. Have you ever noticed what happens to a wife that is pulled, too tight? It snaps. The slack in a wire gives it strength to endure. Relaxation helps provide the necessary "slack" in the overly tense person.

Someone asked Mrs. Bob Hope how her fair-haired, comedian was able to meet the tremendous demands made on him by his ever loving public. She answered it is because he knows the secret of relaxation. He can catnap anytime he is allowed to sit down for a few minutes. In that short time of complete relaxation his body restores the energy he has consumed during the day.

President Roosevelt is said to relax at intervals throughout the day. Capnapping was given as the cause of the late William Jennings Bryan's almost superhuman capacity for going from dawn to dark.

WE'VE a notion if we ordinary folk followed their examples we wouldn't snap at clerks and they wouldn't snap back. Now mind you we are not advocating that peoole go to sleep on their jobs. But there is more to the art of relaxation than going to sleep. Here are a few hints:

Wriggle, twist your body. Raise and lower your shoulders. Pause in your work. Bat the eyelids several times.

Take two or three deep breaths occasionally.

Close your eyes, cupping them with your hands and think of dark, plush velvet.

Indulge in some active recreation, graded to your age and physical condition.

"WHY don't you ever print any more recipes in your column?" A friend asked the other day. We're glad she brought that question up because it gives us a chance to say something that has been on our mind for weeks. It's about the food page that appears in The Morning Avalanche and The Evening Journal each Friday. Perhaps you noticed the page and thought it was "canned." Well, it isn't. Some of the best hours of our early week are devoted to that page in an attempt to present dishes that will appeal to the average family, made of ingredients that still may be found in most Lubbock grocery stores.

We have asked that our readers collaborate with us in making the page readable and practical. Hundreds of women must have favorite recipes they are willing to share with others in the town and area. It's not an easy matter to please family members day in and day out and the problem of "what on earth will we have for lunch or dinner today?" is raising its ugly head frequently, we've been informed by those in the know. Most women are glad to have suggestions for something different.

Anyway, we have decided against publishing recipes in our column, particularly since the men readers rebelled so, although we imagine they weren't adverse to eating a concoction made from those recipes. In the future, recipes will appear on the food page and if you want to help with it we'll be only to glad to have your suggestions. The page is prepared early in the week.

LAST Friday's food page carried a recipe for hot cross buns and here is a recipe to make the decorative frosting that is put on in the form of a cross. It's from Miss Mayme Twyford's files and is the exception that proves the rule concerning no more recipes in the Woman's Angle: Three egg whites, 1 tablespoon lemon juice or one-fourth teaspoon cream of tartar, one and one-half cups powdered sugar.

Place egg whites in a large bowl, add two tablespoons sugar and beat three minutes. Repeat until all sugar is used, adding gradually as the mixture thickens. Garnish buns.

Move Planned To Cut Use Of Motor Fuel

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Local ration boards were ordered today to screen lists of "B" and "C" gasoline ration book holders in a move to cut consumption of motor fuel.

The Office of Price Administration said it had set up a new "semi-preferred" rationing classification to help cut the number of "C" books. It will be applied to drivers whose needs are more than allowed "B" motorists but not quite high enough for the unlimited "C" cards. The new classification will allow rations for 825 miles a month.

The net result of the new regulation, OPA said, will be to cut the number of "C" cards, although in some instances it may push a motorist from "B" category up to the semi-preferred class.

The new program becomes effective May 1.

Penicillin For Trench Mouth Is Successful

SAN DIEGO, March 22 (U.P.)—A new pencillin treatment for trench mouth which removes the causative organisms within 24 hours, was disclosed today by two dental corps officers at San Diego Naval training center.

In a thesis prepared for publication in a medical journal, Cmdr. C. W. Schantz, of Madison, Wis., and Lt. C. A. Scrivner, of Ottawa, Kan., cited case histories of 200 service patients treated for trench mouth with penicillin.

In all cases, the authors said, micrpscopic examination showed complete absence of causative organisms after four treatments within 24 hours. Patients reported pain relief within an hour after the first treatment.

Capt. Wilson Is Speaker For Club

Ceiling On Newsprint Is Lifted Third Time

WASHINGTON, March 29 (U.P.) The Office of Price administration today authorized an increase of $3 a ton in the manufacturers' ceiling price for newsprint, effective immediately. It was the third ceiling price increase for newsprint since the commodity came under price control in March, 1942.

All newsprint sold in this country will be covered by the new ceiling, OPA said. The increase will raise to $61 a ton the ceiling price for standard newsprint delivered to 38 "port cities."

There are separate ceilings for deliveries in 10 specified zones of the country, each of which is increased $3.00 per ton.

The ceiling price for the base zone—No. 4 — becomes $62.00 a ton.

OPA estimated that its action today would cost American newspaper publishers about $10,000,000 a year. OPA pointed out that prices of newspapers are exempt from price control.

The higher newsprint price, OPA explained, was necessitated by increased production costs for pulpwood.

About 25 per cent of the newsprint used in this country is produced in the United States, the remainder coming from Canada and Newfoundland.

Sheriff Grady Harrist and Capt. Maney Gault of the Rangers broke up a "well-fed" gambling game Thursday afternoon at an auto camp on Ave. H, nabbing nine poker players. The men, all white, pleaded guilty to gambling charges and were given fines of $1 and costs each, or $13.15.

The office of Sheriff Ed Hofacket at Levelland reported to Lubbock officers Thursday the theft there Wednesday night of a gray, 1941 coupe with 1942 Texas license 366-343.

Police said several Lubbock merchants placed orders Thursday with a man and woman who represented themselves as agents for a firm with a wide line of nylon goods, including hose. The pair collected a "deposit" with each order. They carried no samples, it was reported, but displayed an attractive picture layout of articles purported available. They drove an automobile with a Washington State license, officers were told.

House Organizes Full Probe Into Growing Food Shortages In U. S.

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29. — House investigators organized today to learn just how much rationed America can afford to feed hungry people abroad.

A special committee headed by Rep. Anderson (D-NM) will cover the whole field of food, he said, to learn the causes of shortages "so that corrective action may be taken promptly."

It took up its job at a time when the OPA, saying supplies are short, added canned peas and asparagus to the list of foods which will cost more ration points beginning Sunday.

Review Whole Program

"The committee will review the food procurement and stockpiling policies of war agencies," said Anderson. "It will inquire into any possible foreign belief feeding commitments and examine policies that may govern the shipment of food abroad."

With this background, his statement added, "the committee will then turn its attention to specific groups of commodities such as meats, dairy products, fats and oils, sugar and canned fruits and vegetables."

Peas and asparagus were hiked ten blue points per No. 2 can, to 30 for peas and 20 for asparagus.

On the brighter side, OPA reduced point values for tomato juice from 20 to 10 points per No. 2 can. Other cuts were on sweet cherries, from 40 to 20 points per No. 2½ can, and plums and prunes, from 20 to 10 points per No. 2½ can.

Pork And Fats

OPA had already announced boosts on pork and pork products, lard, shortening, margarine and salad and cooking oils.

International commitments, of which Rep. Anderson spoke were the topic of a White House conference between President Roosevelt and two British cabinet ministers, J. J. Llewellin of food and Oliver Lyttleton of production. The British ambassador, the Earl of Halifax, sat in.

They came here at the President's suggestion as part of Roosevelt-Churchill efforts to find "means of dealing with the food shortages in liberated areas," as the White House put it.

Called Urgent Matter

Lyttleton said afterward that "the electric victories of the armies are going to make it a very urgent matter" to appraise supply conditions fully.

A reporter asked whether Allied food supplies are going to stretch far enough to care for liberated countries. Lyttleton replied that the armed forces and belligerent populations supporting them must be looked after first.

Asked whether there was any truth in a story from England that the British supply of meats and fats is more ample than the American nation, Llewellin replied:

"As minister of food, I wish it were."

As for the possibility of getting more food from Canada for liberated areas, Llewellin said the Dominion already has made available immense supplies. And he said that much more wheat will go over when shipping can be found.

Sharp cuts in American shipments of food to Great Britain have been decreed for the next three months.

Secretary of War Stimson told his news conference that the Army is now feeding more prisoners of war, Allied personnel and rescued Axis prisoners than ever anticipated. This demand, he said, had driven down Army food stocks to such a point that a breakdown in supply lines could be dangerous.

Extension Of Controls

The Senate Banking committee today approved extension of price controls another year past June 30, leaving it up to OPA to work out adjustments in policies to which some business groups have objected.

These policies include the handling of price ceilings on live cattle and wholesale meat. Packers have testified before the Senate Agriculture committee that they are being driven bankrupt or into government control as things now stand.

Jones, a veteran of much fighting, was enjoying a 48-hour pass to Paris recently when he told this story at Red Cross rainbow corner:

"I was strolling throught a little town we had just captured when I saw a 'potato masher' flying through the air at me. I took cover only to find it was a dummy grenade which a little tot of three was throwing to his buddy, aged about two. You can imagine how embarrassed I felt. I very nearly spanked the little imp."

Jones is with a medical battalion of the 2th armored division. He is a surgical technician. He went to school at Texas Tech.

Governor Signs Five Measures

AUSTIN, March 29. (AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today signed five bills and two resolutions including one increasing old age assistance $300,000 monthly.

Signed by the governor were the following:

Authorizing the board of control to sell two tracts of land adjacent to the state hospital at Wichita Falls.

Regulating the transportation of minnows in Jack, Young, Stephens and Palo Pinto counties.

Making an appropriation for old age assistance for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Making an appropriation out of the state highway fund for the operation of the highway patrol.

Making an appropriation of $17,719.10 to pay balance due on cost of publication of constitutional amendments.

House concurrent resolution in furtherance of the good neighbor policy.

"At Least One Year Before Combat"

Public Wants 18-Year Olds Given Lengthier Training

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 29—Although the House of Representatives has already voted to extend the military draft act for another year, the majority of Americans would like to see one amendment inserted before the bill goes through the Senate.

At the request of the Army, the measure carries no restriction against sending 18-year-olds and other young men into combat within a few months after their induction. Senator Taft and others have argued that 18-year-olds in the armed forces should be trained at least one year in this country before going into active duty overseas.

GALLUP

A survey just completed by the Institute finds that a majority of civilians throughout the country are inclined to favor this provision, largely on the ground that many men of that age lack the maturity, emotional adjustment and experience needed to cope with the strain of front-line combat. "Lots of those fellows," says one typical voter in the survey, "are just overgrown boys—babies, really."

The concensus of the nation is shown in the following survey, conducted from coast to coast by the same methods as used by the Institute in forecasting the last presidential election with an error of only 1.8 per cent on the civilian vote.

"Do you think young men 18 years of age in the armed forces should be trained for one year in this country before being sent overseas to fight, or is it all right to send them sooner if the Army thinks they have had enough training?"

The vote of civilians is:

One Year	68%
Sooner	26
No Opinion	6

Women are in general more reluctant than men to allow 18-year-olds to join combat with less than a year's training. The vote by sexes follows:

	Men	Women
One Year	62%	73%
Sooner	31	22
No Opinion	7	5

In testimony before the House Military Affairs committee last week, a spokesman for the Army, Maj. Gen. Idwal Edwards, said that men are not sent into combat until they are qualified to carry out their missions.

He added that the present training program made it possible for an inductee to reach a fighting front within five months — and perhaps become a casualty in five months and about nine days.

The average training period, however, is approximately six months for a man going to the European front, and about seven months for those going to Pacific fronts, said the general. He argued that the army had never intended to give each man a full year of training in this country, and said any such assumption was a "misconception."

The vote in today's survey suggests the need for an army program of public education, to give the parents and relatives of young draftees a better understanding of the army's training policy and the reasons for it.

At present, people who have a son in the armed forces are slightly more inclined to favor the long training period than are others, the survey finds. Even among this group about one in five of these parents is ready to accept the idea of a shorter period if the army feels the training has been sufficient.

British Determined To Impose Tough Peace Terms On Germans

By VIRGIL PINKLEY
United Press War Writer

LONDON, March 29.—Britain is determined to impose a tough, realistic peace on Germany.

From a survey this writer has made in the past fortnight during talks with many top-ranking British diplomatic and government officials, the military and business leaders, it can be shown that the lessons learned in this second World war, now rushing to its finish, are not forgotten.

They are very much alive in the damage and misery inflicted on Britain's own cities and villages as well as the battles of the sea, air and land.

Soft-Hearted America

But these leaders are fearful lest the Americans permit sympathy of the sporting instincts to get the upper hand or allow the Germans to continue their propaganda.

One cabinet minister told this writer that "here in Britain, which is still being bombarded by the terror V-weapons, we must be on the alert to prevent any over-soft, unrealistic attitude from gaining momentum because such an attitude might easily end Britain as a nation or a people."

He went on to explain that if the German industry's chemical production is permitted in the future it might be entirely possible through new secret weapons and a greater application of science to wipe out Britain overnight, especially London and southern England, from long range continental bases.

High Priority Plans

During the past 18 months or two years such plans have been given the highest priority by Hitler and the German high command and the industrial and scientific leaders of Germany.

Much of what the Germans planned and prepared to destroy Britain with still has not been made public.

Simultaneously, evidence continues to mount here as well as in the central liberated countries that extensive, well organized propaganda campaigns have been completely to elicit sympathy for Germany. This organization has already gone underground. The evidence seems to agree that America, Britain and South America will be the chief targets for such efforts.

Germans Count On U. S.

German leaders are said to count heavily on sympathy from America and within three to five years similar reaction from Britain.

One well informed neutral diplomat said that in German propaganda for the future, full use will be made of the Jewish question along with many other varied appeals. Most of this propaganda will attempt to establish the German people as entirely free from any responsibility for war guilt, blameless for any actions carried out by German troops, U-boat crews, or luftwaffe personnel, and entirely opposed to the Gestapo and SS.

British people still know very little about the German crossbow flying bomb, rocket sites or the plans to expand them greatly, or the bases for long range guns.

One heavily camouflaged area near the French coast, a huge thick walled concrete structure almost as large as the British museum, was discovered. This served as the base for many extremely long range guns which soon would have been capable of dumping 25 shells, each weighing almost two tons, into the heart of London every hour.

Only the Allied landings in Normandy, plus the rapid advance through France, foiled the German plans to add this terror weapon to the long list devised especially for British civilians.

One American air force general has said that had the Germans been able to start the crossbow flying bomb attacks three to six months earlier they might have delayed the invasion of western Europe for a full year.

British Grow Tougher

I find the British leaders today tougher about the peace than at any time since the war started. They know how close Germany came to over-running all Europe and attempting an active invasion of their own island homes in the program of world conquest.

The recall the blitzes, flying bombs, and now the rockets which strike down women and children and destroy hospitals, churches, and schools without any military significance.

One British leader told the writer he and many of his parliamentary colleagues favor any and all methods to curb any return to industrial and scientific greatness of Germany.

Would Return To Lust

"Such power can only cause a return to militarism and lust to smash and conquer," he said. "This desire may not express itself openly until sufficient power has been acquired. We may expect an attitude of cooperation by the German people to be fostered for the next few years but most of this will only be a facade to enable secret rearmament and to acquire new ways to wage war if permitted.

"It's largely up to Britain and America because Russia's policy is quite certain."

The common cold exists universally in all parts of the world, among all races and classes of people, in every climate.

News Briefs

Twenty-two registrants from Lubbock County Selective Service board No. 1 were forwarded to Fort Bliss this week for induction, according to Mrs. Viola Younger, chief clerk. They are Joe Bruce King, Sequayah Perry, Raymond Travis Davis, Wendell Edward Burdine, Luther Hall McCrummen, Alva Madison Selman, James Virgil Burnett, jr., Billy Ray Medley, Don Edgar McInturff, Ben Bublett, Paul Vernon Bush, Weldon Travis Hull, John Pershing Shaw, Willie James Sewell, John Thomas Hardy, Miller C. Sharp, jr., Robert Bryant, Theodore James Calhuon and Robert F. Summer.

Dr. T. Earle Hamilton, assistant professor of foreign languages at Texas Tech, will teach a Spanish course for seniors and graduates at Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico for both summer terms, beginning July 19, and Aug. 2 respectively. Influence of the Spanish comedia in Mexico and the critical background of the masterpieces of Juan de Alarcon, Mexican dramatis, will be studied. This course is sponsored by the Texas State college for Women, Denton, and has been conducted in Mexico many years.

Extension Service's Role In Post-War Era Is Explained

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Texas Extension Service Director Ide Trotter, here for conferences at the Agriculture department, declared today the agency he heads will play a big role in stabilizing the farm economy of Texas after the war.

Addressing Texas members of Congress, he said the extension service is preparing plans now to help agriculture adjust itself to difficult new conditions.

The cotton problem is one of the foremost worries, he said adding that the program being fomulated calls for diversion of much acreage now planted to the staple to the growth of grain and fodder for livestock and poultry production.

"The fact that great industrial centers have sprung up throughout Texas and the South makes this especially important," he added. "The farmer will be helping himself meet a big new demand for food in the cities."

Soil conservation programs also are at the top of the Extension Service list of projects for improving the economy of Texas farmers, Trotter said.

"The problem of helping young farm folks in the 15 to 18 year age group readjust themselves is a serious one, and one which we must handle intelligently," he continued.

"Many of these youngsters have gone to the cities to work in war plants. They will find themselves out of a job when the war is over. It will be up to us to help fit them back into agriculture."

Help and guidance for returning war veterans who will settle on farms also is a part of the Extension Service's postwar program, he added.

Seven Cities Receive Approval Of Housing

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) The National Housing agency has announced it has approved construction of housing in seven cities —including Big Spring, Tex.

All the housing will be privately financed.

The agency assigned quotas under the so-called H-2 program which allows construction to relieve congestion and without occupancy restrictions.

Big Sprnig was assigned 25 family dwelling units, 20 with a sale ceiling of $6,500 and five with a rental ceiling of $55.

Underground Cables In Texas Approved

HOUSTON, March 29. (U.P.) — Federal Communications commission approval has been granted for the laying of twin underground long distance telephone cables between Houston and Beaumont, A. L. Edmondson, division commercial superintendent of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., said today.

The cables will cost a gross price of about $1,115,000 and will provide 96 additional pairs of wire between Houston and Beaumont.

Edmondson said many months will be required to manufacture the cables and to complete the cable-laying project.

U. S. Casualties Rise To 872,862

WASHINGTON, March 29. (U.P.) —U. S. combat casualties officially compiled here reached 872,862 today, an increase of 13,275 in a week.

The total included 780,043 Army and 92,819 Navy, Marine corps, and Coast Guard casualties.

The figures:

	Army	Navy	Total
Killed	153,791	35,750	189,541
Wounded	473,669	42,302	515,971
Missing	86,355	10,500	96,855
Prisoners	66,228	4,267	70,495
Totals	780,043	92,819	872,862

Of the Army wounded, 243,506 have returned to duty.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson estimated at his news conference today that more than 300,000 Japanese have been killed, wounded or taken prisoner in the campaign for recapture of the Philippines.

Includes Uncounted Dead

This estimate includes uncounted dead on land, losses at sea on transports, warships and coastal craft, the seriously wounded, and about 2,500 prisoners.

Stimson did not give any overall figures of U. S. casualties in the Philippines. He said, however, that U. S. losses on the island of Panay so far are nine killed and 38 wounded as against 659 Japanese killed and 16 captured.

In the landing on Cebu, the secretary asid, only two Americans were killed and 15 wounded, while 88 of the enemy have been killed and 10 captured.

Candidate Passes Out Grass Skirts To Gals

NOCONA, Tex., March 29. (U.P.)—More grass skirts will be needed before chief pharmacist's mate Ray Fleming finishes his campaign for mayor in the coming city election here April 3.

A new kind of political campaigning for the Lone Star state has developed in this north central Texas town as a result of Fleming passing out grass skirts to the ladies, making a strong bid for their vote.

Home on leave after 18 months in the south Pacific, Fleming entered the mayoralty race and since then has been conducting a whirlwind drive for votes until he ran out of skirts.

An SOS call to the boys he left behind in the Pacific area for more skirts may prove to no avail as the election may be over before they arrive.

MIGHT FIGHT ON

LONDON, March 29. (AP)—Naval authority said today that German submarines and surface craft might fight on as long as six weeks after the land war ends in Europe. Their supplies could last that long, the authority said.

OPA Sets Meetings To Fight Black Markets

HOUSTON, March 29. (U.P.) — Dealer meetings will be held throughout the 40-county Houston OPA district during April as part of a campaign to stamp out gasoline and other types of black markets, District Director Stephen J. Tully, jr., said today.

One phase of the discussions will concern possible OPA decision to discontinue replacement of coupons stolen from or lost by service station operators, Tully indicated. He said the operators will be urged to provide better protection for their ration currency.

AAUP Council To Take Up Texas U. Blacklisting At May Session

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—The American Association of University professors, which in a recent report criticized the University of Texas board of regents for assuming that it called a "proprietary" attitude toward the school, will consider the question of placing the university on its censored list of schools during an executive council meeting May 18 and 19.

Dr. Ralph E. Himstead, general secretary of the AAUP, said the question arose from the regent's dismissal last November of a president of the university. The executive council will meet in Chicago he said.

Published For Members

The censored list, said Dr. Himstead, is published "solely for the purpose of informing our membership, the profession at large and the public, that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail" at the institutions in question.

The fact that a school is on the list discourages recognized members of the teaching profession from seeking to affiliate with its faculty, Himstead said, even though the complaint is directed against the administration and not against instructors and professors individually or collectively.

The AAUP does not recommend to college accrediting agencies that they likewise take steps against a school it has censored, but such action sometimes follows, he added. He said that the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools now has an investigation underway into the Texas university situation.

The membership of the AAUP is composed of 16,910 members of faculties of 650 accredited junior and senior colleges and universities throughout the country. Headquarters of the association is here. The 36-member executive council is headed by Dr. Quincy Wright, professor of international law at the University of Chicago.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

MEXICO CITY, March 29. (AP)—Twelve industrialists who arrived here yesterday from Quebec announced they would begin conference with prominent Mexicans next week to arrange for post-war trade with Mexico.

News Briefs

"The Remnant Church Triumphant" will be theme of Sabbath school to be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Seventh-Day Adventist church, Twentieth and Ave. K, it was announced by Douglas C. Marchus, pastor. Worship hour will be at 11 a. m. when Rev. Marchus will discuss "Who Hath Required This at Your Hand," and the young people's M. V. services will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday. Mid-week prayer services will be conducted at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday when the pastor will discuss "Home of the Saved."

The average person has a very "hazy" idea of the provisions of the Bill of Rights, according to a recent survey made by Dr. H. L. Kent, administrative assistant, at Texas Tech. He suggested that high school and college students be taught the content and meaning of this document and that framed copies of it be hung in school rooms, libraries, club rooms and other public places.

Oklahoma Aggies Win Cage Crown

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — The Oklahoma Aggies, NCAA champions, won the National mythical basketball championship tonight, defeating DePaul of Chicago, the Invitation tournament winners, 52 to 44, in a benefit game at Madison Square Garden that turned more than $50,000 over to the Red Cross.

The battle of giants between the Aggies' seven-foot Bob Kurland and six-foot nine-inch George Mikan of DePaul failed to materialize as Mikan went out of the game on five fouls after 14 minutes of play. Before he left the game their play had been almost even-stephen, with Mikan accounting for nine points and Kurland eight.

New York university, after being ahead 19 points with ten minutes to play, had to go all out to defeat Bowling Green 63 to 61 for third place tonight in the first part of the double header bringing together the runner-ups of the NCAA and National Invitation basketball tournaments for the benefit of the Red Cross.

The New Yorkers, beaten by the Oklahoma Aggies in the NCAA final, took early command and held a 36-22 margin at the half.

POINT-A-MINUTE CAGER —Barbara Self, above, has finished her basketball career with China High school with an average of more than a point-a-minute for three seasons during which she played in 118 games. She scored a total of 4,189 points. (AP Photo).

Schoolboy Cage Rule Change Is Announced

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP) — A new rule, designed to curb the "endless procession" of substitutes in the waning minutes of high school basketball games by the team behind in the score, will go into effect next season, H. V. Porter, secretary of the National Basketball Rules committee, announced today.

He said the rule affecting high school teams only was passed recently in New York at a special meeting after the annual meeting of the rules committee.

"Under the new rule for 1945-46," Porter said in a prepared statement. "It will be illegal for any player to re-enter a game if he is withdrawn during the last four minutes of play. The only exception would be in case of a tie, and for a tie game each overtime period will be treated the same as the last four minutes."

Porter said, of the exception, that a player withdrawn during the last four minutes of regular play, could play in the overtime periods, but once withdrawn in a period could not reenter.

He said the rule was instituted because coaches would send in a substitute almost every time the whistle blew near the end of the game in order to gain a few seconds on each play.

Senators Sign Pilot As Coach And Player

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Lieut. Bert R. Shepard, veteran P-38 pilot who lost part of his right leg in combat over Germany, today signed with the Washington Senators.

Shepard will be carried as a coach temporarily and later will break into American League competition as a pitcher or pinch-hitter.

"We'll let him do anything he thinks he can do," Owner Clark Griffith said.

Coast Guard Noses Out Boston Braves

CURTIS BAY, Md., March 29 (AP) — Coast Guardsman Hank Sauer, former Cincinnati Red, singled home recent Giant Mikey Witek with the 11th inning run that gave the Curtis Bay Cutters a 3-4 exhibition baseball victory over the Boston Braves here today.

MARION TALKS IT OVER

ST. LOUIS, March 29 (AP) — Marty Marion, holdout shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals, arrived today and discussed salary terms with President Sam Breadon but no contract has been signed.

Meanwhile, rain kept the players off their infield and they devoted the day to running in the outfield and pepper play on a nearby lot.

RAIN HINDERS CUBS

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 29 (AP) — Charley Grimm's Chicago Cubs held a morning workout today when showers forced the squad to forsake the regular diamond for the depot grounds.

VET CATCHER REPORTS

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—Ray Hayworth, 40-year-old veteran catcher, who appeared in but seven games with the Dodgers last season, was the latest member of Leo Durocher's aggregation to check into camp today.

RUBE FISCHER REPORTS

LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 29 (AP) — With the arrival today of Pitcher Rube Fischer, three-fourths of the Giants' roster, or thirty players, now are in camp. Sixteen of them are pitchers.

RAIN HITS TIGERS

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 29 (AP)—Rain today washed out the second Detroit Tiger workout in 16 days of spring training.

A's Catcher To Get Some Rest

FREDERICK, Md., March 29. (AP)—Frankie Hayes won't catch any 155 successive games for the Philadelphia Athletics this year. That's one of the few flat predictions a fellow could feel safe in making today less than five weeks before opening day.

Not that Hayes wouldn't like to repeat his 1944 feat that gave him co-possession with Ray Mueller of Cincinnati of an all-time big league "iron man" record for receivers. Durable Frankie said it would suit him "just fine" but Manager Connie Mack may have some different ideas.

With Jim Pruett, a .312 socker from Milwaukee who cost the A's $10,000 and two players, around to lend a helping hand, a little rest now and then for Hayes probably would be for the best interest of the club.

"I'll start Hayes and leave him in there as long as he continues to hit. I hope that is all season" commented Mr. Mack. "But once he doesn't produce, I'm afraid I'll have to take him out of the line-up. Those records make nice reading but we're out to win ball games. And I can't worry about breaking anybody's string of games."

Mr. Mack also has available for catching Lou Parisse, a .256 hitter at the Lancaster Class B farm.

Irish Coaching Staff Still Short Two Men

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 29. (U.P.)—Notre Dame's coaching staff, which has lost three coaches during the past two months, was still short two men today.

The Irish need a basketball coach and another assistant football coach, who is expected to be named in the near future.

The school's depleted grid staff was bolstered yesterday with the appointment of Kenneth L. Stilley, former Irish football star, as line coach. He helped out in spring drills today with Head Coach Hugh Devore, Backfield Coach Gene Ronzani and Assistants Wally Ziemba and Jake Kline.

A native of Clarendon, Pa., Stilley played tackle on the Irish teams of 1933-34-35. Since his graduation in 1936, he has coached at Allenton, Altoona Catholic and North Catholic High schools, Clarington, Pa.

Notre Dame has lost acting Head Coach Clem Crowe, who also served as assistant grid coach, during the past two months.

China Star Boasts Great Cage Record

CHINA, Tex., March 29. (AP)—In three seasons of basketball, during which she appeared in 118 games, Barbara Self averaged more than a point-a-minute—and if anybody can boast a better record, China High school backers would like to know about it.

Yes, sir, Barbara has hit the basket for 4,189 points, an average of 35½ points per game. In girls basketball a game is 32 minutes, and while Barbara hasn't played every minute—in fact, she hardly averaged more than half the time—she still can show 1.19 points per minute even if you consider the entire distance.

Barbara paced the China High school girls to 97 straight victories before they met defeat in the state tournament. But even in dropping two games there, she was the star of the meet, being named the outstanding player. She scored 49 points with a flock of all-state guards trying to hold her back.

Her coach, C. C. Alexander, who has been directing girls teams for 19 years and has seen some of the finest players of all-time, unhesitatingly calls her tops. "She not only is the finest player I have ever coached but the greatest player I have ever seen," he says.

Barbara has finished her string at China High and is moving to Dallas to play with an independent team.

She had never seen a basketball game until she came here in 1938. But she soon developed a virtually unguardable one-handed shot from in front of the basket. Her only weakness is on foul throws, but so what? They count only one point.

REDS INFIELD SHINES

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 29 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds' infield looked a bit like that of other and better years today, as Frank McCormick donned a uniform, took his accustomed place at first, and led the team in hours of indoor drill. Rain prevented outdoor work.

Woody Williams was at second again today; Steve Mesner at third, and Walter Flager at short.

Hester, Bradley, Rowland And Bagwell Cop Net Titles

Four representatives of the Lubbock High school for the area tennis tournament here April 7 were named Thursday afternoon at Dupre courts, with all but the girls doubles champions being made known.

David Hester completed his victory in boys singles, Vernon Bradley and David Rowland staged an upset to win the boys doubles, and Juanice Bagwell nosed out the girls singles crown.

Hester won the first set of his singles finals with Herbert Hawkins Wednesday, 6-2, and completed the victory yesterday with 6-1, 6-1 sets in the remaining part of the match.

Bradley and Rowland eliminated Phil Bennett and Jerry Thrush in the first round of the boys doubles. The winners had trouble in the first set, but finished strong, winning 7-5, 6-1 to move into the finals.

Fred McDonald and Herbert Hawkins, top seeded doubles team, failed to match the Bradley-Rowland combination and Bradley and Rowland won the final match, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6, in a blistering finish that found the losers fighting gamely to stay in the race.

Bagwell was hard pressed in the finals of the girls singles, but won easily over Margaret Hawkins, 6-0, 6-2, to advance to the finals. Betty Joe Tyson proved to be a much tougher foe, but Bagwell nosed out a 6-3, 7-5 win to gain the title.

Red Sox Homers Nip New York Yankees

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 29 (AP)—Home runs by Bob Johnson and Nick Polly helped the Boston Red Sox defeat the New York Yankees 12 to 6 today in the first of nine exhibition games between the two teams.

A crowd of 2,616 paid plus 1500 wounded soldiers admitted free witnessed the game.

MANCUSO IN CAMP

WILMINGTON, Del., March 29 (AP) — Gus Mancuso, former New York Giant catcher, has arrived in the Philadelphia Phillies training camp. The veteran National League backstop is expected to do most of the catching for the Phils this year.

UCLA Picks Unknown For Coaching Post

LOS ANGELES, March 29. (U.P.) —University of California at Los Angeles, passing up several "big name" coaches, today selected an alumnus and high school mentor —Bert La Brucherie—to head the Bruins' football coaching staff.

La Brucherie, 40, will resign as varsity coach at Los Angeles High school to assume his new position at UCLA April 15.

He was chosen unanimously just before midnight last night by the university's board of control after four hours of debate. La Brucherie succeeds Edwin C. (Babe) Horrell, who resigned Jan. 4 after six years.

UCLA Graduate Manager William Ackerman had 59 applicants for the job but it was understood he nominated five from which the board made its choice. The five included La Brucherie; Cece Hollingsworth, Bruin assistant coach and scout; Homer Norton, veteran mentor of the Texas Aggies; Clark Shaughnessy, present grid boss at the University of Pittsburgh; and Ray Richards, UCLA line coach.

La Brucherie's salary was not announced, but Horrell received $11,000 a year for the head coaching job. He signed a three-year contract.

Toledo Ties Browns For Second Straight

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., March 29 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns maintained their spring exhibition record of no defeats today, but the minor league Toledo Mudhens gained another tie, the second in two days. The score was 5 to 5.

Again the Browns were outbatted, 10 hits to 6, but they scored a run in each of three innings on errors and fielders' choices.

A'S TAKE PHYSICAL

FREDERICK, Md., March 29 (AP) Two outfielders, Charlie Metro and Harold Peck, left the Philadelphia Athletics' camp today to take pre-induction physical examintions at Philadelphia.

Fight Night Carded At Boys Club Gym

The season's second fight night will be held tonight at the Lubbock Boys club at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced Thursday night by John W. Wilson.

Six bouts were named for the show, featuring the return appearance of five winners from the opening show held recently at the club. Only one of the bouts will pair winners from the first show, however, with Don Stewart and Bobby Sexton meeting in the first of the two 75 pound class fights.

Keith Newman, another winner in the 75 pound class, will meet Burrell McGee, a newcomer. Jimmy Sexton, another first night winner, faces Roy Alley in the 94 pound class. Bobby Griffin, the remaining first night winner, will face James Ferguson in the 110 pound class.

The other two fights on the card will pair Edward Scott and Floyd Stevenson in the 83 pound class, and pair D. C. Brannon and Bobby Jackson in the 130 pound class.

Bo Sexton, popular Golden Gloves referee, will be the third man in the ring. Judges will be provided by the American Business club members.

Four Pampa Cadets Killed In Collision

PAMPA, March 29. (U.P.)—Less than a month before they were to receive wings and commissions as second lieutenants, four aviation cadets at Pampa Army Air field were dead today as a result of a mid-air collision 15 miles southwest of the field.

The cadets, slated to graduate April 15, were on a routine night combat training flight when their ships collided and fell approximately 100 yards apart early today.

The dead:

Arial Dewey Brown, jr., 19, of Beaumont; Joseph Harold Anderson, 23, of Bell, Calif.; Richard M. Browning, 20, of Berkeley, Calif., and Robert D. Asher, 20, of Greeley, Colo.

Thomas L. Scott, Ex-Ranger, Dies

SAN ANTONIO, March 29 (U.P.) Thomas L. Scott, 82-year-old retired Texas ranger, died yesterday afternoon at his San Antonio residence.

The ex-ranger was known throughout the Rio Grande valley as "Red" Scott. He served with Capt. Lee Hall and Rangers Joe and William Schely in the valley and Corpus Christi area.

Surviving Scott are his widow, three sons and two daughters.

Funeral services have been set for Friday morning.

MANY LEADERS STUMBLE

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — Assorted rails, aviations and specialties developed a certain amount of strength in today's stock market while many leaders stumbled on the slowest dealings in about five months.

Many customers trimmed accounts and adjourned for tomorrow's holiday when principal exchanges of the United States and Canada will recess. Others stood aside to await war developments. Earnings, dividends and individual situations aided favorites.

Gainers of fractions to 2 points were in the majority at the close.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .2 of a point at 59.8. Of 845 issues appearing, 434 advanced against 411 down or unchanged.

A boost in the newsprint ceiling price lifted Crown Zellerbach and International Paper. Sinclair Oil was propped by a sharp jump in net for its Venezuelan subsidiary. Loew's added ⅞ as share-owners approved a 3-for-1 splitup proposal.

In front were U. S. Industrial Chemicals, Great Northern, Kennecott, Dow Chemical, United Air Lines, Douglas Aircraft and J. C. Penney. Tops for 1945 were scored by Grumman Aircraft, Plymouth Oil and American Airlines.

Bonds were steady. At Chicago wheat was up ⅛ to 1⅛ cents a bushel. Cotton was unchanged to 5 cents a bale lower.

Cotton . .

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—After registering small early gains the cotton futures market developed an easy tone on scattered liquidation and hedging to close unchanged to 5 cents a bale lower today.

A 12-point boost in the mid-March cotton parity price to 21.45 cents announced after the close of trading was in line with expectations. Approval by the Senate Banking and Currency committee of a one-year extension of the price control act without change attracted attention. Traders pointed out, however, this action does not forecast continuance of the cotton purchase program which is permissive and not mandatory. The futures market will remain closed until Monday.

Futures closed unchanged to 5 cents a bale lower.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 29 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton at 10 designated southern spot markets today was five cents a bale lower at 21.72 cents a pound. Average for the past 30 market days was 21.73. Middling ⅞ths-inch average was 20.47.

War Casualties

wounded in Manila Feb. 14, when he was shot in the left thigh and hip. He had been in the Army two years and was a Lamb county farmer before going into the service.

Capt. Adam C. Metts, jr., whose wife and two children live at 2202-A Eighteenth, is now reported a prisoner of the Germans and is in Stalag 9-B in Germany. He was previously reported missing in action on Dec. 17. With the 27th Armored infantry, Capt. Metts was a motor officer. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Metts, live in Fort Worth.

Pfc. Herschel Johnson, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Johnson of near Lubbock, was slightly wounded in action with the Seventh Army in Germany, March 15, his parents have been informed. He went into the Army in May of last year and has been overseas since November. His wife and child live at Paducah.

OPA Price Ceiling

brought by Armour. The other was filed by Cudahy Brothers Co., of Cudahy, Wis. (Not the "Big Four" Cudahy firm, which is Cudahy Packing Co., Chicago).

The court ruled that ceilings on carcass beef and frozen boneless beef sold to the services by the two firms should be at least high enough to return production costs.

"It seems clear," the court said, "that the established maximum prices during the period in question constituted a substantial impediment to the slaughtering of animals yielding carcasses of the grades required by the government contracts."

The court added that when it comes to computing the amount of the adjustment "we recognize that all will not be clear sailing."

While not indicating what allowance should be made for non-processing packers, the court said:

"But to the extent that the allowance is inadequate to cover cost there must be a revision upward of the indicated losses suffered by the non-processing slaughters as a group under the existing maximum prices for carcass beef, with cattle prices running at the high levels of the year."

The court said, however, that the price administrator under the act did not have any obligation to see that each individual non-processing slaughterer made a profit.

The price administrator, the court added, cannot "ignore the disastrous effect" of the regulation "upon a whole group of producers constituting an important segment of the industry who because of the nature of their operations, have a common economic situation that sets them apart from the rest of the industry."

Non-processing packers have been receiving a special subsidy of 80 cents per hundred pounds to compensate them for lack of income from by-products. Recently this was cut to 30 cents a hundred weight, effective April 1.

Processors told senate investigators that even under the 80 cent level they were unable to operate profitably.

Ruhr Is Blocked Out By Pincers

rich Ruhr, greatest of the enemy arsenals.

The Ruhr, said one enemy war correspondent, was "nothing but one wide field of rubble in which the Army and the Volkstrum fought side by side with nothing to lose but their lives."

Armor Unimpeded

Associated Press correspondent Don Whitehead declared in a dispatch from the field that the point near Paderborn was reached at 5:35 p. m. (European time) and armor was rolling on with nothing in front to hold it.

German resistance collapsed in front of this powerful sweep by the one British and two American armies, and a field dispatch said the situation had become a rout in front of the U. S. First Army.

At the current rate of advance, the British and the U. S. First armies might come together in the Westphalian plain in little more than two days, laying open the road to Berlin and cutting off all the big factory cities of the Rhur.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges First Army tank columns speared through Langwiesse, 49 miles southeast of Hamm, eastern exit of the Ruhr, and 66 miles southeast of Haltern, which was overwhelmed by British Second Army tanks and the American infantry astride them.

Others 200 Miles Out

Other First Army columns reached nearby Wallenberg and Frankenberg — the latter 200 miles southwest of the western limits of Berlin.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army, which had been moving north earlier in the day, suddenly turned east and spurted 20 miles across the Frankfurt plain almost unopposed, entering Lauterback, 198 miles from Berlin.

This was the deepest officially announced penetration from the west. It placed the Fourth Armored "breakthrough" division 140 miles inside the Reich, 65 miles beyond the Rhine at Mainz, and about 235 miles from the Russians on the East front.

The British breakthrough on the Westphalia plain was scattering, before it German troops who were trying to get away in any vehicle available.

North Africa Vets Loose

Veterans of North Africa, loose in good tank country once more, were imperilling Muenster, Osnabrueck and Hannover — the latter 142 miles west of Berlin.

The U. S. Ninth Army on the British south flank charged ahead six miles through the Ruhr under another security blackout and was reported to be in almost complete possession of Duisburg, Europe's greatest inland river port, after capturing the dock area.

The U. S. Seventh Army on the southern end of the front had crossed the river Main on an eight-mile front just south of the Third Army front, and was threatening to outflank the Black forest, most formidable sector of the Siegfried line, with a push along the Neckar river.

The U. S. First Army was driving ahead so rapidly that at one point tanks acutally overran an airfield near Langwiesse and shot up eight planes before the startled pilots could get them in the air.

At another point they caught up with a train and turned their guns upon it.

Road Block Shattered

Just north of Muenchausen, 30 SS (Elite) troops tried to throw up a road block and were scattered like feathers, a front dispatch said.

The Fourth Armored division of Gen. Patton's Ninth Third Army once more was fanning out deep in Germany.

While one force entered Lauterbach, another column entered ulrichstein, 10 miles to the southwest.

This was the kind of attack that to date had placed 8,970 square miles of German territory under Third Army rule.

The Third Army had linked up with the First Army at three places west of Frankfurt, and now the First, Third and Seventh armies held a solid front of more than 150 miles beyond the Rhine.

Church Services

soring a Good Friday prayer service at 3 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor announced.

A three-hour devotional program will be held from noon to 3 o'clock this afternoon at the St. Paul's on the Plains Episcopal church. Hymns of the season and periods of silent prayer and meditation are planned for the service, which will be divided into three one-hour units. Rev. John A. Winslow, rector, will conduct the worship.

Bishop C. C. Selecman will speak on the subject, "Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done," at 8 o'clock tonight at the Asbury Methodist church, Twentieth and Ave. T, Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor, announced.

Annual Easter services of Lubbock Commandery 60 will commence at 8 o'clock tonight on the third floor of the Citizens National bank building.

Dr. Jack M. Lewis is to act as master of ceremonies, and Lt. Richard Chamberlain will be the soloist. Mrs. C. E. Hereford will direct the music.

The following program was announced by a program committee of W. Guy Casey, Dr. Lewis, H. B. Bryan, Cliff Cummings and Burl Ham:

Call to worship, "Doxology;" invocation by Rev. John Winslow, rector of St. Paul's-on-the-Plains Episcopal church; song, "America," audience; introductions and explanations, Howard E. Hunt, Eminent Commander; song by a choir; Easter scriptures; solo by Lieutenant Chamberlain; prayer by Rev. Alsie H. Carleton, pastor of St. John's Methodist church; song by choir; Easter message by Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church; benediction.

When ironing the children's clothing, tuck a clean handkerchief into the pocket of blouses and shirts and there will be one thing less to remember in the last-minute morning hustle.

Hutchinson Named Head Of South Plains Scottish Rite

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, pioneer Lubbock eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, last night was elected as 1945-46 president of the South Plains Scottish Rite club as more than 100 members of the order and their Master Mason guests traditionally observed Maundy Thursday with ceremonies, a dinner and program at Hotel Hilton.

DR. J. T. HUTCHINSON

Members of the rite from every part of the South Plains were present for the 24th annual observance of the solemn Holy Week night and heard Dr. Ernest Wallace, associate professor of history at Texas Technological college, deliver a scholarly dissertation on "The Knight of the Rose Croix." DeWitt (Judge) Landis, president, was in the chair and, with Durwood H. Bradley, led in ceremonial rites preceeding the dinner and program.

Others Elected, Too

Other new officers, in addition to President Hutchinson, are Guy Swain, of Sundown, and Claude H. Grollman, Lubbock, vice-presidents, who succeed Dr. John R. Turner, Brownfield, and Floyd Stark, Seminole. Ed Parker, Lubbock, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Tom May, of Brownfield, a 33rd degree Mason, spoke briefly "for the good of the order." Dr. J. B. Jackson, Lubbock dentist, was the oldest member in length of membership present. He became a 32nd degree Mason in the Dallas Consistory in 1907.

Wallace Traces History

Doctor Wallace, pointing out that the observance of Maundy Thursday is obligatory among Scottish Rite Masons around the world, called the observance one of "serious reflection and sober self-examination"—a theme carried out by Dean James G. Allen and Dr. Sam G. Dunn in offering, respectively, the invocation and the benediction. The Tech historian traced the history of the Scottish Rite, which grew out of schisms in the reign of James Stuart in England, from its formation in France in the 1750's and throughout its existence in this country from 1761, when the rite was introduced in New York.

Doctor Wallace chose to speak on the Rose Croix degree, he said, because it is the rite's most beautiful; most symbolic and mystical degree, and because it is based upon the greatest religions and philosophies of all times.

Consistories represented at the meeting included El Paso, Dallas, Lake Charles, La.; McAlester and Guthrie, Okla.; Santa Fe, N. M.; Danville, Ill.; Bismarck, N. D., and St. Louis, Mo.

Veteran School Man Dies Thursday Night

W. D. Biggers, 55, training coordinator for civilian personnel at Lubbock Army Air field, and former superintendent of five West Texas and Panhandle schools, died at 11:34 o'clock Thursday night in St. Mary's hospital.

Biggers had suffered a heart attack about 10 days ago.

Funeral services had not been arranged last night.

Biggers had been a Lubbock resident more than four years, coming here from Sudan, where he was superintendent of schools. Prior to that time he was head of schools at Lockney, Groom, Knox City and Hedley.

He is survived by his wife, Winnie D. Biggers; a daughter Mrs. Bob A. Wilson of San Diego, Calif.; a son, Brac Biggers, aviation radio technician, third class, Corpus Christi.

Big Three Secret

lowing the Moscow announcement. "That is a false conclusion," he said flatly. He declared his government unqualifiedly supports the Dumbarton Oaks plan for world security organization and also the Yalta agreement on voting procedure in the proposed world security council.

At that time the Yalta agreement on assembly voting had not been announced. This announcement came late in the day.

The world organization would have three main bodies: The security council of 11 nations, the general assembly of all member nations and an economic and social council. Virtually all the real power for action would be vested in the security council on which Russia, the United States, Britain, France and China would be permanent members.

These five powers would be outnumbered by six small nations, elected at two-year intervals, but the Yalta voting formula provides that no action could be taken without a majority of seven, instead of six, and that on all major questions of aggression the Big Five would have to vote unanimously with one exception.

The exception is that on decisions to investigate and try peacefully to settle a dispute, if one of the big powers was itself a party to the dispute, it could not vote. The other four, in such a case, would have to agree unanimously for the council to act.

This so-called veto arrangement was originally Russian and until today most authorities thought it had satisfied Russia's insistence that power in the world organization must be retained in the hands of the powerful nations.

Shreveport Niteries To Be Closed VE-Day

SHREVEPORT, March 29 (UP)—Shreveport saloon and night club operators today held an ultimatum from Public Safety Commissioner L. K. Barney that as soon as news is flashed of victory in Europe, they are to close immediately and remain closed for 18 hours.

"The spectacle which ensued here on Armistice day in 1918, was an event that those of us who saw it never expect to see again," Barney declared.

Officers will be sent to every saloon and night club in the city to see that the order is obeyed, he said.

Assaults On Japs

was cooperating with the American Fifth fleet came as Tokyo reported that at least 500 carrier planes had pounded southern Japan for 10 hours yesterday. They concentrated on targets that included the Sasebo and Kure naval bases in what the enemy insisted "must be considered part of a strategic plan to support the Okinawa operation."

Japan has claimed for days that the Americans were preparing to invade Okinawa, largest of the Ryukyus.

Japs Are Seeing Red

Tokyo declared that a fleet of "more than 100 warships, with about 10 battleships as its mainstay," was cruising the waters off Okinawa, screening still another task force including "more than 10 aircraft carriers."

There has been no Allied confirmation of any landings in the Ryukyus, but Admiral Nimitz has reported continual air and sea bombardment of that strategic group.

Admiral Nimitz' communique disclosed that 20 Japanese aircraft and one small coastal vessel were destroyed and several damaged. The town of Ohama in the Sakishima group was left aflame.

The task force is commanded by Vice Adm. Sir Bernard Rawlings, with Rear Adm. Sir Philip Vian in command of the carriers—under operational control of the American Fifth fleet chief, Adm. R. A. Spruance.

Innovation For British

The British never before have attempted such a long-range strike in the Pacific or anywhere else.

When Adm. Sir Bruce Fraser, commander in chief of the British Pacific fleet, said in Australia March 5 that the fleet was "ready and waiting for action," he meant what he said. For waiting, in addition to carriers, battleships, cruisers and destroyers, were full convoys of service and supply ships.

Disregarding discussion on three continents of the question whether British and American ships are technically able to operate side by side, British carriers are fully prepared to operate as a completely self-contained, self-supplied, self-serviced independent task force.

Proud of Connection

That is what they have done in this first real British fleet offensive against the Japanese empire.

One senior officer of the task force said he was "proud to be connected with the mighty American fleet," adding:

"We have a different job to perform, but we will be guided by American experience in the Pacific."

The Sakashima islands are about 250 miles east of the northern tip of Formosa. They are southwest of Okinawa, principal island in the Ryukyus.

American battle forces methodically pounding the Ryukyus have kept the enemy perplexed as to their intentions. Meanwhile, radio Tokyo clung to its unconfirmed story that the group had been invaded.

Defenses Battered

Mighty battleships hurled 16-inch shells into the defenses of the narrow, strategic islands as hundreds of carrier planes swept the 700-mile chain of bases flung across the eastern approach to the East China sea.

Apparently in support of its claim that Yanks had landed several days ago on the Kerama islands, 15 miles west of Okinawa, the Tokyo radio said "20 to 30 transports" were attempting to supply the invasion forces.

of Italy-based American bombers.

Between Koszeg and Szombathely, the Russians cut an 11-mile stretch of the key railroad linking Vienna, through northern Yugoslavia with Trieste in Italy, thus cutting one major line supplying and reinforcing German divisions battling the Anglo-American armies in that country.

Cut Off Nazis In Italy

Moscow dispatches said that one Red Army aim of the great Austrian offensive was to end further German resistance in Italy, and the Russian advances followed recent conferences between Marshal Tolbukhin and Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in chief in the Mediterranean.

Berlin, meanwhile, said that the Austrian offensive was closely tied up with the Red Army's offensive operations in the Tatra mountains of Czechoslovakia and with Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian Army drive toward the Moravian gap and across the Sudeten mountains from upper German Silesia.

Rain And Storm Damage Heavy

(By The Associated Press)

One person was drowned in a flash flood at Dallas yesterday and at least ten persons were injured as tornado winds whipped through two communities near Terrell and Wills Point. Sections of East Texas suffered heavy damage from rains, high winds and lightning, and 11 cars of a train were derailed near Athens.

Marvel Parks, 14 - year - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Parks was drowned in a flooded creek near her Dallas home. The body was recovered by police and firemen.

A tornado sweeping through the Abner community near Terrell injured seven persons, five of whom were caught beneath the debris of their demolished homes. The two others, Mrs. Raymond Stieffer, who suffered a broken foot, and her crippled son, Harold, 12, walked half a mile to summon aid.

Two Seriously Injured

Most seriously injured were W. C. Davidson, 50, and his wife, 38. Also suffering injuries were the Davidson's 18-months-old daughter, Mary; a son, W. C. jr., 3; Raymond Stieffer, 35; Mrs. Stieffer, 30, and Harold.

A twister, accompanied by heavy rains and lightning, struck a 300-yard area one mile east of Wills Point Wednesday night injuring Bill Edwards, his wife and their small child who resided there. Telephone and telegraph poles were twisted to the ground as the winds whisked roofs from nearly all farm buildings in the area. All barns were destroyed on two farms. Crews were quickly restoring the communications system today.

Eleven cars of a Dallas-bound Texas and New Orleans mixed train were derailed when the train struck a washed-out section of track near Athens at 4:50 a. m. yesterday. None was injured.

Wrecker Crews Called

Wrecker crews from Ennis and Lufkin were clearing the wreckage late yesterday and traffic is expected to be resumed some time today. The washed-out section was about 15 feet deep. The locomotive managed to get by, but the next 11 cars were derailed into the hole.

An eight-inch rain at Sulphur Springs flooded lowlands and closed roads to traffic. Business property suffered considerable damage from the rains, high winds and severe electrical storm.

The Dallas weather bureau said the cloudbursts at Dallas, Sulphur Springs and in Henderson county, did not appear to be general over the state. The moisture was concentrated from the Trinidad-Palestine area northwestward up the Trinity river, which the bureau said was rising rapidly. A warning was issued to remove all livestock from the lowlands in the upper Trinity area.

Heavy Rain At Trinidad

A five-inch rain at Trinidad, Henderson county, measured 2.97 inches. Some roads and bridges in the county were so badly damaged it was reported they would have to be rebuilt.

Four inches of rain accompanied the tornado which nearly flattened the Abner community.

Dallas had 3.31 inches of rain in an early morning downpour that in a few seconds turned streets into swirling streams. Many workers reported late to their offices as traffic was nearly halted. More than 24 cars and a bus were stalled at one flooded intersection and ten street cars on one line were halted.

Wind and rain severed Tyler's communications for about two hours last night.

eral Dwight D. Eisenhower in charge of civil affairs "when General Eisenhower, as supreme commander, assumes control under the arrangement agreed upon for the occupation of Germany." His authority presumably will cover only the south German territory which is to be ocucpied by Americans.

Eisenhower asked for Clay three weeks ago, Mr. Roosevelt said, but the designation was delayed because of an OWMR agreement with the Army that Clay would remain with Byrnes until April 1.

The President said Clay was particularly qualified for the German post by reason of his "splendid service in the civilian as well as in the military branches of the government."

Babies' Shoes Soon To Require Stamp

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Beginning May 1, all babies' leather shoes will require a ration stamp.

The OPA made this announcement today, simultaneously with a disclosure by the Office of Civilian requirements that it hoped to obtain the production of 150,000,000 pairs of high-quality fabric shoes with synthetic rubber soles for adults.

The OPA action puts babies' leather shoes, sizes 0 to 4 (worn by babies before they learn to walk) on the same basis as other leather shoes.

Broad Pattern Of Allied Victory Strategy In West Is Taking Shape

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Pres War Analyst

Despite a tactical security news blackout virtually all along the flaming West front in Germany the broad pattern of the Allied attack is beginning to take shape.

It could be seen clearly in consolidation of the American First, Third and Seventh Army sectors beyond the Rhine into a single huge knife, cutting its way into the heart of the great central German plain. It can be discerned, too, now, in the swift development of an encirclement threat to the whole congested Ruhr area and the difficult terrain south of it where stiffest Nazi resistance has been met.

SIMPSON

Wheel Northward

The news blackout on the First Army front was raised sufficiently to disclose that its tank columns had wheeled suddenly northward above the Lahn to leap 40 miles or more toward a junction with Field Marshall Montgomery's armies slashing eastward over the Westphalian plains. While the exact whereabouts of Montgomery's most advanced elements was unrevealed, field reports pictured them running wild in the open country around Munster. It seemed certain that Montgomery's armor was swinging southward also and that the actual gap between the First Army in the south and British-American tank forces in the north was less than 70 miles.

A junction would cut off the whole Ruhr. It might completely trap many thousands of Nazi troops still deployed in that vast industrial community of overlapping, stone-built factory cities. Their encirclement probably would leave exposed a wide and virtually unmanned gap along the canal-connected Ems-Weser river line.

Frontal Blow Not Planned

The northward wheel of the First Army tends to verify the impression that frontal attack on the great Ruhr industrial hub was never contemplated in original Allied plans. Defended even by secondary troops, it represented another Aachen or Casino on an heroic scale and the casualty cost of clearing the foe out of those miles upon miles of naturally strong defense positions must have been very great.

Instead, the Ruhr valley has been by-passed both north and south. Now it is in immediate danger of being pinched off in a matter of days if not hours with minimum losses. Entrapment of so large a Nazi garrison as is apparently still clinging to the Ruhr salient could be the final knockout blow in the west.

Super Highway Ahead

Just ahead of the First Army lies a stem of the Coblenz-Leipzig super military highway. It leads to a junction with the main Ruhr-Berlin autobahn just south of Hamm, less than 50 miles distant from the last officially reported First Army spearhead at Langwiesse. That would be a two-day march for General Hodges' armor at the pace it is moving against indicated feeble Nazi resistance.

Whatever the georgraphical layout of the Allied attack, however, its prime objective is entrapment and destruction of enemy troops in the field. The fast closing Ruhr pocket bids fair to yield an even greater toll of Nazi prisoners and casualties than did the swift clean up in the Saarland and Palatinate west of the Rhine. That cleanup paved the way for the mass victory drive into the heart of Germany.

Applications for jobs as general mechanic helpers and junior mechanics at South Plains Army Air field may be made with the United States Civil Service commission representative at the U. S. Employment service office at 1207 Thirteenth street, M. W. Waldron, manager of the office, said Thursday after receiving announcement from Oklahoma City the Air Technical Service command needs 95 general mechanic helpers and five junior mechanics "immediately" for reactivation of the field. Persons with mechanical aptitude are needed it was announced. Waldron also announced James S. Wood, recruiting for electricians and mechanics for West Coast naval establishments, arrived Thursday afternoon and will remain here through today to interview persons interested. He has authority to employ qualified persons immediately.

City Employes To Go Back On Old Scale

Beginning next week working hours of the majority of city employes will revert to the former schedule, 8 a. m., Marlin R. Smith, city manager, said Thursday.

Except for police and fire departments, all of the office force and outside crews employed by the city are to observe those working hours.

Their present hours, 8:30 to 5:30 p. m., have been observed during the fall and winter when 8 o'clock came before daylight. The change to the hours formerly observed is being made to fit working hours nearer to daylight hours and give employes more time after they leave work in the afternoons.

Twelve Jap Embassy Members Confined

BUENOS AIRES, March 29 (U.P.) Twelve members of the Japanese embassy, including Ambassador Baron Shu Tomii, were confined to their homes today pending completion of government plans for their internment.

Also among the group was Rear Admiral Katsumi Yukishita, naval attache, who was charged by federal police with being the chief of Japanese espionage in Argentina.

Lower Prices Seen For Tire Repairs

J. B. Money, district price exective of the Office of Price administration, has announced that prices for tire boots, patches and reliners made from scrap materials will be substantially reduced by new ceiling prices which went into effect this week.

For reliners, the new retail ceilings are $2.50 each for all uncemented ones for passenger car tires, and $2.75 each for all cemented ones. Maximum charges permitted for inserting a passenger car tire reliner are 50 cents without cementing, $1 for cementing reliner, and $1.25 for cementing an uncemented reliner.

Truck tire reliners have retail ceiling prices ranging from 85 to $12.90 each, depending on size and ply. Maximum charges permitted for inserting a truck tire reliner range from 50 cents to $2.60.

Retail ceilings for boots and patches range from seven cents to $3.75 each, depending on size and ply. Maximum charges for cementing a patch or boot are 15 cents for the smaller sizes and 35 cents for the larger.

Montgomery Helps "Keep Them Flying"

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England — Glamour and excitement—supposedly standard equipment of the members of the U. S. Army Air forces—is notably absent from the job held by Cpl. Joseph Montgomery of Lubbock, one of the men who "keep them flying" for the 92nd Bombardment group, oldest Fortress group in England.

Grease and grime and weary work are closer to the truth, but Cpl. Montgomery is one of the vitally important cogs in the vast aerial machine that has gradually destroyed Nazi industry during the past two and one half years.

Working at all hours of day and night, in all kinds of weather, Cpl. Montgomery is one of thousands of unsung soldiers who work at prosaic, routine jobs and without whose work the aerial onslaught of Germany would be impossible. Theirs is the job of repairing and servicing, tuning and inspecting the giant bombers.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Montgomery, Cpl. Montgomery graduated from Carnegie High school in 1939, and was employed at Lockheed Aircraft corporation before entering the armed forces in 1942.

Teen-Ager Program To Be Mapped Here

Recreational programs in use at youth centers in other cities will be studied at a meeting of 'teen-age boys and girls and parents tonight at 8 o'clock at the Corral, A. C. Hamilton, superintendent of the city recreation department, said. A program for the next three months for Lubbock's own youth center will be outlined at the meeting.

Hamilton has urged that all 'teen-age boys and girls interested in the center be present to plan the program and has invited parents and any others who wish to attend.

Some of the activities to be discussed include box supper, amateur night, "kid" party, "tacky" party, bingo party, floor show, square dances, singing, dramatics, special speeches, ping-pong tournament, checker tournament, domino tournament, shuffleboard tournament, shows and magician night.

Hamilton earlier this week said there was a danger of the 'teen-age center project dying unless more interest is shown and appealed for a larger number of boys and girls to take part in planning programs and attend the center and for support of parents, teachers and civic organizations.

Petersburg Sergeant Is McCloskey Patient

McCLOSKEY GENERAL HOSPITAL, Temple—New Year's Eve for T/Sgt. Charles R. Moore of Petersburg and other members of the 100th division was a far cry from the usual bells, whistles and holiday gaiety for on the stroke of midnight the German SS troops launched a frenzied counterattack which lasted for 10 furious hours.

The 100th, surrounded and outnumbered 20 to 1, battled the Germans who were armed with every weapon in their arsenal, including flamethrowers, but by 10 a. m. the Americans had succeeded in beating off the attack.

Moore went through this skirmish without serious injury, but was hit by artillery shell fragments in the left leg a few days later. He is now convalescing at McCloskey General hospital.

His sister, Mrs. Rachael Peacock, lives in Petersburg.

Eastus Asks Release Of Two Army Majors

DALLAS, March 29 (U.P.) — U. S. Dist. Atty. Clyde O. Eastus revealed today that he had applied for the release of two Army majors whom he wants as assistant U. S. district attorneys for his office.

Eastus asked for the release of Maj. William P. Fondille, a former assistant of Eastus who entered the Army about two years ago, and Maj. Ira Butler, Fort Worth attorney now serving with the judge advocate general's office in Washington.

Now serving with Eastus is John K. Russell, Cleburne city attorney recently appointed to succeed Joe H. Jones, suspended assistant district attorney. Russell is a former member of the Texas legislature and former county attorney for Johnson county.

Meanwhile, Eastus said a report on the reasons for Jones' suspension would be made by the justice department in Washington as soon as FBI records are completed.

Salad May Be Spring Tonic

SPRING fever laughs at calendars. It strikes whenever man or woman becomes tired of winter's hot-house existence.

Grandmother used to say that winter weather called for a spring tonic—sulphur and molasses, no less. But another spring tonic is always to be recommended — a whole bowful of it—in the form of a refreshing vegetable salad.

This doesn't mean a small side dish of lettuce. It means a heaping lunch plate of substantial salad, with a crisp side partners, such as crackers, for mid-day meal or supper.

Really it's a fascinating and an easy job to turn a humdrum salad into a humdinger salad. Start by planning "a perfect salad"; then vary it in as many ways as there are days.

A perfect salad needs only three or four ingredients; it's not a hodge-podge of everything available.

The ingredients should be in man-size pieces. Chunks of lettuce cut with kitchen scissors make an inviting change from shredded lettuce, for example.

The dressing is all-important in the success of a salad. The Spanish say, "It takes four men to make a perfect salad dressing—a miser for oil, a spendthrift for vinegar, a wise man for salt, and a madcap to stir it."

Many variations of dressings can be made from one convenient supply. Diced hard-cooked eggs, chopped olives, pimiento, green pepper or nut meats, chili sauce, or sour cream are among the additions that will give newness to an old, familiar recipe for French dressing or mayonnaise.

The dressing should be added to a salad a few minutes before the salad is served, or it may be placed on the table for individual use.

A springlike vegetable salad and a variety of crackers is an excellent noon meal for either housewife or business persons. The combination is satisfying and yet it is not so heavy as to cause a drowsy afternoon.

To make a more substantial meal for Saturday or Sunday night supper, lace the top of the salad with thin strips of ham, chicken, or cheese.

Creamed Tuna In Rice Ring
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon oil from tuna
2 cups evaporated milk
½ teaspoon salt
Few gratings lemon peel
Dash of nutmeg
1 7-ounce can tuna (1 cup)
3-4 cup rice.

Blend flour and oil. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly to keep smooth. Add seasonings. Cook over boiling water until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally. Add tuna that has been flaked with a fork, and continue cooking until thoroughly heated. Wash rice. Drop into quart briskly boiling, salted water and boil until tender. Drain and rinse. Press rice firmly into a ring mold, then turn out carefully onto a hot platter. Fill center with Creamed Tuna. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

MEATY DESSERT

A meaty dessert is baked apples and mincemeat. Wash and core apples and hollow out leaving a shell about 1/3 to ½-inch thick. Chop pulp and combine with mincemeat sweetened with 1 tablespoon brown sugar for each apple. Fill apples with mincement and bake at 350 degrees F, until soft. Serve with or without hard sauce.

RELISH TRAY

If first course fare seems scarce, try this: Wash and trim 8 stalks of celery. Combine, mixing well, ¾ cup creamy cottage cheese, 1 and ½ tablespoons 57 sauce, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper. Stuff celery with this mixture. Chill and serve. This is also a nice filling for crisp crackers.

Plan Easter Party For Teen-Agers

During the Easter school holidays, let the 'teen-age members of the family have a party. They all love carbonated cola drinks, fruit-flavored soda, and ginger ale. Place bottles of these carbonated beverages, thoroughly chilled, on the table. Have a bowl of ice cubes ready. To make the cubes, pour ginger ale or cola drinks into freezing tray. The colored and flavored "ice" will add interest to the party.

Serve square sandwiches "frosted" with cream cheese and decorated flowers made with sliced egg yolk centers and egg white petals.

Chopped Meat Filling
(Makes 5 sandwiches)

One cup left-over meat, chopped, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 finely chopped hard-cooked eggs, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, mayonnaise.

Mix all together. Spread on bread.

For sweet fillings, use guava jelly on white or wholewheat bread, or marmalade with chopped nuts. And of course the old standby of cream cheese and jelly or a date-and-nut mixture on brown bread is always welcomed by young appetites.

"Chicken" Sandwich Filling
(Makes 5 sandwiches)

One cup coarsely ground cooked veal, 1-4 cup shredded raw carrots, 3-4 cup chopped celery, 4 tablespoons mayonnaise, salt to taste, 1½ tablespoons chopped mustard pickle.

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Spread between buttered slices of bread.

BREAKFAST TREAT

Codfish is delicious as a breakfast food. Flavor the cream sauce with a pinch of dried mustard or a dash of red pepper or cayenne.

EASTER MEAT—Cushion style lamb shoulder boned and stuffed with apple dressing is served up with crisp French fried onion rings. Other fruity fillings are apricot or Norwegian fruit-nut stuffing, not to mention such ones as mint, sausage, corn or rice. End the meal with spicy sour cream raisin pie.

Make Stuffed Lamb Shoulder Top Your Spring Eating

LAMB shoulder with apple stuffing, French fried onion rings and dessert of sour cream raisin pie is a meal for spring appetites. There will be no laggers when served slices of this stuffed roast. French friend onion rings that garnish the roast have a lot of flavor to go with the lamb.

Lamb is our spring choice for meat. Because it's young, it's tender and goes well with spring vegetables and fruits—new potatose and peas, asparagus, tomatoes and rhubarb. This boned cushion style lamb shoulder is stuffed with a tart apple dressing.

Include these tested lamb recipes in your repertoire of favorite meals.

Lamb Shoulder With Apple Stuffing
1 lamb shoulder
¼ pound salt pork, diced
¼ cup chopped celery leaves and stalks
¼ cup chopped onion
2 cups chopped apple
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon each of pepper, thyme, marjoram and sage
1 cup dry bread crumbs.

Have a square-cut lamb shoulder boned and sewed on one side. Fry salt pork in heavy skillet until almost crisp. Add celery and onion and cook over low heat until soft. Add diced apples, brown sugar and seasoning. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly about 3 minutes. Add bread crumbs and stir lightly over low heat about 2 minutes. Fill cavity of lamb shoulder with stuffing and sew or skewer edges together. Place shoulder, fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Roast at 325 degree F. allowing about 40 minutes per pound of meat. Serves 8.

Sour Cream Raisin Pie
½ recipe pastry
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup sour cream
1 cup raisins
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar.

Make pastry using lard for one 8-inch shell. In top of double boiler mix together cornstarch, sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves. Add well-beaten egg yolks and mix well. Add sour cream and raisins and cook over hot water till thick. Cool and pour into baked pastry shell. Top with meringue made from egg whites and sugar. Brown at 300 degrees F. for 20 to 30 minutes.

Vegetables Extend Beef Hamburgers

Even one-half pound of chopped beef is a lot of treat these days. To make it into eight hamburgers requires magic but here is a formula that will do it:

One-half pound chopped beef, ½ cup minced onion, ½ cup minced celery, ½ cup minced raw carrot, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, mayonnaise, toasted hamburger buns.

Mix meat, vegetables and seasonings together thoroughly. Shape into 8 flat patties. Pan fry in 3 tablespoons of real mayonnaise, not salad dressing, over moderate heat. Split hamburger buns, toast and spread with real mayonnaise. Place hamburgers in buns. Serve with mustard baked beans (add mustard with horseradish to canned or home-made baked beans).

Creamed Eggs

4 eggs	1½ tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon chopped pimientoes	2 tablespoons butter or substitute
¼ teaspoon salt	Dash of pepper
2 cups milk

Cover eggs with cold water, add a little salt and heat slowly to just below the boiling point. Hold at this temperature, over low heat, without boiling, for 30 minutes. Drain, cover with cold water and let stand five minutes. Remove shells, and chop eggs coarsely. Melt butter in saucepan, remove from fire and add flour, mixing to a smooth paste. Return to flame and gradually pour in milk, stirring constantly, until sauce has thickened. Add seasonings. Add eggs and pimientoes and heat five minutes over boiling water.

ON BUYING FISH

Don't just ask for fish! Do you want whole fish or fish fillets, or will you have the whole fish dressed and boned? Will you have big or little fish? Lean fish or fat fish? Lean fish, such as cod, haddock, flounder and halibut, as a rule, are preferred for boiling, steaming or making chowders or for simple grilled dinners. Fat fish, such as mackerel, salmon, etc., are generally preferred for baking and are most often prepared with highly tasty sauces. Both fat and lean fish, of course, are excellent fried.

Tragedy Of Manila Is Sickening; Buildings, Homes Lie In Ruins

By JAMES HUTCHESON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA.—A drive through the once beautiful residential districts of Manila south of the Pasig river is nearly as sickening as a survey of the block after block of shattered buildings in the downtown area.

They share the ghastly scars of the most destructive chapter of the war in the Southwest Pacific.

Many Are Ashes

In the Pasay, Malate and the Ermita districts, probably two-thirds of the better homes are destroyed or damaged. Many are only piles of ashes and rubble, with concrete steps still standing as mute reminder of a once beautiful mansion in a fence-enclosed yard. Twisted, charred corrugated metal roofing is strewn about. Sometimes a bathtub or two stand out in the ruble, but many have been carted away.

Some of the mansions which escaped with nothing worse than a few broken windows in the fighting have suffered from the ravages that come in the wake of war. Looters had a field day.

A three-story mansion in which some of the press corps set up headquarters had beautiful wood panelled walls on the first floor. Most of them were torn out, leaving concrete exposed. The wooden banister was ripped off. Doors were taken from or with their hinges.

The tragedy of Manila is burned deep.

Yanks Bring Lights

When a bunch of Yanks hit a town, it's a safe bet the bright lights—or in this case the candle lights—won't be far behind.

Innumerable little hole-in-the-wall cafes and bars have reopened in the non-modernized section of the Pasig, outside the rim of the destroyed main business district. A few are beginning to appear in the residential area along Taft avenue on the south side. They offer sandwiches, coffee, drinks without ice and sometimes a bit of music.

Where there are drinks, there is always bound to be a bigger night job for the M.P.'s. Some of the M.P.'s, with a sense of somewhat grim and melodramatic humor, posted this sign outside the door of the lock-up room in old Bilibid prison:

"In this cell, tied by their thumbs to the rings of the wall, countless numbers of American officers and soldiers were tortured to death for refusing to lower the standards of our nation and our Army—so that someday in the future you could get drunk in Manila."

Bullet Causes Only "Slight Headache"

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (U.P.)—A .32 caliber bullet went through Joseph Klepl's head yesterday but, except for a "slight headache," he suffered no ill effects.

Doctors, terming his escape from death "miraculous," said the bullet entered his head below the right ear and came out just above the left one.

"My wife and I had a little scuffle," Klepl said, in explanation. "She wanted me to put the gun away and somehow it just went off suddenly."

Syria And Lebanon Invited To Frisco

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—The State department announced today that Syria and Lebanon have been invited to attend the San Francisco conference on the suggestion of France.

At the same time the department published messages from the two countries pledging their adherence to the United Nations declaration.

The total of countries invited to San Francisco is now 46 with a strong possibility that it will reach 48, should Argentina and Poland settle their diplomatic difficulties in time to be invited.

Announcement that France took the initiative in proposing that Syria and Lebanon be invited to San Francisco came as a surprise in view of recent reports from Paris that that government would object to their inclusion.

Syria and Lebanon were French mandates after the last war but recently were given more independent status by France.

Reaves Named Head Of Houston Hospital

HOUSTON, March 29 (U.P.)—A. S. Reaves, 39-year-old head of the Quanah City General hospital, will become superintendent of Houston's Jefferson Davis hospital on May 1, filling a vacancy created last July by the resignation of Dr. C. S. Hallsons.

Reaves' appointment to the big hospital's top job was confirmed late yesterday by the Houston city council, following earlier approval by the Jefferson Davis Hospital board.

In the Turkish National Assembly frock coats are obligatory and the president must wear dress clothes and a top hat.

Land Purchase Fund Proposed

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—General Land Commissioner Bascom Giles in an address before the House of Representatives today proposed creation of a $25,000,000 revolving fund to purchase of land for distribution exclusively among Texas veterans of World war II.

Giles suggested submission of a constitutional amendment that would permit use of public free school fund money for his plan and creation of a public board to administer it.

His proposal was that federal government military installations, state prison, public free school lands and some suitable privately owned lands be obtained.

Conditions Given

It would be disposed of by the school land board to veterans under these conditions.

Begin sales six months after the duration of the war and continue them for five years.

Set a maximum purchase of $5,000 worth of land by one veteran.

Sell no land at less than cost.

Sell for cash or as low as one-tenth down payment, 4 per cent interest and 40 years time on balance.

Reserve for the state one-eighth free royalty on sulphur and one-sixteenth on oil, gas and all other minerals.

Giles estimated his proposal would give at least 10,000 Texas veterans an opportunity to become owners of tracts varying in size from 50 to 2,500 acres.

Synthetic Rubber Needs Are Cited

DALLAS, March 29 (U.P.)—Synthetic rubber production during 1945 will have to be increased by 200,000 tons if the United States is going to meet its requirements for military and civilian use, J. W. Livingston, vice president of the Rubber Reserve company said in Dallas tdaoy.

Livingston, here for a three-day conference with leading petroleum industry technicians engaged in synthetic rubber production in government-owned plants, said that by 1946, needs for synthetic rubber will be approximately 1,200,000 tons. This exceeds the world's peak year of consumption of natural rubber by some 50,000 tons, Livingstone said.

He predicted that synthetic and natural rubber will not be in competition with each other for several years after the war and said that "at least for three years" all the world's supplies of natural rubber and all the synthetic rubber that can be economically produced would be needed to meet demands for the critical material.

SKELLY REPORTS INCREASE

TULSA, March 29. (AP)—Skelly Oil Co. reports 1944 consolidated net income of $7,222,903, equal to $7.36 a common share, compared with $5,461, 708, or $5.56 a common share, for the preceding year.

Week-End Plans Set At Community Center

An April Fool party for the teen-age group and an Easter egg hunt for the younger children has been planned for the week-end at the Community Center, Mrs. Cecil Sharbutt, director, has announced.

Bingo with prizes for the games will be played at the April Fool party Saturday night from 8 until 11 o'clock. Assisting Mrs. Sharbutt will be Evelyn Cash, arts and crafts teacher at the center and Billy Rex Kelley, athletic director. Miss Cash and Kelley are students at Texas Tech.

The Easter egg hunt will be sponsored by the Sanders P-TA. All children in the community are invited to meet at the center at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon after which they will go to McKenzie park where the hunt will be held. Each child is to bring four colored hard-boiled eggs, Mrs. Sharbutt said.

Civilians Due To Get More Dressed Birds

DALLAS, March 29 (AP) — War Food administration's new incentive plan to poultry processors to speed up operations should soon mean more dressed chickens for civilians, C. M. Evans, WFA's southwest dairy and poultry representative, said today.

For several months all authorized processors in heavy broiler producing areas, including counties in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri, have been reserving all chickens for the armed forces, thus reducing supplies going to Fort Worth, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Little Rock and New Orleans areas.

WFA's new incentive plan calls for a weekly goal for processing plants, based on the amount of poultry each plant can turn out in a 40-hour week. Under the plan, plants exceeding their goal can release one-half the excess for civilian use. First take of production still goes to the armed forces, Evans explained, and supplies to them will not be reduced.

State Deficit Is Predicted

AUSTIN, March 29. (AP) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson predicted today that unless the legislature levies some new taxes the state will again go on a deficit, if appropriations continue at the present rate.

He estimated that appropriations already passed and in sight amount to $20,000,000 more than presently spent by the state.

This included old age pension increases which amount to $3,600,000 a year; raising the ad valorem school tax rate at a cost of $8,000,000; rural school aid increase and $4,500,000 and department increases of $1,000,000.

Citing those figures, the governor predicted of the legislature: "They are going on a deficit before the end of the session."

He did not suggest new taxes that might be levied. The rural school aid and departmental bills have not been acted upon finally but the governor said he was using figures reported to have been agreed upon.

After being on a deficit for 10 years, the state general revenue fund balance showed a cash balance last December.

Stevenson re-iterated a previous statement that he does not plan to reconvene the legislature for redistricting the state. He endorsed the proposal of state Land Commissioner Bascom Giles for state sale of land on long time payments to war veterans, as outlined to the house of representatives by Giles yesterday.

Vandegrift, Waesche Are Given Promotions

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP) — President Roosevelt today nominated Lt. Gen. Alexander A. Vandergrift for promotion to the rank of general and Vice Admiral Russell R. Waesche for promotion to the rank of admiral.

Vandegrift is commandant of the Marine corps; Waesche commandant of the Coast Guard. Mr. Roosevelt proposed the promotions under a law he signed last week providing the four-star ranks for the commanding officers of the two organizations during the war.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt nominated three vice admirals for promotion to the rank of admiral: Richard S. Edwards, deputy commander in chief of the U. S. fleet; Henry K. Hewitt, commander of the Eighth fleet in the Mediterranean, and Thomas C. Kinkaid, commander of the Seventh fleet and top naval officer under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The President also nominated five rear admirals to be vice admirals, four commodores to be rear admirals and 20 captains to be commodores.

Byrnes Blocks Big Navy Program, Plans Review Of Other Agencies

By SANDOR S. KLEIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29 — War Mobilization Directbr James F. Byrnes was revealed today to have blocked the Navy's plan to build 72 new warships because he was convinced they were intended for the postwar fleet.

A spokesman for Byrnes told the United Press that Byrnes' action was taken after consultation with Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal and Adm. Ernest J. King and had the approval of the President. He also disclosed that Byrnes was reviewing the activities of other war agencies with a view to ordering cutbacks to conserve materials and make manpower available for more urgent requirements.

"Insurance" Program

Three weeks ago, the Navy announced a program for the construction of 84 warships as "insurance" against the possibility of a greater loss rate as the war moved closer to Japan. Byrnes, however, held that for the most part this program was of a postwar character. He did permit the Navy to go ahead with plans to build 12 escort carriers which were in the original program.

It was obvious that the Navy was displeased at the slash. Secretary of Navy James Forrestal told newsmen that he may ask to have parts of the canceled program revived.

"We should continue," he said, "to build ships of types reflecting the experience of this war."

Two Super-Carriers

Among the ships included in the cancelled portion of the program were two 45,000-ton supercarriers. These vessels would have given the U. S. five ships of this type. One has already been launched and two others are under construction.

The program had been authorized by Congress although no funds had been appropriated. The over-all construction cost would have been $1,700,000,000. On the basis of that authorization the Navy went ahead and let contracts for 66 of the 84 ships.

Billion and Half Involved

The cancelled portion of the program represented $1,508,000,000. The 12 escort carriers which Byrnes permitted the Navy to build will cost about $192,000,000.

Yards affected by the cancellation and the ships they were to build included:

Consolidated Steel Co., Ltd., Orange, Tex., 10 destroyers.

CONVOY LOSSES GIVEN

LONDON, March 29. (AP)—Allied convoys to Russia—running one of the most hazardous war routes—have suffered losses of only 8.4 per cent, A. V. Alexander, first lord of the Admiralty, disclosed today at a luncheon honoring the Soviet armed forces.

Lodz is a Polish textile center, and is sometimes called the "Manchester" of Poland.

Proposed Charter For Labor-Management Is Praised By President

WASHINGTON, March 29. (U.P.) — President Roosevelt today praised the proposed labor-management charter for a postwar partnership. He viewed it as a means of making possible "the full employment of labor and capital under our system of free competitive enterprise when hostilities cease."

He voiced his pleasure over the proposal in a letter to AFL President William Green, CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Chamber of Commerce President Eric A. Johnston. They proposed the plan. Mr. Roosevelt's letter was in response to one from them telling of it.

The President said he was "very pleased" to learn of their decision "to effectuate the dual objective of cooperation in industry and national prosperity" in the postwar period.

Dallas Faced With Huge Labor Surplus

DALLAS, March 29. (U.P.)—If the prediction of Martin R. Kelly, district supervisor of the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission is true, Dallas faces the gloomy prospect of more than 45,000 unemployed persons in the city after the war and during the period of reconversion.

Kelly said a recent survey of war plants and other industries in the 13 county Dallas district of the TUCC showed the rosy picture of most post-war planners — more jobs than persons to fill them—is wrong.

So pessimistic are the findings, he said, that the compensation commission has begun to train personnel to handle compensation payments to unemployed persons.

Meat In Canada Said Equitably Distributed

OTTAWA, March 29 (U.P.)—Agriculture Minister James Gardiner denied today that Canada had more meat per capita than the United States.

Gardiner said a statement by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., in Washington that Canada had more meat than it knew what to do with was incorrect.

The United States, Gardiner told parliament yesterday, has a "greater difficulty in equalizing distribution" and the meat situation was better in Canada because of "a more equitable distribution."

Independent Oil Men To Be Invited To Meeting In City

Independent oil men, royalty owners and others interested in the welfare of the independent's role in the petroleum industry are to be invited to attend a meeting here on April 19 to hear officials of the Independent Petroleum Association of America discuss problems of the industry.

The meeting was arranged here Thursday by B. H. Vickery of Tulsa, field representative of the association, in conference with Lubbock oil men.

Harold B. Fell of Ardmore, Okla., vice president of the association, and C. E. Buchner of Tulsa, executive manager, will be principal speakers at the meeting which is tentatively planned at a local hotel at night but without a meal being served.

H. H. Van Aken, chairman; Geo. P. Livermore, W. S. Posey, S. E. Cone and Geo. Walters were named as a committee to arrange for the meeting.

One of the highlights of the meeting will be discussion of the recent F. H. E. Oil company decision at New Orleans in which the court held the long established method of deducting for intangible drilling costs to be improper in filing of tax returns Potentially destructive in nature, the impact of the decision would further hamper oil development facilities that are already strained.

Vickery quoted Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the association, on the decision: "First, if the court decision which invalidated the regulations of the bureau of internal revenue becomes final the immediate effect will be to seriously impair the drilling and producing program of the industry, and eventually will force many independent producers of crude oil out of business. Second, there must eventually be Congressional correction of the law to legalize, in substance, the regulations held to be invalid by the court. Third, it does not seem likely that the bureau of internal revenue will permit the effect of this decision to be applied retroactively."

The IPAA's national program and other problems of the industry will also be discussed at the meeting here.

Officials Chosen By C. C. At Levelland

LEVELLAND, March 29. (Special). — Ray Watson was named president of the Hockley County Board of Development Monday night in a meeting of the board of directors, succeeding George A. Stallworth.

C. B. Edgar was elected vice-president, Roy Simpson, treasurer, and J. S. Mansfield was renamed secretary-manager. Mansfield will begin his fourth year in that position on April 1, at which time all other officers will begin their duties.

Directors include D. E. Collins, Bob Hester, Kenneth Harper, Homer Johnson, Clyde King, John Morton, W. A. Nance, Harvie D. Pool, Stallworth, Simpson, Watson and Edgar.

The various committees will be announced at a meeting on April 9 and the annual membership dinner will be discussed at that time. An extensive program is planned by the organization, according to Mansfield.

Luther Monument Remains Undamaged

WORMS ON THE RHINE, March 29 (AP)—The bronze figures of Martin Luther and his fellow reformers, one of Protestantism's best known monuments, have defied the bombings, straffings and artillery fire of 1945 much as the original Luther defied the kaiser and reich of 1512.

The entire so-called Luther monument escaped damage, although explosives dug craters only a short distance from its base and shattered less durable structures around it.

Jap Accosted Didn't Know Location Either

TWENTY-FOURTH DIVISION HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, March 29. (AP)—First Lt. Thomas McCorlew, Cleveland, Tex., trying to establish contact between two isolated companies during a Philippine fight, stopped a man on a front line road at twilight and inquired the whereabouts of one unit.

The man turned around.

"Well, I'll be——."

It was a wandering Jap—possibly also looking for his unit.

The Jap lit out down the road. McCorlew fired once but missed "I was too surprised to aim."

Views On South Are Given By UAW Head

DALLAS, March 29. (AP)—The CIO is "100 per cent in favor of an industrial South that has no color, race nor religious prejudices," R. J. Thomas said yesterday.

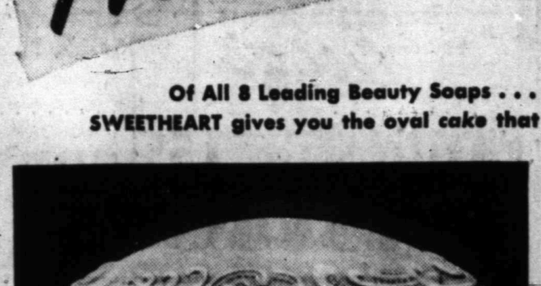

Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers, told southwestern CIO representatives at a meeting here that the CIO also was in favor of wiping out freight rate differentials which he said hindered the South.

Jokers Seen In Funds Proposals

Rep. Preston E. Smith of Lubbock sees "jokers" in two proposed amendments that would affect state-supported colleges, press statements in Austin this week indicate.

Smith was quoted in a downstate paper regarding a proposed constitutional amendment introduced by Representative Chambers and now on the House calendar, which would require that two-thirds of available university fund go to the University of Texas and one-third to Texas A. & M. college, with the money represented as for new buildings only. Rep. Smith insists there is a hitch in the way the resolution reads, in that it directs the legislature to appropriate the fund for support, maintenance and operation of, and the acquiring of, permanent improvements of the institutions and that under those terms the money could be used for paying salaries or any other expenses.

"While statements from proponents say the university does not have enough funds for new building purposes, yet this proposed constitutional amendment gives the institution heads the right to spend the funds for anything that might come under maintenance and support, so there must be plenty of money after all," Smith was quoted as saying.

The other proposed amendment on which he commented has been offered by Representative Proffer of Denton and makes it mandatory to collect the seven-cent Confederate pension tax and turn five cents of it over to a building fund for state-supported colleges with the exception of the university and Texas A. & M. college. The levy is seven cents on the $100 property valuation. "But the joker here, assuming it is such," Smith said, "gives the Board of Control the right to spend this money for state hospitals, office buildings and any other state buildings whether a college or not. It merely sets up a state institutional fund in the resolution itself."

CAUTIOUS

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY, March 27. (Delayed). (AP) — As the Americans fought their way into Frankfurt today against ferocious opposition, a rumor was passed around that the mayor wanted to surrender the city without a fight. "How many precincts does he control?" cracked a sour doughboy, dodging another artillery shell.

Nice Prizes Set For Scurry County Show

SNYDER, March 29. (Special)—Prizes totaling $500 will be awarded and ribbons given for the first 10 places in the Scurry county 4-H club and FFA Livestock show here Saturday, said Raymond King, Scurry county agent and secretary of the show.

The show, which is sponsored by the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, will be held at the tabernacle in the north part of town and will open at 10 a. m. A parade will be held at 1:15 p. m. and an auction of the show champion and other animals at approximately 4:30 p. m. W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department at Texas Tech in Lubbock, will judge the animals.

A total of 160 animals have been entered in 17 classes of the show, King said. An added award, a registered palamino filly, will be given the boy showing the grand champion calf.

In connection with the livestock show, a labor saving device show will be held in which shop and home-made equipment are to be featured. Factory-made equipment is also to be shown.

Louisianan Is Named Reserve Bank Director

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP) —Appointment of George A. Frierson, Shreveport, La., planter, as a director of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas was announced today by the Federal Reserve board.

He will serve the unexpired portion of a term ending Dec. 31, 1947, succeeding Dolph Briscoe, a stock raiser of Uvalde, Tex., who resigned.

This Day Of Sacrifice

Another War-Torn Good Friday

FOR the fourth successive year, the observance of Good Friday finds this nation engaged in a bloody war, with millions of the young men of the country far from their homes and loved ones. Millions of parents, wives and brothers and sisters are filled with deep concern. Worried minds are myriad and broken hearts are numerous. Suffering, whether mental or physical, has become commonplace.

Almost everywhere in the world blood is being spilled and tears are being shed. The dreamy islands of the Pacific are disturbed by the boom of cannon and the cracking of the rifle. Mountains of Europe, to which a modern Roman unbeliever once repaired for quiet contemplation, have echoed to the violent crash of the bomb and the thump of the mortar. Proud cities in which men of the world have long felt perfectly secure have become heaps of rubble. And the end of turmoil and the strife throughout the world is not yet in sight.

The world is passing through a tragedy which gives the heart of man a certain kinship with the heart of the suffering Christ. He, who was wholly innocent, underwent horrible torture for the salvation of mankind —a paramount example for those free of guilt who are suffering today. Sacrifice, which is the keynote of Christianity, is also the means of building a better world.

Sacrifice is the characteristic of the soldier who valorously gives his life in behalf of his fellowman. And the noble sacrifice of the soldier is transformed into lasting consolation for his loved ones. As mundane leaders frequently emphasize, it is only through sacrifice that the type of world that civilized men can cherish can be brought into being. And it is only through sacrifice that it can be maintained.

This day which Christendom observes as commemorating deep sorrow is also a day commemorating the Supreme Sacrifice.

[illegible] in Lubbock; Americans everywhere, will remember this as we observe Good Friday of 1945.

Our Increasing Elders

BY repeating again the fact that the life expectancy of Americans has increased 15 years—from 50 to 65 years—since 1900, the surgeon general of the United States Public Health service has invited speculation on one of the most powerful, but least understood, currents in American life.

The increasing proportion of older people has presented new problems. The big problem, of course, is the support of this age group in fair contentment. Those among them who have accumulated what is called a competence—an assured living income—are no problem. Those who are not in this class, but come under the federal annuity plan, are hardly a serious problem. But there remains a large group of elders who feel that they are unjustly denied employment solely because of arbitrary age restrictions, or are forced into unemployment in return for a grant of age assistance.

The political power of these older citizens is being felt, but not correctly analyzed. Ostensibly they are the power behind such campaigns as that for the Towsend plan. They are the leaders, but they command a lot of votes of younger people who would benefit both by the spending of the elders and by relief from an obligation to support the older members of their family.

Already the welfare appropriations voted for the care of elder people rival the spending for public school education. But mere discussion of principle is not going to persuade the elders to vote against what they logically regard as their own self-interest. They are going to vote tax money into their pockets until their right to earn a living at useful employment is respected. Some gainful work for them must be found.

We say "some gainful work for them must be found," because we believe the vast majority of our elder citizens would rather support themselves by their own efforts than be "taken care of" by the government. We also make the statement because we believe our national economy, in the not too distant future, may not be able to bear the burden of added millions who do not contribute to some sort of gainful production.

"Pain is only imagination," asserts a health cultist, who gives us an imagination in the neck.

The One Minute Sermon

Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity.

For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb.

Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.

Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass.—Psalms 37, 1 through 5.

THE STORY: Frederic Chopin insults the new Czarist governor of Poland by refusing to play before him at Count Wodzinski's dinner party. His friends warn him to leave the country. Josef Elsner says he has saved enough money to take them both to Paris.

THE ROAD TO PARIS

The nightmarish hours were behind them. They had traveled by night and had slept by day in fields and in haylofts, Frederic from exhaustion, Josef Elsner with an impatience to be on their way. They had avoided main-traveled roads ad had crossed the Polish border unchallenged under cover of darkness. On their first night in Germany they had slept at an inn, taking full advantage of the luxury of a bed. They slept so soundly that even the violent knocking on their door in the early morning had failed to rouse them and they had almost missed the diligence. By the time they were awake and in their clothes they had to choose between making the coach or staying on for breakfast. The innkeeper shouted it was not his fault; he had knocked with such violence to wake them he thought the door would come loose from its hinges. "Tch, tch," Jozef Elsner said. "Does anybody say you didn't?" The innkeeper folded his arms across his broad stomach. Frederic and Josef Elsner chose to make the coach; they could do without breakfast.

Frederic was tired and there was no way to shake the tiredness off. His head drooped, his eyes closed.

Jozef Elsner was as gusty as ever, though his talk now was really for his own ears; Frederic was asleep, and the other passengers who were not annoyed, were indifferent.

"—Imagine it! Only yesterday—Tch, tch, who will live yesterday? Certainly not I! Yesterday is gone. This is today, and today is real—Paris is waiting. Paris, gentlemen—that is where we are going. And what is Paris? Paris is Pleyel—and Pleyel is Paris! You know that—Eh?"

Jozef Elsner waved his hand at a gentleman across from him.

"—And who is Pleyel? Pleyel is my good friend. Yes, Monsieur,—my very warm friend—"

He poked his elbow into Frederic's side and Frederic moved, shaken more by the swaying of the coach than by Elsner's prodding, but he did not open his eyes.

"—'Louis,' I will say, 'it's me—your dear friend — Elsner — and may I present to you my pupil, Frederic Chopin?' "

Jozef Elsner's chin was thrust out farther than usual as he fixed his gaze on the unsympathetic eyes of the gentleman across from him. "This, Monsieur, is Frederic Chopin. You have heard of him no doubt? Yes?"

"Nein."

"—You have not? Well, you will hear of him or my name is not Jozef Elsner! I present to you now, Monsieur, my friend and pupil, Frederic Chopin—master pianist—master composer—!"

Frederic's eyes opened.

"—Monsieur, my friend and pupil—Frederic Chopin!"

Frederic's head drooped.

Jozef Elsner saw to it that Frederic was never in a draft, or that his throat was never unduly exposed. And he was forever introducing Frederic to everybody with whom they came into contact.

"—I am not ashamed of your talent!" the old man would say sternly when Frederic begged him please not to do it.

—No, no, it wasn't that.

Jozef Elsner would work his jaw, or sniff; or steady his broad hat on his head. He was always ruffled whenever Frederic talked like that. But he never lost an opportunity to drop the name of Frederic Chopin wherever he could. Right on into the French capital itself, he introduced his friend and pupil to the keeper of every inn at which they stopped, whether it was for the night or merely to change horses.

They approached the environs of Paris and here, at the end of the broad, dusty road was to be the realization of the dream which Jozef Elsner had nurtured with so much confidence over the years.

"—Louis," said he, addressing an imaginary Louis Pleyel, "what do you think of him? Eh? And now, my dear Louis, what are your plahs? No, no—that is out of the question—you must be out of your mind, Louis! Frederic cannot possibly make his debut tomorrow. How can he do that? Tch, tch. The boy needs a rest. Besides, the fact is—as you can imagine—he hasn't touched a piano in days. Paris will hear him—of course—but when Paris hears him, I want Paris to hear him! Well, that will mean—let me see—tch, tch—I should say, at the very earliest—a week. Yet, to tell the truth, Louis—I should prefer you'd give him—well—at least 10 days—

"Frederic, was I right?"

Frederic heard only the galloping hoofs that were bringing him nearer and nearer to Paris.

Jozef Elsner curled his underlip. "Yes, I was right—perfectly right—"

The coach rolled into Paris and when it came to a stop Jozef Elsner climbed out and stood for a moment on the cobbled street and tok a ing breath.

The coachmen threw down their carpetbags and bundles.

"To tell you the truth," Jozef Elsner said, reaching up to help Frederic, "I had a feeling—yes, a feeling—that once we were in Paris—well, it wouldn't be quite what we expected. Then I would say to myself, 'Jozef Elsner, you are an old fool.' Tch, tch—now we can laugh. Eh? Why, only look—it's more wonderful than ever I thought it could be."

Praise Given Move Of Texas Senate

MEXICO CITY, March 29. (AP)—Deputy Francisco de P. Jiminez, chairman of one of the foreign relations committees, expressed great satisfaction yesterday at the approval of an anti-discrimination law by a committee of the Texas Senate.

He said "the attitude of the members of that committee is worthy of the highest praise as the first step by the Texas legislative authorities toward effective application of the "Good Neighbor policy'."

Jiminez added that the unanimous approval of the new law by the Texas Senate warranted the hope that it would be equally approved by both houses of the Texas Legislature.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

A FEW evenings ago we went to a buffet supper given by one of our neighbors, Mrs. Alvin Tuck jr. in honor of her husband who was home on a furlough.

We had just come back home from New York where we had seen a couple of shows (one of them the much touted 'On The Town,' and heaven only knows what there is about that show for which to pay $5.40 a seat) and where we had been thoroughly gypped at one of the "better restaurants"—and I can't begin to tell you what a relief that little buffet supper was to us.

The hosts and the guests were genuine New England people who don't go to New York very often but who know more of what is going on in the world than most of the subway-riding, apartment-dwelling New Yorkers.

There weren't any fancy dishes with high-sounding names. But there was home-cooked chicken and fresh peas and delicious salad and a lemon-meringue pie such as no New York chef has ever baked. And, lest I forget it, there were hot biscuits that melted in your mouth and coffee as delicious as any you ever drank.

BRANDEIS

There was 86-year old Mr. Williams, whose mind is as keen as a 30-year-old's; there was Mrs. Brush, who showed us pictures of her children and her grandchildren; there was Mr. Terry, the lumberman, and Mrs. Terry, and then there was the Reverend Robert H. Parkes and Mrs. Parkes.

* * *

And it is this Dr. Parkes about whom I want to tell you.

He is the Episcopalian minister in our little town.

When we first moved out here he called on us and asked us to join his church.

Well, my wife is a Presbyterian and I am a Lutheran, and we didn't quite feel like joining the Episcopalian church.

But, just as a matter of courtesy, we decided to go to Dr. Parkes' church the coming Sunday.

We got up early, put on our best bib and tucker and were all set. When I went out to the old red barn to get the car, the door was stuck and I couldn't open it to save my neck. I tried and tried but the darn thing wouldn't move.

So I took it as an omen and we didn't go to Dr. Parkes' church then or at any other time.

But Parkes and I became good friends. We have argued about religion a lot. He respects my views and I respect his—and we both hope to go to heaven our separate ways.

THE other evening at the Tucks, he told me that he had gone to work in a nearby war plant where they manufacture radar equipment.

He gets up at six every morning and punches the time clock at seven. He works until noon, and in the afternoon he lectures before clubs and reads. In the evenings he calls on his parishioners and prepares his Sunday sermon or goes to meetings in his churches.

Notice I said "churches." After preaching here in Brookfield he rushes over to Bridgewater, a little village ten miles away, and holds services there.

I asked him why he does all that. I know it isn't for the money.

"Well," he said, "I think a pastor should know human beings not only as churchgoers but as workers. What good is religion if it is only practiced from ten to eleven on Sunday? Work itself is religion. And by working with those fellows in the shop and helping to win the war I feel that we all sort of live our religion every day in the week."

Simple, isn't it? I'm not going to Dr. Parkes' church. But he promised me that he and his wife would come over for supper next week.

Rivalry And Plastics

Feared Menace To Building Jobs

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

RIVALRY between vested interests in the building industry and the potential postwar producers of plastic construction materials threatens to prevent or delay the arrival of the promised era of low-priced, comfortable homes, factories and office buildings.

The clash has not become acute or open yet because there is no private expansion of any kind now. But slightly visible signs of the struggle reveal that it will be the first and most serious of many similar controversies which wartime advances will generate between established and pioneering corporations.

TUCKER

The dispute involves—or will involve—such picturesque and powerful forces as Fred T. Ley and Henry J. Kaiser, Pennsylvania's U. S. Steel and its magnesium-aluminum competitors in the West, John L. Lewis and William Green, the dominant banks of Wall Street and the Reconstruction Finance corporation. It may precipitate another fundamental feud between New Deal experimenters and old-fashioned industrialists.

SERVICES: The basis of the prospective battle is that many new plastic industries mean to expand their fields when the war ends. They have held out the hope of prefabricated houses and factories that can be built cheaply and inexpensively.

In their laboratories they have mastered the know-how and have perfected their plans. They expect to be able to supply a vast market sooner than most people believe.

Eventually they will try to apply the same mass-construction technique to the manufacture of many other heavy and consumer goods, ranging from automobiles and railroad rolling stock to kitchen pots and pans. Together with the airplane industry, they envisage their enterprise as one which will provide new conveniences, services, profits and jobs.

Quoting Rex Tugwell, the original ambitious brain truster, they proclaim, "We intend to remake America!"

ENTRENCHED: The advocates and makers of synthetics, however, have already discovered that they will have to battle every step of the way to establish themselves in the building and other key industries. They had expected some opposition. But the violent, concerted power of their rivals has shocked them.

The newcomers know that they must overcome the fierce resistance of William Green's construction craftsmen, the banks which have financed prewar structures, the firms which do not want lighter metals substituted for steel, brick, copper and lumber. The CIO, which controls mass industries such as steel, autos and textiles, hates the very mention of plastics.

William Green's bricklayers, carpenters, hoisting engineers and roofers, for instance, see their jobs menaced by the introduction of ready-made homes. Houses will be constructed in the shop instead of on the site. Many workers are too old to learn a new trade or technique, and resent suggestions that they try to do so.

It must not be forgotten, too, that the Building Trades unions comprise the wealthiest and most numerous units in the AFL. Moreover, their lobbies dominate boards of aldermen and state legislators, which must rewrite building codes and ordinances to pace the way for plastics.

In short, ranged against the innovators are all the vast political groups in cities, states and Congress which the entrenched and vested interests have already mobilized.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE sensational sweeps of our Third and Seventh Armies in the Palatinate and the Saar have bagged another huge batch of prisoners. Enemy soldiers are surrendering by the thousands.

LEMAN

How can the Germans continue to lose men at this rate and still have enough left to fight? The answer of military topnotchers is that Hitler cannot stand the drain indefinitely.

But a factor overlooked by headline scanners is that a fresh supply of cannon fodder has been pouring into the Wehrmacht for the past year. And Nazi taskmasters have wrung the last drop of sweat from slave laborers. So far these reserves have offset casualties but the reservoirs are now running dry.

Colonel Conrad H. Lanza, writing in the latest Military Review, lists various sources of new troops and concludes, "Adding all these contingents together indicates that Germany probably has been able to fill vacancies in her ranks and may still have men in her depots. It should not be forgotten that the yearly class of young men from eighty-five million Germans approximates a million."

Weight should be given to his statement, though it contradicts many optimistic guesses by radio commentators, because the periodical is published by the United States Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, the training institution of high officers.

FOREIGNERS: The Germans have made prisoners of war build defenses and toil in munitions factories, contrary to the terms of the Geneva convention.

French officers arriving in New York reveal that some of their men have finally returned home after liberation by the Russians in the Masurian Lake region. These captive troops were forced to chop trees for barricades and dig trenches. Others had to manufacture explosives in the war plants at Metheten.

An escaped Czech informed his country's underground in New York that he and a great many others were compelled to erect fortifications in the Vsetin area but that the joke was on the Germans. The authorities could only provide one shovel for every tenth man and one wheelbarrow for each hundred, so the job turned out to be somewhat of a picnic.

Yet it demonstrates how the Nazis impressed foreigners into military tasks which Allied soldiers must accomplish themselves. All of this released Germans for the battlefield.

LOSSES: However, Hitler's hoggish nature has been a drawback.

As a consequence of his refusal to relinquish his conquests, Nazi units are bottled up all over Europe. Men sorely needed now, as the United Nations advance toward the heart of the Fatherland, swell the list of casualties or are immobilized.

The latest and most accurate estimate of these "lost battalions" is as follows: Twenty divisions in East Prussia, East Pomerania and the Danzig Corridor, twenty-five in Latvia, ten in the Hungarian theater, fifteen in Norway, twenty-five in Italy and two or three sealed up in French ports and the Channel islands—those still alive are consuming supplies and writing discouraged letters to their families.

The overrated German High command, supposedly the last word in military brains, is responsible for more troops trapped in these out-of-the-way pockets than it can count along the Rhine to face General Eisenhower's fighting forces.

Although Nazi leaders have overcome some of the weaknesses resulting from casualties and their own stupidity, they are in a precarious position; they can no longer stand serious manpower losses.

One test of a successful army is whether or not it takes prisoners. We are scooping them up continually.

"An idle hour is gone forever," declares a sermonizer. Yes, and a busy hour is also gone forever. All of them go.

Some one asks, "Is the mule a munition of war?" One end of him is.

France Begins Its Task Of Rehabilitation

It's A Long And Hard Road Back

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

CAEN, France. — France has started on the road back. But it's a long, hard road.

A tour through the Normandy country poses some of the problems. There are the wrecked towns, such as this one, which were in the path of the invading armies, now long passed.

The memory of war still is constantly sharpened by the continued presence of troops, in the towns, up and down the roads, American, French and British; by the great numbers of German prisoners seen everywhere; by the hospitals; by the cemeteries where the white crosses blink in the sunlight. The wrecked towns are a constant reminder, too.

It is depressing to ride through them, to look through them, to look through the glassless windows in walls still standing, or through great gaps in the walls, into the desolation of empty rooms where even the sunshine brings no comfort; to see the bare spaces on the ground where once was a home; to look at the piles of debris, from which they still occasionally pull out bodies.

STOKES

It is depressing, too, to see the thrifty, tidy French moving about among the ruins, piling up the good bricks into neat piles. Then you realize that this all resolves itself in the end to individual, personal problems, this business of getting back to living.

Rural-Urban Contrast Strong

The spring is bringing the French back to their homes. They are coming in from the country where they spent the winter, those who were bombed out, to see about the job of restoration. Every French family seems to have relatives in the country. They are great people for "kissing-kin" and the other kind. Like the people in our own South, they are strong on cousins.

There is a sharp contrast in Normandy between the towns where the bombs dropped and the artillery pounded and the country which was damaged but little. The farmers and their families are back in the fields again, doing the spring plowing.

THIS agricultural and dairying region was a rich and flourishing country before the war and it is flourishing now. It may be recalled how amazed the American soldiers were when they went through this section, after hearing the stories of the French suffering from hunger.

There has been plenty of food here, and still is. The people are healthy looking, the children rosy - cheeked and sturdy, even in the smaller towns. They have eaten well, and still do.

It is different in the large cities and particularly in Paris, where there is hunger and suffering, especially among people who can not afford the black market. The problem is one of transportation and distribution, of moving food from rich, productive country, such as this, to the cities.

Americans Help Some

The Americans are helping where they can with transportation and food, but the aim is to get the French to provide transportation. American transport is needed at the front and to supply the front.

The French government is now depending on the Normandy section for food for the cities. But it's not too easy. The people, like most other people, are concerned with looking out for themselves.

THIS region was not touched physically by the last war. No armies fought through here then. Although the Allies have liberated this aera and the armies have gone on, there is a resentment among the people here over the bombing of their towns. Now that the enemy has been driven out, and they face the manifold problems of reconstruction they ask why the destruction was necessary. It is a human trait.

Civilian administration has been turned back to the French in this area as far as possible. The American military officials want the French to handle their own local affairs. Where transfer of needed things is required, it is done at the top level in Paris, with local French officials having charge of local distribution and administration.

Question Is To Shoot Or Not Shoot Hitler

LONDON, March 29. (AP)— Asked in Commons today whether it would be "the duty of the British soldier who sees Hitler to shoot him or try to bring him back alive," Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden replied:

"I am very content to leave that to the judgment of any British subjects."

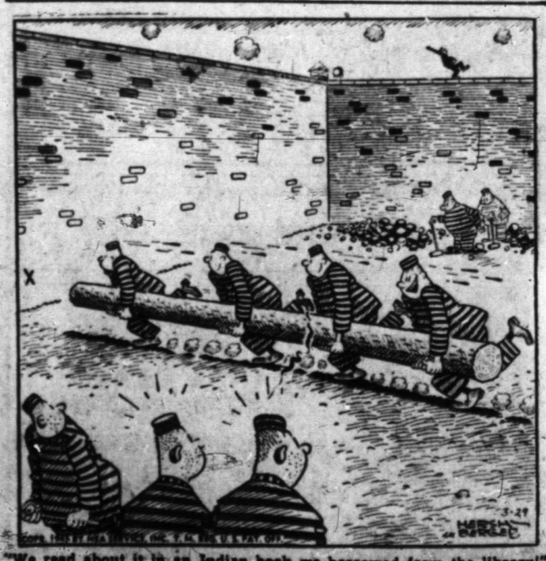

Eden told the house it would be up to the Allied governments to take "appropriate joint action" in each separate case if war criminals took refuge in neutral countries.

Churchill Fells Plan To 'Remind' Germans

LONDON, March 29. (AP) — A suggestion that the Allies preserve in Germany a square mile of badly bombed territory as a reminder of the terrors of war was termed "silly" by Prime Minister Churchill in the House of Commons today.

The proposal was advanced by Sir William Brass, conservative, who advocated that the Allies maintain such a reservation of destruction as a "permanent record of the war started by Germany in 1939."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

Air Crewmen Visit Infantry Lines And Concede GI's Job Toughest

By ROBERT MEYER
United Press War Writer

WITH U. S. THIRD ARMY, Germany, March 29.—After what happened at Morfelden, Germany, three Ninth Air force crewmen conceded today that the doughfeet have the toughest job in the war.

They had been living with Fifth division foot soldiers on an infantry-air force exchange plan designed to show the boys how the other half fights.

And they were shown plenty, take it from Pilot Lt. John Cocke of Roanoke, Va., Gunner Sgt. Russel S. Redding of Lusk, Wyo., and Bombardier Lt. Warren Forma of New York City.

Reconnaissance Jaunt

When Lt. Leonard Duston of Muncie, Ind., started on a reconnaissance mission to Morfelden, the three airmen volunteered to go along.

"We found our armor had been held up by bazookas," Duston said. "Our division wanted to get a battalion into Morfelden as soon as possible so I pulled around the armored column with four jeeps and a command car. We had 12 men including these air force guys who really are as good fighters on the ground as in the air.

"On the outskirts we saw Jerries and opened up with machine guns and rifles, hitting six or seven. We went on into town and split up.

"I saw a white flag waving in some nearby woods. It was too far to yell, so I went over with my .45 automatic while my boys covered me with machine guns. Suddenly white flags popped up everywhere. We captured 65 krauts."

Others Taking Town

Meanwhile infantrymen and tanks of the Sixth Armored division were taking the town proper.

During this time the air force boys were firing rifles at their "target for today" and scoring hits.

Cocke, who crossed the Rhine with the Fifth's first assault troops because "this is what we came up here to see," could not praise the infantrymen enough.

"These fellows never stop," he said. "Twenty four hours a day. One outfit I was with kept going 50 hours without a wink of sleep. That company was a sharp outfit. South of Trebur we took over until the Jerries were 50 feet from us and, boy, it was slaughter.

He Votes For Foot Soldier

Redding added his vote for the infantrymen:

"When we get back from an air mission we can relax but these buys up here have got it tougher because they must keep going all the time. Even when they get a chance to sleep, Jerry comes over strafing their billets."

"I feel like a deserter from my own outfit but I like it here with the infantry," Forma said. "Maybe I would stay with the infantry except that I've got in 65 missions and I'm going home in a few weeks for reassignment.

"But I'm going to tell everybody what a hell of a job these doughfeet are doing."

Minister Says Japs Hung Him By Hands

BOSTON, March 29. (AP)—The Rev. Alvin H. Scaff, congregational missionary under the American Board of Foreign Missions, reported to Boston headquarters that he was "hung by the hands" by Japanese soldiers in their efforts to make him disclose information about guerrillas.

Scaff, a native of Dallas, Tex., was released with his wife and young son from Los Banos prison camp.

Scaff wrote that they were in fairly good condition and that the baby, now two years old, was "in excellent health and spirits." Mrs. Scaff is the former Marilee Kone of Austin, Tex.

Young West Pointer To Command Brooks

SAN ANTONIO, March 29. (AP) Lieut. Col. Robert J. Bruton, of Racine, Wis., 31-year-old West Point graduate, former executive officer of the Altus, Okla., Army Air field and more recently deputy to the commanding general of the Central Training command at Randolph field, has assumed command of Brooks field, AAF training command twin-engine central instructors school.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
