INDIANA DEMOCRATS WANT WILSON FOR THIRD TERM

VICE PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO INDIANA DEMOCRATS TODAY

URGES THEM TO VOTE ONLY FOR DEMOCRACY IN ACCORD WITH PRESIDENT.

CITES OPPONENTS

Criticizes Indiana Republicans and Mentions "Lady Theodora" and K. C. Star.

By Associated Press

Indianapolis, Ind., June 19.—Declaring that the "exigencies of the times call for the renomination and election in 1920 of Woodrow Wilson," Samuel M. Ralston, former governor of Indiana, permanent chairman of the Indiana state democratic convention here today fired the delegates and audience with enthusiasm that brought them to their feet waving flags and cheering. The demonstrationed lasted for several minutes.

By Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, June 19.—Support only the democrat who is wholeheartedly behind the President and the way he proposes to win the war, Vice President Thomas R. Marshall said here today in addressing the Indiana State Democratic convention. The vice president made his plea for support of the administration at the close of his address, saying that while he wanted the democrats to win the coming election, "at the risk of being read out of party" he urged the members in the state to vote against the democrat who was not in hearty accord with his and their ideas.

The republican convention which was held here a few weeks ago received much attention from the vice president who stated it had gone too far in its statements. Mr. Marshall said: "Just what the republican party means by saying that its purpose is to win the war now most of us do not understand. What the democratic party stands for is to win the war as soon as it can be won and it holds that to the speedy winning of it there are these essentials: Conviction of the justice of cause in which we are engaged; a fixed and definite end to be attained; the wholehearted, disinterested, political and patriotic sacrifice of personal ambition, party preferment and individual success to the object attained and confidence, absolute confidence in the commander in chief."

Mr. Marshall referred to "Lady Theodora" during the course of his remarks, saying: "Lady Theodora, being left at home, concluded to take a hand in the war by writing letters in derogation and criticism of its management to a newspaper, which newspaper had as its general manager, a man who was, at the declaration of hostilities against the imperial German government, an alien enemy of the United States and which newspaper had published the Rose Pastor Stokes letter and other seditious documents.

"Some men at least are going to object if she is the republican party and if she is going to fight the war in this way, through the columns of the Kansas City Star, and notwithstanding her great desire to take charge of everything, they are going to insist that she shall not be permitted to do so

CONTINGENT FEE AGENTS ASK FOR CLEMENCY TODAY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Many self acknowledged contingent fee agents appeared today at the Department of Justice to explain their operations and to ask leniency in any action the department may take to break up the exposed system of defrauding the contractors and the government out of millions of dollars.

Many of these agents heretofore had been unknown to the department and this fact promoted the impression that the system of making commissions out of war orders is even more extensive than officials had believed.

Hundreds of letters, telegrams and personal calls came to Attorney General Gregory and Assistant Attorney Huston Thomas, in direct charge of the campaign against the contingent system, inquiring concerning the legal status of contracts already made, or the legality of maintaining representatives in Washington. Some admitted they had sub-let contracts, not knowing this was a violation of the law.

Leniency Will Be Shown.

Although no formal statement of policy was made by the department of justice, officials intimated that leniency would be shown in all cases where it was apparent that the contractor or the commission agent neither pretended to use nor actually did employ any sinister influence in obtaining contracts.

Lieutenant James C. Staley, under arrest in New York on a charge of accepting a bribe from a raincoat company for his influence in the company's behalf, was tried immediately by a court martial and the information he has furnished regarding other improper actions will be used to run down persons implicated.

Department of justice officials today declined to say whether any further arrests are in immediate contemplation.

Cut Off Beer and Ship Building Will Drop 25 Percent Says Colby

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Vigorous protests against immediate absolute prohibition was made before the house agricultural committee today by Bainbridge Colby, member of the shipping board, who declared if beer were taken from workmen the output of the American ship yards would be reduced 25 per cent.

Mr. Colby said he appeared at the request of Chairman Hurley as a representative of the shipping board. Of the pending Jones prohibition amendment to the emergency agricultural bill, he said:

"We believe that the effect of this bit of legislation would be to reduce the efficiency of the workers in the ship yards and reduce the output of tonnage by a substantial amount."

When senators championing prohibition attempted to cross examine Mr. Colby he declared he was not present to discuss the virtues of prohibition but was merely expressing the views of the men who are in touch with the shipbuilding situation.

Ship builders, he said, see no harm in drinking beer and think it is essential.

Mr. Colby said that because of the urgent need for tonnage now in order to carry men and supplies to Europe the shipping board is trying to make the work in the ship yards as attractive as possible and to increase the 335,000 men employed in the ship yards now to 600,000.

Concluding arguments in favor of prohibition were made by William J. Bryan, who, replying to Mr. Colby, declared history showed labor is more efficient without liquor than with it.

He quoted Premier Lloyd George as saying that England was fighting Germany, Austria and drink, with drink as the greatest enemy.

PESSIMISM IN AUSTRIA FROM FOOD SITUATION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Austria's grave food situation, coupled with the apparent failure of the new offensive against Italy, is exciting pessimistic comment in the Vienna press. An official dispatch today from Zurich quotes the Arbiter Zeitung of Vienna as saying:

AUSTRIA'S GRAIN SUPPLY COMPLETELY EXHAUSTED

By Associated Press

LONDON, June 19.—Austria's grain supplies have completely run out and such food of this nature as she is getting is coming from what Germany has allotted to her from the Ukrainian supply, a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company indicates.

This message quotes an interview with Herr Paul, the Austrian food minister, obtained by the Berlin Tageblatt, in which the minister said the recent reduction in the Austrian bread ration was due to insufficient supplies from Bessarabia and Hungary.

The entire 1917 harvest from these sources had been distributed and consumed, the minister stated, and the Rumanian harvest had also been used up.

RUMANIA MADE PEACE BECAUSE OF EXHAUSTION

By Associated Press

AMSTERDAM, June 19.—Rumania concluded peace because to resist further would have exhausted the country to the point of destruction, said King Ferdinand in his speech from the throne at the re-opening of the Rumanian parliament at Jassy, Monday. The peace treaty was then submitted to the legislature for approval.

The king said that Rumania had to accept the peace forced upon her as a necessary condition to her existence. The treaty manifestly imposes painful sacrifice but the Rumanian people would examine it with the manliness which an exact comprehension of the interests of the state demands. He alluded with satisfaction to the fact that the war had brought back the Moldavian land, thrown the Bessarabian people into the arms of Rumania and restored friendship with the central powers. Good relations with other countries were still maintained and plans were on foot to resume normal diplomatic intercourse.

Queen Marie, who has opposed the peace treaty did not appear at the opening of parliament and the diplomatic corps was not invited.

TURK TROOPS SACK HOSPITAL AT TABRIZ, PERSIA

AMERICAN AND BRITISH CONSULATES AT TABRIZ, PERSIA, ALSO ENTERED.

MAY BE ACT OF WAR

Turks Defied Spanish Flag and Disregarded Protests of Spanish Consul.

(BULLETIN.)

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Sacking of the American hospital at Tabriz, Persia, and seizure of the American and British consulate there by invading Turkish troops, was reported to the state department today by the American minister at Teheran. If the report, as it reached the minister, is officially confirmed, the outrages may be considered an act of war and settle the long pending question as to whether the Ottaman ally of Germany should be listed among America's enemies.

According to today's dispatch the Turks sacked the hospital over the protest of the Spanish consul, in charge as representative of American interests and in defiance of the Spanish flag flying over the building.

Many American doctors and nurses have been stationed at the Tabriz hospital, but for several months the situation has been so serious that the force has been greatly reduced and a few days ago it was reported to the state department that the last American had gone.

According to the best information obtainable here the Turkish forces about Tabriz is small, not exceeding a few thousand at most. A British force is operating a few miles south of Tabriz.

SLAM GATES OF ITALY IN FACE OF THE INVADER

By Associated Press

ITALIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, June 19.—(Via Ottawa.)—The Montello, the oval shaped chain of hills on which hinge the Austrian offensive has been occupied for several months by the British who came to Italy last fall under General Plumer. A British division occupies the southwestern ridges of the Asiago plateau with the French on their right.

The British after reconquering the advanced positions momentarily abandoned on Saturday morning with a view of strengthening the line, not only resisted all Austrian attempts but gallantly counter attacked in a fashion that caused an Italian superior officer to remark:

"They are slamming the gates of Italy in the face of the invader."

ITALIAN LINE HOLDS UNBROKEN EVERYWHERE

The Associated Press war summary today says:

Standing firmly before the war stricken City of Rheims, the French have checked a new German drive launched last night five days after the offensive on the Montdidier-Noyon line came to a halt. In the fighting the active battle front has been extended to a point five miles southeast of the catnecrai city.

At six o'clock Tuesday evening, the German artillery began a heavy bombardment between Vrigney west of Rheims, to the Village of La Pompelle on the north bank of the Vesle River, east of that city. Three hours later the Teutonic infantry streamed out of their trenches to begin the assault. According to the official statement issued at Paris the Germans were nowhere successful in their attempts to enter the French lines, being repulsed with heavy losses.

The front over which the new attack was launched is approximately fourteen miles in length. The ground over which the Germans are attacking is rather high and irregular.

Raiding operations are reported from the British fronts in the Somme and Lys sectors.

Fierce attacks are being made by the Austrians to overcome the Italian resistance along the Piave but the defensive line still holds. Apparently the enemy sees his only hope of success in enlarging his gains across the Piave, having been given a disastrous check in the mountains from west of Asiago to the Piave.

In the mountains the Austrians have been generally on the defensive since they were checked and then thrown back over the terrain gained Saturday in the first day of the offensive. The French and British around Asiago are under a heavy bombardment and the French Tuesday repulsed a strong local Austrian effort. Along the Val Suganna and against the Bastion of Monte Grappa, the enemy holds further attacks in abeyance.

Along the nearly 30 miles of the Piave the situation has not improved greatly from an Allied viewpoint, although the Austrians have been defeated at most points in efforts to enlarge their gains. Where and in what forces the enemy has crossed the river and how far he has progressed into the Venetian plain are not outlined clearly but apparently the Italians have given most ground on the north around Montello and on the south of Cape Sile.

From their foothold on Montello, an important plateau three by eight miles in extent which dominates the country between Bassano and Trevise the Austrians are making violent attempts to drive the Italians off the height, entirely while the Italians are fighting just as determinedly to keep the enemy close to the river bank. The fighting the past two days has been favorable to the Italians. In the center, from Maserada to Fossalta the Austrians are being held well in check and have been unable to make any progress across the Piave despite repeated attempts.

Seemingly the Austrians have pushed back the Italians several miles between Fossalta and Capo Sile and along the Fossetta canal which runs southwest toward Venice.

Capo Sile is in the lowlands along the Adriatic but if the enemy reaches the Fossetta canal to the north he would be on drier ground and better able to push toward Mestre and outflank the line northward along the Piave.

What gains the enemy has made, however, have been hardly commensurate with the preparations made, the shells expended and lives lost. Emperor Charles, unless his troops can make swifter progress, will have to call off his "hunger offensive" and face the populace at home. Reports have reached Switzerland that socialist manifestations occurred in Vienna Monday.

German patrols have been active against the American positions along the Marne but their efforts to penetrate the American lines were repulsed. One enemy patrol was almost wiped out by the American machine gun fire.

BULLETIN.

RAME, June 19.—The Italians have captured since the beginning of the Austro Gungarian offensive on the Italian front prisoners to the number of 9,011 and have taken many guns and several hundred machine guns, the Italian war office announced today.

FRENCH CRITICS EXPECT GERMAN ATTACK SOON

PARIS, June 19.—(Havas Agency.) The lull in fighting activity persists on the western front but military critics expect another battle will be begun soon by the Germans.

German Attack On Rheims Front Falls, Says French Report

(BULLETIN.)

PARIS, June 19.—The Germans last night after violent preparatory bombardment began an attack on the Rheims front between Vrigny and La Pompelle the war office announced today.

On the western front of attack the enemy was not able even to reach the French line. In the center, before the city, the Germans were completely repulsed and suffered heavy losses. East of Rheims the French were equally successful.

The statement follows:

"Last night at six o'clock the enemy delivered a heavy preparatory artillery fire along the whole front of Rheims from the region of Vrigny, west of the city as far east as La Pompelle. At nine o'clock the enemy infantry began an attack on the French positions between these two points.

"The French troops resisted the German attack with complete success, the counter barrage of the French artillery proving very strong.

"Between Vrigny and Ormes German assault troops were stopped by the French fire and forced to return many times to their lines of departure and were not finally able to reach the French positions.

"Around Rheims violent activities occurred during which the enemy suffered heavy losses and was everywhere repulsed.

"East of Rheims the fighting likewise ended to the advantage of the French. The Germans having been successful in penetrating the woods northeast of Siltry were driven out by a French counter attack.

"Prisoners taken in the region of Rheims declared that the town was attacked by three divisions which were ordered to take the place at all costs during the night."

The front of the new German attack is the semi-circle drawn by the enemy about the city of Rheims in the recent offensive on the Aisne front.

The front of the present attack from Vrigny, west of the city, to La Pompelle, around the semi-circle to the east is approximately fourteen miles.

FIVE BRITISH SEAPLANES WHIP NINETEEN GERMAN

By Associated Press

LONDON, June 19.—In the fight off the Dutch coast on June 4, five British seaplanes of the largest type outfought nineteen German seaplanes. One of the enemy machines was sent down in flames and another driven down out of control, according to a description of the fight written for the Associated Press by a United States naval aviator.

HOW LIEUT. FONCK BROUGHT DOWN 6 GERMAN PLANES

Associated Press Mail Correspondent.

PARIS, May 13.—Lieutenant Rene Fonck, the young French "ace of aces" fought three distinct battles in the air when, on May 8, he brought down six German airplanes in one day. His record never has been equalled in aviation.

All three engagements were fought within two hours. In all Fonck fired only 56 shots, an average of little more than 9 bullets for each enemy brought down; an extraordinary record in view of the fact that aviators often fire hundreds of rounds without crippling their opponent.

The first fight, in which Lieutenant Fonck brought down three German machines, lasted only a minute and a half and the young Frenchman fired only twenty-two shots.

Although Lieutenant Fonck is officially credited with bringing down 42 enemy airplanes in all, military aviators believe that he has sent down at least 60 machines. He is twenty-four years old, is cool in battle and handles both machine gun and airplane with great skill.

The Encounter Is On.

Fonck was leading two other companions on a patrol in the Moreuil-Montdidier sector on May 8 when the French squadron met three German two-seater airplanes coming toward them in arrow formation. Signaling to his companions, Lieutenant Fonck dived at the leading German plane and, with a few shots, sent it down in flames. Fonck turned to the left and the second Hun followed in an effort to attack him from behind, but the Frenchman made a quick turn above him and with five shots sent the second Hun down to death. Ten seconds had barely elapsed between the two victories.

The third Hun headed for home but, when Lieutenant Fonck apparently gave up the chase and turned back towards the French lines, the German went after him and was flying parallel and a little below, when Fonck made a quick turn, drove straight at him and sent him down within a half mile of the spot where his two comrades hit the earth.

This ended the first engagement.

Second Engagement.

Several German observation balloons had been brought down by the French aviators. Lieutenant Fonck returned to his camp and waited three quarters of an hour for the Germans to learn of that fact and send their chaser planes to the scene of action. Then he, with two companions went out to meet them. Above Montdidier he came upon a German plane which was regulating the enemy artillery fire, dived 2,000 feet and sent the German plane to earth with a few shots. Taking refuge in a cloud Fonck lost his two companions. Emerging from the mist to start for his own lines, Lieutenant Fonck saw before him four single-seater Pfalz airplanes protected, at 1,500 hundred feet above, by five German Albatrosses, making for the French trenches with the convoying planes leading. In a ten-second flight, Fonck overtook the rear Pfalz machine, fired and saw it fall.

At the sound of his gun, the two Pfalz machines in the center of the German group turned, one to the right, and the other to the left to attack the daring Frenchman. But Fonck drove his airplane swiftly ahead and overtook the fourth Pfalz machine. A few shots under its tail sent it down in flames and the victor flew off to safety, leaving the two other Pfalzs and five Albatrosses wondering what had struck the squadron.

The air fights were staged from 4500 to 6000 feet up. The first German fell at 4.05 p. m. and the last at 6.65 p. m.

Lieutenant Fonck used an ordinary Spad machine equipped with two rapid fire guns. He has been a pilot since 1915, passing into a chaser squadron about a year ago. On the day following his six victories he was made an officer of the Legion of Honor and subsequently was promoted to first lieutenant.

FLAG OF POLAND IN BATTLE LINE AGAINST GERMANS

By Associated Press

PARIS, Tuesday, June 18.—Fighting under the national flag of Poland the first Polish regiment of the First Polish division entered the front line trenches opposite the Germans today.

With the sound of the roar of the cannon and in the presence of civil and military authorities the regiment received its battle flag and entered the war on the side of the Allies. "It is a reply to Germany's contention that the Polish question is settled," said General Archinard, chief of the Polish military mission to France.

Poles who have escaped from Germany and Poland or who have succeeded in leaving America and other countries, form the bulk of the Polish legion.

Paris Newspaper Discourses Upon American "Pep"

By Associated Press

PARIS, June 19.—Under the heading "American pep" La Liberte recounts an incident on a quiet sector occupied by American troops. After a few days training in the trenches it was decided to carry out a little raid under the direction of a French sub-lieutenant. The raid was completely successful, all the enemy being killed or taken prisoner.

The raiding party devoted itself for some time to the destruction of machine emplacements and dugouts. But when the time came to return it was discovered that a dozen Americans were missing. They could not possibly have been captured; so the leader of the party decided to wait a few minutes. Soon the missing men reappeared escorting seventeen Germans and carrying two machine guns.

They explained that the raid was a sort of lesson which they had mastered so quickly that they had gone on and entered the German second line and brought back some samples of prisoners to demonstrate their aptness.

SOUTH AMERICANS TO BE TRAINED IN U. S.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Congress is to be asked by the War Department for an appropriation to provide training facilities in this country for forces other than American troops. This was learned authoritively today but it was said that no definite project has been discussed nor has the matter reached the point where it has been the subject of diplomatic communication. The assumption is that any troops to be trained here would come from some one of the nations in the Western Hemisphere who have joined the countries at war with Germany. While no arrangements have yet been disclosed looking to that end the Department feels that it would be wise to have the funds on hand so as to be in a position to act promptly should another nation consent to the training and equipping of its forces in the United States. It is reported that the request for the appropriation would be made before the present session of congress ends.

LUBIN'S PLAN FOR GIVING FARMER BETTER CREDIT

Associated Press Mail Correspondent.

ROME, June 19, 1918.—The American farmer ought to be given credit at a bank without being compelled to mortgage his farm, declares David Lubin, delegate from the United States to the International Institute of Agriculture here.

Mr. Lubin believes that, despite the Federal Land Banks, the American farmer still suffers a great disadvantage in obtaining cash to carry on his business. To remedy this he has formulated a simplified system of farm banking and suggested it to William G. McAdoo, the Secretary of the Treasury and to the American Food Controller, Herbert Hoover.

"The farmer at present does business under the stupid and costly policy of the merchant of forty years ago," said Mr. Lubin to The Associated Press. "He supplies his needs on long time credit in place of having recourse to the chief banks of the country for cash wherewith to place himself on a cash basis. The farmer is under the thumb of the money lenders and of the store-keepers who sell to him on a credit basis."

"Why can't he have a bank account, that is credit on open account, like any other business man? He's got land, the best security in the world."

"The Federal Land Bank has made it is possible for him to put up his farm and get money on long-time mortgage loans. These loans are made, however, for enlarging the farm or making improvements or for payment of old debts. But only a limited number of farmers will mortgage unless they have to. The census for 1910 shows that of 3,948,722 farms we have 33.6 percent mortgaged. What these farmers need, together with the other 66.4 percent, is credit at a bank instead of the costly, vicious credit at the town store."

"The farmer can be put in a position to pay cash for what he buys by having the twelve Federal Land Banks increase their functions so that, instead of merely granting mortgage money at a reasonable interest, they may also issue a certificate that the farmer is entitled to credit within a fixed sum. This certificate deposited in a commercial bank in any place in the union would enable the farmer to obtain credit on open account at the rate say of 5 percent per annum and against this account he could draw by check, with the right of closing his account at any time by paying up, when his certificate would be returned to him.

"What should be done is to reduce the banking business down to the farmer. Let's put him in the favored-nation class, too. This can be done by legislation permitting the Land Bank certify to the farmer's credit."

DOG AUCTION BRINGS $40 FOR RED CROSS

Forty dollars was added to the Junior Red Cross treasury as a result of an auction held by Captain David Fallon at the close of the Chautauqua program Tuesday night. Two French poodles, given by F. J. Gohlke were sold, Mrs. P. P. Lanford buying one for $20 from Captain Fallon, who bid $15, while the second dog was sold to a small boy who came out of the crowd, handed the auctioneer a $20 bill and disappeared with the dog without his name being learned.

Captain Fallon found time from his duties in connection with the Chautauqua program to visit Call Field and after an inspection trip he made a talk to the soldiers at the camp Y. M. C. A. at seven o'clock Tuesday. A large number of soldiers came into town for the lecture at night.

BOARD WARNS MEN ESSENTIAL WORK ONLY IS COUNTED

DON'T CHANGE FROM ESSENTIAL TO NON-ESSENTIAL WORK, ADVICE GIVEN.

WORD TO "JUMPERS"

Told That Too Frequent Changes of Jobs Not Regarded as Good Indication.

Registrants who have been in the habit of changing their occupation whenever a few extra dollars were offered and who go from useful to non-useful occupations, or who keep labor conditions unsettled by their constant changing, hunting higher pay, are given a warning by the local exemption board, which makes the statement that now is not a time to think of personal gain. The board warns the men that July 1 is coming when the "work or fight" order will go into effect and gives them some timely advice as to their actions in the following statement issued today:

Text of Warning.

"We note that many of our registrants who have been steadily and usefully employed in essential business, are quitting and getting into non-essential work because of a little better pay. This is seriously hurting necessary industrial and agricultural enterprises, and looks like it will get worse.

"We wish to warn those in deferred classifications that the first of July is not far away and many who are figuring on their wives and children keeping them out of Class One will find themselves Camp Travis bound because they were chasing a few extra dollars instead of doing their duty and working where they are most needed by our government.

"A tool dresser who quits to run a service car, a boiler maker who quits a railroad shop to work in a store or any man who keeps quitting one job and going to another of the same kind, but who is losing about half his time looking for better money, will receive scant consideration and his wife and children will not prevent him from being classed as a non-essential and being placed in Class One.

"The cause of higher wages is due to the fact that our boys have gone to fight for those who are staying at home, and we do not think this should entitle any one to get hold of as much money as possible without any consideration of his former employer or his government and still hold deferred classification.

"We wish to tell you that if you jump from an essential business be sure to jump into another essential business and stay put, or in other words don't jump too often, otherwise we are liable to get you and get you quick.

"Uncle Sam can take care of your family and is badly in need of men. He keeps us busy day and night getting men, and does not keep us here to exempt men. That part is only a side line.

"Whether your stay here is a very limited one or a protracted one depends entirely on yourselves, and it is up to you and your motto should be 'Do something worth while' and keep on doing it."

99 YEAR SENTENCE FOR WATSON AFFIRMED

By Associated Press

AUSTIN, TEX., June 19.—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the trial court in the case of T. R. Watson, Teague banker, convicted of the murder of John S. Patterson, former state banking commissioner. Watson was awarded ninety-nine years in the penitentiary.

Patterson was shot and killed at Teague in 1916 after he had posted a notice on the door of the Teague bank closing it because of it's alleged insolvent condition.

Watson was president of the bank. He claimed he shot in self defense.

A delightful afternoon was enjoyed, with Victrola music and interesting games the principal features of entertainment. Mrs. C. E. Bland, president of the organization who will leave Thursday to make her home in Electra was presented with a handsome silver cold meat fork as a token of her friends' esteem. The gift was presented in the name of the circle by Mrs. W. F. Wallace. The hostess served a dainty ice course late in the afternoon. W. F. Wallace and Miss Hester Douglas were guests of the circle, the members present including Mesdames Taylor, Wallace, Bland, Leggett, Alred, Douglas, McAlister, Hudson, Richardson and McFarland.

NEW MANAGER IN CHARGE AT ST. JAMES

G. D. Kimberlin, formerly of Fort Worth, arrived in Wichita Falls yesterday and assumed the management of the St. James Hotel, succeeding A. A. Dixon, who has resigned to go to San Francisco. Mr. Kimberlin has been in the hotel business for a number of years and comes here with the highest recommendations.

During the time Mr. and Mrs. Dixon have been at the St. James they have made valuable citizens and there is much regret at their departure. In every civic enterprise Mr. Dixon was found ready to do all that was asked and was found standing for the best interests of the city. He has especially taken a prominent part in the civic work accomplished by the Rotary Club. The best wishes for their future success go with Mr. and Mrs. Dixon in their new home. They will continue in the hotel business, going to San Francisco after a short visit in Los Angeles.

CAPTAIN FALLON STIRS CROWD AT CHAUTAUQUA TENT

"To Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States:

"The citizens of Wichita Falls are with you heart, soul and body, in the prosecution of this war for world-wide Christianity and democracy."

Such was the text of a message sent to the President last night by Lieutenant J. Wilkie Talbert, of the Chautauqua committee, after the large Chautauqua crowd had stood as a man seconding the sending of this message when Captain David Fallon of the British army had delivered a stirring war address. Wherever Captain Fallon has appeared on Chautauqua programs similar messages have been sent by the citizenship, aroused by the message which the valiant British officer has to bring them direct from the front.

Captain Fallon gave praise of President Wilson, calling him "a God given leader who had issued fourteen inspired articles which expressed the aims of all the Allies." He acclaimed the American nation as the people that will decide the war, but stated that the nation did not realize that it was a war. He urged the people to come to a realization of what an undertaking the war is, of the issues at stake, which mean the safety of the world for Christity and humanity.

"Help make the world a fit place for little children to live in," he pleaded. "Here I see your little children, happy, contented, well fed and with hands and eyes, and they can talk and laugh and sing. Over in Belgium and battle scarred France I saw little children who clung around our legs with their arms, their hands were cut off. Some could only look at us with their horror stricken souls in their eyes, the Germans had cut out their tongues, while others had to be led, for their eyes had been punched out by the fiends. These little children who will never know the joys of childhood or the realization of manhood and womanhood haunt me still, when I see your happy peaceful little children. Pray God you may keep them so."

Personal Experiences.

Captain Fallon spoke at length of personal experiences in the war, telling of his adventure with a tank, manned by seven soldiers and a black cat. They were charging into the German lines and making rapid progress when the steering gear of the tank broke and they were powerless to direct its course. He told how they crashed through a sugar refinery which was being held by the Germans and down into shell craters and holes, and how to prevent the tank falling into German hands they blew it up and got back to their lines as best they might.

"I asked for another tank," the captain said, "but the authorities informed me that the one I had blown up cost $50,000 and that one tank was quite enough to lose in a day's adventure."

A vivid description of how the men went over the top on numerous occasions, going through barbed wire entanglements into No Man's Land in the face of German fire was given by Captain Fallon. His most interesting story was that of his own last scouting expedition into the German trenches and of encounters with Germans, the last of which resulted in his being put out of the war permanently. His right arm was shattered, his jaw broken and with other severe wounds he lay in a shell hole for three days with a few "dog biscuits" and pieces of chocolate for nourishment. Finally he was able to make his way close enough to the British lines to be rescued, and then he told of his adventures at the hands of the Red Cross nurses. Here he paid a tribute to the Red Cross nurse and the woman who stays at home and works in the surgical dressings to keep the forces over yonder supplied at all times.

Captain Fallon's Book.

Captain Fallon's book, "The Big Fight," was sold at the conclusion of his lecture. Proceeds from this book go towards keeping up the men of the captain's command who have been rendered unfit for work by reasons of wounds they have sustained and to the widows and children of men of his command who were killed. The captain said that he believed he had been miraculously saved and that he owed something to those who had not been so fortunate, so he is giving his time and experience to writing, so that in this way the information as to the true state of affairs can be given the people and at the same time some financial aid can be rendered those who have given up their all earlier in the fight. The book sold very readily here.

The Tuesday night program was opened by a musical concert by Myrtle Torburgh and Gladys Yves Brainard, both of them talented musicians, and their numbers were much enjoyed.

This afternoon Mrs. Harriett Bird Warren, returned Red Cross nurse, will speak.

WOULDN'T ELECT HIM CASHIER AGAIN.

Some speaker the other day gave a good illustration of the attitude of the people of Texas in reference to Jim Ferguson's candidacy for governor. He likened the people of Texas to the stockholders of a bank who had discovered that the cashier had appropriated $5,600 of the bank's money. The cashier when confronted had admitted the theft and before he could be prosecuted had put the money back in the bank. The stockholders, he said, might allow the cashier to go without sending him to the penitentiary but they certainly wouldn't elect him cashier again.

RIGHT FOR ONCE.

Kaiser Bill is right about it. This war is a conflict between ideals. The world was going along not realizing what the Germanic ideals of justice and morality were until the war broke out. Then it saw them exemplified in Belgium in the disregard of sacred treaties, in the murder of non-combatant aged and children, in the raping of women and girls. It saw the Germanic ideals in the sinking of unarmed passenger ships loaded with women and children. It got a good look at the ugly duplicity of Germanic ideals in the duplicity of Germany in its negotiations with stricken Russia and its brutality there and elsewhere. In a thousand ways and in a thousand places these Germanic ideals have been revealed, and now that the world knows them for what they are it is willing to pay any price rather than see them imposed.

There isn't anything new in the kaiser's thought. President Wilson saw the same thing from the start. A difference between President Wilson's statement and the kaiser's is that the president stated the idea with clearness and dignity. The kaiser boasts and blusters.

IS MORE TESTIMONY NEEDED?

President Wilson says: "Thought less expenditures of money for non-essentials use up the labor of men, the products of the farm, mines, and factories, and overburdens transportation, all of which must be used to the utmost and at their best for war purposes."

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo says: "It is essential that the American people economize and save in order to make available to their Government the money indispensably needed for the war and to release supplies and labor required for the production of things necessary for our own military forces and for the military forces of the nations associated with us."

Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, says: "During the time when we send our young men to the trenches to live a life that grills flesh and nerve, let every man, woman, and child who is proviléged to remain in free America in physical safety count it a freeman's duty to eat simple food and conserve for our Army and our allies, to wear simple clothes, to avoid unnecessary or unwise expenditures, that we may give to our fighting men and the Government and have resources for the constructive work of the country."

Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman of the National War Savings Committee and president of the National City Bank, of New York, says: "Everybody should buy less, consume less, save more money, and loan their savings to the Government." The result will be more money for the Government to run the war, increased accumulation of savings by the people at good interest and absolute security, and less drain on the country's productive and industrial resources."

Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale University, says: "Those of us who are left at home must increase our production and lessen our consumption in order to have men and supplies available for fighting. We must reduce our consumption to a war basis. We must abstain from unnecessary expenditures in the way of comforts and services."

Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and now a member of the Advisory Commission of the Council of National Defense, says: "Saving by everyone is as imperative for the winning of this war as is the mobilizing of armies; more than that, the mobilizing of armies is entirely futile if this military step is not accompanied by the rigorous, common sense saving of the Nation, for without saving the marshaled hosts can not be equipped, can not be fed, can not be carried overseas, and can not be put into the fight. We can finance the enormous cost of this war by spending only for the things we need, not by spending for the things we desire. Just so long as we continue to spend for things we do not need, just that long do we prolong the war and add to the tremendous sacrifice of life and property."

Here is the testimony of the President of the United States, of the Secretary of the Treasury, of the country's most prominent labor man, of a banker, of the president of one of the foremost educational institutions, and of a merchant. And the burden of their testimony is that it is the duty of everyone to save to the utmost that there may be more money, labor, and materials for the Government with which to fight the war. It is unusual to find such agreement from so many different quarters.

Is more testimony needed?

THAT $156,500 TRANSACTION.

It has been but a few years ago that the Legislature of Texas, responding to a sentiment and demand that had its beginning in the brain of the late Governor James S. Hogg, enacted a law prohibiting railroad companies and all public service corporations from issuing passes and granting courtesies to certain public officials in the act named. The law was primarily directed at members of the Legislature because it was thought by the people that their servants should not suffer themselves to be placed under obligations to interests liable to be affected by legislation they might enact.

Governor Hogg stated then, and it is true now, that the man in whose breast the promptings of gratitude did not inspire reciprocal favors was no man at all. It is natural for a man to be grateful for favors shown, unless it be one whose nature is so dwarfed with selfishness that his line of conduct is based on the theory of getting all he can and keeping all he has. Such a man is not to be trusted in any capacity for he is an abnormal creature and abnormalities have no place in public affairs.

Considering the earnest and sincere campaign waged by Governor Hogg for the suppression of free passes, which he contended wielded an unconscious influence over members of the Legislature, we cannot refrain from wondering what the great ex-governor and statesman would say today, if he were in the flesh, and told about the governor of his native State accepting the loan of $156,500, from sources he has refused and still steadfastly refuses to disclose. If James Stephen Hogg, the man who gave to Texas more constructive legislation than all the governors of the commonwealth put together, was apprehensive that an annual pass on a railroad was capable of influencing a public servant from his line of duty, what would he think about the loan or gift of such a mammoth sum of money as Ferguson admits he received, to the governor of the State who has the final say, virtually, on all laws passed for the government of the people? And would he not be further horrified and shocked when that same governor told him, and the people who elected him, that it was none of their business where he got the money?

The people have the right to demand of their officials that they be perfectly free from suspicion. Their conduct at all times should be based on lines that will not put to shame the men who placed them in office; and, should a shadow appear, be ready to dispel it with evidence of honorable intent, purpose and action. The loan of $156,500 to the governor of Texas without interest and without security, may have been an honorable transaction, but the people of Texas have the right to know who the governor's good friends are. And since these friends demanded of the governor that he seal the bond of security with his blood and even failed and refused to come to his rescue to save him from the humiliation and disgrace of impeachment, the reason for knowing the source of the immense loan is emphasized.

If there were no other matters connected with Ferguson's administration subject to criticism, he might be excused for invoking that blind faith in the uprightness of his conduct his audacity prompts. But from the very beginning of his administration there is a continuous trail of financial deals in which J. E. Ferguson as governor, and J. E. Ferguson as an individual, were associated, that either betrays an ignorance of his sworn duties or an indifference to the rights of the public that unfits him for the office he unworthily seeks. Nor will he be permitted to dissmiss these charges by asserting they were trumped up by a kangaroo legislature. No matter whence they came or who filed them; the question is, are they true?

Until Mr. Ferguson takes the people of Texas into his confidence and discloses to them in a satisfactory way why he used $5,600 of the State's money to cancel a private debt, as well as the source of the $156,500 loan made to him while governor, we fail to see how he can expect his candidacy to meet with public approval.—Denison Herald.

Hang Out Your Ice Cards

The card system has been used by a great many ice companies in the various cities of America with pronounced success.

That's why we are using it here in Wichita Falls.

It is our mutual friend, so don't forget to hang yours out early in the morning.

It is our mutual friend because it helps us to serve you better, and serve you on time every day.

So don't fail to hang out your ice card, and hang it in a conspicuous place so the driver can't fail to see it.

Then if anything goes wrong with the service, and we'll see to it that there won't, you will have done your part and the full blame will be ours.

Service suggestion number two: Ask the driver for a Coupon Book. Then you'll always have the "right change" when he comes. It is the easiest and most economical way to take ice. Thank you.

KANSAS CITY STAR ISSUES STATEMENT

By Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 19.—The Kansas City Star today submitted to the Associated Press a brief biography of its general manager, A. F. Seested, to show his status as a citizen. It follows:

"The Kansas City Star makes this statement concerning Vice President Marshall's attack on the loyalty of its general manager, A. F. Seested.

"Mr. Seested was born in the town of Tondern, in Denmark, in 1864. At the time his father was fighting in the Danish army against Prussia. With the Prussian occupation of that part of Denmark, Seested Sr. became a German subject. In 1880 he and his large family of boys came to America. Seested Sr. at once took steps to become an American citizen. A. F. Seested always believed that act made him an American citizen. For more than thirty years he acted as such. At the election of 1916 he discovered that technically he was not. The failure of Seested Sr. to take out final papers before his son became of age was the cause. A. F. Seested at once set about to correct the technicality and early in 1917 full citizenship was granted him by the United States court in Kansas City. In the councils of the Kansas City Star he has been for the most vigorous prosecution of the war and has given freely of his time and money to advancing it."

HOBBY PROCLAIMS WAR SAVINGS DAY ON JUNE 28TH

AUSTIN, TEX., June 19.—Governor W. P. Hobby today issued proclamation declaring Friday, June 28 as National War Savings Day and calling upon all Texans to do their duty and attend one of the meeting to be held in the 11,000 school districts of the state on that day and invest during the year $91,00,000 in War Savings Stamps.

The proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, has issued a proclamation calling upon all wage earners and tax payers of the Union to observe June 28, 1918, as National War Savings Day, summoning them to meet at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day at the school houses of their several districts that they then and there may pledge their subscriptions to be invested in War Savings Stamps, therefore,

TODAY'S MARKETS

Cotton Market

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 19.—There was a renewal of yesterday's selling movement at the opening of the cotton market today owing to the continued good weather and indication of a very favorable weekly report from the weather bureau. Houses with western connections were sellers of July, presumably in the way of liquidation, and Liverpool was a seller of new crop months believed to represent straddle business between the two markets. First prices were barely steady in consequence with August showing a decline of 49 points and other months 18 to 26 points lower. At 25.53 for July and 23.75 for October the initial selling seemed well absorbed, however, and there were rallies of several points on trade buying and covering.

The weekly report of the Weather Bureau proved quite as favorable as expected regarding the immediate progress of the crop but again mentioned increasing numbers of boll weevils in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi. It seems that its favorable features had been discounted as it brought in no selling of consequence and the market firmed up after its publication on covering which was promoted by private complaints of drouthy weather and high temperatures in the southwest. July advanced to 25.97 and October to 24.15, or 13 to 16 points net higher.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, June 19.—Expectation of favorable weekly crop accounts from the government caused moderately heavy selling of cotton around the opening today and the market developed an easy tone. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were off 26 to 45 points.

Cotton closed steady at an advance of 27 to 46 points.

Liverpool Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, June 19.—Cotton spot quiet; prices lower. Good middling 22.67; middling 2.04; low middling 21.51; good ordinary 20.52.

Futures closed irregular; new contracts: July 22.50; July 21.84; August 20.68; September 19.75; October 19.09. Old contracts fixed prices, June July 20.71.

The stock had been bought by the Wright Furnishing Company but had not been moved to that company's place of business when the boys made their entrance. The parents promised to see that they tread the straight and narrow path from this time forth and to insure their so doing packed them all off to the cotton patch.

Grain Market

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 19.—Falling off in receipts, together with a belief that the crop movement would be still more curtailed as soon as much wheat was ready for shipment, had a bullish effect today on corn. Initial declines due to favorable weather were not of a lasting sort as government advices showed need of rain in important districts. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅝ off to ⅛ advance with July 1.43½ to 1.44⅛ and August 1.45 to 1.45¼ were followed by moderate upturns all around.

Revived export demand strengthened oats. The fact that the crop is at a critical stage seemed also to make sellers cautious. After opening ⅛ off to ¼ advance with July .71⅛ to .71¼, the market scored material gains.

High temperatures in the southwest and the lack of rainfall there led subsequently to a decided further advance. The close was strong, 1⅞ to 2⅞ net higher, with July 1.45⅞ to 1.46 and August 1.47⅞.

Throughout the session lower prices on hogs failed to offset the price of grain.

Provisions rose with corn. Offerings were light.

New York Stocks

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 19.—Equipments and specialties led the general list to higher levels at the opening of today's stock market, traders basing their moderately bullish operations on further favorable war news. American Locomotive, Crucible Steel, Republic Iron, General Motors and Wilson Packing rose 1 to 1½ points. Tobaccos again showed variable tendencies with shippings. Interests in rails centered around minor coalers notably Pittsburgh and West Virginia issues. Liberty Bonds were irregular.

Price movement became more confusing during the listless noon hour. Heaviness of Marine preferred and additional reactions in leading equipments were balanced by 1 to 2 point gains in fertilizers, International Paper and Suban Cane Sugar.

It required only slight pressure to effect further substantial recessions in the last hour when most important gains were cancelled. The closing was irregular.

Liberty 3½'s sold at 99.54 to 99.60, first fours at 94.12 to 94.24, second fours at 94.10 to 94.24 and 4¼'s at 95.96 to 96.10.

NO REGISTRATIONS HERE DURING FIRST TWO DAYS

During the first two of the ten days set for the registration of German alien women there have been no registrations with the local authorities. It is known that there are a number of women who must register, and they should attend to the matter at once, as not to register means trouble for the offender. Registration blanks and all necessary supplies are at the city hall and the authorities there are ready to attend to the registration at any time. All women who are eligible, girls over 14 years of age who are children of unnaturalized Germans, women of any nationality who have married unnaturalized Germans, as well as women born in Germany who have not been naturalized by any of the legal processes are warned that they should attend to the matter of registration promptly.

STAMPFLI ORGANIZING BAKERY AND RESTAURANT MEN

V. E. Stampfli, district bakery and restaurant administrator working under B. F. Johnson, district food administrator, this week began his organization tour in the 21 counties which he has under his jurisdiction. Baylor county was organized Monday, the restaurant and hotel men forming an organization similar to that perfected last week in this city. Mr. Stampfli reports the heartiest co-operation in Seymour, where the meeting was held.

Tomorrow Mr. Stampfli will go to Vernon and proceed with the organization of the bakeries and restaurants of that county. Saturday he expects to go to Quanah to form the Hardeman county organization. He expects to be several weeks in his organization work. After the organization is perfected it will be Mr. Stampfli's duties to look after the monthly reports which the administration demands, and to keep the county organizations informed of all the rulings of the administration.

Avoid False Economy

ECONOMY that decreases your personal efficiency is false economy. It is as great a crime as waste. For it is waste.

Today everyone should develop their personal efficiency to its highest possible point.

We should all talk, act, believe and work to one end—success.

And nothing breeds success like confidence, for confidence and efficiency spell success.

Self-confidence is our greatest National asset.

What breeds confidence?

In the language of today, "looking the part."

* * * * * * * * *

Good clothes not only make you look the part, but feel the part. They add to your self-respect and make others respect you. They add to your self-confidence and make others have confidence in you. They make you look successful and thereby proclaim that you are successful.

Good clothes do not mean extravagance. To the contrary, they mean economy. First, because of the part they play in your daily life. Second, because one good suit will outwear two ordinary suits and look better, fit better and stand up better. Thrift in clothes buying means getting one hundred cents value for every dollar you invest irrespective of the price you pay.

The clothes this store offers are 100 per cent LOYAL in this.

June 28th is National War Savings Day. P.B.M.C. The price of victory is in your purse.

INVENTOR WOOD STARTLES LIONS WITH REVELATIONS

The Lions Club heard a most instructive talk by Montraville Wood at their luncheon at the St. James today. Mr. Wood is the inventor who is to speak at the Chautauqua tonight and his address at the Lions Club dealt with German devices for communicating in this country and with the devices with which the United States had made them harmless.

Mr. Wood's information was of such a nature that a synopsis of his address cannot be printed but he told some startling and assuring facts as well and all those who heard him at the luncheon are doubly anxious to hear him again tonight.

The matter of contracting for the Chautauqua again next year was discussed and a committee was named from the Lions Club to meet with a similar committee from the Rotary this afternoon to consider the question.

Upon a motion a committee was also named to draft a suitable resolution expressing the appreciation of the club to A. A. Dixon who has been manager of the St. James and who is leaving tonight for the Pacific coast.

THREE LIMIT SUBSCRIBERS SECURED YESTERDAY

A little more than $130.00 worth of war and thrift stamps were sold at the war savings bank on Tuesday. Three new limit subscribers, Mrs. T. P. Adams, Jack Culbertson and J. J. Perkins have been secured and the committee has several more in view. Exchanges of war stamps for a book of thrift stamps are very numerous at the bank, the children especially being proud of the larger stamp.

NEGRO BAND OUT TO GIVE SELECT MEN A SEND OFF

Martial strains from the negro band sped the parting of twenty-six negroes who left for Camp Travis this afternoon. The drafted men were given a lively sendoff by their friends and ten white men who left at the same time, but bound for the school of automobile mechanics at Austin, got the benefit of the music.

Negroes are taking a half holiday generally today, to celebrate Emancipation Day and a basket picnic was scheduled to be the feature of the day. Elevator boys gave notice that after six o'clock visitors to office buildings would walk upstairs as the elevator would be closed while the operators were celebrating.

PRESIDENT PARDONS YOUTHS WHO SLEPT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—In granting unconditional pardon to two young soldiers sentenced to death for having slept on post at the front, President Wilson expected his action to act "as a challenge to devoted service for the future."

The text of the order, identical in both cases and made public today, says:

"In view of the youth of Private (Forest D. Sebastian and Jeff Cook), and the fact that his offense seems to have been wholly free from disloyalty or conscious disregard of his duty, I hereby grant him a full and unconditional pardon and direct that he report to his company for further military duty.

"The needs of discipline in the army with propriety impose grave penalties upon those who imperil the safety of their fellows and endanger their country's cause by lack of vigilance, or by infraction of all rules in which safety has been found to rest, I am persuaded, however, that this young man will take the restored opportunity of his forfeited life as a challenge to devoted service for army of the United States in France will realize for keenly the high character of the cause for which they are fighting, and the confidence which their country reposes in them, to permit the possibility of further danger from any similar shortcomings."

CHRISTIAN FAITH VAWTER'S THEME TUESDAY NIGHT

After the rest through Monday, the revival at the First Christian church was resumed with renewed vigor and growing interest on Tuesday evening. In spite of the unusually hot weather and the especially interesting Chautauqua attraction, the attendance at the meeting is growing and a large crowd heard Dr. Vawter's delightfully clear and comprehensive discourse on "Christian Faith" Tuesday.

The inspirational song service was led by J. W. Bradley with Mrs. R. E. Strange and Mrs. R. E. Shepherd accompanists and Dr. Vawter with the cornet.

Among the special sermons announced for the near future are "Rolling the Stone Away" and "What I Must Do to Be Saved." The time schedule is being strictly adhered to. The song services opens at 9:30 each evening and the congregation is dismissed promptly at 9:45.

AT THE THEATERS

MUSICAL COMEDY CO. AT PLAZA THEATRE THIS WEEK

Prevented by delay of theff baggage in arrival, Billy Malone's Musical Comedy company opened their engagement Tuesday night at the Plaza Airdome, and pleased their audience very much with their sprightly offering. They presented for their opening bill "The New Cook," a laugh producing comedy from start to finish and declared to be one of the best ever shown in this city. Billy Malone himself playing the title role "the new cook" demonstrated himself to be a comedian of no mean ability, and as an Irish biddy would be hard to beat. He is supported by a clever cast. Goergia Mack, J. Wilburn Davis and Ruth Gibbs gave a very clever performance and the musical numbers were bright and snappy, the chorus working with plenty of ginger and pep. Special praise is given the costuming. Miss Ethel Gerard, billed as "The Premier Blue Singer", was a star. This company will offer tonight a second clever comedy, entitled "Tomato Ketchup."

AT THE TENT THEATER

A large audience saw "The Man Who Dared" at the Harrison Theater on Tuesday evening and the play was unusually well received. Tonight's feature is described a "a beautiful story well told," and promises some splendid comedy. In "The Lone Star Ranch," the big Texas feature play, patrons of the theater are offered one of the most striking of its productions.

Monday opened the second week of the company's stay in Wichita Falls and the performances will probably continue for another two or three weeks. Mr. Harrison again requests that babies or small children who cry during the performances be taken to the rear of the theater in order not to disturb audience or members of the cast. Seats are on sale at the Stationery Supply company, Ninth and Indiana. Doors open at 7:45 and curtain rises at 8:45.

Facts and Figures Don't Lie!

Do you know, that every article of merchandise, from the small paper of pins to the automobile, have advanced in price from ten to three hundred per cent.

New typewriters and adding machines are still selling at the same old price. There has been no advance as yet. Second hand machines have advanced approximately thirty-five per cent. It costs on an average of three hundred per cent more to make and market a typewriter or adding machine now than before the war.

The price is bound to go up in the next thirty days. We still have a few machines at the old prices.
