The SDN Column

Snyder is sort of a starting point for the text of George Dolan's new book, titled "Come Quick, Rodger's Had A Fit."

Dolan, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram columnist, gets the book started by recalling some of the stories told by Hondo Crouch and Ace Reid at the All-America City banquet here in April of 1969.

He recalled that both Crouch and Reid tried desperately to trace their connections back to Snyder some way when the town was designated as an All-America City.

Dolan himself had been invited to the All-America City celebration here as a celebrity, which he does not mention in this book. But Dolan lost himself in the crowd and was found sitting near the back of the banquet hall in the coliseum. Crouch and Reid claimed he flat "chickened out." Actually, he was back there taking copious notes on the dialogue of Crouch and Reid, which he has now put to use in his book, along with many more equally unusual events.

Anyway, Dolan just wouldn't get on the stage, or even take a place at the second head table at our All-America City banquet.

Speaking of the All-America City award, you will recall that it was preceded by another award called "Operation Sparkle," a sort of community contest put on by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The Houston Chamber of Commerce recently seized on this title for a big clean-up event it staged. Houston's "Operation Sparkle" won it the 1970 "Keep America Beautiful" award.

The Permian Basin Petroleum Association has challenged Senator Philip H. Hart of Michigan on his comments about a penny-a-galion increase in the price of gasoline. Writing on behalf of PBPA, Ed Thompson notes: "We have noted a rather large silence from you concerning the increased cost of some one billion dollars per year to the consumer, every year for the past 10 years, in the price paid for automobiles. Is it because they are manufactured in Michigan, not in Texas, that keeps this from being a consumer gouging practice?"

Thompson also raised another embarrassing question? "Would no limitation, tax or otherwise, on foreign imported automobiles be likely to force the price of our domestic product down to a reasonable level?"

Sen. Hart had suggested that increased imports of oil would help keep the domestic oil prices in line.

Today In History

Today is Sunday, Nov. 29, the 333rd day of 1970. There are 32 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1760, the French surrendered Detroit to the British at the end of the French and Indian War.

On this date:

In 1825, the first Italian opera presented in the United States was performed in New York. It was Rossini's "Barber of Seville."

In 1890, the first so-called Army-Navy football game was played at West Point, N. Y. The final score was: Navy 24, Army 0.

In 1922, it was announced that fabulous treasure had been found in the tomb of King Tutankhamen in Egypt.

In 1929, U. S. Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard E. Byrd radioed that he had made the first flight over the South Pole.

In 1945, the monarchy was abolished in Yugoslavia.

Ten years ago: The U. N. Command in the Congo denied that it had aided the escape of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba from his guarded residence in Leopoldville.

Five years ago: U. S. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara said after a visit to South Vietnam: "We have stopped losing the war."

One year ago: Preparations were being made to operate a new lottery system for the U. S. military draft.

Alaska Jet Crash Kills 48 Persons

By KENT STURGIS
Associated Press Writer

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A chartered DC8 jetliner carrying military personnel and dependents crashed, exploded in towering flames and burned on takeoff Friday night, killing 48 of the 230 persons aboard.

Three persons were missing, said an Alaska Air Command spokesman who gave the death total.

The spokesman said 168 persons, more than 100 of them injured, were counted at a hospital on nearby Elmendorf Air Force Base. He said 11 others were in Anchorage hospitals.

The spokesman said the plane carried 219 passengers and 11 crewmen, one more crewman than given in earlier reports.

A National Transportation Safety Board spokesman in Anchorage said one stewardess was among the dead.

A witness said the plane, owned by Capitol International Airways, was moving "too fast to land and too slow to take off" when it crashed at Anchorage International Airport after refueling and changing crewmen.

A survivor said the plane "only climbed for a few minutes, then it sort of glided down."

John Pederson, an airport mechanic, said the plane's nose dropped, then ran off the runway. It caught fire, he said, and then exploded twice about three or four minutes later.

Master Sgt. Robert L. Kellar of New York City, a 16-year Army veteran who said he survived two previous crashes, told of "panic at first, three or four seconds at most."

The father of six said other GIs quelled the panic "instantly, and this was one of the things that pulled us out."

Another survivor, Spec. 4 William Goez of Tacoma, Wash., said the plane approached the end of the runway.

"I thought, 'We're not going to make it'," he said. "the plane was coming apart."

Goez and Kellar, both of whom suffered minor injuries, were interviewed in a hospital after treatment.

The flight originated at McChord Air Force Base, Tacoma, Wash. It was to have stopped at Yakota, Japan, as well as at Anchorage, en route to Cam Rahn Bay, South Vietnam.

A McChord spokesman said the passengers were believed to be Army and Air Force personnel. A Pentagon spokesman said they included replacements for assignment to units in South Vietnam.

Goez said the plane also carried military dependents, including at least one child. They apparently were bound for Japan.

M.H. Rowe, executive vice president of Capitol, said in Nashville, Tenn., he was told most of the crew survived.

Pfc. Philip Zimmerman of Jersey City, N.J., another of the survivors, said the plane broke up as it crashed.

"Gas (fuel) was sprayed all over everyone," he said.

Joe Heywood of Anchorage, who saw the accident from his car near the runway, said the fuselage "split in the middle and a big ball of flame went up maybe 120-150 feet high."

Some of the survivors said they saw fire in an engine before the crash. Some also told of hearing a series of loud reports just before the plane nosed back to earth.

Heywood said there were "three or four blue-colored flames that sounded like sharp cracks or explosions ... like a big rumbling hiss."

Health Service Is Criticized

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

BOSTON (AP) — An official of the American Medical Association today criticized organized medicine, the federal government and local communities for what he termed failure to team up toward solving national problems of health care.

Dr. L. J. Snyder of Fresno, Calif., chairman of the AMA's Council on Rural Health, did so in declaring that the health services problems of rural America—with its estimated 55 million inhabitants—are among the most acute for the nation, especially the problems of the rural poor.

In a speech prepared for a special AMA-sponsored conference on "New Approaches to Health Care Delivery," held on the eve of the organization's 24th clinical convention, Dr. Snyder said:

"Health service provision for all Americans has become a topic for acrimonious debate across this land. Piecemeal legislation has been written and funded at the federal level.

"Multiple experiments in health-service provision are being tested by governmental agencies, medical schools and organized medicine."

But, he added: "At no time have I seen legitimate evidence of a real commitment to planning for solutions to the dilemma of distribution, delivery and quality of health services in this country.

"At no point have organized medicine, federal health agencies or community leadership formed a true partnership sharing resources, expertise, and concern."

He said the shortage of physicians in rural areas is growing as older ones retire or die and younger ones move to cities or into specilized training.

The rural middle-class have the means to go where care is available, he said, but the rural poor have a special problem.

"The sheer weight of poverty is worsened by barriers of cultural and language difficulties, isolation of long distances from any medically organized community, low priority for health services, a hostile environment, inadequate housing and, for a million migrants, no legal rights to even the meager health services offered to others of the rural poor."

The Californian said there's a need to follow up on, and apply widely, "several exciting experiments in rural health care services that are being tested in this country."

"Rural communities will need to take more positive program planning steps and will require massive assistance from organized medicine and governmental subdivisions at all levels," he said.

Pecan Brings Down Sparrow

A sparrow fought a losing battle with a pecan in South Snyder early Saturday.

Finally, apparently exhausted from a nutty ordeal, the bird fell down the chimney and into the fireplace at the Dr. Jim Morrow residence, 2305 Forty-third Street. The bird had a pecan stuck to its beak and had been unable to free itself.

"The children had seen this bird with a pecan stuck to its beak the day before," said Mrs. Morrow.

She said that some type of liquid which came from the pecan seemed to form a glue-like substance which cemented the pecan to the bird's beak.

He married Ida Voss, Dec. 23, 1906 in Pyron, and she survives.

Other survivors include three daughters; Mrs. Frank Roemisch of Hermleigh, Mrs. Buford Patterson of Sweetwater and Mrs. Edgar Wemken of Hereford; four sisters, Mrs. Betty Light of Roscoe, Mrs. Anna Soules of Ft. Worth, Miss Lillie Barnes and Miss Jewel Barnes, both of Levelland; two brothers, Charlie of Roby and Vess of Roscoe; and 12 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and 2 great-great grandchildren.

He was a member of the Central Baptist Church in Hermleigh.

HarlowFavored As GOP Chief

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Party sources say the next Republican national chairman probably will come from a list of candidates being considered this weekend by President Nixon. And White House counselor Bryce N. Harlow is believed to head the list.

The 54-year-old former Oklahoman who has served Presidents Eisenhower and Nixon as congressional liaison, speechwriter and counsel, thus would assume official leadership of the GOH as it gears up for the 1972 presidential election.

The chairmanship is being vacated by Maryland Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, named by Nixon Wednesday to take over the Interior Department following the firing of Walter J. Hickel.

Harlow is a gentle, soft-spoken man who, most agree, is closer to the President than are any others under consideration.

Also on the list that has emerged following interviews with numerous congressional and party sources are Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity and assistant to the President; outgoing Rep. George Bush of Texas, and Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas.

Dole, the only one who has publicly stated he would like the job, is considered the longest shot because of the possibility his work in the Senate would not leave time for party affairs.

Two others who had been prominently mentioned now appear out of the running:

—Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., who lost his Senate race to Hubert H. Humphrey, said Friday he expects to take a post in the White House as assistant or counselor to the President.

—And presidential assistant Robert H. Finch is believed to have made too many Southern enemies during his tenure as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Those betting on Harlow are quick to point out President Nixon sent him on the campaign trail this fall with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. Harlow met hundreds of party officials and workers and the associations would be helpful to a chairman.

"If Harlow really wants it, it's his," said one member of Congress close to the President.

Rumsfeld, a former Illinois congressman, also is well liked by the President and is the only one with both a public name and working experience in the White House.

Bush is a 46-year-old Yale-educated Texan highly attractive to Republicans throughout the country. Like Dole, he has done more than the usual amount of traveling in the past few years.

Bush's associates say he had not been contacted about the post as of Friday night, however.

Dole, on the other hand, has contacted the White House himself.

"I'm interested if he wants an active chairman," Dole said in a telephone interview. "I'm not interested if he wants a caretaker. It would be a lot of work, but I would hope I could handle it."

Missile Tested By Soviets

WASHINGTON AP—The Russians have conducted the first long-range test firing of an improved SSH13 intercontinental ballistic missile into the Pacific, the Pentagon announced today.

This was also the first Soviet missile test into the mid-Pacific since Moscow gave public notice a month ago that it would conduct a series of missile firing tests into that area.

A modified SS13 was fired about 4,700 miles from the south central portion of the Soviet Union, the Defense Department said.

The SS13 is one of several types of Soviet ICBMs included in their arsenal, estimated to number about 1,400 weapons in all.

Previously, the Russians this year have tested the huge SS9 capable of hurling up to 25 megations of nuclear destruction, and the SS11, a smaller ICBM, both with multiple warheads.

Pope Calls For End Of War

MANILA (AP) — Pope Paul VI today called for an end to the Vietnam war as a means of "working for peace in the world and the well-being of all mankind."

In a dramatic address, the pontiff urged "the pursuit of honest and sincere negotiations" and begged world leaders "to avoid any action that could harm the climate of understanding so necessary for the success of the current talks" in Paris.

The Pope told 150 Vietnamese clergyman and laymen that he was sure their embattled homeland would someday "know better days."

Speaking in French at the home of the papal nuncio, where he is staying while he is in the Philippines, the pontiff asked his audience: "But, you will say, what is the Pope doing to help us attain that peace which everyone longs for?

"Dear sons and daughters and dear friends," he continued, "we are doing everything in our power. In particular we unceasingly urge the pursuit of honest and sincere negotiations. This seems to us not only the surest road to a just and lasting peace, but the only way worthy of love."

The pontiff had been invited to stop briefly in saigon during his current 25,000-mile swing through Asia and the Pacific. But Vatican sources said he turned the invitation down because he had not been able to go to Hanoi also. The pontiff did not mention the invitation in his address today.

King Hussein To Visit Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan will call on President Nixon at the White House Dec. 8.

The monarch will meet with Nixon as part of a three-day unofficial visit to Washington. Hussein had announced earlier he would visit the capital in December.

Four Escapees Enjoy Luxury

By BILL GARVEY
Associated Press Writer

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Four East Germans who escaped from Communist rule with 35-foot leaps from the railing of a cruise ship into turbulent waters of the Florida Straits enjoyed capitalist luxury today at the Plush Indies Inn on Duck Key.

Karl Bley, who planned his own escape for more than a year, led the leap for freedom toward a waiting boat chartered by his brother, Eric. Three others, grabbing at opportunity, followed him into the water and also were rescued.

After being granted temporary political asylum following interrogation at Key West, the four men went with Eric Bley to the Indies Inn, where he had waited four days for the ship's arrival and the desperate gamble.

A hearing on permanent asylum is scheduled for Monday.

"Karl's from one part of the world and I'm from another, and we met right in the ocean. It's really something," said Erich Bley, Karl's brother.

The Bleys, using coded language in correspondence, said they had planned the escape for nearly a year, but in the last tense minutes a balky engine in the rescue boat almost destroyed their hopes.

The four were plucked from the sea near here and raced to shore in a waiting boat.

"The two brothers were crying and laughing and frankly I was crying too," said Bob Lowe, captain of the rescue boat.

The East German men had been bound for Cuba aboard the cruise ship Volkerfreundschapf. Suddenly a light airplane buzzed the ship.

That was Karl's signal. He jumped.

"I saw Karl go over, and then I saw the three others jump," said Lowe.

Those taking advantage of Bley's escape route were Hendrick Kupfer, 33, a pathologist, from Zwickau, East Germany; his brother Manfred, 37, a neuropathologist from Leipzig; and Peter Rost, 37, a microbiologist from Zwickau.

"We had no idea of escaping until the very instant Bley jumped," Rost said.

"I hope the political situation changes—not even a lot—just a little, so I can get her (his wife) out," said Rost. "Yes, we are all married."

Bley is a bachelor.

Erich, a machine shop owner in Elk Grove Village, Ill., had planned the escape for Thanksgiving Day but the cruise ship failed to appear.

When he spotted the vessel Friday morning he and Lowe raced 20 miles to rent a boat.

The rented boat's engine failed twice en route but the two men finally reached the ship.

"We were within 15 minutes of calling the whole thing off," said Lowe.

Erich and his wife, Marlene, left East Germany in 1956 when Karl was only nine, but the brothers recognized each other immediately.

The four were questioned by immigration authorities and later released.

She proved her love by being miserable

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: In the past, my husband got a disease, got a girl pregnant, lied, cheated—you name it, he did it. He is almost 50 years old and he hasn't changed any.

We've been married 30 years and have a fine family, which I brought up practically alone. When the children were youngsters he never played with them or brought them any toys, but for some tramp, he always found the time and money.

He is still forever making excuses to go out. He waits until it's dark. The bum.

You are probably asking why I put up with it all these years. Mostly because of the children, God love them. I kept my feelings and all my heartaches from them, and all the while my husband said he loved me and he couldn't live without me. [Bull, of course.] Abby, now that the kids are gone, do you think it was worth it? STUCK IT OUT

DEAR STUCK: If you do, it was.

DEAR ABBY: Would you please tell me which name comes first in writing season's greetings! The husband's or the wife's? Thank you. CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: In the more formal signatures, it is, "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe." When first names are used, it's "Mary and John Doe."

DEAR ABBY: My parents would have celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last week if my father had lived, but he died 25 years ago and my mother never remarried.

I spoke to my mother on the date that would have been their anniversary and much to my surprise she was very angry at me for not having given her a "Golden Wedding Anniversary" party. I felt just awful about it after realizing that she had really expected it.

I live 100 miles away, but keep in close touch with my mother. When she told me she had even bought herself a gold dress for the occasion, I was heartsick. Do many people celebrate an anniversary after their mates are gone? I guess the older I get the more stupid I get.

STUPID DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: There is no reason to "celebrate" an anniversary after one's mate is gone. It's a thoughtful gesture to entertain the surviving mate on the date of her [or his] anniversary, but you needn't feel "stupid" for failing to give your mother a "Golden Wedding Anniversary Party" under these circumstances.

DEAR ABBY: May I comment on that woman realtor with the big bottom who wore slacks to the office and to show houses? I am also a woman realtor and I have worn slacks for years because I, too, am a very large woman and most of the dresses available in my size were much too short for me.

Large women have had a lot of trouble these last 10 years trying to keep their belly buttons covered, and I hate to show houses with my navel showing. My fellow realtors should thank me for keeping America beautiful by keeping myself covered.

However, now that larger dresses are available, [even though they are the ugliest things in creation] I shall wear them. BIG BOTTOM BERTHA FROM B'HAM.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Letters Protest ACP Delay

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department sources say up to 400 letters a day are being received by Nixon administration officials about the delay in announcing Agricultural Conservation Program activities for next year.

These complaints have been passed on to the department. Most comments, the sources say, are in favor of continuing ACP, one of the most popular and long-lived government farm programs.

Since the mid-1930s ACP has helped farmers pay costs of carrying out conservation practices on their land. In recent years, succeeding administration have tried either to kill it off entirely or reduce expenditures which have ranged around $190 million a year.

The Nixon administration is trying to do the same by not recommending ACP funds in yearly budgets. Congress, however, has restored the funds each time.

Appropriations for USDA operations this fiscal year are hung up in Congress, waiting on a House-Senate conference report which is expected in a week or two.

Both the House and Senate appropriations bills include ACP money at about the $190 million level. Under resolutions enabling departments to keep operating without specific appropriations, the USDA could have announced 1971 ACP plans long ago but has not.

Meantime, pressure on the White House for jarring loose a decision on ACP has been growing. The latest move was by 33 Republican senators who sent a letter to President Nixon this week asking quick approval of ACP.

Governors Are In Workshop

By YVONNE BASKIN
Associated Press Writer

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP) — An overwhelmingly Democratic band of governors and governors-elect got down to business today in a workshop session that is expected to be more practical than political.

"I wouldn't be surprised if this turns out to be a nuts and bolts conference," said former Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey Friday.

Hughes is chairman of the two-day round of orientation seminars for governors-elect sponsored by the National Governors Conference. The seminars are being held along with a meeting of the conference executive committee.

Most of the 23 present and future governors attending the gathering flew into Raleigh Friday evening, attended a dinner in their honor given by North Carolina Gov. and Mrs. Bob Scott and then were driven to the resort town of Southern Pines for the sessions.

All of the sessions are closed to newsmen.

Hughes, a Democrat, said the workshops would deal with the practical aspects of "how to run an efficient state government independent of the federal government."

Although the attendance at the conference—17 Democrats and six Republicans—reflects the new Democratic majority in the nation's state houses, Hughes said he expects politics and criticism of the Nixon administration to be kept to a minimum.

The executive committee also will be laying the groundwork for the midwinter meeting of the full conference in Washington Feb. 23-26.

Ole Denies Wedding Plans

COPENHAGEN, (AP) — A wealthy Danish businessman, Ole Broendum-Nielsen, was guarded in his comments today on the announcement by entertainer Eartha Kitt that they will marry.

The Copenhagen newspaper B.T. quoted him as saying: "I have solved Miss Kitt's electroacoustic problems, but from that to marriage is a long jump."

He said there was no prospect of an immediate wedding.

Miss Kitt, a divorcee with a 9-year-old daughter made the announcement during a radio show Friday night in Birmingham, England. She said they met in Copenhagen when the 32-year-old businessman was inspecting a faulty sound system. He manufactures stage sound equipment.

Late Friday night Eartha and Ole had a telephone talk.

B.T. quoted Broendum-Nielsen: "The last time I saw Miss Kitt was in London a fortnight ago. We went to the zoo. The weather was beautiful, but we never touched upon the subject of marriage."

He said it was no longer "modern" to get engaged. His acquaintanceship with Miss Kitt had only reached the stage "where the other person seems very interesting."

He added: "We are both busy with our work and when I fly to Britain next Tuesday I may not even have time to see her."

Moynihan To Teach At Harvard

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House adviser Daniel Patrick Moynihan has abruptly ended reports he will become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. He told President Nixon he will return to teach at Harvard University.

Until a week ago, Moynihan, chief architect of the administration's welfare reform plan, had said he planned all along to spend only two years as one of Nixon's top domestic advisers.

But, when reports from former Harvard colleagues and administration officials circulated that Moynihan would succeed Charles W. Yost at the United Nations, they were not denied by the White House.

According to the Washington Post, Moynihan was discussing difficulties involved in the eventual move as late as last Monday.

The paper said President Nixon offered and Moynihan accepted the U.N. job months back. But when reports of the impending appointment were published prematurely, Moynihan was deeply disturbed.

One of the few Democrats in the administration, he reportedly was dismayed when the Senate Finance Committee recently voted down an effort to release the welfare bill, known as the family assistance plan, to the floor of the Senate.

Moynihan wrote the President Tuesday, telling him of his plans to leave the administration at the beginning of next year, White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Friday.

"Although I then return to Harvard," the letter said in part, "I shall continue to be at your service for anything that you might want that I might be able to provide.

"It would be beyond me at this moment to express adequately my respect for what you have done, my gratitude at the way I have been treated and the extent of my wishes for your success."

In response to questions, Ziegler responded the same way he has during the last few weeks on speculation over personnel changes within the administration.

"We will not remain static," he said, "It is traditional after two years that changes are made and they will be made, but changes are not changes until the announcements are made by the White House."

Another presidential aide said Nixon will be considering some more possible changes at his Camp David retreat this weekend.

Meanwhile Ziegler said there are no immediate plans to replace Moynihan as head of the Urban Affairs Council, adding his duties would be spread around to other remaining staff members.

This will be the first picture for Zinnemann since his Academy Award winning direction of "A Man For All Seasons."

Jet Officer Apologizes

TORONTO (AP) — The first officer of an Air Canada jetliner apologized several times after a braking system was prematurely deployed July 5, plummeting the craft into a Toronto field and killing all 109 aboard.

A transcript of what was said in the cockpit between First Officer Donald Rowland and Capt. Peter Hamilton in the last minutes of the Montreal-Los Angeles flight was read into the record of a federal inquiry by a government lawyer Thursday.

About three minutes before the plane crashed, Hamilton blurted, "no, no, no." His exclamation came a split second after the braking system was activated. Rowland replied: "Sorry, oh, sorry, Pete."

Fund For Six Girls Growing

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — A man credited with helping save the lives of six young girls in a fiery auto accident says contributions are coming from as far away as Germany for a fund he created to help pay the victims' mounting medical bills.

Robert Ellis, 53, who went into a flaming camper truck with Charles Barksdale, 34, and pulled the Girl Scouts to safety, established the fund with help from the Wells Fargo Bank in Martinez.

The total has passed the $7,000 mark, Ellis reported Thursday, but more will be needed because of the girls' serious injuries.

Two of the girls, Lisa and Trudy Harrington, were orphaned. Their parents died when their truck and an oncoming car collided headon. If any money is left after extensive treatment, it will be used to set up scholarships for them.

Ellis said the eventual cost has not been determined but that it is certain to exceed insurance coverage.

Trudy, 10, whose right hand was amputated, remains in the hospital. So do Dawn Harland, 12, who had her spleen removed, and Kirsten Stewart, 12, who recovered consciousness Monday nearly a month after the Oct. 25 crash on the Benicia-Martinez bridge.

Carl and Dorothy Harrington were killed while returning the girls to their homes in Campbell, Calif., from a scout outing. Also killed was the other driver, Arthur J. Edgmon of Yountville, Calif.

Lisa Harrington, 12, has been released from the hospital, but has been unable to return to school.

Also released were Susan Cashman, 12, who lost her left eye, and Julie Kongshoy, 13, who is not expected to be able to return to school for several more weeks.

Best Dressed Table Wins First Prize

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's not the contest prize, it is the travel that counts, says pretty Marilyn Warenski of Salt Lake City.

"And that's why I entered this contest," she explained happily the other day in New York after winning first prize in the 10th annual "Best Dressed Tables" competition. There were 21 regional entries.

"If you want to travel, you must play the local contest to win. I felt I had a good chance back home, but I also felt I could win the big one," continued Mrs. Warenski who competed against regional winners from Honolulu, Wheeling, Cleveland, Memphis, Grand Rapids, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Syracuse, Hartford, Tuscon and other cities.

Her winning table, "City Escape," evolved as a pretty, time-saving table setting for a busy city dweller. But her husband, Dr. James Warenski, an obstetrician, insisted she chose the name because she "wanted to escape to the city." He was left behind with their four children, 6 to 14. He is very understanding, she says.

Mrs. Warenski, who teaches design at the University of Utah, made the table's accessories-handsome Plexiglas place mats and napkin rings that were strips of the same dark bronze material that had been bent and molded in the family oven. She likes the idea so much, she has considered marketing them. The table cloth of gold, brown and orange provided a simple background for the centerpice of plexiglas cylinders of varying heights, holding daisies, lilies and dried brown eucalyptus leaves. The silver, Old English Tipt is a gracious pattern for a simple setting, she said.

In addition to the $1,000 prize, Mrs. Warenski is able to display the $7,500 revolving trophy, a sterling epergne, in her home town for a year.

Some of the other table setting ideas included these:

—A black, white and orange tablecloth with black napkins with a black freeform wire centerpiece with orange cattails and white blossoms.

—A tartan plaid wool cloth with an overcloth of black leather hide with goblets, plates, candlebara of sterling silver.

—A "cool and collected" theme—an undercloth of green felt with overcloth made from a remnant of cane-patterned lime green and white slipcover fabric. Green linen napkins in green rings, white china and an ironstone tureen filled with pale green grapes, ivy, daisies and lemons, completed the setting.

—A setting in blue and white consisted of a white pique table cloth over a blue and white gingham underskirt with white pique napkins tied with blue velvet bows. The centerpiece was a white bird cage filled with white daisies, pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and ferns, topped with two blue birds holding velvet ribbons attached to place cards.

—An interesting table set by a man, Owen Ryan, of Cincinnati had a covering of straw colored terry towels, a centerpiece of Fuji mums in a brown fondue pan with clear brown goblets and wine glasses and brown napkins completing the bronzy looking setting.

—There were many striking ideas—a centerpiece that was a collection of mineral rocks used with exotic flowers and handsome Bavarian china, and another setting that featured moss green burlap tablecloth with orange-red Italian pottery and moss green crystal.

Nine national magazines awarded silver trophies to finalists of their choice, and Mrs. Warenski also won an award in that category.

Here's the Answer

Q.—I bought a second-hand motor for use with a power tool It is one-quarter horsepower. There are two oil cups on it. How often should the motor be oiled, what kind of oil should be used and how much oil should be used each time?

A.—A motor of that horsepower should not be oiled more than twice a year. Use an ordinary lightweight household oil. Put in just a few drops. If an oil cup overflows, you know you have put in too much. Should this happen, be sure to wipe off the oil that has fallen anywhere on the motor

Q.—I am continually getting confused between hardwoods and softwoods and which require fillers and which don't. Can you tell me which are which?

A.—Some of the more common hardwoods are ash, beech, birch, butternut, cherry, elm, mahogany, maple, oak, yellow pine and walnut. Of these, walnut, butternut, mahogany and oak have open pores and can be treated with a paste wood filler —if desired.

The others either require no filler or a liquid filler. Some of the more common softwoods are cedar, cypress, fir, pine, larch and basswood.

Q.—One of our rooms was originally painted with a gloss paint. We now want to do it over with a flat paint. My father says you have to coat the walls first with laundry starch. I never heard of this. Is it true?

A.—Years ago it was a common custom to reduce the gloss on walls by coating it with laundry starch diluted with water. It is still true that new paint won't take over a glossy surface, but these days most persons either sand down the gloss or use one of the new liquid products made especially for applying over glossy areas preparatory to applying a finish coat. But the starch method will still work.

Shirley McClaine Tells Of Concern For People

DON'T FALL OFF THE MOUNTAIN. By Shirley MacLaine. Norton. $5.95.

Shirley MacLaine is an undebatably adorable actress, with a pixie quality which has endeared her to fans for 15 years since her first movie, "The Trouble With Harry." Since then her list of commendable screen credits includes "The Apartment," "Irma La Douce," "Can-Can" and "Some Came Running," among others.

This is her first book. But don't expect to read all the Hollywood gossip, the "inside" story of backstage bickering. Nor is there any of her political radical thinking, nor insight into her very active involvement in current national problems. But it is a spotty autobiography, swiftly going over her childhood in Virginia, with her brother, actor Warren Beatty, and her marriage to Steve Parker, then getting to the heart of her story: through her travels through Africa, India and Bhutan in the Himalayas.

Here's where the real Shirley MacLaine stands up. Her interest—and the delight of this book—is people.

As she writes: "I always felt that I would never develop into a really fine actress because I cared more about life beyond the camera than the life in front of it. Over the years my search became broader and broader ... I was a professional, but basically I was more interested in the people I played than the movies I played them in."

"Don't Fall Off the Mountain" is simple, direct and honest—refreshingly so. She wrote it herself; no "ghost." And though it is neither "significant" nor provocative, it is a welcome book; it's nice to know some people still care about people.

Turkey, Pork Are Plentiful

COLLEGE STATION—Include both turkey and pork in your Christmas plans.

These popular meats are included on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list, according to Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Eggs are also plentiful, as well as such standard table items as potatoes, onions and rice. Christmas wouldn't be the same without the cranberries—and cranberries and cranberry sauce are abundant. You can also plan to fill Christmas stockings with apples, oranges, grapefruit and tangerines, as marketings of these fruit favorites will be heavy during December.

Too, there'll be lots of applesauce and apple juice, frozen concentrated orange juice and walnuts, completing the December lineup of plentiful foods reported by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Apple juice will come in handy for holiday beverages. Serve hot or cold, it's real flavor treat. Just think of the many ways you can utilize the abundance of walnuts for the holidays. They're delicious in salads and baked goods—and you'll enjoy them toasted for between-meal munching.

Foods in plentiful supply usually indicate a good selection for quality—and attractive price tags, too.

Fresh Dates Enhance Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's hard to come by a "different" date cake recipe but we've tracked one down. We found it in a delightful regional cookbook—one called "Fireside Recipes" and compiled by the Fireside Fellowship of the Stanley Congregational Church, United Church of Christ, in Chatham, N.J.

The batter for this cake is mixed in an unorthodox manner and when it comes out of the oven a sweet "sauce" is poured over it, the sauce acting as a frosting. The cake may be served warm or cold. We used fresh dates in this cake and they made a great contribution.

Before the donor of this cake recipe moved to New Jersey, she lived in Pontiac, Mich., and before that in Denver, Colo. So you might call her delicious date dessert a tri-state specialty.

MRS. JESSIE HENSEL'S DATE CAKE
(Adapted from "Fireside Recipes")

1 cup (20) pitted fresh dates
1 cup water
½ cup (¼-pound stick) butter
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking soda
1½ cups unsifted flour, fork-stirred before measuring
1 large egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 container (½ pint) heavy cream, whipped
Sauce, see recipe

With kitchen scissors cut each date crosswise into thirds letting the pieces fall into a medium saucepan. Add water. Bring to a boil over medium heat.

Add butter and sugar and cook, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved and butter is melted. Remove from heat. Stir in baking soda. Let cool 10 minutes.

Stir in flour, egg and vanilla, blending well.

Turn into a buttered oblong glass 1½-quart baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾ inches).

Bake in a preheated 400 degree oven until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean—20 to 25 minutes.

While cake bakes, prepare sauce. Remove baked cake from oven and pour sauce over hot cake. Serve warm or cold, cut into squares. (Remove squares from pan with a wide metal spatula.) Top squares with whipped cream sweetened to taste with sugar and flavored with vanilla.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

SAUCE

1 tablespoon flour
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ cup water
¼ cup (4 of a ¼-pound stick) butter

In a small saucepan thoroughly stir together the flour and sugar. Gradually stir in water. Add butter. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring to dissolve sugar and melt butter. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Makes 1 cup.

Can You Bake A Banana Cake?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

DEAR CECILY: Will you kindly use a recipe for a banana cake? I have one but there's something wrong somewhere, because the cake turns out tasting delicious but is too heavy.—CAKE COOK.

DEAR CAKE COOK: The lightest banana cake we've ever tried is one that is also flavored with orange and is a chiffon cake. The recipe follows and I hope you'll like it. Just one caution: Use bananas that are fully ripe and sieve them so the banana puree that results will work into the batter evenly.—C. B.

BANANA ORANGE CHIFFON CAKE

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup corn oil
6 large eggs, separated
1 cup sieved ripe bananas (2 large)
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1-3rd cup orange juice
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
Orange Frosting, see recipe

Into a medium mixing bowl sift together the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in the center; add corn oil, egg yolks, banana, orange rind and orange juice. With a wooden spoon beat until smooth.

In a large mixing bowl beat egg whites and cream of tartar until whites hold stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Gently fold in flour mixture, blending well.

Pour into an ungreased angel-food cake pan—10 by 4 inches.

Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and cake springs back when touched—1 hour and 10 or 15 minutes. At once invert pan and let stand on legs; if pan does not have legs invert over a funnel or bottle; cool completely.

With a small metal spatula loosen edges and around tube; ease out of pan with fingers. Leave cake bottom side up (top will have cracks) and cover with Orange Frosting. Cake may be cut into 15 two-inch wedges.

ORANGE FROSTING

2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon orange juice

In a small mixing bowl beat together the butter and corn syrup; stir in orange rind. Alternately beat in the sugar and orange juice. Makes ½ cup or enough frosting for top of Banana Orange Chiffon Cake. Double recipe for enough frosting to cover both top and sides.

Panel Says Welfare Surrounded By 'Myths'

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — "Nobody in Texas is on welfare because he wants to be."

That is how the Senate Interim Committee on Welfare Reform sums up the welfare problem for the man, woman or child who depends on a monthly check from the state.

The committee's report, issued the day before most Texans sat down to Thanksgiving Turkey, said welfare is surrounded by harmful "myths" that perpetuate poverty.

"Nobody in Texas is on welfare because he wants to be. To be on welfare in Texas, a person must fall into one of four categories. The person must be needy and (1) over 65, (2) totally and permanently disabled, (3) blind or (4) a member of a fatherless family," the committee said.

"One of the harmful myths is that a lot of people are on welfare because they don't want to work. Relatively few people in the first three categories can do much productive work."

The committee, chaired by W. P. Hobby Jr., president and editor of the Houston Post, said Texas' welfare system has treated recipients "as persons to be maintained only on a level at or below that of decency."

Welfare provides subsistence for some 460,000 Texans—half of them over 65.

Average monthly checks are $62.66 for the aged, $64.78 for the disabled, $78.88 for the blind and $118.84 for families with dependent children, the report said.

The OAA rolls have held fairly steady, and aid to the blind recipients have decreased each year since 1960.

But the disabled and dependent children have increased drastically.

Those receiving aid to the disabled doubled between 1967 and 1970—from 12,508 to 23,701—"due to the increased number of accidents resulting in permanent and total disability.

"When insurance benefits for home and industrial accidents have been exhausted, many injured persons have no other assets with which to meet their needs. High medical expenses for many APTD (Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled) recipients have become part of daily need and have frequently been the casual factor making it necessary for people to apply for welfare benefits," the report said.

Most of the problems, "myths" and controversy over welfare concern the booming Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program.

There was a steady but undramatic rise in the number of AFDC children until 1967, when rolls jumped sharply.

From 79,214 in December 1966, AFDC children increased to 199,504 in June 1970. During the same period, total AFDC payments leaped from $2.2 million to $7.4 million.

The rise was dramatic, but AFDC remained half as expensive and involved more than 30,000 fewer direct recipients than old age assistance, with 231,928 persons receiving $14.5 million.

The most drastic changes in the AFDC rolls started in September 1969. Since then an average of 6,948 children, in 2,425 families, have been added each month.

A sharp rise in the monthly AFDC grants, from $24.55 to $36.10 per child, resulted from court decisions, the committee said.

"These decisions required the inclusion of all of the children in a family in the figuring of a grant and the modification of budgeted need to paralleled increases in costs of living (no cost of living had been included in the budgeted need calculations for the preceding three years)," the report said.

"An additional increase in the costs to Texas resulted when AFDC supplementation was changed from 4:1 (federal-state) to 2:1 (federal state)."

Meanwhile the growing rolls pushed against the $75 million annual state welfare appropriation for benefits and outstripped the money available for free medical treatment for the needy. Funds were shuffled around to make money available for a while, but the committee said the welfare department will ask for a $41 million emergency appropriation when the legislature meets in January.

The commission also took note of the welfare department's proposed 1971-73 budget, which calls for $200 million a year in benefits and would require removal of the $80 million annual welfare ceiling.

The welfare rolls represent only a fraction of the poor in Texas, the committee said.

Of the state's 11 million people, 2.8 million are in families with less than the $3,000 "poverty line" income, the report said.

"Only 11 states have a lower per capita expenditure by state and local governments for public welfare," the committee stated.

"Disregard for the poor—whether they are aged, handicapped or children—in a time of plenty, is contrary to the basic human principles which have made Texas and this nation great," it continued.

"Failure to structure ways by which these disadvantaged may be helped and their plight alleviated will only doom more generations to a hopeless future."

Aids Santa

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Sometimes Santa's helpers are far from the traditional pointy-capped gnomes—like Mrs. Elmer Fairbanks, whose childhood love of dolls has proved to the benefit of Korean orphans.

For years she haunted the thrift shops in search of old, abandoned dolls.

She would haul the bedraggled, punctured, and soiled specimens home for repair, washing, shampoo and sewmanship. That was Mrs. Fairbanks' hobby.

Now she and a friend, Mrs. Fred Bates, do the haunting together. They often arise at 4 a.m. in their own homes to work on the dolls. No hobby, this time.

Last year, some 100 dolls went to the Holt Orphanage in Korea, a needy place Mrs. Fairbanks discovered through an adoption program.

This year's crop of dolls numberes 90, and is awaiting holiday shipment to Korea.

LONDON (AP) — A Conqueror tank from the World War II weighing almost 150,000 pounds was moved from the Imperial War Museum to a storage depot in Essey. Although the usual route is only 11 miles, the transporter had to make a 50-mile detour to find bridges which could accommodate the tank's weight.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHIMPS

QUESTION: What is the most intelligent animal in the world?

• • •

ANSWER: Man, with his amazing power to reason, to learn from experience, to pass on his findings through written languages, has a brain so far above the intelligence of animals that we cannot compare them. Among subhuman creatures, the chimpanzee is generally regarded as the smartest: Then follow, in succession, the gorilla, the monkey, the dog, the cat, the racoon, the elephant, the pig and the horse. As an example of the intelligence of the chimp, Jane Goodall (later, Baroness Jane VanLawick-Goodall), a scientist who has studied wild chimpanzees at close hand, reports they can use a primitive tool. They are very fond of termites, which build large houses made of earth and saliva. Miss Goodall saw and photographed a chimp who had located such a termite house. She saw the chimp break off a branch, strip the leaves off and stick it through a hole in the termite's house. When he pulled it out, termites were clinging to the stick. He sat down to chew on them as we might suck on a lollipop. The great point was that he had created a tool to help himself with — something far beyond the ability of most subhuman creatures.

CASHMERE PANT SUIT — Pants join the ranks of complete fashion elegance via the superb beauty of knitted cashmere in this sophisticated costume by Valerie Louthan for Kinross of Scotland. Subtly shaped so that it lightly caresses the body, the languid, elongated cashmere cardigan falls open below a bodice panel of tiny ball buttons. Sleeves are slim and close-fitting; large pockets are placed high. Matching pants, in a supple stroke of multi-ply cashmere have turned up cuffs and an elasticized waistband.

Proper Selection Of Tree

COLLEGE STATION —The Christmas tree, symbol of the beauty and joy of the holiday season, may present problems as you try to choose just the right tree for your home, advises Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

Proper selection and treatment enhance the long-lasting beauty of a Christmas tree, he reminds.

The first rule in selecting the freshest tree is to shop early. To determine how fresh a tree is, first check the needles. They should be resilient and not brittle when bent. The needles should adhere when you run your fingers down the branch. Shake or bounce the tree on the ground lightly to see if the needles are firmly attached. If only a few drop, the tree is undoubtedly fresh and is more likely to retain its needles throughout the holiday season.

Trees on the lot always appear smaller than they actually are. Since Christmas trees are sold according to height, it is economically unwise to buy one several feet taller than the ceiling at home.

Look for a tree with a uniform triangular taper. Check to see that it is free of weak, broken or unduly long branches. Also, it should have a well-filled-out look.

Once home, make a diagonal cut at the base of the tree, removing one to two inches of the base. Stand the tree in water and keep the base immersed. The tree should be stored in a cool, shady spot, indoors or outdoors, until time for decorating.

A Christmas tree with its base immersed in water will remain safe from ignition from a point source, such as a match flame, for at least 3 weeks, if installed reasonably fresh.

Add water to the base container daily to replace amounts absorbed by the tree. A five or six foot tree may use as much as a gallon of water a day. Low humidity found in most heated homes increases the difficulty of keeping the foliage fresh.

Locate the tree so that it is not in the air stream of heating vents or near other sources of heat. Use a fire screen before a fireplace to contain flying sparks.

Keep the Christmas tree lighting system in good order. Inspect and discard wires with frayed insulation, broken sockets and loose connections. Don't buy strings of lights unless they have the UL label.

Keep the base of the tree free from combustibles. Remove combustible Christmas wrappings as soon as possible.

Fixin's Important To A Proper Fruit Cake

COLLEGE STATION— Fruitcakes will spark the holiday with flavor excitement when spiced with just the right assortment of fruits, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

The fixin's for fruitcake include citron, lemon peel, orange peel, cherries and pineapple.

Citron, lemon and orange peel are available diced in glace form, covered with a light coat of sugar or drained with all the surplus sugar removed. They are also available in mixed fruit combinations.

Cherries are packed whole in glace form, and are colored red and green.

Pineapple is packed in glace form as slices, fingers or diced. They are colored red, green and yellow.

Candied fruits, in 4-and 8-ounce containers, are available in bulk displays, cello-packs and vacuum jars. Most stores stock candied fruits to last only through the holiday season because of limited demand the rest of the year. If planning to buy an excess supply for later use, purchase vacuum jars; they have better keeping qualities.

Nutmeats are important ingredients in fruitcakes. Two pounds of unshelled nuts make about one pound (3 or 4 cups, depending on variety) of nutmeats. When unshelled nuts are priced at half the cost of shelled nuts, they are equally good buys.

Bake fruitcakes in different-sized containers for variety. A 6-ounce fruit juice can is ideal for a small loaf. Fruitcakes baked in one-pound coffee cans may be put back into the can for safe traveling through the mail. Ring molds and various sizes of loaf pans also add variety.

For large fruitcakes, line the pans with brown paper and grease with shortening. Grease smaller pans, fancy molds and juice cans well. Put a round of greased wax paper in the bottom of the juice can.

Fill pans with batter to within one-half inch of the top, juice cans to within one inch. Set a pan of hot water on the bottom of the oven during baking to prevent a heavy crust from forming.

Bake fruitcakes in a slow oven, 250 to 300 degrees F. A 9 x5 x 3 pan needs about two and one-half hours; one-pound coffee can, about 2 hours; 8-inch ring mold, about one and one-half hours; and a juice can, about 45 minutes.

Cool cakes thoroughly before wrapping in heavy foil, or plastic. Store in a cool place 3 to 4 weeks to ripen. Decorate or frost cakes after aging.

Animal Story Is Different

SNOWY, THE STORY OF AN EGRET. by Friffing Bancroft. McCall. $4.95.

This is an animal story with a difference.

Instead of a romanticized account of some beloved pet, it is a short novel about a bird in the wild, a novel that comes logically to a tragic end.

It is based moreover not on superficial observations but on scientific reports as evidenced by a seven page bibliography, including some of the author's own papers—surely an innovation.

Despite that of course it is fiction. Snowy is an egret who was born on a Florida key, who was crowded out of his home territory by bulldozers that ripped up the swamp land, who made a perilous migration to the stinking mud flats of a northeastern industrial region, and who was slain at last by a plume hunter in Venezuela.

Meantime in two seasons Snowy had about every experience possible for a little white heron. Like the hero of a folk ballad, he is given credit for the adventures, the innovations of a whole era.

If you don't mind the animal story convention that attributes to some bird or beast the feelings and even the reasoning powers of a human being, this is a painless and delightful way to lap up natural history. Brancroft details not only the minutiae of Snowy's existence but also that of the lives of numerous associated species. And the book winds up as powerful indictment of the bulldozer culture that is laying waste America's wetlands.

HERE' HOW

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Battening down the house for winter? You might ponder whether the adage, "Hard work never hurt anybody" applies to you.

Not everyone is physically or emotionally equipped to perform heavy work tasks or a number of work tasks. Some men have been injured because they are bravely using equipment that they don't dig.

Is it better to do it yourself or should you have an experienced workman do the job for you?

Many rugged individuals have been done-in by snow shoveling. As for the use of tools and equipment, many husbands are safer at work than at home, one safety researcher reported recently. Men are experiencing twice as many accidents at home than they are at work where rules, standards and safety equipment are employed.

Here's how to keep your do-it-yourselfer from overdoing it:

—Encourage him to do chores on weekends rather than after he has done a day's work. In the evening, he is likely to take greater risks to finish a job. He may not know how to use a power tool, but he will try. He may forget to ground electrical equipment to prevent shock, he may use chemicals without studying instructions. He may be tempted to work without protective devices such as gloves or safety goggles.

—If he insists on working late at a task, offer to clean up when he is finished so that he doesn't forgetfully leave hazardous objects on the floor.

—A new ladder is a safety investment. If the home ladder is broken or its rungs weak, dispose of it. If cutting tools are dull, their use may cause accidents and they will certainly make the work more strenuous.

—Snow shoveling should be done by young members of the family or a hired worker. If one cannot afford to hire someone, the shoveling stint should be done at a slow pace over a long period. It is quick, strenuous, sudden exercise that may hurt a man, particularly one whose sedentary job keeps him in an inactive condition. Even the effort of jogging has been too much for desk-sitters.

—When a project is discussed, it is a good idea to note what the handyman will need to make the job a safe one. And to have the items on hand when he is ready to begin the tasks. He should have safety goggles for eye protection, and a mask to protect his lungs from air born particles when he is working indoors.

Fingers have been saved by good work gloves. It doesn't pay to be thrifty in these instances, and it doesn't cost much to arm yourself with safety clothes. For example, one inexpensive mask is a piece of metal fitted across the nose and mouth with disposable pads inserted into it.

—A do-it-yourselfer should be in good health and well rested before he tackles a job on the roof or works on a ladder.

Club Developing Recreation Trails

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The Belleville Junior Women's Club is in a campaign to convert nearby railroad right of ways into hiking and recreation trails.

Mrs. Terrell R. McLemore, conservation chairman of the club, has made a survey of trails in existence and those that could be developed.

"There are miles and miles of unused tracks in the Belleville area which could be converted to trails or parks as part of community improvement," she said.

To support her argument, she cites other trails that were developed.

One is the 30-mile Illinois Prairie Path west of Chicago in DuPage County. It utilizes the old road bed of the abandoned Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railway.

Nightclub Fire Origin Unknown

BOSTON (AP) — Twenty-eight years ago Saturday the worst nightclub fire on record swept the Cocoanut Grove in Boston, resulting in 491 deaths.

In the years since 1942, fire department records left one line blank: The cause.

This week the department finally closed the books on the Cocoanut Grove fire, filling in the line: "Cause of fire of unknown origin."

In the weeks after the tragedy it was assumed that the fire was started accidentally by a 16-year-old bus boy who struck a match while replacing a light bulb, igniting an imitation palm tree.

The fire department study rejected this.

"After a careful study of all the evidence and an analysis of all the facts presented," said District Fire Chief John P. Vahey, "the department was unable to find the conduct of this boy caused the fire."

Said Vahey in his summary: "No evidence of incendiarism is found. The fire department is unable to determine the original cause or causes of this fire."

A National Fire Protection Association study published 20 years after the fire said: "All reports of the Cocoanut Grove, tragedy indicate that there was a panic, a rush for the main exit, and then helpless victims fell and were caught in the rush of others coming behind them."

One of the victims was cowboy movie star Buck Jones. Two others were a bridal couple married three hours earlier. All 22 members of a party celebrating an engagement perished.

Awards Made To Jaycees

Several projects were discussed and "Jaycee-Of-The-Month" awards were presented at Friday's meeting of the Snyder Jaycees.

President David Burkett, who presided, presented the awards to: Carroll Brush for June, Jimmy Farmer for July, Jasper Bonner for August, Howard Limmer for September and Tommy LaRoux for October.

The Jaycee-Of-The-Month Award is the highest the club can bestow upon a member in a month's time, Burkett said.

Charles English reported on the Jaycee carnival, and Gary Sutton reported on plans for a Jaycee family Christmas party to be held Dec. 10 at the Towle Park Barn.

Burkett reported on the regional forum held by local Jaycees, commending local club members for their participation.

He said 25 persons attended the forum.

Randy Joe Williams was voted in as a new member and the new member kit was presented to Gary Sutton.

Six Aides To Hickel Are Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an action the White House characterized as routine, six aides to former Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel have been fired on one-hour notice.

The action came 48 hours after Hickel was fired by President Nixon for lack of "mutual confidence."

"From the White House standpoint," it is normal that when a Cabinet secretary leaves, there will be other changes within his department," an administration spokesman said.

A source in the Interior Department said the six were called together shortly before quitting time Friday by Frederic V. Malek, a White House special assistant, and William Rogers, deputy undersecretary of the Interior.

"There was no reason given at all," said Josef F. Holbert, one of the six. "We were given only an hour's notice."

Holbert was deputy director of information and long-time press aide to Hickel.

The other five:

—Charles Meacham, U.S. commissioner for fish and wildlife and deputy assistant secretary for fish, wildlife and parks. He was Alaska's director of international fisheries when Hickel was governor of Alaska.

—Dr. Leslie Glasgow, assistant secretary for fish, wildlife and parks. He was fish and wildlife commissioner for Louisiana before joining the Interior Department.

—Tom Holley, Hickel's congressional liaison director.

—Pat Ryan, executive assistant to Hickel.

—Dr. Donald Dunlop, science adviser to the secretary.

Department sources said the six were told their employment was to be terminated by the end of the day.

Santa Is Persistent

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Santa almost didn't make it to an Albuquerque shopping center where 2,000 children were waiting, but the jolly fat man is a persistent chap.

His problems started when he went to the Albuquerque Sunport Friday to board a helicopter that was supposed to land him in the middle of the shopping center before the children's delighted eyes.

Helicopters aren't as reliable as sleds. The chopper was grounded by engine failure.

Santa got back into his car and drove, but heavy traffic made him late.

The children cheered up when they saw him drive up, but began to worry when he didn't get out of the car.

He'd left his boots at the sunport.

Shopping center officials came to the rescue, providing him with substitute boots, and he returned with relief, to his traditional role, holding children on his lap, shaking hands, and listening to Christmas wishes.

Investors Are In For Surprise

CHICAGO (AP) — Investors are in for a surprise in this year of the bearish market because their losses to reduce income taxes are confronted with the 1969 Tax Reform Act.

Commerce Clearing House, a tax authority, says tax-wise losses don't mean much any more. In the past, investors could deduct up to $1,000 of net long-term capital loss from ordinary income. Under the Tax Reform Act, only 50 per cent of the loss can be deducted, so it will now take $2,000 in losses to reach the maximum $1,000 deduction.

Margarita Gets 'Miracle' Home

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A simple set of keys has opened the door to a new life for Mrs. Margarita Gonzalez.

The petite native of Mexico, who neighbors said had lived alone for years in a long-ago condemned tar-paper shack, was presented the keys to her brand new home by officials of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Gonzalez wept with joy as she inspected her new home, which has a new refrigerator and stove, a wall heater in the living room-bedroom, an electric heater in the bathroom, and a double sink.

To Mrs. Gonzalez, who spoke through an interpreter, these seemingly common-place conveniences were "a great miracle."

Her former home contained an electric light bulb — and no plumbing.

The shack had a partly collapsed roof with a hole in it large enough for a man to fit through.

Held together with chicken wire, one side had completely fallen to the ground. Neighbors said Mrs. Gonzalez had propped up her bed with bricks to keep it from sliding.

When the Salvation Army learned of Mrs. Gonzalez' situation, Mrs. Ann Whithead, a Salvation Army social worker, said she went out to see the shack.

"The more I looked, the more I realized nothing could be done," she said.

Mrs. Whitehead said she asked the local chapter of Women In Construction for Aid, which allotted $1,500 to build a new home for Mrs. Gonzalez.

The shack was torn down and construction began Oct. 6 on the property on which Mrs. Gonzalez had paid taxes for 40 years, through the aid of the Emergency Public Assistance Fund.

Spokesmen for the project said materials and work were donated by a list of firms "too long to name."

About 40 persons involved in the project were on hand Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, for the simple ceremony in which Mrs. Gonzalez received her new home.

"I'm so glad God has given me this great miracle," she said weeping.

Brian Kelly Is Hospitalized

HOLLYWOOD (ap) — Brian Kelly, former star of the "Flipper" television series, was hospitalized with head, leg and foot injuries after a motorcycle accident on a canyon road.

The UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute said Kelly, 39, was unconscious and in poor condition. Police said his motorcycle crashed into an embankment Thursday when a gear locked.

A passenger on the bike, Terri Tanberg, 21, was treated for bruises.

Kelly recently began work in the leading male role of the motion picture "The LOVE Machine."

Houston Bank Is Robbed

HOUSTON (AP) — A calm young man with a red and green Christmas shopping bag held up the Main Bank Friday and got away with more than $4,000.

James D. Carlton, an assistant vice president, followed the robber after he left the bank but lost him in a nearby parking garage.

Police combed the downtown area, clogged with afternoon traffic and shoppers, but couldn't find the man described as being in his mid-20s.

Mrs. Maxine Howard, a teller, said the man held an object wrapped in tissue — which appeared to be a pistol. Mrs. Howard said the man demanded all the money in her drawer and she gave it to him.

As the robber walked away from her window, Mrs. Howard sounded an alarm and turned on the bank's holdup cameras.

Women Printers Have Increased

NEW YORK (AP) — Employment of women in the printing and publishing industry increased 39 percent to 348,000 in 1969 from 250,000 in 1959, A. B. Dick Company of Chicago reports. Women also have increased as a percentage of total industry employment, from 28 percent in 1959 to 32 percent in 1969. Last year 1.1 million persons were employed in the industry.

Company Seeks More Financing

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The executice officer of Great Southwest Corporation has announced what stockholders will learn Monday — that the financial pulse of the company remains weak.

Victor H. Palmieri read from a prepared statement Friday that will be released to stockholders Monday. Palmieri, recently named executive officer, said his group had been advised before taking office that $11 million in new liens would carry the company through the first quarter of 1971.

Palmieri is a principal in a Los Angeles real estate investment and urban systems counseling firm. Palmieri said that on Nov. 13 it was determined that substantial additional credit would be required in 1971.

He said major New York banks and institutions abroad would be included in refinancing plans.

Earlier this year, Great Southwest encountered liquidity problems when creditors became alarmed over the petition for reorganization under bankruptcy laws filed by the Penn Central Transportation Co. The Pennsylvania Co., a subsidiary of Penn Central, owns 90 per cent of Great Southwest.

Discussing the company's current problems, Palmieri noted that Great Southwest's aggressive expansionist policy under its former executives was doubtful at best. The company had mortgaged producing properties and invested in properties which failed to be profitable.

Palmieri said while additional credit was being secured, the company had retained experts to analyze and improve cash controls and reporting systems.

Palmieri emphasized that the Six Flags Over Texas and Greater Southwest Industrial District operations were profitable and productive and would remain an integral part of the company's operation.

He said part of the overall retrenchment included the paring of the I. C. Deal apartment operation in the Dallas area from some 600 employes to 250-300 at present and down to 10 to 20 by the first of the year.

Christmas Tree Delivered To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A graceful spruce, which began growing in the Black Hills of South Dakota the same year William McKinley became president, is busily undergoing transformation into this year's White House Christmas tree.

The 78-foot tree was delivered to the Ellipse just south of the executive mansion Friday, having survived train derailments Nov. 18 in eastern Nebraska and again Tuesday near Pittsburgh.

On Dec. 16 it will blaze with thousands of multi-colored bulbs when a switch is thrown at the traditional lighting ceremony.

The tree, 73 years old, was cut in the Black Hills National Forest and trucked 25 miles to Rapid City for loading aboard an over-sized gondola car.

Accompanying the tree during its 11-day journey were Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Ingvalson, in a camper truck. He's president of the Keep South Dakota Green Association and a member of the South Dakota House.

Railroad detectives shadowed the tree in its travels, the U.S. Army babysat with it two days on a Maryland siding and District of Columbia police provided a motorcycle escort to the White House.

After the holidays, Ingvalson said, the spruce will be cut into souvenirs for South Dakotans who donated the $2,000 tab for transportation.

Goldie Back In Hollywood

NEW YORK (AP) — Goldie Hawn recently returned to Hollywood from Bal Harbour, Fla., where she accepted her award as female star of the year presented by the National Association of Theater Owners at its 1970 convention.

Miss Hawn, who won an Academy Award for her first film, "Cactus Flower," will soon be seen opposite Peter Sellers in "There's A Girl in My Soup."

Horse Offender

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — A horse that broke loose from its tether and damaged a fence was listed on police records as an offender.

The horse, owned by Roy Donaldson, was tied behind a service station when it made its break.

Louis Bolofson told police the horse broke down a portion of fence on his property and damaged a child's swing set.

4-Hers Gather In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — For the 49th year, hundreds of high-performing teen-agers are gathering in Chicago for the National 4-H Congress.

The 1,600 delegates to the congress, which will begin Sunday for a five-day run, all are state, sectional or national winners in the various fields of 4-H work.

The four Hs are initials of Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

The annual get-together is an occasion for recognition for the boys' and girls' year-around club activities, with $161,000 worth of college scholarships to be awarded, along with U.S. savings bonds, watches and trophies.

The congress coincides with the big International Live Stock Exposition at the International Amphitheatre, and teams of 4-H Club members will have the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to pick a good head of livestock when they see one.

The teams will compete in judging beef cattle, swine, sheep, poultry and eggs, with a variety of prizes for the winners.

High Court Hears Appeal On Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has told the Supreme Court the redeeming social value of sexy foreign films is becoming slimmer and slimmer.

Justice Department lawyers included that argument in an appeal Friday attempting to ban the Swedish film, "Language of Love."

The film was seized by Customs officials, judged obscene by a federal jury in New York and turned loose last September by the U.S. Circuit Court in New York.

The Circuit Court cited the Supreme court's 1966 standard that material can be censored only if it's "utterly without redeeming social value."

Government lawyers argued the standard is unrealistic, and wasn't meant to be applied to movies, anyway.

"Each fresh insult to the community is taken as having established new standards of tolerance and redeeming value," said the appeal.

"Talk about the standards of the community is not very menaingful when the community is prevented from enforcing any substantial standards by this steady progression to slimmer and slimmer elements of value with more and more explicit sexual depiction."

The Swedish film, said government lawyers, contains "explicit scenes of sexual intercourse, and other sexual action and contacts, surrounded only incidentally by general discussion of sex, love and marriage."

The Circuit Court had described it as "an animated Little Golden Book of marital relations."

WHOA THERE! — It looks as if an unidentified Andrews basketballer is trying to pull down Snyder's David Thompson (40) as Thompson leaps high to follow up a shot at the basket in Friday night's game in the Scurry County coliseum. The Tigers were triumphant in the home opener, downing the Mustangs, 69-63, for their second victory in two starts. (Photo by Eddie Bane).

Tigers Put Down Andrews, 69-63

Snyder High School's Tigers waged an uphill battle most of the first half, then seized the initiative in the third period and went on to capture a 69-63 decision over the Andrews Mustangs in the Bengals' first home basketball game of the season Friday night.

A crowd of some 600 looked on in the Scurry County Coliseum as the Tigers sacked up their second game in two starts. Andrews is now 1-1.

The visiting Mustangs won the junior varsity game, 69-40.

In the varsity tilt, the two teams fought on even terms through the first period, with Snyder holding a 17-16 edge at the end of the period. However, Andrews surged ahead in the second quarter and led, 37-31 at the half.

The Benglas turned the game around in the third quarter, sinking 16 points while holding the Mustangs to 8, and that did the visitors in.

Dubby Preston paced the Tigers scoring attack meshing 19 points, seven of them in the decisive third period. Two other Bengals were in double figures, with Bid Cooper sacking 14 points and David Thompson 13.

The Pearson boys accounted for the lion's share of Andrews' scoring, with Mark Pearson getting 20 points and Mike Pearson 15.

Tommy Washington pulled in nine rebounds to pace Snyder in that department, while Preston grabbed off eight. In totals, the Tigers out-rebounded the Mustanges by 32 to 19.

The Tigers hit slightly over 50 per cent of their shots from the field, connecting on 25 of 49 attempts. Andrews fired at a scorching 61 per cent rate, but only got off 35 shots from the field, hitting 23 of them.

Kevin Jones and Jim Waters roped 10 points each for the Snyder Junior Varsity, the only ones to hit in double figures. Leach had 21 for Andrews JV.

The Tigers will host Odessa Ector in the colseum Tuesday night.

49er, Ram Game Is Sold Out

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "We're not too old. We've just been playing like we're old," says George Allen, coach of the Los Angeles Rams.

The importance of Sunday's game with the San Francisco 49ers, and the memory of a 20-6 loss to the 49ers in Los Angeles Oct. 11, should make Allen's players feel younger.

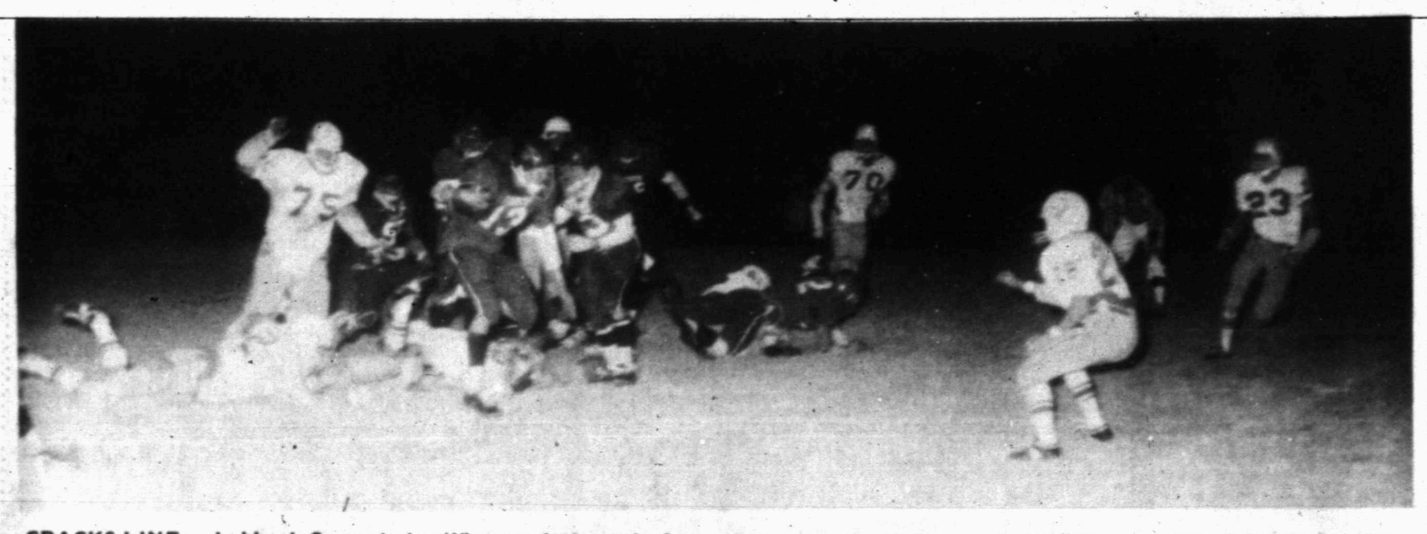
"I hope they remember that first game. I'd sure be disappointed if they didn't," Allen said as he prepared the Rams for the rematch in soldout Kezar Stadium.

Kezar's 59,000 seats have been sold out in advance for the first time in 49er's history.

The 49ers lead the Western Division of the National Football Conference with a 7-2-1 record. The Detroit Lions ended a four-game San Francisco winning streak last Sunday, 28-7.

The Rams are 6-3-1 and could tie the 49ers for the division lead by winning Sunday. If they lose, their chances for a return trip to the National Football League playoffs will be virtually dead.

Los Angeles is 3-3-1 in its last seven games. But Allen blames the team's troubles mostly on injuries, not the advanced ages of such players as Jack Pardee, Maxie Baughan, Richie Petitbon and Ed Meador.



CRACKS LINE — Lubbock Cooper's Jay Wimmer (13) sparked a fourth quarter drive that put the Pirates in command of Holliday's Eagles during their Class A regional playoff game in Tiger Stadium Friday night. Aggies Tough

NEW YORK (AP) — Drake or Louisville in the Missouri Valley Conference, Kansas State or Kansas in the Big Eight, and Rice or Texas A&M in the Southwest Conference.

Take your pick in the Midwest regional scramble in the college basketball season that opens on Tuesday.

Houston and New Mexico State are regarded as the top independents in the region.

Although defending champion Drake has five lettermen back, including star Jeff Halliburton, Louisville was picked to win the Missouri Valley in a preseason vote of the eight league coaches.

Coach John Dromo at Louisville has eight lettermen back, including Jim Price, Al Vilcheck and Henry Bacon.

Kansas State, with a new coach in Jack Hartman, faces a stiff fight to retain the Big Eight crown. Kansas, with Dave Robisch one of nine lettermen back, is considered the main challenger.

Coach Ted Owens says his Jayhawks will be "better than last year" when they finished second. Oklahoma, Nebraska and Colorado are rated strong threats.

The Rice Owls are rated better than their championship SWC team of last season, but Coach Shelby Metcalf of Texas A&M has lost only Mike Heitmann from the club that finished second by one game.

"We have a chance to have one of our better clubs," Metcalf says.

Pirates Pound Eagles 20-7; Claim Regional

Lubbock Cooper drove 79 yards in the fourth quarter to take command of its contest with Holliday Friday night, and then added a clincher touchdown to post a 20-7 victory in the Class A Regional football game.

The triumph gives Cooper an 11-1 record for the campaign while Holliday exited from the playoffs with a 9-3 mark. Cooper will tangle with Petersburg in the quarterfinal round this week.

Each team scored one touchdown in the first half, and both of them were of the spectacular variety.

Cooper monster man Jay Wimmer knifed through to block a punt at the Holliday 25 midway of the second period. Teammate guard Kerry Crutcher scooped up the pigskin at the seven yard line and ran across for the first touchdown with 7:53 remaining on the clock in the opening stanza. Crutcher kicked perfectly from placement for the extra point.

Cooper had made two drives in the first period and seemed to be in charge of the affray when Holliday demonstrated that it can strike from long distance. Eagle halfback Ricky Allgood went around right end, but back up the middle and raced 66 yards for a touchdown with 8:53 remaining in the second quarter. He broke at least four tackles enroute to the goal. The touchdown was set up when Rodney Hodgkins intercepted a Jack White Pass at the Holliday 30. Hodgkins kicked extra point as the halftime score remained 7-7.

Neither team could mount a sustained drive in the third quarter, but Cooper began to demonstrate its superiority in the fourth frame. With tailback Jay Wimmer doing most of the damage, the Pirates drove 79 yards to go ahead 13-7. Quarterback Jack White and fullback Johnny Joe Aleman made contributions in this march. Wimmer scored the touchdown on a 10 yard run around right end. He dived across the flag as he was hit by the safetyman. Crutcher's kick for bonus point was wide.

The "take command" drive was a methodical march. Most of the yardage was gained on short bursts through the line from tackle to tackle. The biggest gain in the 14-play series was a 14 yard run by Wimmer.

The touchdown seemed to take a lot out of Holliday. For the next time Cooper got the ball, it drove 44 yards in seven plays for the clincher touchdown. Wingback Nathan Griffin did the honors, sweeping left end from the 10. Crutcher's kick was accurate as the clock showed two seconds remaining.

Neither team was effective with the forward pass. Cooper's first drive in the opening period was halted when Wimmer fumbled after catching a pass. The march went from the Lubbock 30 to the Holliday 30. The second march, from the Pirate 35 to the Eagle 18, was stopped by a tough Holliday defense when a fourth and third effort failed to produce the necessary yardage.

Except for the touchdown run, the Eagles were unable to cross the 30 yard line. They made only one first down in the second half.

Despite this, Allgood was the game's leading ball carrier. He netted 141 yards on 15 carries. Wimmer gained 105 yards on 24 carries.

Both teams put forth their best efforts.

All-Lone Star Team Revealed

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&I, champion of the Lone Star Conference, has placed eight players on the 1970 All-Lone Star Conference football team.

The 1970 team was picked by the conference's coaches, and LSC sports information directors named Gil Steinke of Texas A&I as coach of the year.

The only unanimous selection on the first team was offensive tackle Rodney Cason, a 6-feet-6, 252-pound junior from Angelo State.

Texas A&I placed five players on the all star squad who also were named last year. They are defensive tackle Curtiss Neal, defensive guard Margarito Guerrero, linebacker Robert Young, quarterback Karl Douglas and flanker Dwight Harrison.

Center Dub Lewis of East Texas State was the only other player to repeat for all star honors.

Douglas, who carried the Javelinas to the NAIA playoffs for the third consecutive year, completed 86 of 170 passes for 1,156 yards and 10 touchdowns during the regular season. He also set an LSC career record of 5,029 yards passing.

Other coaches receiving coach of the year votes were Grant Teaff of Angelo State and Richard Harvey of Sul Ross.

Valek Out At Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Jim Valek's brief but controversail tenure as head football coach at Illinois is ended.

Valek, who had been fired earlier in the season only to have his players rally to the cause, was officially dismissed Friday by the University of Illinois Athletic Association's Board of Directors.

Valek, 43 and a star end for the Illini in the late 1940s, was brought in following the Illini slush fund scandal in which Coach Pete Elliott had to be fired.

In four years, Valek's teams posted an 8-32 record while players continuously left the team because of differences with the coach.

Ironically, when the board decided to fire Valek following the Ohio State game last Oct. 24, the players insisted the coach be retained for the final four games of the season.

Because the players demanded Valek be retained or they wouldn't play, the board and Athletic director Gene Vance had to relent.

Valek went before the board on Nov. 13 and again Friday before the board officially released him. Following the action, Valek, usually outspoken, had no comment.

Since 1913 when the lengendary Bob Zuppke took over as football coach, Illinois has had only four coaches.

Nats' Short Refuses To Take 'No' Answers

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Robert E. Short, owner of the Washington Senators, refuses to accept "no" for an answer and has made an impact in sports with his persuasiveness.

He signed Elgin Baylor, Jerry West and Fred Schaus to his basketball team; Denny McLain, Curt Flood, and Ted Williams to his Senators. Each time he wasn't stopped by negative replies.

"I think people give me more credit than I deserve," said Short, a Minneapolis hotel and trucking executive. "There is an art to painting a word. I don't consider myself an expert but at least I understand it."

"I don't think I have any particular faculty over anyone else in persuasion. But I think I probably package it a little different than most.

Short's latest coup was obtaining Flood, who refused to play for Philadelphia after he was traded from St. Louis and filed an antitrust suit against major league baseball.

Short talked about other pending deals.

"I'm working on some trades that would be sensational," said Short a few days before this week's winter baseball meetings in Los Angeles. "They're not probable. They're possible."

"I'd like to have Reggie Jackson from the A's and a left-handed pitcher," he said. "We'd make any kind of a trade to improve our club. I can't sit still."

Short, statuesque in appearance behind a long desk stacked high with paperwork, described himself as a dynamo since his boyhood on the Minneapolis North Side, a lower middle income area.

"If you grew up on the North Side," said Short, "you were interested in sports almost at birth. We played sandlot baseball and football. Between my freshman and sophomore year I grew a foot and wasn't very coordinated I was the high school trainer."

"I delivered newspapers, magazines, ice. I worked in a grocery store, drug store and at a soda fountain. As I got older I did heavier work, because it paid heavier."

After serving in the Navy during World War II, Short borrowed money to enter the trucking business, now the largest Twin Cities-based firm. He owns hotels with more than 1,000 rooms and an airline, among other things.

Short, father of seven, has been active in politics. He was the Democratic party treasurer when close friend Hubert Humphrey ran for president. Perhaps his biggest disappointment came politically, losing bids for congress and lieutenant governor and his party's nomination for governor last summer.

But the golden-haired Short's magic has worked in sports since he took the almost bankrupt Minneapolis Lakers in 1957, moved them to Los Angeles two years later and then sold them for $5 million to Jack Cooke in 1965.

Only Elgin Baylor's signature saved the Lakers in 1958.

"He told me under no circumstances was he going to sign before his senior year at Seattle University," Short recalled "I wouldn't take no for an answer. Without him, we were bankrupt."

"I went to Washington, D.C. where he lived and sat there most of one Sunday. He gave me an emphatic no. I flew out to Seattle and spent 24 hours there the day before the draft. I showed up 15 minutes before the draft started and announced Baylor was our first pick."

"He signed two or three days later."

Then came Jerry West, who spent a week at Short's house, and Fred Schaus, who was lured away to coach the Lakers from the University of West Virginia.

Short got back into sports in 1968 by paying $9 million for the Washington Senators. He signed Williams as manager after the most recent .400 hitter said he would never manage.

And then he tried to talk the Tigers into trading McLain for two years, finally getting him after the pitcher's second suspension.

"When we announced the McLain trade just before the World Series," said Short, "John Quinn of the Phillies came to me and asked me if I was still interested in Flood. I had been talking to Quinn since the summer meetings last year."

Short will try to improve on his record this week in Los Angeles.

What's the secret?

"Living," said Short, a member of the debate team in college. "Almost everything you get in life you have to ask for. You sell people on helping you.

Jets, Eagles Face Foes

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's D-Day Sunday in New York and a red-letter day in St. Louis ... and that spells trouble for the New York Jets and Philadelphia Eagles. The Jets host title-bound Minnesota and its devastating defense and the St. Louis Cardinals are favored to give the Eagles a Redbird bath in two key National Football League matches.

Minnesota's marvels can nail the National Conference's Central Division crown with a victory over the backfiring Jets, an American Conference also-ran with stars on the injured list.

The Vikings prove that defense is the name of the game, winning nine of ten contests without a player among the top ten in any of the vital offensive categories—rushing, passing and receiving.

Frustrated quarterbacks have had to deal with a dynamic defense that has yielded less than nine points a game this year—a total of 89. That's fewer than the Vikings allowed at the same point last year when they finished the season with a record-low 133.

The Jets, 3-8, lost most of their offense when runners Emerson Boozer and Matt Snell and quarterback Joe Namath were hurt. Young Al Woodall has been steering the team, and is improving.

The free-wheeling Cardinals, packed with power running and a gold line defense to match, hold a one-game lead over Dallas, 7-4, in the NFC's three-way Eastern Division scramble. The New York Giants, 6-4, upset by the Eagles, 2-7-1, last week, are third, 1½ games back.

The Giants play the Washington Redskins, 4-6, who have a revenge motive after dropping a last-minute heart-breaker in New York earlier.

San Francisco, 7-3-1, the NFC's Western Division leader, hosts runnerup Los Angeles, 6-3-1, and Cleveland, 5-5, and Pittsburgh, 4-6, battle for the AFC's Central Division leadership.

Kansas City, 5-3-2, hoping to catch Oakland in the AFC Western fight hosts San Diego, 4-4-2; Chicago, 4-6, plays at AFC Eastern leader Baltimore, 7-2-1; Denver, 5-5, visits Houston, 2-7-1; Buffalo, 3-6-1, entertains Boston, 1-9; and New Orleans, 2-7-1 travels to Cincinnati, 4-6, in the other Sunday games.

Atlanta, 3-5-2, hosts Miami, 6-4, in a nationally-televised game Monday night.

Knickerbockers Snap Bucks Long String

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York's pro basketball title last year meant something special to Walt Frazier—and so did the Knicks' record 18-game winning streak at the start of that season.

That's why he tried a little harder Friday as the Knicks stopped Milwaukee 103-94 and ended the Bucks' 16-game National Basketball Association winning string.

"We thought about the streak a lot," Frazier admitted. "We've only been in the books for a year with that record—less than a year.

"But we didn't get all psyched up. We approached it like professionals. We just figured that Lew (Alcindor) and Oscar (Robertson) were going to get their points and if we could hold (Bob) Dandridge and (Jon) McGlocklin, we could beat them."

That's not all the Knicks did in the fourth quarter of their thriller Friday — they held the entire team to 11 points, a Buck record. The previous worst was 13 at Atlanta in 1968.

The Boston Celtics unleashed their most potent offense of the year, hammering Baltimore 153-107; Cincinnati tripped Philadelphia 113-109; Chicago lashed Buffalo 121-104; Portland outscored Cleveland 111-102; San Diego edged Atlanta 128-127, Seattle whipped San Francisco 101-96 and Phoenix tripped Los Angeles 116-105.

In the American Basketball Association, the Floridians smacked Virginia 112-102; Utah stomped Carolina 115-102; New York tripped Indiana 99-97 and Kentucky beat Texas 122-121.

John Havlicek led the Boston uprising with 33 points as the Celts avenged an earlier 122-101 humiliation by the Bullets. Three other Celtics scored 20 or more—Don Chaney, with 22; Steve Kuberski, 22, and Dave Cowens, 20.

Tom Van Arsdale and Johnny Green each scored 23 points as Cincinnati outlasted Philadelphia. Van Arsdale made two foul shots with 1:54 left to put the Royals ahead to stay, 109-107. Billy Cunningham had 22 for the 76ers.

Bob Love scored 33 points and helped Chicago forge an unsurmountable 64-48 halftime lead.

Dale Schueter tossed in nine points in the fourth quarter as Portland outscored Cleveland 32-22 and handed the feeble Cavaliers their 24th loss in 25 starts.

Toby Kimball's tipin with 27 seconds left to play earned the San Diego Rockets their triumph. Rockets' rookie Don Adams had 33 points and Elvin Hayes 32. Lou Hudson had 32 for the Hawks.

Player-Coach Lenny Wilkens scored 16 of his 31 points in the final period to pace Seattle to its victory. Jerry Lucas had 27 for the Warriors.

Clem Haskins, Paul Silas and Neal Walk sparked the Phoenix Suns to their easy triumph over Los Angeles. Haskins had 29 points, Silas 27 and Walk 25 while Jerry West topped the Lakers with 33.

Small Business Profit Ideas

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain

Dear Joyce: How can I find out about job opportunities as an independent security officer? I don't want to work for a commercial agency because they don't pay very much. – C.P., Phoenix

Consider a commercial agency job as a way station to becoming your own boss. Although you won't make much as a guard (one national service pays $1.60 to $2.50 per hour to beginning guards), I suggest you work for the best security company you can find until you become experienced in protection methods. If you already know the ropes, look in the usual ways: newspaper ads, employment agencies, direct application (letters or personal contact). Since protective services are booming, I'll give further information on the private security field soon.

* * *

Dear Joyce: I'm a retired man who needs a little business for extra money and something to do. Can you think of a business that doesn't take over $1,000 investment? – E.F., Chicago

I saw an idea recently which might have possibilities for resourceful retirees and ambitious teens: a rental library rack of best selling books placed in an existing shop (valet, beauty shop, laundry room) of a large luxury apartment building. Books rent for 50 cents for the first 3 days, 15 cents per day thereafter. You could operate the service yourself an hour or two per day, or split the profit with the shop owner for handling the check-ins-and-outs – with you providing the books. You should try to make a deal with a bookstore to get quantity discounts, and you could set up as many racks as the market and your capital permit. Start with one operation first, though, to work out the bugs.

* * *

Dear Joyce: Concerning the lady with unexpected medical bills who inquired about part-time jobs, I noticed you covered just about every field but the "home party plan" method of selling. Four years ago, my husband's shop was on strike and he couldn't find a job. I went into a sales company's party plan. I put in 1 or 2 evenings a week and my commission checks range from $16.00 to $148.00 for a single party. Not bad for several hours work, is it? We bought new carpeting, a new car and a color TV on my extra earnings. – R.H., Cleveland, Ohio

For those who missed an earlier mention of direct selling, the Direct Selling Association (a nonprofit organization representing about 100 companies which endorse a business credo developed with the Council of Better Business Bureaus) will send readers free literature and a membership roster. This roster contains a commodity listing enabling potential salespeople to locate companies that sell items they would like to distribute. To request, send me a postcard at this newspaper asking for "Direct Selling."

Dear Joyce: My husband and I would like to own and operate a small business, preferably in Colorado. How can we go about obtaining information on business opportunities available? Please omit my present address. – G.C.

Try the State department of commerce, local chambers of commerce, subscribe to the newspapers in the locality of your interest, read trade magazines which deal with the types of businesses you're interested in (these may have ads of business opportunities). The U.S. Small Business Administration field offices won't have a list of opportunities, but may have equipment (from defaulted loans) or government surplus properties for sale at good prices.

'Astroscreen' Premiere Set

HOUSTON (AP) — Movies are advertised these days as being shown on "giant screens" and "wide, wide screens."

How does one the size of a 15-story building grab you?

Some 35,000 persons are expected to attend the world premiere of "Brewster McCloud" next Saturday night in the Astrodome and watch the movie on a gigantic screen, measuring 156 feet across and 60 feet high, the equivalent of a 15-story building.

Most screens are made of plaster or metal. This one, labeled the "Astroscreen," is made of a mixture of plaster and cloth.

Astrodome officials say lifting the screen into place just below the American flag in centerfield is a five hour job. They say it will take one hour just to unfold it. Another hour is necessary to sew it onto a pipe rail to keep it level. Another hour is needed to attach six cable bridles and cables. Then hoisting it takes two more hours.

Only those attending the premiere will see the movie in 70mm. Other movie audiences will view it in 35mm. Only one 70mm is being made and that one is for the Astrodome audience. The print cost about $12,000.

The event will benefit the variety clubs. "Front Row Center" is the name for cabaret table arrangements for sponsors of the charity benefit, where 400 persons will be seated at 40 round tables.

Sponsors will enter the stadium in chauffeur-driven limousines and be dropped off at a red carpet which leads to the tables.

Waiters will serve, among other things, champagne and popcorn.

The MGM film has the theme of man's desire to fly. It was shot entirely in Houston with the Astrodome as the focal point of the story and other parts of the city as background.

The film was produced by Lou Adler-John Phillips productions in association with director Robert Altman's Lion's Gate films. Altman won the Cannes Film Festival Award for "M-A-S-H".

Altman, Adler and star of the movie, Sally Kellerman, Bud Vort, Michael Murphy, John Schuck and Jennifer Salt, are expected for the premiere.

The movie has been given an "R" rating which means children under 18 will not be admitted unless accompanied by parents.

English Actress Is Signed

LONDON (AP) — English actress Billie Whitelaw has been signed to star with Albert Finney in "Gumshoe," a film described as an off-beat thriller which is being filmed entirely on location in London and Liverpool.

"Gumshoe" which is slang for "detective" reunites Miss Whitelaw with Finney, who appeared in "Charlie Bubbles," which Finney directed as well as starred in four years ago.

BUR MULCHING — Cotton burs are being applied where cotton has been harvested. Cotton burs reduce air pollution from blowing soil. Burs from a bale of cotton contain 25 pounds of potash, 2 pounds of phosphate and 4 pounds of nitrogen. Burs also improve the physical condition of the soil by increasing the organic matter.

Let us prepare for you an Amortization Schedule, which we will compute under THE RULE OF THE 78's METHOD, inconformity with the Regulation Z, Truth in Lending Act. This will give you the greatest amount of Tax DEductible Interest.

The SCHEDULE will set out the following: FACE OF THE NOTE, MONTHLY PAYMENT, the INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL IN EACH PAYMENT, the PRINCIPAL BALANCE OF NOTE, the PAY-OFF BALANCE, the UNEARNED INTEREST, A TAB SETTING OUT THE TAX DEDUCTIBLE INTEREST FOR THE YEAR IN QUESTION ready for your 1970 Income Tax Return.

The Computerized Schedule is prima facia evidence for use by you or your tax man.

Send for the necessary ORDER FORM, or better still — send the Disclosure Statement or Contract given you by the dealer from whom you bought your automobile.

The cost to you is only $3.00 and should save you several times this amount in income tax savings by using the Rule of the 78's Method of computation.

Ritz-Craft Adds Riviera Brand

ARGOS, Inc., — Wickes Homes, Inc., manufacturer of Ritz-Craft, Valiant and Fashion Manor mobile homes, has announced introduction of a new line called "Riviera."

Riviera will be the fourth brand in the Wickes "family of mobile homes," and will be marketed independently, according to Larry J. Ritzenthaler, president. Plans to introduce a fifth line are also under way, Ritzenthaler announced.

Ritznethaler said the plans for over a dozen Riviera models are off the drawing board. Production of some models has been started in the company's plants at Argos, Inc., and Snyder, Tex., and may be extended to other company plants.

"As of today, many dealership opportunties are available for the Riviera line," Ritznethaler said. He noted that the Riviera will blend well with other makes for dealers seeking a well-balanced lot.

Priced in the low-to-medium bracket, Riviera was designed with the needs of young marrieds in mind. It is available in over a dozen 12-wide floor plans from 45 to 70 feet in length. The models include two or three bedrooms, one or more baths. Most have utility rooms. Expando units and many more popular extras are available optionally. Several choices of decor in bright young colors and stylings are offered.

Ritzenthaler said Riviera will include all the construction features of Wickes mobile homes and will meet the same high quality standards.

He said Riviera orders can be filled quickly. Qualified dealers who would like more information about the line may write or call the company for floor plans, prices and additional data. Address Wickes Homes, Inc., Argos, Inc. 466501.

Man Gets New Roof Free

CHICAGO (AP) — A team of roofers worked all day on the two-story townhouse of Donald Krohn, laying shingles on a new $600 roof.

Krohn called the roofing firm to learn why he was so fortunate.

"They looked up the order," Krohn said, "and found it was for a house at an address just around the corner."

Krohn said the roofing firm did not ask payment for the job.

Lady Is Not Lonely Any More

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I'm so lonely I could die," said the letter to the editor.

"My phone never rings ... I'm the only one on earth. How else can I feel. All alone. See no one. Hear no one. Oh, dear God, help me. ...

"Will somebody call me?"

The letter, containing a dollar bill and six stamps for anybody who would call or write, was signed Jean Rosenstein.

The Los Angeles Times printed the letter Thanksgiving morning, adding that Mrs. Rosenstein is an 84-year-old widow and retired nurse living alone in a tiny apartment on $200 a month.

Mrs. Rosenstein received so many calls Thanksgiving Day she finally had to take the phone off the hook.

"I hope the people will forgive me," she told newsmen Friday, slightly hoarse. "I just couldn't talk anymore. The phone rang all night. I only got two hours sleep."

The next morning the mailman brought an armload of letters.

Dozens of people stopped by her apartment. Many brought or sent flowers. Every table was covered with potted plants and the bathtub was full of flowers.

"I've got the most beautiful bathtub in the world," said Mrs. Rosenstein.

"I keep saying to everybody, thank you. But it isn't enough. I want to say more."

Mrs. Rosenstein hadn't had time to open all her mail yet. People were still coming to the door Friday.

She turned down many telephoned invitations for Thanksgiving dinner and stayed by her telephone. But some of her visitors had thought of that.

"I've still got four complete turkey dinners in my refrigerator," she said.

Nichols Gets 35 Years

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Jurors convicted oilman William B. Nichols, 33, of murder Friday in the shotgun killing of his wife and fixed his punishment at 35 years in prison.

He was the husband of socially prominent Diane Nichols, who was slain April 22, 1968. Nichols was found wounded at the same time.

Members of the jury deliberated nearly five hours before reporting their verdict of guilty. They spent slightly more than two hours deciding on the penalty.

Dist. Judge Perry D. Pickett said he would pass formal sentence in about 10 days.

Throughout a trial that started Nov. 16 the defense maintained that Nichols underwent a marked change in personality from 1965 to 1968 and that he was insane at the time his wife was shot.

Prosecutors said Nichols was suffering from brain damage when examined by defense psychiatrists but insisted he was sane when the slaying occurred.

Defense lawyer Bill Walsh said Nichols was wounded in a suicide attempt.

Dr. Martha Madsen, a Midland pathologist, testified that Nichols lost half his blood supply and this reduced the amount of oxygen carried to the brain. Such a lack of oxygen could cause irreversible and irreparable damage to the brain, she said.

NEW YORK (AP) — After riding 25 losing races in succession, Panamanian jockey Braulio Baeza won three races at Aqueduct on the 10th day of the fall meeting.

Sgt. Moffett Receives Commendation Award

M. Sgt. Jewel V. Moffett, 834 Karen Lane, San Antonio, received the Army Commendation Award when he retired Nov. 19 at Fort Sam Houston, with 30 years sevice.

Col. Shelden L. Thompson, command advisor for the 90th U. S. Army Reserve Command, presented the award citing Sergeant Moffett for his service from 1966-67, first as senior then chief enlisted advisor at Army Reserve Training Center no. 2; also as chief enlisted advisor for three Reserve units at Dodd Field since August.

Sergeant Moffett came to San Antonio from Vietnam where he was assigned to the 1st Logistical Command. His other overseas assignments included Europe during World War II and 1955-58, and Alaska 1961-63. A native of Corsicana, he entered the Army in 1940 on graduation from Snyder High School.

He and his wife, Louise, and daughters, Carolyn 24 and Kathy 11, will depart soon for their new home at 1214 Perkins Way, Sacramento, Calif. He plans to enter the real estate business there.

Their son, Donald, an Army captain and 1966 West Point graduate, is stationed at Bamburg, Germany, with the 35th Armored Regiment. Sergeant Moffett's father, William J. Moffett, resides at 413 Twenty-sixth Street, Snyder.

Reading Forbidden In Court

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — There'll be no reading in the courtroom of City Court Judge George W. Cady—even if you are a biochemistry professor and the reading material is an issue of Science magazine.

Asst. Prof. Stanford Roodman of St. Louis University found that out when he appeared for an unpaid parking ticket.

He said hundreds of people were in the courtroom and it looked like a long wait. As he read his magazine a man, later identified to him as a deputy, told him to put it away.

Roodman continued reading but was then escorted to a cell behind the courtroom where he stayed for more than two hours. His case was later continued.

Judge Cady said reading in the courtroom was forbidden because of "respect for the court, just like in England, in the days of the common law."

He said accused persons in his court were expected to sit quietly, not jiggle newspapers and "pay attention to the proceedings. That's just part of the punishment."

No. 618 Moved To Provo Canyon

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — An old relic of a railroad engine is inching its way back into service.

The engine—old No. 618—has been on display for the past 19 years at the Utah State Fairgrounds. But it's being moved to Provo Canyon, where it soon will start a short run between Bridal Veil Falls and Heber City.

The engine moved about 400 yards Thursday, the hard way.

Members of the Promontory Chapter, National Historical Railway Society, Salt Lake City, laid down a 30-foot section of track in front of the locomotive, pushed it forward by compressed air, then repeated the sequence until the engine reached a regular set of tracks near the fairgrounds.

Students Fear Outside World

LONDON (AP) — Students take up teaching because they fear the outside world, says a university survey. The Assistant Masters Association which compiled the survey, also suggests undergraduates are too firmly entrenched in "the rut of the classroom world."

Flower Talk

By HERSHEL HINSHAW

THE CHRISTMAS POINSETTIA

The lovely Christmas poinsettia came from Mexico, and received its name from Dr. Joel Poinsett of Charleston, S. C., who introduced it to the United States. It is another flower that only has red leaves, not petals, surrounding the tiny flowers.

It will grow in gardens in the South, and reaches heights of two to ten feet.

It is associated with Christmas mainly because of its red and green coloring, and some say it is a replica of the star of Bethlehem that guided the shepherds to the Christ child.

Order your poinsettia for Christmas now . . . or send one to a friend or a loved one. We have many beautiful Christmas flowers and decorations.
