Cong Losses Heavy In Surprise U.S. Raid

'American Casualties Total 29

SAIGON (UPI) — The government shattered the week-long lull in the South Vietnamese war with a double airborne offensive that inflicted major defeats on the Viet Cong, a military spokesman said today. The actions cost 29 American casualties and five helicopters shot down.

U.S. helicopters flew Vietnamese troops into an area about 30 miles from the big U.S. air base at Da Nang, 300 miles north of Saigon in one action and into a guerrilla-infested area 20 miles to the west of Saigon, in the second. Surprise was achieved in both attacks and the Reds suffered heavy casualties.

A spokesman for U.S. military headquarters said Vietnamese and American military estimates placed the number of Communist dead at 329. Normally the number of wounded would run double or triple that amount, perhaps as many as 900.

Government losses were reported 181 killed, wounded, missing or captured.

In the past Viet Cong intelligence has learned in advance of such large scale operations and the guerrillas have fled into the jungles before the operation could be mounted. This time they were caught and had to stand and fight.

The large scale battles in Hau Nghia Province near Saigon and Quang Tin Province were the first in more than two weeks—guerrilla attacks slackened noticeably after the start of air attacks against the north.

American military officials judged it significant that the lull was broken by "government-initiated actions" rather than Viet Cong assaults.

While South Viet Nam was mounting the twin offensives, President Johnson was meeting with Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor in a National Security Council session in Washington with new determination to press the war against the Viet Cong.

Washington dispatches said Johnson's primary emphasis was on more effective use of manpower and military equipment already in the field rather than some overly dramatic moves for the time being. The actions reported today appeared to be evidence of this.

With the war tempo increasing in Viet Nam, new peace moves reported around the world. The latest report came from London and said Britain had asked a dozen nations for suggestions on approaches to peace in Viet Nam in view of the "dangerous... international tension now existing."

Moscow still had made no direct threats but its news media was keeping up a steady stream of anti-American propaganda. The latest in the army newspaper Red Star today said the use of "poison gas" was a preparation for the introduction of even more horrible war tactics.

On the political front South Viet Nam's strongest "peace" movement was virtually wiped out with the resignation of its Buddhist founding father. The move is expected to strengthen Premier Phan Huy Quat.

The National Buddhist Center announced that Quang Lien, a leading monk, has resigned from the "struggle movement for peace and the peoples happiness," which he founded.

Reward for Birmingham Bomber Soars to $50,000

By ANTHONY HEFFERNAN
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—

Reward money for Birmingham's bomber "fiend" rose to $50,000 today and police rode the streets in unmarked cars on guard against new outbreaks in a wave of terror.

A bomb blast Thursday broke the pre-dawn silence near the city's "dynamite hill" and injured a 13-year-old Negro boy.

Two time bombs were found later ticking away at the homes of Mayor Albert Boutwell and city councilwoman Nina Migliorini but were disarmed before they exploded. They were the eighth and ninth unexploded time bombs found in the city within the past 11 days.

Inspects Damage

Gov. George C. Wallace flew into Birmingham Thursday for a personal inspection of the damage at the home of Negro public accountant T. L. Crowell.

Gov. Wallace said he was "mildly" shocked by the bombing of the home of a "fiend."

Wallace called the bombing the work of a "fiend."

"We hope to impress upon the people doing this they might get caught... they're going to get caught," Wallace said.

"I appeal to anyone who has knowledge of this to come to the police. If you want to help your state, your country, your governor, this city, then I urge you to come forward."

Puts Up Reward

Wallace put up $50,000 reward and by nightfall the amount had grown to $50,000 in pledges.

ON SALE — A new stamp, in honor of the American Cancer Society, went on sale today at the Pampa Post Office. Bob Sanford, left, assistant Pampa postmaster, shows a sheet of the new stamps to Harold Comer, head of the Business and Industrial Division of the Gray County Cancer drive; Mrs. A. D. Hills, General Drive chairman for Gray County and Mrs. Bob Andis, house to house chairman of the county drive. The American Cancer Society began its month long educational and fund raising crusade yesterday.

according to city council President M. E. Wiggins.

The governor heard of the bombing while on a flight to Washington for a discussion with "top news media executives" of recent news coverage in Alabama. He ordered his plane turned around.

He poked around the rubble left by the blast at the Crowell home and shook hands with Negroes who gathered around.

"We are going to try to get who did this," Wallace said.

"Those who do this are against us all, against Alabama and this country."

From GOP Again

On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Barry M. Goldwater, who forfeited the normal Republican share of the Negro vote last year because he opposed the 1964 civil rights bill, has cut himself adrift from GOP congressional leaders again on the same issue.

The party leaders in the House and Senate are anxious to recapture Negro support. They are no more ready than Goldwater on the issue, although they did follow him in the disastrous 1964 campaign after he won the presidential nomination. The GOP congressional leaders are pressing for legislation to protect Negro voting rights and probably will demand a tougher bill than President Johnson. Richard M. Nixon and Goldwater were the principal speakers at Thursday's opening session of the annual National Conference of Republican Women. Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton were on the agenda today.

Goldwater asserted that adequate laws are now available to safeguard the rights of all qualified citizens to vote. He said the Constitution allows the states to fix qualifications for voting, except for race, and that the proposed law would change the Constitution.

If action is taken in the field of voting rights he said, it should be done by an amendment to the Constitution.

Nixon did not touch directly on the voting rights issue in his speech. At an earlier news conference, he said that a new voting rights law was needed and that the constitutional amendment approach would mean too much delay.

Theater Broken Into Again

For the second time in as many days and the third time this week, thieves broke into the concession stand at the Top O' Texas Drive Inn Theater.

Arville Hays, manager of the theater, told police he almost caught two youngsters who entered the building yesterday afternoon.

Hays related he was washing his car at the automatic car wash, located adjacent to the drive inn, when he saw two young boys enter the concession stand.

He said he ran to the building and apprehended the two youngsters, but while he was calling police they ran away on foot.

Taken was an undetermined amount of candy.

SWB Lowers Station Calls

Lower long distance telephone rates became effective yesterday on station-to-station calls within Texas after 8 p.m. daily and all day Sunday, George Newberry, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, announced today.

The night rate formerly in effect after 9 p.m. now is effective at 8 p.m. daily, and applies all day Sunday.

The evening rate, which applies from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, is effective all day Saturday.

"Since Sunday is the day families usually get together, this change in rates will make it possible for family calls to be made all day Sunday at the lowest rate of the week," Newberry said.

The changes in rates will apply only to station-to-station calls. The night and Sunday rate will not apply to intra-state collect or third-party calls.

Pope Wants Fresh Air At Ecumenical Council

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
A visitor once asked Pope John XXIII why he summoned Roman Catholic bishops to the first Ecumenical Council in nearly a century. The Pope replied by throwing open the windows of his Vatican study. "I wanted to let a little fresh air into the church," he said. Recalling this incident, an American Catholic magazine asked recently:

"When Pope John opened the windows to let the fresh air that was to ventilate the church, did he realize how much of the furniture might start blowing around?"

The same thought must have passed through the minds of a good many Catholic laymen who are bewildered by the sweeping reforms set in motion by the late Pope.

No Longer Predictable

These shook-up Catholics find themselves in a church which is no longer the staid and predictable institution it used to be. Things they have taken for granted all their lives — such as clerical celibacy and going without meat on Fridays — are publicly called into question by high-ranking prelates. Laymen dare to criticize bishops. Nuns lead civil rights marches. The Mass is said in English instead of Latin. A Vatican commission debates whether birth control is really sinful. Catholic theologians speak kindly of Martin Luther. And instead of steering clear of Protestants, Catholics are exhorted to make friends with them — and even, on occasion, to worship with them.

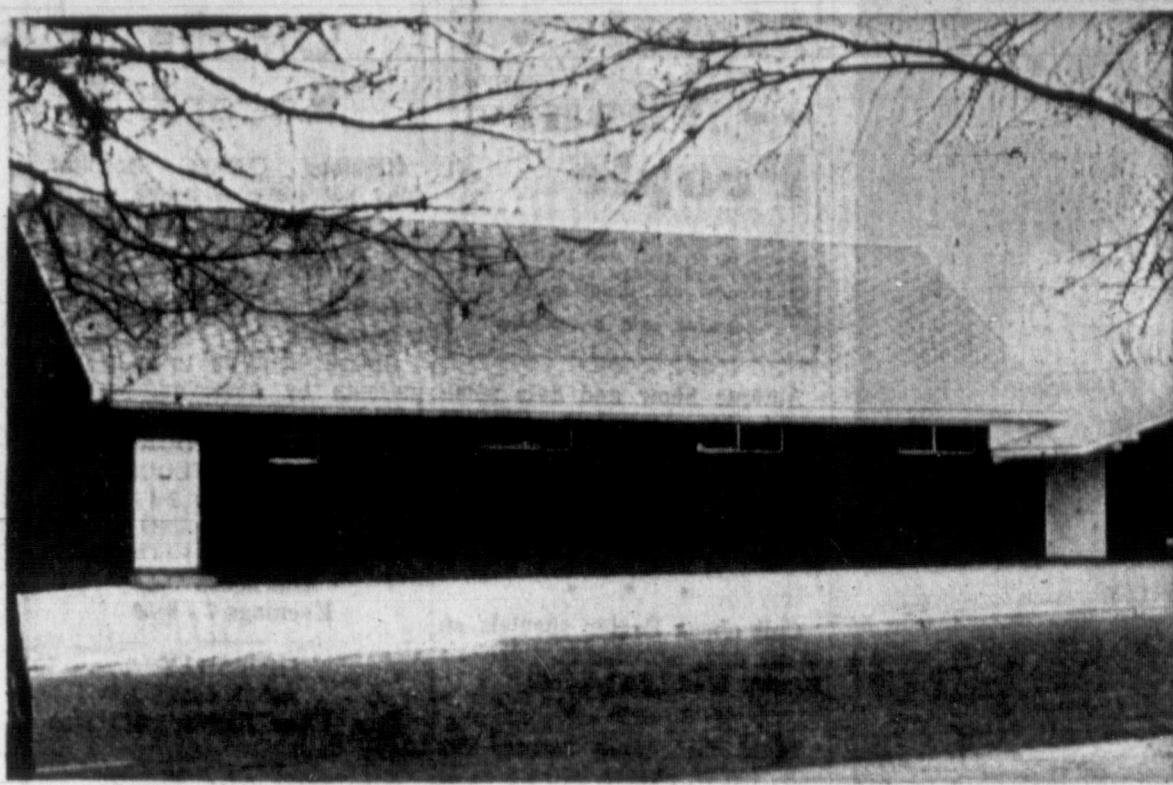

Confronted with these and other radical changes in what he had always thought to be the immutable law of the church, the man in the pew can hardly be blamed for wondering just what's going on... and where it will end.

Questions Teachings

More significantly, he cannot help wondering how he can ever again repose absolute and unquestioning confidence in the teaching authority of the church. "If so much of what I was taught as a child now turns out to be wrong," he asks, "how can I be sure that the rest is reliable? If some of the rules I've loyally obeyed all these years are now found to be unnecessary, how can I go on making other sacrifices which the priest tells me it's my duty to make?"

If he were as well instructed in his faith as he ideally should be, he would know that the Vatican Council has not tampered with any teaching of the church which properly falls into the category of infallible and reformable dogma. It has restated some teachings to make them clearer and more meaningful to modern minds. But insofar as it has made basic changes — as in the switch from Latin to modern languages in the Mass — they have been confined to practices which always were a matter of discipline rather than dogma — and hence subject to change with the times.

playground makes a contribution to the city's life. And he will quietly accept his place in a world that is God's, grateful to know that he may be of most use when he is least conscious of himself and his calling.

'Seek a City Saint'

Give of Yourself Daily

By DAVID HEAD

First, the city saint takes himself as he finds himself. His vocation is the backbone of his life, and when he does a good job at work, or gets something done in local politics, or presents accurate youth club accounts or makes a hospital visit on behalf of the Church, he finds satisfaction in it. But that is different from self-esteem.

If the regard for loving were simply nice feelings of self-approbation, it would be worse than a box of poisoned chocolates as a thank-you present; in fact, the reward for loving is more love.

Secondly, the city saint's very worldliness keeps him to size. Like the priests of old, and unlike Jesus the High Priest, he must seek forgiveness for himself as well as others. He will value the insight of the Orthodox Church in its stress on identification with a sinful world. He will remember how those who went to the Church in New York's East Harlem compared Christ's action with theirs: "He humbled himself. We can not. There is no lower place for us to go."

There is something "for this world" in taking yourself as you are. Religions say strive, march, fight. Christ says, "Be yourself and let Me look after things, and put you in your place." Because the saint knows his place, his life is not a constant effort to get to it, or to justify his standing on it. He knows he is not holy by exertion. He is given his status.

Our concentration on holiness could turn you into a self-centered struggler or a self-despairing straggler. You may try to understand holiness, but you must not try to attain it in grim determination, if you do, you will not be at all "nice to know." I remember the comment of a keen observer, "If only you Christian people could relax and enjoy life." Because the saint is "in God," he can be in everything, and take life as he finds it.

Thirdly, the city saint shows a worldly rather than a pious slant by taking other people as he finds them. His position as (in some sense) "a priestly type," could make it very difficult for him to meet another person simply as a person, and not as a sinner, or a potential saint, or a possible new member, or a useful contact, or someone to serve.

To accept a priestly calling is to get rid of a great deal of the irrelevancies of church life; but it is also to occupy a privileged position. More and more today the Church talks about service. Good — so long as we realize the position we put the world in wanting to serve it. It is hard for the Church, especially the western Churches, to appreciate how uncomfortable it often is to be at the receiving end. The very fact of giving puts one, or so it seems, in a superior position. The old age pensioner, who goes next door, rice pudding in hand, has got hold of more than a pudding when she says, "Now, dear, I hope you won't be offended." The truth is that giving without love is always an insult.

In the perfect city love is entirely mutual. Possessive interference, one-sided "charity," unintended offense, dutiful kindness, all give way to the fulfillment of life in relationship to the in-and-out of adventurous love.

The city saint lives already in this spirit. Every person is a new discovery, and he never gives without receiving. He recognizes that the bearing of a helpless invalid can be salt that savors a whole lump of living. He will be glad that the laughter of children's voices in the

Rev. C. R. BRIDGES
HIGHLAND BAPTIST CHURCH

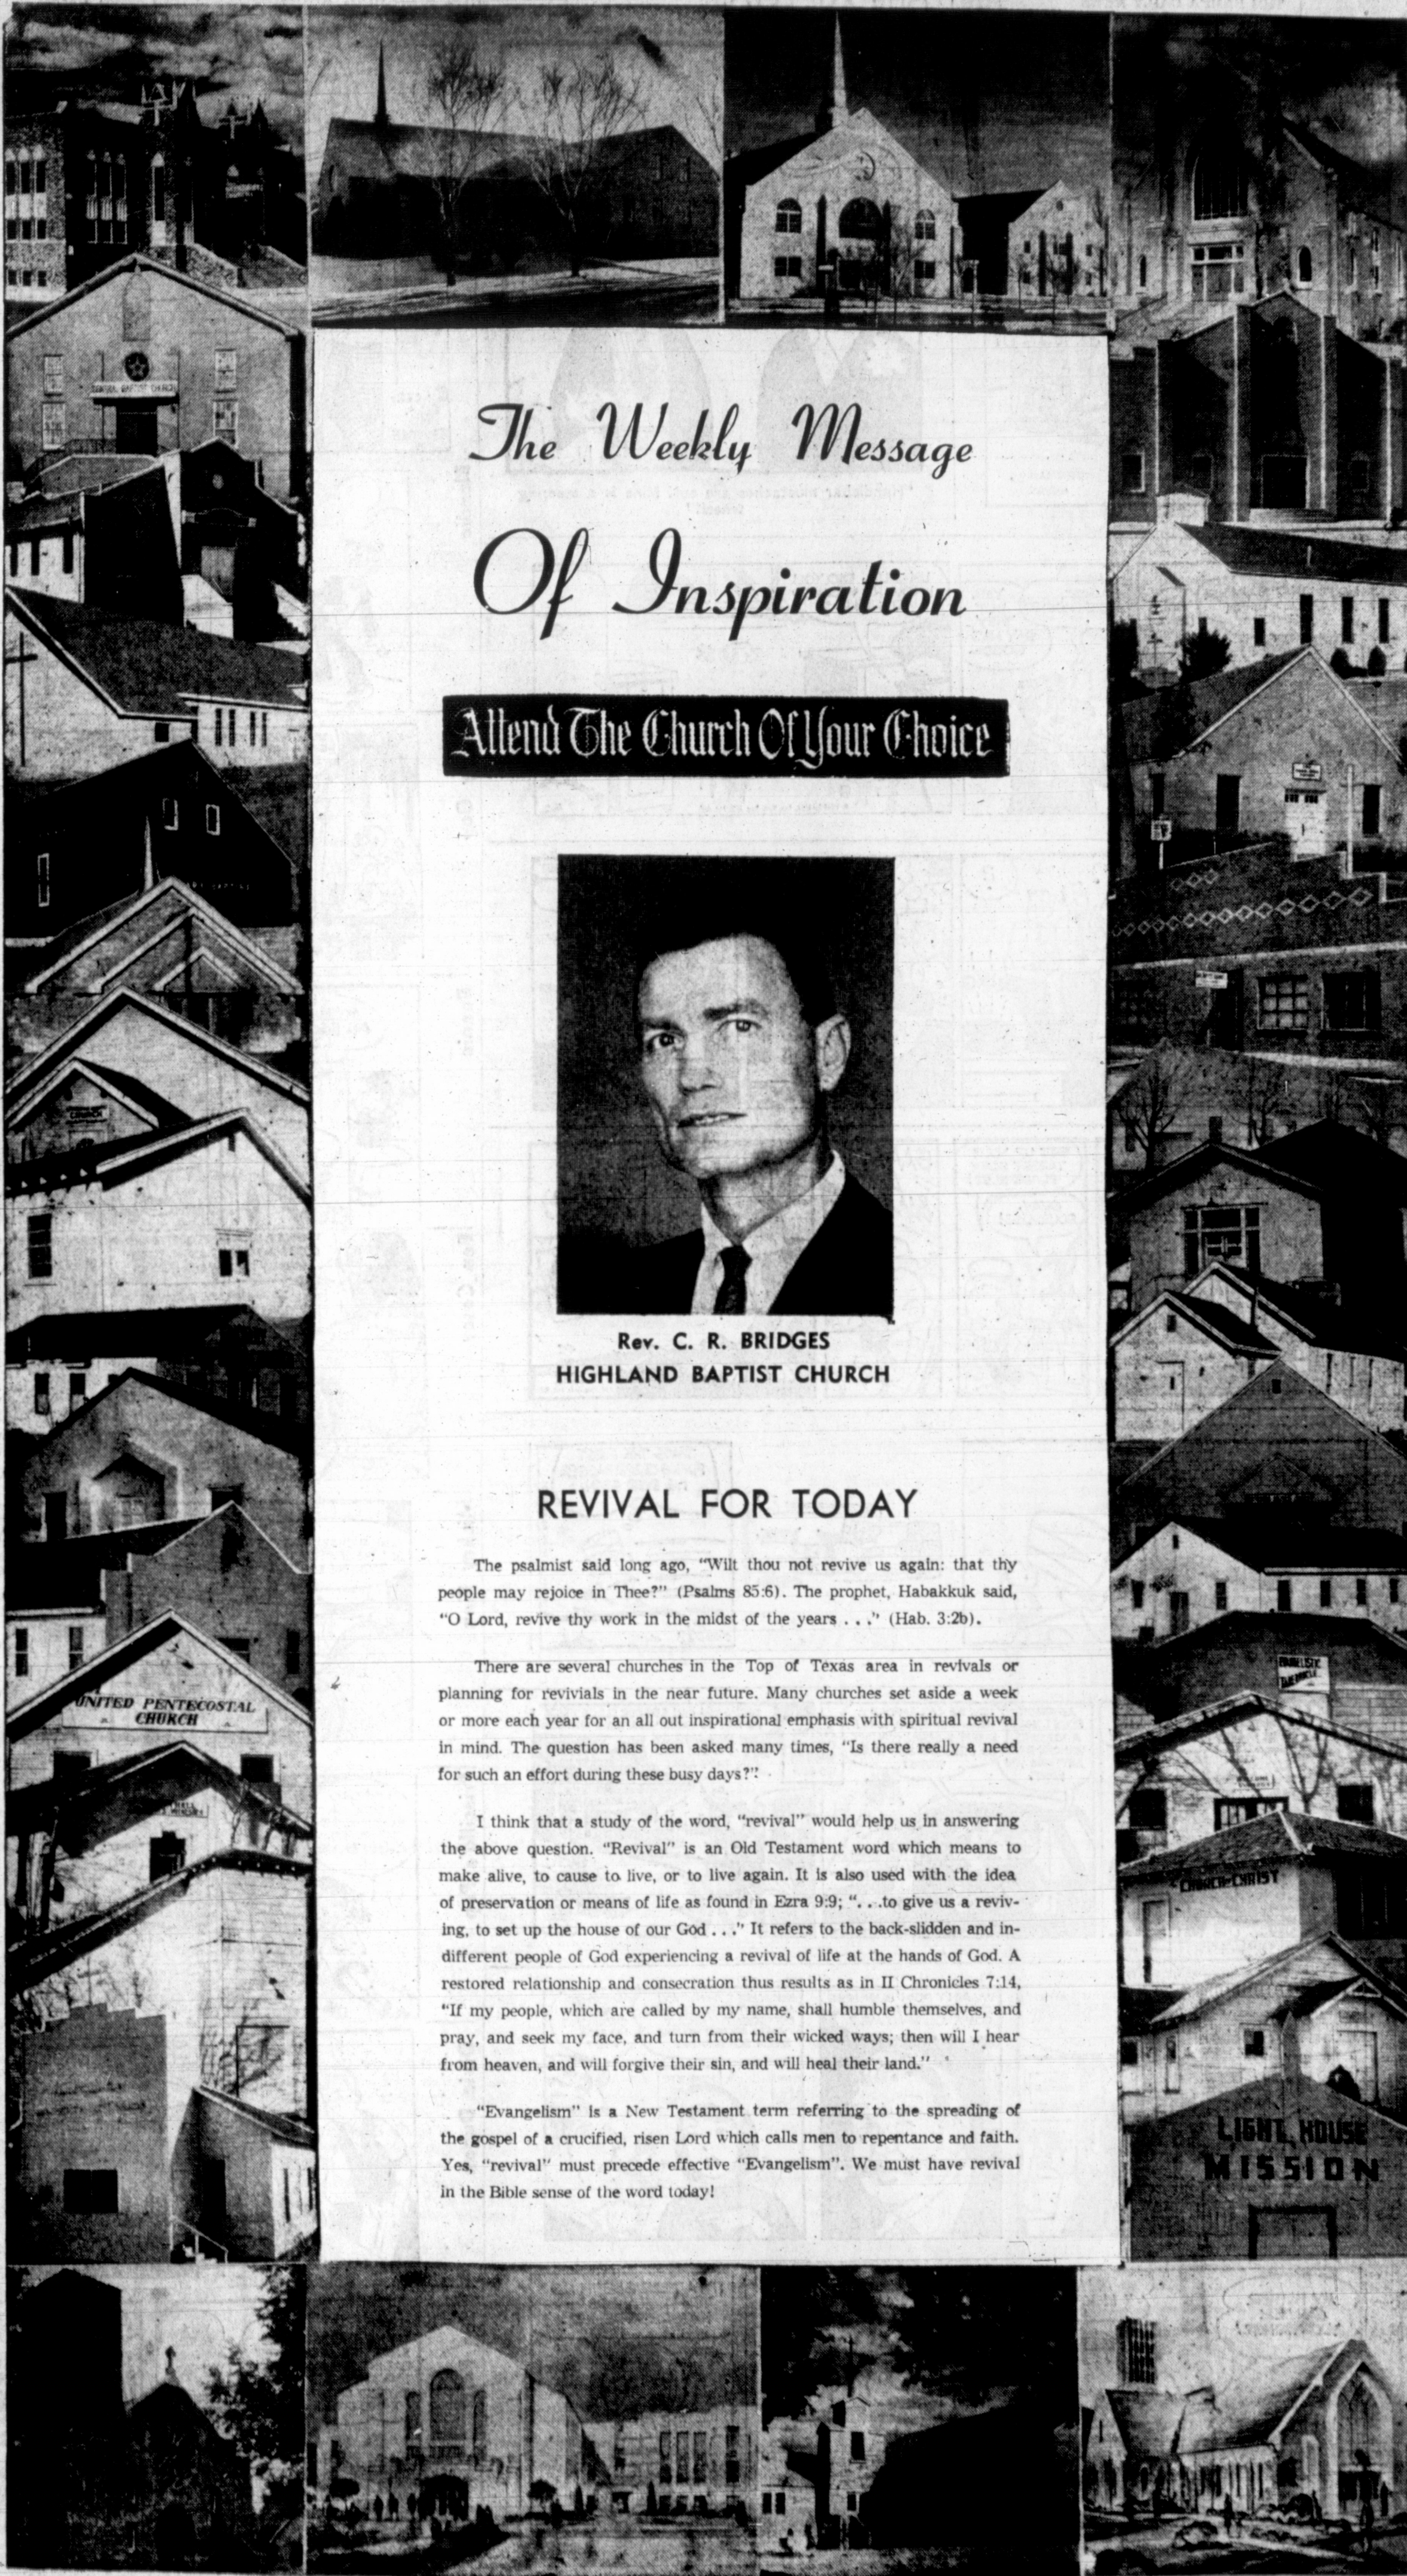

REVIVAL FOR TODAY

The psalmist said long ago, "Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoice in Thee?" (Psalms 85:6). The prophet, Habakkuk said, "O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years . . ." (Hab. 3:2b).

There are several churches in the Top of Texas area in revivals or planning for revivals in the near future. Many churches set aside a week or more each year for an all out inspirational emphasis with spiritual revival in mind. The question has been asked many times, "Is there really a need for such an effort during these busy days?"

I think that a study of the word, "revival" would help us in answering the above question. "Revival" is an Old Testament word which means to make alive, to cause to live, or to live again. It is also used with the idea of preservation or means of life as found in Ezra 9:9; "...to give us a reviving, to set up the house of our God . . ." It refers to the back-slidden and indifferent people of God experiencing a revival of life at the hands of God. A restored relationship and consecration thus results as in II Chronicles 7:14, "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

"Evangelism" is a New Testament term referring to the spreading of the gospel of a crucified, risen Lord which calls men to repentance and faith. Yes, "revival" must precede effective "Evangelism". We must have revival in the Bible sense of the word today!

Pampa Hosts Shattuck, Shockers Seek Fourth

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

The Pampa Shockers' big bats brought them an 11-2 decision over Samnorwood yesterday, their third straight win over district 5-B opposition, but the young B-teamers will face the acid test this afternoon when they play regional Class B champion Quail at Quail, meeting Deadly Dale Morris, the fire-balling righthander who has not lost a game in the last three years. Meanwhile their elders, the Harvesters, will try to make their record 7-1 this afternoon when they host Shattuck, Okla.

Big Jim Lang went the route yesterday, allowing two runs in the first inning and then settling down to pitch goose eggs over the next six frames, scattering seven hits, walking but one and striking out five.

The tall lefty received near-flawless fielding support, stand-out plays coming from second baseman Bud Abbott, center-fielder Steve "The Hat" Oler and shortstop Teddy Phillips. The octopus-armed Phillips was spiked in a rundown however, and may be lost for today's tilt.

Following the same pattern as in their previous tilt, the Shockers spotted the Eagles the lead, and then came slugging back in the late innings, breaking it open in a five-run sixth. Roy Harper led the assault with four-for-four, including three doubles. Lawrence Jones backed him with a triple and two singles and Oler with three more hits as the Shockers powered out 15 safe blows.

David Kindrick walked to open the game, Billy Wiskemper sent him home with a triple to right, and scored on a single by Danny Tate, before Lang relaxed and took the game well in hand, never allowing more than one hit an inning after that.

Pampa got one tally in the second on a single by Jones and double by Harper, and then took a 3-2 lead in the third on an error and three straight singles by Lang, Oler and Phillips.

The "Little Green" picked up another score in the fourth on Harper's single, and then two more in the fifth as Oler singled, with two out Jones tripled him home, Jones coming in on The Harp's double.

The Shockers batted Wiskemper out of the box in the sixth and then feasted some more on the slants of Augie Zerneno, as Gary Hyatt singled, Oler and Jerry Largin did the same and Scatterarm Sanders cleared the bags with a triple to deep left field. Jones singled Sanders home, and came in on The Harp's fourth hit.

Matson Seeks Crown

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Dandy Randy Matson, who wants to be the world's best in both the shot put and discus, jets go at the shot put crown today in preliminaries of the two-day 38th annual Texas relays track and field meet.

Matson, a giant of a sophomore at Texas A&M University, will have several chances to better the world mark of 67 feet, 10 inches owned by his Olympic teammate Dallas Long, but he has had a habit of getting off his best heaves at the start of competition.

That might mean soon after 11 a.m. CST today, or at mid-afternoon Saturday when he uncolls again in the finals.

Fifty universities and colleges with 1,265 contestants, are entered in the meet, the first major outdoor carnival of more than regional proportions. There also will be competition in the high school and junior college-freshman divisions.

Matson has been as close at 66-3/4 in the shot put, but he is still more than 20 feet shy of the world discus mark of 211-9/16 owned by Czechoslovakia's Ludvik Danek.

Peret to Aggies, Tech Gets Lewis

By United Press International

That bright light radiating from College Station today was nothing more than the smile flashed by Texas A&M basketball coach Shelby Metcalf.

Metcalf landed the biggest catch Thursday during the first day of Southwest Conference basketball recruiting by signing one of the top high school players in the country, Plainview's Ronnie Peret.

Some 90 to 100 schools had sought the services of Peret, whose 6-foot-9 frame is covered by 235 pounds of basketball ability, scored 1,791 points during his three varsity years at Plainview.

Not only does Peret take up more than his share of space on the basketball court, but he also finds time to run the hurdles on the Bulldog track team and play first base on the baseball squad.

Metcalf said "Peret is the quickest big boy I've ever seen. He is capable of playing anywhere on the floor and has hands that are as quick as guards like Paul Timmins (A&M captain for the past season, and Dub Malaise (all-conference guard from Texas Tech.)"

Peret said he picked A&M because of the "overall friendliness of the school, A&M's good school of business and because I think there are no finer coaches than Shelby Metcalf and Jim Culpepper, A&M's freshman coach."

Peret's signing topped off a fairly slow first day of recruiting.

Texas Tech and SMU took a couple of giant steps toward improving their future clubs by landing a pair of flashy prizes each.

Tech coach Gene Gibson signed 6-foot-7 Bennie Wiggins of Lawton, Okla., and Larry Lewis, a guard from Phillips.

SMU's signees were both local boys—Norman (Woodie) Taliferro of Dallas Jesuit and Bill Voight of Dallas Highland Park.

Both boys averaged more than 20 points a game during the last season for their clubs.

Baylor picked off one of the more sought after of the state's schoolboy stars, Hugh Fletcher, a 6-foot-5 center from Comanche.

Deck Woldt Switches Harvester's Lineup

PHS baseball coach Deck Woldt announced some major position changes for today's game.

"Although all the starters will be in their regular batting positions, we are making some changes in defensive positions, due to the return of Jim Arthur and to add some defensive strength."

Today's lineup against Shattuck will have Kyle Vann at second base, Jerry Garrison pitching, Ricky Maynard catching, Steve Molberg at first base, Ray Jernigan at third base, Jerry Simpson in left field, Ducky Daniels in center field, Phil Smith at shortstop and Arthur in right field.

Daniels will be the only one playing an unfamiliar position, as Vann saw some second base duty last year. Maynard caught for the AL Rebels, Jernigan played the hot corner at Odessa High and Smith was a shortstop until this season.

Major League Roundup

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
UPI Sports Writer

Warren Spahn, baseball's patriarch player, is bent on shattering some well established theories about the game.

Cougars Command IC Golf

HOUSTON (UPI)—The University of Houston, which was expected to run away from the field in the All-American Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, did just that Thursday.

Specifically, Spahn is teaching his New York Met proteges that, contrary to popular belief, pitchers can be hitters and a playing career doesn't necessarily end at 44.

The Cougars, paced by a two-under par 70 by Jim Grant, a 71 by Elwin Fanning and a 72 by Randy Petri, took command of all divisions in the tourney.

Spahn, in his dual role of coach and pitcher for the Mets, is hitting .667 in spring training, ranks third in runs-batted-in on the Mets, has slugged one of the Mets four homers and has posted a 2-0 pitching record.

Petri held the individual lead after two rounds of the four-day tourney with a 142. One stroke back was Fanning and Jerry Brnciar of Texas Tech.

Thursday, the Met Methusalem, who will be 44 in three weeks, drove in the two decisive runs, stroked a pair of singles and became the first Mets pitcher to work seven innings as New York tripped Detroit 4-3.

Houston was way out in front in medal play with a 36-hole total of 581, 20 strokes ahead of Texas Tech.

"And just think," said a gleeful Casey Stengel, "I got me a pinch hitter, too."

The Cougars had a four stroke lead in the four-ball event with a 125 through Thursday's round. Lamar Tech and Arizona had 129 totals and Texas Tech was at 131.

The ageless lefty blanked the Tigers until the sixth inning when he was touched for one run. Detroit added another run off him in the seventh. Spahn allowed nine hits, several of the infield variety, and struck out three. Dave Wickersham gave up all four New York runs in the third inning and was charged with the loss.

In the two-ball division, Houston checked in with a 134. The Houston "B" team was in second place a stroke back with 135.

In other games, Cincinnati blanked Minnesota 4-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Philadelphia 6-3, Pittsburgh shut out Baltimore 7-0. The Chicago White Sox outslugged St. Louis 11-9, Washington beat Kansas City 11-6 and the Los Angeles Angels defeated their Pacific Coast League farm team, Seattle, 5-3. The Chicago Cubs-San Francisco game and the Cleveland-Boston contest in Arizona were cancelled because of rain.

The Dodgers victory was tempered by the news that their ace southpaw, Sandy Koufax, had to be rushed back to Los Angeles from Vero Beach, Fla., for re-examination of his left elbow after Koufax complained he was unable to bend it. A similar injury sidelined Koufax last August 16 for the remainder of the season.

General Manager Buzzy Bavasi admitted he was "as much alarmed as I am disappointed. It's a blow to the club. I was beginning to believe that the club is as good as the 13-6 record indicates."

Willie Davis continued his torrid hitting for the Dodgers with a solo homer and two singles good for three runs. Claude Osteen surrendered three runs in seven innings for the Dodgers. Rich Allen, Dick Stuart and Frank Thomas accounted for the Phillies runs. Allen, with his second homer in two days.

The St. Louis Cardinals, showing an obvious need for added bullpen help this spring, blew a 2-2 lead as the White Sox tallied nine times in the seventh inning. Danny Cater's double was the only extra base hit in the big inning, which featured five walks and six singles off Bob Gibson, loser Mike Cuellar and Barney Schultz.

The Reds scored their first shutout of the spring over the Twins, who left 14 men on base. Minnesota peppered Billy McCool, Gerry Arrigo and Ted Davidson with nine hits and coaxed seven walks but failed to tally. Vada Pinson homered for the Reds.

Virgil Bating Star

Willie Kirkland drove in five runs with a homer and single and Joe Cunningham slugged a grand-slammer for the Senators.

WD, Panhandle Split Tennis
WHITE DEER — White Deer and Panhandle split tennis match here yesterday as the visiting Panthers took both singles matches and the Bucks the doubles.

Larry Cole turned the tables on Jack Dunivan yesterday, pulling out a 7-5, 4-6, 6-3 singles match. Ron Alexander and Frank Kelley of WD came back to sweep the boys doubles from Leon Choate and Daryl Pennell, 6-0, 6-0.

Janie Beddingfield of Panhandle took the girls singles from Colleen Crawford, 6-1, 6-1, but Linda Burgin and Nancy Ulrich came back for a doubles win, 6-0, 6-1, over Sheila Williams and Linda O'Neill.

White Deer plays in the tennis tournament at the Amarillo Relays starting this afternoon.

MSU Fires Cage Coach

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Michigan State is looking for a recruiter today, not a basketball coach.

The school had a basketball coach, but it fired Forest (Fordy) Anderson in a surprise move Thursday. He was a basketball coach, but not a recruiter. It was his lack of the latter ability that led to his dismissal after 11 seasons.

Anderson, 46, arrived at Michigan State in 1954 and in his first season directed the Spartans to a 13-9 record, reversing the team's mark of the previous season. Two years later he guided the Spartans to Big Ten and NCAA regional titles and in 1958-59 his club took the conference crown again.

Then Anderson's teams started on a downhill skid that was eventually to end up in the Big Ten's basement. The Spartans finished eighth, ninth, ninth, fourth and tenth during the past six seasons and compiled overall marks of 48-86.

The problem was Anderson himself and rivals like his near-by counterpart Dave Strack at the University of Michigan. Once the game started, Anderson had few equals. But in most phases leading up to the opening tipoff, Anderson was outclassed, and unfortunately all too often by his intrastate competitor.

Aaron Leads GGO 1st Round

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—Young Tommy Aaron felt today that the $65,000 Greater Greensboro Open (GGO) represented a good opportunity for him to win the first major tournament of his five-year professional golf career.

The quiet, 23-year-old pro from Gainesville, Ga., put together a five-under-par 66 Thursday to take the first round lead in the GGO. To hold that lead today, he will have to outdo challengers Bill Martindale, England's Bernard Hunt, seven-time winner Sam Snead, young Dave Hill and veteran Phil Rodgers.

Martindale shot a 67 Thursday which included the fourth hole-in-one carded on the PGA tour this year. Hunt, a five-time Ryder Cup player, matched Martindale with five birdies and one bogey over the Sedgefield Country Club course.

Snead, 52, who said he had "a scroungy round" Thursday, was tied with the 27-year-old Lawrence for fourth place. Each had 68. Rodgers, from Perdido Bay, Fla., had a 69.

Langie and his Missouri teammates will get a chance to improve on their other record in the two-mile relay Saturday afternoon.

So will Kansas, who owns more relays marks than any other school (7), in the four-mile relay. Missouri ran a 7:22.1 last year, while Kansas covered the long four-mile grind in 16:37.

Dear Abby.... Speak Up Quietly to Thoughtless Teenager

DEAR ABBY: We have a 16-year-old daughter with long blonde hair. She is pretty and popular and very charming to boys and girls her own age, but for some reason she does not think it is necessary to be polite at home. When she comes home from school, she slams in and breezes past anyone who happens to be in the house without saying a word. This includes guests, grandmothers, aunts, and members of the household. I merely ask her to say hello, and then she may excuse herself and go to her room and do as she pleases. People ask, "What's wrong with Cathy?" Should I reply she is at "that rude age"? Perhaps I should overlook it? Or should I keep pecking at my own chick?

Soft Wool for Milady's Spring

IMPORTANT ROLE FOR SPRING — Soft wool will play an important role in the spring scene this year. Plaid scuffle wool ensemble (left) is in pale aubergine. Side-pocket, seven-eighths coat goes down straight and narrow over a matching skirt with bow-tied blouse in crinkly acetate blend. Larky little suit with the new London beat (right) is a chiffon-soft navy and white wool. Cutaway jacket has petal curve collar. For a touch of the Edwardian dandy, there's a tiny vest. These are designed by June Frances for Claret.

FAIRMONT, W. VA.

DEAR ABBY: This girl, who is about to become a bride, says it is compulsory for the bride's mother to provide the bed pillows. I have heard of many customs, but this is a new one to me. Is this really true? Or is it just a figment of her imagination?

NOSEY
DEAR NOSEY: The bed pillows traditionally were considered the most essential items in every European girl's trousseau. That is where your friend probably got the idea. It might have been "customary" — but never compulsory.

Also whatever has to do with itemized budgets or formulas for a greater amount of efficiency to care for mundane needs is highly powerful just now.
