LUBBOCK, Tex., Aug. 23—Former members of the United States Army under 36 years of age who served as much as one year and received an honorable discharge, are eligible to receive as much as $5.00 per month merely for becoming members of the Regular Army Reserve under the Army's plan to keep in touch with ex-service men.

All members of the Regular Army Reserve receive $2.00 in cash per month for each month their names are on the Reserve rolls. If they ever are called into active service, which will be only in the event of a national emergency when they would be subject to call whether members of the Reserve or not, they will receive an additional sum at the rate of $3.00 per month for each month they have been a member of the Reserve, not to exceed a total of $150 in cash.

Members of the Army Reserve have no formations, camps or other required meetings. In fact, their only connection with the Army is

Flower Show At Olton To Be Held September 21

The annual flower show, sponsored by the Olton Garden Club will be held at the Olton school auditorium September 21, it was announced last week.

Preparations are being made for the show, and several new features will be added to give interest to the affair.

The contestants for the prizes will not be confined to the Olton community. Anyone in Lamb county who wishes may take flowers and thereby help to make this a county-wide event.

The check they receive every four months unless they are called to duty in case of a national emergency.

Since only trained ex-soldiers are eligible for membership in the Regular Army Reserve, no further training is considered necessary for them.

All ex-service men under 36 years of age with as much as one year's service in the United States Army and an honorable discharge, should report to the nearest Army Recruiting Office for full particulars and a physical examination.

Many choice vacancies still are available in the Regular Army for young men between 18 and 35 years of age without dependents and able to pass a fair mental test and physical examination. Interested young men should apply at the nearest Army Recruiting Office.

Marriage Of Fredda Charles Bills And Paul Timmons Is Solemnized Wednesday

The marriage of Miss Fredda Charles Bills and Paul Timmons was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening at six o'clock. Rev. Donald Harris, pastor read a beautiful, impressive double ring ceremony.

Vows were exchanged before an altar embanked with orchid and pink gladioli and palms, with tall tapers burning on each side of the altar. For the occasion, the church was beautiful with baskets of gladioli.

Mrs. Lee Foster of Canyon was organist for the affair and she played the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. G. M. Shaw directed a vocal choir who sang "Lohengrin" before the bride party entered. Mrs. Shaw also sang a solo.

The bride, who was given away by her father, Judge E. A. Bills, was lovely in a white chiffon frock with finger tip veil of net, and carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and fern. She also wore white lace mitts. For "something old" she carried a point lace handkerchief belonging to her mother, and which Mrs. Bills carried at her wedding.

The bride's attendants—her sister Miss Laura Virginia Bills, as Maid of Honor, wore blue chiffon and carried pink gladioli; while the bride's maids, Miss Alice Timmons, sister to the groom, was dressed in green organdie and carried an arm bouquet of pink gladioli; and Miss Alice Lynn Street wore a frock of yellow organdie, and also carried pink gladioli. The attendants all wore large picture hats to match their dresses.

The groom was attended by Ashley Caldwell of Dumas and Amarillo.

Ushers for the occasion were Bill Fields of Canyon and Charles Hubbard, cousin of the bride, of Kilgore. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Phelps Avenue, following the ceremony which was attended by members of the bride party, relatives and out-of-town guests.

The happy couple left immediately after the reception for a short trip. The bride wore a blue suit with black and white accessories.

After the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Timmons will be at home in Amarillo where he is connected with the editorial department of the Amarillo Globe-News.

FASHION for today BY PATRICIA DOW

Here's a charming afternoon fashion, ideal for those who take women's sizes, including a brief, wide-shouldered bolero that makes it equally smart for street and summer travel. Made with a princess skirt and gathered bodice, it has a beautifully smooth high-busted line. The plain v of the neckline is cool as it looks, and can be kept always fresh and new-looking with a narrow vestee of white. Design No. 8748 enables you to have, with very little trouble and expense, the distinguished type of jacket ensemble that usually costs a lot. Make it of silk print, flat crepe, georgette or spun rayon, lining the bolero with the fabric of the dress.

Pattern No. 8748 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, 42 and 44.

Pattern 8732 — Rejoice, all you smart juniors, for here's a new fashion heralding the glad fact that the beloved dirndl is on its way back — but definitely! The small waist, full skirt, the nonchalance and general effect of saucy grace that made the dirndl such a favorite, are just too becoming and attractive to be neglected for long. Picture this design (8732) made up in striped linen with plain accents, in boldly flowered percale or checked gingham! You'll love it for country week ends and hot days in town.

You can easily make this frock, even if you're no great shakes at sewing. The pattern is just as simple as the style is smart, and includes a step-by-step chart.

Pattern No. 8732 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19.

Born in Louisiana, Mr. Mahon came to Loraine with his family in 1908. He was married there in November, 1922 to Miss Lucille Jarratt. They resided on a farm east of Loraine until six months ago, when they moved to Loraine.

Other survivors are the wife; the father; three brothers, J. B., of Loraine, E. O., of Southchampion, and Durward of Austin; and three sisters, Mrs. Ernest Meadows and Mrs. Harold Martin of Loraine and Mrs. Curtis Reeder of Weatherford.

Sudan Man Is Instructor In Air Service In Canada

SUDAN, Tex., Aug. 18—Reagan Ormand, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ormand of this place, arrived here last week end for a few days' visit with his parents prior to his leaving the United States for air service in Canada.

Reagan left here Monday evening for Amarillo where he boarded a transport plane for New York, then to Ottawa, Canada, where he has entered the British services there as flying instructor.

Reagan, now about 28 years old, has spent a greater percent of his time since he was eleven or twelve years old, first in gliding, then in aviation.

At the age of twelve, he was considered rather good at glider flying and for the past ten years he has studied and attended aviation schools, and now has better than 565 hours on aviation logue book, and perhaps hundreds of hours not accounted for in training and in ground work.

About three months ago, he and Mrs. Ormand left Fort Bliss for Los Angeles, where Reagan entered a flying school, and a few days ago he was offered a position as instructor in the Canadian air forces.

During the past few years, Reagan has designed models of two or three different planes, and had them built in a Fort Worth factory, and can be accredited with originality of a great number of features of planes designed.

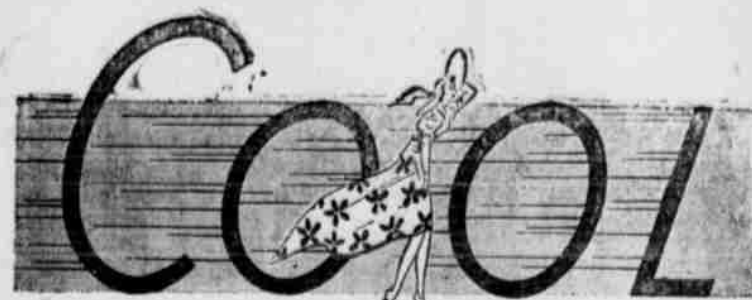

Mrs. Ormand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Boren, who live near here, will remain in Sudan until definite arrangements and location are made there.

U. S. Has Difficult Defense Problem Says Famous Flyer

Colonel Echols To Speak At Hilton Hotel Plainview Next Sunday

"We have not only our own borders to police, but the territory from Alaska to Cape Horn are our responsibility," said Jack Leon Echols, internationally famous combat pilot, during an address at the Floyd county court house Monday night.

"Our defense problem is the greatest of any nation of the world and the responsibility of making our defense for this vast territory so formidable that no warring nation will cast an envious eye in our direction, is at hand. Added to this responsibility is our duty to assist England to hold her own in the air. We must build 3,000 airplanes each month for the British to keep abreast of their contracts with American aircraft factories; and in the same effort, build an additional 3,000 aircraft monthly for our own defense needs.

"Tooling up operations in American aircraft factories; the first step toward mass production, has been underway for the past year. Billions have been invested by the French and British in this program, and our own government is now investing additional billions in order that the American privately owned aircraft industry might step-up its production to meet this staggering 72,000 unit annual production demand.

"Where aircraft factories and training institutions thought 250,000 trained aircrewmembers would suffice to supply their anticipated needs a year ago a half million such young men are now being sought to take their places in this; the most essential of all industries to our defense.

"The young man who finds his way into this industry now, training himself at his own expense, in preparation to assume a duty which will increase his usefulness to the defense of his country a hundred-fold, is also making secure his future in this, most dynamic of all industries in the world today. The aircrewmember will not be compelled to start looking for a job when the crises is over—he will have enjoyed promotions, and still have his greater opportunities ahead of him, with no time spent which has not contributed substantially to his future.

"Hundreds of Texans have already completed their training and are now employed in the aircraft factories of the Los Angeles area, and have been found to be the type of men most acceptable to this work. Owing to the fact that the foreign element of ancestry is negligible in Texas and neighboring states, little difficulty is experienced in qualifying these young men, whereas, in the industrial districts of the nation, heritage has proven one of the stumbling blocks in the path of those candidates for employment.

"The Texas Panhandle area has contributed substantially in manpower; more than a dozen young men from Floyd county itself, are already in training, or at work in the factories. Those who have enrolled from Floydada and vicinity for entry to training this month are E. E. Ellison and J. T. Smith; Gerald White, of Littlefield; J. McCreavey, H. L. Newberry, Chas. Neil, G. D. Cantwell, M. Alexander, Deane Nelson, W. O. Stewart, G. A. Stewart, B. G. Owens, all of Floydada, Tex.

Those who are now completing their training are J. T. Stovall, G. Lackey, T. W. Salisbury, James Asher, N. Rainer, A. Lyles, Floydada; A. Lieske, Jr., Crosbyton and 15 men from Lubbock.

Those passing their examinations in Floydada successfully Monday are David Lewis, H. Trussell, Gerald Sams, Clifton McLain, Roy Tyler, Fred Warren, O. R. Robnett, Arthur Barker, Henry Ford, R. M. Miller, and B. H. Boyd. These men are expected to arrive in Los Angeles during the month of August.

Col. Echols is visiting in Floydada in the course of a national tour in the interests of California aircraft manufacturers and training institutions and is the guest of M. J. Lynch, at Hotel Hilton, Plainview, resident registrar for the Anderson Airplane school of Los Angeles, which enjoys the highest placement record of any such training institution in the United States, according to Echols.

Littlefield Athletes Are Advancing In Tourneys

Registration Of Aliens To Begin Tuesday, Aug. 27

Local Post Office Joins Others In Program Of Alien Registration

The registration of aliens, under the Alien Registration Act of 1940, will begin at the Littlefield post office August 27, and continue to December 26, 1940. W. D. T. Storey postmaster announces.

All aliens 14 years of age or older are required to register. Alien children under 14 years must be registered by their parents or guardians. Generally speaking, foreign-born persons who have not become citizens of the United States are aliens. Persons with first citizenship papers must register.

Registration is free and is being made so the United States may determine exactly how many aliens there are, who they are, and where they are. The registration includes fingerprinting. All records will be kept secret and confidential, and will be made available to only such persons as may be designated with the approval of the Attorney General of the United States.

A receipt card will be sent to every alien who registers. This card will serve as evidence of registration.

After registration, the law requires all aliens and parents or guardians of aliens to report changes of residence address within 5 days of the change.

AAA Cooperators Eligible For Cotton Loans

Commodity Credit Corporation To Make Full Rate Loans

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 19 — All Texas farmers cooperating with the AAA will be eligible to obtain Commodity Credit Corporation loans at the full loan rates of their 1940 cotton crops.

No definite time has yet been set when all the necessary forms and instructions will be available so that loan applications can be accepted. George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee, said, but the material is now being printed and will be shipped to the loan agencies as soon as possible.

The loan rate will be based on 15-16 inch middling cotton, net weight basis, with differentials for grade, staple and location instead of on 7-8 inch middling as was the case last year, the chairman pointed out. The rate in Texas for 15-16 inch middling, net weight basis, will range from 9.16 cents in West Texas to 9.80 cents at all Gulf ports. As in 1939, the net weight loan rate is placed 40 points above that for the gross weight bale to compensate for the smaller number of pounds on which the loan is extended.

The full loan rate will be available only to cooperating cotton producers who have not on any farm knowingly planted or permitted the planting of cotton in 1940 in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for the 1940-41 marketing year. As required by law, non-cooperators will be eligible to receive a loan at 60 percent of the rate applicable to cooperating producers, and only on that part of their production in excess of their farm marketing quotas. Non-cooperators must have their loan documents approved by the AAA county committee.

Loans will be made directly by the Commodity Credit Corporation and by banks and other local lending agencies under arrangements similar to those pertaining to previous cotton loans. The loans will bear three percent interest and will be callable on demand with the maturity date fixed for July 31, 1941. Loans will be available until May 1, 1941. All cotton to be eligible for the loan must be classed by Board of Cotton Examiners of the Agricultural Marketing Service of the Department of Agriculture.

Few loans were made in Texas in 1939, Slaughter pointed out, because the loan was not announced until most Texas cotton had been sold.

The carry over of domestic wool in the United States at the beginning of the new marketing season—April 1—was the smallest in recent years.

Two of Littlefield's contributions to the world of amateur sports, David Storey and Buford Bradshaw, tennis star and boxer, respectively, advanced this week in tournaments at Lubbock and San Angelo.

In the City Open tennis tournament at Lubbock Tuesday, Storey paired with W. B. Rushing to defeat Cook and Keene, 6-1, 6-1, in a first round doubles match.

Bradshaw won a decision from W. Clendennen, Mt. Calm, in a first round fight of the state TAAF boxing tourney at San Angelo. Bradshaw rights in the feather-weight division. He won the right to compete in the state meet by emerging victorious in the district TAAF tourney at Lubbock last week.

Storey drew a first round bye in the singles race at the tennis meet. As the meet progresses, he will face such favorites as W. D. Rushing, Sidney Moore and H. L. Burgess.

Spring Lake Faculty Is Elected For 1940-41 Term

Friday afternoon at 2:30 the equalization board met at the Spring Lake high school building for the purpose of making any adjustments necessary to equalize property for school tax purposes.

At the meeting, J. E. White Sr., and A. Hestand composed the membership of the equalization board appointed recently by the Board of School Trustees.

Another meeting of the equalization board will be announced for near future at which time taxpayers are privileged to come before the board to discuss adjustments.

Relative Assignments Of Teachers Announced

With the exception of teachers to the system, most of the assignments will be the same as last year. The number of children in the district together with changes in faculty necessitate certain changes occasionally.

Miss Daisey Setliff will teach a section of the first or primary grade. Miss Winnie B. Henry will have a small section of the second grade and a small section of the third grade. Mrs. Gladys McCord will have the second grade section. Mrs. Gladys McCord will teach the large section of the third grade, and Mrs. J. L. Davis will have a combination of the fourth and fifth grades the same as last year. Mrs. Opal Davis will have a large section of fourth grade, and the departmental grades, so far as is known at this time, Mr. Q. L. Hern will teach arithmetic, Mr. Woodrow Montgomery will teach the history, Mrs. Montgomery will have public school music and chorus; Miss Eloise Clark will teach reading and hygiene and coach; Mrs. Dora Minor will continue as language teacher.

Miss Dorothy Terry, recently announced as teacher of art has submitted resignation to accept another position. This place will be filled at once and announcement will then be made concerning the teacher elected.

Age of Beginners Must Be Six Years

Children starting to school for the first time are required by law to be six years of age on or before September 1, 1940. There are always a number of children whose birthdays fall in the month of September and who cannot enter school. This policy must be followed in this district because of the already large enrollment per teacher. No exceptions are to be made to this policy under the present arrangement. Parents are requested to send to school only such children as are six years of age on or before SEPTEMBER 1. These names are on the census rolls which will be the basis checking enrollment.

New Textbooks Received

A large shipment of new textbooks just received by the school authorities includes replacements of worn out copies of texts and many new adoptions. Free textbooks for school children represent a considerable community saving. It is especially requested that parents encourage their children to take a

J. L. HICKS RETURNS

August 7, 8, 9, and 10 marked the holding of the Annual Conference for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture at College Station, Agricultural and Mechanical College.

J. L. Hicks, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Spring Lake School has just returned from this conference and reports what he considers a highly successful series of meetings. About six hundred and forty vocational agriculture instructors were in attendance. Speakers for the meetings were farm specialists from over the state of Texas. Among other interesting features was a banquet held in the mess hall to which all men and their wives were invited. Mr. Ray Chapelle of Texas Tech. was toastmaster for the banquet.

Discussions on the AAA soil of land, farm cooperatives, establishment of youth on American farms, and the adoption of new policies and practices in vocational agriculture for Texas Schools made up the main part of the conferences.

The next series of conferences will not be on a statewide basis, but will be divided into areas. Area I and Area II will combine to meet in August, 1941 in San Angelo. Spring Lake and Lamb County fall in Area I.

High School Faculty 1940-41

The men have a slight majority in the high school faculty for this year. H. L. Minor, Superintendent of schools, will teach Spanish and perhaps some course in mathematics. V. C. Bearden, high school principal will teach history and problems in democracy and civics. J. L. Harden will teach typewriting junior business training and commercial law and will continue his able coaching of boys' athletics. J. J. Davis will teach mathematics and science and will coach girls' basketball. Davis has to his credit a number of years of successful coaching of girls basketball. Miss Eloise Clark who coached the girls last year, and who established herself as a favorite with the girls, will have a full schedule in the grade school and will coach grade school teams. Carolyn Dixon will teach home economics, a popular line of study in the system. Mrs. Anna Noble will teach English and speech and direct the library and school news. Davis and Mrs. Noble are to be members of this faculty for the first time.

High School Enrollment

To Be Held August 28 and 29

Enrollment of high school students will be affected August 28 and 29. It is important that all students make their enrollment at this time and find out what materials are to be bought and what fees are to be paid. An announcement will be made in this paper concerning fees and materials to be required.

In 1939, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the 32 million people living on farms were able to supply the needs of from 50 to 70 per cent more city people than the same number could supply 30 years ago. Technological advance, plus improvements in breeds of livestock, farming practices and crop varieties, have contributed to this increase in efficiency, and, by the same token, to farm unemployment.

"UNTAMED" COMING TO PALACE THEATRE SATURDAY MIDNIGHT, SUNDAY, & MONDAY

The Palace Theatre will present "Untamed," a story of the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police, at the Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday shows.

A great story of the Canadian Northwest, full of snow and ice, dog sleds and snow shoes, which was made in gorgeous technicolor, and starring Ray Milland, Patricia Morrison and Akim Tamiroff, "Untamed" will delight those who like vital stirring films.

"Untamed" is taken from the Sinclair Lewis story, "Mantrap," and is a splendid treatment of the eternal triangle with its setting in the far, frozen North woods.

On the same program will be presented the latest issue of March of Time, titled "Spoils of Conquest"—a colorful and exciting story of the Dutch East Indies, richest colonial empire in the world, which is making headline news these days because it is the chief source of rubber and tin so vitally needed for America's new rearmament and national defense program.

With Holland itself already in the hands of Nazi Germany, and with Japan's policy of driving the white man out of Asia continuing unabated, U. S. military strategists are greatly concerned over the possibility that the Dutch East Indies may be seized by Japan and that America's rubber and tin supplies may be cut off.

Whitharral School To Open August 26

The Whitharral Public Schools will open Monday, August 26, for the 1940-41 term, according to R. B. Carnes, superintendent.

Sixteen teachers are employed by this system and a large number of improvements in the school plant have been made, including the erection of a new vocational agricultural shop and bus shed through the cooperation of the National Youth Administration.

Six Girls Have Interesting Trip In Northwest

Miss Marie Knowles, Mildred McKinnon, Regna Crow and Sibyl Byers, all of Littlefield, and Misses Edith Tarter and Nan Ray Hudson of Lubbock, returned home about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night after a two weeks trip in the north and western states.

The group left Littlefield Saturday, August 3.

Miss Sibyl Byers wrote the following article about their trip:

"The first points of interest were the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest in Arizona. Next we saw the Grand Canyon, which no words will describe its beauty. From Boulder Dam we went to Los Angeles, California.

"First, we went sight-seeing, then made a trip to Santa Catalina Island and spent a day. We rode the Catalina Boat over, and came back on the 'Avalon.' While on the island, we took a glass-bottom boat ride.

"The next place we stopped was the Forest Lawn Memorial, which was very impressive. A trip to Hollywood wasn't as exciting as we had hoped it would be, but we enjoyed seeing the beautiful mansions. From Hollywood, we went to Sequoyah Park, then to the Yosemite National Park.

"Our next stop was in San Francisco, where we went to the Golden Gate Exposition, and while at the telephone building, Edith Tarter received a free call to Lubbock.

"From San Francisco we took the ocean drive to Crescent City, where we spent one night, and almost froze. We ate supper before a huge fireplace, with lighted fire. Through the state of Oregon we took the inland drive. At Portland, a couple who saw our Texas car license, drove beside us and one of them said, 'How are you all?' with the southern accent!

"We went as far north as Seattle, Washington, and from Spokane, Wash., we drove to Helena, Montana, then to Yellowstone National Park. The most interesting things in Yellowstone were the geysers, the waterfalls, geysers, and the Old Faithful Geyser, the cascades of the fireholes, and the paint pots.

"From Yellowstone we went to Salt Lake City, Utah, and enjoyed a trip through the state capital building. We also visited the Mormon Temple.

"The next place of interest was the Berthoud Pass, and from there we went to Denver, Colorado.

"We left Denver Saturday morning early, and drove to Littlefield at 10:30 that night.

factory adjacent to Hensley field, near Grand Prairie, Texas, would start within thirty days.

The Dallas Chamber of Commerce was notified by J. H. Kindelberger, president of North American Aviation, Inc., that authority to build the plant has been granted his company by the war department and the national defense advisory council.

When at peak operation, the factory will employ 12,000 persons, with a total monthly payroll estimated at approximately $2,000,000, chamber of commerce officials said. The factory will be built on the old Fort Worth pike, west of Hensley field, an army airport, on a tract of 140 acres. When completed it will have 1,000,000 square feet of floor space under glass.

Original reports were that the Hall-Aluminum Airplane Corporation would build a plant near Dallas.

North American expects to have the plant ready to go into production of planes needed under the national defense program by next February, and to have the first planes completed about three or four months after that.

Within a year, it expects to be turning these planes out at the rate of 300 or 400 per month, employing some 12,000 employees, he added.

The new plant will turn out training planes, fighters and two engine bombing planes for the government.

Workers required by the factory are expected to virtually double the population of Grand Prairie, as well as add several thousand families to the population of Dallas. Most of these Dallas families probably will locate in Oak Cliff, since that area is nearest the plant.

Cattle Are Shipped Last Week From Peyton Packing Co.

First shipment of finished cattle from the pens of the Peyton Packing Co., to El Paso for processing, has reduced the number of cattle in the pens here to approximately 700 head. Shipments are planned for regular intervals until the pens have been emptied.

Twenty-one cars, or over 700 head, were in the first shipment. It is understood several cars or more may be shipped weekly.

First stocking of pens was last January when several thousand head were received. These have now been on feed between seven and eight months. They were said to be in excellent condition.

Peyton feeds ensilage from huge silos at his pens, north of town. Feed is purchased locally in the fall and cut and the trenches filled.

Buying has not been started for filling this fall, but is expected to begin soon. Capacity of the plant is 10,000 to 12,000 head a year.

A huge mill is operated to grind feed.

PALOMINO HORSE SHOW TO BE STAGED AT ABILENE OCTOBER 2

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 23 — (UP) —A Palomino show expected to have more than 250 of the colorful horses entered will be held October 2, 3 and 4 at Abilene, Tex. Howard B. Cox of San Angelo, president of a Texas Palomino association has announced.

A Palomino is not a particular breed of horse, but a horse of particular coloring. He may be a thoroughbred, a saddlebred, a quarter horse or any type if the coloring is right. Last year at Fairburn a Palomino Shetland pony was exhibited.

Generally recognized specifications for a Palomino are that the skin must be black; the mane and tail must be silver; the eyes must be dark. The animal's coat may be any shade of gold. Dark, dappled gold seems to be considered best.

So popular have Palominos become among Texas stockmen that 200 were exhibited in an all-Palomino show last year. One hundred were entered in a mid-summer show at Mineral Wells this year.

The program for the October show will be made up of the usual horse show events, but all the entries will be Palominos. There will also be a rodeo program with only Palominos used.

There will be halter classes, including yearlings, twos, threes and up in mares, geldings and stallions. There will be three-gaited numbers for men and women, a roping contest and a "ladies flag contest."

The last event is one in which the cowgirls, all riding Palominos, line up at one end of the arena. At the starter's pistol-shot, they dash to the other end, each picking a small flag from a post. Flag in hand, they race back at the starting post.

Exciting dashes are expected in the Palomino flag race for many of the Palominos being raised in Texas are quarter horses. A quarter horse is one developed to have his best speed at a quarter of a mile. Quarter horses are used extensively to supply the stables of polo players.

Though Palominos are comparatively new in Texas, they were famous in Spain before the discovery of America. Queen Isabella is credited with having had the largest stable of Palominos. They were pulsed by breeding Red Arabian stallions with flaxen manes and tails to dun mares. Modern raisers say best color results are still secured by sticking to the Arabian strain.

To heighten the colorfulness of the Palomino show, riders all will be required to wear yellow shirts and white sombreros.

Cattlemen Hope For Passage Of Bill

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 23 — (UP) —West Texas cattlemen are hoping that Bill No. 3786, pending before the U. S. Senate, will be enacted. The bill concerns cattle thefts when the cattle are transported in interstate commerce. It provides that the theft of one steer valued at $50 would call for federal prosecution.

As the law now reads, a cattle rustler can steal any number of cattle from a West Texas ranch, truck them into nearby New Mexico towns and sell them at sub-market prices without federal prosecution—as long as the value of the cattle does not reach $5,000.

After queries by several cattlemen, Attorney General Robert H. Jackson recently rendered a statement to the effect that the federal government cannot under the law assist southwestern stockmen in their fight against cattle thieves unless the rustlers steal stock valued at the above figure or more.

Feeding Pens Are Being Established At Sudan This Week

A deal was completed Tuesday of last week between the Coast

Packing Company and George Springer for a one hundred and ten acre tract located east of Sudan for the purpose of establishing, buying feeding and selling pens there with construction starting Monday morning on pens and other necessities for a business of this nature.

M. R. Davidson, manager of the Clovis pens, and an official of the California office, were there some three weeks ago and intentions of locating at Sudan were announced at that time, and with the aid of the Sudan Chamber of Commerce, the company definitely announced their intentions Tuesday by purchasing the property of Mr. Springer's.

The Coast Packing Company, one of the largest firms of this nature, will offer the cattle and row crop raisers a definite outlet for their farm products without the added expense of shipping and hauling to other places of this nature.

Make Best July Record In History

Domestic retail deliveries of Buick motor cars during July totaled 23,659 units, compared with 13,768 in the same month last year, a gain of 9,891 units or 71.8 percent. This was the best July volume in Buick records and reflected a continuation of the strong trend that has characterized the automobile trade this summer, according to W. F. Hufstader, Buick general sales manager.

"Littlefield—The Pulse of the Plains," reads the slogan on page one of your Lamb County Leader, and as one who has pondered over such battle cry as "Cover sDixie Like the Dew," "Starts the Day on the South Plains," and "Biggest Little City in Texas," we consider the Leader slogan an outstanding one. Instead of being unwieldy like many slogans (and our opening sentence), "Littlefield—The Pulse of the Plains," packs punch and is decidedly appropriate as a news paper's by-word.

Where else is a community's pulse beat so carefully recorded as in the columns of its newspaper? Just as the physician's trained touch and ticking timepiece keep him posted on the condition of his patient, so does the home town newspaper keep the citizen informed on the well-being of the community. Incidentally, Littlefield's pulse is beating normally and an echo is heard in the sounds of construction under way on the new post office, street paving and other projects. Another echo is heard in the optimistic talk of projects in the making such as the municipal auditorium and surface drainage, and still another in the daily happenings up and down Phelps Avenue, on the branching streets of the business section, in the residential districts and throughout the trade territory.

Once the new post office is completed, we can begin thinking of a suitable mural to grace its walls. Unofficial statistics place the number of cities dissatisfied with their post office murals at nine out of ten. In many instances, the artist, usually an imported one wholly unfamiliar with a city's traditions, and so forth, has painted a mural woefully out of step with the environment. So now is the time for members of civic organizations and other interested citizens to begin thinking about a suitable mural.

Have you ever stopped to think that probably no other presidential candidate in history has possessed such a magnetic name as "Wendell Wilkie?" The name of the Republican candidate is reminiscent of "Peter Pan," "Bobby Shaftoe," and other cognomens from the pages of juvenile literature. Any Republican, however, will probably assert that Wilkie's name would just as easily fit a White House news dispatch as a fairy tale.

And while on the subject of names, we might mention that Littlefield's new football coach possesses one which should inspire a great deal of fight in the 1940 edition of the Wildcat football team. Excellent material awaits "Abe" Murphy, former grid mentor at Memphis, Hall County, and from what we are able to glean, from the conversations of street corner quarterbacks, the Wildcats will go far in district competition.

During our sojourn in Oklahoma, we heard and read so much of the mighty Red Raiders of Texas Tech that we are glad to be in their territory and anticipate seeing one or two of their headline games this fall. We have known at least a half dozen behemoths who journeyed all the way to Lubbock from Eastern Oklahoma and then failed to make the grade and, consequently the Red Raider team.

There's no mistaking that old tip in the air. Footballs soon will be floating through the air with all the grace a pigskin can muster and we can forget such things as blitz-krogs (pronounced "blisterbug" in some sections where illiteracy is

GERLACH BATTERY & ELECTRIC IS MOVING TO NEW BUILDING

The Gerlach Battery & Electric firm will move this week end to its new location on Phelps Avenue, just north of the Littlefield Hotel.

The firm, owned and operated by Fred Gerlach, now is located in the John Blair building on Fifth St. The building to be occupied by Mr. Gerlach has been remodeled and everything is in readiness for occupancy.

Mr. Gerlach came to Littlefield from Memphis, Tex., in March, 1938, and since that time has operated what is generally considered one of the best carburetor and magneto services in this area.

Mr. Gerlach is assisted by Elvis Walker and the two have attended sessions of the Carter Carburetor school at St. Louis, Mo., the past two years. The local firm is said to be the only one of its kind in Texas to send two representatives to this school.

Group Enjoys Week End At Gallup, N. M.

Mrs. Max Stansell, Mrs. Mary Renfro, Mary Edith Harmon, Mrs. Bill Aldridge, and Mrs. Floyd Porter returned home Monday from a week end trip to Gallup, New Mexico.

They were met in Gallup by Winifred Crow Sewell, of Los Angeles Calif., former resident of Littlefield, who was visiting her mother, Mrs. A. J. Meeks.

The group left Littlefield at 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and arrived in Gallup that night. They visited the Cliff Dwellers, and Kit Carson's Cave, before witnessing the Indian Ceremonials. They enjoyed a trip to the "Top of the World," on the Continental Divide, and a short trip into Arizona.

What Ought America To Do?

When Americans begin to discuss the war in Europe and how its outcome might affect ourselves, there are usually many expressions of opinion, but very few facts brought out. Who will win? We frankly don't know. What will happen to the United States if Hitler conquers Britain? We don't know that, either; but we do know that a large number of people who are entitled to express their beliefs are pretty nervous about the possibilities.

It is easy to say that the Germans could not land an army big enough to bother us, across three thousand miles of ocean. But against that stands the indisputable fact that we, the United States, actually did land an army of more than two million fighting men in Europe only 22 years ago.

We were able to do that because we and our allies had control of the Atlantic Ocean. German submarines and cruisers tried to stop our troops from crossing the sea, but were not numerous and powerful enough. But if Germany should gain control of the Atlantic, by a victory over Britain, who is to stop Hitler from invading any part of this continent?

The plain fact is that we have been relying upon the British Navy to guard our Atlantic shores while our warships kept watch to the westward. We have waked up to the need of a two ocean navy, but it will be five or six years before it can be built. What will the dictator powers, if they are victorious over Britain, be doing in the meantime?

The vital question for the American people to consider now is this: What are we going to do about it if a foreign enemy decides that the time has come for the conquest of America, before we are ready to stop them from landing an expeditionary force? Will we wait until they start before we call for volunteers and start to train them in the use of modern fighting machines? Or will we begin now to train our young men to defend their country, at the same time that we are building the implements of war for them to use against those who would destroy the liberty upon which our American system is founded?

Every American hopes that we shall never have to use the fighting tools which we are now starting to construct. But it would be time and money wasted if we did not know how to use the tools if we should be forced to do so.

CHURCHES

Rev. J. T. Adams, one of the outstanding revivalists, is opening a series of Salvation Army meetings here Sunday, August 26, according to Capt. Eula Trum.

ENVOY J. T. ADAMS

Adams has been engaged in revival work the past 39 years and has conducted meetings in all 48 states. He claims 30,000 conversions for this period, and is said to have inspired more than 100 persons to take up preaching.

Adams is an advocate of "Back to the Bible" movement. He is said to be bringing messages for all, and an invitation is extended everyone to hear him during the course of the revival.

METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Wm. Hannusch, Pastor
We are changing our services to the regular hours of Sunday school at 9:45 A. M., and Church service at 11 o'clock, starting Sunday, August 25. There will be only the League meetings in the evening.

MORTON REVIVAL NOW UNDERWAY

Rev. Sharp Starts Meeting At Anton Sunday Night

Rev. J. H. Sharp, Methodist pastor of Littlefield, started a revival meeting at the Anton Methodist Church Sunday night. Services will continue for two weeks. Rev. J. T. Howell is pastor at Anton.

Lutheran Pastor Will Move To Eagle Next Week

The Rev. Wm. Hannusch, pastor of the local Lutheran Church for the past year, accepted a call recently to the Lutheran Church at Eagle, Texas, and he and his family will leave Littlefield next Monday for their new home. He came to Littlefield from Otto, Texas, about 30 miles east of Waco, and he and his family have made many friends here who regret their leaving, but who wish them success in their new home.

AMHERST METHODIST CHURCH

"In preaching, the thing of least consequence, is the sermon." Will you stop now and think for a moment and close your eyes and see what you think of this statement? A noted layman said once that only a few preachers ever preached more than one great sermon. Do not preachers worry a lot over their sermons and the results and reception they get from those who hear? Do not many congregations stress the fact of great sermons?

Dr. John A. Kern, who was for some time president of Randolph-Macon College, and teacher of homiletics in the best days of Vanderbilt University is the author of the quotation above. This course on homiletics deals with teaching preachers how to study, outline, make and deliver sermons. He taught most or all of our present Southern bishops, especially his own son, Bishop Paul B. Kern, in their sermonic work and his book from which this quotation is taken is one of the most popular books on the subject.

The secret of all this is the man, what he is and who he is eclipses what he says. What will thou have me to be as well as what to do enters into the sermon.

Another writer says that the sermon is not just what the preacher is, does, or thinks, but it is to a great extent what the congregation feels him. The preacher does not make the congregation, but the congregation makes or ruins the preacher. The congregation antedates the pulpit and the preacher comes from and out of the congregation.

All services next Sunday, except at night, when we go to the Baptist Church, or else, etc.

Revival Meeting Starts At Baptist Church At Enochs

Revival meeting got underway at the Baptist Church, Enochs, Sunday, August 18, which will continue for two weeks. Rev. Joe Wilson of Friona is doing the preaching.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services. Rev. J. E. Moore is Pastor of the church.

The SNOOPER SAYS...

"It's cheerio with George Theriot—for Governor of Texas in 1952... Watch my future!"

The above is printed on a card a nice young man brought to the office Thursday. Perhaps you saw him, too, and think like I do about it... that 1952 seems a long while from now... but your children will be voting by that time, and you can tell them that he started electioneering back in the year 1940, when the entire world was in a turmoil.

Power to him, though... maybe this writer would like to be a member of the legislature in 1952... one doesn't know.

Oh yes, Mr. Theriot will be 39 years old in 1952!

I haven't written about that freckle-faced boy friend of mine in several months, but he brought me a copy of the "China Press," sent to his mother by his brother, who is with the marines in Shanghai, China.

This is a daily paper, mostly printed in English, and stories are printed from the United Press, containing news of the day from all parts of the world. The edition I read was printed July 4, with a United States Independence Day supplement, featuring stories about "Independence and the American School,"... "As Freedom Burns Low in Europe, American Youth Has a New Role in Fate of Democracy."

Here is the way the Chinese people feel about this country... the following paragraphs appeared on a two page ad, signed by 50 business establishments in Shanghai: "On this, the one hundred and sixty-fourth year of the independence of the United States of America, we, the undersigned, reaffirm our faith in the democratic ideals and the basic integrity that stand as the foundation of this great nation."

"We believe in a nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Lincoln's precepts are as valid today as the day on which the Gettysburg address was written."

"Today, when the world is plunged into great catastrophe, America is unflinchingly facing her responsibility as a great power and faithfully serving the interests of all peace-loving peoples."

Wouldn't we like to know that Hitler would feel the same way, some time in the near future?

When I think of Hitler, I think about how Victor Hugo explained Napoleon's downfall. He said: "And God became bored with Napoleon."

In this paper, I found Walter Winchell's column, and the cartoon, "Side Glances," and "Hold Everything."

For those who play golf...

Golfers: "I'm not playing the game I used to play."

Caddie: "What game was that?"

Women are becoming more interested in politics all of the time, and recently it was announced that a woman would be in the legislature of the state of Texas after January 1. Mrs. Wm. Dingus, a professor at Texas Tech, stated that men had caused enough trouble and grief in political affairs and it was about time that the women of America step in and straighten things out.

Then comes the charges of a woman professor at the University of Pittsburgh, who believes the average American woman has a lazy attitude toward politics and is inclined to rely on her husband's advice as to how to vote.

Dr. Rosalind L. Branning, one of the few women instructors in political science, makes the charge, but tempered it by asserting that both men and women should make a deeper study of politics.

She dispels the impression that politics is a dry subject. "Politics can be just as exciting as any other subject," she said. "The idea that it is dull is due to a lack of understanding."

A sure sign that fall is almost here—Mexicans are arriving from the south, to see about cotton picking jobs.

A hick town is one where there is no place to go that one shouldn't... Playing cards have either a bicycle or a bee on them—meaning you are either taken for a ride or get stung... "I'll drive," said the wife as she climbed in the back seat... Some folks are always building air castles and then trying to move into them... We all have family trees, but some are more shady than others.

Recreation Project Has Large Opening

The Littlefield WPA Recreation Project, a unit of the Lamb county project, opened Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the City Park with an exceptionally good attendance.

Approximately 140 boys took part in the different activities, including deck tennis, feather ball, box hockey ring toss, arts and crafts, croquet and other informal games.

About 80 girls participated in all of the activities.

Adults showed interest in the activities with about 15 either participating with, or watching the children.

There is a group of small children interested in story telling and sand modeling. In a short time, it is hoped that boxing will be an additional activity for the boys, as several have expressed an interest toward it.

The attendance for the entire day Monday, including participants and spectators, was about 250. Miss Dona Huff, supervisor, extends a welcome to everyone to go to the City Park and see the activities.

"Section 9-A. Upon the vote of a majority of the resident qualified electors owning rendered taxable property therein so authorizing, the Commissioners Court of Red River County, Texas, may levy an annual tax not to exceed Twenty-five (25) Cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for a period not to exceed fifteen (15) years for the purpose of refunding all the outstanding warrant indebtedness of the General Fund of such County and issue bonds under the provisions of the General Law regulating the issuance of bonds to refund said indebtedness.

ENGLAND PRESERVES WOOD, METAL SUPPLY

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Fort Worth residents have seen how England is preserving its wood and metal supply.

A local jeweler received a shipment of English pottery which was bound in primitive fashion without the use of nails or finished wood.

The 302-pound package, which was sent from London, was packed in dark hay and tied with coarse rope and unhewn timber that looked like small tree limbs.

CHAPTER VIII

Synopsis

Rollins, tennis ace, dreamed of winning the Davis Cup for his country. Then he fell in love with Grace Worthington, but Grace wouldn't marry a man who regarded tennis as his life's work. Len, up to his ears in tennis, because of his love for Grace, decided to make a bad injury to himself—and they were married. When his recovery was complete, he determined to play tennis and won a place on the Davis team. Grace and Len had a terrible automobile accident just as they were to leave for Europe. Len decided to go—leaving Grace in a hospital as, he thought, on the way to recovery. Swannstrom, the team captain, has just told Clark and Len, another Cup player, that someone would have to upset them to bring back the Cup.

Lefevre! Now why not say something hard," Clark retorted. "You know darn well Len here or I can take any time we want to. It's just a game."

A porter appeared, carrying a cablegram. "Mr. Rollins, Len took the envelope. He read the voices of Clark and Swannstrom miles away.

It was all over then. Well, he would forget her and throw himself into tournament playing. He would beat Lefevre. Beat him or die in the attempt. He would practice long and diligently. He was free now—entirely free—to concentrate on making of himself the greatest tennis player the world had ever known. And beating Lefevre would be the initial step in attaining the height of his ambition.

He could visualize the future. First Wimbledon. Then Auteuil where he would win the Davis Cup for America. After Auteuil the National Doubles at Boston, probably with Clark as his partner. Following the Doubles would come the National Singles at Forest Hills. At this, the nation's tennis event of the year, he would prove conclusively that he was no mere flash

"That's not old," Len defended. "You could turn pro."

"I wouldn't have a chance against Tilden and Vines and that gang. I'm only on the cup team today, Rolly, because King and Reynolds turned pro. And I'm not very colorful, you know. Not like you with a smashing overhead and a screwball service. I'm just one of those plodders who got to the top by pulling pretty hard at the bootstraps. But now that I'm here, I wonder if it was worth all the time and effort and sacrifices. Where do I go from here? When I'm all washed up, I mean, Rolly."

Len said: "I had two years of the other life and I come back to tennis. I didn't have to. I just wanted to; I like it better."

That's exactly the trouble," Wheatley replied. "You like it better. I tell you, Rollins, it's like a narcotic; when it gets you, you can't break away."

Len shrugged.

That kiss had been their last in the pan. He would win the championship. The newspapers would sing his praise, compare him to the greats of other days.

The Nationals over, he would be invited to Newport to play in the annual Fall tournament. A telegram would undoubtedly be forwarded to him from Berkeley—Helen Wills' home town—inviting him to take part in the tournament there. He would accept, of course. He would play not only in Berkeley, but all along the Pacific coast—San Francisco, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Balboa, Del Monte, Agua Caliente.

The South would call next. While winter snows shrouded the states above the Mason-Dixon line he and perhaps Don Clark and Wheatley would travel each week to a different southern city.

In February they would play at Havana, and from Havana catch a boat to Bermuda. After Bermuda there would be the usual lull of a few short weeks to allow them to rest for a while. Then they would plunge into intensive training for the Davis Cup team.

The check from Dan Worthington he would return if it was sent to him. That he had determined. He'd show them he wasn't quite as big a bum as they thought. He didn't need money.

He crushed the cablegram into a tight ball, walked to the rail and threw it into the sea.

At the rail outside Clark's cabin stood Frank Wheatley.

"Hi, Rollins." His voice was strange. He kept looking out over the water.

"Nice," Len murmured.

"Yes," Wheatley said. "Isn't it? Sometimes it gets me."

"What?"

"The life we lead. Sometimes I think of settling down and getting married."

Len stood silent, thinking.

"But what have I to offer a girl besides a lot of useless cups and years left at best. But what could I do if I gave it up now? What can I do when I finally have to give it up? Sell insurance the rest of my life? Maybe. But I can't sell; I'm the world's worst salesman. So what? If I was lucky to start where the high school graduate starts, at the beginning. At thirty-two."

"You're lucky, an exception, Rollins. You have a wife who helps you keep your balance, who keeps you from letting the dope get too strong a hold upon you. You're managing to live two lives at the same time. Few, if any, of the rest of us can do that. I'm amazed that you can."

"Frank—"

"Yes?"

"Oh—never mind. It wasn't important." No sense telling Frank that he wasn't an exception, that he hadn't been able to live two lives either. They'd all know soon enough. Everyone would know.

The Stade Roland Garros lies within the boundaries of Auteuil. Row upon row of seats reach from the eight-foot high wall to the top of the arena. In one corner is a huge score board where, from a tiny platform, the score is announced through a microphone to those in the stands. At the opposite end of the dressing rooms. The entire matinee is taken up by the courts lined with chalk white and rolled to the hard perfection of a billiard table.

Now, from the stands at the Stade Roland Garros, as Len Rollins gazed out across the Marquee to where Don Clark and Henri Lefevre were warming up, came a constant hum. Men and women of many nations and from all walks of life sat side by side watching intently the two gleaming white-clad figures upon the court, commenting, gesticulating, praising.

Henri Lefevre was not the greatest tennis player the world had ever known, but he was certainly the greatest volleyer. Untiring, quick on his feet, accurate and a remarkable recoverer, he had reigned supreme for four years. Against him a point was never won until he failed to reach the ball, which was seldom. What appeared to be kill shots when leaving the racquets of his opponents were converted into points for Lefevre by his uncanny ability to get the ball and return it.

Clark seemed tense, but Len knew that he would recover his poise when the match was underway. A stray ball came bounding toward Clark. He picked it up and idly tossed it toward Lefevre. The Frenchman nodded recognition, smiled, showing white teeth.

They were ready to play at last and Len turned toward the runway. Swannstrom did not allow the later players to watch previous matches. "Takes too much out of you," was the captain's explanation.

In an hour or an hour and a half, depending upon the bitterness of the struggle out there between Clark and Lefevre, Len would meet Letenour. If Clark could possibly rise to the heights and defeat Lefevre and if Len could down Letenour, and then Hughes and Wheatley could win tomorrow...

But Clark did not defeat Lefevre. The match was over in an hour and ten minutes. France had drawn first blood. Lefevre was victorious 6-4, 6-3, 6-8, 6-3.

The racquet was light and airy in Len's hand as he walked from the clubhouse. He was conscious of his white flannel coat with its red, white and blue shield. It inspired a certain ease, a confidence. He could tell from the way he was hitting the ball warming up that the tall, well-built Letenour would have one hell of a job trying to beat him this afternoon.

At last they were ready. Stands and linesmen perched forward in their chairs. Then the high singing voice of the referee speaking,

French. But Len knew what he was saying: "Second match in the Davis Cup Singles. Final Round. United States versus France. Mr. Rollins versus Mr. Letenour. Linesmen ready! Players ready!"

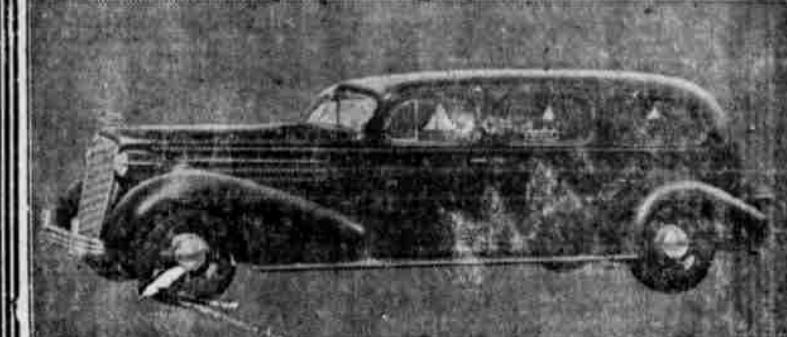

Len nodded slightly. Letenour made no motion.

"Play!"

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently.

Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all-vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

That's the ingredient which enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to help tone lazy bowel muscles. It is the main reason for the satisfying relief from constipation that generally follows next morning when BLACK-DRAUGHT is taken at bedtime. The millions of packages used are proof of its merit.

Light Vote Is Forecast For Run-off

Texas voters, their number probably totaling about fifty percent of the vote cast in the July 29 primary, will go to the polls Saturday, August 24, to cast their ballots in the run-off election.

In Lamb county especially, is interest in the run-off at a low stage.

Run-offs in this county are scheduled in only two precinct races. Little interest is being shown in the state run-offs for railroad commissioner, chief justice of the Supreme Court, and state representative.

The precinct races are for Justice of the Peace, in which Willis Holder opposes Sam Farquhar, and Constable, which finds L. A. Ratliff opposing Troy Howton.

Other races on the ballot and the candidates are:

Railroad commissioner — Olin

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court — James P. Alexander and H. S. Lattimore.

Representative 120th District —
L. G. Mathews and Tom W. Deen.

More Than 4,000 Cans Filled At County Cannery

Perhaps the busiest place in Lamb county is the County Cannery, where more than 4,000 cans of beans, peas and corn have been canned the past two weeks.

Located south of the Littlefield
City Hall, rural families are rapidly canning foods for cellars and pantries for use during the winter months.

Mrs. J. D. Dolgen is supervisor of the cannery, and she reported that many local people, who do not have gardens, are assisting at the cannery for a share of the canned goods.

In a few weeks turnip greens and pumpkins, as well as sweet potatoes, will probably be the chief foods canned.

Last Rites Held For Victim Of Car Accident

Darrell Rodgers, 15,
Dies From Injuries
Received August 10.

Last rites for Raymond Darrell Rodgers, 15-year-old Enochs youth, who died in a local hospital
Saturday night of injuries suffered August 10, were read by Reverend Richards in the Bula Baptist Church Monday. Burial was at the Littlefield cemetery with the Hammons Funeral Home directing.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W.
Rodgers, the youth died of internal injuries suffered in a car accident near his home.

He and a brother, Clyde, 18, had started in the family car to a mailbox. Clyde was driving when the car hit loose dirt, swerved from the road and overturned. The injured youth was brought immediately to a hospital here.

He was born March 8, 1925 in Lubbock County.

Besides his parents, the youth is survived by a sister, Venita; and three brothers, Clyde, John Edward and Doyle Rodgers.

The world's population has increased nearly five-fold in the last three centuries between 1630 and 1930, but the birthrate in the United States has declined sharply in the past 50 years.

National Farm Loan To Elect Officers At Sept. 7 Meeting

Annual Session To Be Held At Littlefield
High School Auditorium

Another milestone in the progress of the Littlefield National Farm Loan Association will be passed September 7 when the members get together for the 1940 annual meeting of the association. The meeting will be held at the Littlefield High School auditorium at 2 o'clock, according to J. S. Hilliard, secretary-treasurer.

Organized in 1917, the association has made 804 Federal Land Bank loans for more than $2,250,-
000. In addition, 803 Land Bank Commissioner loans amounting to approximately $1,350,000 have been made.

In addition to important reports, election of directors, and other business matters scheduled for the meeting, Mr. Hilliard said, there will be an excellent entertainment program, featured by an address by Vernon F. Jones, county agent and one by Mrs. Perry, county home demonstration agent, and others.

Many Sheep Will Be Fed In Lamb County

Between 10,000 and 15,000 sheep will be fed out this fall and winter within a radius of 15 miles of Littlefield, Pat Boone, well known rancher and feeder, believes.

"Feed crops in Lamb county," he said, "are the best I have ever seen." Farmers are already talking feeding plans and are making investigation of cattle prices, etc.

"There will be lots of cattle fed," Boone added. "Nearly every farmer I know with a good supply of feed plans to have some steers this fall."

August rains have brought the feed crop out in good shape. Late feed was not as badly burned as in some sections, because of summer rains. August rains have "made" the crop, he said. Heading is under way all over the county.

Present Project Will Be Extended Throughout 1941

Application For WPA Appropriation To Be Made
Soon, Mayor Says; Meanwhile Work Progresses
On Original 56 Blocks Of City Paving

A request for additional funds to extend Littlefield's street paving project and assure employment for more than a hundred men throughout 1941 will be submitted to the Works Projects Administration within the next few weeks, Mayor Homer Hall said Tuesday.

The original project, sponsored by the City of Littlefield, called for the paving of 56 blocks. An extension of the project would take in probably as many more blocks, Mayor Hall pointed out.

Fifteen of the 56 blocks included in the paving project have been completed. Curbing and gutters have been constructed on 12 more, and preliminary work has been completed on an additional 25 blocks. Contracts with property owners are lacking on only four of the 56 blocks contained in the project, according to the mayor.

Workmen Tuesday were busy on First Street in front of the school building. Construction is being rushed on this section of the street in order to complete the paving before the opening of school September 2.

The 15 blocks already paved are on West Seventh Street, Phelps Avenue, a street continuing south from First Baptist Church, a street connecting with the Duggan addition and a street in the Duggan addition.

Under provisions of the contract,
the city bears the cost of supervision and maintenance. The W. P. A. provides the labor, and materials are paid for by cooperating property owners.

Type of the paving is an eight-inch caliche base and premixed rock and asphalt surfacing.

"This type of paving," said Mayor Hall Tuesday, "was thoroughly investigated by city officials before being chosen for our project.
Our investigation showed that it had stood up splendidly in other cities in this area."

The mayor said WPA officials had indicated the city's request for additional funds with which to extend the paving project would meet with speedy approval.

Mrs. C. O. Griffin Suffers Injuries From Burns Sunday

Mrs. C. O. Griffin narrowly escaped serious injury about 12 o'clock Sunday morning when she struck a match, preparing to light the oven on a gas range, and gas ignited, burning her face and neck and her right hand.

Gas had been turned on in the oven for about two hours, but not knowing this, Mrs. Griffin struck the match. The walls in the kitchen were not damaged, but sheetrock fell in the room adjoining the kitchen.

Burns on Mrs. Griffin's face and neck were not so serious, but it will be sometime before she will be able to use her hand to any great extent.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin and daughters, Ruth and Evelyn, reside one and one-half miles north of Littlefield, on highway 51.

Checking Compliance On Farms Nears End

According to K. W. Wells, county performance supervisor, checking farms for compliance in Lamb county is nearing completion. Wednesday, August 21 was the date set by Mr. Wells to complete checking for the first time. If, by any chance, a producer has been overlooked and his farm has not been checked, please notify the AAA office at Amherst immediately.

Reporters in the field are rechecking cotton plowed up. This rechecking will be completed in a few days. It is necessary that these rechecks be made in order to determine that the producer is in full compliance.

All producers who wish to insure their 1941 wheat crop must do so immediately because of the fact that August 31 or prior to seeding wheat is the closing date for taking 1941 wheat crop insurance.
