Human beings always have been noted for observances of special days, even back to the earliest days of recorded history. Festivals, days of celebration, both religious and secular, have marked the calendar for generation upon generation.

But America's Thanksgiving Day remains unique, and fortunately it has been preserved for three centuries so well that its observance now probably is as much a part of our lives as any other special event that we acknowledge.

The symbol, of course, is the turkey, and therein lies the basic idea of the Thanksgiving observance. The pilgrims were so sincerely thankful for three things that they elected to set up the day as one of celebration and as one to demonstrate their thanks.

They were thankful first of all because they were alive. They were thankful because they could foresee enough food and other essentials to offer a good opportunity that they still would be alive a year later. They were also thankful that they were in a free land — at least it was free compared to that which they had forsaken to come to a new world.

The food was the symbol of this freedom and this sense of relative well - being. Many had perished because of famine in the new land and because they did not have enough knowledge of the natural resources to survive. Thus a bountiful meal, including virtually every type of edible plant and animal they had available, was the physical center of attraction at the first Thanksgiving, and so it is today.

But, compared to the Pilgrims, Americans have much more to be thankful for today. Our nation has enjoyed almost 200 years of independence, and although there may be disagreement over the course set by the captain, the American people still control their country's destiny. They choose their own captain and his lieutenants as well, and they give plenty of advice after the selections are made. The Pilgrims were still seeking this type of freedom when they established Thanksgiving Day. We have a lot more to be thankful for.

BLOODY BATTLE ENDS

US Takes Prize Hill

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Battle-weary U.S. paratroopers and infantrymen captured Hill 875 today as their Thanksgiving prize after nearly five days of some of the bloodiest fighting in the Vietnam war.

U.S. commanders hoped capture of the hill signaled the end of the bloody, three-week battle of Tak To in the central highlands. But two hours before the final assault, other paratroopers killed 10 North Vietnamese in a short firefight a mile and a half to the north. And less than two hours after the paratroopers reported victory, a landing zone at the northeast base of the slope came under mortar attack.

"It seems at this time," a senior U.S. officer in Saigon said, "that the North Vietnamese have pulled out but we're not going to get overconfident yet. If there's not more contact for another day, we'll know they've pulled out. But the North Vietnamese 174th Regiment still has some strength and it could resuscitate itself."

He added that the jungle terrain on Hill 875 was "very tough and the U.S. troops are moving very slowly," mopping up enemy remnants on the hill.

The hard fighting since Dec. 3 around Dak To was reflected in the weekly summary of casualties, which showed more Americans killed and wounded in combat last week than during any week since the Communist artillery siege of Con Thien last September. The estimate of North Vitnamese dead was 1,000 less than the week before, however.

The U.S. Command said 225 U.S. troops and 1,287 Communists were killed last week in combat, and 1,256 Americans wounded. An estimated one-third of the American casualties occurred at Dak To. However, the summary did not include casualties on Hill 875, where the battle began Sunday.

After nearly five days of some of the hardest fighting of the Vietnam war, Associated Press Correspondent Edwin Q. White reported from Dak To that a company from the 173rd Airborne Brigade and two companies from the 4th Infantry Division launched the assault on the last ridgeline held by the North Vietnamese at 11:30 a.m.

Twenty-five minutes later, White said, U.S. forces consolidated their positions after meeting only light resistance.

Mariner 4's Cameras On

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — After a spectacular October flyby of Venus, Mariner 5 will get a rest until next fall. But Mariner 4's cameras have been turned on again for the first time since it took photographs of Mars in 1965.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory ended the newer spacecraft's mission Wednesday by changing its transmitter from a high-powered to low-powered antenna.

It remains in solar orbit between the orbits of Venus and Mercury. Spokesmen said Mariner 5's mission could be resumed next September when its high-powered antenna will be pointed at earth again.

The spacecraft flew within 2,500 miles of Venus on Oct. 19.

Mariner 4, launched in 1964, is circling the sun between earth and Mars.

A spokesman at the laboratory said Mariner's 4's cameras will take general pictures of space to test the craft's condition after long exposure to space environment.

Identifies Polite Thug

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — The receptionist-secretary of the recently robbed Byers, Tex., bank testified Wednesday that accused holdup man Charles Sidney Maupin ordered her to lie on the floor and then asked "Where is the safe, Ma'am?"

After a preliminary hearing, a federal commission ordered Maupin, 26, bound over for arraignment and trial in the Nov. 8 robbery of the First National Bank at Byers.

None of the $34,157 taken has been recovered.

Maupin, of Poplar Bluff, Mo., was charged as leader of three men who held up the bank of the tiny West Texas town. Roy Allen Slusser, 24, of Burkburnett, Tex., also is charged and will face a federal commissioner Nov. 29 in a hearing. A third man is sought.

Mrs. Bonnie Ford, the bank's receptionist-secretary, t tified at Wednesday's hearing that the robber who asked for the safe was extremely polite the few minutes he was in the bank.

Day Of Thanks For Snyder Area

Regular business activity was at a standstill today as Snyder residents took time out to observe the Thanksgiving holiday.

Retail firms, along with offices, banks, etc., were closed for the day and school pupils were home for a long weekend.

The observance began last night for a small group who assembled at the Trinity Methodist Church for the annual Community Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance and the Snyder Jaycees.

The Rev. Vernon Hagar, pastor of Bethel Assembly of God Church, in the message of the evening, pointed out that it is good from every standpoint for man to give thanks. Basing his message on passages from Psalms, Rev. Hagar said it is good to give thanks because it is commanded in the Bible. Also, it is good to give thanks because it pleases God, and finally, it is good because it makes man himself feel better to pause and give thanks.

However, Rev. Hagar cautioned that in Thanksgiving the spiritual as well as material blessings should be remembered.

Music for the service was presented by the Trinity Methodist Choir, under direction of Mrs. Jack Patchell. The Rev. Bobby McMillan, pastor of the host church, presided. Jaycees with active roles in the service included Jimmie Johns and Max von Roeder.

TURKEY AND ALL THE FIXIN'S

Americans Pause For Thanksgiving

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON
Associated Press Writer

From peaceful village greens where church bells rang to war-torn Vietnam where GIs fought and died—from the bountiful board of the LBJ Ranch in Texas to Plymouth, Mass., where Thanksgiving began 346 years ago—Americans around the world today celebrated a holiday that 's their very own.

For many millions the day began in church—giving thanks for favors large and small.

There were turkey and all the fixings for folks at home, wounded service men in hospitals, down-and-outers in big-city shelters and even inmates of many prisons.

Divided over a faraway war, deeply disturbed by brave issues on the home front, but prosperous as never before, Americans also turned to parades, football games and other sports events to celebrate the day.

By plane, train, bus and private car, families gathered from far and wide to spend the day together. Fog delayed and canceled many flights Wednesday from airports on the Eastern Seaboard.

President and Mrs. Johnson had flown to their ranch home near Johnson City, Tex., on Tuesday night for a holiday stay with their family.

Joining them for the Thanksgiving meal were their daughters, Luci and Lynda, Luci's husband, Patrick J. Nugent, and their son, Patrick Lyndon; Lynda's fiance, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, and others in the family circle.

Mary Davis, a family cook, was preparing a meal of turkey with cornbred dressing and giblet gravy, green beans amandine, sweet potatoes with marshmallow topping, asparagus, molded cranberry salad, ambrosia, angel food cake, fruit cake and coffee.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widowed four years ago Wednesday, took her children, Caroline and John, from their New York City home to Newport R.I., to spend the holiday and weekend with her mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife Mamie were at their farm home near Gettysburg, Pa., to have dinner with their son John, daughter-in law Barbara and the four grandchildren.

For American servicemen and women around the world, Uncle Sam provided 2.72 million pounds of turkey, 765,000 pounds of potatoes, 340,000 pounds of cranberry sauce, 306,000 pounds of pumpkin and lots more holiday chow.

WAR FEARS GROW

Trouble Shooters Rush To Turkey

By NICK LUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — President Johnson and U.N. Secretary General U Thant rushed special envoys to Turkey today as fears of a Turkish-Greek war over Cyprus increased.

Turkey announced early today it was turning down a Greek proposal for further talks. The Turkish government reaffirmed its determination to ensure the security of the Turkish Cypriot minority on the island 40 miles off the Turkish coast, increasing speculation that the Turks were on the verge of landing troops on Cyprus.

President Johnson, who intervened when war on Cyprus appeared imminent in 1964, responded to the new threat by sending former Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance to Ankara with orders to proceed from there to Athens. Vance, now a New York attorney, served Johnson as a troubleshooter in last summer's Detroit riots.

Diplomatic sources said they believed it unlikely that Turkey would attempt any military action against Greece, like it a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, before Vance's arrival.

Also heading for the Turkish capital and then Athens was U Thant's special emissary, Jose Rolz-Bennett of Guatemala, a U.N. undersecretary for political affairs.

The new crisis, part of a centuries-long history of strife between Greeks and Turks on Cyprus, developed after a battle last week in which 25 Turkish Cypriots and two Greek Cypriots were killed.

About 80 per cent of the island's 600,000 inhabitants are Greek Orthodox, the rest Turkish Moslems. The two communities have been in a state of armed truce since a U.N. peace force ended civil war in 1964 that followed the Greek Cypriot majority's revocation of special rights given the Turkish minority.

Following the battle last week, the Turkish government charged that Greece had landed troops on Cyprus in addition to those it is allowed by the Cyprus independence agreement. The Turks said they would send troops to the island if Greek forces were not withdrawn.

Greece denied she had sent more troops to Cyprus and proposed talks to work out measures to calm the tension and a joint study of ways to ensure the security of the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities.

The Turkish Cabinet, following a hard line born of Turkey's superior military position and political tension in Greece since the military coup there, announced after a six-hour meeting it would not wait for more talks.

G. Huffman Dies Here Unexpectedly

Glenn Wesley Huffman, 59, who lived at 3741 Sunset, died at 11:40 p.m. Wednesday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital, a few hours after he was stricken with a sudden illness.

The funeral service had not been set this morning, but will be announced from Bolger Funeral Home. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bolger.

London's Gold Fever Grows

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — London's great gold rush became even more feverish today in the wake of devaluation of the pound.

The seven nations still in the international gold pool were again forced to dig into their reserves to supply metal for another record buying spree on the London exchange nearly 30 points below Wednesday's close at $2.4170. But it quickly moved up to $2.4190. Dealers said the move was expected.

Britain's Labor government rode out a censure vote Wednesday night on its devaluation of the pound. Political commentators continued to predict that Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, the man who takes responsibility for the move, will be transferred to another job.

Callaghan, a breezy 55-year-old Irishman, for months has wanted to quit the onerous Treasury post.

Amid the hue and cry after the pound was cut from $2.80 to $2.40, it seemed at first that he might succeed Foreign Secretary George Brown. But Callaghan's frank, incisive handling of critics of devaluation in the House of Commons won him new respect. Some political writers even pointed to him as a possible successor to Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Wilson's government easily beat back a Conservative censure motion in Commons. The vote, along straight party lines, was 335-258. Only one Laborite broke ranks and abstained.

A rush on gold following devaluation was intensified by France's decision to pull out of the international pool pegging the price. This forced the U.S. government to sell gold heavily to foreign buyers to keep the price from rising above $35 a fine ounce, since a rise would devalue the dollar.

Tax Hike Faces More Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposed income tax boost, long mired in a hostile House committee, appears to face potentially tough opposition on the other side of Capitol Hill.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee said Wednesday he doubts a tax hike now would be a "good thing for the country."

Long's opposite number in the House, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, has refused to take up the tax hike measure until the administration offers major spending cuts.

But Long indicated he favored putting the proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge to a vote of both houses.

Long, in a radio interview for Louisiana stations, said Wednesday of the tax proposal. "It's not popular and, frankly, with four per cent of the people in this country out of work, I doubt that it's a good thing for the country."

Earlier in the day Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler said the administration will offer Congress a package of tax increases and spending cuts that would slice about $11 billion out of a potential $29 billion federal deficit this year.

Fowler, in a letter to Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said the proposals would be unveiled when Mills' Ways and Means panel opens tax hearings next Wednesday.

In other congressional action before the Senate and House embarked on a thanksgiving recess that will keep them out of session until Monday:

—The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill that would make it unlawful to coerce or attempt to coerce servicemen into buying government bonds or contributing to charities.

—The House Banking Committee voted 17 to 14 against requiring stores offering revolving credit plans to disclose the finance charge in terms of annual interest. The action removed a major difference between the committee version of an interest disclosure bill and a measure already passed by the Senate.

SOCIAL SECURITY HIKES

Measure May Face Battle

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic sponsors of the Senate Social Security bill that proposes record cash benefit boosts anticipate a tough conference with the House in the effort to work out a final version.

Some experts on the legislation believe differences between the two versions are so serious and numerous that a final agreement may have to wait until the next session of Congress, which starts in January.

But Democratic leaders say they are determined to get the far-ranging bill to President Johnson's desk before Congress quits this year.

The measure cleared the Senate Wednesday by an overwhelming 78-6 vote after six days of floor debate.

But a few senators, including Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, said they voted for it with the expectation and hope that the final product would be much closer to the House version.

The Senate made more than 100 substantive changes in the House bill passed last August. But the strongest disagreement with the House is expected to center in two areas:

—The much higher Social Security benefit and tax levels approved by the Senate.

—Senate softening proposed House restrictions on the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program.

The Senate measure goes along with the benefit levels —including a $70 monthly minimum, up 59 per cent from the present $44, and a 15 per cent general increase for others now on the rolls.

Tied in with this is an eventual $10,800 taxable wage base, a big jump from the present $6,600. This $10,800 base would go toward financing greatly increased benefits proposed for those retiring many years in the future.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and his House Ways and Means Committee rejected the administration-backed levels after six months of close consideration earlier this session.

Mills won House approval of a bill containing a 12½ per cent general increase with a $50 minimum monthly payment and a $7,600 wage base.

But Democratic backers of th. Senate bill contend the benefits it contains are the lowest possible if many old persons are to be lifted out of poverty and given meaningful retirement payments.

Mills inserted toughened welfare provisions into the bill in his committee after voicing alarm about the big increase in the number of AFDC recipients.

He said he believed it was necessary to put features into the program compelling many of these persons to take work training or jobs and become self-supporting.

The Senate version also has a broad work incentive program ut the strong provisions for forcing work upon welfare recipients contained in the House measure have been removed.

Mills is expected to stand fast in the conference for his own handiwork.

Sinatra, Bride Plan Separation

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "A trial separation has been mutually agreed upon."

The bare announcement signaled a rift in the 16-month marriage of Frank Sinatra, 51, and Mia Farrow, 22, and touched off speculation over reasons for the break.

The news was released Wednesday by James Mahoney, publicity agent for the two stars. He said neither of the Sinatras had comment.

The twice-divorced Sinatra married the young star of television's "Peyton Place" on July 19, 1966, in Las Vegas, Nev. Their jobs often kept them apart, as she made a film in England with Lawrence Harvey and he continued his far-flung activities in the show world.

But the pair appeared to be in accord during the times they were together. A few weeks ago she was much in evidence as the singer taped his latest television special.

Earlier this week, the Sinatras held a small farewell party for Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton who visited here briefly.

Friends indicated problems between Sinatra and his young wife were aggravated by troubles concerning their current films. Miss Farrow has been starring in "Rosemary's Baby," and the film, directed by Polish Roman Polanski, lagged behind schedule. She had been slated to join her husband in filming New York locations of "The Detective."

Sinatra, who likes to make his films rapidly, became irritated because his wife was unable to join him in New York. Angry telephone calls were reported between Sinatra and officials of Paramount Pictures, which is producing "Rosemary's Baby."

The studio refused to release Miss Farrow for her appearance in "The Detective" and the cast and crew of the Sinatra film returned to Hollywood where production was suspended pending Miss Farrow's appearance.

Insiders predicted that Miss Farrow will be replaced in "The Detectie."

The romance of Sinatra and Miss Farrow, 29 years his junior, caused a sensation when it was first disclosed. She is the Hollywood-born daughter of Tarzan's costar, Maureen O'Sullivan, and her late husband, director John Farrow.

Sinatra previously was married to Nancy Sinatra, mother of his three children—one of them older than Mia— and actress Ava Gardner.

Hill May Seek Post

AUSTIN (AP) — Secretary of State John Hill says that if his support "continues to crystalize" he will run for governor next year.

This includes "money, votes, promises of work, encouragement, everything one analyzes to determine whether he can properly present his case to the public."

Hill said his political philosophy is close to that of Gov. John Connally, who appointed him to his present office in March 1966 and who opened the door to a free for all governor's race by declining to run for re-election.

"I generally subscribe to the progressive approach he has taken to the problems of this state," Hill said. He said he has not asked Connally to support him.

Mexico Bus Crash Kills 11 Persons

RIO BRAVO, Mexico (AP) — Police reported a highway crash involving a bus, a trailer-truck and a car killed 11 persons and injured 14 others seriously Wednesday night.

The accident happened south of the border city of Reynosa on Highway 105.

One of the dead was identified as an American, Homer C. Pompa of Harlingen, Tex.

Highway patrolmen said the bus veered onto the wrong side of the road and crashed head-on with the truck. A light car plowed into the wreckage seconds later.

The bus was operating on a route linking Cadereyta, Reynosa and Monterrey.

Bond Denied For Suspect

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas judge Wednesday denied bond for a 34-year-old woman and 21-year-old man charged with murdering construction foreman Joe C. Williams of Dallas.

Dist. Judge John Mead's decision ended a two-day habeas corpus hearing on behalf of Mrs. Barbara Hart and Willard Jobe, both of Dallas. They were returned to jail. Lawyers for the pair said they would appeal to the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Mrs. Hart, married and the mother of two, and Jobe are charged with slaying Williams in Dallas and transporting his body to suburban Plano, where it was found Nov. 4.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Alexander said he would seek the death penalty. Alexander argued that Mrs. Hart set up the 56-year-old Williams for the robbery-slaying by arranging in Kansas City for them to meet in Dallas.

Charles Tessmer, lawyer for the attractive Mrs. Hart, argued that her alleged statement to police indicated she was not an active participant in the shooting. She and Jobe were arrested in Denver, Colo., after the slaying.

KC Picture Clearing Up

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Five applicants for the American League baseball franchise in Kansas City have been cleared by a special board of review of the Jackson County Sports Authority.

The major league baseball franchise was left vacant when owner Charles O. Finley transferred the Athletics to Oakland, Calif., following last season.

All five applicants probably will be interviewed next week by an American League committee in Mexico City, where baseball officials will be attending an international baseball meeting.

The applicants are Kansas City business men and industrialists, bankers or investors.

Miss Oliver Finally Gets A Child

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Audrey Oliver brushed imaginary lint from the shirt of her two-piece yellow suit. Her dark eyes scanned the reception room.

Her fidgeting ceased when a 6-month-old girl entered the room in the arms of a woman. Miss Oliver's arms went out, and she placed the infant on her lap.

There were no words—but it was love at sight.

Miss Oliver, 29, a financial clerk at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Wednesday became the first single woman to adopt a child from the Childrens' Bureau of Indianapolis.

For Miss Oliver, who beamed with pride as she straightened the infant's dress, it marked the end of a long struggle.

She had tried with three other agencies in Indiana to adopt a child but was told she had to be married. She took her case to the childrens' bureau and after careful screening, Miss Oliver was allowed to adopt the child.

"The childrens' bureau believes in the right of every child to have a home of his own," said James J. Mallon, executive director of the agency.

"If the only alternative is having no parents in his lifetime, then we feel that the child will be better off if he or she can be loved and cared for by a single person."

He said love is the yardstick when placing a child, along with job security and family environment.

"She's mine," Miss Oliver whispered as she held the baby. "I'm going to call her Candy."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oliver, Audrey's brother and his wife, cooed and teased the new member of the family.

Audrey lives with another single girl. She dates and says she's in no rush to marry.

Other states such as Oregon and California have similar programs of allowing single women to adopt children.

NEW YORK (AP) — Anti war forces said Tuesday they will hold demonstrations Dec. 6-8 at the University of Texas' Austin campus in part of a series of "Stop the Draft Week" demonstrations on the 26th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago I got a girl friend of mine a date with an eligible bachelor! After he took her out once he told me he thought she was "charming." Naturally, I wanted to make her feel good, so I told her what he said and I built it up a little. After the second date he told me he found her to be extremely agressive, possessive, and very eager to get married. He also said that she has lots of problems, which he doesn't need right now. He hasn't called her back and I'm sure he doesn't intend to.

My girl friend keeps asking me why he doesn't call her. What can I tell her to get her off my neck? I could say he thinks she is a little too young for him. Or that I think he has somebody else. Or maybe I should tell her what he REALLY said about her so she won't be so forward with other men and scare them off like she did this one.

THE FIXER

DEAR FIXER: Don't tell her anything. She is obviously the type who comes on very strong, and any eligible man who dates her gets her message loud and clear.

You won't change her personality, even with a well - intended tip. And chances are she will quote you, and you'll lose the man's friendship. Maybe not, but that's usually the way it works out.

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my best friend. I am married and have a 13-month-old daughter. This friend, who is also married, invited my husband and me to her home last evening. We took our daughter, Angela, along and had a very nice time just talking. There were other guests, too.

My friend called me this morning, very upset. She said that Angela had taken an ashtray and banged it against her brand-new cedar chest, and the chest was ruined. I didn't notice Angela doing this, and neither did my husband. My friend said SHE noticed it but didn't want to say anything in front of the other guests.

I told her I was very sorry and even offered to pay to have the cedar chest repaired, but she said it couldn't be repaired. Now what should I do? I apologized and said I'd never bring my child to her home again, but she still wasn't satisfied. What more can I do? I hate to lose her friendship.

ANGELA'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your "friend" is obviously angling for a new cedar chest at your expense. If you feel that obligated, offer to buy her one. Whether your "friendship" survives this episode is doubtful. If not, the loss will not be great.

DEAR ABBY: The father who advised his son (in Viet Nam) to marry his girl as soon as he kissed her hello in Hawai, deserves applause.

We only wish we had given our son that advice. His girl met him in Hawai, too, and you know they didn't play gin rummy all night.

They had a hurry-up wedding later (much later), and altho they are very happy, and we are, too, now, they could have spared her parents, and us, a lot of embarrassment had they postponed their honeymoon until after the marriage.

By the way, she had been taking the pill. The result: TWINS!

Stolen Car Is Found

The 1960 Model Chevrolet stolen Tuesday night from in front of Snyder Lanes, 1910 Thirty - fifth Street, was recovered about four miles west of town early this morning.

City Police said three youths reported spotting the vehicle about 250 yards northeast of the Harvey Krop residence near Thirty - seventh Street shortly prior to 4 o'clock this morning.

Officers checked and discovered the thieves who stole the car also took the generator, starter, carburetor, battery and a spare tire and wheel before abandoning the vehicle.

Police Sergeant H. E Woolsey investigated the incident.

FFA Teams Place High

Three Snyder Future Farmers of America teams placed high in the Area II FFA leadership contests held over the weekend at Big Spring.

The Quiz Team carried away first place. It is composed of Dale Harrington, Jimmy Salmon, Max May and David McComas. The team will represent Area II in the State Leadership Contest to be held later in the year at Huntsville.

The Junior Chapter Conducting Team from Snyder placed second. Its members are Mike Dyess, Max Rainwater, Robby Roe, Gary Smith, Billy Evans and Morgan West.

The Senior Chapter Conducting Team placed third. It is composed of Arlie Eicke, Steve Chambers, Ted Floyd, Rusty Wilson and Dennis Blythe.

The Quiz and Junior Chapter Conducting teams are coached by Floyd Collins, and the Senior Chapter Conducting Team is coached by W. R. McMullan.

Knife For Holub?

GOBBLE, GOBBLE, GOBBLE — Folks will gobble up Homestead Turkey Pie with a rich pastry crust made from frozen patty shells. Try this with your leftover holiday turkey.

WOMEN

Homestead Turkey Pie

Sometimes families are hard-pressed to decide whether turkey is best the first or second time around.

The sandwiches, salads and casseroles possible are almost endless. One of the old - time favorites is turkey pot pie, filling the air as it does with that welcome something's - in - the - oven aroma.

The recipe given below is unique in that it uses rich, flaky patty shell dough for the crust. Either canned, frozen or freshly cooked vegetables may be used. The cream sauce made with chicken broth soup is easy. Just remember in rolling out the frozen patty shells that they should be thawed about 45 minutes but remain cool to the touch. Roll to a quarter inch thickness. In baking, the puff pastry will be bubbly and rise about an inch high.

How long has it been since you've given your family the pleasure of turkey pie made "from scratch?" Try it after one of the holidays. You'll be glad you did.

Homestead Turkey Pie ...

1 pkg. frozen patty shells
2 tablespoons minced onions
¼ cup butter or margarine
5 tablespoons flour
1-10½ oz. can condensed chicken broth soup
½ cup light cream
2 cups turkey, cut into chunks
12 small white onions, cooked
1 cup diced potatoes, cooked
1-10 oz. pkg. frozen peas and carrots, cooked
1 tablespoon minced parsley
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Remove 3 or 4 patty shells from package and allow to thaw at room temperature 45 minutes. They will be soft but cold to the touch.

Preheat oven to 450 degrees F. On top of stove, saute onion in butter just until soft. Add fluor, stiring to make a smooth paste and simmer slowly two minutes to thoroughly cook flour. Pour chicken broth into measuring cup and add enough water to equal two cups. Stir into roux (butter - flour mixture) and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth, Stir in cream. Add turkey, vegetables and seasonings. Pour into buttered 1¾ qt. casserole.

Place 3 patty shells in triangular position on floured bread board. Lightly roll into circle (¼" to ½" thick) to fit top of round casserole dish. If rectangular casserole is used place 4 thawed patty shells together in a square, and lightly roll into a rectangular shape to fit top of dish. Place crust on top of casserole and press gently around sides of dish.

Place casserole in oven; immediately reduce temperature to 400 degrees F. ake 20 to 25 to 400 degrees F. Bake 20 to 25 minutes, until crust is puffed and golden brown. Yield: 6 servings.

Notes:

1. If turkey pie filing is not ready to be topped with crust after 45 minutes of thawing time, roll patty shells as directed and place crust in refrigerator until needed. The dough should be kept cold to produce a flaky, puffed crust.

2. Unused frozen patty shells should be wrapped tightly and returned to freezer.

Corn Crackers

½ cup sifted regular flour.
¼ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup enriched white cornmeal
¼ cup buttermilk
3 tablespoons salad (not olive) oil

Into a bowl, sift together the flour, soda, salt and cornmeal. Add buttermilk and salad oil, stirring only until mixture is dampened — it will be crumbly; with hands, form into a ball. Divide dough in half. Wrap in plastic wrap and let stand about 10 minutes to make dough easier to handle. Roll out on prepared pastry cloth until paper-thin. Don't worry about oil seeping out onto cloth. Cut with floured 2-inch round cutter; place, an inch apart, on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a 400-degree oven until lightly browned — 5 to 7 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen.

Delicious Green Beans

2 large yellow Delicious apples
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 pound snap beans, cooked

Pare and core apples; cut each into 8 wedges; cut each wedge into 3 lengthwise slices. In a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat, heat the butter; add apples; turn in the butter; cover tightly and steam (shaking skillet several times) for about 3 minutes. Turn apples over and steam again (shaking several times) for 3 minutes or until just cooked through. Gently mix sugar and lemon juice with apples, mix in beans. Reheat gently. Makes 6 servings.

Note: To prepare beans, tip and scrub; leave whole; boil, covered, in 1 cup boiling water with 1¼ teaspoons salt until tender-crisp — 12 to 15 minutes; drain. Lift cover from beans a few times during cooking to keep them green.

Cranberry Compote

2 cups cranberries
1 large apple, pared and diced in ¼-inch cubes (1½ cups)
1 medium orange, peeled and diced in ½-inch cubes
1 cup sugar
¼ cup water

In a medium saucepan over moderately low heat stir together all the ingredients until sugar dissolves; bring to simmering. Cover and simmer for 5 minutes. (Cranberries should stay whole.) Cool, cover and chill. Makes about 3 cups. Serve as turkey accompaniment.

Sliced green onions, carrots and mushrooms make an excellent stuffing for fish that is to be baked. Nice for weight - watchers!

Butterscotch Pecans

¾ cup sugar
¼ cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons light cream
1 tablespoon water
2 tablespoons butter
1½ cups (6 ounce can) pecans, broken

In a medium saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup, cream and water. Over medium heat bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, to 260 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water forms a ball that is hard enough to hold its shape, yet plastic. Add butter. Continue cooking, stirring constantly, to 280 degrees on candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture tested in cold water separates into threads that are hard but not brittle. Stir in pecans, coating evenly. At once spread out on a buttered cookie sheet. When cold, break apart. Makes about 1 pound.

Roy Pages To Be Honored Here Sunday

JayceeEttes Make Plans

The JayceeEttes met recently at the Scurry County Boys Club for a regular monthly meeting.

Judy Massey presided with five members present. A guest, Linda McFarland was welcomed.

The group was urged to view the window decorated for Thanksgiving by the JayceeEttes in the old Glover Store on the southside of the square.

Plans were made to decorate a downtown window for Christmas. Since there will be no December meeting it was decided to make Christmas donations to the Humble - Smith School, Goodfellows, and to the Big Spring State Hospital.

Following the meeting supper and games were enjoyed by Jaycees and wives.

Coffeecake Roll

¼ cup milk, scalded
¼ cup butter, soft
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup warm water
1 package active dry yeast
1 egg, beaten until thick
2¼ cups (about) unsifted regular flour
Walnut Filling (see below)

Into the scalded milk, off heat, stir the butter, sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. In a large mixing bowl, dissolve the yeast in the water; stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg and 1 cup of the flour; beat until smooth. With a spoon, then your hand, work in enough more flour to have dough come away from sides of bowl. Cover bowl tightly with transparent plastic wrap. Let rise in warm place until doubled — about 1 hour. Punch down. Turn out on prepared pastry cloth; roll out to a 14 by 10 inch rectangle. Spread with Walnut Filling; roll up tightly; seal edge well by pinching to dough; seal ends by folding over several times and pinching. Place seam side down on buttered cookie sheet and let rise in warm place until doubled — about 30 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees until brown —about 45 minutes.

Walnut Filling: In a 1-quart saucepan mix together ½ cup finely grated walnuts, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, grated rind of 1 orange (2 teaspoons) and ¾ cup milk. Boil gently for 10 minutes, stirring often; continue boiling, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes or until mixture is reduced to about ¾ cup. Cool before using.

Nixon To Rely On Personality

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richard M. Nixon says that if he seeks the presidency next year he will present his own personality for judgment by the people—not an artificial one.

"I'm not going to take any speech lessons; I'm not hiring any high-powered public relations firms," Nixon told a newsman Wednesday night. "When a man is constrained or artificial, he doesn't get through."

Nixon's comments followed an appearance on NBC's "Tonight" show where he told host Johnny Carson that his faulty makeup for the televised Kennedy-Nixon debates was a big factor in his 1960 loss to John F. Kennedy.

Nixon, already tagged as first choice for the Republican presidential nomination by delegates to the 1964 convention who responded to a recent Associated Press poll, got more good news, CBS reported its survey showed he is practically a cinch for the nomination if he wins the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries. And when Carson asked his audience to indicate whether they would vote for him, the applause meter was driven to its limit.

As for that make-up problem: Roy Voege, makeup man for the "Tonight" show, revealed he probably will join Nixon's staff. A Nixon aide said Voege appears to know how to erase the five o'clock shadow which Nixon seems to have on television.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who has announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination, also discussed his public image, telling a news conference in Lansing that news reports of his Vietnam statements have been on a "piecemeal approach."

Romney said this sometimes makes him appear to be inconsistent on the war issue when, in fact, "if anybody takes the time to go back over what I've said, they'll find a very consistent position."

Romney also said he has received excellent cooperation from the State and Defense departments in planning a near four-week trip that will take him next month to Europe, Asia and the Middle East. Among those he hopes to see, he said, are top leaders of the Soviet Union.

In Los Angeles, the district attorney's office said it was probing reports that supporters of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace for president have offered illegal financial bonuses for registering for Wallace. He is campaigning in northern California in hopes of securing 66,059 registrations required to put his name on the state's presidential ballot. Wallace says he has 20,000 to 25,000 so far.

The district attorney's office said a registration official was approached by an unidentified member of Wallace's organization and offered a bonus over the 20 cents per signature paid by the county. Wallace said he hadn't heard of the allegation.

A footnote to the local elections of two weeks ago: Republican Joseph Radigan, a white businessman, said he won't contest results of the Gary, Ind., city election in which he lost to Negro Democrat Richard G. Hatcher. The final count was 39,812 for Hatcher; 37,947 for Radigan.

Campaign Manager Named For Reavley

AUSTIN (AP) — Clint Small Jr., Austin lawyer, will manage Dist. Judge Tom Reavley's campaign for associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court, Reavley announced Wednesday.

Small is past president of the State Bar of Texas and captained the 1936 University of Texas football team.

The first big league baseball pitcher to wear glasses was Bill White of the Boston Braves in 1877.

Birth Defects Laid To LSD

BOSTON (AP)—University of Iowa pediatricians say they have encountered the first documented case of a baby born with birth defects because her mother had taken the hallucinatory drug LSD during pregnancy.

The baby girl, born in Iowa last summer, has a severely deformed right leg.

Her 21-year-old mother took enough LSD at four times during pregnancy to have hallucinations, "to go on a trip," the pediatricians say.

The report by Dr. Hans Zellweger, a professor of pediatrics, and his associates is published in the current issue of a British medical journal The Lancet, printed and distributed simultaneously in London and Boston.

They said they are certain that LSD caused the defects in the baby because there is no evidence of birth defects in the families of father or mother, both parents were healthy, and the mother had taken no drug except LSD during her pregnancy.

They also said that in both the mother and the father laboratory analysis revealed breaks in their chromosomes, tiny cell structures which carry the genes, or hereditary units.

Medical literature recently has contained several reports by investigators who found chromosome breaks among LSD users and said evidence indicated that the defects could be transmitted to offspring, but none reported an actual case.

The right leg of the baby girl born in Iowa is shorter than her left, and is attached to her hip at an odd angle. Her right foot also is short and has only three toes.

Zellweger's report did not indicate that all women who have chromosome breaks as a result of taking LSD will have deformed children, but said LSD taken during pregnancy definitely may cause birth defects.

Registration Challenged

HOUSTON (AP) — Dr. George Oser is campaigning today for the runoff election in the Houston school board race but it had not been determined if his name will appear on the ballot.

Harris County Tax Assessor-collector Carl Smith said Wednesday he had cancelled Oser's voter registration certificate.

Oser, who ran second to incumbent Mrs. H.W. Cullen, contends he is a qualified voter. Being a qualified voter is a prerequisite to holding an office on the school board.

Oser's qualifications had been challenged because he registered as a voter after the registration period closed.

The First Court of Civil Appeals ruled it doesn't have jurisdiction to order the school board to place Oser's name on the ballot for the Dec. 5 runoff election.

Oser had sought the ruling, fearing the board might leave his name off because his eligibility had been challenged.

The school board has not drawn up the runoff ballot, pending a canvass of last Saturday's vote.

Body In Pasture

BAIRD, Tex. (AP) — George Howard Bartlett was shot to death and left in a pasture, an autopsy Wednesday revealed. The report said Bartlett, 62, of St. Louis, Mo., had been dead about 10 days when found on the Caldwell Ranch southeastern Callahan County.

Eagle Fans Flying High

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Unhappy football supporters of undefeated North Texas State plan to bombard sports editors in Houston and El Paso with telegrams asking why the Eagles are being overlooked as a possible team for the Bluebonnet or Sun Bowls.

The Denton Record-Chronicle reported today that Tom Hall, Denton salesman, is contacting Denton firms to get them to cooperate in the telegram campaign.

North Texas, with only a tie to mar an otherwise perfect record, won the Missouri Valley Conference title and ends its regular season at Memphis State Saturday.

Colorado of the Big Eight Conference, with a 7-2 record, has been selected as one team for the Dec. 23 Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston.

The Sun Bowl at El Paso has picked Mississippi of the Southeastern Confernce, with a 4-3-1 record, for one team in its Jan. 1 game.

Each bowl has one more opponent to name, and North Texas has not been mentioned as under consideration. The Bluebonnet is known to favor a Southwest Conference team.

AT COLORADO CITY

Roundballers Open Slate Monday Night

The Snyder Tigers open the basketball campaign Monday at Colorado City, Tipoff in the "B" game is set for 6:15 p.m., followed by the varsity clash.

Coach Ned Underwood has lined up a 20-game, three tournament slate for the Bengals this season. With five senior lettermen, the Tigers should be strong enough to challenge Lamesa, Levelland and Lubbock Dunbar for the 3-AAA crown.

The first home game will be next Tuesday with Andrews providing the competition. The three tournaments are at Irving (Dec. 1-2), Canyon Reef here (Dec. 8-9), and at Fort Stockton (Dec. 15-16).

District play opens Jan. 2 at Lake View. The eight district teams — Snyder, Dunbar, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Brownfield, Sweetwater and Lake View — again will play a double round robin schedule.

Currently 10 candidates are being carried on the varsity roster. They include senior letter-men Tommy Bullard, Mickey Almond, Frankie Grimmett, Drake Snyder and Gus Tovar. Juniors Jerry January, Mitch Rambin, Benny Ward and Jodi Williamson round out the squad along with sophomore Jim Patrick.

Patrick, the only soph on the varsity, also is the tallest Tiger with 6-2 height.

The schedule:

Nov. 27 — At Colorado City.
Nov. 28 — Andrews.
Dec. 1, 2 — Irving Tournament. Snyder "B" team tournament.
Dec. 5 — Seminole.
Dec. 8, 9 — Canyon Reef Tournament; Kermit "B" Team Tournament.
Dec. 11 — Colorado City.
Dec. 12 — At Andrews.
Dec. 15, 16 — Fort Stockton Tournament; "B" Tournament at Ackerly.
Dec. 19 — At Odessa Ector.
Dec. 29 — Open.
Jan. 2 — At Lake View.
Jan. 5 — Levelland.
Jan. 9 — At Littlefield.
Jan. 12 — Brownfield.
Jan. 16 — At Sweetwater.
Jan. 19 — At Dunbar.
Jan. 23 — At Lamesa.
Jan. 26 — Lake View.
Jan. 30 — At Levelland.
Feb. 2 — Liftlefield.
Feb. 6 — At Brownfield.
Feb. 9 — Sweetwater.
Feb. 13 — Dunbar.
Feb. 16 — Lamesa.

Trial Runs Set Today

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — More than 350 of America's top sports car drivers scheduled practice runs today at speeds of from 125 to 185 miles per hour in preparation for the fourth annual American Road Race of Champions at Daytona International Speedway on Saturday and Sunday.

Cars from 34 states and the District of Columbia rode into the speedway Wednesday for registration and technical inspection.

On Friday, the drivers will hold qualifying runs for starting positions in the weekend's 14 races which will determine national Sports Car Club of America championships. Seven races will be run each day over two of the speedway's difficult track-and-road circuits.

CELTICS WIN, 124-110

Russell Puts Embry In For . . . Russell

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston Celtics' Coach Bill Russell had a problem. He solved it by benching Boston Celtics' player Bill Russell.

Toward the end of the first half of the Celtics' 124-110 victory over San Diego Wednesday night, the score was tied 48-48 and Russell put Wayne Embry in for himself.

Big Wayne quickly sank a pair of free throws, added a three-point play and scored another basket, leading the Celts to a 61-52 halftime lead.

Embry came in for Russell again early in the second half and hit three more fast baskets and the Celtics led by as much as 17 points. The Rockets couldn't get back after that.

In other NBA action, Cincinnati nipped New York 123-122, Chicago beat Baltimore 105-100, and St. Louis edged Philadelphia 115-113.

In the American Basketball Association, Houston beat Denver 106-100, Dallas topped Indiana 112-111 and New Jersey shaded New Orleans 109-106.

Jerry Lucas threw in two free throws with two seconds left in the Royals' victory over the Knickerbockers. Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati with 40 points and Lucas added 31. Cazzie Russell topped the Knicks with 29.

Jerry Sloan's 35 points, plus his team's last five of the game, was the big factor in the Bulls' triumph. The Bullets, trailing by 13 points in the third quarter, pulled to within two in the final period, but Sloan clinched the victory with a late basket.

Joe Caldwell's two clutch baskets in the last 90 seconds gave St. Louis its win over Philadelphia and ended a three-game losing streak for the Western Division leaders.

Caldwell, who scored 28 points over-all, stole the ball and dunked it to put the Hawks ahead for good with about 1½ minutes left. He sewed it up for the Hawks with another two-pointer in the last minute.

The defeat dropped the 76ers two games back of first-place Boston in the Eastern Division. Hal Greer topped the 76ers with 34 points. Big Wilt Chamberlain got only 12 on four field goals and four of 11 free throws.

SWC Race Could Be Scrambled

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas and Texas A&M may settle things today so far as the Southwest Conference football championship is concerned but there still are five more games to go before the hectic campaign becomes history.

Texas A&M can sew up the title if it wins or ties Texas at College Station this afternoon. But otherwise the championship race could be turned into quite a jumble. It might be Dec. 2 before it could be unraveled.

Texas is a 1½-point favorite, which is cutting it mighty close, and which means the game can be looked upon as a toss-up. It means more to A&M because it would mean an undisputed championship and the Cotton Bowl. To Texas it would be only a tie for the title with the possibility only of making it to the Cotton Bowl.

It could, however, get Texas into some other bowl.

Texas victory would be welcome news to Texas Tech, which could also tie for the title by beating Arkansas at Little Rock Saturday. Arkansas, however, is a touchdown favorite and it might not work out anyway.

Texas Christian, which also could tie for the championship should Texas beat A&M, will host Rice Saturday. The Horned Frogs have two more games—the only member of the projected deadlocking quartet that does not close out this week.

The Frogs are seven-point favorites to whip the Owls.

Foyt Enters Second Car

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Race driver A.J. Foyt entered a surprise second car today in Sunday's Rex Mays 300 at the Riverside International Raceway, apparently as insurance to protect his 340-point lead for national honors.

Jim Hurtubise was named to handle Foyt's second car in the race of Indianapolis-type machines. Recently at Phoenix, Ariz., Foyt car hit the wall in the 98th lap of a 200-lap race. He was forced out and collected no points.

With a second car, Foyt could signal Hurtubise to the pits and take over the car himself.

Foyt's leading challenger is Mario Andretti.

Tangerine Foes Told

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Conference has completed its lineup of postseason small college football bowl games.

The University of Tennessee at Martin was named Wednesday to play West Chester, Pa., State in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 16.

And Ball State of Muncie, Ind., will oppose Eastern Kentucky in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn., Dec. 9.

Tennessee-Martin plays its final regular season game today at Clarksville, Tenn., against Austin Peay.

West Chester State is the only unbeaten team in the line-up. It has a 10-0 record. Tennessee-Martin is 8-1 going into today's game, Ball State is 7-2 and Eastern Kentucky 7-1-2.

Shorthorns Grab Crown

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The undefeated Texas Shorthorns won the Southwest Conference freshman football championship by beating winless Texas A&M 34-22 Wednesday night as Steve Worster scored twice and ran for 84 yards.

Texas averaging 40 points a game in the five-game season, built a 34-6 lead before the A&M Fish scored twice more against Shorthorn reserves in the fourth quarter.

Worster, who carried 25 times, scored on runs of four yards and one yard.

Quarterback Monty Johnson passed 31 yards to Danny Lester for one touchdown, and a 37-yard pass from reserve quarterback Eddie Phillips to Bill Zapalac accounted for another Texas score. Billy Dale scored the first Texas touchdown.

Texas A&M touchdowns came on runs by Johnny Weaver, Dave Elmendorf and Brad Norvell.

Pete Repeats Grid Pledge

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the American and National football leagues, reaffirmed Wednesday that regular season play between the leagues would begin in 1970, but that alignment of the leagues still is up in the air.

The owners of the 16 NFL teams and the 10 AFL clubs, including newly-franchised Cincinnati, meet in New York starting Tuesday to approve formal agreements implementing the merger of the leagues.

Realignment is not on the agenda, Rozelle said, but he added that the owners are almost certain to talk about it informally.

Rozelle said he hoped the two television networks (CBS and NBC) will continue to carry pro football after 1969 when the current television contracts expire. But he conceded the possibility of the leagues setting up their own networks for games.

Subs Spark Mavericks

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tony Jackson waited until the final buzzer to give New Jersey a victory in the American Basketball Association, but Jim Burns chose to wait until the sound had died away to bring in Dallas.

Jackson dropped a 28-foot three-point goal as time ran out, bringing the Americans a 109-106 victory over the New Orleans Buccaneers Wednesday night in Teaneck, N.J.

Burns also tried a jump shot at the buzzer, but he was fouled by Oliver Darden and sank two free throws after time was gone for a 112-111 triumph over Indiana at Indianapolis.

In the only other ABA contest, Houston's second team sparked the Mavericks to a 106-100 decision over Denver in Houston.

The Amerks had called time out with 14 seconds left after Doug Moe tied the game for New Orleans with a basket for the last of his 36 points.

The idea was to set up Jackson for a drive, but close guarding by Moe wasted 13½ of those seconds before Jackson could manage a jump shot for the clincher.

Jackson finished with 24 points.

Burns, a rookie guard from Northwestern, made his two free tosses after missing four of his first five tries for the night. They gave the Chaparrals their only lead of the night over the Eastern Division-leading Pacers, who led 61-52 at the half. The points also ended a three-game losing streak.

Cincy Powell led Dallas with 27 points. Roger Brown had 26 for Indiana.

Houston Coach Slater Martin, meditating over a nine-point deficit late in the third quarter, put in his second team the rest of the game and it richly rewarded him. Willie Somerset led the final surge with 14 points in the last quarter and Guy Manning added 10.

Larry Jones and Richie Moore each had 28 points for Denver.

Stars Glitter At Dark Tourney

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — The third annual Alvin Dark Invitational Golf Tourney got under way here today with a field of more than 180 — including 115 professionals.

Cigar-chomping Joe Campbell, a regular on the PGA national tour, is back to defend the title he won here last year.

Many of the pros in the field are lesser lights from the big play-for-pay circuit hoping for a pay day before next week's Cajun Classic, final official stop on the 1967 PGA tour.

The celebrity division includes tourney host Alvin Dark of Lake Charles, manager of the Cleveland Indians, and such baseball figures as Dizzy Dean, Ken Harrelson, Gene Mauch, Paul Richards and Joe Horlen.

A contingent of some three dozen stage, screen, and radio-television personalities will compete the final two days. The group call themselves "The Hollywood Hackers" and have made numerous appearances in California for charity golf tournaments.

Alston Remains At LA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walter Alston, the dean of managers in major league baseball, is set to pilot the Los Angeles Dodgers for the 15th consecutive year—counting the old Brooklyn Dodgers, of course.

Alston flew out from his hometown, Darrtown, Ohio, for the formal signing Wednesday and to confer with President Walter O'Malley, Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi and other brass regarding the baseball meetings next week in Mexico City.

The Dodgers did not divulge salary figures but the 55-year-old Alston reportedly will receive $55,000 for 1968, the same he is supposed to have made in 1967.

Alston, it appears, was not penalized for the club's disappointing headlong collapse from first in 1965 to eighth in 1966.

Alston late last season was wooed by at least two other clubs to manage at more handsome figures than he gets from the Dodgers. Why did he decide to stay with Los Angeles?

"The Dodgers have always treated me well over the years," he said. "Besides, we've had some pretty good athletes over the years. I'm satisfied."

What is needed for 1968?

"Two things. Hitting and defense," he replied. He pinpointed on defense the infield and particularly shortstop. Several tried but none really succeeded at shortstop last season.

He said the defense cost the club more runs than it should have. He'll take a long look at all the talent in spring training.

Alston also said that if he can come up with another pitcher, he might go with a five-man pitching rotation instead of the usual four.

He feels, he explained, that a veteran such as Don Drysdale, or a busy young man such as Don Sutton, might benefit from an extra day's rest.

Another interleague trade highlighted other baseball news as Cincinnati dealt outfielder Floyd Robinson and right-handed reliever Darrell Osteen to the Oakland Athletics for right-hander Ron Tompkins.

Robinson, 31, acquired by the Reds from the Chicago White Sox last year, was hampered by injuries in 1967 and hit only .238 as a reserve. Osteen, 24, finished last season with Buffalo and had a 10-4 record.

Tompkins, 23, won 10 and lost 9 at Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

The Detroit Tigers completed their deal for Eddie Mathews last August by sending right-handed relief hurler Fred Gladding to the Houston Astros. The Astros chose Gladding from a list of six players named by the Tigers at the times of the trade.

Gladding won six games and saved 10 for Detroit.

The New York Mets assigned outfielder Larry Stahl, 26, to Jacksonville, Fla., of the International League and Philadelphia sold right-hander Bill Champion, 20, to their San Diego farm club of the PCL. Stahl hit .237 in 69 games and Champion had a 6-9 record at Portsmouth, Va., of the Carolina League.

The California Angels signed Gaetan Groleau, 20, leading pitcher in the Montreal Junior League the last four years, for a reported $6,000 bonus.

Washington extended General Manager George Selkirk's contract through 1970 the third extension in his five years with the Senators.

VICTIM OF MISNOMER

Deserter Tells His Story

(Editor's note: It's quite an experience being a deserter, says an Army private, the apparent victim of a military misnomer. First accused of being AWOL, Pfc. Ronald G. Nowell, 20, of Kennedale, a Fort Worth suburb, was to become officially an army deserter. The Air Force, Army, FBI and Military Police figure in the continuing drama. Here is Nowell's own story, as told to The Associated Press.)

By ROLAND G. NOWELL
As Told To The Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — It's been an interesting experience, I'll say that. It's something that doesn't happen every day — being declared a deserter.

I'm not going to blame the Army, or the hospital. I can't. It was just a clerical error somewhere. Just something that happens like that, I suppose.

It all started last May. I put in transfer papers to be transferred out of my unit at Ft. Hood (Tex.). My mother was upset about my not being transferred. She was afraid I would be sent overseas, and I already had a brother in Vietnam.

He's Cpl. Ernest Nowell, who is with the 1st Marine Division around Da Nang.

I didn't hear anything from May until August.

Then my mother called Ft. Hood and talked to somebody down there. She wanted me transferred out and she wanted to know why I hadn't been.

So they called me over to headquarters and told me to fill out another set of papers to be transferred. They gave me my choice betwen two other units.

This was the first half of August, and my unit was packing everything to go overseas. At about this time, nearly everybody went home for two weeks leave before being shipped out.

So they let me go on a two-week leave too. I knew I wasn't going to Vietnam, but I hadn't received orders for where I was going.

On the 28th of August, I had a motorcycle wreck. They took me to Arlington Memorial Hospital, then sent me over here to the hospital at Carswell Air Force Base.

I had a broken collar bone.

When I first came in the hospital, I told the people here I was on leave from the Army and that I was to notify them in case of an accident.

The people here, I don't remember which doctor, said not to worry about it. He said when I came into the hospital I was off leave; I was in a military installation.

After x-rays and what not, they put me in a cast, from the stomach up. When they took the cast off, they saw the bone was not healing.

By this time my parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nowell of Kennedale, had received a letter saying I was AWOL. The doctors told me not to worry about it, and I didn't.

They told me they were going to have to operate. They operated on the 10th of October and put a pin down there in the collar bone.

Later, my parents got another letter, this time saying I was a deserter. So I brought this letter out and let my doctor see it.

Again, he said not to worry about it, that it had been taken care of, that they (Ft. Hood officers) had been notified.

All this time I had been getting partial pay. They gave me partial pay for August, skipped September and gave me partial pay for October.

They were sending the checks to the hospital, so somebody down there knew where I was.

Last Thursday, the FBI came to my home, but there wasn't anybody there. He left word with a neighbor and that night when my mother came home she called me at the hospital and gave me his name.

I called him Friday at his office and he came out Friday afternoon and talked to me about it. I gave him the general background of what had happened.

He told me he was satisfied with my story and would just turn it in to his supervisors. He left. Then Friday or Saturday some Army MPs from Ft. Hood came to the hospital looking for me. I was home on a pass.

They called my home. I met them at a motel and gave them all the information they wanted, and they left.

Then an Army investigator called up Saturday night or Sunday and he said he wanted to talk to me. But I haven't seen or heard from him.

And Monday I got a paycheck for September, so apparently they're getting this straightened out.

I knew I wasn't AWOL and I knew I wasn't a deserter and so I didn't think too much about it all.

The most embarassing thing was the FBI. They talked to some people in Lubbock, where we used to live — I graduated from Lubbock High School in 1965 — and two of the people there called our home to see what had happened.

As many people as Ft. Hood has to look after, I can see how they could make an occasional mistake. Except for the embarrassment it caused me and my family, it didn't make me mad.

I perturbed me a little, but as long as they get it off my records, I'll be satisfied.

Of course, my mother didn't like it a bit. My father didn't like it either, but he doesn't say much. Mother's the one. With a son in Vietnam, she's upset most of the time, like any mother would be.

I don't know how long I'll have to stay in the hospital. They ha to operate on the shoulder again, and they haven't said when.

Anytime someone comes into the hospital with a suit on, the guys holler, "Hey, Nowell, some one to see you." They know it's either the press or the FBI.

Bill Would Curtail Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Advertising of alcohol and cigarettes would be curtailed during the hours when children most tune in to radio and television under a bill supported Tuesday by Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex.

He said such legislation would immeasurably help the health of American youth.

The senator called cigarette smoking the most menacing temptation children face today.

He said young people start drinking alcoholic beverages because "adults do it and it is an accepted mode of behavior in our society."

"One factor that contributes to this mood of acceptability can be seen in television commercials for beer and wine" he said.

Two out of three adults drink alcoholic beverages of some kind, Yarborough said, and about 42 per cent of the adults smoke.

The bill he supports would prohibit radio and television advertising of liquor and cigarettes during afternoon and early evening hours.

Rev. Clinard Was Once A Sportscaster

SAN ANGELO (AP) — The Rev. Gordon Clinard of San Angelo, new president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, got a part of his training for the pulpit by serving as a radio sportscaster during college days. Later, the Rev. Dr. Clinard of San Angelo, new president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, got a part tional Advisory Committee for of his training for the pulpit by serving as a radio sportscaster during college days. Later, the Rev. Dr. Clinard, as a professor at Fort Worth's Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, was active in launching a project to have student preachers observe themselves in action by means of video tape.

Junior Editors Quiz on RELATIVES

QUESTION: What's the difference between a first cousin and one once removed?

* * * *

ANSWER: Cousins are not members of your immediate family; they are related to you because they have descended from the same person. All the people in our picture have descended from Old Bob. Each row under him represents one generation. Lydia and John, Old Bob's children are brother and sister. Below this, their descendants are cousins. First come first cousins, then second, then third. Following Old Bob's definition of first cousin once removed, we go to the first cousin line and find Bill. His first cousin is Jane, and her son is Judd; so Judd is Bill's first cousin once removed, that is, moved down by one generation. In the same way, Howard is Jane's first cousin once removed.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q — I already paid my tax bill but I just got another bill for it anyway. What should I do?

A — Return the bill with the notation that you have already paid it. Give the date the payment was made and the office to which it was sent to help identify your payment.

The computer system used for the processing of tax returns operates on a sequential or step by step basis. Information can only be fed into the system at the beginning and not at any particular stage in the processing cycle. In your case, this could mean that the data on your tax payment had not reached the stage where bills are issued before it was time for a reminder notice to be sent to you.

Q — What's the provision of the law that allows a deduction for losses suffered as a result of street riots?

A — Losses stemming from riots are handled under the same provisions as those providing tax relief for casualty and theft losses. If a personal property loss qualifes under these provisions, that part of the loss exceeding $100 may be deducted. Qualifying business property losses are deductible in full.

A casualty is defined as the complete or partial destruction of property resulting from an identifiable event of a sudden, unexpected nature. Losses resulting from hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, storms, fire as well as from riots qualify under this provision.

For more details, send a post card to your district director and ask for a copy of Document No. 5174, "Disasters, Casualties and Thefts."

Q — Where can I get a copy of an estimated tax declaration?

A — Send a post card to your district director asking for a copy of Form 1040ES.

The next quarterly installment on estimated tax payments is due January 15. A taxpayer amending his declaration or filing an estimated form for the first time, should also do this by January 15.

Q — I've been supporting my uncle for some years. Will I lose my dedcution for him if he goes into a rest home?

A — A close relative does not have to be a member of your household to qualify as your dependent. As long as other tests are met, you will still be able to claim your uncle as a dependent even though he no longer lives with you.

Q — I take care of my neighbor's child while she works. Do I have to pay tax on what she pays me?

A — The money you receive for this should be added to your other income for the year. If your gross income from this and other sources amounts to $600 or more then you must file a return. If you file a joint return with your husband then this income must be reported even when it is under $600.

If net income from taking care of your neighbor's child totals $400 or more you also may be liable for a self employment tax. Be sure to check this when you add up your income for the year.

Q — I'm a salesman and had to buy a car to cover my route. Can I deduct this cost when I file my return?

A — No. However, you may deduct 10 cents for every mile you used the car on your job up to 15,000 miles. If your mileage exceeds that, additional miles traveled on business may be deducted at 7 cents a mile. Toll,s parking and similar items are also deductible.

Instead of this method of deducting your business travel expenses, you may figure the actual operating costs of your car for the year. This would include depreciation, gas and oil, insurance, repairs and other operating costs.

Hormel Buys Land

DALLAS (AP) — George A. Hormel and Co. has acquired land in Dallas for the construction of a 60,000 by 80,000 square foot building. It will be used for processing of smoked meat and distribution of other company products.

After five games Stanford's football team had made 41 first downs rushing. Their opponents had just as many.

Space-Age Daniel Boone

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Larry Watts, 18, is the Red River Valley's space-age Daniel Boone, only Watts is paying his way through college, trapping for furs.

He's one of few professional trappers in these parts and one of the most successful. Most of his lines are on the Wichita River and all are within 25 miles of his home.

Last winter's catch brought in $350.

Watts, a freshman at Midwestern University, developed an interest in trapping from his grandfather, a professional fur trapper in the 1920's.

Watts doubled his trapping revenue when he bought a motorcycle. Before that he had only a bicycle and a couple of hours to work his lines after school.

Quits Chamber Post

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Lee Nelson, manager of the Greater Orange Area Chamber of Commerce for almost four years, has resigned to become executive vice president and general manager of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce.

LCB Agents Suspended

AUSTIN (AP) — Two Dallas agents of the Texas Liquor Control Board have been suspended because "they're supposed to have made some remarks" about the board office there, LCB Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. says.

Stevenson said Tuesday he has instructed agents William B. Groce and Raymond Valenta to appear before him at LCB headquarters here Nov. 28.

"It won't be a hearing as such," he said. "We are going to do some interrogating, that's all. Stevenson added there also is a possibility of a public hearing later.

Leaflets placed under car windshield wipers here and in Dallas Monday, with the notation "bought and paid for by the Chirstian taxpayers," criticized Stevenson and Dallas LCB supervisor James E. Dale. Stevenson said he has "complete confidence" in Dale and called the broadsides "malicious slander."

Named To Agency

AUSTIN (AP) — President Johnson has named Frank Hildebrand, execuive director of the Texas Tourist Development Agency, to a 22-member task force to seek ways of attracting more foreign tourists to the United States.

Big Contingent To NATO Meet

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional wives have been singing "Take Me Along" and their husbands have been listening judging by the makeup of a U.S. contingent attending a NATO assembly in Brussels, Belgium.

The congressional delegation —for which $50,000 in tax money has been set aside—includes 7 senators, 12 representatives, 13 wives and 10 staff people, according to an Associated Press survey.

The State Department says nearly 70 people are making the trip—the Capitol Hill group of 42 plus administration officials and aides.

There was no breakdown on the number of administrative officials or whether any were taking wives at their own expense.

The government pays transportation and hotel bills for the congressmen as well as for North Atlantic Treaty Organization and administration officials designated to take the trip.

The congressional wives get a free ride on the three Air Force planes provided, but the State Department says they or their husbands must pay all other expenses.

The NATO assembly is an annual meeting of legislators from the 14 member nations. Senate and House delegates are appointed by the vice president and House speaker.

Members of Congress were criticized last week by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., for making the trip instead of staying home to vote on emergency funds for the antipoverty program.

"It's just as important that some of these poor people get something for Thanksgiving," he said, "as it is for these people to get a good trip to Europe."

The State Department says about 25 took the House delegation plane last Friday, about 32 took the Senate delegation plane Saturday and about a dozen are expected to take a third flight after a Senate vote on Social Security.

The transportation and hotel expenses for delegates are paid from NATO funds appropriated by Congress.

At least one delegate—Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., head of the Senate group—planned to return by commercial flight for the Social Security vote. There was no word on who would pay the fare.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., one of the House delegates who took his wife, said: "Because of diplomatic functions involving delegates and wives from the other nations, U.S. delegates are encouraged to bring their wives."

Millions From Moppet Merchandise

By JERRY BUCK
Asschiated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Whenever a television or movie hero whips out a special gun or hops into a gimmick-loaded car, you can be pretty certain that toy-sized versions are on sale at stores everywhere.

Nearly every show on television—including some documentaries—has a merchandising tie-in for toys, dolls, games or books that brings in extra millions.

Merchandising is a highly profitable sideline to television, so much so, in fact, that a few producers have introduced gimmicks—and even new characters—into stories to boost sales.

Specifically, merchandising in the TV field is the licensing of manufacturers and publishers to reproduce the name and likeness of any television property. Music records generally are not considered merchandising. All three networks have merchandising departments, but independents hold the rights to some of the most profitable shows.

Most items are toys, dolls, coloring books, comics, lunchboxes and the like aimed at children age 3 to 9. But it also includes the books from such shows as "Africa," "20th Century," "Discovery" and "American Sportsman."

"We're shooting mostly for young people who are seeking hero identification,' said Bill Dennis, the head of merchandising at ABC. "The ideal merchandising show comes on at 7:30 in the evening, has a distinctive hero and plenty of gimmicks."

A leader in the field estimates that merchandising sales from television and movie properties total more than $300 million a year. At the standard royalty of 5 per cent of net wholesale, the three networks' share comes to about $7.5 million a year.

"Batman" alone accounted for $150 million over a period of years and James Bond did nearly as well over a long period. "Concentration," the game show on NBC, consistently sells about $3 million a year in games.

In at least one instance, says a merchandiser, the promotional value of the toys has kept one program alive. The show had been lagging in the ratings, but the consistent sale of its toys convinced network brass it was being watched by children.

The introduction of Batgirl to the "Batman" show came at the suggestion of Allan Stone, president of the Licensing Corporation of America. Jay Emmett, chairman of the board, said Stone suggested Batgirl to "rejuvenate the show and to give the girls something to buy."

Boys Burned At Valley Bible School

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A hot water heater explosion and the resulting fire resulted in injuries described as "painful, but not serious" for two boys at the Rio Grande Bible Institute near here Wednesday.

A spokesman for the Edinburg Municipal Hospital identified the victims as Jose Peralez and Javier Salinas. Witnesses said a hot water heater exploded and fire followed and the boys were injured as the building was being evacuated.

The institute, a non-denominational school for prospective missionaries, is located about three miles south of Edinburg on U.S.

Petitions Filed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil Aeronautics Board officials said Wednesday petitions to operate nonstop between Houston and Cleveland have been filed by Delta Airlines of Atlanta and Trans Texas Airways of Houston. Delta also asked for a route between Houston and Detroit by way of Cleveland.
