House Votes Million-Dollar Revenue Bill for Balancing Budget

GARNER FLAYS PRESIDENT AND CABINET MEN

SPEAKER SAYS HOOVER WON'T HELP CUT EXPENSES

COULD SAVE $250,000

ESTIMATE OF TREASURY CALLED "UNFAIR" BY TEXAN

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—The house today completed consideration of an amendment to the new revenue bill, estimated by the ways and means committee to produce $1,049,000,000, and prepared for separate votes on several items before finally passing it.

WASHINTON, April 1 (AP)—The house today adopted an amendment to apply the normal income tax rate to dividens paid on stocks, estimated to swell the total of the revenue bill by $80,000,000. The standing vote was 133 to 90.

WASHINTON, April 1 (AP)—The house ways and means committee today approved an amendment to the new revenue bill to make dividends on stocks subject to the normal income tax, estimated to yield $80,000,000.

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—The house ways and means committee today turned to a tax on dividends paid on stocks to raise $80,000,000 or the amount which Secretary Mills said the present revenue bill would lack of balancing the budget.

About the time Speaker Garner was calling the treasury estimate "unfair," the committee was approving an amendment to subject dividends from stocks to the normal income tax rate.

Mills estimated the bill as it stands now would lack $165,000,000 of balancing the budget because the appropriations for the next fiscal year could not be trimmed $2'3,00,000 as the committee had estimated.

Scores Hoover

Garner, in a conference with news paper men, said, "If Mr. Hoover and Mr. Mills would co-operate we could reduce expenses. $250,000,000 without the least trouble."

"Instead of having that co-operation, every cabinet member is going over the senate and howling that we are ruining their departments," he said. "How are you going to get anywhere when that happens?

"These same cabinet officers and Mr. Hoover could save that $250,000,000 themselves if they wanted to. They refuse to do it. It could be done, it ought to be done and it will be done."

PHILADELPHIA, April 1 (AP)—Private detectives maintained a watch over a house here early today in a vain hope that they might find some clue to the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

The location of the house was not revealed. The information on which the detectives acted was received at the central detective bureau, Brooklyn, N. Y., March 18, when two men called on Morton Bernstein, manager of the concern, and told him to watch the house.

They said a blue sedan would pull up in front of the place and that a man and a woman would get out. "If you crash the door you may find the Lindbergh baby," the informants said and walked out of the office. They were trailed and the information obtained in this way made the detectives believe their "tip" might be of some value.

Racketeers Make Olympic Tickets

CHICAGO, April 1. (AP)—If you are planning to help your Uncle Sam's Olympic teams in a financial way, first look out for racketeers.

Avery Brundage, president of the amateur athletic union of America, and president of the American Olympic committee, has rounded up information showing that the quick money boys already are at work and have intercepted many thousands of dollars meant for the Olympic fund. He is sending out warning to authorized members of the huge Olympic machine, to head off the rackets before it becomes too late to steer the money into its proper channel.

There is nothing new in the racket employed. The enterprising ones are selling automobile tire covers, stickers for envelopes, cigarette lighters and a variety of other knicknacks, bearing some Olympic mention. Stamps printed for 10 cents a hundred have been sold for a dollar, and the profit on other items has been as large.

The Olympic committee learned of the racket when checks made out to the "Olympic committee," reached Brundage's office. The salesman had endorsed the check, pocketed the money and moved out of the neighborhood. Brundage still has the checks.

BOY LASHED FOR ATTEMPT TO ABSTRACT HOTEL CASH DRAWER

ABILENE, Tex., April 1 (AP)—Caught in an attempt to abstract the cash drawer and $327 from the Grace hotel office here late yesterday, an 11-year-old Ohio lad bound for the west coast gained his liberty by submitting to a severe belting administered by a traveling companion, who said he was a brother.

The two, passengers on a westbound bus stopping here 20 minutes, were allowed to continue their trip, but were taken off the bus at Big Spring for questioning two hours afterward when investigation threw the elder man's actions in suspection. Finally they were released again.

Whipping of the boy was the "sentence" imposed by Lance Sears, owner of the hotel, who found the young Ohioan standing sullenly in the rear of the office, empty handed, after Sears had rushed in upon hearing the drawer, weighted with silver, crash to the floor. Attempting a getaway with the loot, the boy has mistaken a vault door for the outside door, and in turning stumped his toe on a steel pipe plug protruding above the floor level. As he stumbled he dropped the money drawer. While officer were questioning him, the elder traveler appeared, inquiring after his "kid brother" and announcing their bus was "ready to take off." It was then that Sears suggested the "brotherly" punishment. The whipping, fifteen hard strokes with a lether belt, was given in the back of the office, the culprit taking it in defiant silence; after which the pair boarded the outgoing bus.

Man Discovers "The Big Rock Candy Mountain"

CHICAGO, April 1 (AP)—Paid to eat candy all day long!

That is William H. Beirer's job, the dream of every youngster. He is official "candy tester" for a national chain of candy manufacturers.

Beirer estimated that in his work he eats half a pound of candy a day. In his nine years in that position with the candy company he said he had consumed well over half a ton.

As his daily routine he samples the Chicago factory's products, those sent in by his company's other factories over the country and confections put out by competitors. In is spare moments he goes into the store room and bites into chocolates and bon-bons to see how the quality stands up as time passes.

And if he has any time left, he said he tries his hand and palate, at new recipes, sampling as he goes along.

One might expect him to have the proportions of an elephant. On the contrary, this man of 44 years, five feet, ten and one-half inches, weighs 183 pounds.

One disadvantage of his profession, he said, is that he frequently runs into complication at home. His sense of taste, paid for as expert, makes it possible for him to detect instantly when the home cooking is off and what the trouble is.

Ochiltree Will Vote Third Time On Paving Bonds

PERRYTON, April 1. (AP)—Voting highway bond elections in Ochiltree county is becoming a habit.

On April 16 the voters, for the third time in two years, will face the issue of providing funds for hardsurfacing highways. Both former elections carried by overwhelming majorities, but both were declared illegal.

The issue is to be voted on in April for $400,000. An issue of like amount was voted December 26 by a 3 to 1 majority, but the attorney general's office held the bonds illegal because the election had been advertised only 26 days instead of 30.

Two years ago the citizenship decided in favor of an issue for $700,000, but the bonds were returned almost a year later because of a minor technicality. In the meantime the cost of road building took a slump, and when the second election was called it was found that the same roads could be paved for little more than half of the original bond issue.

State highway No. 4 and No. 117 will be paved if the bonds are voted again.

On March 31 the commissioners' court will hold a protest hearing on the application of 59 voters in county precinct No. 3 to create a road district in that precinct and call an election for $160,000, to be voted separately from the county-wide issue.

The store is equipped with new fixtures in every department. The building has been re-decorated and painted. One of the most modern meat departments has been installed. A vegetable hydrator which keeps fruits and vegetables moist and in a sealed vault with glass doors is one of the outstanding pieces of equipment in the store.

Where Five Died in Dallas Rooming House Blaze

In this debris the bodies of four men were found, burned to death in the mysterious blaze which razed the Elm Hotel in Dallas last week, and one other man died later from burns. The dead are W. P. It was found beneath his window sill, upon which Granger's body still sat, evidently trying to get his leg on and escape when the flames enveloped him. The tragedy raises the 1932 death toll of fires in Dallas to 18.

Campaign For Texas Centennial Fund Amendment Is Commenced

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—The active campaign in behalf of the constitutional amendment to permit the legislature to appropriate public funds to defray the cost of the Texas centennial has been started by the official legislative committee.

Headquarters of the committee were opened in Austin with former Lieutentant Governor Will H. Mayes in charge.

The amendment will be one of those voted in the November election. Upon its adoption depends largely the success of the centennial movement, leaders in the project stated, and all efforts will be made to put over an intensive educational campaign to gain support to the plan. Should the amendment fail, it was believed doubtful a centennial of the desired scope could be held withf unds derived from private sources.

Under present plans, a centinnial committee will be organized in each county to advance the amendment before all local civic clubs and meetings. Approval of the amendmen also will be sought from each of the large state conventions held between now and election time. The conventions will be asked to adopt resolutions endorsing the centennial and the amendment to permit use of state funds.

Three regional chambers of commerce, the East, West and South Texas chambers, were reported to have approved the amendment. Approval also has been given by the Texas Press association, campaign headquarters announced.

Letters from ex-Texans from Chicago and Baltimore supporting the proposal also have been received.

Mayes said it was significant that the proposed centennial was attracting much favorable attention in the north and east.

One of the main purposes of the educational campaign will be to remove misconceptions in the minds of citizens as to the purpose of the amendment. Mayes said he had been informed numerous citizens were under the apprehension the amendment would prmit the legislature to appropriate funds for any exposition or fair whereas in truth it would permit appropriation of funds solely fr the 1936 Texas Centennial exposition.

While the campaign plans were in the formulative stages, a plan to obtain funds to carry on the educational program was being mapped.

George Muller of the Consumers Market returned yesterday from a trip through the Panhandle and northern Oklahoma buying poultry and produce for the store.

Picture Director Secretly Charged

LOS ANGELES, April 1 (AP)—Arrested on a secret indictment charging evasion of payment of $108,547.20 in income tax, Edwin Carewe, once a leading motion picture director, was at liberty under $5,000 bond today while deputy United States marshals sought G. Wallace Forge, Hollywood income tax adviser, who they arrerted aided Carewe in making his returns.

Carewe was indicted on four counts for evasions which allegedly took place over a four-year period.

According to Carewe's attorney, differences arose between government investigators and Carewe over the profits of a motion picture starring Dolores Del Rio which he produced abroad. Carewe contended that as his picture was not made in this country the government should not share in its profits.

Forge, named in the indictment with Carewe, recently was released on proration after he pleaded guilty to aiding Robert Edeson, late stage and screen star, in preparation of an allegedly faulty return.

Carewe was a leading producer and director of films in the silent days, but since the advent of the talkies, has done but little in Hollywood.

Why Distort Facts?

In Answer to—

The Ad by the opposition in Pampa Daily News March 31, 1932, we submit not as the SO-CALLED, but as THE CITIZENS League, with the accent on the "THE," an extract of a letter from Layne-Texas company, driller of the well, Feb. 29, 1932, to-wit:

". . . . IN COMPENSATION FOR THE WELL WE INSTALLED WITH COMPLETE EQUIPMENT FOR THE CITY OF PAMPA LAST YEAR, WE TOOK THE CITY'S 5½% SERIAL REFUNDING BONDS DATED SEPTEMBER 1, 1931, AND MATURING AT THE RATE OF ABOUT $2,000 A YEAR, BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 1, 1940."

A copy of this issue was procured from the company and the high points are, without quoting the full bond, as it is lengthy, and the only subject we are interested in was the maturity clause, which reads as follows:

"Refunding Bond series issue 1931, TWO, that the City of Pampa agrees to pay bearer $1,000 on SEPTEMBER 1st 1940, with interest payments semi-annually beginning March 1st, 1932, and that this BOND SERIES TWO 1931 is one of twenty-nine bonds aggregating $29,000, numbered from One to Twenty-nine.

The Citizens League is TRUTHFUL and critical in reciting facts about city affairs and we ask support of our ticket as follows: ERNEST E. REYNOLDS for Mayor, WILLIAM C. de CORDOVA for Commissioner No. 1, ROBERT WOODWARD for Commissioner No. 2, and also ask, that you scratch the other ticket.

Yours for ECONOMY AND BETTER GOVERNMENT,

THE CITIZENS LEAGUE

PAMPA SCHOOLS REPRESENTED AT BICENTENNIAL EVENT

IS SPONSORED BY TEACHERS AND PARENTS

MRS. FATHEREE TELLS OF WASHINGTON'S LOVE OF TREES

A warm, sunshiny afternoon made doubly enjoyable the Washington bicentennial tree-planting ceremony held on the high school campus yesterday afternoon. Representatives from all schools in the Pampa independent school district were asked to attend and toparticipate on the program. The event was sponsored by the city council of Parent-Teacher associations.

"Pop" Frazier and high school band played as the crowd assembled and dispersed, and were given a definite place on the program.

Mr. Fisher Speaks

Opening the program was a talk by Supt. R. B. Fisher, who spoke on the Washington bicentennial, and numbers by the various schools followed.

Three numbers were furnished by Woodrow Wilson school. They included a Parent-Teacher song, an Arbor day song, and a reading, "What Do We Plant When We Plant a Tree?" Sam Houston's offering was a reading, "Trees," by Clarence Cunningham. A song "Arbor Day," was sung by a group from Baker school, and a march was played by the Horace Mann harmonica band members, all in costume. Another song entitled "Arbor Day" was sung by the Merten group.

Love of Trees

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, past president of the Parent-Teacher council, spoke on Washington's love for trees. "In letters and diaries it is shown that Washington loved trees," she said. "He spent much time in caring for and planting trees. He had a custom of exchanging trees with people all over the world. Although he sad a great variety, there are only five or six of the trees which he planted still standing. Over these the government has placed lightning rods." Mrs. Fatheree closed her talk with the dedication to the memory of George Washing the tree which she planted on the campus.

Others dedicating trees to the memory of Washington were Mrs. J. B. Townsend, president of the city council; Mrs. Frank McNeill, president of the high school Parent-Teacher association; Mrs. E. C. Will, president of the Junior high association.

Mr. Fisher closed the program with a fitting prayer.

Much Interest In Revival at Baptist Church

Continued interest is shown in the revival services at the First Baptist church. Large audiences attended both services yesterday, and there were seven additions to the church, five of which were by baptism.

The pastor, the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, spoke this morning in "Daily Strength for Daily Needs." This evening his subject wil be "The Supreme Challenge."

There will be no services Saturday, but the revival will continue on Sunday through the evening service. A cordial welcome is extended by the church to all.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

The combination of meat and fruit cooked together is rather out of the ordinary and extraordinarily good. Tradition has taught us to serve certain fruit sauces with certain meats, but modern progressiveness has gone further and combined fresh dried or canned fruits with meats in cooked dishes. Sometimes just the juice is used to give a piquant flavor. Again the whole fruit is drained from its juice and broiled or grilled and used as a border. Sometimes the fruit is chopped and combined with the meat in a loaf or casserole dish.

There's a definite reason why these fruit and meat combinations are so very much worth while. The acid of the fruit acts upon the fat particles, breaking them up and making them easier for the system to assimilate. The mineral salts of the fruit are valuable in maintaining the balance of a meal rich in protein and in counteracting the effect of meat in the diet.

Some Tasty Combinations

The ways or serving fruit with meat are innumerable. Frenched pork tenderloin with apricots is similar to the time-honored combination of roast pork and apple sauce but ever so much more interesting. Lamb chops with orange slices are delicious. Roast beef with raisins, veal and raisin loaf with bananas, hamburg steak with broiled bananas, and beef roll with apricots are novel and appetizing. Fish with raisin sauce is an unusual combination that is excellent.

Hananas are always inexpensive and available. They are also very easy to prepare and serve. Baked or grilled, they re good served with almost any kind of meat and are a decided help in adding variety to everyday meals.

The simplest way to use whole fruits of any kind—bananas, pineapples or apricots—is to dip them in melted butter or salad oil, then in seasoned flour and broil them under a clear flame.

This season of the year finds the fruit and meat combination particularly appealing. The following recipe can be varied by using other meats and fruits but it is an excellent example of this type of dish.

* * *

Planked Hamburg Steak

One pound round steak, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon white pepper, 1-2 cup dried apricots, 1 cup stale bread crumbs, 1 egg.

Scrub apricots well and soak several hours in warm water to cover. Put meat and apricots through the knife of food chopper. Add salt, pepper, bread crumbs and egg and mix thoroughly. Pack into a buttered pie dish of glass or enameled ware and bake in a moderate oven until brown on top and bottom. It will take about 25 minutes. Reduce heat and let stand five minutes. Slide from pie dish to hot platter and surround with a border of mashed potatoes. Add an outside border of buttered diced carrots or finely minced buttered spinach and serve at once.

Today's Menus

Breakfast: Baked apples, cereal cooked with dates, cream, fried cornmeal mush, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Creamed oysters on toast, cabbage and carrot salad, filled cookies, lemonade.

Dinner: Frenched pork tenderloin with browned apricots, new potatoes in cream sauce, broccoli with lemon butter, tomato and onion salad with horseradish cream dressing, sponge cake with strawberry whip, milk, coffee.

Wesley Fry Guessed As Sooner Coach

NORMAN, Okla., April 1. (AP)—Wesley Fry, who dug his cleats deep in University of Iowa grid records, was hailed by most guessers as the likely man of theh our when the University of Oklahoma athletic council asembles tonight to pick a new head football coach.

Ben G. Owen, director of athletics declared that "In the last 48 hours the atmosphere has cleared up wonderfully." However, he did not say he favored Fry or anyone else.

Lynn Waldorff, Oklahoma Aggie mentor, was the other prespect mentioned for the post vacated by the resignation of Ad Lindsey.

Spudders Prepare For Saints Sunday

WICHITA FALLS, April 1 (AP)—The Spudders today put in their final preparation for the opening exhibition series here tomorrow and Sunday with the St. Paul Saints. Sunday the team will be divided with the Yanigans playing the Des Moines western league club at Frederick, Okla.

Manager Hank Severeid announced today that he expected to use Tom Conlan, a newcomer who has been going great in the Wichita Falls camp, and Marvin Ferrell, young holdover from last season, against the Saints tomorrow.

The regulars thumped the ball merrily and stole bases at will yesterday in rolling up a 19 to 6 victory in an intra-squad skirmish. The liberal use of the stolen base and the squeeze play in this game was further indication that Severeid is to employ a diversified attack in the coming Texas league race.

Dempsey Will Try To Build Up Legs

DETROIT, April 1 (AP)—The first stage of his comeback campaign at an end, Jack Dempsey was headed westward today for a few weeks rest on the coast before going into intensive training for a final crack at the title he lost six years ago to Gene Tunney.

The former champion's exhibition tour ended here last night when he outpointed, but failed to knock down, Babe Hunt, Ponca City, Okla., heavyweight, whose long arms and vicious left hook made him dangerous throughout.

The ex-champion intends to do some intensive mountain climbing at a camp near Reno, Nev., to strengthen his legs and build up his stamina in anticipation of heavy fighting this summer, probably with Primo Canera and, if avowed hopes are realized, with Max Schmeling for the title.

SOX WIN ONE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 1 (AP)—Chicago's White Sox came to Little Rock today to open a series with the Travelers, and to try to start another winning streak. After romping through eight straight games without defeat, the Sox yesterday were quelled by a young left hander, Lefty Willis, at Shreveport. Willis gave the major leaguers four hits and a 9 to 3 beating.

TEXANS STILL IN NET MEET

THREE OF FIVE SEEDED PLAYERS REMAIN IN TOURNAMENT

HOUSTON, April 1. (AP)—Three of the five seeded players in the second annual Houston invitation tennis tournament remained in the running today for quarter-finals play.

Yesterday's only upset was the victory of Jack Hess of Rice Institute over Frankie Parker of New Orleans, 3-6, 8-4, 6-4. Hess won out through a sterling net game.

J. Gilbert Hall of New York, seeded number 4, was down to meet Lester Stoeffen of California today and Junior Coen of Kansas City, seeded number 5, was scheduled to play Wilmer Allison of Austin. Jimmy Quick of Dallas plays a fellow townsman, Red Thalheimer and Hess goes against Karl Kamrath of the University of Texas.

Hall had no trouble of consequence in turning back Arthur Trum of Houston yesterday, 6-4, 6-2. Coen was extended fully to win from Hal Surface of Texas, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5; Stoeffen's fine service enabled him to beat Fred Royer of Dallas, 8-6, 6-4, and Thalheimer had to go the limit to defeat Charles Sloan of Houston, 7-5, 6-4.

GUY STILL HUNTING

LOS ANGELES, April 1 (AP)—There are plenty of candidates for the job but Guy Bush can not be considered the least of those with a chance of pitching the opening game of the National league campaign for the Chicago Cubs. The Mississippi Mudcat yesterday went nine inning for the second time of the season, defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates and looked ready for any kind of action.

"Doughnut" Tires Cheer Carbon Men

BORGER, April 1. (AP)—Officials of the carbon black companies operating in the Panhandle field, most of them in the vicinity of Borger, are optimistic over the trend toward "doughnut" automobile tires.

The new "air wheel" tires not only require more carbon black for their manufacture, but since they are new on the market there are no warehouse stocks, and each tire put on the market means a new tire manufactured, said Walter David, general counsel of the J. M. Huber company.

The producers also are optimistic over the prospects for increased production of all tires, due to a shortage of warehouse stocks and the millions of old tires that have been in use their allotted time and must be replaced soon.

Plants in this field produce more than half of the world's supply of this product, which is extensively used in the manufacture of tires. These plants have a capacity of 350,000,000 pounds a year, but are producing only half that amount now because of an over supply accumulated two years ago.

Dumas' New School Building Unoccupied

DUMAS, April 1. (AP)—Dumas has a new $150,000 school building completed and equipped but—unoccupied.

And unless pending litigation is in some way forestalled it may be many months before the pupils of this independent schol district will be able to attend school in the new modern structure.

The company which bought the bonds of the Dumas school district was unable to dispose of all of the bonds to buyers. An Austin bank, backer of the bond company, was unable to advance the money with which to make the final payment for the bonds.

The Underhill Construction company completed work on the school early in February, but was unable to collect the final estimate. Matters have been in a muddled condition since that time with the bond company being unable to pay the school board for the bonds and the school board being unable to make a final settlement with the contractor. Now the construction company has filed suit against the school board for the final amount of money due, which approximates $25,000. The board in turn will enter suit against the bond company.

ARTISTS AT ABILENE

ABILENE, April 1. (AP)—Five of the world's leading artists in their fields are to be included in a series of programs on the Simmons University artists' course next session. The five are Kreisler, Rachmanoff, Amelita Galli-Curci, Harry louder, and John McCormack.

You can't fool a woman by lying to her, unless it's a compliment.—Corsicana Daily Sun.

Dalhart Father Would Not Vote For His Own Son

DALHART, April 1. (AP)—While Texas democrats are wrangling over their party loyalty pledge, the mind of at least one of the staunchest is made up.

William Beverley of Dalhart father of James R. Beverley, republican governor of Porto Rico, said: "If James were running for president of the United States on the republican ticket I would not vote for him."

"I have voted a democrat ticket all of my life," Beverley said. "If James wanted my vote he would have to return to the ranks in which he was brought up."

The father of the Porto Rican governor, a retired rancher, recently celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday. He began his ranch career as a trail driver. In 1879 he drove one herd from San Antonio to the North Platte River country. He was foreman of the 300,000 acre Rowe brothers ranch in Donley county 10 years, and later was foreman of the famous Turkey Track ranch.

Politics is Beverley's hobby, although he has never held office, except to represent Hartley county one term as commissioner and Dallam county two terms in the same capacity.

"I have never voted for a republican unles the gates were let down and he got in without my knowing it," Beverley said.

What If Earl Had Broken His Neck?

BEAUMONT, April 1. (AP)—This is the story of twin boys, who look alike, dress alike and act alike.

Leonard and Earl Gillett, 11, on a lizard hunt in the branches of a tree, met with mishap. That is, Earl did, he fell and broke his left arm.

Neighbors sympathized with Earl, but were secretly satisfied in that they could now tell which was which, by the identifying left arm in a sling.

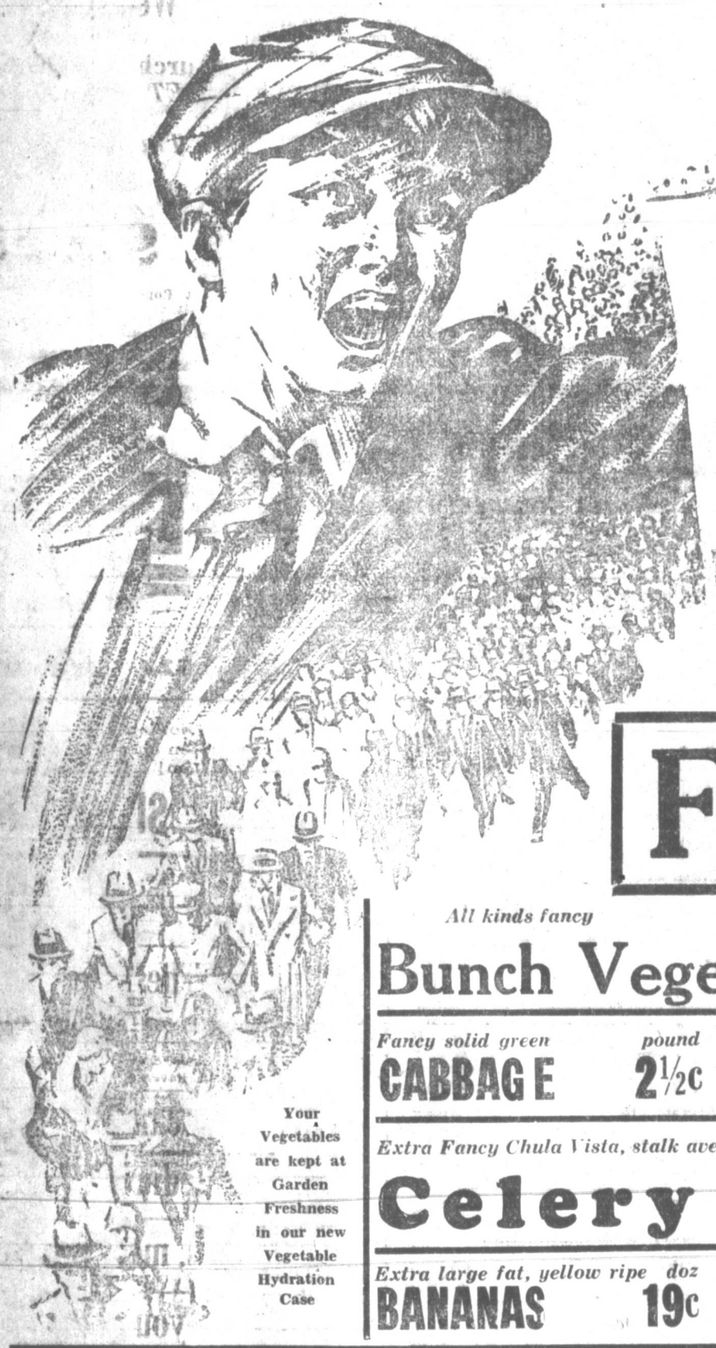

RABBIT HAS HORN

CLARENDON, April 1. (AP)—T. E. Naylor of Clarendon, while on a recent hunt near his farm, killed a rabbit with a well-defined horn about two inches long.

All seven pitchers on the University of Alabama baseball team are right-handers.

The hinterland is that region where people still think it a disgrace to go to jail.—Corsicana Daily Sun.

With all the treeclimbing left to him, however, Leonard got a fall, too. He broke his left arm, just a few days after Earl's accident. Two left arms broken in the same place, and carried in the same sort of sling—the Gillett twins again are just twins to neighbors.

KITTY FREW by JANE ABBOTT

SYNOPSIS: While Marge Crosby tries to interest Garfield Frew through their work in amateur theatricals, Gar's wife, Kitty, contentedly stays at home and manages their small household. Kitty keeps a budget—and Gar proves himself a rich man's son in his extravagances. She begins to worry about their expenses.

Chapter 27

THREE PINK ROSEBUDS

"I TOLD Di we could get along without her. She had something else on this afternoon," Marge had explained casually.

She had produced a long list of names. "Your mother made it out, Gar. I ran into her at the Century Club yesterday and she asked me if she could help us. Wasn't that dear of her when she's so busy? She said a lot of nice things about what we're doing. She's going to give a theater party the first night. That'll make splendid publicity. Oh, speaking of publicity—I'm going to ask the Times to send that Dorcas Taber over to get a feature story of the whole thing. It'll run well—all about the theater and who's really back of it and who's in the first cast and Somerset and everything."

"Good idea!" Gar had responded promptly. But he had been thinking how stunning Marge looked in the thing she was wearing, whatever it was. She looked like the favorite in a harem; he had played with that fancy while Marge was talking.

He had been lounging comfortably against the rose damask cushions of the divan, his feet stretched out toward the fire.

"I've got to do something about Somerset, Gar," she had said slowly. "He's—well, he's taking too much for granted. But I can't offend him, just now. I wish you'd sort of stick around. If you'd go to the rehearsals—"

"The big bounder! Why didn't you say something about it before? You bet I'll stick 'round. He has his nerve!"

Marge had sighed faintly. Her hand had reached out and tucked itself under Gar's arm. He was always completely at home in Marge's sitting room, pleasantly conscious of its luxury, of its seclusion, of the privilege that was his in so enjoying it.

She had told him of the progress the Players were making. The costumes had been ordered from New York. He must see what Gordon Wing was doing with the back drop for the first act—it was perfect! Her low voice had run on and on from one thing to another, while Gar had listened and watched the little play of muscles under the fine skin of her throat.

"Gar, I had a wonderful talk with your mother, about you. Of course she'd say things to me that she wouldn't say to anyone else because she knows what friends you and I have been. She was so sweet I just opened my heart to her. I told her—well, I'm not going to tell you what I told her. You would have guessed it a long time ago except that you're so blind—"

"You're going to tell me, Marge!" Gar had asserted masterfully. "Shoot!"

She had shaken her head; she had leaned a little closer to his shoulder, her face bent away from him. When she answered there had been a suggestion of tears in her faltering voice.

"But there isn't any use, now. You've married Kitty. And you've spoiled me for anyone else. It's always been like that—that's the way I felt last winter when I came out. I didn't give a hang about any of the parties when you weren't going to be there. Oh—" She stirred restlessly. "I hate everything now! I'm sick of the crowd, of all this fuss over the theater. I'm going away from Winton this spring and I'm never coming back. I think I'll live in Paris all the rest of my life. Will you miss me, Gar?"

Gar had been touched by her confession, flattered. "I'll go after you and bring you back," he had answered quickly, vehemently. He had put his arm about her shoulder and kissed her. "Gosh, Marge, I'd miss you a lot! You can't go away!"

"Would you?" she had whispered against his arm.

He had straightened, smiling down at her.

"To prove that I think of you I sent you some flowers to-day—"

"Oh! Selby told me there were flowers—I haven't opened the box: I thought they were from Somerset. How dear of you, Gar!"

"I didn't put in a card. I wanted to see if you remembered our old nonsense. The three pink rosebuds—"

"Gar! How cute—that you remember. 'I—love—you.' It wasn't nonsense—last winter, Gar!" Then she had drawn quickly away from him, pulled a cord that released a bright circle of light from a lamp at the end of the divan. She had flung back her shoulders, dramatically. "We're crazy, Gar, talking like this—"

A clock somewhere had chimed seven.

"Good gracious, I didn't dream it was so late!" Gar had sprung to his feet. "I've got to beat it. You can depend on me, Marge—about Somerset. And forget that going away stuff."

"Thanks, Gar." Her voice had been sweet, a little plaintive.

Driving home Gar had frowned heavily, thinking of Somerset's presuming on any intimacy with Marge. He'd show him where he got off! It did not occur to him that Marge could have done that herself, weeks ago. He was all chivalry, all affection for Marge. What if she did go away to live in Paris?

But he had forgotten that alarm when he reached home. Kitty and her eager hungry embrace had met him at the door.

"You're going to wear your corsage, aren't you?"

"Of course. It's in the ice-box. It's lovely, Gar."

"Well, so are you."

"Do I look all right?"

"Beautiful. You're getting class, Kit. What are you doing? What beauty parlor are you going to? First thing I know I'll see your picture on some ad for cold cream or powder."

Kitty laughed lightheartedly. Gar's easy praise was intoxicating to her; she needed no new dress, she needed no artificial color on cheeks or lips. She brought the corsage to him to pin on to her shoulder.

"The devil!" Gar cried, laughing suddenly. "That isn't what I ordered for you—those three pink rosebuds. I told that fellow I wanted orchids."

"But I love these, Gar. And orchids are so frightfully expensive."

Gar laughed again. "Not when I'm sending them to you."

They met the others at the Rainbow Gardens. They went there frequently; the head waiter always greeted them with particular concern that they should have the table they wanted. Often Kitty, following Gar into the crowd, thought of Josie, looked for her among the dancers and at the tables. She told Tubby much about Josie, and Tubby had laughed with her, but not at Josie, and she had liked him better for that.

There were to be ten of them tonight, at a long table. Diana came, with Buck Sewall, Red came alone, Tubby with Isobel Peters, others joined them. Tubby took the chair next to Kitty and began whispering in her ear.

"Say, you look out of sight tonight."

"Tubby, this old dress. You see me in it every time I go anywhere!"

"I thought it was a new one, honest."

"You're silly."

But she warmed to his nonsense. Tubby amused her with his devotion, his clumsy humor. She felt at ease with him. With the others, at times like this, it was like playing a part in a play, the role of which she knew well, now.

Gar was at the other end of the table. He had kept the chair next to him empty. He was watching the door. Presently he sprang to his feet. "Here's Marge."

Marge approached the table with Paul Somerset. The others hailed her coming a little boisterously.

It was Gar, not Somerset, who took Marge's evening coat from her shoulders. "Sit here," he commanded, indicating the unoccupied chair next to him. It left one for Somerset across the table. "I'm on the job," he added in a low tone.

Marge lifted a deeply reproachful look to him as she slipped into the seat he had saved for her. Her fingers went significantly to the orchids against her shoulder. Her eyes traveled swiftly down the table and met Kitty's wide startled glance fixed on her. She laughed softly, her lips scarcely parting over the sound.

At their end of the table Tubby was deep in a story which he was pouring into Kitty's ear. All at once he became aware that she was not listening. He thought she spoke.

"What'd you say, Kitty?"

She turned back to him, her eyes blue-black, a heightened color on her cheeks. "Did I say anything? If I did—it was only that it was just silly, thinking it for a moment—"

"But what I'm telling you is gospel truth, Kit! It happened—to a fellow I know."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 1 (AP)—Firmness developed in grain prices today after a hesitant start. Moderate initial advances in securities had a strengthening effect and so likewise did reports that the Spanish government was studying a project for immediate imports of wheat because of insufficiency of present stocks. Opening unchanged to ⅛ lower, wheat afterward more than recovered. Corn started ⅛-½ off and subsequently rallied.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅜-¾ under yesterday's finish, corn ⅝-1½ down, oats ⅛-¼ off and provisions unchanged to 10 cents lower.

Cash on Fuller in Match With Briton

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Sentiment may be with Jack (Kid) Berg in his ten-round bout with Sammy Fuller of Boston in Madison Square garden tonight but hard cash favors the New England youngster.

Odds as high as 2 to 1 have been quoted that Fuller will out-point the British veteran and perhaps earn a shot at Tony Canzoneri's lightweight championship.

Two years ago there was no lightweight in the business harder to beat than Berg. But last year he was beaten twice by Canzoneri in title bouts.

Fuller, in his last two matches here, outpointed Ray Miller of Chicago and knocked out Billy Wallace of Cleveland.

INELIGIBILITY OF PANHANDLE YOUTH HURTS

LONGHORNS MISS ACT OF O'KEEFE ON TRACK

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Ineligibility of three sophomore stars and injuries to the captain of last year's freshman track team have eliminated the University of Texas from the list of contenders for the Southwest conference track and field crown.

Longhorn coaches said Texas would be strong in the distance and middle distance runs but would be wean in the dashes, field events, hurdles and jumps.

The three ineligible sophomores who had been counted upon heavily to bolster the Longhorn team, are William Russell of Hereford, Deward Childre and Bryce O'Keefe of Panhandle. Russell is the holder of two Texas Interscholastic League records in the dashes; Childre was another promising dash and relay prospect while O'Keefe shone as a high jumper at Schreiner Institute Childre is an Austin product.

Osborne Hodges, 1931 frosh captain, recently underwent a leg operation that will keep him out. A brother of Hill Hodges, Longhorn track captain, Hodges had made 12 feet six inches in the pole vault, 145 feet in the discus throw and 43 feet with the shot.

Coach Clyde Littlefield was pessimistic over the championship prospects of his charges and the best ranking he would predict was third place. Schiller also was a member of the championship star two-miler. Schiller also was a member of the championship relay team. Blakeney was favored to retain his middle distance title while Schiller was expected to beh and pressed by Harbour of Rice.

Littlefield is relying on several sophomores to keep Texas in the running. Although pessimistic over the chances of the Longhorns at this year's conference track meet, coaches were highly optimistic about competition the next few years it being pointed out that as the sophomores developed and gained experience the threat of Texas predominance would increase.

Pepper Martin Is Ghost of Athletics

CHICAGO, April 1. (AP)—The ghost of Pepper Martin and the St. Louis Cardinals promises to haunt Connie Mack's Athletics during the 1932 pennant chase in the American League.

President William Harridge of the American League, back today from his tour of the southern training camps, reported that almost every team in the circuit hs adopted the Cardinal method of manufacturing runs which proved so valuable in the baseball classic last fall. That system consists of speed and daring base running. There is one hitch, however, President Harridge says, and that is: the Athletics are doing the same thing.

The New York Yankees, under the leadership of "Marse Joe" McCarthy Washington, Cleveland and Chicago appear to be the most improved clubs in the league, in the opinion of Harridge.

PROFESSOR'S BOOK IS APRIL FOOL JOKE ON HUMAN BEINGS

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—It's all fool's day and Professor Walter B. Pitkin is sitting back, chuckling and waiting to hear what kind of a thud his "short introduction to the history of human stupidity" will make when it hits homo stultus.

There have been other bad boys of literature, but this one-time news paper editor and later professor of psychology hopes and confidently expects to be dodging cabbages hurled by kings as weel as taxi-drivers.

The book went out to the unsuspecting public today and Mr. Pitkin calculates it will take a few days for filtration through skull bone, so he hasn't closed the storm doors yet.

In speaking of man, meaning you and you and you, Mr. Pitkin uses such charging terms as "folly," blunder, irrational, frenzy, vagary, quackery, delusion, obsession, hysteria, puerility, paranoia, stupor, hallucination" and just go on in your own vocabulary.

But is there no hope? Oh, yes-

"Ten years ago," said Mr. Pitkin today, "I know I should never have been able to get such a book published. Wherever it appeared there would have been public bonfires, Boston would have barred it.

"We have changed a lot. Since 1918 there have been three great waves of progressive disillusionment. First, we were disillusioned about our war leaders, our generals and statement and profiteers, such as the $1-a-year patriots.

"Second, we lost our illusions about our business and industrial leaders. That was in the boom and depression of 1920, the jazz age with the war excitement worn off.

"Then, third—the big crash—we lost our faith in fundamental human ability, and that is the historical justification for my book."

Many Call Here to See New V-8 Fords

Messrs. Lybrand, Miller, R. S. Brashears, Lonnie Nash and Henry Hopkins viewed the new Fords in Oklahoma City the first part of the week, and were very much impressed with the new car.

Mr. Henry Schafer returned to Pampa for a visit with his son-in-law, L. R. Miller, and to attend to his business interests in this section.

Mrs. Burl Thomas of Lakeotn was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

Byrl Neill of McLean was a Pampa visitor Thursday.

DONLEY VOTING ON HIGHWAY 5

Will Decide Whether Voters Want to Purchase Right-of-Way for $25,000.

CLARENDON, April 1. (AP)—Voters of Donley county will decide whether anything is to be done now about the improvement of state highway No. 5 across the county.

Purchase of right-of-way, which is estimated to involve an expenditure of $25,000 or $30,000, will be submitted to the voters. The state highway department has agreed to reroute the road and build the grade and drainage structures if the county will furnish the right of way. The state will spend between $100,000 and $150,000.

The election, which will be called soon, will not involve a bond issue for paving. The voters will be asked to approve only the amount of warrants necessary to buy the right-of-way.

County commissioners have announced an agreement over the proposed new route. It will follow the Fort Worth and Denver railroad to Hedley, but will run south of the railroad. From Hedley it will angle across country to the Hall county line, a mile north of Memphis.

W. J. Van London, construction engineer in Amarillo, said the new survey would eliminate 33 sharp turns and four grade crossings and shorten the route by four miles.

J. E. Disch of Borger was in Pampa yesterday in the interest of community singing to be held April 10.

State Track and Field Meet to Be Held on May 5-7

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Athletic records of the Texas Interscholastic League will be in jeopardy May 5, 6, and 7, when the annual assault on high school track and field marks is made by approximately 1,000 athletes from the far flung corners of Texas. Officials of the league state several remarkably good athletes will enter the state meet and may shatter previous records.

Two scholastic world records now are held by participants in past Interscholastic League meets. The records are in the discus throw and the running board jump and both were established last year when Petty of Kaufman hurled the discus 154 feet six and one-half inches and Scrimsher of Main Avenue high of San Antonio leaped 24 feet and one-half inch in the running broad jump.

Other interscholastic league records are:

100 yard dash, Russell of Hereford, 9.8 seconds, 1930.

120 yard high hurdles, Leo Baldwin of Wichita Falls, 15 seconds, 1924.

220 yard low hurdles, Ablowitch of Greenville, 24 seconds, 1930.

220 yard dash, Davis of Freeport, and Russell of Hereford, 21.5 seconds, 1927 and 1930.

440 yard run, Thomas of Electra, 50.2 seconds, 1923.

880 yard run, Brothers of San Angelo, one minute, 59.5 seconds, 1931.

Mile run, Simpson of Denton, four minutes 33.8 seconds, 1928.

Mile relay, San Angelo, three minutes, 26.9 seconds, 1929.

Pole vault, Atkinson of North Dallas, 12 feet, three and one-half inches, 1931.

Running high jump, Yarborough of Kaufman, six feet, three and one-half inches, 1928.

Shot put, Edmunds of Spur and Johnson of Jeff Davis, Houston, 51 feet two and one-half inches, 1926 and 1928.

Javelin throw, Hodges of Austin, 178 feet, seven inches, 1928.

Rice Professor Makes Important Medical Discoery

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW ORLEANS, April 1. (AP)—Discovery that electricity plays the role of killer in many poisons was reported to the American Chemical society today by Dr. G. Holmes Richter of Rice Institute.

Dr. Richter's discovery enables him to predict the toxicity of drugs, medicines and insecticides belonging to the colloid closs of chemicals. There are literally a million new combinations of these substances which can be made. By present methods it may take weeks to make just one and find out its effects.

By the electrical measurement, the toxicity can be computed in a few minutes, thus giving the scientist an advanced idea whether it may be worth while to make the substance. At present not many can be predicted because the electrical properties called dipole moments, are just beginning.

These electric charges belong to individual molecules. In effect, when a colecule has dipole moment, one side is electrically postive and the other negative. Some are heavily charged, other medium and the rest light.

The electrical charge determines how tightly these molecules stick to the tissue of humans, animals or plants. The higher the charge the higher they stick by the process called absorption.

Those that stick tightest are the most poisonous. Dr. Richtr has demonstrated this with 30 different chemicals, the dipole moments of which are already known.

MORE PROOF of RIVERSIDE QUALITY

"I Have Never Seen Anything Like It"
Montgomery Ward & Co. Chicago, Illinois
1319 W. Nickerson St. Seattle, Wash.
Gentlemen:
Three years ago in July I purchased a Riverside 33x6.00 for my Studebaker Commander. This tire was in service on the rear wheel for two and one-half years before changed to the front. It gave 49,126 miles of continuous service without ever having been off the rim, and my car has had hard wear, traveling over many miles of rough country roads. Such service as rendered by that tire is certainly worthy of publicity. I have never seen anything like it in automobile tires.
Sincerely yours, W. C. Bailey
This interesting letter from Mr. Bailey is one of many thousands in our files. It was entirely voluntary—sent to us without solicitation. Nothing was paid for it. It is a genuine expression of gratitude for meritorious service.

And Now We Offer
6 PLY RIVERSIDES AT 4 PLY PRICES!
UNLIMITED GUARANTEE
All Riverside Tires are guaranteed to give satisfactory service regardless of time used or mileage run.
Any tire that fails to give satisfactory service, will, at our option, be REPAIRED FREE OF CHARGE or replaced with a new tire—in which event you will be charged only for the actual service the tire delivered.
We'll match Riversides on the road against any tire and beat it in price. So why be satisfied with other 4 ply tires when you can buy full 6 ply Riversides for the same money?
Think of this—the BEST tires we have ever sold! The LOWEST prices in our history! The GREATEST tire values we have ever offered! That's what Ward's offer you today!
A genuine full 6 ply Riverside for the usual price of other 4 ply tires. A FULL 6 ply Riverside at the lowest price at which any heavy duty 6 ply tire has ever been sold. And 6 full plies (sometimes referred to as "8 plies under the tread") mean more strength, more mileage, more safety and more satisfaction.
Riversides are one of the oldest and most famous makes of tires in America. They have been sold for 20 years. Millions are in use today—on all makes of cars, on all sorts of roads, in all kinds of weather.
Riversides are made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. They are of the highest quality it is possible to produce. They are built to the most exacting set of specifications in the tire industry. They are backed by the strongest guarantee ever written.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: GOD IN CREATION.

Scripture lesson: Gen. 1:1_5, 26-31.

Gen. 1:1. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.

2. And the earth was waste and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep: And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

3. And God said, Let there be light: And there was light.

4. An God saw the light, that it was good: And God divided the light from the darkness.

5. And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And there was evening and there was morning, one day.

23. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: And let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the heavens, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

27. And God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.

Golden Text: In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.—Gen. 1:1.

Time: Geologists and astronomers vary by many millions of years as to the age of the world, and the data available are slight and precarious. Moses dates it as definitely as possible, "In the beginning."

Place: Many facts point to western Asia as the primitive home of the human race, probably Babylonia; but here also we are met by many conflicting theories.

INTRODUCTION

We now start on a most interesting and valuable course of study, "Having completed the study of the greatest Book of the Bible, the Gospel of John, the Book of Spiritual Beginnings, we turn to the fundamental Book of the Bible, which is the Book of Physical and Historical Beginnings. That is the meaning of its name, for "genesis" is the Greek for "origin." We are to study the iorgin of the universe and the world, the origin of man, the origin of the races, and in particular the origin of the great Jewish race which gave us our Bible and from which Christianity sprang.

The Book of Genesis

Genesis is the first Book of the Pentateuch, which means "the Five Books." These first five Books of the Bible are called "the law," "the law of God," or "the law of Moses." In numerous places through the Pentateuch Moses is expressly stated to be the writer.

The history opens with an introductory section (Gen. 1:1-2:3) which declares how God in the beginning created the heavens and the earth as the theatre upon which it was to be transacted. This is followed by ten sections of unequal length, which make up the rest of the Book of Gensis, and are introduced by titles of a uniform pattern: 'These are the generations of —', etc. The genealogies contained in the Book are not merely incidental and subordinate, but essential, and the real basis of the whole. They exhibit at once the kinship of Israel to all the nations of the earth, all being of one blood and sprung from one common stock, and their separation from the rest of mankind for a special divine purpose, God's gracious choice of them to be his peculiar people until the time should arrive for spreading the blessing of Abraham over all the earth." Prof. William Henry Green.

In The Beginning God

"In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth." "By these few simple words the 'gods many' of the heathen mythologies are swept away, the extravagant ancient cosmogonies are brushed aside; the deification of material things, the degradation of the God-head, and the fabulous origin of mankind—everything, in short, that distinguishes the pagan systems—is contradicted, and the world and the human race are set in a new and brighter light."—Prof James Robertson. Note that the wonderful account goes back to the very beginning. Note also, in regard to this first chapter, "its brevity, absolutely unparalleled; the history of many millions of years, according to the scientists, told in thirty verses; the merest outline sketch. It is like compressing the map of a continent into less than a single inch."—President S. C. Bartlett. "The heavens and the earth had a beginning; and as they had a beginning, therefore they must necessarily have had a cause. God made the heavens! They had a cause, and that cause was not anything unintelligent, not any accident, but a Divine, a forecasting, foreplanning, all-ordering, all-designing minds; and we infer this from the infinite signs and tokens of design that there are all around us, and that we know within ourselves."—Bishop W. C. Magee. "When did the creation occur? How long ago? All that we can gather from the record itself is that the creation occurred 'in the beginning'; a beginning that was definitely long ago. And that is precisely what science affirms about it."—Rev. D. J. Burrell, D. D.

A Name Growing in the Garden

Dr. Louis Albert Banks illustrates this verse with the story of the father who drew his son's name in the garden mold and planted seed in the furrow. When the boy saw his name growing up in the garden and was greatly excited about it, his father at first pretended that it came about through chance. But the boy would not believe it, some one must have contrived it; and from that start the wise father showed the lad some of the many evidences of design in nature and in his own frame, and led him on to a belief in a personal Creator of the universe.

"And the earth was waste and void." "When the material elements of the universe were first brought into existence, they were diffused and formless; that is, they were not collected to form the suns and planets and satellites, which now in such majestic circles wheel around each other in space. The nebular hypothesis is already a doctrine of science."—Prof. G. Frederick Wright, F. O. S. A.

God Said, Let There Be Light

"God said, Let there be light,; and there was light." "The gospel of Genesis is, that the creating is God's word."—Rev. W. S. Rainsford, D. D. "God's 'word' is the one medium or link between him and creation."—Horatius Bonar. "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."—John 1:1. Jesus Christ was this Word incarnated. What more majestic description of God's power could there be than these eleven words, all of one syllable? They signify the setting in motion of the dull and stagnant mass of nebulous matter, and the beginning of that vast revolution was not only to flash into light, but to come together into form. "Fiat Lux", "Let there be light," was the motto of the first great English printer, William Caxton, and light, not only physical but mental and spiritual, is ever the creation of God.

The Orde of Creation

The first chapter of Genesis goes on to picture the creation of (1) the firmament (that is, the separation of the sky from the earth); (2) the gras and trees; (3) the sun, moon, and stars; (4) the birds and fishes; and (5) the cattle and other beasts. "The record in the Bible is, therefore, profoundly philosophical in the scheme of creation which it presents. It is both true and divine" —James D. Dana, Professor of Geology in Yale University.

While Genesis does not pretend to be a textbook of science, yet its correspondence with the order of creation of the plants and animals, as shown by geology and with the history of the formation of the stellar universe as shown by astronomy is so exact as to be far beyond the wisdom of Egypt imbided by Moses. By itself, with nothing added from the remainder of the massive collection of sixty-six books, it would suffice to prove the inspiration of the Bible.

Man, The Ruler of the Earth

"And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness." "Man's chief distinction lay in his likeness to God: (1) a 'living' or immortal 'soul'; (2) an intelligent being; (3) with a conscience; (4) with a personality; (5) with a will; (6) with moral righteousness; (7) with affections;—with all these qualifications he was made ruler of all the earth."—Prof. Ira M. Price. The theory of evolution traces the stages of creation from the lowest organisms up to man with steady progression according to a definite plan, but stops short of that which makes man what he is, his soul. "Why have the lower animals no poets, no painters, no prophets, no apostles, no literature, no churches, no worship? Simply because they are not created in the image of God in the special sense in which man is."—Prof. John Stuart Blackie. "Man is God's masterpiece—'the diapason closes full in man.' Man only was created in God's image; he only could have fellowship with God."—Rev. George H. Morrison, D. D.

Let Them Have Dominion

"And let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the heavens, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

"Man shows his power to govern in his treatment of the wild animals As he increases in civilization, those he does not need he destroys. Man exercises the same power over the vegetable world. He carries wheat and corn and potatoes and coffee from land to land, and develops and transforms plants by cultivation in the most marvelous manner.

Man Who Knew A. Lincoln Is Dead

CHEYENNE, Okla., March 31 (AP)—J. R. Casady, western Oklahoma's oldest justice of the peace, died at his home here today at the age of 86. Heart disease closed his career suddenly.

Born in the south, Casady moved with his parents to Illinois, where the family lived on a farm adjoining that of Abraham Lincoln.

Lincoln was a frequent visitor at the Casady home, often eating Sunday dinner there. Although young at the time, Casady retained a distinct memory of the civil war president.

After the Casady family returned to the south, the son joined the confederate army in Texas when he was 16 years old to fight against soldier friends of the family.

Construction Nine Buildings at Texas University Begun

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Construction work on nine buildings, recently authorized by the board of regents, has been started at the University of Texas. The estimated cost is in excess of $3,000,000.

The start of the construction marked the passing of one of the most familiar buildings landmarks in the state, the north wing of the old main building, the first to be erected when the university was established.

In it the idea for the "Eyes of Texas," sung wherever sons of the Lone Star state congregate, was conceived and the colors of the University, the Orange and White, were chosen.

Fourteen governors of Texas have delivered addresses from the platform of the old auditorium and other speakers included William Jennings Bryan and President Theodore Roosevelt.

The north wing of the main building is being razed to make room for the new $1,000,000 library unit.

Commissioners Sell $9,000 in Warrants

AMARILLO, April 1. (AP)—Potter county commissioners recently sold $9,000 worth of warrants at 95 cents on the dollar, plus accrued interests to pay off their last obligations on the county's new courthouse.

"The price is the highest we have heard of recently," said County Judge Sam B. Motlow. "If all Texas counties could sell warrants at such a price we wouldn't have any financial troubles."

BUGGY SOLD

BEAUMONT, April 1. (AP)—A Beaumont company has made a sale that necessitated a special factory order to procure the vehicle. The company sold a steel-tired, topless buggy recently to a negro real estate dealer.

This was the first buggy the company had sold for more than two years. Purchase prise was $110.

Carter Predicting Choice of Garner

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—A "plain, blunt-spoken American" from the Lone Star state will be the next democratic presidential nominee, says Amon G. Carter, Texas newspaper publisher.

Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, arrived here yesterday by air predicting the Chicago convention will select Speaker John N. Garner.

"In this hour of national emergency when leadership is sorely needed," he said, "we in the southwest believe that John Garner is the most available man."

Carter flew with Capt. Frank Hawks, speed airman, from Fort Worth, encountering lashing winds which tore fabric off the wings.

He said Texas democracy is united and its delegation of 46 votes will be behind Garner solidly.

Cocklebur Bill Takes Credit for Hike in Oil Price

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 31. (AP) Taking part of the credit for an increase in oil prices in Oklahoma to $1 a barrel, Governor W. H. Murray said today that if he should withdraw state control, prices would drop to 20 cents a barrel within 30 days.

"The Tulsa oil men don't give any credit for the increase of oil prices," Murray said, "but I'll bet I could issue an order that would drop oil to 20 cents. That would show what did it."

A 42-cent tariff on oil, however, probably would result in a 65-cent price even with unlimited production, he declared. He added that a higher tariff would be necessary to result in dollar oil .

The tariff rate, he asserted, should be the difference between cost of production here and abroad based on $1 oil.

Borger Boy Creates Own Puppet Shows

BORGER, April 1. (AP)—The hobby of Marion Parris, 17-year-old Borger schol boy, has reached the proportions of a profession, and he now writes and presents his own puppet shows.

Parris was attracted by a marionette show in Oklahoma City when not more than 10 or 12 years old. He made his first puppet while recuperating from an illness four years ago, and since that time has been presenting shows before women's clubs and luncheon clubs, in school auditoriums and on fair midways.

"Nero, the Musician," is one of his latest original shows. He also is working on sketches from Shakespeare. He makes his puppets and works out his own stage settings.

The youth has received commercial offers, but he plans to enter the Chicago Art Institute when he graduates from high school this spring. He will pay part of his expenses out of proceeds from his shows.

Attempts Made To Rescue Babe From Deep Well

PICHER, Okla., March 31. (AP)—Miners and other rescuers drilled a shaft today beside a 250-foot core hole in which three-year-old Gerald Collins was lodged 20 feet from the surface.

The child fell feet first into the hole while playing near his grandfather, Sherman Collins, a watchman at the May Ann mine, two miles from here.

Workers nearby, hastily summoned by the mother who heard the child's cries, tried ineffectually to slip a noose over his body and drag him to the surface.

Using picks and shovels, rescuers sought to sink a shaft parallel to the drill hole and had gone down 5 feet into the hard rock and gravel when a power shovel was brought to the scene and placed in service at noon.

Mrs. Paul Collins, the boy's mother, heard whimpering responses to her efforts to talk to the child for about an hour after the accident but the cries died away.

Rescuers feared the boy was unconscious from injuries suffered when he fell. There was fear, too, that the child's arm was dislocated when a noose was attached and an effort was made to draw him to the surface. The noose slipped.

A power blower was brought to the drill hole and fresh air was forced down to the child.
