BUCK REVIEWS ABDUCTION

DEFENDANT CLAIMS HE WAS "HOOKED" INTO KIDNAPING PLOT

(By The Associated Press)

BARNSTABLE, Mass., June 23.—Kenneth Buck continued from the witness stand today his review of the kidnaping of Margaret (Peggy) McMath.

Kenneth with his brother Cyril are on trial for the kidnaping of the 10-year old girl who was taken from the Harwich Center grammar school on May 2 to be returned three days later after $60,000 ransom had been paid. The ransom was recovered in Kenneth's home.

Admits Complicity

Kenneth yesterday admitted his complicity in the kidnaping but said he was "hooked" into the case by a man named "Bill" of Hyannis. He said "Bill" told him that Neil C. McMath, father of the child, "knew all about it" and that it was not a "real kidnaping." He quoted "Bill" as saying McMath "needed money."

Kenneth testified today that he went to his brother Cyril, gave him a note and told him of the case.

"Cyril burned up the note on the floor," he said, and told me not to have anything to do with this thing. I told him I was hooked into it, and couldn't get out."

HUGH JOHNSON CITES COOPERATION UNDER FEDERAL PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23—Hugh S. Johnson, head of the national recovery administration, said today the work of bringing industry into trade agreements was moving faster than he had expected.

While only two industries—cotton textiles and soil pipe—have actually presented formal codes for approval, others are rapidly taking shape.

Before next Tuesday, when the first formal hearing is begun on the textile code, a consumers board will be set up to advise along with the boards representing labor and industry.

Efforts will be made to discourage price fixing.

"In these codes it will be proper for industry to say that it will not sell below cost of production," Johnson said.

"If they use the code to fix exorbitant prices then I should have to step in immediately in conformance with the law."

The stringent licensing feature of the bill, under which President Roosevelt could compel every industry to obtain permission to operate, will not be pressed unless deemed necessary.

"I don't want touse the licensing feature, for it is repugnant to every American idea," Johnson said. "I want to avoid inquisitorial powers and police functions."

He reiterated his expectation that industry would police itself by reporting violations.

Johnson intends soon to add some one to his staff to aid in stabilizing the oil industry.

He explained that at hearings on codes, all parties of interest could appear.

Wheat Revenue To Equal Last Year's

AMARILLO, June 23. —(AP)— A wheat crop of 7,000,000 bushels, just half as large as the crop of last year, will bring Panhandle farmers as much revenue as they received from 14,000,000 bushels a year ago.

The new crop is selling throughout the Panhandle at 60 cents a bushel and up against an average price of 30 cents last year.

Walter Barlow, head of the Great West Mill & Elevator company, estimated the crop today at 7,000,000 bushels, basing his estimate on the acre-yield reports from various counties where harvest is under way. Most of the dry weather grain is of good quality.

DOLLAR SLUMP OUTSTRIPPED BY ADVANCE

VALUES ARE POINTING FOR HIGH LEVEL SET BY ROOSEVELT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23. — American commodity prices have out-stripped the fall of the dollar and are pointing for President Roosevelt's goal of a level high enough to bring the country some prosperity.

For the first time since the stock markets and the commodity indexes started their climb, an official analysis has now indicated the spread between the true price rise and the dollar's depreciation as a consequence of gold standard abandonment.

Dollar Down 15 Per Cent

The Federal Reserve board's monthly review was out today with the statement that by the end of May—just before the latest decline began—the dollar was down 15 per cent in terms of French francs, the leading gold standard currency. The British pound had lost two per cent in the same time.

Six basic commodities, said the board, had by the end of May jumped 60 per cent since February. One-half of the rise corresponded to a general world rise, and the remaining 30 per cent represented dollar depreciation plus actual domestic rise. The commodities discussed were cotton, lard, silver, copper, tin and rubber.

There is still a long way to go to reach the 1926 average which is regarded as the Roosevelt goal, and pending which the dollar stabilization plans are being held off. The department of labor placed the June 17 index for all commodities at 64.5 against 100 for 1926. The course was charted steadily upward through the past several weeks; May 20 it was 63.0 and the succeeding weeks 63.3, 63.8, 64.0 and now 64.5.

Tax Collections Gain

With this clearcut evidence of a mounting tide went also the better business pointer of growing tax collections. Beer led the parade in May, surpassing expectations to turn in more than $11,500,000, plus several hundred thousand in special associated levies. At that rate it may yield $280,000,000 a year instead of the calculated $150,000,000.

Stock market activity spurted the yield from security transfer taxes to $4,704,000, more than double that for April.

May receipts in all classes for the first time were sufficient to bring collections for the fiscal year past the receipts of the previous year. The eleven months of fiscal 1933 yielded $1,368,238,226 against $1,350,734,652 for 1932's eleven months.

The boys had been swimming in a pond. Shortly after rain drove them to the house yesterday, lightning struck the building.

WAY IS PAVED FOR FURTHER PROGRESS

MACDONALD DECLARES U. S. STABILIZATION PROBLEMS REAL

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 23. — Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald as president of the world economic conference declared in a statement this afternoon that the conference was not going to adjourn but was continuing its work.

"I am entering the third week with a very buoyant and hopeful heart," he added.

Crisis Is Delayed

Despite yesterday's Franco-American rapprochement, which at least temporarily ended the currency stabilization crisis that threatened to wreck the conference, the question of adjournment was again raised in the steering committee this morning.

The British prime minister revealed this in his talk with the press. With a sweep of his hand he added dramatically: "but it was laughed off."

Mr. MacDonald said in substance that yesterday's developments had cleared the air and paved the way for further progress. He asserted that success of the conference depended on the stabilization of currencies, but pointed out that American difficulties in stabilizing the dollar are very real.

In any event currency uncertainties are not going to be allowed to block the conference, the prime minister made clear, and "all the work that can go on is going on."

France proposed a quota truce at the conference today which would enable countries using quotas as weapons against importations to keep them indefinitely.

The resolution is considered a counter-proposal to the intensive drive by the United States for complete abolition of all embargoes, quotas and arbitrary restrictions.

SUPPORT SOUGHT UNDER FARM PLAN

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 23 (AP)—Secretary Wallace asserted today that the keynote of the Roosevelt administration is that "we refuse to kid ourselves about what we have done or hope to do" and asked farmers to back his application of the farm adjustment act.

In an address prepared for a meeting of northwest farmers on the campus of the University of Minnesota college of agriculture, Wallace promised that if farmers do cooperate "the next 12 years will be a good deal brighter than the past 12."

"I am not here to boast about what has been done, for as yet we have nothing substantial or abiding," he said. "We have merely designed a framework; the enduring structure is not yet visible. It will come into being when, as, and if the farmers of the country wish it."

TIME-WORN VETERANS OF INDUSTRY ASTONISHED BY BUSINESS EXPANSION

(By The Associated Press)

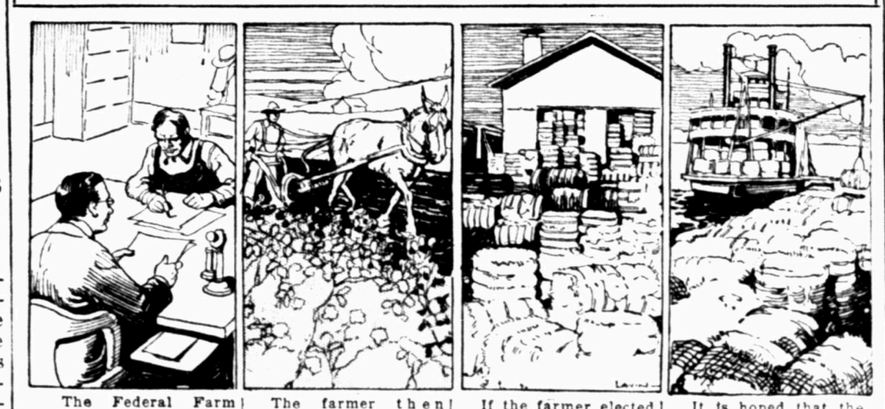

NEW YORK, June 23—Business last week continued its expansion, wholly unaffected by seasonal influences, said the Dun & Bradstreet review today.

Expected hesitancy from uncertainties regarding the application of commodity processing taxes, the agency asserted, was not apparent in manufacturing schedules which were generally above those of a week ago.

"The broadened sweep at which trade is now progressing," continue the review, "is eliciting astonishment from even the most time-worn veterans of industry, as the sustained strength of the upswing has passed boldly beyond even the most sanguine expectations.

"The further widening of employment and the continued rising trend of wages form the base of the larger buying power, the concrete evidence of which is apparent in the constantly widening distributive totals. Each week consumer demand is being extended to additional items, and as urgent needs for footwear and clothing are covered and accumulated bills paid, interest becomes more centered on furniture, house-furnishings, radios, musical instruments and even jewelry."

HOW UNITED STATES PLANS TO HELP COTTON FARMER

The Federal Farm Relief Administration plan for helping southern cotton farmers is to withdraw up to 10,000,000 acres from production through payment of cash benefits of $100,000,000 to $150,000,000. The government will begin a campaign June 26 among cotton growers for leasing, and if enough agree the plan will go into effect. Farmers would get from $7 to $20 an acre for leasing 20 to 30 per cent of acreage on which cotton is growing at from $7 to $20 an acre.

The farmer then would plow under the growing cotton on the land he leased to the government. If he wished he might plant it to new crops for feeding his family and animals. Another plan is offered under which the farmer might buy options on government-held cotton at six cents a pound in amount equal to the cotton he agrees to take out of production. The cash payment for this cooperation would range from $6 to $12 per acre, depending on productivity of the land.

If the farmer elected to buy options on the government cotton, at selling time he would market the remainder of his crop in the usual way. He would receive for his options the difference between their cost and the current cotton price. The theory is that reduced production would send up the price and that the farmer who accepts options will profit. The government's cotton pool was established when the Federal Farm Board was operating.

It is hoped that the plan can be put into effect August 1. Funds are available for starting it and additional money would come from imposition of a processing tax. It is believed the scheme would raise the price of cotton, which would always bring prosperity to the south, and would revive industry and stimulate employment. Also the burden of carry-over cotton would be reduced because of the smaller production. Cotton mill activity at the present time is at the highest level in four years.

NEW HOPE FOR FLIER HELD

MYSTERIOUS MESSAGE MAY HAVE REFERRED TO JAMES MATTERN

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Wash., June 23 — Powerful wireless stations of the north Pacific "listened in" today for an explanation of a mysterious call in which the signals for "SOS" and "aeroplane" were heard yesterday afternoon.

With Jimmy Mattern, missing round-the-world flier, sought off the Siberian coast, the almost unintelligible message, sent in Russian, lent hope that it might bring word about him. It was heard here by Ed Stevens, amateur operator, and by a naval radio operator at Bremerton who was off duty.

Sent From Ship

Stevens said it apparently was sent from some Russian ship. He distinguished the call letters RMAZ, with whom he said, the sender was trying to communicate. Station RMAZ is at Vladivostok.

The naval operator, however, who heard the message on his home set, said it sounded as though it came from RMAZ or RMAP, another Siberian station farther north up the coast.

Both agreed the signals were so faint and the static so bad they could not decipher the Russian message. They both distinguished the words "aeroplane" and "SOS".

Naval and coast guard stations as well as ships in the Pacific, listened throughout last night for further messages.

Missing Nine Days

Mattern is now missing the ninth day since he took off from Khabarovsk, Siberia, a week ago last Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time), for Nome, Alaska, 2,500 miles away.

It was pointed out here that too strong hopes should not be raised by the mysterious message, as the Russian sender might have been merely relaying orders issued by the Soviet government two days ago, to aid in the Mattern search.

Liquor Dealer Is Freed In Slaying

WICHITA FALLS, June 23. (AP)—A district court jury has acquitted William P. Anderson, admitted speakeasy proprietor, of murder for the shooting of W. C. Hodges, another illicit liquor dealer.

The slaying occurred last April 27, in Anderson's place. Anderson pleaded not guilty to the murder charge, saying he shot in self defense after Hodges had stabbed him ten times with a knife.

CREDIT EXPANSION FOUNDATION BEING LAID IN AMERICA

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 23—The return of currency from circulation—outstanding feature of the banking situation—is laying a firm foundation for the expansion of credit and the stimulation of business, financial observers maintain.

Money in circulation reached an all-time peak of $7,538,000,000 on March 8, largely because of the widespread hoarding of currency resulting from fear in the soundness of the country's banking structure.

"Flight From Hoarding"

Since that time circulation figures have decreased in such a spectacular manner that the development has constituted a virtual "flight from hoarding," bankers explain. On June 2, money in circulation totaled $5,696,000,000, a decrease of $1,842,000,000 from the high mark.

As analyzed in financial quarters, the returning currency has consisted of surplus money no longer needed to replace bank deposits which were frozen during the period of the bank holiday, together with hoarded funds now going into the purchase of commodities and securities.

The steady contraction of currency emphasizes the belief that a much smaller amount of paper money would be sufficient to accomodate the present volume of business activity, even on a broadening scale.

In the forepart of 1929, it is pointed out, with business active at much higher prices than now, an average of only about $4,700,000,000 of currency was in circulation, almost $1,000,000,000 below the existing figure.

Fliers Halt Here On Training Flight

Stopping briefly at Municipal airport, seven ships from Kelly Field passed through Lubbock this morning on a training flight from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to Fort Bliss, El Paso. The fliers were served sandwiches and coffee by Mrs. Clint Breedlove, wife of the airport manager.

Lt. N. B. Harding was in charge of the flight. The first ship arrived at 7:30. Take-offs were completed by 9 o'clock. Besides Lt. Harding and his passenger, Sgt. Frank A. Bullgawicz, others in the flight were Cadets D. W. Wickland, E. A. Warren, J. C. Mock, R. H. Noland, H. Smith and J. E. Stroud.

AIRMEN READY FOR FLIGHT

TWENTY-FIVE PLANES TO HOP FROM ITALY TO CHICAGO

(By The Associated Press)

ORBETELLO, Italy, June 23—After a final satisfactory drill this morning which lasted thirty-five minutes, War Minister Italo Balbo pronounced his trans-Atlantic squadron of 25 seaplanes ready to take off at dawn tomorrow on the first leg of a 6,100-mile flight via the sub-polar regions to Chicago.

Weather conditions over the Alps now are reported good and growing more favorable.

Extra Plane Along

No more than 24 planes will make the entire flight to Chicago, the 25th will fly only as far as Reykjavik, Iceland, or take the place of any plane forced to fall out anywhere up to that point.

The air minister and 100 crack Fascist fliers composing the expedition will spend the night at the high seas aerial navigation school here.

Thousands of applications for permits to witness the departure have been turned down in keeping with Balbo's wish for a minimum of ceremony. Even though it is to be the largest mass trans-oceanic flight ever attempted and therefore an event of extraordinary importance he wants to avoid all signs of ostentation.

Although no stops are contemplated on the 870-mile flight to Amsterdam, landings can be made if necessary almost anywhere along the route.

Three Gliders Are Towed By 4th Ship

LOS ANGELES, June 23 (AP)—Three motorless airplanes were hauled about the sky here by a fourth plane, acting as "locomotive."

This is understood to be first instance in aerial history in the United States in which as many as three trailers have been towed simultaneously by one motored craft.

The demonstration yesterday was regarded as a step toward realization of the dreams of airmen—that of operating aerial express trains with only the leading ship powered and the rest fixed so they can be cut loose from the train at any landing field along a transport route.

FOUR CHARGED IN DEATH AT GATESVILLE

ESCAPED INMATES OF REFORMATORY TRACED BY BLOODHOUNDS

(By The Associated Press)

GATESVILLE, June 23.—Grady Applegate and Willard Scott, two of four youths charged with murder in connection with the axe slaying of W. J. Leonard, Gatesville reformatory blacksmith, were captered at Morgan early today.

The others, James Anderson and Clarence Raines, previously had been tracked by bloodhounds and captured.

Applegate and Scott were trailed by bloodhounds into a railroad yard after a bloody handkerchief had been found by officers on a highway near Morgan. The handkerchief enabled the dogs to get on the true scent.

Offer No Resistance

The youths offered no resistance. They were found dodging about some boxcars. They told officers they had planned to catch a freight train at the first opportunity.

Sheriff Pearl Benson of Bosque county said that Scott made a statement about the slaying of Leonard, who was clubbed to death Wednesday and whose automobile was stolen.

Scott bore a wound in his left hand, inflicted by Constable Tom Gillespie of Meridian on the previous day when officers intercepted the fugitives. The handkerchief which led to the final capture had been used to bind the hand.

Returned To Gatesville

The youths were first taken to the Bosque county jail and then removed to Gatesville by the sheriff of Coryell county.

Reformatory officials believed Leonard was beaten while the youths were taking his keys from him. They had been workers in the shop.

The murder charges were filed last night by District Attorney Tom L. Robinson after Anderson and Raines had been questioned.

Anderson was sent to the reformatory from Fort Worth for robbery with firearms. Applegate was sentenced from Wood county for automobile theft. Scott, of Oklahoma City, was sentenced from Vernon for burglary. Raines, who had been in the reformatory but ten days, was sent up for attempted murder in Leon county.

TAX LOOPHOLES TO BE PLUGGED

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP) — Doubled determination today entered the drive to block avenues, legal and otherwise, by which many big incomes have been escaping federal taxation.

The acquittal in New York yesterday of Charles E. Mitchell on charges of tax evasion, which were based partly on stock sales to his wife made at a loss that permitted him to write off his earnings, served as a spur both to government prosecutors and to congressional backers of law reform.

The senate banking committee, which turned up the data used in the Mitchell prosecution and which, without questioning the legality of the acts uncovered also loss-sales made by partners of J. P. Morgan and Company, intends to pursue the same line of questioning next week when it holds hearings on Kuhn, Loeb and Company.

Socialites Now Sew On Their Own

By MME. LISBETH

Sewing your own has once again become women's national pastime. Dress materials are comparatively inexpensive, sewing machines never were better, and the electric variety solves the problem for the woman whose back never could stand the treading of the old type machine.

While patterns cannot be run by electricity, they have improved so vastly since mother was a wiz at deciphering the old type, can make gowns from the new with one hand behind her back, so to speak.

Atlanta, Ga., society women have gotten out their thimbles and thread and gone to work to combat the economic stress by making their own clothes—and liking it.

One young woman made a three-piece spring suit consisting of skirt, short jacket and long coat for a total of around $15, and had enough material left out of five yards to make a small hat to match. This was a nice piece of woolen material which she had pre-shrunk before making it up, and the cost included linings, buttons, bindings, thread, etc. The same girl made a handsome crepe dress for around $3, buying the material at a sale.

The advocates of "sewing your own" also claim that you get better materials and more individual styles. There are, however, two elements that are necessary to the successful home dressmaker. She must have a flare for style, and she must have time. One can always learn the rudiments of correct methods of sewing, but if you haven't a knack of giving clothes a smart look, better buy them ready-made. And if you have little time, you may give yourself a nervous breakdown instead of a chic gown by trying to do your own dress-making.

PREMIER WINS WITH HUMOR

"PAPA" COLIJN USES OWN METHODS IN MEETING CRISIS

BY ALVIN HALLMAN

LONDON, June 23 (AP)—Some men use a big stick in meeting a crisis; some pen honeyed and placatory words; some let problems solve themselves.

But "Papa" Colijn, the Dutch premier and head of the world economic conference commission on economics, has a method all his own—rare good humor.

Wins Esteem

Already known for his solemn-faced quipts in his own Holland and at the Geneva conferences, the veteran Dutch statesman has carved a place for himself in the hearts and esteem of the national leaders gathered here.

His English is meticulously perfect, although slow and sometimes a bit labored. He punctuates his remarks by jabbing the air with an automatic pencil—the point first and outward for particular emphasis or with the point down and with a vertical motion for just ordinary emphasis.

If he is standing, he is likely to begin his gestures at his ankles, bend his knees, and then sway from side to side to enforce his points. The laugh which generally follows is the delegates' concession that he again has put his point across.

Has Varied Career

Hendryk Colijn is an economist, industrialist, politician, editor, soldier. He is 64. His career has embraced such work as editor of De Standaart since 1922; soldiering in the Dutch East Indies; department chief of the foreign office; minister of war and marine; legislator; finance minister; president of the League of Nations conference for the abolition of trade restrictions, and prime minister.

Austrians Fear Nazi Terrorism

With German-Austrian relations near the breaking point, and the government in Vienna fearing a reign of terror by the Nazis as a prelude to seizing power, scenes like the above may be re-enacted. German government officials are shown being saluted by Vienna Nazis after they had flown to Vienna to attend a Nationalist-Socialist congress, and were met by government officials and told they were not wanted.

CHASED FROM RICHES

ANGORA (AP)—Turkish peasants plowing near Balikesser uncovered ancient tombs containing gold utensils and jewels. The governor of the district drove the peasants away and sent a hurry call to Angora for archaeologists.

PECAN ORCHARD IN CITY

FREIGHT RATE SLASH ASKED

JONES SEEKING HELP FOR DROUTH AREA IN SOUTHWEST

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—Representatives Jones (D-Tex) said railroads entering the drouth stricken area in northwest Texas, western Kansas and Oklahoma, southeastern Colorado and eastern New Mexico were seeking an agreement to place into immediate effect reduced freight rates on livestock feedstuffs.

Jones, chairman of the house agricultural committee, wired the executives of the Santa Fe, the Rock Island and Burlington system, urging them to reduce these rates to that area by 50 per cent.

Answer Received

He received a telegram from A. McKenzie, vice president and freight traffic manager of the Rock Island, saying:

"Find conditions are generally as outlined by you and we are willing to cooperate with other lines in establishing some means of bringing reduced rates to the territory in question as were established last season to eastern Colorado because of like conditions, meaning one half rate on hay and two-thirds on feed. Our traffic officers are working out details with other interested lines.

Cooperation Pledged

Jones said he also had received a telegram from S. T. Bledsoe, of the Santa Fe, stating that that line would be glad to cooperate with others on reduced rates.

"Drouth conditions in that section are the worst ever suffered in that part of the country," Jones said. "The American Red Cross advised me that they were taking steps to feed many dairy cattle but we need the lower freight rates to get feedstuff in for other cattle."

Jones also said Harry L. Hopkins, director of the federal relief fund, has sent a representative to the drouth area to make a report on how much assistance would be needed.

RANCHERS DONATE BEEVES

PECOS, Tex. (AP)—A carload of beeves—more than 30 head — was donated by ranchers of the Pecos section to an orphanage in Dallas. A railroad agreed to haul the car without cost, and Dallas packers slaughtered the animals free of charge.

DRY AGENT IS SHOT DOWN

ANOTHER OFFICER IS WOUNDED BY LIQUOR RUNNER SUSPECT

OSKALOOSA, Ia., June 23. (AP)—A liquor runner suspect resisting arrest late Thursday shot and killed Harry Elliott of Des Moines, a federal prohibition agent, and seriously wounded A. Murphy, a special employe of the federal liquor bureau.

The suspect escaped.

The officers chased him and a woman companion about five miles on highway 2 and were pulling up as the suspect slowed down. Elliott jumped out to halt him. As he stood by the car the suspect fired a shot gun full in his face, Murphy said.

Murphy reached for his gun but the suspect fired first and the charge struck him in the head, neck and shoulders. Murphy was brought to a hospital here in a serious condition but doctors said he probably would recover.

HIGHER WHEAT YIELD SEEN

RAILWAY MEN EXPECT PRODUCTION TO TOP ANTICIPATIONS

Upon returning from a trip over the Slaton division of the Santa Fe railway, E. A. Tusha, traveling freight agent, Thursday said grain dealers report a slightly greater wheat yield in that division than had been anticipated. Mr. Tusha and F. A. Baker, trainmaster at Slaton, had discussed crop movement plans with grain men.

"There is some confusion on the process tax that is to go into effect in July," Mr. Tusha pointed out. "What will be done about it is not clear.

No More Is Held

"Most elevator men state that no more wheat is being held this year than usual, although some estimate at least 25 per cent of the crop will be held. Wheat is just beginning to move.

Floydada and Lockney railroad and grain men told the two officials that the crop there was half harvested and would be very, very light. Around Plainview and Tulia and points between, the movement is just starting. The same is true of towns north of Tulia, with a better return than expected.

Movement Starts

Movement on the Crosbyton branch is also starting. There is little wheat on other Lubbock branches, with an occasional car. Movement on the main line to Farwell is starting, with improved reports in a few instances.

Additional switching service at Plainview is expected to be added as needed. The bulk of the grain movement will come within the next 60 days, it appears.

TO MOVE MILL TO LUBBOCK

VETERAN OIL MILLER TO MOVE PLANT HERE FROM WHITESBORO

Within 10 days moving of an oil mill from Whitesboro, in Grayson county, to Lubbock will begin, J. M. White, veteran oil miller, said here Thursday night.

Mr. White was to go to Whitesboro today, and dismantling of the mill is to begin soon. The El Pasoan said that he would be general manager of the company. A name has not been decided upon definitely, but Mr. White said Cattleman's Cotton Seed Oil company is being considered.

Employ 40 or 50 Persons

The mill, which also will have a feed mill in connection, will employ between 40 and 50 persons when it is first opened. He said additional details would be announced in about a week.

Mr. White has an option on a location, but he declined to reveal the place. He added that other sites might be considered. Mr. White is a stockholder in two Hill county oil mills. He recently sold El Paso interests. First announcement that a new mill would be brought here was made last week by F. E. Duncan, a local realtor.

Herbert Hoover To Become Librarian

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., June 23. (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover is to become a librarian.

The Stanford university library building is being remodeled to provide an office for Mr. Hoover, from which he will direct the unique Hoover war library. Additional space in the archives also will be provided to house additional material brought here from Washington by the former chief executive.

The collection is the largest of its kind. Many documents filed there dealing with secret diplomatic negotiations preceding the World war and after it, never have been made public.

Persia's parliament is called the "Mejliss."

"Sistie" in Studious Mood

BARUCH HAS UNIQUE POST IN OFFICE OF THE ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE

BY MELVIN E. COLEMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

There is an unprecedented situation in the state department at Washington where Bernard Mannes Baruch is occupying the office of Acting Secretary of State Moley.

Baruch is spokesman for the administration on world economic conference affairs but he has no official title and is acting without actually being an officer of the government.

Long a Demo Power

For 20 years Baruch has been a power in Democratic party circles, to say nothing of his having been an economic adviser of the Republican administrations under Coolidge and Hoover.

Distinguished by this long record of public service, he is konwn for his clarity of thinking on economic questions and for a shrewdness which had full play in his earlier years when he was amassing wealth by spectacular operations in Wall Street.

He is a tall, supple man of 62 who smiles easily with mobile lips and soft, pleasant eyes. His silvery hair testifies to his years. Otherwise he seems more like a man approaching instead of leaving middle age. Tact and patience are emphasized when his friends describe him.

Has Success Recipe

Years ago Dr. Simon Baruch, a Confederate war surgeon, gave a photograph of himself to his son Bernard. On it the father wrote:

"Let unswerving integrity always be your guide."

It is one of the prized possessions of the son. "Courage, integrity and application" is the Baruch recipe for success.

Baruch was a power in the Wilson administration. He was chairman of the war industries board, a member of the American peace commission and Wilson's right hand man in the unsuccessful fight to get the senate to approve the treaty of Versailles and put the United States into the League of Nations.

DELICIOUS CEREAL OVERCOMES COMMON CONSTIPATION

ALL-BRAN Provides "Bulk," Vitamin B and Iron

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN meets a basic need of the American dietary. It supplies "bulk"—so helpful in correcting common constipation. In eleven years, ALL-BRAN has won millions of satisfied users.

New tests show added reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory experiments prove that, in addition to "bulk," it provides vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN is mild. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EVENT WHICH TESTS SKILL OF HORSE RATHER THAN COWBOY BEING PLANNED

(Special To The Journal)

STAMFORD, June 22—A contest which tests the skill of the horse rather than of the rider will be a feature of the cowboy rodeo to be held in connection with the fourth annual Texas cowboy reunion here July 3, 4 and 5. The test is known as the cutting-horse contest and as far as can be learned here is not held in any other rodeo.

The contest to decide the best cutting-horse was inaugurated at the reunion last year and proved so popular that it is being repeated this year with changes in rules which will make the competition more difficult. The test has proved popular with the cowboys due to the great pride which they take in their horses. While the ability of the rider is considered by the judges, the winning of the contest depends for the most part on the horse.

Contest Explained

In the contest, a herd of cattle is placed in the arena and each contestant is required to cut out five animals marked by colored ribbons. Each cow must be put across the deadline designated by the judges, but on the first two attempts to put the animal across the deadline, the riders holding the herd will turn the animal back on him. Each time the animal is turned back, it is more difficult to cut out the next time. Speed, as well as the skill of the horse and rider, will be considered in judging.

An elimination contest will be held in this event on the morning of July 4 and the finals will be held before the rodeo spectators on the afternoon of July 5. The entrance fee is $5.00. First prize is $60.00, second $40.00, third $30.00 and fourth $20.00.

Rodeo performances will be held afternoon and night during the three days of the reunion with a total of $1455.00 in cash prizes offered. Contests will be held in calf-roping, wild-cow-milking, bronc-busting and steer-riding twice daily. Ranking in interest next to the cutting-horse contest will be the old-time calf-ropers' contest for cowboys over 55 years of age which will be held on July 3 and 4. First prize will be a saddle, second a pair of boots and third a pair of spurs.

A young Japanese author, Yusuke Tsurumi, turns out a full-length book in less than a month and in so doing writes over 14,000 Japanese characters daily.

Sharkey To Quit After This Year

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

COWBOY KYLE, a rip-snorting, line-busting halfback who spread a one-man wave of terror over the Southwest conference when he was playing for the University of Arkansas a few seasons ago, is a resident of Lubbock for the summer.

• • •

Don't be too surprised if Kyle's name doesn't appear in the Lubbock Hubber batting order Sunday and Monday against the Kelly Field Fliers, and again during the second half of the South Plains baseball league season. He was out there yesterday when Sled Allen called his hands out for a workout, and didn't look at all badly in the infield.

• • •

Kyle, who majored in football and journalism at Arkansas, lives here with his father. He has been out of town most of the spring, but plans to stay the remainder of the summer. He is the property of the St. Louis professional football team, with whom he played last year. There is talk of his going to the Chicago Bears of the National league, although Kyle himself doesn't talk much of it. He played baseball for Arkansas, but has never ventured into professional baseball, although considered a fair prospect. His literary ambitions and journalistic connections with various newspapers in Arkansas and Missouri net him something of an income during the summer. He plans to "cover" the Texas Tech coaching schools for a paper or two, writing interviews and special features and adding the professional football angle.

• • •

Never considered a very serious threat in football, the University of Arkansas wouldn't have been half so threatening on Southwest conference fields for a few years had Kyle been absent. He and Wear Schoonover former a passing combination that worked its way well into the hearts of some of the most stubborn defenses the conference has known. A big, strapping fellow, Kyle is even bigger and stronger than when he attended school. To look at him one is reminded of a football field, because he's just about the perfect type.

• • •

Conserve your shekels for the big series Sunday and Monday between the Hubbers and Uncle Sam's army officers. It will be perhaps the outstanding baseball classic of the season here. Off hand, we don't know of anything coming up that will outshine it from a personality viewpoint. There are two games Sunday, one Monday, and very reasonable admission rates will prevail.

• • •

A ball game that has all the prospective earmarks of hectic rivalry is carded this afternoon in the "National" league. Lubbock Auto company meets Kuykendall Chevrolet company at 6:15 o'clock at Fair Park. Great rivals in business, though neither will admit it, the Ford and Chevrolet sales and service men should battle to the death this afternoon.

In the "American" league, A. W. McKee company meets Lubbock Clearing House in one game and Huie-Ribble tangles with the Federal Employes in the other. One game probably will be played at the 22nd street park, but at this writing no definite places have been fixed.

• • •

Somebody else evidently believes this department "runs things to suit itself," or it might have been a gag. At any rate, somebody telephones and leaves a message with one of the girl friends asking that we have the Statute of Liberty moved from Long Island to Jersey City. Okay, bud, next time you are in Jersey, look around and speak to the old sister. Glad you suggested the move. It's been at New York long enough, anyway.

• • •

Here's a couple of additional names you might learn to pronounce before the Lubbock Country club invitation tournament, which starts July 1. Bays Bryant and Cotton McAfee. Of the two, we like McAfee because he's a deadly putter and approacher on sand greens, and because Bays will be handicapped by a back injury. But Bays may be mad enough, after Wichita Falls, to whale away and knock the pa out of par. He has done it, and can do it again. We'd name for you Jo Dick Slaughter if it was an open, medal play tournament. Jo Dick doesn't impress us yet as being a championship match play artist, but he's death when he sets out to shoot a low medal score.

AGREES TO MEET MAX BAER IF HE BEATS PRIMO CARNERA

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—Win, lose or draw against Primo Carnera next Thursday night, Jack Sharkey winds up his fighting career this season and there will be nothing to gain by arguing with him.

"If I beat Carnera I'll fight Max Baer in September for anyone," he announced today. "But after that—I'm going back to Boston to fish and hunt and play with my kids as long as I've got 'em. I won't hang up my gloves. I'll burn 'em."

The heavyweight champion was standing in the sun outside his training quarters, a scowl inches deep in his ring worn, bewhiskered features. He was in one of those mean, barking moods that with him indicate fighting edge, perfect physical condition.

"Every year it gets tougher. As soon as it gets warm my wife's folks want to go up to our place in Epping, N. H. My wife wants to go to Maine. The kids want to go anywhere there's lots of grass and water. And I want to go with them.

"Say you ought to see the place I've got just outside Boston. Trees and lawns and masses of shrubs and flowers. It's a swell spot to stretch out and read and sleep.

"That's what I'm going to do. And if I want to drink beer I can do it. I can eat ice cream, anything I want, and never worry about my weight."

DALLAS BEATS FORT WORTH

WASHINGTON GETS HIS HUNDREDTH HIT BUT IT'S NOT ENOUGH

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vernon "George" Washington, a dangerous natural hitter who patrols Fort Worth's rightfield, has the unofficial honor of being the first 1933 Texas leaguer to rip off a hundred hits.

In smacking three hits in three times at bat Thursday night, Washington clouted his way into the unofficial records with his 99th, his hundred and hundred and one hits of the year. He walked on his fourth appearance at bat.

Mates Get Licking

Washington's heavy bombarding of diminutive Sal Gliatto and lanky Joe Vance, Dallas right-handers, failed to save his mates from a 10 to 7 licking.

In getting three hits, Washington lifted his batting average to .357. He retained second place in the league's batting marathon.

Claude Passeau, big-hearted Beaumont hurler, made sure his mates would lose to the Tulsa Oilers by walking five batters in the first inning. With runners perched on all the bases, "Skeeter" Newsome banged a double down the leftfield line that proved the climaxing wallop of a four run stampede. The score was 9 to 1.

Hits Kept Scattered

A feature of the first inning was that after walking five batters, the Oilers were retired later when three batters struckout. Gus Johns kept seven Beaumont hits scattered to escape the danger zone.

Encouraged by the timely clouting of "Pid" Purdy, the San Antonio Missions stopped Oklahoma City, 5 to 2. Purdy got three hits, scored one run and knocked in two for his night's entertainment. His great night of hitting lifted his batting average to .377 and left him high and dry as the league's leading swat ace.

The Houston and Galveston game was not played because of inclement weather.

Marshall Area Hit By Second Twister

MARSHALL, June 23 (AP)—The second recent twister in the vicinity of Marshall struck yesterday at Woodlawn, 10 miles north of Marshall, demolishing N. R. Blevins' workshop and several outbuildings. Blevins fled from the structure an instant before it collapsed. No injuries were reported.

The twister cut a swath a quarter of a mile long, uprooting trees and denuding the area of vegetation.

WANT TO SELL SNAKES

ISTANBUL (AP) — The Turkish Chamber of Commerce, hunting avidly for something new in exports, suggests that the millions of snakes which are a bane to farmers might be exported to countries like Jugoslavia, which have big serum industries.

A cormorant, shot near St. Paul, Minn., in 1931, wore a leg band that had been fastened on at Lekkerkerk, Holland, in 1928.

SENATORS AND YANKS TIED FOR LEAD

WASHINGTON FINALLY REACHES TOP; HIT SPREE EXTENDED

By HUGH S. FULERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The might behind their own bats plus the difficulties the New York Yankeee have encountered on the road finally have pulled the Washington Senators into a tie with the world champions for the American league lead.

Continuing their terrific clouting, the Senators defeated the Chicago White Sox yesterday, 11-4, while the Yankees were dropping a 5-14 decision to the St. Louis Browns, and moved into a first place deadlock at 37 victories and 23 defeats. It marked only the third time this season the Yanks had been deprived of sole possession of the lead.

Win 10 Out Of 11

The Senators' victory was their tenth in 11 games in a winning spurt that has coincided with Manager Joe Cronin's batting rampage and with the Yankees' troublesome tour. On June 8 when the Yanks began the trip which has resulted in 10 defeats in 16 games, Cronin was batting only .303. Yesterday he again set the pace for his team with four singles and lifted his average to .352. Heinie Manush, another big gun in Washington's rush, carried his streak of consecutive hitting through 25 games.

Chicago's defeat dropped the Pale Hose into fifth place, a point behind the Athletics, who hammered out eight runs in the fifth inning and defeated the third-place Cleveland Indians 11-6. The Boston Red Sox scored a ten inning 9-7 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Pressure Is Eased

The pressure on the New York Giants, National league leaders, was eased a trifle when they shut out Cincinnati 4 to 0 behind the five-hit pitching of Carl Hubbell while the Phillies smote the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3 to leave the Cards a game and a half behind.

Ray Benge pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers into fifth place in the elder circuit, holding the Pittsburgh Pirates to four hits to win his fifth straight victory 9-0. Ed Brandt sent the Boston Braves into a sixth-place tie with Cincinnati with a 3-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, giving only seven safeties.

CANZONERI TO RISK CROWN

FIGHTS BARNEY ROSS TONIGHT IN FIFTH TITLE DEFENSE

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 23 (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, one of the finest human fighting machines the ring has has known, risks his world's lightweight championship for the fifth time in three years tonight against his most spectacular challenger, Barney Ross of Chicago's ghetto.

Climaxing a surprising four-year professional career, which found him defeating such trial horses of the ring as Billy Petrolle and Bat Battalino, Ross will tackle the hard-hitting champion, a champion that loves to fight, for 10 rounds or less at the Chicago stadium before a promised throng of 16,000 and upwards.

Chicago boxing fans, who have never seen Canzoneri fight a poor battle since his first appearance here seven years ago and who know his reputation as a money fighter, installed the champ as an 8 to 5 favorite hours before ring time with a lot of takers from the Ross group. The fight was the talk of Chicago's fistic rialto.

Ross will have approximately two pound in weight advantage, 135 to 133, and slightly better than an inch advantage in reach. He is 22, Canzoneri is 25.

RACKETEERING EXPOSED

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Government inquiry in New South Wales has disclosed that racketeers have been steadily obtaining a strong grip of the milk supply.

Bribery, corruption and adulteration have been rife in the milk trade, it has been revealed.

The racketeers controlled production and distribution, deciding what grades would be sold, where and at what price.

DUNLAP PLAYS SCOTT TODAY IN TOURNEY

NEW YORK YOUNGSTER ENTERS SEMI-FINALS IN BRITISH MEET

HOYLAKE, Eng., June 23. (AP)—George T. Dunlap, jr., pushed his way into the semi-final round of the British Amateur golf championship today by defeating Ronald Hoyle Hardman of Birkdale, 5 and 4.

Playing the same steady brand of golf that enabled him to eliminate C. Ross Somerville, Canadian holder of the United States Amateur championship, in the sixth round yesterday, Dunlap disposed of Hardman, an experienced tournament player, without trouble.

Never Lost Lead

The 125-pound New York youngster gained a one-hole lead at the first hole where Hardman pulled his second shot and missed a short putt and never was headed. He held a three-hole lead at the turn and finally ended the match on the 14th green.

Dunlap held a lead of four up at the end of the first eight holes but Hardman got one of these back at the ninth where he carded a bridie three.

The New Yorker, twice winner of the United States intercollegiate championship while a student at Princeton, again went four up with a birdie three at the 10th, halved the next three holes and then clinched the match with a birdie four on the long 14th.

Scott Also Wins

The Hon. Michael Scott, veteran from the Royal St. George's club, defeated Martin Schunch of Sandiway, 2 and 1, to gain the right to battle Dunlap this afternoon.

Cyril Tolley and H. L. Holden had a close battle with first Holden, then Tolley, then Tolley, then Holden and finally Tolley taking the lead.

Tolley finished the first nine with a one-hole lead but he lost the 12th and 13th to go one down. He squared the match on the 15th and then took two of the last three holes to win.

Dunlap was left as the sole American in the tournament when Thomas Arundel Bourn, British titleholder in 1930, came through with a one hole victory over Douglas Grant, former New Yorker now living in London. Bourn will meet Tolley in the semi-finals.

It has been estimated that erosion will affect the Confederate Memorial on Stone Mountain one inch every 100,000 years.

PARIS (AP)—French liquor dealers who have been hoping to flood the United States, have had the shock of seeing the trickle start the other way.

Hubbers To Get Practice Today

MANAGER SLED ALLEN DRILLS LUBBOCK TEAM FOR THREE-GAME SERIES WITH FLIERS

There will be no game at the College Avenue baseball park this afternoon, but the Hubbers will congregate there for a workout, one of the last before they tangle with the Kelly Field Fliers here Sunday and Monday in a three-game series.

Enthusiastic after scoring 29 runs to defeat Amherst in a South Plains League game Tuesday, the Hubbers are hustling through extended drills this week under the eagle eye of Manager Sled Allen in an effort to be in top form for the invasion by Uncle Sam's army officers.

The Fliers, sixteen strong, will arrive here early Sunday morning, play a double header that afternoon and a single game on Monday.

Slaton Next Week

A game tentatively set for today between Lubbock and Slaton to take the place of a scheduled South Plains league game Sunday has been postponed until next week, Allen said last night. Slaton offered to play the game next week, rather than today.

A new arrival at the Hubber camp yesterday was "Cowboy" Kyle, former University of Arkansas athlete who starred in football and baseball. Recently moved to Lubbock for the summer, Kyle probably will be a member of the Hubber staff during the remainder of the season. He showed up well in the infield yesterday.

Manager Sled Allen is striving to strengthen his team against the invasion by the San Antonio camp army officers. Nudie Moore, formerly of Littlefield, probably will pitch the opening game. Dick Ratliff, professional catcher from the Central league, is "signed" to catch the series here.

Southpaw To Start

Sergeant T. E. Newman, manager of the Kelly Field team, has announced that Thomas G. (Boob) Goodwin, a southpaw, will start the first game Sunday afternoon. Goodwin, formerly with San Antonio of the Texas League, had been pitching for the Mexico Nationals of San Antonio before enrolling at Kelly Field. Prior to playing in the Texas League, Goodwin was a crack amateur and semi-pro twirler.

ROOSEVELT TO BE INVITED

TO ASK PRESIDENT TO DEDICATE LEGION HOME AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, June 23. (AP)—According to A. Garland Adair, chairman of the American Legion Texas centennial committee, an invitation has already been extended by the committee to President Franklin D. Roosevelt to be present and deliver the address at the laying of the cornerstone for the million dollar American Legion memorial which is to be built at Austin from funds derived from the sale of the 1,500,000 silver 50-cent pieces authorized to be coined by the government hints in the Connally-Patman bill which was signed by the president last week.

R. O. Whiteaker, secretary of the committee, wired Senator Tom Connally to ask for the pen used by the president in signing the bill. It will be listed "exhibit No. 1" in the museum which it is hoped will be the finest museum in the south.

Senator Connally has informed the committee that the president gave him the pen for that purpose, but that the presence of the chief executive of the nation at the cornerstone laying will have to be taken up later.

In case he is unable to be present when construction begins, he will be invited to visit the institution and deliver an address at its dedication which will be held the entire week of March 2, 1936.

INFERIOR TYPE SAID TO HAVE BETTER CHARACTER IN AT LEAST ONE SENSE

CHICAGO, June 23. (AP)—People of the so-called inferior type actually have better character in at least one sense than the average of the population, the American Association for the Advancement of Science was told today.

This conclusion was drawn from a study of "moral behavior" reported by Dr. Emilio Mira, psychologist of Barcelona, Spain. One way in which he tested the "moral behavior" of various classes of people was to note the percentage who voluntarily offered their blood for transfusion to aid the victim of an imaginary accident.

Results showed, said Dr. Mira, "that individuals composing what are usually considered to be the inferior grades of society possess a truer spirit of self-sacrifice than the higher; that is to say that mental defectives, criminals, indigents and soldiers have furnished a higher percentage of those willing to offer their blood than the average of the population."

There is no such thing as "normal" moral conduct, Dr. Mira said his experiments have shown.

"The standard of moral judgement," he went on, "not only varies from one person to another but differs also in the same person, according to the different kinds of situations with which he is faced and the moment in which he makes the judgement.

"There are certain classes of people that are considered as morally deficient and who, nevertheless, in behavior tests have shown themselves more unselfish than those regarded as normal.

"Moral conduct does not depend upon the existence of any definite general factor or motive. Its causes are more likely to be found in the evolution of emotional attitudes than in a process of reasoning."

Lindbergh Hop To Greenland Planned

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is considering a flight to Greenland and Iceland this summer to take charge of an aerial survey of that territory for the Pan-American Airways system, of which he is technical adviser.

Juan T. Trippe, president of the system, said an expedition will sail late this month to carry on further studies of the northern transatlantic flying route. If he is able to leave his duties here, Colonel Lindbergh may join the expedition later by plane.

The work of gathering data on flying conditions along the northern route is being carried on in conjunction with European airlines, including Imperial Airways and the French Aeropostale.

The sheriff's department believed a revenge motive was responsible.

FLOOD THREAT FACES CHINA

YANGTSE RIVER GOES ON RAMPAGE; LARGE AREA THREATENED

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS

SHANGHAI, June 23 (AP)—China's great river, the Yangtse, is threatening to inundate numerous cities, towns and farm lands within its vast valley, comprising the heart of the nation.

The Yangtse, which has undergone a phenomenal rise in the last fortnight as a result of continuous rains, now laps the tops of dikes protecting the nation's granary.

The stream threatens to repeat the great floods of 1931, following which 7,000 miles of new dikes were built at a height believed sufficient to remove likelihood of the danger which now impends.

Grave alarm is felt in the district through which the Yangtse flows. Emergency measures are being put forth to strengthen and raise the dikes. Numerous minor breaks have occurred, however, and isolated areas have been flooded.

The danger that a still greater flood menaces North China loomed when the nationalist government published a report by exports studying the Yellow river saying they believe the Yellow river is on the verge of leaving its present course in northern Honan province, where the stream bends sharply to the northeast, and returning to the old course through eastern Honan and northern Kiangsu to the sea.

Should such an eventuality occur, it would mean a disaster of the greatest magnitude, for the area through which the waters would carve a new channel is inhabited by tens of millions of persons and encompasses thousands of square miles.

Road To Recovery

As the great depression of the thirties sinks into what we all devoutly hope will be its final coma, it is instructive to look back at the death-bed scenes of former depressions and see how they compare with this one.

By one way of looking at things, they are all much alike.

In former times, as now, the upward turn began before people realized it. Commodity prices began a slow but steady climb, security prices advanced, scattered factories began to put men back to work, people started buying things again—and then, the first thing anyone knew, we were out of it and there was a clear road ahead again.

That seems to be very much the way things are working out now. But there are one or two differences, and they modify the whole picture in a way that it is impossible to ignore.

* * *

In the first place, no previous depression led to such far-reaching and drastic action by the federal government. We have never before had anything like the farm bill, the industrial control bill, and so on. No previous depression forced us off the gold standard; none ever caused so much power to be given to the president.

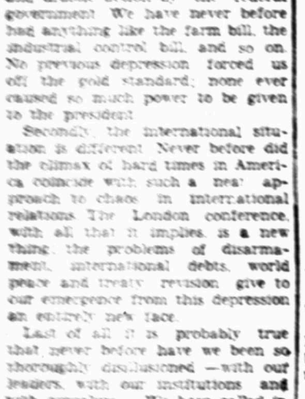

Secondly, the international situation is different. Never before did the climax of hard times in America coincide with such a near approach to chaos in international relations. The London conference, with all that it implies, is a new thing; the problems of disarmament, international debts, world peace and treaty revision give to our emergence from this depression an entirely new face.

Last of all, it is probably true that never before have we been so thoroughly disillusioned—with our leaders, with our institutions and with ourselves. We have called in question the basic features of our national life. Radical as our recovery program may seem, it is mild as milk compared with what the great mass of people will demand if recovery is delayed along the way.

* * *

We are coming out of it in a different way than we did other times. To say that we shall presently go on in the old paths simply because "we have always recovered before" is to talk complete nonsense.

UNTIL recently, The Plainsman always had an idea that he'd like to spend his declining years as night editor of a newspaper. Next to cutting up paper dolls, that's about as nice and quiet a job as there is.

But now he's changed his mind.

He's decided that he'd like to spend the years from 75 to 90 teaching philosophy in a college.

* * *

Philosophy is a great subject.

Furthermore, the teaching of it offers a wonderful opportunity because nobody can prove the teacher's wrong on anything.

About all we know of philosophy is that you mustn't cry over spilt milk.

Aside from that sterling discovery, which preceded the Chicago fire, very little else has been actually discovered about the subject.

* * *

OH, there are a lot of theories. In fact, the woods are full of them.

But there's nothing in philosophy as certain as, for instance, there is in arithmetic. There isn't anything in it like two-and-two-make-four.

So you can easily see what leeway there is in philosophy and the teaching of it and don't let anybody kid you.

It's a nice quiet field, especially for the fellow who is tired of the hustle and bustle.

* * *

In this day of smartalecks and wise cracks, nothing is quite so refreshing as the honest admission "I don't know".

* * *

ONE of the principal things needed to become an artist of any sort is a name that is well nigh unpronouncable in the hinterlands.

A guy may be the best piano player in the world, the best violinist, the best singer or the best sculptor but if his name is Smith, Jones, Brown or Johnson he hasn't got a chance.

* * *

You can take almost any old boy who can play the scale on a fiddle and who can top a Grecian profile with a mop of curly black hair and send him around the country in a triumphant tour—provided you bill his as Feodor Prezmmilskioff or something like that. Further, he'll get 700 to a thousand bucks a night—whether he draws that much through the gate, or not.

But take some old boy by the name of Jackson, or Reynolds, or Watson and it doesn't make any difference how good he is.

About all he can hope to do is go out with a chautauqua or pick up odd jobs playing at school houses.

* * *

WHAT this country needs to do is to become race-conscious in the realm of music and art.

America produces the best athletes, the greatest business men and bankers, the finest doctors and attorneys.

Why doesn't it produce, if not the best artists, at least those as good as the other countries?

* * *

The answer is, it does produce them but the yokelry won't believe it.

This is a young nation and early in its formative period everybody was too busy building an empire and laying the foundation for it to spend much time on music.

As a result, our early Americans got in the habit of listening to the foreign stars because there were plenty of people across the sea who had time to practice—there wasn't anything else much for them to do except pick olives or herd sheep.

Well, we just let the habit get us down, that's all. And, with the help of a highly proficient ballyhoo on the part of the boys with the funny names, we've still got it.

* * *

MAUD POWELL showed 'em she could play the violin with the best of the boys from over across the pond. Reinald Werrenrath, the singer, rose to the heights of success and Mary Garden and Marion Talley didn't do so badly, either. But they're exceptions to the rule.

We've got plenty of that kind of talent in this country, all right, and its worth something to use, too.

The only trouble is, we don't realize it.

* * *

People who want the world with a fence around it are always the kind who hate to see the other fellow get even a small portion.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says there's no doubt that the meek will inherit the earth. Considering the mess it's in, you couldn't wish it off on anybody else.

* * *

There are just two workable plans: either the people use the government, or the government uses the people.

The Barter Movement In Its Last Phase

Administration Warns Against Overoptimism; Points Out Relief Plans Experimental And Solid Ground Is Lacking

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 23.—"Whoa!"

That's the expression unanimously used by the people charged with rescuing us from the depression when anyone becomes exuberant on the theory that permanent recovery already has begun.

It's one of the most remarkable phenomena of the "New Deal" administration. Roosevelt at his press conferences cautiously admits a little encouragement, but expresses himself in "hopes." Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins announces a relatively large jump in employment and payrolls, but warns it isn't enough to keep production increasing. Industrial Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson privately warns that there may be a serious crash unless a more solid foundation is built for prosperity. Other officials privately or publicly echo the thought.

Butcher

Still "Experimental"

The big sections of the recovery program are still spoken of as "experimental." Nobody professes to assume that they're sure to succeed. Everyone deprecates the importance of the recent rise in industrial production, commodity and securities prices, insisting that there's no evidence for any solid base for such improvement beyond the general belief that a great attempt is to be made to build that base.

The attitude is directly opposite that of the previous administration—that confidence could be restored by ballyhoo.

* * *

Facing Facts

Of course Roosevelt and his people have profited by and are anxious not to make the same mistake.

They fear that recent improvements, which may be largely the result of inflation fear, will dim the country's realization of emergency and they won't be gleeful even among themselves until they know that there has been a large increase in purchasing power.

Business Index Up

It's a good thing to know that the general business index is up four per cent above this time last year, that freight car loadings are 14 per cent higher, that electric power production is 5.8 per cent up, that farm prices have risen along with automoblie and steel ingot production.

But members of the "Whoa!" school of thought hasten to point out that department store sales rose only one point in May and that if you count in the fact that there was one more business day in the

Scrambling for Jobs

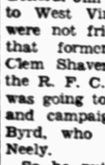

Senator Neely of West Virginia undertook to blow up the civil service when he found Postmaster General Jim Farley was giving jobs to West Virginia Democrats who were not friends of his. He heard that former National Chairman Clem Shaver was being placed in the R. F. C. and that another job was going to another Farley friend and campaign comrade, E. Percy Byrd, who is also unfriendly to Neely.

So he put in a bill making all government jobs worth more than $3500 a year subject to presidential appointment and Senate confirmation. Other senators realized this would open many important civil service and emergency bureau jobs to them, so they passed it after making the limit $5000. Roosevelt spiked it.

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 23. (AP)—According to superstition, former Governor Dan Moody is destined to have seven years "hard luck." He killed a house cat recently and everybody knows about the old saw: "Kill a house cat and have seven years hard luck."

The Moody case was extraordinary and perhaps the contingency may stave off the goblins. The cat did things to the former governor before Moody did things to the cat.

Face Scratched

Moody was driving his car home late one night. He got out to open the door to his garage. The house cat was perched on a ledge above the door and scrambled down into Moody's face. Its sharp claws scratched the ex-chief executive's open countenance in several different directions. There were marks something like the figures expert skaters cut into the ice.

Moody got a small calibre rifle and finished the cat; at least he hopes the legend about cats having nine lives is not true. It could not be true in this case, he thinks, because after he killed the cat he had its head sent to pasteur institute for examination for the rabies.

Keeps His Distance

Former Governor R. S. Sterling, Governor Ferguson's immediate predecessor, has been in Austin only one time since he quit the chief executive's office on January 17. He has been enjoying a rest at his bayshore home near Houston. He spent a brief visit here during the legislative session, but merely made the rounds to greet some of his friends in the capitol. He had no comment to make about politics or his future plans. Mrs. Sterling was with him and she received a cordial reception as did her husband.

Lots of money has been made by people who got into the stock market in the past 60 days, says a financial writer. Yes, but just think how much more money was made by people who got out of it four years ago.

Scientist says silver is the best conductor of electricity. That's right—we get a shock every time we are handed back the change from a dollar bill by a taxi driver.

It's a funny world we live in—where the banks that are really solid are the ones that are the most liquid.

CO-OP FAVORS COTTON PLAN

CONFIDENCE GIVEN IN GOVERNMENT PROGRAM FOR REDUCTION

NEW ORLEANS, June 23. (AP)—Confidence in the government's cotton acreage reduction plan was expressed here by delegates to the convention of the American Cotton Cooperative association.

The group elected Norris C. Williamson of Lake Providence, La., former Louisiana state senator, as its president, to succeed U. B. Blalock of Raleigh, N. C.

Two Re-Elected

E. F. Creekmore, vice president and general manager, and C. O. Moser, vice president and secretary, were re-elected, but no action was taken to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of H. G. Safford, vice president and sales manager.

Two new cotton co-operative associations, the South Texas Growers association, and the West Texas Cotton Growers association, were accepted into membership.

Officers Named

Officers of the former group, which is headquartered at Corpus Christi, were named as follows: J. E. Montgomery, Tyman, president; Roy Jackson, Sinton, vice president, and J. S. Burgess, Corpus Christi, secretary.

The West Texas group, with headquarters at Abilene, was incorporated with T. E. Alvis of Roby, as president and S. E. Clark, Abilene, as secretary.

the nations to undertake not to enact new prohibitions or quotas but permits them to maintain quotas presently in force for an indefinite period. Agricultural products, however, are excluded from the proposed truce.

In the meantime eight committees were struggling with grave tasks, the principal subject being an effort to draw up a permanent monetary standard. Groups wrestling with this vital problem concentrated wholly on American proposals.

British Sympathetic

High British quarters made no effort to conceal their serious concern over the continued gyrations of the dollar, but with America's inability to stabilize at this juncture made clear, the British expressed sympathy with the position of the United States.

Conference quarters in close touch with the developments at private meetings of two sub-committees, which are considering the American proposal to return to a definite monetary standard when conditions permit, expressed great encouragement over the attitudes of the various nations in these discussions.

All the important powers were authoritatively described as trying to bring divergent policies together rather than each fighting a knock-down drag-out battle for its individual view.

The delegates of the gold countries were described in high conference quarters as willing to work out solutions of economic and financial problems in theory at this time, although they expressed the firm conviction that no agreements could be reached until stabilization had been effected.

ITALIAN FLIGHT

will descend at the Dutch metropolis six hours after leaving Orbetello, which is 60 miles from Rome. Following a night's repose at Amsterdam the expedition will continue on to Londonderry, northern Ireland, a distance of 630 miles.

From Londonderry the route is as follows:

Londonderry to Reykjavik, Iceland—930 miles.

Reykjavik to Cartwright, Labrador—1,500 miles.

Cartwright to Shediac—800 miles.

Shediac to Montreal—500 miles.

Montreal to Chicago—870 miles.

While a courtesy visit to the Century of Progress exposition is the official reason for the trip, of greater importance is Balbo's desire to collect data for future regular transatlantic air communications.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

Business diminished on the setback which carried July off to 9.28 and December to 9.69. At midday trading was comparatively quiet with the market holding fairly steady at rallies of a few points from the lowest or about 3 to 5 points net higher.

Later in the first hour the market reached 3 points on realizing and owing to some expectation of needed rains in the belt.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—An atmosphere of indecision pervaded financial markets today and prices of stocks and staples mulled around in an extremely narrow range.

The American dollar was again erratic in foreign exchange transactions, slumping in the first hour and rallying later. Stocks rallied moderately in the first hour, but this early show of hopefulness gave way to apathy that resulted in most of the leaders dropping their initial advances. Wheat and corn eased, but cotton held fairly steady. Bonds were irregular. Bar silver was heavy, losing 7-8 of a cent an ounce at 34 7-8 cents.

Gains of fractions to a point or more were recorded by shares of Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Case, American Smelting, Chrysler, Woolworth, American Can Bethlehem Steel, Union Pacific, Lackawanna and Chesapeake & Ohio, American Can ran up about 2 points at one time, then quickly sank to around its opening level. American Telephone was without much support and dropped a point. U. S. Steel sagged a trifle, as did Westinghouse, Johns-Manville and some of the oils.

Mitchell Expected To Make Comeback

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—Wall Street expects a "comeback" by Charles E. Mitchell.

Mitchell, having brushed away the tears that welled when he heard a jury foreman say "not guilty" yesterday, visited the financial district. His appearance in several places was greeted by shouts of congratulation.

REPORT GIVEN ON COTTON

FIGURES RELEASED BY STATE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

State department of agriculture figures on Lubbock county cotton acreages and production for the past five years, 1932-1928, have been forwarded to County Agent O. G. Tumlinson by J. E. McDonald, Austin. The figures are radically different in acreage estimated from those of local cotton men.

Austin's figures are as follows:

Year	Bales	Acres
1932	92,000	158,700
1931	70,000	167,000
1930	33,000	199,000
1929	45,000	207,000
1928	35,000	203,000

Based on the above figures, average lint yield per acre for these years were: 290, 209, 83, 109 and 86 pounds.

Following are the estimated yields and acreages for the same years, the acreages based on estimates of local cotton men except for 1929 when the U. S. bureau of the Census figures were used:

Year	Bales	Acres
1932	94,291	247,000
1931	72,308	225,000
1930	33,839	205,000
1929	45,926	203,276
1928	35,644	205,000

Using these figures as the basis for lint production, the yields were as follows: 191, 160, 83, 112, 87.

Average yield per year for the five years, based on the state figures, was 155 pounds of lint, while those based on the local estimates was 126 pounds.

VOICE IN A WILDERNESS

A SHOPPER may wander, aisle after aisle, counter after counter, through a wilderness of "bargains." Things so cheap that yesterday's prices seem to have been ridiculously high, yesterday's purchases unwise and made too soon.

It is a fact that materials and manufacturing costs have been cut. Sound merchandise does cost less. But how often the "bargain," put to legitimate use, proves entirely a phantom. Furniture should be made to live with, not just to be sold. Shirts and socks should give service on the person and through the laundry, as well as appeal to eye and pocketbook in the store. Dress fabrics, cut into little frocks, must be exposed to sunlight, hard wear and repeated tubbings.

How, in this wilderness of manufactured things, can a person be sure of buying the genuine? What is to be his guide? Advertising is the answer! Advertising is the "voice crying in the wilderness." It is a message to you from merchants who have merited your confidence in the past and to whom that confidence means business life. Advertising brings the announcements of manufacturers who would not and could not presume upon your credulity.

In today's market it is more important than ever that you heed the advertisements—that you ask for and receive the kind of merchandise that can be advertised!

IF YOU WANT TO PLANT A GOLD MINE, TRY SOME "JAPANESE CLOVER" SEED; NEW LEGUME FOUND TO ENRICH POOR SOIL

BY CARL CRANMER

MURRAY, Ky. (AP)—A new legume, one which agricultural specialists boldly declare may produce a revolution in farming practices of the south, is just emerging from the experiment stations.

It is lespedeza sericea, a species of the lespedeza found growing wild in Asia years ago but differing from other varieties that have been tried in the south in that it is a giant perennial.

Already, for a limited number of growers who have been so bold as to pay the almost fabulous amounts demanded for an ounce of seed, it has proved a veritable gold mine in a year when farm profits have been few and far between.

KNAPP STARTED IT

Thirty-five years ago the late Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, father of Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, and then a high official in the U. S. department of agriculture, sent from Japan a small package of lespedeza sericea, commonly known as Japanese clover. The seed was forgotten until recently, after small portions of the package had been sent to various part of the country for planting.

Only recently has the importance of this legume been recognized. It has been found that the seed when planted on a soil that apparently would grow nothing at all, has produced a rich crop and when this land later was planted to grain, had a high yield. Corn on this land averaged 65 bushels, barley 50 bushels, oats 70 bushels, and cotton produced seven and a half bales from four acres.

Pound Worth $5

Here in Calloway county, a dark-fired tobacco and dairying region where a soil-building legume is needed, H. T. Waldrop paid an average of $23.25 a pound for 26 1-2 pounds of the seed, which yielded 7,800 pounds now worth $5 a pound.

So valuable was the crop that Waldrop erected a tent in the field and hired men to guard it night and day.

Across the line, in Tennessee, E. M. Coffman, of Weakley county, cleared $8,000 on two ounces of seed that he planted in 1930. Today he has 41 acres seeded to lespedeza, probably the largest acreage in the world.

Long Undeveloped

Lespedeza sericea, the "Japanese clover," first was brought to America and planted at the government experiment station at Rosslyn, Va., but it was not developed. In 1924, a quarter of a century later, it was rediscovered on an abandoned section of an experiment station, and tests were renewed.

As a result of these experiments, Director Mooers, of the Knoxville, Tenn., experiment station, has declared that "it looks as if it is going to revolutionize the agricultural practices of the country."

The special virtues of the plant, the experts say, is that it will grow on poor and "sour" soil without applying lime or fertilizer, something that often has been necessary in starting other legumes to build up poor soil. It also is drought resistant, and, like other legumes, takes nitrogen from the air to enrich the soil.

Good Forage Crop

It is declared to be an especially good forage crop for hay or pasture. It grows to a height of three or four feet, has small stems, a large percentage of leaves, may be cut as much as three times in a season, producing as high as three tons to the acre at a cutting.

The fact that it is perennial removes the expense of seeding every year. When grown for seed it will produce as high as 500 to 1,000 pounds to the acre.

Agricultural experts hail lespedeza sericea as a legume which may revolutionize southern farming practices. The plant, brought from Asia, is said to be especially fitted for building up poor soils. By cultivating it for seed, some growers have made small fortunes. One of these is H. T. Waldrop of Murray, Ky., pictured here in a field of lespedeza. The close-up shows an individual plant.

Come Sun And Tide!

The cellophane parasol and the velvet bathing suit are the two high-spots to date in the fashion show that is being staged this summer at the Chicago Century of Progress exposition by Mrs. Ford Carter. The velvet suit can go right into the water and out again—it's washable velvet, in a handsome brown tone with gold lights, made with a halter-neck and one single strap up the back which can be let down for sunbathing. The cellophane parasol is the trickiest beach accessory this season. Pale yellow, like the golden lights in the suit, it keeps the worst of the sun's rays off a girl yet doesn't hide her beauty.

CONFERENCE SET FOR NEXT MONDAY AT KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, June 23. (AP)—The government's big job of putting its wheat program before the farmer will begin in Kansas City, Monday.

M. L. Wilson, wheat production administrator and sponsor of the domestic allotment plan, notified grain men here he will open a two-day conference then with agricultural extension workers and county agents of Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

Plan Rapid Survey

"Those who attend each regional conference will make plans for a rapid survey by the county agents in every wheat raising county to get information on local conditions which the administration needs before beginning his program," the letter from the agricultural department noted.

June 30 and July 1 a similar conference will be held in Spokane, Wash., involving western states.

A third conference for the states of North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana will be held July 5 and 6 at Fargo.

SUDDEN RISE IN GALVESTON TIDE IS UNEXPLAINED

GALVESTON, June 23. (AP)—What caused the sudden rise in tide that drove campers off the beach here yesterday, remains a mystery to weather and hydrographic bureau officials here.

An earthquake or a landslide on the floor of the gulf is supposed to have brought about the tide that rose rapidly and receded just as fast. However, seismographs at St. Louis and Little Rock failed to record any temblors.

Weather conditions prior to and at the same time of the phenomon were in no way responsible, said U. S. Meteorologist I. C. Plummer. The wave merely rose suddenly, lapping over the dry beach sand for several hundred yards in some spots. The gulf had been calm and there was no wind of consequence.

No damage was reported, although fences near the portions of the beach frequented by campers were decorated with bed clothes and other camping paraphernalia that took an unexpected ducking.

People in the permanent camps and Galvestonians generally knew nothing of the disturbance until daybreak when they say pools and water marks left by the high tide.

Small Girl–Big Job

To this pretty 11-year-old Miss, Anita Carmen Pradillo, of New Orleans, La., fell the distinction of performing the official act that opened the first New Orleans to Chicago of the lakes to gulf barge service. Anita performed the ceremony, called the "Wedding of the Waters," with a bottle of water from Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River. (Central Press).
