A ruling by the Texas Attorney General the past week means some extra work come August in a number of Texas counties. It seems that someone overlooked one little item when a bill was passed in the legislature, and now Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled that all counties in Texas, regardless of size, must put in jury wheel systems.

Heretofore, counties under 25,000 population had jury commissions to pick grand and petit jury panels for court sessions. A jury commission, appointed by a judge, went through the list of qualified jurors and pulled out enough names for a grand jury panel as well as a sufficient number of petit jury panels to handle the case load for a term of court.

The jury wheel system has names of all eligible voters put into the "wheel" and the panels are simply drawn like a lottery. Scurry County has always had the jury commission system, but now must install a wheel.

The attorney general said the bill (Senate Bill 369) says that small counties may use the jury commission plan at the discretion of district judges. However, the same bill repeals the procedure for forming jury commissions and for them to function. So, for all practical purposes, there can be no jury commissions under the new law.

President Nixon's acceptance of an invitation to visit Red China likely means that this country will no longer oppose United Nations membership for that country. This confirms observations by some of the more astutute national politicians several years ago when they speculated that if Red China should ever attain UN membership, it would be during a Republican administration in the United States. They reasoned that the Democrats were unlikely to let the bars down because of charges that the party had been "soft" on communists, dating back to the Joe McCarthy fiasco.

There has been a lot of shifting of positions since those days, especially in the past five or six years, and most of the change in sentiment has been spurred by the Vietnam war. Such patriotic voices as that of Paul Harvey have almost turned 180 degrees during the course of this conflict, as he, himself, emphasized on one of the TV talk shows the other night.

Regardless, the president is going to have the best wishes of most Americans as he launches a new type of diplomacy.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Sunday, July 18, the 199th day of 1971. There are 166 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in the year 64 A.D., the great fire of Rome began. The legend is the Emperor Nero set the fire and fiddled as the city burned.

On this date:

In 1776, New Jersey declared itself independent of British authority.

In 1792, the American naval hero, John Paul Jones, died in poverty in Paris.

In 1914, the U.S. Army created an aviation section within the Signal Corps. Six planes were made available for air training.

In 1932, the United States and Canada signed a treaty to develop the St. Lawrence Seaway.

In 1940, a Democratic National Convention Chicago nominated President Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term.

In 1964, thousands of Negroes rioted in New York's Harlem after the shooting of a young Negro by a white policeman.

Ten years ago: The United States challenged the Soviet Union to negotiate a German settlement on a basis of self-determination.

Five years ago: A U.S. satellite carrying astronauts John Young and Michael Collins linked up with another satellite while in orbit around the earth.

One year ago: There was a quiet White House dinner for Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Anne as they ended a Washington visit.

VEE Cases Spreading

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An epidemic of sleeping sickness among horses, described as a national emergency by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, appears to be spreading deeper into Texas.

The disease, called Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) jumped the border after progressing from South America northward through Mexico, and is blamed for killing 200 animals in this state's Lower Rio Grande Valley.

In appraising the situation, Hardin said in Washington on Friday that his department will spend whatever it takes to combat the malady. Major weapons being used in defense of 500,000 or more horses in Texas are a vaccine supplied by the government and aerial spraying against mosquitoes which spread VEE.

While the disease nearly always kills horses, human beings who contract it usually recover.

A 6-year-old girl died Wednesday at Wilford Hall Air Force Medical Center in San Antonio from what was believed to be a form of encephalomyelitis. A spokesman said tests for VEE were being made but it was unlikely that variety caused her death.

Health officials report three Texas residents were known to have been stricken with VEE and there are 39 suspected cases.

In Mexico, the disease left an estimated 9,000 horses dead and 2,584 persons ill in the 15 days ending July 13, authorities said. The affected area embraced two states, San Luis Potosi and Tramaulipas.

Rodeo Re-Set For Aug. 18-21

The 35th annual Scurry County Rodeo has been re-scheduled for Aug. 18-21, it was announced Saturday.

The rodeo was originally set to open Wednesday, July 21, but the traditional dates were wiped out by quarantines which prevent movement of horses from one county to another. The quarantines were imposed following a heavy outbreak of a Venezuelan sleeping sickness which spread through Mexico into South Texas.

Officials of the Scurry County Rodeo Association said that the organization's 35th annual show was put back on the calender to open Aug. 18 with the hope that all horses in the area can be vaccinated against the sleeping sickness (VEE) and cleared for transportation by that time. Quantities of vaccine are expected to be available by next week. Horses which show no symptoms of the disease 14 days after vaccination will be taken out of quarantine, according to word received here.

Bill Zimmerman, secretary of the Scurry County Rodeo Association, said that Sloan Williams of Hungerford, producer of the rodeo here, had advised that his animals, including his string of bucking horses, had been vaccinated and that he would be available to put on the rodeo here on the new dates.

Soviet Bloc Expresses Unhappiness Over Trip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hungarian and Polish newspapers, registering the first Soviet-bloc reaction to President Nixon's planned trip to Communist China, have called it "baseball diplomacy" and a "shocking somersault."

But the Soviet Union, in the midst of a bitter ideological feud with Peking, has kept silent on the subject.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said it was "a very grave development in the international balance of power."

Budapest's Esti Hirlap Friday labeled Nixon's decision "baseball diplomacy," adding that "the development promises little good for the international scene at this stage. It is rather likely to induce fresh complications."

In Warsaw, the ruling newspaper said the planned trip was "a shocking somersault by Peking and, if you wish, Washington."

Despite an official Egyptian silence, all the Cairo dailies bannered the story. Egypt recently concluded a 15-year friendship treaty with the Soviet Union.

Al Ahram said the Nixon decision proved that the U.S. still understands no logic except that of "sheer power."

However, another Cairo paper, Al Gumhuriya, hailed the step as "a very wise decision in an age characterized by an arrogant American policy grossly incapable of understanding the course of history."

Across the Mideast barricades, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said "sooner or later this logic" of face-to-face meetings "will prevail in our area."

Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam of South Vietnam said his government welcomes "all initiatives by all leaders of the world who are trying to normalize relations ..."

He acknowledged that without the cooperation of Red China, it would be "difficult to establish peace in this part of the world. It's hard to forget this nation of 700 million people."

Perhaps the strongest opposition in Asia to the Nixon trip was from supporters of Nationalist China, such as Hong Kong's newspaper Shih Pao.

"We are greatly shocked and cannot repress our utmost anger," it editorialized. "A new Munich situation will appear in Asia ... it will only lead to a new war.

"We believe the Kremlin's shock is as great as ours," Shih Pao added. "This action of the American government discards and betrays faith and will result in disadvantage for all countries and people that are under the threat of the Chinese Communists."

East Germans Free 6 Young Americans

By GENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany removed a thorn from East-West relations by freeing all six Americans in its jails, as the tempo was stepped up in the 16-month four-power talks seeking to solve the Berlin problem.

Release of the young Americans, held up to 22 months on charges ranging from assault to helping East Germans plan escape attempts, took place somewhere along the West Berlin border Friday, a U.S. Command spokesman said.

The Americans' return was announced shortly after ambassadors of the United States, Russia, Britain and France met for four hours. They scheduled another session for next Thursday, and a Soviet spokesman predicted regular meetings through the summer without the usual vacation pause.

There was speculation that release of the six Americans was connected with the Berlin negotiations—as if it were a matter that had to be cleared up before major decisions could be reached.

Officials said that in return for the Americans' freedom the United States was expected to relax a ban announced earlier this year against visits to America by East German scholars and scientists. There was no information what other concessions, if any, were made to the Communists.

Actual details of the Americans' release were worked out by Berlin lawyers who specialize in contacts with East Berlin. Before leaving Friday's Big Four session for lunch hosted by Soviet Ambassador Pjotr Abrassimov at his East Berlin embassy, all four envoys said guardedly that progress was being made.

But they withheld concrete details on the talks, intended by the West to improve access to and from the West for the 2½ million citizens of Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

The Americans set free were identified as:

—Ronald F. Mudd, 24, son of David F. Mudd, Columbus, Ohio, arrested Dec. 26 on charges of assulting an East Berlin border guard.

—Mark Huessy, 22, Jericho, Vt., a student arrested Jan. 4, 1970, and convicted of provocation and crimes against East Germany, sentenced to seven years at a trial last fall, with sentence later reduced to five years.

—Lyle Jenkins, 31, Cambridge, Mass., and Jack Strickland, 28, Santa Barbara, Calif., both arrested in September 1969, and sentenced a year later to 2½ years on conviction of trying to help refugees escape.

—Frank King, 25, Highland Park, Mich., arrested in East Berlin a year ago and sentenced to two years on charges of circulating Fascist propaganda. His British cousin arrested at the same time, Michael Woodbridge, was released last week.

—Ronald Balch, 24, Huntsville, Ala., listed by the U.S. Army as having deserted his unit in Bavaria in 1966 to live in East Germany, sentenced by the East Germans last August to two years, eight months on conviction of trying to escape to Poland.

Mrs. Wellborn Dies; Rites Set Monday

Mrs. Stella Womack Wellborn, 75, who lived at 3012 Avenue X, died at 3:30 a. m. Saturday in a hospital at Plainview, where she was visiting two daughters.

Mrs. Wellborn had been a resident of Scurry County since 1898, moving here with her family from Johnson County at the age of 3. She was married on July 1, 1916, in Snyder to Charles M. Wellborn.

Funeral service has been set for 4 p. m. Monday at the First Baptist Church, where Mrs. Wellborn was a member. The Rev. Raymond Hall will officiate; Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wellborn is survived by her husband; five daughters, Mrs. Charlene Jarratt of Billings, Mont., Mrs. Doris Alexander and Mrs. Estell Mouser, both of Plainview, Mrs. Frances Allen of Snyder and Miss Joyce Wellborn of Sweetwater; two sons, H. P. Wellborn of Dallas, and C. M. Wellborn Jr. of Snyder; four sisters, Mrs. W. O. Aucutt and Mrs. Clyde Dennis, both of Snyder, Mrs. Bill Head and Mrs. Swan Taylor, both of Colorado City; two brothers, W. M. Womack of Snyder and Stewart Womack of Fort Worth; 22 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

COLLEGE TOURS SLATED TODAY

Special tours of the Western Texas College campus will be conducted between the hours of 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. today (Sunday).

Faculty and staff members of the new college will be on hand to serve as guides through the partially-completed buildings now under construction.

ASSEMBLING COLLEGE LIBRARY — The library staff of Western Texas College is assembling a temporary facility in the educational wing of Trinity United Methodist Church. The Learning Resource Center-Library on the WTC campus is scheduled for occupancy by mid-term. From left are Mrs. Kathleen Genuchi, library technician; Mrs. Eva Nelson, librarian; Mrs. Ann Thompson, clerical assistant, and Nancy McGinnis, student worker.

Diesel Instructor Is Named

The appointment of James W. Clark as Diesel Mechanics instructor for Western Texas College has been announced by Gene Robertson, director of Occupational and Technical Education.

Clark will assume his duties in August. His primary responsibility will be teaching diesel mechanics and related subjects.

Clark has had 32 years of training and experience in diesel mechanics technology. He completed Gray Marine and Continent Radial School while in the service, and has completed several special schools for diesel maintenance.

Clark is married and has four children ages 18, 15, 11 and 8.

Diesel mechanics at Western Texas College will be taught in a two-year program leading to an associate of applied science degree. The program will consist of courses which will be taught during the day as well as the evening school.

A full-time day student will be in the classroom and shop approximately 30 hours per week. Each student will be encouraged to work in a shop during the summer between his freshman and sophomore year.

Selected courses from the day program will be offered during the evening for students interested in working full time and pursuing a degree. Special short courses will be offered when requested by an adequate number of interested individuals.

Princess Anne Leaves Hospital

LONDON (AP) — Smiling Princess Anne today left the hospital where she underwent an operation for removal of an ovarian cyst 10 days ago.

The 20-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth II looked in high spirits as her brother, Prince Charles, picked her up in his new Aston Martin sports car and they sped off for Windsor Castle in the country.

Wearing a brightly colored dress, she emerged in a happy mood, shook hands with the nursing staff and waved to the cheering crowd.

College Library Staff Is Busy

As with all other departments of Western Texas College, the library staff is moving into "high-gear" in preparation for the opening of school. Headed by Mrs. Eva Nelson, the staff now includes Mrs. Kathy Genuchi, library technician, and a number of part-time personnel. Mrs. Nelson, librarian for Snyder High School for many years, consented to work with WTC until a permanent librarian can be found.

The library staff is now housed in the educational wing of Trinity United Methodist Church. Work is underway for the opening of a "temporary" library in one of the rooms in the Applied Science Complex by August 28.

Building 9, the Learning Resource Center-Library, is the last building to be completed in the first phase of WTC's building program. Scheduled for occupancy by mid-term, the Learning Resource Center will reflect the philosophy of the "shopping center college." Planned as the most prominent building on campus, it is also the most beautiful. This two-story structure contains more than 26,000 square feet of floor space. When finished it will contain classrooms, the media center, the language laboratory, space for more than 50,000 volumes, the reading skills center, a historical room and many small conference rooms. The structure will have a reference room, a periodical room and a "rare-books room."

The most striking feature of the building is the large reflecting pool and fountain located in the center of the structure and opening to the second floor. The stairway to the second floor is built over the pool.

Dr. Jim Tully will be in charge of the Learning Resource Center. Dr. Tully said that he hoped to have 10,000 volumes on the shelves by the opening of the building in January.

Dear Abby

The letter that caused the most reaction

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Of all the letters you have had printed in your column, does any one stand out for having created more reaction than any of the others? A MINISTER

DEAR MINISTER: Yes. This one. And it's worth repeating:

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heartbroken person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old gray-haired parents. They sat at home alone loving me just the same. It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them. I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think.

"TOO LATE"

DEAR ABBY: I am just plain disgusted with myself. Why? Because I'm a big, strong, fairly intelligent adult male who has never been shy, meek or lacking in self-confidence, yet for some crazy reason, I turn into a mealy-mouthed little mouse when I am asked [usually during dinner], "Do you mind if I smoke?"

Instead of saying, "Yes, I DO mind," I hear myself replying in my most agreeable manner, "Not at all. Go right ahead."

Why? NONSMOKER

DEAR NON: Because you'd rather put up with the smoke than bear the guilt of denying the smoker his nicotine lift, which he obviously craves. Every smoker knows that nonsmokers do not appreciate smoke in their faces. The hooked one asks only in order to reduce his own guilt feelings. Next time, tell the truth.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's a good idea for a man to make his wife jealous once in a while just to keep her on her toes? MAC

DEAR MAC: Forget it. Instead of keeping her on HER toes, you're apt to find her on your HEELS.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. K. K. IN SIOUX CITY, IA.: My answer ["Let the 15-year-old boy give his $100 ring to his teen-aged girl friend."] was not snap judgment on my part. The ring belonged to the boy, so it's his to give away, throw away or to wear in his nose if he so chooses, and his mother has nothing to say about it. Of course, it might have been [and probably was] a foolish act on the boy's part, but I can think of no better way for a young man to learn a lesson than to pay $100 for it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Goodlett To New SCS Assignment

W. S. Goodlett, Jr., who went to Big Spring as district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service and developed it into an expanding area office, is being transferred to Harlingen effective July 25.

As conservationist for Area 25, he will be in charge of a more varied and intense program which represents a professional advancement to him. He will succeed Hal Storey, who died recently.

Goodlett is a veteran of 22 years service with the [illegible] of them with the SCS and 20 of those in Big Spring.

W. S. GOODLETT JR.

In his new field, he will have 9 work units. There are five flood control projects and a river basin development in the units. The territory is principally south along the valley from Laredo and Hebronville to the Gulf. He has been responsible in Big Spring for operation of 12 work units in 14 counties stretching from Yoakum on the north to Scurry on the east and Crane on the southwest.

Goodlett went to Big Spring in 1951 from Mineral Wells as district conservationist. He helped in the development of the Great Plains Conservation Program, which started in 1957, and headed efforts on a monumental soil survey of the counties in his area. Today 12 of 14 counties have been surveyed (5 have been published, 7 are being printed, and work on the remaining 2 is nearly completed). This is one of the best such records in the state.

A native of Nashville, Ark., he moved to Dunn in 1919 as a lad of three. His parents Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goodlett, Sr. still resides near Dunn. Goodlett graduated from Dunn High School in 1934. He attended Tarleton State College for two years, and completed his BS work at Texas A&M in 1940, having worked 24 months straight for fear of losing part time jobs which enabled him to get his education.

In 1940 he was married at Colorado City to Lenora Hill, A 1937 graduate at Dunn. They have two children, Mrs. Mike (Sena Jo) Leese and Robert Goodlett.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodlett were extremely active in the First Methodist Church at Big Spring, being named Methodist family of the year in 1961. They have also taken leading roles in Boy Scout and Girl Scout work and the National Little League.

Tower Is Skeptical Of Trip

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said Friday he was disturbed and skeptical over President Nixon's proposed visit to the People's Republic of China and added that Nixon owes the American people an explanation.

The Texas Republican gave his views on the matter at a Dallas airport news conference as he changed planes en route from Washington to his Wichita Falls home.

"I do not know what has motivated the President in this move," Tower said of the President's Thursday night announcement. "Whatever it is, the President owes the American people an explanation. I hope it will be forthcoming."

Texas' other U.S. Senator, Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, echoed most initial reaction to the proposed Nixon trip when he said Friday that "any move to lessen world tensions is welcomed."

Tower made it clear his concern was based on what the new development might mean to U.S. relations with Nationalist China.

The Republican senator said it is too early to predict whether Communist China might now become a member of the United Nations "unless the United States reverses its policy."

He said he had no idea what the Nixon visit may lead to. "I can only voice skepticism on my part," Tower said, adding:

"I fervently hope that this will not signal a so-called 'normalization' of relations with Peking on Peking's own inflexibly stated terms ...

"Perhaps the President has been led to believe that the establishment of liaison with Peking might lead to Chinese intervention with Hanoi to stop the war."

5 Mishaps Reported In City

City Police investigated five motor vehicle mishaps Friday and one Saturday. All of them involved minor damage.

At 10:14 a.m. Friday, the 1968 Model Ford of Eula S. Williams, 703 Twenty-seventh Street, was in collision with the 1968 Model Chevrolet of Willis J. Sewell, 2506 Avenue I, in the 1600 block of Twenty-sixth Street. Officer Melvin Sanders investigated this [illegible].

Another mishap occurred in the same location — the 1600 block of Twenty-sixth Street — at 12:56 p.m. Involved were the 1967 Model Ford of Jan. S. Smith, Route 3, and the 1971 Model Chevrolet of Phyllis M. Taylor, 3603 Jacksboro. Officer Melvin Sanders investigated this mishap.

At 1:58 p.m. Friday, the 1964 Model Chevrolet of Esperanza Rosas Lopez, 117 Browning, was in collision with the 1962 Model Buick of Evelyn Roemisch Zalman, Route 2, in the 3400 block of Avenue D. Officer Bill Roach investigated this mishap.

The fourth mishap occurred at 4:30 p.m. Friday on the east side of Furr's. Involved were the 1969 Model Ford of Rita Lee Kirkpatrick, 505 Thirtieth Street, and the 1964 Model Chevrolet of Mary Evans Graham, Route 3. Officer Paul Silva investigated this mishap.

At 5:48 p.m. Friday in the 2500 block of Avenue G, the 1966 Model Oldsmobile of John Elton Burns, Box 421, was in collision with the 1965 Model Ford of Michael Don Mize, 410 Twenty-eighth Street. Officer Bill Roach investigated this mishap.

The mishap that occurred Saturday was in the 600 block of the East Highway at 12:01 a.m. Involved was the 1968 Model Chevrolet of Rosalio Galva Villareal, 1308 Twenty-eighth Street. Police said his car struck two utility poles. Officer Ronald M. Brown investigated the mishap.

City Firemen Are Called Out Twice

City Firemen answered calls to two fires Friday.

The first one was to a grass fire in the 2700 block of Twenty-eighth Street at 12:15 p.m. There was a car fire at Thirtieth Street and Avenue U at 1:45 p.m. Damage to the 1964 Model Ford of Robert Tuggle was minor.

Pre-Registration Procedure Is Set

Procedure for the pre-registration at Western Texas College, to be held July 19-30, has been outlined by Dr. Duane Hood, Director of Admissions and Registrar. The process has been outlined in an attempt to facilitate accommodation of all students. Faculty members and counselors will be available for assistance with course selection at that time.

Pre-registration will begin at 9 a.m. each day, but the student may come by at any time before 4 p.m. to participate in the pre-registration. All students who intend to attend Western Texas College are urged to participate in this endeavor.

After the student arrives at the Western Texas College offices, 3610 Avenue S, the following procedure should be followed:

Step 1. Pick up catalogue and schedule of courses from Dr. Ben Brock, Dean of the College, at 1st station.

Step 2. Determine whether admission files are complete with clerk at 2nd station. Pick up all forms that are not complete.

Step 3. Fill out all forms that are incomplete at Station 3.

Step 4. While at Station 3, take time to read the catalog for course information in areas of interest.

Step 5. Proceed to Station 4 for further directions and pre-registration blanks.

Step 6. Proceed to Station 5 based on instructions received at Station 4. Fill out pre-registration forms before leaving Station 5.

Step 7. Proceed to final station for examination of all papers by registrar.

Diplomats Watching Lib Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — The women's lib movement in the United States is gaining the attention of the foreign diplomatic corps, and it's more than a matter of curiosity.

According to one embassy official, the growing political and sociological independence drive among U.S. women appears to reflect increasing moves away from the values thought to stamp America's identity.

Another of the overseas officials who charts domestic trends in this country said women's lib "is really just part of a dissatisfaction we have noted with the old standards in the United States."

He cited black awareness and the so-called "youth culture" as other examples of the same phenomenon.

A British official said women's lib seems limited at this time mostly to the East and some areas of the West Coast, particularly California.

But there are signs of an increasing awareness in other parts of the United States and "it is our feeling it will grow in the interior," the official said.

Asked why foreigners care, British officials and others from various Western European embassies agreed that what goes on U.S. cultural affairs of immense importance in the world.

They explained part of their job is to determine the American state of mind, the assumption being that U.S. leaders ultimately reflect this posture.

Snyderite Is On UT Honor Roll

AUSTIN — Don Stephen Jackson, 2803 Forty-seventh Street, Snyder, is one of approximately 650 students named to the spring semester honor roll of the University of Texas College of Business Administration.

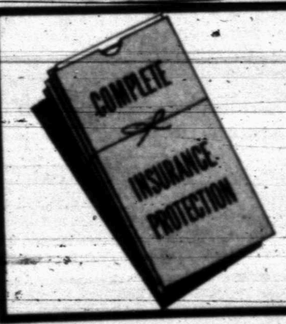

To qualify for the list, a student must have carried 12 or more semester hours of traded work, passing all courses. He must have compiled at least three hours of A work above a B average in all courses taken.

Guilty Plea Heard

Edna Gwen Thomas pleaded guilty in District Court here Friday to a charge of breaking and entering a motor vehicle to commit theft. She received a two-year term that was probated.

Dr. Harvey Pruett and E. M. Steph will officiate at the service. Burial will be in the Fluvanna Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Austin is survived by his wife; a daughter, Trixie Austin of Columbia, Mo.; a son, Teddy Austin of Alamogordo, N. M.; a sister, Mrs. Patience Bagwell of Rotan; a brother, G. R. Austin of Snyder; and two grandchildren.

Traffic Deaths Rise In State

AUSTIN (AP) — The Department of Public Safety reported Saturday that 1,751 persons have died this year in Texas traffic, an increase of 53 or 3 per cent from last year.

Fatal accidents also have increased by 3 per cent, with a total of 1,454 for the year, compared to 1,410 a year ago.

WEDDING PLANNED — Mr. and Mrs. Cecil T. Jordan, 3725 Ave. U., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Mary Frances (Fran) to Gary Weldon Harless, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Harless, 3012 Ave. W. The couple will exchange wedding vows August 6 at 7 p.m. with Rev. Joe Stevens officiating.

MR. AND MRS. OLIVER SIDNEY PULIS, JR.

Graves, Pulis Wed At Bell-Seale Chapel

Laurie Kathryn Graves and Oliver Sidney Pulis, Jr. were united in marriage June 25 at 7 p.m. at the Bell-Seale Chapel in a double ring ceremony. Rev. Miller Robinson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Maynor B. Hanks, Jr., 3734 Avondale and K. R. Graves, Athens, Texas. The bridegroom is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pulis, Rt. 1, Alma, Oklahoma.

The bride, escorted by her grandfather, T. R. Lee, wore an empire gown of white satin and organza with bishop sleeves. Her illusion veil bordered with lace was held by a pearl tiara, which had been worn by her mother. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white feathered mums.

Her attendant, Kathy Cumbie, of Snyder, wore a dress of lavender lace and wore a corsage of white carnations.

For something old, the bride wore the pearl tiara which had belonged to her mother. For something blue, she wore a blue garter and wore a penny in her shoe.

Jim Pulis of Oklahoma City, served as best man. Ricky Graves ushered guests.

Mrs. Wendell Rehm furnished the wedding music.

A reception was held at the Snyder Savings and Loan Community Room. Assisting with serving were Marilyn Clayton, Lynda Denson, Barbara Biddle and Brenda Allison, all of Snyder.

The table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with a sheer nylon and lace cloth. The two tiered wedding cake was served with punch.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School. The groom is a graduate of Fox High School in Fox, Oklahoma and is presently in the U. S. Army.

Following the wedding to Oklahoma City, the groom will return to duty.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were from Midland, Athens, and Sweetwater, Texas and Oklahoma City, Ratliff City and Alma, Oklahoma.

AUGUST WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Burks of Brownwood, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Rita, to Ernest O. (Buster) Dickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Dickey of the Union Community. The couple will exchange vows August 21 at Brownwood.

Scholarship To Miss McGlaun

Sherilyn McGlaun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug McGlaun of Fort Worth, formerly of Snyder, is one of six college students to be awarded $1,000 scholarships by the International Association of Auditorium Managers.

Miss McGlaun is a junior at Texas Tech where she has been on the Dean's Honor Roll her first two years in college. She is a graduate of Snyder High School.

Dean Justice of Carbondale, Ill., chairman of the IAAM-Education Committee, announced the winners. Miss McGlaun's scholarship is named in honor of Past-President Francis R. Deering of Houston and is donated by Ice Capades.

Her father formerly was manager of the Scurry County Coliseum and is now assistant manager of the Will Rogers Memorial Center in Fort Worth.

Kathleen Mott Receives Honor

Kathleen Mott, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Mott of Snyder has been selected to appear in the 1971 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America in recognition of her outstanding ability, accomplishments and service to her community, country and profession.

Kathleen will give a one hour performance at Maryland University, Silver Springs, Maryland July 20. Invited by the arts and Educational Society of the World, Kathleen will present songs of her own choice.

Here's the Answer

AP Newsfeatures

Q.—I had my first experience recently in putting a new pane of glass in a window. Everything seemed to have worked out all right, but now I notice that the putty around the glass has become brittle and has chipped off in a couple of places. I want to replace it, but would like to avoid whatever I did wrong. The job was done only four weeks ago. Can you help me?

A.—A possible cause is that you used putty that was very old and dried out. Another is that you did not prime the groove into which the glass and putty fit. Every inch of wood that the putty will touch should be soaked in linseed oil or a thinned exterior paint. This will prevent the wood from absorbing the oil in the putty and thus causing it to dry out too quickly. There are some new glazing compounds on the market that claim to prevent premature drying. But whatever you use—old-fashioned putty or glazing compound—prime the wood. And if you want extra protection for the putty or compound, paint it about 48 hours after it has been applied.

Q.—We intend to have a vacation home built soon. I was told a couple of months ago I couldn't get a mortgage more than 50 per cent the value of the house and property. A friend of mine says he was able to get a much higher mortgage than that. Do different banks have different rules about such things?

A.—Banks decide for themselves, within certain limitations, what amount they will lend on houses of any type. However, under a new regulation, the Federal Housing Administration will insure mortgages on vacation homes up to a maximum of $18,000 or 75 per cent of the appraised value.

Q.—A relative has left us an antique table that we have been offered $4,000 for. We would like to refinish it. How do we get off the old varnish?

A.—The standard procedure is by using a varnish remover. But your question indicates a lack of experience in refinishing. Therefore, it would be wise not to attempt the job yourself on such an expensive piece of furniture. Take it to a professional. It may be that only a cleaning is necessary.

Darden, Wilson Wed In Midland

Marilyn Sue Darden, 3000 West Kansas No. 405, Midland, and Edward Calvin Wilson, 1400 South Goode, Midland, were united in marriage June 26 at 3 p.m. Dr. Timothy Guthrie officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Darden, Rt. 2, Roscoe and Mrs. Ora Wilson and the late Hal C. Wilson, 1400 South Goode, Midland.

The bride wore a street length dress of white knit. The shoulder length veil was attached to a crown headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible, given to her by Kappa Phi Social Club.

Miss Linda Ables of Lubbock was maid of honor. She wore a street length yellow crepe dress with a corsage of double orchids.

Allen Morett of Irving served, as best man.

A reception was held in the home of Mrs. Ora Wilson, mother of the groom.

Following the wedding trip to Mexico the couple will be at home at 3000 W. Kansas No. 405, Midland.

The bride is a graduate of Hermleigh High School and holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from McMurry College. At McMurry she was a member of Kappa Phi Social Club, Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Chi National Honor Club.

The groom is a graduate of Midland High School and holds a Bachelor of Science from Howard Payne College. He is a member of Acacia Lodge No. 1414, A.F. and A.M.

Both bride and bridegroom are employed by the Midland Public Schools. She teaches physical education at Anson Jones Elementary and he teaches and coaches at Goddard Junior High.

Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Darden of Roscoe, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Darden of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Kiddy of Abilene, Mrs. Dora Doyle of Midland, Miss Linda Ables and Allen Morett.

Mrs. Albert Jones Gives Recipe

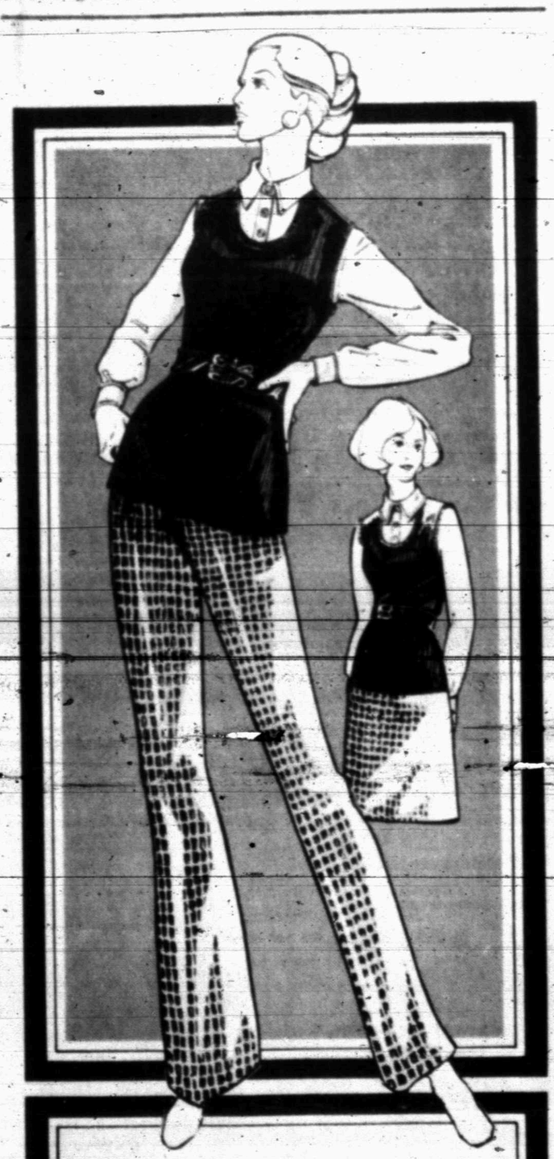

Mrs. Albert Jones took home a blue ribbon from the Scurry County Fair last year with a jar of homemade fig pickles. For something a bit different try this unusual recipe.

FIG PICKLES

Bring to a boil
1 cup vinegar
1 cup water
½ teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon pickling spice

Wash fresh figs throughly and pack in sterilized fruit jars. Pour vinegar solution over figs and seal.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL DAVID ROSE

Davis, Rose Exchange Vows At Hermleigh July 3

Margie Sue Davis and Michael David Rose exchanged wedding vows July 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church at Hermleigh. Rev. Bob Creswell officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Escorted by her brother-in-law, Bert Stahl, the bride wore an empire A-line, floor length gown of white peau de soie. The gown featured a lace covered bodice, long pointed sleeves and a skirt accentuated with lace appliqued roses and seed pearls. The finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a headband of roses and rose petals made of lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

Mrs. Vickie Lashier of Abilene, was matron of honor. She wore a orchid floral dacron gown and carried a long stem white rose.

Tammy Rose of Abilene, sister of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a gown fashioned like that of the matron of honor and strew rose petals from a satin and lace covered basket.

Sherry Adams of Hermleigh was a bridesmaid. She wore a gown fashioned after that of the matron of honor.

Tommy Rose of Abilene, brother of the groom, was ring bearer. He wore a navy suit and carried a white satin pillow.

Gary Church of Abilene served as best man. Robin Rose, brother of the groom, and Charlie Lashier of Abilene ushered guests.

Delores Schwartz, organist, accompanied Tonya Culp, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest."

A reception was held at the Hermleigh Community Center. The three tiered white and orchid wedding cake was served by Kathy Davis. The groom's cake was served by LaRonna Culp. Donna Wright registered guests.

For the one week wedding trip to Kingsland the bride chose a blue knit dress with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Hermleigh High School and of Commercial College in Abilene. She is presently employed by Fred Hughes Buick.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Cooper High School and is presently employed by Fred Hughes Buick.

Out-of-town guests were from Roby, Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder and Houston.

Author Says Mans Basic Principle Is "Self-ism"

GOOD, GOD AND MAN. By John Creasey. Walker. $6.95.

Readers of Creasey's many mystery thrillers—he has written about 500—may be surprised to find that he has turned philosopher and has developed an idealistic credo of his own.

His work as a professional writer about crime has given him an obsessive interest in human behavior. He starts with the premise that man is inherently good, rather than evil, and that it is only necessary to release that power for good.

He rejects the concept of many moral, ethical and religious systems that man should "do good" for others, on the ground that when the crunch comes man will back down. His argument is that man's instinct is to "do good" for himself; he says that this "natural law" is a benefit for all mankind, because when a man looks after himself he helps his fellow-man.

To cite one small example, a man who looks after his own health and safety is helping both his employer and his dependents, because he is better able to function as an employee and a provider.

He calls his basic principle "Self-ism," which he defines as "a doctrine based on man's essential interdependence, which holds that the interests of all are best served by the active self-interest of each."

He discusses this principle in relation to a whole range of current ills, constraints and dilemmas, ranging from food production to war, politics, marriage, economics and religion—arguing that "Self-ism" is the key to solving most of our problems.

It is a curious book, resembling a prolonged "letter to the editor," offering panaceas for society's troubles, as well as one man's self-developed formula for a new Utopia. This is a zealot's work, but he has some interesting things to say.

Mrs. Herbert A. Morse's Caramel Custard

MRS. HERBERT A. MORSE'S CARAMEL CUSTARD

A delightfully easy way to make this delicate dessert.

4 tablespoons firmly packed dark brown sugar
2 large eggs
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 cups milk

Into each of four 6-ounce custard cups, put 1 tablespoon brown sugar (packed down) in shape of spoon bowl. In a medium mixing bowl beat eggs slightly; add granulated sugar and milk; beat to combine. Place cups in an 8 by 8 by 2 inch cake pan. Carefully pour milk mixture over brown sugar in cups. Add 2½ cups very hot tap water to pan—water will cover about 2-3rds of the cups. Bake in a preheated 300-degree oven until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean—about 1½ hours. Remove from pan of water and cool. Chill. Loosen edges and turn out into serving dishes. Makes 4 servings.

FROM THE TERRACE — Cotton canvas stripes a stylish note on this unusual terrace. A converted iron bedstead fitted out with canvas cushions makes a conversation piece and adds seating and sunning space. Tieback canvas curtains topped by a Mediterranean awning valance frame the wrought iron double-door entrance, and zebra-striped canvas covers handsome director's chairs grouped around a refreshment table.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie L. Bruce, of Hermleigh announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Joyce, to Roy Miles Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Garrett of Coalinga, Calif. The couple plan to make their home in Snyder.

Novel Of Rich Family With Tangled Lives

THE SOUNDS OF HOME. By Ilka Chase. Doubleday. $5.95.

Miss Chase has written a tangled story about a large family of considerable wealth, and the various problems which their offspring get into.

The plot is keyed to the 35th wedding anniversary of Harrison and Bonnie Claibourne. They have three children, and Bonnie has one son and three grandchildren by her first marriage. The second generation Claibournes include Michael, a homosexual; Stephen, married to a woman 10 years his elder; and Annie, whose second marriage was to Simon Petrie, who is old enough to be her father.

Petrie's marriage to Annie was his fourth; he has five children, including one adopted son.

The Claibournes and the Petries are a tribe with plenty of grandchildren, stepchildren, half-brothers, step-in-laws and various other relationships.

The tribe also has its problems. Petrie's adopted son Randy is a mental case who gets his half-brother Daniel, a hippie, into trouble. Stephen's wife Alexis is in love with her brother, who lives in Africa, and Stephen falls in love with Alexis' teenage daughter Brenda.

It's all too complicated to be interesting and the writing is dull.

MRS. DANNY ERWIN RHODES (Photo By Craft)

Badgett, Rhodes Exchange WeddingVows At Hermleigh

Marjorie Ann Badgett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Badgett, Brookville, Pennsylvania, became the bride of Danny Erwin Rhodes, son of Mrs. H. E. Rhodes, Meeker, Oklahoma, July 9. The bride's father officiated at the candlelight, double-ring ceremony in the Church of Christ, Hermleigh, Texas.

The bride wore a chiffon and chantilly lace gown styled in a Demi-bell silhouette with Camelot sleeves and high neck. The matching chapel length mantilla made the train. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses encircling a white orchid. Entwined in the bouquet was an heirloom gold bracelet belonging to her paternal great grandmother.

Patricia Gillis, of Oklahoma City, college roommate of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a yellow and white embroidered gown and carried yellow rosebuds. Her hairpiece was made of yellow carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Patricia Parks, of Albuquerque and Beth Badgett, sister of the bride. Jamie and Lisa Lovett, nieces of the groom were candlelighters. Felicia and Carolyn Ford, nieces of the groom were flower girls, carrying white baskets with yellow rose petals. All of the attendants wore gowns of pastel chiffon of either yellow, apricot, or mint green over taffeta, trimmed in double lace at the bodice and sleeves. Their hairpieces were made of carnations and baby's breath in colors matching their gowns.

The church was decorated with spiral candelabras holding yellow candles and palm sprays.

Alvis Nichols, Jr. of Dallas, served the groom as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Bill Adams, Paul Lakey, and Nick Hamilton, all graduate students at Abilene Christian College.

A sextet from Abilene Christian College sang "For All We Know," "Shepherd of Tender Youth," "Father Hear the Prayer We Offer," and "We've Only Just Begun." The groom sang the theme from Love Story to the bride as she came down the aisle with her father.

The bride's mother chose a lace coat dress in pastel blue. The groom's mother wore a pastel green coat dress trimmed in heavy lace.

The wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Inadale Community Center. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a bride and groom music box playing the traditional Wedding March. The centerpiece was an arrangement of painted daisies and carnations in shades of yellow, apricot, and green.

The bride is a junior at Abilene Christian College, majoring in Modern Languages. The groom is a graduate of Oklahoma Christian College and is presently a candidate for the Master's degree at Abilene Christian College.

After a short wedding trip in New Mexico the couple will make their home in Hermleigh, Texas, where the groom is minister of the Church of Christ.

Historical Survey Of American Poetry

AMERICAN POETRY IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY. By Kenneth Rexroth. Herder and Herder. $5.50.

Rexroth's book is both a historical survey and a critical evaluation of America's poetry of this century.

As a survey it crams into its text the whole story, even to the point of naming some poets known only to the craft. It discusses trends, styles, viewpoints and theories in the periods before World War I, between the wars and after World War II, with comments on international influences.

As an evaluation it is forthright in expressing the author's opinions, which are not always orthodox. Rexroth tends toward the anti-Establishment position.

His highest praise is for William Carlos Williams. He has some illuminating things to say about such individuals as T.S. Eliot, Ezra Pound and Carl Sandburg. Among those who do not impress him very much is Robert Frost. His choice as "the greatest lost poet in American literature" is Laura Riding.

He provides a great deal of information about the "little" magazines that helped many poets to get a start, and credits Alfred Kreymborg with being a major factor in this field. He also outlines the influences of Black Mountain College and "the San Francisco Renaissance."

Fortunately Rexroth, who is both poet and critic, has written the book in readable expository prose which does not daunt the reader; there is none of the intellectual froth or flighty language to which so many academics and professional esthetes are addicted. He has a lot to say and says it in astringent fashion.

Colclazer, Sardlin Wed At Lubbock

Cheryl Anne Colclazer and Sandy Zeh Sardlin were united in marriage July 17 at 7 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, Big Spring. Dr. David Ray, pastor of First Baptist Church of Lubbock, officiated in the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Colclazer, 1700 State, Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Sardlin, 3210 Thirty-ninth St., Lubbock. The R. V. Colclazers are former residents of Snyder. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Colclazer of Snyder.

The bride wore a shirtwaist blouse of white organza over poie de soie with sheer silk organza Edwardian sleeves. The separate floor length gathered skirt was accentuated with scattered rose appliques from the waist to the floor. The pale blue cummerbund was covered in icy white organza and appliqued to match the skirt. Her pale blue chapel length chiffon veil flowed from a white flower garden hat. A pale blue velvet choker with a cameo, a gift from the grooms mother, completed her costume.

The bride carried a cascade of white carnations and lily of the valley topped with an orchid with a touch of blue.

Mrs. Bob Hedges, of Abilene, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a royal blue, lime green and white floral floor length skirt and a shirtwaist blouse of royal blue organza over poie de soie with sheer Edwardian sleeves and a white poie de soie belt. She wore a royal blue picture hat and carried a single royal blue carnation.

Miss Annelle Fitzhugh of Lamesa was maid of honor. She wore a skirt and blouse fashioned after that of the matron of honor in lime green.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mike Perry of Lubbock, and Miss Vina Bass of Muleshoe. Miss Sherry Lee of Hobbs, New Mexico, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Their costumes were like that of the matron of honor.

Taffi Hedges of Abilene was flower girl.

Horace E. Sardlin of Lubbock, father of the groom, served as best man. Larry Landusky, David Howle and Bert Kiker of Lubbock were groomsmen. Rusty Summar of Del Rio, cousin of the groom, served as junior groomsman.

Mike Colclazer, brother of the bride and Steve Anderson of Big Spring, Bob Hedges of Abilene and Danny Blevins of Lubbock ushered guests.

Tracy Summar of Del Rio and Chuck Lee of Hobbs, New Mexico lighted candles.

The altar of the church was decorated with two tree candelabras holding cathedral tapers with emerald fern and two baskets of spring flowers.

Larry Lardusky of Lubbock, painist and Charles Gunn of Lubbock, organists, accompanied Miss Annelle Fitzhugh of Lamesa and Mrs. Mike Perry of Lubbock as they sang.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church following the ceremony. The brides table was centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations with blue candles and held the three tiered wedding cake, topped with doves and a Christogram. Appointments of crystal and silver were used. Miss Donna Woolaver of Henrietta, Okla., Miss Cindy Howard of Houston, Miss Verna Jernigan of Lubbock, Mrs. David Howle and Mrs. Larry Landusky of Lubbock presided.

The grooms table was centered with a green candle centered in a cluster of grapes. Devils food cake was served. Mrs. L. V. Risinger, Jr., Mrs. Bert Kiker of Lubbock, Mrs. Don Summar of Del Rio and Miss Mary Risinger of Billings, Montana presided over the groom's table.

Mrs. Donnie Hester of Brownfield registered guests.

For the wedding trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico and Denver, Colorado the bride wore white pants topped with a brown voile tucked blouse trimmed with white textured cotton with contouring brown stitching. The blouse featured full sheer sleeves and button front. White accessories completed her outfit.

The couple will make their home at 2404 Seventh St., Lubbock.

The bride has completed studies at Texas Tech University, and will soon enter the School of Medical Technology at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Texas Tech University and is presently employed by Zeh Auto Repair in Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lee, grandparents of the bride, of Hamlin; Mrs. T. E. Sardlin, grandmother of the groom, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Duckworth of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lee of Hobbs, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stokes and Donnie Hester and Kerry of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh of Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hedges of Amherst.

Try These Ribbon Winning Clusters

Eva Flemming of the Union Community, won 1st place in the senior baking division at the Scurry County fair with the following recipe.

CASHEW CLUSTERS

2 cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup light sugar, firmly packed
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup sour cream
2 cups salted, toasted and broken cashew nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream butter in large mixing bowl; add brown sugar gradually. Beat in egg and vanilla. Blend in sifted dry ingredients, sour cream and nuts. Drop from teaspoon onto greased baking sheet. Bake in 350 degree oven for 10 minutes. Freezes well. Pecans may be substituted for cashew nuts. Makes 9 dozen.

More than 40 per cent of America's grass seed comes from Oregon.

Mrs. Roggenstein's Fig Preserves

For a delightfully different way to use figs try this recipe that Mrs. Mozell Roggenstein made and won 1st place with at the Scurry County Fair last fall.

STRAWBERRY FIG PRESERVES

4 cups figs, mashed
3 cups sugar
2 pkgs. strawberry jello (3 oz. size)

Mix together and boil 7 minutes at medium heat. Pour into sterilized pint jars. Makes about 5 pints.

Barnes, Just 33, Being Compared To An Old Pro

EDITOR'S NOTE-Ben Barnes was Texas' youngest House House Speaker and youngest lieutenant governor. Now-at 33-the Democrat is aiming for the governor's seat in 1972.

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — At 33, when many ambitious young men are just awakening to politics, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes of Texas already is being compared to old pro Lyndon B. Johnson. Some say he's better.

Just eight months out of office, former President Johnson told Texas Democrats Barnes could be president some day if he wanted the job.

Barnes was flattered but later said, "President Johnson, I think, perhaps went to far in his remarks."

Johnson's statement was bold, but Barnes, as young as he is, appears to be the Texas Democratic party's strongest candidate for governor in 1972.

In announcing for governor against incumbent Preston Smith, 59, former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, 68, and Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe, 48, Barnes said he "certainly had been interested in being U.S. senator from Texas," but he thought that in 1972 he could make his "greatest contribution" to the state as governor.

He could become the youngest Texas governor since Dan Moody was inaugurated in 1927 at the age of 33.

Barnes has said that under Smith's administration "there has been a void in pursuing greatness," adding that his No. 1 campaign issue would be "the loss of faith and confidence in state government."

Barnes is well groomed and wears expensive-looking suits. His curly light red hair goes along with his complexion, which is the type that sunburns and freckles easily.

Barnes blushes often, especially when he is told of an unflattering remark about him. He also reddens and twists his hands when an unexpected question catches him off guard—which is rare.

He discussed his political career—which started when he was barely old enough to vote—in a 2½ hour interview recently. It seemed a good time to ask him if he expected to pick up some "political scars" soon—something he has avoided in becoming the youngest House Speaker and youngest lieutenant governor in Texas history.

"I think my major political liability right now is that there's always a group on both sides of the political fence that have to hate people. I don't mean hate," Barnes said. "I hope it's never on a personal basis, but I think probably have inherited the political venom that Republicans in Texas had for Johnson and Sam Rayburn.

"I would say—and I don't want this to sound vain or wrong—that some Republicans consider me their No. 1 enemy in Texas right now, their No. 1 political enemy. I would say this is a scar from the standpoint that these people are working on me every day."

If Barnes is a Republican target, Johnson helped make him one.

The former president let Barnes sit in on Cabinet meetings and exposed him to "top level people in the educational world and in the world of government" by appointing him to national commissions. He even sent Barnes to a United Nations session in Geneva, Switzerland.

Barnes apparently unlike Johnson, claims he has never felt ill at ease with the Eastern intellectuals. He says he has no "horror" of them. A Republican says it is because "he has more brass than a brass band."

But Barnes relates his political career to that of Johnson. "I think," Barnes said, "I've got to be extremely careful not to put my feet in cement on an issue that I'm not thoroughly familiar with, not qualified to speak on, because I think it could come back to haunt me. I think Johnson took some positions in the Senate, for instance, that created a credibility gap on his part after he got to be president."

Barnes has also been careful to repay Johnson for favors. Within two months in 1966, Barnes engineered adoption of resolutions supporting the U.S.'s Vietnam War policy.

Increasingly, in recent months, such Democratic presidential hopefuls as Sens. Edmund Muskie of Maine, Birch Bayh of Indiana and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota have sought Barnes' support in recognition of his prominent role in the Texas Democratic party.

One reason Barnes has the time to do special favors is that since 1960, when he won an upset victory for a seat in the legislature, he has never had a hard campaign. He won his first statewide race for lieutenant governor in 1968 with 1,967,021 votes—more than John Connally got for governor in 1964.

Barnes pleaded his support to Connally the first day of Connally's first campaign for governor in 1962 and they have been friends since.

And now Barnes says that since President Nixon's appointment of Connally as secretary of Treasury, Connally "told me on several occasions he would support me for governor or senator" and "repeated the pledge of support" after getting the Cabinet post.

Connally is one of Barnes' political advisers. Others include Robert Strauss, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee; George Christian, White House press secretary under Johnson; Dee Kelly, former aide to the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn; and Johnson himself.

Barnes will not talk much about his personal life, but aides say his uncontested divorce last year was a "friendly situation" and that Martha, his former wife, even suggested to her friends back home that they vote for Barnes.

For months, Barnes estimated his net worth at no more than $50,000, but his financial statement filed May 26 showed his worth at $83,100.

Saddled with a $400-a-month state salary for 10 years, Barnes admittedly "owes a lot" to Herman Bennett, a middle-aged West Texas construction company owner who has cut Barnes in on numerous business deals.

A 1970 appreciation dinner arranged by famed Houston heart surgeon Denton Cooley netted $154,000 for Barnes' campaign and supporters pay at the rate of $10 a month to Ben Barnes clubs which provide about $30,000 a year for his political expenses.

Barnes, a conservative when he was first elected to the legislature, has supported more and more liberal programs in recent years, including a state minimum wage, lower voting age, industrial safety proposals and higher welfare spending.

Barnes is up to 222 pounds on a 6-foot-3 frame—just a few pounds more than he weighed as a high school football player. Several Texas and Oklahoma colleges offered him football scholarships but he rejected them because of a nagging back injury. "Getting hurt may have been the best thing that ever happened to me," he said. "Otherwise I would probably be a football coach today."

Ex-Actor Back In Howard County

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A 78-year-old former actor, convicted in February 1970 of being an accomplice to murder, has been transferred from Brown County jail to Big Spring so that he can be hospitalized.

Rae Bourbon was released to the Howard County sheriff's department on orders from Judge Joe Dibrell, because there is no room for him at the Brownwood hospital.

Bourbon is awaiting the result of an appeal against the 99-year term which the jury handed down last year. He was convicted in connection with the death of A. D. Blount, a Big Spring pet shop operator.

The case was heard in Brownwood on change of venue from Howard County.

About one-fifth of America's hay crop is sold. The rest is fed to livestock.

Junior Editors Quiz on CRAYONS

QUESTION: When was the crayon invented?

* * *

ANSWER: Crayons were used in ancient times. The substance or chalk from which crayons are made comes from the bottom of the ocean. On the surface of the ocean, certain one-celled animals live. They are called foraminifera and have a shell of lime. When the creatures die, the shell drops to the floor of the ocean. In time, this substance becomes a soft limestone, called chalk, a material used to make crayons for hundreds of years. The ancients used a variety of this substance called "red earth" to make crayons. Many crayons today are made from artificial mixtures. Pigments are added to certain types of clay. The material is then held together by the use of an adhesive. By adding varying amounts of pigment, any shade of tint can be obtained.

Crayons were used in France as early as 1422 and have an important role in the history of art. In the 16th Century, artists used black crayon on white paper and white crayon on black paper; then they introduced other colors. Finally the great French artist, Watteau, used red crayon in such remarkable ways that he started a whole new type of art. Some of the world's greatest artists, such as, Holbein, Van Dyck and Tintorello, created great masterpieces with crayons. 7-17

Ellis Is Ready For Muhammad

By B. F. KELLUM
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Jimmy Ellis says he is ready now for his July 26 heavyweight bout with Muhammad Ali but Ali's trainer says his fighter needs a little more time.

Both fighters held sparring sessions Friday at their Astrohall training sites, adjacent to the Astrodome, where the scheduled 12-round fight will be staged.

"I am in real good shape," Ellis said. "I am ready to go 12 rounds right now."

Angelo Dundee, Ellis' manager, agreed.

"You can tell he's ready by watching him work," Dundee said. "He is really sharp. We just want to keep him in shape."

Harry Wiley, Ali's trainer, said Ali would be ready "in about eight days."

"He is coming along fine," Wiley said. "He is in good mental and physical condition. He has nothing on his mind now to bother him. All his court problems are now behind him."

"He wants to weigh 212-pounds at fight time," the trainer said. "What we'll do is get him down to 210, then bring him back to 212."

Ali continued to taunt Ellis during the workouts Friday. He also managed to joke with the crowd and spout poetry.

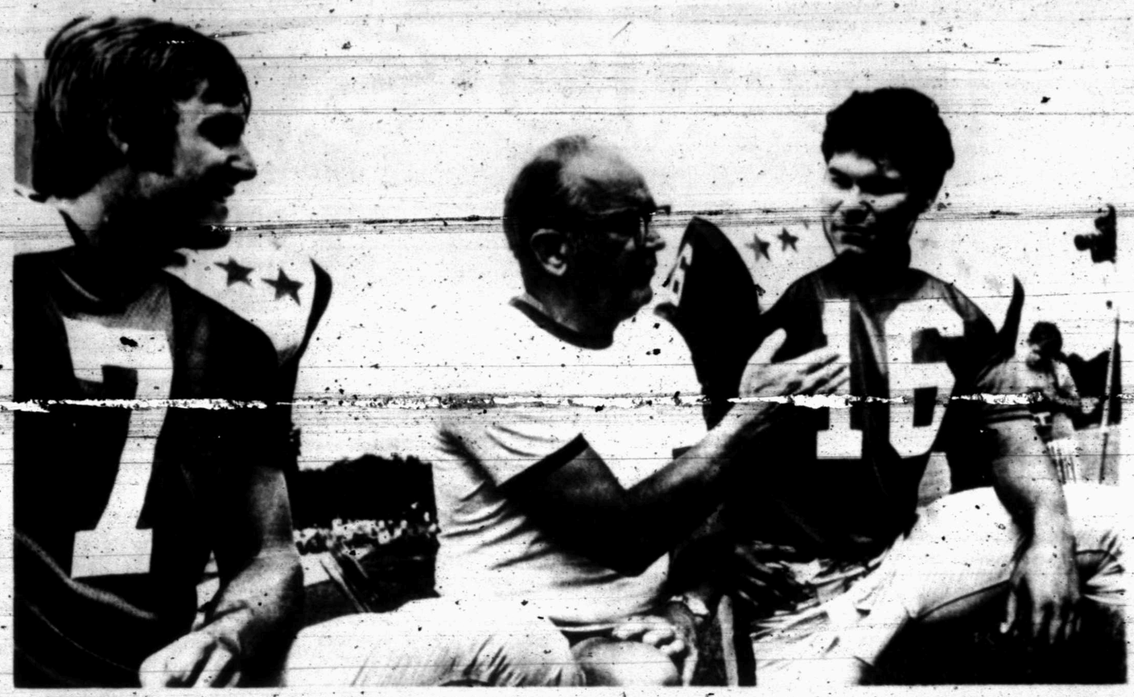

An example: "Ellis, I have speed, I have endurance. On July 26 you better increase your insurance."

Ellis said Ali's remarks don't bother him.

"He makes a lot of noise, and I've heard them all," Ellis said.

Ellis said all he could think about was winning the fight.

"I think I can win," he said. "That's all I think about. He keeps saying he is so much better than me, that I am just another sparring partner. This is the fight I want to win, the one I want to win big."

TWO FOR THE SHOW — Dan Pastorini (7) of Santa Clara, and Jim Plunkett (16) of Stanford, both quarterbacks for the July 30 College All-Stars vs. Baltimore Colts game in Chicago, listen as Blanton Collier, former Cleveland Browns coach, gives them tips in north Chicago suburban Evanston practice session. Plunkett In, Kapp Out

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Jim Plunkett, where are you? There's a steady job waiting for you with the New England Patriots with Joe Kapp apparently out of the picture.

Plunkett, Stanford's Heisman Trophy winner and the No. 1 choice in the National Football League draft, signed with the Patriots Thursday, then found himself a probable starter less than 24 hours later.

Kapp, a 34-year-old veteran quarterback who led the Minnesota Vikings to the NFL championship and a Super Bowl berth while playing out his option in 1969, packed his bags and left the Patriots' training camp at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst late Friday.

Reportedly working on a three-year $500,000 contract with the Patriots, Kapp was set down by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle. The commissioner ruled that Kapp cannot even work out with the club until he signs a standard player's contract.

Kapp said he refused to sign such a contract on the advice of his attorney, John Elliott Cook of San Francisco. He refused to say why. So did Cook.

Kapp reportedly sought a five-year, $1.25 million contract from the Vikings last year. He came to the Patriots as a free agent, with the Vikings getting safety John Charles and a 1972 draft choice as compensation.

"It's now a question of money," a Patriots spokesman said. "He's very satisfied."

Kapp was counted on to lead the Patriots while Plunkett learned the ropes in pro ball.

Mike Taliaferro, a veteran who lost his starting job when Kapp joined the Patriots, was on the trading block as late as Thursday night. However, he was taken off it with Kapp's departure, and looms as Plunkett's only challenger for the No. 1 quarterback job.

Meanwhile, huge Bubba Smith, the All-Pro defensive end, reported to the Baltimore Colts' training camp at Western Maryland College, two days late due to a contract dispute. Smith reportedly had been trying to renegotiate his current multi-year contract — but the Colts refused under a long-standing policy.

"We straightened things out," he said. "I'm going to play. There will be no more discussion about it."

Veteran tight end Marv Fleming reported to the Miami Dolphins' training camp, but running backs Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick remained holdouts.

Coach Don Shula said he would fine Csonka and Kiick $200 a day for missing workouts during contract negotiations.

Running back Duane Thomas and linebacker Chuck Howley failed to report to the Dallas Cowboys' camp at Thousand Oaks, Calif., and were subject to $100 a day fines. Thomas, the Cowboys' leading ground gainer in his rookie season last year, is under a multiyear contract with Dallas but has said he will quit if he doesn't get a new pact.

Howley, the most valuable player in last season's Super Bowl game, has yet to sign a new contract with the Cowboys.

Veteran running back Ronnie Bull and defensive end Harry Gunner, who was obtained from Cincinnati prior to the 1970 season, were placed on waivers by the Chicago Bears. Gunner was dropped after failing to pass his physical examination.

Cincinnati obtained Gene Tresch, a 6-7, 270-pound defensive end on waivers from the New Orleans Saints.

And running back Greg Jones of the Buffalo Bills was hospitalized after being struck on the head during a workout at Niagara University.

LL All-Star Playoff Set

The National Little League All-Stars will meet the American Little League All-Stars in a playoff game at 7 p.m. Monday, July 19, on the Little League diamond.

The winner will go to Corpus Christi the next day, Tuesday, July 20.

Manager of the National Little League All-Stars is Jeral Beard. Ted Crenwelge is the coach. Managers of the American Little League All-Stars are Royce Corbell and L. J. Mueller.

Team rosters:

NATIONAL LL ALL-STARS

Jeff Rollins, Kerry Young, Tim Falls and Mike McClure — Braves; Ricky Beard, Trese Falls and Randy Browning — Cards; Billy Wood and Lee Allen Jarrell — Cubs; Calvin Reese, Billy Rollins, Bryan Smith, Glen Davis and Kenney Crow — Giants; Honorary — Kelly Grimmett and Brad Francis.

AMERICAN LL ALL-STARS

Mark Mueller, Charles Cobb, Dale Hobbs, Bryan Walton, Royce Corbell and Randy Lewis — Athletics; Darrell Lester, Brad Browning, Doug Vaughan and Dray Sikes — Indians; Robert Riggins and Danny Chaidez — White Sox; Don Vaughan and Tommy Jones — Yankees; alternates — Anthony Lewis, Indians; Tony Cobb, Athletics; Ricky Rameriz, White Sox; Johnny Velasquez, Yankees.

Pete Murphy of Washington, D.C., will captain Yale's 1972 crew.

Musial To Don Uniform

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hall of Famer and seven-time National League batting champion Stan Musial will be in uniform Saturday night, Aug. 21 to play in the first Old Timers Game to be played in Veterans Stadium. Musial, 51, is senior vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Team managers will be Charley Grimm and Jimmy Dykes.

Major Fish Feeding Ground

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the major feeding grounds for Atlantic salmon was discovered in the Davis Strait off West Greenland less than 10 years ago.

In 1965 Danish fishermen took 36 tons of salmon from this high seas feeding area. Last year about 300 Danes in 35 trawlers took more than 2½ million pounds of salmon in nets which stretch for 10 miles.

American sportsmen say this type of netting is preventing the feeding salmon from returning to Canadian and Norwegian rivers and streams where they spawn.

Brenda Goldsmith Wins Jr. Title

DALLAS (AP)—By all rights, Brenda Ann Goldsmith of San Antonio should have been shook.

She held a slim one-up lead Friday going into the 17th hole of her Texas State Junior Girls Golf Championship match with Susie Long of Dallas at Las Colinas Country Club.

Miss Goldsmith dunked her tee shot in the water on the short Par 3 hole. So did Miss Long.

Miss Goldsmith collected her nerves and chipped her third shot to the pin for a bogey four. Miss Long double bogeyed and the match was over with the San Antonio girl owning a 2-and-1 victory.

Miss Goldsmith led four-up at one stage in the match, but Miss Long cut the margin to 1-up with a fine rally that included four birdies.

New Heel Plate Helps Gridders

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A heel plate designed by Otho Davis, Duke University trainer, is claimed to give better lateral traction in fast directional changes and to help reduce the number and severity of ankle and knee injuries to football players.

The cleat is a single-piece design with a deep angular slot. Its surface area, Davis explains, is great enough to prevent penetration into the turf, allowing the heel to move in the event the player receives a side blow to the leg. The angled slot in the heel plate allows the player to cut with the same ease as standard cleats.

The Davis cleats, field tested for a year before being placed on the market fit any standard show.

New Fencing Aide

NEW YORK (AP) — Odon Niederkirchner, New York Athletic Club fencing master for the last 22 years, will assist fencing coach Hugo Costello at NYU next season.

Niederkirchner, 67, came to this country in 1949 from his native Budapest. He spent 24 years in the Hungarian Army.

Harrelson To Try Golf

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ken Harrelson, former Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox baseball player, is to debut as a pro golfer in the $20,000 Little American Golf Classic at the Firestone Country Club here Aug. 2-4.

Harrelson, who retired from the Indians in June and said he wanted to be a touring pro golfer, will compete in a field of 100 for a top prize of $4,000.

Harrelson was one of six players exempted from regular qualification rules for the 54-hole Little American tourney, which will be played in advance of the American Golf Classic at Firestone Aug. 5-8.

The Little American will be held on Firestone's new North Course and the top five finishers will be granted exemptions to play in the $150,000 American Golf Classic.

Firestone officials said that since his retirement, Harrelson has worked with teaching pro Bob Taski at Saratoga, Wyo., and is now practicing at the Savannah Inn and Country Club at Wilmington Island, Ga.

Pirates Beat Redlegs 14-1

The Snyder Pirates beat the Snyder Redlegs 14-1 in a baseball game held Friday night in Northeast Park with Steve Holder firing a 6-hitter for the victors.

The Pirates tallied one run in the 1st, then the Redlegs tied it up in the 2nd. But three Pirate tallies in the 4th, three in the 5th, four in the 6th and three in the 7th removed all doubt about the outcome.

Joe Bishop and Washington doubled for the Redlegs while Almond hit two singles and Foree and Golden got one each.

For the Pirates, Bebob stroked four singles, Jackie Munrey hit a single and a double, Steve Washington hit a single and a double, Ron Lewis hit three singles, Holder and Richie Thompson each cracked two singles, and Wesley Bishop and Jack Newson each stroked one single.

The Redlegs will host Plainview in a double header beginning at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Trevino Closing In On Golf Money Record

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — It's almost certain that streaking Lee Trevino will break the single season money-winning record for a pro golfer this year—but it's not all certain just what that record is.

It all depends on where you look in the record book.

In one place it's listed as $205,168 by Billy Casper in 1968. But that one carries an asterisk noting "Total money listed beginning in 1968."

In another place it's listed as $211,556 by Jack Nicklaus in 1967. But was before the record book started recognizing "total money" and went with "official money." And his "official money" earnings that season was $118,998.

The difference is this:

"Official money" is actual prize money won in 72 hole events co-sponsored by the Tournament Players Division of the PGA. It does not include pro-am winnings or any prize money won in the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am or the Bob Hope Desert Classic, in which the pros play three, or four rounds in the company of amateur partners.

"Total money" includes pro-Am winnings from events played in conjunction with TPD co-sponsored tournaments, plus prize money from the Hope and Crosby.

Until 1968 the record book recognized "official money" only. Now it's the "total money" figure that goes into the book.

Just to make things more confusing, "total money" does not include such things as the British Open, the World Series of Golf, the World Cup, the Picadilly World Match play championship or Money won in events off the regular American tour.

Those figures appear nowhere except, presumably, in the player's report to the Internal Revenue Service and in his bank account.

MORE FACTS about modern drugs
① In the past ten years, wholesale prices for all commodities went up 20%, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. In the same period, prices of specialty drugs did not go up at all.
② Most modern drugs go down in price after sales and production increase. Salk vaccine, penicillin, and streptomycin are typical examples.

Texas Drifts Further Along The Drouth Trail

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas drifted further along the summer drouth trail during the past week, with only widely scattered rains to relieve a few areas. A general rain is the only real answer to a dry spell that can be traced back to the winter, Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricutural Extension Service, says.

Dryland crops are suffering across the state, stockmen are obliged to feed because of parched pastures, water tanks are low or dry, and livestock marketing is increasing. Only irrigated crops are progressing, the director said.

District agents described their respective areas like this:

Panhandle: Irrigated grain sorghum, corn, sugar beets and cotton are growing well. Corn is silking and tasseling. The wheat harvest is complete, with chiseling and disking of stubble in more areas.

Dryland forage and grain sorghum are either unplanted or growth-retarded due to dry conditions. Ranges are still holding some of their green from rains several weeks ago but won't last much longer. Livestock conditions are good in some areas.

South Plains: Hot, dry weather was hanging on in this region, especially in counties south of Lubbock, where large acreages of grain sorghum remained unplanted because of drought. Crop fared better in the northern sector.

Corn leaft aphids were working on corn and grain sorghum in Bailey and Lamb Counties, while greenbugs and aphids fed on sorghum in Cochran, Hale, Hockley, Swisher, Lubbock and Crosby Counties. Potatoes, onions and cabbage were being harvested, while tomatoes and peppers made good progress. Livestock appeared in satisfactory condition.

Rolling Plains: Moisture is needed in this entire region. Cotton is generally poor, with growth ranging from two-leaf to bloom stage. Dry soil is killing some of the cotton.

Ranges are poor to fair, and offer only limited grazing. Stock water is low, and some is being hauled. Stockmen are forced to feed their animals, and marketing is increasing.

North Central: Moisture is very short with all crops suffering. Pastures offer very little grazing. Some water tanks are low, others are dry. The hay crop is short. Peach production also is short, but prices are good.

Northeast: Dry soils have cut the growth of hay, grain sorghum, corn, pastures and pecans. Corn is tasseling, but only roasting ears are being harvested. Vegetables are burning.

Stock water is low, livestock are fair, and culling continues.

Far West: Decline of range lands has brought on increased marketing of lambs, calves and other surplus livestock. Irrigated crops are holding up, and alfalfa, onions and cantaloupes are being harvested. Irrigated cotton is growing well and has only light insect infestations.

West Central: Bandera County is the only area blessed with recent rains. Elsewhere, the drought remains. Grain sorghum is in various stages and doing well where widely scattered showers have fallen. Some watermelons are being picked in Mason County.

The pecan crop outlook is poor, Webworms are in Menard County pecans, and honeydew is troubling the nuts in Tom Green County.

Pastures are declining, stock tanks are drying, and stock marketing is increasing. Sheep shearing is finished for the season.

Central: Rain is needed badly in this region. Much of the corn and grain sorghum on dryland is beyond help, although early cotton is blooming in the blacklands and holding on fairly well.

Little corn has been planted, and poor yields are anticpated. Dryland peanuts need moisture now. Corn borer damage is reported in all counties, particularly in Brown County. The Pecan crop is below normal. Livestock and pastures are in poor condition, and cattle are being marketed in fairly large numbers.

East: Soil moisture is short to very short. Hay making is at a near standstill, corn prospects are fair, vegetable production has slowed, and the peach crop is skimpy. Pastures are puny, but livestock are in fair to good shape, and the market is firm.

South Central: Conditions vary from short to adequate in soil moisture. More rain will be needed for continued growth of late crops and pastures. Some hay is being cut, but the supply is critically short.

Pastures and ranges are below average. Stock tanks are very low.

Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast: Soil moisture in this normally high rainfall area is still mostly short. Cotton is blooming, and there is considerable weevil and bollworm infestations. Soybeans are blooming and podding, corn is maturing rapidly, and grain sorghum is maturing irregularly. A few farmers have begun harvesting of sorghum and reporting yields of about 3,000 pounds per acre.

Rice is about ready for harvest. Some producers will start cutting by Aug. 1. Vegetables are going to market, and melons are showing good growth. The hay crop is average, and the second cutting will be light. The pecan crop is below average.

Pastures also are below average and are providing only about 50 percent grazing. Livestock is in fair to good shape, the market is firm, and there is some supplemental feeding and culling.

South: Moisture is generally adequate, with the exception of San Patricio county. Showers have even delayed grain harvesting in a few areas. Cotton harvesting is beginning in the Rio Grande Valley, and [illegible] ranges are improved from rains last week. Some hay is being cut.

Farmers are busy preparing land for fall planting of vegetables.

Vaccinations are in full swing for Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE), the disease that is moving northward in Mexico and threatening U.S. horses. A quarantine is in effect on movement of unvaccinated horses in many South Texas counties.

Boat Show Change

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1972 National Boat Show here will present a new nine-day format.

The show will run from Saturday, Jan. 22 to Sunday, Jan. 30 but there will be no trade showing prior to public attendance, as in the past. Trade people will have the floor to themselves from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 24. The general public will be admitted at all other times.

Labor Problems Plague Business

By LINDA RUBEY
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor problems plagued business this week as telephone workers walked off their jobs and other strikes loomed across the nation.

A strike by 400,000 of American Telephone Co.'s one million employes began Wednesday when the Communication Workers of America rejected the company's latest contract offer. Over three years the offer contained a wage and fringe increase of more than 30 per cent.

Meanwhile, the United Transportation Union prepared for a selective strike of five major railroads. A top railroad official said such a strike "would not be much different than a nationwide rail strike."

In other labor problems, hundreds of ships were idle on the West Coast as a strike by longshoremen ended its second week. Walkouts by 39,000 copper workers and 17,000 Western Union workers continued, as did a strike by 5,000 members of the United Automobile Workers against the J. I. Case farm equipment company.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, said the telephone company and the union were only about 1 per cent apart now on wages. Pay now averages $133 a week.

Union sources said the key issue blocking a settlement is the distribution of the wage package. The union demands what it considers more equitable distribution of pay to workers in various sections of the country and better pay for female operators in relation to male craftsmen.

Service was maintained throughout the Bell network by the company's 300,000-member supervisory staff who manned the largely automated switchboard system and performed emergency repair and installation services.

The United Transportation Union, which represents about 190,000 firemen, brakemen and other train operators struck the Southern Railway and Union Pacific Railroad. A temporary restraining order was issued preventing a strike against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway until July 23.

Two other railroads, the Southern Pacific Co. and the Norfolk & Western Railway, are scheduled to be struck by the UTU July 24.

The Federal Reserve Board reported this week that industrial production rose in June for the fourth consecutive month. The June increase of .4 per cent was less than the brisk rise in May.

But analysts said the figures substantiated the fact that the economy was making a steady if unspectacular recovery.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said the imposition of direct wage and price controls seemed to be the only answer for halting inflation.

He also noted that organized labor was not "advocating controls."

Nixon Unlikely To Accept Mills Plan

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — New tax cut proposals from Rep. Wilbur Mills include a condition for action to hold down wages and prices which the Nixon administration is unlikely to take.

For that reason, the economy-stimulating proposals set forth Friday night by the powerful Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, may never come off.

In a speech at Ogden, Utah, Mills proposed increasing the minimum standard deduction for income taxes, revival of some form of the investment tax credit, and a ceiling on federal spending.

Reviving the investment tax credit and stepping up the deduction would stimulate the economy, but Mills put this key qualifier on his proposal:

"... It would be difficult to advocate such tax action at this time unless there is evidence that the administration will follow an effective incomes policy, and there was an appropriate and meaningful cut in federal spending increases."

An "incomes policy," in economic jargon, means direct action by the government in the marketplace to hold down on wage and price increases considered inflationary. It falls short of direct controls.

Mills' speech made it appear he was talking of a formally structured type of policy, such as wage and price guidelines or a high-level wage and price review board, both of which the Nixon administration has shunned up to now, although Mills said after the talk he had no idea what form the incomes policy should take.

Nixon has moved a step closer to a full-scale "incomes policy" with imposition of flexible machinery in the construction industry to moderate wage and price boosts. But administration officials say construction is a special case.

Only last Thursday, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally said Nixon had no plans to move toward a comprehensive wage-price policy. But Connally, Nixon's chief economic spokesman, didn't absolutely rule it out.

Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, in testimony before Congress earlier this month, rejected comprehensive "incomes policy" plans on grounds they have failed to work in other countries.

Jobs For Youth At Six Flags

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

The new Six Flags Over Mid-America outside St. Louis, Mo., is an exciting funland for all ages, but what really stood me on my ear was the fantastic high school and college students who work there to make the enormous multi-million dollar family entertainment center pleasurable.

IN TOTAL, the 3 Six Flags entertainment centers (the other 2 are outside Atlanta, Ga. and Dallas, Tex.) employ about 4,000 students each summer. The minimum age is 16, and the young people work 40-hours a week. Uniforms are furnished and laundered, but the students must provide their own living facilities and transportation.

Each young person hired is called a host or hostess, whether assigned to work as a ticket-seller or taker, ride-operator, fry-cook, cashier, drink stand attendant, tram operator, grounds-keeper, entertainer, security guard, sales clerk, parking attendant or tour-conductor. In fact, the hosts and hostesses just about run the park.

THERE IS NO SHORTAGE of applicants and those chosen comprise a rather elite corps sparkling with team spirit. What is required of applicants is a clean-cut look, a sunny smile and disposition, friendliness, a willingness to extend hospitality to guests, as customers at Six Flags are considered, and an abundance of energy. A high level of musical talent is required for the entertainment jobs.

Applicants are screened first in a group interview, and if promising, are invited back for a second solo interview. Job performance is evaluated throughout the season, and those who do good work have a very good chance of being hired again the following season. There are promotion opportunities and student supervisors can advance in pay.

ON-THE-JOB training is provided, and each new host and hostess is also given a manual on the "secrets of success." Among the tips in the manual is to learn such phrases as: "Yes, Sir," "Yes, Ma'am," "I hope you enjoyed your ride," "I'll be happy to give you directions," "It's been a pleasure to have you with us – come back and see us." All with a happy face.

Too bad there aren't more such training programs for youth. As Six Flags president Victor Palmieri points out in the manual, "Genuine hospitality, friendliness and service to others are becoming rare . . . but when put into practice they produce success, not just for us, but for you individually. Your future will be spent with people – all types of people – and learning to relate to others is a necessary ingredient for personal success."

IF YOU WANT to apply for a job next summer at Six Flags, or one of the other increasing number of family entertainment enterprises throughout the country, don't wait too late to act. Six Flags will begin interviewing applicants at each of the three parks Jan. 4, 1972. Write for information to Six Flags Over Mid-America, P.O. Box 248, Eureka, Mo. 63025; Six Flags Over Texas, P.O. Box 191, Arlington, Texas 76010; Six Flags Over Georgia, P.O. Box 43187, Atlanta, Ga. 30336.

Mrs. Chennault Not Surprised At Trip Plans

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Anna Chennault, Chinese-born widow of World War II Flying Tiger ace Lt. Gen. Claire Chennault, says she is not surprised that President Nixon has agreed to visit Communist China, but she expressed caution about the trip bringing concrete results.

On arrival here Friday, Mrs. Chennault told newsmen that "if Peking is serious there will first be much talk" before anything comes of Nixon's visit.

Mrs. Chennault, daughter of a pre-World War II Chinese diplomat, said U.S. policy toward China should follow an old British axiom: "Recognize no eternal friends, but keep an eternal interest in all countries."

She is a figure of glamor and mystery in Washington, a journalist and best-selling author. She was active in Nixon's 1968 presidential campaign and long has supported Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government. She is a vice president of Flying Tiger Lines, Inc., a cargo carrier.

Mrs. Chennault said that she neither supported nor opposed Nixon's visit, but "I don't think the Communist objectives have changed."

Mrs. Chennault stopped here on her way to a reunion of the Sino-American Cooperative Organization, a group of veterans from her husband's Flying Tigers corps which fought the Japanese in China during World War II.

Nine Die In Road Crash

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — Nine persons died and a tenth was critically injured early today when a car going the wrong way on the Interstate 75 freeway near here collided head-on with another auto in a southbound lane.

Police said that at least eight of the dead were from a group of nine youths in the southbound car.

It was not known if the ninth victim was in the car with the youths or whether he was the driver of the wrong-way vehicle, described by police as a man in his early 20s.

None of the victims was identified pending notification of next of kin.

Procedure Is Outlined For Veterans To Enroll

The procedures for veterans who wish to use their educational benefits at Western Texas College have been outlined by Dr. Duane Hood, director of admissions-registrar.

Dr. Hood advised that veterans eligible for assistance under one of the Veterans Administration programs should apply through the regional VA office in Lubbock for the necessary forms.

When the registrar receives the proper blank forms from the student, he will forward to the VA the certification of enrollment required at the beginning of each academic year. The Office of the Registrar will assist all veterans and war orphans with problems relating to their training programs.

The registrar will handle the monthly certification of attendance. The veteran will receive compensation for the load of classes he takes and for the number of days he attends classes each month. The VA considers 12 semester hours to be a full load.

Dr. Hood also pointed out that veterans who were residents of Texas at the time of entry on active duty in the Armed Forces and who are not eligible for VA assistance may apply for exemption from payment of tuition under the Hazelwood Act. A certified copy of the veteran's discharge papers must be filed when the application is made through the registrar's office.

Cold War veterans are covered by this Act, and the benefits and provisions of this Act apply to the children of veterans who were killed in action or died while in service.

Panel To Look At UT Fems

AUSTIN (AP) — A 10-member committee, including seven women, has been appointed by University of Texas President Stephen Spurr to review charges by four non-students that the school discriminates on the basis of sex.

Spurr said the committee will look at the overall status of women on the Austin campus.

Dr. Lorene L. Rogers, professor of home economics and education, has been named committee chairman, and Joseph Culver, director of the university personnel office, has been named deputy chairman.

Spurr said, "We have recently been informed by representatives of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that they have received a document signed by four non-university employes, charging the University of Texas at Austin with discrimination on the basis of sex.

WESTERN TEXAS COLLEGE

July 18, 1971 | Snyder, Texas | Volume I, Issue 1

THE TEMPORARY OFFICES — for the college are located at 3610 Ave. S. Sherry Ragland, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Ragland, 3208 42nd, Snyder, and Dr. Duane Hood, director of admissions-registrar, display the sign that will be erected at the temporary offices.

Officials Slate Progress Tour At 2 p.m. July 18

A building and progress tour of the Western Texas College campus will be held July 18, from 2 to 4 p.m. Dr. Robert Clinton, president, announced that members of the staff will be on hand to guide groups of interested citizens through the construction area.

The tour will include the power plant, the Academic-Science Center, the Resource Center-Library, the Fine Arts Center and the Administration Building.

The power plant and the Applied Science Center will be enclosed by then and the exterior stucco work will be complete. All of the glass, ceramic work, plastering and roofing will be complete. The center is scheduled for completion around August 20.

The Fine Arts Center and Administration Building will be enclosed and approximately 75 per cent complete externally. The roofs will be approximately 50 per cent complete and glass work will be started. The buildings are scheduled to open Nov. 1.

The Academic-Science Center and the Resource Center-Library exteriors will be approximately 50 per cent completed by then. The roof is scheduled to be started by then, and the mechanical and electrical work will be approximately 50 per cent completed.

Dr. Clinton said, "We will definitely be open and operating when the students arrive. A good many, but not all classrooms, will be ready for use by Aug. 26. We are, therefore, making arrangements to use some of Trinity Methodist Church's classrooms. Some classes will be on campus, others will be in the church classrooms.

As the first semester progresses," he said, "we will be moving more of the classes to the completed campus. By the start of the second semester, all students should be attending classes on campus."

College Starts With One Tradition; Fifty-five Years Of Community Effort

Few new colleges and institutions of higher learning begin with traditions or a history of any type. All most have is a desire to serve and to fill a public need. This is not the case with Western Texas College.

Western Texas College begins with a 55-year history of an unfulfilled desire to serve the public and one tradition: that of perseverance.

WTC's history echoes with a recurring community effort to achieve a single end: the establishment of a college for the betterment of the community and the youth of the community.

Since 1916, when citizens of Scurry County and the surrounding counties began trying to serve as the site of a West Texas A&M College, area citizens have fought for the privilege of having a college locally.

In 1917 and again in 1921, when bills were submitted to the Texas State Legislature, area citizens campaigned in favor of the college. Both bids were vetoed. West Texans did experience a partial success in 1923 when they were led by Judge M. E. Rosser. They campaigned to serve as the site for a technological school. The school was eventually located in Lubbock and became Texas Technological College.

Texas Tech served the area until the early 50's. Once again Scurry Countians and area citizens felt the educational squeeze. On Dec. 3, 1957, when Gov. Price Daniel signed a new junior college bill, they began in earnest to strive for a college.

The Scurry County Committee for a Junior College was formed. Wayne Boren was appointed chairman, and he had petitions circulated across Scurry County.

Boren called for the signatures of 500 qualified voters. Texas law required that 10 per cent of the county's qualified voters sign the petition. The signatures had to be certified by the county clerk and approved by the county board of education. If the state board approved the petition, they would then authorize an election of seven trustees. The election, if approved, was not expected to be held until the following spring.

The county clerk certified 750 signatures, and the petition was forwarded to the state board. The board appointed a special study committee to investigate the potential for a junior college in the area.

On Jan. 26, 1958, the study committee spent five and one-half hours gathering information. Only two persons, representatives of the local oil industry, spoke in opposition to the proposal. Their efforts to oppose the establishment of a junior college were successful, and the state board of education concluded that the college proposal was "premature." The board did suggest, however, that the proposal might be more acceptable if more counties were included in it.

Area citizens followed the state advice, and in mid 1962 they submitted a proposal for a joint county (Fisher-Scurry) college district. The state board held an inquiry and decided to hold a public hearing June 17 in Snyder. An estimated 800 persons attended the hearing. Again there was opposition to the establishment of a college locally. Again it was the area oil producers who were against it. Allied with the oil producers were members of area school boards and citizens from the proposed joint county college district.

The material gathered by the petitioners met all state requirements, and the group started their voyage to Austin. While they were on their way to Austin, the state legislature changed the requirements. Although the citizens managed to obtain postponement of a decision from the board, their petition was ultimately rejected in mid 1963.

Pre-registration Slated July 19-30 At WTC

Procedure for the pre-registration at Western Texas College, to be held July 19-30, has been outlined by Dr. Duane Hood, director of admissions-registrar. The process has been outlined in an attempt to facilitate accommodation of all students. Faculty members and counselors will be available for assistance with course selection at that time.

Pre-registration will begin at 9:00 A.M. on each day, but the student may come by at any time before 4:00 P.M. to participate in the pre-registration. All students who intend to attend WTC are urged to participate in this endeavor.

After the student arrives at the WTC offices, 3610 Ave. S, the following procedure would be followed:

Step 1. Pick up catalogue and schedule of courses from Dr. Brock, dean of the college, at first station.

Step 2. Determine whether admission files are complete with clerk at second station. Pick up all forms that are not complete.

Step 3. Fill out all forms that are incomplete at Station 3.

Step 4. While at Station 3, take time to read the catalogue for course information in your areas of interest.

Step 5. Proceed to Station 4 for further directions and pre-registration blanks.

Step 6. Proceed to Station 5 based on instructions received at Station 4. Fill out pre-registration forms before leaving Station 5.

Step 7. Proceed to Final Station for examination of all papers by Registrar.

In Church

Temporary Teaching Facilities

Trustees of the Scurry County Junior College District this week approved a rental agreement for temporary classrooms for Western Texas College, slated to open in the fall.

Dr. Robert Clinton, college president, said the board voted to accept Trinity Methodist Church's offer of classroom space.

The church offered three large classrooms at $40 each per month two smaller classrooms at $25 each per month and restroom and other facilities at $100 per month.

Clinton told the board that the college will probably need the additional space for the fall term only.

The board also voted to submit a letter requesting annexation to the city in order to extend police protection to the campus.

History

Undaunted, the citizens tried again in 1965. They proposed to use existing facilities to conserve on costs. They suggested using Lamar Jr. High School. They would operate on money shaved from school taxes and be saved the initial investment called for in building a new college. The aim this time was to cover just Scurry County.

On May 20, 1965, the Snyder City Council unanimously endorsed the proposed petition to establish a junior college in Snyder, and the Chamber of Commerce Junior College Survey Committee began calling in the petitions in a race against time. They had to have the signatures certified in time for the June 5 state board of education meeting. More than 500 signatures were collected.

An 11-member group met June 5 with the state board, and the board voted to name a study committee once again. Members of the Scurry Co. group were Badger Robertson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Junior College Survey Committee; Harold Bennett, president of the Snyder School Board; Bill Wilson, owner of the Wilson Motor Co.; Dr. Robert Clinton, superintendent of Snyder Public Schools; State Rep. Renal Rosson; Buford Browning, Scurry County School Superintendent; George Patterson, Snyder City Manager; Franklin Pruitt, Frank Taylor, John Jarrell and Herbert Feather. Representatives of Standard Oil of Texas filed a dissenting petition.

The Snyder Jaycees joined in the effort for the June 26 hearing in Snyder. They offered rides to those needing them. A crowd of 850 persons attended the hearing.

Scurry Countians were very hopeful this time. The whole county expected a decision from the August meeting of the state board. In a surprise move, July 12, the board rejected the petition in a 9-11 vote despite an eloquent presentation from Bill Wilson. At least the denial was not unanimous this time. Even though the board rejected the petition, it did not close the door entirely. The board voted to pass the files on the case to a new committee in September. Scurry Countians waited expectantly.

On April 18, the board rejected the petition. Scurry Countians became desperate. They sought any and every way to get a college in the county. They even considered annexation to Howard County Junior College. The tax valuations between the two counties were too different, and the idea was rejected.

A bill introduced by Senator Hightower in the 61st Texas Legislature was the event that finally opened the gates of opportunity for Snyder and Scurry County. The bill lowered the criteria for the number of scholastics required in a county from 4500 to 3000, before the coordinating board could approve a college district. Also, the evaluation of a county district was raised from ten million to 30 million.

History

With well over 3000 scholastics residing in the county and more than one hundred million dollars in assessed valuation, Scurry County qualified in every way for a county junior college district.

Immediately, the drive began that was to culminate years of trial and effort — the drive that was to end in success. Buford Browning, chairman of the Scurry County Junior College Study Committee, signed the first of 100 petitions that werre to be spread over Scurry County by Bob Harlin, chairman of the Jaycee Petition Circulating Committee.

Volunteers appeared to help. Many were young people who were enthusiastic about the prospects of having a junior college in Scurry County. They vounteered individually and by organizations.

An information committee was set up to inform any group interested in the junior college. Bill Hood was chairman of that committee. He and Jay Rogers, Buford Browning and Bob Harlin volunteered to speak before groups about the proposal.

With approximately 6,000 qualified voters in Scurry County, the committee began circulating petitions August 7. On Sept. 19, 1969, the petition with 2,162 certified names — approximately 46 per cent of the tax-paying voters — was taken to Austin by Browning, George Patterson and H. F. Clark.

After 53 years of trial and effort, on Oct. 20, 1969, the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System approved the petition for the holding of an election to create the Scurry County Junior College District.

The election was held Nov. 22, 1969, and it carried in favor of creation by a margin of ten to one. The voters approved a new tax assessment for the college, and they approved the issuance of bonds in the amount of three and one quarter million dollars. Seven trustees were elected and sworn into office.

Those elected to serve were M. L. Broman, president of the board; Dr. R. H. Hargrove, vice president; L. A. (George) Patterson, secretary; and board members William A. Jones, Edwin Parks, R. C. Patton and William H. Wilson, Jr.

On Dec. 20, 1969, the Scurry County Junior College District Board of Trustees chose Dr. Robert L. Clinton to serve as president of the college. Dr. Clinton assumed his duties April 1, 1970, and under his guidance, the board filled out the administrative staff in quick order. They selected Dr. Ben Brock to serve as dean of the college and Rex A. Hopkins as business manager.

Since Nov. 22, 1969, WTC has made much progress toward its Aug. 26, 1971, opening date.

With final registration nearing and classes just around the corner, everyone in Scurry County and the 11-county service area anxiously await the opening of Western Texas College. The successful opening of the college will cap 55 years of community effort. The college will stand as a monument to all those who did their part to insure the success and the continuation of the educational and social heritage of an area strong in civic pride.

WTC Cagers Will Get Stars Hill And Hannibal

Walter Hannibal, 18, a basketball star with Fort Worth Kirkpatrick during the past season, has signed a letter of intent to attend Western Texas College in Snyder on a two-year basketball scholarship. He was signed recently by Sid Simpson, athletic director of WTC.

Hannibal, 6'4" played forward for Kirkpatrick, averaging 21.7 points per game. He was named to the All-District team for the Greater Fort Worth area. He also made first team All-State as a tight end on Kirkpatrick's football team.

Kirkpatrick compiled a 27-15 record last season and was defeated in the regional round by Hughes Springs, which won the championship. Kirkpatrick lost the game after Hanibal had fouled out. He also averaged 15 rebounds per game.

"I saw him play in a tournament and was impressed with his ability," said Simpson. He said the Fort Worth native was the first athlete to be offered a scholarship by Western Texas College. But several other schools also sought him, and it took Walter a little time to decide which school he wanted to attend.

"I feel fortunate that we got him," said Simpson. Hannibal is the third basketball player to sign with WTC.

Gordon Harvick

Bobby Wine

Blake Arnwine

Tascosa Star

Jimmy Hill, a 6'4" forward from Tascosa High in Amarillo, has signed a basketball letter of intent with Western Texas College. Coach Sid Simpson announced the signing of Hill and noted that "Jimmy has some fine offensive moves around the basket. We feel if he can improve his rebounding and defense he can become a fine college player. He has a great deal of desire and should be a real asset to our program."

Hill was all-city and all-district in addition to making the honor team at Odessa Tournament. He led the district in free-throw shooting while averaging 16.9 points per game.

A "B" average student in high school, Jim plans to major in forestry engineering. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Hill of 4317 Charles Street in Amarillo.

"Cliff may have real potential. He jumps well and shoots respectably. If he can improve his floor speed and ball handling, we believe he will be of great value to our program. He is a good student and fine competitor," commented coach Sid Simpson.

Gardner is in the top 25 per cent of his graduating class and has won several scholastic awards in addition to lettering in football, track, and golf. He will major in agriculture at Western Texas College. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Gardner. Mr. Gardner is an administrator in the Tahoka schools.

Complex Opens Aug. '72

Low bids for the Western Texas College dormitory complex and a motor vehicle were accepted by the Scurry County Junior College District Board of Trustees in a special meeting recently.

The bid of $792,500 by Area Builders, Inc., of Odessa was the lowest received for construction of the 192-bed complex. The Odessa firm is the prime contractor for the first phase of campus construction now underway.

The dormitory complex will contain approximately 37,400 sq. ft. and will be air conditioned. The complex will be the first student housing on the WTC campus. It is expected to be ready for use at the beginning of the 1972-73 college term.

The college board had sought bids for providing two motor vehicles, a 12-passenger multipurpose van and a half-ton wide-bed pickup truck. The board accepted Snyder Motor Company's bid of $2,357.65 for a 1971 GMC pickup truck. The bid request for the multipurpose van was resubmitted with modified specifications for later consideration.

Tuition And Fees

Dr. Duane Hood, director of admissions-registrar at Western Texas College has announced the tuition and fees schedule for the fall semester of 1971. Dr. Hood said that tuition for students living in Scurry County will be set at $4 per semester hour with a minimum of $25.00 per semester. In addition each student must pay a building use fee of $1 for each semester hour of credit. Students taking 5 hours or more will be charged a $5 General Fee.

The schedule of tuition and fees is given below:

No. of hrs. taken	Tuition	Bldg. Use	Gen. Fee	Total
3	$25	$3	—	$28
4	25	4	—	29
5	25	5	$5	35
6	25	6	5	36
7	28	7	5	40
8	32	8	5	45
9	36	9	5	50.
10	40	10	5	55
11	44	11	5	60
12	48	12	5	65
15	60	15	5	80
18	72	18	5	95

The total fee given above does not include laboratory fees for such courses as biology, auto mechanics, music, etc. All students will also pay a $10 activity fee which includes admission to concerts, athletic events, films, etc.

Students who live in Texas but outside Scurry County will pay the same schedule of fees as given aabove. Out-of-state students will pay $20 per hour, with a $60 minimum and $200 maximum. The charge for alien students will be set at $14 per hour with a $200 minimum.

Pre-registration will be held July 19-30, 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M., at the college offices, 3610 Avenue S. Registration will be held on August 26-27 and all fees will be due at that time. A late registration fee of $5 will be charged Aug. 28 through Sept. 10. Students will pay a course change fee of $2 if they change courses after the first day.

GROUND BREAKING

200 Are Present At Historical Event

Monday, Nov. 9, 1970 was a date of historical importance for Western Texas College. The birth of the college was recorded that day as ground was broken on 160 acres of land donated to the college by Mrs. Jonisue Stiff. Some 200 persons stood on a wind swept hill under bright sunshine south of Snyder for an informal ground breaking ceremony.

FIRST PHASE

The event signalled the start of the first phase of construction work on the college campus, which was donated by Mrs. Jonisue Stiff, the former Jonisue Cogdell. Mrs. Stiff, who was introduced during the brief ceremonies, gave the college district 160 acres of land.

Congressman George H. Mahon, who was the principal speaker at the groundbreaking, said that the building of the community college here is one of the most significant events ever to unfold in this area.

WELL ROUNDED

Rep. Mahon praised the officials of the college for planning a well-rounded curriculum which includes emphasis on vocational and technical education as well as the regular academic work of a college.

"The dreamers and intellectuals had their place, but the people who work with their hands also had a big part in developing this country." Rep. Mahon declared.

He predicted that in years to come, those present would fondly recall that they were present "while the wind blew and the microphone crackled" as the ground was broken for the new college.

THE FUTURE

Mahon said that there is plenty to be skeptical and cynical about in the country today, but building of a college indicates that the people in this area still face the future with optimism. All must look forward with hope, he declared.

Dr. Robert L. Clinton, president of the college, presided at the ceremonies and M. L. Broman, president of the board of trustees introduced special guests, which, in addition to Mrs. Stiff, included representatives of area colleges and the Texas State Technical Institute at Sweetwater, the coordinating board of the Texas College and University System, the Texas Highway Dept., the County Commissioners Court, the college steering committee which helped prepare for the election creating the college district; representatives of the contractor, Area Builders of Odessa; officials of public school districts of the county, members of the college board of trustees and the college district's architects.

GROUND BREAKING

The Rev. Robert D. McArthur of the First Christian Church, gave the invocation, and the Rev. Henry Hartman, of Grace Lutheran Church, the benediction.

Following the introductions and Rep. Mahon's address, the college officials and guests took turns at a gold-plated spade in the symbolic ground-breaking.

Sears Family Donates A Carillon To College

Western Texas College received its first major gift when Mrs. Forest G. Sears informed college officials that she and her daughter, Carolyn Ann Sears, will present a $15,000 Americana Carillon as a memorial to the late Forest G. Sears, husband and father of the donors.

The carillon system, in the architects' original plans, was deleted by college administrators because of the expense involved. Sold by Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., Carillon Hill, Sellersville, Pa., the carillon will be used in lieu of the traditional electronic bell system to change classes. The carillon system will be installed in the Fine Arts Building with four weatherproff speakers installed on the two-story Learning Resource Center-Library building.

In addition to being used to change classes, the carillon will be played for special observances such as during the Christmas season. The 75-note carillon ranges from G to G. Equipment and services provided in the carillon system include a console, 25 Flemish-tuned bells, 25 harp-tuned bells, 25 celesta-tuned bells, Westminster and hour strike, automatic roll player, 100 song selections, 5-minute program clock, and tower ring for speakers.

M. L. Broman, board president, in accepting the gift for the college, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Sears and Carolyn Ann for "a beautiful and meaningful memorial gift to the college." Broman pointed out that "the cultural contribution to Western Texas College and to the college community through the carillon is very important.

"Carillons deal in three art forms and represent the finest in tradition, history, and man's achievement. The carillon will, we know, become a cherished tradition on the campus."

A bronze-embossed memorial plaque will be placed in the Fine Arts Center. The carillon system will play a prominent role in the dedication ceremonies of the college scheduled later in the 1971-1972 school year.

In addition to the beautiful sound of the carillon, the system will be used as a teaching device. Outstanding music students will be taught how to play and program the system through the console.

Mrs. Sears has long been interested in music and recognizes the importance of education. She has contributed to the financial aid of numerous students who have pursued higher education and was among the first to contribute to the scholarship program of Western Texas College.

Carolyn Ann, a Snyder High School graduate, is a nurse in Boulder, Colo. Mr. Sears, Snyder businessman, rancher, and former mayor, died in 1957.

Dr. Brock said that WTC's semester schedule falls in line with a recent trend in Texas colleges and universities of operating on a common calendar and ending the fall semester before Christmas.

He emphasized that those who are uncertain about enrolling, or those who do not understand college enrollment procedures, should contact the counselors at the college. They will help students plan course work for one and two-year terminal programs as well as for credit courses that will transfer to four year collegiate institutions.

Faculty Chosen For Dedication

What kind of people can an entering student at Western Texas College expect to be teaching the courses he will be taking? What qualifications can be expect them to have? Will the student be dealing with professionals? Will the instructors care about the student for himself, will they know who he is, or will the student be just another number?

He can expect experts to be teaching him, and he can expect them to have the highest professional qualifications. Better than anything else, he can expect his teachers to know him and to work with him personally.

The information below outlines some of the educational philosophy that administrators and faculty members are committed to carry out. It answers some of the questions students may have and gives them a fair indication of what they may expect at Western Texas College.

WHY THEY WERE CHOSEN

The instructors of Western Texas College have not been appointed because there was no one else available. They were not appointed because of their skill as lecturers. They were not selected because their standards were based on the number of students who failed their courses. They were not selected to raise so-called "standards." They were selected to assist the students in setting their goals and maintaining their standards. They were selected to teach and to accept the responsibility of the learning and progress of all students under their supervision. They were chosen to teach - not to select or eliminate students.

THE PHILOSOPHY

The college board of education and administration chose approximately 30 faculty members from more than one thousand applicants. Before an interview was scheduled, the faculty member received a two-page letter outlining the philosophy of the college with such statements as: "We are looking for people that are committed to teaching as a profession, that like to become involved with students in the instructional process, and are extremely competent in their chosen field. We are also looking for persons who have confidence in their ability as teachers and are willing to be accountable for the learning of students in their classes."

FREE TO TEACH

No doubt, some did not ask for interviews because "accountability" can be frightening. However, many applicants, especially those selected, were thrilled with the understanding that they would be free to teach.

Yes, there are "teaching machines," and the college will have many of them. Yes, there are hundreds of gadgets guaranteed by the manufacturer to be the way of learning. The college is fully aware of the gregariousness of man. Each instructor knows that machines do not instill confidence in one's self.

GUIDING EDUCATION

The instructors like to see themselves as a control tower operator with a calm, assuring voice, bringing the pilot into a safe landing through dense fog. They know a - "You are doing fine - Hold that heading and keep that rate of descent" - gives the needed assurance. They also know a calm correction as "Correct your heading 5 degrees left and reduce your speed five more knots" - can prevent a crash. The old - "Go ahead and kill yourself, it's your neck" is out.

An entering student should have an immediate feeling of security in knowing the faculty has accepted responsibility for him and are there too guide him through, not to send him away.

THE FIRST STUDENT to complete registration procedures at WTC was Jimmy Tartt, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tartt of Loraine. He is shown completing his papers with Dr. Ben Brock, dean of the college, and with Gaylan Bane. Miss Bane, 18, daughter of Mrs. Glenna Bane of Snyder, is the recipient of a $200 nursing scholarship.

Only Two Years Needed for W.T.C. Technical Degrees

One-year Certificates of Completion and two year associate of Applied Science degrees can be earned at Western Texas College in occupational and technical programs according to an announcement by the Director of Occupational and Technical Education, Gene Robertson.

Robertson explained that not only can students earn credits to transfer to four year schools from WTC, they also can complete their formal advanced education in one or two years.

He listed ten occupational and technical areas of study that will prepare an individual for an occupation in which he can find employment. The courses of study at WTC that Robertson referred to are Auto mechanics, diesel mechanics, welding, law enforcement, licensed vocational nursing, mid-management, general office, clerical, stenographic, and general secretarial and stenographic.

Auto mechanics is a complete two-year program designed to develop skill in the use of the tools of the trade, and in the maintenance, repair, and overhaul of the automobile and automotive equipment.

Diesel mechanics is a complete two-year program designed to develop skill in the use of the tools of the trade, and in the maintenance repair, and overhaul of the diesel engine.

Welding is a complete two-year program designed to develop skill in the use of the tools of the trade so that a student may be successful in taking and passing examinations to become employed or to become a certified code welder.

Law enforcement is a two-year program that enables students to be knowledgeable about concepts and practices related to the maintenance of public safety which includes the prevention of crime and the apprehending and rehabilitation of criminals.

Licensed vocational nursing is a one-year prescribed course of study with practical clinical experience. This program is designed to prepare the graduate to function as a member of the nursing team in providing basic nursing care to patients in simple nursing situations and to assist the registered nurse or physician in complex nursing situations.

Mid-management is an accelerated complete manager training program which combines classroom management theory with practical on-the-job training. The program leads to an Associate of Applied Science Degree. Management course work includes studies in basic principles of management, human relations, group dynamics, motivation of individuals and groups, leadership development, organization of work and people, study of supervisory functions and other management interest.

Concurrent with the academic curriculum, the student in Mid-management is required to work in a regular paid parttime job in a sponsoring firm. The student is required to work a minimum of twenty hours per week at an approved training station. His employer is a training director who helps the student make practical application of classroom knowledge. Evening college students may enroll in any Mid-management course and receive credit for an approved full-time job. Any student who commutes to Western Texas College may work in his own community.

In general office clerical course work, the planned learning experiences of this program are designed for students not interested in or not pursuing stenographic or secretarial skills. The program includes a combination of courses and practical experiences concerned with the recording and retrieval of data, including classifying, sorting and filing correspondence, records and other data. Activities also include the performance of general clerical work requiring the use of a typewriter in a majority of the duties, sorting and distributing mail, answering telephones, operating office machines, and other similar duties. A complete one-year program is prescribed.

The Stenographic and general secretarial program is a two year course designed to train students in the art of taking shorthand and special writing of notes by hand or by machine and transcribing them. Also the course is concerned with making, classifying and filing records including written communications. Students are also trained in general duties of office personnel.

The Stenographic course is a one year program similar to the stenographic and general secretarial program.

Students Can Still Get Financial Aid At WTC

Six Scholarships are still available at Western Texas College for those who can qualify, Mrs. Wilma Crawford, financial aids officer, announced recently.

Mrs. Crawford said that there are two $50 scholarships in art; a $200 and a $250 scholarship in nursing; and two $50 general scholarships.

She said that even though there are only six scholarships left, a student may qualify for other financial aid if he is unable to obtain a scholarship.

There are seven types of financial aids for which a student may apply. They are a National Defense Student Loan, the Work-Study Program, the Texas Opportunity Plan, an Educational Opportunity Grant, a Guaranteed Loan, the Law Enforcement Program, and the Vocational Rehabilitation Aid.

Mrs. Crawford emphasized that those who are interested in further information should write to the Financial Aids Office, Western Texas College, Snyder, Texas 79549.

Ralph Jackson Signs With WTC Cagers

Ralph Jackson of Union has signed a grant-in-aid schollarship at Western Texas College, according to an announcement from Coach Sid Simpson.

Jackson will be on the new college's first basketball team next winter. Last season, Jackson led Union to a 22-8 record, averaging 22.4 points per game and 20.7 rebounds.

Temporary Dormitory Facilities

Dormitory problems have been temporarily solved at Western Texas College, according to Dr. Ben Brock, dean of the college. He said that although campus dormitories will not be ready until the fall of 1972, temporary arrangements have been made with a few businesses and citizens.

Dr. Brock stated that specific arrangements have been made with the Travel Inn and with the Beacon Lodge. At each facility, limited space is available.

Women will room at the Travel Inn which requires a $25 deposit and a $200fee per semester. The Inn will furnish room, dresser, chest and bed with the student required to furnish all linens and special items.

The Beacon Lodge is for male students and requires a $25 deposit and $185 fee per semester. Members of the basketball team, golf team, and men's tennis team will reside there. The room, dresser, chest, and bed will be furnished with the student supplying his own linens and special items.

Negotiations are underway with the Ponderosa for similar arrangements, said Dr. Brock. He also said that citizens of the community are making available bedrooms, apartments, and garage apartments on an individual basis to students.

College Names Eight Steps For Enrollment

Dr. Duane Hood, director of admissions-registrar, has announced eight steps that students should follow in applying for enrollment at WTC. He announced the steps to clear up any confusion that exists about enrollment procedures.

He said that those who are interested even if they are not certain about going to college should write to the Registrar or to the counselors at the college. They can then advise the interested persons on the procedures to follow for registration.

In general, Dr. Hood has advised those who are interested to follow the steps listed below.

1. Write to the college for a college catalog.
2. Secure application form from the Office of the Registrar.
3. Complete and return the application forms to the Office of the Registrar.
4. Make certain that a transcript of credits from high school and or college is sent directly from the institution to Western Texas College.
5. Submit scores on the American College Testing Program (ACT) Test or the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (CEEB or SAT). Any high school graduate who is otherwise qualified will be accepted at Western Texas College, as results of the tests are used only for counseling purposes and in proper placement of students in course work.
6. Students will be notified of acceptance after successful completion of Steps 1 through 4. If the notice is not received, the student should contact the Office of the Registrar.
7. Contact the Dean of the College or Registrar for a pre-enrollment conference to plan course objectives and to clarify questions concerning registration and other details.
8. Students should report for registration on the date and time designated and pay tuition fees.

For Students

Publication Positions Now Open

Western Texas College will have a bi-weekly newspaper and a quarterly magazine for its student publications programs, according to an announcement by Larry Thompson, assistant professor of journalism and English.

Thompson said that students enrolled in journalism at the college will be responsible for producing all student publications. They will receive the type of instruction that will enable them to produce professional material.

He stated that neither the student newspaper nor the student magazine had been given an official name. He urged all who plan to attend WTC who are interested in working on either publication to contact him at the college for information on becoming a publications staff member.

TEACHERS

Inside meet some of the teaching faculty of WTC. All of the faculty was not included in this edition due to limited space, but they will appear in the Aug. 26, edition.
