

Justice Clark Draws Fire In Report Of House Committee

Document's Release Brings On Dispute

By HARRY SNYDER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee, in a disputed report, criticized Justice Tom C. Clark today for declining to testify after he joined the Supreme Court but said it had turned up no proof of wrongdoing by Clark while he was attorney general.

The document drew immediate fire from Rep. Byron G. Rogers (D-Colo.), one of the five subcommittee members, who said Chairman Keating (R-NY) pulled a "snake play" by his "unwarranted political release . . . of his proposed libelous report."

Rogers defended Clark, an appointee of former President Truman, and said most of the report had not been approved in subcommittee or even considered by the parent judiciary group.

The report, dealing with the subcommittee's inquiry last year into operations of the Justice Department, said the investigators were "troubled" because some controversial actions were traced back to Clark. Clark was attorney general in 1945-49 before going to the Supreme Court.

Keating said in an accompanying statement that Clark's failure to testify was "unfortunate" because "we were deprived of the benefit of any light which might have been shed by a former member of President Truman's Cabinet."

Clark could not immediately be reached for comment. But Rogers called Keating's statement "completely baseless" and accused the New York Republican of violating his own fair play code in making the report public.

The 135-page printed report contained no signatures of subcommittee members in its major sections. At various points "Minority views" were contained under Rogers' name. Separate views were also entered by two congressmen who were members of the full committee but not the subgroup.

There was no explanation why the report, transmitted to the parent committee 11 months ago, has not yet been acted on there.

The report said the subcommittee "found no conclusive evidence of wrongdoing by Justice Clark at any point during his service in the (justice) department." Then it said:

"It was troubled, however, by repeated suggestions in the testimony of his associates and subordinates that some of the actions for which they have been criticized were traceable, ultimately, to him. His testimony alone could have removed the last doubt that the responsibilities the subcommittee has placed on various department officials came to rest, in every case, on the right shoulders."

The printed report summarized eight different phases of the subcommittee's investigation, including an invitation to Clark to appear before it and testify. It reproduced a letter from Keating sending the eight reports on to the full Judiciary Committee last Aug. 6. Another letter by Rep. Chauncey W. Reed (R-Ill.), chairman of the full committee, said that with the exception of one of the eight portions the subcommittee report "has not received the consideration of the committee . . . and does not necessarily reflect the judgment or conclusions of this committee."

Rogers, in a separate statement, cited these circumstances and noted that one of the rules which Keating proposed and the subcommittee adopted—and which is reprinted in the document—reads: "No report shall be made or released to the public without the approval of a majority of the full Committee on the Judiciary."

Rogers also said he had evidence that there had been "flagrant in-

Bruce Frazier Named Martin County Judge

BULLETIN
Bruce Frazier Sr. was appointed judge of Martin County by the commissioners court here Tuesday afternoon.

His selection came after the court had considered names of eight men to serve until the general election.

Frazier, former Big Spring resident, had resided here for several years and was county service officer.

During World War II he was a member of the draft board and later its chief clerk.

STANTON (SC) — Martin County's commissioners court buckled down this morning to naming a successor to resigned County Judge James McMorris.

Earlier, the court had decided to call a public meeting in the county courtroom for 10 a.m. Friday to elicit suggestions for naming a judge. With McMorris retiring from office effective midnight Tuesday, the court rescinded the motion on the public meeting and took at least eight names under advisement as an appointee to the judge's post.

This was not the only order rescinded during the morning's busy session. Another had to do with McMorris' last act with the court before he left it to name his successor.

He asked that the record show that he left the meeting after the minutes of the May 10 and July 3 meeting had been approved, with one minor change, and that he had appointed Commissioner Stanley Lewis as chairman. This passed, but after McMorris left the room, Commissioner Joe Froman moved that the order be rescinded.

"He's not the commissioner court," said Froman. "We are the commissioners court. We will elect our own chairman."

By unanimous vote the order was rescinded and Commissioner Irvin Welch was named as chairman. Other commissioner present was Oliver Vaughn.

Among the names which had been mentioned as possible appointees to serve until the general election were Grover Springer of Lenorah, W. N. (Bill) Orson, Tar-

348 Car Crash Deaths Below Holiday Fears

By The Associated Press
Final figures on accidental deaths showed the July 4th weekend to be far safer and saner than expected.

Traffic fatalities especially were well below indications, the total of 348 comparing with the forecast of 480 made by the National Safety Council. These totals were for the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said the comparatively low traffic toll was spectacular evidence of a trend which has been apparent all this year. Every month has shown a decrease in traffic deaths from the same month last year.

We are encouraged to believe combined efforts are bringing about better traffic behavior."

The council said its forecast had been compiled in the same way as in the past, based on experience with other holiday tabulations. The all-time high mark for a three-day July 4th weekend was 368 in 1952.

The four-day toll of 491 in 1950 was considered more typical, the council said, producing a range in estimates of 420 to 460 which was reduced to a final calculation for this year of 430.

Had it not been for the emphasis placed on the drive safely campaign, including President Eisenhower's message last Thursday, we would have had a normal toll of more than 400," the council said in a statement.

Drownings and miscellaneous accidents, including fireworks, raised the violent death toll to 620. The Associated Press survey listed 189 drowned and 83 killed in miscellaneous accidents. Four in the miscellaneous category were from fireworks.

The toll by states (traffic, drowning and miscellaneous):

DETERMINED FIGHT SET AGAINST DISEASE IN WAKE OF BIG FLOOD

By The Associated Press
A determined fight against disease was on Tuesday in the Upper Rio Grande Valley where only a week ago the usually sleepy border river, fed by cloudbursts, went on a wild rampage.

A "number" of typhoid fever cases were reported Monday in Ciudad Acuna, across from Del Rio, Tex., and Nuevo Laredo—sister city of Laredo, Tex., across the now placid river—asked for 25,000 shots of typhoid vaccine.

Engineer troops worked through the night on a pontoon bridge that would close the flood-made gap in the Pan-American Highway, chief land link between the Americas. It was expected to be completed Tuesday.

Art Jones, Laredo Red Cross disaster director, said 25 tons of clothing and food supplies had been sent to Nuevo Laredo by Air Force transport planes. Jones said other shipments would be made.

Besides the typhoid vaccine asked, Nuevo Laredo also asked for 2,000 shots of anti-tetanus serum, antibiotics and other medical supplies. They were scheduled to be flown into the stricken Mexican town as soon as the U. S. Public Health Service could supply them.

Del Rio drug store owners opened their stores on the fourth of July holiday to fill an emergency request for gauze, bandages, narcotics and antiseptics to be sent to Ciudad Acuna. Officials in the typhoid-threatened town also asked for 15,000 shots of typhoid vaccine, sent immediately from the U. S. Public Health Service in Dallas.

Three Russians Ousted By U.S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Russian diplomats — one of them attached to the Soviet delegation at the United Nations — have been thrown out of the United States during the past six months on charges of spying.

The Russian government, the State Department claims, has now retaliated by making espionage charges against two members of the U. S. diplomatic mission at Moscow and forcing their withdrawal.

The two Americans are military officers, as were the two Russians ousted from the embassy here.

The State Department declined to disclose any of the evidence against the Soviets, but Press Officer Henry Sordam said, "We got the goods on them and out they went."

The incident which the State Department announced late yesterday, after months of silence on the ouster of the alleged Russian spies, had more than ordinary significance because of the policy situation which is developing among Russia and the Western Powers.

The Kremlin has been making a big play for British and French cooperation in an obvious effort to place heavy strains on the Western alliance. Every evidence of difficulty between Washington and Moscow coming at such a time carries the risk of widening Western differences by emphasizing differing relations with the Soviet Union.

The two Americans whom the Russians accused of having engaged in "espionage work" are Lt. Col. Howard L. Felchin of New York City and Arlington, Va., who was assistant military attaché at the Moscow Embassy, and Maj. Walter McKinney of Santa Cruz, Calif., the assistant air attaché.

The Soviets declared them "persona non grata" or unwelcome on July 3. The United States rejected the charge as "baseless" in a note yesterday, but it informed Russia they would be withdrawn.

Maj. McKinney is on vacation outside Russia and will not return. Col. Felchin will leave the Soviet capital Thursday. He will fly to Berlin with Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, who is going on a month's leave.

A letter published in the Soviet trade union newspaper Trud on March 25 accused Felchin and McKinney and two other Americans. Trud said the Americans had left behind on a train, after a trip to Vladivostok, an intelligence report on the main cities and stations between Moscow and Khabarovsk. The U. S. Embassy at Moscow declined comment at the time.

The three Russians whose ouster 'Continued Hot' Is State Forecast

By The Associated Press
Tuesday dawned hot and dry on Texas with only isolated thunder showers in the afternoon and evening due to break 100-degree temperature levels across the state.

At dawn, most sections of the state already were hot with an 80-degree mark at Palacios and Galveston the highest thermometer readings. Most temperatures as the sun came up were in the upper 70s.

There was no rain reported between midnight and 4:30 a.m. Dalhart's 83 of an inch was all that was reported all day Monday.

Forecasts for Tuesday and Wednesday called for continued hot weather with "a few isolated afternoon or evening thundershowers."

Ladies & Gentlemen, The Winnahs!

Blue ribbons went to a racing champion and two beauty and talent queens at City Park Monday to climax Big Spring's biggest Independence Day celebration.

Charles Morris became the city's first Soap Box Derby champion, out-rolling 36 other title seekers in competition so fierce that at times the two-man heats ended in ties and had to be run over.

Kenda McGibbon became "Miss Big Spring" for 1954 in a beauty and talent revue also marked by keen competition. Before judges could reach a decision they asked that five of the 42 contestants appear on the stage for "another look."

Peggy Knight, Forsan, was chosen "Miss Howard County" for 1954. She won over 11 other girls in an equally-close contest.

Charles, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Morris, will represent Big Spring at the All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron, O., as a result of his victory. He also received the handsome T. H. Keating championship trophy, presented by Roy M. Cash, zone manager for the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The national races will be run Aug. 15 in Akron. However, Charles and his sponsor are to arrive on Aug. 12 for three days of entertainment and other activities which precede the All-American derby.

Prizes also were presented second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth place winners in the Big Spring races, and awards were made for the best constructed, best appearing, and best upholstered cars.

Five judges spent nearly an hour deciding the outcome of the Miss Big Spring and Miss Howard County contests, despite the fact that the entrants had been judged on their school records, hobbies, accomplishments, and their appearance on the stage.

Second and third place winners in the Miss Big Spring contest were Anne Gray and Alice Ann Martin, respectively. Beverly Meador, Coahoma, and Paula Jean Russell, Stanton, won second and third places in the Miss Howard County contest.

Gifts and flowers were presented to each of the winners. Also honored were last year's winners—Charlene Williams of Coahoma as Miss Howard County of 1953 and Sue Zollinger as Miss Big Spring of 1953.

Margie Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Newman, was on the stage as Miss Howard County for 1954, and Robbie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, was presented as Miss Big Spring for 1954.

The annual fireworks display, provided by the Chamber of Commerce, was set off following the beauty pageant. About 130 shells were discharged and the display included the "waterfall," American flag and other set pieces.

The crowd of more than 10,000 persons that assembled in and around the park for the pageant and fireworks probably was the largest ever to attend one of the annual shows. Police, sheriff's officers, Highway Patrolmen and other authorities spent more than an hour directing the hundreds of automobiles away from the area. No serious accidents were reported.

Several thousand also were on hand at the park during the day for the Soap Box Derby. Preliminary heats were run off during the morning and 19 boys started competing for the championship during quarterfinals Monday afternoon. Lions Club members handled mechanics of the races on the track just west of the municipal swimming pool.

The 50th Air Force Band, from Webb AFB, provided music for both the derby and the beauty pageant. ROTC cadets at Webb for their summer encampment served as escorts for the beauty contestants. Bruce Frazier was master of ceremonies at the pageant, and vocalists heard during the program were Mrs. David Barlow, of New York, and A-2C Anthony Gifts of Webb.

Gifts of sterling silver were presented the winners of the two divisions of the beauty pageant by Zale's Jewelers. Lynn's Jewelers presented gifts of pottery to second place winners, and the Book Stall provided gifts for the third place winners. Pitman's Jewelry presented gifts to Miss Big Spring and Miss Howard County of 1954. Flowers went to all the winners from Estah's, Faye's, Carolyn's and Cottage of Flowers.

Czechs Reported To Have Offered To Swap GIs Held

BAERNAU, Germany (AP)—German border police said today Czech authorities have offered to swap seven U. S. soldiers, arrested Sunday, for three Czech freedom seekers. But U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg said it was not involved with the Czech escapees.

A U. S. Army headquarters spokesman said the Army was negotiating directly with Czech authorities for release of the Americans—six enlisted men and a captain on leave—seized on the East-West border while sightseeing.

We hope we will be able to obtain release of the men," they would not elaborate.

The Army said a half-ton weapon carrier truck in which the men had been driving was found abandoned late Sunday near the village of Weiden, about 15 miles from the Czechoslovak border.

A West German farmer in the area told the German police he saw the men Sunday. They asked where the border was and said they wanted to take a look at it. The police said the farmer told them they were very near the border and should be careful. The German said the last he saw of them, they had left their truck and started walking toward the boundary.

He said four Czechs were present at the morning meeting. "There may have been more in the vicinity but they must have been hiding," he added.

U. S. authorities said earlier at Heidelberg that they were pressing for the release of the seven Americans. They refused to reveal their identities.

Army authorities said: "We are in communication with the Czechs and are trying to obtain the release of the men." They would not elaborate.

Weekend Violent Death Toll Mounts To 54 Over Texas

By The Associated Press
Texas' huge Fourth of July celebration—a walloping of picnics, fishing trips, political rallies, baseball games, and miscellaneous entertainment—left at least 52 persons dead Tuesday.

Of the reported fatalities, 24 were in traffic accidents, 14 were from drowning, and 11 persons were shot to death.

Tuesday morning the death toll from accidents on the highways was mounting toward the 31 predicted by N. K. Woerner, chief of the statistical division of the Department of Safety. The count was for the hours 12:01 a.m. July 3 through 11:59 p.m. July 5.

During the same three-day period last year 28 persons were killed in traffic after Woerner predicted a toll of 27.

In Texas, some of the most recently reported fatalities included: Inguliana Gonzalez, 13, and Daniel Gonzalez, 11, drowned Monday in a small private lake on a farm near Banquete, Tex. Miss Janie Gonzalez, 20, was fatally stabbed Monday at her home in Rosenberg, Tex. A 20-year-old man was charged in the killing.

Pfc. Charles Page Jr., a military policeman, was shot to death Sunday night at Connally Air Force Base by a sentry. Officials quoted the sentry as saying he fired after Page failed to properly answer the sentry's challenge.

Choice Wiegand, 23, of Waco, was found dead Monday at his home, a .38 pistol and cleaning rod beside him. An inquest verdict of death by accidental shooting was returned.

Connie Lee Burrell, 9, of Twitty, Wheeler County, was accidentally shot Sunday afternoon by a 14-year-old cousin while out hunting.

The worst traffic accident occurred Saturday in a head-on collision near Lubbock which resulted in the deaths of four persons. Mrs. Irma Morris, 64, Pittsburg, Tex., died Monday, Carroll Davis, 51, of Longview, died Sunday, Davis' wife, Mrs. Ernestine Davis, 28, and Cpl. James W. Morris, 18, of Lubbock, were killed instantly in the crash.

James Lane Jr., 16, of Greggton, drowned Monday in Merrills Lake near Gladewater.

Earl Mowers, 8, of Tyler, died Tuesday of injuries received earlier when his bicycle was hit by a truck at a Tyler street intersection.

Fred Foster Ingram, 52, of Odessa was drowned Monday in Lake Buchanan near Llano. He fell out of a boat while trying to untangle a net from the small craft's motor. He and his wife had been fishing.

Hoyt M. Paxton, 53, was shot to death at his home in Fort Worth Monday night by burglars who took $3,000.

Whale Shark, 45 Feet Long, Wins Fight With Fishermen

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The master of a party fishing vessel told today of "the big one that got away" — and fifty witnesses backed up his story.

Capt. J. B. Mathews, skipper of the Capt. Bae Strickland, and his crew fought a losing seven-hour battle with a 45-foot whale shark in the Gulf of Mexico Sunday.

"It was the biggest thing we've ever seen outside a plaster cast of a whale in the New York Museum of Natural History," said Karl Dronke of Newark, N.J., who was aboard with his wife and son, Karl Jr.

Mathews and his crewman, Milton (Sonny) Payne, had an idea they'd run into a specimen of the world's biggest fish when the Capt. Bae Strickland shoved off Sunday for a day's fishing in the Gulf, with more than 50 persons aboard.

Mathews had spotted a huge whale shark in the fishing grounds 50 miles off John's Pass a week earlier. He hooked the whale shark on a 370-pound test line then but the line snapped like a thread.

Sunday he was prepared with "tackle" that included a foot-long shark hook, three-foot chain leader and 500 feet of five-eighth manila line. This was double spliced into the anchor cable which was an inch thick, with the capstan as a "reel."

When the customers began hauling in cobs up to 25 pounds, Mathews knew the whale shark was nearby, for these are free-loading fish which trail the shark for tidbits.

The Capt. Bae Strickland made a dozen passes at the whale shark before Payne sank the hook into the big fish's lower jaw.

"The crew played it like any other fish," Dronke said. "Mathews kept a tight line on him and Payne handled the capstan reel.

Man Dies After Shooting Incident Over Texas Slur

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Philip E. Ahim, 48, movie stunt man shot a week ago during a Hollywood party after making derogatory remarks about Texas, died last night in general hospital.

The shooting took place during a party at the home of oil heiress Barbara Clamplitt. Charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder was Ed Neely, 61, of Texas. He is the husband of the former Leah Clamplitt, sister of the heiress.

After his arrest, he told officers the shooting occurred after Ahim "kidded" him about his Texas accent and made derogatory remarks about that state and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Neely is free on $10,000 bail.

Tragedy Strikes Vacationers In France

Four-car auto-rail train lies piled up near Chateaubourg, France, following a crash with a freight train. At least 34 persons, all vacationers, were killed in the tragedy, while 30 were reported injured. Rescue workers probed through the wreckage for possible other victims. Railroad officials blamed the crash on a faulty switch. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Paris.)

U.S. Beginning To Reappraise Its Full Global Foreign Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is beginning a reappraisal of its foreign policy which may prove to be much more "agonizing" than Secretary of State Dulles foresees.

Dulles was talking only about a re-shaping of U.S. policies in Europe when he served notice on France several months ago that this country might undertake an "agonizing reappraisal." But now Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California has raised a far more sweeping issue over the possibility of United Nations membership for Red China.

The issue essentially is: At what point in its efforts to get along with allies should the United States decide the struggle is not worth the result, and strike out on its own?

There have been enough recent debates on foreign policy to make it clear that the choice of basic direction is limited to about four possibilities. Those are:

1. Preventive war — The Truman administration repudiated this possibility when it was widely talked about several years ago. The Eisenhower administration has committed itself to a policy of peace. Yet in some official quarters the idea of making war on Russia occasionally pops up, the argument being that the West presumably holds an edge. But the idea is foreign to all U.S. traditions. And the European nations are frightened to death of the whole idea of war and could not be counted on to provide any support for such a policy.

2. Western Hemisphere fortress — This concept was much talked about in the early debate preliminary to the 1952 election. The idea was that United States has ample power and resources for its own defense, that its allies are not too dependable anyway, and that if they cannot stand on their own feet they cannot forever be propped up. This notion was disputed by those who contend that the United States is dependent on many vital raw materials from foreign sources and that it could not exist as the powerful nation it is without cooperation of countries outside the Americas.

3. Island strategy — This concept, representing a kind of bridge between the "fortress" policy and the policy of alliances—fits with many of the facts of America's position in the world today but does not embrace all of them. Essentially it holds that America's best allies are those on islands—Japan, The Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Britain. By extension it would include stout anti-Communist nations like Spain and South Korea—both peninsulas. It does not make provision, however, for a defense in the heart of Europe based on either Germany or France. It is in line with some speculation at the State Department that an alternative to a French-German reconciliation is a peripheral strategy, meaning a system based around the rim of Europe in places like Britain, Spain and Italy.

4. Security through strength — This is the policy which the Truman and Eisenhower administrations have both followed. It depends for its success on strong and reliable allies and on getting along with them. It has cost the United States many billions of dollars in military and economic assistance and it is the policy which administration officials presently intend to pursue to the limit.

Nevertheless, it is also the policy which would have to undergo the acid test of congressional and public support in any future great debate. And such a debate seems certain to develop by the end of the year if Britain, France and many other nations join with Russia and various cold war neutrals to vote Red China into the U.N., and if France meanwhile persists in blocking the European Defense Community with Germany.

Autopsy Ordered In Death Of Star's Son

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — An autopsy today is expected to determine if the son of radio's Andy Griffith suffered a fatal kidney ailment because of accidental poisoning. John Joseph Correll, 7, succumbed yesterday after being hospitalized four days. He was the son of Charles J. Correll of the Amos 'n' Andy show.

The coroner's office said the boy may have contacted an insecticide or some other poisonous substance that affected his kidneys, but only the autopsy could provide a definite answer.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

When viewed side by side, a lion and a tiger show various differences.

When someone says that a tiger "may have a length of 10 feet" he is telling the truth, but he should add something to his statement. No tiger has a body 10 feet long. To get such a measurement, we must include the tail. The tail of a large tiger is more than a yard long. The head and body may measure seven feet and a few inches. If we add the tail, the total length may pass 10 and a half feet.

Big male tigers weigh from 400 to 500 pounds. The female, or tigress, is less large, but she is powerful nonetheless. If you see some baby tigers while you are wandering through the wilds, you had better not pick them up! You might only want to pet them, but the tigress would be all too likely to spring at you.

In such a case, the animal probably would leap on you from the rear. Like wildcats and other members of the cat family, the tigers are crafty. They take victims by surprise whenever possible.

The tiger has been called the most terrible fighting machine in the modern jungle. Maybe it is, but there are questions about the statement. In many cases, a water buffalo can whip a tiger in a fair fight.

We may also notice that a tiger never seeks a single combat with an elephant!

In fights with animals of its own size, the tiger usually is the victor. A leopard is supposed to be "fiercer" for its size, but leopards are afraid of tigers.

Tigers sometimes get up in trees. By leaping, they may spring to tree branches which are six or eight feet above the ground. If there is a flood in a certain area, they can escape by staying in strong trees.

Tigers try to avoid floods, but they are able to swim. When they want to cross a river they prove that they are excellent swimmers.

Missing Mars' Lake Puzzles Astronomers

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese astronomers were puzzled today over the disappearance of a "lake" on the planet Mars, now making one of its rare close approaches to the earth.

Tsunoo Sasaki, a leading Japanese authority on Mars, said observations made from the Osaka Electrical Science Hall failed to disclose the landmark.

It was clearly visible in 1939 under similar conditions, Sasaki said.

About 60 per cent of the world's population live in Asia and Africa. Six out of every 10 people in the world live on farms.

If Senate Goes Along, Die Cast Concerning Flexible Supports

If the farm vote is as decisive in the congressional elections as many congressmen have been afraid it will be, and as it was in 1948, and if the Senate goes along with the House, the fate of many a sitting congressman was sealed by House action Friday in approving the administration's flexible farm price support proposal.

proved the principle of flexibility. The agriculture committee of both houses had rejected flexible supports. The Senate still has to act, and if it refuses to follow the House lead, the matter must be ironed out in conference committee.

Eisenhower Regime Resentful Of Growing Press Criticism

WASHINGTON — The increasingly critical tone of the press toward the Eisenhower Administration in recent months has produced a strong reaction within the Administration. The feeling is growing that with a press which is privately accused of being both irresponsible and overly critical the conduct of both foreign and domestic policy—particularly the former—becomes all the more difficult in a time of grave crisis.

National Security Council document dealing with the relative military strength of the Soviet Union and the United States. They gave the official number of this "top secret" document.

In speaking of the record to the National War College during the term that ended in mid-June, four members of Cabinet rank in the Administration took the line that the press was putting the Administration under a heavy handicap. This attitude is strongly reminiscent of the resentment toward the press felt by former President Truman and his Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, during the last year and a half of two years of Truman's tenure in office when his Administration was confronted with a sea of troubles at home and abroad.

Government officials reading their column inferred that one or both of the writers had seen the document. An investigation has been going forward to determine whether there was a violation of the provision of the Espionage Act covering the publication of secret information. The Alisons say they did not see the document, adding that the information it contained was more or less common knowledge in the Pentagon and the State Department.

Government Has Tremendous Stocks Of Farm Product Surpluses On Hand

WASHINGTON — This country's mountainous farm surplus, ranging from wheat to cotton, is bulging in bins and warehouses. The government has had to take it over from farmers. It's worth $6,187,000,000.

corn — 810 million bushels; cotton — 7,785,000,000 bales; tobacco — 619 million pounds; rice — 1 million bags; peanuts — 255 million pounds; butter — 364 million pounds; cheese — 361 million pounds; dried milk — 656 million pounds. That's not all.

90 cents a bushel for his wheat. If the price of wheat on the open market goes up above 90 cents, he sells his wheat and repays the loan. It stays below 90 cents, he keeps the 90-cent loan and lets the government keep the wheat.

The government can't sell it on the open market in this country. That would ruin farm prices. The very reason for buying it from farmers and storing it is to keep prices up and save farmers from the ruin of their overproduction.

But so much wheat has been produced the price on the open market goes down and wheat sells for less than 90 cents a bushel. In that case the farmer can do better dealing with the government.

The House on Friday voted to let the guarantee range somewhere between 82 1/2 and 90 per cent on the basic crops and at other figures on some of the crops. This isn't final unless the Senate approves. It may not.

Some foreign country, say France, wants wheat but doesn't have enough dollars to pay for it. This country will sell France the wheat it needs — not at the high American price but at a lower foreign price — and accept French money in payment. With this French money the United States buys goods from France, perhaps raw materials, or pays the cost of an American air base in France.

NEW YORK — The big problem facing millions of Americans today is "How can I go back to the daily rut?"

Others, however, have been spoiled by the ecstatic freedom that went with the 168th anniversary of American Independence. They hate the idea of returning to responsibility and yearn to run barefoot and knee-deep in liberty until the snow flies.

Flood, Drought Extremes Show Mother Nature Still In Saddle

Have Pity On Poor, Rich Bulls Trapped By Profits In DuPont!

NEW YORK—E. I. DuPont jumps 15 1/2 points on the New York Stock Exchange on Monday. Wall Street is gaga with rumor, speculation and fancy. The stock's going to split. DuPont's going into atomic energy in a big way. DuPont's planning to distribute to shareholders its stock in the former Canadian Industries, Limited (now known as DuPont of Canada).

sales, people said: "The shorts are trapped. Stop-loss orders were touched off as soon as the stock crossed 130." Stop-loss orders are put in for protection. The theory is that once a stock breaks through a particular level—a resistance point—it will go a-belling, like Patton's army. Stop losses are used by bears—shorts—on the upside, by longs—bulls—on the downside.

Nothing creates a mystery so much as a sudden price advance. And this was a lulu—from 128 to 143 1/2 in a single day. Since DuPont has more than 45,000,000 shares outstanding, that adds up to more than a half billion dollars increase in market wealth. There must be some explanation for that!

Mackey's explanation makes sense. DuPont was split in 1949 four shares for one. The split stock sold between 43 1/4 and 63 3/4 that year. Long-term holders now have profits of 100 per cent and 200 per cent. They're trapped in by their profits.

Party Politics Yielding Before Other Issues In Connecticut

Governor John Lodge of Connecticut is up for re-election in the Nutmeg State. The Democrats have nominated Abraham Ribicoff, who ran for United States senator in 1952, was defeated, but produced 50,000 votes more than the rest of the Democratic ticket.

While whenever I have met Republican politicians in Connecticut they speak well of John Lodge personally, they seem to go out of their way to praise the Democratic candidate, Abraham Ribicoff. It is an unusual demonstration of lack of partisanship in a campaign year. Its significance cannot be missed.

It is not questioned but that John Lodge has been an effective governor. Also, he is an inept politician. As one of the functions of a man who chooses elective office as a career is to get himself re-elected, John Lodge is in trouble. He has not kept his party together; in fact, he has purged it of most of its tried leaders, some of whom were Taft men and others were too old-guard to please him.

Certain areas of Connecticut are bed-rooms of New York. Here New Yorkers have established homes which, at first, they occupied mostly during the summer. For income tax reasons, it has been advantageous to make the Connecticut home the permanent voting address. The New York influence has been of considerable importance in Connecticut.

Perennial Seed Should Be Planted In July

By ANNE LEFEVER
Late July is the best time to sow seeds of perennials, wanted for spring and summer blooming, because they will sprout quickly and grow rapidly in our long autumn. Most of them will bloom nicely the following spring.

Spring-sown seeds bring on little plants that have to withstand both spring and summer droughts, and, though watering helps, better plants come from seeds planted at this time. Larkspur, gailardia, cornflowers and other cool-loving annuals are under this head, also.

If pansies and violets are to be grown from seed, the time to plant them is within the next two or three weeks. Light shelter from the elements should be provided, but they can stand more cold than most other plants.

Plantings of zinnias made this month will flower in a surprisingly short time. Summer marigolds may still be planted for late fall blooming. Seed beds should be given some protection, with the ground kept loose, and plenty of deep moisture should be supplied.

Zinnias and African marigolds will form better-shaped plants and will flower more freely if the first large bloom on the center stalk of the plant is removed as soon as it opens.

Near the end of this month, chrysanthemum plants should be given the last pinching back and one more feeding. Then just let them grow, always providing plenty of water, of course.

Cuttings of geraniums, begonias and other plants to be used for potting may be taken now for blooming in the house later. These young plants usually bloom better than the older ones. If geraniums are wanted for winter bloom, they should be prevented from flowering this summer. As new shoots appear, cut them back to four inches to make them produce bushier plants.

All house-plants should be watched at this time to see whether or not they need feeding and repotting. This is a period when most of them grow rather rapidly, and most of them will need dividing and repotting to make presentable plants for winter.

Thick-leaved plants, such as palm and rubber plants may need applications of whale-oil soap — with plenty of rubbing — to remove the scales that grow on them so quickly in this hot weather.

A balanced plant food should be given to Bermuda grass this month, and it should be watered immediately. If iris plants have not been dug and divided, this should be done as soon as possible. Mulching of roses will save water and time and it will make the roses grow better. To induce more and better blooms on all flowers, cut off old blooms before they have time to go to seed.

No Figure Problem
Popular screen star Alice Kelley advises five minutes of exercise every day as a way to keep the figure streamlined.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

About That Exercising: It Must Be Consistent

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "There is nothing like a swim suit to show up your figure flaws," Alice Kelley told me the other day when I met her at Malibu beach. "A well-cut gown or a good girdle can conceal a lot that should be corrected. But when you wait until summer to do anything about your figure, it's too late."

I asked Alice how she kept her figure.

"You really don't have to do too much," Alice explained, "if you do it regularly. I exercise every day but I don't spend more than five minutes on it."

"The trouble with most people is that they start out with a great big plan which takes so much time and energy that after a week or two they give up the whole idea."

"I don't think there is anything which keeps a figure more youthful and attractive than a tiny waist so every day I rotate from the hips first in one direction and then the other. This brings up the circulation and helps to wash away any sluggish fat deposits which might gather there."

"I don't think a skirt can hang well unless your hips are streamlined, so I do one little exercise for my hips," Alice added. "I sit on the floor, resting my weight on my elbows and my heels, and roll back and forth. You reach different places by moving your elbows nearer and further away from the body."

"And are those the only two exercises you do?" I asked.

"Yes," Alice said, "except I always begin with a good stretch. It's such a fine way to start the day. You know, if you watch a cat after a nap the first thing it does is to stretch. I lie on the floor and do a cross stretch, one leg and the opposite arm. Then I sit up and try to touch my toes and next I roll over and place my knees behind my ears. This may seem difficult at first but after you limber up your spine it will become quite easy."

"The advantage of learning to do this spine roll is that you reach those vertebrae at the back of your neck which never get stretched. And it is because of this that the ugly 'dowager hump' is formed."

Alice added.

"If you want to keep a youthful body, spend five minutes a day stretching and exercising as Alice Kelley does. Certainly this is a small price to pay for a streamlined figure."

MORE ON EXERCISE
Try Alice's routine. But if you'd like to build your own, using different exercises, why not get a copy of "Exercises of the Stars," and plan your own five-minute routine. Get your copy of this vital leaflet by sending 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald. Ask for leaflet M-5.

Teen-Agers Can Make Or Break 'Pop' Singer

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Know what makes a successful popular singer? Plenty of teen-age fans clubs.

"No popular singer can get along without them," says Joan Roberts, star of "Oklahoma!" and other musicals, who has just written the story of her life in a new book, "Never Alone."

Joan, the wife of Dr. John J. Donlon and mother of a 7-year-old son, John Jr., is concentrating these days on singing for records and TV. She recently signed a contract to record eight platters a year for a new company which plans a big distribution in Europe as well as America. She says:

"Although I miss my audiences, I know that I can reach a far bigger group through records and television than I ever did on the stage."

Right now Joan is busy building up her fan clubs, and is making a personal appearance tour throughout the country.

"In the final analysis, it's the kids that put any singer over," she says. "These are the youngsters between 8 and 18 who make up the fan clubs. If they like you, you're in. If not, you're finished."

"It isn't that they buy so many records. But they play your tunes on the juke boxes, and request them from disc jockeys. They whistle and sing them on the street and all at once the song is a hit."

Record companies realize the importance of the fan club audience, says Joan, and arrange personal appearance tours for their stars, provide fan club membership clubs and autographed pictures, and organize the thing on a businesslike basis.

"Every successful singer in the last 10 years has had to have a carefully organized fan club promotion," says Joan. "Frank Sinatra had the biggest and most expensive campaign of anybody, and that's why he became the idol of the wartime bobby-soxers."

Knowland Says Congress Has Done Good Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today any fair appraisal by the voters will credit the Republican-controlled Congress with more accomplishments than any which operated under recent Democratic presidents.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said in a separate interview that while some important measures have been approved or seem likely to have "come up with nothing new." With the July 4 holiday breathers behind them, lawmakers start work today on the last lap of a session President Eisenhower has said he is confident will produce a constructive program.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he thinks the voters who will decide on party control of the Senate and House at the polls in November are going to be impressed by the quality of legislation, rather than the quantity. "Any fair appraisal must be that this Congress has enacted more bills of national importance than anything done in the last several presidential terms."

He said the program for the scheduled final four weeks of this session will be reviewed at a White House conference of congressional leaders with Eisenhower tomorrow.

Eastern Pakistan Outlaws Commies

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP)—East Pakistan's new military government has outlawed the Communist party as a danger to public peace. The Reds, who supported the regime of ousted Chief Minister Abdul Kasem Fazul Huq, were accused of inciting riots in April in which more than 500 persons were killed.

Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza, the state's new governor, signed an order declaring the party and all its branches illegal in East Pakistan.

Following the April riots and statements by Fazul Huq demanding provincial autonomy for East Pakistan, Governor General Ghulam Mohammed fired the chief minister and his government.

Japanese Air Aces To Learn Jet Flying

CAMP MATSUSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Former Japanese air aces—in uniform again—stood shoulder to shoulder today with American fliers who will teach them to fly jets.

About 100 Japanese airmen stood at attention with U.S. Air Force men at ceremonies opening a new Japanese air force flight school here.

N.Y. Fire Department Runs Into Red Veto

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Fire Department ran into a Russian veto last night when two fire companies were barred from the Park Avenue building housing the Soviet delegation to the United Nations.

A fire official surmised that papers had been burned inside the building, as firemen saw sparks and paper ash, apparently rising through a screen covering an industrial chimney.

THE GRUB LINE

Another turkey shoot, with dressed and frozen turkeys as the prizes.

The shoot, sponsored by the Sterling County 4-H Club will be at the county caliche pit, two miles east of Sterling City on Highway 87. The time is 2 p.m. next Sunday afternoon, July 11.

There will be classes for high-power rifles with both open and scope sights; for .22 calibre rim-fire rifles; for pistols and revolvers and for shotguns.

Shells will be furnished for the shotgun class but in all other classes the shooters must furnish their own ammunition. Official NRA targets will be used. Five rounds will be fired at the .22 and pistol targets; one round at the shotgun target, and three rounds in the big bore rifle classes. Ten shooters will fire in each class and the high score in each class will win the turkey. The shoot will continue throughout the afternoon. Everybody is invited.

A shooter can win but one turkey in each class.

At the end of the week, Ralph Jones, Martin County agricultural agent, reported a light infestation of bollworms in three cotton fields in the Tarzan Community. He said the infestation was not heavy enough right then to warrant control measures but that it probably will be that heavy by the end of this week or early next week.

The annual Martin County Junior Rodeo, sponsored by the Stanton Lions Club, will be held at the Roping Arena, at the east city limits, on Highway 80, this coming Saturday night.

It will be opened with a parade starting at 8 p.m. with Jim Eiland as parade marshal. The rodeo is scheduled to get under way two hours later, right on the dot. The Sheriff's posse is assisting the Lions Club in handling details of the show. Other members of the parade committee, in addition to Eiland, are O. J. Jenkins, F. O. Rhodes, and B. F. White.

Omer Kelly will be on hand with his chuck wagon and a number of Stanton and Martin County organizations will also be represented in the parade.

Among the events on the program will be calf roping for boys from 10 to 13; calf roping for boys from 14 to 17; barrel racing for boys from 14 to 17; barrel racing for girls from 10 to 13; barrel racing for girls from 14 to 17; barrel racing for boys from 18 to 45; cow milking contest for boys from 18 to 45; and various ribbon roping, boot scramble, goat roping and cutting horse events.

Boys and girls entering the contests will have to have the written consent of their parents.

W. S. Goodlett, area conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, has announced several personnel changes for the area.

Harold V. Stephens now stationed at Harlingen, is being transferred to Colorado City to succeed Painter Wylie as work unit conservationist. Wylie, known widely and with great favor as a range rebuilding expert, is being transferred to Henrietta. He has been at the Colorado City station about two years and asked for a transfer to some point nearer his home, which is at Gainesville. As luck would have it, Stephens wanted to return to West Texas to work. Wylie went to Colorado City from Merkel.

Olin Mitchell, who went through the SCS training school here 18 months back, is being returned to Big Spring to take the post vacated by Grady Lane in accepting a promotion that moved him and his family to Plainview.

Lester A. Herrington is moving to Midland to take the assistant work unit conservationist job there. This is a post that was formerly held by Cal Boykin Jr., but one that has been vacant since Cal was made work unit conservationist at Odessa some months ago. At Midland, Herrington will assist Ben Osborn, who was moved there a couple of years ago from San Angelo.

One of the most significant SCS changes has been the word that J. C. Ebersole, one of the SCS's most outstanding grass men is being sent to Big Spring from Abilene. Ebersole is a native of Missouri.

Oklahomans Go To Polls

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An estimated 500,000 Oklahomans were voting today in the state's primary election, some of them under the watchful eye of National Guardsmen assigned to assure an honest election.

Martial law was in effect in five eastern counties—Sequoyah, Adair, Cherokee, LeFlore and Pittsburg—and Gov. Johnston Murray has ordered plainclothesmen to supervise voting in some unidentified Oklahoma County precincts. Oklahoma County, the most populous area of the state, includes Oklahoma City. It will cast close to 100,000 votes, according to pre-election estimates.

Murray ordered martial law for the five counties after charges were filed against 10 persons last week for voting irregularities.

Guardsmen will be in uniform and will have authority to make arrests. However, they will be unarmed. It is Oklahoma's first election day in history under martial law although the governor's father, former Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, gained nationwide fame in the 1920s by calling out the guard more than 30 times during his term.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr's bid for a second term has produced the hottest race of the campaign. Opposing him is former Gov. Roy J. Turner, who has criticized Kerr's attendance record in the Senate and expansion of his oil company interests in foreign nations.

Republicans have contests in the Senate and governor races that are attracting interest but the total GOP vote will probably not exceed 50,000.

Texan Wins Award

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Meredith G. Gross Jr., Amarillo, Tex., has been granted a Fulbright award by Princeton University to study in Europe. Gross, who was graduated from Princeton last month, plans to continue research in geology at the Technical University of Delft, Holland.

and a graduate of Oklahoma A&M College. He went to work for the Soil Conservation Service in 1935 in the Texas Panhandle on an old demonstration project in a Civilian Conservation Corps camp. He was district conservationist at Dalhart from 1942 through the first half of 1948, and had charge of a 99,000-acre land utilization project to be revegetated—all of which is a polite way of saying he had the job of getting grass back on 99,000 acres of that blown-out Dust Bowl land that the government had to take over, and that now has just about the best grass in Texas on it.

He was moved to Abilene in July of 1946 and since then had been principally engaged in training men in how to get grass back on Texas rangelands, particularly on the deep sand of West Texas.

From here he will work in the Big Spring and Lubbock areas assisting 23 SCS work units and 19 Soil Conservation Districts. Mr. and Mrs. Ebersole have arranged for a home on Lincoln Street where they live with their daughter, a Junior High School student. They are members of the Baptist Church, and Ebersole is one of the hardest working men in the SCS. The family will move here about the first of the month.

Joe Fisher says he is deferring three of his pastures to give the grass a chance. He has had a diversion terrace laid out, and has put the main road to the house on the contour.

Unusually heavy rains cut a pretty deep gash in the farm of T. H. Gaskins. This has resulted in plans for an erosion control dam, net wire diversions, deferment of grazing, overseeding of rangeland and brush eradication. Another case of a "ditch in time."

Some Blue Grams grass that Paul Adams seeded this year is now making seed heads. He got a good stand by seeding before the spring rains started, thus getting this grass off to a good start.

Shivers Plans Statewide Radio, TV Speech Tonight

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff Gov. Allan Shivers, stepping up his drive for re-election in the waning weeks of the campaign, scheduled a gigantic 50-station radio and television speech Tuesday night. Originating in Dallas at 8:30 p.m., the Shivers speech will be carried on eleven television stations and 39 radio stations simultaneously.

The Shivers speech, with 17 more days of campaigning coming up, marks one of the governor's biggest efforts to reach the voters in a campaign that has become increasingly hot and bitter within the last week.

Both Shivers and his most active opponent, Ralph Yarborough, predict victory for themselves, but both appear to work a little harder with each prediction of personal triumph.

The pair were the headlines Monday at the Little Central Texas town of Belton when the Bell County seat held its annual Fourth of July celebration.

The Belton rally and an appearance in Dallas of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson were the highlights of Monday political developments.

Benson, in an interview, said congressional approval of a flexible price support farm bill—strenuously opposed by nearly every Texas member of Congress—was "the greatest victory the Eisen-

USIA Told To Hit Soviet Imperialism

WASHINGTON (AP)—Director Theodore C. Strelbert of the U.S. Information Agency has told his men to hit hard on this theme: "Red imperialism" is the only imperialism in the march in the world today.

In a message to USIA's 217 operations posts in 78 countries, Strelbert said yesterday the Communists—who constantly raise the cry of "imperialism" against the United States and others—have in fact "led country after country into the iron tentacles of Red colonialism."

"It is up to the U.S. Information Agency," he said, "to help make sure that people everywhere know with whom and with what they are dealing, before the conspirators succeed in their evil designs for seizing power."

Equichall Scores Biggest Win Of Racing Career

Runs Favorite Into Ground

Equichall, smashing through to an odds-on victory, upset the dope cart and annexed her biggest stake in Omaha, Neb., Monday. The seven-year-old race mare, owned by J. T. Dillard of Big Spring, had raced successfully this year in Hot Springs, and Chicago before moving on to the Ak Sar Ben track where she scored a more modest victory in another race Saturday.

Her victory came in the gala Independence Day Handicap when an all time record attendance of 16,589 was on hand to see the Big Spring mare come from far behind to outlast second place Butch K, third place Gunners Lad and the California Star, Lefty James. The purse was $10,200 added.

J. Bellino rode the mare to victory at a mile and 1-16th, and smashed the track record in doing it.

She was 12 lengths back when the call was made in the betting. Equichall paid a whopping $79.80 for the win. It is the longest odds the old campaigner ever had.

In most of her starts in more modest races, she has been a favorite or near favorite wherever she campaigned.

It was her second start in three days, too, as she won a Saturday race handily when she outdistanced the highly regarded entry of Forgotten Miss and Line Driver. She was favorite, though, with the Omaha fans and returned only $5.20 for the win.

The Saturday race was a $2,000 event, of which she claimed 65 per cent. In addition to the cash she earned her owners, she also won a Kiwanis Club blanket.

The Saturday race was for a mile and 70 yards. She was 3-5ths of a second over the track record then.

Her nomination in the biggest race at Omaha, came as a surprise to fans there as well as those who know her elsewhere. While she is highly regarded in competition of a lower calibre, friends of the old mare gave her no chance of victory against such a field of top notch horses. It was her first effort against such a field.

In Raton, where Equichall has run up victory after victory to become one of the tracks best known and liked thoroughbreds, racing secretary Harvey Foster announced Saturday to the holiday crowd that the Big Spring mare was to be shipped to Raton.

His announcement received a tremendous applause. Late in the Monday's program he announced to the Raton fans the results of the Omaha race and no winner of the day there was such an ovation from the overflowing holiday crowd.

Equichall is handled by Johnny Ray Dillard and is to be shipped along with his other charge the successful three-year-old Flying Bry, owned by Claude Kelley of Jayton, to the New Mexico track in time for next weekend's two-gram.

Equichall has campaigned successfully each year since beginning her racing career in the Big Spring Futurity in 1949, as a two-year-old. Handled the past two seasons by Johnny Ray Dillard, though, she has scored victory after victory at the New Mexico and Midwestern tracks.

At Chicago she hit her hardest competition but was named for the top races there. She registered one win and was in the money, though, several times during her short stay there.

Officially the Big Spring mare is now a "stake winner" as this is her first time to register victory in an event carrying as much as $10,000 added.

Lesser priced races carry only the distinction of winning at the lower figure but do not give her the place in the thoroughbred records as a winner of a stake.

Runner-Up Takes A Putt

OVER UNDERWOOD, 2-1

Morgan Rallies To Win Again

James Lee Underwood, who left a sick bed to take part in the Fourth of July Golf Tournament at the Big Spring Country Club, almost—but not quite—made it to the throne room.

Defending champion Jake Morgan cured a sick game on the second nine of their 18-hole match to defeat young Underwood, 2 and 1.

James Lee appeared very much in command of the situation at the turn, at which time he boasted a 3 up lead but Morgan began to cut into that advantage as early as the tenth hole and played sub-par golf from there on to win going away.

Underwood's lack of endurance may have cost him, too. Shots he had been making earlier failed to fall the second time around the course.

Morgan won the tenth with a birdie, when Underwood failed to hit on a downhill putt; the 14th with a par four; the 15th with another par, when James Lee missed a short putt; the 16th with a par five and closed the books with a par three on the short 16th.

The end came when James Lee, who had earlier won medal honors in the annual meet, saw his tee shot stray to the right, then hit the frog hair and pull up short with his approach.

Morgan, who was on the green, played it safe and two putted to end Underwood's hopes for another year.

On the first nine, Underwood was over the opportunist and Morgan couldn't find his game.

James Lee birdied the first hole and took the third with a par. On both holes, Morgan missed two-foot putts.

Underwood added to his advantage with a birdie on four but ran into trouble on seven when care driving onto the course fouled him up and he blew to an eight while Jake was down in regulation figures with a five.

Underwood recovered quickly, running down a king-sized putt on the eight to regain his three up margin and the two halved nine.

On the last hole of the first round, Jake's putt almost jumped out of the cup, a development which all but had the defending titlist smothering it with his cap.

One of the best of the day's matches occurred in the championship consolation finals, where Weldon Bryant tapped in a downhill putt to win, 1 up, over Earl Reynolds.

Reynolds staged a strong rally, after the two had halved 13 and 14, and took 15 with a par four and 16 when Weldon blew himself to a bogie.

Earl's putt on the 18 didn't quite have enough muscle behind it.

Indians Defeated By Barstow, 19-7

The Big Spring Indians will seek a return to winning ways here Wednesday afternoon, when they meet the VA Hospital baseball team on the North Side diamond. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

Next Sunday, Manager Blas Balton will take his Warriors to Plainview for a contest.

The Indians were beaten in Barstow Monday, 19-7. Jimmy Fierro and Junior Dutchover composed the losing battery.

Broncs, Miners Split A Pair

CARLSBAD, N. M. (SC) — Carlsbad's Potashers and the Big Spring Broncs put on a fireworks display of their own when they split a double header here Monday night before a holiday crowd of more than 2,000.

Both games were won by identical scores of 8-7 with the nightcap going into extra innings before the Miners could put across the winning run in the ninth.

The teams play one tonight, with Don Fornall going for Carlsbad and Bert Baez pitching for Big Spring.

The Broncs came from behind in the opener, pushing three runs across the plate in the top half of the seventh. The Miners were ahead, 7-5, going into the final frame and appeared to be coasting to a win when Dario Jimenez disposed of the first two men to face him in the inning.

However, Pete Simone reached first on an error by Ralph Carpenter and tallied when Bert Baez, pinch hitting for Tony Martinez, tripled to right center.

Floyd Martin singled in the same spot and Baez crossed the rubber with the tying run. Martin pulled up lame and Tito Arenzibia went in to run for him. When Jimenez committed a balk, Arenzibia moved to second and Tito then tallied the winning marker when Carpenter committed an error on Delatorre's ground ball.

The Potashers moved a man to second in their half of the inning but Dieppa lined to Baez at first to end the game.

The Ashers got off to a flying start in the second game, pushing across three tallies in the second inning when nine men went to the plate.

They added single runs in the next three innings, but were trailing by a single run going into the final frame, due to a big Bronc four-run inning in the fourth.

Dieppa's double to the center field wall drove in Dieppa with the tying tally with two away and after Golden Gholson was given an intentional pass Duke Henderson hit a line drive to Martinez to send the game into extra innings.

Hank Williams relieved starting pitcher Don Hatridge on the mound in the fourth inning and set the Broncs down scoreless in the five full innings he worked.

In the ninth, Pedro Osorio struck to center to open the trouble but brother Elias singled into center.

Ike Jackson rolled out to shortstop, Elias moving to second. Gholson was given his second intentional pass and Henderson, after taking two strikes, drove a booming single through the box to send Elias home with the winning tally.

Williams allowed the Broncs only two hits in his stint on the mound. He picked up his eighth win, against four losses.

Glynn Merriest Of Celebrants During Holiday

By JOE REICHLER AP Sports Writer

Big league ballplayers celebrated Independence Day with a home run barrage that rocked eight baseball stadiums from dugout to bullpen and sent the hard-defensive pitchers running to cover.

The day of double-headers re-sounded with 35 home run blasts, only five short of the major league record for most homers in one day. A total of 315 hits were peppered about the parks and 75 pitchers were used. That's an average of almost 20 hits and more than 4 1/2 pitchers a game.

Cleveland's Bill Cwynn was the merriest celebrant. The normally light-hitting first baseman exploded three home runs in the 13-6 opening victory over Detroit and drove in eight runs. Ray Boone and Wayne Belardi homered for Detroit. Glynn's bat, along with the rest of the Indians, was silenced in the second game, which went to Detroit, 1-0, in 11 innings.

Three others—the New York Yankees' Irv Noren, Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and the Chicago Cubs' Randy Jackson—walloped two homers in one game. Dusty Rhodes of the New York Giants and Ted Lepcio of Boston also hit two homers, one in each game. Glynn, Lepcio and Roy Sievers of Washington had grand-slammers.

The split, which snapped an eight-game winning streak for the Indians, cost them a full game to the Yankees and trimmed their first-place American League lead to 3 1/2 games.

The Yankees trimmed the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 7-4 and 11-2, to win their first double-header in almost a year. They had split the last three twin bills in 1953 and their first 10 this season. Successive homers by Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle and a run-scoring double by Gene Woodling provided the margin of victory in the opener. Noren drove in five runs with his two homers in the nightcap. Bill Wilson hit Philadelphia's only homer.

The Giants and Dodgers swept double-headers leaving the National League-leading Giants still 3 1/2 lengths in front of Brooklyn. The two rivals begin a three-game set at Ebbets Field tonight.

Johnny Antonelli won his 12th game with a three-hit, 10-0 shut-out over the Philadelphia Phillies in the opener. Rhodes, subbing for Monte Irvin in left field, homered and doubled in the first game. In the second game, he hit two singles and a homer with two mates aboard to give the Giants an uphill 4-3 triumph.

Rockwell Alter Moryn, playing in place of the slumping Jackie Robinson, cracked four hits, including a homer, to help Brooklyn down Pittsburgh, 8-6, in the first game. Duke Snider banged his 20th four-bagger in that game too. Junior Gilliam homered for the Dodgers in the second game but it was Carl Furillo who drove in five runs to account for the 7-2 victory.

Milwaukee won two slugging matches from the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-6 and 10-4, as each team slugged four homers. Besides Mathews' pair, Bill Bruton and Del Crandall homered for the Braves while the Cardinal homers were hit by Solly Hemus, Rip Repulski, Ray Jablonski and rookie Joe Cunningham.

Cincinnati Redlegs defeated Chicago, 6-5, in the opener despite two homers by Jackson of the Cubs. Bobby Adams drove in the winning run in the 10th with a single. The Reds also took the nightcap, 8-7, on Hobe Landrith's home run. Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski hit his 21st homer in the first game.

hurler Don Hatridge on the mound in the fourth inning and set the Broncs down scoreless in the five full innings he worked.

In the ninth, Pedro Osorio struck to center to open the trouble but brother Elias singled into center.

Ike Jackson rolled out to shortstop, Elias moving to second. Gholson was given his second intentional pass and Henderson, after taking two strikes, drove a booming single through the box to send Elias home with the winning tally.

Williams allowed the Broncs only two hits in his stint on the mound. He picked up his eighth win, against four losses.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports transcript:

IKE JACKSON, Carlsbad's batting terror: "I like catchin' better than out here (first base). Out here, you gotta think all th' time and move 'round too much. What gives me the most trouble when I'm at bat? Man, going for the fences. I try to hit it over too much, when I should be goin' for singles and doubles. They count just as much. I'm doin' better, though. Last year 'bout this time, I was only hittin' 'bout 300. Now, I'm up to 'bout 385."

JOHNNY ANTONELLI, the New York Giant hurler, when asked by Bonus Baby Paul Giel if changes in speed contributes to pitching success: "You got it right. That's right. It's the change of speed that's so important. You can't overpower 'em as you did in school. You got to fool 'em, and keep 'em guessing—off their timing. If they can get set, you're done."

ED FURGOL, on how he won the recent National Open Golf Tournament: "I didn't go out there to play Ben Hogan. I went out to play myself. I didn't care about Hogan or anyone else. I know if I play my game I can beat him—and I proved it, didn't I?"

BILL LEDBETTER, the HSU athletic director who visited here last week: "I had heard from Sam Saugh how he liked being associate coach for us, but I wanted to hear him say it, so I asked him one day. He told me he'd never spent as happy a year in football as he did last year. And he wouldn't want to be anything but what he is, an associate coach."

HEADLINE in North Hollywood Valley Times, after Ronnie Knox, the California problem child, switched from the University of California to UCLA recently: "Ronnie Knox To Test Coaching at UCLA Next."

TED WILLIAMS, the Boston slugger: "Sure, I could hit to left field and it would probably raise my average 20 or 30 points a season. But I'm not paid to hit singles. I'm supposed to hit the long ball, to hit home runs, to drive in runs."

DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF, the top golfer, on Gene Littler, the new pro sensation: "Gene has a very simple swing. A miniature Sam Snead, if you know what I mean. Except that he doesn't take the club back as far as Sam on his backswing. Which means less room for error. His hands are so strong, there is never any floppiness in his wrists. They stay set."

JOE BAUMAN, the Roswell power hitter: "I've never been troubled with my legs. I did have heel tendon trouble this spring but it disappeared like magic when I used the whirl pool to treat it. I haven't been bothered since."

JOE KING, New York sports writer: "Cash is half the New York Yankee success story, along with front office acumen. Cash alone won't do, as the dreary Red Sox proved, but back a buck with a brain, as the Yankees have, and you're going for the jackpot. But brains without dough won't work, either."

FLOYD MARTIN, Big Spring center fielder: "At this time of year, they start the games too early, for the outfielders, at least. There's too much light in the first inning. Invariably, they hit a fly ball out my way and when it gets upstairs it's almost impossible to see before the real dark comes on."

MATTHEW RYAN, the Longhorn League umpire: "Down in the Florida International League a couple of seasons ago, a player got mad over an umpire's decision and invited him outside the park. The umpire, an old hand, took him up on it and pointed to the ball boy's doorway that led outside the right field fence. When the umpire got there, he showed every courtesy and even opened the door for the player. Once the hot-head was through, however, the ump slammed the door and locked it, then returned to the playing field and ordered the teams to resume play. The player had to go all the way back to the main exit to get back in the park."

JOEY BARTHEL, the Olympics 1,500-meter winner, who hails from Europe: "Americans are kind and aggressive. But they take their good fortune too much for granted. They don't realize how well they live by European standards. Nor are they thrifty. Back home we save some money for a rainy day, and it's surprising how often it rains in one's life. We don't spend everything we make on fur coats and automobiles."

Saddler Doesn't Impress In Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Saddler, the featherweight champ, still is five or six fights away from his pre-Army peak despite a knockout victory over game little Libby Manzo.

The champ showed only flashes of his old form in disposing of Manzo in 2:35 of the 16th round last night at St. Nicholas Arena but he didn't forget any of his rough-house tactics. Referee Al Beri warned Saddler repeatedly for wrestling and once for a borderline left hook.

Parkin Pitches Double Victory

Ynez Yanez's Tigers trounced the Big Spring Hawks twice here Sunday, winning by scores of 1-0 and 11-0.

Bob Parkin who came in from Mississippi to play the twin bill, pitched both games.

He set the Hawks down with two solitary hits in the opening game and won by the margin of Hill's first inning tally.

Parkin struck out a total of 26 men in the two games, 16 of them in the opener.

Hill climbed aboard on an error and went around on hits by Thomas and Bailey.

The Tigers collected only four hits off Marquez.

The second game was all Tiger. Parkin pitched hitless ball for six innings, only to let a two-base blow by H. Ramirez in the second round of a perfect effort.

Earthquake Shakes Barren Nevada Area

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A "very strong" earthquake which would have caused widespread damage in a populated area shook the barren northwest Nevada desert early today.

It was centered near Fallon, Nev., where it toppled chimneys and cut off power.

Two sailors at the naval air station near Fallon suffered possible fractured legs when lockers toppled over on them. Others were cut by flying glass from broken windows.

Walls were damaged at the tiny town of Salt Wells east of Fallon.

Half the meat produced in the world is beef and veal.

IT HAPPENED

Can't Give Cash Away

BOONE, N. C. (AP)—J. B. Johnson, student of human psychology, stood on a corner here with 10 crisp dollar bills and offered one to every passing pedestrian.

He gave up after asking 23 men and women if they wanted a dollar.

Only three of them accepted. "It was discouraging," said Johnson. "Humans don't trust each other any more."

Mixup In Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Tulsa World didn't get a picture of a Fourth of July traffic jam yesterday—it got a picture of a plane crash instead.

The World said it sent commercial photographer Howard Hopkins aloft to get a picture of a traffic jam. The plane ran out of gas and it crash-landed at the intersection of U.S. 66 and State Highway 33.

Hopkins and the pilot both walked away from the crash unhurt. The big traffic jam the photographer had been looking for all day formed around the crashed plane.

Southeast Asia Arms Talks Open In Malaya

SINGAPORE (AP)—Military representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Australia opened a four-day conference here today. Their chief task was a thorough new assessment of the Allied defense position in Southeast Asia in the light of recent French withdrawals in Indochina.

An American spokesman described the talks as "purely routine," terming them a continuation of those held periodically over the last two years in Saigon and Singapore.

In Same Place Twice

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pharmacist David Karlin reported to police that exactly the same thing happened to him last night as last Friday.

A gunman walked into his drugstore and robbed him of $73. Moreover, the bandit was the same man—a Negro about 24 years old, dressed in a blue sports shirt and brown pants.

Doubts The Honor

BOSTON (AP)—When Francis Leblanc's yacht Glee won a race in the South Boston Yacht Club's holiday regatta yesterday, the judges' boat fired a small cannon in salute—and the wad encasing the powder charge went right through the Glee's sail.

Leblanc said the wad missed him and his two-man crew by inches and "scared the life out of us. We'll probably have to buy a new sail."

Big NATO Ocean Exercise Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today a major maritime exercise will be staged by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Channel Command July 16-25.

Ships and aircraft of the NATO forces will be provided by Belgium, France, The Netherlands and the United Kingdom. They will include about 20 destroyers, escort vessels and patrol craft and 45 minesweepers, as well as some 30 naval vessels and auxiliaries making up convoys. There will also be merchant ships in the convoys.

American Jewish Tercentenary Set

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Jewish Tercentenary, commemorating the 300th anniversary of Jewish settlement in this country, was proclaimed formally yesterday.

Ceremonies were held on the steps of the congregation Shearith Israel, founded in 1790 by descendants of a small group of Spanish refugee Jews who landed in

Asks Red China Seat

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Foreign Minister T. Clifton Webb tonight urged the admission of Communist China to the United Nations. New Zealand is linked with the United States in the Anzus pact and is a sponsor of the projected Southeast Asian defense alliance.

od of the tercentenary between Sept. 12, 1954, and May 29, 1955. Three rabbis read the proclamation, which was signed by leaders of Orthodox, Conservative and Reform Jewish rabbinic and synagogue bodies.
