600 Scouts and 50 Scoutmasters Expected To Meet Here for Three-Day Event; Camp Closes Saturday

Opening of Camp-O-Ral, annual meet of the Eastern New Mexico Area, Boy Scouts of America, opened today at the Roosevelt camp, 10 miles northeast of the city on the Clovis-Portales highway.

More than 600 scouts with 50 scoutmasters were expected to make their appearance at the camp today for the three-day meeting. Many routines will be carried out, as well as a special program which has been arranged. Scouts from every county on the East Side will be present.

A 35-piece band in uniform, furnished by the local chapter of the American Legion, will furnish music for the three-day event. The camp will close Saturday.

Today will be given over to general routine work such as throwing camp, with the outlined program beginning at 1:30 and continuing until 10 p. m., when every mother's boy will tuck the cover around the anatomy at the sound of taps.

Albert Trapp, manager of the Portales theater, will give a free show for the boys Friday from 9:15 to 12 noon. In addition to the free show the Scouts will be taken to points of interest throughout the city and county. Cooperation is requested from local citizens in aiding in transportation of the boys to these places, as well as bringing them into town to witness the free show.

The program as outlined, is as follows:

TO OBSERVE MUSIC WEEK IN PORTALES

Recital by Various Clubs To Be Given In Auditorium

In observance of National Music Week, April 29 to May 3, a musical will be given at the close by members of city schools, scheduled for Friday night of next week. The performance will be held in the high school auditorium.

According to Mr. Steiner, principal, this will be made an annual affair, and will be a general review of the work accomplished by the various students. No admission will be charged.

A group of recitals will be given by the high school corps, junior high school band, junior high school glee club, grade school rhythm band, high school glee clubs, a mixed chorus and the high school orchestra.

"A box will be placed at the door and those witnessing the performance will make a free-will contribution. However, no one is obligated to do this, as the affair is free to anyone who cares to attend. The offering will be used to defray expenses for music purchased by the various clubs during the year," Mr. Steiner said.

"A program, which is being outlined, will be ready for publication next week," Mr. Steiner concluded.

Floyd Enters In Softball League Here

Nine teams have entered the Portales softball league, according to Homer Barnett, secretary of the league. C. T. Grable, superintendent of schools, Floyd, was here to attend Tuesday night's meeting and announced that Floyd would make an entry. Elda and the Three-C camp have made announcement of entry.

Lighting of the field is under way and it is hoped that work will be completed by the latter part of next week. This has been made possible by donations from business men, individuals and teams who have entered the league.

May 6 has been scheduled for the first game of the season. It is not known who will play the first game as this will be determined by drawing of places. A complete schedule for the summer will be outlined at that time.

League officials have appointed W. A. Angley as umpire, and Jimmy Drake of The News was appointed official scorekeeper.

Another meeting is scheduled for tonight to complete plans for the season.

Carl Jones, Truman Green, Melvin Schumpert and Horace Harrington, who are attending college at Texas Tech in Lubbock, Texas, spent the Easter vacation at the homes of their parents in Portales. They were accompanied here by Leon Eants.

Mr. and Mrs. Coffman and two daughters and Mr. Baer of Tucuman, visited Miss Germaine Baer Sunday.

SEEK DRIVER OF CAR LEFT ON STREETS

Suspected Culprits Make Get-Away; Leave Vehicle

Two men driving a 1927 Chevrolet cabriolet bearing a Texas license delivered a load of chickens to a local produce house early this week, and after the sale had been made, Billy Moodyman, manager of the produce house, called the sheriff's office, saying the men were of a suspicious character.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Poindexter answered the call and got a description of the men, along with their car. He located the car parked near the First National Bank. However, the men, possibly sensing that the car was under surveillance, did not return to the vehicle. Sheriff Bond had the car placed in storage here, and a search of the car revealed the owner as being W. H. Bradley. The license number is 979-272 and was issued from Heckley county, Texas.

The sheriff's department got in (See Seek Driver, Page 5)

To Attend Rotary Messers. and Mesdames Ed. J. Neer and Bert Rawlins will attend the Rotary meeting in Santa Fe this week-end. The parties will drive through in Mr. Rawlins's car. Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. MacKay, who left earlier in the week, will be at the meeting.

Meet To Sign Contracts For Girls' Building

The Board of Regents of the Eastern New Mexico Junior College met yesterday to sign contracts for the building of the girls' dormitory. The contracts will be sent to Santa Fe to be approved by the state and then to Washington, where they will be approved by the FWA administrator.

The college is to receive $48,000 for this project, 30 per cent of which will be a gift and 70 per cent will be a loan. It is hoped that work will start by June 1.

Completion of plans for addition to the administration building is expected to be released this week.

GREYHOUNDS WILL MEET COWBOYS AT CLOVIS MAY 3

Wildcat Stadium Will Be Scene of Spring Practice Football Game; Probably Only Game To Be Played This Spring

The Greyhounds of Eastern New Mexico Junior College will meet the Cowboys of the Las Vegas Normal University at the Clovis High School stadium on Friday, May 3. This game has been scheduled for some time but the date was not announced until Monday of this week.

Coaches Reed and Green of the local college have been putting the football squad through hard drills for the past two weeks in preparation for this game and by next Friday they will be in shape to give fans a thrilling exhibition on the Clovis gridiron.

In order to settle a 6-6 tie played by these two teams early last fall, the officials tried to get a post season game with the Cowboys, but the plans fell through after an early snow. Friday's contest will settle the long disputed argument of supremacy between the Greyhounds and Cowboys.

Material at local grounds has been plentiful this spring and the Greyhound officials feel confident of a victory over the invading Cowboys. Fans will remember the winning backfield combination developed last fall by "Tiny" Reed, composed of Schwarzenbach, Reed, Wood and Russell. The entire group are playing this spring in addition to several new men who are giving them a fight for places. With two exceptions, the entire line is out this spring and their places will be ably filled by Armstrong and Martin, two new men. Line stars of last fall are Butler, Smith, Mathews, McCasland, James, Jordan, Howell, Ogle and Conklin.

This game will probably be the only one played in this section by the Greyhounds this spring and local fans should not miss it.

Grade School Will Present Program Here

The Grade School will present a program at the High School auditorium next Tuesday evening, April 30, at 7:30 o'clock. The program will be in two parts.

Part I will consist of an operetta entitled "The Wedding of the Flowers," given by the pupils of the primary grades. This little operetta takes place in a lovely woodland glen at high noon.

The heralds, Mary Sue Colligan and Margaret Hargis, announce the arrival of the flowers, which are roses, violets, sunflowers, daisies, forget-me-nots, blue bells, tulips and dandelions.

The rainbow fairy, Kathryn McDermott and her helpers, execute a little dance. Immediately the gay wedding party draws near.

The wedding party consists of: Bridesmaids: Betty Joyce Bauldin, Martha Ann Brown, Dorothy Kenyon, Betty Jean Wakefield, Adele Hurr and Wanda Jean Capps. Groomsmen: Keith Westerman, Gordon Bourland, Kenneth Livingston, David Horn, Billy George and Bob Sparks.

Minister: Buddy Black. Maid of Honor: Anita Owen. Ring Bearer: Sidney Collins. Flower Girls: Wanda Joyce Miller and Jos Ann Correll. Bride: Bobbie Nell Angly. Groom: Johnny Ray Snelson. Train Bearer: Earlene Franks and Eula Maud Shaeffer.

VISIT QUAINT CEMETERY IN NEW ORLEANS

The following is the second of a series of articles from Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Greaves, who are away on vacation. The Greaves tell of visiting the burial ground of New Orleans in which much quaintness is surrounded. Due to the low sea level, bodies are buried above the ground in vaults, and deceased's family is assessed a fee of $8.00 yearly. If the assessment is not paid, well, read the Greaves story. They are now in Florida.

The story follows:

Gainesville, Fla., April 18. Portales Valley News.

We arrived here yesterday afternoon and find this a very pretty city of around 10,000.

The prettiest spot on the trip was Gulfport, Miss. The beach was miles in length and much more attractive than Galveston.

In New Orleans we went on a night-seeing tour of the city, and visited the old cemetery, where (See Visit Quaint, Page 5)

RAIN FAILED TO REACH COUNTY

Sunday's heavy clouds that shadowed Portales, accompanied by thunder, did little good as far as we have been able to learn. A telephone call to Rogers revealed that the rain didn't come any closer than the Texas line. A light sprinkle was reported at Floyd. Between Portales and Elda a light shower was reported, but insufficient to give farmers the much needed moisture.

Most Texan Panhandle towns, and parts of Eastern New Mexico reported a good rain last Friday. It is reported, received a heavy rain.

AMERICA SETS EXAMPLE FOR REST OF WORLD

The "I'm Alone" case seems to be settled, finally and forever. Maybe you'd forgotten all about it.

It was almost six years ago, during prohibition, that two U. S. Coast Guard cutters opened fire on the Canadian schooner "I'm Alone" in the Gulf of Mexico.

There was a sensation. Canada was indignant, saying that even if the "I'm Alone" was suspected of being a rum-runner, this was no way to treat Canadian citizens on the high seas.

Stop a moment and think what might have happened if the "I'm Alone" had been a Russian fishing schooner and the coast guard ship a Japanese destroyer.

There would have been immediate sword-rattling and diplomatic passages, ultimatums, and probably a world crisis.

But no one mentioned, or even thought of war when the coast guard sank the "I'm Alone." The affair was considered on both sides in a light reflecting its importance, which was really small.

For the feeling that runs across the long undefended border between the United States and Canada is a cordial and friendly one.

It has taken six years to settle the affair. Now a final adjustment seems imminent.

There seems no reason why our government should not immediately accept these findings and make good on the affair with willing good grace.

When you are wrong, the manly and dignified thing to do is admit it and make what amends you can.

When a genuinely friendly feeling exists between two countries, there is little trouble in adjusting satisfactorily almost any dispute.

Both countries should be happy in a condition that permits such settlement of vexing issues like that of the "I'm Alone."

Unfortunately, in a jealous and bitter world, we're practically alone.—Press, St. Mary's, Pennsylvania.

Planting Time is Coming: Planting time will soon be here and it will be well to make a careful selection of seeds.

BETTER RURAL ROADS

This is the season of the year when it becomes most apparent that great strides are still to be made in the improvement of farm to market roads.

While highways of which we are justly proud have been constructed to connect metropolitan centers, every spring brings unpleasant reminders that country roads for the most part are still of the type that become rutted and muddy—probably impassable at times.

Fortunately, progress in the science of road building brings the vision of a complete network of hard-surfaced rural roads within the realm of possibilities.

Stable all-weather roads developed through soil studies by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, and constructed by the proper mixture of local materials and calcium chloride, are inexpensive in first cost and greatly reduce the cost of maintenance.

Hundreds of miles of such roads have already been constructed principally in Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota and Ohio, and the method of construction is rapidly becoming standardized.

As with every other community improvement project, the goal cannot be reached at once. But "Better Rural Roads" is an aim which every civic and farm organization should include in its program for community improvement.

News dispatches from Yokohama report the departure of a group of Japanese business men for Brazil to learn whether they can do better on some of the $100,000,000 worth of cotton now bought annually from the United States.

Japan has in recent years been one of the heaviest and steadiest purchasers of American cotton. It is the only foreign cotton market which has held its own in the depression years.

Already the cotton textile manufacturers of the United States are up in arms against the mounting volume of Japanese imports of this class of merchandise.

As a matter of fact any commercial reprisal against Japan could be much more costly to the United States. Japan is today buying three to four times as much as she is selling in her trade with the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (UP).—To be a Senate policeman you don't have to know anything about arrests, warrants, subpoenas and the like.

Senate policemen are among the beneficiaries of the $300,000 in patronage jobs which majority senators distribute.

Senate officers do carry nightsticks, however. And on occasions trouble, the lieutenant has pistols which he can distribute.

An early adjournment of Congress probably would be the most stimulating force for further recovery. So long as it is in session, with the possibility that it will get out of hand and enact more "trick" legislation proposed by young Brain Trust lawyers, or political quacks, business will be wary against moving ahead too fast.

When a federal judge in Kansas City sentenced George Robert Gebor to federal prison at Leavenworth for 18 months on the charge of impersonating a federal officer to cash a check for $197, citizens of Albuquerque remembered the visit of the "man of many names" to the Duke city.

He arrived one day in Albuquerque in a new Ford, the gift, he said, of Henry Ford. He gave his name as Baron von Krupp, heir to the German munitions millions. The county sheriff, however, was reluctantly forced to deport him to Delaware where he served time on a bad check charge.

OUTLINES PLAN TO LOWER COST OF LIVING IN U S

Seribe Says "Eat Onions Tearfully Even If You're Gifted With Wealth"

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 24. (UP).

Here's how to beat the high cost of living. REDUCE MEAT
Confine your diet to potatoes, cornflakes, evaporated milk, canned tomatoes and red salmon. That might even lower your food costs under last year.

Those foods are the only ones which have gone down in price since the new deal became fully effective.

You can sprinkle some sugar on the cornflakes, because that has not changed in price at all. But you can't put any deoemargarine on the potatoes because that has gone up more than 50 per cent, nor can you fry the salmon in lard because that costs more than 52 per cent over the price a year ago.

If you live in Portland, Ore., you have the best chance of keeping food costs down, and the poorest here in Washington, where prices have soared the highest.

If you don't care how much your meals cost, then you may eat bacon and eggs, up 78 and 47 per cent respectively over their retail prices two years ago.

Even if you're wealthy, eat onions tearfully in two years they have increased in price 135.7 per cent, according to the latest report of the bureau of labor statistics, from which all these figures are taken.

Pork chops, which used to be the meal served on the night before pay day, have gone up 74.2 per cent in the last two years, 34.8 in the last year, 11.4 in the last month, and 7.5 in the last two weeks covered by the report.

Like pork chops, you may eat corned beef and cabbage only on special extra occasions, like wedding anniversaries. The corned beef is up around 80 per cent in the last two years and the cabbage 71 per cent.

Cabbage, in fact, should be shredded extra this even for slaw. It went up 20 per cent during the final two weeks reported.

Western housewives are comparatively lucky. Food costs in Portland, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles and Seattle are the lowest in the country with the indexes at 309.2, 310.1, 311.3 and 312 respectively, based on 1913 prices as 100.

Los Angeles women who are striking against high meat prices, though, do seem to have something to kick about. Food costs there during the year have increased 19 1/2 per cent, more than in any other city. The costs a year ago, on the other hand, were far below the national average.

Prices in the east haven't gone up so rapidly, but they were high in the first place. If you live here in the capital, in Baltimore, or in Richmond, Va., you pay more to fill your market basket than anywhere else in the country. The index figures for these three cities hover at 130.5, 128.3 and 128.5.

Buffalo, with 126.7; New Haven, 126.9; New York, 127.5; Chicago, 126.4; Cincinnati, 127.3; Detroit, 126.3, and Milwaukee, 126, aren't far behind.

And now—word of cheer: White potatoes have gone down in price 63.3 per cent since March 13, 1934.

EXPORTS NOT AFFECTED BY PROCESS TAX

The cotton processing tax does not affect exports of manufactured cotton goods, nor does it give imported cotton goods an advantage over domestically manufactured cotton goods because of a compensatory tax on imports and a refund of the processing tax on exports, according to Lawrence Myers, chief of the cotton marketing section, Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

A compensatory import tax, equivalent to the cotton processing tax paid by domestic manufacturer, in addition to the regular tariffs in effect, must be paid on manufactured goods entering this country during the period that a processing tax is in effect. When manufactured cotton goods are exported from this country, the cotton processing tax is refunded. The cotton processing tax, therefore, is not a factor affecting the manufactured goods import-export situation.

Fewer yards of cotton cloth were imported in 1934 than in the years from 1925 to 1928. Imports were 109,248,500 square yards in 1935 and only 41,533,000 in 1934. When compared with the total production of 7,086,857,000 square yards in 1934 the imports the past year amounted to only one-half of the one per cent of production. While in 1925 imports amounted to one and one-half per cent of production.

There are advantages in your home town that exist nowhere else in the world for you.

Boy Scouts of America

CAMP-O-RAL. The event of the year for Scouting in our council. The dates are April 25, 26 and 27. The place is the new State Park on the highway between Clovis and Portales. Remember that awards will be made to Patrols, so be sure to have your Scouts organized by Patrols. If your Troop has ten Scouts in attendance it would be preferable to have two Patrols of five each. We are expecting thirty Troops with 600 Scouts to be present. Bring your Troop and help make this the greatest Camp-O-Ral in our history. We're looking for you.

Jamboree Notes
Three Scouts have paid in their registration fee of $25 as this is written. All others should be coming in "pronto" as April 27th is the latest we can receive them. Get after your candidates and urge them to send this fee along with their application immediately. Application blanks were sent you several weeks ago. Others may be had by asking for them.

The Jamboree will be international, in fact, since the following countries have sent word that they will send delegations: Great Britain, France, Poland, Hungary, Cuba, Canada and Mexico.

Scouts registered for the Jamboree so far are: Benjamin Casaus and Henry Worthington of Troop 12, Clovis; Barney Hopkins and Cecil Ginnani of Troop 32, Carlsbad; Clarence Wheeler of Troop 36, East Grand Plains, Roswell.

We are entitled to send one Scout for each Troop; therefore, our quota is 50. We suggest each Troop choosing a candidate and an alternate, as many Troops will not have a candidate. Some Troops may send even more than two. Take this up at your next meeting.

The following men have registered their intention of going to the Jamboree: J. M. Slayter, Scoutmaster of Troop 12, Clovis; Rev. A. F. Tucker, Field Commissioner of Grady; L. D. Terry, Scoutmaster of Troop 34 at Marilee; Fred Brennenman, Scoutmaster of Troop 3, Roswell; Edward Trilling, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 1, Roswell; Frank Young, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 6, Roswell.

Scouting in Hobbs
Ninety days ago Hobbs had one Troop with 33 Scouts. Now they have five troops with 30 Scouts and one more troop organizing. This fine growth is due to a generous interest in the boys of Hobbs by certain men, among whom we must mention the fine school superintendent, W. D. Shattuck, and his staff. Also Edward Amsing, who as Scoutmaster, was able to solicit and hold the interest of such a large number of boys. Mr. W. Woodard is district chairman; Mr. A. H. Strickland, district commissioner; Rev. J. W. Williams, vice chairman; and W. F. Edwards is chairman of the Court of Honor.

Cubbing is also making excellent progress with three packs in process of organization. Robert Frazer is chairman of the Cubbing committee.

A Patrol Contest
Scoutmaster Ed. West of Carlsbad has had unusual success with a Patrol contest. We pass it on to you just as he gave it to us: Dear E. V.: Here is the plan of the Patrol contest I have just put on. It worked fine and sure put life in my patrols. The games that I have are mostly Scouting games and a few fun games. They are announced at leader's meeting once a month, so the patrols will have plenty of time to prepare for them. As a prize to the winning patrol, I am giving a Scout pennant. We ran this for two months in order to get two Courts of Honor in. No awards for advancement is made until after the boy has been before the Court of Honor.

The Plan: Present, 2 points; late, 1 point; Good Turn, 1 point; Church, 1 point; Inspection, 1 to 10 points; Uniform, 2 points; game, 10 points; Advancement: Tenderfoot, 25 points; all Merit Badges over three, 10 points each; under three, 5 points each. 100% Advancement of Patrol, 100 points; Handicraft, 1 to 25 points; Hike with 80% attendance and planned program, 50 points; Hike with 80% attendance, cooking all food, 50 points.

Cola Plant, Johnson-Lodewick Refinery, Roswell Air Port, Roswell Cotton Oil Mill, J. P. White Cotton Gin, Worwick Stock Feeding Pens, Farming-Hagerman Farm, Roswell Laundry, Spring & Forging Co., Fish Hatchery.

These firms request that Troops planning such a visit make arrangements before hand so that no inconvenience will arise.

Going Forward
Three hundred and thirty new Scouts and 11 new Troops have been registered since the first of this year. This is a splendid showing and means that boys in our area want to be Scouts. This brings our Scout enrollment up to 933. Our goal for December 31 is 1000 Scouts and 50 Troops. We have 50 Troops now.

New Units Since March 1
Troop 25, Carlsbad, sponsored by the Rotary Club, with J. D. Smith as Scoutmaster.

Troop 29, Hobbs, sponsored by the Masonic Lodge, with Gene Best as Scoutmaster and Carlisle Young as assistant.

Troop 30, Bellview, sponsored by the M. E. Church South, with Orvis C. Ootson as Scoutmaster and Albert Mitchell as assistant.

Troop 32, Broadview, sponsored by Citizens, with F. B. Wallace as Scoutmaster and A. J. Hayter as assistant.

Troop 33, Grady, sponsored by Citizens, with C. L. Cox as Scoutmaster and Fred Hines as assistant.

Troop 38, Hobbs, sponsored by the American Legion with W. C. Westerfeldt as Scoutmaster.

Troop 40, Hobbs, sponsored by the Methodist Episcopal Church South with C. S. Walker as acting Scoutmaster.

Troop 41, Hobbs, sponsored by the First Baptist Church with no scoutmaster as yet.

We welcome all of these and wish them success.

Improved Cubbing
The time is here when we must actively promote the Cub program. The program is tried and proven. Three thousand boys of Cub age in our area are waiting for it. It would be fine for each Troop to have a Cub pack under the same sponsorship. We have a total of 15 packs now with 180 Cubs. We should have as many Packs as we have Troops. We urge you to promote this fine younger boy program. Incidentally, if you organize a Pack or any other unit you are entitled to the "Organizers Award." Look in your catalogue on page 17 and find article No. 16. This is the award. Why not get it?

Boy Scouts Praised in Congress Session

WASHINGTON, April 24.—On the occasion of the 35th Anniversary of the Boy Scout movement it was paid an unusual tribute in both houses of Congress. In the House, Representative McSwain of South Carolina spoke at length on the Boy Scouts of America and on the outstanding work the organization is doing.

"We may honestly say that this organization is contributing a most important influence in the making of the future citizenship of this nation," he said.

Scouts Name Gawtry National Treasurer

Lewis Gawtry, president of the Bank for Savings, New York City, has been elected treasurer of the Boy Scouts of America to succeed the late George D. Pratt, until his death last month the first and only treasurer the organization ever had.

Mr. Gawtry has been identified with the Boy Scout movement since 1910 and for a number of years has been chairman of its finance committee, and active in many other capacities, locally in New York, as well as nationally. In 1931 he received the Silver Buffalo, highest Scout award for "Distinguished Service to Boyhood."

Acreeage of Pinto Beans Is Increased

About 60,000 more acres of dry beans will be planted by New Mexico growers this year than were planted in 1931, according to March 1 estimates as reported by J. L. Paschal of the New Mexico State college.

This represents an increase of 75 per cent compared with last year when 83,000 acres were planted. The acreage planted, however, may be drastically reduced below this figure if present unfavorable moisture conditions continue.

According to the growers' intentions, the acreage of dry, edible beans for harvest in 1935 in the United States is estimated at 1,600,000 acres, which is 210,000 more than the average harvested in the years 1930-1934, and 831,000 more acres than in the drought-shortened acreage harvested in 1934 alone.

The greater part of the increase over the five-year average and the increase over last year are in the pinto area, particularly in Colorado and New Mexico, where the drought destroyed about three-fifths of the acreage planted in 1934.

For the five-year period, 1930-1934, the average acreage of dry beans harvested in New York, Michigan and California amounted to 53 per cent of the total acreage in the United States; the average crop in these states, however, was 66 per cent of the total production.

AMERICA SETS EXAMPLE FOR REST OF WORLD

The "I'm Alone" case seems to be settled, finally and forever.

Maybe you'd forgotten all about it. If so, that's the significant thing about the whole business.

It was almost six years ago, during prohibition, that two U. S. Coast Guard cutters opened fire on the Canadian schooner "I'm Alone" in the Gulf of Mexico. They sank her. One of her crew drowned. Two were saved and put in irons.

There was a sensation. Canada was indignant, saying that even if the "I'm Alone" was suspected of being a rum-runner, this was no way to treat Canadian citizens on the high seas, in defiance of every international law and courtesy.

Stop a moment and think what might have happened if the "I'm Alone" had been a Russian fishing schooner and the coast guard ship a Japanese destroyer. Or if the encounter had taken place in the Adriatic between a Yugoslav merchantman and an Italian cruiser.

There would have been immediate sword-rattling and diplomatic passages, ultimatums, and probably a world crisis. And war would have hovered menacingly in the background.

But no one mentioned, or even thought of war when the coast guard sank the "I'm Alone." The affair was considered on both sides in a light reflecting its importance, which was really small. Canadians were not up on their hind legs screaming about their "national honor." Americans were not breaking out with the flag and demanding pledges that Canada use all her resources to enforce American prohibition.

For the feeling that runs across the long undefended border between the United States and Canada is a cordial and friendly one. So here was a regrettable incident which ought to be discussed in friendly fashion and adjusted as fairly as possible.

It has taken six years to settle the affair. Now a final adjustment seems imminent. Chief Justice Duff of Canada and Supreme Court Justice Van Devanter of the United States have examined all the evidence and recommend that the United States apologize to Canada and pay $25,000 in damages to members of the crew and their dependents.

There seems no reason why our government should not immediately accept these findings and make good on the affair with willing good grace.

When you are wrong, the manly and dignified thing to do is admit it and make what amends you can.

When a genuinely friendly feeling exists between two countries, there is little trouble in adjusting satisfactorily almost any dispute. When there is no such feeling, no machinery can guarantee peaceful settlement.

Both countries should be happy in a condition that permits such settlement of vexing eyes like that of the "I'm Alone."

Unfortunately, in a jealous and bitter world, we're practically alone.—Press, St. Mary's, Pennsylvania.

PLANTING TIME IS COMING

Planting time will soon be here and it will be well to make a careful selection of seeds.

There is a shortage of good seed this year, and it may be a temptation to plant inferior qualities. The small sowing, however, may prove rather expensive. Good seed, while they may cost more, are the cheapest in the long run. Certified seed with good germination test, insures a good stand and a better yield. If there ever was a time when the best results were vital, it is now.

BETTER RURAL ROADS

This is the season of the year when it becomes most apparent that great strides are still to be made in the improvement of farm to market roads—roads that mean much to every merchant and resident in a community where farming is the principal business.

While highways of which we are justly proud have been constructed to connect metropolitan centers, every spring brings unpleasant reminders that country roads for the most part are still of the type that become rutted and muddy—probably impassible at times—for several days or weeks each spring, depending on the season. Increased use of trucks to transport farm produce makes the need for better roads more pressing.

Fortunately, progress in the science of road building brings the vision of a complete network of hardsurfaced rural roads within the realm of possibilities. Stable all-weather roads developed through soil studies by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, and constructed by the proper mixture of local materials and calcium chloride, are inexpensive in first cost and greatly reduce the cost of maintenance.

Hundreds of miles of such roads have already been constructed principally in Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota and Ohio, and the method of construction is rapidly becoming standardized.

As with every other community improvement project, the goal cannot be reached at once. But "Better Rural Roads" is an aim which every civic and farm organization should include in its program for community improvement, and is an objective which should have the support of every resident of a rural community or village. Safe, hard surfaced rural roads are a definite business asset to every community.—Herald, Liberty, Indiana.

JAPANESE COMPETITION

News dispatches from Yokahama report the departure of a group of Japanese business men for Brazil to learn whether they can do better on some of the $100,000,000 worth of cotton now bought annually from the United States, the supposition of course being that Brazil, by selling more cotton to Japan, will absorb more Japanese exports.

Japan has in recent years been one of the heaviest and steadiest purchasers of American cotton. It is the only foreign cotton market which has held its own in the depression years. Were any substantial portion of this market lost the American cotton industry would be in an even greater predicament than it is today. Such an eventuality would undoubtedly inspire strong demands for commercial reprisals.

Already the cotton textile manufacturers of the United States are up in arms against the mounting volume of Japanese imports of this class of merchandise. They are demanding increased tariff protection against this competition and the possibility that they may get it may have been a primary factor in causing the Japanese business men to set sail for Brazil.

As a matter of fact any commercial reprisal against Japan could be much more costly to the United States. Japan is today buying three to four times as much as she is selling in her trade with the United States. Any action leading to even a limited embargo on imports of Japanese textiles should take into account this thriving export trade. If Japan cannot sell, she certainly will curb her purchases, probably her purchases of cotton from the American south. What on this basis would be meat for one section of the country or for one industry would, consequently, prove to be a far greater poison in more wide-spread fields of commerce.

INCLUDE NEW MEXICO

Santa Fe railway officials in Denver have predicted a booming tourist season for Colorado. W. K. Eiter of Chicago, vice president, saying "there are numerous indications that people have more money to spend this year than for many years, and if there is money there will be travel."

We hope the Santa Fe railway will include New Mexico in campaigns that it plans to induce tourists to come west. New Mexico can gain its share of the tourist travel along with Colorado, if the Santa Fe stresses this state in its advertising as well as Colorado. And it has done it in the past.

The Santa Fe, which has air-conditioned its principal passenger trains expects this year to be a test as to whether this feature is going to cause more travelers to use the railroads. It expects to find out whether the expense has been justified. We venture to say that the Santa Fe will find the expense justified, provided the company advertises and lets the public know of the improved service offered.

"Don't Quote Me"

By United Press

WASHINGTON, April 24 (UP).—To be a senate policeman you don't have to know anything about arrests, warrants, subpoenas and the like.

But you do have to know some senate well enough to get him to appoint you to the job.

Senate policemen are among the beneficiaries of the $300,000 in patronage jobs which majority senators distribute.

The senate policemen wear blue uniforms, just like bona fide policemen, but are not required to have police experience. If something really went wrong and the Senate needed protection it probably would call on the regular Washington force or the army.

Senate officers do carry nightsticks, however. And on occasions when he has reason to suspect trouble, the lieutenant has pistols which he can distribute. The only time that has happened in recent years was on the occasion of the Louis riots here.

Lots of the Senate patronage employes are students.

Senator David Walsh, (D.) Mass., has four appointees, all college boys working their way through school. They are elevator operators and receive $1,300 a year. Many elevator men, policemen and clerks go to law school or take business courses.

The Senate employes draw yearly salaries. When the Senate recesses, the doormen go home and stay there until the Senate begins work again. Clerks arrange their schedules among themselves. A skeleton staff is always maintained, but most of them are able to get about four months off in the Senate only sits from January to June.

Janitors and Senate restaurant waiters are not patronage employes. They are hired by the superiors in charge just like workers in any business.

Many "efficiency" employes have worked for the Senate for years. Col. Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the Senate, has worked in the chamber since 1897. Sergeant-at-Arms Chester Jurney has been on the payroll since 1899.

Maybe it was tact, maybe it was a previous engagement or maybe it was simply that he didn't care about going.

At any rate Soviet Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky did not appear at the grand opening of the Annual Daughters of the American Revolution convention.

All diplomatic representatives are invited to the first D. A. R. meeting. Last year Troyanovsky attended to the accompaniment of a great deal of tongue-wagging—the D. A. R. has said many unkind things about the union of Socialist Soviet republics in its day.

This year the tongues wagged the other way. Troyanovsky did not appear at the ceremony. The D. A. R. explained that he had been invited but sent his regrets. Why? The D. A. R. was tactfully silent and the Russian embassy had no suggestions to offer.

The Shrine convention is coming to Washington this summer and the Senate has voted $20,000 to be spent in behalf of public order and protection of life and liberty.

The idea is not, however, to protect the city against the Shriners. In passing the bill it was explained that 100,000 visitors will be in the city at convention time and some precautions must be taken against throngs of pickpockets, gamblers, peddlers and racketeers who are expected to follow the convention into town.

Mrs. Daniel Bell, wife of the budget director, is a woman of simple proportions. When anyone twits her about the growing task of her husband in figuring how all those billions are to be allotted, she has a ready answer.

"Shucks," she says. "I'm bigger than the budget."

There's not much of a retort to be made to that.

WASHINGTON SNAP-SHOTS

Everywhere officials look today the horizon is dark except in the business field. War clouds over Europe. Dust clouds of the Middle West. Political clouds over Congress and apparently gathering throughout the country. But blue skies trying to break through the six year old depression darkness.

Actually business has progressed further than many people believe. The nation's No. 1 industry, motor car manufacturing, is setting a five-year high on production and despite this pace is barely able to keep abreast of consumer demand. Nearly 1,500,000 passenger cars and trucks have been turned out since January 1, and while the production will taper away some from now on, manufacturers believe they will produce close to a million more units than in 1930, with higher wages being paid and more employment.

Retail sales have maintained their volume surprisingly through the first months of the year. Steel production, after reaching the highest point in years, tapered off some but a low peak is expected during the present quarter. There again wages equal to and above 1929 wages are being paid with peak employment. Residential construction over the country is steadily advancing.

All of these items and more indicate the possibility of the nation finally emerging from the depression to a large extent during the present year if no obstacles are thrown in the path. Undoubtedly the spur is due to the fact that during the last few months there have been no startling political innovations that have kept business upset, and strokes have been kept at a minimum.

What officials fear now is that new attempted reforms by Congress might throw more people out of employment, or that there will be a renewal of the strikes which so retarded recovery during the past two years.

An early adjournment of Congress probably would be the most stimulating force for further recovery. So long as it is in session, with the possibility that it will get out of hand and enact more "trick" legislation proposed by young Brain Trust lawyers, or political quacks, business will be wary against moving ahead too fast. The sooner it transacts business aimed directly at recovery, and not at reform, and adjourns, the sooner we shall have the answer to whether this is the recovery year.

Other members of the tribe gave them a farewell pow-wow and a rousing send-off at the depot. Each brave was equipped with many tokens of good luck, designed to safeguard them against the evils that might beset them when they start mingling with the white men.

The young braves who went away to join the circus were Yellow Horse, John Cook, Curley Hair, Medicine Eagle, Majo Fidsump and Teddy Grant.

GALLUP, April 24 (UP).—Crowds gathered to watch the recent inauguration of Gallup's first stop-go-red-amber traffic light. The signal device, built by Jack Goodwin, veteran designer of Gallup Christmas decorations and Indian ceremonial illuminations, didn't function satisfactorily, much to the confusion of the motorists. A leader bell and better timing soon fixed it up. Goodwin is to install six more traffic signals within the next few weeks.

ALBUQUERQUE, April 24 (UP).—One hundred and sixty-two dollars and thirty-five cents and a baseball mitt have been collected for the Albuquerque juvenile baseball league. Prominent citizens are promoting the league as a means of keeping the youngsters out of mischief—and the juvenile court.

ALBUQUERQUE, April 24 (UP).—When a federal judge in Kansas City sentenced George Robert Gabor to federal prison at Leavenworth for 18 months on the charge of impersonating a federal officer to cash a check for $157, citizens of Albuquerque remembered the visit of the "man of many names" to the Duke city.

He arrived one day in Albuquerque in a new Ford, the gift, he said, of Henry Ford. He gave his name as Baron von Krupp, heir to the German munitions millions. The county sheriff, however, was regretfully forced to deport him to Delaware where he served time on a bad check charge.

PUEBLO, Colo., April 24 (UP).—In the midst of the recent dust storms, 170 carloads of sand arrived in Pueblo, much to the astonishment of the citizenry who thought that there was, perhaps, an oversupply of sand in Colorado. The sand turned out to be, however, a very special kind of sand for use as bedding in sheep cars.

FOSSIL, Wyo., April 24 (UP).—A rainy goat tried her best to equal the record of Mrs. Oliva Dionne but fell short of the mark. The goat, owned by Mrs. Gust Larson, gave birth to quadruplets. The youngsters are living but the task was too much for the mother and she died. The quadruplets are being fed from bottles but will soon be able to eat tin cans with the best of them.

AFTON, Wyo., April 24 (UP).—This mountain town is going to remain dry. The town council rejected the only liquor license application that was made when the state was opened up for saloons and at the same time announced the town would pay $50 to any person who furnished evidence to convict anyone selling liquor within the town limits.

PUEBLO, Colo., April 24 (UP).—Although he was jailed for creating a disturbance and discharging firearms within the city limits, Nicholas Svetich claims he acted in a righteous cause. After he and some friends had deposited $18 in a slot machine in a Pueblo cafe one morning about 4 o'clock without getting back a nickel, Svetich became enraged. He borrowed a revolver and shot up the machine. The well-filled cafe suddenly was emptied. Svetich was arrested the next day.

OUTLINES PLAN TO LOWER COST OF LIVING IN U S

Scribe Says "Eat Onions Tearfully Even If You're Gifted With Wealth"

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 24. (UP).—Here's how to beat the high cost of living:

CONFINE YOUR DIET TO POTATOES, cornflakes, evaporated milk, canned tomatoes and red salmon. That might even lower your food costs under last year.

Those foods are the only ones which have gone down in price since the new deal became fully effective.

You can sprinkle some sugar on the cornflakes, because that has not changed in price at all. But you can't put any oleomargarine on the potatoes because that has gone up more than 50 per cent, nor can you fry the salmon in lard because that costs more than 82 per cent over the price a year ago.

If you live in Portland, Ore., you have the best chance of keeping food costs down, and the poorest here in Washington, where prices have soared the highest.

If you don't care how much your meals cost, then you may eat bacon and eggs, up 78 and 47 per cent respectively over their retail prices two years ago.

Even if you're wealthy, eat onions tearfully in two years they have increased in price 135.7 per cent, according to the latest report of the bureau of labor statistics, from which all these figures are taken.

Pork chops, which used to be the meal served on the night before pay day, have gone up 74.2 per cent in the last two years, 34.8 in the last year, 11.4 in the last month, and 7.5 in the last two weeks covered by the report.

Like pork chops, you may eat corned beef and cabbage only on special extra occasions, like wedding anniversaries. The corned beef is up around 50 per cent in the last two years and the cabbage 71 per cent.

Cabbage, in fact, should be shredded extra thin even for slaw. It went up 20 per cent during the final two weeks reported.

Western housewives are comparatively lucky. Food costs in Portland, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles and Seattle are the lowest in the country with the indexes at 109.2, 110.1, 111.2 and 112 respectively, based on 1913 prices as 100.

Los Angeles women who are striking against high meat prices, though, do seem to have something to kick about. Food costs there during the year, have increased 19.7 per cent, more than in any other city. The costs a year ago, on the other hand, were far below the national average.

Prices in the east haven't gone up so rapidly, but they were high in the first place. If you live here in the capital, in Baltimore, or in Richmond, Va., you pay more to fill your market basket than anywhere else in the country. The index figures for these three cities hover at 120.5, 122.5 and 123.6.

Buffalo, with 120.7; New Haven, 124.9; New York, 127.5; Chicago, 124.4; Cincinnati, 127.3; Detroit, 124.3, and Milwaukee, 126, aren't far behind.

And now—one word of cheer: White potatoes have gone down in price 43.3 per cent since March 13, 1934.

EXPORTS NOT AFFECTED BY PROCESS TAX

The cotton processing tax does not affect exports of manufactured cotton goods, nor does it give imported cotton goods an advantage over domestically manufactured cotton goods because of a compensatory tax on imports and a refund of the processing tax on exports, according to Lawrence Myers, chief of the cotton marketing section, Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

A compensatory import tax, equivalent to the cotton processing tax paid by domestic manufacturer, in addition to the regular tariffs in effect, must be paid on manufactured goods entering this country during the period that a processing tax is in effect. When manufactured cotton goods are exported from this country, the cotton processing tax is refunded. The cotton processing tax, therefore, is not a factor affecting the manufactured goods import-export situation.

Fewer yards of cotton cloth were imported in 1934 than in the years from 1925 to 1928. Imports were 109,248,700 square yards in 1935 and only 41,553,000 in 1934. When compared with the total production of 7,066,457,000 square yards in 1934 the imports the past year amounted to only one-half of the one per cent of production. While in 1935 imports amounted to one and one-half per cent of production.

There are advantages in your home town that exist nowhere else in the world for you.

Boy Scouts of America

CAMP-O-RAL. The event of the year for Scouting in our council. The dates are April 25, 26 and 27. The place is the new State Park on the highway between Clovis and Portales. Remember that awards will be made to Patrols, so be sure to have your Scouts organized by Patrols. If your Troop has ten Scouts in attendance it would be preferable to have two Patrols of five each. We are expecting thirty Troops with 900 Scouts to be present. Bring your Troop and help make this the greatest Camp-O-Ral in our history. We're looking for you.

Jamboree Notes
Three Scouts have paid in their registration fee of $25 as this is written. All others should be coming in "pronto" as April 27th is the latest we can receive them. Get after your candidates and urge them to send this fee along with their application immediately. Application blanks were sent you several weeks ago. Others may be had by asking for them.

The Jamboree will be International in fact, since the following countries have sent word that they will send delegations: Great Britain, France, Poland, Hungary, Cuba, Canada and Mexico.

Scouts registered for the Jamboree so far are: Benjamin Casaus and Henry Worthington of Troop 12, Clovis; Barney Hopkins and Cecil Giranni of Troop 32, Carlsbad; Clarence Wheeler of Troop 36, East Grand Plains, Roswell.

We are entitled to send one Scout for each Troop; therefore, our quota is 50. We suggest each Troop choosing a candidate and an alternate, as many Troops will not have a candidate. Some Troops may send even more than two. Take this up at your next meeting.

The following men have registered their intention of going to the Jamboree: J. M. Slayter, Scoutmaster of Troop 12, Clovis; Rev. A. P. Tucker, Field Commissioner of Grady; L. D. Terry, Scoutmaster of Troop 34 at Melrose; Ted Brennenman, Scoutmaster of Troop 3, Roswell; Edward Trilling, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 1, Roswell; Frank Young, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 5, Roswell.

Scouting in Hobbs
Ninety days ago Hobbs had one Troop with 31 Scouts. Now they have five troops with 30 Scouts and one more troop organizing. This fine growth is due to a splendid interest in the town of Hobbs by certain men, among whom we must mention the fine school superintendent, W. D. Stafford, and his staff. Also Edward Assley, who as Scoutmaster, was able to solicit and hold the interest of such a large number of boys. W. W. Woodard is district chairman. Mr. Strickland, commissioner, Rev. J. W. Williams, vice chairman, and W. F. Williams, in chairman of the Court of Honor.

Cubbing is also making excellent progress with three packs in process of organization. Robert Prater is chairman of the Cubbing committee.

A Patrol Contest
Scoutmaster Ed. West of Carlsbad has had unusual success with a Patrol contest. We pass it on to you just as he gave it to us: Dear P. V.:

Here is the plan of the Patrol contest I have just put on. It worked fine and sure put life in my patrol. The games that I have are mostly Scouting games and a few fun games. They are announced at leader's meeting once a month, as the patrols will have plenty of time to prepare for them. As a prize to the winning patrol, I am giving a Scout pennant. We ran this for two months in order to get two Courts of Honor in. No awards for advancement is made until after the boy has been before the Court of Honor.

The Plan: Present, 2 points; late, 1 point; Good Turn, 1 point; Church, 1 point; Inspection, 1 to 10 points; Uniform, 2 points; game, 10 points; Advancement: Tenderfoot, 25 points; all Merit Badges over three, 10 points each; under three, 5 points each. 100% Advancement of Patrol, 100 points; Handicraft, 1 to 25 points; Mile with 80% attendance and planned program, 50 points; Mile with 80% attendance, cooking all food, 50 points.

Industrial Hikes
The Roswell District Committee has inaugurated a plan for Troops to visit various plants and industries of the city. The following firms have invited Troops to visit them and have offered their cooperation:

Southwestern Public Service Co. (light and ice plant), Mountain States Telephone Co., Battery A, Pecos Valley Trading Co., Coca

Cola Plant, Johnson-Lodewick Refinery, Roswell Air Port, Roswell Cotton Oil Mill, J. P. White Cotton Gin, Worwick Stock Feeding Pens, Farming-Hagerman Farm, Roswell Laundry, Spring & Forging Co., Fish Hatchery.

These firms request that Troops planning such a visit make arrangements before hand so that no inconvenience will arise.

Going Forward
Three hundred and thirty new Scouts and 11 new Troops have been registered since the first of this year. This is a splendid showing and means that boys in our area want to be Scouts. This brings our Scout enrollment up to 933. Our goal for December 31 is 1000 Scouts and 50 Troops. We have 60 Troops now.

New Units Since March 1
Troop 28, Carlsbad, sponsored by the Rotary Club, with J. D. Smith as Scoutmaster.

Troop 29, Hobbs, sponsored by the Masonic Lodge, with Gene Best as Scoutmaster and Carlisle Young as assistant.

Troop 30, Bellview, sponsored by the M. E. Church South, with Orvis C. Cotton as Scoutmaster and Albert Mitchell as assistant.

Troop 32, Broadview, sponsored by Citizens, with P. E. Wallace as Scoutmaster and A. L. Hayter as assistant.

Troop 33, Grady, sponsored by Citizens, with C. L. Cox as Scoutmaster and Fred Flines as assistant.

Troop 34, Hobbs, sponsored by the American Legion with W. C. Westerfeldt as Scoutmaster.

Troop 40, Hobbs, sponsored by the Methodist Episcopal Church South with C. S. Walker as acting Scoutmaster.

Troop 41, Hobbs, sponsored by the First Baptist Church with no scoutmaster as yet.

We welcome all of these and wish them success.

Cubbing
The time is here when we must actively promote the Cub program. The program is tried and proven. Three thousand boys of Cub age in our area are waiting for it. It would be fine for each Troop to have a Cub pack under the same sponsorship. We have a total of 15 packs now with 180 Cubs. We should have as many Packs as we have Troops. We urge you to promote this fine younger boy program. Incidentally, if you organize

Lewis Gawtry, president of the Bank for Savings, New York City, has been elected treasurer of the Boy Scouts of America to succeed the late George D. Pratt, until his death last month the first and only treasurer, the organization ever had.

Mr. Gawtry has been identified with the Boy Scout movement since 1910 and for a number of years has been chairman of its finance committee, and active in many other capacities, locally in New York, as well as nationally. In 1931 he received the Silver Buffalo, highest Scout award for "Distinguished Service to Boyhood."

Acreeage of Pinto Beans Is Increased
About 66,000 more acres of dry beans will be planted by New Mexico growers this year than were planted in 1934, according to March 1 estimates as reported by J. L. Paschal of the New Mexico State college.

This represents an increase of 75 per cent compared with last year when 83,000 acres were planted. The acreage planted, however, may be drastically reduced below this figure if present unfavorable moisture conditions continue.

According to the growers' intentions, the acreage of dry, edible beans for harvest in 1935 in the United States is estimated at 1,900,000 acres, which is 319,000 acres more than the average harvested in the years 1930-1934, and 81,000 more acres than in the drought-shortened acreage harvested in 1934 alone.

The greater part of the increase over the five-year average and the increase over last year are in the pinto area, particularly in Colorado and New Mexico, where the drought destroyed about three-fifths of the acreage planted in 1934.

For the five-year period, 1930-1934, the average acreage of dry beans harvested in New York, Michigan and California amounted to 89 per cent of the total acreage in the United States; the average crop in these states, however, was 66 per cent of the total production.

Richland Plans to Stage Play May 1

"When Pa Comes Home," a three-act comedy, is to be presented Wednesday evening, May 1, at 7:30 o'clock at Richland.

The plot centers around Pa's home-coming. Being a grocery peddler, Pa thinks he cannot support a family, an auto, and the government on one income; then trouble begins. Mrs. Harris, his wife, contends that if Grace is to make a brilliant marriage the family must own a car. Then Billy, the rich suitor, arrives and Pa disgraces the family. Pat and Tommy come to the rescue, but Pa has regained his dignity and puts Ma in her place.

A plot bubbling with wholesome comedy together with a vivid contrast in characters, make this play one of unusual merit.

Cast of Characters

Billy Harris, henpecked Pa, Clarence Fuller; Mrs. Harris, domineering Ma, Mrs. Crockett Stone; Pat, Pa's pal, Mrs. Clarence Fuller; Grace, Pat's sister, Ruby Sutton; Tommy Anderson, a suitor, Noel Monk; Billy Caldwell, wealthy fiancee, Jim Stroud; Frances O'Flaherty, lawyer, Orvel McClintock; Sadie Buchanan, society girl, Jewell Brakshill; "Trip Rusty," taxi-driver, Price Gandy.

Roosevelt's Message to the Boy Scouts is Heard Around World

The message of President Roosevelt, Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America, speaking from the White House on the evening of February 8th, the 25th Anniversary of the Boy Scout movement, was heard round the world, radio commentators say. It went out in nationwide broadcasts to all parts of the United States, and was relayed abroad by short wave. While it is yet too early to summarize reports from abroad, messages have been received indicating that it was widely received on ships at sea. One early report told of the words of the President being clearly heard far out in the Atlantic.

The President was introduced by Walter W. Head, of St. Louis, president of the Boy Scouts of America, who spoke from the arena of the Auditorium in St. Louis, where a Boy Scout circus, involving the participation of 10,000 Scouts and an audience of 18,000 more, was in progress.

As President Roosevelt concluded, Dr. James E. West, the Chief Scout executive, led the great Scout audience, assembled in all parts of the United States in the historic reaffirmation ceremony of the Scout Oath, in which Scouts everywhere unite on the anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

This had an unusual and particular significance, since Dr. West, as a leader of the movement from the beginning, had much to do with adapting the Scout Laws as used in other countries to the needs of American boys. He is, indeed, the author of the 12th Scout Law, "A Scout is Reverent," which in the form in which it appears in the American list of Scout Laws is almost unique in the field of Scouting. Because of Scouting recognition and fostering of the high spiritual values, support has come to the Scout movement from churches of all religious faiths.

$500,000 OF $150,000,000 ASKED TO FIGHT WIND EROSION IN TEXAS PANHANDLE HAS BEEN GIVEN

Strip Listing and Planting To Begin Soon as Possible; Government May Withdraw Land From Agriculture

The sum of $500,000 has been allocated to the Texas Panhandle area by the Federal government to combat wind erosion, according to announcement made by Lawrence Westbrook of the relief department at Washington.

Following the visitation of delegates from states adversely affected by recent dust storms, President Roosevelt stated as much money as was reasonably needed would be earmarked for that battle. The sum of $150,000,000 was asked for by the committee.

New Mexico has been given an allotment of $400,000, and similar allotments as needed, has been made other western states affected by dust blowing. Listing of the wind-swept farm land has been suggested as the first step in the emergency program with planting of certain forage crops to follow as soon as possible after good rains.

Congress already has laid the foundation for soil erosion work. The Senate agriculture committee has approved an erosion bill and the House already has passed a measure drafted by Jones and Dempsey to make the soil erosion service a permanent organization in the Department of Agriculture.

Meanwhile, Secretary Wallace said that it would take 10 years to solve the problem of wind erosion on the western plains.

Wallace said much could be done effectively to check the damage this year if the region gets normal April and May rains, but that it will take years to get a real solution by returning the area to grass.

Buffalo grass, he said, which is adapted to that district, starts slowly. He said it would be a matter of starting strips of sod and letting the other areas between be filled in.

If the weather continues dry in the wind-swept drought belt, Wallace said, not much good can be done this spring. Normal rains this month and next, however, he said, would permit drought resistant crops to get a start and hold the soil.

The $500,000 appropriation is in addition to all other proposed emergency and permanent control measures. It is designed to bridge the gap until the national program can be put under way.

The wind erosion program submitted by the committee appointed at a recent meeting of the county judges and commissioners of the Panhandle, held at Amarillo, was

On last Friday afternoon the first grade children were entertained with an Easter egg hunt at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Townsend. What Does a Bank Do?

IT PROMOTES THE GROWTH OF THE COMMUNITY

Picture our community without a bank. All those phases of our daily lives which come to mind as being "lost" without a place from which to borrow money, a place to keep money safely, a place to cash checks . . . all of them, industrial, commercial and civic find in a reliable bank the solution to many problems.

ways keenly interested in the progress of this state because the national association has a large investment in its municipal, county and state securities. Members and delegates will review the achievements of the past year and make plans for continued growth and expansion this year. Nineteen-thirty-four was a year of outstanding achievements for the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Association when more than $84,000,000 in new business was written. This was an increase of more than $34,000,000 over 1933.

The gross assets of the association have grown to more than $119,000,000, making it outstanding as the largest and richest fraternal life insurance association in the world. The consistent growth of the association, which operates in 44 states of the Union, is shown by the fact that in 1934 its gross assets increased more than $4,000,000, with a net gain of 12,322 members.

The association has invested more than $108,000,000 in government, state, county and municipal bonds. Since its organization in 1890 it has paid in death losses and disability benefits more than $240,000,000. It has a membership of more than 385,000.

Woodmen officials generally give credit to President Bradshaw for the unusual achievements and growth in the last two years. He was elected to the presidency after serving the national organization for many years as general attorney. He has taken an aggressive interest in all Woodmen of the World activities and in particular has devoted his personal attention to improvement and enlarging the War Memorial tubercular sanitarium at San Antonio, Tex., an institution where members of the organization are cared for without cost.

Money received by Virginia tobacco growers for the portion of the 1934 crop sold prior to December 1, totaled $18,000,000 in contrast to $7,000,000 received at the same time in 1933.

Defendants are further notified that unless they enter their appearance in said cause on or before June 6th, 1935, judgment will be rendered against them by default and the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in its complaint. ### Need Cotton Control To Maintain Prices

The recent decline of cotton prices shows what would likely happen if producers relaxed control of cotton production. With world supplies of American cotton about 3,000,000 bales in excess of prospective demand, producers cannot expect to maintain prices without production adjustment and control.

Without control, the farm value of the 1934 crop would have been materially below the returns received. "Farmers should carefully consider these factors in planning their 1935 crop," says C. A. Cobb, director of the cotton division of the AAA.

The world supply of cotton, although 3 1/2 million bales lower than last season, is still 12 1/2 million bales more than the world has ever consumed in any one year. According to the last report of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the total world supply of cotton for the 1934-35 season is estimated at 38,669,000 bales as compared with a supply of 42,135,000 in the 1933-34 season.

World cotton supplies this season are approximately a million bales more than in the 1926-27 season, when the average price received by producers in the United States was 12 1/2 cents per pound.

Production in foreign countries is estimated at 12,869,000 bales for the current season, a decline of 184,000 bales from the production of the 1933-34 season. The decline in estimated foreign production is due to a decline of almost 600,000 bales in the Indian crop, which, together with smaller decreases in a few other countries, more than offset the increased production in Brazil, China, Russia and a number of other minor countries.

Carry-over of American cotton, August 1, 1934, was 10 1/2 million bales and is expected to be reduced to about 8 1/2 million bales by August 1, 1935.

Our lungs hold approximately 10 pints of air when we take a deep breath. Normally, however, they hold about six pints. One pint is breathed in and out every time we take a breath.

pirates and slaves were buried. New Orleans is five feet above sea level and burial is above ground. Burial is in brick and concrete vaults, one above the other. A rental of $3.00 per year is charged for a vault, and at the end of the year if the rental is not paid the vault is opened, the casket broken up and burned, and the bones are pushed to one side or the back end of the vault and another casket is placed in the vault. The remains are completely decomposed in one year's time. Here were the graves of many historical characters, among which was that of Jeanne Lafitte, a pirate. He had much to do with the history of New Orleans.

It was planned to bring Napoleon to New Orleans and make him emperor of New France, and Lafitte was going to release him from prison and bring him over, but Napoleon died three days before the expedition was to have started. A house had been built in New Orleans for his occupancy. This house still stands.

In this cemetery rests the remains of the Voodoo Yuesen, a negro who ruled a large number of the negroes of New Orleans. Much of the wealth of New Orleans was originally brought there by pirates, who maintained headquarters in the city.

We saw the home of Jenny Lynn, the great singer of yesterday, as well as many historical buildings, rich in folk-lore.

The streets of New Orleans are canals covered over with concrete. These canals are used as drainage for the city. New Orleans has 60 inches annual rainfall.

It is strictly a tourist town, as well as a great shipping center, large vessels coming up the river to receive and discharge freight. The climate in Florida is pleasant, and in the morning and evenings wood fires are lighted in the fire places. Where we are staying there are fire places in each room. We will be here for several days and mail will reach us here at 312 North Flower Avenue. Have not received any mail or a copy of the paper as yet, and are anxious to know if the dust storms are still continuing.
 So far we have not run into any rain on the trip.

Referendum on Plan For Wheat Control

Wheat farmers of New Mexico will, on May 25, participate in a nation-wide referendum on a proposed future wheat control plan, according to an announcement by Ralph R. Will, assistant director adjustment programs. Both contract signers who are cooperating in the present control program, and non-signers will be given opportunity to vote upon the proposed features of a control program beginning in 1936 and extending through 1939. These include the basic principles of the present wheat program but with additional emphasis on the shifting of surplus acres to grass and drouth and dust storm areas. The proposal calls for voluntary adjustment of wheat acreage to meet domestic consumptive needs and probable exports, provision having been made for minor adjustments on individual farms to take care of crop rotation and other improved farm practices. The base period for individual adjustment contracts will include the years 1930, 1931 and 1932 which are the same as in the present program; the percentage of wheat acreage to be retired and the rate and condition of benefit payments to be determined each year, provided that the amount of reduction in any year may not exceed more than 25 per cent of the individual farmer's base acreage. It is proposed that this program be administered by county control associations as at present.

Announcement has also been made at state Extension headquarters that the wheat section will make full 1935 adjustment payments to cooperating wheat farmers in certain designated drouth stricken counties of New Mexico, regardless of whether the seeding requirement of wheat for 1935 harvest has been met.

Turkey Growers Can Sell Cooperatively

Cooperative marketing facilities for turkeys will be available for New Mexico turkey growers next fall and winter, says W. M. Ginn of the New Mexico State College.

The Plains Cooperative Association, Inc., with headquarters at Plainview, Texas, has completed plans for marketing through the Northwestern Turkey Growers' association of Salt Lake City. This is one of the most efficient and best known cooperative organizations in the country; they are 100 per cent cooperative. The turkeys are received, sold on a graded basis and, after deducting the cost of marketing, the grower gets what is left. The grower who puts No. 1 turkeys in the pool gets a better price than the grower who put in Nos. 2 or 3.

Those who wish to take advantage of this opportunity to sell cooperatively and on a graded basis should prepare now to produce quality turkeys. To produce No. 1 quality turkeys, one must start with good breeding stock, hatch properly, feed a balanced diet, and do many other chores of turkey raising in the proper manner. Literature on this may be secured from the extensor service.

In Curry and Roosevelt counties and possibly Dona Ana and Chaves counties, where a carload at a time can be shipped, marketing will be a simple matter. Growers in other areas will need to make arrangements to get their turkeys to more concentrated areas.

The cost of marketing through the Northwestern Turkey Growers' association is usually about one-half cent a pound; the cost to the local unit which grades, packs and ships the turkeys may go as high as five cents a pound, depending on the cost of boxes, volume, etc.

Marketing by grades is an improvement over the old method. When the price is the same for all grades, there is not much inducement for growers to produce quality turkeys, consequently lower quality and lower prices result. Also, the set price for all grades was too often based on the poorest quality, thereby penalizing the few who had quality turkeys.

PUBLIC HEALTH

Conducted by Dr. J. E. Karp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

THE PRECARIOUS AGE

At the end of the eighteenth century consumption, fever and smallpox accounted for about half the deaths in the London bills of mortality. More than one quarter of all the records of burials sacrificed death to consumption. Thomas Beddoes, a prominent physician of that time, wrote of the "precarious age" of 15.

In New Mexico, today, tuberculosis is still the most important cause of death though its victims represent only 9.3 per cent of all those who die. And so far as tuberculosis is concerned we may still call 15 a precarious age. It is not that we are likely to have many deaths at that age but because in the later years of adolescence the comparatively harmless childhood type of tuberculosis is liable to be succeeded by the dangerous adult type. It is rare for this disease to be recognized in its earliest stages and thus we do not associate high school and college ages with early tuberculosis as we should do. The onset is treacherously silent and slow. It takes us unaware and wanders with us like La belle dame sans merci through many romantic moons until one day we awaken and find ourselves "on the cold hill's side."

The one constant warning of its presence is a warning that is easily overlooked: fatigue. The young lady who stays up to dance two or three nights a week may think that she has good reason to feel fatigued. Who shall decide that the cause is tuberculosis rather than inadequate rest?

I am driven more and more to the conclusion that we should not wait for symptoms but that every young man or woman should at least once in their lives have an X-ray examination of the chest. In some localities high school principals may be able to arrange with local specialists for a routine fluoroscopic examination each year of the graduating class; supplemented by X-ray photography of every suspicious looking chest. Expense might be cut down by a preliminary tuberculin test with follow-up of those only who give a positive reaction. If but one per cent of those examined can be rescued from tuberculosis the expense would be fully justified.

The club members are still working to help finance a well and windmill in the Floyd cemetery. The well digging is now in progress. Members of the club are enjoying much amusement as well as useful gifts from unknown members of the club who are known as our "peanuts."

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Mamie Anderson, Friday, April 26.

B. & P. W. HAVE DINNER

Twenty-one members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club drove to Clovis and had a Spanish dinner at El Monterey the evening of the 22nd. The menu consisted of tamales, tortillas, enchiladas, fried beans, Spanish rice, with a side dish of chili, and coffee. Pineapple sherbet and a butter cookie were served as a dessert. After dinner part of the crowd went to the picture show, and part played bridge. The rooms at El Monterey are very attractive, as is the service.

The next regular dinner-business meeting will be May 13th, at the home of Miss McCarty, with Mrs. Turner Hensley in charge of dinner arrangements.

The delegates, the board member, Mrs. Edith Martin, and Mrs. Armstrong, local president, plan to leave early Friday morning for Las Cruces for the state convention.

INEZ MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The society met this week with Miss Cloea Tollett. The day was spent finishing the quilt and putting it together. The quilt is for the Orphans Home at Portales. It is a Friendship quilt with almost all the names of the children in the community on it.

A delightful lunch was served. We have started a sinking fund and have also helped pay off the debt on the parsonage.

We will meet with Mrs. Lester Pitts on Thursday afternoon. Every one invited to attend. We will appreciate new members and visitors.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

The high school assembly of last Friday consisted of two parts. First, the only existing Boy Scout band of a junior high, directed by Ernest Fogue and sponsored by K. E. Livingston. The latter part of the program was devoted to political campaign speeches of candidates for election of next year's officers.

The musical program was composed of a 15-minute program of marches and reveries. The trombone section was featured in one entertaining selection.

The 12 candidates, as well as other students interested in various candidates, presented logical arguments for election to the various offices such as president of the student council, yell leader, secretary of student council, vice president, boys' athletic manager and the girls' athletic manager.

FREAK LAWS SUPPRESSING NUDISM DESTINED TO DIE

Indiana Legislator Proposes To Revert Land Back To Indians; Georgian Wants Mules Equipped With Tail Lights

NEW YORK, April 24 (UP)—The men and women who make state laws have puzzled this year over such weighty matters as putting tail lights on mules, suppressing nudism and classifying saxophone players as rogues and vagabonds.

Into relief problems, school appropriations and road-building projects have been sandwiched dozens of freak bills and resolutions. Most of them are destined to expire before they can be enacted into law.

Nevertheless, the bills are or were on legislative tables, and a goodly portion of them are directed at current American problems such as painting school buses red, white and blue, checking nudism and discouraging the antics of professional wrestlers.

Safety and patriotism have gone hand in hand in the state of New York, Nebraska and Wisconsin where legislators are pulling for the bus-painting idea.

An Illinois patriot carried the idea a step further when he proposed an amendment to the oath of allegiance bill to make teachers wear red, white and blue—male instructors tri-colored collars, and the women, red, white and blue cuffs.

Maine, the home state of Rudy Valle, brought forth a bill providing a 90-day jail sentence for saxophonists by amending the existing statute applying to "rogues, vagabonds and idle persons." Action was indefinitely postponed.

California can consider any time it gets around to it a bill preventing wrestlers from making faces while going through their routine.

Oklahoma had a measure outlawing nudist colonies. If the measure had not been killed, nudism would have been a felony punishable by life imprisonment. The New York state legislature passed a bill declaring that if there or more persons wearing less than the accepted amount of clothes gathered together they were automatically declared out of order.

A Montana legislator took a step in that direction with a measure providing that fan dancers wear costumes weighing at least three pounds and two ounces when appearing in places where liquor is sold.

Colorado made its bid for fame with a house resolution, duly passed, instructing Patrick Boyle, head janitor of the state house, to run up Eagle county way after the session for the purpose of winding out "Old Two-Tos," a stock killing bear infesting the region.

Mrs. Charles Hutchins of the North Carolina general assembly presented a measure forbidding stag parties in the city of Raleigh or in any suburb within 10 miles during the legislative session.

"These parties," she said, "are reputedly hilarious."

Out in the Washington house a legislator presented a bill that would make dishonesty in public office a capital offense punishable by death before a firing squad.

One day when things were dull in the Indiana legislature, a fun-loving member proposed that Lake county be made the 49th state or "revert back to the Indians."

A Georgia legislator wants mules and other animals equipped with tail lights for road work. A conference proposed that goats be forbidden to run at large in Emanuel county.

Massachusetts sought to add dignity to the Lanesborough Volunteer Firemen's Association, Inc., by empowering the group to extinguish fires in Lanesborough.

The Arkansas house whipped through a bill making it a penitentiary offense to steal a chicken, but the measure met the strong opposition of Senator John F. Parish in that chamber, who said the measure would greatly retard cotton picking in the state.

SENIORS HEAR EDUCATIONAL TALKS

Mrs. Martin Speaks To Girls; Brough Addresses Boys

On last Friday afternoon the high school students heard 30-minute educational talks concerning the choice of an occupation, a question which will very soon confront Portales high school students.

Mrs. Edith Martin, county demonstration agent, talked to the girls on the idea that each person has a talent and if not taken advantage of, the result is almost tragic. The sky is the limit of the expansion of these talents. No longer are women confined to the home, but every field is open to them.

In the talk to Senior boys, Mr. Brough, instructor at the College, also advanced many worthwhile ideas. He projected to the students examples of certain fields whose demands are declining and then cited fields showing possibilities of expanding. As another example of the demand of certain fields, Mr. Brough stated that instrumentation in theatrical orchestras are being substituted by mechanical recordings, while on the other hand, the schools are becoming more music-inclined, which will necessitate more efficiently prepared and a greater number of teachers adapted to music instruction.

Both speeches were well received.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. M. S. Hines, who has been confined to her room in the Portales General Hospital, left her home in Elda yesterday.

Ernest Trapp, Bellview, underwent an appendectomy at the Portales General hospital Monday. He is reported to be doing nicely.

Chamber of Commerce Rumbings

By BERT RAWLINS, Sec.

Tuesday's meeting was especially interesting as it brought the members of the Chamber, directors and farmers of our county together to talk over matters of interest to both town and county. Twenty men representing different localities of the county were guests and brought out many matters that need attention for the benefit of the county and that can be worked out by all working in harmony.

President John Plummer made a very fitting speech welcoming the farmers to the meeting and asking their cooperation in all matters pertaining to general interest of town and county. Arthur Jones welcomed the guests on the part of the city of Portales, assuring those present that our merchants and business men were anxious to help solve all problems that may come up.

County Commissioner Tom Hayship, from the east part of the county, very ably discussed matters pertaining to the work now under way on the Soil Erosion project. Representative Floyd Kennedy gave a very explanatory talk on the merits and demerits of the truck law, known as the "Port of Entry Bill."

Frank Shaw was the next speaker called upon and he discussed a matter that is of great importance to every Roosevelt county farmer, the broom corn situation.

A. J. Ross of the Floyd community talked upon the subject of how the Chamber of Commerce can aid the farmer and expressed his opinion that the Portales Chamber of Commerce had at all times given evidence of being anxious to aid in every way any project or any matter that would be of assistance to the people of our county.

Mr. Ross very truthfully stated that upon the success of the farmer depended the success of every business enterprise in Portales.

Still comes the call for more rooms and more rent houses in Portales. Some few are under construction, but not enough. The call is not for large homes, but apartments and small cottages. Let's get busy and put this matter to going forward in a more constructive manner.

Do not forget we are to have a County Fair this fall. Get busy and get your exhibits ready, and we are to have the best fair ever. There is no excuse for us not having this fair. With a county producing more first class produce, more fine cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, etc., why should we not put this over?

Portales sweet potatoes are being advertised in such markets as Long Beach, Calif. Gradually our community, our city, is coming into its own. Thanks to the old-timers who paved the way. We owe them much and now with our splendid college and schools, both town and rural, added to the farm interests and a Chamber of Commerce working steadily to promote the interests of our section of the state, we are bound to reach out in every section of the country and bring in the right kind of citizenship.

A committee composed of Murry South, A. J. Ross, Edgar Foreman, A. J. Burkett and E. C. Siddall was appointed by the president of the Chamber of Commerce to work with the Agricultural Committee, of which Bob Young is chairman, to work on the matter of straightening out the rough places in the "Port of Entry" law. Several things need adjusting in this bill. Portales is situated quite differently from other towns, our produce market depends upon the operation of truck lines to a great extent and some points in the present law need adjusting.

Chamber of Commerce members should not fail to visit the Scouts in their camp Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Help show the boys we are interested in the great work they are doing to build real men for citizens of our country. Both Scouts and Scoutmasters need our encouragement.
