Hull Appeals To American Nations To Resist Invasion

Grave Threats Are Described By Secretary

Ominous Shadow Is Said To Be Hovering Over Nations; Strong Defense Promised

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Staff Writer

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 10.—Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, told the Pan-American conference tonight "there must not be a shadow of a doubt anywhere as to the determination of the American nations not to permit the invasion of this hemisphere by the armed forces of any power or any possible combination of powers" or by their political activities.

Hull warned the delegates of 21 nations that "mankind is tragically confronted once more by the alternatives of freedom or serfdom, of order or anarchy, of progress or retrogression of civilization or barbarism."

Ominous Shadow Seen

Telling his listeners that an "ominous shadow falls athwart our own hemisphere," he said each American nation had to decide for itself what measures to take "to meet its share of our common interest and responsibility."

But as far as the United States is concerned, Hull said, "let no one doubt for a moment that, so long as the possibility of armed challenges exist, the United States will maintain adequate defensive military, naval and air establishments."

The white- haired secretary of state spoke following two other keynote speeches by Dr. Jose Maria Cantillo, Argentine foreign minister, and Dr. Carlos Concha, Peruvian foreign minister and permanent president of the conference.

Only Formal Business

The speeches were the only formal business before the conference as a whole. Every corridor of the house of representatives, was a scene of bustling activity, however, through the day.

The steering committee decided the conference should close Dec. 27 and approved for consideration a Cuban resolution against "racial persecution" and decided to have it circulated among the delegates.

The resolution named no nations, but was understood to be directed against German anti-Semitism. It condemned "all religious and racial persecutions" as "opposed to the essential tenets of democracy."

Working Behind Scenes

Mexican and Argentine delegates were working behind the scenes to formulate a definite proposal for mediation of the Spanish civil war.

Cantilo told the delegates that all American nations were ready to maintain a common front against any menace to the independence

Here She Is! The National Cotton Girl From Texas Tech!

Texas Tech Cinderella Girl To Become "Queen-For-A-Day" At Cotton Jubilee

By OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

"SOUNDS like music to me," said a blue-eyed young woman clad in white overalls as she turned an ear to the rumble of machinery in the textile engineering building at Texas Technological college.

That blue-eyed young woman was Miss Opal Hill of Post, who Friday was transported from the position of a non-assuming senior student in textile engineering at Tech to a Cinderella's paradise.

Chosen As Cotton Girl

She was named Cotton Girl of the nation by Cotton Bowl jubilee officials of Dallas, and will preside at the Cotton bowl game and industrial exhibits of the jubilee.

Idea of honoring a National Cotton Girl was original with Tom Price, crack staff member of the Dallas Morning News, as soon as he heard of Miss Hill's remarkable record as a textile engineering student. Mr. Price was sent to Lubbock by the News ten days ago to handle the Lubbock end of the Cotton Bowl football game and the attendant Cotton Jubilee. He will remain here until shortly before the event begins in Dallas.

Just as effectively as a fairy godmother waved a wand to bedeck Cinderella with finery, jubilee officials will provide Miss Hill with finery—all in cotton—from head to toe. She will be presented with a wardrobe and luggage.

She is a Cinderella with a direct manner, a ready smile. She's likely to have a smudge on her cheek and stains on her coveralls, not from sitting in the chimney corner, but from working with textile machinery.

She's Excited About It

The spotlight glare may be a little blinding to this modest co-ed—but no one doubts that she will take the honors that will be heaped upon her in her stride.

"I'm excited about it," she said simply, and explained she had lost two pounds in the 24 hours since she had been notified she had been chosen Cotton Girl of the Nation. She just couldn't eat.

Opal Hill is "one of the fellows" in the textile engineering building, said M. E. Heard, head of the textile engineering department.

What does she do with her spare

Son Operates When Father Is Stricken

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 10. (AP)—Only seconds before he was to begin an appendicitis operation at a hospital here today, Dr. William T. Black, sr., suffered a heart attack and collapsed, dying moments later while his son went ahead with the operation.

Hospital attaches said the patient was under an anesthetic and knew nothing of the change in surgeons. They pronounced the operation "very successful." The father was in his operating gown when stricken.

The son, Dr. William T. Black, jr., was told of his father's death upon leaving the operating room.

Man Dressed As A Woman Is Hanged

GALESBURG, Ill., Dec. 10 (AP) — Rouged, wigged and attired in the garments of his mother, the body of Gale Davison was found hanged to a tree today in a suburban pasture.

The death of the former railroad brakeman on his 28th birthday anniversary presented authorities with a mystery.

Policemen summoned by two frightened hunters found the body suspended from a tree. Davison's hands were manacled behind him with a pair of toy handcuffs.

Neither his mother, Mrs. Maude Davison, nor a girl with whom he kept company could offer an explanation.

It was not until the body was removed to a funeral parlor that it was discovered the women's clothing, complete to a corset, was a masquerade.

Coin Drops In Lubbock Favor

The Lubbock Westerners and the Masonic Home Masons of Fort Worth are to meet at Texas Tech field here next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in one of the semi-final round games of the Texas Interscholastic league football race.

To Play In Finals

Winner of the game will play in the state schoolboy championship contest a week later, meeting the winner of the Temple-Corpus Christi game. Officials of Temple and Corpus Christi are to meet today in Austin to determine place of the other semi-final game.

E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, business manager of athletics of Lubbock High school, telephoned the Avalanche-Journal last night at 11:30 o'clock from Fort Worth and told results of the coin-flipping ceremony.

Big Majority For Control Plan Is Seen In County

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 10.—Texas cotton farmers t day apparently had favored marketing quotas by a proximately a 76 per cent majority, with returns from 21 of 236 cotton counties showing 134,472 ballots for and 41 717 against the AAA program for 1939.

In a similar referendum on rice, results from 11 Texas' 12 producing counties showed quotas for that grai lacking the necessary two-thirds majority, with 459 f to 401 against.

E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator, said o position votes were running about like they did last yea when Texas gave quotas an 88 per cent majority, b that a comparatively light turn-out apparently accoun for "a difference on paper."

Of 13 counties not reporting a favorable majorit seven did likewise last year. All but nine of 40 counties far lacking the necessary two-thirds majority for unive sal application of the quotas minor cotton counties, Holmgr said.

Earlier unofficial returns to had indicated a heavy vote, there had been considerable p referendum interest in the issue cause of a sharp campaign cond ted against the AAA plan for c control by adherents of dome allotment plan, led by state A ricultural Commissioner J. E. Donald.

Little Hope Of Defeat

Domestic allotment adherents before the referendum they little hope this year of defeat the AAA proposal, but said had widely advertised the dome allotment plan on an "educatio basis. The domestic allotment was not a direct issue in tod balloting, which was simply on question, "do you favor cotton m keting quotas for 1939?" A t thirds majority in favor wo make participation apply to all it did in 1938.

At Dallas, Ralph W. Moore, m ter of the State Grange, said ponents of the AAA plan were surprised at apparent approval the plan.

Relatively Easy Field

"The payrollers had a relati easy field in which to work," M said. "We need more income fewer inspectors on our farms."

The official votes in some of large cotton producing cou were: Harrison, 3,893 for, against; Smith, 2,459 for, against; Navarro, 2,324 for, against; Hunt, 2,549 for, against; Williamson, 2,718 for, against; Houston, 2,278 for, against; Ellis, 2,543 for, 251 aga Bell, 2,252 for, 420 against.

Inexperience Is To Be Handicap For O'Daniel

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. — The final month before inauguration of W. Lee O'Daniel finds capitol observers generally agreed that political inexperience, which helped make him governor-elect, could prove one of his biggest handicaps after he takes office.

A governor can't enact new laws by himself. The legislature, without whose co-operation a successful O'Daniel administration is impossible, is composed largely of men who know most or all of the answers in politics. Some of them have held party or public office virtually all their adult life.

Deal With Veterans

In order to effectuate his program, the Fort Worth flour seller must deal with such men as Clint C. Small of Amarillo, who has been in the senate ten years and before that was district judge, Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson, the only man in recent history to serve two terms as speaker of the house, Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, who first came to the house before America entered the World war and many others.

Many believe one reason former Governor R. S. Sterling was a single-termer was that he entered the office with little knowledge of politics. The Houston capitalist had been chairman of the highway commission, however, and that gave him some idea of how government officials get things done. The governorship will be O'Daniel's first public office.

Success In Business

Friends of the next governor insist he won't be hampered a great deal by his lack of political training. He has made a success in business, they say, and can make a success in this new field where good business practices are sorely needed.

O'Daniel supporters feel that their "ace in the hole" is the governor-elect's popularity with the rank and file of Texans.

If the legislature shows a tendency to buck him on important

Second Federal Grand Jury Ever To Be Called In Lubbock To Meet Monday

Jayton Warehouse Case Likely Will Get Attention Of Group

Second federal grand jury ever to be impaneled in Lubbock is to report Monday morning at 10 o'clock to Judge T. Whitfield Davidson in the district court room. Chief matter of investigation, as far as could be learned, Saturday, was that of alleged irregularities in connection with the making of federal loans on cotton stored in a warehouse at Jayton.

Fifteen men have been charged in connection with the case. Two have not been apprehended, at least as far as officials of this division know, two men are dead and one man has entered a plea of guilty. Those apprehended have posted bonds of $1,000.

To Arrive Today

Judge Davidson is expected to arrive this morning, with George W. Parker, court clerk. Clyde O. Eastus, U. S. district attorney and Joe Jones, his assistant, were expected last night. W. P. Walker, Crosbyton, also an assistant, was in Lubbock Saturday.

Grover C. Leigh, chief deputy U. S. marshal, was to arrive last night. Several deputies, including William Lampe from Amarillo, will be here Monday. C. E. Luce, Lubbock deputy is here also.

A heavy civil docket is to be handled, said Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy court clerk. On the docket are 22 law cases from the old docket and five equity cases. Seventeen of the law docket cases involve mostly crop loans from the government, secured by farmers who have not paid them out.

Change In Effect

Since the last term of court here, a change in the styling of cases went into effect. Hereafter, all will be civil cases. There are 12 of these cases filed, making 39 civil cases in all.

Sixteen defendants are in criminal cases, docketed for trial. There are four new cases, the remainder being held over from previous terms of court.

Cases scheduled to be heard are: Dr. C. T. Bradford, violation of the narcotics act; Arno Struve and Rudolph R. Struve, operating as Struve Cheese factory, charged with violation of the food and drug act; Gordon B. Temple, charged with theft from a postoffice lock box, at Lorenzo; Ivy E. Atwood, alias Mr. Grant; Walter S. Appleby, alias Dr. Cotter; William B. Rutledge, alias P. L. Farris; Norman A. Rasbury, alias Dr. M. A. Miles and Norman A. Rasbury, jr., alias W. C. Harris, charged with fradulent use of the mails in connection with fake eye specialists.

It is expected Judge Davidson will call the criminal docket first and then set civil cases.

Petit jury reports at the same time as the grand jury. District Attorney Eastus is to work with the investigating body, it was indicated.

Business Prospects In Levelland And Area Are Vastly Improved

Business prospects in Levelland and Hockley county are looking up and 1939 should see vastly improved conditions, especially in the oil industry, Dr. W. A. Bullock, physician and drug store owner, said while here yesterday. He formerly resided in Lubbock and moved to the Hockley county seat several months ago.

A good sized oil refinery is to be started in Levelland as soon as title papers are cleared and recorded, he said. In addition, reports are that more than a dozen tests will be drilled in the Sundown oil field during the year.

Al Capone To Be Released From Alcatraz On Jan. 19; Has Year In Cook County Jail

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Al Capone is coming back next month but not to the Chicago he left in 1932 to serve a 10-year federal prison term for income tax evasion.

The scarfaced Capone, onetime undisputed fuehrer of Chicago's gangland empire, is scheduled to leave Alcatraz in San Francisco bay on Jan. 19, 1939.

There is, however, a year's sentence in Cook county jail before he will actually be a free man. Then?

"He'll come out a law abiding citizen," avers his attorneys. "He's taken his punishment like a man, hasn't he?"

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney's staff decline comment on its intentions but Courtney's men have been very busy the past several months axing up the bookie gambling houses controlled by "the syndicate" and reputedly directed by some of Al's surviving associates on the "public enemy" lists of the city.

Gin Purchase Is Planned

POST, Dec. 10—Farmers of the Close City and Graham communities have completed negotiations with J. E. Winder, owner of the Winder gin at Close City, to purchase the gin at a reported price of $20,000.

H. N. Crisp was named chairman of a committee of 12 men to raise funds for the Close City gin purchase. The two groups, the Farmers Cooperative society of Graham and the one at Close City, united.

Both gins are to be operated by one board of directors, with earnings prorated separately and dividends to be paid individual farmers out of earnings of the gin he patronized.

Assets In Thousands

Assets are estimated at $60,000. In the five years since the Graham cooperative was organized, more than $50,000 has been earned by the plant.

Last season, 1937, the Graham gin turned $25,351 in dividends, or an average of $3.80 per bale. Dividends for the 1938 season will be awarded soon. The sale has no bearing on this.

During the 1937 season the two gins turned out 13,511 bales. So far they report over 3,700 bales.

J. E. Robinson is chairman of the Graham society, with John L. Wallace, secretary. A. C. Howell, L. G. Thuett, C. D. Morrel, Lee Dodson and S. C. Storie are also members of the board.

Dramatic Rescue In Heavy Sea Reported

BOSTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—In a dramatic Cape Cod rescue in a pelting rainstorm two hours before dawn, seven men were taken off the grounded Boston trawler Andover by breeches buoy today, while a pounding surf threatened to break up the leaking, heavily-loaded vessel.

Two others of the crew had taken to a dory earlier, as coast guards shot a line from shore to the vessel across 150 feet of rough water.

The Andover, a 93-foot single screw vessel built in 1930, is owned by General Seafoods corporation. She piled up on the beach shortly before 2 a. m., in a dense fog.

Coast guardsmen at Chatham, Mass., station said the Andover, a week out, had 50,000 pounds of mixed fish aboard.

The rescued seamen were taken to Orleans coast guard station. Men on duty there said they were little affected by their experience and ran no danger of exposure because the weather was warm.

Political Writers Re-Examine Roosevelt Utterances For Indication Of Plans

Role Of Press Columnist Seen To Keep Him In Public's Eye

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A new sound of Democratic sparring for and against a third term for President Roosevelt has led political writers to re-examine the president's recent public utterances for indications of his attitude.

They found one possible clue that Mr. Roosevelt might be thinking of his own future course, even of another candidacy, in terms of 1944 rather than 1940. They found also, in his frequent jocular hints, that the role of political commentator, perhaps of press columnist, might interest him when he does leave the White House—and afford him an opportunity to keep his philosophy in the public eye.

Idea Has Increasing Appeal

The idea that a 1944 campaign for a non-consecutive third term might figure in Mr. Roosevelt's looking ahead, more than does the 1940 aspect of the present party controversy, has had an increasing appeal to this writer for some time. For one thing, it would not be a break with precedent. There are at least two Republican cases somewhat parallel—those of Grant and Theodore Roosevelt.

The president has made no secret of the fact he is thinking of the Theodore Roosevelt parallel to the situation in which he finds himself due to clashes within his own party over liberal versus conservative trends. He cited recently a Theodore Roosevelt letter of 1908 to a west coast liberal, presumably Republican, urging him to carry on in the face of every discouragement.

Might Run Again

Whether that letter was written before or after Theodore Roosevelt had succeeded in naming William Howard Taft as his successor does not appear. It does, however, very clearly forecast the probability that Mr. Roosevelt might run again himself four years later, as "Teddy" did, to personify his political ideals even at the cost of wrecking the Republican party temporarily.

Nor need he go elsewhere than to "TR" precedent for guidance should it be in his mind to step out in 1940, in the event of possible developments, and await 1944 in an active side-line role as a public commentator. That is what Theodore Roosevelt did after his return from his African hunting adventures. He became editor of a magazine and fired editorial volleys at the Taft administration as his break with conservative Republican leadership and with the man he made president developed.

That raises a question nobody could answer today, whether a situation might develop by 1940 to put a conservative-liberal compromise administration, be it Republican or Democratic, in power in Washington. If so, Franklin Roosevelt might consider that, as a former president, expounding his views day by day, would have better leverage to force ultimate liberal and conservative realignment on the two major parties than a 1940 third term candidacy would offer. Roosevelt defeat in 1940, either for renomination or re-election, would be a major setback for that realignment cause. Waiting until 1944 could avert that and postpone a showdown pending further developments.

Quail By Hundreds Reported In Counties To East Of Lubbock

Quail by the hundreds are to be found in Dickens, Kent and other counties east of Lubbock, but it is almost as difficult to get permission to hunt on ranches as it used to be to find the quail, W. P. Walker of Crosbyton, assistant U. S. district attorney, said yesterday.

"I guess I saw a thousand quail in Kent county," he added. "Ranchers don't want to permit much hunting. It is difficult to get written permission."

Walker is here for the U. S. district court for the Northern District of Texas. He came over Saturday from his home to get started on this week's session.

Married In Springtime And Is Separated In Swingtime

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Married in springtime; separated in swingtime.

That, in bare substance, was the story Mrs. Frieda Gerlach told Circuit Judge Philip Finnegan today.

She said she and her husband, Philip, took their wedding vows in the vernal season of 1920 and that last year he heard "Martha" swung in swingtime and "insisted that I play it on the piano in that fashion."

"I told him it would be a sacrilege to desecrate such a beautiful operatic number and he became angry and left me," she testified.

The jurist awarded her a divorce.

PARSONAGE COMPLETED

SLATON—New parsonage of the First Methodist church here has been completed and the pastor, Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, jr., and family, are occupying it. An open house was held, well attended by Slaton residents as well as members of the church.

Political Unrest Stretches Through Europe And Down Into African Areas

Tense Feelings Are Apparent

By J. C. STARK
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 10 — Political unrest stretched today from the Baltic to the Black sea in eastern Europe and, in the west, on down into Africa under nazi or fascist inspiration in some form or other.

Ominous rumblings in the east extended along Germany's entire border from little Memel, once part of the Hohenzollern empire, to Rumania.

Discussion Occasioned

They led to discussion in London and elsewhere of whether—and, if so, where—Germany would move again in her "drang nach osten"—drive to the east — while Italy, her axis partner, kept Great Britain and France worried in the Mediterranean area.

Germany already is well launched on a vast economic scheme in eastern Europe, gaining the raw materials she needs, paying for them with German goods, and consolidating nazi influence.

(Tunisia, French North African protectorate, has been the focus of unofficial fascist agitation since Nov. 30. France for half a century has recognized special Italian rights in the 48,300-square-mile area.

Receptive To Negotiations

(Specific objectives of the fascist clamor have not been outlined but the authoritative editor of Il Giornale D'Italia, Virginio Gayda, has stated Italy would be receptive to new negotiations over Italian rights.)

Where the Germans would act first remained uncertain but three trouble spots offered possible clues.

1. In Memel, long the center of a dispute between Germany and Lithuania, extreme nazis closed a bold campaign for diet elections to be held tomorrow with statements they considered the voting a plebiscite for return to Germany.

(The Memel territory of 1,099 square miles, was detached from Germany by the treaty of Versailles and subsequently handed over to Lithuania.)

Autonomy Demanded

2. Poland is confronted with the demand of 15 Ukrainian deputies for autonomy within the framework of the Polish government for the Polish Ukraine, an area of 50,000 square miles.

Many believe Adolf Hitler wants to throw the Polish Ukraine into a huge Ukrainian state carved from Poland, Soviet Russia and dismembered Czechoslovakia.

3. Rumania continued her efforts to crush the nazi-like iron guard while some nazis in Berlin hinted King Carol, in their opinion, might not be able to hold his throne much longer.

In the political unrest in eastern Europe and the still unofficial Italian campaign against France, some observers saw indications of a studied Rome-Berlin axis policy to press the advantage gained from the Munich settlement of the Czecho-Slovak crisis.

The German-Franch "no war" declaration signed this week during the visit to Paris of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop was believed by some to fit into the axis expansion pattern.

These observers saw this as a move by Germany to safeguard her western frontier and disinterest France from any nazi advances in eastern Europe.

Emphasis On Secondary Factors In Farm Problems Claimed By College Professor

CORSICANA, Dec. 10. (AP)—Social welfare workers of East Texas studied a college professor's assertion today that emphasis has been placed on secondary factors in farm problems rather than on fundamental issues.

Dr. Daniel Russell, head of the department of rural sociology of Texas A. and M. college told 160 delegates and visitors at the region three conference that far more attention has been given to better farming methods, livestock raising and conservation than to the problems facing rural citizens.

Problems Are Related

C. M. Evans of Dallas, regional director of the Farm Security administration, related some of the problems his organization encounters in farm sections. These problems, he said, included malnutrition, lack of sufficient information and training, and lowered morale.

Evans estimated some 25,000 Texas farm tenant families would move within the next month, adding that a look at some of the tenant quarters disclosed few incentives for remaining on the land he worked last year.

The conference adjourned after a two-day meeting.

Plea Made To Preserve State's Evergreens Along Highways

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Artificial decorations—"fascinating little holiday conceits that give the desired atmosphere"—are recommended for Christmas purposes by Jac L. Gubbels, state highway landscape architect, and Mrs. I. B. McFarland, chairman of a statewide highway beautification committee.

The officials plead against removing evergreens from highway rights-of-way and in areas adjacent to roads.

If you must have natural decorations, they say, purchase them from persons who have grown them for saleable purposes and help conserve the natural beauty of Texas highways.

Port Arthur Business Men File Protest On Parking Meters

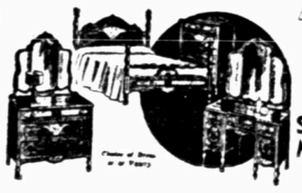

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 10. (AP)—Businessmen here today protested installation of 600 parking meters, scheduled for a 90-day trial, and obtained an order temporarily restraining the city from placing the meters in front of one establishment.

Ed Lohmann obtained the order to prevent placing of meters in front of his laundry. Hearing was set for Dec. 20.

A column of air one mile square extending from 50 feet to 14,000 feet above the earth contains, on an average for all seasons, about 25,000,000 insects, according to tests conducted in Louisiana.

Problems Face Oil Industry

ABILENE, Dec. 10. (AP)—Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, outlined before the West Texas Oil and Gas association today two "paramount problems" facing the oil industry.

Thompson, urging upon oil men renewed interest in oil conservation, listed the problems as:

1. "Selective" buying by some major oil purchasers; and

2. The "threat" against the East Texas proration order in a suit pending in federal district court.

The first point will be subject for the coming state-wide proration hearing Dec. 12, when Humble Oil company officials are to show why they should not buy ratably from all producers in fields where the company buys oil, Thompson said.

Thompson said, in speaking of point No. 2, that if the state lost the suit it would have the effect of dissipating all producing energy in East Texas within a month.

Conditions Changing

"Conditions are changing," he said. "X X X There can be no fixed groove in which to place oil regulation where it will slide along unattended."

He said that successful proration demands that such a system as selective buying must be eliminated. Such buying is that in which a common purchaser, as defined by law, takes oil from one group of operators within a field and refuses to buy from other operators.

Ratable production is the keystone of conservation, he said, because it means uniform use of reservoir energy.

Cooperation Is Urged

Oil men arrived from all parts of the nation to attend the association's meeting. At a mid-morning session Lon A. Smith, another railroad commissioner, pleaded for cooperation between all branches of the industry.

William R. Boyd, jr., executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute, was another speaker. Legislators, state officials and oil men, informally discussing their problems, reflected optimism toward prospects of stabilizing the industry better.

Reservations for the annual banquet tonight indicated 1,500 would be on hand.

With Thompson as speaker at the luncheon was Attorney-General Elect Gerald Mann of Dallas. Railroad Commissioner-Elect Jerry Sadler was to speak this afternoon, as well as Russell B. Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum association.

Animals, as well as human beings, are subject to snow-blindness.

Littlefield Farm Woman Writes Her Way To High Place; She Is On Governor's Council

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 10. — Mrs. Ethel Fleming stands out as the No. 1 wife of a tennant farmer.

The willowy brunette is a member of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's "citizens' advisory board."

She works with a pencil in one hand, a dust cloth in the other.

Between duties associated with discharge of her appointive duty and the hundrum necessities of an occasional milking, a more than occasional washing of dishes and cooking and sewing and housecleaning and caring for her 14-year-old son, Mrs. Fleming writes poetry.

It was the poetry that possibly paved a short cut to her appointment by the governor.

She Liked His Poetry

Three years ago, she smilingly told reporters and photographers at her modest farm home near Littlefield, she began listening to the weekly radio program of the flour broker destined to become Texas' governor in the most remarkable mass awakening in state political history.

"I heard his poetry and decided to write some myself," she said.

Two of her lyrics earned prizes conducted by a Providence, R. I., music publishing concern.

She wrote more, some of her lyrics being submitted to O'Daniel.

"I visited him several months ago, before he entered the gubernatorial handicap," said Mrs. Fleming, who described the "gracious reception of Mrs. O'Daniel and the children."

So She Wrote Some, Too

At her battered typewriter, an Oliver of a vintage as ancient as some of the best champagne, Mrs. Fleming shaded her dark eyes from the yellow glow of a kerosene lamp and typed:

"There is a grand old saying
Most our people know
Big sturdy oak trees from little acorns grow.
That's the way of the Irishman,
Our Texas Romeo.

"He started out to make some friends
So he got on the radio;
He was just a boy like you and I,
Our Texas Romeo.

"Our Texas Romeo, who hailed from Ohio,
Today is governor of our state,
Our Texas Romeo.

"He melted the hearts of the people
With his voice so sweet and low;
He has a certain something,
Our Texas Romeo."

L. E. Fleming, husband of the writing housewife, said with evident pride:

And She Carries Pencil

"I write them just as fast as I would a letter," said Mrs. Fleming.

"Sometimes I dream of the theme, sometimes the words—sometimes I feel the urge to write when I'm hoeing or washing dishes or boiling clothes.

"I always work with a pencil in by pocket, so I can capture my mood immediately — even in the fields."

The husband, whose 66 acres on the Vic Matthews place two miles east of Littlefield, said, "She doesn't have to do much of that business (work) though."

He has been farming in the Littlefield section 13 years, on the Otto Zuber, the L. C. Gresham and the Will Allen places.

Here is another example of Mrs. Fleming's work:

"I dreamed the other night you held me tight,
Whispering that you loved me true;
I said 'For goodness sake, don't let me wake'
In the middle of a dream with you.

"In the middle of a dream with you,
Hovered by skies of blue,
Life to me seemed oh, so heavenly,
In the middle of a dream with you.

"When I close my eyes to the stars in the skies
After a long and weary day is through,
If my life were at stake I would pray not to wake,
In the middle of a dream with you!"

All lyrics have been set to music on regularly printed score books, the music publishing company arranging the tunes. Mrs. Fleming does not play any instrument, "but I have heard the arrangements and they are pretty."

She's O'Daniel Fan

What about Governor O'Daniel and his handling of "our affairs?"

"I'm decidedly in favor of his methods for the common folk of Texas. He is a good man with a human appeal. He will make a governor that will make us proud.

"It was because of his far-sightedness that we, all of us from various occupations among the citizenry, were named to his council. Our suggestions will be listened to."

Mrs. Fleming was pictured in a large Texas daily last week when she was in Fort Worth to attend a council meeting, along with Mrs. J. W. Hoppe of Galveston and Oran Cole, blind resident of Galveston, who is interested in cause of the blind, and H. Overstreet of Bowie, whose interest is in the problem of farmers and ranchers who haul products by truck—and numerous others.

"I went just like I was; you don't have to buy a lot of expensive clothing to do the duties Mr. O'Daniel is asking.

Unassuming, That's Mrs. Fleming

"When I got home, though, found my husband, the boy and 'Cookie,' the dog, almost starved. They can't batch very well."

The husband sat behind the potbellied stove and teased Cookie into barking a hello to press visitors, one from a press service, another from a North Texas daily and one from the Avalanche-Journal.

"She sure is right," he said. "And I tossed at night, dreaming of a cottage for two."

Mrs. Fleming has other poems, all set to music:

"You can turn me down and roam around
With girls of every kind;
But I'll see you in my dreams tonight.
Sweet mamma doesn't mind.

"Anything you do won't make me blue;
It makes no difference now.
You can stay away from day to day;
I'll see you in my dreams anyhow.

"I'll hold you close to my heart each night,
Just like I used to do;
I'll see you in my dreams anyhow,
No matter who's playing with you."

Or:

"Listen while I tell you a story,
One I always believed true,
Of falling in love with radio stars,
But I've fallen in love with you.

"I fell in love with your voice
As it seemed to me over the air;
It's the sweetest in a million;
I would know it anywhere.

"You sing just like a nightingale,
And you thrill me through and through;
Dear, I am so happy with life
Since I've fallen in love with you.

"It is just like living in heaven,
And I never feel sad or blue;
And so please don't wake me, just let me dream,
Since I've fallen in love with you."

And more:

"With both arms bare—no one there,
Nothing real as it seemed,
Do you feel like crying or feel like dying,
When you come to the end of a dream?

"When you come to the end of a dream,
Dreaming of your sweetheart true,
Then you awake and find it a fake,
Does it make you sad and blue?

"I was hugging my pillow so tight
I even thought I heard it scream,
But when I awoke it was just a joke,
When I came to the end of my dream."

There, ladies and gentlemen, you have Mrs. Ethel Fleming, housewife, counsellor to the governor, lyricist — a woman who puts her trust in Mr. O'Daniel to level the barriers of government and set up a more perfect social state and more community of thought directed toward a more perfected economy.

Eyes Of Oil Industry Will Be Watching Two Meetings In Texas This Week

Interstate Oil Session Slated

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Two important meetings make Texas next week the center of all eyes in the oil industry.

The first is the statewide hearing here Monday, more significant than usual because the Texas railroad commission intends to search exhaustively for information to guide its policy through the first several months of 1939.

Hope To Lift Shutdowns

Executives of major companies have been asked to tell the commission how much lower they think stocks of oil and oil products should go. The state agency is hopeful it will be able sometime to lift either Saturday or Sunday statewide oil field shutdowns.

The second is the quarterly meeting of the interstate oil compact commission at Fort Worth Wednesday and Thursday. The commission will outline the activities it hopes to carry on during the ensuing biennium if its life is extended.

Ernest O. Thompson will preside over both sessions because he is chairman of both organizations.

Would Limit Powers

Thompson believes the compact agency should continue functioning with its powers limited as at present and is confident congress will permit such continuation.

"The commission already has all the power it needs to have," he said. "A member state wouldn't stand for the agency telling it exactly how much oil or gasoline it could produce. The commission's authority should remain persuasive only."

The general opinion here was that the commission would declare against any broadening of its powers. Some persons voiced the belief it already had the power to recommend legislation in the member states controlling refining just as production now is controlled.

Sale Of Indio Ranch To West And Cage Announced Saturday

EAGLE PASS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Milton L. Frank, president of the Indio Cattle company, today confirmed the sale of 131,000 acres of Indio ranch in southern Maverick and northerwestern Webb counties to James West, Houston oil man, and J. D. Cage, San Antonio cattleman. The price was stated to be more than $1,000,000.

The sale included only the grazing land on the immense ranch and did not take in 23,000 acres of farm land which is served by the Maverick county irrigation canal. It did not include the town of El Indio, population 100, in the center of the ranch.

West is a member of the board of directors of Texas Technological college.

Dinner On The Grounds Will Be Staged In Floyd County

An all-day meeting "with dinner on the ground" will be featured at the Floyd county singing convention which will meet Sunday at Sand Hill, 8 miles west of Floydada, according to an announcement of convention officials.

Officers of the convention are C. M. Lyles, Floydada, president; Mr. Knox, Lockney, vice-president; and Edd Holmes, Floydada, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Mamie Hines Arrives To Make Inspection In Area

Miss Mamie Hines, field supervisor from the Austin offices of the National Youth administration, arrived here Saturday to inspect NYA projects of this area.

A. V. Bullock, district 17 supervisor, said she would remain here until the middle of the week before going to Vernon and from there to Dallas.

Miss Hines came here after visiting in the Amarillo district.

Her interest is chiefly in resident projects. She will inspect the one for boys on the Texas Technological college campus and the one for girls at 1509 Seventh street.

Revise Plans On Mobilization

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP) — The army and navy are revising their scheme to mobilize the entire nation in the "next war."

Disclosing this today, informed officials said the new blue-prints would be simpler than the existing detailed proposal for highly centralized control of the national economy in war time. The simplification, it was indicated will be aimed partly at shortening the time it would require to put this plan in operation.

Control To Be Tighter

The present plan calls for governmental control of factories, prices, food, fuel, power, transportation and labor, tighter even than in the World war.

The revision, details of which have not been disclosed, will bring up to date a plan gradually developed since 1920 and approved three years ago by Secretaries Woodring and Swanson.

Program Is Favored

Some members of congress have expressed the opinion that the new congress should give special attention to assuring readiness for war.

In army and navy circles, it was said the justice department probably would direct the intensified war on spies which is to be carried on as part of the defense program. President Roosevelt indicated yesterday that this war has been started already by coordination of federal enforcement agencies.

Elmer Andrews, Wage-Hour Administrator, Calls Himself A Failure In An Unusual Venture---Hunt For Court Test On Law

By JOHN LEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 — Elmer Andrews, administrator of the new federal wage-hour law, called himself a failure today in an unusual venture—

A hunt for someone to challenge the constitutionality of the law.

Only Sympathy Found

For two weeks he had been traveling up and down the country in the search, he said, but all he could find was "sympathy and enthusiasm."

"I could find no one who believed the law was not constitutional," he asserted in an interview after winding up a nation-wide series of conferences with business and labor leaders.

"I never saw a law which met with such widespread compliance at the beginning."

The administrator said he would welcome a court test of the law which sets a minimum wage of at least 25 cents an hour and a maximum work week of 44 hours in industry generally.

Since he had been unable to rouse the promise of a test on his tour, he said he would take the initiative himself by "cracking down" on wage-hour violators.

His "home town of New York" probably would be the scene for the first prosecution, he added, and he hoped it would be "a clear cut case" in which the employer "says to hell with the law."

This would permit a direct appeal to the supreme court on the constitutional issue.

Working Smoothly

The administrator said the wage-hour law was working out much more smoothly than had been anticipated.

Asked about the possibility of amendment of the law by the next congress, Andrews said he had heard but one proposal. That would call for exemption, from the hour limitations, of employes paid over a certain salary, say $3,000 a year. He was inclined to approve it in principle.

But first he wants to make a date with the supreme court.

A golfer playing for only 10 cents on the first hole, and losing, then doubling the bet on each succeeding hole, and losing, would be out $26,214.30 in an 18-hole match.

Huge Narcotic Raid Is Held In Dallas

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP) — Thirty three federal and state agents scattered throughout the city today and arrested 25 men and women in one of the most aggressive drives against narcotic addicts and sellers on record in Dallas.

They confiscated "large quantities" of various narcotics and half a dozen automobiles allegedly used in the dope peddling activities. The agents, who came here from all sections of the state were aided by Sheriff Smoot Schmid and deputies, Texas rangers and highway patrolmen.

Plans for the raid were completed last night in an outlaying hotel, officers said. The raiders traveled in pairs and in threes early this morning. Joseph Bell of Houston, district supervisor for the federal bureau of narcotics, was in charge. H. T. Nugent, field supervisor, directed the offensive.

Eleven of the suspects were women.

Bell said that recently North Texas had been flooded with narcotics.

More than 1,900,000 patents have been issued in the United States.

Annual Concert Set Thursday

Annual Christmas concert of Texas Technological college band will be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday night in Senior High school auditorium, said D. O. Wiley, director, and will be dedicated to P. W. Cawthon, head mentor of the Cotton Bowl-bound Red Raiders, Coaches Dutchy Smith and Berl Huffman and the Raiders themselves.

One hundred and seventy-three bandsmen from 73 towns in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma will be in the ensemble.

Featured will be baritone soloist R. L. Floyd, a freshman band major from McLean; a cornet trio of Wilson Godfrey of Gladewater, Irvin McElrcy of Borger and Jack Turner of Lubbock, and the senior band major, Carl Hyde of Albany.

Floyd has won solo contests in the Tri-State festivals at Enid, Okla., first place on the trombone and baritone in the national contests of last spring and, in general, is described as an artist.

The cornetists are excellent players, said Wiley.

Hyde is completing his fourth year in Tech. He is president of the band organization, playing cornet.

The program: March of the Pioneers—Colby; Overture, Barber of Seville—Rossini; Voices of Spring waltzes—Strauss; Triplets of the Finest, cornet trio — Henneberg; Symphony in B-flat — Fauchet; Sleepers Wake—Bach; Fantasie di Concert—Boccalari; Sursum Corda (Lift Up Your Hearts)—Elgar; Polonaise from Christmas Night—Rimsky-Korsakoff; Hark, the Herald Angels Sing—Mendelssohn; It Came Upon a Midnight Clear—Willis; Joy to the World—Handel.

Income Tax Claim For $200,371 Made Against Philadelphia Man

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The internal revenue bureau has brought a $200,371 income tax claim against William H. Donner, of Philadelphia, former father-in-law of Elliott Roosevelt.

This was disclosed when Donner asked the board of tax appeals to review the bureau's contention that he owed the money for 1935 and 1936.

End To "Nine Years Of Fiscal Insanity" Being Demanded By Senator Byrd

FDR Policies Are Attacked

BOSTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — Senator Byrd, Virginia Democrat, today demanded an end to "nine years of fiscal insanity" and declared he was convinced the Roosevelt administration could not be looked to for leadership toward economy despite the "tragic failure" of its spending program.

He outlined his own retrenchment program, which would include a thorough-going government reorganization and a "purge" of the relief rolls, in a nation-wide radio address delivered before the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers associations.

Reorganization Urged

The Virginia senator urged:

1. Reorganization of the federal government "for simplification, retrenchment and economy." (He attacked the president's reorganization bill as tending toward government "by executive decrees," and said he would introduce his own bill).

2. Cancellation of the "existing authority of 30 federal borrowing corporations which now have power to add $8,000,000,000 to the public debt."

3. Reduction to a minimum of activities new to the government, including "the greenbelts, the tree belts and other such dispensable activities."

Transfer Relief Burden

4. Transfer of part of the relief burden to the local communities as a means of reform, coupled with "a thorough, honest, purge of relief rolls, eliminating all undeserving and reducing relief costs by stopping all expenditures in excess of providing for those in need."

5. Conduct of the government "within the ability of our people to pay," with "reasonable taxation" as "one of the best assurances of business prosperity."

Intensive War To Be Waged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—President Roosevelt indicated today that a war on foreign spies, to be waged without setting an army of secret police upon the American people, was included among his proposals to bulwark the national defense.

The chief executive said he would ask congress for funds to enable existing agencies to meet a situation which he declared was by no means ended by the sentencing of four persons in New York on espionage charges.

More Funds Needed

Secret police are not needed to watch the American people, Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference, but more funds should be available for closer watch of the secret police of other nations operating in this country.

The army and navy advise against creation of a new agency to combat spies, said informed persons, who cited the odium attached in this country to activities of Soviet Russia's Ogpu and nazi Germany's Gestapo.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he had turned thumbs down on the idea of creating an American central counter-espionage group.

Proposals Complete

Other national defense developments included:

1. A special official board, headed by Rear Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, completed recommendations to congress for additional aerial, destroyer, submarine and mine bases for the navy.

2. Admiral William D. Leahy, naval operations chief, predicted after a talk with the president that congress would approve "adequate" defenses. Revising a previous forecast, he said the navy had asked budget approval of funds to start work on two more battleships, eight destroyers, two cruisers and eight submarines, and to modernize the giant aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga.

3. Further indications that new army air bases as well as bases for the navy would be proposed in congress came from Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military affairs committee.

Dockets For Week Are To Be Called In Courts Monday

To avoid conflict with activities of federal court here, both the 99th district court of Judge E. L. Pitts and 72nd district court of Daniel A. Blair will have dockets for the week called at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The federal court docket will be called at 10 o'clock that morning.

Both Judge Blair and Judge Pitts will devote the week to hearing of civil jury cases. Juries will report to both judges at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The second consecutive criminal week is scheduled for the county court of Judge J. J. Dillard. A jury will not report until Tuesday. Judge Dillard will preside at a regular semi-monthly meeting of the commissioners court Monday, it was reported.

S. W. McCrary And Miss Frances Faye Bailey Married In City

S. W. McCrary, jr., and Miss Frances Faye Bailey, both of Post were married at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night at the First Methodist church parsonage with rites read by Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor.

It was a ring ceremony. The couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Caffey of Ralls, former residents of Post.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarty will live at Post.

Married To A 'Suicide'

When Los Angeles police arrested the husband of Mrs. Esther Davis, above, with children, she learned that she is married to a man officially declared dead 14 years ago after a supposed suicide. The "dead" man is Davis R. MacDonald, left, former Pittsburgh broker who had been living as John Edgar Davis in Palmdale, Calif. Fingerprints taken when he was an army air pilot established MacDonald's true identity.

O'Daniel Fails To Pay His Tax

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10. (AP) — The state charter of the W. Lee O'Daniel Flour company was forfeited on July 2 for non-compliance with the franchise tax law, it was disclosed today when records of the secretary of state's office were checked in Austin.

It means, from a technical viewpoint at least, that the corporation used by Governor-Elect O'Daniel to sell his flour has not had the authority to function since the date of the forfeiture, occurring before the first primary. The action, apparently a routine matter, had gone unnoticed until now.

Informed of the disclosure, O'Daniel received the news calmly and said:

"That's the first I've heard of any such action being taken. It must have been an oversight of the bookkeeper. I'll have the matter checked up at once."

O'Daniel has until Jan. 2 to renew the charter by payment of a five per cent penalty. If that is not done, then he would be forced to reincorporate, attaches of the secretary of state's office pointed out.

"If it is shown by a check of our records that the company is at fault, I suppose the thing to do is to pay the penalty and tax at once and get the charter renewed," O'Daniel said. "The company plans to continue to operate under a new management setup."

O'Daniel announced earlier in the week that he will resign as president of the company before he assumes the office of governor, and that someone else will be named to succeed him.

The Millenium Must Be At Hand, Telegraph Company Officials Believe; Paid For Insulator

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The millenium must be at hand.

The Western Union Telegraph company ventured that opinion in announcing receipt of a "conscience letter" from a boy who enclosed 15 cents in stamps in payment for an insulator he broke on one of the concern's lines.

It was the first such compensation, the firm stated, for any of the 20,000,000 destroyed during the last 60 years by folks who pegged rocks and fired bullets at those glass caps on the yard arms of wire poles.

Three Men Nurse Injuries But Thankful To Be Alive

BIXBY, Okla., Dec. 10. (AP)—Three men were nursing injuries today, thankful to be alive, after dropping into the swift current of the Arkansas river here last night when two spans of a bridge gave way with a freight truck and a private sedan.

Meanwhile, state highway officials at Oklahoma City were reported moving for immediate temporary repair of the bridge and to expedite construction of approaches for a new one being built nearby.

Occupants of the two machines which settled about 40 feet into perhaps four feet of water with the collapse of the spans were identified as Buster Carter, 24, of Fort Smith, Ark., driver of the truck, and W. L. Jones, Tulsa druggist, and C. Sims, Tulsa realtor, who were returning from a hunting trip in the automobile.

President Says That Free Press Is Primarily Responsibility Of The Newspapers

Roosevelt Makes Statement For Post-Dispatch At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 10. (AP)—President Roosevelt asserts in a letter to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch that a free press is primarily a responsibility of the newspapers.

The president, writing for the sixtieth anniversary section of the paper tomorrow, also expressed the hope that freedom of the press to criticize the administration would "ever prevail—throughout this administration and throughout every administration in all the years to come."

No Lecture On Ethics

"It is not my purpose primarily to deliver a lecture on the ehtics of journalism," wrote President Roosevelt. "But our newspapers are so essentially public institutions that they are subject to the closest scrutiny of their readers. Since it is the readers who make possible by their patronage the publication of all our papers, perhaps the readers are entitled to be heard on the age-old question of a free press. . . .

"But more forcible than any criticism from without is the self-searching inquiry of those within editorial sanctums and the newspaper counting rooms as to what constitutes their obligation to the readers of American newspapers. . . .

"A free press is essential to us as a people and to the maintenance of our form of government. That is an axiom from which no thoughtful person will dissent. On the other hand, however, our government, federal, state and municipal, has rightfully and necessarily an interest in freedom of the news as well as in the preservation of a free press."

Grade-Crossing Program In Nation Is Slow In 1938

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The government's grade-crossing elimination program, designed to make America's roads safer and prevent such disasters as the recent Utah school bus-train crash which took more than a score of lives, went forward at a slower pace this year than last.

Bureau of roads officials said work in the 1938 fiscal year did not equal the all-time peak established in the preceding year when 1,149 crossings were eliminated, but they pointed to a mark of 711 railroad-highway crossings eliminated, 144 separation structures reconstructed and 744 crossings protected by devices.

Pennsylvania led the states in the number of crossings eliminated in 1938 with 37.

Crossings eliminated in the other states:

KILLED IN MISHAP

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 10. (AP)—State Senator Fred Armstrong, 35, president pro term of the upper house during the 1937 session, was killed last night when his automobile left the highway north of Mountainburg and overturned.

Green Case Is Aired Again

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—New York, Texas and Florida each submitted to the supreme court today a long list of reasons why it should displace Massachusetts as the state privileged to collect inheritance taxes on the $36,137,335 estate of Colonel Edward H. R. Green.

Green had lived in Texas, New York, Massachusetts, and Florida.

Each Claims Right

Each of the four states claims the right to tax the estate. A special master appointed by the supreme court has determined that Massachusetts was the legal domicile when he died on June 8, 1936.

Through their attorneys general, the trio of states presented separately their objections to the findings by the special master, John S. Flannery. New York filed 77 exceptions, Texas 50 and Florida 53.

New York argued that Green left Texas permanently in 1911 and "became domiciled in the state of New York."

"Green always returned to his home in New York after visiting Texas, Massachusetts and Florida, except during the last three years of his life when, by advice of counsel, he was an involuntary exile from New York," said John J. Bennett, New York attorney general.

Texas, after saying that Flannery had held that Green was nomadic in his taste, added that "even a nomad must have a domicile."

Home In Texas

"The more of the nomad Green might be conceived to have been," Attorney General William McCraw said "the greater reason for determining that his domicile and true home was in Texas, which he had firmly established and fixed in his earlier years. There his hearthstone was, and, in all his wanderings, his heart and his home was there."

New York is claiming $5,910,301 of the estate, Texas, $4,685,057, Florida, $4,663,857, and Massachusetts, $4,685,057. The federal government has collected $17,520,987.

A decision will be given by the supreme court after hearing oral arguments from the contestants on February 5.

Fort Worth Man And Wife Are Being Held In Robbery Case

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10. (AP)—A Fort Worth man and his wife were held in the Parker county jail at Weatherford today while the county attorney there prepared to charge them with robbery of Bert Johnson, Parker county orchardist, last Monday.

Johnson was struck on the head with a hammer and robbed of $3d, the man and woman who robbed him stopped supposedly to help Johnson, whose car had stalled. Johnson suffered a fractured skull and remained in a Weatherford hospital today.

The suspects were arrested in Fort Worth last night.

Former Twin Falls Mayor Is Facing Life Imprisonment

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Dec. 10. (AP) Duncan McDonald Johnston, 39-year-old former Twin Falls mayor, was found guilty of first degree murder today. He faces live imprisonment.

A 12-man jury deliberated eight hours before finding him guilty, at 1:29, of killing George L. Olson, 35, a Salt Lake City jewelry salesman, on or about last May 21.

Prosecuting attorneys established theft of $15,000 in jewels carried by Olson as the motive.

The jury recommended life imprisonment and under Idaho law the judge must impose the sentence prescribed by the jury. The court fixed 10 a. m., Dec. 14, as the time to pronounce sentence.

According to a census taken at a large English hospital, one person in every five in England suffers from "nerves."

Sweeping Changes Will Be Proposed In Federal Old Age Insurance System

Official Report Expected Soon

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The Social Security advisory council drafted today sweeping recommendations for broadening the government's old age insurance system.

While the council's official report will not be made public until sometime next week, informed persons said, its principal recommendations would include:

Would Pay Funeral Expenses

1. Provision for monthly payments to the widows and dependent children of workers covered by the Social Security act and for $200 funeral expenses to the families of "covered" workers who die before reaching the age of 65.

2. Some provision for the wives and dependent children of those over 65 receiving monthly payments. (This would be designed to aid the families of retired workers whose incomes under the system may be only $30 or $40 a month—too small to provide the necessities of life for more than one person.)

Would Move Up Date

3. Move the date for beginning old age payments up from January 1, 1942 to January 1, 1940.

4. Broaden the act to include immediately 2,600,000 seamen and workers in banks, charitable and religious organizations.

5. Broaden the act later to include, probably in 1941, an estimated 6,000,000 farm and domestic workers.

Married Men More

6. Provide that payments to married men (over 65) be $10 more a month than those to single men. (Thus the top limit for married men would be $85 a month and the bottom $20. The limits for single men would be $75 and $10.)

The present scale of payments is fixed in the law at $20 to $85 and is the same for both single and married men. Thus the proposed change amounts to reducing by $10 a month the sum which would be paid unmarried men.

The latter provision was decided upon, it was understood, to reduce the total amount which operation of the insurance system will cost, beginning in 1940, and thus free some funds to help finance the proposed new aides to wives, widows and children.

Informed persons said, however, expansion of financial assistance to wives, widows and children would raise costs to such an extent that the government probably would have to put in funds from other sources unless the social security tax system was revised.

Trade Pacts Opposed By Sheep, Goat Body

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association was on record today as opposing reciprocal trade agreements which were termed "simply a subterfuge under which our protective tariff is being destroyed with the deliberate purpose of setting up a tariff for revenue only."

This was among resolutions adopted at the closing session yesterday as the association chose Fort Worth as the 1939 convention city and elected C. B. Wardlaw of Del Rio president.

The association asked the Federal Commodity Credit corporation to continue its 18-cents-a-pound loan on wool and its 20 and 30-cents-a-pound loans on mohair next year.

Speakers attacked the Roosevelt administration's policy on foreign trade agreements, expressing fear of the coming conference with Australia, world's largest wool producer. The resolution adopted advocated that all trade agreements be submitted to the senate for ratification instead of allowing the president power to raise or lower tariffs as much as 50 per cent.

Appeal For Help In Purchasing Suits For Negro Scouts Made

An urgent appeal for help in purchasing Boy Scout uniforms for the only negro scout troop in Lubbock was made yesterday by Charles Sedberry, scoutmaster, who said the boys were badly in need of uniforms. The troop was organized about three months ago and meets regularly in the negro Presbyterian church, Seventeenth street and Avenue B.

There are about 15 boys, from 12 to 17 years of age. Most of them are from homes where it is almost impossible to raise the money necessary to purchase uniforms.

"The boys are doing good work," Sedberry said. "They are learning fast and scout work is helping them a great deal. It will mean a lot to them."

Sedberry and his father, W. M. Sedberry, this week plan to call on business men for contributions.

The workers will receive checks for more than $20,000,000 between December 24 and 31 instead of on regular scheduled paydays immediately after Christmas or New Years.

Four New Directors Appointed To Crippled Children Hospital

MARLIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Four new members have been appointed to the board of directors of the Marlin Crippled Children hospital, Dr. Herbert E. Hipps, orthopedic surgeon in charge, announced today.

Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownsville, state director of the general Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Joseph W. Perkins of Eastland, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and David C. Reed and North Millican, of Austin, are the new directors.

In recognition of Mrs. Taylor's services under the sponsorship of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, the 1938 endowment fund for crippled children hospital work at Marlin has been designated the Ethel Taylor endowment for crippled children.

Woody Loose Again; He's Hard At It

(By The Associated Press)

Woody Hockaday, who has been pretty quiet since he had a brush with the President's guards last summer, is whooping it up again. The boisterous "Indian" comes from Wichita, Kas., where he gained fame for his road-marking system before the days of government markers. In those days he was fairly dignified. He ran an auto service business, and his road-markers led many past his busy corner. Later he helped the U. S. design airlane markers. He's shown with a model of one.

But nowadays the 54-year-old Bible student and champion of peace and higher farm prices, thumbs his nose at dignity. Look:

1. "Feathers, not bullets" whoops Woody, emptying pillow at Baltimore Legion banquet in 1936.

2. For some reason Woody wanted to give Secretary Perkins a stuffed chicken last year; capital cops stepped in.

3. At Oklahoma City last July, Woody wanted to shine FDR's shoes for a dollar to use to bolster wheat prices. He didn't explain to presidential guards — lost his shirt.

4. His war whoops recently rang out at Chicago's board of trade when he bid "$1.50 or bust" for wheat, then selling at 65 cents.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

LEBANON, O., Dec. 10 (AP)—David I. Cross, 29, of Hamilton, Pa., and Coy Russell, 29, of Houston, Tex., two of four persons held in connection with the abduction and robbery of State Highway Patrolman P. W. Powell, pleaded guilty to charges of armed robbery and kidnaping late today and were bound over to the grand jury under bonds of $25,000 each.

Masons And Temple Win Benefit Of Tie Games; Corpus Humbles Reagan 40-0

Mighty Masonic Mites Thrill 22,000 Fans

By MARVIN BRAU
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 10 — A fast Masonic Home football team from Fort Worth, whose ability to keep company wth top-notchers of the Texas Interscholastic league had been questioned, fought a favored, heavier Highland Park eleven to a 12-to-12 draw here today, and entered the semi-finals on penetrations, 4 to 2.

LUBBOCK WINS TOSS

The Lubbock Westerner-Masonic Home semi-final football game will be played here next Friday, Dec. 16, at 2:30 o'clock. Announcements concerning tickets will be made Monday. Lubbock High school officials met with the Masonic Home officials late last night in Fort Worth, and won the toss.

The Masons, who thrilled 22,000 fans in the last half with a dazzling passing attack, let the Highlanders play themselves out in the first half. Many had thought the running attack of the Highlanders finally would break a jinx and let them get past the quarter-finals for the first time.

In the opening period, the Masons were unable to gain through the line, and Gene Keel, who has the makings of an-state quarterback, kicked to the Highlanders' 14-yard stripe. Then, on the second play, Dick Dwelle, brilliant halfback, raced 83 yards for a touchdown for the Highlanders. He missed the try for point.

In the next quarter the Highlanders scored again, Grady Jordan racing 30 yards for a touchdown after taking a 26-yard pass from Dwelle. Again Dwelle missed the try for point.

Then the second half started—and the passing fireworks. The Masons hurled 40 passes for 21 completions. Not a one of the passes came near to being intercepted, so accurate was the rightwing of 150-pound Keel. The passes, Keel to Moseley, Keel to Stevens and Keel to Hudgins, clicked with precision.

Both of the Masons' touchdowns were made in the third period, Miller Moseley scoring one on a pass, and Buster Roach, a substitute back, carrying into pay territory from the one-yard line after taking an eight-yard pass.

In winning, the Masons gave warning that the state championship was their goal, and that the Lubbock Westerners, whom they meet in the semi-finals at a site yet to be selected, have a tough afternoon in store.

Lazzeri Signs With Brooklyn Dodgers

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10 (AP) — Tony Lazzeri, who obtained his release from the Cubs a few days ago, announced today he had accepted terms to play second base for the Brooklyn Dodgers next year.

Lazzeri telegraphed Larry MacPhail his acceptance of a one-year contract after a long distance telephone negotiation with the Brooklyn official yesterday.

He declined to reveal salary terms.

Star of many World's Series while playing for the Yankees twelve years, the San Francisco-born Italian drew his release and signed this year with the Chicago Cubs as utility player and coach.

After the season, he said he would not rejoin the Cubs because he "wanted to play, not warm the bench."

Temple Emerges Winner After 13-13 Heat

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10.—Dangerous Tom Pickett, who can't be convinced he's licked, staged a one man show here today as Temple's Wildcats won over Tyler's Lions in the feature schoolboy football game of the week.

The score was 13-13 and Temple was awarded the decision on penetrations, five to three. It sent the Wildcats into the state semi-finals.

Pickett scored all the Wildcat points, his 36 yard dash through the entire Tyler team with but little more than four minutes to go giving Temple the tie. Pickett stepped back and kicked the extra point as a crowd of 11,000 roared over one of the greatest high school games ever played in Texas.

Pickett scored the first Temple touchdown with a 47 yard dash down the sidelines in the opening period and for a half this stood up.

Tyler Drives 54 Yards

Tyler drove 54 yards for its first touchdown in the third period with Walton Roberts opening a dazzling passing attack and Rudolph Byrd, a substitute back and Melvin Jones leading the charge aground. Roberts passed to Wally Scott from the 3 for the counter and Jones kicked goal. Tyler scored again late in the fourth quarter, a lateral from Roberts to Byrd driving deep into Temple territory from where Jones cracked the line twice for the touchdown. Jones missed extra point.

Club To Have Grid Show

Motion pictures of outstanding national games this season will be shown members of the Touchdown club at their meeting tomorrow night beginning at 8 o'clock in the Lubbock hotel.

Coach Cawthon is expected to return from Dallas in time for the meeting and Coach Smith will be present.

Membership and interest in the Touchdown group has increased considerably. Cotton Bowl discussions and the success of the Westerners have been major factors in the recent growth.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. Westerner Backfield Ready For Masonic Charge

Here's how the Lubbock High school backfield looks when Chief Jumbo Webster backs up to toss a pass. It's the way they'll look this weekend when they play the mighty mites of Masonic Home in a state semi-final game. At the left is Quarterback and Blocking back Harold Parsons, who does a grand job of field generalling. No. 29 is featured on the Parsons jersey. No. 28, to his left, is Leete Jackson, hefty line plunger, pass receiver, and blocker de luxe. Webster in his familiar 77 is shown ready to fire a pass, and at the right its left wingback Wayne "Rusty" Johnston, a sparkling sparkplug who passes and runs with the best of them. They have State Championship light in their eyes, these Westerners, and they're going to town! (Photo by Tom Dillard, of the Fort Worth Star Telegram staff).

Tech Conference Application Tabled

Steele Presents Plead For Bid

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP) — Faculty representatives of the Southwest Conference athletic council today formally expressed the hope that "by next year the Cotton Bowl postseason football game will be universally accepted as the final event of the football season."

President Henry Trantham, who represents Baylor university, said a formal vote on aligning the conference with the Cotton Bowl would be held later, probably at the meeting in May.

On the Cotton Bowl situation, President Trantham added the conference was convinced that all parties concerned acted in good faith in deciding on "bowl" games this year but faced a situation over which they had no control.

Trantham indicated the first step after possible sanctioning by the conference would be to seek an agreement with another major conference, "the Southeastern, for example," to also lend its champion to the Cotton Bowl in an annual intra-mural classic.

Committeemen tabled until the May meeting, date for a report from the Cotton Bowl committee, the application for entrance into the conference by Texas Tech, filed by L. L. Steele of Mexia, member of the institution's board of directors. Tech meets St. Mary's of California in the Cotton Bowl game on Jan. 2. The application was signed only by Steele.

Trantham said a unanimous vote by the committee deferred action on the application.

An amendment to the by-laws which would cause a player who uses insulting language, either to a player or official, before, during or after a contest, to be automatically barred from competition, was approved.

Gilliam Graham, great University of Texas jevelin thrower who was declared ineligible last year after having previously registered at Baylor university, was declared eligible "on grounds of equity." The committee approved and commended the work of executive secretary J. W. St. Clair of Southern Methodist "in improving the officiating in the conference."

A decision to award fewer, but better trophies, was made. Team trophies will be awarded only in football, basketball, baseball and track.

No Longer Hard To Take

By Collier Parris

SO THE SOUTHWEST conference chooses to struggle along for another spell with its present setup, without the addition of Texas Tech to its membership rolls.

So what?

It's a swell conference, well balanced, and productive of the best college football in the country. True, it was weak in spots this season, and its champion was never forced to extend itself; competition would have been tougher had the Red Raiders been in the fight.

But a lot of persons might be surprised over the lather that is NOT being worked up and the tears that are NOT being shed by local citizens as result of the conference's action yesterday.

One little matter, however, in connection with yesterday's Southwest conference session should be clarified in order to avoid confusion with another yarn in this department. Actually, it needs little clearing because the facts were presented in this department long in advance, and repeated last week in this column. It was quite simple: "Texas Tech will not make formal application for a berth in the Southwest conference."

NOW there is a story in today's papers containing this statement: "L. L. Steele, member of the board of directors of Texas Tech, formally made application for Tech's entrance into the conference. The application was tabled until the May meeting."

The statement is grossly misleading. Any application Mr. Steele, who is certainly one of Tech's most vigorous boosters, might have made was purely on his own hook; it was definitely not authorized by the Texas Tech board of directors, athletic department or the N. Y. A. We quote from a letter prepared and signed by members of the board, which was published in the Avalanche and Journal last December 17. The letter, composed after the conference had denied Tech's application on Dec. 11, was addressed to Southwest conference authorities:

"X X X Texas Technological college sincerely and deeply appreciates the consideration given its application for membership in the Southwest conference X X X. In view of the fact that application has been made on four different occasions, and that such applications have not been favorably acted upon, it appears that no further formal application should be made X X X.

"We express the hope, however, that the time is not far distant when those responsible for the destinies of the Southwest conference may feel that this institution merits the inclusion."

This letter is filed with the official literature of the Southwest conference. It sets forth quite definitely that the Tech board is on record as hors de concours so far as formal application for membership is concerned.

Shifting Sympathy

This department wishes to go on record now as officially changing its sympathies from Texas Tech to the Southwest conference. Whereas we previously raved and ranted for Tech to crash the conference gates and felt sorry for Tech because of the repeated rejections, we now extend sympathy to the conference for not having the Red Raiders. And it is quite possible that by the time the conference gets around to wanting Tech as a member, the Red Raiders may have some shoelaces that need pressing right badly, if you get what we mean, and we think you do.

BOYOBOY, IF IT'S thrills you want, you don't have to go past the Texas Interscholastic league football field. One "Ripley" follows another, and Friday and Saturday saw a couple of nifties.

Take those successive runbacks of kickoffs for touchdowns in the Lubbock-Breckenridge game! Maybe you've heard of it somewhere before, but we haven't, and we've read quite a lot, too.

The other teams down the line took up the believe-it-or-not cry yesterday for a coincidence that never happened before, so far as we know. Two teams come from behind to tie two other teams and win on penetrations on the same afternoon in the quarter-finals of the schoolboy race. Can you tie that?

Get On The Line

The Westerners are going to have considerable trouble with the Masons this week, and they'd better be making plans. Defensively, the Westerners could stand for some improvement.

There probably will be a lot of scoring in the next game. The Masons, too little to powerhouse their way through opposing lines, take to the air, around the ends and down the sidelines. Lubbock's pass defense is none too good, although its line, especially near the goal line, is pretty steady. The Lubbocks turned in a great defensive game against Vernon, both times. This week, the Westerners will have to be on the lookout for forwards, tricky laterals and everything else in the book of football hoy-polloi and legerdemain.

AND SPEAKING OF the Westerners, you guys who haven't laid it on the altar yet for Coach Chapman's automobile and the

Baseball Trades To Start With Major Meets

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Hotel lobbies and secluded rooms will double as country lanes and sales pavilions next week when baseball's David Harums meet here in their winter swapfest, the annual major league meetings.

The American and National Leagues will meet separately Tuesday and Wednesday, and jointly Thursday with commissioner K. M. Landis presiding.

Although numerous other items of business, such as the New York Yankees' suggestion that a player's salary be spread out over a 12-month period, and the advisability of the American League approving night baseball, will be taken up, the fans' interest centers on who will get who from whom, and for how much.

The New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs jumped the gun at New Orleans in announcing a triple-play deal in which the Giants got Ken O'Dea, Frank Demaree and Bill Jurges, in return for Gus Mancuso, Dick Bartell and Hank Leiber.

The Giants are expected to make a grab for Zeke Bonura, Washington first baseman who has been waived by other American league clubs.

It was reported the St. Louis Cardinals were ready to trade Outfielder Enos Slaughter to the Cubs for Outfielder Augie Galan, and that the Chicago White Sox would be only too glad to give utility Infielder Boze Berger to the St. Louis Browns, with the only stipulation that the Browns hand over pitcher Russ Van Atta.

California Bruins End Season With 6 To 6 Tie With Oregon

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Pacific Coast conference grid wars ended here today as the Bruins of University of California at Los Angeles and Oregon State's Beavers struggled to a 6 to 6 tie.

Oregon State scored in the first two minutes of play. Hal Higgins, took the Bruin opening kickoff, ran it back 84 yards to the six yard stripe and carried it over two plays later.

The Bruins, after passing deep into Beaver territory, scored in the fourth when Washington passed over the goal to Jim Mitchell, substitute end.

Buccaneers Run Wild To Enter Semi-Finals

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 10.—Coach Harry Stiteler's exceptionally well drilled Corpus Christi Buccaneers walloped the John Reagan Bulldogs, 40 to 0 here today to enter the semi-finals of the state Interscholastic football championship playoff. Around 10,000 spectators witnessed the one-sided contest.

Corpus Christi was impressive from the start. On the first play from scrimmage, the Bucs tallied on a 42-yard run by Emory Nix, followed this by marching 67 yards for a touchdown the next time they got the ball and kept the confused Bulldogs on the run.

Bucs Show Power

The visitors scored 12 points in the opening period, seven in the second, seven in the third and 14 in the fourth.

All of the touchdowns came on running plays with Emory Nix, who gained 134 yards net in 17 runs, scoring two; Kenneth Matthews scored two and Dickie Haas and John Roberts one each.

On running plays, the Bucs amassed a net gain of 301 to 97 for Reagan.

Deception and exceptional ball handling marked the Corpus parades.

Stalwarts in Corpus Christi's fine blocking forward wall were Jack Hinnant, center, who calls the plays; Jack Salyers and Charles Fowler, guards; John Vrazel and Zuehl Conoly, tackles; J. B. Hendricks and Pat Hall, end, the outstanding lineman on the field.

Cain, Roberts, Garza and York, reserve Corpus backs, also ran with much speed and shiftfness.

The starting lineups:

Corpus Christi	Pos	John Regan
Hendricks	LE	Slaughter
Conoly	LT	Telschow
Fowler	LG	Stephens
Hinnant	C	Kazilas
Salyers	RG	Frye
Vrazel	RT	Romigh

Tarbox Is Drafted By Cleveland

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Sort of an all-American squad to end all all-Americas, 200 college football seniors were on the National Professional football league's draft list today labelled as the pros' prize prospects for next season.

Ki Aldrich, Texas Christian's great center, headed the list. He was the first player chosen by the Chicago Cardinals, who finished in the cellar of the Western Division and received first choice in the drafting yesterday.

No players of prominence were missed.

Cleveland chose Elmer Tarbox of Texas Tech, Parker Hall, Mississippi's all-American, and Gaylon Smith, high-scoring back from Southwestern (Tenn.)

The Philadelphia Eagles took a chance on little Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian changing his mind in favor of more football and listed him.

Washington's Redskins checked Insull Hale, Texas Christian tackle.

Waco Named Baseball Tourney Site For State Title Game

WICHITA, Kas., Dec. 10. (AP)—Definite award of the fifth annual National Semipro baseball tournament for United States teams to Wichita, Aug. 11 to 23, 1939, was announced by the National Semipro Baseball congress today.

Automatically qualified are the 1938 national champions from Buford, Ga. Other teams will qualify for a 32-team bracket by victories in district, state and regional meets.

State tournaments already scheduled include: Texas, at Waco, July 26 to Aug. 6 (date tentative).

Tech Suski Fans To Study Ancient Art On Journey

A doughty dozen from Tech will go back 45 centuries and take up Suski.

If you get what we mean (or guess we mean) they will go all the way to Tres Ritos, N. M., to study the most approved methods of busting their anatomies on ice.

In other words, consulting the lexicographer, skiing.

Miss Zella Riegel, assistant professor of physical education, will head a party of professors from engineering, agricultural, physical education, and even English, departments to the 9,300-foot slopes where the ski run is 12 miles and the average temperature even now is 30 to 35 degrees below zero and the jump (if you get that far) is not too high.

Reno de Pasquier, who taught the Swiss army five years what the Finn-Ugrian (looking again into the glossary) peoples knew back in the sliding hey-day, will tell the Techs the vertical is preferable in skiing to the horizontal—then keep his face straight if he is a good actor, which he may be since he has camps in New Hampshire and in Canada and reputedly knows his Christianas from his gelaendesprung or mayhap his stemmbogen from his schuss and, under pressure, his langlaufing.

There, you have it. Clear?

Anyway, Miss Riegel hopes to make the trip an annual one. The cost for the vacation will approximate $50 for seven days, beginning the 20th, or thereabouts. There's room for a few more (the slope, as has been recounted, is 12 miles long).

There might even be a bit of bobsledding for those who survive the jumps—or those who, not falling right side up, want the comparative safety of the sled.

The ski run is a WPA project and as comfortable shelter house is at the base of the slope.

Hey, you Cotton Bowl fans!

If you have asked for a ticket reservation, you'd better make tracks to the nearest agency and pick up same.

His Highness, Dean Bo Williams of the football ticket department at Texas Tech, laid down the law last night. He said:

"All persons who have asked for tickets to the Cotton Bowl game must call for them, and pay for them, before bed time Thursday of this week

"And if you don't pick them up Thursday," dictated Williams, "they will go back on sale."

So that's the situation. So great is the demand for Cotton Bowl tickets that officials are unable to put up with any waste of time. The tickets are here, ready for distribution, and if you have reserved one for the Cotton Bowl, it is expedient that you pick it up at once, bringing with you, of course, the necessary long green.

The "dope" on the Cotton Bowl ticket situation will be announced in these pages as quickly as it is announced from Williams' office.

If you have reserved a ticket at either of the local agencies, you should call there for your ticket. If you are not satisfied there, you are to call at Williams' office, in the west wing of the administration building, first floor, and complete the arrangements there.

Raider Court Team To Play N. M. N. U. Five This Week

Texas Tech's Red Raider basketball squad will get its first taste of fire Thursday and Friday nights of this week when they clash with New Mexico Normal university in Las Vegas.

The New Mexico team boasts one of its strongest aggregations in history and a Crimson defeat would not be considered any sort of upset.

Coach Berl Huffman's team has been "good" and "just fair." What the Techs will do in real competition will give observers an opportunity to forecast the season's probable record. Border conference competition which the Raiders plunge into early in January will be the toughest in years.

Two of the Border loop squads are as strong as any in the Mountain or Southwest conferences. Reports from Las Vegas say that the N. M. N. U. quintet is again top favorites in the New Mexico Conference which they won last year. They also went three rounds up in the national tournament.

Tech's starting lineups will consist either of five sophomores or five junior college transfers. Should the sophomore squad start the lineup will be taken from: Paul Reynolds, Petersburg; R. L. Williams, Gorman; J. B. White, Lubbock; Pat Patterson, Lubbock; Orba Miller, Floydada; Jake Geron, Whitharral; George Allen, Stratford; Lewis Locke, Miami; Truman Neal, San Antonio. If the junior college lads get the call the team will list: Bauman Roper, Whitehouse; Marshall Brown, Whitehouse; Robert Percival, Cache, Okla.; T. L. Gilley, Whitehouse; Curley Risinger, Humphreys, Okla. All of the latter have brilliant records and won all-state or all-star honors.

The contests this week will give Coach Huffman a chance to see what to expect when the Raiders compete in the All-College tournament in Oklahoma City where they will be against 32 of the best college teams from six states.

Border Loop Abolishes Spring Grid Tilts; Hardin-Simmons Application Tabled

Decision Affects Tech's Annual Fiesta Tilt

EL PASO, Dec. 10 (AP)—The application of Hardin-Simmons university for membership in the Border conference was deferred until next spring by conference representatives meeting here today.

The Abilene, Tex., school's petition will be decided upon at Tucson, Ariz., in a meeting coincident with the conference track meet next May, Secretary-Treasurer C. Z. Lesher said.

The faculty representatives voted to abolish spring football games of conference members. They also reduced the number of practice sessions from 36 to 30 but agreed to move the start of fall practice up from Sept. 10 to Sept. 5.

Don Phillips of Arizona university was re-elected chairman of the Press association and J. J. Lynch of Flagstaff was named secretary.

The seven members colleges represented were Arizona, New Mexico university, Arizona State at Tempe, Arizona State at Flagstaff, New Mexico State, Texas College of Mines and Texas Tech.

Wink Wins Region Title

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ODESSA, Dec. 10. — Wink High schools high scoring Wildcats annexed their second consecutive Region 2 football title here this afternoon before a capacity crowd on neutral Fly field with a 20-7 air victory over Rotan's rugged Yellowhammers.

The win brought Wink's total points of the season to 523 to their opponents' 93. It was the fifth regional crown for the Cats since 1932, and the twenty-fifth consecutive win over the last two years. Wink scored once in the first, second and fourth quarters. Rotan scored in the third.

Score On Fourth Play

The Cats initial counter was on their fourth play of the game after Rotan had failed to gain. The Hammers were expecting a punt on fourth down and Bob Alberding flipped a 16 yard pass to J. R. Callahan who gathered it in on the Rotan 28 yardline. And he raced on across for the score after shaking off two tacklers. His kick for the point was blocked.

The Winklers second came on a 25 yard run by Youngblood after a lateral from Callahan. Alberding plunged through the line for the point.

Smith Outstanding

Rotan came back strong in the second half with big Angus Smith breaking into the Wink secondary. Smith intercepted a Wink pass in mid-field and returned to the Wink 24. Howard Swan whipped around left end to the Wink three yard stripe and Smith then hit the line for the Rotan touchdown. W. Fleming kicked the extra point. Rotan threatened again in the last quarter but Wink converted a fumble by the Yellowhammers into a scoring opportunity. Wink made 13 first downs to 10 for Rotan.

Smith was the outstanding player on the field with his long midfield runs on punt returns. He averaged 41 yards on seven punts to Callahan's five for 34 yards.

Stratton Has Lifetime Job With Sox

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Baseball offered a life time job today to Monty Stratton, the ace Chicago White Sox pitcher who recently underwent amputation of his right leg after suffering a gunshot wound.

J. Louis Comiskey, White Sox president, notified Stratton that as soon as he is fully recovered he can step into a permanent position with the White Sox office organization. At the same time Comiskey said a benefit game for Stratton will be played April 17 between the White Sox and the Chicago Cubs.

On Nov. 27, Stratton was target shooting on his mother's farm near Greenville, Tex., when his revolver accidentally discharged. The bullet struck below the hip, coursing down to the knee, and he lost much blood before his wife Ethel, got him to a Dallas hospital. The next day amputation was performed at the knee.

Long As He Wants It

"Monty has a job with us as long as he wants it," said Comiskey. "He was a fine pitcher and is a finer man. Baseball can't afford to lose him."

Comiskey conferred briefly today with P. K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, and then announced plans for the Cub-Sox game, all proceeds from which will go to Mr. and Mrs. Stratton, whose son, Monty, jr., was a year old the day the amputation operation was performed.

Harry Grabiner, White Sox vice president, said Stratton was "coming along fine" and may leave the hospital in two weeks. He was a big factor in White Sox hopes for 1939, having won 15 games the past season even though out of action with a sore arm for the first month of the campaign.

The way is open for some of you who didn't get in on the ground floor to get your name on the scroll as a contributor. The campaign was carried on "on the sly," and the men behind it had no trouble getting the dough promised. But they didn't get around to see everybody, and they ask that we make it a public proposition. If you want a part in it, leave your long green at Rosenthal's. Nobody is allowed to contribute more than five bucks, and anything from a buck up will get your name on the list.

There's another pay-off matter that should be attended to right away, too. The Red Jacket squad is slightly in arrears, or some of its members are that way. Mail your checks to this department at once, or leave them at Sherrod Bros. Let's get it all cleared up pronto.

Boxing Time Near

GOLDEN GLOVERS once more are warned regarding the approaching tournaments, and urged to take advantage of the free training and conditioning gymnasium and track at the Westerner field.

The Lubbock High field house, one large room of which has been turned over to the Golden Glove cause, will be open each week day afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, or later if the boys desire it. Babe Ritchie will be on hand to make suggestions and supervise training activities.

It would be mighty swell if the Lubbock district tournament could produce fighters in each weight division who could make a big splash in the State tournament at Fort Worth.

It can be done if the boys will put themselves under rigorous training rules and get themselves in shape. It takes that, more than native boxing ability, to win in the Golden Gloves.

Just For Exercise!

Mildred White, to put it in the women's language, may have to do a lot of "making up" after her wrestling bout with Clara Mortensen Wednesday night at the Auditorium. The latter, who weighs 135 pounds and is from New York, claims the women's championship of the world. Her challenger is from Chicago and weighs 134.

The land occupied by the public roads of the United States is equal to the area of the whole state of Indiana.

It Is Ladies Night--They Wrestle!

And in this corner—the women's wrestling champion of the world, Clara Mortensen, against Mildred White of Chicago.

It is a fact—such will be the announcement of a special event at the auditorium Wednesday night. The match will be a two out of three fall affair, but the title will not be at stake.

The champion, who weighs 135 pounds, is from New York. Her opponent, 134 pounds, is also recognized as one of the outstanding women bone twisters in the profession.

And that is not all. Promoter Sled Allen has arranged a four-card program at no advance in prices. The main event following the hair pulling features the return of tough Sailor Tex Watkins against Leo Mortensen, brother of the woman title holder. Reports have it that he will give the Post ex-cowboy something to do besides make faces at the fans.

Every bout Wednesday could be listed as a main event considering the participants. The curtain raiser pits Russell Riley, the ex-Muleshoe boy who made a hit with fans in his debut here last week, against the powerful Frank Wolff, conqueror of Joe Banaski's local undefeated record.

Joe "Bad Man" Banaski, who not only lost the match but a portion of his following last week, takes on scrapping Scotty Williams in the semi-final. Both the curtain raiser and semi-final are for one fall or 20 minutes.

'Coach Of The Year' Title Given Kern

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—The New York World-Telegram, with the official endorsement of four major conference officials, today awarded to Bill Kern of Carnegie Tech the title of 1938 college football's "coach of the year." Kern's Tartans, defeated only by Notre Dame in the regular season, meet Texas Christian in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl Jan. 2.

Kern is the fourth coach to be honored by the World-Telegram. Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern was the choice in 1935, Dick Harlow of Harvard in 1936, and Hooks Mylin of LaFayette in 1937.

Ranked behind Kern this year were Leo (Dutch) Meyer of T. C. U., Howard Jones of Southern California, Fritz Crisler, Michigan; Wallace Wade, Duke; Bob Neyland, Tennessee; Tom Stidham, Oklahoma; Elmer Layden, Notre Dame; Jack Kagerty, Georgetown, and Dr. Eddie Anderson, Holy Cross.

El Paso Defeats Mexico City's Star Eleven

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10. (AP)—The El Paso High school football team defeated the local Y. M. C. A. team here today 26 to 0 before a crowd of 15,000.

The first touchdown came in the first period when El Paso recovered a fumble on 15 and Fullback Breach carried the ball across. In the second period, Townsend, substitute quarterback, intercepted a pass on his 35 and raced to the three. Brooks went through tackle for the score.

Raymond Terrell, back, intercepted a pass on his 40 in the fourth period and carried it 15 yards, then passed to Guiterrez for a first down on the ten yard line. Brooks went around end for the touchdown and Breach place kicked the extra point.

With only four minutes left to play, Waide scored after a 70-yard march, and James place kicked the extra point. The Y. M. C. The Tigers pushed the Y-men back to the ten, where they lost the ball on downs.

Region 9 consists of Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Dickens, King, Knox, Baylor, Archer, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Shackelford, Stephens, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Coleman, Eastland, Runnels, Coleman, Brown and Comanche counties.

Outline Lists Requests

Charles E. Friley, jr., of Abilene, regional game manager, and Martin Donley, warden for nine counties including Lubbock, attended, and the following county board members: Rankin, Shinkle; C. M. Doyle and Z. L. Evans, both of Shallowater; W. O. Perkins of route 5, Luther Green and George E. Eklund, both of route 1; L. M. Hargrave of Wolfforth and John W. Palmore, jr., and Robert H. Bean, both of Lubbock.

JIMMY RANKIN

An outline asking for a universal hunting and fishing license, restocking of property with game, protection not only of game but of the rights of landowners without sacrificing pleasure and success of hunters, and a program of legislative aims and educational suggestion was presented.

The following resolutions were passed:

"Be it resolved, that legislators representing this county in Austin should work in close harmony with the Game, Fish and Oyster commission, helping to provide through legislation whatever the commission requests for the benefit of Texas wildlife.

"Be it resolved, that the universal hunting and fishing license law now in effect in 23 counties should be extended to all counties of the state in order to provide necessary funds for wildlife work; failing in that, the law should be applied locally to Lubbock county.

"Be it resolved, that the Game, Fish and Oyster commission should be vested with the responsibility and the authority to make all regulations concerning wildlife in Texas."

It was pointed out that Texas qualifies for a federal assistance of $150,000 in its program, annually, but that the state must submit projects that meet the approval of the biological survey and the secretary of agriculture.

During the last two years membership in dairy herd improvement associations in the United States has increased by more than 8,000 and an additional 150,000 cows have been placed on test.

29—Houses For Sale

Dear Santa Claus:

We just happened to wonder what you think after you have climbed along flight of steps to a close, stuffy little apartment (that rents for about $45.00 per month) on your annual visit to the children who "live" there?

Do you hesitate about leaving a tricycle? or an express wagon? or a horn or drum? And, surely, you couldn't leave a real, live, healthy fox terrier for the boy!

And we wonder, too, whether the gift the children need first and most isn't a real home, a home entirely their own, where they can do the things that children like and thrive on?

Now if you're not doing anything this afternoon, drive out and see the home at

2115 22nd Street

There's a real home for you, if your family is not more than two or three. AND WE HAVE SOME LARGER ONES THAT ARE JUST AS NICE. We'll wager it will be the most appreciated present in your bag.

IT WILL BE A PLEASURE TO SHOW YOU. Just phone 1050 today.

Date Of Sutton Trial Is Set

LAMESA, Dec. 10—M. B. "Red" Sutton, former Lamesa resident, charged by an indictment voted by the Dawson county grand jury with murder in connection with the death of Maxie Woodruff, Dec. 13, 1937, will go on trial in 106th district court here Dec. 29, said Judge Louis B. Reed, presiding. Indictment was returned Tuesday.

Trustt Smith of Tahoka, district attorney, will prosecute the case. It was indicated the state would ask the death penalty.

Nabbed In South Texas

Sutton was apprehended in South Texas some time ago on a "cold check" charge and taken to Lubbock. There it developed he was wanted here in connection with the murder and that officers had been on his trail for some time.

The shooting occurred on Saturday night, Dec. 11, last. A man walked into Hurt's Haberdashery and bought a necktie. He then demanded money in the cash drawer and, after taking it, ran out of the store and down the street.

Woodruff quickly was in pursuit and caught the hi-jacker in front of the Lamesa creamery building. In the scuffle Woodruff was shot in the stomach and died several hours later.

So far as is known, Sutton does not have an attorney. If he is unable to employ one, the judge will name one for him.

Roosevelt's Home And Surroundings Will Go To Government At His Death

Papers Are To Be Collected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP) — President Roosevelt disclosed today the title to his family home and 100 acres of land surrounding it would go to the government upon his death, and that in the meantime his papers would be collected there to be available easily to the scholars of the future.

The president, calling reporters to his study in the White House, issued a prepared statement outlining the project.

He explained that a building to house the collection — probably a simply-designed, fireproof structure of native field stone—would be built partly by public subscription and turned over to the government.

To Contribute Funds

Mr. Roosevelt said he would contribute to the project all funds—minus taxes—that he has received from the sale of material to newspapers, magazines and book publishers. A similar contribution would be made, he said, by Justice Samuel I. Rosenman of the New York supreme court, who collaborated with him in preparing his papers for publication.

The chief executive announced the project after a luncheon conference with 18 friends, most of whom are interested in history. The group will comprise an advisory council to carry out the undertaking. It will be supplemented later by leaders in the fields of economics and sociology.

Texas Civic Leader Claimed By Death

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 10. (AP)—N. H. Martin, 55, business and civic leader of Wichita Falls, died in a Dallas hospital early this morning. Death was unexpected although Martin had been ill for more than a year.

Martin came to Wichita Falls in 1917 to loook after the oil and land estate of his father. He was born in Clarinda, Iowa in 1883 and at the age of 17 started in the banking business there.

A former president and present director of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, Martin's civic leadership was recognized early this year in a joint award to him. and W. B. Hamilton of this city by the advertising club for outstanding meritorious work and philanthropic service in 1937.

His business activities extended to banking, real estate, oil and farming.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Jack H. and Billy Martin, Wichita Falls; a daughter, Mrs. Paul F. Rutledge of Dallas; and a brother, George Martin of Denver, Colo.

Cooperation Of Hitler Needed

By JAMES B. RESTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SOUTHAMPTON, Dec. 10—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy said today the major need in solving Europe's refugee problem was "cooperation for an international loan and above all a little cooperation from Hitler."

"You can stop worrying about where to put the refugees now," he said. "That problem will be solved."

Problems Discussed

Kennedy discussed the refugee problem along with the war debts, personal plans and debutantes before sailing on the liner Queen Mary for the United States.

About war debts he said:

"I think we can probably make a deal with Great Britain about war debts, but I am afraid it will have to be a deal that public opinion in the United States is not prepared to accept.

"Britain is not prepared to pay the whole debt and many people at home are against anything but a 100 cents on the dollar settlement."

Had No Instructions

He said he had never discussed the question officially "with any member of the British government for the simple reason that I had no instructions to do so."

About debutantes.

"We are going to limit the number of Americans presented at court even more next year than this year. Only those Americans who live over here will be considered."

TEACHER INJURED

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 10 (AP) — Miss Polly Ann Rawls, 29, Dallas school teacher, suffered minor injuries in a car crash last night. The car she was driving and a train collided near Arp.

MODEST RALLYING NOTE

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP) — The stock market generally performed to the satisfaction of Wall street this week and stepped out of the picture today on a modest rallying note.

Steels, motors, aircrafts, mail orders and specialties gained fractions to more than a point, while most rails, utilities, coppers and oils were a shade improved.

The day's recovery was attributed partly to buying inspired by the noticeable lightening of year-end tax selling, continuance of high business hopes for 1939 and lessening of apprehension over foreign affairs.

Volume picked up a trifle on the comeback, transfers totalling 405,610 shares against 322,480 last Saturday which was the smallest turnover since Aug. 20 last. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .3 of a point at 50.2, and on the week was down only .1.

Prominent on the forward tilt were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Montgomery Ward, American Can, Du Pont, U. S. Gypsum, General American Transportation, American Smelting, North American, Goodyear and Southern Railway.

Grain . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP) — The highest grain prices in a month or more attracted enough profit taking today to whittle values down fractionally.

Both wheat and corn reacted slightly in a quiet session of week-end evening up and realizing sales but minor price setbacks brought fresh support that checked the downturn.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ⅜ lower, Dec. 64¼@64¼, May 67@67⅛; corn unchanged to ⅜ down, Dec. 51, May 52⅞@53, oats ¼ off to ⅛ up; rye ⅛ to ¾ higher; lard unchanged to 2 cents lower.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10 (AP)—Demand for grain was fair here today.

Wheat No. 1, hard 79½@85½.
Barley No. 2, nom. 52@53.
Sorthums No. 2, yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 95@97. No. 2, white kafir nom. 90@92.
Corn, shelled, No. 2, white 66½@67½.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 10 (AP) — Cotton futures were supported here today by domestic and foreign buying but full advances were shaded and the market closed barely steady at net gains of 8 to 14 points.

Broken with foreign connections were the principal traders and the bulk of the business was attributed to transferring operations by Bombay sources and some Liverpool demand. Profit-taking set in towards the close, however and last prices were 5 to 8 points under the top.

Dec. contracts closed at 8.50-bid, Jan. at 8.38-bid, March at 8.35, May at 8.16, July at 7.88, Oct. at 7.57@7.59, Dec. (new) at 7.60-bid and March (1940) at 7.64-bid.

Spot cotton closed steady and middling advanced 11 points to 8.45. Sales totaled 288 bales and the average price at the ten southern markets was 8.42, or 12 points above yesterday's close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Cotton advanced today on foreign and domestic trade buying partly influenced by higher foreign markets. March, which had sold up from 8.14@8.30, closed at 8.23, with final quotations 6 to 12 points net higher.

The market opened unchanged to 6 points higher and moved somewhat irregularly early. The offering, representing liquidation and southern hedge selling, soon tapered off, however, and prices responded to trade price fixing, covering and some Bombay buying of forward deliveries. Local interests which had bought early turned to the selling side later to cause reactions of 5 to 13 points from the best.

Some evening-up was in evidence pending returns on today's southern referendum on cotton marketing quotas.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten Southern spot markets was 12 points higher at 8.42 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 8.55 cents a pound.

Five Men Charged In Murder After Funeral Pyre Death

HAMILTON, Ala., Dec. 10. (AP)—Five men were charged with murder today in the "funeral pyre" death of Shelby Jackson, 40-year-old farmer and father of 10, who died earlier this week.

Before his death, Jackson told Sheriff H. M. Couch he received fatal burns Nov. 29 when he was thrown on a blazing pile of leaves and brush after a fight. Jackson died Wednesday.

The sheriff said Jackson's story "conflicted sharply" with statements made by the five men arrested, all described as Marion county farmers.

Judge's Order Is Contested

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The federal government challenged today the authority of Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone to enter a directed verdict acquitting 11 defendents in the Madison, Wis., oil conspiracy case who previously had been convicted by a jury.

The government outlined its stand in a reply to Judge Stone's answer to an order from the United States circuit court of appeals to show cause why his directed verdict should not be expunged from the record of the trial.

During the trial Judge Stone deferred ruling on defense motions for directed verdicts of acquittal of the 11, but for purposes of the record he entered an order denying the motions without hearing arguments.

Common Practice

In his answer Judge Stone stated on Nov. 5 that deferred rulings were common practice in state and federal courts of Wisconsin and that "a careful review of the entire record disclosed that there was no substantial evidence of the guilt of any of the defendants who were dismissed."

Judge Stone upheld convictions of 17 other defendants and granted new trials to 18 others. Fines of these convicted totaled $65,000.

In its reply today, the government contended precedent showed the court had no legal power to order the entry of judgments for certain defendants with or without any alleged reservation of ruling upon motions of defendants for directed verdicts.

Three New Principles In Federal Social Security Program Are Considered

Proposals Are To Be Offered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The social security advisory council considered today proposing that congress write three new principles into the federal social security program. These are:

1. Acceptance of responsibility for the economic welfare of wives and children of workers covered by the social security act.

2. Acceptance of responsibility for the economic welfare of the workers themselves when they are prevented from earning their own livings by disability.

Partial Financing

3. Partial financing out of general revenue of the costs of an expanded social security program until a new security tax system can be evolved to meet the increased expenditures.

The council, composed of representatives of employers, workers and the public, worked on recommendations to congress and the president for "liberalizing" the social security act in the next session of congress.

Informed persons said its recommendations would include extending old age insurance provisions of the act immediately to 2,600,000 workers in banks, charitable and religious institutions and the maritime industry and eventually to 6,000,000 farm and domestic laborers.

She looked up wonderingly at that question. "I don't have any spare time," she said. Her schedule includes her scholastic work, part-time employment in operating machinery and performing other duties in the textile engineering building, and outside work that earns her room and board for her.

"I love to run the machinery better than anything," she said.

There's no shortage of ambition in this 20-year-old. When she came to Tech, she wasn't sure a girl would be allowed to enroll in the textile engineering department. She is the only co-ed ever to take a four-year course in textile engineering.

Had Worked As Spinner

She had worked as a spinner in the Postex Cotton mill at Post two years before coming to Tech. In the summer of 1937 she worked in the testing laboratory of the New Braunfels textile mills. Last summer, she obtained employment in a department store here so she could gain experience in retail selling.

Her major is fabric designing. After graduation next May, she hopes to obtain a job as fabric designer in a textile mill.

Miss Hill's mother, Mrs. Ozella Hill of Post and her sister, Mrs. Odell Smith, also formerly were spinners in the Postex mill. Her brothers, Woodrow of Post and Elmer of Albuquerque, N. M., worked in the mill. Her father, now dead, was employed there.

Music To Her Ears

The rumble of machinery has been familiar to her ears since she was four years old. She once referred an amateur pianist to the textile engineering laboratory if he wanted to hear "real music."

She likes to dance and to skate, but doesn't find much time for such recreation.

A full schedule will await Miss Hill when she arrives in Dallas. Plans for her participation in the jubilee are in the making. She will be guest at meetings, will lend her presence at times to the Tech exhibit in a Dallas hotel, and, in short, will have honors heaped upon her everywhere she goes.

The Cotton girl is 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 121 pounds.

Goodfellows

announced by Andy Maudlin, manager for Friday afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m. The Broadway program will consist of the feature, "Perfect Specimen," starring Joan Blondell and Errol Flynn, a musical and Fox News. Featuring the Lyric program will be "Anything For a Thrill," with Frankie Darro the star, "White Magic," a comedy, and an installment of "Dick Tracy," will complete the program.

Plans of the Cactus were announced last week, but the statement at that time said that only the night receipts would go into the fund. Manager M. A. (Tate) Sanders explained Saturday, however, that the entire day's revenue will go to the Goodfellows, without a penny's deduction for expenses. He added that he has further surprises to announce early this week.

Bear in mind in regard to the toy matinee, the Chief Goodfellow reminded, that those attending should bring a NEW toy. To contribute anything which has been banged around the house, he theorizes, would hardly be in keeping with the spirit of the Goodfellow drive, which is to do everything possible to insure there will be no empty stockings here on Christmas day.

Drive Moves Along

Meanwhile, the drive for the fund moved right along Saturday. Due chiefly to the generosity of the banks, each of which contributed $50, the total for the campaign was boosted $111.20 to $452.20—almost a third of the $1,500 which will be necessary to carry out the Goodfellows' plans.

Your help is urgently needed. On page 4, section 1 of this issue, you will find a blank. If you know any children between the ages of 1 and 8 years in Lubbock who likely will have only whatever Christmas the Goodfellows provide, fill it out. Race, color nor creed are to be considered.

Mail the filled-out blank to the Chief Goodfellow, P. O. Box 561, or bring or send it to The Avalanche-Journal, 1211-13 Texas avenue.

Send your contribution to either of those places.

An Old "Skin" Game Is Streamlined To Fit Current Events; Jap Is Victim

FRESNO, Calif., Dec. 10. (AP)—An old "skin" game, streamlined to fit current events, sent H. Oka, Japanese farmer, to the district attorney's office for a grand theft warrant today.

Oka, in obtaining the John Doe warrant, told Deputy District Attorney James Thuesen this story:

A German came to Oka's place and said he wanted to rent it. Next day a Jew arrived also with the avowed intention of renting.

"Pretty soon," continued Oka, "here comes German again. He have big bundle furs under his arm, you know, sure. Pretty soon he look at furs and blow on them.

"'Pretty good fur,' he say.

"Jew say, 'I give you $20,' then he say he is Jew.

"German, he say 'I won't sell to Jew," and takes back fur and gives back money, starts to walk away.

"Jew he say if I buy furs for him, he will pay me, so I go to back with German, get $200 and buy ten furs, but when I get home, Jew, he gone too."

The furs turned out to be rabbit, dyed black.

Grave Threats Told By Hull

and sovereignty of any of them.

Cantilo spoke in reply to Concha, who as chairman opened the second day's session with a declaration that the conference should increase unity of the Western hemisphere to a point where an attack on any American nation would "affect the essential interests of all."

Secretary Hull, leader of the Washington delegation, made one of the most earnest and strongest speeches of his life.

He warned his fellow delegates against activities from abroad which he said were aimed at "undermining and destroying in other nations established institutions of government and basic social order."

He left it up to each nation to take what measures were necessary "to meet these insidious dangers."

Hull, who already on this trip to South America had seen many evidences of German, Italian and Japanese penetrations, added that those failing to see the "ominous signs all about us must have both their eyes and minds closed."

Is Important Duty

He urged the conference that "it is our most important duty to ourselves and humanity to maintain and preserve inviolate our own institutions and the beliefs on which they rest."

The speaker laid down a four-point program for "building an enduring structure of peace:"

1. "We must examine anew the existing instruments of peace," Hull said, thereby hinting at a United States project which may be presented at the conference for working all existing agreements into one.

2. "A sincere effort" toward "strengthening the foundations of international law."

3. "Restore mutually profitable trade to the fullest practical extent both among American nations and among all nations of the world." Unless this can be done, he said, the prospect of peace "must remain dark indeed."

4. "Wider and stronger foundations for international cultural relations and better understanding among nations."

Coach Misses Call

Coach Russell of the small but powerful Masons was delegated to call the toss—and he missed it, sending the semi-final game to Lubbock.

It will be Lubbock's first venture past the quarter final round in the state race. In 1931 the Westerners won their first district title, followed it with a bi-district championship, but lost to Abilene in the West Texas classic. This year, the Lubbock team has beaten all Texas opponents, including a decisive victory over Amarillo for the District 1 title and a 26-6 win over Vernon for the championship of District 1 and 2. Last Friday they squelched Breckenridge High school, 36-14, for the quarter-final title, and are ranked favorites to take the semi-final game.

Masonic Home yesterday won from Highland Park of Dallas on the basis of penetrations of the 20-yard zone. Final score was 12-12, the Masons scoring all their points in the last half after trailing, 0-12, at the halftime.

Temple tied Tyler, 13-13, in their quarterfinal game yesterday, but the Wildcats won the semi-final berth on basis of most penetrations. Corpus Christi defeated John Reagan of Houston, 40 to 0, in the other quarter-final game.

Dallas Office Holder Tells Court Salary Must Be Cut

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP)—An office holder demanded a salary cut here today.

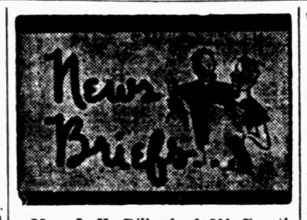

County Commissioner Tom Field served notice on County Judge Ben Fly and his fellow-commissioners that after January 1 he will not accept his $5,500 annual salary allowed him by law.

Field ordered himself a $825 cut next year, in proportion to scheduled reductions of courthouse employes' salaries.

University Regents Talk But Decide Upon No New Prexy

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Full membership of the University of Texas board of regents discussed selection of a president for the school today but none would indicate what action, if any, was taken.

Leo Haynes, secretary of the board, said the group had not decided on a date for another meeting.

Mrs. J. H. Dillard of 501 Fourth street Saturday reported to police that a truck had run into her and had failed to stop. Licenes number was given to police. None was injured seriously.

Margaret Camamck of Lubbock, police said, reported a hit and run driver ran into her car. None had been arrested in connection with the case, officers said early today.

A 30-year-old Mexican was arrested at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Bill Mabray of the police department for investigation into theft complaints. Two other suspects in a burglary were arrested, but later released.

Miss Doris Kolb will be presented in an organ recital at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel, according to announcement Saturday. The electric organ recital will be open to the public, it was said.

Wild Escapade In Stolen Car Ends With Arrest Of Trio

HOUSTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—A wild escapade in a stolen car from which rifle shots were fired at a half dozen other automobiles in Houston's south end was ended last night with the arrest of three youths.

The trio, Donald Smith, Prentice Conrad, and Robert Greene, all 17, were in city jail today charged with robbery by firearms, after police reported they confessed to a series of robberies in Houston, Almeda, Alvin and Conroe.

Police said Conrad and Smith also admitted stealing a car early Friday night and cruising through a residential section, firing at other machines, slightly wounding a negro chauffeur. Smith was arrested by detectives after he abandoned the machine and the other two were taken into custody later.

Smith was charged last May with the killing of his father, M. E. Smith, but was paroled by juvenile authorities to his mother after she testified the elder Smith advanced on the boy when he tried to interfere while the older man was beating her.

University Of Texas Studes Organize To Back Roosevelt

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—A group of University of Texas students announced today they had formed a "committee for the continuation of Rooseveltian reform" in opposition to a recent John N. Garner-for-president movement.

Fred Schmidt of San Antonio was chosen chairman; Tom Law of Austin, vice-chairman, and Jack Frye of Amarillo, secretary-treasurer.

"We hope that this will be the opening gun in a movement to show the nation that Texas is still strongly for President Roosevelt and the New Deal," Schmidt said.

Piping Hot Meal To Await O'Daniel At Big Mansion

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—The minute W. Lee O'Daniel is inaugurated governor of Texas the traditional piping hot meal will await him at the mansion.

Mrs. James V. Allred said today she would direct preparation of the dinner, which by custom is left at the mansion by the retiring governor's family for that of the incoming executive.

Vet Commander Speaks In City

D. A. Dunlavey of Port Arthur, Texas, department commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars, was guest of honor Saturday night at a banquet here sponsored by the Lubbock post of the VFW.

"The Lubbock post is an outstanding organization, and is stressing an Americanism program—a program the VFW everywhere is trying to put over," he said. The Lubbock post is doing everything it can to cooperate with the city in civic movements."

Walter J. Gates of Galveston, state adjutant, also was on the program.

Dunlavey was to go from here to Abilene for the seventh district convention today.

The date for the state convention of the VFW is set for next June, Terrell H. St. Clair, Lubbock post commander, reported. The convention will be held in Amarillo.

KILLS HIS FATHER

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Dec. 11. (AP) — Undersheriff Lawrence Nieri said Richard Beichert, 20, shot and killed his father, William Beichert, 58-year-old World war veteran, near here today after Beichert assertedly had beaten and critically injured the boy's mother during a quarrel.

Skylarks have been introduced into America on several occasions.

Inquiry Staged Into Robbery

LEBANON, O., Dec. 10. (AP) —Federal bureau of investigation agents were expected here today to question two ex-convicts and their women companions about a $2,700 bank robbery in Sebring, O., which preceded the abduction of a state highway patrolman Thursday night.

The four, closely guarded and under heavy bond, were held for grand jury action Jan. 3 on charges of armed robbery and kidnaping.

To File Detainers

The FBI announced detainers would be filed against the two men, David I. Cross, 29, Hamilton, Pa., and Coy Russell, 29, alias A. D. Mitchell, Houston, Tex., in connection with the Sebring robbery.

Prosecutor C. Donald Dilatush said the men confessed the officers' abduction, the Sebring robbery, a $7,000 Columbiana county bank holdup last December, an $800 Fairfield, Neb., bank robbery, several liquor store hold-ups near Pittsburgh, and numerous auto thefts.

Col. Lynn Black, superintendent of the patrol, who said Russell admitted escaping from the Huntsville, Tex., state prison, reported the men left a trail of violence from North Dakota to Pennsylvania.

Cowboy World Wins First In Contest Staged At Denton

The Cowboy World, weekly publication of Lubbock Junior High school, won first place for mimeographed newspapers for the fourth consecutive year at the high school press association meeting which closed Saturday at Texas State College for Women at Denton.

The 1938 Westerner World received a rating of "All-Texas."

Real Santa Claus Tries To Answer All Letters To Him--But He Is Poor Man

MARSHALL, Mo., Dec. 10. (AP)—Has Santa Claus written his letter to you?

Santa Claus—that's his real name—is a plumber and a pastor for 11 months of the year, but during December he is the leading patron of the Marshall post office.

For years hundreds of children from every section of the United States have directed their letters to the real Santa Claus who lives here.

The real Santa Claus is a poor man. He can't take care of the gifts requested, but he tries to answer all his letters—last year he responded to all but 200 of some 1,000 received and those lacked sufficient return addresses.

It's his way of having a Merry Christmas and the letters he has received from hundreds of parents thanking him are sufficient in the way of remuneration.

Jewish Children Are Carried Out Of Vienna To Safety

VIENNA, Dec. 10 (AP) — A ten-coach train carried 560 Jewish children out of this city tonight, in flight from the nazi anti-semitic storm over what was for their fathers gay Vienna.

The 400 boys and girls, aged three to 17, left for England and The Netherlands accompanied by 20 Jewish women who found jobs as house servants in England.

Mothers and relatives were not permitted to enter the station. They said farewell to the children at nearby hotels.

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Duval Maddox, 86, widow of a prominent Austin attorney whose firm once employed the famed author, O. Henry, and who was the daughter of the first federal judge in Texas, died here today.

Mrs. Maddox, a native of Austin, was the daughter of federal Judge Thomas Duval and grand daughter of William Duval, who served as governor of Florida under three presidents.

French Defense Forces For Tunisia Being Strengthened

TUNIS, Tunisia, Dec. 10. (AP)—Bombing planes and submarines strengthened French national defense forces in Tunisia tonight.

The arrival of the sea and air equipment, authorities said, was only part of regular training manuevers.

Strong police guards continued to patrol Tunis streets, although today was calm after pro-Italian and pro-French demonstrations earlier in the week.

issues he may resort to the radio, they say, and the people will respond by demanding that their representatives fall into line. That O'Daniel has tremendous popular backing was amply demonstrated, they assert, by his gaining the nomination with a clear majority over 11 opponents.

O'Daniel's theme of "down" with the professional politicians" played a big part in his amazingly successful race last summer. He stressed the fact that he had no political debts whereas his chief opponents either were long-time officeholders or repeatedly had campaigned for office.

Passengers And Crewmen Are Safe After Train Wreck

DEFIANCE, O., Dec. 10. (AP)—In a jumble of shattered glass and derailed cars 80 passengers and 20 crewmen emerged today from a train wreck near here without a serious injury.

The Chicago-to-Pittsburgh Fort Pitt limited of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was derailed by the tender of its second of two locomotives.

Two cars overturned and six came to rest at a crazy angle in a muddy ditch.

Mrs. Ida Russell Is Freed In Slaying Of Her Husband

HUGO, Okla., Dec. 10. (AP)—After three hours of deliberation, a district court jury today acquitted Mrs. Ida Russell of Paris, Tex., of a murder charge alleging she shot to death her husband, W. C. Russell, at their farm home near here last March.

Mrs. Russell pleaded self defense, contending she shot her husband only because she feared him and had threatened her. She testified he had drunk excesively during the past year following business reverses.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 10. (AP)—"Oh, leave me alone," yawned Erwin Goldberg, 20-year-old traveling salesman, when two men shook him as he lay a-bed today.

Then he turned over and went back to sleep.

His disturbers unceremoniously bundled him in a blanket and carried him out of the house. They were policemen. The house was on fire.

ANSON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Four-year-old Nellie Fay Moran was crushed to death today in a traffic mishap as she attempted to walk across the highway.

INJURED FATALLY

For these reasons, hundreds of thousands of American newspaper readers DEMAND Associated Press reports in the papers they read, so they may be sure what they are reading is not only up-to-the-minute, but FACTFUL, as well.

IN TEXAS, as in the world over, The Associated Press is the largest, the oldest and the most efficient news disseminating organization. Every Texas newspaper accepted as the LEADING NEWSPAPER of its city or section is a member of The Associated Press. That is true from the Red River to the Rio Grande and from New Mexico to Arkansas and Louisiana. The Associated Press in Texas has the largest staff of writers—more than the other services combined.

It serves more papers—more than the other services combined.

It has correspondents in each of the 254 counties and, as no other service can do or attempts to do, The Associated Press covers Texas news THOROUGHLY throughout every hour of every day.

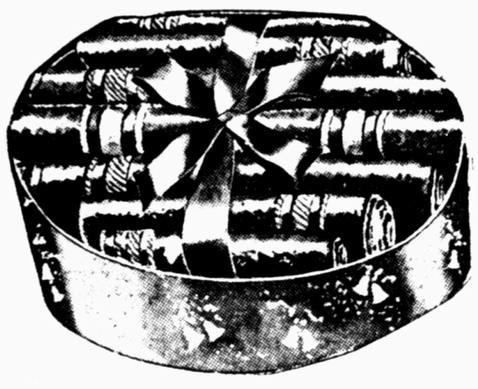

THE FUR-FLUNG honor, the universal reader acceptance, the prestige and the respect which are The Associated Press' from Syracuse to Singapore and from Kankakee to Bueano Aires are also The Associated Press' from Texline to Brownsville and from Texarkana to El Paso!

That is why Associated Press membership is the most valuable possession of any newspaper fortunate enough to hold such membership.

UNIQUE COLLECTION

MOST unique art collection ever sent on tour in the United States is currently covering an itinerary that includes museums, colleges, libraries and department stores. It is the Exhibition of Useful Objects Under $5, assembled by New York's famed Museum of Modern Art, where for three weeks it placed such surprising items as skillets, bathroom stools, stocking dryers and dish drainers alongside abstract lithographs and raw-realistic photographs.

All items were obtained from 10-cent stores, specialty shops and department store basements and are generally available. The exhibition's purpose is to show that machine production has developed an aesthetic peculiar to new materials, absence of ornament and economy of means, and to demonstrate the availability and low price of household articles of the best modern design.

ONE WOMAN'S PRAYER

WE have in mind several brave women as we present this bit of literature written by Marian Hurd McNeely. It's called "Help."

The preacher came to visit me today;
(I know that means they think I am to die.)
He asked me if I felt I wanted prayer.
I told him that I didn't want to wheedle God
To let me in. Prayer time was past.
And then he asked me of my years gone by
And all my rich experiences of life—
(He called them rich) which thing had helped Me most to live. I know he wanted me
To say God had. But that's not true.
I told him work.

It wasn't God or Bible text
That kept me here when David died:
It was the cooking of three meals a day
For David's children, and the washing clothes
For them to wear. The night that Joe was killed
I cleaned the pantry shelves, and put fresh papers on;
I canned tomatoes all the week that
Jane went blind;
It helped me not to think.
God may be here to hold the hands
Of those in grief. But when my hands are held
My heart runs wild.

I asked the preacher if he thought that life
Would end our work. I dreamed harps
And rest and sitting still.
He said he thought that God filled hands
Within His gates, with what they sought

SCATTERINGS

ALLEN Kneip, tall and handsome youth of 23 who has been serving as stand-in for James Ellison, movie star, is to be given an opportunity to stardom in his own right. He went to high school and college with Mrs. Roger Knapp . . . Everyone who has gone to Radio City Music hall has seen the Rockettes, the most famous chorus of precision dancers in the world. We learned recently they are from 17 to 26 years old; average about five-feet-five in height; make $2,470 a year; get two weeks' vacation in summer in addition to one week out of four . . . At his next cabaret, the Diamond Horseshoe, Billy Rose will see that customers receive change only in cartwheel silver dollars . . . Captain Jumbo Webster of the Lubbock Westerners team was put on the spot last week in an English class. After he had made a talk on "Some Rules of Football," the class pelted him with questions for several minutes. It's said he came through with as much grace as he shows on the gridiron.

COTTON BOWL SONG

HERE'S the "Cotton Bowl Jubilee" song composed by Phil Baxter of Dallas, who has to his credit such songs as "Piccolo Pete" and "Ding Dong Daddy," and dedicated to the famous bowl game to be played in Dallas January 2. Maurice Erickson sang it at the dinner honoring the Dallas boosters Friday night, accompanied by Charles Fike.

"There's a little bit o'cotton, everywhere
In the food we eat, in the clothes we wear
So why not crown the product of renown
Chorus: Old King Cotton you're not forgotten
And in all sincerity
We rise in state to celebrate
At the Cotton Bowl Jubilee.
Down in Dallas they built a Palace
And they're giving you the key
You'll be the tops in southern crops
At the Cotton Bowl Jubilee
They're coming in buses, coming

Louella . . .

DEAR LOUELLA: Today I have a great big bouquet for Mrs. A. B. (Addison) Brown who this month is retiring after two years of expert reporting of news for the First Methodist Women's Missionary society.

The average person, of course, has no idea of our news sources. If the paper is wrong, the paper alone is blamed and if the paper does an exceptionally good job of carrying the news it alone is praised. Those intermediaries between yours truly and the organizations of which I write are the forgotten women of our department.

Mrs. Brown's predecessor was Mrs. T. B. Smith who also for two years gave us efficient service. The job, after January 1, will be taken over by Mrs. R. P. Fuller who will continue in the same faithful manner, I believe.

Invited To Sweetwater

Clyde Southworth of Sweetwater dropped by the office after the football game Friday and extended to the boy friend and me the invitation to semi-annual open house at their home Christmas afternoon and night. An automobile accident in his family prevented last summer's gathering and so, he says, we'll make up for it this time. Several couples from Lubbock and a number of people from Post will be going down.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell and daughter, Suzanne, of Fort Worth are week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith of 1917 Dixie Drive.

MRS. C. B. POWELL, who has been visiting several weeks in Rusk, Dallas, Beaumont and other places, wrote her daughter, Josephine, that in Dallas she visited the Guion Greggs who used to live here. She said Irene Gregg pledged Alpha Omicron Pi at S.M.U. and that when initiated she will wear Mrs. E. L. Bank's sorority pin. Mrs. Banks, who was an A. O. Pi at the University of Tennessee many years ago is giving the pin to Irene.

Unfortunate Accident

Mrs. Amelia McKinney had an unfortunate accident the other day as she was walking along in front of Junior high school. Dodging the groups of children who were playing along the walks she failed to see two large boys who were boxing. One of the boys backed into her, knocked her down, then stepped on her, all while dodging his fellow boxer. The accident was unavoidable, I presume, since children have to play but it is too bad there had to be a victim. Mrs. McKinney was quite painfully and seriously injured.

THIS has been another of those "partying" week-ends for me. I went to the Lubbock Garden club Christmas tea Friday night, then went over to meet the charming visitors in the Eugene Smith home. Saturday afternoon I went to the Lubbock Music club seated tea and that night I attended the Tech home economics club open house. This afternoon I am going to one of several parties that are being giv for Mrs. I. D. Cole of Amarillo. had to miss the Pan Hellenic t Saturday morning because I was t busy at the office.

Little Gene Parmele, daughter the Bill Parmeles of 2104 Sixteent street, is on the sick list. She ha been having ear trouble.

Dall's Libel Suit Against Time Magazine Settled Out Of Court

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—An associate of Curtis B. Dall, first husband of Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, the president's daughter, said today that Dall's libel suit against Time magazine had been settled out of court to his "complete satisfaction."

Dall brought the action in August, 1934, claiming an article in Time had held him up to ridicule. The article concerned the suicide of a son-in-law of former Premier Gaston Doumergue of France.

By comparing that incident with the situation that might result should Dall kill himself, the broker claimed, the impression had been given that he had in fact done so.

Take-Time-To-Consider Marriage Law Is In Effect In Maryland

ELKTON, Md., Dec. 10. (AP)—The Maryland marriage business — the hurry-up type—is all washed up; nowhere in the state could a marriage license be obtained today.

And Elkton, the East's foremost "Gretna Green" with 16,000 weddings since January was marriageless today.

The take-time-to-consider marriage laws is in effect.

It started at midnight Thursday. Bars slammed down on immediate marraiges—an inducement that had attracted thousands of couples to Elkton from New York, Philadelphia and way-points.

Now they still can get their licenses in Maryland without need of bothersome physical examinations—but, they'll have to apply 48 hours in advance.

The grade of cotton—an important factor in the price it brings—is determined by the color of the fibre, trash or foreign matter, preginning condition and ginning methods.

Dismal Outlook For Christmas Is In Prospect For Cousin Of Lubbock Woman In Far East

The approaching Christmas season holds brighter prospects for Mrs. H. W. Maris of 1515 College avenue than that of 1900 did for her cousin, Chris J. Records.

Letters in Mrs. Maris' possession reveal a dismal outlook for Records, a private in company C, 9th U. S. infantry, stationed in Tanku, China. Rations promised to be the usual "hard tack, corned beef and beans," he wrote.

Records was killed in 1901 when company C was camping in a churchyard. Enemy soldiers, dressed in priest's raiment, carried munitions into the church, then made a merciless attack, according to information given the family.

In a letter to his grandfather, Rev. Samuel Records of Peru, Kans., Records told of guarding $104,000 in gold.

"It costs a pile of money to keep Uncle Sam's army, especially in a foreign country," he wrote.

Another letter, pupblished in the Sedan, Kans., Times Star, was written by Records from Angelus, Philippine Islands, Oct. 8, 1899. He said: "Last night I had a cartridge belt for a pillow and was covered by a sheet of water. I long for more biscuits and less bullets. . . . I tell you it makes a body have funny feeling when the Mausers and Remingtons begin to whistle around him."

Weslaco Returns To Normal On Saturday After 'Birthday' Event

WESLACO, Dec. 10. (AP) — This city returned to normal today after a "birthday" celebration that brought an estimated 20,000 visitors.

It was the 19th anniversary and Moulton Cobb, general chairman of the festivities, said it was the largest crowd in the history of the event.

Former Governor Pat M. Neff of Waco, Attorney general-elect Gerald Mann and State Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald were the principal speakers.

An estimated 10,000 attended a style show, closing feature last night, with 43 models wearing dresses fashioned from fresh vegetables, citrus fruit and nearly every type of agricultural product. First place winners in the three divisions were: Miss Allie Bell, Elsa; Miss Ann Hall, Weslaco; Miss Betty Sue Robinson, Mercedes.

Reform Sought For Churches

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 10. (AP)—A clergyman called upon the church today to readjust its position with the capitalistic economic system, and to join with the farmer and the laborer in a "reform" of the world's economic structure.

The speaker, the Rev. Mark A. Dawber of the federal council of churches' home missions council, also urged better understanding of the labor movement on the part of farmers, who, he said, "defeat their own purpose" by allying themselves with the capitalistic class."

Involved In System

"The church as now constituted," asserted Mr. Dawber in a panel discussion at the council's biennial meeting, "is inextricably involved in this capitalistic economic system.

". . . The church should read the handwriting on the wall and set its house in order. If it does not do so, then mighty processes over which it has no control will compel the issue."

"The conclusion of which is," he added, "that organized religion as it now exists will pass with the passing of the capitalistic system, unless it separates itself from this partnership and declares for an economic morality that is better qualified to interpret the spiritual values."

In urging more active cooperation of the church in rural and small town economic readjustment, Mr. Dawber sought to reconcile the viewpoints of the farmer and laborer.

Defeat Own Interests

"Farmers think of themselves in the capitalistic class and, as a rule, throw their influence upon the side of competitive capitalism," he said. "As a consequence, they defeat their own best interests."

He urged education of "farmers and rural people in general" to "see the basic relationship that should exist between farmers and labor."

"The opposition of farmers to labor unions and the higher wage scale is short sighted," he asserted. "To increase the purchasing power of the great masses of the labor group is, by all odds, the best single factor in the interests of better prices to the farmer for the goods he produces."

J. R. Weiss Will Be Busy Man This Week; Plans Show, Move

With Plans to move his downtown automobile agency for Chryslers and the Plymouth from 1414 Avenue K to 713 Texas avenue, J. R. Weiss of the Weiss Motor Co. said Saturday he expected to be a busy man this week.

Until the move is made, now scheduled for Thursday, 1939 Plymouths will be on display at the Avenue K location and also any models of Chryslers that may arrive this week. Delivery of the new models of that car has been delayed owing to heavy demands on the factory for the new cars.

Weiss Motor Co., is also dealer for the International truck line and he has a complete line of these machines in the show rooms at the Texas avenue location. They have been dealers in this section for many years and are well known throughout the territory.

On Sept. 15 Weiss bought out the John Jackson Motor Co., then Chrysler and Plymouth dealers. The new owner reports a good many deliveries of 1939 cars, production alone delaying sales.

Sensitive Film Is Lifting Veil Of What Lies In Galaxy Center

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—Photographic film sensitive to red light is lifting the veil of what lies in the center of the galaxy, the huge star system of which the earth is a minute part.

It discloses that stars are so thick in the nucleud of the galaxy," Dr. Walter Baade, astronomer of the Carnegie institution's Mount Wilson observatory, said today, "that a dime held 35 inches from the eye would cover 800,000 of them."

Astronomers picture the galaxy as shaped like a thin watch, with the sun and its planets well out from the center. They have evidence that it is like the spiral nebulae, and, if observed from one of these other star systems far out in space, would show outlines resembling a watch spring, or a spinning wheel.

They are interested in finding "what makes it tick," but dust clouds in the region of the milky way have obscured the nucleus or center of the galaxy. This recently developed red-sensitive film is enabling them to penetrate the dust clouds.

H. F. Anthony and associates' (formerly Lagoki Oil company's) No. 1 Richards-Shaw, Reeves county wildcat 20 miles northwest of Toyah, flowed 20 to 25 barrels of 30.5 gravity oil daily at 1,630 feet, and J. E. Mabee No. 1 Willard, marking a one-mile southwest extension to the Bennett field in Yoakum county, was completed at 5,227 feet with record daily potential for the county of 2,840 barrels.

Completions, Locations Gain

Both completions and locations showed gains over the preceding week. Thirty-three producers and three failures were finaled in a dozen counties, compared with 29 and seven, respectively, in 10 counties the week before, while locations were listed for 37 field tests and two wildcats in nine counties, five field tests more but two wildcats less than the number staked in 13 counties the week before.

Reports lacking official confirmation credited Gulf's wildcat in Garza county with making a natural flow of 148 barrels of 36.7 gravity oil in nine hours through 7-inch casing after being swabbed in. The pipe, cemented at 7,400 feet following plugging back of the hole from 8,104, had been perforated with 10 shots between 7,352 and 7,400 feet. Later, No. 1 Swenson was reported to have flowed 150 barrels of oil in 10 hours, then died, and to have shown water when the bailer was run after tubing was drawn.

Storage Tanks Erected

Three 500-barrel tanks were being erected for a production test. The oil bearing zone was unannounced but was believed to be Strawn, or Bend, basal Pennsylvanian. Water was said to have been struck in the Ordovician in drilling to 8,104 feet. Since its start secrecy had surrounded the test, which is on the huge Swenson ranch managed by Clifford B. Jones of Spur, newly elected president of Texas Tech at Lubbock. Location is in the center of the northwest quarter of section 25-2-H&GN, only a quarter mile west of the Garza-Kent county line, 15 miles southwest of Spur and 25 miles northeast of Post. Elevation is 2,274 feet. Gulf has three big blocks in Garza and neighboring counties.

Production by Anthony No. 1 Richards-Shaw in the old Toyah shallow area in Reeves county was reported to be from the upper Castile. A flow that had been sustained for several days was surprising since other tests that had good shows failed to produce. Location is 660 from the north, 1,420 feet from the west line of section 16-59-psl, with elevation 3,127 feet.

Job Is Narrowed

Mabee No. 1 Willard, establishing record potential in Yoakum county, narrowing the gap between the Bennett pool and the Denver field to the southwest to four miles. It was treated with 6,000 gallons of acid. The well is 440 from the north, 2,200 feet from the west line of section 741-D-John H. Gibson. Mabee staked a south offset, No. 2 Willard, and Devonian started No 1 W. S. Hodges a quarter mile east of the big well. Shell No. 1 Ruyts, two miles east of the Mabee producer, pumped 95 barrels of fluid, 55 per cent oil and 45 per cent basic sediment and water, in 13 hours, bottomed at 5,270 feet.

The Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county completed two wells: Texas No. 3 Slaughter flowing 267 barrels daily at 5,003 feet, and Murchison & Closuitt No. 1 Slaughter flowing 660 barrels daily at 5,056 feet. Texas No. 1-B Mallett, promising a two-mile west extension, was preparing to pump at 5,035 feet.

Seminole Pool Extended

Osage Drilling company and Atlantic started No. 1 J. L. Tippett, west offset to Osage and Frick No. 1 Riley, which extended the Seminole field in Gaines county four miles northwest or opened a new pool. It is 1,980 from the north, 660 feet from the east line of section 266-G-WTRR.

H. C. Wheeler No. 1 White & Shelton, in the northwest quarter of section 19-A36-psl, three miles west of the Means field in Andrews county, swabbed two barrels of fluid hourly after re-acidizing at 4,681 feet. Rogers & Rogers staked No. 1-B University in the center of the southwest quarter of section 20-9-U, three miles northeast of the Emma pool and four and one-half miles south of the Fuhrman field. Anderson-Prichard and Osage No. 1 University, in the southeast corner of section 13-14-U, two miles northwest of the Deep Rock pool, topped the anhydrite at 1,670 feet, 1,540 feet above sea level and 32 feet higher than Gulf No. 1-G State, a dry hole one and one-half miles to the northeast.

Scurry Wildcat Staked

Forest Development corporation staked a wildcat in Scurry county, No. 1 Koonsman, 990 from the south, 660 feet from the west line of section 217-2-H&TC.

Standard of Texas staked locations for two extension trials to the University pool in eastern Crane county, No. 1-4 University in the northwest corner of section 4-30-U, one and one-quarter miles east by northeast of its No. 1-6 University, fifth well in the area and a one-half mile northwest extension, and No. 1-5 University, 2,310 from the north, 330 feet from the west line of section 5-30-U, a quarter mile east of No. 1-6 U.

Gulf No. 9 Waddell in the Sand Hills district in Western Crane county topped the Simpson, middle Ordovician, low at 5,830 feet, 3,285 feet below sea level, and cemented 7-inch casing at 5,836 feet. It is in the northeast corner of section 7-B27-psl, one-half mile southeast of an Ordovician producer.

H. D. Wilcox began rigging up standard tools for a Presidio county wildcat on the Jones-Coffield ranch, 1,220 from the south, 2,640 feet from the east line of section 308-4-H&TC, seven miles south and slightly west of Valentine.

Tennessee experiments indicate that one day's work on corn yielding 40 or more bushels per acre produces more profit than 18 days' work on corn yielding 14 bushels per acre.

Sales of general merchandise in small towns and rural areas were higher in October than for any previous month of 1938, but about 12 per cent lower than October, 1937.

South Plains Farmers Have Received $29,601,568 Since 1933 In AAA Benefits

Lubbock County Receives Most

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

South Plains farmers who since the plow-up campaign back in 1933 have cooperated with the AAA and other government agricultural agencies on soil conservation and crop control, have profited to the extent of twenty-nine and a half million dollars, a report from state AAA headquarters, shows.

A dozen of the 21 counties received more than a million dollars each, from 1933 to the close of the crop year of 1937. One county received over three million, three over two million and five over a million and a half dollars.

Grand Total of $29,601,568

Totals for the 19 counties in extension service district No. 2 was $28,061,568; for the old AAA from 1933 to 1936, $19,883,524; for the ACP in 1936, $4,901,450 and for the ACP in 1937, $3,276,594. The other two counties brought the totals to $20,888,604, $5,263,689 and $3,449,283, respectively, a grand total of $29,601,568.

Parity payments, CPA and Bankhead certificate payments are not included in the 1933-6 totals.

Figures were secured by V. L. Cade, a member of the state AAA committee.

Million dollar counties are as follows: Lamb, $3,318,195; Hale, $2,-[illegible]671; LUBBOCK, $2,698,603; Swisher, $2,371,722; Castro, $1,968,-[illegible]7; Hockley, $1,865,210; Lynn, $1,-[illegible]5,188; Floyd, $1,708,506; Crosby, $1,656,351; Parmer, $1,498,355; Dawson, $1,329,262; Terry, $1,146,257.

Cochran, Gaines and Yoakum counties, smallest in agricultural acreage received the least federal aid. Those three counties have large ranch operations but small acreages in crops of cotton, wheat, corn and sorghums. Kent, south of Dickens, is a part of district 2 and it ranked just above the other three. The four counties have received a total of less than half a million dollars each.

No figures on the 1938 crops are available. Payments have not been made for the current season.

In adjoining columns may be found the comparative figures county by county.

For the years 1936 and 1937 no subsidy or benefit payments for other crops than cotton are included. These totals are only for cotton payments, it was explained.

Benefit Payments By Counties In Area

Benefit payments made to farmers of this area, as shown in a report from AAA at College Station, for extension district No. 2. Gaines and Dawson counties are included in the total figures.

In column 1 are shown AAA payments for the years 1933-5 inclusive; column 2, agricultural conservation payments for 1936 and in column 3, A.C.P. for 1937, with column 4 the totals. Cotton subsidy payments are not included.

Youth Wants To Be A Farmer And Has Come All The Way From England To Learn On The Farm Of Grandparents Near Lubbock

By TOM MILLER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Bill Vessey wants to be a farmer!

A fortnight ago the slight, blonde 14-year-old lad, born Thomas William Vessey, was at home with his parents in England, where he was reared.

Since Monday he has become a full-fledged farm hand on the farm of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ferguson of west of Lubbock.

Has Learned To Milk

How does he like farm life?

"Fine. Already I have learned to milk a cow with both hands, sometimes hold the bucket between my legs."

"My father wants me to be an engineer, but I want to be a farmer," he asserted in a umlouted English accent.

Bill's father is an engineer with the Ford Motor company in England, his native land. The boy went there with his father at 4 years old, the family having left Lubbock 13 years ago.

He will enter high school in Frenship High school at Wolfforth in January. His classification is a "question." Schools in England are graded differently to those in America.

Discipline Much Stricter

Discipline there, however, is much stricter, he said. For simply whispering in the classroom a student is subject to "getting the stick."

"Getting the stick" to errant American students means hard lashes. Maximum lashes to English children for whispering are six.

A week on the South Plains has convinced the youngster that this is "the" country. At 21 he will have his choice of citizenship between American and English.

"I feel sure it will be American," he averred, though the expression on his face was far more convincing that the sentence itself.

People Are Friendlier

"The people here are friendlier than in England."

That summed up various other questions he had been asked.

He likes this country—and "that farm."

Bill already has started ownership in his chosen farm life. His uncle, Golden Furgeson — eight months his minor, shared with him one of two thoroughbred Hampshire hogs.

He flushed visibly with elation when he ventured that information.

Rode First Horse Friday

"Firsts" are not unusual for him. He first rode a horse Friday morning, but Golden has some firsts yet to come, quite as unusual as any Bill could name.

Golden looks forward through a "goodly crop" of freckles to first sight of Bill's mother, his sister. He was only 8 months old when the Vesseys left Lubbock.

BILL VESSEY

Royal Furgeson, district clerk-elect of Lubbock county, is another uncle. He visited the Vesseys in 1936 and Bill begged to return here with him then.

His iron-clad promise was fulfilled this week.

Football Is Different

Bill seemed not too favorably impressed with American football after watching Lubbock and Breckenridge play Friday afternoon. Football is different in England, possibly "tamer," but the "original," he said.

Boxing ranks first in his sports likes. He used to be a bowler on his school's cricket team. The bowler in cricket has similar duties to a baseball pitcher.

But Bill never has seen a baseball game. He was warned that to be in full rank as an American farmer he'd have to see the national pastime. He'd like to "very much."

Baseball recently made its appearance in England, is liked there, but Bill unfortunately missed all games.

Is he homesick?

He answered negatively, but said another sickness brought about homesickness his frist two days on the Queen Mary, on which he traveled alone over the Atlantic. The trip required four days.

Bill remained in his bunk those first two days and wished he was at home or on a farm in America.

Two men in New York were supposed to care for him his one night there. They deserted him. He started wandering.

Arrived Here Monday

Fortunately he met friends of his father, who offered him lodging for the night. The next morning he left by train for Texas. He arrived in Lubbock Monday.

The train trip was "not so dismal," he said. His chance companion was the chief police of Mesa, Ariz. The latter had been to New York to tell radio listeners of his hobby through a national network. His hobby—collecting prison pants.

England is all right, America is better. Engineering is all right for engineers.

But Bill wants to be a farmer.

Loans Of $32,200,738 Made On Wheat, $151,204,054 On Cotton

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Commodity Credit corporation announced today it had lent $32,200,738 on 54,635,514 bushels of wheat through yesterday.

The number of bushels on which loans were made, by states, included: New Mexico, 2,755; Oklahoma, 3,991,951; Texas, 1,726,376.

The corporation said it had lent $151,204,054 or 3,278,924 bales of cotton. The number of bales on which loans were made, by states, included: New Mexico, 27,775; Oklahoma, 111,193; Texas, 992,809.

It said that through December 3, loans aggregating $13,303,294 had been made on 73,488,839 net grease pounds of wool. This included repayments of $2,068,044 covering 11,-628,839 pounds.

Collection Of Feed, Seed Loans In 2 Counties Said 'Best Ever'

Collection of emergency feed and seed cans is "the best ever," said Fred N. Warren, supervisor in charge of several counties in this section.

"We have made splendid collections from row crop farmers, especially in Lubbock and Lynn counties," he added. Other counties are reporting good collections.

Garza Agent Urges Club Boys Send In Project Records

POST, Dec. 10. — All 4-H club boys of Garza county have been urged by Homer Thompson, county agent, to send in their record books for projects for 1938. Books are due in College Station Dec. 15.

French Academy officers estimate there are 2,796 languages spoken in the world.

Tech Plans For Dallas Exhibit

A lamb and a loom are among entries planned for the cotton exhibit that will represent Texas Technological college at the Cotton Bowl jubilee in Dallas, M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering, said Saturday.

According to tentative plans, a lamb will be fed cottonseed cake and meal as part of the display.

On the loom will be woven hat or arm bands with the words, "Texas Tech Red Raiders". The bands may be purchased for 25 cents at the college or at the scene of the exhibit, the lobby of the Adolphus hotel.

The bands will be white with red and black letters.

Heard said definite plans for the exhibit will be formulated in the next few days. The exhibits will be taken to Dallas the night of Dec. 28 and will be shown Dec. 29 through Jan. 2.

Irish Eyes Are Smiling Again After Colleen Wins Her Revolt

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10. (AP)—Irish eyes are smiling.

Meanwhile, her parents and seven younger brothers and sisters left for New York to embark for the Emerald isle.

Ann flounced out of the house last night shouting "I won't go back to Ireland; I'd sooner jump in the ocean."

Weeping but hardly subdued, she was found later at the home of a friend.

Her plea: "I was brought to America when I was two weeks old. I wouldn't be happy over there. I like it here."

Addition of small quantities of copper and manganese to some of the peat soils of the Florida everglades causes bountiful crops to grow on hitherto unproductive land.

Healthiest In The Land By 4-H Verdict

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. — When congress sits down in January to decide what to do about the WPA, it will face one big argument against making any cuts.

That argument is 400,000 votes.

It is personified in the membership of the Workers Alliance of America, one of the biggest unions in the world, the union of workingmen who are on relief.

Voices Its Demands

At the time of its birth as a national organization three years ago, the alliance voiced its demands through loud demonstrations in the streets, noisy meetings in abandoned halls, and violent clashes with police in which heads were cracked and scores were jailed.

Next week the alliance will make the most sweeping demand in its history—a demand for expansion instead of the proposed reduction in WPA rolls—and it will be done in a quiet meeting with WPA officials in Washington.

The more subdued approach is explained by the alliance national president, David Lasser, in these words:

"When an organization grows strong and sure of itself, it matures and achieves its ends without making so much noise."

How Strong Is It?

How strong has the alliance grown?

Three years ago its membership was so vague its leaders could only guess at figures. Now the duesbooks show a following of 400,000. This is not so much, considering the 3,200,000 men on the WPA and the 7,000,000 more estimated unemployed. But it is a sizable block of votes for the consideration of any congressman.

That the Roosevelt administration rates the alliance seriously is indicated by the fact that WPA heads are willing to give three days —December 15, 16 and 17—to hearing the union's demands for more and better-paid WPA jobs.

Illustrative Of Methods

The preparation for this hearing, at which 50 workers from all parts of the country will tell why they think they should have more money, is illustrative of the alliance methods. It consists chiefly of circulation of petitions headed "I need and want a wage increase."

In the left corner of the top of the petition blank is an American flag. In the opposite corner is a picture of President Roosevelt. Between is a quotation from the president condemning low wages in general, and another quotation from Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, saying that WPA wages are 65 per cent of the wages in private industry. Below this is a pledge that the signers are WPA workers and that they "contribute to help this fight."

Regal Romance In The Rain

Bruno Mussolini and his bride, the former Gina Ruberti, walk through the rain to pray at the tomb of St. Peter after their wedding in Rome. The second son of the Italian dictator wears the uniform for his rank as a captain in the air corps.

Real Estate Week Proclaimed Here

Monday through has been designated by Gov. James V. Allred Real Estate week.

In a proclamation issued Saturday he called on chambers of commerce, mayors and other agencies and individuals, as well as individual realtors, citing the importance of advertising the benefits of real estate ownership in Texas and the opportunities offered by building in this state of rapid development and new enterprise.

Mayor Carl Slaton of Lubbock said it was a "pleasure to cooperate in proclaiming the week." He said sales of property and building of new structures in Lubbock had been outstanding in recent months, much of it being traced to the energy of real estate men.

Man Faces Pleasant Task Of Spending $30,000 In 90 Days

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 10. (AP)—Herman Grieco, 47-year-old cobbler, faces the task of spending $30,000 in 90 days.

Grieco said today his mother died in Italy, leaving him an estate valued at about $30,000 but Italian officials advised him he could take none of it from Italy.

They indicated it would be all right for him to come to Italy but Grieco is a naturalized American, doesn't want to live in the old country and has been able to obtain only a 90-day passport.

"I've always wondered what it was like to throw money away," he said, "and if they won't let me bring the money back, I'll show them how an American can spend money."

Pressure Seen Against Japs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The homecoming of United States envoys to China and Great Britain occasioned speculation today over possible Anglo-American pressure against domination of the orient.

Both the British and American governments have expressed concern over Tokyo's gestures toward closing the commercial "open door" in China, but so far there has been no joint action. Whether any is contemplated was not disclosed.

President Roosevelt and state department officials will canvass the entire far eastern situation when Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson arrives next month after an arduous trip from China. He has been ordered here for consultation.

Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, who will sail from London Saturday, will be on hand at the same time.

The state department expected to receive today from Joseph Grew, American ambassador to Tokyo, a statement of Japan's views as outlined to him by Prime Minister Arita.

The U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics expects increased production during the next few years of all fruits except possibly apples.

Decline In Member Deposits Shown By Federal Reserve

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—A decline of about $5,000,000 in member bank deposits, known as "reserve balances," was recorded today in the weekly condition statement of the Federal Reserve bank of New York.

The drop followed a large increase in reserves in recent weeks, mainly due to the heavy gold inflow from abroad and issuing of gold certificates to the reserve bank against the metal by the U. S. treasury.

Loans to farmers from production credit associations were reported at a five-year high of $183,000,000 at the mid-point of the 193 financing season.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Here Are Some Brief Minute Interviews With Hollywood Personages You All Know

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10.—Minute interviews:

CLAIRE TREVOR: "I'm getting a bit fed up on these location trips, especially when I have to spend most of my time crowded into a stage coach. These bustles aren't made for riding comfort. I'm not a very good girl in 'Stage Coach.' In fact in that scene you just watched the town's people were kicking me out. But all is forgiven in the end."

ROBERT PRESTON: "This part in 'Union Pacific' impresses me as my big break more and more every day. Now DeMille has me slated to sing a song. It'll be an old railroad song of the 1860's."

GINGER ROGERS: "I had to have a massage every day during lunch hour when we were shooting the 'Yama Yama Man' dance. I wasn't used to doing splits, high kicks and cartwheels."

THOMAS MITCHELL: "Yes, I'm a drunken doctor all through 'Stage Coach' and I deliver a baby under trying conditions, but the characterization is different from the doctor in 'Hurricane.' This picture is really a 'Grand Hotel' on wheels."

BOB HOPE: "I think somebody must have let Mack Sennett in when they were writing 'Never Say Die'. First Alan Mowbray smears orange marmalade all over my face, then Martha Raye hits me in the eye with a pat of soft butter. The only good thing about this scene is that I don't care what they do next. There's nothing worse left to do."

DOROTHY LEE: "It's grand to be working in pictures again, especially with Richard Dix. But I don't intend to make Hollywood my permanent home. As soon as I finish '12 Crowded Hours' I'm going back to Chicago. Oh yes, I'll be back for more, I hope."

BILL BOYD: "To really enjoy living one should own and ride at least one horse. I have four, but 'Topper' is THE one. I wouldn't trade him for the best horse ever bred, with the best automobile thrown in."

MADELEINE CARROLL: "I've never ridden an aquaplane in my life and I don't see any good reason for doing it in 'Cafe Society.' Why should I keep a stunt girl out of a job?"

BOB CUMMINGS: "My part in the next Durbin picture is really better than Deanna's, but probably won't be by the time they finish rewriting her part. It's tough though trying to be musical. I've been spending all my time with a music teacher, trying to learn to play a flute, piano, clarinet and saxophone. I don't really have to play them but I have to be able to go through the motions like an artist."

BRIAN AHERNE: "I don't see why I should try to kid anyone about this black eye. I got caught in a revolving door."

ROBERT ARMSTRONG: "I like London a lot, but it's sure good to be back in Hollywood. Yes, I'm going to be working soon—in fact, I start in the Corrigan picture next week. Say, that kid really has a lot on the ball."

HARVEY STEPHENS: "Working in 'Oklahoma Kid' is more dangerous than flying my glider. Yesterday Humphrey Bogart's gun went off and the blank burned a hole in my knee. They had to rush me to the hospital for anti-tetanus shots. Strangely enough I was shot in the same place by a blank once on the stage. I must be destined to lose this leg sooner or later. Well, glad to have seen you. I get killed in the next scene."

JEAN PARKER: "I can't get a very big kick out of Harry Langdon. I don't think he's funny but I laugh by just looking at Oliver Hardy. Hardy is my father in 'It's Spring Again' and he's really a very good actor. Thanks for the lunch. Sorry I couldn't eat the blueberry pie, but I'm in the first scene after lunch and I can't have blue teeth."

STUNT MAN HARVEY PARRY: "I'm doubling for Cagney so I come out that door with my guns drawn. Bogart's double smacks me over the head with a breakaway chair. I dive for him and we go rolling down the stairs. There's nothing to it. All you have to do is relax. See, the only injury I got in that last take was a sprained wrist."

To restore grass to western ranges, CCC members are sowing 50,000 pounds of carefully tested grass seed on grazing areas of national forests in Utah, Idaho and Nevada.

Joe E. Brown Is At Lindsey

A romantic and inspiring epoch in the history of mankind—the conquest of the air during the past three decades—is given brilliant screen treatment in "Men With Wings," which opens at the Palace theater today.

Against the surging background of the period between the flight of the Wright brothers in 1903 and the present day of round-the-world flights, the picture tells a story of three young people, devoted to the highest ideals of aviation as to each other, and their experiences in a world made smaller each day by the airplane they helped develop.

Devotes Life To Flying

The performances turned in by the three leacing players, Fred MacMurray, Louise Campbell and Ray Milland, are excellent.

Miss Campbell, the daughter of an early aviation enthusiast who died while attempting to fly, devotes her life to flying and to her two closest friends, Milland, a hard-working plane designer, and MacMurray, a roistering aviator.

In love with both men, Miss Campbell must make her choice between the daredevil aviator and the dependable Milland.

Technicolor brings out the drama and romance of the picture to better advantages.

Joe E. Brown At Lindsey

Another laugh picture, starring Joe E. Brown, is in store for those who visit the Lindsey theater today.

In "Flirting With Fate," Joe is found at the head of a traveling vaudeville troupe, stranded somewhere in Latin America and endeavoring to work its way to Beunos Aires for a stage engagement.

Others in the cast include Wynne Gibson and Beverly Roberts.

A dazzling modern girl, having a modern good time on a co-ed campus, wearing swank clothes, keeping swell dates—that's Sonja Henie as she is seen in "My Lucky Star," current attraction at the Texan theater.

Sharing star honors with Sonja, and giving an excellent account of himself is Richard Greene, young British actor, while Joan Davis, Cesar Romero and Buddy Ebsen are featured in widely divergent comedy roles.

Delightful melodies lend fresh enchantment to the breath-taking ice ballets in which Sonja surpasses her other performances.

Germany Laughs At Quaker Delegates

BERLIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' newspaper, Der Angriff, declared Friday "we must laugh" at the Quaker delegation which is coming from the United States to investigate the condition of Jews and other minorities in Germany.

(Three members of the American Friends service committee of the Society of Friends—Quakers—sailed Dec. 2 for Germany "to observe and bring back some idea how we could help alleviate conditions there."

"Surely these three Quaker figures are wise men who, no doubt, this time, too, hail from the east or at least regard it as their spiritual home," Der Angriff commented.

"So we will offer myrrh and incense for them, but, of course, after our own fashion. We hope they will make themselves known when they are here. . . .

"Don't expect us to take them seriously.

"We can't help it but we must laugh, even if in this case it is over so honorable a sect."

Chevroliers' Guest

Phil D'Rey, a friend of Edgar Bergen, and Duggan, who was made by the same fellow who whittled Charlie McCarthy, will be guests of the Chevroliers on the Chevrolet-Dixie Network at 5:30 p. m. today. During the past 18 years, Londoner D'Rey and Duggan have appeared in every country in the world except Australia and Japan. Duggan differs from Charlie McCarthy, in that he speaks the vernacular of the streets, while Charlie is the more polished type. Also to be heard during the program will be Karl Lambertz's Chevroliers orchestra; Ruth Bickford, singing that new hit, "All Ashore," the Ranch Dudes with their novelty tune, "Don't Wait 'Till The Night Before Christmas," and the Singing Ensemble doing "MacPherson Is Rehearsin'" to swing. Jimmie Jefferies is master of ceremonies.

Fresh fruits make good baits for rats. Melons, tomatoes, pumpkins, cherries, bananas, apples and green corn are excellent. Pie crusts and pumpkin seeds are also effective.

The first steam railway to carry public passengers was the Stockton and Darlington in England, opened in 1825.

Thrills Of Racetrack To Be Seen In Feature At Cactus

Gable, Harlow In "Saratoga"

A VIVID story of the racetrack, with paddock intrigue, a great race, unusual characters, in which a delicate romance is woven is "Saratoga," starting today at the Cactus theater.

Clark Gable and the late Jean Harlow are the stars of the production.

Thrills Are Provided

Penned by authors of "San Francisco," Anita Loos and Robert Hopkins, it has handling of the thrills, such as the great race that climaxes the story, much of the same virile quality. Miss Harlow and Gable hate, fight, and finally love in a romance now whimsical comedy, now tense drama.

"Saratoga" tells the story of the daughter of a rich horse owner and a bookmaker, her father's friend, whom she hates and fights, then loves. Intrigues over "ringing" bets, plot and counterplot behind the scenes in the paddock, and finally, the sensational racing climax worked out on a new dramatic twist, keep the picture packed with action. Against this action the romantic story is developed.

New Comedy Team

Una Merkel and Frank Morgan appear as a new and very hilarious comedy team. Walter Pidgeon plays a fine part, and Cliff Edwards adds laughs and a song. George Zucco, Jonathan Hale, Hattie McDaniels, Frankie Darro and Henry Stone are among the principals.

Location sequences filmed at racetracks and the great stock farm are among the spectacular details of the story.

Here are Walter Pidgeon, Jean Harlow and Clark Gable as they appear in "Saratoga," now showing at the Cactus.

Grasshoppers damaged so many western alfalfa fields this summer the alfalfa seed harvest will total only 777,000 bushels, 149,000 under the 10-year average and the smallest crop in 10 years.

Mental Error Given Blame After Wreck

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The interstate commerce commission's bureau of safety Friday formally blamed a brakeman's mental error for a head-on collision between two Southern Pacific passenger trains at Tortuga, Calif., September 20, in which eleven persons were killed and 139 injured.

Asserting all of the fatalities occurred in a car of light weight, stream line design, the report said:

"It is recommended that railroad officials give serious consideration to discontinuance of operation of so-called lightweight cars between or ahead of standard cars unless and until the strength of construction has been determined by substantial tests to be substantially the same as that of other cars with which they are associated."

The accident was caused, the report said, by a switch being opened directly in front of an approaching train.

Austin Police Plan To Give Romance A Break For 1939

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Austin police will give romance a break in 1939.

The police department will discard its all-white cruising cars except one. The new ones will be painted black in front and back with white sides—to deceive approaching speeders.

The single white car to be retained will patrol the city's parks and will be plainly visible on various lovers lanes.

Americans consumed 24,000,000 cases of fruit juices in 1937, or 24 times as much as in 1929.

"Mad About Music" Is Being Offered Today At Broadway

Deanna Durbin In Star Role

SHE had a handsome, adventurous father in her dream life—but she wanted him for her real life too.

That is the theme of the plot in the Deanna Durbin picture "Mad About Music," which starts today at the Broadway theater.

Very Lonely Little Girl

Deanna is cast as a very lonely little girl who has been sent away to a boarding school by her mother, a famous movie actress. And, piqued by the fact that other girls bragged about their fathers, she made one up for her own in her imagination and wrote letters to herself describing great adventures.

Finally she is so plagued by her schoolmates that in desperation she decides to produce this mythical father.

She Finds Her Father

A stranger arrives in the little town and she attaches herself to him, pleading with him not to give her away. But he is determined that the farce shall not go further. As he faces her companions, however, his heart will not allow him to disgrace her and he carries out his role.

Herbert Marshall plays the part of the handsome stranger. Later he meets Deanna's mother, played by Gail Patrick. They fall in love and then Deanna really gets her dream father.

Today's feature attraction at the Lyric theater is "Slim," starring Pat O'Brien, Henry Fonda and Margaret Lindsey.

Story Of Passion Booked For Tech

Bette Davis and Edward G. Robinson are the stars of "Kid Galahad," opening today at the Tech.

Fanny Brice, Allan Jones and Judy Garland get together for a little harmony in "Everybody Sing," coming to the Tech Friday.

"Golgotha" Set For Wednesday

ONE OF THE screen's most extraordinary spectacles will be brought to Lubbock Wednesday in the showing at the Tech theater of "Golgotha."

As might be expected, this is a movie reproduction of the Passion, beginning with Jesus' entry into Jerusalem, including the scourge of the money-changers, the plot of the priests, scribes and Pharisees, the Last Supper, betrayal, the trials, the march to Calvary and the Crucifixion.

Designation For Calvary

The word "Golgotha" means "place of the skull," and was used to designate the hill outside Jerusalem which was the scene of public executions, and it was here that Christ was crucified.

"Golgotha" is an elaborate French production with a cast numbering thousands. Jesus is impersonated by the Parisian actor, Robert Le Vigan, and other recognizable names in the cast are Harry Baur, Andre Bracque and Lucas Gridoux.

The picture, from Christ's triumphant entrance into Jerusalem to His ignominious death on the Cross, is a deeply stirring dramatization of life's greatest love story as well as life's direct tragedy and it grips one with an intensity that is not soon forgotten.

Powerful Performance

The passive role that Jesus played during the last days and the reaction of His followers are presented in a series of abrupt scenes that might be hard to follow in a less well known story. Le Vigan as the "King of the Jews" gives a powerful performance. He also looks the part. Judas the traitor makes a strong bid for sympathy as the victim of his own weakness.

Religiously "Golgotha" teaches an inspiring lesson. It moves as strongly as the word of the most eloquent of preachers in their most vivid word pictures of Christ's Passion. At times the scenes are starkly realistic. The blood pouring from the Savior's face after the crowning with thorns and the flag-ellation by Roman soldiers, move to deepest sympathy.

Lions Planning Annual Party

Preliminary plans for the annual Christmas party of the Lions club of Lubbock, at the Palace theatre Saturday, Dec. 24, were announced by William H. Evans, chairman.

Committees will be announced soon to arrange for purchase of toys, candies and fruits and other items. Other groups will serve as ushers for the theatre the day of the party. Still other groups will meet a day or two before the party to sack the candy and nuts.

Committees Are Named

General committee members include, besides Chairman Evans, Arlie Crites, Dr. C. C. Craig, Dr. M. H. Benson, Dr. Sam C. Arnett jr., J. F. Leach, J. W. Henly, John Toles and George Watkins.

This party will be the ninth annual one, the club having started its program for Christmas of 1930. This year, Evans said, he expected 1,500 to 2,000 children would attend. An effort is made each year to include only those boys and girls who otherwise would not receive much in the way of Christmas presents.

Each boy and girl attending is to receive a sack of nuts and candy and also a toy.

This Week To Be 'Toy' Week For Lubbock's Five Service Clubs

This week will be "toy" week for Lubbock's five service clubs, who are cooperating with the Goodfellows in an effort to provide a toy for every boy and girl in town. Announcements were made at two clubs last week at the Kiwanis and American Business clubs of the plan.

On Tuesday the Lions will hold their annual football party for the Red Raiders at night in the Hilton hotel. Toys may be brought there. At the Lubbock at noon the new Optomist club meets and President Lester Morgan is notifying his fellows to bring a toy or else 50 cents.

Rotarians meet Wednesday at the Lubbock; Kiwanians Thursday at the Lubbock and the American Business club Friday at the Hilton.

Lions Club To Entertain Red Raiders Tuesday Night

Second annual banquet which the Lions club is sponsoring for Texas Technological college Red Raiders, will be given Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, at the Hilton hotel, with Coach P. W. Cawthon giving out honors to members of the team. Seventy five or more football players are expected.

Harry Morris, chairman of the committee in charge, with Dr. Marshall Harvey and Berl Huffman, have practically completed the program.

President Robert H. Bean is to preside as toastmaster. Marano, the magician, has been secured for a short program of entertainment. A dance number will be presented by the Lewis Walker school of the dance.

Coach Cawthon will not make known his selection of recipients of awards until Tuesday night. Honors will be presented.

Presentation of an award for the outstanding Freshman is to be made.

Members of the club will have players as their individual guests. Players are to meet their host at the hotel before the program begins.

The banquet is not to be exclusive for Lions club members. Anyone in town interested in attending is invited to pay the plate fee. "They not only are invited, but urged to attend," said the committee, "particularly members of the other service clubs here."

Ross Volunteers Will Be The Honor Guard For O'Daniel

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Ross Volunteers, crack drill company of Texas A. and M. college will form the honor guard at the inauguration of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, it was announced today.

Selection of this company, made by the inauguration committee at Austin, was approved by Governor Elect O'Daniel in a conference with Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt and his assistant, Major Gaston Howard.

Official designation of the Ross Volunteers as the honor guard, it was stated, would not preclude other military schools from sending units to Austin for the inaugural ceremonies.

Plans are proceeding for holding the inaugural ceremonies in the University of Texas stadium, as requested by O'Daniel, it was said. Arrangements have been made to transfer the ceremonies to the university auditorium in case of rain. The auditorium has a seating capacity of about 6,000.

Also at the request of O'Daniel the occasion has been designated as the "common citizens homecoming."

Carola Goya Appears Here Monday In Tech Program At High School Auditorium

The chattering of castanets and the clattering of heels will resound from the stage of Senior High school auditorium Monday night when Carola Goya appears in a recital of Spanish dances under auspices of the Texas Technological college artist course. The program will open at 8 o'clock.

For every dance there will be a different costume and there will be a riot of color in addition to a wide variety of mood, rhythm, and tempo, and a spirited accompaniment of castanets, cymbals, and stamping feet.

Harpist Accompanies Piano

Carola Goya will be accompanied here by Beatrice Burford, harpist and an artist in her own right, who will present several numbers on the program. Emilio Osta will be the pianist.

The dancer has appeared in programs in this and other countries. She recently returned from a tour of Brazil and the Argentine. She has danced under auspices of the National Symphony orchestra of Washington, Chicago Woman's Symphony orchestra, Toronto Promenade Symphony orchestra and other organizations.

Dances Her Own Creations

Her repertoire includes dances of her own creation to the music of modern Spanish composers and traditional Spanish dances.

Beatrice Burford began her career at age of 12 as a pupil of the renowned Maud Morgan and continued her studies in Paris with Marcel Grandjany, premier harpist of France. At 17, she was soloist with the Sunday Symphony society of New York and for two years was first harpist with the American Orchestral association. Julian Carillo chose her to play the arpa citera in his Thirteenth Sound ensemble and she took part in performances of that organization with the Philadelphia orchestra and under direction of Leopold Stokowski in Philadelphia and New York.

Program Is Given

Espana (Falla), based on the various rhythms of the provinces of the Iberian peninsula, from the lyric-drama La Vida Breve; Bulerias (Mostazo), built on one of the most characteristic rhythms of Southern Spain, first appeared a few years ago as a song entitled Echale Duindas al Pavo (Throw Cherries to the Turkey), in the Spanish sound picture Morena Clara; Fado (Retana), dance of a Portuguese fisher-girl; Farruca Divina (Sopena), a typical dance of Andalucia, done in one of the many costumes peculiar to that province, that fashioned after the riding habit; Mariposa (Albeniz), tango in D, by the outstanding melodic composer of Spain; Flor de Amor (Flower of Love) (Albeniz), a jota, traditional dance of the northern province of Aragon; Goyescas (Granados), intermezzo from the opera Goyescas; Vivan las Ostanas! (Sacro Monte) (Turina), an episode in the life of a gypsy of Granada; Malaguena Gitanilla (Lecuona); Fandanguillo Gitano (Azagra), one of the oldest dances in Spain, known in Ronda during the Roman occupation of the Iberian peninsula, and for which, according to history, senators and wise councellors left their deliberations to watch; Danza de la Divina Pastora (Halffter), a dance inspired by the polychrome figure of the Madonna of the Shepherds, in the little church of Santa Ana in Triana; Reina de Andalucia (Sevilla) (Lozano y Balbert), a Paso Doble done in the manner of the Kursaal, or music hall of Spain.

Beatrice Burford will present the following selections: The Fountain (Zabel); First Arabesque (Debussy); Etude de Concert (Tournier); Contemplation (Renie); Lotus Land (Scott); transcribed for the harp by Miss Burford; Impromptu Caprice (Pierne).

All dances with the exception of the Fandanguillo Gitano, are creations of Carola Goya.

Tickets for the recital will be on sale Monday at Bowen's Drug store, 1021 Broadway. Price of reserved seats will be $1.25; general admission, $1.

Denunciation Of Bund Made In Presence Of Leader

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—In the presence of the German-American bund leader, Fritz Kuhn, the chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities Friday shouted a denunciation of the bund, which is frequently criticized as pro-nazi.

After an attack upon communism and all "un-American-isms," Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex), staring in the direction of Kuhn's table, cried out that the bund was seeking to undermine the country by preaching class and religious hatred.

Texas Has Bad Homicide Record; Watch New GOP Congressman, Stephen Bolles

State Too Quick On Trigger

Efforts Should Be Made To Protect Life

SOME figures compiled recently showing the number of homicides in the United States during 1937 should cause Texans to blush in shame; should cause them to resolve that something must be done to correct the situation.

The term, homicide, may be defined in this case as the act committed when one person intentionally—not accidentally—takes the life of another.

The figures disclose that of 9,690 slayings in the United States in the year, 887 were in Texas. The number is far larger than in New York, with 502; Illinois, 495; Ohio, 383; or Pennsylvania, 363. Each of those states has a population far larger than that of Texas. All, likewise, have large foreign-born elements in their population.

Statistics show also that only seven states have worse records than Texas in the number of homicides per 100,000 population. Those states are Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia, all with large negro populations. Texas' homicide rate is shown to be 24.4 per 100,000. Mississippi's record — the worst in the union—is 24.6.

The figures are wholly reliable. They are about as accurate as any compilation of the kind is apt to be. The year, 1937, is taken because it is the most recent for which figures are available.

What are we going to do about it? The solution is easy; yet it is extremely difficult. By that is meant that the remedy is at hand, if Texans could only be persuaded to use it.

The remedy?

Punish wanton killers!

Let them know by the example we set that when they uselessly take a human life, punishment will be swift, certain and severe.

If that is done, wanton killers will think of their own hides before they put fatal pressure on a trigger.

Cullen Thomas Leaves Us

ANY state or city is the loser when forced to give up a man of the quality of Cullen F. Thomas, whose death occurred in Dallas. His passing closed a truly useful and able career, much of which was devoted to public service.

In spite of having served as United States commissioner-general for the recent Texas centennial exposition, Mr. Thomas was not as widely known among Texans of the last few years as was the case some 25 or 30 years ago.

Then, on a number of occasions, he was mentioned prominently as a gubernatorial or senatorial possibility, and he frankly admitted he aspired to the governorship. That was not unusual, because many men have had such aspiration.

But unusual was the fact that Mr. Thomas based his hopes largely on his advocacy of prohibition. That required courage of a man in politics in those days, because the "wets" then held the whip hand in Texas.

Thomas, however, had courage along with ability, vision and energy. With them he served his state well.

Get That Shopping Done!

IT, of course, is too late to do your Christmas shopping and mailing early so far as the approaching holiday season is concerned.

But quite evidently those who fail to attend to those chores within the next very few days will find themselves in the big middle of the final rush. Nor can they have cause to complain if they discover their mailed packages fail to reach their destinations within the desired time.

Reason so obviously argues for early shopping and mailing it is difficult to understand why anyone procrastinates. Those who buy early choose from the widest selections of merchandise. They avoid crowds. They are attended by salespeople who are not harassed by swarms of shoppers with frayed nerves.

Shopping without delay, in short, is an opportunity to practice a little of the spirit of Christmas now in addition to the conveniences and benefits to the shopper himself.

The One-Minute Sermon

Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours: lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee.

But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:

And thou shalt be blessed: for they cannot recompense thee; for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just. —Luke 14; 12 through 14.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Takes 24 Hours, A $1 Lot, $900 In Materials, Then Finds:

The Answer To The Housing Problem

One of 50 low-cost modern homes for relief families of Fort Wayne, Ind. This four-room dwelling cost $900 to build, rents for $2.50 a week.

BY PAUL FRIGGENS
NEA Staff Correspondent

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Dec. 10.—A brand-new home put together in 24 hours on a $1 lot and renting for $2.50 a week is Fort Wayne's answer to the problem of low-cost relief housing.

Into this home has moved the city's first relief family and shortly 49 other families will occupy similar prefabricated dwellings put up where ramshackle buildings were torn down.

A single house costs $900, financed by FHA insured mortgage. If the owner ever wants his land back the city will return it for $1 at any time, dismantle the house in quick order and move it onto a new $1 lot.

Thus Fort Wayne, growing industrial community, faced with increasing land values which have kept its poorer classes underhoused, expects to solve one of its most pressing problems and set an example which may be followed throughout the United States.

The idea was born in 1936 when the Indiana state planning board, working in conjunction with the state fire marshal's office and state division of public health, pointed to the need for better, more sanitary low-cost housing.

University Product

WORK was begun on the first prefabricated low-cost house in the country at Purdue University. Several months later it was finished and moved to Indianapolis on trial.

Fort Wayne took the tip, organized the Fort Wayne Housing Authority, a public body under Indiana law, "non-profit, tax-exempt, with right of eminent domain. The Authority gets its running expenses from the city and is in other aspects an agency of the city.

Immediately after organization, William B. F. Hall, chairman of the Authority, asked the Federal Housing Authority if it were possible to erect model homes like that built at Purdue. The idea struck the FHA favorably.

Before long Fort Wayne Authority representatives went to owners of vacant lots and lots on which were located old homes and slum shacks. The Authority offered $1 for the lot, agreed to pay all costs of transfer and tite.

Then the WPA was called in. Workers were assigned to assemble the houses in sections at a low-rent factory. Meantime, other WPA workmen tore down slum buildings standing on the acquired lots, preparatory to the actual new construction.

Simple Plans

THIS construction is simple. Specifications call for a four-inch concrete slab "floated on a gravel fill. To this floor are secured 35 phenol-resin bonded plywood panels of identical size to form exterior walls and partitions. Panels are held together by steel tie rods which run horizontally through tops and bottoms of the units.

The house comprises four rooms including bath. One room, 20 by 12 feet, serves as a living room, dining room and kitchen, is equipped with a coal and woodfired stove for cooking and heating, and a porcelain sink.

bathroom, 4 by 8 1-2 feet, contains a wash basin, lavatory, 30-gallon hot water heater and stubby tub. Two bedrooms, 12 by 7 feet, 8 inches, complete the living accommodations for a family of four.

The Federal Housing Authority insures a blanket mortgage on all 50 houses. Rental is expected to pay all expenses and amortize the 4 1-2 per cent mortgage over a period of 20 years.

No Rival To Capital

"EVERY effort has been made, however," says Hall, "to avoid competition with private capital. The program aims only to provide necessary shelter and sanitation for minimum income groups. This will decrease costs to the community for fire protection, public health services, charities."

The Fort Wayne authority believes its collapsible houses will cut relief costs. And if the first 50 homes meet expectations another 150-unit will follow. These may even rent for $2 per week.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

STEPHEN Bolles should be one of the most effective and certainly the most colorful of the Republican newcomers to the next Congress. The Janesville editor defeated a LaFollette leader in the House—Thomas R. Amlie—and he swears that he will topple "young Bob" from the Senate in 1940.

During Republican regimes "Steve" handled federal patronage in his neck of the woods, and built a tight little political machine. Friendly, witty and not taking himself too solemnly—a unique trait in a Wisconsin politician—he won handily. "It cost me only $374," he boasts, "and I don't owe a penny to an individual or a corporation for my seat. I own myself."

Steve moved in on the capital a few days ago, and left for home with a lot of loot. He got offices with southern exposure, hired an exceptionally expert secretary and engaged a delightful house in Old Georgetown. He saw the big moguls of the G.O.P., renewed certain influential acquaintances at the National Press club and is now ready for the legislative kickoff.

ASSIST: Steve's newspaper career—he is 65 years old, though he looks 50—has embraced so many exciting episodes that it's difficult to select any for special mention. But his making—or writing—of history in connection with the assassination of President McKinley deserves a belated headline.

Mr. Bolles was director of publicity at the Buffalo exposition at the time. The martyred Chief Executive suffered intense pain just before his death from a bullet wound in his abdomen, and a few minutes before he expired, he said: "Oh, God!," according to Steve. But when the reporters rushed in for deathbed details, the publicity director concluded that those words were not sufficiently sublime or heroic for a dying President to utter.

Like a smart publicist, he took the reporters into his confidence and asked for their advice in solving the problem. A religiously-minded reporter thought for a moment and then provided the line which Steve flashed over the wires and which you will find in all good history books: "Thy will be done!" Obviously, a man like Steve can go places and do things and make history in Congress.

EQUIPMENT: These incoming Congressmen, as Whirligig recently reported, are by no means a bashful bunch of boys. Take George W. Gillie, for instance, the G.O.P. member-elect from the Fourth Indiana district. Here is what his future secretary says about him in an advance notice to Washington correspondents:

"A towering giant of a man, fashioned in the image of Abraham Lincoln, he stands six feet, five inches tall. Possessing many of the characteristics of the Great Emancipator, who spent his boyhood in Indiana, Gillie will bring with him to the House of Representatives all the color that is the traditional heritage of Hoosier political leaders." It also appears that he is a "veterinarian by profession and a horse fancier by hobby."

Mr. Gillie gets down to biographical business, however, in his campaign pamphlet entitled "Gillie for Congress." He directs Red Coss roll call movements, is active in the Y.M.C.A. and community chest and holds a captaincy in the Officers Reserve corps. He is a Kiwanian, a Mason, a Moose, an Odd Fellow, a Modern Woodsman, is married and has two grown daughters. He will, he proclaims, "follow a middle-of-the-road course in the House." He promises to make very few speeches.

INSPIRATION: "Tommie" Corcoran has introduced a refreshing technique into political publicity and conspiracy at the capital. It is a method which other enterprising individuals and corporations will copy before long. He does it by whispers.

When the young braintruster wants to pass a bill, boost a friend or discredit a rival, he doesn't call in the reporters. He doesn't issue statements or cause them to be issued by a more influential friend—a Congressman or cabineteer. He selects a small group of gifted and attractive conversationalists, sells them his idea and then instructs them to do their talkative worst—or best—at dinner parties, cocktail teas, hotel lobbies, clubs, political headquarters—any place where people gather and listen and repeat.

Several major reports have been checked back to Tommie along this devious route. He plastered the town, anonymously of course, with the rumor that Justice Brandeis would quit. He fathered the stories that Harry Hopkins was due for a cabinet place as F.D.R.'s presumptive heir in 1940. He inspired suggestions that the President would form a third party two years hence, though Mr. Roosevelt has deliberately avoided that subject in post-election powwows. Washington has always been a whispering gallery, but Tommie has wired it for New Deal sound—and fury.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

BANKER Amadeo Giannini has long been an ardent supporter of Mussolini. He is also a person of outstanding influence among Italian-Americans, especially on the Pacific Coast, but to some extent all over the country. Astute New York observers figure this may be the vital clue to the current bitter backstage battle between Giannini and two government agencies—the Treasury department and the Securities and Exchange commission.

From 1933 until this year, the San Franciscan got along fine with the administration. He went to bat openly and repeatedly for the New Deal, the only big-time banker who did. But some months ago a rift appeared. Indications of subsurface government hostility to Giannini have been steadily accumulating ever since.

Giannini has been well aware of it. He made an unpublicized speech at the American Bankers association convention at Houston a few weeks ago in which he said that President Roosevelt and the New Deal were still all right, but that the President would do well to get rid of some of his "minions."

MOTIVE: What's all the shooting for? Exceptionally informed New Yorkers frankly analyze it as follows:

The administration, as Ray Tucker has reported, is making a point of being more friendly to Italy than to Germany in international relations. But just the same it doesn't take kindly to the growth of fascist ideology in this country. In recent months, fascist racial bias has been more and more in evidence among citizens of Italian origin. Certain Washington circles have been privately disturbed about it. Because of Giannini's position as Italo-American number one, they may have—although this is obviously not susceptible of proof—figured that he was at least partly responsible for this development and should have his wings clipped.

Financial insiders can find no other intelligible motive for Washington's sudden change of front towards the New Deal's former friend. They add that the government has picked no part of a pushover. The fiery Giannini is renowned as an implacable and resourceful fighter, despite his 68 years.

AMBITIONS: New Yokers who know James Roosevelt well doubt that his metamorphosis into a movie magnate marks an end to his political aspirations. On the contrary, they figure that the President's versatile eldest son picked his new locale with an eye to its advantages as a political springboard.

These sources point out that Jimmy originally planned to use Massachusetts as a political base. But he was not overly popular in that state. His backsttage political and business activities made him a number of potent enemies. Moreover, New England appears to be swinging back to the Republican column. California, by contrast, stood firm in its New Deal allegiance last month and would therefore seem to offer a more congenial climate for the cultivation of a young New Dealer's ambitions.

van Loon Examines Hitler; Corrigan Writes

Banners Unfurled In 'Our Battle'; Flier Tells 'My Story'

"OUR BATTLE," by Hendrik Willem van Loon; (Simon & Schuster, New York).

A FEW weeks ago Hendrik Willem van Loon heard a New York crowd boo Mayor LaGuardia and cheer the name of a foreign dictator. It made him mad; and when he found that New York as a whole wasn't especially disturbed by it he got madder than ever. So he sat down and wrote a book, currently published under the title of "Our Battle."

The book van Loon's answer to Hitler's "My Battle," and a vehement, indignant book it is.

Hitlerism, says Mr. van Loon, represents a menace that civilized people can no longer ignore; a force which cannot indefinitely go on existing in the same world with a free democratic society. Sooner or later democracy and Hitlerism must come to death grips.

Yet the other great democracies, he continues, have already come to grips—and lost. England and France were beaten at Berchtesgaden. They had their chance to stop Hitler, and failed. There remains only Uncle Sam.

As van Loon sees it, there is no escaping the challenge. In the very nature of things, he says, Hitler must seek to dominate the democracies. Unless America is alive to the danger and ready in a military sense, she will meet disaster.

Thus van Loon; and he accompanies this exhortation with an extremely acute and penetrating analysis of Hitler's character and a resume of his rise to fame.

'Hard-Hearted Corrigan'

WHEN Douglas Corrigan was ten years old, like millions of other small American boys, he and his pal, Skinny decided to run away from home, try their hands at almost anything, get rich in a few months, and return in a blaze of glory in a great big automobile! But they'd need some clothes, he told Skinny, and we'll let Mr. Corrigan tell it just as he relates it in his autobiography, "That's My Story":

"As I sneaked past the living room window I saw my mother sitting in the rocking chair reading with tears in her eyes. Sister Evelyn was hanging on her arm crying. Harry was looking sad. He'd been 'out looking everywhere but couldn't find me. Mother said to them, 'He's all right, nothing has happened, he'll be home soon.' Evelyn cried all the harder.

"But I'd started out to see the world and become a big success and even though women cried about it, I was going—Hard-Hearted Corrigan—that's me.' . . .

"So I went on to the bedroom window, climbed in and very efficiently rounded up some clothes and then sneaked in the kitchen and got some grub, tied everything up in a bundle, climbed out the window and started off. After going a mile or so my little sister's wail came back to my mind and I remembered the look on my mother's face. Hard-Hearted Corrigan went running home to his mother's arms and was glad when he got there. . . ."

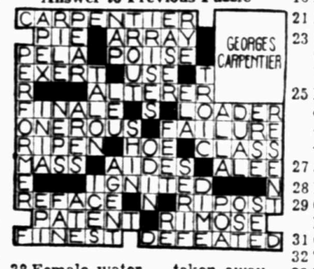

Reading Douglas Corrigan's memories of his boyhood in "That's My Story," you may keep thinking of Max Miller, for here is the same refreshing self-revelation which charmed a continent in "I Cover the Waterfront." Max's famous book.

Intensive Safety Campaigns Have Sharply Slashed Into Nation's Traffic Toll

urvey Reveals ewer Deaths

(By The Associated Press)

Intensive, methodical safety campaigns have slashed sharply into e nation's traffic death toll this ar.

A survey of 35 leading cities—all t one of them among the top 40 population—showed today this uation for the first week of December:

Cut More Than 40 Per Cent

Ten cut their death toll by 40 r cent or more, compared with e same period of 1937:

At least ten of the other 25 re-ing their traffic mortality rate to 35 per cent, with many others owing improvements; and

Only five apparently heading for increased fatality list.

The nation's population centers ve accepted with the "three e's" enforcement, education and engineering—the challenge of the ckless driver, the jaywalking pestrian.

Providence R. I. Leads

The 69 per cent slash for Provence, R. I., where there were no talities for an 111-day stretch, aced it in the select list. Speeds ere were reduced to 25 miles an ur throughout the city and enrced without exception. Twelve ersons have been killed to date this ar, compared with 39 for the corresponding 1937 period.

Columbus, O., among the leaders th 58.3 per cent less deaths than e same period last year, takes offnders to court immediately.

Other Leaders Listed

Other leaders, and their approxnate percentage decreases in traf deaths, included:

Cleveland 48.2; Birmingham, Ala., .1; Louisville, Ky., 47.2; Detroit ; Dallas 41; Milwaukee and Buf; o. 40. Newark, N. J., where as New York City figures were ailable only for the first ten onths, showed a 60 per cent slash.

What are cities doing to reduce aths?

Cleveland convicts 98 per cent of l persons brought into court for affic violations, uses theaters, hools, radio and signs which warn: Fast drivers make slow processions." The city conducted a memrial service this month for its 1938 affic dead.

Mixture Is Developed

St. Louis has developed a non-kid, anti-glare resurfacing mixre for dangerous intersections. In ttsburgh an unpaid traffic planing committee, many of its 20 embers prominent business leadrs works closely with police.

In Kansas City, one of the few ties where deaths may go above st year, drastic enforcement methds have been adopted. Sound trucks each accident scenes a few minutes ter crashes and blare out warnngs.

Two Surpass 1937 Figures

wo cities, Memphis and Minneaolis, already have surpassed their ture 1937 toll and Atlanta and ortland, Ore., are close to the old gure.

Pedestrian carelessness was blamd for the jump in Memphis, which st year was designated by the ational Safety council as "the naon's safest city." Twenty-seven of is year's 42 victims were pedesrians, and the motorist was absolved in each case.

Uniform Code In State Is Sought

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—The Texas afety association has decided to ecommend revamping of Texas' ffic and drivers license laws to nform with a uniform vehicle code ffective in about 25 states.

Representatives of the organizaion, composed of traffic safety chnicians and lay enthusiasts, et with public safety department officials and announced the state gency approved the recommendaion.

Add New Features

In the main the uniform code ould draw into one or two bills ozens of regulations now scattered mong civil and criminal statute ooks and would add new features ncluding:

A maximum speed limit of 55 or 0 miles per hour (as against the resent 45) with lower maximum in ones where less speed was conducive to safety in the judgment of ighway engineers. The safety department would set the various maxmums.

Uniform highway and safety igns, coinciding with those in use n other states which have standardized insignia.

Authority for the public safety epartment to revoke or suspend iver's licenses before a hearing ith would be held within five ays after the suspension or revocation. Under present law the department may suspend license after a hearing on certain charges ncluding habitual recklessness.

Carl J. Rutland of Dallas, president of the safety association, said draft would be prepared in several days.

He expressed the opinion Texas, despite a 20 per cent reduction in traffic fatalities this year, needs orrection of "many defects in statutes regulating safety on our streets nd highways."

Fairy Tales

Has anybody been telling you that the fairytale spirit is dead? Then look at the creatures that are now being discussed during Children's Week, Nov. 13 to 19—creatures that have become known, or better known, this year to readers of children's books (and that doesn't exclude adults):

NOODLE (from the book by Munro Leaf) the dog who was very long from end to end and very short from top to bottom and who won happiness and fame by deciding that, after all, he liked his own shape best.

FERDINAND (also by Munro Leaf) the bull who found happiness smelling flowers instead of by fighting matadors, as he was supposed to.

BABAR (created by Jean de Brunhoff) whose happiness as king of the elephants was crowned this year by the birth of royal elephant triblets.

FREDDY FRIBBS, the Flea (by John B. L. Goodwin) who won not only happiness but also fame with a circus.

Excitement Running Higher In Crosby Area After Oil Strike

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

CROSBYTON, Dec. 10.—Excitement here has been running higher and higher each day since the Gulf Oil corporation brought in its No. 1-B Swenson in Garza county, just over the line from Crosby.

Many persons interested in leasing land for oil development are here, seeking to work up drilling blocks. Others are staying here watching developments in the area. About one third of the county has been leased.

A county road from Crosbyton to Kalgary, has been hard surfaced. The remainder to the county line is to be surfaced as soon as possible. It is only a few miles from the county line to the well, which is located in section 25, block 2, H. & G. N. survey.

Underprivileged Children In Crosbyton To Get Christmas

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

CROSBYTON, Dec. 10.—Crosbyton's underprivileged children will have a good Christmas this year, with the Lions club handling the raising of a large sum for buying toys, food and clothing for them.

The club Monday took over the city, held "court" and assessed the more than 200 who came before it, a dollar each. Many of those fined a dollar, paid it several times over, in order to increase the fund.

Work of securing a list of boys and girls to whom Christmas is to be made real, is under way by persons interested in the work.

Retail Buying Climbs To Highest Level Of Year In Past Week

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Retail buying, stimulated by Christmas shopping, climbed to the highest level of the year this week at leading centers of distribution, although sales for the country as a whole shaded 2 to 8 per cent under a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

Wholesale buying was also brisk, but orders ran under last year by a margin of 2 to 12 per cent.

"Higher temperatures failed to halt the upswing in retail sales," the credit agency said. "As Christmas buying gained momentum, most centers reported their highest totals so far this year.

DRAMATIZE ACCIDENTS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—By dramatizing actual accidents that occur on Colorado Springs streets, police hope to convince the public that "gambling with safety pays only a death dividend." The dramatized radio sketches are written and enacted by police officers. All deal with fatal accidents.

San Francisco Man Has Good Laugh On Thief; He Gets Bag Filled With Baby Diapers

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The thief who stole one of three suitcases in Eric Moeller's parked automobile furnished the owner with a good laugh.

Two of the bags contained clothing valued at several hundred dollars, which Moeller was planning to send to his wife, who is visiting in the East.

The other bag, also enroute to Mrs. Moeller, was full of diapers for the Moeller baby. That's the one the thief grabbed.

Christmas Carols To Be Sung Next Sunday

Lubbock public schools will sponsor a community sing-song of Christmas carols at 4:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon at Senior High school auditorium, said Mrs. E. E. Key, coordinator of music in Junior and Senior High schools.

The public is invited, particularly the parents of students, said Mrs. Key.

The sing-song will culminate the "Learn a Carol a Day" program underway in the schools. The program was conducted in several cities of the state last year, but this is the first year Lubbock public schools are participating.

Congress Must Decide Upon Changes In Relief Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today it was up to congress to decide whether federal relief procedure should be modified to meet criticism of the WPA.

That was his comment when asked at his press conference for his reaction to a statement by WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins that some changes might be made.

Hopkins' agency has been particularly criticized on the "politics in relief" angle and he said yesterday he had some definite ideas about amendments in mind.

He said, however, he wanted a "meeting of minds" with members of congress before disclosing these suggestions.

The WPA chief talked subsequently with Senator Byrnes (D-SC), who proposes a changed method of distributing WPA funds, to eliminate what he called inequitable treatment of some states.

Plainview Committee To Draw Stadium Improvement Plans

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 10. — A committee of the Plainview school board was named by President E. G. Alexander to draw plans for improving the high school stadium here. Glen A. Smith and T. O. Collier were named.

Application is to be made to WPA for an allocation. It is expected 2,000 to 3,000 seats would be added, a strong wire fence built around the stadium and other improvements planned.

TARZAN AND THE FORBIDDEN CITY. No. 7 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan stood staring at the spot whence Lal Taask had vanished. Evidently feigning unconsciousness, the fellow had taken the first opportunity to escape. And now the ape-man was left without a clue to the mysterious enemies who had tried to kill him.

In his forest homeland, he woud have tracked down his foes and punished them, but here in the town his jungle powers were stifled. Tarzan was caught in a whirlpool of mystery and intrigue. He accepted the challenge. Somehow he would fight his way out!

Tarzan said nothing of his adventures to his friends, for fear of disturbing them. They were planning to sail next day for Bonga, then push on to Athair, the Forbidden City. True to the tradition of her sex, Helen had some last-minute shopping to do.

"I'll go with you," Lavac offered; "you might not be safe alone." The girl laughed: "I want no man around while I'm shopping, unless he wants to pay the bills. Bye-bye." Blithely she went her way—toward the trap that even then was being prepared for her!

Two Fords Of High Value Now On Road; Individual Styling Adds To Models

Family Likeness Of Cars Shared

DISTINGUISHED by individual styling and featuring engineering refinements which include big hydraulic brakes, the two finest cars ever to wear the Ford name are attracting wide interest this autumn.

Lubbock Auto company, 820 Texas avenue, will show models of the new cars in the Auto show all this week.

The two 1939 Ford cars are the Ford V-8 and the de luxe Ford V-8. Each has a distinctive appearance of its own but share a family likeness with the Lincoln-Zephyr.

The de luxe Ford has wholly new streamlines, a deep hood unbroken by hoodside louvres, a low radiator grille and headlamps set into the fenders. The radiator ornament is extended vertically downward to conceal the hood handle. The name Ford De Luxe, in script letters, is divided at the front of the hood.

V-Type Engine Improved

An improved 85-horsepower V-type engine, even more rugged in construction than the 5,000,000 already in use, powers the 1939 de luxe cars. The same improved 85 engine, or the 60-horsepower engine, is available in the Ford V-8 at the purchaser's option.

Hydraulic brakes of the two Fords are identical. Pedal action is exceptionally easy, and the brake shoes work in 12-inch cast iron drums. There is a total of 162 inches of brake lining surface for quick stopping and long wear.

All-welded steel bodies, fitted with safety glass and with clear vision ventilation, are provided in both Ford lines. All bodies also have ventilating windshields operated by a rubber-covered knob on top the instrument panel. There are large luggage compartments in all body types, and the coupes in both lines have an additional compartment back of the seat, as well as large shelves for parcels.

Many Tests Are Made

Exhaustive road and laboratory tests into the cause and correction of car noises have made possible exceptional quietness in the body interiors of both cars. By minor changes in design and by use of new insulating materials, engine and road noises are effectively kept out of the passenger compartment of the car.

Luxurious interior appointment feature the de luxe cars. Cushions in all body types are of new contion, and they are notably deeper. In the de luxe the paneled effect gives added smartness to the tailoring.

The comfort of driver and passengers was carefully considered in the design of the attractive interiors of the Ford V-8 bodies. The deep seats are wide enough for three people, and there are well placed pillar lights, ash trays, arm rests and other conveniences.

Modern Gauges Installed

A full grille and unobtrusive louvres at the rear of the hood sides are features of the appearance of the Ford V-8 for 1939. Headlamps are recessed into fender aprons, and decorative touches include a radiator grille ornament which merges with the compact hood handle.

Modern gauges, a glove compartment, grille for radio speaker installation, cigar lighter, and headlamp beam control and beam indicator are provided on both the new Fords. The de luxe also has a new instrument that shows at a glance the condition of the battery, and a dimmer switch to regulate the brightness of the instrument panel light.

The parking brake on both new Fords actuates the brake shoes in the rear wheels by means of steel cables, and the lever controlling it is under the instrument panel at the left. Drivers' seats in all body types are adjustable. All cars are equipped with sun visors and with dual windshield wipers with a single control. Dual electric horns are provided on the Ford V-8, and twin electric air horns on the de luxe.

The centerpoise ride, which allows passengers to ride between instead of over the axles, and other proved Ford engineering features are continued in the new models. Springs are of chrome-alloy steel, of transverse cantilever type. All Fords have four double acting adjustable shock absorbers. Frames are rigid, deeply-channeled and reinforced with X-member.

The de luxe Ford is offered in five body types and six colors. These are tudor and fordor sedans, coupe, convertible coupe and convertible sedan. The Ford V-8 comes in coupe, tudor and fordor sedans, in three colors.

Pontiac Manager Sees Better Years

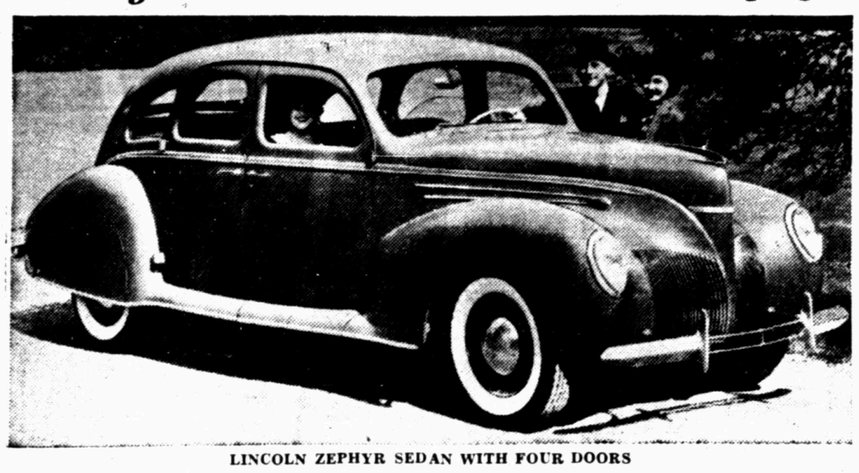

During the last 12 months business has had one of its poorer years, H. J. Klingler, general manager of Pontiac believes. Motorists bought only 2,500,000 of the automobile industry's 1938 model cars, he says, but next year has many indications of being one of America's better years. Not a 1937 or a 1929, but definitely better than 1938. Estimates vary from 3,000,000 to as high as 4,000,000 new car sales in 1939.

"Last year important business indices had been declining since early summer. Retail trade was falling off. Railroad traffic was getting less. Employment was going down.

"This year there is a reversal in these factors. They have turned up. There has been a gradual increase since mid-summer. But in the last 30 to 60 days the improvement has been most marked. People are in a better spending mood. Retail trade is climbing. Farmers have money.

"Industry is moving ahead at a faster pace. Production of steel, glass and textiles is increasing. Railroad carloadings are at the high point for the year and gaining weekly. We are looking for a good year."

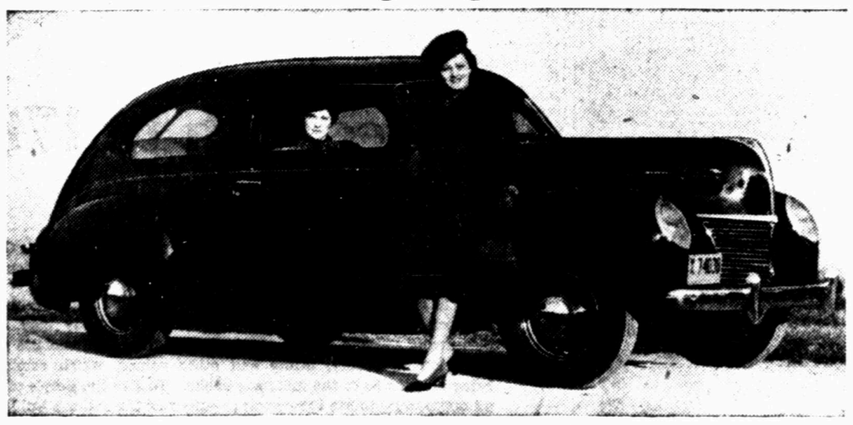

New Hydraulic Brakes On Lincoln-Zephyr

LINCOLN ZEPHYR SEDAN WITH FOUR DOORS

Six body types, including two convertibles, are available in the Lincoln-Zephyr models for 1939. A trim new front end, graceful streamlining and new door extensions which conceal the running boards represent the advances in design for the coming season. The one-piece unit-body-and-frame deign and the 110 horsepower V-type 12-cylinder engine, which are exclusive Lincoln-Zephyr features, are retained. The car above is the four-door sedan.

Ford's New Mercury Eight Sedan

THE NEW MERCURY EIGHT SEDAN

Motordom's newest car, the Mercury Eight, is Ford's latest creation. The sedan pictured above is a big car with 116-inch wheelbase and measures more than 16 feet from bumper to bumper. Its V-8 engine develops 95 horsepower. A family car, it seats six.

Mercury Eight's Luggage Compartment

This unusually large luggage compartment of the new Mercury 8 provides room enough for four average size bags with plenty of room to spare for odd luggage. The spare tire is carried upright against the panel behind the seat. The luggage compartment lock, handle and license plate light are combined in a single attractive unit.

Grimes Motor Co. Boasts Of Largest Stock Of New Model Oldsmobiles For Showing

With the largest number of models of the Oldsmobile line of cars ever shown here, Grimes Motor Co., 1301 Avenue H, expects to show 12 models during the Lubbock display week, said Lester E. Grimes, owner.

"Marked changes in design and mechanical parts feature the Oldsmobiles this year," said Grimes. "There are 10 colors that are very popular and we will try and show them all.

Outstanding Feature Cited

"Rhythmic ride, or what they call springing, is probably the outstanding feature this year. Cars are longer, lower down on the ground and wider, yet there is more highway clearance under the cars than ever before."

Oldsmobile this year has a 6-cylinder car this year, in the lower price range, competing with the three outstanding cars in that field. Grimes said he expected the buying public of this section to show a decided preference for this new model.

Better Sales Indicated

More prospects are seen for the 1939 cars this winter than last, with indications that there will be better sales than a year ago. The 1938 sales were slightly under those of the previous year.

Emory Hill is sales manager of the agency, with R. E. Smith and Hans Newman, salesmen, on the floor.

The concern, while a local dealer in name, is in actuality a distributor in that a wide territory is covered in sales. Many cars are sold as far away as New Mexico, and throughout the oil fields to the southwest, because there are no dealers in those areas.

Various methods of welding are rapidly displacing bolts and rivets in automobile construction. Almost every modern form of welding is used by automobile manufacturers, and every new model creates new opportunities for which new welding methods must be developed.

The Automobile And Similes

Some one in the motor industry recently thought up some similes. Maybe they are right:

"As heavy as the gasoline tax."

"As cuckoo as the diversion of road taxes."

"As crafty as a gasoline tax evader."

"As slick as lubricating oil."

"As powerful as gasoline."

"As ubiquitous as the gasoline tax."

"As rich as a used-car motorist."

"Like a gasoline tax gadfly."

Clutch Housing On New Model Chevrolets Are Cooled By Air

Chevrolet engineers, who introduced the entirely new tiptoe-matic clutch in the 1938 models, simplifying the unit, heightening its efficiency, and greatly reducing operating effort, have further improved the cluth for 1939 by forming vanes in the disc. These make the disc perform double duty—first in its primary capacity and second as an agitator, circulating cooling air throughout the housing. The cooling heightens the efficiency of the clutch and lengthens the life of the clutch lining.

In 1937 more than 420 cities depended exclusively on motor coaches for local passenger service. In 1922 there were only 18 cities using buses exclusively.

Out of every dollar received during 1937 by American oil companies, 18 cents was required for federal, state and local taxes.

Close Measuring Is Required In Manufacture Of New Fords

Through the use of the profilometer, an instrument so sensitive it readily measures irregularities 1 000 times finer than a human hair, Ford Motor Co. engineers are able to specify, and obtain, the exact degree of smoothness required for maximum life and silence in scores of individual automobile parts. The smoothness of a Ford crankshaft bearing surface is measured by a machine the dial of which reads in millionths of an inch, a measurement which was impossible to make in the shop before the invention of the profilometer. Ford had the first profilometer ever made for industrial use.

Best Brakes Now Used On Fords

A 1939 line of Ford V-8 trucks and commercial cars equipped with hydraulic brakes and comprising the widest selection of capacities, gear reduction ratios and power it has ever offered the transportation field, was announced Saturday by the Ford Motor company.

With 42 body and chassis types, two clutches, five transmissions and eight rear axle ratios, in addition to various wheel and tire sizes which may be chosen, operators may obtain V-8 trucks and commercial cars which are virtually custom-built for their own particular commercial transportation problems. The line is designed to meet the requirements of more than 90 per cent of all commercial operations.

Hydraulic brakes are engineered to conform with Ford design and practice, insuring quick stops with easy pedal pressure.

Three V-8 engines are available for 1939. Heading the list is the new 95-horsepower engine with piston displacement of 239 cubic inches. Its bore is 3.185 inches and its stroke 3.75 inches and it develops a torque of 170 pounds-feet at 2100 revolutions per minute. Main bearings 2.5 inches in diameter have a total bearing surface of 36.81 square inches. The improved 85 and 60 horsepower engines complete the line.

Buick's Production Schedule Is Heavy

The biggest manufacturing program in the history of the company was launched this autumn by the Buick division of General Motors.

It involves greatly increased production schedules throughout the coming year and the unprecedented output in November and December of nearly 56,000 cars.

To meet production requirements Buick placed orders for more than 36,000 tons of steel in October, the largest single month's commitment in many years and considerably in excess of October purchases last year. These purchases were in addition to 54,000 tons bought through September for 1939 model production and brings total commitments to date for the new models to approximately 90,000 tons.

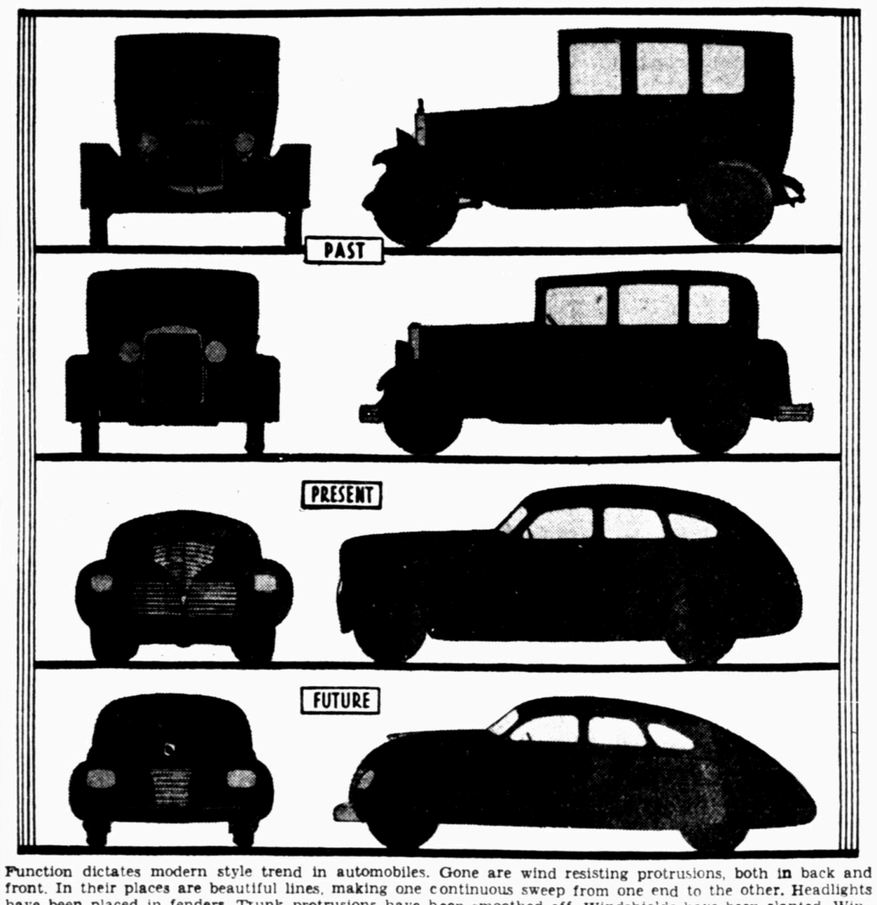

GREATER SAFETY STRESSED

Greater safety as a result of greater visibility is provided in the new Pontiac de luxe six and eight cylinder cars, which have higher and wider windshields and 25 percent more glass than in 1938.

Various methods of welding are rapidly displacing bolts and rivets in automobile construction. Almost every modern form of welding is used by automobile manufacturers, and every new model creates opportunities for which new welding methods must be developed.

Registration and other fees paid by motorists in 1937 amounted to $399,613,000. These fees amount to only 27.5 per cent of the total motor tax bill.

Functional Design Dictates Beauty Of Modern Automobile

Function dictates modern style trend in automobiles. Gone are wind resisting protrusions, both in back and front. In their places are beautiful lines, making one continuous sweep from one end to the other. Headlights have been placed in fenders. Trunk protrusions have been smoothed off. Windshields have been slanted. Windows have been made larger. All these changes have made cars more functional and more beautiful.

Metal Accounts For Four-Fifths Of Weight Of An Automobile

Four-fifths of the weight of the modern automobile consists of metal products. At least 19 different metals enter into the chassis and power plant either directly or in alloys. Included are: Aluminum, antimony, barium, brass, bronze, cadmium, chromium, copper, indium, iron, lead, manganese, molybdenum, nickel, silver, tin, tungsten, vanadium and zinc.

MERCURY MOTOR POWERFUL

The Mercury eight, newcomer to the Ford-Lincoln line of motor cars, is powered by a 95 horsepower, V-type engine. The engine is similar in design to the 5,000,000 Ford V-8 engines now in use, but has greater power.

Although modern automobiles are of steel construction, even the smaller cars use more than 60 pounds of wood in various ways, such as foundations for various attachments, in packing and shipping cases and finally in the manufacture of fibre board and paper, which finds many uses in manufacture and shipment.

Quality Six Features New Pontiac Line; Prices Lowered On New Plymouths

Silver Streak's Styling Is Kept

PONTIAC engineers have displayed skill and originality in the design of three new lines of cars for 1939, according to H. J. Klingler, general manager of Pontiac.

Butler-Fuller Pontiac company, 1008 Avenue J, Pontiac dealers, will have a complete showing of the new Pontiacs in the Auto show this week.

The quality six, a newcomer to the line, is designed for large production at a low price. With five body models (two and four-door sedans, business and sport coupes, and station wagon) of 190 inches over-all length, it digs deeper into the lower price field than any previous Pontiacs.

The de luxe six, with the same engine but longer chassis than the quality six, comes in five more finely appointed bodies. A cabriolet with two coupes and two sedans constitute the line. Overall length of 196½ inches makes it the longest six by four inches Pontiac has ever built.

Silver Streak Continues

The de luxe eight will embrace the same five body styles as the de luxe six.

In the appearance of the three lines is found complete modernization in the styling of hood, radiator, fenders and body. Continuing the silver streak through the center of hood and radiator for the fifth year as the central motif, there is more of a yacht-line prow to the radiator, which in turn is flanked on either side by chromed side grilles set in the front surfaces of the fender catwalks.

There is increased visibility for driver and passengers alike in the new Pontiac which, of course, is an added safety factor. In the de luxe six and eight models visibility is fully 25 per cent greater than in previous models. Windshield and window glass are wider and higher. Windshield corner posts are narrower.

Floors Are Lower

With wider and lower de luxe six and eight bodies these models are equipped either with or without running boards. Floors being only curb-high (two inches lower than last year) many people desire to step directly into the car without the use of a running board.

Front seat frames are constructed of steel tubing for lightness and strength.

Quality six models are upholstered in mohair or cloth; de luxe six and eight sedan and coupe models in brown Bedford cord or tan mohair with cabriolet models in leather or cloth and leather.

The remote control gear shift pioneered last year by Pontiac has been refined and improved and is standard equipment in all models. Thus the wide front seats are free and clear.

Considerable refinement in the appearance and operation of the gear shift has been effected this year. The shift lever and other exposed parts are smaller and less conspicuous. A booster spring has been added which supplies up to 50 per cent of the effort required to shift gears.

Spare tires are placed upright against the back of the rear seats, the shelves removed from the trunks thus providing a larger amount of useful trunk space.

The most important mechanical changes are to be found in the chassis. Starting at the front, knee action has been refined by the use of lighter and stronger pressed steel arms, which make possible an inch greater road clearance.

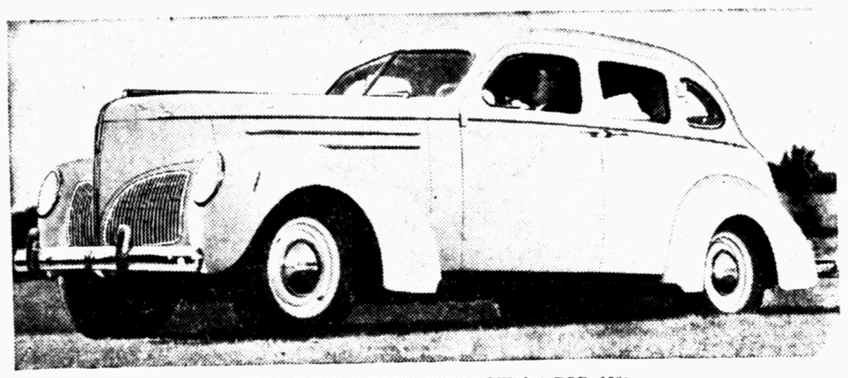

Probably the outstanding of all Pontiac engineering developments for 1939 are the new and original Duflex rear springs which give one passenger as easy a ride as six passengers and furthermore reduce bouncing and pitching when going over bumps.

The spring is simplicity itself. To the conventional leaf spring, and directly below it, has been added a second but shorter auxiliary spring. For light loads the car rides almost entirely on the main or upper unit which affords a slow comfortable motion. As the passenger load increases this upper spring comes more and more into contact with the helper spring.

Shock absorbers are inclined with the bottoms out toward the wheels and the tops in toward the center of the chassis the better to absorb both road bumps and side sway.

With the lowering of floor Pontiac has adopted a hypoid rear axle of its own design which is built in its own finely equipped axle plant.

Studebaker Has A Profile For Going Places

THE STUDEBAKER FOUR-DOOR SEDAN FOR 1939

Steamlined efficiency is the keynote of the Studebaker line of automobiles this season. Engineering advancements include a new type of overdrive, new heating and air treating system and steering wheel gear shifting mechanism. In the interiors Studebaker engineers have gone far afield from conventional practices to make the cars roomier and modern in their style and treatment. This four-door sedan, shown above, was designed by Raymond Loewy, famous functional designer.

1939 Pontiac De Luxe Without Running Boards

PONTIAC DE LUXE SIX FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

Floors of the new Pontiac line are curb high. Equipment of running boards is optional. Bodies are roomier than ever before. Tailored thoughout in streamline style it also has improved knee action and new parallel link steering. Remote control gear shift standard gives a clear front seat. New springing makes all cars of the line ride as easily with one passenger as with six.

Pilot Beam Warns Driver Of De Soto Whether Brights Are On

A tiny red signal or "pilot" light, located directly in the driver's line of vision, tells 1939 De Soto owners whether bright country driving lights are on as they approach oncoming cars at night. The pilot light is directly in front of the steering wheel on the windshield shelf, instead of on the instrument panel as in 1938 models.

JOBS, WAGES STEADY

In a recent bulletin to employes reviewing the salient facts of the first six months of business during 1938, General Motors revealed that jobs and weekly wages of employes were steadier than sales and earnings.

More than 4000 years ago in Nineveh, Egypt, asphalt, a petroleum road-building material was used to make highways.

It is estimated by the National Safety Council that more Americans died in traffic accidents during the past year and a half than were killed during the World War.

'Eye Appeal' Of Cars Is Richer

NEW PLYMOUTH models for 1939, rich in "eye appeal" and with sweeping improvements for greater riding comfort, interior luxury, safety and performance, are offered at new low prices in this year's auto line, as shining examples of the latest increase in value of the American automobile dollar. The car has been described by D. S. Eddins, president of the Plymouth Motor corporation.

New Plymouths will be displayed by three Lubbock dealers this week in the Auto show. They are: Beasley Motor company, Thirteenth and Avenue J; Hub Motor company, 1211 Main and Weiss Motor company, 1414 Avenue K.

Bigger, roomier and better looking than ever before, the new Plymouths are built on a longer wheelbase of 114 inches, two inches longer than last year. Over-all length is 182 inches, inclusive of bumpers front and rear.

All models are completely restyled inside and out. A new V-type windshield adds more than six inches to body length above the belt. A longer hood now presents an added 10-inch sweep of painted surface that sweeps down to the new lower grille.

Springs Are Safer

At the top of the list of Plymouth innovation for next year are new-type coil springs of Amola steel that give a 20 per cent softer ride; new remote-control gear shift on the steering column; new high-torque engine performance; new "true steady" steering; a new all silent auto-mesh transmission and an ingenious new safety feature—a "safety signal" speedometer that flashes warning lights of different colors at various car speeds.

The complete Plymouth line for 1939 includes five "Roadking" and eight de luxe body types, all on 114-inch wheelbase and powered with the same new 82-horsepower engine of the L-head design. The new Amola steel coil front springs are standard equipment on all models throughout the line.

This year's grille is a new development of the latest horizontal pattern, and introduces the "lateral airfoil" motif. A rich pattern of chromium strips and parallel louvres in body color curve slightly forward each side of a bright center strip, then sweep back like an airplane fuselage to form the sides of the hood.

Lamps Are Streamlined

The headlamps and tail lights are now streamlined into the fenders, which are much more massive and have a stronger forward slope. The bigger hood remains the same type as before, with only the top panels hinged for service, water and oil.

The steering column jacket this year has a flare at the top, which curves out to the base of the steering wheel. Out of this comes the new remote gear shift lever, that is standard equipment on all de luxe models. In introducing this feature to the low price field, Plymouth presents a specially-engineered design with control linkage inside the steering column, so that the shifting lever travels in exactly the same arc as the rim of the wheel.

Exclusive features of Plymouth safety-styling follow the same basic pattern as previous models.

Interior Safety Styled

Besides the smooth and rounded instrument board, all inside door handles and window controls curve safely back out of the way. The back of the front seat is thickly padded and rolled at the top for the protection of passengers in the rear seat.

All interior hardware is of new design this year, in a bright-finished, classic pattern.

This year all instruments and controls are centered directly in front of the driver, with this group dominated by Plymouth's ingenious new "safety-signal" speedometer—that automatically flashes a warning for three different driving speed zones.

For dyed-in-the-wool motoring fans who like to know the engineering of car parts not usually seen, the new 1939 Plymouth promises a special thrill. This year's list of enginering improvements marks a banner season. Most noteworthy items include:

Sturdier Frame — Stronger than ever—25 per cent more rigid, in fact—is the new Plymouth frame. The Rigid-X frame has new side rails six inches deep, and the new center X-member is 10 inches deep for extreme rigidity.

New Amola Steel Coil Spring — Now Plymouth engineers have developed a method for making one continuous, helical coil from a single rod of Amola steel nearly 11 feet long—and make one of these coils cushion each front wheel independently in a new suspension, of the "wishbone" type.

High-Torque Engine Performance —Metallurgy and engine design here combine to produce what may prove to be the engineering story of the year. First, new piston rings with an ingenious surface coating about 1-12th the thickness of a human hair. Because of its physical structure this surface coating actually contains an emergency supply of about 10 drops of oil. These new rings are used as the two top (compression) rings, and the top ring is changed in shape to give 25 per cent increase ineffective bearing surface. That means 25 per cent reduction in unit pressure on the cylinder wall, so there's a corresponding saving in wear at this important point.

True-Steady Steering—The latest advancement in steering design for the lowest price field. It features "center" steering, with drag link eliminated, and mechanical improvements that reduce road shock and steering fatigue. For easier parking, steering gear ratio is 18.2 to 1.

New Auto-Mesh Transmission — Besides remote control gear shift on Plymouth de luxe models, also standard is a new all-silent, auto-mesh transmission that cuts shifting effort in half. All gears are carburized Amola steel, and are automatically synchronized for positive, silent engagement even when shifted faster than before.

Through use of a new "over-center" spring and variable ratio pedal, that requires less pressure the farther it is depressed, the new Plymouth clutch requires 25 per cent less foot pressure than former designs.

Lubbock Man Purchases His 29th Buick

The photo above shows H. V. Edsall, 2108 Broadway, with his 29th Buick automobile. He bought his first Buick, a two-cylinder, five-passenger model in the spring of 1907 for $1,300. It was a 'red Buick' and cranked on the side. "This 1939 Buick is the best," Mr. Edsall said. "On my last trip into the Jonez mountains of Mexico, I made an average of better than 18 miles per gallon on gasoline."

Shift Is Moved On Studebakers

Studebaker has placed the shift lever on the new 1939 models at the driver's finger tips. It is located conveniently on the steering post directly beneath the wheel.

The conventional shift "H" has simply been turned on its side so no new driving habits need be learned. It works manually and mechanically, therefore positively.

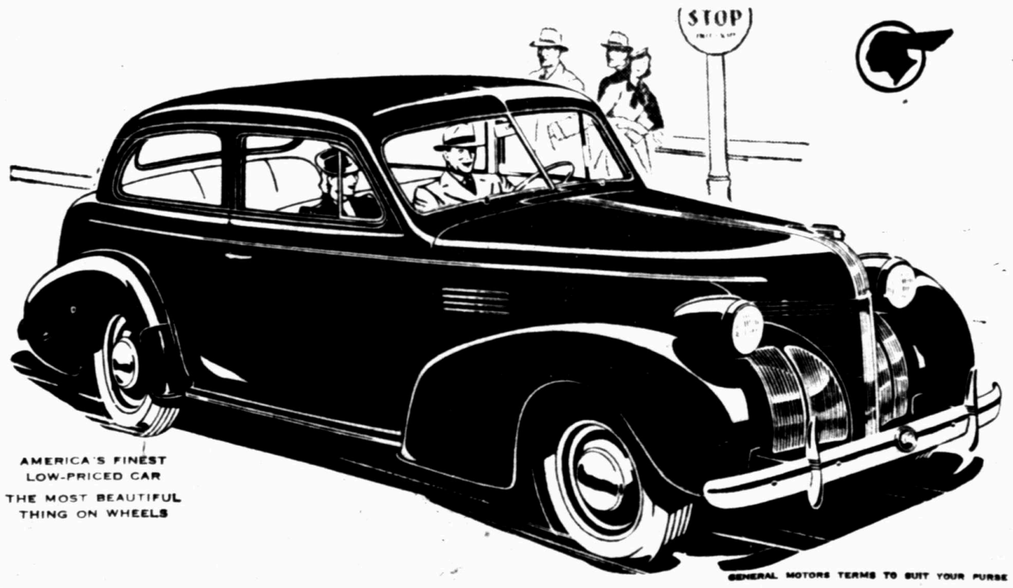

Mechanically the system is as simple as the operation of it. The shift lever is mounted on the top end of a tube of small diameter which runs up alongside the steering post. Fore and aft movement of the lever controls the fore and aft movement of the transmission gears through another lever at the lower end of the tube. The cross shift, as when changing from low to second gear, is made by vertical movement of the hand lever. This operates a rod within the "carrying" tube and, through the medium of a bellcrank and another rod, changes the controls from one transmission shift rail to the other.

The new shift is standard equipment on all 1939 Studebaker cars which are on display at the current automobile show.

A fleet operator saved gas by screwing wooden blocks to the floorboards at the right of the pedals to steady his driver's feet. As modern carburetors have accelerator pumps, which force fuel into the manifold when the throttle is moved, the steadier control increased mileage.

Many Refinements In New Buick; Studebakers Have New Streamlining Style

New, Refreshing Style Is Offered

ENTIRELY new in styling and redesigned in virtually every major chassis detail, four new lines of Buick motor cars for 1939 make their bow at the automobile show this year. They are respectively, the Series 40 Special, on 120-inch wheelbase; the Series 60 Century, with a wheel base of 126 inches; the Series 80 Roadmaster, with 133-inch wheelbase and Series 90 Limited, with a wheelbase of 140 inches.

Scoggin - Dickey Motor company, 1009 Avenue J, will show models of the new cars in the Auto show this week.

The four lines of cars, ranging in price from $894 to $2453, cover the price fields in which Buick has operated during the past four years. The new prices, according to the management, represent substantial reductions under 1938 and return this year's Buick prices to approximately 1936 levels.

Important Developments Cited

Important developments in the Buick chassis design have resulted in materially lowering the car, thus contributing to the lower and longer lines of the new models, while materially improving riding qualities and stability. Contributing greatly to the striking appearance of the car is the adoption of "Cat-Walk Cooling." With this construction the grilles are set in rakish contour in the cat-walk section of the front end, bringing them lower and resulting in better streamlining. At the same time, this construction brings air to the radiator at greater pressure, thus promoting increased cooling efficiency and permits a narrower hood for better driving vision.

Buick's "Handi-Shift" remote control gear shift will be found on all models. The shifter lever with this type control is placed under the steering wheel, thus clearing the front compartment. Other devices for the driver's comfort and convenience as well as safety will be found in the controls and throughout the car. There is a new direction signal, for example, which flashes a warning and indicates the direction of a turn, safety ignition switch, fatigue-free accelerator, legible instruments, better vision and numerous accessory refinements.

Floor Is Lower

On the Series 40 and 60 cars, due to the new design, the floor is almost two inches lower and yet there is no objectionable tunnel or other result, the entire structure is converted into what is essentially a single unit.

Throughout the cars there are many innovations to be found, some of which are introduced for the first time on any American stock car model. On the Series 40 and 60 cars "Stream Boards" may be had in place of running boards as optional equipment. Another new feature is the "Sunshine Turret Top" which is available on all sedans of both the Series 40 and Series 60 models.

This new sliding top provides sun and sightseeing advantages for closed cars which have hitherto only been possible in an open car. The roof panel slides back providing this vision upward. It is drip proof and rain proof.

Number Of Engine Improvements

Throughout the power plant, chassis and driving units there are a number of engineering improvements. The Dynaflash engines, valve-in-head straight eight type, have been improved in many details of design. This engine, which permits higher compression without detonation and consequently greater power and performance, is provided in two sizes. On the Series 40 the motor is a 3-3 32 x 4-1/8 inch unit, developing 107 horsepower at 3400 r.p.m. On Series 60, 80 and 90 the motor is 3-7/16x4-5/16 inches and developed 141 horsepower at 3600 r.p.m.

Improvements in the motor include a new fuel conditioner with new carburetor, choke, air cleaner and new manifold; new water pump bearings, sealed and lubricated for life; new engine mountings and other detailed changes.

Other Improvements

Buick's outstanding contribution to automotive engineering, the torque-free coil rear springing, is retained with improvements which provide added stability. Improvements also have been made in the independent front wheel suspension which also employs coil springs.

On the Series 40 and 60 cars, changes in the steering gear geometry have resulted in steadier but lighter steering.

A complete restudy has been made of all of the Buick cars from the standpoint of noise suppression. The result is that a larger amount of rubber, rubberized fabric and special compounds are used and placed at those strategic positions which experiment has determined will furnish the most effective barrier to both the generation of sound and the transfer of it from one unit to another.

Visibility Is Increased

One of the most important improvements of the 1939 Buick is the greatly increased visibility. Besides the narrower hood line, providing better vision over the front end, in the Series 40 and 60 bodies the areas of the glass openings have been increased. The windshield has 30 per cent more glass opening than in 1938; the front door windows have 11 per cent more; the rear doors 2 per cent more; the rear windows 52 per cent more; and the rear window glass has 21 per cent more area.

Increased body space is also provided on the new Series 40 and 60. This is true in every direction. The front seats are two inches wider, the rear seats one inch wider, there is more headroom front and rear and more entrance room through the doors. Leg room in the rear compartment has been increased by four inches.

Chevrolet Takes Big Strides Ahead

New Aero-stream styled bodies combine with major mechanical improvements to provide new beauty, safety, comfort and operating ease in the 1939 Chevrolets, presented October 22, and featured at the big auto shows this month. The new models are offered on two chassis, the Master De Luxe and the Master 85, both of which are powered with Chevrolet's famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine.

A new vacuum gear shift mechanism with steering column control, optional on all models at small extra cost, does 80 per cent of the work of shifting gears. The Master De Luxe series features a new riding system, in which a brand new Chevrolet Knee-Action mechanism is scientifically co-ordinated with new ride stabilizer and double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers to furnish a smooth, soft ride.

Safety And Riding Comfort Featured In New Hudsons To Be Shown By Ragland Firm

Advancement in safety and riding comfort and new styling throughout will be displayed this week in three new 1939 Hudson cars at Clyde Ragland Motors, 1011 Fourteen street.

"This year's models are the most luxuriously appointed in Hudson's 30-year history, Clyde Ragland said. "Lower cost is featured in the new models. For instance, the new 1939 Hudson 112, in the lowest price field, has 27 items added to the standard equipment which were not on 1938 models," Ragland said.

Ragland expressed satisfaction in interest shown in Lubbock and this section in cars already on display. Sales are encouraging, he said.

Personnel Is Listed

In addition to Ragland, personnel of the company includes: E. W. Coe, H. A. Snead and H. A. Harrison, sales department; O. C. Ragland, Garland Wilson, John Roberts, and W. L. Davis, service department.

Mrs. Sussie Mae Laird, bookkeeper; Clarence McElroy, W. C. Elroy, and L. J. Belt, body and fender department.

Ventilating Idea Latest Feature

The Studebaker automobiles for 1939, in addition to a new streamlined styling have a new type of overdrive, a new heating and air treating system and a gear shift lever mounted on the steering post.

All models of the new cars are being shown by Texas Motors, Inc., new Studebaker dealers here, located at 1012 Thirteenth street.

Makes High Speed Acceleration

The overdrive eliminates the necessity of slowing down before shifting to conventional gear. It makes high speed acceleration—the power to pass or for steep climbs—available whenever the driver wants it. This change is made by pressing the foot accelerator to the floor board.

The cars' new central ventilating, filtering and heating system is an integral part of the car. No parts are exposed. It occupies the space beneath the front floor pan formerly occupied by the battery, which is now under the hood. The system circulates air drawn from the outside within the car at the rate of more than 230 cubic feet per minute. Air in the car is changed twice every minute. An interior temperature of 70 degrees can be maintained in zero weather. Window fogging and icing in winter is eliminated by this system. In warm weather the hot water heater can be shut off and the unit used to circulate clean, filtered air.

No Chassis Frame On Lincoln Zephyr; All-Steel Structure

Lincoln-Zephyr cars are unique in the automobile world. They have no conventional chassis frame. Instead the body and frame are a single all-steel structure electrically welded into a unit. In it the engine is mounted and to it the running gear is attached. Closed body structures are of bridge-truss type.

New developments in the automobile storage battery, 29,913,000 of which constitute a gigantic roving "public utility business," have been made to such an extent that 85 per cent of the installed horsepower of the United States is in the automobile.

Added Luxury In New Plymouth For 1939

Built on a bigger, 114-inch wheelbase, the new Deluxe Plymouth for 1939 is completely restyled inside and out to provide new levels of comfort and luxury for the lowest price field. Headlamps are streamlined into bigger, more massive fenders, giving a richer appearance and also better illumination for greater safety on the road. Length of car now is 182 inches, without bumpers, and a new "Vee" windshield adds more than six inches to body length agove the belt. New coil springs of Amola steel (top center) provide a 20 per cent softer ride in both front and back seats, and this year's remote-control gear shift up on the steering post brings not just one improvement, but three—a wide-open front compartment floor unobstructed in any way; quicker, easier shifting with nothing new to learn; greater safety since the driver's hand never has to leave the wheel. The big cowl ventilator is equipped with a special rain-trap so it can be kept open even in rain or snow, and front seat adjustments to suit individual leg-length also adjust the eye-level for drivers of any height. Shown above is the Deluxe Four-door Touring Sedan.

Desoto Gives Deft Styling; Four Series Of New Sleek Nash Is Offered

'Handy-Shift' Is Newest Feature

BIGGER, wider and roomier than any previous De Soto ever built, the new De Sotos for 1939, are packed with ingenious new engineering style and comfort features.

Models of the new De Soto along with Plymouths will be shown by Hub Motor company, 1211 Main, in the Auto show this week.

A new "handy-shift" that shifts gears right from the steering column; a new safety-signal speedometer that acts like a "silent policemen"; electric windshield wipers; five speeds forward with a new automatic overdrive; a new ride formula; wide-range safety headlamps; and a new streamlined luggage locker that says "goodbye" to oldfashioned trunk "bustles" are but a few highlights of the new De Sotos shown here.

Streamline Styling

The smooth flowing contours of De Soto's new streamline styling sweep back in one unbroken line from the chromium radiator grill to a completely concealed luggage locker in the rear. The old-fashioned trunk "bustle" is gone, yet the new luggage locker in sedans has 23 cubic feet of usable trunk space, 27 per cent more than the big trunk on the 1938 De Soto models. The luggage deck of the coupes has 48 cubic feet of usable space; it is almost six feet long and five feet wide.

The 1939 De Soto body has been made 4½ inches wider across the front compartment. The wider sedan body insures plenty of room for three large people.

The traditional De Soto grill of horizontal chromium bars has been retained in a completely new treatment, which includes the addition of two grills of horizontal chromium bars beneath the jewel-like main grill. Wide-range safety headlamps have been faired into the massive front fenders. Both front and rear fenders are of a new design.

The length of the hood has been increased, stretching 55 inches from the tip of the radiator shell to the big, V-type windshield.

Two Lines of Cars

De Soto offers two lines of cars —the custom and the de luxe. The 1939 line includes: The custom four-door touring sedan, de luxe four-door touring sedan, custom two-door touring sedan, de luxe two-door touring sedan, custom coupe, custom coupe with auxiliary seats, business coupe, business coupe with auxiliary seats, custom seven-passenger sedan, de luxe seven-passenger sedan, custom limousine and de luxe limousine.

Five Speeds Forward

Five speeds forward with a new, perfected, automatic overdrive that brings overdrive performance and economy to city driving; available at moderate extra cost.

New safety-signal speedometer that shows green, amber, red automatically to inform drivers of the speed range in which they are driving.

New non-slam doors with rotary door locks which close with fingertip pressure.

Brakes Are Soft

New rain trap in the cowl ventilator which permits driving in rain with cowl vent open; also facilitates installation of new fresh air attachment available on heaters.

Ninety-three horsepower super-economy engine with improved carburetion and faster pickup; embodies floating power engine mountings, full length water jackets, full pressure lubrication, by-pass thermostat, calibrated ignition, and anodic-coated, aluminum alloy pistons with four piston rings.

Pistol grip hand brake located to the left of the driver, beneath the instrument panel, leaving front compartment absolutely clear of obstructions to passenger comfort.

Chevrolet Offers New Adjusted Headlamp; Harmonize With Body

Chevrolet's new streamlined headlamps nestle in the valley between fender crown and hood, and their beams are easy of both vertical and horizontal adjustment, the adjustment hole being located outside the hood, above the fender. The lamps are longer and of larger diameter than in 1938, harmonizing with the streamlining of the body.

NON-SLAM DE SOTO DOORS

The new De Sotos for 1939 are equipped with rotary door locks of new design, which makes it possible to close the doors with finger-tip pressure. No door slamming is necessary.

De Soto Has New Roominess

Featuring sofa-wide seats that provide ample room for six passengers, the new 1939 De Soto 4-Door Touring Sedan is truly a spacious and roomy car. Its front compartment has been widened four and one-half inches, and overall length has been increased to more than 200 inches. It is available in two lines—the Custom and the De Luxe.

Detroit Sees Four Million Car Output For The Year

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 9.—Many of the men who make automobiles are beginning to look upon a 4,000,000-unit output next year as a virtual certainty as retail demands holds up and orders at the factories show little indication of levelling off.

Factory activity at the moment is above the production level of the comparable weeks of 1937 and plant executives and sales managers, planning the schedules as far ahead as possible, see no likelihood of a let-down in consumer requirement until well after the first of the coming year.

Few of the producers themselves have been willing openly to sponsor the 4,000,000-unit estimate for next year, being content rather with the venture that an increase of from 35 to 50 per cent might develop. Thus would bring the aggregate fairly close to that mark, but the spread indicated the uncertainty most manufacturers felt up until a few weeks ago.

Consumer Interest High

Consumer interest in the current automobile shows undoubtedly has much to do with the further rise in producers' spirits. The sales division of various companies reported more than customary interest in the displays and an increasing number of sales on the show floors.

Encouraged as they are over the prospect of increased distribution of their product during the coming year, the manufacturers point out that production costs have been increased and prices reduced on virtually every model currently made. For these reasons, they make it clear, a large volume of sales must be made if operations are to be maintained on a profit basis. It was largely with the expectation of stepping up unit sales that price cuts were undertaken with the presentation of the 1939 models.

The first time the industry exceeded 4,000,000 assemblies in one year was in 1923 when it turned out 4,180,450 vehicles. These had a wholesale value of $2,592,033,428. In 1935, 4,119,811 vehicles were produced with a wholesale value of $2,187,846,702.

An indication of what most of the manufacturers look for next year is given in the upward boost in tentative production schedules. Pontiac division of General Motors had a tentative output program calling for 125,000 units next year. It is now aiming at 200,000 in 1939.

Oldsmobile's Fisher no draft ventilation provides desired car temperature under all weather conditions.

New Type Absorber

Nash Sleeping Car Still Is Popular

The sleeping car arrangement which Nash Motors pioneered, is again a feature of the four-door sedan model in each series of 1939 Nash cars, the company has announced.

This year, it is said, the sleeping car arrangement has been so simplified and improved that conversion can be made in less than 10 minutes.

The arrangement utilizes the rear passenger compartment and the trunk section of the car.

Introduced by Nash Motors in its 1935 cars, the arrangement is said to be exceptionally popular among tourists, campers, hunters and other outdoor people.

Sliding Roof Panel Is Offered In Olds Sunshine Turret Top

New for 1939 and available on the Oldsmobile series "70" and "80" two-door sedan and four-door sedan models is the Oldsmobile sunshine turret top. A sliding roof panel which can be easily opened provides added comfort for fair weather motoring.

Oldsmobile's tri-cushion engine suspension reduces engine vibration to a minimum.

'Weather Eye' Is Latest Feature

FOUR series of cars, 22 models in all and ranging in price from a low of $770 to a high of $1,235 (factory delivered prices), are presented for 1939 by Nash Motors.

Bill McCarty Motor company, 919 Texas avenue, will show new Nash models in the Auto show this week.

All have been completely restyled from bumper to bumper, and in design follow a new conception of the modern streamline motif. The new body and hood line, and the slenderizing treatment of the front end give them a longer, lower, wider and racier appearance.

One of the foremost new features is the "weather eye" conditioned air system for winter driving. This is an advancement of the car comfort system pioneered in 1938 by Nash, and makes car conditioning automatic all winter long.

Another important advance is the "Hurricane Power" engine of the Nash-Lafayette, or low priced, series of cars. It is described as the most simple gasoline engine yet designed, and has many parts less than conventional automobile power plants.

Low Price, High Power

It is made up of two major parts —engine block and engine head. The manifolding is cast into the engine block. It is an L-head type motor, and dual jet carburetion is used.

The new engine design is so much more efficient and trouble free that it makes 99 horsepower possible for a low-price car. Despite this increase in power, operating economy will be 10 per cent better than last year.

The simplified motor design also is used in the Nash medium priced cars—the Ambassador six and Ambassador eight—but they will be twin ignition, valve-in-head motors, as they were last year. The six has 105, and the eight, 115 horsepower.

This year the industry will see a new super shock absorber in the Nash giant airliner type which is being used on the rear of all Nash chassis. It is 40 per cent longer than that used last year. The "sea legs" type of shocks on the front of all Nash cars in 1938 will be continued in 1939.

Sound Proofing Improved

A remote control gear shifter, located on the steering column, will be optional on all series of cars.

Car sound-proofing, on which Nash and Kelvinator engineers have been working for two years, takes on a new meaning in these cars in 1939, the general sales manager said. Advances in the usage of Nash-Kelvinator's "Sand Mortex" provide a much quieter car interior. Wind roar, motor hum and traffic noise are blotted out of this type of insulation. Engineers explain that in "Sand Mortex" grains of sand are suspended in a semi-rigid compound, and block sound waves by dancing in front of them as they attempt to penetrate the protected surface.

The Nash bed-in-a-car arrangement has been improved for 1939.

The new body design gave Nash engineers an opportunity to widen bodies as much as four inches. Both front and rear seats offer plenty of room for three passengers now.

Windshield vision has been greatly increased through increases in width and height, and by the pitch of the glass.

In design, the new Nash cars are pure, modern streamlining. They feature a very narrow, sparkling radiator grill, wide catwalks, which also are broken by cooling grills, and massive rounded fenders. Adjustable, high-powered headlights are set in the front of the fenders.

The flowing lines converge in a streamlined back which has just the trace of a fin in the center. This type of back or a conventional trunk back may be had on any of the four-door sedans at no extra cost.

A new safety instrument panel has been developed for 1939. The angle of the panel and the location of the instruments make it possible to read the dials at a glance. The speedometer is a ribbon type with all speed markings on a horizontal line. An automatic tuning radio, which will be featured by Nash this year, fits into the panel.

Hypoid gears are used in the sedans to provide a flat floor surface in the rear.

The Nash cruising gear, the equivalent of an automatic fourth speed forward, will be a standard equipment feature on the Ambassador eight, and available as an option on all models.

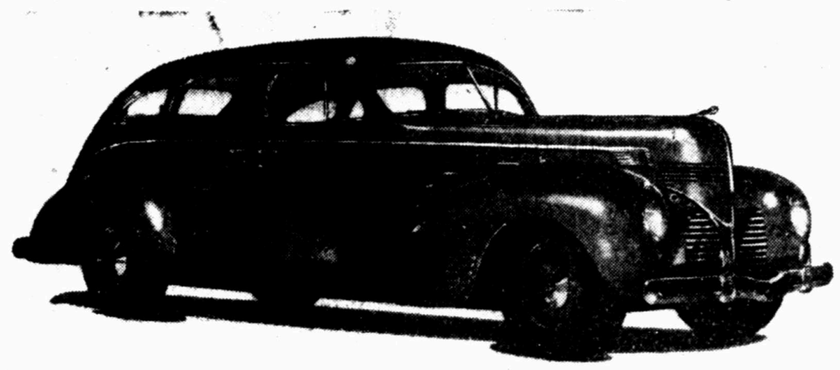

Beauty and performance were not the only primary goals of Nash designers and engineers. Driver and passengers are completely inclosed by reinforced steel in the 1939 bodies. Heavy gauge body metal is used, and this is supported by box-type steel body girders. Heavy steel floors and a battleship type bulkhead make up the remainder of the all-steel body.

Beneath the floor is a new and sturdier frame. It is described as double frame construction. The side channels in the rear have been widened, and a new Z member has been added in the rear.

Because of the importance of the "weather eye" to better motoring, Nash will make this one of their major features during the cold months.

The "weather eye" breathes in as much as 800 cubic feet of fresh, filtered, outside air a minute and maintains a slight air pressure in the interior. As a result, the flow of air always is outward from the car interior, and drafts are eliminated, and tobacco smoke dissipated.

Riding And Driving Comfort Provided For In Dodge Luxury Liner

Everything that contributes to riding and driving comfort seems to be provided in this new, roomy 4-door Dodge Luxury Liner sedan de luxe. Wide and deep seats, improved visibility, a novel gearshift, individual-action front wheel springing and a variety of important mechanical, comfort and safety features are among the improvements built into the chassis and into all-steel bodies of entirely new design and construction.

Butler-Fuller Pontiac Co. To Display Pontiacs; Will Remain Open Each Night

Butler-Fuller Pontiac company, 1008 Avenue J, will include three sizes of Pontiacs in four body types in its display of 1939 automobiles today through Saturday.

Walter Fuller is president of the company, R. P. Fuller is secretary-treasurer and manager of sales.

Open Each Night

Doors of the company will be open to the public each night this week as late as there is demand.

"Response to new model Pontiacs has been gratifying since their first showing here," Butler said. "Sales have been encouraging."

Butler-Fuller Pontiac company was established here two years ago.

A general increase in business has been noted throughout the short history of the agency, according to Buter.

Others In Sales Department

Others in the sales department than Fuller are: Foree Follis, J. W. Calvert, T. Williams, W. J. Whitson, and L. S. Bridge.

Kirby Nash is shop foreman. Mechanics are Johnny Venable, Johnny Welchael, Glenn Butler, and W. S. Hogg. Vic Norman is in charge of the wash and grease department.

Buick Boasts Of Comfortable Seats, Non-Fatiguing Style

On the new Buicks particular attention has been given to the construction of the seats to provide the most natural sitting position under all circumstances. The springs in the seats and the seat backs are so designed that they will not be too hard for persons of slight build or too soft for those of greater weight. The seat backs are curved to give the correct support to the body. Both the front and rear seats have been formed after long experiment to provide the maximum in comfort, non-fatiguing quality.

Fisher Building Safer Bodies

By EDWARD F. FISHER
General Manager, Fisher Body Division

Importance of adequate vision from the standpoint of both safety and comfort would appear from a review of motor car models in the last few years to have been lost sight of generally.

True, there is absolute minimum below which no manufacturer would dare go, yet the space devoted to windshield and windows obviously was being sacrificed in the interest of styling and the demand for smoother, more flowing, better streamlined designs.

Must Be Reversed

We, in Fisher Body and General Motors, felt that the trend, not only must be halted but if possible reversed. Recognizing the fact that less glass area was adversely affecting the enjoyment of motoring, besides creating a hazard that could no longer be countenanced with the increasing complexity of modern traffic conditions, we set our engineers and stylists to work on the creation of new body designs that would afford the widest possible range of vision for the driver and his passengers, yet would maintain the Fisher tradition in matters of safety, style and comfort.

The 1939 General Motors cars with their unisteel turret top bodies by Fisher illustrate the manner in which the problem has been solved. As much as 413 square inches of glass have been added to the windshield and windows of some of the new models. This, coupled with a sizeable reduction in the diameter of the windshield, center and rear hinge pillars, provides an astounding increase in the field visible from the new cars.

Hudson Prices Buy The Complete Car; No 'Extras' Are Added

Hudson sales executives are emphasizing, to dealers and to the public, the fact that 1939 Hudson prices "buy a complete car," and represent a substantially lowered cost to the 1939 buyer for the kind of car he wants. William R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales of the Hudson Motor Car company, cites the fact that even the new Hudson 112, Hudson's lowest priced model, has 27 items added as standard equipment which were not included in the 1938 prices.

Three New Oldsmobiles Offered; New Hudson Mixes Safety With Beauty

Perfect Steering Also Featured

THREE smart new Oldsmobiles for 1938—two sixes and an eight—all offering a fresh new note in modern streamline styling and much that is new in mechanical design, have made their bow to the Oklahoma public.

Grimes Motor company, Thirteenth and Avenue H, is Oldsmobile dealer and distributor, and will have models of the new cars in the Auto show this week.

Among the high points of interest in the cars with which Oldsmobile starts its forty-second model year are:

1—Addition to the line of a brand new six-cylinder car which brings Oldsmobile quality to the low price field.

2—Introduction on all models of the "rhythmic ride," a new perfection of roadability and riding comfort resulting from quadri-coil springing in combination with four separate stabilizing factors.

Attains Perfect Steering

3—Attainment of perfect steering geometry through a new hookup employing a relay link with twin tie-rods of equal length, termed "dual center-control steering."

4—Introduction of "handi-shift" as standard equipment—a replacement of the conventional gear shift lever by a short, horizontal manual shift arm on the steering column.

5—Continuation as an optional extra on all models of Oldsmobile's automatic safety transmission which provides important added advantages in performance, operating economy and ease of control.

The low priced six, brown as the series sixty, is powered with a newly developed "Econo-Master" engine of 90 brake horsepower designed to provide top flight performance at minimum operating cost. A larger six, developing 95 horsepower and with a wheelbase of 120 inches, is designated the series seventy, while the 110 horsepower straight eight on the same wheelbase has been named the series eighty.

All in Same Style

All three series bear a general resemblance in the graceful treatment of flaring, low-valanced fenders, smartly tailored metal trim, smoothly contoured all-steel turret top bodies and safety steel wheels.

Among the many new Oldsmobile developments for 1939, the one which probably will draw major attention is the "rhythmic ride" and the means by which it has been achieved. The "rhythmic ride," according to C. L. McCuen, general manager of Oldsmobile, offers an entirely new conception of motoring comfort which results from the absolute control maintained over the action of the "quadri-coil" springs by the various stabilizing devices designed and built into the chassis.

Coil springs now are employed both front and rear. The front wheels are individually sprung (knee-action), while a traverse axle connects the rear wheels. All four of the coil springs have a constant rate of deflection.

All four of the stabilizing units of the chassis are rendered permanently silent by being cushioned in rubber.

New, Easier Steering

Another chassis development of exceptional interest is Oldsmobile's new dual center-control steering system. In addition to the conventional Pitman arm (the lever at the base of the steering post which transfers steering wheel motion to the front wheels of the car) Oldsmobile employs a second or "idler" arm closely resembling the Pitman arm. It is attached to the right side of the car frame directly across the chassis from the Pitman arm. These two arms are connected by a rod or relay link which moves back and forth as the steering wheel changes the position of the Pitman arm.

This rod eliminates the traditional difficulty in steering geometry caused by the fact that the steering wheel is off center in the car.

The new Fisher bodies of the sixty, seventy and eighty present an entirely fresh conception of modern styling. All Oldsmobile sedan models this year feature built-in trunks, the so-called "flat-back" bodies having been eliminated from the line.

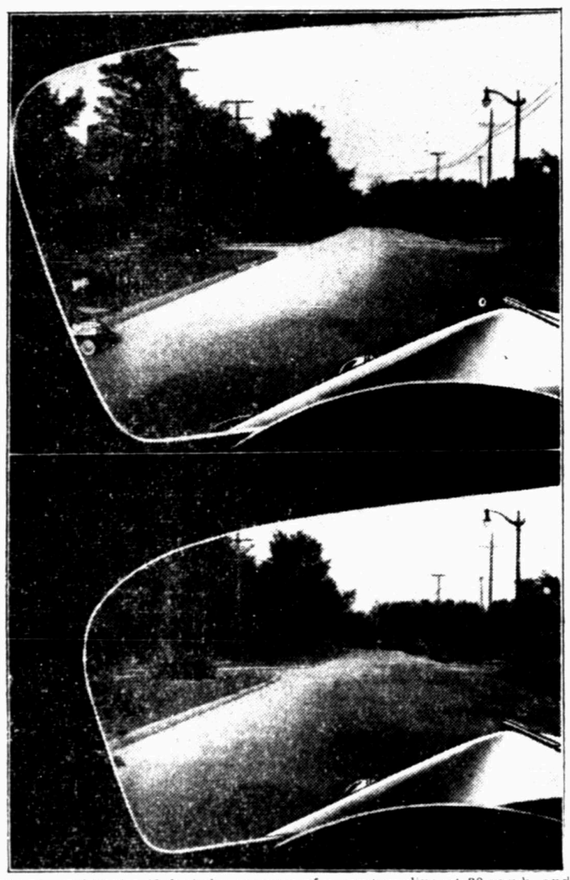

The Floors Are Lower

Hypoid rear axle gearing has permitted the car floors of the seventy and eighty to be lowered by nearly three inches. Also, an increase has been achieved in the road clearance of the under carriage.

Another interesting body feature of the seventy and eighty series is found in the employment of concealed door hinges at all points except the base of the forward door. The cars of all three series carry heavy, single bar bumpers with twin guards.

Safety glass is standard for windows as well as windshields throughout the entire 1939 line.

Better Vision For Driving

Objects within the 40-foot danger zone of a car traveling at 30 m.p.h. and now hidden from view will be clearly visible to the driver of a 1939 car as evidenced by these comparative photos just released by officials of General Motors Fisher Body division. Above: An indication of the wide field of vision afforded the driver of a new Buick 40. Below: The same scene with templates covering the increase in the area of the windshield. Note that the boy on the wagon is completely obscured. As much as 413 square inches of glass have been added to the windshield and windows of the new models.

Large Display Of Dodge And Plymouths Is Planned By Beasley Motor Company

Beasley Motor company, Thirteenth and Avenue J, plan a large display of 1939 models of Dodge and Plymouth cars and trucks this week, said J. H. Beasley, head of the distributing company which bears his name. He is enthusiastic over the new line and the reception they have so far received.

With factory production better, plants have been able to turn out new machines faster, to meet the increased demand.

Showing Commercial Jobs

"We are showing both Dodge and Plymouth passenger cars, Plymouth commercial cars and Dodge trucks and commercial cars," said Beasley. "There will be 14 passenger car models shown, of the two lines."

Beasley is perhaps one of the oldest car dealers of this section in years of service in the industry. He first entered the business in 1909, he said, and came to Lubbock from Abilene several years ago.

Extensive preparations have been made for handing a large number of visitors to the show rooms. Cars will be rolled onto the floor ready for delivery. Beasley plans to have at least 30 machines on hand this week.

The company is not only a local dealer for the two lines, but is a distributor over 14 counties in this section.

Beasley directs his own sales force here. Salesmen on duty this week will include, W. N. Brewer, C. A. Case, L. N. Baker, T. R. Patton, John W. Baker, L. B. Scott, T. R. Conley, O. A. Wooten, used car manager and Emory Witt, wholesale manager.

Rubber Is Used Extensively In Manufacture Of Automobiles

From 200 to 300 different kinds of rubber products are used in automobile construction, and at least 500 different varieties of rubber goods and products find non-productive uses in automotive plants. More than 50 pounds of rubber per finished car is used in even the smallest automobiles.

Most Luxurious In Thirty Years

FEATURING major advancements in safety and riding comfort and new luxury and styling throughout, three new 1939 Hudson cars are being produced by the Hudson Motor Car Co., of which A. E. Barit is president and general manager.

New Hudsons are being exhibited in the Auto show this week by Clyde Ragland Motors, 1011 Fouteenth street, local Hudson dealer.

The line consists of the Hudson 112 de luxe with 86 horsepower and 112-inch wheelbase; the new Hudson six with 96 horsepower and 118-inch wheelbase, and the new Country Club series sixes and eighths with 101 and 122 horsepower respectively, mounted on 122-inch wheelbase, and an eight-cylinder Country Club custom sedan mounted on 129-inch wheelbase. The complete range of body models is shown on each of the three lines which are distinctly grouped in the lowest, low and moderate price fields.

All three new lines of Hudson cars are newly styled throughout and are featured as the most luxurious appointed in Hudson's 30-year history.

Grille Treatment Modern

The treatment of the front grilles is in the latest modern manner and gives each of the three lines a low, long, sleek appearance. In the new Hudson 112 the two-tone chrome grilles carry out the present vogue for wide, low horizontal treatment. The Hudson sixes and Country Club models have die-cast center grilles and two die-cast grilles in the catwalk section with headlamps mounted flush in the front fenders. Parking lamps on the Country Club series are contained in an ornamental band of chrome moulding on the side of the hood giving a distinctive ornamental touch and in addition a safety advantage in that the lights can be seen from the side as well as the front.

Important engineering advancements in riding comfort, safety, roadability and car control make their appearance for the first time in the industry in all three new 1939 Hudson cars. Outstanding among these developments is an entirely new mechanical invention known as auto-poise control. This new principle of car control, discovered by Hudson engineers, causes wheels to hold their course automatically over any road and at any speed, even in heavy side winds, and also minimizes the danger of swerve in case of a tire blowout.

Airfoam Seats Are New

Combined with this new ease and sureness of car control, Hudson brings to the American automobile for the first time the riding comfort of airfoam seat cushions. The combination of these two new and exclusive Hudson developments is known as the "Airfoam Ride with Auto-Poise Control" and is attracting enthusiastic comment from show visitors.

As described by Hudson engineers, auto-poise control (patent applied for) employs a positive, active mechanical force to hold the car in a straight line of travel at all times resulting in a fundamental improvement in "ride," driving ease and sureness of control.

An exclusive Hudson development never before utilized in the industry, auto-poise control consists of a spring steel leverage device with the ends angled back to form shock-cushioned mechanical "arms" which are connected directly to the wheel spindles which turn with the steering.

These attachment points are so located that whatever force turns the wheels from their true course—whether it is wind or road shock—is resisted by the mechanical "arms" which return the wheels to the true course automatically.

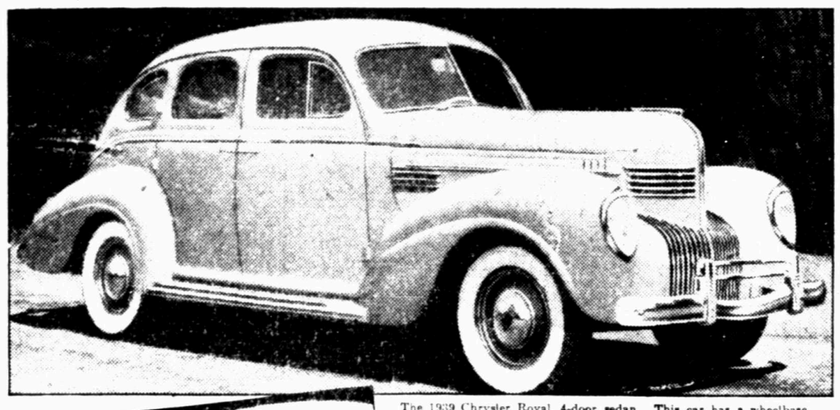

Since this action occurs right at the wheels, the correction is direct and immediate.

The adaptation of airfoam seat cushions to multiple coil seat spring construction is also an exclusive Hudson development for which patent has been applied.

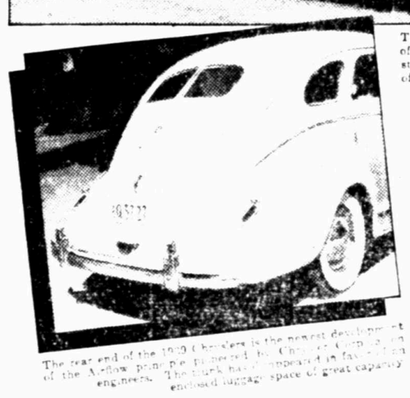

Airfoam cushions are made from the pure milk of the rubber tree (latex) brought to this country in its natural state. In manufacture, air is beaten into it until it literally turns to foam; then it is molded into cushions.

Oldsmobile's dual center-control steering provides effortless car control with greater safety.

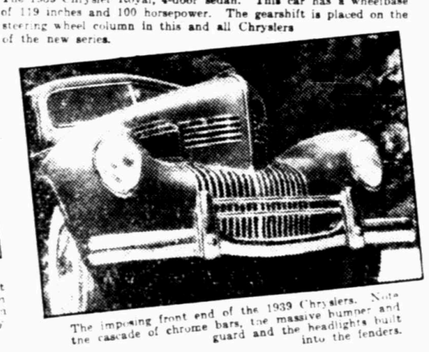

More Power, More Room, More Refinements In New Chryslers

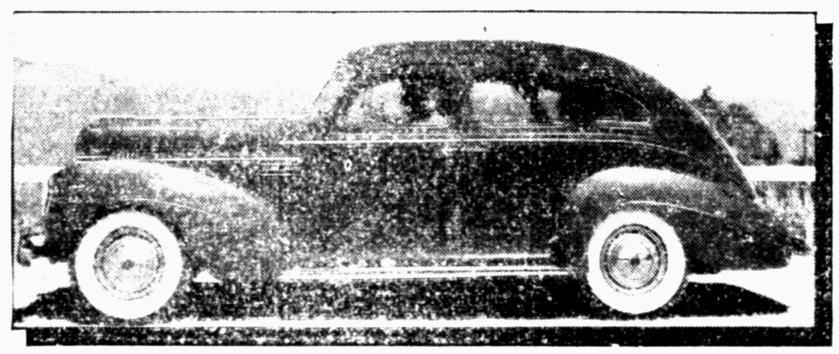

The 1939 Chrysler Royal, 4-door sedan. This car has a wheelbase of 119 inches and 100 horsepower. The gearshift is placed on the steering wheel column in this and all Chryslers of the new series.

The rear end of the 1939 Chrysler is the newest development of the Airflow principle pioneered by Chrysler engineers. The trunk has appeared in fact as an enclosed luggage space of great capacity.

The imposing front end of the 1939 Chryslers. Note the cascade of chrome bars, the massive bumper and guard and the headlights built into the fenders.

New Gas Gauge On De Soto Is Not Fluttery Over Bumps

If your gasoline gauge flutters dizzily when you drive along a country road, it may help your peace of mind to know that engineers have developed a new automatic gauge on the 1939 De Soto which will not flutter when the car goes around corners or rides over bumpy roads.

BIGGER FUEL TANK

A bigger fuel tank of 18 gallons capacity instead of 16 has been installed in the new De Sotos for 1939. The tank is made of heavy gauge metal to prevent punctures from rocks flying up from the road.

MANY PONTIACS SOLD

A total of more than 1,600,000 Pontiac cars have been built since this make made its first appearance at the 1926 automobile shows.

Car Industry Is Setting Records

By GEORGE W. MASON
(President, Nash-Kelvinator Corp.)

The automotive industry, long regarded as the bellwether of business, this year has outdone itself with the most attractive and salable line of cars introduced. As you tour the aisles of the Chicago automobile show your eyes will feast on the ultimate in motor car design from a standpoint of beauty, comfort, utility and value.

Manufacturers have credited new cars this year which literally shout—"Buy me."

All this must surely spur buying to the point where automotive sales will assure more employment to workers in all lines directly or indirectly dependent on the automobile industry for wages and prosperity.

The slogan "sales mean jobs" is just as pertinent this autumn as it was last summer, when hundreds of cities throughout the nation rallied to better business and employment.

Nash Motors has a keen appreciation of the responsibility it bears—as do other large companies—toward the thousands of suppliers, workers, salesmen, dealers, and distributors who, entirely or in part, rely on this company to provide wages and employment.

General Motors Is Increasing Sales

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—General Motors corp. announced November sales of cars and trucks to consumers in the United States increased to 131,387 units, compared with 68,896 in October and 117,387 in November last year.

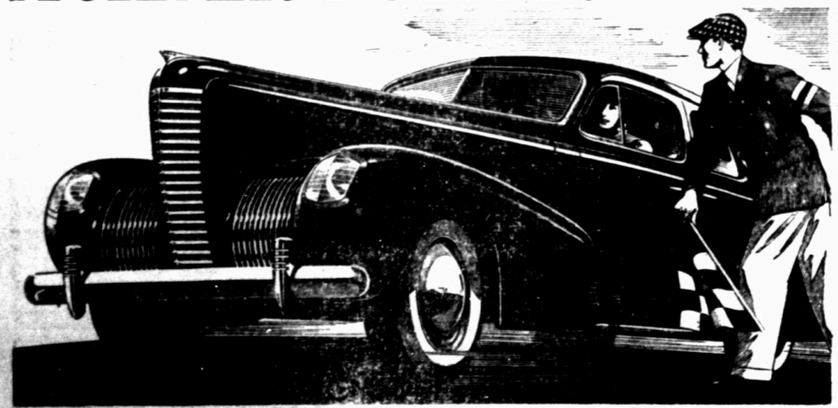

Sales to domestic dealers totaled 159,573 units against 92,890 in the preceding month and 153,184 a year ago.

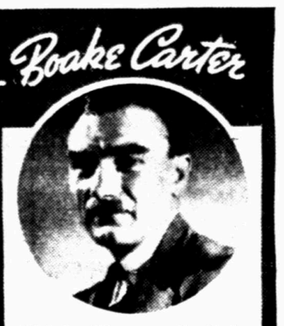

Total sales to dealers in the United States and Canada, plus overseas shipments, amounted to 200,256 against 123,835 in October and 195,136 in November, 1937.

Patent Is Sought For Hudson's New Auto-Poise Control Idea

Hudson has applied for patents for an invention known as auto-poise control, introduced as a standard feature of 1939 Hudson models. It applies a new mechanical principle discovered by Hudson engineers, which they say causes wheels to hold their true course automatically, even on rough roads and in heavy side winds. Tests have shown that even with tire blowouts, there is practically no variation from the true course.

"IT BORES THROUGH SPACE LIKE A SILVER BULLET!"...says Boake Carter

Model Is Silver Anniversary Car

HE 1939 line of Dodge passenger automobiles are being viewed th lively interest, partly because presents a number of style sur-ises and mechanical innovations, d also because the newest of odge cars is company's silver an-versary model.

Beasley Motor company, Thir-enth and Avenue J, will show mod-s of the new Dodge along with ymouths in the Auto show this ek.

So marked appears the regard hich manufacturers have given e attainment of streamlined uty and luxuries, that there ns to be ample justification for nouncing the new car as the odge Luxury Liner."

To the visitor examining the new rs for the first time, only the meplate and the familiar Rocky ountain Ram which for years has rved as Dodge radiator ornament, ggest the car's identity. Every-ing else is new and different — dy contours, hood lines, front ills, fenders, lamps, windshield, ont wheel springing, running ards—even the tire pattern dif-rs from that used on preceding odge models.

Driving Space Clear

The driving compartment is clear gear shift and parking brake vers. The new Dodge is longer in heelbase and wider in body, two rcumstances which have been rned to advantage in the inter-rs—in wider seats, increased leg nd elbow space, and in greater sibility.

In designing the chassis of the ew Luxury Liner, engineers have rovided a new frame with six-inch de members. The greatest change noted in the heavier front end of e new frame, which now accom-dates an individual-action front-rel suspension using a pair of ugh coil springs.

The hood section of the new odel expresses new beauty as well s aero-dynamic advantages.

Front Suspension Changed

In the new Dodge individual-ac-on front springing, road vibration s leveled out by sturdy, rusty-roofed coil springs of amola steel. There is no front axle and there-ore no common support for right nd left front wheels. Each wheel s free to move up or down in con-ormity with the road surface, in-dependent of the opposite wheel.

An important adjunct of the front uspension is a steering mechanism hat has neither Pitman arm nor rag link, but employs a Y-shaped teering arm moving horizontally, rosswise to the frame. The steer-ng linkage appears simple, extreme-y short and direct, so that the teering action is sure and steady, nd free from vibration.

The rear suspension employs thin-f, semi-elliptic, squeakless springs amola steel. The spring suspen-n is augmented by four airplane ype hydraulic shock absorbers.

The road wheels—pierced for four nstead of three chain straps — are f new, thicker steel section. Hub aps are of new design and incor-orate a variant of the Dodge Rocky Mountain Ram trademark.

Safety In Vision

The V-type "airplane vision" indshield also is of entirely new esign. Unusual visibility forward s matched by similar side visibility hrough wide windows in the sides nd rear.

In keeping with other features of treamlining, the headlamps of the ew Luxury Liners are recessed in he forward curves of the front fen-ers, flush with the surface. The rrangement results in several ad-antages; one of these is that the riving lights are 13 inches farther apart and illuminate the entire idth of the road; another advan-ge is that the lamps are closer o the ground, where they give safer old illumination in hazy or foggy eather and cause little or no glare.

Dodge bodies are doubly insulat-d—against heat and cold, by the iberal use of linings of felt and ther materials——and against road oises and operating vibrations by 4 "hush points" of live rubber which keep chassis and bodies out f actual metal-to-metal contract.

Dodge Engine Improvements

The hydraulic brakes of Dodge ave been further improved by re-ocating air-cooled ribs and rede-igning the brake drums to give the rake action a better "feel."

Especially noteworthy among en-ine improvements are new auto-hermic pistons. Because these are ighter and also carry lighter piston ins, the loads on main and con-ecting rod bearings are reduced. The new pistons, of the steel-strut ype and cam ground, are surface-oated with a low-friction metal of reat durability. Because of the oating, the pistons close in upon he cylinder walls; because of the am design and reduced friction, ey maintain original clearances r greatly lengthened periods.

The Dodge engine itself, having a re of 3 1-4 inches, a stroke of 4 3-8 inches, and a compression ratio of 6.5, normally develops a maximum of 87 horsepower. The famous "floating power" engine mountings are used, with improvements making them still more effective.

Hudson's Airfoam Cushion

of the secret of Hudson's new ride is shown in the Airfoam seat cush-nd spring design (patent applied for). This new cushioning material up to now in deluxe airliners, crack streamline trains, mattresses in g hospitals and a few makes of costly furniture, is brought to the ican automobile for the first time by Hudson.

Fifth Member Of Famous Ford Family Featured In Lubbock Auto Co.'s Show

Fifth member of the famous Ford family will be shown in Lubbock this week, the Mercury, a new car that is attracting wide interest among prospective new car owners, said Harry Morris, manager of Lubbock Auto Co., Ford dealers here for the past 17 years.

The concern plans to show 14 models of the Ford V-8 and the Deluxe, four models of the Mercury and five of the Lincoln-Zephyr, he explained. Show rooms will be open every night at Ninth and Texas.

Reception Is Best

"Best reception of any car we have ever had, during the 17 years we have shown them," Morris said of the Mercury. "Its looks and engineering seem to satisfy the public better than any we have ever had."

Dallas Branch of Ford Motor Co. he added was increasing its assembling of new cars in order to meet the demand for them. The concern had not planned to increase capacity, but so heavy has been the demand by car buyers for the new model that the company was forced to act.

The plant advises it is to be able right away to make deliveries of all models.

Purchasers Are Enthusiastic

Morris said purchasers of the new cars were very enthusiastic over their machines, more so than most purchasers.

All models of Fords show improved engineering and design this year. The company having made many changes. Sales are better for new cars this season, than a year ago, and the supply from the factory is larger and more easily and quickly secured.

J. D. McPhaul, sales manager, will be in charge of the force on duty at the show rooms. Others will include, C. C. Worrell, Ed Eden, J. L. Jones, Bryan Landers, Don Hatchett, Homer Hall, Earl Bain, N. C. Daugherty, James Nix, J. A. Pirtle, John McElroy, J. N. Hunter, H. T. Campbell and Elmer Tarbox.

'Special Delivery' Truck Is To Be Featured In Showing GMC Trucks By Hufstedler

Chief attraction for the 1939 General Motors corporation's truck and commercial car lines, to be shown this week by E. K. Hufstedler & Sons, 2202 Avenue H, is a "special delivery," a panel job, said E. K. Hufstedler.

"It is known as a 'merchant's delivery,' and is the very latest thing in that line," said Hufstedler. "We believe that it will meet with a great reception by merchants who use an auto delivery."

Have Associate Dealers

Hufstedler's firm is the local representative of the General Motors lines in Lubbock and Hale county. They also have four or five other counties in this section, with associate dealers.

Four models of the complete line of trucks and pick-up cars or commercial cars, will be shown this week.

The 1939 line is a complete renovation of design and motors. "We have the famous valve-in-head motor, of our own make, in all cars," added. "They are made in G.M.C. factories and this year it is an entirely new one."

Sons Are Associated

Associated with the father here is his son, J. B. Hufstedler and at Plainview is another son, E. K. Hufstedler, jr., J. B. Martin is a salesman here, with the father and son.

A complete line of parts for all G.M.C. trucks is carried at the Avenue H. house, where a full service is available for car owners.

The Lubbock firm features the Yellow Manufacturing Acceptance corporation's time financing plan, exclusively for truck sales, Hufstedler added.

There is a new rubber-floated harmonic balancer on the new Chevrolet. It is permanently adjusted and tuned and never requires attention, engineers state.

Extensive Tests Made On Cars

BY DAVID A. WALLACE
President, Chrysler Division Chrysler Corporation

WE are extremely proud of the product we are offering the public for 1939. We have confidence that this product represents everything owners will desire and everything our dealers could ask and still keep them competitive in price. Our 1939 cars have "possessive appearance" and are of a new style that carries the advantages of individuality. The quality of the 1939 Chyrslers is the best ever produced in our plant and we believe, in the automobile industry, due to the fact that we have installed and put into operation during the last year complete mechanical checking apparatus, whether it be motor analyzation or chassis analyzation.

Weiss Motor company, 1414 Avenue K, is showing models of the new Chryslers along with Plymouths in the Auto show this week.

In chassis analyzation it is now possible for us to test cars on specially designed rolls with perfect duplication of roads conditions up to 100 miles an hour. Not only do we simulate the speed conditions, but the gas economy and oil economy and motor efficiency as well.

Wider And Roomier

The new body is wider and roomier, and the trimming in it is luxurious, beautiful and "swank" in its simplicity. The new all-steel structure carries all of the experience that our engineers and production departments have found in practice as necessary to achieve as nearly as possible a sound, squeakless, safe body. There have been added many details, which very definitely affect the appearance of the cars.

The motor in the eight cylinder Imperial is completely new, with longer water jackets, more efficient valving, perfect cooling. It has been thoroughly tested, and there is every reason to believe that this motor with its greatly increased horsepower, which on an average will be 25 actual horsepower above that delivered in the standard motors last year, will give the purchaser the greatest value for his money that has been offered in the eight cylinder field. This motor will be universal in all our eight cylinder cars.

Let me explain briefly what has been done in the factory to put behind our product a better and more uniform quality. All of our motors are individually run in and adjusted, after which they are put into silent test rooms and given the final adjustment, tested for horsepower and put through the complete and only motor analyzer equipment in any automobile factory on production lines.

New Finish Is Best

We have developed a new finish and method of producing, known as surefinish. It is now possible with this method to produce finishes that have scratches of less than five millionth of an inch depth or width in our ordinary practice and that can be reduced to two millionths when the proper functioning of a pi requires it. All of these scratches upon parts that have been surefinished will be below the bearing surface instead of above, as in the past. The actual bearing surface which carries the load will then be lubricated by reservoirs of oil below the bearing surface. The surefinishing of parts will greatly increase the life by the elimination of wear. This especially applies to motors.

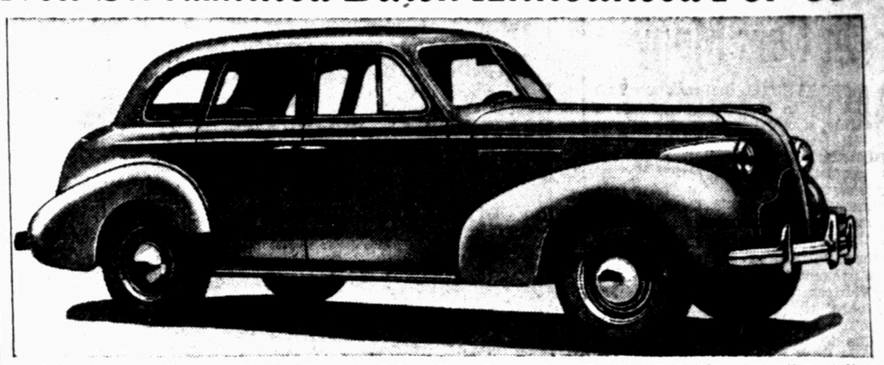

We have installed a new synthetic painting system for all bodies and sheet metal at a cost of nearly half a million. This synthetic system has been designed absolutely to eliminate dirt in the process of applying the enamel, which permits us to leave the heaviest possible coating of enamel upon the surface to withstand the field conditions.

This enamel is different from lacquer in that it does not chalk, and each time it is washed and polished in an ordinary manner the luster becomes better than at the time it leaves the factory. We continue the use of bonderite on the sheet metal so as to eliminate any difficulty in the field in this connection, although bonderite is not as necessary with enamel as it is with lacquer paint material.

In our Kercheval plant, where we produce all of the Chrysler bodies except the large custom bodies, we have expended approximate by a quarter of a million dollars in making lineups that will assure a better quality and quicker action upon each individual order. I will just make passing mention of the fact that we have spent for the development of dies, tools and fixtures for the production of parts for the Chrysler cars more than $1,500,000. This is part of the yearly model change but it still remains a lot of money and serves to emphasize that the public is protected by a company of sufficient resources to give it the latest and best.

Low air pressure tires with greater traction contribute to Oldsmobile's smooth, comfortable riding qualities.

New Streamlined Buick Announced For '39

Herewith is shown the new Buick Series 40 Special four-door sedan for 1939. Beautiful streamline styling with many chassis changes and improvements distinguish the new car. A leader in performance and style, the 1939 Buick represents marked advances over previous models with "catwalk" cooling, new handishift transmission, safety direction signal and 26 per cent greater driving vision among the new features. The car is powered with a 107 horsepower valve-in-head straight eight engine.

All Styles Of Buick Awaiting Visitors At Scoggin-Dickey Motor Co.; Sales Are Good

A capable sales staff is employed by the company and will be in the showroom all this week to point out improvement of the new cars, C. C. Burkholder is sales manager.

Comfort And Safety Found In Chevrolet; Innovations Add To Proven Value

Improvements On Cars Many

MECHANICAL innovations ushering in brand-new concepts of safety, comfort and operating ease unite with a host of time-tried Chevrolet fundamentals, in the two completely re-styled series of cars presented for 1939. They have been announced by M. E. Coyle, general manager of Chevrolet.

New models of the Chevrolet will be displayed in the showrooms of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, Thirteenth and Avenue K, in the cooperative Auto show this week.

The cars look longer and lower, due to re-location of the appearance mass below the belt line. Advanced streamlining, kept well within the bounds of good taste, characterizes their aero-stream steel bodies by Fisher, and is especially apparent in the new sheet metal treatment which plays a major part in the sleek over-all effect.

The two series are designated as the master de luxe and the master 85. They are identical as to power plant, and, except for suspension and gear ratio, as to chassis as well. The master de luxe features a redesigned independent front suspension, and the master 85 remains conventional; but both springing systems have undergone sweeping revision, resulting in a smoother ride, greater roadability and more positive control. Steering has been made much easier throughout both lines.

Gear Lever Moved

An improvement destined to take first rank among advances in the industry this year—the gearshift steering column control—is optional on both Chevrolet series at small extra cost.

Improvement said to be comparable with that resulting from Chevrolet's original adoption of knee-action in 1934 has been made in the new models' ride, by complete revision of the springing on both series. Front and rear spring mechanisms work together as a unit. Springing is softer than heretofore, and front-wheel vertical travel is greater; but because of new airplane-type double-acting end-to-end-discharge shock absorbers, it is under more positive control.

Steering Is Improved

Marked improvement in steering has also been achieved.

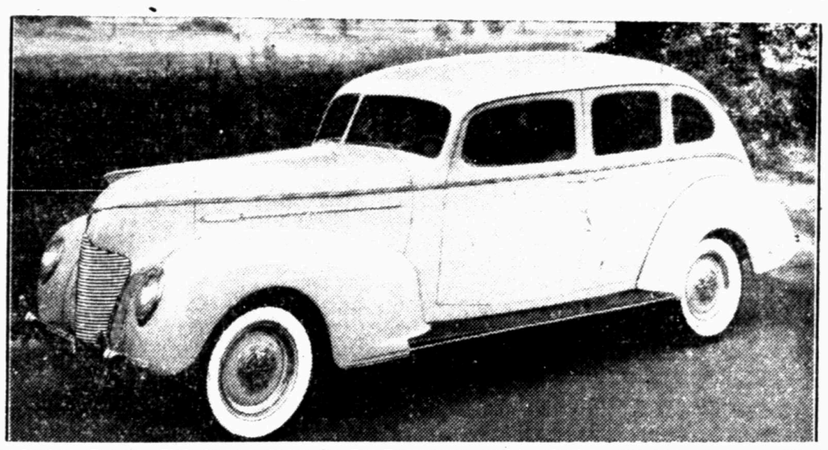

On the master 85, front and rear springing have been carefully harmonized with each other, and scientifically balanced for maximum riding ease. Spring leaves are thinner, and are tapered, deflection rates being reduced from 235 to 175 pounds an inch on most models. Double-acting shock absorbers like those on the master de luxe are employed in front, and single-acting hydraulics in the rear. The ride stabilizer is an important feature of both series.

Chevrolet's power plant, while basically the same as in 1938, has undergone numerous refinements, some of which result in greater economy. The plant itself is the six-cylinder high-compression 85 horsepower valve-in-head engine which has powered millions of Chevrolets. The permanently-adjusted self-lubricating ball bearing water pump introduced during 1938 production is retained.

A new ignition distributor mounting simplifies octane adjustment. More positive lubrication of valve rocker arms is assured by a new oil pressure regulator. A rubber-floated harmonic balancer replaces the unit formerly used. Refinements in the carburetor and manifold heat control thermostat heighten operating efficiency and fuel economy. But in the main, the power plant and its closely-related units are identical with those which have written a long record of satisfactory service.

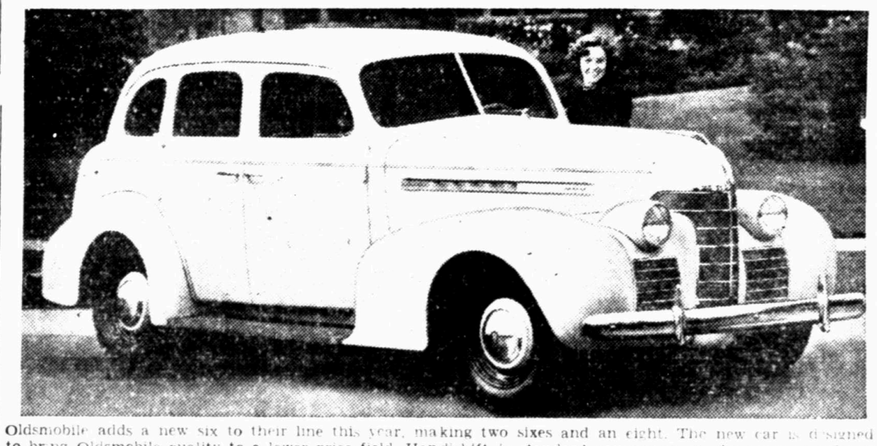

Interiors reflect good taste, as well as the engineers' effort to embody maximum safety, comfort, and convenience in the new line. Harmonizing variants of brown, in the upholstery, control knobs and trim are relieved to a pleasing degree by chrome-plated hardware and fittings, and by sparing use of brighter colors on the instrument panel. Two upholstery materials — deep-pile breathing-back mohair velvet, and a quality broadcloth with a texture resembling that of Bedford cord—are available in the master de luxe, and a single option, mohair velvet, in the master 85.

Hudson Country Club Custom Sedan For '39

New Hudson Country Club Custom Sedan for Six Passengers. Eight cylinders, 122 horsepower on 129-inch wheel-base offered for 1939 in a wide selection of colors. Airfoam seat cushions are standard.

Oldsmobile Six Series 60 Four-Door Sedan

Oldsmobile adds a new six to their line this year, making two sixes and an eight. The new car is designed to bring Oldsmobile quality to a lower price field. Handishift is standard equipment on the steering column with automatic safety transmission as optional equipment. The new six is powered with a newly developed "EconoMaster" engine of 90-brake horsepower.

Four New Studebaker Models Are To Be Displayed During Show By Texas Motors, Inc.

Four models of 1939 Studebakers will be on display all this week at the Texas Motors, Inc., 1012 Thirteenth street, said C. H. Gober, general manager of Lubbock's newest automobile agency, in discussing the coming show.

"The Commander, President, coupe and tudor will be shown," he said. "They are all on display and we promise the public a high class display.

Pleased With Response

Gober said he was well pleased with the response of the car buying public to announcement of the display, first shown Dec. 2. More prospective customers were discovered than had been expected and a constant increase in prospects has followed opening display.

All week the show rooms will be open as long as there is a need to meet interested customers.

Self Is Sales Manager

Jimmy Self is sales manager and his force includes A. H. McClevey, A. T. Block, John Turlington and R. S. Shields.

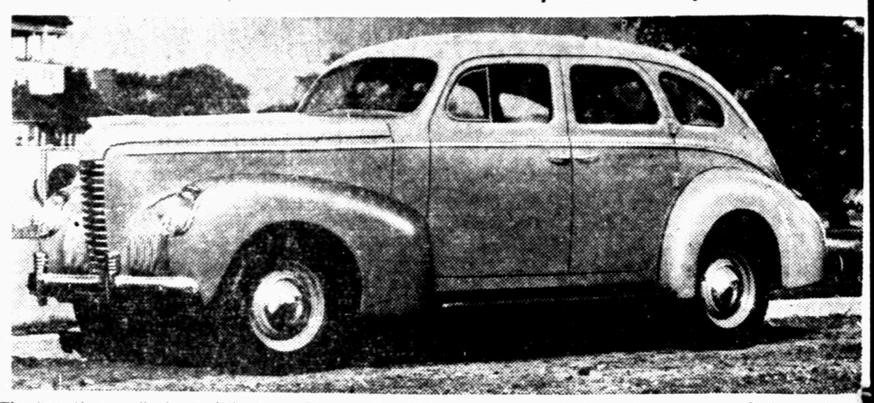

As distributors as well as local dealers, for 15 South Plains counties, Gober said the response from over the entire territory was an indication of widespread interest in the line. Many inquries have come from the area about the new line.

Oldsmobile's battery accessibility makes service most convenient. Prevention of upholstery soiling, when the battery is serviced from the outside of the car body is an added feature.

Sound Is Curbed Inside New Ford

To reduce noise inside a moving car, the engineers must know how much sound there is under various conditions and what causes it. For those reasons Ford Motor Co. research men measure the sound inside the car at many different points and with the car cruising, coasting and accelerating at speeds ranging from 20 to 70 miles an hour. The microphone suspended at ear level picks up the sound and converts it into an electrical current. This is amplified and gives a dial reading exactly in relation to the volume of the sound. The readings are listed on the portable adding machine for careful study. Work such as this has made the present Ford V-8 quiet in comparison with even the most expensive cars of a year or so ago.

Low-Priced Four-Door Sedan Featured By Nash Lafayette

The "weather eye" air-conditioning system of the 1939 Nash is one of the car's many new features. A new engine design in the low-priced Nash Lafayette series has been named "Hurricane Power." The motor, an L-head type with dual jet carburetion, develops 99 horsepower.
