Big Reds Save Own Hides In Last Minute

Another Star Rises For Tech's Raiders; Marek's Field Goal And 80-Yard Run Are Thrills

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

VARSITY STADIUM, Albuquerque, Nov. 19.—Write the name of Jodie Marek in scarlet letters across the memories of Texas Tech's 1938 football season.

Because if the former all-stater from Temple High never had done or never does do anything else remarkable for Red Raider football, he turned in enough today for a lifetime when he, practically single handed, pulled Tech from the depths of a despairing tie and brought a 17 to 7 victory to keep the Big Reds undefeated and untied through the first nine games of the season.

Boots Beautiful Field Goal

With 31 second to play, Marek, who had been running rampant all over the field all afternoon, pointed his rubber toeplate at a 45-degree angle toward the University of New Mexico goal posts, stood on the 35-yard line and propelled a most beautiful field goal squarely over the crossbar.

That was not enough, it [illegible] deadlock and put Tech [illegible] it didn't seem possible to [illegible] Marek intercepted a last second desperate Lobo pass and ran 80 yards with it to score a touchdown untouched, then kicked the extra point from placement. The final gun fired as Marek was scooting for the goal line. The crowd rushed on the field but was soon pushed back while Jodie again donned the red rubber toeplate for the 17th point.

JODIE HAS NAMESAKE

Slashing play of Jodie Marek Saturday against New Mexico university did more than preserve Texas Tech's unbroken series of grid scalps.

In the midst of the game—when Jodie's play appeared the only near-faultless exhibition the Techs could muster—a baby was born and named for the brilliant fullback.

One of seven puppies. Born to a white Spitz owned by Pauline Coe, arts and science graduate of Tech last spring.

Miss Coe's father, J. C. Coe, of 2302 Fourteenth street, singled out one of the most likely pups, one with a spot on its head—"because the mark is symbolical of Jodie's 'hitting the spot'"—for the Tech speedster's namesake.

The other six pups will be named for other players—after Coach Pete Cawthon returns and designates those most deserving of the honor.

Marek Saves The Day

Marek saved the day for Tech and upheld the honor of the Raiders, who played an otherwise desultory game, yet a game of the most peculiar turns one ever saw. For the Lobos it was a "moral" victory at least up to the time Marek intercepted the final touchdown pass, because if a team ever played an inspired ball game, the Lobos did this afternoon before a gathering of 6,500 fans in this picturesque football setting.

Pregame sentiment had turned suddenly in favor of the Red Raiders, and Lobo fans came to the game wearing practically "give up" attitude. Nor did they have much reason to change after the first period got under way. The Raiders took the ball from their 20 and marched down the field 50 yards without a bobble making four straight first down. It looked simple enough then, and even when that drive bogged on the Lobo 30 the Raiders started right back again from the same place and marched to the 20 without losing the ball. A holding penalty and an intercepted pass halted the drive, and the Lobos headed the other way as the quarter ended.

Were Still In Control

Tech had looked weak toward the finish of both drives, but still were in control of the game. Early in the second period, Prince Scott, end, recovered a fumbled lateral pass on the New Mexico 32 yard line. Milton Hill, Charley Calhoun and Gene Barnet went in to join Elmer Tarbox in the backfield, and Hill picked up 4 yards on two plays. Barnett flipped a 25-yard pass to Scott, who was downed on the 5, and three plays later Calhoun crowded over for touchdown. Marek came back in at full back and kicked the extra point.

And from that point until the final minute of the contest, it was New Mexico's game. The Lobos out fought, out smarted and completely out did the Raiders, making them look quite silly indeed. The high pressure Lobo playing, combined with some of the weirdest breaks

Garner Is Puzzle In New Congress

By WILLIAM M. PINKERTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Friends of John Nance Garner are wondering what his role will be in the new congress.

A strengthened Republican minority has altered circumstances under which rumors spread in years past that the vice president had broken with his "boss" over mounting federal deficits and some other government policies.

Has Preserved Silence

The vice president, who will reach the Biblical milestone of three-score-and-ten on Tuesday, has preserved his usual campaign silence this summer in the quiet pecan groves of his Texas farm.

One well-informed person said, however, that Garner had been invited to discuss affairs of state with the president at Warm Springs, Ga., before coming to the capital.

Politicians on Capitol Hill are sure that, whatever role Garner assumes in his post of power on the rostrum—and in the cloakrooms—of the senate, the political sagacity gained in 40 years of legislative experience will give great weight to his performance.

Is Seen As Nominee

Some of his colleagues are looking forward, too, to the possibility of making him the Democratic candidate for president in 1940. This summer Senator Burke (D-Neb) called Garner "just the man the country needs."

The value of the 1940 nomination to any candidate may hinge on the degree of harmony that the president, the vice president and other party leaders achieve in the coming session.

Although it often has been said in Washington that Garner was at odds with Mr. Roosevelt on some questions of policy, the vice president never has discussed the reports publicly.

Had An Understanding

During the Charleston, S. C., azalea festival last spring, Garner declared he and the president had "an understanding."

"I sometimes disagree with my wife and my friends," the ruddy-faced little man declared, "but that

O'Daniel Is To Abandon Plan Of Financing

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19—The plan of Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel for a "little RFC" for Texas has been dropped in favor of expanded participation in the federal Reconstruction Finance corporation.

"I've found that my program for industrialization of the state can be carried out with the aid of the RFC," O'Daniel said. "More money will be necessary and it will not be necessary to delay action."

Dollar-For-Dollar Basis

O'Daniel said that under the RFC plan, the federal agency will put up money for new industries on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

"Under my plan, the new industries will be financed by small investors who will provide half the money necessary. This will take the development of new enterprises out of the hands of men who are in the upper-income bracket."

He explained that community support of new industries would eliminate commissions to stock salesmen.

"Fly-by-night enterprises will be done away with," he declared.

Returns From West Texas

The governor-elect, who had just returned from a tour of West Texas, said he had asked each community to name a committee to study industrial conditions and needs. Industries which he believed could be built up on a sound basis were the processing of wool and the manufacture of cloth and clothing. O'Daniel pointed out that his inauguration suit is being made at Texas Technological college, where the wool was processed.

Commenting on Elliott Roosevelt's criticism of the $30-a-month pension plan, O'Daniel said it was "just another man's opinion" and "after all, the legislature hasn't met yet and it is a little early to talk about that."

United States To Embark On New Policies

Uncle Sam To Abandon Plan Of "Sweet Reason" And Talk A Language Dictators Know

By HENRY PAYNTER
Associated Press Business Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—The United States is about to embark upon new international and domestic policies of historic importance. In the opinion of some of the nation's most prominent industrial leaders who claim knowledge of current plans in Washington, important parts of the new policy now taking shape, are expected to be presented to the new congress.

In place of the policy of "sweet reason," as one industrial leader expressed it, the United States will hereafter "talk a language the dictators understand," backing up diplomatic and trade policies with armament designed to overawe any possible combination of totalitarian nations.

Summary Is Given

They summarized the gigantic scope of the program—described as dwarfing by comparison the dreams of the totalitarian nations—as follows:

1. An army, navy and air force which "could stand off the world."
2. Loans to other American countries for allied defense systems.
3. An international diplomatic drive "to put starch into the democracies" to block further totalitarian encroachments.
4. Immediate diplomatic and economic rapprochement with all nations in the western hemisphere to forestall further political and trade peneration by aggressive European and Asiatic nations.

Drive On Unemployment

5. A swift drive to end unemployment, labor strife, and economic troubles within the United States to eliminate the chief argument of totalitarian nations regarding "democracy's failure."
6. Peace between business and government—without loss of existing gains of liberal social legislation.
7. A heavy industry stimulation program correlated with necessary re-armament spending in an effort to bring prosperity.

Despite these aggressive protective tactics, however, no departure from traditional ideals of American democracy is contemplated, they said. No compromise with the "good neighbor" policy is in prospect and the United States will resume its leadership in disarmament

Joy Galore Promised Poor Kiddies Of Lubbock At Christmas

A LOT of Christmas joy for the poor children of Lubbock is pictured above, showing some of the results and three of those who participated in the Boy Scouts' annual toy pickup Saturday. It was one of the most amazingly successful undertakings of its kind in the history of Lubbock. The pile of toys in the picture were fewer than half of those collected. Two truck loads were outside the building, to be added to the stack. In the picture, made by Winston Reeves, are shown J. Ray Dickey, who holds a Santa Claus pack on his back; Boy Scout Billy McCurdy, who is in the act of adding another joy filled sack to the heap; and Scout Hubert Bechtol, who also lends a helping hand. Billy is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. L. R. McCurdy, 1719 Twenty-fifth street, and Hubert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bechtol, 1907 Twenty-fourth street. See story on page 7.

Woman Escapes Horrible Death

(By The Associated Press)

TEMPLE, Nov. 19—A crutch flung into the cab of a locomotive signalled the train to stop and averted a serious accident here last night.

Mrs. A. C. Scott, sr., wife of a widely known Temple surgeon, escaped with a broken wrist.

She and Dr. Scott and Dr. Burbank Woodson had just stepped off a train from the Southern Medical association convention in Oklahoma City. Dr. Scott dashed into the station to summon a taxicab. Mrs. Scott tripped and fell across the tracks. She was stunned by the fall and the pain in her wrist, fractured by the fall.

Dr. Woodson hurled one of his crutches into the locomotive cab. The engine stopped about four feet from the prone woman.

Body Of Child Is Found Near The Hunting Camp

Lengthy Search Ends Saturday

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 19. (AP)—The body of five-year-old Jerry Hays of Bisbee was found today three miles above his parents' hunting camp, from where he wandered away November 10.

The child apparently died of exposure within two days after he became lost.

The body was found by two forest service workers, Jimmie Corryell and Ben Wheeler, who were members of an army of searchers who had tramped for eight days through rugged Rucker canyon, 50 miles north of here in the Chiricahua mountains.

Fired Three Shots

Corryell and Wheeler notified other searching parties that the body had been found by firing three gun shots.

The child had pulled its shoes and stockings off and cast away its coat during its wanderings, the forest workers reported. The garments had not been found.

The body had not been molested by animals.

The lost boy had climbed a steep, rock-studded and brush-covered hillside to reach the place where he collapsed.

Father Was Nearby

Warren S. Hays, the missing child's father, was searching in another part of the canyon when the body was found. Mrs. Hays and three other children had returned to their home in Bisbee after remaining at the hunting camp several days while the search was in progress.

Jerry's body was to be taken to Bisbee.

Nearly 1,000 men engaged in the week-long search for the boy. In the hunting parties were a squadron of soldiers from Fort Huachuca, CCC enrollees, sheriff's deputies, and civilians.

Members of the attendance committee are Grady West, O. A. Terry, Joe Nislar, David C. Dodge, and E. R. McCune.

Purpose of the organization was summarized as "food, fun, and fellowship," said members of the program committee. "There will be no speeches and little business," they said.

Members of the attendance committee attended a breakfast meeting Friday morning. Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church, and G. P. Kuykendall, chairman of the church board, also attended.

Graphic Education Service Extended

Use of motion picture films recented by the visual education library established at Texas Technological college in September is becoming more extensive and number of inquiries is increasing, said staff members.

Places at which films have been shown include Baylor university at Waco, Lorenzo Methodist church, and public schools of Mobeetie, Portales, N. M., Camp Wood, Stinnett, Lubbock, Whitharral, Shallowater, Navasota, Crosbyton, Ralls, Graham, Sweetwater, Snyder, and Plainview.

Some of the schools of this area have purchased projectors recently and others are contemplating purchases so that films may be used in classroom instruction.

Films on agriculture, history and social sciences probably have led in popularity, said Mrs. R. L. McDonald, secretary, and J. H. Millikin, technician.

The library is operated in the extension department, of which J. F. McDonald is director.

New Starlet Rises Along Broadway

Mary Martin in "Leave It To Me"

Beautiful and well-publicized legs carried Marlene Dietrich of the films, Mistinguette of the French musical comedy stage, Broadway's Ann Pennington and a few glamorous others to the theatrical heights. Now there is a brand-newcomer to this exclusive company—sparkling Mary Martin, whose Siberian strip-tease "stops the show" in "Leave It To Me," the recently opened Broadway revue which may prove to be the biggest hit of recent years. Staid critics have called attention to Mary's underpinnings, turning back the pages of theatrical history in an effort to find their equal in slim grace.

Suit For O'Daniel Inauguration Service In January Will Be Made In Lubbock

Lubbock and Texas Technological college are doing their part in helping Governor-elect W. Lee O'Daniel further his program of industrializing Texas.

Last week the college textile engineering department began work on a piece of goods from which the chamber of commerce will have some local tailor make a suit for the new governor to wear during his inauguration ceremonies.

Material Conservative

Evidently, the state's new executive likes a lot of class but very little flash. M. E. Heard, head of the college textile department, announces that the material is a conservative, dark gray tweed but is hand woven. Heard expects the first piece to be finished sometime this week.

Until A. B. Davis, chamber of commerce manager, returns to Lubbock from a hunting trip and engages a tailor, Texas citizenry will have very little to satisfy their curiosity about O'Daniel's personality as reflected in his wearing apparel.

From the flour manufacturer's own private tailor must come the answers to these questions: Will the coat be double or single breasted? How many buttons will adorn the vest? Does O'Daniel prefer a zipper or buttons on his trousers?

Accident Spectators Are Warned To Treat Victims With Care

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 19. (AP)—Accident spectators were warned today not to attempt to remove any object driven into the body of a victim.

In a report to the Southern Medical association's closing meeting Dr. Beverly Douglas of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, declared crude efforts ordinarily used to remove a splinter, glass or any other object piercing the skin might result in the death of the injured person.

Treatment Discussed

Discussing the treatment of "everyday wounds" the Vanderbilt physician said any such object should be removed only in a hospital or physician's office under sterile conditions.

To illustrate Dr. Douglas described an injury to his son. The 12-year-old boy had fallen on a sharp pencil. It was driven through his abdomen and diaphragm and lodged with the point pressing a lung.

Instead of jerking it out Dr Douglas took him to a hospital where an incision as long as the pencil was made to remove it. The boy recovered without complications.

In another case a dagger with which a man was stabbed was withdrawn from the lung by a bystander, admitting air into the lung cavity and killing the patient.

A new treatment for burns and some other wounds by encasing a hand or leg in a transparent rubber casing and applying air pressure to it also was described by Dr. Douglas.

Dr. Douglas described how air pressure will constrict the small blood vessels near the surface of burned skin and thus prevent the absorption of poisons generated by a burn and to some extent prevent the formation of scar tissue.

Realization He Looked Like Bear Was Too Much For This Man—He Fainted

SKYTOP, Pa., Nov. 19. (AP)—Bear hunter John De Haas, garbed in tattered clothing, huddled under a tree for a rest.

As he started to get up he looked squarely into the muzzle of another hunter's gun.

The realization that his clothing gave him the appearance of a woolly bear was too much for Haas.

He fainted.

Two large projects aided in the rise: a new $174,999 postoffice at Corpus Christi, and a new $178,500 theater at Kilgore.

Twenty-Nine Permits Issued During Week For Residences

More building permits for new residences were issued in Lubbock during the past week than in any week this year, records in the city building inspections department disclosed Saturday.

Twenty-nine such permits were authorized for residences to cost a total of $97,288.

Not included in that classification were four permits for garage apartments and one for "repairs" costing $2,800 to a residence.

Week's Total High

Total of all building permits issued during the week here was $112,593, increasing the total for November to $200,208 and for the year to $2,945,013.

The week's total is larger than for any week of 1938 except that in which the permit was issued for the $350,000 Texas Technological college dormitory now under construction.

Taken as a whole, the newly authorized homes will be definitely of the better type. Largest of the residence permits was for $7,000. The smallest was for $225, of which there was one. Next smallest was one for $800.

The "typical" residence of the week is a structure representing a building cost between $3,500 and $4,000.

Man Will Face Gallows Death

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19. (AP) — Time stood still for Peter Gendusa, 30-year-old house painter, as he heard himself doomed to die on the gallows.

At 2:12 a. m. in criminal court a jury returned against the haggard Gendusa a death verdict for a machete attack on an elderly man and his spinster sister.

One year ago today, almost to the minute, Gendusa in the same court heard a jury return the same verdict against him for the same crime.

Decision Reversed

The state supreme court reversed the first decision because of a defective indictment.

The charge on which the jury returned its unanimous guilty verdict today makes the death sentence mandatory. The charge read: "Breaking and entering a dwelling in the night time armed with a deadly weapon with intent to rob, steal, murder and did actually commit an assault on persons lawfully therein."

The victims were Thomas Dupont, 61, and his sister, Miss Jennie Dupont, 54.

In each of Gendusa's trials the jury was given the case at midnight and Judge Fred Oser, who will pass sentence later, said that in the history of the local court there had never been such a coincidence in time in any trial.

PUT OUT FIRE

DELAWARE, O., (AP)—Russell D. Kissner, Democratic candidate for state representative, put out a fire with the tack hammer he was using for nailing up campaign cards. He ripped off the burning shingles of a house with the hammer and stamped out the flames before the firemen arrived.

Since 1933 there has been only one airline company in France. It was formed by the consolidation of all existing companies.

Vitality Of Twins Reported As A Tribute For Science

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 19. (AP) — The prematurely born six-months twins of Mrs. James L. Wylde lived in incubators today, their vitality a tribute to modern medical science.

They were a joy, too, to the heart of Mrs. Wylde, who said:

"I couldn't believe it was twins. I'm glad that one was a boy, because we already have four girls."

Two physician brothers delivered the twins in an emergency operation when Mrs. Wylde was admitted to Columbus hospital, weak from loss of blood. The children's survival, physicians said, was an almost unheard of thing.

Mrs. John Bull Derives Satisfaction In Trade Pacts; Luxuries Will Be Cheaper

LONDON, Nov. 19. (AP) — Mrs. John Bull derived the most satisfaction today from the Anglo-American trade agreement.

The pact covered goods worth $100,000,000. But that's nothing to her. The big point is that American silk stockings now costing above 60 cents a pair will cost less.

Politicians talked about "hands across the sea," but British housewives talked about cheaper American shoes, handbags, lipsticks, refrigerators, canned fruit and electric sweepers.

All Are Luxuries

All those things are luxuries over here and formerly were available only to the few who have what Britishers call "posh"—"fancy" incomes.

British newspapers hailed it "a women's trade agreement" and declared that now millions of girls both young and old, who, incidentally, outnumber the men in Britain, could have those things they have wanted.

Not only that but, as one newspaper pointed out, thousands of women and girls employed in Lancashires's vast cotton and woolen textile trades will have more money to spend on the cheaper luxuries —assuming that they get more work because of more sales since the United States cut tariffs on the products they make.

Not All Joy

It was not all joy, however, that greeted the signature of the Anglo-American treaty.

The Isolationist Express opposed putting the United States on a par with Britain's dominions and colonies in trade matters. The paper believed the United States ranked third with British home producers first and the colonies and dominions second.

The Daily Mail called the pact "a magnificent achievement" which "will inevitably draw the English-speaking peoples closer together."

Five Persons Are Killed As Planes Bomb Spanish Area

BARCELONA, Nov. 19. (AP) — Five persons were killed and 21 injured today when five insurgent planes bombed the area between Badalona and Mongat just north of Barcelona.

The planes dropped from 50 to 100 bombs which wrecked six buildings.

The planes later appeared over Barcelona, but were chased away by government pursuit ships. The American food ship Erica Reed, which was in the harbor, was not harmed.

Governor Allred Will Aid In Wedding Scheduled For The Capitol On About Dec. 1

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—With Gov. James V. Allred and Secretary of State Edward Clark aiding and abetting, there's going to be a wedding in or about the capitol come Dec. 1.

It'll be the wedding of Emory Ahart, negro porter in the executive offices, who, on the strength of assurance he can hold his job under W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-elect, plans to get married again and give a mother to his five children.

Secretary of State Clark has agreed to furnish the license and Governor Allred the preacher, who may be Pat Moreland, member of the state unemployment compensation board and an ordained minister.

Governor Allred said at a press conference the wedding would be "right in here," indicating an ante-room to his private office, but there were some who didn't take him seriously.

Brownfield Lions To Stage Benefit Play

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 19.—Annual home talent play which the Brownfield Lions club presents, is to be given Monday and Tuesday nights in the high school auditorium here, beginning at 8 o'clock.

"A Hay Loft Party on a Dude Ranch" is the name of the program.

Performers include, Ab Tittle, Boy Tarpley, Sam White, Emory Longbrake, Wilton Thomason, Emmitt and Dennis Smith, Mrs. Mun Telford.

"Submerged" is a one-act play, with an all-male cast, also to be given. Bruce Zorns is director and the cast is Ray Christopher, Arlie Lowrimore, C. C. Primm, Try Noel and Tommie McWilliams.

Proceeds of the play will be used by the club in its aiding of needy persons. The club has spent about $875 for Boy Scout work, several hundred dollars in the past two years for purchase of glasses for needy persons and funds for other benefits.

Besides about 50 men in the two casts, there will be 30 Brownfield young women.

Band Boosters Will Conduct New Benefit

"Beat Amarillo" pennants and banners will be sold this week by members of the Lubbock High school Band Boosters club to obtain money to be added to a fund for new uniforms, according to Mrs. U. Brown, chairman of the publicity committee. Mrs. Brown is working with Mrs. C. C. Born, president of the club.

The banners will be sold at 10 cents each. The sale will begin Monday. Members of the club urged "every Lubbock resident" to purchase one.

Mrs. Born also announced a dance at the Auditorium Saturday sponsored by the band boosters. Admittance charge will be $1 for couples and stags. Jack York and his orchestra will play.

Efforts are under way to obtain sufficient funds for new uniforms in time for the district band contests at Plainview early in April. Plans also have been launched for the band's participation in state contests in Abilene late in April. H. A. Anderson is conductor of the Lubbock High school band.

Recently a committee from the club and one appointed by the board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent district have been cooperating in efforts to obtain additional funds.

Governor Allred Soon Is To Start On Recommendations

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred announced today he would make public his final recommendations to the legislature in installments starting within about two weeks.

The purpose of this unusual procedure will be to give the people and the legislators more time to consider his report on the condition of the government and suggestions as to the future.

Kellam said the job funds were being distributed in 2,133 high and elementary schools and 84 colleges.

Valuations For Texas Boosted

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—Should some Croesus attempt to purchase Texas lock, stock and barrel he would have to pay much more than $3,453,529,736 (billions).

That figure represents the incomplete report on valuation for tax purposes for 1938 as reported today by Comptroller George H. Sheppard.

Big Increase Noted

He said 21 counties had not reported new assessment rolls but those on record represented a net increase of $75,755,215 over 1937 valuations. The figures reflect only the valuations for tax purposes and not actual values and in addition exclude much non-taxable property and wealth.

The gross increase for the year was $114,422,274 which was offset in part by a decrease of $38,667,059, resulting in the net boost of $75,755,215.

Harris County Leads

Harris county with a new valuation of $315,647,350 led all other counties with an increase of $29,337,850.

Other major increases included: Aransas $1,100,655; Bexar $1,902,389; Brazoria $6,985,055; Calhoun $1,934,073; Cass $1,014,990; Dallas $8,868,850; Duval $2,761,510; Ector $5,190,265; Gaines $3,075,684; Jack $1,091,323; Liberty $3,141,860; LUBBOCK $1,289,006; Marion $2,474,610; Moore $1,420,344; Potter $1,037,530; Refugio $2,707,718; Rusk $2,220,742; Smith $1,006,327; Titus $3,109,570; Travis $1,739,760; Wharton $1,526,165; Winkler $3,658,899; Yoakum $2,571,332.

Major decreases included: Archer $1,235,156; El Paso $1,044,050; Freestone $1,561,975; Gregg $1,537,194; Matagorda $1,741,222; Montgomery $8,710,755, Stephens $1,083,140.

New Policies

Trade Pacts Proof

No better evidence exists of this determination to hold fast to Democratic international idealism, he said, than the fact that the Anglo-American trade agreement, born in a vastly different international atmosphere, was carried through to completion in a period of unparalleled international pessimism.

However, recent developments not only in Europe and Asia, but nearer home in several Latin-American countries were described as having convinced the president and his close advisers that certain nations have already laid the groundwork for aggressive political, military and economic penetration detrimental to the future political and economic existence of the United States.

New Postoffice

of Texas. County Judge Raymond Simms, acting as Grand Chaplain, closed with prayer.

Congressman Mahon, praised by speakers for his successful efforts in Brownfield's behalf, spoke but a few minutes, taking as his subject the patroitism which the citizen should exhibit and urging fealty to the country at all times.

Farley Writes Letter

Prior to the speaking, Postmaster Dallas read an excerpt from a letter from Postmaster-General James A. Farley, in which the cabinet member expressed best wishes to all attending the ceremonies.

The new postoffice, for which $75,000 was appropriated, will likely be ready for occupancy early next March. Located on the corner of Fifth and Hill streets, it will be a story and a half high, will have a full basement, is to be constructed of light brick with stone trimmings and will be, according to Engineer Prendergast, "one of the prettiest public buildings in Texas."

Name Of Jehovah Is Ordered Erased In Nazi Churches

BERLIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—The name of Jehovah was ordered erased from Protestant churches throughout nazi Germany today by President Friedrich Werner of the supreme Evangelical church council.

His order said the name of the God of Israel must be obliterated wherever it is displayed in Protestant churches. The names of Jewish prophets—all prophets of the old testament—also were ordered erased.

This action was regarded as a sequel to threats in various parts of Saxony that Christian churches allowing these names to remain would be burned as were synagogues in the wave of anti-Jewish violence which swept Germany last week.

Physician's Wife Tells Her Story Of Attack In Auto

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 19 (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Kevin Berry, 27, told a superior court jury here today Irving Baker, 37, raped her in the front seat of a parked automobile July 4, and that she thought her husband's plan to beat Baker last August 19 "was a good idea because he had it coming."

She was a witness for her husband, Dr. Kent W. Berry, 50, who, with three others, is charged with first degree kidnaping and assault of Baker. William K. McAloon, 50; James Reddick, 27, and Robert H. Smith, 32, are co-defendants.

CHILD IS KILLED

PEARSALL, Nov. 19. (AP) — The accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of a hunting companion killed 11-year-old Miguel Cuevas today.

Since the organization of the ice patrol, after the sinking of the Titanic in 1912, not a single fatality has resulted from icebergs.

Spectacular Photograph Shows Fireman . . . Cheating Death

Unfair Rates For West Texas Cited

A cotton shipper in Lubbock pays 61 cents per 100 pounds to have his cotton hauled to Houston, a distance of 525 miles. If the same shipper had the same cotton in Charleston, Mo., he could ship it to New Orleans, a distance of 556 miles, for 36 cents per hundred pounds.

This is one example of freight rate discrimination against West Texas quoted in an analysis of the rate question recently issued in pamphlet form by the traffic boards of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Others Pointed Out

The report points out other discriminations just as glaring, WTCC officials state. In fact, the discriminations, they contend, are costing West Texas $100,000,000 annually.

The rate on wheat and coarse grains from Lubbock to Galveston, 525 miles, is 35 cents per 100 pounds. The rate on the same commodity from Henrietta, Mo., to New Orleans, 900 miles, is 31 cents. Equilization of the mileage rate would give Lubbock a rate of 20 cents per 100.

First-class rate from Lubbock to Piggott, Ark., 857 miles, is $2.77 per hundred. The first-class rate from Purvis, Miss., to Lexington, Va., 853 miles, is $2.32. This represents a difference of 45 cents per 100 in favor of the Mississippi shipper.

Increased In West Texas

While rail carriers contend that freight rates for the country as a whole have been decreased during the last two decades, figures presented in the WTCC report claim class and commodity rates in West Texas have increased 109 per cent since 1914.

The first-class rate from Lubbock to Dallas has increased from 95 cents to $1.63 or 72 per cent during this period. The increase in first-class rates between Lubbock and Houston has been from 95 cents to $2.06 or 116 per cent.

This increase has been made during a period when production of commodities was increasing in many instances more than 1,000 per cent and when Lubbock and other West Texas cities were growing rapidly in population. The population increase in Lubbock was from 1,938 in 1910 to 25,000 in 1936 (estimated census) or 1,216 per cent.

Against The Consumer

The freight rate penalty is, of course, against the consumer as well as the producer, for the consumer must pay discriminatory rates on everything that is shipped to him, the report points out.

West Texas development is being stagnated by the present condition, the WTCC charges. Contending that the present freight rate zones and structure like Little Eva "just growed" over a period of many years and are now antiquated, the WTCC traffic boards recommend a complete overhauling of freight rate zones and policies. The boards also recommend that the Interstate Commerce Commission Act be amended to require equality in rates as between zones.

Hundreds of requests for the freight rate pamphlet have been received by the WTCC from all over Texas and from other states. Newspapers in every part of the state have given emphatic editorial approval to the recommendations of the traffic boards, WTCC officials state.

S. A. Wells of Lubbock is a member of the WTCC traffic board.

DIES OF INJURIES

SHERMAN, Nov. 19. (AP)—Vernon Lester Rogers, 27, Sherman, died here today in a hospital from injuries received in a gravel pit cave-in near here Thursday.

Held In Scandal

Arrested in New York's most sensational police scandal in years, Lieutenant Cuthbert J. Behan, above, an honor man in the department, was charged by Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine, police head, with having stolen the records of 7200 arrests made in Brooklyn. These records are believed to deal with bail bonds and related matters. The theft of the records and Behan's arrest are by-products of a current investigation into official corruption in Brooklyn.

Impetus To Rearmament Plans Of Government Is Given

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—The navy gave new impetus to the administration's rearmament program today with orders for the construction of three 35,000-ton battleships at an expected cost of $150,000,000.

Officials said armament and ammunition outlays not included in the construction costs, would raise the total expenditure for the three dreadnaughts to $225,000,000.

American Legion Condemns Germans For Persecution

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19. (AP)—The American Legion, through its national executive committee, lashed out sharply today at the German government for "persecution of racial and religious minorities," calling nazi acts "a spectacle of intolerance, hatred and tyranny."

The condemnation was voiced in a resolution, which also expressed confidence in the course pursued by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull with respect to nazi treatment of Jews and other groups.

State Wants Funds Returned After $1,000 Is Located

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 19. (AP)—A thousand dollars in currency was found under wall paper in the home of Joseph Johnson after his death. Now the state wants back $512 paid Johnson and his widow for old age assistance.

State Welfare Director H. J. Denton asked Attorney General Mac Q. Williamson—"take whatever steps are necessary to recover for the state the amount of money paid by this department to the deceased and his wife."

Pal Of Dallas Hoodlums Is Given Five-Year Sentence

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 19. (AP)—Jack Winn, former associate of Floyd Hamilton and Ted Walters, Dallas hoodlums, was sentenced to five years in prison today for his part in the Bradley, Ark., bank robbery last June.

Winn, charged on two counts, was alleged to have driven the get-away car for Hamilton and Walters. He pleaded guilty.

Proposal To Abolish Death Penalty Will Be Opposed

DALLAS, Nov. 19 (AP) — A fight against Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel's proposal to abolish the death penalty in Texas was promised today by Andrew Patton, president of the District and County Attorneys association of Texas.

The Dallas prosecutor said "any attempt by the governor-elect, or by any other agency of the state, to tamper with the death penalty will be vigorously opposed."

A new device has been invented for airplanes which warns pilots whenever they are approaching mountains. It is an altimeter which registers height above land.

Watsons Figuratively Become Caretakers Of "Watsonia," Their Unique Residence

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 19. (AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Watson of Corpus Christi opened "Watsonia", their new home, they forgot the possibility of the interest of the general public in it. So widespread has been the attraction of "Watsonia" the owners are beginning to believe they are merely the caretakers of a museum.

The structure, of Spanish and Aztec design, was built from kiln dried bricks manufactured out of Corpus Christi bay clay. Costly worm-eaten cypress beams, four inches thick and 12 inches wide, support the roof and second story. Herringbone cedar ceilings add distinction and the walls are 14 to 18 inches thick, with a two-inch space at the center. A 12-foot foundation accentuates the sturdiness. "We were told a hurricane would take the place if one comes", Mrs. Watson says. . . .

Rocks From Every State

In the "living porch" just off the living room, is the fireplace built of rocks gathered by the Watsons from every state in the union, Canada, Alaska and Mexico. An inlaid serape at the far end of the porch belies its construction in the floor, it is so realistic. The loggio flanks of the patio and inlaid tile, imported from Mexico is filled with plants native to South Texas, the Gulf coast, Mexico and from wherever the Watsons found an interesting shrub or flower.

The tile stairway to the second floor is lined with rows of horns from animals killed by Watson, a retired rancher. On the second floor is the old iron bed the late President William Howard Taft slept on nearly 30 years ago when he visited La Quinta, located at Gregory, 11 miles from Corpus Christi, and was once owned by the Watsons.

The museum is downstairs and is filled with hundreds of antiques, ranging from collar buttons to furniture, collected from all parts of this and foreign countries.

Federal Funds Are Alloted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Public Works administration announced today allotments totaling $459,922 for electric distribution systems in eight Texas cities to be served with power from the lower Colorado river authority's projects.

The cities and the allotments were: Llano, loan $38,000, grant $31,090; Kyle, loan $12,000, grant $9,820; Lampasas, loan $42,000, grant $34,363; Fredericksburg, loan $55,000, grant $45,000; Bastrop, loan $32,000, grant $26,181; Burnet, loan $27,000, grant $22,091; Marble Falls, loan $18,000, grant $14,727; Luling, grant only $52,650.

The eight projects have a total estimated construction cost of $524,727.

The projects were initiated by the cities affected, PWA officials said, but they are part of a general power development of the area. All will be under construction by January 1 unless offers by the cities to purchase existing private systems are accepted prior to that date, officials said.

Auction Sales Take Place Of Trade Day

AMARILLO, Nov. 19. (AP)—The old first Monday trades day, a tradition in the Southwest for many years, has been beaten out of the scheme of things by the auctioneer's hammer.

Community sales of the auction type, at which all sorts of livestock, farm produce, seed, implements and vehicles are bought and sold, have replaced the old trade days.

"Little To Boot"

While the trades days, usually held on Monday, were featured by medicine shows and the traveling professional trader who wouldn't swap a moon-eyed, smooth-mouthed, flop-eared, stringhalt mule unless he "got a little to boot," the sales are different propositions.

A weekly sale at Amarillo, started less than three years ago as a Jersey calf exchange, has grown into a livestock auction of the million-dollar class. Even with short sales the rest of the year the auction will gross better than a million dollars in 1938. The largest sale to date handed 1,600 head of cattle which sold for approximately $45,000. The auction is held each Monday and has created a home market for the farmer and small stock raiser as well as for the major cattle operators.

Cattle Sold Mainly

Although the sale is open to all livestock, its chief business is handling cattle.

Higgins has a weekly sale and Lubbock two sales each week.

Practically every county seat in West Texas and the Panhandle has a community sale, conducted either weekly or monthly. It is at these sales that most of the varous sorts of farm products are bought, sold or traded.

Auction sales have become so numerous the government is looking into the matter with the view of making all auctions posted sales — that is, operate in a uniform manner on a fixed and posted commission basis.

The Democratic leader of the senate, Joseph Robinson of Arkansas, died while the supreme court fight was at its height. Garner was at the funeral in Little Rock, Ark., and he rode back to Washington on the congressional special train.

There he became the center of negotiations for a compromise, talking both to the president and to senate leaders. In the end, supreme court reorganization was shelved.

That fall, the president and the vice president both suffered toothaches the same day.

Change In Wagner Act During Next Congress Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—A leader in the house of representatives predicted today that if the administration did not sponsor amendments to the Wagner labor act next session, Republicans and independent Democrats would repeal that statute.

This Democratic member, speaking privately, said the Wagner act "is going to be the biggest headache we'll have" starting in January.

"You have no idea of the opposition to the act and to the labor board out through the country.

"One of the changes that would do the most good would be to permit the employer, as well as the unions or workers, to ask for a collective bargaining election."

Minor Scratches And Bruises Are Reported In Collision

Only minor scratches and bruises resulted from a rear-end automobile collision on the Lubbock-Smyer highway about 10 miles west of Lubbock early Saturday night.

Investigators said Leona Hilton, about 25, of near Smyer and Thomas E. McNeill of route 5, Lubbock, were drivers of the machines involved. Rear of the car assertedly driven by the woman and the front of the car said driven by McNeill were damaged.

Sgt. C. E. Tabor and D. O. Wilkerson of the Texas Highway patrol investigated.

There were four persons in each car.

It Was Almost A South Plains Postmasters' Convention!

Ten Days Ago Hitler Was Sitting On Top Of World; Today Seat Is Uncomfortable

By JOHN EVANS
Associated Press Foreign Editor

Ten days ago Adolf Hitler was sitting on top of the world.

Today his seat may not be quite so comfortable.

Ten days ago a riot of violence against the Jews and their businesses throughout Germany startled the world.

Today there are many who wonder if greater Germany has started something that will be hard to stop.

Remembered Assurance

Ten days ago the world remembered and seemed to accept British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's assurance there would be "peace in our time" after the Munich accord gave one-third of Czechoslovakia to Germany, Poland and Hungary. That was the price of European peace.

On Nov. 7 a Polish Jewish youth, Herschel Grynszpan, shot third Secretary Ernst Von Rath in the Paris German embassy and the diplomat died two days later.

Before dawn the next day mobs sacked or damaged a thousand or more Jewish stores, principally in Berlin but also in other cities.

The world has seen persecution of the Jew before. It has seen pogroms. It has known of German and Italian measures to repress if not suppress the Jews.

Now Something Clicks

This time something clicked in the world's mind. President Roosevelt said he "could scarcely believe that such things could occur in a twentieth century civilization." Millions in England, France and elsewhere voiced protests against the violence and the $400,000,000 fine with which Germans punished her half million Jews for the shots in the Paris embassy.

Even Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering was alarmed at the destruction of Jewish property and its consequences. He feared it might hamper his four-year plan to make Germany self-contained, dependent upon none but herself.

Surprise Is Professed

Germany professed surprise that other countries protested against repression of the Jews. Ninety different foreign newspapers with tales of German anti-Jewish violence have been prohibited from sale in Germany.

What will Hitler do?

And will the world do anything about Germany and the Jews?

Hitler appears to be pursuing the course he planned. Germany now is greater than European Germany of before the war. The colonies are gone, But Hitler expects to remedy that. He wants "them" back. He hasn't said if he expects all the million-odd square miles returned or only part—with other compensations.

March Is Now On

Germany's "drag nach osten" (march to the east) is on. German salesmen are everywhere in the countries along the old "road to Baghdad," the old German dream.

Nazi sentiment started slowly in Danzig, an area administered by the League of Nations. Today Danzig is nazi. It is almost like a part of Germany. Nazi sentiment is growing in Memel, 1,099 square miles taken from Germany after the war. Few statesmen would be surprised to see Memel return to Germany.

What is the world doing about it?

Great Britain, France and even the United States are arming as the world never has armed before. Armament is likely to cost somewhere from $15,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 next year.

New Trade Treaties

While Germany seeks economic if not political domination of Europe east of the Rhine, the United States and the British Empire have new trade treaties to develop their share of world business. Germany is out in the cold on that arrangement.

There is no sign or suggestion of approaching war, but there is tension and troublesome pressure that persist in spite of the British-German peace declaration and a similar statement of policy that France and Germany are discussing.

In Europe, Germany's neighbors know they have to go on being neighbors and they avoid friction but —

The United States has called back Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson from Berlin in disapproval of the anti-Jew campaign, but European countries, knowing they must remain Germany's neighbors, hesitate to increase friction.

No Organized Lineup

There is no organized lineup of the world against Germany, but there is considerable activity by a lot of interested parties.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth are coming to Canada next spring and they will visit the White House to make friends.

They already have been to France to show Britain and France work together. They are sending Chamberlain and Lord Halifax, the foreign secretary, to Paris soon and they have invited President Lebrun of France and his wife to visit the Royal family in England.

King Carol of Rumania with his Crown Prince Mihai has been shopping at the British court, hoping for advantages to meet whatever inducements Germany offers for Rumanian trade and support.

The Pan-American conference will meet Dec. 9 at Lima with Secretary of State Cordell Hull there to help maintain or develop friendship and cooperation among the twenty-one American republics.

Since the crowning of Egbert of Mercia in 785, anointing with oil has been part of the coronation ceremony of English kings.

Attempts To Revise Immigration Laws Will Meet Opposition In Congress

Relief Would Not Be Given

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP) — Senator Borah (R-Idaho) expressed the opinion today that any attempt to revise the immigration laws so as to take care of additional refugees from Germany would arouse "tremendous opposition" in congress.

"I do not believe it desirable to undertake to change the immigration laws at this time," he said. "Any possible change would be wholly inadequate for real relief."

No Thought Of Change

President Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday that he had no thought of liberalizing present quotas which restrict immigration from Germany and former Austria to 27,370 persons annually.

Some Jewish leaders, however, have suggested the possibility of admitting 80,000 or so refugees immediately by "mortgaging" the quotas for the next three years. Uuder this proposal, the three years, quotas would be admitted and the gates then closed until the end of the period.

Another congressional comment came from Chairman Dies (D-Tex) of the house committee investigating un-American activities who challenged the right of the president to extend the six-months' visitors permits under which from 12,000 to 15,000 refugees have been admitted.

Extensions Asked

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that he had asked the labor department to grant six-months' extensions. He added that he would present this problem to congress and that if it did not act, the permits might be extended again. The law, he said, does not limit the number of extensions.

Dies said he had never understood that the president had the power to extend visitors' permits indefinitely.

"Uncertainly it is the spirit of the law that the visitors' permits are granted for temporary purposes," he said.

Borah declined to discuss the probable source of congressional opposition to easing the immigration restrictions, but one member of the senate immigration committee, who would not permit use of his name, said that labor organizations could be expected to protest.

An influx of refugees, he said, would contribute immediately to American unemployment. He also said there was reason to believe that lowering of the immigration bars might arouse anti-semitic sentiment in this country.

Treatment Denounced

Both CIO and AFOL leaders have denounced Germany's treatment of minorities.

In a broadcast address last night, William Green, the American Federation of Labor president, asked the nation to boycott German goods and services in protest.

Official actions of the administration have been aimed at solution of the problem by international cooperation. In a statement yesterday, Secretary of State Hull urged "all governments" to participate actively in the search for a solution.

Officials have said, too, that the refugee problem, while acute as it relates to Germany, does not end there. American consulates in Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia have been swamped with applications to enter the United States.

Christmas Joys Pile Up By Truck Loads On Saturday In Annual Drive For Toys

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Christmas joys piled up by truck loads here Saturday.

Specifically, there were five truck loads of them—of toys collected by Boy Scouts on their annual Christmas toy pickup.

The collection, according to Earl M. McClure, South Plains Boy Scout council executive, is by far larger than that of any previous year and was approximately twice that of last year.

Credit Given Scouts

Credit for the success of the undertaking was given chiefly to the scouts and to the toy pickup committee headed by J. Ray Dickey, and of which Earl Hunt, Rex Blackburn, Dr. Marshall Harvey, Boone Horne and George H. Watkins were members. Dalby Motor Freight lines supplied the trucks in which they were collected.

The accumulation made a pile approximately 30 feet long, about 10 feet in width and higher than a tall man's head. How many toys are there is wholly guesswork, but a pile less than half as large last year produced more than 1,000 gifts of a value estimated at between $500 and $600.

Will Be Repaired

In accofdance with custom, the toys will be repaired and then will be turned over to the Lubbock Goodfellows for Christmas distribution to the needy children of Lubbock.

But a big problem lies ahead, Dickey declared.

A place must be found where the repair work can be done. In years past, some vacant downtown building has been made available for the work, which will be done this year by the scouts under skilled supervision. But if there are any available buildings this year, they haven't been found.

Because the job is bigger than ever before, the work must be started immediately. Dickey urged that anyone knowing where a suitable place might be obtained communicate with scout headquarters without delay.

Cooperation Unanimous

Cooperation in making the pickup a success, the chairman declared, was about as unanimous as could reasonably have been expected. In accordance with plan, the scouts were assigned to districts, and Saturday morning they started going from house to house within the area. Request previously had been spread that those with toys for which they no longer have use leave them on their door steps.

The residence where a bundle was not found was the exception, Dickey related. Some of the bundles were small. At others, boxes the size of large trunks and tow sacks crammed to their utmost were found.

Taken as a whole, the toys were in surprisingly good repair. And their variety—

Collection Is Varied

The collection includes about everything that the most toy-minded child could imagine. There were dolls of almost every size, shape and color, including a couple of Charlie McCarthys. There were bicycles, tricycles, scooters and wagons, not to mention almost every imaginable type of smaller plaything which moves on wheels, including some trains equipped with track.

There were baseball gloves, bats and balls, footballs, a ping pong set and games galore. Attracting the eye was a cowboy suit in good condition as the day it came off the store counter. There were doll buggies, doll cradles, pianos, ukuleles, tables, doll dishes, stoves and other gifts of the type to gladden the heart of any little girl. What was not there probably would make a far shorter list than those which were.

The toys are there. They can be converted into hundreds upon hundreds of gifts for whom Christmas will be whatever the Goodfellows can supply.

But, as Dickey reiterated in his appeal, a place must be found where the repair work can be done.

MAN IS DROWNED

School Contract Is Given Firm Here

LAMESA, Nov. 19. (Special)—Sampson Bros., of Lubbock was low bidder on construction of a new school building in the Union Independent School district, it was announced today after bids had been opened by the school board.

Other bidders were W. S. Moss of Lubbock, Jess Williams of Lubbock, Ingle Sykes of Lubbock, Suggs Construction company of Abilene, and Sanders and West of Memphis.

The general contract bid submitted by Sampson Bros. was approximately $18,000. The contract was awarded subject to approval of Public Works administration.

The school, to be built about nine miles west of Lamesa, will cost approximately $20,000. A WPA grant for the project has been approved and other funds have been provided through a district bond issue.

Harvey C. Allen of Lamesa is architect.

Construction, to require about 60 days, will begin next week.

Texas Turkeys In Abundance

GONZALES, Nov. 19. (AP)—Don't sell your appetite short next Thursday. There will be plenty of Texas turkeys left for Christmas.

Gonzales county produce dealers estimated today that two-thirds of the county's turkey crop will still be strutting the open ranges and tramping fattening pens after the close of the 1938 Thanksgiving market.

Carloadings and a check of truck shipments show that some 75,000 dressed birds have moved out of Gonzales to northern and eastern markets for the Thanksgiving trade; but farmers, as usual, were not content to sell all their holiday birds for Thanksgiving. They prefer holding them, adding weight to the turkeys, and possibly obtaining higher prices.

Top price of 17 cents was offered this year's Thanksgiving sellers. Most of the marketed birds brought 15 to 17 cents per pound live weight.

President Roosevelt Says That Country Has Ample Cause For Big Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—President Roosevelt said in his annual Thanksgiving day proclamation today the nation had "ample cause to be thankful" for peace among other blessings.

"We have lived in peace and understanding with our neighbors and have seen the world escape from the impending disaster of a general war," the chief executive said.

"In the time of our fortune it is fitting that we offer prayers for unfortunate people in other lands who are in dire distress at this our Thanksgiving season."

The proclamatinon designated Thursday, November 24, as a day of general Thanksgiving.

The president said "our lands have yielded a goodly harvest, and the toiler in shop and mill receives a more just return for his labor.

Tech Pulls New Mexico Game From Fire; Fish Win, 64-0

New Star Shining For Red Raiders

football can offer, brought about a complete reversal of "form" and attitude. Pandemonium broke loose as the Lobos, stung by the touchdown drive fought back and climaxed the fight with a touchdown drive, later in second period. "Fingers" McGillivray, who lived up to advance billings as a swell substitute for the injured Bill Dwyer, took the lead in the touchdown, and converted from placement for the tying point. The Raiders started back, but it was a dismal start, and they got to their own 40 as the half ended.

Raiders Back With Fight

As the four hundred Tech fans rather expected, the Raiders came back with madness in their hearts to play the last half, but the Lobos stopped them after Barnett had passed to Webb and Tarbox had

QUARTERBACKS TO CONVENE

Post-game elation of Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech didn't cause him to forget Lubbock's curbstone quarterbacks.

He announced in Albuquerque last night that the Downtown Quarterback club would have its regular session at 8 o'clock Monday night in the Lubbock hotel.

Coaches Cawthon and Dutchy Smith will lead a post-mortem discussion of the New Mexico game and discuss Tech's meeting with Marquette Saturday. Quarterback Bill Dean, recently returned from a trip to the east and middle west, will tell about the Hilltoppers.

Pictures of the Tech-Loyola game will be shown. A large crowd is expected.

nteralled to Marek for first down n the Lobo 20 the ball went over on owns and on the first two plays, ew Mexico was pushed back 14 ards. McGillivray got off a nice oot, and Tarbox brought it back en yards across the midfield stripe. Barnett then heaved a pass which Tarbox took in the flat and scampered down the sideline to the 2 yard line. He was over powered there, and as he fell he flipped a lateral to a waiting red shirt.

But the red shirt belonged to the Lobos, who wore the same color jerseys to make things even more complicated here today. The Lobo took Tarbox's lateral quite gratefully, and started the other way. He was tackled on the 5 but it was New Mexico's ball.

This Was Nerve-Wracking

That was break number one. A few plays later, Tech put on a great drive, Tarbox and Marek taking turns running the ball, and Marek carried three times for better than 40 yards, to the Lobo 2 yard line. Barnett tried to plunge the line, went about half a yard. Marek drew back for a plunge, looked like he was over, but suddenly the ball bounded from his his arms as he was hit hard. Before it struck the ground McGillivray had caught it and started north. It was New Mexico's ball again. This sort of thing was getting on the nerves of nearly every body, and folks were feeling sorry for the Techs, while the Techs were just about tucked out. The drives had been hard enough and the breaks made it harder.

And the breaks didn't stop there; the Raiders continued to fumble, lose ground on pass attempts and in general look quite ill.

The Lobos, featured by the southpaw pitching of Monfort, a smallish halfback, and the running of McGillivray and the plunging of the big Dutch Niemants, never quit fighting, they broke up every Tech attack, either with pass interceptions or by suddenly stopping line charges. Things looked bleak indeed when Charley Calhoun had a punt blocked in midfield, with minutes to go.

Were Always Dangerous

The Lobos could not make appreciable yardage through Tech's line against and through which no team has scored this year until yet, but from their freakish spread formations they were dangerous and effective through the air.

Time was being frittered away fast and the Tech fans were beginning to be satisfied with tie, what with Lobo passes labeled touchdowns being thrown all over and about them.

With about a minute to go, the Tech's took over on their own 20, a Lobo punt having gone over the goal line. Barnett flipped a pass to Marek, good for 23 yards. He flipped another and longer one which E. J. McKnight, sophomore end, brought down near the sideline. He almost stumbled, but recovered and went to the 10 yard line before he was tackled. It was first down, about half minute to go.

Odds Were Against Him

A time out and consultation was called, and in came Marek's rubber toe plate. The wind was against him and the goal at a sharp angle but he fired away and Tech had ten points.

There was barely time for a kickoff and a couple of plays. J. B. Gilbert kicked off out of bounds, and New Mexico took over from its 35. The first pass from Duncan was incomplete, far down the field, but the second was caught for a first down on Tech's 32. Barely time for another pass, and Duncan threw it down to the 20. Marek was there, and he took it and started scramming towards a big mountain back of the goal post, and he was never less than 15 yards away from his nearest pursuer after passing midfield.

Elmer Tarbox, Tech's All-American candidate turned in a good job, but was so well spotted that he never got loose for long runs. He played safety position in the last half, and made some nice punt returns. His blocking and pass defense was good, except for the touchdown pass when he and Johnny Sims each touched it before it fell into Hendley's hands for six points.

Bill Davis, out of the lineup since Duquesne, played a good game at tackle, as did Leonard Latch and Abe Murphy. Rex Williams looked fair at center, but the Tech's after that first quarter rushing, made so many mistakes that individual starring was scattered.

O'Brien Tosses Christians To 29 To 7 Win

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Nov. 19.—Wee Davey O'Brien played his game of games today, an incredible performance that unbeaten Texas Christian rode to a 29-7 conquest of Rice Institute's ill-fated but battling warriors.

Not in the memory of aging grid observers has a Southwest player had such a day as the stolid, 150-pound Irish dynamo of a great team nudging towards top national recognition.

Thirty Thousand Amazed

Of the 29 points Texas Christian scored, the little fellow accounted for 27. Three times he hurled touchdown passes and once he lugged the ball across himself on one of many jabs into the big Rice line.

Thirty thousand fans watched David complete 12 of 20 passes for 117 yards; run 14 times and pick up 108 yards for better than seven yards on each trip; return five punts for 73 yards; score one touchdown and call a flawless game from his quarterback post, and kick three points after touchdown.

Second Stringers Play Half

Second stringers played half the game after a 27-7 half-time lead, but O'Brien was in there until the last three minutes.

Just as brightly from his center position did Ki Aldrich, outstanding candidate for All-America, shine on the defense and offense.

Rice, its key men either limping with injuries or sitting on the bench, tried gallantly to halt a Christian team that has never put on the pressure this season.

The Christians gained 224 yards on runs and 117 on O'Brien's passes; Rice netted a total of 212 by ground and air.

Four minutes after the first kickoff the Christians scored, O'Brien passing from the Rice 26 to Don Looney, big end, who carried on 14 more. O'Brien kicked the first of three extra points.

But Rice Thrills Stands

It was O'Brien's magic again on the second touchdown early in the second. His running, and the tackle smashes of Connie Sparks, Earl Clark and Woodrow Duckworth, edged the Christians to the Rice 27 when he heaved over the goal line to Clark.

Rice suddenly got into the game when Jake Schuehle, fullback, squirmed back with the kickoff to his own 40. Scat Sullivan faked a run and tossed a long pass, which E. Y. Steakley caught on the dead run and escorted 25 more yards for the only Rice score. Landry kicked extra point.

Almost before the noise had died away Davey gave his finest running exhibition in alternating on off tackle blasts with Connie Sparks, moving from the Christian 31 on

Riot Follows Ohio State's Downfall

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 19. (AP)—Michigan's prowling Wolverines, impotent against Ohio State for four years, turned today to beat the Bucks, 18 to 0, in the season's finale.

The defeat, most decisive suffered by one of Coach Francis A. Schmidt's teams in his five years here, knocked the Buckeyes out of a share of the Western Conference crown.

Thrilling as the contest was, it offered only a prelude to a bigger and better post-game battle between Ohio and Michigan partisans, who clashed under the goal posts as the invaders attempted to tear them down in celebration of the victory.

The steel posts, set in concrete, were bent out of shape by the surging throng, while the participants suffered scores of black eyes, scratches and bashed noses in the fight, which lasted for 45 minutes.

PURDUE TRIUMPHS, 13-6

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 19. (AP)—A dazzling display of speed by ball carriers Lou Brock and Jack Brown brought Purdue's Boilermakers a thrilling 14-6 victory over Indiana here today before a crowd of 32,000 in the forty-first game between the two Hoosier Big Ten schools.

The Man Of The Hour

JODIE MAREK

When the chips were down for the Texas Tech Red Raiders in their game with the University of New Mexico Lobos Saturday, Jodie Marek, sophomore place-kick specialist from Temple, took things into his own hands and produced Tech's ninth straight victory. First he booted a field goal from a difficult angle, then intercepted a Lobo pass and returned it 80 yards for a touchdown. He kicked the extra point. Marek was an all-state performer at Temple High school in 1936.

Notre Dame Continues Its Drive To National Title

(By The Associated Press)

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 19—Notre Dame's "Fighting Irish," striving for national championship honors they last achieved under Knute Rockne in 1930, cleared the semi-final hurdle in their path by conquering a stubborn Northwestern eleven, 9 to 7, today before a sell-out crowd of 48,500.

Only Southern California, to be played in Los Angeles December 3, remains the last obstacle ahead of Notre Dame in the championship drive, with eight straight victories already in the throne room.

The name of Willard Hofer, a 22-year-old second string, unheralded quarterback, must be gloriously written in the victory of the Irish.

Youngster Scores Twice

In two smooth maneuvers Young Hofer scored the Irish points.

In the second period, Hofer intercepted a pass and ran it back 65 yards for a touchdown. In the third period, with the Irish trailing 7 to 6, he kicked a goal from placement squarely between the uprights from the 20-yard line to give Notre Dame victory by its closest margin of the year.

The nine points Young Hofer scored in his twin efforts were enough to offset the touchdown that Jack McGurn, Northwestern fullback, scored in a two-yard plunge after the Cats had marched 49 yards.

The Irish carried the ball into Northwestern territory only once, and then only to the 48-yard line, while the Wildcats had no fewer than five chances to score.

In the first half, the Wildcats staged marches of 37, 38, 48, 26 and 49 yards toward the Irish goal. Finally on the last assault, they managed to score.

Arizona Gets Upset Win

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 19 (AP)—The University of Arizona Wildcats mingled an aerial offensive with a relentless ground attack to score an up-set 20-12 victory tonight over Marquette's Golden Avalanche before a homecoming crowd of 10,000.

Gophers Clinch Big Ten Title

(By The Associated Press)

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—Minnesota's mighty men, with a devastating running attack that produced three touchdowns and a second straight Big Ten championship, exploded Wisconsin's longcherished dream of a football empire today.

Before a crowd of 39,000 spectators, the Golden Gophers routed the Badgers, 21 to 0, achieving the spectacular triumph with a bruising, rushing game that stunned thousands of Badger fans who had hoped to see Wisconsin win its first conference title in 26 years.

Minnesota's decisive victory gave it a season conference record of four wins and one defeat. Michigan's defeat of Ohio State aided the Gophers toward undisputed possession of the title.

Gophers Develop Rout

With less than three minutes of the half remaining, Minnesota took possession at the Wisconsin 27 after a short punt. On the first play Larry Buhler smashed through left tackle, to sidestep across the goal line. After a scoreless third period which saw Buhler injured, the Gophers turned the game into a rout.

With Sophomore Rob Paffrath streaking 18 yards to highlight the march, Minnesota drove 33 yards to the Badger 12. Then George Franck, speedy halfback, knifed through left tackle for a touchdown.

Again, with less than three minutes of the game remaining, Minnesota scored again. A long pass, Harold Van Every to George Nash, carried the Gophers to the Wisconsin 17. Franck got five at tackle and then Marty Christiansen, who had replaced Buhler, crashed 12 yards through center to score.

Mustangs Crush Baylor In Air And On Land

By JACK B. KRUEGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WACO, Nov. 19.—Sharpshooting Southern Methodist, firing from the air and aground torpedoed Baylor university's fine aerial machine here today, 21 to 6, thereby demolishing a 22-year-old jinx which has never let the Mustangs conquer the Bears in Waco.

A first-period touchdown on tricky runs and two scores via passes tell only half the story of the Mustang victory, however, because Baylor's great little passer, Bullet Bill Patterson had to watch four vital fumbles cost his team a much bigger score. Three costly bobbles tripped up Baylor as they seemingly headed for pay dirt.

Passes Are Numerous

It was a passers' battle, with 45 tosses gracing the air during the game. Baylor tried 29 and completed 10 for 136 yards. The Methodists, with Ray Mallouf and Billy Dewell clicking, gained 169 yards on eight good passes out of 16.

Southern Methodist from the first evidenced its power. In the first few minutes they pushed into threatening territory on Mallouf's 30-yard pass to Crouch. From the Baylor 27 Crouch and Mullenweg knifed Baylor's line to the 14, but the threat vanished when Akin dropped on Holbrook's fumble.

Then the Mustangs, from midfield, inched to Baylor's 25 from where Mallouf streaked around end to the one-foot line, and a moment later for the score. Joe Pasqua, kicked the point.

Baylor Fumble Costly

Not long after, the Mustangs pounched on a Baylor fumble and scored from Baylor's 20. Clement, Mustang back, threw a quick, straight pass to Collins, who stepped across the goal. Belville kicked point.

Then came an epidemic of fumbles but before the second period ended Patterson managed to heave a touchdown pass for Baylor's only score.

Patterson took a midfield punt and slithered and squirmed through the Mustang players to SMU's 19. Then the great little back rifled a throw directly into the arms of Durham Bivens, 175-pound back from Longview, who caught the ball over the goal line. The Mustangs smothered Nelson on his attempt to kick the point.

Baylor strove mightily in the third period and fought its way to the one yard line before the Mustangs could turn them back.

The Mustangs' final score was a short affair. In five plays, including two fine passes from Mallouf to Collins, set the ball up for Bearden to drive for the score from the one-foot line.

The lineups:

| BAYLOR | Pos. | SMU |
|---|---|---|
| Boyd | LE | Sprague |

Douglass Stars As Frosh Rout Aggie Eleven

Texas Tech's fish outdid anythin their big brothers have done i scoring this season, defeating th Panhandle Aggies of Goodwe Okla., 64 to 0, Saturday afterno at Tech field.

The likeness of Elmer "T Great" Tarbox, in the same famili No. 21 moleskin, in form of To Douglass of Houston was th sparkling influence of the fro victory. Douglass reminds much the varsity star.

He dashed off 38 yards for on touchdown, five paces for anothe and took passes for two others.

Others Help Douglass

But Douglass was not the on consistent ground gainer, every fi backfielder taking a hand in th smooth-clicking offense.

J. H. Childs, a starter from Cro Plains, streaked out 55 yards th first time the Techsters carried th ball. He was tackled from behin by White, star of the Aggie back field, on the two-yard line. Cyclon Jim Jones of Stamford went ove on the next play then booted goa

Douglass had trouble holding th ball when the fish advanced agai to the three, and committed th first of his three fumbles in th first half. His "butter-fingers" a moments were all that detracte from his afternoon of grid great ness.

End Scores Touchdown

Arthur Weber of Sherman score the second frosh marker in th opening period on an end-aroun from the 12-yard stripe. The Aggi offense bogged down after the kick off, and the fish again headed fo paydirt.

A pass from Roger Smith of Ris ing Star to Bob O'Connor of Dal las, after which O'Connor laterale to Reveau Stewart of Lewisville scored again in the second stanza The pass and lateral gained 2 yards. Then came Douglass' lon dash.

Clarence Tillery of Grapevin passed 10 yards to Douglass, an the latter stepped off 27 mor paces for the fifth score. The hal ended with the fish leading, 32 to 0

Tillery passed for eight yards t Weber for the first counter of th second half, and shortly Byron Mayfield of Sweetwater intercepte a Farmer pass and ran it back 1 yards for another.

Fish Superior All The Way

Jones ran 22 paces to the visitor five as the third quarter ended and Douglass circled right end for the touchdown. A pass into the flat Tillery to Bill Ray Abernathy of Mineral Wells, gained 22 yards, and another, Tillery to Douglass, carried the fish 21 yards to the Aggie two. Tillery spotted Douglass in the end zone with a pass for the final score.

Consistent running of the entire backfield marked the frosh play. End play of Weber and O'Connor was stellar, and defensive work of Center Ed Irons of Paducah and Stanley Sigmon, a tackle, stood out in the line.

The fish piled up 366 yards from scrimmage to the Aggies' 32, of which 18 was killed on losses. Ten completed passes gained 122 yards for the frosh, while the visitors completed two for 16 yards. First downs favored the fish, 21 to 3.

Season's Climax Is Scheduled For Junk Car Track Today

Climaxing the junk car racing season, a series of challenge races will be run this afternoon at the circus grounds of East Broadway. First race will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Dave Childers, who last week completed a clean sweep of three runs for the Southwest championship trophy, will be matched today against Cleo Glaze, hard luck driver of the track, in a ten-lap affair.

Otto Flynn and C. O. Reynolds will be pitted in another similar race, with other possible combinations that may arisc through challenge this afternoon.

A 35-lap main event will be run. All drivers will be eligible. Positions will be drawn.

Duke Keeps Record With 7 To 0 Win

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 19. (AP) — Duke's Blue Devils — the nation's only major undefeated, untied and unscored-on college football aggregation—kept its record clean here today with a 7 to 0 triumph over N. C. State's Wolfpack. The victory gave Duke the Southern conference title.

The scoring punch was packed into eight plays late in the first half. Eric Tipton got 33 of a 46-yard advance and passed to Jap Davis for the other 13. Tipton tallied on a two-yard sweep off his left tackle.

Despite Records Aggie-Steer Turkey Day Classic Is Tops

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—The attraction is a football game between two teams hopelessly out of the running so far as conference honors go—yet it will draw the largest grid crowd in the Southwest this year.

Steeped in tradition and shadowed by a hoary home field jinx, the Thanksgiving Day grid classic between Texas A. & M. college and University of Texas elevens here next Thursday probably will draw a Memorial stadium capacity attendance of more than 40,000.

Exactly a decade ago the stadium held 42,000 persons, the biggest crowd on record. Anticipating a record demand, university athletic officials are throwing up bleachers, to hold an additional 2,000.

It Is 45th Meeting

The 45th clash between the Aggies and the Longhorns finds a strong A. & M. team, which strangely has won but half its conference tilts, tangling with a Texas outfit which has failed to take a single game this year and has the worst record of any Steer aggregation in history.

Records, however, mean nothing in this game. Practically always, it has been the "fighting-est" team which won.

Futhermore, it is haunted by a jinx which has not permitted a home team to lose since 1923. That year the Steers defeated the Cadets, 6-0, on Kyle field at College Station avenging the previous year's 14-7 whipping administered the Longhorns in Austin. Since 1924, when the Longhorns dedicated Memorial stadium with a 7-0 victory, no Aggie team has scored a touchdown on the field.

Jinx Aids Longhorns

That jinx, peculiarly, makes the Longhorns an almost even bet against the potent Aggies. And, despite the disappointing records, "everything will be forgiven" the team which wins.

Favoring the Longhorns is the law of averages which, railbirds remark, should permit a fair, but luckless, team at least one win in eleven games.

The schools' freshman teams will play here 24 hours earlier.

Netters Start Tech March Over Lobos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 19.—Coach Jimmy Allen's Texas Tech varsity tennis team started Texas Tech's athletic victory march over University of New Mexico here today by winning a scheduled tennis engagement, 4 matches to 2, this morning.

In singles, Tech players named first, Sidney Moore defeated Bill Burnet, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; Wilson Chapman defeated Jack Conroy, 6-4, 7-9, 9-7; Jesse Lee Beene defeated Frank Rowe, 6-4, 6-2; Claude Bateman lost to Jack Rodden, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Doubles results: Moore and Chapman lost to Burnet and Conroy, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2; Beene and Bateman defeated Rodden and Tom Childress, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

NO HOME GAMES

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP) — The footballers of little Brooklyn college today concluded they weren't appreciated on their own campus, and decided to schedule no home games for 1939.

Less than 100 tickets were sold to each of their four home games.

Four Unbeaten, Untied Major Teams Maintain Perfect Records; Three Titles Are Settled

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 — Notre Dame, Texas Christian, Duke and Oklahoma, all undefeated and untied, maintained their claims to national football championship recognition along with Pittsburgh today as three major sectional titles definitely were decided.

Texas Christian, with Davey O'Brien scoring one touchdown and passing for three more, handed Rice a terrific lacing, 29-7, but Notre Dame, Duke and Oklahoma all had their hands full before they could win.

Irish Need Field Goal

Notre Dame had to use the field goal route to stop Northwestern's powerful Wildcats, 9-7, Hofer booting a placement from the 20-yard line in the third period to overcome a 7-6 Northwestern lead. Duke, only major team in the country with an uncrossed goal line, had to repel a North Carolina State thrust which reached Duke's seven-yard line, first down, and then pushed over one touchdown for a 7-0 victory.

Duke's victory carried with it the Southern conference championship while Oklahoma clinched the Big Six crown by stopping Iowa State, previously unbeaten, 10-0, in a gruelling battle.

The third sectional title decided saw Minnesota's Gophers, in the strange role of underdogs, wallop Wisconsin, 21-0, and capture the Big Ten championship for the second year in succession.

Pitt, Duke To Meet

Pitt and Duke will clash at Durham, N. C., next Saturday. On the same day, Texas Christian, heading toward the Southwest conference crown, will meet its sternest test against Southern Methodist's Mustangs who trounced Baylor today, 21-6.

A crowd of 62,000 sat through a driving rain in the Yale bowl and saw Harvard stage an 80-yard touchdown march in the fourth quarter to whip Yale, 7-0, in the East's leading game. Army packed too much all-around strength for Princeton and earned a 19-7 victory. Although outplayed, Syracuse hung on just long enough to halt Columbia's unlucky Lions, 13-12.

Boston Suffers Tie

Georgetown, undefeated and untied, was hard put to top Maryland, 14-7, while undefeated Boston college was held to its second draw, a scoreless draw with tough little St. Anselm's. Villanova, another undefeated Eastern array which has been tied once, crushed Boston university, 39-6.

Manhattan took advantage of the breaks to whip West Virginia, 13-0, while Fordham tamed South Carolina's Gamecocks by the same score. Lafayette and Lehigh renewed their ancient rivalry and the former emerged victorious, 6-0.

The heaviest firing of the day occurred in the Middle West where Michigan knocked Ohio State's Buckeyes out of a share of the Big

Lubbock-Amarillo Game Thursday Afternoon Expected To Draw 15,000 Fans

Both Teams Are Undefeated In District Play

By TOM MILLER
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

High school grid competition reaches its peak Thursday afternoon when those ancient rivals of District one, the Lubbock Westerners and the Amarillo Sandies, renew their annual spat at Texas Tech field.

Approximately 15,000 spectators are expected to chuck in every crack and cranny of the college arena for a first-hand view of championship activities.

Additional Stands Erected

Nearly 3,000 additional seats will be provided through temporary stands to be erected behind the south end zone and the sidelines from the 10-yard lines to ends of the field on each side. E. J. (Pinky) Lowrey, business manager of athletics, last night said fans should not be frightened away through depleted supply of reserved seat tickets and regular general admissions.

Every effort will be made to seat every South Plains and Panhandle grid enthusiast who can foot the bill, Lowrey said. Amarillo provided 1,200 knock-down stands to help relieve congested conditions.

Ducats for about 5,000 reserved seats passed through hands of Lubbock agencies in less than three days. General admission tickets, 1,250, were sold in two days.

Looks Financially Good

At Amarillo 2,700 reserved seat ducats went into hands of fans in one day. Additional 300 Amarillo's share, were sold the next day bright and early.

From a financial standpoint the game looks like a 100-to-1 bet, but odds either way are much shorter on outcome of the mill.

Both teams have run through the conference schedule to date unscathed, each taking Plainview, Pampa, Lamesa and Borger in stride. Comparative scores of the teams against district adversaries probably are of no use in predicting the winner.

After bucking noggins with the Golden Sandstorms several years without a victory,—the Westerners figure it's time for them to win. Habit has as instinctively placed in Sandies' minds a winning complex that hasn't waned during this campaign.

Two Lettermen Back

However, Amarillo admittedly hasn't the great eleven that has characterized Sandstorm representatives of the past five years. Other district teams have battled toe-to-toe with the District one Frankenstein this year, only to have their efforts nullified by last-half splurges of the Sandies.

The "urge" in these splurges has been on most occasions provided by one Mr. Bill Thompson, whose flicking heels have gained him the appellation Blazin' Bill. He and Co-Captain Gerald Haston were only returning lettermen out for this year's team.

That hasn't kept Bill Andrews and Cecil Corbell, a pair of fine backs, from carrying their share of the burden as the Sandies have marched on undefeated in titular competition.

Webster Is Lubbock Hope

Stanley Mauldin, big pivot man, shines with Haston in the forward wall.

To match the Amarillo array is, to begin, Lubbock has Capt. Walter "Jumbo" Webster, for whom superlatives have been given careful study by sports scribes. Webster means the difference between a good and ordinary Westerner team.

Return of Rusty Johnston to uniform for the Pampa game lent confidence to the team and local fans. It is not unlikely that Johnston will start in the backfield with Webster, Leete Jackson and Harold Parsons.

There's a choice for everyone, but when Turkey Day becomes "hash" eve a District one champion will have been crowned at Texas Tech's athletic field.

California Assures Coast Loop Tie; Pitt Triumphs

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 19 (AP)—University of California's Bears, making a last-ditch stand for a chance at the Coast conference championship and the Rose Bowl bid, scored a fourth period touchdown and a 6-0 victory today over their oldest football rivals, the Stanford Indians.

Some 82,000 fans, the largest crowd in the nation for the day, saw the Bears snatch at a sudden break in the last quarter. It was a fumble by Fred Ledeboer, Stanford left half, and Louis Smith, California's right half, grabbed the ball 27 yards from the Indians' goal.

Three plays later California turned what had appeared to be a scoreless battle into glorious victory. Vic Bottari, left halfback and clever field general for the Bears, whipped the ball to Angelo Reginato, substitute end. He snagged the ball, sidestepped one tackler and crashed over the line. The winning touchdown pass and run gained 21 yards. Bottari's dropkick for the extra point was blocked.

Cassiano Leads Pittsburgh In Rout Of Penn State

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19 (AP)—Pitt's hard-driving Panthers bowled over a dazed Penn State football aggregation 26-0 today with Dick Cassiano, lone junior in the "dream" backfield, racing for three touchdowns.

The Panthers completely outplayed the Lions in the first and third periods and then let the reserves do the work.

Biggie Goldberg, spark-plug in the Panthers' backfield, polished up for next week's clash with Duke by galloping back the second half kickoff 53 yards.

That set the stage for a Cassiano touchdown thrust, an off-tackle play from the Penn State 19. After two plays, Cassiano swept around end to another touchdown from the 28.

The Albany, N. Y., Hurricane scored his first tally late in the opening period, skirting the end for 26 yards.

Bobby Thurbon, chalked up the fourth Panther tally in the final period, crashing through tackle from the 9.

One Rockne Pupil Is Happy, Another Sad As Rams Win

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP) — The touchdown play, beloved of Knute Rockne, came to bless one of his pupils and haunt another today as Don Principe of Fordham dashed 63 yards for the touchdown that started a 13-0 defeat of embattled South Carolina in the rain-lashed polo grounds.

The 15,000 chilled fans thus saw Jimmy Crowley, one of Rockne's boys, beat Rex Enright, his roommate at Notre Dame and another of the master's disciples.

Kerrville Hunter Shoots Twenty-Five Point Buck

KERRVILLE, Nov. 19. (AP)—A buck with 25-point horns was brought in today by G. F. Schreiner, former member of the state game and oyster commission.

Schreiner, who has hunted in the Hill country 50 years, said the deer was the largest he ever bagged.

Miners Trim Arizonans

EL PASO, Nov. 19. (AP) — Texas Mines, outgained but not outclassed today defeated the Arizona State Teachers of Tempe 14 to 6 in a crucial Border conference encounter.

The Muckers, undefeated in conference warfare, have but New Mexico State to defeat on Thanksgiving day to clinch the league title and the Sun Bowl bid.

After a scoreless first half, the Muckers opened up for two touchdown drives sparked by their brilliant quarterback, Ken Heineman. In the third quarter Heineman passed to End Kenneth Stice for five yards and the first touchdown and then converted. The second score came midway in the final quarter when a combined aerial and ground attack advanced the ball to the one-yard line. Heineman went over standing up and again converted.

Tempe's touchdown was made by Bill Davis in the final minutes on a 16-yard around end. Leo Burnes failed to convert.

Earlier, Shelby Pohle, Tempe halfback, galloped 88 yards to cross the Mucker goal line, but the play was nullified by a clipping penalty against the Arizonans.

Centenary Swamps DePaul, 48 To 0

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 19. (AP) —The Centenary college Gentlemen, led by their stellar back, Weenie Bynum, crushed DePaul university of Chicago, 48 to 0, here today in a football game watched by a crowd of 6,000.

Bynum and Whitehurst, Centenary fullback, started the touchdown parade near the end of the first quarter, alternately carrying the ball in a ground march from the DePaul 48-yard line. Whitehurst plunged for the score.

A bad punt which went out of bounds on the DePaul 27, and a 15-yard penalty gave the Gents their second touchdown in the second quarter. The Gents added another touchdown in the third and in the fourth started a four-touchdown spree, featured by Bynum's 56-yard runback of a pass tossed by Corrigan, DePaul back.

Nebraska Crushes Hawkeye Eleven With 14 To 0 Win

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 19. (AP) — Nebraska's Cornhuskers, none too successful this fall, but a drab finish on an already dismal football season for Iowa today by handing the Hawkeyes a 14 to 0 defeat.

The defeat was Iowa's sixth in eight starts, the Hawkeyes having beaten only Chicago and tied Purdue. It was a welcome victory, however, for the Cornhuskers, who had won only one game, lost five and tied one in previous engagements.

Cubs, Mustangs Play Thursday For 5B Title

The Brownfield Cubs and the Olton Mustangs will fight for the championship of District 5, Class B, Thursday afternoon at Plainview, in a game sponsored by the Plainview Chamber of Commerce.

Definite settlement of honors in the northern half of the circuit was made Saturday when Slaton High school officials withdrew eligibility protests against Cub players. A meeting, lasting nearly six hours, of the district executive committee investigated Slaton charges Saturday in the Hilton hotel.

Only withdrawal of charges concluded the session. Final judgment had not been passed on all of three players whose records were under observation of the committee. Eugene McCraw, Cub center, was ruled eligible.

James Bowers, Gerald Bench and Lester Jenkins were other lads protested by Slaton under age-limit and eight-semester rulings.

Large Crowd Expected

Attending the meeting here yesterday were: Committee Chairman D. A. Edwards, superintendent of Crosbyton schools; Elmer Moore, secretary and principal of Olton High school; Supt. Joe Webb of Slaton, Prin. Vernon of Brownfield, Supt. Hayes Holman of Post, Supt. W. E. Haynes of Tahoka, Supt. E. E. Hancock of Ralls; Coach Bill Sanders of Littlefield, and Prin. Carnes of Levelland.

Approximately 3,000 fans are expected to witness the Thanksgiving Day game. A special train probably will be run from Brownfield.

Winner of the game will meet Rotan, crowned champion of District 6B, in bi-district play probably in Lubbock Dec. 2.

Kopecky Meets Joe Banaski

A pair of Joes—both well versed in wrestling tactics—headline Wednesday night's rassle program at the Auditorium.

Joe Banaski, former lightweight champion of the cauliflower clan, meets Joe Kopecky in the main event. Banaski has gathered a large following of local fans in two performances here.

He defeated Walter Stratton two straight falls last week. His style of attack revealed few flaws. Smoothly he went about the task at hand and gently applied his pet hold, the alligator clutch, on two occasions to Stratton's body for falls.

The stealthy Kopecky may use his added experience to more advantage than did Stratton his strength.

FOR A SCOLDING WIFE of the 18th century, husbands recommended this scold's bridle recently shown at an antique dealer's fair in London. Wearing this tongue muzzle, the talkative dame was led through town (in the 18th century).

HUNTING WAS FAR FROM THOUGHTS of Edward Piatt, 29, of Pittsburgh, as he drove through Dormont, a suburb, but he didn't reckon with this hapless pheasant. The bird struck the windshield of Piatt's truck, shattering the glass and landing in Piatt's lap. He lost control of the car, ran off the road and into a field, was scratched a bit—but he got a pheasant.

HER FIFTY YEARS IN THE FIELDS have only sharpened Mrs. Henry Berghorn's zest for life and so, at 70, she appears on the Berghorn farm near Buffalo, helping with a load of corn. Since she was 20, Mrs. Berghorn has worked in the fields alongside the men and she's not ready yet to call "quits." The Berghorns have been on the same farm for half a century.

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY of Louisiana got a sizeable boost from Ellen Margaret deMourelle (left) and Nell Cooper, who yip-eeed in front of the agricultural center building, to hail Louisiana State university rodeo and livestock show. The affair was sponsored by Gov. Richard W. Leche at L. S. U. campus in Baton Rouge to promote the state's livestock industry.

LEADERSHIP of Chinese territory now dominated by Japanese military forces may fall to Gen. Wu Pei-fu (above), said to have support of Kenji Doihara, a Japanese politician.

'SAY—THEY'RE DOING ALL RIGHT!' And that's what Sam might be saying to Bud (right) as they hug the rail at the national horse show in New York where several large-flanked Clydesdales owned by a St. Louis brewery firm have been exhibiting. The dog and Sicilian donkey are companions of the Clydesdales which travel from horse show to horse show, in the season.

PATRON OF PEACE is Emir Abdullah Ibn Hussein (above), who rules the 350,000 Arab tribesmen of little Trans-Jordan, a desert country just across the river Jordan from strife-torn Palestine. He opposes the Holy Land's bloody warfare.

SIDEWALKS OF NEW YORK are the sketch board for unemployed Bernard Lacey, who favors dogs for his art. He's on Madison ave., in the heart of mid-town Manhattan.

12,000 CHEERED the horsemanship of two Chileans, Maj. Eduardo Yanez (left) and Lieut. Hernan Vigil, who rode their horses over nine difficult jumps at the national horse show in New York, each horse running in perfect harmony and clearing the barriers together without a single fault. Earlier in show, Major Yanez rode Chilena to win the Bowman challenge cup.

MAN-MADE GEYSER spouts rock dust at the site of a temporary diversion channel—part of the Shasta dam project on the Sacramento river, California. The workman has turned a stream of air into the hole to clear it of rock dust. The hole he is drilling is to be used to blast out rock in the canyon, where the dam is being built by the U. S. bureau of reclamation.

A FLAIR FOR THE ARMY combines with a love of peace in Gen. Oscar Benavides (above), president of Peru, whose country will be host Dec. 9 to the eighth inter-American conference at Lima. A defense program for the western hemisphere is expected to be a topic at the conference.

TO WELD BONDS AGAINST BONDAGE of any foreign power seeking a foothold in the western hemisphere, representatives of American republics will meet early in December in Lima, Peru—city of beautiful buildings such as above municipal palace. Discussing the conference, Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles said: "The world situation today makes it necessary that there should not exist between the American republics any shadow of misunderstanding or suspicion."

TOUSLED TEXAN, Ki Aldrich, is the 200-pound center on the mighty Texas Christian football team which shoved even potent Pitt eleven out of No. 1 position in a weekly gridiron-ranking poll. He's an expert at passing and smashing.

Harvard Drive Nets Victory Over Yale

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 19. (AP) — A heavily-favored Harvard football team that had been generally outplayed for three periods clicked for one relentless 80-yard scoring drive in the final quarter today to beat Yale, 7-0, and light the Crimson flares of victory in the Yale bowl for the first time since 1930.

For better than three fourths of this ball game, witnessed by a crowd of 62,000 that first sat through a drizzle and then through a downpour, the Crimson's complex backfield mansuvers were short-circuited effectively by a combination of the weather and a savage Yale defense.

With the ball on Yale's 8 Foley shot a touchdown pass into the end zone to MacDonald.

only seven plays to a touchdown. Once he minced in a lateral to Sparks that gained 27 yards. Davey plunged over from the two.

Aldrich set up the final Christian touchdown by intercepting a Rice pass on his own 48. Sparks picked up 11 and O'Brien got away for 18. He directed a pass to Durwood Horner, end, and Steakley, Rice defender, batted it smack into the Christian's hands over the goal line.

On the next to last play of the game the Christian reserves surged through and chased the great Ernie Lain past the end zone on a futile passing effort for two more points and a safety.

STEER HARRIERS WIN

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (AP)—The University of Texas harriers ran off with the Southwest conference cross-country meet here today and retained the title they have held since 1931.

Texas A. and M. college runners were second and Southern Methodist university had only three eligible men in the race, not enough to qualify for a team total. No other schools participated.

TRIBE BUYS BROACA

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today purchased Pitcher Johnny Broaca from the New York Yankees at the waiver price, Vice President C. C. Slapnicka announced.

AUBURN STOPS GEORGIA

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 19. (AP) — Auburn and Georgia produced heartwarming football fireworks for a shivering crowd of 12,000 today but the Plainsmen from Alabama fired too many barrages and won handily, 23 to 14.

Oklahoma Wins Big Six Championship

AMES, Ia., Nov. 19. (AP)—Oklahoma's football powerhouse, short circuited on the ground by the brilliant defense play of an underdog Iowa State eleven, took to the air today and scored a 10 to 0 victory which gave the Sooners their first Big Six championship.

A record crowd of 21,500 saw the Southlanders end their conference campaign unscored upon and handed the gallant Iowans their first defeat in 11 starts.

The Sooners scored a touchdown in the opening period and sewed up the game in the third with a field goal. The rest of the time they were butting their heads against a stone wall.

Undefeated Teams

Ten crown. With a crowd of 67,554 looking on, the Wolverines won 18-0, the worst defeat suffered by Ohio State since Francis Schmidt became head coach. Purdue and Illinois won the other Big Ten games, the former halting Indiana, 13-6, as Illinois mopped up Chicago, 24-0. Iowa closed a disastrous season by absorbing a 14-0 beating from Nebraska.

Michigan State, with Johnny Pingel starring as usual, shut out Pop Warner's Temple Owls, 10-0, while Detroit buried Tulsa, 39-14. Missouri smeared St. Louis, 26-0, as Kansas State ran up a 41-14 count on Washburn.

It was a comparatively quiet day in the South as most leaders, including Tennessee, rested before Thanksgiving Day tests. Florida surprised, however, by holding Georgia Tech to a scoreless tie. Auburn ran over Georgia, 23-14, after a slow start. Tulane romped at Sewanee's expense 38-0.

Utah moved one step closer to the Rocky Mountain crown by routing Wyoming, 39-0.

The day's greatest crowd, 82,000, saw California's Golden Bears break through Stanford's defense in the final quarter to win, 6-0, and clinch at least a tie with Southern California in the Pacific Coast conference. Oregon surprised with a 3-0 conquest of Washington's Huskies.

The Free City of Danzig, which is now under pressure from the Nazis, was formerly a part of Germany. It was made a free city under the supervision of the League of Nations after the World war.

Army Breaks Jinx To Beat Tigers

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 19. (AP)—Army at least knows the glory of a victory over the Princeton Tigers on the football field.

After 45 years, a span that found the two natural rivals playing only eight games with the Tiger thrice tied but never kicked into defeat by the Army Mule, the Cadets marched through the rain before 40,000 soaked spectators today to a 19-7 triumph that left no one in doubt as to their superiority.

The Army line was led by Bob Little from South Gate, Ky., a 175-pound guard, who was the big difference. The Cadet forward held the fine Tiger backs to a total of 35 yards by rushing, a stone wall that was only penetrated by Dave Allderdice's fine passing and a great catch by Tom Mountain that netted the Tigers their only touchdown.

The Cadets, sparked by a fine aerial attack and slashing runs and punt returns by Art Frontczak, Charley Long and Woodrow Wilson, never were headed. They scored in the first, second and third periods.

Buffs Take To Air For Victory, 27-0

CANYON, Nov. 19. (AP)—After a scoreless first half, Flippin, Foster Watkins turned to his specialty, passing, in the last two periods and the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes defeated Western State college of Gunnison, Colo., today, 27-0.

Thomas, Buffalo fullback, crashed over for the first counter early in the third after Watkins' passes set up the play. Watkins place-kicked the point.

Soon after, the heaving star faked a pass and carried the ball 20 yards. Then he passed to Murry who carried it across. Watkins converted.

In the fourth, he blazed a pass to Murry in the flat zone. Murry rushed 40 yards for the score. Again, Watkins converted.

Minutes later, he arched an aerial to Joe Hayes on the 10, and Hayes struggled across for the final touchdown. Watkins missed the try for point.

ILLINI ROUTS CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (AP)—Bob Zuppe's University of Illinois eleven blasted Chicago's last 1938 bid for a Western conference football triumph today by routing the hapless Maroons, 34 to 0, in the season's finale for both schools.

WILDCATS BEAT INDIANS

ABILENE, Nov. 19 (AP)—McMurry's Indians, without a 1938 victory on their records, bowed again today, Abilene Christian marking up its first win since 1933 in the intra-city series. The score was 19 to 7.

BEARCATS BEAT BOBCATS

SAN MARCOS, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Sam Houston Teachers Bearcats defeated the Southwest Texas Teachers Bobcats today for the first time in seven years, 13-7. The Bobcats lost a scoring chance in the first quarter by fumbling on the one-foot line.

Armstrong-Garcia Go Attracts Interest

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP) — Bath boulevard looked ahead today to Henry Armstrong's collision with Ceferino Garcia, and an honest-to-goodness title at stake.

The little brown dynamiter, holder of welterweight and lightweight championships, comes up against his biggest hurdle Friday night in Madison Square garden, when he puts his 148-pound crown on the line in a 15-rounder against the Filipino and his fabulous bolo punch.

They were supposed to get together in this particular punch-throwing party three weeks earlier, but Henry slipped a sacro-iliac joint or something on his final day of training, and the festivities had to be put off.

There hasn't been a lighter-weight war in years to attract the attention of this meeting.

Of the recent records of both battlers, the bout figures to be close. Armstrong is still a very favorite amongst the betting boys, but no one would be surprised if it comes up 5-to-6 and take your choice around fight-time.

SEWANEE OVERPOWERED

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19. (AP)—The powerful Tulane Green Wave ran up 31 points on the little Sewanee squad in the first half of their annual football game here today and then coasted on through the final two periods to an easy 38 to 0 victory.

Sewanee had only eight men in reserve and the time of the last two periods was shortened to twelve minutes each.

LIONS LOSE AGAIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP) — The Luckless Columbia Lions upheld their reputation for losing all the close ones as they dropped their final home encounter to Syracuse, 13 to 12, today while a cold rain beat down upon 20,000 spectators in Baker field.

Despite the inability of their star, Sid Luckman, to pass effectively with the slippery ball, the Lions outplayed their upstate rivals most of the way.

One Killed, Several Hurt In An Unexplained Explosion

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov. 19 (AP) One person was killed and between 10 and 15 persons injured tonight when an unexplained explosion wrecked a two-story frame building in the business section here.

Police said they believed all persons in a poolroom which occupied the rear portion of the building had been accounted for. The second story and front of the building, recently vacated by a restaurant, were unoccupied.

Autonomy Laws Are Approved

PRAGUE, Nov. 19. (AP)—The lower house of parliament passed by overwhelming majorities today autonomy laws for Slovakia and Carpatho-Ukraine as Czechoslovakia began reshuffling her constitution in a search for compromise between dictatorship and democracy.

When the two autonomy laws are approved by the senate, Czechoslovakia, shorn of nearly one-third of her territory by cessions of Germany, Poland and Hungary, will be a federated state consisting of three parts: Bohemia-Moravia, Slovakia and Carpatho-Ukraine.

Re-Named Province

Carpatho-Ukraine is the re-named easternmost province of Ruthenia. Bohemia-Moravia are the westernmost provinces inhabited chiefly by Czechs.

Both laws, when approved by the senate, will be incorporated in Czechoslovakia's new constitution which will be drafted and promulgated by the new president and new cabinet after the presidential elections expected next week.

Frantisek Chvalkovsky, the foreign minister, it was said, would be the only nominee for president of the "second republic" at the elections.

Extraordinary Powers

Under the new constitution parliament will not be dissolved but it will have little occasion for meeting, since it is planned to pass an "enabling act" next week which will give extraordinary powers to the president and cabinet.

Harder work for less money and a daily pat on the back for Germany are among the new rules of life in transformed Czechoslovakia.

Shorn of their former industries and abandoned to their own fate, the people seem to realize what is demanded of them if they are to retain even their present reduced status.

Anticipating lower wages which would prevent them from spending freely, Prague residents are flocking to theaters, movies and other amusements as though taking one grand last fling.

Lost: Something No One But A Fireman Can Use; Return It To Fire Department

Lost: one black bake-lite fireman's helmet.

"Where did you last see it?" the fireman was asked.

"About a hundred feet in the air," he answered.

"I think it landed in the road," said W. E. Twitty, fire chief.

The helmet blew off a fireman's head as fire-fighters rushed to a feed fire northwest of Lubbock Friday afternoon. The finder was asked to return the helmet to the fire department.

Conferences To Be Conducted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—President Roosevelt worked today to clear his desk of a mass of business before transferring the center of governmental activity to the southland for the next two weeks.

He will leave late tomorrow for Warm Springs, Ga., where, between swims in the health resort's outdoor pool, he expects to hold conference on the new legislative program. There is a possibility, too, that Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson will go there when he returns from Berlin to give Mr. Roosevelt a first-hand account of the happenings in Germany.

Nazi Sign Appointments

The president also may sign several important appointments, including some for the 20 federal judgeships vacancies, unless these are attended to before he leaves. The president discussed nominees for the post yesterday with Attorney General Cummings.

Informed persons said appointment of a successor to the late Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo on the supreme court was unlikely at this time.

Officials would not say whether any more cabinet changes were in the offing. Harry L. Hopkins, relief director, denied emphatically yesterday a report that he was to be transferred from WPA to the commerce secretaryship.

To Discuss Plans

Senate and house Democratic leaders will go to Warm Springs to go over with Mr. Roosevelt a tentative legislative slate for the new congress, meeting January 3.

The president will go to the Georgia resort by way of Chattanooga, Tenn. On Monday morning, he will inspect the Chickamauga T.V.A. dam now under construction on the Tennessee river and visit several of the Civil war battlefields in that vicinity.

He may make a brief informal talk at the dam, but the only set speech of his trip is that before the non-partisan forum of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the evening of Dec. 5, on the return trip to Washington.

RIGHT SCHOOL, WRONG CLASS

TOPEKA, Kans., (AP) — For six weeks a Topeka high school student sat in his history class and wondered when the review of last year's work would end. Finally he asked Teacher Amy Swenson.

He discovered it wasn't a review class; he had been sitting all that time in a History Three class when he should have been upstairs in History Five.

Under our electoral system a president may be elected although he receives fewer popular votes than his chief opponent. This has occurred three times, in 1824, 1876 and 1888.

Alcatraz Trial Is In Recess

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19. (AP)—The austere federal courtroom where craning spectators yesterday heard one Alcatraz prison convict "put the finger on" his two prisonmates at their murder trial was silent today in another week-end recess, the third since the trial began.

Milton T. Pettijohn, Texas mail-robber, was the convict witness, first of perhaps a dozen who may be called by the government to help prove that James C. Lucas and Rufus Franklin hammered to death Prison Guard Royal C. Cline in a desperate escape attempt last May 23.

Nervous On Stand

Pale and slightly bald, his face deep-lined, Pettijohn shifted nervously on the stand as he talked—convict-fashion, out of the corner of his mouth—about the last time he saw Guard Cline alive.

Pettijohn's own bloody overalls were found pulled over Cline's battered head when the guard was found in the saw filing room of the prison carpenter shop, and he hastily explained he had hung them up in there before leaving the room.

Then he testified Franklin was in the room with Cline when he left it—that is, he thought he was, but wasn't sure. But on his way out he saw Lucas and Thomas Limerick (the third convict who tried to escape and was killed by a guard's gun) going in.

He said he "didn't notice" whether any of them had anything in their hands. He said it was only about 5 minutes later that he saw Lucas again, in the model shop adjoining the saw-filing room.

"I don't recall whether I seen Limerick with Lucas," he testified. "I did not see them come out later. I saw them later. They looked like they just came out. They were walking toward the east wall of the model shop."

Limerick Was Killed

The prosecution expects to prove the three men felled the guard with swift, silent blows, then hastily fitted a brace into the window, climbed to the roof, and plunged toward a guard tower, hurling pieces of metal as they came. Limerick was killed, Franklin wounded severely, and Lucas cowed within a few minutes.

The defense has indicated it would seek to prove any one of several convicts in the model shop and saw-filing room might have killed Cline.

United States Attorney Hennessy said he had not made up his mind whether to call Harvey Bailey, Urschel kidnaper, or Bert McDonald, doing a life term for murder, who were also in the model shop.

New Pledge In Act Considered

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — There were new indications today that friends and foes of the administration's government reorganization bill might try to work out a compromise measure in the next session of congress.

Interested administration officials said they were hopeful some new program could be devised to eliminate objections which sent the bill to a house pigeon-hole last spring.

Might Insert Pledge

Among other things, they said, it might be possible to insert a definite peldge of economy—a pledge which opposition senators demanded but failed to exact.

Opponents of the bill, who generally have favored government reorganization in principle, said they had certain minimum demands before any compromise could be reached.

Predicts Consent

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) predicted that congress never would consent to provisions of the administration measure which would abolish the office of comptroller general and replace the present bi-partisan civil service commission with a single administrator.

Vandenberg said there also would be insistence that congress be given some check over the proposed presidential authority to reshuffle bureaus.

Would Be Pruning Tree

"Reorganization should be a pruning of the governmental tree," he said. "It should not bring a great flowering of new functions and new agencies.

The original administration measure provided for the creation of New Deal departments—social welfare and public works.

Vandenberg asserted there easily could be a compromise if the "worst features" of the administration bill were eliminated.

Drive On Legalized Banditry By Motor Cops Is Planned

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19. (AP) — The nation's motor club executives ground an axe tonight—to whittle down "fee-splitting" traffic officers who lurk in the byways along the highways.

Assembling here for the American Automobile association's national convention, they spoke up through their president, Thomas P. Henry of Washington, and announced a country-wide drive against such "legalized banditry."

Bigger And Better Christmas Cards Urged By Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—The postoffice department suggested bigger, even if not better, Christmas greeting cards today.

The postal service will be relieved of a great burden, Assistant Postmaster General Ramsey Black said, if patrons refrain from mailing any cards or letters less than 2 3-4 inches by 4 inches.

The diminutive ones require special handling and get lost easily.

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

A man never realizes how helpless he is until he tries to hang up a woman's hat.

HAND OF FATE

NOW comes one Ray Shaw of New York who is quite handy at modeling, who casts hands in bronze, tying to capture the personality, the mood and the expression of her subject. One's own hands make attractive bookends for desk or table and an equally nice gift for a best friend. Someone suggests that a bronze or polished brass hand would make an unusual door-knocker.

Miss Shaw makes masks, of course, but casts of hands are her specialty. And with decorating and entertaining taking on greater formality, such interesting pieces are again in demand. Some of you remember the Victorian decorative pieces that decorated the mantle and the parlor table.

Suggestion to a Red Raider for a Christmas gift for his best girl: Why not give the lil gal a great big hand?

PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS

YOU'VE heard it until you probably are bored to death with the very idea of being told to do your shopping early. But the fact remains that if you leave it until the last week, you're likely to be too tired between Christmas and New Year's to enjoy parties or old friends or even the family reunion.

This, then, is the time to get your cards, and select wrapping paper, ribbons and the like. Counters of this type of merchandise become more congested later on, as you very well know from past sad experiences

And, no later than this week, begin choosing gifts. This way, you'll not only have a wider selection from which to pick, but the salespeople will have time to give you a little attention. The stores already are displaying Yule gift selections.

In addition to your actual shopping list, you might put down in a little notebook a list of things which must be done before Christmas.

SCATTERINGS

NOTE to Mrs. Joe C; We'd like to publish the poem, "Two Days—Yesterday and Tomorow" that Mrs. Carter read at the convention but it is too long. . . . Anne Jamison, soprano, is to appear in Lubbock December 5 under auspices of the South Plains Civic Music association, substituting for Florence George who is not making a concert tour this season. . . . There are 504 electric bulbs in that 20-foot Christmas star atop the Avalanche-Journal office. . . . Having copied his slacks and shorts, milady now copies her beau's felt hats. Tyroleans were originally designed for men but—well, you know the ladies—hence the mannish hats you see around every corner. . . . Perhaps Charlie McCarthy's sayings are clever because they're aged in the wood.

BALL IDENTIFIER

THERE'S a clever new gadget out that will intrigue the golf enthusiast—a golf ball marker. This little device is said to stamp the owner's name permanently into the ball with indelible ink without in any way harming the golf ball cover. Any name can be set (a full alphabet is included) in the marker and name changes can be made.

NARROW HORIZONS

WHENEVER we note a woman who has become successful in the world of politics, art, business or in the professions, we find many women who say they might succeed if the "odds" weren't so heavy. What do they mean? Young women say they aren't given a chance, "thirtyish" women say men are prejudiced against them, women over 40 say the business world does not want them.

Perhaps they are right. But might it not also be that the reasons can be found in the women themselves? Do those young women claim lack of opportunity when it is really initiative, imagination and a knowledge of what is going on in the world around them that they really lack?

Do those women in their thirties claim prejudice when it is really a routine mind that has lost its resilience due to lack of stimulation that makes them less valuable in their jobs?

And do those "over 40" see only the age discrimination and not the fact that they have become 40 in appearance, 40 in unimaginative thinking and 40 in unflexible attitudes.

Perhaps the most important of all from the professional standpoint is to keep one's fingers on the pulse of events in the particular business or professional field in which one is engaged or interested, and to keep in touch with the people who work and are leaders in it.

How you can best do these things is, of course, something which you must work out for yourself, according to your particular field of interest. Yet with the many splendid organizations and groups for men and women all over the country to help you, it is being made increasingly easy for all.

Society Salutes Luxurious Mode At Horse Show

THE modish parade of society belles who lend their chic presence to the National Horse show is a colorful "show within a show." These fashionables were photographed on opening night of the 55th annual show which traditionally opens the New York social season. At left in hoop skirt, ermine wrap, winsome smile is the recently eloped Mrs. William Dodds (the shipping heiress.) Below, left, is Miss Wilhelmine Kirby who wears an orchid shoulderpiece to set off her quilted satin gown and silver fox wrap. Below, right, is shown the Santa Claus influence in fashion. ## Extravagance Is Women's Due Says Geraldine Farrar Who Writes Autobiography

RIDGEFIELD, Conn., Nov. 19.—Geraldine Farrar, great soprano of the generation of Caruso and Scotti, is about to re-enter the news. She recently published her autobiography, and it is a very unusual one.

Miss Farrar is one singer who left the operatic world with more friends than enemies. She left it without regret, to live the country life.

This she does in a big white house on the ridge which gives her village its name. It does not look particularly like a New England house—it follows no particular architectural model. It was built for comfort, and filled as it is with things of real beauty.

Miss Farrar at 56 looks younger than many women of forty. She is not afraid to smile, and smiling does not produce wrinkles for her. She is active, interested in the out of doors, in love with animals, particularly dogs. Mutzi, her dachshund bitch, just won a first prize and her mistress is pretty proud of it. So is Mutzi.

She used to wear red wigs—in fact, any color she pleased. But now she wears her own gray-to-platinum hair and it is more becoming than anything she used on the stage.

Likes Lots Of Clothes

She used to startle the musical world with her gowns, which came mostly from Paris. This she has not given over; she confesses she thinks mild extravagance in clothes is any woman's due.

We started out to find what a prima donna who retired at 40 did with her time. This one does plenty.

Lately, of course, she has been writing that book (it's called "Such Sweet Compulsion"). She liked the early morning, so she got up at 5 o'clock and worked two or three hours before breakfast. The impulse to write had arrived suddenly. So she wrote.

She takes an active interest in her estate. This occupies much time, and since the hurricane she has had to devote a share of every day to clearing up.

She is actively concerned with village affairs. The other day, for example, she was due at a town meeting to try to fight down a tax proposition that disppleased her.

She likes people, and she knows hundreds, knows them well. If you're above college age you probably remember the Gerryflappers, the devoted band of youngsters which followed her about like small puppies.

Wants 'Intermediate' Opera

Well, the Gerryflappers have grown up and married and now Miss Farrar has a hundred or more Godchildren, and she always gives each her personpal attention on the proper anniversaries.

Miss Farrar is usually available to work in the interest of any worthwhile movement in art. Now her obsession is an "intermediate" opera house, or rather a lot of them. She thinks it's a crime to expect young singers to do justice to their gifts when there is no opera for them

Radio Singer Is To Appear Here

Anne Jamison, young lyric soprano who has won acclaim on the air, is to be presented in concert December 5 at the Senior High school auditorium under auspices of the South Plains Civic Music association.

Miss Jamison was featured soprano over station CFRB, Columbia's outlet in Toronto, for two years and shortly after arrival in New York was given an audition for for a part on the radio program, "Hollywood hotel," which was being cast. She was signed. Last season she appeared in recital in New York for the first time with such success that she has decided to devote a part of each season to concerts.

She thinks, too, that it is too much to expect young singers to resist the blandishments of the movies and the radio, even though they are ruined by success founded on immature musical experience. "They have to eat," she says.

from Lou to Louella . . .

DEAR Louella: Here're a few items concerning swell trips some people you know are taking:

Mrs. Roscoe Wilson is leaving Monday night on a long journey which will keep her in the East until after Christmas. In Lynchburg, Va., she will visit Nannie Margaret Overton who is attending Randolph Macon Woman's college. Nannie Margaret will accompany her to Philadelphia to see the Army-Navy game and visit Mrs. Wilson's nephew, Ray Brownfield, jr., a student of West Point. Mrs. Wilson will visit at West Point and in New York City until the latter part of December. Nan will return to Lynchburg after the game.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Garrett and son, George, left Saturday for Dallas where they were to spend several days. Mrs. Garrett and son will visit her mother in Winters Thanksgiving Day while Mr. Garrett goes to Austin on business—and to the Texas-A. and M. game.

Post People To Game

By the way some Post people who will be sitting on the front row at that game are the J. N. Powers and J. N. Powers, jrs., whose son and brother, Tom, is a sophomore at A. and M. Tom will accompany them home for the week-end and, on one occasion, come to Lubbock to attend a Tech club dance.

The Paul Lavertys, including the children, left Friday afternoon for Tipton, Mo., where they will spend the first Thanksgiving since their marriage with Mrs. Laverty's father. They will return next Sunday.

THE Dale Ackers and son, Larry, are visiting her relatives in Fort Worth. Next Saturday they will attend the TCU-SMU football game and do a bit of recollecting with former classmates.

I celebrated Thanksgiving when I attended that luncheon at Acuff I told you about last week in the Douglas Pounds home. While in that community I also visited in the elegant new home of the Bob Paces. If you've seen the D. K. Bondurant home and the C. B. Cook residence you have a vague idea of what a modern place the Paces have because it has features resembling both. Inside it is furnished beautifully with modern type furniture, drapery, lighting effects and carpeting that are most comforting to the weary traveler that I was after battling a sandstorm all the way to Acuff. Incidentally, the sand-a-blowin' don't bother the Paces because their house is sand-proof.

Underwoods May Build

By the way, I heard the Archie Underwoods have decided to make Lubbock their residential headquarters and are planning to build a real mansion here.

Next week, perhaps, I'll tell you about the mansion—I haven't seen it yet but I've heard it called that—the Paul Sherrods are building.

One of Tech's star footballers and most popular and smartest students had himself photographed the other day and presented the picture—beautifully tinted—to his best girl, a pretty little miss from Lamesa who lives in the women's dormitory.

LOUISE Caraway, a cute little gal from George M. Hunt school, very formally presented to my cohort and me a clever Thanksgiving addition of the Hunt Children's Avalanche for which Joe Ann Bailey is editor and Misses Evelyn Jones, Mildred Boone and Edith Whitlock are teacher sponsors.

The edition was generously illustrated with original cartoons and, I confess, some of them were over my head. There was an original crossword puzzle, some good poetry by Virginia Younger, editorials and nicely written news items concerning various phases of school life, National Book Week, etc. The front page is decorated with a three-column picture of a recent George M. Hunt school parade.

Resemblance Noted

Lulu has written: "I wonder if you have ever noticed the close resemblance between Mrs. Tony Farris and the young movie comedienne, Lucille Ball? (No, because I haven't had the pleasure of seeing either, to my knowledge).

"Page Billy Rose or somebody! Jimmy Marshall is really clever at composing songs, with lyrics! Don't think it isn't fun and a thrill to go about with a boy who frequently bursts into original song. (Nice goin', Lulu).

"Don't you think Mrs. Edna Lyles of the Tech home economics faculty has great charm and poise? (Yes, indeed! So do several other members of the home economics faculty, as is as it should be.)

"From appearances, nice person M. H. will be married before this time next year to that Tech football player G. P." (Hope this doesn't get me in Dutch).

There's more to her letter, but it will wait until next week when I have more time and space maybe.

Yours, Lou.

Group Of Dehydrating Plants In East Texas Proposed To FSA

Banquet Will Be Held On Jan. 24

Clinton P. Anderson of Albuquerque, N. M., a former president of Rotary International and long a leader in Boy Scout activities, will be principal speaker at the annual banquet of South Plains Scout council, according to announcement Saturday by Dr. F. B. Malone, president.

Immediately after acceptance of the invitation to speak had been received from Anderson, the night of Jan. 24 was set as date for the banquet.

Usual attendance at the annual affair numbers between 300 and 400, including representations from all of the approximately 40 communities with Boy Scout troops in the 20 counties of the council, according to Earl M. McClure, council executive.

To Elect Officers

Business to be transacted on that occasion will include the election of officers, the approval of a budget and the determination of the program of activities to be followed through the year.

Setting of the date for the dinner, Malone said, has made possible the arranging of a schedule for numerous preliminary meetings which will be held.

Other Meetings Held

They include: A meeting of the council finance committee in Lubbock, Dec. 16 at an hour and place to be set.

Dates also were announced for four annual district meetings. They are, with present occupants of places for which new elections will be necessary:

The Morton meeting is set for Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, the Whiteface meeting for Tuesday night at the same time and the Levelland meeting for Wednesday afternoon at an hour to be set, the announcement said. Assisting the pastor were Dr. E. B. Fincher, pastor of the Ellwood Presbyterian church at Amarillo and Bishop E. ## Ferdinand, El Toro Ferocio, Comes To Life; Bee And Bull Story In Movie Now

"His mother (who was a cow)" saw he was content just smelling flowers and he grew up under his cork tree.

"They took him away" to fight in the bull ring because five men in funny hats mistook him for a very ferocious bull.

"Sitting there still" in a rather Disney way; that's Ferdinand, back home again.

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

Walt Disney's turning Ferdinand The Bull loose on the nation Nov. 25. The colored movie short follows closely Munro Leaf's famous story of the bull that liked "to sit just quietly and smell the flowers." Robert Lawson, who drew the pictures in the book, didn't draw the movie, but you won't have any trouble recognizing his settings, from cork tree to bull ring. This is the first time Disney has turned to a work of modern fiction to get his theme, outside of the stories that have been created in his own studios. There has been some discussion as to whether Ferdinand was a sissy or a pretty wise bull. Disney thinks he was wise.

New Ordinances Will Be Passed

Several ordinances already passed on first reading are scheduled for further consideration at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission which will be held Wednesday afternoon, according to information given at the city hall Saturday.

Thursday would be the regular meeting date, but the date has been advanced because of Thanksgiving.

Must License Bicycles

Ordinances scheduled for consideration on first reading include:

One providing for registration and issuance of license plates for bicycles, a measure designed to combat a growing bicycle theft problem. Annual cost of the registration, as provided in the ordinance, would be 35 cents.

To Create Board

One providing for creation of a board of electrician's examiners. Members of the board would consist of three electricians with the city electrical inspector and the superintendent of the city power plant serving ex officio.

Another which provides for the paving of approximately 80 blocks of residence streets. The actual paving will not start until next spring if the ordinance is passed, but the preliminary work of installing curb and gutter and of laying caliche pass will be completed during the winter.

SCURRY GINNINGS

SNYDER — Approximately 23,000 bales of cotton have been ginned so far in Scurry county, J. C. Smyth reports. In Snyder five gins turned out 12,524 bales.

MORTON GINNINGS

MORTON — Running two shifts, the two gins here have passed the 1,200 bale ginning mark. The crop is expected to exceed early predictions.

Recent tests by the department of agriculture near Clovis, N. M., indicated rank weeds during one month in late fall take sufficient moisture from the soil to support a winter wheat crop from the time it is planted in September until the next spring.

Elliott Roosevelt Lashes Out Against Politicians With 'False Promises'

Pension Dangers In Nation Cited

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19.—Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, lashed out against popliticians "with false promises" on his Texas state network Friday night and challenged the incoming government of Texas to produce evidence to back up its campaign pension pledges. It was his regular weekly broadcast on "Texas in The World News."

"The greatest danger that confronts this state today," he said, "is that the politicians will lead the people, through false promises down the road to economic bankruptcy.

Sadly Misled People

"The man and woman who today look upon the government of the state of Texas as a spring from which to derive a magic flow of unending, watered money are people who have been sadly misled in what is the purpose and reason for the existence of government.

"The goverment exists as the property of the people and all the expenses of its operation shall be paid for by the people. Those who have taken the promises of politicians, who hold out a hope for security without effort, have swallowed a bait that eventually will lead to their destruction and will mean the end of opportunity for their children."

Knocking With Sledge Hammers

Roosevelt charged that politicians advocating such pension plans as the $30-Every-Thursday in California and similar plans in large number of other states, and "more important to us, in the state of Texas" are "knocking with sledge hammers at the very base of our government."

"Do not misunderstand me," he said. "I am definitely in favor of planned social security for the aged. But those who advocate such plans as the Townsend plan and other well-known pension plans are people who, through misrepresentation of facts, are trying to overthrow the government of the United States . ."

Applies To Just Such Men

He made that statement apply to "any man who advocates any specific form of pension . . . Without having that plan well backed up from an economic standpoint to show just how and where the state will derive the funds."

"Today," he said, "we as a state are faced with a proposal to pay every man and woman over 65 years of age in Texas, the sum of $30 a month. The people of the state have been asked to vote for candidates and have elected them, even though these candidates never have at any time shown how they could produce that revenue without ruining the economic future of the state.

"I do not believe that the advocates of this plan know today how this plan can be made to operate successfully without either bankrupting the state today or placing a burden of taxation upon the next generation that will be impossible to bear.

"So, let us today challenge the incoming government of this state to provide evidence to back up their campaign pledges."

Extension Of Slaughter Pool And Showing In Yoakum Outpost Feature Oil Activities

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Extending of the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county westward by The Texas Co. No. 1-B Mallett and showing of oil by Shell No. 1 Ruyts, one-mile southeast outpost to the Bennett pool in southeastern Yoakum county were among principal West Texas developments this week.

Gulf No. 1 Swenson, a scheduled 8,500-foot wildcat in the northeast corner of Garza county, plugged back from 8,104 to 7,440 feet and was reported to have cemented 7 5-8-inch casing, presumably preparatory to testing rumored saturated lime. Elevation is 2,274 feet and the location the center of the northwest quarter of section 25-2-H&GN.

More Producers Completed

Thirty-five producers completed in 11 counties represented an increase of a dozen over the preceding week, but locations dropped to 27 in eight counties, one less than the week before and the smallest number in many weeks. Eight of the completed producers were in Yoakum county, six in the Denver field, two in the Bennet pool, and were good for 6,515 barrels daily.

A consistant leader in locations all year, Ector county registered only one this week, Ward county being first with nine, one being a quarter mile north outpost to the Payton pool. Locations totaled 26 for field tests and one for a wildcat. The wildcat was staked in north central Dawson county by the Daw-Tex Oil Co. of Denver on the J. E. Neeley land, 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 28-35-6n-T&P.

Hockley Test Deepened

The Texas Co. No. 1-B Mallett in Hockley county, deepened to 5,035 feet, was retreated with 1,500 gallons of acid, and flowed 179 barrels of oil through tubing in 24 hours, with 1.2 per cent basic sediment and water. It is in the southeast corner of labor 1, league 52, Scurry county school land, slightly more than two miles southwest of the north end of the Slaughter pool.

The Texas Co. No. 3 Slaughter on the north line of the Slaughter field, bottomed at 5,003 feet in lime, ran tubing equipped with flow valves, swabbed once and flowed 148 barrels of oil in three hours, then died. It is in the northwest corner of labor 66, league 39, Maverick county school land.

Swabs 48 Barrels

Shell No. 1 Ruyts, southeast outpost to the Bennett field in Yoakum county, swabbed 48 barrels of fluid in 24 hours, 70 per cent oil and 30 per cent drilling water, while unloading the hole at 5,270 feet. It is in the northwest quarter of section 743-D-John H. Gibson. J. E. Mabee No. 1-D Willard, two miles farther east, prepared to drill plugs from 5 1-2-inch casing at 4,799 feet, with the total depth 4,940.

Sam Yingling No. 1 Nettie Barmiles west extension to north end of Bennett pool and in the southeast quarter of section 6-D-John H. Gibson, was abandoned at 5,501 feet, having been unable to free drill pipe.

Harry J. Brown No. 1 Wasson, one-west extension to the north end of the Wasson pool in Gaines county, was completed at 5,010 feet for a 24-hour flow of 791 barrels of oil after treatment with 9,000 gallons of acid in three stages. It is in the northwest quarter of section 51-AX-psl.

Gaines Test Attracts Attention

Adams & Bradley No. 1 Ohio-Crain in Gaines county, 3 1-2 miles due north of the Seminole pool, attracted attention by topping the anyhydrite by samples at 2,200 feet, 1,213 feet above sea level. This was lower than in some nearby tests but higher than in others and was considered not unfavorable. Then-inch casing was being run at 2,240 feet in anhydrite. The test is in the northwest quarter of section 216-G-WTRR.

Montecito and others' No. 3 Cowden became the fourth completed producer in the new Emma pool in southern Andrews county, flowing 130 barrels of oil in 24 hours, bottomed at 4,224 feet. It was shot and acidized. Great Western No. 1 Holt, in the northeast corner of section 1-4312n-T&P, east of the Emma pool, was cleaning out after a shot, with 900 feet of oil and 300 feet of water in the hole. It had plugged back from 4,479 to 4,476 feet.

Humble No. 51 J. S. Means on the southeast edge of the Means field in Andrews county pumped 835 barrels of oil in 24 hours for completion at 4,512 feet after treatment with 10,000 gallons of acid. Estimated good for 30 barrels daily if pumped. H. C. Wheeler No. 1 White & Shelton, three miles west of the Means pool in section 19-A36-psl, was shut down for orders at 4,615 feet.

Humble staked No. 1 Matador in Dickens county 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 26-1 Shock & Arnold. The wildcat will be on a 46,526-acre lease.

Stanley A. Thompson No. 1 Elsinore, Pecos county wildcat 20 miles south of Fort Stockton, after fishing unsuccessfully for tools at 7,342 feet in lime for a long period, was shot from 7,038-80 and showed a little gas, reportedly with a slight spray of distillate. Cleaning out was under way. Location is in section 53-4-GC&SF. Humble No. 1 A. H. Robertson, Pecos wildcat 16 miles northwest of Ft. Stockton in section 27, block OW, showed water in the Delaware on a drill stem test at 5,363 feet and was abandoned.

Test Runs Higher

Ohio No. 1 Popham, Reeves county wildcat in section 18-54-10-T&P, had drilled to 5,330 feet without shows. It topped the Delaware by samples at 5,030 feet, 1,407 feet below sea level and 105 feet higher than previously reported.

J. E. Fitzpatrick and others' No. 1 Dyer, west central Ward county wildcat, which struck 1 1-2 million feet of gas and a showing of oil in the Delaware sand in drilling to 5,144 feet, was shot with 200 quarts of nitroglycerin and was cleaning out. There was no increase apparent early.

Henry L. Fannin and other San Angeloans' No. 1 Reed Bros., Tom Green county wildcat one mile east of Carlsbad, recovered tools at 5,118 feet after fishing since early September and shutdown. It is in the northeast corner of subdivision 39, Mason & Perry survey.

Vocational Work Gains In Area

Area 1 of the vocational agriculture department of the state, the South and North Plains area of Northwest Texas, has 72 departments this year, according to O. T. Ryan, supervisor.

Three new departments are in the area, Quitaque, Lockney and Megargel.

"We have only these three new departments in the area this year due to lack of funds for expansion," Ryan pointed out. "We had over 100 requests for new departments in the state; about 10 of these were in Area 1."

Lubbock county has 8 high schools with a vocational teacher. The six rural high schools, Lubbock and Slaton, have departments.

There are 10 schools in the Pampa district with departments; 9 in the Memphis district; 8 in the Lamb and Parmer county district; 8 in the Vernon district, 10 in the Tulia district; 8 in the Crosbyton district and 11 in the Meadow district.

Lamb and Parmer counties have four schools each; Hale has four schools; Crosby, three; Dickens, three; Floyd, two; Hockley, three; Lynn, three; Gaines, two; Terry, one; Garza one; Swisher, two; Castro, one; Briscoe, one; Deaf Smith, one.

Lot Of Farm Woman Is Improved As Much As That Of Her City Sister, Mrs. Taber Believes

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 19. (AP)—The average farm wife still gets up at 4:30 a. m. and feeds the chickens but she no longer is the toil-worn drudge who used to break her back on a pump handle and cook for 50 harvest hands with little or no help.

Mrs. Louis J. Taber, wife of the master of the National Grange, here for the 1938 Grange convention, said the lot of the woman on the farm had impoverd as much as that of her city sister. Mrs. Taber thinks the wives of most substantial farmers have electrical lights, an ice box, a telephone, a vacuum cleaner.

Most farmers' wives read at least one farm magazine and one magazine of general interest.

Ms. Farmer has a radio and listens to about the same programs as Mrs. City Dweller. The family has a car and she drives it. She belongs to one or more clubs and while her conversation may run to preserves and garden pests, still she can talk on any subject from the Notre Dame football team to the latest European cisis. And she won't trump her partner's ace.

Seedling Trees From Plainview To Be Planted In Shelterbelt

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 19.—Digging of seedling trees at the Prairie States Forestry project nursery here is under way, where approximately 5,500,000 trees are growing, for use in the shelter belt areas of Texas.

Between 40 and 45 workmen are employed and an average of 50,000 seedlings can be dug a day. It will take about three months to complete the task of digging, shipping and trimming the trees.

Albert S. Klein is supervisor of the nursery here.

COTTON ABOUT PICKED

LOCKNEY—Close of the cotton gathering season is seen here. Ginners say 95 per cent of the crop is harvested and 90 per cent ginned. The bulk has gone into government loan warehouses.

TO GET MORE CATTLE

MULESHOE—The E. K. Warren & Son ranch here is expecting 800 more head of cattle for their range. The animals will come from Encino, N. M.

MUST HAVE PENSION

TAYLORVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A classified ad appearing in a local newspaper read: "Wanted—A wife. Must be over 65 and drawing a pension." The advertiser told the newspaper he was in the seventies and drawing a pension himself.

Mr. And Mrs. America To Live Better As Result Of British Trade Agreement

Lower Prices On Products Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 — The new trade agreement with Great Britain will affect the daily life of the average American in many ways, state department officials say.

Americans on farms and in cities will observe a direct effect on the prices of many of the articles they buy, or might want to buy, officials believe.

Indirect Effects Seen

These officials are confident, too, that there will be important indirect effects in the form of increased employment in some industries and increased purchasing power on farm.

The average American may note the direct effects when he buys a pair of woolen socks, a bath robe, a new wool suit or a linen handkerchief. The prices of these articles coming from England will be lower because duties on them have been reduced.

More American breakfast tables should be able to afford British marmelade or jam, on which the duty has been cut from 35 per cent to 20 per cent.

To Be Proportionately Lower

Officials said that prices were apt to be proportionately lower on the jam, the suit or the socks, however, than the amount of tariff reduction.

Assuming, they said, that the duty on the Damask tablecloth on the breakfast table had been reduced 50 cents, the price saving to the purchaser should be about $2.

The reason, they explained, is that customs duty enters into the original cost of the article, proportionately increasing sales, distribution and advertising costs at several points along the line from importer to consumer. Since each "mark-up" usually is a percentage of the cost, the 50 cents may be multiplied several times.

Closer Than Husband

The American housewife may come into closer contact with the effects of the British agreement than will her husband.

Besides being able to buy certain articles of British-made clothing more cheaply, she may also purchase British cutlery or silver-plated articles, among other household goods, at lower prices.

She will find that the duty on toys for the children was cut more than one-third.

WHIP PIERCED HEART

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Armed with a long horsewhip with wire attached to the end, a native flicked it over oxen he was driving and on the rebound the wire pierced his heart. He died almost immediately.

Boks inscribed on oyster shells, bricks, tiles, ivory, bones, lead, copper, iron, wood, sheepskin, and palm leaves are contained in the British Museum.

Housing Chief McDonald Rarely Sees His Own Home; Becoming "Fair-Haired Boy"

BY SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Feature Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald is a tall, sandy-colored, raw-boned Scot who's rapidly becoming the New Deal's fair-haired boy.

He's been talking, pushing, wheedling and blasting the idea of housing down the throats of the public, bankers, builders since 1935. Now there's a million a month rolling into his coffers, there's an extra $23,000,000 in the kitty. Added up, that means McDonald doesn't have to go hat-in-hand to Congress for funds to keep FHA going. And that's practically unique in New Deal agencies.

Busy In St. Louis

Fivey ears ago McDonald probably ranked "housing" in the back of his mind with other vague topics people talk about — surrealism, horticulture and such. He'd been busy in St. Louis for years building up a healthy personal fortune in autos, farm implements, electrical equipment and banks.

He retired to be with his horses. But horses weren't enough for a restless fellow like him. So when the New Deal tapped him to join the FHA he hopped. His $10,000-a-year salary looks like cigarette money in his crowd. But he's having a better time now than when he was working for himself.

He came here as assistant administrator. In 1935 he moved to top job. But people weren't buying homes fast enough. Bankers were wary. Some still are.

Preached Mass Production

McDonald began preaching mass-production housing. He wants to keep driving down the cost of a house. He pushed through a new housing act last February. It made money easier to get, and on those provisions he had practically no opposition.

He's worked quietly. He calls no names. He's vague about politics,

STEWART McDONALD
Won't Mix His Job And Politics

refuses to take part in campaigns. Insists a government money agency and politics don't mix. Keeps friends on both sides of the fence.

He vacations with the Palm Beach crowd, but his favorite bridge crony is Reliefer Harry Hopkins. For poker, it's RFC's Jesse Jones and McDonald is one of the few who can out-bluff Jones over the chips.

He's as vague about his age

He's as vague abouthi s age as he is about politics. He's fifty-ish. Looks outdoorsy. Wears hunt-country clothes. Walks to work from his hotel, two blocks off. A housing administrator living in a hotel? Does sound incongruous. Well, McDonald thought that, too, about two years ago, and built himself a house at Palm Beach. But between housing and a house, the first gets McDonald. He's only been down to his house about a week altogether.

His aides decided once last year that he needed a vacation and they packed him off for Florida. Four days later he was on long distance with an idea that wouldn't keep. They got around to asking him where he was when he got the idea. Seems he had on swimming trunks and was just walking into the Breakers when he got long-distance-itis.

His people came from the Isle of Skye, in the Hebrides; he was born in Minnesota, raised in Chicago and educated at Notre Dame and Cornell.

His second job was to take over the old Moon Buggy Co., of St. Louis when it had a bad creak. With $27,000 outside money he built it up so he could sell it for $4,000,000 in 1928. And that was nice timing, if you recall the depression.

McDonald is bursting with enthusiasm and rugged health. Got a little sick, he thought, last winter, but he kept going to the office until one day he just had to stay in bed. When he had finished going over him, the doctor announced:

"Well, you'll be all right. You're coming out of this pneumonia nicely."

EXPECT CATTLE SOON

LITTLEFIELD — Peyton Packing Co., of El Paso, is expected to ship into their pens here about 3,000 head of cattle shortly after the first of the year. No definite date for shipment has been announced and likewise the exact number to be fed was not indicated. The company has been buying grain sorghum bundles and corn for filling silos and storage for feeding.

Shamburger Lumber Co., Is Complete Building Service

Shamburger Lumber company, at 719 Thirteenth street, is a product of the years.

It was approximately 40 years ago when C. D. Shamburger, now of Wichita Falls, constructed his first yeard. He was "very young," said his friends, "but he combined a business sense and a knowledge of values that not only allowed him to expand to possession of 22 yards in Texas and three in Oklahoma, but made the name of his company a byword among those who build."

There is a yard at Brownfield maintained by Shamburger.

Bob Gee Is Manager

The Lubbock yard has Bob Gee for manager He has been in Lubbock eight years, one of which he has been manager. He also worked in the Wichita Falls office.

There are seven regular and one temporary employes. R. Q. Phillips is assistant manager, H. C. Shamburger, cousin of the founder and lately of Dallas, is accountant and bookkeeper, Leroy Wright is a yardman, Edgar H. Neal is a draftsman, H. E. Anderson a trucker and N. E. Clifton is a yardman and a trucker. J. E. Brown is temporarily employed as a trucker.

All are married with exception of Brown, said company officials.

Contractors Work With Firm

Martin Brothers, W. E. Allen, J. C. George, A. C. D. Cratty and W. A. Stahl are contractors who work "out of" the company's yards.

Business, said one official, continues to be excellent. The company has furnished materials for numerous residences since the first of the year, many of the new houses having been financed through the Federal Housing administration.

"If there is a better section of the country than the South Plains, so far as the building index is concerned, we've slipped up on our geography," said one official. "We haven't heard of anything better, matching sizes, than the territory surrounding Lubbock."

FHA Commitments Are Issued For 163 Large-Scale Projects

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Since the amended National Housing act went into effect last February, the FHA has issued commitments to insure 163 large scale multi-family housing projects, involving mortgages totaling $60,313,950, which will provide living accommodations at reasonable rentals for 14,843 families, Administrator Stewart McDonald announced today.

This volume of rental housing activity, financed with private capital under terms of the FHA's insured mortgage system, has been developed in nine months and follows the passage by congress of amendments which expanded the scope of the rental housing program. Increased participation in the program by local private financial institutions, together with the amendments to the Act, has been an important influence in this upturn of rental housing building throughout the country.

OXFORD, England (AP) — A. W. Wood, president of the Oxford Union, announces that Dr. Eduard Benes, former President of Czechoslovakia, has been elected an honorary member of the society.

Home Lumber And Supply Is Making Rapid Strides Here

Not many months ago, a cafeman and several men who had occupied executive positions with lumber companies got their heads together and decided they'd rather quit working for the other fellow and establish their own yard.

Result, the home-owned Home Lumber and Supply company, which sprawls over six lots at corner of Nineteenth street and Avenue L.

The late Frank Ater headed the organization as president. The former cafe owner died about two months ago.

Otis Felty Vice President

Otis Felty, manager of the yard, was named vice president and H. C. (Jack) Ater secretary-treasurer.

All except the president had had lumber experience. Felty was with a major Lumber company 18 years, nine of which he was manager. Jack Ater traveled 14 years for another large company and has lived in Lubbock approximately 20 years.

There are three other employes, exclusive of Mrs. Frank Ater, acting president: Bill Whitwell, formerly of a Sudan lumber company, bookkeeper who has been in Lubbock three months; Charles Felty, cousin of the manager and vice president, yardman who has had four years experience with lumber dealing, and Rufus Hopper, trucker who has been in Lubbock two years and earlier had worked with lumber companies.

Have Constructed 40 Residences

All employes are married and have families.

Contractors working with the yard are Otis Rich, T. W. Stephens, G. E. Low and others.

"Since our opening, in mid-April, we have constructed at least 40 residences," said the manager.

"We offer complete service to home builders and carry a complete stock of building materials and general paint products. Our contractors are reliable."

Zoning Legislation And Plans For Cities Furnished By FHA

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—In line with the mandate of the National Housing act—"to improve housing standards and conditions"—the Land planning section of the Federal Housing administration during the past two years has actively cooperated with local communities in 22 states in the preparation of adequate zoning legislation and city plans.

This service, performed gratis by experts of the Land planning section, has been solicited by scores of municipalities, county groups, and town officials, according to Seward H. Mott, chief of the section. The aggregate influence of this activity has played a prominent part in providing proper land use control, particularly in residential neighborhoods, through restrictions as to type of construction, family density, location of parks and streets, and similar factors.

Turkey Hatching Season Will Be Equal To Last Year, Expected

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 19. — The Plainview Cooperative Turkey hatchery expects its turkey hatching season this year to equal that of last year, when 25,000 poults were hatched and distributed to members and buyers. There were 5,000 eggs sold through the association.

Members in a meeting here decided not to enlarge the hatchery this year, but to sell the surplus hens to producers in the Brady area. Recently a truck came from that area and took 400 hens back to Brady.

Paul A. Cunyus, manager of the Southwestern Turkey Growers association, reported a 10 per cent increase in hens among hatchery stockholders was shown by a survey.

Egg and poult prices were discussed by members. Prices will be set later.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Sympathy—That's The Stuff That Most Of The Stars Are Now Being Made Of

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19 — Writing about Isa Miranda and her debut as a glamorist in the role of a chambermaid, I got to thinking about how many romantic actresses these days are being introduced in matter-of-fact parts. The current, stern formula is, "Give the gal plenty to do; don't let her look too pretty; make her lose her man, or her life or honor or something; and then if the fans feel sorry for her you've got a star."

Annabella is a good example. As the titled and unintelligible beauty in "The Baroness and the Butler," she left audiences pretty cold. So the studio hustled her into pants and short hair and a tomboy role in "Suez", where she picks up the picture and walks away with it. She loses her man and dies, too. One or two more experiences like that and the customers will be hollering for justice for the piquant, wistful cutie — justice in the form of a few svelte gowns and a grappling good romance that isn't frustrated in the seventh reel.

Dutch Gal Lost

"THE Buccaneer" brought Franciska Gaal to the domestic screen as an amorous little Dutch stowaway who made repeated passes at Fredric March and performed innumerable services for her he-man idol, only to be left dangling in a state of high uncertainty at the end of the flicker. She didn't die, but she tried hard.

Now comes "Paris Honeymoon", with Bing Crosby, and some romantic progression for the actress. She starts out, though, as a peasant winner of a rose-carnival beauty contest, and the film's action may be summarized as a running jump into Mr. Crosby's cringing lap.

REMEMBER how Luise Rainer arrived in this country — in "Escapade." It was a semi-slavey role, and she got her man, but she had to be a sly and winsome minx. There was plenty of time after that for her to be Mrs. Florenz Ziegfeld and Mrs. Wang Lung, with screen destinies fulfilled and the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences handing out its gilded statuettes. But her studio is blushingly aware that it had better get her back into an "Escapade" type of part if her popularity is to be preserved.

Started In A Dime Store

CURRENTLY you've been seeing an unknown called Ellen Drew, who was Terry Ray, who recently was a clerk in a dime store, carry off the acting honors in "If I Were King". She also loses her man and suffers a death almost as sacrificial as Annabella's. This is an answer to the question of why heroes such as Ronald Colman always have to marry milksop heroines such as Frances Dee. The gutter-gals are being tested — in the box-office crucible — for future stardom.

Marie Wilson was a waitress in "Boy Meets Girl." While Hedy Lamarr displayed some charms and nothing more in "Algiers," Sigrid Gurie came down to earth from her false pedestal as Marco Polo's princess and did herself a job of acting. . . . And don't forget that this formula for star-building began a long time ago—with Mary Pickford as "Poor Little Pepina."

Talking about trends and cycles, have you detected a clinical atmosphere in your favorite movie house? While all the business specialists are applying stethoscopes to the picture industry, the picture makers believe they have hit on a subject that is universally appealing to fans. The subject is health, and the spectacular and unpredicted success of "The Life of Louis Pasteur" gave the first clew.

BACK FROM VACATION

HOLLYWOOD — Ray Milland is back from a vacation in Canada to start working with Isa Miranda in "Hotel Imperial". Ray says he had no trouble making friends in all the towns he visited before getting to the border and many people seemed to recognize him, asked for his autograph and all. However, when he got to the Canadian border he had lost his automobile license and couldn't get through until he established identification by calling Sacramento long distance.

Colleges in several states had 15,805 CCC youths enrolled in correspondence courses last year.

Palace Feature Is An Unusual Drama

Boys Town Has Tracy, Rooney

WHEN "Boys Town," starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, opens today at the Palace theater an unusual entertainment feature will be offered.

The drama, based upon the Boys Town established 25 years ago by Father Edward J. Flanagan just 12 miles outside of Omaha, has everything that makes for a great screen production.

Tops Other Performances

In the first place, there is Spencer Tracy who tops his previous performances, impossible as they may seem, with a characterization destined to live in the minds of those who see him. As the idealistic priest who stakes his all on the theory that "there is no such thing as a bad boy," he turns in a performance which makes him once again a candidate for the Academy award.

Mickey Rooney gives everything as the tough, non-conforming little brother of a gangster, turned over to the custody of Tracy.

"Boys Town" as brought to the screen, is the true narrative of the town that now exists and is still headed by Father Flanagan, who not only turned over his school and grounds for background shots but who traveled to Hollywood as technical supervisor of the picture.

Alexander Back In Town

One of the year's best pictures, with catchy tunes and plenty of laughs, plays a return engagement at the Lindsey theater, starting today.

"Alexander's Radtime Band," starring Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche should be on the list of all those who enjoy fine entertainment.

Tyrone Power, as Alexander, starts with a small band in a honky-tonk. Don Ameche writes the tunes and Alice Faye sings them. Love smolders, flares, cools, blows up and is rekindled over the years for Tyrone and Alice. History moves before the eyes with the Reminiscent melodies of Irving Berlin as a gentle guide through the plot.

A brilliant cast aids the stars, including Ethel Merman, Jack Haley, Jean Hersholt, Helen Westley, John Carradine.

Texas History Is Told

History is excitingly told and characters out of the past are brought to life in "The Texans," which starts today at the Texan.

Lovely Joan Bennett, as a fire-eating belle of the old South who fights a one-woman war against Northern oppression, and Randolph Scott, as a gallant Southern soldier who counsels a clasping of hands across the bloody chasm after the war, play the romantic leads in the story of the ten-year battle between corrupt carpet-baggers and proud natives for the control of the destinies of the South.

Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney are the stars of that long-awaited picture, "Boys Town," which starts today at the Palace.

Shirley Temple Plays Again In "Little Miss Broadway"

"Little Miss Broadway" is the feature now showing at the Broadway, starring Shirley Temple, with George Murphy, Jimmy Durante, Gloria Dickson and Edna May Oliver in the supporting cast.

Kid Galahad Is Lyric Feature

LIKE Shirley Temple?

Well, who doesn't? And Shirley's back for a brief stay on the screen in Lubbock in what has been acclaimed her best picture, "Little Miss Broadway." The production opens today at the Broadway theater.

She has an exceptionally fine cast with her, including George Murphy, Phyllis Brooks, Edna Mae Oliver and Jimmy Durante.

Little New York Waif

Shirley is seen as a little New York waif who makes her home in a hotel for followers of the theater. She is adopted by the proprietor and his daughter although they have a hard time making ends meet—actors out of jobs are not such good pay.

And these artists with their noisy practicing come under the eye of a cranky old woman who lives next door. Owning the hotel property, she orders the old man to vacate. Shirley calls upon her to plead their cause. Here she meets George, the old woman's nephew. He takes her side and goes to bat for the old man, especially after meeting Phyllis Brooks.

But the old lady threatens to cut him off—and that doesn't even slow him up. With the aid of his uncle and a bunch of other old millionaires he comes to the rescue by staging a big show to raise money to pay off the lease and thwart his aunt.

Bette Davis, Wayne Morris and Edward G. Robinson are the stars of the production starting today at the Lyric, "Kid Galahad."

Recent estimates indicate that more than a million bushels of late apples were blown to the ground in New England during the recent hurricane.

Orphans And Newsies To See "Boys' Town"

Manager Arlie Crites of the Lindsey Theaters Saturday announced he had arranged for children in Mrs. W. T. Milam's orphans' home and news boys of the city to see a showing of the film "Boys' Town" which is the feature film at the Palace through Wednesday.

The picture deals with the story of orphan boys and waifs who are taken under the wing of Boys' town and made into men.

Golfing is getting difficult on the links at Harbin, Manchuria, since anti-aircraft guns were mounted on the course and several greens declared "out of bounds."

March And Lombard Provide Laughs Aplenty At Cactus

Nothing Sacred To These Two

CACTUS theater-goers today and Monday will be given the opportunity to see a literal and figurative knockout. It's "Nothing Sacred" starring Fredric March and Carole Lombard. And they are supported by a host of others.

As punishment for making his newspaper a laughing stock by falling for a giant hoax, star reporter Freddie March is reduced to the humble job of obituary editor —the fellow who handles the death notice column.

Have A Great Battle

Meeting in a hand-to-hand encounter in the first knockdown fight between a man and a woman ever filmed, Miss Lombard and March kick, punch, shove and wrestle each other for two hours.

Miss Lombard gets in the first lick with a wide right to March's chin and he goes down for the count, but he retaliates near the end of the picture with a bang—to her chin and she's out.

The technicolor picture is a new step in photography and is the first to utilize new equipment which resulted from $4.000 worth of research and experiments.

It is released through United Artists.

Jimmy Dorsey's Band Is On 'Show Of The Week' Today

A jitterbug's dream come true is the attractive dance band schedule on the "Show of the Week" which is heard every Sunday from 5:30 to 6 p. m. over KFYO through the Mutual network. For on three successive programs, a trio of top-ranking dance bands will hold the stage.

This afternoon at 5:30 Jimmy Dorsey's band dominates the spotlight offering solid swing that has won Tommy's brother a host of admirers. Jimmy Dorsey is rated one of the greatest saxophonists in the land.

November 27, Larry Clinton, creator of "Dipsy Doodle" presents his renowned radio and recording orchestra and soloist Bea Waln. The Clinton band, in the short space of a year, has climbed to top position in the dance world. Right now he is setting swing-fanatics on their heels at the International Casino. He is also receiving plaudits for his streamlined version of DeBussey's "My Reverie."

One of America's favorite dispensers of swing and sway, Sammy Kaye, is "The Show of the Week" guest star on Sunday (December 4). No stranger to Mutual network listeners, the Ohioan is heard several times weekly from New York's Hotel Commodore. With Sammy will be his popular soloists, Charlie Wilson, Tommy Ryan, and The Three Barons.

Ray Perkins continues as master of ceremonies, and Ernest Chappell will be on hand for all these broadcasts to intersperse the rhythmic cavortings with timely news bulletins.

HE'S HIGHLY INSURED

Because the Johnson Family, broadcast over KFYO and the Mutual Network Mondays through Fridays from 4:15 to 4:30 p. m. is wholly dependent upon one person, its creator, Jimmy Scribner has been insured for $100,000 by his manager.

Jimmy Scribner's Johnson Family is the only program where the star acts all the parts, writes and produces the program.

So effective is his personification of the twenty-two characters, that the radio audience still sends in fan mail addressed to one or another of the characters mimicked by Scribner.

GAME TO BE BROADCAST

All the thrills of the annual gridiron tussle between the country's two great service teams, Army and Navy, will be broadcast over KFYO through the Mutual network on Saturday, November 26, from 1:15 p. m. to approximately 4:30 p. m.

At the Mutual microphones high above the playing field in Philadelphia's mammoth Franklin Field, will be ace sportscaster of the midwest, "Red" Barber and popular Dave Driscoll.

Barber will offer play-by-play commentary with Driscoll painting the color background.

REVIVAL ON TONIGHT

"Old Fashioned Revival," with Rev. Charles E. Fuller at the microphone, will be heard from 8 to 9 p. m. tonight over Station KFYO and the Texas State Network. The broadcasts originates each Sunday from Los Angeles.

REISMAN ON FRIDAY

Leo Reisman and his orchestra, currently playing at the Rice Hotel, Houston, may be heard over KFYO from 10 to 10:30 p. m. each Friday.

This name band, and others to follow at the Rice Hotel, Houston, willy be aired to the entire nation over the coast-to-coast facilities of the Mutual Broadcasting System through the efforts of the Texas State Network.

The news broadcast, usually heard over KFYO at 10 p. m., will be heard on Friday evenings from 9 to 9:15 o'clock, making way for this unusual dance feature from Houston.

Traveler On Air

Bertitia Harding, traveler, lecturer, linguist, and musician, was snapped with Joseph Ries, director of the "Nation's School of the Air," heard over KFYO through the Mutual network, Tuesday, and Thursday, mornings at 9 o'clock, when she appeared in the "Meet the Author" series of the school of the air.

Mayor Slaton To Be Given Orchids When Plane Visits Here

Orchids for Mayor Carl E. Slaton will be aboard when the Texas State Network-Gail Northe flight plane visits Lubbock Wednesday, scheduled to reach Municipal airport at 4:35 p. m., according to letters received Saturday from Elliott Roosevelt, son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and president of TSN.

Twenty-two cities will be included on the itinerary of the publicity flight. Aboard will be Miss Northe, a stylist; Miss Polly Smith, a photographer; Truett Kimzey, chief engineer for TSN, and Pilot Charles A. Rowe.

Lubbock is one of 22 cities to be visited, the letter said, all served by TSN, with which KFYO, The Avalanche-Journal station, also is associated.

Roosevelt's letter to Mayor Slaton said that "cultural and civic advantages of your city will be broadcast to the rest of the state as part of this program." It added that a corsage consisting of three rare orchids in a large cellophane box will be presented to Mayor Slaton.

A chamber of commerce committee will be appointed to arrange for the reception, according to announcement Saturday.

John Boles and Ida Lupino are the stars of "Fight For Your Lady," current attraction at the Tech.

Two fine stars, Spencer Tracy and Joan Crawford take the leads in "Mannequin," coming to the Tech Tuesday.

Thrills Are Found At Tech In "Fight For Your Lady"

Comedians Are In Spotlight

IF you go to the Tech theater today or Monday, you will see a mad collection of characters which includes a concert singer, a golddigger, a night club singer, a wrestler, and a sentimental dueling expert—all in "Fight For Your Lady".

Stars are John Boles, Jack Oakie, Ida Lupino, Margot Grahame, and Fred Astaire—well, not the real Astaire, but a dummy which doubles for him.

Burlesque Dance Number

Miss Lupino, with dummy Astaire, does a burlesque of a Fred Astaire-inger Rogers dance number. There are top thrills for fencing enthusiasts.

It's not the usual formula of boy meets girl, boy loses girl, and boy gets girl. John Boles loses his lady love, Margot Grahame, and she stays lost, and moreover it's best for all that she does. For consolation he goes to Ida Lupino.

Oh, yes, the wrestler—he is Gordon Jones, former star of professional and amateur football, but he admitted "Fight For Your Lady" was his most bone-crushing assignment.

Here Is Brief Review

Here's a one-paragraph review:

Boles and Oakie prove themselves comedians of the first rank. Miss Lupino sings in a Hungarian cafe and gives an excellent performance. Margot Grahame wins plaudits in the role of a British actress of the accomplished golddigging type and Erik Rhodes is effectively ferocious as the all-conquering European duellist. Gordon Jones scores a hit as the double-crossing wrestler in the opening scene, in a London grappling show.

Ben Stoloff's skilled direction keeps the action humming at high speed from start to finish. It is an RKO production.

GOOD SORGHUM YIELD

TULIA—Yields of 80 bushels of grain sorghum heads to the acre has been reported from irrigated farms here. Average acreage per farm is comparatively small.

SKATES FOR INJURY

HOLLYWOOD — Elizabeth Patterson, character actress who injured her knee several weeks ago, has been advised by her doctor to get some roller skates. He wants her to just strap them on her feet and sit in a chair while she rolls back and forth on the skates to strengthen the muscles in her legs.

GEORGE RAFT BACK

HOLLYWOOD—George Raft, back in Hollywood for studio conferences on his next picture, "The Lady's From Kentucky", has taken up residence again in the El Royals apartments where he's been living for the past five years.

POST SHIPS PEANUTS

POST—With two car loads of peanuts being shipped from here to Abilene the past week, movement of the crop is well under way. It is expected a total of 20 cars will be moved. Shipments average 80,000 pounds to the car. Several hundred acres of peanuts were planted in Garza county this season. Yield has been about 1,500 pounds to the acre.

The State Moves To Safeguard Children; "Humanization" Of Hoover Is Complete

It's A Commendable Idea

Unsanitary Candy Ruled Out By Officials

ANNOUNCED determination of state health authorities to war upon those whose idea of the Christmas spirit is to profit from the sale of candy unfit for human consumption will be appreciated and endorsed by the people of Texas.

Health officials announce they already have condemned more than 25,000 pounds of such candy which, obviously is no more than a drop in the bucket. But efforts are to be continued and with the start already made, the campaign should be effective.

Christmas, of course, creates a market confined to that one season for candy which is low in price. But many who buy perhaps have not realized that one source of supply for this market is the manufacturer who collects old candy from retailers, reprocesses it and puts it back into the channels of Christmas trade. Such candy, perhaps, looks and tastes to the satisfaction of the children for whom it is intended. Any candy would, for that matter. But reprocessing cannot possibly take out all the grime and filth which sticky candy inevitably collects with exposure and handling.

Fortunately, relatively few individuals and businesses are so avaricious they would hope to profit in the name of Christmas by endangering the health of children. But in our imperfect world there are a few such unprincipled persons. The only control for them is the full weight of the law and resulting exposture to the condemnation of public opinion.

U. S. And The Closed Door

ALTHOUGH the action of Japan in officially slamming shut the "open door" to China came as no surprise, it inevitably must turn the thoughts of the American people and the American government seriously to what the eventualities of the Japanese policy may be.

The latest Japanese note does not change factual conditions from what they have been for nearly two years. During that period we virtually have been blocked out of the trade picture in China. Japan merely tells us now that it is her intent to maintain conditions as they are. The question now suggests itself: What are we going to do about it?

One answer to that question is: Nothing. That probably is the correct answer, at least for the time being.

Another would be a termination of all trade relationship with Japan, which would be costly to both nations although less to the United States than to the Japs.

A third, and highly improbable answer, is war between the two countries.

Whatever the developments may be, they need not occasion any vital fear for the United States so long as the difficulties are confined to this nation and Japan.

If it should be war, strategists are agreed, our best course of action would be the attempt to establish a blockade of the islands, shutting off from them the food and supplies they cannot possibly produce for themselves.

This would be an expensive but almost bloodless strategy on our part until the Japs, to escape starvation, would be forced to attack or surrender. Attack, of necessity, would mean an attempt to smash the strangling blockade with their fleet. If a decisive naval engagement should result, it would be at a scene virtually of our own choosing. The prospect is not at all inviting for the Japs, as her leaders are well aware.

War, even thoughts of war, however, must be shunned until the last. We probably can accomplish just as much just as quickly by peaceful pressure. But there is consolation in the knowledge that if the worst comes to the worst, we seem more than capable of taking care of ourselves.

Pesky "Customs Offices" Between States To Be Studied At Meeting As:

Barriers Between States Hurt Trade

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. — The rapid rise of trade barriers between states has business men and economists badly worried.

Little by little, a country whose business traditions are based on free passage of goods between states is "Balkanizing" itself.

The kind of customs barriers that have made trade within Europe a nightmare are forbidden by the United States Constitution. That gives Congress sole right to regulate interstate commerce.

But by means of subterfuges like "use taxes," state agricultural regulations, liquor trade walls, motor truck regulations and taxes, fruit embargoes, and discriminatory state taxes, a situation similair to the European position is being achieved rapidly. These and related problems are to be a concern of the Midwest Regional Assembly of the Council of State Governments here, Nov. 21-22.

AFTER 150 YEARS

ONE of the reasons for establishing the present constitution was to prevent states from building tariff walls. That had begun under the Confederation, and had seriously hampered commercial development. Now after 150 years of operation as "the greatest free trade market in the world" the states are again beginning to build border trade barriers.

Seventeen states have "port of entry" laws which set up "customs houses" at principal crossing points on state lines to enforce taxes, tolls, and like restrictions on trade.

Kansas, for instance, pioneer in the "port of entry" system, has 66 such "ports," Oklahoma 58, and so on. Usually there is no flat discriminatory tax against "foreigners," but in many cases inspections and requirements are such a nuisance that they definitely hamper commerce.

At least a dozen states discriminate against beer and liquor brought in from other states.

Several state tax salesmen entering the state, and much anti-chain store agitation is based on the "Buy Locally" cry. One town which violently opposed chain stores suddenly realized that it was selling almost its entire industrial production to a national chain.

Thirty-one states have a special oleomargine tax, designed to protect local dairy products from competition by out-of-state margarine makers. This brings retaliation. Alabama, a cotton-seed state, protested such a tax in Wisconsin, retaliated by refusing to buy any Wisconsin-made dairy products for state institutions.

MILK MARKETS

EIGHTEEN states set the price of milk by law. That makes an attractive market for out-of-state producers. So milk-shed authorities have to be set up, supposedly to protect standards, but really to prevent milk from other states from reaching the market.

There is more trouble, red tape and expense in driving a car across certain state lines today than there is in going into Mexico or Canada.

You are customs-inspected as you enter and leave Kansas, Colorado, Utah, California, New Mexico and Arizona. In several states the gasoline in your tank is measured on entering, and you are asked to pay a tax on that gasoline.

States which have sales taxes feel handicapped in relation to neighboring states which do not. So, beginning with Washington in 1935, eight of them have enacted "use taxes."

If you go from Washington into Oregon and buy an article, naturally Washington can't collect a tax on that sale. But it can charge you a "use tax" on the article when you return to Washington, and it does. So do California, Colorado, Ohio, Oklahoma, Iowa, Kansas, Utah and Wyoming.

Once started, these discriminatory barriers rise like mushrooms. One thing leads to another, thus: Michigan passed a law forbidding the sale in Michigan of beer from states which discriminated against Michigan beer. By the beginning of 1938 beer from 10 states was being excluded. Indiana, hardest hit because its brewers had been selling $2,000,000 worth of beer a year in Michigan, imposed a complete embargo on all beer and liquor from Michigan.

The situation got so bad that a "peace conference" had to be held in Detroit, resulting in a temporary truce. In the meantime Ohio imposed a $1500 annual tax on any distributor who handled Indiana beer. That situation is still unsettled.

The Chicago assembly will make a study of such barriers, and try to devise plans to abolish them. Students fear this rising tendency to shut off state from state and build barriers is a dangerous return to sectionalism, which if unchecked will clip away bit by bit the free trade among states which has made the United States commercially great.

Pesky European customs barriers? No, this is a party of tourists crossing the state line into California. Their luggage is being inspected for fruit and plant diseases.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

IN the last minute melee before the recent election—what Democratic humorists now term an "eviction"—the racy and spicy wisecracks of a once supposedly dour down-and-outer, Herbert Hoover, escaped general notice. But the ex-President lingual metamorphosis has caused a lot of comment around the important cocktail tables at Washington.

Mr. Hoover's best line, in the opinion here, was a partial thrust at himself. Recalling his unhappy promise in his 1928 acceptance address of "two cars in every garage"—always a sore point with him—he declared that the New Deal slogan now should be "two families in every garage." In a direct fling at the man who licked him so ingloriously, the former Chief Executive said, in effect: "President Roosevelt says he will not let the people down. What I want to know is, when is he going to let them up?"

Believe it or not, Mr. Hoover is writing these speeches himself. He has fired his post-1936 ghost writers. He has become his human self again, the man whose conversion once sparkled with a combination of wit and wisdom. When he entered the White House, he thought it unbecoming and undignified to talk and write in his own personal style; he froze up like an Eskimo pie. Now, relieved of responsibility and taking a lesson from the man who beat him, he's saying many a mouthful. He may yet wisecrack himself back into the White House.

TEMPERATE: The Republican topnotchers' reaction to their totally unexpected triumph—John Hamilton's skin is sore from self-pinching—has been amazingly hopeful and humble. The inner strategists aim to keep their new governors and Congressmen from going on a vicious anti-New Deal spree.

Since the election the nation's leading business men and politicos have deluged both Congressional and National committee headquarters with voluntary advice—by long distance telephone, telegrams and letters. The tenor of these communiques is that the G.O.P. should not—must not—assail President Roosevelt's fundamental reforms and objectives. The Republican party, in the opinion of its extremely conservative contributors and well-wishers, must not attack Social security, the N.L.R.B., the C.C.C., the W.P.A. as such. It should, however, potshot in House and Senate at inefficient and wasteful "management" of these reforms.

National Chairman Hamilton and Congressional Chairman Joe Martin—also the next House leader—have assured the party bigwigs that they will repulse any scrap-the-New-Deal offensive. Their policy, roughly, will be to preserve the good of the New Deal, eliminate the bad and promise a program that "will put men back to work." Whether they will—or can—keep these promises is another matter. But they'll try, if only for selfish partisan reasons. They wanna make good.

WINNERS!: You can talk about the football teams of Notre Dame, Minnesota and Pittsburgh, but the nation's All-American Eleven was hosanna-ha-ha-ed in song and story at the capital last Monday evening. Never was there such a celebration for a mighty but mythical gang of footballers as there was for the team of that ancient and honorific institution—the J. Russell Young School of Expression.

It is probable that in all the annals of athletics no team ever faced a harder schedule. They played—the outcome of each contest is still undeclared—such sturdy opponents as the George B. Meade post of the G.A.R., the American Liberty league, the James G. Blaine Fish Chowder and Marching club, Vassar college for permanent possession of the Daisy Chain, Hangover Hall of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for ownership of the Flowing Bowl, and—perhaps the toughest and most talkative team of all—the Dale Carnegie Institute of Effective Speaking and Human Relations. In that contest the triple-tongue threat, Dean Young, had to be carried off the platform; he met his match for the first time in the history of fermentation and football.

Dean Young, however, produced a ghastly and ghostly squad; it was awfully strong on puns and punts. For left guard he had Marvin "Muscles" McIntyre; for left tackle he had Homer "Buster" Cummings. Quarterback was James "Hot Spot" Farley, while Harry "Whizzer" Hopkins, Pat "Mudcat" Harrison and Jesse "Tex" Jones comprised the rest of the backfield. Franklin "Daredevil" Roosevelt, the school's first graduate, was the captain. He was first string quarter last season, according to the beloved dean, but he lost games to the Supreme court, the Congress and the purgee plebes. So this year he was relegated to the bench for fear he "might purge the right side of the line." Umpire for the school's games was Brigham Young, who made gains "at will", while the Referee was Owen D. Young, "who can make them sit up in the electric chair." Watch this team go places next year—any place, for they don't care how or where they end up—or down.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

SENATOR Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri will be under careful observation from high New York quarters during the next session of Congress. As both Ray Tucker and this column have pointed out, Clark is the backstage favorite of the Garner-Harrison-Byrd-Bailey group of conservative Senate Democrats for their party's presidential nomination in 1940. He will be given plenty of opportunities to attract national attention.

Bennett was only 22 when Champ Clark—then Speaker of the House—lost the Democratic presidential nomination to Woodrow Wilson in 1912 after a bitter battle. Champ Clark led in the convention balloting until the very end, but could never muster the requisite two-thirds vote. The son always harbored the deep conviction that his famous father was given a raw deal, and to this day he detests Wilsonians. This lingering resentment is the key to many of his political attitudes. One reason why Clark has never liked Franklin Roosevelt overmuch—though he worked hard for him in '36—was because of F.D.R.'s association with the Wilson administration.

Moreover, much of the New Deal is too radical for Clark's taste. His background and tendencies are generally conservative. He has a quick, keen penetrating intelligence—attested by his biography of John Quincy Adams—and lots of courage. His critics claim he is inclined to be too rash and impulsive. But even they agree that he has what it takes to become a big-time figure in American politics. He will be 51 when the 1940 campaign gets under way—a prime age for a presidential aspirant.

CORDIAL: Colonel Fulgencio Batista's ceremonial visit to Washington and New York last week as the guest of U. S. Chief of Staff Malin Craig was no casual social call. Both the State and War departments regard Cuba as an extremely important outpost in our scheme of defense against possible fascist aggression directed at the western hemisphere. From that angle it is important to cultivate the closest cooperation with the Cuban government.

And Batiste, although technically only Minister of War, is the Cuban government. He rules his country with a firm hand, though he doesn't go in for iron heel stuff. He has preserved the forms of constitutional government and is wise enough to take advice. He has instituted social and economic reforms that have materially improved the condition of the lower classes—and yet is not charged with radicalism.

Six years ago, when the bloody Machado regime was overthrown, Batiste was only an army sergeant and apparently never destined to rise any higher. He came from a rather lowly family and had only a common school education. He had given no indication whatever of the qualities of leadership he has since developed. His army—whose efficiency has shown amazing improvement—is devoted to him. Unlike many Latins, he almost never loses his temper. It is noteworthy that anti-American sentiment in Cuba has markedly abated since he came to power. His hospitable reception here should help to cement cordial U. S.-Cuban relations—which was the main idea.

John Erskine Delves Into Life Of Whitman

Love, Genius Make A Poet, 'The Start Of The Road' Says

"THE START OF THE ROAD," by John Erskine; (Frederick A. Stokes, New York).

IN 1848 Walt Whitman left New York for New Orleans to take a job on a newspaper. He was totally undistinguished, and none of his newspaper writings gave the slightest hint that he was to become a titan of literature. But when he returned to New York something had happened to him; "Leaves of Grass" had begun to take shape, and within a few years he was to step forth as America's greatest poet.

JOHN ERSKINE

No biographer has ever got very far in showing just what sort of catalytic agent it was that was mixed with Whitman's genius during those years, so it is only fair for a novelist to take a whirl at it. John Erskine does so in "The Start of the Road," and produces a stimulating book.

Mr. Erskine suggests that Whitman had one of the simplest and commonest of human experiences: viz, that he fell in love.

Cultured And Artistic

The woman, in Erskine's imaginative rendering, is a New Orleans quadroon, a woman raised in France; cultured and artistic, ideally qualified to jar Whitman's amorphous ideas and aspirations into a productive pattern—but barred by her birth from playing a lasting personal part in his life.

As Erskine tells the story, she bore Whitman a son and then vanished from his life—and one of Whitman's motives in serving in the Civil war hospitals was a half-conscious feeling that he might thus find his lost son.

Putting a man like Whitman into a novel is ticklish business, but Erskine handles it pretty skillfully. His poet is a flesh-and-blood person, not a stuffed shirt from a textbook on literature, and the narrative in which he moves is well constructed and interesting.

"DEAD Ned" is a strange, occasionally macabre novel about a young Englishman unjustly sentenced to die for murder. He was hanged, but a surgeon brought him to life, and he lived adventurously for quite a spell on the African slave coast. John Masefield wrote it. (Macmillan).

New Agricultural Crop-Sugar Beets-Being Marketed By South Plains Farmers

Yield May Reach 35-40 Carloads

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

First shipments of a brand new agricultural crop for the South Plains, sugar beets, in commercial quantities are being made and it is expected the season's total will run between 35 and 40 carloads.

So far, about 20 cars have been shipped from Lockney, Muleshoe, Hale Center, Roundup, Anton and Lubbock.

The yield, based on preliminary reports, will run from 1,400 to 1,500 tons.

Earlier Experiments Failed

This is the first time, as far as any one recalls, that sugar beets by the carload have gone from this area. In previous years, and extending back for many years, experiments have been conducted at Muleshoe, Tulia, Hale Center, Plainview and other points, with beets. Owing to a disease, known as "curley top", the earlier experiments failed.

Last spring H. M. Bainer, general agricultural agent of the Santa Fe made arrangements with the American Crystal Sugar Co., of Rocky Ford, Colo., for planting seed. Between 300 and 400 acres were to be planted. The railroad, to encourage the experiment, agreed upon a $2 per ton freight rate from the area to Rocky Ford.

Weather Conditions Factor

Weather conditions cut down considerably the plantings. Farmers had to replant two or three times as stands were not secured, due to rains, sandstorms, wind, etc.

In the Lockney area 114 acres of beets were grown. In the Muleshoe area probably 20 or 25 acres were found and smaller acreages at Anton, Hale Center and Roundup. At Texas Technological college a small area was planted as an experiment.

Up to the first of the week, 9 cars had been shipped from Lockney. D. F. Bredthauer, county agent, said. He added that he thought at least a third of the expected crop had been harvested. The first car, shipped by G. C. Applewhite and Charles Buth, averaged 20.3 per cent sugar content. Beets in the car tested from 17.1 to 22.5 per cent.

Others in the Lockney area with beet acreages are C. J. Taylor, Buck Sams, J. B. Stevenson, T. L. Griffith. Taylor has the largest acreage, 40 acres. Taylor has 10 acres.

Crop At Muleshoe

At Muleshoe, eight or ten irrigation farmers are harvesting a crop, estimated at six or seven carloads. Six growers sent in samples and sugar contents ranged from 14.3 to 18.3 per cent. They were, M. S. Siddham, W. B. McAdams, H. E. Musson, C. A. Barnett, Leon Morris and W. T. Milen. Two cars have been moved out, it is said.

One man, with an irrigation farm near Spring Lake, Lamb county, hauled his beets to Muleshoe.

R. C. Hoppping of Lubbock, shipped nearly a car of beets from Roundup, and R. C. Boucion, joined with him in completing the car. Anton shippers of a car load included J. B. Haire, L. J. Swanson, B. Y. Rea, R. O. Mayes and Ed Bigler.

J. B. Schoonvelt and W. D. Cornley of Hale Center loaded a carload. Schoonvent had three acres and Cornley one.

From Tulia, growers are shipping a carload Monday.

Sugar Content Good

H. E. Knapp, with the sugar company, told Bainer Thursday night that Texas beets received at Rocky Ford were averaging 18 and 19.5 per cent sugar content. The sugar content is 2 to 3 per cent higher than those grown near Rocky ford., and one per cent more than those from New Mexico.

Purity of sugar is said to be from 85 to 90 per cent. Much of the trouble is due to the fact that harvesters leave too much of the top of the plant on the root, it was explained.

Lockney reports say yields are from 10 to 14 tons to the acre; Muleshoe, 14 to 18 tons; Lubbock, 15 to 17 tons.

Subsidy Is Expected

Prices have not been announced but it is believed farmers will net $5 to $6 a ton after freight costs have been taken off. A subsidy of $1.75 to $2 a ton is expected to be secured from the federal government, if present plans go through. The sugar company is paying half of the freight rate o. $2 a ton.

Knapp and Bainer point out that prices for sugar this year are lower than for a number of years.

First sugar beets to be shipped from Northwest Texas were 25 years ago when D. L. McDonald of Amarillo, then of Hereford, grew beets on several acres and shipped 3 or 4 cars to Garden City, Kan. Disease that could not be controlled kept down further development, said Bainer.

Texas Land and Development Co., of Plainview has shipped three cars of sugar beet seed from there. The farms of the company netted over 90,000 pounds of re-cleaned seed.

Old-Fashioned Appetites Might Cut Farm Surpluses Of Nation; Data Is Offered

A comparison of two decades, showing the shrinkage in America's food consumption. Chart based on figures cited by Harry G. Davis, farm research man.

By PAUL D. SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Farm Editor

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. — If people would eat as much as their forbears did, Harry G. Davis, director of research for the Farm Equipment Institute, believes farm surpluses wouldn't be such a troublesome problem.

Davis points to men motoring to work, children riding to school, housewives sweeping with electricity as examples of the modern easy life.

Less Exercise—Less Food

Less food is required to generate the energy for today's life, he says.

Davis cited figures showing the per capita consumption of wheat declined 11.3 per cent, from 6.2 bushels per person for the 1900-09 decade, while per capita corn consumption dropped 35.4 per cent, from 30.2 bushels to 19.5.

Number Of Cattle Declines

He also reported that the average number of cattle on farms declined 29.6 per cent.

"At the beginning of the century," David said, "workmen used more energy. They didn't have the mechanical aids. Many walked to work and carried lunch buckets almost twice as large as they do nowadays. Working hours were longer, too.

It's The Easy Life

Thousands of children walked to school and home again. Housewives didn't have the electrical equipment they now use in their daily work.

"Naturally people do not burn up as much energy as formerly, and consequently do not consume as much food."

Davis said that some people believe the machine is responsible for surpluses.

"Most data available," he said, "indicate farmers have not kept pace with the growing population in production of most of their products. Instead, figures indicate underconsumption as one of the principal causes of surpluses."

DELAY OPENING

LITTLEFIELD — Opening of the new Rio theatre here, scheduled for Sunday, has been delayed due to non-arrival of materials. No date for opening has been set. The theatre is the third here, owned by W. J. Chesher and his father.

Turkey Shipments From Area Exceed 300,000 Pounds For 1938 Thanksgiving Season

Lubbock turkey dressing plants shipped more than a quarter million pounds of dressed turkeys this Thanksgiving season, and the entire area exceeded 300,000 pounds, a check of buyers and plants shows. From Lubbock went out about 250,000 pounds.

Season for shipments to northern and eastern markets ended the first of the week, except for fast express shipments. There will be a few truck shipments to San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso and other markets, of dressed birds.

Few Live Birds Shipped

Almost negligible is the movement of live turkeys out of the territory. A few go to El Paso, but the bulk of the movement of live birds is into Lubbock, Plainview or other dressing centers.

Market opened this year for Thanksgiving at 12 cents a pound, live weight. For two or three days the market was 14 cents and on one day it reached 15 cents. Dealers estimate the average price was better than 14 cents.

Producers Get $45,000

Shrinkage of 12 to 13 per cent in dressing is estimated by pickers. Three hundred thousand pounds of dressed birds would represent about 335,000 pounds live weight; at 14 cents a pound, producers over $46,000 for their birds.

The past few years has seen a great change in marketing of turkeys. Up to five or six years ago they were seasonal, selling mostly at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Shipments to New York City used to have to leave the territory ten days or more before the holiday, in order to be on sale two or three days before. For example, dressed birds were to be in New York City and ready for sale on Monday before Thanksgiving day.

Becoming Year-Round Trade

Now, turkeys are all the year around sales. In fact, more turkeys probably go from this area in January, February and March, to eastern markets, than in November and December.

Lubbock hotels and resturants serve turkey almost throughout the year. This practice has come from the east, where the birds are now in demand during the winter and spring.

This season nearly all birds were dressed in Lubbock and Plainview. Trucked into these two points from outlying towns, the birds were cleaned and packed for refrigerator car shipment.

From the Plains Cooperative, Inc., plant at Plainview, 40,000 pounds, or two carloads of dressed birds were shipped, in the turkey pool. Farmers received advances of 11 cents a pound for prime birds, 9 cents on choice and 6 cents on commercial birds. Very few of the commercial grades were sold.

Improved grades have come as a result of a campaign to market the better grades first. Birds that are below weight are generally turned back to producers, by buyers, with the advice to fatten them out and sell them either at the Christmas market, or later in the season.

The cooperative at Plainview has sponsored an improvement association in which many producers are breeding and growing the new beef type of bird, more meat and less bone.

Demand For Small Turkey

Demand of home buyers is now for a smaller turkey, 9 to 12 pounds, with less demand for the 18 to 30 pound type so popular in the "good old days". Smaller kitchens has resulted in smaller stoves and ovens and the housewife is asking for a turkey to fit the stove.

Improved methods of raising the birds, penning them up and fattening them instead of the old tough meated kind, has improved the quality. Meat is now less tough and rangy than a few years ago.

An old idea that it took cold weather to finish turkeys is being disproved. Penning up the bird keeps it from running wild over the farm, with muscles becoming tough and large. The meat is more sweet and tender, as a result.

RUNAWAY IS STAGED

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 19.—An old-fashioned team runaway was staged down Phelps avenue one day this week.

After making a headlong dash for several blocks, paying no attention to traffic lights or shouts of pedestrians, a man stepped out from the sidewalk and stopped the animals. No damage was reported.

Moisture Needed For Wheat Crop

Wheat over the South Plains is nearing the pasture stage, but generally, reports from counties indicate, moisture is needed to bring up the crop to the stage where it can be safely pastured.

Not all of the expected acreage has been planted. Dry weather conditions, with lack of known acreage allocations by farmers, has contributed to this situation.

Slower Growth Indicated

Swisher county reports indicate a slower growth than is usual for this season of the year. Happy reports say wheat is not suffering much from lack of moisture, but rain is needed if much pasture is to be available. Some wheat is being pastured there; Kress farmers are starting to pasture the acreage; Tulsa reports show good growth but rain is needed.

Wheat in Floyd county, around Lockney and Floydada is in need of rain. Plainview reports say moisture is necessary before growth sufficient to permit cattle grazing comes.

Little wheat has been planted around Idalou and farmers say they must have moisture before planting. If rain comes before the last of December, wheat will be planted.

Crosbyton and Ralls reports show wheat in fair condition. Rain is needed around Lorenzo to save the crop.

An estimated 3,500,000 acres of wheat for the Northwest Texas area is the prediction of H. M. Bainer, agricultural agent of the Santa Fe at Amarillo.

The moisture situation is assuming a serious aspect, he said. Fall has been exceptionally dry throughout the territory.

AAA officials are expected to issue shortly a county-by-county allocation of acreages for next year's crop. The original allocations for a number of counties were so generally protested by farmers that the AAA decided to increase allotments.

Checking and measurement of planted acreages is to start in a short time, according to reports.

Dairymen say a good test of feed is: "Does the cow like it well enough to eat all she needs?"

Farm Gossip

L. T. Wright, a dry land farmer living 8 miles west of Meadow, was in Lubbock the other day with some cotton that had a staple length of 1 1-16 to 1 1-32 inch. It was second year California Acala and Wright told C. P. Barry he had about 100 acres of it. The cotton sold for 9.25 cents a pound. Wright said it was averaging better than half a bale per acre. Barry said the same day the Acala sold that short staple cotton brought 7.60 cents.

BUYS COTTON BAGGING

Oscar Nislar, Lubbock land owner, last week bought 100 patterns of the new cotton bagging and ties for use on his own cotton this year. He expects to use about all of it in wrapping his bales.

"DUTCH" GOOD FARMER

HERMAN Fehleison, better known as "Dutch," former Lubbock cotton man and now farming down in Terry county, is reported making an outstanding record as a cotton grower. He is using Paymaster, D. & P. L. and Rogers Acala and on a dry land farm is said to be averaging better than half a bale per acre. Dutch is picking cotton, not pulling, and the change is bringing him good returns.

TO COMPLETE WINDBRAKE

I. V. Fent, one of the well known Lamb county farmers, is planning this winter to complete his windbrake, which he started about three years ago with some trees from the Lubbock station. Fent has a 3-row windbrake on the north and west sides of his home, about 100 yards long. He irrigates the place and has had a very good growth. Some trees, however, need to be replaced.

COTTON IS DAMAGED

LITTLEFIELD — Fire, origin of which is so far unknown, did $1,000 damage to cotton at the Farmers Cooperative gin here. Firemen responded quickly to the call, which came early Monday morning, and prevented spread of the blaze. Twenty-one bales of cotton were destroyed.

Bank Is Sought By Morton Civic Group

MORTON, Nov. 19.—A citizen's committee from the recently formed Lions club, has been interviewing several bankers of this section, with a view to locating a bank in Morton. The town has never had a bank.

R. C. Marshall is chairman of the committee of the club. Morton is the only incorporated town in Cochran county. Incorporated a few years ago, with a little over 500 population, the town has grown to more than twice its size.

The county is growing with the town. Several hundred farmers have located here during the past three or four years, on land broken out for agriculture.

The town is connected by paved highway with Lubbock and from here to all sections of the state. Another highway from Muleshoe to Morton is being finished, paving having been completed to the Cochran county line, about 8 miles north, and grading and drainage work on that sector.

TARZAN THE FEARLESS 85 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

From behind, the Zambeh warriors pounced fiercely on Mary. In a brief tussle they wrested the rifle from her. Jeff Biggers turned to run. He had no hesitancy in leaving the girl to her fate. But he ran straight into the arms of another savage band.

The blacks chattered excitedly as they enclosed their captives in a circle of spears. Mary was terrified. That rim of brutal faces seemed to cut her off forever from the world. Jeff, however, tried to hide his fear and put on an expression of injured innocence.

"What's the meaning of this?" he demanded; "Kagundo let me go free so I could capture Tarzan the Demon." "You were not trying to capture Tarzan; you were trying to escape," declared the leader of the band; "Kagundo suspected you. He sent us to watch for you."

Jeff could offer no contradictory evidence. It was plain that he had been traveling toward the frontier of the Zambeh country, intent on escaping. "March!" the sub-chief commanded, prodding Jeff with his spear; "now both of you will be food for the Tree-God!"

Ginning Season Nearing Close

Rapidly nearing the close of the cotton picking season is seen as gins over the South Plains are now beginning to operate on stated days each week and other gins that had run 15 to 20 hours a day are now operating 10 to 12 hours.

In the eastern half of the South Plains, the crop is generally believed to be from 75 to 85 per cent picked. A few points report 90 per cent picked and 85 per cent ginned.

West of Lubbock, where the crop was later, the picking is not thought to be more than 60 per cent complete.

Bolls Opening Fast

Early November frost has killed leaves and most of them have dropped off. Bolls are opening fast and unless unexpected situations arise, only picking of bollies will be had after the holidays.

Reports continue to indicate 90 per cent of the cotton sold so far has been into the cotton loan.

Better grades are bringing higher loans than half and half. A very sizeable portion of the cotton offered is classing around 9 cents a pound, or better.

Little Damage Reported

Comparatively little damage from weather, lowering grades, has been reported.

Area ginnings as of Nov. 1 were 254,000 bales as estimated by the bureau of the census. This total is generally believed to be more than half the season's total, which is thought by many will pass the 400,000 bale mark.

Another census was to be taken as of Tuesday of last week. With fair weather the mid-December report will probably show the crop 95 per cent out.

Nueces Leads State

Nueces county, with 73.55 bales, led the state on Nov. 1. However it was 18,000 bales below the report of a year ago, when it was second.

Lynn county ranked 17th this year, the same as last; Lubbock ranked 19th this year and 20th last; Crosby was 24th this year and 25th in 1937.

Counties ranking below Nueces are, Ellis, Williamson, Collin, Hunt, San Patricio, Navarro, Fannin, Kaufman, Grayson, Falls, Hidalgo, Willacy Cameron. Lamar ranks between Lynn and Lubbock, with Milam, Jones, Bell and Fort Bend ahead of Crosby.

Ellis and San Patricio counties show the greatest decrease in ginnings, over 30,000 bales each; Collin, Hunt, Lamar, McLennan and Hill counties were from 20,000 to 25,000 bales under a year ago. Other counties showed losses of from 4,000 to 17,000 bales.

Sanders School Students Will Present Thanksgiving Program

A Thanksgiving program will be given by students of Sanders school Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 over station KFYO. The program has been arranged by Miss Margaret Prewitt and Mrs. E. B. Speck.

Twenty-two students will be in the chorus which will sing Thanksgiving numbers. Scripture readings will be given by Frank Horn and Edna Stafford. Numbers to be sung by the chorus include the Doxology, "Swing the Shining Sickle", and "Morning Hymn of Praise."

Wanda Jobe will give the National Prayer to close the program.

IDALOU GINNINGS

IDALOU—Nearly all of the cotton for the eastern part of Lubbock county has been gathered. Ginnings here are approximately 6,000 bales. Between 400 and 500 more bales are expected. An addition to the local warehouse is being built. It is 40x40 feet and will house 300 to 350 bales more.

SHIP GRAIN BY TRUCK

LEVELLAND—The greater portion of the grain being sold by producers in this county is being sold to truckers at the farms. Many men drive a truck direct to a farm and make a bid for a truck load. Shipments are made to points several hundred miles distant. Car load movements are not heavy this season.

School For Would-Be Kriss Kringles Is Started; Pupils Informed Of Psychology

"And be sure you get those whiskers and that white beard curled twice a week," warns Santa Claus Howard, as he instructs pupils in the fine art of Santa Clausing at his school in Santa Claus, Ind.

(By NEA Service)

SANTA CLAUS, Ind., Nov. 19 — Not that there has ever been any lack of Santa Clauses.

Soon red cotton coats and white woolen whiskers blooming like poppies on every street corner and in every store will prove the surplus problem applies to Santa Clauses just as it does to cotton and wheat and good advice.

Not more but better Santa Clauses is the aim of the College of Christmas Cheer being conducted by Charles W. Howard, who moved his unique institution here from Albion, N. Y.

Some Class For Kriss Kringle

The threadbare and shabby red cotton individual on the corner will be displaced by a resplendent creature in chinchilla and a real fur collar if Howard has his jocular way.

The bored and disillusioned Santa with a nose that needs no rouge will be displaced by a cheerful child psychologist.

And the itinerant Santa who works but two weeks a year just before Christmas, and hates it, will be displaced by a craftsman who knows toys and how to make them, and can give the kiddies a practical demonstration with plane and hammer.

Santa Clauses produced by Howard's institution will be guaranteed to conform in appearance and action to the storybook ideal. And they'll know what that is, too, for included in the course is a drilling in the legends surrounding the Christmas saint.

Working Santas

Howard, who is a farmer, inventor, idea man, and promoter of stunts at country fairs (as well as an experienced Santa Claus), favors the working Santa Claus.

He believes kiddies calling on Santa should come to a workshop and find Santa at his bench, a brown leather apron over his costume, his red coat hanging on a nail.

Howard has set up his curious college in the Enchanted Forest built by Christmas enthusiasts outside the town of Santa Claus.

His first school at Albion last year attracted so much attention that department stores began clamoring for Howard-trained Santa Clauses.

Sing "Jingle Bells"

College sessions start with prayer and the singing of "Jingle Bells". The courses of study; Art of Makeup for Santa Claus; Costumes and How to Wear Them; Child Psychology; How Toys are Made; Showmanship and Salesmanship; What Parents Expect of Santa; Santa Claus Legends.

After lectures, home and reference work, and an examination, the prospective Santa Claus gets a certificate stating his qualifications to work in a store. If he gets a letter of merit from the store at the end of the season, he gets his degree of BSC.

And what does BSC stand for? Guess once. No? Well, sir, it stands for Bachelor of Santa Claus.

Kalgary Woman Wins Newspaper Prize And With A Very Good Answer To The Question, Too!

SPUR, Nov. 19.—W. D. Starcher offered a year's subscription to the Dickens county Times, of which hei s owner, to the person submitting the best answer to this question, "Why is a woman like a newspaper?"

Other answers included: "Because they are thinner now than they used to be."; "Because they are well worth looking over;" "Because they carry the News wherever they go," and "Because she tells all the latest news."

SEASON ABOUT OVER

SOUTHLAND—Cotton harvesting season here is about over. It is estimated over 95 per cent has been gathered and over 90 per cent ginned. Farmers have received an average of $5 a bale more for their better staple cotton than for the short staple.

FEEDING AT HALE CENTER

HALE CENTER — An estimated 11,000 head of sheep are on pasture lands and in grain sorghum stubble fields here. Wheat is late and not much wheat pasture is available. Some cattle also are being fed out.
