Vandalism Responsible

Farm Homes, Equipment Are Heavily Damaged

Vandalism, wanton destruction of private property, rose as a major public problem in Hall County this week, as three or more farm homes, tractors, and other property were damaged Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. Sheriff Elmer Neel, following his investigation of damages, described property damage to the homes, tractors and equipment as very heavy. Although the county sheriff has investigated several farm vandalism cases in the past, none have reached the magnitude as havoc of Tuesday night. One of the past examples cited by Sheriff Neel was an instance when a farm tractor was started and put in gear, then turned loose to seek its own stopping place. It eventually ended up climbing a guy-wire. One of the three houses damaged, seen by this reporter, looked like it was a victim of an explosion. The stucco farm home, unoccupied but in relatively good condition, had the windows, window facings, doors and door facings ripped out, holes knocked in walls, furniture destroyed, and interior wrecked. Damage to the other two houses was just as extensive. Farm tractors are often, as in these cases, the object of costly vandalism, with gauges, lights, wiring, and accessories damaged. In one case, a large butane tank, which was recently filled, was turned loose to empty much of the contents. The sheriff warned farm property owners to be on the lookout for unauthorized persons on their property, and to report such cases to his office as quickly as possible.

Arland Summers Dies In Accident; Rites Are Today

City Council Sets Budget Hearing; In Negotiations With GTC Over Rates

The Memphis City Council Tuesday night tentatively approved a budget for 1972-73, and set a date for the budget hearing for 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, July 25. Citizens interested in the city's expenditures during the next fiscal year are invited to be in the City Councilroom of the Municipal Building at that time. The Council and General Telephone Co. of the Southwest have been in negotiations for the past two months over a matter of rate increases for telephone service. General Telephone presented a rate increase proposal to the City Council two months ago, and the members denied the increase. Last month the City Council submitted to General Telephone Co. a counter-proposal, which in turn was not acceptable by the telephone company. Tuesday night, the City Council submitted a second counter-proposal which is now under consideration by General Telephone Co. No word has been received as to whether or not it is acceptable. If this proposal is acceptable, it would authorize GTC to raise one-half of the increase on Sept. 13, 1972, and the remainder of the increase on March 13, 1973. John Allen of San Angelo, along with Jim Davis and Bob Douthit of Memphis, have been meeting with the City Council representing the telephone company. The actual amount of the increase under negotiation will be made public when an agreement is reached between the telephone company and the City Council.

Storm Saturday Causes Damage

Winds, blowing sand, and caused damage to property crops Saturday, as winds over the 70 mph mark here 20 p. m. as a storm front from the northeast. When the electric power went the wind clocking device on non-General weather chand had reached 70 mph. No wind clocking device here in operation at that time. Calculation still continues about whether or not it was extremely straight winds or possibly small twisters which ripped the roof off a hanger at this airport, overturned a father's trailer lot on Boy-Drive, tore down fencing at the Stadium along with a telephone poles, damaged conditioning unit and tore material off Memphis School Building. There were many other signs of damage throughout the as trees were split open, trees torn off, fences damaged, stone windows and fronts in downtown Memphis. Windows were blown out in Mason Bros. Co., The Lady and John Lemons Furniture, and metal front of the Dry Goods Co. was damaged. Winds were so high many feared damage might be more than it was. Damage at the airport was hanger owned by Billy Mason and Elmer Neel, and airplane received some damage was reported. It was whipped up by the wind and visibility in Memphis to best at times. Farmers reported wind damage severe as it was first reported. Some farmers did report damage to their crops. The system continued south across Hall County hitting the Turkey area about 8 p. m. The winds fanned rolling red clouds of sand in front of rain clouds, making it an awesome sight. Rainfall amounts reported were from .80 to 1.60, but high winds made accurate measurements almost impossible.

Yankees Win Season Title From Tigers

After a long and hotly contested season, the Little League Yankees and Tigers met in a post season playoff to determine which team would be the season winner Tuesday night. The game went the way the season had gone with both teams tied up 4-4, at the end of six regulation innings of baseball. The margin of victory was well within the grasp of both teams during the regulation play, as the Tigers held a comfortable 4-0 margin with their pitcher, Jesse Hernandez, doing an outstanding job hurling the baseball. Jesse only gave up three hits in six innings. But errors on the part of the Tigers as the ball bounced out of the gloves and several other bad plays gave the Yankees new life and a tied score 4-4 at the end of the fifth. The Tigers tried to get a tie-breaking run in home in the sixth, but the runner was cut off, and tagged between third and home. The Yankees put a winning run over in the bottom of the sixth but the batter failed to get on first base in the excitement and a delayed throw to first put him out to nullify the already scored run, retiring the sides and taking the game into extra innings. Little League rules state that no pitcher can pitch over six innings in a week; so the Yankee's pitcher, Rickey Guy, was replaced on the mound by Churchfield and Mark Guffey took over pitching chores for the Tigers. The Yankees were able to retire the Tigers without giving up a run, although a runner was on base. The Yankees won the contest in the bottom of the seventh, with bases loaded, and the winning run (Continued on Page 10)

Get Ready For Another Postal Rate Increase

From recent publicity, the people of this nation have been informed that another increase in postal rates has been announced. Specifically, the U. S. Postal Service is seeking an increase of 127 per cent in second class rates, which is paid by newspapers and other publications. Also to be increased will be bulk mailings, which postal employees call "junk mail." No definite figure has been released for first class mail rate increases.

Last week Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D—Wis., tried to block what he described as "an appalling increase in postal rates for newspapers and magazines."

At the same time Sen. Nelson introduced legislation to freeze second class rates for publications at their current level for the first 250,000 copies, and require that additional charges for extra copies above that figure be phased in over a 5-10-year period.

Naturally most newspapers welcomed the senator's action. Only publications which mail over a quarter million copies would be forced to pay the proposed increase.

Sen. Nelson said the increase would drive many small publications out of business, and the result would be to stifle the free flow of ideas.

"The strangulation of news and opinion through a single-minded aim for postal revenue is appalling," he said.

"That such actions are occurring in the United States at a time of great national controversy over the ability of this society's institutions to respond to the great issues of war and peace, and to the daily affairs which intrude ever closer on our individual lives, is a national tragedy."

The readers of this newspaper and all other publications which are under the second class rates of the U. S. Postal Service can remember the last increase. At the same time this increase was added to the cost of subscriptions it will be remembered that the State Legislature passed a law putting the state sales tax on newspapers, effective July 1, 1871. At the same time, a new schedule of the 4 per cent state and 1 per cent local sales tax was issued. All are familiar with the beginning category of the legislator's tax table: .101.29, tax .01 cents. Any young child who knows a small amount of arithmetic can tell you that a 10-cent copy of your newspaper cost a 1-cent sales tax, which is a 10 per cent—not a 5 per cent. Examine the state's sales tax schedule when you make your next purchase at any firm in Memphis.

President Richard Nixon and his administration during the past four years has engineered a completely new postal service for this nation, organized under the concepts of big business separate and apart from legislative control. It is little wonder that the new U. S. Postal Service has in the last few years raised postal rates and curtailed service. This trend will continue until the American people put a stop to it by forcing Congress and the President to once again pick up the reins and guide the Postal Service back into areas of providing mail "service" for the citizens of this nation.

It would also appear inconsistent, at a time when major steps are being taken to curb inflation-wage and price controls, hearings on food prices, opening of imports, etc.—that the Postal Service would add to the inflationary spiral by increasing postal rates again, after such a short time since rates were increased to the present level.

What Other Editors Say

Single Polling Place
Now Secretary of State Bob Bullock has calculated the costs, which varied widely from county to county and party to party... ranging from a low of 36 cents per vote for Travis county Democrats to a high of $4.83 for El Paso county Republicans. The higher cost of Republican votes, of course, was due to the fact that mighty few Republicans voted in that party's primaries this summer, so the cost per vote was probably more than any GOP candidate would have really been willing to pay.

It all adds up to a powerful argument from Bullock that a single polling place for both parties would make a lot of sense and save a lot of dollars... and we suspect that if the State is going to have to continue to pick up the tab (and nobody has come up with a better idea yet which will meet the Constitutional guidelines laid down by the Supreme Court) this may very well come about before another election year. Use of a common polling place by both parties might even shame Republicans into putting their ballots into their own ballot boxes instead of stuffing the Democratic boxes with Republican ideas.

This air conditioner and purifier is perfectly silent, comes in a wide variety of finishes and, maintained at a cost of a few dollars yearly, can last a lifetime.

Although it sounds like something to look forward to, it's been around for ages: the tree. The net cooling effect of a healthy tree, according to Jacques J. Pinkard of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, is equivalent to ten room-sized air conditioners operation 20 hours per day.

Just as the average American is not concerned about the problems of the farmer, neither is he concerned about the problems of the employer, but both groups have problems. This week the House Ways and Means committee voted a one year tax increase on employers to finance extension of a federal unemployment compensation program. Nobody hollered about this but the employers and nobody pays any attention to them. The federal unemployment tax on payroll is in addition to the state unemployment tax on payroll and the mandatory workmen compensation insurance. Most employers pay about 12 per cent payroll tax and some, as in the construction industry, pay around 20 per cent payroll tax. All of this makes it hard to make ends meet in business, but of course nobody except the employers worry much about it.

32 Scotch Teams Vie In Country Club Tournament

The Memphis Country Club's man-woman partnership golf tournament attracted 32 teams, four complete, eight-team flights, and play has been continuing this week.

Play is scotch, where each partner alternates shots, in match play competition.

In the championship flight, second round matches are upcoming for Danny and Neva Scarborough and Alan and Lena McNally in the top of the bracket, and George Ferris and Jan Rapp and Mack Miller and Honeria Helm in the bottom of the bracket. Winners of these two matches will meet in the finals.

In the championship consolation, the team of Bill and Tanya Combs will play the winner of the Dennis Ward-Texie Fisher vs. Dink Miller-Becky Brown match in the finals.

In the first flight, the team of Joe Browning and Anne Rapp is a two-match winner and has reached the finals. They will play the winner of the match between Rabb Holland-Cherri Rapp and Phillip Bray-Tina Foxhall. Lester and Martha Campbell have reached the consolation finals as has the team of Melroy and Ann Cofer.

The Mike Helm and Yevie Miller team has reached the second flight final. In the other portion of the bracket, the Lee and Polly Brown team will play the

Potassium Is Important To Production Of Crops, New Publication Points Out

A new publication, "Potassium and Crop Production," is now available at the county Extension office, announces County Agricultural Agent W. B. Hooser. It is authored by John Box, associate agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Knowing a soil's potassium—supplying capacity is important in selecting cropping systems, fertilizers and other management practices, notes Hooser. Potassium is absorbed by plants in larger amounts than any other mineral element except nitrogen and in some cases calcium.

Potassium is required in large amounts when good yields are anticipated, points out Hooser. If the nutrient is deficient, it must be added as a chemical fertilizer. A potassium deficiency affects the ability of plants to utilize other plant food elements, adds Hooser.

Microorganisms in the soil compete for available potassium. Various forms of potassium in the soil are classified on the basis of availability to plants. The three broad classifications are unavailable, slowly available and readily available. Most potassium is in the unavailable form.

Some of the factors that must be considered when trying to solve Texas' potassium problem are the type of soil, temperature, wetting and drying cycles, pH and aeration and moisture.

Symptoms for potassium deficiency are leaf margins showing a scorched effect, slow plant growth, weak stalks, easy lodging, small and shriveled seeds or fruits, and reduced plant disease resistance.

Potassium is lost from the soil by crop removal, leaching and erosion. For maximum efficiency, Hooser suggests relieving potassium deficiencies by applying fertilizers at or just prior to planting annual crops.

Soils with adequate amounts of available potassium give higher yields and quality.

Matches in the third flight have Mike and Donna Liner playing Hiram and Joan Crawford, and Phil and Sharon Howard playing Hubert and Kathryn Jones in the semi-finals.

In third flight consolation, Johnny and Monta June Harrell play Richard and Lucheryl Ellis, while Lynn Monzingo and Sandra Allen play Chuck and Louise Jones.

The finals are all set for Saturday; so matches are expected to be completed by that time.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Ear Muffs Are Protection Against Farm Noise

Prolonged exposure to tractor noise can cause hearing loss.

"Why not guard against such a mishap by investing in a pair of lightweight acoustical muffs for the ears," suggests W. B. Hooser, county agricultural agent. The muffs, similar to those used by ground crews working around jet airplanes, are available through safety equipment and sporting goods stores.

Ear muffs can help reduce hearing losses even if worn only part of the time, notes the agent. Breaking up the length periods of exposure to noise is the important thing as it's the continuous stress that gradually but inevitably does the damage.

Hooser points out that certain danger signals from the effects of loud noises are ringing or head noises that persist for a few hours after a driver gets off a tractor, following a day's work. Another sign of trouble is when a person's speech seems muffled after being around loud noise for an extended period.

Researches say that noises becomes potentially damaging at 85 decibels. For comparison, ordinary conversation comes in at about 60 decibels, the average radio at 70 decibels, and a pneumatic drill at 90 decibels.

The agent cites a South Dakota study which showed most farm tractors tested made enough noise—above 85 decibels—to be potentially dangerous to hearing. Farmers involved in the test found that acoustical ear muffs reduced the noise to comfortable and acceptable levels. Initial discomfort from wearing the muffs lessened as farmers became used to them.

Control Grubs In Lawns

Early summer is the time to treat lawns with insecticide to control white grubs.

County Agricultural Agent W. B. Hooser says white grubs are the larvae of several species of May and June beetles. They are whitish to gray, have grown heads, usually lie in a curled position. Grubs feed on grass roots an inch or two below the ground. As they cut off roots, the lawn will gradually die out in irregular spots.

Grubs hatch from eggs laid in the ground by several different kinds of tan to dark brown green beetles commonly called May or June beetles. Since beetles are attracted to lighted patios often become infested, says the agent.

Treatment should be based on finding grubs in the lawn. Make a close check by cutting the turf and removing four to six inches of the underlying soil. Lawns can be damaged when there are four grubs per square foot, Hooser continues.

Aldrin, chlordane, dieldrin, heptachlor be applied as granules, wettable powder sprays. If grub control is difficult with these insecticides, zinnon should be used.

Mow the lawn just before applying the insecticide, says Hooser.

Miss Peabody of Phillips, maid of honor, and Beverly Bridges of Lubbock, bridesmaid, were gowned in lime green organza dotted with pink and white lace. The bridesmaids wore floor-length dresses and carried white wide-brimmed sunhats with pink mixed flowers.

White bags were passed out by Miss Peabody and Anita Joy, who wore floor-length dresses of hot pink organza dotted with white flowers.

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Our farmers are now receiving assistance checks from the government for their important crops of cotton and grain sorghum. These checks have been termed by detractors as "give away", "welfare", or "subsidies." The truth of the matter is that these checks mean the difference of retaining the family farmer on his land or seeing him forced out of business due to the cost-price squeeze and replaced by a large corporate conglomerate.

Many consumers and main street businessmen give lip service to the abundance of food provided by farmers as well as the business received from them. In too many instances, however, none of the groups mentioned appear in Congress to fight for better farm programs which will retain the population in rural areas so vitally needed in America today.

A fact that too few realize is that government farm programs add millions of dollars to our local economy. Most of our local businesses would close if it weren't for the once-a-year receipt of price-support checks. Farm programs mean a strong rural America (prosperous merchants as well as farmers). These farm programs include conservation assistance for protection of our agricultural resources as well as price-support programs. The organization which I head at the local level is dedicated to the principle of improving government programs so that they work for the betterment of the farmer as well as the consumer and small town merchant. The Farmers Union has consistently, throughout its 70-year history, proven that it is on the side of the family farmer and is concerned about keeping him on the land. It is not that our organization is anti-big farmer or anti-corporation, but we feel that the strength of rural America is indeed in our family farms and when rural America is strong, our rural communities will likewise remain strong.

Keeping government assistance at an adequate level (we believe this means a parity income equal to other segments of the economic sector) is a continuing struggle. Many groups oppose farm programs which benefit family farmers as well as consumers. The agricultural trade and agribusiness many times find themselves at odds with the bonafide family farmer because of their emphasis on "bigness" and "efficiency". Many times their lobbyists in Congress have influenced farm legislation to the detriment of family farmers. Likewise, some of our farm organizations have not been as concerned with maintaining the family farmer as I would like to see.

As an example of the pressure to continuously weaken the farm programs for family farmers and shift the emphasis to large and "efficient" farms whether they be private or corporate, I would like to cite a recent study which was made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The "Young Executives Committee" appointed by Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin a year ago, has recently published its report and its recommendations for future agricultural policy. According to the young USDA executives, "agricultural policy should be directed toward maintaining agriculture as a viable industry and not as a way of life." The USDA report terms present farm programs "costly, a deterrent to efficient production, and of negligible value to second generation owners." Their recommendation is "phase out over 5 years, reduce loan rates to disaster price level for feed grain crops and wheat and zero for all other crops." The young executives term parity price as "not a good barometer of return nor of the welfare of the farmer." The USDA Young Executive report concludes, "The phase out would give a hard, downward push to annual farm income of perhaps 6 billion dollars at the beginning." The young executives do not see their proposals as doing in the family farm "but it would become a larger, more sophisticated unit."

I urge those reading this "letter to the editor" to rally to the support of farm programs designed to better rural life and maintain the family farmer as a viable part of rural America. To farmers reading this, I urge if you have not already done so, that you join forces with an organization that is seeking to retain program benefits and constantly seeking to better and expand these farm programs.

Sincerely
J. J. McDaniel

County Citizens Have Upgraded Living Standard

NEW YORK—There is more good living today in Hall County than there was 10 years ago.

Despite inflation, higher taxes, unemployment and the other economic pressures and uncertainties of recent years, most families in the local area have managed to upgrade their standard of living.

Evidence of it is to be seen in the greater number of cars owned by local residents as well as in the array of air conditioners, dishwashers, clothes dryers, and household gadgets such as blenders and conveniences that are to be found in homes in this area. The number of local households that are equipped with such appliances has increased considerably since 1960.

The findings are based upon a survey of household ownership of durables, conducted in each section of the country by the Department of Commerce, and upon data from other sources.

One indicator of the more expensive living is the rise in the number of two-car families. The figures indicate that approximately 23.0 per cent of the households in Hall County now have two or more cars, as compared with 15.3 per cent in 1960.

The proportion of homes in the regional area equipped with food freezers or refrigerators is also at a high level. Some 85.9 per cent of the families now own them, it is estimated.

Similarly, television sets have become standard equipment in the majority of homes. Many of them have color sets as well as black and white units.

As of last year, 90.0 per cent of Hall County households had television sets as compared with 63.1 per cent in 1960.

Marked increases are also reported in the number of dishwashers, clothes dryers and hi-fi units that have been acquired by the public in recent years.

Rising incomes, over and above the heavy carrying load caused by the increased cost of living, have brought these and other conveniences within the grasp of a growing number of local families.

Although there has been a slowdown in the purchase of big-ticket items in the last two years, the indications are that the consumers of this area are about ready to resume buying.

Highway Dept. To Administer Billboard Law

AUSTIN—The Texas Highway Department has announced plans for administration of the State Highway Beautification Act which was passed by the last special session of the Legislature. The Act became effective June 29.

This act, also known as the Billboard Law, charges the Highway Department with responsibility for regulating outdoor advertising signs along the Interstate and Federal-aid primary highway systems in Texas. There are approximately 18,000 miles of highways in the two systems.

The law provides that any person who erects or maintains a sign within 600 feet of the highway must have a license to engage in outdoor advertising and a permit for each sign covered by the act. Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located or relating solely to activities conducted on the property and certain utility marker signs are exempt.

The Highway Department will issue all licenses. The application blanks will be available at the district offices or at the Right of Way Division in Austin. Sign permits will be issued by either the Highway district offices or by those cities which elect to issue their own sign permits. Persons interested should contact the department's district serving the county where their sign is now or will be located.

Plans will be announced later for implementation of sections of the legislation dealing with illegal, abandoned and nonconforming signs and junkyards and auto graveyards.

In The World Of Science—

Science Develops More Porous Asphalt Allowing More Rain To Pass Through

A porous pavement that lets rain pass through to underground water tables rather than be wasted via storm sewers is reported in "Chemical & Engineering News." It is made of a new asphaltic material that is cheaper than conventional paving with its necessary runoff system.

A 2 1/2-inch-thick sample of the new material allows up to 70 inches per hour of water of flow through. It shows good resistance to mechanical stress, hot air oxidation, and freeze-thaw cycles.

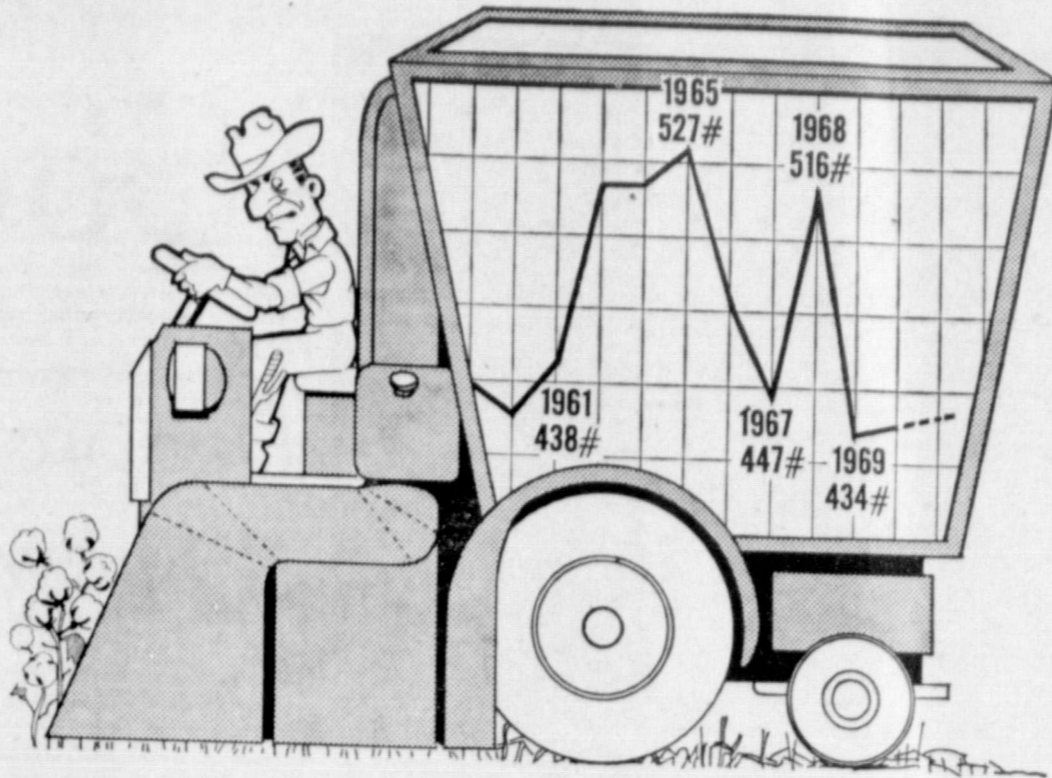

The material shows good mechanical stability (Marshall Test) and high oxidative resistance (exposure to air at 150 degrees Fahrenheit for eight weeks caused no untoward effects). Some 265 freeze-thaw cycles caused no change in mechanical stability.

Moreover, bacteria are found to flourish underneath the pavement and would probably degrade substances washed through. "The next step, Mr. Thelen explains, will be to pave several acres in different locations with the material to test it in actual use. Because of its special benefits and favorable economics, Mr. Thelen believes that in the future porous pavement may well become the preferred material for many pavement uses."

Shari Posey left Sunday for Lubbock where she will spend two weeks attending the Texas Tech Band Camp. Accompanying her to Lubbock were Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Posey, MariAnn and Karl, and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Posey.

COTTON YIELDS DECLINING—Cotton yields have been declining just when cotton is showing a resurgence in the market. This has prompted a Beltwide campaign, spearheaded by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, National Cotton Council, and state extension services, to obtain "Better Yields of Quality Cotton for Profit and Market Growth." Crops have been below normal for four out of the past five seasons. Across the Cotton Belt, yield per acre averaged 438 pounds in 1961. It rose to a record 527 pounds in 1965 but by 1971 was back down to 438 pounds, the same as 1961.

Longview Rites Unite In Marriage Miss Robertson and Norman C. Smith

Nuptial vows solemnized the evening of July 1, in the Wesley United Methodist Church in Longview, united in marriage Miss Deborah Ann Robertson and Norman Cagle Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Robertson of Longview and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Morris Robertson of Lakeview. She is a niece of Lee M. Robertson of Lakeview. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith of Longview.

The wedding vows were repeated in a setting of glowing candles, multi-colored daisies and greenery. On either side of the altar stood tall vases of pastel colored daisies, flanked by arched candelabra outlined with greenery. Fern trees formed the background and garlands of smilax interspersed with pastel colored daisies draped the altar railing.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a Caresse gown of star white sata peau fashioned with a sheer square yoke trimmed with Venetian motif framed in narrow sculptured Venetian edging. The same trim appeared at tither edge of the Victorian collar and completely outlined at sliper level the full skirt and continued the entire length of the train. Schiffli embroidery embellished the molded bodice designed with a high-rise waistline marked with a satin ribbon and centered in front with satin ribbon loops and a single sculptured daisy cut from the appliques.

Her bouffant veil of bridal illusion fell to elbow length from a Camelot coil bearing a halo of three-dimensional lace daisies. Consummating the coil was a three-tiered organza bow embroidered with pearl clusters. She carried a bouquet of blue and white Marguerite daisies accented with ivy tendrils.

Attendants

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. W. M. Stuart of Dallas. Another sister, Miss Jana Robertson, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaid were Miss Jayne Eckhardt, Mrs. John Brown, sister of the groom, Mrs. John Jenkins, Miss Kay Crawford and Miss Nancy Bestick. Miss Melissa Mercer, cousin of the bridegroom, served as flower girl.

Attendants were attired in formal gowns of pastel blue miramist featuring a round yoke with stand-up ruffle collar, full Bishop sleeves, a widebelted waistline and gathered skirt ending in a deep ruffle at the hemline. The seamlines of each feature were traced with white cotton Venetian lace. Adorning their hair were pastel blue satin scatter bows, and multi-colored daisies spilled over imported with baskets carried by the attendants.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Lt. Don Linner. Mike Moriarty, W. M. Stuart, brother-in-law of the bride, Wayne Bennett, Larry Webb, and Phillip and Steve Smith, cousins of the groom, served as groomsmen. Ushers were John Brown, brother-in-law of the groom, and Don Munden. Candelighters were W. M. Stuart and Mike Moriarty.

Reception

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall. Miss Pam Marcum, cousin of the bride, invited the guests to register in the bride's book which was designed and elaborately beaded with crystal and blue beads by the bride's mother.

The bride's table was covered with a white silk organza cloth, held a silver punch bowl, and a three-tiered white cake topped with white sugarpun daisies and blue forget-me-nots. The table was centered with a generous arrangement of multi-colored daisies in a crystal and silver apergne.

The bridegroom's table, covered with an imported linen cut-work cloth, held a silver coffee service, German chocolate cake and a wrought-iron candle holders holding a glowing candle.

Entertaining the guests at the piano was Steve Smith, cousin of the groom.

Miss Lucy Peterson, cousin of the bride, distributed rice bags.

The bride is a graduate of Longview High School, attended Kilgore College and Texas A & M University. He joined the United States Air Force, served in Vietnam one year and was discharged on June 23, 1972. He plans to continue his education at Stephen F. Austin State University.

For a wedding trip to Houston and Galveston, the bride elected a long gown of summer white pique accented with bright colored flowers. She wore a blue daisy corsage taken from the center of her bouquet.

Would FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS

Tempt You Into Our Office?

We wanted to tell you that we now have FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS in assets. But we knew what you'd say:

"SO WHAT?"

So give us a minute to tell you so what.

Having fifteen million dollars in assets means two things. First, it means we're bigger, so we can do more for you. Second, it means that more people save with us, so we must be doing something right.

"LIKE WHAT?"

Like having a central location with drive-up facilities. Like offering more savings plans and high interest. And like having part of that fifteen million ready for you when you need a mortgage loan.

"SO WHY TELL ME?"

Very simple. Because that fifteen million dollars didn't fall out of the sky. It came from people like you who wanted to get the most from their savings dollar. So we figured that if you saw what we've done for them, you'd want us to do the same for you.

"WHY NOT?"

Saturday we had 42 residents in Hall County Heritage Hall from 15 to 25 the other days of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roberts of Destin, Fla., were looking over the displays. Robert will be remembered as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Nash who were long time residents of Hall County near Lakeview and Webster. Robert attended school at both Lakeview and Lakeview. Some of the schoolmates he remembered were L. B. and Aubry Robertson, Ed and Ralph Strygle and Ed and Edna Strygle. Robert left Hall County in 1935. He served 22 years in the Army, going in as a private and coming out as a major in the Engineer's Corps. In connection with Robert, he did not know that he served in 8 foreign countries. Robert married a Miss Prince in 1943 who is a graduate from Princeton. She has visited Hall County several times with relatives, including the Abe Nash family. Living are the mother of Robert, Ronald of Riverside, Jack and Robert of Des Moines, Edna of Bakersfield, Mrs. Phaeton (Cora Belle) of Memphis. Robert told me that he thought that his cotton was what made him go to the Army at an early age.

Her visitors in Heritage Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ross of Amarillo. Everett will be remembered as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ross who were early residents of Hall County. He attended MHS. This family moved to Shamrock in 1930. Marvin worked in the Mat grocery store for several years. Everett married Lillie of Shamrock in 1932. They have been working in civil service in Mississippi for the past 30 years and they retired in 1962, and moved to Houston. I did ask them if they were completely retired and they said "no" to this, that they had a farm near Vega and were raising a few cattle on the other Ross children now are Weldon and Katherine in California and Sam in Sham-

Mrs. Hershel Montgomery of Richardson had as her guest in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week her friend, Mrs. E. A. Roberts of Plano. This was Mrs. Roberts' first trip to Memphis. She seemed to like Heritage Hall very much and thought we had a nice collection of antiques.

Mary Ann and Sidney Beasley had as their guests in Heritage Hall, Mrs. B. M. Foreman and children, Jay and Nancy of Rush Springs, Okla. Mr. Foreman is a brother to Mary Sue Beasley and they are cousins of Cloyd, Loyd, Thrasher and Mary Foreman who were early day residents. Bill Foreman has been very successful in raising peanuts in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson had as their guest in Heritage Hall the past Saturday, their grandson, Wade Johnson of Estelline.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris had as their guests in Heritage Hall Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Williams of Tyler. Ben is the son of Mrs. Paul Morris.

While reading the Dallas News a few days ago, I noticed a picture of a lady that looked familiar and in checking this out, we found that it was a picture of Mrs. Maggie Hembree, a former Hall County resident, who is now 101 years old and living in the Mary Trew Home. In this picture, a teenage girl was teaching Mrs. Hembree the art of weaving baskets and I hope she gets in full production on the basket operation. This helps to show us that we never get too old

The 4th of July this year made me think of a similar weather spell in the 20's when we had tables set up on the square for the picnic and it was so cold some of the crowd were wearing overcoats. The food had to be carried up to the old "Arnwood" Opera house to be served.

Bettie and Bobbie Stewart had as their guests, Connie Hughes and John Perkins, Jr. of Dallas. John graduated from MHS in 1941, afterwards moving to Amarillo and on to Dallas and to college at SMU. He first attended school at Eli and remembered that his first teacher was Miss Maggie Bryan.

John has one daughter, age 16, and a son, age 15, John Perkins, Sr. was visiting in Heritage Hall the past Saturday. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Perkins, both now deceased. This family moved to Hall County in 1907. The other members of this family were Frank (deceased), Eli (deceased), Sammy, now in California, Anna Belle in Levelland, Edna in Littlefield and Tommie in California. John, Sr. remembered attending school at Indian Creek School when Louie Thompson was teacher, and they would go hunting down Indian Creek after school together. Louie was the brother of Willie Mae and rose horseback to this teaching job and boarded during the week with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wynn at Indian Creek.

The past Saturday we had a family visiting in Hall County Heritage Hall looking for information on some of their ancestors who were early day residents of Hall County. This family had traveled about 2 thousand miles to try to get some information on the family tree. They have been working on the family tree for the past 12 years and in this time, they had information from Belgium from 1441 to 1667. The members of this family visiting here were Wm. Howard Dilbeck and wife, Ingrid V. (Janicke) and their two sons, Detley and Arrin. The address of Wm. Howard Dilbeck is East Setauket, N. Y., No. 10, Pleasant Lane, L. I. New York 11733. Others in this group were the parents of Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dilbeck and daughter, Juanita Dilbeck, from Gentry, Ark. They were looking for records of Calvin Dilbeck, who moved to Hall County from Mountain Home, Ark., about 1880 and he passed away in Memphis a short time after moving here. His wife, Lizzie, remarried an Alexander and the son of Lizzie was reared in Hall County by a family named Durham. If anyone knows anything about which Alexander and Durham had a part in this family tree, you may write Mr. Howard Dilbeck at the address given in this column.

Grady Simpson had as his guest in Heritage Hall the past week, Grady Weatherford of Meridian.

Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ferris of Clarendon, Mrs. Lura Marcum of Estelline and Tommie Noel of Denton, Cindy Pritchett of Dallas, Judi Lott of Levelland and Laretta

Pritchett of Amarillo.

Mrs. Paul Whitten of Deep Lake had as her guests in Heritage Hall the past week, Her nephews, Jack and Larry Wardlow, of Farwell.

We had a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Goodnight the past Sunday. They were former residents who moved from here in 1941 and are now living in Amarillo. Hayden and Larkey were really enjoying the day visiting their old friends.

In one of our monthly magazines, I noticed an article a few days ago giving the birthrate of cats and dogs in the U. S. This article gave the information that there were 10 thousand cats and dogs born every hour in the U. S. That is a lot of cats and dogs in one day. To help take care of a part of this inflation of population, I noticed an article in the daily paper where in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, that the Cepacabana neighborhood had opened its first public dog toilet. The officials say if this post in a sandpit works out alright, several more will be installed in the future.

The past Saturday night we did slip backwards in progress for a few hours during the storm. No light, no refrigeration, no telephone, no air conditioners and no TV. But the candles and flashlights worked as time slipped back with us on the electric clock. We should be very thankful that no one was injured in the high wind we had with the sudden storm. The telephones were busy calling in Sunday morning from relatives and friends from other towns.

Mrs. Ruth Harrison and Mrs. John Shadid and Terri spent the weekend visiting in Dallas and Richardson. Mrs. Harrison visited her daughter, Mrs. John Alderman and family who have recently moved to Dallas from Mil-land. Mrs. Shadid and Terri visited with Mrs. Shadid's sister, Mrs. Casey Cohlma and family in Richardson.
