Navy Suspends Captain Crommelin

Brass Denies Morale Slump In Sea Forces

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Navy Thursday suspended Capt. John G. Crommelin from duty and denied to Congress that the morale of Naval officers and men is in sad shape.

These developments piled up quickly in the wake of Crommelin's admission that he is the man who gave news reporters on Monday official correspondence about Navy morale:

1. The Navy suspended Crommelin, 46-year-old aviation veteran, from duty and ordered him restricted to his home. That is a preliminary action pending final disposition of his case. There is the possibility of a court martial.

2. Secretary of the Navy Matthews went before the House Armed Services Committee and said he believes Navy morale generally is good. Without calling Crommelin's name, Matthews in effect accused him of disloyalty, faithlessness and insubordination.

3. President Truman told a news conference he has instructed Matthews to get to the bottom of the controversy swirling about charges that the Navy is not being given a fair deal in present military unification policies.

Truman Keeps Silent
Truman declined to comment on Crommelin's release of private Navy correspondence critical of defense policies.

Crommelin himself was the first to disclose the Navy's action. He told reporters when he came out of the office of Vice Adm. John Dale Price, vice chief of Naval operations. The action was taken by Price.

The Navy then issued an announcement which said:

"By direction of Navy Secretary Matthews, Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of Naval operations, has taken steps to have appropriate charges placed against Captain Crommelin."

It added that pending preterment of these charges, Crommelin had been suspended from duty and restricted to his home.

Indicating that he anticipated a court martial trial, Crommelin told reporters he would close friend, Capt. (Continued On Page Seven)

DeWayne Davis, assistant manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, has resigned to become manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Tulia, Texas. His resignation, announced Thursday, is effective November 1.

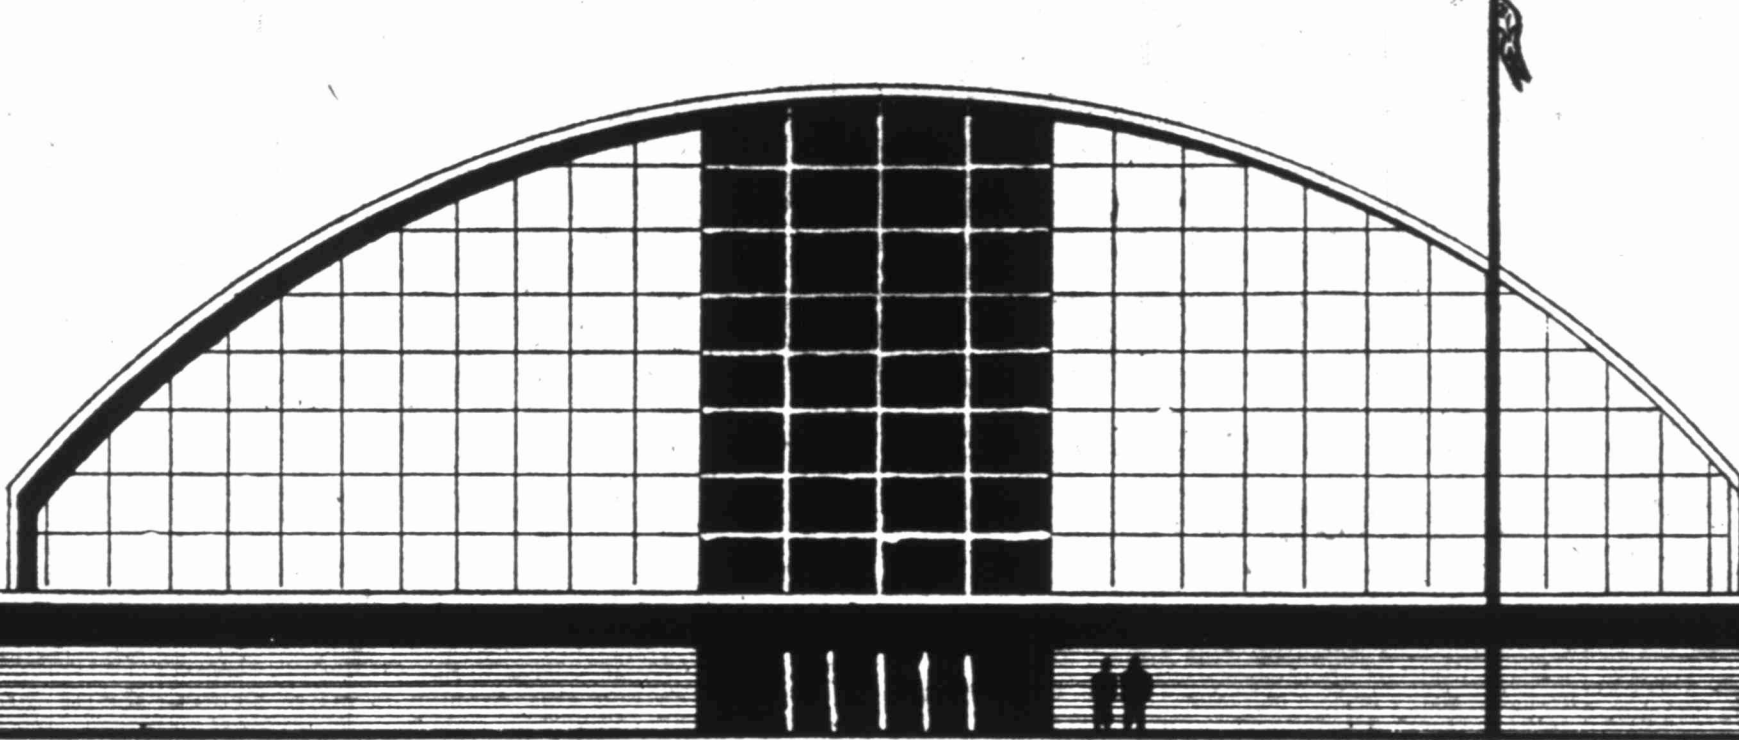

His letter of resignation recalled his pleasant associations in Midland and thanked Midlanders, and members of the Chamber of Commerce for their fine cooperation. He wished "continued success to both Midland and its Chamber of Commerce."

The resignation will cause former directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their next meeting, October 17.

He became a member of the staff of the Midland Chamber of Commerce in May, 1946.

JayCees Circulate Petitions For Proposed Midland County Park Building

JayCees Thursday were circulating petitions which will ask Midland County Commissioners to call a special election November 8 on the proposal to issue $200,000 in bonds for the construction of a Midland County Park Building. The Midland Chamber of Commerce sponsored and approved the proposal for the structure, which would provide adequate facilities to stage fairs, livestock shows, sports events, automobile and machinery exhibits, stage shows, musical events and meetings, conventions and entertainments of various types. A site for the proposed building has not been selected, but Midland Fair, Inc., has offered to deed five acres of land to the county should it decide to erect the structure on East U. S. Highway 80, adjacent to the Midland Rodeo grounds.

Russian Abuses Of U. S. Nationals Draw Protest

WASHINGTON—(P)—The United States sent a strongly worded note to Russia Thursday protesting the "shocking" mistreatment of Americans who stray into the Soviet zone of Germany.

"This treatment the United States government finds to be in shocking contravention to the most elementary standards of international decency," the note said.

At the same time the United States, through Ambassador Kirk in Moscow, notified the Russian Foreign Office that "it expects that those Soviet officials who are responsible for these acts will be punished."

The American note referred specifically to the case of the two American college students who "inadvertently and innocently" entered the Russian zone while bicycling and who were detained for eight weeks.

It also cited the case of Pvt. John J. Sienkiewicz, an American soldier, who escaped September 16 from a prison in the Soviet sector of Berlin after 10 months of imprisonment. The note said he was held under "brutal and uncivilized conditions."

Treatment Unjustified
The note said bluntly: "There can be no justification for this kind of treatment of citizens of a friendly nation, persons whose only violation of law is purely technical in nature and whose innocence of criminal charges can easily be established."

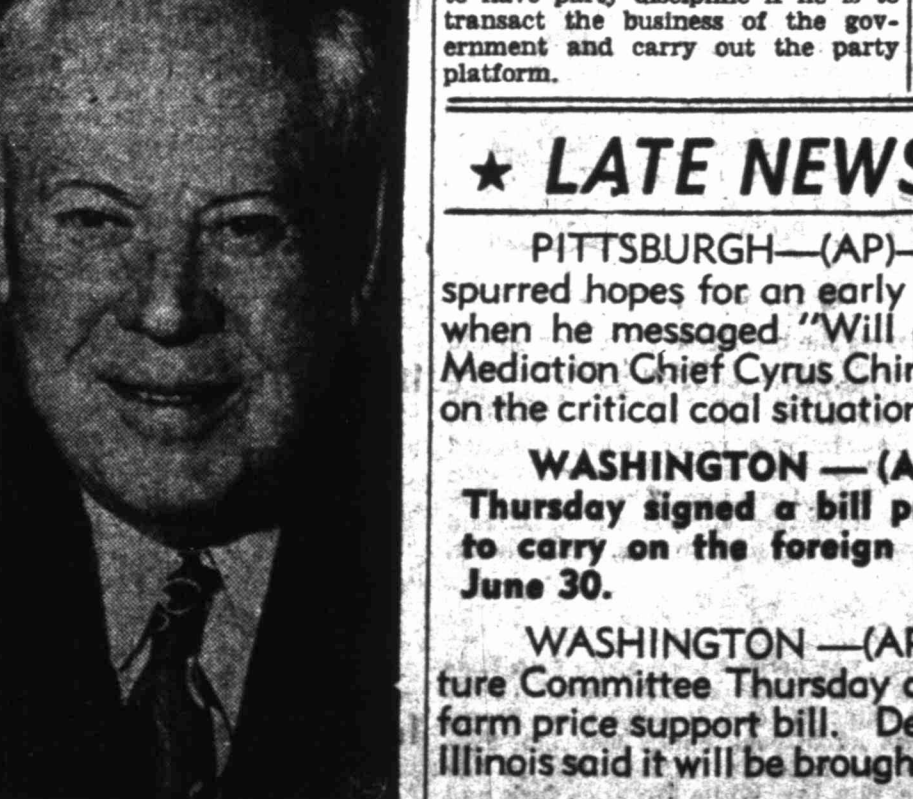

The American government, the note continued, "raises the most energetic protest" against such actions by Soviet authorities in Eastern Germany.

It also gave notice that the United States demands that the "elementary rights of its citizens be observed in the future in accordance with the international code which governs the conduct of all civilized states."

SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH.—The old bootlegging routes to the United States from Canada have been reversed.

She said most of these were from the Garden River Indian Reserve, near Sault Ste. Marie. The river is only a few hundred feet wide at the place where Mrs. LaSage is charged with selling the beer.

Frank Grandstaff Goes Back To Prison

BIG SPRING — (AP) — Frank Grandstaff Thursday started back to a life term in the Tennessee State Prison as a habitual criminal.

The six-day furlough granted him to attend a performance of his cantata, "Big Spring," is about up.

Lambert V. Ward, West Texas rancher, Grandstaff, and Deputy Sheriff C. E. Kiser took off for Nashville at 6 a.m.

Grandstaff composed the cantata while in solitary, tapping the time on the wall of a cell. It was based on a book by Big Spring Druggist Shine Phillips.

The cantata was performed as part of Big Spring's Centennial Celebration.

Wednesday, a display of air and infantry power highlighted the celebration.

Troops from the 12th Armored Infantry Battalion at Camp Hood marched in a big parade and Air Force planes from San Angelo, Austin and Fort Worth flew over.

Capt. R. B. Marcy of the U. S. Army discovered the spring for which the city was named on Oct. 3, 1849.

Body Of Hurricane Victim Is Recovered

PALACIOS, TEXAS — (AP) — Last rites were to be held Thursday for James Otis Simpson, a casualty of the hurricane that hit Texas earlier this week.

Simpson disappeared Sunday after volunteering to swim across when a motor boat became disabled in Matagorda Bay during the early stages of the storm.

His body was found on a beach eight miles south of here Wednesday.

Human Relations Is Industry's Problem, Says AIME Speaker

SAN ANTONIO—American business management daily is mastering new challenges in every realm of science but the great and relatively uncharted frontier that lies ahead is in the field of human relations, L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Company, Fort Worth, Okla., told the petroleum division of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers at a luncheon meeting here Thursday.

Speaking on "Management's Frontiers," Continental Oil Company's president said, "This job of dealing wisely with human beings is infinitely more complex, more tricky, more satisfying and, indeed, more exciting than solving technical problems."

McCollum called for new high purpose, diligent study and sagacious action in management's undertaking to meet its great challenge in human relations. Concerning the employees, the consumers and the general public, he said that management's task is to "develop the skills which will integrate the common interests of these groups and to take a position of leadership in meeting the pressing problems of the day."

Responsibilities To Public
Management also has responsibilities to the public, the speaker said. He cited that:

"Business must safeguard that process of election whereby consumers cast their dollar votes to decide in effect, which businesses shall succeed and which shall fail. The business that does not produce what consumers want at prices they wish to pay is soon apprised of its sins through its sales figures."

New Marriage License Law Cuts Down Cupid's Business

By The Associated Press
Cupid wasted a lot of arrows Wednesday.

Love may have bloomed in the hearts of the young—and the old—but there weren't many couples seeking marriage licenses.

Texas' new marriage license requirements went into effect and county clerks reported little business—or no business at all.

Under the new law, blood tests and medical certificates are required of both man and woman—not just the man. A state certified laboratory must make the tests.

Finding one of the 106 approved laboratories might have caused the license decline.

Fort Worth, Houston, San Angelo, Beaumont, San Antonio and Corpus Christi reported no licenses issued. El Paso and Dallas each issued one. There were few licenses issued elsewhere in the state. One East Texas laboratory received blood samples from Henderson, Carthage, Kilgore and Longview.

Several couples showed up at county clerks' offices and were given information about the new law. They were told where to find an approved laboratory.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said that while lots of places didn't have an approved laboratory, this wouldn't be a hardship. He said samples could be sent to Austin for testing or to the nearest approved laboratory.

There was some doubt in the minds of prospective bridegrooms of what to do with the license they bought before the new law went into effect.

Chief Deputy Clerk S. L. Davis said:

Sandlin Heads State Real Estate Board
AUSTIN—(AP)—George W. Sandlin of Austin is chairman of the new State Real Estate Commission. Sandlin was elected by the commission Wednesday at its first official meeting. Board members took oath of office earlier in the governor's office.

Harvey W. Draper of Houston was elected vice chairman.

L. D. (Sadie) Ransom was named administrator. Ransom has been real estate division chief with the secretary of state office for the last month.

Giant 12-foot-high blowers, which can move 80,000 cubic feet of heated air a minute, have been built to cool an atomic pile.

Events Of Business
Women's Week Are Slated For B&PW

Opening with the annual Emblem Breakfast Sunday morning, the Midland Business and Professional Women's Club will observe National Business Women's Week with special programs October 9-14. Helen Brasher, membership chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the breakfast, which will begin at 8 a.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

An informal dinner for members Wednesday, a radio broadcast the same day, and another annual event, the tea honoring teachers at Midland Public Schools on October 18, are scheduled for the week.

A luncheon planned for October 15, with the Business and Professional Women as hostesses to the Midland Woman's Club, has been postponed to October 22 because the speaker which the club wanted could not accept the earlier engagement.

Fast President To Speak

She is Marguerite Anderson of Abilene, a past president of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The luncheon at which she will appear here is to be held in the hotel ballroom also.

The club will have a dinner on its regular meeting date, October 15, with Dr. Dorothy Wyvell as the speaker. Olive Walker, health and safety chairman, and her committee will be in charge.

The dinner next Wednesday will be in the Ranch House, and will be completely informal in character. It is planned to bring members together for better acquaintance.

Lillie Rose Meissner, radio chairman, will conduct the broadcast Wednesday, a quarter-hour skit titled "Boost Your Town — It Boosts You."

The teachers' tea will be arranged by the education and vocation committee, of which Una Elliott is chairman. It will be in the home of Fannie Bess and Cordelia Taylor, 408 North A Street, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Senisa Club
Puts Program
Into Practice

Practicing the principles of flower arrangement which they studied in a September meeting, members of the Senisa Garden Club each brought an arrangement to the meeting Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Richard Hinkle.

The program, designed to give members practice in making arrangements such as they will enter in the Fall Flower Show of November 2 and the Midland County Fair exhibit this weekend, was conducted by Mrs. A. P. Shirey, a guest from the Midland Garden Club.

She judged each arrangement, giving suggestions and answering questions informally.

Plans for participation in the flower show, in which the Senisa Club will cooperate with the other five garden clubs of Midland, were discussed in the business session.

Mrs. Hugh Bliss was a guest, and members present included Mrs. Ed Shakely, Mrs. John E. Reid, Mrs. H. E. Rankin, Mrs. Hastings Parrill, Mrs. J. L. Metcalfe, Mrs. F. N. Littlejohn, Mrs. G. C. Listen, College Girls—Bring Home A Husband If You Can!

By SUE MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Note to college girls:
Your parents are footing college bills to give you an education. That's what they tell you—and that is what they mean.

But in fairness to yourself — don't overlook another opportunity your college years offer. Pick yourself a husband—before you leave your college campus.

College is the best chance you'll ever have for meeting young men with backgrounds and interests similar to your own.

And don't forget it. All over the country there are attractive, intelligent college-educated girls who didn't keep that fact in mind when they were getting an education.

They're either too intent on training for a career or too serene in the belief that dates would always be as plentiful as they are on a college campus to be bothered lining up a husband while they were still in school.

Many of them have discovered too late they let their best husband-hunting years and opportunity slip by without making the most of them.

Parents At A Loss

Parents are in a peculiar position. Even though they hope in their hearts that Sue will meet a nice young man in college and fall in love—they can't tell her so.

They've got to take the attitude that Sue is going to college for one thing and one thing only—to get an education and prepare herself to earn her own living.

Some parents even believe that, and figure that the girl who is sent to college hasn't any business getting married until she has made use of her education by making a success on her own.

But that isn't being realistic. Your best marrying years and your best marrying opportunity belong to you. Squander them—and you'll only blame yourself and your parents some day.

So line yourself up a husband while you have a whole college to choose from. And if you choose wisely, you'll have made one right step toward making use of your education. No woman ever wastes a college education if she uses it to get herself a good husband and to make a good home for him and their children.

Vishinsky And Co.

Two months ago a pair of American students cycling in Germany were arrested by Russian authorities. They were held prisoner until September 28.

In that interval, the two youths told U. S. officials, they were confined in what they described as "dungeons." What had they done to offend the Russians?

This was a comparatively mild instance of a practice that goes on all the time along the border between the Soviet and the western zones of Germany.

What had been his offense? He boarded the wrong streetcar in Berlin. It took him into the Soviet sector of the city, where he had no desire to go.

The young GI told American authorities that in an effort to force a "confession" from him the Russians beat him brutally a number of times and gave him the "water treatment."

As we have suggested, incidents of this sort are rather commonplace. The only reason for taking note of them is to remind Americans here at home what the Russians really are doing.

Any time you get to thinking that maybe Vishinsky and Company are talking straight and it is we Americans who are the culprits, just close your eyes and visualize that young soldier standing knee-deep in cold water.

Three Indiana youths held up a store after they had been in a dance marathon. Now they can practice the lockstep.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Walter Reuther's grandstanding postponed settlement of UAW-Ford strike; Ex-Senator Joe Ball returns to Washington as a lobbyist; Big business disguises itself in sheep's clothing.

WASHINGTON — Inside story of the Ford-United Auto Worker agreement on pensions was that it could have been settled exactly a week earlier—except for one thing: Walter Reuther didn't want it settled too easily.

On Friday, September 23, the redheaded chief of the United Auto Workers suddenly broke off his negotiations. Both sides had been pretty much in agreement. Everything was going well. But suddenly Reuther told John Bugas, chief negotiator for Ford:

"I can't come to an agreement without first threatening you with a strike." So negotiations were broken off. Strike news flared in the headlines. A strike deadline was even issued for midnight, Thursday, September 29. Ford had been entirely willing to give the Auto Workers an old-fashioned pension of $100 a month including government pensions.

Joe Ball Becomes Lobbyist: Nobody has heard much of Minnesota's sad-faced Senator Joe Ball since he was defeated last year. At first Joe toyed with the idea of becoming a newspaper columnist—almost a tough racket than being a senator. But that didn't seem to pan out, so now Joe, after some unhappy months of indecision, has turned up as a lobbyist.

Joe's job is quite a modest one when you consider his once-high place in GOP councils, and when you consider that some lobbyists rake down around fifty grand. For the ex-senator from Minnesota is drawing only around $8,000 as lobbyist for the Association of American Ship Owners.

These are the ship owners who don't get government subsidies, and part of Joe's job is to see that they get them. If you recall, how "vigilant" Joe fought against so-called "statism" when he was in the Senate, you can get some idea of how distasteful this lobbying job is going to be—also, how broke Joe must have been to take it.

Embarrassing Questions: Mote, who once received $8,000 as a lobbyist for the ship owners, now receives $8,900 from the congressional committee which writes the legislation the ship owners want passed. A bill—HR 8946—is now before Congress which would greatly expand government subsidies and grant ship owners more favorable tax depreciation. Mote, as lobbyist for the ship owners, helped with this bill. Now that the bill is before the House Merchant Marine Committee, Mote, as lobbyist for that committee, will advise on passing that bill.

Two New Leaders For Church Named

SALT LAKE CITY —(AP)—New presidents have been appointed for two missions, the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church announced. They are Benjamin L. Bowring, to head the Texas-Louisiana mission, and Waldo M. Anderson, to direct the Northern States mission.

There is no "mice" in these lamps, the simple fact being that insects are less attracted to a yellow lamp than to a white one of equal wattage.

War On Children's Diseases Shows Remarkable Progress

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D., Written for NEA Service

Many of the common childhood diseases which in civilized times have struck down so many are being conquered. Diphtheria, which took so many lives a generation or so ago, now is rare, thanks to preventive immunizations, better treatment, and improved public health measures.

Scarlet fever appears to be a less serious disease than it was, both with regard to frequency and to the harmful complications. In this case the good results appear to be caused, partly at least, by immunization and treatment with antitoxin and penicillin.

The campaign against diphtheria shows what can be done by organized effort in the child health field. The practice of early immunization of children against diphtheria has continued since 1930 and has resulted in the extraordinary record of not a single death from that disease among the residents in 40 large American cities in 1947.

In the case of measles, there may be some factor which we do not know about responsible for some of the improvement. The fine record in cutting down the deaths from that disease is a little hard to explain because, until recently at least, there was no very good way of preventing or treating this infection.

The results today with these important diseases of infancy and childhood are most gratifying. It seems definitely possible now that

So they say: Since the emergency powers act could be made into law quickly from the draft of the one available, the experts in the field of mobilization planning consider the task of balancing potential resources and requirements more urgent than putting legislation on the statute books.

Our Menus Are More Healthful Than They Were 20 Years Ago

By DOUGLAS LARSEN, NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Americans are learning what to eat. The most comprehensive study ever made of the eating habits of the American people has just been released by the Department of Agriculture.

Expert nutritionists who helped prepare the report agree that today's average American menu is far more balanced and healthful than it was 20 years ago. Advertising and public health campaigns for years have been trying to educate the people to this end.

There has been a steady shift away from the foods that make you fat to the foods that give you more energy and supply more of the important vitamins. In 20 years the average person has reduced his potato eating 63 per cent. During that same period his consumption of canned fruit juices has jumped 483 per cent.

From the standpoint of health, the experts say the increases in the consumption of dairy products, all fruits, and vegetables are the most significant changes. The eating of dairy products, exclusive of butter, has gone up approximately 40 per cent. For example, the average person now consumes 40 per cent, and for all fruits, 41 per cent.

Relative increases are only slightly minimized by the fact that the average American's intake of all food has gone up about 13 per cent. The big increases in consumption of dairy products, fruits and vegetables means that these items have become a much bigger fraction of the American diet.

In actual poundage, according to the experts, the average person's consumption of wheat flour, in the form of such things as bread and cake, has dropped from 203 pounds a year in 1929 to 129 pounds. The only wheat products which have increased in popularity are spaghetti and macaroni. Average per capita consumption of those two has increased from 4.1 pounds to 6.6 pounds.

The diet experts point out that there are important differences in wheat products which are essential to life. But the past there was a tendency to make them too big a fraction of the diet. The trend away from that large quantity which used to be eaten is considered good because it has been in the direction of more balanced diets.

Today the average person eats about 1,581 pounds of food per year, according to the report. Here it is broken down according to major food groups: At the top are dairy products with 431 pounds as the average yearly quantity consumed per person.

Grain Products Third: This group includes 171 pounds of grain products including those made from wheat, corn, rye, barley and rice. Next in order: 158 pounds of meat, poultry and fish; 115 pounds of potatoes and sweet potatoes; 100 pounds of apples, oranges, lemons, limes, grapefruit, and other citrus fruits; 105 pounds of citrus fruit and tomatoes; 65 pounds of fats, oils and butter; 47 pounds of eggs; 19 pounds of coffee, tea and cocoa; 16 pounds of dry beans, peas, nuts and soy products. They add up to the total of 1,581 pounds.

In 1929 grain products were the second most popular foods after dairy products. Since 1929 potatoes dropped from fourth to fifth place, and fruits and vegetables advanced from sixth to fourth place.

the expensive robe he himself had bought her. Maybe it was because the powder box played "Rockabye Baby." And all Jenny could seem to think about was the baby.

Jenny found herself depending on Rick in a lot of ways. Sensing her moods, he catered to them in which Tod never tried to do. In January there was an especially heavy snowfall, and Jenny mentioned something about what fun it must have been in the old days to sleigh-riding.

TOD, watching the way Rick's eyes clung to Jenny's face, knew he ought to feel jealous, but he didn't seem to. All he felt was a vague restlessness.

Jenny was happy these days, and had turned thoroughly domestic. She met with the weekly home economics club of the camp, to discuss husbands, babies, new recipes and trailer camp gossip.

February was a miserable month, bitterly cold and wet. Tod and Jenny kept pretty well to the trailer. Tod, wading snow across the camp to go to his classes, or to the grocery for Jenny, tried hard not to grumble about their lack of a car, but he felt worried about it. He was still worried about their financial situation.

Residents Will Get Typhoid Inoculation

BERNALILLO, N. M.—(AP)—Bernalillo residents will receive shots to protect them against typhoid fever this as an aftermath of last week's flood.

Dr. Frank C. Diver, district health officer, announced the shots will be given in a clinic to be opened in a Bernalillo school.

Mayor A. F. (Hooky) Apodaca reported state highway equipment has pumped all water out of the town. The water collected from arroyos which ran bankful after heavy rains in the Sandias. Ten houses were ruined.

A banister is not the handrail which fences off the stairs, but one of the vertical bars which runs from the balustrade to the steps.

Jenny's all alone and what it should get sick while I was gone?" "Yes, of course, she comes first." Ma began to weep. Her sobbing little hiccup noises in the receiver of the phone. "I don't have anyone that cares anything about me now." The desperate note in her words frightened him. He felt that he had better go.

Jenny wanted to point out that he was her only refuge also. But like Ma he was touchy about the tiniest hint of criticism. She let him go. After all, if she needed help she could raise the Hansens, and anyway, the baby wasn't due for another week.

But the wildness of the night and the sense of being alone gave Jenny an uneasy feeling. Almost as soon as Tod left it began to sleet. The sound drined softly on the roof of the trailer and pattered against the windows. She looked through the window facing the Hansen trailer after a while and she noticed that it was dark. Tod had forgotten to make sure they were going to be home all evening.

Fanic came to her quite suddenly with the first sharp twinges of pain. The howl that assailed was like a nightmare. She tried to keep calm by getting her overnight case ready to take to the hospital. Tod said he would not stay long. She did not dare venture out of the trailer because the ground was covered with ice and the wind was blowing the sleet in a steady drumming against the trailer now.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcetrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves. Barcetrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcetrate.

Senate Pigeonholes Housing Legislation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A program to spur construction of moderately-priced homes rested Thursday in a congressional pigeonhole labeled "Business for 1950."
The Senate put the bill there Wednesday night, approving instead a stop-gap resolution to extend through next March 1 the present federal home loan insurance program. That program is due to expire at the end of this month. Senator Maybank (D-SC) predicted quick House action on the extension resolution.
The measure the Senate shelved would have liberalized the loan insurance program and made possible lower down payments by home purchasers. The House has passed a somewhat similar measure, but the Senate decision forecloses any final action at this session.

Crime Is On The Increase

During the first six months of 1949, according to the FBI's semi-annual report, crime in the United States was greater than during the corresponding period in 1948. These charts, based on FBI data, show comparative amounts of crime—offenses known to police—during the two periods. Crime in rural areas increased 7.6 per cent, while in the cities the increase was 2.7 per cent. Sharpest upturn was in rural area burglaries, while the greatest decline was in negligent manslaughter in cities.

'Cheap' Parking Proves Expensive

DETROIT—(AP)—Edward Temple, 47, a city tax collector, is out $240 because he put a slug in a parking meter.
Temple was fined $100 Wednesday after pleading guilty in traffic and ordinance court to using a slug to park his car. A two-week suspension from his job in the city treasurer's office cost him $140.

China's Yellow river went on a rampage in 1886, flooding 20,000 square miles and claiming 2,000,000 lives.

Every Fifth Vehicle On Road Is Truck; Wider Highways Believed Only Solution

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—If you're driving your car much these days, you probably think there are more and bigger trucks on the road than ever before. And the figures amassed by the government and the trucking industry back up your general impression.

In 1941, last pre-war year, trucks registered in the United States totaled 5,110,000; in 1948 the number had zoomed to 7,555,000. What's more, total truck mileage was up 20 per cent in the same span, while passenger car mileage climbed a bit less than 10 per cent. And in 1948 trucks represented 18.4 per cent of all motor vehicles, an advance over 1941 when they were but 14.7 per cent of the total.

Then, too, the heavy tractor-trailer combinations are gaining on single-unit trucks in mileage traveled, although they still are outdistanced two to one. In the matter of tonnage, however, truck combinations in 1947 hauled double the volume handled by single-unit carriers, which had the upper hand in the mid-30s.

Together with an increase of some 4,000,000 in passenger cars from 1941 to 1948, this big boost in trucks is clogging the open roads and the key traffic arteries feeding our cities. About every fifth vehicle on the highway is a truck. If it's a heavy, on a straight, flat road it is equal to two passenger cars; in rolling terrain, to four cars; in hilly or mountainous country, to 15.

Public Roads Administration officials say the only solution to highway congestion is more and wider roads. Experts say a four-lane highway, for example, has a vehicle capacity four to five times greater than a two-lane road in open country. In city areas, an expressway can handle as much traffic as five ordinary streets each 40 feet wide (with parking banned).

But better highways cost huge sums and that usually means heavier motor fuel taxes or other charges. And wherever a state has come up with a big highway program involving higher gasoline taxes, the truckers invariably have opposed it. They admit gas tax costs bear heavily on them. Yet they insist also that most plans being advanced are starry-eyed; they question the wisdom of elaborate engineering studies made in California, Michigan, Ohio and other states. The truckers complain they aren't consulted in the drafting of plans, and say they want planning commissions on which all highway users are well represented.

Government officials view the truckers' attitude as a reluctance to pay added burdens. PRA experts say truckers thus far are bearing their share of highway costs, if damage caused to roads by overloading is ignored; but they believe truckers should stop fighting new taxes tooth and nail.

The issue of overloading is ticklish. Highway engineers say an axle load of 18,000 pounds is the maximum that most present roads can bear. They say long experience and tests prove that greater loads break up highway pavements. Public Roads Commissioner Thomas MacDonald points out, however, that 13 states permit axle loads in excess of 18,000 pounds, and that in 1947 some 35 trucks in every 1000 carried loads heavier than that.

Speaking for the truckers, the American Trucking Associations deny truckers are ruining the roads. They say tests up to now have been inconclusive, and cite cases where highways barred to trucks have cracked up badly in spots. Maybe this controversy will be settled for good by new engineering studies to be conducted under government sponsorship. An answer can't come too soon. For this year road trucks will cost the nation $1,100,000,000 and a large share of the $1,531,000,000 for new roads will actually go for rebuilding of highways battered beyond repair.

Newest insulating material is a solid plastic foam made by heating a molasses-like resin in an oven until it foams up to 100 times its original volume. Said to be the world's lightest solid, it can float on certain heavy gases.

Senate Will Delay House-Passed Plan On Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Riding a triumphant 333 to 14 House vote, legislation vastly expanding the national social security program moved over to the Senate Thursday. It would add 11,000,000 to the 35,000,000 workers now covered by old age insurance. Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee said the Senate is bound to vote for higher security benefits, but will not be able to act before the second session of the 81st Congress convenes in January. The new bill would raise the minimum old age benefit from $10 a month to $28. It would increase the maximum benefit for an elderly couple from $85 to about $126 a month. New Millions Covered In addition to blanketing new millions under old age and survivors insurance, for a total of 46,000,000 covered workers, the 201-page bill would: 1. Boost benefits by 70 to 80 per cent or more. 2. Create new disability insurance, to take care of persons who by illness or accident can never work again. 3. Increase the payroll taxes on employers and employees. The tax would go up from the present one per cent on each to 1 1/2 per cent next year; to two per cent in 1951; two and one-half per cent in 1952; to three per cent in 1955; and to three and one-fourth per cent on each in 1970. Among new groups wrapped into the program are self-employed persons, domestic servants and employees of state and local governments. This might mean the institution of a stamp book plan for 750,000 servants and their housewife employers, to collect the security taxes.

Cottonseed Loan Program Now Being Put Into Operation

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The Texas Production and Marketing Committee is "in the cottonseed business." B. F. Vance, chairman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture organization, announced that an emergency purchase program is being put into effect. He said forms now are being prepared for use by county committees. Plans call for committees to enter into written agreements with growers to accept a delivery of cottonseed from farmers at $46.50 a ton for the account of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Proceeds from the party will go to the DeMolay unit. B. W. Stevens, Lester Short, C. D. Hodges and Bob Maberry were in charge of arrangements for the event. About 35 were present.

Children Need Spiritual Help

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE AP Newsfeatures Writer What can we do for our children in a time of spiritual crisis? What do they need in order to be strong and unafraid? What are the ethical standards of the times demanding? The chief responsibility of course, must fall on parents. Dr. Paul Weaver, chairman of the division of philosophy and religion at Stephens College, stresses the need for using the principles of religion in a practical way. Says he: "One of our most important responsibilities today is to keep our children's emotional natures at a constant temperature, so to speak. On the physical side, nature has provided the human body with a wonderful mechanism which keeps the normal body temperature of 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit no matter what the weather is outside. But when an emotional blizzard or tornado sweeps the land, we have no such automatic protection. Develop Inner Stabilizer What, if anything, can we do about it, asks Dr. Weaver. How well are we equipped for controlling emotional epidemics? To begin with, says Dr. Weaver, we are human beings. As such, we have the power to develop within the human mind and spirit a purposeful stabilizing mechanism that can be made to control aggressive impulses when control is necessary and desirable, thus preventing the outbreak of that emotional and spiritual fever the world has so much cause to dread. What is the nature of this inner stabilizer? Perhaps, suggests Dr. Weaver, the best name for it is charity. "Charity is the product of the spirit of man; it develops in each of us according to his spiritual capacity. And spiritual capacity, like everything else, needs nurturing. It is getting far too little of that at present." Drinking Is Serious Today, more than eight million Americans are considered neurotic. It is estimated 6,000,000 daily doses of tranquilizing drugs are consumed in a single year says Dr. Weaver. The drinking problem, too, he says is serious. "Thousands of men and women drink for the same reason that thousands of others drug themselves to sleep—an easy means of escape from the problems of living. . . . It is highly significant that the only group which can point to unquestionably good results is Alcoholics Anonymous. A group founded upon the principles of religion—in other words, a group organized on recognition of the fact that the trouble is emotional and spiritual, not physical." Band Up Soul These same symptoms affect the youth of America as well, asserts Dr. Weaver. At every turn the child today is confronted with unprecedented dangers and challenges. He says: "If we do not strengthen his soul as well as his body, if we do not build up in him the stabilizing mechanism that will keep him immune to this epidemic insecurity and futility, the world's prospects are dark indeed." What can we do to save our children? Two things, at least. We can give them from their babyhood the sense of love and security all children need, and we can teach them self-discipline and respect for others. He explains: "Need Sense Of Neanness "These vital elements in personality cannot be separated; one is as necessary as the other. Love is the only profoundly creative force the world has ever known. We must love our children and let them know we love them. "We need the sense of neanness to our kind that comes from a caress, a warm handshake, a tender hug. Let us not be afraid to express our love for our children, but let us not confine it to that. Love is a miracle that has many forms; one is discipline. The best possible basis for discipline, of course, is a good example. If we as parents have found our own spiritual and emotional balance and maintain it, the battle for our children's success is half won.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log

(Continued From Page One) Both of these ventures are outside of the proven area of that pool. Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 3-30 Roy Glass is to be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 30, block 40, T-4-S, TP survey, and a northwest offset to the company's No. 2-30 Roy Glass, which has proven for Ellenburger production and is setting casing to complete as a producer. No. 3-30 Glass is to drill to 13,000 feet, using rotary tools. It is on the Midland County side of the Pegasus field, which is about 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland, and about the same distance northwest of Rankin. No. 1-36 Glass On DST On the Upton County side of the field, Magnolia No. 2-38 Roy Glass is to be 660 feet from south and east lines of section 36, block 41, T-4-S, TP survey, and three quarters of a mile south of Magnolia 1-36 Roy Glass which has also proven for Ellenburger production and is now taking a drill-stem test in that formation from 12,773-833 feet. No. 1-36 Glass flowed 48.8 barrels of 53.1-gravity oil from section at 12,723-777 feet in a drill-stem test. The flow was for one hour and 20 minutes. No. 2-36 Roy Glass is to drill to 13,000 feet to try for production from the Ellenburger. Completion Reported On Two Canyon Wells Completion has been made on two new wells in the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry County from the Canyon reef. The Standard Oil Company of Texas completed its No. 1-1 Brown for a daily potential of 809 barrels of 43° gravity oil, flowing natural through a three-quarter-inch tubing choke. There was no formation water reported. Gas-oil ratio of the new petroleum was 1,090-1. It completed from open hole between the 7-inch oil string set at 6,529 feet and the total depth at 6,795 feet in the Canyon. Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 392, block 97, H&TC survey. Flowing natural through a three-quarter-inch tubing choke, Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 3 House, rated a 24-hour potential of 2,256.18 barrels of oil from the Canyon reef. Gravity of the oil was 42.1 degrees and gas-oil ratio was 855. The new well also made two tenths of an acre per cent water. It is 3,057 feet from west and 467 feet from south lines of the lease in section 384, block 97, H&TC survey. Cabot Carbon Plugs SE Gains Failure Cabot Carbon Company of Midland, 2 S. E. Block, Northeast Gaines County wildcat between the Star Lake and Welch fields, created open hole between 4,925-954 feet with 10,000 gallons of acid and babbled only water. It developed no signs of commercial production and is preparing to plug and abandon. The failure is 690 feet from south and east lines of section 2, block C-31, pal survey. Faint Hope Held For Two Trapped Miners SHAMOKIN, PA. (AP)—Rescue workers worked feverishly Thursday in an effort to reach two miners trapped 70 feet below the earth when water broke through a mine wall. Only faint hope was held out that the hard coal miners, Kenneth Lunde, 39, and Lee Scovier, 39, both of Shamokin, survived their small independent operation.

Strawn Logs Further Oil Shows For Ury

Sunray Oil Company No. 1 Sentinel, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, seven miles northeast of Snyder, and two miles east of the closest producers from the Canyon reef line on the southeast side of the North Snyder field, has shown more possibilities of production in the Strawn section of the Pennsylvania. This project flowed oil at the estimated rate of 21 barrels per hour during a drillstem test of the zone at 7,232-7,448 feet. No water was developed from that section and no formation water was shown in the oil flowed out from the latest investigation. Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank sub-division of block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Central Scurry Gains Two Canyon Ventures

Drilling is to start immediately at two wildcats in Central Scurry County to explore into the Canyon lime reef of the Pennsylvania formation. Standard-Fryer Drilling Company of Dallas, and associates No. 1 J. B. York will be in the northwest side of the Snyder township, and approximately two and one-half miles from the nearest completed oil wells. Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 180, block 3, H&GN survey. It is projected to at least 1,000 feet. It is necessary to dig that deep to test the reef. Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 John Schattel will be five miles northeast of the town of Snyder and approximately the same distance southeast of the Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 Sentinel, which has indicated the discovery of flowing production from the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvania. The Sunray venture, which is two miles east of the nearest Canyon producers on the southeast side of the North Snyder field found the Canyon low and apparently missed any pay in that horizon. Hiawatha No. 1 Schattel will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 90, block 2, H&TC survey. It will start out to drill to 7,000 feet, to make a test of the Canyon reef.

Watchmakers Guild Sets Midland Parley

Midland was selected as the next meeting place for the Permian Basin Watchmakers Guild in a meeting of that group held Wednesday night in Big Spring. The Midland meeting is to be held November 2. Attending the Big Spring meeting from Midland were Orville Houck, vice president; J. B. Peterson, treasurer; Raymond Jenkins, reporter; and Bill Leavitt, J. L. Shannon, Michael Cristiani, L. R. Ellis, H. W. Coker and James D. McReynolds. J. C. Whisenant of Odessa, president, presided at the meeting. Governors Meet In Effort To Untangle MoPac Rail Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Four governors and representatives of four other states met here Thursday in an attempt to untangle the Missouri Pacific Railroad tangle. Top executives of the railroad and the four striking unions accepted invitations to discuss their problems behind closed doors. The conference was called by Gov. Forrest Smith of Missouri at the suggestion of Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas, the state hardest hit by the strike. Other governors at the meeting were Lee Knous of Colorado and Frank Carlson of Kansas. Governors' representatives were sent by Illinois, Louisiana, Nebraska and Oklahoma, Mississippi, Tennessee and Texas—the other states affected by the strike—were not represented. Smith said railroad officials would be heard first and that the unions would be permitted to present their case. The Missouri governor revealed he has a plan to settle the 28-day dispute, but he would divulge no details.

Pure Completes Two Dollarhide Projects

The Pure Oil Company has completed a new producer from the Ellenburger and one from the Silurian in the Dollahide field of Southwest Andrews County. The company's No. 30-E-A-E-P. Cowden flowed eight hours through a 20/64-inch tubing choke to rate a calculated 24-hour potential of 663 barrels of 44-degree gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 445-1. The flow from the Ellenburger was natural from open hole section between the top of the pay at 9,990 feet and the total depth at 10,103 feet. This new well is 1,983 feet from south and 1,594 feet from east lines of the lease in section 17, block A-52, pal survey. Pure No. 32-DS-A-E-P. Cowden flowed natural through a 25/64-inch tubing choke to rate a daily production of 468 barrels of oil. The gravity of the oil was 42.8 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 198-1. There was no formation water. Production was from open hole

Three Escapees From Potter Jail Are Recaptured

AMARILLO (AP)—Amarillo officers said three of five prisoners who escaped from jail here Wednesday were arrested in a stolen automobile at Oklahoma City. The two other escaped prisoners still were being sought. Amarillo officers said they were advised by the FBI that James Daniels, 22, Oklahoma City; David F. Early, 19, Denver; and Dwight Richard Butterfield, 21, Seattle, were taken. The car, a 1946 model Chevrolet, was stolen here shortly after the escape. It belonged to A. D. Culley of Enid, Okla. Marion Moss, 31, serving a drunk driving fine, and William Lester Bunsard, 22, both of Amarillo, still had not been apprehended. The five escaped by overpowering their jailer. The three captured men were in jail here in transit from Santa Fe, N. M., to El Reno, Okla., at the time of their escape. Wranglers' Party To Be Held Later

The party promised members of the Wranglers Club of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening by R. D. (Bob) Scruggs, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has been postponed indefinitely. Delbert Downing, manager of the organization, said. Downing explained that many of the Wranglers are away from the city and the party will be staged at a later date. Scruggs had made arrangements for the party and barbecue at the Dunagan farm, south of Midland. He will entertain the 16 members of the club to reward them for obtaining 105 new Chamber of Commerce members this year. The club is the official membership and greeters division of the Chamber of Commerce. Bill Collins is foreman of the cowboy-type organization. Captains are John P. Butler and L. M. Freels.

District 5-A Spotlight On Lobo-Wildcat Tilt Friday

By SHORTHY SHELBURNE

There'll be a separation of the men from the boys in District 5-A this week when the Class A State Champion Monahans Lobbs play host to the wild Wildcats from Wink. The tilt is scheduled at 8 p.m. Friday in the new Lobo Stadium and it headlines district action.

It'll be Monahans' brilliant Carl Chumney against Wink's versatile Pat Drum. They are two of the finest Class A backs in the state.

Wink also sports a fine passing game to match that of the champs.

Monahans is undefeated this season while Wink has lost two. Andrews surprised the Wildcats in their only conference loss.

On paper, it looks like the Lobos have a slight edge. Don't be surprised if the Wildcats trim that edge to nothing, however, in other games but we doubt that they can cope with the rugged Indians.

The best place to look for an upset will be Pecoc where the once-powerful, still capable Eagles take on McCamey's Badgers.

McCamey is looking for some fresh blood in the win column and they could get it here if they can stop George Christian and Jerry Fairley.

Offense is little worry to the Badgers. They have scored well in almost every game.

Andrews apparently will get a chance to polish its already sparkling T formation more. They are inviting the oft-defeated Denver City eleven down for a session Friday night.

We doubt if it will be even a nice trip for the Denver City boys. There isn't much scenery along the route from Denver City to Andrews. And Coach Francis Tubbs Mustangs are noted for kicking up plenty of dust when in their home corner.

So, barring upsets, there appears to be but a chance of a top team leading ground in the race. Monahans or Wink definitely will lose in the percentage column, even if they battle to a tie.

Here are the district standings up to now:

Team	W	L	T	Pct
Kermitt	4	0	0	1.000
Monahans	2	0	0	1.000
Seminole	1	0	1	1.000
Andrews	2	1	0	.667
Wink	2	1	0	.667
Crane	2	1	1	.667
Pecoc	1	2	0	.333
McCamey	1	2	0	.333
Denver City	0	4	0	.000
Fort Stockton	0	4	0	.000

Conference-leading Kermitt gets somewhat of a breather when it meets the Golden Cranes from Crane High School on the Kermitt grid in a Saturday night tussle.

Rick Spinks, top scorer in the district with 42 points, should have little trouble leading his Yellow-jackets to victory. Crane is at least a year away from any major success in 5-A, the state's toughest district.

Seminole, a team which has surprised everyone all year after getting off to a slow start, visits oiled-dwelling Fort Stockton Friday night.

The Stockton Panthers showed up better against Monahans last week than they have in other games but we doubt that they can cope with the rugged Indians.

The best place to look for an upset will be Pecoc where the once-powerful, still capable Eagles take on McCamey's Badgers.

McCamey is looking for some fresh blood in the win column and they could get it here if they can stop George Christian and Jerry Fairley.

Offense is little worry to the Badgers. They have scored well in almost every game.

Andrews apparently will get a

STRONG TEXAS WIND— Sooners Make Hay Of Cherry Remark

Oklahoma's spies sneaked out of Texas a confidential news letter mailed to Texas alumni on prospects against the Sooners.

It told about Texas' 56-7 defeat of Idaho last week at Austin and added:

"Texas wasn't well prepared for Idaho—had little scout work and worked nearly all last week on Oklahoma."

"Cherry's mild chance - taking paid off by giving Texas an extra week to get ready for Oklahoma."

Dressing Room Interview An Austin newspaper told after a dressing room interview after the Texas-Idaho game.

"We didn't use a single play against Idaho that we will use against Oklahoma," Randall Clay, Texas right half, was quoted as saying after the game.

It isn't Mr. Cherry, that Oklahoma doubts your statement. It's just that the Texas wind gets pretty strong—and hot—by the time it reaches Oklahoma.

Sooners Make Hay Of Cherry Remark

By SAUL FELDMAN

NORMAN, OKLA.—(AP)—Memo to Texas Football Coach Blair Cherry: The University of Oklahoma is pushing practices a little harder for its game with your team at Dallas Saturday after your statement Wednesday.

Said Cherry: "We don't aim to go all out in an effort to win. We have too many tough games ahead to shoot the works against Oklahoma."

Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma received the news calmly. There was no panic. But at practice linemen blocked a little harder, runners scooted faster, and punts sailed farther.

Oklahoma defeated Texas 20-14 last year for the first time in eight seasons. Seventy-five thousand persons will witness this year's classic in the Cotton Bowl.

Wilkinson's only comment on Cherry's statement was the opinion that when a team is beaten by an arch rival it's usually double tough on the winner the next year.

Underground Report Oklahoma players who learned of Cherry's remarks also were briefed on an underground report.

Favorites Stay Up In First Round Of Women's Joust

Sybil Flournoy, tournament medalist, continued to set the pace in the Midland Country Club Women's Championship Golf Tournament here as match play opened Wednesday. She carried an 82 in the first round of the championship flight to beat Evelyn Cowden 5-4.

Defending Champion Mrs. Essie Stafford was forced to go an extra hole in her first round match with Shirley Culbertson. The champ won out 1-up on 19.

Gloria Ezell, one of the favorites in the meet, downed Dell Shelton in another championship flight match.

Madeline Pomeroy beat Kay Mechling 3-2.

Losers in first round matches dropped into the consolation bracket. They opened play Thursday.

The championship flight is scheduled for 18-holes and the other brackets go nine.

In first round matches in the first flight, Mrs. R. K. White beat Marion Culbertson 3-2; Marion Jones beat Mrs. W. P. Castleman 4-3; Mrs. R. S. Anderson beat Mrs. Marie Patton 2-up, and Mrs. R. W. Hamilton beat Emily Cook 4-3.

In the second flight, Kitty Ashby beat Helen Hood 3-2; Mrs. M. Olson beat Mrs. L. Davison 2-1; Sally Pierce beat Mrs. A. Knickerbocker 1-up on 9 holes, and Glynnia Pay Day beat Katherine Franklin 3-2.

Trailing 3-2 in games, Mrs. B. George and Mrs. R. M. Turpin drew byes in the first round of the 4-F flight. In the only first round match played in this flight, Mrs. W. Barker beat Mrs. J. D. Thompson.

Mrs. Turpin and Mrs. George met in a second round match with Mrs. Turpin winning 2-1.

The tournament will continue through Saturday. Trophies will be awarded Saturday afternoon.

Dixie Series Will Resume Thursday Night In Nashville

NASHVILLE, TENN.—(AP)—Like a man hanging from a cliff, the Nashville Yols will be fighting a battle of desperation Thursday night when they meet the Tulsa Oilers in the all-important sixth game of the Dixie Series.

Trailing 3-2 in games, Nashville—the Southern Association champion—has a chance to even up the series and send it into a seventh and deciding game Friday night.

A victory for the Oilers—the Texas League leaders—will give them the championship.

Vol Manager Rollie Humesley plans to open with fireball Frank Marline on the mound, and Tulsa Manager Al Vincent says "In all probability" he will use Dave Jolly.

Eleven times Southeast Conference teams played in the Rose Bowl, with Alabama furnishing six of the teams.

Yuma Fliers Break Old Endurance Mark; Announce New Goal

YUMA, ARIZ.—(AP)—Yuma's refreshed and rejuvenated endurance fliers continued to add more hours to their new world flight record Thursday.

They passed the old mark of 1,008 hours at 8:15 p.m. (CST) Wednesday, and immediately announced the emotional lift of reaching their goal had removed much of the growing fatigue they have felt in the last four days.

Their plane "The City of Yuma" carried them past the record without a major fault during their six weeks in the air. It is a four-place Aeronca monoplane powered by an 85-horsepower Continental engine.

Shattering of the old record by the two Navy veteran pilots—Bob Woodhouse and Woody Jongeward—touched off a major celebration at the Yuma County Airport Wednesday night.

One minute before the goal was reached, all lights in the city and area were turned off. Then, at 8:15 p.m. the lights were flashed back on, and police sirens, fire whistles and automobile horns were blown in celebration of the event.

While their plane circled the Yuma County Airport, an estimated 10,000 persons cheered the fliers on toward their announced goal of continuing one more week until October 12.

"The airplane and the pilots are in the same condition," Jongeward reported. "Both are tired, but could stay up a lot longer."

Houston Clears Up Hurricane Damage

HOUSTON.—(AP)—The last vestiges of trouble created by Monday's hurricane were on the way to being cleared up Thursday.

About 100 telephones, still out of service, were expected to be restored by nightfall, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company said.

The Morgan's Point Ferry was carrying passenger cars, but the State Highway Department said it will announce later when repairs will permit the ferry to carry trucks.

The Lynchburg Ferry was back in operation.

The Houston Lighting and Power Company said service had been restored by Wednesday night to the last of about 1,000 homes which had service breaks still out Wednesday morning. Scattered trouble may still exist, an official said, but it will be taken care of immediately upon being reported.

Clouds, Rain, Clear Skies Accent Varied State Weather Pattern

By The Associated Press

Clouds were trapped over Central Texas Thursday, the Weather Bureau said, as winds from an East Texas hurricane traveled northward into Illinois.

Light rain was reported in Waco Thursday morning, and clouds covered Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Austin and San Antonio. Scattered clouds were reported in south Texas over Brownsville and Laredo.

West Texas was clear from the Big Bend country to the Northern Panhandle, and the sun appeared in East Texas along the upper and middle coast.

Light rains fell in Texarkana, Junction, Wink, Ozona and Presidio.

Cub Scouts Tour Reporter-Telegram

Eight boys from Cub Scout Pack 6, accompanied by the Den Mother, Mrs. Norris Creath, toured The Reporter-Telegram plant Wednesday afternoon.

They were shown the complete process involved in putting out a daily paper from the copy desk to the press room. Of great interest to the group was the teletype machine.

Members of the pack making the tour of inspection were Harold Bahr, Garry Creath, Bradley Woods, Bill Jenkins, Don Pass, Tim Thompson, Carl Peters and Teddy Fitting.

Swarming Workers To Complete North Big Spring Baptist Mission In One Day

Only the foundation will mark the site of the North Big Spring Street Mission of the First Baptist Church Saturday morning but by nightfall the building will be near enough complete for services to be held there Sunday.

More than 200 hours of labor have been donated by church members in laying the foundation for the building and many more will be expended Saturday as the building goes up.

In addition to church members, there will be swarms of carpenters, plumbers and other construction men staying in time for Sunday services. Each man and each crew will have a separate job to complete. As the frame is completed, a crew will start putting on the roof, a crew will be at work on the siding and another will be working on the interior.

Building committee members who have helped in planning the building and in raising money toward paying for it, are: Joe Wright, Leon Arnett, R. O. Walker and Floyd Pace.

Wright and Pace are supervising the construction of the 40 by 60-foot building.

Sunday school will be held in the new building at 9:45 a.m., according to Robert Allen, superintendent. The Rev. J. W. Arnett, District Missionary from Big Spring will bring the sermon.

A barbecue for the workers will be spread on the grounds Saturday noon. Ladies of the church are donating homemade pies and cakes.

The church is located on the

Handicapped Filling Station Attendant Is Shot To Death

AMARILLO—(P)—A handicapped filling station attendant was shot and killed by a robber here early Thursday.

The victim was Charles Lee Freeman, 21, whose left arm was crippled.

His body was found lying on its back in front of the rifled cash register of the Suburban Service Station.

Police said the robber got $31.11 from the cash register and turned Freeman's pockets inside out in a search for more money.

Freeman last was seen at about 12:20 a.m. when he went to a nearby cafe to pick up some coffee. Mrs. Hazel Scott, waitress in the cafe, said the first she knew anything was wrong when police arrived shortly afterward at the station. Freeman died at 1:25 a.m.

Wormie Kelly, owner of the station, said he called the station several times after midnight but got no answer.

Shot Through Stomach
The owner went to the station and found Freeman in the middle of the filling station office shot through the stomach. He had suffered severe loss of blood.

Police arrived at 12:54 a.m. Freeman was taken to a hospital but died without regaining consciousness.

Officers said Freeman was shot through the stomach and the bullet passed out of his body. The gun used, they deduced, was a nine-millimeter Luger.

Freeman's father, L. R. Freeman of Amarillo, was recovering in Northwest Texas Hospital Thursday from an appendectomy performed Wednesday. He wasn't told of the shooting immediately.

Kaiser Makes Peace With Steelworkers As Walkout Spreads

PITTSBURGH—(P)—The CIO United Steelworkers made peace with Henry J. Kaiser but spread their walkout to two more plants Thursday.

The ranks of 500,000 striking steelworkers were joined Wednesday night by 1,500 at the Atlantic Steel Company in Atlanta and 2,800 at the Riverdale Plant of the Acme Steel Company near Chicago.

Astoria is a basic steel plant which also does some manufacturing while Acme's Riverdale Plant is primarily a fabricator.

Despite these developments there are no signs of an early peace in the double-barreled steel-coal walkout.

Kaiser Steel's acceptance of contract demands was announced Wednesday night by Murray, president of the steelworkers.

Kaiser did what big steel refuses to do. It signed an agreement to give four per cent man-hour for insurance and six cents and hour for pensions paid completely by the company. The plan is retroactive to October 1. Thirty-five hundred employees at its Pontiac, Calif. plant will benefit. Their contract was due to expire October 15.

The Kaiser agreement, which follows the exact recommendations of the presidential fact-finding board, is the first reached since the strike began.

French President Starts Formation Of New Cabinet

PARIS—(P)—French Premier Henri Queuille's resignation was accepted Thursday by President of the Republic Vincent Auriol.

Queuille, who had led France's government for the last 13 months, submitted his resignation Wednesday because of a split in his coalition cabinet over wage and price controls.

Auriol began Thursday afternoon the difficult job of trying to find a new premier.

Queuille quit because the opposed demands for a general wage boost made by the Socialists, who were one of the main parties in his coalition cabinet that had held together for a year and 26 days—the longest of any postwar French government.

Communist and non-Communist unions have demanded wage boosts to offset rising prices expected from devaluation of the franc.

It was the fifth time since the creation of the postwar Fourth French Republic that Auriol has accepted a premier's resignation.

A single quarry blast, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica, may loosen enough rock to fill 8,000 standard gondola cars.

Veterans Administration Eases New Ruling On GI Schooling, Tosses Issue Of Abuses Under Training Program Into Congress' Lap

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Veterans Administration tossed one of its hottest potboilers—abuses of GI education benefits—into the lap of Congress Thursday.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, in easing the sharpest of his recent restrictions on veterans training Wednesday, said it's up to Congress to put new teeth into the GI Bill.

Gray warned that unless the law made more strict, the cost of training veterans for jobs will exceed a staggering $60,000,000,000 by the time the benefits expire July 25, 1956.

Acting Chairman Pepper (D-Fla.) called the Senate Labor and Education Committee into closed session to consider the education and training problems.

Pepper Wednesday read the committee a letter from H. V. Striling, assistant veterans administrator, which said Gray has concluded he lacks authority under existing law to correct grave abuses that now exist.

Practically All Eligible
Striling said practically every World War II veteran is eligible for education or training under the existing law, whether he needs it or not.

"The underlying spirit of the education and training provision of the act for all practical purposes has been lost sight of," Striling said.

"The increase in subsistence payments to $75, $100, and $120 a month has encouraged veterans to seek courses or training requiring only five hours a day or 25 hours a week of attendance.

"Schools have been organized since June 22, 1944, for the sole purpose of offering courses which everyone knows would not be continued without GI payments."

Instruction Repealed
Gray repealed the controversial "Instruction 1-A" he had issued three weeks ago.

It required veterans to provide special justification before they could resume interrupted courses, transfer to new courses or schools, take post-graduate work or enroll in schools established since September, 1944.

Gray's new rules provide only that course changes must be in the same general field. Courses may be continued through masters and doctorate degrees for veterans who have sufficient entitlement.

Veterans who wish to change to courses outside their field may do so only after the Veterans Administration has ruled that the change is desirable and needed, and that the veteran is qualified.

The new order also said that flight courses offered by institutions of higher learning as part of the standard requirements for a degree shall not be considered recreational or avocational.

Roosevelt Era To Have Its First Portrait Painted By Noted Historian

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The America of Franklin D. Roosevelt's time is having its first big portrait painted.

The artist who has undertaken this ambitious task is 22-year-old Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., one of the youngest historians ever to achieve Pulitzer prize winning fame. In 1945, at the age of 28, he was awarded that honor for his penetrating study of "The Age of Jackson."

Since 1946, Schlesinger has been at work on "The Age of Roosevelt." He intends this as a comprehensive attempt to catch the mood and temper of the late President's 12 years in office, to single out the chief strands of a story generally viewed as one of the most spectacular chapters in American life.

The bespectacled young historian says the book will not be a biography of Roosevelt, except incidentally. And obviously it will not be what historians call the "definitive"—final and complete—history of the period. It all happened too recently. Many priceless clues to the times may not become known to scholars for many years more.

How Does a Historian go about a hard job like this?
"Well," says Schlesinger, "since 1946 I've read all the existing books on Roosevelt and his times. I've waded through the files of weekly news magazines and other periodicals covering the years from 1932 to 1945. And I've dipped into the writings of major columnists."

But all these represent only the first broad brush strokes of background for America's portrait in the Roosevelt era.

Starting in July of this year, Schlesinger began to pack into his mind the rich, exciting detail he will need to give color and substance to his picture. He took up summer residence at the Roosevelt Library in Hyde Park, N. Y., for this part of the job.

There he undertook a painstaking study of the vast array of Roosevelt's papers, which only now are becoming available to scholars. Schlesinger is the first historian of major stature to look at them.

"Roosevelt kept everything," he says. "He has a personal file for more or less confidential material, a general White House file, a special speech file which he loaded up with ideas for talks, and a big collection of miscellaneous material, including thousands of letters from ordinary citizens."

In these various mountains of papers are memoranda of all kinds, notes, letters, telegrams, government documents and reports—a high percentage of the written matter that passed through the President's hands. And, naturally, a good deal of it is of slight value to a historian concerned with the broad sweep of can't be sure that a typed letter signed by Roosevelt was not composed by a secretary or adviser. In Jackson's papers, the President's own handwriting is the scholar's assurance.

"As for the telephone, it is so easy to do business that way nowadays that many vital decisions are made in wire conversations. All the historian gets is a letter from the President saying: 'This is to confirm our telephone conversation of yesterday.'"

Plainly, the history of a period more than a century ago is more "self-contained," adds Schlesinger. All the participants are dead, all the memoirs are written, all the evidence in.

"It's different with contemporary history," he points out. "Whatever you write, there's always the fear that some living person will pop up and say: 'I was there, and it wasn't at all the way you have it.'"

To correct for the inevitable errors growing out of the uncertainties in the source material, Schlesinger will submit a first draft of his book to many individuals personally involved in the story. Out of this trial by fire will come the most reliable version he can produce—helped again by more background studies in the newspaper files of 1932-1945. The final account will go light on the war events and stress the domestic scene.

With luck, says Schlesinger, he will daub in the last touches in 1951 and give us the finished portrait sometime that year.
