Citizens Urged Not To Follow Fire Trucks

Late one night last week a fire alarm sounded.

One volunteer fireman who drove to the scene was forced to park two and one-half blocks from the fire and walk!

That many spectators had gathered around the residence and parked cars at the scene.

"Please stop following the trucks and parking so close that we cannot effectively get about to put out the fire," said Fire Chief John Ballew.

Local citizens were reminded again that a state law and city ordinance states that spectators must remain 300 feet away from the fire, he emphasized. Anyone violating one or both are subject to a fine.

"This law and ordinance was passed for your protection, and ours," he said. If fireman are hampered or delayed, the possibility of injuries and cost in damage goes up by the minute!

It would also be wise, and courteous, and law-abiding, to pull to the curb for at least two minutes, if you are driving when an alarm sounds, Ballew said.

Fire trucks and vehicles driven by volunteer firemen have the right-of-way.

Sabrejet Wreck Is Located

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., July 24 —(UP)— Ground rescue squadrons found the wreckage Saturday of an F-86E Sabrejet missing since Wednesday when it plunged into a dive as it approached Kirtland field here.

The pilot, Capt. G. G. George of Lansing, Mich., the only persons aboard, was dead.

Air Force officials said the wreckage was scattered over a radius of 100 yards on the slope of a large gully about 1 9miles southwest of Kirklent.

Captain George was enroute from Detroit to Ontario, Calif., where he was to have participated in the Air National Guard race Saturday.

Conservative Demos Head Conventions

Childress County's conservative Democrats took charge of the Democratic Precinct Conventions here Saturday afternoon.

Delegates to the county convention, which will be held at the court house at 2:30 p. m. next Saturday, were named and a resolution endorsing Gov. Allan Shivers efforts on behalf of Texas was passed.

Governor Takes Slight Lead Over Yarborough

DALLAS, July 25 —UP— Governor Allan Shivers, after trailing Ralph Yarborough by 6,000 votes at midnight, moved into a 9,000 vote lead at 1:30 a. m. His total vote was 519,000 to 510,000 for Yarborough.

Mounting returns from the Texas Democratic primary election pointed Saturday night to a runoff between Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarbrough.

The 10:30 p. m. tabulation by the Texas Election Bureau, with returns from 146 of the 254 counties-including 17 complete-showed Yarborough with 198,175 votes and Shivers with 192,785.

But there were two minor candidates, J. J. Holmes, and Austin contractor, and Arlon B. Cyclone Davis, a 73-year-old Dallas fender repairman, who has a beard like Santa Claus.

Could Ruin Majority

Holmes had 5,703 votes in the 10:30 tabulation and Davis had 5,117. Though neither had a chance of winning, their combined votes showed indications of preventing either Shivers or Yarborough from getting more votes than all the other candidates combined.

In other major races:

The 10:30 p.m. tabulation showed Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who never left Washington, with 264,578 votes. His opponent for the one Senate seat at stake, Dudley Dougherty, a rich Beeville, Tex., rancher, had 105, 122.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey appeared assured of re-election. He had a total of 237,863 votes at 10:30 p. m. to 60,371 for C. T. Johnson and 55,731 for Rep George Hinson of Mineola.

Shepperd Leads Crouch

In the race for attorney general, incumbent John Ben Shepperd had 281,344 votes to 73,457 for State Rep. Doug Crouch of Fort Worth.

Two congressmen running for renomination re-election ran in-

Survivors Report Red Planes Shot Down Unarmed Airliner

HONG KONG, July 24 —(UP)— Survivors of a defenseless British airliner shot down by two red-nosed Communist jet fighters over the Red-held island of Hainan said Saturday the attack was "cold-blooded murder."

Eighteen persons were aboard the Cathay Pacific Airways C-54. One passanger was known to be dead. One of the crewmembers was reported "killed instantly" by the Red gun fire. Eight other passengers and crew members, including three Americans, were missing and presumably dead.

Three other Americans were among the eight survivors who were all hospitalized at Howloon Island hospital.

Protest Planned

The British government instructed its charge d'affaires in the Red Chinese capital of Peiping, Humphrey Trevelyan, to protest the attack. The British said that the Soviet-built MIG fighters which riddled the airliner could have come only from Hainan island — a major Red air and submarine base.

The American survivors were P. A. Thacher, of Stonington, Conn.; Mrs. L. L. Paris, of Iowa Park, Tex., and her six-year-old daughter Valerie.

The three missing Americans also were members of the Parish family Capt. L. Parish, a four-year-old son and a two-year-old daughter. The missing were presumed dead or may have been picked up by a Red Chinese in small boats which observers saw leaving Hainan.

Mrs. Parish suffered a broken

Farmers Vote 'Tough' Quota On Referendum

WASHINGTON, July 24 —(UP)— Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson promised Saturday to carry out "constructively and equitably" the tough federal wheat production controls voted by the nation's farmers Friday.

He said that if Congress passes legislation recommended by President Eisenhower for sliding scale, 75 to 90 per cent of parity price supports, "the adjustments will be made under an effective level of price supports."

The wheat farmers voted the toughest controls in history on next year's production. All farmers growing more than 15 acres in 1955 will have to accept average allotments cutting plantings about 13 per cent, or forfeit price supports.

Those violating the allotments also will have to pay a cash fine on each bushel produced on excess acreage.

What makes the program the most drastic ever is that all will have to stay within allotments that may be set on other crops — such as corn, cotton, peanuts — to be eligible for supports on any one crop.

Farmers with 10 acres or more idled by allotments will get a "total farm" allotment on everything they grow except for hay and pasture.

If the wheat farmers had voted against controls, government pirce guarantees on next year's crop could be cut to 50 per cent of the so-called "fair" parity price.

Benson remarked that the "results of the referendum on wheat marketing quotas show that most of our wheat farmers recognize the serious wheat surplus problem and are willing to make production adjustments to help bring supplies into better balance with demand."

The vote was surprisingly light in view of the number of farmers eligible to ballot.

Unofficial preliminary returns from the Agriculture Department showed that 73.3 per cent of 267,-104 farmers voting for the quota program which is coupled with the

All-Staters Dot Backfield Of Squads For Greenbelt

By LARRY LAWRENCE

Sale of tickets for the annual Greenbelt Bowl football game which is less than two weeks away still is going strong, it was reported Saturday. The ducats, priced at $1.75 now and $2 during the last three days prior to the game, are on sale at Roberson-Eubank and Holleman's.

Area grid fans have been assured of a top-notch all-star clash this year and in addition the outstanding half-time show in the five-year history of the Greenbelt Bowl. Four of the state's top coaches and two trainers will head the squads for the annual tilt.

A look at the rosters for the East and West squad does little this year. Probably the West has a slight advantage in the backfield with the East line stacking up as slightly superior.

Heading the strong West backfield will be two of the better upper division quarterbacks of 1954—Odessa's Carl Schlemeyer, Class 4A All-Stater and honorable mention All-America, and Kenneth Ford of Breckenridge, twice on the All-State squad.

The East, however, also has three of the top quarterbacks of the state headed by two District 2A-8 stars, LaNoal Castleberry, of the Bobcats, and Phil Slater of Olney. Also on the East roster is

Reeves Captures Second Term

Elbert Reeves of Matador was re-elected to a second term as State Reperesentative of the 88th District over his opponent, Jimmy Faulkner of Turkey, by a margin of approximately two to one.

The vote was 5,034 for Reeves and 2,343 for Faulkner.

Reeves carried every county in the district and carried his home county of Motley nearly nine to one.

The closest votes were cast in Donley and Hall Counties. The Childress County vote was approximately three and a half to one in favor of Reeves.

The votes in the counties were as follows: Motley, Reeves, 956 to 99 for Faulkner; Hall, Reeves, 1,-072 to 988 for Faulkner; Donley, Reeves 885 to 605 for Faulkner, and Childress, Reeves, 2,121 to 651 for Faulkner.

LEGION BASEBALLERS TO TURN IN SUITS

Members of the American Legion baseball team were reminded Saturday that all suits are to be turned in to Leo Stephens, team coach, or Larry Lawrence, team manager, immediately.

Kimbrough Is Victor In Race For School Job

Childress County residents went to the polls Saturday and elected a new sheriff, county attorney, county judge and school superintendent according to complete unofficial returns. They also returned several incumbents to office who were unopposed for re-election.

Scoring an upset victory in the democratic primary was Gaylon B. Smith, present Commissioner of Precinct 1, who won out over Paul Griffin in the closest county race on the ballot. Griffin, a former deputy sheriff here, is serving his first term as sheriff.

Taking over the office of county judge January 1 will be Leonard King, who now is serving as county attorney. King had an approximate 2-1 margin over his opponent Charles M. Barnes.

In other contested local races, Mrs. B. F. Hardy was returned to the office of treasurer and Wade Kimbrough defeated Mrs. Orville K. Smith for the office of county superintendent.

Runoffs will be necessary in three races locally--those of Precinct 1 and 2 commissioners and constable of Precinct 1.

In Precinct 1 top vote-getters who will square off again are O. T. Rothwell and E. L. (Ernest) Ham. Precinct 2 will have John Turk Fowler and Dave Brummett in the runoff.

O. C. Hammitt was the top vote-getter in the constable's race, but due to the large field of seven will have a run-off election with Willie Prescott. Hammitt gardened 659 votes to 478 for Prescott.

Returned to office without opposition were State Senator Andy Rogers, Mark Graham, county clerk; Edwin Cato, district clerk; Fred B. Mitchell, tax collector-assessor; Allen Harp, district attorney; H. D. Cordell, democratic chairman, and L. C. Elliott,

Mayor Reports On Latest Trip To Washington

Mayor H. C. Preslar returned Friday from Washington where he spent several days in trying to get the army aviation school located at the deactivated Childress Air Field.

The Mayor reported that Childress "was the last one eliminated" before Camp Rucker's selection. Camp Rucker is located in Alabama.

"There were just too many things in Camp Rucker's favor," he said. Primarily, the facility requirements and cost ruled Childress out.

The total cost to move the school to Childress would have been $20,225,240, while cost of moving the school to Camp Rucker was estimated at $7,014,240.

Included in Preslar's report was the comparison of the cost of new construction. Estimated cost at Childress would have been $4,503,-600, while Rucker will require $1,-911,600.

Hanger space required was 324,000 square feet. Childress could offer only 73,800 feet. Total feet required would have been 584,500. Again Camp Rucker bested Childress with 338,035 to 225,000 feet.

"Everyone I contacted was very cooperative, and I am very optimistic about another plan which would better suit Childress' size,"

The returns were from the Texas Election Bureau.

Re-Districting Asked By Voters

Childress County voters have requested that the county be re-districted into one precinct across the river and three south by a vote of approximately two to one, unofficial and incomplete returns showed late Saturday night.

All of the 16 boxes in the county were complete with the exception of Gilpin which was not expected to make much change in the final results. A total of 33 votes were cast in the Gilpin box in other races.

The vote was for re-districting, 1,729 and against re-districting, 889.

The change in the districts will be made effective as of January 1, 1956.

The vote on the re-districting question in the boxes was as follows:

Precinct 1(NW Childress), for, 412, against159.

Precinct 2 (Kirkland), for, 77, against 77.

Russia Calls For European Meeting

MOSCOW, July 24 —(UP)— The Soviet Union proposed Saturday night an international conference of European nations and the United States be called soon to discuss the setting up of a new collective security system for Europe.

Russia proposed that Communist China attend the conference as an observer.

In identical notes handed by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to the United States, French and British the Soviets proposed the meeting to consider the security of Western Europe be held "within the coming months."

The Russian note did not suggest a site for the conference. Saturday's notes largely repeated the proposal outlined in Russia's note of March 31, in which the Soviets offered to join the North Athlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and to take part in setting up a new European security system, western diplomats said.

The Soviet foreign minister handed the notes to French Charge d'Affairs Jean Leroy, British Ambassador Se Wllam Hayter and American Charge d'Affairs Walter N. Walmsley Jr., in that order.

The three western diplomats were summoned at 30 minute intervals to the foreign office beginning at 3 p. m. (6 a.m. cst.).

The Soviet note of March 31

Local Faculty Completed; Registration Dates Set

Childress' schools faculties have been completed for next year with the hiring of a Wilson principal and a special instructions teacher, it was reported Saturday by Newell Odell.

H. P. Powers, 47, was hired as the Wilson School principal for the coming year. A veteran of 27 years in the school business, he has served as superintendent of Throckmorton, with a total of seven years in that system.

He took his college work at Hardin-Simmons University and Texas Tech. According to Odell, he and his wife are the parents of two daughters, one a high school freshman and the other five-years old.

The Powers are expected to move to Childress around August 1.

Signed as the special teacher was Mrs. Alda B. Wynn, of Childress, who currently is attending North Texas State College taking a survey course to qualify for the position.

She has taught in the local school system for two years.

Odell also announced that Rhoads School would start classes this year on August 2, about one month in advance of other local schools. Regular school term will start September 6.

Football players for the 1954 team were instructed to report for the first work-outs on August

County Farmers Favor Controls

County farmers favored continued wheat controls for 1955, 163 to 36, in voting in the wheat referendum Friday, according to Gene Frisbie of the local ASC office.

Generally, voting was light throughout the county at the five boxes, Frisbie said.

Only 40 to 50 per cent of eligible farmers, out of an estimated 600, voted in the referendum, he added.

Childress County's 1955 wheat allotment was affected slightly by the 13 per cent decrease, leaving a total of 43,601.

Greenbelt Bowl Officers To Meet

Officers, directors and institutional representatives of the Greenbelt Bowl will meet at 6:45 p.m. Monday in the director's room of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Several important items of business are to be discussed at this session and it is important that all of the above persons attend," said Morris Higley, game co-chairman.

TRAINS ON SCHEDULE

Local Burlington train schedules were back to normal Saturday, after heavy rains the latter part of the week in Colorado.

Miles of track near Trinidad were washed out, causing local schedules for incoming and outgoing trains to be nine to 11 hours late at Childress.

Filibuster On Atoms Rolls Along

WASHINGTON, July 24 —(UP)— The Senate rolled on Saturday in a history-making filibuster, and Republican Leader William F. Knowland angrily told his fellow Senators he will force a vote on the administration's atomic energy bill "if I have to stay here all summer and winter."

The Californian, short-tempered and weary, made the threat as the Senate racked up a record, for all practical purposes, as the longest continuous session ever held

At 11 a. m. cst., the Senate has been in session — except for a technical 25 minute break — some 75 hours, or about 21 hours longer than ever before.

Sometime before midnight the Senate will get a brief respite — a recess until Monday. But then the talk will resume.

Tries Both Ways

Alternately using "club 'em and plead with 'em" tactics, Knowland went all out to get some agreement on ending the filibuster which is aimed directly at private power aspects of President Eisenhower's atomic revision bill.

But he had no success.

In fact, the House probably will pass the overall atomic revision bill before the Senate. That chamber got to the verge of approving it early Saturday, but, at 1:14 a.m., cst, decided to put it over until Monday

The strain was showing on both sides in the Senate debate. Knowland got into a new heated row with the Democrats. He said that "as long as I sit in this leader's

It was unseasonably warm in Durango—and Carol Clem's fever which accompanied her ear ache made her very uncomfortable. So we left as soon as possible after only one day there.

Tom's close friend of Durango is Kenneth Crabtree—a young man whom Maudie would describe as "most mannerable." Since the two boys had not nearly caught up on their visiting—we brought Ken back up with us for a few days at The Lakes.

Pearl Lakes is such a short distance from Durango—but you needs must be a bird on the wing to shorten the route. By auto it is over every curve and mountain in this area. The swinging around—up and down—made Ken's stomach a little queazy — and he was pleased to have Tom stop for a breather at the beginning of Wolf Creek Pass. We all got out of the car to gaze over one of the loveliest valleys in this section—a splendid view of several miles—green and fertile. C. C. took little interest in anything and dozed in the car.

Shoes, our dog, was the one most excited over being free of the car and privileged to sniff delightful smells all over the mt. side. I took a snapshot of the boys—then back we went to whirl poor Ken's tummy some more.

Twenty miles over the Pass—and Ken was congratulating his determination of character since he hadn't actually been ill on the trip.

Suddenly, C. C. roused and asked "Where is Shoes?"

Gracious! Where was the dog? — a search of the car convinced us we had left him where we stopped.

Around we turned—over the mountains we flew — our hearts in our mouths.

Ken's stomach was soon in a like dis-location.

——oOo——

Once before (years ago) we had left the pup—at a filling station. And we drove over a hundred miles before missing him. He is a good traveler — quiet and it is easy to forget he is with us.

That time he was waiting patiently for us—under the station operator's desk.

But, this time? — well, there were several cars which had stopped at the same time we did. And most of them had children who piled out — pleased to run a little and to play, briefly, with a friendly little black and tan pooch.

——oOo——

It took ages to retrace our miles.

When we rounded that last turn—Carol Clem began laughing and crying at the same time—'cause there sat Shoes—by the side of the road. Just waiting.

He did go a little to pieces when we got him into the car. Gave us the impression that he had been mentally chewing his nails over the stupid carelessness of us all.

Reunions are wonderful, aren't they?

——oOo——

Ken's stomach was not helped by having to dippity-he-hip back over all those hills and turns. He was a bit frail until the next morning

But he has been one of the most gracious and charming guests—of all the young people we have had visit us here.

A pleasure to all of us.

——oOo——

Rain. And more rain.

It has rained until I am thoroughly fed up with the stuff. And I never did think that I would say that!

One morning — for about an hour — I was able to get a sunbath. The rest of the time it has varied from half-hearted drizzles to lashing storms which deafen us. Hail and sleet, too. All very dramatic and badly needed here —but confining for vacationers.

Have come in from fishing as wet as if I had been dumped in a river. Cold, too.

Oh, well! — I'll be sorry I fussed when I come home next month, won't I.

And it just might clear up tomorrow, you know.

——oOo——

Have the house in ship-shape. All nicely waxed and etc. — but the windows are in need of washing.

Window washing is a chore I loathe. Those of our house there are always such a mess. These up here are the same. And That Man has been doing a bit of putty-ing and painting. So you know how those green smears look. From the inside as well as the outside.

Good resolutions won't help a speck. All good window-washers are hereby invited to visit us in Colo. or Texas. Will love to see you.

Note to Catherine McGhee—

The bread has turned out exceptionally well this year. Tell your mother, Mrs. Charlotte Czewski — that I'm kneading the dough better than before and it is helping greatly. Evidently, that was my trouble all along.

Wish you would find that recipe, though. It might help me.

——oOo——

In Durango—met and visited briefly—two Texas ladies. One was Mrs. E. R. (or E. L.) Hunsaker — who once lived in Wellington. She taught school there and her husband was a Wellington man.

Do any of you know them?

——oOo——

Always enjoy Ila Moore (Mrs. Sam) — but have never wished for her more than recently. Ila, you know, does everything better than most — and her knitting is perfect.

Have taken up the art (?) again. Trying to knit Bebe a simple sweater. A simple mess—I call it! Took the dratted thing out five—yes, five! times — and it looks like a pot-scrubber at this point.

After all the dresses and sweaters and et cetera I one time created — how could I forget the simplest turns of the needles? Very hard on the ego, my dear.

Thinking of Ila—reminds me to send a note to her—

Our neighbors who live in Borger — were most pleased to talk about I. D. Russell who is the Moore son-in-law.

It seems that I. D. and his wife, "Punkin," have been winning that city and all concerned — with their ability and fine personalities. I. D. is assistant coach for Borger High School.

——oOo——

The wierdest story to come out of these hills — was one I didn't have the facts assembled sufficiently to tell you last week.

You will find it reported on page 23, right hand column of Time mag. July 12, issue.

The details are even more comic-tragic.

——oOo——

More wild life this year around our house—than ever before!

A large herd of elk feed during the early morning hours — practically at our back door.

Robins and bluebirds — hummingbirds and swallows — blackbirds and magpies are everywhere. Chipmonks make a playground of the stacked firewood — and there is an impudent groundhog (they are called whistlin' pigs here) that calls a derisive "Pur-r-rt-tt" at us everytime we step out the door.

Tom and Mickie wore themselves to a frazzle — trying to catch a wee-young snowshoe rabbit yesterday. These are comical bunnies with huge hind feet.

——oOo——

Oh, yes! — didn't tell you that That Man brought nice Mickie Barron up with him, two days ago, did I?

Only hope the constant rain doesn't spoil both their visits.

In keeping with the fashionable moisture — we're taking the boys swimming this afternoon.

——oOo——

And the pool they are swimming in? — Ha! that is worth a bit of space!

Tell you about it next session.

Boneheads Have Usual Mishaps During First Week Of Journey

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Harry Holland, one of the Bonehead Boys now navigating the Red and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans, is keeping Childress informed of the adventure with a day-by-day account. Here is the first article, covering the period Saturday through Thursday.)

Saturday, July 17 — The great Bonehead migration to the South began at 2 p. m. Shortly after leaving Childress we were hit by a great drouth. With this big thirst upon us, we started being unusually calm (for Boneheads). Except for the older members sweating-out our younger ones — Larry (Ghengis) White and Donnie Weems, and candidate Everett Groseclose — the trip was uneventful.

We stopped in Quanah for supplies and in Vernon to pick up our "furriner" Jackie Solomon who hails from Lockett. The only other stops were for food and gas.

Sunday, July 18 — We arrived at Marshall at 2 a. m. and stopped to buy groceries. What we thought was an unusual fact was that the grocery store was crowded with customers — that early in the morning. Leaving the customers staring with wonderment at us, the Boneheads shoved on for Jefferson which was only 17 miles away.

Arriving a couple of hours later, we proceeded to make that big unloading process. Jerry Preston (who had driven from Sherman) jumped out spryly when we arrived, then sat down and gave it up. Ten minutes of sleep in 20 hours wasn't very much.

In fact, Jerry didn't get any sleep until Sunday afternoon when we arrived at Jefferson's only show. Also in bad shape were "Fats" Allen and "Lightnin' " Holland who had only a couple of hours sleep.

Making noise when we arrived were Jimmy Gaines, Everett and Jackie. The other were just plain "shot."

About 5:30 we embarked on a swimming expedition. Harold Goodson (Egar) had a bodacious encounter with a mangy stick while diving. The cut which occurred from it took five stitches. "Mr. Kow" was very peeved with Egar "cause he thought it was intentional to keep from doing the work." He was Cato's canoe partner.

Mr. Kow soon "riped out" to store the bus. The rest of us spent the day in Jefferson sleeping in the air-conditioned movie there. Don Weems contracted a case of allergy in which his forehead and eyers swelled out about an inch. Between Weems and Egar, we gave the doctors lots of business.

Monday, July 19 — The bus was left at Baton Rouge. Mr. Kow arrived at camp early in the morning and preparations began for the BIG migration. We were soon (?) prepared and shoved off about 7:30.

Because it was new to us, we went only 20 miles. "Fats" Allen and Groseclose were on the cooking crew, so they were in the lead boat and pace-setter. After camping on the Cypress Bayou, we met some friendly people who offered to help us any way they could.

They had two very nice daughters so the Boneheads actually "camped" across the river. When nightfall came, the folks brought us 12 watermelons which were a welcome treat.

Tuesday, July 20 — "Lightnin' " Holland and Jerry "Jer" Preston, being the cooking crew, took the lead boat today. We traveled through some of the prettiest scenery we'll see for a long time. Big cypresses, water hyacinths, tall grass, water lilies, hanging moss, beautiful buds and mangy varmints.

We erossed to the other side of the big lake and almost to Mooringsport, one of the two towns on Caddo .We camped about two miles from Mooringsport and about five from the dam. In all, we have traveled about 32 miles today.

Wednesday, July 21, Mooringsport — Small town about the size of Carey. We stopped for water and pops before moving on to the dam. "Ghengis" White and Don Weems are the pace-setters today and left anxiously to make time.

Those two make a perfect pair for canoe partners. Both have rangy beards and are typical Boneheads. Also, with Weems' swollen eyes and Larry's naturally slanted eyes, they make perfect Mongols.

After reaching the dam, we had to portage our canoes down to a continuation of the Cypress Bayou we were on before. The bayou was a shallow unpredictable varmit which provided lots of pulling and portaging.

After camping and eating, Fats, Jer, Ghengis, Lightnin', Egar, Weems, Groseclose and Jackie made that big migration to Shrevpeort (about five miles) by the road near camp. The group split up at a grocery store.

Groseclose and Egar went back. Lightnin' and Ghengis stayed at the store and Jer, Fats, Jackie and Weems caught a ride to uptown. These boys just barely escaped getting lost up town and had trouble getting back to camp.

Lightnin' and Ghengis were not so lucky. They took a wrong turn and walked about five miles down the wrong road. After backtracking five miles and walking another three down the right road, the Boneheads wanderers stumbled into camp late at night with a real fine collection of blisters.

Thursday, July 22 — Arrived in Bossier City, our mail stop. We lost "Sam" the dog that had followed us from Caddo Dam. He ran off this morning after eating two pounds of our bacon.

We have reached Red River and will venture down it soon.

collar bone and "severe shock." Valerie, who was "perfectly calm" under attack suffered only minor abrasions.

Thacher's condition was "not critical" although surgeons removed a piece of metal from his body Saturday morning.

Witness Story

Capt. Philip Blown ,the airliner's pilot, Mrs. P. M. Thorburn, wife of a British bank official in Hong Kong, and an undentified third survivor told of the horror of the attack Frday morning.

"Red nosed planes started shooting at our plane from behind "Mrs. Ghorburn recalled in the hospital where she was treated for a bullet wound in the ear.

"I'm sure they used incendiary bullets. I heard something noisy and could not identify it at first. Then I realized it was bullets and yelled at everyone to get down, that we were being shot at.

"Everyone went on the floor. I saw one plane for sure and am certain there were two.

"They had small red noses, but I didn't notice any other markings or know what type they were."

the Mayor said. He declined to elaborate, stating that the other plan was only in the preliminary stages.

He also pointed out in his report that Camp Rucker was deactivated only July 1, and was in much better shape for immediate use. "Childress just could not handle the 15,000 personnel connected with t ehschool," he said.

The Mayor plans to return to Washington sometime in the future but did not name a date for the proposed trip — —"at no cost to the taxpayer," he emphasized.

Winding out the West team's star-studded backfield are halfs Ed Dudley, Pampa; R. V. Allcorn, Olton; Kenneth Helms, Anson; and Lindley Davis, Childress.

Fullbacks for the Sam Baugh-Larry Cunningham team are Wellington's Douglas Duncan, Brownwood's Ray Masters, Don Waygood of Sundown, and Childress' big Sam Wrinkle.

Backing up the East quarterbacks will be halfbacks Bill Dendy, Breckenridge; Jimmy Jones, Quanah; Joel Honeycutt, Temple; and Jim Knox, Graham. The fullbacks are Curtis Reeves, Wichita Falls; Max Kelley, Stamford, and Hugh Sullivan, Archer City.

Coaches Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnagin, of West Texas State College, have plenty of backfield talent to combat the West, as the above names will show.

The players and coaches are due to report to Childress one week from today to start four days of workouts preceding the game. Delmer Brown will serve as trainer for the East, with twin-brother Elmer slated to look after the West stars.

The superintendent also pointed out that preliminary registration of all students in the first through eighth grades would be held on Tuesday, August 31. Buses will run on that date so all students may register.

"We are doing this to take care of all preliminary work involved with registering," Odell said. "By that manner, we will be ready for actual school work on September 6 when schools open."

High School students will register on both Monday and Tuesday, August 30 and 31.

Teachers were instructed to report to their respective schools on August 30 at 9 a. m. for registration instructions. A general faculty meeting will be held at 9 a. m., September 1, in the High School Library.

Knowland retorted that he is determined the Senate will vote on the entire question. He said President Eisenhower, "as late as yesterday," felt the atomic energy measure is "very important" and that Congress should act on it.

Grace Kelly Being Rushed By Designer

HOLLYWOOD, July 24 — (AP) — Grace Kelly may not know it, but her latest love, designer Oleg Cassini, has a yen for her pleats and hemline, too.

Cassini admitted Friday that, despite the headlines about Crosby and Gable, it is he who's been dating the screen's newest glamour girl for more than a year.

While some males may envision the beautiful Gracie as a sweet-faced blonde, Cassini happily described the actress this way: "The first time we met she was wearing a smart pink sweater."

This is the equivalent of Crosby seeing her for her beautiful larynx or Gable for her shell-like ears.

"On our first date," continued Cassini, "she wore a nice suit with a boxy jacket and a little velvet hat. Very smart."

Cassini arrived in the film city this week to open an office here and also to pick up Miss Kelly at Paramount every afternoon at 5. He confessed he hasn't proposed yet, and "I doubt if I will."

"She is interested in her career right now, and I have to concentrate on my business in New York," he explained. "Besides, when you're over 40 you just can't rush into marriage with the same light - headedness as when you're 25. We're good friends and enjoy each other's company."

Cassini is so carried away with Miss Kelly's wardrobe he even puts her among the few well-dressed screen stars in Movieland. The others include Loretta Young, Lauren Bacall, Mrs. Gary Cooper, and gallantly, his ex-wife, Gene Tierney, plus another current date, Pier Angeli.

"Gene has wonderful style," the suave designer said. "Grace has a certain amount of reserve and good taste a subdued eastern flair.

"By wearing clothes that don't get too much notice, she gets noticed more herself."

The clothes expert admitted his reputation makes his dates anxious about what they'll wear.

"On the first date the girl usually apologizes, 'oh, I just happened to put on this little black thing," he grinned. "I assure them after six I'm not a designer.

"But sometimes I tell them they should wear other things. On my first date with Gene, she showed up in acres and acres of chiffon. I told her she should put on one of those 'little black things.' "

Public Forum

Another grateful traveler, R. I. Barge of Atlanta, Ga., this week personally thanked Mrs. Conley Bishop, at the El Rancho Motel, for a kind deed, with a letter and a check. Mrs. Bishop's husband manages the El Rancho Cafe.

The letter Mrs. Bishop received reads as follows:

Dear Shirley,

I do not know how to address you other than as I do — anyway please accept my thanks for haveing taken care of my camera and for sending it to me.

I presume you are the one that I talked with over the 'phone. It was kind and sweet of you to offer to send it to me, for otherwise it would have meant a long hot return trip and a delay in my arrival home by another day.

It is nice, kind and gracious people in one's travels, and if I am ever through Childress again I will certainly stop and say HOWDY.

Please accept the enclosed check for you trouble and kindness.

Yours very sincerely,
R. I. Barge

Mrs. Myrta Bybee Has 75th Birthday

Yesterday Mrs. Myrta Bybee celebrated her 75th birthday at home listening to the ball game.

Mrs. Bybee came from Kentucky to Texas in 1893. She has lived in this county and town for 61 years as of last March 18.

"I saw in the paper that you wanted news, and living for 75 years is good news," said Mrs. Bybee.

GOD'S HOUSE

God's house will not decay, for it's built upon the solid rock.

And walled with active faith, the roof is none less than lasting love.

That was ordained and founded above.

The windows are of unbreakable material, the frames are of such as a lasting will.

The doors of this house are of steel, to be constantly used in the battle field.

They are of such that will not wear out and will shelter and shield from fear and doubt.

Even the lattice shall stand the storm, because it is tempered in joy and peace and is of material that will never cease.

The vines that cover are beautiful to be seen which are long suffering, that form a screen.

Behind these wallas are plenty of room you'll not be crowded with troubles and gloom.

But instead you shall warm by the masters fire where the table is spread with food you desire.

You can drink until your souls are filled.

And never grow tired, weary or ill.

And the welcome sign is just over head, why stand there with so much to dread.

Come unto me, this structure you see, was founded for you and me, that we might go free.

Be it of comfort to the sin sick soul, that his wandered and fallen in a world so cold.

We welcome all people to the House of Prayer.

"yes ma'am — Electric Cooking is Cooler!"

To enjoy a cooler kitchen, cook electrically . . .

That advice is based on the results of recent electrical vs. flame-burning cooking tests conducted in the Beltsville, Maryland, laboratories of the U. S. Government Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics.

Both electric and flame-burning ranges were given laboratory test in conditions similar to normal home kitchen use. Using identical, typical family meals, tests showed that a flame-burning range used 14,954 extra heat units more than did the electric range. It is estimated that it would take a modern 1/3 horsepower air conditioner operating all the time the flame-burning range is in use to remove the 14,954 extra heat units added to the kitchen.

See your ELECTRIC RANGE DEALER, Today

Electric Cooking is 8 to 16 degrees cooler . . .

Tests conducted by General Electric Company show that a kitchen can be 8 to 16 degrees cooler, even without air conditioning, when electric rather than a flame-burner range is used. The cooler cooking of electric ranges can be accounted for by the fact that practically all the heat from an electric unit goes into cooking the food. Relatively little escapes into the kitchen air. Also, electric ranges do not have pilot lights that add heat. Nor does the electric unit produce water vapor that increases humidity.

Indians Beat Yankees On Doby's 10th-Inning Homer

NEW YORK, July 24 —(UP)— Larry Doby's 20th homer with one man on in the 10th inning gave the Cleveland Indians their second straight victory over the New York Yankees Saturday, 5 to 4, and stretched their American League lead to 2½ games.

Doby, who walloped his 18th and 19th homers against the Yankees Friday night, drilled Saturday's blast off reliever Johnny Sain with two out and winning pitcher Bob Lemon on second base. Lemon, who succeeded starter Don Mossi when the Yankees tied the score at 3 - all in the seventh inning, singled to open the 10th and advanced on Al Smith's sacrifice.

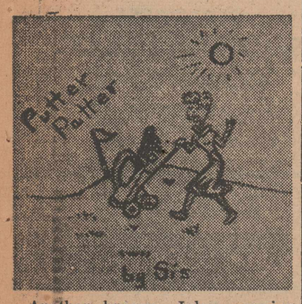

After Bobby Avila popped up, Doby deposited his game-winning blow into the lower right field stands.

The Yankees got one run back in the bottom of the 10th on Mickey Mantel's double, which routed Lemon, and Yogi Berra's single off Hal Newhouser. But Rookie Ray Narleski strode in from the bull-pen to retire the side despite an error by Sam Dente.

Narleski struck out pinch-hitter Gil McDougald for the final out, leaving the potential tying and winning runs stranded.

The Yankees trailed 3-0 until the seventh when they knocked out Mossi and tied the score on three hits and two walks. They loaded the bases on a single by Andy Carey and back-to-back walks to Gerry Coleman and Phil Rizzuto. Eddie Robinson hit into a double play, Carey scoring on the play and Coleman going to third. Irv Moren's double, followed by Bill Skowron's triple tied the score and brought in Lemon, who retired the side.

Yankee starter Allie Reynolds, seeking his 11th straight victory, yielded seven of Cleveland's 10 hits before Sain relieved him in the eighth.

Another breezy July morning found 14 plucky gils out braving the elements admirably.

Golf with it's personal appeal, golf with it's pay off in health, has it's own "place in the sun," and I do mean sun.

It was Glada Webb looking cool and pretty in her light green "rig" in spite of the great drops of perspiration trickling down her smooth face, who said (after hitting three trees and the drinking fountain) "If they would pluck up all of the trees, remove the drinking barrell on number 8 and do away with the roughs — I just KNOW that I could break a hundred."

Altus Michie took a vice-like grip on her club and was deep in the frog fuzz in three strokes on Number three. (However it is just like bragging on one's children —— the first to shoot hasn't a chance). For that little impish Ethel, snatches a club from her bag and in less time than it takes to shift your girdle, SWISH and her ball lands within on inch of the green. Then Gayle, not to be out done, selects the proper wood with care — fondles it a moment taking a deadly grip — and mind you SHE rolls ON the green in three strokes. — We walked a few steps before it was my turn to shoot — latching onto my club with all of my might, I took a deep breath, waggled into the proper stance, pepped out over my bi-focals and — swung — aw! shucks, tain't no use prolonging the agony —— for you knew I was lying three already.

Incidentally though there were three pars and one birdie made on the hole after all.

Smooth-shooting Della Jones got in a rut today — however it was not a bad one — she made seven fives on nine holes.

It was Mahan who let out a blood burdling yelp on number nine as she holed out for a — Oh! well, let's just say that she holed out.

Michie (who has lowered her handicap to 13) was reveling over her 45 — but it was Sis who was the lucky gal trotting off with the ball for low net.

The late foursome, who arrived abut the time we were finishing our last nine, looked young and pretty and brown — maybe at that age one can endure the noon day sun.

Those floundering around in the July heat (and loving it) were Mary Frances Gloar, Nelda Cordell, Della Jones, Glada Webb, Marie Mahan, Virginia Gloar, Maurine Morgan, Gladys McConnell, Gayle Thorne, Ethel Compton, Daisy Hollingsworth, Ill a Little, Altus Michie and Bye now, Sis.

Mays Sets Record As Braves Drop New Yorkers, 5-4

MILWAUKEE, July 24 —(UP)— Willie Mays set a National League home run record and Eddie Mathews hit his fourth homer in four days Saturday as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the league-leading New York Giants the second straight time, 5 to 4.

Mays hit his 34th home run of the year for the Giants to tie the game 4 to 4 in the top of the eighth. It completed the circuit for Mays, giving him a home run in every park this year nd broke the National League record of 33 home runs by the end of July set by Hack Wilson in 1930.

Del Crandall singled for the Braves in the bottom of the eighth and came home on Bill Bruton's single for the winning run.

Spahn pitched the full game for Milwaukee for his 10th victory against 10 defeats.

Marv Grissom, who relieved after seven and two-thirds, gave up the winning hit to Butonanda took the loss, his fifth against nine victories.

Chicubs Shutout Phillies, 4 to 0

CHICAGO, July 24 —(UP)— Ralph Kiner, Chicago's strong - armed outfielder who has driven in just four runs in the last 29 games, smashed a triple off the centerfield wall with two men on to spark the Cubs to a 4 to 0 win over the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday.

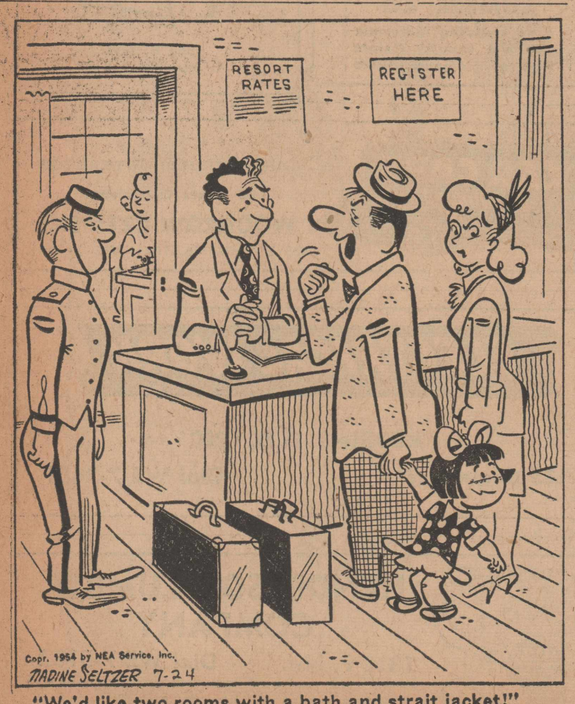

Dave Cole went the distance for the Cubs, gaining his first win of the year and the fourth of his major league career.

Cole, whose last and only complete game was in 1951, struck out six and walked six while giving up only five hits. He had excellent support in the field as the Cub infield executed three double plays.

Kiner, the National League home run champion or co-champion for seven straight years, has knocked in only 40 runs so far this year.

But with Gene Baker and Ransom Jackson on base in the first pitch off the Phillies' Curt Simmons, for all the runs the Cubs needed to win their eighth victory in their last dozen games.

Simmons also went the route, suffering his ninth loss against eight wins.

Redlegs Snap Losing Streak At Four Games

CINCINNATI, July 24 —(UP)—Ted Kluszewski hit his 27th homer of the season and Ed Bailey blasted his seventh Saturday enabling the Cincinnati Reds to snap a four-game losing streak with a 5 to 3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rookie Art Fowler was credited with his eighth triumph of the season although he was replaced by Frank Smith with two Pirates on base and two out in the seventh inning. Smith pitched the remainder of the game yielding only one hit — a ninth-inning homer by Jerry Lynch.

The Reds surged off to a 3 to 0 lead n the first inning against Max Surkont, who suffered his 13 t 0 loss, when Johnny Temple bunted safely, stole second and scored on Gus Bell's single. Kluszewski then hit his homer to cap the inning.

Doubles by Bob Skinner and Frank Thomas plus a single by Lynch gave the Pirates two runs in the fifth inning but the Reds increased the lead to 4 to 2 in the bottom half of the frame on singles by Chuck Harmon and Bell and Jim Greengrass' sacrifice fly.

Red Sox Paste White Hose, 5-2

BOSTON, July 24 —(UP)— Jackie Jensen's three-run homer provided the punch, and four-baggers by Ted Williams and Del Wilber of the Boston Red Sox the icing, for Leo Kelly's four-hit 5 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday before 12,507 fans.

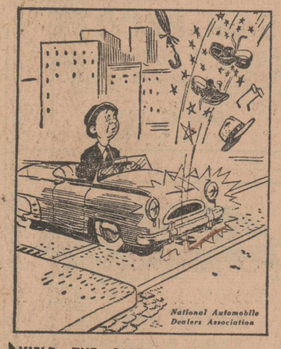

Jensen's 13th homer of the year was rapped off losing pitcher Bob Keegan in the third inning after singles by Billy Consolo and Williams.

Then, the left-handed hitting Williams, who had three hits for four trips to the late, slapped his 15th homer over the left field wall in the seventh. Wilber hit his first of the season two outs later.

Kiely, a six-foot two-inch southpaw, gave up all four hits in a two-run Chicago third inning. Then he retired the next 18 men in a row to gain his fourth victory against six defeats.

BANKRUPT ROADS

PERTH, Australia —(UP)— Bad roads were the cause of his bankruptcy, Stanley Melbin told a bankruptcy court. Melbin tried to make a living by driving a rural school bus, but "no second-hand vehicle could stand up to the roads in the Mt. Helen district and mine did not."

Advertisers Warned On 'Kingsize' Claims

LANSING, Mich. —UP—Retailers in Michigan have been cautioned to think twice before using the words "jumbo" and kingsize" in their advertising.

The state's agriculture department has decreed that anyone who exaggerates the size of his product will be prosecuted.

Miles A. Nelson, chief of the enforcement bureau, said advertisements are off base if they imply that a product is larger than its normal size.

One merchant stressed the virtues of his "kingsize gallon of ice cream." State inspectators ruled that a gallon is a gallon and is neither "kingsize' 'nor jumbo."

COLOR CHARACTER

MURORAN, Japan —(UP)— A school teacher who spent three years recording the relations of colors to the personalities of 1,000 children says youngsters favoring green and blue often have split personalities and are apt to "indulge" in a false show of power. Among girls, she says, violet, white and green are popular with the sick and lonesome.

There is no such thing as a race of albinos.

Major Loop Club Owners Tackle Problems Monday

NEW YORK, July 24 —(UP)— Major league club owners meet on Monday to tackle the problem of Caribbean Winter League and to consider formally for the first time Hank Greenberg's proposal for an inter-league schedule.

Other matters high on the agenda of the meeting are: Liberalization of the draft rules; a plea by college coaches that the major leagues refrain from signing college players who have begun their sophomore year; a change in the spring training reporting date and the opening date of the 1955 season for one wek; and formal signing of the new players' pension fund contract.

The National and American Leagues will meet here in separate session Monday morning then convene jointly some time in the afternoon.

Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, has proposed that each major league club play a 32-game schedule against teams from the other league in order to stimulate new interest in the pennant races and thus boost attendance.

Although the subject should attract considerable discussion, it is not expected to be passed at this meeting. Owner Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers is the only major league official who has come out strongly in favor of the proposal. George Weiss of the New York Yankees, Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox and Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators are opposed.

Even if the proposal were approved at this session, it could not be put into effect until the 1956 season.

More concrete action is expected to result in the discussions on Winter League baseball. Many major league owners are in favor of banning Caribbean competition for their players — or at least restricting it — because of the possibility of injuries and the fact that the late conclusion of winter league playoffs delays many athletes from reporting for spring training on time.

Two Cows Make Dairy Farmer See Double!

GREENWOOD, Neb. — (UP) —— John Griess had a real surprise from two cows of his herd.

He went to his pasture to pick up a new-born calf. While there, he noticed a calf had been born to another cow. Griess picked up the second calf.

When he turned, he saw the first cow had given birth to her second calf. Another quick check showed him the second cow had done likewise.

The double twin birth raised Griess' herd by a third, from 12 to 16.

SARONG HAPPY

DJAKATA —UP— What type of movie is mos. popular in tropical Indonesia? Djarkarta audiences go for most American movies, but the theater owner who wants a sellout night after night is the man who books a South sSea island picture with plenty of sarongs, palm trees, beaches, moonlit water and a hurricane or two thrown in for good measure.

TAME STINGER

SYDNEY —(UP)— A 10 - foot sting-ray, the largest in captivity, has become so tame in a Taronga Zoo pool that it will eat from the hand of its keeper. The 500-pound monster spends most of the day sleeping in a secluded corner of the pool, but glides to the surface of the water when a salmon or mullet is held out.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(UP)— John G. Ault is 47 and holds two college degrees, but he's a first-year student at the University of Tennessee Dental College here. Ault has been in public health work for years and says, "I can do more for public health by being a dentist." He has a bachelor of science degree and a master of science degree. His home is in Leesburg, Fla.

A's Nip Orioles In Cellar Spot Battle

PHILADELPHIA, July 24 —(UP) — The Philadelphia Athletics choked off a desperate ninth inning Baltimore Orioles' rally Saturday to preserve a 6 to 5 decision for rookie Johnny Gray's first major league victory.

The Athletics, beating former teammate Joe Coleman for the first time in four starts this season, had a comfortable 6 to 3 lead going into the ninth, but reliever Ed Burtschy was quickly rocked by five straight hits.

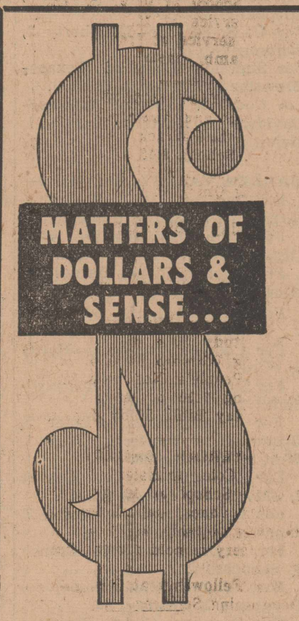

The victory brought the Athletics up from the American League cellar and pushed the losers into eight place.

FISH BYTH E FOOT

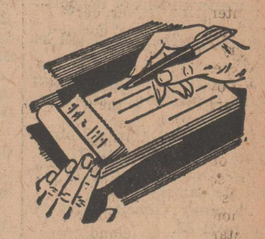

STONINGTON, Conn. —(UP)—Sam Erskine used his foot instead of a rod and reel to catch a 15-pound codfish. He saw the fish in shallow water and tried to catch it with his hand but failed. He gave it a hearty kick and sent it spinning to shore.

wondering why this page and column is appearing in Sunday's Issue rather than in the Thursday issue. But it was due to something we have't been able to say very recently, and that is for Thursday and Friday of last week we had a run of above normal business and were forced to hold the page over, since the business was not so much as to warrant the running of another section.

Buckley's Men's Store is celebrating it's fourth anniversary with a sale that started Friday. During this Anniversary event Buckley's are offering all their summer stock of Men's Clothing at reduced prices.

The Frank Hatt's of Douglas, Ariz., are the proud parents of a new son which was born July 10. The new addition to the Hatt family was Christianed John Davis. We received the announcement of the grand arrival but NO CIGARS. Since I didn't get a cigar I was temped to send him a collect wire of congratulations. Probably should yet.

FOR ANYTHING YOU NEED IN the building line, consult the staff at Henderson Lumber Company. They have a complete stock of famous Allied Paints, and other building materials for building or re-modeling. Henderson can also get you an FHA home loan for remodeling or building that garage or fence. Estimates on building jobs will be given and put you under no obligation. Gunn Brothers stamps are also given at the modern lumber yard.

Pakistan Starts Roundup of Reds

KARACHI, Pakistan, July 24 —(UP)— —A countrywide roundup of Communists swept Western Pakistan Saturday following a ban in all provinces against the Communist party and Red front organizations.

The announcement outlawing the Reds in West Pakistan makes the ban on Communists countrywide since East Pakistan outlawed the party July 5.

Arrests of alleged Communists were reported from Peshawar, Lahore, Hyderabad and Karachi among the other cities of Western Pakistan.

Reports from Peshawar, in the northwest frontier province, said that among those arrested were the president and secretary of the "Pakistan peace committee." Similar arrests were reported from Lahore, in Punjab province. Arrests also were reported from Sind province.

The ban against the Communists in East Pakistan earlier this month was followed by the arrest of more than 1,000 persons identified as Communists or Communist sympathizers.

Tunisia Officer Is Assassinated

TUNIS, Tunisia, July 24 —UP— Tunisian nationalist terrorists, who have killed, wounded or kidnaped some 300 persons in the past three months, Saturday shot and killed the chief of the Bey of Tunis' palace guard.

The assassin escaped in the crowd after shotting and killing Col. Rene De Denoit De LaPaillonne, a French officer who for four years headed the Bey's private guard.

Police and French troops immediately clamped down security measures on the city to prevent a new outbreak of the violence which has boiled into a near revolt for independence in this French North African protectorate.

De LaPillonne was killed as he left his office for lunch. As he stepued into his automobile on the crowded boulevard Bab Bennat a man described by police as a Tunisian fired several revolver shots into the car's rear window. The Frenchmen was riddled.

Milwaukee Cow Has Never Been On Farm

MILWAUKE —(UP)— —Judy, the citified cow, has been at the Milwaukee stockyards nearly three years but has no fear of slaughter.

The closest Judy ever came to the slaughter house was when she followed a cow up the ramp and stockyard employes had to run her to her rescue.

Judy, part Hereford and part shorthorn, has never seen a farm. She was born in the yards Aug. 11, 1951. Fred Schmechel, assistant cattle buyer, says she definitely is not for sale or slaughter.

She gets goodies from livestock truckers and their children all over the state. Judy is expecting to become a mother in May.

James L. Cutcher, a newcomer to politics, was elected to the post of county attorney without opposition.

In gaining his victory over Griffin, Smith chalked up a total of 1,712 votes to 1,348 for the incumbent.

Childress county gave Walter Rogers an overwhelming vote for his return as 18th District US Congressman, and also gave Elbert Reeves a sizeable vote for State Representative.

Ralph Yarborough, opposing Governor Allan Shivers for the third time, held a three-vote margin in the unofficial count. Yarborough had 1,412 tallies to 1,409 for Shivers.

The county also expressed confidence in US Senator Lyndon B. Johnson by giving him a 5 to 1 majority over his opponent Dudley Dougherty of Beeville.

The other congressmen seeking re-election built up comfortable margins. These included Sam Rayburn, who has been in the house of representatives since 1912.

stiff controls on other crops. A two-thirds vote was necessary for approval.

The vote was the smallest in four years and, for a time, was a touch-and-go proposition. From 800,000 to one million farmers were eligible to vote.

Rural Milk Can Is On Its Way Out

ITHACA, N.Y. —(UP)— —The milk can, long a familiar sight at country crossroads, is being pushed out of the farm scene by stainless steel tanks.

The tanks can be refrigerated, and milk is pumped from them directly into trucks, making less work for the farmer and cleaner handling of the product.

Prof. R. P. Marsh, of the Cornell University dairy industry department, said the new system is basically sound and he predicted a bright future for the tanks. There are upwards of 8,000 such installations in the country and more than 300 in New York state, he added.

"The tanks will pay for themselves, with the saving in labor in handling the 110-pound, 40-quart cans, and in waste of fluid," he pointed out. "Even milk quality can be improved through use of tanks."

Predict Settlement This Week Of Anglo-Iranian Oil Dispute

WASHINGTON, July 24 —(UP)— The three-year-old Anglo-Iranian oil dispute "will be settled within a week unless something goes off the track," a high government official said Saturday.

"The outlook is very favorable," he told the United Press. "We are really encouraged. We look for early signing of a rough agreement, followed by a detailed contract on which the Iranian parliament will vote in September." He added:

"Unless something goes off the track —— and that always can happen in Iran — the whole matter should be nailed down by Oct. 1."

Deep Implications

The news carries deep implications for independent American oil producers. Already beset by oversupplies and a big productions cutback, they hope Iranian oil will do nothing to further disturb the domestic market.

"We will want to see the details of the agreement," said Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America." "We won't worry until then."

But Brown added the hope that the big international companies which filled the European market gap when the Iranian fields shut down, will reduce their own expansion and thus absorb the oil to come from Iran.

"The seems the natural thing to do," he said. "The market here is already over-supplied and we've cut back production a million and one-half barrels. There's no room for Iranian oil here."

Three Years Ago

The dispute originated three years ago when the now ousted Mohammed Mossadegh government seized the multi-billion dollar properties of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. Shutdown of the vast fields and Abadan refinery followed. The "big five" American companies made up much of the huge oil deficit by expanding their own Middle-East operations.

These were Standard Oil of New Jersey, Gulf, Socony - Vacuum, Standard of California, and Texas Company. Together with Anglo-Iranian, Royal Dutch Shell, and Companie Francaise de Petrole, they have formed a consortium which, with Herbert Hoover Jr., State Department trouble-shooter, is working out final settlement of the dispute.

A spokesman for Jersey Standard stressed that companies will compete with each other in the world market even though they are participants in the consortium. This keeps them well within the spirit of the anti-trust laws.

A State Department official said the Iranian fields could go into small - scale production almost immediately. But it will take several months — and millions of dollars for equipment and harbor - dredging — to attain full-scale output.

Hoover has been working closely with the companies, while Loy Henderson, U. S. ambassador to Iran, has been in close collaboration with the Teheran government.

When the settlement is finally reached, lawyers of all interests are expected to make a joint announcement.

Illinois Man Seeking Buyer For $10,000 Worth Of Ambergris

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 24 —(UP)— Walter Thayer is carrying a $10,000 treasure around in his suitcase and can't get rid of it.

He found it along a beach in Texas where it had been washed ashore from the Gulf of Mexico. He has been carrying it around with him for more than a year and is conveinced of its high value.

But there is one hitch: He can't find anyone who wants to buy it.

20 Pounds of Ambergris

All this came to light when Thayer showed up the other day to visit his family here and announced that the suitcase under his arm contained not only his clothes but 20 pounds of ambergris.

Ambergris is a substance formed inside a sperm whale, making it rather hard to come by. Its traditional value has been as a base for perfume. Whale fishermen over the past century have risked their lives for as much ambergris as Thayer has in his suitbase.

But Thayer, who figures he is one of the lucky few in the world who have ever found ambergris lying on a beach, has also become a victim of supply and demand. The going rate for ambergris is about $900 a pound, but it is so difficult to obtain most perfume manufacturers have found a substitute for it.

Serve Same Purpose

"Nowadays they use musk, from the musk deer, to serve the same purpose," Thayer says.

He scoffed at a suggestion he forget about the ambergris and go out hunting for a musk deer.

"I'm not worried about selling it," he says. "I'll just hang onto it because I know what it is and sooner or later I'll sell it for what it's worth."

Thayer by trade is an upholsterer at Corpus Christi, and he stumbled on his yet-to-be-unlocked goldmine one day while he was driving along the beach of Pade Island on the Gulf of Mexico.

May Bring $15,000

A companion in his car mentioned seeing a "funny looking rock" in the surf. Thayer took one look at the lump and waded out to retrieve it. From his chemistry class at St. Mary's University at San Antonio, he remembered what ambergris looked like.

"I didn't get excited. It just came out of the sea and I was the one who was there, that's all," he says.

He's been carrying the ambergris around with him ever since, and figures it might bring as high as $15,000 if he can command a top price. He expects to get an offer any day now from a dealer who is studying a sample.

Index Ad For News Items Brings Interesting Letter From Reader

Even slightly "wacky" ads in The Index get results —— namely one appearing occasionally which goes something like 'if you have had a birthday, had a baby, had a fight, taken a vacation — call us.'

Ebb Bramlett, of 1011 Avenue F, Sw., took up the ad's offer, and sent a letter Saturday to The Index, which reads as follows:

No, I haven't had a baby, but I have painted my house — drive out and look it over. It's across the street from the First Baptist Mission in Sw. Childress.

My wife is now on vacation in New Mexico and Calif., visiting our daughters, Mrs. Mare Hittson in N.M., and Mrs. Billy Dekel and family in Calif.

So I am left behind in care of the house - flowers - the garden - and those awful, messy dishes that we have every day.

Say, if you want to hear some real good, old-time preaching, why not visit our little church where everybody is somebody, and love each other. I am inviting all at the Index staff and everyone that may read this.

I read the Index because it is my home paper. I love Childress because it has been my home since 1905 —— and I like Childress because we raised our family here, and do you know that there are some of the best and biggest-hearted men and women in the world living in Childress?

Everybody vote Saturday — let's all pull for anything that is good for the Fort Worth and Denver road, for it will be good for us. I just want to say, there is a fine group of men and women working for the Denver road, and I like to claim them for my friends.

There is the catch — —I retired February 10, 1954, from the machinest department here in Childress' shops — but I am still a railroad man at heart, and will do what I can for Childress and the Denver road.

Thanks,
Ebb Bramlett.

TWO THEORIES

Some naturalists think the middle western prairies always were treeless, being too level and swampy for trees to grow, while another theory is that the Indians burned away the forests to make more grazing land for bison and to drive out game.
