NEAR FIST FIGHT ON TEXAS COMPANY BILL

EFFORT OF SPEAKER PRO TEM
TO KILL MEASURE CAUSES TROUBLE

UP IN HOUSE THIS AFTERNOON

Senate is Again Considering Compulsory Education Bill—Agreement On Horse Racing

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 4.—A lively fight was started in the House today when the Texas Company bill was up for final passage and an effort was made to kill the bill by parliamentary proceedings. When Lewelling in the chair attempted to declare that a motion to postpone the bill indefinitely prevailed a physical encounter was narrowly averted.

The bill is pending this afternoon. The following bills were passed finally: Bryan's bill to purchase school lands.

The Bailey bill appropriating $6000 for eradication of citrus canker.

The Senate today resumed consideration of the compulsory education bill which was pending when the Senate recessed last night. It was still under consideration when the Senate recessed until 2 this afternoon.

An agreement has been reached on two amendments to the Clark bill known as the race horse bill which was pending when the Senate recessed last night.

The fight for a compulsory education law has again reached the Senate and will be on for a bitter contest Wednesday afternoon. Several times such a bill has passed the House, usually cut to pieces by amendments, but it always died in the upper chamber.

Largely responsible for this was Senator Thayer, who fought the compulsory education idea with all his strength and in opening the fight on the reconstruction days and the regime of E. J. Davis, in picturing the horrors of a State where the law could make a man send his children to school when he didn't want to.

When the bill came up Senator Hudspeth at once made a motion to postpone as he wanted time to study the bill, and proposed to make a long speech in opposition to it.

He announced he expected to fight it to the last. Astin also joined in the motion to postpone and Bee, the leader of the advocates of the bill, said if the fight was to come, as suggested by the senator from El Paso, there was no better time than now to open it, and he opposed any postponement that would jeopardize the place of the bill on the calendar.

Hudspeth then, in ringing words, said the passage of this bill meant a return to the days of E. J. Davis and his vile constabulary, the re-ascendancy of such rule as marked carpet bag days in the past.

He said that he was not in favor of such a return, but he was not in favor of a platform demand that did not meet the approval of his conscience. He insisted on postponement.

Nugent also called up the reconstruction ghost and pictured the horrors of the Davis regime, and said no father would consent to have his home invaded by constables to take his children by force of arms when he did not want to send them to school.

This bill, he said, will reproduce almost the iniquitous constabulary against which the citizens rose when they elected Coke and drove Davis from the capitol. He admitted and loved the senator from Bexar, but wanted to warn him that he was paving the way for disappointment in his ambitions to serve the people, as he knew he wished to serve them faithfully and well.

Brelsford held the Senate quiet while he made a powerful appeal for the education of the children of Texas. He said first that Bee's connection with the bill was not in furtherance of any ambition, personal or political, but from a sense of duty to the people of the State.

Brelsford was for the bill because he believed as he knows, a vast majority of the members of the State, of a great number of the men of the State believe that in the education of the children of Texas lies the future of the State.

Asked by Nugent if he was willing to have his home invaded by a constable to take his child away to school, he replied in impassioned words that brought hearty applause. That if he ever proved so recalcitrant to his duty as a father, so false to his duty as a citizen, as to fail to take his boy by the hand and escort him to school, then he ought to be taken to jail and lie there until he rotted.

This bill meant the very life of the children of Texas, thousands of whom would never see the inside of a

GRAHAM PRISONERS TAKEN BACK TODAY

HANDCUFFED TOGETHER THEY LEAVE WITH OFFICERS ON SOUTHBOUND DENVER

DUE TO REACH HOME TONIGHT

Will Be Arraigned Tomorrow Following Indictments Returned at Graham Wednesday

Judge E. W. Fry, Pete Fry, Rufus Todd and John Lischke who were indicted at Graham yesterday and charged with murder in connection with the death of Deputy Sheriff Tom Cherryholmes, killed in the shooting at the Young county court house at Graham last Wednesday morning, were taken back to Graham this afternoon where they will be arraigned tomorrow.

The four prisoners were in charge of Sheriff W. W. Wallace of Young county and Deputy Sheriffs J. B. Munsey of Newcastle, Will Benson of Olney and O. H. Cooper. They left on the southbound Fort Worth & Denver passenger at 2:05 this afternoon and are scheduled to reach Graham tonight. The four prisoners were handcuffed and chained together and attracted much attention when they were taken to the station which they reached about five minutes before the train arrived.

Attract Much Attention. Many people in the station knew Judge Fry and his brother and Todd and came up to shake hands with them and wish them good luck in their trials. Judge Fry, his brother, Todd and Lischke were handcuffed together in the order named.

The first three named are handsome men and splendid physical specimens. Lischke is not as handsome as the others.

Except for the handcuffs and chains Judge Fry as he sat on a bench in the Union Station, might easily have been taken for a clergyman. He was smooth shaven and wore dark clothes and a blue tie and bore himself as did the others with a dignity which must have been trying to maintain under the gaze of the curious spectators who crowded about them.

Attorneys On Train. On the train which carried the prisoners Judge P. A. Martin, who has been retained to assist District Attorney Leslie Humphrey and County Attorney Marshall of Young county in the prosecution, left for Graham. Judge Martin said that he expected that the prisoners would ask for separate trials and that when they arraigned the State would announce ready for trial. It is announced that the State will attempt to show that Judge Fry himself was in the court house yard at the time of the shooting and that he took part in the shooting himself.

Judge Martin said that the State had not promised immunity to Lischke who made a statement of his connection with the affair to District Attorney Humphrey here last week.

The wound on Pete Fry's head is healing and he showed little ill effects from the shot.

COMPANIES WOULD INVEST $35,000,000

AGREE TO PROPOSITION IF GIBSON BILL PASSES THE LEGISLATURE

GOVERNOR TELLS COMMITTEE

Also Willing to Pay $150,000 in Back Taxes—May Mean Passage of Bill

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 4.—A lively life insurance companies which withdrew from the State in 1907 on account of the Robertson insurance law have agreed to invest upwards of $35,000,000 in Texas within the next five years and to pay last year's taxes which aggregate $150,000 in the event the Gibson bill, which amends the Robertson law is enacted by the legislature.

This proposition was submitted by Governor Ferguson to the Senate committee on insurance which gave a hearing on the Gibson bill. The governor outlined the history of the negotiations which he had conducted with the insurance companies and explained his position at the time he made the race for governor and his utterances in his Blum speech.

Believes Would Keep Promise. The governor presented figures showing that the executive heads of several companies have agreed to make investments which the governor believes will be upwards of $35,000,000. The governor said: "I will frankly say that this agreement would not be binding on these companies but I am willing to stake my reputation—that they comply with its terms. These companies could not afford to go back on their promise as they would be stigmatized in the business world and could not look Texas nor their own people in the face."

The governor's proposition will more than likely result in favorable action being taken on the measure by the committee and may also mean the passage of the Gibson bill. The hearing will be resumed tonight.

NAVAL POLICY OF ENGLAND CRITICISED

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT CALLS FOR PROTECTION OF NEUTRALS

DISPOSITION OF SEIZED GOODS

Thinks Those Belonging to Enemy Should Be Confiscated by Great Britain

By Associated Press. London, March 4.—Thomas Gibson Bowles, former member of parliament and writer on naval matters expressed with much emphasis his inability to understand the policy of reprisals against Germany outlined in Premier Asquith's speech in the House of commons. Mr. Bowles said:

"What is to happen to cargoes of enemy ownership, origin and destination which are brought into port? They are not to be confiscated; this is expressly declared. Are they to be purchased by the captors according to the doctrine of pre-emption, with compensation for delay?"

If the latter course were pursued, Mr. Bowles pointed out, Great Britain would trade with Germany on a larger scale. If pre-emption were not to be resorted to, Mr. Bowles asked if seized goods would be held in trust.

The speaker criticised the Asquith policy in that, so far as it has been outlined, it neglects to conform to the common law which protects neutral traders. He further objected to the premier's policy because it does not inflict maximum damages upon the enemy by confiscating the goods found in neutral ships.

MUCH AUSTRIAN ARTILLERY IS CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS

Heavy Losses Are Sustained in Recent Fighting in East Prussia and Poland

By Associated Press. Geneva, March 4.—That Austria lost much of her best new artillery in the recent fighting in East Prussia and in Northern Poland is the information reaching here from what are considered reliable sources. The guns lost are said to include 23 batteries of 305 millimeters and a number of 135 millimeters. In the region surrounding Plock and Zdziersz alone, nine complete batteries are said to have been captured by the Russians while nine others were destroyed.

ITALY NOW HAVING TROUBLE IN TRIPOLI

NATIVE TROOPS THERE IN REBELLION AGAINST AUTHORITIES

ONE TOWN IN STATE OF SIEGE

Withdrawal of Italian Troops From Interior To Coast is Cause of Outbreak

By Associated Press. Rome, March 4.—A state of siege has been proclaimed in the greater portion of Cyrenaica in an effort to put down a rebellion. Cyrenaica is one of the independent administrative and military districts of Tripoli now under Italian control. A dispatch from Rome February 19 said information had been received from Tripoli to the effect that the reinforcements had reached Captain Volino whose native troops had almost entirely deserted him as the result of the rebellion in LYBIA.

It was said the rebellion had been encouraged by the withdrawal of Italian troops from the interior to the coast and that the movement gradually was encircling Tripoli itself where fortifications were being erected.

NAVAL OFFICERS' BANK IS RAISED BY CONGRESS

Commanders Are All To Be Admin-istrators or Vice Admirals. Step is Important

By Associated Press. Washington, March 4.—With commanding officers of the American battleship fleet to be ranked as admirals and vice-admirals the American navy no longer will labor under the handicap of having to take orders from commanding officers other than its own, when joint operations are held with navies of other nations.

In a statement on the naval bill just passed by Congress, Secretary Daniels says that the creation of the rank of admiral and vice-admiral will give the American navy the position to which it is entitled. Heretofore during joint operations because other countries, some of them with much smaller navies, have given higher rank to the commanding officers. The new ranks are to be conferred upon officers only as long as they command afloat and not permanently.

INNER FORTS NOW BEING BOMBARDED

TEN BIG WARSHIPS RESUME OPERATIONS IN DARDANELLES TODAY

FIND TURKS' CHARGED BODIES

Believed To Have Burned Dead Soldiers Before Evacuating Their Positions in Forts

By Associated Press. London, March 4.—A Reuter dispatch from Athens says: "The bombardment of the inner forts of the Dardanelles was resumed Thursday morning. The warships took part in the operations. According to a British officer only two of the Turkish forts remain intact. "Allied landing parties found the charred remains of soldiers in the damaged forts showing that the Turks had buried their dead before evacuating these positions."

SAYS FLEET HASN'T REACHED REAL LINE OF DEFENSE

By Associated Press. Berlin, March 4.—Attaches of the Turkish embassy profess to be unconcerned regarding the bombardment of the Dardanelles forts. They declare the fortifications are impregnable, that the landing of troops at the entrance of the straits is impossible and that any attempt to land a force at some point along the shores of the Gulf of Saros would require more men than the allies can concentrate leaving out of consideration the strong Turkish forces stationed at all threatened points.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung sends his paper an interview with Enver Pasha in which the chief of the Turkish general staff is said to have declared that the damage to the outer forts was less than had been reported but that these forts are the oldest of the entire line and their early reduction always has been expected if a serious attack were made upon the Dardanelles. The allied fleet, he declared has yet to reach the real line of defense.

SAYS BOAT RAMMED GERMAN SUBMARINE

CAPTAIN OF BRITISH COLLIER BELIEVED TO HAVE PERFORMED FEAT

WILL RECEIVE LARGE REWARDS

Total of $5000 To Be Divided Among Crew As Result of Offering of Prizes

By Associated Press. London, March 4.—The statements of the collier Thorax which arrived at Weymouth two days ago, that his vessel had rammed and destroyed a German submarine off Beachy head, appears to have been substantiated. The captain and the crew of the Thorax probably will receive in consequence rewards amounting to $5000 which had been offered by various agencies to the first merchantman that sunk a submarine.

The Thorax went into dry dock today when it was learned that one of her propeller blades had been torn off and that her keel was badly damaged indicating the force which with the craft struck the submarine.

CHILD EATS POISON TABLET, DIES IN TWENTY MINUTES

GERMAN NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH CLOSES

Directors Interested in Brewery Which Has Suffered From Spread of Prohibition

By Associated Press. Pittsburgh, March 4.—The German National Bank of Pittsburgh did not open for business today, a notice on the door stating it had been closed by order of the controller of the currency. Officials and directors of the bank are prominently identified with a Pittsburgh brewing company whose securities recently have suffered heavily it is said because of prohibition laws in West Virginia and the extension of local option in Ohio.

The bank's capital was $500,000 and on December 31st, last reported deposits of $5,024,923 and surplus and undivided profits of $594,265. Little excitement attended the closing. Officers of the bank expressed the hope depositors would be paid in full but could make no promises.

VICTORY OVER AUSTRIANS IS SCORED BY RUSSIANS

Effort To Relieve Przemysl Fails—Germans Admit Retirement From Przrasnysz

ENGLISH PRESS WORRIED OVER NEUTRAL VIEW

Asquith's Announcement Finds Disfavor Abroad—Bombardment Of Dardanelles Continues

By Associated Press. London, March 4.—The interest of British readers in the Russian campaign has again shifted to the extreme southern portion of the line of battle where Petrograd reports that General Brusiloff has won a noteworthy victory south of Baligrond inflicting heavy losses on the Austrians who were again pressing north to the relief of Przemysl. At the same time an unofficial dispatch from Bucharest credits the Russian forces with the recapture of Stanislaw in Galicia. On the other hand, Vienna reports the repulse of desperate counter-attacks in the Carpathians with comparative inactivity along the remainder of the line. Berlin admits officially the German retirement from Przrasnysz north of Warsaw was made in good order in spite of haste that necessitated the abandonment of wounded.

On the western battle front in France and Belgium the French now appear to be content in holding the positions they claim to have won in the Champagne district.

While British battleships are battering Fort No. 8 and Fort No. 9 in the narrows of the Dardanelles from a point ten miles within the entrance of the strait, French warships from the Gulf of Saros are bombarding the Turkish positions at Bulair. A report has been current in London that certain big Krupp guns recently sent to the Dardanelles are still unmounted and an aerial reconnaissance made over the straits last evening seems to have confirmed this report. The battleships of the allies which now show all the colors of the triple entente by the addition of the Russian cruiser Askold undoubtedly have turned the straits of the Dardanelles into an inferno which according to British and French claims has spelled destruction to the Turkish defenses.

On the other hand, reports from Constantinople deride this activity as ineffective. The Turks however, do admit the destruction of the outer forts which they say they expected, but declare the inner works impregnable. The Turks rely on mines, but mine-sweepers of the allies have been busy within a mile and a half of the forts, destroying a Turkish mine field detected by sharp-eyed aviators. Among other reinforcements which it is now said to make the feet off the Dardanelles number 50 ships is the British battleship Canopus last heard of as anchored off the Falkland islands. In the Falkland Island fight the Canopus fired the first shot at the German squadron under the command of Admiral Von Spee. The only craft which either French or British authorities report has been compelled to withdraw from the action is the British torpedo boat destroyer Zephyr built 20 years ago.

In the political field it would appear that other neutrals are awaiting the ead of the United States before embarking on any course of action imposed by Premier Asquith's announcement of the retaliatory policy of the allies. Meanwhile British newspapers are expressing some uneasiness because of the unfavorable impression the Premier's announcement seems to have made upon American public opinion.

TO EXPLORE SITE OF INCA CIVILIZATION

AMERICAN EXPEDITION LEAVES TO WORK IN ANDES MOUNTAIN COUNTRY

STUDY HISTORY OF LOST RACE

Will Try to Discover More About People Flourished Before Days of Columbus

Washington, March 4.—Under the leadership of Dr. Hiram Bingham, the National Geographic Society-Yale University Peruvian Expedition sailed from New York yesterday to continue its work in the Andean mountains, in the hope of finding the key to the mysteries of the New World's past. The Inca and Aztec civilizations which flourished in this hemisphere before the arrival of those gold hungry adventurers and destroyers who followed in the wake of Columbus have an inexhaustible, melancholy interest in that tradition, which indicate how complete systems of culture may be swept away and hardly leave a trace. Work already accomplished in the Peruvian Andes by Dr. Bingham under the auspices of the National Geographic Society and Yale University suggests that the clue has been found to the history of the Incas, and that it will be possible to clear up much of the mystery concerning that civilization which the conquistadores ruthlessly laid waste.

In a concealed valley in the high Andes of Peru, the "American Tibet," Dr. Bingham has discovered one of the lost Inca cities, which he now believes to be the famous Machu Picchu of Indian and Spanish legend, birthplace and last hidden abode of Inca power, faith and culture. The Inca Empire endured between 1100 A. D. and 1512 A. D. Here in this wild, inaccessible mountain region the Peruvian Expedition of 1914-15 will continue its painstaking efforts to lift the veil from the pre-Columbian secrets of the Western Hemisphere, and there is promise that these secrets will prove as wonderful and as fascinating as those which the scientists have forced the dead civilization of the Nile and of the Mesopotamian valleys to surrender.

Interesting Ruins Found.
The highlands of Peru contain vestiges of the most ancient and advanced culture in South America. They hold preserved within their valleys the remains of long forgotten Indian towns and cities, ruins of roads and aqueducts, of walls, fortresses and terraces and in these ruins is written the story of the first American engineers and architects of America's earliest metallurgists and artificers in metals, clay and stone.

These remains, together with the specimens of bronze and silver, ornaments, tools and utensils, form a commentary upon the ancient Inca life out of which the explorers hope to be able to reconstruct a connected picture of the storied Incas. "There was formerly considerable gold to be found in this region, and for many years it was the dream of every adventurous spirit in the New World and the goal of many fortune hunters. However, four centuries of the most unrelenting probably has left little in the way of precious metals to the modern explorer. Old legends of inexhaustible stores of Inca gold, nevertheless, detract nothing from the enticement interest of these little traveled mountains.

The theatre of the National Geographic Society-Yale University expedition is a wonderful country, whose magnificent scenery and part revealed past give it as powerful an appeal as that possessed by any other of the world's areas. It is filled with deep rent canyons, majestic unclimbed mountain peaks, wide ranges of vivid colored, tropical jungles; and it is crossed by the splendid roaring rapids of the Apurimac and the Urubamba, whose waters go to feed the Amazon. It has its disintegrable features, on the other hand, which as insect pests which swarm the lowlands in innumerable millions, the vampire bats of the middle valleys and the bitter cold of the nights in the uplands.

At The Theaters

GOOD, WHOLESOME COMEDY IN "PEG O' MY HEART"

At last Wichita Falls is to see "Peg O' My Heart," the play in which Laurette Taylor has broken all records for consistently perfect performances at the Cort Theatre, New York. This exquisite and wholesome comedy from the pen of J. Hartley Manners will be seen here on March 11 at the Wichita Theatre under the management of Oliver Morosco. Those who have seen it in New York and have been fortunate enough to obtain seats to see "Peg" will be the greatest boosters of the play in every town where the touring company goes, for it is not at all exceptional for New Yorkers to see the show four or five times. The comedy is so refreshing, so brimful of the joy of right living and thinking and the whole done up in such an irresistible Irish wrapper that a second visit but enhances the impression of the first.

The Lydia Margaret Taylor and Brown in "Grand Opera Gosh Wrong" and Norma, the Frog Man, make up the vaudeville bill opening tonight for the last part of the "Today" pictures including "Merry Mary's Marriage," an L-Ko comedy and "The Measure of a Man," a two part special with Pauline Bush playing the leading role.

The scenario of this photodrama of life across the border was written by Thomas Forman and produced by Joseph de Grasse. William Dowling, Joseph de Grasse, Pauline Bush and Lon Chaney enact the leading roles. The dramatic denouement of the life in the factor trading posts of the far north, the film is built upon a foundation of primal strength. Primitive passions have their fullest play. The dramatic denouement is a totally unexpected climax, which leaves one silent in admiration of the author's mastery of his theme.

Pauline Bush, as the wife of a divorcée, is a happy-go-lucky, a diva, a role. As a Western type, Pauline Bush makes an ideal figure. Her impersonation of Helen MacDermott in "The Measure of a Man" is but another instance of her exceptional powers of characterization.

The Empress Wallace Reid and Claire Anderson are featured in a two-part Majestic, "Three Brothers." This story proves that affection for a brother will sometimes master love.

Three brothers, Bob, Will and Charlie, all are in love with Mae. Bob, the oldest, is sulen and revengeful, and is afraid of him. Will, the middle brother, is a happy-go-lucky, a boy whom she falls in love, and Charlie, the youngest, sacrifices his own feelings for Will, who loves Charlie devotedly. Will and Mae are engaged, but he is absent in the city, where he is trying to get a hold in business, so that he and Mae can marry. Bob makes violent love to his brother's fiancée. Charlie comes to her rescue. Learning of the episode, later, Will has not word from her, and he is determined to find her. Some time after this, Will cannot resist coming home to see his mother and Charlie—though he intends that Mae shall not know of his return. Before he can start on his way, however, an incident occurs in which he is called upon to save Charlie's life. His presence and his heroism become known to Mae. The inference is that she has a good deal of a struggle to overcome vain desire.

Charles Conklin, the little chap who has been making the Empress patrons laugh in the Keystone comedies, is showing in a two part comedy today "The Homecoming." These forthrightly two part comedies are features of the Empress program that are long to be remembered.

The eighth of "Olive's Opportunities" is showing here today with Mabel Trunelle in the title role. "Olive's Other Sex" shows how Olive's nature is completely changed as a result of an accident which leaves her memory a blank. From an angel of mercy she changes to an artist's model, leading a wild life and casting off her old friends. She suffers rather a rude awakening but her old self is finally brought back. A Selig comedy, "The Strongest Life" is also on the program with a two part Vitagraph, "In Lath Quarters" as the headline on the bill. Edith Storey is featured in this latter picture, a synopsis of which follows:

A rival artist tries to destroy the best painting of his competitor, for the grand prize. He seizes a dagger to hack it to pieces when his rival's model, with whom the jealous and frustrated man is in love, steps forward to stop him and receives the first blow of the dagger. He believes her to be the thief and she flees. Afterwards he learns that she is not fatally hurt and returns to beg forgiveness, which is readily granted. He congratulates his rival and tells him he justly won the prize. The suspicious wife of the successful artist, who was jealous of the model, sends the girl an injurious note. Those who witness this remarkable drama at the Majestic tonight will have a treat beyond their expectations.

is knocked senseless and dragged into their lair. Alexis prevents him from being killed at once, saying he has a better plan by which he can make use of Roy. He succeeds in making a hypnotic subject of Roy, effects a concussion bomb and plans to have the hypnotized Roy hurl it at Kasso. Vera recognizes Paul in a street car, follows him to the den, but as she is looking through the door, he springs out and overpowers her. He drags her inside and is left in charge of her while Alexis and Michael take Roy to Kasso's house. Paul endeavors to make advances to Vera, but she manages to tell him with a bottle, then finding the door locked, blows it open with one of the conspirator's bombs and with two policemen, dashes to her father's house. Alexis, using his hypnotic power, forces Roy to walk up to Kasso, holding the deadly bomb behind him. Just as he raises it to hurl it at their feet, Vera rushes up and seizes his arm, while the rascally conspirators are made prisoners. Alexis boasts that no one can break the hypnotic spell he has cast over Roy, but Vera's love proves stronger, and Roy is freed from its sway.

RUSSIA IS CONSIDERING EXPPELLING ALL GERMANS

Headlines to Do So Because of Work That Only Germans Know How to Do

By Associated Press. Petrograd, March 4.—The Proposal to oust the German population from Russia still hangs fire. Recommendations made before the Imperial Council and several commissions and sub-commissions appointed by the government have included the government purchases of all landed property owned by Russian citizens of German nationality and the expulsion of these subjects from Russia. But owing to the difficulty of replacing the Germans, who occupy an important position in Russia's industrial scheme, the German problem still lingers before the commissions with little probability of immediate solution.

The liberally-inclined members believe that while the Germans should not continue to enjoy the special privileges which have favored the German industry in Russia in the past, they should not, on the other hand, be thus summarily deprived of their rights in Russia, so long as they are Russian citizens. The Pan-Slavists and the extreme members of the Nationalist party favor the immediate expulsion of Germans of all costs.

As a practical measure, the whole question hinges upon the availability of other candidates to fill the positions now occupied by Germans. This German population does not exceed three per cent of the entire population, but it occupies a conspicuous place in the administrative activity of Russia, both of a private and a governmental nature. The majority of bank and insurance company directors, property owners and managers, are Germans; the same is true of University professors, lawyers, doctors, chief foresters, exporters, importers, civil engineers, printers and foremen in factories. Before the beginning of the war, Russia viewed this condition of things with complacency, realizing that German motive power was indispensable in a country not yet ready to develop its own resources to their highest efficiency. The problem, therefore, which Russia has faced since the beginning of the war is a complicated one, for which no practical solution has yet been suggested.

Works that prepared ammunition for war, railroads and steamship lines for the transportation of troops and munitions, were directed by Germans. And most of the land fringing the Russian boundaries in Europe was owned by the Germans. Even if the Russians could immediately train themselves for the work hitherto left to the Germans, a further obstacle arises in settling with the German-Russian subjects. The Russian treasury has no cash ready to pay Germans for their property or for their stocks. Even if the money were forthcoming, it is not clear to any one, just what would be done with the property they sought. Russians themselves consider that the depreciation in land value and the decreased productivity during the period of transfer would be a calamity.

The various angles into which the question unravels seems effectively to obstruct any positive action. Meanwhile some Germans are being sent out of Russia and are temporarily replaced by competent persons of other nationality. Some in view of the indispensability of their services, have received special permission to remain at their posts. Those who have been expelled are concentrated in camps in Siberia and in the Urals districts awaiting the outcome of the war and the fate which shall decide whether they are to be allowed to go to their homes in Russia or the homes of their forefathers in Germany.

SAXON'S CLAIM OF KINSHIP OF NO AVAIL

By Associated Press. London, March 4.—According to an officer who writes from a British trench in Flanders, this sign was posted by the Germans in a nearby trench: "We are Saxons, you are Anglo-Saxons. Keep your bullets for the Prussians who relieve us tonight." He says that immediately after posting this notice the Saxons perched themselves on their trench tops, lit their pipes, and enjoyed their ease until a volley over their heads sent them back to their trenches.

Fortified Tires Now in the Light

The supreme test of a tire is to hold top place—the place in the sun—and for years, Goodyear tires have done that. Long they have led, both in sales and prestige.

Men expect much of the top place tire. They look for a superior in it. Any seeming fault, due to mishap or misuse, becomes a defect in this glare. Men's best average service, as proved by Goodyear supremacy, the right way to judge a tire? Lower Prices. On February 1 Goodyear made the third big price reduction in two years. The three total 45%. Yet the tires are constantly bettered. In five costly ways—each exclusive to Goodyear—our Fortified Tires excel any other tire built. And each is a great trouble-saver. They mean for you tire content. They mean most for your money, because of our matchless output. For your own sake, try them. The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you.

Who Is Wrong?
Is it the Goodyear user, whose choice is confirmed by some 400,000 others? Or is it the man who still assumes that another tire is better?

"TRENCH INSANITY" NOW PREVAILS AMONG TROOPS

Name is Given to Form of Nervous Breakdown Caused by Firing Line Duty

By Associated Press. London, March 4.—The number of English soldiers and officers who have suffered nervous breakdown more or less approaching insanity as a result of the strain of war, has shown such increase that some of the leading medical journals are pleading for special consideration and treatment for this class. "Some cases, says the Lancet, "are certainly hopeless, but there are others—and happily these are in preponderant numbers, where there are good grounds for believing that they may again become useful citizens."

The effects of warfare on the nervous system are more marked in the case of officers than in the case of enlisted men, the latter in many cases "trench insanity" recovering "tonic" after a continuous sleep of from twenty-four to forty-eight hours. Officers similarly afflicted are generally sent to special hospitals for a rest of a week or ten days, but if they fail to show satisfactory progress at that time they are invalided home on the ground that it is improbable that they could be again employed on active service. "The powerful effect which modern warfare has on the mind is shown," writes a surgeon attached to a British ambulance, "by the dreams and nightmares which disturb sleep in dangerous positions. Nervous subjects react in a most striking way to the shock of explosions in their immediate vicinity. Some develop a tendency to sleep-walking and are found wandering about the premises with faces expressing the utmost terror and anxiety. In the soldiers' dreams, the dream of losing contact with his fellows seems to be felt with extreme frequency, and the horror of isolation constitutes the commonest nightmare of men in the fighting line. "They dream that they are wandering through endless trenches as complicated as an artificial maze, or are picking their way through lonesome forests. The slightest noise during sleep calls up visions of exploding shells or the tramp of armed men throwing them into a frenzy of shouting terror, to the indignation of their resting fellows. "Another common night terror is the dream of a sudden call to arms and the inability of some indispensable article of attire or armament, a conception productive of intense mental agony. Live shells naturally occupy a large share of the soldier's attention in dreams, and an exasperating nightmare is the supposed discovery in one's bed of a shell ready and willing to burst, associated with the usual nightmare incapacity to execute the necessary movements to get rid of it. Several men have had dreams centering around the inability to withdraw the bayonet from the enemy's body when urgently required for self-defense. "Yet these nightmare-ridden men are as brave as the real in the face of actual danger."

GEORGE HAWKINS GETS INTERVIEW IN DALLAS (Dallas Journal) Sheriff Hawkins of Wichita Falls is in Dallas today looking for a white man who is wanted there. The man has been located and will be taken to Wichita Falls some time today. At police headquarters this morning Sheriff Hawkins was discussing the recent crime over the state. He is of the opinion that Henry Giles and his partner "the tall and short" negro highwaymen who operated here in the fall, were the same men who operated in Wichita Falls in August and September. He said several men were held up and all gave the description of the highwaymen as being a "tall and short negro."

Why They Do It. If you should find your congressman behind a black cigar engaged in smoking "can in some secluded bar," Don't tell him sternly that you think his morals aren't so straight. He didn't go in there to drink. But to investigate. He's getting needful information on anti-liquor legislation. Be not discouraged or dismayed if prowling cops some night should get him in a poolroom raid. And swear they've got him right. He would not bet upon a horse. And tarnish his good name. He came to the facts, of course. About a gambling game. He wants to give a grateful nation strong anti-betting legislation. —New York American.

It begins to look as if the United States was going to be forced to fight in order to maintain her neutral rights.

According to the U. S. census report Ellis county is the banner cotton producing county of the State, having headed the list with 129,899 bales for the year 1914.

Credit is a good thing for any country to have, when used to a good purpose. But when used to bring ruin and desolation upon a country, it is then a waste that is deplorable.

This week the legislature will determine whether it will adjourn on the 14th or continue on through to the first of April. If it adjourns on the 14th, the governor and the speaker of the house want the lawmakers to continue in session until platform pledges have been made good and other important matters affecting the interests of the people of the State attended to.

At the very outset Governor Ferguson administered the State a business administration. The State has set up a claim that about twenty disgruntled life insurance companies owe approximately one million dollars in back taxes.

The bill was taken after an attack by Lewelling, who was listened to with interest by Governor Ferguson. The governor remained on the floor during the entire time that the bill was under discussion and after it had been finally passed, expressed much gratification that "the people's will had been enacted into law."

There's a reason. It has got to be such an unusual thing for people to be in jail in Burnett county that some of our readers did not know what was meant last week when we said business was picking up at Hotel Zimmerman.

There are numerous counties in Texas where a jail bird is a rare avia. There are jails in this State being used as hay barns, coalhouses, private dwellings and camphouses.

Noting that the Kaiser had planned a decoration on his little grandson, a correspondent of the Chicago Herald inquires: "Could you imagine President Wilson planning anything on his little grandson?"

It is interesting to observe the pride the refugees take in the decoration of the huts, which are separated by wide tracts of ground.

Many Attend Opening and Admire Handsome Home of This Splendid Firm

A. H. Fell this afternoon at three o'clock formally opened his new place of business at 722 Indiana avenue and the scene that first greeted those who attended was such as to at once impress the visitor with the extensive preparation made for the comfort and convenience of its patrons.

The interior work is quite artistic, the fixtures being of mahogany and marble, with nickel plated mounting. The floor is laid with tiling and the electrical effect is quite attractive. A seating capacity of 136 has been provided and the arrangement is perfect in every way. The place is one of the most attractive in the State and is considered creditable both to Mr. Fell, the clever proprietor and to the city of Wichita Falls.

Mr. Fell has gone to great expense in fixing up his new home, but as he expressed himself to a Times representative, he has faith in Wichita Falls and is willing to invest here to the full extent of his ability. In discussing his improvements, Mr. Fell said:

"What money I have made in Wichita Falls and I am glad to be able to spend it here, and expect to continue to do so, keeping abreast with the progress of the city as near as I can."

In this connection it may be said that Mr. Fell meant, really and truly, what he said in stating that he was spending his money here, for the work on his building was executed by home labor throughout and no money was expended outside the city either than for fixtures that could not be obtained here.

The attendance at the opening has been large, considering the weather. Music is being furnished by Katz orchestra and souvenirs are given all who attend. The store will be open tonight and a musical program will be rendered from 7:30 to 10:30.

Twenty-Four Hours A Day

You know how irritating it is if the electric lights go out for a minute when you are in the middle of a chapter. Human ingenuity is put to a hard task when it undertakes to give you service without a stop at all times. The electric light company must work twenty-four hours a day and it must have material for operation which can be DEPENDENT UPON AT ALL TIMES. Texaco is the choice for such service. At the plant of the Central Texas Power Transmission Company, Hico, the Curtis Turbine has been running twenty-four hours a day for over a year with only one stop on Sundays. Texaco has been used from the start. Here is what Mr. Gleason says about it:

GENTLEMEN:
WE HAVE YOUR LETTER OF INQUIRY ABOUT THE PERFORMANCE OF TEXACO CETUS OIL IN OUR CURTIS TURBINE. WE ARE GLAD TO SAY THAT IT HAS MORE THAN FULFILLED OUR MOST SANGUINE EXPECTATIONS.

THIS MACHINE WAS STARTED ONE YEAR AGO. IT HAS OPERATED 24 HOURS A DAY RIGHT ALONG, WITH ONLY ONE STOP EACH WEEK; THAT ON SUNDAYS. THE TURBINE HAS THE ORIGINAL OIL IN IT. IT HAS BEEN EXAMINED BY OUR CONSULTING ENGINEER, MR. NEFF, AND THE GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY'S MR. VIVIAN. THEY REPORT THAT THE RESULTS ARE IDEAL LUBRICATION. THE ONLY ADDITION OF OIL IS FOR EVAPORATION, WHICH IS SO LITTLE THAT IT IS NEGLIGIBLE.

WE DO NOT THINK OF CHANGING TO ANY OTHER OIL. YOURS VERY TRULY,

The AWAKING of the OLDER NATIONS

New Turkey Offers Rare Opportunities for American Capital—A Use of the Flag That Does Not Redound to Honor of Country.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Taurus, Asia Minor.—One of the great gardens and granaries of the world is this famous Cilician plain round which bloom memories of "The glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome."

Today it is of interest as a feature in the new life of weakened Turkey and as a rare field for the employment of American capital and the sale of American goods. The commercial opportunities of new Turkey are embodied in the situation which is found here. If the new order in the empire is to succeed there will inevitably be great changes in the life of the people.

Broadly speaking, the Asia Minor of today mirrors the times of the Bible. There has been little change in two thousand years.—Upon great threshing floors, tpea to the sky, hand-reaped grain is threshed by oxen and flails, and winnowed by tossing it into the air. Two women may still be seen grinding at a mill. Instead of hotels the wayside khans are of the type which the beautiful Bethlehem story has made familiar to the world. About the roadside wells the herdsmen still gather their flocks, and women with jars draw the water. It is all primitive, pastoral, patriarchal. The next twenty-five years will transform the old order here, even as the like period of time has done in Japan.

Why Americans Are Favored.

Hitherto obligations and finances have gone hand in hand in Turkey's experience with foreigners. Concessions have had diplomatic significance. Simon-pure business has been kept out of the country to make way for the promoter who is supported by the officialdom of some European government. New Turkey is tired of this. She must have money for internal development. Only by the inflow of foreign capital and modern foreign methods can the people be helped along the road which the government has planned for them. In their hour of need the officials are sincerely turning toward America for help. I have been told directly by more than one cabinet minister as well as by minor officials, that since American capitalists are not the forerunners of dangerous governmental policies, they are the most welcome in this country.

The Bagdad Railway.

The Bagdad railway is an illustration of how business and diplomacy go hand in hand. The concession for this great highway has been secured by the Germans. It is a master stroke of policy. There is no exaggeration in declaring that this Bagdad railway is the most important bit of railway construction now under way anywhere on earth. It may be looked upon from several angles. Some persons see this line stretched from Berlin to Bagdad as a mailed fist shown in the face of India. Others regard it as an outstretched hand for the golden commerce of the far east—Others see in it only peril to the British and Russian influence in Persia.

The ordinary business man, who does not meddle with politics, is content to note that it opens up the fertile plains of the Tigris and Euphrates to the German trader. Construction has already proceeded to Bursula and before this winter is over it will be in operation well into the foothills of the Taurus mountains. There, engineering difficulties will hold it for a few years but the Cilician end of the line is also being built. The maps of tomorrow will not ignore this new route over the most ancient highways of the world.

But the railway is practically political. Germany says that if New Turkey increases her taxes, as she means to do, the money must be applied to the building of the Bagdad railway. Great Britain and Russia declare that the taxes may not be raised if they are to be used for any such purpose. Between the contending forces of diplomacy, poor Turkey is held at a standstill. Small wonder that she has looked tyrannically thus far upon the Chrysler railway project, which is designed to open the eastern end of Asia Minor. This, however, is not yet through for the simon-pure diplomacy at Constantinople have tipped themselves about many another promising enterprise to throw it to death.

Business and Reform.

Apart from the question of mines and railways, and these other larger affairs which are roughly grouped as concessions, there remain smaller enterprises which offer no difficulties to the American business man. Perhaps I can best explain these by quoting a long conversation which I had with the Wall of the Vilayet of Adana—a progressive young Turk who was put in by the Reform government after the massacres to rule this troubled territory by an iron hand.

Demal Bey is an enlightened Turk of the new order, liberal in his opinions, intensely patriotic yet sensible in the pursuit of reforms. He has required compulsory education for all children between 7 and 14 years of age. He has forbidden loading in the Coffee Houses before the middle of the afternoon and he has undertaken to close out the gambling which has become an increasing menace to the life of Turkey. I freely translate the message which he desired me to convey to the American business men.

A Governor's Invitation.
"This district alone needs an investment of five hundred million francs of foreign capital. We are now having drawn specifications of a vast irrigation project for this great Cilician plain. I shall be glad to let you have, and to send to any interested and responsible persons in America, detailed information such as would be necessary to make bids. Americans are familiar with irrigation work and skilled in this department of engineering; so we should be very glad to have responsible firms seek this contract and I could assure them that there will be no difficulty about the necessary government concession.

"Here in the city of Adana we need to install an electric lighting plant, a tramway system, a water system, a telephone system, and a sewage system. All these public utilities are open to foreign capital with a good return and abundant security assured.

"Not only will Adana, which has sixty thousand inhabitants, grow to a much larger city, with the advent of the Bagdad railway and the development of our agricultural and cotton industry, but to the east of us on the Cilician plain there should be another city. It is bound to come. With it will come all kinds of opportunities for capital. I should be glad if you would extend this invitation to interested Americans.

"In the way of general trade, there is an almost unlimited field here. For a few years past we have imported every year a number of modern agricultural machines, costing as high as $15,000 a piece. These came from England, yet we know that America is the home of modern harvest machinery. Why do not your manufacturers send out agents into all this agricultural country, or secure native agents in order to promote their business."

"The governor went on to talk of the changed order which brings in the new fashions of the western style, making a market for American shoes, American collars and neckties, American clothes, American tools and many of the accessories of western life. The general commission merchant should do as thriving a business as the capitalist in these regions where once the Persians and Greeks and Romans and Crusaders and Arabs fought historic battles.

Where Americans Blush For the Flag.
Levantine is kinder to see the advantages of trading out here as Americans than are Americans themselves. There have opened in this country some schemes which American residents in this part of the world the dress uniform of the ship's officers, but they have distorted it so that the blue field is larger than the red and white stripes and instead of having the field filled with stars, there appears upon it the white Greek cross. Most of the men in the company are Greeks and thus they are flying the Greek flag in defiance of all responsibility. They escape all the taxes that they would have to pay to the Turkish government, nor are they subject to inspection by any Turkish official.

Cattle in Passengers' Places.
It would be well if they were. When I went aboard the "New Jersey" she was loaded with cargo and well down to the water line. Then there were later taken on 1,500 sheep and goats, lifted aboard in bunches by their hind legs, and thrown scrambling upon the decks. These were given the space that ordinarily goes to second class and deck passengers. They were crowded in so that there was not room to walk among them. Incidentally, they were not given food or water in the 36 hours that I knew them to be aboard. Thirty-one head of cattle were also driven on to the upper deck. A car load of melons were piled high among the life boats.

Over and beyond all these, sprawling wherever they could make a space, were two hundred deck passengers, chiefly pilgrims to Mecca whose prayers and pistols made them even more picturesque than the goats. I could not find a life preserver on the boat, though I searched. As for the life boats, some of them were occupied by the pilgrims who conducted their household arrangements therein.

Passengers on the Bridge.
The advent of a first class passenger on this line was evidently unusual. Absolutely no space is provided on deck for first class passengers but I was invited to share the captain's bridge. It is no exaggeration to state that the fifth on deck was from half an inch to two inches thick. On the bridge I was often left in undisturbed possession, no officer being present. A horribly dirty Greek stood at the wheel.

I could not find any sign of captain's license, pilot's license or any other official papers on the boat. In the cabin there is a handsome ikon before which burns a light. Nobody on the boat speaks English, except one mate who appeared near the end of the voyage and was able to ask to have his picture taken.

And that is the "American-Line," its use of the flag could have been made possible only by some sort of official dereliction or connivance. The government cannot too quickly take think call for vigorous investigation by the government. The flag is flying over enterprises which are not conducted in American fashion, and which bring into disrepute the good name of the nation.

Most conspicuous among these, and of especial interest to Americans just now, because of the shipping subsidy agitation is an "American Line" of steamers which run to Mediterranean ports, flying the American flag. It certainly looks good to an American to see the Stars and Stripes flying on the stern of a vessel of some kind—until he examines the kind of vessel and the story behind it. The American Line has a fleet of nearly a dozen ships, bearing names of states. I know most about the "New Jersey" for on her I made a never-to-be-repeated voyage across the Mediterranean.

As far as I can gather from various sources, the company which owns the ships nominally has the majority of its stock in the hands of a Greek merchant of Smyrna, who went to America and became a naturalized citizen, and returned here for the purpose of restoring the advantages of American citizenship. He is the nominal chief stockholder in the American Line, in a stock company and a cinematograph show, and other enterprises that are opening under the American flag. American protection releases them from all obligation to the Turkish law. Ifly reason of the capitulations in force here every American enterprise is free from Turkish supervision and an unscrupulous person or persons, as may readily be seen, can greatly abuse the rights of American citizenship.

What the Flag Covers.

In the case of this "American Line," which is a scandal throughout the Levant, the company ostensibly secured American registration about a year ago in order to escape the Turkish law whereby its ships could be used for the transport of troops. Critics say that this is the same company that previously ran the ships, but simply under another and an American name. They fly the flag over their offices and over the ships; but I venture to say that there are not five persons in the whole outfit who could tell whether Grover Cleveland was a brand of potato or the president of the United States.

They use the American shield on

Vulcanizing vs. Patching
 We do the real vulcanizing, not gasoline patching. We don't have an errand boy who patches tubes when he isn't running errands. We have a first-class steam vulcanizing plant and our operators of this plant are experienced. We will gladly come out and change your tires, and we know how to change it.

Excuses
 Never pay dividends, neither do they mark the graves, or beautify your cemetery plots. Some are droning on the good folks of this town who take pride in trying to beautify our sacred burial grounds, towards which all are drifting.
 Is that excuse you made last year still on your lips? Have you forgotten that promise you made to a loved one? Has time brushed away the tears, and with it the dear sweet remembrance of those who loved you? Humanity is careless, and prone to err, but there is no excuse for you to not remember them with a suitable memorial. It is the least and last thing one can do.
 Let us help you and thus give lasting satisfaction.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR HAIR
 It is said that there are more bald headed men and striny haired women in America than any country in the world. This is due to neglecting the care of the hair and scalp until it is too late. A bald man buys hair growers after his hair is gone, which is a waste of money. The best hair tonic made will not produce hair on a bald head any more than it will grow sprirute adornment on a gas meter. No dentist promises to grow teeth, no physician promises to replace the fingers that have been amputated. One proposition is as reasonable as the other. Keep a bottle of Dike's Quinine and Sage and use it on your scalp while you have hair and you'll never be bald. The finest preparation of the age keeping ladies' hair soft and live. Heals the scalp and stops hair from falling. Fifty cents the bottle. Let us tell you about it.

Cleaning and Pressing
 Fine fabrics is my specialty. This is the kind of work that we have made the reputation of this shop on. Work that people could not afford to trust ordinary shops. It pays to be careful where you send a fifty dollar suit to be cleaned and pressed. A fine garment costs too much money to risk Tom, Dick and Harry to be cleaned. We are in the tailoring business to give you service and earn the money you pay us. To do these things we must know how to do what you want done. We take off our hat to nobody in the tailoring game. We know all that is known about the business. We don't promise to do impossible things but if it can be done we can do it.
