HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

We sure had a disturbing dream one night recently. We had landed in heaven, and had stopped at the recording angel's desk. He waggled a wing at us and says, "Sit down over there until I get through with these other applicants."

And then he studied the pages of his book for a while, and finally came up with our record. (We think there would be more efficiency up there if they put all that information in a giant computer instead of down on written pages. Some of the people who have to go by that desk have a record as long as your arm.)

Anyway, this recording angel said to us, "Your record isn't so bad, considering everything, where you come from, and what you did on earth. But your record does indicate that you have a tendency toward wasting time. When you were in school, you gawked out the window and sometimes let many days go by without cracking a book. When you were on the newspaper down there you spent a lot of time at the coffee counter, and you wasted a lot of time dawdling at the Lions Club. In the evenings, instead of reading educational articles in magazines or good books, you wasted your time watching television or just plain loafing."

"So... we're going to teach you a little lesson... we're going to give you a little work in the stuffing department and maybe you'll learn that seconds are sliver, minutes are golden and hours are precious as diamonds."

Now that stuffing department was something like the rooms where bureaucrats' office girls do nothing but stuff millions of "news releases" for free mailing.

They gave us the job of stuffing seconds into minutes, minutes into hours and hours into days. And would you believe it, we soon learned how long a minute is when they have to be pasted up sixty seconds at a time.

That's about as far as that office went. The stuffed days were taken into another building where they were stuffed into years and decades and centuries. Beginners aren't allowed to monkey around with the years. Seems that a few thousand or million years ago a beginner balled things up and since then the earth has had to have a leap year every four years to get the time straightened out. There's still quite a scandal about it up there. Too, it takes an expert to keep up with things in that department, what with all the changing (or not changing) of the clocks on earth, from standard time to daylight saving time, or back again.

One thing about the year stuffing department: there are no political appointments and a fellow doesn't get promoted into that department until he's put a few centuries in the second and minute house.

That second and minute stuff can be touchy, though, like the earth needs 60 seconds to the minute, 60 minutes to the hour, but only 24 hours to the day. Changing numbers like that can sure fool a fourth grader.

The moon doesn't revolve, so all they send out to the moon is seconds, minutes, months and years, skipping the days. Takes an advanced staffer to remember things like that.

Also, each planet in our system, revolves differently than the earth and some of them have larger orbits around the sun. As near as we could understand about that leap year scandal on earth, the earth got a shipment of sacked time that was meant for Mars.

That dream left quite an impression on us as to the value of time, even down to the tiniest second.

Next time we get started toward heaven we don't want to get held up in the stuffing rooms without any sleep for a couple of centuries. We want to get passed right on through the outer gates into the inner sanctum where they issue the wings and harps and after that all we want to be doing is sitting on a cloud in an angel's nightshirt and learning new harp tunes. No more loafing for us.

FIRST DOCTOR HERE

Dr. Robert Cooke became the first doctor of Winters after the town was organized. He came to the area from Kentucky, Texas, in midyear of 1889, and lived on a farm one mile north of present day Winters while assisting in building the first one room school building.

After the building was completed, Dr. Cooke and his wife were among the citizens meeting in 1901 to name the town. In January of 1890 the citizens voted to name the town Winters in honor of J. N. Winters, land agent, who had donated land for the school.

March 22, 1890, a group of 18 people again met in the school building to organize the first church of the community, the Bethel Baptist, later to become the present First Baptist.

Dr. Cooke was one of three received in the church as deacons. The others were H. C. Mitchell, his father-in-law, and A. J. Roper. Dr. Cooke was also elected the first Sunday School Superintendent. Church was held in the school building until 1906 when the members were able to construct a church building.

Dr. Cooke bought a block of land, which extended from the present First Baptist Church to Higginbotham Lumber Company, where he built his home and attached his office to it. He practiced medicine in Winters until 1892, then he sold to Dr. Rhubottom and moved to Colorado City.

When his health failed, Dr. Cooke brought his family to the farm of his brother-in-law, Henry Mitchell, north of Winters in 1898. He was ordained to preach August 27, 1899 at Mory. The following year he returned to Winters and served as pastor of the Winters First Baptist Church between the years of 1890 and 1892. He also served as a missionary in the area, preaching at Content and at Wintgate; the years are unknown.

Robert Cooke and his twin sister, Martha, were the last of twelve children born to William and Nancy Cooke at Emory, Texas, June 19, 1857. Robert attended Baylor University when it was known as Waco College. After a year and a half in college his father died and Robert returned home to care for his unmarried sister and his mother.

While at home, Robert worked for his brother, Austin, in a drug store for 50 cents a day and saved enough money to attend Medical College in Louisville, Kentucky. Feb. 26, 1885 he received a diploma in chemistry and microscopy and an honorary diploma for private instruction in obstetrics and diseases of women. Feb. 25, 1886, he received his degree of Doctor of Medicine. While in Louisville he took advantage of seminary lectures.

Dr. Cooke began his practice of medicine at Kentuckytown, near Emory. While on a trip to White Wriory he met Salie Mitchell who had come to the area in 1880 from Bowling Green, Kentucky, with her parents, where she had been born Oct. 30, 1867, the oldest child of her family. She and Dr. Cooke were married Oct. 24, 1886.

The H. C. Mitchells, parents of Mrs. Cooke, moved to a farm at Bluff Creek, north of Winters, in 1888. The Cookes came the next year because Mrs. Mitchell was expecting a baby and Mrs. Cooke couldn't bear the thought of her mother being in an area where there was no doctor.

Dr. Cooke wanted to be where he could be of the greatest service and after his health failed he became a preacher, but continued on page 8)

Postmaster Asks Early Return Of Zip-A-Lists

Postmaster Rankin Pace Tuesday reported that over 500 Zip-A-List cards from all over the country have been processed at the Winters Post Office since the program kicked off last week.

The postmaster urged local residents who haven't taken advantage of the post office's offer to provide ZIP Codes for "zipless" addresses to do so immediately. A kit sufficient for up to eight addresses was delivered to each household in the area. Extra kits are available at the post office.

All a mailer need do to obtain a ZIP Code is to: —write the "unzipped" address in the proper space, including the city and state.

—write in the return address so the post office will know who should receive the completed card.

—drop the card in any mail box. No postage is needed.

Postmaster Pace thanked all who have already filled in their cards and mailed them. "We appreciate your cooperation and look forward to considerably more ZIP in our postal operations after this," he said.

Anyone in the country who requests a ZIP Code for an address in Winters fills out the form and drops it in the mail. When the card arrives at the main post office, it is separated from other mail during the normal sorting process. The cards are stacked, stamped with the proper code plus a "return to sender" notice and mailed to the return address. "It is a fast, efficient process," Pace explained.

Council Ordering Further Build-Up Of Water Lines

In a regular meeting Tuesday night of this week, the Winters City Council continued discussion of expansion of the city's water distribution system, and approved installation of 8-inch lines to complete "looping" the town.

All relocation or new installation of water lines is being made to conform as nearly as possible to the plans drawn up by Marvin Turner Engineers several years ago.

At Blizzard Homecoming

Bearcats Here Friday Night

The annual football game between the Winters Blizzards and the Ballinger Bearcats — to many fans, the highlight of the season — will be played on Blizzard Field Friday night.

It hasn't mattered so much that the two schools have been in separate districts for some time. The competitive spirit between the two teams continues to be high, and the outcome of this annual contest is a thing alone, regardless of district position.

A brisk sale of tickets for the game has been reported by the school business office, with a line of fans at the office Wednesday morning to buy reserved seats. Reserved seat tickets will remain on sale at the business office until about 3:30 Friday afternoon; after that, all tickets will be available at the gate.

It was understood that the block of reserved seat tickets for Ballinger had been sold out, and additional general admission tickets were sent to Ballinger this week.

The Blizzards have three games behind them, with a record of one win and two losses. The Bearcats have played only two games this season, with a 1-1 record.

In previous outings, the Blizzards were edged 7-6 by Lake View, defeated Coleman 21-13, and then dropped a third to a strong Brady team, 12-7.

Ballinger, in District 8-AA, opened the season by beating Sonora 39-7, then took a 13-6 loss from 5-AA top-ranked Anson. The Bearcats rested last week, with no game scheduled.

The Winters High School team this week elected season co-

Winters Blizzards Lose Edger 12-7 To Veteran Brady Team Last Friday

The youthful Blizzards put up a valiant fight against a big and veteran Brady team before going down 12-7 last Friday night. If the Winters group could erase a bad first quarter, the outcome would have been a different story.

The Blizzards got the first break of the game when a bad snap from center caused the Brady punter to go back to chase down the ball. He was trapped on his own 15-yard line but the Blue were unable to move past the 10-yard line in 4 downs.

The Bulldogs took over with strong running plays and moved the ball out to the 27. Then they called on ace Puddin Jones, who broke one tackle, cut back, and outran everyone on the field as he scampered 73 yards and into the end zone. Try for 2 points was stopped short.

Early in the second quarter, Brady made it 12-0 when a punt attempt by Winters mis-fired, giving the Bulldogs the ball on the 18-yard line. Ronnie Neves blasted over from the 4. Again the extra point try was no good.

Winters took over on the 45-yard line and came out throwing in an attempt to get some offense going. Reese McCuiston hit speedy James Greer for 9 yards, ran three times to set up a first and goal from the 9, and then on third down hit Greer as he stood alone in the right end zone. Bob Colburn kicked the extra point and the Blue were suddenly back in the ball game.

The Blizzards defense dug in and held Brady on downs. Blizzards Charles Mathis took their punt, cut to the left side-line and turned on the speed behind some fine blocks by Danny Killough, Jimmy Vaughan and Robert Moore. He was brought down at the last moment by Brady fullback Neves. From the 35, the Winters team marched to the 15-yard line before disaster struck. McCuiston's pass to Alton Pierce was intercepted by a Bulldog defender just as it appeared another Winters touchdown was in the books.

The last half was a rugged, hard hitting defensive battle. Neither team advanced much past mid-field. Brady's big break-away backs were contained the entire period.

Brady managed 14 first downs to 8 for Winters. Donald Wade, Jerry Tischer, Robert Moore, Lanny Bahlman and Danny Killough did yeoman duty for the Blue on defense. The defensive secondary, composed of Fred Wilder, Randy Boles and Charles Mathis, bottled up the Brady air attack. Mathis intercepted one pass, taking it away from 6-foot 1-inch end Lewis of Brady.

It was a fine team effort by the Blizzards. Several younger boys saw their first action as varsity performers and gave promise of things to come for the Winters team.

AROUND THE 5-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

Five outsiders took a shellacking from five "Little Southwest Conference" (5-AA) teams last week, and the sixth—big, powerful Brady, listed in the No. 3 slot for state AA schoolboy football—"knewed they'd been to a ball game," going past a young Blizzards team 12-7, in not-so-easy fashion.

District 5-AA is living up to reputation, with 15 wins, one tie and only two losses for the season. Stamford provided the tie, and the two losses are on Winters' record. Blizzards have been going against some of the tougher opponents, though; some of the other members of the loop may find rougher sledding as they enter this week's races.

The Haskell Indians are the only loopers who have defended their goal line to perfection this season, however. They've racked up 127 points, and allowed no crossings.

Last Week's Results

Anson 29, Albany 13; Colorado City 12, Sweetwater 0; Hamlin 27, Cisco 0; Haskell 49, Munday 0; Stamford 20, Seymour 0; Brady 12, Winters 7.

Constitutional Commission Busy Rewriting Texas' Basic Document

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Constitutional Revision Commission is busy revising or rewriting the basic document which has governed Texas since 1876.

Before it could start, it rounded out its membership by naming five senators.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith refused to name the Senators. He says the Commission was not legally authorized. It was created by a simple House resolution and the Senate did not concur.

Senators chosen by the Commission itself were A. M. Aikin of Paris, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, J. P. Word of Meridian, Don Kennard of Ft. Worth and Henry Grover of Houston.

Gov. John Connally opened the Commission's meeting by urging its members "to make some very profound recommendations about the structure of Texas government without removing fundamental safeguards."

Connally said the commission should "eliminate those portions (of the Constitution) which are outmoded and no longer applicable."

Commission Chairman Robert Storey, a Dallas attorney, said the 25-member commission which will report to the 61st Legislature in 1969, should try to write a brand new constitution.

Recommendations of the Commission must go first to the Legislature. If two-thirds of the lawmakers agree that the proposed revision is worth submitting to voters, a statewide election will be required before any changes can go into effect.

Larry Temple, executive assistant to Governor Connally, was designated secretary and chairman of the drafting committee. San Antonio Mayor W. W. McAllister was named vice-chairman.

Legal or not, the group will devote 14 months to the project. Eight committees were named to study various parts of the Constitution—executive, legislative, judicial, political subdivisions, bill of rights, education, revenue and taxation, and drafting.

HURRICANE ACTION

All available federal aid will be sought by Governor Connally for Rio Grande Valley and Texas coastal areas ravaged by Hurricane Beulah.

Small Business Administration early declared SBA relief loans were available to firms in the hurricane-devastated sections.

State Insurance Board dispatched experts to the Valley to help interpret the fine print of policies. Insurance companies, which paid out $120,000,000 in Hurricane Carla losses six years ago, moved to implement catastrophe plans for speeding claims handling.

Board officials advised that Texas insurance policies do not cover losses due solely to flood waters or wave damage, although some do provide coverage against wind-driven rains, as well as wind damage.

Source of controversy surrounding Carla policies mainly involved losses caused by both wind and water and assessment of that portion attributable to hurricane winds.

Railroad Commission delayed setting oil allowable for October pending a survey of how Hurricane Beulah affected Gulf Coast refining capacity.

GOOD WATER FOR BAD

A new federal government policy demanding commitment of water in order to control state stream pollution may leave Texas no water for its cities, industry and agriculture.

Governor Connally told a conference on regional planning and development that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers wants the state to guarantee release of 1,400,000 acre feet of water per year into the Red River for the next century so as to upgrade quality.

A head-on clash between the state and federal government arose over a contract for the Cooper Dam and Reservoir in Northeast Texas. Corps of Engineers demanded that the state allocate 63,370 acre feet of water a year from Lake Texarkana to control Red River pollution.

At the time the contract was signed, Texas Water Development Board informed President Johnson that the state faces potential permanent loss of 192,000 acre feet from the Red River area below Lake Texoma and possible ultimate loss of 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 acre feet from all Texas waters to federal jurisdiction if the Corps policy stands. Board claimed the policy would further invalidate any planned major redistribution of the state's surface water supply proposed in its $3,600,000,000 water plan.

"If that policy stands," Connally said, "there will be no water left for cities, industries or agriculture. If the water quality controls that Texas is asked to guarantee are put into effect, all present and prospective dams on the San Antonio River would not meet these requirements, let alone needs of the San Antonio area."

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has been asked to rule on validity of the Cooper Reservoir contract because of the provision giving federal agencies the right to release Sulphur River water for water quality control. He is expected to rule that the Water Development Board had no authority to sign it. Nobody seems quite sure what will happen after that.

Executive Director of the WDB, Joe G. Moore Jr., says conflict over the stream-flushing requirement will have to be settled at top state-national levels.

Municipal Rights Division

Texas Water Rights Commission, in effect, reversed a district court decision when it approved 18 applications for Rio Grande Valley water rights.

In bypassing the decision of Judge J. H. Starley of Pecos (in Edinburg's 93rd District Court), the Commission assured water supplies for most Rio Grande Valley cities for populations double those of 1965.

Starley had allocated water on the basis of acreage. Commission allocated it on the basis of population.

"Good Times"

One of the shortest routes for ambitious youth to instant fame and fortune today is via the pop tune hit. Through the magic of the all-pervasive recording industry, singers can vault to overnight celebrity and a cool fortune by turning out one or two golden records.

Sonny and Cher are two of these phenomenally successful singers who have conquered the Youth World of pop blues, kooky clothes and customized cars. Now, they are expanding their entertainment horizons by appearing in their first motion picture, "Good Times," a happy comedy with music at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre in color by De Luxe. George Sanders and Norman Alden are co-starring with the popular singing duo in the Columbia Pictures release.

"Deadlier Than the Male"

A fast and exciting motion picture in Technicolor, replete with a group of beautiful bikini-clad international assassins, and a jet-age Bulldog Drummond who does them in, comes Friday and Saturday to the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. It is "Deadlier Than the Male," a Universal release of a Sydney Bos-Bruce Newbery production.

The female assassins are portrayed by curvaceous Elke Sommer, Sylva Koscina, Suzanna

Is gas really cool?

You bet.
Here's proof:

We turned a gas burner up to high for five minutes. Then we turned it off and immediately set a frozen pitcher of ice on it! Nary a crack! The pitcher remained intact and good as new. (The reason is no hangover heat with gas.) We tried the very same experiment with an identical pitcher... but on another kind of range. It was a shattering experience. When it comes to being cool, gas makes the difference.

 As we go fighting on our way.

 We'll never fail, never fail,
