A Considerate Master

Herman and Heidi, two Dachshunds owned by Wayne Laswell, 111 E. 16th, have been provided with a real fire plug in the back yard. It was painted a fire-plug red. Laswell said he thought every dog ought to have a fire plug, and Heidi, left, takes a good sniff around it while Herman lazily ignores the cameraman in the foreground. Laswell says the plug also provides decoration for the back yard.

AF Colonel Tried In Tower Collapse

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — An Air Force colonel went before a court-martial today on charges of neglect of duty in the collapse of a Texas Tower that cost the lives of 28 Air Force men and civilians Jan. 15.

The formal charges were presented at the outset, and then the session was closed until at least 1 p.m. at the request of defense counsel, Thomas King, a civilian.

No reason was given publicly, but it was understood preliminary motions were to be entered.

At noon it was announced the hearing had adjourned until Wednesday morning.

Col. William M. Banks, said on the eve of his trial that he was "confident of being exonerated."

"I have already pointed out that in the state of my knowledge at the time I acted properly, prudently and not in manner derelict to duty," he added.

Banks, who has a record of heroism in combat in World War II, is accused of ignoring portents of disaster to the Texas Tower off the New Jersey coast.

The court-martial, at Stewart Air Force Base, will consider charges that Banks failed to keep himself advised of the threats of the storm in which the tower collapsed, to keep in touch with the officer in charge of the tower, and to hold himself in readiness for any action necessary to rescue the men on it.

The tower that collapsed was one of three set up off the Atlantic seaboard to sound warning of

Father, 2 Girls Killed In Wreck

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A father and his two daughters died in a car-truck collision near here Monday night.

The large trailer truck toppled over after the crash on Highway 77 and split the auto.

The dead were identified as Earl Buel, Raymondville, and his daughters Earlene, 11, and Betty Louise, 17.

Officers, firemen and volunteers worked for nearly three hours to free the bodies from the wreckage.

a possible enemy air attack. The structure, with legs made fast to the ocean bottom, supported radar equipment and the crew manning it.

The tower—called "Old Shaky" by some of its personnel — was struck by a violent storm. Radio contact was lost.

Rescue planes and ships that sped to the scene found the tower

Subscription Shelter Planned

HARLINGEN (AP) — Victoria will have an atomic bomb shelter "if there is a favorable response from citizens," the owner of a newly-formed company said Monday.

Beryl Roland Burgess said the shelter, which would cost $195,000, will contain emergency water and sewage facilities.

HERALD OPENS APPEAL FOR BIBLE CLASS FUND

In cooperation with the Big Spring Pastors Association and on behalf of scores of high school students who want to take the high school Bible course, the Herald today opens the annual appeal for support of the high school Bible Class Fund.

Laws preclude the use of public funds for the Bible course, although it is not taught from doctrinal points but rather for its great moral and ethical principles as well as a storehouse of history and literature.

Hence, the offering of Bible as a high school course is dependent upon the support given it by individuals, organizations, businesses and churches.

The association estimates that at least $3,500 will be needed from the current appeal to provide for the course. The actual needs may be greater, depending upon the final teacher pay scale.

Last year churches (principally six congregations) gave $1,237 in direct aid to the program, and efforts are being made to get a substantial increase here. The public appeal resulted in $2,672.30 (of which $294.50 was given by church groups). Miscellaneous collections brought $232.83.

The reason for greater needs this year is that instead of four classes, more than enough pupils have already signed to warrant five classes.

Instructional costs amounted to $4,035 and all other expense $38.48, leaving a balance of $38.40 in the fund. This makes it apparent that the need also is immediate.

All investments in this fund will be acknowledged by the Herald, and proceeds accounted to the Pastors Association. Won't you be as generous as possible and send or mail yours today?

Big 3 Make Auto Wage Bid

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., today offered the United Auto Workers new three-year contracts providing six-cent-an-hour wage increases in each year in addition to cost-of-living allowances.

The Big Three, presenting a united front also offered expanded fringe benefits and what they termed a new income guarantee to supplement pay in short work weeks for their 490,000 workers.

Ford and Chrysler said their almost identical offers would expire automatically if not accepted fully at both the national and local union levels by Aug. 31, the date of expiration of current three-year contracts. GM, however, indicated it would be willing to negotiate changes in the basic pattern of the agreement.

The companies proposed hourly pay increases of 6 cents an hour each year or 2½ per cent of the employee's hourly base pay, whichever is greater.

EXTRA BENEFITS
They also proposed extra benefits for employees who, due to layoffs, work less than 36 hours in any week. The benefits would be one-half of the employee's straight time per hour for the difference

Two Horses Found Axed

A mare and a colt, both registered quarter horses, valued at $1,000 and $750, owned by Tom Buckner, were found in serious condition shortly after 6 p.m. Monday. They were kept in pens in the 500 block of NE Second Street.

Buckner told police that some one had used what appeared to be an axe on the heads of the two animals. Sam Fuller, animal warden for the police department, went to the pens with the owner to investigate.

Fuller said the colt had a halter on and the tracks of two men indicated that one had held the colt and the other had struck the animal with an axe. He said a four-inch gash had been opened in the animal's head which had blinded the left eye.

Fuller also said the mare's head was cut and that she might not recover with the natural animal intelligence.

Detective Aubrey Hurley said Tuesday morning that serious charges would be filed on any one apprehended for the crime.

Annexation Bid On City Agenda

Bruce Frazier, developer of the new Carver Heights Addition in Northwest Big Spring, will ask for its annexation to the city at the Tuesday night meeting of the city commission.

Plans of the development, on which Frazier proposes low cost housing, have been approved by the city.

Frazier planned the development whereby a person buying his lot could get the new type IEH homes. It is primarily developed for Negro home owners.

The commission may also, in addition to the agenda already announced, hear a report from Coahoma on the proposed additional water service for that city. The Coahoma water district buys its treated water from Big Spring.

Golf Pro Slain, Investigator Held

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — The golf pro at Pleasure Island Golf Course died from a bullet wound in the forehead and his father was shot twice late last night in a mystery slaying in which more than $6,700 is involved.

Authorities charged an Arizona man, James Virgil Eaves, 37, with murder in the death of the golf pro and assault with intent to murder in the shooting of the pro's father.

Officers said Eaves told them that he is a special investigator on vacation.

Slain in the bedroom of his home was Homer Widener, 45, between the hours he works in a week and a minimum 36 hours.

The Big Three also offered to increase maximum weekly Supplemental unemployment Benefits (SUB) from $30 to $35, and to make it easier for employees to apply for and receive benefits.

SUB is an auto industry program under which the companies pay their workers an additional allowance to supplement what they receive in government unemployment compensation.

Ford, General Motors and Chrysler proposed "stabilizing" revisions with their offers to retain the cost-of-living allowance provided in current contracts.

American Motors Corp. earlier had asked the union to abandon cost-of-living increases in return for a profit-sharing plan.

TRANSFER
They proposed transfer of 12 cents of the present 17-cent cost-of-living allowance into the base wage of hourly rated employees.

All three also offered a new moving allowance plan for employees transferred from one plant to another part of the area (Chrysler stipulated 50 miles or more), improved pension benefits, liberalized medical insurance benefits, and more life insurance.

None of the Big Three offered a profit-sharing plan, as American Motors did. A profit-sharing plan was one of the UAW main bargaining goals when the current contracts were negotiated in 1958.

The nation's three biggest auto makers also offered to increase separation pay by 25 per cent. Separation pay is available to employees affected by long-term layoffs, such as in cases of plant relocation or closing.

COUNTER PROPOSAL
The industry offer apparently was a counterproposal for the union's demand that employees currently paid by the hour be put on a salaried basis to protect their income during short work weeks.

Norman Matthews, director of the UAW Chrysler Department, termed the Chrysler offer "interesting" and said he was pleased with "some improvements in such things as SUB and pensions."

Identical pension improvement plans were handed to the UAW by all the Big Three. They would increase benefits for employees retiring at age 65 or older from $2.50 to $2.60 a month for each year's service after 1961, and $2.40 to $2.50 for service prior to 1962.

Increased benefits for employees who retire early or who retire because of permanent total disability also were offered.

Improvements in medical benefits offered by the companies included increasing of in-hospital benefits from the present 120 days to a maximum of 365 days.

LIFE INSURANCE
Life insurance coverage would be boosted by $500.

Proposals from all the Big Three had been expected to be substantially the same. The companies negotiate separately with the UAW but keep each other informed on the progress of bargaining and on their thinking about a pattern settlement in the auto industry.

All had said any settlement must not be inflationary.

The Big Three timed the proposals for presentation on the same day the union was to reply to the American Motors package offer, which includes a profit-sharing plan. AMC made its surprise offer July 28.

The UAW also resumed negotiations with American Motors today on the AMC July 28 contract proposal that includes profit-sharing.

At the outset, the UAW did not reject the AMC offer as had been reported a possibility.

"APPROACH"
UAW President Walter Reuther said at a press conference last Friday that the AMC offer was "unacceptable" but represented "a meaningful approach" toward settlement.

Matthews, who also heads the AMC Department, told newsmen today "we want to discuss it very thoroughly. There are some things in it with which we disagree. We want to explore."

In making the profit-sharing offer, Edward L. Cushman, AMC industrial relations director, said the union "cannot pick and choose" and that the package "stands on its own feet."

AMC, while offering profit sharing and a seven-cent hourly pay increase over three years, also proposed to freeze fringe benefits where they are and to eliminate both the annual improvement factor and the cost of living escalator.

The union did not call a strike vote at AMC as it did at the Big Three plants.

LBJ Reports On Historic Berlin Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson reported to Democratic congressional leaders today on his weekend trip to West Berlin—a mission his colleagues termed historic.

Johnson discussed his findings with the leaders as they met with President Kennedy for their weekly breakfast in the White House.

Both Kennedy and Johnson declared Monday that Johnson's survey of the crisis area and his talks with West German leaders had solidified relations with that republic and U.S. determination to maintain the Western Allies' rights in West Berlin.

Johnson returned Monday from the 36-hour trip during which he witnessed the arrival of 1,500 American troops to reinforce the West Berlin garrison.

House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said Johnson had given a report on his "historic trip" and added that "all of America is very proud, very fortunate" to have the vice president's services at this crucial period.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he and his colleagues were "very pleased and impressed with the activities of the vice president."

The President, just back from a short weekend on Cape Cod, talked to Johnson about his German trip for an hour in the White House.

After Johnson's report Kennedy told newsmen that the vice president had made a "remarkably successful and important trip."

"We are going to pass through difficult weeks and months in the time ahead in maintaining the freedom of West Berlin," Kennedy said. "But maintain it we will."

Johnson added that Americans and West Berliners "are going to continue to march shoulder to shoulder to the end that freedom is preserved in the world."

To trumpet the West's position on Berlin, the U.S. Information Agency is stepping up its propaganda campaign with films, broadcasts, magazine articles and books. The materials are going to 200 USIA posts around the world.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders today abandoned, for the time being at least, their effort to pass legislation extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission for two years.

Money Voted On Saline Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing an extra $50 million for the salt water conversion program and extending the program for five years beyond 1963.

The bill passed without opposition by voice vote Monday.

So far five experimental conversion plants have been authorized under the program to develop an economical method of converting salt water to fresh water. One is at Freeport, Tex.

Highway Engineer Lashes ROW Pacts

J. C. Roberts, district engineer for the Texas Highway Commission, is highly dissatisfied with the recent findings of a special commission on right of way damages on US 87 in this county.

He told Ed Carpenter, county judge, today that the state intends to appeal all of the findings and that he is not interested in any compromise settlements such as were worked out in two instances by the commissioners and the property owners on Monday. He indicated, however, that the settlements made with these two would be allowed to stand. In all other of the seven tracts on which the appraisers made reports, the state will appeal the findings of the special commission and let a jury decide the amount of the damages, he said.

Roberts told Carpenter that the

Razing Comes On Border Tour

BERLIN (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer toured the barricades between East and West Berlin on a morale-boosting visit today and was met with jeers from the Communist side.

The jeering at one point was led by Gerhard Eisler, top East German propagandist who jumped ball in the United States and fled to East Germany.

"There's only one way out, Konny," Eisler shouted at Adenauer across the barbed wire at Potsdamer Platz, once a major crossing point. "You'll have to deal with us."

The 85-year-old chancellor, impassive as an Indian chief, ignored Eisler and all the other Communist hecklers.

At other points, Communists from East Berlin jeered him from the wall they have built to divide the two parts of the city.

Communist loudspeaker trucks turned up at the Brandenburg Gate, once the chief crossing point, and blared at Adenauer.

"We acted but you did nothing," they said.

The Communists made so much noise that nothing the chancellor said could be heard except by those closest to him. He did not attempt to make any speech.

Adenauer, chief of the Christian Democratic party, was met at the airport by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, his Socialist opponent in West German elections next month.

His visit was his first since the Communists closed the border between East and West Berlin on Aug. 13 to stop the flow of refugees and commuters to the West.

Adenauer's opponents in West Berlin have criticized him for delaying his visit until the tension had begun to subside.

CLOSURE
Signs displayed at the arrival last weekend of U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, emphasizing Adenauer's delay, said "Washington is closer than Bonn."

Adenauer went directly from the airport to visit the West Berlin refugee reception center at Marienfelde.

He was cheered and nearly mobbed there by several hundred recently arrived refugees from East Germany.

Police had to force a way through the throng.

Adenauer stopped briefly to assure the refugees that their brethren in East Berlin and East Germany would never be forgotten, and then left for a tour of the wall erected by the Communist regime.

Rumors circulated that a high-ranking Soviet leader would arrive soon in East Berlin, presumably in an effort to counter the effect of the hero's welcome given U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson during his weekend visit to West Berlin.

DOUBTS
But Western allied circles said they doubted the East German Communists would make any such obvious gesture. The Red regime has proclaimed the border closing a great victory against the West.

Hours before Adenauer's arrival 3,000 British troops turned out in another display of allied military readiness. A British spokesman called it a routine alert to familiarize the men with their assignments in case of an emergency. Within four hours most of the troops had returned to their quarters.

prices being charged for right of way for state highway improvements were getting out of hand and that the state will be much sterner in its handling of such matters hereafter. He told Carpenter he would be in Howard County this week, if he could arrange matters to do so to discuss the problem with the commission.

Carpenter said that he had led the matter of the state's request for appeals in the valuations set by the commission before the commissioners court on Monday.

Ralph White, a commission member, moved that appeals be filed at once. This motion was seconded by L. J. Davidson. On a call for votes, White, Davidson and Rufus Stallings voted for filing the appeals.

Joe Hayden voted no.

The special appraisers sent out to set values and damages on nine tracts of land upped offers made by the state appraisers for the tracts by more than $40,000.

The county is acquiring the right of way for the road with an understanding that half of the expenses will be repaid by the state later on.

Under the law, in condemnation proceedings, the property owner and the political subdivision each have the right of appeal if the findings of the commission are not satisfactory.

A jury in county court then hears the matter and hands down its own determination of a fair value.

Meantime, with the filing of a report by a special commission, the lands needed for the road program become immediately available to the state or county for whatever improvements a r e planned.

JFK Declines To Hold Ship As A Ransom

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — President Kennedy has declined to hold a Cuban merchant ship as ransom for the families of 10 defecting crewmen because it might provoke retaliation and be "harmful to innocent travelers in the future."

The President, in a telegram relayed by an advisor to Capt. Jorge Navarro of the freighter Bahia de Nipe, added that such a barter might not work and at any rate was illegal in the United States.

White's Trial Moving Ahead

Jimmy White, 29-year-old former Big Spring man, charged with transporting $150,000 worth of stolen rare art pieces from New York to Big Spring, is on trial in United States District Court in New York City today.

His trial opened on Monday. A jury was selected the first day and testimony, including that of Bill Mabry, Abilene FBI agent, was being heard in the case today.

White, who has been making his home in New York for several years, is listed as a model and actor.

The stolen paintings were discovered in a local storage warehouse and the government alleges that White transported from from Patterson, N.J., where they were stolen from the home of David Daniels, a singer. Daniels was in Europe at the time of the theft, which occurred on May 9.

The missing art pieces were recovered here on June 22 and removed to Abilene and later to New York.

White is a graduate of Big Spring High School and well known to many persons in the city.

Propaganda

MEXICO CITY (AP) — About four tons of printed, recorded and filmed Castroite propaganda passed through Mexico City airport Monday on its way to Cuban diplomatic and consular missions in Latin America. Custom authorities said the material arrived on a Cubana flight for shipment to Rio de Janeiro, Quito, Santiago, Montevideo, Buenos Aires and La Paz.

Progress in O'Donnell

This is the site of the waterworks system now under construction in O'Donnell. The new reservoir has been placed near the elevated storage tank and the booster station and chlorinator will be housed in the small building at left. Shown at the booster station is Mayor

L. J. Hash, without hat, talking to one of the employees of Panhandle Construction Co. of Lubbock, the contractors. The firm of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper is the city's consulting engineering agents.

O'Donnell Undertakes Big City Improvement Program

O'DONNELL (SC)—This little city of 1,356 inhabitants has undertaken what it is a gigantic capital improvements program, but the citizens haven't batted an eye at the $230,000 cost.

Presently under construction is a new waterworks system, to be followed by new paving and street repairs, firefighting equipment innovations and a new truck.

Citizens will pay a little more for their water and will pay a slight tax rate increase to get all these conveniences, yet they eye the reputation of having a "big little city."

The waterworks contract was signed on July 10. Since that time, a reservoir has been erected along with three miles of 8-inch pipeline from a new 3-well field three miles northeast of town. The reservoir will have a capacity of 200,000 gallons and will boost the total storage capacity to 320,000 gallons.

A booster station is under construction at the site and a chlorinator will be installed this month. Contract is for $81,000 or $18,000 below estimates.

With the excess from the revenue bond election, which carried on March 25, 1961, the city plans to repair its 50,000-gallon elevated storage tank, lower or replace water mains, replace old water meters, renovate the 70,000-gallon underground storage tank and landscape the waterworks location in the heart of the town.

The bond election supplied about $170,000 for the system, including engineering costs and $59,000 refunding bonds.

The new facilities are dually designed to fit into the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority plans and are automatic. Improvements will probably enable the city to obtain its first state-approved water supply.

The water improvements resulted in a 70 per cent increase in supply. Whereas, residents formerly cut down on watering to maintain pressure for firefighting, they now are averaging 300,000 gallons per day, or roughly one-third more than the former capacity. The basic water rate was raised from $2.75 for the first 2,000 gallons to $3.50.

Councilmen have purchased a $15,000 fire truck, and Mayor L. J. Hash said delivery is anticipated for October. The old truck will be reconitioned. Residents should save the cost of the new truck in 10 years in lower fire insurance costs, he said.

Contract for the $40,000 paving and street repair program will be let this month. Besides $15,000 for seal coating, some 18 to 20 new

3 Airmen Electrocuted

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A crane boom brushed against a high voltage wire at the fairgrounds Monday, electrocuting three members of a five-man Air Force team preparing a jet fighter for exhibition at the county fair.

A fourth man was burned. The fifth was not hurt.

The four men were rushed to Meadville City Hospital. Dead on arrival were Frank Komar, 41, of Springfield, Ohio; Robert L. Blair, 33, of Hancock, Vt.; and Fredrick J. Gans, 26, of Galesburg, Ill. all held the rank of Airman 1.C.

Sgt. William A. Brookins, 27, of Fairborn, Ohio, was listed in satisfactory condition at the hospital. Sgt. William L. Call, also of Fairborn, was not hurt.

The men were from the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio. A base spokesman said the group was highly experienced and had given similar exhibitions throughout the country numerous times without incident.

Storms Erupt Over Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Scattered thunderstorms erupted over the Panhandle and near the Red River in North Texas during the early morning hours Tuesday.

And the forecast called for more thundershowers over wide sections of the state through Wednesday.

Skies were fair except partly cloudy in the rain-stricken areas Tuesday morning. Temperatures ranged generally in the high 60s and low 70s.

Thunderstorms were predicted to continue into the night in North Texas. Isolated thundershowers were called for in South Texas beginning Wednesday.

Laredo's 89 was the high Monday and 52 at Alpine was the low. The low temperature Tuesday morning was 63 at Junction.

Kennedy Breaks Off Red Air Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, "in view of the international situation," has broken off plans for signing a commercial air agreement which had been worked out with the Soviet Union.

The surprise move was announced by the State Department Monday night after a month of quiet talks on the long-proposed air route joining New York and Moscow.

The State Department said "in view of the international situation, for which the U.S. government is not responsible, this government has decided that this is not an appropriate time to sign a civil air transport agreement."

State Department press officer Lincoln White said that if the international situation changes "that would be a different kettle of fish."

Soviet reaction—so far—has been mild. The Soviet Union's civil air chief, Col. Gen. Yevgeni F. Loginov, voiced regrets at the last-minute U.S. turnaround which he said "cannot be regarded as a step towards improving" U.S.-Soviet relations.

Loginov said he planned to return to the Soviet Union today and it would be up to Washington whether an agreement will be signed later.

Presidential adviser James M. Landis headed the U.S. group in the air route discussions which started July 18.

But when it came to signing, the Americans insisted they would only inscribe their initials. That way the agreement remains on ice until the governments formally sign. SO, Loginov just initialed, too.

Likewise put into the freezer was a side agreement that had been worked out by the two airlines which were supposed to fly the New York-Moscow run. Pan American Airways for the United States and Aeroflot, the Soviet government-owned civil airline. Their pact cannot take effect until the governments sign.

Moisture, No Interest

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A 59-year-old parolee whose life savings have been drawing moisture instead of interest learned Monday that at least part of it will be replaced.

But, he's still hunting for an additional $1,500 to $2,000 buried by his father who can't remember where.

The money to be replaced was part of that contained in a peanut butter jar found by the parolee—who wants to remain anonymous because he doesn't want his yard full of money diggers—when his sense father had a lucid moment and remembered where he had buried it 11 years earlier.

Gilbert Pinkerton, state pardon and parole board officer, said the parolee was notified by the U.S. Treasury Department that $250 of the money contained in the jar will be replaced—and possibly more.

The parolee went to prison on his last conviction 18 years ago and began spending all his spare time making leather goods and selling them.

He banked some of his money in a Tulsa bank by mail but sent the remainder home to his elderly parents. He also sent some of his leather goods to his father to sell.

The parolee said they were to use as much of the money as they needed for themselves and bank the remainder—but his father didn't believe in banks, a fact the son learned after his release on parole from a life sentence three months ago.

U.S. Negotiating Helium Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall said Monday the Bureau of Mines is negotiating with three companies, one from Texas, in connection with the government's long-term contract for federal purchase of helium.

The Texas firm is Helium Conservation Corp. of Midland. The others are Cities Service Helix, Inc., New York, and Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., Kansas City.

FREE MEN

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 3200 West Highway 80, P.O. Box 1282.

"For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's free man..." (I Cor. 7:22). This describes the Christian; but even those who are not saved have freedom of choice and will (Rom. 1:28; Rev. 22:17). Every man has the right to study the Scriptures for himself, and to decide for himself about his religion.

Sometimes a religious leader will refer to the members of his church as "my people" and "my flock" and think that no one else has the right to talk to them about religion. But no one has the authority to so lord-it-over the creatures of God. No church leader has a Scriptural right to require the members of his church that they stay away from others and refuse to hear them preach. And not many men are going to be thus enslaved.

An encouraging sign is being evidenced during our open-air revival in that many people who do not agree with what we preach are showing a willingness to come and give us a hearing.

... Let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath" (Jas. 1:19).

OPEN-AIR REVIVAL

"Believing a Lie" (I Kings 13) will be Mr. Tarbet's sermon tonight at 8:00 in the open-air service on the Old San Angelo Highway, one-half mile west of the City Park. Only two services remain in this revival. T. H. Tarbet will preach tonight; and Eddie Swinney will preach Wednesday night. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Crow Came Caw-ling

Mrs. Eleanor Matheny, 407 Pennsylvania, was a little amazed to find this big black bird perched on her fence late Thursday. He had nothing to say but was willing to accept a light repast from Mrs. Matheny. He was promptly christened "Quoth" by neighbors who identified him with Poe's sable hero—"Quoth, the Raven," in the poem by the same name. Later Quoth departed.

Daily Average Oil Production Rises

TULSA (AP) — Daily average production of crude oil and condensate increased 19,450 barrels to 7,064,600 barrels during the week ended Aug. 19, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

The biggest gains were in Illinois, up 7,300 barrels to 213,600 barrels; Wyoming, up 3,850 to 399,300; Oklahoma, 3,500 to 508,500; and Kansas, 3,200 to 311,400.

The eastern fields had the week's largest loss, falling 1,200 barrels to 39,800 barrels.

The Journal estimated 1961 production at 1,600,873,400 barrels compared to 1,631,157,000 a year ago.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,507,650 barrels; and New Mexico.

Arkansas production was up 100 barrels to 78,300 and Louisiana down 100 to 1,134,650.

Jagan, Marxist Castroite, Returns To Power In Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Cheddi Jagan, 43, a Marxist admirer of Fidel Castro promising a foreign policy of active neutrality, was returned to power for four more years today in Britain's only South American colony.

Returns from Monday's general election gave Jagan's Communist-leaning People's Progressive Party (PPP) 19 of 35 seats in the new legislature, and at least two of the five unreported constituencies were expected to be added to the East Indian dentist's majority.

The Negro-dominated People's National Congress led by Forbes Burnham won nine seats and Peter Daguair's conservative, anti-Communist United Force won two.

The British ousted a government headed by Jagan in 1953, charging that he was planning to establish a Communist beachhead on South America's north coast flanking the Panama Canal. In elections in 1957 the PPP won 9 of the 14 legislative council seats and Jagan became minister of industry, a post equivalent to premier under British governor Sir Ralph Grey.

Jagan was expected to come to Georgetown today from his inland home district to accept Grey's invitation to become British Guiana's first premier in name as well as fact.

Britain has promised the colony internal self-government and said it could apply for independence within two years. Jagan is expected to demand independence within the Commonwealth immediately. He also opposed British Guiana's entry into the West Indies Federation and says he will hold a referendum on the question.

Spellman Denies School Opposition

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman says there was no truth in a charge by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., that top-ranking Catholic clergy are opposed to improving public schools.

The cardinal, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, said Morse made the statement in a speech Aug. 14.

In a reply Monday, Cardinal Spellman said: "We do not, as he alleges, look upon them (public schools) as 'competitors,' but as partners in the great work of educating America's children. We recognize their essential place in American life."

"But we are also deeply concerned for the protection of our Catholic schools. We do not believe that the best interests of this nation can best be served by making public school education a monopoly."

The cardinal said public school education would eventually become a monopoly under the Kennedy administration proposal, backed by Morse, to aid only public schools with federal funds.

That proposal "is actually if not intentionally discriminatory, unwittingly anti-Catholic, and indirectly subversive of all private education," he said.

Morse, in his speech in Philadelphia at the annual convention of the American Federation of Teachers, accused the Catholic hierarchy of seeking to block the "legislative aims of a majority of our people through pressure tactics."

A Devotional for Today

Be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord. (I Corinthians 15:58)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy promise to us that everyone who believes in Christ shall be saved. We pray that Thou wilt give us faithful hearts so that we shall never give up our work for the salvation of mankind. For our Redeemer's sake. Amen.

Please Help the Bible Fund

For more than 15 years the Herald has worked with the Big Spring Pastors Association and others in appealing for volunteer support of the Bible Class fund. Texas statutes hold that tax money may not be applied to finance Bible instruction in public schools. However, credits earned in the study of Bible as a book of literature and history as well as a reservoir of moral and ethical principles, are recognized as part of the curriculum and count on a par with other elective courses.

Big Spring people have always rallied to the support of this worthy undertaking, as have several of our churches. They have, when invited by the Herald and the association, given generously that the courses may be offered to students who sign up for them.

The Bible is not taught for its doctrinal or interpretative religious concepts, but rather as a collection of books which contain underlying principles that will undergird and enrich the lives of young people. Instruction in doctrine and practice and in the intricate realms of spirituality left to where they belong—the pupil's own minister and church home.

That the course has not only sustained but has grown in popularity is a testimonial to the quality of the teaching. It is not a snap course, yet more and more are asking for it in their schedule. This year there are enough signed for five full courses, an increase of 25 per cent.

Whether we are able to give them bread instead of a stone depends upon how well individuals like you respond to the current appeal for help. The need this year will be greater than ever. You have never yet failed, and we have an abiding faith that as one of the good people who make this such a genuinely fine community that you won't delay mailing or sending in your gift right away.

Novel Approach With Possibilities

A novel approach by an Abilene businessman to the problem of hemisphere aid has stirred considerable excitement.

The idea, new perhaps only to this realm of endeavor, is that a community in the United States "adopt" a Latin-American community. Whether in moral encouragement, communication or actual monetary or physical aid, the job of helping a specific city south of the border would fall upon the adopting community in this country.

It would be a mistake to regard this as a substitute for a coordinated program of relations between nations, for obviously there are certain undertakings that are too massive or too general in nature to be accomplished by localized effort.

Yet, the inter-community contact as between cities here and those in Central and South American nations is commendable. Many problems which might be too small to be touched directly or even indirectly as regards international programs may be met and solved by the neo-personal approach.

This business of one community working with another could go far toward deepening understanding between all people of this hemisphere. Although it may be easy to be indifferent to something so abstract as national assistance, it is not human to be callous when help is understood as a heart-to-heart expression of human concern from one person to another or from one community to another.

Berlin Normal—Only On Surface

BERLIN—When you return to Berlin after the events of the past week that made great black headlines all over the world the first surprise is how perfectly normal everything appears. There is the same bustling efficiency at Tempelhof Airport, the same lines of shiny black Mercedes-Benz taxis, the same throng of tourists and businessmen in the hotel lobby.

EVEN WHEN you cross into the Soviet sector of the city, and it is a surprise to discover with what relative ease this can be done, after the first shock of the border police with their Sten guns, things look very much as before. The border is a shock.

My driver, who speaks English and drives regularly for tourists, shows his identity card and my passport to the first three or four Vopos, or folks police. Casually they wave us on. The second group takes a longer look and still we pass. But now we are at the final barrier, and in impressive group of higher ranking Vopos supplemented by the paramilitary militia in brown fatigues with Sten guns over their shoulders. These last, the driver whispers, are the really tough guys.

AFTER CONSIDERABLE consultation the verdict is that the car cannot go through, the driver must apply for a special permit. But we can cross on foot. So he takes the car back and parks it just inside the West sector and I am left alone standing just beyond the barrier of concrete and steel erected across the broad street to permit the entrance of a single car at a time. It is a strange sensation to be surrounded by the Vopos and paramilitary and to realize that with a few steps you have moved into another world where the only law is force exercised by men with guns.

WE HAVE neglected to bring East marks with us and West marks are not acceptable on the streetcar that will take us into the center of East Berlin. Peter, the driver, strikes up a conversation with a dispirited-looking young man who is also waiting. He offers to give us two East marks, refusing to take West marks in exchange, since he will have no use for them in the East. So we sit aside as the battered trolley grinds down Heinrich Heine Street.

THE YOUNG MAN learns I am an American. In a voice not a conscious whisper but barely audible he says, "You must tell them how it is here. You must tell them how it is with us." It is one of the few sunny mornings in the wet, dark summer. We are jogging through the ruins that only here and there have been halfheartedly restored. In one block new-looking, two-story apartment buildings have been dropped down. They are like children's blocks left carelessly in the midst of chaos. Youngsters are playing in the rubble heaps. At the Alexander Platz in the center of the sector we all get out. The young man is saying "You must tell them in your country to take it to the United Nations, only the United Nations can help us in this condition in which we are." And then he adds just as we part, "I've been waiting for eight weeks for a letter from my friend in California and now I'm sure the censorship has kept it." In his tired, toneless voice this is somehow more moving than the most passionate oratory.

PETER AND I go down into the subway which still runs through the East sector, although the link with the West is severed. It is the pre-war Berlin subway system that seems clean and well-kept. We ride from Alexander Platz to the Stalin Allee stop and then we come up into the "show place" of East Berlin.

Or it was once the show place. The ornamental tiles are peeling off the front of the pretentious apartment blocks, although they are only five or six years old. The balconies have had to be reinforced and the effect is of an attempt at grandeur gone to seed.

Yet there are many strollers in the warm sunshine, older women shopping, children out of school, occasionally a young couple. A food shop in one of the apartment blocks displays plums and inside the door women are queuing up for them. According to Peter, who knows East Berlin almost as well as West Berlin, fresh fruit is a great rarity.

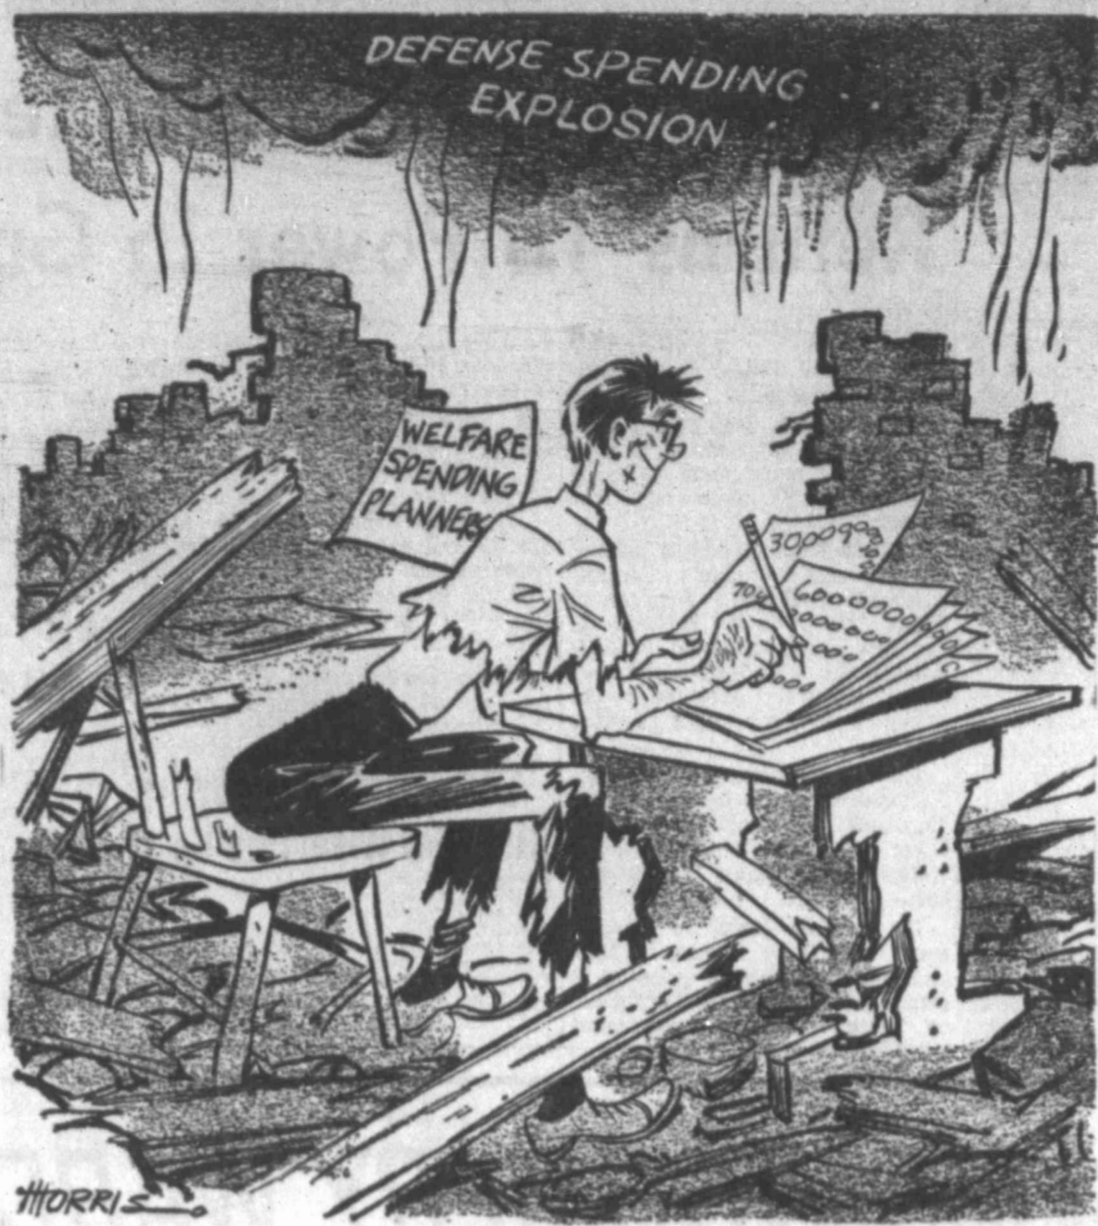

VERY FEW POLICE or military are in evidence. Large numbers are said to have been withdrawn in the past two or three days as though, with their mission of intimidation accomplished, they could be removed from the city that is now on the whole effectively sealed off from the Western half. This may have been part of a deliberate effort to put a normal look on what has happened.

But the normality, whether in the Eastern or the Western half, is only on the surface. This strange divided city has been profoundly shaken by the events of the early morning hours of August 13. The evidence is not merely in the protest meeting that saw a quarter of a million West Berliners gathered before the town hall. Nor is the dislocation simply that of the border crossers who have gone from one sector to another—58,000 from East to West—their daily jobs.

YOU FENSEN when you are here only a few hours that it is much deeper than that. The undercurrent of fear beneath the bright surface of West Berlin is unmistakable. In the East sector, if one takes the word of long-time observers, the change will bring resignation eitherullen or with a realization that now there is no choice but to live with the "new order."

While events may prove the pessimists wrong, they are saying today that Berlin, the city of storm and struggle, can never be the same again.

NEVER MISSED A DECIMAL POINT

What's Driving Khrushchev?

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may seem unbelievable but after months of East-West shouting and maneuvering over Berlin this one main point still isn't clear: What's really driving Premier Khrushchev in all this? Why does he consider it a "toothache" and a bone in his throat?

There are plenty of ideas on it—such as pressure from his partners in the Kremlin, pressure from the East Germans, and so on—but so far as is publicly known they're guesses and perhaps not even good ones. The answer may be much simpler—that Khrushchev, as the leader of communism, considers it necessary and the time right to start shutting West Berlin off from the West—once the background is considered.

Since 1945 communism has been able to take over mainland China, North Korea, North Viet Nam, Estonia, Lithuania, Latvia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Albania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and East Berlin.

BUT HERE IS West Berlin which is able to absorb even though it lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, has 12,500 allied troops there, and a 2 1/2 million anti-Communist population devoted to the West.

This makes it a Western and capitalist island in a Communist ocean. Worse still, from the Communist view, West Berlin's brilliant economic success makes it a shining contrast to the drab Communist world around it.

So long as it stands free—deep inside the Communist world—it is a constant reminder to Khrushchev and his partners that their threat to communize the world looks absurd.

So, without trying to figure who's twisting Khrushchev's arm to seal off West Berlin, it's easier and perhaps more sensible to assume he or anyone else who happened to be leading the Communist world would on his own want to grab the city.

THIS MUCH CAN be taken for granted: Khrushchev is going to try to take over the city, if not immediately then eventually, and without war if he can avoid it. It wouldn't be smart for him to risk war to get the city this year—since war could destroy Russia itself—if he thinks, and he probably does, that he can get it in a few more years peacefully anyway. How could he do that?

By trickery, by promises he intends to break, by diminishing bit by bit the Western allies' willingness to fight for the city until in the end, having made a number of concessions, they make the final one.

Nesting Mop

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three years ago Mrs. Maude Rankin hung up a mop on a back porch nail to dry but she never got to use it again.

A couple of robins picked the scrubbing end of the mop as a place to build a nest and raise a family. They kept coming back each year.

How does she clean her floors now? "I get down on my hands and knees and scrub," she said. "Gets cleaner that way, anyway."

Jefferson's Contribution

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail. President Kennedy has restored the old-fashioned rocking chair to social favor, but the business world owes a greater debt to President Thomas Jefferson. He invented the swivel chair.

You are more likely to see a pink elephant than a purple cow. The only four-legged purple animal on earth is the blebok, a small South African antelope.

Sailors used to be little more than seagoing bums, but today ordinary seamen on U.S. merchant ships get a minimum of $280 a month, a four-week vacation, free board and bed, medical care and pensions.

The world's laziest housewife is the queen bee. She never does a lick of work, and doesn't even have to prepare her own meals. Her loyal helpers feed her day and night. But the queen does have one royal chore: she has to lay up to 3,000 eggs a day.

No wonder we're getting short of water. The average American—whether he's on the water wagon or not—uses about 3 1/2 million gallons in his lifetime.

Meeting Emotional Problem Of Young Adult

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. I consider this letter important. I don't say with equal conviction that I know what to do about it. I don't pretend to be one-tenth as smart as I wish I were. Who is? But I hope my friendly readers will take the time to see what I'm talking about. Here's the letter:

"My daughter is a slight-built girl about 5 feet tall and weighing 90 to 95 pounds. She works regularly in an office. She has activities that take up about three evenings a week and she keeps rather late hours Saturdays and Sundays.

"I had her checked—blood count, urinalysis, cardiogram, etc.—and the doctor said she was not anemic and had nothing basically wrong. But he claimed she was very nervous and high strung, and asked whether she had any emotional problem at home.

"I told him she once had an aged grandmother who might have caused some contention. However, this grandmother has now passed away.

"My daughter smokes heavily and gets about six hours sleep a night. She won't eat breakfast. She does, however, eat a fairly good dinner in the evening.

"I am concerned about her health. Her face begins to look pinched and she is quite irritable. Could you give me some advice?"

J. G. M.

(Copyright, 1961, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

than I like to contemplate. Clearly the girl has some troubles—but not primarily physical.

There are, however, plenty of signs of nerves. Blaming a 11 the "emotional problem" on an aged grandmother now deceased, is just looking for a handy excuse. What IS the problem? I don't know. Having the daughter return to the doctor, alone, for an interview might do a great deal of good. Is there friction, real or imagined, in the family? It's certainly not uncommon—but grown-up children quite commonly won't talk about it at home, because it just touches off a row.

They will talk to the family doctor, once they realize that he will keep what he hears to himself.

On the face of the problem today, the girl is getting by with too little sleep, skipping breakfast and smoking too much. Whatever her problems, she isn't going to talk to her mother about them. I know she should! But daughters too often don't.

Whether this case (and so many like it) will benefit from some mild tranquilizers, or just some heart-to-heart talks with the doctor, or the solution of some conflict or other, I don't know.

But in a great many such cases, if the daughter (or son) can spill out the troubles to some "out-

Around The Rim

Poor John Must Be Growing Old

The voters had just elected a new district judge. We were sitting in his office. "Who can I get for court reporter?" asked the new judge.

"Why not John Thompson?" I countered.

John Thompson was a young attorney who was just beginning the practice of law. This was a long, long time ago and things were pretty bad. The town was oversupplied with lawyers. I knew that John was not too busy; I also knew that he had exceptional skill as a typist and was a fine shorthand man.

"Suppose he would take the job?" asked the judge.

"Call him and find out," I said.

The judge turned to his phone.

"John," he said, "This is Judge Ogden. Sam Blackburn suggests that I name you as my court reporter. Are you interested in the job?"

THERE WAS A PAUSE. "Thanks," said the judge, "I'll be waiting for you." He turned to me. "Well," he said, "he said he wanted to discuss it with me."

The upshot was that John took the job. I believe that was sometime about 1928 or thereabout. There have been many judges in that court since then but the reporter has not changed. John continued through succeeding judgeships as the official court reporter.

He never resumed the practice of law and as far as I know he is still at the same post.

What reminded me of the incident was a business card I found in my typewriter the other afternoon when I came into the office.

THE CARD HAD BEEN left for me by a young business man of Abilene. It read "Mike Thompson, special agent" and named a number of insurance companies. Scrawled across the top was "John Thompson's son."

I didn't get to talk to Mike. He came in once or twice later but both times we failed to make contact.

I would like to have talked to him. I remember vaguely that John had a son—a very small boy as I remember it.

IT IS POSSIBLE, I suppose, that this young man who came to see me was the very small boy I used to see John with from time to time. Come to think of it, the last time I saw Thompson six or seven years ago, he was getting a little taller through the middle, and his hair was pretty gray.

It's rather amazing to think how old John has grown.

And rather depressing to recall that we're about the same age.

Criminal Folly Of The Germans

I have counted to ten; next, a thousand and am well on my way to my second million at the moment. And still my seething rage at a group of university students in Bonn, Germany, is in no way abated.

FOR SUCH A GROUP of students to have the arrogance, the impertinence and the bad taste to send a President of the United States an umbrella, as an insolent message, as a sign of spineless surrender and appeasement to the U. S. S. R. in the present deadly East-West Berlin and German situation is far more than student folly.

It is a deliberate insult not only to the office of the Presidency but to the American people who are pledged to die and, if necessary, suffer the destruction of their homeland for the preservation of West Berlin and West Germany. The German Chancellor owes an apology to the American President and to the American people who have suffered so cruelly in two world wars started by the apparent inherent paranoia of the German people.

THIS UMBRELLA folly is of a piece with Mayor Willy Brandt's personal letter to the President demanding "not merely words but political action" to lift the East German barricades imposed against flight to West Berlin and West Germany.

The West Berlin mayor "fears" another Munich. Now I have no brief for Chamberlain. But it's dollars to pennies that no modern German, descendant of the Nazi hordes, ever sits down today and permits himself to realize that there would never have been any Chamberlain or his rolled umbrella if there had not first been that German monster, Adolf Hitler.

SO TODAY THE umbrella boys of Bonn and Herr Brandt are demanding, and insolently to boot, that the United States save the Germans from the consequence of their own criminal folly.

If the very survival of the Western world were not at stake, if life, liberty and the individual pursuit of happiness were not dependent upon the outcome of the German problem, there are millions in Europe and in this hemisphere who would leave the Germans to their own petard.

TWICE IN MY lifetime, Teutonic paranoia has plunged the world in agony. And the Germans should remember that it was their hero, Hitler, who made a devil's pact with Stalin. It is bitter tea today that we and our Allies, who have twice had to save the world from German slavery, are now expected to save West Berlin and West Germany from a different brand of slavery.

(Those who sneer at the transition of Great Britain from a first to a second-class power should first stand in the French Cathedral at Senlis and read a small marble memorial plaque that tells the whole story—it is a memorial to the one million British soldiers of World War I who lie buried in France. It crystallizes the tale of a nation bled white fighting German belief that might makes right!)

IT IS WE WHO FED the Germans after World War II and provided the sinews that have transformed it into the richest industrial nation on the continent. And it is the United States with its allies who maintained an airlift to West Berlin for more than a year when it was under siege by communism.

It is we who have guaranteed West Berlin's freedom and West German independence. Yet in this time of super-delicate negotiation on which its very life and continuance of the world can depend, the old, arrogant German strain sends an umbrella to the White House and demands to boot, that the United States save the Germans from the consequence of their own criminal folly.

Military Men Of High Standard

WASHINGTON—One of the most eloquent chapters of Douglas Southall Freeman's famous, four-volume life of General Lee is entitled "The Sword of Robert E. Lee"—and it might have been called something like "The American Military Officer: His Beau Ideal."

This chapter, this whole biography, the same author's life of Washington and of "Lee's Lieutenants" and—I am going to insist—the entire range of American military biography, ought to be required reading at this hour.

IT IS AN HOUR when the "military," by that condescending and opprobrious name is being degraded by a conscious effort to make it appear that Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps officers are something they are not. Lee, a West Point graduate and superintendent, remains as one of the great gentlemen of all history. First to last, he held himself sublimely to the civil authority, first of the Union, then of Virginia, then of the Confederacy. The Confederacy's President, Jefferson Davis, was another professional soldier, as was U. S. Grant, who was the only West Pointer until Dwight Eisenhower to become President of the U. S.

NONE OF THESE men had Lee's perfect gentility, but all of them—and very few American officers of note spoiled the proud record—were of Lee's mold when it came to high-minded patriotism and high-minded regard for the civil liberties of the people and the sanctity of the Constitution. Of Gen. Eisenhower, it was said that in the White House he was the most non-political and non-authoritative executive of our day. But it was never said of him that he showed the slightest inclination toward dictatorship or to disregard of the Constitution.

WHERE DO the Leftists find their model for the American "militarist," which is now become the latest evil spirit to be exorcised? The Prussian officer seems to live in memory as a martinet. The Italians had their Caesars, past and recent. The French had Bonaparte. From these prototypes many Latin American dictators have taken shape.

The Russians, for whatever reason, have never put forward an Officer Corps that produced anything as reprehensible as Russian monks and peasants. The 20th century history of Russia tells that her officers twice strove valiantly to save their country. Once was in the 1920's when Stalin had become a bloody-handed monarch. They plotted to overthrow him. Had the Army taken over from Stalin instead of being decimated by liquidation and placed under political proctors, something very much better for Russia would have evolved. Had the Red Army kept Khrushchev from power, everybody would have been better off.

THE RUSSIAN officers tried again, successfully, in saving their country from Hitler. Khrushchev, who was one of those political warders who liquidated many fine officers, paid tribute in 1956 to those whose lives he had spared some twenty years before. In the same secret speech which downgraded Stalin, Khrushchev said:

"As you know, before the war, we had excellent military cadres which were unquestionably loyal to the party and to the Motherland. Suffice it to say that those of them who managed to survive despite severe tortures... have showed themselves real patriots and have fought heroically for the glory of the Motherland."

THE BRITISH, too, have high military standards. Churchill began at Sandhurst and made his name against the Boers. Lord Wellington, the Iron Duke, became a stalwart Prime Minister who held, incidentally, a low opinion of the intellectuals (the "scribbling set," he called them) who posterized his conservative leadership.

But not the British, not even the early Romans, have shown the world finer military men than our own republic has done. I anticipate that the attack upon officers who express concern for the plight of the country is going to intensify. It would be well if the American people reminded themselves of our proud tradition, going back from Douglas and Arthur MacArthur to the earliest days. That whole host of famous commanders should come forward in our minds as character witnesses for their successors of today.

MRS. JAMES TOLBERT LYNCH

Gayle Brown Bride Of James T. Lynch

LAMESA (SP) — Blue and white prevailed when Laura Gayle Brown and James Tolbert Lynch pledged wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 19 in the chapel of the First Baptist Church here. Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Brown and Mrs. Cecil A. Lynch, both of Lamesa. As she was escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over white bridal satin. The gown featured a Sabrina neckline outlined with motifs of seed pearls and accented with an heirloom cameo. The sleeves fell to petal points over the hands and from the moulded bodice was a bouffant floor length skirt. Her veil of French illusion, attached to a tiara of satin velvet and seed pearls, fell to waist length. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses on a white ribbon.

Cooked Slaw Is Good As Salad
Serve this tangy combination as a relish, or, with greens, as a salad. We find it's extremely popular both ways.
COOKED CORN SLAW
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 tpsps. salt
3/4 cup cider vinegar
1 quart coarsely shredded green cabbage (packed down)
1 to 2 cups corn kernels (cut from cooked leftover corn on the cob)
1 green or red pepper (cut in thin strips or diced)
1/2 tsp. tabasco
In a large saucepan stir together the sugar, salt and vinegar over low heat until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil. Add cabbage, corn and green pepper. Stir and cook over moderate heat for 4 minutes. Stir in Tabasco. Chill overnight in covered container to allow flavors to develop. Drain before serving. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Pleat, Seam Later
It is easier to pin, baste and press pleats in a skirt before you sew the side seams of the garment.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Admonishes Teachers On Cost Of Social Security

To the Editor: I hope you can permit the use of your columns for this communication as an open letter to the teachers of the Big Spring Independent School District.

According to the Board of Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District about 70 per cent of you are requesting to be included in the Social Security Tax setup.

As a result of this anticipated move the Board of Trustees has set aside $35,000 for their share of the taxes. Please examine the following facts before you indulge in taxing yourselves further.

1. Part of that $35,000 set aside by the Board is your money. (Derived from the present and the increase (14 1/2 per cent) in taxes on property owned by you in the district.)

2. Social Security is a tax without any benefits guaranteed whatsoever. It is not an insurance and there is no security associated. Your money is handled according to the whims of the present politicians in office.

3. You are now enjoying a retirement fund for which you contribute 6 per cent of your salary up to $8,400 and the state is paying into your fund one dollar ($1.00) for every dollar you pay.

Part of the money the state is contributing to your retirement fund is also taxes from you.

4. Social Security Tax is billions of dollars in the RED. . . . The tax in 1962 will be 3 1/2 per cent on money earned up to $4,800. In 1963, 1964, and 1965, the tax will be 4 1/2 per cent. In 1966 and 1967 the tax will be 4 3/4 per cent and in 1968 the tax will be 4 7/8 per cent.

This is your half you will have to pay and this is matched by the School District. There are many bills in Congress at the present time to 'up' the maximum amount from $4,800 to $5,200 and $5,500 and one bill for a $6,000 maximum.

(So undoubtedly your tax is going to have to markedly increase in the coming years.)

Therefore, you are requesting to be taxed (once) to pay your part of the Social Security, (twice) to pay the state part of your retirement fund, and, (third) to tax yourselves for another 5 plus per cent in the future for social security without any guaranteed return of your money.

Another item that might be of interest to the female school teachers that are married—you do not receive Social Security benefits (???) if your husband is alive and under the Social Security laws except for what would be allowed if you had paid Social Security Tax at all in the past years.

Think it over before you vote yourselves more taxes without positive benefit.

PLAINVIEW — Richard Paul Petterson, Big Spring, has been awarded a choir scholarship by the Wayland Baptist College music faculty, according to James Cram, director of Wayland's International Choir. Choir scholarships are awarded by audition since the 40-voice traveling group is in great demand for appearances throughout Texas and into other states.

Petterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Petterson, 1715 Monticello, is a 1960 graduate of Big Spring High School and has attended Howard County Junior College.

In 1960 - 61 the International Choir traveled 4,975 miles and appeared before over a quarter of a million people as it sang for conventions, civic clubs, schools, and churches.

Besides singing before the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Wayland International Choir sang before a district Kiwanis convention and the Southern Baptist Convention in St. Louis in May on a tour which took the group to Joplin, St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita and back to Oklahoma where appearances were made at Ponca City, Midwest City and Oklahoma City.

On Aug. 24 registration will begin at 8 a. m. with a welcome by Dr. H. L. Shepard, chairman of the Lubbock Heart Council at 8:45 a. m. A skit entitled "Heart Attack" will be presented at 9 a. m., followed by talks by Dr. Roy S. Sheffield, Lubbock, on internal medicine and Dr. Joe Arrington Jr., Lubbock, cardiologist, Lubbock Heart Council.

Other speakers for the day will be Dr. John Young, medical director, Craig Rehabilitation Center, Denver, Colo.; Robert G. Maul, director, Department of

AF Men Near End Of 'Trip'

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two Air Force lieutenants have nearly completed their simulated space flight around the moon and back.

The pair, Lt. Bernard Appel of Forest Hills, N.Y., and Lt. Joseph H. Sluder of Comanche, Tex., were reported doing fine Monday and well past the halfway mark in a 17-day test.

Officials have said the test is designed to test man's ability to stand the stress of space travel.

Appel and Sluder entered the 8-by-12-foot steel tank in the basement of a building at Brooks Air Force Base Aug. 7 and will emerge from the cabin Thursday morning.

Appel, 28, and Sluder, 27, are alternately working, resting and taking care of personal needs in an atmosphere containing more than 90 per cent oxygen and kept at a pressure equal to that at 33,500 feet above sea level.

Teacher Pay Hike Poses Problems

LAMESA (SC)—The new state bill to raise teacher salaries by $810 a year will pose financial problems for Dawson County schools, it has been reported by County Supt. P. K. Humes.

A major problem, said Humes, is that school districts have already set values and tax rates, and since they operate on a tight budget, will find it difficult to locate the required revenue.

Dawson County is above the Economic Index average on teacher salaries, and each independent school district will have to pay about 20 per cent of the state average, Humes stated.

Humes indicated that the Lamesa school system will show about $13,000 increase in wages, based on last year's personnel, and will have to furnish approximately $30,000 locally. This would amount to 25.5 per cent for the local district's share.

The superintendent estimated that the Union District will have to increase salaries by $6,500 and will receive only $2,800 from the state. The Union teachers are paid $400 above the state schedule and were given contracts this year to include the full amount of the state pay raise. He estimated a budget deficit of about $3,700 at Union.

Dawson School District pays $300 above the state level, as does Lamesa, and Humes estimated a $14,000 increase in salaries there. Dawson may have a budget deficit of $11,000.

Mikoyan Ends Visit

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan ended a nine-day visit to Japan today with a warning to the Western allies that they must sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany or lose their access to West Berlin.

Mikoyan, the first top Soviet official to visit Japan since the war, made the threat at a news conference before taking off for Moscow in his four-engine Ilyushin airliner.

Asked how access to Berlin would be obtained after the Soviet Union carries out its threat to sign a peace treaty with East Germany this year, Mikoyan replied: "It's simple. There is only one way. Every other country will have to sign an individual peace treaty with the (East) German Democratic Republic."

Then he accused the United States of creating the Berlin crisis, said access to the city was a "minor point," and "if necessary the whole problem of Berlin and Germany can be thrashed out before the U.N. General Assembly."

Explosion Kills Stanton Man

STANTON — A former resident of Lenoir, who is the son of a Stanton couple, was killed Monday afternoon when a 55-gallon barrel on which he was working exploded. The accident occurred at his farm home northwest of Midland.

He was Charles Harvey Christopher, 48, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Christopher, Stanton. His father is retired.

The dead man was a farmer. He was said to have been cutting the top off the barrel with an acetylene torch when it exploded. He was hurled 70 feet according to reports. Apparently he was instantly killed.

His 19-year-old son, who was working with him was not injured. Dan Saunders, sheriff, was told of the tragedy and notified the man's parents. Saunders said that Christopher formerly made his home in Lenoir and was well known in Martin County. Saunders said that Mrs. Christopher died only a few weeks ago.

Funeral is pending in Midland.

Redlegs Face A Big Challenge

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Redlegs At Rest

Vada Pinson of the Cincinnati Redlegs shines his extra pair of shoes as teammate Frank Robinson watches. The two were marking time before a recent game. Pinson and Robinson have been two of the biggest factors in the Reds' drive toward the National League pennant.

of playing ring-around-a-rosie for first place with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Reds, who had fallen 2 1/2 games back last week in their season-long battle with the Dodgers for the top rung, begin their crucial period at home tonight with a doubleheader against the third-place San Francisco Giants.

The sizzling Giants, who have won 10 of their last 12, will play at Crosley Field for games Wednesday and Thursday, then the Dodgers will move in for a showdown four-game set in the final meeting of the year between the pennant contenders.

Meanwhile, Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle will continue their assault on Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 in 1927 as the American League leading New York Yankees invade Los Angeles for a three-game set with the Angels.

The Yankees lead the second-place Detroit Tigers by three games and the Baltimore Orioles by 1 1/2. The Orioles' game at Washington Monday — the only one scheduled in the majors — was postponed because of wet grounds.

Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson admits the string of games with the Giants and Dodgers will pose a pitching problem and he may have to throw in rookie Ken Hunt and/or sore-shouldered Jim Maloney. "I'll have to put someone in some place," moaned Hutchinson.

The regular rotation recently has consisted of Joey Jay, Bob Purkey, Jim O'Toole and Ken Johnson. Purkey (14-7) and Johnson (4-1) figure to go tonight against the Giants' Mike McCormick (9-12) and either Sam Jones (7-7) or Billy O'Dell (4-4).

The Dodgers, who lost seven straight and tumbled to second while the Reds were taking six of seven, meet the St. Louis Cardinals before going on to Cincinnati, with rumors beginning to circulate that Walter Alston's job is in jeopardy.

Club owner Walter O'Malley denied that Monday, however, saying: "Alston doesn't need a note of confidence. But maybe the team does. So, here it is. A big personal vote for the Dodgers, who are tied for first place in the loss column."

The Reds, who have played and won six more games than Los Angeles, have the same number of losses as the Dodgers, 47. The Yankees, three games up on the Tigers in both columns, will send Bill Stafford (10-6) against the Angels' Ken McBride (9-10) tonight.

Despite the close pennant races most eyes will be riveted to Maris and Mantle, who have hit 49 and 46 homers, respectively. Maris is 10 games ahead of Ruth's pace and Mantle is eight games in front with the Angels' Wrigley Field presenting a friendly target.

The major league mark for most home runs at one park in a single season is within reach at tightly boxed Wrigley Field where 177 homers have been hit, and 25 games still remain to be played. The record is 219 at Cincinnati in 1957.

What'll be the effect on the American League pennant race? Can it backfire on the New York Yankees?

"I don't know, I can't be sure," said Manager Bob Scheffing, whose Detroit Tigers are chasing Maris, Mantle and the rest of the Yankees. "It's bound to bother them some. It may even hurt the Yankees but I can't say."

"Wouldn't it be something if both of them hit 65 and the Yankees finished second?"

Pressure has done funny things to players who've come close to the Babe's mark. Ask Hank Greenberg or Jimmy Foy. Each missed the magic 60th homer by two. But neither was on a team scrambling for a pennant.

"I had Steve Bilko out in the Coast League in '56 and he was trying to hit 60," Scheffing recalled. "He got to 55 and I'll bet he didn't hit another in his last 10 games. The club record was 56 and he didn't even reach that and we already had won the pennant."

"He was trying so hard the ball just was popped up or hit into the ground."

The next year Bilko did reach 56, but failed to make it to 60.

"I can't predict how it will affect Maris and Mantle if they get near to Ruth, but let's face it, most of the recent home run champions haven't been on the team that's won the pennant," said Scheffing.

In the 33 seasons since Ruth established the big record, only nine champions or co-champions made it into the World Series.

DEAR ABBY

It's Time
You Awoke

DEAR ABBY: My older brother recently passed away. It was God's blessing because he had been sick in the hospital for over a year, and there was no hope for him. While he was in the hospital I went to see him often, and brought him little things to cheer him up. The week after his funeral I got a note in the mail from my brother's wife THANKING me for being so kind to her husband. Abby, I am deeply hurt. This man was my own flesh and blood brother, and I don't think I need to be THANKED for being good to him during his illness. I want to speak to his wife about it, but my children tell me to forget it. I am not going to forget it. But first I want you to tell me what to say to her.

HEART-BROKEN SISTER
DEAR SISTER: I agree with your children. Your brother's wife did not want to slight you; therefore, when she thanked everyone else for their kindness to her husband, she included you. Let the matter drop. Your sister-in-law has enough to worry about.

DEAR ABBY: My husband drinks. When he really gets a snootful, he goes out on the porch, flaps his elbows and crows like a rooster. What is the meaning of this?
ROOSTER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Maybe he's trying to tell you it's time you woke up. He's a josh.

DEAR ABBY: I feel terrible. My best friend dropped me because my sister had her baby three months early. My friend told me to my face that she couldn't go around with me any more because it might hurt her reputation.

Abby, I never did anything wrong, and I don't think it is fair that I should suffer for something my sister did. What should I do? I am 13.

NEEDS A FRIEND
DEAR NEEDS: Your "friend" doesn't know the meaning of true friendship, so you haven't lost much. Just continue to be a good girl, and you will win the friendship of someone who accepts you for what YOU are, and realizes that you are not your sister's keeper.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT: Look again.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Death Penalty For Hijacking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill carrying a death penalty for aircraft hijacking.

The measure, approved Monday by a 373-5 vote, is similar to one passed by the Senate. It would authorize the death penalty on recommendation of a jury when force, violence or threat of force or violence had been used to seize control of a plane.

Rep. William Fitz Ryan, D-N.Y., tried without success to have the death provision cut out. He argued that it would have "an adverse effect on the safety of passengers" by tending to make hijackers more reckless.

The legislation, triggered by a series of airliner hijackings, also sets out penalties for other disturbances aboard planes. An assault on a crew member, for instance, could bring a 20-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine. Other sections prohibit carrying concealed weapons aboard an airliner and giving false reports of hijacking threats.

Electrocuted

ABILENE (AP) — James F. Bishop, 34, of Hamlin, was electrocuted Monday when he came in contact with a high voltage wire while working at Dyess Air Force Base.

Kingston Group Is A Trio Again

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Kingston Duo has found a new boy, and now they're a trio again.

If you are at all hep with the pop music field—or are under 21—you know about the Kingston Trio's problems. This swinging bunch of folk singers has been earning a million dollars a year but found that money didn't buy happiness.

Matter of fact, they are miserable. Their troubles broke into print four months ago with Dave Guard ("our acknowledged leader") claiming his partners were clods who didn't want to climb upward and upward with the act. Bob Shane ("our sex symbol") and Nick Reynolds ("the runt of the litter") countered that Guard was a tyrant who tampered with the trio's success formula.

Last week their batteries of lawyers worked out a solution: Guard will go his own way with a new group; Shane and Reynolds will carry on the Kingston name with a new partner.

He is a nice-looking, rangy lad of 21 named John Stewart, born in San Diego and reared in Pomona, Calif. I dropped in to watch a first-recording session with the new boy at Capitol Records, for which the trio is a gilt-edged security.

written. They were just what we needed."

John had first met the boys at the county fair in Pomona, but they didn't remember. He had been part of another folk music group called the Cumberland Three, which toured with Shelley Berman and enjoyed faint success.

"I even tried rock 'n' roll," said John. "I was a complete failure. Even my family wouldn't buy the record."

He has been working with the boys for a month and has helped put joy back into the act. As they prepared to record, the three twanged their guitars and sang lustily, just for kicks.

"We never did this before," Nick said. "There was always too much tension. Now we're having fun."

John Stewart, who is married and whose wife is expecting a baby, looks "in." Poor lad, now he'll have to start thinking about business management, tax structures and real estate investment.

Kenya, Kenya Governor Meet

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Jomo Kenyatta and the governor of Kenya, Sir Patrick Renison, met today for the first time since the old Mau Mau leader was released from confinement.

A joint statement said they had discussed matters affecting Kenya as a whole, constitutional advancement and the security situation. Kenyatta is being backed by African nationalists to be prime minister when Britain grants independence to Kenya.
